On behalf of the Nevada Justice Association, thank you for the opportunity to address and comment on amendments to ADKT499. We appreciate the hard work of both the Supreme Court and Board of Continuing Legal Education in reviewing and revising last year's decisions.

As a small non-profit that prides itself on the amount and quality of CLE it presents, we found the 2017 regulations financially challenging and created a burden on staff time and resources. We've appreciated the changes made in response to our concerns in the interim but feel more changes need to be made.

NJA has many of the same concerns addressed by the Bar in their letter dated October 22, 2018. Financial projections and a clear budget have not been presented to the providers who are being asked to increase their work load and financial burden as related to CLE's in Nevada. After reviewing the amendment to ADKT0499 and the commentary of the State Bar, we agree with and fully support the position of the State Bar of Nevada. We also support the State Bar's suggestion to move the duties of the CLE board under their auspices.

We look forward to this continuing dialogue. We all share the same goal of producing quality CLE and increasing attorney compliance. Our mission at NJA is to create the best trial lawyers in the country, but it must be financially reasonable to do so. Developing creative content in new, progressive formats can be costly and challenging. We feel the State Bar's proposals allows us to move forward with the best possible education options for our members and all attorneys in Nevada.

Sincerely,

Pat Leverty, Esq
