1           A     It may. I'd have to look at every piece of paper
2 here. Honestly, in this section, which is Section 8, I don't
3 see it. The radiology associates re-read, I don't see it
4 here.

5           Q     Okay. You're aware that the first MRI was read by 6 an osteopath?

7           A     Yes, I am.

8           Q     Okay. And you're familiar with osteopaths?

9           A     Yes, I am.

10          Q     And they're physician, doctors, are they not?

11          A     Yes, they're recognized and licensed the same as an 12 MD.

13          Q     Okay. So an osteopath is not a -- is not in a 14 different category in terms of what they're allowed to do than 15 an MD?

16          A     I'm not aware of it. I haven't read the osteopathic
17 law to know exactly what they are and are not capable of doing
18 in comparison. I know that they are licensed in a separate
19 board in each state. So, you know, unless I read the law --
20 the two laws, I don't know -- I don't believe they're 21 different.

22          Q     Right. In general --

23          A     As far as what you can do.

24          Q     In general, an osteopath can perform surgery?

25          A     I believe so, yes.

1 Q Okay. In general, an osteopath can prescribe
2 medications?

3 A Yes, I believe so. Yes.

4 Q Okay. And it was an osteopath who read this -- the 5 MRI the first time; is that correct?

6 A I believe so.

7 Q And you looked at the charge and saw that the charge
8 was reasonable and necessary; is that correct?

9 A I agree, yes.

10 Q And the charge was for -- there were two charges;
11 isn't that right?

12 A There might be. You'd have to pull it off. I've 13 looked at -- you had me look at a lot of bills today.

14 Q There is a charge for the MRI of $1800?

15 A Right. And then the other must be the 16 interpretation charge.

17 Q Well, the interpretation --

18 A Or is it an x-ray charge?

19 Q The charge for $550 says it's for a holographic
20 reconstruction. You're familiar with what the MRI report
21 says, are you not?

22 A Yes, I am.

23 Q And you're familiar that he says that he read it
24 under a special reader; is that correct?

25 A Yes, I think that's what the report says.

1 Q That he used a 3D imaging?

2 A Correct.

3 Q Something or other?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Is that right?

6 And what is that technology?

7 A Well, I don't technically use this. I mean, I would
8 use it if it was for fractures, because you want to see
9 displacement of bones and the structure. Three dimensional
10 reconstruction is to try to basically make a model out of the 11 joint; that's what it does. It takes the images and puts them
12 into a 3D construction.

13 Primarily, when I use those, those -- I do 3D
14 reconstructions from time to time, but it's usually for 15 fractures when I'm planning a surgical approach to repair a 16 broken bone that's got zillion little pieces to know if it's 17 even doable.

18 Q So you're telling me you don't know what the doctor
19 that did the MRI was doing when he said images were viewed on 20 a digital work station with multiplanner reformatted and three 21 dimensional reconstructed sequences performed by the 22 radiologist at the time of interpretation as needed? Are you
23 saying you don't know what that is?

24 A I know what he did, I don't know what the purpose of 25 it would be. I understand -- I read that it was done. I

1 didn't -- you know, I'm not familiar enough with the software
2 and the -- because it is a software reconstruction. I mean,
3 that's the limits of -- that's what they talk about when you
4 talk about limits on 1.5 Tesla versus 3 Tesla, is you're
5 constructing it off the scans and the quality of the scans
6 gives you the quality of the reconstruction, which is software
7 based.

8 Q Okay.

9 A So this is a computer reconstruction based on the 10 films themselves. So you're like cutting each film out and 11 making a little piece of paper out of it and you're stacking
12 it and making it into a picture that's three dimensional.
13 That's what this means. And they -- and what happens is the 14 software in between fills in the gaps because when you have 15 these smaller Tesla units what they do is they take bigger --
16 it's a scan that's done quickly, so it's use -- it's making
17 cuts, it's like cutting you up like a salami.

18 And if they're doing the cuts every .1 millimeter is 19 one -- every millimeter or is it every five milliliters or is 20 it every centimeter that the cut is made? The software fills 21 in the absent photos, because when you get an MRI scan it's 22 like chopping you up like a salami. And when they reconstruct
23 them, they turn them into AP and lateral, things that most 24 doctors are used to looking at in x-ray form.

25 When they do a 3D reconstruction, they're cutting them

AVTranz

1 out and putting them and stacking them so you can make
2 actually a model of the bone, but it's only as good as the 3 definition of the unit, the clarity of cleaning up the fuzz on 4 it and then filling in the differences between it.

5 If the scan was done, and they don't really talk
6 about what the density and the distance between each cut was,
7 then you have a lot of fudge factor that's based on software
8 filling in the blanks.

9 It's like taking -- when they do a raid, they do
10 raid division of a computer program, that's one of the big
11 things that you see now, is your computer discs are raid --
12 made raid capable. That means they split every piece of 13 information in a computer file and put half of it in one place
14 and half of it in another place so that if there's a hard
15 drive crash, they can reconstruct it. What they're doing is,
16 they're splitting the file. You don't get the density. And 17 what they have is a program that will fill in the gaps, so
18 that if one hard drive goes down, you don't lose every piece
19 of information that was ever on the hard drive. It's a way
20 for you to maintain if it's business related important
21 information that you don't lose everything. And when you have 22 a crash of a drive, what's the biggest problem? If you didn't
23 back it up, you lose everything.

24 Well, these -- this does the same thing. It's a
25 program then that fills in the gaps. So if your raid drive

1 goes down, one of them, you still have the other one, you
2 reconstruct all your information. These are software programs
3 working to fill in the gaps just like the raid program saves
4 your information and can reinterpret it. These programs fill
5 in the gaps, but they're all based on how much definition
6 occurs between the magnet, and the magnet is the strength of 7 the picture taken, and then the rest is the software turning
8 it in to something.

9 I don't know a lot about what the software was, to 10 make a comment about it, nor to figure out exactly how it was 11 being utilized and what the -- how good the computer program
12 was that made -- filled in all these -- all the gaps from this 13 scan. So it doesn't just -- just putting that sentence there
14 doesn't mean a lot to me and how it would make this scan so
15 much better or make it much more reliable than the scanned
16 pictures, which we know are moderate or low -- of low
17 specificity. They're just -- they're grainy pictures
18 basically, because it's a small -- because it was an open MRI
19 unit.

20 Q And you know that he found that both menisci show
21 gross normal morphological characteristics?

22 A I understand that.

23 Q Okay. And that he said the anterior and posterior

1           A     I understand. I see that.

2           Q     Okay. And you're suggesting that the kinds of
3 problems you saw wouldn't show up on this kind of an MRI; is
4 that right?

5           A     Potentially not. You also have these other things.
6 When we did it -- when I did my clinical examination I found
7 that the anterior cruciate ligament seemed to be a little
8 unstable and I --

9           Q     I --

10          A     -- and I felt that it clinically was a problem. The 11 intrasynovial ligaments take time to degenerate and you can 12 have good stability on clinical. You can -- and if you don't 13 interpret it properly, I mean, you're getting into highly 14 technical areas that you want to more or less talk to the 15 radiologist about if you're not personally looking at the 16 scans.

17                   I mean, you can tear apart the test. I can make 18 points that tell you -- that can make you throw away this MRI.
19 I can give you points, if I knew the software, that would make 20 you think that that MRI was a great MRI, and all we do is 21 confuse people who don't know how it was put together. I
22 mean, so I'm not exactly sure what you're really asking me.

23          Q     I'm asking you if that were his findings?

25 are.

1 Q And I'm asking you, based on the resolution of this
2 machine, are you telling me that the problems that you saw
3 wouldn't have shown up on this MRI?

4 A I say they are less likely to have shown up than on
5 a good standard, 1.5 unit.

6 Q That's not my question. My question is whether -- I
7 mean, let me give my example. In the old days we had rabbit
8 ear on the back of our televisions to get pictures and now we 9 have HDTV.

10 A Correct.

11 Q And when we see the horse race, it looks a lot
12 better on HDTV than it did on the old black and whites with 13 rabbit ears.

14 A That's correct.

15 Q But on the old black and white with rabbit ear we 16 could still tell it was a horse race. We couldn't see it
17 quite as well, but we could tell that it was a horse race. So
18 my question to you is, are you telling me that the resolution
19 of this machine is such that the problems you saw when you did
20 surgery would not have shown up on this film?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And you're sure of that?

23 A Yeah.

24 Q And how do you know that?

25 A Based on the fact, just the example you gave me.

1 You're looking -- we're trying to make a determination of
2 something that is -- when you look at meniscal pathology,
3 you're not -- I would trust the MRI if you told me it was a
4 broken bone because I could see one piece that's out of 5 alignment with another piece. It's gross. It's like looking 6 at a grainy picture. Anybody with half a brain could look at 7 it and say it's out of alignment.

8 But you're getting into a meniscus, which is 9 probably, when you look at its actual size, is not much bigger
10 than a big silver dollar, that's being cut up into pieces that 11 are five to six millimeters apart. You're maybe taking three 12 to four slices, because of that unit and its strength, getting 13 a grainy picture, with three slices of that whole meniscus and 14 a computer filling in the gaps.

15 Q Well, how many slices were there of that meniscus?

16 A I'd have to look at the -- I'd have to take a look
17 at the scan again. I'm just saying, when you look at a mild
18 to moderate, which is this Tesla level, based on the amount of 19 magnet, you have to -- it's not defined in the report exactly
20 how many cuts were made, at what distance they were made. And 21 in 2005 at that point time they were not making one millimeter
22 cuts, which were high definition.

23 Q Okay. But you looked --

24 A So I have to assume they're four to five millimeters
25 apart.

1 Q But you looked at the film, did you not?

2 A I did.

3 Q And based on looking at the film, you diagnosed a
4 tear?

5 A With my clinical examination. All of it was a
6 correlation between the physical examination and then looking 7 at a grainy photograph and saying yeah, it doesn't look quite 8 normal and my clinical examination would indicate there's 9 something wrong with this, so I'm going to assume there's 10 something wrong with this.

11 Q Well, didn't you say, on September 30, '05,
12 "MRI reveals a lateral meniscus tear, anterior
13 cruciate ligament strain, and injury to the patella
14 femoral joint with patellar compression syndrome."
15 Isn't that what you said?

16 A Yes, that's what I said.

17 Q You said you could see that on the MRI?

18 A Yes, I saw it in a grainy form on the MRI, based on 19 my clinical. Now if he had come in -

20 Q So you can see --

21 A You can see the graininess.

8 at these films and make a diagnosis of no tear; is that
9 correct?

10 A I'm saying I don't know what his qualifications were

12 Q And you saw the inside of the patient's knee: isn't

14 A Yes, I did.

19 A Yes, of course, it was -- it can't be identical
20 unless I looked at it the same moment.

21 Q And something where you would expect with this

2 Q Correct. Now, the patient -- you have here he was
3 placed in physical therapy and ultimately went to a second
4 doctor, placed on medications and ultimately obtained an MRI.
5 This is from March 24, '05, it's on --

7 Q -- Bates Page 05 from your record.

8 A Right. That was history given by the patient, not
9 come -- it did not come from records.

10 Q Okay. So you don't know what the MRI said at that 11 point; is that correct?

12 A I was just in that section documenting what the 14 Q Let me strike that. Let me strike that and withdraw

15 that question.

16 Surgery was recommended; is that right?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Who recommended surgery at that point?

19 A Wasn't it -- beside me?

20 Q It says surgery was recommended. I assume that 21 means --

22 A Yeah, it was Dr. Whitfield or whatever, the other

25 surgery. That's my understanding.

2 A Let's see, it should be here. Section 8, okay, on

5 date of service.

16 Q Okay. And the other doctor that read the MRI, did

20 posterior horn of the medial -- of the medial meniscus, that 21 was by Steven Whiner [phonetic], American Chiropractic Board

1 the Wellness Clinic was?

2 A Let me look. February 15, it looks like. It's 3 unclear who he actually saw.

4 Q Okay. So --

5 A Or if he saw anybody, actually, because there's 6 nothing written under diagnosis or treatment plan or anything.
7 And there's no dictated note with respect to that day's visit.

8 Q When you saw the patient March 28 '05, you
9 recommended that he see Dr. Mortillaro; isn't that right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Do you refer all your surgical patients to

15 A Not all.

16 Q What percentage do you refer to Dr. Mortillaro?

17 A Five percent or less probably.

18 Q Okay. Why did you refer this particular patient to 19 Dr. Mortillaro?

20 A He had symptoms of post-traumatic stress, crying and 21 weeping, very emotional regarding -- and it sounded like
22 post-traumatic stress, which I'm not going to try to treat.

23 Q You don't diagnose and you don't treat

7 you don't have training to treat depression or post-traumatic
8 stress disorder?

9 A That's correct.

11 A Correct.

12 Q If you suspected something, you would refer to 13 someone else, but you wouldn't actually make a diagnosis?

14 A Correct.

15 Q Okay. And so that's why you referred the patient to 16 Dr. Mortillaro?

17 A That's my under -- that's my recollection.

18 Q Okay. Is that it? Is that the only reason you
19 referred him?

20 A Well, I mean, as part of that, if you have
21 post-traumatic stress, I wanted to get a read as to, you know,
22 as to his ability to tolerate a surgery too. I mean, that all
23 comes a part of it.

4 so I don't have a specific recollection of the individual on 5 that date.

6 Q Okay. Would it surprise you to hear that the reason
7 he came to you was because he was looking for another doctor

9 A I didn't have that information, so.

10 Q So would that surprise you?

15 see that sometimes.

16 Q Okay. But my specific point was that he came to you
17 because he was hoping you would operate on him.

18 A Okay.

19 Q Does that surprise you?

20 A Well, no -- I mean, yes and no. I mean, if he's in 21 a lot of pain and he wanted to have surgery. I don't know the 22 situation with respect to -- oftentimes when people live
23 somewhere else, they have to come to the state that they're --

1 financial standpoint. They're not going to take on the risk
2 and if it has to be done under a lien, you're going to wind up
3 having to have a relationship with whatever attorney -- the

8 Q You take a risk because if the patient doesn't win

10 A Yeah and create all kinds of hassle for everybody.

11 Q Right. Okay. So from your standpoint, it's a

13 A Yeah.

14 Q You get paid?

15 A Well, hopefully, but you know, I've seen it go both 16 ways.

17 Q Right, but if you lose you don't -- if the patient
18 loses, you don't get paid?

19 A That's not necessarily true. We're less likely --

20 Q That's generally true, though?

21 A -- to be paid. It generally can be true, yes.

22 Q Okay. Now, are you aware that some patients, for 23 psychological reasons, just don't get better?

24 A Yes, that can happen.

25 Q No matter what you do for them, they just don't seem

1 to get better?

2 A There's multi-factorial reasons for each specific
3 case, but yes, I've seen that.

4 Q Okay. And was that any part of why you sent this
5 patient to Dr. Mortillaro, that you were concerned that this
6 may be one of those patients that just didn't get better?

7 A I don't recall specifically because I didn't write
8 it down exactly why I sent him over.

9 Q Okay.

10 A So I don't recall it specifically.

11 Q Okay. But that's essentially been your experience
12 with this patient, isn't it -- hadn't it? He just doesn't get 13 better?

14 A Well, after reviewing the records, I recognize he's 15 still having problems, but there's other issues that are 16 separate from the knee that have evolved over time. So based 17 on the record I reviewed, that could explain ongoing pain and 18 why he's not any better.

19 Q In terms of his knee, it seems that he just hasn't 20 gotten better?

21 A Yes.

22 Q To the point where you've sent him out for various 23 things after surgery, none of it helped?

24 A Right. And why I recommended waiting, even though
25 he had persisting pain, because I couldn't document something

1 that I could uniformly say that I could reasonably feel that I
2 was going -- he was going to get better with my intervening in 3 any way.

4 Q And when the -- when you first scheduled the patient
5 for surgery, did he tell you that he had had a pulmonary
6 embolism?

7 A I was told that's why we ordered Lovenox.

8 Q And did you do any testing or did he tell you that?

9 A He told me that.

10 Q And what is a pulmonary embolism?

11 A That's a clot coming generally from the lower 12 extremities, although they can occur from upper extremities in 13 one percent of cases, that come from the legs, go up through 14 the heart, lodge in the lungs and cause difficulty with 15 breathing and sometimes, if they're large enough, can kill
16 you.

17 Q Okay. It's not the kind of thing you're likely to 18 forget?

19 A No.

20 Q Okay. If you've got -- if you've had it before, you
21 know it?

22 MR. BAKER: Objection, Your Honor, relevance.

23 THE COURT: Sustained.

24 BY MR. WARD:

25 Q And the -- after the surgery, you discussed a fungal

1 infection in the patient's toes?

2 A If I put it in the notes, then yes. He might have
3 discussed it with me.

4 Q And you recommended a dermatology referral?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Was that caused by the injury?

7 A No, not that I'm aware of.

8 Q And there was some concern at some point that the 9 patient had a possible recurrent meniscus tear?

10 A That was why the arthogram MRI was done to verify --
11 to rule it in or rule it out.

12 Q Okay. So is it true that there was some concern
13 that the patient had a possible recurrent meniscus tear?

14 A I had to look for every reason why he was still 15 having pain.

16 Q Right, but he was coming to you and complaining of 17 pain, correct?

18 A Correct.

19 Q And you tested everything and couldn't find
20 anything?

21 A No, I didn't -- I wasn't able to verify why he had 22 pain.

23 Q Okay. And so because you thought, based on his
24 complaints, there might be a recurrent meniscus tear --

25 A Right. One of the differential diagnosis, because

2 Q I'm not quite done.

3 A Oh, I'm sorry. Okay.

4 Q And just -- if you'll just give me a second.

5 A No problem.

6 Q And so as a result of that, you sent him to an MRI
7 again, a different kind of -- an arthrogram --

8 A Right.

9 Q -- to find out if he had a meniscal tear and that 10 was negative, right?

11 A That was negative, yes.

12 Q Now, I interrupted you, you were about to say
13 something, so please --

14 A That's all right -- it's not really relevant. I
15 don't even remember either way.

16 Q Okay.

17 A So --

18 Q And so after the MRI showed no recurrent meniscal
19 tears or other relevant injury; isn't that correct?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And this was where he was complaining of popping,
22 but you couldn't find popping when you examined him?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q Okay. Now, let me ask you, I've tried taking a
25 rubber hammer and hitting my knee and trying to make it jump

1 and I can't ever find the place to do it.

2 A Right.

3 Q You, I'll bet, are pretty good at doing that?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. And that's because you know exactly where the 6 -- you're supposed to hit it to make that happen?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And I take it you know a whole bunch of other
9 things about how to examine people to find out what's going on 10 with their body, especially their joints?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. And you looked everywhere and couldn't find 13 any evidence that would support his claim that there was 14 popping in the meniscus?

15 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this has been asked and answered
16 so many times.

17 THE COURT: Sustained.

18 MR. BAKER: Let me restate my objection, Your Honor.
19 Asked and answered and I withdraw my previous objection. I
20 didn't mean to say so many times.

21 THE COURT: Very well.

22 BY MR. WARD:

23 Q And so you recommended that there not be any 24 surgical intervention; is that correct?

25 A Yes, I recommended that we let time take care of it,

1 that there might be scar tissue in the joint causing his
2 symptoms, which would never show up on the MR -- on the
3 arthrogram MRI and just give it time.

4 Q Would that show up on examination?

5 A Would what show up on examination?

6 Q If there were scar tissue developing in the joint?

7 A No, not necessarily.

8 Q Okay.

9 A If you have a placi sometimes you can and that was 10 the one thing I couldn't verify. The MRI arthrogram won't
11 pick it up, but a placi could cause popping that will vary.
12 Normally, if you stretch the joint out, you can get the placi
13 to go away, but if it doesn't, then you have to go back in and 14 cut out the scar tissue, or at least look for that. That's 15 something an MRI arthrogram won't find, but could cause popping
16 and pain and be a consequence of a surgery because of scar
17 tissue.

18 Q Okay. So you're suggesting there could be a cause
19 for popping?

20 A There could be.

21 Q Right. But whether there's a cause or not, with all
22 of your examinations, you couldn't find it?

23 A Correct. I could not reproduce his complaint --

24 Q Okay.

25 A -- on examination.

1 Q Okay. Chondromalacia is roughening of the inner
2 aspect of the patella?

3 A Yes.

4 Q How long does that take to develop?

5 A Long time. It can be short period if you've 6 completely disused the leg, but normally it's a degenerative
7 condition.

8 Q Okay. And would you suspect that what you saw, the 9 chondromalacia in this patient, was something that had 10 developed over a number of years?

11 A Yeah, the initial part of it -- you can have 12 chondromalacia that's asymptomatic and then once you stop
13 using the leg it can become symptomatic because of disuse and 14 atrophy. That's what you do to correct it. That's why the 15 therapy after surgery, get the leg strong, maybe the 16 chondromalacia symptoms might go away.

17 Q Okay. So if you sustained a knee injury and you
18 cause injury to the tissue, you can heal the tissue, correct?

19 MR. BAKER: Objection as to what tissue.

20 THE WITNESS: Yeah, that's what I was going to --

21 THE COURT: Objection as to what, Mr. Baker?

22 MR. BAKER: As to what tissue. I'm sorry, vagueness,

2 BY MR. WARD:

3 Q Yeah, some tissues in the knee can be healed, right?

4 A Oh, yes, around the knee.

5 Q Some conditions -- I mean, people can have knee
6 injuries and actually have a life after that?

7 A That's correct, they can.

8 Q They have to follow physical therapy and they have 9 to do certain things?

10 A Right.

11 Q But just because someone sustains a knee injury such 12 as this doesn't mean it's over?

13 MR. BAKER: Objection; asked and answered.

8 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

9 BY MR. BAKER:

10 Q I want to address just a couple of things that were 11 talked about.

12 Originally it was suggested that the McMurray sign
13 that is duly stated for Enrique Rodriguez prior to him seeing 14 you is from a chiropractor. That's not true, that was from an 15 orthopedic surgeon. Is that true as well?

16 A That's correct. Simpson was an orthopedic surgeon.

17 Q And it was also -- they spoke about the fact how 18 Enrique told the ambulance -- would you turn to Exhibit Number
19 2, please?

20 MR. WARD: What is that, Counsel?

21 MR. BAKER: It's the ambulance report.

22 BY MR. BAKER:

23 Q There's a conversation about Enrique telling his
24 doctor that his knee was swollen in the ambulance and you
25 didn't see any evidence that his knee was swollen in the

1 ambulance; is that correct?

2 A He -- oh, you mean you're talking about the first
3 doctor, North [sic] or Note [sic]?

4 Q Right, where you said the leg was swollen, but the 5 swelling has gone down.

6 A Right.

7 Q And it was said that he reported that his leg was 8 swollen in the ambulance; do you recall that?

9 A Yes.

10 Q But you couldn't find any evidence of that when 11 Mr. Ward was talking to you. Would you turn to Exhibit 2,

14 Q Lower extremities.

15 A Okay. Right.

16 Q Could you tell the Court what that says?

17 A There was positive swelling.

18 Q Okay. So he had swelling in the ambulance; is that
19 right?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Then he went to the hospital; is that right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And if you could turn to Exhibit Number 3. You know
24 that they gave him ice, right?

25 A Yes, I do.

1 Q You know that they laid him out in a bed; is that
2 right?

3 A Yes, they did.

4 Q You know that they immobilized his leg; is that
5 right?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Look at Exhibit Number 1, they gave him ibuprofen
8 too, didn't they?

9 A Yes, they did.

10 Q Anti-inflammatory?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Not so surprising that the doctor wouldn't see 13 swelling after ice, immobilization, rest and an 14 anti-inflammatory; is that right?

15 A That will help get rid of swelling.

16 Q Then he went to see Dr. Nork; is that correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And Dr. Nork saw that he had a contusion; is that
19 right?

20 A That's what he wrote.

21 Q And that contusion is part of that bleeding process
22 in the blood rising up that you spoke to us again, right?

23 A Yes.

24 Q That you talked about would develop between a week
25 and two weeks; is that correct?

1 A Yes.

2 Q So the contusion is there in exactly the time period
3 that you would expect it to be; is that correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Then there was an MRI that was conducted; is that
6 right?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And an MRI is not the gold standard that -- in 9 determining knee injury; arthroscopy is, correct?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q And an MRI really to have much efficacy has to be 12 correlated with clinical symptoms and clinical findings; is 13 that right?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q So the MRI was conducted, correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Oh, incidentally, during that period of time,
18 Dr. Simpson was able to elucidate a McMurray sign, correct?

19 A Yes, he did.

20 Q Which is indicative of a meniscal tear; is that
21 right?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q You read the MRI with your own two little eyes; is
24 that right?

25 A Yes, I did.

15 Q Or clinical examination.

16 A Uh-huh.

17 Q Is that right?

18 A Yes, I did.

19 Q That suggested meniscal tear; is that right?

20 A Yes, it did.

21 Q You correlated that with the MRI, which suggested to 22 you, a trained orthopedic surgeon reading it, for a meniscal
23 tear; is that correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And he underwent a surgery?

1 A Correct.

2 Q And you found a meniscus tear in exactly the same
3 place where he had originally indicated pain after a
4 McMurray's test and after an indicative MRI; is that right?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q And during your orthopedic surgery, you found a
7 meniscus tear in the exact same place that it was suggested in 8 all of those studies and clinical examinations that we've 9 already discussed; is that right?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q You did surgery, right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Some people have recurrent injuries -- recurrent 14 pathology after an orthopedic surgery to their knee; is that
15 right?

16 A Yes, 10 to 15 percent.

17 Q Ten to 15 percent. And to 10 to 15 percent of them
18 will develop scar tissue; is that right?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q And that scar tissue breaks off and forms loose
21 bodies; is that right?

22 A It can, yes.

23 Q Okay. And if it forms loose bodies, that might not 24 be evidenced on an MRI, correct?

25 A Yes, it can -- you can miss it.

2 A Yes, they hide and if it's early on, they're small.
3 They start out like a pebble of sand that in an oyster gets
4 bigger and bigger.

5 Q So he --

6 A The longer the timeframe, the bigger it gets.

7 Q So he continues to have pain complaints, correct?

8 A Yes, he did.

9 Q Goes and has another surgery?

10 A Yes.

11 Q The doctor opens him up?

12 A Right.

13 Q Finds loose bodies in his knee --

14 MR. WARD: I'll object. This exceeds the scope of the

18 MR. BAKER: Okay. I'm sorry, he spoke to her about scar

2 MR. BAKER: Yeah, but the scar tissue and the treatment
3 are related, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Very well. I'll allow it.

5 BY MR. BAKER:

6 Q So had loose bodies, which are formed when scar
7 tissue breaks off; is that right?

8 A Yes, it can.

9 Q Those loose bodies hide, don't show up on an MRI?

10 A Until they get big enough, that's correct.

11 Q And Enrique continued to experience pain and suggest 12 and report pain, right?

13 MR. WARD: Leading.

14 THE COURT: Overruled.

15 BY MR. BAKER:

16 Q Did Mr. Rodriguez continue to experience pain?

17 A Yes, he did.

18 Q And that type of pain is normally, and can be 19 associated with scar tissue?

20 A Yes, it can.

21 Q And loose bodies?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And Dr. Tauber opened up and found those bodies; is
24 that right?

25 A That's my understanding of the record.

1 Q Now Mr. Ward talked to you about this not being a
2 life-altering event. In your experience, a single orthopedic
3 intervention on a knee is typically not a life-altering event;
4 is that right?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q But how about hypothetically instances when people
7 have to have multiple recurring orthopedic surgeries, can that 8 be a life-altering event?

9 A Well, they'll -- multi-repeat interventions on a
10 knee, along with multiple repeat injuries, eventually cause
11 the knee to degenerate and deteriorate.

12 Q And hypothetically if an individual develops an 13 infection during a surgery and has to have a long cost of 15 MR. WARD: Object. There's no evidence of this.

16 MR. BAKER: It's a hypothetically, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Sustained.

20 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

21 BY MR. BAKER:

4 RE-CROSS-EXAMINATION

5 BY MR. WARD:

6 Q You said that sometimes patients develop scar
7 tissue?

8 A Well, everybody develops scar tissue all the time.
9 I mean symptomatic scar tissue.

10 Q Okay.

11 A I don't want to mislead anybody. We make a cut on a
12 person to do a surgery, that's got to heal the scar tissue, so
13 we make scar tissue all the time.

14 Q Correct.

15 A But usually not symptomatic scar tissue.

16 Q Okay. So every patient has scars and every patient
17 has scar tissue, but not every patient has symptomatic scar

19 A That's correct.

20 Q And I believe you just said that you can have things

2 A That's correct.

3 Q They're not usually bigger right after the surgery,
4 are they?

5 A No, not usually.

6 Q And you examined for that, did you not?

7 A Right. Plicas and scar tissue will develop over
8 six, eight, ten weeks, and then get worse over time.

9 Q Right. And -- but Mr. Rodriguez was complaining of 10 pain right away, wasn't he?

11 A I believe -- my recollection is he was continuously

13 Q Right. Not some period of time later, right
14 afterwards?

15 A Yes.

18 A Well, yes.

19 Q And you haven't looked at the records of anyone who 20 treated Mr. Rodriguez after your treatment; is that true?

21 A Oh, I have.

22 Q Okay. And have you had this patient back for
23 surgery?

24 A No, I haven't seen him since --

25 Q No.

1 MR. WARD: Thank you. I have no further questions.

2 THE COURT: Any follow up, Mr. Baker?

3 MR. BAKER: Two questions, Your Honor.

4 FURTHER REDIRECT EXAMINATION

5 BY MR. BAKER:

6 Q You said he developed -- he continued to have pain
7 immediately post-surgically?

8 A He had the usual amount of post-operative pain. For 9 the first two to three weeks we expect people to have pain
10 because I swelled up their knee.

11 Q And any --

12 A So they're going to hurt and then you expect it to 13 subside -- start to subside and his never did.

14 Q So he had pain immediately, correct?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And you're familiar with just post-surgical pain?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And is there -- there's a varying rate of 19 post-surgical pain, in terms of time duration?

20 A Time duration and severity.

21 Q Right. And then the scarring and the loose body
22 buildup can happen within four weeks, you said?

23 A Well, the beginnings of it yes, but it may not
24 obstruct or be enough that it's going to be so obvious that I
25 have to do a surgery immediately. It takes awhile for it to 1 be big enough to be a real problem.

2 Q Okay.

3 A Or that you can actually document that it's present.
4 I mean, I guess that's the better way to say it. I mean, the 5 loose body could have been there very close to immediately,
6 could have been intermittently painful for him, could have --
7 these are could haves and could have been small enough that 8 only he would notice it and I couldn't elicit it on 9 examination until it's big enough and enough time has passed
10 that it's clinically symptomatic that I could demonstrate it.

11 Q But nonetheless, a pain generator?

12 A Yes.

13 MR. BAKER: Thank you. No further questions, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Any follow up, Mr. Ward?

15 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: With the thanks of the Court, Dr. Shannon, 17 you may be excused.

18 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

1                    WEDNESDAY - OCTOBER 27, 2010 - 12:15 P.M.

2            THE COURT: Mr. Rodriguez, ask that you come forward to
3 the witness box. Since it's a new day, we'll re-swear you.
4 Madame Clerk?

5            ENRIQUE RODRIGUEZ, PLAINTIFF'S WITNESS, SWORN

6            THE CLERK: Please be seated, stating your full name,
7 spelling your last name for the record.

8            THE WITNESS: My name's Enrique Rodriguez, E-N-R-I-Q-U-E
9 last name, R-O-D-R-I-G-U-E-Z.

10          THE COURT: Thank you. Mr. Ward, whenever you're ready.

11          MR. WARD: Yes, Your Honor. Thank you.

12                  I want to read from the deposition of Mr. Rodriguez,
13 and there is a -- the original has been lodged with the Court
14 and I presume you have a copy?

15          MR. CARDENAS: We do.

16          MR. WARD: I'm going to direct your attention to Page 87.

17          MR. BAKER: You're just going to read from the depo?

18          MR. WARD: Correct.

19          MR. BAKER: Your Honor, is that typical?

20          THE COURT: That's not typical in our jurisdiction.
21 Usually there's a question that's posed first.

22          MR. BAKER: I don't want to start off objecting, but I
23 guess I'll just start off objecting.

24          THE COURT: As long as you're not objectionable about it.

25          MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor. I'm just -- I'm not

1 used to this methodology. Normally a question would have to
2 be pending and the deposition would be used for impeachment.
3 The deposition itself is not evidence and should not be read
4 into it just sua sponte.

5 THE COURT: That's my understanding of the law. Mr.
6 Ward?

7 MR. WARD: It may come as a surprise, and this is what 8 happens when you get old in this business, Your Honor. I've 9 never done this, I don't think without it being objected to --

10 THE COURT: Really?

11 MR. WARD: -- and so I come with the documentation. Rule
12 -- Rules of Civil Procedure for Nevada District Courts, Rule
13 32(a), Use of Depositions, (2), "The deposition of a party" --
14 and I'll skip the rest of it, but it's there -- "may be used
15 by an adverse party for any purpose."

16 THE COURT: That's true. Mr. Baker, any response?

17 MR. BAKER: I have the rule, Your Honor. Can I take a 18 look at it right now?

19 THE COURT: Sure.

20 [Pause]

21 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry, can you -- what section is that?
22 Do you know, when you get into the bifocal years, you start to 23 have problems.

24 THE COURT: I know them well, Mr. Baker.

25 MR. WARD: 32(a)(2).

AVTranz

1 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, when they talk about 32(a), of
2 which (2) is a subsection, it says,

3 "At the trial or upon a hearing of a motion or
4 an interlocutory proceeding, any part of or all of a
5 deposition, so far as admissible under the rules of 6 evidence apply, as though the witness were taken,
7 been present and testifying, may be used against any 8 party who is present on" --

9 My objection stands, Your Honor. It's not evidence. The 10 proper use of a deposition is for impeachment purposes.
11 Depositions don't come into evidence and therefore the 12 provision of the rule, which says if admissible into evidence
13 controls.

14 THE COURT: Well, I'm curious, Mr. Ward, you said Rule
15 32(a), did you say Subsection 2?

16 MR. WARD: Rule 32 -- Rule 32(a) is Use of Depositions,
17 under (a) are Subsection 1 and Subsection 2. Under Subsection
18 2 it says,

19 "The deposition of a party or anyone who at the 20 time of taking the deposition was an officer, 21 director or managing agent, or a person designed at 22 under Rule 30(b)(6) or 31(a), to testify on behalf
23 of a public or private corporation, partnership or 24 association, or governmental agency which is a
25 party, may be used by an adverse party for any

1                   purpose."

2                   The significance of part A and 1 is that if there's 3 something within the deposition that is inadmissible then that 4 objection still stands and that's why it says as if the 5 witness were testifying from the witness stand. So he can't
6 sneak something in by way of deposition which would otherwise
7 not be admissible if the witness were on the witness stand,
8 but in terms of using the deposition that's what for any 9 purpose means. It's only adverse parties. You can't do this 10 for just witnesses, but for adverse parties you can use it for 11 any purpose to bring it into evidence.

12                  THE COURT: Let me ask you this.

13                  MR. WARD: Yes.

14                  THE COURT: Do you read the rule to mean that even though 15 the witness is on the stand, you can stand up and read the 16 entire deposition transcript testimony, aside from anything
17 that's not admissible? Is that how you read the rule?

18                  MR. WARD: I read the rule that way, yes. I don't think 19 it would be a smart thing to do, but I think it's possible if 20 somebody wanted to do that.

21                  THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

22                  MR. BAKER: I respectfully disagree with Mr. Ward, Your 23 Honor. It says, "So far as admissible under the Rules of 24 Evidence." And the use of a deposition itself under the Rules
25 of Evidence falls under the remaining provisions. You can use

AVTranz

1 a deposition when the party's not available, you can use it if
2 they've been subpoenaed. There's no exception with respect
3 particularly to a party. The deposition itself is not
4 evidence and does not just get read into evidence. It can be
5 used for the purposes of impeachment or the normal purposes
6 for which you see a deposition being used.

7 So my objection would be that the deposition itself
8 is not evidence. Rule 32(a)(2) falls on the general provision 9 of (a); (a) restricts the use of depositions to so far as 10 admissible under the rules and the purported and suggested use
11 right now is not admissible under the rules.

12 THE COURT: I think you can use this deposition
13 testimony, but I think your intent is to impeach his 14 credibility, I think you have to ask him the question before
15 you can just simply stand up and recite the testimony that 16 he's given at the deposition.

17 MR. WARD: That's not what I'm using it for.

18 THE COURT: What are you using it for?

19 MR. WARD: I didn't say I was using it to impeach his 20 credibility.

21 THE COURT: No, you didn't say that. You haven't said
22 why you're attempting this approach.

23 MR. WARD: And my suggestion, Your Honor, is that if we 24 followed Mr. Baker's objection, then the deposition of a party
25 would not be used for anything different from any other

AVTranz

1 witness and there wouldn't be any need to have this code
2 section in here that says the deposition of a party may be
3 used by an adverse party for any purpose. There -- that would
4 be superfluous if we said well, you can use -- you can only
5 use it the same way you can use a deposition of a witness.
6 Number three is -- deals with depositions of witnesses,
7 whether or not a party.

8 THE COURT: I don't read the rule the way that you do,
9 that would allow you to stand up and read his entire
10 deposition transcript testimony, considering he's here and you
11 can examine him. I don't read the rule the same way you do.
12 So, given that ruling, I'm really not sure what you are 13 proposing to do, if you're not proposing to impeach him.

14 MR. WARD: What I wanted to do is -- was I wanted to 15 remind him of his deposition testimony and ask him if that's 16 changed.

17 THE COURT: Then I think you can ask the question and 18 follow up with the deposition testimony.

19 MR. WARD: Okay.

20 CROSS-EXAMINATION

21 BY MR. WARD:

22 Q Mr. Rodriguez, do you remember having your

24 A Yes.

25 Q And do you remember when that was?

1           A     I don't recall the date.

2           Q     Do you remember what conditions that you thought as
3 of the time that was taken -- what parts of your body you
4 thought were still being effected [sic] -- affected by the 5 events of November 22, 2004?

6           A     Can you repeat that question, please?

7           Q     Sure. Do you remember what you said -- can -- do
8 you remember what your condition was at the time your 9 deposition was taken, in terms of the parts of your body that 10 were still being affected by the events of November 22, 2004?

11          A     I believe so, yes.

12          Q     Okay. Can you tell me what those are?

13          A     What I recall during the time of my deposition, I
14 recall my left wrist, my right hand, my left ankle, my knee,
15 my shin --

16          Q     Which knee?

17          A     My left knee, my neck, my lower back, my right ankle
18 and the sleep apnea issue.

19          Q     Anything else?

20          A     That's all I recall for right now.

21          Q     Do you remember saying that your --

22           MR. BAKER: I'm sorry, I'm just really not understanding 23 how this is working. This isn't impeachment now. Now, he 24 asked what do you remember talking about at your deposition.
25 He's said what he remembered talking about at his deposition

1 and how is it impeachment to then say do you remember also
2 saying this?

3 THE COURT: I don't know, but let's see where he goes.

4 MR. BAKER: Yeah, well actually I'm interested.

5 THE COURT: Please proceed, Mr. Ward.

6 BY MR. WARD:

7 Q I would say, in the event I was not clear, and we
8 don't do repeats on the record, but it will be in the record,
9 what I was interested in is not what you said in your 10 deposition, but what parts of your body at the time your 11 deposition was taken you remembered as being affected by the 12 accident. Did you understand that?

13 MR. BAKER: I withdraw my objection, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Very well.

15 THE WITNESS: Can you repeat the question?

16 BY MR. WARD:

17 Q Did you understand that my prior question that I was 18 asking you at the time your deposition was taken, what parts
19 of your body you thought were suffering effects from the 20 incident on the night of November 22, 2004?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Okay. I was -- I'm not asking you to try to recall
23 what you said in your deposition, I'm asking you what you
24 remember of your injuries at that time.

25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. Now so my question is, do you remember that
2 at that time that your right fingers were bothering you?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And you thought that was related to the accident?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And that your upper shoulder was bothering you and 7 you thought that was related to the accident?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And your left shoulder was bothering you and you
10 thought that was related to the accident?

11 A Correct.

12 Q And your right shoulder was bothering you and you
13 thought that was related to the accident?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And your left foot was bothering you and you thought
16 that was related to the accident?

17 A Correct.

18 Q And your left toe was bothering you and you thought
19 that was related to the accident?

20 A Now that I recall, correct.

21 Q And your right leg was bothering you and you thought
22 that was related to the accident?

23 A Now that I recall, correct.

24 Q And that you thought the headaches you were getting
25 were related to the accident?

1 A Now that I recall, correct.

2 Q Okay. Tell me, if you will, the -- to the extent
3 you can recall, the first time you complained to a medical
4 treater about your neck following this accident?

5 A I don't recall the first time.

6 Q Okay. Can you tell me how you thought it was
7 injured in the accident?

8 A When the lady dove into my knee and I fell and I
9 twisted and my body torqued, that's when I realized from the 10 twist and then eventually the next morning when I woke up in 11 the casino and my whole body was sore, my neck was sore, my 12 lower back, everything woke up sore.

13 Q And how did you understand that your left wrist was
14 injured in the accident?

15 A Well, with time just the fact of moving around,
16 using canes, the cycle of the braces, the cycle of me, for all
17 these years, having to get up from this chair, move around,
18 get up from bed, not being able to move properly, moving just 19 in my bed, using canes, having to use my -- my wrists just to 20 move around, just to get by, that's my wrist.

21 Q Okay. So when did that first start bothering you?

22 A Well, it started bothering me right away because 23 when I left the hospital, I left with crutches and I started
24 using crutches. I couldn't use my knee.

25 Q So as soon as you left the hospital that on night

1 with crutches, your left wrist started bothering you?

2 A I don't recall it like that, but I started using 3 crutches.

4 Q Sure. Tell me then, if you will -- if you remember,
5 when your left wrist started bothering you?

6 A I don't recall.

7 Q When did your right hand start bothering you?

8 A I believe in February of 2005.

9 Q And what is it you relate that too?

10 A To the same injury.

11 Q What happened in February of 2005? Anything in 12 particular or you just noticed pain one day?

13 A I noticed pain, I noticed numbness that I still have 14 right now, tingling in my fingers, numbness all the time.

15 Q And by whom -- by whom were you treated for the 16 injuries to your neck, your left wrist and your right hand?

17 A Eventually, I did physical therapy for treatment
18 there.

19 Q With whom was that?

20 A I believe it was in Las Vegas -- physical therapy
21 here in Las Vegas. It was -- I don't recall, but it was 22 definitely a hand therapy here in Las Vegas.

23 Q You just don't remember who it was?

24 A I don't remember.

25 Q How about your right fingers, when did that start

1     bothering you?

2             A     I think that's what I was talking about, my right
3     hand and my right fingers.

4             Q     Okay. You specifically said your right hand and 5     your right fingers, so I thought you were talking about two 6     different things.

7             A     It all began at the same time.

8             Q     Okay. And your lower back, when did that -- did
9     that start bothering you on the night of the incident?

10            A     Well, like I said, the next morning when I woke up
11    and I felt the pain, the numbness, you know, my whole body, I
12    knew then that I was in trouble and that there was more than 13    just the injury to my knee.

14            Q     And so what was the mechanism that you understood as 15    to how your lower back was injured?

16            MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I'll object to this line of 17    questioning as it calls for an expertise in biomechanics and 18    it calls for expertise in medicine, neither of which he has.

19            THE COURT: Well, the Court allowed you some latitude;
20    I'm inclined to allow Mr. Ward the same latitude.

21            MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor.

22    BY MR. WARD:

23            Q     Let me clarify my question. I respect that you are 24    a property investor and not a doctor, so I'm not trying to ask
25    you about doctor issues, I'm not trying to ask you about

1 engineering issues. What I'm trying to ask you about are
2 things like, if I bang my elbow on this thing and it hurts and
3 somebody says well, how did you hurt your elbow? I said well,
4 I banged it on this here. That's essentially what I'm asking.

5 So what I'm trying to find out is, did your lower
6 back -- did you come in contact with someone? Did you twist
7 it? Did you -- that's what I'm looking for.

8 A Pretty much the force of a body coming to my knee
9 and hitting my knee and injuring my meniscus, and watching
10 plenty of football and watching plenty of sports, and my body
11 torquing and twisting and that force of the motion and waking
12 up the next morning, there was really no other way for that to 13 have happened.

14 Q Okay. And if I get to your upper shoulder, your 15 left shoulder and your right shoulder, what would that be?
16 How did that happen?

17 A Now, you're referring to what dates?

18 Q Well, let me ask you. When did you first become 19 aware that you had injuries to your upper shoulder, your left
20 shoulder and your right shoulder? And I'll break them down
21 individually if you want them individual.

22 A During a period of time of this going on, now six
23 years, with my body now breaking down because I'm not able to 24 work out like I used to, unfortunately like I've unfortunately 25 now realized, sleeping on my sides, for example, and putting

1 weight on my side because of crutches, because of canes,
2 because of the way that I move, has created so much stress and
3 pressure on my shoulders that I've done physical therapy even
4 for that, for pain on my shoulders. So then I've made it a
5 point to even try to sleep on the other side and that's
6 created the same problem. So unfortunately that's another
7 thing that I've had to deal with and that's another thing that
8 I've had to have -- to incorporate in my physical therapy,
9 special physical therapy for my shoulders because of the 10 excruciating pain of just having a -- of just sleeping and 11 sleeping wrong.

12 That's not something that I wish on myself or 13 anybody, but just for having to wake up like that and just for 14 having to get through life. So there -- I don't recall a 15 particular date in mind, but I do recall having to deal with 16 that, having to go to physical therapy to try to improve
17 what's hurt with me.

18 Q So essentially your shoulder problems, you believe,
19 are caused by using crutches and sleeping on them?

20 A Absolutely, yes.

21 Q And we know about your left knee and your shin. How 22 about your left ankle and your left foot and your left toe?

23 A My left ankle, I recall going to Beverly Hills to 24 meet with Dr. Tauber, and unfortunately since I'm not a
25 doctor, I don't really look at my left ankle at times and I go

1 to him for a follow up and he looks at me and he said wow, is
2 your ankle broke? And I'm like, I'm just there and next thing
3 I know he takes me into the x-ray room because he thought my 4 ankle was broke because it was swollen.

5 Fortunately it wasn't broke and being once again
6 that my main pain is my knee, so it's like well, you know, it
7 could be broke, but I don't really feel it because my pain is 8 my knee, but fortunately it wasn't broke. So there reveals
9 another problem with my left ankle.

10 Q And you went to see Dr. Tauber in 2006; isn't that
11 correct?

12 A Correct.

13 Q So you -- is it -- are you telling me you weren't
14 aware of any left ankle problems until -- and left foot
15 problems and left toe problems until you went to Dr. Tauber
16 two years after the accident?

17 A No, I wouldn't say it that way. I would say he 18 revealed more.

19 Q Okay. Well, I'm not asking you about Dr. Tauber.
20 What I'm asking you about is if you can tell me, if you
21 remember, when you first became aware that you had left foot,
22 left ankle and left toe problems?

23 A No, I became more aware of that much more earlier,
24 because even simple tasks, like sitting down right here, or 25 even sitting on the toilet for one or two months, my both feet

1 [sic] would fall asleep, and they would fall asleep so -- how
2 would I say it, so seriously, like a brick, that I would
3 actually bend down and touch them and I wouldn't feel
4 anything. It was -- it was that solid that I would amaze
5 myself that I would touch my feet and I would say wow, what's
6 happening with me. So no, no I realized that sadness --

7 Q Okay.

8 A -- much earlier.

9 Q And when -- when was that that you first realized?

10 A I don't recall a date.

11 Q Well, I'm not asking for a date. I'm asking in 12 general if you remember. Was it a year after the accident?
13 Was it two years after the accident? Was it --

14 A No, it --

15 Q -- a week after the accident?

16 A -- it was within a -- within a couple of months
17 after the accident.

18 Q Okay. So within a couple of months after the 19 accident, you were having problems in your left foot, your 20 left toe and your left ankle that you thought were related to 21 the accident?

22 A Correct.

23 Q And what was your understanding of the mechanism as 24 to how that happened? Did you bang your left foot or left toe
25 on something?

1 A Absolutely not.

2 Q What's your understanding as to why you think it's
3 related to the accident?

4 A What is my understanding?

5 Q Correct.

6 A That it's all coming from the same injury.

7 Q Is it just sort of your conclusion that every
8 problem that you have must be related to the accident?

9 A I was always healthy. I never had any of these 10 problems.

11 Q So you don't have any complaints at the present time
12 that you think are not related to the accident?

13 A Repeat that question.

14 Q Sure. Are you telling me that you don't have any 15 complaints that you think are not related to the accident?
16 I'm asking that in a double negative, let me ask it more
17 properly. I apologize; lawyers always speak in double
18 negatives and it's very difficult. So let me --

19 Do you have any physical conditions now that you
20 think are not related to the accident?

21 A Yes.

22 Q What would that be?

23 A I have asthma.

24 Q Okay. Anything else?

25 A That's all that I can recall, really.

2 and have seen a doctor for for the last six years other than
3 asthma, you believe has been caused by the accident?

4 A Correct.

5 Q Okay. And headaches, how often do you have 6 headaches?

7 A I don't have them too often anymore.

8 Q Did you, a year ago, get headaches often?

9 A I'm on medication.

10 Q Now is it your belief that you have a torn ligament
11 in your left wrist?

12 A Correct.

13 Q And that's from moving in bed you believe?

14 A Correct.

15 Q And you believe that's caused by the accident?

16 A Correct.

17 Q Okay. And you believe that you have carpal tunnel
18 syndrome?

19 A Correct.

20 Q And you believe that's caused by the accident?

2 Q And you have an ingrown toenail?

3 A Correct.

4 Q And you believe that's caused by the accident?

5 A Correct.

6 Q Now do you recall going to Rancho Physical Therapy?

7 A Yes.

8 Q I'm going to show you -- I call to your attention,
9 because I believe it's in the exhibit books under Exhibit 15.

10 MR. BAKER: Is he showing him something that's not in 12 THE COURT: I don't know.

13 MR. WARD: Yes, I am.

14 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this document's not in evidence.

15 THE COURT: Has it -- are you proposing to mark it or is 16 it to refresh his recollection or --

17 MR. WARD: No, I --

18 THE COURT: -- what's the purpose?

19 MR. WARD: -- want to get it into evidence.

20 THE COURT: Oh, so you want it marked as a proposed
21 exhibit?

22 MR. WARD: It's already marked. It's part of Plaintiff's
23 Exhibit 15.

24 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry, what page?

25 MR. WARD: Page 26 -- 25.

2 MR. WARD: I think you have to show documents to
3 witnesses before you get them into evidence, the last time I
4 checked.

5 MR. BAKER: Yeah, I remember that from school.

6 THE COURT: What number is it? Page number?

7 MR. WARD: It's Exhibit -- it's Exhibit Number 15, which
8 is multiple pages and so I'm looking for -- it says Rancho PT,
9 Bates Number 25. It doesn't say Bates Number, but it's 25.

10 MR. BAKER: I've got it.

11 MR. WARD: May I approach, Your Honor, and show you the 12 -- what I'm looking at?

13 THE COURT: Sure. Okay. I have it. Thank you.

14 MR. WARD: Okay. May I approach the witness, Your Honor?

15 THE COURT: Yes.

16 BY MR. WARD:

17 Q This is the document. Are you -- did you find that?

18 MR. WARD: Can I go behind here and get the book?

19 THE COURT: Sure, why not?

20 MR. BAKER: Can I just ask that it's indicated for the

22 THE COURT: Sure.

23 MR. WARD: You know, the -- it doesn't have a date on it.

2 because it's one of many, but --

3 MR. BAKER: May I make a representation for the record,
4 Your Honor?

5 THE COURT: Sure.

6 MR. BAKER: What's being shown to the witness right now
7 is Rancho PT bill, Exhibit 15, Bate Stamp Number 25, and 8 that's immediately proceeded -- let me show this to you, by 9 Rancho PT bill from Exhibit Number 15, Bate Stamp 24, which 10 indicates the date 2/8/04.

11 THE COURT: 2/8 or 12/8?

12 MR. BAKER: 12/8.

13 MR. WARD: Okay. So are you saying you believe that's

15 MR. BAKER: Yes.

16 MR. WARD: Okay. I'm not questioning. I --

17 MR. BAKER: Yeah.

2 A Now what date is this?

3 Q I believe it's been represented that it's December
4 2004.

5 A Okay. Yeah and I'm saying it because I've been to 6 several Rancho Physical Therapy facilities.

7 Q Uh-huh.

8 A That's why I'm asking. Okay.

9 Q And these are your marks, correct?

10 A I would assume that they are.

11 Q Okay. And they asked you to fill this out?

12 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, he's only testified that he 13 assumes and that's not proper foundation for that document.

14 THE COURT: Ask you to rephrase, Mr. Ward.

15 MR. WARD: Sure.

16 BY MR. WARD:

17 Q When you -- let's go back. You had an injury
18 November 22, 2004 at --

19 A Correct.

20 Q -- the Palms casino?

21 A Correct.

22 Q You went to see Dr. Heaps?

23 A Correct.

24 Q Sometime later you went to see Dr. Nork?

25 A Correct.

1 Q Dr. Nork suggested, based on your complaints, that
2 you go to physical therapy?

3 A Correct.

4 Q So you went to Rancho Physical Therapy?

5 A Correct.

6 Q And when you went there you interacted with the 7 people who were performing physical therapy?

8 A Correct.

9 Q And you were -- you don't have any trouble
10 understanding what they were saying? And what I'm asking is,
11 from a medical standpoint, they weren't asking it in such 12 complicated areas that you were having trouble understanding
13 what they were saying?

14 A I understand now. My main concern when I went to 15 physical therapy, I'm coming in on crutches, I have an 16 immobilizer on my knee. My main concern at the time, my 17 intense pain, I was not able to walk, was getting physical 18 therapy for my knee. That was that.

19 Q And so you interacted with the people at Rancho
20 Physical Therapy?

21 A Correct.

22 Q And they asked you questions?

23 A Correct.

24 Q And you answered them?

25 A Correct.

1 Q And they asked you to fill things out, they gave you
2 pieces of paper with writing on them?

3 A I could not walk, I had a brace on my knee. I
4 needed physical therapy. I needed to get well for my knee.

5 Q My question, sir, is as part of the physical therapy
6 regimen, didn't you interact with the people at the physical 7 therapy place?

8 A I would assume, yes.

9 Q You talked to them?

10 A If I recall in December of 2004, yes.

11 Q And they asked you to fill out certain pieces of 12 paper? They gave you papers and asked you to write on them?

13 A Yes, uh-huh.

14 Q And one of the things they asked you to write on was 15 this document?

16 A Correct.

17 Q And you're the one who made the marks, correct?

18 A I would say -- I would say this is what I filled
19 out.

20 Q So it's your marks on there?

21 A Of my primary reason for being at Rancho Physical
22 Therapy, for the prescription that I needed care. Somebody
23 dove into my left knee, I could not walk and I needed to get
24 better.

25 Q And you read the instructions, correct?

2 Q And instruction number one was, "Draw a line on the
3 pain intensity scale at the point that best describes your 4 pain at the present time;" is that true?

5 A Correct.

6 Q And you drew a line through six?

7 A Correct.

8 Q Okay. And number two it says, "Draw the location of 9 your pain complaints." You see it's plural, right?

10 A Correct.

11 Q On the body diagrams above. There's two diagrams,
12 right?

13 A Correct.

14 Q And you're being asked to put in your pain
15 complaints, correct?

16 A Correct.

17 Q And the third says, "If you have any other symptoms, 18 such as tingling or numbness, draw these as a dotted line;" is 19 that correct?

20 A Correct.

21 Q And the only area that you marked was your left
22 knee; isn't that true?

23 A At that time, with medication, with Lortab, that's 24 how I felt at that time in my condition -- my knee.

25 Q And so the only thing you marked was your left knee,

2 A At that time.

3 Q Now you went to Dr. Mortillaro, correct?

4 A Correct.

5 Q Now Dr. Mortillaro is a psychologist; is he not?

6 A Correct.

7 Q Now you went to see Dr. Shannon -- do you remember
8 Dr. Shannon?

9 A I remember her, yes.

10 Q Okay. And you went to Dr. Shannon essentially 11 because you couldn't get the other doctors to operate on you;
12 isn't that right?

13 A Correct.

14 Q Okay. But you did get Dr. Shannon to operate on

16 A Correct.

17 Q And Dr. Shannon didn't take a new MRI?

18 A I don't recall.

19 Q Okay. You don't remember going through an MRI
20 machine more than once at that point, do you?

21 A I don't recall.

22 MR. BAKER: I guess, Your Honor, it's a belated

3 THE COURT: Sustain the objection and ask you to

5 MR. WARD: Sure.

6 BY MR. WARD:

7 Q You went to Dr. Shannon because the other doctors
8 before wouldn't perform surgery on you; isn't that correct?

9 A Because I decided to not go with the other doctors,
10 correct?

11 Q Right. And you were hoping that Dr. Shannon would 12 perform surgery on you?

13 A I needed surgery --

14 Q And you hoped --

15 A -- on my knee.

16 Q And you hoped Dr. Shannon would perform it?

17 A I was hoping, correct.

18 Q Okay. And you're not the one who decides whether 19 you need surgery or not, are you? You defer to your doctors
20 for that, don't you?

21 A Correct.

22 Q Now Dr. Shannon asked you to see Dr. Mortillaro; is 23 that true?

24 A I don't recall if it was like -- in that order, but 25 I did see Dr. Mortillaro.

2 Dr. Shannon, didn't you?

3 A I believe so.

4 Q And you went to Dr. Mortillaro as a referral?

5 A Correct, as a referral.

6 Q From who?

7 A I don't recall.

8 Q If the referral was from Dr. Shannon, do you have
9 any idea why you were being referred to Dr. Mortillaro?
10 Anybody tell you why?

11 A By that time, I was feeling so much emotions. I was 12 feeling bad. I -- there was so much stress, anxiety, there
13 was too much going on in my head, it was too much pressure.
14 My whole life changed. I needed help.

19 Q Okay.

20 MR. WARD: I will offer the Bates 25, Rancho Physical [Designation of record begins at 11:37 a.m.]

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Baker?

MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Next witness?

MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor. I'd like to call Sherri Long, please.

THE COURT: Ms. Long, come forward. Is she in the courtroom? Very good.

SHERRI LONG, PLAINTIFF'S WITNESS, SWORN

THE CLERK: State and spell your name for the record.

THE WITNESS: My name is Sheri Long, S-H-E-R-I L-O-N-G.

THE COURT: Whenever you're ready, Mr. Baker.

MR. BAKER: Thank you.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BAKER:

Q Hi, Sheri.

A Hi.

Q I remember you from your deposition. How are you?

A Good, thanks.

Q By the way, I wanted to apologize for serving a subpoena on you. It's just in the event that you weren't here to testify, I needed to be able to show the Judge that I was diligent. Okay?

A Okay.

1 Q So, sorry about that.

2 Are you the promotional director at the Palms Hotel?

3 A No, I'm the vice president of marketing.

4 Q And what position did you occupy in November of 5 2004?

6 A Director of marketing.

7 Q What were your job duties as director of marketing?

8 A I was over the special events and promotions,
9 advertising, public relations; oversaw the Club Booth; and 10 entertainment.

11 Q And part of entertainment was the Monday night
12 football games in 2004? November?

13 A Well, it was part of promotions.

14 Q And you went to the Palms when the Palms opened up
15 in October of 2001, is that right?

16 A The Palms opened in November of 2001, and I was 17 hired in April of that year.

18 Q And were you the marketing director at that time?

19 A Right.

20 Q And as part of the promotional events that you put 21 on, is it true that the Palms never gave you any specialized 22 instruction in safety issues relating to those promotion
23 events?

24 A That's correct.

25 Q And is it true that in the marketing -- or, the

1 promotional department, they never generated a guideline or a
2 policy for safe procedures during promotional events?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q And is it fair to say that neither you or anyone in
5 your staff ever received from the Palms specific training
6 having to do with safety occurring during promotional events?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q Now, the Monday Night Football, it started off in 9 the Key West Room, is that right?

10 A Correct.

11 Q And that's about what, an 8,000 square foot room?

12 A Yes.

13 Q That's a big room, isn't it?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And that room is designed for banquets and affairs
16 with a lot of people?

17 A Yes, it was originally designed to be a bingo room.
18 And we didn't open that way, so.

19 Q And then the open nature of it allowed people to 20 move around and do things pretty much free from the hazard of 21 bumping up or otherwise entangling themselves in the Key West
22 Room?

23 A Depending on how it was set.

24 Q Right. Now, there was a time where the Monday Night
25 Football was moved into the sport betting area?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And that's an area with a bar, is that correct?

3 A There is a bar outside of the Book.

4 Q And that's an area that's designed differently.

5 It's not designed so that people freely flow through it.

6 There are actually tables for people to sit at?

7 A There are.

8 Q And there was a time when Monday Night Football was 9 being held in the Key West Room that you became aware that 10 certain individuals were throwing promotional items into the 11 audience, is that right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And that occurred prior to it being moved to the 14 Sportsbook, is that right?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And I believe that I recall that you spoke to me
17 about the fact that you met with some of your staff, including 18 a woman named Denise, is that right, after you became aware
19 that promotional items were being thrown into the audience?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And you told them --

22 A Or Maureen. It might have been Maureen is the one
23 that you're --

24 Q I have a problem pronouncing her last name, but it's 25 De- --

1 A Demuckis [phonetic throughout].

2 Q Demuckis? Is that Noreen?

3 A Maureen Holden. I had two marketing managers.

4 Maureen opened the property and Denise came after Maureen.

5 Q And Denise was made known that you didn't believe
6 that promotional items should be thrown into the audience, is 7 that right?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And the reason, as the marketing director of the 10 Palms, that you didn't believe that promotional items should 11 be thrown into the audience is because somebody could get 12 hurt?

13 A Correct.

14 Q And it was unreasonable for people to be throwing
15 items into the audience, is that right?

16 A I wouldn't say unreasonable. I just felt that it
17 was inappropriate.

18 Q Okay. Because it's foreseeable that somebody could 19 get injured?

20 A Possibly, yes. It also creates chaos. So.

21 Q So if somebody in your department or at your hotel
22 informed these promotional girls -- and let me lay a
23 foundation for that.

24 As part of Monday Night Football you, either
25 directly or through your department, would bring in

1 promotional girls, is that right?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And Brandy Beaver was one of the promotional girls?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And basically these promotional girls are supposed
6 to try to just rah rah, get the audience stirred up and 7 involved in the event?

8 A They also have other duties on occasion, like MC'ing
9 and -- MC'ing a drawing or things along that line.

10 Q But generally they're there to create a festive
11 atmosphere, is that fair to say?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And to interact with the crowd, is that correct?

14 A Uh-huh.

15 Q And -- is that right?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And at some time after you found that objects were 18 being thrown in the Key West Room you specifically even spoke 19 with Denise about the fact that that was inappropriate, is 20 that correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q For the reasons that we mentioned; that somebody
23 could get hurt?

24 A Uh-huh.

25 Q Is that right?

1 A Uh-huh. Yes.

2 Q And it was foreseeable to you at that time that if
3 promotional items were thrown into the crowd, somebody might 4 be hurt. That's fair to say?

5 A Fair to say.

6 Q And if Denise or someone else in your staff informed
7 Brandy Beavers or any of these promotional girls that it was 8 okay to throw objects in the Sportsbook area during 9 promotional events, that would also be inappropriate, wouldn't
10 it?

11 A I'm -- can you say that again?

12 Q Sure. If Denise or another one of your employees 13 told the promotional girls, after the event that happened in 14 the Key West Room and your talk, that it was okay to throw
15 promotional items into the crowd, that that's part of what
16 they were there to do, you would consider it inappropriate?
17 Is that fair to say?

18 A Correct.

19 Q And again, that's because somebody could foreseeably
20 be injured by these promotional items being thrown, is that
21 right?

22 A Correct.

23 Q And really, that's exactly what happened in this
24 case, isn't that fair to say?

25 MR. WARD: Object. Argumentative.

1 MR. BAKER: I can ask nicer.

2 THE COURT: Argumentative? Ask you to rephrase it,
3 Mr. Baker.

4 BY MR. BAKER:

5 Q And you're aware that Mr. Rodriguez is alleging that
6 he was injured when promotional objects were thrown during a
7 Monday Night Football and somebody collided and injured his 8 leg, is that fair to say?

9 A I'm aware of --

10 Q You're aware of that allegation on the part of --

11 A Of the allegation. Yes.

12 Q Now, after you spoke with your people regarding 13 throwing objects from the Key West Room did you generate any 14 memo that said objects are not supposed to be thrown during 15 promotional events?

16 A Not that I recall.

17 Q Did you create any guideline or policy that was 18 generated and issued, saying objects are not supposed to be 19 thrown in the promotional events?

20 A Not that I recall.

21 Q Did you make it part of any security manual or 22 procedure guide of the Palms, that promotional items were not 23 supposed to be thrown in the -- during promotions held at the 24 Palms?

25 A I did not.

1 Q I'm going to ask you -- and there are some books
2 behind you. Exhibit books.

3 MR. BAKER: Can I get that for her, Your Honor?

4 THE COURT: Sure.

5 [Counsel and Clerk Confer]

6 BY MR. BAKER:

7 Q As an employee of the Palms Hotel, you're familiar
8 with many of the documents and forms and reporting forms that 9 are generated by the hotel? Is that fair to say?

10 A I'm aware of some of them. I wouldn't say many.

11 Q Could you turn to 58?

12 A Okay.

13 Q Do you recognize that document?

14 A It says it's a security incident report.

15 Q Have you seen a security incident report before?

16 A A couple of times. I've never seen this one.

17 Q Is this a security incident report which was 18 produced to me by the Defendants in this case regarding 19 Enrique Rodriguez incident at the Palms in November of 2004?

20 A That's what it says.

21 MR. BAKER: Move to admit 58, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Any objection?

23 MR. WARD: No. No objection, Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: 58 will be admitted.

1 BY MR. BAKER:

2 Q And I'd like you to look about one, two, three,
3 four, five, six lines down.

4 A In the narrative?

5 Q In the narrative section.

6 A Okay.

7 Q Mr. Rodriguez stated one bottle was thrown his way
8 and a white female, approximately 45 years old sitting in the 9 chair in front of him, got up and dove to retrieve the bottle,
10 which caused her to injure his left knee with her shoulder.

11 Do you see that?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And is this the type of injury that you were afraid
14 could occur in the event that promotional items were thrown 15 into a crowd?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And this doesn't say that there was a water bottle
18 laying on the ground and somebody went to go for the water
19 bottle. It says that the water bottle was thrown causing the 20 woman to jump and impacting his knee.

21 Is that what I'm saying?

22 MR. WARD: That's argumentative.

23 THE COURT: It is. Sustained. Ask you to rephrase.

24 MR. BAKER: What did I do?

25 THE COURT: I think the nature of the objection was that

1 it was argumentative, but I think you can rephrase your
2 question if you'd like.

3 BY MR. BAKER:

4 Q It doesn't say on the ground, does it? It said it
5 was thrown? Is that fair to say?

6 A Said it was thrown his way. That's what the 7 document says.

8 Q And that's kind of what you were trying to prevent 9 when you conveyed to your staff that it was foreseeable that 10 somebody could be injured if a bottle was thrown?

11 A Correct.

12 Q Would you turn to 60, please? Are you at 60?

13 A Uh-huh.

14 Q Is that the guest employee voluntary statement?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Is this a statement that was generated on a form by 17 the Palms Hotel?

18 [Pause]

19 Q Is this a Palms' form?

20 A It looks like a Palms' form.

21 Q And these are the type of forms that the Palm
22 maintains and is a custom of running its business?

23 A This is not my department. I don't know that.

24 MR. BAKER: I move to have this admitted as well, Your 25 Honor.

2 MR. WARD: No objection, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: 60 is admitted.

4 [Plaintiff's Exhibit 60 Received]

5 BY MR. BAKER:

6 Q And this, again, says that,

7 "During commercial breaks the casino Palms'
8 girls were throwing gifts out to us and they threw
9 in the air a water bottle. The guy next to me,
10 standing" -- wait.

11 "The guy next to me standing was thrown one,
12 but he fumbled it. And when it hit his hands there
13 was a lady sitting directly in front of me that got 14 up and ran, and then she dove for the water bottle
15 and her shoulder hit my left knee. She tackled my 16 knee for a water bottle."

17 Do you see that statement?

18 THE COURT: Are you on 60 or some other page?

19 THE WITNESS: I don't -- I'm not following you.

20 MR. BAKER: Oh, I'm sorry, 59. You could have stopped me
21 earlier.

22 THE WITNESS: Well, I was trying to figure out where you
23 were reading from.

3 Q That's a Palms' form, as well?

4 A Yes.

5 MR. BAKER: Move to admit 59, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Any objection?

7 MR. WARD: No objection, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: 59 is admitted.

9 [Plaintiff's Exhibit 59 Received]

12 [Counsel and Clerk Confer]

13 THE COURT: 59 and 60 have both been admitted. And 58
14 was previously admitted, I think.

15 MR. BAKER: Right. Yes.

16 BY MR. BAKER:

17 Q And once again, the type of injury that's now being
18 related by Enrique Rodriguez, that's just the type of thing
19 that you wanted to avoid when you were saying that promotional
20 items into the audience was inappropriate?

21 A Inappropriate. Correct.

22 Q Is that fair to say?

23 A Correct.

24 Q And if you would turn to 60, please? And this is an
25 independent witness, Chris Poe [phonetic throughout], do you

AVTranz

1 see that?

2 A Uh-huh.

3 Q Is that yes?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And is this on a form generated by the Palms?

6 A Yes.

7 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, move to re-admit 60.

8 THE COURT: It's already in, Mr. Baker. How many times
9 are you going to admit it?

10 MR. BAKER: I like this one.

11 BY MR. BAKER:

12 Q And this independent witness also said,

13 "The MC threw a Palms' water bottle at me and 14 it bounced onto the ground. The woman in front of 15 me, in a green" -- does that say "hat"? "Coat?"
16 -- "and blonde hair jumped out of a chair to get the 17 bottle. I leaned down to grab it, and she ran into 18 the man next to me because she was going for the 19 bottle also. I grabbed it and she kept going for 20 it. This occurred at approximately 7:30 p.m."

21 Despite the fact I can't read most of the 22 handwriting, does that accurately portray what's on that 23 document?

24 A To the best of my reading it, as well, yes.

25 Q And is this consistent with what Mr. Rodriguez

AVTranz

1 reported, that we just read a half a second ago?

2 MR. WARD: That's speculative

3 MR. BAKER: I'm just asking her if it's consistent. I
4 don't think that's speculative, Your Honor.

5 MR. WARD: That's what I mean. The documents speak for 6 themselves. One says one thing, one says another.

7 THE COURT: They do. Sustain the objection. Ask you to 8 rephrase.

9 BY MR. BAKER:

10 Q Again, this is the type of injury now reported by an 11 independent witness that resulted from the inappropriate
12 behavior of throwing a water bottle into the audience, is that 13 fair to say?

14 A Fair to say.

15 Q The next one I can't even read so I really won't put 16 that one into evidence.

17 Was there a time that a formal policy was 18 implemented that there would be no throwing of water bottles
19 at promotional events?

20 A Not that I'm aware of.

21 Q There's still no memo like that, saying that water
22 bottles should not be thrown or promotional items shouldn't be 23 thrown?

24 A Not that I'm aware of.

25 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, if you give me just one sec, I

2 THE COURT: Sure.

3 [Counsel Confer]

4 BY MR. BAKER:

5 Q Oh, you were the marketing director at this point in 6 time, is that right?

7 A Director of marketing.

8 Q Was there also a marketing manager?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Who is that?

11 A It would have been either Denise or Maureen. I
12 think at the time that the incident happened it was Denise.
13 Maureen was gone.

14 Q And is it fair to say you didn't tell your marketing
15 manager to tell the girls not to throw water bottles after you
16 found out water bottles were -- or other promotional items
17 were being thrown in the Key West Room?

18 A I don't recall.

19 Q You don't recall whether you did or did not tell
20 your marketing manager not to permit that type of activity?

21 A I don't remember at all.

22 Q And your marketing manager would likely have greater 23 contact with the promotional girls than you would?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Do you recall the time you took your deposition with

1 me?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And it's not such a big point, but let me look at
4 something real quick, quick.

5 You had staff meetings with different directors from 6 different departments in the course of your services as 7 marketing director, is that correct?

8 A Uh-huh. Yes.

9 Q And during those staff meetings you would bring up
10 different topics that were important to you, is that correct?

11 A Correct.

12 Q And is it fair to say that you did not bring up the 13 issue that promotional items should not be thrown at a
14 promotional event during any of those staff meetings?

15 A I don't remember.

16 Q Okay.

17 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I'll pass the witness.

18 THE COURT: Very well. Mr. Ward.

19 MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor.

20 CROSS-EXAMINATION

2 A A little.

3 Q Wanted to ask you a couple of things. We have the
4 statements in front of us. The number 59 -- Exhibit
5 Number 59. That's the statement from Mr. Rodriguez there,
6 right? Okay.

7 A Yes.

8 Q Now, Number 60 is from Mr. Chris Poe?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Now, Mr. Poe seems to have a problem with his dates,
11 is that right? In the upper right-hand corner?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Mr. Poe thought it was November 21st, but we assume 14 Mr. Poe made a mistake. It's actually November 22nd?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And we have Mr. Poe's address, correct? Up at the 17 top, Chris Poe?

18 A It says --

19 MR. BAKER: You're asking if it is correct, or --?

20 MR. WARD: No, I'm asking do we have his address there?

21 MR. BAKER: Okay.

22 THE WITNESS: It's 1250 Kelly Drive?

23 BY MR. WARD:

24 Q Yeah, I'm not asking for what the address is? I'm 25 just asking do we have the address there?

1 A It is there.

2 Q Yeah, okay. And his telephone number's there?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And where he's staying at the time is there?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And the next one, which is 61, that's Mr. Josh
7 Gonzales [phonetic throughout]?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And Mr. Gonzales is a little better with the dates
10 than Mr. Poe is?

11 A Yes.

12 Q He's got November 22? And we've got an address for 13 Mr. Gonzales?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And we've got where he's staying?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And we've got a telephone number?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And we have a statement from him?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And he says that his friend had the bottle in his
22 hand and she ran -- the lady ran into him, is that correct?

23 A Yeah, that's what he wrote. Yes.

24 Q Okay. And Chris Poe said the water bottle was 25 bouncing on the ground and the woman ran to -- and ran or dove

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. So if someone said we didn't get statements
4 from the people that were there at the incident, that wouldn't
5 be correct, would it?

6 A Correct.

7 Q Now, has -- during the period of time you've been at 8 the Palms, and that's almost since it's been open?

9 A Yes.

10 Q You're going to be celebrating your tenth
11 anniversary sometime in the next 12 months?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Have you ever had a problem like this with people
14 throwing -- has this been a big issue, people throwing things
15 into crowds?

16 A No, it's not been a big issue.

17 Q Okay. Has there been a need to put something
18 specifically in the manual?

19 A No.

20 Q And a comment was made about the room -- what was 21 the first room, the bingo room?

22 A Key West.

23 Q The Key West Room? And somebody threw something
24 once in the Key West Room?

25 A Correct.

1 Q And they were told not to do it?

2 A Correct.

3 Q Did that ever happen again in the Key West Room?

4 A No. No.

5 Q And -- now, what year was that?

6 A It was either '02 or '03, during football season.

7 Q Okay. So it was either one year or two years before
8 this incident?

9 A Right.

10 Q Have you had any intervening issues?

11 A No.

12 Q Had you ever had a problem with people throwing
13 things in the Sports Bar [sic]?

14 A No.

15 Q Did Brandy Beavers have employment -- was she 16 actually employed by the Palms on November 22, 2004?

17 A No. She was not our employee.

18 Q Thank you.

19 THE COURT: Mr. Baker, any follow-up?

20 MR. BAKER: Yes, just a little bit.

21 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

22 BY MR. BAKER:

23 Q At your hotel when they mop the floor, they put up a
24 warning sign, is that right? Do you know?

25 A I don't know. I've seen it sometimes, but I do not

1 know the procedures in that department.

2 Q Do you know whether your security manual has a
3 requirement that signs be put up when people are mopping the 4 floor?

5 A I do not know.

6 Q If it does have that requirement, it's probably 7 because it's foreseeable that --

8 MR. WARD: Object. Argumentative.

9 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I just don't see how that's 10 argumentative.

11 MR. WARD: Well, the question was, "If it does happen, 12 then it's for this reason." That's arguing the case. That's 13 not eliciting testimony.

14 THE COURT: Sustain the objection.

15 BY MR. BAKER:

16 Q Hypothetically, if there is a requirement that 17 warning signs be put up, would you assume it's because it's 18 foreseeable that someone could get hurt if they're not?

19 MR. WARD: It's still arguing his case. He's not asking
20 this witness to testify as to anything that's in her
21 knowledge. He's asking for an opinion about something that 22 she's not even sure if it exists.

23 MR. BAKER: Fine. I think we got my point.

24 THE COURT: I think so.

25 MR. BAKER: Thanks.

1 Q And in fact, you began in the Security Department,
2 is that right?

3 A Actually, I began in food and beverage.

4 Q And then moved into security?

5 A [No Audible Response]

6 Q How long were --

7 A Yes.

8 THE COURT: Excuse me for the interruption, but we need a
9 little more volume.

10 THE WITNESS: Yes.

11 [Court and Witness Confer]

12 THE COURT: Sorry about that, Mr. Baker. We need to make 13 sure we have a good recording.

14 BY MR. BAKER:

15 Q How long were you in the Security Department?

16 A I've been in security since December of '01.

17 Q And were you in security or the risk management
18 department in November '04, at the time of this incident?

19 A Both. Risk --

20 Q Did those departments ever -- interrelate?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Could you explain that to the Court, please?

23 A Risk management is in with security. It -- I work
24 within the Security Department, and my direct manager that I
25 answer to is the security director.

AVTranz

1 Q In the hierarchy of management in the Security
2 Department, where do you fall and where did you fall in
3 November of 2004?

4 A The director of security?

5 Q No, I'm asking in the hierarchy. I'm assuming
6 there's a director and then somebody under them and somebody
7 under them.

8 A Yes.

9 Q In November of 2004, where did you fall in that 10 hierarchy?

11 A Directly below the director.

12 Q So you're the second head guy?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And you're familiar with the operation of the 15 Security Department, is that right?

16 A Yes.

17 Q I believe you had told me that no security guard was 18 prominently placed or stationed during the promotional events
19 at the Sportsbook, is that correct? In November of 2004?

20 A Yes. Can I clarify something on the last question?

21 Q Yes.

22 A You said that I directly -- what did you state?
23 That I directly supervise security?

24 Q No.

25 A Oh. Okay.

AVTranz

1 Q I said you were the second guy in charge?

2 A But not of security.

3 Q But you're part of the Security Department?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And familiar with the operation of the Security
6 Department?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And in fact you've explained to me in the 9 past that there was no security guard directly assigned to the 10 promotional events at the time the promotional events
11 occurred, is that right?

12 A Correct.

13 Q And that, again, there was no security part of your 14 manual of policies and procedures with respect to what should 15 be permitted and what should not be permitted at promotional 16 events, is that right?

17 A Correct.

18 Q And that includes promotional events where 19 promotional items are thrown out into the crowd, is that 20 correct as well?

21 A Rephrase that, please?

22 Q And that includes promotional events when bottles
23 and t-shirts and things are thrown out to the crowd. No
24 security guard is specifically assigned to those types of 25 parties?

AVTranz

1           A     No security officers are assigned to -- specifically
2 to the promotional events at that time.

3           Q     That was my question. Thank you for straightening
4 that on out for me. Okay?

5                     And it's also true that there is no policy or 6 procedure implemented with respect to the Palms Hotel through 7 security on what behavior should or should not be permitted at 8 the promotional events?

9           A     Within security?

10          Q     Yes. A written manual.

11          A     Correct.

12          Q     You expect the security guards to use their reason
13 and their sense, is that right?

14          A     In the scope of their job or the promotion?

15          Q     In the scope of their job, which would include,
16 wouldn't it, providing security and, in a general sense,
17 preventing injuries and accidents at promotional events?

18                     Do you understand my question?

19          A     No, I do not.

20          Q     You have security guards in the hotel, is that
21 right?

22          A     Correct.

23          Q     Part of what they do is they try to get people to 24 behave appropriately within the hotel, is that right?

25          A     Correct.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 Q And part of the reason for that is because you're 2 attempting, in your hotel, to create a safe and reasonable
3 environment for the patrons of your hotel. Is that fair to 4 say?

5 A Correct.

6 Q And the security guards, with respect to the 7 promotional events, are expected to use their reason to permit
8 or not permit certain behaviors? That's fair to say?

9 A That's fair to say, yes.

10 Q And you, yourself, you think it's inappropriate to 11 throw promotional items at a promotional event?

12 A I do.

13 Q Okay. And you've explained, and I'm sure you'll 14 tell the Court now, that's because of the foreseeability that 15 somebody could get hurt?

16 A Correct.

17 Q As well as the foreseeability that any number of 18 events could happen when balls are being thrown and people are 19 scrambling around. Is that fair to say?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And you, as -- well, occupying the position that you
22 have in risk management and security, would expect a security
23 guard to stop someone from throwing promotional items if it
24 was occurring within the Sports Bar [sic]? Is that right?

25 A I would expect that, yes.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 Q And you even spoke to me about the fact that you
2 believe that that's the standard of care. That it would be
3 required of them to stop people from throwing promotional 4 event objects into the crowded promotional event, is that
5 right?

6 A I would expect them to stop that, yes.

7 Q And you heard the testimony of Brandy Beavers, where 8 she said there was a security guard in the area during the 9 promotional event, is that right?

10 A In the area, yes.

11 Q And you understand as well that she spoke about the 12 fact that this promotional items throwing was going on 13 throughout the whole Monday Night Football game, is that
14 right?

15 A Correct.

16 Q And you would anticipate, because of the structure,
17 how it's formed, of the Sports Bar to the -- I keep saying
18 Sports Bar. It's the Sportsbook, right?

19 A Correct. It's Sportsbook and Sports Bar [sic].

20 Q But you understand that the incident occurred in the 21 Sportsbook?

22 A Correct.

23 Q And you understand I'm just being dumb by saying
24 Sports Bar? I mean Sportsbook.

25 A I understand that, yes.

AVTranz

1 Q And your questions that you answered, you took each
2 of them from me to mean the Sportsbook, is that right?

3 A Correct.

4 Q And you would anticipate, because of the structure,
5 how it's open to the casino and because of the route taken by 6 the security guards, that a security guard in that area would 7 have had the opportunity to see promotional items being
8 thrown?

9 A Yes, they could have had that opportunity.

10 Q And yet the promotional items kept getting thrown,
11 is that right?

12 A I'm -- I have no knowledge of it. I wasn't present.

13 Q Okay. If the promotional items were thrown more
14 than one occasion, every commercial break or many commercial
15 breaks during this football game, would you have anticipated
16 that a security guard in the area would have stopped those 17 promotional items from being thrown?

18 A I would expect him to, had he had knowledge, yes.

19 Q And that's because that comports what you understand
20 the standard of care to be, is that right?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And because you don't want people getting injured in 23 that and it's foreseeable that if the promotional items are 24 thrown, exactly what happened in this case could happen in the 25 Sportsbook. Is that fair to say?

1 A Yes.

2 MR. BAKER: I don't think I have any further questions,
3 Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Ward.

5 CROSS-EXAMINATION

6 BY MR. WARD:

7 Q Ms. Kooinga.

8 A Yes.

9 Q I've been working with you longer than Mr. Baker, so
10 I had to learn how to pronounce your name.

11 A You can pronounce it.

12 Q Did you have any awareness of anyone throwing
13 promotional items at the Palms prior to this incident?

14 A No, I did not.

15 Q Have you had a chance to go back and check whether 16 there have been any other injuries claimed at the Palms as a
17 result of items being thrown into the crowd?

18 A Yes, I have.

19 Q Has that ever occurred at any other time with the 20 Palms?

21 A No.

22 Q This is the only time?

23 A That I know of, yes.

24 Q Thank you.

25 MR. WARD: No questions.

1 THE COURT: Any follow-up?

2 MR. BAKER: Follow-up, Your Honor.

3 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

4 BY MR. BAKER:

5 Q Yes. You've heard Brandy Beavers' testimony where 6 she and Denise Demuckis sat down and actually created where
7 they could have a field goal in the Sportsbook area to throw
8 footballs?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And you heard that testimony, right?

11 A Yes, I did.

12 Q Doesn't that suggest to you that probably if 13 somebody at the Palms knew that footballs were going to be 14 thrown in the Sportsbook, to go out and construct field goals
15 to do it?

16 A I believe that if they had that conversation,
17 someone, yes, would have known.

18 Q Okay. Thank you.

19 THE COURT: Any follow-up, Mr. Ward?

20 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Okay. With the thanks of the Court, ma'am,
22 you may step down.

23 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

6 THE COURT: Remain standing, please, while the Clerk
7 swears you in.

13 MR. BAKER: Good morning, Your Honor.

14 THE WITNESS: Good morning.

15 THE COURT: Afternoon, Mr. Baker.

16 MR. BAKER: Oh. Good afternoon, Your Honor.

17 DIRECT EXAMINATION

18 BY MR. BAKER:

19 Q Enrique, you've been waiting a long time for this.

20 A Yes, I have.

21 Q Are you nervous?

22 A Actually, a little bit.

23 Q Okay.

24 A Or actually a lot, yes.

25 Q There's water next to you, and if you need a break

1 I'm sure we can ask Her Honor to accommodate you. I know that
2 sometimes it can get ocerwhelming.

3 A Thank you.

4 Q Is that fair to say?

5 Let's just make a brief introduction of you. Where 6 were you born?

7 A I was born in Los Angeles, California.

8 Q How long did you live in Los Angeles?

9 A All my life. Pretty much.

10 Q Mostly in Riverside?

11 A Mostly in Riverside.

12 Q What other areas of Los Angeles did you live in?

13 A The area of Long Beach.

14 Q And you went to high school in Long Beach?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Which high school did you attend?

17 A I went to Banning High School.

18 Q Were you involved in sports and activities during 19 your high school years?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Can you explain to the Judge some of the physical 22 things that you liked to do, just growing up and living into 23 young adulthood?

24 A I liked -- when I was in high school, even in junior
25 high school, I participated in track, cross-country.

AVTranz

1     Actually, I was one of the youngest ones to participate in the 2     Palos Verdes Marathon.

3             Q     What's the Palos Verdes Marathon?

4             A     It's a annual marathon that they had in the City of 5     Palos Verdes, next to Rolling Hills. And I was just in junior
6     high school when I ran that marathon. It was a non-stop
7     marathon. And I did that in junior high school. So I was 8     really proud of being able to do that.

9             Q     And did you also participate in sports and 10    activities in your high school years?

11            A     Yes, I did.

12            Q     Will you talk about things that you liked to do?

13            A     In high school I was on the track team and the 14    cross-country team.

15            Q     So you were a runner?

16            A     Yes, I was.

17            Q     And is that something that you enjoyed as part of 18    your daily activities, something that gave you comfort?

19            A     Absolutely.

20            Q     How long did you keep running? My wife's a
21    marathoner is why I'm asking.

22            A     Pretty much all my life.

23            Q     There was a point in time that that stopped, is that
24    correct?

25            A     Yes.

1 Q And it stopped as associated with the incident that
2 we're here to discuss today?

3 A Correct.

4 Q Prior to the incident that we're here to discuss
5 today, explain to the Judge some of the other things that you
6 like to do?

7 A In the physical, I like doing pretty much anything
8 that involved physical activity, whether it was racquetball,
9 whether it was jogging, running, playing basketball. Me and 10 my life care companion, partner of 28 years, we --

11 Q You've been concerned whether or not to call her a
12 wife in this courtroom?

13 A Or spouse. We've been together for 28 years. So we 14 raised foster kids for over ten years in Riverside, so we were 15 licensed foster parents.

16 Q And how many foster children would you have in the 17 house?

18 A At one time we had up to nine foster children. We 19 had a very large home.

20 Q Now, you hear sometimes stories about foster homes
21 being unhappy places. Would you describe to the Judge how 22 your house was with these nine kids?

23 A Well, our house was fun. We had up to 100 children
24 that went through our home. And fortunately, we put them
25 through high school. And I spent my time -- we spent our time

AVTranz

1 raising the kids. So our life was fun. We did sports with
2 them. I was on the booster club.

3 Q What's the booster club?

4 A At that high school that we put them through was
5 Poly High School in Riverside. And the booster club was a
6 club with Poly High School that participated in high school
7 and boosting the football team.

8 So before Poly High School had the football game, we 9 would have a barbecue for them. So they would walk across the 10 street to one of the homes and we would barbecue for everybody
11 on the football team before the football game. So I would 12 barbecue with them. And it was just kind of an encouragement
13 for the kids.

14 Q It makes you a little more comfortable to talk about 15 your family now, huh?

16 A Yeah, because, you know, when you were asking me
17 about sports, that's something that I participated. And I was 18 fortunate with my type of work in real estate to be able to be 19 there for them. So I would go and actually I can actually say 20 I've never missed any of the football games. Or even any of 21 their practices.

22 Q Now, that's an interesting topic that you're 23 bringing up. The kind of interplay between the lifestyle that 24 you chose for the children and the lifestyle that you chose
25 with the real estate. Can you speak to the Judge a little

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 about that?

2 A Well, ever since high school I got involved in real
3 estate as an investor. And fortunately as an investor, I was
4 able to make a very good living in real estate. That gave me
5 the opportunity to spend time with friends, family, and with 6 all the kids that we were raising.

7 So when it came to all my kids, I was able to go to
8 their practices after school. I was able to -- for example, a
9 lot of my kids were in football. So I was able to be at their 10 practices. I was able to go to their games. Some of my kids
11 were in cross-country.

12 So whatever sports they liked, I was able to be 13 there to encourage them. And --

14 Q The question was, how did that interplay in with 15 your real estate lifestyle?

16 A With my real estate lifestyle? Well, because of the 17 time constraints, I guess, most people work 9:00 to 5:00. I
18 was able to not have that 9:00 to 5:00. I was able to make my 19 own hours. If that's --

20 Q Yeah, that's what I'm saying.

21 A Pretty much --

22 Q Would you explain to the Judge really how that 23 worked? I mean, I have more than a 9:00 to 5:00 job. Go
24 ahead and -- and she has a 6:00 a.m. to 3:00 a.m. job. So can 25 you please explain to her a little bit of the leisure that you

1 were able to achieve?

2 A Okay. So whether I was on the side of purchasing
3 the property, fixing the property up, it wasn't always 9:00 to 4 5:00. At times I would have subcontract people to work, and
5 it wasn't always having to be there. And fortunately, the 6 escrow, the title, they took care of their side. I took care
7 of my side.

8 And fortunately the checks still came in. So there
9 was always food on the table. And there was always time for 10 me and our kids.

11 Q Were there times that you closed a big deal and 12 simply took off unlimited time spend with the kids?

13 A Oh, absolutely. You know, when -- I was a lucky
14 guy, you know. When I looked at my checks it wasn't $279 or 15 $789. It was $78,000. So those are the checks that I looked 16 at. And I was blessed, you know. I was able to learn a
17 system, I was able to learn techniques, I was able to look at 18 it like that because I started right out of high school to 19 learn how to do real estate.

20 Q Let's talk about that. How do you start out of high
21 school to learn how to do real estate?

22 A Well, when I was still in high school I was 23 fortunate that I met a gentleman that did real estate in 24 Gardena, California.

25 Q In where?

AVTranz

1           A     Gardena, California.

2           Q     Okay. Go ahead.

3           A     And he was in real estate already. And he had a
4 broker's license. And as a matter of fact, I'm still friends
5 with him. And he was a -- and he still is a private
6 investigator for a real estate mortgage insurance company.

7           Q     What is his name?

8           A     His name's Dudley [phonetic]. And at that time his 9 company was building condominiums. So he called on me and he
10 said, "Hey, we just built all these condominiums," like 200 of 11 them, and they were ready to go on the market.

12                     So I'm just in high school and he calls me, and next 13 thing you know he says, "Hey, would you like to get involved?
14 They're brand-new. All we need is to kind of clean the 15 windows, prepare them for agents or whatever to be sold." So
16 he goes, "I'll pay you basically whatever you want. Eight,
17 ten dollars an hour." Here I am, still in high school.

18                     And I'm like, "How can I miss an opportunity like 19 that?"

20                     "You know, you don't have to be on the time clock.
21 Just write down on your own what time you come in and what
22 time you leave. And I'll come every day and I'll take you out
23 to lunch."

24                     So I'm like, "That sounds pretty good."

25                     So I start working like that. And he comes every

1 day for lunch and he takes me out and he treats me for lunch.

2 So I realized at that time, all I gotta do is do a
3 good job and be honest. And not cut any corners. And do my 4 time clock right. And if I do that, I'm a lucky guy.

5 And I did exactly that.

6 Q Were your parents okay with that?

7 A Absolutely. Because he became friends with my
8 family.

9 Q Did your parents instill in you this balanced
10 lifestyle? Work and love and family?

11 A Absolutely, yes.

12 Q Would you tell the Judge a little bit about the 13 makeup of your family when you were growing up?

14 A I come from a family of eight brothers and two 15 sisters. And my parents were very into everybody should go to 16 college and get an education. And everybody went to college
17 and got an education.

18 Q Did you?

19 A I was pretty much the one that went to college, went 20 to fire science, and wanted to become a firefighter. At that 21 very time is when I met Dudley. And it's kind of strange,
22 because my stepson became the firefighter and he's a
23 firefighter with the City of Los Angeles, and he's a paramedic
24 firefighter.

25 Q Up to the time of this accident, were you close with

2 A I still am, and I am very close, yes.

3 Q Did you take joy in your relationship with them?

4 A Absolutely.

5 Q Would you explain for the Judge some of the things
6 that your family would do?

7 A Some of the things that my family would do. We'd
8 always get together, have barbecues. We get together on birth
9 dates. We're -- our nuclear family is very close.

10 Q Did you say eight brothers and two sisters?

11 A Eight brothers and two sisters.

12 Q Other than you?

13 A With me it's eight.

14 Q No wonder you were comfortable in the foster home
15 environment. You had a tribe of your own, huh?

16 A Yeah, you know, Maria always said, "When we get a 17 big house let's fill it up with kids."

18 Q When did you meet Maria?

19 A I met Maria 28 years ago.

20 Q Where did you meet her?

21 A She happened to be my next-door neighbor.

22 Q Did you grow up with her?

23 A Actually not. I didn't grow up with her.

24 Q When did she become your next-door neighbor?

25 A She became my next-door neighbor when she became a

1 widow. Her husband passed away.

2 Q Sorry.

3 A And then she came back home to the neighborhood with 4 her little son. And I raised her son.

5 Q Did he want to be a fireman when he was little?

6 A Actually, he wanted to be a trash can man.

7 Q Right.

8 A Yeah, that's what he wanted to be.

9 Q That's a "Sesame Street" thing?.

10 A Yeah.

11 Q Okay. And have you and Maria been together
12 consistently since she moved back in the neighborhood?

13 A Ever since. Yes.

14 Q And prior to the time of this accident, can you
15 describe your relationship with her? Was it a loving one?

16 A Yes. Yeah, it was very -- it was great.

17 Q Who was considered to be the bread earner in the 18 family?

19 A Me.

20 Q Is that a position you took pride in?

21 A Absolutely, yes.

22 Q Is that something you also learned from your family?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Was there a time, shortly before the incident
25 occurred, that Maria had an unfortunate medical scare?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Would you explain to the Judge what occurred?

3 A Well, what happened is I had a great insurance
4 policy with Blue Cross or Blue Shield, and they discovered
5 that she had some lumps in her breast. And we went through 6 several months with that problem, and fortunately they were --
7 it wasn't as bad as it could have been, so we got the all
8 clear.

9 And so we decided, "Let's go to Las Vegas. Let's
10 clear our head. Let's go out there and just kind of relax.
11 Get away." It was really tough.

12 So we came to Las Vegas.

13 Q How'd you get to Las Vegas?

14 A We drove.

15 Q Did you drive together?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And is it kind of a laughing, "Oh, thank God" kind
18 of trip?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Where were you staying?

21 A At Harrah's Casino.

22 Q Why were you staying at Harrah's? If you could tell
23 the Judge?

24 A Why at Harrah's? Well, we had a diamonds card.
25 Diamonds players card. So we were kind of, you know,

1 complementary this, complementary that. So it was -- it was
2 at Harrah's Casino, and I believe were comped at Harrah's
3 Casino. And Maria really enjoyed playing the slot machines.
4 And so that's why we came to Harrah's Casino.

5 Q Yes. I'm sorry, go ahead.

6 A And we came to that particular casino because they
7 set us up really good in a nice suite.

8 Q And that's kind of enjoyable, isn't it?

9 A Oh, absolutely. It was.

10 Q And after you got to the casino, would you explain
11 to the Judge what you and Maria did for the first few hours?

12 A Well, for the first few hours, you know, we had a 13 good time. Everything was good. And then basically what 14 happened was when the evening came she was feeling a little 15 tired. Because she was actually on medication.

16 So I tucked her into bed. I remember this very 17 clearly. I tucked her into bed. And she said, "Why don't you
18 go out, have fun? And -- now that I'm very comfortable, go
19 see if you can find one of your friends out here in Las Vegas.
20 And, because I'm just going to fall asleep and, you know, you
21 really took care of me, so just go out and have some fun."

22 Q Why did you have friends here in Las Vegas?

23 A Because some of my friends moved from California to 24 Las Vegas.

25 Q During the boom?

2 Q And were you going to try to see somebody in 3 particular?

4 A Not really, but I did have an option of different
5 friends.

6 Q Okay. Were you able to find anybody?

7 A No.

8 Q And what happened then?

9 A What happened then? On my way back I'm just driving
10 down, I believe Flamingo, and there's a marquee that said
11 "Monday Night Football," at the Palms. And I --

12 Q Have you been to the Palms before?

13 A Pardon me?

14 Q Have you been to the Palms before?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. Have you been to the Sportsbook inside the 17 Palms before?

18 A No.

19 Q All right. How many times have you been at the 20 Palms before?

21 A About six times.

22 Q And what did you do when you were in the Palms
23 before?

24 A Played slot machines.

25 Q Is that because you were with Maria the other times

1 you were at the Palm?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And slot machines is kind of her thing?

4 A Slot machines is kind of her thing, so I kind of 5 hang around her. And she loves the slot machines.

6 Q Do you love them?

7 A Not really. Not as much as her.

8 Q So this time she wasn't there and you didn't have to 9 play the slot machines, is that fair to say?

10 A Yes, and I just went to watch Monday Night Football.

11 Q About what time did you arrive at the hotel?

12 A About 6:00.

13 Q What did you do?

14 A Arrived at the hotel and went straight to the Race
15 and Sportsbook area.

16 Q And is the Sportsbook in the Race and Sportsbook
17 area?

18 A There's a --

19 Q Is it the same thing?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Did you know how to get there or did you have to ask
22 directions?

23 A I just walked in the doors and just kind of went in 25 Q What'd you do then?

6           MR. WARD:  Objection; leading.

12          A     Pretty much the way you said it.

13          MR. BAKER:  It was a little leading, but I didn't think

15          BY MR. BAKER:

20 Beavers or were you going to go see a football game?

21          A     A football game.

22          Q     When you arrived at the Sportsbook, would you

1 Q What was happening?

2 A The environment was, I would say rowdy.

3 Q What was happening?

4 A Well, besides the -- watching the football game, the 5 Palm employees were throwing -- actually were throwing several
6 different items in the air. And some of them were t-shirts,
7 some of them were the water bottles, and some of them were
8 actually NFL footballs.

9 And one of the footballs that they threw actually
10 hit a television set that was mounted on the wall. And when 11 that hit that television set, there was a couple that was 12 sitting right underneath it. And it moved it so crazy that 13 the people that sat underneath it kind of just ran, because it
14 almost fell on top of them.

15 And also, the girls that were doing this were not 16 only throwing these things, but they were blindfolding each
17 other and spinning each other around at the same time they 18 were throwing this. And yeah, that's the -- it was kind of --
19 that was the environment.

20 Q Would you describe to the Judge the layout of the 21 Sportsbook as you remember it? The physical layout.

22 A The physical layout? It was -- you have the 23 entrance that was kind of like crowded. It was kind of like 24 -- like, to the right of me, it was open. But there was 25 people to the right of me. And then you had the monitors in

2 where I can see the employees that were doing this.

3 Q The girls?

4 A The girls. And then up front you could see the big
5 screen TVs.

6 Q Where were you standing?

7 A I was standing at the entrance where you can walk in 8 to the actual -- if you want to keep going in, there was an
9 entrance where I was standing.

10 Q Was that the best view of the football screen?

11 A I would say no.

12 Q And what were you doing when you were standing
13 there?

14 A I was just standing there, watching TV.

15 Q Were you watching the football game?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And how long were you watching the football game
18 before anything happened?

19 A Can you repeat the question?

20 Q How long were you watching the game before anything
21 happened?

3 A No, not really.

4 Q Watching a big screen TV?

5 A Just watching the big screen TV.

6 Q During that period of time, did you have the 7 opportunity to see other promotional items being thrown into 8 the audience?

9 A Yes.

10 Q How many occasions were promotional items thrown 11 into the audience by the girls who were throwing them into the 12 audience?

13 A From what I saw and from what I recall, I would say
14 about six occasions.

15 Q How many girls were there?

16 A I recall three girls.

17 Q And how were they dressed?

18 A They were dressed in like cheerleader outfits.

19 Q And you've seen cheerleader outfits before on the 20 football fields, right?

21 A Yeah. Yes.

22 Q Describe to the Judge what would happen with respect

10          Q     And was the crowd responding? Reacting?

11          A     Yes.

12          Q     And in what fashion?

13          A     Well, people jumping. People putting their hands in 14 the air [demonstrating]. People moving. People going 15 wherever items went. People basically going where items were

1           A     Yes.

2           Q     What -- would you please tell the Judge what
3 happened?

4           A     Well, what happened to me is a water bottle was
5 thrown in my direction. And it happened so fast that there
6 was this lady sitting down in front of me at a monitor where
7 there was a TV. I'm standing there, watching the big screen
8 TV. And when the ball's in flight hands move in the air
9 [demonstrating] and this lady, for whatever reason, she 10 decided to get up out of her chair, turn around, and run. I
11 mean literally run towards where I'm standing and just take a
12 total dive, body dive.

13                     And while I'm standing, she lands right on my knee.
14 And my knee just goes inwards. While I'm standing there. And 15 when it goes inwards I hear a pop. And there wasn't really
16 much I can do about it. I mean, it happened so fast.

17           Q     How did your body move as a result of being impacted

1 faster. I think that would be better for all.

2 But as a result of being impacted on your knee, you
3 described what your body did to some detail. Did your body
4 come into contact with anyone else's bodies in the Sportsbook?

5 A Yes, it did. There was a gentleman standing next to 6 me, and when the impact hit my knee, my body went backwards,
7 it fell back. I hit the gentleman next to me when I twisted,
8 and my body torqued. And the gentleman standing next to me, I
9 landed on him, and instead of me falling all the way to the 10 ground, he kind of broke my fall. And then I remember
11 apologizing to him, and I apologized to him and he said,
12 "Don't worry about it. It wasn't your fault."

13 And there was like a little metal stand next to us
14 that we crushed together, and so I kind of tried to get my 15 balance and my equilibrium, and I kind of came back up. And 16 then I remember trying to extend my knee, and it just was --
17 it hurt, and I couldn't -- I couldn't put any weight on it.
18 And I just thought, "This is bad. This ain't good."

19 Q What did you do next?

20 A What I did next is, I waited for a moment and I
21 thought, "Wow, what do I do next?"

22 So it wasn't too much after that that the lady went
23 back to her seat, and there was a gentleman with her. So it
24 wasn't too much after that that they took off. So I decided
25 to hop to that vacant seat, and I sat there. And I thought,

1 "Wow. What do I do next?"

2 So I thought, "Well, I better go find a security to 3 make a report." And that's what I did next.

4 Q And continue.

5 A So from there I started to look for security, and I
6 kind of hopped, wobbled out of there because I really didn't
7 want to bring attention there. There was a lot of people, and
8 I didn't want to bring attention to myself. So I started
9 going out of that little area, and there's a bar right outside
10 of there. So I just started going out, walking out, and I
11 continued looking for a security area. And I remember running 12 into an employee there, and I asked them, "Where is the 13 security office here?".

14 Q How far of a distance did you have to go?

15 A All the way to that area, from what I recall, it was 16 -- at this moment, I don't recall.

17 Q How was your knee feeling during that time?

18 A I was in pain. It was -- it was hurt.

19 Q Describe it.

20 A It was aching. It was a sharp pain, pressure.

21 There was a lot of pressure in my knee. And I remember when I
22 ran into that employee, I said, "Can you get me a wheelchair?"

23 Q Had you ever felt anything like that with your knee
24 before?

25 A No, never.

1 Q Had you ever been treated for your knee before?

2 A No.

3 Q Had x-rays of your knee before?

4 A No.

5 Q MRIs of your knee before?

6 A No.

7 Q Okay. This was new to you?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. What happened then?

10 A I asked the employee for a wheelchair, and they
11 said, "Well, the security podium is real close. Just follow
12 me." So I'm like, "All right. I'll follow you." So here I 13 go, just hopping, hopping, hopping, following their 14 instructions.

15 So I finally make it to the podium, and I start
16 explaining, "Hey, this is what happened." So they gave me a
17 sheet. "All right. Just fill out the -- the accident report, 18 voluntary sheet. And we need your California driver -- your
19 I.D."

20 So I comply and I give them everything. And then 21 they say, "Just fill it out." And then so I'm thinking, "Wow, 22 just like that?"

23 And so I looked around and I think, well, where do I
24 sit at to fill this out? So the area that were there were 25 slot machines. So I hopped to a slot machine and -- and I

AVTranz

1 tell them at the podium, I said, "Why don't you go and get
2 witnesses? There were witnesses there. Go find some
3 witnesses, because they saw what happened. I told them
4 everything that happened."

5 So a little bit after that, I see no action, and I'm
6 right there at the slot machine, and nothing's happening. So
7 I go back there to the podium and I said, "You got to go find
8 some witnesses." So eventually --

9 Q How far was the podium from the slot machine? Was 10 it right there?

11 A Yeah. From where I was at it was very close because 12 I can see it.

13 So eventually a security guy comes to me and says,
14 "Well, I'm going to go look for those security -- for the 15 witnesses, but I'm going to instruct them not to fill it out
16 because it's voluntary only. So I'm going to advise them not 17 to fill it out."

18 And I'm thinking in my head, "That doesn't sound
19 right."

20 So then I thought -- I'm right here on the slot
21 machine filling it out, this guy just told me this. I
22 thought, "No, no, no." And he starts taking off.

23 So then I figured, "I better follow him because I --
24 I better point them out," because I remembered who I fell
25 into. So with that kind of a response from him, I think it

AVTranz

1 would be more prudent for me to kind of go with him. So here
2 I go again hopping on my good leg. So here I go hopping back
3 to the area.

4 Now about that time, when I was with him, I said --
5 they said, "Do you need medical attention?"

6 I said, "Yeah, go ahead and call them for me."

7 So by that time, me filling out the report, and all
8 this going on, by the time we get back to the area of the 9 incident, the medical comes. So right when I'm getting there,
10 the medical gets there at the same time. So I'm ready to 11 point everybody out, and the medical comes for me.

12 Q Why was it important to you to point everybody out?

13 A It was important because I felt that this injury --
14 all of a sudden the -- the way that it felt, and what 15 happened, I thought that it would be necessary that it would 16 be reported, that it would be on paper, that -- I -- I just --
17 you know, I'm just the kind of guy that, you know, certain 18 things in life -- I just felt like that.

19 Q Were you afraid somebody might deny it happened?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay. What happened next?

22 A So we -- we all get there at the same time, and
23 right before I go into that same area the -- the emergency
24 team comes, so I don't make it in that area. They say, "Can 25 you have a seat in the bar area."

1           So I sit there, I get my attention. Security guy
2 goes inside, and they tend to me. So they take my vitals, and
3 they do all that, and then they say, "Do -- would you like to 4 be transported?"

5           Q     I'm a little confused. Is this the same ambulance
6 service, or did they come back to the hotel?

7           A     Yeah. Eventually they do come back. They do come
8 back. And the reason they came back -- what ended up
9 happening, at that time they tell me, after they do my vitals
10 -- I tell them, "You know what, I'm still filling out the 11 security report, okay? It hasn't been filled out. I'm kind
12 of wanting this guy to get the -- the -- the witnesses."

13           So I have these concerns on my mind. I want him to 14 get the witnesses. They're tending to me, and all of a sudden
15 one of the EMTs says, he goes, "Where -- where are you staying
16 at?"

17           I say, "Well, I'm parked in valet here."

18           He says, "Oh, then you can drive to the hospital
19 because the hospital is right around the corner." He says, "I
20 think you can drive to the hospital because it's your left
21 knee."

22           And I'm thinking, "Okay." He goes, "It's just 23 around the corner."

24           So with that is what -- is what he's telling me. So
25 I'm thinking, "Wow. Oh, okay." So then they decide to leave

AVTranz

1 and they told me that.

2 So then I'm thinking, okay. And I haven't filled
3 out this report. The podium has my driver's license, and he
4 just told me that. So I'm stuck here with that information.
5 I haven't filled out the report. So then I looked a little
6 further and I see some tables.

7 So they decide to leave.

8 Q Who is they?

9 A The emergency.

10 So then I see not too far from there some tables.
11 So then I hop to the tables, and I sit there, and then I start
12 filling it out again. And then the security comes out, and he 13 passes by the tables, and I ask him, "Did you -- did you get 14 any witnesses?"

15 And he kind of ignored me. And I said, "Did you get 16 any witnesses' statements?"

17 He goes, "Well, maybe -- maybe I did; maybe I
18 didn't; maybe a couple." And I'm like, "Okay."

19 So I continued filling it out, and then he did make 20 a comment during all this conversation that I talk to him, the 21 same security guy. He says, "Either way, you cannot sue the 22 casino because it wasn't an employee that hit you." And I
23 looked at him, and I just kind of shrugged my shoulders, and I
24 thought, "Wow, where did that come from?"

25 So I'm sitting at the table and I'm filling

1 everything out, and then that -- and then all of a sudden I
2 begin to sweat really badly, and I'm thinking, "Wow, I think
3 this is a little bit more than I can handle."

4 So then I tell the security guys, I said, "You know
5 what, I don't think I'm going to be able -- you know, my pain
6 is excessive. I'm not feeling good anymore. Can you please
7 call 9-1-1 for me?"

8 And then the security guard that's right here says,
9 "We're not calling 9-1-1 for you. You already blew it. We 10 called them; you didn't go with them."

11 And I looked at -- I looked at them, and then the --
12 another security guard that was sitting with him looked at him
13 and said, "We can't do that to him. We have to call 9-1-1 for 14 him."

15 Q Did they call?

16 A Yeah, they eventually called.

17 Q How long after that statement was it that 9-1-1 came 18 and the EMTs came to the casino?

19 A How long after that statement? That guy took a 20 couple minutes before he decided to call 9-1-1 after --

21 Q How --

22 A -- yeah.

23 Q -- were you feeling at this time?

2           And then to make matters even worse, the guy comes,
3 I says, "Can you please make me a copy of my voluntary report
4 that I just filled out, and please bring me a copy of my drive
5 -- please bring me my driver's license, too."

6           Q     How is your knee feeling at this time?

7           A     Oh, my knee was -- it was pain. It was -- it was 8 like -- like it just wanted to buckle in.

9           Q     Were you placed on a gurney by the EMTs?

10          A     Yes.

11          Q     Were you taken from the casino to the hospital?

12          A     Yes, I was.

13          Q     What hospital did you go to?

14          A     I believe it was Spring Valley, or Sunrise -- Spring
15 Valley.

16          Q     Was it right around the corner?

17          A     Yeah, it was -- it wasn't -- well, when you're in a
18 gurney, you really can't see it. But it wasn't too far.

19          Q     And did they then move the gurney into the hospital?

20          A     Yes.

21          Q     What happened then?

22          A     They took me into the hospital, and they took me
23 into a room.

24          Q     Okay. What kind of room?

25          A     Just your typical hospital room.

2 A Yes.
3 Q And how long was it until you were seen by a doctor?

6 A I would say it wasn't hours. It was pretty -- it
7 was pretty average.

2 A Caring for me.

3 Q Did he perform an examination of you?

5 Q What did the examination involve?

6 A The examination involved: Could I stretch it; could
7 I move it; could I put weight on it; verbally, how does it
8 feel; could he touch it, you know.

9 Q Were you then released from the hospital?

10 A Yes.

11 Q When you were released from the hospital, did they 12 give any apparatus? Did they give you any assisted walked 13 devices or --

14 A Yeah. I was released with some crutches, and a knee
15 brace, an immobilizer device.

16 Q An elastic type, or something else?

17 A Yeah. It's almost -- it's like a -- like a Velcro
18 one that has straps, and it's kind of set up so that you can't 19 move your knee.

20 Q Have you ever had one of those before?

- 12          A     Yes.
- 13          Q     Okay.  And what did his examination involve?
- 14          A     His examination involved the -- pretty much the 15           general type of the same type of examination:  Can you stretch 16           it; can you move it to your left, your right; they sit you on 17           the table, examination table; you lay down; how low can you 18           bring it; the range of motion; they have this little tool with 19           a rubber thing on it that they want to hit your knee, which I
20           told them that can't be done to my knee because it hurts too 21           much.
- 22          Q     Don't hit, it would hurt, with a hammer?
- 23          A     With a sledge hammer, in this case, yeah.

3 THE COURT: On what basis?

4 MR. WARD: On the basis that it wasn't previously
5 provided.

6 THE COURT: So, Mr. Baker?

7 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, it would be extremely unusual to 8 provide retainer agreements in any type of case. There -- and 9 I'm not saying allegations, but there were issues that were 10 brought up to this Court that are in both of the records,
11 presentations that I made to this Court as an individual and a
12 lawyer, and with respect for corroborating what Mr. Rodriguez
13 says.

14 The prejudice of introducing a retainer agreement is 15 absolutely minimal because the only argument that's being made
16 is that the -- our statement that he didn't receive treatment
17 from Dr. Shannon was because of lawyer choice. He's going to 18 testify to it. This gives voracity to it, and, Your Honor,
19 it's respectfully suggested it should be admitted.

20 THE COURT: Anything further on this subject?

21 MR. WARD: I would simply say Counsel's the one who 22 opened the door on this, and now to open the door and now to 20 Dr. Shannon associated with the date of July 13th? When was 21 your surgery with Dr. Shannon?

22 A It was October 4th, 2006.

23 Q Within two-and-a-half months or so of the date you
24 signed the retainer agreement?

25 A Yes.

1 MR. BAKER: And, Your Honor, we move to have exhibit last
2 in order, my retainer agreement, admitted into evidence.

3 THE COURT: All right. The Court admitted it already.
4 What number is it?

5 THE CLERK: It's going to be after all the other exhibits
6 are admitted, and we don't have --

7 THE COURT: So we don't have a number yet?

8 THE CLERK: No, not yet.

9 THE COURT: All right.

10 MR. BAKER: Okay.

11 BY MR. BAKER:

12 Q Where you sent to any physical therapy by your 13 orthopedic surgeon?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Where was that?

16 A Rancho Physical Therapy.

17 Q And what sort of things did they do for you at 18 Rancho Physical Therapy?

19 A Aquatic therapy in an indoor swimming pool; land
20 therapy which consisted of stretching, which consisted of 21 range of motion, which consisted of rubber bands to keep -- to 22 keep my muscles from wasting, to keep my -- ultra sound; ice
23 packs; heat; things of that nature.

24 Q You think you tried hard?

25 A Absolutely.

1 Q Did you want to get better?

2 A Absolutely.

3 Q How was your knee feeling physically during that
4 period of time?

5 A Just the -- just like a screw driver picking
6 underneath my kneecap constantly. Just pain. Just a sharp
7 pain, like if it always wanted to buckle on me.

8 Q How'd you feel about that?

9 A Sad.

10 Q Okay. How long did you go to Rancho Physical 11 Therapy before seeing your next doctor?

12 A I continuously went.

13 Q Okay. Did you ever see Dr. Shannon?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And when did you see Dr. Shannon?

16 A I don't recall at this moment when.

17 Q My records reflect it's around March of '05.

18 A Okay.

19 Q How did you get referred to Dr. Shannon?

20 A I got referred to Dr. Shannon --

21 [Pause]

22 MR. BAKER: If you don't recall, that's okay.

23 THE WITNESS: I don't recall.

1 Q Why did you go see a second orthopedic surgeon?

2 A Well, let me -- let me just interfere here real
3 quick just so that I don't sound like I'm just way out there.
4 Because of my condition that I'm in right now, RSD or complex
5 regional pain syndrome, my anxiety, depression, everything
6 that I'm under, I'm trying to maintain everything. So I'm on 7 a -- I'm on a cornucopia of medicines. And a lot of them have 8 side effects. Some of them are short-term memory. A lot of 9 them are constipation. So with all these medications that I'm 10 on just to try to keep me balanced, and they're working,
11 unfortunately, you guys got to bear with me. And that's why
12 sometimes, even the questions that you ask me, they're --
13 they're hard to remember.

14 Q And, Enrique, you've --

15 A So I'm trying as hard as I can.

16 Q -- you've been to several providers and no one
17 remembers every day of everything, right?

18 A Yeah. So --

19 Q So just do the best you can, okay?

20 A Okay.

21 Q When you saw Dr. Shannon, what did she do for you?

22 A Dr. Shannon, she evaluated me.

23 Q Okay. What'd she do in the course of her
24 evaluation?

25 A Examination. She looked at my knee. She did the

2 much I can stretch it out; she laid me down, she how much

4 Q And can you tell the Judge, were you comfortable

6 A Yes. I was very comfortable with her.

7 Q Did you feel like she did a thorough investigation?

8 A Absolutely, yes.

9 Q Did she demonstrate and express concern with getting 10 you better and your condition?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Did she recommend anything for you?

13 A Yeah, she recommended that I get treatment, and I

5 THE WITNESS: That I -- that I continue physical therapy,
6 and that I get, you know, the surgery.

7 BY MR. BAKER:

8 Q So was a surgery part of your recommended treatment
9 course?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Okay. And what type of surgery did you understand 12 that you were supposed to undergo?

13 A Surgery for a meniscus --

14 MR. WARD: This is hearsay.

15 THE WITNESS: A meniscus.

16 MR. WARD: It also calls for expert testimony.

17 MR. BAKER: No, it's not.

18 THE COURT: Overruled.

19 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

20 BY MR. BAKER:

21 Q So what recommended surgery was placed in place, for

25 A Yes.

2 problems in your knee?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Now when did that surgery actually occur?

5 A October 4th.

6 Q Okay. So that was -- when was it recommended? Was 7 that in March?

8 A In March, yes.

9 Q Can --

10 THE COURT: Could we have -- could we have a year,

19 A I believe so, yes.

20 Q Okay. The --

21 A Oh, no, the first surgery --

1 A Yes.

2 Q Approximately how many, if you know?

3 A It was several months.

4 Q Okay. Could you explain to the Judge why there was 5 this delay between the time your surgery was recommended and 6 the time it occurred?

7 A Because of the other attorneys that I had at that 8 moment.

9 Q Go ahead and explain.

10 A What happened was, I had originally retained a law
11 firm, and they said that they can get my surgery done. So me
12 living in California, calling them on the phone, "Yeah, we're 13 ready. We're ready. We're going to get it done. We're going 14 to get it done." Nothing happened.

15 MR. WARD: Object. This is hearsay.

16 THE WITNESS: So --

17 MR. WARD: And move to strike.

18 THE COURT: I don't think this is hearsay. Overruled.
19 Please continue.

20 THE WITNESS: So nothing's going on. So I -- we even 21 made trips back and forth, back and forth, to the office.
22 "Hey, what's going on with my surgery? I'm in pain. It's 23 hurting." Nothing's going on. Nothing's going on. And I
24 just kept hearing that back and forth, back and forth.

25 So then eventually I said, "Well, you know, I better

1 start interviewing someone else, because it sounds like
2 they're not going to get it done, and I need it done. I'm
3 hurting. I need it done."

4 So I interviewed and eventually I came to this law
5 firm.

6 Q And the Court isn't interested in anything that we 7 discussed. So is that what commissioned the delay in your
8 surgery?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Was it shortly thereafter that surgery was available
11 to you through Dr. Shannon?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And did you undergo that surgery?

14 A Yes, I did.

15 Q Were you recommended for further therapy?

16 A Yes.

17 Q To where were you recommended -- I'm going to end
18 with a preposition. Where were -- where'd you for therapy?

19 A To Rancho Physical Therapy.

20 Q Okay. Is that the same Rancho in California that 21 you went to previously?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And this time was it by Dr. Shannon's recommendation
24 or somebody else's?

25 A It was by Dr. Shannon's recommendation, yes.

AVTranz

Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 Q So she sent you to therapy down there?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And what type of things did you do at that therapy?

4 A The aquatic therapy, once again; range of motion;
5 stretching; ultra sounds; heat; cold. Just whatever it took
6 to -- to get well. I wanted to get well.

7 Q And during this period of time, did you still 8 require assisted walking devices?

9 A Absolutely.

10 Q Would you explain to the Judge what types of devices
11 and how you would use them.

12 A Unfortunately I -- I wasn't getting well. So I used
13 crutches, canes. I had to like cycle them because it was 14 hurting my hands, my wrist, my shoulders. So if it wasn't one
15 day I'm using the crutches, I'd use the cane, a walker. It
16 was -- it's terrible.

17 Q Did you notice any pain in your lumbar, your lower 18 back area?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Was that associated more with using one assisted 21 device than another?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Could you tell the Judge about that.

24 A Well, you know, if it wasn't -- for example, there
25 were times all of a sudden that my right ankle would give out.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1 So it's like, no, man, not my right ankle give out. So here
2 comes a cane. And all of sudden just -- I'm just standing in
3 the hallway and I can't walk because of my right ankle. Now
4 where did that come from?

5 Q Now with respect to your lumbar spine, did you feel
6 it irritated by one type of assisted device more than another?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Which -- which one hurt you the most?

9 A Well, it -- once again, it was just a cycle. It was 10 just a cycle, whether it was the crutch, using the crutch.
11 Sometimes I'd have to use one crutch. Sometimes I'd have to 12 use two. Sometimes I'd have to -- it was a cycle of rotation.

13 Q And I hope it's not a delicate question, but were 14 you experiencing weight gain during this period of time?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And why?

17 A Well, you know, I was the kind of guy that just get 18 up in the morning, go take a jog, or play racquetball, or 19 watch my eating habits. Now all of a sudden it's like --

20 Q It's fair to say you were never thin, though?

21 A It's fair to say I was never thin, but I was always
22 muscular. And still am pretty muscular up here, so. You
23 know, they say muscle weighs more than fat.

24 Q There's a t-shirt that says, "I'm not fat. I'm 25 Italian." Are you familiar with that?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. I get it.

3 And did you complain to anybody about the lumbar
4 pain that you were feeling, or the surgical pain, or the pain
5 in your hands?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Did you complain to any of the doctors as early as 8 March about tingling in your fingers?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And we'll hear testimony about that later, but was 11 this tingling in your finger, or your neck, or your back, was 12 that your main focus? Was that your main concern?

13 A No.

14 Q Could you explain to the Judge what your main focus
15 and main concern was.

16 A My knee. My knee. It was my knee.

17 Q And did that appear to you to be the same focus and 18 concern of your treating physicians?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. Did you continue in therapy?

21 A Yes.

22 Q How were you doing emotionally during this period of 23 time?

9 you checked off to Dr. Mortillaro that you had been

12          A     Yes.

13          Q     And is that the neck and the back pain that you're 14 talking about when you explained to the Judge how it was 15 developing and you were using the assisted devices and/or 16 limping?

17          A     Yes.

18          Q     Okay.  At a certain point in time, did you see 19 anyone for your back or your neck?

20          A     No.

21          Q     Did you see Dr. Falgot [phonetic]?

22          A     No.

23          Q     You don't recall seeing Dr. Falgot?

24          A     Oh, did I see Dr. Fal- -- yes.  Sorry.

25          Q     Okay.  And what did you see Dr. Falgot for?

1 A For my neck and back.

2 Q Did you also see a Dr. Nicola?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And that was for your neck and back?

5 A Correct.

6 Q And we'll start talking about your neck and back
7 again in a little while. Because we've been focusing on your
8 knee, I think it's important to keep --

9 A Yeah.

10 Q -- a pattern. I can see you're confused here.

11 A Yeah.

12 Q All right. How was your knee feeling after your 13 surgery with Dr. Shannon?

14 A My knee was feeling pretty much the same. I just 15 experienced a non-stop, like if it just wanted to buckle. To 16 just buckle. Like when I walk, I just want to buckle in. And 17 the constant like a screw driver picking underneath my 18 kneecap. Just wanted it to fit. All the time, all the time,
19 sharp pain. Pressure, pressure, pressure. Even when I go to 20 physical therapy and inside the pool, when they say, "Do ten 21 squats," I couldn't even do ten squats inside the pool because 22 if I did, my knee just wanted to blow up, just like pop on me.
23 That's -- that's how it felt.

24 Q Okay. And did you still have a follow-up visit with 25 any other orthopedic knee surgeon?

1 A Pardon me?

2 Q Did you have a follow-up visit with any other
3 orthopedic knee surgeon? Did you see a Dr. Tauber?

4 A A Tauber?

5 Q Uh-huh.

6 A Oh, yes.

7 Q Okay. Do you recall about when you saw Dr. Tauber?

8 A Dr. Tauber, let's see. He was a doctor. I saw him
9 in September of 2006.

10 Q Okay. You had seen him. When was the first time
11 you saw Dr. Tauber? Was it just -- does February of '06 sound
12 familiar?

13 A That -- that sounds pretty -- pretty accurate,
14 because it was in '06.

15 Q How were you referred to Dr. Tauber?

16 A I was referred to Dr. Tauber -- it might have been 17 through Dr. Koka.

18 Q Okay. Is that Govind Koka?

19 A Yes.

20 Q All right. And Dr. Tauber was located where?

21 A In Beverly Hills, California.

22 Q And did Dr. Tauber do an examination of you?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And did Dr. Tauber -- well, explain his examination.
25 Was it consistent with the other -- that the other surgeons

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. And what did Dr. Tauber recommend?

4 MR. WARD: Hearsay. Tauber.

5 THE COURT: Sustained.

6 BY MR. BAKER:

7 Q What course of treatment were you placed on by 8 Dr. Tauber?

9 MR. WARD: Still hearsay, Your Honor.

10 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, hearsay -- it's asking a question
11 in out-of-state court. It's not a statement from a person not 12 in the court for the truth of the matter asserted. It's not a
13 statement.

14 THE COURT: Well --

15 MR. BAKER: And he's asking for what the doctor
16 recommended as treatment, which is exactly the same thing as 17 what did the doctor say was the treatment. Obviously, it was 18 recommended by the doctor, and that's hearsay.

19 THE COURT: I think if he knows what treatment he 20 underwent, he can testify to that. Overruled.

21 THE WITNESS: Dr. Tauber recommended MRI.

22 MR. WARD: I'll object. Move to strike.

23 THE COURT: Sustain the objection. Ask you to rephrase,

9 A Yes.

10 Q And did Dr. Tauber review the MRI with you?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And as part of your treatment course, were you then
13 recommended for meniscus surgery?

14 A Yes.

15 MR. WARD: Object. Hearsay. I -- I agree with Your 16 Honor that he can testify as to what treatment he underwent.
17 But that's not the questions he's being asked. He's 18 continually being asked what did the doctor recommend; what 19 did the doctor say; what did the doctor review.

20 MR. BAKER: Those are all different things, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Yeah.

22 MR. BAKER: And, again, hearsay is an adequate statement
23 that's for the truth of the matter asserted, and the person is 24 not on the stand. And none of those questions ask for a
25 statement.

2 sort of surgery he had. Overrule the objection as to that
3 question. You may answer --

4 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

6 THE WITNESS: An MRI.

7 BY MR. BAKER:

8 Q Okay. Did you have knee surgery after that?

9 A Yes, I did.

10 Q Was that performed by Dr. Tauber?

11 A Yes, it was.

12 Q What type of knee surgery was it?

13 A It was an arthroscopic --

14 MR. WARD: Hearsay.

15 MR. BAKER: How is that hearsay?

16 THE COURT: Overruled. Noted for the record.

17 BY MR. BAKER:

18 Q What type of surgery did you have?

19 A Arthroscopic surgery.

20 Q On your left knee?

21 A Correct.

22 Q The same knee that had been previously operated on 23 by Dr. Shannon?

24 A Yes.

25 Q After that surgery, did your pain change?

1 A Yes, it did.

2 Q Describe that to the Judge, please.

3 A All the same symptoms that I originally had, they
4 continued. But added on to everything else, started a burning
5 pain. So all of a sudden I had the same problems. My knee
6 wanted to buckle, but it was like burn came to my knee, like
7 -- like if I -- and until this day, it's like -- like a torch
8 is constantly on my knee. It just doesn't turn off. It's 9 like -- it's like I want to cry all day. That's the type of 10 pain that I have.

11 Q Do you need anything, sir?

12 A No, I'm good.

13 Q And did you continue to treat with Dr. Tauber now
14 for that burning, relentless, agonizing pain?

15 MR. WARD: Argumentative.

16 THE COURT: Overruled.

17 BY MR. BAKER:

18 Q Yes?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And after your treatment with Dr. Tauber, were you

23 A Yes.

2 BY MR. BAKER:

3 Q Is that right?

4 A Could you repeat the question, please?

5 Q And after your continued treatment by Dr. Tauber,
6 were you recommended for a course of evaluation and treatment
7 of Reflex Sympathetic Dystrophy?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And what was your understanding of what Reflex
10 Sympathetic Dystrophy was?

11 A That it is a debilitating -- debilitating thing that 12 nobody wants. That it's painful. That if you have a surgery,
13 that it can spread to other parts of your body. That, is like
14 I describe, it's just a non-stop burn. It was exactly what I 15 had.

16 Q Did you notice any weird physical things -- I don't
17 know how else to say it but weird -- occurring with your left
18 knee and leg area at around the same time you were 19 experiencing that type of relentless pain that you discussed?

20 A Yeah. I noticed swelling. I noticed one day when I
21 went to see Dr. Tauber my knee was swollen for no reason. So 22 he took me into his x-ray room and he thought my knee was 23 broke.

24 Q And that's --

1 ankle was broke.

2 Q How about skin changes?

3 A My skin came to become shiny. My hair became to get
4 -- I started losing it around my lower extremities. My toe --
5 my nails on my toes changed.

6 I just -- it just became exactly terrible what 7 Dr. Tauber told me what I had. He said, "You're -- first of 8 all, your knee will never be the same." And then with the 9 RSD, it was exactly what he told me in his room. And I was 10 like, "My world. I'm that little frags [sic] in the people
11 that could have got it." And, yeah, that was -- it's sad.
12 It's sad living with this condition, because it doesn't turn
13 off. It doesn't turn off.

14 Q Now at the same time you were living with it -- did
15 I interrupt you?

16 A No. You're good.

17 Q At the same you were living with this condition,
18 were you also living with your neck and back pain?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Did you see a -- a Dr. Kidwell?

1 Dr. Kidwell?

2 A Approximately, no, I don't recall.

3 Q Does March of 2006 sound about right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q What did Dr. Kidwell do for you?

6 A Painful injections to my neck, to my lower back,
7 epidural steroids, whatever treatments they were trying to do
8 to minimize the pain. So a series of -- I think it was at the 9 Goldring Surgery Center or something. Just what -- whatever.
10 I was -- you know, I was just -- just hoping that things just 11 turned off, pain. I -- there's so much pain. So I was hoping 12 that their -- their expertise was just going to help me. So
13 needles to neck, that's what he did for me.

14 Q How do you feel about needles?

15 A I hate them.

16 Q And could you describe -- the Judge knows, but could 17 you -- were you able to observe the needles?

18 A I try to avoid them as much as I could, but -- you
19 know, for almost six years I have gone through so much that 20 you just --

21 Q Is constant pain part of your life?

22 A Yeah. Yeah.

8 A Yes, late of '06.

9 Q I'm sorry, late of '07? Do you recall Dr. Shefiney?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Can you describe Dr. Shefiney?

12 A He was a very pleasant, young guy.

13 Q Okay. And was he treating your knee?

14 A No, he was involved for a spinal cord stimulator.

15 Q Okay. Did you ever receive a temporary cord
16 stimulator?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Was that implanted by Dr. Shefiney?

19 A Yes, it was.

20 Q What happened after you got that temporary spinal
21 cord stimulator with respect to your pain?

22 A I had a smile on my face. That's what happened?

23 Q Well, why?

2 Q Of which year?

3 A That was of --

4 Q Was that '08?

5 A '08.

6 Q Tell -- tell the Judge about the resolution of your
7 pain and how you felt about it.

8 A Yeah, it was a tingling sensation. I woke up and I
9 smiled because the -- it turned the pain into a tingling
10 sensation and I actually was able to smile. It worked.

11 Q And --

12 A And then I walked and I smiled and I laughed and I
13 was amazed. But I smiled. It changed. It was like, wow,
14 this little thing worked. I was like, whoa.

15 Yeah, there was other problems. I mean, I was still 16 wrestling with my torn ligament here, and carpal tunnel
17 syndrome here, and my neck, and -- yeah, but the focus on my 18 knee, it was like, wow, it worked. It was like, wow.

19 Q Would you recommend to just have a permanent pain
20 stimulator?

21 A Yes.

22 Q How'd you feel emotionally that were going to be
23 able to get a permanent pain stimulator?

24 A Oh, I was -- I was happy. Yeah, I was -- I was 25 happy.

20 Q It was -- were you ever debilitated because of your

1 the beginning, it seems like a while ago, of our -- of our --
2 in your testimony, how your life was, in Los Angeles with 3 Maria and the kids and your family before this accident; is
4 that right?

5 A Correct.

6 Q And part of it is that you -- you were a real estate
7 investor; is that right?

8 A Correct.

9 Q Are you still a real estate investor?

10 A No.

11 Q Why are you not a real estate investor?

12 A Because I'm disabled. I -- the whole process of 13 being in real estate is -- a lot of the aspect is -- is 14 physical aspects. Being involved in the property, walking
15 upstairs, going into an attic, if there needs to be service on 16 a roof, you got to get on a ladder. I can't do those things
17 anymore. I have problems walking up a -- a driveway. I have 18 problems walking around here, you know.

19 Q Were you more of a physically oriented work person?

20 A Yeah.

21 Q Are you a paperwork person?

22 A No, not really.

3 Q Okay. And -- and if the Judge can have an
4 understanding, what particular activities that you had to do,
5 are you precluded from doing now because of your physical
6 condition?

7 A Well, whether you mean involving in real estate?

8 Q Sure.

9 A Well, when a property needed a -- the -- a fence, a
10 wooden fence painted, I had a spray gun. I can't do that no
11 more. Sometimes when I'm eating a salad, I drop the fork. I
12 go to a Chevron to put gasoline -- I can't even use the 13 squeegee because I drop the squeegee. Simple, little things
14 like that.

15 Q Would you go into attics?

16 A I'd go into attics to make sure that everything in 17 the attic is -- is fine. I -- I'm not -- I wasn't the kind of 18 guy that would resell a property without me making sure that I
19 do all my due diligence.

20 Q And due diligence would include looking at the roof?

21 A Absolutely.

4 A Yes.

5 Q Have you ever applied for social security

7 A Yes.

8 Q And can you explain to the Judge the process of 9 applying for social security disability?

10 A Well, the process is, you have to have material --

11 MR. WARD: Objection, relevance.

12 THE COURT: Uh-huh. What's the relevance, Mr. Baker?

13 MR. BAKER: Because there's been a determination that 14 he's totally disabled by social security.

15 MR. WARD: And that's hearsay unless social security --
16 someone from Social Security comes in and explains what they 17 find -- what they found based on --

18 MR. BAKER: And partially, Your Honor, I want to put it
19 in for the purposes of how he supported himself during this 20 time in terms of monetary. And a finding of social security
21 disability, while normally precluded by the collateral source 22 rule, can be waived by the Plaintiff needing that type of 23 evidence. And it -- it just speaks to what he had to go

1 the impact that it has upon him emotionally, as well.

2 THE COURT: Mr. Ward, any response to the argument about
3 Plaintiff waiving his -- waiving the collateral source rule?

4 MR. WARD: Well, he can waive it if he wants. It doesn't
5 matter to me whether he waives it. But that's not the issue
6 that's here. What he's trying to do is, he's trying to get a
7 finding, by somebody else who's not going to come in and 8 testify, as to why they made such a finding. And that's the 9 basis for my objection, is that we've had all kinds of medical 10 testimony here without ever having a doctor on the stand. And 11 -- and I object to -- to the determination of this finding 12 without knowing what it was based on. Because, unless it's 13 based on the accident, it's totally irrelevant to this case.
14 And there's no -- there's not any supporting evidence that -- 15 that anything that happened to him was caused by this 16 accident. That is the --

17 THE COURT: Sustain the objection.

18 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

19 Your Honor, the -- the basis for, just for the 20 record, for sustaining it, it was a hearsay objection?

21 THE COURT: The basis is, it's part hearsay, but it's 22 also part a foundational reason. Because -- well, your 23 question, I think, was to him, what was the process in 24 applying for the social security disability when I don't know
25 that the Court needs to hear that.

2 THE COURT: I suspect --

3 MR. BAKER: -- I would lay the foundation, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: I suspect Mr. Ward's correct that -- it may
5 be relevant, but I think there may be some hearsay issues.
6 So, I'll sustain it on that basis.

7 MR. BAKER: On a hearsay basis, Your Honor?

8 THE COURT: Yes.

9 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

10 BY MR. BAKER:

11 Q Can we take -- and then I'm going to let you from 12 the stand. Can you tell the Judge how your life has changed
13 from before and after this accident?

14 A How my life has changed?

15 Q Yes.

16 A Well, before we, as a couple, we had fun. We were 17 spontaneous. We can get up and go. Financially, there was no
18 problem. Physically, there was no problem. Things that 19 happened in the bedroom, there was no problem. Intimacy,
20 there was no problem. Now, there's a problem everywhere.

21 I used to be a good emotional support to Maria.
22 And, now, I can say I'm a -- I can be a frustrated, pain in 23 the butt to her.

24 If I had to run to save my life, I can't. And 25 that's sad. And that's one thing I never had to worry about.

1 I was able to out run everybody in this room. And, now,
2 that's one thing that I can't. I'd be the last one out of
3 here. And that's something that -- that I wish I was never in 4 that position.

5 So, there is -- there is just a stack of things that
6 has changed. You know, living on social security for $845 a
7 month, compared to the way I used to live, is so sad. Renting
8 a room, when I used to have hundreds of homes throughout my 9 lifetime. That is so sad.

10 Q That is so sad?

11 A Those are the homes -- those are the home you would 12 reflect --

14 MR. WARD: I would object and move to strike about his 15 current income, social security benefits. It's 16 non-responsive.

17 THE COURT: Sustained.

18 THE WITNESS: So -- so my life has just totally -- and 19 then living with -- with the constant pain. I'm constantly in 20 pain. At the end of my day, when I'm getting ready to sleep,
21 I have to put a CPAP machine on because my weight's changed.
22 I'm not the physical guy that I used to be. I try to do my 23 best, eating habits, eating fruits, vegetables. Changing
24 everything, because I -- I can't do enough to keep maintained.
25 So now when I go to sleep, here comes the CPAP machine.

1 Q Would you tell us what a CPAP machine is?

2 A A CPAP machine is a device that sends air into your
3 system when you go to bed. And it helps you to keep air in 4 your system so you can sleep better. And you can put, what
5 they call, little pillows on your nostrils or a mask, at least 6 the little ones that I have. And you place it on yourself to 7 go to sleep. And it diminishes a snoring or, in some places,
8 it's -- it helps you sleep.

9 Q And what they told you that you have was sleep
10 apnea?

11 A Correct.

12 MR. BAKER: Objection. Hearsay, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Overruled. Now, you Mr. Baker?

14 MR. BAKER: I had to do it.

15 THE COURT: You too?

16 MR. BAKER: I had to do it.

17 THE COURT: Overruled.

18 BY MR. WARD:

19 Q And how long have you had sleep apnea?

20 A I've had it for a couple of years now.

21 Q Okay. You had it before this accident; didn't you?

22 A No.

23 Q No?

24 A No.

2 A Not that I recall.

5 correct?

6 A Correct.

7 Q Now, I wanted to ask you, Mr. Rodriguez, we -- there
8 has been a little bit of confusion, perhaps, on my part. So,
9 I wanted to ask you about the way this accident happened. Is 10 it correct that the -- the item that we're talking about is a

12 A Correct.

13 Q A plastic water bottle?

14 A Correct.

16 A Correct.

17 Q Okay. We're talking about just the plastic part

19 A Correct.

5 A Yes.

8 A Correct.

9 Q Okay. And you were asked where your spouse was that

2           Q     And how long before you went to Las Vegas had that

5           Q     Did you wait until she was up and around and 6     comfortable before you went to Las Vegas?

7           A     Correct.

8           Q     So, by the time you got to Las Vegas, she was

10          A     Much better.

11          Q     In fact, you were both feeling pretty good because

17          Q     And that's because she wasn't feeling well?

18          A     She was in bed.

19          Q     Right. So, when you said she was at another casino,

21          A     Correct.

22          Q     Okay. And was she feeling poorly?

21 the incident occurred, was that you went to the Sportsbook and 22 you saw people throwing things around; is that right?

2 A Not that I heard.

2 not know who Randy Beavers was.

3 Q Okay. I accept all that. I'm just trying to get an 4 answer to my question.

5 A Okay.

6 Q And my question is -- well, let me ask you a
7 different way. You testified that at least six things had 8 been thrown into the audience before this incident had 9 occurred, right? So, you were aware that people were throwing
10 things into the audience, right?

11 A Correct.

12 Q So, my question is, did you think it was dangerous?

13 A No, I didn't.

14 Q No. If you had thought it was dangerous you would 15 have left, right?

16 A Yes, I would have left.

17 Q Okay. But a patron did something that was pretty 18 unusual?

19 A I believe so, absolutely.

20 Q Okay. You didn't know she was going to do that; did
21 you?

2 her chair until the water bottle was already on the ground;
3 isn't that right?

4 A It -- that's the way it happened.

5 Q Right. So, someone tossed a water bottle. It
6 landed on the floor. It was already on the floor. And after 7 it landed on the floor, this woman that you hadn't noticed
8 before, got out of her chair and ran over and jumped for the 9 water bottle, right?

10 A Correct.

11 Q And a complete surprise to you?

12 A Absolutely.

13 Q And as best as you can tell, a complete surprise to 14 everybody else who was there?

15 A Correct.

16 Q She wasn't racing to get a water bottle that was 17 flying through the air; was she?

18 A No.

19 Q Because the water bottle was already on the ground?

20 A Correct.

21 Q Now, after the incident occurred, the Palms called

6 words. What I meant the conclusion was, you -- you, not

21 you wanted them to do?

22          A     Correct.

5 A No.

6 Q So, you never told anyone you were angry because the 7 Palms had tried to get you to sign something?

8 A Yes, but it wasn't that. It was two papers that 9 said please, sign these, two contracts, that said release of 10 liability. Those were presented to me.

11 Q By whom?

12 A By security guards.

13 Q Who's security?

14 A The -- one of the security guards that refused to 15 call the ambulance. It was never medical.

16 Q And that person's name is what?

17 A I don't recall the person's name.

18 Q And where's the copy of the form you got?

19 A My attorneys have it and his signature is on the --

18 Q Okay. And, so, you walked over to the gurney and

1 A I don't -- I don't recall.

2 Q Was it Chase Manhattan Mortgage Company?

3 A I don't recall.

4 Q Now, how long had you lived there in that house?

5 A I'm going to say less than six months.

6 Q Less than six months. And that was at 996 Dahlia
7 Court?

8 A Yes.

9 Q In Hemet?

10 A Hemet.

11 Q And in the six months you had owned that house, or 12 less than six months that you owned that house, had you been 13 intending to sell it the whole time?

14 A Yes.

15 Q So, you bought that less than six months before
16 February of 2004?

17 A I believe so.

18 Q Yeah. Why did you sell it?

19 A Because the market was good.

20 Q It's that the only reason?

21 A Yeah.

22 Q Who'd you sell it to?

23 A My real estate agent sold it for me.

24 Q Okay. Was it in foreclosure?

25 A A lot of the properties that I buy may be in

1 foreclosure.

2 Q Right. No, I'm not asking about the properties you
3 buy. I'm asking about the property you sold. Was that
4 property, at 996 Dahlia Court, in foreclosure?

5 A I don't recall if that particular property was.

6 Q Okay. But you've lived in other -- other properties
7 that have been in foreclosure?

8 A Not typically.

9 Q But you -- but you have, maybe not typically --

10 A Not typically.

11 Q -- but you -- you -- but you have lived in other
12 properties that have been in foreclosure?

13 A Not typically.

14 Q Does that mean you've never lived in a property
15 that's been in foreclosure?

16 MR. BAKER: Relevance, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: I'm sort of wondering myself.

18 Mr. Ward, what's the relevance of this line of 19 questioning?

20 MR. WARD: The relevance is that this gentlemen is a real
21 estate investor and he has not been a real estate investor
22 since about nine months before this accident. And he is 23 claiming that his inability to be a real estate investor is a
24 result of this accident. And what I'm asking questions about 25 are things that relate directly to being a real estate

1 investor.

2 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

3 MR. BAKER: I -- I don't even understand that, Your
4 Honor. There's no relevance whether or not he lived in a
5 foreclosure house. He's explained the system of how real
6 estate investing works. What's the relevance of -- of living
7 in a foreclosed house?

8 THE COURT: Sustain the objection.

9 BY MR. WARD:

10 Q You have never owned a house since February of 2004;
11 isn't that correct?

12 MR. BAKER: The same objection, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: I'll allow that. I just hope we don't get 14 too far afield.

15 THE WITNESS: Repeat the question.

16 BY MR. WARD:

17 Q Sure. You've never owned a house since February of 18 2004?

19 A You're assassinating my character --

20 MR. BAKER: Enrique --

21 THE WITNESS: -- and I don't appreciate that.

22 MR. BAKER: Enrique, answer his question.

23 THE WITNESS: Yes, I have.

1 since November -- since February of 2004?

2 A Absolutely.

3 [Pause]

4 Q You weren't working between the time of -- between 5 February of 2004 and the time of this accident; isn't that
6 true?

7 A That's true.

8 Q Okay. And there wasn't any reason why you weren't 9 working?

10 A No.

11 Q You just weren't working?

12 A Correct.

13 Q And wasn't 2004 a pretty good time to sell real
14 estate?

15 A Correct.

16 Q Is there any reason now why you weren't working in 17 the industry?

18 A Well, that -- my business affords me the luxury of 19 making good money. That particular house and that particular
20 time, I was able to have over $100,000 of cash.

21 Q Okay.

22 A And me and Maria like to spend time with our 23 grandkids, with our foster kids, and that type of business
24 affords us that luxury. And whenever I want to pick up a
25 house, at that time I'm able to pick up a house. And whenever

1 I want to flip a house, I'm able to flip house. And that's
2 the reason.

3 Q When did you last have foster children?

4 A When my son graduated from Polly High School. And I
5 don't recall exactly what year that was.

6 Q Ten years ago?

7 A I'm going to say a little bit over ten years ago.

8 Q A little over ten years ago?

9 A Yes.

10 Q So, in the year 2004 you didn't have any foster
11 kids?

12 A No.

13 Q Now, you saw Dr. Nork?

14 A Correct.

15 Q Or after -- you got his name out of the -- from the 16 internet?

17 A Internet marketing, a publication.

18 Q And so you went to see Dr. Nork?

19 A Correct.

20 Q Did you have any records with you?

21 A Would you repeat that question?

22 Q Did you have any medical records with you?

23 A When I went to see him?

24 Q Right.

2 accident that you had been injured and you couldn't walk and
3 you went to the hospital by ambulance, correct?

4 A Correct.

5 Q And you told Dr. Nork that when you were examined by 6 Dr. Heaps that your knee was swollen?

7 A Okay.

8 Q Isn't that true?

9 A Correct. Correct.

10 Q You -- you told Dr. Nork that on the night of the 11 injury your knee was swollen?

12 A I don't recall.

13 Q Was anyone with you when you went to see Dr. Nork?

14 A I don't believe so.

15 Q Do you know of any place Dr. Nork would have gotten 16 his information other than from you?

17 A I don't believe so. I don't know.

18 Q Okay. Now, Dr. Nork saw you a couple of times?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And nothing Dr. Nork did seemed to help; isn't that

2 A Correct.

3 Q And you were still only complaining of knee pain;
4 isn't that correct?

5 A At that time, yes.

6 Q Okay. So, two months after the accident the -- the 7 only complaint you still had was knee?

8 A Correct.

9 Q And -- now, who's the next treater that you went to?

10 A If my memory serves me, there might be a Eric
11 Campbell, Simpson, someone in Wildomar.

12 Q Sure. How did you get to Eric Campbell?

13 A By car.

14 Q Okay. How did you -- how did you determine that you
15 were going to go see Eric Campbell?

16 A I don't recall.

17 Q Was he recommended by someone?

18 A I don't recall.

19 Q But you had -- Campbell was a chiropractor, correct?

20 A I don't recall his specialty.

21 Q Do you know whether he was a medical doctor or a
22 non-medical doctor?

2 of Dr. Nork?

3 A Because I did not feel comfortable with Dr. Nork and 4 what you would call bedside manners.

5 Q Okay. And somewhere along the line, you got -- some 6 testing done; is that correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And that testing was done at a place called MRI of 9 Inland; does that sound right?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And who sent you to MRI at Inland?

12 A I don't recall who referred me to that MRI of 13 Inland.

14 Q Okay. But you did have an MRI done?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And that was done on January 28, '05?

17 A I would believe so, yes.

18 Q Did you talk to anyone about what they found when 19 they did that MRI?

20 A Yes, I would've.

21 Q Okay. Who did you talk to?

22 A What year was this in?

3 Q Okay. So, you talked to someone there about the

5 A Correct.

6 Q And did you learn that they were going to send it to
7 someone else to read it again?

8 A I don't recall.

9 Q You don't recall?

10 A No.

11 Q So, you don't recall anyone explaining to you why
12 they were going to send these to someone else to read it
13 again?

14 A No, I don't recall.

15 Q Were you even aware of that?

16 A I don't recall.

17 Q And then you ended up going to Dr. Shannon, correct?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Did you ever see Dr. Simpson?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Why did you go to Dr. Simpson?

22 A Because I have continuous pain.

23 Q And why did you choose Dr. Simpson over
24 Dr. Campbell?

25 A They worked in the same office, the same building.

1 Q Did you make a conscious change to go to another
2 treater there?

3 A A conscious change? They -- they were in the same
4 group.

5 Q Okay. Here's -- here's what I'm trying to ask;
6 sometimes I go to my doctor and he's on vacation or whatever
7 and some other doctor sees me. Other times I go in and say
8 I'd like to see a different doctor. I'm just trying to figure 9 out how --

10 A It pretty happened like that. I think -- I -- from 11 what I recall, I think one of them was -- had an office in 12 Carson, California, 90 miles away, and he wasn't there one
13 day, so it kind of worked out like that.

14 Q Now, that's it -- I'm just trying to find out.

15 A Yeah.

16 Q Okay.

17 A Pretty much like that.

18 Q Okay. And, so, it was mostly convenience issue?

19 A Convenience, yes.

20 Q Okay. And then you left that group and went to see
21 Dr. Shannon?

22 A Correct.

23 Q Now, why did you do that?

24 A That was during the time that I was needing my

3 A I went -- repeat that again.

4 Q Sure. Are you telling me that you went to 5 Dr. Shannon to do the surgery before you'd seen Dr. Shannon?

6 A No.

7 Q So, then why did you change and go to Dr. Shannon?

8 A I'm getting a little confused here.

9 Q Sure. Want me to go back?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Okay. You were seeing Dr. Campbell, and then you

14 A Yes.

18 A Correct.

19 Q And before you went to Dr. Shannon, you didn't know

21 A Correct.

22 Q So, why did you go to Dr. Shannon? Why did you
23 leave the Wellness Clinic that had Dr. Campbell and

1 surgery for me. That's why.

2 Q And, so, you wanted to go to a doctor who would do

4 A Exactly.

5 Q And that's why you went to the Dr. Shannon in the 6 hopes that you could persuade her to do surgery?

7 MR. BAKER: That's argumentative, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Well, perhaps you could rephrase it,
9 Mr. Ward.

10 MR. WARD: Sure. Yeah.

11 BY MR. WARD:

12 Q Hadn't you talked to Dr. Simpson about doing surgery

14 A I went for evaluations.

15 Q Okay. And did they recommend surgery?

16 A Well, they -- I was evaluated.

17 Q Uh-huh.

18 A And I was working through the other attorneys at
19 that time.

20 Q Okay. Well -- so, who recommended that you go see
21 Dr. Shannon?

22 A That was what we spoke about with the other law firm

2 Q With the idea that Dr. Shannon would operate on you?

3 MR. BAKER: Again, Your Honor, that's argumentative and
4 speculative and lack of --

5 THE COURT: Well, I think maybe sustain and ask you to 6 rephrase it.

7 BY MR. WARD:

8 Q Sure. What -- when -- when the -- when you went to 9 the other law firm, what did they tell you about Dr. Shannon?

10 A Well, they said that they recommend and they speak
11 highly of an orthopedic specialist in Las Vegas that they've 12 dealt with before, and go speak to her. And that's basically
13 what I did. But during that time, nothing got done. So --

14 Q Right. And I'm -- and you're jumping ahead. And I
15 apologize if my questions are maybe are doing that. But what 16 I'm trying to get to is, I'm -- you said that once you got 17 there the surgery didn't happen right away. I'm trying to 18 find out before you went there. That's the area of time that 19 I'm talking about, before you saw Dr. Shannon for the very 20 first time. I'm trying to find out why it was you left
21 Dr. Simpson and went to see Dr. Shannon. Why that change?

22 A Because of -- they were not going to do the surgery
23 and after meeting those doctors, I'm the type of person that
24 likes to be comfortable with doctors. And personally, myself,
25 I went on the internet and did some research on one of those

2 So, I didn't want to continue with that particular doctor.

3 Q And, so, the reason you left the Wellness Clinic and 4 went to see Dr. Shannon was because you didn't like something
5 you'd found about the Wellness Clinic?

6 A Correct.

7 Q And, now, before you went to see Dr. Shannon, did
8 you have any additional diagnostic testing performed?

9 A I don't recall.

7 A Correct.

8 Q And I'm not talking about -- I'm not trying to turn
9 you into an MRI expert. I just mean, what you experience when 10 you go get an MRI is different from getting x-rays?

11 A Correct.

12 Q So, you had x-rays on the night of the accident and 13 then you had an MRI that was conducted on January 28th, 2005?

14 A Correct.

15 Q And when that happened that's when you lay back on a

1 how the lady hit my knee, how I fell back, how I twisted, how
2 my body torqued, and how I hit the gentlemen. How they wrote
3 it down, I don't know.

4 Q When they asked where you had pain, you didn't tell
5 them that you had any pain in your neck; isn't that true?

6 A My pain primarily, at that time, was in my knee.

7 Q Isn't it true you that you did not tell them that
8 you had any pain in your neck?

9 A I don't recall.

10 Q Isn't it true that you did not tell them that you
11 had any pain in your back?

12 A I recall telling them that my knee was hurt, my shin
13 was hurt where her whole body hit my lower -- my knee and I
14 twisted and at that time I might not have felt the immediate 15 pain to those areas, but they were there because I couldn't
16 walk at that time.

17 Q So, is it true, then, that you didn't tell them you
18 had pain in your back?

19 A You can -- you can phrase it that way.

20 Q Well, isn't that true?

21 A It could be phrased that way, correct.

22 Q Okay. And isn't it true you didn't tell them you
23 had pain in your neck?

24 A It can be phrased that way, correct.

25 Q And when you saw Dr. Heaps that night?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And you saw Heap's nurse?

3 A I believe so.

4 Q And you talked to both of them?

5 A Correct.

6 Q And you didn't tell either one of them you had pain
7 in your neck?

8 A I explained to them exactly how I explained, and at 9 that moment, my primary pain and concern was in my knee.

10 Q And isn't it true that you did not tell them that
11 you had any pain in your neck?

12 MR. BAKER: Hasn't this been asked and answered?

13 THE COURT: Yes. Sustained.

14 BY MR. WARD:

15 Q Isn't it true that you didn't tell them you had any 16 pain in your back?

17 MR. BAKER: Same objection, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: I think we've already covered this. And I
19 think he's answered the question, so sustain the objection.

20 BY MR. WARD:

21 Q You saw Dr. Nork?

22 A Correct.

23 Q A week or two later? Isn't it true that you didn't
24 tell Dr. Nork that you had any pain in your neck?

25 A No, that's not true.

2 had any pain in your back?

3 A No, I don't believe so.

4 Q Did you fill out a -- a pain drawing with Dr. Nork?

5 A I'm sure --

6 Q You know what a pain drawing is?

7 A -- I did, yeah.

8 Q You know what a pain drawing is?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And -- and the -- it's a -- it's like a body?

11 A Yeah.

12 Q And you're asked to put down the areas of your body
13 that you have complaints about?

14 A Correct.

15 Q And when you saw Dr. Nork, the only thing that you
16 checked was the knee, right?

17 A I don't recall.

18 Q You don't recall that?

19 A No. If I see it, I might recall it.

20 Q Okay. Now, when you saw Dr. Tauber, you told
21 Dr. Tauber that you got out, but you were not able to walk;
22 isn't that correct?

23 A When I saw Tauber -- repeat that again, please.

1 A Possibly, yes.

2 Q And you told Dr. Tauber that you had injured your 3 neck and your back and your knee in that accident; isn't that
4 true?

5 A Correct.

6 Q Who did you see for sleep apnea?

7 MR. BAKER: Objection, Your Honor. Relevance for sleep
8 apnea. That's not going to be part of our case-in-chief.

9 THE COURT: What's the relevance, Mr. Ward?

10 MR. WARD: The relevance is that this witness has been
11 claiming that it's part of the things related to this injury
12 and I will demonstrate that it's one of the conditions that he
13 had prior to this accident.

14 MR. BAKER: I'll stipulate to that. I'm not -- I'm not 15 intending to admit to that.

16 MR. WARD: Well, the witness just denied that it ever
17 happened. So, it -- then it's become a credibility issue.

18 MR. BAKER: I'm not sure I'm following this kind of 19 questioning. He's -- first of all, asking him for a medical 20 connotation of whether or not he's saying he had the sleep
21 apnea that's related to this accident.

22 MR. WARD: I'm not asking him for medic- -- I apologize,

2 subject matter and he should be able to question him on sleep

5 think Counsel's already made the point with respect to the

8 THE COURT: I'll ask that you move on, Mr. Ward.

9 MR. WARD: Yes, Your Honor.

10 BY MR. WARD:

11 Q Now, Mr. Rodriguez, isn't it true that earlier in 12 this litigation that you did not have any federal tax returns
13 to provide to us for analysis?

14 A Correct.

15 Q And you met with an expert and that expert's name
16 was Mr. Dineen?

17 A Correct.

18 Q And you saw him out here in the hallway earlier?

19 A Correct.

20 Q And you met with Mr. Dineen in 2008?

21 A Correct.

2 paperwork that I had.

3           Q     And because he was going to take a look at your
4 information and come in and tell the Court about your -- your
5 loss of earning capacity or your wage loss; isn't that right?

6           A     Correct.

7           Q     And, so, he told you that he needed information?

8           A     Correct.

9           Q     And -- and you told -- he told you that he needed a
10 tax return from you for the year 2004?

11          A     He wanted to provide -- he want me to provide
12 information.

13          Q     Right. And he specifically asked you for tax
14 returns, correct?

15          A     Correct.

16          Q     And, in particular, he asked from you for tax
17 returns for 2004?

18          A     No, not -- he just asked me for tax returns.

19          Q     Okay. Did he ask you for tax returns from the 20 period of 1999 to 2004?

21          A     I don't recall.

6 Q The -- the tax return that you gave for Mister -- to 7 Mr. Dineen for the year 2004 was signed by you in 2009; isn't
8 that right?

9 A It was prepared, yeah, and signed.

10 Q In 2009?

11 A Correct.

12 Q Yeah, not before?

13 A Correct.

14 Q In 2009 is five years after 2004; isn't it?

15 A Correct.

16 Q And the tax return from 2001 was also prepared in 17 2009; isn't that right?

18 A Correct.

19 Q And how about the tax return from 1999; when was 20 that prepared?

21 A I don't recall what -- what date.

22 Q And there was no tax return for 2002 and 2003; isn't

15 Q You've sold well over 100 houses?

17 Q And 2004 was probably one of the hottest years for 18 real estate investors, such as yourself, since you've been 19 doing that; isn't that true?

20 A Correct.

21 Q And you didn't do anything in 2004 after you sold

4 not that type of expert.

5 THE COURT: What kind of evidence are we going to hear
6 about lost wages?

7 MR. BAKER: Do you want me to summarize for the Court?

8 THE COURT: Yes.

9 MR. BAKER: That a -- to the best that I understand it,
10 Your Honor, that there will be some evidence of the houses
11 that he had sold, some transactional evidence which gave a
12 high, about $208,000, that Mr. Dineen did not utilize that

14 were the basis of -- of them establishing earning capacity.
15 But rather took an average, which was cumulative, of all of 16 the information that he had for sales, plus CPI and standard

18 his age.

19 THE COURT: Now, I forgot what your objection was,
20 Mr. Baker.

21 MR. BAKER: My objection --

22 THE COURT: I'm so sorry.

2 realm of either a vocational rehabilitationist or a vocational

6 THE COURT: Mr. Ward --

7 MR. WARD: That's not what I'm trying to do.

8 THE COURT: -- do you remember your question?

9 MR. WARD: Oh, I do remember my question. That's not 10 what I'm trying to do.

11 THE COURT: Could you repeat your question to me again?

12 MR. WARD: Sure. Did you -- actually, I can't remember
13 my question. I know where I was going, but I can't remember
14 my specific question.

15 THE COURT: All right. Let's proceed then.

16 BY MR. WARD:

17 Q I want to ask you some very basic questions in this 18 area, Mr. Rodriguez. You've been a real estate investor for, 19 what, 20 years?

20 A Correct.

21 Q Now, what a real estate investor does, such as 22 yourself, is to buy and sell houses; is that correct?

23 A Correct.

24 Q Okay. You don't -- you haven't dealt in the 25 commercial market?

1 A No, I prefer residential.

2 Q Right. Right. Okay. And, so, you have bought and 3 sold houses?

4 A Correct.

5 Q Now, to -- you have some basic understanding of how
6 to make money in the real estate market; isn't that correct?

7 A Correct.

8 Q Okay. So, I'm just going to ask you about some 9 basics. We're going to figure out how much money you earn, as 10 a real estate investor, on any particular sale. One of the 11 things we're going to need to know is what you sold a house
12 for, correct?

13 A Correct.

14 Q One of the other things we're going to need to know
15 is how much you paid for the house, correct?

16 A Correct.

17 Q One of the things we're going to need to know is how 18 long you owned the house?

19 MR. BAKER: And -- and, Your Honor, I just want to show
20 that the record is reflecting that these questions are being 21 asked from the perspective of -- if a real estate investor
22 wants to know how much his income loss was, that he might need
23 to -- need these things, not other experts in the area of 24 calculating wage loss or economic wise.

25 THE COURT: Very well. Please, proceed, Mr. Ward.

2 BY MR. WARD:

3 Q So, we need to know how long you owned the house,
4 correct?

5 A Correct.

6 Q I mean, there's a cost of money, right? And we need
7 to know how much work or money you put into the house between 8 the time you bought it and the time you sold it?

9 A Correct.

10 Q And that's -- that's the basics of what we're going
11 to need to know, whether you're making money as a real estate
12 investor; isn't that correct?

13 A Correct.

14 Q Things like real estate commissions, those kinds of 15 things are usually covered on the closing costs?

16 A Correct.

17 Q They -- they printout in the escrow statement. But 18 the escrow statement doesn't tell you what you pay for the 19 house. The escrow statement doesn't tell you how much work
20 you put in the house. The escrow statement doesn't tell you
21 how long you owned the house; isn't that true?

22 A Correct, typically.

23 Q It tells you -- it tells you what you sold the house
24 for. It tells you if there's going to be any termite work
25 taken out of the escrow. It tells you what the real -- what

2 you how much loans and fees you have to pay out, correct?

3 A Correct.

4 Q Okay. But you have to know these other things that
5 I was talking about, how much you paid for the house, how much
6 you put into the house, and how long you owned the house to be 7 able to get some basic calculations as to whether you're
8 making money as real estate investor or not, correct?

9 A Correct.

10 Q And, so, did you provide all of that information to 11 Mr. Dineen?

12 A Correct.

13 Q You provided him all that information so he could 14 calculate what your earnings were for the year 2004?

15 A Correct.

16 Q And you provided him with all the information so
17 that he could calculate what your earnings were for 2003?

18 A Correct.

19 Q And 2002, 1, 2000, and 1999 as well?

20 A Correct.

21 Q Okay. Now, did Mister -- did Mr. Dineen tell you

9 Q Did you ever do that?

10 A Repeat the last one.

11 Q Sure. Did you ever do that?

12 A My accountant prepared all my taxes.

13 Q Right. That's not my question. My question is,

15 tax returns to give him is you could write to the federal 16 government and they would give you copies of any tax returns
17 that you had filed --

18 A Uh-huh.

19 Q Right, he told you that?

20 A Yes.

21 Q So, my question is, did you do that?

9 A I don't recall.

10 Q Okay. So, you don't know anything about that, those

13 Q Okay. And is it your testimony that you haven't 14 been able to do anything with respect to buying and selling

16 A Correct.

17 Q Because of the injuries you sustained?

18 A Correct.

19 Q Can you ride in cars?

21 Q Have you attempted to drive around some

3 A Yes.

6 A No.

7 Q Why not?

8 A Because I don't have any income to buy houses.

9 Q Has that been the case since February of 2004?

10 A At that time, like I said before, I chose to spend
11 time with my family, my grandkids, and it was different then.

Proceedings recorded by audio-visual recording, transcript produced by transcription service.

1 THE COURT: Okay, thank you.

2 MR. WARD: Good morning, Your Honor. K.C. Ward. I
3 represent the Palms. My paralegal Virginia Lowe [phonetic].

4 THE COURT: Good morning.

5 MR. WARD: She will be assisting me with -- to try
6 to hold down on the fumbling of documents and things.

7 THE COURT: Nice to have -- nice to have some help,
8 isn't it, Mr. Ward?

9 MR. WARD: Yes, it is. Someone who does this a lot
10 better than I do.

11 THE COURT: Do you have a representative here as 12 well?

13 MR. WARD: My representative is here, Vicki Coenga
14 (phonetic) from the Palms.

15 THE COURT: Good morning. Who else is present?

16 MR. WARD: And we have a trial observer who is not a 17 -- not a party or affiliated with the party and won't be 18 testifying as a witness.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Someone you've made arrangements
20 to be here?

21 MR. WARD: Yes.

22 THE COURT: Oh, okay. Very well. This is the time
23 set for trial. Are the parties ready to proceed?

24 MR. WARD: Yes, Your Honor.

25 MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Very well. Mr. Baker.

2 PLAINTIFF'S OPENING STATEMENT

3 MR. BAKER: Good morning, Your Honor. Counsel --
4 and it could please the Court, would you like me to approach
5 the lectern?

6 THE COURT: Wherever you would like, Mr. Baker.

7 MR. BAKER: You know I'm going to be wondering
8 around a little bit.

9 THE COURT: That's fine.

10 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this is Enrique Rodriguez.
11 He lives in Riverside, California with his long-term partner,
12 Maria. They've been together since 1983.

13 And in the middle of 19 -- excuse me, in the middle
14 of 2004, they were doing pretty good. He had a nice business,
15 he was selling real estate at the time. He had a very good
16 relationship with his significant other, they had been 17 together for about 20 years at the time. He comes from a very 18 nice, large family which is very social and a great support
19 mechanism. He was living a nice life.

20 Unfortunately, and thank God not tragically, at one
21 point in time Maria was found to have some lumps in her breast
22 and they removed those lumps and when they were biopsied, they 23 were found not to be cancer.

24 And in celebration, Enrique brought her to Las 25 Vegas. She still wasn't feeling that good. They drove into

1 town and checked into Harrah's. Maria wasn't feeling very
2 well and he tucked her into bed. And she said, you know, go
3 out and have a good time, go find one of your friends.

4 He went to find his friend and he couldn't. And 5 then was driving down Flamingo; is that right? And saw the 6 big marquee outside that said Monday night football. And 7 especially, it was Monday night football frenzy with Brandy
8 Beavers. And Brandy was a kind of rah, rah promotional girl
9 for Monday night football at the Palms.

10 He was standing in the Sports Book area. And you're 11 familiar with the Sports Book areas. It's TV monitors, a bar
12 area, and there were promotional tables set up. And Brandy
13 Beaver and several other promotional girls were kind of trying 14 to invigorate the crowd, getting going, getting into the ball
15 game and throwing promotional items out into the crowd.

16 And it's important for this Court to understand that 17 this Monday night football used to occur in a very large room
18 called the Key West Room which -- you know what, Your Honor,
19 can I evoke the exclusionary rule?

20 THE COURT: Sure. Any witnesses who are present
21 who --

22 MR. WARD: Your Honor, she's the corporate
23 representative. The corporate representative is allowed to be 24 just like a party, is allowed to --

25 MR. BAKER: I agree with that, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: That's true, Mr. Ward, I agree.

2 MR. BAKER: I forgot, K.C. Used to be in a large
3 room which was the Key West Room, about 8,000 square feet.
4 And promotional items were thrown in that room and Sherry Long
5 (phonetic), who is the director of promotions at the Palms,
6 will testify to you that she thought that was wrong, that 7 promotional items should not be thrown out into the crowd and 8 she has testified because it's foreseeable that someone could 9 get hurt as a result of these promotional items being thrown.

10 Apparently, she had a meeting with other people
11 within the Palms Hotel and said, "We can have these 12 promotional parties, but I don't want promotional items being 13 thrown out." And then the promotion was then moved from the 14 Key West Room into the Sports Bar, which is a much smaller,
15 more contained area, a lot less walkable room, a lot less room
16 to move about.

17 However, promotional items were still being thrown
18 by Brandy Beavers in the Sports Bar on the night that Enrique
19 Rodriguez arrived at the Palm.

20 Brandy Beavers has testified that the Palms knew she 21 threw the promotional items. As a matter of fact, they even 22 erected field goal in the Sports Book area in order to throw
23 these promotional items, and that she spoke regularly and 24 consistently with a Denise and I can't really pronounce her
25 last name, who is in the promotion department at the Palms,

1 and Denise completely said, go ahead, throw the promotional
2 items. We're there to make money, we want to get the crowd
3 kind of revved up for Monday night football.

4           Brandy Beavers is an interesting girl. She's a
5 party and she was defaulted. She did a live reality
6 television show about Vegas. She's appeared on Howard Stern.
7 Very nice girl, but she understood it was her role there to 8 invigorate the audience. I believe she might have said get 9 them rowdy, something of that type, and to get things moving.

10           And in order to do that, she brought in these small,
11 either Coors or Palms water bottles, threw them while Enrique
12 was standing there watching the game on television,
13 essentially minding his own business.

14           A woman, then, who Brandy Beavers has testified was 15 drunk, that she had seen at several of these promotional 16 events drunk. She assumes that she was a homeless person who 17 -- one of those people who kind of feed off of the casinos and 18 get the promotional items and eat the free food, they gave out
19 free drink tickets at the promotional event, went to leap for 20 a water bottle, hit Enrique on the side of his knee, causing 21 his body to torque and rotate, falling into several other
22 patients at the -- several other patrons at the Sports Bar.
23 He immediately reported pain to his knee.

24           Security came over, and at that time asked if he 25 wanted to be transported. He said, "No, I think I'll be

1 okay," and after sitting for a little while, recognized he had
2 a real problem with his knee and asked for transportation to 3 the hospital.

4 He was transported to the hospital. And I'm going
5 to read certain testimony by a Dr. Nathan Heaps, I've 6 subpoenaed him for trial today, but he's not able to attend
7 and I have an affidavit for you.

8 He was the emergency room doctor. Again, a very 9 nice, young emergency room doctor. And he testified that he
10 palpated Enrique's knee, found pain immediately right above
11 the meniscus area, which is the subject of his knee injury,
12 and diagnosed him at that time as having torn tissue inside of 13 his knee.

14 Enrique stayed in town for another day or so and 15 Maria drove him back to California and he sought treatment by 16 a Dr. Nork (phonetic) who is a doctor in California who he 17 found on the internet. Dr. Nork sent him to physical therapy
18 at Rancho Physical Therapy. And the physical therapy records
19 will show that he had no real improvement in his pain
20 condition.

21 He came back to Las Vegas and hired a lawyer. His 22 lawyer introduced him to Mary Ann Shannon, who is an 23 orthopedic surgeon in town and I know that she's testified in 24 this court before. MRIs were taken. A medial meniscus tear,
25 and posterior torn [inaudible] in exactly the same place that

1 Dr. Heaps noted it, was found on MRI examination and she
2 scheduled him for surgery.

3 Now, unfortunately, and this is something I
4 typically wouldn't talk about at a jury trial, but I think
5 it's appropriate for the bench to know.

6 Enrique was represented by a different group of 7 attorneys at that same time, and apparently whatever they
8 needed to do to have Dr. Shannon sign off on the surgery, I
9 don't know if it was lien basis, or if it was a funding issue,
10 they were unable to accomplish.

11 And Enrique had his surgery in 10/4 of '05,
12 approximately six to seven months after he first saw Dr.
13 Shannon, for the reason that apparently he was calling and 14 calling and seeing how to get this set up, they could not set 15 up the surgery. He came to our office and we were able to get
16 a lien base surgery done by Dr. Shannon.

17 She performed the surgery. The technique was good,
18 seemed like everything was well, but he never seemed to get
19 better. His knee just keep -- seemed to be aching him in a
20 mechanical way. And he'll testify that he experienced this 21 pain that felt to him like a screwdriver being wiggled into 22 his knee, and dug around in his knee, a constant pain.

23 And during the time between the accident which
24 occurred in November of '04, and when he had his knee surgery
25 from Dr. Shannon in 10 of '05, he was just miserable. He --

1 do you have a question, Your Honor?

2 THE COURT: No.

3 MR. BAKER: He was gaining weight, because he wasn't
4 able to be active and mobile anymore. It happens to some of 5 the best of us, I think.

6 But some more significant things were happening, is 7 he couldn't walk and put full weight on his leg, so he used a
8 variety of different assisted devices. He had a cane. And 9 you'll see in the medical records and the doctors will
10 testify, about three months into this, he started complaining 11 of tingling and numbness in his hands to his doctor in 12 California.

13 And he got into a cycle where he would switch hands
14 with the cane, and then switch back and sometimes use crutches
15 and then sometimes switch back to the cane and then sometimes 16 try to walk, even though he has, and you'll notice and the 17 doctors and the doctors note, a pronounced limp without an 18 assisted device.

19 And over time, the doctors will testify, there's 20 just this cascading effect where he developed a carpal tunnel
21 syndrome bilaterally in his hands. And then he would switch
22 to the crutches, and his back began to ache, and his neck
23 began to ache because of postural changes. And there's a very
24 clear record of all of this, Your Honor.

25 In 10 of '05, he went to see a chiropractor called

1 Dr. Nicola. And Dr. Nicola took X-rays from a chiropractic
2 point of view. And those X-rays were read by Strehlow
3 Radiology. And those X-rays noticed a change in the 4 biomechanical structure of his cervical area and his back, and
5 they specified that it was due to postural changes.

6 Now, the issue is, is there's a gap in the 7 treatment; the gap from when he first started complaining of 8 his neck and back pain, and when he first had those entered
9 into the medical records.

10 But you'll see a very interesting note by Dr.
11 Mortillaro, who I also know who has also testified in this
12 court. And the Court knows Dr. Mortillaro is a
13 neuropsychologist, and he does a very, kind of, exquisite job
14 of taking patient history. And he has a form to fill out that 15 asks questions like are you happy with your medical treatment,
16 are you happy with your doctors, do you think you're getting
17 the right medical treatment.

18 And in October of '05, after the note of the 19 postural changes on the X-ray, after seven months of cane to 20 crutches, to limping, to cane, to weight gain, 45 pound weight
21 gain during this period of time, he writes in Dr. Mortillaro's
22 intake that he's happy with his doctors. He thinks they're 23 doing a good job for him with respect to what they're 24 treating. But he feels that they're overlooking caring for 25 his neck and his back. And he wrote that to Dr. Mortillaro.

1 I wish I could say that things got better for him
2 around this point in time. He went to see Dr. Kidwell and Dr.
3 Shifini first for his knee and was -- ultimately went to a Dr.
4 Jacob Taubert, who is coming in from L.A. to testify, who is a
5 doctor in Los Angeles who performed a second knee surgery, so
6 a second traumatic assault to this knee in February of '06.

7 And you'll see and you'll hear from Dr. Taubert, it
8 was a repair to the posterior horn of the medial meniscus, a
9 very frequently seen post-surgical change in somebody
10 requiring additional surgery.

11 And this is, unfortunately, where Enrique's story
12 gets sad is the pain he had, which was the constant kind of 13 grinding, like a screwdriver being placed into his knee,
14 became a burning, horrible pain that wouldn't go away.

15 He noticed that he would feel pain, which the 16 doctors will testify is called an allodynia, where everything
17 seems to make your knee hurt. If you touch it, it seems to 18 make your knee hurt. Putting on clothes is excruciatingly
19 painful.

20 He had hyperesthesia which is that the pain was more
21 than you would reasonably expect. His toenails started
22 growing at different lengths. His skin became waxy on his
23 leg. He began losing hair on his leg. And he was sent by a
24 doctor to see the head pain specialist at UCLA Medical Center,
25 which is Dr. Ferrante who diagnosed him at that time with RSD.

1 And I know the Court is familiar with RSD, as well.

2 RSD is reflex sympathetic dystrophy. It's a disease
3 that happens, this will be explained, when the nerves in both
4 the autonomic nervous system, motor nerves, sensory nerves,
5 the system is just kind of tilted for some reason.

6 Those nerves interrelate with respect to their 7 function, and things like motor impulses which should normally
8 have no sensory component begin to have a sensory component.
9 And because it's sympathetically mediated, meaning it's coming
10 through the sympathetic nervous system, the same nervous
11 system that has the fight or flight type of response to it, he 12 had completely objective, sympathetically mediated component
13 to his pain, which was, his doctors measured his two legs and 14 his two legs were of different temperature. They appeared a
15 different color.

16 And based upon that, he met five of the criterion of 17 the six criteria for having a reflect sympathetic dystrophy.
18 That was with Dr. Miller and Dr. Ferrante in California.

19 He came back to Nevada to see Joe Shifini. And Dr.
20 Joe Shifini is a pain management doctor. And Dr. Shifini gave 21 him initially a sympathetic block.

22 That sympathetic block did not resolve his pain,
23 which is usually diagnostic. So Dr. Shifini said, well,
24 perhaps the sympathetic component is not there; it might not
25 be a true RSD anymore, but it is a complex regional pain

1 syndrome, which is like RSD, but instead of being mediated
2 through the sympathetic nerve, it is mediated through that
3 constellation of autonomic nerves, parasympathetic nerves,
4 motor nerves and sensory nerves.

5           So he said, let's see what we can do to help this
6 guy. Let's see if we can help. And I'm going to put in a
7 temporary pain stimulator for him. And you'll hear evidence
8 that the temporary pain stimulator has two purposes. One is 9 to diagnostic.

10           If you have a neurologically mediated pain and it
11 turns it off, well, then you know it's a neurological pain.
12 And second is, it works to relieve that pain. And for the 13 first time when he put it in, in a couple of years, Enrique
14 had 100 percent resolution of the pain in his knee, and an 80
15 percent resolution of the pain that was mechanical to his
16 back. And it was just -- it was a wonderful break for him.

17           Unfortunately, the aspect of that was it was 18 temporary. And he was sent to get a referral to have a
19 permanent pain stimulator put in by Dr. Shifini to Dr. Badder
20 (phonetic), who said, yeah, great idea, let's get him the 21 permanent pain relief. Let's put in the permanent pain
22 stimulator.

23           And at this point in time, it's -- are you okay? At 24 this point in time it just gets sad again, because we've been 25 unable to get the funding to have the pain stimulator put in

1 and he's been waiting for that period of time to come to this
2 Court and put his case before you, and see if we can get him
3 some resolution of the excruciating, burning sympathetic pain
4 that he's been in since the day of this accident.

5 The witnesses that we're going to call are some from 6 the Palms. And you're going to hear from Vicki, who's last
7 name I can never pronounce.

8 MS. COENGA: Coenga (phonetic).

9 MR. BAKER: Coenga? Thank you, Vicki. Vicki and 10 Coenga. And Vicki has testified that she was the risk manager
11 at the Palms. She started in security and is familiar with 12 the security department of the Palms. She was the risk
13 coordinator at the Palms at this time that it happened.

14 She'll talk about the fact that she has admitted on 15 behalf of the corporation that Palms had this duty to provide
16 a reasonably safe environment within their hotel.

17 She'll tell you that they never got a separate event
18 manual setting out protocol for safety at any of these 19 promotional events. And she'll tell you that in her opinion,
20 as a risk manager and as an ex-security person at the hotel,
21 that it was inappropriate to throw items out, promotional
22 items, in the context of that small, or smaller, sports bar.

23 She'll tell you also that if there were security
24 guards in the area, she would expect the security guards, from 25 her position, to stop people from throwing promotional items

1 inside a crowded bar area. She will also tell you that they
2 were never trained, anything at the hotel, specific to crowd
3 control and she'll have no opinion about Enrique's injuries.

4           You'll then hear from Sherry Long. Sherry is also a
5 very nice woman. She worked for years in advertisement at the 6 Palace Station. Then she went over to the Palms when it
7 opened up in October of '01. She was the -- excuse me, she 8 was the director of marketing. And again, as the director of 9 marketing, she never received any specific training from the 10 Palms and crowd control, or in policies and procedure to 11 promote safety, there's a lot of "P's," at these promotional
12 events.

13           She was in charge at the time of this incident of 14 all advertising, club promotions, special events and 15 entertainment at the Palms with a budget of one and a half to 16 two million dollars.

17           And the reason that she moved the event from the Key
18 West room, that larger room, into the sports bar area, or the 19 Sports Book area was to reduce the expense in her promotional
20 budget of holding that in the larger room, of having to put up
21 TVs and do the remainder, even though that room had a much
22 greater moving area or walking area or free area for people in 23 the bar.

24           She'll testify, too, that the purpose of the Monday
25 night football was simply, you know, to increase patronage.

1 You want people to get in there, you want them to spend, and
2 then you want them to buy. And she'll tell you again that the 3 promotion department had no separate safety manual. They had
4 no staff meetings with respect to how do we run these events
5 in a safe and reasonable way.

6           And most importantly, she'll admit to you that she
7 thought that it was inappropriate for promotional items to be 8 thrown, that it was beneath the standard of care for 9 promotional items to be thrown, that they knew that it was a
10 foreseeable risk of harm if promotional items -- and she 11 alleges at one point in time she had a meeting specifically to 12 say, promotional items should not be thrown with a woman that 13 I talked to named Denise who is also there.

14           And Brandy Beavers' testimony will show you very 15 clearly that her guideline was to throw these promotional 16 devices, do anything that you need to do to get people up and 17 moving.

18           In summary, with respect to what the evidence is 19 going to show, the evidence is going to show that this was 20 really avoidable, that the circumstances were unfortunate.
21 That this is very foreseeable with respect to the injury, and 22 the best evidence of that is the promotional director saying,
23 yeah, it was foreseeable.

24           And they also changed that practice after this
25 incident occurred where promotional items are no longer

1 allowed to be thrown. And Brandy Beavers will testify, too,
2 that that didn't happen until after the incident with Enrique
3 happened.

4 So where does that leave him? I mean, Enrique was 5 innocent, standing, watching a football game with his
6 significant other tucked into a bed after her surgery.

7 And if anyone was minding their own business, nobody
8 standing like this, watching a television could be more
9 minding their own business.

10 And he was struck through no fault of his own and 11 has very significant injuries with apparently around $500,000
12 worth of past meds. And a life care plan that I'm going to 13 put on to you through Terry Denene (phonetic) and Kathleen 14 Hartman which they're adjusting it slightly right now for 15 present dollar value, and K.C. had the opportunity to take
16 their depositions.

17 And you'll hear about future economic damages and 18 life care plan probably about in the million and a half range.
19 We're backing out some of the treatment based upon some of the 20 doctors' testimony, or anticipated testimony.

21 And we thank you for your time.

22 I'm going to try to direct this in as streamlined a
23 way for you. We'll be calling Dr. Shifini, who will testify
24 to his treatment of the knee and to the existence of RSD. Dr.
25 Shifini will testify with respect also to his review, excuse

1 me, of the records which includes Dr. Miller and Dr.
2 Ferrante's records who diagnosed RSD. So that's three
3 doctors. Dr. Thalgott said RSD is a very reasonable
4 diagnosis, so that's four doctors.

5 Dr. Kidwell will speak to you about not only the 6 treatment that he rendered to Enrique, but just about how 7 normal the course of his treatment was with respect of the 8 evidencing of the neck and the back pain, how that change in 9 mechanical gait almost invariably caused that.

10 And, in fact, he'll share with a study that he's 11 aware of that if you put a lift in someone's shoe, in one
12 shoe, a person with a heavy back and if it alters there gait,
13 they're going to experience lumbar and cervical problems over
14 time.

15 You'll hear from Terry Denene who will do the 16 economic losses and discount to present dollar value the life
17 care plan. Kathleen Hartman, who is the life care planner,
18 she's a registered nurse who reviewed the medical records for 19 the doctors' recommendations of the future medical care needs
20 for Enrique.

21 And am I forgetting anybody, Rob? Rob doesn't think 22 I'm forgetting anybody. So, Your Honor, I appreciate it and 23 we'll get to it.

24 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Baker. Mr. Ward?

25 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, before K.C. starts, can Mr.

1 Rodriguez have permission to stand up at times and move
2 around?

3 THE COURT: Yes, feel free to do so, sir.

4 THE DEFENDANT: Thank you, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: If you need to leave the courtroom, feel
6 free to do so as well.

7 THE DEFENDANT: Thank you, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 DEFENDANT'S OPENING STATEMENT

10 MR. WARD: Good morning, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Good morning, Mr. Ward.

12 MR. WARD: Your Honor, the -- the opening statement
13 given by Mr. Baker and I'm -- I might add that in the event
14 there's any confusion, I have a great deal of respect for Mr.
15 Baker. He and I have been getting along just fine in this 16 litigation. So this is not about kids fighting as sometimes 17 trials appear to be.

18 The opening statement of Mr. Baker illustrates 19 exactly what Your Honor's going to hear in this case. And 20 what that is, is that there's a whole bunch of people that are 21 going to get up and say things, they're going to get up and 22 say things happened, and they're going to get up and say
23 people found certain findings.

24 And when you get down to the bottom of that and 25 strip away all the things and get to the base of it where it

1 all started, you find out that's not really what it was.
2 That's not really what they said. That's not really what they
3 found.

4           It -- this accident happened almost six years ago.
5 Your Honor will hear that there are over 50 treatment
6 providers. I've never seen a case with 50 treatment
7 providers. There are more treatment providers than I can even 8 remember.

9           On this particular night, we just heard about --
10 about the condition of Mr. Rodriguez's significant other on 11 the night of the incident. How they had come to Las Vegas to 12 celebrate, all of which is good. Las Vegas is a great place
13 to celebrate. Wouldn't it be nice if the whole world came to 14 Las Vegas to celebrate, especially in these times.

15           THE COURT: I agree.

16           MR. BAKER: Stipulated.

17           MR. WARD: And to celebrate her recovery from 18 surgery. And that there was a great relief and he had tucked 19 her into bed and she insisted that he go out, and he was 20 driving down the street and saw this sign and decided to go
21 in.

22           I'm not sure whether the idea is to generate
23 sympathy or what the idea is to generate, but it's interesting
24 that when Mr. Rodriguez takes the stand, he will tell you that 25 when he was deposed, he was asked where his -- why he had come

1 to Las Vegas and he said he came for a vacation. And when he
2 was asked where his significant other was at the time of the 3 accident, he said she was in another casino. He said she was
4 over at Harrah's. He didn't say anything about tucking her
5 into bed.

6 Now, maybe he did tuck her into bed and just didn't
7 tell us about it. I don't know, I wasn't there. But he also
8 told us that he'd been to the Palms for Monday night football
9 six or seven times before, this was not the first time.

10 And he said that this was the first time that he'd 11 ever seen anyone throw anything. In fact, he said he'd never 12 been anywhere where anyone had ever thrown anything, at a
13 sporting event, or anything else. He'd never even experienced 14 anything like that.

15 Now, you will hear from our security expert who will 16 tell you that there's nothing wrong with throwing things.
17 People throw things all the time. They did it then, they
18 still do it now. If you go to a basketball game, you go to a
19 baseball game, you're going to find people throwing things,
20 throwing things into the crowd.

21 Now, irrespective of that, the Palms will tell you
22 that it was their policy that they didn't want things thrown 23 into the crowd, and they thought that it was inappropriate to 24 throw things into the crowd on this particular day. There's 25 nothing wrong with someone wanting to have a more strict

1 policy than what normally is accepted by the general public,
2 but they did. They did, nonetheless.

3           This was a very unusual accident, incident, however
4 you choose to characterize it, in which a woman, according to 5 Mr. Rodriguez -- again, I wasn't there -- Mr. Rodriguez said
6 that a water bottle was laying on the floor. And a woman got 7 up out of her chair and decided to dive for the water bottle.

8           And so according to Mr. Rodriguez, she wasn't 9 trying to catch anything, it was something that was already 10 laying on the floor and it was a few feet away from him. And 11 said that she dove and ran into his knee. I don't dispute
12 that. No one disputes that, that's what he said.

13           Now, what Mr. Rodriguez has told several of the 14 treatment providers, and we'll tell you from the witness
15 stand, is that one of things that was very upsetting that 16 night is that -- is that he said the Palms told him that they
17 would have people not sign statements. And he said the Palms
18 tried to get him to sign some sort of document giving up any 19 rights that he had, and he was very angry about that. And 20 that's one of the things that caused so much anger for him.

21           Your Honor will have an opportunity to see that 22 document, because it's been marked as an exhibit, and it will
23 be admitted into evidence. That document is something that 24 simply says I -- it's called a Waiver of Medical Treatment.
25 "I, Enrique Rodriguez, acknowledge that I have been offered

1 medical attention for an injury or illness reported to have
2 occurred on Palms Casino Resort Property. I further
3 acknowledge that no offer of payment for personal expenses
4 arising from this reported injury or illness has been made to 5 me, either by the Palms Casino Resort, or by any agent or 6 employee thereof." Mr. Rodriguez refused to sign that.

7 All that says is he was offered medical treatment.
8 It's not a -- it's not anything that says that he can't make a
9 claim against them, that he was trying to get them to keep 10 from making a claim.

11 But the circumstances surrounding this become sort
12 of interesting, because the Palms called for an ambulance for 13 Mr. Rodriguez, because Mr. Rodriguez said he was hurt. And 14 the ambulance arrived.

15 Now, before the ambulance arrived, Mr. Rodriguez had 16 been in the Sports Book area and decided that he wanted to 17 talk to the security people. So he started walking around
18 trying to find the security desk, and ultimately found the 19 security desk, which was at least 100 feet away.

20 And he talked to the people at the security desk
21 about what they could do, and about getting names of the 22 witnesses. And Your Honor will see if it becomes an issue,
23 the names of witnesses were procured, witness statements were 24 procured. And they essentially confirmed what happened.
25 There's no dispute about what happened.

1           So then, when Mr. Rodriguez got back down to the 2 area, the ambulance was there. The ambulance was there to 3 take Mr. Rodriguez to the hospital. Mr. Rodriguez said he
4 didn't want to go.

5           So that's why the document that says, medical 6 treatment was offered to you, they asked him to sign. Simply 7 to confirm that they had offered him medical treatment. He 8 said he was injured and they offered him medical treatment.
9 So Mr. Rodriguez said, no, he didn't want to go, so the 10 ambulance left.

11           Now, Mr. Rodriguez then said later on that he 12 decided he didn't need to go by ambulance because he would 13 drive himself. The evidence will show that Mr. Rodriguez had 14 a car with an automatic transmission, his injury was to his 15 left knee, not his right knee.

16           Mr. Rodriguez, after talking to the people at the 17 Palms, whoever it was he talked to that the Sports Book, then 18 said that he couldn't drive to the hospital. So he called the 19 ambulance again. So this time the ambulance came back.

20           And the evidence will show, Your Honor, that the 21 record from the ambulance people that transported him will say
22 that they came in, they brought the gurney in, Mr. Rodriguez
23 got up out of his chair, walked over to where the gurney was,
24 got onto the gurney, and they put him in the ambulance and 25 they took him down to the treatment facility, to I believe

1 it's Springhill Hospital, Spring Valley Medical Center.

2 Spring Valley Medical Center, where Mr. Rodriguez
3 was seen by Dr. Heaps. Now, you heard that Dr. Heaps made a
4 diagnosis. You heard that in opening statement, that Dr.
5 Heaps confirmed that Mr. Rodriguez had, and I'm not sure how 6 it was characterized, damage to his left knee in some manner.

7 What you will see from the medical records of Spring
8 Valley, and what you will hear from the testimony of Dr.
9 Heaps, and what you will hear from the testimony of Mr.
10 Rodriguez, are a few things that I'm going to digress for a
11 moment and talk about, because I think they're significant.

12 The evidence will show that Mr. Rodriguez says he is 13 in the business of real estate investments, and says that he's 14 been in that business for a long time. And as Your Honor will 15 see and hear from the medical providers, Mr. Rodriguez will 16 testify that he worked as a -- as a real estate investor right
17 up until the time of this accident. And as a result of this 18 accident, he was unable to work as a real estate investor
19 anymore.

20 What Mr. Rodriguez told us in the deposition, and I
21 assume he'll tell us from the witness stand is that this
22 accident which occurred November 22, 2004, that Mr. Rodriguez
23 sold his last house in February of that year, February of 24 2004. This is November. November is nine months after 25 February.

1           Mr. Rodriguez didn't do anything with respect to
2 real estate investing in the nine months between the time he
3 sold the last house and the time he sold -- and the time this
4 accident occurred.

5           Mr. Rodriguez will tell you that he didn't have any
6 particular reason for not doing that. Mr. Rodriguez will tell
7 you that ever since the day of this accident, he's been unable 8 to do anything with respect to his business of buying and 9 selling single family dwellings.

10           He will tell you he didn't do a lot of the painting,
11 any of the big work. He -- to the extent that needed to be 12 done, he generally hired somebody. He'll tell you that 13 sometimes he bought and sold houses and didn't do anything,
14 didn't do any work at all.

15           So there's this interesting issue of how it is that 16 Mr. Rodriguez, who lives in California, is able to drive back
17 and forth to Las Vegas to get medical treatment, and yet he's 18 unable to do anything with respect to buying and selling
19 houses for the last, now almost seven years, or anything else
20 for that matter.

21           Mr. Rodriguez will tell you that, that he was in 22 good shape and enjoying life the day of this accident and that
23 as a result of this accident, he's gained weight. And as a
24 result of gaining weight, he's -- that has caused further
25 medical problems.

1           What Dr. Heaps will tell you from the Spring Valley
2 Medical Records is that on the night of this incident, when
3 Mr. Rodriguez presented himself at Spring Valley Medical 4 Center, that he was five feet six inches tall, which is the 5 same height I am, and he weighed 225 pounds.

6           So the memory with respect to when the weight was 7 gained seems to have moved a little bit over the last six
8 years. I cite that as an example, because what Your Honor's
9 going to hear throughout the course of the trial is that a
10 whole bunch has moved over the years and the conclusionary
11 statements that are made in many instances are not supported
12 by the evidence.

13           Now, so what did Dr. Heaps find on that night?
14 Here's what Dr. Heaps found. Dr. Heaps had a patient who came 15 to him and said, my knee hurts, explained how the accident
16 happened and said, my knee hurts. Dr. Heaps examined him and 17 drew a conclusion, sprained left knee.

18           I submit to you, any one of us could walk into our 19 doctor right now and say to the doctor I just fell and hurt
20 myself and my knee really hurts, and have the doctor examine 21 us and find nothing. And the doctor would write down,
22 sprained knee. Doctors are not in the habit of 23 cross-examining patients and telling patients that what 24 they're saying isn't true.

25           So Dr. Heaps did write down in his medical chart

1 that Mr. Rodriguez had a sprained left knee. What did he base
2 that on? He based it on Mr. Rodriguez telling him now the 3 accident happened.

4 Now, did he do a physical examination? Yes. He did
5 a physical examination and just like any other emergency room
6 doctor, he not only examined the left knee, he examined his 7 whole body. What did he find? Nothing. He didn't find
8 anything.

9 When he actually did the examination as emergency
10 rooms often are, it was a little after midnight, I think it
11 was 12:30, 12:45, something like that. This accident happened
12 somewhere in the neighborhood of 7:00 o'clock. So we're 13 talking about a period of somewhere around six hours after the 14 happening of this accident is the time that the examination
15 took place.

16 Now, why is that significant? The reason that's 17 significant is because if you have an injury of any 18 significance to your knee, if Your Honor's ever had one, or 19 known someone who's had one, one of the very first things that 20 happens is your knee swells up. You get fluid on your knee.

21 Now, you can have an injury. You can bang your knee
22 without having fluid, but that is one of the manner in which 23 physicians determine the severity of the injury. If they --
24 because they may or may not find other things, but they may 25 find fluid.

1 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I'm sorry to interrupt but
2 this is argument. I know the Court gave me some laxity, but
3 I'm not really hearing what the evidence is going to talk
4 about and this is really pure argument coming from no witness.

5 THE COURT: Very well. Please proceed with that in
6 mind, Mr. Ward.

7 MR. WARD: Yes, Your Honor. That -- there will be 8 testimony from the doctor that it is significant that the 9 patient did not have any fluid on his knee.

10 And so counsel, Mr. Baker, got up and told you that 11 Dr. Heaps found that there was an injury, and what I'm simply 12 saying is that I don't think Dr. Heaps will say that. I think 13 Dr. Heaps will say that he wrote down, sprained knee, but he 14 didn't find anything.

15 And that he checked, and he checked his neck and he
16 checked his back and he checked his knee and he checked
17 everything else and he didn't find anything.

18 Now, what happens next? What happens next is that 19 Mr. Rodriguez gets back to the casino and I'm not sure how,
20 because we didn't ask him that in the deposition, but he does
21 testify that when he got back to the casino, he got his car
22 and drove the car back to wherever it was he was staying that 23 night.

24 Then he got back to California. And then he went
25 back and forth from California to Las Vegas for lawyers,

1 hiring the lawyers, Mr. Baker said, and for medical treatment.

2 Now, one of the things that Mr. Baker asked Mr.
3 Heaps that you will hear when Mr. Heaps deposition was read is 4 a question about did -- did Dr. Heaps do an MRI on the night
5 of the accident because the MRI, as he asked him, is the gold
6 standard as to find out whether in fact there is an injury.
7 Dr. Heaps will testify that, no, he didn't do that.

8 Now, Mr. Rodriguez started seeing doctors. And when 9 he started seeing doctors, the one thing that you're going to 10 hear over and over again from all of these doctors is that 11 most of them didn't find anything wrong in the short run.

12 Now, when Mr. Rodriguez was seen by Dr. Heaps on the 13 night of the accident, and when he was examined by the 14 ambulance attendants on the night of the accident, he did not
15 complain about anything, except his knee. He didn't have neck
16 problems, he didn't have back problems, he didn't have hip
17 problems, he didn't have thigh problems. He complained about 18 pain in his knee.

19 He went to physical therapy, and this is the first 20 of many. Physical therapy didn't help him any. He went to 21 see Dr. Nork, Dr. Nork didn't help him any. Saw him over and 22 over again, didn't find very much, if anything, didn't help
23 him.

24 Now, this is where frankly I would have objected to 25 what Mr. Baker said, but since we're -- don't have a jury here

1 and Mr. Baker said it, I want to clarify it, because --
2 because what Mr. Baker said was that -- was that Mr. Rodriguez
3 had another lawyer, and that when they were trying to schedule
4 surgery with Dr. Shannon -- I think I heard him correctly and 5 if I misheard and misquote, I apologize to both Mr. Baker and 6 to the Court. But I believe he said something like they 7 needed to get surgery by Dr. Shannon and they couldn't get the 8 surgery done, and so Mr. Baker was able to help him make 9 arrangements to do that, but that's why the surgery didn't
10 take place until far later.

11 Well, I submit to Your Honor the evidence is going 12 to show something a little bit different, because here's what
13 the evidence is going to show. The evidence is going to show
14 that, among other things, that Mr. Rodriguez, and pretty much 15 everyone else has been using the phraseology that he had the 16 accident at the Palms on the night in question, and this woman
17 dove into him and blew out his knee. I hear blew out his knee
18 over and over and over again, blew out his knee. I know
19 that's a non-medical term, but that's the terminology that 20 suggests that he has a significant injury.

21 Now, Your Honor, on January 28 of 2005, we're 22 talking two months post-accident. This was at a period of 23 time after Dr. Heaps didn't find any swelling, after Dr. Nork
24 couldn't find much of anything wrong, after he wasn't 25 responding to the physical therapy that he was getting, and he

1 continued to complain of pain and continued to complain of
2 pain. And so what happens, as Your Honor will hear from the
3 treating physicians, is if you complain of pain, people will
4 see and people do diagnostic things.

5           So January 28 of 2005, he had an MRI of the left
6 knee. That MRI was read by Adam Atune (phonetic), D.O., which
7 stands for osteopath. There are so many names, and Your Honor
8 may be familiar with these. I want to just run through them
9 briefly, because it will come out to offer an explanation.

10           An osteopath is a physician who is -- who comes at 11 things slightly different from your typical medical doctor,
12 but has similar kinds of credentials, and are authorized to 13 prescribe drugs or authorized to do surgery, authorized to do
14 many of the things that regular doctors do.

15           An osteopath is not a chiropractor. A chiropractor
16 does -- doesn't prescribe restrictive drugs. Chiropractors
17 don't do surgery, they don't do other kinds of things. I'm 18 not suggesting that one's good and one's bad, I'm just talking
19 about the difference in the level of education for the people.

20           Now, Dr. Atune not only did an MRI, but read the MRI
21 with the images being viewed on a digital workstation with a
22 multi-planar reformatted, and three dimensional reconstructive
23 sequences performed by the radiologist at the time of 24 interpretation as needed.

25           So Dr. Atune read this MRI with special equipment,

1 you'll see the bills, he charge $550 extra for reading it
2 under this special equipment. He read this MRI of January 28,
3 2005, two months after the accident, and here's what you're
4 going to hear are his findings.

5           "The distal femur is anatomically aligned with the 6 proximal tibia. The cortical margins appear grossly well
7 demarcated without disruptions. The marrow signal
8 characteristics are homogeneous. Both menisci show gross,
9 normal morphological characteristics. The anterior and 10 posterior cruciate ligaments, the medial and lateral
11 collateral ligaments, the patella and quadriceps tendons
12 remain taut. The physiologic amount of intra articular fluid
13 is present," but the doctor will explain is that there's a 14 certain amount of fluid supposed to be on the knee, and that 15 amount of fluid was present. "The visualized extra capsular
16 soft tissues are unremarkable. Impression, there is no
17 evidence of acute internal derangement."

18           That was the MRI two months after the accident, yet
19 we continue to hear that he blew out his knee. We had this 20 accident, blew out his knee, ruined his life. That's what we 21 hear over and over again.

22           Now, the reason I bring this up with respect to the 23 comments made by Mr. Baker, is that, what you will see is that 24 that report from that doctor was sent to a law firm. And what 25 you'll see is that's the last time that law firm was present.

1 What you will see is that the Benson Bertoldo firm appears on
2 an itemized statement from February of 2004, not with respect
3 to the involvement of Dr. Shannon, but with respect to another
4 read.

5 Mr. Rodriguez had apparently been seeing a
6 chiropractor named Eric Campbell of the Wellness Group in 7 California. And so Dr. Campbell apparently made arrangements
8 to have the MRI sent to another chiropractor and have it read
9 by the chiropractor.

10 And that read, and that report, which is the first
11 involvement of the new law firm, looks at exactly the same
12 MRI, except this chiropractor doesn't look at it under the 13 high resolution viewer that the prior -- that the prior 14 osteopath read it. And what a surprise, he found lots of 15 things that the other guy didn't find.

16 But even what he found is limited, because what he 17 says, "There appears to be thickening, intermediate signal
18 change and equivocal redundancy/laxity of the interior
19 cruciate ligament. It's noteworthy, however, that there are 20 intact fibers running the entire course of the anterior
21 cruciate ligament. The posterior cruciate ligament is 22 completely intact and normal. There is a slight amount of 23 intermediate -- a slight amount of intermediate change in the 24 posterior horn of the medial meniscus suggested for early
25 degenerative change. The remaining menisci are normal."

1           And his impressions are, "Some degree of thickening
2 intermediate signal change and equivocal redundancy/laxity of 3 the anterior cruciate ligament consistent with a possible
4 partial tear and/or early mucoid degeneration. Early grade 1
5 degeneration of the posterior horn of the medial meniscus. No
6 evidence of joint effusion," meaning, fluid, "or fracture."

7           MR. BAKER: Your Honor, again, I know -- I know that 8 this is a bench trial, but we're testifying on things that
9 aren't in evidence. I -- and that's my objection.

10          THE COURT: Noted for the record. Please proceed.

11          MR. WARD: Yeah. This will all be introduced 12 through our experts, Your Honor, if it doesn't come out with 13 the other experts before.

14          Now, the significance of that is that we have two 15 very early diagnostic things that are actually only one
16 diagnostic thing.

17          We have a MRI that is done and read under a high
18 resolution reader, which finds everything's normal. And we 19 have a plaintiff, who sustains some sort of an injury on the 20 night of November 22, 2004.

21          The question, the serious question, aside from the 22 liability issues, are how serious was that injury. And I
23 submit to Your Honor that all of the evidence that you're 24 going to hear is that that injury wasn't severe at all, and it
25 was one of those things that people get better. You know, we

1 all do things, like bang our elbow on something and we can
2 have pain, but it doesn't mean we have problems the rest of
3 our life, that one thing leads to another leads to another
4 leads to another.

5 Now, somewhere along the line, Dr. Shannon does
6 surgery. You're going to hear about Dr. Shannon's surgery,
7 but Dr. Shannon's surgery is long after this MRI.

8 And what you're going to hear from all of these
9 orthopedists is that if you want to have knee problems, I'll 10 guarantee you, one way you can have knee problems, is gain 75
11 to 100 pounds over what you ought to be weighing and start
12 walking around, because you're going to develop knee problems
13 pretty soon.

14 And Mr. Rodriguez already weighed 75 pounds over his 15 normal body weight at the time of this accident. The doctors
16 will tell you that degenerative changes that existed weren't 17 caused by an accident that happened two months before. And 18 there's some question as even the extent of those degenerative
19 changes.

20 Your Honor, we're going to be here awhile, and 21 there's all these treaters and all this testimony. I'm not 22 going to go through every one because Your Honor's going to 23 hear it.

24 But what I submit that Your Honor will hear is that 25 if there is something, such as the MRI, that is one of the few

1 objective ways to, in fact, check whether somebody has an
2 injury, add that to the examination by the treating doctor on
3 the night of the accident, some six hours after the accident,
4 that there was no swelling, no fluid on his knee.

5           Add this to someone who you're going to hear about 6 wage loss claims, you're going to hear someone who can't seem
7 to find any of the records to support his wage loss claims.
8 You're going to hear a vocational rehabilitation expert, the 9 economist, who's going to come in and give you a large
10 projected wage loss, and he's going to base it all on things
11 that are not supported and things that are sketchy and things
12 that don't support the claims that are made.

13           And so what Your Honor will have the opportunity to 14 do, since the jury's not here to do it, Your Honor will have a 15 opportunity to do it is to cut through the statements, the 16 statement that the guy blew out his knee on the night of the 17 accident, to take a look at what actually happened, to take a 18 look at what actually is in the records, what actually is in 19 the testimony, and what actually comes across has happened.

20           And I submit that what Your Honor will see is that 21 there will not be the evidence to support that there was any 22 injury on the night of this accident that caused all of the 23 problems that Mr. Rodriguez claims.

24           Thank you, Your Honor.

25           THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Ward.

1           Let's take about a five minute break before we hear
2 from the first witness.

3           MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

4           (Court recess from 10:15 a.m. to 10:31 a.m.)

5           THE COURT: Please be seated.

6           Okay, first witness, Mr. Baker?

7           MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor. One quick sec,
8 Your Honor.

9           THE COURT: Sure, take your time.

10                         (Pause in the proceedings)

11           MR. BAKER: Just as a little housekeeping, Your 12 Honor, may I approach?

13           THE COURT: Sure.

14           MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I'd like to show the Court
15 we have filed an Affidavit of Non-Service upon Nathan Heaps,
16 M.D., who is out of the state and unavailable to testify. It
17 was my intention to read his deposition pursuant to NRC
18 32(b).

19           THE COURT: Okay. You're moving for the admission
20 of this, right?

21           MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor.

22           THE COURT: Very well; so ordered.

23           MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor. Your Honor, I'd 24 like to call Rob Cardenas Heaps to the stand, please.

25           THE COURT: Mr. Cardenas, please come forward to the

1 witness box.

2 MR. BAKER: And, Your Honor, I believe I deposited a
3 copy of Dr. Heaps' deposition for you. Is that it?

4 THE COURT: Thank you. Thank you, Mr. Baker.

5 MR. BAKER: If it pleases the Court. Oh, you have
6 it.

7 THE COURT: Thank you, I have one.

8 MR. BAKER: And K.C. has the original sealed
9 version, which he says he's going to have transferred to the 10 Court.

11 MR. WARD: Your Honor, I apologize to the Court. We 12 sent the -- all the stuff over and it wasn't available for us
13 to pick up, and we found out it has been delivered but there
14 was some confusion. But our hope at the end of the day we'll 15 be able to get that and have it to the Court tomorrow morning.

16 THE COURT: You don't have any objection to reading
17 the copy of the depo, do you, Mr. Ward?

18 MR. WARD: Absolutely not, Your Honor. No, not at 19 all.

20 THE COURT: All right. Then we need to swear this 21 witness in for the deposition testimony.

22 THE CLERK: Yes, Your Honor. Please stand, raise
23 your right hand.

THE CLERK: Thank you.

THE COURT: So Mr. Cardenas is reading for Nathan Heaps, M.D.

MR. BAKER: Correct, Your Honor. And Mr. Ward and I had a discussion off the record. It was my attention at first just to read the cross-examination, which was my examination of the doctor. He said that he would then read the other part, so I'm just going to read it all into evidence.

THE COURT: Any problem with that, Mr. Ward?

MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. Very well.

MR. BAKER: For right now, I am assuming the role of Marsha Stephenson.

THE COURT: Well, it will be a stretch, but okay. I'll try -- I'll try to put myself there, okay.

MR. BAKER: Ms. Stephenson needs a shave, I think.

THE COURT: Here's the thing. By the way, I appreciate you reading this in context, especially since this is a bench trial. So, thank you.

MR. BAKER: You're welcome, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Please proceed.

(Deposition read as follows:)

NATHAN HEAPS, M.D.

DEPOSITION READ BY ROBERT S. CARDENAS

1 BY MR. BAKER:

2 Q Would you please state your full name for the
3 record?

4 A It's Nathan Dale Heaps.

5 Q Dr. Heaps, have you ever had your deposition taken
6 before?

7 A Once.

8 Q Okay. How long ago was that?

9 A Approximately one year.

10 Q Okay. Is that in connection with your treatment of 11 a person?

12 A It was as an expert witness.

13 Q Okay. You were retained by one side or the other in 14 that case?

15 A Correct.

16 Q And do you recall which side retained you?

17 A It was the plaintiff's side.

18 Q Do you want me to go through the deposition
19 admonitions or do you feel comfortable with the process?

20 A If you would go through them, actually I would 21 prefer that.

22 Q You understand that your testimony is under oath
23 today?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And we'll be asking you questions with respect to a

1 patient that you treated, Enrique Rodriguez, in November of
2 2004. And we -- I will attach for the record a copy of the 3 medical records from the Spring Valley Medical Center which
4 reflect your treatment to Mr. Rodriguez. We'll be asking you
5 some questions, a little bit about that treatment that -- that
6 you gave to him in 2004.

7 All of our questions and answers are being put on 8 the record and after the deposition, the Court Reporter will 9 put that information into a booklet form and you can look at 10 the questions and answers.

11 If you have any changes to any of your responses,
12 you can make those changes at the time you have a chance to 13 review the transcript. Not that it will probably apply in 14 this case, but if you make any substantive changes to your 15 deposition, I, or other counsel can comment on these changes
16 if the case proceeds to a trial or whatever formal proceeding.

17 Please answer all the questions audibly, yes, no,
18 nods, shrugs, things like that, because everything needs to be 19 taken down by the Court Reporter, okay?

20 A Okay.

21 Q If you don't understand a question, please let me
22 know. And if you answered the question, we're going to assume 23 that you understood the question. I don't anticipate this to 24 take very long, and from my review of your records, you saw
25 this individual, Mr. Rodriguez, one time. Mr. Rodriguez,

1 however, is suing my client, the Fiesta Palms, Palms Casino
2 and Resort with respect to the injuries that you saw him for
3 in November of 2004.

4 MR. BAKER: Can we go off the record for a second.

5 MS. STEPHENSON: Yes.

6 (A discussion is held off the record.)

7 Q (By Mr. Baker) Do you have any questions?

8 A No.

9 Q Okay. Before we get into the treatment of Mr.
10 Rodriguez, give me a little of your background. Obviously,
11 you're a medical doctor. Tell me where you graduated from 12 college, medical school and things like that.

13 A I did my undergraduate education at the University
14 of Utah and double majored in biology and chemistry. I have 15 degrees in both, Bachelor's of Science degrees in both. I
16 did --

17 Q What year was that, Doctor?

18 A That was 1992 to 1997.

19 Q Okay. And then what?

20 A And from 1997 to 2001, I was in medical school at 21 the University of Utah, as well. In 2001, I received my M.D.
22 degree. From 2001 to 2004, I did specialized training in 23 emergency medicine at the University of Pittsburgh in 24 Pennsylvania. In 2004, when I completed my residency, I then
25 moved out and began working here in Las Vegas for Doctor's

1 Emergency Medical Services, and our group here staffs all five
2 of the Valley hospital emergency departments.

3 Q And that includes --

4 (Stop reading of deposition)

5 MR. WARD: May I interrupt one second?

6 MR. BAKER: Sure.

7 MR. WARD: I apologize. With Dr. Heaps on the 8 witness stand, we would have been offering the exhibits to his
9 deposition into evidence. I would stipulate that those can be 10 received into evidence along with the testimony.

11 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

12 MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor. I would -- thank you,
13 K.C., I would love that. And for the record, then, I move to 14 admit what's been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibits Number 3, 4
15 and 5.

16 THE COURT: Three, four and five?

17 MR. BAKER: Right. Which respectively, Your Honor,
18 it's the medical records and billing statement for Spring
19 Valley Hospital Medical Center which is number 3; medical 20 records and billing statements from Desert Radiologist which 21 is number 4; and 5 is medical records and billing statement
22 from Shadow Emergency Physicians, which is number 5.

23 THE COURT: Very well, they will be admitted,
24 Plaintiff's 3, 4 and 5.

25 (Exhibit 3, 4 and 5 are received into evidence)

1 MR. BAKER: Who was that, K.C.?

2 MR. WARD: I'm sorry, I'm --

3 MR. BAKER: Okay. We were talking about -- I found
4 it.

5 MR. BAKER: Is the next question --

6 MR. CARDENAS: It's line 4.

7 (Resume reading of deposition)

8 BY MR. BAKER:

9 Q What was that year, Doctor?

10 A It was at --

11 Q Page 7, line 17?

12 A No, page 8, line 4.

13 Q Thank you. And that would be included, that's true.
14 Spring Valley Medical Center?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q When did you -- well, you said you had went through 17 residency through -- until 2004?

18 A Correct.

19 Q When did you finish that residency in 2004?

20 A I believe it was -- as I recall, it was either May 21 or June of 2004.

22 Q And then you came to Las Vegas?

23 A Correct.

24 Q Okay. Because it looks like you saw Mr. Rodriguez
25 in November of 2004.

1 A That's correct.

2 Q So how long had you been employed with Doctor's
3 Emergency Medical Services in November of 2004?

4 A I believe my start date with the group here in Las
5 Vegas was September 1st of 2004. So almost three months.

6 Q Okay. Are you a board certified in emergency
7 medicine?

8 A I am.

9 Q When did you get that board certification?

10 A The -- I believe I completed the oral board exam at 11 the beginning of 2005.

12 Q And what about the written portion?

13 A That was completed, if I -- if my memory serves me
14 correctly, roughly November -- it may have been November of 15 2004.

16 Q And you're currently board certified in emergency
17 medicine?

18 A That is correct.

19 Q And have you been with Doctor's Emergency Medical 20 Services since September 2004 to present?

21 A I have.

22 Q And are you still seeing patients at Spring Valley
23 Medical Center?

24 A Lately I've worked primarily at Centennial, Valley
25 and Summerlin. So it has been a while that I have -- since

1 I've worked at Spring Valley. I am still on the staff at 2 Spring Valley though.

3 Q Okay. And I think you were provided before the 4 deposition today some records from Spring Valley Medical
5 Center which I'm going to identify as SPMC for Spring Valley
6 Medical Center 0001 through 11 and five 0's in between, if
7 that makes a difference. Do you have a copy? Actually, it
8 looks like those aren't Bates labeled in front of you.

9 A That are not what?

10 Q They don't have Bates numbers at the bottom on the 11 side.

12 A It looks actually like they may --

13 Q Oh, just --

14 A -- have been cut off.

15 Q -- got cut off.

16 A I think they were cut off in the copying it looks
17 like.

18 MR. BAKER: Why don't you let him use your copy and 19 attach the same.

20 MS. STEPHENSON: I was just going to make sure that 21 we -- it was the same number of pages here.

22 MR. BAKER: So the University of Utah?

23 THE WITNESS: Uh-huh.

24 MR. BAKER: The witness -- oh, go ahead.

25 THE WITNESS: Uh-huh.

1 MR. BAKER: Are you getting tired of being teased
2 about whole fusion?

3 THE WITNESS: No, no. I haven't actually heard that
4 term for a long time.

5 MS. STEPHENSON: I'm going to mark this copy and 6 attach that as an exhibit to the deposition and --

7 BY MR. BAKER:

8 Q And, Doctor, did you have a chance to briefly look
9 at these records with respect to the treatment of Mr.
10 Rodriguez on November 22nd, 2004, at Spring Valley?

11 A Yes, I did.

12 Q And was it your understanding in reviewing of these 13 records that Mr. Rodriguez arrived by ambulance?

14 A I believe so.

15 Q And before I go on, it's my understanding that you
16 have no specific recollection of having treated Mr. Rodriguez;
17 is that accurate?

18 A That is correct. I don't independently remember --
19 remember treating him, but on review of the records, these are 20 clearly in my records and he was a patient that I took care.

21 Q Back in 2004, if you could just generally go through
22 with me about the protocol, if someone comes in by ambulance;
23 who would they see first and how would they get to you?

24 A They're -- they are triaged. Whether they come in 25 by their own vehicle or their own mode of transportation or by

1 triage, they are triaged. We have a triage nurse who
2 determines the level of acuity and urgent -- and the urgency
3 with which they need to be seen.

4           So, for instance, patients with strokes or heart
5 attacks or cardiac arrests obviously are seen much more
6 rapidly than, you know, than stable patients with muscular
7 skeletal injuries and things like that.

8           Q     And it looks like from the record here, at least on 9 Bates labeled page 3, that Janice Owen, she was the triage
10 nurse? At least from looking at the records? Yeah, you know,
11 it would actually be easier to look at this copy. It's got 12 the page numbers.

13          A     Okay.

14          Q     The bottom has got the signature of Janice Owen?

15          A     It looks like the triage signature is -- I'm not 16 sure if that wasn't Erin or someone else that actually saw 17 them. Janice Owen, I believe, was the primary nurse taking 18 care of the patient once the patient was brought into the ER
19 and cared for. But I think that another nurse did the triage.
20 I don't recognize that signature, so I'm not sure who it was.

21          Q     Now --

22                                 (Stop reading of deposition)

23           MR. WARD: Can I interrupt one second? That -- my 24 assumption is that that was a Court Reporter typo and she put 25 Erin, E-r-i-n, when she meant RN, registered nurse.

1 THE COURT: Oh.

2 MR. CARDENAS: Oh.

3 THE COURT: That would make sense.

4 MR. CARDENAS: There, okay.

5 THE COURT: Does that make sense, Mr. Baker? Or is 6 there somebody named Erin?

7 MR. BAKER: I'm not seeing where you're talking
8 about.

9 MR. CARDENAS: Line 17.

10 MR. BAKER: Yes, that makes sense.

11 THE COURT: Thank you.

12 MR. WARD: You're welcome.

13 (Resume reading of deposition)

14 BY MR. BAKER:

15 Q Does that -- what does that category signify, if you
16 know?

17 A Well, level -- you know, higher level patients, it's
18 based -- it based on a level 1 through 5 triage system. So
19 the level 1 and 2 patients are the sickest patients and the 20 most urgent. Five are the least urgent. And it looks like
21 they triaged Mr. Rodriguez as kind of right in the middle.

22 (Stop reading of deposition)

23 MR. BAKER: For the Court, did I skip page 12, lines
24 23 through 25 when I was reading?

25 MR. CARDENAS: Yes.

1 THE COURT: I think so.

2 MR. BAKER: Would you like me to read them into the
3 record?

4 THE COURT: Sure.

5 (Resume reading of deposition)

6 BY MR. BAKER:

7 Q Now, also looking at the same page, 3, there's a
8 category up at the top left and there's a 3 in there?

9 A Correct.

10 Q Does that -- what does that category signify, if you
11 know?

12 A Well, level -- you know, higher level patients, it's 13 based -- it's based on a level 1 through 5 triage system. So
14 the level 1 and 2 patients are the sickest patients and the
15 most urgent. Five are the least urgent. And it looks like
16 they triaged Mr. Rodriguez as kind of right in the middle.

17 Q And that was the triage category, so to speak, would 18 have been determined by the nurses in the triage?

19 A Correct, the triage nurse, exactly.

20 Q So then, just generally again, tell me how the 21 patient gets -- or how the nurse determines, if the nurse
22 determines it, how that patient goes to actually see the 23 doctor.

24 A Every patient will see -- will ultimately be seen by 25 a physician, either a physician or a mid-level provider. In

1 our group, actually, even if they're seen by a mid-level
2 provider, they're still seen and contacted by a physician
3 during their treatment.

4 Q Would the nurse typically take X-rays? Or would
5 those X-rays be ordered by you as the physician?

6 A Generally -- generally the X-rays are ordered by the 7 physician and at this point in time, we have some standing
8 protocols. So sometimes, patients will have X-rays that are 9 protocolled ordered by the nurse under our discretion
10 essentially. But at this time, at Spring Valley Hospital,
11 there were no protocols in place and so therefore this -- this
12 X-ray would have been ordered by me generally.

13 Q If you'd look again on page 3, it says "Left" on the 14 right, kind of upper top, "Left knee X-ray." So that's --
15 would that be your writing?

16 A This is not my writing, but often times I will tell
17 the nurse go ahead and order an X-ray, go ahead and get an X-
18 ray on that patient. So I'm verbally giving the order and 19 then the nurse will write that in.

20 Q And you can verbally give that order even if you
21 hadn't actually examined the patient yourself?

22 A Correct. I could have even done a quick purview of 23 the patient or seen the patient rolling by and then the triage
24 nurse may have come to me and say, this person injured their 25 left knee, there's no other injuries. Then I would tell that

1 nurse, okay, let's go ahead and get an X-ray.

2 Q Now at least in looking at page 3, apparently the
3 only complaint that the triage nurse noted was left knee pain,
4 correct?

5 A Correct.

6 Q And hyperextension is also written there?

7 A Correct.

8 Q And what's hyperextension basically?

9 A Hyperextension, if you think of extension as 10 straightening of the leg at the knee, hyperextension is when 11 it straightens further than it actually should. And usually 12 that's associated with, you know, injuries to the knee. So
13 what she's doing is she's stating the patient has left knee
14 pain and the mechanism of the injury is the hyperextension.

15 Q Would the nurse typically put down any information
16 as to what the patient relayed to her, or how they felt their 17 injury occurred?

18 A Often not unless they feel like it's -- it's really 19 relevant in understanding what their chief complaint is.

20 Q And actually, let's go back to page 2 before we go
21 on. The copy, it looks like there was something sticky over a
22 portion of that. Would there be anything in the spinal
23 diagnosis section, page 2, that we're missing?

24 A We generally don't use -- from a physician's
25 standpoint, we generally don't use this sheet for identifying

1 any information. So I don't -- I don't -- as far as I know,
2 there would not be anything unless there was some hospital-
3 generated information that was included in there.

4 Q Fair enough. Let's go back to page 3 again. Would
5 all of this be filled out by one of the nurses in the triage
6 department?

7 A Generally -- generally, the chief complaint, the 8 insurance information, the current medications, all of that is 9 filled out by the triage nurse. At this time -- we've changed
10 our form since then, but at this time, you can see under 11 medications and interventions, that is my handwriting.

12 Q Okay.

13 A So those are orders that I placed for this patient
14 myself and then under diagnosis, that is my handwriting and 15 then obviously my signature at the bottom.

16 Q Okay. Now, does triage, do they usually take 17 someone's height and weight or just ask them?

18 A They generally do. They generally do the vitals as 19 a whole. They will take height and weight at times. It's -- 20 to be honest, it can go either way. Sometimes they'll 21 physically measure. Usually, with children, they don't 22 physically measure, because we base our medication dosing on 23 weights, so we want very specific weights. But honest,
24 honestly, most of the time with adults, I think they just ask
25 them their height and weight.

1 Q So basically the -- and we've got it -- looks like
2 vital information over on the upper right-hand corner. The
3 triage nurses would take the vitals of the patient no matter
4 what their specific complaint is?

5 A Correct.

6 Q And all of this looks normal. This is normal
7 basically?

8 A Yeah. The vitals at the -- at that time were all
9 normal, within normal range, yes.

10 Q Do you see anything else on this particular page 3
11 that the triage nurse would have done that we haven't already
12 talked about?

13 A Nothing -- nothing in particular, no.

14 Q Okay.

15 A And again, the -- you know, the purpose of the 16 triage nurse really is to determine how sick they are, how 17 quickly they need to be seen.

18 Q And for the most part, this patient was kind of in 19 the middle of the scale?

20 A Uh-huh.

21 Q So, then, at this point, once -- once this portion 22 of the chart's been filled out, at least the left portion of 23 the chart's been filled out by the triage nurse, and then it's 24 just a matter of time when you're able to see -- you, as the 25 emergency doctor, is able to see the patient?

1           A     Exactly.  And some of that's determined by when
2 there is room in the emergency department available.  So it
3 looks like -- you know, my guess is, in reviewing the chart,
4 that he was probably seen initially by the triage nurse as he
5 came in by ambulance.  And then possibly placed out in the 6 waiting room until a bed became available in the emergency
7 department for -- for him to be seen.

8           Q     Okay.  Now, if the patient expressed any other
9 complaints on other body parts on his body, you would expect
10 that to be relayed here by the nurses?

11          A     Correct, correct.

12                                 (Stop reading of deposition)

13          MR. BAKER:  Did I read that correctly?

14          THE COURT:  No, but it's quite all right.  I
15 followed your --

16          MR. BAKER:  All right.

17          THE COURT:  -- followed the thought.

18                                 (Resume reading of deposition)

19 BY MR. BAKER:

20          Q     And it looked like the nurse circled that he was in 21 moderate pain then?

22          A     Yes.

23          Q     Okay.  And obviously that's a suggestive --

24          A     Exactly.  It's a pain scale.

25          Q     -- indicator?

1           A     It's a verbal pain scale. Generally, they ask the
2 patient on a scale of 1 to 10, how bad is your pain with 10
3 being the worse pain you've ever experienced in your life and 4 then they generally state a number.

5           Q     Okay. So at that point, the patient's waiting,
6 then, someplace for you?

7           A     Exactly.

8           Q     And then we go back to page 4 and this actually is,
9 most of page 4, filled out by you or is also part of your
10 triage nurse's report?

11          A     This is -- this is all filled out by the -- it looks 12 -- actually this is the primary nurse. So if you look now at 13 the bottom, it's Janice Owens, that's the primary nurse.

14          Q     Or if we look at page 4, then, obviously, it looks 15 like there was more of an examination done then to the left
16 knee?

17          A     Correct.

18          Q     Is that typical?

19          A     Correct. This is the nurse's assessment of the 20 patient, complete assessment of the patient, that is correct.
21 And this is typical. The triage nurse kind of determines the 22 level of acuity, then once the patient -- then at a given
23 time, the patient will be fully evaluated by the primary 24 nurse.

25          Q     Now, looking at this, why don't we just go through

1 this quickly, basically what different, you know, things he --
2 the -- the primary nurse would see from Mr. Rodriguez.

3 A Basically going through it, it's organized by
4 system. So under cardiovascular, you can see she checked off
5 no known problems. Under neurosensory, she said the patient
6 was alert. The patient was opening his eyes spontaneously,
7 was oriented to his environment and who he was. He was 8 following commands normally.

9 Psychosocially, there was no communication barrier.
10 The patient was calm according to her assessment of the 11 patients affect. He was cooperative. Under respiratory
12 there's no -- she checked no known problems. Under skin, the 13 skin was intact. It looked normal to her. It was warm and 14 dry which is normal.

15 Under gastrointestinal she wrote no known problems.
16 Under musculoskeletal she wrote that the patient has left knee
17 pain. And under limitations she wrote that there's some 18 mobility limitation because of that left knee pain. So that 19 was pretty much the extent of her assessment.

20 Q Now, just looking at the left knee pain and 21 mobility, would you know what kind of tests she would have 22 done to arrive at that?

23 A There's a variety of testing that she could have 24 done. She didn't specify as most often they don't. You know,
25 oftentimes they're just asking the patient to either lift

1 their legs off the bed, or are you able to walk. And you
2 know, if the patient can't walk, then they'll document that as
3 a limitation in their mobility.

4 Q Would you have expected, if he had any bruising, any
5 swelling, anything like that to be noted by the nurse? Or 6 would that be something you would look for?

7 A Generally, my exam is more comprehensive, more
8 focused than theirs.

9 Q So when you would see the patient, you would have 10 basically pages 3 and 4, the portions that are filled out by 11 the triage nurse and the primary nurse?

12 A Exactly.

13 Q And you looked at that before you went in to see the 14 patient?

15 A Exactly, and use that as a reference to guide my 16 history taking and -- yes.

17 Q So basically looking at what we've already looked 18 at, you go and primarily focus on his left knee?

19 A Correct, correct. I'll generally do kind of a 20 comprehensive exam and take a history and, you know, gather
21 information. It's not uncommon in my history and physical 22 exam to uncover things that the nurses don't uncover or --
23 so --

24 Q So then if we go to page 5, it looks like that it's 25 something that's filled out by the nurse after --

1 A At the end of their treatment.

2 Q After you see the patient?

3 A Exactly, exactly.

4 Q Let's go to your sheet which I think is the 5 emergency physician record, page 6, right?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q Okay. So do you have, like a -- did you have back
8 in 2004 some kind of standard protocol you would use to 9 examine the patient when he first came in?

10 A Yeah. And I think that protocol still holds true.
11 It's generally going through the process of obtaining a 12 history, obtaining any specific past medical history, social 13 history, family history that might be pertinent to the case,
14 reviewing the vital signs and then doing a physical exam.

15 Q And it looks like you -- you would actually, you
16 know, probably say, you know, what happened or ask him, you
17 know, why they're --

18 A Exactly, exactly.

19 Q And it looks like here, is this your writing under 20 the context?

21 A This whole page is all my writing, yes.

22 Q So --

23 A It looks like I saw him at 12:38 a.m. in room 19 and 24 essentially he came in. His chief complaint was an injury to 25 the left knee. This is what's a T-sheet, so they're

1 preformatted sheets based on what the patient's complaint is,
2 just to facilitate documentation.

3           He had indicated that it had occurred just prior to
4 his arrival in the emergency department, it had occurred at a
5 casino. And briefly he was -- he stated to me that he was at 6 the Palms and he jumped for a water bottle and in doing so,
7 hyperextended his knee. He said to me his severity of pain
8 was moderate.

9           Q     Before we go on, someone's saying, I jumped for a 10 water bottle -- bottle and hyperextended. He wouldn't have 11 said, hyperextended his knee, would he?

12           A     He might have. Yeah, a lot of -- a lot of --
13 sometimes they'll -- they'll actually say that. Sometimes 14 they'll describe it and then I'll translate it into medical 15 terms.

16           Q     Okay. But generally this is what he told you,
17 jumped for -- he wouldn't say, you know, I jumped three feet
18 off the ground or what, you know, how he jumped, the mechanics
19 of the jump, or anything like that?

20           A     Yeah. If I feel like those mechanics play a role in 21 my medical decision-making and my diagnosis, then I will put 22 them. So, for instance, if a person says, well, I fell off a
23 ladder. Well, if they fell one foot, then I might not include
24 that information. But if they fell eight feet or ten feet off
25 a ladder, then I would definitely include that information.

1 Q So if it was something that you thought an injury
2 could occur from, from being a hop for a water bottle, to
3 hyperextend your knee?

4 A Possibly. You know, it all depends on how he
5 jumped, how he landed. You know, you can twist your knee
6 doing very menial things really.

7 Q But at least as you sit here today, this is all you
8 recall based upon your notes?

9 A Exactly, exactly.

10 Q So then go ahead and tell me what you --

11 A So then --

12 Q -- see.

13 A -- you know, in review of systems to try to 14 determine the extent of the injury, he had noted to me that he
15 didn't have any numbness or tingling, that there was no
16 suspected foreign body or, you know, laceration to the skin.
17 He had said that there was no head, neck or other injuries.
18 And then under his past medical history, he indicated to me
19 that he had a history of asthma and that he had had his 20 appendix taken out. He indicated that he did not smoke, drink
21 or do drugs, to me.

22 Q Now, would you, at this point, once you know he's 23 obviously coming in for a knee injury, would you have -- you
24 would not be observing him walk before you're talking to him,
25 examining him?

1           A     Correct, correct.

2           Q     So you wouldn't know if he was limping or anything
3 like that?

4           A     Exactly. So then on my physical exam, I relatively 5 focus -- a relatively focused exam, you can see I examined his 6 foot, his ankle, his leg and then the thigh, and then the hip,
7 all of which were normal on my exam. And basically, I look at 8 the skin. I look for any signs of bruising, I palpate or feel
9 those areas to see if there's any tenderness, any deformity,
10 or anything like that. And those all looked okay.

11                     On my knee exam, I did note that he had tenderness
12 and I referred to the diagram where I circled -- made a little 13 circle and put a "T" and that's where his tenderness was at.
14 So kind of on the inside of his knee, what we call his medial
15 knee is where he was tender.

16           Q     And that was from you pressing or putting light
17 pressure in the area?

18           A     Correct, correct. Touching it and pressing it.

19           Q     Okay.

20           A     I did not note that he had any --

21                     (Stop reading of deposition)

22                     MR. BAKER: Ecchymosis?

23                     MR. CARDENAS: -- ecchymosis, thank you.

24                     (Resume reading of deposition)

25           A     -- that's bruising and I did not note that he had

1 any swelling or joint infusion. Oftentimes, you injure the 2 knee, you can actually end up with a bunch of fluid in the 3 knee joint itself, and I didn't note any of those at that
4 time. I did note that he had limited range of motion, that he
5 -- that he couldn't move it well and -- because it was painful
6 to move.

7 Q Do you know what -- would you have gone through the 8 full range of motion?

9 A Yeah, I would have. I would have asked him to move
10 his knee and essentially observe how well he was able to move
11 it.

12 Q So did he moved, versus you?

13 A Versus me actually moving it.

14 Q Okay.

15 A Yeah, that -- that would be based on him moving it.

16 Q Okay. And he basically -- this was his statement
17 that he was having pain in some of the movement?

18 A Correct, correct. Now, my -- as far as my exam, as 19 far as moving the knee on my exam, I'm more interested in the 20 actual function of the ligaments of the knee, because you can
21 -- you can have complete tears of, you know, any one of a
22 number of ligaments in the knee. So under my ligament exam,
23 you can see that I noted that all the ligaments were stable,
24 so -- and that's basically looking at the anterior and 25 posterior cruciate ligaments, as well as the medial and

1 lateral collateral ligaments, and then the patellar ligament
2 as well.

3 Q So with respect to the "stable" under ligaments,
4 that would have been done, you would have come to that
5 conclusion that the ligaments were stable from you doing
6 certain things to --

7 A Manipulating the knee, exactly. Putting various 8 stressors on the knee manually to determine that, correct.

9 Q And you would have done that in the four areas
10 mentioned there; anterior, posterior, medial and lateral?

11 A Correct.

12 Q And that's done when someone's -- when the patient's
13 on the -- on the --

14 A Usually on the gurney.

15 Q Okay.

16 A Uh-huh.

17 Q And tell me how you can distinguish a ligament
18 that's stable versus one that's not stable, or loose?

19 A Basically, the laxity. When you -- when you -- you
20 know, when you essentially push the knee in certain
21 directions, you should only get a certain amount of movement
22 in that direction before the ligament is taut and it's not
23 able to move any further. If you have laxity, if you get more
24 movement in those, in that direction, then that would suggest
25 an unstable or completely ruptured ligament.

1 Q But as we're talking about your examination, you
2 don't know if you would have the X-ray at this point or not?

3 A You know, I may have, because it does look like this
4 initial order given for the X-ray was early on. It was at
5 21:55 -- 9:55. So by the time I say him, you know, 00:38, I
6 may have had the X-ray result.

7 Q Okay.

8 A It's hard to know one way or the other.

9 Q Would there be anything on the X-ray that would
10 assist you with the ligaments [inaudible]?

11 A No.

12 Q That's just the bone?

13 A Exactly.

14 Q And since we're talking about X-ray, obviously there
15 appear to be nothing that was abnormal about any of the bony
16 areas of the knee, correct?

17 A Correct, correct, yeah. The X-ray's looking 18 primarily at the bones, the alignment of the bones, whether 19 there's any dislocation or fracture in the bones. And at that 20 point, there was nothing -- none that appreciated on the X-
21 ray.

22 Q Okay. Can a hyperextension cause a looseness in the 23 ligaments itself?

24 A It can. If there's a complete tear of a ligament in 25 the knee, then definitely.

1 Q Okay. And then -- okay, Doctor, go ahead, then?

2 A So then, you know, looking at his gait, his gait was
3 limited by pain. Again, that -- oftentimes, that's by sitting
4 the patient up and either seeing, can you walk, how does it
5 feel to walk, if they're unable to really put weight on it or 6 if they're limited in how they walk, oh, I can't walk, it just
7 hurts too much, then I'll check that they're limited by pain.

8 Q Okay.

9 A Neurovascularly, I noted that he was intact, his 10 sensation, his motor was intact in that leg, which suggests 11 that there's no nerve injury that I could detect on my exam at 12 that time.

13 Q So did -- before we go to page 7, on page 6 at the 14 bottom, on gait limited by pain, does that mean that you
15 actually tried to have him walk?

16 A Yeah. Oftentimes we'll kind of stand him up and see
17 if he's able to move it much, yes.

18 Q And he wasn't putting -- well, what's the 19 distinction between limited by pain and unable to bear weight?
20 Just can't put any weight on the leg or what?

21 A Yeah. Oftentimes, you know, in the process of 22 sitting them up, they won't even -- they won't even attempt to 23 walk, because it's too painful. So we may just put that
24 they're limited by pain. Oftentimes, I won't have them bear
25 full weight on their leg if I'm really concerned about an

1 injury anyway. So --

2 Q Can you tell by looking at your notes here whether
3 that would have been the case?

4 A I can't. I can't distinguish.

5 Q Okay. Okay. So I think we've covered everything on 6 that page.

7 A Uh-huh.

8 Q And we're still going through your -- you're 9 continuing your examination?

10 A The exam, yes. So as I mentioned, neurologically he 11 was intact which suggests that on my exam, I did not find any 12 nerve injury. I did not find any vascular injury, because he 13 is -- there was no evidence of vascular compromise. His skin
14 was warm and dry and then the remainder of his exam as far as 15 head, neck, back, chest and abdomen were all normal on my exam
16 as well.

17 Q With respect to the neurovascular tendon --

18 (Stop reading of deposition)

19 MR. BAKER: That might be some sort of typo, too.

20 (Resume reading of deposition)

21 Q -- what -- do you do, some specific test?

22 A Yeah. Essentially what I would do is test --
23 primarily test sensory to light touch. So lightly touch the 24 foot, the toes, the ankle, the leg and see if there's any 25 sensory deficient, because if there's any injury of the nerves

1 at the knee, the deficit is going to be distal to that point.

2 Q And you didn't find any of that?

3 A Correct, correct.

4 Q Okay. I guess with the box with head, head exam,
5 look for any sign of injuries, swelling bruising, you didn't
6 see any of that? Oh, sorry, okay. I guess we're at the box
7 with head.

8 A Yeah. So you know I do a general kind of head exam,
9 look for any signs of injury, swelling, bruising. I didn't
10 see any of that. Look in the throat, the throat was normal.
11 As far as the neck inspection, I'll usually palpate their 12 spine to see if there's any tenderness or deformity. I'll 13 have them move their neck in all directions to see if there's 14 any pain. That -- that was normal according to my notation.
15 Chest, again, I'll palpate, I'll listen to the breath sound,
16 listen to his lungs and the same with the abdomen. I'll 17 generally palpate the abdomen, listen to the abdominal sounds
18 and I noted that all those were normal at that time.

19 Q So basically we've covered the whole body?

20 A Correct.

21 Q Okay. So you're focused on the left knee?

22 A Yeah. And the left knee seemed to be the only place
23 of injury at that time -- at that time on my exam.

24 Q Okay.

25 A So, you know, my impression was, in looking at my

1 note, he did have tenderness medially on the left knee and
2 that's right where the medial collateral ligament sits. And
3 it's a common one to -- to be sprained, essentially. And what 4 a sprain is, is a tearing of those fibers in that ligament.
5 It may not be a complete rupture, and I noted that it wasn't a
6 complete rupture because my limit exam -- ligament exam was 7 intact, but it can be a partial, partial tear of that
8 ligament.

9           And so at that point, what I did is I -- I, you
10 know, essentially diagnosed him with a knee -- a left knee
11 sprain and put him in a knee immobilizer to immobilize that 12 extremity, put him on crutches. Oftentimes with strains, just 13 immobilizing that joint for a couple of weeks, two to four 14 weeks, taking the weight off of it and allowing it to heal up,
15 oftentimes it will heal up on its own. Sometimes it requires
16 more extensive treatment.

17           And then I put him on Motrin, which is an anti-18 inflammatory, to decrease any inflammation there from the 19 injury, and then also Loritab which is a pain medication to 20 help treat his pain. And I recommended that he followup with 21 an orthopedist within ten days and I gave him the name and 22 phone number of one of ours, Dr. Denny, that he could follow
23 with Denny, D-e-n-n-y.

24           Q       Would you have actually put the immobilizer on him?
25 Or would that be something --

1           A     Usually the technician will put it on, and then I do
2 a reassessment to make sure that the immobilizer is in good
3 position.

4           Q     Describe the immobilizer for me.

5           A     It's generally a -- kind of a large velcro structure
6 that wraps around the leg. It goes maybe approximately from 7 the mid-calf up to the mid-thigh and is secured with velcro.

8           Q     And when he was obviously attempting to walk, you
9 recommended that he keep the immobilizer?

10          A     Exactly, yeah. And usually when I put them on a
11 knee immobilizer and crutches, I'm recommending that they not 12 bear weight on that -- that extremity.

13          Q     And basically not to bear any weight until he 14 followed up with Dr. Denny or some other --

15          A     Dr. Denny or -- yeah, exactly.

16          Q     Prior records order, what's written there? Return
17 something?

18          A     Oh, then return to ED, the RTED, is that what you're 19 referring to?

20          Q     Yeah.

21          A     Just return to the emergency department for signs
22 and symptoms of compress, of compartment syndrome. And what
23 compartment syndrome is, is where you end up with -- it
24 usually happens in an extremity, and it's where you end up
25 with an injury that creates such swelling that it -- it -- it

1 can actually cut off the blood flow, the blood supply to that
2 extremity.

3           So generally what I'll do is, I'll counsel the 4 patient that if they start to have numbness, tingling,
5 increasing pain, as opposed to decreasing pain, then they
6 should return to the emergency department, so that we can re-
7 evaluate it and make sure that they're -- that they're -- they
8 still have good blood flow to that extremity and their problem
9 isn't being complicated by this compartment syndrome.

10           Q     And let's go to page 9. Is there anything, okay,
11 that looks like the medicine that you prescribed?

12           A     So then this is -- yeah, this is essentially a 13 discharge sheet that we were using at that time, where we just 14 gave discharge instructions to the patient.

15                     So this is -- this is all my writing here, except 16 for his signature at the bottom, and his primary nurse's
17 signature at the bottom. So essentially I -- I had just 18 written under there in the prescriptions that I was 19 prescribing him Loritab, and he was to take one tablet as 20 needed for pain every four hours and Motrin one tablet three
21 times daily. And then I instructed him to use the crutches
22 while walking until he followed up, and wear the knee
23 immobilizer until seen by his doctor.

24           Q     Now, would you have asked him if he had any prior 25 complaints with the left knee?

1           A     Oftentimes, I will. I didn't see in my notation
2 here that I had documented one way or the other.

3           Q     Now, I note it looks like he was a rather large,
4 somewhat overweight individual. That's my term, although I
5 think doctors use other terms, 5'6" and 225 seems a little
6 bit --

7           A     Yeah, it's the -- I mean for his height -- for his 8 height, if you were to do a body mass index, it would probably 9 be -- it would probably be in the obese side, maybe not 10 morbidly obese, but obese.

11          Q     Would that weight, in your opinion, put more
12 pressure, more stress on the knee?

13          A     It certainly can. I mean, obesity really is a
14 detriment to the back, to all the joints, because the extra
15 weight he's having to carry is being carried by these joints.
16 That being said, you can be a skinny, healthy person and still 17 sprain knees and injure joints.

18          Q     Let me look at my notes for a second, by Ms.
19 Stephenson.

20                   And Doctor, actually the first page, 01, is 21 strapping -- I think it's just the billing, but it's the 22 strapping, the immobilizer, is that what it would be?

23          A     You know, I noticed I was -- I was looking at that 24 and this is actually hospital-generated billing, so this is 25 not my personal billing.

1 Q Okay.

2 A And I'm not sure what that fee is referring to. I
3 suspect, because I see a fee for the knee immobilizer down
4 below, so I suspect that that strapping fee is probably the 5 technician fee of putting the knee immobilizer on, fitting the 6 patient for crutches as well. It could -- either that, I
7 suspect or -- or IT maybe referring to the crutches
8 themselves. It's probably one or the other.

9 Q And naturally, you probably don't know this either,
10 it says -- it looks like a level 4 charge but --

11 A Yes.

12 Q It looks like -- is that the same category?

13 A No, that has nothing to do with the triage category.

14 Q Okay.

15 A Yeah, that has to do with the level of care that was 16 ultimately provided to the patient during their course. And 17 that's related more to billing, coding -- coding, charting and 18 billing. It has nothing to do with the actual triage level.

19 Q Nothing about the injury or anything like that?

20 A Exactly.

21 Q Have you, in your practice as an emergency room
22 physician, seen people come in with hyperextension of the knee
23 where they really don't relate it to anything specific? I
24 mean, like, I don't know what happened, all of a sudden I got 25 this knee pain?

1           A     Well, I've seen -- I've seen people come in with,
2 you know, hyperextension injuries even just walking. So it
3 can happen in a relatively benign manner. It just requires
4 placement of the, you know, knee and the -- you know, and the 5 forces moving in the right direction, essentially at the knee
6 to cause that.

7                     Just sort of random knee pain popping up, I really
8 wouldn't be able to recall a hyperextension, because there
9 wasn't that mechanism there, mechanism there. So, you know,
10 referring to it as hyperextension is really more referring to 11 the mechanism of how it happened. It's kind of like saying an 12 ankle injury occurred with the aversion of the ankle. You're 13 kind of describing the mechanism by which that injury
14 occurred.

15           Q     Okay. And, Doctor, if you noted any other symptoms, 16 bruising, swelling, anything like that, that would have been 17 noted on your -- your examination report?

18           A     Correct, correct.

19                     (Discussion off the record.)

20           MR. BAKER:

21                     (Stop reading of deposition)

22           MR. BAKER: Can I take a two-second breath, Your 23 Honor?

24           THE COURT: Sure, go ahead.

25           MR. BAKER: It's hard being somebody else.

1 THE COURT: It is, and you were reading along at a
2 pretty good clip there.

3 MR. BAKER: I'm 45, Your Honor, but I read at a 48-
4 year-old level. All right.

5 (Resume reading of deposition)

6 CROSS-EXAMINATION

7 BY MR. BAKER:

8 Q Doctor, my name's Steve Baker. I recommend Enrique
9 regarding this matter. Nice to meet you, Doctor.

10 A Nice to meet you.

11 Q I'd like to talk to you just about a couple
12 different things. You were speaking about your ligamentis
13 examination and you said you didn't find any evidence of 14 injury to the -- well, to the interior or posterior of the 15 cruciate ligaments; is that true?

16 A Any instability, so that -- there's a big difference
17 because you can have all sorts of different grades of injury
18 to that ligament. But by doing the ligament exam that I do,
19 you're looking for complete -- a complete tear of that 20 ligament.

21 Q So your examination did not rule out any partial 22 tears; is that true?

23 A No. In fact, by calling it a knee sprain, by 24 ultimating, diagnosing with the knee sprain, that was my 25 clinical impression, that there was a partial tear.

1 Q And that's where I was going to go as well. So your
2 impression was that there was some fibrous damage to the 3 medial collateral ligaments; is that correct?

4 A Correct.

5 Q And I'd like you to turn to page 1 and I don't have
6 it numbered on the pain diagram.

7 MS. STEPHENSON: Six.

8 MR. BAKER: Six, thank you.

9 A Yes.

10 Q Now as well as being the area for the medial
11 collateral ligament, there are other soft tissue bodies
12 located in that area; is that not true?

13 A That's true.

14 Q And there's to be articular cartilaginous; is that 15 true?

16 A Absolutely.

17 Q And, in fact, the meniscus, the medial meniscus is 18 located exactly at that point where you drew the circle and 19 noted tenderness; is that fair to say?

20 A Internally, yes.

21 Q And if he, then, was later diagnosed with a tear of 22 the medial meniscus, that would be consistent with the 23 location you noted tenderness on your examination; is that 24 fair?

25 A Yeah.

1 MS. STEPHENSON: Object to the form. Go ahead.

2 A It would -- it would be -- it would be consistent to
3 have medial pain associated with a medial meniscus tear.

4 Q And specifically, again, the area that you circled
5 and noted with a "T" would be consistent with a finding later
6 of a tear of the medial meniscus; is that fair to say?

7 A Yes.

8 Q A little bit about the mechanism of the injury. Was 9 it your impression that he injured his knee when he leaped for 10 a water bottle?

11 A It was my impression -- from what I wrote here, it's 12 my -- it was my impression that the mechanism was that he 13 jumped for a water bottle, and in doing so, hyperextended the 14 knee.

15 Q And the witnesses who have been deposed and have
16 testified in this case have described the mechanism of injury
17 a little differently. And what they say is actually water
18 bottles were being thrown out into the audience and someone
19 jumped for a water bottle and directly contacted the lateral
20 aspect of his knee.

21 A Hum.

22 Q Do you find that interesting?

23 A Yeah.

24 MS. STEPHENSON: I object to the form.

25 A I don't -- I really can't comment one way or the

1 other. All I can say is what I wrote down from what he told
2 me.

3 Q And that would be a less benign injury than him just 4 leaping for a water bottle himself, to have an actual 5 traumatic impact with a person's body to the lateral aspect of 6 his knee; would that be fair to say?

7 A That it would be a less --?

8 Q Less benign. You've described some of the injuries
9 occurring in a benign fashion.

10 A Right, right.

11 Q But a direct impact to the knee would be more likely 12 to cause a hyperextension injury; is that fair to say?

13 A It could go either way. I really could go either
14 way.

15 Q But knowing that there was a direct traumatic impact
16 to his knee by somebody's body, does not change your diagnosis
17 of a hyperextension injury?

18 A No.

19 Q And neither does it change your diagnosis of a
20 fibrous rupture in the area of the medial collateral ligament?

21 A Yeah, of a knee sprain. Exactly.

22 Q So your diagnosis stands, even though you know the 23 mechanism of injury is a little different than --

24 A Correct.

25 Q Are those your opinions to a reasonable degree of

1 medical probability?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. Now you noted that he had pain in range of 4 motion; is that fair to say?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of 7 medical probability; is that right?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And limitations and mobility associated with that 10 pain; is that correct?

11 A Definitely.

12 Q And so it's also your opinion to a reasonable degree
13 of medical probability?

14 A Yes. Based on my clinical exam at that time, yes.

15 Q And you didn't see him after this point; is that 16 true?

17 A Correct.

18 Q And diagnostic MRI or actual arthroscopic
19 intervention are the gold standard in determining medial
20 meniscus tears, not range of motion examination; is that fair
21 to say?

22 A Absolutely.

23 Q So you would defer to the doctors who treated him
24 later, both diagnostically and interventionally, with respect
25 to the injuries he sustained?

1           A     Yeah, I'd defer to orthopedics. Again, most of the 2 time with knee sprains, oftentimes these will heal on their
3 own with no further type of intervention required. But in 4 patients where their pain persists, or where their disability
5 persists, it's necessary for them to have follow-up, to have
6 further diagnostic studies, such as MRIs done, to determine
7 articular injury, minuscule tears, cartilaginous injury,
8 things like that.

9           Q     And ligamentous injuries would be more likely to 10 heal by themselves than articulate cartilage because they're 11 more highly vascular; is that true?

12          A     Not because they're more likely vascular, but they 13 do tend to heal better than cartilage or meniscus injuries,
14 definitely.

15          Q     So would you -- would you suspect a ligamentous
16 injury would be more likely to spontaneous heal than that 17 cartilage?

18          A     Yes.

19          Q     Okay. Now are these -- now we're looking at the 20 Spring Valley Medical Center bill. Were these generated by 21 your office or by the hospital staff?

22          A     These are generated by the hospital itself.

23          Q     But you're use to seeing bills associated with 24 treatment you render at the hospital?

25          A     No. I often don't see them.

1           Q     When you look at the bills, can you tell me if this
2 was a reasonable bill for the services provided to Enrique
3 Rodriguez at Spring Valley Medical Center.

4                                 (Stop reading of deposition)

5           MR. BAKER:   And just for the Court's understanding,
6 those are the exhibits that were attached and have been
7 admitted into evidence via 3, 4 and 5.

8           THE COURT:   Thank you.

9                                 (Resume reading of deposition)

10          A     From the bills that I have seen, I think these are 11 reasonable costs for an X-ray, for level 4 care, for a knee
12 immobilizer, for the medical medications that were given, yes.

13 BY MR. BAKER:

14          Q     And these procedures and those examinations which 15 were billed were necessary as associated with the injury he 16 presented with?

17          A     Yes.

18          Q     And those injuries were causally related to the 19 episode with the water bottle at the Palms Hotel and Casino?

20          A     From the -- from what I -- you know, in my history
21 taking, I mainly focused on determining the mechanism. So I
22 simply wrote down what the patient has told me, and I use that 23 to guide my decision-making as far as diagnostic 24 interventions, therapeutic interventions. So yes, based on 25 what he was telling me and then on my physical exam, those --

1 those were all appropriate and necessary for me to proceed
2 with his care.

3 Q And causally related to the subject accident?

4 A From what I determined, from the history that I
5 took, I would say, yes.

6 Q Okay. Did you generate a separate bill?

7 A I did. My billing company is RTI, and they do
8 generate a separate bill.

9 Q Do you have that?

10 A That I do not have with me.

11 Q Is that bill contained in any of these documents?

12 A So I have not seen these -- this one, it looks like
13 this is my bill, Shadow Emergency.

14 MS. STEPHENSON: Are you going to attach that, 15 Steve?

16 MR. BAKER: Yeah. What I'm going to do, if you
17 don't mind, is attach what's my copy. You didn't attach 18 yours, did you?

19 MS. STEPHENSON: Uh-uh.

20 MR. BAKER: You didn't?

21 MS. STEPHENSON: Yeah. That's the official record
22 there because it's got the dates down.

23 MR. BAKER: Is there still a bill attached to what's 24 been marked as Exhibit A?

25 MS. STEPHENSON: Yes.

1 BY MR. BAKER:

2 Q So with respect to Exhibit A, the bill from Spring
3 Valley Medical Center, you have testified that they were 4 reasonable, necessary and causally related; is that fair to
5 say?

6 A From what the patient told me, yes.

7 Q Now, the separate billing that you handed me that
8 was generated by you, is that what's in my hand right now?

9 A Yes. The second page.

10 Q Can you tell me the amount on that one?

11 A No, no, not this one. This one is generated by --

12 (Stop reading of deposition)

13 MR. BAKER: Where we are now?

14 MR. CARDENAS: You're at 21.

15 (Resume reading of deposition)

16 BY MR. BAKER:

17 Q Is it this one?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Yes?

20 A Yes. This is the bill generated by my company.

21 Q Would you hand that to the Court Reporter, real
22 quick and have it marked as Exhibit D? I'll ask you to keep 23 the Affidavit of Authenticity with it.

24 How much was the bill generated by your office with 25 respect to your services?

1           A     It looked like -- it looks like there's a level 3
2 bill which was $275 and then there's a services requested bill
3 that was $25.

4           Q     Is the services requested bill mailing me the bill?

5           A     Is it what?

6           Q     Is it just a mailing [inaudible] the bill?

7           A     No. I believe that that's -- it looks like it's an 8 attachment for being seen after hours.

9           Q     Okay. And so both of those two bills, the 273 and 10 then 25, are bills associated to the treatment to Enrique
11 Rodriguez?

12          A     Yeah, 275 and 25, for a total of 300, and they are 13 associated with the treatment of Enrique Rodriguez.

14          Q     And is this the treatment on those bills reasonable
15 necessary and causally related to the subject incident?

16          A     Yes.

17          Q     Could you hand that back to the Court Reporter,
18 please.

19          A     Uh-huh.

20          Q     This is a Desert Radiologist bill.

21          A     Uh-huh.

22          Q     Before we mark that, is that a bill associated with 23 the services received by Enrique Rodriguez?

24          A     Yes. It's the same date.

25          Q     How much is that bill?

1 A It looks like $43.

2 Q Is that bill for the read of the X-ray?

3 A I believe so. Desert Radiology is the group that
4 reads all of our X-rays. They are the radiology group that 5 reads all the X-rays. So this is -- this is not the bill for 6 shooting the X-ray. That's reflected in the hospital bill.
7 But it looks like this is the professional fee for reading the 8 X-ray, yes.

9 Q And was that reasonable and necessary and causally
10 related to the subject incident?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And your answer was, yes?

13 A Yes.

14 MS. STEPHENSON: Did you attach that one, Steve?

15 MR. BAKER: Now, I will. If you go ahead, I'll mark
16 and attach that.

17 BY MR. BAKER:

18 Q You haven't seen Enrique Rodriguez since the single 19 hospital visit; is that fair to say?

20 A As far as I know.

21 Q And you haven't reviewed any medical information or 22 followup care for Enrique Rodriguez; is that fair to say?

23 A No, no, I have not.

24 Q So is it fair to say at the time of trial you will
25 not testify as to the reasonableness, necessity or causation

1 of any of this future treatment, the treatment past when you
2 saw him on that single visit?

3 A Correct. I know of no additional treatment that
4 he's received.

5 Mr. Baker: Thank you, Doctor, no further questions.

6 (End reading of deposition)

7 MR. BAKER: And then Mr. Baker, mini-script, and we 8 went off the record. And I don't know why the rest of that is 9 on the record.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you, Mr. Cardenas.

11 THE COURT: Do you need a break now, Mr. Baker?

12 MR. BAKER: I'd like a couple minutes, if that would 13 be --

14 THE COURT: Very good, let's take about a 10-minute
15 break.

16 MR. BAKER: Thanks.

ATTORNEYS FOR DEFENDANT
FIESTA PALMS, LLC

<sup>1</sup> On September 19, 2011, the district court entered a document entitled "Findings of Fact, Conclusions of Law, and Order" (Exhibit D). This order granted defendant's motion to alter or amend the judgment, regarding language in the judgment dealing with interest. At the present time, however, the district court has not yet entered an actual amended judgment containing revised language relating to interest. Nevertheless, notice of entry of the district court's orders on post-judgment motions has been served. Although defendant's appellate counsel believes the time for appeal will commence upon entry (and notice of entry) of an amended judgment, appellate counsel is not entirely certain as to whether the time for appeal might have already commenced. Accordingly, this notice of appeal is being filed to protect the right to appeal, pursuant to Fernandez v. Infusaid Corp., 110 Nev. 187, 192-93, 871 P.2d 292 (1994). Pursuant to Fernandez, appellate counsel intends to file a motion in the Nevada Supreme Court to determine appellate jurisdiction, at the appropriate time after the appeal has been docketed.

FINDINGS OF FACT AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW
IN SUPPORT OF VERDICT

THIS MATTER HAVING COME ON FOR TRIAL before the bench, commencing on October 25, 2011, and a verdict being entered on March 14, 2011, this Honorable Court Finds and Concludes as follows:

- 1) Liability in favor of the Plaintiff in this matter was determined as consistent with the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of law granting Directed Verdict pursuant to NRCP 52 entered in this matter on March 10, 2011.

2) The Court finds the testimony of Plaintiff's treating physicians, including, but not limited to Dr. Shifini, Dr. Mortillaro, Dr. Kidwell, Dr. Shaw, Dr. Shannon, and Dr. Tauber to be persuasive on the issue of the reasonableness, necessity and causation of past and future medical expenses to include, but not limited to, surgeries to Plaintiff's injured knee, carpal tunnel release, future knee replacement, a spinal cord stimulator and replacement of batteries with respect to the same, future lumbar fusion, cervical modalities, and other and further past and future medical services and expenses as elucidated at trial and, accordingly, and in this Court's discretion, awards as past medical expenses the amount of $376,773.38 and future medical expenses in the amount of $1,854,738.00.

3) Based upon the testimony of said treating physicians, the Plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez, and "before and after" lay witnesses who testified at the time of trial, the Court finds that Plaintiff Rodriguez suffered extensive, painful, disabling, and permanent injuries as a result of the subject incident which have detrimentally impacted his daily living and functioning and, consistent with that finding, and in this Courts discretion, awards as past pain and suffering the amount of $1,243,350.00 and future pain and suffering in the amount of $1,865,025.00.

4) The Court finds the testimony of Plaintiff's economist, Terrence Dineen, persuasive on the issue of Plaintiff's loss of economic opportunity, vocational disability, and loss of past and future earnings, finds and concludes the Plaintiff suffered significant detrimental impact to his ability to transact in the field of real-estate purchases, refurbishment, and sales due to his physical limitations resultant of the subject injury, finds that sufficient opportunity existed and exists in the repressed real estate market for Plaintiff to continue to profitably purchase, refurbish and sell real-estate absent said physical limitations, and is persuaded by and accepts the calculations of Mr. Dineen with respect to the same and, in this Court's discretion, awards

5) As to the allocation of liability the Court finds liability against Defendant Fiesta Palms, LLC, as set forth in Finding and Conclusion #1, above, but finds that Defendant Beavers also failed to act in the manner of the average reasonable person under similar circumstances in a manner creating a foreseeable harm to patrons of the Palms by throwing promotional items into a crowded environment and in other and further manners as elucidated at the time of trial. The Court, in its discretion, therefore apportions liability at 60% to the Palms and 40% to Beavers, with no finding of comparative fault on the part of the Plaintiff.

WHEREFORE, this Court finds and concludes that a verdict be entered in said amounts as set forth on the stipulated Verdict form attached hereto as Exhibit #1.

FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW, AND ORDER DENYING DEFENDANT'S MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

THIS MATTER having come on for hearing on July 5, 2011 with respect to Defendant's Motion for New Trial before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, and the Court having considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the matter under advisement for further consideration hereby finds,

FINDINGS OF FACT

In seeking a new trial, Defendant offered the following four (4) arguments:

1. Plaintiff's counsel engaged in misconduct;
2. The Court erred in allowing testimony of certain providers;
3. The evidence was insufficient to justify the verdict; and

4. The Court erred in striking defense experts.

This Court makes the following Findings of Fact with respect to the following Conclusions of Law and Order as set forth herein.

I. Plaintiff's Counsel Did Not Engage In Misconduct

Defense counsel, during Opening Argument, the evidentiary phase of the trial, and Closing Argument, accused Plaintiff's counsel of engaging in a systematic "medical build-up," and manipulation of the medical records.

Post-trial, Defense counsel, in moving for a mistrial, then accused Plaintiff's counsel and this Court of engaging in a systematic ex parte conspiracy, rendering the trial unfair and impartial. At no time did this Court engage in unpermitted contact with the Plaintiff, nor did this Court rely on the contents and/or points and authorities contained in any "blind" briefing in support of its findings, conclusions, and/or verdict herein.

Post-judgment, Defense counsel, in moving for a new trial, argued that Plaintiff's counsel engaged in blatant premeditated and reprehensible misconduct.

Defendant argued that Plaintiff's counsel's alleged misconduct constituted an irregularity in the proceedings. Defense counsel argued that it was well settled under Nevada law that attorney misconduct constitutes an irregularity in the proceedings; however, they cited no Nevada law, or any authority, for that matter, in support of this position.

Defense counsel pointed to two (2) examples (arguments) of misconduct:

1. Plaintiff's counsel withheld evidence in regards to Plaintiff's tax returns; and
2. Plaintiff's counsel withheld evidence relied upon by Dr. Schifini.

25
26
27
28

This Court finds that Plaintiff's counsel did not withhold evidence in regarding Plaintiff's tax returns.

Mr. Dinneen was asked to look at the vocational issues, the types of work that Plaintiff was able to do prior to his accident, to look at what vocational options he may have in the future and then calculate that loss. He was also asked to look at the costs of future medical care and calculate those values, as well.

Mr. Dinneen met with the Plaintiff, reviewed his medical records, three (3) years of tax returns, and social security materials in forming an opinion that Plaintiff was disabled.

Mr. Dinneen testified that Plaintiff was qualified by the Federal Government as being disabled.

Mr. Dinneen testified to a reasonable degree of economic and professional probability that Plaintiff's income was reported.

Defense counsel was critical of the fact that Mr. Dinneen, during his testimony at trial, and in response to defense counsel's inquiry as to whether Mr. Dinneen knew if any of Plaintiff's income was reported, indicated that he had received a letter from Plaintiff's tax preparer advising that the subject returns had, in fact been filed.

Mr. Dinneen's trial testimony occurred on November 2, 2010. The letter was dated October 20, 2010. Defense counsel did not mark the letter as an exhibit or move to admit the letter.

The subject letter was not the subject of direct examination, and the information relative to the same was brought out through cross-examination in response to counsel's inquiry as to whether Mr. Dinneen knew if any of Plaintiff's income was in fact reported. Mr. Dinneen was provided the letter from the tax preparer subsequent to his deposition, but merely days before his testimony. Defense counsel never moved to admit the document, but did question Mr. Dinneen as to the authenticity of the letter.

Equally, this Court finds that Plaintiff's Counsel did not withhold evidence relied upon by Dr. Schifini.

Defense counsel argued that Plaintiff's counsel withheld 100+ documents that Dr. Schifini relied upon in providing expert opinions at trial.

First, defense counsel decided not to depose Dr. Schifini.

Secondly, Dr. Schifini reviewed all the medical records in the case.

Third, defense counsel's only objections relative to Dr. Schifini's testimony were foundation and hearsay. Defense counsel did not object to the records relied upon, or the introduction of the documents other than on a foundation and hearsay basis, which related to Dr. Schifini's ability to provide expert testimony, and not his reliance on the documents.

Fourth, the records that counsel referred to were introduced and admitted into evidence, with the only objections being foundation and hearsay. Each any every one of these documents had been previously disclosed to the Defendant and were no more than the records of other treating physicians contained in Dr. Schifini's file.

2. The Court Did Not Err In Allowing The Testimony Of Certain Providers

Defense counsel was also critical of the fact that this Court qualified and admitted certain treating providers during trial. Defense counsel's position was that none of the providers were designated as expert witnesses nor provided expert reports. Defense counsel's argument was that they never had notice of the testifying providers' opinions until trial and that they were prejudiced as a result.

This Court finds that defense decided not to depose a single treating physician in a case where the Plaintiff was alleging a constellation of profound injuries.

Defense counsel was fully aware of the nature and substance of the claimed injuries and had also been given the medical records generated by all of Plaintiff's physicians. Defense counsel was free to depose the treating physicians. They chose not to do so.

3. The Court Finds Evidence Was Substantial To Justify The Verdict

This Court heard the extensive testimony of Plaintiff's treating physicians, including, but not limited to Dr. Schifini, Dr. Mortillaro, Dr. Kidwell, Dr. Shah, Dr. Shannon, and Dr. Tauber on the issues of injury to the Plaintiff and the reasonableness, necessity and causation of past and future medical expenses to include, but not limited to, surgeries to Plaintiff's injured knee, carpal tunnel release, future knee replacement, a spinal cord stimulator and replacement of batteries with respect to the same, future lumbar fusion, cervical modalities, and other and further past and future medical services and expenses as elucidated at trial, and heard testimony regarding past medical expenses of $376,773.38 and future medical expenses in the amount of $1,854,738.00.

The Court also heard testimony of said treating physicians, the Plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez, and "before and after" lay witnesses who testified at the time of trial that Plaintiff Rodriguez suffered extensive, painful, disabling, and permanent injuries as a result of the subject incident which have detrimentally impacted his daily living and functioning and, consistent with that finding, awarded as past pain and suffering the amount of $1,243,350.00 and future pain and suffering in the amount of $1,865,025.00.

The Court heard the testimony of Plaintiff's vocational and economic loss expert, Terrence Dinneen, on the issue of Plaintiff's loss of economic opportunity, vocational

1 disability, and loss of past and future earnings, and heard evidence concerning the significant
2 detrimental impact of Plaintiff's injuries upon his ability to transact in the field of real-estate
3 purchases, refurbishment, was presented with evidence and testimony that sufficient
4 opportunity existed and exists in the repressed real estate market for Plaintiff to continue to
5 profitably purchase, refurbish and sell real-estate absent said physical limitations, was
6 presented with the calculations of Mr. Dinneen with respect to the same and, in this Court's
7 discretion, awarded past lost income in the amount of $289,111.00 and future lost income in
8 the amount of $422,593.00.

10 As to the allocation of liability, the Court found liability against Defendant Fiesta Palms,
11 LLC, and found that Defendant Beavers also failed to act in the manner of the average
12 reasonable person under similar circumstances in a manner creating a foreseeable harm to
13 patrons of the Palms by throwing promotional items into a crowded environment and in other
14 and further manners as elucidated at the time of trial. In reaching its verdict, the Court heard
15 and relied upon the testimony of Brandy Beavers with respect to the conduct of both herself
16 and the Palms, and the testimony of Palms' employees regarding the fact the Palms know that
17 promotional items were being thrown into crowds prior to the subject event, had a meeting
18 and set up policies to prohibit said conduct, and then knowingly violated said policies. The 19 Court, in its discretion, therefore apportioned liability at 60% to the Palms and 40% to
20 Beavers, with no finding of comparative fault on the part of the Plaintiff.

23 4. The Court Did Not Err In Striking Defense Experts

24 Defendant presented two (2) non-medical experts in this trial, Dr. Thomas Cargill
25 (Economist) and Forrest Franklin (Liability), neither of whom opined that their opinions were
26 given to a reasonable degree of professional probability as required under Nevada law.

1 Forrest Franklin, Defendant's liability expert, was retained to develop and render an
2 opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to throwing objects, memorabilia, and
3 promotional articles into crowds.

5 Mr. Franklin offered the following opinions:

- 6 1. Throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort into crowds is not 7 a substandard protocol;
- 8 2. It is not unsafe to throw things into crowds; and
- 9 3. It is not below the standard of care to throw items into a crowd.

10 None of these opinions, however, were given to a reasonable degree of professional
11 probability.

12 Dr. Cargill offered the following two (2) opinions at trial:

- 13 1. Plaintiff could not have made as much in the current financial market as he could 14 have back in 2004 because the bubble burst in the housing market; and
- 15 2. Mr. Dineen's discount rates were inappropriate.

16 Neither of these opinions was given to a reasonable degree of professional/scientific
17 probability.

18 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

19 1. Plaintiff's Counsel Did Not Engage In Misconduct

20 This Court concludes as follows:
21

22 As supported by substantial evidence, Plaintiff's counsel did not engage in
23 misconduct.

24 Specifically, Plaintiff's counsel did not withhold evidence in regarding Plaintiff's tax
25 returns. The information relied upon by Mr. Dinneen was of the type contemplated and 26 permitted by NRS 50.275.

25
26
27
28

Equally, this Court concludes that Plaintiff's Counsel did not withhold evidence relied upon by Dr. Schifini.

Nevada law makes it clear that a new trial is not warranted on grounds of surprise based on testimony which, with reasonable diligence, could have been anticipated.

Furthermore, the "surprise" contemplated by Rule 59 (a) must result from some fact, circumstance, or situation in which a party is placed unexpectedly, to his injury, without any default or negligence of his own, and which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against.

Defense counsel did not exercise reasonable diligence and cannot argue surprise since they chose not to depose a single treating provider. As a result of this failure, defendant did not discover the entirety of the materials contained in Dr. Schifini's file.

The records about which Defendant complains were introduced and admitted into evidence, with the only objections being foundation and hearsay. Each and every one of these documents had been previously disclosed to the Defendant and were no more than the records of other treating physicians contained in Dr. Schifini's file. Accordingly, no documents were withheld by the Plaintiff, Defendants were timely provided with all documents serving as the basis of Dr. Schifini's opinion, and no prejudice resulted.

As such, the Court concludes that there was no misconduct on the part of Plaintiff's Counsel.

2. The Court Did Not Err in Allowing The Testimony of Certain Providers

This Court concludes as follows:

Defense counsel cannot argue surprise with respect to the testimony of Plaintiff's treating physicians since they chose not to depose a single treating provider and did not exercise reasonable diligence.

The scope of a witness' testimony and whether that witness will be permitted to testify as an expert are within the discretion of trial court. Prabhu v. Levine, 1996, 930 P.2d 103, 112 Nev. 1538, rehearing denied.

Once the district court certifies an expert as qualified, the expert may testify to all matters within the expert's experience or training, and the expert is generally given reasonably wide latitude in the opinions and conclusions he or she can state. Fernandez v. Admirand, 108 Nev. 963, 969, 843 P.2d 354, 358 (1992); Brown v. Capanna, 105 Nev. 665, 671, 782 P.2d 1299, 1303 (1989) (a proposed medical expert should not be scrutinized by an excessively strict test of qualifications); Freeman v. Davidson, 105 Nev. 13, 15, 768 P.2d 885, 886 (1989) ("[a]n expert witness need not be licensed to testify as an expert, as long as he or she possesses special knowledge, training and education, or in this case, knowledge of the standard of care"); Wright v. Las Vegas Hacienda, 102 Nev. 261, 263, 720 P.2d 696, 697 (1986) ("[a] witness need not be licensed to practice in a given field ... to be qualified to testify as an expert").

Under Nevada law, treating physicians are not considered retained experts. They should be allowed to testify as to treatment, diagnosis (including causation), and prognosis based upon their treatment of the patient and their medical training. Id.

Plaintiff's treating providers were not subject to the strict disclosure or reporting requirements under Nevada law. Id.

Even if this Court were to determine that Plaintiff's counsel failed to comply with the disclosure requirements, which it does not, the decision whether to permit expert witness to testify where there has been failure to comply with disclosure requirements is committed to the trial court's discretion. NRC P 26(b)(4). Murphy v. Federal Deposit Ins. Corp., 1990, 787 P.2d 370, 106 Nev. 26.

Defense counsel was fully aware of the nature and substance of the claimed injuries and had also been given the medical records generated by all of Plaintiff's physicians. Defense counsel was free to depose the treating physicians. They chose not to do so.

Plaintiff's treating providers were permitted to rely on the opinions of non-testifying experts as a foundation for their opinions given at trial.

As such, the Court concludes that there was no error in allowing the testimony of certain providers.

3. The Evidence In The Case Was Substantial And Sufficient To Justify The Verdict.

The Court concludes that the testimony of Plaintiff's treating physicians, including, but not limited to Dr. Schifini, Dr. Mortillaro, Dr. Kidwell, Dr. Shah, Dr. Shannon, and Dr. Tauber to be persuasive and to provide substantial evidence on the issues of Plaintiff's injury and the reasonableness, necessity and causation of past and future medical expenses to include, but not limited to, surgeries to Plaintiff's injured knee, carpal tunnel release, future knee replacement, a spinal cord stimulator and replacement of batteries with respect to the same, future lumbar fusion, cervical modalities, and other and further past and future medical services and expenses as elucidated at trial and, accordingly, and in this Court's discretion, awards as past medical expenses the amount of $376,773.38 and future medical expenses in the amount of $1,854,738.00.

Based upon the testimony of said treating physicians, the Plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez, and “before and after” lay witnesses who testified at the time of trial, the Court concludes that Plaintiff Rodriguez suffered extensive, painful, disabling, and permanent injuries as a result of the subject incident which have detrimentally impacted his daily living and functioning and, consistent with that conclusion, and in this Courts discretion, awards as past pain and suffering the amount of $1,243,350.00 and future pain and suffering in the amount of $1,865,025.00.

The Court concludes the testimony of Plaintiff’s vocational and economic expert, Terrence Dineen, was substantial and persuasive on the issue of Plaintiff’s loss of economic opportunity, vocational disability, and loss of past and future earnings, and concludes the Plaintiff suffered significant detrimental impact to his ability to transact in the field of real-estate purchases, refurbishment, and sales due to his physical limitations resultant of the subject injury, concludes that sufficient opportunity existed and exists in the repressed real estate market for Plaintiff to continue to profitably purchase, refurbish and sell real-estate absent said physical limitations, and is persuaded by and accepts the calculations of Mr. Dineen with respect to the same and, in this Court’s discretion, awarded past lost income in the amount of $289,111.00 and future lost income in the amount of $422,593.00.

As to the allocation of liability, the Court concludes that liability lies against Defendant Fiesta Palms, LLC, and concludes that Defendant Beavers also failed to act in the manner of the average reasonable person under similar circumstances in a manner creating a foreseeable harm to patrons of the Palms by throwing promotional items into a crowded environment and in other and further manners as elucidated at the time of trial. The Court's conclusion with respect to liability is made and based upon the testimony of Brandy Beavers with respect to the conduct of both herself and the Palms, and the testimony of Palms' employees to the fact the Palms knew that promotional items were being thrown into crowds prior to the subject event, had a meeting and set up policies to prohibit said conduct, and then knowingly violated said policies. The Court, in its discretion, therefore apportions liability at 60% to the Palms and 40% to Beavers, with no finding of comparative fault on the part of the Plaintiff.

As such, the Court concludes that the evidence in the case was substantial and sufficient to justify the verdict.

4. The Court Did Not Err In Striking Defense Experts

To testify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, a witness must satisfy the following three requirements: (1) he or she must be qualified in an area of "scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge" (the qualification requirement); (2) his or her specialized knowledge must "assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue" (the assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be limited "to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized] knowledge" (the limited scope requirement).

Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin's testimony failed to satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275, in that neither expert provided opinions to a reasonable degree of professional/scientific probability.

Accordingly, their opinions did not rise to the level of "scientific knowledge" within the meaning of NRS 50.275.

The opinions of Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin offered insufficient foundation for this court to take judicial notice of the scientific basis of those conclusions.

While counsel for the Defendant may have properly qualified said individuals as experts, the opinions rendered by the respective experts were speculative, as the court was not advised and the record does not reflect whether such opinions were made on the basis of “possibility” or some other standard lower than “a reasonable degree of professional probability.”

Accordingly, the testimony of Cargil and Franklin did not satisfy the “assistance” requirement of NRS 50.275.

Regardless, this Court determined both liability and damages independent of striking the testimony of Defendant’s two expert witnesses aforesaid, and determined the same upon the basis and weight of Plaintiff’s economics and vocational expert, Mr. Dineen, Plaintiff’s testimony, and the testimony of Defendant’s employees called in Plaintiff’s case-in-chief.

As such, this Court concludes that there was no error in striking Defense experts.

CASE NO.: A531538

DEPT NO: 10

BENCH TRIAL DATE: 10/25/10

HEARING DATE: 7/5/11

22 FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW, AND ORDER

23 THIS MATTER having come on for hearing on July 5, 2011, with respect to Defendant's
24 Motion to Amend Judgment on the Verdict, before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, and the
25 Court having considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the matter under
26 advisement for further consideration, this Court finds and concludes as follows:

1 FINDINGS OF FACT

2 Within the Judgment on the Verdict filed April 12, 2011, the reference to interest accrual
3 on the Judgment is articulated as follows:

4 Pre-judgment interest shall accrue on past damages at the legal rate of 5.25%
5 (3.25 prime + 2) on the amount of $1,909,234.38 pursuant to NRS 17.130, from
6 the date of service of the Summons and Complaint (12/11/2006) until fully
7 satisfied, such interest in the amount of FOUR HUNDRED TWENTY SEVEN
THOUSAND TWENTY SEVEN AND 71/100 DOLLARS ($427,027.00 [sic])
as of April 4, 2011 and accruing at a rate of TWO HUNDRED SEVENTY
FOUR AND 62/100 DOLLARS ($274.62) per diem thereafter.

8 Post-Judgment Interest shall accrue at the legal rate on future damages in the
9 amount of $4,142,355.00, until fully satisfied.

10 Defendant Fiesta Palms LLC (hereinafter, Defendant or "Palms") objected to this
11 articulation of interest to be awarded as to post-judgment interest on past damages, as developed
12 within its Motion to Amend Judgment. Plaintiff filed no opposition to said Motion, and concurred
13 that the interest rate was improperly articulated.

14 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

15 NRS 17.130 mandates that determination of post-judgment interest on past damages. The 16 Judgment on the Verdict filed April 12, 2011 erroneously articulates the interest rate as "5.25%
17 (3.25 prime + 2)."

OPPOSITION TO MOTION TO AMEND THE ORDER DENYING DEFENDANT'S MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

I. Introduction

Plaintiff concedes, although Defendant never opposed the issue in briefing or at the time of the hearing on the Motion for New Trial, that the subject Order should be revised/amended to reflect that the Defendant deposed two (2) medical providers, Dr. Nathan Heaps, the Emergency Room physician, and Dr. Louis Mortillaro, a Neuropsychologist.

For the reasons discussed herein, however, no further revisions and/or amendments are warranted.

II. Defendant Did Depose Two Providers

In opposing Defendant’s Motion for New Trial, Plaintiff mistakenly argued that Defendant’s counsel opted not to depose a single medical provider. Defendant, neither in their Reply, nor at the time of the hearing in regards to this matter, raised any opposition, argument and/or concern with respect to that statement.

Thereafter, Defendant’s written objection to the Order contained no specific argument relative to this issue other than to simply indicate that the statements were “factually incorrect and misleading.”<sup>1</sup>

Upon receipt of the instant Motion, Plaintiff’s counsel was reminded that two (2) providers were, in fact, deposed.

While no other providers were deposed, it would be fair and just to amend the Order to reflect that Dr. Heaps and Dr. Mortillaro were deposed.

Although this amendment is in order, no further amendments are warranted, and certainly, the findings of fact and conclusions of law that Defense counsel did not exercise reasonable diligence and cannot argue surprise should remain.

III. This Court Correctly Determined that Defendant Could Not Argue Surprise

Plaintiff treated with approximately twenty-five (25) medical providers over the course of several years. Defense counsel deposed two (2) providers, neither of which was a

1 medical doctor involved in Plaintiff's ongoing care for the constellation of physical
2 complaints put into evidence at trial.

3 The basis of the Court's finding and conclusion of law related to, and was based on,
4 the totality of the circumstances of this case: Defendant's lack of diligence in the discovery
5 process and clear lack of surprise relative to Dr. Schifini's records are discussed below.

8 IV. The Facts Pertaining to the Records Produced and Relied Upon by Dr. Schifini are Correct, Factually Accurate and Supported by the Record

10 As this Court will recall, Defense counsel argued in their Motion for New Trial that 11 Plaintiff's counsel withheld 100+ documents that Dr. Schifini relied upon in providing expert 12 opinions at trial.

13 Specifically, Defendant argued as follows:

14 "Dr. Schifini was permitted to testify regarding approximately 117 pages of 15 documents which the Palms were unaware of and the Palms were never been [sic]
16 notified by Dr. Schifini or Plaintiff's counsel that such documents existed. Plaintiff's 17 failure to disclose the documents put the Palms at a great disadvantage in its cross-examination of Dr. Schifini."

18 This, of course, as the Court determined, did not constitute a "surprise," as the Court
19 found that Defense counsel failed to exercise due diligence.

20 First, as specifically found by this Court, defense counsel opted not to depose Dr.
21 Schifini.

22 Second, all of said contested medical records were those of other of Plaintiff's medical 23 providers as related to the instant matter, and all of such records had been previously
24 produced to the Defendant.

Third, as determined by this Court and supported by the evidence presented, Dr. Schifini reviewed all the medical records in the case.<sup>2</sup> This is not an inaccurate or unsupported statement as now suggested by counsel; rather, it is supported by the Trial Testimony of Dr. Schifini.

Fourth, as determined by this Court, defense counsel's only objections relative to Dr. Schifini's testimony were foundation and hearsay.

Fifth, as determined by this Court, defense counsel did not object to the records relied upon as not having been produced and/or as constituting a surprise, or the introduction of the documents, other than on a foundation and hearsay basis, which related to Dr. Schifini's ability to provide expert testimony, and not his reliance on the documents.

Sixth, as this Court determined, the records that counsel referred to were introduced and admitted into evidence, with the only objections being foundation and hearsay.

Dr. Joseph Schifini was qualified as an expert in the areas of pain management, including neurologically mediated disease and modalities of which are used to treat those diseases.

MR. BAKER: I'm going to have him accepted by this Court as a treating physician, qualified as an expert in the areas of pain management, including neurologically mediated disease and the modalities of which are used to treat those diseases.

THE COURT: Any objection?

MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: So ordered.<sup>3</sup>

As previously argued, an expert is permitted to rely upon inadmissible evidence.

NRS 50.285, 50.295. Barrett v. Baird, 1995, 908 P.2d 689, 111 Nev. 1496.

In this case, however, and as determined by this Court, the documents were introduced and admitted.

Separately, while counsel argued that 100+ documents were presented, they did not identify the documents, and counsel's position that he had never seen them before was, as this Court found, illogical, as they were not new to the case, and were in fact stipulated into evidence.

V. Conclusion

Again, Plaintiff concedes that the subject Order should be revised/amended to reflect that the Defendant deposed two (2) medical providers, Dr. Nathan Heaps and Dr. Louis Mortillaro.

However, no further revisions and/or amendments are warranted.

For the Defendant:	KENNETH C. WARD, ESQ. Archer * Norris
--------------------	--

RECORDED BY: VICTORIA BOYD, COURT RECORDER

1 explain to the Court, as I've tried to say?

2 A They're similar, but there's major differences
3 between them.

4 MR. BAKER: I'm going to have him accepted by this Court
5 as a treating physician, qualified as an expert in the areas
6 of pain management, including neurologically mediated disease
7 and the modalities of which are used to treat those diseases.

8 THE COURT: Any objection?

9 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: So ordered.

11 BY MR. BAKER:

12 Q Now, you've reviewed all the medical records in this
13 case. Is that fair to say?

14 A I have. Yes.

15 Q And you're aware of the manner in which Mr.
16 Rodriguez was injured?

17 A Yes.

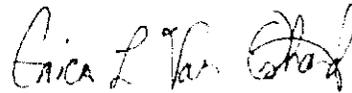

18 Q Would you explain to the Court, please, your
19 understanding of this injury?

20 A My understanding of it is that Mr. Rodriguez was at
21 the Palms Casino, watching or observing -- I believe it was a
22 football game, some sort of sporting event on one of the big
23 screen TVs. During the course of these events -- he was more
24 kind of interested in the sporting event -- but during the 25 course of the events, there was a promotional sort of giveaway

Case No. A531538

AMENDED OR SUPPLEMENTAL NOTICE OF APPEAL

18 Notice is hereby given that defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC, appeals to the Nevada
19 Supreme Court from the order entered on November 17, 2011 (Exhibit A), granting plaintiff's
20 motion to reconsider costs, and awarding plaintiff's costs in the amount of $149,146.18.

21 On September 19, 2011, the district court granted defendant's motion to amend the 22 judgment regarding interest. At the present time, however, the district court has not yet entered
23 an actual amended judgment containing amended language. Defendant filed a protective notice
24 of appeal on November 4, 2011. In the meantime, the district court granted reconsideration of 25 its previous order striking plaintiff's claimed costs; and the district court reinstated all of the 26 costs. Plaintiff served notice of entry of the order granting reconsideration regarding costs.
27 Although defendant's appellate counsel still believes the time for appeal will commence upon 28

1 notice of entry of an amended judgment. appellate counsel is not entirely certain as to whether
2 the time for appeal might have already commenced. Accordingly, defendant is filing this
3 amended or supplemental notice of appeal to protect the right to appeal from the costs order,
4 pursuant to Fernandez v. Infusaid Corp., 110 Nev. 187, 192-93, 871 P.2d 292 (1994)
5 (recognizing protective notice of appeal where appeal time is uncertain).

<sup>1</sup> On September 19, 2011, the district court granted a motion to amend the judgment, but the district court did not actually enter the amended judgment until February 15, 2012. Defendant previously filed a protective notice of appeal and a supplemental/amended notice of appeal, due to jurisdictional uncertainty as to whether various orders and judgments were appealable prior to entry of the amended judgment. With entry of the amended judgment, any such jurisdictional uncertainty is now eliminated.

19 THIS MATTER having come on for hearing on July 5, 2011 with respect to 20 Defendant's Motion for New Trial before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, and the 21 Court having considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the matter

FINDINGS OF FACT

23
24 In seeking a new trial, Defendant offered the following four (4) arguments:

- 25 1. Plaintiff's counsel engaged in misconduct;
- 26 2. The Court erred in allowing testimony of certain providers;
- 27 3. The evidence was insufficient to justify the verdict; and

4. The Court erred in striking defense experts.

This Court makes the following Findings of Fact with respect to the following Conclusions of Law and Order as set forth herein.

1. Plaintiff's Counsel Did Not Engage In Misconduct

Defense counsel, during Opening Argument, the evidentiary phase of the trial, and Closing Argument, accused Plaintiff's counsel of engaging in a systematic "medical build-up," and manipulation of the medical records.

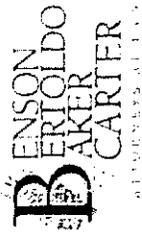

Post-trial, Defense counsel, in moving for a mistrial, then accused Plaintiff's counsel and this Court of engaging in a systematic ex parte conspiracy, rendering the trial unfair and impartial. At no time did this Court engage in unpermitted contact with the Plaintiff, nor did this Court rely on the contents and/or points and authorities contained in any "blind" briefing in support of its findings, conclusions, and/or verdict herein.

Post-judgment, Defense counsel, in moving for a new trial, argued that Plaintiff's counsel engaged in blatant premeditated and reprehensible misconduct.

Defendant argued that Plaintiff's counsel's alleged misconduct constituted an irregularity in the proceedings. Defense counsel argued that it was well settled under Nevada law that attorney misconduct constitutes an irregularity in the proceedings; however, they cited no Nevada law, or any authority, for that matter, in support of this position.

Defense counsel pointed to two (2) examples (arguments) of misconduct:

1. Plaintiff's counsel withheld evidence in regards to Plaintiff's tax returns; and
2. Plaintiff's counsel withheld evidence relied upon by Dr. Schifini.

This Court finds that Plaintiff's counsel did not withhold evidence in regarding Plaintiff's tax returns.

Mr. Dinneen was asked to look at the vocational issues, the types of work that Plaintiff was able to do prior to his accident, to look at what vocational options he may have in the future and then calculate that loss. He was also asked to look at the costs of future medical care and calculate those values, as well.

Mr. Dinneen met with the Plaintiff, reviewed his medical records, three (3) years of tax returns, and social security materials in forming an opinion that Plaintiff was disabled.

Mr. Dinneen testified that Plaintiff was qualified by the Federal Government as being disabled.

Mr. Dinneen testified to a reasonable degree of economic and professional probability that Plaintiff's income was reported.

Defense counsel was critical of the fact that Mr. Dinneen, during his testimony at trial, and in response to defense counsel's inquiry as to whether Mr. Dinneen knew if any of Plaintiff's income was reported, indicated that he had received a letter from Plaintiff's tax preparer advising that the subject returns had, in fact been filed.

Mr. Dinneen's trial testimony occurred on November 2, 2010. The letter was dated October 20, 2010. Defense counsel did not mark the letter as an exhibit or move to admit the letter.

The subject letter was not the subject of direct examination, and the information relative to the same was brought out through cross-examination in response to counsel's inquiry as to whether Mr. Dinneen knew if any of Plaintiff's income was in fact reported. Mr. Dinneen was provided the letter from the tax preparer subsequent to his deposition, but merely days before his testimony. Defense counsel never moved to admit the document, but did question Mr. Dinneen as to the authenticity of the letter.

Equally, this Court finds that Plaintiff's Counsel did not withhold evidence relied upon by Dr. Schifini.

Defense counsel argued that Plaintiff's counsel withheld 100+ documents that Dr. Schifini relied upon in providing expert opinions at trial.

First, defense counsel decided not to depose Dr. Schifini.

Secondly, Dr. Schifini reviewed all the medical records in the case.

Third, defense counsel's only objections relative to Dr. Schifini's testimony were foundation and hearsay. Defense counsel did not object to the records relied upon, or the introduction of the documents other than on a foundation and hearsay basis, which related to Dr. Schifini's ability to provide expert testimony, and not his reliance on the documents.

Fourth, the records that counsel referred to were introduced and admitted into evidence, with the only objections being foundation and hearsay. Each any every one of these documents had been previously disclosed to the Defendant and were no more than the records of other treating physicians contained in Dr. Schifini's file.

2. The Court Did Not Err In Allowing The Testimony Of Certain Providers

Defense counsel was also critical of the fact that this Court qualified and admitted certain treating providers during trial. Defense counsel's position was that none of the providers were designated as expert witnesses nor provided expert reports. Defense counsel's argument was that they never had notice of the testifying providers' opinions until trial and that they were prejudiced as a result.

This Court finds that defense decided not to depose a single treating physician in a case where the Plaintiff was alleging a constellation of profound injuries.

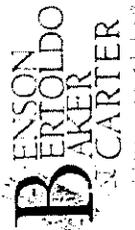

Defense counsel was fully aware of the nature and substance of the claimed injuries and had also been given the medical records generated by all of Plaintiff's physicians. Defense counsel was free to depose the treating physicians. They chose not to do so.

3. The Court Finds Evidence Was Substantial To Justify The Verdict

This Court heard the extensive testimony of Plaintiff's treating physicians, including, but not limited to Dr. Schifini, Dr. Mortillaro, Dr. Kidwell, Dr. Shah, Dr. Shannon, and Dr. Tauber on the issues of injury to the Plaintiff and the reasonableness, necessity and causation of past and future medical expenses to include, but not limited to, surgeries to Plaintiff's injured knee, carpal tunnel release, future knee replacement, a spinal cord stimulator and replacement of batteries with respect to the same, future lumbar fusion, cervical modalities, and other and further past and future medical services and expenses as elucidated at trial, and heard testimony regarding past medical expenses of $376,773.38 and future medical expenses in the amount of $1,854,738.00.

The Court also heard testimony of said treating physicians, the Plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez, and "before and after" lay witnesses who testified at the time of trial that Plaintiff Rodriguez suffered extensive, painful, disabling, and permanent injuries as a result of the subject incident which have detrimentally impacted his daily living and functioning and, consistent with that finding, awarded as past pain and suffering the amount of $1,243,350.00 and future pain and suffering in the amount of $1,865,025.00.

The Court heard the testimony of Plaintiff's vocational and economic loss expert, Terrence Dinneen, on the issue of Plaintiff's loss of economic opportunity, vocational

1 disability, and loss of past and future earnings, and heard evidence concerning the significant
2 detrimental impact of Plaintiff's injuries upon his ability to transact in the field of real-estate
3 purchases, refurbishment, was presented with evidence and testimony that sufficient
4 opportunity existed and exists in the repressed real estate market for Plaintiff to continue to
5 profitably purchase, refurbish and sell real-estate absent said physical limitations, was
6 presented with the calculations of Mr. Dinneen with respect to the same and, in this Court's
7 discretion, awarded past lost income in the amount of $289,111.00 and future lost income in 8 the amount of $422,593.00.

10 As to the allocation of liability, the Court found liability against Defendant Fiesta Palms,
11 LLC, and found that Defendant Beavers also failed to act in the manner of the average
12 reasonable person under similar circumstances in a manner creating a foreseeable harm to
13 patrons of the Palms by throwing promotional items into a crowded environment and in other
14 and further manners as elucidated at the time of trial. In reaching its verdict, the Court heard
15 and relied upon the testimony of Brandy Beavers with respect to the conduct of both herself
16 and the Palms, and the testimony of Palms' employees regarding the fact the Palms know that
17 promotional items were being thrown into crowds prior to the subject event, had a meeting
18 and set up policies to prohibit said conduct, and then knowingly violated said policies. The
19 Court, in its discretion, therefore apportioned liability at 60% to the Palms and 40% to 20 Beavers, with no finding of comparative fault on the part of the Plaintiff.
21
22

23 4. The Court Did Not Err In Striking Defense Experts

24 Defendant presented two (2) non-medical experts in this trial, Dr. Thomas Cargill
25 (Economist) and Forrest Franklin (Liability), neither of whom opined that their opinions were 26 given to a reasonable degree of professional probability as required under Nevada law
27
28

1 Forrest Franklin, Defendant's liability expert, was retained to develop and render an
2 opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to throwing objects, memorabilia, and
3 promotional articles into crowds.

4 Mr. Franklin offered the following opinions:

- 5 1. Throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort into crowds is not 6 a substandard protocol;
- 7 2. It is not unsafe to throw things into crowds; and
- 8 3. It is not below the standard of care to throw items into a crowd.

9 None of these opinions, however, were given to a reasonable degree of professional
10 probability.

11 Dr. Cargill offered the following two (2) opinions at trial:

- 12 1. Plaintiff could not have made as much in the current financial market as he could 13 have back in 2004 because the bubble burst in the housing market; and
- 14 2. Mr. Dineen's discount rates were inappropriate.

15 Neither of these opinions was given to a reasonable degree of professional/scientific 16 probability.

17 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

18 1. Plaintiff's Counsel Did Not Engage In Misconduct

19 This Court concludes as follows:

20 As supported by substantial evidence, Plaintiff's counsel did not engage in
21 misconduct.

22 Specifically, Plaintiff's counsel did not withhold evidence in regarding Plaintiff's tax
23 returns. The information relied upon by Mr. Dinneen was of the type contemplated and
24 permitted by NRS 50 275.

Equally, this Court concludes that Plaintiff's Counsel did not withhold evidence relied upon by Dr. Schifini.

Nevada law makes it clear that a new trial is not warranted on grounds of surprise based on testimony which, with reasonable diligence, could have been anticipated.

Furthermore, the "surprise" contemplated by Rule 59 (a) must result from some fact, circumstance, or situation in which a party is placed unexpectedly, to his injury, without any default or negligence of his own, and which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against.

Defense counsel did not exercise reasonable diligence and cannot argue surprise since they chose not to depose a single treating provider. As a result of this failure, defendant did not discover the entirety of the materials contained in Dr. Schifini's file.

The records about which Defendant complains were introduced and admitted into evidence, with the only objections being foundation and hearsay. Each and every one of these documents had been previously disclosed to the Defendant and were no more than the records of other treating physicians contained in Dr. Schifini's file. Accordingly, no documents were withheld by the Plaintiff, Defendants were timely provided with all documents serving as the basis of Dr. Schifini's opinion, and no prejudice resulted.

As such, the Court concludes that there was no misconduct on the part of Plaintiff's Counsel.

2. The Court Did Not Err in Allowing The Testimony of Certain Providers

This Court concludes as follows:

Defense counsel cannot argue surprise with respect to the testimony of Plaintiff's treating physicians since they chose not to depose a single treating provider and did not exercise reasonable diligence.

The scope of a witness' testimony and whether that witness will be permitted to testify as an expert are within the discretion of trial court. Prabhu v. Levine, 1996, 930 P.2d 103, 112 Nev. 1538, rehearing denied.

Once the district court certifies an expert as qualified, the expert may testify to all matters within the expert's experience or training, and the expert is generally given reasonably wide latitude in the opinions and conclusions he or she can state. Fernandez v. Admirand, 108 Nev. 963, 969, 843 P.2d 354, 358 (1992); Brown v. Capanna, 105 Nev. 665, 671, 782 P.2d 1299, 1303 (1989) (a proposed medical expert should not be scrutinized by an excessively strict test of qualifications); Freeman v. Davidson, 105 Nev. 13, 15, 768 P.2d 885, 886 (1989) ("[a]n expert witness need not be licensed to testify as an expert, as long as he or she possesses special knowledge, training and education, or in this case, knowledge of the standard of care"); Wright v. Las Vegas Hacienda, 102 Nev. 261, 263, 720 P.2d 696, 697 (1986) ("[a] witness need not be licensed to practice in a given field ... to be qualified to testify as an expert").

Under Nevada law, treating physicians are not considered retained experts. They should be allowed to testify as to treatment, diagnosis (including causation), and prognosis based upon their treatment of the patient and their medical training. Id.

1 Plaintiff's treating providers were not subject to the strict disclosure or reporting
2 requirements under Nevada law. Id.

3 Even if this Court were to determine that Plaintiff's counsel failed to comply with the 4 disclosure requirements, which it does not, the decision whether to permit expert witness to 5 testify where there has been failure to comply with disclosure requirements is committed to 6 the trial court's discretion. NRCP 26(b)(4). Murphy v. Federal Deposit Ins. Corp., 1990, 787
7 P.2d 370, 106 Nev. 26.

9 Defense counsel was fully aware of the nature and substance of the claimed injuries
10 and had also been given the medical records generated by all of Plaintiff's physicians.
11 Defense counsel was free to depose the treating physicians. They chose not to do so.

12 Plaintiff's treating providers were permitted to rely on the opinions of non-testifying
13 experts as a foundation for their opinions given at trial.

14 As such, the Court concludes that there was no error in allowing the testimony of 15 certain providers.

16
17 3. The Evidence In The Case Was Substantial And Sufficient To Justify The Verdict.

18 The Court concludes that the testimony of Plaintiff's treating physicians, including,
19 but not limited to Dr. Schifini, Dr. Mortillaro, Dr. Kidwell, Dr. Shah, Dr. Shannon, and Dr.
20 Tauher to be persuasive and to provide substantial evidence on the issues of Plaintiff's injury
21 and the reasonableness, necessity and causation of past and future medical expenses to 22 include, but not limited to, surgeries to Plaintiff's injured knee, carpal tunnel release, future
23 knee replacement, a spinal cord stimulator and replacement of batteries with respect to the 24 same, future lumbar fusion, cervical modalities, and other and further past and future medical 25 services and expenses as elucidated at trial and, accordingly, and in this Court's discretion, awards as past medical expenses the amount of $376,773.38 and future medical expenses in the amount of $1,854,738.00.

Based upon the testimony of said treating physicians, the Plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez, and "before and after" lay witnesses who testified at the time of trial, the Court concludes that Plaintiff Rodriguez suffered extensive, painful, disabling, and permanent injuries as a result of the subject incident which have detrimentally impacted his daily living and functioning and, consistent with that conclusion, and in this Courts discretion, awards as past pain and suffering the amount of $1,243,350.00 and future pain and suffering in the amount of $1,865,025.00.

The Court concludes the testimony of Plaintiff's vocational and economic expert, Terrence Dineen, was substantial and persuasive on the issue of Plaintiff's loss of economic opportunity, vocational disability, and loss of past and future earnings, and concludes the Plaintiff suffered significant detrimental impact to his ability to transact in the field of real-estate purchases, refurbishment, and sales due to his physical limitations resultant of the subject injury, concludes that sufficient opportunity existed and exists in the repressed real estate market for Plaintiff to continue to profitably purchase, refurbish and sell real-estate absent said physical limitations, and is persuaded by and accepts the calculations of Mr. Dineen with respect to the same and, in this Court's discretion, awarded past lost income in the amount of $289,111.00 and future lost income in the amount of $422,593.00.

As to the allocation of liability, the Court concludes that liability lies against Defendant Fiesta Palms, LLC, and concludes that Defendant Beavers also failed to act in the manner of the average reasonable person under similar circumstances in a manner creating a foreseeable harm to patrons of the Palms by throwing promotional items into a crowded environment and in other and further manners as elucidated at the time of trial. The Court's conclusion with respect to liability is made and based upon the testimony of Brandy Beavers with respect to the conduct of both herself and the Palms, and the testimony of Palms' employees to the fact the Palms knew that promotional items were being thrown into crowds prior to the subject event, had a meeting and set up policies to prohibit said conduct, and then knowingly violated said policies. The Court, in its discretion, therefore apportions liability at 60% to the Palms and 40% to Beavers, with no finding of comparative fault on the part of the Plaintiff.

As such, the Court concludes that the evidence in the case was substantial and sufficient to justify the verdict.

4. The Court Did Not Err In Striking Defense Experts

To testify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, a witness must satisfy the following three requirements: (1) he or she must be qualified in an area of "scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge" (the qualification requirement); (2) his or her specialized knowledge must "assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue" (the assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be limited "to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized] knowledge" (the limited scope requirement).

Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin's testimony failed to satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275, in that neither expert provided opinions to a reasonable degree of professional/scientific probability.

Accordingly, their opinions did not rise to the level of "scientific knowledge" within the meaning of NRS 50.275.

The opinions of Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin offered insufficient foundation for this court to take judicial notice of the scientific basis of those conclusions.

While counsel for the Defendant may have properly qualified said individuals as experts, the opinions rendered by the respective experts were speculative, as the court was not advised and the record does not reflect whether such opinions were made on the basis of "possibility" or some other standard lower than "a reasonable degree of professional probability."

Accordingly, the testimony of Cargil and Franklin did not satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275.

Regardless, this Court determined both liability and damages independent of striking the testimony of Defendant's two expert witnesses aforesaid, and determined the same upon the basis and weight of Plaintiff's economics and vocational expert, Mr. Dineen, Plaintiff's testimony, and the testimony of Defendant's employees called in Plaintiff's case-in-chief.

As such, this Court concludes that there was no error in striking Defense experts.

OPPOSITION TO PLAINTIFF'S MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION OF ORDER TO RETAX COSTS

Defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC d/b/a THE PALMS CASINO RESORT ("The Palms"), by and through its attorney of record Kenneth C. Ward, Keith R. Gillette, and ARCHER NORRIS, oppose Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration of Order to Tax Costs. This opposition is made by virtue of Clark County District Court Rule 2.24, District Court Rule 13(7), Nevada Revised Statute,

ZA126/1236839-1

1 sections 18.020 and 18.110 and on the grounds that Plaintiff has not set forth any basis in fact or law
2 that demonstrates this issue is one of those very rare instances that requires this Court to reconsider
3 its September 16, 2011 Order granting the Palms' Motion to Tax Costs ("Order").

4 This opposition is further based upon the papers and pleading on file herein, the below
5 Points and Authorities, and oral argument.

6 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

7 I.

8 Introduction

9 At the outset it is important to note that Plaintiff has not raised any new legal or factual issues
10 for this Court to consider. Rather, Plaintiff attempts to dress up its previously filed opposition to 11 the motion to tax in another set of clothes and simply rehash the same arguments that have already 12 been carefully reviewed and decided by this Court. Plaintiff's memorandum of costs, opposition to 13 the motion to tax, and motion for reconsideration all fail to sufficiently document, itemize, and 14 justify that its costs were reasonable and necessary. This Court carefully considered and correctly
15 granted the motion to tax costs and, as a result, Plaintiff's motion for reconsideration should be 16 denied.

17 II.

18 Statement of Facts

19 Plaintiff filed and served its Memorandum of Costs on March 15, 2011. The memorandum is 20 a generic diagram that contains virtually no detail. Plaintiff did not provide a single document or any 21 explanation concerning the costs set forth in its memorandum.<sup>1</sup>

22 Attached to the memorandum of costs is a three paragraph affidavit from Plaintiffs counsel.<sup>2</sup>
23 The first two paragraphs of the affidavit simply say that Plaintiff's counsel is a licensed attorney and 24 he's employed by the firm representing the Plaintiff. The affidavit contains one sentence concerning
25 the costs. While this sentence states the costs are "correct" and "have been necessarily incurred," it
26

27 _____

28 <sup>2</sup> A copy of the Affidavit is attached to the motion for reconsideration as Exhibit 1.

1 is void of any reference as to whether the costs are reasonable and necessary.

2 Based on the Plaintiff's failure to comply with established Nevada law and demonstrate that
3 the claimed costs were reasonable and necessary, the Palms filed a Motion to Tax Costs.<sup>3</sup> More
4 specific, the Palms moved to tax Plaintiff's costs on the grounds such costs are not recoverable
5 because there's no showing that the costs were reasonable and necessary or recoverable by statute.
6 The motion also explicitly provided that Plaintiff failed to provide any itemization, invoices, or other
7 evidentiary support justifying an award of its costs.

8 Plaintiff opposed the motion to tax, but ignored the glaring deficiencies the Palms highlighted
9 in its memorandum of costs. In fact, Plaintiff had several opportunities to demonstrate that its costs
10 were reasonable by documentation, itemization, or other evidence. Plaintiff could have made such a
11 showing when it filed its memorandum of costs, its opposition to the motion to tax, or at the hearing
12 on the motion to tax. Plaintiff, however, chose not to take advantage of those opportunities and did 13 not provide any documentation or other evidence in support of its memorandum of costs.

14 The issue was fully briefed by the Plaintiff and the Palms and came before the Court on July
15 5, 2011. Following the hearing, the court took the matter under advisement for further
16 consideration. On September 19, 2011, the Court granted the Palms' Motion to Tax Costs. More
17 specific, the Court found that Plaintiff "had every opportunity to produce documents or evidence
18 substantiating its claimed costs but failed to do so" and "seeks recovery of other costs that either
19 exceed certain statutory limits or are not recoverable under Nevada." (A true and correct copy of the 20 Order is attached hereto as Exhibit 1.)

21 Now Plaintiff wants to reargue the same legal and factual analysis. Plaintiff filed its motion
22 for reconsideration. But leave to file such a motion has not been requested or granted. Attached to 23 the motion for reconsideration is a stack of disorganized papers or invoices.<sup>4</sup> These invoices are not
24 authenticated and there is no supporting affidavit or other document that points out any information
25 concerning the nature of the costs. The invoices—attached for the first time to the motion for 26 reconsideration—show that Plaintiff cannot support his claim that the costs are necessary,

27 _____
28 <sup>3</sup> A copy of the motion to tax costs is attached to the motion for reconsideration as Exhibit 2.

<sup>4</sup> A copy of the "invoices" is attached to the motion for reconsideration as Exhibit 3.

1 reasonable, and actually incurred. For instance, one document shows over 50 cost entries billed in
2 the years 2014 and 2015. (A true and correct copy of selected invoices from Plaintiff's motion for
3 reconsideration is attached hereto as Exhibit 2.) Another set of documents labeled as invoices show
4 real estate commissions that were paid to the Plaintiff, which are not recoverable costs of litigation.
5 (A true and correct copy of selected invoices from Plaintiff's motion for reconsideration is attached
6 hereto as Exhibit 3.).

7 This Court correctly granted the motion to tax costs.

8 III.

9 Legal Argument

10
11 A. Reconsideration of the Order denying Plaintiff's memorandum of costs is not 12 appropriate because leave has not been granted by the court, the Plaintiff has 13 not presented any new issues of law and simply rehashes his old arguments
14 that have already been briefed, argued, and considered by this Court.

15 Plaintiff continues to disregard the requirement that the prevailing party must show how the 16 costs were necessary to and incurred in the action and provide sufficient justifying documentation
17 and specific itemization to demonstrate the reasonableness and the accuracy of the claimed costs.
18 (Waddell v. L.V.R.V., Inc., 122 Nev. 15 (Nev. 2006); Bobby Berosini, Ltd. v. People for the Ethical Treatment
19 of Animals, 114 Nev. 1348 (Nev. 1998).) This Court enforced NRS 18.020(3) when it granted the 20 Palms' motion to tax costs and confirmed settled Nevada law that simply filing a generic
21 memorandum and affidavit is not sufficient verification of the incurred costs. (Vill. Builders 96 v. U.S.
22 Labs., 121 Nev. 261, 277-78 (Nev. 2005)(requiring justifying documentation for each individual item
23 of costs and substantiating the reason for such costs rather than merely providing documentation to 24 support that amount of the total costs is reasonable.)

25 The rehearing of any motion must be done in conformity with the local and District Court
26 Rules. Clark County District Court Rule 2.24 and D.C.R. 13(7) state that "no motion once heard 27 and disposed of shall be renewed in the same cause, nor shall the same matters therein embraced be 28 reheard, unless by leave of the court granted upon motion therefore, after notice of such motion to the adverse parties." Leave to reconsider a previously decided issue may only be granted if

1 substantially different evidence is introduced or the decision is clearly erroneous. (Masonry & Tile
2 Contractors Ass'n of S. Nevada v. Jolley, Urga & Wirth, Ltd., 113 Nev. 737, 741 (Nev. 1997).) Absent new 3 issues of material fact or law, “points or contentions not raised in the original hearing cannot be
4 maintained or considered on rehearing.” (Achrem v. Expressway Plaza Ltd. Partnership, 112 Nev. 737
5 (Nev. 1996).) Only “in very rare instances in which new issues of fact or law are raised supporting a
6 ruling contrary to the ruling already reached should a motion for rehearing be granted.” (Moore v. City
7 of Las Vegas, 92 Nev. 402, 405 (Nev. 1976).)

8 Here, Plaintiff did not seek leave of the court. Leave, however, is required under the District
9 Court Rules. The motion for reconsideration is not properly before this Court and, as a result,
10 should be denied on this basis alone.

11 Even if the leave requirement is somehow waived or ignored, Plaintiff’s motion for 12 reconsideration does not raise a new issue of law or fact for this Court to consider. Instead, Plaintiff
13 rehashes its argument that its three paragraph affidavit and generic memorandum of cost is sufficient.
14 More important, Plaintiff had a full and complete opportunity to submit evidence such as affidavits
15 or invoices and demonstrate that its costs were necessary, actually incurred, and reasonable the first
16 time the parties briefed and argued this issue before the Court. Instead, Plaintiff uses the same
17 arguments as he did before without presenting any new legal issues to this Court.

18 Dressing up the same old arguments in a new set of clothes does not constitute one of those 19 “very rare” instances that justifies rehearing a motion that has already been decided. In short, the 20 motion for reconsideration is improper because leave was not granted and the Plaintiff does not raise 21 any new legal issues upon which this Court may reconsider its previous order.

22
23 B. Plaintiff’s untimely invoices, voluminous as they are, illuminate, rather than 24 eliminate, why settled Nevada law requires a party to show how its costs were necessary, actually incurred, and reasonable.

25 NRS 18.110 provides that a memorandum of costs must be filed with 5 days after notice of 26 entry of judgment. Plaintiff—for the first time—attaches a stack of papers to its motion for 27 reconsideration seven months after it filed a memorandum of costs. The invoices attached to the 28

1 motion for reconsideration were not raised in the original hearing and, therefore, cannot be
2 considered on rehearing. In addition, the Plaintiff did not offer any explanation as to why it did not
3 submit these invoices when this matter was briefed and argued before the Court. There is none.
4 Simply put, the plaintiff was dilatory and such behavior should not be condoned by the court.<sup>5</sup>

5 The stack of invoices attached to the motion for reconsideration actually highlights why
6 Nevada law requires a party seeking its costs to show how these costs were necessary, actually
7 incurred, and reasonable. The first several pages contain over 50 cost entries with invoice dates in 8 the future—2014 and 2015. (See Exhibit 2.) The accuracy of these unverified invoices is therefore 9 suspect at best. Even more confusing is the 30 plus pages of documents attached to the motion for 10 reconsideration that show real estate commissions paid to the Plaintiff. (See Exhibit 3.) Real estate
11 commissions paid to Plaintiff as part of his job are not recoverable costs. More important, this
12 demonstrates that Plaintiff simply plucked and pulled any random document that happens contain a
13 dollar figure and attached it to the motion for reconsideration. But neither a perfunctory survey of 14 these “invoices”, nor a careful resolute stare, would lead an average reader to an appreciable
15 understanding of how the claimed costs were reasonable, necessary, and actually incurred. In short, 16 even these untimely and improperly attached invoices aren’t helpful to the determination of whether 17 Plaintiff’s costs are necessary and reasonable.

18 There is not a single declaration from any vendor, expert, Plaintiff, or Plaintiff’s counsel
19 authenticating the stack of disorganized papers attached to the motion for reconsideration. And 20 Plaintiff’s offer no explanation to the Court or the Palms as to how Plaintiff is entitled for costs
21 billed in the years 2014 and 2015 or how Plaintiff’s real estate commissions demonstrate his costs in 22 this matter were reasonable, actually incurred, and necessary. “[J]udges need not paw over the files
23 without assistance from the parties.” (Huey v. United Parcel Service, Inc. 165 F.3d 1084, 1085 (7th Cir.
24 1999).) But that is precisely what Plaintiff is demanding that this Court do by attaching nearly 200
25 pages of documents without any index, affidavit, itemization, or explanation. Therefore, these 26 invoices are untimely, unsupported, and not reliable.

27
28 <sup>5</sup> It is one of the principal maxims of equity jurisprudence that equity aids the vigilant and not those that slumber on their rights. (Baber v. Caples, 71 OR 212 (Ore. 1914).

1 C. Plaintiff's attempt to distinguish this case from controlling case law is 2 erroneous.

3 While the Plaintiff's costs were denied on several grounds, Plaintiff's sole contention for
4 reconsideration is that an Affidavit from its counsel is sufficient for an award of costs under NRS
5 18.020. Plaintiff erroneously relies on Canepa v. Durham, 62 Nev. 417 (1945) and contends that an
6 "Affidavit in support of the Memorandum of Costs was sufficient." (Motion for Reconsideration, p.
7 4 and 7.) The court in Canepa, however, determined the sufficiency of awarding costs under Section
8 8928 N.C.L.—not NRS 18.020. Section 8928 N.C.L. pertains to costs following the modification of 9 a judgment: "Section 8928 N. C. L. provides that where a judgment is modified, or where a new trial
10 is ordered, and no order is made relative to costs, as in this case, the party obtaining any relief shall 11 have his costs." (Lee Tire & Rubber Co. v. McCarran, 57 Nev. 123 (1936).) (emphasis added.) Contrary
12 to Plaintiff's contention, the Canepa opinion does not hold that costs under NRS 18.020 are 13 recoverable upon the filing of a three paragraph affidavit.

14 Unpublished orders are not regarded as precedent and can not be cited as legal authority.
15 (Nevada Supreme Court Rule 123.) Despite this established rule, Plaintiff relies upon Southern Nevada
16 Chinese Weekly v. Chinese American Chamber of Commerce (Motion for reconsideration, p. 7) to contend
17 that a court's failure consider the adequacy of the memorandum is an abuse of discretion. This 18 unpublished opinion, however, does not support Plaintiff's argument. Actually, this opinion states
19 that the costs must be actual and reasonable and that the party seeking costs must provide sufficient
20 documentation: "Under Nevada law, the prevailing party is entitled to recover costs incurred in 21 litigation... Those costs must be actual and reasonable." (S. Nevada Chinese Weekly, at 3)(emphasis 22 added) The court continues to explain that "The prevailing party must provide sufficient
23 documentation that the costs were reasonable." (Ibid.)(emphasis added). The court in S. Nevada
24 Chinese Weekly reversed the denial of costs because the lower court summarily denied the 25 memorandum of costs without any analysis. (Ibid.)

26 Unlike the situation in S. Nevada Chinese Weekly, this Court performed an extensive analysis of 27 the Plaintiff's memorandum of costs. The matter was extensively briefed by the parties, argued 28

1 before the Court, and the matter was then taken under advisement for further consideration.
2 Following this activity, the Court made very specific and detailed findings of fact and conclusions of
3 law. For instance, this Court found that “The prevailing party must...provide sufficient justifying
4 documentation...to demonstrate the reasonableness and accuracy of the costs.” (Order, p. 2) In 5 addition, this Court found that the “Plaintiff’s cost memorandum provided a generic breakdown of 6 claimed costs...The court is unable to determine what method of calculation, if any, was used by
7 Plaintiff.” (Ibid.) Therefore, Plaintiff’s characterization that the order simply denied its memorandum
8 of costs without any consideration or analysis is inaccurate.

9 Even if the Court considers Plaintiff’s motion for reconsideration, the subject Order also 10 held that several cost items are not recoverable under Nevada law or exceed certain statutory limits.
11 These finding were not challenged by Plaintiff. The portions of the Order contested by Plaintiff are 12 not supported by the Canepa or the S. Nevada Chinese Weekly opinions.

13 IV.

14 Conclusion

15 The rule regarding recovery of costs is well settled in Nevada. The Plaintiff must show that 16 the claimed costs are reasonable, necessary, and actually incurred. This showing is made by providing 17 sufficient documentation or evidence—not a stack of haphazardly assembled papers. While this is a
18 minimal burden, Plaintiff failed to demonstrate that his costs were reasonable the first time this
19 matter was briefed, argued, and submitted to the Court. Now Plaintiff attempts to rehash the same
20 arguments without first seeking leave of court. This attempt, however, is made without any reference
21 to any new facts or law that demonstrates this issue is one of those very rare instances when this 22 Court should reconsider a matter that has been fully briefed, argued, and decided. Therefore,
23 Plaintiff’s motion for reconsideration should be denied.

CASE NO.: A531538

DEPT NO: 10

BENCH TRIAL DATE: 10/25/10

21
22 FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW, AND ORDER

23 THIS MATTER having come on for hearing on July 5, 2011, with respect to Defendant's
24 Motion to Tax Costs, before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, and the Court having 25 considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the matter under advisement for 26 further consideration, this Court finds and concludes as follows:

27 ///

28 ///

1 FINDINGS OF FACT

2 The Court finds that Plaintiff's Memorandum of Costs fails to document, itemize, and justify
3 its costs. In Plaintiff's Opposition to Defendant's Motion to Tax Costs, Plaintiff had the
4 opportunity to produce documents or evidence substantiating its claimed costs but failed to do so.

5 In addition, Plaintiff's memorandum of costs seeks recovery of other costs that either exceed
6 certain statutory limits or are not recoverable under Nevada law.

7 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

8 Notwithstanding the language of Nev.Rev.Stat. § 18.020, the district court still retains
9 discretion in determining the reasonableness of the amounts and the items of costs to be awarded.
10 Decisional law holds that discretion should be sparingly exercised. Further, the trial court should 11 exercise restraint as statutes permitting recovery of costs, being in derogation of the common law,
12 must be strictly construed.

13 The prevailing party must also show how the costs were necessary to and incurred in the
14 action and provide sufficient justifying documentation and specific itemization to demonstrate the 15 reasonableness and the accuracy of the costs claimed. The filing a memorandum is not sufficient
16 verification of the incurred costs.

17 Plaintiff's costs memorandum provided a generic breakdown of claimed costs, and did not
18 contain the required itemization or documentation for each individual item. The court is unable to
19 determine what method of calculation, if any, was used by the Plaintiff to confirm that these costs
20 were actually incurred for this matter, necessary, and reasonable. The itemized materials are 21 necessary to make such a determination and any award of costs without this information is improper.

22 The Plaintiff must itemize and provide supporting documentation for each cost he seeks to
23 recover. No such showing has been made, and Plaintiff's costs in the sum of $149,146.18 must be
24 disallowed.

25 Nevada Revised Statute, section 18.005 specifically provides what costs are recoverable.
26 Litigation cost and attorney fee statutes are exceptions to the common law American Rule that every
27 litigant pays his or her own fees. Restraint therefore must be exercised when awarding costs that are
28 not allowed by statute or case law. Even if Plaintiff properly itemizes and documents various costs,

1 these costs are still not recoverable under any statute or judicial opinion. Such costs include costs
2 categories within Plaintiff's Memorandum of Costs including: e-filing retainer; trial transcript costs;
3 and, Telecopies, Photocopies, Long Distance Telephone Calls, and Postage. As for witness fees,
4 plaintiff has failed to substantiate the amounts sought in recovery as costs, and seeks amounts far in
5 excess of that allowed by statute. Further, the Court determines that Plaintiff's Memorandum of
6 Costs fails to allocate costs between the various defendants.

7 Accordingly, Plaintiff's costs in the sum of $149, 146.18 must be disallowed.

I. Introduction

Plaintiff is seeking an Order of Reconsideration of this Court's granting of Defendant's Motion to Tax.

II. Basis of This Court's Decision to Grant Defendant's Motion

Defendant moved this Court for an Order to Tax on the "grounds that Plaintiff failed to document, itemize, and justify its costs."<sup>1</sup>

On July 5, 2011, at the time of Defendant's Motion to Tax, Defense counsel argued that although he was not contesting the veracity of Plaintiff's counsel's affidavit, no invoices or documentation were provided to allow a determination as to whether the costs were reasonable or necessary.<sup>2</sup>

The basis of this Court's decision to grant Defendant's Motion was that Plaintiff did not attach any invoices to his Memorandum of Costs or Opposition to the Motion to Retax.

Plaintiff re-iterates that Invoices were/are not required, and that the Affidavit of Plaintiff's counsel was, in fact, sufficient.

III. Argument

Plaintiff, in total compliance with relevant statutes and Nevada law, provided a Memorandum of Costs, setting forth an itemization of said costs, and supported the same with an Affidavit, attesting that the costs set forth therein were correct and necessarily incurred.<sup>3</sup>

Plaintiff submits, and Nevada law supports, that the Affidavit submitted in support of the Memorandum of Costs was sufficient. Canepa v. Durham, 1945, 155 P.2d 788, 62 Nev. 417.<sup>4</sup>

Under NRS 18.110(1), a prevailing party must submit:

a memorandum of the items of his costs in the action or proceeding, which memorandum must be verified by the oath of the party, or his attorney or agent, or by the clerk of his attorney, stating that to the best of his knowledge and belief the items are correct, and that the costs have been necessarily incurred in the action or proceeding.

<sup>2</sup> As argued at the time of the hearing of this matter, this was a 2 ½ week bench trial involving a case of disputed liability and causation. Certainly, there can be no argument, and there was no argument, that the costs asserted were unreasonable.

<sup>4</sup> In an effort to further support the reasonableness of the costs, however, Plaintiff has submitted invoices for each of the asserted costs.

The subject statute does not specify that invoices or receipts are required; rather, the statute simply calls for an affidavit of the party or his counsel, which is what was accomplished in this case.

Plaintiff's Memorandum, as argued in his Opposition, set forth actual, rather than estimated costs.

As pointed out in Plaintiff's Opposition to Motion to Retax and supported by the undersigned counsel's affidavit in support of Plaintiff's Memorandum, rather than a reasonable estimate or calculation, Plaintiff's costs were actual and necessarily incurred.

This Court certainly has the ability and discretion to determine the reasonableness of the asserted costs.

IV. Conclusion

Plaintiff submits that the Memorandum of Costs, supporting Affidavit, arguments set forth in the Opposition to Defendant's Motion to Retax, and most importantly, this Court's understanding and appreciation of the complexities of the 2 ½ week bench trial provided ample and sufficient support of the actual, reasonable and necessary nature of the costs asserted.

Plaintiff respectfully submits that an Order for Reconsideration of this Court's granting of Defendant's Motion to Retax is warranted.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO AMEND THE ORDER
DENYING DEFENDANT'S MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Dept: X
Judge: Hon. Jessie Walsh

23
24 I. INTRODUCTION

25 Defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC dba THE PALMS CASINO RESORT ("THE 26 PALMS") respectfully asserts that the Court's Order Denying Defendant's Motion for New Trial
27 ("Order") filed on September 29, 2011, should be altered or amended by virtue of NRCP 52(b) or 28

ZA126/1238196-1.

1 NRCP 59(e) because of obvious errors of law and fact set forth in the Order:

2 (1) Dr. Schifini did not produce all of the records that he was obligated to under the
3 document subpoena submitted upon him. The facts in the Order pertaining to the documents
4 withheld and/or reviewed by Dr. Schifini must contain such a significant fact to be accurate.

6 (2) Defendant's counsel deposed not one but two of plaintiff's treating medical providers,
7 Dr. Nathan Heaps and Dr. Louis Mortillaro. The facts and conclusions regarding defense
8 counsel's depositions and diligence should be removed.

9 THE PALMS requests that the Court grant this motion to correct a clear error of law and 10 prevent manifest injustice.

11 II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

12
13 After the hearing on THE PALM's Motion for New Trial on July 5, 2011, this Court
14 instructed plaintiff's counsel to prepare the proposed order deciding the motion. During the 15 ensuing two months, in conversations with plaintiff's counsel, counsel for THE PALMS
16 repeatedly inquired as to the status of the proposed order, reiterating their request that they be 17 given an opportunity to review the document in advance of its submittal. Based upon these 18 conversations, it was defendant's counsel's understanding that they would have the opportunity to 19 review the proposed order in advance of its submittal to this Court. On September 6, 2011, at the 20 conclusion of the hearing on plaintiff's motion to require posting of supersedeas bond,
21 defendant's counsel again raised the issue with plaintiff's counsel, Steve Baker. During this 22 conversation, attorney Baker reiterated that he would be providing this proposed order for 23 defendant's review in the near future.

24 On Friday, September 9, 2011, plaintiff's counsel's paralegal, Monique Krystek, emailed
25 counsel for THE PALMS, indicating that the Order After Hearing on defendant's Motion for New 26 Trial was being submitted to this court for signature. (See Exhibit A to the Affidavit of Keith R.
27 Gillette ("Gillette Aff't.") in support of instant motion.) Upon receiving this email, defendant's
28 counsel wrote to plaintiff's paralegal Monique Krystek, as well as plaintiff's counsel Robert

1 Cardenas, objecting to the Court's endorsement of the proposed order without defendant's
2 review. (Exhibit B to Gillette Aff't.) Shortly thereafter that same afternoon, attorney Steve
3 Baker spoke with defendant's counsel Keith Gillette. In that conversation, attorney Baker
4 acknowledged that he would allow defendants the opportunity to review and comment on the 5 proposed order. Attorney Baker also informed attorney Gillette that the order had not been
6 submitted, notwithstanding comments from his paralegal stating otherwise. This was confirmed
7 in an email sent immediately after the conversation. (Exhibit C to Gillette Aff't.)

8 On Tuesday, September 13, 2011, this proposed order was re-sent to defendant's counsel
9 Gillette. (Exhibit D to Gillette Aff't.) Defendant's counsel wrote to plaintiff's counsel Baker and 10 Cardenas on the same day, providing comments and requested revisions to the proposed order.
11 (Exhibit E to Gillette Aff't.) In separate correspondence that same day, defendant's counsel
12 wrote again attorneys Baker and Cardenas, indicating that the proposed order had apparently not 13 been withdrawn, reiterating defendant's request that it be revised and resubmitted, and enclosing
14 a copy of the letter written to this Court on the issue. (Exhibits F and G to Gillette Aff't.)

15 This and subsequent attempts to contact plaintiff's counsel were ignored, with no
16 communication between the parties prior to the defendant's receipt of the Court's Notice of Entry
17 of Order. Consequently, the Order contains a number of factual inaccuracies in its Findings of 18 Fact, leading to Conclusions of Law premised upon those faulty facts.

19 III. LEGAL ARGUMENT

20 A. The Court Should Amend a Judgment that is Based on Errors of Law or Fact

21 Nevada trial courts have power to "alter or amend" a judgment following a motion made
22 under NRCF Rule 59(e) or 52(b). While neither rule sets forth any specific grounds for relief,
23 under the Federal rules containing similar language, courts have found such motions proper when 24 the district court committed clear error of law or fact. See Turner v. Burlington Northern Santa
25 Fe R.R. Co., 338 F.3d 1058, 1063 (9th Cir. 2003). "A [FRCP] Rule 59(e) motion should be 26 granted if there exists a manifest error of law or fact, so as to enable the court to correct its own
27 errors and thus avoid unnecessary appellate procedures." Divane v. Krull Elec. Co., Inc., 194 F.3d
28 845, 848 (7th Cir. 1999)(Internal citations omitted). See e.g. Deutsch v. Burlington Northern R.R.

1 Co., 983 F2d 741, 744 (7th Cir. 1992) re Rule 52(b). These cases are noteworthy, as cases
2 interpreting the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure are persuasive authority in interpreting the 3 Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure. Executive Management, Ltd. v. Ticor Title Ins. Co., 118 Nev.
4 46, 53 (2002).

5 B. The Facts Pertaining to Records Produced and Reviewed by Dr. Schifini and the Deposition
6 History of Plaintiff's Treating Physicians are Erroneous Because they are Factually Inaccurate
7 and Unsupported by the Record

8 Findings of fact shall not be set aside by the trial court unless clearly erroneous. NRC
9 52(a); Kockos v. Bank of Nevada, 90 Nev. 140 (1974). The United States Supreme Court has 10 defined the clearly erroneous standard under FRCP 52(a) and the Nevada Supreme Court has 11 adopted the same standard to interpret NRC 52(a): "A finding is 'clearly erroneous' when 12 although there is evidence to support it, the reviewing court on the entire evidence is left with the 13 definite and firm conviction that a mistake has been committed." United States v. Gypsum Co.,
14 333 U.S. 364, 395 (1948), cited in Unionamerica Mortgage & Equity Trust v. McDonald, 97 Nev.
15 210, 211-12 (1981).

16 The weight of the evidence in this case indicates certain statements of fact and 17 conclusions of law are so inaccurate or incomplete that they are erroneous. The following
18 Findings of Fact in the Order are in error:

19 1. Page 4, line 7: "Defense counsel argued that Plaintiff's counsel withheld 100+
20 documents that Dr. Schifini relied upon in providing expert opinions at trial." This statement is 21 misleading and incomplete. The Order fails to mention that the basis for Defense counsel's
22 claim: the 100+ documents were subject to a subpoena previously issued on Dr. Schifini but were 23 not produced pursuant to that subpoena. This critical fact should be added to made the Statement
24 of Fact accurate.

25 2. Page 4, line 9: "Secondly, Dr. Schifini reviewed all the medical records in this 26 case" (emphasis in original). This statement is similarly incomplete and misleading. The records
27 produced by Dr. Schifini pursuant to the document subpoena issued on him did not reflect that he 28 had been provided all of the medical records in this case. This additional fact should be added to

1 make the Statement of Fact accurate

2 3. Page 5, lines 1-2: "The Court finds that defense decided not to depose a single
3 treating physician in a case where the Plaintiff was alleging a constellation of profound injuries."
4 This sentence is factually incorrect. Defense counsel deposed Dr. Nathan Heaps on June 4, 2010
5 and Dr. Louis Mortillaro on May 24, 2010. This Statement of Fact should be removed from the 6 Order.

7 Based on the aforementioned incorrect or incomplete facts, the following Conclusions of 8 Law are in error and should be removed:

9 4. Page 8, lines 10-13: "Defense counsel did not exercise reasonable diligence and 10 cannot argue surprise since they chose not to depose a single treating provider. As a result of this
11 failure, defendant did not discover the entirety of the materials contained in Dr. Schifini's files."
12 These two sentences are both factually incorrect and misleading. First, as stated above, counsel
13 did depose Dr. Nathan Heaps and Dr. Louis Mortillaro, both plaintiff's treating physicians.
14 Further, the entirety of the materials in Dr. Schifini's files were under a document subpoena
15 issued upon him. The fact that Dr. Schifini, plaintiff's retained physician, failed to provide such 16 documents should not prejudice defense counsel. Defense counsel sought all documents in Dr.
17 Schifini's files and relied on the documents that were produced in order to outline the nature and 18 scope of his expected testimony. Accordingly, the conclusion that Defense counsel did not 19 exercise reasonable diligence and cannot argue surprise is factually unsupported and should be 20 removed.

21 5. Page 8, lines 15-17: "Each and every one of these documents had been previously
22 disclosed to the Defendant and were no more than the records of other treating physicians
23 contained in Dr. Schifini's file." Again, this conclusion is irrelevant and misleading. It does not
24 account for Dr. Schifini's failure to produce documents under subpoena. These documents may 25 have been disclosed by plaintiff's counsel, but defense counsel never contended that this was not
26 the case. Instead, defense counsel argued that the documents were not disclosed by Dr. Schifini,
27 as he was required to do pursuant to the subpoena. This Conclusion of Law is therefore 28 inaccurate because mischaracterized defendant's argument and is supported by an irrelevant fact.

IV. CONCLUSION

The Order, as it stands currently, creates an incomplete and prejudicial picture of the facts in this case. These inaccuracies would not exist had plaintiff's counsel submitted the proposed order to defense counsel for review and comments, as it promised to do on several occasions. Under NCRP rules 52(b) and 59(e), this court can amend its judgment without retrying or upsetting its overall conclusion. Doing so would create complete and accurate picture of the facts as they in fact occurred. Therefore, this Motion should be granted and the Order amended to reflect the changes discussed herein.

Gentlemen:

I write further to the previous conversations, emails and texts between us relating to the proposed order on defendant's motion for new trial.

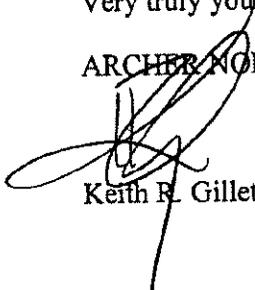

To recap, this office has requested repeatedly the opportunity to review this proposed form of order prior to its submission to the Court. Late in the day on Friday, I received notice from your paralegal Monique Krystek that this proposed order had been submitted for signature. Despite my request for its withdrawal to allow for review and comment, this document has not been withdrawn, nor have I received any notice from you advising of developments.

Enclosed please find a copy of the letter I wrote to Judge Walsh on this issue. I would appreciate your effort in whatever steps are necessary to have this current form of order withdrawn and to be provided an opportunity to meet and confer with your office regarding the language contained within this document.

Your anticipated courtesies are appreciated.

Very truly yours,

Re: Enrique Rodriguez v. Fiesta Palms, LLC, et al.
Clark County District Court Case No. A531538
Our File No.: ZA-126

Judge Walsh:

We write regarding the Proposed Order on Defendant's Motion for New Trial.

Late in the afternoon of Friday, September 9, 2011, I received an email from plaintiff's office indicated that a proposed order on this Motion had been submitted for your signature. This proposed order was not submitted for Defendant's comment prior to its submittal to your chambers. Since receiving the proposed order after its submittal the Court, we have identified language which, in its opinion, is both incorrect and incomplete.

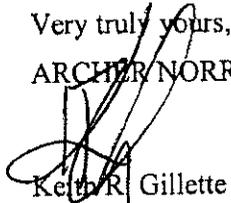

By way of background, this office has repeatedly requested on numerous occasions prior to last week that plaintiff provide a copy of the proposed order for review and comment. This request was reiterated in open court after the hearing on plaintiff's Motion to Require Posting of Supersedeas Bond heard September 5, 2011. Plaintiff's counsel at that time reiterated previous representations, in that this office would be afforded an opportunity to review the proposed order. For whatever reason, this has not occurred.

Accordingly, we respectfully request that this Court not endorse the Order previously submitted by plaintiff's counsel on September 9, 2011.

Honorable Jessie Walsh
September 13, 2011

Respectfully submitted.

Very truly yours,

I. Introduction

In seeking a new trial, Defendant has offered the following four (4) arguments:

1. Plaintiff's counsel engaged in misconduct<sup>1</sup>;
2. The Court erred in allowing testimony of certain providers<sup>2</sup>;
3. The evidence was insufficient to justify the verdict<sup>3</sup>; and
4. The Court erred in striking defense experts<sup>4</sup>.

Each of the arguments is either factually and/or legally flawed. The issues were sufficiently addressed by this Court during trial and the defense has offered nothing by way of factual or legal argument to support and/or justify a Rule 59 order for new trial.

II. Statement of Facts

A. Case Overview and Verdict

This is a premises liability matter that occurred November 22, 2004 at the Palms Sports Bar/Sports Book. Plaintiff ENRIQUE RODRIGUEZ was an invited guest to watch a football game. During half-time, agents, employees and/or assigns of the Palms (hereinafter known as the "PALMS GIRLS") were participating in a promotion wherein they were throwing souvenirs to Sports Bar/Sports Book patrons while blindfolded.

In response to the Palms Girl, Brandy Beavers, throwing souvenirs in the Sports Bar/Sports Book while blind-folded, a customer within the Sports Bar/Sports Book dove for a thrown souvenir and hit Mr. Rodriguez's extended and stationary left knee. Mr. Rodriguez then struck the person next to him, hitting the left side of his head, then falling down, thereby sustaining extensive injuries and damages.

A bench trial commenced in this matter on October 25, 2010 and this Honorable Court issued a verdict on March 9, 2011 for the Plaintiff and against the Defendants FIESTA PALMS, L.L.C. and BRANDY BEAVERS in the amount of $6,051,589.38.<sup>5</sup>

B. Qualification of Treating Providers as Experts During Trial

Plaintiff treated with approximately 25 medical providers over the course of several years. Defense counsel did not depose a single provider.

As the Court will recall, this was a very complicated medical claim. Understanding that the case was being tried as a bench trial, and in an effort to potentially expedite the trial, Plaintiff's counsel opted not to call every provider to testify.

It is important to note that none of the providers were "unavailable," as suggested by defense counsel<sup>6</sup>; rather, in the interest of judicial economy, and as supported by Nevada law, as cited at the time of trial, and herein below, Plaintiff's counsel had each testifying provider qualified and admitted as both a treating physician and non-retained expert in their respective field.

This Court expressed a familiarity with the issue, case authority and distinction and admitted Plaintiff's treating physicians as qualified experts, permitting them to testify as to Plaintiff's treatment, diagnoses, prognoses, causation and need for treatment.

The rulings of this Court were consistent throughout the trial.

Candidly, had this Court refused to qualify any of the providers as experts, or limited their testimony in any fashion, Plaintiff's counsel would have simply called each of the treating providers to testify. However, clearly this could have resulted in a four (4) month long trial. Under the Nevada Code of Judicial Conduct Canon 3(8): "a judge shall dispose of all judicial matters promptly, efficiently and fairly." Clearly calling approximately 25 medical providers to testify would not have disposed of this matter, promptly, efficiently or fairly as required by the rules.

1. Court's Qualification of Dr. Shannon

The qualification of treating providers as experts occurred at the outset of the medical testimony, beginning with Dr. Shannon. Plaintiff's counsel provided this Court with the necessary legal authority to permit the qualification and admission. Defense counsel, at no point in the trial, offered any legal support in opposition, and even expressed a lack of familiarity with the governing law and rules.

MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I move to have her admitted as a treating physician and qualified as an expert in the field of orthopedic surgery and the related matters to which she'll testify.

THE COURT: Any objection?

MR. WARD: I have no objection to her qualifications. The only objection I have is that she has not be disclosed as anything other than a treating physician, so I would object to any claims of questions in terms of what would normally be submitted to an expert –

MR. BAKER: Can I have –

MR. WARD: -- aside from her treating.

MR. BAKER: Your Honor –

THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor.

I'd like to show you both the Fernandez v. Admirand [phonetic] case that speaks to the fact that once a physician is qualified to be expert, they can speak in any area of their expertise.

But more importantly, Your Honor, Prabhu v. Levine, which is 112 Nev. 1538 and speaks about the fact specifically that in the Prabhu case, a treating physician was allowed to testify to standard of care. It basically says that the treating physician or a doctor is an expert for any purpose.

THE COURT: Mr. Ward?

MR. WARD: I am not familiar with that specific case.

The -- but I am familiar with Nevada Revised Statute 15.285 and 51.065, that I believe that it would limit her from anything that she's been -- other than what she's been disclosed as, and she has only been disclosed as a treater.

If there are -- certainly she would be qualified.

I'm not saying she wouldn't be qualified if she had been properly disclosed. She's not given a report. She's not been disclosed as anything other than a treater. So to ask her - - I understand she can offer opinions about her own treatment. But to try to use her to - - as an expert to testify as to other doctors, I think would be inappropriate.

MR. BAKER: And Your Honor, particularly I intend to use her to speak about other doctors. She's testified that she uses other doctors' treatment in the course of her diagnoses, prognoses and treatment of patients. As an expert this Court certainly recognizes there's a difference between a retained expert and a not retained expert. She has not been retained as an expert in this case. She is a treating physician who has reviewed the course of the medical treatment, has commented on the course of the medical treatment and should rightly be allowed to testify to that. And I'd like to add as well that N.R.S. 50.275 allows her, in her capacity as expert as set out in the Prabhu v. Levine case, to speak to matters that would be otherwise inadmissible including hearsay.

And so Your Honor, by Nevada case law and Nevada statute she's an expert. She's not been disclosed as a retained expert but she is a physician and an expert.

THE COURT: I understand the distinction, and I am familiar both of these cases. Frankly I'm familiar with Dr. Shannon. She's testified in this Court before. So I think the motion should be granted in it's entirety.

MR. BAKER: Which motion is that?

2. Court's Qualification of Dr. Schifini

Dr. Schifini, one of Plaintiff's anesthesiologists, had an opportunity to review the entirety of Plaintiff's medical records and was also qualified and admitted as an expert.

MR. BAKER: I'm going to have him accepted by this Court as a treating physician, qualified as an expert in the areas of pain management, including neurologically mediated disease and the modalities of which are used to treat those diseases.

THE COURT: Any objection?

MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: So ordered.<sup>8</sup>

***

Q And as Chairman of the Department of Pain Management at UCLA, to your knowledge he studied RSD causal to a complex regional pain syndrome and a variety of neurologically mediated pathologies?

A Yes, that -

MR. WARD: Object; hearsay.

THE WITNESS: Dr. -

MR. BAKER: It's not a statement, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Mr. Ward, what was that?

MR. WARD: Hearsay. This witness is going to testify as to qualifications. And presumably he's going to testify as to qualifications and presumably he's going to testify as to findings, and I think it's all hearsay.

MR. BAKER: Your Honor, we dealt with that issue yesterday when I gave you the problem case and the remainder of the cases in yesterday, your ruling was that the doctors were allowed to refer to information that they had reviewed. He's been qualified as an expert, under the Omastat [phonetic] case that I handed you yesterday. Not Omastat, that was -- but you know the one I'm talking about. But yesterday you've already ruled on the same issue.

MR. WARD: And I don't believe the case says that, but I will -- I'm not going to argue it anymore, and I'll simply note my objection.

MR. BAKER: A continuing objection is stipulated to, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Very well, noted for the record. Please proceed.<sup>9</sup>

3. Court's Qualification of Dr. Shah

Dr. Shah was the next provider to be qualified and admitted as an expert.

Q. And you've reviewed other doctor's medical records in terms of your care and treatment of Enrique Rodriguez, is that correct?

A. I have, yes.

MR. BAKER: At this time, Your Honor, I'd like to admit him as a treating physician but also qualify him as an expert in neurology, neurologically mediated diseases, those diagnostic tests to determine neurologic injury and related matters.

THE COURT: Any objection, Mr. Ward?

MR. WARD: Your Honor, I don't have any objection to his expertise, his qualifications. I don't have any objection to admitting him as an expert as a treating physician. He was not disclosed as an expert in this case. I object to anything that falls under the routine expert disclosure.

MR. BAKER: Your Honor, that's the argument that we've been making throughout trial.

THE COURT: Right. But, Mr. Ward, your objection is noted for the record.

MR. BAKER: And do you want a standing objection or are you more comfortable objecting each time? I mean I'm very happy to stipulate to a standing objection.

MR. WARD: I don't care. I just want to make sure I put it on the record.

THE COURT: I understand. The objection is noted for the record. The motion is granted.<sup>10</sup>

4. Court's Qualification of Dr. Kidwell

Dr. Kidwell was qualified and admitted without objection.

MR. BAKER: Move to admit the doctor as a treating physician of Enrique Rodriguez and is an expert in the field of pain management and anesthesiology.

THE COURT: Any objection, Mr. Ward?

MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Very well.<sup>11</sup>

5. Court's Qualification of Dr. Mortillaro

Lastly, Dr. Mortillaro was also qualified and admitted.

MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I move to qualify Dr. Mortillaro again as a neuropsychologist and related issues.

THE COURT: Uh-huh. Any objection?

MR. WARD: I do not object to him being accepted as an expert as a treater.

MR. BAKER: And I'll also offer him as a treating physician.

MR. WARD: I object to him being anything other than a treater, because I object to his qualifications. I think he's very well qualified, but he's not disclosed as an expert in this case.

MR. BAKER: And, Your Honor, that's the same conversation that we've had.

THE COURT: That's the same objection, noted for the record. The motion is granted. So ordered.<sup>12</sup>

III. Legal Argument

A. Standard for New Trial

Rule 59 governs motions for new trial.

- (a) Grounds. A new trial may be granted to all or any of the parties and on all or part of the issues for any of the following causes or grounds materially affecting the substantial rights of an aggrieved party: (1) Irregularity in the proceedings of the court, jury, master, or adverse party, or any order of the court, or master, or abuse of discretion by which either party was prevented from having a fair trial; (2) Misconduct of the jury or prevailing party; (3) Accident or surprise which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against; (4) Newly discovered evidence material for the party making the motion which the party could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered and produced at the trial; (5) Manifest disregard by the jury of the instructions of the court; (6) Excessive damages appearing to have been given under the influence of passion or prejudice; or, (7) Error in law occurring at the trial and objected to by the party making the motion. On a motion for a new trial in an action tried without a jury, the court may open the judgment if one has been entered, take additional testimony, amend findings of fact and conclusions of law or make new findings and conclusions, and direct the entry of a new judgment.

Plaintiff submits that defense counsel is unable to establish any of the foregoing elements necessary for a new trial under Rule 59.

When there is substantial evidence to sustain the judgment, it will not be disturbed. Brechan v. Scott, 92 Nev. 633, 555 P.2d 1230 (1976).

The decision to grant or deny a motion for new trial rests within the sound discretion of the trial court and will not be disturbed on appeal absent palpable abuse. Southern Pac. Transp. Co. v. Fitzgerald, 94 Nev. 241, 577 P.2d 1234 (1978).

Standard of review for granting or denying motion for new trial is abuse of discretion. Rules Civ.Proc., Rule 59(a). Dow Chemical Co. v. Mahlum, 1998, 970 P.2d 98, 114 Nev. 1468, rehearing denied 973 P.2d 842, 115 Nev. 13.

An order granting a new trial for insufficiency of conflicting evidence will not be disturbed in the absence of a clear abuse of discretion. Goldfield Mohawk Mining Co. v. Frances-Mohawk Mining & Leasing Co., 1913, 129 P. 315, 35 Nev. 423.

Plaintiff submits that there is substantial evidence to sustain the verdict and there is an absence of a clear abuse of discretion. Accordingly, defendant's motion should be denied in its entirety.

B. Plaintiff's Counsel Did Not Engage in Misconduct

As the Court will recall, Defense counsel, during Opening Argument, the evidentiary phase of the trial, and Closing Argument, accused Plaintiff's counsel of engaging in a systematic "medical build-up," and manipulation of the medical records.

Post-trial, in a desperate and ill-founded manner, Defense counsel, in moving for a mistrial, then accused Plaintiff's counsel and Your Honor of engaging in a systematic ex parte conspiracy, rendering the trial unfair and impartial.

Now, Defense counsel is arguing that Plaintiff's counsel engaged in blatant premeditated and reprehensible misconduct.

Defendant argues that Plaintiff's counsel's alleged misconduct constitutes an irregularity in the proceedings. Counsel then argues that it is well settled under Nevada law that attorney misconduct constitutes an irregularity in the proceedings<sup>13</sup>.

Interestingly, however, they cite no Nevada law, or any authority, for that matter, in support of this position.

Defendant's real argument is that they were surprised and unprepared for the evidence presented at trial by Plaintiff's Economist, Mr. Dineen, and Dr. Schifini.

Defense counsel points to two (2) examples (arguments) of misconduct:

1. Plaintiff's counsel withheld evidence in regards to Plaintiff's tax returns; and
2. Plaintiff's counsel withheld evidence relied upon by Dr. Schifini.

Both arguments are factually flawed, and offer nothing new for this Court to consider. Candidly, they are baseless.

To once again accuse the undersigned of misconduct is simply disingenuous. Regardless, to the extent the admission of evidence during trial can somehow be interpreted as misconduct on the part of Plaintiff's counsel, the conduct itself was never objected to.

Moreover, defense counsel chose not to depose Dr. Schifini, and regardless, the 100+ documents that counsel argues Dr. Schifini relied upon, and Plaintiff's counsel withheld, were

<sup>13</sup> Motion, 5: 16-17.

1 medical records of other providers which were, in fact disclosed, and ultimately, stipulated to
2 by defense counsel as being part of Dr. Schifini's file. As this Court will recall, they were
3 made part of the trial exhibits via stipulation prior to Dr. Schifini's testimony.

5 In civil cases, the Supreme Court will consider arguments of egregious but 6 unobjected-to misconduct at trial by counsel only in those rare circumstances where the 7 counsel's comments are of such sinister influence as to constitute "irreparable and 8 fundamental error," which is error that, if not corrected, would result in a substantial 9 miscarriage of justice or denial of fundamental rights and which is present only when it is 10 plain and clear that no other reasonable explanation for the verdict exists. Ringle v. Bruton, 11 2004, 86 P.3d 1032, 120 Nev. 82. It is significant to note, in this context, and as the court will 12 recall, that the Life Care Plan, which was provided, but not entered into evidence, provided
13 greater damages than those that were testified to by Dr. Schifini.

14
15 The admission of evidence in this case, relative to Dr. Schifini and Mr. Dineen, 16 certainly cannot be deemed misconduct on the part of Plaintiff's counsel. Even assuming the 17 admissions were interpreted as misconduct, it certainly was not on the level of constituting 18 irreparable and fundamental error.

19
20 To warrant reversal and a new trial on grounds of attorney misconduct of the 21 prevailing party's attorney, the flavor of misconduct must sufficiently permeate an entire 22 proceeding to provide conviction that the jury was influenced by passion and prejudice in 23 reaching its verdict. DeJesus v. Flick, 2000, 7 P.3d 459, 116 Nev. 812.

25 Obviously, this was not a jury trial, so in order to prevail under this standard, the 26 defense would have to establish that Plaintiff's alleged misconduct permeated the entire trial
27 such that Your Honor was influenced by passion and prejudice in reaching the verdict.

1. Plaintiff's Counsel Did Not Withhold Evidence in re: Plaintiff's Tax Returns

Mr. Dineen was qualified in the areas of vocational rehabilitation and forensic economics at trial.

MR. BAKER: And Your Honor, at this time, I would ask that he be qualified in the area of vocational rehabilitation and forensic economics.

THE COURT: Any objection, Mr. Ward?

MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

MR. BAKER: Okay. Just to let the Court know --

THE COURT: So ordered.<sup>14</sup>

Mr. Dineen was asked to look at the vocational issues, the types of work that Plaintiff was able to do prior to his accident, to look at what vocational options he may have in the future and then calculate that loss. He was also asked to look at the costs of future medical care and calculate those values, as well.<sup>15</sup>

Mr. Dineen met with the Plaintiff, reviewed his medical records, three (3) years of tax returns<sup>16</sup>, and social security materials in forming an opinion that Plaintiff was disabled.<sup>17</sup> Importantly, Mr. Dineen testified that Plaintiff was qualified by the Federal Government as being disabled.<sup>18</sup>

Mr. Dineen testified to a reasonable degree of economic and professional certainty that Plaintiff's income was reported.

Defense counsel is critical of the fact that Mr. Dineen, during his testimony at trial, and in response to defense counsel's inquiry as to whether Mr. Dineen knew if any of

1 Plaintiff's income was reported, indicated that he had received a letter from Plaintiff's tax
2 preparer advising that the subject returns had, in fact been filed.

3 Q. Business income? Okay. So let's deal with the business income. Is it your opinion
4 to a reasonable degree of professional probability that his business income, in the year
5 2004, was $208,000?

6 A. If that's what's reported on the return, yes.

7 Q. That's not my question. My question is, is it your opinion that that's what his 8 income is, to a reasonable degree of professional responsibility?

9 A. Sure. That's what the business income is.

10 Q. Okay. When you say that's what the business income is, you used, in your direct 11 examination, you used the term reported income?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. Isn't it true that you don't know if any of this income was reported?

15 Q. Have you received additional information since I took your deposition –

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. -- that you haven't told me about?

18 A. I just received this. It's a letter dated October 20th from the tax preparer, 19 indicating that the returns were filed.

22 Mr. Dineen's trial testimony occurred on November 2, 2010. The letter was dated
23 October 20, 2010. Importantly, defense counsel did not mark the letter as an exhibit or move 24 to admit the letter.

25 MR. WARD: I'm sorry. But I'm not going to mark it?

MR. WARD: Not. Now –

THE COURT: I guess he's not going to move to admit it after all.

MR. WARD: I'm not going to move.

MR. BAKER: Okay.<sup>20</sup>

Defense counsel's argument that this letter was somehow intentionally withheld is unsupported. It was not the subject of direct examination, and the information relative to the same was brought out through cross-examination in response to counsel contentious inquiry as to whether Mr. Dineen knew if any of Plaintiff's income was in fact reported. Mr. Dineen was provided the letter from the tax preparer subsequent to his deposition, but merely days before his testimony. Defense counsel never moved to admit the document, but did question Mr. Dineen as to the authenticity of the letter.

Most importantly, defense counsel's argument that the letter was withheld deliberately by Plaintiff's counsel is not only factually in error, it avoids a well understood legal principal: Experts are permitted to rely on facts or data that is otherwise inadmissible. NRS 50.285.

NRS 50.285, governing the opinions of experts, states as follows:

1. The facts or data in the particular case upon which an expert bases an opinion or inference may be those perceived by or made known to the expert at or before the hearing.
2. If of a type reasonably relied upon by experts in forming opinions or inferences upon the subject, the facts or data need not be admissible in evidence.

Again, the subject letter was "made known" to Mr. Dineen days before trial, and was never admitted as evidence in the case. Mr. Dineen, did, however, rely on the evidence in formulating an opinion that Plaintiff's income was reported.

Nevada case law makes it clear that experts may rely on evidence that is otherwise inadmissible at trial even when testifying before jury as to ultimate issues. NRS 50.285, 50.295. Barrett v. Baird, 1995, 908 P.2d 689, 111 Nev. 1496.

Plaintiff's counsel did not withhold any evidence regarding Plaintiff's tax returns, and the accusations of defense counsel are baseless and ill-founded.

Defense counsel, during cross-examination, accused Mr. Dineen of not being aware if any of Plaintiff's income was reported. Mr. Dineen responded that he did know that the income was reported, and referenced an October 20, 2010 letter from Plaintiff's tax preparer.

Defense counsel questioned Mr. Dineen as to the basis of his opinions, challenged his methodology and reliance on information and/or lack thereof, yet never moved to admit the subject letter.

There was certainly no misconduct on the part of Plaintiff's counsel.

2. Plaintiff's Counsel Did Not Withhold Evidence Relied Upon by Dr. Schifini

Laughably, defense counsel has argued that Plaintiff's counsel withheld 100+ documents that Dr. Schifini relied upon in providing expert opinions at trial.

First, defense counsel opted not to depose Dr. Schifini.

Secondly, Dr. Schifini reviewed all the medical records in the case.<sup>21</sup>

Third, defense counsel's only objections relative to Dr. Schifini's testimony were foundation and hearsay. Counsel, whose mistakes pre-trial, during trial and now post-trial, are numerous, did not object to the records relied upon, or the introduction of the documents other than on a foundation and hearsay basis, which related to Dr. Schifini's ability to provide expert testimony, and not his reliance on the documents.

Fourth, as this Court will recall, the records that counsel refers to were introduced and admitted into evidence, with the only objections being foundation and hearsay.

Dr. Joseph Schifini was qualified as an expert in the areas of pain management, including neurologically mediated disease and modalities of which are used to treat those diseases.

MR. BAKER: I'm going to have him accepted by this Court as a treating physician, qualified as an expert in the areas of pain management, including neurologically mediated disease and the modalities of which are used to treat those diseases.

THE COURT: Any objection?

MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: So ordered.<sup>22</sup>

As set forth above, an expert is permitted to rely upon inadmissible evidence. NRS 50.285, 50.295. Barrett v. Baird, 1995, 908 P.2d 689, 111 Nev. 1496.

In this case, however, the documents were introduced and admitted.

Separately, while counsel has argued that 100+ documents were presented, he does not identify the documents, and his position that he had never seen them before is illogical, as they were not new to the case, and were in fact stipulated into evidence.

C. The Court's Order Permitting the Introduction of Testimony of Providers Was Appropriate and Within the Sound Discretion of the Court

Defense counsel is critical of the fact that this Court qualified and admitted certain treating providers during trial. Defense counsel's position is that none of the providers were designated as witnesses or provided expert reports. Defense counsel's argument is that they never had notice of the testifying providers' opinions until trial and that they were prejudiced as a result.

First of all, during the discovery phase, Plaintiff, in his 9th Supplement to ECC

Disclosures, advised the defense as follows:

Plaintiff reserves the right to call any and all experts designated by other parties in this case to render expert testimony. This plaintiff may ask expert witness questions of any percipient and/or expert witnesses called by any party at trial.<sup>23</sup>

Secondly, each of the testifying providers were qualified and admitted as experts.

Third, and as a point of reiteration, defense counsel did not depose one of Plaintiff's providers.

As will be demonstrated herein, the scope of a witness' testimony and whether that witness will be permitted to testify as an expert are within the discretion of trial court. Importantly, the trial court's ruling will not be disturbed unless there is an abuse of discretion.

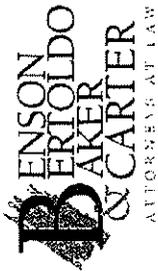

Secondly, once the district court certifies an expert as qualified, the expert may testify to all matters within the expert's experience or training, and the expert is generally given reasonably wide latitude in the opinions and conclusions he or she can state.

Third, Nevada Federal law establishes that treating physicians can appropriately have opinions as to the cause of an injury, based upon their examination of the patient, or to the degree of injury, or the extent of disability, in the future. The prognosis of the patient and what tasks a patient will be able to perform are legitimate opinions which come within the parameters of opinions required to be made by treating physicians, without subjecting them to the expert designation or report requirements.

Most importantly, under Nevada law, treating physicians are not considered retained experts. They should be allowed to testify as to treatment, diagnosis (including causation), and prognosis based upon their treatment of the patient and their medical training.

1. Scope and Admission of Expert Testimony are Within Discretion of Trial Court

The threshold test for admissibility of testimony by a qualified expert is whether the expert's specialized knowledge will assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or determine fact in issue; the goal is to provide the trier of fact resource for ascertaining truth in relevant areas outside ken of ordinary laity. N.R.S. 50.275. Prabhu v. Levine, 1996, 930 P.2d 103, 112 Nev. 1538, rehearing denied.

The scope of a witness' testimony and whether a witness will be permitted to testify as an expert witness are within the discretion of the trial court, and the trial court's ruling will not be disturbed unless there is an abuse of discretion. See Murphy v. F.D.I.C., 106 Nev. 26, 787 P.2d 370 (1990); Provence v. Cunningham, 95 Nev. 4, 588 P.2d 1020 (1979); Emmons v. State, 1991, 807 P.2d 718, 107 Nev. 53; see also, Childers v. State, 1984, 680 P.2d 598, 100 Nev. 280; Watson v. State, 1978, 578 P.2d 753, 94 Nev. 261; Porter v. State, 1978, 576 P.2d 275, 94 Nev. 142; Singleton v. State, 1974, 522 P.2d 1221, 90 Nev. 216.

The Nevada Supreme Court will not disturb a lower court's determination that expert testimony is admissible unless it is clear that the trial judge abused the discretion vested in him in allowing such testimony. Provence v. Cunningham, 95 Nev. 4, 588 P.2d 1020 (1979).

Furthermore, the question of whether expert testimony is appropriate under the particular circumstances of the case is for the trial court in the exercise of a sound discretion. Duff v. Page, 1957, 249 F.2d 137.

Additionally, the fact that any of the providers had not performed certain procedures, or had never performed such procedures goes to the weight, not the admissibility, of the evidence. Brown v. Capanna, 105 Nev. 665, 671, 782 P.2d 1299, 1303 (1989).

Lastly, even if the Court were to determine that Plaintiff's counsel failed to comply with the disclosure requirements, the decision whether to permit expert witness to testify where there has been failure to comply with disclosure requirements is committed to trial court's discretion. Rules Civ.Proc., Rule 26(b)(4). Murphy v. Federal Deposit Ins. Corp., 1990, 787 P.2d 370, 106 Nev. 26.

2. Defense Counsel Did Not Depose Any of Plaintiff's Providers, and Therefore, Cannot Argue "Surprise"

Defense counsel cannot argue surprise since they opted not to depose a single treating provider.

Nevada law makes it clear that a new trial is not warranted on grounds of surprise based on testimony which, with reasonable diligence, could have been anticipated. Rules Civ.Proc., Rule 59. DeLee v. Roggen, 1995, 907 P.2d 168, 111 Nev. 1453.

Furthermore, the "surprise" contemplated by Rule 59 (a) must result from some fact, circumstance, or situation in which a party is placed unexpectedly, to his injury, without any default or negligence of his own, and which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against. Havas v. Haupt, 94 Nev. 591, 583 P.2d 1094 (1978).

Lastly, the grant of denial of a new trial based upon a claim of "surprise" lies within the sound discretion of the trial court. Id.

Plaintiff submits that under the undisputed facts of this case, surprise cannot be argued or supported.

3. Once Qualified as an Expert, Expert May Testify as to All Matters Within Expert's Experience or Training

Importantly, once the district court certifies an expert as qualified, the expert may testify to all matters within the expert's experience or training, and the expert is generally given reasonably wide latitude in the opinions and conclusions he or she can state, being subject only to the general exercise of discretion by the district court concerning whether the

4. Under Nevada Law, Treating Providers are Allowed to Testify as to Treatment, Diagnosis, Causation and Prognosis

Tracey v. American Family Mut. Ins. Co., 2010 WL 3808694 (D.Nev. Sep 21, 2010), specifically held that under Nevada law, treating physicians are not considered retained experts and they should be allowed to testify as to treatment, diagnosis, including causation, and prognosis based upon their treatment of the patient and their medical training. In Tracy, the court further held that the Plaintiff was allowed to question his treating physicians in regards to how they determined the precise location of Plaintiff's back pain, including any diagnostic tests they conducted.

Nevada federal courts have consistently held that “[s]ince a treating physician's opinion on matters such as ‘causation, future treatment, extent of disability and the like’ are part of the ordinary care of a patient, a treating physician may testify to such opinion.” Elgas

If scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge will assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue, a witness qualified as an expert by special knowledge, skill, experience, training or education may testify to matters within the scope of such knowledge.

1 v. Colorado Belle Corp., 179 F.R.D. 296 (D.Nev.1998) (quoting Piper v. Harnischfeger
2 Corp., 170 F.R.D. 173, 174-75 (D .Nev.1997)).

3 In this case, Plaintiff was permitted to ask his treating physicians questions regarding
4 the examinations they performed, diagnostic tests they performed, the cause of Plaintiff's pain
5 and treatment, etc., as appropriate under Nevada law. See Piper 170 F.R.D. 173. They were 6 witnesses testifying as to the facts of their examination, diagnosis and treatment and their
7 opinions about the cause of an injury or the extent of any remaining disability in this regard
8 were a necessary part of the treatment of the Plaintiff. Kirkland v. Union Pacific Railroad,
9 189 F.R.D. 604 (D.Nev.1999).

11 Plaintiff asked his treating physicians to give their opinions, as treating physicians, as 12 to whether the kind of injuries complained of were caused by the subject incident. Defense
13 counsel had an opportunity to question the weight to be given their treatment.

15 Of course, of particular importance are the two (2) cases provided in support of the 16 qualification and admission of treating providers as experts during trial: Prabhu v. Levine,
17 112 Nev. 1538, 930 P.2d 103 (Nev. Dec 31, 1996) (NO. 21270), rehearing denied (Jul 03, 18 1997) and Fernandez v. Admirand, 108 Nev. 963, 969, 843 P.2d 354, 358 (1992).

19 In Prabhu, Dr. Prabhu contended that the district court erred in admitting Dr. Levine's 20 deposition testimony because his deposition was taken only twelve days before trial and 21 because prior to the deposition, Ms. Franco had designated him only as a treating physician.
22 In addition, Dr. Prabhu pointed out that Ms. Franco never supplemented her interrogatory
23 responses to identify Dr. Levine as an expert witness. According to Dr. Prabhu, his counsel
24 was forced to cross-examine Dr. Levine without prior knowledge that Dr. Levine would 25 answer questions regarding the standard of care and causation. Dr. Prabhu asserted that Ms.
26 Franco's failure to identify Dr. Levine at an earlier time violated NRCP 26 and that Dr.
27
28

1 Levine's testimony should have been excluded.<sup>25</sup>

2 This is essentially the same argument that defense counsel in this case is making. In
3 determining that the district court did not abuse its discretion by admitting Dr. Levine's
4 testimony, the Nevada Supreme Court noted as follows:

5 NRS 50.275 provides that "[i]f scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge
6 will assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue, a 7 witness qualified as an expert by special knowledge, skill, experience, training or 8 education may testify to matters within the scope of such knowledge." This court has previously determined that:

9 [t]he threshold test for the admissibility of testimony by a qualified expert is 10 whether the expert's specialized knowledge will assist the trier of fact to 11 understand the evidence or determine a fact in issue. The goal of course, is to 12 provide the trier of fact a resource for ascertaining truth in relevant areas outside the ken of ordinary laity.

13 Townsend v. State, 103 Nev. 113, 117, 734 P.2d 705, 708 (1987).

14 In addition, we have recognized that "[a] decision concerning the competency of a
15 witness to offer an opinion as an expert is within the sound discretion of the trial
16 court[,] and the ruling will not be disturbed unless a clear abuse of the court's
17 discretion is shown." Cheyenne Construction v. Hozz, 102 Nev. 308, 311, 720 P.2d 18 1224, 1226 (1986). Here, Dr. Levine was not designated as an expert witness. He was,
19 however, designated as a witness, albeit as a treating physician. In addition, Dr.
Prabhu's counsel attended the deposition and cross-examined Dr. Levine regarding the pertinent standard of care and causation. The district court determined that Dr.
Levine's testimony should be admitted, and we conclude that the district court did not abuse its discretion in so ruling.

20 The basis of defense counsel's argument that Prabhu is inapposite is that: a) Prabhu

21
22 <sup>25</sup> NRCPC 26(b)(4)(A)(i) provides as follows:

23 A party may through interrogatories require any other party to identify each person whom the other 24 party expects to call as an expert witness at trial, to state the subject matter on which the expert is expected to testify, and to state the substance of the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected 25 to testify and a summary of the grounds for each opinion.

26 Additionally, NRCPC 26(b)(5)(G) states as follows:

27 Except as provided herein, upon objection of a party who has served his list of witnesses in compliance
28 with the provisions hereof, no party required to serve a list of expert witnesses on the objecting party may call an expert witness to testify except for purposes of impeachment unless the requirements of 26(b)(5) for that witness have been met.

1 was a medical malpractice case; and b) the foundation of the decision was the lack of
2 prejudice demonstrated.

3 The holding, however, as clearly enunciated by the Nevada Supreme Court, is that: a)
4 decisions concerning the competency of a witness to offer an opinion as an expert is within
5 the sound discretion of the trial court; b) the ruling will not be disturbed unless a clear abuse
6 of discretion is shown.

8 Fernandez, supra, was a medical malpractice claim that resulted from the death of 9 Mr. Fernandez. At trial, Dr. Queniahah, a surgeon, and Dr. Tripoli, a pathologist, testified for 10 Fernandez in his case-in-chief. Neither doctor practiced as specialists in internal medicine.
11 The defendants asserted that neither of these doctors could testify to the standard of care for 12 their specialty, internal medicine.

14 In dismissing this argument, the court in Fernandez held as follows:

15 Once a physician is qualified as an expert, he or she may testify to all matters within 16 his or her experience or training, and the expert is generally given reasonably wide 17 latitude in the opinions and conclusions he or she can state, being subject only to the 18 general exercise of discretion by the district court concerning whether the expert is 19 truly qualified to render such testimony. See NRS 50.275; Brown v. Capanna, 105
20 Nev. 665, 671, 782 P.2d 1299, 1303 (1989) (a proposed medical expert should not be 21 scrutinized by an excessively strict test of qualifications); Freeman v. Davidson, 105 22 Nev. 13, 15, 768 P.2d 885, 886 (1989) (“[a]n expert witness need not be licensed to
23 testify as an expert, as long as he or she possesses special knowledge, training and 24 education, or in this case, knowledge of the standard of care”); Wright v. Las Vegas 25 Hacienda, 102 Nev. 261, 263, 720 P.2d 696, 697 (1986) (“[a] witness need not be 26 licensed to practice in a given field ... to be qualified to testify as an expert”).

27 Within the field of medicine, many matters are common knowledge to all physicians
28 and recognized as truisms by the medical profession.

29 Again, in accordance with Prabhu and NRS 50.275, as set forth by Plaintiff’s counsel
30 at trial, it was in the Court’s sound discretion to qualify Plaintiff’s treating providers as 31 experts. Once qualified, consistent with the holding in Fernandez, the treating providers were 32 permitted to testify to all matters within his or her experience and/or training.

Defense counsel's arguments at trial, and set forth in the subject motion, merely go to the weight of the evidence, and not the admissibility.

a. As Non-Retained Experts, No Reports or Designation Were Required

Plaintiff's treating providers were not required to produce expert reports.

The initial-disclosure provisions in Rule 26(a) of the federal rules, as amended in 2000, are adopted as modified in Rule 16.1(a) of the Nevada rules.

FRCP 26(a) clearly contemplates two types of experts: those who may qualify as experts, but are not retained or specially employed, and those who are retained or specially employed to provide testimony in the case. Written reports are required only for experts in the latter category. As explained in the Advisory Committee notes, a treating physician may testify without any requirement for a written report. Fed.R.Civ.P. 26(a)(2), Advisory Committee's Notes, 1993 amendment.

Treating physicians commonly consider the cause of any medical condition presented in a patient, the diagnosis, the prognosis and the extent of disability, if any, caused by the condition or injury. Opinions as to these matters are encompassed in the ordinary care of a patient and do not subject the treating physician to the report requirement of Rule 26(a)(2)(B). Numerous other courts who have considered this issue have reached similar conclusions. Piper v. Harnischfeger Corp., 170 F.R.D. 173, 175 (D.Nev.1997) (no written report required if treating physician's testimony as to "causation, future treatment, extent of disability and the like" is based on knowledge acquired in the course of treatment); Baker v. Taco Bell Corp., 163 F.R.D. 348, 349 (D.Colo.1995) (opinions of treating physicians as to the cause of an injury or degree of future injury based on an examination of the patient "are a necessary part of the treatment of the patient."); Wreath v. U.S., 161 F.R.D. 448, 449 (D.Kan.1995) ("The determining issue is the scope of the proposed testimony"); Mangla v. University of

Rochester, 168 F.R.D. 137, 139 (W.D.N.Y.1996) (“A treating physician's testimony ... is based on the physician's personal knowledge of the examination, diagnosis, and treatment of a patient and not from information acquired from outside sources[,]” thus no report is required).

In Salas v. U.S., 165 F.R.D. 31, 33 (W.D.N.Y.1995), the court explained:

The relevant question is whether these treating physicians acquired their opinions as to the cause of the plaintiff's injuries directly through their treatment of the plaintiff. If so, then they must be treated as treating physicians, who can be deposed under the amendments to Rule 26 but who cannot be forced to file the written report required by Rule 26(a)(2)(B).

As a general rule, a treating physician considers not just the plaintiff's diagnosis and prognosis, but also the cause of the plaintiff's injuries.

The exclusion of treating physicians from the disclosure requirements of Rule 26(a)(2)(B) has been consistently honored by Nevada Federal Courts. Kirkland v. Union Pacific Railroad, 189 F.R.D. 604 (D.Nev.1999); Piper v. Harnischfeger Corp., 170 F.R.D. 173, 174-175 (D.Nev.1997); Elgas v. Colorado Belle Corp., 179 F.R.D. 296, 299 (D.Nev.1998)), and elsewhere ( Cf. Hall v. Sykes, 164 F.R.D. 46, 48 (E.D.Va.1995); Shapardon v. West Beach Estates, 172 F.R.D. 415, 417 (D.Haw.1997)).

As stated in Kirkland, supra:

Furthermore, treating physicians can appropriately have opinions as to the cause of an injury, based upon their examination of the patient, or to the degree of injury, or the extent of disability, in the future. The prognosis of the patient and what tasks a patient will be able to perform are legitimate opinions which come within the parameters of opinions required to be made by treating physicians, without subjecting them to the requirements of Rule 26(a)(2)(B). Baker v. Taco Bell Corp., 163 F.R.D. 348, 349 (D.Colo.1995).

Piper v. Harnischfeger Corporation, 170 F.R.D. 173, 174 (D.Nev.1997), is particularly instructive as in that case, the court was faced with a similar restrictive argument:

Defendant argues that treating physicians are exempt from the report requirement if they are only going to testify as to their “factual percipient observations”, but are subject to the requirements of subdivision (a)(2)(B) if they go beyond factual observations and give opinions. Presumably, Defendant is referring to opinions on

1 such matters as causation, future treatment, extent of disability and the like. The court
 2 believes that Defendant's view is too narrow and that the rule is not that restrictive.

3 It is common place for a treating physician during, and as part of, the course of 4 treatment of a patient to consider things such as the cause of the medical condition, the 5 diagnosis, the prognosis and the extent of disability caused by the condition, if any.
 6 Opinions such as these are a part of the ordinary care of the patient and do not subject
 7 the treating physician to the extensive reporting requirements of Fed.R.Civ.P.
 8 26(a)(2)(B).

9 Other courts that have considered this issue have reached a similar conclusion. Baker
 10 v. Taco Bell Corp., 163 F.R.D. 348, 349 (D.Colo.1995); Wreath v. United States, 161 F.R.D.
 11 448, 449 (D.Kan.1995); Bucher v. Gainey Transportation Service of Indiana, Inc., 167 F.R.D.
 12 387, 390 (M.D.Penn.1996); Salas v. United States, 165 F.R.D. 31, 33 (W.D.N.Y.1995);
 13 Mangla v. University of Rochester, 168 F.R.D. 137, 139 (W.D.N.Y.1996).

14 Plaintiff's treating providers were not subject to the strict disclosure requirements.
 15 Defense counsel was fully aware of the nature and substance of the claimed injuries and had 16 also been given the medical records generated by these physicians. Defense counsel was free
 17 to depose the treating physicians. They chose not to do so.

18 b. Plaintiff's Treating Providers Were Permitted to Rely on the 19 Opinions of Non-Testifying Experts as Foundation for Their 20 Opinions

21 Nevada law makes it equally clear that Plaintiff's treating providers were permitted to 22 rely on the opinions of non-testifying experts as a foundation for their opinions given at trial.
 23 Villagomes v. Laboratory Corp. of America, 2010 WL 4628085 (D.Nev. Nov 08, 2010).

24 As stated in Villagomes:

25 Rule 703 of the Federal Rules of Evidence states that a qualified expert may base his 26 opinions on facts or data made known to him if it is of a type reasonably relied upon 27 by experts in the particular field in forming opinions or inferences on the subject. The 28 facts and data relied on by the expert need not be admissible in order for the opinion or inference to be admitted. A testifying expert may rely on the opinions of non-testifying experts as a foundation for the opinions within the testifying expert's field of expertise. Rule 703, however, is not a license for an expert witness to simply parrot the opinions of non-testifying experts. United States Gypsum v. LaFarge North

D. The Evidence was Sufficient to Justify the Verdict

Defense counsel has argued that the body of evidence presented “conclusively demonstrates the evidence was insufficient to justify the verdict.”<sup>26</sup> This Court’s Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law refute this laughable position.

To remind defense counsel, on the issue of Liability, this Court found as follows:

FINDINGS OF FACT

During the course of this trial, Plaintiff established that, prior to the subject incident, Defendant was aware that promotional items were being thrown into crowds at events on the premises; that Defendant knew this behavior was inappropriate because it was a safety issue and could foreseeably cause injury to an individual; that prior to the incident at bar, Defendant conducted a staff meeting where staff was instructed not to cause promotional items to be thrown into crowds because of said safety concerns; and that Defendant, despite this knowledge and awareness, constructed a “field goal” within the sports book for purposes of throwing promotional items at sporting events.

Sheri Long, the Director of Marketing at The Palms, testified that she was aware that promotional items were thrown into crowds before the subject incident; this witness acknowledged this behavior was inappropriate because it constituted a safety issue which could foreseeably cause injury to an individual.

In her testimony, Ms. Long specifically recalled holding a meeting, before the subject incident, and instructing her staff that items should not be thrown into crowds during promotional events.

Ms. Long acknowledged that the injuries suffered by Plaintiff were exactly of the type she was concerned would occur if promotional items were thrown into crowds at promotional events.

Ms. Long further testified that what occurred in this case is what she was trying to prevent when she conveyed to her staff that promotional items were not to be thrown into a crowd at an event.

Vikki Kooinga, Risk Manager at The Palms, also testified that throwing items into a crowd could foreseeably cause injury to someone in the audience.

Ms. Kooinga acknowledged that throwing promotional items into the crowd was inappropriate, wrong and beneath the standard of care for the hotel in protecting the safety of their patrons upon the premises.

Lastly, Ms. Kooinga testified that she would have expected hotel Security to stop anyone from throwing items into the crowd.

Plaintiff was then injured when promotion items were thrown into the crowd at a promotional event.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

NRCF 52(c) states in pertinent part as follows:

If during a trial without a jury a party has been fully heard on an issue and the court finds against the party on that issue, the court may enter judgment as a matter of law against that party with respect to a claim or defense that cannot under the controlling law be maintained or defeated without a favorable finding on that issue, or the court may decline to render any judgment until the close of all the evidence.

Liability has been conclusively established by the Plaintiff in this matter. The unequivocal testimony and undisputed facts establish liability and are as follows:

1. Defendant was aware promotional items were being thrown into crowds at events before the incident at bar;
2. Defendant conducted a staff meeting prior to the incident at bar where staff was instructed not to cause or permit promotional items to be thrown into crowds at events;
3. Defendant acknowledged that throwing promotional items into crowds was inappropriate;

4. Defendant acknowledged that throwing promotional items into crowds was a safety concern as it could foreseeably cause injury to an individual;
5. Defendant acknowledged that said foreseeable risk of injury was known by them prior to the incident at bar;
6. Despite this awareness, after said staff meeting, and with knowledge of said foreseeable risk of harm, Defendant constructed a goal post in the sports book for purposes of promotional items to be thrown;
7. Plaintiff was then injured as a direct and proximate result of throwing promotional items at an event upon Defendant's premises.

Additionally, Defendant has conceded that there was a known safety procedure prohibiting promotional items from being thrown into the crowds.

Defendant's conceded that they violated this known safety procedure as related to the case at bar.

The known safety procedure was admissible as relevant to the issue of liability.

Defendant's policy and the breach thereof both aided this Court, as the finder of fact, in determining the issue of liability. No comparative liability was found on the part of the Plaintiff.

Therefore, this Honorable Court finds and adjudges liability against Defendant PALMS CASINO RESORT and in favor of the Plaintiff ENRIQUE RODRIGUEZ herein. These findings and conclusions are made and based upon the weight of the testimony and evidence aforesaid, and is reached independently of any other finding, ruling, or conclusion of the Court.<sup>27</sup>

As to the Verdict, this Court specifically found as follows:

1) Liability in favor of the Plaintiff in this matter was determined as consistent with the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of law granting Directed Verdict pursuant to NRCF 52 entered in this matter on March 10, 2011.

2) The Court finds the testimony of Plaintiff's treating physicians, including, but not limited to Dr. Shifini, Dr. Mortillaro, Dr. Kidwell, Dr. Shaw, Dr. Shannon, and Dr. Tauber to be persuasive on the issue of the reasonableness, necessity and causation of past and future medical expenses to include, but not limited to, surgeries to Plaintiff's injured knee, carpal tunnel release, future knee replacement, a spinal cord stimulator and replacement of batteries with respect to the same, future lumbar fusion, cervical modalities, and other and further past and future medical services and expenses as elucidated at trial and, accordingly, and in this Court's discretion, awards as past medical expenses the amount of $376,773.38 and future medical expenses in the amount of $1,854,738.00.

<sup>27</sup> See Exhibit "9," Findings of Facts and Conclusions of Law in re: Rule 52

2 3) Based upon the testimony of said treating physicians, the Plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez,
3 and “before and after” lay witnesses who testified at the time of trial, the Court finds that
4 Plaintiff Rodriguez suffered extensive, painful, disabling, and permanent injuries as a result of 5 the subject incident which have detrimentally impacted his daily living and functioning and,
6 consistent with that finding, and in this Courts discretion, awards as past pain and suffering
7 the amount of $1,243,350.00 and future pain and suffering in the amount of $1,865,025.00.

8 4) The Court finds the testimony of Plaintiff’s economist, Terrence Dineen, persuasive
9 on the issue of Plaintiff’s loss of economic opportunity, vocational disability, and loss of past
10 and future earnings, finds and concludes the Plaintiff suffered significant detrimental impact 11 to his ability to transact in the field of real-estate purchases, refurbishment, and sales due to 12 his physical limitations resultant of the subject injury, finds that sufficient opportunity existed
13 and exists in the repressed real estate market for Plaintiff to continue to profitably purchase,
14 refurbish and sell real-estate absent said physical limitations, and is persuaded by and accepts
15 the calculations of Mr. Dineen with respect to the same and, in this Court’s discretion, awards
16 past lost income in the amount of $289,111.00 and future lost income in the amount of 17 $422,593.00.

18 5) As to the allocation of liability the Court finds liability against Defendant Fiesta
19 Palms, LLC, as set forth in Finding and Conclusion #1, above, but finds that Defendant
20 Beavers also failed to act in the manner of the average reasonable person under similar 21 circumstances in a manner creating a foreseeable harm to patrons of the Palms by throwing
22 promotional items into a crowded environment and in other and further manners as elucidated
23 at the time of trial. The Court, in its discretion, therefore apportions liability at 60% to the 24 Palms and 40% to Beavers, with no finding of comparative fault on the part of the Plaintiff.

25 WHEREFORE, this Court finds and concludes that a verdict be entered in said amounts as 26 set forth on the stipulated Verdict form attached hereto as Exhibit #1.<sup>28</sup>

27 The foregoing can hardly be interpreted as insufficient; rather, the evidence was 28 substantial, and clearly supportive of the verdict.

The Nevada Supreme Court has held repeatedly that where a question of fact has been determined by the trial court, the court will not reverse unless the judgment is clearly erroneous or not based on substantial evidence. NRCP 52(a). Kockos v. Bank of Nevada, 90

2 Plaintiff submits, and the foregoing demonstrates, that Plaintiff established the amount
3 of damages by substantial evidence, with reasonable certainty; proved the amount of damages
4 with reasonable certainty; proved the incident caused specified losses; provided substantial
5 evidence of revenues and expenses to prove lost profits; and provided evidence of lost
6 earnings to support an award of damages for lost earning capacity.

8 E. The Court's Order Striking Defendants' Experts was Appropriate

9 Defendant has not, and cannot, establish the existence of any of the reasons set forth in 10 NRCP 59 to justify a new trial relative to this issue. Rather, they have simply re-iterated the 11 arguments they offered in opposition to Plaintiff's Motion to Strike.

12 None of the authority or argument constitutes newly-discovered evidence, and 13 therefore, it would not serve as a ground for relief under Rule 59.

14 Defendant presented two (2) experts in this trial<sup>29</sup>, neither of whom opined that their 15 opinions were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability as required under 16 Nevada law.<sup>30</sup>

17 Accordingly, Plaintiff sought and obtained an Order to Strike Dr. Cargill's testimony
18 in its entirety, as well as an Order to Strike Mr. Franklin's opinions relative to standard of care
19 and dangerous activity. This Court entered specific Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law
20 in support of the Order to Strike.<sup>31</sup>

21 Specifically, this Court found as follows:

22 FINDINGS OF FACT

23 Defendant presented two (2) experts in this trial, Dr. Thomas Cargill (Economist) and 24 Forrest Franklin (Liability), neither of whom opined that their opinions were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability as required under Nevada law.

Forrest Franklin, Defendant's liability expert, was retained to develop and render an opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to throwing objects, memorabilia, and promotional articles into crowds.

Mr. Franklin offered the following opinions:

1. Throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort into crowds is not a substandard protocol;
2. It is not unsafe to throw things into crowds; and
3. It is not below the standard of care to throw items into a crowd.

None of these opinions, however, were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

Dr. Cargill offered the following two (2) opinions at trial:

1. Plaintiff could not have made as much in the current financial market as he could have back in 2004 because the bubble burst in the housing market; and
2. Mr. Dineen's discount rates were inappropriate.

Neither of these opinions was given to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

To testify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, the witness must satisfy the following three requirements: (1) he or she must be qualified in an area of "scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge" (the qualification requirement); (2) his or her specialized knowledge must "assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue" (the assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be limited "to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized] knowledge" (the limited scope requirement).

Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin's testimony failed to satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275, in that neither expert provided opinions to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

Accordingly, their opinions did not rise to the level of "scientific knowledge" within the meaning of NRS 50.275.

The opinions of Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin offered insufficient foundation for this court to take judicial notice of the scientific basis of those conclusions.

While counsel for the Defendant may have properly qualified said individuals as experts, the opinions rendered by the respective experts were speculative, as the court was not advised and the record does not reflect whether such opinions were made on the basis of "possibility" or some other standard lower than "a reasonable degree of professional probability."

Accordingly, the testimony of Cargil and Franklin did not satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275.<sup>32</sup>

Importantly, and as established above, the determination of liability and supportive findings and conclusions was made and based upon the weight of the testimony and evidence, and was reached independently of any other finding, ruling, or conclusion of the Court.<sup>33</sup>

IV. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, Plaintiff respectfully requests that Defendant's motion be denied in its entirety.

Plaintiff submits that defense counsel is unable to establish any of the foregoing elements necessary for a new trial under Rule 59.

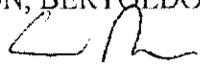

Plaintiff submits that the scope of a witness' testimony and whether a witness will be permitted to testify as an expert witness are within the discretion of the trial court, and the trial court's ruling will not be disturbed unless there is an abuse of discretion.

Plaintiff submits that there is substantial evidence to sustain the verdict and there is an absence of a clear abuse of discretion.

Accordingly, defendant's motion should be denied in its entirety.

1 practice?

2 A Yes. Depending on the source of the patient, yes.

3 Q And you've testified for your patients in court
4 before?

5 A Yes, I have.

6 Q On approximately how many occasions?

7 A Well since I've been -- we've been legislated to 8 keep records in 2005 this would be the 22nd time I've appeared
9 in court here.

10 Q I remember the legislation, Doctor. And have you
11 been qualified both as a treating physician and as an expert
12 in courts in the State of Nevada?

13 A I've never been denied, so --

14 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I move to have her admitted as a 15 treating physician and qualified as an expert in the field of 16 orthopedic surgery and the related matters to which she'll 17 testify.

18 THE COURT: Any objection?

19 MR. WARD: I have no objection to her qualifications.

20 The only objection I have is that she has not be
21 disclosed as anything other than a treating physician, so I
22 would object to any claims of questions in terms of what would
23 normally be submitted to an expert --

24 MR. BAKER: Can I have --

25 MR. WARD: -- aside from her treating.

1 MR. BAKER: Your Honor --

2 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

3 MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor.

4 I'd like to show you both the Fernandez v. Admirand
5 [phonetic] case that speaks to the fact that once a physician
6 is qualified to be expert, they can speak in any area of their
7 expertise.

8 But more importantly, Your Honor, Prabhu v. Levine,
9 which is 112 Nev. 1538 and speaks about the fact specifically
10 that in the Prabhu case, a treating physician was allowed to 11 testify to standard of care. It basically says that the 12 treating physician or a doctor is an expert for any purpose.

13 THE COURT: Mr. Ward?

14 MR. WARD: I am not familiar with that specific case.
15 The -- but I am familiar with Nevada Revised Statute 15.285
16 and 51.065, that I believe that it would limit her from 17 anything that she's been -- other than what she's been 18 disclosed as, and she has only been disclosed as a treater.

19 If there are -- certainly she would be qualified.
20 I'm not saying she wouldn't be qualified if she had been 21 properly disclosed. She's not given a report. She's not been
22 disclosed as anything other than a treater. So to ask her --
23 I understand she can offer opinions about her own treatment.
24 But to try to use her to -- as an expert to testify as to 25 other doctors, I think would be inappropriate.

1 MR. BAKER: And Your Honor, particularly I intend to use
2 her to speak about other doctors. She's testified that she
3 uses other doctors' treatment in the course of her diagnoses,
4 prognoses and treatment of patients.

5 As an expert this Court certainly recognizes there's
6 a difference between a retained expert and a not retained
7 expert. She has not been retained as an expert in this case.
8 She is a treating physician who has reviewed the course of the 9 medical treatment, has commented on the course of the medical 10 treatment and should rightly be allowed to testify to that.

11 And I'd like to add as well that N.R.S. 50.275
12 allows her, in her capacity as expert as set out in the Prabhu
13 v. Levine case, to speak to matters that would be otherwise
14 inadmissible including hearsay.

15 And so Your Honor, by Nevada case law and Nevada
16 statute she's an expert. She's not been disclosed as a
17 retained expert but she is a physician and an expert.

18 THE COURT: I understand the distinction, and I am
19 familiar both of these cases. Frankly I'm familiar with 20 Dr. Shannon. She's testified in this Court before.

21 So I think the motion should be granted in it's 22 entirety.

23 MR. BAKER: Which motion is that?

24 THE COURT: Motion to qualify her as an expert.

25 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor. And --

2 A They're similar, but there's major differences

4 MR. BAKER: I'm going to have him accepted by this Court
5 as a treating physician, qualified as an expert in the areas
6 of pain management, including neurologically mediated disease
7 and the modalities of which are used to treat those diseases.

8 THE COURT: Any objection?

9 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: So ordered.

11 BY MR. BAKER:

12 Q Now, you've reviewed all the medical records in this
13 case. Is that fair to say?

14 A I have. Yes.

15 Q And you're aware of the manner in which Mr.
16 Rodriguez was injured?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Would you explain to the Court, please, your
19 understanding of this injury?

20 A My understanding of it is that Mr. Rodriguez was at
21 the Palms Casino, watching or observing -- I believe it was a
22 football game, some sort of sporting event on one of the big
23 screen TVs. During the course of these events -- he was more

4 A Yes. It appears he did an examination on November
5 14th, 2006.

6 Q And as Chairman of the Department of Pain Management
7 at UCLA, to your knowledge he studied RSD causal to a complex

13 MR. BAKER: It's not a statement, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Mr. Ward, what was that?

2 MR. WARD: And I don't believe the case says that, but I

5 MR. BAKER: A continuing objection is stipulated to, Your

7 THE COURT: Very well, noted for the record. Please

9 BY MR. BAKER:

10 Q If you go to page five of Exhibit 25, would you
11 discuss with the Court what Dr. Ferrente's [phonetic] was of 12 Enrique Rodriguez?

13 A Dr. Ferrente, during that visit, said it is possible
14 that the patient has complex regional pain syndrome, or
15 regional sympathetic dystrophy. However, his physical
16 examination is more consistent with a chronic knee pain of a
17 mechanical nature. Furthermore, we don't have sufficient
18 objective information for which to make a definitive
19 diagnosis.

20 He goes onto say that if the pain continues or
21 worsens, he suggests that the patient undergoes bone scans,
22 lumbar sympathetic blocks, trial of clonidine patches and
23 neurontin, all of which are geared towards dealing with nerve-
24 type pain or neurogenic pain of a nature consistent with
25 complex regional pain syndrome.

1 with the care and treatment of RSD, Complex Regional Pain
2 Syndrome, Causalgia, and other neurologically mediated
3 pathologies?

4 A That's correct. Yeah, that's part of the training.
5 Yes, absolutely.

6 Q And you're a treating physician for Enrique
7 Rodriguez?

8 A I have been for quite some time now, since 2006.

9 Q Many years now.

10 A More than four years. That's right.

11 Q And you know Enrique.

12 A I know him very well, yes.

13 Q And you've reviewed other doctor's medical records
14 in terms of your care and treatment of Enrique Rodriguez, is 15 that correct?

16 A I have, yes.

17 MR. BAKER: At this time, Your Honor, I'd like to admit
18 him as a treating physician but also qualify him as an expert
19 in neurology, neurologically mediated diseases, those 20 diagnostic tests to determine neurologic injury and related 21 matters.

22 THE COURT: Any objection, Mr. Ward?

23 MR. WARD: Your Honor, I don't have any objection to his 24 expertise, his qualifications. I don't have any objection to 25 admitting him as an expert as a treating physician. He was

1 not disclosed as an expert in this case. I object to anything
2 that falls under the routine expert disclosure.

3 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, that's the argument that we've
4 been making throughout trial.

5 THE COURT: Right. But, Mr. Ward, your objection is 6 noted for the record.

7 MR. BAKER: And do you want a standing objection or are 8 you more comfortable objecting each time? I mean I'm very 9 happy to stipulate to a standing objection.

10 MR. WARD: I don't care. I just want to make sure I put 11 it on the record.

12 THE COURT: I understand. The objection is noted for the 13 record. The motion is granted.

14 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

15 BY MR. BAKER:

16 Q Now you've been treating Enrique, as you said, for 17 the last several years, is that right?

18 A Yes, since about -- more than four years now.

19 Q And you're aware that before he saw you, he went to 20 see a doctor named Dr. Ferrante in Los Angeles?

21 A Yes, he did.

22 Q And Dr. Ferrante came up with a differential
23 diagnosis of complex regional pain syndrome? Or actually, at
24 that time --

25 MR. WARD: Objection, leading.

TESTIMONY OF DR. LOUIS MORTILLARO

APPEARANCES:

For the Plaintiff:	STEVEN M. BAKER, ESQ. ROBERT S. CARDENAS, ESQ.
For the Defendant:	KENNETH C. WARD, ESQ.

RECORDED BY: VICTORIA BOYD, COURT RECORDER

1           So my practice, as it is now, is I still see
2 worker's comp patients. I see personal injury cases, usually
3 doctor referrals. I work probably mostly for the Plaintiff,
4 but also I'm getting a lot more defense cases and referrals
5 from defense lawyers.

6           And like I said, the murder cases, the psychosexual
7 dangerous cases, working there, family court. That's 8 basically it.

9           Q     Yeah. Is it fair to say that you've been to be the 10 partial advisor to the Court, the District Court of Clark
11 County on just numerous, numerous, numerous occasions?

12          A     Yes. I forget about that. When Stew Bell was the 13 District Attorney and Judge Thompson was his assistant, I used
14 to work a lot with them as an AMICAS [phonetic] advisor
15 relative to women's issues, domestic violence against women,
16 and also some of the murder cases that the DA has at the time.

17                I used to work with Stew, and Bill Koot, and Chuck
18 on those cases. So yeah, I've done a lot of --

19          MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I move to qualify Dr. Mortillaro
20 again as a neuropsychologist and related issues.

21          THE COURT: Uh-huh. Any objection?

22          MR. WARD: I do not object to him being accepted as an
23 expert as a treater.

24          MR. BAKER: And I'll also offer him as a treating 25 physician.

1 MR. WARD: I object to him being anything other than a
2 treater, because I object to his qualifications. I think he's 3 very well qualified, but he's not disclosed as an expert in
4 this case.

5 MR. BAKER: And, Your Honor, that's the same conversation
6 that we've had.

7 THE COURT: That's the same objection, noted for the 8 record. The motion is granted. So ordered.

9 Mr. Baker.

10 BY MR. BAKER:

11 Q How many people in your practice?

12 A About five or six of us, yes.

13 Q And do you work conjunctively with another Ph.D. to 14 provide mental health services to people on the premises?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And who is that?

17 A Dr. Gamazzo [phonetic], Dr. Johnson, Dr. Craft
18 [phonetic], who is my psychological assistant.

19 Q Is it true that both you and Dr. Gamazzo provided
20 services to Enrique Rodriguez?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And is that your file sitting in front of you with

24 A Yes.

25 Q And can you please tell us the first time you saw

BENCH TRIAL
TESTIMONY OF TERRANCE DINNEEN

APPEARANCES:

For the Plaintiff: STEVEN M. BAKER, ESQ.
ROBERT S. CARDENAS, ESQ.

For the Defendant: KENNETH C. WARD, ESQ.

RECORDED BY: VICTORIA BOYD, COURT RECORDER

1 THE COURT: Yeah. I think so.

2 BY MR. BAKER:

3 Q Are there times you've told me -- have you agreed to 4 participate in every case I've asked you to render an economic
5 decision -- opinion?

6 A Probably more accurate way is, I've agreed to see
7 your clients and evaluate whether or not I think there is an 8 economic loss, and chances of vocational rehabilitation.

9 Q And have there been sometimes you told me that that 10 answer was no?

11 A There's been some times, yes, that I've told you no,
12 that I don't believe there is a vocational or economic loss
13 that we can calculate.

14 Q I have tried to start every examination with a 15 triple negative, so I think I got it done through today. When 16 were you first contacted in this case?

17 A In 2008.

18 Q Was that by my office?

19 A It was.

20 Q And what was your assignment?

21 A I was asked to look at the vocational issues, the 22 types of work that Mr. Rodriguez was able to do prior to his 23 accident, to look at what vocational options he may have in 24 the future and then, if there was going to be a loss, that he
25 wasn't going to be able to make as much money, to calculate

1 that loss. I was also asked to look at the costs of future
2 medical care and calculate those values as well.

3 Q As in dollar value?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. Did you do an evaluation of Enrique Rodriguez
6 with respect to rehabilitation issues?

7 A I did.

8 Q What was that evaluation of?

9 A I met with Mr. Rodriguez, went through the types of 10 work that he's done in his past, the amount of education that 11 he has, you know, physically how he was doing, how he self
12 assessed the limitations that he has, what had happened
13 between the injury and when I saw him, which was about two and 14 a half, three years ago when he was injured. And I think that 15 encompasses most of what I did in the initial evaluation.

16 Q Did you also conjunctively review materials?

17 A I did.

18 Q Could you explain to the judge what you looked at?

19 A I looked at the medical records that I was provided
20 with, that summarized the medical treatment that he had. I
21 looked at three years of tax returns that I was provided with,
22 as I developed my opinions to write my report.

23 Q Did you review any materials on social security?

24 A I did.

25 Q What materials did you review?

1           A     I have a letter from Social Security that's in my
2 file, that I reviewed. And I think that, maybe, without going
3 through everything, that's the only one that's directly from 4 Social Security.

5           Q     Is there a time --

6           MR. WARD: I would object and move to strike any response
7 about Social Security. Social Security is not relevant to 8 these findings. And I think it is prejudicial, and --

9           MR. BAKER: Your Honor, social security

10          MR. WARD: it's hearsay.

11          MR. BAKER: Social security is absolutely relevant to 12 these findings. 214405 return to work at There is no argument
13 being made that Mr. Rodriguez is not disabled, and there was a
14 Social Security determination that he was disabled. You have 15 previously ruled on an issue that it wasn't relevant when 16 Enrique was speaking about it because of causation. He is 17 specifically not, and has said at these depositions, speaking
18 about causation, just his disability status, whether or not he 19 is disabled, and a determination by the federal government
20 that he is disabled is certainly not.

21          MR. WARD: Counsel for plaintiff is now putting forth to 22 the Court exactly what I was objecting to by saying it, that 23 it found to be disabled. What he was before the Social
24 Security commission, what was said, what was actually found,
25 what was testified to -- that's all hearsay. We don't have it

1 do, plus what they might earn as well. So you see people that
2 are high wage earners, that can work ten hours a month and
3 make over $900 in that ten hours. And even though they may 4 have a severe impairment, they would be determined not to meet
5 that definition of disability because they can earn over $950
6 a month. And those standards are applied to every Social 7 Security case, particularly with individuals under 50, as to 8 whether or not the person meets that definition of disability.
9 So it's a fairly complex definition of disability, and a
10 fairly stringent one. But it is one that's commonly used
11 by --

12 THE COURT: -- objection as to --

13 MR. WARD: Your Honor, may I ask for an ongoing
14 objection? I don't want to keep interrupting. Obviously this 15 is before the Court at this point, so I think the prejudice is 16 already there. So I don't want to be rude and keep 17 interrupting, but I do want to protect the --

18 THE COURT: Noted for the record.

19 MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor.

20 BY MR. BAKER:

21 Q And was that definition actually codified?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Can you explain that to the Judge?

24 A In the Ticket to Work Act -- passed under the first
25 motion of George -- elder -- Bush administration in 1999.

AVTranz

1 Congress took notice of that definition of disability. It's
2 probably one of the most studied definitions of disability
3 because of the impact of the number of people who meet that
4 definition of disability -- have on the Social Security
5 system. And the general accounting office had done a study
6 that was actually written into the act, the Ticket to Work
7 Act, that found a .5 percent return to work rate of people who
8 meet that definition of disability, meaning 99.5 percent of 9 the people who were found to meet that definition of 10 disability do not return to work.

11 Q And with respect to that definition, are the .5
12 percent who return to work -- are they just not lazy, and the 13 other 99.5 percent lazy?

14 A There -- well, there's been subsequent studies to 15 try and determine what are the characteristics that fit into 16 that .5 percent. The only correlation that they've been able 17 to find is higher levels of education, individuals that have 18 education beyond high school into the college level and into 19 the graduate school level. The number of people who returned
20 to work was a severe impairment -- tend to have higher levels
21 of education. But that's the only correlation they could
22 find. They couldn't find any correlation with specific types
23 of impairment, whether it was a congenital impairment or a
24 disease impairment or an impairment generated out of an 25 accident. You know, and they attempted to look at all those

1 different variables, trying to figure out what was the
2 characteristics, and how can we get more people back to work.
3 And that's the only correlation so far. Some of those studies
4 do have a bit higher return to work rate. Highest one I've 5 seen is about 10 or 11 percent, still meaning more people
6 don't return to work than do. But the one that Congress took 7 notice of was the .05 percent.

8 Q And did Enrique meet the definition of disability,
9 according to your evaluation of his medical records and your
10 experience as a vocational rehabilitation expert?

11 A Well, when I saw him and interviewed him, he had 12 told me that he had met that definition of disability, so I
13 knew that. In terms of my work with the Social Security
14 Administration, because he was under 50, it wouldn't surprise
15 me if they went through a fair amount of steps when they 16 evaluated whether or not he would meet that level of 17 disability.

18 Q Is it a difficult definition to meet?

19 MR. WARD: Object. Move to strike on the basis of 20 speculation.

21 THE COURT: Overruled. Let's have some foundation,
22 Mr. Baker.

23 BY MR. WARD:

24 Q How many Social Security disability cases do you
25 work here?

1           A     When I went off that panel, I had testified in a
2 little over 4,500 cases.

3           Q     And in each of those 4,500 cases was a certain
4 process used by the administration?

5           A     Yes.

6           Q     And was the process consistent?

7           A     Yes.

8           Q     And was there a specific process utilized for 9 individuals under 50?

10          A     Yes.

11          Q     And was that consistent?

12          A     Yes.

13          Q     And does Enrique Rodriguez qualify as an individual
14 under 50 with respect to that consistent process?

15          A     It does.

16          MR. BAKER: I would ask, then, Your Honor, that I be 17 allowed to have an explanation for most of this.

18          THE COURT: Very well.

19          BY MR. BAKER:

20          Q     Please explain the process.

21          A     Anybody under the age of 50 is considered a younger
22 individual. Starting at age 50, you're considered approaching
23 advanced age. And from age 55 to 60, you're considered of 24 advanced age. And of age 60, you're considered of retirement
25 age. I hate those titles and those age groups, but --

1 THE COURT: Me, too. I object.

2 MR. BAKER: Sustained, Your Honor.

3 THE WITNESS: You know, so different standards begin to 4 apply because age becomes a factor in disability, starting at 5 age 50. If you're 49 and three-quarters, if you're under the 6 age of 50 at any of those levels, you have to meet a different
7 criteria, a criteria that's harder to meet, in relation to 8 whether or not you're disabled. So when a person is under 50,
9 the case is looked at with a much greater scrutiny than, say,
10 a person who's over 60. And you can have two people with 11 identical backgrounds, but the age difference of, say, 49 and 12 61, there's a much higher probability that the person at age
13 61 would be found disabled, and the person who's under the age 14 of 50, because of the consideration of age as a factor of 15 disability --

16 BY MR. BAKER:

17 Q Is it a difficult definition to meet?

18 A It is. It's a very difficult definition of 19 disability to meet because you have, not only a physical
20 component that you have to meet, there's an earning component
21 that you also have to meet, based on your ability to perform
22 job skills.

23 Q And did Enrique Rodriguez meet that criteria?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And was he rendered totally disabled by the federal

1 government?

2 A He was.

3 Q After going through that process that you've 4 described?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And is it an intensive process?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And was that the entirety of your basis for 9 determining that Enrique Rodriguez was totally disabled?

10 A No. It was one of the pieces of the --

11 Q Tell the judge what pieces.

12 A Well, I've reviewed the medical records, noted the 13 diagnosis, complex regional pain syndrome. You know, that's a
14 very nasty little condition to try and rehabilitate somebody
15 from, you know, due to the impact of pain on daily functioning
16 and the inability of us to get a person to the point where 17 they can function at some consistent level. That's sort of, I
18 guess, a roundabout way of saying if we can get somebody who 19 can function four hours a day, five days a week, consistently,
20 then we've got a good chance of starting them back on 21 employment, you know. But if that four hours comes every 22 third day or second day or fifth day, or three times a month
23 that they can work, and it's not predictable, unless they have 24 some highly unusual job skills, their chances of getting them
25 back to employment are not good. In Enrique's case, the

AVTranz

1 impact of the complex regional pain syndrome, I felt, was a
2 significant factor in terms of creating impairment, you know,
3 functionally as well as a disability reason and function,
4 interact, you know, replace. Certainly, significant amounts
5 of various types of medication, you know, that he was and has
6 been -- you know, I felt that are more probable on that basis.
7 There was not a reasonable probability that we could
8 successfully rehabilitate him.

9 Q And is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of 10 professional probability that indicates Enrique Rodriguez was 11 totally disabled?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Now, once you determined that he was disabled, did
14 he set about to calculate lost handling?

15 A I did.

16 Q What materials were you provided to calculate the 17 lost handling?

18 A I was provided the tax returns, three of them, from
19 1999, 2001 and 2004.

20 Q Are you familiar with the fact that those tax
21 returns were filed in April -- filed in 2009 or 2010?

22 A Yes.

23 Q What impact would that have on your calculation, if
24 anything?

25 A I took the tax returns to be reflective of his

1           A     Sure. First, from the period of 1999 to 2004, I
2     only had three tax returns. For 2003, 2002 and 2000, I didn't
3     have any tax returns or reported income in those years. The 4     reported business income in 2004, where he had the 400 in 5     gross sales, the reported income was 208,000. Then, where he
6     had the 144,000 in 2001, the reported income was 1,748. And 7     where he had the 286, 286,000 in gross sales in '99, the 8     reported income was 76,513. So quite a bit of variance in 9     those numbers -- you know, I looked at the income as percent
10    in different ways to try and analyze that income, to determine 11    an annual earning capacity and what his skill set were.
12    Earning capacity is, essentially, what a person's ability to 13    generate income is in the labor market.

14                There are a couple of authors that say earning 15    capacity is the highest earnings that anybody is capable of 16    earning. Yes. Roger Weddington Field [phonetic], in their 17    writing -- and they're pretty prolific in their field --
18    defined earning capacity as the highest ability that 19    somebody's demonstrated. Other authors indicate that you've 20    got to look at the skills, the labor market and what those 21    skills are worth in determining earning capacity. And I did
22    both. I looked at what Enrique had done. He did some of the 23    repairing on these properties on his own. I would classify it
24    as some of the easier repairing, you know, not major. And he 25    was selective in picking properties that didn't need major

1 Q 192?

2 A The 192 is the taxable income.

3 Q Okay.

4 A Okay.

5 Q And this first one, the gross income was income?

6 A That's business income.

7 Q Business income? Okay. So let's deal with the
8 business income. Is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of 9 professional probability that his business income, in the year
10 2004, was $208,000?

11 A If that's what's reported on the return, yes.

12 Q That's not my question. My question is, is it your
13 opinion that that's what his income is, to a reasonable degree
14 of professional responsibility?

15 A Sure. That's what the business income is.

16 Q Okay. When you say that's what the business income
17 is, you used, in your direct examination, you used the term
18 reported income?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Isn't it true that you don't know if any of this
21 income was reported?

22 A I do know that it was reported.

23 Q Have you received additional information since I
24 took your deposition --

25 A Yes.

1 Q -- that you haven't told me about?

2 A I just received this. It's a letter dated October
3 20th from the tax preparer, indicating that the returns were
4 filed.

5 MR. WARD: Okay. I'd like to make that part of the 6 record.

7 THE COURT: Do we need a copy of that, Mr. Dinneen?

8 THE WITNESS: I don't think we need to, Your Honor. You
9 know, counsel provided it to me, so presumably, he has another
10 copy. I can replace that in my file, just for expediency.

11 THE COURT: Very well.

12 MR. WARD: I'm sorry. But I'm not going to mark it?

13 THE COURT: Not?

14 MR. WARD: Not. Now --

15 THE COURT: I guess he's not going to move to admit it
16 after all.

17 MR. WARD: I'm not going to move.

18 MR. BAKER: Okay.

19 BY MR. WARD:

20 Q Now, when your deposition was taken -- by the way,
21 when does that say they were found?

22 A It doesn't. It just says -- it's short. I can read
23 it.

24 Q No. That's okay.

25 A Okay.

BENCH TRIAL DATE: 10/25/10

HEARING DATE: 1/31/11

FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW, AND ORDER

THIS MATTER having come on for hearing on January 31, 2011 with respect to Plaintiff's Rule 52 (erroneously designated "Rule 50") Motion on the Issue of Liability before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, and the Court having considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the matter under advisement for further consideration, it is hereby found and concluded as follows:

FINDINGS OF FACT

During the course of this trial, Plaintiff established that, prior to the subject incident, Defendant was aware that promotional items were being thrown into crowds at events on the premises; that Defendant knew this behavior was inappropriate because it was a safety issue and could foreseeably cause injury to an individual; that prior to the incident at bar, Defendant conducted a staff meeting where staff was instructed not to cause promotional items to be thrown into crowds because of said safety concerns; and that Defendant, despite this knowledge and awareness, constructed a "field goal" within the sports book for purposes of throwing promotional items at sporting events.

Sheri Long, the Director of Marketing at The Palms, testified that she was aware that promotional items were thrown into crowds before the subject incident; this witness acknowledged this behavior was inappropriate because it constituted a safety issue which could foreseeably cause injury to an individual.

In her testimony, Ms. Long specifically recalled holding a meeting, before the subject incident, and instructing her staff that items should not be thrown into crowds during promotional events.

Ms. Long acknowledged that the injuries suffered by Plaintiff were exactly of the type she was concerned would occur if promotional items were thrown into crowds at promotional events.

Ms. Long further testified that what occurred in this case is what she was trying to prevent when she conveyed to her staff that promotional items were not to be thrown into a crowd at an event.

Vikki Kooinga, Risk Manager at The Palms, also testified that throwing items into a crowd could foreseeably cause injury to someone in the audience.

Ms. Kooinga acknowledged that throwing promotional items into the crowd was inappropriate, wrong and beneath the standard of care for the hotel in protecting the safety of their patrons upon the premises.

Lastly, Ms. Kooinga testified that she would have expected hotel Security to stop anyone from throwing items into the crowd.

Plaintiff was then injured when promotional items were thrown into the crowd at a promotional event.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

NRCP 52(c) states in pertinent part as follows:

If during a trial without a jury a party has been fully heard on an issue and the court finds against the party on that issue, the court may enter judgment as a matter of law against that party with respect to a claim or defense that cannot under the controlling law be maintained or defeated without a favorable finding on that issue, or the court may decline to render any judgment until the close of all the evidence.

Liability has been conclusively established by the Plaintiff in this matter. The unequivocal testimony and undisputed facts establish liability and are as follows:

1. Defendant was aware promotional items were being thrown into crowds at events before the incident at bar;
2. Defendant conducted a staff meeting prior to the incident at bar where staff was instructed not to cause or permit promotional items to be thrown into crowds at events;
3. Defendant acknowledged that throwing promotional items into crowds was inappropriate;
4. Defendant acknowledged that throwing promotional items into crowds was a safety concern as it could foreseeably cause injury to an individual;
5. Defendant acknowledged that said foreseeable risk of injury was known by them prior to the incident at bar;
6. Despite this awareness, after said staff meeting, and with knowledge of said foreseeable risk of harm. Defendant constructed a goal post in the sports book for purposes of promotional items to be thrown;
7. Plaintiff was then injured as a direct and proximate result of throwing promotional items at an event upon Defendant's premises.

28

Additionally, Defendant has conceded that there was a known safety procedure prohibiting promotional items from being thrown into the crowds.

Defendant's conceded that they violated this known safety procedure as related to the case at bar.

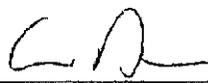

The known safety procedure was admissible as relevant to the issue of liability.

Defendant's policy and the breach thereof both aided this Court, as the finder of fact, in determining the issue of liability. No comparative liability was found on the part of the Plaintiff.

Therefore, this Honorable Court finds and adjudges liability against Defendant PALMS CASINO RESORT and in favor of the Plaintiff ENRIQUE RODRIGUEZ herein. These findings and conclusions are made and based upon the weight of the testimony and evidence aforesaid, and is reached independently of any other finding, ruling, or conclusion of the Court.

FINDINGS OF FACT AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW
IN SUPPORT OF VERDICT

THIS MATTER HAVING COME ON FOR TRIAL before the bench, commencing on October 25, 2011, and a verdict being entered on March 14, 2011, this Honorable Court Finds and Concludes as follows:

1) Liability in favor of the Plaintiff in this matter was determined as consistent with the Findings of Fact and Conclusions of law granting Directed Verdict pursuant to NRC P 52 entered in this matter on March 10, 2011.

2) The Court finds the testimony of Plaintiff's treating physicians, including, but not limited to Dr. Shifini, Dr. Mortillaro, Dr. Kidwell, Dr. Shaw, Dr. Shannon, and Dr. Tauber to be persuasive on the issue of the reasonableness, necessity and causation of past and future medical expenses to include, but not limited to, surgeries to Plaintiff's injured knee, carpal tunnel release, future knee replacement, a spinal cord stimulator and replacement of batteries with respect to the same, future lumbar fusion, cervical modalities, and other and further past and future medical services and expenses as elucidated at trial and, accordingly, and in this Court's discretion, awards as past medical expenses the amount of $376,773.38 and future medical expenses in the amount of $1,854,738.00.

3) Based upon the testimony of said treating physicians, the Plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez, and "before and after" lay witnesses who testified at the time of trial, the Court finds that Plaintiff Rodriguez suffered extensive, painful, disabling, and permanent injuries as a result of the subject incident which have detrimentally impacted his daily living and functioning and, consistent with that finding, and in this Courts discretion, awards as past pain and suffering the amount of $1,243,350.00 and future pain and suffering in the amount of $1,865,025.00.

4) The Court finds the testimony of Plaintiff's economist, Terrence Dineen, persuasive on the issue of Plaintiff's loss of economic opportunity, vocational disability, and loss of past and future earnings, finds and concludes the Plaintiff suffered significant detrimental impact to his ability to transact in the field of real-estate purchases, refurbishment, and sales due to his physical limitations resultant of the subject injury, finds that sufficient opportunity existed and exists in the repressed real estate market for Plaintiff to continue to profitably purchase, refurbish and sell real-estate absent said physical limitations, and is persuaded by and accepts the calculations of Mr. Dineen with respect to the same and, in this Court's discretion, awards

5) As to the allocation of liability the Court finds liability against Defendant Fiesta Palms, LLC, as set forth in Finding and Conclusion #1, above, but finds that Defendant Beavers also failed to act in the manner of the average reasonable person under similar circumstances in a manner creating a foreseeable harm to patrons of the Palms by throwing promotional items into a crowded environment and in other and further manners as elucidated at the time of trial. The Court, in its discretion, therefore apportions liability at 60% to the Palms and 40% to Beavers, with no finding of comparative fault on the part of the Plaintiff.

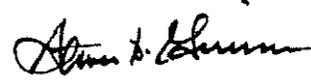

WHEREFORE, this Court finds and concludes that a verdict be entered in said amounts as set forth on the stipulated Verdict form attached hereto as Exhibit #1.

FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW, AND ORDER

THIS MATTER having come on for hearing on January 31, 2011 with respect to Plaintiff's Motion to Strike Defendant's Experts before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, and the Court having considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the matter under advisement for further consideration, this Honorable Court finds and concludes as follows:

FINDINGS OF FACT

Defendant presented two (2) experts in this trial, Dr. Thomas Cargill (Economist) and Forrest Franklin (Liability), neither of whom opined that their opinions were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability as required under Nevada law.

Forrest Franklin, Defendant's liability expert, was retained to develop and render an opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to throwing objects, memorabilia, and promotional articles into crowds.

Mr. Franklin offered the following opinions:

1. Throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort into crowds is not a substandard protocol;
2. It is not unsafe to throw things into crowds; and
3. It is not below the standard of care to throw items into a crowd.

None of these opinions, however, were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

Dr. Cargill offered the following two (2) opinions at trial:

1. Plaintiff could not have made as much in the current financial market as he could have back in 2004 because the bubble burst in the housing market; and
2. Mr. Dineen's discount rates were inappropriate.

Neither of these opinions was given to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

To testify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, the witness must satisfy the following three requirements: (1) he or she must be qualified in an area of "scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge" (the qualification requirement); (2) his or her specialized knowledge must "assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue" (the assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be limited "to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized] knowledge" (the limited scope requirement).

Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin's testimony failed to satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275, in that neither expert provided opinions to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

Accordingly, their opinions did not rise to the level of "scientific knowledge" within the meaning of NRS 50.275.

The opinions of Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin offered insufficient foundation for this court to take judicial notice of the scientific basis of those conclusions.

While counsel for the Defendant may have properly qualified said individuals as experts, the opinions rendered by the respective experts were speculative, as the court was not advised and the record does not reflect whether such opinions were made on the basis of "possibility" or some other standard lower than "a reasonable degree of professional probability."

Accordingly, the testimony of Cargil and Franklin did not satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275.

Case No. A531538

NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION TO AMEND JUDGMENT ON THE VERDICT

Date:
Time:
Dept: X

30 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that Defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC dba THE PALMS
31 CASINO RESORT, by and through its attorneys of record Kenneth C. Ward, Keith R. Gillette,
32 and ARCHER NORRIS, moves to amend the Judgment on the Verdict filed by this Court on 33 April 12, 2011. This Motion is made pursuant to NRS 17.130 and on the grounds that the 34 Judgment on the Verdict does not accurately calculate the post-judgment interest rate as a 35 variable interest rate to be readjusted every six months.

36 ///
37 ZA126/1130697-1

1 This Motion is further based upon the papers and pleading filed herein, the below
2 Memorandum of Points and Authorities, and oral argument.

3 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

4 I.
5 INTRODUCTION

6 Defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC dba THE PALMS CASINO RESORT (“THE
7 PALMS”) moves to amend the Court’s Judgment on the Verdict (“Judgment”) filed on April 12,
8 2010. The Judgment holds THE PALMS and Co-Defendant BRANDY BEAVERS joint and 9 severally liable to the Plaintiff for $6,051,589.38. The Judgment sets the interest rates as follows:

10 “Pre-judgment interest shall accrue on past damages at the legal rate of 5.25%
11 (3.25 prime + 2) on the amount of $1,909,234.38 pursuant to NRS 17.130, from
12 the date of service of the Summons and Complaint (12/11/2006) until fully 13 satisfied, such interest in the amount of FOUR HUNDRED TWENTY SEVEN
THOUSAND TWENTY SEVEN AND 71/100 DOLLARS ($427,027.00 [sic])
as of April 4, 2011 and accruing at a rate of TWO HUNDRED SEVENTY
FOUR AND 62/100 DOLLARS ($274.62) per diem thereafter.

14 Post-Judgment Interest shall accrue at the legal rate on future damages in the 15 amount of $4,142,355.00, until fully satisfied.”

16 The Court’s calculation of post-judgment interest on Plaintiff’s past damages has been
17 erroneously set at the interest rate of 5.25%, as opposed to adjustable amount mandated by NRS
18 17.130(2). The Judgment erroneously calculates the amount of post-judgment interest and must 19 therefore be amended.

20 II.
21 LEGAL ARGUMENT

22 A. Legal Standard for Post-Judgment Interest

23 Nevda Revised Statute 17.130(2) governs the calculation of interest on a judgment:

24 “When no rate of interest is provided by contract or otherwise by law, or 25 specified in the judgment, the judgment draws interest from the time of service of 26 the summons and complaint until satisfied, except for any amount representing 27 future damages, which draws interest only from the time of entry of the judgment
28 until satisfied, at a rate equal to the prime rate at the largest bank in Nevada as ascertained by the commissioner of financial institutions on January 1 or July 1, as the case may be, immediately preceding the date of judgment, plus 2 percent.
The rate must be adjusted accordingly on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter until judgment is satisfied.” (Emphasis added.)

1 The Nevada Supreme Court has plainly stated that pre-judgment interest must be
2 calculated using a single rate in effect on the date of judgment, not a periodic biannual rate. Lee
3 v. Ball, 121 Nev. 391, 396 (2005). However, this fixed rate only applies until the date of 4 judgment. The fixed rate does not apply to post-judgment interest. Instead, the rate must be
5 adjusted every six months until satisfied. NRS 17.130(2). As explained in Kerala Props., Inc. v.
6 Familian, “the biannual rate adjustment applies postjudgment, i.e., when the judgment is
7 entered until it is satisfied, and not prejudgment.” 122 Nev. 601, 606 (2006) (emphasis 8 added).

9 Therefore, pursuant to NRS 17.130(2), “the prime rate at the time of judgment plus 2%” 10 calculation applies to past damages from the date of service of the complaint until the date of 11 judgment. The adjustable post-judgment rate that must be reevaluated on every January 1 and 12 July 1 until judgment is satisfied applies to both Plaintiff’s past and future damages.

13 B. The Judgment Should Be Amended to Reflect the Appropriate Adjustable Post-
14 Judgment Interest Rate

15 The Judgment issued by this Court correctly determines the pre-judgment interest rate on 16 Plaintiff’s past damages at a rate of 5.25% (3.25% prime rate plus an additional 2%), as required
17 by NRS 17.130(2). However, the Judgment then calculates a per diem rate of interest after 18 judgment until fully satisfied at an amount of $274.62. This is incorrect. The post-judgment
19 interest rate must be adjusted every January 1 and July 1 until the judgment is satisfied. Keralas
20 Props., Inc. v. Familian, 122 Nev. 601, 606 (2006). This Court cannot set a fixed rate of post-
21 judgment per diem interest when NRS 17.130(2) and the Nevada Supreme Court are clear that 22 post-judgment interest is variable. Just as the post-damages interest rate for Plaintiff’s future
23 damages will be periodically calculated until satisfied, the interest on Plaintiff’s post-judgment
24 past damages must be calculated in the same manner.

25 As such, the Judgment should be amended to adequately reflect the law on calculation of 26 post-judgment interest. Rather than setting a fixed per diem amount of post-judgment interest,
27 the Court should amend the Judgment to state that any and all interest accruing after the entry of 28 judgment will be calculated using a rate adjusted on each January 1 and July 1 until the judgment

1 is fully satisfied, as required by NRS 17.130(2).

2 III.
3 CONCLUSION

4 The Judgment filed by this Court does not appropriately set the rate for post-judgment
5 interest in this matter. As explained above, instead of using a fixed interest rate resulting in the 6 $274.62 per diem amount, the appropriate interest rate for both Plaintiff's past and future
7 damages must be readjusted on each January 1 and July 1 from the date of judgment until 8 judgment is satisfied. Therefore, Defendant THE PALMS respectfully requests that the Court
9 GRANT its Motion to Amend the Judgment on the Verdict to reflect the proper adjustable interest
10 rate for post-judgment interest as required by NRS 17.130(2).

DEFENDANT FIESTA PALMS, LLC, A
NEVADA LIMITED LIABILITY

RESORT'S REPLY TO PLAINTIFF'S
OPPOSITION TO THE MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Hearing Dept: X (in Chambers)
Hearing Date: May 5, 2011

22 Defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC, a Nevada Limited Liability Company, d/b/a THE 23 PALMS CASINO RESORT ("the Palms"), by and through its counsel of record, hereby files its 24 Reply to Plaintiff's Opposition to Defendant's Motion for New Trial.

25 I.
26 INTRODUCTION

27 Despite plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez's ("Plaintiff") paltry arguments, the Palms is clearly 28 entitled to a new trial in this case based on the facts that 1) the Court committed error in

1 permitting the Plaintiff to have four medical treaters testify on behalf of 25 treaters, and in subject
2 areas in which they are not qualified, 2) Plaintiff and his counsel purposefully withheld
3 documents from the Palms; 3) the body of evidence the Palms produced at trial demonstrated that
4 Plaintiff's evidence was insufficient to justify the verdict; and 4) the Court was in error when it
5 granted Plaintiff's motion to strike the Palms' experts' opinions. Only a new trial can remedy
6 these defects, which greatly prejudiced the Palms and prevented it from having a fair trial in this
7 case.

8 II. 9 LEGAL ANALYSIS

10 A. Plaintiff should not have been permitted to only have a selected few treaters' testify 11 regarding an aggregation of nontestifying providers' opinions and records, which 12 constitute inadmissible hearsay.

13 Plaintiff still attempts to rely on the case Prabhu v. Levine, 112 Nev. 1538, 1541 (1996),
14 although that case is clearly distinguishable. As discussed in the Palms' moving papers, unlike 15 the doctor's testimony in Prabhu, wherein the doctor offered expert opinions on issues learned
16 within the scope of his own specific and detailed treatment of the plaintiff, Mr. Rodriguez's 17 testifying treating doctors offered opinions on ultimate issues such as causation based not on their 18 own treating opinions, but on the opinions and records of other doctors, unrelated to their
19 treatment of Plaintiff.

20 As pointed out in the Palms' moving papers, testimony of one treating physician as to the 21 collective opinion of a group of other physicians of different opinions and specialties who do not
22 testify is inadmissible hearsay under NRS 50.285. Estes v. State, 122 Nev. 1123, 1140-41 (2006).
23 With regard to Plaintiff's medical case, his counsel elicited testimony from only four treating 24 healthcare providers, not from all of Plaintiff's treaters. Plaintiff attempted to have these four 25 treaters to aggregate the opinions and conclusions of the other 25+ treaters even though such 26 opinions and conclusions were complete outside the scope of the testifying treaters' scope of 27 expertise and treatment of Plaintiff. Prabhu certainly did not stand for such a change in the law.

28 Rather, Prabha stood for the appellate court not finding the required prejudice because the opposing counsel attended the deposition of the treating physician and cross-examined him on the

1 very subjects that he testified about. In this case, for example, Dr. Schifini only submitted 30+
2 documents in response to a subpoena, without revealing that he, in actuality, had reviewed
3 hundreds of reports of other physicians. His original subpoena response indicated he would be a
4 relatively unimportant witness, and thus he was not deposed. Thus, any error in this case was
5 compounded by the fact that Dr. Schifini was not deposed. Therefore the error of permitting
6 opinion testimony regarding causation and the standard of care could not be ameliorated through
7 the Palms' opportunity to cross-examine on those issues at a deposition.

8 This case did not involve one physician being permitted to provide opinion testimony
9 through a deposition, but rather 20+ treatment providers' reports being aggregated by four 10 treating providers who were never deposed. The Palms was never put on notice that those four 11 treaters would deny the Palms' the ability to cross-examine all of the treating providers on the 12 stand at trial. To be denied such an opportunity is a travesty of justice that denied the Palms a fair
13 trial.

14 Plaintiff had 30+ treating healthcare providers in this case. It is patently unfair and 15 prejudicial to either require the Palms to have deposed every single one of them on the off chance
16 that one might offer expert testimony, or for the Palms to have to wait until trial to find out which
17 providers are going to offer expert testimony. Here, Plaintiff was required by NRCP Rules 16.1
18 and 26 to have timely designated as experts the four treaters who testified at trial. Because he did
19 not, the Palms was severely prejudiced in preparing its defense.

20 B. Several of Plaintiff's treatment providers testified outside the scope of their
21 expertise.

22 Plaintiff attempts to obfuscate the issues regarding the five testifying treatment providers
23 by claiming they were all qualified as experts. Assuming arguendo that Plaintiff's treating 24 providers were properly disclosed, they still must be qualified to offer the opinions they seek to 25 offer. Plaintiff attempts to argue that simply because an expert has been "qualified" to testify on 26 a certain matter, that expert is qualified to opine on all matters, including those outside the 27 expert's scope of expertise. Clearly, this is not the law in Nevada. See N.R.S. 50.275.

1           1.       Dr. Schifini testified outside the scope of his expertise.

2           For example, as Plaintiff points out, Dr. Schifini was only admitted to testify as a treating
3 physician qualified as an anesthesiologist and “as an expert in the areas of pain management.” He
4 was never admitted as an expert regarding spinal surgery. Yet, he proceeded to testify as to the 5 specific costs of the proposed spinal cord stimulator that he opined Dr. Ferrante would believe
6 was necessary, had Dr. Ferrante actually treated plaintiff within the past several years. This
7 opinion was clearly far outside the scope of Dr. Schifini’s expertise.

8           He also even testified about life care planning, and produced a new life care plan at trial,
9 although Plaintiff had disclosed an expert in that very area who had even produced an expert
10 report. Clearly, those areas are well outside of the range in which Dr. Schifini’s expertise.

11           2.       Dr. Kidwell also testified outside the scope of his expertise.

12           Another example is Dr. Kidwell. As Plaintiff points out in his Opposition, Dr. Kidwell
13 was qualified and admitted as “an expert in the field of pain management and anesthesiology.”
14 However, his qualification regarding anesthesiology and pain management clearly does not
15 qualify him to opine regarding orthopedic spine surgeries. He was not qualified to offer credible
16 expert testimony as to what treatment Dr. Thalgott, an orthopedic spine surgeon who had not seen
17 Plaintiff since 2008, would currently prescribe if he were to examine Plaintiff. In 2007 Dr.
18 Thalgott wrote in his treatment record that Plaintiff was not a candidate for back surgery.
19 However, at trial, Dr. Kidwell testified that, had Dr. Thalgott followed Plaintiff’s treatment since
20 2007, he would now recommend back surgery. There is simply no foundation for this “opinion”
21 from Dr. Thalgott via his purported psychic connection with Dr. Kidwell.

22           These and the other “opinions” elicited by Plaintiff’s counsel are improper and should not 23 have been admitted as evidence.

24       C.    Plaintiff’s counsel’s gamesmanship prevented the Palms from being able to properly
25       respond to the “new” critical evidence.

26           Plaintiff’s counsel attempts to downplay the importance of the newly found evidence from 27 Plaintiff’s economist expert, Mr. Dineen, and Plaintiff’s treater, Dr. Schifini, however such 28 evidence was critical to Plaintiff’s damages calculations.

1           1.       The tax preparer's letter was critical evidence.

2           Mr. Dineen, as pointed out by Plaintiff in his Opposition, specifically stated that it was his
3 opinion to a reasonable degree of professional responsibility that in 2004, Plaintiff's business
4 income was $208,000 based on what was reported on Plaintiff's return. Thus, the "reported" tax
5 returns were critical to Mr. Dineen's entire wage loss claim analysis. Yet, the letter regarding the 6 reported income was not created until October 20, 2010, a long time after the Palms' deposition
7 of Mr. Dineen, and yet the Palms was never alerted the Palms to the fact that such evidence
8 existed until the Palms' counsel was surprised by it while Mr. Dineen was on the stand.

9           As pointed out in the Palms' moving papers, Plaintiff's counsel had possession of the 10 letter and provided it to Mr. Dineen. (Deposition Testimony of Terrence Dineen, Ex. K to the 11 Declaration of Kenneth C. Ward, 71: 20-72: 10, filed in conjunction with the Palms' motion for 12 new trial.) Plaintiff's counsel was under a duty to provide that evidence to the Palms, and yet he 13 chose not to. Contrary to Plaintiff's assertion, he clearly did withhold the evidence. Such 14 sandbagging of the Palms at the last minute should not have been permitted, and Plaintiff's
15 gamesmanship should have resulted in the evidence of the reported income not being introduced 16 into evidence, whether through Mr. Dineen or any other witness.

17           2.       Dr. Schifini's "lost" records were crucial pieces of evidence.

18           The Palms proceeded with typical discovery in a case with medical damages and 19 subpoenaed Plaintiff's treater, Dr. Schifini's records. The Palms received back approximately 20 21+ documents. (The entire extent of the documents produced by Dr. Schifini were attached as 21 Exhibit F to the Affidavit of Kenneth C. Ward, filed in conjunction with the Palms' moving 22 papers.) However, at trial, Dr. Schifini indicated he had approximately 117 documents that had 23 not been previously produced that he had reviewed in preparation for trial. In addition, Plaintiff
24 never disclosed any of Dr. Schifini's 100+ additional documents that Dr. Schifini testified to at
25 trial.

26           At trial, Dr. Schifini revealed that he had reviewed all of the medical records in the case.
27 (See Exhibit 3, Oct. 28, 2010, Trial Testimony, 6:12-14, to Plaintiff's Opposition.) This was 28 never previously disclosed to the Palms. This fact is extremely prejudicial to the Palms, because

1 had the Palms known Dr. Schifini had considered every single medical record in forming his
2 opinions, the Palms would have likely deposed him.

3 A mere 30+ pages from a pain management specialist indicates that he was likely not
4 actively involved in the plaintiff's treatment. However, if that same physician is reviewing every
5 single record to form his opinions, that transforms the specialist into a potentially critical witness
6 in the case. Dr. Schifini's significance as a witness was not apparent until trial had commenced
7 and his entire file was produced, and he admitted to having reviewed all of Plaintiff's medical 8 records. This clearly prejudiced the Palms because Plaintiff downplayed Dr. Schifini's
9 importance and the expansive scope of his testimony until trial, leaving the Palms at a clear
10 disadvantage. Dr. Schifini ended up being one of Plaintiff's primary medical damages witnesses,
11 which there would be no way to tell from Dr. Schifini's produced documents.

12 D. Plaintiff's treating providers were permitted to testify far beyond the scope of their
13 treatment.

14 Plaintiff spends approximately 11 pages discussing the treatment providers' expert
15 testimony in his Opposition. However, he misses the point that the Palms agrees that a treatment 16 provider can testify as to a diagnosis based upon that treatment provider's own treatment of the 17 Plaintiff. First, although the court does have discretion as to the scope of a witness's testimony
18 and whether a witness may testify as an expert, such discretion can only be exercised within the 19 strict parameters of Nevada case and statutory law governing expert testimony. Anything that 20 exceeds those parameters is an abuse of discretion.

21 Second, although the Palms did not depose Plaintiff's treatment providers, it had its own
22 medical experts reviewing Plaintiff's treatment providers' files, and the Palms believed it would
23 have the opportunity to cross-examine any necessary medical providers. The Palms did not know
24 that it would be deprived of such an opportunity for the convenience of Plaintiff. Even if the 25 Palms had selected 2-3 primary treating providers to depose, Plaintiff would still have been able 26 to "surprise" the Palms, by not selecting those 2-3 treating providers to testify about all of the 27 medical providers' records.

28 Third, a treatment provider, even if qualified as an expert, can only testify within subject

1 areas within the expert's experience or training. As previously discussed, that does not mean that
2 a treatment provider qualified regarding pain management is then qualified to discuss every single
3 treatment area within the medical field. Rather, the expert must have experience and training in 4 the matter sufficient to qualify him or her as an expert. In this case, several of Plaintiff's
5 testifying treaters testified beyond any possible scope of their expertise.

6 Fourth, as previously discussed, Prabhu is inapposite because the Court specifically relied 7 on the fact that the treating physician had been cross-examined. In addition, Fernandez v.
8 Admirand, 108 Nev. 963 (1992) does not stand for the broad proposition suggested by Plaintiff.
9 Rather in Fernandez, the court specifically addressed the fact that certain matters are common
10 knowledge to all physicians, and it limited its finding in that case to "[t]he recognition of red 11 blood bleeding from the rectum as an indication of potential colon cancer is something within the 12 ken of all physicians." Id. at 970. However, the Fernandez court was quick to point out that 13 "[a]dmittedly, some diagnoses or operational procedures are unique to a medical specialty, and 14 only a specialist in that medical area would be able to testify to the standard of care to be met," 15 but this was not the case specifically "with the diagnosis for bright red blood bleeding from the 16 rectum."

17 As Plaintiff himself points out, this case involved complicated medical claims requiring 18 more than the typical run-of-the mill medical diagnoses. Instead, they involved issues regarding 19 whether orthopedic surgery would be appropriate and the like. Clearly, such diagnoses require a 20 specialist.

21 Fifth, Plaintiff attempts to argue that no report was required of the testifying treaters as 22 they were non-retained experts. However, the cases that Plaintiff cites to support this assertion
23 actually disprove his theory. For example, Piper v. Harnischfeger Corp., 170 F.R.D. 173, 175
24 (D.Nev. 1997) is cited only to state that no written report is required if the testimony based on 25 knowledge acquired in the course of treatment (not on the bases of the findings of other treaters.)
26 Baker v. Taco Bell Corp., 163 F.R.D. 348, 349 (D.Colo.1995) also limits its holding to opinions 27 "based on an examination of the patient," and thus not on other treaters' examination of the 28 patient. Perhaps the most striking example cited by Plaintiff is Mangla v. University of

1 Rochester, 168 F.R.D. 137, 139 (W.D.N.Y. 1996) providing that a treating physician's testimony
2 is based on the physician's personal knowledge of the examination, diagnosis and treatment, and
3 not from information acquired from outside sources.

4 These cases all limit the treating physicians' opinions to their personal knowledge of a
5 patient's treatment, and specifically excludes opinions derived from outside sources. Here, the 6 treating providers were permitted to testify based on outside sources (other treating providers'
7 records), with no personal knowledge regarding that treatment. This clearly exceeds the scope of 8 what a treating provider should be allowed to testify to. Thus, Plaintiff's testifying treaters should 9 have been disclosed and required to issue a report regarding their opinions.

10 Finally, Plaintiff asserts that Plaintiff's treating providers were permitted to rely on the 11 opinions of non-testifying experts, and cites to several cases in support of this theory. However,
12 it is clear from the cited cases that those cases are inapposite because they deal with disclosed
13 experts, rather than non-experts, such as the treating providers in this case. In fact, the cases
14 specifically state that an expert may not parrot the opinion of another expert, and may not serve as 15 a spokesman for the absent expert, vouching for the truth of his statements. In re James Wilson
16 Associates, 956 F.2d 160, 172-173 (7th Cir. 1992.) This is exactly what was permitted to occur in 17 this case, and those opinions should have been stricken from the record.

18 E. The evidence remains insufficient to support a verdict and the motion to strike was 19 erroneously granted.

20 The Palms' produced two experts who provided a sufficient foundation for their opinions,
21 and yet the Court granted a motion to strike their testimony, basically rendering the Palms'
22 defense with a virtually insurmountable blow. Both experts clearly testified to a reasonable
23 degree of professional probability. As discussed in the moving papers, Plaintiff's motion was 24 erroneously granted. In addition, a review of the evidence demonstrates that there existed
25 insufficient evidence for a Plaintiff verdict, and certainly for such an exorbitant verdict.

CASE NO.: A531538

DEPT NO: 10

BENCH TRIAL DATE: 10/25/10

HEARING DATE: 7/5/11

22 FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW, AND ORDER

23 THIS MATTER having come on for hearing on July 5, 2011, with respect to Defendant's
24 Motion to Amend Judgment on the Verdict, before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, and the
25 Court having considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the matter under 26 advisement for further consideration, this Court finds and concludes as follows:
27

1 FINDINGS OF FACT

2 Within the Judgment on the Verdict filed April 12, 2011, the reference to interest accrual
3 on the Judgment is articulated as follows:

4 Pre-judgment interest shall accrue on past damages at the legal rate of 5.25%
5 (3.25 prime + 2) on the amount of $1,909,234.38 pursuant to NRS 17.130, from
6 the date of service of the Summons and Complaint (12/11/2006) until fully
7 satisfied, such interest in the amount of FOUR HUNDRED TWENTY SEVEN
THOUSAND TWENTY SEVEN AND 71/100 DOLLARS ($427,027.00 [sic])
as of April 4, 2011 and accruing at a rate of TWO HUNDRED SEVENTY
FOUR AND 62/100 DOLLARS ($274.62) per diem thereafter.

8 Post-Judgment Interest shall accrue at the legal rate on future damages in the
9 amount of $4,142,355.00, until fully satisfied.

10 Defendant Fiesta Palms LLC (hereinafter, Defendant or "Palms") objected to this
11 articulation of interest to be awarded as to post-judgment interest on past damages, as developed
12 within its Motion to Amend Judgment. Plaintiff filed no opposition to said Motion, and concurred
13 that the interest rate was improperly articulated.

14 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

15 NRS 17.130 mandates that determination of post-judgment interest on past damages. The 16 Judgment on the Verdict filed April 12, 2011 erroneously articulates the interest rate as "5.25%
17 (3.25 prime + 2)."

CASE NO.: A531538

DEPT NO: 10

BENCH TRIAL DATE: 10/25/10

HEARING DATE: 7/5/11

22 FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW, AND ORDER

23 THIS MATTER having come on for hearing on July 5, 2011, with respect to Defendant's
24 Motion to Tax Costs, before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, and the Court having
25 considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the matter under advisement for
26 further consideration, this Court finds and concludes as follows:

27 ///

28 ///

1 FINDINGS OF FACT

2 The Court finds that Plaintiff's Memorandum of Costs fails to document, itemize, and justify
3 its costs. In Plaintiff's Opposition to Defendant's Motion to Tax Costs, Plaintiff had the
4 opportunity to produce documents or evidence substantiating its claimed costs but failed to do so.

5 In addition, Plaintiff's memorandum of costs seeks recovery of other costs that either exceed
6 certain statutory limits or are not recoverable under Nevada law.

7 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

8 Notwithstanding the language of Nev.Rev.Stat. § 18.020, the district court still retains
9 discretion in determining the reasonableness of the amounts and the items of costs to be awarded.
10 Decisional law holds that discretion should be sparingly exercised. Further, the trial court should 11 exercise restraint as statutes permitting recovery of costs, being in derogation of the common law,
12 must be strictly construed.

13 The prevailing party must also show how the costs were necessary to and incurred in the
14 action and provide sufficient justifying documentation and specific itemization to demonstrate the
15 reasonableness and the accuracy of the costs claimed. The filing a memorandum is not sufficient
16 verification of the incurred costs.

17 Plaintiff's costs memorandum provided a generic breakdown of claimed costs, and did not
18 contain the required itemization or documentation for each individual item. The court is unable to
19 determine what method of calculation, if any, was used by the Plaintiff to confirm that these costs
20 were actually incurred for this matter, necessary, and reasonable. The itemized materials are 21 necessary to make such a determination and any award of costs without this information is improper.

22 The Plaintiff must itemize and provide supporting documentation for each cost he seeks to
23 recover. No such showing has been made, and Plaintiff's costs in the sum of $149, 146.18 must be
24 disallowed.

25 Nevada Revised Statute, section 18.005 specifically provides what costs are recoverable.
26 Litigation cost and attorney fee statutes are exceptions to the common law American Rule that every
27 litigant pays his or her own fees. Restraint therefore must be exercised when awarding costs that are
28 not allowed by statute or case law. Even if Plaintiff properly itemizes and documents various costs,

1 these costs are still not recoverable under any statute or judicial opinion. Such costs include costs
2 categories within Plaintiff's Memorandum of Costs including: e-filing retainer; trial transcript costs;
3 and, Telecopies, Photocopies, Long Distance Telephone Calls, and Postage. As for witness fees,
4 plaintiff has failed to substantiate the amounts sought in recovery as costs, and seeks amounts far in
5 excess of that allowed by statute. Further, the Court determines that Plaintiff's Memorandum of
6 Costs fails to allocate costs between the various defendants.

7 According'y, Plaintiff's costs in the sum of $149, 146.18 must be disallowed.

20 Defendant's Motion for New Trial before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, and the 21 Court having considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the matter

23
24 In seeking a new trial, Defendant offered the following four (4) arguments:

- 25 1. Plaintiff's counsel engaged in misconduct;
- 26 2. The Court erred in allowing testimony of certain providers;
- 27 3. The evidence was insufficient to justify the verdict; and

4. The Court erred in striking defense experts.

This Court makes the following Findings of Fact with respect to the following Conclusions of Law and Order as set forth herein.

1. Plaintiff's Counsel Did Not Engage In Misconduct

Defense counsel, during Opening Argument, the evidentiary phase of the trial, and Closing Argument, accused Plaintiff's counsel of engaging in a systematic "medical build-up," and manipulation of the medical records.

Post-trial, Defense counsel, in moving for a mistrial, then accused Plaintiff's counsel and this Court of engaging in a systematic ex parte conspiracy, rendering the trial unfair and impartial. At no time did this Court engage in unpermitted contact with the Plaintiff, nor did this Court rely on the contents and/or points and authorities contained in any "blind" briefing in support of its findings, conclusions, and/or verdict herein.

Post-judgment, Defense counsel, in moving for a new trial, argued that Plaintiff's counsel engaged in blatant premeditated and reprehensible misconduct.

Defendant argued that Plaintiff's counsel's alleged misconduct constituted an irregularity in the proceedings. Defense counsel argued that it was well settled under Nevada law that attorney misconduct constitutes an irregularity in the proceedings; however, they cited no Nevada law, or any authority, for that matter, in support of this position.

Defense counsel pointed to two (2) examples (arguments) of misconduct:

1. Plaintiff's counsel withheld evidence in regards to Plaintiff's tax returns; and
2. Plaintiff's counsel withheld evidence relied upon by Dr. Schifini.

This Court finds that Plaintiff's counsel did not withhold evidence in regarding Plaintiff's tax returns.

Mr. Dinneen was asked to look at the vocational issues, the types of work that Plaintiff was able to do prior to his accident, to look at what vocational options he may have in the future and then calculate that loss. He was also asked to look at the costs of future medical care and calculate those values, as well.

Mr. Dinneen met with the Plaintiff, reviewed his medical records, three (3) years of tax returns, and social security materials in forming an opinion that Plaintiff was disabled.

Mr. Dinneen testified that Plaintiff was qualified by the Federal Government as being disabled.

Mr. Dinneen testified to a reasonable degree of economic and professional probability that Plaintiff's income was reported.

Defense counsel was critical of the fact that Mr. Dinneen, during his testimony at trial, and in response to defense counsel's inquiry as to whether Mr. Dinneen knew if any of Plaintiff's income was reported, indicated that he had received a letter from Plaintiff's tax preparer advising that the subject returns had, in fact been filed.

Mr. Dinneen's trial testimony occurred on November 2, 2010. The letter was dated October 20, 2010. Defense counsel did not mark the letter as an exhibit or move to admit the letter.

The subject letter was not the subject of direct examination, and the information relative to the same was brought out through cross-examination in response to counsel's inquiry as to whether Mr. Dinneen knew if any of Plaintiff's income was in fact reported. Mr. Dinneen was provided the letter from the tax preparer subsequent to his deposition, but merely days before his testimony. Defense counsel never moved to admit the document, but did question Mr. Dinneen as to the authenticity of the letter.

Equally, this Court finds that Plaintiff's Counsel did not withhold evidence relied upon by Dr. Schifini.

Defense counsel argued that Plaintiff's counsel withheld 100+ documents that Dr. Schifini relied upon in providing expert opinions at trial.

First, defense counsel decided not to depose Dr. Schifini.

Secondly, Dr. Schifini reviewed all the medical records in the case.

Third, defense counsel's only objections relative to Dr. Schifini's testimony were foundation and hearsay. Defense counsel did not object to the records relied upon, or the introduction of the documents other than on a foundation and hearsay basis, which related to Dr. Schifini's ability to provide expert testimony, and not his reliance on the documents.

Fourth, the records that counsel referred to were introduced and admitted into evidence, with the only objections being foundation and hearsay. Each any every one of these documents had been previously disclosed to the Defendant and were no more than the records of other treating physicians contained in Dr. Schifini's file.

2. The Court Did Not Err In Allowing The Testimony Of Certain Providers

Defense counsel was also critical of the fact that this Court qualified and admitted certain treating providers during trial. Defense counsel's position was that none of the providers were designated as expert witnesses nor provided expert reports. Defense counsel's argument was that they never had notice of the testifying providers' opinions until trial and that they were prejudiced as a result.

This Court finds that defense decided not to depose a single treating physician in a case where the Plaintiff was alleging a constellation of profound injuries.

Defense counsel was fully aware of the nature and substance of the claimed injuries and had also been given the medical records generated by all of Plaintiff's physicians. Defense counsel was free to depose the treating physicians. They chose not to do so.

3. The Court Finds Evidence Was Substantial To Justify The Verdict

This Court heard the extensive testimony of Plaintiff's treating physicians, including, but not limited to Dr. Schifini, Dr. Mortillaro, Dr. Kidwell, Dr. Shah, Dr. Shannon, and Dr. Tauber on the issues of injury to the Plaintiff and the reasonableness, necessity and causation of past and future medical expenses to include, but not limited to, surgeries to Plaintiff's injured knee, carpal tunnel release, future knee replacement, a spinal cord stimulator and replacement of batteries with respect to the same, future lumbar fusion, cervical modalities, and other and further past and future medical services and expenses as elucidated at trial, and heard testimony regarding past medical expenses of $376,773.38 and future medical expenses in the amount of $1,854,738.00.

The Court also heard testimony of said treating physicians, the Plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez, and "before and after" lay witnesses who testified at the time of trial that Plaintiff Rodriguez suffered extensive, painful, disabling, and permanent injuries as a result of the subject incident which have detrimentally impacted his daily living and functioning and, consistent with that finding, awarded as past pain and suffering the amount of $1,243,350.00 and future pain and suffering in the amount of $1,865,025.00.

The Court heard the testimony of Plaintiff's vocational and economic loss expert, Terrence Dinncn, on the issue of Plaintiff's loss of economic opportunity, vocational

1 disability, and loss of past and future earnings, and heard evidence concerning the significant
2 detrimental impact of Plaintiff's injuries upon his ability to transact in the field of real-estate
3 purchases, refurbishment, was presented with evidence and testimony that sufficient
4 opportunity existed and exists in the repressed real estate market for Plaintiff to continue to
5 profitably purchase, refurbish and sell real-estate absent said physical limitations, was
6 presented with the calculations of Mr. Dinneen with respect to the same and, in this Court's
7 discretion, awarded past lost income in the amount of $289,111.00 and future lost income in
8 the amount of $422,593.00.

10 As to the allocation of liability, the Court found liability against Defendant Fiesta Palms,
11 LLC, and found that Defendant Beavers also failed to act in the manner of the average
12 reasonable person under similar circumstances in a manner creating a foreseeable harm to
13 patrons of the Palms by throwing promotional items into a crowded environment and in other
14 and further manners as elucidated at the time of trial. In reaching its verdict, the Court heard
15 and relied upon the testimony of Brandy Beavers with respect to the conduct of both herself
16 and the Palms, and the testimony of Palms' employees regarding the fact the Palms know that
17 promotional items were being thrown into crowds prior to the subject event, had a meeting
18 and set up policies to prohibit said conduct, and then knowingly violated said policies. The
19 Court, in its discretion, therefore apportioned liability at 60% to the Palms and 40% to
20 Beavers, with no finding of comparative fault on the part of the Plaintiff.

23 4. The Court Did Not Err In Striking Defense Experts

24 Defendant presented two (2) non-medical experts in this trial, Dr. Thomas Cargill
25 (Economist) and Forrest Franklin (Liability), neither of whom opined that their opinions were
26 given to a reasonable degree of professional probability as required under Nevada law.

Forrest Franklin, Defendant's liability expert, was retained to develop and render an opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to throwing objects, memorabilia, and promotional articles into crowds.

Mr. Franklin offered the following opinions:

1. Throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort into crowds is not a substandard protocol;
2. It is not unsafe to throw things into crowds; and
3. It is not below the standard of care to throw items into a crowd.

None of these opinions, however, were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

Dr. Cargill offered the following two (2) opinions at trial:

1. Plaintiff could not have made as much in the current financial market as he could have back in 2004 because the bubble burst in the housing market; and
2. Mr. Dineen's discount rates were inappropriate.

Neither of these opinions was given to a reasonable degree of professional/scientific probability.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. Plaintiff's Counsel Did Not Engage In Misconduct

This Court concludes as follows:

As supported by substantial evidence, Plaintiff's counsel did not engage in misconduct.

Specifically, Plaintiff's counsel did not withhold evidence in regarding Plaintiff's tax returns. The information relied upon by Mr. Dinneen was of the type contemplated and permitted by NRS 50.275.

Equally, this Court concludes that Plaintiff's Counsel did not withhold evidence relied upon by Dr. Schifini.

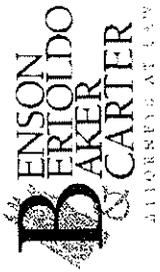

Nevada law makes it clear that a new trial is not warranted on grounds of surprise based on testimony which, with reasonable diligence, could have been anticipated.

Furthermore, the "surprise" contemplated by Rule 59 (a) must result from some fact, circumstance, or situation in which a party is placed unexpectedly, to his injury, without any default or negligence of his own, and which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against.

Defense counsel did not exercise reasonable diligence and cannot argue surprise since they chose not to depose a single treating provider. As a result of this failure, defendant did not discover the entirety of the materials contained in Dr. Schifini's file.

The records about which Defendant complains were introduced and admitted into evidence, with the only objections being foundation and hearsay. Each and every one of these documents had been previously disclosed to the Defendant and were no more than the records of other treating physicians contained in Dr. Schifini's file. Accordingly, no documents were withheld by the Plaintiff, Defendants were timely provided with all documents serving as the basis of Dr. Schifini's opinion, and no prejudice resulted.

As such, the Court concludes that there was no misconduct on the part of Plaintiff's Counsel.

2. The Court Did Not Err in Allowing The Testimony of Certain Providers

This Court concludes as follows:

Defense counsel cannot argue surprise with respect to the testimony of Plaintiff's treating physicians since they chose not to depose a single treating provider and did not exercise reasonable diligence.

The scope of a witness' testimony and whether that witness will be permitted to testify as an expert are within the discretion of trial court. Prabhu v. Levine, 1996, 930 P.2d 103, 112 Nev. 1538, rehearing denied.

Once the district court certifies an expert as qualified, the expert may testify to all matters within the expert's experience or training, and the expert is generally given reasonably wide latitude in the opinions and conclusions he or she can state. Fernandez v. Admirand, 108 Nev. 963, 969, 843 P.2d 354, 358 (1992); Brown v. Capanna, 105 Nev. 665, 671, 782 P.2d 1299, 1303 (1989) (a proposed medical expert should not be scrutinized by an excessively strict test of qualifications); Freeman v. Davidson, 105 Nev. 13, 15, 768 P.2d 885, 886 (1989) (“[a]n expert witness need not be licensed to testify as an expert, as long as he or she possesses special knowledge, training and education, or in this case, knowledge of the standard of care”); Wright v. Las Vegas Hacienda, 102 Nev. 261, 263, 720 P.2d 696, 697 (1986) (“[a] witness need not be licensed to practice in a given field ... to be qualified to testify as an expert”).

Under Nevada law, treating physicians are not considered retained experts. They should be allowed to testify as to treatment, diagnosis (including causation), and prognosis based upon their treatment of the patient and their medical training. Id.

Plaintiff's treating providers were not subject to the strict disclosure or reporting requirements under Nevada law. Id.

Even if this Court were to determine that Plaintiff's counsel failed to comply with the disclosure requirements, which it does not, the decision whether to permit expert witness to testify where there has been failure to comply with disclosure requirements is committed to the trial court's discretion. NRCP 26(b)(4). Murphy v. Federal Deposit Ins. Corp., 1990, 787 P.2d 370, 106 Nev. 26.

Defense counsel was fully aware of the nature and substance of the claimed injuries and had also been given the medical records generated by all of Plaintiff's physicians. Defense counsel was free to depose the treating physicians. They chose not to do so.

Plaintiff's treating providers were permitted to rely on the opinions of non-testifying experts as a foundation for their opinions given at trial.

As such, the Court concludes that there was no error in allowing the testimony of certain providers.

3. The Evidence In The Case Was Substantial And Sufficient To Justify The Verdict.

The Court concludes that the testimony of Plaintiff's treating physicians, including, but not limited to Dr. Schifini, Dr. Mortillaro, Dr. Kidwell, Dr. Shah, Dr. Shannon, and Dr. Tauber to be persuasive and to provide substantial evidence on the issues of Plaintiff's injury and the reasonableness, necessity and causation of past and future medical expenses to include, but not limited to, surgeries to Plaintiff's injured knee, carpal tunnel release, future knee replacement, a spinal cord stimulator and replacement of batteries with respect to the same, future lumbar fusion, cervical modalities, and other and further past and future medical services and expenses as elucidated at trial and, accordingly, and in this Court's discretion, awards as past medical expenses the amount of $376,773.38 and future medical expenses in the amount of $1,854,738.00.

Based upon the testimony of said treating physicians, the Plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez, and “before and after” lay witnesses who testified at the time of trial, the Court concludes that Plaintiff Rodriguez suffered extensive, painful, disabling, and permanent injuries as a result of the subject incident which have detrimentally impacted his daily living and functioning and, consistent with that conclusion, and in this Courts discretion, awards as past pain and suffering the amount of $1,243,350.00 and future pain and suffering in the amount of $1,865,025.00.

The Court concludes the testimony of Plaintiff’s vocational and economic expert, Terrence Dineen, was substantial and persuasive on the issue of Plaintiff’s loss of economic opportunity, vocational disability, and loss of past and future earnings, and concludes the Plaintiff suffered significant detrimental impact to his ability to transact in the field of real-estate purchases, refurbishment, and sales due to his physical limitations resultant of the subject injury, concludes that sufficient opportunity existed and exists in the repressed real estate market for Plaintiff to continue to profitably purchase, refurbish and sell real-estate absent said physical limitations, and is persuaded by and accepts the calculations of Mr. Dineen with respect to the same and, in this Court’s discretion, awarded past lost income in the amount of $289,111.00 and future lost income in the amount of $422,593.00.

As to the allocation of liability, the Court concludes that liability lies against Defendant Fiesta Palms, L.L.C, and concludes that Defendant Beavers also failed to act in the manner of the average reasonable person under similar circumstances in a manner creating a foreseeable harm to patrons of the Palms by throwing promotional items into a crowded environment and in other and further manners as elucidated at the time of trial. The Court's conclusion with respect to liability is made and based upon the testimony of Brandy Beavers with respect to the conduct of both herself and the Palms, and the testimony of Palms' employees to the fact the Palms knew that promotional items were being thrown into crowds prior to the subject event, had a meeting and set up policies to prohibit said conduct, and then knowingly violated said policies. The Court, in its discretion, therefore apportions liability at 60% to the Palms and 40% to Beavers, with no finding of comparative fault on the part of the Plaintiff.

As such, the Court concludes that the evidence in the case was substantial and sufficient to justify the verdict.

4. The Court Did Not Err In Striking Defense Experts

To testify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, a witness must satisfy the following three requirements: (1) he or she must be qualified in an area of "scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge" (the qualification requirement); (2) his or her specialized knowledge must "assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue" (the assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be limited "to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized] knowledge" (the limited scope requirement).

Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin's testimony failed to satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275, in that neither expert provided opinions to a reasonable degree of professional/scientific probability.

Accordingly, their opinions did not rise to the level of "scientific knowledge" within the meaning of NRS 50.275.

The opinions of Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin offered insufficient foundation for this court to take judicial notice of the scientific basis of those conclusions.

While counsel for the Defendant may have properly qualified said individuals as experts, the opinions rendered by the respective experts were speculative, as the court was not advised and the record does not reflect whether such opinions were made on the basis of “possibility” or some other standard lower than “a reasonable degree of professional probability.”

Accordingly, the testimony of Cargil and Franklin did not satisfy the “assistance” requirement of NRS 50.275.

Regardless, this Court determined both liability and damages independent of striking the testimony of Defendant’s two expert witnesses aforesaid, and determined the same upon the basis and weight of Plaintiff’s economics and vocational expert, Mr. Dincen, Plaintiff’s testimony, and the testimony of Defendant’s employees called in Plaintiff’s case-in-chief.

As such, this Court concludes that there was no error in striking Defense experts.

I.

INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff is seeking an Order of Reconsideration of this Court’s granting of Defendant’s Motion to Tax.

The basis of this Court’s decision to grant Defendant’s Motion was that Plaintiff did not attach any invoices to his Memorandum of Costs or Opposition to the Motion to Retax.

Rather, Plaintiff, in total compliance with relevant statutes and Nevada law, provided a Memorandum of Costs, setting forth an itemization of said costs, and supported the same with an Affidavit, attesting that the costs set forth therein were correct and necessarily incurred.<sup>1</sup>

Plaintiff submits, and Nevada law supports, that the Affidavit submitted in support of the Memorandum of Costs was sufficient. Canepa v. Durham, 1945, 155 P.2d 788, 62 Nev. 417.

II.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

Defendant moved this Court for an Order to Tax on the “grounds that Plaintiff failed to document, itemize, and justify its costs.”<sup>2</sup>

Plaintiff, in turn, argued compliance with the relevant statutes and Nevada law in setting forth an itemization of costs which were both actual and reasonable. In support of the Memorandum, Plaintiff’s counsel submitted an Affidavit attesting that the costs were correct and necessarily incurred.

On July 5, 2011, at the time of Defendant’s Motion to Tax, Defense counsel argued that although he was not contesting the veracity of Plaintiff’s counsel’s affidavit, no invoices or documentation were provided to allow a determination as to whether the costs were reasonable or necessary.

This Honorable Court granted said motion on the grounds that no invoices were provided in support of the Memorandum of Costs.

Plaintiff submits that Invoices were/are not required, and that the Affidavit of Plaintiff's counsel was, in fact, sufficient.

In an effort to further support the reasonableness of the costs, however, Plaintiff hereby submits invoices for each of the asserted costs.<sup>3</sup>

Lastly, and as argued at the time of the hearing of this matter, this was a 2 ½ week bench trial involving a case of disputed liability and causation. Certainly, there can be no argument, and there was no argument, that the costs asserted were unreasonable.

III.

LEGAL ARGUMENT

NRS 18.020(3) states that costs must be allowed to the prevailing party against any adverse party against whom judgment is rendered in "an action for the recovery of money or damages, where the plaintiff seeks to recover more than $2,500."

Under NRS 18.110(1), a prevailing party must submit:

a memorandum of the items of his costs in the action or proceeding, which memorandum must be verified by the oath of the party, or his attorney or agent, or by the clerk of his attorney, stating that to the best of his knowledge and belief the items are correct, and that the costs have been necessarily incurred in the action or proceeding.

The subject statute does not specify that invoices or receipts are required; rather, the statute simply calls for an affidavit of the party or his counsel, which is what was accomplished in this case.

It is conceded that costs must “be interpreted to mean actual costs that are also reasonable, rather than a reasonable estimate or calculation of such costs based upon administrative convenience.” Gibellini v. Klindt, 110 Nev. 1201, 1206, 885 P.2d 540, 543 (1994). Plaintiff’s Memorandum, as argued in his Opposition, set forth actual, rather than estimated costs.

In support of its Motion, Defendant cited three (3) cases, each of which are factually and legally distinguishable. Importantly, none of the cases cited stand for the proposition that invoices must be provided; rather, the cases simply stand for the proposition that costs must be shown to have been actual and necessarily incurred. This is exactly what Plaintiff’s Memorandum and supporting Affidavit of Counsel accomplished.

In Gibellini v. Klindt, supra, the court addressed a situation where the district court awarded costs for photocopying, telephoning, and postage expenses. In that case, the prevailing party based its estimate of costs on the law firm’s customary practice of charging four percent of the client’s total billable charges for such expenses. The court determined that the district court abused its discretion because there was no indication that the costs involved were actually incurred by the prevailing party.

In this case, as pointed out in Plaintiff’s Opposition to Motion to Retax and supported by the undersigned counsel’s affidavit in support of Plaintiff’s Memorandum, rather than a reasonable estimate or calculation, Plaintiff’s costs were actual and necessarily incurred.

This Court certainly has the ability and discretion to determine the reasonableness of the asserted costs.

In Bobby Berosini, Ltd. v. PETA, 114 Nev. 1348, 1352, 971 P.2d 383, 386 (1998), the Nevada Supreme Court determined that the district court abused its discretion because it granted an award of costs based upon the prevailing party's submission of itemized materials that did not show how the costs "were necessary to and incurred in the present action."

Again, in this case, the undersigned attested to the actual and necessary nature of the costs.

Lastly, in Vill. Builders 96 v. U.S. Labs., 121 Nev. 261, 277-78 (2005), U.S. Labs did not file a verification of counsel in support of its Memorandum and did not attach an Affidavit.

In this case, the undersigned submitted an affidavit in support of the Memorandum. Importantly, Nevada law establishes that the Affidavit was sufficient. Canepa v. Durham, 1945, 155 P.2d 788, 62 Nev. 417.

In Canepa, the Supreme Court held that an Affidavit attached to a memorandum of costs stating that items therein are correct to best of deponent's knowledge and belief, and that said disbursements had been necessarily incurred and paid, was sufficient.

This is exactly what occurred in this case. Further, The Nevada Supreme Court, citing Village Builders, supra and Berosini, recently held that in a situation where a party provides a memorandum detailing costs and the court failed to conduct any analysis of the adequacy of the memorandum, and instead denies costs, it was an abuse of discretion. Southern Nevada Chinese Weekly v. Chinese American Chamber of Commerce of Nevada, --- P.3d ----, 2010 WL 4807566 (Nev. Nov 19, 2010) (Table, text in WESTLAW, NO. 54554).

IV.

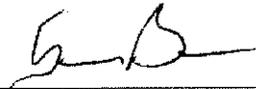

CONCLUSION

Plaintiff submits that the Memorandum of Costs, supporting Affidavit, arguments set forth in the Opposition to Defendant's Motion to Retax, and most importantly, this Court's understanding and appreciation of the complexities of the 2 ½ week bench trial provided ample and sufficient support of the actual, reasonable and necessary nature of the costs asserted.

Plaintiff respectfully submits that an Order for Reconsideration of this Court's granting of Defendant's Motion to Retax is warranted.

29 MOTION TO TAX COSTS

30 Defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC d/b/a THE PALMS CASINO RESORT ("The Palms"),
31 by and through its attorney of record Kenneth C. Ward K, Esq., Keith R. Gillette, and ARCHER
32 NORRIS, moves to tax Plaintiff's Memorandum of Costs and Disbursements Pursuant to NRS
33 18.020. This motion is made by virtue of NRS 18.005 and on the grounds that Plaintiff failed to 34 itemize and document his claimed costs and, as a result, failed to demonstrate such costs are

ZA126/1108737-1

A531538

1 reasonable and necessary. In addition, Plaintiff attempts to recover costs that are not recoverable
2 under any statute or judicial and should therefore be disallowed.

3 This motion is further based upon the papers and pleading on file herein, the below Points
4 and Authorities, and oral argument.

5 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

6 I.

7 Introduction

8 Defendant Fiesta Palms, LLC objects to Plaintiff's memorandum of costs on the grounds
9 that Plaintiff failed to document, itemize, and justify its costs. It is impossible to determine if these
10 expenses were reasonable and necessary without this information. In addition, Plaintiff also seeks
11 recovery of costs that either exceed certain statutory limits or are not recoverable under Nevada law.
12 Plaintiff's haphazard compilation of its costs without any support or justification is insufficient to 13 award costs in the sum $149,146.18.

14 II.

15 Background

16 This is a personal injury action for damages stemming from accident that occurred at a
17 Monday night football game promotion event at The Palms Race and Sports Book.

18 On March 9, 2011, the court returned a verdict against The Palms and Brandy Beavers.

19 Plaintiff filed and served its Memorandum of Costs on March 15, 2011. The memorandum is 20 simply a diagram that contains virtually no detail. Plaintiff did not provide any supporting or 21 itemized documentation or even attempt to demonstrate that these costs are reasonable and
22 necessary. Based on the insufficient documentation, it is impossible to determine whether these
23 costs are reasonable or necessary and, as a result, Plaintiff is not entitled to an award of its costs.

24 III.

25 Legal Argument

26 A. Legal Standard

27 While Nev.Rev.Stat. § 18.020 sets forth certain costs that are recoverable to a prevailing party
28 as a matter of right, the district court still retains discretion in determining the reasonableness of the

1 amounts and the items of costs to be awarded. (Schwartz v. Estate of Greenspan, 110 Nev. 1042, 1050
2 (1994).) This “discretion should be sparingly exercised when considering whether or not to allow
3 expenses not specifically allowed by statute and precedent.” (Bergmann v. Boyce, 109 Nev. 670, 679
4 (1993).) And the trial court should exercise restraint because “statutes permitting recovery of costs,
5 being in derogation of the common law, must be strictly construed.” (Ibid.)

6 B. The Plaintiff Is Not Entitled To An Award Of Costs Because He Failed To
7 Demonstrate—Through Itemization Or Documentation—That His Costs Are
8 Necessary And Reasonable

9 The prevailing party must also show how the costs were necessary to and incurred in the 10 action and provide sufficient justifying documentation and specific itemization to demonstrate the
11 reasonableness and the accuracy of the costs claimed. (Waddell v. L.V.R.V., Inc., 122 Nev. 15 (2006);
12 Bobby Berosini, Ltd. v. People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals, 114 Nev. 1348 (1998).) Simply filing a
13 memorandum is not sufficient verification of the incurred costs. (See Vill. Builders 96 v. U.S. Labs.,
14 121 Nev. 261, 277-78 (2005)(requiring justifying documentation for each individual item of costs and
15 substantiating the reason for such costs rather than merely providing documentation to support that
16 amount of the total costs is reasonable.)

17 Here, Plaintiff merely provided a generic breakdown of his costs. The memorandum did not
18 contain the required itemization or documentation for each individual item. It is unclear what
19 method of calculation, if any, was used by the Plaintiff to confirm that these costs were actually
20 incurred for this matter, necessary, and reasonable. The itemized materials are necessary to make
21 such a determination and any award of costs without this information is improper. (Bobby Berosini,
22 Ltd. v. People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals, 114 Nev. 1348 (1998).)

23 The Plaintiff must itemize and provide supporting documentation for each cost he seeks to 24 recover. No such showing has been made. Therefore, Plaintiff’s cost in the sum of $149, 146.18
25 must be disallowed.

26 ///

27 ///

28 ///

1           C.     The Plaintiff Seeks Costs That Are Not Recoverable Under Nevada Law And,
2                 As A Result, These Costs Items Must Be Disallowed Even If Plaintiff Can
3                 Document And Itemize These Impermissible Costs.

3           Nevada Revised Statute, section 18.005 specifically provides what costs are recoverable.
4     Litigation cost and attorney fee statutes are exceptions to the common law American Rule that every
5     litigant pays his or her own fees. (Dobron v. Bunch, 215 P.3d 35, 41, 2009 Nev.LEXIS 58 (2009).)
6     Restraint therefore must be exercised when awarding costs that are not allowed by statute or case
7     law. (Bergmann v. Boyce, 109 Nev. 670, 679 (1993).) Even if Plaintiff properly itemizes and
8     documents the following costs, these costs are still not recoverable under any statute or judicial
9     opinion.

10           1.     E-Filing Retainer

11           Plaintiff seeks to recover $27.50 for an “E-Filing Retainer.” This item is not expressly
12     recoverable under Nev.Rev.Stat. § 18.005. The Plaintiff attempts to shoehorn this item into “Clerks’
13     Fees.” To accomplish this result, Plaintiff attempts to impermissibly expand—without any
14     support— “Clerks’ Fees” under section 18.005 to include e-filing fees or retainers. Such expansion is
15     not permissible because cost statutes are strictly construed. Therefore, $27.50 should be disallowed.

16           2.     Fees for Witnesses

17           The Plaintiff lumps together under “fees for witness at trial, pretrial hearings and deposing
18     witnesses” approximately fourteen witnesses. It appears that most of these witnesses, if not all, are
19     experts based on the Plaintiff’s use of post nominal abbreviations. The Plaintiff conveniently ignored
20     the cap set forth in Nevada Revised Statute § 18.005(5). Under this section, a party’s expert witness
21     fees are limited to reasonable fees for “not more than five expert witnesses in an amount of not more
22     than $1,500 for each witness, unless the court allows a larger fee after determining that the
23     circumstances surrounding the expert’s testimony were of such necessity as to require the larger fee.”
24     (Nev.Rev.Stat. § 18.005(5).)

25           While the Plaintiff seeks expert witness fees in the sum of $114,201.36, his recovery is
26     capped at $7,500. Almost all of the witnesses listed in the memorandum are at a sum well above the 27     statutory cap of $1,500. In fact, 12 out of the 14 witnesses are listed at sums well above that amount.

1 One witness—Terry Dinneen—is billed for twice in the memorandum at $12,931 and $12,172.

2 Finally, the Plaintiff has not made any showing that there are any circumstances that forced
3 the Plaintiff to spend an additional $106,701.36 in expert witness fees. Therefore, Plaintiff is
4 statutorily limited to a recovery of $7,500 in expert witness fees, provided he can demonstrate
5 these fees were reasonable and necessary for the proceedings.

6 3. Trial Transcript Costs

7 Plaintiff seeks to recover $12,397.50 for a “Trial Transcript Cost.” This item is not expressly
8 recoverable under Nev.Rev.Stat. § 18.005. This attempt to characterize transcript costs as
9 “compensation for the official reporter or reporter pro tempore” impermissibly expands section
10 18.005. Such an interpretation is contrary to established Nevada law, which provides cost recovery
11 statutes must be strictly construed. Therefore, $12,397.50 should be disallowed.

12 4. Telecopies, Photocopies, Long Distance Telephone Calls, and Postage

13 Plaintiff seeks to recover costs for photocopies, telecopies, long distance phone charges, and
14 postage. While these items are listed in Nev.Rev.Stat. § 18.005(12), normal out-of-pocket and routine
15 overhead expenses are not recoverable as taxable costs. As noted above, Plaintiff did not provide
16 any documentation or itemization of its costs. These costs were likely incurred as normal out-of-
17 pocket expenses. The minimal description provided by Plaintiff further demonstrates that these
18 costs are normal office expenses. For instance, Plaintiff acknowledges that $2,765.50 of the 19 photocopy expenses are “Firm in-house” costs. Such in-house or routine overhead expenses are not
20 recoverable.

21 D. Plaintiff Is Not Entitled To The Costs Under Nevada Revised Statute, Section
22 18.005(17) Because These Costs Are Not Reasonable Or Necessary.

23 Plaintiff seeks another $5,011 in costs under Nev.Rev.Stat. 18.005(17). The court must
24 construe NRS 18.005(17) narrowly and Plaintiff must justify that the expenses incurred under this
25 section were reasonable and necessary. (See Bergmann v. Boyce, 109 Nev. 670, 679 (1993).) The only
26 costs Plaintiff seeks to recover under this section are costs to locate Brandy Beavers, courier service,
27 and case value research. Therefore, Plaintiff is not claiming that any other costs are recoverable
28

1 under this section.

2 As demonstrated above, Plaintiff did not attach any documentation or provide a detailed
3 itemization of the costs for the courier service, service of process, and case value research fees.
4 Without this information, this Court cannot determine whether such expenses are reasonable and
5 necessary to the proceedings. To recover fees under section 18.005(17), the Plaintiff must
6 affirmatively show such costs were reasonable and necessary. Such a showing has not been made
7 and, as a result, these costs should not be allowed.

8 E. Before Any Costs Are Awarded, The Court Must First Attempt To Apportion
9 The Costs.

10 Before any award of costs is made, the district court must therefore attempt to apportion the 11 costs or determine apportionment is impracticable. (Mayfield v. Koroghli, 184 P.3d 362; 2008 Nev.Lexis
12 36 (2008).) Plaintiff has not made any showing that apportionment is impossible. The Palms is not
13 responsible for any costs associated with locating co-defendant Brandy Beavers. These costs or any
14 other costs related to the pursuit of claims against Beavers by Plaintiff are not recoverable against
15 The Palms. Plaintiff has failed to demonstrate that such costs to pursue Beavers are necessary to the
16 claims against The Palms. Therefore, this item along with other claimed costs must be apportioned
17 between The Palms and Beavers.

18 IV.

19 Conclusion

20 Plaintiff failed to show that the claimed costs are reasonable or necessary. Any costs that the 21 Plaintiff may be entitled to must first be apportioned before any award can be entered in this matter.
22 Even if Plaintiff can document and itemize these costs, many of the items are either statutorily
23 capped or impermissible under Nevada law. Therefore, Plaintiff's costs must be disallowed or 24 reduced to the statutorily permissible amounts upon a showing that these costs are actual, reasonable,
25 and necessary.

PrivateTrials.com

Business name, if different from above

Check appropriate box:  Individual/sole proprietor  Corporation  Partnership
 Limited liability company. Enter the tax classification (D=disregarded entity, C=corporation, P=partnership) ▶ .....  Exempt payee
 Other (see instructions) ▶

Address (number, street, and apt. or suite no.)
701 Bridger Avenue, Suite 570

City, state, and ZIP code
Las Vegas, Nevada 89101

List account number(s) here (optional)

Requester's name and address (optional)

Part I Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)

Enter your TIN in the appropriate box. The TIN provided must match the name given on Line 1 to avoid backup withholding. For individuals, this is your social security number (SSN). However, for a resident alien, sole proprietor, or disregarded entity, see the Part I instructions on page 3. For other entities, it is your employer identification number (EIN). If you do not have a number, see How to get a TIN on page 3.

Note. If the account is in more than one name, see the chart on page 4 for guidelines on whose number to enter.

Social security number
OR
Employer identification number
26 4096970

Part II Certification

Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

- The number shown on this form is my correct taxpayer identification number (or I am waiting for a number to be issued to me), and
- I am not subject to backup withholding because: (a) I am exempt from backup withholding, or (b) I have not been notified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that I am subject to backup withholding as a result of a failure to report all interest or dividends, or (c) the IRS has notified me that I am no longer subject to backup withholding, and
- I am a U.S. citizen or other U.S. person (defined below).

Certification Instructions. You must cross out item 2 above if you have been notified by the IRS that you are currently subject to backup withholding because you have failed to report all interest and dividends on your tax return. For real estate transactions, item 2 does not apply. For mortgage interest paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, contributions to an individual retirement arrangement (IRA), and generally, payments other than interest and dividends, you are not required to sign the Certification, but you must provide your correct TIN. See the instructions on page 4.

Sign Here Signature of U.S. person ▶ [Signature] Date ▶ 5/17/11

General Instructions

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Purpose of Form

A person who is required to file an information return with the IRS must obtain your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) to report, for example, income paid to you, real estate transactions, mortgage interest you paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, or contributions you made to an IRA.

Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to provide your correct TIN to the person requesting it (the requester) and, when applicable, to:

- Certify that the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued).
- Certify that you are not subject to backup withholding, or
- Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are a U.S. exempt payee. If applicable, you are also certifying that as a U.S. person your allocable share of any partnership income from a U.S. trade or business is not subject to the withholding tax on foreign partners' share of effectively connected income.

Note. If a requester gives you a form other than Form W-9 to request your TIN, you must use the requester's form if it is substantially similar to this Form W-9.

Definition of a U.S. person. For federal tax purposes, you are considered a U.S. person if you are:

- An individual who is a U.S. citizen or U.S. resident alien,
- A partnership, corporation, company, or association created or organized in the United States or under the laws of the United States,
- An estate (other than a foreign estate), or
- A domestic trust (as defined in Regulations section 301.7701-7).

Special rules for partnerships. Partnerships that conduct a trade or business in the United States are generally required to pay a withholding tax on any foreign partners' share of income from such business. Further, in certain cases where a Form W-9 has not been received, a partnership is required to presume that a partner is a foreign person, and pay the withholding tax. Therefore, if you are a U.S. person that is a partner in a partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States, provide Form W-9 to the partnership to establish your U.S. status and avoid withholding on your share of partnership income.

The person who gives Form W-9 to the partnership for purposes of establishing its U.S. status and avoiding withholding on its allocable share of net income from the partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States is in the following cases:

- The U.S. owner of a disregarded entity and not the entity.

I.
INTRODUCTION

The verdict in this case constitutes a serious miscarriage of justice. There were several irregularities that led to an unjust verdict against defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC, a Nevada Limited Liability Company, d/b/a THE PALMS CASINO RESORT (“the Palms”). First, the prevailing party, plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez (“Plaintiff”), and his counsel, engaged in misconduct that materially prejudiced the Palms by producing documents at trial for the first time, which prevented the Palms from being able to review the documents and prepare for the documents prior to trial. Second, the court committed error in permitting the Plaintiff to have four medical treaters testify on behalf of 25 treaters, and in subject areas in which they are not qualified. Third, the body of evidence the Palms produced at trial demonstrated that Plaintiff’s evidence was insufficient to justify the verdict. Finally, the Court was in error when it granted Plaintiff’s motion to strike the Palms’ experts’ opinions.

As will be unveiled in these moving papers, these facts, issues and circumstances all combined to deny the Palms a fair trial. These defects can only be remedied by the granting of new trial.

II.
FACTUAL BACKGROUND

This case involves claims that on November 22, 2004, plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez (“Plaintiff”) was in the sports bar at The Palms Casino for the purposes of watching a football game, and during the game’s half-time, an unknown patron dove for a souvenir, thrown into the bar area by a blindfolded “Palms girl,” and struck the Plaintiff’s left knee. Plaintiff further alleges that he then struck another patron while falling and injured the left side of his head. Over the last five years, Plaintiff has been under the care of numerous medical providers with a diverse range of specialties.

On October 25, 2010, the bench trial began in the matter of Enrique Rodriguez v. the Palms, No. A531538, in the Eastern District of Nevada, Clark County, and concluded with the parties’ closing arguments on November 10, 2010. (See Declaration of Kenneth C. Ward (“Ward
ZA126/1108905-1

1 Decl.”), filed in conjunction herewith, ¶ 2.) The Honorable Jessie Walsh returned the verdict in
2 favor of Plaintiff on March 7, 2011, with Notice of Entry of Judgment served on the Palms on
3 March 15, 2011. (Ex. A to the Ward Decl., ¶ 3.)

4 A. Plaintiff’s Economist Expert’s Testimony.

5 The Palms’ economist expert, Thomas Cargill, took the position that there was insufficient
6 information from which to calculate a wage loss. Plaintiff’s own economist, Terrance Dinneen,
7 testified that he met with the plaintiff in 2008 and asked for information with which to calculate
8 his wage loss. (Deposition of Terrance Dinneen (“Dinneen Depo.”), attached as Exhibit B to the
9 Ward Decl., 41:15-42:14, 30:2-20.) In response to Mr. Dinneen’s request, Plaintiff produced no
10 social security information, but did produce three tax returns during the six-year period of 1999 to
11 2004. (Dinneen Depo, 46:2-17, 56:17-20, 55:5-6, 73:23-74:10, Ex. B to Ward Decl.) Of those
12 six years, there were three years without any returns at all.

13 To calculate past and future lost earnings, Plaintiff’s economist took the total income and 14 averaged it over six years. (Dinneen Depo., 30:8-20, 75:22-76:15.) Approximately 70% of that
15 income came from one year, 2004. (Id. at 75:22-76:15.) Oddly enough, the tax returns from 16 2001 and 2004 were prepared and signed in 2009 after the economist had requested the
17 information, and once litigation was underway. (Dinneen Depo., 39:24-42:4, Ex. B to the Ward
18 Decl.) Mr. Dinneen stated that he did not know if they were filed or not filed, reporting that all
19 he had was the tax returns, signed on various dates, such as 2009 for a 2004 tax return. (Id. at 20 41:2-9.) Plaintiff testified from the witness stand that he gave his economist all of the back up
21 information to support his income claim, and that he prepared and signed the 2004 tax return in
22 2009 after the economist requested the information. (Ward Decl., ¶ 5.) However, at trial, Mr.
23 Dinneen produced a letter from a person who allegedly prepared the returns saying that the
24 returns had been filed; it was a one line letter from the tax preparer dated October 20, 2010.
25 (Ward Decl., ¶ 6; November 4, 2010 Trial testimony, 71:20-73:19, 81:12-22, attached as Exhibit
26 K to the Ward Decl.) Mr. Dinneen testified at trial that he never provided the document to the
27 Palms. (Id.) This document was never provided to the Palms, even though Mr. Dinneen had
28 purportedly provided his entire work file and that letter was not included. (Ward Decl., ¶ 6.)

ZA126/1108905-1

1 B. Plaintiff's Medical Treaters' Testimony.

2 Plaintiff did not have any disclosed medical experts and none of his treaters (52 of them)
3 prepared reports. In spite of this, the Court allowed treaters to testify about other treaters'
4 findings, and those same treaters were also permitted to testify as to what they thought other
5 treaters' opinions were or would be if they were aware of the patient's ongoing complaints.
6 Additionally, two anesthesiologists were allowed to testify about back surgeries and knee
7 replacements which had not been specified by the orthopedists.

8 There was a spine surgeon, Dr. Thalgott, who had at least six entries in his records that he
9 would not do surgery on this plaintiff's back. (Ward Decl., ¶ 9.) Further, he had not seen the
10 plaintiff in over three years. (Id.) In spite of that, the anesthesiologist, who also had not seen the
11 plaintiff for over three years, testified that the plaintiff needed a multi-level back fusion and that
12 he was quite certain that if Dr. Thalgott knew what had transpired with this plaintiff in the last
13 three years, that Dr. Thalgott would change his mind and agree that surgery was necessary.
14 (November 8, 2010 Trial Testimony, 91:21-95:20, 96:18-98:4, 98:17-101:22, Exhibit M to Ward
15 Decl.)

16 Plaintiff's disclosed life care planner, Kathleen Hartmann, provided a life care plan calling
17 for $294,000 for all of the medical relating to a spinal stimulator. (Dinneen & Hartman initial 18 expert report, Ex. L to the Ward Decl., ¶12.) Dr. Schifini, an anesthesiologist, was allowed to 19 testify that these numbers were all wrong and the number was actually $960,000. (Id.; Nov. 1,
20 2010 Trial Testimony, 53:13-56:19, 122:17-25, Ex. J to the Ward Decl. ) The life care planner's
21 numbers also did not include a figure for fusion and she included a range of $80,000 to $160,000
22 for knee replacements. (Id.) Again, Dr. Schifini, the anesthesiologist, was able to testify that his
23 back surgeries and knee replacements would be $686,000. (Id.)

24 C. Dr. Joseph Schifini's "New" Documents.

25 The Palms subpoenaed all records from Plaintiff's treater, Dr. Joseph Schifini. (Ward
26 Decl., ¶10.) The Palms only received approximately 21 pages from Dr. Schifini at that time.
27 (Id.) However, at trial, Dr. Schifini was permitted to testify regarding approximately 117 pages
28 of documents that the Palms were unaware of and the Palms were never been notified by Dr.

1 Schifini or Plaintiff's counsel that such documents existed. (Ward Decl., ¶ 11.) Plaintiff's failure
2 to disclose the documents put the Palms at a great disadvantage in its cross-examination of Dr.
3 Schifini, who provided critical testimony during the trial. (Ward Decl., ¶ 11.)

4 D. The Plaintiff Moved to Strike the Palms' Experts' Testimony, and the Court
5 Granted the Motion.

6 Plaintiff filed his Motion to Strike Trial Testimony on approximately November 16, 2010.
7 (See Ex. G to Ward Decl., ¶ 13.) Plaintiff's points and authorities essentially argued that the
8 Palms' experts, Forrest Franklin and Thomas Cargill "did not establish a sufficient foundation
9 since neither provided opinions to a reasonable degree of probability." (Id.) Plaintiff stipulated
10 on the record that Mr. Franklin and Dr. Cargill are both qualified. (Id. at ¶ 14.) The Court granted
11 the Motion to Strike on March 2, 2011. (Ex. H to the Ward Decl.).

13 LEGAL ANALYSIS

14 A. The Court May Grant A New Trial.

15 A new trial may be granted pursuant to N.R.C.P. 59(a) when an aggrieved party's
16 substantial rights have been materially affected by any of the [grounds stated in the rule]."
17 Edwards Indus. v. DTE/BTE, Inc., 112 Nev. 1025, 1035-37; N.R.C.P. 59. Pursuant to N.R.C.P.
18 Rule 59, a new trial may be granted to a party "for any of the following causes or grounds
19 materially affecting the substantial rights of an aggrieved party":

20 (1) Irregularity in the proceedings of the court, jury, master, or 21 adverse party, or any order of the court, or master, or abuse of 22 discretion by which either party was prevented from having a fair
23 trial;

24 (2) Misconduct of the jury or prevailing party;

25 (3) Accident or surprise which ordinary prudence could not have
26 guarded against;

27 (4) Newly discovered evidence material for the party making the 28 motion which the party could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered and produced at the trial;

...

(7) Error in law occurring at the trial and objected to by the party making the motion. On a motion for a new trial in an action tried without a jury, the court may open the judgment if one has been

ZA126/1108905-1

1 entered, take additional testimony, amend findings of fact and
2 conclusions of law or make new findings and conclusions, and direct the entry of a new judgment.

3 B. Plaintiff Counsel's Blatant and Premeditated Act of Putting Evidence On that It
4 Knew Defense Counsel Had No Knowledge of Constitutes Reprehensible Attorney
5 Misconduct and is Grounds for this Court to Grant a New Trial.

6 In this case, Plaintiff and Plaintiff's counsel engaged in misconduct by putting on
7 evidence they knew the Palms was unaware of, which resulted in the Palms being surprised and
8 unprepared for the evidence, such that a new trial is justified. N.R.C.P. Rule 59 provides that a
9 court may grant a new trial for an irregularity in the proceedings by adverse counsel. A new trial
10 based upon the prevailing party's misconduct does not require proof that the result would have
11 been different in the first trial without such misconduct. Barrett v. Baird, 111 Nev. 1496, 908
12 P.2d 689 (1995) (overruled on other grounds by Lioce v. Cohen, 124 Nev. 1, 174 P.3d 970
13 (2008).) "The 'surprise' contemplated by NRCP 59(a) must result from some fact, circumstance,
14 or situation in which a party is placed unexpectedly, to his injury, without any default or 15 negligence of his own, and which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against." Havas v.
Haupt, 94 Nev. 591, 593 (1978).

16 It is well settled under Nevada law that attorney misconduct or the prevailing party's
17 misconduct constitutes an irregularity in the proceedings that is grounds for a new trial. Although
18 there are many instances of misconduct by Plaintiff and Plaintiff's counsel, two particular acts
19 constitute misconduct that materially affected the Palms. First, Plaintiff withheld evidence
20 regarding Plaintiff's tax returns. Although he never reported to Mr. Ward again, when Plaintiff's
21 economist, Mr. Dinneen testified at trial, he had with him a letter from the person who allegedly
22 prepared the returns saying that the returns had been filed. Mr. Dinneen based the majority of his
23 wage loss claim opinions on Mr. Rodriguez's tax returns, which were admittedly prepared only
24 after Mr. Dinneen had requested them to form his opinion for this litigation.

25 From this scant information, Mr. Dinneen projected a wage loss of almost a million
26 dollars. Although Plaintiff claimed to have bought and sold hundreds of home as a real estate
27 investor, there was no evidence to support this claim. It may be that he has bought and sold a few
28 homes, but it is unlikely that he has been involved in this business to any great extent.

1 The Palms was also blindsided by one of Plaintiff's treating specialists, Dr. Schifini, who
2 presented at trial approximately 100+ documents in support of his opinions—none of which had
3 ever been provided to the Palms, and were not included in the 21+ documents Dr. Schifini
4 produced in response to his document subpoena. Dr. Schifini was introduced as one of plaintiff's
5 treating anesthesiologist/pain management specialists. Dr. Schifini testified that his first visit
6 with plaintiff was in November 2007. (Oct. 28, 2010, Trial Testimony, 7:14-16, attached as
7 Exhibit I.) He was well aware that he had over 120+ documents regarding Plaintiff's treatment,
8 yet he only produced 21+ documents to the Palms prior to trial. It was only at trial that he (and
9 arguably Plaintiff and Plaintiff's counsel) opted to "surprise" the Palms with 100+ documents that
10 it had never seen before. This made it incredibly difficult for Defendant to continue to properly
11 defend the case and cross-examine Dr. Schifini.

12 C. The Court's Order Permitting Plaintiff to Introduce Evidence of Testimony of 13 Unavailable Treators Prejudiced the Palms' Right to a Fair Trial and is Grounds for 14 Grant of a New Trial.

15 Pursuant to N.R.C.P. Rule 59(a)(1), a Court may grant a new trial if there are "irregularity
16 of the proceedings" or an "abuse of discretion" preventing a fair trial. In addition, Rule 59(a)(7)
17 authorizes a new trial where an error of law occurred during trial and the moving party objected
18 to that error during trial. See Bass-Davis v. Davis, 122 Nev. 442, 453, 134 P.3d 103, 110 (2006).

19 The Court permitted Plaintiff, over the vehement objections of the Palms' counsel, to 20 introduce opinion testimony of Plaintiff's non-retained, non-disclosed expert treating doctors, Dr.
21 Shannon, Schifini, Shaw and Kidwell. Plaintiff's failure to disclose these experts put the Palms
22 in a quagmire, because the Palms never had notice of the testifying treaters' "expert" opinions
23 until they were given at trial, and once the opinions were given, the Palms was not allowed to
24 rebut them using its own properly designated expert Dr. Becker, since Dr. Becker had not
25 included his rebuttal opinions in his written report. The Palms was severely prejudiced by
26 Plaintiff's failure to disclose the identities of his testifying expert witnesses, and was further
27 severely prejudiced by the Court's allowing those unidentified experts to testify.

28 Treating healthcare providers, who were neither designated per NRCP 26 as non-retained experts nor provided expert reports, may not offer expert opinions on aspects of Plaintiff's

1 condition outside the scope of their treatment of plaintiff. As the Court saw throughout the
 2 progress of the trial, Plaintiff did not have any retained medical experts. With regard to Plaintiff's
 3 medical case, his counsel elicited testimony from only four treating healthcare providers, not from
 4 all of Plaintiff's treaters. Plaintiff attempted to have these four treaters aggregate the opinions and
 5 conclusions of the other 25+ treaters. The testimony by witness is represented in this chart:

Witness	Testified Regarding
Joseph Schifini, M.D. / Las Vegas Surgery Center	Thomas Vater, D.O. (VaterSpine)

Those four providers (Schifini, Shah, Kidwell and Shannon) offered their own “expert” opinions as to all of the other nontestifying, treating healthcare providers’ (such as orthopedic surgeons) opinions, conclusions, and courses of treatment, both past and future, as well as testifying that the non-testifying treaters’ bills and expenses were reasonable and necessary, and finally provided cost information for treatments outside the scope of their normal treatment or expertise.

A particularly striking example comes in the testimony of Dr. Schifini, one of Plaintiff’s treating anesthesiologist/pain management specialists. Dr. Schifini testified that his first visit with plaintiff was in November 2007. (Oct. 28 Trial Testimony, 7:14-16, Ex. J to the Ward Decl.) He testified he did not speak with Dr. Ferrante, a pain management specialist at UCLA who saw Rodriguez once in September or October 2006 and performed 1 1/2 hour IME at the specific request of his attorneys. (Nov. 1 Trial Testimony, 64:23-65:5, Ex. J to Ward Decl.; Trial Exh. 25, UCLA 000006). In short, Dr. Schifini had no connection whatsoever with Dr. Ferrante or Dr. Ferrante’s treatment of plaintiff. This notwithstanding, on questioning from Plaintiff’s counsel, Dr. Schifini testified as to Dr. Ferrante’s qualifications and background. (Nov. Trial Testimony, 10:3-11:8, Ex. I to Ward. Decl.) Dr. Schifini then proceeded to discuss in detail the opinions and conclusions that he believed that Dr. Ferrante would have reached had he followed Plaintiff’s treatment. (Nov. 1 Trial Testimony, 141:2-142:17, Ex. J to the Ward Decl.)

Dr. Schifini then began to discuss what he believed was Dr. Larry Miller’s treatment of Plaintiff as memorialized in his records. Dr. Miller, an anesthesiologist and pain management specialist in Los Angeles, last saw Plaintiff in May 2007, fully six months before Dr. Schifini’s first consult with plaintiff. Dr. Schifini did not refer Plaintiff to Dr. Miller. Dr. Miller did not refer Plaintiff to Dr. Schifini. The two doctors did not consult. Dr. Schifini knew nothing about Dr. Miller’s treatment except what was reflected in his records. Yet, Dr. Schifini testified that he agreed with Dr. Miller’s diagnosis, and that Dr. Miller’s treatments were medically necessary and related to the Palms injury, and the charges were reasonable. (Oct. 28 Trial Testimony, 22:4-

1 27:22, 44:20-9, Ex. I to Ward Decl.,)

2 Dr. Schifini next proceeded to give the same sort of expert testimony with regard to the
3 treatment of plaintiff by Drs. Crovetti, Koka, Stacey, Vater, and Thalgott, all as memorialized in
4 their records. (Id. at 28:6-30:12, 44:10-45:12, 45:14-48:10, 54:22-55:15, 64:13-65:20.)

5 Finally, and most significantly, Dr. Schifini proceeded to testify as to the specific costs of
6 the proposed spinal cord stimulator that he opined to Dr. Ferrante would believe was necessary,
7 had Dr. Ferrante actually treated plaintiff within the past several years. He specifically stated that
8 the costs of lifetime surgeries, surgeons, replacement batteries, replacement electrodes, and office
9 visits would total $721,000. (Oct. 28, 2010 Trial Testimony, Ex. I to Ward Decl, 76:14-25.) This
10 was an improper expert opinion, as no foundation was laid for it, nor was it disclosed previously,
11 nor was Dr. Schifini disclosed as an expert. Moreover, Dr. Schifini's costings are some three 12 times greater than Plaintiff's own expert lifecare planner Kathleen Hartman, R. N.'s estimates:

13
14
15
16 (Dinneen & Hartman initial expert report, p. 17, attached as Exhibit L to the Ward Decl.)

17 By way of further example, Dr. Kidwell, one of plaintiff's treating anesthesiologists/pain
18 specialists, testified that although he had never spoken with Dr. Thalgott (an orthopedic surgeon
19 in Los Angeles who had not seen plaintiff for at least three years before the date of trial), and
20 although Dr. Thalgott had written that plaintiff was not a surgical candidate, it was Dr. Kidwell's
21 opinion that if Dr. Thalgott knew what had transpired between then and now, he would change
22 his opinion. Dr. Kidwell testified not as to what he thought would be the course, but what he
23 thought Dr. Thalgott, a non-testifying treating doctor, would prescribe. (November 8, 2010 Trial
24 Testimony, 40:24-41:14, , Exhibit M to the Ward. Decl.) This is pure speculation.

25 Via this tactic, Plaintiff was able to offer into evidence the "expert opinions" of 28
26 different healthcare providers through only four witnesses, subjecting only four witnesses to
27 cross-examination on the "opinions" of 28 different providers as understood by the four testifying
28 treaters. However, the law does not allow a treating provider, otherwise not disclosed as an

1 expert, to offer expert opinions as to the treatment that would be prescribed or recommended by
2 another, non-testifying treater. The Court's considering this testimony in its verdict is error.

3 Plaintiff's entire medical case, a series of opinions of "experts by proxy" is improper
4 under NRC 16 and 26, is inadmissible hearsay, and is completely without foundation. Plaintiff
5 did not demonstrate any foundation for any of the testifying treaters to offer the opinions they
6 offered with regard to plaintiff's back surgery needs, what Plaintiff's MRIs showed, whether his 7 knee surgeries were necessary, whether the non-testifying treaters' bills were reasonable, or the
8 lifetime costs for plaintiff's proposed spinal cord stimulator, some $723,000 as testified by Dr.
9 Schifini of his trial testimony. These opinions and the other opinions like them should not have
10 been considered by this Court in rendering its verdict in this case.

11 Prabhu v. Levine (a.k.a. Franco) inapposite

12 At a pretrial hearing on this issue, Plaintiff relied on Prabhu v. Levine (a.k.a. Franco), 112
13 Nev. 1538 (1996) in support of his argument that treating doctors can provide expert testimony
14 regardless of whether they have been disclosed as expert witnesses or issued NRC 26 reports.
15 The Court allowed this testimony, over defendant's objection. The Court did, though, note the 16 Palms' continuing hearsay and relevance objections regarding the use of testifying treaters to get
17 into evidence the opinions of nontestifying treaters, as well as foundationless opinions on costs,
18 future treatment and other relevant issues, as well as the Palms' objections on the basis that the 19 experts were not disclosed as experts and did not issue reports per NRC 16 and 26.

20 Prabhu, as the Court is aware, was a medical malpractice lawsuit. The manner in which
21 the trial court allowed the treating doctor to provide expert testimony in that case is substantially
22 different from the manner in which plaintiff was allowed to present "expert" testimony via
23 treating physicians in this case. The Palms respectfully submits that the Court committed error by 24 considering the non-disclosed "expert" testimony of plaintiff's treating physicians.

25 In Prabhu, the plaintiff Ms. Franco sued her doctor for medical malpractice. Ms. Franco's
26 treating ophthalmologic surgeon Dr. Levine performed five surgeries on her to correct maladies
27 caused by Dr. Prabhu's misdiagnoses. Dr. Levine did not testify at trial, but his deposition was
28 read into the record, providing his opinions as to causation and standard of care, as well as Ms.

1 Franco's prognosis.

2 Prabhu's counsel made objection to Dr. Levine's testimony because he was not disclosed
3 as an expert under NRCP 26 (no mention was made of expert reports), but was only identified as
4 a treating physician. However, the decision reflects that Prabhu's counsel was unable to show
5 prejudice at this technical failure because Prabhu's counsel deposed Dr. Levine and learned all of 6 his opinions at deposition. Prabhu's counsel, then, had the opportunity to secure his own experts'
7 opinions to counter Dr. Levine's. Accordingly, Prabhu's counsel could not show any surprise or
8 prejudice at Levine's testimony at trial, especially considering that testimony was simply 9 Levine's own deposition taken by Prabhu's own counsel. Under those circumstances, the Court
10 found no abuse of discretion in allowing the testimony of the treating doctor on ultimate issues in 11 the case.

12 The nature of Dr. Levine's testimony and treatment of plaintiff is different from the 13 testimony—to which the Palms objected—that was offered by Drs. Shannon, Schifini, Shah and
14 Kidwell. Unfortunately, defendants have been unable to locate any other Nevada decision
15 discussing the exact issue confronting this Court on this point. Unlike Dr. Levine's testimony,
16 though, where he offered expert opinions on issues learned within the scope of his own specific
17 and detailed treatment of Ms. Franco, Mr. Rodriguez's testifying treating doctors as described
18 above have offered opinions on ultimate issues such as causation based not on their own treating
19 opinions, but on the opinions and records of other doctors, unrelated to their treatment of plaintiff.

20 This testimony is far broader than—and radically different from—the testimony offered
21 by Dr. Levine in the Prabhu case, and should not be allowed.

22 1. Two parts to valid expert disclosure

23 Indeed, under the prevailing authorities, these providers cannot offer testimony at all other 24 than as percipient witnesses (i.e., testimony outside the scope of their specific treatment of 25 plaintiff) without having been disclosed as experts pursuant to NRCP 16(a)(2)(A) and NRCP 26.
26 While the Supreme Court in Prabhu seemed to minimize plaintiff's failure to designate Levine as
27 an expert, the fact is that defendant in that case was not prejudiced and so the trial court had not
28 abused its discretion. In the case where prejudice is patent—as here—expert disclosures are

1 crucially important in allowing a defendant to prepare its case.

2 Under Nevada law, there is a two-part disclosure requirement for expert witnesses.
3 Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 16.1(a) provides a party must disclose the identities of potential
4 experts, and the disclosure must be accompanied by a written report prepared and signed by the
5 witness. NRCP 16.1(a)(2)(A) and (B). Accordingly, for a witness to be allowed to offer expert
6 testimony at trial, he must first be formally disclosed as such and, if specifically retained to
7 provide expert testimony, he must generate a formal written report.

8 None of Mr. Rodriguez's testifying treating doctors were designated as experts. They
9 were all identified in 16.1 disclosures as treating physicians and percipient witnesses, but none
10 were disclosed in Plaintiff's expert disclosures as "non-retained" experts. This may seem like a
11 technical distinction. After all, all of them were available for deposition, and, like in the Levine
12 case, the Palms could have deposed all of them and learned their opinions. However, plaintiff
13 had 30+ treating healthcare providers in this case. It is patently unfair and prejudicial to either
14 require the Palms to have deposed every single one of them on the off chance that one might offer
15 expert testimony, or for the Palms to have to wait until trial to find out which providers are going
16 to offer expert testimony. Here, Plaintiff was required by NRCP 16.1 and 26 to have timely
17 designated as experts the four treaters who testified at trial. Because he did not, the Palms was 18 severely prejudiced in preparing its defense.

19 2. NRCP 16 disclosure of treating healthcare provider as expert is mandatory.

20 While so-called "non-retained experts" like treating healthcare providers may not
21 necessarily be required to provide written reports under 16.1(a)(2)(B), they still must be timely
22 and formally disclosed as experts under 16.1(a)(2)(A). The reason is the nature of their opinion
23 testimony: Lay witnesses, those "not testifying as an expert," (NRS 50.265), may provide
24 opinions rationally based on the perception of the witness (e.g., speed or height), only experts can
25 provide opinions "based on scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge," (NRS 50.275),
26 which are by definition expert opinions.

27 The authorities are clear that a treating doctor, otherwise not retained for purposes of
28 litigation, is nonetheless still providing expert testimony if the testimony consists of opinions

1 based on "scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge," regardless of whether those
2 opinions were formed during the scope of interaction with a party prior to litigation. Musser v.
3 Gentiva Health Servs., 356 F.3d 751, 757, fn. 2 (7th Cir. 2004); Cf. O'Conner v. Commonwealth
4 Edison Co., 13 F.3d 1090, 1105 n.14 (7th Cir. 1994).<sup>1</sup> Accordingly, it is clear that while a
5 treating physician may not necessarily be required to offer a written expert report, the treating
6 physician/healthcare provider must always be disclosed as an expert if he/she is going to be called
7 at trial to offer any testimony outside the bare facts of his/her treatment.

8 Plaintiff has argued that he did comply with all of the Court's disclosure rules with regard
9 to percipient witnesses and accordingly the Palms has for years known the identities of all of
10 Plaintiff's treating healthcare providers. He has argued that no prejudice will result from 11 Plaintiff's "form over substance" failure to formally disclose the treating healthcare providers,
12 previously disclosed as percipient witnesses, as experts under NRCP 16.1(a)(2)(A). This was,
13 after all, essentially the ruling in Prabhu. However, and in addition to the specific prejudice to
14 the Palms here discussed above, the authorities are clear that the federal rules and their NRCP
15 counterpart demand this formal disclosure:

16 Formal disclosure of experts is not pointless. Knowing the identity
17 of the opponent's expert witnesses allows a party to properly
18 prepare for trial. Gentiva should not be made to assume that each
19 witness disclosed by the Mussers could be an expert witness at trial.
20 Cf. Patel v. Gayes, 984 F.2d 214, 217-18 (7th Cir. 1993) (affirming,
21 under the pre-1993 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the exclusion
22 of expert testimony as to duty of care from treating physicians when
23 they were not disclosed as experts). The failure to disclose experts
24 prejudiced Gentiva because there are countermeasures that could 25 have been taken that are not applicable to fact witnesses, such as 26 attempting to disqualify the expert testimony on grounds set forth in
27 Daubert v. Merrell Dow Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 509 U.S. 579, 125
28 L. Ed. 2d 469, 113 S. Ct. 2786 (1993), retaining rebuttal experts, and holding additional depositions to retrieve the information not available because of the absence of a report. In sum, we agree with the district court that even treating physicians and treating nurses must be designated as experts if they are to provide expert
testimony.

Musser, supra, at 757 – 758 (emphasis added).

In this case, just as in Musser, Plaintiff sought to elicit expert opinion testimony from

<sup>1</sup> Treating physicians are not exempt from the disclosure and report requirements because "we do not distinguish the treating physician from other experts when the treating physician is offering expert testimony...."
ZAI26/1108905-1

1 treating healthcare providers including physicians, none of whom were formally designated as
2 experts under the civil rules. The Palms never had the opportunity to depose any of plaintiff's
3 treating providers as experts, as they were never designated as such.

4 This is an important distinction, as the court in Musser recognized. There are
5 "countermeasures" that the Palms could have taken to address the treating providers' "expert"
6 testimony, most significantly developing rebuttal expert testimony on the various providers'
7 opinions as elicited in their depositions. The Palms could not do this here, as Plaintiff never
8 designated which providers it would seek to elicit expert testimony from at trial. There is no
9 Nevada authority on point unfortunately, but the federal authorities, including Musser, affirm that
10 treating physicians must be disclosed as experts if they are to provide expert testimony.
11 Defendant has been sorely prejudiced by Plaintiff's having elicited expert testimony from non-
12 disclosed, non-retained experts at trial.

13 3. A written report required where bases for opinions stray from the core of 14 treatment

15 The second part of the expert disclosure under Nevada law is the written report
16 requirement. Of course, an expert witness specifically hired by counsel to provide testimony in
17 litigation must also prepare a written report containing all of his opinions and conclusions as well
18 as the factual bases therefor. NRCPP 16.1(a)(2)(B). A properly disclosed treating physician or
19 healthcare provider may provide expert testimony without issuing an expert report, but only so
20 long as the bases for her opinions are limited to her personal observations, diagnosis, and
21 treatment of plaintiff. Roberson v. Bair, 242 F.R.D. 130, 134 (D.D.C. 2007).

22 However, and significantly for this case, an expert report is required when that treatment
23 provider's testimony strays from the core of the physician's treatment. Fielden v. CSX Transp.,
24 Inc., 482 F.3d 866, 870 (6th Cir. 2007). See Kirkham v. Societe Air Fr., 236 F.R.D. 9, 12 (D.D.C.
25 2006) (written report requirement applies to opinions on causation, prognosis, and permanency.)
26 By way of example, any opinion offered by a treating physician or healthcare provider (who has 27 been otherwise properly disclosed) that is based on information contained in a report of a defense
28 medical examination, an agreed medical examination for purposes of workers compensation, or

1 any other information outside of the scope of a treating physician's examination and treatment of
2 plaintiff, is of a consulting nature, and the witness purporting to offer that opinion will be
3 considered a consulting expert who is subject to the report requirement. Shapardon v. West
4 Beach Estates, 172 F.R.D. 415, 417 (D. Haw. 1997).

5 Here, this is exactly the sort of opinion that Plaintiff's for testifying treaters offered. Their
6 opinions were of a consulting nature, and were not formed solely within the scope of their
7 treatment of Plaintiff. Many of the facts and opinions testified to by Dr. Shannon, Dr. Schifini,
8 Dr. Kidwell and Dr. Shah were outside the scope of their treatment of Plaintiff, and were based
9 on reviews of the other non-testifying treaters' records as well as defendants' own experts'
10 reports—they criticized the Palms' own expert Dr. Becker. This is something a treating doctor
11 would never normally do, and something that is the exclusive provenance of retained expert
12 witnesses. Those select few treating healthcare providers aggregated the hearsay testimony of
13 these nontestifying providers and offered previously non-disclosed expert opinions based thereon
14 at trial. Such testimony is clearly inadmissible, and to admit it is an abuse of discretion and an
15 error in law.

16 4. Plaintiff's testifying treaters not qualified under Daubert to offer opinions on
17 treatment/conclusions/opinions of nontestifying treaters.

18 Assuming arguendo that Plaintiff's treating providers were properly disclosed, they still
19 must be qualified to offer the opinions they seek to offer. The statute governing the admissibility
20 of expert testimony in Nevada courts is NRS 50.275, which has been construed to track with
21 Federal Rule of Evidence 702. Hallmark v. Eldridge, 189 P.3d 646, 650 (Nev. 2008). NRS
22 50.275 states that

23 [i]f scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge will assist 24 the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in 25 issue, a witness qualified as an expert by special knowledge, skill,
26 experience, training or education may testify to matters within the
27 scope of such knowledge. Id.

28 Therefore, to qualify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, the witness must satisfy
three requirements:

(1) he or she must be qualified in an area of 'scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge' (the qualification requirement); (2)

ZA126/1108905-1

1 his or her specialized knowledge must 'assist the trier of fact to
2 understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue' (the
3 assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be
4 limited 'to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized]
5 knowledge' (the limited scope requirement). Hallmark, supra, 189
6 P.3d at 650.

7 The determination of competency of an expert witness is largely within the discretion of
8 the trial judge. Walton v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court ex rel. County of Clark, 94 Nev. 690, 693
9 (1978). Before a person can testify as an expert witness, the court must first determine whether
10 that person is qualified in an area of scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge. The 11 court should consider the following non-exhaustive factors: (1) formal schooling and academic 12 degrees, (2) licensure, (3) work/employment experience, and (4) practical experience and
13 specialized training. Hallmark, supra, 189 P.3d at 650-51.

14 Second, once a witness is found to be qualified, the anticipated testimony must assist the
15 trier of fact in understanding the evidence or determining a fact in issue. NRS 50.275.
16 Testimony will only assist the trier of fact if it is both relevant and the product of reliable
17 methodology. Hallmark, supra, 189 P.3d at 651. Nevada does not blindly follow Daubert, but
18 does use the factors outlined in Daubert v. Merrell Dow Pharm., Inc., 509 U.S. 579 (1993), for
19 guidance in determining whether an expert's testimony is based on reliable methodology. Higgs
20 v. State, 222 P.3d 648, 657-58 (2010). Under Daubert, a judge may wish to consider whether the
21 evidence at issue (1) has been tested, (2) has been subjected to peer review and publication, (3)
22 has a known or potential error rate, and (4) has general or widespread acceptance. Daubert,
23 supra, 509 U.S. at 593-94. However, application of the Daubert factors is not mechanical;
24 Nevada judges are allowed to consider any other relevant factors. Higgs, supra, 222 P.3d at 657-
25 58.

26 Finally, once a physician is qualified as an expert, he or she may testify to all matters
27 within the scope of his or her knowledge, experience or training, subject to the court's discretion
28 concerning whether the expert is truly qualified to render such testimony. Fernandez v.
Admirand, 108 Nev. 963, 969 (1992). Mere designation as an expert in one area, though, does not give the witness a license to unconstrained testimony on all scientific, technical, or other

1 specialized matters. Eagleston v. Guido, 41 F.3d 865 (2d Cir. 1994) (holding that an expert
2 sociologist could not testify as to criminology or domestic violence); see also Lord v. State, 107
3 Nev. 28, 33 (a detective witness was not qualified to testify that a person's injuries were caused
4 by a fight despite the witness' extensive law enforcement experience).

5 Notwithstanding that none of the testifying treaters were disclosed as experts, the
6 testifying treaters themselves did not have the qualifications to opine on any and every medical
7 issue in this case. For example, Dr. Kidwell, an anesthesiologist, is not qualified to offer credible
8 expert testimony as to what treatment Dr. Thalgott, an orthopedic spine surgeon who had not seen
9 plaintiff since 2008, would currently prescribe if he were to examine Plaintiff. In 2007 Dr.
10 Thalgott wrote in his treatment record that Plaintiff was not a candidate for back surgery.
11 However, at trial, Dr. Kidwell testified that, had Dr. Thalgott followed plaintiff's treatment since
12 2007, he would now recommend back surgery. There is simply no foundation for this "opinion"
13 from Dr. Thalgott via Dr. Kidwell. Likewise, Dr. Schifini simply is not qualified to testify as to
14 what Dr. Ferrante, a pain management specialist at UCLA who saw Plaintiff several years before,
15 and with whom Dr. Schifini never consulted, would currently recommend for Plaintiff. These 16 and the other "opinions" elicited by Plaintiff's counsel are improper and should not have been
17 admitted as evidence.

18 5. Plaintiff's selected few treaters' aggregation of nontestifying providers' opinions
19 and records are inadmissible hearsay

20 NRS 51.035 defines hearsay generally as a statement offered into evidence to prove the 21 truth of the matter asserted. Hearsay is inadmissible except as otherwise provided by law. NRS
22 51.065.

23 Testimony of one treating physician as to the collective opinion of a group of other
24 physicians of different opinions and specialties who do not testify is inadmissible hearsay under
25 NRS 50.285. Estes v. State, 122 Nev. 1123, 1140-41 (2006). In Estes v. State, in a proceeding to
26 determine the defendant's competency to stand trial, one of the defendant's physicians—who had
27 been properly disclosed as an expert—testified as to his mental illness. Id. at 1141. During this
28 testimony, the physician voiced a "collective opinion" of the defendant's competency on behalf

1 of herself and other mental health professionals who were currently treating plaintiff but who were
2 not called to testify at the proceedings. Id. On review, the Supreme Court of Nevada held that
3 such testimony constituted inadmissible hearsay. Id.

4 However, the Court noted that NRS 50.285 allows otherwise properly disclosed and
5 qualified experts to base their opinions on facts or data not otherwise admissible, if that
6 information is of a type reasonably relied on by experts in the field. Id. Therefore, the
7 physician's reasonable reliance on the opinions of her colleagues in forming her own diagnosis
8 was "marginally appropriate." Id.

9 Applying the rule in Estes to this case, since Plaintiff's treating healthcare providers were
10 never disclosed as experts (supra, at pp. 1-5), they cannot be otherwise accepted as experts,
11 regardless of their qualifications. Accordingly, such non-disclosed treating healthcare providers
12 may not offer testimony based on hearsay, which they might otherwise do had they been properly
13 qualified. As set out above, treating healthcare providers who have been disclosed as non-
14 retained experts may testify only as to what is encompassed within their personal observations
15 and treatment of the Plaintiff. Treating healthcare providers who have not been disclosed as non-
16 retained experts may not testify as to any matters "based on scientific, technical or other
17 specialized knowledge."

18 Here, Plaintiff did not disclose any treating physicians as experts, and so they must be 19 precluded from offering any expert testimony on any matters "based on scientific, technical or 20 other specialized knowledge." Regardless of disclosure, Plaintiff's selected few experts were
21 never qualified to aggregate the records, observations and opinions of the non-testifying treaters.
22 Finally, because plaintiff's treating healthcare providers were never disclosed, they may not rely
23 on hearsay, which they otherwise might be allowed to do.

24 "The exclusion of non-disclosed evidence is automatic and mandatory under Rule 37(c)(1)
25 unless non-disclosure was justified or harmless." Musser at 758, citing Finley v. Marathon Oil
26 Co., 75 F.3d 1225, 1230 (7th Cir. 1996). While defendant had the opportunity to depose the
27 treaters during discovery, it never had the opportunity to depose them as experts because they
28 were never disclosed as such. As discussed in Musser, this is a very important distinction, and

1 plaintiff's failure to disclose prevented defendant from being able to prepare for trial, which has
2 severely prejudiced the Palms.

3 Clearly, the Court considered some, if not all, of the inadmissible testimony in calculating
4 its almost $6 million verdict in this matter. This testimony should never have been admitted, and
5 by permitting its admission, the Court made it difficult, if not impossible, for the Palms to
6 effectively defend against Plaintiff's medical damages claims.

7 D. The Body of Evidence that the Palms Presented at Trial Conclusively Demonstrates
8 the Evidence was Insufficient to Justify the Verdict.

9 N.R.C.P. Rule 59 authorizes new trials where the verdict is against law, or where the
10 evidence is insufficient to justify the verdict. The general rule is that when there is substantial
11 evidence to sustain the judgment, it will not be disturbed, but an exception to the general rule
12 exists where, upon all the evidence, it is clear that a wrong conclusion has been reached. Brechan
13 v. Scott, 92 Nev. 633, 555 P.2d 1230 (1976).

14 Plaintiff has the burden of proving the fact of damage and the amount of damages. Mort
15 Wallin v. Commercial Cabinet Co., 105 Nev. 855, 857 (Nev. 1989). Each item of damages must
16 be "proven by a preponderance of the evidence." Las Vegas-Tonopah-Reno Stage Lines v. Gray
17 Line Tours, 106 Nev. 283, 290 (Nev. 1990).

18 1. Plaintiff Must Establish the Amount of Damages by Substantial Evidence.

19 "[T]o justify a money judgment the amount ... must be proved," and "there must be
20 substantial evidence as to the amount of damage, as the law does not permit arriving at such
21 amount by conjecture[.]" Cathcart v. Robison, Lyle, Belaustegui & Robb, 106 Nev. 477, 480
22 (Nev. 1990). "[T]o prove the right to damages without proving the amount, entitles a plaintiff to
23 nominal damages only." Id. Thus, Plaintiff must prove the amount of damages to be awarded by
24 substantial evidence. Any lesser standard opens the door to conjecture and unjust awards.

25 2. Plaintiff Must Prove the Amount of Damages With Reasonable Certainty.

26 Plaintiff must prove the "amount" of damages "to a reasonable certainty" that is "not
27 arrived at by mere conjecture but through substantial evidence." All Nite Garage v. A. A. A.
28 Towing, 85 Nev. 193, 199 (Nev. 1969). While the amount "need not be met with mathematical

1 exactitude,” and “some uncertainty in the amount is allowed,” there “must be an evidentiary basis
2 for determining a reasonably accurate amount of damages.” Mort Wallin, 105 Nev. at 857. The
3 Restatement (Second) of Torts permits the plaintiff to recover damages “if, and only if, he
4 establishes by proof the extent of the harm and the amount of money representing adequate
5 compensation with as much certainty as the nature of the tort and the circumstances permit.”
6 Rest. (2d) Torts § 912.

7 Plaintiff must provide a reasonable method for determining the amount of damages.
8 “[I]f ... a reasonable method for ascertaining the extent of damage is offered through testimony,”
9 it will be “sufficient if the evidence adduced will permit the jury to make a fair and reasonable
10 approximation.” Bader v. Cerri, 96 Nev. 352, 358 (Nev. 1980) (citation omitted) (overruled on 11 other grounds, Evans v. Dean Witter Reynolds, Inc., 116 Nev. 598, 608 (2000).)

12 In Mort Wallin, plaintiff sought damages for diminution in the value of a store caused by
13 defendant’s breach of contract, put on evidence of the fact of diminution, but did not provide
14 evidence of the value of the store had defendant performed as promised and its value as a result of 15 its actual performance. 105 Nev. at 857. The Supreme Court held plaintiff “failed to carry its 16 burden to reasonably establish the amount of the diminution in property value” and vacated the 17 diminution-in-value damages award.

18 Under Nevada case law, if the evidence a plaintiff provides is not substantial and does not
19 permit the fact-finder to determine the amount of damages with reasonable accuracy, he has not
20 carried his burden. Rather, plaintiff must put on evidence of the amount of damages that permits
21 the fact finder to make a reasonably accurate award of damages based on a reasonable method.

22 Plaintiff claims that he is a real estate investor/developer and has had his own real estate
23 business for over fifteen years. Plaintiff claims lost earnings resulting from injuries he attributes
24 to the subject accident. Because Plaintiff is in business for himself through his professional
25 corporation, his lost earnings may be measured by the lost profits of his business. Strauss v.
26 Continental Airlines, 67 S.W.3d 428, 437-438 (Tex. App. 2002).

27 3. Plaintiff Cannot Prove that the Accident Caused Specified Losses.

28 Proof that the accident caused Plaintiff specified losses is essential:

1           There is no automatic award for loss of income due to partial
2           disability. The disability must result in a loss of income for it to be
3           compensable. In this case, the plaintiff is a professional, whose
4           earnings depend upon his training and professional skills, which
5           are more mental than physical. Therefore, a curtailment of his
6           physical activities does not necessarily translate into a
7           diminution in his earning capacity.

8           Nobile v. New Orleans Public Service, Inc., 419 So.2d 35, 39 (La.
9           App. 1982) (emphasis added).

10           The evidence here has shown that, similar to Nobile, Plaintiff's earnings from his real
11           estate endeavors are the result more of his mental abilities and professional skills than physical
12           capacities. Therefore, loss of earnings is not an inevitable result of physical injury. Plaintiff
13           contends that, as a result of his injuries, he lost the ability to purchase and "flip" residential real
14           estate, and thus lost profits. He must provide evidence that he lost business as a result of the
15           injury, and not from other causes such as bad investments on his part or indeed the recent crash in
16           the real estate market. For example, Plaintiff must provide evidence that he was unable to buy
17           and sell real estate because of his injuries. He did not do so. Without such evidence, an award
18           would be based on conjecture.

19           The Strauss case involved similarly insufficient evidence. There, an attorney sued the
20           airline for lost profits caused by personal injuries suffered while boarding a flight. 67 S.W.3d at
21           432, 433. After trial, the court granted defendant's motion for judgment notwithstanding the
22           verdict on the jury's $1 million award of lost past profits. Id. at 434. The attorney argued that he
23           lost profits as a result of his injuries because he could no longer travel to a particular small town
24           in Mississippi and thus solicit personal injury cases from that town's sympathetic population,
25           made up of persons working in and related to the maritime offshore oil industry. 67 S.W.3d at 26           439.

27           The Strauss plaintiff, however, did not provide what the court called the "presumably
28           available evidence" of "the numbers of cases he had represented [in that town] or the net
          earnings he made on each case prior to the injury." Id. (emphasis added). The court held, "in the absence of additional available evidence, and the absence of any explanation as to why it was not provided," the evidence that was provided "is not sufficient." Id. (emphasis added). In

1 addition, the attorney did not attempt to “segregate the fees earned from similar cases [to those
2 from that town] from fees earned from other types of cases,” with the result, “there is nothing
3 from which a jury could determine the number of maritime cases from Kosciusko that Strauss
4 might have obtained[.]” Id. The court held that the attorney did not demonstrate his damages “to
5 the degree of proof to which they were susceptible.” Id.

6 Mr. Rodriguez’s proof of damages here was like the attorney in the Strauss case. The only
7 evidence Plaintiff has produced to support his lost earnings claims are his individual tax returns
8 from 1999, 2001 and 2004, none of which were completed in any of those years, e.g., the 2004
9 tax return was signed in 2009. These three tax returns, none of which were completed
10 contemporaneously, by themselves, are wholly insufficient to support Plaintiff’s $400,000 per
11 year lost earnings claim. Plaintiff failed to produce any other evidence in support of his lost
12 earnings claim during discovery.

13 4. Plaintiff Has Failed to Provide Substantial Evidence of Revenues and Expenses to 14 Prove Lost Profits.

15 To determine his lost earnings, Plaintiff may not rely on his business’s gross revenues.
16 “Gross fees,” the Strauss court held, “are not an appropriate basis” for determining lost earnings.
17 Id. at 440. He must provide evidence of “expenses.” Id. “Net earnings ... must include a
18 deduction for expenses incurred[.]” such as “office expenses, court fees, copy costs and the
19 myriad other expenses associated with a case[.]” Id. In Strauss, the attorney failed to provide 20 such evidence, and the court held the evidence insufficient to support an award of lost profits. Id.
21 at 442.

22 To prove lost profits, Plaintiff must have, in addition to proving that the accident caused
23 him to lose opportunities and sales, provided evidence of the gross revenues the sales reasonably
24 would have generated, his expenses for the sales and the expenses of his professional corporation
25 allocable to those sales, and ultimately estimated net revenues. Plaintiff failed to produce any 26 such evidence during discovery or at trial.

27 5. Plaintiff Has Failed to Provide Evidence of Lost Earnings to Support an Award of 28 Damages for Lost Earning Capacity.

Nevada has not expressly recognized loss of earning capacity as a recoverable loss distinct
ZA126/1108905-1 22

1 from lost future earnings. Nevada cases addressing lost earning capacity treat it as the same as
2 lost future earnings. e.g., Silver State Disposal Co. v. Shelley, 105 Nev. 309, 311-312, 774 P.2d
3 1044, 1046 (1989) (“the jury was adequately instructed on the recovery for lost wages and future
4 lost wages (reduced earning capacity)”).

5 Loss of earning capacity has been distinguished from loss of earnings. Loss of earnings is
6 “actual loss of income due to an inability to perform a specific job a party held from the time of
7 injury to the date of trial.” Strauss, 67 S.W.3d at 435; Johnson v. International of United Bhd. of
8 C. & J., 54 Nev. 332, 336 (1932) (“loss of what plaintiff would otherwise have earned in his
9 calling, and has been deprived of earning by the wrongful act”). Loss of earning capacity is
10 diminished “ability and fitness to work in gainful employment” caused by the accident. Id. at 435
11 & n.2.

12 The issue of lost earning capacity is clearly presented when the injured plaintiff is a child
13 who never held a job. Id. at 436. The distinction between lost earning capacity and lost future
14 earnings largely disappears for injured plaintiffs, like Plaintiff, who has avowed a commitment to 15 a particular profession. Id.

16 To recover for lost earning capacity, Plaintiff must have presented evidence that his
17 earnings and earning capacity have been harmed by the accident. In City of Fairbanks v. Nesbett,
18 432 P.2d 607, 617 (Alaska 1967), the Alaska Supreme Court held, in a case involving an attorney,
19 “In determining the extent of impairment of an attorney’s earning capacity and the measurement
20 of loss therefrom, we hold that there must be evidence presented to the jury concerning the extent
21 of impairment.” The attorney did not place any evidence in the record of the effect of his ankle
22 injury on his earning capacity. The court held, “it was error to submit this issue to the jury since
23 they could only have speculated as to the extent of any impairment of appellee’s capacity to earn
24 money and the resulting monetary loss therefrom.” Id.

25 As previously stated, the only evidence Plaintiff has produced in an effort to support his
26 lost earnings claim are his individual tax returns from 1999, 2001 and 2004, which were created
27 in response to his expert’s request for them, and during this litigation, and his own self-serving
28 anecdotal testimony. Plaintiff testified he had a business, Mary Star Enterprises, which he

1 operated further to his real estate investments. He has produced no income/earnings records or
2 profit and loss statements for this company. Plaintiff has failed to produce, other than these three
3 individual tax returns, any evidence of his lost earnings. Indeed, his own expert, Terrance
4 Dinneen, simply took a six-year average of the three tax returns provided (add the three incomes
5 and divide by six). There is no evidence of lost earnings or profits.

6 6. Plaintiff Did Not Prove Lost Earnings or Lost Earnings Capacity.

7 To recover lost earnings, and to prove that he has suffered a loss of earning capacity as a
8 result of the accident, Plaintiff must have provided substantial evidence that the accident, and no
9 other cause such as the crash in the real estate market, is the cause of lost earnings. Besides three
10 years of tax returns, Plaintiff elected not to provide any of the other evidence he presumably has
11 (or could have collected) all of which is necessary to make this showing.

12 Plaintiff claims to have had his own real estate business, Mary Star Enterprises, for over
13 fifteen years. That business presumably has records, including business tax returns, profit and 14 loss statements, and other indicia of legitimacy. Plaintiff certainly has information or access to
15 information about key facts necessary to prove lost earnings and lost earning capacity. He knows
16 or should know the number of sales he had for the 15 years preceding the subject accident. It was
17 his business. He knows or should know his expenses attributed to such sales. He knows or has 18 information about the revenues various types of sales generate. Plaintiff, however, failed to 19 provide any such evidence at deposition or in discovery or at trial.

20 Plaintiff has not shown that his alleged injuries have had any effect on his ability to do the 21 mental and professional work of a real estate flipper. On this record, Plaintiff has failed to 22 provide substantial evidence in support of a reasonably certain award of damages. Thus, it
23 was against the law for the Court to award any lost earnings or loss of earning capacity in this
24 case.

25 E. Finally, the Court Was in Error When It Granted Plaintiff's Motion to Strike the 26 Palms' Experts' Opinions.

27 Plaintiff filed a Motion to Strike Trial Testimony as to the Palms' experts, Mr. Franklin
28 and Dr. Cargill, and against the Palms' opposition, the Court granted the Motion. The Palms

1 produced hospitality safety/security expert, Forrest Franklin as a witness at trial. Mr. Franklin
2 testified that: (1) throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort into crowds is not a substandard
3 protocol; (2) it is not unsafe to throw things into crowds; and (3) it is within the standard of care
4 to throw promotional items into crowds. (November 3, 2010 Trial Testimony, 14: 6-8, 31: 17-21,
5 33: 7-13, Exhibit N to the Ward Decl.)

6 Mr. Franklin addressed whether throwing promotional items into a crowd was within the
7 standard of care in the casino/hospitality industry, and indeed opined that the activity was within
8 the standard of care, notwithstanding the fact that the Palms had an internal procedure in place
9 forbidding throwing items. Mr. Franklin's testimony was clearly relevant because his opinions
10 made it more probable that the Palms did not act negligently in allowing items to be thrown. Mr.
11 Franklin's testimony was thus helpful to the trier of fact.

12 In this case, Mr. Franklin's testimony was reliable per NRS 50.275, and Daubert v.
13 Merrill Dow Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 509 U.S. 579 (1993). As he testified, Mr. Franklin has had 14 extensive experience as a security officer dealing with persons throwing objects into crowds.
15 (November 3, 2010 Trial Testimony, 13: 14-21, Exhibit N to Ward Decl.) Before offering an
16 opinion, he visited the area of the Palms where the accident occurred, reviewed the relevant
17 deposition testimony and the Palms security manual. (Id., 13:22-25; 15:16-18.) These "facts and 18 data" are reliable and are sufficient bases upon which a qualified expert like Mr. Franklin may 19 offer an opinion.

20 Dr. Cargill, an economist, testified as to Plaintiff's wage earning history and damages. He
21 commented on the reports prepared by Plaintiff's expert Mr. Dinneen, and rebutted Mr.
22 Dinneen's opinions. Dr. Cargill specifically testified that: (1) it was inappropriate to use an
23 average of plaintiff's earnings over the period from 1999 to 2004 to predict future earnings; and
24 (2) using current interest rates to calculate future wage loss is improper. (November 9, 2010 Trial
25 Testimony, 22: 6-25, 55: 15-20, Exhibit O to the Ward Decl.)

26 Dr. Cargill offered two opinions, both of which survive the Daubert "relevancy and 27 reliability" standard for admissibility of expert testimony. First, Dr. Cargill testified that 28 plaintiff's projected future income was derived through a flawed method of calculation of past

1 income. (Id. at 16: 4-8). He testified that averaging just three tax returns over a perhaps 6-year
2 period does not accurately estimate past earnings and thus likewise is unreliable for forecasting
3 future earnings. It was inappropriate to average these three tax returns (1999, 2001, 2004, all of
4 which were prepared several years after the tax liabilities were incurred) in the context of an
5 artificially inflated real estate bubble. (Id. at 29: 7-12.) This testimony makes a fact of
6 consequence—whether Mr. Dinneen’s wage loss estimates are reliable—less probable than
7 without the Cargill testimony. Therefore, the testimony is relevant and helpful to the trier of fact.

8         Second, Dr. Cargill offered the opinion that using current interest rates to project future
9 lost income did not make economic sense because it did not take into account rates of inflation in
10 the future. This testimony was relevant because it makes a fact of consequence, whether Mr.
11 Dinneen’s computation of damages is accurate, less probable than without it. It is relevant to 12 total damages and does “assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in 13 issue.”

14         Dr. Cargill’s technique is also reliable and generally accepted in the field of forensic
15 economics. Under Daubert, the Court must determine whether the reasoning and methodology
16 underlying the proposed expert’s testimony is valid. In making this inquiry, Daubert offers four 17 non-exclusive factors: (1) whether the concept has been tested, (2) whether the concept has been
18 subject to peer review, (3) what the known rate of error is, and (4) whether the concept is
19 generally accepted by the community. Shaffer v. Amada Am., Inc., 335 F. Supp. 2d 992, 995
20 (E.D. Mo. 2003), citing Daubert, 509 U.S. at 593-95.

21         Here, Dr. Cargill offers testimony based on sound, proven economic theory. In fact, Dr.
22 Cargill performed his calculations by using a rate that is used by the U.S. Congressional Budget
23 Office and the trustees of the Social Security Administration. (Id. at 48:17-18.) Thus, the 24 technique utilized by Dr. Cargill has attained “widespread acceptance.” The evidence serves an
25 important function in this case because it presents contrary evidence to Mr. Dinneen.

26         Accordingly, the Court should have denied, and not granted, Plaintiff’s motion to strike certain
27 expert testimony because the evidence meets the “assistance” requirement of NRS 50.275, FRE

28 702, Daubert, and Hallmark.
ZA126/1108905-1

1 By erroneously granting Plaintiff's motion, the Court made it virtually impossible for the
2 Palms to rebut Plaintiff's expert's opinions.

4 IV.
5 CONCLUSION

6 For all of the reasons set forth above, the Palms respectfully submits that the Court must
7 vacate the verdict and order a new trial.

Case No. A531538

DECLARATION OF KENNETH C. WARD
IN SUPPORT OF DEFENDANT FIESTA
PALMS, LLC'S MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Dept: X
Hearing Date:
Hearing Time:
Hearing Dept:

I, Kenneth C. Ward, declare as follows:

1. I am a shareholder with the law firm of Archer Norris, counsel of record for Defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC, a Nevada Limited Liability Company, d/b/a THE PALMS CASINO RESORT. I have personal knowledge of the facts stated in this affidavit and if called as a witness at trial, could and would competently testify thereto. I have reviewed the Memorandum of Points and Authorities in Support of this motion, and incorporate by reference the facts alleged

1 therein.

2 2. I served as co-counsel for FIESTA PALMS, LLC, a Nevada Limited Liability
3 Compay, d/b/a THE PALMS CASINO RESORT (“the Palms”) in the trial of this matter with
4 Marsha Stephenson of Stephenson & Dickinson. We began the bench trial on October 25, 2010
5 of the matter of Enrique Rodriguez v. the Palms, No. A531538, in the Eastern Judicial District of
6 Clark County, Nevada, and trial concluded with the parties’ closing arguments on November 10, 7 2010.

8 3. The Honorable Jessie Walsh returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff Enrique
9 Rodriguez on March 7, 2011, with Notice of Entry of Judgment served on the Palms on March
10 15, 2011. A true and correct copy of the March 7, 2011 verdict is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

11 4. I took the deposition of Terrance Dinneen on September 9, 2010. Mr. Dinneen
12 stated that he provided his entire work file and there were no letters regarding the filing status of
13 plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez’s tax returns. A true and correct copy of the September 9, 2010
14 Deposition of Terrence Dinneen is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

15 5. Plaintiff testified from the witness stand at trial that he gave Mr. Dinneen all of the 16 backup information to support his income claim, and that he prepared and signed the 2004 tax
17 return in 2009 after the economist requested the information.

18 6. At trial, while I questioned Mr. Dinneen on cross-examination, Mr. Dinneen
19 produced a letter from a person who allegedly prepared the returns saying that the returns had
20 been filed; it was a one line letter from the tax preparer dated October 20, 2010. Mr. Dinneen
21 testified at trial that he never provided the document to the Palms. This document was never
22 provided to the Palms, even though Mr. Dinneen had purportedly provided his entire work file
23 and that letter was not included.

24 7. Plaintiff did not disclose any medical experts. Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a
25 true and correct copy of Plaintiff’s Expert Disclosure, and attached hereto as Exhibit D is a true
26 and correct copy of Plaintiff’s Supplement Expert Disclosure.

27 8. Plaintiff also listed all of his witnesses at trial in his Pre-Trial Memorandum, but
28 did not designate any medical treatment providers as experts. Attached hereto as Exhibit E is a

1 true and correct copy of Plaintiff's Pre-Trial Memorandum.

2 9. Dr. Thalgott was a treatment provider for Plaintiff who was a spine surgeon who
3 had at least six entries in his records that he would not do surgery on this plaintiff's back. In
4 addition, his reports indicated that he had not seen Plaintiff in over three years. In spite of this,
5 the anesthesiologist, who had also not seen the Plaintiff for over three years, testified at trial that
6 the Plaintiff needed a multi-level back fusion and that he was quite certain if Dr. Thalgott knew
7 what had transpired with this Plaintiff in the last three years, Dr. Thalgott would change his mind
8 and agree that surgery was necessary.

9 10. My office subpoenaed all records from Plaintiff's treater, Dr. Joseph Schifini, and
10 received approximately 21 pages from Dr. Schifini at that time. True and correct copies of the 11 first and last consecutively bates numbered pages of Dr. Schifini's document production are
12 attached hereto as Exhibit F.

13 11. However, at trial, Dr. Schifini was permitted to testify regarding approximately 14 117 pages of documents that the Palms were unaware of and the Palms were never been notified
15 by Dr. Schifini or Plaintiff's counsel that such documents existed. Plaintiff's failure to disclose
16 the documents put the Palms at a great disadvantage in its cross-examination of Dr. Schifini, who
17 provided critical testimony during the trial.

18 12. Plaintiff's life care planner, Kathleen Hartmann, provided a life care plan calling
19 for $294,000 for all of the medical relating to a spinal stimulator. Dr. Schifini, an 20 anesthesiologist, was allowed to testify that these numbers were all wrong and the number was
21 actually $960,000. Ms. Hartmann's numbers did not include a figure for fusion and she included
22 a range of $80,000 to $160,000 for knee replacements. Again, Dr. Schifini, the anesthesiologist,
23 was able to testify that his back surgeries and knee replacements would be $686,000.

24 13. Plaintiff filed a Motion to Strike Trial Testimony on approximately November 16,
25 2010. Plaintiff's points and authorities essentially argued that the Palms' experts, Forrest
26 Franklin and Thomas Cargill "did not establish a sufficient foundation since neither provided
27 opinions to a reasonable degree of probability." A true and correct copy of Plaintiff's Motion to
28 Strike Trial Testimony is attached hereto as Exhibit G, and the Court's Order granting it is

1 attached Exhibit H.

2 14. Plaintiff stipulated on the record that Mr. Franklin and Dr. Cargill are both
3 qualified.

4 15. Attached hereto as Exhibit I are true and correct copies of excerpts of the
5 Reporter's Transcript of Proceedings of October 28, 2010.

6 16. Attached hereto as Exhibit J are true and correct copies of excerpts of the
7 Reporter's Transcript of Proceedings of November 1, 2010.

8 17. Attached hereto as Exhibit K are true and correct copies of excerpts of the
9 Reporter's Transcript of Proceedings of November 4, 2010.

10 18. Attached hereto as Exhibit L is a true and correct copy of the Dinneen & Hartman
11 initial expert report.

12 19. Attached hereto as Exhibit M are true and correct copies of excerpts of the
13 Reporter's Transcript of Proceedings of November 8, 2010.

14 20. Attached hereto as Exhibit N are true and correct copies of excerpts of the
15 Reporter's Transcript of Proceedings of November 3, 2010.

16 21. Attached hereto as Exhibit O are true and correct copies of excerpts of the
17 Reporter's Transcript of Proceedings of November 9, 2010.

18

19 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Nevada that the foregoing
20 is true and correct. This declaration is executed on March 22, 2011 at Walnut Creek,
21 California.

DEPOSITION OF
TERRANCE B. DINNEEN
SEPTEMBER 29, 2010
RENO, NEVADA

LST JOB NO.: 127683

EXHIBIT B

1 BY MR. WARD:

2 Q I understand you're going to continue that
3 out but that was the day you happened to do the
4 calculation?

5 A Those were the past losses at the time I did
6 them.

7 Q And so when you did that calculation you
8 calculated the number of days, weeks, months,
9 whatever, years, that were involved in that and you
10 multiplied that times a certain number?

11 A Correct.

12 Q Where did you get the number that you
13 multiplied it by?

14 A I looked at his earnings from his tax returns
15 from 1999, to 2004, and I took an average of those
16 earnings during that period.

17 And that was, it's mentioned in my report, I
18 think it's approximately 47 or $46,000, and I used
19 that figure as the baseline earnings figure.

20 It's on page five of my report.

21 Q Okay. Now, what was Mr. Rodriguez doing in
22 the year 1999 for employment?

23 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry. That cut out.

24 Can you read the question back to me?

25 MR. WARD: I'll state it again.

1 A I think in 2004, was the last transaction.

2 Yes.

3 That's where he starts the loss. 1-1-2005.

4 Q When in 2004 did he sell his last house?

5 A I don't know if I have the transactional data
6 on that or not. Seems like I have some material on
7 that in the 2004 year.

8 There is a 9-7 of '04 statement that looks
9 like a distribution of funds in 2004.

10 I believe that to be the latest one that I
11 have.

12 I also have some transactional statements in
13 January of '04.

14 But September of '04 is the last transaction
15 statement I have.

16 Q Is it your belief he sold a house in
17 September of 2004?

18 A Around that period. Yes.

19 Q When did he buy that house?

20 A I don't know if I can tell that from the
21 transactional statement or not.

22 No. Just the sales date. I don't know the
23 date that he bought that house.

24 Q When did he file that tax return for 2004?

25 A I don't know when it was filed.

1 Q When was it signed?

2 A Looks like 11-3 of either '07 or '09. I
3 would say it's '09.

4 But that's when it was signed.

5 Q Okay. And do you know when a tax return that
6 was for the year 2004, if it was timely filed, when it
7 would be timely filed?

8 A Well, you'd anticipate early 2005, for most
9 of us.

10 And I don't have any information as to the 11 delay in filing these returns. They were provided to
12 me as tax returns and I took them as provided.

13 Q So if we are correct that this was signed
14 November 3 2009 --

15 Well, let me strike that. Let me --

16 A I'm sorry. No. That one was 2009. I was
17 just looking. I thought I flipped to the same one.

18 But the '01 was filed in '04.

19 So it looks like all of these were filed --

20 I was just looking for any other dates to see
21 when the rest of them were filed.

22 Q Sure. And I want to ask you and give you an
23 opportunity to clarify. I want to ask you another
24 question here relating to what you just said. I want
25 to give you an opportunity to make sure that you

1 stated it correctly.

2 Is it true that you don't know when any of
3 these tax returns were filed?

4 A That's true. I don't.

5 I just have the signature dates.

6 Q Right. Is it true that you don't know
7 whether any of these tax returns were even filed?

8 A All I have is the return.

9 I don't know if they were filed or not filed.

10 Q Okay. And the return that you have for at 11 least 2004, is dated some four plus years after the 12 year that it would have been filed had it been filed
13 timely?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Now, when you met with Mr. Rodriguez in
16 October of 2008, did you ask him for information?

17 A I don't remember if I asked him or his
18 attorney.

19 But I did ask them to supply me with earnings
20 information.

21 Q Did you tell them what kind of earnings
22 information you wanted?

23 A Yes.

24 Q What did you tell them you wanted?

25 A Normally if somebody is employed we like

1 W-2's or Social Security reports of earnings.

2 With self-employed people often times tax
3 returns. Some times Social Security reports that
4 would provide us with what their earnings were.

5 Q The reason I take it that you would like --

6 Did you say W-2's? Is that what you said?

7 Or did I say that myself?

8 A No. I said W-2's.

9 Q Okay. So you like to get a W --

10 If someone is employed by another company,
11 party, whatever, someone has an employer, you'd like
12 to have the W-2?

13 A W-2's or Social Security reports are always
14 our first choice.

15 Q Let's start with the W-2.

16 That's one of your first choices?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Why?

19 A The W-2's itself will show the gross earnings
20 that were paid to the employee by the employer in box
21 5 and it's helpful information to determine what the
22 person actually earned.

23 Q Is there also a certain reliable factor?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Because it comes from someone other than the

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. When you looked at the report for Mr.
3 Rodriguez about the self employment taxes that he had
4 paid, the alternative to Social Security, what did you
5 find?

6 A Well, all I had was the tax returns for those
7 years. I don't have a report of anything from the
8 Social Security Administration. I just have the
9 report of earnings from the tax returns and then some
10 transactional records from the transactions that
11 supported the figures that were in his return. That's
12 all I have.

13 I don't have any W-2's. I don't have a
14 Social Security report.

15 I just have some of the transactional
16 material that shows the income and then the 1040's for
17 1999, through 2004, that are in my file.

18 Q So you don't have any confirming information
19 that any of this information is accurate?

20 A Is accurate?

21 Q Yeah.

22 The information included in the -- in those
23 tax returns, don't they include a portion for self
24 employment tax?

25 A Well, they include a portion for self

1 Can I go back and check that whole thing?

2 Q Sure.

3 A Also, it's poorly stated, incorrectly stated,
4 in my report.

5 The returns that I have were the '99 return,
6 the 2001 return and the 2004 return.

7 What I did was I assigned zero income to the
8 year 2000, zero income to the years 2001, 2002 --

9 Not 2001. Sorry.

10 Zero for 2000.

11 I used the 2001 return to represent the
12 income earned in 2000.

13 Zero income in 2003.

14 Zero income in 2004. Because --

15 Zero income in 2002.

16 Zero income in 2003.

17 And then used the 2004 income.

18 I hope that makes sense.

19 The '99, the '01, and the '04, where I used
20 the actual figures.

21 In the intervening years I used zero as
22 income for those years seeing that I did not have the
23 return.

24 The report doesn't read that way but that is
25 what I did.

1 A Yeah.

2 He told me that he did not have all of his
3 documentation.

4 So I did follow up and ask if there was any
5 more of the underlying documentation and he said no.

6 Q So he didn't have all of his documentation?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q He didn't have all of his tax returns?

9 A That's correct, too.

10 Q He didn't have all of his Social Security
11 statements?

12 A Yes. That's correct.

13 Q In fact, he didn't have any.

14 A He didn't have any Social Security
15 statements.

16 Q So did you ask to get that information? Did
17 you tell him how he can get that information?

18 A I usually do tell them.

19 I don't have an independent recollection of
20 it.

21 But I was told this is what information was
22 available.

23 Q So you don't know whether you told him that
24 it's relatively easy to find out what his self
25 employment income basis is?

1           A    Like I said, I don't have an independent
2   recollection.

3                    I can tell you I usually do run through with
4   a person we like to see tax returns, W-2's, Social
5   Security information.

6                    And ultimately I said this is -- ultimately
7   what I got was this was all that was available.

8           Q    Irrespective of what you told him you didn't
9   get any more than what you have got here today?

10          A    That's correct.

11          Q    And what was his income from the year 1998?

12          A    I don't have anything prior to 1999.

13          Q    Did you ask him what he was doing in 1998?

14          A    Usually I try to get five years before.

15                    But this is what -- This is what I have.

16                    I don't have anything --

17                    The oldest I have is 1999, five years before
18   the accident.

19          Q    Did you ask him what he was doing in 1998?

20          A    I'm sorry. I misunderstood your question. I
21   thought you were talking about documentation.

22                    I know he was from the period of time in the 23   1990's, up through 2004, he was involved in the buying
24   and selling of houses.

25                    There was no other work activity other than

1 the foster parenting activity that he did.

2 I didn't have any records from that so I did
3 not include anything from that.

4 Q The market for buying and selling houses
5 since 2004, has that been pretty good where Mr.
6 Rodriguez lived and bought and sold houses?

7 A Well, from 2004, till about mid 2007, the
8 market was very active.

9 Starting, of course, in 2007, is where the
10 decline in houses began and then accelerated through
11 today depending upon who's statistics you look at.

12 So the market up through '07, was good. The
13 declining market that we're in now started two and a
14 half years ago and continues.

15 Q And the information that you've seen suggests
16 to you that from the day of Mr. Rodriguez' accident,
17 the accident we're talking about that is the subject
18 matter of this lawsuit, that from that day forward
19 he's been unable to maintain any of these activities
20 on any sort of sustainable basis?

21 A That's correct.

22 Q Now, aside from your assessment of his
23 returns and your assessment here in the year 2004, the
24 $208,000 that you have for that year, is substantially
25 all of, not all but it's like three-quarters of, his

1 income loss, isn't it, based on that?

2 A Three-quarters of the income loss?

3 Well, I think I already answered that
4 earlier. I used the average over that six years.
5 Because I felt using --

6 There are definitions of earning capacity
7 that would say the 2008 would be a reasonable figure
8 to use, assuming that the underlying tax returns are
9 an accurate reflection of his work activity.

10 However, I felt assessing his earning
11 capacity given the information I had, it was better to
12 use an average.

13 The 2008 certainly would be the heaviest
14 weight in that average. But I also used zero in three
15 years as well.

16 Q Let me ask you this: If you had someone who
17 had a full-time job and was working 50 weeks out of
18 the year, it would be -- the year before the loss
19 might well be the most accurate year for their losses;
20 is that correct?

21 A Not always.

22 You have to look at what the person brings to
23 the table in terms of their earning capacity.

24 Somebody can have an exceptionally good year.
25 As in this case 2008 is the highest that we have any

17 PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO STRIKE

18 COMES NOW, Plaintiff ENRIQUE RODRIGUEZ, by and through his attorney of
19 record, STEVEN M. BAKER, ESQ., of the law firm of BENSON, BERTOLDO BAKER &
20 CARTER, CHTD., and hereby files his Motion to Strike
21

22 This Motion is made and based on the pleadings and papers on file herein, the
23 following Points and Authorities and any oral argument that may be presented.

24 I. Introduction

25 Defendant presented two (2) experts in this trial<sup>1</sup>, neither of whom opined that their
26 opinions were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability as required under 27

1 Nevada law.<sup>2</sup>

2 Accordingly, Plaintiff is seeking an Order to Strike Dr. Cargill's testimony in its
3 entirety, as well as an Order to Strike Mr. Franklin's opinions relative to standard of care and
4 dangerous activity.

6 II. Statement of Facts

7 A. Forrest Franklin

8 Forrest Franklin, Defendant's liability expert, was retained to develop, and render an
9 opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to throwing objects, memorabilia,
10 promotional articles into crowds.<sup>3</sup>

11 Mr. Franklin offered the following opinions:

- 12 1. That throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort
13 into crowds is not a substandard protocol;<sup>4</sup>
- 14 2. That it is not unsafe to throw things into 15 crowds;<sup>5</sup> and
- 16 3. That it is not below the standard of care to throw items into a crowd.<sup>6</sup>

17 None of these opinions, however, were given to a reasonable degree of professional
18 probability. Moreover, they are in contradiction to the testimony of Ms. Long and Ms.
19 Kooinga, as well as the legal theory of assumption of duty.

20
21 B. Dr. Thomas Cargill

22 Dr. Cargill offered the following two (2) opinions at trial:

- 23 1. That Plaintiff could not have made as much in the current financial market that he 24 could have back in 2004 because the bubble burst;<sup>7</sup> and

2. Mr. Dineen's discount rates were inappropriate.<sup>8</sup>

Neither of these opinions were given to a reasonable degree of economic probability.

III. Legal Argument

The statute governing the admissibility of expert testimony in Nevada district courts is NRS 50.275, which, as construed by the Nevada Supreme Court<sup>9</sup>, tracks Federal Rule of Evidence (FRE) 702.<sup>10</sup>

NRS 50.275 states:

"[i]f scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge will assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue, a witness qualified as an expert by special knowledge, skill, experience, training or education may testify to matters within the scope of such knowledge."

To testify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, the witness must satisfy the following three requirements: (1) he or she must be qualified in an area of "scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge" (the qualification requirement); (2) his or her specialized knowledge must "assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue" (the assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be limited "to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized] knowledge" (the limited scope requirement).

If scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge will assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue, a witness qualified as an expert by knowledge, skill, experience, training, or education, may testify thereto in the form of an opinion or otherwise, if (1) the testimony is based upon sufficient facts or data, (2) the testimony is the product of reliable principles and methods, and (3) the witness has applied the principles and methods reliably to the facts of the case.

1 Plaintiff is not challenging the “qualification requirement” relative to either Dr. Cargill
2 or Mr. Franklin.

3 However, Plaintiff submits that both Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin’s testimony failed to
4 satisfy the “assistance” requirement of NRS 50.275, in that neither expert provided opinions
5 to a reasonable degree of professional, or in the case of Dr. Cargill, economic, probability.

7 Accordingly, their opinions do not rise to the level of “scientific knowledge” within
8 the meaning of Hallmark<sup>11</sup>, Daubert, NRS 50.275 and Federal Rule 702. Daubert, 509 U.S. at
9 589-90, 113 S.Ct. at 2795 (declaring expert scientific testimony grounded only in speculation
10 or conjecture to be inadmissible under Rule 702).

11 Nevada law requires expert opinions to be given to a reasonable degree of medical,
12 professional and/or economic probability.<sup>12</sup> The opinions of Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin
13 offered insufficient foundation for this court to take judicial notice of the scientific basis of 14 those conclusions.<sup>13</sup>

15
16 In United Exposition Service Co. v. SJIS, the Nevada Supreme Court concluded that 17 an “award of compensation cannot be based solely upon possibilities and speculative
18 testimony.”<sup>14</sup> In that case, which involved the payment of workers’ compensation benefits
19 after an industrial injury, the Nevada Supreme Court held that “physician[s] must state to a
20 degree of reasonable medical probability that the condition in question was caused by the
21 industrial injury, or sufficient facts must be shown so that the trier of fact can make the
22 reasonable conclusion that the condition was caused by the industrial injury.”<sup>15</sup> The 23 speculative nature of an opinion that an injury possibly could have been a precipitating factor

was insufficient to support a finding of causation; specifically, the court stated, "A possibility is not the same as a probability."<sup>16</sup>

Nevada Federal Courts<sup>17</sup>, interpreting Nevada law, have also held that Daubert's "gatekeeping" obligation, requiring inquiry into both relevance and reliability, applies not only to "scientific" testimony, but to all expert testimony.

While counsel for the Defendant may have properly laid a foundation for their testimony, neither expert established a sufficient foundation in this case, since neither provided opinions to a reasonable degree of probability.

Accordingly, their testimony did not satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275.

IV. Conclusion

Based on the failure to provide opinions to a reasonable degree of professional and/or economic probability, Plaintiff respectfully requests for an Order to Strike the Opinions of Dr. Cargill and Forrest Franklin.

THIS MATTER having come on for hearing on January 31, 2011 with respect to Plaintiff's Motion to Strike Defendant's Experts before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, and the Court having considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the matter under advisement for further consideration, this Honorable Court finds and concludes as follows:

FINDINGS OF FACT

Forrest Franklin, Defendant's liability expert, was retained to develop and render an opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to throwing objects, memorabilia, and promotional articles into crowds.

Mr. Franklin offered the following opinions:

1. Throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort into crowds is not a substandard protocol;
2. It is not unsafe to throw things into crowds; and
3. It is not below the standard of care to throw items into a crowd.

None of these opinions, however, were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

Dr. Cargill offered the following two (2) opinions at trial:

1. Plaintiff could not have made as much in the current financial market as he could have back in 2004 because the bubble burst in the housing market; and
2. Mr. Dineen's discount rates were inappropriate.

Neither of these opinions was given to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

To testify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, the witness must satisfy the following three requirements: (1) he or she must be qualified in an area of "scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge" (the qualification requirement); (2) his or her specialized knowledge must "assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue" (the assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be limited "to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized] knowledge" (the limited scope requirement).

Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin's testimony failed to satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275, in that neither expert provided opinions to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

Accordingly, their opinions did not rise to the level of "scientific knowledge" within the meaning of NRS 50.275.

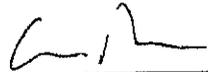

The opinions of Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin offered insufficient foundation for this court to take judicial notice of the scientific basis of those conclusions.

While counsel for the Defendant may have properly qualified said individuals as experts, the opinions rendered by the respective experts were speculative, as the court was not advised and the record does not reflect whether such opinions were made on the basis of "possibility" or some other standard lower than "a reasonable degree of professional probability."

Accordingly, the testimony of Cargil and Franklin did not satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275.

1 yesterday you've already ruled on the same issue.

2 MR. WARD: And I don't believe the case says that, but I
3 will -- I'm not going to argue it anymore, and I'll simply
4 note my objection.

5 MR. BAKER: A continuing objection is stipulated to, Your
6 Honor.

7 THE COURT: Very well, noted for the record. Please
8 proceed.

9 BY MR. BAKER:

10 Q If you go to page five of Exhibit 25, would you
11 discuss with the Court what Dr. Ferrente's [phonetic] was of 12 Enrique Rodriguez?

13 A Dr. Ferrente, during that visit, said it is possible
14 that the patient has complex regional pain syndrome, or
15 regional sympathetic dystrophy. However, his physical
16 examination is more consistent with a chronic knee pain of a
17 mechanical nature. Furthermore, we don't have sufficient
18 objective information for which to make a definitive
19 diagnosis.

20 He goes onto say that if the pain continues or
21 worsens, he suggests that the patient undergoes bone scans,
22 lumbar sympathetic blocks, trial of clonidine patches and
23 neurontin, all of which are geared towards dealing with nerve-
24 type pain or neurogenic pain of a nature consistent with
25 complex regional pain syndrome.

1 Q And if you'll turn to page 11 --

2 A Yes.

3 Q -- did Dr. Miller come to a diagnostic impression
4 with respect to Mr. Rodriguez?

5 A Yes. On page 11, it's noted that Dr. Lawrence
6 Miller felt that Mr. Rodriguez was suffering from complex
7 regional pain syndrome of the left lower extremity.

8 Q And if you'll turn to page 22, what were Dr.
9 Miller's examination findings?

10 A Dr. Miller noted temperature and color changes,
11 edema or swelling, atrophic changes in the hair and nail
12 growth patterns, impaired motor function, so stiffness in the
13 joint, and then hyperpathia or allodynia, which is the painful
14 sensation of touch, and then pseudo-motor changes, which
15 involve changes of vascular supply or sweating. So you may 16 notice that a hand is very sweaty, versus the other hand is 17 not. That's an unusual finding. That's the findings that he
18 diagnosed with him, which led him to believe that the
19 diagnosis of complex regional pain syndrome existed in Mr.
20 Rodriguez.

21 Q Now, this was a clinical diagnosis. Is that fair to 22 say?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And do you agree with that diagnosis based upon
25 those six findings?

1 A Yes.

2 Q But then, he was sent out for a diagnostic
3 examination. Is that true?

4 A The diagnostic examination was the lumbar
5 sympathetic blocks that we discussed before.

6 Q When were they conducted? If you'll go to 27 --

7 A Okay. It looks like the first one was April 18th,
8 2007.

9 Q The second?

10 A And the second one appears to be -- well, I think
11 March 14th, 2007 was the first one. April 18th, 2007 was the
12 second one.

13 Q And was it reasonable, necessary and causally
14 related to the injuries Enrique sustained at the Palms, to 15 conduct those sympathetic blocks?

16 A Absolutely.

17 Q And with respect to the examination?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And are those your opinions to a reasonable degree
20 of probability?

21 A Medical probability, yes.

22 Q Thank you. What was the result in the sympathetic
23 blocks?

24 A With both injections, Mr. Rodriguez noted complete
25 relief of his symptoms in his left lower extremity, indicating

2 that his presumptive diagnosis of complex regional pain
3 syndrome, or RSD, was correct.

4 Q And so, it was diagnostic for our stay?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And do you agree with that opinion --

7 A Yes.

8 Q -- to a reasonable degree of medical probability?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And what was Dr. Miller's bill in this case? If you
11 can, turn to 4208.

12 MR. BAKER: I'm still having that problem, Your Honor.

20 Q -- to a reasonable degree of medical probability?

4 Q Now, where was the sympathetic blocks conducted?

5 A They were conducted at a UCLA-affiliated surgery
6 center called the Wilshire Surgery Center, Incorporated, in
7 Beverly Hills, California.

8 Q That's Wilshire Surgical Center?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Would you turn to Exhibit 30, please? You might
11 want to leave that on the ground near your feet.

12 A Okay.

13 Q I assume this is a surgery you wouldn't want to do
14 in a kitchen or something of the sort?

15 A No. It's not. Because of the potential
16 complications with this procedure, you want to do this at a
17 facility that you can deal with complications.

18 Q Was it reasonable, necessary and causally related to
19 the Palms incident, to do these lumbar sympathetic blocks at a
20 surgical center?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And particular, at Wilshire?

23 A Yes.

17 A The first block --

18 Q Which would be on 299? Are you not seeing it?

19 A No. Yeah. There's a surgery that was performed on 20 04/21/06. The balance there was $17,991. And then, the

5 BY MR. BAKER:

6 Q Now, are you aware that the patient was also sent to
7 see Dr. Cravetti [phonetic]?

8 A Yes. An orthopedic surgeon. Yes.

9 Q And Dr. Cravetti is an orthopedic surgeon in the 10 area?

11 A Yes. In Las Vegas.

12 Q Do you know who referred him to Dr. Cravetti?

13 A I believe he was originally referred to Dr. Cravetti
14 by either Dr. Coca [phonetic] or myself. I don't know the --
15 I can't remember the exact timing.

16 Q But you were working with Dr. Coca in attempting to
17 get Enrique back to health at this time, weren't you?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Okay. And what was the purpose for sending Enrique
20 to Dr. Cravetti?

21 A It was the same concern that Dr. Ferrente had, that
22 I had. I evaluated Mr. Rodriguez as to whether or not he had
23 any mechanical component to his knee pain, that was 24 contributing or maintaining the CRPS or the RSD-type syndrome.
25 So --

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 Q Would you explain what you mean by that?

2 A Well, yeah. I would --

3 Q Were you worried if it --

4 A I was just about to.

5 Q I'll be quiet. I'm going to go sit.

6 A Essentially, if you have something that's constantly
7 irritating a particular area or nerve, unless you address the
8 original problem, you're not going to get rid of the secondary
9 problem, which is the RSD or the CRPS. So if there's an
10 ongoing knee issue in the patient, or other issues that are
11 going on, in this particular case the knee issue, unless you
12 verify that there's no problem with the knee that can be
13 corrected, you're treating sort of symptoms, if you will, or
14 secondary problems, but you're ignoring the first problem.

15 And you'll never get rid of the secondary problem
16 unless you address the first one. So the purpose of going to
17 Dr. Cravetti as an orthopedic specialist was to determine --
18 is there anything else surgically that needed to be addressed
19 in the knee? Or are we now dealing with a knee that was
20 relatively stable, from a surgical point of view, you know,
21 short of a knee replacement, and now we're dealing with the
22 secondary problem, which becomes in a sense, the primary
23 problem. Because you've surgically corrected the primary
24 problem.

25 You've kind of gotten rid of that one essentially.

AVTranz

1 Now, you're dealing with the remainder of the issues. So the
2 secondary problem is now the primary issue. So we wanted Dr.
3 Cravetti to evaluate Mr. Rodriguez to make sure that we could
4 address everything, that we've checked all the boxes before we
5 just start looking to correct the pain with other modalities,
6 such as this spinal cord stimulator that I'm sure we'll talk
7 about in the near future.

8 Q Now, with respect to you working with Dr. Coca, what
9 was your joint effort?

10 A Well, I mean, our joint effort was to confirm a
11 diagnosis, come up with a treatment plan, and without input
12 from an orthopedic surgeon, that treatment plan was
13 incomplete.

14 Q And give me a second to find the exhibit for 15 Dr. Coca. Would you turn to Exhibit 36, please?

16 A Okay.

17 MR. WARD: What number was that?

18 THE WITNESS: 36.

19 MR. BAKER: No. I'll do that at a later time. Let's

1     Rodriguez that believed it, including Dr. Furante, the
2     chairman at UCLA, whom I've heard lecture. I've read articles
3     he's written. So I mean, he's very well known and recognized.
4     If he didn't believe that the diagnosis was likely, I would

6     other doctors who documented very adequately that this is a

16 Q What did that treatment course include?

17 A We talked to Mr. Rodriguez about -- kind of the 18 risks, the benefits, the options and the alternatives, as is 19 usual during my consultations. So we kind of go over
20 different things after I evaluate the patient and the records
21 that we look at. But the specific recommendations for him
22 following that office visit was to repeat the lumbar
23 sympathetic block. The repeating of the block was just for my
24 own satisfaction that we're repeating the block. We're sort
25 of checking things again in a different way. Other than Dr.

1 other peripheral nerve kind of issue affecting that lower
2 extremity, which can also maintain this diagnosis of CRPS or
3 RSD.

4 So essentially what I did was rule out the diagnosis
5 of sympathetically maintained pain. And I think in my
6 dictation, there's sort of error because, again, during this
7 timeframe was the transition between the terms and nobody had

19 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

20 BY MR. BAKER:

21 Q Would you turn to Exhibit 48, quickly. It's just 22 Dr. Votter, his records.

23 A Okay.

24 Q Does 48 contain the examination and treatment
25 performed upon Enrique Rodriquez from Dr. Votter --

1 A Yes.

2 Q -- upon your referral?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And was that examination reasonable, necessary and
5 causally related to the subject accident to a reasonable
6 degree of medical probability?

7 A Yes.

8 Q What's Dr. Votter's bill?

9 A $330.

10 Q That sounds pretty reasonable. Is that reasonable,
11 necessary, and causally related to the subject incident?

12 A Yes.

13 Q To a reasonable degree of probability?

14 A Yes -- medical probability, yes.

15 Q Medical probability. Thank you.

16 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, move to admit 48.

17 MR. WARD: Foundation, hearsay, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Noted for the record.

19 MR. BAKER: Admitted, Your Honor?

20 THE COURT: 48 will be admitted.

23 Q How does this permanent spinal cord stimulator
24 differ from the temporary spinal cord stimulator other than 25 obviously being permanent?

1 programming changes. And the nice thing about having a
2 computer is you can program it. Some of the programming Mr.
3 Rodriguez can do on his own with the little computer. Some of
4 it requires visits in my office to be done. Those are
5 typically about a $300 charge. The first year -- every year
6 of the first year, so the -- of the four years, the first
7 year, there's going to be three of those visits -- or excuse
8 me, four of those visits. So you're talking about $1200 each
9 of the first years. And then additional years, that
10 programming needs to be done once a year. So you're talking
11 about an additional $2100 every time the battery is changed
12 for programming issues. So that's the other associated costs
13 with this.

14 Q That would total?

15 A That's going to be $21,000 times -- or excuse me,
16 $2100 times 10, so an additional $21,000. I think those are
17 all the costs. So I'm going to --

18 Q And that totals --

19 MR. BAKER: And we'll get the transcript and add it up,
20 Your Honor, and make sure it's all consistent.

21 BY MR. BAKER:

22 Q -- $721,000?

23 A That sounds about right over the lifetime --

24 Q 270 plus 160 plus 220 plus 50 plus 21,000.

25 A Yes.

EXHIBIT J

1 Q Could you project for the Court what the total value
2 of the --

3 A Well, if we're using the present value and we're
4 assuming the numbers are inverted, they're approximately
5 $11,000. Again, I would envision those would be decreased by
6 75 percent as well, because much of the reason for the
7 constipation is due to the use of the opiate type medicines,
8 the hydrocodone and the morphine.

9 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of 10 medical probability?

11 A Yes.

12 MR. BAKER: You have a objection?

13 MR. WARD: Yeah. I'd like to object for the record and
14 move to strike. Your Honor, we've been given -- one of the 15 experts that was disclosed in this case was a life care
16 planner. And a life care plan was provided and the life care
17 planner was deposed, and all of those questions were asked and
18 answered.

19 Now we find out the life care planner's not going to be
20 called and this treating physician is testifying as to
21 expenses that are much higher than set forth in the life care
22 plan. There's no point in disclosing experts at some point if
23 you can just bring in everything that you want to any way you
24 want to do it.

25 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I --

1 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

2 MR. BAKER: I think that we have the right to put in
3 futures through either a life care planner or through the
4 physicians who are actually referring and prescribing the
5 future treatment. And I think that it's typically preferred
6 by the Court for the doctors to put in the evidence rather
7 than to have the life care planner go through the medical
8 records and pick the medical records and try to project
9 expenses. And I believe that the life care planner would
10 probably have drawn exactly the type of hearsay objection from
11 Mr. Ward that we've been hearing through the whole trial.

12 This is a doctor testifying to medicines that have been
13 prescribed to his patient, the future need for those medicines
14 and the costs. And again, on the basis of the cases that
15 we've given you, Gruber v. Levine [phonetic], the cases that
16 we've cited to this Court for the wide discretion for him to
17 speak, and the fact that he's actually a treating physician
18 and not a retained expert. This is, respectfully, completely
19 appropriate.

20 THE COURT: Any final thoughts, Mr. Ward?

21 MR. WARD: Yeah. I'll make it quick, Your Honor. I know
22 Your Honor's tired of hearing this, but I feel the need to
23 make the record because essentially here's the issue we have.
24 When a life care planner comes in, the life care planner is
25 given parameters about treatment. The life care planner

1 doesn't say this person needs a back surgery, but they do go
2 out and do things.

3       It's a -- to some extent it's a little bit like buying a
4 car, say, you know, I went to this dealer and the car's this
5 much and I went to this dealer and the car is this much, and I
6 went to that dealer and the car is that much. And then when
7 we take the life care planner's deposition, that's what we
8 cross-examine him on. And essentially what we have instead is 9 we have someone coming in and saying well, you know, off the
10 top of my head, I just -- I'm not really sure what all those
11 things cost, but I think it's a lot of money; and therefore, I
12 think it's X dollars. And --

13       THE COURT: I think we're stuck with whatever the figures
14 are in that exhibit. Is that an exhibit?

15       MR. BAKER: It's not an exhibit, Your Honor. And I'm
16 actually asking him to testify not with respect to the
17 exhibit, but whether what's put forward on it comports with 18 his understanding as a treating physician and as a doctor of 19 what these medicines would cost. And I believe I laid the 20 foundation for that asking if he knew what these medicines
21 cost in the community, if he was being prescribed these
22 medicines currently, if those medicines were reasonable,
23 necessary and causally related to the subject accident, and to
24 what the future costs of it. If I don't want to call the life
25 care planner and put it in through percipient witnesses, I

1 believe that's completely appropriate.

2 THE COURT: Final thoughts?

3 MR. WARD: I would offer to voir dire their witness on
4 this topic.

5 THE COURT: I think you're entitled to examine this
6 witness as you have been doing, Mr. Baker, but I don't think
7 he can speculate about some figures being inverted or anything
8 like that. So --

9 MR. BAKER: Yeah. And actually, Your Honor --

10 THE COURT: -- to that extent --

11 MR. BAKER: -- I was going to -- I thought that his
12 objection was going to be that. And I wasn't -- I was going
13 to withdraw that testimony, because if he is speculating that
14 they're inverted or there should be a one --

15 THE COURT: Right.

16 MR. BAKER: -- then that's not appropriate.

17 THE COURT: To that extent, Mr. Ward's objection is
18 granted. Otherwise it's denied.

19 MR. BAKER: Okay.

20 BY MR. BAKER:

21 Q I asked you the question --

22 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

23 BY MR. BAKER:

24 Q I asked you the question about what his life would
25 be like with the spinal cord stimulator. And let me ask you

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. Now in 2008 we were four years post-accident?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And he had how many surgeries at that point?

5 A I think it was two surgeries on his left knees.

6 Q And how many doctors had he seen?

7 A I'd have to total them up, but approximately eight
8 to ten.

9 Q Okay. And how many MRIs and arthrograms had he had?

10 A Several.

11 Q And how many times had he been to physical therapy?

12 A I don't know.

13 Q And that's your -- that's what you call conservative
14 treatment?

15 A To the point where I was involved, yes, that -- I
16 would consider that conservative treatment.

17 Q What do you call "non-conservative treatment"?

18 A Where we're implanting things in patients, like the 19 spinal cord stimulator, things like that --

20 Q Oh.

21 A -- where we're talking about a major surgery on the
22 spine.

23 Q Okay. Now, you never talked to Dr. Foranti, did
24 you?

25 A I have talked to Dr. Foranti --

1 Q About this case?

2 A -- but not in this particular circumstance.

3 Q Okay. So you haven't talked to Dr. Foranti about
4 this case?

5 A No.

6 Q You haven't seen Dr. Foranti's notes about this
7 case?

8 A Handwritten notes?

9 Q Notes?

10 A You're going to have to be a little more specific,
11 because I've seen records from Dr. Foranti regarding the 12 handwritten notes. I don't think those were made available to 13 me.

14 Q You've seen a report, have you not?

15 A Yes.

16 Q You've seen more than that?

17 A I've seen what?

18 Q More than that --

19 A I think --

20 Q -- from Dr. Foranti?

21 A I think I've seen documentation, typed
22 documentation. I'm not sure exactly what you're referring 23 to.

24 MR. WARD: May I approach the witness, Your Honor?

25 THE COURT: Yes.

1 Q Well, you did offer comments when you were on the
2 stand just a few minutes ago.

3 A Not prior to this testimony today.

4 Q Okay. But you did offer comments about the life
5 care plan from the witness stand today, correct?

6 A Specifically related to medications only.

7 Q And Thursday, you offered comments about the cost of
8 a stimulator?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And you said $22,000 a battery every four years..

11 A And that's wholesale costs to the surgery center.
12 I'm not even including the markup that the surgery center or 13 the hospital would charge to that. I didn't think that was
14 necessary or helpful.

15 Q Okay. And the life care planner said $4,000 a
16 battery, correct?

17 A I am not sure exactly what she said. Again, I
18 thought her life care plan was probably one of the worst life
19 care plans I've ever seen. So, you know, it's one of those
20 things where looking at the numbers that she quoted, I'm not
21 sure who she actually spoke to, but I'm sure you had the
22 opportunity to depose her and ask her these questions and I'm
23 not sure exactly who she talked to or what her answer to that
24 question was. But my answers sort of supersede hers. She's a
25 nurse, I'm a doctor.

1 BY MR. WARD:

2 Q What information do you have now to make a diagnosis
3 that Dr. Foranti did not have at the time he wrote his report?

4 A I have the knowledge of the totality of the medical
5 records. Dr. Foranti was dealing with his one piece of
6 information and had not completed his thought yet. He wanted
7 and requested additional diagnostic testing to be done which
8 was ultimately performed by Dr. Miller. So he had not yet
9 formulated all of his thoughts and if given an opportunity to
10 review this, I am confident that Dr. Foranti would come to the
11 same conclusions that I have.

12 MR. WARD: Move to strike as non-responsive.

13 THE COURT: Overruled.

14 BY MR. WARD:

15 Q How is it you know what Dr. Foranti would do? Have
16 you talked to him?

17 A I have talked to him. Not in --

18 Q About this case?

19 A -- this case, no.

20 Q Then how is it you would know what he would do in
21 this case?

22 A Because I'm a board certified anesthesiologist
23 specializing in pain management just like Dr. Foranti and the 24 information that he felt was valuable in the reference to the
25 further diagnostic testing that he requested was ultimately

1 done which helps me come to the diagnosis of complex regional
2 pain syndrome in Mr. Rodriguez's case. So again Dr. Foranti
3 did not have the opportunity to finish his thoughts because he
4 -- there was an incomplete diagnostic workup.

5 Q Well, he suggested that there was insufficient
6 objective information, correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And so he asked for a number of things.

9 A Yes.

10 Q One of those things that he asked for was a bone
11 scan?

12 A Yes.

13 Q So you did a bone scan or you had a bone scan done?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q It was negative?

16 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this is all asked and answered.

17 THE WITNESS: Yes.

18 THE COURT: It has been. Sustained.

19 MR. WARD: I wanted to go to the other areas, Your Honor.
20 It is -- these are areas that he raised on redirect.

21 THE COURT: We covered the bone scan in your previous
22 examination of this witness.

23 MR. WARD: I'm going to -- I was doing that as prefatory
24 to go to the rest of the things in that sentence.

25 THE COURT: Well, then let's get to it.

EXHIBIT K

1 Q 192?

2 A The 192 is the taxable income.

3 Q Okay.

4 A Okay.

5 Q And this first one, the gross income was income?

6 A That's business income.

7 Q Business income? Okay. So let's deal with the
8 business income. Is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of 9 professional probability that his business income, in the year
10 2004, was $208,000?

11 A If that's what's reported on the return, yes.

12 Q That's not my question. My question is, is it your
13 opinion that that's what his income is, to a reasonable degree
14 of professional responsibility?

15 A Sure. That's what the business income is.

16 Q Okay. When you say that's what the business income
17 is, you used, in your direct examination, you used the term
18 reported income?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Isn't it true that you don't know if any of this
21 income was reported?

22 A I do know that it was reported.

23 Q Have you received additional information since I
24 took your deposition --

25 A Yes.

1 Q -- that you haven't told me about?

2 A I just received this. It's a letter dated October
3 20th from the tax preparer, indicating that the returns were
4 filed.

5 MR. WARD: Okay. I'd like to make that part of the 6 record.

7 THE COURT: Do we need a copy of that, Mr. Dinneen?

8 THE WITNESS: I don't think we need to, Your Honor. You
9 know, counsel provided it to me, so presumably, he has another
10 copy. I can replace that in my file, just for expediency.

11 THE COURT: Very well.

12 MR. WARD: I'm sorry. But I'm not going to mark it?

13 THE COURT: Not?

14 MR. WARD: Not. Now --

15 THE COURT: I guess he's not going to move to admit it
16 after all.

17 MR. WARD: I'm not going to move.

18 MR. BAKER: Okay.

19 BY MR. WARD:

20 Q Now, when your deposition was taken -- by the way,
21 when does that say they were found?

22 A It doesn't. It just says -- it's short. I can read
23 it.

24 Q No. That's okay.

25 A Okay.

1 Q I just want to know if it says when they were filed.

2 A No. It just says that we reprepared and filed
3 Enrique's tax -- Enrique Rodriguez tax returns for '99, '01
4 and '04.

5 Q Okay.

6 A But it doesn't say when those were filed.

7 Q Right. And you have a tax return that's dated 2004,
8 do you not?

9 A I do.

10 Q I mean, for the year 2004?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And when is it signed?

13 A You know, clearly, November of '09. And I can't
14 make out whether that's a five or an eight. And I think we 15 discussed a little bit of that, that those handwritten numbers
16 were hard to read.

17 Q Okay. So it's November '09. Correct? I mean, of 18 2009?

19 A Yes. November of 2009.

20 Q And you have a tax return for 2001. Is that
21 correct?

22 A I do.

23 Q And when was it -- what was the date on it?

24 A Well, there's -- let me look a little farther. I'm
25 looking at the first two pages. The tax preparer signed it

1           A     You know, I misspoke. I have some other documents
2 that relate to income, that are backup for the tax returns. I
3 do not have, you know, any other documents such as from the
4 Social Security Administration or, you know, that show how
5 that income was reported.

6           Q     And I'm assuming you haven't gotten any additional
7 documents to back up the tax returns since I took your
8 deposition a month ago. Correct?

9           A     No. Other than the ones that we've discussed in my 10 file, that are closing statements on houses, that type of 11 thing. No.

12          Q     Yeah. Let me just talk about dates and make sure
13 this is clear. I took your deposition a month ago, and you
14 had certain financial information.

15          A     That's correct.

16          Q     And you haven't received anything new since then.
17 Correct?

18          A     Other than the letter from the tax preparer, you
19 know. No.

20          Q     The letter from the tax preparer doesn't have any 21 financial information in it, does it?

22          A     It does not.

23          Q     Okay. And you took a look at the information that
24 was provided for in the tax return. Correct?

25          A     I did.

In the development of this Life Care Plan we were also asked to calculate the Present Value of the Plan.

Present value is the amount of money necessary today to fund the items in the Life Care Plan that will occur in the future. In calculating present value we take into consideration how the cost of a good or service will increase in future years. These are referred to as growth rates. The growth rates for each item or service are indicated on the enclosed tables.

In calculating present value we also take into consideration interest that is earned from a financial institution. While a growth rate increases the cost of an item in future years, the discount rate subtracts a value to allow for interest that could be earned. The discount rates used in this case were 5, 10 and 30 year United States Treasuries. These discount rates were used because they reflect a very stable and safe investment vehicle.

There are items in the Life Care Plan that are occurring in the next 12 months. These are stated at their current cost. Also, there are other items where it is not known when they will occur. These items are also stated at their current costs.

The goal of this Life Care Plan is to provide the care that will maintain/increase Mr. Rodriguez's medical stability, quality of life and prevent potential complications (noted in Table O). The plan provides for all aspects of his care in order to promote and maintain independence and to prevent complications.

BRIEF HISTORY/CURRENT STATUS

Mr. Rodriguez was in the Palms Casino watching a football game. At half time the staff threw out prizes, a woman came from behind him and hit him causing his knee to hyperextend and he fell. She hit him on the "medial" side with his knee extended in the standing position. The knee immediately was swollen and painful. He injured his head, back, neck, left knee and right hand at the time of the fall. Approximately 2 hours after the accident, he was taken to Spring Valley Hospital Emergency Room by ambulance and was seen by the ER physician who prescribed immobilizer, crutches, lortab and Motrin and he was to follow up with an orthopedist.

On December 6, 2004 he returned and was seen by Dr. John G. Nork in Las Vegas, NV. At the time of the first visit, Dr. Nork felt it may be a contusion and recommended therapy, Darvocet N-100, Parafon Forte and return in 4 weeks.

The MRI was performed on January 28, 2005. The MRI demonstrated no evidence of acute internal derangement. After seeing a chiropractor and undergoing therapy, he experienced persistent pain and was referred to Dr. William Simpson, MD in Wildomar, California. The evaluation was performed on February 1, 2005 with a follow up examination on February 15, 2005. He recommended continuation of conservative treatment and an additional MRI performed on a high field MRI scanner if his symptoms persisted. On the 15th, the doctor recommended Mr. Rodriguez undergo arthroscopic surgery. Dr. Simpson did relate all symptoms to the accident of November 22, 2004.

On March 28, 2005, Mr. Rodriguez was seen at Las Vegas Neurosurgery, Orthopaedics & Rehabilitation by Dr. Mary Ann Shannon. He complained of a pain level of 7-9 on a scale of 10. He also complained of multiple symptoms including low energy level, depression, anger, sexual dysfunction, inability to concentrate, impatience, bad attitude, stress, sleep problems, worry, being unsocial, loss of self esteem and other relationship difficulties and mood changes. He denied strange thoughts, panic attacks, suicidal thoughts, alcohol abuse and phobias. Dr. Shannon noted an increased "Q" angle with mild/trace patellar crepitation. There was marked lateral and medial joint line pain with 1+ synovitis. The new MRI revealed a lateral meniscus tear, anterior cruciate ligament strain and injury to the patellofemoral joint with lateral patellar compression syndrome. Her recommendations included meniscal repair, patellar chondroplasty, lateral retinaculum release and debridement. She also provided a cost estimate of these procedures. The total was $19,600 but did not take into account post operative medications. It did take into account post operative therapy, surgical center fees and her physician fees.

Mr. Rodriguez was unable to get authorization for the surgery in April and finally, on August 31, 2005 and September 1, 2005 he underwent a Presurgical Psychological Evaluation from Dr. Louis F. Mortillaro, PhD. His diagnoses included:

Axis I: (307.89) Pain Disorder due to his Medical Condition with Psychological Factors;
(293.83) Mood Disorder due to his Medical Condition with Mixed Features of Anxiety and Depression;
AxisII:( 799.9) Diagnosis deferred
Axis III: Unable to return to work, insufficient and inadequate finances
AxisV: Current GAF (50)
Highest GAF Past Year (60) (GAF – Global Assessment of Functioning)
(See attached GAF scale)

All of the AXIS I diagnoses were deemed to have arisen out of the injury of November 22, 2004. Dr. Mortillaro recommended the following:

1. "Mr. Rodriguez is an appropriate candidate for participating in individual pain and stress management counseling. It is opined that he will need 20-30 sessions of such services at an average cost of $175/session.
2. He is appropriate candidate for receipt of biofeedback therapy at an average cost of $135/session.
3. He will need a psychotropic medication evaluation to assess the necessity for a number of different types of medications that will treat his mood disorder and help him better manage his pain and suffering."

He attended therapy at Rancho Physical Therapy following the surgery on October 14, 2005. He was seen on November 8, 2005 by Dr. Joseph R. Nicola, D.C. for lumbar, thoracic and cervical pain following the accident. He stated he had the pain since the accident but the knee pain was so overwhelming that he did not pursue care for the spinal pain. He has noted increased cervical and lumbar spine pain. He continued on crutches which was exacerbating the pain from the original accident. He rated the pain at 7/10. Dr. Nicola stated "The prognosis, at this time, for a full recovery is guarded due to the extent of Mr. Rodriguez's injuries." Chiropractic care was recommended including physical medicine modalities, CMT, neuromuscular reeducation, therapeutic exercises and myofascial release technique.

He continued with Ranch Physical Therapy into 2006 for his knee but little improvement was made. He also started therapy with Matt Smith Physical Therapy in Las Vegas on February 22, 2006 for his low back, facet pain and neck pain. The initial evaluation notes that "this patient is disabled". Mr. Rodriguez was moderately limited in the lumbar spine with forward flexion at 65%, extension at 0%, side bending left 20%, and right 15% or normal. Rehabilitation Potential was regarded as "Good."

Mr. Rodriguez underwent a sleep apnea evaluation on February 2, 2006. The study was positive and he was placed on CPAP and began treatment for his sleep apnea.

During 2005 and 2006, Mr. Rodriguez underwent psychological counseling and treatment with Dr. Louis Mortillaro. On January 11, 2006, at his 9th visit, he rated his pain as 7/10, depression 7/10, frustration 7/10 and speaking about the accident caused him increased stress. He continued on a weekly basis in January, February and into June. In June he rated his pain as 7-8/10, depression 7/10, anxiety 4-5/10 and frustration 6/10. Dr. Mortillaro noted that he was making expected progress and was compliant with treatment process. Dr. Mortillaro noted on his July 27, 2006 visit, that Mr. Rodriguez had been diagnosed with complex regional pain syndrome in the left leg/foot. In early November of 2006 he expressed concern regarding his health and failure of the conservative treatment. He continued to see him and the November 28, 2006 visit indicates that the patient was preparing for a discogram in California. He was very concerned with how painful the procedure would be. This was discussed at his appointment.

Medications on March 2006 included:

Prozac
Buspar
Vicoden
Elavil
Vicoprofen
Zoloft
Valium
Levenox
Advair
Singulair
Albuterol

These were listed in his pre surgical questionnaire. Dr. John Thalgot evaluated Mr. Rodriguez on March 7, 2006. He confirmed abnormal nerve studies over the upper extremities suggesting "bilateral C5-6 radiculopathies as evidenced by abnormalities seen on segmental dermatomal evoked potential studies. Abnormal median sensory studies consistent with possible right median and ulnar nerve involvement at the wrist, possibly consistent with entrapment." Dr. Thalgot recommended an EMG at a later date of symptoms persisted.

On March 20, 2006 he was seen by Dr. Walter Kidwell and referred by Dr. John Thalgot. Dr. Kidwell evaluated him and reviewed the studies. His impression was as follows:

1. Internal derangement, left knee, status post surgery by Dr. Shannon.
2. Neck pain, right upper extremity radicular symptoms, and preexisting degenerative spondylosis with stenosis. Suspect traumatically-induced discogenic pain/interval disc disruption with secondary spasm and myofascial pain syndrome.
3. Low back pain with left lower extremity radicular symptoms, history of multilevel degenerative spondylosis. Suspect traumatically-induced internal disc disruption/discogenic pain.
4. The patient's symptoms have persisted for well over a year despite conservative therapy. He denies a history of preexisting pain problems, and therefore, to a reasonable degree of medical certainty it appears the patient's presenting complaints are a result of the trauma that the patient received on October [sic] 2004." (DOI: November 22, 2004).

He recommended spinal injection therapy. First recommendation was epidural injections of the neck and low back, two each once a week. Follow up was to be with Dr. Thalgot after injections were complete. He did state that "additional injections maybe appropriate dependent upon response." The injections were performed with only mild relief. He was returned to Dr. Kidwell by Dr. Thalgot on June 29, 2006 for Selective Nerve Root Blocks (SNRBs). His complaints were pain in the neck and some left upper extremity symptoms. He also complained of continued low back pain radiating to his left lower extremity down to the toes. Stage Selective Nerve Root Blocks were recommended first bilateral C7 plus bilateral L5 injections. It is noted that Mr. Rodriguez had seen Dr. Montillaro and methadone was recommended as the primary pain medication. Dr. Kidwell recommended that Mr. Rodriguez have a pain physician in his hometown of Riverside, California follow the medications.

Mr. Rodriguez again had surgery of the left knee recommended by Dr. Jacob Tauber, MD and he underwent a pre operative history and physical on April 21, 2006. He remained in the brace.

Mr. Rodriguez continued with Matt Smith Physical Therapy in Las Vegas, Nevada and was seen in follow up for his left knee, cervical and lumbar spine. His physicians were listed as Dr. Tauber and Dr. Thalgot.

Dr. Kidwell performed the SNRBs and noted no change in symptoms after C7, L4 or L5 blocks. Dr. Kidwell saw the patient back on August 7, 2006 at which time he noted that Mr. Rodriguez had not improved and was undergoing an EMG with Dr. Russell Shah. Dr. Shah was initially seeing him to rule out complex regional pain syndrome and would be doing the EMG.

He was seen by Dr. Russell J. Shah, MD a neurologist in Henderson, Nevada on August 9, 2006. Complaints included constant left knee pain, swelling and pain involving the left ankle area. The EMG/NCS was considered abnormal with mild to moderate right carpal tunnel, abnormal lower extremity study with mild right L5 motor denervating radiculopathy. Dr. Shah determined that "the patient's symptoms are progressive. He will need repeat testing in 9 months as progress is very likely."

Dr. Shah saw Mr. Rodriguez in follow up on August 18, 2006 at which time he indicated that Mr. Rodriguez required the following:

1. Second opinion left knee...;
2. Continue sleep apnea treatment with CPAP machine;
3. Consider gastric bypass consultation for extreme obesity secondary to left knee injury – he gained apparently 80 lbs. He is likely a candidate for surgery as his life expectancy is likely decreased. He tells me that his genes are good and family members live long in the lineage."
4. Spine surgery lumbar eventually after left knee as his right leg radicular complaints will progressively worsen as he is not getting his left knee problem solved;

5. Wrist splints for now for carpal tunnel syndrome with every 12 month f/u EDX-EMG/NCV to evaluate for progression. He will need CTSR surgery bilaterally as again he is still worsening.
6. Full medical evaluate per PTP – Dr. Koka for heart, cholesterol evaluation as his weight gain is going to predispose him to hypertension, high cholesterol, depression and diabetes. These are likely short, medium and long term derivative complications of prolonged disability and weight gain.”

On August 26, 2006, he was seen by Dr. Robert C. Gutierrez to evaluate his left wrist and right hand numbness of 2 years duration since his fall. The MRI noted “a small tear or perforation in volar 1/3 of SL ligament, synovitis ulnar, ECU tendenosis, nerve test: cervical radicular mild to moderate CTS.” Dr. Gutierrez recommended an injection for CTS which was performed.

On November 14, 2006 Mr. Rodriguez was evaluated at UCLA by Dr. Michael Ferrante at the UCLA Pain Management Center. An additional complaint of tinnitus is noted in the reporting. In the review of systems Dr. Ferrante noted fatigue, weight gain, eye problems, loss of balance, and other additional complaints over his entire body. Recommendations included possible CRPS of the left lower extremity (ankle and knee). He noted if pain continued he would recommend additional bone scans for definitive diagnosis. He also suggested that the patient undergo lumbar sympathetic blocks, trial of clonidine patches and Neurontin as well as bilateral foot and leg x-rays in order to contrast possible osteoporosis in the left lower extremity and foot in comparison to the right. He also stated “I believe the gentleman may have carpal tunnel syndrome and should be evaluated for splints as well as injections. Surgery may be warranted.” He indicates with regard to the tinnitus is “likely that this is due to the injuries sustained on 11/22/04. Audiometry with vestibular studies would be a preliminary step towards its management as well as determining its etiology.” He noted that he was on maintenance psychological therapy with Dr. Mortillaro. In regard to the spine, he notes “the patient denies any recent pre-accident history of neck or back pain. This would definitely favor a direct causation to the accident of November 2004. I understand that he has received a number of injections with little relief of symptoms. I would suggest that he be referred to the Spine Institute at UCLA for evaluations and recommendations.” Dr. Ferrante requested psychological clearance for a discogram as well.

Mr. Rodriguez continued with therapy and other modalities through 2006. He was seen by Dr. Lawrence R. Miller, MD on March 7, 2007 in Beverly Hills, California at the Wilshire Surgical Center. He was referred to Dr. Miller by Dr. Tauber. Mr. Rodriguez complained of left lower extremity pain. Pain was noted to be 9/10 on a constant basis. He also complained of lumbar spine pain at a level 9/10. He complained of neck pain bilaterally which increased with activity. He had left hand and wrist pain consistent with dorsal compartment of the first finger, increased with activity. He complained of right hand numbness and reported symptoms of depression, sleep disturbance and posttraumatic stress. His medications were listed as Elavil, morphine, Vicodin, baclofen, lyrica, buspar, valium, Prozac, albuterol, advair and singulair. His final diagnoses were:

1. Left lower extremity complex regional pain syndrome;
2. Chronic pain syndrome with depression, posttraumatic stress, weight gain and sleep disturbance;
3. Left knee internal derangement
  - a. Status post arthroscopy x2 with residuals;
4. Left de Quervain's tenosynovitis;
5. Left wrist internal derangement;
6. Upper extremity entrapment neuropathy
  - a. Rule out right carpal tunnel;
  - b. Rule out left cubital tunnel;
7. Cervical myofascial pain;
8. Cervical disc disease; and
9. Lumbar disc disease.

Dr. Miller provides rationale for his diagnosis indicating that Mr. Rodriguez meets 5- of the 6 criteria. Definitive diagnosis only requires 4 of 6 of these. This physician recommended physical therapy and lumbar sympathetic blocks with ongoing pain psychology treatment and support with cognitive behavior therapy as indicated. Surgery was not an option at this juncture per the doctor due to the CRPS. His plan indicated:

1. Authorization for lumbar sympathetic blocks (LSBs);
2. Authorization for further physiotherapy to be provided in association with the LSBs;
3. Manual desensitization;
4. MS Contin 30 mg by mouth three times/day renewed;
5. Added Topamax 25 mg at bedtime and increase to a target of 100-150mg. He noted as Topamax is increased the Lyrica and Elavil should be weaned;
6. Quinine sulfate added for nocturnal spasm;
7. Analgesics, adjuvants, including baclofen, Vicodin, Buspar and Prozac renewed.

This doctor noted "In summary, this patient has had a tragic injury with diffuse areas of orthopedic injury. He has developed a chronic pain syndrome with severe depression, sleep disturbance, weight gain. Pain syndrome has been complicated by severe left lower extremity CRPS. Sympathetic ganglion blocks will be performed, but if he does not respond to treatment as outlined above, patient will be considered a candidate for spinal cord stimulator."

Dr. Robert Gutierrez injected the thumb and it was successful. He did not recommend follow up on May 23, 2007 for the thumb unless symptoms returned.

stimulator for left lower extremity pain, rule out orthopedic pathology as cause for knee pain prior to stimulator placement.

The final reporting is from Dr. Michael Crovetti who evaluated Mr. Rodriguez on May 12, 2008. He was referred by Dr. Schifini for evaluation. Dr. Crovetti opined that Mr. Rodriguez was a candidate for a spinal cord stimulator. He noted that the pain complaints in the knee do not correlate with his history. He did not recommend any further knee surgeries at that time.

There are no further records at this time. Receipt of additional records and/or information could require a revision of the Life Care Plan. This plan is currently based on the above records and the October 6, 2008 Interview with Mr. Rodriguez.

INTERVIEW HENRY RODRIGUEZ

Mr. Rodriguez has severe knee pain – he indicated if he could “cry” all day he would. He also has neck and back pain. He has a ligament in his left hand which is injured from using the cane. He is unable to have surgery due to the CRPS in his left knee. His right hand is always abnormal and he has no grip – he has been diagnosed with carpal tunnel – again no surgery due to the CRPS. They also have diagnosed him as having cervical radiculopathy complicating the diagnosis of the right hand. The pain in the neck is an 8-9 and never goes away.

His lower back also has pain. He has no symptoms in the thoracic spine. The MRI showed changes and he has pain “most” of the time. He has difficulty getting out of bed but the adjustable bed was prescribed by one of his physicians and is in place in the home. He was unable to remember which doctor ordered to bed due to the number of physicians involved in his care. He has swelling in the left ankle. He had to have surgery on his left toenail for ingrown toenail. This has been attributed to the CRPS. He is more susceptible to fungus on the left foot. He therefore requires care for these ingrown toenails every other year or more. He sees his Podiatrist, Dr. Stacey, for this service.

Mr. Rodriguez reports he is unable to help with the household activities to any degree whatsoever. He is very upset that he no longer can help his wife clean, do any type of yard work or assist with any chores including cleaning, cooking and/or maintenance around the home.

Mr. Rodriguez indicates he sees multiple physicians and provided their names, specialties and addresses as we went through his current treatment. He also provided a list of his medications and has promised to send, via email, a list showing their current cost. He will provide costs on the CPAP and CPAP supplies as well. He uses this for his sleep apnea which has developed in relation to the weight gain which accompanied the knee injury and development of CRPS. Dr. Shah and Dr. Koka have related this directly to the injury. His weight gain was excessive, almost 80-90 lbs in a relatively short period of time.

He and his wife both indicated that he has been prescribed physical therapy and is attending therapy for his shoulder, knee and spine. It is helping. He does pool, exercise, electrical stimulation and cold packs for therapy. He was prescribed therapy for the shoulder by Dr. Shah and is undergoing ongoing therapy per Dr. Thalgott initially. His current facility is Kelly Hopkins Physical Therapy. He had utilized both Matt Smith and Rancho Physical Therapy but is no longer using these facilities. He did indicate that he is receiving the same therapies.

Mr. Rodriguez indicated that Dr. Koka, Dr. Shah and Dr. Thalgott have all recommended he be seen by a nutritionist. He has not been able to do this as of yet. He does have a significant weight gain he must address.

Mr. Rodriguez is having blood drawn annually for general health panel, liver studies and does a urinalysis to monitor the medication in his system. At least, he assumes this is why he is undergoing these tests to follow up on all the medications he has had to take. His wife confirmed this.

I toured his home. He does have grab bars in the bathroom. This home, however, is temporary and he will require similar equipment when he relocates. His home is actually in Riverside, California but all of his doctors are now in Las Vegas so he has found a temporary residence. His wife indicated that she actually washes his hair and helps him with his showers. She is concerned as the doctors have recommended a shower chair but they do not have one at this time. Dr. Koka had recommended this as well as Dr. Thalgott. He is in the process of getting the prescription written again – this is a safety issue and I spoke with him in length about safety issues and falling in the bathroom. He agreed that he was unsteady and will follow up with his doctors. They do have an adjustable bed in the bedroom so he can change position safely and with less pain. He indicated that doctors have told him that if the CRPS remains as it is at this time, he will have definite mobility issues as he ages and may require a scooter. Thus far, he is able to ambulate with a cane, crutches and/or the walker.

He uses bilateral wrist braces for the upper extremity problems described above. He states that he wears his knee brace except when he is in the home. Mrs. Rodriguez must do all of the household duties and also, notes that she assists him with all activities of daily living. She estimates her time at 4.5 hours/day. It is possible she may have to work to bring in income in which case, he would require this additional assistance at home.

Dr. Shah has indicated that Mr. Rodriguez may require a total knee replacement. However, currently with the CRPS, no surgery can be performed. A spinal stimulator has also been recommended and the trial completed. He is waiting to have this finished as it did lessen the pain. Dr. Koka, Dr. Shah and Dr. Thalgott have all recommended weight loss and gastric bypass. They attribute the weight gain to the knee injury and subsequent CRPS. Mr. Rodriguez indicated he gets blocks for the pain and he has been told he will need additional ones in the future. He also has been told he will need additional epidural injections for the cervical spine.

Mr. Rodriguez states he cries "a lot" and feels "useless". He feels like Mrs. Rodriguez is his hands and feet and that she has been over burdened. She does all of the work around the home. He indicates his memory is scattered and she had to take over finances as well. He is very upset that he is unable to contribute to his household. He would like to get going with the additional recommended treatment – spinal stimulator – and hopefully this will help him to be able to do more in his life. He is on multiple medications for his depression and he feels these do help him.

PAST MEDICAL HISTORY

ER admission records indicate a past history of asthma and an appendectomy.

DIAGNOSES – ATTRIBUTED TO ACCIDENT November 22, 2004

Based on the above reporting and doctors' opinions they have included the following diagnoses and related them to the accident of November 22, 2004.

1. Left knee meniscal tear with subsequent instability and development of Complex Regional Pain Syndrome.
2. Lumbar and cervical spine strain/sprain with development of myofascial pain syndrome;
3. Chronic pain syndrome with depression, post traumatic stress, weight gain and sleep disturbance with diagnosis of sleep apnea and morbid obesity;
4. Tinnitus;
5. Left wrist internal derangement, upper extremity entrapment neuropathy, rule out right carpal tunnel syndrome, left cubital tunnel syndrome and de Quervain's tenosynovitis;
6. Cervical myofascial pain.
7. Development of pain in the shoulder from overuse of cane on the right side. Now being treated by Dr. Shah.

FUNCTIONAL CAPABILITIES

Mr. Rodriguez describes his abilities as follows. These abilities are also supported by reporting from Dr. Miller, Dr. Montillaro, Dr. Ferrante, Dr. Kidwell, Dr. Shah, Dr. Koka and Dr. Gutierrez as well as additional physicians whose records are reviewed above.

Eating, Grooming, Bathing, Dressing

Mr. Rodriguez is able to perform grooming activities of daily living and is assisted by his wife with dressing and showering. She also assists him with cooking meals, laundry and household cleaning – he is unable to do any of these activities without significant help.

Bowel and Bladder Management

Mr. Rodriguez suffers from constipation which the doctors have attributed to the amount of medication he is taking. He has difficulty urinating as well. The doctors are unsure what is causing this and have recommended he see an Urologist. He has followed up with Dr. Koka for this who is considering referral.

Walking/Standing/Sitting/Muscles and Bones

He can walk for 5-10 minutes and sit for a short period of time. He can drive to his therapy and makes a stop if he needs to get up or change positions. He can drive 30-45 minutes then must stop. He lifts under 10 lbs. He has constant pain in the knee with all of these activities.

Skin and Soft Tissue

Mr. Rodriguez has swelling, heat and loss of hair on the left ankle. This is due to the CRPS. He does have some skin breakdown where he wears the brace but he now takes it off and on when he is at home and this has improved.

Upper Extremity Use

As noted above, Mr. Rodriguez has cubital tunnel syndrome in his left upper extremity. He has also developed shoulder problems on the right related to the use of the cane and he is receiving therapy at this time. His right hand is numb with tingling which is attributed to both carpal tunnel syndrome and cervical radiculopathy. He has been prescribed and wears bilateral braces on his wrists.

Lower Extremity Use

Mr. Rodriguez uses a cane and a brace on the left injured knee. He is able to ambulate around the home without these. His home has no carpeting and smooth floors.

Visual Deficits

None reported.

Cognitive Deficits

He states he has a loss of memory and believes it is due to pain and depression. He did hit at the time of injury his head but has not been diagnosed with a head injury.

Body Weight

Mr. Rodriguez has been diagnosed with morbid obesity which led to his sleep apnea. He gained over 90 lbs since the accident. Prior to the accident he went to the gym and was extremely active. Pictures provided showed him to be in excellent shape. He is unable to perform any type of outdoor or athletic activity due to CRPS, bilateral wrist, right shoulder, lumbar and cervical spine injuries.

Fine Motor Skills

He has numbness and tingling and no grip or fine motor ability in his right hand.

Psychological Functioning

Mr. Rodriguez is very tearful when discussing the accident. He states he can sleep up to 12-18 hour. He naps during the day and also worries because he is unable to do anything. He has been diagnosed with severe depression. He naps up to 3 hours during the day even if he sleeps 12 hours or more during the night.

LIFE EXPECTANCY

Mr. Rodriguez was injured on November 22, 2004 at the time of injury he was 41.36 years of age. His life expectancy was 78.04 years at the time of injury. At the time of this report October 21, 2008 he is 45.27 years of age with a remaining life expectancy of 32.77 years.

LIFE CARE PLAN TABLES

The following are the narrative explanations for Tables A through O. Each table addresses a specific category of current and/or future need. If complications develop and/or as accelerated aging alters Mr. Rodriguez's medical condition and functional status and/or new information is provided this may result in the need for revision of this plan. Costs provided on the tables reflect current pricing obtained through interviews with suppliers, facilities, pharmacies and other health care providers, either telephonically, in person or via the internet. This life care plan does not include any incident-related costs incurred by Mr. Rodriguez prior to the completion of this report. The final figures may change if the treatment plan changes as a reflection of a change in his current condition. This document is not a certified or bonded estimate. It is intended only to provide a gross estimate of the cost for projected services for the educational benefits of all interested parties. A revision will be required when additional medical records are received.

A. Projected Evaluations

Mr. Rodriguez will require ongoing evaluations by Dr. Gutierrez, Orthopedist, for thumb injections and to follow upper extremity problems. This is estimated as 4x/year at this time. He has seen him more frequently in the past. He should have an In-home Physical Therapy Evaluation now and an additional 3 times in the future to assess what adaptive equipment will improve his independence including any items which would assist him in performing activities of daily living. He indicates he has been referred to a Surgeon, Dr. Vader, to place the spinal stimulator. Dr. Vader will need to see him a total of approximately 6 times before and after the surgery. He will then be followed by Dr. Thalgot, Dr. Shah and Dr. Koka. Finally, he experiences ingrown toenails on an infrequent basis and he must see Dr. Stacey, his Podiatrist, approximately every other year.

The doctor indicated that this will be an ongoing problem related to the fungus developed due to CRPS.

B. Routine Medical Care

Mr. Rodriguez requires the care of a Spinal Orthopedist, Dr. Elkanich, to follow his cervical and lumbar spine. He sees him 2x/year and will continue to do so. He will also continue to see Dr. Thalgott, Pain Management physician, who follows his spine and neck, does the epidurals and will follow him for the spinal stimulator. He sees him 6x/year. He requires the care of his Internal Medicine physician, Dr. Koka, who monitors and prescribes all of the medications in concert with the other consultants. This doctor monitors his general health, liver etc. in relation to these medications. He sees him 12x/year. Dr. Koka also follows the weight gain. He will require additional care on an ongoing basis with Dr. Gutierrez as indicated in Table A. He requires the care of Dr. Russell Shah, Neurologist, whom he sees 6x/year to follow the upper extremity problems. He is seen by his ENT, Dr. Kim, for the sleep apnea. Finally, he will continue to see a Pain Psychologist, Dr. Mortillaro, for maintenance therapy related to his CRPS and chronic pain and depression.

C. Projected Therapeutic Modalities

Dr. Shah has recently added a prescription for Physical Therapy. He requires aquatic exercises as well as electrical stimulation and heat/cold packs from Kelly Hopkins Physical Therapy. They are treating the right shoulder, cervical spine, lumbar spine and his knee. He should also be evaluated and followed by a Nutritionist. He indicates that several doctors have recommended this including Dr. Shah and Dr. Koka.

D. Diagnostic Testing

Mr. Rodriguez indicated during the conversation that different doctors have continued to recommend additional diagnostic studies. Dr. Koka has recommended and performs annual Liver Studies, HGB/HCT and Urinalysis to assist in monitoring his kidney and liver function due to the amount of medication he is taking and due to his obesity. Mr. Rodriguez has a reduced ability to fight disease and should receive a Flu Shot on an annual basis. This is included to age 65 as it would be required at that time by general health standards. He will require additional MRI/CT of the lumbar spine, cervical spine and left knee. The timing of these has been almost every other year to each year and the doctors have not indicated this will change.

E. Aids for Independent Function

Mr. Rodriguez requires the following equipment which has been prescribed by Drs. Koka, Thalgott, Gutierrez, Miller, and Shah as well as additional doctors in the records. The following is either in the home or has been prescribed:

1. Grab Bars;
2. Additional Aids for Independent Function per the PT Eval In the home;
3. Cane;
4. CPAP with humidifier;
5. Filter for CPAP;
6. CPAP Supplies including mask, tubing, nose clamp and sterile water;
7. Heavy duty walker;
8. Cervical collar;
9. Bilateral hand braces and trigger thumb brace;
10. Regular crutches;
11. Deluxe Shower Bench with Back; and
12. Hand Held Shower.

He will require a heavy duty shower bench, cane and walker due to his weight. These items are for safety and independence and are discussed above.

F. Wheelchairs, Accessories and Maintenance

Mr. Rodriguez does not use a wheelchair. He will require a Mobility Scooter when he reaches approximately age 60-65 as his knees, spine and hands will not be able to continue to support him safely. This could occur sooner if his weight is not addressed. This would also include maintenance, tires, battery and battery charger.

G. Prosthetics and Orthotics

Mr. Rodriguez has been prescribed bilateral wrist braces by Dr. Shah, a trigger thumb brace by Dr. Shah and the knee brace by various doctors but most recently by Dr. Shah who is treating his CRPS.

H. Home Furnishings and Accessories

Dr. Thalgott has prescribed an Double Adjustable Bed for Mr. Rodriguez so he can change position and safely get up and out of bed independently.

I. Drug Supplies and Needs

Mr. Rodriguez provided me a list of his current medications. He indicated that he does not anticipate them changing in the future but this will also depend on the effectiveness of the spinal stimulator. He takes the following (related to the accident):

1. Valium 10 mg as needed (approximately 80/yr)
2. Albuterol inhaler (pre accident)
3. Hydrocodone 7.5 mg/750mg 3x/day
4. Morphine 30 mg 3x/day

5. Effexor XR 37.5mg 1x/day
6. Topamax 100 mg 2x/day
7. Lovastatin 20 mg 1x/day
8. Cyclobenzaprine 10 mg 1x/day
9. Doc-Q-Lace 100 mg 3x/day
10. Enulose Syrup 30 gm 2x/day
11. Singulair 10 mg 1x/day (pre accident)
12. Advair Disk 250/50 2x/day (pre accident)
13. Mupirocin 22gm 2% 2x/day
14. Viagra 100 mg as needed (estimate 90/year)

J. Home Care

Mr. Rodriguez will also require a Home Health Assistant for approximately 4.5 hours/day. Mrs. Rodriguez indicates she spends at least this amount of time and if she goes to work he will need assistance with bathing, dressing and other complex activities of daily living requiring balance and flexibility.

K. Future Surgeries

Mr. Rodriguez has been told he will require a Spinal Stimulator implanted by Dr. Vader. This was recommended by Dr. Thalgott and other physicians. He has undergone the trial and is awaiting permanent placement. He may require, after the CRPS is under control, a Total Knee Replacement for his left knee which has degenerative changes. Dr. Shah has recommended a Gastric Bypass which should help the obesity and sleep apnea. This is life threatening per Dr. Shah at this time. He has also received, and Dr. Elkanich has indicated will receive in the future, cervical epidural injections. Finally, he will require additional lumbar sympatheic ganglion blocks to get the CRPS under control. It is possible he will also require procedures for his shoulder and wrists, but at this juncture, these have not been recommended as necessary, only discussed by his different doctors.

L. Recreational/Leisure Needs

No specific recommendations have been made in this category.

M. Architectural Modifications

Mr. Rodriguez will require grab bars in any home he lives in but at this time there are no other specific architectural modifications he will require.

N. Transportation

Mr. Rodriguez will require Mileage to and from the appointments in this Life Care Plan. Using Map Quest, I have estimated this at approximately 500 miles each year at the IRS rate of $.58/mile. This figure could change if he requires care outside of Las Vegas, Nevada or if the IRS rate changes. No other items are included on this table.

O. Potential Complications

There are multiple complications to his many disabilities. This table is for information purposes only as there is no predictability to these conditions. The amount listed is a range provided by benchmarks and literature for the conditions listed. These complications could include Risk for Falls, Depression with Risk for Suicide, Arthritic and Degenerative Changes accelerated by obesity and CRPS and Shoulder Degeneration with the need for Surgery. These are listed or considered as medically possible not medically probable.

EXHIBIT M

1 THE COURT: Very well.

2 BY MR. BAKER:

3 Q Have all of the opinions you've been given just now
4 to a reasonable degree of medical probability?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Thank you.

7 [Pause]

8 THE COURT: Mr. Ward.

9 MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Whenever you're ready.

11 [Pause]

12 CROSS-EXAMINATION

13 BY MR. WARD:

14 Q Good morning, Dr. Kidwell.

15 A Good morning, sir.

16 Q Now do you know who Dr. Thalgott is?

17 A Yes, I do.

18 Q Who's Dr. Thalgott?

19 A He's an orthopedic spine surgeon.

20 Q He's an orthopedic spine surgeon.

21 A That's correct.

22 Q And now, do you ever refer patients to Dr. Thalgott?

23 A Yes, I do.

24 Q You do. Why do you refer them to Dr. Thalgott?

25 A Because he's an excellent spine surgeon.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 Q And do you rely on him to make a diagnosis as to
2 when surgery is appropriate?

3 A Yes, many times. Yes.

4 Q Well, if you -- what I'm asking -- and perhaps my
5 question wasn't a very good one. If you had a patient who you
6 had a question about whether they needed back surgery, and you
7 referred him to -- him or her to Dr. Thalgott, you would
8 expect Dr. Thalgott to do an independent evaluation.

9 A That's correct.

10 Q You wouldn't expect that you would make a
11 determination of what kind of surgery would be performed and
12 then just ask Dr. Thalgott to perform that?

13 A Oh, no. He's -- what surgery would need to be done
14 would be strictly his call.

15 Q Okay. So --

16 A In my role, I have a pretty good feel for who might
17 be surgical, but ultimately, the decision to do surgery is up
18 to the surgeon.

19 Q Right. And when Dr. Thalgott does surgery and does
20 it under some sort of an anesthetic, does he often have an
21 anesthesiologist?

22 A Well, I would hope so.

23 Q Okay. He wouldn't do that himself?

24 A No.

25 Q He wouldn't make that call?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. Would you explain to the Judge why that is?

3 A Well, the knee is the primary pain component. Once
4 you treat that, you see what's left, number one. Number two,
5 the spinal cord stimulator now can cover back pain and leg
6 pain. That's new technology. Two years ago you couldn't make
7 that statement. Spinal cord stimulator wouldn't treat leg
8 pain.

9 Usually in the context of a failure back surgery
10 syndrome, but RSD is certainly an indication for it as well.
11 But now the technology exists that with a tripole technology,
12 we can cover back pain from about L-1 on down pretty reliably.

13 Q And Dr. Schifini testified that he actually put a
14 lead to his back on the temporary spinal cord stimulator.

15 A Right.

16 Q And that that didn't help his back pain except
17 transiently. Did you understand that?

18 A I didn't know that, but whether I did or not is 19 irrelevant because that was done more than two years ago if I
20 recall.

21 Q Correct. Now you've stated that you know
22 Dr. Thalgott, is that right?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q And he's a good surgeon?

25 A He's a great surgeon.

1 Q And you've transferred patients back and forth with
2 him?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Would Dr. Thalgott ever recommend surgery on a
5 person awaiting a spinal cord stimulator for his knee that
6 he's unable to get?

7 MR. WARD: Object, no foundation for this. We don't know
8 what Dr. Thalgott has to say about this. This is speculative.

9 THE COURT: Mr. Baker.

10 MR. BAKER: He said he understands Dr. Thalgott. They
11 refer patients back and forth. He's had experience with
12 patients with Dr. Thalgott and he's aware for the standards
13 for prescribing surgery and recommending surgery in patients.

14 MR. WARD: Your Honor, this witness said on
15 cross-examination that he didn't know what was in
16 Dr. Thalgott's mind and that he couldn't even interpret
17 Dr. Thalgott's suspicions in his medical records. So, how he 18 could possibly offer this kind of an opinion is without
19 foundation.

20 THE COURT: Well, let me ask you this, Mr. Baker. The
21 way you phrased your question, it was a general one. Does it
22 apply to specifically the Plaintiff?

23 MR. BAKER: Huh-uh, general.

24 THE COURT: General question?

25 MR. BAKER: Yeah, but I can restate the question.

2 applies to Plaintiff.

3 BY MR. BAKER:

4 Q Would it be acceptable to recommend surgery for
5 Enrique Rodriguez on his back when he is still suffering from
6 an untreated RSD on his knee?

7 A I have not seen Dr. Thalgott do that, so I don't
8 think so.

9 Q Okay. And it's nothing that you would recommend?

10 A Uh-uh.

11 Q And because you will continue to have the postural
12 changes, is that correct?

13 A Correct.

14 Q And will you explain to the Judge, is there a cycle
15 associated with the back pain and the postural changes, the
16 limping and the use of assistive devices?

17 A When his pain is bad, I would anticipate that he
18 would have an altered gait, altered posture, and that would
19 adversely affect his back.

20 Q And we've heard testimony in this Court as well
21 about the fact that if back surgery was done before his knee
22 was repaired, he would likely rip out that back surgery due to
23 the continued postural changes. Do you have an opinion with 24 respect to that?

25 MR. WARD: Objection, leading, argumentative.

2 THE COURT: Overruled.

3 THE WITNESS: Oh.

4 THE COURT: You can answer the question, sir.

5 THE WITNESS: That would put asymmetric stress on the
6 back and could, if you fused one level, it would probably
7 accelerate adjacent segment breakdown.

8 BY MR. BAKER:

9 Q Another thing too, since Dr. Thalgott's reports,
10 it's been three years, is that right?

11 A Correct.

12 Q Could you explain to a reasonable degree of medical
13 probability to the Judge what's been occurring with respect to 14 Enrique's back and neck as a result of continued postural
15 changes?

16 A My suspicion is that it would continue to hurt and
17 possibly get worse --

18 MR. WARD: Object.

19 THE WITNESS: -- mechanically.

20 MR. WARD: Move to strike. There's no foundation that
21 this doctor knows what's been going on. In fact, the
22 foundation is specifically to the contrary. He began his
23 answer with, "My suspicion." It calls for speculation and no
24 foundation.

25 THE COURT: Sustain the objection.

2 Q Doctor, in patients that you've treated who have
3 continued to have postural changes over time, could you please
4 explain to the Judge they cycle that they get into with
5 respect to their pain complaints?

6 MR. WARD: Relevance unless it relates to this patient.

7 MR. BAKER: Well, he's a human being like any other human
8 being, isn't he?

9 THE COURT: Overrule the objection.

10 THE WITNESS: As I said, my suspicion is most patients I
11 would expect, I would anticipate would go on to have further
12 pain as a result of their altered gait and posture.

13 BY MR. BAKER:

14 Q And does the altered gait and posture help the
15 condition or does it hinder and hurt the condition?

16 A It hurts the condition. It makes it worse.

17 Q In what way?

18 A Continued asymmetric stress on the structure
19 involved.

20 Q Thank you, Doctor.

21 MR. BAKER: No further questions, Your Honor.

4 RE-CROSS-EXAMINATION

5 BY MR. WARD:

6 Q Doctor, the diagnosis you made on this patient is
7 what, that he has some internal nerve fibers growing in his
8 disc?

9 A No, the definition was internal disc disruption.

10 Q And you think that's what's causing the problem?

11 A Most likely, yes.

12 Q Okay. You haven't seen anything like that from
13 Dr. Thalgott with respect to this patient, have you?

14 A Didn't he in one of his notes say this is discogenic
15 pain?

16 Q I don't know. Did he?

17 A I saw it.

18 Q Did -- but you're suggesting that he's a surgical
19 candidate, isn't that right?

20 A I'm suggesting he's a potential surgical candidate.

21 Q And Dr. Thalgott says unequivocally that he's not a
22 surgical candidate, isn't that true?

23 A At that point and time, yes.

24 Q Well, at that point and time. You haven't seen this
25 patient for how many years?

AVTranz

1 A Three or four years.

2 Q And so all of the treatment that you're testifying
3 to about occurring tot his patient and what he had got and
4 what he needed in the last three-and-a-half years has all been
5 since the very last time you saw this patient, is that true?

6 A True, but what you should be asking me is why do I
7 think he's a potential surgical candidate. That's what we're
8 not asking here.

9 Q But I'm not asking you that because you're an
10 anesthesiologist. You're no spine surgeon. So you don't do
11 spine surgeries, do you?

12 A Correct, but I --

13 Q Okay.

14 A -- send people to surgeons for surgery.

15 Q And you send people to spine surgeons to do
16 evaluations and offer opinions?

17 A Well, I would think you'd want to know why I'm
18 saying what I'm saying.

19 Q Isn't it true that you send them to spine surgeons
20 to offer opinions?

21 A Correct.

22 Q And you expect them to look at the patient and
23 evaluate them?

24 A Remember, Dr. Thalgott sent the patient to me, but
25 I'll take them.

2 this patient to you to tell him whether he should be doing

4 A No.

5 Q Okay. Thank you.

6 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

7 FURTHER REDIRECT EXAMINATION

8 BY MR. BAKER:

9 Q So, why? So, why?

10 MR. WARD: Did he see it's the scope of the direct or the
11 recross?

12 MR. BAKER: It's exactly the whole point of the recross,
13 Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: I think the question is appropriate, but I'll
15 ask you to narrow the focus some.

16 BY MR. BAKER:

17 Q Did you want to respond to the question why do you
18 believe he's going to require a lumbar surgery?

19 A Yes, I mean I think that's the crux of the whole
20 thing, why.

21 Q Give it to us.

22 A A surgeon will say they're not a surgical candidate
23 at this point and time. He doesn't feel he's appropriate for 24 surgery at this point and time. There is incomplete data,
25 simply incomplete data.

AVTranz

1           The hypothesis is that he has internal disc
2 disruption in the lumbar spine. There are two basic
3 structures that cause this kind of pain in the low back, discs
4 and facet joints. Neither one of them have been explored as
5 far as a potential pain generator.

6           The symptoms are most consistent with discogenic
7 pain. It could be facet pain, but most consistently with
8 discogenic or perhaps both. The way to prove or disprove the
9 hypothesis is to do a discogram.

10          Q    And we talked about the fact that -- or you spoke
11 about the fact that we don't want to cause pain, that your
12 lumbar epidural injections aren't painful. Tell her about a
13 discogram.

14          A    A discogram is very painful. It's the worst
15 procedure I do on people. We don't take it lightly. You take 16 a patient, you put needles in all the discs you are going to
17 test, and under pressure you'll inject x-ray contrast to
18 stretch the disc. If the disc is torn or causing discogenic
19 pain, it hurts -- excuse my French -- it hurts like hell.
20 It's extremely painful.

21                I've seen patients with Post-Traumatic Stress
22 Disorder have discograms. It's something we don't take
23 lightly and there are techniques to blunt the pain of it.

24          Q    And isn't actually the point of the discogram to re
25 -- give me the word. It's called committing pain, but it's

1 to --

2 A Reproduce.

3 Q -- reproduce --

4 A Reproduce the pain, identify the pain generator, and
5 that's what this is all about is identifying the exact pain
6 generator. You can look at an MRI and see multi level disc
7 disease. You don't know what's hurting. You don't know which
8 disc or which structure is actually causing that pain. And
9 that's the purpose of these procedures, to determine exactly
10 which structure would require surgery if surgery was an 11 option.

12 Dr. Thalgott doesn't have any more information than
13 I do. He's an excellent surgeon and I understand him
14 completely. At that point and time, he's not a surgical
15 candidate. He also has the specter of his knee problem, not a
16 surgical candidate.

17 However, let's say he didn't have a knee problem and
18 I did a discogram showing that he had maybe one or two levels
19 positive. I guarantee he'd be a surgical candidate. And 20 based by multiple reputable spine surgeons in this town.

21 Q And he --

22 A Now, I am not a spine surgeon. I admit it, but I
23 sure work with them a lot.

24 Q And can I ask you to turn --

25 MR. WARD: Wait, I want to voice an objection. I object

1 to the last response and I move to strike on the basis that
2 it's speculative. He's talking about things that Dr. Thalgott
3 might have done or would have done. Dr. Thalgott has not been
4 here to testify. Dr. Thalgott hasn't seen the patient for
5 several years. This gentleman hasn't seen the patient for
6 several years. It is all speculative.

7 MR. BAKER: He's talking about the course of treatment
8 that someone with a diagnosis of internal disc disruption.
9 That's a recognize diagnosis within the community, a diagnosis
10 he deals with all the time. He has a tremendous experience of 11 individuals who are diagnosed with internal disc disruption.

12 He set the foundation, the fact that they ruled out
13 a radicular component. He's testified to a reasonable degree
14 of medical probability that the pain is discogenic rather than 15 neurogenic and testified to a reasonable degree of probability
16 that there's an internal disc disruption. There's a complete
17 foundation for that question.

18 THE COURT: Any final thoughts, Mr. Ward?

19 MR. WARD: I won't waste the Court's time by repeating
20 what I just said, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Objection is noted for the record.
22 Overruled.

3 A I did.

4 Q Okay. And what were you asked -- well, first of
5 all, when were you hired; do you remember?

6 A I want to say the second quarter of this year I
7 produced the report on the 19th of August. So that seems
8 right.

9 Q Okay. And what were you asked to do?

10 A To develop, unless I already had one, and render an 11 opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to 12 throwing objects, memorabilia, promotional articles into
13 crowds.

14 Q Okay. Now the concept of throwing articles,
15 memorabilia, whatever, into crowds, is that something that you
16 were familiar with?

17 A I have been all my security career, yes, sir.

18 Q Okay. And, I mean, you didn't say: Oh, my
19 goodness, I've never heard of anybody doing this?

20 A Let me do it another way. I never -- I've hardly
21 ever heard of anybody not doing it.

22 Q Okay. And so in terms of what it was you did to
23 prepare for this case, to prepare to give an opinion and write

25 A I reviewed some documentation, some depositions that

2 from Palms, and I formed an opinion.

3 Q Okay. And after you formed an opinion did you
4 prepare a report?

5 A I did, it's here as Exhibit 69.

6 Q Okay. And what opinion did you come to?

7 A That throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort
8 into crowds is not a substandard protocol.

9 Q Okay. And are you familiar with other places that
10 throw items into crowds?

11 A I am. In fact I've initiated processes where we've
12 thrown items into many crowds, both in the philanthropic
13 operations, as well as completely secure venues.

14 Q Okay. And with respect to organizations that you
15 belong to, do you belong to any large organizations?

16 A I belong to ASIS International, which has 83,000
17 members, of which as many as 30 to 50,000 attend an annual
18 conference.

19 Q And have you attended the annual conference?

20 A Almost every year, with very few exceptions.

21 Q And that's a security group?

22 A It is a security group.

23 Q And do they throw items, promotional items into the
24 audience at the conference?

25 A We do that two ways: the conference is a series of

2 keynote speakers like Colin Powell, and Sully, the guy that
3 crashed the plane into -- into the Hudson River. Somebody
4 always of repute. And they had exhibits, and the exhibits
5 there are, I think there were 1100 exhibitors almost every
6 year.

7 They, the exhibitors, regularly throw packages of
8 mints, hand sanitizer, young ladies from Stanley a couple of 9 years ago threw small basketballs. The Canadian contingent in
10 fact has Canada Night, which is a sort of adjunct breakout,
11 threw hockey pucks, real life hard hockey pucks into the
12 crowd.

13 So, yes. And that's impressive to me because this
14 is the largest security organization on the planet, so clearly
15 there's no standard that they reached.

16 Q Okay. And have you seen the Palms area where this
17 incident occurred?

18 A Yes, sir, I have.

19 Q And was there anything about the Palms area where 20 this occurred that you thought would preclude the tossing of
21 promotional items to people that were there?

22 A Well, in fairness, given the time that I saw it,
23 which is several years after the event, unless there were some
24 drastic architectural or structural changes, I saw nothing
25 that would have --

3 A That's what I just heard, yes.

4 Q And you read in her deposition too, that that's
5 because throwing promotional items in the sports bar of a
6 hotel created a foreseeable danger to people in that room?

13 Q Mr. Franklin, if all of those things that Mr. Baker

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. With respect to the safety, is it your
18 opinion as a security expert and a crowd control expert that
19 it is unsafe to throw things into crowds?

20 A It's my opinion it's not unsafe to throw things into 21 crowds.

22 Q So do you see any evidence that anyone
23 conscientiously disregarded the safety of people?

24 A No, I don't.

1 objection, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: I don't --

3 MR. BAKER: Dr. Cargill's report put out two bases that
4 he was critical of Terry Dinneen. One was that he continued
5 to project a future income based upon a housing market that
6 has changed and a burst bubble, and the second was that the
7 discounting rates that he used were today's discounting rates
8 instead of some other type of thing.

9 He never, ever mentions the information that was
10 relied on, has no criticism of the information relied on, and
11 in no way reflects that that information makes it -- any way
12 impacts the ability for Mr. Dinneen to calculate the wage
13 loss.

14 THE COURT: Sustain the objection.

15 BY MR. WARD:

16 Q Dr. Cargill, when you -- you first heard this report
17 of August 17, 2010, is that correct?

18 A Well, I prepared two reports.

19 Q Okay.

20 A The August report and then as a supplemental report
21 in October.

22 MR. BAKER: I don't have a supplemental report. Did you
23 say August report?

24 THE WITNESS: Yes, August 17, 2010 was my original report
25 and then I provided a supplemental report on October 5th.

1 BY MR. WARD:

2 Q Dr. Cargill, let me ask you about your report at the
3 bottom of page 2, the report that titles, "Estimate of Lost
4 Compensation." Do you see that?

5 A Yes, I do.

6 Q Now, in your report, you note that Mr. Dinneen has
7 made some opinions based upon the market, is that correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And what he's done is he has averaged the earnings
10 over the period of 1999 to the year 2004, is that correct?

11 A Well, that was my understanding what he did.

12 Q Okay.

13 A But that's not what he actually did.

14 Q Okay. But that was your understanding at the time?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And you used -- and then he used that as an estimate
17 of pre-incident future earnings, correct?

18 A Correct.

19 Q And do you think that is appropriate?

20 A Well, no, I did not.

21 Q Right. And in your report, you say what? What's 22 your criticism of that?

23 A Well, I said that it is inappropriate to average
24 earnings over the period from 1999 to 2004 and use the average
25 as an estimate of pre-incident future earnings.

1 an averaging technique that Mr. Dinneen utilized and spoke to,
2 this Court has now three times sustained my objection with
3 respect to that line of questioning.

4 THE COURT: Well, I'd sustain the objection as previously
5 sustained.

6 BY MR. WARD:

7 Q The reason why you can't use 2004 data in the same
8 way as other data is because it's influenced by the bubble in
9 the housing market. Is that true?

10 A That is correct. And when I make the statement
11 about the average, I'm talking about '99, 2000, 2001. That
12 was not a bubble period. It is inappropriate to claim.

13 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this is five times now.

14 THE WITNESS: Can I finish answering the question?

15 THE COURT: Well, there's nothing in his report at all
16 that addressed the issue of averaging as I understand it.

17 MR. BAKER: He says that it is inappropriate to average
18 in the context of the bursting housing market, in the bursting
19 bubble. Now he's speaking about the methodology of averaging
20 as being inappropriate.

21 If he wants to talk about the bursting, the Court
22 understands my objection.

23 THE COURT: I do. Please proceed, Mr. Ward.

24 MR. WARD: Yes.

1 Q You also had problems with Mr. Dinneen's discounting
2 rate?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Could you -- and you're using a historical rate?

5 A No.

6 Q What rate did you use?

7 A I'm using a rate that is based on economic theory,
8 economic evidence, what the U.S. Congressional Budget Office
9 uses.

10 Q Give me a number.

11 A Would you please let me finish?

12 THE COURT: Yeah, I think you should. Mr. Baker --

13 MR. BAKER: Sorry, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: -- you keep firing questions. He can't
15 finish his answer before you fire another one.

16 MR. BAKER: There was caffeine in the cough drop.

17 THE WITNESS: What the trustees of the Social Security
18 Administration use, and they use a real interest rate of 3
19 percent. So, whatever inflation rate you assume, the discount
20 rate automatically is determined.

21 If you assume a 1 percent inflation rate, then the
22 discount rate is 4 percent. If you assume a 2 percent
23 inflation rate, then the discount is 5 percent. It's the
24 ratio that's important. So I use a real interest rate of 3
25 percent, which is based on economic theory, economic evidence.

1 But we're -- economists are very, very confident
2 that that real interest rate ranges between 2 and 4 and 3 is a
3 good average. And that's what pretty much everybody uses.

4 Q And is that a conservative number?

5 A I don't know if I'd call it conservative. You could
6 certainly make an argument that it could be a little higher,
7 but I think for a long run real return on government
8 securities, 3 percent is -- a real return of 3 percent would
9 be acceptable to almost anybody that really knows the 10 financial system.

11 Q Thank you.

12 A And the problem in focusing on current interest
13 rates is very low.

14 MR. BAKER: Your Honor. That's all right.

15 THE WITNESS: But if you go out and buy a bunch of bonds
16 at low interest rates, you're going to have a capital loss in
17 a couple of years because as interest rates rise and everybody
18 projects that they're going to rise, the value of bonds will 19 fall. That's why you can't use current interest rates. It's
20 economic nonsense.

21 MR. WARD: Thank you, Doctor.

22 THE WITNESS: Okay.

23 MR. BAKER: No questions, Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: No follow-up, Mr. Baker?

25 MR. BAKER: No follow-up, Your Honor.

40 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on the 5 th day of May, 2011, at the hour of

41 ZA126/1108917-1

DEFENDANT FIESTA PALMS, LLC'S NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

In Chambers

1 _____, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, Defendant will bring the foregoing
2 motion on for hearing before the Honorable <sup>Jessie</sup> Walsh in Department X of the Eighth
3 Judicial District Court, at the Regional Justice Center, 200 Lewis Avenue, Las Vegas, NV 89155.

4 This Motion is made and based on the Notice of Motion, Memorandum of Points and
5 Authorities, Declaration of Kenneth C. Ward in Support of Motion ("Ward Decl.") and exhibits
6 thereto, [all of which are annexed hereto], all pleadings and papers on file in this action, and any 7 and all further argument and evidence in support hereof that the Court may hear and receive.

8 This Motion is based on the fact that there were several irregularities that led to an unjust
9 verdict against the Palms. First, the prevailing party, plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez ("Plaintiff"),
10 and his counsel, engaged in misconduct that materially prejudiced the Palms by producing 11 documents at trial for the first time, which prevented the Palms from being able to review the 12 documents and prepare for the documents prior to trial. Second, the court committed error in
13 permitting the Plaintiff to have four medical treaters testify on behalf of 25 treaters, and in subject
14 areas in which they are not qualified. Third, the body of evidence the Palms produced at trial
15 demonstrated that Plaintiff's evidence was insufficient to justify the verdict, and finally, the Court
16 was in error when it granted Plaintiff's motion to strike the Palms' experts' opinions.

17 As will be unveiled in the moving papers, these facts, issues and circumstances all 18 combined to deny the Palms a fair trial. These defects can only be remedied by the granting of 19 new trial.

Case No. A531538

DEFENDANT FIESTA PALMS, LLC'S
REPLY MEMORANDUM/OPPOSITION
TO PLAINTIFF'S MEMORANDUM RE:
PRE-JUDGMENT INTEREST

Defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC dba THE PALMS CASINO RESORT hereby submits this Memorandum in Reply to Plaintiff's Memorandum Re: Pre-Judgment Interest.

I. THE CORRECT PREJUDGMENT INTEREST RATE IS 5.25 PERCENT, NOT 10.25 PERCENT AS SUGGESTED BY PLAINTIFF

Plaintiff's memorandum on pre-judgment interest incorrectly calculates claimed prejudgment interest on Plaintiff's past damages, claiming a liquidated amount totaling $829,960.20.

ZA126/1113669-1

FIESTA PALMS, LLC'S REPLY MEMO/OPPOSITION TO PLAINTIFF'S MEMO
RE: PRE-JUDGMENT INTEREST

1 Plaintiff came to this amount using a 10.25 percent interest rate for the 1,548 days from the date
2 of service of Plaintiff's complaint until the date judgment was entered. Plaintiff's memorandum
3 fails to articulate the assumptions relied upon in identifying the claimed interest rate at 8.25 per 4 cent.

5 In any event, plaintiff's calculation is incorrect. Nevada Revised Statute section 17.130
6 governs the calculation of pre-judgment interest:

7 1. In all judgments and decrees, rendered by any court of justice, for any 8 debt, damages or costs, and in all executions issued thereon, the amount must be 9 computed, as near as may be, in dollars and cents, rejecting smaller fractions, and 10 no judgment, or other proceedings, may be considered erroneous for that omission.

11 2. When no rate of interest is provided by contract or otherwise by law, or 12 specified in the judgment, the judgment draws interest from the time of 13 service of the summons and complaint until satisfied, except for any amount
14 representing future damages, which draws interest only from the time of the entry 15 of the judgment until satisfied, at a rate equal to the prime rate at the largest 16 bank in Nevada as ascertained by the Commissioner of Financial 17 Institutions on January 1 or July 1, as the case may be, immediately
18 preceding the date of judgment, plus 2 percent. The rate must be adjusted
19 accordingly on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter until the judgment is 20 satisfied. (Emphasis supplied.)

21 The statute clearly states that the appropriate interest rate is the Commissioner of 22 Financial Institutions ("CFI") prime rate immediately preceding the date of judgment, plus 2
23 percent. This prejudgment interest rate must be calculated at the single rate in effect on the date
24 when judgment is entered. Kerala Props., Inc. v. Familian (2006) 122 Nev. 601, 603. Where an 25 interest rate is provided by statute, as is the case here, the court may not vary the interest rate
26 outside of the statutory rate. Lee v. Ball (2005) 122 Nev. 391, 395-96; Gibellini v. Klindt (1994)
27 110 Nev. 1201, 1208.

28 Judgment was entered in this case on March 9, 2011. The CFI prime interest rate for the period immediately preceding the date of entry of judgment is 3.25 percent. (The table containing prime interest rate data, attached to plaintiff's Memorandum, is also attached to this Reply as

1 Exhibit A.) The prime interest rate plus the additional 2 percent required by NRS 17.130 totals
2 5.25 percent, not Plaintiff's inflated 10.25 percent.

3 Accordingly, the prejudgment interest, as applied to plaintiff's past damages, is properly
4 calculated using the 5.25 percent interest rate for the 1,548 days between time of service of
5 process of Plaintiff's complaint and the date of entry of judgment. In its verdict, The Court
6 identified past damages to include the following:

Description	Amount
Past Medical Expenses	376,773.38
Past Pain & Suffering	1,243,350.00
Past Lost Income	289,111.00
Total	1,909,234.38

10
11
12 To the extent that this Court is inclined to award prejudgment interest on those damage
13 elements representing past damages, defendant submits this amount totals $425,105.42.

14
15 II. CONCLUSION

16 In light of the allowable interest rate in effect on the date of entry of judgment, Defendant
17 FIESTA PALMS, LLC dba THE PALMS CASINO RESORT respectfully asserts that, to the 18 extent this Court is inclined to award prejudgment interest on aspects of plaintiff's damages, the 19 proper amount of prejudgment interest for Plaintiff's past damages totals $425,105.42.

2. The rate must be adjusted accordingly on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter until the judgment is satisfied.

Future special damages and future general damages total $4,142,355.00. Post-Judgment Interest on Future Damages shall accrue at the Legal Judgment Interest Rate beginning March 9, 2011, as adjusted January 1 and July 1 annually, until fully satisfied.

20 OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT FIESTA PALMS, L.L.C., D/B/A 21 THE PALMS CASINO'S MOTION TO TAX [SIC] COSTS

22 I. Introduction

23 Plaintiff seeks an order denying Defendant's Motion to Retax Costs. Plaintiff's timely
24 filed Memorandum of Costs and Disbursements clearly sets forth an itemization of the costs,
25 and as this Honorable Court is aware, having presided over a trial of 2 ½ weeks, the asserted
26 costs are clearly reasonable and necessary.

27 Plaintiff has complied with the relevant statutes and Nevada law in setting forth an 28 itemization of costs which are both actual and reasonable.

As with virtually every other pleading, argument, representation and accusation they have filed, asserted and presented throughout this case, Defendant's instant Motion lacks merit, and is itself "haphazard."

II. Statement of Facts

This is a premises liability matter that occurred November 22, 2004 at the Palms Sports Bar/Sports Book. Plaintiff ENRIQUE RODRIGUEZ was an invited guest to watch a football game. During half-time, agents, employees and/or assigns of the Palms (hereinafter known as the "PALMS GIRLS") were participating in a promotion wherein they were throwing souvenirs to Sports Bar/Sports Book patrons while blindfolded.

In response to the Palms Girl, Brandy Beavers, throwing souvenirs in the Sports Bar/Sports Book while blind-folded, a customer within the Sports Bar/Sports Book dove for a thrown souvenir and hit Mr. Rodriguez's extended and stationary left knee. Mr. Rodriguez then struck the person next to him, hitting the left side of his head, then falling down, thereby sustaining extensive injuries and damages.

On or about November 15, 2006, Plaintiff filed the Complaint against Fiesta Palms L.L.C. Fiesta Palms, L.L.C. filed its Answer on April 23, 2007. The Joint Case Conference Report was filed on October 29, 2007 and the parties began discovery pursuant to Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 26. On or about May 8, 2009, Plaintiff filed his motion for leave to amend Complaint to include Defendant BRANDY BEAVERS.

BRANDY L. BEAVERS, Defendant herein, was duly served with a copy of the Amended Summons and Amended Complaint on the day 11th day of January, 2010. The default of Defendant BRANDY L. BEAVERS for failing to answer or otherwise plead to Plaintiff's Amended Complaint was entered by this Honorable Court on February 25, 2010.

A bench trial commenced in this matter on October 25, 2010 and this Honorable Court issued a verdict on March 9, 2011 for the Plaintiff and against the Defendants FIESTA PALMS, L.L.C. and BRANDY BEAVERS in the amount of $6,051,589.38.

III. Legal Argument

A. Plaintiff is Prevailing Party and Costs are Mandated

NRS 18.020, governing the award of costs to a prevailing party, sets forth, in pertinent part, as follows:

Costs must be allowed of course to the prevailing party against any adverse party against whom judgment is rendered, in the following cases:

3. In an action for the recovery of money or damages, where the plaintiff seeks to recover more than $2,500.

Plaintiff was clearly the “prevailing party,” as evidenced by the Verdict in excess of $6,000,000, in an action where he sought to recover more than $2,500.

Accordingly, costs are mandated. N.R.S. 18.020(3). Schwartz v. Estate of Greenspun, 1994, 881 P.2d 638, 110 Nev. 1042; Campbell v. Campbell, 1985, 705 P.2d 154, 101 Nev. 380.

Although an award of costs is mandated in this case, it is conceded that the trial court still retains discretion when determining the reasonableness of the individual costs to be awarded. U.S. Design & Const. Corp. v. International Broth. of Elec. Workers, 2002, 50 P.3d 170, 118 Nev. 458.

Further, the determination of which expenses are allowable as costs is within sound discretion of trial court. N.R.S. 18.020, subd. 3. Bergmann v. Boyce, 1993, 856 P.2d 560, 109 Nev. 670.

21
22
23
24
25
26
27
28

Additionally, Nevada law requires consideration of Plaintiff's "total win," in this case a verdict in excess of $6,000,000, in awarding costs, not as a basis for reducing them. Coker Equipment Co., Inc. v. Wittig, 2010, 366 Fed.Appx. 729, 2010 WL 547532, Unreported.

Lastly, district court's award of attorney fees and costs will not be disturbed on appeal unless the district court abused its discretion in making the award. Parodi v. Budetti, 115 Nev. 236, 240, 984 P.2d 172, 174 (1999).

Accordingly, it is clear that costs are mandated, and Plaintiff submits that each of the costs set forth in his Memorandum are actual and reasonable, and therefore recoverable.

B. Plaintiff's Costs are Actual and Reasonable

Rather than a reasonable estimate or calculation, as suggested by the Defense, Plaintiff's costs are actual and reasonable, and therefore, mandated in their entirety. NRS 18.005; Gibellini v. Klindt, 110 Nev. 1201, 1205, 885 P.2d 540, 543 (1994).

1. E-Filing Retainer

Challenging a cost of $27.50 demonstrates the desperate lengths to which Defense counsel in this case will go.

Regardless, the petty argument is flawed, as the E-Filing Retainer is deemed a "necessary disbursement" within the statute permitting a prevailing party to recover costs and necessary disbursements. N.R.S. 18.010; NRCP 26(a, d, e), 30, 35. Maxwell v. Amaral, 1963, 383 P.2d 365, 79 Nev. 323.

Alternatively, it is deemed "reasonable and necessary expense incurred in connection with the action."<sup>1</sup>

Either way, $27.50 is an actual and reasonable cost.

2. Fees for Witnesses

Defendant's argument relative to witness fees is really simply focused on the Expert Fees.

NRS 18.005(5) governing expert fees, states as follows:

5. Reasonable fees of not more than five expert witnesses in an amount of not more than $1,500 for each witness, unless the court allows a larger fee after determining that the circumstances surrounding the expert's testimony were of such necessity as to require the larger fee.

First of all, the amount of expert witness fees in each case is a matter within the sound discretion of the trial judge and will not be disturbed unless found to be manifestly erroneous. Arnold v. Mt. Wheeler Power, 101 Nev. 612, 616, 707 P.2d 1137, 1139 (1985).

Secondly, this Honorable Court is permitted to allow a larger fee if the circumstances warrant such.

Plaintiff submits, and the record reflects and supports, that a larger fee for experts in this case is clearly warranted and justified.

As this Court will recall, the Defendant did not conduct a single deposition of any of Plaintiff's various medical providers. As such, Plaintiff was required to call several providers, some of whom, due to the trial schedule, were required to present and testify over the course of two (2) days. Moreover, Dr. Tauber resides in California and was required to travel to Nevada for his testimony, while Terry Dinneen resides in Reno and was required to travel to Las Vegas on two (2) separate days.

Each of the providers' testimony was necessary given the causation dispute.

Relative to the economic expert fees of Steven T. Baker and Terry Dinneen, as this Court will recall, a significant economic loss was sustained, and based on the testimony and opinions of both, a significant economic award was included in the Verdict in favor of Plaintiff.

3. Trial Transcript Costs

As this Honorable Court will recall, both parties used the Trial Transcript during the evidentiary phase and closing arguments. The use of the transcript was instrumental in the preparation of trial testimony, since, as this Court will recall, the Defense chose not to depose a single medical provider in the case.

Therefore, Plaintiff submits that the cost of the Trial Transcript was both a “necessary disbursement”<sup>2</sup> and “reasonable and necessary expense incurred in connection with the action.”<sup>3</sup>

Lastly, this argument is rendered moot by the Defendant’s recently filed Motion for New Trial in which the Trial Transcripts are attached as Exhibits.

4. Telecopies, Photocopies, Long Distance Telephone Calls and Postage

Defendant’s challenge of the asserted costs associated with telecopies<sup>4</sup>, photocopies,<sup>5</sup> long distance telephone calls<sup>6</sup> and postage<sup>7</sup> is outright absurd.

Each of these costs is specifically addressed in NRS 18.005, and there is no justifiable opposition to the same.

This Court should be reminded that the Plaintiff resides in California, and received treatment in California, as well as Nevada. Clearly postage and long distance costs are appropriate.

Defendant's only real argument is that Plaintiff's firm's expense for photocopies are routine and not recoverable. This Court only need to consider the reasonableness of the costs, as the statute specifically allows the costs.

Plaintiff would suggest that $2,765.50 for a case where liability and causation were disputed, resulting in a 2 ½ week trial, is certainly reasonable.

5. Location of Brandy Beavers, Courier Service and Case Research

Costs associated with the location of Brandy Beavers, Courier Service and Case Research total $5,011. These costs are reasonable and necessary, and warranted. NRS 18.005(17).

To argue that these costs are neither reasonable nor necessary is laughable.

Brandy Beavers was a party to the suit. Locating her for purposes of service was certainly necessary and the costs of $200 are clearly reasonable.

Fees of $671.04 associated with courier services is necessary, and Defendant is hard-pressed to provide any support, which they have not, to suggest said cost is unreasonable.

Lastly, costs associated with legal research are clearly appropriate and specifically addressed in the subject statute.<sup>8</sup> Plaintiff simply reiterates that this was a significantly contested liability and causation case, involving several substantial legal issues which arose prior to, during and after trial.

$4,140.00 in legal research over the course of 3 + years of litigation, involving a premises liability claim where both liability and causation were disputed, is certainly reasonable. Moreover, the figure is the "actual" cost, and not an estimate or calculation.

C. Apportionment of $200.00 Associated with Location of Brandy Beavers is Unwarranted

The suggestion that a $200.00 cost is required to be apportioned is simply ridiculous. If this Court determines that the $200.00 is actual and reasonable, Plaintiff is entitled to the cost.

Plaintiff submits that the cost associated with locating Brandy Beavers, a party to the case, was a "reasonable and necessary expense incurred in connection with the action."<sup>9</sup>

IV. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing, Plaintiff requests an Order denying Defendant's Motion to Retax, along with a determination that Plaintiff is entitled to costs in the total amount of $149,146.18

1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. Introduction

3 The motion to tax is straightforward. The Plaintiff alleges—but does not establish in its
4 memorandum of costs or opposition—that he is entitled to costs. The basic truth is that the Plaintiff
5 has not submitted a single invoice, billing record, or declaration from any witness that demonstrates all
6 of his claimed costs were actually incurred, reasonable, and necessary to this litigation. Such a
7 showing is required under Nevada law. Instead, Plaintiff's tactic here appears to be "if you say it
8 enough times, it will become fact." Simply saying he is entitled to recover costs does not make it so.

9 In short, Plaintiff cannot recover his costs because he failed to document and itemize each
10 cost item and, as a result, it is impossible to determine if the costs were reasonable, necessary, and 11 actually incurred.

12 II. Law and Argument

13 A. Plaintiff Has Not Met His Minimal Burden Of Simply Providing Justifying
14 Documentation And, As A Result, He Is Not Entitled To Award Of Costs

15 Plaintiff is not entitled to recover his costs because he did not provide any evidence that 16 supports his requested costs. The Plaintiff must show how the costs were necessary to and incurred 17 in the action and provide sufficient justifying documentation and specific itemization to demonstrate 18 the reasonableness and the accuracy of the costs claimed. (Waddell v. L.V.R.V. Inc., 122 Nev. 15
19 (2006).) Even if the Plaintiff had provided documentation, this alone is not enough. The Plaintiff
20 must also substantiate the reason for such costs. (Vill. Builders 96 v. U.S. Labs, 121 Nev. 261, 277-78 21 (2005)(requiring justifying documentation for each individual item of costs, and substantiating the reason
22 for such costs, rather than merely providing documentation to support that the amount of the total
23 costs is reasonable.)

24 Here, The Palms moved to tax all costs on the ground that the Plaintiff did not provide any 25 documentation that justifies it is entitled to his claimed costs. The Plaintiff did not address this 26 requirement in his opposition. Not a single document, invoice, or declaration from any expert has 27 been submitted that demonstrates the costs incurred were actual, reasonable, and necessary. The 28 Plaintiff could have submitted this documentation with its memorandum of costs or in support of its

1 opposition. Either the Plaintiff, for strategic reasons, is intentionally ignoring this requirement that
2 he justify and substantiate his costs or the Plaintiff simply cannot show that his claimed costs were 3 actually incurred, reasonable, and necessary.

4 Unfortunately, in the face of overwhelming deficiencies in its request for costs, Plaintiff goes
5 further and claims his costs must be awarded—without supporting documentation—simply because
6 a large verdict was entered in his favor. Again, the Plaintiff tries to make something true by saying it
7 is so. It is academic that the Plaintiff must provide his billing records to support his costs. And
8 Plaintiff had two opportunities to provide this documentation. He could have attached the billing
9 records to his memorandum of costs or to his opposition. He failed to do so and, as a result, his 10 request must be denied.

11 B. Plaintiff's Request For E-Filing Fees and Trial Transcript Costs Are Not
12 Recoverable Under Any Specific Statute Or Under The Guise That These Fees
13 Are Reasonable And Necessary

14 Responding to the fact that many of the claimed costs are not specifically recoverable under 15 Nevada law, the Plaintiff attempts to dress up its costs in yet another set of clothes. In the 16 memorandum of costs, Plaintiff contends many of these costs are specifically recoverable under the 17 specific provisions in Nevada Revised Statute 18.005. Instead of disputing the fact that the cost
18 statutes are strictly construed and cannot be enlarged, the Plaintiff attempts to shift these specific
19 items, such as the trial transcript costs and e-filing retainer, to the catch all provision under NRS
20 18.005(17). While Plaintiff says—without any authority—these costs are recoverable as reasonable 21 and necessary expenses, he once again fails to include any documentation that demonstrates the fees
22 were incurred and that they are reasonable and necessary to this litigation. Plaintiff's veiled attempt 23 to now recover the costs under a different statutory provision is therefore not permissible.

24 C. Plaintiff's Reasoning That $114,201.36 In Fees For Fourteen Expert Witnesses
25 Because Three Witnesses Were Necessary Is Faulty

26 Plaintiff concedes that fees for eleven out of the fourteen expert witnesses are not
27 recoverable. More specific, Defendant moved to tax the expert witness fees on the basis that twelve
28 out of the fourteen listed witnesses exceeds the statutory cap for five witnesses at $1,500 each. But 29 Plaintiff simply opposed this argument on the basis that three witnesses were necessary: (1) Dr.

1 Tauber; (2) Terry Dinneen; and (3) Steven T. Baker. (See Opposition, Section III (B)(2).) Plaintiff did
2 not substantiate why any of the fees for the remaining eleven expert witnesses were necessary for this
3 litigation or that a larger fee was required. Since Plaintiff has not provided any reason or justification
4 for the eleven other witnesses, an enhanced cost award is not appropriate.

5 Even more fatal to Plaintiff's request for expert witness fees is the fact that he did not attach
6 a single invoice or declaration from any expert witness. Not one expert attached a declaration
7 concerning the fees that he incurred in this case. Instead, Plaintiff's attorney offers several 8 unsupported statements that Plaintiff had to spend an additional $106,701.36 above the allowable or 9 capped amount because "Defendant did not conduct a single deposition of any of Plaintiff's various 10 medical providers, [which] this "testimony was necessary given the causation dispute" and "a 11 significant economic loss was sustained." (Opposition, p. 5) Again Plaintiff attempts to manufacture
12 a rule because he says so. Plaintiff does not cite a single authority that says a party is entitled to 13 recover costs for expert witnesses larger than the statutory cap because a defendant did not depose
14 Plaintiff's medical provider or causation is disputed.

15 Plaintiff has not made any showing justifying the expert witness costs. The showing or 16 burden on the Plaintiff is minimal. He simply needs to submit his invoices that itemize the costs and 17 provide declarations for the expert witnesses along with their invoices. Despite such a minimal
18 showing, Plaintiff intentionally refuses to document his costs. Without this showing, it is impossible
19 to determine if there is any duplicative billing, inappropriate fees, or otherwise non-recoverable costs.
20 The costs associated with expert witnesses must therefore be denied or capped at the statutory 21 permissible amount of $7,500.

22 D. Plaintiff Is Not Entitled To Recover Normal Out-Of-Pocket Expenses As 23 Costs Because Such Costs Are Not Recoverable Under Nevada Law

24 Plaintiff's costs for routine or standard overhead copies, phone calls, faxes, and postage must 25 be denied. Plaintiff acknowledges that the telecopies, photocopies, postage, and telephone calls were 26 routine. (See Opposition, Section III (B)(4).) But normal routine office overhead or standard out-of-27 pocket costs are not recoverable. (Bergmann v. Boyce, 109 Nev. 670, 681 (1993) (a normal out-of-
28 pocket expense is generally not included in the taxable costs. "However, courts will award these fees

1 where the secretarial costs were not routine office overhead.”)(emphasis added.)

2 Plaintiff did not document or itemize a single copy, phone call, postage, or any facsimiles. To 3 recover these costs, sufficient documentation justifying these costs must be provided. (Berosini v.
4 People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals, 114 Nev. 1348, 1353 (1998).) In Berosini, the court held that 5 “[b]ecause of the lack of sufficient supporting documentation...the district court abused its 6 discretion in awarding costs,” which included photocopies and long distance calls. (Ibid.) Notably, in 7 Berosini, PETA provided documentation of the date of each photocopy and the total photocopying charge.
8 Despite this specific documentation, the court still held that “PETA failed to provide sufficient 9 justifying documentation” because the court was unable to “determine the reasonableness” of those
10 costs based on that information alone. (Ibid.)

11 Here, Plaintiff has not provided any documentation. To recover his costs, however, the 12 Plaintiff must not only document each cost but also explain why such an item is reasonable. Plaintiff
13 has failed to document or demonstrate why routine or out-of-pocket expenses are recoverable. His 14 request for these costs must therefore be denied.

15 E. Any Costs For Brandy Beavers Is Not Recoverable

16 Plaintiff contends it’s “laughable” that The Palms challenges the fees to locate Brandy
17 Beavers. The only punch line here is the Plaintiff’s justification for this cost. The Plaintiff’s sole
18 basis for recovering this cost is “Beavers was a party to the suit. Locating her for purposes of service
19 was certainly necessary.” (Opposition, p.7) This statement fails to explain why The Palms must pay
20 for the Plaintiff’s costs to pursue another defendant. Once again, Plaintiff does not cite a single 21 authority or provide any invoices and declarations that would support an award that requires The 22 Palms to pay the Plaintiff’s costs to pursue another defendant—Beavers.

23 F. Plaintiff Did Not Demonstrate Apportionment Of The Costs Was Impossible
24 And, As A Result, Any Award Must Be Apportioned

25 All costs in this matter must be apportioned between The Palms and Beavers unless Plaintiff
26 can demonstrate such apportionment is impossible. (Mayfield v. Koroghi, 184 P.3d; 2008 Nev.Lexis 36
27 (2008).) Plaintiff did not rebut this argument. He simply contends that apportioning $200 between 28 The Palms and Beavers is “ridiculous.” Since Plaintiff cannot show that such an apportionment of

1 all the claimed costs is impossible, any costs awarded in this matter must be apportioned between
2 The Palms and Beavers.

3 III. Conclusion

4 The Plaintiff attempts to dodge the requirements under Nevada law to recover an award of 5 costs for $149,146.18. Rather than provide justifying documentation that demonstrates he is entitled
6 to a cost award, Plaintiff says he's entitled to his costs because he says so. While a court may rely on 7 statements from counsel, these statements are not evidence. (Babena v. Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.,
8 (2010) 126 Nev. Adv. Rep. 57, 245 P.3d 1182, 1185 fn 1.) The lack of documentation or justification
9 plucks from this Court and The Palms any opportunity to determine the method of calculating the 10 costs and whether such sums are duplicative, improper, or not recoverable. Under Nevada law, a
11 party is required to do more than simply file a memorandum of costs if he wants the Court to 12 exercise its discretion and make an award of costs. This burden, however, is minimal. A party simply 13 needs to provide sufficient documentation and justification that the costs are reasonable, necessary to 14 the litigation, and were actually incurred. Despite this minimal burden, Plaintiff intentionally refused
15 to provide any documentation that justifies an award of costs. Therefore, Plaintiff's request for costs
16 should be denied.

20 THIS MATTER HAVING COME ON FOR TRIAL before the bench, commencing
21 on October 25, 2011, and a verdict being entered on March 14, 2011, this Honorable Court
22 Finds and Concludes as follows:

23 1) Liability in favor of the Plaintiff in this matter was determined as consistent with the 24 Findings of Fact and Conclusions of law granting Directed Verdict pursuant to NRCP 52
25 entered in this matter on March 10, 2011.

2) The Court finds the testimony of Plaintiff's treating physicians, including, but not limited to Dr. Shifini, Dr. Mortillaro, Dr. Kidwell, Dr. Shaw, Dr. Shannon, and Dr. Tauber to be persuasive on the issue of the reasonableness, necessity and causation of past and future medical expenses to include, but not limited to, surgeries to Plaintiff's injured knee, carpal tunnel release, future knee replacement, a spinal cord stimulator and replacement of batteries with respect to the same, future lumbar fusion, cervical modalities, and other and further past and future medical services and expenses as elucidated at trial and, accordingly, and in this Court's discretion, awards as past medical expenses the amount of $376,773.38 and future medical expenses in the amount of $1,854,738.00.

3) Based upon the testimony of said treating physicians, the Plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez, and "before and after" lay witnesses who testified at the time of trial, the Court finds that Plaintiff Rodriguez suffered extensive, painful, disabling, and permanent injuries as a result of the subject incident which have detrimentally impacted his daily living and functioning and, consistent with that finding, and in this Courts discretion, awards as past pain and suffering the amount of $1,243,350.00 and future pain and suffering in the amount of $1,865,025.00.

4) The Court finds the testimony of Plaintiff's economist, Terrence Dineen, persuasive on the issue of Plaintiff's loss of economic opportunity, vocational disability, and loss of past and future earnings, finds and concludes the Plaintiff suffered significant detrimental impact to his ability to transact in the field of real-estate purchases, refurbishment, and sales due to his physical limitations resultant of the subject injury, finds that sufficient opportunity existed and exists in the repressed real estate market for Plaintiff to continue to profitably purchase, refurbish and sell real-estate absent said physical limitations, and is persuaded by and accepts the calculations of Mr. Dineen with respect to the same and, in this Court's discretion, awards past lost income in the amount of $289,111.00 and future lost income in the amount of $422,593.00.

5) As to the allocation of liability the Court finds liability against Defendant Fiesta Palms, LLC, as set forth in Finding and Conclusion #1, above, but finds that Defendant Beavers also failed to act in the manner of the average reasonable person under similar circumstances in a manner creating a foreseeable harm to patrons of the Palms by throwing promotional items into a crowded environment and in other and further manners as elucidated at the time of trial. The Court, in its discretion, therefore apportions liability at 60% to the Palms and 40% to Beavers, with no finding of comparative fault on the part of the Plaintiff.

WHEREFORE, this Court finds and concludes that a verdict be entered in said amounts as set forth on the stipulated Verdict form attached hereto as Exhibit #1.

Case No. A531538

REPLY IN SUPPORT OF THE PALMS' MOTION FOR MISTRIAL, OR, ALTERNATIVELY, MOTION TO STRIKE
PLAINTIFF'S CONFIDENTIAL
PRETRIAL AND TRIAL BRIEFS

Dept: X

22 A. Plaintiff's failure to file and serve EDCR 7.27 memorandum and mistaken
23 references to Nonexistent "Supplemental Confidential Bench Brief Re:
24 Punitive Damages" drove Motion for Mistrial

24 After discovering what appeared from its very title ("Supplemental Confidential Bench
25 Brief Re: Punitive Damages") to be improper ex parte communications, the Palms filed a motion
26 for a mistrial based on substantial irregularity in the proceedings. Plaintiff in his opposition to the 27
28

1 Palms' motion for a mistrial informs the Palms for the first time that he never submitted his
2 "Plaintiff's Supplemental Confidential Bench Brief Re: Punitive Damages" to the Court.
3 Plaintiff's references to the Supplemental Confidential Bench Brief in his Motion to Strike the 4 Palms' Posttrial Brief were, we now learn, mistakes. It was those mistakes, though, that caused
5 the Palms to believe plaintiff had attempted improper ex parte contacts with the Court and that
6 compelled the Palms to file the instant motion to safeguard its due process rights.

7 Plaintiff argues that the Palms should have known that the "Plaintiff's Supplemental 8 Confidential Bench Brief Re: Punitive Damages" was submitted after trial because it was signed
9 on November 10, 2010, the date the parties rested, and because it is clearly drafted as an
10 opposition<sup>2</sup> to the Palms' anticipated NRC 50 motion to dismiss punitive damages claims. To 11 date, though, no one has ever seen this document. Plaintiff asserts that it was attached as an
12 exhibit to plaintiff's Motion to Strike the Palms' Posttrial Brief, but this is not the case; that
13 motion as filed with the Court and served on the Palms has no exhibits. Accordingly, there is no
14 way the Palms could have known that brief was signed on November 10, 2010.

15 Plaintiff's conduct in making mistaken references to supplemental confidential briefing
16 caused the Palms to be concerned for its due process rights. Plaintiff's own conduct caused the 17 Palms to bring this motion for a mistrial, which motion plaintiff's counsel has taken every 18 opportunity to remind this Court should greatly offend it. To offend the Court was not the Palms'
19 intention at all, and indeed the Palms took pains to state that while plaintiff's own briefing
20 reflected that plaintiff had attempted to engage in improper ex parte contacts with the Court, the 21 Palms did not think the Court had engaged in any improper behavior itself. However, the tenor of 22 counsel's opposition tends to indicate that the "damage" may already have been done. If that is 23 the case, then the Palms respectfully requests that this Court grant its Motion for Mistrial.

24 B. Plaintiff's EDCR 7.27 brief still untimely

25 The fact remains that plaintiff failed to file and serve his EDCR 7.27 brief timely, and so
26 that brief should be stricken. Under EDCR 7.27, the close of trial, November 10, 2010, was the

27 _____
28 <sup>2</sup> If the Supplemental Confidential Bench Brief was intended to be plaintiff's opposition to the Palms' anticipated
NRC 50 motion to dismiss the punitive damages claims, why not call it an opposition?

1 time for plaintiff to file and serve any pretrial confidential trial brief. However, plaintiff faxed it
2 to the Palms' counsel on December 14, 2010, more than a month after the close of trial. Plaintiff
3 did not properly serve any EDCR 7.27 brief until January 14, 2011.

4 Plaintiff tries to manufacture a controversy over the meaning of "close of trial" to excuse
5 his failure to timely file the EDCR 7.27 brief. The Palms could not find any authority supporting 6 plaintiff's argument that trial is "closed" only after a verdict is rendered. The Olivero case to 7 which he cites indeed does find that a litigant's serving the EDCR 7.27 brief after the judge ruled
8 and left the bench to be untimely, but the decision did not hinge on the verdict. The salient fact 9 was not that the brief was served following the verdict, and there was actually no ruling on the 10 definition of the phrase "close of trial." Plaintiff's citation to Olivero for that proposition is inapt.

11 The difference between the facts of Olivero and the situation before this Court is that in 12 Olivero, the brief was submitted just a few minutes late--the judge had just left the bench. The 13 court found the rule was violated, but that the violation was not material. Here, the brief was 14 provided to the Palms by fax a month after the close of the evidence, and served more than two 15 months late. The Palms submits that under Olivero this is a violation; the question for the Court
16 is whether the violations material. The Palms submits that it is, because, had the briefing been 17 submitted timely, the Palms might have decided to take actions which are now foreclosed to it.

18 C. Request for Sanctions

19 Plaintiff requests sanctions for having to respond to the Palms "offensive and 20 inappropriate motion." The request should be rejected, as plaintiff's own mistakes in referencing
21 documents that had never been filed compelled the Palms to file the instant motion. Had plaintiff
22 not made these mistakes, the Palms very likely would not have made the motion for mistrial.

23 D. Conclusion

24 If plaintiff indeed did not lodge the "Supplemental Confidential Bench Brief Re: Punitive
25 Damages", and if the Court never received it, then the Palms is unaware of any improper ex parte
26 communications. The Palms likely never would have filed this motion but for plaintiff's mistakes
27 in referencing that brief.

28 During trial, plaintiff never submitted any EDCR 7.27 memorandum. In posttrial

1 motions, plaintiff for the first time referenced what appeared to be multiple confidential bench
2 briefs which had never been filed or served on the Palms. At that point, concerned that plaintiff
3 had made numerous attempts at improper ex parte contact with this Court, the Palms filed this
4 motion for a mistrial to preserve its due process rights. Now, after plaintiff's reply, plaintiff's
5 references to confidential trial briefs and bench briefs were mistakes, and such briefs actually did
6 not exist/were never filed/served/submitted to the Court. The Palms relied on the references
7 made in plaintiff's briefing to be accurate., and regrets the confusion that has ensued because of 8 plaintiff's mistakes.

9           Regardless, plaintiff's EDCR 7.27 brief, served well after the close of trial, was untimely 10 and should be stricken.

11           Dated: January 24, 2010.

FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW, AND ORDER

20 THIS MATTER having come on for hearing on January 31, 2011 with respect to 21 Defendant's Motion for Mistrial, or in the Alternative, Motion to Strike Plaintiff's
22 Confidential Trial Brief, before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, and the Court having 23 considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the matter under advisement
24 for further consideration, this Court finds and concludes as follows:

25
26
27 Subsequent to the close of evidence, Defendant filed a Motion for Mistrial, or in the 28 Alternative, Motion to Strike Plaintiff's Confidential Brief.

Defendant argued that Plaintiff served secret pre-trial and trial briefs and engaged in a systemic ex parte communication with the Court, rendering the trial unfair and impartial.

This matter was originally set for a Bench Trial to begin on October 4, 2010. Plaintiff, in accordance with EDCR 7.27, submitted his Confidential Trial brief to this Court on September 27, 2010. At no point during the evidentiary portion of the trial, or otherwise, did Plaintiff file or submit any additional confidential briefs.

Rather, in anticipation of Defendant bringing a Rule 52 Motion on the issue of Punitive Damages, Plaintiff's counsel prepared a "Supplemental Confidential Bench Brief Re: Punitive Damages (dated November 10, 2010, the date the parties rested) which detailed the trial testimony of Defendant's employees and security expert. It was Plaintiff's intention to file and serve the Supplemental Brief when the Defendant moved for Judgment on the issue of punitive damages. The Supplemental brief was never submitted, served or filed, because Defendant never argued, after the close of evidence but prior to the case being submitted for deliberation, that the punitive damage claim be dismissed.

After the close of evidence, Defendant filed and served a "Post-Trial Brief," which among other things, argued for the rejection of any punitive damages. Plaintiff inadvertently made reference to the Supplemental Confidential Brief Re: Punitive Damages, rather than reiterating the content of the same, in a Motion to Strike said "Post-Trial Brief". This was the first time such brief was referenced to the Court (in the context of Plaintiff's Motion to Strike), and it was never filed, submitted or provided in a confidential and/or ex parte manner as suggested by counsel.

The EDCR 7.27 Brief was filed and served by Plaintiff before a finding on the liability issue and verdict. Defendant did not object to, nor question, the propriety of any aspect of the Confidential Trial Brief filed in this matter.

Counsel for Plaintiff filed with their Opposition to Motion for Mistrial affidavits stating under oath that no Supplemental Confidential Trial Briefs were submitted by them after the commencement of trial and that no ex parte communication with this Honorable occurred. This Court also finds that no Supplemental Confidential Trial Briefs were submitted or filed by the Plaintiff and that no ex parte communication with the Plaintiff occurred. At the hearing on Defendant's Motion for Mistrial, Counsel for Plaintiff requested an evidentiary hearing on the issue of ex parte communication should said contention not be abandoned by the Defendant. Counsel for Defendant, at that time, stated that Defendant was satisfied that no ex parte communication occurred.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Plaintiff provided the Court with one, and only one, Confidential Trial Brief before the commencement of trial, which was served on Defendant on December 14, 2010, in accordance with EDCR 7.27.

Plaintiff provided the Court with no supplements thereto at any time during trial.

Plaintiff and his counsel did not engage in ex parte communication with the Court.

As no ex parte communication occurred between the Court and the Plaintiff, the Court was under no obligation to divulge the same.

As no ex parte communication occurred between the Court and the Plaintiff, no irregularities occurred with respect to said issue and Defendant's Due Process rights were not impacted.

Plaintiff's permissive Confidential Brief was submitted to the Court prior to the commencement of trial on October 25, 2010.

Plaintiff served his permissive Confidential Brief before the close of trial, on

CASE NO: A531538
DEPT NO: 10

BENCH TRIAL DATE: 10/25/10
HEARING DATE: 1/31/11

FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW, AND ORDER

THIS MATTER having come on for hearing on January 31, 2011 with respect to Plaintiff's Rule 52 (erroneously designated "Rule 50") Motion on the Issue of Liability before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, and the Court having considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the matter under advisement for further consideration, it is hereby found and concluded as follows:

FINDINGS OF FACT

During the course of this trial, Plaintiff established that, prior to the subject incident, Defendant was aware that promotional items were being thrown into crowds at events on the

1 premises; that Defendant knew this behavior was inappropriate because it was a safety issue
2 and could foreseeably cause injury to an individual; that prior to the incident at bar, Defendant
3 conducted a staff meeting where staff was instructed not to cause promotional items to be
4 thrown into crowds because of said safety concerns; and that Defendant, despite this 5 knowledge and awareness, constructed a “field goal” within the sports book for purposes of 6 throwing promotional items at sporting events.

8 Sheri Long, the Director of Marketing at The Palms, testified that she was aware that
9 promotional items were thrown into crowds before the subject incident; this witness 10 acknowledged this behavior was inappropriate because it constituted a safety issue which 11 could foreseeably cause injury to an individual.
12

13 In her testimony, Ms. Long specifically recalled holding a meeting, before the subject 14 incident, and instructing her staff that items should not be thrown into crowds during 15 promotional events.
16

17 Ms. Long acknowledged that the injuries suffered by Plaintiff were exactly of the type 18 she was concerned would occur if promotional items were thrown into crowds at promotional 19 events.
20

21 Ms. Long further testified that what occurred in this case is what she was trying to 22 prevent when she conveyed to her staff that promotional items were not to be thrown into a
23 crowd at an event.
24

25 Vikki Kooinga, Risk Manager at The Palms, also testified that throwing items into a 26 crowd could foreseeably cause injury to someone in the audience.
27

28 Ms. Kooinga acknowledged that throwing promotional items into the crowd was inappropriate, wrong and beneath the standard of care for the hotel in protecting the safety of their patrons upon the premises.

Lastly, Ms. Kooinga testified that she would have expected hotel Security to stop anyone from throwing items into the crowd.

Plaintiff was then injured when promotion items were thrown into the crowd at a promotional event.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

NRCP 52(c) states in pertinent part as follows:

If during a trial without a jury a party has been fully heard on an issue and the court finds against the party on that issue, the court may enter judgment as a matter of law against that party with respect to a claim or defense that cannot under the controlling law be maintained or defeated without a favorable finding on that issue, or the court may decline to render any judgment until the close of all the evidence.

Liability has been conclusively established by the Plaintiff in this matter. The unequivocal testimony and undisputed facts establish liability and are as follows:

1. Defendant was aware promotional items were being thrown into crowds at events before the incident at bar;
2. Defendant conducted a staff meeting prior to the incident at bar where staff was instructed not to cause or permit promotional items to be thrown into crowds at events;
3. Defendant acknowledged that throwing promotional items into crowds was inappropriate;
4. Defendant acknowledged that throwing promotional items into crowds was a safety concern as it could foreseeably cause injury to an individual;
5. Defendant acknowledged that said foreseeable risk of injury was known by them prior to the incident at bar;
6. Despite this awareness, after said staff meeting, and with knowledge of said foreseeable risk of harm, Defendant constructed a goal post in the sports book for purposes of promotional items to be thrown;
7. Plaintiff was then injured as a direct and proximate result of throwing promotional items at an event upon Defendant's premises.

25
26
27
28

Additionally, Defendant has conceded that there was a known safety procedure prohibiting promotional items from being thrown into the crowds.

Defendant's conceded that they violated this known safety procedure as related to the case at bar.

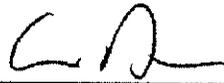

The known safety procedure was admissible as relevant to the issue of liability.

Defendant's policy and the breach thereof both aided this Court, as the finder of fact, in determining the issue of liability. No comparative liability was found on the part of the Plaintiff.

Therefore, this Honorable Court finds and adjudges liability against Defendant PALMS CASINO RESORT and in favor of the Plaintiff ENRIQUE RODRIGUEZ herein. These findings and conclusions are made and based upon the weight of the testimony and evidence aforesaid, and is reached independently of any other finding, ruling, or conclusion of the Court.

20 FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW, AND ORDER

21 THIS MATTER having come on for hearing on January 31, 2011 with respect to
22 Plaintiff's Motion to Strike Defendant's Experts before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, 23 and the Court having considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the 24 matter under advisement for further consideration, this Honorable Court finds and concludes 25 as follows:

26 FINDINGS OF FACT

27 Defendant presented two (2) experts in this trial, Dr. Thomas Cargill (Economist) and 28 Forrest Franklin (Liability), neither of whom opined that their opinions were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability as required under Nevada law.

Forrest Franklin, Defendant's liability expert, was retained to develop and render an opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to throwing objects, memorabilia, and promotional articles into crowds.

Mr. Franklin offered the following opinions:

1. Throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort into crowds is not a substandard protocol;
2. It is not unsafe to throw things into crowds; and
3. It is not below the standard of care to throw items into a crowd.

None of these opinions, however, were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

Dr. Cargill offered the following two (2) opinions at trial:

1. Plaintiff could not have made as much in the current financial market as he could have back in 2004 because the bubble burst in the housing market; and
2. Mr. Dineen's discount rates were inappropriate.

Neither of these opinions was given to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

To testify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, the witness must satisfy the following three requirements: (1) he or she must be qualified in an area of "scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge" (the qualification requirement); (2) his or her specialized knowledge must "assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue" (the assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be limited "to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized] knowledge" (the limited scope requirement).

Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin's testimony failed to satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275, in that neither expert provided opinions to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

Accordingly, their opinions did not rise to the level of "scientific knowledge" within the meaning of NRS 50.275.

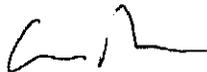

The opinions of Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin offered insufficient foundation for this court to take judicial notice of the scientific basis of those conclusions.

While counsel for the Defendant may have properly qualified said individuals as experts, the opinions rendered by the respective experts were speculative, as the court was not advised and the record does not reflect whether such opinions were made on the basis of "possibility" or some other standard lower than "a reasonable degree of professional probability."

Accordingly, the testimony of Cargil and Franklin did not satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275.

ENRIQUE RODRIGUEZ,

COMPANY, d/b/a/ THE PALMS CASINO
RESORTS' NOTICE OF MOTION AND MOTION TO TAX COSTS

MOTION TO TAX COSTS

Defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC d/b/a THE PALMS CASINO RESORT ("The Palms"),
by and through its attorney of record Kenneth C. Ward K, Esq., Keith R. Gillette, and ARCHER
NORRIS, moves to tax Plaintiff's Memorandum of Costs and Disbursements Pursuant to NRS
18.020. This motion is made by virtue of NRS 18.005 and on the grounds that Plaintiff failed to itemize and document his claimed costs and, as a result, failed to demonstrate such costs are

1 reasonable and necessary. In addition, Plaintiff attempts to recover costs that are not recoverable
2 under any statute or judicial and should therefore be disallowed.

3 This motion is further based upon the papers and pleading on file herein, the below Points
4 and Authorities, and oral argument.

5 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

6 I.

7 Introduction

8 Defendant Fiesta Palms, LLC objects to Plaintiff's memorandum of costs on the grounds
9 that Plaintiff failed to document, itemize, and justify its costs. It is impossible to determine if these
10 expenses were reasonable and necessary without this information. In addition, Plaintiff also seeks
11 recovery of costs that either exceed certain statutory limits or are not recoverable under Nevada law.
12 Plaintiff's haphazard compilation of its costs without any support or justification is insufficient to 13 award costs in the sum $149,146.18.

14 II.

15 Background

16 This is a personal injury action for damages stemming from accident that occurred at a
17 Monday night football game promotion event at The Palms Race and Sports Book.

18 On March 9, 2011, the court returned a verdict against The Palms and Brandy Beavers.

19 Plaintiff filed and served its Memorandum of Costs on March 15, 2011. The memorandum is
20 simply a diagram that contains virtually no detail. Plaintiff did not provide any supporting or
21 itemized documentation or even attempt to demonstrate that these costs are reasonable and
22 necessary. Based on the insufficient documentation, it is impossible to determine whether these
23 costs are reasonable or necessary and, as a result, Plaintiff is not entitled to an award of its costs.

24 III.

25 Legal Argument

26 A. Legal Standard

27 While Nev.Rev.Stat. § 18.020 sets forth certain costs that are recoverable to a prevailing party
28 as a matter of right, the district court still retains discretion in determining the reasonableness of the

1 amounts and the items of costs to be awarded. (Schwartz v. Estate of Greenspan, 110 Nev. 1042, 1050
2 (1994).) This “discretion should be sparingly exercised when considering whether or not to allow
3 expenses not specifically allowed by statute and precedent.” (Bergmann v. Boyce, 109 Nev. 670, 679
4 (1993).) And the trial court should exercise restraint because “statutes permitting recovery of costs,
5 being in derogation of the common law, must be strictly construed.” (Ibid.)

6 B. The Plaintiff Is Not Entitled To An Award Of Costs Because He Failed To
7 Demonstrate—Through Itemization Or Documentation—That His Costs Are
8 Necessary And Reasonable

9 The prevailing party must also show how the costs were necessary to and incurred in the 10 action and provide sufficient justifying documentation and specific itemization to demonstrate the
11 reasonableness and the accuracy of the costs claimed. (Waddell v. L.V.R.V., Inc., 122 Nev. 15 (2006);
12 Bobby Berosini, Ltd. v. People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals, 114 Nev. 1348 (1998).) Simply filing a
13 memorandum is not sufficient verification of the incurred costs. (See Vill. Builders 96 v. U.S. Labs.,
14 121 Nev. 261, 277-78 (2005)(requiring justifying documentation for each individual item of costs and
15 substantiating the reason for such costs rather than merely providing documentation to support that
16 amount of the total costs is reasonable.)

17 Here, Plaintiff merely provided a generic breakdown of his costs. The memorandum did not
18 contain the required itemization or documentation for each individual item. It is unclear what
19 method of calculation, if any, was used by the Plaintiff to confirm that these costs were actually
20 incurred for this matter, necessary, and reasonable. The itemized materials are necessary to make
21 such a determination and any award of costs without this information is improper. (Bobby Berosini,
22 Ltd. v. People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals, 114 Nev. 1348 (1998).)

23 The Plaintiff must itemize and provide supporting documentation for each cost he seeks to 24 recover. No such showing has been made. Therefore, Plaintiff’s cost in the sum of $149, 146.18
25 must be disallowed.

26 ///

27 ///

28 ///

1           C.     The Plaintiff Seeks Costs That Are Not Recoverable Under Nevada Law And,
2                   As A Result, These Costs Items Must Be Disallowed Even If Plaintiff Can
3                   Document And Itemize These Impermissible Costs.

4           Nevada Revised Statute, section 18.005 specifically provides what costs are recoverable.
5           Litigation cost and attorney fee statutes are exceptions to the common law American Rule that every
6           litigant pays his or her own fees. (Dobron v. Bunch, 215 P.3d 35, 41, 2009 Nev.LEXIS 58 (2009).)
7           Restraint therefore must be exercised when awarding costs that are not allowed by statute or case
8           law. (Bergmann v. Boyce, 109 Nev. 670, 679 (1993).) Even if Plaintiff properly itemizes and
9           documents the following costs, these costs are still not recoverable under any statute or judicial
10           opinion.

11           1.     E-Filing Retainer

12           Plaintiff seeks to recover $27.50 for an “E-Filing Retainer.” This item is not expressly
13           recoverable under Nev.Rev.Stat. § 18.005. The Plaintiff attempts to shoehorn this item into “Clerks’
14           Fees.” To accomplish this result, Plaintiff attempts to impermissibly expand—without any
15           support— “Clerks’ Fees” under section 18.005 to include e-filing fees or retainers. Such expansion is
16           not permissible because cost statutes are strictly construed. Therefore, $27.50 should be disallowed.

17           2.     Fees for Witnesses

18           The Plaintiff lumps together under “fees for witness at trial, pretrial hearings and deposing
19           witnesses” approximately fourteen witnesses. It appears that most of these witnesses, if not all, are
20           experts based on the Plaintiff’s use of post nominal abbreviations. The Plaintiff conveniently ignored
21           the cap set forth in Nevada Revised Statute § 18.005(5). Under this section, a party’s expert witness
22           fees are limited to reasonable fees for “not more than five expert witnesses in an amount of not more
23           than $1,500 for each witness, unless the court allows a larger fee after determining that the 24           circumstances surrounding the expert’s testimony were of such necessity as to require the larger fee.”
(Nev.Rev.Stat. § 18.005(5).)

25           While the Plaintiff seeks expert witness fees in the sum of $114,201.36, his recovery is
26           capped at $7,500. Almost all of the witnesses listed in the memorandum are at a sum well above the
27           statutory cap of $1,500. In fact, 12 out of the 14 witnesses are listed at sums well above that amount.

1 One witness—Terry Dinneen—is billed for twice in the memorandum at $12,931 and $12,172.

2 Finally, the Plaintiff has not made any showing that there are any circumstances that forced
3 the Plaintiff to spend an additional $106,701.36 in expert witness fees. Therefore, Plaintiff is
4 statutorily limited to a recovery of $7,500 in expert witness fees, provided he can demonstrate
5 these fees were reasonable and necessary for the proceedings.

6 3. Trial Transcript Costs

7 Plaintiff seeks to recover $12,397.50 for a “Trial Transcript Cost.” This item is not expressly
8 recoverable under Nev.Rev.Stat. § 18.005. This attempt to characterize transcript costs as
9 “compensation for the official reporter or reporter pro tempore” impermissibly expands section
10 18.005. Such an interpretation is contrary to established Nevada law, which provides cost recovery
11 statutes must be strictly construed. Therefore, $12,397.50 should be disallowed.

12 4. Telecopies, Photocopies, Long Distance Telephone Calls, and Postage

13 Plaintiff seeks to recover costs for photocopies, telecopies, long distance phone charges, and
14 postage. While these items are listed in Nev.Rev.Stat. § 18.005(12), normal out-of-pocket and routine
15 overhead expenses are not recoverable as taxable costs. As noted above, Plaintiff did not provide
16 any documentation or itemization of its costs. These costs were likely incurred as normal out-of-
17 pocket expenses. The minimal description provided by Plaintiff further demonstrates that these
18 costs are normal office expenses. For instance, Plaintiff acknowledges that $2,765.50 of the 19 photocopy expenses are “Firm in-house” costs. Such in-house or routine overhead expenses are not
20 recoverable.

21 D. Plaintiff Is Not Entitled To The Costs Under Nevada Revised Statute, Section
22 18.005(17) Because These Costs Are Not Reasonable Or Necessary.

23 Plaintiff seeks another $5,011 in costs under Nev.Rev.Stat. 18.005(17). The court must
24 construe NRS 18.005(17) narrowly and Plaintiff must justify that the expenses incurred under this
25 section were reasonable and necessary. (See Bergmann v. Boyce, 109 Nev. 670, 679 (1993).) The only
26 costs Plaintiff seeks to recover under this section are costs to locate Brandy Beavers, courier service,
27 and case value research. Therefore, Plaintiff is not claiming that any other costs are recoverable
28

1 under this section.

2 As demonstrated above, Plaintiff did not attach any documentation or provide a detailed
3 itemization of the costs for the courier service, service of process, and case value research fees.
4 Without this information, this Court cannot determine whether such expenses are reasonable and
5 necessary to the proceedings. To recover fees under section 18.005(17), the Plaintiff must
6 affirmatively show such costs were reasonable and necessary. Such a showing has not been made
7 and, as a result, these costs should not be allowed.

8 E. Before Any Costs Are Awarded, The Court Must First Attempt To Apportion
9 The Costs.

10 Before any award of costs is made, the district court must therefore attempt to apportion the
11 costs or determine apportionment is impracticable. (Mayfed v. Koroghli, 184 P.3d 362; 2008 Nev.Lexis
12 36 (2008).) Plaintiff has not made any showing that apportionment is impossible. The Palms is not
13 responsible for any costs associated with locating co-defendant Brandy Beavers. These costs or any
14 other costs related to the pursuit of claims against Beavers by Plaintiff are not recoverable against
15 The Palms. Plaintiff has failed to demonstrate that such costs to pursue Beavers are necessary to the
16 claims against The Palms. Therefore, this item along with other claimed costs must be apportioned
17 between The Palms and Beavers.

18 IV.

19 Conclusion

20 Plaintiff failed to show that the claimed costs are reasonable or necessary. Any costs that the 21 Plaintiff may be entitled to must first be apportioned before any award can be entered in this matter.
22 Even if Plaintiff can document and itemize these costs, many of the items are either statutorily
23 capped or impermissible under Nevada law. Therefore, Plaintiff's costs must be disallowed or 24 reduced to the statutorily permissible amounts upon a showing that these costs are actual, reasonable,
25 and necessary.

I.

The Plaintiff is Entitled to Pre-Judgment

Interest Under NRS 17.130

NRS 17.130 Computation of amount of judgment; interest.

1. In all judgments and decrees, rendered by any court of justice, for any debt, damages or costs, and in all executions issued thereon, the amount must be computed, as near as may be, in dollars and cents, rejecting smaller fractions, and no judgment, or other proceedings, may be considered erroneous for that omission.

2. When no rate of interest is provided by contract or otherwise by law, or specified in the judgment, the judgment draws interest from the time of service of the summons and complaint until satisfied, except for any amount representing future damages, which draws interest only from the time of the entry of the judgment until satisfied, at a rate equal to the prime rate at the largest bank in Nevada as ascertained by the Commissioner of Financial Institutions on January 1 or July 1, as the case may be, immediately preceding the date of judgment, plus 2 percent. The rate must be adjusted accordingly on each January 1 and July 1 thereafter until the judgment is satisfied.

Service of process was accomplished on December 11, 2006. The verdict was rendered on March 9, 2011 and filed on March 14, 2011. Pre-judgment interest on the total past damages amount of $1,909,234.38 was computed at 10.25% for 1,548 days totaling Eight Hundred Twenty Nine Thousand, Nine Hundred Sixty and 20/100 Dollars ($829,960.20) in pre-judgment interest.

Future special damages and future general damages total $4,142,355.00. Post-Judgment Interest on Future Damages shall accrue at the Legal Judgment Interest Rate beginning March 9, 2011, as adjusted January 1 and July 1 annually, until fully satisfied.

Both pre-judgment interest and post-judgment interest run concurrently until fully satisfied.

* Attorney General Opinion No. 98-20:

If clearly authorized by the creditor, a collection agency may collect whatever interest on a debt its creditor would be authorized to impose. A collection agency may not impose interest on any account or debt where the creditor has agreed not to impose interest or has otherwise indicated an intent not to collect interest. Simple interest may be imposed at the rate established in NRS 99.040 from the date the debt becomes due on any debt where there is no written contract fixing a different rate of interest, unless the account is an open or store accounts as discussed herein. In the case of open or store accounts, interest may be imposed or awarded only by a court of competent jurisdiction in an action over the debt.

I.
INTRODUCTION

The verdict in this case constitutes a serious miscarriage of justice. There were several irregularities that led to an unjust verdict against defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC, a Nevada Limited Liability Company, d/b/a THE PALMS CASINO RESORT (“the Palms”). First, the prevailing party, plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez (“Plaintiff”), and his counsel, engaged in misconduct that materially prejudiced the Palms by producing documents at trial for the first time, which prevented the Palms from being able to review the documents and prepare for the documents prior to trial. Second, the court committed error in permitting the Plaintiff to have four medical treaters testify on behalf of 25 treaters, and in subject areas in which they are not qualified. Third, the body of evidence the Palms produced at trial demonstrated that Plaintiff’s evidence was insufficient to justify the verdict. Finally, the Court was in error when it granted Plaintiff’s motion to strike the Palms’ experts’ opinions.

As will be unveiled in these moving papers, these facts, issues and circumstances all combined to deny the Palms a fair trial. These defects can only be remedied by the granting of new trial.

II.
FACTUAL BACKGROUND

This case involves claims that on November 22, 2004, plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez (“Plaintiff”) was in the sports bar at The Palms Casino for the purposes of watching a football game, and during the game’s half-time, an unknown patron dove for a souvenir, thrown into the bar area by a blindfolded “Palms girl,” and struck the Plaintiff’s left knee. Plaintiff further alleges that he then struck another patron while falling and injured the left side of his head. Over the last five years, Plaintiff has been under the care of numerous medical providers with a diverse range of specialties.

On October 25, 2010, the bench trial began in the matter of Enrique Rodriguez v. the Palms, No. A531538, in the Eastern District of Nevada, Clark County, and concluded with the parties’ closing arguments on November 10, 2010. (See Declaration of Kenneth C. Ward (“Ward ZA126/1108905-1

1 Decl.”), filed in conjunction herewith, ¶ 2.) The Honorable Jessie Walsh returned the verdict in
2 favor of Plaintiff on March 7, 2011, with Notice of Entry of Judgment served on the Palms on
3 March 15, 2011. (Ex. A to the Ward Decl., ¶ 3.)

4 A. Plaintiff’s Economist Expert’s Testimony.

5 The Palms’ economist expert, Thomas Cargill, took the position that there was insufficient
6 information from which to calculate a wage loss. Plaintiff’s own economist, Terrance Dinneen,
7 testified that he met with the plaintiff in 2008 and asked for information with which to calculate
8 his wage loss. (Deposition of Terrance Dinneen (“Dinneen Depo.”), attached as Exhibit B to the
9 Ward Decl., 41:15-42:14, 30:2-20.) In response to Mr. Dinneen’s request, Plaintiff produced no
10 social security information, but did produce three tax returns during the six-year period of 1999 to
11 2004. (Dinneen Depo, 46:2-17, 56:17-20, 55:5-6, 73:23-74:10, Ex. B to Ward Decl.) Of those
12 six years, there were three years without any returns at all.

13 To calculate past and future lost earnings, Plaintiff’s economist took the total income and 14 averaged it over six years. (Dinneen Depo., 30:8-20, 75:22-76:15.) Approximately 70% of that
15 income came from one year, 2004. (Id. at 75:22-76:15.) Oddly enough, the tax returns from 16 2001 and 2004 were prepared and signed in 2009 after the economist had requested the
17 information, and once litigation was underway. (Dinneen Depo., 39:24-42:4, Ex. B to the Ward
18 Decl.) Mr. Dinneen stated that he did not know if they were filed or not filed, reporting that all
19 he had was the tax returns, signed on various dates, such as 2009 for a 2004 tax return. (Id. at 20 41:2-9.) Plaintiff testified from the witness stand that he gave his economist all of the back up
21 information to support his income claim, and that he prepared and signed the 2004 tax return in
22 2009 after the economist requested the information. (Ward Decl., ¶ 5.) However, at trial, Mr.
23 Dinneen produced a letter from a person who allegedly prepared the returns saying that the
24 returns had been filed; it was a one line letter from the tax preparer dated October 20, 2010.
25 (Ward Decl., ¶ 6; November 4, 2010 Trial testimony, 71:20-73:19, 81:12-22, attached as Exhibit
26 K to the Ward Decl.) Mr. Dinneen testified at trial that he never provided the document to the
27 Palms. (Id.) This document was never provided to the Palms, even though Mr. Dinneen had
28 purportedly provided his entire work file and that letter was not included. (Ward Decl., ¶ 6.)

1 B. Plaintiff's Medical Treaters' Testimony.

2 Plaintiff did not have any disclosed medical experts and none of his treaters (52 of them)
3 prepared reports. In spite of this, the Court allowed treaters to testify about other treaters'
4 findings, and those same treaters were also permitted to testify as to what they thought other
5 treaters' opinions were or would be if they were aware of the patient's ongoing complaints.
6 Additionally, two anesthesiologists were allowed to testify about back surgeries and knee
7 replacements which had not been specified by the orthopedists.

8 There was a spine surgeon, Dr. Thalgott, who had at least six entries in his records that he
9 would not do surgery on this plaintiff's back. (Ward Decl., ¶ 9.) Further, he had not seen the
10 plaintiff in over three years. (Id.) In spite of that, the anesthesiologist, who also had not seen the
11 plaintiff for over three years, testified that the plaintiff needed a multi-level back fusion and that
12 he was quite certain that if Dr. Thalgott knew what had transpired with this plaintiff in the last
13 three years, that Dr. Thalgott would change his mind and agree that surgery was necessary.
14 (November 8, 2010 Trial Testimony, 91:21-95:20, 96:18-98:4, 98:17-101:22, Exhibit M to Ward
15 Decl.)

16 Plaintiff's disclosed life care planner, Kathleen Hartmann, provided a life care plan calling
17 for $294,000 for all of the medical relating to a spinal stimulator. (Dinneen & Hartman initial 18 expert report, Ex. L to the Ward Decl., ¶12.) Dr. Schifini, an anesthesiologist, was allowed to 19 testify that these numbers were all wrong and the number was actually $960,000. (Id.; Nov. 1,
20 2010 Trial Testimony, 53:13-56:19, 122:17-25, Ex. J to the Ward Decl. ) The life care planner's
21 numbers also did not include a figure for fusion and she included a range of $80,000 to $160,000
22 for knee replacements. (Id.) Again, Dr. Schifini, the anesthesiologist, was able to testify that his
23 back surgeries and knee replacements would be $686,000. (Id.)

24 C. Dr. Joseph Schifini's "New" Documents.

25 The Palms subpoenaed all records from Plaintiff's treater, Dr. Joseph Schifini. (Ward
26 Decl., ¶10.) The Palms only received approximately 21 pages from Dr. Schifini at that time.
27 (Id.) However, at trial, Dr. Schifini was permitted to testify regarding approximately 117 pages
28 of documents that the Palms were unaware of and the Palms were never been notified by Dr.

1 Schifini or Plaintiff's counsel that such documents existed. (Ward Decl., ¶ 11.) Plaintiff's failure
2 to disclose the documents put the Palms at a great disadvantage in its cross-examination of Dr.
3 Schifini, who provided critical testimony during the trial. (Ward Decl., ¶ 11.)

4 D. The Plaintiff Moved to Strike the Palms' Experts' Testimony, and the Court
5 Granted the Motion.

6 Plaintiff filed his Motion to Strike Trial Testimony on approximately November 16, 2010.
7 (See Ex. G to Ward Decl., ¶ 13.) Plaintiff's points and authorities essentially argued that the
8 Palms' experts, Forrest Franklin and Thomas Cargill "did not establish a sufficient foundation
9 since neither provided opinions to a reasonable degree of probability." (Id.) Plaintiff stipulated
10 on the record that Mr. Franklin and Dr. Cargill are both qualified. (Id. at ¶ 14.) The Court granted
11 the Motion to Strike on March 2, 2011. (Ex. H to the Ward Decl.).

12 III.
LEGAL ANALYSIS

13 A. The Court May Grant A New Trial.

14 A new trial may be granted pursuant to N.R.C.P. 59(a) when an aggrieved party's 15 substantial rights have been materially affected by any of the [grounds stated in the rule]."
16 Edwards Indus. v. DTE/BTE, Inc., 112 Nev. 1025, 1035-37; N.R.C.P. 59. Pursuant to N.R.C.P.
17 Rule 59, a new trial may be granted to a party "for any of the following causes or grounds
18 materially affecting the substantial rights of an aggrieved party":

19 (1) Irregularity in the proceedings of the court, jury, master, or 20 adverse party, or any order of the court, or master, or abuse of 21 discretion by which either party was prevented from having a fair
22 trial;

23 (2) Misconduct of the jury or prevailing party;

24 (3) Accident or surprise which ordinary prudence could not have
25 guarded against;

26 (4) Newly discovered evidence material for the party making the 27 motion which the party could not, with reasonable diligence, have 28 discovered and produced at the trial;

...

(7) Error in law occurring at the trial and objected to by the party making the motion. On a motion for a new trial in an action tried without a jury, the court may open the judgment if one has been

ZAI26/1108905-1

1 entered, take additional testimony, amend findings of fact and
2 conclusions of law or make new findings and conclusions, and direct the entry of a new judgment.

3 B. Plaintiff Counsel's Blatant and Premeditated Act of Putting Evidence On that It
4 Knew Defense Counsel Had No Knowledge of Constitutes Reprehensible Attorney
5 Misconduct and is Grounds for this Court to Grant a New Trial.

6 In this case, Plaintiff and Plaintiff's counsel engaged in misconduct by putting on
7 evidence they knew the Palms was unaware of, which resulted in the Palms being surprised and
8 unprepared for the evidence, such that a new trial is justified. N.R.C.P. Rule 59 provides that a
9 court may grant a new trial for an irregularity in the proceedings by adverse counsel. A new trial
10 based upon the prevailing party's misconduct does not require proof that the result would have
11 been different in the first trial without such misconduct. Barrett v. Baird, 111 Nev. 1496, 908
12 P.2d 689 (1995) (overruled on other grounds by Lioce v. Cohen, 124 Nev. 1, 174 P.3d 970
13 (2008).) "The 'surprise' contemplated by NRCP 59(a) must result from some fact, circumstance,
14 or situation in which a party is placed unexpectedly, to his injury, without any default or
15 negligence of his own, and which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against." Havas v.
Haupt, 94 Nev. 591, 593 (1978).

16 It is well settled under Nevada law that attorney misconduct or the prevailing party's
17 misconduct constitutes an irregularity in the proceedings that is grounds for a new trial. Although
18 there are many instances of misconduct by Plaintiff and Plaintiff's counsel, two particular acts
19 constitute misconduct that materially affected the Palms. First, Plaintiff withheld evidence
20 regarding Plaintiff's tax returns. Although he never reported to Mr. Ward again, when Plaintiff's
21 economist, Mr. Dinneen testified at trial, he had with him a letter from the person who allegedly
22 prepared the returns saying that the returns had been filed. Mr. Dinneen based the majority of his
23 wage loss claim opinions on Mr. Rodriguez's tax returns, which were admittedly prepared only
24 after Mr. Dinneen had requested them to form his opinion for this litigation.

25 From this scant information, Mr. Dinneen projected a wage loss of almost a million
26 dollars. Although Plaintiff claimed to have bought and sold hundreds of home as a real estate
27 investor, there was no evidence to support this claim. It may be that he has bought and sold a few
28 homes, but it is unlikely that he has been involved in this business to any great extent.

1 The Palms was also blindsided by one of Plaintiff's treating specialists, Dr. Schifini, who
2 presented at trial approximately 100+ documents in support of his opinions—none of which had
3 ever been provided to the Palms, and were not included in the 21+ documents Dr. Schifini
4 produced in response to his document subpoena. Dr. Schifini was introduced as one of plaintiff's
5 treating anesthesiologist/pain management specialists. Dr. Schifini testified that his first visit
6 with plaintiff was in November 2007. (Oct. 28, 2010, Trial Testimony, 7:14-16, attached as
7 Exhibit I.) He was well aware that he had over 120+ documents regarding Plaintiff's treatment,
8 yet he only produced 21+ documents to the Palms prior to trial. It was only at trial that he (and
9 arguably Plaintiff and Plaintiff's counsel) opted to "surprise" the Palms with 100+ documents that
10 it had never seen before. This made it incredibly difficult for Defendant to continue to properly
11 defend the case and cross-examine Dr. Schifini.

12 C. The Court's Order Permitting Plaintiff to Introduce Evidence of Testimony of 13 Unavailable Treaters Prejudiced the Palms' Right to a Fair Trial and is Grounds for 14 Grant of a New Trial.

15 Pursuant to N.R.C.P. Rule 59(a)(1), a Court may grant a new trial if there are "irregularity
16 of the proceedings" or an "abuse of discretion" preventing a fair trial. In addition, Rule 59(a)(7)
17 authorizes a new trial where an error of law occurred during trial and the moving party objected
18 to that error during trial. See Bass-Davis v. Davis, 122 Nev. 442, 453, 134 P.3d 103, 110 (2006).

19 The Court permitted Plaintiff, over the vehement objections of the Palms' counsel, to
20 introduce opinion testimony of Plaintiff's non-retained, non-disclosed expert treating doctors, Dr.
21 Shannon, Schifini, Shaw and Kidwell. Plaintiff's failure to disclose these experts put the Palms
22 in a quagmire, because the Palms never had notice of the testifying treaters' "expert" opinions
23 until they were given at trial, and once the opinions were given, the Palms was not allowed to
24 rebut them using its own properly designated expert Dr. Becker, since Dr. Becker had not
25 included his rebuttal opinions in his written report. The Palms was severely prejudiced by
26 Plaintiff's failure to disclose the identities of his testifying expert witnesses, and was further
27 severely prejudiced by the Court's allowing those unidentified experts to testify.

28 Treating healthcare providers, who were neither designated per NRCP 26 as non-retained experts nor provided expert reports, may not offer expert opinions on aspects of Plaintiff's

1 condition outside the scope of their treatment of plaintiff. As the Court saw throughout the
 2 progress of the trial, Plaintiff did not have any retained medical experts. With regard to Plaintiff's
 3 medical case, his counsel elicited testimony from only four treating healthcare providers, not from
 4 all of Plaintiff's treaters. Plaintiff attempted to have these four treaters aggregate the opinions and
 5 conclusions of the other 25+ treaters. The testimony by witness is represented in this chart:

Witness	Testified Regarding
Joseph Schifini, M.D. / Las Vegas Surgery Center	Thomas Vater, D.O. (VaterSpine)

Those four providers (Schifini, Shah, Kidwell and Shannon) offered their own “expert” opinions as to all of the other nontestifying, treating healthcare providers’ (such as orthopedic surgeons) opinions, conclusions, and courses of treatment, both past and future, as well as testifying that the non-testifying treaters’ bills and expenses were reasonable and necessary, and finally provided cost information for treatments outside the scope of their normal treatment or expertise.

A particularly striking example comes in the testimony of Dr. Schifini, one of Plaintiff’s treating anesthesiologist/pain management specialists. Dr. Schifini testified that his first visit with plaintiff was in November 2007. (Oct. 28 Trial Testimony, 7:14-16, Ex. J to the Ward Decl.) He testified he did not speak with Dr. Ferrante, a pain management specialist at UCLA who saw Rodriguez once in September or October 2006 and performed 1 1/2 hour IME at the specific request of his attorneys. (Nov. 1 Trial Testimony, 64:23-65:5, Ex. J to Ward Decl.; Trial Exh. 25, UCLA 000006). In short, Dr. Schifini had no connection whatsoever with Dr. Ferrante or Dr. Ferrante’s treatment of plaintiff. This notwithstanding, on questioning from Plaintiff’s counsel, Dr. Schifini testified as to Dr. Ferrante’s qualifications and background. (Nov. Trial Testimony, 10:3-11:8, Ex. I to Ward. Decl.) Dr. Schifini then proceeded to discuss in detail the opinions and conclusions that he believed that Dr. Ferrante would have reached had he followed Plaintiff’s treatment. (Nov. 1 Trial Testimony, 141:2-142:17, Ex. J to the Ward Decl.)

Dr. Schifini then began to discuss what he believed was Dr. Larry Miller’s treatment of Plaintiff as memorialized in his records. Dr. Miller, an anesthesiologist and pain management specialist in Los Angeles, last saw Plaintiff in May 2007, fully six months before Dr. Schifini’s first consult with plaintiff. Dr. Schifini did not refer Plaintiff to Dr. Miller. Dr. Miller did not refer Plaintiff to Dr. Schifini. The two doctors did not consult. Dr. Schifini knew nothing about Dr. Miller’s treatment except what was reflected in his records. Yet, Dr. Schifini testified that he agreed with Dr. Miller’s diagnosis, and that Dr. Miller’s treatments were medically necessary and related to the Palms injury, and the charges were reasonable. (Oct. 28 Trial Testimony, 22:4-

1 27:22, 44:20-9, Ex. I to Ward Decl.,)

2 Dr. Schifini next proceeded to give the same sort of expert testimony with regard to the
3 treatment of plaintiff by Drs. Crovetti, Koka, Stacey, Vater, and Thalgott, all as memorialized in
4 their records. (Id. at 28:6-30:12, 44:10-45:12, 45:14-48:10, 54:22-55:15, 64:13-65:20.)

5 Finally, and most significantly, Dr. Schifini proceeded to testify as to the specific costs of
6 the proposed spinal cord stimulator that he opined to Dr. Ferrante would believe was necessary,
7 had Dr. Ferrante actually treated plaintiff within the past several years. He specifically stated that
8 the costs of lifetime surgeries, surgeons, replacement batteries, replacement electrodes, and office
9 visits would total $721,000. (Oct. 28, 2010 Trial Testimony, Ex. I to Ward Decl, 76:14-25.) This
10 was an improper expert opinion, as no foundation was laid for it, nor was it disclosed previously,
11 nor was Dr. Schifini disclosed as an expert. Moreover, Dr. Schifini's costings are some three 12 times greater than Plaintiff's own expert lifecare planner Kathleen Hartman, R. N.'s estimates:

15

16 (Dinneen & Hartman initial expert report, p. 17, attached as Exhibit L to the Ward Decl.)

17 By way of further example, Dr. Kidwell, one of plaintiff's treating anesthesiologists/pain
18 specialists, testified that although he had never spoken with Dr. Thalgott (an orthopedic surgeon
19 in Los Angeles who had not seen plaintiff for at least three years before the date of trial), and
20 although Dr. Thalgott had written that plaintiff was not a surgical candidate, it was Dr. Kidwell's
21 opinion that if Dr. Thalgott knew what had transpired between then and now, he would change
22 his opinion. Dr. Kidwell testified not as to what he thought would be the course, but what he
23 thought Dr. Thalgott, a non-testifying treating doctor, would prescribe. (November 8, 2010 Trial
24 Testimony, 40:24-41:14, , Exhibit M to the Ward. Decl.) This is pure speculation.

25 Via this tactic, Plaintiff was able to offer into evidence the "expert opinions" of 28
26 different healthcare providers through only four witnesses, subjecting only four witnesses to
27 cross-examination on the "opinions" of 28 different providers as understood by the four testifying
28 treaters. However, the law does not allow a treating provider, otherwise not disclosed as an

1 expert, to offer expert opinions as to the treatment that would be prescribed or recommended by
2 another, non-testifying treater. The Court's considering this testimony in its verdict is error.

3 Plaintiff's entire medical case, a series of opinions of "experts by proxy" is improper
4 under NRCP 16 and 26, is inadmissible hearsay, and is completely without foundation. Plaintiff
5 did not demonstrate any foundation for any of the testifying treaters to offer the opinions they
6 offered with regard to plaintiff's back surgery needs, what Plaintiff's MRIs showed, whether his 7 knee surgeries were necessary, whether the non-testifying treaters' bills were reasonable, or the
8 lifetime costs for plaintiff's proposed spinal cord stimulator, some $723,000 as testified by Dr.
9 Schifini of his trial testimony. These opinions and the other opinions like them should not have
10 been considered by this Court in rendering its verdict in this case.

11 Prabhu v. Levine (a.k.a. Franco) inapposite

12 At a pretrial hearing on this issue, Plaintiff relied on Prabhu v. Levine (a.k.a. Franco), 112
13 Nev. 1538 (1996) in support of his argument that treating doctors can provide expert testimony
14 regardless of whether they have been disclosed as expert witnesses or issued NRCP 26 reports.
15 The Court allowed this testimony, over defendant's objection. The Court did, though, note the 16 Palms' continuing hearsay and relevance objections regarding the use of testifying treaters to get
17 into evidence the opinions of nontestifying treaters, as well as foundationless opinions on costs,
18 future treatment and other relevant issues, as well as the Palms' objections on the basis that the
19 experts were not disclosed as experts and did not issue reports per NRCP 16 and 26.

20 Prabhu, as the Court is aware, was a medical malpractice lawsuit. The manner in which
21 the trial court allowed the treating doctor to provide expert testimony in that case is substantially
22 different from the manner in which plaintiff was allowed to present "expert" testimony via
23 treating physicians in this case. The Palms respectfully submits that the Court committed error by 24 considering the non-disclosed "expert" testimony of plaintiff's treating physicians.

25 In Prabhu, the plaintiff Ms. Franco sued her doctor for medical malpractice. Ms. Franco's
26 treating ophthalmologic surgeon Dr. Levine performed five surgeries on her to correct maladies
27 caused by Dr. Prabhu's misdiagnoses. Dr. Levine did not testify at trial, but his deposition was
28 read into the record, providing his opinions as to causation and standard of care, as well as Ms.

1 Franco's prognosis.

2 Prabhū's counsel made objection to Dr. Levine's testimony because he was not disclosed
3 as an expert under NRCp 26 (no mention was made of expert reports), but was only identified as
4 a treating physician. However, the decision reflects that Prabhū's counsel was unable to show
5 prejudice at this technical failure because Prabhū's counsel deposed Dr. Levine and learned all of 6 his opinions at deposition. Prabhū's counsel, then, had the opportunity to secure his own experts'
7 opinions to counter Dr. Levine's. Accordingly, Prabhū's counsel could not show any surprise or
8 prejudice at Levine's testimony at trial, especially considering that testimony was simply 9 Levine's own deposition taken by Prabhū's own counsel. Under those circumstances, the Court
10 found no abuse of discretion in allowing the testimony of the treating doctor on ultimate issues in
11 the case.

12 The nature of Dr. Levine's testimony and treatment of plaintiff is different from the 13 testimony—to which the Palms objected—that was offered by Drs. Shannon, Schifini, Shah and
14 Kidwell. Unfortunately, defendants have been unable to locate any other Nevada decision
15 discussing the exact issue confronting this Court on this point. Unlike Dr. Levine's testimony,
16 though, where he offered expert opinions on issues learned within the scope of his own specific
17 and detailed treatment of Ms. Franco, Mr. Rodriguez's testifying treating doctors as described
18 above have offered opinions on ultimate issues such as causation based not on their own treating
19 opinions, but on the opinions and records of other doctors, unrelated to their treatment of plaintiff.

20 This testimony is far broader than—and radically different from—the testimony offered
21 by Dr. Levine in the Prabhū case, and should not be allowed.

22 1. Two parts to valid expert disclosure

23 Indeed, under the prevailing authorities, these providers cannot offer testimony at all other
24 than as percipient witnesses (i.e., testimony outside the scope of their specific treatment of 25 plaintiff) without having been disclosed as experts pursuant to NRCp 16(a)(2)(A) and NRCp 26.
26 While the Supreme Court in Prabhū seemed to minimize plaintiff's failure to designate Levine as
27 an expert, the fact is that defendant in that case was not prejudiced and so the trial court had not
28 abused its discretion. In the case where prejudice is patent—as here—expert disclosures are

1 crucially important in allowing a defendant to prepare its case.

2 Under Nevada law, there is a two-part disclosure requirement for expert witnesses.
3 Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 16.1(a) provides a party must disclose the identities of potential
4 experts, and the disclosure must be accompanied by a written report prepared and signed by the
5 witness. NRCP 16.1(a)(2)(A) and (B). Accordingly, for a witness to be allowed to offer expert
6 testimony at trial, he must first be formally disclosed as such and, if specifically retained to
7 provide expert testimony, he must generate a formal written report.

8 None of Mr. Rodriguez's testifying treating doctors were designated as experts. They
9 were all identified in 16.1 disclosures as treating physicians and percipient witnesses, but none
10 were disclosed in Plaintiff's expert disclosures as "non-retained" experts. This may seem like a
11 technical distinction. After all, all of them were available for deposition, and, like in the Levine
12 case, the Palms could have deposed all of them and learned their opinions. However, plaintiff
13 had 30+ treating healthcare providers in this case. It is patently unfair and prejudicial to either
14 require the Palms to have deposed every single one of them on the off chance that one might offer
15 expert testimony, or for the Palms to have to wait until trial to find out which providers are going
16 to offer expert testimony. Here, Plaintiff was required by NRCP 16.1 and 26 to have timely
17 designated as experts the four treaters who testified at trial. Because he did not, the Palms was 18 severely prejudiced in preparing its defense.

19 2. NRCP 16 disclosure of treating healthcare provider as expert is mandatory.

20 While so-called "non-retained experts" like treating healthcare providers may not
21 necessarily be required to provide written reports under 16.1(a)(2)(B), they still must be timely
22 and formally disclosed as experts under 16.1(a)(2)(A). The reason is the nature of their opinion
23 testimony: Lay witnesses, those "not testifying as an expert," (NRS 50.265), may provide
24 opinions rationally based on the perception of the witness (e.g., speed or height), only experts can
25 provide opinions "based on scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge," (NRS 50.275),
26 which are by definition expert opinions.

27 The authorities are clear that a treating doctor, otherwise not retained for purposes of 28 litigation, is nonetheless still providing expert testimony if the testimony consists of opinions

1 based on "scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge," regardless of whether those
2 opinions were formed during the scope of interaction with a party prior to litigation. Musser v.
3 Gentiva Health Servs., 356 F.3d 751, 757, fn. 2 (7th Cir. 2004); Cf. O'Conner v. Commonwealth
4 Edison Co., 13 F.3d 1090, 1105 n.14 (7th Cir. 1994).<sup>1</sup> Accordingly, it is clear that while a
5 treating physician may not necessarily be required to offer a written expert report, the treating
6 physician/healthcare provider must always be disclosed as an expert if he/she is going to be called
7 at trial to offer any testimony outside the bare facts of his/her treatment.

8 Plaintiff has argued that he did comply with all of the Court's disclosure rules with regard
9 to percipient witnesses and accordingly the Palms has for years known the identities of all of
10 Plaintiff's treating healthcare providers. He has argued that no prejudice will result from 11 Plaintiff's "form over substance" failure to formally disclose the treating healthcare providers,
12 previously disclosed as percipient witnesses, as experts under NRCP 16.1(a)(2)(A). This was,
13 after all, essentially the ruling in Prabhu. However, and in addition to the specific prejudice to
14 the Palms here discussed above, the authorities are clear that the federal rules and their NRCP
15 counterpart demand this formal disclosure:

16 Formal disclosure of experts is not pointless. Knowing the identity
17 of the opponent's expert witnesses allows a party to properly
18 prepare for trial. Gentiva should not be made to assume that each
19 witness disclosed by the Mussers could be an expert witness at trial.
20 Cf. Patel v. Gayes, 984 F.2d 214, 217-18 (7th Cir. 1993) (affirming,
21 under the pre-1993 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the exclusion
22 of expert testimony as to duty of care from treating physicians when
23 they were not disclosed as experts). The failure to disclose experts
24 prejudiced Gentiva because there are countermeasures that could 25 have been taken that are not applicable to fact witnesses, such as 26 attempting to disqualify the expert testimony on grounds set forth in
27 Daubert v. Merrell Dow Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 509 U.S. 579, 125
28 L. Ed. 2d 469, 113 S. Ct. 2786 (1993), retaining rebuttal experts, and holding additional depositions to retrieve the information not available because of the absence of a report. In sum, we agree with the district court that even treating physicians and treating nurses must be designated as experts if they are to provide expert
testimony.

Musser, supra, at 757 – 758 (emphasis added).

In this case, just as in Musser, Plaintiff sought to elicit expert opinion testimony from

<sup>1</sup> Treating physicians are not exempt from the disclosure and report requirements because "we do not distinguish the treating physician from other experts when the treating physician is offering expert testimony...."
ZA126/F108905-1 13

1 treating healthcare providers including physicians, none of whom were formally designated as
2 experts under the civil rules. The Palms never had the opportunity to depose any of plaintiff's
3 treating providers as experts, as they were never designated as such.

4 This is an important distinction, as the court in Musser recognized. There are
5 "countermeasures" that the Palms could have taken to address the treating providers' "expert"
6 testimony, most significantly developing rebuttal expert testimony on the various providers'
7 opinions as elicited in their depositions. The Palms could not do this here, as Plaintiff never
8 designated which providers it would seek to elicit expert testimony from at trial. There is no
9 Nevada authority on point unfortunately, but the federal authorities, including Musser, affirm that
10 treating physicians must be disclosed as experts if they are to provide expert testimony.
11 Defendant has been sorely prejudiced by Plaintiff's having elicited expert testimony from non-
12 disclosed, non-retained experts at trial.

13 3. A written report required where bases for opinions stray from the core of 14 treatment

15 The second part of the expert disclosure under Nevada law is the written report
16 requirement. Of course, an expert witness specifically hired by counsel to provide testimony in
17 litigation must also prepare a written report containing all of his opinions and conclusions as well
18 as the factual bases therefor. NRCPP 16.1(a)(2)(B). A properly disclosed treating physician or
19 healthcare provider may provide expert testimony without issuing an expert report, but only so
20 long as the bases for her opinions are limited to her personal observations, diagnosis, and
21 treatment of plaintiff. Roberson v. Bair, 242 F.R.D. 130, 134 (D.D.C. 2007).

22 However, and significantly for this case, an expert report is required when that treatment
23 provider's testimony strays from the core of the physician's treatment. Fielden v. CSX Transp.,
24 Inc., 482 F.3d 866, 870 (6th Cir. 2007). See Kirkham v. Societe Air Fr., 236 F.R.D. 9, 12 (D.D.C.
25 2006) (written report requirement applies to opinions on causation, prognosis, and permanency.)
26 By way of example, any opinion offered by a treating physician or healthcare provider (who has 27 been otherwise properly disclosed) that is based on information contained in a report of a defense
28 medical examination, an agreed medical examination for purposes of workers compensation, or

1 any other information outside of the scope of a treating physician's examination and treatment of
2 plaintiff, is of a consulting nature, and the witness purporting to offer that opinion will be
3 considered a consulting expert who is subject to the report requirement. Shapardon v. West
4 Beach Estates, 172 F.R.D. 415, 417 (D. Haw. 1997).

5 Here, this is exactly the sort of opinion that Plaintiff's for testifying treaters offered. Their
6 opinions were of a consulting nature, and were not formed solely within the scope of their
7 treatment of Plaintiff. Many of the facts and opinions testified to by Dr. Shannon, Dr. Schifini,
8 Dr. Kidwell and Dr. Shah were outside the scope of their treatment of Plaintiff, and were based
9 on reviews of the other non-testifying treaters' records as well as defendants' own experts'
10 reports—they criticized the Palms' own expert Dr. Becker. This is something a treating doctor
11 would never normally do, and something that is the exclusive provenance of retained expert
12 witnesses. Those select few treating healthcare providers aggregated the hearsay testimony of
13 these nontestifying providers and offered previously non-disclosed expert opinions based thereon
14 at trial. Such testimony is clearly inadmissible, and to admit it is an abuse of discretion and an
15 error in law.

16 4. Plaintiff's testifying treaters not qualified under Daubert to offer opinions on
17 treatment/conclusions/opinions of nontestifying treaters.

18 Assuming arguendo that Plaintiff's treating providers were properly disclosed, they still
19 must be qualified to offer the opinions they seek to offer. The statute governing the admissibility
20 of expert testimony in Nevada courts is NRS 50.275, which has been construed to track with
21 Federal Rule of Evidence 702. Hallmark v. Eldridge, 189 P.3d 646, 650 (Nev. 2008). NRS
22 50.275 states that

23 [i]f scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge will assist 24 the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in
25 issue, a witness qualified as an expert by special knowledge, skill,
26 experience, training or education may testify to matters within the
27 scope of such knowledge. Id.

28 Therefore, to qualify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, the witness must satisfy
three requirements:

- (1) he or she must be qualified in an area of 'scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge' (the qualification requirement); (2)

ZA126/1108905-1

1 his or her specialized knowledge must 'assist the trier of fact to
2 understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue' (the
3 assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be
4 limited 'to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized]
5 knowledge' (the limited scope requirement). Hallmark, supra, 189
6 P.3d at 650.

7 The determination of competency of an expert witness is largely within the discretion of
8 the trial judge. Walton v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court ex rel. County of Clark, 94 Nev. 690, 693
9 (1978). Before a person can testify as an expert witness, the court must first determine whether
10 that person is qualified in an area of scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge. The 11 court should consider the following non-exhaustive factors: (1) formal schooling and academic 12 degrees, (2) licensure, (3) work/employment experience, and (4) practical experience and
13 specialized training. Hallmark, supra, 189 P.3d at 650-51.

14 Second, once a witness is found to be qualified, the anticipated testimony must assist the
15 trier of fact in understanding the evidence or determining a fact in issue. NRS 50.275.
16 Testimony will only assist the trier of fact if it is both relevant and the product of reliable
17 methodology. Hallmark, supra, 189 P.3d at 651. Nevada does not blindly follow Daubert, but
18 does use the factors outlined in Daubert v. Merrell Dow Pharm., Inc., 509 U.S. 579 (1993), for
19 guidance in determining whether an expert's testimony is based on reliable methodology. Higgs
20 v. State, 222 P.3d 648, 657-58 (2010). Under Daubert, a judge may wish to consider whether the
21 evidence at issue (1) has been tested, (2) has been subjected to peer review and publication, (3)
22 has a known or potential error rate, and (4) has general or widespread acceptance. Daubert,
23 supra, 509 U.S. at 593-94. However, application of the Daubert factors is not mechanical;
24 Nevada judges are allowed to consider any other relevant factors. Higgs, supra, 222 P.3d at 657-
25 58.

26 Finally, once a physician is qualified as an expert, he or she may testify to all matters
27 within the scope of his or her knowledge, experience or training, subject to the court's discretion
28 concerning whether the expert is truly qualified to render such testimony. Fernandez v.
Admirand, 108 Nev. 963, 969 (1992). Mere designation as an expert in one area, though, does not give the witness a license to unconstrained testimony on all scientific, technical, or other

1 specialized matters. Eagleston v. Guido, 41 F.3d 865 (2d Cir. 1994) (holding that an expert
2 sociologist could not testify as to criminology or domestic violence); see also Lord v. State, 107
3 Nev. 28, 33 (a detective witness was not qualified to testify that a person’s injuries were caused
4 by a fight despite the witness’ extensive law enforcement experience).

5 Notwithstanding that none of the testifying treaters were disclosed as experts, the
6 testifying treaters themselves did not have the qualifications to opine on any and every medical
7 issue in this case. For example, Dr. Kidwell, an anesthesiologist, is not qualified to offer credible
8 expert testimony as to what treatment Dr. Thalgott, an orthopedic spine surgeon who had not seen
9 plaintiff since 2008, would currently prescribe if he were to examine Plaintiff. In 2007 Dr.
10 Thalgott wrote in his treatment record that Plaintiff was not a candidate for back surgery.
11 However, at trial, Dr. Kidwell testified that, had Dr. Thalgott followed plaintiff’s treatment since
12 2007, he would now recommend back surgery. There is simply no foundation for this “opinion”
13 from Dr. Thalgott via Dr. Kidwell. Likewise, Dr. Schifini simply is not qualified to testify as to
14 what Dr. Ferrante, a pain management specialist at UCLA who saw Plaintiff several years before,
15 and with whom Dr. Schifini never consulted, would currently recommend for Plaintiff. These 16 and the other “opinions” elicited by Plaintiff’s counsel are improper and should not have been
17 admitted as evidence.

18 5. Plaintiff’s selected few treaters’ aggregation of nontestifying providers’ opinions
19 and records are inadmissible hearsay

20 NRS 51.035 defines hearsay generally as a statement offered into evidence to prove the 21 truth of the matter asserted. Hearsay is inadmissible except as otherwise provided by law. NRS
22 51.065.

23 Testimony of one treating physician as to the collective opinion of a group of other
24 physicians of different opinions and specialties who do not testify is inadmissible hearsay under
25 NRS 50.285. Estes v. State, 122 Nev. 1123, 1140-41 (2006). In Estes v. State, in a proceeding to
26 determine the defendant’s competency to stand trial, one of the defendant’s physicians—who had
27 been properly disclosed as an expert—testified as to his mental illness. Id. at 1141. During this
28 testimony, the physician voiced a “collective opinion” of the defendant’s competency on behalf

1 of herself and other mental health professionals who were currently treating plaintiff but who were
2 not called to testify at the proceedings. Id. On review, the Supreme Court of Nevada held that
3 such testimony constituted inadmissible hearsay. Id.

4 However, the Court noted that NRS 50.285 allows otherwise properly disclosed and
5 qualified experts to base their opinions on facts or data not otherwise admissible, if that
6 information is of a type reasonably relied on by experts in the field. Id. Therefore, the
7 physician's reasonable reliance on the opinions of her colleagues in forming her own diagnosis
8 was "marginally appropriate." Id.

9 Applying the rule in Estes to this case, since Plaintiff's treating healthcare providers were
10 never disclosed as experts (supra, at pp. 1-5), they cannot be otherwise accepted as experts,
11 regardless of their qualifications. Accordingly, such non-disclosed treating healthcare providers
12 may not offer testimony based on hearsay, which they might otherwise do had they been properly
13 qualified. As set out above, treating healthcare providers who have been disclosed as non-
14 retained experts may testify only as to what is encompassed within their personal observations
15 and treatment of the Plaintiff. Treating healthcare providers who have not been disclosed as non-
16 retained experts may not testify as to any matters "based on scientific, technical or other
17 specialized knowledge."

18 Here, Plaintiff did not disclose any treating physicians as experts, and so they must be
19 precluded from offering any expert testimony on any matters "based on scientific, technical or 20 other specialized knowledge." Regardless of disclosure, Plaintiff's selected few experts were
21 never qualified to aggregate the records, observations and opinions of the non-testifying treaters.
22 Finally, because plaintiff's treating healthcare providers were never disclosed, they may not rely
23 on hearsay, which they otherwise might be allowed to do.

24 "The exclusion of non-disclosed evidence is automatic and mandatory under Rule 37(c)(1)
25 unless non-disclosure was justified or harmless." Musser at 758, citing Finley v. Marathon Oil
26 Co., 75 F.3d 1225, 1230 (7th Cir. 1996). While defendant had the opportunity to depose the
27 treaters during discovery, it never had the opportunity to depose them as experts because they
28 were never disclosed as such. As discussed in Musser, this is a very important distinction, and

1 plaintiff's failure to disclose prevented defendant from being able to prepare for trial, which has
2 severely prejudiced the Palms.

3 Clearly, the Court considered some, if not all, of the inadmissible testimony in calculating
4 its almost $6 million verdict in this matter. This testimony should never have been admitted, and
5 by permitting its admission, the Court made it difficult, if not impossible, for the Palms to
6 effectively defend against Plaintiff's medical damages claims.

7 D. The Body of Evidence that the Palms Presented at Trial Conclusively Demonstrates
8 the Evidence was Insufficient to Justify the Verdict.

9 N.R.C.P. Rule 59 authorizes new trials where the verdict is against law, or where the
10 evidence is insufficient to justify the verdict. The general rule is that when there is substantial
11 evidence to sustain the judgment, it will not be disturbed, but an exception to the general rule
12 exists where, upon all the evidence, it is clear that a wrong conclusion has been reached. Brechan
13 v. Scott, 92 Nev. 633, 555 P.2d 1230 (1976).

14 Plaintiff has the burden of proving the fact of damage and the amount of damages. Mort
15 Wallin v. Commercial Cabinet Co., 105 Nev. 855, 857 (Nev. 1989). Each item of damages must
16 be "proven by a preponderance of the evidence." Las Vegas-Tonopah-Reno Stage Lines v. Gray
17 Line Tours, 106 Nev. 283, 290 (Nev. 1990).

18 1. Plaintiff Must Establish the Amount of Damages by Substantial Evidence.

19 "[T]o justify a money judgment the amount ... must be proved," and "there must be
20 substantial evidence as to the amount of damage, as the law does not permit arriving at such
21 amount by conjecture[.]" Cathcart v. Robison, Lyle, Belaustegui & Robb, 106 Nev. 477, 480
22 (Nev. 1990). "[T]o prove the right to damages without proving the amount, entitles a plaintiff to
23 nominal damages only." Id. Thus, Plaintiff must prove the amount of damages to be awarded by
24 substantial evidence. Any lesser standard opens the door to conjecture and unjust awards.

25 2. Plaintiff Must Prove the Amount of Damages With Reasonable Certainty.

26 Plaintiff must prove the "amount" of damages "to a reasonable certainty" that is "not
27 arrived at by mere conjecture but through substantial evidence." All Nite Garage v. A. A. A.
28 Towing, 85 Nev. 193, 199 (Nev. 1969). While the amount "need not be met with mathematical

1 exactitude,” and “some uncertainty in the amount is allowed,” there “must be an evidentiary basis
2 for determining a reasonably accurate amount of damages.” Mort Wallin, 105 Nev. at 857. The
3 Restatement (Second) of Torts permits the plaintiff to recover damages “if, and only if, he
4 establishes by proof the extent of the harm and the amount of money representing adequate
5 compensation with as much certainty as the nature of the tort and the circumstances permit.”
6 Rest. (2d) Torts § 912.

7 Plaintiff must provide a reasonable method for determining the amount of damages.
8 “[I]f ... a reasonable method for ascertaining the extent of damage is offered through testimony,”
9 it will be “sufficient if the evidence adduced will permit the jury to make a fair and reasonable
10 approximation.” Bader v. Cerri, 96 Nev. 352, 358 (Nev. 1980) (citation omitted) (overruled on 11 other grounds, Evans v. Dean Witter Reynolds, Inc., 116 Nev. 598, 608 (2000).)

12 In Mort Wallin, plaintiff sought damages for diminution in the value of a store caused by
13 defendant’s breach of contract, put on evidence of the fact of diminution, but did not provide
14 evidence of the value of the store had defendant performed as promised and its value as a result of
15 its actual performance. 105 Nev. at 857. The Supreme Court held plaintiff “failed to carry its 16 burden to reasonably establish the amount of the diminution in property value” and vacated the
17 diminution-in-value damages award.

18 Under Nevada case law, if the evidence a plaintiff provides is not substantial and does not
19 permit the fact-finder to determine the amount of damages with reasonable accuracy, he has not
20 carried his burden. Rather, plaintiff must put on evidence of the amount of damages that permits
21 the fact finder to make a reasonably accurate award of damages based on a reasonable method.

22 Plaintiff claims that he is a real estate investor/developer and has had his own real estate
23 business for over fifteen years. Plaintiff claims lost earnings resulting from injuries he attributes
24 to the subject accident. Because Plaintiff is in business for himself through his professional
25 corporation, his lost earnings may be measured by the lost profits of his business. Strauss v.
26 Continental Airlines, 67 S.W.3d 428, 437-438 (Tex. App. 2002).

27 3. Plaintiff Cannot Prove that the Accident Caused Specified Losses.

28 Proof that the accident caused Plaintiff specified losses is essential:

1 There is no automatic award for loss of income due to partial
2 disability. The disability must result in a loss of income for it to be
3 compensable. In this case, the plaintiff is a professional, whose 4 earnings depend upon his training and professional skills, which are more mental than physical. Therefore, a curtailment of his physical activities does not necessarily translate into a diminution in his earning capacity.

5 Nobile v. New Orleans Public Service, Inc., 419 So.2d 35, 39 (La.
6 App. 1982) (emphasis added).

7 The evidence here has shown that, similar to Nobile, Plaintiff's earnings from his real
8 estate endeavors are the result more of his mental abilities and professional skills than physical
9 capacities. Therefore, loss of earnings is not an inevitable result of physical injury. Plaintiff
10 contends that, as a result of his injuries, he lost the ability to purchase and "flip" residential real
11 estate, and thus lost profits. He must provide evidence that he lost business as a result of the 12 injury, and not from other causes such as bad investments on his part or indeed the recent crash in
13 the real estate market. For example, Plaintiff must provide evidence that he was unable to buy
14 and sell real estate because of his injuries. He did not do so. Without such evidence, an award
15 would be based on conjecture.

16 The Strauss case involved similarly insufficient evidence. There, an attorney sued the 17 airline for lost profits caused by personal injuries suffered while boarding a flight. 67 S.W.3d at
18 432, 433. After trial, the court granted defendant's motion for judgment notwithstanding the 19 verdict on the jury's $1 million award of lost past profits. Id. at 434. The attorney argued that he
20 lost profits as a result of his injuries because he could no longer travel to a particular small town
21 in Mississippi and thus solicit personal injury cases from that town's sympathetic population,
22 made up of persons working in and related to the maritime offshore oil industry. 67 S.W.3d at 23 439.

24 The Strauss plaintiff, however, did not provide what the court called the "presumably
25 available evidence" of "the numbers of cases he had represented [in that town] or the net
26 earnings he made on each case prior to the injury." Id. (emphasis added). The court held, "in
27 the absence of additional available evidence, and the absence of any explanation as to why it
28 was not provided," the evidence that was provided "is not sufficient." Id. (emphasis added). In

1 addition, the attorney did not attempt to “segregate the fees earned from similar cases [to those
2 from that town] from fees earned from other types of cases,” with the result, “there is nothing
3 from which a jury could determine the number of maritime cases from Kosciusko that Strauss
4 might have obtained[.]” Id. The court held that the attorney did not demonstrate his damages “to
5 the degree of proof to which they were susceptible.” Id.

6 Mr. Rodriguez’s proof of damages here was like the attorney in the Strauss case. The only
7 evidence Plaintiff has produced to support his lost earnings claims are his individual tax returns
8 from 1999, 2001 and 2004, none of which were completed in any of those years, e.g., the 2004
9 tax return was signed in 2009. These three tax returns, none of which were completed
10 contemporaneously, by themselves, are wholly insufficient to support Plaintiff’s $400,000 per
11 year lost earnings claim. Plaintiff failed to produce any other evidence in support of his lost
12 earnings claim during discovery.

13 4. Plaintiff Has Failed to Provide Substantial Evidence of Revenues and Expenses to
14 Prove Lost Profits.

15 To determine his lost earnings, Plaintiff may not rely on his business’s gross revenues.
16 “Gross fees,” the Strauss court held, “are not an appropriate basis” for determining lost earnings.
17 Id. at 440. He must provide evidence of “expenses.” Id. “Net earnings ... must include a
18 deduction for expenses incurred[.]” such as “office expenses, court fees, copy costs and the
19 myriad other expenses associated with a case[.]” Id. In Strauss, the attorney failed to provide 20 such evidence, and the court held the evidence insufficient to support an award of lost profits. Id.
21 at 442.

22 To prove lost profits, Plaintiff must have, in addition to proving that the accident caused
23 him to lose opportunities and sales, provided evidence of the gross revenues the sales reasonably
24 would have generated, his expenses for the sales and the expenses of his professional corporation
25 allocable to those sales, and ultimately estimated net revenues. Plaintiff failed to produce any
26 such evidence during discovery or at trial.

27 5. Plaintiff Has Failed to Provide Evidence of Lost Earnings to Support an Award of 28 Damages for Lost Earning Capacity.

Nevada has not expressly recognized loss of earning capacity as a recoverable loss distinct
2A126/1108905-1 22

1 from lost future earnings. Nevada cases addressing lost earning capacity treat it as the same as
2 lost future earnings. e.g., Silver State Disposal Co. v. Shelley, 105 Nev. 309, 311-312, 774 P.2d
3 1044, 1046 (1989) (“the jury was adequately instructed on the recovery for lost wages and future
4 lost wages (reduced earning capacity)”).

5 Loss of earning capacity has been distinguished from loss of earnings. Loss of earnings is
6 “actual loss of income due to an inability to perform a specific job a party held from the time of
7 injury to the date of trial.” Strauss, 67 S.W.3d at 435; Johnson v. International of United Bhd. of
8 C. & J., 54 Nev. 332, 336 (1932) (“loss of what plaintiff would otherwise have earned in his
9 calling, and has been deprived of earning by the wrongful act”). Loss of earning capacity is
10 diminished “ability and fitness to work in gainful employment” caused by the accident. Id. at 435
11 & n.2.

12 The issue of lost earning capacity is clearly presented when the injured plaintiff is a child
13 who never held a job. Id. at 436. The distinction between lost earning capacity and lost future
14 earnings largely disappears for injured plaintiffs, like Plaintiff, who has avowed a commitment to 15 a particular profession. Id.

16 To recover for lost earning capacity, Plaintiff must have presented evidence that his
17 earnings and earning capacity have been harmed by the accident. In City of Fairbanks v. Nesbett,
18 432 P.2d 607, 617 (Alaska 1967), the Alaska Supreme Court held, in a case involving an attorney,
19 “In determining the extent of impairment of an attorney’s earning capacity and the measurement
20 of loss therefrom, we hold that there must be evidence presented to the jury concerning the extent
21 of impairment.” The attorney did not place any evidence in the record of the effect of his ankle
22 injury on his earning capacity. The court held, “it was error to submit this issue to the jury since
23 they could only have speculated as to the extent of any impairment of appellee’s capacity to earn
24 money and the resulting monetary loss therefrom.” Id.

25 As previously stated, the only evidence Plaintiff has produced in an effort to support his
26 lost earnings claim are his individual tax returns from 1999, 2001 and 2004, which were created
27 in response to his expert’s request for them, and during this litigation, and his own self-serving
28 anecdotal testimony. Plaintiff testified he had a business, Mary Star Enterprises, which he

1 operated further to his real estate investments. He has produced no income/earnings records or
2 profit and loss statements for this company. Plaintiff has failed to produce, other than these three
3 individual tax returns, any evidence of his lost earnings. Indeed, his own expert, Terrance
4 Dinneen, simply took a six-year average of the three tax returns provided (add the three incomes
5 and divide by six). There is no evidence of lost earnings or profits.

6           6.       Plaintiff Did Not Prove Lost Earnings or Lost Earnings Capacity.

7           To recover lost earnings, and to prove that he has suffered a loss of earning capacity as a
8 result of the accident, Plaintiff must have provided substantial evidence that the accident, and no
9 other cause such as the crash in the real estate market, is the cause of lost earnings. Besides three
10 years of tax returns, Plaintiff elected not to provide any of the other evidence he presumably has
11 (or could have collected) all of which is necessary to make this showing.

12           Plaintiff claims to have had his own real estate business, Mary Star Enterprises, for over
13 fifteen years. That business presumably has records, including business tax returns, profit and 14 loss statements, and other indicia of legitimacy. Plaintiff certainly has information or access to
15 information about key facts necessary to prove lost earnings and lost earning capacity. He knows
16 or should know the number of sales he had for the 15 years preceding the subject accident. It was
17 his business. He knows or should know his expenses attributed to such sales. He knows or has 18 information about the revenues various types of sales generate. Plaintiff, however, failed to 19 provide any such evidence at deposition or in discovery or at trial.

20           Plaintiff has not shown that his alleged injuries have had any effect on his ability to do the
21 mental and professional work of a real estate flipper. On this record, Plaintiff has failed to
22 provide substantial evidence in support of a reasonably certain an award of damages. Thus, it
23 was against the law for the Court to award any lost earnings or loss of earning capacity in this
24 case.

25       E.       Finally, the Court Was in Error When It Granted Plaintiff's Motion to Strike the
26       Palms' Experts' Opinions.

27           Plaintiff filed a Motion to Strike Trial Testimony as to the Palms' experts, Mr. Franklin
28 and Dr. Cargill, and against the Palms' opposition, the Court granted the Motion. The Palms

1 produced hospitality safety/security expert, Forrest Franklin as a witness at trial. Mr. Franklin
2 testified that: (1) throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort into crowds is not a substandard
3 protocol; (2) it is not unsafe to throw things into crowds; and (3) it is within the standard of care
4 to throw promotional items into crowds. (November 3, 2010 Trial Testimony, 14: 6-8, 31: 17-21,
5 33: 7-13, Exhibit N to the Ward Decl.)

6 Mr. Franklin addressed whether throwing promotional items into a crowd was within the
7 standard of care in the casino/hospitality industry, and indeed opined that the activity was within
8 the standard of care, notwithstanding the fact that the Palms had an internal procedure in place
9 forbidding throwing items. Mr. Franklin's testimony was clearly relevant because his opinions
10 made it more probable that the Palms did not act negligently in allowing items to be thrown. Mr.
11 Franklin's testimony was thus helpful to the trier of fact.

12 In this case, Mr. Franklin's testimony was reliable per NRS 50.275, and Daubert v.
13 Merrill Dow Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 509 U.S. 579 (1993). As he testified, Mr. Franklin has had 14 extensive experience as a security officer dealing with persons throwing objects into crowds.
15 (November 3, 2010 Trial Testimony, 13: 14-21, Exhibit N to Ward Decl.) Before offering an
16 opinion, he visited the area of the Palms where the accident occurred, reviewed the relevant
17 deposition testimony and the Palms security manual. (Id., 13:22-25; 15:16-18.) These "facts and 18 data" are reliable and are sufficient bases upon which a qualified expert like Mr. Franklin may 19 offer an opinion.

20 Dr. Cargill, an economist, testified as to Plaintiff's wage earning history and damages. He
21 commented on the reports prepared by Plaintiff's expert Mr. Dinneen, and rebutted Mr.
22 Dinneen's opinions. Dr. Cargill specifically testified that: (1) it was inappropriate to use an
23 average of plaintiff's earnings over the period from 1999 to 2004 to predict future earnings; and
24 (2) using current interest rates to calculate future wage loss is improper. (November 9, 2010 Trial
25 Testimony, 22: 6-25, 55: 15-20, Exhibit O to the Ward Decl.)

26 Dr. Cargill offered two opinions, both of which survive the Daubert "relevancy and 27 reliability" standard for admissibility of expert testimony. First, Dr. Cargill testified that 28 plaintiff's projected future income was derived through a flawed method of calculation of past
25

1 income. (Id. at 16: 4-8). He testified that averaging just three tax returns over a perhaps 6-year
2 period does not accurately estimate past earnings and thus likewise is unreliable for forecasting
3 future earnings. It was inappropriate to average these three tax returns (1999, 2001, 2004, all of
4 which were prepared several years after the tax liabilities were incurred) in the context of an
5 artificially inflated real estate bubble. (Id. at 29: 7-12.) This testimony makes a fact of
6 consequence—whether Mr. Dinneen’s wage loss estimates are reliable—less probable than
7 without the Cargill testimony. Therefore, the testimony is relevant and helpful to the trier of fact.

8         Second, Dr. Cargill offered the opinion that using current interest rates to project future
9 lost income did not make economic sense because it did not take into account rates of inflation in
10 the future. This testimony was relevant because it makes a fact of consequence, whether Mr.
11 Dinneen’s computation of damages is accurate, less probable than without it. It is relevant to 12 total damages and does “assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in 13 issue.”

14         Dr. Cargill’s technique is also reliable and generally accepted in the field of forensic
15 economics. Under Daubert, the Court must determine whether the reasoning and methodology
16 underlying the proposed expert’s testimony is valid. In making this inquiry, Daubert offers four
17 non-exclusive factors: (1) whether the concept has been tested, (2) whether the concept has been
18 subject to peer review, (3) what the known rate of error is, and (4) whether the concept is
19 generally accepted by the community. Shaffer v. Amada Am., Inc., 335 F. Supp. 2d 992, 995
20 (E.D. Mo. 2003), citing Daubert, 509 U.S. at 593-95.

21         Here, Dr. Cargill offers testimony based on sound, proven economic theory. In fact, Dr.
22 Cargill performed his calculations by using a rate that is used by the U.S. Congressional Budget
23 Office and the trustees of the Social Security Administration. (Id. at 48:17-18.) Thus, the 24 technique utilized by Dr. Cargill has attained “widespread acceptance.” The evidence serves an
25 important function in this case because it presents contrary evidence to Mr. Dinneen.

26         Accordingly, the Court should have denied, and not granted, Plaintiff’s motion to strike certain
27 expert testimony because the evidence meets the “assistance” requirement of NRS 50.275, FRE

1 By erroneously granting Plaintiff's motion, the Court made it virtually impossible for the
2 Palms to rebut Plaintiff's expert's opinions.

4 IV.
5 CONCLUSION

6 For all of the reasons set forth above, the Palms respectfully submits that the Court must
7 vacate the verdict and order a new trial.

Case No. A531538

DECLARATION OF KENNETH C. WARD
IN SUPPORT OF DEFENDANT FIESTA
PALMS, LLC'S MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Dept: X
Hearing Date:
Hearing Time:
Hearing Dept:

I, Kenneth C. Ward, declare as follows:

1. I am a shareholder with the law firm of Archer Norris, counsel of record for Defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC, a Nevada Limited Liability Compay, d/b/a THE PALMS CASINO RESORT. I have personal knowledge of the facts stated in this affidavit and if called as a witness at trial, could and would competently testify thereto. I have reviewed the Memorandum of Points and Authorities in Support of this motion, and incorporate by reference the facts alleged

1 therein.

2 2. I served as co-counsel for FIESTA PALMS, LLC, a Nevada Limited Liability
3 Compay, d/b/a THE PALMS CASINO RESORT (“the Palms”) in the trial of this matter with
4 Marsha Stephenson of Stephenson & Dickinson. We began the bench trial on October 25, 2010
5 of the matter of Enrique Rodriguez v. the Palms, No. A531538, in the Eastern Judicial District of
6 Clark County, Nevada, and trial concluded with the parties’ closing arguments on November 10,
7 2010.

8 3. The Honorable Jessie Walsh returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff Enrique
9 Rodriguez on March 7, 2011, with Notice of Entry of Judgment served on the Palms on March
10 15, 2011. A true and correct copy of the March 7, 2011 verdict is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

11 4. I took the deposition of Terrance Dinneen on September 9, 2010. Mr. Dinneen
12 stated that he provided his entire work file and there were no letters regarding the filing status of
13 plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez’s tax returns. A true and correct copy of the September 9, 2010
14 Deposition of Terrence Dinneen is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

15 5. Plaintiff testified from the witness stand at trial that he gave Mr. Dinneen all of the 16 backup information to support his income claim, and that he prepared and signed the 2004 tax
17 return in 2009 after the economist requested the information.

18 6. At trial, while I questioned Mr. Dinneen on cross-examination, Mr. Dinneen
19 produced a letter from a person who allegedly prepared the returns saying that the returns had
20 been filed; it was a one line letter from the tax preparer dated October 20, 2010. Mr. Dinneen
21 testified at trial that he never provided the document to the Palms. This document was never
22 provided to the Palms, even though Mr. Dinneen had purportedly provided his entire work file
23 and that letter was not included.

24 7. Plaintiff did not disclose any medical experts. Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a
25 true and correct copy of Plaintiff’s Expert Disclosure, and attached hereto as Exhibit D is a true
26 and correct copy of Plaintiff’s Supplement Expert Disclosure.

27 8. Plaintiff also listed all of his witnesses at trial in his Pre-Trial Memorandum, but
28 did not designate any medical treatment providers as experts. Attached hereto as Exhibit E is a

1 true and correct copy of Plaintiff's Pre-Trial Memorandum.

2 9. Dr. Thalgott was a treatment provider for Plaintiff who was a spine surgeon who
3 had at least six entries in his records that he would not do surgery on this plaintiff's back. In
4 addition, his reports indicated that he had not seen Plaintiff in over three years. In spite of this,
5 the anesthesiologist, who had also not seen the Plaintiff for over three years, testified at trial that
6 the Plaintiff needed a multi-level back fusion and that he was quite certain if Dr. Thalgott knew
7 what had transpired with this Plaintiff in the last three years, Dr. Thalgott would change his mind
8 and agree that surgery was necessary.

9 10. My office subpoenaed all records from Plaintiff's treater, Dr. Joseph Schifini, and
10 received approximately 21 pages from Dr. Schifini at that time. True and correct copies of the 11 first and last consecutively bates numbered pages of Dr. Schifini's document production are
12 attached hereto as Exhibit F.

13 11. However, at trial, Dr. Schifini was permitted to testify regarding approximately 14 117 pages of documents that the Palms were unaware of and the Palms were never been notified
15 by Dr. Schifini or Plaintiff's counsel that such documents existed. Plaintiff's failure to disclose
16 the documents put the Palms at a great disadvantage in its cross-examination of Dr. Schifini, who
17 provided critical testimony during the trial.

18 12. Plaintiff's life care planner, Kathleen Hartmann, provided a life care plan calling
19 for $294,000 for all of the medical relating to a spinal stimulator. Dr. Schifini, an
20 anesthesiologist, was allowed to testify that these numbers were all wrong and the number was
21 actually $960,000. Ms. Hartmann's numbers did not include a figure for fusion and she included
22 a range of $80,000 to $160,000 for knee replacements. Again, Dr. Schifini, the anesthesiologist,
23 was able to testify that his back surgeries and knee replacements would be $686,000.

24 13. Plaintiff filed a Motion to Strike Trial Testimony on approximately November 16,
25 2010. Plaintiff's points and authorities essentially argued that the Palms' experts, Forrest
26 Franklin and Thomas Cargill "did not establish a sufficient foundation since neither provided
27 opinions to a reasonable degree of probability." A true and correct copy of Plaintiff's Motion to
28 Strike Trial Testimony is attached hereto as Exhibit G, and the Court's Order granting it is

DEPOSITION OF
TERRANCE B. DINNEEN
SEPTEMBER 29, 2010
RENO, NEVADA

LST JOB NO.: 127683

EXHIBIT B

1 BY MR. WARD:

2 Q I understand you're going to continue that
3 out but that was the day you happened to do the
4 calculation?

5 A Those were the past losses at the time I did
6 them.

7 Q And so when you did that calculation you
8 calculated the number of days, weeks, months,
9 whatever, years, that were involved in that and you
10 multiplied that times a certain number?

11 A Correct.

12 Q Where did you get the number that you
13 multiplied it by?

14 A I looked at his earnings from his tax returns
15 from 1999, to 2004, and I took an average of those
16 earnings during that period.

17 And that was, it's mentioned in my report, I
18 think it's approximately 47 or $46,000, and I used
19 that figure as the baseline earnings figure.

20 It's on page five of my report.

21 Q Okay. Now, what was Mr. Rodriguez doing in
22 the year 1999 for employment?

23 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry. That cut out.

24 Can you read the question back to me?

25 MR. WARD: I'll state it again.

1 A I think in 2004, was the last transaction.

2 Yes.

3 That's where he starts the loss. 1-1-2005.

4 Q When in 2004 did he sell his last house?

5 A I don't know if I have the transactional data
6 on that or not. Seems like I have some material on
7 that in the 2004 year.

8 There is a 9-7 of '04 statement that looks
9 like a distribution of funds in 2004.

10 I believe that to be the latest one that I
11 have.

12 I also have some transactional statements in
13 January of '04.

14 But September of '04 is the last transaction
15 statement I have.

16 Q Is it your belief he sold a house in
17 September of 2004?

18 A Around that period. Yes.

19 Q When did he buy that house?

20 A I don't know if I can tell that from the
21 transactional statement or not.

22 No. Just the sales date. I don't know the
23 date that he bought that house.

24 Q When did he file that tax return for 2004?

25 A I don't know when it was filed.

1 Q When was it signed?

2 A Looks like 11-3 of either '07 or '09. I
3 would say it's '09.

4 But that's when it was signed.

5 Q Okay. And do you know when a tax return that
6 was for the year 2004, if it was timely filed, when it
7 would be timely filed?

8 A Well, you'd anticipate early 2005, for most
9 of us.

10 And I don't have any information as to the 11 delay in filing these returns. They were provided to
12 me as tax returns and I took them as provided.

13 Q So if we are correct that this was signed
14 November 3 2009 --

15 Well, let me strike that. Let me --

16 A I'm sorry. No. That one was 2009. I was
17 just looking. I thought I flipped to the same one.

18 But the '01 was filed in '04.

19 So it looks like all of these were filed --

20 I was just looking for any other dates to see
21 when the rest of them were filed.

22 Q Sure. And I want to ask you and give you an
23 opportunity to clarify. I want to ask you another
24 question here relating to what you just said. I want
25 to give you an opportunity to make sure that you

1 stated it correctly.

2 Is it true that you don't know when any of
3 these tax returns were filed?

4 A That's true. I don't.

5 I just have the signature dates.

6 Q Right. Is it true that you don't know
7 whether any of these tax returns were even filed?

8 A All I have is the return.

9 I don't know if they were filed or not filed.

10 Q Okay. And the return that you have for at 11 least 2004, is dated some four plus years after the 12 year that it would have been filed had it been filed
13 timely?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Now, when you met with Mr. Rodriguez in
16 October of 2008, did you ask him for information?

17 A I don't remember if I asked him or his
18 attorney.

19 But I did ask them to supply me with earnings
20 information.

21 Q Did you tell them what kind of earnings
22 information you wanted?

23 A Yes.

24 Q What did you tell them you wanted?

25 A Normally if somebody is employed we like

1 W-2's or Social Security reports of earnings.

2 With self-employed people often times tax
3 returns. Some times Social Security reports that
4 would provide us with what their earnings were.

5 Q The reason I take it that you would like --

6 Did you say W-2's? Is that what you said?

7 Or did I say that myself?

8 A No. I said W-2's.

9 Q Okay. So you like to get a W --

10 If someone is employed by another company,
11 party, whatever, someone has an employer, you'd like
12 to have the W-2?

13 A W-2's or Social Security reports are always
14 our first choice.

15 Q Let's start with the W-2.

16 That's one of your first choices?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Why?

19 A The W-2's itself will show the gross earnings
20 that were paid to the employee by the employer in box
21 5 and it's helpful information to determine what the
22 person actually earned.

23 Q Is there also a certain reliable factor?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Because it comes from someone other than the

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. When you looked at the report for Mr.
3 Rodriguez about the self employment taxes that he had
4 paid, the alternative to Social Security, what did you
5 find?

6 A Well, all I had was the tax returns for those
7 years. I don't have a report of anything from the
8 Social Security Administration. I just have the
9 report of earnings from the tax returns and then some
10 transactional records from the transactions that
11 supported the figures that were in his return. That's
12 all I have.

13 I don't have any W-2's. I don't have a
14 Social Security report.

15 I just have some of the transactional
16 material that shows the income and then the 1040's for
17 1999, through 2004, that are in my file.

18 Q So you don't have any confirming information
19 that any of this information is accurate?

20 A Is accurate?

21 Q Yeah.

22 The information included in the -- in those
23 tax returns, don't they include a portion for self
24 employment tax?

25 A Well, they include a portion for self

1 Can I go back and check that whole thing?

2 Q Sure.

3 A Also, it's poorly stated, incorrectly stated,
4 in my report.

5 The returns that I have were the '99 return,
6 the 2001 return and the 2004 return.

7 What I did was I assigned zero income to the
8 year 2000, zero income to the years 2001, 2002 --

9 Not 2001. Sorry.

10 Zero for 2000.

11 I used the 2001 return to represent the
12 income earned in 2000.

13 Zero income in 2003.

14 Zero income in 2004. Because --

15 Zero income in 2002.

16 Zero income in 2003.

17 And then used the 2004 income.

18 I hope that makes sense.

19 The '99, the '01, and the '04, where I used
20 the actual figures.

21 In the intervening years I used zero as
22 income for those years seeing that I did not have the
23 return.

24 The report doesn't read that way but that is
25 what I did.

1 A Yeah.

2 He told me that he did not have all of his
3 documentation.

4 So I did follow up and ask if there was any
5 more of the underlying documentation and he said no.

6 Q So he didn't have all of his documentation?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q He didn't have all of his tax returns?

9 A That's correct, too.

10 Q He didn't have all of his Social Security
11 statements?

12 A Yes. That's correct.

13 Q In fact, he didn't have any.

14 A He didn't have any Social Security
15 statements.

16 Q So did you ask to get that information? Did
17 you tell him how he can get that information?

18 A I usually do tell them.

19 I don't have an independent recollection of
20 it.

21 But I was told this is what information was
22 available.

23 Q So you don't know whether you told him that
24 it's relatively easy to find out what his self
25 employment income basis is?

1           A    Like I said, I don't have an independent
2   recollection.

3                    I can tell you I usually do run through with
4   a person we like to see tax returns, W-2's, Social
5   Security information.

6                    And ultimately I said this is -- ultimately
7   what I got was this was all that was available.

8           Q    Irrespective of what you told him you didn't
9   get any more than what you have got here today?

10          A    That's correct.

11          Q    And what was his income from the year 1998?

12          A    I don't have anything prior to 1999.

13          Q    Did you ask him what he was doing in 1998?

14          A    Usually I try to get five years before.

15                    But this is what -- This is what I have.

16                    I don't have anything --

17                    The oldest I have is 1999, five years before
18   the accident.

19          Q    Did you ask him what he was doing in 1998?

20          A    I'm sorry. I misunderstood your question. I
21   thought you were talking about documentation.

22                    I know he was from the period of time in the 23   1990's, up through 2004, he was involved in the buying
24   and selling of houses.

25                    There was no other work activity other than

1 the foster parenting activity that he did.

2 I didn't have any records from that so I did
3 not include anything from that.

4 Q The market for buying and selling houses
5 since 2004, has that been pretty good where Mr.
6 Rodriguez lived and bought and sold houses?

7 A Well, from 2004, till about mid 2007, the
8 market was very active.

9 Starting, of course, in 2007, is where the
10 decline in houses began and then accelerated through
11 today depending upon who's statistics you look at.

12 So the market up through '07, was good. The
13 declining market that we're in now started two and a
14 half years ago and continues.

15 Q And the information that you've seen suggests
16 to you that from the day of Mr. Rodriguez' accident,
17 the accident we're talking about that is the subject
18 matter of this lawsuit, that from that day forward
19 he's been unable to maintain any of these activities
20 on any sort of sustainable basis?

21 A That's correct.

22 Q Now, aside from your assessment of his
23 returns and your assessment here in the year 2004, the
24 $208,000 that you have for that year, is substantially
25 all of, not all but it's like three-quarters of, his

1 income loss, isn't it, based on that?

2 A Three-quarters of the income loss?

3 Well, I think I already answered that
4 earlier. I used the average over that six years.
5 Because I felt using --

6 There are definitions of earning capacity
7 that would say the 2008 would be a reasonable figure
8 to use, assuming that the underlying tax returns are
9 an accurate reflection of his work activity.

10 However, I felt assessing his earning
11 capacity given the information I had, it was better to
12 use an average.

13 The 2008 certainly would be the heaviest
14 weight in that average. But I also used zero in three
15 years as well.

16 Q Let me ask you this: If you had someone who
17 had a full-time job and was working 50 weeks out of
18 the year, it would be -- the year before the loss
19 might well be the most accurate year for their losses;
20 is that correct?

21 A Not always.

22 You have to look at what the person brings to
23 the table in terms of their earning capacity.

24 Somebody can have an exceptionally good year.
25 As in this case 2008 is the highest that we have any

21
22 This Motion is made and based on the pleadings and papers on file herein, the
23 following Points and Authorities and any oral argument that may be presented.

24 I. Introduction

25 Defendant presented two (2) experts in this trial<sup>1</sup>, neither of whom opined that their
26 opinions were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability as required under 27

Accordingly, Plaintiff is seeking an Order to Strike Dr. Cargill's testimony in its entirety, as well as an Order to Strike Mr. Franklin's opinions relative to standard of care and dangerous activity.

II. Statement of Facts

A. Forrest Franklin

Forrest Franklin, Defendant's liability expert, was retained to develop, and render an opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to throwing objects, memorabilia, promotional articles into crowds.<sup>3</sup>

Mr. Franklin offered the following opinions:

1. That throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort into crowds is not a substandard protocol;<sup>4</sup>
2. That it is not unsafe to throw things into crowds;<sup>5</sup> and
3. That it is not below the standard of care to throw items into a crowd.<sup>6</sup>

None of these opinions, however, were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability. Moreover, they are in contradiction to the testimony of Ms. Long and Ms. Kooinga, as well as the legal theory of assumption of duty.

B. Dr. Thomas Cargill

Dr. Cargill offered the following two (2) opinions at trial:

1. That Plaintiff could not have made as much in the current financial market that he could have back in 2004 because the bubble burst;<sup>7</sup> and

1           2. Mr. Dineen's discount rates were inappropriate.<sup>8</sup>
2           Neither of these opinions were given to a reasonable degree of economic probability.

3           III. Legal Argument

4           The statute governing the admissibility of expert testimony in Nevada district courts is
5           NRS 50.275, which, as construed by the Nevada Supreme Court<sup>9</sup>, tracks Federal Rule of 6           Evidence (FRE) 702.<sup>10</sup>

7           NRS 50.275 states:

8           "[i]f scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge will assist the trier of fact to
9           understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue, a witness qualified as an expert
10          by special knowledge, skill, experience, training or education may testify to matters
11          within the scope of such knowledge."

12          To testify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, the witness must satisfy the 13          following three requirements: (1) he or she must be qualified in an area of "scientific,
14          technical or other specialized knowledge" (the qualification requirement); (2) his or her 15          specialized knowledge must "assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine 16          a fact in issue" (the assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be limited "to 17          matters within the scope of [his or her specialized] knowledge" (the limited scope 18          requirement).

19          _____
20          <sup>8</sup> Id., at 48: 1-3.

21          <sup>9</sup> See, e.g., Dow Chemical Co. v. Mahlum, 114 Nev. 1468, 1482, 970 P.2d 98, 107-08 (1998),
22          overruled in part on other grounds by GES, Inc. v. Corbitt, 117 Nev. 265, 270-71, 21 P.3d 11,
23          14-15 (2001); Yamaha Motor Co. v. Arnoult, 114 Nev. 233, 242, 955 P.2d 661, 667 (1998);
Fernandez v. Admirand, 108 Nev. 963, 969, 843 P.2d 354, 358 (1992); Wright v. Las Vegas
Hacienda, 102 Nev. 261, 262-63, 720 P.2d 696, 697 (1986).

24          <sup>10</sup> FRE 702 states:

25          If scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge will assist the trier of fact to
26          understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue, a witness qualified as an expert
27          by knowledge, skill, experience, training, or education, may testify thereto in the form
28          of an opinion or otherwise, if (1) the testimony is based upon sufficient facts or data,
(2) the testimony is the product of reliable principles and methods, and (3) the witness has applied the principles and methods reliably to the facts of the case.

1 Plaintiff is not challenging the “qualification requirement” relative to either Dr. Cargill
2 or Mr. Franklin.

3 However, Plaintiff submits that both Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin’s testimony failed to
4 satisfy the “assistance” requirement of NRS 50.275, in that neither expert provided opinions
5 to a reasonable degree of professional, or in the case of Dr. Cargill, economic, probability.

6 Accordingly, their opinions do not rise to the level of “scientific knowledge” within
7 the meaning of Hallmark<sup>11</sup>, Daubert, NRS 50.275 and Federal Rule 702. Daubert, 509 U.S. at
8 589-90, 113 S.Ct. at 2795 (declaring expert scientific testimony grounded only in speculation
9 or conjecture to be inadmissible under Rule 702).

10 Nevada law requires expert opinions to be given to a reasonable degree of medical,
11 professional and/or economic probability.<sup>12</sup> The opinions of Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin
12 offered insufficient foundation for this court to take judicial notice of the scientific basis of 13 those conclusions.<sup>13</sup>

14 In United Exposition Service Co. v. SJS, the Nevada Supreme Court concluded that 15 an “award of compensation cannot be based solely upon possibilities and speculative
16 testimony.”<sup>14</sup> In that case, which involved the payment of workers' compensation benefits
17 after an industrial injury, the Nevada Supreme Court held that “physician[s] must state to a
18 degree of reasonable medical probability that the condition in question was caused by the
19 industrial injury, or sufficient facts must be shown so that the trier of fact can make the
20 reasonable conclusion that the condition was caused by the industrial injury.”<sup>15</sup> The
21 speculative nature of an opinion that an injury possibly could have been a precipitating factor

1 was insufficient to support a finding of causation; specifically, the court stated, "A possibility
2 is not the same as a probability."<sup>16</sup>

3 Nevada Federal Courts<sup>17</sup>, interpreting Nevada law, have also held that Daubert's
4 "gatekeeping" obligation, requiring inquiry into both relevance and reliability, applies not
5 only to "scientific" testimony, but to all expert testimony.

7 While counsel for the Defendant may have properly laid a foundation for their 8 testimony, neither expert established a sufficient foundation in this case, since neither 9 provided opinions to a reasonable degree of probability.

10 Accordingly, their testimony did not satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS
11 50.275.

12 IV. Conclusion

13 Based on the failure to provide opinions to a reasonable degree of professional and/or 14 economic probability, Plaintiff respectfully requests for an Order to Strike the Opinions of Dr.
15 Cargill and Forrest Franklin.

FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW, AND ORDER

THIS MATTER having come on for hearing on January 31, 2011 with respect to Plaintiff's Motion to Strike Defendant's Experts before the Honorable Jessie Walsh, presiding, and the Court having considered the evidence and the arguments of counsel and taken the matter under advisement for further consideration, this Honorable Court finds and concludes as follows:

FINDINGS OF FACT

Defendant presented two (2) experts in this trial, Dr. Thomas Cargill (Economist) and Forrest Franklin (Liability), neither of whom opined that their opinions were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability as required under Nevada law.

Forrest Franklin, Defendant's liability expert, was retained to develop and render an opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to throwing objects, memorabilia, and promotional articles into crowds.

Mr. Franklin offered the following opinions:

1. Throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort into crowds is not a substandard protocol;
2. It is not unsafe to throw things into crowds; and
3. It is not below the standard of care to throw items into a crowd.

None of these opinions, however, were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

Dr. Cargill offered the following two (2) opinions at trial:

1. Plaintiff could not have made as much in the current financial market as he could have back in 2004 because the bubble burst in the housing market; and
2. Mr. Dineen's discount rates were inappropriate.

Neither of these opinions was given to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

To testify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, the witness must satisfy the following three requirements: (1) he or she must be qualified in an area of "scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge" (the qualification requirement); (2) his or her specialized knowledge must "assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue" (the assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be limited "to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized] knowledge" (the limited scope requirement).

Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin's testimony failed to satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275, in that neither expert provided opinions to a reasonable degree of professional probability.

Accordingly, their opinions did not rise to the level of "scientific knowledge" within the meaning of NRS 50.275.

The opinions of Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin offered insufficient foundation for this court to take judicial notice of the scientific basis of those conclusions.

While counsel for the Defendant may have properly qualified said individuals as experts, the opinions rendered by the respective experts were speculative, as the court was not advised and the record does not reflect whether such opinions were made on the basis of "possibility" or some other standard lower than "a reasonable degree of professional probability."

Accordingly, the testimony of Cargil and Franklin did not satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275.

1 with one of the Palms girls or something that was occurring,
2 where I've seen a couple different accounts of -- whether or
3 not they were throwing something into the crowd, whether it
4 was a water bottle wrapped with a t-shirt, or some sort of 5 promotional item that was being thrown into the crowd by a
6 girl who was blindfolded and being spun around and she was 7 meant to throw these things out into the crowd. During the --
8 one of the tosses of the items, one of the items was coming
9 towards Mr. Rodriguez and another patron of the casino dove
10 for the item, the promotional item, striking Mr. Rodriguez in 11 the area of his knee. And based on the contact with his knee, 12 he became unstable and fell into the gentleman who was 13 standing next to him.

14 Q And when was the first time that you saw Mr.
15 Rodriguez?

16 A The first consultation was November 26, 2007.

17 Q And I would refer you to a Bates number, but as 18 we've talked about, I've brought the non-Bates stamped
19 documents. However, someone from my office is coming down.
20 And if they get in quick enough, perhaps we can do something
21 about that. And your last visit was November 26th, 2007?

22 A That is correct.

23 Q And are you referring to -- well, that's really
24 strange because mine is Bates stamped.

25 THE COURT: Kept the good stuff for yourself, did

1 A Yes. Oh, Exhibit 20 -- all right. I thought you
2 meant 25 of what we have. Okay. I'm there.

3 Q Did Dr. Ferrente do an examination of Mr. Rodriguez?

4 A Yes. It appears he did an examination on November
5 14th, 2006.

6 Q And as Chairman of the Department of Pain Management
7 at UCLA, to your knowledge he studied RSD causal to a complex
8 regional pain syndrome and a variety of neurologically
9 mediated pathologies?

10 A Yes, that --

11 MR. WARD: Object; hearsay.

12 THE WITNESS: Dr. --

13 MR. BAKER: It's not a statement, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Mr. Ward, what was that?

15 MR. WARD: Hearsay. This witness is going to testify as 16 to qualifications. And presumably he's going to testify as to 17 qualifications and presumably he's going to testify as to 18 findings, and I think it's all hearsay.

19 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, we dealt with that issue
20 yesterday when I gave you the problem case and the remainder
21 of the cases in yesterday, your ruling was that the doctors
22 were allowed to refer to information that they had reviewed.

23 He's been qualified as an expert, under the Omastat
24 [phonetic] case that I handed you yesterday. Not Omastat,
25 that was -- but you know the one I'm talking about. But

1 yesterday you've already ruled on the same issue.

2 MR. WARD: And I don't believe the case says that, but I
3 will -- I'm not going to argue it anymore, and I'll simply
4 note my objection.

5 MR. BAKER: A continuing objection is stipulated to, Your
6 Honor.

7 THE COURT: Very well, noted for the record. Please
8 proceed.

9 BY MR. BAKER:

10 Q If you go to page five of Exhibit 25, would you
11 discuss with the Court what Dr. Ferrente's [phonetic] was of 12 Enrique Rodriguez?

13 A Dr. Ferrente, during that visit, said it is possible
14 that the patient has complex regional pain syndrome, or
15 regional sympathetic dystrophy. However, his physical
16 examination is more consistent with a chronic knee pain of a
17 mechanical nature. Furthermore, we don't have sufficient
18 objective information for which to make a definitive
19 diagnosis.

20 He goes onto say that if the pain continues or
21 worsens, he suggests that the patient undergoes bone scans,
22 lumbar sympathetic blocks, trial of clonidine patches and
23 neurontin, all of which are geared towards dealing with nerve-
24 type pain or neurogenic pain of a nature consistent with
25 complex regional pain syndrome.

1 Q And if you'll turn to page 11 --

2 A Yes.

3 Q -- did Dr. Miller come to a diagnostic impression
4 with respect to Mr. Rodriguez?

5 A Yes. On page 11, it's noted that Dr. Lawrence
6 Miller felt that Mr. Rodriguez was suffering from complex
7 regional pain syndrome of the left lower extremity.

8 Q And if you'll turn to page 22, what were Dr.
9 Miller's examination findings?

10 A Dr. Miller noted temperature and color changes,
11 edema or swelling, atrophic changes in the hair and nail
12 growth patterns, impaired motor function, so stiffness in the
13 joint, and then hyperpathia or allodynia, which is the painful
14 sensation of touch, and then pseudo-motor changes, which
15 involve changes of vascular supply or sweating. So you may 16 notice that a hand is very sweaty, versus the other hand is 17 not. That's an unusual finding. That's the findings that he
18 diagnosed with him, which led him to believe that the
19 diagnosis of complex regional pain syndrome existed in Mr.
20 Rodriguez.

21 Q Now, this was a clinical diagnosis. Is that fair to 22 say?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And do you agree with that diagnosis based upon
25 those six findings?

AVTranz

1 A Yes.

2 Q But then, he was sent out for a diagnostic
3 examination. Is that true?

4 A The diagnostic examination was the lumbar
5 sympathetic blocks that we discussed before.

6 Q When were they conducted? If you'll go to 27 --

7 A Okay. It looks like the first one was April 18th,
8 2007.

9 Q The second?

10 A And the second one appears to be -- well, I think
11 March 14th, 2007 was the first one. April 18th, 2007 was the
12 second one.

13 Q And was it reasonable, necessary and causally
14 related to the injuries Enrique sustained at the Palms, to 15 conduct those sympathetic blocks?

16 A Absolutely.

17 Q And with respect to the examination?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And are those your opinions to a reasonable degree
20 of probability?

21 A Medical probability, yes.

22 Q Thank you. What was the result in the sympathetic
23 blocks?

24 A With both injections, Mr. Rodriguez noted complete
25 relief of his symptoms in his left lower extremity, indicating

2 that his presumptive diagnosis of complex regional pain
3 syndrome, or RSD, was correct.

4 Q And so, it was diagnostic for our stay?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And do you agree with that opinion --

7 A Yes.

8 Q -- to a reasonable degree of medical probability?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And what was Dr. Miller's bill in this case? If you
11 can, turn to 4208.

12 MR. BAKER: I'm still having that problem, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Me, too, Mr. Baker.

14 BY MR. BAKER:

16 A It looks like $1,470.11.

17 Q And were those bills reasonable, necessary and 18 causally related to the subject incident --

19 A Yes.

20 Q -- to a reasonable degree of medical probability?

21 A Yes.

22 MR. BAKER: Move to admit 42, Your Honor.

2 (Plaintiff's Exhibit 42 Received)

3 BY MR. BAKER:

4 Q Now, where was the sympathetic blocks conducted?

5 A They were conducted at a UCLA-affiliated surgery
6 center called the Wilshire Surgery Center, Incorporated, in
7 Beverly Hills, California.

8 Q That's Wilshire Surgical Center?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Would you turn to Exhibit 30, please? You might
11 want to leave that on the ground near your feet.

12 A Okay.

13 Q I assume this is a surgery you wouldn't want to do
14 in a kitchen or something of the sort?

15 A No. It's not. Because of the potential
16 complications with this procedure, you want to do this at a
17 facility that you can deal with complications.

18 Q Was it reasonable, necessary and causally related to
19 the Palms incident, to do these lumbar sympathetic blocks at a
20 surgical center?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And particular, at Wilshire?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of 25 medical probability?

5 A Were there that many pages in number 30?

6 Q Yeah. It's the last two pages before 31. You're

8 A No. I've got 121 -- okay. All right. It's under 9 the Defendant's supplements. Okay. I'm sorry. Yes. I'm 10 there now.

11 Q And the record will note to thank the Defendants for 12 supplementing the bill. You're familiar with customary
13 charges for surgical centers?

14 A I am. Yes.

15 Q And for the first block, would you state to the 16 Court what the amount charged for the block was?

17 A The first block --

18 Q Which would be on 299? Are you not seeing it?

19 A No. Yeah. There's a surgery that was performed on 20 04/21/06. The balance there was $17,991. And then, the 21 next --

22 Q And you would presume that that's a charge for the

2 A Yes.

13 right?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And the charge for that is how much?

16 A $8,260. And the second one is $17,991.

17 Q And were both of those charges reasonable, necessary

19 A Yes.

6 Q Now, are you aware that the patient was also sent to
7 see Dr. Cravetti [phonetic]?

8 A Yes. An orthopedic surgeon. Yes.

9 Q And Dr. Cravetti is an orthopedic surgeon in the 10 area?

11 A Yes. In Las Vegas.

12 Q Do you know who referred him to Dr. Cravetti?

13 A I believe he was originally referred to Dr. Cravetti
14 by either Dr. Coca [phonetic] or myself. I don't know the --
15 I can't remember the exact timing.

16 Q But you were working with Dr. Coca in attempting to
17 get Enrique back to health at this time, weren't you?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Okay. And what was the purpose for sending Enrique
20 to Dr. Cravetti?

21 A It was the same concern that Dr. Ferrente had, that
22 I had. I evaluated Mr. Rodriguez as to whether or not he had
23 any mechanical component to his knee pain, that was 24 contributing or maintaining the CRPS or the RSD-type syndrome.

25 So --

1 Q Would you explain what you mean by that?

2 A Well, yeah. I would --

3 Q Were you worried if it --

4 A I was just about to.

5 Q I'll be quiet. I'm going to go sit.

6 A Essentially, if you have something that's constantly
7 irritating a particular area or nerve, unless you address the
8 original problem, you're not going to get rid of the secondary
9 problem, which is the RSD or the CRPS. So if there's an
10 ongoing knee issue in the patient, or other issues that are
11 going on, in this particular case the knee issue, unless you
12 verify that there's no problem with the knee that can be
13 corrected, you're treating sort of symptoms, if you will, or
14 secondary problems, but you're ignoring the first problem.

15 And you'll never get rid of the secondary problem
16 unless you address the first one. So the purpose of going to
17 Dr. Cravetti as an orthopedic specialist was to determine --
18 is there anything else surgically that needed to be addressed
19 in the knee? Or are we now dealing with a knee that was
20 relatively stable, from a surgical point of view, you know,
21 short of a knee replacement, and now we're dealing with the
22 secondary problem, which becomes in a sense, the primary
23 problem. Because you've surgically corrected the primary
24 problem.

25 You've kind of gotten rid of that one essentially.

AVTranz

1 Now, you're dealing with the remainder of the issues. So the
2 secondary problem is now the primary issue. So we wanted Dr.
3 Cravetti to evaluate Mr. Rodriguez to make sure that we could
4 address everything, that we've checked all the boxes before we
5 just start looking to correct the pain with other modalities,
6 such as this spinal cord stimulator that I'm sure we'll talk
7 about in the near future.

8 Q Now, with respect to you working with Dr. Coca, what
9 was your joint effort?

10 A Well, I mean, our joint effort was to confirm a
11 diagnosis, come up with a treatment plan, and without input
12 from an orthopedic surgeon, that treatment plan was
13 incomplete.

14 Q And give me a second to find the exhibit for 15 Dr. Coca. Would you turn to Exhibit 36, please?

16 A Okay.

17 MR. WARD: What number was that?

18 THE WITNESS: 36.

19 MR. BAKER: No. I'll do that at a later time. Let's
20 keep going to your treatment.

21 THE WITNESS: Okay.

22 BY MR. BAKER:

23 Q When was the first time that you saw Enrique
24 Rodriguez?

25 A November 26th, 2007.

1     Rodriquez that believed it, including Dr. Furante, the
2     chairman at UCLA, whom I've heard lecture. I've read articles
3     he's written. So I mean, he's very well known and recognized.
4     If he didn't believe that the diagnosis was likely, I would
5     have had reason to question it. But not only did I look at 6     other doctors who documented very adequately that this is a
7     complex reasonable pain syndrome, I had my own opportunity to 8     evaluate and treat Mr. Rodriquez. And I came to a similar
9     conclusion.

10         Q     Before we move on to your treatment course, would 11     you turn to Exhibit 38. You spoke to me, did you not, about 12     Dr. Cravetti [phonetic]?

13         A     Yes, I did.

14         Q     And you informed us you wanted to make sure there
15     was no mechanical component associated with his pain?

16         A     Yes, that was my concern.

17         Q     And you've reviewed the bills of Dr. Cravetti?

18         A     I have.

19         Q     Was Dr. Cravetti's examination reasonable and 20     necessary and causally related?

21         A     Yes.

22         Q     To a reasonable degree of medical probability?

23         A     Yes.

24         Q     I'll give you a few seconds to open up your --
25     that's okay. That's what I was doing earlier.

2 Q And the billing amount was $700 as set forth on
3 Cravetti 1?

4 A That is correct.

5 Q Is that bill reasonable and necessary and causally
6 related to the subject to a reasonable degree of medical 7 probability?

8 A Yes.

9 MR. BAKER: I move to admit 38, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Any objection?

11 MR. WARD: Hearsay, Your Honor. Lack of foundation.

12 THE COURT: Noted for the record. Overruled.

13 BY MR. BAKER:

14 Q And you're aware at the same time he was seeing Dr.
15 Thowgott [phonetic]. Is that true?

16 A Yes. Dr. Thowgott is an orthopedic spine surgeon.

17 Q And would you turn to Exhibit Number 39, please.

18 THE COURT: When you moved for admission of 38, was it
19 just for this one page?

20 MR. BAKER: It's for -- yeah.

21 THE COURT: The one page, 000001?

22 MR. BAKER: Is that all there is?

23 THE COURT: Well, there's a whole lot of pages behind it.

24 MR. BAKER: No. No. No. I move for the admission of

7 A Yes.

8 Q And that was reasonable, necessary and causally

10 A Yes.

11 Q And the bill as well?

12 A Yes.

4 A He was, yes.

5 Q And you've reviewed the file of Dr. Thowgott?

6 A I have.

7 Q And if you'll turn to Page 8, Dr. Thowgott comments

9 A That is correct.

10 Q And does Page 8 of Exhibit Number 40 -- 39, does Dr.

12 BY MR. BAKER:
13 Q Dr. Schifini, did you set Enrique on a treatment
14 course?
15 A I did.
16 Q What did that treatment course include?
17 A We talked to Mr. Rodriguez about -- kind of the 18 risks, the benefits, the options and the alternatives, as is
19 usual during my consultations. So we kind of go over
20 different things after I evaluate the patient and the records
21 that we look at. But the specific recommendations for him
22 following that office visit was to repeat the lumbar
23 sympathetic block. The repeating of the block was just for my
24 own satisfaction that we're repeating the block. We're sort
25 of checking things again in a different way. Other than Dr.

1 other peripheral nerve kind of issue affecting that lower
2 extremity, which can also maintain this diagnosis of CRPS or
3 RSD.

4 So essentially what I did was rule out the diagnosis
5 of sympathetically maintained pain. And I think in my
6 dictation, there's sort of error because, again, during this
7 timeframe was the transition between the terms and nobody had
8 really said, everybody we're all using this term now versus 9 this one. So what this should have said is really more we've 10 -- you know, his RSD component of this was successfully
11 treated rather than the RSD in the CRPS or the complex regions
12 pain syndrome. So I think I misstate something in my record

4 A It appears Dr. Cocha's bill -- final bill was 5 $3,389.60.

6 Q And is that bill reasonable, necessary and causally

1 A No.

2 Q And is it fair to say by this time he had been
3 through two knee surgeries, three lumbar sympathetic blocks,
4 and an implantation of a stimulator into his system?

5 A Yes. I mean, at best, he had some temporary relief
6 during the first two lumbar sympathetic blocks. But that was
7 a few hours. This was for four days, which gave him quite a
8 bit of home.

9 Q The hound is out, the hunt is on. Right?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And did you send Henry to any physicians to discuss

15 MR. BAKER: Rob, what's Votter's -- you around?

4 Q And was that examination reasonable, necessary and

7 A Yes.

8 Q What's Dr. Votter's bill?

9 A $330.

10 Q That sounds pretty reasonable. Is that reasonable,
11 necessary, and causally related to the subject incident?

12 A Yes.

13 Q To a reasonable degree of probability?

14 A Yes -- medical probability, yes.

15 Q Medical probability. Thank you.

1 programming changes. And the nice thing about having a
2 computer is you can program it. Some of the programming Mr.
3 Rodriquez can do on his own with the little computer. Some of
4 it requires visits in my office to be done. Those are
5 typically about a $300 charge. The first year -- every year
6 of the first year, so the -- of the four years, the first
7 year, there's going to be three of those visits -- or excuse
8 me, four of those visits. So you're talking about $1200 each
9 of the first years. And then additional years, that
10 programming needs to be done once a year. So you're talking
11 about an additional $2100 every time the battery is changed
12 for programming issues. So that's the other associated costs
13 with this.

14 Q That would total?

15 A That's going to be $21,000 times -- or excuse me,
16 $2100 times 10, so an additional $21,000. I think those are
17 all the costs. So I'm going to --

18 Q And that totals --

20 Your Honor, and make sure it's all consistent.

23 A That sounds about right over the lifetime --

EXHIBIT J

1 Q Could you project for the Court what the total value
2 of the --

3 A Well, if we're using the present value and we're
4 assuming the numbers are inverted, they're approximately
5 $11,000. Again, I would envision those would be decreased by
6 75 percent as well, because much of the reason for the
7 constipation is due to the use of the opiate type medicines,
8 the hydrocodone and the morphine.

9 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of 10 medical probability?

11 A Yes.

12 MR. BAKER: You have a objection?

13 MR. WARD: Yeah. I'd like to object for the record and
14 move to strike. Your Honor, we've been given -- one of the 15 experts that was disclosed in this case was a life care
16 planner. And a life care plan was provided and the life care
17 planner was deposed, and all of those questions were asked and
18 answered.

19 Now we find out the life care planner's not going to be
20 called and this treating physician is testifying as to
21 expenses that are much higher than set forth in the life care
22 plan. There's no point in disclosing experts at some point if
23 you can just bring in everything that you want to any way you
24 want to do it.

25 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I --

1 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

2 MR. BAKER: I think that we have the right to put in
3 futures through either a life care planner or through the
4 physicians who are actually referring and prescribing the
5 future treatment. And I think that it's typically preferred
6 by the Court for the doctors to put in the evidence rather
7 than to have the life care planner go through the medical
8 records and pick the medical records and try to project
9 expenses. And I believe that the life care planner would
10 probably have drawn exactly the type of hearsay objection from
11 Mr. Ward that we've been hearing through the whole trial.

12 This is a doctor testifying to medicines that have been
13 prescribed to his patient, the future need for those medicines
14 and the costs. And again, on the basis of the cases that
15 we've given you, Gruber v. Levine [phonetic], the cases that
16 we've cited to this Court for the wide discretion for him to
17 speak, and the fact that he's actually a treating physician
18 and not a retained expert. This is, respectfully, completely
19 appropriate.

20 THE COURT: Any final thoughts, Mr. Ward?

21 MR. WARD: Yeah. I'll make it quick, Your Honor. I know
22 Your Honor's tired of hearing this, but I feel the need to
23 make the record because essentially here's the issue we have.
24 When a life care planner comes in, the life care planner is
25 given parameters about treatment. The life care planner

AVTranz

1 doesn't say this person needs a back surgery, but they do go
2 out and do things.

3       It's a -- to some extent it's a little bit like buying a
4 car, say, you know, I went to this dealer and the car's this
5 much and I went to this dealer and the car is this much, and I
6 went to that dealer and the car is that much. And then when
7 we take the life care planner's deposition, that's what we
8 cross-examine him on. And essentially what we have instead is
9 we have someone coming in and saying well, you know, off the
10 top of my head, I just -- I'm not really sure what all those
11 things cost, but I think it's a lot of money; and therefore, I
12 think it's X dollars. And --

13       THE COURT: I think we're stuck with whatever the figures
14 are in that exhibit. Is that an exhibit?

15       MR. BAKER: It's not an exhibit, Your Honor. And I'm
16 actually asking him to testify not with respect to the
17 exhibit, but whether what's put forward on it comports with
18 his understanding as a treating physician and as a doctor of
19 what these medicines would cost. And I believe I laid the
20 foundation for that asking if he knew what these medicines
21 cost in the community, if he was being prescribed these
22 medicines currently, if those medicines were reasonable,
23 necessary and causally related to the subject accident, and to
24 what the future costs of it. If I don't want to call the life
25 care planner and put it in through percipient witnesses, I

1 believe that's completely appropriate.

2 THE COURT: Final thoughts?

3 MR. WARD: I would offer to voir dire their witness on
4 this topic.

5 THE COURT: I think you're entitled to examine this
6 witness as you have been doing, Mr. Baker, but I don't think
7 he can speculate about some figures being inverted or anything
8 like that. So --

9 MR. BAKER: Yeah. And actually, Your Honor --

10 THE COURT: -- to that extent --

11 MR. BAKER: -- I was going to -- I thought that his
12 objection was going to be that. And I wasn't -- I was going
13 to withdraw that testimony, because if he is speculating that
14 they're inverted or there should be a one --

15 THE COURT: Right.

16 MR. BAKER: -- then that's not appropriate.

17 THE COURT: To that extent, Mr. Ward's objection is
18 granted. Otherwise it's denied.

19 MR. BAKER: Okay.

20 BY MR. BAKER:

21 Q I asked you the question --

22 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

23 BY MR. BAKER:

24 Q I asked you the question about what his life would
25 be like with the spinal cord stimulator. And let me ask you

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. Now in 2008 we were four years post-accident?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And he had how many surgeries at that point?

5 A I think it was two surgeries on his left knees.

6 Q And how many doctors had he seen?

7 A I'd have to total them up, but approximately eight
8 to ten.

9 Q Okay. And how many MRIs and arthrograms had he had?

10 A Several.

11 Q And how many times had he been to physical therapy?

12 A I don't know.

13 Q And that's your -- that's what you call conservative
14 treatment?

15 A To the point where I was involved, yes, that -- I
16 would consider that conservative treatment.

17 Q What do you call "non-conservative treatment"?

18 A Where we're implanting things in patients, like the 19 spinal cord stimulator, things like that --

20 Q Oh.

21 A -- where we're talking about a major surgery on the
22 spine.

23 Q Okay. Now, you never talked to Dr. Foranti, did
24 you?

25 A I have talked to Dr. Foranti --

1 Q About this case?

2 A -- but not in this particular circumstance.

3 Q Okay. So you haven't talked to Dr. Foranti about
4 this case?

5 A No.

6 Q You haven't seen Dr. Foranti's notes about this
7 case?

8 A Handwritten notes?

9 Q Notes?

10 A You're going to have to be a little more specific,
11 because I've seen records from Dr. Foranti regarding the 12 handwritten notes. I don't think those were made available to 13 me.

14 Q You've seen a report, have you not?

15 A Yes.

16 Q You've seen more than that?

17 A I've seen what?

18 Q More than that --

19 A I think --

20 Q -- from Dr. Foranti?

21 A I think I've seen documentation, typed
22 documentation. I'm not sure exactly what you're referring 23 to.

24 MR. WARD: May I approach the witness, Your Honor?

25 THE COURT: Yes.

1 Q Well, you did offer comments when you were on the
2 stand just a few minutes ago.

3 A Not prior to this testimony today.

4 Q Okay. But you did offer comments about the life
5 care plan from the witness stand today, correct?

6 A Specifically related to medications only.

7 Q And Thursday, you offered comments about the cost of
8 a stimulator?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And you said $22,000 a battery every four years..

11 A And that's wholesale costs to the surgery center.
12 I'm not even including the markup that the surgery center or 13 the hospital would charge to that. I didn't think that was
14 necessary or helpful.

15 Q Okay. And the life care planner said $4,000 a
16 battery, correct?

17 A I am not sure exactly what she said. Again, I
18 thought her life care plan was probably one of the worst life
19 care plans I've ever seen. So, you know, it's one of those
20 things where looking at the numbers that she quoted, I'm not
21 sure who she actually spoke to, but I'm sure you had the
22 opportunity to depose her and ask her these questions and I'm
23 not sure exactly who she talked to or what her answer to that
24 question was. But my answers sort of supersede hers. She's a
25 nurse, I'm a doctor.

1 BY MR. WARD:

2 Q What information do you have now to make a diagnosis
3 that Dr. Foranti did not have at the time he wrote his report?

4 A I have the knowledge of the totality of the medical
5 records. Dr. Foranti was dealing with his one piece of
6 information and had not completed his thought yet. He wanted
7 and requested additional diagnostic testing to be done which
8 was ultimately performed by Dr. Miller. So he had not yet
9 formulated all of his thoughts and if given an opportunity to
10 review this, I am confident that Dr. Foranti would come to the
11 same conclusions that I have.

12 MR. WARD: Move to strike as non-responsive.

13 THE COURT: Overruled.

14 BY MR. WARD:

15 Q How is it you know what Dr. Foranti would do? Have
16 you talked to him?

17 A I have talked to him. Not in --

18 Q About this case?

19 A -- this case, no.

20 Q Then how is it you would know what he would do in
21 this case?

22 A Because I'm a board certified anesthesiologist
23 specializing in pain management just like Dr. Foranti and the
24 information that he felt was valuable in the reference to the
25 further diagnostic testing that he requested was ultimately

2 pain syndrome in Mr. Rodriguez's case. So again Dr. Foranti
3 did not have the opportunity to finish his thoughts because he
4 -- there was an incomplete diagnostic workup.

5 Q Well, he suggested that there was insufficient
6 objective information, correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And so he asked for a number of things.

9 A Yes.

10 Q One of those things that he asked for was a bone
11 scan?

12 A Yes.

13 Q So you did a bone scan or you had a bone scan done?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q It was negative?

16 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this is all asked and answered.

17 THE WITNESS: Yes.

18 THE COURT: It has been. Sustained.

19 MR. WARD: I wanted to go to the other areas, Your Honor.
20 It is -- these are areas that he raised on redirect.

21 THE COURT: We covered the bone scan in your previous
22 examination of this witness.

23 MR. WARD: I'm going to -- I was doing that as prefatory

Case No. A531538

DECLARATION OF KENNETH C. WARD
IN SUPPORT OF DEFENDANT FIESTA
PALMS, LLC'S MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Dept: X
Hearing Date:
Hearing Time:
Hearing Dept:

I, Kenneth C. Ward, declare as follows:

1. I am a shareholder with the law firm of Archer Norris, counsel of record for Defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC, a Nevada Limited Liability Company, d/b/a THE PALMS CASINO RESORT. I have personal knowledge of the facts stated in this affidavit and if called as a witness at trial, could and would competently testify thereto. I have reviewed the Memorandum of Points and Authorities in Support of this motion, and incorporate by reference the facts alleged

1 therein.

2 2. I served as co-counsel for FIESTA PALMS, LLC, a Nevada Limited Liability
3 Compay, d/b/a THE PALMS CASINO RESORT (“the Palms”) in the trial of this matter with
4 Marsha Stephenson of Stephenson & Dickinson. We began the bench trial on October 25, 2010
5 of the matter of Enrique Rodriguez v. the Palms, No. A531538, in the Eastern Judicial District of
6 Clark County, Nevada, and trial concluded with the parties’ closing arguments on November 10,
7 2010.

8 3. The Honorable Jessie Walsh returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff Enrique
9 Rodriguez on March 7, 2011, with Notice of Entry of Judgment served on the Palms on March
10 15, 2011. A true and correct copy of the March 7, 2011 verdict is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

11 4. I took the deposition of Terrance Dinneen on September 9, 2010. Mr. Dinneen
12 stated that he provided his entire work file and there were no letters regarding the filing status of
13 plaintiff Enrique Rodriguez’s tax returns. A true and correct copy of the September 9, 2010
14 Deposition of Terrence Dinneen is attached hereto as Exhibit B.

15 5. Plaintiff testified from the witness stand at trial that he gave Mr. Dinneen all of the 16 backup information to support his income claim, and that he prepared and signed the 2004 tax
17 return in 2009 after the economist requested the information.

18 6. At trial, while I questioned Mr. Dinneen on cross-examination, Mr. Dinneen
19 produced a letter from a person who allegedly prepared the returns saying that the returns had
20 been filed; it was a one line letter from the tax preparer dated October 20, 2010. Mr. Dinneen
21 testified at trial that he never provided the document to the Palms. This document was never
22 provided to the Palms, even though Mr. Dinneen had purportedly provided his entire work file
23 and that letter was not included.

24 7. Plaintiff did not disclose any medical experts. Attached hereto as Exhibit C is a
25 true and correct copy of Plaintiff’s Expert Disclosure, and attached hereto as Exhibit D is a true
26 and correct copy of Plaintiff’s Supplement Expert Disclosure.

27 8. Plaintiff also listed all of his witnesses at trial in his Pre-Trial Memorandum, but
28 did not designate any medical treatment providers as experts. Attached hereto as Exhibit E is a

1 true and correct copy of Plaintiff's Pre-Trial Memorandum.

2 9. Dr. Thalgott was a treatment provider for Plaintiff who was a spine surgeon who
3 had at least six entries in his records that he would not do surgery on this plaintiff's back. In
4 addition, his reports indicated that he had not seen Plaintiff in over three years. In spite of this,
5 the anesthesiologist, who had also not seen the Plaintiff for over three years, testified at trial that
6 the Plaintiff needed a multi-level back fusion and that he was quite certain if Dr. Thalgott knew
7 what had transpired with this Plaintiff in the last three years, Dr. Thalgott would change his mind
8 and agree that surgery was necessary.

9 10. My office subpoenaed all records from Plaintiff's treater, Dr. Joseph Schifini, and
10 received approximately 21 pages from Dr. Schifini at that time. True and correct copies of the 11 first and last consecutively bates numbered pages of Dr. Schifini's document production are
12 attached hereto as Exhibit F.

13 11. However, at trial, Dr. Schifini was permitted to testify regarding approximately 14 117 pages of documents that the Palms were unaware of and the Palms were never been notified
15 by Dr. Schifini or Plaintiff's counsel that such documents existed. Plaintiff's failure to disclose
16 the documents put the Palms at a great disadvantage in its cross-examination of Dr. Schifini, who
17 provided critical testimony during the trial.

18 12. Plaintiff's life care planner, Kathleen Hartmann, provided a life care plan calling
19 for $294,000 for all of the medical relating to a spinal stimulator. Dr. Schifini, an
20 anesthesiologist, was allowed to testify that these numbers were all wrong and the number was
21 actually $960,000. Ms. Hartmann's numbers did not include a figure for fusion and she included
22 a range of $80,000 to $160,000 for knee replacements. Again, Dr. Schifini, the anesthesiologist,
23 was able to testify that his back surgeries and knee replacements would be $686,000.

24 13. Plaintiff filed a Motion to Strike Trial Testimony on approximately November 16,
25 2010. Plaintiff's points and authorities essentially argued that the Palms' experts, Forrest
26 Franklin and Thomas Cargill "did not establish a sufficient foundation since neither provided
27 opinions to a reasonable degree of probability." A true and correct copy of Plaintiff's Motion to
28 Strike Trial Testimony is attached hereto as Exhibit G, and the Court's Order granting it is

1 attached Exhibit H.

2 14. Plaintiff stipulated on the record that Mr. Franklin and Dr. Cargill are both
3 qualified.

4 15. Attached hereto as Exhibit I are true and correct copies of excerpts of the
5 Reporter's Transcript of Proceedings of October 28, 2010.

6 16. Attached hereto as Exhibit J are true and correct copies of excerpts of the
7 Reporter's Transcript of Proceedings of November 1, 2010.

8 17. Attached hereto as Exhibit K are true and correct copies of excerpts of the
9 Reporter's Transcript of Proceedings of November 4, 2010.

10 18. Attached hereto as Exhibit L is a true and correct copy of the Dinneen & Hartman
11 initial expert report.

12 19. Attached hereto as Exhibit M are true and correct copies of excerpts of the
13 Reporter's Transcript of Proceedings of November 8, 2010.

14 20. Attached hereto as Exhibit N are true and correct copies of excerpts of the
15 Reporter's Transcript of Proceedings of November 3, 2010.

16 21. Attached hereto as Exhibit O are true and correct copies of excerpts of the 17 Reporter's Transcript of Proceedings of November 9, 2010.

18

19 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Nevada that the foregoing
20 is true and correct. This declaration is executed on March 22, 2011 at Walnut Creek,
21 California.

1 Q 192?

2 A The 192 is the taxable income.

3 Q Okay.

4 A Okay.

5 Q And this first one, the gross income was income?

6 A That's business income.

7 Q Business income? Okay. So let's deal with the
8 business income. Is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of 9 professional probability that his business income, in the year
10 2004, was $208,000?

11 A If that's what's reported on the return, yes.

12 Q That's not my question. My question is, is it your
13 opinion that that's what his income is, to a reasonable degree
14 of professional responsibility?

15 A Sure. That's what the business income is.

16 Q Okay. When you say that's what the business income
17 is, you used, in your direct examination, you used the term
18 reported income?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Isn't it true that you don't know if any of this
21 income was reported?

22 A I do know that it was reported.

23 Q Have you received additional information since I
24 took your deposition --

25 A Yes.

1 Q -- that you haven't told me about?

2 A I just received this. It's a letter dated October
3 20th from the tax preparer, indicating that the returns were
4 filed.

5 MR. WARD: Okay. I'd like to make that part of the 6 record.

7 THE COURT: Do we need a copy of that, Mr. Dinneen?

8 THE WITNESS: I don't think we need to, Your Honor. You
9 know, counsel provided it to me, so presumably, he has another
10 copy. I can replace that in my file, just for expediency.

11 THE COURT: Very well.

12 MR. WARD: I'm sorry. But I'm not going to mark it?

13 THE COURT: Not?

14 MR. WARD: Not. Now --

15 THE COURT: I guess he's not going to move to admit it
16 after all.

17 MR. WARD: I'm not going to move.

18 MR. BAKER: Okay.

19 BY MR. WARD:

20 Q Now, when your deposition was taken -- by the way,
21 when does that say they were found?

22 A It doesn't. It just says -- it's short. I can read
23 it.

24 Q No. That's okay.

25 A Okay.

1 Q I just want to know if it says when they were filed.

2 A No. It just says that we reprepared and filed
3 Enrique's tax -- Enrique Rodriguez tax returns for '99, '01
4 and '04.

5 Q Okay.

6 A But it doesn't say when those were filed.

7 Q Right. And you have a tax return that's dated 2004,
8 do you not?

9 A I do.

10 Q I mean, for the year 2004?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And when is it signed?

13 A You know, clearly, November of '09. And I can't
14 make out whether that's a five or an eight. And I think we
15 discussed a little bit of that, that those handwritten numbers
16 were hard to read.

17 Q Okay. So it's November '09. Correct? I mean, of 18 2009?

19 A Yes. November of 2009.

20 Q And you have a tax return for 2001. Is that
21 correct?

22 A I do.

23 Q And when was it -- what was the date on it?

24 A Well, there's -- let me look a little farther. I'm
25 looking at the first two pages. The tax preparer signed it

1           A     You know, I misspoke. I have some other documents
2 that relate to income, that are backup for the tax returns. I
3 do not have, you know, any other documents such as from the
4 Social Security Administration or, you know, that show how
5 that income was reported.

6           Q     And I'm assuming you haven't gotten any additional
7 documents to back up the tax returns since I took your
8 deposition a month ago. Correct?

9           A     No. Other than the ones that we've discussed in my 10 file, that are closing statements on houses, that type of 11 thing. No.

12          Q     Yeah. Let me just talk about dates and make sure
13 this is clear. I took your deposition a month ago, and you
14 had certain financial information.

15          A     That's correct.

16          Q     And you haven't received anything new since then.
17 Correct?

18          A     Other than the letter from the tax preparer, you
19 know. No.

20          Q     The letter from the tax preparer doesn't have any
21 financial information in it, does it?

22          A     It does not.

23          Q     Okay. And you took a look at the information that
24 was provided for in the tax return. Correct?

25          A     I did.

INTRODUCTION

This file was referred to DeVinney & Dinneen on September 17, 2008. Referral was to assist in identifying and projecting current and future medical care needs relative to Mr. Rodriguez's injury and resultant disabilities. This document also serves to assist in determining the extent to which Mr. Rodriguez has incurred handicapping conditions secondary to his accident on November 22, 2004, in which he suffered injuries to his left knee, lumbar spine, neck, obesity related to knee injury per Dr. Shah, subsequent sleep apnea, and left knee with diagnosis of complex regional pain syndrome (CRPS). I met with him in his home on October 6, 2008. We have also reviewed the following records:

1. MRI billing and reporting from Open MRI of Inland Valley
2. Report from Mary Ann Shannon, MD 2005
3. Records Las Vegas Neurosurgery, Orthopedics & Rehab
4. El Rancho Physical Therapy reporting and billing
5. Center for Diseases and Surgery of the Spine
6. Records of John Thalgott, MD
7. Matt Smith Physical Therapy

In the development of this Life Care Plan we were also asked to calculate the Present Value of the Plan.

Present value is the amount of money necessary today to fund the items in the Life Care Plan that will occur in the future. In calculating present value we take into consideration how the cost of a good or service will increase in future years. These are referred to as growth rates. The growth rates for each item or service are indicated on the enclosed tables.

In calculating present value we also take into consideration interest that is earned from a financial institution. While a growth rate increases the cost of an item in future years, the discount rate subtracts a value to allow for interest that could be earned. The discount rates used in this case were 5, 10 and 30 year United States Treasuries. These discount rates were used because they reflect a very stable and safe investment vehicle.

There are items in the Life Care Plan that are occurring in the next 12 months. These are stated at their current cost. Also, there are other items where it is not known when they will occur. These items are also stated at their current costs.

The goal of this Life Care Plan is to provide the care that will maintain/increase Mr. Rodriguez's medical stability, quality of life and prevent potential complications (noted in Table O). The plan provides for all aspects of his care in order to promote and maintain independence and to prevent complications.

BRIEF HISTORY/CURRENT STATUS

Mr. Rodriguez was in the Palms Casino watching a football game. At half time the staff threw out prizes, a woman came from behind him and hit him causing his knee to hyperextend and he fell. She hit him on the "medial" side with his knee extended in the standing position. The knee immediately was swollen and painful. He injured his head, back, neck, left knee and right hand at the time of the fall. Approximately 2 hours after the accident, he was taken to Spring Valley Hospital Emergency Room by ambulance and was seen by the ER physician who prescribed immobilizer, crutches, lortab and Motrin and he was to follow up with an orthopedist.

On December 6, 2004 he returned and was seen by Dr. John G. Nork in Las Vegas, NV. At the time of the first visit, Dr. Nork felt it may be a contusion and recommended therapy, Darvocet N-100, Parafon Forte and return in 4 weeks.

The MRI was performed on January 28, 2005. The MRI demonstrated no evidence of acute internal derangement. After seeing a chiropractor and undergoing therapy, he experienced persistent pain and was referred to Dr. William Simpson, MD in Wildomar, California. The evaluation was performed on February 1, 2005 with a follow up examination on February 15, 2005. He recommended continuation of conservative treatment and an additional MRI performed on a high field MRI scanner if his symptoms persisted. On the 15th, the doctor recommended Mr. Rodriguez undergo arthroscopic surgery. Dr. Simpson did relate all symptoms to the accident of November 22, 2004.

On March 28, 2005, Mr. Rodriguez was seen at Las Vegas Neurosurgery, Orthopaedics & Rehabilitation by Dr. Mary Ann Shannon. He complained of a pain level of 7-9 on a scale of 10. He also complained of multiple symptoms including low energy level, depression, anger, sexual dysfunction, inability to concentrate, impatience, bad attitude, stress, sleep problems, worry, being unsocial, loss of self esteem and other relationship difficulties and mood changes. He denied strange thoughts, panic attacks, suicidal thoughts, alcohol abuse and phobias. Dr. Shannon noted an increased "Q" angle with mild/trace patellar crepitation. There was marked lateral and medial joint line pain with 1+ synovitis. The new MRI revealed a lateral meniscus tear, anterior cruciate ligament strain and injury to the patellofemoral joint with lateral patellar compression syndrome. Her recommendations included meniscal repair, patellar chondroplasty, lateral retinaculum release and debridement. She also provided a cost estimate of these procedures. The total was $19,600 but did not take into account post operative medications. It did take into account post operative therapy, surgical center fees and her physician fees.

Mr. Rodriguez was unable to get authorization for the surgery in April and finally, on August 31, 2005 and September 1, 2005 he underwent a Presurgical Psychological Evaluation from Dr. Louis F. Mortillaro, PhD. His diagnoses included:

Axis I: (307.89) Pain Disorder due to his Medical Condition with Psychological Factors;
(293.83) Mood Disorder due to his Medical Condition with Mixed Features of Anxiety and Depression;
AxisII:( 799.9) Diagnosis deferred
Axis III: Unable to return to work, insufficient and inadequate finances
AxisV: Current GAF (50)
Highest GAF Past Year (60) (GAF – Global Assessment of Functioning)
(See attached GAF scale)

All of the AXIS I diagnoses were deemed to have arisen out of the injury of November 22, 2004. Dr. Mortillaro recommended the following:

1. "Mr. Rodriguez is an appropriate candidate for participating in individual pain and stress management counseling. It is opined that he will need 20-30 sessions of such services at an average cost of $175/session.
2. He is appropriate candidate for receipt of biofeedback therapy at an average cost of $135/session.
3. He will need a psychotropic medication evaluation to assess the necessity for a number of different types of medications that will treat his mood disorder and help him better manage his pain and suffering."

He attended therapy at Rancho Physical Therapy following the surgery on October 14, 2005. He was seen on November 8, 2005 by Dr. Joseph R. Nicola, D.C. for lumbar, thoracic and cervical pain following the accident. He stated he had the pain since the accident but the knee pain was so overwhelming that he did not pursue care for the spinal pain. He has noted increased cervical and lumbar spine pain. He continued on crutches which was exacerbating the pain from the original accident. He rated the pain at 7/10. Dr. Nicola stated "The prognosis, at this time, for a full recovery is guarded due to the extent of Mr. Rodriguez's injuries." Chiropractic care was recommended including physical medicine modalities, CMT, neuromuscular reeducation, therapeutic exercises and myofascial release technique.

He continued with Ranch Physical Therapy into 2006 for his knee but little improvement was made. He also started therapy with Matt Smith Physical Therapy in Las Vegas on February 22, 2006 for his low back, facet pain and neck pain. The initial evaluation notes that "this patient is disabled". Mr. Rodriguez was moderately limited in the lumbar spine with forward flexion at 65%, extension at 0%, side bending left 20%, and right 15% or normal. Rehabilitation Potential was regarded as "Good."

Mr. Rodriguez underwent a sleep apnea evaluation on February 2, 2006. The study was positive and he was placed on CPAP and began treatment for his sleep apnea.

During 2005 and 2006, Mr. Rodriguez underwent psychological counseling and treatment with Dr. Louis Mortillaro. On January 11, 2006, at his 9th visit, he rated his pain as 7/10, depression 7/10, frustration 7/10 and speaking about the accident caused him increased stress. He continued on a weekly basis in January, February and into June. In June he rated his pain as 7-8/10, depression 7/10, anxiety 4-5/10 and frustration 6/10. Dr. Mortillaro noted that he was making expected progress and was compliant with treatment process. Dr. Mortillaro noted on his July 27, 2006 visit, that Mr. Rodriguez had been diagnosed with complex regional pain syndrome in the left leg/foot. In early November of 2006 he expressed concern regarding his health and failure of the conservative treatment. He continued to see him and the November 28, 2006 visit indicates that the patient was preparing for a discogram in California. He was very concerned with how painful the procedure would be. This was discussed at his appointment.

Medications on March 2006 included:

Prozac
Buspar
Vicoden
Elavil
Vicoprofen
Zoloft
Valium
Levenox
Advair
Singulair
Albuterol

These were listed in his pre surgical questionnaire. Dr. John Thalgot evaluated Mr. Rodriguez on March 7, 2006. He confirmed abnormal nerve studies over the upper extremities suggesting "bilateral C5-6 radiculopathies as evidenced by abnormalities seen on segmental dermatomal evoked potential studies. Abnormal median sensory studies consistent with possible right median and ulnar nerve involvement at the wrist, possibly consistent with entrapment." Dr. Thalgot recommended an EMG at a later date of symptoms persisted.

On March 20, 2006 he was seen by Dr. Walter Kidwell and referred by Dr. John Thalgot. Dr. Kidwell evaluated him and reviewed the studies. His impression was as follows:

1. Internal derangement, left knee, status post surgery by Dr. Shannon.
2. Neck pain, right upper extremity radicular symptoms, and preexisting degenerative spondylosis with stenosis. Suspect traumatically-induced discogenic pain/interval disc disruption with secondary spasm and myofascial pain syndrome.
3. Low back pain with left lower extremity radicular symptoms, history of multilevel degenerative spondylosis. Suspect traumatically-induced internal disc disruption/discogenic pain.
4. The patient's symptoms have persisted for well over a year despite conservative therapy. He denies a history of preexisting pain problems, and therefore, to a reasonable degree of medical certainty it appears the patient's presenting complaints are a result of the trauma that the patient received on October [sic] 2004." (DOI: November 22, 2004).

He recommended spinal injection therapy. First recommendation was epidural injections of the neck and low back, two each once a week. Follow up was to be with Dr. Thalgot after injections were complete. He did state that "additional injections maybe appropriate dependent upon response." The injections were performed with only mild relief. He was returned to Dr. Kidwell by Dr. Thalgot on June 29, 2006 for Selective Nerve Root Blocks (SNRBs). His complaints were pain in the neck and some left upper extremity symptoms. He also complained of continued low back pain radiating to his left lower extremity down to the toes. Stage Selective Nerve Root Blocks were recommended first bilateral C7 plus bilateral L5 injections. It is noted that Mr. Rodriguez had seen Dr. Montillaro and methadone was recommended as the primary pain medication. Dr. Kidwell recommended that Mr. Rodriguez have a pain physician in his hometown of Riverside, California follow the medications.

Mr. Rodriguez again had surgery of the left knee recommended by Dr. Jacob Tauber, MD and he underwent a pre operative history and physical on April 21, 2006. He remained in the brace.

Mr. Rodriguez continued with Matt Smith Physical Therapy in Las Vegas, Nevada and was seen in follow up for his left knee, cervical and lumbar spine. His physicians were listed as Dr. Tauber and Dr. Thalgot.

Dr. Kidwell performed the SNRBs and noted no change in symptoms after C7, L4 or L5 blocks. Dr. Kidwell saw the patient back on August 7, 2006 at which time he noted that Mr. Rodriguez had not improved and was undergoing an EMG with Dr. Russell Shah. Dr. Shah was initially seeing him to rule out complex regional pain syndrome and would be doing the EMG.

He was seen by Dr. Russell J. Shah, MD a neurologist in Henderson, Nevada on August 9, 2006. Complaints included constant left knee pain, swelling and pain involving the left ankle area. The EMG/NCS was considered abnormal with mild to moderate right carpal tunnel, abnormal lower extremity study with mild right L5 motor denervating radiculopathy. Dr. Shah determined that "the patient's symptoms are progressive. He will need repeat testing in 9 months as progress is very likely."

Dr. Shah saw Mr. Rodriguez in follow up on August 18, 2006 at which time he indicated that Mr. Rodriguez required the following:

1. Second opinion left knee...;
2. Continue sleep apnea treatment with CPAP machine;
3. Consider gastric bypass consultation for extreme obesity secondary to left knee injury – he gained apparently 80 lbs. He is likely a candidate for surgery as his life expectancy is likely decreased. He tells me that his genes are good and family members live long in the lineage."
4. Spine surgery lumbar eventually after left knee as his right leg radicular complaints will progressively worsen as he is not getting his left knee problem solved;

5. Wrist splints for now for carpal tunnel syndrome with every 12 month f/u EDX-EMG/NCV to evaluate for progression. He will need CTSR surgery bilaterally as again he is still worsening.
6. Full medical evaluate per PTP – Dr. Koka for heart, cholesterol evaluation as his weight gain is going to predispose him to hypertension, high cholesterol, depression and diabetes. These are likely short, medium and long term derivative complications of prolonged disability and weight gain.”

On August 26, 2006, he was seen by Dr. Robert C. Gutierrez to evaluate his left wrist and right hand numbness of 2 years duration since his fall. The MRI noted “a small tear or perforation in volar 1/3 of SL ligament, synovitis ulnar, ECU tendenosis, nerve test: cervical radicular mild to moderate CTS.” Dr. Gutierrez recommended an injection for CTS which was performed.

On November 14, 2006 Mr. Rodriguez was evaluated at UCLA by Dr. Michael Ferrante at the UCLA Pain Management Center. An additional complaint of tinnitus is noted in the reporting. In the review of systems Dr. Ferrante noted fatigue, weight gain, eye problems, loss of balance, and other additional complaints over his entire body. Recommendations included possible CRPS of the left lower extremity (ankle and knee). He noted if pain continued he would recommend additional bone scans for definitive diagnosis. He also suggested that the patient undergo lumbar sympathetic blocks, trial of clonidine patches and Neurontin as well as bilateral foot and leg x-rays in order to contrast possible osteoporosis in the left lower extremity and foot in comparison to the right. He also stated “I believe the gentleman may have carpal tunnel syndrome and should be evaluated for splints as well as injections. Surgery may be warranted.” He indicates with regard to the tinnitus is “likely that this is due to the injuries sustained on 11/22/04. Audiometry with vestibular studies would be a preliminary step towards its management as well as determining its etiology.” He noted that he was on maintenance psychological therapy with Dr. Mortillaro. In regard to the spine, he notes “the patient denies any recent pre-accident history of neck or back pain. This would definitely favor a direct causation to the accident of November 2004. I understand that he has received a number of injections with little relief of symptoms. I would suggest that he be referred to the Spine Institute at UCLA for evaluations and recommendations.” Dr. Ferrante requested psychological clearance for a discogram as well.

Mr. Rodriguez continued with therapy and other modalities through 2006. He was seen by Dr. Lawrence R. Miller, MD on March 7, 2007 in Beverly Hills, California at the Wilshire Surgical Center. He was referred to Dr. Miller by Dr. Tauber. Mr. Rodriguez complained of left lower extremity pain. Pain was noted to be 9/10 on a constant basis. He also complained of lumbar spine pain at a level 9/10. He complained of neck pain bilaterally which increased with activity. He had left hand and wrist pain consistent with dorsal compartment of the first finger, increased with activity. He complained of right hand numbness and reported symptoms of depression, sleep disturbance and posttraumatic stress. His medications were listed as Elavil, morphine, Vicodin, baclofen, lyrica, buspar, valium, Prozac, albuterol, advair and singulair. His final diagnoses were:

1. Left lower extremity complex regional pain syndrome;
2. Chronic pain syndrome with depression, posttraumatic stress, weight gain and sleep disturbance;
3. Left knee internal derangement
  - a. Status post arthroscopy x2 with residuals;
4. Left de Quervain's tenosynovitis;
5. Left wrist internal derangement;
6. Upper extremity entrapment neuropathy
  - a. Rule out right carpal tunnel;
  - b. Rule out left cubital tunnel;
7. Cervical myofascial pain;
8. Cervical disc disease; and
9. Lumbar disc disease.

Dr. Miller provides rationale for his diagnosis indicating that Mr. Rodriguez meets 5- of the 6 criteria. Definitive diagnosis only requires 4 of 6 of these. This physician recommended physical therapy and lumbar sympathetic blocks with ongoing pain psychology treatment and support with cognitive behavior therapy as indicated. Surgery was not an option at this juncture per the doctor due to the CRPS. His plan indicated:

1. Authorization for lumbar sympathetic blocks (LSBs);
2. Authorization for further physiotherapy to be provided in association with the LSBs;
3. Manual desensitization;
4. MS Contin 30 mg by mouth three times/day renewed;
5. Added Topamax 25 mg at bedtime and increase to a target of 100-150mg. He noted as Topamax is increased the Lyrica and Elavil should be weaned;
6. Quinine sulfate added for nocturnal spasm;
7. Analgesics, adjuvants, including baclofen, Vicodin, Buspar and Prozac renewed.

This doctor noted "In summary, this patient has had a tragic injury with diffuse areas of orthopedic injury. He has developed a chronic pain syndrome with severe depression, sleep disturbance, weight gain. Pain syndrome has been complicated by severe left lower extremity CRPS. Sympathetic ganglion blocks will be performed, but if he does not respond to treatment as outlined above, patient will be considered a candidate for spinal cord stimulator."

Dr. Robert Gutierrez injected the thumb and it was successful. He did not recommend follow up on May 23, 2007 for the thumb unless symptoms returned.

stimulator for left lower extremity pain, rule out orthopedic pathology as cause for knee pain prior to stimulator placement.

The final reporting is from Dr. Michael Crovetti who evaluated Mr. Rodriguez on May 12, 2008. He was referred by Dr. Schifini for evaluation. Dr. Crovetti opined that Mr. Rodriguez was a candidate for a spinal cord stimulator. He noted that the pain complaints in the knee do not correlate with his history. He did not recommend any further knee surgeries at that time.

There are no further records at this time. Receipt of additional records and/or information could require a revision of the Life Care Plan. This plan is currently based on the above records and the October 6, 2008 interview with Mr. Rodriguez.

INTERVIEW HENRY RODRIGUEZ

Mr. Rodriguez has severe knee pain – he indicated if he could “cry” all day he would. He also has neck and back pain. He has a ligament in his left hand which is injured from using the cane. He is unable to have surgery due to the CRPS in his left knee. His right hand is always abnormal and he has no grip – he has been diagnosed with carpal tunnel – again no surgery due to the CRPS. They also have diagnosed him as having cervical radiculopathy complicating the diagnosis of the right hand. The pain in the neck is an 8-9 and never goes away.

His lower back also has pain. He has no symptoms in the thoracic spine. The MRI showed changes and he has pain “most” of the time. He has difficulty getting out of bed but the adjustable bed was prescribed by one of his physicians and is in place in the home. He was unable to remember which doctor ordered to bed due to the number of physicians involved in his care. He has swelling in the left ankle. He had to have surgery on his left toenail for ingrown toenail. This has been attributed to the CRPS. He is more susceptible to fungus on the left foot. He therefore requires care for these ingrown toenails every other year or more. He sees his Podiatrist, Dr. Stacey, for this service.

Mr. Rodriguez reports he is unable to help with the household activities to any degree whatsoever. He is very upset that he no longer can help his wife clean, do any type of yard work or assist with any chores including cleaning, cooking and/or maintenance around the home.

Mr. Rodriguez indicates he sees multiple physicians and provided their names, specialties and addresses as we went through his current treatment. He also provided a list of his medications and has promised to send, via email, a list showing their current cost. He will provide costs on the CPAP and CPAP supplies as well. He uses this for his sleep apnea which has developed in relation to the weight gain which accompanied the knee injury and development of CRPS. Dr. Shah and Dr. Koka have related this directly to the injury. His weight gain was excessive, almost 80-90 lbs in a relatively short period of time.

He and his wife both indicated that he has been prescribed physical therapy and is attending therapy for his shoulder, knee and spine. It is helping. He does pool, exercise, electrical stimulation and cold packs for therapy. He was prescribed therapy for the shoulder by Dr. Shah and is undergoing ongoing therapy per Dr. Thalgott initially. His current facility is Kelly Hopkins Physical Therapy. He had utilized both Matt Smith and Rancho Physical Therapy but is no longer using these facilities. He did indicate that he is receiving the same therapies.

Mr. Rodriguez indicated that Dr. Koka, Dr. Shah and Dr. Thalgott have all recommended he be seen by a nutritionist. He has not been able to do this as of yet. He does have a significant weight gain he must address.

Mr. Rodriguez is having blood drawn annually for general health panel, liver studies and does a urinalysis to monitor the medication in his system. At least, he assumes this is why he is undergoing these tests to follow up on all the medications he has had to take. His wife confirmed this.

I toured his home. He does have grab bars in the bathroom. This home, however, is temporary and he will require similar equipment when he relocates. His home is actually in Riverside, California but all of his doctors are now in Las Vegas so he has found a temporary residence. His wife indicated that she actually washes his hair and helps him with his showers. She is concerned as the doctors have recommended a shower chair but they do not have one at this time. Dr. Koka had recommended this as well as Dr. Thalgott. He is in the process of getting the prescription written again – this is a safety issue and I spoke with him in length about safety issues and falling in the bathroom. He agreed that he was unsteady and will follow up with his doctors. They do have an adjustable bed in the bedroom so he can change position safely and with less pain. He indicated that doctors have told him that if the CRPS remains as it is at this time, he will have definite mobility issues as he ages and may require a scooter. Thus far, he is able to ambulate with a cane, crutches and/or the walker.

He uses bilateral wrist braces for the upper extremity problems described above. He states that he wears his knee brace except when he is in the home. Mrs. Rodriguez must do all of the household duties and also, notes that she assists him with all activities of daily living. She estimates her time at 4.5 hours/day. It is possible she may have to work to bring in income in which case, he would require this additional assistance at home.

Dr. Shah has indicated that Mr. Rodriguez may require a total knee replacement. However, currently with the CRPS, no surgery can be performed. A spinal stimulator has also been recommended and the trial completed. He is waiting to have this finished as it did lessen the pain. Dr. Koka, Dr. Shah and Dr. Thalgott have all recommended weight loss and gastric bypass. They attribute the weight gain to the knee injury and subsequent CRPS. Mr. Rodriguez indicated he gets blocks for the pain and he has been told he will need additional ones in the future. He also has been told he will need additional epidural injections for the cervical spine.

Mr. Rodriguez states he cries "a lot" and feels "useless". He feels like Mrs. Rodriguez is his hands and feet and that she has been over burdened. She does all of the work around the home. He indicates his memory is scattered and she had to take over finances as well. He is very upset that he is unable to contribute to his household. He would like to get going with the additional recommended treatment – spinal stimulator – and hopefully this will help him to be able to do more in his life. He is on multiple medications for his depression and he feels these do help him.

PAST MEDICAL HISTORY

ER admission records indicate a past history of asthma and an appendectomy.

DIAGNOSES – ATTRIBUTED TO ACCIDENT November 22, 2004

Based on the above reporting and doctors' opinions they have included the following diagnoses and related them to the accident of November 22, 2004.

1. Left knee meniscal tear with subsequent instability and development of Complex Regional Pain Syndrome.
2. Lumbar and cervical spine strain/sprain with development of myofascial pain syndrome;
3. Chronic pain syndrome with depression, post traumatic stress, weight gain and sleep disturbance with diagnosis of sleep apnea and morbid obesity;
4. Tinnitus;
5. Left wrist internal derangement, upper extremity entrapment neuropathy, rule out right carpal tunnel syndrome, left cubital tunnel syndrome and de Quervain's tenosynovitis;
6. Cervical myofascial pain.
7. Development of pain in the shoulder from overuse of cane on the right side. Now being treated by Dr. Shah.

FUNCTIONAL CAPABILITIES

Mr. Rodriguez describes his abilities as follows. These abilities are also supported by reporting from Dr. Miller, Dr. Montillaro, Dr. Ferrante, Dr. Kidwell, Dr. Shah, Dr. Koka and Dr. Gutierrez as well as additional physicians whose records are reviewed above.

Eating, Grooming, Bathing, Dressing

Mr. Rodriguez is able to perform grooming activities of daily living and is assisted by his wife with dressing and showering. She also assists him with cooking meals, laundry and household cleaning – he is unable to do any of these activities without significant help.

Bowel and Bladder Management

Mr. Rodriguez suffers from constipation which the doctors have attributed to the amount of medication he is taking. He has difficulty urinating as well. The doctors are unsure what is causing this and have recommended he see an Urologist. He has followed up with Dr. Koka for this who is considering referral.

Walking/Standing/Sitting/Muscles and Bones

He can walk for 5-10 minutes and sit for a short period of time. He can drive to his therapy and makes a stop if he needs to get up or change positions. He can drive 30-45 minutes then must stop. He lifts under 10 lbs. He has constant pain in the knee with all of these activities.

Skin and Soft Tissue

Mr. Rodriguez has swelling, heat and loss of hair on the left ankle. This is due to the CRPS. He does have some skin breakdown where he wears the brace but he now takes it off and on when he is at home and this has improved.

Upper Extremity Use

As noted above, Mr. Rodriguez has cubital tunnel syndrome in his left upper extremity. He has also developed shoulder problems on the right related to the use of the cane and he is receiving therapy at this time. His right hand is numb with tingling which is attributed to both carpal tunnel syndrome and cervical radiculopathy. He has been prescribed and wears bilateral braces on his wrists.

Lower Extremity Use

Mr. Rodriguez uses a cane and a brace on the left injured knee. He is able to ambulate around the home without these. His home has no carpeting and smooth floors.

Visual Deficits

None reported.

Cognitive Deficits

He states he has a loss of memory and believes it is due to pain and depression. He did hit at the time of injury his head but has not been diagnosed with a head injury.

Body Weight

Mr. Rodriguez has been diagnosed with morbid obesity which led to his sleep apnea. He gained over 90 lbs since the accident. Prior to the accident he went to the gym and was extremely active. Pictures provided showed him to be in excellent shape. He is unable to perform any type of outdoor or athletic activity due to CRPS, bilateral wrist, right shoulder, lumbar and cervical spine injuries.

Fine Motor Skills

He has numbness and tingling and no grip or fine motor ability in his right hand.

Psychological Functioning

Mr. Rodriguez is very tearful when discussing the accident. He states he can sleep up to 12-18 hour. He naps during the day and also worries because he is unable to do anything. He has been diagnosed with severe depression. He naps up to 3 hours during the day even if he sleeps 12 hours or more during the night.

LIFE EXPECTANCY

Mr. Rodriguez was injured on November 22, 2004 at the time of injury he was 41.36 years of age. His life expectancy was 78.04 years at the time of injury. At the time of this report October 21, 2008 he is 45.27 years of age with a remaining life expectancy of 32.77 years.

LIFE CARE PLAN TABLES

The following are the narrative explanations for Tables A through O. Each table addresses a specific category of current and/or future need. If complications develop and/or as accelerated aging alters Mr. Rodriguez's medical condition and functional status and/or new information is provided this may result in the need for revision of this plan. Costs provided on the tables reflect current pricing obtained through interviews with suppliers, facilities, pharmacies and other health care providers, either telephonically, in person or via the internet. This life care plan does not include any incident-related costs incurred by Mr. Rodriguez prior to the completion of this report. The final figures may change if the treatment plan changes as a reflection of a change in his current condition. This document is not a certified or bonded estimate. It is intended only to provide a gross estimate of the cost for projected services for the educational benefits of all interested parties. A revision will be required when additional medical records are received.

A. Projected Evaluations

Mr. Rodriguez will require ongoing evaluations by Dr. Gutierrez, Orthopedist, for thumb injections and to follow upper extremity problems. This is estimated as 4x/year at this time. He has seen him more frequently in the past. He should have an in-home Physical Therapy Evaluation now and an additional 3 times in the future to assess what adaptive equipment will improve his independence including any items which would assist him in performing activities of daily living. He indicates he has been referred to a Surgeon, Dr. Vader, to place the spinal stimulator. Dr. Vader will need to see him a total of approximately 6 times before and after the surgery. He will then be followed by Dr. Thalgot, Dr. Shah and Dr. Koka. Finally, he experiences ingrown toenails on an infrequent basis and he must see Dr. Stacey, his Podiatrist, approximately every other year.

The doctor indicated that this will be an ongoing problem related to the fungus developed due to CRPS.

B. Routine Medical Care

Mr. Rodriguez requires the care of a Spinal Orthopedist, Dr. Elkanich, to follow his cervical and lumbar spine. He sees him 2x/year and will continue to do so. He will also continue to see Dr. Thalgott, Pain Management physician, who follows his spine and neck, does the epidurals and will follow him for the spinal stimulator. He sees him 6x/year. He requires the care of his Internal Medicine physician, Dr. Koka, who monitors and prescribes all of the medications in concert with the other consultants. This doctor monitors his general health, liver etc. in relation to these medications. He sees him 12x/year. Dr. Koka also follows the weight gain. He will require additional care on an ongoing basis with Dr. Gutierrez as indicated in Table A. He requires the care of Dr. Russell Shah, Neurologist, whom he sees 6x/year to follow the upper extremity problems. He is seen by his ENT, Dr. Kim, for the sleep apnea. Finally, he will continue to see a Pain Psychologist, Dr. Mortillaro, for maintenance therapy related to his CRPS and chronic pain and depression.

C. Projected Therapeutic Modalities

Dr. Shah has recently added a prescription for Physical Therapy. He requires aquatic exercises as well as electrical stimulation and heat/cold packs from Kelly Hopkins Physical Therapy. They are treating the right shoulder, cervical spine, lumbar spine and his knee. He should also be evaluated and followed by a Nutritionist. He indicates that several doctors have recommended this including Dr. Shah and Dr. Koka.

D. Diagnostic Testing

Mr. Rodriguez indicated during the conversation that different doctors have continued to recommend additional diagnostic studies. Dr. Koka has recommended and performs annual Liver Studies, HGB/HCT and Urinalysis to assist in monitoring his kidney and liver function due to the amount of medication he is taking and due to his obesity. Mr. Rodriguez has a reduced ability to fight disease and should receive a Flu Shot on an annual basis. This is included to age 65 as it would be required at that time by general health standards. He will require additional MRI/CT of the lumbar spine, cervical spine and left knee. The timing of these has been almost every other year to each year and the doctors have not indicated this will change.

E. Aids for Independent Function

Mr. Rodriguez requires the following equipment which has been prescribed by Drs. Koka, Thalgott, Gutierrez, Miller, and Shah as well as additional doctors in the records. The following is either in the home or has been prescribed:

1. Grab Bars;
2. Additional Aids for Independent Function per the PT Eval In the home;
3. Cane;
4. CPAP with humidifier;
5. Filter for CPAP;
6. CPAP Supplies including mask, tubing, nose clamp and sterile water;
7. Heavy duty walker;
8. Cervical collar;
9. Bilateral hand braces and trigger thumb brace;
10. Regular crutches;
11. Deluxe Shower Bench with Back; and
12. Hand Held Shower.

He will require a heavy duty shower bench, cane and walker due to his weight. These items are for safety and independence and are discussed above.

F. Wheelchairs, Accessories and Maintenance

Mr. Rodriguez does not use a wheelchair. He will require a Mobility Scooter when he reaches approximately age 60-65 as his knees, spine and hands will not be able to continue to support him safely. This could occur sooner if his weight is not addressed. This would also include maintenance, tires, battery and battery charger.

G. Prosthetics and Orthotics

Mr. Rodriguez has been prescribed bilateral wrist braces by Dr. Shah, a trigger thumb brace by Dr. Shah and the knee brace by various doctors but most recently by Dr. Shah who is treating his CRPS.

H. Home Furnishings and Accessories

Dr. Thalgott has prescribed an Double Adjustable Bed for Mr. Rodriguez so he can change position and safely get up and out of bed independently.

I. Drug Supplies and Needs

Mr. Rodriguez provided me a list of his current medications. He indicated that he does not anticipate them changing in the future but this will also depend on the effectiveness of the spinal stimulator. He takes the following (related to the accident):

1. Valium 10 mg as needed (approximately 80/yr)
2. Albuterol inhaler (pre accident)
3. Hydrocodone 7.5 mg/750mg 3x/day
4. Morphine 30 mg 3x/day

5. Effexor XR 37.5mg 1x/day
6. Topamax 100 mg 2x/day
7. Lovastatin 20 mg 1x/day
8. Cyclobenzaprine 10 mg 1x/day
9. Doc-Q-Lace 100 mg 3x/day
10. Enulose Syrup 30 gm 2x/day
11. Singulair 10 mg 1x/day (pre accident)
12. Advair Disk 250/50 2x/day (pre accident)
13. Mupirocin 22gm 2% 2x/day
14. Viagra 100 mg as needed (estimate 90/year)

J. Home Care

Mr. Rodriguez will also require a Home Health Assistant for approximately 4.5 hours/day. Mrs. Rodriguez indicates she spends at least this amount of time and if she goes to work he will need assistance with bathing, dressing and other complex activities of daily living requiring balance and flexibility.

K. Future Surgeries

Mr. Rodriguez has been told he will require a Spinal Stimulator implanted by Dr. Vader. This was recommended by Dr. Thalgott and other physicians. He has undergone the trial and is awaiting permanent placement. He may require, after the CRPS is under control, a Total Knee Replacement for his left knee which has degenerative changes. Dr. Shah has recommended a Gastric Bypass which should help the obesity and sleep apnea. This is life threatening per Dr. Shah at this time. He has also received, and Dr. Elkanich has indicated will receive in the future, cervical epidural injections. Finally, he will require additional lumbar sympatheic ganglion blocks to get the CRPS under control. It is possible he will also require procedures for his shoulder and wrists, but at this juncture, these have not been recommended as necessary, only discussed by his different doctors.

L. Recreational/Leisure Needs

No specific recommendations have been made in this category.

M. Architectural Modifications

Mr. Rodriguez will require grab bars in any home he lives in but at this time there are no other specific architectural modifications he will require.

N. Transportation

Mr. Rodriguez will require Mileage to and from the appointments in this Life Care Plan. Using Map Quest, I have estimated this at approximately 500 miles each year at the IRS rate of $.58/mile. This figure could change if he requires care outside of Las Vegas, Nevada or if the IRS rate changes. No other items are included on this table.

O. Potential Complications

There are multiple complications to his many disabilities. This table is for information purposes only as there is no predictability to these conditions. The amount listed is a range provided by benchmarks and literature for the conditions listed. These complications could include Risk for Falls, Depression with Risk for Suicide, Arthritic and Degenerative Changes accelerated by obesity and CRPS and Shoulder Degeneration with the need for Surgery. These are listed or considered as medically possible not medically probable.

EXHIBIT M

1 THE COURT: Very well.

2 BY MR. BAKER:

3 Q Have all of the opinions you've been given just now
4 to a reasonable degree of medical probability?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Thank you.

7 [Pause]

8 THE COURT: Mr. Ward.

9 MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Whenever you're ready.

11 [Pause]

12 CROSS-EXAMINATION

13 BY MR. WARD:

14 Q Good morning, Dr. Kidwell.

15 A Good morning, sir.

16 Q Now do you know who Dr. Thalgott is?

17 A Yes, I do.

18 Q Who's Dr. Thalgott?

19 A He's an orthopedic spine surgeon.

20 Q He's an orthopedic spine surgeon.

21 A That's correct.

22 Q And now, do you ever refer patients to Dr. Thalgott?

23 A Yes, I do.

24 Q You do. Why do you refer them to Dr. Thalgott?

25 A Because he's an excellent spine surgeon.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 Q And do you rely on him to make a diagnosis as to
2 when surgery is appropriate?

3 A Yes, many times. Yes.

4 Q Well, if you -- what I'm asking -- and perhaps my
5 question wasn't a very good one. If you had a patient who you
6 had a question about whether they needed back surgery, and you
7 referred him to -- him or her to Dr. Thalgott, you would
8 expect Dr. Thalgott to do an independent evaluation.

9 A That's correct.

10 Q You wouldn't expect that you would make a
11 determination of what kind of surgery would be performed and
12 then just ask Dr. Thalgott to perform that?

13 A Oh, no. He's -- what surgery would need to be done
14 would be strictly his call.

15 Q Okay. So --

16 A In my role, I have a pretty good feel for who might
17 be surgical, but ultimately, the decision to do surgery is up
18 to the surgeon.

19 Q Right. And when Dr. Thalgott does surgery and does
20 it under some sort of an anesthetic, does he often have an
21 anesthesiologist?

22 A Well, I would hope so.

23 Q Okay. He wouldn't do that himself?

24 A No.

25 Q He wouldn't make that call?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. Would you explain to the Judge why that is?

3 A Well, the knee is the primary pain component. Once
4 you treat that, you see what's left, number one. Number two,
5 the spinal cord stimulator now can cover back pain and leg
6 pain. That's new technology. Two years ago you couldn't make
7 that statement. Spinal cord stimulator wouldn't treat leg
8 pain.

9 Usually in the context of a failure back surgery
10 syndrome, but RSD is certainly an indication for it as well.
11 But now the technology exists that with a tripole technology,
12 we can cover back pain from about L-1 on down pretty reliably.

13 Q And Dr. Schifini testified that he actually put a
14 lead to his back on the temporary spinal cord stimulator.

15 A Right.

16 Q And that that didn't help his back pain except
17 transiently. Did you understand that?

18 A I didn't know that, but whether I did or not is 19 irrelevant because that was done more than two years ago if I
20 recall.

21 Q Correct. Now you've stated that you know
22 Dr. Thalgott, is that right?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q And he's a good surgeon?

25 A He's a great surgeon.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 Q And you've transferred patients back and forth with
2 him?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Would Dr. Thalgott ever recommend surgery on a
5 person awaiting a spinal cord stimulator for his knee that
6 he's unable to get?

7 MR. WARD: Object, no foundation for this. We don't know
8 what Dr. Thalgott has to say about this. This is speculative.

9 THE COURT: Mr. Baker.

10 MR. BAKER: He said he understands Dr. Thalgott. They
11 refer patients back and forth. He's had experience with
12 patients with Dr. Thalgott and he's aware for the standards
13 for prescribing surgery and recommending surgery in patients.

14 MR. WARD: Your Honor, this witness said on
15 cross-examination that he didn't know what was in
16 Dr. Thalgott's mind and that he couldn't even interpret
17 Dr. Thalgott's suspicions in his medical records. So, how he
18 could possibly offer this kind of an opinion is without
19 foundation.

20 THE COURT: Well, let me ask you this, Mr. Baker. The
21 way you phrased your question, it was a general one. Does it
22 apply to specifically the Plaintiff?

23 MR. BAKER: Huh-uh, general.

24 THE COURT: General question?

25 MR. BAKER: Yeah, but I can restate the question.

1 THE COURT: Well, let's have you restate it then as it
2 applies to Plaintiff.

3 BY MR. BAKER:

4 Q Would it be acceptable to recommend surgery for
5 Enrique Rodriguez on his back when he is still suffering from
6 an untreated RSD on his knee?

7 A I have not seen Dr. Thalgott do that, so I don't
8 think so.

9 Q Okay. And it's nothing that you would recommend?

10 A Uh-uh.

11 Q And because you will continue to have the postural
12 changes, is that correct?

13 A Correct.

14 Q And will you explain to the Judge, is there a cycle
15 associated with the back pain and the postural changes, the
16 limping and the use of assistive devices?

17 A When his pain is bad, I would anticipate that he
18 would have an altered gait, altered posture, and that would
19 adversely affect his back.

20 Q And we've heard testimony in this Court as well
21 about the fact that if back surgery was done before his knee
22 was repaired, he would likely rip out that back surgery due to
23 the continued postural changes. Do you have an opinion with 24 respect to that?

25 MR. WARD: Objection, leading, argumentative.

1 THE WITNESS: that would --

2 THE COURT: Overruled.

3 THE WITNESS: Oh.

4 THE COURT: You can answer the question, sir.

5 THE WITNESS: That would put asymmetric stress on the
6 back and could, if you fused one level, it would probably
7 accelerate adjacent segment breakdown.

8 BY MR. BAKER:

9 Q Another thing too, since Dr. Thalgott's reports,
10 it's been three years, is that right?

11 A Correct.

12 Q Could you explain to a reasonable degree of medical
13 probability to the Judge what's been occurring with respect to 14 Enrique's back and neck as a result of continued postural
15 changes?

16 A My suspicion is that it would continue to hurt and
17 possibly get worse --

18 MR. WARD: Object.

19 THE WITNESS: -- mechanically.

20 MR. WARD: Move to strike. There's no foundation that
21 this doctor knows what's been going on. In fact, the
22 foundation is specifically to the contrary. He began his
23 answer with, "My suspicion." It calls for speculation and no
24 foundation.

25 THE COURT: Sustain the objection.

2 Q Doctor, in patients that you've treated who have
3 continued to have postural changes over time, could you please
4 explain to the Judge they cycle that they get into with
5 respect to their pain complaints?

6 MR. WARD: Relevance unless it relates to this patient.

7 MR. BAKER: Well, he's a human being like any other human
8 being, isn't he?

9 THE COURT: Overrule the objection.

10 THE WITNESS: As I said, my suspicion is most patients I
11 would expect, I would anticipate would go on to have further
12 pain as a result of their altered gait and posture.

13 BY MR. BAKER:

14 Q And does the altered gait and posture help the
15 condition or does it hinder and hurt the condition?

16 A It hurts the condition. It makes it worse.

17 Q In what way?

18 A Continued asymmetric stress on the structure
19 involved.

20 Q Thank you, Doctor.

21 MR. BAKER: No further questions, Your Honor.

22 BY MR. BAKER:

23 Q And is your opinion with respect to that last 24 question to a reasonable degree of medical probability?

25 A Yes, sir, it is.

3 MR. WARD: Yes, Your Honor.

4 RE CROSS-EXAMINATION

5 BY MR. WARD:

6 Q Doctor, the diagnosis you made on this patient is
7 what, that he has some internal nerve fibers growing in his
8 disc?

9 A No, the definition was internal disc disruption.

10 Q And you think that's what's causing the problem?

11 A Most likely, yes.

12 Q Okay. You haven't seen anything like that from
13 Dr. Thalgott with respect to this patient, have you?

14 A Didn't he in one of his notes say this is discogenic
15 pain?

16 Q I don't know. Did he?

17 A I saw it.

18 Q Did -- but you're suggesting that he's a surgical
19 candidate, isn't that right?

20 A I'm suggesting he's a potential surgical candidate.

21 Q And Dr. Thalgott says unequivocally that he's not a
22 surgical candidate, isn't that true?

23 A At that point and time, yes.

24 Q Well, at that point and time. You haven't seen this
25 patient for how many years?

AVTranz

1 A Three or four years.

2 Q And so all of the treatment that you're testifying
3 to about occurring tot his patient and what he had got and
4 what he needed in the last three-and-a-half years has all been
5 since the very last time you saw this patient, is that true?

6 A True, but what you should be asking me is why do I
7 think he's a potential surgical candidate. That's what we're
8 not asking here.

9 Q But I'm not asking you that because you're an
10 anesthesiologist. You're no spine surgeon. So you don't do
11 spine surgeries, do you?

12 A Correct, but I --

13 Q Okay.

14 A -- send people to surgeons for surgery.

15 Q And you send people to spine surgeons to do
16 evaluations and offer opinions?

17 A Well, I would think you'd want to know why I'm
18 saying what I'm saying.

19 Q Isn't it true that you send them to spine surgeons
20 to offer opinions?

21 A Correct.

22 Q And you expect them to look at the patient and
23 evaluate them?

24 A Remember, Dr. Thalgott sent the patient to me, but
25 I'll take them.

2 this patient to you to tell him whether he should be doing
3 surgery?

4 A No.

5 Q Okay. Thank you.

6 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

7 FURTHER REDIRECT EXAMINATION

8 BY MR. BAKER:

9 Q So, why? So, why?

10 MR. WARD: Did he see it's the scope of the direct or the
11 recross?

12 MR. BAKER: It's exactly the whole point of the recross,
13 Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: I think the question is appropriate, but I'll
15 ask you to narrow the focus some.

16 BY MR. BAKER:

17 Q Did you want to respond to the question why do you
18 believe he's going to require a lumbar surgery?

19 A Yes, I mean I think that's the crux of the whole
20 thing, why.

21 Q Give it to us.

22 A A surgeon will say they're not a surgical candidate
23 at this point and time. He doesn't feel he's appropriate for 24 surgery at this point and time. There is incomplete data,
25 simply incomplete data.

AVTranz

1           The hypothesis is that he has internal disc
2 disruption in the lumbar spine. There are two basic
3 structures that cause this kind of pain in the low back, discs
4 and facet joints. Neither one of them have been explored as
5 far as a potential pain generator.

6           The symptoms are most consistent with discogenic
7 pain. It could be facet pain, but most consistently with
8 discogenic or perhaps both. The way to prove or disprove the
9 hypothesis is to do a discogram.

10          Q    And we talked about the fact that -- or you spoke
11 about the fact that we don't want to cause pain, that your
12 lumbar epidural injections aren't painful. Tell her about a
13 discogram.

14          A    A discogram is very painful. It's the worst
15 procedure I do on people. We don't take it lightly. You take 16 a patient, you put needles in all the discs you are going to
17 test, and under pressure you'll inject x-ray contrast to
18 stretch the disc. If the disc is torn or causing discogenic
19 pain, it hurts -- excuse my French -- it hurts like hell.
20 It's extremely painful.

21           I've seen patients with Post-Traumatic Stress
22 Disorder have discograms. It's something we don't take
23 lightly and there are techniques to blunt the pain of it.

24          Q    And isn't actually the point of the discogram to re
25 -- give me the word. It's called committing pain, but it's

1 to --

2 A Reproduce.

3 Q -- reproduce --

4 A Reproduce the pain, identify the pain generator, and
5 that's what this is all about is identifying the exact pain
6 generator. You can look at an MRI and see multi level disc
7 disease. You don't know what's hurting. You don't know which
8 disc or which structure is actually causing that pain. And
9 that's the purpose of these procedures, to determine exactly
10 which structure would require surgery if surgery was an 11 option.

12 Dr. Thalgott doesn't have any more information than
13 I do. He's an excellent surgeon and I understand him
14 completely. At that point and time, he's not a surgical
15 candidate. He also has the specter of his knee problem, not a
16 surgical candidate.

17 However, let's say he didn't have a knee problem and
18 I did a discogram showing that he had maybe one or two levels
19 positive. I guarantee he'd be a surgical candidate. And
20 based by multiple reputable spine surgeons in this town.

21 Q And he --

22 A Now, I am not a spine surgeon. I admit it, but I
23 sure work with them a lot.

24 Q And can I ask you to turn --

25 MR. WARD: Wait, I want to voice an objection. I object

1 to the last response and I move to strike on the basis that
2 it's speculative. He's talking about things that Dr. Thalgott
3 might have done or would have done. Dr. Thalgott has not been
4 here to testify. Dr. Thalgott hasn't seen the patient for
5 several years. This gentleman hasn't seen the patient for
6 several years. It is all speculative.

7 MR. BAKER: He's talking about the course of treatment
8 that someone with a diagnosis of internal disc disruption.
9 That's a recognize diagnosis within the community, a diagnosis
10 he deals with all the time. He has a tremendous experience of
11 individuals who are diagnosed with internal disc disruption.

12 He set the foundation, the fact that they ruled out
13 a radicular component. He's testified to a reasonable degree
14 of medical probability that the pain is discogenic rather than
15 neurogenic and testified to a reasonable degree of probability
16 that there's an internal disc disruption. There's a complete
17 foundation for that question.

18 THE COURT: Any final thoughts, Mr. Ward?

19 MR. WARD: I won't waste the Court's time by repeating
20 what I just said, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Objection is noted for the record.
22 Overruled.

23 BY MR. BAKER:

24 Q Doctor, could you please turn to Exhibit 39, page
25 19?

1 felt comfortable about, something that you knew something
2 about?

3 A I did.

4 Q Okay. And what were you asked -- well, first of
5 all, when were you hired; do you remember?

6 A I want to say the second quarter of this year I
7 produced the report on the 19th of August. So that seems
8 right.

9 Q Okay. And what were you asked to do?

10 A To develop, unless I already had one, and render an 11 opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to 12 throwing objects, memorabilia, promotional articles into
13 crowds.

14 Q Okay. Now the concept of throwing articles,
15 memorabilia, whatever, into crowds, is that something that you
16 were familiar with?

17 A I have been all my security career, yes, sir.

18 Q Okay. And, I mean, you didn't say: Oh, my
19 goodness, I've never heard of anybody doing this?

20 A Let me do it another way. I never -- I've hardly
21 ever heard of anybody not doing it.

22 Q Okay. And so in terms of what it was you did to
23 prepare for this case, to prepare to give an opinion and write
24 your report, what did you do?

25 A I reviewed some documentation, some depositions that

2 from Palms, and I formed an opinion.

3 Q Okay. And after you formed an opinion did you
4 prepare a report?

5 A I did, it's here as Exhibit 69.

6 Q Okay. And what opinion did you come to?

7 A That throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort
8 into crowds is not a substandard protocol.

9 Q Okay. And are you familiar with other places that
10 throw items into crowds?

11 A I am. In fact I've initiated processes where we've
12 thrown items into many crowds, both in the philanthropic
13 operations, as well as completely secure venues.

14 Q Okay. And with respect to organizations that you
15 belong to, do you belong to any large organizations?

16 A I belong to ASIS International, which has 83,000
17 members, of which as many as 30 to 50,000 attend an annual
18 conference.

19 Q And have you attended the annual conference?

20 A Almost every year, with very few exceptions.

21 Q And that's a security group?

22 A It is a security group.

23 Q And do they throw items, promotional items into the
24 audience at the conference?

25 A We do that two ways: the conference is a series of

2 keynote speakers like Colin Powell, and Sully, the guy that
3 crashed the plane into -- into the Hudson River. Somebody
4 always of repute. And they had exhibits, and the exhibits
5 there are, I think there were 1100 exhibitors almost every
6 year.

7 They, the exhibitors, regularly throw packages of
8 mints, hand sanitizer, young ladies from Stanley a couple of
9 years ago threw small basketballs. The Canadian contingent in
10 fact has Canada Night, which is a sort of adjunct breakout,
11 threw hockey pucks, real life hard hockey pucks into the
12 crowd.

13 So, yes. And that's impressive to me because this
14 is the largest security organization on the planet, so clearly
15 there's no standard that they reached.

16 Q Okay. And have you seen the Palms area where this
17 incident occurred?

18 A Yes, sir, I have.

19 Q And was there anything about the Palms area where
20 this occurred that you thought would preclude the tossing of
21 promotional items to people that were there?

22 A Well, in fairness, given the time that I saw it,
23 which is several years after the event, unless there were some
24 drastic architectural or structural changes, I saw nothing
25 that would have --

3           A     That's what I just heard, yes.

4           Q     And you read in her deposition too, that that's

16          A     Yes.

17          Q     Okay. With respect to the safety, is it your
18 opinion as a security expert and a crowd control expert that
19 it is unsafe to throw things into crowds?

20          A     It's my opinion it's not unsafe to throw things into 21 crowds.

22          Q     So do you see any evidence that anyone

REPORTER'S PARTIAL TRANSCRIPT
BENCH TRIAL
TESTIMONY OF DR. THOMAS CARGILL

APPEARANCES:

For the Defendant: KENNETH C. WARD, ESQ.

EXHIBIT

1 objection, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: I don't --

3 MR. BAKER: Dr. Cargill's report put out two bases that
4 he was critical of Terry Dinneen. One was that he continued
5 to project a future income based upon a housing market that
6 has changed and a burst bubble, and the second was that the
7 discounting rates that he used were today's discounting rates
8 instead of some other type of thing.

9 He never, ever mentions the information that was
10 relied on, has no criticism of the information relied on, and
11 in no way reflects that that information makes it -- any way
12 impacts the ability for Mr. Dinneen to calculate the wage
13 loss.

14 THE COURT: Sustain the objection.

15 BY MR. WARD:

16 Q Dr. Cargill, when you -- you first heard this report
17 of August 17, 2010, is that correct?

18 A Well, I prepared two reports.

19 Q Okay.

20 A The August report and then as a supplemental report
21 in October.

22 MR. BAKER: I don't have a supplemental report. Did you
23 say August report?

24 THE WITNESS: Yes, August 17, 2010 was my original report
25 and then I provided a supplemental report on October 5th.

2 Q Dr. Cargill, let me ask you about your report at the
3 bottom of page 2, the report that titles, "Estimate of Lost
4 Compensation." Do you see that?

5 A Yes, I do.

6 Q Now, in your report, you note that Mr. Dinneen has
7 made some opinions based upon the market, is that correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And what he's done is he has averaged the earnings
10 over the period of 1999 to the year 2004, is that correct?

11 A Well, that was my understanding what he did.

12 Q Okay.

13 A But that's not what he actually did.

14 Q Okay. But that was your understanding at the time?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And you used -- and then he used that as an estimate
17 of pre-incident future earnings, correct?

18 A Correct.

19 Q And do you think that is appropriate?

20 A Well, no, I did not.

21 Q Right. And in your report, you say what? What's 22 your criticism of that?

23 A Well, I said that it is inappropriate to average
24 earnings over the period from 1999 to 2004 and use the average
25 as an estimate of pre-incident future earnings.

1 an averaging technique that Mr. Dinneen utilized and spoke to,
2 this Court has now three times sustained my objection with
3 respect to that line of questioning.

4 THE COURT: Well, I'd sustain the objection as previously
5 sustained.

6 BY MR. WARD:

7 Q The reason why you can't use 2004 data in the same
8 way as other data is because it's influenced by the bubble in
9 the housing market. Is that true?

10 A That is correct. And when I make the statement
11 about the average, I'm talking about '99, 2000, 2001. That
12 was not a bubble period. It is inappropriate to claim.

13 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this is five times now.

14 THE WITNESS: Can I finish answering the question?

15 THE COURT: Well, there's nothing in his report at all
16 that addressed the issue of averaging as I understand it.

17 MR. BAKER: He says that it is inappropriate to average
18 in the context of the bursting housing market, in the bursting
19 bubble. Now he's speaking about the methodology of averaging
20 as being inappropriate.

21 If he wants to talk about the bursting, the Court
22 understands my objection.

23 THE COURT: I do. Please proceed, Mr. Ward.

24 MR. WARD: Yes.

1 Q You also had problems with Mr. Dinneen's discounting
2 rate?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Could you -- and you're using a historical rate?

5 A No.

6 Q What rate did you use?

7 A I'm using a rate that is based on economic theory,
8 economic evidence, what the U.S. Congressional Budget Office
9 uses.

10 Q Give me a number.

11 A Would you please let me finish?

12 THE COURT: Yeah, I think you should. Mr. Baker --

13 MR. BAKER: Sorry, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: -- you keep firing questions. He can't
15 finish his answer before you fire another one.

16 MR. BAKER: There was caffeine in the cough drop.

17 THE WITNESS: What the trustees of the Social Security
18 Administration use, and they use a real interest rate of 3
19 percent. So, whatever inflation rate you assume, the discount
20 rate automatically is determined.

21 If you assume a 1 percent inflation rate, then the
22 discount rate is 4 percent. If you assume a 2 percent
23 inflation rate, then the discount is 5 percent. It's the
24 ratio that's important. So I use a real interest rate of 3
25 percent, which is based on economic theory, economic evidence.

1 But we're -- economists are very, very confident
2 that that real interest rate ranges between 2 and 4 and 3 is a
3 good average. And that's what pretty much everybody uses.

4 Q And is that a conservative number?

5 A I don't know if I'd call it conservative. You could
6 certainly make an argument that it could be a little higher,
7 but I think for a long run real return on government
8 securities, 3 percent is -- a real return of 3 percent would
9 be acceptable to almost anybody that really knows the 10 financial system.

11 Q Thank you.

12 A And the problem in focusing on current interest
13 rates is very low.

14 MR. BAKER: Your Honor. That's all right.

15 THE WITNESS: But if you go out and buy a bunch of bonds
16 at low interest rates, you're going to have a capital loss in
17 a couple of years because as interest rates rise and everybody
18 projects that they're going to rise, the value of bonds will 19 fall. That's why you can't use current interest rates. It's
20 economic nonsense.

21 MR. WARD: Thank you, Doctor.

22 THE WITNESS: Okay.

23 MR. BAKER: No questions, Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: No follow-up, Mr. Baker?

25 MR. BAKER: No follow-up, Your Honor.

ZA126/993522-1

1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. BACKGROUND TO THIS MOTION

3 Plaintiff in this action has asserted substantial physical and emotional injuries he attributes
4 to events occurring at The Palms Casino Resort in November 2004. Since at least September
5 2005, plaintiff has sought the treatment of psychologist Louis Mortillaro to assist in evaluating 6 and treating the psychological injuries he attributes to this accident.

7 In May 2009, plaintiff submitted to a physical examination with The Palms Casino's
8 consultant, Dr. George Becker. Dr. Becker holds the unique qualifications in both the fields of 9 psychiatry and orthopedics. Plaintiff underwent a physical examination in May 2009. However,
10 plaintiff has refused to submit to psychological evaluation, notwithstanding the emotional and 11 mental injuries he attributes to this incident, and the opinions of his treating psychologist, Louis
12 Mortillaro.

13 As developed within, good cause exists to require plaintiff to submit to mental 14 examinations by The Palms Casino's consultants. For this purpose, defendant has retained the 15 services of Dr. George Becker, who has the assistance of other healthcare providers that are well
16 versed in standardized testing protocols for mental health evaluations.

17 Plaintiff has also refused to agree to an Independent Medical Examination, despite making 18 significant claims of physical and mental injury allegedly as a result of an incident forming the 19 basis of the complaint.

20 For the reasons set forth below, Plaintiff should be compelled to provide responses to the 21 discovery requests, and should be required to attend an Independent Medical Examination.

22 II. STATEMENT OF FACTS

23 On November 22, 2004, Plaintiff was in the sports bar at The Palms Casino for the 24 purposes of watching a football game. Plaintiff alleges that during half-time of the football game,
25 an unknown patron dove for a souvenir, thrown in to the bar area by a blindfolded "Palms girl,"
26 and struck the Plaintiff's left knee. Plaintiff further alleges that he then struck another patron
27 while falling and injured the left side of his head. Over the last five years, Plaintiff has been 28 under the care of numerous medical providers with a diverse range of specialties.

1 Plaintiff contends that he is suffering from various and serious medical conditions,
2 including, but not limited to, constant, sharp, tingling, throbbing pain and stiffness in his left
3 knee. His claimed associated symptoms are generalized weakness, swelling, sleeping difficulties,
4 and loss of balance. His symptoms are allegedly aggravated by bending his knee, walking,
5 driving, and lying down and interfere with his daily activities such as sleeping, working, and
6 recreation. Plaintiff claims he has not worked since the incident at issue.

7 Plaintiff also alleges that he suffers from psychological injuries. His claimed
8 psychological conditions include low energy level, depression, problems with concentration,
9 sexual difficulties, anger, feeling lonely, problems with attention span, despair, problems with 10 finances, blaming, work fears, impatience, confusion, problems with planning, irritability,
11 anxiety, hostility, problems with relationships, communicating, judgment, guilt, memory, bad
12 attitude, stress, worry, sleep problems, personality change, self-esteem, and the inability to be 13 social.

14 As part of the discovery process, The Palms Casino deposed Louis Mortillaro, Ph.D., a
15 psychologist that has been treating plaintiff since September 2005. In his deposition, Dr.
16 Mortillaro testified that it was his professional opinion that plaintiff had suffered emotional and 17 psychological injuries arising from and relating to the accident. Dr. Mortillaro also opined that 18 plaintiff's emotional health prospectively was "guarded." Dr. Mortillaro has opined that plaintiff
19 will require additional healthcare treatment for the mental injuries that Dr. Mortillaro has 20 attributed to the incident.

21 As noted above, plaintiff submitted to a physical examination in May 2009 with Dr.
22 Becker. However, plaintiff's counsel refused at that time, and continues to refuse, to allow 23 plaintiff to submit to a psychological examination. For this reason, The Palms Casino now seeks 24 an order from this court requiring plaintiff to submit to a psychological examination.

25 Prior to the filing this motion, in accordance with E.D.C.R. Rule 2.34(d), counsel for 26 Palms Casino spoke on several occasions with Plaintiff's counsel Steven Baker, Esq. regarding 27 the requested mental examination of plaintiff. Plaintiff has indicated a refusal to allow such an 28 examination to go forward. The conferences have occurred both in person and telephonically.

1           A.     THIS COURT HAS THE AUTHORITY TO ORDER PLAINTIFF TO
2                   ATTEND AN ADDITIONAL INDEPENDENT MEDICAL EXAMINATION

3           Nevada Civil Procedure Rule 35 governs the ordering of physical examinations. Rule
4 35(a) states:

5                   [w]hen the mental or physical condition...of a party...is in 6                   controversy, the court in which the action is pending may order
7                   the party to submit to a physical or mental examination by a 8                   suitably licensed or certified examiner or to produce for 9                   examination the person in the party's custody or legal control. The order may be made only on motion for good cause shown and upon notice to the person to be examined and to all parties and shall specify the time, place, manner, conditions, and scope of the examination and the person or persons by whom it is to be made.

10           All physical and mental examinations, including multiple examinations, are at the 11           discretion of the Court based on the independent facts of each case. "Each request for an 12           independent medical examination must turn on its own facts, and the number of examinations to 13           which a party may be subjected depends solely upon the circumstances underlying the request."
14           Shirsat v. Mutual Pharmaceutical Co., Inc., 169 F.R.D. 68, 72 (E.D.Pa., 1996) (citing Peter v.
15           Nelson, 153 F.R.D. 635, 637 (N.D. Iowa 1994). Accordingly, "[e]ven when an examination has 16           been previously ordered in the same case, a subsequent examination may be ordered if the court
17           deems it necessary." Id.

18           Moreover, "where alleged injuries fall into entirely separate areas of medical 19           specialization, examinations by practitioners in such fields are held to be authorized under" Rule
20           35. Marshall v. Peters (1962) 31 F.R.D. 238, 239; see also, Peters v. Nelson (1994) 153 F.R.D
21           635, 637; Shapira v. Superior Court (1990) 274 Cal.Rptr. 516. Accordingly, as in this case, 22           when a plaintiff asserts medical conditions encompassing entirely distinct areas of medical 23           specialization, multiple medical exams are properly granted.

24           A party moving for a mental or physical exam must demonstrate that the pertinent medical 25           condition is "in controversy" and show "good cause" for the requested exam. Schlagenhauf v.
26           Holder (1964) 379 U.S. 104, 118-19. Through his allegations and testimony at deposition,
27           Plaintiff has identified psychological damages that he attributes to the incident at the Palms
28           Casino. Further, his treating psychologist, Louis Mortillaro, Ph.D., has similarly opined that

1 plaintiff has suffered emotional damage and mental injuries associated with the event at issue.
2 Accordingly, plaintiff's psychological condition and mental injuries attributed to the incident
3 place his psychological issues "in controversy," and there is the necessary "good cause" for the 4 Court to order this examination.

5 1. PLAINTIFF CLEARLY PLACED HIS PHYSIOLOGICAL AND PSYCHOLOGICAL
6 CONDITION IN CONTROVERSY

7 A plaintiff in a negligence action who asserts a mental or physical injury places that
8 mental or physical injury clearly in controversy. Schlagenhauf, supra, 379 U.S. at 119. Plaintiff
9 claims that the negligence of Palms Casino caused a host of assorted medical conditions
10 associated with the original knee injury, including psychological effects from the pain associated 11 with the injury. Plaintiff contends that because of the left knee injury he is now prevented from 12 physically or emotionally enjoying daily activities such as sleeping, working, and recreation. He 13 also claims he will require future medical care. Plaintiff's claims of physical and mental injury
14 clearly place his medical condition in issue to justify an IME. This claim is substantiated by the 15 opinion testimony of plaintiff's treating psychologist, Louis Mortillaro, Ph.D.

16 2. GOOD CAUSE EXISTS TO JUSTIFY SUBMITTING PLAINTIFF TO A
17 PSYCHOLOGICAL EXAMINATION

18 "The words 'good cause' in rule 35 indicates that there must be a greater showing of need 19 than relevance." O'Sullivan v. Rivera, 229 F.R.D. 184, 186 (D.N.M. 2004) (citing, Schlagenhauf, 20 supra 379 U.S. at 117-18). Good cause exists in this case because of the severity of the injuries
21 claimed by Plaintiff. Further, there is a complicated medical history associated with this
22 seemingly minor incident. To present a thorough defense and refute Plaintiff's claims, Palms
23 Casino must have an opportunity to conduct an orthopedic exam and psychological testing of 24 Plaintiff.

25 From this single incident, Plaintiff has been under the care of the numerous medical 26 facilities and independent medical professionals listed below:

27 ///

- 26          ▪ Jacob E. Tauber M.D.
- 27          ▪ John S. Thalgott, M.D. (Center for Disease)
- 28          ▪ Valley Hospital Medical Center

16           In addition to the medical providers he has seen, Plaintiff's claimed injuries include, but 17 are not limited to, a constant, sharp, tingling, throbbing pain and stiffness in his left knee,
18 generalized weakness, swelling, sleeping difficulties, loss of balance, aching in the back, neck,
19 right hand, feet, and chest, weight gain, low energy level, depression, problems with 20 concentration, sexual difficulties, anger, feeling lonely, problems with attention span, despair,
21 problems with finances, blaming, work fears, impatience, confusion, problems with planning,
22 irritability, anxiety, hostility, problems with relationships, communicating, judgment, guilt,
23 memory, bad attitude, stress, worry, sleep problems, personality change, self-esteem, and the 24 inability to be social.

25           With such a significant history of multi-system disorders related to Plaintiff's right knee
26 injury, it is crucial that plaintiff submit to a psychological examination for a complete evaluation
27 of Plaintiff's claims. Plaintiff has been diagnosed with several disorders during the last five years
28 including, but not limited to, Reflex Sympathetic Dystrophy Syndrome (also known as Complex

1 Regional Pain Syndrome), Axis I mood disorder, and left knee derangement.

2 Based on the foregoing, an additional examination comprising a psychological IME is not
3 only relevant but also necessary for The Palms Casino to evaluate Plaintiff's claims of 4 psychological injury attributed to the incident on November 22, 2004.

5 3. DEFENDANT REQUESTS THAT DR. BECKER AND DR. SMITH BE ALLOWED
6 TO EXAMINE PLAINTIFF AT THE TIME AND PLACE SET FORTH HEREIN.

7 As required by Nevada Rule 35, Defendant seeks an IME of Plaintiff as set forth below:

8 DATE: August 25, 2010

9 TIME: 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., 1:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

10 PLACE: Orthopedic Surgery and Psychiatry
11 1375 Sutter Street, Suite 304
12 San Francisco, CA 94109
13 tel: (415) 563-7383
14 (Or a time and place to be agreed with Plaintiff's counsel)

15 EXAMINER: Dr. Becker, Dr. Smith

16 SPECIALTY: Orthopedics, Psychiatry, Psychology

17 MANNER AND CONDITIONS OF EXAMINATION:

18 Dr. Becker will conduct the examination in his office, or a place to be determined. He 19 may be assisted by nurses, technicians, and other qualified health care professionals. Dr. Smith
20 will conduct the examination in his office, or a place to be determined. He may be assisted by 21 nurses, technicians, and other qualified health care professionals. The reasonable costs for 22 airfare, meals, lodging and transportation for Plaintiff during the tests will be reimbursed by 23 Defendant.

24 NATURE AND SCOPE OF EXAMINATIONS:

25 Plaintiff will be interviewed to obtain a comprehensive history pertinent to the 26 psychological/metal claims at issue. The examiner will also conduct a mental status examination.
27 The examinations will not involve any diagnostic test or procedure that is painful, protracted, or 28 obtrusive. Plaintiff will undergo a series of psychological testing and a neuropsychological examination related to plaintiff's emotional and psychological claims. The examination will not involve any diagnostic test or procedure that is painful, protracted, or obtrusive.

1                   4.       DEFENDANT WILL BE PREJUDICED WITHOUT AN OPPORTUNITY TO
2                                   CONDUCT BOTH AN ORTHOPEDIC EXAM AND PSYCHOLOGICAL TESTING
3                                   OF PLAINTIFF

4                   The need for The Palms Casino to undertake a psychological examination of plaintiff, in 5 addition to the previous physical examination is significant because of the severity and 6 complicated medical history associated with this seemingly minor incident. Without an 7 opportunity to conduct the additional examination of Plaintiff, Palms Casino will be prejudiced in 8 preparing its defense of this action, and at trial, and will be unable to adequately evaluate and
9 address Plaintiff's claimed injuries. Without the requested additional exam, Palms Casino's
10 experts will be unable to adequately comment on Plaintiff's current condition and alleged 11 restrictions, thereby putting it at a significant disadvantage at trial.

12                                   III. CONCLUSION

13                   As developed above, Plaintiff's emotional injury attributed to the incident in November
14 2004, places psychological and mental condition "in controversy." While plaintiff has previously 15 submitted to a physical examination, there is also "good cause" for the requested examination of 16 plaintiff's psychological/mental aspects.

21 STATEMENT OF FACTS

22 Plaintiff hereby adopts the Statement of Facts (with respect to the occurrence of the 23 incident) as set forth in Defendant's Motion at bar.

24 II.
25 POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

26 As an initial matter, Defendant has not addressed the Requests for Production or

Second, Plaintiff already underwent an IME with Dr. Becker on May 21, 2009. No change in Plaintiff's condition has been alleged since that time. Therefore, a second IME is clearly inappropriate.

Third, the expert disclosure deadline ran in this matter on June 15, 2010, Calendar Call is September 24, 2010, trial commences on October 4, 2010.

Fourth, the constellation of complaints set forth in Defendant's Motion all fall within the very general scope of emotional pain and suffering. No organic brain injury has been alleged herein and, therefore, the requested IME is inappropriate.

III.
CONCLUSION

For the reasons above, it is respectfully requested that the Motion to Compel at bar be denied.

Dated this 9th day of August, 2010.

PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO STRIKE

COMES NOW, Plaintiff ENRIQUE RODRIGUEZ, by and through his attorney of record, STEVEN M. BAKER, ESQ., of the law firm of BENSON, BERTOLDO BAKER &
CARTER, CHTD., and hereby files his Motion to Strike.

This Motion is made and based on the pleadings and papers on file herein, the following Points and Authorities and any oral argument that may be presented.

1. Introduction

Defendant presented two (2) experts in this trial<sup>1</sup>, neither of whom opined that their opinions were given to a reasonable degree of professional probability as required under

1 Nevada law.<sup>2</sup>

2 Accordingly, Plaintiff is seeking an Order to Strike Dr. Cargill's testimony in its
3 entirety, as well as an Order to Strike Mr. Franklin's opinions relative to standard of care and
4 dangerous activity.

6 II. Statement of Facts

7 A. Forrest Franklin

8 Forrest Franklin, Defendant's liability expert, was retained to develop, and render an
9 opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to throwing objects, memorabilia,
10 promotional articles into crowds.<sup>3</sup>

11 Mr. Franklin offered the following opinions:

- 12 1. That throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort
13 into crowds is not a substandard protocol;<sup>4</sup>
- 14 2. That it is not unsafe to throw things into 15 crowds;<sup>5</sup> and
- 16 3. That it is not below the standard of care to throw items into a crowd.<sup>6</sup>

17 None of these opinions, however, were given to a reasonable degree of professional
18 probability. Moreover, they are in contradiction to the testimony of Ms. Long and Ms.
19 Kooinga, as well as the legal theory of assumption of duty.

20
21 B. Dr. Thomas Cargill

Neither of these opinions were given to a reasonable degree of economic probability.

III. Legal Argument

The statute governing the admissibility of expert testimony in Nevada district courts is NRS 50.275, which, as construed by the Nevada Supreme Court<sup>9</sup>, tracks Federal Rule of Evidence (FRE) 702.<sup>10</sup>

NRS 50.275 states:

"[i]f scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge will assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue, a witness qualified as an expert by special knowledge, skill, experience, training or education may testify to matters within the scope of such knowledge."

To testify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, the witness must satisfy the following three requirements: (1) he or she must be qualified in an area of "scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge" (the qualification requirement); (2) his or her specialized knowledge must "assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue" (the assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be limited "to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized] knowledge" (the limited scope requirement).

If scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge will assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue, a witness qualified as an expert by knowledge, skill, experience, training, or education, may testify thereto in the form of an opinion or otherwise, if (1) the testimony is based upon sufficient facts or data, (2) the testimony is the product of reliable principles and methods, and (3) the witness has applied the principles and methods reliably to the facts of the case.

1 Plaintiff is not challenging the “qualification requirement” relative to either Dr. Cargill
2 or Mr. Franklin.

3 However, Plaintiff submits that both Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin’s testimony failed to
4 satisfy the “assistance” requirement of NRS 50.275, in that neither expert provided opinions
5 to a reasonable degree of professional, or in the case of Dr. Cargill, economic, probability.

7 Accordingly, their opinions do not rise to the level of “scientific knowledge” within
8 the meaning of Hallmark<sup>11</sup>, Daubert, NRS 50.275 and Federal Rule 702. Daubert, 509 U.S. at
9 589-90, 113 S.Ct. at 2795 (declaring expert scientific testimony grounded only in speculation
10 or conjecture to be inadmissible under Rule 702).

11 Nevada law requires expert opinions to be given to a reasonable degree of medical,
12 professional and/or economic probability.<sup>12</sup> The opinions of Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin
13 offered insufficient foundation for this court to take judicial notice of the scientific basis of 14 those conclusions.<sup>13</sup>

15
16 In United Exposition Service Co. v. SIIS, the Nevada Supreme Court concluded that 17 an “award of compensation cannot be based solely upon possibilities and speculative
18 testimony.”<sup>14</sup> In that case, which involved the payment of workers' compensation benefits
19 after an industrial injury, the Nevada Supreme Court held that “physician[s] must state to a
20 degree of reasonable medical probability that the condition in question was caused by the
21 industrial injury, or sufficient facts must be shown so that the trier of fact can make the
22 reasonable conclusion that the condition was caused by the industrial injury.”<sup>15</sup> The
23 speculative nature of an opinion that an injury possibly could have been a precipitating factor

was insufficient to support a finding of causation; specifically, the court stated, "A possibility is not the same as a probability."<sup>16</sup>

Nevada Federal Courts<sup>17</sup>, interpreting Nevada law, have also held that Daubert's "gatekeeping" obligation, requiring inquiry into both relevance and reliability, applies not only to "scientific" testimony, but to all expert testimony.

While counsel for the Defendant may have properly laid a foundation for their testimony, neither expert established a sufficient foundation in this case, since neither provided opinions to a reasonable degree of probability.

Accordingly, their testimony did not satisfy the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275.

IV. Conclusion

Based on the failure to provide opinions to a reasonable degree of professional and/or economic probability, Plaintiff respectfully requests for an Order to Strike the Opinions of Dr. Cargill and Forrest Franklin.

DEFENDANT THE PALMS' OPPOSITION TO PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO STRIKE

Hearing Date: December 15, 2010
Hearing Time: 10:00 a.m.
Dept: 10

21 I.
22 INTRODUCTION

23 Plaintiff challenges the admissibility of certain expert testimony presented by the Palms at 24 the bench trial of this case. Plaintiff does not challenge the "qualification requirement" relative to 25 either Forrest Franklin, the Palms' security protocols expert, or Thomas Cargill, Ph.D., the Palms'
26 forensic economist. Plaintiff instead argues that both Mr. Franklin and Dr. Cargill's testimony
27 failed to satisfy the liberal "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275, apparently for the sole reason
28 that neither expert used the magic words "to a reasonable degree of professional certainty." Both

ZA126/1050893-2

1 experts, stipulated to have been qualified experts, did in fact offer unequivocal expert testimony
2 that would assist the trier of fact in understanding 1) that throwing promotional items was within
3 the industry standard of care, and 2) that plaintiff's expert Dineen's calculations were flawed.
4 Plaintiff's motion should be denied.

5 II.
6 RELEVANT FACTS, LAW AND ARGUMENT

7 NRS 50.275 governs the admissibility of expert testimony. To testify as an expert witness
8 under NRS 50.275, the witness must satisfy the following three requirements: (1) he or she must 9 be qualified in an area of "scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge" (the qualification 10 requirement); (2) his or her specialized knowledge must "assist the trier of fact to understand the 11 evidence or to determine a fact in issue" (the assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony
12 must be limited "to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized] knowledge" (the limited 13 scope requirement). Hallmark v. Eldridge, 189 P.3d 646, 650 (Nev. 2008).

14 Plaintiff stipulated on the record that Mr. Franklin and Dr. Cargill are both qualified.

15 The point of plaintiff's motion is that the witnesses' testimony was not of assistance to the 16 trier of fact because it was not reliable, and the reason it was not reliable was that it was not based 17 on opinions held "... to a reasonable degree of professional probability as required under Nevada
18 law." Pl. Mot. p. 1, ln. 26. Plaintiff argues that, unless an expert uses these magic words, that 19 expert's testimony is not reliable. The statute and the authorities do not require the use of such 20 "magic words", though, and so plaintiff's motion should be denied.

21 A. Forrest Franklin

22 As the Court will recall, Forrest Franklin is a security/hospitality safety expert. Mr.
23 Franklin testified that: (1) throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort into crowds is not a
24 substandard protocol;<sup>1</sup> (2) it is not unsafe to throw things into crowds;<sup>2</sup> and (3) it is within the 25 standard of care to throw promotional items into crowds.<sup>3</sup>

26 Here, Mr. Franklin addressed whether throwing promotional items into a crowd was

27 <sup>1</sup> Trial Transcript of Forrest P. Franklin, 14: 6-8

1 within the standard of care in the casino/hospitality industry, and indeed opined that the activity
2 was within the standard of care, notwithstanding the fact that the Palms had an internal procedure
3 in place forbidding throwing items. Mr. Franklin's testimony is clearly relevant because his 4 opinions make it more probable that the Palms did not act negligently in allowing items to be
5 thrown. Mr. Franklin's testimony is thus helpful to the trier of fact.

6 Here, Mr. Franklin's testimony was reliable per NRS 50.275, Federal Rules of Evidence,
7 Rule 702 and Daubert v. Merrill Dow Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 509 U.S. 579 (1993). As he
8 testified, Mr. Franklin has had extensive experience as a security officer dealing with persons
9 throwing objects into crowds. Trial Transcript of Forrest P. Franklin, 13: 14-21. Before
10 offering an opinion, he visited the area of the Palms where the accident occurred, reviewed the 11 relevant deposition testimony and the Palms security manual. Id., 13: 22-25; 15: 16-18. These 12 "facts and data" are reliable and are sufficient bases upon which a qualified expert like Mr.
13 Franklin may offer an opinion.

14 B. Dr. Cargill

15 Dr. Cargill, an economist, testified as to plaintiff's wage earning history and damages. He
16 commented on the reports prepared by plaintiff's expert Mr. Dineen, and rebutted Mr. Dineen's
17 opinions. Dr. Cargill specifically testified that: (1) it was inappropriate to use an average of 18 plaintiff's earnings over the period from 1999 to 2004 to predict future earnings;<sup>4</sup> and (2) using 19 current interest rates to calculate future wage loss is improper.<sup>5</sup>

20 Dr. Cargill offered two opinions, both of which survive the Daubert "relevancy and 21 reliability" standard for admissibility of expert testimony. First, Dr. Cargill testified that
22 plaintiff's projected future income was derived through a flawed method of calculation of past
23 income. (Trial Transcript of Dr. Thomas Cargill, 16: 4-8). He testified that averaging just three 24 tax returns over a perhaps 6-year period does not accurately estimate past earnings and thus 25 likewise is unreliable for forecasting future earnings. It was inappropriate to average these three 26 tax returns (1999, 2001, 2004, all of which were prepared several years after the tax liabilities

28 <sup>5</sup> Id. at 55: 15-20

1 were incurred) in the context of an artificially inflated real estate bubble. Id., at 29: 7-12. This
2 testimony makes a fact of consequence—whether Mr. Dineen’s wage loss estimates are reliable—
3 less probable than without the Cargill testimony. Therefore, the testimony is relevant and helpful
4 to the trier of fact.

5 Second, Dr. Cargill offered the opinion that using current interest rates to project future
6 lost income did not make economic sense because it did not take into account rates of inflation in
7 the future. This testimony is relevant because it makes a fact of consequence, whether Mr.
8 Dineen’s computation of damages is accurate, less probable than without it. It is relevant to total 9 damages and does “assist the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in 10 issue.”

11 Dr. Cargill’s technique is also reliable and generally accepted in the field of forensic
12 economics. Under Daubert, the Court must determine whether the reasoning and methodology
13 underlying the proposed expert’s testimony is valid. In making this inquiry, Daubert offers four
14 non-exclusive factors: (1) whether the concept has been tested, (2) whether the concept has been
15 subject to peer review, (3) what the known rate of error is, and (4) whether the concept is
16 generally accepted by the community. Shaffer v. Amada Am., Inc., 335 F. Supp. 2d 992, 995
17 (E.D. Mo. 2003), citing Daubert, 509 U.S. at 593-95.

18 Here, Dr. Cargill offers testimony based on sound, proven economic theory. In fact, Dr.
19 Cargill performed his calculations by using a rate that is used by the U.S. Congressional Budget
20 Office and the trustees of the Social Security Administration<sup>6</sup>. Thus, the technique utilized by Dr.
21 Cargill has attained “widespread acceptance.” The evidence serves an important function in this
22 case because it presents contrary evidence to Mr. Dineen. Accordingly, the Court should deny
23 plaintiff’s motion to strike certain expert testimony because the evidence meets the “assistance”
24 requirement of NRS 50.275, FRE 702, Daubert, and Hallmark<sup>7</sup>.

25 C. United Exposition distinguishable

26 In his moving papers, plaintiff cites United Exposition Serv. Co. v. State Indus. Ins. Sys.,

27 <sup>6</sup> Id., at 48:17-18

28 <sup>7</sup> Hallmark v. Eldridge, 189 P.3d 646, 650 (Nev. 2008)

1 109 Nev. 421 (Nev. 1993), in support of his argument that the Palms' experts are not reliable.
2 However, that case is easily distinguishable on the facts. United Exposition first of all was a
3 workers compensation case involving a medical expert, a physician, opining about causation. In 4 that case, the claimant suffered a chest contusion at work, and two weeks later had emergency
5 bypass surgery. The claimant submitted that the bypass surgery was related to his industrial 6 injury, and submitted a letter from his treating doctor stating that the contusion "possibly could 7 have been" a cause of condition requiring the bypass surgery.

8 Contrary to plaintiff's arguments, the court in United Exposition did not prescribe a 9 requirement that all expert witnesses use magic words to state their opinion. The United
10 Exposition court held that a physician had to express an opinion as to causation to a "degree of 11 reasonable medical probability," or provide facts sufficient to allow the trier of fact to come to 12 that conclusion. The United Exposition court was concerned that the testimony of the treating 13 physician was so equivocal that the trier of fact could not rely on it, and could not draw a
14 reasonable conclusion from it. Accordingly, if opinion testimony is sufficiently unequivocal and 15 categorical, then regardless of the "magic words" used, it is relevant and admissible.

16 The court found that the testimony there in question – the medical opinion of applicant's
17 treating physician that the applicant's industrial injury "possibly could have been"<sup>8</sup> a precipitating
18 cause of the heart condition for which he was claiming—did not support the appeals officer's 19 determination that the applicant's need for heart bypass surgery was definitively caused by or 20 proximately related to the industrial accident. Id., at 424-25.

21 Here, the experts' testimony was far stronger than that in United Exposition. Both
22 Franklin and Cargill clearly and unequivocally stated their opinions and the factual bases
23 therefore. Neither of them used any language equivalent to the phrase used by the doctor in 24 United Exposition: "possibly could have been." Mr. Franklin offered definitive testimony that 25 throwing objects into a crowd does not breach the industry standard of care, and as a matter of 26 policy is not unsafe. He likewise offered the bases for his opinions, his years of experience,
27 knowledge and training regarding crowds and crowd control. His testimony was relevant and

28 <sup>8</sup> United Exposition Serv. Co. v. State Indus. Ins. Sys., 109 Nev. 421, 425 (Nev. 1993)

1 reliable and therefore meets the "assistance" requirement of NRS 50.275.

2 Likewise, Dr. Cargill very clearly inclined that it was his certain opinion, not merely a
3 possibility, that plaintiff's earnings claims were severely inflated, and that plaintiff's expert
4 improperly based his earnings estimates on plaintiff's highest record earning year ever, at or near
5 the height of the real estate housing boom in Nevada. Dr. Cargill's opinion was in essence that a)
6 plaintiff did not provide sufficient past earnings history or information to allow anyone to make
7 calculations as to reliable past or future earnings losses and b) plaintiff's basing projected lost
8 future earnings on a single year's earnings was not reliable and was inconsistent with the 9 methodologies usually employed in the field of forensic economics. The Court should deny
10 plaintiff's motion to strike the experts' testimony.

11 III.
12 CONCLUSION

13 Neither of these experts' testimony was in any way equivocal, or expressed mere 14 possibilities, as opposed to probabilities based on their expert training, education and knowledge.
15 Their testimony is eminently reliable, far more so than the testimony of the treating doctor in 16 United Exposition.

17 For the foregoing reasons, the Palms respectfully requests that the Court deny plaintiff's
18 motion. The Court should consider the experts' testimony in rendering it's verdict in this matter,
19 giving it all due weight according to the evidence.

5 I.
6 BACKGROUND FACTS

7 On November 22, 2004, Defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC's had scheduled a Monday
8 night football game promotion event at its Race and Sports Book.

9 In advance of this event, the Palms' promotional department hired Brandy Beavers (whose 10 default has been entered) to staff this promotional event. Beavers, an independent contractor,
11 brought two other independent contractors with her to the event-- the three of them were dressed
12 as cheerleaders. The Palms paid Beavers for all three women's work, without making any 13 withholdings; presumably Beavers paid the other two workers.

14 Part of their assignment as promotional independent contractors was to interact with the 15 crowd, create a festive atmosphere, and hand out promotional items such as plastic water bottles
16 during commercials and at halftime. The Palms had an oral policy, set more than a year before
17 the date of this incident by promotions director Sherry Long, that promotional items were not to 18 be thrown to patrons/into crowds during promotional events.

19 During half-time, Beavers contrary to the policy threw a Palms-logo plastic water bottle --
20 one of the promotional giveaways that night -- into the crowd in the general direction of plaintiff
21 Enrique Rodriguez. An unidentified woman sitting 10 to 15 feet away from where Rodriguez
22 was standing apparently noticed a bottle being thrown. She jumped up, darted to the area where
23 the bottle had landed on the floor, and according to plaintiff dove for the bottle, hitting Plaintiff's
24 left leg and knee.

25 Plaintiff filed an Amended Complaint against Palms and Beavers and asserted the 26 following causes of action against Palms: (1) general negligence (2) negligent employee hiring,
27 training, retention and supervision; and (3) punitive damages. Plaintiff does not allege that he 28 was actually injured by the bottle thrown into the crowd, or by any direct act of the Palms.

II.
APPLICABLE LAW

A. Tossing promotional items at promotional events is within industry standard of care

The Palms' liability expert's testimony clearly establishes that the Palms' independent contractor's throwing a plastic water bottle during a promotional event does not breach the applicable industry standard of care. The Palms' evidence at trial, presented through its security/hospitality expert Forrest Franklin, established that it is in fact within the industry standard of care to toss promotional items at promotional events:

Moreover, throwing souvenirs into crowds is a standard practice in a host of event types, Cirque de Soleil, Teatro Zinzanni, even Blue Men who addition to solid substance, spew all manner of lubricants and other foreign liquids into their audiences. And who has not been to a baseball game, or seen one on television wherein foul balls, home runs, bats or broken pieces thereof, all manner of food stuffs, and the team mascot's products, often from a moving vehicle, jettisoned into the crowd, causing anticipated jostling and bodily contact, and all this with great fanfare often replayed on the field jumbotron? In my opinion Brandy Beavers' and Palm Girls' actions were not "unreasonably dangerous to the patrons of the Sports Book (or) in particular to Plaintiff...", nor did they fall below any perceived standard of behavior, hire, training or retention.

Franklin August 19, 2010 Expert Report, at 2. Mr. Franklin's expert report has been admitted into evidence as Exhibit 68. In any event, the item was on the ground at the time the unidentified woman dove for it. Franklin's testimony confirms his written opinions:

14 Q Okay. Now the concept of throwing articles,
15 memorabilia, whatever, into crowds, is that something that you
16 were familiar with?

17 A I have been all my security career, yes, sir.

18 Q Okay. And, I mean, you didn't say: Oh, my
19 goodness, I've never heard of anybody doing this?

20 A Let me do it another way. I never -- I've hardly
21 ever heard of anybody not doing it.

Franklin November 3, 2010 Trial Testimony, p. 13, lns. 14-21. And further:

22 Q Okay. And what opinion did you come to?

23 A That throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort
24 into crowds is not a substandard protocol.
25

Franklin November 3, 2010 Trial Testimony, p. 14, lns. 6 - 8.

Opposing counsel was able to cross examine Mr. Franklin, and elicit testimony as quoted

1 in his motion papers. However, Mr. Franklin's ultimate opinion is that throwing memorabilia as
2 promotional efforts into crowds is "not a substandard protocol." The fact that he also opined that 3 the Palms appeared to have breached its own procedure is not conclusive as to liability for 4 breaching the appropriate standard of care:

REDIRECT EXAMINATION

11 BY MR. WARD:

12 Q Mr. Franklin, if all of those things that Mr. Baker

13 just said to you were true, then that suggests that someone

14 violated the rules; is that correct?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. With respect to the safety, is it your

17 opinion as a security expert and a crowd control expert that

18 it is unsafe to throw things into crowds?

19 A It's my opinion it's not unsafe to throw things into

20 crowds.

21 Q So do you see any evidence that anyone

22 conscientiously disregarded the safety of people?

23 A No, I don't.

24 Q And do you agree, you heard the testimony of Ms.

25 Colinga, about the foreseeability of injury; do you agree with 26 that?

27 A No.

28 Q Do you think that it is -- that the tossing of promotional items into crowds presents a foreseeable possibility of injury?

Franklin's answer was "No". Id. at 31:11 – 32:7. Accordingly, Franklin's expert testimony confirms that tossing promotional items into crowds

- is not unsafe;
- does not present a foreseeable risk of injury; and
- is within the industry standard of care.

Commonsense and experiences at events such as baseball and basketball games, parades, etc., confirm Franklin's opinions. The Court should reject plaintiff's arguments to the contrary.

1 B. Defendant's internal policies do not raise the standard of care/legal duty owed to
2 plaintiff

3 As set out immediately above, according to the Palms' expert Forrest Franklin tossing
4 items in a promotional event is not unsafe and is within the standard of care in the 5 casino/hospitality industry. While the industry standard of care according to Mr. Franklin was 6 met, the Defendant's internal policy was breached here by Brandy Beavers, an independent
7 contractor. Plaintiff has attempted to "re-define" the standard of care upwards based on the 8 Defendant's violation of its own internal policies.

9 In essence, plaintiff makes a negligence per se argument, based not on the breach of a
10 statute, but of an internal policy, one that is higher than the standard of care in the industry. This 11 is not the law.

12 While breach of an internal policy that is stricter than the industry standard of care may be 13 considered by the trier of fact as some evidence of negligence, it is not prima facie evidence of 14 negligence.

15 Likewise, a defendant's instituting an internal policy that is stricter than the industry
16 standard does not "heighten" the legal duty owed, and violation of such an internal policy does 17 not establish negligence.

18 The only Nevada case on point is K-Mart v. Washington, 109 Nev. 1180 (1993)
19 (overturned in part for unrelated reasons).<sup>1</sup> In that case, plaintiff sued Kmart for false
20 imprisonment. Plaintiff sought to admit Kmart's loss prevention manual into evidence to show
21 that Kmart did not meet its own standards and thus breached the standard of care in detaining the 22 plaintiff. In opposition, Kmart argued that the manual created a higher standard of care than that
23 imposed by Nevada law, and that it was not legally required to hew to its loss prevention manual 24 in every circumstance, but only to the legal duty of care.

25 <sup>1</sup> The K-mart court cited to a Georgia case, Luckie v. Piggly Wiggly, 173 Ga. App. 177 (1984). In that case, plaintiff
26 sued a grocery store for false imprisonment. A Georgia statute set the standard of care, providing a defense to 27 owners if they acted with "reasonable prudence." At trial, plaintiff sought admission into evidence of store's internal 28 policies regarding dealing with shoplifters. The trial court excluded the evidence. The Georgia Court of Appeals found the store's private guidelines to be "illustrative" of what might constitute reasonable prudence. The court held the evidence is admissible for the limited purpose of illustrating the applicable standard. However, compliance with one's own guidelines would not conclusively establish "reasonableness," nor would failure to comply demonstrate "unreasonableness" per se.

1 On review, the Nevada Supreme Court noted that in negligence cases, self-imposed
 2 guidelines and internal policies are generally admissible as relevant to the issue of failure to
 3 exercise due care. The self-imposed guidelines and internal policies were not conclusive of the 4 legal standard of care. Id. The Court held that the manual was admissible on the issue of the 5 reasonableness of the merchant's behavior, but the jurors were instructed not to hold Kmart to its
 6 own manual standards. They were free to weigh the evidence against Kmart's own evidence that 7 reasonable force was customary in the industry.

8 Similar to the Kmart case, that the tossing of items during promotional events may have 9 occurred does not establish that the Palms breached the applicable standard of care. Plaintiff has 10 offered no evidence of the applicable standard of care. The Palms' expert Mr. Franklin 11 conclusively testified that it was completely appropriate, safe and within the standard of care to 12 throw promotional items at promotional events.

13 C. Treating healthcare providers, who were neither designated per NRCP 16.1 or 26 as 14 non-retained experts, nor provided expert reports, may not offer expert opinions on 15 aspects of plaintiff's condition outside the scope of their treatment of plaintiff

16 As the Court saw throughout the progress of the trial, plaintiff did not have any retained
 17 medical experts. With regard to plaintiff's medical case, his counsel elicited testimony from only 18 four treating healthcare providers, not from all of plaintiff's treaters. Plaintiff attempted to have 19 these four treaters aggregate the opinions and conclusions of the other 25+ treaters. The 20 testimony by witness is represented in this chart:

Those four providers offered their own “expert” opinions as to all of the other nontestifying, treating healthcare providers’ (such as orthopedic surgeons) opinions, conclusions, and courses of treatment, both past and future, as well as testifying that the non-testifying treaters’ bills and expenses were reasonable and necessary, and finally provided cost information for treatments outside the scope of their normal treatment or expertise.

A particularly striking example comes in the testimony of Dr. Schifini, one of plaintiff’s treating anesthesiologist/pain management specialists. Dr. Schifini testified that his first visit with plaintiff was in November 2007. Schifini Trial testimony, 1:39:17. He testified he did not speak with Dr. Ferrante, a pain management specialist at UCLA who saw Rodriguez once in September or October 2006 and performed 1 1/2 hour IME at the specific request of his attorneys. Trial Exh. 25, UCLA 000006. In short, he had no connection whatsoever with Dr. Ferrante or Dr. Ferrante’s treatment of plaintiff. This notwithstanding, on questioning from plaintiff’s counsel,

1 Dr. Schifini testified as to Dr. Ferrante's qualifications and background. Dr. Schifini then
 2 proceeded to discuss in detail the opinions and conclusions that he believed that Dr. Ferrante
 3 would have reached had he followed plaintiff's treatment.

4 Dr. Schifini then began to discuss what he believed was Dr. Larry Miller's treatment of 5 plaintiff as memorialized in his records. Trial Exh. 42. Dr. Miller, an anesthesiologist and pain
 6 management specialist in Los Angeles, last saw plaintiff in May 2007, fully six months before Dr.
 7 Schifini's first consult with plaintiff. Dr. Schifini did not refer plaintiff to Dr. Miller. Dr. Miller
 8 did not refer plaintiff to Dr. Schifini. The two doctors did not consult. Dr. Schifini knew nothing
 9 about Dr. Miller's treatment except what was reflected in his records. Yet, Dr. Schifini testified
 10 that he agreed with Dr. Miller's diagnosis, and that Dr. Miller's treatments were medically
 11 necessary and related to the Palms injury, and the charges were reasonable.

12 Dr. Schifini next proceeded to give the same sort of expert testimony with regard to the 13 treatment of plaintiff by Drs. Crovetti, Koka, Stacey, Vater, and Thalgott, all as memorialized in 14 their records.

15 Finally, and most significantly, Dr. Schifini proceeded to testify as to the specific costs of 16 the proposed spinal cord stimulator that he opined to Dr. Ferrante would believe was necessary,
 17 had Dr. Ferrante actually treated plaintiff within the past several years. He specifically stated that
 18 the costs of lifetime surgeries, surgeons, replacement batteries, replacement electrodes, and office
 19 visits would total $721,000. Schifini Trial testimony 3:20:50. This was an improper expert
 20 opinion, as no foundation was laid for it, nor was it disclosed previously, nor was Dr. Schifini
 21 disclosed as an expert. Moreover, Dr. Schifini's costings are some three times greater than 22 plaintiff's own expert lifecare planner Kathleen Hartman, R. N.'s estimates:

32.77 yrs*	2008	2009	Permanent to be placed by Dr. Vader	Pain control and control of symptoms of chronic pain disorder Trial completed	Perm - $96,145(2) Elec - $10,310 (5) Battery$4,000 (8) Remove - $9,320(2)	192,290 51,550 32,000 18,640	192,290 51,550 32,000 18,640
------------	------	------	---	--	--	---------------------------------------	---------------------------------------

26 Dineen & Hartman initial expert report, p. 17.

27 By way of further example, Dr. Kidwell, one of plaintiff's treating anesthesiologists/pain
 28 specialists, testified that although he had never spoken with Dr. Thalgott (an orthopedic surgeon

1 in Los Angeles who had not seen plaintiff for at least three years before the date of trial), and
2 although Dr. Thalgott had written that plaintiff was not a surgical candidate, it was Dr. Kidwell's
3 opinion that if Dr. Thalgott knew what had transpired between then and now, he would change
4 his opinion. Dr. Kidwell testified not as to what he thought would be the course, but what he
5 thought Dr. Thalgott, a nontestifying treating doctor, would prescribe. This is pure speculation.

6 Plaintiff via this tactic was able to offer into evidence the "expert opinions" of 28 different
7 healthcare providers through only four witnesses, subjecting only four witnesses to cross-
8 examination on the "opinions" of 28 different providers as understood by the four testifying
9 treaters. However, the law does not allow a treating provider, otherwise not disclosed as an
10 expert, to offer expert opinions as to the treatment that would be prescribed or recommended by 11 another, nontestifying treater. The Court's considering this testimony in its verdict would be 12 error.

13 Plaintiff's entire medical case, a series of opinions of "experts by proxy" is improper under 14 NRC 16 and 26, is inadmissible hearsay, and is completely without foundation. Plaintiff did not 15 demonstrate any foundation for any of the testifying treaters to offer the opinions they offered
16 with regard to plaintiff's back surgery needs, what plaintiff's MRIs showed, whether his knee
17 surgeries were necessary, whether the nontestifying treaters' bills were reasonable, or the lifetime
18 costs for plaintiff's proposed spinal cord stimulator, some $723,000 as testified by Dr. Schifini at 19 3:20:50 of his trial testimony. These opinions and the other opinions like them should not be 20 considered by this Court in rendering its verdict here.

21 Prabhu v. Levine (a.k.a. Franco) inapposite

22 At a pretrial hearing on this issue, plaintiff relied on Prabhu v. Levine (a.k.a. Franco), 112
23 Nev. 1538 (1996) in support of his argument that treating doctors can provide expert testimony
24 regardless of whether they have been disclosed as expert witnesses or issued NRC 26 reports.
25 The Court allowed this testimony, over defendant's objection. The Court did, though, note the
26 Palms' continuing hearsay and relevance objections regarding the use of testifying treaters to get
27 into evidence the opinions of nontestifying treaters, as well as foundationless opinions on costs,
28 future treatment and other relevant issues, as well as the Palms' objections on the basis that the

1 experts were not disclosed as experts and did not issue reports per NRCP 16 and 26.

2 Prabhu as the Court is aware was a medical malpractice lawsuit. The manner in which
3 the trial court allowed the treating doctor to provide expert testimony in that case is substantially
4 different from the manner in which plaintiff was allowed to present "expert" testimony via
5 treating physicians in this case. The Palms respectfully submits that this Court will commit error
6 if it considers the nondisclosed "expert" testimony of plaintiff's treating physicians.

7 In Prabhu, the plaintiff Ms. Franco sued her doctor for medical malpractice. Ms. Franco's
8 treating ophthalmologic surgeon Dr. Levine performed five surgeries on her to correct maladies
9 caused by Dr. Prabhu's misdiagnoses. Dr. Levine did not testify at trial, but his deposition was
10 read into the record, providing his opinions as to causation and standard of care, as well as Ms.
11 Franco's prognosis. Dr. Levine offered the following testimony, as summarized by the Supreme
12 Court:

13 Dr. Levine testified that the growth of acoustic neuroma tumors
14 over time results in blurred vision and that significant interference 15 with vision does not occur until the tumors are medium sized or 16 larger. Dr. Prabhu testified that Ms. Franco did not complain of 17 vision problems in February 1982, and both Ms. Franco and Dr.
18 Freeman testified that in December 1982 or January 1983, Ms.
19 Franco began developing severe vision problems at close distances.
20 Additionally, Ms. Franco testified that her symptoms grew
21 dramatically worse between February 1982 and July 1983.

22 Dr. Levine also explained that acoustic neuroma patients with 23 tumors of two centimeters or less rarely suffer post-operative
24 paralysis and seldom need additional surgery after the tumor is 25 removed. Additionally, he stated that those patients with small 26 tumors who do suffer post-operative facial paralysis have a better
27 prognosis for recovery than patients with medium or large tumors.
28 During Dr. Levine's testimony, a chapter that he wrote regarding eye care after acoustic neuroma surgery was admitted into evidence. A portion of this chapter mirrored Dr. Levine's testimony about vision problems and tumor size, as well as the prognosis for patients with small tumors and larger tumors. Specifically, the chapter included a summary of statistics regarding acoustic neuroma patients, their preoperative and postoperative symptoms, and correlating tumor sizes (small, medium or large). Dr. Freeman also testified that if a tumor is caught very early, facial nerve paralysis might be avoided.

Prabhu v. Levine, 112 Nev. 1538, 1544-1545 (Nev. 1996). All of these facts were either within his personal knowledge as her treating ophthalmologic surgeon, or within his personal knowledge

1 as the author of the referenced treatise. Counsel for Dr. Prabhu took Dr. Levine's deposition and 2 questioned Dr. Levine on all of these issues. Dr. Levine's opinions were of record at the time of
3 trial.

4 Prabhu's counsel made objection to Dr. Levine's testimony because he was not disclosed
5 as an expert under NRCP 26 (no mention was made of expert reports), but was only identified as
6 a treating physician. However, the decision reflects that Prabhu's counsel was unable to show
7 prejudice at this technical failure: Prabhu's counsel deposed Dr. Levine and learned all of his
8 opinions at deposition. Prabhu's counsel, then, had the opportunity to secure his own experts'
9 opinions to counter Dr. Levine's. Accordingly, Prabhu's counsel could not show any surprise or
10 prejudice at Levine's testimony at trial, especially considering that testimony was simply Levine's
11 own deposition taken by Prabhu's own counsel. Under those circumstances, the Court found no
12 abuse of discretion in allowing the testimony of the treating doctor on ultimate issues in the case.

13 The nature of Dr. Levine's testimony and treatment of plaintiff is different from the 14 testimony—to which the Palms objected—that was offered by Drs. Shannon, Schifini, Shah and
15 Kidwell. Unfortunately, defendants have been unable to locate any other Nevada decision
16 discussing the exact issue confronting this Court on this point. Unlike Dr. Levine's testimony,
17 though, where he offered expert opinions on issues learned within the scope of his own specific
18 and detailed treatment of Ms. Franco, Mr. Rodriguez's testifying treating doctors as described
19 above have offered opinions on ultimate issues such as causation based not on their own treating
20 opinions, but on the opinions and records of other doctors, unrelated to their treatment of plaintiff.

21 This testimony is far broader than—and radically different from—the testimony offered
22 by Dr. Levine in the Prabhu case, and should not be allowed.

23 1. Two parts to valid expert disclosure

24 Indeed, under the prevailing authorities, these providers cannot offer testimony at all other
25 than as percipient witnesses (i.e., testimony outside the scope of their specific treatment of 26 plaintiff) without having been disclosed as experts pursuant to NRCP 16(a)(2)(A) and NRCP 26.
27 While the Supreme Court in Prabhu seemed to minimize plaintiff's failure to designate Levine as
28 an expert, the fact is that defendant in that case was not prejudiced and so the trial court had not

1 abused its discretion. In the case where prejudice is patent—as here—expert disclosures are
2 crucially important in allowing a defendant to prepare its case.

3 Under Nevada law, there is a two-part disclosure requirement for expert witnesses.
4 Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 16.1(a) provides:

5 (2) Disclosure of Expert Testimony.

6 (A) In addition to the disclosures required by paragraph (1), a party
7 shall disclose to other parties the identity of any person who may be 8 used at trial to present evidence under NRS 50.275, 50.285 and 9 50.305 [the evidentiary statutes governing expert testimony].

10 (B) Except as otherwise stipulated or directed by the court, this 11 disclosure shall, with respect to a witness who is retained or 12 specialized employed to provide expert testimony in the case or 13 whose duties as an employee of the party regularly involve giving 14 expert testimony, be accompanied by a written report prepared and 15 signed by the witness. Or the court, upon good cause shown or by 16 stipulation of the parties, may relieve a party of the duty to prepare
17 a written report in an appropriate case. The report shall contain a 18 complete statement of all opinions to be expressed and the basis and 19 reasons therefor; the data or other information considered by the 20 witness in forming the opinions; any exhibits to be used as a
21 summary of or support for the opinions; the qualifications of the 22 witness, including a list of all publications authored by the witness 23 within the preceding 10 years; the compensation to be paid for the 24 study and testimony; and a listing of any other cases in which the 25 witness has testified as an expert at trial or by deposition within the 26 preceding four years.

17 NRCP 16.1(a)(2)(A) and (B). Accordingly, for a witness to be allowed to offer expert testimony
18 at trial, he must first be formally disclosed as such and, if specifically retained to provide expert
19 testimony, he must generate a formal written report.

20 None of Mr. Rodriguez's testifying treating doctors were designated as experts. They
21 were all identified in 16.1 disclosures as treating physicians and percipient witnesses, but none
22 were disclosed in plaintiff's expert disclosures as "non-retained" experts.

23 This may seem like a technical distinction. After all, all of them were available for 24 deposition, and, like in the Levine case, the Palms could have deposed all of them and learned
25 their opinions. However, plaintiff had 30+ treating healthcare providers in this case. It is 26 patently unfair and prejudicial to either require the Palms to have deposed every single one of 27 them on the off chance that one might offer expert testimony, or for defendant to have to wait
28

1 until trial to find out which providers are going to offer expert testimony. Here, plaintiff was
2 required by NRCP 16.1 and 26 to have timely designated as experts the four treaters who testified
3 at trial. Because he did not, the Palms was severely prejudiced in preparing its defense.

4 2. NRCP 16 disclosure of treating healthcare provider as expert mandatory

5 While so-called "non-retained experts" like treating healthcare providers may not
6 necessarily be required to provide written reports under 16.1(a)(2)(B), they still must be timely
7 and formally disclosed as experts under 16.1(a)(2)(A).

8 The reason is the nature of their opinion testimony: Lay witnesses, those "not testifying 9 as an expert," NRS 50.265, may provide opinions rationally based on the perception of the 10 witness (e.g., speed or height), only experts can provide opinions "based on scientific, technical,
11 or other specialized knowledge," NRS 50.275, which are by definition expert opinions.

12 The authorities are clear that a treating doctor, otherwise not retained for purposes of
13 litigation, is nonetheless still providing expert testimony if the testimony consists of opinions
14 based on "scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge," regardless of whether those
15 opinions were formed during the scope of interaction with a party prior to litigation. Musser v.
16 Gentiva Health Servs., 356 F.3d 751, 757, fn. 2 (7th Cir. 2004); Cf. O'Conner v. Commonwealth
17 Edison Co., 13 F.3d 1090, 1105 n.14 (7th Cir. 1994).<sup>2</sup> Accordingly, it is clear that while a
18 treating physician may not necessarily be required to offer a written expert report, the treating
19 physician/healthcare provider must always be disclosed as an expert if he/she is going to be 20 called at trial to offer any testimony outside the bare facts of his/her treatment.

21 Plaintiff has argued that he did comply with all of the court's disclosure rules with regard
22 to percipient witnesses and accordingly the Palms has for years known the identities of all of
23 plaintiff's treating healthcare providers. He has argued that no prejudice will result from
24 plaintiff's "form over substance" failure to formally disclose the treating healthcare providers,
25 previously disclosed as percipient witnesses, as experts under NRCP 16.1(a)(2)(A). This was,
26 after all, essentially the ruling in Prabhu. However, and in addition to the specific prejudice to

27 _____
28 <sup>2</sup> Treating physicians are not exempt from the disclosure and report requirements because "we do not distinguish the treating physician from other experts when the treating physician is offering expert testimony...."

1 defendants here discussed above, the authorities are clear that the federal rules and their NRCPC
2 counterpart demand this formal disclosure:

3 Formal disclosure of experts is not pointless. Knowing the identity
4 of the opponent's expert witnesses allows a party to properly
5 prepare for trial. Gentiva should not be made to assume that each
6 witness disclosed by the Mussers could be an expert witness at trial.
7 Cf. Patel v. Gayes, 984 F.2d 214, 217-18 (7th Cir. 1993) (affirming,
8 under the pre-1993 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the exclusion
9 of expert testimony as to duty of care from treating physicians when
10 they were not disclosed as experts). The failure to disclose experts
11 prejudiced Gentiva because there are countermeasures that could 12 have been taken that are not applicable to fact witnesses, such as 13 attempting to disqualify the expert testimony on grounds set forth in
14 Daubert v. Merrell Dow Pharmaceuticals, Inc., 509 U.S. 579, 125
15 L. Ed. 2d 469, 113 S. Ct. 2786 (1993), retaining rebuttal experts,
16 and holding additional depositions to retrieve the information not
17 available because of the absence of a report. In sum, we agree with 18 the district court that even treating physicians and treating nurses
19 must be designated as experts if they are to provide expert
20 testimony.

21 Musser, supra, at 757 – 758 (emphasis added).

22 In this case, just as in Musser, plaintiff sought to elicit expert opinion testimony from
23 treating healthcare providers including physicians, none of whom were formally designated as
24 experts under the civil rules. The Palms never had the opportunity to depose any of plaintiff's
25 treating providers as experts, as they were never designated as such.

26 This is an important distinction, as the court in Musser recognized: There are
27 "countermeasures" that the Palms could have taken to address the treating providers' "expert"
28 testimony, most significantly developing rebuttal expert testimony on the various providers'
opinions as elicited in their depositions. The Palms could not do this here, as plaintiff never designated which providers it would seek to elicit expert testimony from at trial.

There is no Nevada authority on point unfortunately, but the federal authorities, including
Musser, affirm that treating physicians must be disclosed as experts if they are to provide expert testimony. Defendant has been sorely prejudiced by plaintiff's having elicited expert testimony from nondisclosed, non-retained experts at trial.

3. Written report required where bases for opinions stray from the core of treatment

The second part of the expert disclosure under Nevada law is the written report

1 requirement. Of course, an expert witness specifically hired by counsel to provide testimony in
2 litigation must also prepare a written report containing all of his opinions and conclusions as well
3 as the factual bases therefor. NRCP 16.1(a)(2)(B). A properly disclosed treating physician or
4 healthcare provider may provide expert testimony without issuing an expert report, but only so
5 long as the bases for her opinions are limited to her personal observations, diagnosis, and
6 treatment of plaintiff. Roberson v. Bair, 242 F.R.D. 130, 134 (D.D.C. 2007).

7 However, and significantly for this case, an expert report is required when that treatment
8 provider's testimony strays from the core of the physician's treatment. Fielden v. CSX Transp.
9 Inc., 482 F.3d 866, 870 (6th Cir. 2007). See Kirkham v. Societe Air Fr., 236 F.R.D. 9, 12 (D.D.C.
10 2006) (written report requirement applies to opinions on causation, prognosis, and permanency.)
11 By way of example, any opinion offered by a treating physician or healthcare provider (who has 12 been otherwise properly disclosed) that is based on information contained in a report of a defense
13 medical examination, an agreed medical examination for purposes of workers compensation, or 14 any other information outside of the scope of a treating physician's examination and treatment of
15 plaintiff, is of a consulting nature, and the witness purporting to offer that opinion will be
16 considered a consulting expert who is subject to the report requirement. Shapardon v. West
17 Beach Estates, 172 F.R.D. 415, 417 (D. Haw. 1997).

18 Here, this is exactly the sort of opinion that plaintiff's for testifying treaters offered. Their
19 opinions were of a consulting nature, and were not formed solely within the scope of their
20 treatment of plaintiff. Many of the facts and opinions testified to by Drs. Shannon, Schifini,
21 Kidwell and Shah were outside the scope of their treatment of plaintiff, and were based on 22 reviews of the other nontestifying treaters' records as well as defendants' own experts' reports—
23 they criticized the Palms' own expert Dr. Becker, something a treating doctor would never 24 normally do, and something that is the exclusive provenance of retained expert witnesses. Those 25 select few treating healthcare providers aggregated the hearsay testimony of these nontestifying
26 providers and offered previously non-disclosed expert opinions based thereon at trial. Such 27 testimony is inadmissible.

1 4. Plaintiff's testifying treaters not qualified under Daubert to offer opinions on
2 treatment/conclusions/opinions of nontestifying treaters

3 Assuming arguendo that plaintiff's treating providers were properly disclosed, they still
4 must be qualified to offer the opinions they seek to offer. The statute governing the admissibility
5 of expert testimony in Nevada courts is NRS 50.275, which has been construed to track with
6 Federal Rule of Evidence 702. Hallmark v. Eldridge, 189 P.3d 646, 650 (Nev. 2008). NRS
7 50.275 states that

8 [i]f scientific, technical or other specialized knowledge will assist
9 the trier of fact to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in
10 issue, a witness qualified as an expert by special knowledge, skill,
11 experience, training or education may testify to matters within the 12 scope of such knowledge.

13 Id.

14 Therefore, to qualify as an expert witness under NRS 50.275, the witness must satisfy
15 three requirements:

16 (1) he or she must be qualified in an area of 'scientific, technical or
17 other specialized knowledge' (the qualification requirement); (2)
18 his or her specialized knowledge must 'assist the trier of fact to 19 understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue' (the 20 assistance requirement); and (3) his or her testimony must be
21 limited 'to matters within the scope of [his or her specialized]
22 knowledge' (the limited scope requirement).

23 Hallmark, supra, 189 P.3d at 650. The determination of competency of an expert witness is 24 largely within the discretion of the trial judge. Walton v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court ex rel.
25 County of Clark, 94 Nev. 690, 693 (1978).

26 Before a person can testify as an expert witness, the court must first determine whether
27 that person is qualified in an area of scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge. The 28 court should consider the following non-exhaustive factors: (1) formal schooling and academic degrees, (2) licensure, (3) work/employment experience, and (4) practical experience and specialized training. Hallmark, supra, 189 P.3d at 650-51.

Second, once a witness is found to be qualified, the anticipated testimony must assist the trier of fact in understanding the evidence or determining a fact in issue. NRS 50.275.
Testimony will only assist the trier of fact if it is both relevant and the product of reliable

1 methodology. Hallmark, supra, 189 P.3d at 651. Nevada does not blindly follow Daubert, but
2 does use the factors outlined in Daubert v. Merrell Dow Pharm., Inc., 509 U.S. 579 (1993), for
3 guidance in determining whether an expert's testimony is based on reliable methodology. Higgs
4 v. State, 222 P.3d 648, 657-58 (2010). Under Daubert, a judge may wish to consider whether the
5 evidence at issue (1) has been tested, (2) has been subjected to peer review and publication, (3)
6 has a known or potential error rate, and (4) has general or widespread acceptance. Daubert,
7 supra, 509 U.S. at 593-94. However, application of the Daubert factors is not mechanical;
8 Nevada judges are allowed to consider any other relevant factors. Higgs, supra, 222 P.3d at 657-
9 58.

10 Finally, once a physician is qualified as an expert, he or she may testify to all matters
11 within the scope of his or her knowledge, experience or training, subject to the court's discretion
12 concerning whether the expert is truly qualified to render such testimony. Fernandez v.
13 Admirand, 108 Nev. 963, 969 (1992). Mere designation as an expert in one area, though, does
14 not give the witness a license to unconstrained testimony on all scientific, technical, or other
15 specialized matters. Eagleston v. Guido, 41 F.3d 865 (2d Cir. 1994) (holding that an expert
16 sociologist could not testify as to criminology or domestic violence); see also Lord v. State, 107
17 Nev. 28, 33 (a detective witness was not qualified to testify that a person's injuries were caused 18 by a fight despite the witness' extensive law enforcement experience).

19 Notwithstanding that none of the testifying treaters were disclosed as experts, the 20 testifying treaters themselves did not have the qualifications to opine on any and every medical
21 issue in this case. For example, Dr. Kidwell, an anesthesiologist, is not qualified to offer credible
22 expert testimony as to what treatment Dr. Thalgott, an orthopedic spine surgeon who had not seen
23 plaintiff since 2008, would currently prescribe if he were to examine plaintiff. In 2007 Dr.
24 Thalgott wrote in his treatment record that plaintiff was not a candidate for back surgery.
25 However, at trial, Dr. Kidwell testified that, had Dr. Thalgott followed plaintiff's treatment since
26 2007, he would now recommend back surgery. There is simply no foundation for this "opinion"
27 from Dr. Thalgott via Dr. Kidwell. Likewise, Dr. Schifini simply is not qualified to testify as to
28 what Dr. Ferrante, a pain management specialist at UCLA who saw plaintiff several years before,

1 and with whom Dr. Schifini never consulted, would currently recommend for plaintiff. These and
2 the other "opinions" elicited by plaintiff's counsel are improper and should be excluded.

3 5. Plaintiff's selected few treaters' aggregation of nontestifying providers' opinions
4 and records inadmissible hearsay

5 NRS 51.035 defines hearsay generally as a statement offered into evidence to prove the
6 truth of the matter asserted. Hearsay is inadmissible except as otherwise provided by law. NRS
7 51.065.

8 Testimony of one treating physician as to the collective opinion of a group of other
9 physicians of different opinions and specialties who do not testify is inadmissible hearsay under
10 NRS 50.285. Estes v. State, 122 Nev. 1123, 1140-41 (2006). In Estes v. State, in a proceeding to
11 determine the defendant's competency to stand trial, one of the defendant's physicians—who had
12 been properly disclosed as an expert—testified as to his mental illness. Id. at 1141. During this
13 testimony, the physician voiced a "collective opinion" of the defendant's competency on behalf
14 of herself and other mental health professionals who were currently treating plaintiff but who were
15 not called to testify at the proceedings. Id. On review, the Supreme Court of Nevada held that
16 such testimony constituted inadmissible hearsay. Id.

17 However, the Court noted that NRS 50.285 allows otherwise properly disclosed and
18 qualified experts to base their opinions on facts or data not otherwise admissible, if that
19 information is of a type reasonably relied on by experts in the field. Id. Therefore, the 20 physician's reasonable reliance on the opinions of her colleagues in forming her own diagnosis
21 was "marginally appropriate." Id.

22 Applying the rule in Estes to this case, since plaintiff's treating healthcare providers were
23 never disclosed as experts (supra, at pp. 1-5), they cannot be otherwise accepted as experts,
24 regardless of their qualifications. Accordingly, such nondisclosed treating healthcare providers
25 may not offer testimony based on hearsay, which they might otherwise do had they been properly
26 qualified.

27 As set out above, treating healthcare providers who have been disclosed as non-retained
28 experts may testify only as to what is encompassed within their personal observations and

1 treatment of the Plaintiff. Treating healthcare providers who have not been disclosed as non-
2 retained experts may not testify as to any matters "based on scientific, technical or other
3 specialized knowledge."

4 Here, plaintiff did not disclose any treating physicians as experts, and so they must be
5 precluded from offering any expert testimony on any matters "based on scientific, technical or
6 other specialized knowledge." Regardless of disclosure, plaintiff's selected few experts were
7 never qualified to aggregate the records, observations and opinions of the nontestifying treaters.
8 Finally, because plaintiff's treating healthcare providers were never disclosed, they may not rely
9 on hearsay, which they otherwise might be allowed to do.

10 "The exclusion of non-disclosed evidence is automatic and mandatory under Rule 37(c)(1)
11 unless non-disclosure was justified or harmless." Musser at 758, citing Finley v. Marathon Oil
12 Co., 75 F.3d 1225, 1230 (7th Cir. 1996). While defendant had the opportunity to depose the
13 treaters during discovery, it never had the opportunity to depose them as experts because they
14 were never disclosed as such. As discussed in Musser, this is a very important distinction, and
15 plaintiff's failure to disclose prevented defendant from being able to prepare for trial, which has 16 severely prejudiced defendant.

17 D. Plaintiff cannot satisfy his burden of proof in establishing his alleged damages/lost
18 earnings—he needs more than speculation to prove lost earnings

19 Plaintiff has the burden of proving the fact of damage and the amount of damages. Mort
20 Wallin v. Commercial Cabinet Co., 105 Nev. 855, 857 (Nev. 1989). Each item of damages must
21 be "proven by a preponderance of the evidence." Las Vegas-Tonopah-Reno Stage Lines v. Gray
22 Line Tours, 106 Nev. 283, 290 (Nev. 1990).

23 1. Plaintiff Must Established the Amount of Damages by Substantial Evidence.

24 "[T]o justify a money judgment the amount ... must be proved," and "there must be
25 substantial evidence as to the amount of damage, as the law does not permit arriving at such
26 amount by conjecture[.]" Cathcart v. Robison, Lyle, Belaustegui & Robb, 106 Nev. 477, 480
27 (Nev. 1990). "[T]o prove the right to damages without proving the amount, entitles a plaintiff to
28 nominal damages only." Id. Thus, Plaintiff must prove the amount of damages to be awarded by

1 substantial evidence. Any lesser standard opens the door to conjecture and unjust awards.
2 Failure of the Plaintiff to present substantial evidence of the amount of damages entitles him only 3 to nominal damages.

4 2. Plaintiff Must Prove the Amount of Damages With Reasonable Certainty.

5 Plaintiff must prove the “amount” of damages “to a reasonable certainty” that is “not
6 arrived at by mere conjecture but through substantial evidence.” All Nite Garage v. A. A. A.
7 Towing, 85 Nev. 193, 199 (Nev. 1969). While the amount “need not be met with mathematical
8 exactitude,” and “some uncertainty in the amount is allowed,” there “must be an evidentiary basis
9 for determining a reasonably accurate amount of damages.” Mort Wallin, 105 Nev. at 857. The
10 Restatement (Second) of Torts permits the plaintiff to recover damages “if, and only if, he
11 establishes by proof the extent of the harm and the amount of money representing adequate
12 compensation with as much certainty as the nature of the tort and the circumstances permit.”
13 Rest. (2d) Torts § 912.

14 Plaintiff must provide a reasonable method for determining the amount of damages.
15 “[I]f ... a reasonable method for ascertaining the extent of damage is offered through testimony,”
16 it will be “sufficient if the evidence adduced will permit the jury to make a fair and reasonable
17 approximation.” Bader v. Cerri, 96 Nev. 352, 358 (Nev. 1980) (citation omitted), overruled on
18 other grounds, Evans v. Dean Witter Reynolds, Inc., 116 Nev. 598, 608 (2000).

19 In Mort Wallin, plaintiff sought damages for diminution in the value of a store caused by
20 defendant’s breach of contract, put on evidence of the fact of diminution, but did not provide
21 evidence of the value of the store had defendant performed as promised and its value as a result of
22 its actual performance. 105 Nev. at 857. The Supreme Court held plaintiff “failed to carry its 23 burden to reasonably establish the amount of the diminution in property value” and vacated the 24 diminution-in-value damages award.

25 Under Nevada case law, if the evidence Plaintiff provides is not substantial and does not
26 permit the fact-finder to determine the amount of damages with reasonable accuracy, he has not
27 carried his burden. Rather, Plaintiff must put on evidence of the amount of damages that permits
28 the fact finder to make a reasonably accurate award of damages based on a reasonable method.

1 Plaintiff claims that he is a real estate investor/developer and has had his own real estate
2 business for over fifteen years. Plaintiff claims lost earnings resulting from injuries he attributes
3 to the subject accident. Because Plaintiff is in business for himself through his professional
4 corporation, his lost earnings may be measured by the lost profits of his business. Strauss v.
5 Continental Airlines, 67 S.W.3d 428, 437-438 (Tex. App. 2002).

6 3. Plaintiff Cannot Prove that the Accident Caused Specified Losses.

7 Proof that the accident caused Plaintiff specified losses is essential:

8 There is no automatic award for loss of income due to partial
9 disability. The disability must result in a loss of income for it to be
10 compensable. In this case, the plaintiff is a professional, whose 11 earnings depend upon his training and professional skills, which are more mental than physical. Therefore, a curtailment of his physical activities does not necessarily translate into a diminution in his earning capacity.

12 Nobile v. New Orleans Public Service, Inc., 419 So.2d 35, 39 (La. App. 1982) (emphasis added).
13 In Nobile, the plaintiff, an architect, made the simplistic argument that “the disability caused a 14 diminution in his activities and hence produced an actual loss of earnings.” Id. at 39. The court
15 made short shrift of it: “The record does not support the plaintiff’s position.” Id. The evidence
16 supported the conclusion that “the plaintiff voluntarily regulated his income by his own actions.”
17 Id.

18 The evidence here has shown that, similar to Nobile, Plaintiff’s earnings from his real
19 estate endeavors are the result more of his mental abilities and professional skills than physical
20 capacities. Therefore, loss of earnings is not an inevitable result of physical injury. Plaintiff
21 contends that, as a result of his injuries, he lost the ability to purchase and “flip” residential real
22 estate, and thus lost profits. He must provide evidence that he lost business as a result of the
23 injury, and not from other causes such as bad investments on his part or indeed the recent crash in
24 the real estate market. For example, Plaintiff must provide evidence that he was unable to buy
25 and sell real estate because of his injuries. He did not do so. Without such evidence, an award
26 would be based on conjecture.

27 The Strauss case involved similarly insufficient evidence. There, an attorney sued the 28 airline for lost profits caused by personal injuries suffered while boarding a flight. 67 S.W.3d at

1 432, 433. After trial, the court granted defendant's motion for judgment notwithstanding the
2 verdict on the jury's $1 million award of lost past profits. Id. at 434. The attorney argued that he
3 lost profits as a result of his injuries because he could no longer travel to a particular small town
4 in Mississippi and thus solicit personal injury cases from that town's sympathetic population,
5 made up of persons working in and related to the maritime offshore oil industry. 67 S.W.3d at 6 439.

7 The Strauss plaintiff, however, did not provide what the court called the "presumptively
8 available evidence" of "the numbers of cases he had represented [in that town] or the net
9 earnings he made on each case prior to the injury." Id. (emphasis added). The court held, "in
10 the absence of additional available evidence, and the absence of any explanation as to why it
11 was not provided," the evidence that was provided "is not sufficient." Id. (emphasis added). In 12 addition, the attorney did not attempt to "segregate the fees earned from similar cases [to those 13 from that town] from fees earned from other cases," with the result, "there is nothing from which 14 a jury could determine the number of maritime cases from Kosciusko that Strauss might have 15 obtained[.]" Id. The court held that the attorney did not demonstrate his damages "to the degree
16 of proof to which they were susceptible." Id.

17 Mr. Rodriguez's proof of damages here was like the attorney in the Strauss case. The only
18 evidence plaintiff has produced to support his lost earnings claims are his individual tax returns
19 from 1999, 2001 and 2004, none of which were completed in any of those years, e.g., the 2004
20 tax return was signed in 2009. These three tax returns, none of which were completed
21 contemporaneously, by themselves are wholly insufficient to support Plaintiff's $400,000 per
22 year lost earnings claim. Plaintiff failed to produce any other evidence in support of his lost
23 earnings claim during discovery.

24 4. Plaintiff Has Failed to Provide Substantial Evidence of Revenues and Expenses to
25 Prove Lost Profits.

26 To determine his lost earnings, Plaintiff may not rely on his business' gross revenues.
27 "Gross fees," the Strauss court held, "are not an appropriate basis" for determining lost earnings.
28 Id. at 440. He must provide evidence of "expenses." Id. "Net earnings ... must include a

1 deduction for expenses incurred[.]” such as “office expenses, court fees, copy costs and the
2 myriad other expenses associated with a case[.]” Id. In Strauss, the attorney failed to provide
3 such evidence, and the court held the evidence insufficient to support an award of lost profits. Id.
4 at 442.

5 To prove lost profits, Plaintiff must have, in addition to proving that the accident caused
6 him to lose opportunities and sales, provided evidence of the gross revenues the sales reasonably
7 would have generated, his expenses for the sales and the expenses of his professional corporation
8 allocable to those sales, and ultimately estimated net revenues. Plaintiff failed to produce any
9 such evidence during discovery or at trial.

10 5. Plaintiff Has Failed to Provide Evidence of Lost Earnings to Support an Award of 11 Damages for Lost Earning Capacity.

12 Nevada has not expressly recognized loss of earning capacity as a recoverable loss distinct
13 from lost future earnings. Nevada cases addressing lost earning capacity treat it as the same as
14 lost future earnings. E.g., Silver State Disposal Co. v. Shelley, 105 Nev. 309, 312, 774 P.2d 1044,
15 1046 (1989) (“the jury was adequately instructed on the recovery for lost wages and future lost 16 wages (reduced earning capacity)”).

17 Loss of earning capacity has been distinguished from loss of earnings. Loss of earnings is
18 “actual loss of income due to an inability to perform a specific job a party held from the time of
19 injury to the date of trial.” Strauss, 67 S.W.3d at 435; Johnson v. International of United Bhd. of
20 C. & J., 54 Nev. 332, 336 (1932) (“loss of what plaintiff would otherwise have earned in his 21 calling, and has been deprived of by the wrongful act”). Loss of earning capacity is diminished
22 “ability and fitness to work in gainful employment” caused by the accident. Id. at 435 & n.2.

23 The issue of lost earning capacity is clearly presented when the injured plaintiff is a child
24 who never held a job. Id. at 436. The distinction between lost earning capacity and lost future
25 earnings largely disappears for injured plaintiffs, like Plaintiff, who has avowed a commitment to
26 a particular profession. Id.

27 To recover for lost earning capacity, Plaintiff must have presented evidence that his
28 earnings and earning capacity have been harmed by the accident. In City of Fairbanks v. Nesbett,

1 432 P.2d 607, 617 (Alaska 1967), the Alaska Supreme Court held, in a case involving an attorney,
2 “In determining the extent of impairment of an attorney's earning capacity and the measurement
3 of loss therefrom, we hold that there must be evidence presented to the jury concerning the extent
4 of impairment.” The attorney did not place any evidence in the record of the effect of his ankle
5 injury on his earning capacity. The court held, “it was error to submit this issue to the jury since
6 they could only have speculated as to the extent of any impairment of appellee's capacity to earn
7 money and the resulting monetary loss therefrom.” Id.

8 As previously stated, the only evidence Plaintiff has produced in an effort to support his
9 lost earnings claim are his individual tax returns from 1999, 2001 and 2004 and his own self-
10 serving anecdotal testimony. Plaintiff testified he had a business, Mary Star Enterprises, which 11 he operated further to his real estate investments. He has produced no income/earnings records or 12 profit and loss statements for this company. Plaintiff has failed to produce, other than these three 13 individual tax returns, any evidence of his lost earnings. Indeed, his own expert Dineen simply 14 took a six-year average of the three tax returns provided (add the three incomes and divide by 15 six). There is no evidence of lost earnings or profits.

16 6. Plaintiff Cannot Prove Lost Earnings or Lost Earnings Capacity.

17 To recover lost earnings, and to prove that he has suffered a loss of earning capacity as a
18 result of the accident, Plaintiff must have provided substantial evidence that the accident, and no
19 other cause such as the crash in the real estate market, is the cause of lost earnings. Besides three
20 years of tax returns, Plaintiff elected not to provide any of the other evidence he presumably has
21 (or could have collected) all of which is necessary to make this showing.

22 Plaintiff claims to have had his own real estate business, Mary Star Enterprises, for over
23 fifteen years. That business presumably has records, including business tax returns, profit and
24 loss statements, and other indicia of legitimacy. Plaintiff certainly has information or access to
25 information about key facts necessary to prove lost earnings and lost earning capacity. He knows
26 or should know the number of sales he had for the 15 years preceding the subject accident. It was
27 his business. He knows or should know his expenses attributed to such sales. He knows or has 28 information about the revenues various types of sales generate. Plaintiff, however, failed to

1 provide any such evidence at deposition or in discovery or at trial.

2 Plaintiff has not shown that his alleged injuries have had any effect on his ability to do the
3 mental and professional work of a real estate flipper. On this record, Plaintiff has failed to 4 provide substantial evidence in support of a reasonably certain an award of damages.

5 E. Punitive Damages are Improper.

6 1. *Defendant's Lack of a Written Policy Prohibiting Throwing Items into a Crowd
7 Does Not Constitute Despicable Conduct Required for Punitive Damages.*

8 Plaintiff claims that Palms' lack of a written policy prohibiting the throwing of items into 9 a crowd constitutes despicable conduct required for punitive damages. First, the evidence will 10 show that Palms already had an oral policy in place prohibiting the throwing of promotional 11 items.

12 Palms is unaware of any case law supporting the proposition that defendant's failure to 13 institute a written policy—when an oral policy is already in place—amounts to despicable
14 conduct. Second, there is absolutely no evidence that Palms acted in conscious disregard of the 15 rights and safety of Plaintiff when choosing to implement an oral, and not a written, policy
16 prohibiting the throwing of promotional items.

17 To prevail on his punitive damages claim, Plaintiff must show that Palms was "guilty of 18 oppression, fraud or malice, express or implied," as "proven by clear and convincing evidence."
19 N.R.S. 42.005. The key terms are then defined as follows:

20 As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires and 21 except as otherwise provided in subsection 5 of NRS 42.005:

- 22 1. "Conscious disregard" means the knowledge of the 23 probable harmful consequences of a wrongful act and a 24 willful and deliberate failure to act to avoid those 25 consequences.
- 26 2. "Fraud" means an intentional misrepresentation, deception
27 or concealment of a material fact known to the person with 28 the intent to deprive another person of his rights or property or to otherwise injure another person.
3. "Malice, express or implied" means conduct which is intended to injure a person or despicable conduct which is engaged in with a conscious disregard of the rights or safety of others.

1           4.     "Oppression" means despicable conduct that subjects a
2                     person to cruel and unjust hardship with conscious
3                     disregard of the rights of the person.

3 Nev. Rev. Stat. Ann. § 42.001.

4           The requisite state of mind must be "conscious disregard" as required for implied
5           "malice" or "oppression," id. 42.001(1), (3), (4), unless it is intentional as is required for "fraud"
6           or actual "malice." id. 42.001(2), (3).

7           The Supreme Court examined the meaning of "conscious disregard" as required for 8           punitive damages in Countrywide Home Loans, Inc. v. Thitchener, 192 P.3d 243, 254 (2008).

9           The Supreme Court held that conscious disregard requires a culpable state of mind that must 10          exceed gross negligence:

11                     To eliminate confusion regarding this mental element, the 12                     Legislature defined conscious disregard under NRS 42.001(1) in 13                     plain and unambiguous terms. Rather than rely on past cases that 14                     pre-dated NRS 42.001(1), in defining what conduct would amount
15                     to conscious disregard, we look no further than the statute's
16                     language. Since its language plainly requires evidence that a 17                     defendant acted with a culpable state of mind, we conclude that 18                     NRS 42.001(1) denotes conduct that, at a minimum, must 19                     exceed mere recklessness or gross negligence.

20          Id. at 255. Gross negligence, therefore, is insufficient, as a matter of law, to support a finding of 21          implied malice or oppression necessary for an award of punitive damages. To obtain punitive
22          damages, Plaintiff must prove that the requisite oppression, fraud or malice was committed in the 23          course of conduct that is actionable on a theory that supports punitive damages. See Falline v.
24          GNLV Corp., 107 Nev. 1004, 1013 (1991). A claim of gross negligence will not support an 25          award of punitive damages, because it fails to establish the requisite intent, as shown in this 26          section.

27          There is no evidence that Palms acted with conscious disregard for the safety of Plaintiff
28          to justify punitive damages. First, the evidence will show that Palms has an oral policy
29          prohibiting the throwing of promotional items. This evidences Palms' efforts in protecting
30          patrons from the throwing of promotional items. Second, Palms' failure to implement a written 31          policy does not constitute conduct that exceeds recklessness or gross negligence, as required for 32          punitive damages. Punitive damages are improper as there is absolutely no evidence that Palms

1 acted with a culpable state of mind when choosing to implement an oral, as opposed to a written
2 policy, prohibiting the throwing of promotional items.

3 2. Plaintiff Cannot Prove that an Officer, Director or Managing Agent of Defendant
4 is Guilty of Oppression, Fraud, or Malice or Ratified Ms. Beavers' Throwing of 5 the Promotional Water Bottle.

6 Additionally, Plaintiff seeks punitive damages against Palms, a business entity. Under 7 Nevada law, proof of malice alone is insufficient for an award of punitive damages against an 8 entity.

9 Plaintiff must first prove that the defendant “has been guilty of oppression, fraud or 10 malice, express or implied,” N.R.S. § 42.005, and that the oppression, fraud or malice was 11 committed in the course of conduct that is actionable on a theory that supports punitive damages.
12 See Falline v. GNLV Corp., 107 Nev. 1004, 1013, 823 P.2d 888, 894 (1991).

13 Second, Plaintiff must make the additional showing required of entity defendants, which 14 “can act only through its officers and employees.” Evans v. Dean Witter Reynolds, Inc., 116 Nev.
15 598, 613, 5 P.3d 1043, 1053 (2000). The necessary showing requires proof of conduct by “an 16 officer, director or managing agent.” N.R.S. § 42.007.

17 A managing agent is a person who is “largely ... unconstrained by corporate protocols and 18 “possess[es] the discretion to create and implement policies.” Countrywide Home Loans, Inc. v.
19 Thitchener, 192 P.3d 243, 258 (2008). The relevant evidence is not just job title but also “what 20 the individual is authorized to do by the principal and whether the agent has the discretion as to 21 what is done and how it is done.” Id.

22 “Supervisory status” is “not enough” to render an employee a managing agent and thus to
23 impose punitive damages liability on his employer for his conduct. Nittinger v. Holman, 119
24 Nev. 192, 198 (Nev. 2003). Supervisory status cannot be equated with managing agent;
25 otherwise “corporate employers [will be] liable for punitive damages in most employment cases,”
26 and a host of other cases as well. Id. A managing agent must have “the authority to deviate from 27 the established policy,” to exercise his own “discretion” or to “exercise his independent
28 judgment.” Nittinger v. Holman, 119 Nev. 192, 198 (Nev. 2003).

To obtain punitive damages, Plaintiff must prove (A) “an officer, director or managing

1 agent of the corporation” is “personally guilty of oppression, fraud or malice, express or implied,”
2 or (B), where the wrongful acts were committed by an employee other than an officer, director or 3 managing agent, “an officer, director or managing agent of the corporation who was expressly 4 authorized to direct or ratify the employee's conduct on behalf of the corporation” either (1) “had 5 advance knowledge that the employee was unfit for the purposes of the employment and 6 employed him with a conscious disregard of the rights or safety of others” or (2) “expressly 7 authorized or ratified the wrongful act of the employee for which the damages are awarded.”
8 N.R.S. § 42.007; Nittinger v. Holman, 119 Nev. 192, 195, 69 P.3d 688, 691 (2003).

9 Third, Plaintiff must satisfy a heightened standard of proof. He must prove all predicate
10 facts by clear and convincing evidence. N.R.S. § 42.005.

11 Plaintiff cannot satisfy this heightened standard of proof to recover punitive damages.
12 Beavers was not even a Palms employee, much less an officer, director or managing agent of 13 Palms. Second, Palms had an oral policy against throwing objects. Finally, there is no evidence
14 that the Palms expressly authorize or ratify Ms. Beavers’ actions. Plaintiff may therefore not 15 recover punitive damages against Palms.

16 III. 17 CONCLUSION

18 The Palms respectfully requests this Court to find as fact and hold as a matter of law that 19 throwing promotional objects during a promotional event is safe, is within the industry standard
20 of care, and is not a substandard protocol, and find that the Palms complied with this applicable
21 standard and was not negligent with regard to any duty it may have owed to plaintiff.

22 The Palms further respectfully requests that this Court exclude the opinion testimony of 23 plaintiff's non-retained, nondisclosed expert treating doctors, Dr. Shannon, Schifini, Shaw and 24 Kidwell. Plaintiff's failure to disclose put the Palms in a "Catch-22" situation: The Palms never 25 had notice of the testifying treaters' "expert" opinions until they were given at trial, and once the 26 opinions were given, the Palms was not allowed to rebut them using its own properly designated 27 expert Dr. Becker, since Dr. Becker had not included his rebuttal opinions in his written report.
28 The Palms was severely prejudiced by plaintiff's failure to disclose the identities of his testifying expert witnesses, and was further severely prejudiced by the Court's allowing those unidentified experts to testify.

The Palms further respectfully requests that this Court find plaintiff has not submitted sufficient evidence in support of his claim to damages, and that plaintiff's self-serving testimony along with three tax returns over a 10-year period is simply not sufficient evidence to support a substantial award of damages.

Finally, the Palms respectfully requests that this Court rejected plaintiff's claim for punitive damages.

I.
STATEMENT OF FACTS

This is a premises liability matter that occurred November 22, 2004 at the Palms Sports Bar/Sports Book. Plaintiff ENRIQUE RODRIGUEZ was an invited guest to watch a football game. During half-time, agents, employees and/or assigns of the Palms (hereinafter known as the "PALMS GIRLS") were participating in a promotion wherein they were throwing souvenirs to Sports Bar/Sports Book patrons while blindfolded.

In response to the Palms Girl, Brandy Beavers, throwing souvenirs in the Sports Bar/Sports Book while blind-folded, a customer within the Sports Bar/Sports Book dove for a thrown souvenir and hit Mr. Rodriguez's extended and stationary left knee. Mr. Rodriguez then struck the person next to him, hitting the left side of his head, then falling down, thereby sustaining extensive injuries and damages.

III.

THEORY OF LIABILITY

Plaintiff has sued the Defendant the theory of negligence. This theory will be discussed below:

A. Negligence

In order to prevail on the issue of negligence, Plaintiff must show: 1) that the Defendant owed a duty of care to Plaintiff; 2) that Defendant breached his duty of care toward Plaintiff; 3) that Defendant's breach was the actual cause of Plaintiff's damages; 4) that Defendant's breach was the proximate cause of Plaintiff's damages; 5) that Plaintiff suffered damages as a result of Defendant's breach. Perez v. Las Vegas Medical Center, 107 Nev. 1, 4, 805 P.2d 589, 590-591 (1996).

Nevada's controlling law on "slip and fall" premises liability can be found in Moody v. Manny's Auto Repair, 110 Nev. 320, 871 P.2d 935 (1994), Sprague v. Lucky Stores, Inc., 109 Nev. 247, 849 P.2d 320 (1993), Asmussen v. New Golden Hotel Company, 392 P.2d 49 (1964), Worth v. Reed, 384 P.2d 1017 (1963), Eldorado Club, Inc. v. Graff, 377 P.2d 174 (1962), and Galloway v. McDonalds Restaurants, 102 Nev. 534, 728 P.2d 826 (1986). Determinations of liability should primarily depend upon whether the owner or occupier of land acted reasonably under the circumstances. Moody v. Manny's Auto Repair, supra. In Asmussen, the Court stated that a proprietor's liability may be found if the condition was 1) created by the proprietor or his agent, or 2) created by another and the proprietor had actual or constructive notice of its existence. The proprietor “who knows or in the exercise of reasonable care should know, of their dangerous and unsafe condition, and who invites others to enter upon the property, owes to such invitees a duty to warn them of the danger, where the peril is hidden, latent, or concealed, or the invitees are without knowledge thereof.” Galloway.

Through the course of discovery, Plaintiff has established that prior to the subject incident, Defendant PALMS was aware that promotional items were thrown into crowds; that Defendant PALMS acknowledged this behavior was inappropriate because it was a safety issue and could foreseeably cause injury to an individual; and that Defendant PALMS failed to implement any written safety standards, procedures and/or policies instructing employees and/or independent contractors not to throw items into crowds.

Further, Defendant PALMS has conceded that they are not sure if they ever instructed employees and/or independent contractors not to throw promotional items into crowds, and have no recollection as to whether they ever specifically instructed Ms. Beavers not to throw items into the crowd.

Specifically, Sheri Long, the Director of Marketing at The Palms testified that she was aware that promotional items were thrown into crowds; that Defendant acknowledged this behavior was inappropriate because it was a safety issue and could foreseeably cause injury to an individual.

For purposes of this case, the Honorable Court is advised that the Key West Room discussed below is where promotions were held before being moved to the subject sports-book.

- Q. Was there a custom and practice of bringing pretty girls in to help in the Monday Night Football party as part of the promotion?
- A. Yes.
- Q. Was that routine each Monday night football party?
- A. Yes.
- Q. Okay. And where did they come from?
- A. Usually from outside vendors.
- Q. Third parties?
- A. Yes.
- Q. And, of course, the purpose there is just to create a kind party atmosphere, is that right?
- A. Correct.
- Q. Were you aware -- do you need that?
- A. No.
- Q. Were you of any of these girls throwing promotional items into the crowd while the party was being held in the banquet room?
- A. In the Key West?
- Q. In the Key West.

A. I believe that it did happen once.

Q. In the Key West room?

A. Yes.

Q. And do you know who was throwing those things?

A. No.

Q. What was your opinion of that conduct?

A. That it wasn't appropriate.

Q. Why wasn't it appropriate?

A. Because it definitely is a safety issue.

Q. And it could foreseeably cause injury to somebody, is that right?

A. Absolutely.<sup>1</sup>

Ms. Long reiterated her safety concerns, but could not even recall if she ever instructed her staff that items should not be thrown into crowds during promotional events.

Q. Okay. And at the time in the Key West room when you discovered someone was throwing promotional items out into the crowd, who was it that you spoke to?

A. I'm sure it was the marketing manager.

Q. Who was that at that time?

A. I believe it was Maureen.

Q. Do you remember the substance of your conversation?

Q. But you discussed that it wasn't safe to throw promotional items out into the crowd, is that right?

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. For the reason that you said, that there's a real safety concern associated with that?

A. Yes.

Q. And because it's foreseeable that, if you throw promotional items out during a Monday Night Football party, somebody could get hurt?

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. And did you follow that up with a memoranda in your department instructing your people that promotional items would not be thrown out during these parties?

A. I don't recall.

Q. Would it have been your responsibility to do that if there was a responsibility to do that, would you have been the one to do it?

A. Likely.

Q. I mean, how concerned were you? Were you pissed, for lack of a better legal word?

A. I don't -- I really don't recall. I mean, you know, obviously, I deal with a lot of different things every day.

Q. I see your phone ringing.

- Q. Did you feel it was a minor or not minor issue?
- A. I really don't recall at the time. I'm thinking that it would have been more from the security side of things, the safety and security side of things that that concern would have been addressed. Likely my manager sent an e-mail out.
- Q. To whom?
- A. Within the company to the couple people in my department that it might have involved, just, you know, just a reminder, please don't do this.
- Q. Did you personally contact the security department, do you recall?
- A. No, I wouldn't have.
- Q. Did you bring it up at one of the staff meetings when the different directors from different departments met I think you said monthly?
- A. I really don't recall at the time if I did that. I know I have brought it up for other things with regard to safety, but specifically for that, not necessarily.
- Q. You brought it up -- oh. You've made your safety concerns known --
- A. Correct.
- Q. -- on other issues?
- A. Correct.
- Q. But you don't recall specifically with this issue?

Q. When you're hiring girls to do the promotions, do you interview them personally?

A. Did I? No.

Q. Who did?

A. My marketing manager generally did.

Q. Did you instruct your marketing manager to tell these girls don't throw stuff out in the crowd after you became aware that that was occurring in the Key West room?

A. I don't recall if we had the conversation.

Q. Do you know if you maybe you put it in writing to anybody?

A. I don't recall. That, I have no idea.<sup>2</sup>

Despite awareness of the foreseeable danger, Ms. Long testified that she cannot even recall if the issue was raised during staff and/or safety meetings.

Q. At any time during those meetings, did your manager or you or anybody bring up the issue that we shouldn't have girls throwing stuff at these promotional events?

A. I don't recall.

Q. You can't say one way or another?

A. No.<sup>3</sup>

Continuing, Ms. Long indicated that she does not know if she instructed Ms. Beavers not to throw promotional items into the crowd, and cannot recall making any departmental procedures to instruct others.

Q. And it's fair to say that you don't know whether or not Denise specifically instructed Brandy not to throw promotional items into the crowd?

A. I don't know.

Q. Did you make it a departmental procedure to instruct these girls not to throw promotional items into the crowd after what happened in the Key West room?

A. I really don't recall.<sup>4</sup>

Lastly, Ms. Long acknowledged that there is no formal policy or procedure to prevent promotional items from being thrown into the crowd.

Q. Is there now a formal policy or procedure to prevent that from happening?

A. I don't have one in writing.<sup>5</sup>

Vikki Kooinga, Risk Manager at The Palms has also testified that she is unaware of any regulation against throwing promotional items into crowds. Importantly, she also testified that throwing items into a crowd could foreseeably cause injury to someone in the audience.

Q. Is there any regulation which has to do with throwing of objects during promotional events during the Palms Casino that was in existence in November 2004 that you're aware of?

A. I am not aware of.

Q. As a risk manager, would you instruct or allow employees of the Palms hotel to throw objects into an audience during a promotional event?

A. No.

Q. You would not?

A. I would not.

Q. And why would you not?

A. Just for the simple fact that, one, you could break the item, depending on what the item is, and common sense.

Q. You try to utilize common sense when you're risk managing, is that right?

A. Correct.

Q. And part of risk management is to provide for the safety, the reasonable safety of people upon the premises, is that true?

A. Correct.

Q. And as the risk manager of the Palms hotels, is it fair to say that you agree with me that throwing objects during a promotional event could foreseeably cause injury to someone in the audience?

MR. GILLETTE: That calls for a legal conclusion.

A. It could foreseeably, yes.

A. Could you repeat it?

Q. Sure. As the risk manager, one of the reasons -- using your common sense -- that you would tell your employees not to throw something into a crowd is because that could result in an injury to somebody in that crowd?

A. Correct.

A. It's not something --

MR. GILLETTE: That calls for a legal But you can answer that.

A. It's not something that I would advise.

Q. Is there a policy or procedure in effect now at the Palms hotel not to throw objects into the audience during a promotional event?

Ms. Kooinga has acknowledged that throwing promotional items into the crowd was inappropriate, wrong and beneath the standard of care for the hotel protecting the safety of their patrons upon the premises.

Q. Did you have any thoughts about the appropriateness of Brandy Beavers throwing promotional bottles out into the audience?

A. My personal opinion?

Q. Yes.

A. It is not appropriate.

Q. So you think that was wrong?

A. Yes.

Q. If Brandy Beavers was an employee of the Palms hotel at that time –

A. I'm sorry. Can I clarify something?

Q. Absolutely.

A. Based upon the report, he is stating that she threw it. I do not know if it was actually thrown.

Q. But, hypothetically, if it was thrown, in your opinion, that would be wrong?

A. Hypothetically, yes.

Q. Okay. And if Brandy Beavers was an employee of the Palms hotel at the time she threw that water bottle, she would have done something wrong?

A. I don't believe she was employed.

Q. Sure.
The security officers using their common sense, as risk manager, you would expect them to stop the person throwing promotional items out into the audience?

MR. GILLETTE: Incomplete hypothetical.
Go ahead and answer.

A. I would expect that they would, yes.

Q. And as the risk manager for the Palms hotel, it's your opinion that the standard of care would require that any security officer in the area would stop an individual from throwing promotional items out into the audience?

A. That they would if they had prior knowledge it was about to happen, if hypothetically this is exactly what happened is that Brandy Beavers threw a water bottle, once it left her hand, he may have seen it, he's in no position to stop it at that point. However, he may have gone to her afterwards and said do not do it again.

Q. However, just to get my question, I understand how you're framing it. But it would be appropriate for a security officer in the area to stop her from throwing those objects into the audience?

A. If she had done it more than once, yes.

Q. And that would be what you would expect of security officers as the risk manager of the Palms hotel?

A. Yes.<sup>8</sup>

In this case, Defendant PALMS was aware that promotional items were thrown into crowds. Defendant has acknowledged this behavior was inappropriate because it was a safety issue and could foreseeably cause injury to an individual. Defendant acknowledged that the behavior was wrong and fell below the standard of for the hotel protecting the safety of their patrons upon the premises Yet, Defendant failed to implement any written safety standards, procedures and/or policies instructing employees and/or independent contractors not to throw items into crowds.

Lastly, Defendant PALMS conceded that they are not sure if they ever instructed employees and/or independent contractors not to throw promotional items into crowds, and have no recollection as to whether they ever specifically instructed Ms. Beavers not to throw items into the crowd.

Under NRS 42.001, implied malice is a discrete basis for assessing punitive damages where conscious disregard can be demonstrated. NRS 42.001(3).

Plaintiff submits that the evidence and testimony elicited to date demonstrate “conscious disregard.”

I. Introduction

Defendant is seeking a mistrial on the misguided position that Plaintiff served secret pre-trial and trial briefs.

As the Court will recall, Defense counsel, during Opening Argument, evidentiary phase of the trial, and Closing Argument, accused Plaintiff's counsel of engaging in a systematic "medical build-up," and manipulation of the medical records. Now, in a desperate and ill-founded manner, Defense counsel is accusing Plaintiff's counsel and Your Honor of engaging in a systematic ex parte conspiracy, rendering the trial unfair and impartial.

Plaintiff submits, supported by the Affidavit of Counsel<sup>1</sup> and Your Honor's own awareness and comprehension of the true factual circumstances, that Plaintiff did in fact provide the Court with one, and only one, Confidential Trial Brief before the commencement of trial, which was served on Defendant on December 14, 2010, in accordance with EDCR 7.27<sup>2</sup>, and provided the Court with no supplements thereto at any time during trial.

<sup>2</sup> See Exhibit "2," Confidential Trial Brief, of September 27, 2010.

II. Statement of Facts

As this Court is aware, this matter was originally set for a Bench Trial to begin on October 4, 2010.<sup>3</sup> Accordingly, Plaintiff, in accordance with EDCR 7.27, submitted his Confidential Trial brief to this Court on September 27, 2010.<sup>4</sup>

At no point during the evidentiary portion of the trial, or otherwise, did Plaintiff file or submit any additional confidential briefs.<sup>5</sup>

Rather, in anticipation of Defendant bringing a Rule 50 Motion on the issue of Punitive Damages, Plaintiff's counsel prepared a "Supplemental Confidential Bench Brief Re: Punitive Damages (dated November 10, 2010, the date the parties rested) which detailed the trial testimony of Defendant's employees and security expert.<sup>6</sup> The Supplemental brief was never submitted, served or filed, because Defendant surprisingly never argued, after the close of evidence but prior to the case being submitted for deliberation, that the punitive damage claim be dismissed.<sup>7</sup> Simply put, had Defendant argued for the dismissal of the punitive damages claim prior to the close of evidence as required by law, Plaintiff would have submitted and served the Supplemental brief<sup>8</sup> at that time.

Unfortunately, and in response to Defendant's "Post-Trial Brief," which amongst other things, argued for the rejection of any punitive damages, Plaintiff inadvertently made reference to and attached a copy of the Supplemental Confidential Bench Brief Re: Punitive Damages, rather than reiterating the content, as counsel failed to recall that the brief was never filed or served.<sup>9</sup> As this Court is now aware, the un-filed and un-submitted brief merely

<sup>7</sup> Id.

<sup>8</sup> Id. It is important to note that the brief was signed on November 10, 2010 in anticipation of Defendant moving for a dismissal of the Punitive Damage claim.

set forth the trial testimony and trial transcripts of Sheri Long, Vikki Kooinga and Forrest Franklin, Defendant’s safety expert.<sup>10</sup>

Importantly, this was the first and only time, such a brief was presented to Your Honor, and it was never filed, submitted or provided in a confidential and/or ex parte manner as suggested by counsel.<sup>11</sup> Moreover, the un-filed and un-submitted brief merely sets forth trial testimony of the aforesaid witnesses, providing direct citations to their respective trial testimony.<sup>12</sup> Equally importantly, even though never filed nor previously submitted, it was in fact “served” upon Defendant via an attachment to Plaintiff’s Motion to Strike.

Additionally, this Honorable Court will note that Defendant has not objected to nor questioned the propriety of any aspect of the Confidential Trial Brief filed in this matter. The court is also directed to the fact that said brief contains no evidentiary and/or other procedural points and authorities, but is rather a recitation of the anticipated liability testimony (which came into evidence nearly exactly as briefed), a chronology of Plaintiff’s medical treatment and damages, and a brief discussion of Plaintiff’s position relative to punitive damages.

III. Legal Argument

A. Plaintiff’s Confidential Brief Does Not Violate the Mandates of EDCR 7.27

Plaintiff’s permissive Confidential Brief was submitted to the Court prior to the commencement of trial on September 27, 2010.

Additionally, Plaintiff served his permissive Confidential Brief before the close of trial on December 14, 2010.

Rule 7.27. Filing of civil trial memoranda. Unless otherwise ordered by the court, an attorney may elect to submit to the court in any civil case, a trial memoranda of points and authorities prior to the commencement of trial by delivering one unfiled copy to the court, without serving opposing counsel or filing the same, provided that

<sup>11</sup> See
<sup>12</sup> Id.

1 the original trial memoranda of points and authorities must be filed and a copy must be
2 served upon opposing counsel at or before the close of trial.

3 EDCR 7.27 was obviously implemented to give parties the opportunity to address any 4 grievances with respect to a confidential brief and to make a record of such objections prior to 5 the case being adjudicated by verdict. Clearly, Plaintiff's conduct with respect to the Brief
6 was in compliance with the subject Rule.

7 B. Close of Trial Occurs Upon Rendering of Verdict

8 The close of trial occurs upon the Judge, as in this case, or the jury rendering their 9 decision. Olivero v. Lowe, 116 Nev. 395, 400, 995 P.2d 1023, 1026 (2000). Stated simply,
10 as long as a confidential or "blind" brief is served upon opposing counsel prior to the Judge
11 rendering her decision, the trial memorandum is deemed timely. Id.

12 Olivero, supra, is directly on point. In Olivero, early in the proceedings, counsel for 13 Lowe lodged a "blind" trial brief with the district court under EDCR 7.27. The Nevada
14 Supreme Court held that since Lowe provided a copy of the trial memorandum to Olivero's
15 counsel as the judge was leaving the bench following the rendition of his decision, the service
16 of the trial memorandum was untimely and violated EDCR 7.27.

17 Unlike Olivero, Your Honor is still deliberating, has yet to render a decision, and 18 therefore, service of Plaintiff's brief on December 14, 2010 was appropriate.

19 C. A Mistrial is Clearly Inappropriate

20 As this Court is aware, a mistrial is a termination of a trial prior to a verdict or 21 decision either because a fair or impartial trial has become impossible or because the jury
22 cannot agree on a verdict. Nevada Civil Practice Manual § 2295.
23

24 Importantly, mistrials are ordinarily limited to jury actions because a judge
25 presumably is not subject to the same influences that prejudice a jury. Hui v. State, 103 Nev.
26 321, 738 P.2d 892 (1987).

Moreover, as pointed out by Defendant, the decision on a mistrial rests within the sound discretion of the trial court and will not be overturned on appeal absent probable abuse. Cramer v. Peavy, 116 Nev. 575 (Nev. 2000); Southern Pac. Transp. Co. v. Fitzgerald, 94 Nev. 241, 242 (1978).

Defense counsel’s cute attempts at deference towards this Court are glaringly transparent, and candidly border on being outright disgusting.

“To be clear: The Palms does not allege that the Court engaged in actual impropriety.”<sup>13</sup>

As stated, Defense counsel has already accused Plaintiff’s counsel of engaging in a systematic “medical build-up,” and manipulation of the medical records. Not only is counsel now accusing Plaintiff’s counsel of submitting several secret ex parte briefs, he and his client are clearly accusing Your Honor of complicit and unlawful conduct.

To be clear, while The Palms and their Counsel have used the term “substantial irregularity” in support of their Motion, they are really alleging the following:

1. Your Honor systematically engaged in ex parte communication with Plaintiff’s counsel throughout the trial.<sup>14</sup>
2. Your Honor knowingly violated Nevada Code of Judicial Conduct, Canon 2.9(B).<sup>15</sup>
3. Your Honor has failed to uphold and promote the independence, integrity, and impartiality of the judiciary and has failed to avoid impropriety and appearance of impropriety in violation of Canon 1 of the Nevada Code of Judicial Conduct.<sup>16</sup>
4. Your Honor has failed to comply with the law, including the Code of Judicial Conduct.<sup>17</sup>
5. Your Honor has field to act in a manner that promotes public confidence in the independence, integrity, and impartiality of the judiciary and has failed to avoid impropriety and the appearance of impropriety.<sup>18</sup>

<sup>14</sup> “Plaintiff submitted secret briefs to the Court on substantive issues and evidence during trial. Id., 7: 2-3.

2 6. Your Honor is partial to Plaintiff and/or his counsel.<sup>19</sup>

3 7. Your Honor's conduct, impropriety and partiality, if a mistrial is not granted,
4 constitute probable abuse.<sup>20</sup>

5 If these aren't the positions Mr. Ward and The Palms are making, then there is 6 absolutely no basis for a mistrial. If Mr. Ward does in fact concede that these are the 7 positions he is taking, they are ill-founded, unsupported, and lack any basis in truth, and, in 8 any other context, would be defamatory.

9 Plaintiff would suggest that the tone and nature of Defendant's briefs and motions
10 evidence a clear and consistent theme: they have conceded defeat on the issues of liability,
11 causation and damages, and are gearing up their efforts for an appeal of the anticipated
12 verdict, by claiming misconduct on the part of Plaintiff's counsel and misconduct,
13 impropriety and partiality on the part of Your Honor.

14
15 IV. Conclusion

16 Based on the foregoing, Plaintiff respectfully requests an order denying Defendant's
17 offensive motion in its entirety.

I.
STATEMENT OF FACTS

This is a premises liability matter that occurred November 22, 2004 at the Palms Sports Bar/Sports Book. Plaintiff ENRIQUE RODRIGUEZ was an invited guest to watch a football game. During half-time, agents, employees and/or assigns of the Palms (hereinafter known as the "PALMS GIRLS") were participating in a promotion wherein they were throwing souvenirs to Sports Bar/Sports Book patrons while blindfolded.

In response to the Palms Girl, Brandy Beavers, throwing souvenirs in the Sports Bar/Sports Book while blind-folded, a customer within the Sports Bar/Sports Book dove for a thrown souvenir and hit Mr. Rodriguez's extended and stationary left knee. Mr. Rodriguez then struck the person next to him, hitting the left side of his head, then falling down, thereby sustaining extensive injuries and damages.

III.
THEORY OF LIABILITY

Plaintiff has sued the Defendant the theory of negligence. This theory will be discussed below:

A. Negligence

In order to prevail on the issue of negligence, Plaintiff must show: 1) that the Defendant owed a duty of care to Plaintiff; 2) that Defendant breached his duty of care toward Plaintiff; 3) that Defendant's breach was the actual cause of Plaintiff's damages; 4) that Defendant's breach was the proximate cause of Plaintiff's damages; 5) that Plaintiff suffered damages as a result of Defendant's breach. Perez v. Las Vegas Medical Center, 107 Nev. 1, 4, 805 P.2d 589, 590-591 (1996).

Nevada's controlling law on "slip and fall" premises liability can be found in Moody v. Manny's Auto Repair, 110 Nev. 320, 871 P.2d 935 (1994), Sprague v. Lucky Stores, Inc., 109 Nev. 247, 849 P.2d 320 (1993), Asmussen v. New Golden Hotel Company, 392 P.2d 49 (1964), Worth v. Reed, 384 P.2d 1017 (1963), Eldorado Club, Inc. v. Graff, 377 P.2d 174 (1962), and Galloway v. McDonalds Restaurants, 102 Nev. 534, 728 P.2d 826 (1986). Determinations of liability should primarily depend upon whether the owner or occupier of land acted reasonably under the circumstances. Moody v. Manny's Auto Repair, supra. In Asmussen, the Court stated that a proprietor's liability may be found if the condition was 1) created by the proprietor or his agent, or 2) created by another and the proprietor had actual or constructive notice of its existence. The proprietor "who knows or in the exercise of reasonable care should know, of their dangerous and unsafe condition, and who invites others to enter upon the property, owes to such invitees a duty to warn them of the danger, where the peril is hidden, latent, or concealed, or the invitees are without knowledge thereof." Galloway.

Through the course of discovery, Plaintiff has established that prior to the subject incident, Defendant PALMS was aware that promotional items were thrown into crowds; that Defendant PALMS acknowledged this behavior was inappropriate because it was a safety issue and could foreseeably cause injury to an individual; and that Defendant PALMS failed to implement any written safety standards, procedures and/or policies instructing employees and/or independent contractors not to throw items into crowds.

Further, Defendant PALMS has conceded that they are not sure if they ever instructed employees and/or independent contractors not to throw promotional items into crowds, and have no recollection as to whether they ever specifically instructed Ms. Beavers not to throw items into the crowd.

Specifically, Sheri Long, the Director of Marketing at The Palms testified that she was aware that promotional items were thrown into crowds; that Defendant acknowledged this behavior was inappropriate because it was a safety issue and could foreseeably cause injury to an individual.

For purposes of this case, the Honorable Court is advised that the Key West Room discussed below is where promotions were held before being moved to the subject sports-book.

Q. Was there a custom and practice of bringing pretty girls in to help in the Monday Night Football party as part of the promotion?

A. Yes.

Q. Was that routine each Monday night football party?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. And where did they come from?

A. Usually from outside vendors.

Q. Third parties?

A. Yes.

Q. And, of course, the purpose there is just to create a kind party atmosphere, is that right?

A. Correct.

Q. Were you aware -- do you need that?

A. No.

Q. Were you of any of these girls throwing promotional items into the crowd while the party was being held in the banquet room?

A. In the Key West?

Q. In the Key West.

A. I believe that it did happen once.

Q. In the Key West room?

A. Yes.

Q. And do you know who was throwing those things?

A. No.

Q. What was your opinion of that conduct?

A. That it wasn't appropriate.

Q. Why wasn't it appropriate?

A. Because it definitely is a safety issue.

Q. And it could foreseeably cause injury to somebody, is that right?

A. Absolutely.<sup>1</sup>

Ms. Long reiterated her safety concerns, but could not even recall if she ever instructed her staff that items should not be thrown into crowds during promotional events.

Q. Okay. And at the time in the Key West room when you discovered someone was throwing promotional items out into the crowd, who was it that you spoke to?

A. I'm sure it was the marketing manager.

Q. Who was that at that time?

A. I believe it was Maureen.

Q. Do you remember the substance of your conversation?

Q. But you discussed that it wasn't safe to throw promotional items out into the crowd, is that right?

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. For the reason that you said, that there's a real safety concern associated with that?

A. Yes.

Q. And because it's foreseeable that, if you throw promotional items out during a Monday Night Football party, somebody could get hurt?

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. And did you follow that up with a memoranda in your department instructing your people that promotional items would not be thrown out during these parties?

A. I don't recall.

Q. Would it have been your responsibility to do that if there was a responsibility to do that, would you have been the one to do it?

A. Likely.

A. I really don't recall at the time. I'm thinking that it would have been more from the security side of things, the safety and security side of things that that concern would have been addressed. Likely my manager sent an e-mail out.

Q. To whom?

A. Within the company to the couple people in my department that it might have involved, just, you know, just a reminder, please don't do this.

Q. Did you personally contact the security department, do you recall?

A. No, I wouldn't have.

Q. Did you bring it up at one of the staff meetings when the different directors from different departments met I think you said monthly?

A. I really don't recall at the time if I did that. I know I have brought it up for other things with regard to safety, but specifically for that, not necessarily.

Q. You brought it up -- oh. You've made your safety concerns known --

A. I don't recall if we had the conversation.

Q. Do you know if you maybe you put it in writing to anybody?

A. I don't recall. That, I have no idea.<sup>2</sup>

Despite awareness of the foreseeable danger, Ms. Long testified that she cannot even recall if the issue was raised during staff and/or safety meetings.

Q. At any time during those meetings, did your manager or you or anybody bring up the issue that we shouldn't have girls throwing stuff at these promotional events?

Continuing, Ms. Long indicated that she does not know if she instructed Ms. Beavers not to throw promotional items into the crowd, and cannot recall making any departmental procedures to instruct others.

Q. And it's fair to say that you don't know whether or not Denise specifically instructed Brandy not to throw promotional items into the crowd?

A. I don't know.

Q. Did you make it a departmental procedure to instruct these girls not to throw promotional items into the crowd after what happened in the Key West room?

A. I really don't recall.<sup>4</sup>

Lastly, Ms. Long acknowledged that there is no formal policy or procedure to prevent promotional items from being thrown into the crowd.

Q. Is there now a formal policy or procedure to prevent that from happening?

A. I don't have one in writing.<sup>5</sup>

Vikki Kooinga, Risk Manager at The Palms has also testified that she is unaware of any regulation against throwing promotional items into crowds. Importantly, she also testified that throwing items into a crowd could foreseeably cause injury to someone in the audience.

Q. As a risk manager, would you instruct or allow employees of the Palms hotel to throw objects into an audience during a promotional event?

A. No.

Q. You would not?

A. I would not.

Q. And why would you not?

A. Just for the simple fact that, one, you could break the item, depending on what the item is, and common sense.

Q. You try to utilize common sense when you're risk managing, is that right?

A. Correct.

Q. And part of risk management is to provide for the safety, the reasonable safety of people upon the premises, is that true?

A. Correct.

Q. And as the risk manager of the Palms hotels, is it fair to say that you agree with me that throwing objects during a promotional event could foreseeably cause injury to someone in the audience?

MR. GILLETTE: That calls for a legal conclusion.

A. It could foreseeably, yes.

MR. GILLETTE: Well, that calls for speculation, and it also misstates her prior testimony. You can go ahead and answer.

A. Could you repeat it?

Q. Sure. As the risk manager, one of the reasons -- using your common sense -- that you would tell your employees not to throw something into a crowd is because that could result in an injury to somebody in that crowd?

A. Correct.

Q. And that wouldn't be reasonable in terms of risk management, is that fair to say?

A. It's not something --

MR. GILLETTE: That calls for a legal But you can answer that.

A. It's not something that I would advise.

Q. Is there a policy or procedure in effect now at the Palms hotel not to throw objects into the audience during a promotional event?

A. I don't know if there's a specific policy, a written policy.<sup>6</sup>

Ms. Kooinga has acknowledged that throwing promotional items into the crowd was inappropriate, wrong and beneath the standard of care for the hotel protecting the safety of their patrons upon the premises.

Q. Did you have any thoughts about the appropriateness of Brandy Beavers throwing promotional bottles out into the audience?

A. My personal opinion?

Q. Yes.

A. It is not appropriate.

Q. So you think that was wrong?

A. Yes.

Q. If Brandy Beavers was an employee of the Palms hotel at that time –

A. I'm sorry. Can I clarify something?

Q. Absolutely.

A. Based upon the report, he is stating that she threw it. I do not know if it was actually thrown.

Q. But, hypothetically, if it was thrown, in your opinion, that would be wrong?

A. Hypothetically, yes.

Q. Okay. And if Brandy Beavers was an employee of the Palms hotel at the time she threw that water bottle, she would have done something wrong?

A. I don't believe she was employed.

Q. You understood my question though?

A. Repeat it, please.

Q. Sure.
The security officers using their common sense, as risk manager, you would expect them to stop the person throwing promotional items out into the audience?

MR. GILLETTE: Incomplete hypothetical.
Go ahead and answer.

A. I would expect that they would, yes.

Q. And as the risk manager for the Palms hotel, it's your opinion that the standard of care would require that any security officer in the area would stop an individual from throwing promotional items out into the audience?

A. That they would if they had prior knowledge it was about to happen, if hypothetically this is exactly what happened is that Brandy Beavers threw a water bottle, once it left her hand, he may have seen it, he's it in no position to stop it at that point. However, he may have gone to her afterwards and said do not do it again.

Q. However, just to get my question, I understand how you're framing it.
But it would be appropriate for a security officer in the area to stop her from throwing those objects into the audience?

A. If she had done it more than once, yes.

Q. And that would be what you would expect of security officers as the risk manager of the Palms hotel?

A. Yes.<sup>8</sup>

In this case, Defendant PALMS was aware that promotional items were thrown into crowds. Defendant has acknowledged this behavior was inappropriate because it was a safety issue and could foreseeably cause injury to an individual. Defendant acknowledged that the behavior was wrong and fell below the standard of for the hotel protecting the safety of their patrons upon the premises Yet, Defendant failed to implement any written safety standards, procedures and/or policies instructing employees and/or independent contractors not to throw items into crowds.

Lastly, Defendant PALMS conceded that they are not sure if they ever instructed employees and/or independent contractors not to throw promotional items into crowds, and have no recollection as to whether they ever specifically instructed Ms. Beavers not to throw items into the crowd.

Under NRS 42.001, implied malice is a discrete basis for assessing punitive damages where conscious disregard can be demonstrated. NRS 42.001(3).

Plaintiff submits that the evidence and testimony elicited to date demonstrate "conscious disregard."

1 Defendant FIESTA PALMS, LLC, moves this Court for an order declaring a mistrial on
2 the basis of substantial irregularity in these proceedings, or, in the alternative, for an order that all
3 of plaintiff's confidential, secret pretrial and trial briefs be filed of record to preserve the record
4 for appeal, and thereafter immediately stricken. The motion is made on the grounds as set forth
5 below.

6 I. RELEVANT FACTS

7 The bench trial of plaintiff's slip and fall lawsuit against the Palms began on October 25,
8 2010, and concluded with the parties' closing arguments on November 10, 2010.

9 Under EDCR 7.27, that was the time for plaintiff to file and serve any pretrial confidential
10 trial brief :

11 Unless otherwise ordered by the court, an attorney may elect to 12 submit to the court in any civil case, a trial memoranda of points
13 and authorities prior to the commencement of trial by delivering 14 one unfiled copy to the court, without serving opposing counsel or 15 filing the same, provided that the original trial memoranda of points 16 and authorities must be filed and a copy must be served upon
17 opposing counsel at or before the close of trial...

18 EDCR 7.27, italics added.

19 Plaintiff did not serve any EDCR 7.27 brief.

20 The Palms reasonably assumed none had been submitted to the Court.

21 It turns out, though, that Plaintiff had submitted a confidential pre-trial brief to the Court
22 but failed to file and serve it at or before the close of trial. The Palms learned of the secret brief
23 only when Plaintiff moved to strike the Palms' posttrial memorandum. In plaintiff's motion to 24 strike the Palms' posttrial memorandum, plaintiff himself referred to his EDCR 7.27 brief as well
25 as a "supplemental" confidential bench brief "Re: Punitive Damages" to which he had attached a
26 prior day's unofficial trial transcript.

27 On or about December 14, 2010, more than a month after the close of trial but before
28 verdict was rendered, the Palms' counsel finally received "Plaintiff's Confidential Trial Brief" from Plaintiff's counsel. As the Court knows, this brief is dated September 27, 2010, almost a month before trial commenced, and discusses Plaintiff's theories of liability and damages.

Plaintiff did not timely file this brief with the Court or timely served it upon the Palms. The

1 Court's docket reflects that this brief has still not been filed.

2 In addition to the secret trial brief, plaintiff also provided the Court with at least one
3 confidential bench memorandum during trial to which he attached an unofficial transcript of the 4 previous day's trial testimony. In his Motion to Strike, Plaintiff references a document entitled
5 "Plaintiff's Supplemental Confidential Bench Brief Re: Punitive Damages," at footnote 1 (page 7)
6 of its Motion and references the trial transcript testimony of Sherry Long, dated October 25,
7 2010, as Exhibit 1 to that brief.

8 The Palms has no idea how many of these "Supplemental Confidential Bench Briefs"
9 plaintiff submitted to the court throughout the 2 1/2 week bench trial. It is likely that there were 10 several, as the one the Palms knows about was designated "Re: Punitive Damages." Presumably,
11 there are more briefs "Re:" other issues and evidence. The Palms can only conclude that there
12 was a continuous stream of secret briefing on contested issues and evidence.

13 These ex parte communications to the Court are in violation of the Eighth District local 14 rules, the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure, and Nevada and the United States constitutional
15 articles mandating that litigants receive due process of law. They constitute such a substantial
16 irregularity that the Palms cannot be assured it received a fair and impartial trial.

17 Accordingly, the Palms moves this Court for a Mistrial.

18 II. LEGAL ARGUMENT

19 A. Plaintiff's confidential, ex parte submissions to the Court during trial are so 20 irregular as to have prevented a fair and impartial trial

21 There is no Nevada rule or statute governing the standard for the granting of a mistrial.
22 The doctrine is centuries old, and is a common law invention to prevent the negative effects of 23 impropriety and irregularity on the judicial process. The online magazine Slate provides this 24 description:

25 Trial judges have ultimate discretion, and anything that might 26 impede a jury's ability to remain impartial or prevent it from 27 reaching a unanimous decision is grounds for a mistrial. One of the 28 earliest articulations of the standard comes from an opinion written by the 19th-century Supreme Court Justice Joseph Story, who wrote that judges should declare a mistrial whenever "there is a manifest necessity for the act, or the ends of public justice would otherwise be defeated."

1 The "manifest necessity" standard has proven amorphous. There is
2 a plethora of circumstances that could warrant a mistrial, including
3 procedural error; misconduct; the illness or injury of a lawyer,
4 judge, or juror that prevents him or her from continuing; or an
5 unexpected event, such as an outburst in the courtroom, that might
6 unfairly influence the jury. Mistrials can occur for more
7 idiosyncratic reasons as well: A West Virginia judge recently
8 declared one because a juror drank beer during the lunch break.

9 Pellettieri, When Can a Judge Declare a Mistrial?, <http://www.slate.com/id/2098069/>, March 31,
10 2004. The decision on a mistrial rests within the sound discretion of the trial court. Cramer v.
11 Peavy, 116 Nev. 575 (Nev. 2000); Southern Pac. Transp. Co. v. Fitzgerald, 94 Nev. 241, 242
12 (1978).

13 The general definition in NRCP 59 is instructive, in that it permits a court after verdict on 14 motion of a party to grant a motion for a new trial where one of the enumerated causes or grounds
15 "materially affect[s] the substantial rights of an aggrieved party". The relevant ground here is 16 irregularity:

17 (1) Irregularity in the proceedings of the court, jury, master, or 18 adverse party, or any order of the court, or master, or abuse of 19 discretion by which either party was prevented from having a fair
20 trial . . . .

21 NRCP 59. Even though this case was tried to the Court, the standard should be the same.

22 Here, plaintiff's ex parte trial and bench briefs constitute such an irregularity in the 23 proceedings that the Palms has been deprived of its right to a fair and impartial trial. No remedy
24 other than granting a mistrial can maintain this Court's appearance of impartiality. Only through 25 a new trial may the Palms be assured that it will have received a fair trial.

26 Ex parte communications with a court on matters of substance are impermissible. Nevada
27 Code of Judicial Conduct, Canon 2.9(A)(1) (2010); see also Rudin v. State (2004) 120 Nev. 121, 28 141; Daniel v. State (2003) 119 Nev. 498, 509. Exceptions are few, limited and structured to ensure compliance with due process. A judge may permit ex parte communication when authorized by law. See Nevada Code of Judicial Conduct, Canon 2.9(A)(5) (2010). EDCR 7.27 permits confidential trial briefs, but even then the briefs must be disclosed, placed in the record and served on opposing counsel by the end of trial.

Plaintiff here submitted a secret trial brief to the court which, reasonably, would never

1 have come to the light of day had Plaintiff not let the cat out of the bag in his motion to strike.

2 More egregiously, Plaintiff submitted secret briefs to the Court on substantive issues and
3 evidence during trial. The Palms would not have known about these briefs without Plaintiff's
4 admission in his motion to strike about the supplemental brief "Re: Punitive Damages." Neither
5 this brief nor any of Plaintiff's other supplemental briefs have seen the light of day. There is no
6 authority for submitting such briefs during trial. There is no precedent for it. Confidential briefs
7 submitted ex parte to the Court during trial are not authorized by any Nevada law and are 8 therefore improper ex parte communications.

9 Plaintiff opened up a direct line of communication to the Court on substantive matters
10 during the presentation of the evidence. Notice was not given to the Palms. An opportunity to 11 respond timely was not afforded the Palms.

12 Plaintiff's continuing submissions to the Court during trial gave Plaintiff a litigation
13 advantage over the Palms. Plaintiff had unfettered access to the Court on issues of liability, trial
14 testimony, damages, and who knows what else.

15 In circumstances like these, the Court should promptly notify all parties of the attempted
16 ex parte communication and provide all parties with an opportunity to respond:

17 (B) If a judge inadvertently receives an unauthorized ex parte
18 communication bearing upon the substance of a matter, the judge
19 shall make provision promptly to notify the parties of the substance of the communication and provide the parties with an opportunity to respond.

20 Nevada Code of Judicial Conduct, Canon 2.9(B) (2010); see also Rushen v. Spain (1983) 464
21 U.S. 114, 119 ("When an ex parte communication relates to some aspect of the trial, the trial
22 judge generally should disclose the communication to counsel for all parties."). Disclosure as 23 contemplated by Canon 2.9(B) did not occur here.

24 Due process requires impartiality of the Court. "A fair trial in a fair tribunal is a basic 25 requirement of due process." In re Murchison, 349 U.S. 133, 136 (1955). The Palms still does 26 not know what plaintiff wrote in his supplemental secret bench briefs, but, whatever it is, it
27 should have been disclosed promptly so the Palms could respond timely and as it saw fit. Now
28 that can never happen. The Palms has been deprived of its right to a fair and impartial trial.

1 Even if there were "only" two secret briefs, Plaintiff has had the opportunity to submit
2 argument and evidence to the Court contrary to the Palms' interests, without the Palms having an
3 opportunity to respond or even knowing what was submitted to the Court. This deprived the 4 Palms its right to due process. For these reasons, the Palms' Motion for Mistrial must be granted.

5 B. In the alternative, plaintiff's confidential trial and bench briefs must be
6 disclosed to the Palms, filed of record, and thereafter stricken from the record

7 Even if the Court decides not to grant the Palms' motion for mistrial, at the very least, the 8 Palms is entitled to have all improperly submitted documents disclosed and filed of record to 9 preserve the record for appeal, and thereafter an order entered striking them from the record.
10 Plaintiff's "Confidential Trial Brief," "Supplemental Confidential Bench Brief," and any other
11 briefs submitted are in violation of EDCR 7.27. As such, they all should be appropriately served
12 upon the opposing party – the Palms – and subsequently stricken from the record as improper.

13 III. CONCLUSION

14 Canon 1 of the Nevada Code of Judicial Conduct reads as follows:

15 A judge shall uphold and promote the independence, integrity, and 16 impartiality of the judiciary and shall avoid impropriety and the appearance of impropriety.

17 Rule 1.1. Compliance With the Law. A judge shall comply with the law, including the Code of Judicial Conduct.

18 Rule 1.2. Promoting Confidence in the Judiciary. A judge shall 19 act at all times in a manner that promotes public confidence in the independence, integrity, and impartiality of the judiciary and shall 20 avoid impropriety and the appearance of impropriety.

21 Rule 1.2 is perhaps the most important rule on these facts. To be clear: The Palms does
22 not allege that the Court engaged in actual impropriety. The Palms does believe, though, that 23 plaintiff improperly continued to make his arguments and submit inadmissible evidence during 24 trial. Indeed, the appellate record will not contain any of this evidence or argument unless the 25 Court orders otherwise. There is no way to "fix" this other than a mistrial and a new trial. Under 26 Rule 1.2, the Court should grant a mistrial because that is the only remedy that will "promote 27 public confidence in the ... impartiality..." of the judicial system. A mistrial is the only remedy
28 that will avoid the appearance of impropriety.

1 For the foregoing reasons, Defendant The Palms respectfully requests that the Court grant
2 its Motion for Mistrial.
