Top Floor at the Tower

‘Go to, let us build us a city and a tower, whose top may reach unto heaven’ — Genesis 11:4

THE PROJECT IS IMPOSSIBLY ENORMOUS. It sprawls across city blocks and beyond. It contains trillions of parts and counting, accumulated into one mountainous human effort. Its mass is seismic, its height is dominating, and it keeps growing. It’s a project best measured not in feet, miles or megatons, but in lives.

This is a description of the Genesis 11 tower of Babel, perhaps somewhat accurately captured in well-known illustrations like those of Peter Bruegel the Elder and others.

But it is also a description of human civilization itself, generation upon generation, course upon course, life upon life. The top level is the newest: an active layer of material, technology and human activity. From here, the view is spectacular. Looking down at the clouds below, and the world below that, as from the window of an aircraft, how can you be anything but dazzled at the civilization that built such a vantage point as this?

Here’s how: Look inside.

Inside are the laborers. Inside are their taskmasters. Inside is human suffering of our own making.

One generation atop another atop another has set over itself its elites and travailed under them, laying the walls, the arches, the beams of human history and stacking them high with lives of ignorance, confusion, poverty and affluence, failure, futility, fear, strife, murder and suicide, violence and war. When the mass sufferings reach a breaking point, new elites have arisen and pushed the masses into new tasks—and brought new suffering. The levels below us are catastrophically out of course, but we just pile on more of the same and keep building. This is not so much a metaphor. This is the human condition.

This is the very nature of human beings. No amount of oppression, suffering or death has caused us to stop worshiping our own human will. We exert our will on the less powerful, and the will of the more powerful is exerted on us by our chieftains, kings, politicians, dictators and other taskmasters.

We oppress, raid, steal, dehumanize and mass-slaughter hundreds and thousands and millions because of our indestructible belief that human beings can rule ourselves. After all, we say, just look at our tower.

Human beings seem driven by a conviction, even if sub-conscious, that we are operating independently from our Creator—that, in fact, He may well want to destroy us, and that if we are to escape His punishment, we must do it together; we must make and submit to our human taskmasters, and we must build this tower. We will live our own way. How far will we take this belief? To the grave.

Here on the top floor, we are enjoying the view. But at this late stage of construction, the structure, out of plumb, out of level, yet ever taller, is swaying out of control.

Our elites—and we—are now actively demolishing those few strong columns our Creator gave us that still remain standing: man and wife, parents and children, ideals of human freedom and accountability. It is becoming clear, if we will just see it, that we and our elites are hopelessly, terminally underqualified to build our own lives, let alone civilization. Deadly serious world elites are now telling us to cover our faces (made in the semblance of our Creator); stay inside; subject our bodies to injections and other medical mandates; eat insects instead of meat; live in pods; let criminals go unpunished; believe lies about the distant and recent past; forfeit our liberty; own no homes, vehicles, or other personal property; tolerate, wear, ingest or implant surveillance devices; forfeit our children’s minds and sexuality; have no children at all, before or after they are conceived; have no family; give up our nationalities and eventually leave Earth altogether. No privacy, no freedom, no property, no family, no man or woman, no country, no Earth—no choice.

We could believe that our Creator made us for a purpose other than to destroy us. We could submit to His occasional punishment in order to better reach the potential He created humans to achieve, and live according to His will. Instead, we believe He must be resisted or denied altogether, and we must submit instead to the punishment, will and dehumanization of radical, destructive, insane elites who view us not as children of God but almost literally as ants.

Open your eyes. Our Creator is exposing to us the fundamental flaw not just of a particular political party or ideology or class but of human civilization itself. It’s time to see this tower for what it really is.

Hello, - June 28th, 2023 -

My hearing with NEVADA BOARD OF PAROLE COMMISSIONERS WAS MISSED ON JUNE 28, 2023, due to our litigation. I am requesting your intervention in an expeditious and meritorious order and letter of reference in seeing that my parole is granted in absentia. This request is due in part not only as a result of the perjury of ROSMARIE MCMORRIS-ALEXANDER ET AL, my parole is necessary to further affirm to our SUPREME COURT OF NEVADA that the vexatious conspiracy against my person is DISCONTINUED. As I am both factually and actually innocent, I and the People of the State of Nevada sincerely appreciate your most honorable interests in justice.

Cordially yours,

- Matthew Travis Houston

NOTICE OF HEARING BEFORE THE NEVADA BOARD OF PAROLE COMMISSIONERS

05/18/2023

To: HOUSTON, MATTHEW,
NDOC# 1210652
Housing Location: HDSP-U4-D-39-A

This notice is to advise you that a meeting of a panel of the Board of Parole Commissioners has been scheduled to consider granting or denying parole on your eligible sentence(s). This letter shall serve as notice to you pursuant to Nevada Revised Statute 213.131.

A hearing by a panel of the Board of Parole Commissioners will meet on June 28th, 2023 beginning at 01:00 pm. The time indicated on this notice is the agenda start time, and not necessarily the start time of your specific hearing. Any visitors appearing in support of your release should be present at the agenda start time. If you are moved to a different location after receiving this notice, the parole hearing may still take place under certain circumstances, such as if the video equipment at your new location is available, or if you are able to attend at the specified hearing location. This meeting is open to the public.

Hearing Location:
PAROLE BOARD ROOM 101, 1677 Old Hot Springs Road, Suite A, Carson City, NV 89706-0677

Video Conference Location:
HIGH DESERT STATE PRISON, 22010 Cold Creek Road, P.O. Box 650, Indian Springs, NV 89070

Pursuant to Nevada Law:

- * You have the right to receive at least five working days notice of this meeting if notice is personally delivered to you.
- * You have the right to be present (in person, video conference or telephone);
- * You have the right to have a representative present with whom you may confer. The representative may be any person, including another inmate, a family member or friend, or an attorney. You are responsible for any costs associated with representation, and the presence of a representative at the prison is subject to rules established by the Department of Corrections (NDOC) in Administrative Regulation 722.05. You are not required to have a representative assist you if you desire to represent yourself;
- * You have the right to speak at your hearing or have your representative speak on your behalf;
- * In all cases, the Board will consider the safety of any applicable victims and their families as well as the general public prior to granting parole and fixing any release conditions.
- * If you are disabled because you are deaf, mute or have a physical speaking impairment that causes you to be unable to readily understand or communicate in the English language, you are entitled to the services of an interpreter.

Please indicate by circling your answers to the following:

Circle One: YES NO I am deaf, mute or have a physical speaking impairment: If YES is circled, please indicate impairment:

Circle One: YES NO I request the following inmate who is housed at this institution assist me at my parole hearing (Approval subject to AR722.05). "insurance". So, back to the subject of my innocence as it has to do with "insurance" and the perjury of ROSEMARIE MCMORRIS-ALEXANDER ETAL: Mr. Dericco sir I must have your understanding that, especially as an innocent man, not at any time in my life have I ever threatened MRS. MCMORRIS-ALEXANDER or her family. I have absolutely NO CLUE of who or what or where any of the alleged "victims" are/do/reside other than the fact that their fraudulent insurance company - SEDGWICK CMS conspired to have me kidnapped from my home in Iowa City, Iowa. Sir, I am requesting an EN BANC presence of the NV PAROLE BOARD because as I am in fear for my life, I am also in fear that SEDGWICK CMS is somehow manipulating both the courts AND the PAROLE BOARD.

Excuse me, I mean that SEDGWICK CMS had already manipulated the courts to cause my ILLEGAL and wrongful convictions, and that now their malicious intent has been further reflected what with their causation-in-fact having my previous hearing to be rescheduled from this last ~~August~~ June 28th, 2023. We have a hearing Sept. 20, 2023, in Case No. A-22-862155-C and another hearing for Sept. 26, 2023, in Case No. A-23-865442-C. I had tried explaining this all to THE HON. JENNIFER L.G. As I have stated to the Chairman, Mr. Dericco, these letters are probably the most difficult sorts of communication I've ever had to make in my life, because I am actually innocent and fighting my case being wrongfully convicted, while extensively incarcerated. The redundant deprivation of my liberty goes against the grain of decency, as an injustice anywhere is felt everywhere. I have always been an extraordinarily successful and productive citizen and a positive influence to the community and should be granted this parole so I may continue to defines stalking as the intentional frightening of another through following, harassing, annoying, tormenting, or terrorizing activities. I have been terrified of the alleged "victims" in my case since I woke up after the coma from my work accident in 2016, that was NOT my fault. SEE EJDC Case # A-17-758861-C. These alleged "victims" utilized willful omissions, false pretenses, and outright perjury to cause two wrongful convictions of me. Case No. 2:22-cv-01607-DWM-CSD

OBJECTIONS TO MAGISTRATE JUDGE'S REPORT AND Recommendation,

EMERGENCY MOTION FOR INJUNCTIVE RELIEF AND

STATEMENT OF FACTS: Kidnapped from his home in

2 Iowa City, On July 14, 2021, MATTHEW TRAVIS HOUSTON (hereinafter "Petitioner-Appellant")
3 was abducted from his hotel room at the Best Western located at [REDACTED] 3041
4 St. Rose Parkway in Henderson, Nevada, as he was not served with any sort of
5 summons or WARRANT, nor was told or read that he had any kind of rights. This
6 false arrest prevented Petitioner-Appellant from attending his appointment the very
7 next day at Nevada Retina Specialists, with Dr. Tyson Ward on July 15, 2021, while
8 this continued imprisonment of his person also prevented him from attending his medical
9 disability rating in Reno, Nevada, on August 15, 2021, with Dr. Dwagleri. Both appointments
10 of which had been scheduled by the abductors, SEDAWICK's Dianne Ferrante, and her
11 alleged supervisor, Rosemarie McMorris-Alexander, as was the booking of his room.

12 The Petitioner-Appellant's attempt at release from CDC was intended so that he could 13 search for, and hopefully, retrieve his service animals. However, the now-dismissed counsel, J. Wood
14 and Bernard Little, provided misinformation regarding the lack of a directly related "City Jail
15 Detainer Hold". Counsel had told Petitioner-Appellant, all the while coercing his client into a
16 potential release from custody, that he "did not see a detainer hold" - when, in fact, there was.
17 This coercion of the client by his previous representation created a second double-jeopardy -
18 in LAS VEGAS MUNICIPAL COURT #1248334A + #C1237802A; with the first being by J. Wood
19 in the EIGHTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT 21-CR-019840 + 21-CR-035713. A. Goldstein NEVER visited Mr.
20 Houston, aka JUSTICE COURT, LAS VEGAS TOWNSHIP

21 and innocent man, who was forced into an involuntary relocation, with unnecessary hardships
22 causing the eviction of his law office located at 435 South Linn Street #927, in Iowa
23 City, Iowa (52240), $36.5 million of property damage and the destruction of his K-9(s).

24 Due to crimes both civil and criminal, not to mention the willful omissions of Rosemarie
25 McMorris-Alexander and Dianne Ferrante, SEDAWICK and the prosecution's most unlawful use
26 of overreaching tactics in their exploitation of the innocent man has put the Petitioner-Appellant
27 into an unmanageable state of duress, homelessness, and extensive incarceration. Not at any

28 time did Mr. Houston harass, extort, threaten, or "aggravated stalking" any of the parties
29 in any of his cases, neither did he act aggressively towards any other individual,
30 business or entity. Mr. Houston is a victim of crime and should be granted further
31 time to properly file his "Amended Complaint". PLEASE SEE ATTACHMENTS;

Hello Alexis 😊

I was suffering from PTSD panic attack on May 31, 2023, especially as I noticed BENARD H. LITTLE coerce another victim right in front of me. I'm half-blind and half-deaf but I am NOT dumb. I also noticed somebody from CRAIG MEYER AND ASSOCIATES, who are supposed to be part of my legal team also. My original lawyer was to have been Mr. John Mommot, however he passed in 2017, and that's when I decided to file my employment discrimination claim and go to law school @ CSN - UNLV. C-17-323614-1

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

NRS. 176.165 PROVIDES:

A motion to withdraw a plea of guilty or nolo contendere may be made only before sentence is imposed, or imposition of sentence is suspended. To correct manifest injustice, the court, after sentencing, may set aside the judgment of conviction and permit the defendant to withdraw his or plea.

Failure to adequately inform a defendant of the full consequences of his/her plea creates manifest injustice which could be corrected by setting aside the conviction and allowing him/her to withdraw the guilty plea. Meyer v. State, 603 P.2d 1066 (Nev. 1979), and Little v. Warden, 34 P.3d 540 (Nev.2001).

Defendant herein alleges that his/her plea is in error and must withdraw the plea pursuant to the following facts: Not at any time did the Plaintiff-in-Error/
Petitioner-Appellant (Matthew Travis Houston) harass, extort, threaten, or "aggravated stalking" any of the parties in any of his cases, neither did he act aggressively towards any other individual, business or entity.
Mr. Houston is in fact the victim of crime in this case, especially when one considers the fact that he was kidnapped from his home in Iowa
City, Iowa, after false police reports were made by the alleged victim,
ROSEMARIE MCMORRIS-ALEXANDER, who is the supervisor of DIANE FERRANTE at SEDGWICK CMS, the claims manager for Mr. Houston's workers compensation claim ID #3016661201-001, and is a defendant in Mr. Houston's third party personal injury case, ESDC # A-17-758861-C. The defendants made their false police reports about Mr. Houston so that they could avoid having to pay his workers compensation claim by causing him to become repeatedly wrongfully convicted, and is proven by documents including but NOT limited to the attached 'STATEMENT OF FACTS':
Nothing was or is legal regarding the sentencing of Mr. Houston, especially because individuals ^{and} ~~in~~ entities including but not limited to HOOKS, MENG, & CLEMENT continue to commit libel upon Mr. Houston, in their nefarious scheme to maliciously interfere with the Plaintiff's meritoriously VALID and truthful claims in A-17-758861-C:

STATEMENT OF FACTS: Kidnapped from his home in Iowa

2: City, Iowa. On July 14, 2021, MATTHEW TRAVIS HOUSTON (hereinafter "Petitioner-Appellant")
3 was abducted from his hotel room at the Best Western located at [REDACTED] 3041
4 St. Rose Parkway in Henderson, Nevada, as he was not served with any sort of
5 summons or WARRANT, nor was told or read that he had any kind of rights. This
6 false arrest prevented Petitioner-Appellant from attending his appointment the very
7 next day at Nevada Retina Specialists, with Dr. Tyson Ward on July 15, 2021, while
8 this continued imprisonment of his person also prevented him from attending his medical
9 disability rating in Reno, Nevada, on August 15, 2021, with Dr. Dwagleri. Both appointments
10 of which had been scheduled by the abductors, SEDAWICK's Dianne Ferrante, and her
11 alleged supervisor, Rosemarie McMorris-Alexander, as was the booking of his room.

12 The Petitioner-Appellant's attempt at release from CDC was intended so that he could 13 search for, and hopefully, retrieve his service animals. However, the now-dismissed counsel, J.
14 Wood + Bernard Little, provided misinformation regarding the lack of a directly related "City Jail
15 Detainer Hold". Counsel had told Petitioner-Appellant, all the while coercing his client into a
16 potential release from custody, that he "did not see a detainer hold" - when, in fact, there was.
17 This coercion of the client by his previous representation created a second double-jeopardy -
18 in LAS VEGAS MUNICIPAL COURT #1248334A + #C1237802A; with the first being by J. Wood
19 in the EIGHTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT 21-CR-019840 + 21-CR-033713 (JUSTICE COURT, LAS VEGAS
20 TOWNSHIP). These traumatic events are a cruel and unusual punishment being inflicted upon an abused
21 and innocent man, who was forced into an involuntary relocation, with unnecessary hardships
22 causing the eviction of his law office located at 435 South Linn Street #927, in Iowa
23 City, Iowa (52240), $36.5 million of property damage and the destruction of his K-9(s).
24 Due to crimes both civil and criminal, not to mention the willful omissions of Rosemarie
25 McMorris-Alexander and Dianne Ferrante, SEDAWICK and the prosecutions' most unlawful use
26 of overreaching tactics in their exploitation of the innocent man has put the Petitioner-Appellant
27 into an unmanageable state of duress, homelessness, and extensive incarceration.

28 ///

Therefore, pursuant to the facts and the law stated herein, Defendant requests that his guilty plea be withdrawn, from ESDC Case No. C-21-357-~~927~~ 927-1.

Dated this 25th day of October, 2023.

Respectfully Submitted,

X. Matthew Travis Houston

AFFIDAVIT

STATE OF NEVADA)
 :SS
COUNTY OF CLARK)

I, ROSEMARIE MCMORRIS-ALEXNADER, being first duly sworn, upon oath, do hereby declare as follows:

1. I am a workers' compensation claims director for Sedgwick, CMS.
2. In that capacity, I handle various aspects of the administration of Nevada workers' compensation claims.
3. I first became familiar with the Plaintiff in this case, Matthew Houston, when on or about 09/30/16, he suffered an industrially related accident and filed a workers' compensation claim.
4. At some point during the administration of his workers' compensation claim, the Plaintiff became dissatisfied with the administration of his claim and began to take his frustrations out on myself and my staff.
5. The week of 07/22/2020, Plaintiff threatened myself and two of my employees, Jonathan Shockley and Diane Ferrante, advising that he would murder us and all Sedgwick employees. After receipt of this threat, I filed a police report.
6. On or about 06/09/21, my next-door neighbor and husband saw a man who fits the description of Plaintiff sitting across the street from my house watching my daughters play in the front yard.
7. On 06/11/21, Plaintiff called me and advised "I know where you live...I will rape and murder you and your 2 daughters." After receipt of this new threat, I filed a second police report.

ALSO SEE Case 2:22-cv-01780-ART-DJA Document 23 Filed 05/25/23 Page 22 of 84

8. On or about 08/03/21, Plaintiff was charged with Aggravated Stalking in Clark County, Nevada under 8th Judicial District Court case no. A-22-853203-W.
9. On 08/04/21, Plaintiff pled guilty to Aggravated Stalking, was released on his Own Recognizance with low level electronic monitoring, and was Ordered by the Court to have no contact with myself, Redenta Blacic, and/or Jonathan Shockley, and to stay away from 9930 West Cheyenne Avenue, Las Vegas, Nevada pending sentencing which was scheduled for 11/29/21.
10. I applied for a Temporary Protective Order, which was approved for 30 days and expired on 09/30/21.
11. Although Plaintiff abided by the TPO, immediately upon its expiration, on 10/01/21, Plaintiff called Jonathan Shockley in violation of the Court's no contact Order and his plea agreement. Plaintiff left a voicemail threatening Jonathan Shockley and also mentions me by name in that voicemail.
12. Due to the violation of the plea agreement, the District Attorney filed a Motion to Revoke the Plea Agreement. Plaintiff also indicated that he would like to withdraw his guilty plea.
13. A hearing was scheduled for 10/11/21 and Plaintiff did not show up for the hearing. Accordingly, a bench warrant was issued for his arrest.
14. Due to the bench warrant, Plaintiff was arrested on 10/18/21.
15. The Plaintiff's ankle monitor showed that while on electronic monitoring, he was in and around the area of my home. Additionally, my neighbors allege having seen him parked in my neighborhood in violation of the plea agreement and no contact order.

16. Accordingly, on the advice of the District Attorney's Office, I filed for another Temporary Restraining Order and a hearing was set for 10/28/21 and after that hearing the TPA was granted.
17. On 12/06/21, Plaintiff withdrew his Motion to Withdraw his Guilty Plea and was scheduled for sentencing for Aggravated Stalking. I gave a statement at the sentencing hearing. Plaintiff's plea agreement was thrown out and Plaintiff was sentenced to 24 to 96 months in prison for felony aggravated stalking.
18. While in prison, Plaintiff has sued Sedgwick's workers' compensation defense attorney on his claim, Dan Schwartz, Esq, who has requested dismissal of the case.
19. Additionally, Plaintiff has sued numerous other parties for various reasons between 2017 and 2022, including any attorney representing him or an opposing party in any lawsuit he has filed.
20. On 10/26/22, I received notification that the Plaintiff filed a grievance with the Department of Corrections wherein he lists myself, Jonathan Shockley, Diane Ferrante, my children's school, our church, my daughters, and my mother.
21. Although the grievance filed with the Department of Corrections does not seek damages against me personally, it is evidence of the continued harassment from the Plaintiff and shows reason for my concern for the safety of myself and my family.

...
...
...
...
...

22. On 01/03/23, my husband was served with notification that the Plaintiff was suing me for $10,001.00.

23. I was subsequently notified by my attorney that Plaintiff has sued me in several other court cases, including multiple 8th judicial district court cases and a Federal District Court case in the District of Nevada.

EXECUTED this 27th day of MAY, 2023.

26 OF PARTIES aka LIST OF WITNESSES:

27 EMERGENCY MOTION FOR STAY AND ABEYANCE PURSUANT TO LAW +
28 OPPOSITION TO AND RESPONSE TO THE FALSE CLAIMS
AND THREATS MADE ON THE REORD BY THE OFFICE OF
THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY ET AL ON OCTOBER 25TH, 2023
"HEARING REQUESTED"

Plaintiff - in error, in propria personam, Rev. Matthew Travis Houston, moves for reflection on the most recent events of 10.25.2023, during which the elements of prima facie misconduct were blatantly apparent:

1 The fact that the hearing on October 25, 2023, was
2 to have been held the previous day (See Exhibit 4)
3 portrays a valid suspicion that the defendants, their continued
4 and intentional misconduct and their malicious prosecution are 5 communicating in a scheme with not only their private attorneys,
6 but are possibly communicating ex parte or resorting to some
7 other scam in manipulation of this Court to further prejudice
8 the Plaintiff-in-Error with slanderous bias, libel, and the reckless 9 intent that is without constitution or jurisdiction.

10 Pursuant to the Webster's New Pocket Dictionary ©2007,
11 the word vexatious means to irritate or annoy. The innocent man
12 and victim of crime, the Plaintiff-in-Error, Mr. Houston has been 13 overly irritated and beyond annoyed at the defamation of his 14 character, false accusations, outright perjury, and numerous other 15 crimes committed by the defendants including but not limited to 16 ROSEMARIE McMORRIS-ALEXANDER ET AL, her nefarious attorney-of-
17 record HOOKS, MENG, & CLEMENT and the latest false statements
18 made in the record October 25th, 2023, by the attractive
19 female with pretty blonde highlights representing the Office
20 of the District Attorney. Her bare and naked allegations made
21 by the malicious prosecution further illustrate to this Court
22 their collusion with the defendants to block, thwart, and hinder
23 the Plaintiff-in-Error's meritoriously VALID claims of actual 24 innocence, proven by facts. As Mr. Houston's motions are merited,
25 and as pleaded in the Court of Eric Johnson (See A-22-856372-C),
26 Mr. Houston's filing of motions with multiple case numbers on their title 27 pages is necessary to provide judicial economy by providing all of the 28 facts and are in no way intended to abuse the resources of the courts.

False Imprisonment
Pursuant To The Nevada Statutes

200.460. Definition; penalties.

1. False imprisonment is an unlawful violation of the personal liberty of another, and consists in confinement or detention without sufficient legal authority.

2. A person convicted of false imprisonment shall pay all damages sustained by the person so imprisoned, and, except as otherwise provided in this section, is guilty of a gross misdemeanor.

3. Unless a greater penalty is provided pursuant to subsection 4, if the false imprisonment is committed:

(a) By a prisoner in a penal institution without a deadly weapon; or

(b) By any other person with the use of a deadly weapon,

the person convicted of such a false imprisonment is guilty of a category B felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 1 year and a maximum term of not more than 6 years.

4. Unless a greater penalty is provided pursuant to subsection 5, if the false imprisonment is committed by using the person so imprisoned as a shield or to avoid arrest, the person convicted of such a false imprisonment is guilty of a category B felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 1 year and a maximum term of not more than 15 years.

5. If the false imprisonment is committed by a prisoner who is in lawful custody or confinement with the use of a deadly weapon, the person convicted of such a false imprisonment is guilty of a category B felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 1 year and a maximum term of not more than 20 years.

HISTORY:

C&P 1911, § 175; RL 1912, § 6440; CL 1929, § 10122; 1967, p. 472; 1981, p. 614; 1995, ch. 443, § 66, p. 1190; 2003, ch. 36, § 1, p. 387.

NOTES TO DECISIONS

Submission to mere verbal direction of another, unaccompanied by force or threats of any character, does not constitute false imprisonment. Lerner Shops v. Marin, 83 Nev. 75, 423 P.2d 398, 1967 Nev. LEXIS 228 (Nev. 1967).

Defense to false imprisonment action.

If one has reasonable grounds to believe that another is stealing his property he may be justified in detaining such person for a reasonable time in order to investigate; this common law privilege, if properly exercised, is a defense to an action for false imprisonment. Jacobson v. State, 89 Nev. 197, 510 P.2d

856, 1973 Nev. LEXIS 470 (Nev. 1973).

A plaintiff in a false arrest/false imprisonment case need not prove lack of probable cause for arrest as part of his prima facie case. Garton v. Reno, 102 Nev. 313, 720 P.2d 1227, 1986 Nev. LEXIS 1292 (Nev. 1986).

Failure to make out prima facie case.

Where the plaintiff introduced scant evidence addressing the issue of the "legal cause or justification," and instead his case-in-chief focused on the procedural irregularities of and damages occasioned by his arrest, the plaintiff did not make out a prima facie case of false arrest and false imprisonment; therefore, the district court did not err in involuntarily dismissing the plaintiff's false arrest and false imprisonment causes of action. Garton v. Reno, 102 Nev. 313, 720 P.2d 1227, 1986 Nev. LEXIS 1292 (Nev. 1986).

Arrest and detention for nonpayment of casino markers.

Defendant's arrest and detention in Texas for the nonpayment of casino markers lay within the legal bounds of Nevada's bad check statute and did not constitute a false arrest, therefore, defendant's allegations of unauthorized detention allegations were properly dismissed. Fleeger v. Bell, 95 F. Supp. 2d 1126, 2000 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5091 (D. Nev. 2000), aff'd, 23 Fed. Appx. 741, 2001 U.S. App. LEXIS 25491 (9th Cir. Nev. 2001).

Incidental to robbery.

Defendant's false imprisonment convictions were reversed where he attempted to rob three individuals, he directed them to a room, he did not tie them up, but merely closed the door and attempted to lock them in; therefore, the false imprisonment convictions were part of and incidental to the conviction of attempting to rob the three individuals taken to the back room. Garcia v. State, 121 Nev. 327, 113 P.3d 836, 121 Nev. Adv. Rep. 33, 2005 Nev. LEXIS 36 (Nev. 2005), dismissed, 132 Nev. 970, 2016 Nev. Unpub. LEXIS 115 (Nev. 2016), app. dismissed, 501 P.3d 994, 2022 Nev. Unpub. LEXIS 48 (Nev. 2022).

Evidence sufficient.

Evidence was sufficient to support defendant's conviction of false imprisonment by using a person as a human shield in light of the video surveillance tapes, the testimony of the convenience store employee and a police officer, and the victim's grand jury testimony, showing that when the police arrived at the convenience store, defendant grabbed the victim, made a motion as if he was reaching into his waistband, and started yelling that he was going to kill one of the pursuing officers. Grey v. State, 124 Nev. 110, 178 P.3d 154, 124 Nev. Adv. Rep. 11, 2008 Nev. LEXIS 15 (Nev. 2008).

199.230. Preventing or dissuading person from testifying or producing evidence.

A person who, by persuasion, force, threat, intimidation, deception or otherwise, and with the intent to obstruct the course of justice, prevents or attempts to prevent another person from appearing before any court, or person authorized to subpoena witnesses, as a witness in any action, investigation or other official proceeding, or causes or induces another person to be absent from such a proceeding or evade the process which requires the person to appear as a witness to testify or produce a record, document or other object, shall be punished:

1. Where physical force or the immediate threat of physical force is used, for a category D felony as provided in NRS 193.130.

2. Where no physical force or immediate threat of physical force is used, for a gross misdemeanor.

HISTORY:

C&P 1911, § 94; RL 1912, § 6359; CL 1929, § 10043; 1967, p. 465; 1979, p. 1421; 1983, p. 1683; 1995, ch. 443, § 27, p. 1175.

NOTES TO DECISIONS

Evidence sufficient.

There was sufficient evidence to show that defendant dissuaded a witness under this statute because he told the baby's mother not to testify, and he also told his girlfriend and mother to guarantee that the baby's mother did not testify. *Anderson v. No good reason appears to require that a subpoena shall first have had to be issued before a person can be considered a prospective witness; a witness can be a witness without a subpoena. Fox v. Sheriff, Clark County, 86 Nev. 21, 467 P.2d 1022, 1970 Nev. LEXIS 442 (Nev. 1970).

Effect of nonessential error in information.

An information charging the defendant with offering compensation to induce a witness to withhold testimony in a pending criminal case against him was not fatally defective in charging that on April 26, 1969, the defendant offered a witness $500 not to testify against him at a preliminary hearing scheduled for June 8, 1969, which date was a Sunday on which a preliminary hearing could not have been scheduled, as the allegation that a preliminary hearing was scheduled for June 8 was not essential. *Fox v. "Understanding" between the parties.

This section requires an agreement or understanding between the giver of the bribe and the receiver; if the giver makes an offer and he reasonably believes that the receiver has accepted, then there is an "understanding" between the parties. *Fox v. It is not a defense to a prosecution under NRS 199.230 or 199.240 to show that:

1. An official proceeding was not pending or about to be instituted; or
2. The testimony sought or the record, document or other object to have been produced would have been legally privileged or inadmissible in evidence.

HISTORY:

1983, p. 1682; 1985, p. 247.

199.250. Witness accepting bribe.

A person who is or may be a witness upon a trial, hearing, investigation or other proceeding before any court, tribunal or person authorized to hear evidence or take testimony, who asks or receives, directly or indirectly, any compensation, gratuity or reward, or any promise thereof, upon an agreement or understanding that his or her testimony will be influenced thereby, or that the person will be absent from the trial, hearing or other proceeding, is guilty of a category C felony and shall be punished as provided in NRS 193.130.

HISTORY:

C&P 1911, § 57; RL 1912, § 6322; CL 1929, § 10006; 1967, p. 465; 1979, p. 1421; 1995, ch. 443, § 29, p. 1176.

207.190. Coercion.

1. It is unlawful for a person, with the intent to compel another to do or abstain from doing an act which the other person has a right to do or abstain from doing, to:

(a) Use violence or inflict injury upon the other person or any of the other person's family, or upon the other person's property, or threaten such violence or injury;

(b) Deprive the person of any tool, implement or clothing, or hinder the person in the use thereof; or

(c) Attempt to intimidate the person by threats or force.

2. A person who violates the provisions of subsection 1 shall be punished:

(a) Where physical force or the immediate threat of physical force is used, for a category B felony by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 1 year and a maximum term of not more than 6 years, and may be further punished by a fine of not more than $5,000.

(b) Where no physical force or immediate threat of physical force is used, for a misdemeanor.

HISTORY:

C&P 1911, § 475; RL 1912, § 6740; CL 1929, § 10424; 1967, p. 522; 1979, p. 1455; 1995, ch. 443, § 183, p. 1239.

NOTES TO DECISIONS

This section is not constitutionally void for vagueness; it adequately defines the proscribed conduct. Carlisle v. State, 98 Nev. 128, 642 P.2d 596, 1982 Nev. LEXIS 405 (Nev. 1982).

Sentence.

Sentence did not amount to cruel and unusual punishment because the sentencing range on the coercion felony charge was 12-72 months and defendant received a sentence of 24-60 months. Collier v. State, 2016 Nev. Un-pub. LEXIS 533 (Nev. 2016).

Finding of coercion.

Where the record showed that the defendants physically abused the victim and forced him to confess to cheating a casino, the magistrate's finding of probable cause to the charge of criminal coercion was supported. Jacobson v. State, 89 Nev. 197, 510 P.2d 856, 1973 Nev. LEXIS 470 (Nev. 1973).

Evidence held sufficient.

Defendant's convictions for burglary and coercion, in violation of NRS 207.190(1), were supported by the evidence because a rational juror could have inferred from the victim's testimony that defendant twice unlawfully entered her home with the intent to commit assault and/or battery and used physical force against her by taking and breaking her phone with the intent to prevent her from doing an act that she had a right to do, completing her 911 call. Middleton v. State, 132 Nev. 1007, 2016 Nev. Unpub. LEXIS 448 (Nev. 2016).

Jury could reasonably infer from the evidence presented that defendant committed first-degree kidnapping by forcibly moving the victim against her will to a second location for the purpose of committing sexual assault, battery with intent to commit sexual assault by willfully using force on the victim while intending to commit sexual assault, sexual assault by penetrating the victim's vagina against her will, and coercion by using force with the intent to compel the victim to enter and remain in the restroom stall. Perez v. State, 132 Nev. 1016, 2016 Nev. LEXIS 530 (Nev. 2016), dismissed, 134 Nev. 995, 412 P.3d 1081, 2018 Nev. Unpub. LEXIS 150 (Nev. 2018), writ denied, 463 P.3d 481, 2020 Nev. App. Unpub. LEXIS 425 (Nev. Ct. App. 2020).

Evidence was sufficient to convict defendant of coercion as defendant kept the victim from leaving the store because testimony was presented that defendant entered the store and went to the manager, and told the manager to go behind the counter; when the manager did not immediately obey, defendant showed him a gun in his waistband and then told him if he did not comply he would hurt the victim; the victim heard the exchange and saw the butt of the gun; when the manager told the victim to move into the back room, she complied because she was afraid; the victim testified that she was afraid and did not feel like she could leave because defendant had a gun; and both the manager and the victim testified that defendant was the perpetrator. Spearman v. State, 132 Nev. 1031, 2016 Nev. App. Unpub. LEXIS 88 (Nev. Ct. App. 2016), app. dismissed, 134 Nev. 1013, 410 P.3d 990, 2018 Nev. Unpub. LEXIS 99 (Nev. 2018).

Jury could have inferred an immediate, although unspoken, threat of physical force from evidence that defendant ordered the victim to disconnect a store's telephone while standing with his back against the door, which he had locked after forcing the victim to accompany him inside the otherwise empty store. Before ordering her to disconnect the phone, defendant had sprayed the store's surveillance camera and robbed the victim of her wallet and cellphone, as well as the store's money. Guerrina v. State, 134 Nev. 338, 419 P.3d 705, 134 Nev. Adv. Rep. 45, 2018 Nev. LEXIS 46 (Nev. 2018).

Reasonable person test must be applied by jury.

Defendant's 19 convictions for felony coercion were overturned and a new trial was ordered where the trial court erred in not instructing the jury to apply the reasonable person test; it was not clear beyond a reasonable doubt that the jury would have found defendant guilty absent the error. Santana v. State, 122 Nev. 1458, 148 P.3d 741, 122 Nev. Adv. Rep. 121, 2006 Nev. LEXIS 140 (Nev. 2006).

In determining whether a defendant has made an immediate threat of physical force under this section, the inquiry must focus on the viewpoint of a reasonable person; while a jury can and should consider the testimony of victims, the jury remains responsible for determining whether the threat was immediate, future, or incapable of being performed. Santana v. State, 122 Nev. 1458, 148 P.3d 741, 122 Nev. Adv. Rep. 121, 2006 Nev. LEXIS 140 (Nev. 2006).

Double jeopardy.

Kidnapping included elements of confinement or asportation and the intent to commit sexual assault that were not required to establish coercion; and coercion included elements of force or deprivation and the intent to compel another to act or not act that were not required to establish kidnapping, and as each offense contained an element not contained in the other, double jeopardy did not bar defendant's convictions for coercion and first-degree kidnapping. Perez v. State, 132 Nev. 1016, 2016 Nev. LEXIS 530 (Nev. 2016), dismissed, 134 Nev. 995, 412 P.3d 1081, 2018 Nev. Unpub. LEXIS 150 (Nev. 2018), writ denied, 463 P.3d 481, 2020 Nev. App. Unpub. LEXIS 425 (Nev. Ct. App. 2020).

Definition was overbroad as to U.S. Sentencing Guidelines.

Unpublished decision: Where a defendant appealed his sentence for illegal reentry, which included a 16-level enhancement, his coercion conviction included element of physical force, as defined by Nevada law, but Nevada's definition of physical force, as used in Nev. Rev. Stat § 207.190, was broader than the definition of physical force as used in U.S. Sentencing Guidelines Manual § 2L1.2; § 207.190 was categorically overbroad as to U.S. Sentencing Guidelines and could not justify the 16-level sentence enhancement. United States v. Miguel-Mariano, 666 Fed. Appx. 702, 2016 U.S. App. LEXIS 23215 (9th Cir. Cal. 2016).

Crime of violence.

Defendant's conviction in Nevada of the felony version of coercion did not qualify as a crime of violence under the elements clause of U.S. Sentencing Guidelines Manual § 4B1.2 since it was likely that the Nevada courts would interpret the physical force necessary in the same manner as the force necessary to commit battery, which did not require the kind of violent physical force necessary to satisfy the Johnson standard. United States v. Edling, 891 F.3d 1190, 2018 U.S. App. LEXIS 15503 (9th Cir. Nev. 2018), amended, 2018 U.S. App. LEXIS 19134 (9th Cir. Nev. July 12, 2018).

205.320. Threats.

A person who, with the intent to extort or gain any money or other property or to compel or induce another to make, subscribe, execute, alter or destroy any valuable security or instrument or writing affecting or intended to affect any cause of action or defense, or any property, or to influence the action of any public officer, or to do or abet or procure any illegal or wrongful act, whether or not the purpose is accomplished, threatens directly or indirectly:

1. To accuse any person of a crime;
2. To injure a person or property;
3. To publish or connive at publishing any libel;
4. To expose or impute to any person any deformity or disgrace; or
5. To expose any secret, is guilty of a category B felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 1 year and a maximum term of not more than 10 years, or by a fine of not more than $10,000, or by both fine and imprisonment. In addition to any other penalty, the court shall order the person to pay restitution.

NOTES TO DECISIONS

Under this section, the use in an information of the word "feloniously" was a sufficient averment of the intent necessary to constitute the crime of extortion. Ex parte Esden, 55 Nev. 169, 28 P.2d 132, 1934 Nev. LEXIS 6 (Nev. 1934).

Blackmail contemplates the influencing to favorable action through a withholding of disclosure rather than the discrediting of a person through the making of disclosure. In re Greenspun, 74 Nev. 256, 328 P.2d 297, 1958 Nev. LEXIS 122 (Nev. 1958).

Intent is the gist of the offense of blackmail.

An essential ingredient of the crime of blackmail is the intent to extort or gain money or property, or to accomplish any of the other things mentioned in this statute, by any of the means enumerated therein; the intent to do so is the gist of the offense. The information need not expressly state this essential element, but if it contains words conveying the same meaning, it is sufficient; thus, where the information charged the defendant with willfully, intentionally, and feloniously, making a demand, by letter addressed to and delivered by mail to the victim that she pay defendant the sum of $100.00, which letter contained threats to disgrace the victim, such information stated facts sufficient to constitute an offense under this section. parte Esden, 55 Nev. 169, 28 P.2d 132, 1934 Nev. LEXIS 6 (Nev. 1934).

Place where blackmail committed.

Contention of the state that petitioner's acts in two counties, taken together, constituted a single continuing effort to secure favorable judicial action and, that the crime of blackmail could therefore be said to have been committed by him in either county, would be rejected since in order to establish the commission of the crime, his continuing effort must have culminated at some point in a threat, made directly or indirectly in one county or the other. In re Greenspun, 74 Nev. 256, 328 P.2d 297, 1958 Nev. LEXIS 122 (Nev. 1958).

Robbery compared with extortion.

Robbery statute requires the actual taking "by force, violence, or fear of injury" of another's property. Extortion, on the other hand, requires proof of either an indirect or a direct threat. Each offense requires proof of an additional fact which the other does not. The two are separate crimes and separate sentences may be imposed for each violation. Eckert v. Tansy, 936 F.2d 444, 1991 U.S. App. LEXIS 12206 (9th Cir. Nev. 1991), dismissed, 382 P.3d 499, 2016 Nev. Unpub. LEXIS 642 (Nev. 2016).

It was not violative of the federal double jeopardy clause for the court to refuse to merge the defendant's convictions for robbery and for extortion. Eckert v. Tansy, 936 F.2d 444, 1991 U.S. App. LEXIS 12206 (9th Cir. Nev. 1991), dismissed, 382 P.3d 499, 2016 Nev. Unpub. LEXIS 642 (Nev. 2016).

"Libel."

As used in this section, "libel" refers to the publication of a false statement as fact. Phillips v. State, 121 Nev. 591, 119 P.3d 711, 121 Nev. Adv. Rep. 58, 2005 Nev. LEXIS 66 (Nev. 2005), overruled in part, Cortinas v. State, 124 Nev. 1013, 195 P.3d 315, 124 Nev. Adv. Rep. 86, 2008 Nev. LEXIS 105 (Nev. 2008).

A statement must be false to constitute libel under this section; a demand for money to refrain from publishing a true claim of common heritage does not constitute extortion by libel. Phillips v. State, 121 Nev. 591, 119 P.3d 711, 121 Nev. Adv. Rep. 58, 2005 Nev. LEXIS 66 (Nev. 2005), overruled in part, Cortinas v. State, 124 Nev. 1013, 195 P.3d 315, 124 Nev. Adv. Rep. 86, 2008 Nev. LEXIS 105 (Nev. 2008).

"Disgrace."

As used in this section, "disgrace" means to humiliate or cause loss of favor or standing. Phillips v. State, 121 Nev. 591, 119 P.3d 711, 121 Nev. Adv. Rep. 58, 2005 Nev. LEXIS 66 (Nev. 2005), overruled in part, Cortinas v. State, 124 Nev. 1013, 195 P.3d 315, 124 Nev. Adv. Rep. 86, 2008 Nev. LEXIS 105 (Nev. 2008).

"Secret."

As used in this section, "secret" means a fact that is unfavorable to the interest of a person, unknown to the public, and something a person would wish to conceal. Phillips v. State, 121 Nev. 591, 119 P.3d 711, 121 Nev. Adv. Rep. 58, 2005 Nev. LEXIS 66 (Nev. 2005), overruled in part, Cortinas v. State, 124 Nev. 1013, 195 P.3d 315, 124 Nev. Adv. Rep. 86, 2008 Nev. LEXIS 105 (Nev. 2008).

Jury instructions.

Trial court's failure to properly instruct the jury on the elements of "libel," "disgrace," and "secret" as used in this section allowed the jury to consider a legally insufficient theory of extortion. The general verdict form did not specify which theory of extortion was used to convict defendant, so the extortion convictions were reversed. Phillips v. State, 121 Nev. 591, 119 P.3d 711, 121 Nev. Adv. Rep. 58, 2005 Nev. LEXIS 66 (Nev. 2005), overruled in part, Cortinas v. State, 124 Nev. 1013, 195 P.3d 315, 124 Nev. Adv. Rep. 86, 2008 Nev. LEXIS 105 (Nev. 2008).

Evidence.

Evidence of defendant's prior convictions for attempted robbery and possessing a concealed weapon was relevant to rebut his claim that he did not intend to extort money from the victim but was only trying to claim what he honestly thought was his due. However, it was improperly admitted, as the convictions were about 20 and 10 years old, respectively, and testimony relating to those crimes that portrayed defendant as a violent individual was unduly prejudicial. Phillips v. State, 121 Nev. 591, 119 P.3d 711, 121 Nev. Adv. Rep. 58, 2005 Nev. LEXIS 66 (Nev. 2005), overruled in part, Cortinas v. State, 124 Nev. 1013, 195 P.3d 315, 124 Nev. Adv. Rep. 86, 2008 Nev. Malicious Prosecution
Pursuant to the Nevada Statutes

176.115. Judgment against complainant for malicious prosecution when defendant not found guilty; costs; enforcement of judgment.

1. In all cases of criminal prosecution where the defendant is not found guilty, the court may require the complainant, if it appears that the prosecution was malicious or without probable cause, to pay the costs of the action, or to give security to pay the same within 30 days.

2. If the complainant does not comply with the order of the court, judgment may be entered against the complainant for the amount thereof.

3. Such judgments may be enforced and appealed from in the same manner as those rendered in civil actions.

Appeals.

Defendant's appeal of a district court's denial of defendant's request for costs under NRS 176.115, after defendant's municipal court prosecution was dismissed upon defendant's de novo appeal to district court, was dismissed because (1) the district court's order was not appealable, and (2) NRS 176.115 did not create an additional right of appeal. *Stilwell v. Crimes Against A Vulnerable Person
Pursuant To The Nevada Statutes

200.5091. Policy of State.

It is the policy of this State to provide for the cooperation of law enforcement officials, courts of competent jurisdiction and all appropriate state agencies providing human services in identifying the abuse, neglect, exploitation, isolation and abandonment of older persons and vulnerable persons through the complete reporting of abuse, neglect, exploitation, isolation and abandonment of older persons and vulnerable persons.

HISTORY:

1981, p. 1334; 1997, ch. 382, § 5, p. 1348; 2005, ch. 324, § 3, p. 1107; 2015, ch. 174, § 2, p. 804, effective October 1, 2015.

200.5092. Definitions.

As used in NRS 200.5091 to 200.50995, inclusive, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Abandonment" means:

(a) Desertion of an older person or a vulnerable person in an unsafe manner by a caretaker or other person with a legal duty of care; or

(b) Withdrawal of necessary assistance owed to an older person or a vulnerable person by a caretaker or other person with an obligation to provide services to the older person or vulnerable person.

2. "Abuse" means willful:

(a) Infliction of pain or injury on an older person or a vulnerable person;

(b) Deprivation of food, shelter, clothing or services which are necessary to maintain the physical or mental health of an older person or a vulnerable person;

(c) Infliction of psychological or emotional anguish, pain or distress on an older person or a vulnerable person through any act, including, without limitation:

(1) Threatening, controlling or socially isolating the older person or vulnerable person;

(2) Disregarding the needs of the older person or vulnerable person; or

(3) Harming, damaging or destroying any property of the older person or vulnerable person, including, without limitation, pets;

(d) Nonconsensual sexual contact with an older person or a vulnerable person, including, without limitation:

(1) An act that the older person or vulnerable person is unable to understand or to which the older person or vulnerable person is unable to communicate his or her objection; or

(2) Intentional touching, either directly or through the clothing, of the genitalia, anus, groin, breast, inner thigh or buttocks of the older person or vulnerable person; or

(e) Permitting any of the acts described in paragraphs (a) to (d), inclusive, to be committed against an older person or a vulnerable person.

3. "Exploitation" means any act taken by a person who has the trust and confidence of an older person or a vulnerable person or any use of the power of attorney or guardianship of an older person or a vulnerable person to:

(a) Obtain control, through deception, intimidation or undue influence, over the older person's or vulnerable person's money, assets or property with the intention of permanently depriving the older person or vulnerable person of the ownership, use, benefit or possession of his or her money, assets or property; or

(b) Convert money, assets or property of the older person or vulnerable person with the intention of permanently depriving the older person or vulnerable person of the ownership, use, benefit or possession of his or her money, assets or property.

As used in this subsection, "undue influence" means the improper use of power or trust in a way that deprives a person of his or her free will and substitutes the objectives of another person. The term does not include the normal influence that one member of a family has over another.

4. "Isolation" means preventing an older person or a vulnerable person from having contact with another person by:

(a) Intentionally preventing the older person or vulnerable person from receiving visitors, mail or telephone calls, including, without limitation, communicating to a person who

(b) Physically restraining the older person or vulnerable person to prevent the older person or vulnerable person from meeting with a person who comes to visit the older person or vulnerable person; or

(c) Permitting any of the acts described in paragraphs (a) and (b) to be committed against an older person or a vulnerable person.

The term does not include an act intended to protect the property or physical or mental welfare of the older person or vulnerable person or an act performed pursuant to the instructions of a physician of the older person or vulnerable person.

5. "Neglect" means the failure of a person or a manager of a facility who has assumed legal responsibility or a contractual obligation for caring for an older person or a vulnerable person or who has voluntarily assumed responsibility for his or her care to provide food, shelter, clothing or services which are necessary to maintain the physical or mental health of the older person or vulnerable person.

6. "Older person" means a person who is 60 years of age or older.

7. "Protective services" means services the purpose of which is to prevent and remedy the abuse, neglect, exploitation, isolation and abandonment of older persons or vulnerable persons. The services may include:

(a) The investigation, evaluation, counseling, arrangement and referral for other services and assistance; and

(b) Services provided to an older person or a vulnerable person who is unable to provide for his or her own needs.

8. "Vulnerable person" means a person 18 years of age or older who:

(a) Suffers from a condition of physical or mental incapacitation because of a developmental disability, organic brain damage or mental illness; or abuse, neglect, isolation or abandonment, the person shall, as soon as reasonably practicable, report this belief to the appropriate medical examiner or coroner, who shall investigate the cause of death of the older person or vulnerable person and submit to the appropriate local law enforcement agencies, the appropriate prosecuting attorney, the Aging and Disability Services Division of the Department of Health and Human Services and the Unit for the Investigation and Prosecution of Crimes his or her written findings. The written findings must include the information required pursuant to the provisions of NRS 200.5094, when possible.

(b) Has one or more physical or mental limitations that restrict the ability of the person to perform the normal activities of daily living.

7. A division, office or department which receives a report pursuant to this section shall cause the investigation of the report to commence within 3 working days. A copy of the final report of the investigation conducted by a division, office or department, other than the Aging and Disability Services Division of the Department of Health and Human Services, must be forwarded within 30 days after the completion of the report to the:

(a) Aging and Disability Services Division;

(b) Repository for Information Concerning Crimes Against Older Persons or Vulnerable Persons created by NRS 179A.450; and

(c) Unit for the Investigation and Prosecution of Crimes.

8. If the investigation of a report results in the belief that an older person or vulnerable person is abused, neglected, exploited, isolated or abandoned, the Aging and Disability Services Division of the Department of Health and Human Services or the county's office for protective services may provide protective services to the older person or vulnerable person if the older person or vulnerable person is able and willing to accept them.

9. A person who knowingly and willfully violates any of the provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor.

10. As used in this section, "Unit for the Investigation and Prosecution of Crimes" means the Unit for the Investigation and Prosecution of Crimes Against Older Persons or Vulnerable Persons in the Office of the Attorney General created pursuant to NRS 228.265.

200.50982. Disclosure of information concerning reports and investigations to other agencies or legal representative of older person or vulnerable person; disclosure of information concerning suspect in investigation of abuse, neglect, exploitation, isolation or abandonment of older person or vulnerable person.

1. The provisions of NRS 200.5091 to 200.50995, inclusive, do not prohibit:

(a) An agency which is investigating a report of abuse, neglect, exploitation, isolation or abandonment, or which provides protective services, from disclosing data or information concerning the reports and investigations of the abuse, neglect, exploitation, isolation or abandonment of an older person or a vulnerable person to other federal, state or local agencies or the legal representatives of the older person or vulnerable person on whose behalf the investigation is being conducted if:

(1) The agency making the disclosure determines that the disclosure is in the best interest of the older person or vulnerable person; and

(2) Proper safeguards are taken to ensure the confidentiality of the information.

(b) An attorney who receives data or information pursuant to paragraph (k) of subsection 3 of NRS 200.5095 from disclosing data or information concerning a report or investigation of the abuse, neglect, exploitation, isolation or abandonment of an older person or vulnerable person to a court of competent jurisdiction in a guardianship proceeding concerning the older person or vulnerable person.

2. If the Aging and Disability Services Division of the Department of Health and Human Services is investigating a report of abuse, neglect, exploitation, isolation or abandonment of an older person or vulnerable person, a law enforcement agency shall, upon request of the Aging and Disability Services Division, provide information relating to any suspect in the investigation

2. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, if a guardian has not been appointed for the older person or vulnerable person, the Aging and Disability Services Division or the county's office for protective services shall obtain the consent of the older person or vulnerable person before inspecting those records. If the Aging and Disability Services Division or the county's office for protective services determines that the older person or vulnerable person is unable to consent to the inspection, the inspection may be conducted without his or her consent. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, if a guardian has been appointed for the older person or vulnerable person, the Aging and Disability Services Division or the county's office for protective services shall obtain the consent of the guardian before inspecting those records. If the Aging and Disability Services Division or the county's office for protective services has reasonable cause to believe that the guardian is abusing, neglecting, exploiting, isolating or abandoning the older person or vulnerable person, the inspection may be conducted without the consent of the guardian, except that if the records to be inspected are in the personal possession of the guardian, the inspection must be approved by a court of competent jurisdiction.

Editor's Notes

In 2015, the Legislative Counsel added "or abandons" in the introductory sentence of subsection 5.

Amendment Notes

The 2011 amendment, effective October 1, 2011, substituted "$650" for "$250" in (3)(a) and (3)(b).

The 2013 amendment, effective October 1, 2013, substituted "gross misdemeanor" for "misdemeanor" in (3)(a); and substituted "364 days" for "1 year" in (3)(a) and (4).

The 2017 amendment by ch. 387, effective October 1, 2017, rewrote the section.

The 2017 amendment by ch. 422, effective October 1, 2017, rewrote the section.

NOTES TO DECISIONS

Mens rea requirement.

An erroneous jury instruction warranted reversal of count one of defendant's conviction of neglect of the elderly causing substantial bodily harm; incidents leading to defendant's conviction occurred before the effective date of the 1995 amendments to § 200.5099 which eliminated the willful mens rea requirement. *Vallery v. How the controversial appointment to the bench came to be

by Robin Hebrock
Pahrump Valley Times

More than four months after the death of Pahrump Justice of the Peace Kent Jaspersen, his vacant seat was finally been filled, with Nye County commissioners opting this week to appoint former Nevada Assemblywoman and former Las Vegas Councilwoman Michele Fiore to the position.

While the decision may have been a unanimous one for commissioners, it split the community.

Some members of the public applauded the choice

as others questioned why commissioners appointed the controversial figure.

Fiore is a fervent supporter of former President Donald Trump, and was involved in multiple scandals throughout her tenure on the Las Vegas council. Her home was raided by the FBI last year as part of a campaign finance violation investigation, although she has said the claims were "made up" and that she cooperated with investigators.

A 2019 Review-Journal investigation found that Fiore had a history of unreported taxes and business problems. She has denied wrongdoing. Fiore also registered to vote in Nye County just weeks ago and says she purchased land here this summer.

Fiore will assume the bench and preside over cases in Pahrump Justice Court, Department B for the next two years.

How it happened

The process of her appointment was a lengthy one, taking nearly four hours during the Nye County Commission's Dec. 20 meeting but stretching back for more than a month before that.

A pool of 18 applicants were up for consideration following the withdrawal of commissioner Leo Blundo and former Inyo County Sheriff William Lutze and with so many to choose from, the commission utilized a scoring matrix to assist with determining who would ultimately earn the appointment.

All of the applicants were given a chance to speak for two minutes before undertaking a series of questions from the board, during which commissioners recorded their scores. After each applicant had their say, the scores were tallied and the top three contenders were announced.

Making it to the final three were Fiore, current Nye County Republican Central Committee Chair Bill

The Nye County Commission voted 5-0 to appoint former Nevada Assemblywoman and Las Vegas City Councilwoman Michele Fiore as a Pahrump justice of the peace.

Carns and current pro-tem judge Michael Foley, who had been acting as justice of the peace in Judge Jaspersen's old courtroom for the past month.

The trio were then requested by the board, after which commissioner Donna Cox made the motion to appoint Fiore, whom, Cox noted, had received a personal endorsement from former president Trump.

"Michele Fiore is an outstanding and wonderful woman whom I have known for a long while and she would make an absolutely fantastic justice of the peace," Cox quoted from Trump's letter of endorsement. "That speaks very loudly and it was an honor to receive this," she added.

Nye County Commissioner Debra Strickland offered a second on the motion and brief round of discussion was had before commission chair Frank Carbone, who remarked that he would have preferred to appoint Foley, called for the question. The motion passed 5-0.

"I'm a former assemblywoman for two terms and four special sessions. I sat on the judiciary (committee) for both terms. I wrote 119 pieces of legislation that are now in the NRSs (Nevada Revised Statutes)," Fiore told the board during her two-minute presentation. "I have sat on the Las Vegas City Council for the past five years and the experience that I have sitting there, listening to folks that come before us, is the experience of a servant leader."

As to her eligibility to hold the Pahrump justice of the peace seat, which was questioned by certain members of the public, Fiore remarked that she had purchased land locally in June and she was currently renting a home from another former Nevada Assembly member, Ed Goedhart.

"So I am a qualified elector as of mid-November, the exact date was Nov. 15," Fiore explained. "And I am very excited to be a Pahrump girl."

Another controversial topic was broached during Fiore's interview before the board, that of guns in facilities housing the courts.

The Nye County Commission has been at loggerheads with the Fifth Judicial District Court over the issue of weapons being carried in the county government complexes, where the district court's courtrooms are located. Commissioner

Bruce Jabbour, who brought that argument to a head last year, made it clear that the battle was not about carrying guns in the actual courtrooms, but within other areas of the county-owned buildings.

Fiore said she was a firm backer of Second Amendment rights and she didn't see an issue with having firearms in the government complexes, or even in the courtrooms themselves. "I believe an armed society is a polite society. So I think firearms should be anywhere a person is. If I'm sitting on that bench and I have my firearm, as I have it with me today, and someone is stupid enough to pull theirs, if we do have a gun battle, I will probably win. So I am cool with you bringing a gun into the courtroom," Fiore asserted. "If you're silly enough to challenge me, then you are just plain silly."

Fiore also noted that she is currently studying law, with the intention of taking the bar examination by the end of her term of appointment.

"I'm very excited to go forth with the process and actually get to work to get our backlog cleaned up and to work with our pro-tem Mike Foley," she stated.

Fiore's appointment will expire in January, 2025 when the winner of the 2024 general election takes office. Fiore said she absolutely intends to run for formal election to the justice of the peace seat during the next election cycle.

27 inmates on hunger strike at state

'Abusive, violent conditions' cited as cause

By Brett Clarkson
Special to the Pahrump Valley Times

More than two dozen prisoners are on a hunger strike at a Nevada state prison over what they say are abusive and violent conditions there, among other complaints.

Twenty-seven inmates at Ely State Prison were hunger striking as of Monday, according to a statement issued that afternoon by the department's acting spokesperson, W.C. "Bill" Quenga.

The hunger strike began last Thursday and originally included 39 prisoners, Quenga said.

Ely, about 250 miles north of Las Vegas, is home to Nevada's men's death row. The Department of Corrections' website says it is the state's "designated maximum-security prison" and has "406 employee positions" with a capacity of 1,183 inmates.

"They are currently participating in a peaceful protest regarding the conditions of their confinement," said the statement from Return Strong and its executive director, Jodi Hocking.

"I think people are just really at their breaking point," Hocking said in an interview. "Ely's always been bad."

A hunger strike refers to the practice of refusing food in protest, and has been used throughout history by women demanding the right to vote, Mahatma Gandhi, and Irish Republican Army members in Northern Ireland, among others.

List of demands

Return Strong listed the prisoners' demands:

- End solitary confinement and lockdowns.

■ End what prisoners allege is violence by correctional staff at Ely and other state prisons against inmates.

■ End what they say is group punishment including indefinite lockdowns.

■ Stop interfering with prisoners' abilities to file grievances in connection with their prison experiences.

■ Give prisoners nutritious food.

■ Address safety concerns like mold, heating and air conditioning issues, and rodent infestations, among other things.

■ Convene a group of stakeholders to "provide immediate oversight into the conditions in all Nevada prisons, correctional centers and camps."

According to Return Strong, the inmates are "participating in a peaceful protest" to get their demands met.

They say that since the pandemic, prisoners have been subjected to a variety of lockdowns for reasons both legitimate and not. The extended isolation, which deprives the prisoners of socialization and religious services, had led to an "increase in mental health issues, aggression, violence, and suicides," Return Strong said.

"What's happening at Ely and prison

what's been initiated at Ely is the tip of the iceberg," Hocking said, adding that other state facilities like Florence McClure Women's Correctional Center and High Desert State Prison are "absolutely horrendous."

As well, the group alleged that inmates at Ely are assaulted by corrections workers in a room that operates outside of oversight.

"For years, there have been reports of physical attacks by staff on prisoners that take place in a room that does not have cameras available," Return Strong said in its statement. "This 'beat up room' has been common knowledge."

Acknowledging issues

For its part, the Department of Corrections acknowledged some of the reasons why the prisoners are hunger striking.

"The strike began Dec. 1, 2022, mostly in protest of the food portions being served but also includes conditions of confinement, property issues and disciplinary sanctions," Quenga's statement said.

Quenga added that the number of hunger strikers changes daily because some of the strikers will refuse food one day and then eat the next.

Food is made available every day to the hunger strikers, Quenga said.

But he added that Nevada prison officials are looking at the portion sizes distributed to the inmates for their daily meals.

"The NDOC is auditing portion sizes at all facilities throughout the state and reviewing the contract with the current food vendor. Additional complaints are also under review," Quenga said.

The hunger striking prisoners are "being monitored for weight and other health-related statistics," he said.

History of problems

A recent series of high-profile crises has roiled Nevada's Department of Corrections.

In September, convicted 2007 Luxor bomber Porfirio Duarte-Herrera, 42, escaped and was lining up at a Las Vegas shuttle bus company for a trip to the Mexican border when Metro officers, acting on a tip, took him back into custody.

In the fallout, Gov. Steve Sisolak issued a statement blasting prison officials for what he said was their "unacceptable" handling of the escape. The department's director at the time, Charles Daniels, resigned a week later. Daniels later demanded $1 million from the state and said he'd filed a whistleblower complaint.

Also in September, the department's medical director resigned less than a week after two inmates died by suicide at High Desert State Prison.

In October, High Desert inmate Andrew Hilford pleaded guilty and was sentenced to life for stabbing his cellmate, Isaiah Sharp, 21, in March 2021, less than a month before Sharp was to be released. Sharp's family had filed a lawsuit in July 2022 accusing the department of placing the two men in a cell together after Hilford "previously threatened harm against anyone placed in his cell."

In his statement, Quenga said the department "takes seriously the health and welfare of the offenders in its custody and is working to resolve this matter," he said.

Asked if she believes the Department of Corrections' statement, Hocking said she doesn't.

"That's a publicity response," Hocking said. "I don't think that is the case at all."

KILLING MACHINE

DID NEVADA'S INNOVATIVE GAS CHAMBER INSPIRE HITLER?

BY SCOTT CHRISTIANSON

On February 8, 1924, in a stone-and-concrete shack that for 40 years had served as the Nevada state prison's barbershop, a Chinese immigrant and convicted killer named Gee Jon became the first person ever executed in a gas chamber. Inside the sealed room two wooden chairs with armrests had been positioned a few feet apart—Gee's accomplice had also been scheduled to die but received a commutation. In front of and between the chairs stood a small metal device that would spray hydrocyanic acid, commercially known as cyanogen. A state spokesman insisted one deep breath by the condemned man would paralyze his lungs, displace the oxygen in his body and cause instant and painless death. Witnesses would be spared any painful outcries.

Prior to the execution, the warden staged a rehearsal with a stray white cat and two kittens. He estimated the cats died within 15 seconds. The test revealed a small leak, which was quickly patched to avert the poisoning of witnesses or staff.

It appeared Gee needed about six minutes to die, though the gas clouding the windows made it difficult to see inside. The warden pronounced the method "a wonderful and humane way of execution." Unlike hanging (by which an inmate might suffer for up to 15 minutes), electrocution (which could take three or four jolts) or a firing squad (which sometimes didn't cause instant death), gas first produced unconsciousness. The state's largest newspaper, the Nevada State Journal, began its coverage by pronouncing, "Nevada's novel death law is upheld by the highest court—humanity."

Eighteen days after Gee's death, in Munich, a right-wing radical named Adolf Hitler went on trial for his role in the failed Beer Hall Putsch. The previous year U.S. newspapers had reported on Hitler's extraordinary ability to sway crowds and his deep hatred of Jews, Communists, Bolsheviks and liberals, as well as his embrace of the trappings of fascism that had been introduced in 1922 by Italy's Benito Mussolini.

One of Hitler's friends who visited him in jail and kept him abreast of developments in the U.S. was Ernst "Putzi" Hanfstaengl, a six-foot-four German American patrician graduate of Harvard and descendent of a Union army general who had helped carry Abraham Lincoln's coffin. When Hanfstaengl wasn't entertaining his friend with his piano playing, he stimulated Hitler's imagination with stirring accounts of skyscrapers, gangsters and college football chants. He also translated and read aloud from British and U.S. newspapers. Hitler had been gassed and temporarily blinded while serving on the front during World War I, so he already knew gas was an ugly, painful and unpredictable weapon, and he disdained its use in battle. He would have been interested to learn about what the Americans had done in Nevada.

After being convicted and receiving a five-year sentence, Hitler began composing his own political creed, which he first titled Eine Abrechnung (Settling Accounts) but later changed to Mein Kampf (My Struggle). He wrote, "If at the beginning of the war and during the war, 12 or 15,000 of these Hebrew corrupters of the people had been held under poison gas, as happened to hundreds of thousands of our very best German workers in the field, the sacrifice of millions at the front would not have been in vain." Decades later Lucy Dawidowicz, a historian of the Holocaust, wrote, "Did the idea of the final solution originate in this passage, germinating in Hitler's subconscious for some 15 years before it was to sprout into practical reality?"

Another biographer observed, "Hitler's concept of concentration camps as well as the practicality of genocide owed, so he claimed, to his studies of English and U.S. history. He admired the camps for Boer prisoners in South Africa and for the Indians in the Wild West, and he often praised to his inner circle the efficiency of America's extermination—by starvation and uneven combat—of the red savages who could not be tamed by captivity." Hitler learned about the American enslavement of blacks and Jim Crow laws enforcing racial segregation, about the shipment of Native Americans to faraway prisons via boxcars and recent court rulings

National Origins Act, which called for eugenic quotas."

Historians have not yet turned up direct evidence that Hitler's thinking was influenced by the first successful use of the gas chamber, but the event was in the headlines during his trial, imprisonment and the writing of Mein Kampf. At the same time, delegations of German officials, criminologists and legal scholars were touring the American penal system, inspecting prison conditions and methods of punishment. These visits were also widely reported in Germany and most certainly read by executives at certain chemical companies. After all, cyanide was their business.

upholding the involuntary sterilization of the unfit. Yet another historian noted that Mein Kampf displayed Hitler's "keen familiarity with the recently passed U.S.

Scott Christianson is author of The Last Gasp: The Rise and Fall of the American Gas Chamber, published this month by the University of California Press.

DOES THE FIRST AMENDMENT PROTECT LAST WORDS?

What is the question posed in a 2001 law review article by Kevin Francis O'Neill, who was the lead counsel in a suit filed by the ACLU to prevent Ohio wardens from removing "offensive" language from the final statements of condemned prisoners. O'Neill notes that the Anglo-Saxon tradition of last words dates back to at least 1388; even accused witches and slaves were given the opportunity. Today, some states allow last words to be uttered only out of earshot of witnesses, while Texas gives its condemned an open microphone. Here are memorable examples of inmates exercising their right to free speech one final time. For more, see Robert Elder's new book, Last Words of the Executed (University of Chicago Press).

Hi Alex,

I represent Matthew Houston in the above referenced writ. I have a 5-day jury trial starting tomorrow, and we have a briefing schedule hearing set for August 31, 2022. Would you please review the proposed briefing schedule, and if you find it acceptable, may I affix your electronic signature? I allotted 90 days for opening, 60 for State's response, and 30 for reply.

Thank you for the help!

Hi Alex,

I just recently retained a neuropsychologist on this matter and she won't be able to visit Matthew Houston until the first week of December. Is it okay if we push this out 60 days?

RECORDED BY: VICTORIA BOYD, COURT RECORDER

1 Las Vegas, Nevada, Monday, October 25, 2021 at 8:50 a.m.

4 THE COURT: State of Nevada v. Mathew Houston. This is return on a bench
5 warrant. Mr. Houston is present in custody. And for the defense we have?

6 MR. LITTLE: Bernard Little, Bar Number 12025.

7 THE COURT: All right. So - -

8 MR. MERBACK: Your Honor, just for the record. It's William Rowles for the 9 State. He's there on Blue Jeans. Wait. I might have my pages mixed up. Which one 10 is this?

11 MR. MERBACK: I actually do have Houston. Never mind. Sorry.

12 THE COURT: So there are some competing motions but the first motion
13 would be for Mr. Little as to why the defendant was not present on October the 11th.

14 MR. LITTLE: Yes, Your Honor, I do not know and cannot make 15 representations on why he wasn't present. I do not believe the motion to remand 16 has been heard yet. We continued it until we could find him. And I'd be asking to 17 respond orally for motion to remand.

18 THE COURT: That was going to be my next question. So he's in custody on 19 the bench warrant is my understanding, is that correct?

20 MR. LITTLE: That's correct.

21 THE COURT: Very well then. The first motion we'll hear then is the State's 22 motion to remand and to increase bail. Argument by the State.

23 MR. MERBACK: Your Honor, I don't have a lot to add unless the Court has a 24 specific question. I'll submit it on our pleadings.

25 THE COURT: And then your oral opposition, Mr. Little?

Also See Case 2:23-cv-01210-APG-DJA Document 6 Filed 10/10/23 Page 57 of 144

1 MR. LITTLE: And, Your Honor, my client unfortunately suffered a traumatic
2 brain injury a while ago which kind of gives rise to this whole case. As Your Honor
3 is familiar with when somebody has a traumatic brain injury their ability to control
4 their thoughts and actions are limited. I also forwarded to the Court proof that his 5 support animals, which he has been legally prescribed as necessary for him to cope,
6 were taken away from him and he lost them and that was absolutely devastating. I
7 tried to talk him about this and counsel him through it but unfortunately I am not a
8 doctor. I am not a therapist. I can't help him with his impulse control issues. It does
9 seem to be that it is difficult for him to control his anger. I think he needs therapy. I
10 think he needs a lot of things. The problem is he's not going to be able to get those 11 while he's in custody. He's not going to be able to get the support he needs while in 12 custody as far controlling his impulses and getting medical assistance with his 13 traumatic brain injury he did suffer. This stems from a worker's comp case where he 14 alleged to have called several people and made various threats. It was resolved
15 and he pled guilty in this case, and as part of that condition was for him to not 16 contact the named victims. He did contact somebody that works - - that is a listed
17 named victim who also works at the worker's comp department. He is trying to get 18 that worker's comp case resolved and so he did have contact with that person.

19 I'm sure he has the Court's full attention. I'm sure he's well aware that he's 20 not supposed to do that. I'd be asking for release with conditions such that he goes
21 to weekly therapy, provides records to me which I can forward to the Court, and as 22 long as he's going to therapy, checking in on intensive supervision or electronic 23 monitoring as the Court deems fit then we can keep him out of custody pending
24 sentencing on this case.

25 MR. MERBACK: And, Your Honor, just if I could orally reply to that in regards

1 to one thing. Referencing the defendant's continued contact in this case is a part of
2 his worker's compensation case is just not accurate. His continued contact in this
3 case in direct violation of the Court's order clearly extends beyond anything that 4 would be necessary for a worker's compensation case and placing the victims in 5 danger. I'll submit it on that.

6 THE COURT: And do you have anything that you'd like to say, Mr. Houston?
7 You don't have to but I want to give you the opportunity if you choose to do so in 8 regard to why you weren't here on October 11th.

9 THE DEFENDANT: I was in the hospital, Your Honor, trying to get new 10 doctors because I was living in the state of Iowa so all my doctors there I can't see.
11 My insurance, I had to reapply for everything like the Medicaid and transfer my 12 Medicare over. Just finding new doctors. And I was hospitalized at UMC. I can't 13 remember the exact dates because I don't have the paperwork in front of me. Also 14 after my release, I think it was September 10th, my wallet was stolen when my truck
15 was broken into so everything has been overwhelming getting new doctors, having 16 to replace an ID and moving back to Nevada because I wasn't living in Nevada
17 before all this. For the last two years I was living in the state of Iowa and relocating
18 without being prepared for it has been difficult.

19 THE COURT: All right. I will not reinstate you on own recognizance release 20 or on the current bail.

21 State, you're seeking to have bail increased to how much?

22 MR. MERBACK: I think we were looking for -- let me check.

23 THE COURT: He'll be remanded into custody on this case. He's already in 24 custody on the bench warrant.

25 MR. MERBACK: What is the current bail on that -- was there a bail on that

Also See Case 2:23-cv-01210-APG-DJA Document 6 Filed 10/10/23 Page 58 of 144

1 bench warrant, Your Honor?

2 THE COURT: There was a no bail on the bench warrant.

3 MR. MERBACK: He was originally released with $5000. I'm going to ask the 4 Court then - - for $50,000 then because originally it was set at $5000 when he was 5 released.

6 THE COURT: Argument, Mr. Little, on the amount of bail?

7 MR. LITTLE: And, Your Honor, client is indigent. He's been living out of his
8 car when I spoke to him previously. I don't believe that he can afford a $50,000 bail
9 so that would be defacto detainer or no bail hold, which I don't think is the aspiration
10 of the Court and the DA, unless I'm wrong so I'd be asking for bail in the amount of 11 $10,000. It's more that the bail he had before because he did contact the named 12 victim as alleged but it's not something where it's not something where it's 13 completely outside the realm of possibility for him to be able to gather up.

14 THE COURT: All right. Based upon the nature of the case originally and the 15 status and conditions that related to his original release on the $5000 bail I'm going 16 to increase the bail to $15,000, which I believe to be a reasonable amount of bail to 17 insure that he understands the seriousness of not contacting the victims and 18 complying with all of his Court appearances as well as so that balanced approach of 19 protecting the community as well as making sure that the bail is reasonable and not 20 punitive pursuant to the most recent case law from Nevada Supreme Court. So the 21 bail will be $15,000 cash asurity.

22 MR. MERBACK: Your Honor, we also request in our motion that there also 23 be a condition high-level electronic monitoring as part of the release. We're going to 24 continue to request that as well.

25 THE COURT: And I do believe that that is appropriate under the

1 circumstances particularly given the confusion about where he's living and some of
2 the issues that related to the phone calls as well as the medical conditions, so I will
3 order high-level monitoring.

4 Now, Mr. Houston, no more phone calls. That's what you got you back into 5 custody. I know you're having a tough time. I know you got a lot of things to do but 6 is the number one thing, no phone calls and talk to Mr. Little in his office, okay?

7 THE DEFENDANT: All right.

8 THE COURT: If you get out again.

9 MR. MERBACK: We need to set this for sentencing now, Your Honor, or do
10 we already have a sentencing date of November 29th?

11 THE COURT: We have a sentencing date of November 29th.

12 MR. LITTLE: We do. I also filed a motion so somebody could look at his 13 possible - -

14 THE COURT: I'm going to get to that in just a minute.

15 MR. LITTLE: Understood.

16 THE COURT: So that would take care of everything from the State's 17 perspective on the motion.

18 MR. MERBACK: That's correct, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Now, Mr. Little, in conversations with Mr. Houston you have 20 indicated that he wishes to investigate and potentially file a motion to withdraw his 21 guilty plea and that in that context he may be claiming ineffective assistance of 22 counsel, is that correct?

23 MR. LITTLE: In my conversations with him he stated that he wanted to 24 withdraw his guilty plea, and I do not know what the best grounds to withdraw his 25 guilty plea would be but one of those could be ineffective assistance of counsel. And

Also See Case 2:23-cv-01210-APG-DJA Document 6 Filed 10/10/23 Page 59 of 144

1 he'd be forfeiting that argument if I was assess {inaudible} withdraw the guilty plea.

2 THE COURT: And I'm going to ask the clerk for the department, does Judge
3 Jones normally at this stage appoint independent counsel to interview the defendant
4 and make a determination about whether or not the defendant wishes to withdraw
5 his guilty plea is the normal course for this department?

6 THE CLERK: Yes.

7 THE COURT: Then that's what we will do. We'll appoint you a separate
8 attorney to talk to you, Mr. Houston, solely for the purpose of determining whether or 9 not you wish to proceed with the negotiations or you wish to withdraw your guilty
10 plea and if so determine if there are any grounds to file such a motion.

11 So what we're going to do is we'll set a status check to confirm counsel. I
12 assume there is a list of the next up for appointment.

13 THE CLERK: That would be Mr. Goldstein.

14 THE COURT: Mr. Goldstein will be the attorney appointed solely for the 15 purpose of the motion to withdraw at this point in time. Mr. Little remains your 16 attorney on the underlying case until such time as Mr. Goldstein has had a chance
17 to talk to you about the guilty plea issue. We'll set this for next week. Is that enough
18 time for confirmation? Is that the normal time that Judge Jones would use? Very 19 well. We'll set a status check for confirmation of counsel on the motion to withdraw 20 next week.

21 THE CLERK: November 1st at 8:30.

22 MR. LITTLE: Thanks, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Mr. Houston does not appear to be present. Mr. Ramsey is 5 here on his behalf. Ms. Rhoades is here on behalf of the State. This is on for the 6 State's motion to remand the defendant and increase his bail.

7 Mr. Ramsey, do you know why this motion wasn't - - it wasn't responded to 8 because you also have a motion to withdraw.

9 MR. RAMSEY: Yeah, I believe Mr. {inaudible} filed a motion to - - well, I think
10 Mr. Little filed a motion to withdraw because Mr. Houston wanted to withdraw his 11 plea. I'm not sure what the status is between that and the State's motion to remand.

12 THE COURT: I assume that that's why Mr. Little didn't respond is because he 13 had filed a motion to withdraw. However, the defendant is not here. I don't know - -
14 Mr. Ramsey, do you have any representations on the defendant's whereabouts?

15 MR. RAMSEY: I do not, Your Honor. I think Mr. Little said he wanted to 16 appear but he's stuck in Justice Court 3 right now to address the motion to remand,
17 but if the client is not there not even sure he'd be able to do that.

18 THE COURT: All right. State.

19 MS. RHOADES: We would ask for a bench warrant, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Well, it appears that he has violated orders of this Court. I will 21 make a decision as to what's going to happen with his bail. I'm going to issue a
22 bench warrant, no bail. Let Mr. Little know if something changes he can put this 23 back on and I'll readdress it, and I'll readdress your motion to withdraw when the 24 defendant is present.

25 MR. RAMSEY: Understood, Your Honor.

RECORDED BY: JILL HAWKINS, COURT RECORDER

1 LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 28, 2023, 11:09 A.M.

3 THE CLERK: A853203, Matthew Houston versus Calvin
4 Johnson.

5 THE COURT: Good morning, sir.

6 THE DEFENDANT: Good morning, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: I know you've been here all morning and 8 this isn't exactly your favorite place; right?

9 THE DEFENDANT: It's alright. It's better than being 10 in prison.

11 THE COURT: Okay. Ms. Duecker, have you -- I assume 12 there has not been additional communications between you and Mr.
13 Houston.

14 MS. DUECKER: There have been a couple of letters,
15 Your Honor, exchanged. Candidly, I don't think there's 16 competency concerns unless Mr. Houston feels otherwise. He 17 candidly, I think, would know better than me, especially coupled 18 with his medical history. But I feel comfortable to proceed
19 forward.

20 THE COURT: Okay. All right. And I did do some quick
21 research, and I don't know, even if I had competency concerns, I 22 don't know if I could. I don't know if I could refer him to 23 Judge Craig. So we are on the Writ of Habeas Corpus as well as 24 the other motions.

25 And, Mr. Houston, I will say this: whenever you file a

Also See Case 2:23-cv-01210-APG-DJA Document 6 Filed 10/10/23 Page 64 of 144

1 motion or petition, I'm always going to take it off calendar
2 because you do have counsel. All right? And so I can't have 3 you filing documents as well as your attorney, so I'm always 4 going to be taking them off calendar and then rule, if
5 appropriate, that Ms. Duecker can file them.

6 So I'm not going to tell you to stop filing them
7 necessarily, but I'm letting you know that since you're here,
8 that every time you do it on your own, I'm just going to take it
9 off calendar because you have counsel. Does that make sense?

10 THE DEFENDANT: Yeah. That makes sense.

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 THE DEFENDANT: There's just a couple things I want to 13 add to the record.

14 THE COURT: Well, hold on let me -- so that's my 15 concern. Ms. Duecker, he wants to add things. Do you --

16 THE DEFENDANT: Well, to eliminate confusion between 17 her and me and this, you know, that way there's no confusion
18 going forward.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Are you comfortable with him doing
20 this, Ms. Duecker, even though you're not physically here?

21 MS. DUECKER: Absolutely, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Okay. Go ahead Mr. Houston.

23 THE DEFENDANT: Well, I'm just wondering about Craig
24 Mueller and Associates and Larry Phillips. They were retained
25 counsel. I have not heard from them. So I'm wondering where 1 they are.

2 THE COURT: Did you retain them for purposes of your
3 post-conviction?

4 THE DEFENDANT: For post-conviction, yes, ma'am.

5 THE COURT: Is that right, Ms. Duecker?

6 THE DEFENDANT: This was before she was appointed.
7 Sorry.

8 THE COURT: So I don't know. I saw that Ms. Duecker
9 was appointed before I even took the bench. So I don't know why
10 Mr. Mueller is not -- I don't know if he should be because she's 11 now your attorney.

12 THE DEFENDANT: I just wanted -- yeah, I just wanted
13 to clarify it, because that's why she's probably confused as 14 well, because -- well, an attorney not doing their job. So I
15 just wanted to put that on the record.

16 THE COURT: Okay. All right.

17 THE DEFENDANT: Because I had filed a claim in small 18 claim -- a complaint in small claims, it got dismissed, because 19 it's not -- it exceeds the value of small claims, whatever. So
20 I just wanted, you know, that's who should be speaking today.
21 And since they were retained and they're not. So I'll let you -

23 THE COURT: So Ms. Duecker should be the one that's 24 here because she was appointed by the courts.

25 THE DEFENDANT: Yeah.

Also See

1 THE COURT: If there's a -- if you retained them
2 that's a contractual issue. They're not attorney of record; Ms.
3 Duecker is the attorney of record.

4 THE DEFENDANT: Sure.

5 THE COURT: So that's why she's -- she's always going
6 to be the one unless or until someone else substitutes in.

7 THE DEFENDANT: Okay.

8 THE COURT: All right?

9 THE DEFENDANT: And then I guess I just had a
10 question, Judge Schwartz. I have to asked -- are you related to 11 attorney Daniel L. Schwartz?

12 THE COURT: I am not.

13 THE DEFENDANT: Okay. Because that could be a 14 conflict. I didn't know if it's [indiscernible] who's this 15 person and what. So, you know. All right.

16 Balls in the both of your courts.

17 THE COURT: All right. So we are here on the post-
18 conviction petition for writ of habeas corpus. Ms. Duecker, is 19 there anything that you'd like to add?

20 MS. DUECKER: No, Your Honor. We'll submit on the 21 briefing.

22 THE COURT: Okay. Ms. Leon, do you have -- you have 23 this file; right?

24 MS. LEON: I do.

25 THE COURT: Okay. Is there anything you'd like to

1 add?

2 MS. LEON: My understanding from our position was that
3 what was filed -- because it was a fugitive document that was 4 -- was our response was.

5 THE COURT: So do you have any response to the one
6 that Ms. Duecker actually filed?

7 There had been responses. Is there anything that
8 you'd like to add?

9 MS. LEON: No, Your Honor. I'd submit on the 10 responses.

11 THE COURT: Okay. So as far as the non-fugitive
12 documents, but rather the petition for writ of habeas corpus,
13 the post-conviction one that has been filed, I understand that 14 the argument is that there is an ineffective assistance because 15 there was no filing of an appeal; ineffective because there was 16 a silence on whether the defendant had -- or Mr. Houston had 17 breached the terms of his guilty plea agreement; the not -- not 18 proceeding with the guilty but mentally ill issue.

19 So I'm going to say that -- I'm going to deny at this 20 point the petition -- or post-conviction relief. As far as -- 21 well, I mean, look, Mr. Houston pled guilty to a felony, he 22 picked up new violations, he bench warranted at the time of 23 sentencing, he was a failure to appear. I didn't see anything
24 in the record that indicated that there was an actual request
25 for an appeal; but rather the argument -- so, I'm sorry. I'm

Also See Case 2:23-cv-01210-APG-DJA Document 6 Filed 10/10/23 Page 66 of 144

1 jumping.

2 So as far as Count 2, I don't think that the counsel
3 was ineffective for remaining silent because Mr. Houston did, in 4 fact, breach the terms of the guilty plea agreement.

5 As far as the ineffectiveness for not filing an 6 appeal, there was no -- there's nothing in there indicating that 7 there had been an actual request for an appeal, but rather the 8 argument that they should have known because he was upset. I
9 don't think that there was any basis -- there was any specific
10 request to file an appeal. So I'm going to deny ineffectiveness
11 on that.

12 And again, with the ineffectiveness for not proceeding
13 with the guilty but mentally ill, I mean, there had been -- if 14 that was appropriate then that would have -- I didn't see
15 anything in the petition or in the writings or in the exhibits
16 that indicated that there was any reason to proceed with the 17 guilty but mentally ill. I understand the mental health issues
18 and aspects, and that probably could have benefited, but I
19 don't see any -- I don't see how the attorney was ineffective
20 for not proceeding with that one.

21 So based on the documents, that is my ruling. Can the 22 State prepare the order for me, please, on this?

23 MS. LEON: Yes, Your Honor.

Case No. C-21-357927-1
PD File No. CR-2021-09178
Date of Evaluation: November 22, 2021

Dear Mr. Little:

The results of my evaluation of Matthew Houston are summarized in this report. It is my opinion that Mr. Houston is competent to stand trial and assist his attorney in the defense of his case.

PSYCHIATRIC FORENSIC EVALUATION

IDENTIFYING INFORMATION: Matthew Houston is a 37-year-old male who is in the Clark County Detention Center. Mr. Houston is charged with Making Threats or Conveying False Information Concerning Act of Terrorism. This evaluation was requested Benard Little, Deputy Public Defender, to determine whether Mr. Houston is competent to stand trial and assist counsel with his defense.

Mr. Houston was evaluated in the Clark County Detention Center on November 22, 2021 for this evaluation. His attorney, Benard Little, was present for the entirety of the interview. Mr. Houston was advised that his answers to my questions would be summarized in my report and submitted to his attorney, and likely the Court, and that the usual rules of confidentiality would therefore not apply. He agreed to this interview and evaluation.

Other sources of information for this evaluation include:

1. Criminal Complaint.
2. Information.
3. Declaration of Arrest for Event LLV210700065245.
4. Nevada Pretrial Risk Assessment.
5. Guilty Plea Agreement.
6. Neuropsychological evaluation, 1/13/17, Staci Ross PhD.
7. Reporter's Transcript of Unconditional Waiver.

HISTORY OF CURRENT PROBLEM: Mr. Houston is accused of making threats against persons involved in his disability compensation case. He states his disability case is still

Matthew Houston
Date of Evaluation: November 22, 2021
Case No. C-21-357927-1

not settled, and he is frustrated that the individuals adjudicating his case have not been more fair with him.

He has previously signed a guilty plea agreement for a charge of Aggravated Stalking.

His attorney is concerned that he is evasive, demanding and easily angered. He is focused on those who have wronged him in the past. He speaks of unrelated matters and believes his case should be dismissed. He does not appreciate the severity of his situation.

CURRENT PSYCHIATRIC SYMPTOMS: Mr. Houston reports his mood is currently "terrible." He has problems with mood swings, anger, depression and anxiety. He reports normal appetite, sleeping up to twelve hours per day, and a low energy level. He denies homicide or suicide ideation. He has "visions," but denies that these are actual sensory experiences. He believes the government, as well as society as a whole, are corrupt, and are interfering with his own fair treatment by the system. He thinks people try to kill him whenever he stands up for himself. He has problems with concentration and memory. He has racing thoughts.

PAST PSYCHIATRIC HISTORY: Mr. Houston has a history of two past psychiatric hospitalizations and two past suicide attempts. He has taken Provigil, Adderall, lorazepam, medical marijuana and buspirone in the past. He has been in an alcohol rehabilitation program three times.

His neuropsychological testing revealed mild neurocognitive impairment (mostly scoring in the normal or low average range of functioning) and major depressive disorder. His personality testing revealed him to have a style "that involves a degree of dangerousness, risk taking, and a tendency to be rather impulsive." He demonstrates "a heightened tendency to be rigid and follow his own personal guidelines in an inflexible manner." He was noted to have become agitated at times during the evaluation. The presence or absence of delusions is not described.

PAST MEDICAL HISTORY: Mr. Houston reported he had a fall as a stagehand in 2016 of forty feet, resulting in multiple injuries including a traumatic brain injury. He suffers from no other known acute or chronic medical problems. He is taking buspirone, Tylenol and ibuprofen.

SUBSTANCE USE: He smokes two cigarettes per day. He drinks five to seven beers per week. He denies other recreational drug use.

FAMILY AND SOCIAL HISTORY: Mr. Houston has never been married and has no children. He had one brother, one half-brother and one half-sister in his family of origin. His brother and uncle committed suicide. He graduated from high school, and attended trade school for underwater welding. He states he was a "genius," and was in the Gifted and Talented program during his schooling. He denies a history of hyperactivity. He worked as a welder from 2008 to 2015.

Matthew Houston
Date of Evaluation: November 22, 2021
Case No. C-21-357927-1

LEGAL HISTORY: He has previously been arrested many times, including DUI's and disturbing the peace.

MENTAL STATUS EXAMINATION: Mr. Houston was alert and oriented to person, place and time during the interview. His speech was normal rate, tone and inflection. He was generally cooperative with the interview. His affect was of full range, stable, and appropriate to content. His mood was mildly irritable. His thoughts were very tangential, and he required frequent redirection. He denied hallucinations during the interview, and none were apparent. He expressed many paranoid delusions. He spoke in dramatic, and at times generally threatening, language. However, he insisted he had not plans or intent to harm anyone, and these remarks were a way to describe the degree of his frustration. His memory for recent and remote events was intact as judged by ability to recount historical information. His intellectual capacity was judged to be average by vocabulary and general fund of knowledge. He named the current President as Biden. He spelled the word "world" in reverse correctly. He was able to recall two of three items at five minutes. His judgment for self-preservation was intact. He denied current homicide or suicide ideation. His insight into the impact of his language and behavior was poor.

Mr. Houston reported he was charged with "Aggravated Stalking." He understood that this charge was a felony, and that he could be sentenced to two to ten years in prison. He reported the role of the Judge was "to provide a impartial dispute resolution." He reported the role of the Prosecuting Attorney was "try to cater to the other guys." He understood the Prosecuting Attorney was working against him. He reported the role of his attorney was "argue so I don't have to be abused by a fraudulent court style." He understood the adversarial nature of the trial process. He understood the plea bargain process. When asked what he would do if someone told a lie about him in court, he said, "Tell my attorney 'that's a lie.'" He felt able to control himself in court. He believes he is competent to stand trial.

IMPRESSION:

UNSPECIFIED PSYCHOTIC DISORDER
POSSIBLE BIPOLAR DISORDER
ALCOHOL USE DISORDER

FINDINGS:

It is my reasonable medical opinion that Matthew Houston is currently competent to stand trial and assist his attorney in the defense of his case. Mr. Houston has the capacity to reasonably understand the charges against him, the possible ramifications of conviction, and the roles of the officers of the court. He has the capacity to cooperate with his attorney in planning a legal strategy and to disclose to him some pertinent facts surrounding the alleged offense. He has the capacity to testify relevantly and to realistically challenge prosecution witnesses. He has the capacity to control his behavior in a courtroom. He has a reasonably self-serving motivation. He is able to learn information relevant to his legal situation and is capable of using the knowledge he has to assist himself.

PSYCHOLOGICAL EVALUATION

Dates of Examination: December 21st 2022
Place of Examination: High Desert State Prison
Examiner: Abigail Baily, Ph.D.
Referral Source: Alexis Dueker, Esq.- Office of Appointed Counsel

THE CONTENTS OF THIS REPORT ARE STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL AND ARE NOT TO BE REPRODUCED OR DISSEMINATED IN WHOLE OR IN PART BY ANY MEANS WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE PATIENT.

Matthew Houston is a 38-year-old (DOB: 07/15/1984) right-handed man incarcerated on charges of aggravated stalking with a history of TBI sustained in 2016, prior to his current conviction. His attorney is concerned that deficits related to his brain injury were not taken into consideration during his trial and requested a neuropsychological evaluation to assist in understanding his overall neurocognitive functioning, as well as to examine his psychosocial and medical history to assess any clinical factors that may be pertinent to his case. A review of records follows the body of this report.

Informed Consent

I informed Mr. Houston that the present evaluation was requested by his defense attorneys. I explained the limits of confidentiality and importance of effort in this forensic context. He was initially guarded and asked how he could be certain that I was in fact sent by his defense team. After some discussion, he agreed to continue with the interview and evaluation, having had the limitations explained to him and after having an opportunity to discuss concerns, and ask any questions.

Understanding of Legal Information

Mr. Houston expressed a good understanding of his charges, his sentence, the roles played by members of the legal community, and courtroom proceedings. He experiences a number of psychiatric symptoms related to his brain injury, including disorganized thinking, loose associations, delusional thinking and distractibility. These psychiatric factors may undermine competency. For example, he expressed significant distrust towards the court and the judge that rose to the level of paranoia. At this time he appears to have a good relationship with his defense team and is comfortable discussing his case with his attorneys and appears to be comfortable asking questions if he does not understand complex legal information that is presented to him. Given the rapport he has established with his legal team, there do not appear to be any significant neurocognitive/neuropsychiatric barriers to competency. However, if his paranoia became targeted at his attorneys, this could undermine his ability to fully participate in his defense with a reasonable degree of rational and factual understanding.

Behavioral Observations

Mr. Houston was generally polite, but easily frustrated, extremely disorganized, occasionally impulsive, tangential and a poor historian due to his significant neuropsychiatric concerns. Eye contact was generally appropriate, although at times was avoidant. Affect was labile. Vision and hearing were appropriate for testing. Thought process was highly distractible, tangential, circumstantial, illogical, and at times, incoherent. He had frequent loose associations, this was particularly notable at the beginning of the evaluation, although he became more organized as the day progressed. He was frequently distracted and would attempt to discuss material unrelated to the questions he was asked. At times he became aggravated by questions related to his past, and would speak at length on topics unrelated to the topic at hand. Most frequently, he would speak about his case and delusional beliefs regarding his case. He was at times defensive and guarded when asked about his personal history, but responded well to redirection and otherwise answered questions appropriately and non-defensively, with the exception of the thought disorder factors noted above. He consistently demonstrated poor reality testing, poor perspective taking, and required a very high level of support and frequent redirection to remain engaged and on task. Speech was normal without any apparent errors of expressive or receptive language. During the evaluation, while he required redirection when distracted, he had no difficulty with comprehension of instructions or retention of task demands. He was highly disorganized and preoccupied with discussing his delusional beliefs and as a result required a high level of structure and support, and frequent prompting and redirection to accommodate for these concerns. Most time sensitive measures (measures of processing speed or timed tests) were discontinued as a result of his inability to remain on task (stopping to talk in the middle of timed measures). With the above accommodations for these concerns, he was otherwise on task throughout testing, and completed all necessary tasks.

TEST RESULTS

Neuropsychological measures possess high reliability and validity in detecting brain dysfunction, but should only be used to suggest the presence or absence of brain injury. Each score is compared to normative data derived from others of similar age, and whenever possible, of similar age, sex, and education. Test performance can be affected by mood, motivation, fatigue, natural variability in performance, and other factors. The neuropsychologist must interpret test results in light of these factors.

NEUROPSYCHOLOGICAL TESTING: INTERPRETATION AND DISCUSSION

Issues Affecting the Validity of Interpretation

Effort is analyzed in a number of ways, including the administration of measures empirically shown to identify suboptimal effort or purposeful exaggeration. In addition, when possible, the overall pattern of performance is analyzed for consistency between measures, consistency with the expected severity of impairment, and the presenting symptoms are compared against base rates of symptoms in other patients with similar problems. As noted in the behavioral observation section, Mr. Houston was easily frustrated, disorganized, occasionally impulsive, and had labile affect. His thought process was highly distractible, tangential, circumstantial, illogical, and at times, incoherent. He also demonstrated delusional thinking, poor reality testing, and poor perspective taking skills. These traits appear related to his well-documented diagnoses of TBI. While these types of psychiatric symptoms are rare in TBI, it is possible to have this level of psychiatric symptoms following a TBI such as what Mr. Houston sustained. These symptoms contributed to waxing and waning effort and motivation throughout testing. There is no evidence of conscious or purposeful manipulation of test result, or any attempts to appear more impaired than he actually is, but rather, his brain injury prevents him from being able to regulate his impulses to the level needed for full and consistent engagement in the evaluation. He was provided with a very high level of structure and support, and frequent prompting and redirection to allow him to remain as engaged and on task as possible given his significant neuropsychiatric disability. Each of these psychiatric factors can contribute to poor effort on testing that can undermine validity, and analysis was carefully considered with these limitations in mind. When analyzed as a whole, there was no evidence that his performance is the result of suboptimal performance or exaggeration on validity measures. However, several measures had to be discontinued due to problems with distractibility secondary to his brain injury, and was not consistent with intentional suboptimal effort or malingering. Additionally, there were times when his disorganization and delusional thinking affected his ability to engage in the evaluation, however this again is related to his brain injury and not the result of intentional suboptimal effort or malingering. Based on the analysis, the neurocognitive data is thus valid for interpretation and is not the result of intentional suboptimal performance, exaggeration, or malingering.

NEUROCOGNITIVE PROFILE

Intellectual Capacity

- Overall intellectual functioning could not be assessed due to discontinuation of processing speed measures. As mentioned in the behavioral observation section and validity sections, most time sensitive measures (measures of processing speed or timed tests) were discontinued as a result of his inability to remain on task (stopping to talk in the middle of timed measures). The full-scale IQ score incorporates several aspects of intellectual functioning, including processing speed. Without these scores the full-scale IQ cannot be estimated.
- A measure of premorbid functioning was administered to estimate his level of intellectual functioning premorbidly (before injury). Based on the results of this measure, it is estimated that his premorbid functioning was in the Average range.
- His verbal comprehension was at the low average range, and appeared affected by his neuropsychiatric symptoms. His working memory was in the average range. As mentioned, processing speed could not be assessed due to distractibility, but processing speed likely had a mild effect on his spatial conceptual measures, as many of these measures are timed. Each of these skills will be discussed in greater detail separately, below.

Reading Comprehension Skills

- Reading comprehension is at the 10.1 grade level.

Attention, Mental Tracking, and Processing Speed

Areas assessed include: auditory and visual attention span, the ability to continuously track internal and external stimuli without distraction, mental speed, mental tracking skills, and the ability to shift attentional focus.

- Basic attention for short time spans (attentional buffering) is in the average range.
- Sustained attention for long time spans is impaired. He struggled with consistent and sustained attention during this task. He repeatedly attempted to talk to the examiner, rather than focus on the task.
- Processing speed could not be accurately assessed. Measures of processing speed had to be discontinued as a result of his inability to remain on task. He repeatedly stopped working to talk in the middle of timed measures. With redirection, he would return to the task at hand, but the completion time was not an accurate reflection of his processing speed and therefore was not interpreted.
- Mental tracking skills are in the low average range.

Language

- Basic language skills related to conversational word finding, comprehension, and repetition, are within expected levels. While his thought processes were tangential, circumstantial and illogical, no apparent errors of expressive or receptive language were noted.
- Vocabulary is in the average range. Notably, early in the day a measure of vocabulary was attempted and his thought processes were significantly tangential, circumstantial and illogical, which prevented him from providing coherent definitions. However later in the day, he appeared more organized and this measure was revisited and he was better able to respond appropriately and provided coherent definitions.
- Phonemic and semantic fluency are in the average and high average range respectively.
- Confrontation naming skills are average.
- Abstract language processing skills are variable and ranged from below average to average.

Spatial Processing

- Angle estimation skills are within normal limits.
- Construction of a complex drawing was average with some problems noted with planning and organization of the task.
- Construction of three-dimensional geometric designs was in the low average range.
- Overall, spatial processing and constructional skills are generally in the average to low average range. His performance on these measures was negatively impacted by problems with distractibility, which impacted processing speed. His spatial processing was also affected by problems with planning and organization.

Memory and New Learning

Memory and new learning involve the orchestration of multiple cognitive skills, including attention, mental tracking, language processing, and executive control. Likewise, depression, psychiatric problems, and motivation/effort play a role in performance.

- Memory for highly structured verbal information (stories) is below average. Recall after a long delay was in the below average range. Recognition of story details is in the average range, suggesting he is able to recognize more information than he is able to freely recall.
- New learning skills were assessed with a list learning task which involved the presentation of a long word list over five trials. On this measure, significant problems were noted with the initial acquisition of information. His performance was impacted by distractibility, evidenced by a tendency to attempt to talk about unrelated material when asked to recall the words from the list. He benefitted from redirection and repetition of the material. His overall learning curve was inconsistent and in the low average range. Recall was fairly resistant to attempts to throw the patient off balance with a distracting word list. Delayed recall was below average. Recognition was average, however he made a significant number of false positive errors, resulting in poor detectability. Memory performance is also notable for an inconsistent learning curve, poor organizational strategies, and multiple intrusion errors. Although he did benefit from cueing.
- Delayed recall for complex spatial information is in the low average range.

Executive Control Skills

Executive control skills relate to self-regulation, abstract and deductive reasoning, verbal fluency, set shifting, response inhibition/impulse control, and problem solving. Each of these skills can be independently impaired.

- Executive skills related to phonemic and semantic verbal fluency are in the average and high average range respectively. Set shifting skills and cognitive flexibility is below average range. Response inhibition/impulse control skills could not be formally assessed due to problems with distractibility. Most formal measures of response inhibition/impulse control skills involve a timing component. These measures were discontinued due to his inability to remain on task. Qualitatively, this is evidence of problems with impulse control, as he was unable to control his impulse to engage in off task behaviors. Abstract reasoning is variable and ranged from below average to average range. Specifically, verbal abstraction was below average to average.

Deductive reasoning could not be assessed due inability to understand the task demands. Inductive reasoning was average. Conceptual shifting and cognitive flexibility was average.

Motor Functioning

- Finger tapping speed is in the low average range for the right dominant hand and in the average range for the left nondominant hand.
- Grip strength was below average bilaterally.
- Fine motor dexterity was discontinued due to distractibility.

PSYCHOSOCIAL HISTORY

SUBJECTIVE COMPLAINTS:

Various areas of day-to-day functioning were specifically addressed during clinical interviews, beginning with his current subjective complaints below. It should be kept in mind that these are subjective complaints and may not be accurate appraisals or measurable upon objective testing.

- Mr. Houston denied overt depression or anxiety. He expressed high levels of anger and what he characterized as PTSD, which he attributed to being "abandoned by everyone." He denied any history of psychiatric concerns prior to his injury or his legal troubles. He endorsed suicidal ideation approximately one year ago, but denied any current suicidal ideation. He reported homicidal ideation since being incarcerated. He denied overt visual or auditory hallucinations, but reports seeing spirits, ghosts and Jesus when in prayer. While he described his feelings of abandonment as PTSD, he denied flashbacks, hypervigilance, exaggerated startle response or other symptoms of PTSD. He did report high levels of anger and interpersonal distrust.
- Sleep is variable. He reports sleeping approximately 5 to 6 hours per night, however this sleep is significantly interrupted. He denied any persistent daytime fatigue, nightmares, or sleepwalking.
- Appetite is intact, however he reports losing a significant amount of weight since being incarcerated, which he attributes to the quality of food provided.
- He denied any numbness, tingling, or other motor complaints. Reaction time is slowed. Directional skills are intact.
- Vision is notable for an injury to his left eye, related to the subject incident in which he sustained his traumatic brain injury. He reports needing a cornea transplant and that the retina in his left eye might detach again. He reports vision in his right eye is intact. Hearing is notable for tinnitus but otherwise intact. Olfactory functioning is intact.
- He denied problems with word finding. He also denied problems with expressive or receptive language skills.
- He reports problems with attention and concentration since sustaining the traumatic brain injury in 2016. He reports prior to his incarceration he was prescribed Adderall which he found to be beneficial. Currently he reports struggling with attention, concentration, distractibility, and impulse control.
- He denied problems with memory.
- He reports frequent feelings of frustration and anger, particularly as they relate to his incarceration and the criminal justice system. He denies problems with judgment or decision making and describes himself as "a good man surrounded by evil."
- He denies any history of seizure, headache, or dizziness. He does endorse some lightheadedness when standing from sitting. He reports frequent urination but denies any other bowel or bladder dysfunction. No other chronic pain complaints reported.

DETAILED HISTORY:

A comprehensive psychosocial and medical history was collected during clinical interviews, and is discussed below:

FAMILY HISTORY:

Mr. Houston was born and raised in Iowa City, Iowa. He was raised by both parents, and has 3 siblings (a 1/2 brother, David, 41-year-old; a sister, Amy 40-year-old; and a younger brother that completed suicide at age 25 in 2012). His parents reportedly abused alcohol and he reports witnessing domestic violence between his mother and father, but denies any history of emotional, physical, or sexual abuse towards him. He described his family as middle-class and denies problems with poverty, ever living in a high crime area or any area where he would have been exposed to environmental toxins or pesticides. He has been married and divorced once (2012-2013). He does not have any children. He reports that at the time of his TBI he lived alone with his pet dog. After his injury he was in the hospital and then rehabilitation facilities for several months. He was not able to provide more detail related to this period. He was subsequently incarcerated in state prison from 2016-2019 for a DUI that occurred just prior to his injury. Once released from prison he returned to Iowa where he lived from 2019-2021. He was then incarcerated again in State prison for aggravated stalking, where he remains today.

EDUCATIONAL HISTORY:

Mr. Houston graduated from high school in 2002. He denied any history of specific learning disabilities, attentional problems or behavioral diagnoses, and denies ever receiving academic accommodations. He also reports being in the Gifted and Talented (GATE) program from the time he started school at 5 years old. After graduating from high school, he reports that he then enlisted in the US Navy. He reports attending dive training in the Navy and was discharged in 2005. He was unwilling to discuss any other details related to his military history, including rank, position, or discharge circumstances. His military records were not available for review. He reports attending the Diver Institute of Technology in Seattle, Washington in 2005. He reports working as an underwater welder from 2008-2013. In 2005 he also began working as a rigger and earned multiple certifications as a rigger (American National Standards Institute [ANSI], Industrial Rope Access Trade Association [IRATA], and Society of Professional Rope Access Technicians [SPRAT]).

MEDICAL/NEUROLOGICAL HISTORY:

Mr. Houston's medical history is notable for TBI (2016), and chronic pain in his neck and back. He denied any current medications. He reports that, to his knowledge, his birth and early development were normal. Aside from the injury sustained in 2016, he denied a history of concussion or blows to the head. He also denied any history of seizure or stroke. He reports that in 2016 he was working as a rigger when he fell from the ceiling to the ground, hitting his head, and was knocked unconscious. He reports that his next memory was waking up in the hospital, with significant injuries to his head, face, and body. He was not able to provide any additional details related to his injuries or the treatments received. Review of his medical records revealed that when EMS initially arrived on the scene, Mr. Houston was found lying supine on the ground and bystanders reported that he had fallen approximately 40 feet from the ceiling and landed on his chest and head. He was reportedly knocked unconscious and did not remember falling. At the time he stated that his arm hurt. He was unable to provide any medical or demographic information aside from his birthday. At that time his Glasgow coma scale was found to be equal to 15 (it later decreased once at the hospital). He was described as lethargic. Injuries included a laceration that was approximately 1.5 x 3 inches above his left eyebrow and deformity of the right arm/forearm (American Medical Response Record, 9/30/2016). University Medical records indicate that once at the emergency department he was reevaluated and his Glasgow coma scale was now equal to 10. He rapidly decompensated in the trauma resuscitation area. There was profuse bleeding from his oropharynx. He also had a seizure and oxygen desaturation down to 20%. Difficulty intubating patient, which resulted in prolonged low level of oxygen and he required a cricothyroidotomy. There is diffuse bleeding from the cricothyroidotomy and bilateral chest tube placements. The cricothyroidotomy was converted into a full tracheotomy. He did code and underwent full CPR. Procedures performed during his hospital admission include: a left maxillomandibular fixation for closed reduction of the maxillary fracture; open reduction, internal fixation of zygomaticomaxillary complex fracture; open reduction, internal fixation of left sided orbital floor fracture using a transconjunctival approach; and a left frontal sinusotomy with obliteration; fat grafting from the abdomen for fat transfer for sinus obliteration; a cranioplasty with mesh; closed reduction of nasal bone fracture; a closed reduction of septal fracture. There is also concern for left globe rupture, but it was determined that he more likely had a corneal ulceration of the left eye and tentatively a corneal graft patch placement would be sufficient. Patient also had opacification of the left lung requiring bilateral chest tubes and as mentioned above he was difficult to intubate requiring cricothyrotomy. He also had a peg and trach placed. Diagnoses included right humerus fracture, comminuted fracture of the 5th left metatarsal base, multiple maxillofacial fractures, left corneal ulcer, subdural hematoma, subarachnoid hemorrhage with pneumocephalus, history of cricothyrotomies, leukocytosis of uncertain etiology. An MRI of his brain performed on 10/3/2016 found small focal areas of restricted diffusion in the gray-white junction of the supratentorial brain concerning for diffuse axonal injury; Scattered foci of subarachnoid hemorrhage. Suspected subdural hemorrhage along the posterior parietal occipital lobes measuring up to 3mm in thickness; Large scalp fluid collection may represent hematoma. Comminuted fracture of the bony nasal septum with opacification of the paranasal sinuses. And moderate opacification of the right mastoid air cells. As a result of his injuries, he was admitted to UMC from 09/30/2016 through 10/24/2016. He was discharged to a long term assisted care facility, Health South Valley View. He was admitted to Health South Valley View from 10/24/2016 through 12/16/2016. Review of his medical records are also notable for three emergency department visits. One on 6/30/2017 for anxiety, one on 3/2/2018 for hallucinations and one on 3/4/2018 for pain.

Family medical (nonpsychiatric) history is unremarkable.

MENTAL HEALTH/SUBSTANCE ABUSE:

As noted above, he reports a history of suicidal and homicidal ideation since being incarcerated. Aside from this, he denied any history of depression, anxiety, or mania. While he denied any history of auditory or visual hallucinations aside from seeing spirits and Jesus in the context of prayer, review of his medical records revealed an emergency department visit in March of 2018 in which he presented complaining of auditory hallucinations. A toxicology screening was performed and was negative for any recreational substance use. He also presented in the emergency department in June of 2017, for anxiety and suicidal ideations. No other history of psychiatric hospitalizations was reported and there is no evidence of psychiatric problems prior to his traumatic brain injury in 2016. With regard to his substance abuse history he reports some heavy drinking in his early 20s and occasional cannabis use, but denied any other substance abuse or misuse. He reports a DUI in 2016, but denied alcohol abuse during that time.

Family psychiatric history is notable for alcohol use disorder, and uncle that completed suicide, and a brother that completed suicide.

SUMMARY

Neurocognitive Evaluation:

The present evaluation was valid for interpretation. While aspects of Mr. Houston's presentation interfered with his ability to complete aspects of this evaluation, he did not demonstrate any indications of suboptimal performance, exaggeration, or malingering. In terms of intellectual functioning, his full-scale IQ could not accurately be estimated due to problems with distractibility that prevented him from completing measures of processing speed. In cases such as this, when processing speed greatly affects assessment of intellectual functioning, verbal reasoning skills offer the most stable estimate of intellectual functioning. Mr. Houston performed in the low average range on measures of verbal reasoning. It should be noted that his neuropsychiatric symptoms also appeared to affect his performance on verbal measures as well and based on his history, his performance on measures of premorbid functioning, this reflects a decline from his previous level of functioning. The other IQ indices are in the average to low average range and also appear affected by symptoms related to his brain injury. His reading comprehension is at the 10.1 grade level. His neurocognitive data predicts that he will have significant problems with attention, concentration, mental tracking, and processing information rapidly and efficiently. His vocabulary is at least average, and maybe higher, although his disorganized and tangential thought processes prevented him from expressing his thoughts clearly and therefore his performance may underestimate his lexical knowledge. He will also have significant problems with impulse control. He will also struggle with organizing his approach to memory and new learning tasks and with weeding out unnecessary information. These memory problems will persist even after multiple exposures to the same information. He will struggle with tasks requiring cognitive flexibility, shifting his attention, careful reasoning, and problem solving. While he demonstrates a good understanding of his charges, penalties, court proceedings, and the roles played by members of the legal community, these neurocognitive difficulties will require him to have legal information presented to him in a clear and concrete manner, in order to allow him to fully comprehend legal concepts during court proceedings in order to actively participate in his defense with a reasonable degree of rational and factual understanding. Additionally, he demonstrated delusional thought patterns, including paranoia that could undermine his ability to fully participate in his defense with a reasonable degree of rational and factual understanding.

When his performance on today's evaluation is considered in the context of his personal history, it appears his performance is consistent with a decline when compared to his premorbid functioning. Mr. Houston reports being in GATE programs in school as a young child. He also reports working in technically challenging jobs (underwater welder and rigger) and holding several certifications related to his occupation. Based on his personal history, and his performance on measures of premorbid functioning, it is estimated that prior to sustaining the TBI in 2016, his intellectual functioning was at least in the average to high average range, and possibly higher. The injury sustained has resulted in a number of cognitive deficits and declines in his overall cognitive function. In addition to his cognitive decline related to his injuries, he also presents with a number of neuropsychiatric symptoms that appear to be related to his 2016 TBI. While it is fairly rare for a TBI to result in psychosis, it is not unheard of. Based on a review of his records, a clinical interview with Mr. Houston and a collateral interview with a long-term close friend, it does appear these symptoms began after his injury and greatly impacted his functioning after the brain injury. It appears his personality has also been greatly affected by his brain injury. The impact of his injury on his cognitive functioning and decision making was significant and likely played a substantial role in his current legal problems.

Psychosocial History Pertinent Clinical Factors:

Mr. Houston reports his parents abused alcohol throughout his childhood. He also reports witnessing domestic violence during his childhood. Aside from this, he denied any abuse history. He reports he was doing well and was successful in his career prior to sustaining a TBI in 2016. He does report being arrested for DUI just prior to his injury, but denied any other legal problems prior to sustaining a TBI in 2016.

Ongoing and Persistent Factors:

Neurological/Medical Factors:

- Mild complicated TBI sustained in 2016 after a 40 ft fall to the ground.
- Ongoing headaches, possibly posttraumatic (postconcussive) in nature.
- Ongoing chronic neck and back pain related to his 2016 injury.
- Vision problems in his left eye related to his injury, that may require additional surgical repair.

Mental Health Factors:

- Ongoing thought disorder related to his TBI including thought processes that are distractible, tangential, circumstantial, illogical and delusional at times.
- Ongoing possible auditory hallucinations. While he denied hallucinations, his medical record indicates a history of hallucinations. When asked about this he admitted to seeing spirits and ghosts, but appeared guarded and unwilling to openly discuss the topic.
- Ongoing lack of comprehensive therapeutic and psychiatric interventions to address these concerns.
- Ongoing lack of family and social support.
- Ongoing lack of access to therapeutic or rehabilitative programming or services during incarceration.

Summarily, Mr. Houston appears to have significant cognitive and psychiatric concerns that resulted from the 2016 TBI. These TBI related cognitive and psychiatric concerns should be carefully considered when decisions are being made with regard to his case.

DIAGNOSTIC IMPRESSION-ICD 10

F06.71 Mild Neurocognitive Disorder- Due to TBI with behavioral disturbance
F06.2 Psychotic disorder due to traumatic brain injury- with delusions.

RE: Matthew Travis Houston

Dear Mr. Houston:

The above-entitled petition for writ of certiorari was postmarked May 5, 2022 and received May 16, 2022. The papers are returned for the following reason(s):

No motion for leave to proceed in forma pauperis, signed by the petitioner or by counsel, is attached. Rules 33.2 and 39. The motion must be signed.

No notarized affidavit or declaration of indigency is attached. Rule 39. You may use the enclosed form.

The petition fails to comply with the content requirements of Rule 14. A guide for in forma pauperis petitioners and a copy of the Rules of this Court are enclosed. The guide includes a form petition that may be used.

The appendix to the petition does not contain the following documents required by Rule 14.1(i):

The lower court opinion(s) must be appended.

It is impossible to determine the timeliness of the petition without the lower court opinions.

No affidavit or declaration of service, specifying the names and addresses of those served, was received. Rule 29.5.

Please correct and resubmit as soon as possible. Unless the petition is submitted to this Office in corrected form within 60 days of the date of this letter, the petition will not be filed. Rule 14.5.

A copy of the corrected petition must be served on opposing counsel.

When making the required corrections to a petition, no change to the substance of the petition may be made.

Sincerely,

Scott S. Harris, Clerk

LETTER OF MOTION AND April 7th, 2022

PETITION FOR A WRIT OF ~~EXTRAORDINARY~~ CERTIORARI
IN RE CASE NUMBER A-17-758861-C OUT OF
THE CLERK: CLARK COUNTY, NEVADA

Could you please help me file the attached motion?

My apologies for the informality of my initial petition, but in addition to being indigent and wrongfully convicted, I became permanently totally disabled on September 30th, 2016 when I fell 40' feet and was clinically dead for days, surviving from 3 month coma and enough surgeries. I'm missing too many case numbers in.

My name is Matthew Travis Houston and if I had my news article(s) from Las Vegas Review Journal they would be attached, but just google "worker falls at Mandalay Bay Resort September 30th, 2016" and something should be on youtube, or check my social media.

I just want my service dog Johnny Cash back who was stolen from me before my doctor's appointment on July 14th, 2021 by L.V.M.P.D.; and justice obviously. For any further questions in re $; Please contact my power-of-attorney / caretaker, Lucreca Lavonna Schoenherr at (563) 321-3084 as advocacy has one direction: forward. In our nation's court, I do not have a case number yet, but anything your office can do to assist proceedings is appreciated.

7 My name is Matthew Travis Houston,
8 and I am a fan of your writing... There
9 is only one problem and is that due to my 10 current and wrongful conviction I am currently 11 deprived of resources. Not only that but 12 I did not introduce myself as "Reverend 13 Matthew" as sir, we are in troubled times,
14 well at least I am what with my being beyond
15 over burdoned, as is the USA. Sir I am now
16 retired US Navy, and retired from other careers
17 and I feel embarrassed having to mail this 18 Petition premature, because its not going to 19 make any sense due to the catastrophic
20 nature of my surroundings and having somehow
21 survived so much chaos of these modern
22 times of consumerism, despair and revelations...

23 Justice is never to be consumed however,
24 and during this attempt at an introduction
25 F, Reverend Matthew Travis Houston am
26 praying for your intervention sir, Mr. Justice
27 Clarence Thomas. I will greatly benefit from your

6 Could your team please provide me with
7 any and all updates regarding all law, any and all
8 guides to filing petitions and a copy of the 9 Supreme Court rulebook? SEE #84418 letter 5/17/2022.

10 Justice Thomas sir, I just recently
11 was brought back to this world after a coma
12 of near 6 years, of which I was clinically
13 dead for 4 days - to which seemed like
14 the alleged 6 years. Well it'll be 6
15 years on this September 30th of 2022
16 being this renewed Jubilee of Christ the 17 Lord and Savior, and advocate to all in honor.

18 In closing I will ask that you please take

RE: Matthew Travis Houston v. Nevada, et al.

Dear Mr. Houston:

The above-entitled petition for writ of certiorari was postmarked September 18, 2022 and received September 27, 2022. The papers are returned for the following reason(s):

The notarized affidavit or declaration of indigency does not comply with Rule 39 in that question 10 is not answered.

The petition fails to comply with the content requirements of Rule 14. A guide for in forma pauperis petitioners and a copy of the Rules of this Court are enclosed. The guide includes a form petition that may be used.

The appendix to the petition does not contain the following documents required by Rule 14.1(i):

The lower court opinion(s) must be appended.

It is impossible to determine the timeliness of the petition without the lower court opinions.

No affidavit or declaration of service, specifying the names and addresses of those served, was received. Rule 29.5.

Please correct and resubmit as soon as possible. Unless the petition is submitted to this Office in corrected form within 60 days of the date of this letter, the petition will not be filed. Rule 14.5.

A copy of the corrected petition must be served on opposing counsel.

When making the required corrections to a petition, no change to the substance of the petition may be made.

Sincerely,

ORDER

Petitioner has filed a document that appears to request that this court order real party in interest to file an answer to petitioner's writ petition. The decision whether to order an answer to petitioner's writ petition is discretionary, and this court has not yet made a determination in this regard. See NRAP 21(b). Accordingly, petitioner's request is denied at this time. Any other relief requested in the document filed by petitioner on January 31, 2023, is denied.

It is so ORDERED.

ORDER DENYING PETITION FOR WRIT OF MANDAMUS

This is a pro se original petition for a writ of mandamus seeking to compel the district court to vacate a judgment of conviction.

This court has original jurisdiction to issue writs of mandamus, and the issuance of such extraordinary relief is solely within this court's discretion. See Nev. Const. art. 6, § 4; D.R. Horton, Inc. v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court, 123 Nev. 468, 474-75, 168 P.3d 731, 736-37 (2007). Petitioner bears the burden to show that extraordinary relief is warranted, and such relief is proper only when there is no plain, speedy, and adequate remedy at law. See Pan v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court, 120 Nev. 222, 224, 228, 88 P.3d 840, 841, 844 (2004). An appeal is generally an adequate remedy precluding writ relief. Id. at 224, 88 P.3d at 841. Even when an appeal is not immediately available because the challenged order is interlocutory in nature, the fact that the order may ultimately be challenged on appeal from a final judgment generally precludes writ relief. Id. at 225, 88 P.3d at 841.

23-05723

Having considered the petition, we are not persuaded that our extraordinary intervention is warranted. To begin, petitioner has not supplied an appendix with all records that may be essential to understanding the petition, including copies of any written district court orders denying petitioner relief. See Rust v. Clark Cnty. Sch. Dist., 103 Nev. 686, 689, 747 P.2d 1380, 1382 (1987) (explaining that written orders signed and filed by the district court are essential to this court's review); see also NRAP 21(a)(4) (stating that it is the petitioner's obligation to provide an appendix that includes all records that may be essential to understand the matters set forth in the petition). In addition, petitioner has not demonstrated that he lacks a plain, speedy, and adequate remedy. Accordingly, we

ORDER the petition DENIED.¹
