1 IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

2 SUSAN FALLINI,

Supreme Court No.: 56840

3 Appellant,

4 vs.

APPELLANT'S AMENDED REPLY BRIEF

5 Estate of MICHAEL DAVID ADAMS,
6 By and through his mother JUDITH ADAMS,
7 Individually and on behalf of the Estate,

8 Respondent.

10 Pursuant to NRAP 28(a), and this Court's Order of October 24, 2011, Appellant, 11 Susan Fallini, hereby submits Appellant's Amended Reply Brief:

12 ISSUES PRESENTED FOR REVIEW

13 Combining the issues presented for review as stated in Appellants Opening Brief 14 with the issues as stated in Respondent's Answering Brief the issues are as follows:

- 15 (1) Did the district court abuse its discretion and commit reversible when it denied 16 Defendant's Motion for Leave to File Motion for Reconsideration?
17 (2) May this court consider whether the district court committed reversible error by 18 vacating the jury trial, and determining damages?
19 (3) May the Supreme Court consider whether the district court properly awarded 20 damages in excess of $2.7 million to Respondents, Adams.

21 DISPUTED FACTS

22 The procedural history and statement of facts have been laid out in detail in the 23 previous briefs filed, thus only the disputed facts laid out in Respondent's Answering 24 Brief will be addressed. Upon filing of the underlying action, Fallini acted prudently and 25 hired a lawyer who accepted responsibility for the case. She acted prudently again and 26 inquired about the case and was told it was "over." She went back to her life as a rancher, 27 wife, mother and grandmother. Appellant was sued in a dispute in which she had a 28

1 perfect defense.¹ She had every right to assume that the matter would be routine. Her 2 lawyer then inexplicably, embarked on a course of inaction which resulted in her answer 3 being stricken, her default taken, her jury trial right being abrogated, and a massive 4 judgment entered against her. The judgment was awarded to the deceased's parents, 5 whose only economic loss was funeral expenses.

6 Fallini would emphasize that she did not discover Kuehn's malpractice until June 7 2, 2010, at which point she promptly fired Kuehn and hired new counsel. Jt. Appx. II, 8 142-143. New counsel appeared for Fallini on June 17, 2010. Jt. Appx. II, 87-88. In the 9 next 32 days a litany of motions were filed and the final hearing held on July 19, 2010. Jt.
10 Appx. II, 242-244. The July 19, 2010, hearing resulted in the final order that is appealed 11 from, denied the motion for reconsideration, dismissed the trial, and continued with the 12 prove up hearing. Jt. Appx. II, 242. In that hearing Susan Fallini was present and sworn in 13 to testify. Jt. Appx. II, 242, and p.26-27 Transcript of hearing for Application for Default 14 Judgment.

15 The District Court had discretion to give her relief, but abused that discretion.
16 Regardless of pending malpractice actions and proceedings before the state bar, she has 17 been left with the prospect of financial ruin because of the actions of a member of the bar

18 ¹ The trial court made several references to the open range status of the accident site: The Court stated "You should 19 be aware that out here in the rurals, cows run on highways" (page 3, l.24-p.4 l.1, Transcript of hearing for 20 Application for Default Judgment). In addition, counsel asked the Court to take judicial notice of the fact of open range during this colloquy:

21 Q: Do you know of your own personal knowledge whether that stretch of highway is designated as open range?

22 A: It is.

23 MR. ALDRICH: I object to relevance. It's prove up.

24 THE COURT: It doesn't matter. I'm aware that it is.

25 Go ahead.

26 MR. OHLSON: If you are, Your Honor, you'll take judicial notice of that?

27 THE COURT: That'll be fine. (emphasis added)

28 (p.27, ll.2-13, Transcript of hearing for Application for Default Judgment)

1 of this state. All this, and no issue in this case has ever been tried on the merits.

2 REPLY ARGUMENTS

4 I. THE DISTRICT COURT ABUSED ITS DISCRETION WHEN IT DENIED FALLINI'S MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION.

5 So long as it retains jurisdiction over a case, a trial court "possesses the inherent 6 procedural power to reconsider, rescind, or modify an interlocutory order for cause seen 7 by the court to be sufficient." Mullally v. Jones, 2010 WL 3359333 (D.Nev.), citing City
8 of Los Angeles, Harbor Div. v. Santa Monica Baykeeper, 254 F.3d 882, 885 (9th 9 Cir,2001). Thus the denying or granting of a motion for reconsideration is within the trial 10 court's discretion. Discretion is abused if the District Court's decision is arbitrary or 11 capricious or if it exceeds the bounds of law or reason. Jackson v. State, 117 Nev. 116, 12 120, 17 P. 3d 998, 1000 (2001).

13 A trial court should reconsider, and reverse prior rulings made prior to final judgment 14 when the prior decision is clearly erroneous and the order, if left in place, would manifest 15 injustice. Masonry and Tile Contractors v. Jolley, 113 Nev. 737, 941 P 2d 486, 489 16 (1997) citing Little Earth v. Department of Housing, 807 Fed 2d 1433 (8th Cir. 1986); 17 United States v. Serpa, 930 F.2d 639 (8th Cir., 1991).The Court's ability to reconsider is 18 not hampered by the "law of the case doctrine" when the order reconsidered would work a 19 manifest injustice. U.S. v. Serpa, at 640. Fallini is not asking this court to reverse the 20 District Court's ruling on its granting of summary judgment but must show that 21 reconsideration should have been granted of that order and the Order Striking Fallini's 22 Answer and Counterclaim. A plenary review displays the District Court's denial of 23 Fallini's Motion for Reconsideration to be arbitrary, ignoring facts presented and 24 unreasonably bounding its judgment by procedural default rather than the merits of the 25 case.

26 A. The Motion for Reconsideration Should Have been Granted as New Facts and 27 Circumstances Existed Justifying Rehearing.

28 A district court may reconsider a previously decided issue if substantially different

1 evidence is introduced or the decision is clearly erroneous. Masonry and Tile Contractors
2 Ass'n of Southern Nevada v. Jolley, Urga & Wirth, Ltd., 113 Nev. 737, 941 P.2d 486
3 (1997) citing with approval Little earth of United Tribes v. Department of Housing 807 F.
4 2d 1433, 1441 (8th Cir. 1986). Rehearing should be granted where new issues of fact or 5 law are raised supporting a ruling contrary to the ruling already reached have been 6 presented. Moore v. City of Las Vegas, 92 Nev. 402, 405, 551 P. 2d 244, 246 (1976).

7 Fallini's Motion for Reconsideration raised new issues of fact showing that it was 8 common knowledge that the area where the cow was hit was free range, in direct 9 opposition to what had previously been established through default.² Jt. Appx. II, 149. It 10 also established that Fallini had been lied to near the beginning of the case and told by her 11 attorney that the case was over. Jt. Appx. II, 151-152. Although the Affidavits attached to 12 Fallini's Motion for Reconsideration were unsigned they were accompanied by a signed 13 affidavit from Fallini's newly retained counsel, detailing that signed affidavits would be 14 produced as soon as they were received back. Unfortunately, given that the hearing on 15 this motion was held thirteen days later, Fallini did not have the signed affidavits back 16 prior to the motion being denied. Jt. Appx. II. 242-244. It is important to note that Susan 17 Fallini was sworn in to testify at that hearing, and testified regarding open range, p.26-27 18 Transcript of hearing for Application for Default Judgment, Jt. Appx. II, 242. Further, the 19 fact that the area where the cow was hit was open range was supported not only by 20 unsigned affidavits but a signed letter from Deputy Attorney General, Gilbert R. Garcia 21 on State of Nevada Office of the Attorney General letterhead written on behalf of the 22 Nevada Department of Transportation, stating that not only was the road where the 23 accident occurred in open range but it was clearly marked as such. Jt. Appx. II., 149. This 24 letter would have been properly considered by the District Court because the 25 circumstances are sufficient to show its accuracy. NRS 51.075. Also, the Court 26 acknowledged that the area was open range. Footnote 1, infra.

27
28 ² See footnote 1, infra, and Susan Fallini's testimony, p.26-27 Transcript of hearing for Application for Default Judgment

1 Because the new facts presented to the court showed the prior rulings to be clearly 2 erroneous the District Court abused its discretion when it arbitrarily denied Fallini's 3 Motion for Reconsideration.

4 B. The Order Granting Partial Summary Judgment and the Order Striking Answer
5 and Counterclaim were Erroneous and Manifested Injustice.

6 The Orders that Fallini requested be reconsidered were granted at the time they 7 were entered as the district court was forced to enter decisions based entirely upon 8 Kuehn's repeated and blatant inaction, and not on sound factual basis and legal premises.
9 Jt Appx. II, 143. The longstanding policy of law favors the disposition of cases on their 10 merits. Moore v. Cherry, 90 Nev. 390, 393-394, 528 P.2d 1018, 1021 (1974) citing 11 Richman v. General Motors Corp., 437 F. 2d 196 (CA. 1st Cir. 1971); Bauwens v. Evans, 12 109 Nev. 537, 539, 853 P.2d 121, 122 (1993). The orders entered were entered based on 13 Kuehn's procedural failures and not on the merits of the case.

14 The "facts" on which the Order Granting Partial Summary Judgment was based 15 were "conclusively established" through Kuehn's failure to respond to Adams' Request 16 for Admissions. Jt. Appx. I, 55-57. Although, failure to respond to requests for 17 admissions will result in those matters being deemed conclusively established even if the 18 established matters are ultimately untrue (Lawrence v. Southwest Gas Corp., 89 Nev. 433, 19 514 P.2d 868 (1973)) that rule should not be extended to establish "facts" purported that 20 were known to be false when propounded. A Court's interpretation of rules and law 21 "should be in line with what reason and public policy would indicate the legislature 22 intended, and should avoid absurd results." State v. Quinn, 30 P.3d 1117, 1120, 117 Nev.
23 709 (2001), quoting Gallagher v. City of Las Vegas, 114 Nev. 595, 599-600, 959 P.2d 24 519, 521 (1998). The method by which the "facts" were established previously, could 25 also "conclusively establish" that grass grows pink. Furthermore, the fact that the area 26 where the cow was struck was open range was and is common knowledge in Nye County 27 and the road on which the accident took place was marked with signs showing it to be 28 open range. Jt. Appx. II., 149. By continuing to allow a fact to stand, the opposite of 1 which is truth commonly known and could have been established through judicial notice 2 if litigated on the merits, the District Court is encouraging attorneys to engage in unethical 3 conduct in violation of the Nevada Rules of Professional Conduct, specifically Nevada 4 Rule of Professional Conduct 3.3.

5 The commonly known fact that the area where the accident occurred is open range 6 renders the Order Granting Summary Judgment erroneous. Holding Fallini liable for 7 more than $2.7 million resulting from the misconduct of the attorney's involved is 8 manifestly unjust. The District Court has a duty to exercise discretion to seek truth and 9 justice. When serious misconduct occurs a trial judge has an obligation to intervene sua 10 sponte to protect litigants' rights to a fair trial. DeJesus v. Flick, 116 Nev. 812, 7 P.3d 459, 11 466 (2000), Papez D.J., concurring. By denying Fallini's Motion for Reconsideration the 12 District Court abused its discretion and failed to uphold the integrity of the court. Code of 13 Judicial Conduct Canon 1.

14 C. Fallini Should not be Bound by the Negligence of Her Attorney as She Too Was 15 a Victim of His Negligence and in no Way Ratified his Actions or Inactions.

16 Adams argues that Fallini shirked her responsibilities as a party to the litigation and 17 that Kuehn's negligence is imputed to her. In support of this proposition Adams cites 18 Tahoe Village Realty v. DeSmet, 95 Nev. 131, 590 P.2d 1158, 1161 (1979) overruled on 19 other grounds, and Moore v. Cherry, 90 Nev. 390, 528 P.2d 1018 (1974). In Tahoe Village 20 the appellants' attorney withdrew without filing a responsive pleading. A month later a 21 default was entered against them. Appellants did not retain new counsel until four months 22 after their first counsel withdrew and three months after the entry of default. Tahoe 23 Village supra at 133. In Moore v. Cherry the appellants retained the same counsel to 24 represent them in the appeal that they had in the lower court, whose negligence and 25 disregard of the rules caused their action to be dismissed. Moore v. Cherry supra at 395.

26 Until approximately June 2, 2010, Kuehn failed to communicate the status of the 27 case, except to tell defendant that the case was "over and had been taken care of." Jt.
28 Appx. II., 142, 151. Finally, Mr. Tom Gibson contacted Fallini and apprised her of the 1 true status of her case. Jt. Appx. II., 142, 151. As soon as Fallini discovered Kuehn's 2 negligence, she was referred to and retained new counsel without delay. Jt. Appx. II, 151.

3 Unlike the appellants in Tahoe Village, Fallini had no time during the lower court 4 proceedings where she was representing herself and would have had reason to check the 5 status of the litigation herself as opposed to trusting the representations made to her by her 6 attorney. Further, unlike the appellants in Moore, as soon as Fallini was informed of her 7 attorney's failures she immediately sought replacement counsel to begin challenging the 8 miscarriage of the case. In no way did Fallini ratify the inaction of her counsel.

9 Although, notice of the motions and orders were given to Kuehn, like all other 10 aspects of the litigation, Kuehn failed to pass on service to Fallini. Due to the extremity of 11 the dereliction of duty shown by Kuehn in these proceedings it must be noted that Fallini 12 never received notice of the course or continued existence of the proceedings until 13 Kuehn's law partner Gibson informed her of such. Jt. Appx. II, 151.

14 Adams further contends that despite Fallini's lack of knowledge or action ratifying 15 her attorney's behavior she is estopped from raising the issues appealed due to the actions 16 and or inactions of Kuehn. Adams states that 'ratification of an attorney's conduct can 17 occur through negligence, inattention, or the failure to express disapproval by his client, as 18 it's the client's duty, having knowledge of the case, to express her disapproval within a 19 reasonable time, under the equitable doctrine of laches.' Comb's Admr v. Virginia Iron, 20 Coal & Coke Co., 33 SW 2d 649 (Ky. 1930); Baumgartner v. Whinney, 39 A.2d 738 (Pa.
21 1944); Kreis v. Kreis, 57 S.W.2d 1107 (1933 Tex. Civ. App.) error dismissed, former app.
22 36 S.W.2d 821. Repondent's brief, p. 17-18. Based on this definition Fallini in no way 23 ratified Kuehn's actions or inactions because she expressed her disapproval immediately 24 upon her being informed of his negligence, firing him, replacing him as counsel and 25 pleading to the court for reconsideration of the orders granted as a result of his inactions.
26 Jt. Appx. II, 76-86, 130-132, 133-152, 241-244. As Fallini was being misled by Kuehn 27 through the majority of the proceedings, kept under the belief that the case was over, she 28 was the greatest victim of Kuehn's malpractice and it would be grossly unjust to hold her

1 accountable or infer that she in any way ratified his negligence.

2 For the foregoing reasons the District Court had the discretion to and under the 3 circumstances of this case should have granted Fallini's Motion for Reconsideration. In 4 denying that Motion the District Court abused its discretion, allowing the perpetuation of 5 erroneous orders manifesting injustice, committing reversible error.

6 On a policy note, because of the extreme nature of Kuehn's dereliction of duties, 7 and the commonly known easily established fact of the area being open range 8 contradicting the results of this case a remand of this case with directions for 9 reconsideration would not open floodgates. Rather, it would affirm prior holdings of this 10 court where new trials have been granted to remedy attorney misconduct where the 11 misconduct so permeates the proceedings and/or where absent the misconduct the verdict 12 would have been different. Loice v. Cohen, 124 Nev. 1, 174 P.3d 970, 978-982 (2008). If 13 this is not a case where attorney misconduct warrants a rehearing then the court will be 14 hard pressed to find one. Another troubling aspect of this case is the level of negligence 15 Kuehn was able to reach without an authority involved notifying Fallini of the 16 circumstances. When serious misconduct occurs a trial judge has an obligation to 17 intervene sua sponte to protect litigants' rights to a fair trial. DeJesus v. Flick, 116 Nev.
18 812, 7 P.3d 459, 466 (2000), Papez D.J., concurring. Arguments in derogation of 19 professional conduct rules should not be condoned by a court even absent objection. Id.
20 citing Wanner v. Keenan, 22 Ill.App.3d 930, 317 N.E.2d 114 (1974). The trial judge is 21 responsible for the justice of his judgments and has a duty to control proceedings to 22 ensure a just result. Id. citing Paulsen v. Gateway Transportation Co., 114 Ill.App.2d 241, 23 252 N.E.2d 406 (1969).

24 II. THIS COURT CAN PROPERLY DETERMINE THAT THE TIRAL
25 COURT COMMITTED REVERSIBLE ERROR WHEN IT
26 DISMISSED THE JURY TRIAL AND DETERMINED DAMAGES

27 Although the issue of the dismissal of the jury trial is raised for the first time on 28 appeal and arguments raised for the first time need not be considered (Montesano v.

1 Donrey Media Group, 99 Nev. 644, 650, 688 P. 2d 1081, 1085 (1983) citing Williams v.
2 Zellhoefer, 89 Nev. 579, 517 P.2d 789 (1973)) the court may consider argument raised for 3 the first time on appeal when appellant presents argument or authorities in support of an 4 alleged error in the court below, or the error is so unmistakable that it reveals itself by a 5 casual inspection of the record. Williams v. Zellhoefer, 89 Nev. 579, 517 P.2d 789 (1973)
6 citing Allison v. Hagan, 12 Nev. 38, 42 (1877); Gardner v. Gardner, 23 Nev. 207, 45 P.
7 139 (1896); Candler v. Ditch Co., 28 Nev. 151, 80 P. 751 (1905); Riverside Casino v. J.
8 W. Brewer Co., 80 Nev. 153, 390 P.2d 232 (1964); Smithart v. State, 86 Nev. 925, 478 9 P.2d 576 (1970). This matter was set for a jury trial when the district Court vacated that 10 jury trial setting and determined damages from the bench. Jt. Appx. II, 242.

11 This case is unique in that Fallini did not request the jury trial. However defendant 12 Fallini did not have time to request a jury trial as the jury trial that was scheduled was 13 vacated in the final hearing. Jt. Appx. II, 223. Immediately following the decision to 14 grant default the District Court inquired as to who was going to determine damages and 15 amounts, Attorney Aldrich told the court it should go forward with the hearing that day 16 and determine damages. A directive the court obviously followed. Jt. Appx. II, 223, 242.
17 Not only was Fallini not afforded an opportunity to request a jury trial but forced to 18 immediately argue damages at a hearing scheduled to determine an Application for 19 Default and her Motion for Reconsideration.

20 Adams contends that the District Court properly dismissed the trial and proceed 21 with a prove up hearing as it was allowed to do by virtue of the default it had entered 22 previously pursuant to NRCP 55(b)(2). In cases where the court has entered default it still 23 must accord a right of trial by jury to the parties when and as required by any statute of 24 the State. NRCP 55(b)(2). Article 1, Section 3 of the Nevada Constitution provides:

25 Trial by jury; waiver in civil cases. The right of trial by Jury shall be 26 secured to all and remain inviolate forever; but a Jury trial may be waived 27 by the parties in all civil cases in the manner to be prescribed by law; and in 28 civil cases, if three fourths of the Jurors agree upon a verdict it shall stand and have the same force and effect as a verdict by the whole Jury, Provided, the Legislature by a law passed by a two thirds vote of all the members elected to each branch thereof may require a unanimous verdict

1 notwithstanding this Provision.

2 Although no statute exists requiring that damages be determined by a jury, Fallini 3 still had her constitutional right to a jury trial which she never waived or had opportunity 4 to assert. Further, it is well established law that the right to jury trial includes having a 5 jury determine all issues of fact. Molodyh v. Truck Insurance Exchange, 744 P.2d 992, 6 304 Or. 290, 297-298 (1987). "The amount of damages  from the beginning of trial by 7 jury, was a 'fact' to be found by the jurors." Lakin v. Senco Products, Inc., 987 P.2d 463, 8 470, 329 Or. 62, Quoting Charles T. McCormick, Handbook on the Law of Damages 24 9 (1935).

10 Factual determinations remained as to damages, even though the Court struck the 11 defendant's answer and entered default. The Court's unexpected and immediate 12 determination of damages from the bench, after striking the jury trial, violated Fallini's 13 right to a jury trial secured by the above cited section of the Nevada Constitution. The 14 Damages awarded by the District Court in total exceeded $2.7 million, making the error 15 very harmful to Fallini. Jt. Appx. II, 2222-223. Thus, the District Court committed 16 reversible error when it dismissed the jury trial and determined damages without affording 17 Fallini the opportunity to secure much less waive her right.

18 III. THE SUPREME COURT MAY DETERMINE THE TRIAL COURT
19 ERRED WHEN IT AWARDED EXCESSIVE DAMAGES WIHTOUT
20 LEGAL BASIS

21 Although this issue is brought up on appeal for the first time the and the Supreme 22 court need not consider it may do so as the error is so unmistakable that it reveals itself by 23 a casual inspection of the record. Williams v. Zellhoefer, 89 Nev. 579, 517 P.2d 789 24 (1973) citing Allison v. Hagan, 12 Nev. 38, 42 (1877); Gardner v. Gardner, 23 Nev. 207, 25 45 P. 139 (1896); Candler v. Ditch Co., 28 Nev. 151, 80 P. 751 (1905); Riverside Casino
26 v. J.W. Brewer Co., 80 Nev. 153, 390 P.2d 232 (1964); Smithart v. State, 86 Nev. 925, 27 478 P.2d 576 (1970). A casual inspection of the record in this case shows a distinct lack 28 of record/evidence.

A calculation of damages should only be upheld if there is competent evidence to 1 sustain it. Cornea v. Wilcox, 898 P.2d 1379, 1386 (Utah 1995) citing Rees v.

2 Intermountain Health Care, Inc., 808 P.2d 1069, 1072 (Utah 1991); Penrod v. Carter, 737
3 P.2d 199, 200 (Utah 1987). In this matter, there is no record of a showing that plaintiff's 4 suffered any economic loss from the death of their son. The only tangible damages for 5 which evidence can be inferred are the funeral expenses. Jt. Appx. II, 222-223, 242.

6 CONCLUSION

7 This case is an example of the absolute worst dereliction that a member of the lay 8 public can suffer at the hands of a lawyer. Lawyers are supposed to represent clients 9 competently and diligently.

10 Respondents seek to sustain the unsupportable-a decision arrived not on the merits, 11 but on procedural default. A decision leaving appellant ruined, and respondent with an 12 undeserved windfall.

13 Is this just? Maintaining the status quo here only works to promote a vision of the 14 law, lawyers and the system itself as unfair, unjust and irrational. This matter should be 15 returned to the district with Appellant's answer and counterclaim restored and the matter 16 set back on track for trial on the merits.
