1 partial summary judgment, the hearing on the motion to reopen discovery, and the Order
2 to Show Cause. Jt. Appx. II, 240-241. At the hearings Kuehn did attend he offered no 3 rebuttal to arguments but sated that his office “dropped the ball” or pleaded with the court
4 to simply impose greater sanctions. Jt. Appx. II, 241. In one Order to Show Cause 5 Hearing Mr. Gibson, Kuehn’s partner, appeared for Kuehn and requested “a closed 6 courtroom to disclose the issues regarding Attorney Harry Kuehn. Mr. Gibson [then] 7 informe[d] the court of Harry Kuehn’s issues with depression.” Jt. Appx. II, 241-242.

8 It would be nice if there were a more complete record of the District Court’s 9 hearings especially the final hearing, however as no transcript was made of any of the 10 hearings, counsel must cite to the vague record to support statements and recollection of 11 proceedings.

12 Finally, Fallini would emphasize that she did not discover Kuehn’s malpractice 13 until June 2, 2010, at which point she promptly fired Kuehn and hired new counsel. Jt.
14 Appx. II, 142-143. New counsel appeared for Fallini on June 17, 2010. Jt. Appx. II, 87-88.
15 In the next 32 days a litany of motions were filed and the final hearing held on July 19, 16 2010. Jt. Appx. II, 242-244. The July 19, 2010, hearing resulted in the final order that is 17 appealed from, denied the motion for reconsideration, dismissed the trial, and continued 18 with the prove up hearing. Jt. Appx. II, 242. In that hearing Susan Fallini was present and 19 sworn in to testify. Jt. Appx. II, 242. It is unfortunate that there is no transcript of that 20 hearing, like all other hearings, but it can be inferred from the Motion for Leave to File 21 Motion for Reconsideration that Susan Fallini testified to the contents of her unsigned 22 affidavit attached to that motion. Jt. Appx. II, 145, 151-152.

23 STANDARD OF REVIEW

24 Fallini would like to take this chance to remedy her failure to clearly delineate the 25 standard of review applicable to each issue presented to the court.

26 (1) A motion for reconsideration is properly treated as a motion under Rule 27 59(e), FRCP., to alter or amend the judgment. Huff v. Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., 28 675 F.2d 119, 122-23 & n. 5 (6th Cir.1982). Although the appropriate standard of review

1 for a motion to reconsider is generally whether the district court abused its discretion, if 2 the court's denial was based upon the interpretation and application of a legal precept, 3 review is plenary. See Huff, 675 F.2d at 122-23 n. 5; 6A J. Moore, Moore's Federal 4 Practice p 59.15 (2d ed. 1984); see also, Cowger v. Arnold, 460 F.2d 219, 220 (3d 5 Cir.1972) (Rule 59(a) motion for a new trial also reviewed on basis of underlying final 6 judgment). Here, because the district court's denial of Fallini's motion to reconsider was 7 in part based upon an improper determination of the law in granting Adams summary 8 judgment, review of this denial is plenary. Thus, the merits of Fallini's contentions must 9 be explored. Koshatka v. Philadelphia Newspapers, Inc., 723 F.2d 329, 333 (3rd Cir.
10 1985).

11 (2) Although the issue of the dismissal of the jury trial is raised for the first time 12 on appeal and arguments raised for the first time need not be considered (Montesano v.
13 Donrey Media Group, 99 Nev. 644, 650, 688 P. 2d 1081, 1085 (1983) citing Williams v.
14 Zellhoefer, 89 Nev. 579, 517 P.2d 789 (1973)) the court may consider argument raised for 15 the first time on appeal when appellant presents argument or authorities in support of an 16 alleged error in the court below, or the error is so unmistakable that it reveals itself by a
17 casual inspection of the record. Williams v. Zellhoefer, 89 Nev. 579, 517 P.2d 789 (1973)
18 citing Allison v. Hagan, 12 Nev. 38, 42 (1877); Gardner v. Gardner, 23 Nev. 207, 45 P.
19 139 (1896); Candler v. Ditch Co., 28 Nev. 151, 80 P. 751 (1905); Riverside Casino v. J.
20 W. Brewer Co., 80 Nev. 153, 390 P.2d 232 (1964); Smithart v. State, 86 Nev. 925, 478
21 P.2d 576 (1970). The unconstitutional denial of a jury trial must be reversed unless the 22 error was harmless. United States v. California Mobile Home Management Park Co., 107
23 F.3d 1374, 1377 (9th Cir. 1997).

24 (3) This issue also is brought up for the first time on appeal however, due to the 25 progressions of the proceedings the evidence considered in the calculation and award of 26 damages was unknown at the time when objection could have been made on the record.
27 Jt. Appx. II, 242. A calculation of damages should only be upheld if there is competent 28 evidence to sustain it. Cornea v. Wilcox, 898 P.2d 1379, 1386 (Utah 1995) citing Rees v.

1 Intermountain Health Care, Inc., 808 P.2d 1069, 1072 (Utah 1991); Penrod v. Carter, 737
2 P.2d 199, 200 (Utah 1987). In general, an award of damages will be affirmed on appeal if 3 they are based upon substantial evidence in the record. Dow Chemical Co. v. Mahlum, 114
4 Nev. 1468, 970 P.2d 98 (1998), citing Prabhu v. Levine, 112 Nev. 1538, 1543, 930 P.2d 5 103, 107 (1996). "Substantial evidence has been defined as that which 'a reasonable mind 6 might accept as adequate to support a conclusion.'" Prabhu, supra at 1543 (quoting State, 7 Emp. Security v. Hilton Hotels, 102 Nev. 606, 608, 729 P.2d 497, 498 (1986)).

8 SUMMARY OF REPLY ARGUMENTS

9 I. Denying Fallini's Motion for Reconsideration was an abuse of discretion by 10 the District Court because under a plenary review the Orders entered for which Fallini was 11 requesting reconsideration were clearly erroneous, based on "facts" known to be untrue 12 but established by default, and resulted in manifest injustice. New facts were presented 13 to the District Court warranting reconsideration of the past orders, rendering the past 14 orders, of which Fallini was requesting reconsideration, erroneous and unjust.

15 II. Dismissing the jury trial was reversible error because it deprived defendant 16 of their constitutional right and the determination of damages is an issue of fact that 17 should have been resolved by a jury.

18 III. The damages awarded to Adams by the District Court were excessive and 19 are not supported by evidence in the record.

20 The District Court's Order After Hearing should be reversed and the case 21 remanded, with instructions to reconsider previous orders and have all issues of fact tried 22 by a jury.

1 Ass'n of Southern Nevada v. Jolley, Urga & Wirth, Ltd., 113 Nev. 737; 941 P.2d 486
2 (1997) citing with approval Little earth of United Tribes v. Department of Housing 807 F.
3 2d 1433, 1441 (8th Cir. 1986). Rehearing should be granted where new issues of fact or 4 law are raised supporting a ruling contrary to the ruling already reached have been 5 presented. Moore v. City of Las Vegas, 92 Nev. 402, 405, 551 P. 2d 244, 246 (1976).

6 Fallini's Motion for Reconsideration raised new issues of fact showing that it was 7 common knowledge that the area where the cow was hit was free range, in direct 8 opposition to what had previously been established through default. Jt. Appx. II, 149. It 9 also established that Fallini had been lied to near the beginning of the case and told by her 10 attorney that the case was over. Jt. Appx. II, 151-152. Although the Affidavits attached to 11 Fallini's Motion for Reconsideration were unsigned they were accompanied by a signed 12 affidavit from Fallini's newly retained counsel, detailing that signed affidavits would be 13 produced as soon as they were received back. Unfortunately, given that the hearing on 14 this motion was held thirteen days later, Fallini did not have the signed affidavits back 15 prior to the motion being denied. Jt. Appx. II. 242-244. It is important to note that Susan 16 Fallini was sworn in to testify at that hearing and could have given sworn testimony on the 17 contents of her affidavit for the courts consideration. Jt. Appx. II, 242. Further, the fact 18 that the area where the cow was hit was open range was supported not only by unsigned 19 affidavits but a signed letter from Deputy Attorney General, Gilbert R. Garcia on State of 20 Nevada Office of the Attorney General letterhead written on behalf of the Nevada 21 Department of Transportation, stating that not only was the road where the accident 22 occurred in open range but it was clearly marked as such. Jt. Appx. II., 149. This letter 23 would have been properly considered by the District Court because the circumstances are 24 sufficient to show its accuracy. NRS 51.075.

25 Because the new facts presented to the court showed the prior rulings to be clearly 26 erroneous the District Court abused its discretion when it arbitrarily denied Fallini's 27 Motion for Reconsideration.

28 ///

1 B. The Order Granting Partial Summary Judgment and the Order Striking Answer
2 and Counterclaim were Erroneous and Manifested Injustice.

3 The Orders that Fallini requested be reconsidered were granted at the time they 4 were entered as the district court was forced to enter decisions based entirely upon 5 Kuehn's repeated and blatant inaction, and not on sound factual basis and legal premises.
6 Jt Appx. II, 143. The longstanding policy of law favors the disposition of cases on their 7 merits. Moore v. Cherry, 90 Nev. 390, 393-394, 528 P.2d 1018, 1021 (1974) citing 8 Richman v. General Motors Corp., 437 F. 2d 196 (CA. 1st Cir. 1971); Bauwens v. Evans, 9 109 Nev. 537, 539, 853 P.2d 121, 122 (1993). The orders entered were entered based on 10 Kuehn's procedural failures and not on the merits of the case.

11 The "facts" on which the Order Granting Partial Summary Judgment was based 12 were "conclusively established" through Kuehn's failure to respond to Adams' Request 13 for Admissions. Jt. Appx. I, 55-57. Although, failure to respond to requests for 14 admissions will result in those matters being deemed conclusively established even if the 15 established matters are ultimately untrue (Lawrence v. Southwest Gas Corp., 89 Nev. 433, 16 514 P.2d 868 (1973)) that rule should not be extended to establish "facts" purported that 17 were known to be false when propounded. A Court's interpretation of rules and law 18 "should be in line with what reason and public policy would indicate the legislature 19 intended, and should avoid absurd results." State v. Quinn, 30 P.3d 1117, 1120, 117 Nev.
20 709 (2001), quoting Gallagher v. City of Las Vegas, 114 Nev. 595, 599-600, 959 P.2d 21 519, 521 (1998). The method by which the "facts" were established previously, could 22 also "conclusively establish" that grass grows pink. Furthermore, the fact that the area 23 where the cow was struck was open range was and is common knowledge in Nye County 24 and the road on which the accident took place was marked with signs showing it to be 25 open range. Jt. Appx. II., 149. By continuing to allow a fact to stand, the opposite of 26 which is truth commonly known and could have been established through judicial notice 27 if litigated on the merits, the District Court is encouraging attorneys to engage in unethical 28 conduct in violation of the Nevada Rules of Professional Conduct, specifically Nevada

1 Rule of Professional Conduct 3.3.

2 The commonly known fact that the area where the accident occurred is open range 3 renders the Order Granting Summary Judgment erroneous. Holding Fallini liable for 4 more than $2.7 million resulting from the misconduct of the attorney's involved is 5 manifestly unjust. The District Court has a duty to exercise discretion to seek truth and 6 justice. When serious misconduct occurs a trial judge has an obligation to intervene sua 7 sponte to protect litigants' rights to a fair trial. DeJesus v. Flick, 116 Nev. 812, 7 P.3d 459, 8 466 (2000), Papez D.J., concurring. By denying Fallini's Motion for Reconsideration the 9 District Court abused its discretion and failed to uphold the integrity of the court. Code of 10 Judicial Conduct Canon 1.

11 C. Fallini Should not be Bound by the Negligence of Her Attorney as She Too Was 12 a Victim of His Negligence and in no Way Ratified his Actions or Inactions.

13 Adams argues that Fallini shirked her responsibilities as a party to the litigation and 14 that Kuehn's negligence is imputed to her. In support of this proposition Adams cites 15 Tahoe Village Realty v. DeSmet, 95 Nev. 131, 590 P.2d 1158, 1161 (1979) overruled on 16 other grounds, and Moore v. Cherry, 90 Nev. 390, 528 P.2d 1018 (1974). In Tahoe Village
17 the appellants' attorney withdrew without filing a responsive pleading. A month later a 18 default was entered against them. Appellants did not retain new counsel until four months 19 after their first counsel withdrew and three months after the entry of default. Tahoe 20 Village supra at 133. In Moore v. Cherry the appellants retained the same counsel to 21 represent them in the appeal that they had in the lower court, whose negligence and 22 disregard of the rules caused their action to be dismissed. Moore v. Cherry supra at 395.

23 Until approximately June 2, 2010, Kuehn failed to communicate the status of the 24 case, except to tell defendant that the case was "over and had been taken care of." Jt.
25 Appx. II., 142, 151. Finally, Mr. Tom Gibson contacted Fallini and apprised her of the 26 true status of her case. Jt. Appx. II., 142, 151. As soon as Fallini discovered Kuehn's 27 negligence, she was referred to and retained new counsel without delay. Jt. Appx. II, 151.
28 Unlike the appellants in Tahoe Village, Fallini had no time during the lower court

1 proceedings where she was representing herself and would have had reason to check the 2 status of the litigation herself as opposed to trusting the representations made to her by her 3 attorney. Further, unlike the appellants in Moore, as soon as Fallini was informed of her 4 attorney's failures she immediately sought replacement counsel to begin challenging the 5 miscarriage of the case. In no way did Fallini ratify the inaction of her counsel.

6 Although, notice of the motions and orders were given to Kuehn, like all other 7 aspects of the litigation, Kuehn failed to pass on service to Fallini. Due to the extremity of 8 the dereliction of duty shown by Kuehn in these proceedings it must be noted that Fallini 9 never received notice of the course or continued existence of the proceedings until 10 Kuehn's law partner Gibson informed her of such. Jt. Appx. II, 151.

11 Adams further contends that despite Fallini's lack of knowledge or action ratifying 12 her attorney's behavior she is estopped from raising the issues appealed due to the actions 13 and or inactions of Kuehn. Adams states that 'ratification of an attorney's conduct can 14 occur through negligence, inattention, or the failure to express disapproval by his client, as 15 it's the client's duty, having knowledge of the case, to express her disapproval within a 16 reasonable time, under the equitable doctrine of laches.' Comb's Admr v. Virginia Iron, 17 Coal & Coke Co., 33 SW 2d 649 (Ky. 1930); Baumgartner v. Whinney, 39 A.2d 738 (Pa.
18 1944); Kreis v. Kreis, 57 S.W.2d 1107 (1933 Tex. Civ. App.) error dismissed, former app.
19 36 S.W.2d 821. Repondent's brief, p. 17-18. Based on this definition Fallini in no way 20 ratified Kuehn's actions or inactions because she expressed her disapproval immediately 21 upon her being informed of his negligence, firing him, replacing him as counsel and 22 pleading to the court for reconsideration of the orders granted as a result of his inactions.
23 Jt. Appx. II, 76-86, 130-132, 133-152, 241-244. As Fallini was being misled by Kuehn 24 through the majority of the proceedings, kept under the belief that the case was over, she 25 was the greatest victim of Kuehn's malpractice and it would be grossly unjust to hold her 26 accountable or infer that she in any way ratified his negligence.

27 For the foregoing reasons the District Court had the discretion to and under the 28 circumstances of this case should have granted Fallini's Motion for Reconsideration. In 1 denying that Motion the District Court abused its discretion, allowing the perpetuation of 2 erroneous orders manifesting injustice, committing reversible error.

3 On a policy note, because of the extreme nature of Kuehn's dereliction of duties, 4 and the commonly known easily established fact of the area being open range 5 contradicting the results of this case a remand of this case with directions for 6 reconsideration would not open floodgates. Rather, it would affirm prior holdings of this 7 court where new trials have been granted to remedy attorney misconduct where the 8 misconduct so permeates the proceedings and/or where absent the misconduct the verdict 9 would have been different. Loice v. Cohen, 124 Nev. 1, 174 P.3d 970, 978-982 (2008). If 10 this is not a case where attorney misconduct warrants a rehearing then the court will be 11 hard pressed to find one. Another troubling aspect of this case is the level of negligence 12 Kuehn was able to reach without an authority involved notifying Fallini of the 13 circumstances. When serious misconduct occurs a trial judge has an obligation to 14 intervene sua sponte to protect litigants' rights to a fair trial. DeJesus v. Flick, 116 Nev.
15 812, 7 P.3d 459, 466 (2000), Papez D.J., concurring. Arguments in derogation of 16 professional conduct rules should not be condoned by a court even absent objection. Id.
17 citing Wanner v. Keenan, 22 Ill.App.3d 930, 317 N.E.2d 114 (1974). The trial judge is 18 responsible for the justice of his judgments and has a duty to control proceedings to 19 ensure a just result. Id. citing Paulsen v. Gateway Transportation Co., 114 Ill.App.2d 241, 20 252 N.E.2d 406 (1969).

21 II. THIS COURT CAN PROPERLY DETERMINE THAT THE TIRAL
22 COURT COMMITTED REVERSIBLE ERROR WHEN IT
23 DISMISSED THE JURY TRIAL AND DETERMINED DAMAGES

24 Although the issue of the dismissal of the jury trial is raised for the first time on 25 appeal and arguments raised for the first time need not be considered (Montesano v.
26 Donrey Media Group, 99 Nev. 644, 650, 688 P. 2d 1081, 1085 (1983) citing Williams v.
27 Zellhoefer, 89 Nev. 579, 517 P.2d 789 (1973)) the court may consider argument raised for 28 the first time on appeal when appellatant presents argument or authorities in support of an

1 alleged error in the court below, or the error is so unmistakable that it reveals itself by a
2 casual inspection of the record. Williams v. Zellhoefer, 89 Nev. 579, 517 P.2d 789 (1973)
3 citing Allison v. Hagan, 12 Nev. 38, 42 (1877); Gardner v. Gardner, 23 Nev. 207, 45 P.
4 139 (1896); Candler v. Ditch Co., 28 Nev. 151, 80 P. 751 (1905); Riverside Casino v. J.
5 W. Brewer Co., 80 Nev. 153, 390 P.2d 232 (1964); Smithart v. State, 86 Nev. 925, 478
6 P.2d 576 (1970). This matter was set for a jury trial when the district Court vacated that 7 jury trial setting and determined damages from the bench. Jt. Appx. II, 242.

8 This case is unique in that Fallini did not request the jury trial. However defendant 9 Fallini did not have time to request a jury trial as the jury trial that was scheduled was 10 vacated in the final hearing. Jt. Appx. II, 223. Immediately following the decision to 11 grant default the District Court inquired as to who was going to determine damages and 12 amounts, Attorney Aldrich told the court it should go forward with the hearing that day 13 and determine damages. A directive the court obviously followed. Jt. Appx. II, 223, 242.
14 Not only was Fallini not afforded an opportunity to request a jury trial but forced to 15 immediately argue damages at a hearing scheduled to determine an Application for 16 Default and her Motion for Reconsideration.

17 Adams contends that the District Court properly dismissed the trial and proceed 18 with a prove up hearing as it was allowed to do by virtue of the default it had entered 19 previously pursuant to NRCPC 55(b)(2). In cases where the court has entered default it still 20 must accord a right of trial by jury to the parties when and as required by any statute of 21 the State. NRCPC 55(b)(2). Article 1, Section 3 of the Nevada Constitution provides:

22 Trial by jury; waiver in civil cases. The right of trial by Jury shall be 23 secured to all and remain inviolate forever; but a Jury trial may be waived 24 by the parties in all civil cases in the manner to be prescribed by law; and in 25 civil cases, if three fourths of the Jurors agree upon a verdict it shall stand 26 and have the same force and effect as a verdict by the whole Jury, Provided, the Legislature by a law passed by a two thirds vote of all the members elected to each branch thereof may require a unanimous verdict notwithstanding this Provision.

27 Although no statute exists requiring that damages be determined by a jury, Fallini 28 still had her constitutional right to a jury trial which she never waived or had opportunity

1 to assert. Further, it is well established law that the right to jury trial includes having a 2 jury determine all issues of fact. Molodyh v. Truck Insurance Exchange, 744 P.2d 992, 3 304 Or. 290, 297-298 (1987). "The amount of damages  from the beginning of trial by 4 jury, was a 'fact' to be found by the jurors." Lakin v. Senco Products, Inc., 987 P.2d 463, 5 470, 329 Or. 62, Quoting Charles T. McCormick, Handbook on the Law of Damages 24 6 (1935).

7 Factual determinations remained as to damages, even though the Court struck the 8 defendant's answer and entered default. The Court's unexpected and immediate 9 determination of damages from the bench, after striking the jury trial, violated Fallini's 10 right to a jury trial secured by the above cited section of the Nevada Constitution. The 11 Damages awarded by the District Court in total exceeded $2.7 million, making the error 12 very harmful to Fallini. Jt. Appx. II, 2222-223. Thus, the District Court committed 13 reversible error when it dismissed the jury trial and determined damages without affording 14 Fallini the opportunity to secure much less waive her right.

15 III. THE SUPREME COURT MAY DETERMINE THE TRIAL COURT
16 ERRED WHEN IT AWARDED EXCESSIVE DAMAGES WIHTOUT
17 LEGAL BASIS

18 Although this issue is brought up on appeal for the first time the and the Supreme 19 court need not consider it may do so as the error is so unmistakable that it reveals itself by 20 a casual inspection of the record. Williams v. Zellhoefer, 89 Nev. 579, 517 P.2d 789 21 (1973) citing Allison v. Hagan, 12 Nev. 38, 42 (1877); Gardner v. Gardner, 23 Nev. 207, 22 45 P. 139 (1896); Candler v. Ditch Co., 28 Nev. 151, 80 P. 751 (1905); Riverside Casino
23 v. J. W. Brewer Co., 80 Nev. 153, 390 P.2d 232 (1964); Smithart v. State, 86 Nev. 925, 24 478 P.2d 576 (1970). A casual inspection of the record in this case shows a distinct lack 25 of record/evidence.

26 A calculation of damages should only be upheld if there is competent evidence to 27 sustain it. Cornea v. Wilcox, 898 P.2d 1379, 1386 (Utah 1995) citing Rees v.
28 Intermountain Health Care, Inc., 808 P.2d 1069, 1072 (Utah 1991); Penrod v. Carter, 737

1 P.2d 199, 200 (Utah 1987). In this matter, there is no record of a showing that plaintiffs 2 suffered any economic loss from the death of their son. The only tangible damages for 3 which evidence can be inferred are the funeral expenses. Jt. Appx. II, 222-223, 242.

4 CONCLUSION

5 This cataclysmic, train wreck of a case was occasioned by the blatant malpractice 6 of Appellant's first lawyer, which cause the entry of partial summary judgment, the 7 striking of Appellant's answer, and the entry of default against Appellant, has resulted in 8 judgment in contravention of the actual facts. The District Court abused its discretion and 9 committed reversible error when it unreasonably denied Appellant, Fallini's Motion for 10 Reconsideration, vacated the jury trial and awarded excessive damages to Adams.

11 Now Appellant faces a huge ($2.7 million) uninsured damage award. This court 12 should reverse the District Court's decision and remand the case, directing the lower 13 Court to reconsider its earlier orders and allow Appellant her defense.
