Case No. _____

Docket No. _____

Motion for Vacating, Setting Aside, Relief from or Correcting an Illegal Sentence or Judgment

Date of Hearing: _____

Time of Hearing: _____

Comes Now, the Movant in his proper person,
REWARD T. POLK, and hereby files this Motion to vacate, set aside or correct an illegal sentence or judgment pursuant to N.R.S. 176.355 and N.R.S.

34.724

This Motion is made and based upon all papers, pleadings and documents on file herein; and the order and judgment entered on January 25, 2005.

The judgment and order in relevant part to the forthcoming motion held:

"the independent claims apart from trial or direct appellate's counsel ineffectiveness will not be addressed due to the fact [Movant] failed to raise the claims on direct appeal and are therefore waived pursuant to N.R.S. 341.810 (5)(2)."'

This Motion is further based on the facts, points and authorities incorporated herein.

Dated this 23rd day of August 2002.

ISI. Rd Polk

Statement of Facts.

On July 25, 2001 the petitioner/[Movant] filed a Pre-Trial Writ of Habeas Corpus with the trial court through counsel of record asserting his detention was illegal because: 1.) the juvenile court did not properly certify the petitioner/[Movant] for adult court proceedings 2.) the (11) eleven month delay in filing charges prejudiced the petitioner's/[Movant] right to a fair trial 3.) the cumulative effect of the errors committed by the State prejudiced the petitioner's [Movant] right to a fair trial. 4.) the petitioner was be detained in violation of the Double Jeopardy. 5.) the petitioner's [Movant] statement was illegally obtained or involuntary.

The Movant also requested that an evidentiary hearing be held.

On August 8, 2001 the trial court denied the pre-trial petition.

On December 18, 2001 the Movant filed an original jurisdiction writ of habeas corpus with the Nevada Supreme Court, docket number

, again citing the above stated grounds and requesting an evidentiary hearing as well challenging the legality of his detention.

On January 23, 2002 the Supreme Court of Nevada denied the petition on the merits holding the petitioner [Movant] was not entitled to relief.

En Banc Reconsideration was denied on April 3, 2002.

The Movant was convicted on January 10, 2002

On September 11, 2002 the Movant through appellate counsel filed his direct appeal opening brief.

On August 25, 2003 the Nevada Supreme Court filed its opinion affirming the Movant's conviction.

However On December 6, 2002 the Movant submitted a Motion to Compel Specific Performance, Release Pending Appeal and Judicial Notice alerting the Nevada Supreme Court appellate counsel was excluding issues preserved by the Movant in the pre-trial writ of habeas corpus and the original jurisdiction writ of habeas corpus from the appeal in contravention of the Movant's wishes, docket number 39457.

On April 1 2003 the motion was denied premised on the opinion of judge Marpin, "that the motion would not be filed because Movant was represented by counsel."

On July 1, 2004 the Movant filed a proper person Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus. Requesting an evidentiary hearing be held to substantiate the claims enumerated therein.

Again the Movant cited as grounds the claims pressed in the pre-trial writ of habeas corpus and the original jurisdiction writ.

The trial court denied the petition on September 14, 2004 finding and concluding the claims to be barred by "Law of the Case," as they were decided on direct appeal.

A timely notice of appeal was filed and appeal taken.

On January 25, 2005 the Nevada Supreme Court Sive Sponte or without having the district attorney respond decided the appeal after the Movant submitted his opening brief concluding that, "the independent claims (i.e. those presented in the pre-trial writ and the original jurisdiction writ) were procedurally barred or waived because Movant failed to present them on direct appeal pursuant to N.R.S. 34.810(b)(2)."

The remittitur was issued on February 22, 2005.

Points and Authorities

This court has authority to hear this motion pursuant N.R.S. 176.555 and 34.724: "the appropriate vehicle for challenging facially illegal sentence at any time under a statute or rule of the court is by motion to vacate, set aside or correct sentence or judgment." [paraphrased] Edwards v. State 918 P.2d 321; In Re Marriage of Baltins 212 C.C.A.3d 66 and Wilson v. Huckle 724 P.2d 1069

This court has authority to vacate set aside or open if an aggrieved party is adversely affected thereby this includes material and substantial irregularity which has not been cured or waived this includes jurisdictional defects. Van Wert v. Davis 800 P.2d 1082

Argument.

(I) The judgment of this court is void because the Nevada Supreme Court lacked subject-matter jurisdiction to determine a question of fact on an appeal from a post-conviction writ of habeas corpus.

"In order for a judgment to be valid the court must have jurisdiction of the question which it assumes to decide." Riley v. State 506 N.W. 2d 45; Connelly v. Castillo 637 P.2d 1092.

"Judgments of Courts outside limits constitutional or statutory provisions DEFINING subject matter jurisdiction is void." Pain, Webber, Curtis Inc v. Adams 718 P.2d 508.

The Nevada Supreme Court has continuously asserted in Pelligrini v. State 34 P.3d 519; Hosier v. State 193 P.3d 212 and Daniel v. State 688 P.2d 315, @ 316

"[the] Nevada Supreme Court does not determine or decide questions of facts only L AW." [emphasis]

When the Nevada Supreme Court decided a question of fact determined by the trial court they acted outside of their prescribed jurisdiction rendering the judgment void.

The trial court had already found and concluded that the issues and claims presented in the petition were decided by the Nevada Supreme Court and would not be revisited.

On appeal from the denial of the post-conviction writ of habeas corpus the only questions to be determined pertaining to the independent claims were 1) whether the Movant was entitled to an evidentiary hearing or 2) were the claims barred by law of the case.

By the Nevada Supreme Court expanding their jurisdiction over subject matter to include questions of fact ousted the trial court of its original jurisdiction to issue writs.

Furthermore judgments must be responsive to the pleadings and issues and judgments beyond are void. Watkins v Wilson 897 P.2d 19.

Issues not submitted to the court are void. In Re Custody of C.S.F. 755 P.2d 578.

II.) The judgment of the trial court is void because direct appeal proceedings cannot oust original collateral attack proceedings, nor can any statute convey such authority.

Direct attack on a criminal conviction is a further step in the criminal proceedings.

Collateral attack proceedings constitute a new separate and original action which seeks to assert new facts, evidence and arguments.

By the trial court holding that the issues or claims presented were barred by law of the case is akin to saying new evidence or facts can never be presented in an original proceeding.

Any determination on direct appeal outside the scope of errors whether pre-trial, trial and sentencing were completely withheld from the jurisdiction of the Nevada Supreme Court and placed squarely within the trial court.

The Nevada Supreme Court cannot extend or confer direct attack criminal proceedings to include original actions, which constitute two separate and distinct subject-matters.

"A judgment is wholly void in cases where the subject-matter is withheld from the jurisdiction of the court or exclusively placed in another." Woods Bros Corp v. Yankton County 54 F.2d 304.

III.) The judgment of the Nevada Supreme Court is void because the process by which a waiver is obtained is fundamental defective or flawed.

The necessity that a waiver be valid and have effect the interested party must be given fair notice and opportunity to be heard.

Each element must be met before constitutional rights can be waived in order to meet the standard of due process. If either is not met the judgment is void. Wheller v. Moore 38 P.1053;

Wize v. Herzog 114 F.2d 486.

"for want of jurisdiction"

Accordingly a high standard of proof is required to establish a valid waiver. Virginia v. State of New York 86 S.Ct. 1602 and a waiver is not to be presumed. Reeves v. Mabey 615 F.2d 489.

The Movant argues that the way in which the waiver is obtained under N.R.S. 34.810(b)(a) is defective.

A judgment is void where it is based on a process which is so radically defective or fundamental flawed as to be equivalent to no process. Richardson v. Webb 135 S.W.2d 861.

When the Movant filed the motion to compel specific performance, release pending appeal and judicial notice this was an outright attempt to preserve the asserted claims (i.e. those in the pre-trial writ and the original jurisdiction writ.)

By the judge perpetuating a policy that disallows the Movant from supplementing the direct-appeal is a denial of due process and access to the courts. Misconduct of judge is grounds to vacate and open judgment. Newton v. Joslin 30 F. 891.

Since the Movant retains the right to supplement or present pro-se motions on direct appeal. Myers v. Collins 8 F.3d 249 (5th Cir. 1993).

Judgment entered in a proceeding failing to comply with procedural due process are void. Bethany Medical Center v. Nazanie 847 P.2d 1341 see also 890 P.2d 349

Furthermore these claims where outside of the Nevada Supreme Courts jurisdiction to determine since all the claims submitted were mixed questions of law and fact which the Nevada Supreme Court does not and cannot decide. see, supra Riley and Connelly argument (I.)

Therefore this defective process by which a waiver is obtained under N.R.S. 34.810(6)(2) is insufficient to constitute a valid waiver.

This is a fundamental defect which lies at the base of the Nevada institution and is a complete manifest injustice. Hannon v. Mansell 992 P.2d 311; Hannon, supra 833 P.2d 900 see also.

IV.) Conclusion

For the set forth herein, this Court should vacate set aside, correct or relieve the Movant from the judgment rendered on _____ on appeal from the denial of the post-conviction writ of habeas corpus and decide the issues presented

- 1.) Whether the Movant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing
- 2.) Whether the Movant has demonstrated the requisite cause and prejudice to overcome

3.) Whether a Writ should issue which is well within these prescribed jurisdiction to determine as the order or judgment or sentence entered is void for want, lack, lost or unauthorized exercise of jurisdiction.
