5 THE COURT: All right. Whenever you're ready, Mr.
6 Baker.

7 CLOSING ARGUMENT BY PLAINTIFF

8 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I'm not going to be very 9 long, because I have watched you watch, and I hear your 10 recollection as you spit it back at me.

11 And I just, first, also haven't seen a three-week
12 bench trial and I wanted to thank counsel, and the Court in 13 particular, and the court staff for just a cordial,
14 experienced trial in a -- in a very orderly and mannerly way
15 and it was really appreciated.

16 I have put together a computation of plaintiff's
17 damages, if I may approach.

18 THE COURT: By the way, it's nice to hear that. And 19 I appreciate the fact that counsel has a cordial, professional
20 relationship as well.

21 MR. BAKER: He's a good guy.

22 THE COURT: It's been a pleasure.

23 MR. WARD: I think we both done our best.

24 THE COURT: I think you have.

25 MR. BAKER: So saying that, I do have to say a

1 couple of things that K.C. had talked about during his 2 opening.

3           And, Your Honor, when I came into the Court and I
4 opened for you, I suggested that this was a case that
5 liability was clear, and I believe that that's established.
6 It's a case that Enrique Rodriguez was fundamentally ruined.
7 I mean, his foundation was taken out and he was injured in a
8 very profound way with a constellation of arguments.

9           And I promised that I would bring people into this
10 court, and according to scientific methodologies, and known
11 scientific protocol, and known medical protocol, show you how 12 this perhaps seemingly separated-in-time constellation of 13 injuries was very much related to having the foundation taken
14 out and the structure just kind of crumbles afterwards.

15           And that's a fundamental rule of any kind of 16 constructive reality. If you take out the foundation, the 17 structure is going to crumble. And what K.C. basically said,
18 and we've made up and had accord since then, is that Mr.
19 Rodriguez was fat and was a liar, and that I manipulated the 20 medical evidence, and that these doctors were not going to 21 link up this case for you in a manner that was credible and 22 believable.

23           And I'm not even speaking to a preponderance, I'm 24 speaking in a matter that just rings true in the face of a
25 mountain of scientific testimony in front of you.

1           So let me talk just briefly about the liability,
2 because I kind of just did it twice with respect to my 3 motions.

4           But this Court is aware that it used to be this
5 promotional event, the Monday night football with Brandy
6 Beavers, it used to be in a room called the Key West room.
7 And it was taken from the Key West room and it was put into
8 the Sports Book to help profit the casino and there's no
9 worries with that. I want Las Vegas casinos to be profitable,
10 I live here. But certainly not in a way that it endangers
11 people.

12           And Sherry Long, who was the all business lady who
13 was sitting up there, very specifically said that she heard
14 about these objects being thrown, thought it was 15 inappropriate, foreseeably could harm somebody, was risk to 16 her patrons, was just not the thing that she was going to have 17 on her property and had a meeting with her staff, including
18 Denise Demuncus (phonetic) and told them these promotional 19 items are not going to be thrown into the audience for just 20 the reasons that I told you, because someone's going to get 21 hurt.

22           Brandy Beavers and Denise got together and they
23 constructed actual goal posts, and erected them in the middle 24 of the sports bar and had promotional events where these 25 promotional objects were being thrown through the goal posts

1 and she was riling up the audience and lo and behold, look
2 what happens.

3 Both Vicki and Sherry testified that the injury that
4 occurred to Enrique was exactly the type of injury that they
5 had hoped to prevent by instating this procedure that 6 promotional items not be thrown. It was their rule. They
7 adopted it. I asked if it was a safety rule. It was a safety
8 rule. It governed the safety and the health and the welfare
9 of the people on the premises and they violated it.

10 And then Mr. Franklin came into court and he very 11 honestly had to say that it was a conscious disregard of a
12 known safety procedure. Now, with that very strong triad of 13 -- of evidence and that very strong triad of foreseeability
14 aspect to the exact injury that occurred, it's respectfully
15 suggested to the Court that the liability door is closed.

16 Any argument that Enrique should have walked out is 17 completely specious. It was a sports bar where they invited
18 patrons into the sports bar for the purpose of promoting a
19 Monday night football event. And they have a duty to do it
20 safely and they admitted that they violated that duty to do it
21 safely in a conscious manner.

22 It's really rather abhorring if you think about it,
23 because exactly the injury that occurred -- and I'm sorry to 24 repeat this, but it just keeps ringing through my head. I
25 mean, just what happened to Enrique could have been prevented.

1 This wasn't something that was a Pfaltzgraff. You know,
2 somebody didn't throw a water bottle and something exploded on
3 the other side of the casino. Precisely what they envisioned
4 happening, happened, and it really shouldn't have been allowed
5 to do that.

6 And so K.C. is saying it's not their fault, and then
7 bringing an expert in to say it was a conscious disregard, I
8 mean, that shows me an inconsistency, which has been Mr.
9 Ward's theme throughout the trial, is the inconsistency of the 10 testimony of Enrique Rodriguez.

11 So, Your Honor, in this forum it's been really
12 interesting, because I've been allowed to introduce evidence,
13 I've been completely truthful. And it was lawyering without 14 showmanship, there was no jury to have to puff to,
15 misdirection is impossible, we're not going to fool you. And 16 it was -- it was really interesting watching how the case kind
17 of changed from the perspective of how defendant presented it.

18 When we first came into the courtroom, Mr. Ward
19 informed the Court that he wasn't injured. He had a sprained
20 knee. That's what happens Enrique Rodriguez [inaudible]. And 21 as the evidence developed, and as the doctors began to testify
22 -- his doctor, Dr. Becker, came in and said no, no, no, we'll 23 give him the right knee.

24 And I suggest to you that's because he read the 25 deposition testimony of Dr. Shannon and other doctors and knew

1 that it was convincing and that he was going to look really
2 biased if he came in here and testified that that first knee
3 surgery wasn't related.

4           On his direct they threw in the carpel tunnel
5 syndrome and they said, oh, okay, so that's related, too.
6 They did that even though in his report he said it would be a
7 long stretch of the imagination, if you remember, to hook up
8 this carpel tunnel syndrome.

9           And what happened is, we're lawyers, we know what
10 happened. He looked at it and he said, oh, you know there's 11 strong evidence. Let's throw these guys a bone with the 12 carpel tunnel syndrome and with the knee and maybe the Judge
13 will just stick to the carpel tunnel and knee and think that 14 nothing else will be related. It's called a damage control
15 mode at this point in time. And Mr. Ward was brilliant, went 16 into damage control.

17           Well, Dr. Becker then testified on cross-examination
18 that the second knee was also related, okay. So now we have 19 the carpel tunnel surgery, two knee surgeries, both related.
20 But now what we need to do is we need to desperately try
21 damage control at this point in time.

22           And we'll have Dr. Becker, who incidently is the 23 only orthopedic surgeon apparently in the whole world that
24 thinks torn meniscus is not a pain generating mechanism, you
25 heard Dr. Tauber testify about that, it's really

1 unconscionable, and has the professional acumen to be able to
2 take and sense sympathetically mediated pain changes and
3 differences with his bare hands, while other doctors use a
4 laser thermometer, sat on that stand and said, his lumbar
5 spine and his cervical spine are not related, because these 6 are the big damage items.

7           And his RSD isn't related. And that's the biggest 8 damage item, because the Court has sat here and heard that 9 he's going to need a permanent spinal cord stimulator. The 10 Court has heard about the agonizing, relentless, permanent
11 quality of RSD pain. These doctors testify, ooh, I can't 12 remember the exact words, oh, that's not something you want.
13 And, oh, you know, that's a nightmare. And we've heard that 14 from seven doctors, about, in this case. Just what an awful
15 disease it is.

16           So let's see about how the evidence, then, kind of 17 grew because, you know, it's a house, you build a firm
18 structure on a foundation of bricks. This isn't something I'd 19 say to a jury, but I need to show you, I need to prove it to 20 you. That's my job.

21           So who do we hear from first? We hear from Dr.
22 Shannon, and she talks about the knee and she says, did a
23 beautiful surgery and we looked at pictures. And everyone is 24 really, really excited with Dr. Shannon. Their expert, you
25 know, spoke about great surgery, and clean surgery, and I

1 really like Dr. Shannon. And her testimony was bright and
2 energetic and vigorous and she was into it, for lack of a
3 better word.

4           And, you know, I just wanted to talk to her about
5 his knee. And then on cross-examination, when K.C. was 6 speaking, Mr. Ward was speaking with her, she just -- she just 7 spoke out about the postural changes, about how that would
8 cause lumbar problems, how that would cause cervical problems.
9 I didn't elucidate that testimony. I didn't, you know,
10 manipulate the medical evidence. It -- she -- she ranged on 11 her topics very knowledgeably, and this was one of the topics
12 that she testified to.

13           They have the understanding that that -- that that 14 is part of the [inaudible]. Now you also understand that 15 three months into his treatment he was having tingling in his 16 fingers. And so nothing that he's saying isn't credible. Mr.
17 Ward has spent so many times trying to say, Enrique said that 18 his pain started with the accident.

19           It did start with the accident. Anybody who 20 understands and deals professionally, like we do, with the 21 concept of causation, knows that causation means that it's 22 reasonably foreseeable as a consequence of the action.
23 Different than one of their experts testified, but we can talk
24 about that later.

25           So what do we have? We have Enrique using assistive

1 devices. We have postural changes. We have a great amount of
2 weight that's gained. Nick, his friend, was trying to be nice
3 about it when he said, oh, no, no, he saw the major weight
4 gain come after this accident.

5           That's a nice man, your Clerk knows him. I mean,
6 he's a pillar of the community in Riverside. He is involved
7 in an enormous range of honest, community-minded, non-selfish,
8 non-money grubbing endeavors. And he testified to you from 9 that stand that his friend has changed, will never be the same
10 again, is a completely different person.

11           He still loves him, because he's not the type of 12 person that would abandon his friend. That testimony was 13 honest. And it was not controverted by any video, and it was 14 not controverted by any evidence of pre-existing conditions
15 and it was not controverted by the evidence that Enrique put 16 on to -- into evidence with you.

17           They had a good life. They had a nice life. He had 18 a nice family life, he had nice friends, he had a nice
19 community. He had all of those things that we're searching
20 for so desperately in life and he had them, okay.

21           So who comes next onto the stand that we're talking
22 to? Well -- well, it's not in chronological order for who 23 testifies, but Dr. Tauber. Dr. Tauber flew all the way in 24 from L.A. and Dr. Tauber sat with you and talked about the 25 loose body and talked about the fact that that's a pain

1 generating mechanism, and was really unconscionably surprised
2 by any testimony that purported to be legitimate that said a
3 torn meniscus is not a painful event and spoke to you about
4 his surgery.

5           And then he spoke to you about the fact that
6 something was just going on. He wasn't getting better,
7 Enrique wasn't getting better. Another theme. You know why
8 sometimes you don't get better? Sometimes you don't get 9 better because you have an event that topples you, and when
10 you watch something fall, it falls in pieces from the bottom
11 down. Or up, from the bottom up.

12           And sometimes you don't get better because your
13 disease mechanism is either permanent, or untreatable, or you
14 can't afford to treat it, and that's just not being made
15 available to you. And you heard evidence of all of this. Dr.
16 Tauber explained to you that what he saw was his pain changed
17 from a mechanical nature of pain, which would be the meniscus
18 tear, or the synovitis or the chondromalacia, or the loose
19 body into a burning, horrible sensation.

20           And it rung a bell, it triggered him. And he sent
21 him out for an examination; one, to see if it was a
22 mechanically based pain, so he received injection, didn't get
23 rid of the pain. So it's not mechanical, right? You rule
24 things out. That's what doctors do. That's what a scientific
25 methodology employs, you rule things out.

1           He goes to see Dr. Ferrante. Dr. Ferrante, by the
2 way, is in L.A. He's outside of this manipulation network
3 that perhaps was at one time suggested. He thinks it's a
4 mechanical pain, probably, but possibly RSD. Let's go ahead
5 and rule out the RSD with a lumbar sympathetic block. That's 6 how you do it. That's what you do.

7           It's a specifically a block that hits those nerves
8 which are sympathetic, that all the doctors have described to 9 you. That -- that fight or flight reaction, the pupils
10 dilating, the color changes, the temperature changes, the hair
11 growth, all sympathetic responses.

12           So they send him to Dr. Miller, an expert and very 13 apparently, I don't know him, but well acclaimed doctor in 14 L.A. who performs a lumbar sympathetic block, all right. And 15 it works. That's how you know that there's sympathetically
16 mediated pain. The fact that Enrique never gets better is not 17 true. At that time, his sympathetically mediated pain went 18 away. And then he had a second shot, and it went away. And 19 Dr. Miller noted and came up with a conclusive diagnosis of 20 RSD.

21           And this isn't a fantasy ailment. This is a
22 horrible, painful ailment that came into existence after the 23 Confederate War, when people were getting their legs blown off
24 in great numbers. And people were like very quizzical about 25 why the fact that somebody with no leg could feel pain in his

1 foot. And it began the study of causality that we talked
2 about, went to Walt Canyon. Walt Canyon was an amazing doctor
3 in the 1850s and he began the study of this syndrome. And RSD
4 has a sympathetic component.

5           So he comes back to Nevada. Finally, thank God,
6 there's something that's working for him, are these lumbar
7 sympathetic blocks. And they're painful. You've heard him
8 describe the pain, big needle stuck into your sympathetic
9 nervous system. I don't like needles, so for me, I'm kind of 10 already -- but not a nice thing. Three series of lumbar
11 sympathetic blocks that Enrique is undergoing -- well,
12 apparently and we'll talk about that later because he needs
13 attention, all right.

14           So he goes for the lumbar sympathetic with Dr.
15 Shifini and it doesn't work. And now all hell breaks out. I
16 mean, he is in intractable pain, he's in excruciating pain. I
17 mean, it's been commented on so many times how much he said it
18 hurt. You know why he said it hurt that much? Because it
19 hurt that much. And he's telling his doctors it hurts that 20 much and he's becoming desperate. He's desperately crying out
21 for pain.

22           Now, this pain is nothing knew to him. Now, it's 23 been suggested that early on in September when he first saw 24 Dr. Mortillaro, he already had a chronic pain syndrome, and he 25 was already banging his head against the wall. He had been

1 walking around on a ripped meniscus with chondromalacia for
2 six months. That hurts. That's frustrating. And the only
3 reason he couldn't get it fixed, the evidence has shown you,
4 is because his lawyer couldn't get the job done. And that's
5 not his fault either.

6           So if it's starting to seem like things are working
7 really badly against Enrique, they are. And they are because 8 the Palms Hotel was careless. And that's been established to 9 you as well.

10           So, now what can they do? They put in a spinal cord
11 stimulator. Look again, it works. The two methodologies to 12 get rid of sympathetically mediated pain worked. Enrique
13 never gets better? Yeah, he does get better. He gets better
14 when the problem is addressed, and an RSD, which is now a
15 complex regional pain syndrome because the sympathetic
16 component, as all the doctors testified to, dropped out during 17 the lumbar sympathetic blocks. That's what they expected to 18 see. That's what occurred.

19           So he has the pain stimulator, and it works. And 20 he's still waiting and waiting and waiting to get that pain
21 stimulator.

22           So let's talk about what the doctors said. Shannon,
23 knee caused in the accident, postural changes, he's going to 24 have lumbar and he's going to have cervical problems.

25           Tauber. Tauber said the same thing, that the knee

1 surgeries were caused by the accident, that he had postural
2 changes and was using assistive devices, he's going to get
3 lumbar problems, he's going to get cervical problems.

4 Dr. Shaw was -- Dr. Shaw was moving to me, I don't
5 know. I know people react to emotion in different ways. But
6 Dr. Shaw, back in 11 of '06, said he was going to need lumbar
7 surgery, that there were postural changes that occurred to 8 him.

9 Dr. Shaw, obviously, very much was concerned for 10 Enrique Rodriguez. And I'm supposed to apologize to the Court
11 because he's embarrassed that he cried. But can you imagine
12 the frustration of a doctor who has an oath like we, to 13 protect and to serve and to heal his patients. That's like a
14 mixture of a cop and a doctor, huh.

15 But knowing that there's a cure, seeing that there
16 was a cure, it's consistent with his diagnosis. Remember that 17 Dr. Shaw saw Dr. Miller's records which said he had 18 hyperesthesia, allodynia, modeling of his leg, temperature
19 changes measured scientifically of his leg, color changes,
20 nail changes. All of these things that were five out of six
21 on the guideline for RSD.

22 So Shaw's looking at this, and he can see the kind
23 of pain that Enrique's in. It was a horrible pain and he's 24 sensitive to it. He was a loving guy and he's committed to 25 helping his patients. And he actually teared up on the stand

1 at the frustration he felt that Enrique Rodriguez could not
2 get the pain stimulator to heal his pain.

3 I just ask the Court -- I'm sorry, Enrique -- but I
4 just ask the Court to please try to imagine the frustration
5 Enrique Rodriguez is feeling that he can't -- if it makes this
6 doctor cry, that he can't get the pain stimulator.

7 So, now we hear from Dr. Shifini. Dr. Shifini is a
8 really impressive guy. I found his depth of medical 9 knowledge, even for doctors, to be somewhat extraordinary.

10 And Dr. Shifini conclusively told you he has RSD
11 based upon his examinations, based upon -- and I'm calling it
12 RSD now and I shouldn't. Complex regional pain syndrome.

13 Based upon the whole host of findings that he had,
14 including the fact that the temporary stimulator worked, which 15 is exactly what Dr. Shifini thought would happen.

16 And then Dr. Shifini went through and also explained
17 that there were postural changes and that the assistive
18 devices and that his lumbar pathology was not only 19 foreseeable, but was just going to happen. He concurred with 20 Dr. Shaw, who concurred with Dr. Tauber, who concurred with 21 Dr. Shannon that this was going to happen to Enrique
22 Rodriguez.

23 And Dr. Shifini spoke to you about the costs
24 associated with the future surgeries that he was going to 25 require, helped explain to the Court the medicine in a very

1 scientific way, and really spoke about the fact that Enrique
2 was permanently, horribly injured.

3           Now, think about what's going to happen. If we fix
4 the foundation, if we get the pain stimulator, then he's going
5 to be happier, he's going to move better, he's going to be 6 less restrictive, more active and then we're just going to 7 have to kind of build up.

8           You heard that he's going to need a single layer of 9 fusion to a reasonable degree of probability, and that his 10 neck is going to require shocks to a reasonable degree of 11 probability, and hopefully someday what we can do, and 12 probably someday what we can do, is make him a man again. A
13 happy, productive, associated with other people type of man.

14           So they heard all this evidence, and so they bring
15 in Dr. Becker at this point in time. And Dr. Becker says, no,
16 no, I know I'm in a minority, but because I'm an orthopedic
17 psychiatrist, he said he's better qualified than this host of 18 other doctors, not including the doctors in the medical 19 records. Some of the finest doctors in our community.

20           Dr. Kidwell, a pain specialist from the military.
21 Dr. Shifini, a very bright person there. Dr. Shannon, I think
22 she might be a genius, but don't tell anyone that I said that,
23 you know, educating the Court on the issues. Dr. Shaw, the 24 caring doctor who had the dynamic, dynamic relationship with 25 Enrique.

1           And I didn't even know what to say to that and I
2 didn't respond to it. Dr. Becker said, I'm better qualified
3 than every other doctor in this case, including Dr. Miller, to 4 diagnose RSD.

5           Well, he heard Dr. Tauber, the other [indiscernible]
6 he said, [indiscernible] don't treat RSD, it's a pain
7 management issue, and it is. If you're part of the school of 8 doctors that refers out to professionals and board
9 certifications -- and let's remember, I like Dr. Becker. I
10 think he's a great guy. I want to go see him play the organ.

11           But he was a doctor at a time that none of these
12 other subspecialites existed. He treated like a country
13 doctor with a bag where he treated a whole range and 14 constellation of problems. And, you know, we've seen stuff
15 like that before. Remember, he testified that board
16 management -- that board certification and pain management
17 even existed.

18           Board management and pain -- board certification and 19 pain management exists because we've learned. We've 20 developed, we've -- we've increased the profession and where 21 we're going with it. And those are the guys that treat and 22 diagnose RSD, not a orthopedic psychiatrist, which incidently,
23 I've never [indiscernible].

24           Okay. So what's their last chance, all right? Dr.
25 Becker, with all respect, had to admit on the stand that his

1 emotional ability was part of the chronic pain syndrome. You
2 heard that from everybody. That his tendency to focus on
3 pain, that somatization, which is not the DSM, but which is 4 part of chronic pain syndrome, that that -- that that's part
5 of the chronic pain syndrome and was entirely consistent.

6           That each and every one of Enrique Rodriguez's
7 complaints was entirely consistent with the medicine, entirely
8 consistent with the diagnoses that the doctors came up with.

9           You know, they came up with a diagnosis of RSD,
10 because he had all the signs of RSD. They spoke about the 11 fact that a bone scan is one of many, many different things
12 that you look at, but is not diagnostic of RSD. So if you
13 have six signs, and one not there, there's a diagnosis of RSD.
14 Your hypothesis is supported by the scientific evidence.

15           Now, they must have jumped when they saw in Dr.
16 Mortillaro's report, where they talked in the Behavioral Study
17 2, that it was either a desperate cry for pain, that it was 18 maybe secondary gain motives, pain magnification, and put to 19 credibility questions with respect to Enrique Rodriguez. You
20 know why? It's because they don't understand the test.

21           The test itself, as Dr. Mortillaro talked about and 22 even Dr. Becker talked about with his red flags, raised his 23 red flags. And so then you go and look for clinical 24 correlation.

1           So let's see what the clinical correlation was at 2 that time. He might be someone desperately crying out for
3 pain. Well, hell yeah. Anyone would be, okay?

4           He started with two knee surgeries, a bunch of shots
5 to his back, some of which worked, that didn't work. A
6 procedure, a pain procedure to put in a stimulator which he
7 was being checked for at the time of Mr. Mortillaro's report.

8           Had been limping around in pain for three years,
9 nobody's giving him any answers. The lawyers aren't getting
10 this stuff done. He's not getting the treatment that he needs
11 and he is desperately crying out for help. And all those 12 other things, as Dr. Mortillaro told you, were ruled out with 13 the objective findings, the findings from Dr. Miller, the 14 findings from Dr. Shannon.

15           I didn't understand what Mr. Ward was trying to say
16 when he was cross-examining Dr. Mortillaro and asked, "And 17 those pain complaints didn't go away, didn't go away, after he 18 had that very pristine, great surgery from Dr. Shannon."

19           Come on. I mean, if -- things need to be looked at 20 in context and in a truthful, scientific matter. The pain
21 didn't go away, because there are loose bodies in his knees,
22 the torn meniscus, synovitis and chondromalacia. Would you
23 expect pain to go away under those circumstances?

24           So these -- these are what his themes have been.
25 First, Enrique Rodriguez wasn't hurt in this accident. Well,

1 that's blown out of the water by his own doctors and by
2 everyone else. Enrique Rodriguez's pain just doesn't go away.
3 Sure it does, when he gets a pain stimulator. That's when his
4 pain goes away.

5 Enrique Rodriguez is inconsistent in his -- in his
6 reporting. Enrique Rodriguez has the most consistent
7 reporting that I've ever seen in medical records. There's 8 thousands of pages of medical records in front of you and 9 there's like, what, three inconsistencies, four 10 inconsistencies that have been pointed out over six years?
11 That is not inconsistent reporting. That's something that you
12 talk about and point to when you're trying to hide the ball
13 and misdirect and not attack something face on honestly and 14 truthfully by looking at the science and the people who are 15 supporting the science and the conclusions that the scientists
16 have reached.

17 And I'm going on about it, and I'll stop. But all
18 the scientists who are involved in his treatment, people in 19 two different states, people who knew each other and didn't 20 know each other have concluded a few things. And I'll just 21 enumerate them.

22 One is, Enrique's knee was hurt mechanically in this
23 accident. Two, that Enrique's knee was hurt neurogenically in 24 this accident. Three, that that neurogenic injury resulted in 25 a regional pain syndrome that was sympathetic, that then

1 became a regional pain syndrome that was not sympathetic.
2 Four, stimulators work on that. Five, because of the 3 assistive devices, the weight gain and the postural changes
4 supported by that whole big X-ray that was such a big deal,
5 where the doctors talked about biomechanical changes due to 6 postural changes, are going to make his back hurt, and are
7 going to make his neck hurt. And then very consistent
8 testimony, again, by doctors on a broad range that we can fix
9 it. We can fix it if given the opportunity.

10           So let me go over the computation of damages with 11 you and have I brought that to the bench already?

12           THE COURT: Yes.

13           MR. BAKER: This -- what we did, Your Honor, is --
14 and I might attach this as an exhibit with the Court's
15 permission. It's not typically an exhibit, but I think it
16 will help you do a faster -- not faster for us, but then you
17 don't have to dig through every exhibit.

18           The past medical expenses that we put in evidence,
19 what we did is, we backed out the C-Pap and the respiratory
20 type of things which -- I don't know. And the total amount of 21 medicals in evidence are $376,773.38.

22           The future medical expenses, each of which were
23 discounted to present dollar value by Terry Dinneen are $9,059
24 -- $959,227. And I put below on the footnotes the exhibits
25 that those were admitted for the Court's -- should I say Rob

1 put them there for the Court's convenience.

2 The fusion, pre-fusion diagnostics and the knee
3 replacement is $686,392. The discography that was put in
4 through -- I think it was one --

5 MR. CARDENAS: Dr. Kidwell.

6 MR. BAKER: Dr. Tauber --

7 MR. CARDENAS: Kidwell.

8 MR. BAKER: Kidwell? Was $10,000. Medications and 9 supply needs, was the $199,119.

10 And let's talk about the future loss of earnings for 11 a second because I skipped over that.

12 Terry Dinneen was a vocational rehabilitation expert
13 and a forensic economist, came in to you. And it was such 14 honest testimony. Again, it was nice to see.

15 And he said, yeah, I do have not so much paperwork
16 to go on. Enrique is not a paperwork guy. There are people
17 who are like that. I'm not a paperwork guy. If it wasn't for 18 my wife and my cousin Andy, I'd never file my taxes, okay.

19 And he said, okay, I looked at this, and then I
20 averaged this. Okay, now averages are recognized in the 21 scientific community and the mathematical community, all over
22 the place. And I came up with a number. But, you know, I
23 couldn't be so sure of the number because there was not enough
24 information in front of me to be sure about the number.

25 And you know what? He could have come in and

1 testified on the Weid Steel Doctrine [phonetic], that your
2 last year of employment and income is what you use to project
3 future income, but I'm not going to come into your court with
4 that. That's not real, and that's not true, and it's not fair
5 and you'd have seen right through it.

6           So he took an average and then he cross-validated
7 it, twice, okay. Two times cross-validation. He went into
8 the ERI, which is the database that he told you about, for 9 people with employment abilities from different levels. And
10 he went into the Department of Labor records with respect --
11 and his number was the medium. He gave you a number that was 12 a little above the medium of $47,000 a year.

13           Now, I don't know how you do a more valid,
14 scientific methodology than to do an average, and then do two 15 layers. And remember, each of those was -- it's a different
16 story, but each of those validators serves as a separate whole
17 set of validators, and then it's cross-validated with each
18 other.

19           So it goes A to B, A to C, C to B, in that kind of 20 way. And it's a cross-validation. That's very much within 21 any accepted scientific methodology, and so he can opine to a
22 reasonable degree of probability about what Enrique
23 Rodriguez's damages are.

24           And let's look about what he based his testimony on.
25 Enrique Rodriguez, although Dr. Becker who didn't know it

1 until the day he was sitting there, was permanently disabled
2 by the Social Security Department, based upon a series of
3 interviews -- well, perhaps not a series of interviews, but
4 based upon a review of the medical records and the interview
5 process to meet a definition of disability that is extremely 6 hard to meet.

7           You want a good piece of evidence? The Federal
8 Government that doesn't want to pay for anybody found Enrique
9 Rodriguez to be disabled. Really, at a certain point, it
10 becomes mountainous.

11           And so Dr. Mortillaro explained to you that he did
12 not look at Enrique as somebody who was looking for attention,
13 that wasn't really disabled, that had a fictitious complaint,
14 that had a somatization disorder. That he's a guy who's hurt
15 and he was crying out for help.

16           And so how -- how do you calculate his general
17 damages? I always have trouble with that, because there are 18 examples that I would use with a jury that I don't think hold
19 here.

20           This is what I do know, is that the evidence that
21 was presented said that Enrique was happy before this
22 accident, had a great relationship with a great woman before
23 this accident, was involved in his community, enjoyed children
24 throughout his life, played with his friends, for lack of a
25 better way of saying it and he had balance.

1           And he had balance. And he just worked kind of to
2 have enough money to ride for a while, and then worked and got
3 more money, and was able to do that because he was successful
4 in the labor market and knew what he was doing.

5           And that sort of balance, it balanced with his
6 family. I mean, seven, nine brothers and sisters, still hung
7 out with his parents. And to suggest at any point in time
8 that this is a guy who has undergone six years of needles and 9 surgeries and doctors and lawyers, to abstract from that
10 environment is absurd. It's ridiculous, it's not truthful,
11 it's not fair and shouldn't be said.

12           There is a philosopher that I liked a lot when I was 13 growing up. His name is Mortimer Adler. And he described as 14 part of his philosophy that the good is pleasure in the 15 absence of pain. And the Court's probably familiar enough to 16 know that I ascribe to that kind of philosophy. That's what's 17 good. And before this incident at the Palms, Enrique had a
18 good life. That's what all the testimony is. You haven't
19 seen one bit of testimony that would suggest anything better.
20 So what do you pay -- what do you pay to replace that?

21           I mean, the Court has a lot of experience with it.
22 And, again, I have no real basis to say, but is $5 million too
23 much to pay for the life of a man? Is $5 million too much to 24 take something that was essentially just good and making it
25 not only nightmarishly awful, but where it requires a

1 desperate cry for pain -- or for help? It's hard for me, and
2 I think what I'll do is I'll leave that to the Court's
3 determination.

4           So I would suggest that maybe the total damages that
5 exist in the case are those that we put in for you with 6 plaintiff's computation of damages. Your Honor, I'd actually 7 ask that it be marked and admitted as an exhibit for your
8 consideration.

9           THE COURT: Very well.

10           MR. BAKER: Rob, do we know what these total add up
11 to? All of the past special damages?

12                           (Pause in the proceedings)

13           MR. BAKER: No? If I were to look at it, Your 14 Honor, it's about a million three there, two million -- it's 15 about $3.1 million, it looks like, Your Honor, of total past
16 special damages.

17           And with pain and suffering in this case, not to 18 mention any other types of damages that the Court might 19 address, you know, I'd respectfully ask the Court for 7 or $8
20 million dollars to compensate Enrique Rodriguez for what he's 21 gone through, for the pain he's suffered in the past, for the 22 surgeries he's going to have to have in the future which 23 include the spinal cord stimulator, a lumbar fusion,
24 injections to his lumbar spine and his neck. It's even been
25 suggested that he should have a gastric bypass.

1 I don't think this case was ever taken very
2 seriously. And I suggest to you it's the most serious type of 3 case, because the injuries not only are horrible, but the 4 consequence on a good man are beyond repair.

5 Let me ask Rob if I've forgotten anything, Your
6 Honor.

7 (Pause in the proceedings)

8 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Okay, thank you, Mr. Baker.

10 Oh, is this -- do we only have the one copy?

11 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry, Your Honor?

12 THE COURT: Do you have another copy of this item,
13 Mr. Baker?

14 MR. BAKER: Did I forget about that one?

15 THE COURT: Okay, Mr. Ward, whenever you're ready,
16 sir.

17 MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor. We had a chance
18 to try to see if things would go up --

19 Okay. I'm going to want to show some things and I
20 don't know if we've got things working. So if we can figure
21 that out while I get started?

22 THE COURT: Let's take about a five-minute break and 23 allow you to do that then, Mr. Ward.

24 MR. WARD: Sure, sure.

25 (Recess from 1:59 p.m. to 2:10 p.m.)

1 THE COURT: Please be seated.

2 MR. WARD: Your Honor, I would like to ask as a
3 matter of court protocol, I have several references to 4 testimony that was offered during this trial that I would
5 propose to intersperse in my final argument. With the Court's
6 agreement, I want to make sure that I cleared that ahead of 7 time, if that's acceptable or not acceptable protocol.

8 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

9 MR. BAKER: I'm not understanding. You're just -- 10 you want to talk sometimes and show movies sometimes?

11 MR. WARD: Yeah.

12 THE COURT: Oh, I see. You mean, run clips of the 13 actual trial testimony?

14 MR. WARD: Right.

15 THE COURT: Yeah, I think that's acceptable.

16 MR. WARD: Okay.

17 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, before -- and not to 18 interrupt, could I attach with my last exhibit -- what we did,
19 as well, is we put the exhibit number where the medical bills
20 could be found. And I think that I did not give you that. I
21 just gave you the computation with damages. Is that right?

22 THE COURT: Yes.

23 MR. BAKER: May I attach that as part of that 24 exhibit?

25 THE COURT: Yes.

1 MR. BAKER: K.C., it's just this.

2 MR. WARD: Right. Your Honor, what I'm assuming
3 here is that it would be perfectly acceptable for Mr. Baker to 4 get up and write it on a piece of paper, and instead of doing
5 that, he's put it on a small piece of paper in a legible
6 format. And so it would have that same effect.

7 I just want to note, I don't have any objection to 8 it. That's fine.

9 THE COURT: Very well.

10 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

11 THE CLERK: Is she -- does Judge have a copy?

12 THE COURT: No, I don't.

13 MR. BAKER: Can I get that for you?

14 THE COURT: If you have one. Otherwise -- oh, thank 15 you, Mr. Cardenas.

16 MR. CARDENAS: Hey, no problem, Judge.

17 THE COURT: Thank you.

18 Okay. Whenever you're ready, Mr. Ward.

19 MR. WARD: Yes, Your Honor. Thank you.

20 DEFENDANT'S CLOSING ARGUMENT

21 MR. WARD: If it please the Court, and we appreciate
22 Your Honor's attention to this case that we've been here. And 23 I will try to make this reasonably short and reasonably
24 succinct.

1 I'm not going to spend my time addressing those
2 issues that were raised in Mr. Baker's argument, about what he
3 claims that I said. We know how this works, and so I'm not
4 going to spend a lot of time addressing the fact that he says
5 that I called his client, fat, which I did not.

6 But we are here, clearly, as a result of an incident
7 that occurred on the evening of November 22, 2004. With 8 respect to the events of that evening, Mr. Rodriguez has told
9 us that the event happened something like this.

10 He said he was watching the football game and there
11 were people there who were periodically throwing items into 12 the crowd. He said that it happened five or six times over
13 the period of an hour that he was there.

14 I submit to the Court that Mr. Rodriguez has made
15 two statements about that and both have been here in the court
16 and admitted into evidence from other people. One statement
17 was he thought it was really dangerous and he was upset about 18 the fact that it wasn't stopped. The other statement was that 19 he was watching the football game and he didn't even notice
20 what was going on.

21 I submit to the Court the statement that he gave to 22 Dr. Mortillaro, that he thought it was dangerous and that it
23 should be stopped, that if in fact that's what he really
24 thought, I don't understand why he didn't, either, number one,
25 try to get somebody to stop it or simply leave.

1           He apparently stopped in to watch a football game.
2 There were lots of televisions in Las Vegas, in particular,
3 they have televisions at Harrah's where his wife was staying
4 that night.

5           When Mr. Franklin was here, Mr. Franklin was asked a
6 question on cross-examination in a hypothetical context and 7 essentially said, if there's a rule and somebody knows about
8 the rule and they violate it, aren't they -- isn't that
9 intentional disregard of the rule.

10           And Mr. Franklin agreed under those circumstances
11 that that would be intentional disregard of the rule, but Mr.
12 Franklin did not say that -- that this would be intentional
13 disregard of safety of people. He did not say that.

14           What Mr. Franklin said was that something that 15 everybody knows, because one of the things that -- one of the 16 things that experts are here to offer, is they are here to 17 offer things to assist the Court, to assist the finder of 18 fact, in things that are not everyday knowledge.

19           And where the line crosses, and perhaps there's no
20 need for the expert of Mr. Franklin, is that everybody knows
21 that throwing items, promotional items into the crowd goes on 22 all the time everywhere. That it's not an unusual situation
23 and it's something that still goes on today. We see it at 24 basketball games, we see it at football games and we see it
25 all kinds of places, and it's accepted by people. And

1 presumably if the people don't like it, they leave. I don't
2 think that there's anything that is highly unusual about that
3 conduct.

4 I submit to Your Honor that the common knowledge
5 also is -- and this is something that we will address later --
6 the common knowledge is just because you set up a higher
7 standard for yourself or for your employees does not in and of 8 itself, while it certainly is evidence and can be considered
9 in and of itself, doesn't set the bar.

10 On the evening in question, Mr. Rodriguez testified
11 that the item that was being thrown was already on the floor.
12 He testified that after the item was on the floor, something
13 which came as a surprise to him, and presumably a surprise to 14 everyone else that was there, a woman who had been seated got 15 up out of her chair and then took a headlong dive to try to 16 get this bottle that was lying on the floor.

17 Why she did that, who knows. Mr. Rodriguez
18 explained that he couldn't anticipate it, and it came as a
19 surprise to him and presumably a surprise to everybody else.
20 And she wasn't trying to catch it because it was already on 21 the floor.

22 Now, Your Honor, the -- most of the time of this
23 trial has been spent talking about injuries and damages. It
24 is not been spent talking about liability. And so I want to 25 spend most of my time that I have here today talking about

1 injuries and damages. And the reason I want to talk about
2 injuries and damages is that I want to point out that most of
3 the injuries and damages have the connectivity to the incident
4 of November 22, through the testimony of the plaintiff.
5 That's the connection between the Palms, which is over here,
6 and the damages which are over there.

7 Now, Dr. Becker's report is in evidence, and it is
8 clear from Dr. Becker's report that he's not saying he didn't 9 get hurt. He is testifying -- he wrote his report and he's 10 testifying about the injuries that, in his opinion, may be 11 related to the event, and injuries that may not be related to 12 the event.

13 One of the things I talked about in my opening
14 statement, and is still in evidence, the people referred to 15 it, was an MRI. And that was an MRI of the knee, and that MRI
16 of the knee said that there was no torn meniscus.

17 Now, Dr. Shannon, I think, was the first live
18 witness, talked about the fact that when she looked inside the 19 knee, she could see a torn meniscus. I certainly do not in 20 any way question the credibility of Dr. Shannon, nor does Dr.
21 Becker. So when Dr. Shannon says there's a torn meniscus,
22 there's a torn meniscus.

23 The one consideration here is that the MRI was taken
24 January 28th, '05, and the surgery, when Dr. Shannon was 25 looking at this meniscus, was approximately October, maybe it

1 was September, I think it was October. I don't have all these
2 dates in my mind.

3 MR. BAKER: October.

4 MR. WARD: Thank you. And so when she was looking
5 at the knee, she was not looking at the knee in the same time
6 frame as the MRI. The MRI was substantially before that. So
7 it's not necessarily a conflict.

8 However, Dr. Shannon said in her opinion she thought
9 it was related to -- related to the accident. And that was --
10 that was her testimony and that was her opinion from the 11 witness stand and so we didn't question it.

12 What she did say, however, though, is she said you
13 cannot date the meniscus. In other words, when you're in 14 there looking inside the knee and you see a tear, you can't 15 tell, did it happen yesterday, did it happen the day before,
16 did it happen the day before that, did it happen 10 months
17 before, whenever did it happen because at the time she's 18 operating on him, she is approximately 11 months after this 19 accident happened.

20 Now, the significance of that, Your Honor, is that
21 what she says is, it's history. She makes the causal
22 diagnosis based on history. She said, I was told that there
23 was no event other than 11/22/05. I'm looking at a torn
24 meniscus in October -- 11/22/04. At least I didn't say '74.
25 11/22/04. She's looking at it in October of '05, and she

1 says, I was told this was the only event, I see a tear, and
2 therefore it's related. In my opinion, it's related.

3 We accept that. That's her opinion. What she also
4 said, however, if Your Honor remembers is, she said there were 5 a number of other knee issues that were not related, that were 6 not traumatic, that were degenerative, pre-existing
7 degenerative.

8 Now, there are a couple of issues here -- and I'll
9 try not to jump around too much, but I want to go back to this 10 issue of the relationship of the injury and all of those 11 things. Because what Dr. Shannon says, is that in her
12 opinion, because there is no other -- no other explanation for 13 it, that the torn meniscus that she saw in October is related
14 to the accident.

15 Now, what you heard from both, Dr. Shannon and Dr.
16 Becker, is that you could look in the photographs, you could 17 see what a good job she did. What Dr. Becker said was that 18 when she was done with the surgery, his knee was better than 19 it was before the accident. But his knee was not hardly 20 perfect before the accident. His -- he had -- he had a number
21 of degenerative changes that pre-existed the accident.

22 Now, he didn't get any relief. He had pain
23 immediately thereafter. Now, the argument is, well, he had 24 pain immediately thereafter because he had a torn meniscus and 25 because he had a loose body and he had a bunch of things.

1           He didn't have a torn meniscus and he didn't have a
2 loose body and he didn't have a bunch of things on the day
3 after the surgery. On the day after the surgery, he had a
4 nice clean knee. He did have surgical wounds that needed some
5 time to repair, but the testimony of Dr. Becker specifically
6 -- and I don't remember if Dr. Shannon dealt with this
7 specifically, but certainly if she did, I didn't hear anything
8 that was contradictory -- is that in this kind of instance
9 where you have an arthroscopic knee surgery, that you expect
10 that the patient is going to be, in a few days, because 11 there's some swelling, there's some invasion, there's a bunch
12 of stuff, but within a few days, they're going to begin to 13 recover. And they're going to begin to get better. And it
14 may be a three, four, five or six week process. They may need
15 more physical therapy, but they're going to begin to get
16 better.

17           Dr. Shannon said, and Dr. Becker said, there may 18 come a time when a few -- a relatively small percentage of 19 these people need another surgery, but that's not until later.
20 That's something that develops.

21           First of all, there's some healing. And in this
22 case, there wasn't any. There -- when I say there wasn't 23 healing, there was healing, but there wasn't any cessation of 24 the pain complaints. The complaints were the same as they had 25 always been, to the extent that Dr. Shannon was concerned

1 enough about it that she said, in effect, I don't know why
2 he's complaining of pain.

3           Now, she's an experience orthopedic surgeon. She's 4 dealt with a lot of knee surgeries, and she's done the 5 surgery, and she's looked at the inside of his knee and she 6 can't figure out why he's complaining, why he has pain, why he 7 is still complaining of pain of 8 out of 10 on a scale of --
8 8 on a scale of 10.

9           And so what she does, essentially, because he's 10 complaining so much about the pain -- and she doesn't say
11 anything about chronic pain syndrome at this point. He's 12 dealing with a meniscus. He's dealing with a meniscus that's 13 been torn and needs to be surgically repaired.

14           And so she undertakes an MRI. Now, her complaint --
15 and I accept her complaint, that the original MRI she said was 16 a low resolution, in her estimation, and you can't read it
17 very well, and therefore, her opinion about what she saw in 18 the surgery is more -- is in her opinion carries a greater
19 weight than this -- than this low resolution MRI. I accept 20 that. She's the doctor. If that's what she says and that's 21 what she believes, and I certainly have faith in her judgment,
22 then I accept that.

23           But this MRI was not a low resolution. This MRI was 24 an MRI that she ordered from the place that she thinks is 25 appropriate to send them to. And it wasn't just an MRI, it

1 was an MRI with contrast. So now we have a high resolution
2 MRI, with contrast, that if there's a problem in there, it
3 should show up, and it doesn't show up. It doesn't show up.

4 And so she says, I don't understand. I can't figure
5 out, I don't -- I look at this and I see that there's -- that
6 the pain complaints are just as much as they always were. I
7 don't find anything here, I don't understand.

8 Well, what happens is, Mr. Rodriguez never goes
9 back. Mr. Rodriguez now goes to another orthopedist, and ends
10 up this time with Dr. Tauber.

11 Now, Dr. Tauber, once again, offers the opinion that 12 when he does surgery, that he finds a meniscal tear and he 13 finds a loose body. Now, we know that the meniscal tear was 14 repaired by Dr. Shannon. So, I'm not sure what we're to 15 believe here. If we're to believe that Dr. Shannon did a
16 really poor job, I'm not prepared to believe that.

17 I think Dr. Shannon didn't do a really poor job. I
18 think what happens here and I -- Dr. Tauber was a surgeon. If 19 he found a meniscal tear, I accept the fact that he found a
20 meniscal tear. But once again, he's not looking at this the 21 same day that she's looking at the MRI. He's looking at it
22 six months later.

23 Now, here's the problem, Your Honor, that comes up
24 in this case. And I want to do an aside here, because there
25 are a number of issues that come up -- that have come up with

1 respect to this case, and the damages, and the linkup of those
2 damages from the accident, to the damages.

3           Now, I submit to Your Honor that proof is a -- proof
4 is a very interesting thing. People -- people are always
5 asking about proof. And when I was in law school, I was 6 trying to figure out what proof was, and lots of people talk
7 about it. And it's -- I think it's probably one of those 8 things you can see it when you see it.

9           But I've always felt about proof is kind of like if
10 somebody tells you something and you believe it, then you
11 prove it. And if somebody tells you something and you don't 12 believe it, then you didn't prove it. And I'm not sure that 13 there's anything that's much more quantifiable than that.

14           Now, I'd like to give an example. The example
15 happened yesterday. When I was introducing my -- or trying to 16 introduce my expert's supplemental report, Mr. Baker got up
17 and said it was never served on him. So here we have a
18 situation where I'm trying to introduce a supplemental report,
19 he says it was never served on him. I say, I think it was.

20           Now, if we stop there, what's the proof? Well, if I
21 simply said to Your Honor, I served it on Mr. Baker, my 22 expectation is, you'd probably believe that; until Mr. Baker
23 gets up and says, I never got it. Now, there's a question
24 raised and my simply saying I served it on him. It needs
25 more, in terms of proof, needs more.

1           Now, fortunately, we were able to pull up and print
2 out and show a copy of our service signed by me on October 5,
3 and showed the proof of service which answered that question
4 that it had, in fact, been served on Mr. Baker. And Mr. Baker
5 then accepted the fact that it had been served on him, and
6 despite the fact that he had never seen it -- I'm not 7 suggesting any ill will.

8           MR. BAKER: [Indiscernible].

9           MR. WARD: He got up and said he hadn't seen it.
10 I'm not accusing him of anything nefarious. I'm just trying 11 to use this as an example.

12           And -- but so we went from something that would be
13 relatively complicated, to something that is relatively easy,
14 in that, in a manner of minutes we sort of answered this 15 issue, was it served on Mr. Baker? Yes, it was served on Mr.
16 Baker. We're done, we can go on to that -- we can go on to 17 other kinds of things.

18           But that's -- to me, that's an example of the kind
19 of things that comes up, and came up consistently in this 20 case, except what happened oftentimes in this case is that no
21 one produced the document. No one produced the information to 22 answer the question. Instead, what we got was quite a bit of 23 well, let's just ignore it. Let's just -- let's just forget
24 about that.

25 //

1           So we have Dr. Tauber, who sees a tear. And where
2 did we start with? We started in this case with a whole bunch
3 of statements. And they are statements that are replete in 4 the records. And the statement -- one of the statements that
5 is replete in the records is that Mr. Rodriguez told a number
6 of people that before this accident, he weighed 180 pounds.

7           He was in great shape and he was a bodybuilder. He 8 was -- he ran, he weighed 180 pounds. And now, as a result of 9 this accident and all the horrible things had happened to him
10 in this accident, that one of the things that had happened is 11 he gained a lot of weight.

12           We all have differing weight challenges. And for 13 some people it's really hard to lose weight. And I'm 14 certainly aware of that problem, and I'm sympathetic to that 15 problem, and I'm not trying to say that Mr. Rodriguez is fat
16 like counsel suggested I said.

17           What I'm trying to raise, Your Honor, is that this 18 -- this is a situation in which not only was he overweight at 19 225 pounds, but he was -- he had been at that weight for many 20 years.

21           And so we have two situations here. This weight is 22 approximately 75 pounds -- even at that weight, is 23 approximately 75 pounds too heavy. As essentially all of the 24 doctors who were asked have testified, that is really hard on 25 your knees. That is really hard on your back. And so there's

1 been a suggestion that every single complaint that he's had,
2 not the asthma, but every complaint related to his back and a
3 whole bunch of other things, must be all a result of this
4 accident.

5 Well, we know -- we know this tear that Dr. Tauber
6 found wasn't present when Dr. Shannon did her surgery, and 7 certainly wasn't present the year before. So we know that
8 that's a tear that happened after this first surgery.

9 What else did Dr. Tauber say? Dr. Tauber said he
10 found a loose foreign body. Now, what did Dr. Tauber say
11 about loose foreign bodies? But first, before I tell you what 12 Dr. -- or remind you what Dr. Tauber said, I would like to -- 13 I think we have what Dr. Becker said about that? Do we have 14 that? Most of these clips are very short, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: That's fine.

16 MR. BAKER: I like clips.

17 MR. WARD: And for the record, before we play it,
18 Dr. Becker's is from November 5, 2010 at 11:09 a.m.

19 (Videotape played)

20 MR. WARD: And Dr. Tauber said at -- that same day
21 at 3:12 p.m.

22 (Videotape played)

23 MR. BAKER: But that's in the middle of a sentence.

24 MR. WARD: That's true [inaudible].

25 So both -- both Dr. Becker and Dr. Tauber said that

1 a loose body in and of itself doesn't cause pain. And so the
2 loose body would not be the explanation for why the patient
3 continued to have pain after Dr. Shannon did the surgery on 4 him.

5           The other thing Dr. Tauber said is that -- is that
6 this loose body, in his opinion, would be something that broke
7 off from the -- from inside the knee, somewhere along the 8 line, he didn't know exactly when, but he said it would start
9 very small.

10           And then it would -- as it picked up fluid, it would
11 get bigger. Well, he's seeing the patient six months after 12 this surgery. So it makes perfect sense that on the day he 13 saw the patient and looked inside the knee, that he saw this 14 loose body that was fairly significant in size on that day as 15 he testified that it would get bigger.

16           But that -- that isn't even -- that was the size of 17 it -- and clearly, by his testimony, that wasn't the size of 18 it after Dr. Shannon did the surgery.

19           Now, one of the things that happens is, we have --
20 in this case, we have had the -- the -- an opportunity for the 21 plaintiff to make some pain drawings. And the very first pain
22 drawing we have goes back to -- okay, this is -- this actually
23 is not from the patient, but this is a pain drawing or chart
24 from Dr. Heaps on the night of the accident.

25 //

1           And, as Your Honor can see from here, the diagram
2 shows pain on the inner aspect of the left knee and that's the 3 only notation.

4           Now, the next time we have a pain drawing is -- this
5 one is from Rancho Physical Therapy. Now, Rancho Physical 6 Therapy is where he went after he was seen by Dr. Nork. He
7 was seen by Dr. Nork on December 6th, and started seeing
8 Rancho Physical Therapy on December 8.

9           And this, in fact, is the patient's pain drawing
10 that the patient actually put on there and was asked to list
11 the areas where he has pain and he put his knee.

12           I would like to contrast that to a pain drawing that 13 he did about a year later. Whoops, let's go -- if we've got 14 these in order. Do we have a date on that? Okay, this is 15 1/24/05, and we still have a knee is the only thing that's put
16 on there. So at this point, we are two months and two days
17 post-accident and the only complaint that's being made is the 18 knee.

19           And the date on that is what? This is 2/14/05, it's 20 a little bit small, but you can see that the only -- the only
21 notation on there is the left knee.

22           And this is 3/28/05, and the only notation is the 23 left knee. So we are now four months post-accident, and the 24 only notation being made here is the left knee.

1 surgeon. Interestingly, here, that Dr. Thalgott, who said
2 unequivocally he would not operate on this person's back, and
3 did not come to testify. Instead the anesthesiologist, the
4 testimony about surgery came from two anesthesiologists and a
5 neurologist.

6           And Dr. Thalgott said, and it's in his records which
7 are in evidence, Dr. Thalgott saw the patient approximately a
8 year and a half post-accident. And he wrote in his report
9 that all of the things that he was seeing the patient for were 10 causally related to the accident.

11           And as several doctors testified, if you're going to 12 determine that something is causally related to the accident,
13 you have to know what it is. I mean, for example, if you --
14 if somebody says, well, I -- when I -- I drove -- I was 15 driving into my garage at home, and I ran into my kid's
16 bicycle as I was pulling my car forward, and the dent is in 17 the trunk. You're going to say, wait a minute, that doesn't 18 make sense.

19           So you have to know what happened to be able to 20 accurately form a conclusion as to whether there is a causal
21 relationship.

22           And so if you take a look Dr. Thalgott's records and 23 see what information he was given, upon which he based his 24 opinion, he talks about that the patient has neck and back and 25 knee symptoms and that the patient had had these symptoms for

1 a year and a half.

2 Well, we know from the record that he hadn't had
3 them for a year and a half. And yet, that information was 4 never provided to Dr. Thalgott. So we have a whole bunch of 5 information here that relates to causation between the 6 accident and the injury, that is within the testimony of the 7 plaintiff, because that's where Dr. Thalgott got his 8 information. That's where all these doctors got the 9 information.

10 The ones who appeared and testified said they don't
11 get all the records. Mr. Mortillaro said if he does a 12 forensic analysis, that he would get all the records and he
13 would look at all these things and see if they all fit
14 together, but he doesn't do that for his regular patients.
15 And so we have a situation in which Dr. Thalgott is forming 16 opinions based on things that he's been told that aren't 17 accurate.

18 We have Dr. Kidwell doing exactly the same thing.
19 And if you look at all of these doctors, every one of these
20 doctors was told that the symptoms of the neck and the back
21 had been there from the day of the accident.

22 So when we -- when they're confronted with that, the 23 response is simply, well, we'll just ignore that. We'll just 24 ignore that. We won't explain that away, we'll just ignore
25 the fact that the -- oh, by the way, I know what, the

1 symptoms, they must have -- they must have come from the gait
2 problems. That must be what it is. It must be gait problems
3 that are causing this. The gait problems in the patient who
4 Dr. Shannon said at length and everybody else has testified,
5 is very inactive. This patient is very inactive.

6           Now, some of these things may well have caused --
7 come from the gait problems. However, that's not what Dr.
8 Thalgott is saying in his analysis. He's saying, these
9 symptoms started the day of the accident. And these symptoms
10 didn't start the day of the accident. And the argument has 11 been, well, but my knee hurts so bad, I didn't know about any 12 of the other things.

13           Dr. Shannon makes it clear that there is a
14 phenomenon that exists that when someone has a traumatic
15 injury, that one particular symptom may take priority over the 16 other. We don't question that that is a valid situation, that 17 that -- that can happen.

18           But she didn't say, you wouldn't figure it out until 19 a year later. She didn't say that. She said that if a good
20 doctor was doing an examination, that they would listen to 21 those kind of -- those kinds of issues.

22           But more importantly, if we look at all of these 23 pain drawings, these are -- most of them are in the hands of 24 the patient. Some of them are in the hands of the doctor
25 asking about these issues.

1           So, what else do we know? What we know is, and we
2 know this from Dr. Becker, and we know this from the other
3 people that looked at his back, and I don't think Dr. Shannon
4 was one of those. What we know is that this is a person with 5 a degenerative back condition.

6           He has multiple levels of degenerative conditions
7 that are of long standing, that are not traumatic, and are 8 part of the process that none of us like to admit that we're 9 getting a little older and that we are -- our back may be 10 beginning to give us problems, but it is especially aggravated
11 by being 75 pounds overweight. And that causes stresses and 12 continuation of problems and beginning of problems in the 13 back.

14           We haven't heard anything about that. We haven't
15 heard anything that's attributable to these things. All we've 16 heard is, well, he didn't have it before, and he had it
17 afterward, and therefore it must be related. But it simply 18 doesn't fit with the symptoms.

19           Now, it has always been my feeling that -- that the 20 trier of fact should not have to be Sherlock Holmes. The 21 trier of fact should have an opportunity to have evidence
22 presented and not have to be -- try to decode things and try
23 to figure out what's there.

24           And in Dr. -- Dr. Becker's report, you will see a
25 reference to the records from Magnolia Clinic. And Dr. Becker

1 says in his report, which is in evidence, that the patient was
2 seen at Magnolia Clinic before the accident for sleep apnea.

3 And so I asked Mr. Rodriguez didn't he have sleep
4 apnea before this accident because he was saying that sleep
5 apnea was one of the things that he had as a result of this 6 accident. And I asked him on October 26 at 3:25 p.m. and 7 here's what he said.

8 (Videotape played)

9 MR. WARD: And so then I asked him about his 10 treatment at Magnolia where the record show that he was 11 diagnosed with sleep apnea and here's what he said about that 12 on October 26 at 3:25.

13 (Videotape played)

14 MR. WARD: Now, we were talking about some of the 15 issues and I asked these questions because there is so much
16 that's related to accepting the representations that have been 17 made.

18 And one of the things that Dr. Shannon talked about 19 is that when she did -- when she did her surgery on him, that 20 she did special precautions, because he had had a prior
21 pulmonary embolus. And she wanted to make sure that she did
22 what needed to be done about the pulmonary embolus. And 23 here's what Dr. Shannon said on October 24 at 4:44 p.m.

24 (Videotape played)

25 //

1 MR. WARD: And so I asked Mr. Rodriguez about the
2 pulmonary embolism and on October 26 at 3:28, here's what he 3 said.

4 (Videotape played)

5 MR. WARD: Now, it seems to me that the issues that
6 come up when we're looking at injuries and damages, when we're 7 looking at proof is that we have this basic question. And
8 this basic question is, do you believe it, or are there
9 unanswered questions? Is there something that hasn't been 10 answered that doesn't seem to fit together? And is there any 11 reason to go back?

12 And we have, in light of what we have seen in the 13 records, that there has been a claim over and over again to 14 many, I believe, there were 52 different treaters in this 15 case. And the claim over and over, and the representation was 16 made to essentially all of those people that were seen after 17 about ten months or a year, that's about the time the story
18 changed, to now say that the neck and back symptoms all
19 started with the accident.

20 It raises the question of, when Dr. Mortillaro says
21 that he did his brief battery for health improvement, and he
22 says that the scoring -- not his opinion, but the scoring --
23 includes, example, exaggeration of symptoms for secondary
24 gain, and that it includes the statement "this strong bias
25 raises questions about the credibility of the patient's self-

1 reports which may be inflated." That in light of this, in
2 light of what we've seen, in light of these various things
3 that don't seem to quite fit together, that Dr. Mortillaro
4 could simply dismiss this as, no, this doesn't raise any
5 questions whatsoever.

6           As Dr. Becker talked about the Lees Haley Scale, the 7 Lees Haley Scale which Dr. Mortillaro said had been used by a
8 number of people for 15 or so years, and had been tested on 9 millions of patients, and showed a scale that fell within the 10 range of 99 point something percent of symptom exaggeration,
11 that the response to that was Dr. Mortillaro said, well, he 12 doesn't like that scale. Doesn't like that scale, and he 13 thinks that scale is -- should be testing something else, that 14 in his opinion it really -- it really doesn't fit.

15           And the explanation, every time we have a situation
16 in which someone looks at why there are no neck and back
17 complaints for an extensive period of time, the answer is 18 always, well, his knee hurt so bad, he didn't know about the 19 rest of these.

20           Now, one of the doctors that we talked about at 21 length was Dr. Ferrante. Dr. Ferrante, I thought, was sort of 22 interesting, because Dr. Ferrante was requested to examine
23 this patient. And Dr. Ferrante was -- was hailed as the head
24 of the department of anesthesiology and pain management at 25 UCLA, and he was this great doctor who had -- who had all of

1 these great credentials. I don't know Dr. Ferrante, but I
2 don't dispute that. But Dr. Ferrante wrote a report, and Dr.
3 Ferrante made it very clear in his report, and it's in
4 evidence, and he said, well, it's possible he's got RSD, but,
5 actually, I think he's got this.

6           And Dr. -- Dr. -- I'm losing my doctors' names here,
7 there are so many. Shifini -- Dr. Shifini said -- well, he
8 first said, Dr. Ferrante diagnosed Mr. Rodriguez with RSD.
9 And then when we played back his testimony after he said he
10 didn't diagnose it, and we played back his testimony where he
11 said that Dr. Ferrante did, at that point, then he said, well,
12 he misspoke.

13           Well, whether he misspoke or whether he didn't, if 14 he said he misspoke, he misspoke, I accept that. But the 15 point is, Dr. Ferrante didn't diagnose RSD. And Dr. Shifini
16 suggested, well, if he had completed what he planned on doing,
17 he would have diagnosed RSD, and it was one more of those,
18 well, this is what this doctor would have said if he'd had an 19 opportunity.

20           But the interesting thing about it is, Dr. Shifini
21 -- or Dr. Ferrante, by the way, did not refer this patient to 22 Dr. Miller. If you take a look in his report, there's no
23 mention to Dr. Miller's name in there. What -- but what there
24 is, is Dr. Ferrante says, "It's my recommendation, if you
25 would continue to have symptoms, that you have" -- I believe

1 he includes three different tests; maybe he had more than
2 that, I'm not sure. Two of those tests were completely
3 objective. One of those tests was subjective. So those two
4 tests that were completely objective as to whether he had RSD
5 were negative. And so the answer was, well, then, we'll just 6 ignore that, we don't need that. We'll just ignore that.

7           And you may recall that -- that several people
8 suggested that the fungus toenail growth that Mr. -- Mr.
9 Rodriguez has, was related to RSD and related to the accident.
10 Dr. Shannon referred Mr. Rodriguez to a dermatologist for the 11 fungus toenail growth. And Dr. Shannon was asked, was that 12 related to the accident, and she laughed, and said no. No, it
13 -- fungus in the toenails is not related to the accident.

14           Now, we have the situation with RSD. Dr. Tauber,
15 who says he doesn't diagnose RSD, but said he did diagnose RSD
16 in this patient, explained that the reason for his diagnosis
17 is that the patient had burning in his knees, and he had 18 abnormal increase in pain.

19           Well, if that's what Dr. Tauber thinks is sufficient
20 for an RSD diagnosis, I understand why he doesn't diagnose
21 RSD, because you heard from all the other people here, there
22 are a whole bunch of other things that are involved in a
23 diagnosis of RSD.

24           Now, the interesting thing about this, Your Honor,
25 is Dr. Ferrante said that he doesn't think he had RSD.

1           Now, Dr. Ferrante tells you in his report what he
2 was confronted with. He was told by the patient, I've got toe
3 problems, which Dr. Ferrante says is on something or other,
4 that is toenail fungus, that the patient told Dr. Ferrante
5 that one limb was different temperature than the other, that
6 the patient told Dr. Ferrante that there was abnormal hair
7 growth, that the patient told Dr. Ferrante that he had burning
8 pain. That the patient told Dr. Ferrante about all of these
9 things that he had, and Dr. Ferrante looked at him and formed
10 the opinion that he didn't have RSD.

11           And so it's interesting to me when Dr. Ferrante
12 looks at all of these things and he says, I don't think he's 13 got RSD, but do a couple more tests and we'll see, that other
14 people can look at the exact same thing and make a different
15 diagnosis.

16           Dr. Becker lays out in his -- in his report the 17 items that he specifically looked for, and to determine --
18 make an RSD determination. If we can bring that up a little 19 bit.

20           And this is what Dr. Becker says, at page 14, in 21 part 1 of his report, that the things that he specifically
22 looked at and formulated the opinion, he said, "No increased
23 or decreased nail growth."

24           Now, the interesting thing about that is -- is both
25 with respect to no increased and decreased nail growth, and no

1 increased and decreased hair growth is that the explanation
2 we've heard, that the reason some doctors can't diagnose RSD
3 is that the -- that the -- all the complaints change. One day
4 they're there and one day they're not. Well, I'm not sure how 5 increased or decreased nail growth is there one day and not --
6 not another.

7           We have hair growth, we have -- we have allodynia.
8 The discussion was about Dr. Miller diagnosed him with RSD and 9 allodynia. Allodynia means, it hurts so much that if you're 10 standing in front of a fan, you're going to have pain.

11           The concept of doing a pinwheel test on somebody
12 like that, which Dr. Miller says he did, and says was normal,
13 I just don't see how those fit together. The rest of them are 14 here in the report. Muscle wasting, contractor stiffness,
15 there's a whole bunch of things. Dr. Becker looked at all of 16 them and made a diagnosis that he did not have RSD.

17           Now, I know I'm talking a long time, so I'll try to 18 close this up as quickly as I can, but I do want to talk a
19 little bit about damages and -- and there's a couple of things
20 that I want to talk specifically about.

21           Your Honor has this listing of computation of 22 damages. And it's been one of the issues that -- that we have 23 felt has been problematic, Your Honor, is that as Dr. Dinneen
24 told you, when -- when the person from his office did a -- did
25 a life care plan in this case, and the person who Dr. Dinneen

1 says is well-qualified, and does by checking all the prices,
2 and that life care plan was shown -- and shown here, that she
3 had down for her cost of a spinal cord stimulator, by the 4 doctor who was listed as the doctor who was going to do it,
5 his name begins with a "V", I think it was Dr. Vaughter
6 (phonetic). That she had four different items that totaled
7 294,000.

8 All of a sudden, Dr. Shifini comes in and says
9 pretty much off the cuff, oh, well, yeah, you know, this is 10 about this, and batteries are about 22,000, and this is about 11 how much that would be, and whatever, and added it all up and 12 all of a sudden we've gone from 294,000 to 959,000, just based 13 on what the anesthesiologist has testified from the witness
14 stand about a procedure that was going to be done by somebody
15 else?

16 Then they talked about the things related to fusion,
17 pre-fusion diagnostics. There was no fusion in the original
18 life care plan. And, in fact, the records are full of Dr.
19 Thalgott, the spine surgeon, saying. I wouldn't operate on 20 him. I wouldn't do it. And as Dr. Becker says, he wouldn't 21 operate on him, because it's not going to make him any better.

22 And so we have in the life care plan that was 23 submitted by their life care planner, I'm not talking about
24 our life care planner, their life care planner, they had costs
25 of 80 to 160,000 for a knee replacement, and all of a sudden

1 those jump up to $686,392, and no explanation.

2 I want to talk about income. And we have a couple
3 of things about income. We have Mr. Rodriguez, who said that
4 he had provided all of his information to -- to Mr. Dinneen.
5 I'd ask -- I'd asked Mr. Rodriguez about the information. We 6 went over in his direct examination that if you're going to be 7 profitable as a real estate investor, you need to know some
8 very basic information. You need to know how much you sold it
9 for, how much you paid for it, and what it cost you in 10 between. And that's -- that's the basic part of it.

11 And so we had a question about how much information
12 was available. And so I asked Mr. Rodriguez about this and 13 here's what he said at 4/25.

14 (Videotape played)

15 MR. WARD: Now, Mr. Dinneen testified that he was 16 not given the sufficient information to do the backup
17 calculations. Mr. Dinneen also testified that he asked for a
18 social security statement. Mr. Dinneen testified that he met
19 with Mr. Rodriguez in 2008, which would be over two years ago,
20 which would be plenty of time to get the social security
21 statement. It would be plenty of time to get tax records.

22 The issue on the tax records is unlike the typical 23 situation where we're dealing with an employee, there aren't
24 any W-2s, there isn't any personnel file, there isn't anything
25 to suggest that any of these things did or did not take place.

1 So there is a question.

2           There raises in my mind a question of are these
3 something that could be reliable? And I think to myself --
4 and the example that I used is that if I wanted to prove to 5 someone that my income was $400,000 a year, which is what he
6 told the chiropractor that he saw in the end of January 2005,
7 said that he was a real estate investor, and his present
8 salary was $400,000.

9           And he testified that the last house that he sold
10 was in February of 2004, and it was his own residence, and 11 said that the reason he sold it was because the market was 12 good. And said that he hadn't done anything financially
13 between February 15 and the time of the accident and the time
14 of this injury and didn't have any explanation for that.

15           And that the job that he described, which was mostly 16 trying to find houses on the internet and various other
17 listings, and then going out and taking a look at them, and 18 then buying them and then, if work needed to be done, he would 19 hire someone else to do the work and he would hire a real
20 estate expert, a real estate broker to sell it.

21           That description of the kind of work he does sounds
22 to me like it could be done by someone who was sedentary and 23 someone who could get around in a limited sort of way. And 24 yet, we don't have any explanation for why he continued to not
25 do anything all the way through 2005.

1           And so, the question that's raised is a little bit
2 to me like the question that was raised yesterday when Mr.
3 Baker was unaware that I had served him with a document, that
4 I was able to pull up the document and show it to him and
5 answer that question.

6           There is a very easy way that all of these questions
7 about the veracity and the reliability of these documents
8 could be answered, and that is you just pull up your social 9 security statement. We all get one once a year. I can't get 10 yours, you can't get mine, but you can get your own.

11           And yet, they met with their expert two years ago.
12 They could also have gotten, as he testified to, they could 13 also have gotten the forms that were filed from the federal 14 government, but that would have taken longer. But just having 15 that social security statement would indicate, because of --
16 since 1993, I believe, medicare payments have been based on an 17 increasingly higher amount than pure social security, and that 18 would answer that question.

19           But that question's not been answered. Instead,
20 what Dr. Dinneen said -- or Mr. Dinneen said was that, after I
21 took his deposition and raised all these questions, he got a
22 -- he got a letter, a one-line letter from the accountant,
23 never talked to him, got a one-line letter that said, yeah,
24 they were filed and that's all they got.

25           And so we don't have any explanation why someone who

1 is actively involved in the housing market, and has bought and
2 sold and owned hundreds of homes, has no tax returns for
3 several years in this period of time and the tax returns that
4 they do have, at least two of them are dated after the time
5 that -- that they met with Mr. Dinneen.

6           The third tax return is the one that I find kind of
7 interesting, Your Honor, and it's the tax return from 2001.
8 And the reason -- the reason I find the tax return from 2001
9 interesting, is that it shows a business income on page --
10 page 1, shows a business income of $1,700.

11           So this is 2001. There's no return for 2002, and 12 there's no return for 2003. There's a business income shown
13 here of $1,748. I understand that it's a great concept to 14 have not worked very hard, and make a lot of money by flipping
15 houses and then you live on it for a period of time, but it
16 certainly isn't showing up here in the returns.

17           But if you take a look down at the state return, go
18 down to the end of the state return. What that -- what that 19 purports to be is a return that is dated 2001, is filed in 20 2004. Read the bottom of the state return. Maybe it's the 21 top of the state return. There we are.

22           This return claims a refund of $7,500. It seems 23 just a little unusual that we would -- that someone would be 24 entitled to a $7,500 return and -- a refund, and not file for 25 three years.

1           What I'm suggesting is any questions about whether
2 these are accurate, valid and all the other things could be
3 very easily answered. As easy as we've shown the document
4 yesterday to Mr. Baker, it could be answered, but they haven't
5 been.

6           And so Your Honor is being asked to award, I'm not 7 sure what the number was, 7 million, 8 million, whatever the 8 number was, based on this wage loss, which Mr. Dinneen said
9 that of the six years, somewhere in the neighborhood of 80
10 percent of the income that is spread over this six years,
11 comes in the year 2004 and that income comes from the sale of 12 his personal residence. And that's why the numbers are as big 13 as they are. And for that, the claim is being made for almost 14 a million dollars in future loss of earnings.

15           But the issue, Your Honor, is that the -- the issue
16 of the reliability of all of this -- of all these things isn't 17 solely related to the income loss. It's what ties in and it's 18 what connects the neck and back injuries that have all been
19 alleged to be related to the accident of November 22, '04, 20 when there were no neck and back complaints for a period of 21 eight or nine months.

22           And a gentleman who has degenerative back changes
23 and is 75 pounds overweight, and is continuing to live -- and 24 it's now been six years since the accident, there are other
25 explanations for this.

1 Thank you, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Ward. Mr. Baker.

3 PLAINTIFF'S REBUTTAL CLOSING ARGUMENT

4 MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor. There are other
5 explanations, but not the true one, not the right one, and not
6 the correct one. And again, it just seems to me it's come
7 back to the same thing, and that is he's fat and he's a liar.
8 That's their case.

9 And let's talk a little bit about the first thing
10 counsel had said, because I think I might be boring and he 11 might not be paying attention when -- when testimony is being 12 evoked.

13 The very first thing that Mr. Ward said when he came 14 out of this chair, is that Dr. Shannon said that the 15 degeneration that she saw -- excuse me for the -- in Enrique's
16 knee was pre-existing degeneration that he had before this
17 accident, at the time that he was also overweight.

18 First of all, he mentioned something about 180
19 pounds. I never heard 180 pounds; I heard 200. But the Court
20 might remember something different.

21 But what Dr. Shannon said, and if an adherence to 22 the truth of the medicine and the testimony of the scientists
23 had any place in this courtroom with respect to defendant's
24 presentation of their case, is she said on page 65 of her
25 deposition, lines --

1 MR. CARDENAS: Trial transcript.

2 MR. BAKER: -- trial testimony -- thanks, Rob -- at 3 line 17, "I question -- which indicates to you that meniscal
4 tear -- is a frank, traumatically related meniscal tear?" And 5 she answers, "It's causing traumatic degeneration of the 6 articular surface and that has to come from someplace."

7 So I questioned it, "The degeneration of the 8 articulated surface is caused by the frank meniscal tear; is 9 that right?" And she says, "Yes."

10 The chondromalacia is the articular surface. She's 11 not saying he had pre-existing knee problems that were 12 exacerbated in this case, or any pre-existing knee problems.
13 She said the chondromalacia, the change in the articulate
14 surface is related to the tear in the meniscus. And that just 15 goes to show a frank misunderstanding of the medicine, and a
16 frank misunderstanding of what's going on here.

17 The second thing that was said is Enrique claimed
18 that a water bottle had been thrown and was already lying on 19 the floor -- do I have Enrique's testimony right there -- for 20 a period of time.

21 And what Enrique said in his trial testimony in 22 front of the Court -- and I don't even know why this is 23 relevant, but it's just one of those pokes at something that 24 is meaningless in the context of the overwhelming medical 25 evidence in this case -- is, well, what happened to me, a

1 water bottle was thrown in my direction. And it happened so
2 fast that there was this lady sitting down in front of me at 3 the monitor, there was a TV. I'm standing there watching the
4 big TV and when the ball's in flight, moving the air,
5 demonstrating, this lady, for whatever reason, she decided to
6 get up out of her chair, turn around and run. I mean,
7 literally run where I'm standing and just take a dive.

8 I mean, he's describing an event that happens like
9 this, not an event where a water bottle lands at his feet and 10 he's sitting there and looking at it and then, you know,
11 should I move, should I not move. He described it as 12 happening almost instantly.

13 And Mr. Ward spent, I don't know, 15 minutes, 20
14 minutes talking about the MRI, and this date, and the MRI
15 contrast. Mr. Ward's expert gives us the second surgery. I
16 don't know why anybody would speak to that. Dr. Shannon
17 explained why things wouldn't show up on the contrast MRI is 18 that the loose body was in the super patella pouch, so it
19 wouldn't be seen at that time.

20 Doesn't the truth of that deserve to be put into a
21 context and spoken about with this Court? He completely
22 misrepresents -- well, I don't need to say that. But Dr.
23 Tauber's testimony that he put on the screen, and I kind of 24 bridled because I thought he stopped in the middle of a
25 sentence, because I remember what Dr. Tauber said. And he was

1 asking about a question by you, Your Honor. And he stopped
2 that film at the point that Dr. Tauber said, the loose body
3 itself, where it was found wouldn't be painful. I believe
4 that's what we observed.

5 But Dr. Tauber's testimony was, when you allowed me
6 to follow up with him, was, "Can I followup with that?" And I
7 say, Mr. Baker -- I say, Mr. Baker -- Mr. Baker, "So is it
8 fair that there was one definite pain generating mechanism
9 which was the torn meniscus?"

10 "Oh," he says, "you had several. You had the loose
11 body, the torn meniscus and there was some discomfort from the 12 chondromalacia. It was residual as well."

13 "Okay. And each of those would be contributory to 14 the pain complaints that were reported by Enrique Rodriguez?"

15 "Yes."

16 Dr. Tauber speaks about the fact that when the loose
17 bodies float around, they touch areas in the leg that would be 18 sensitive so that they're a concurrent pain generators.
19 There's nothing suspicious about this. It's not, there was a
20 loose body that didn't cause any pain. Again, I don't know
21 why I'm talking about the knee. Their expert gave it to us.
22 But if it has to do with his credibility, this is what
23 happened.

24 Dr. Shannon did a surgery. There's a 10 to 15
25 percent recurrent rate in meniscal tears. The loose body

1 broke off, as she talked about, as a result of her surgery,
2 even though she did everything right. Enrique was walking in
3 physical therapy. She expected post-operative pain for at 4 least a month. He was in therapy which she testified also
5 causes pain. His knee continued to hurt. Dr. Tauber did a
6 surgery, and every doctor, including their own, says it's 7 related. And we talked about the fact that that's the 8 foundation.

9           And so much has been made, and another
10 misrepresentation, that Enrique was telling the doctors that 11 his pain started at the time of the accident. Well, you might 12 remember that Maria says she remembers him having neck pain
13 and back pain.

14           Okay. So all of these doctors who are explaining on 15 a deep neurotransmitter, neurophysiological level how pain
16 works, their testimony should all be ignored, the defendant is 17 contesting, because what was really happening in this case is 18 Enrique was lying to his doctors about where his pain started.
19 Well, that's not what we're saying for a second and it's not
20 what we've ever tried to introduced.

21           He had reported pains at the beginning. Maria
22 testified to it. Enrique doesn't know. And Enrique, then,
23 when he sees Dr. Thalgott, he doesn't say his pain started at 24 the time of the accident. He says, his pain in his neck,
25 hands and back started with the accident.

1           By January of next year, he noticed he was dropping
2 things in his hand, completely consistent with the tingling
3 that was mentioned in the medical records. And his left knee
4 had such prominent pain, he didn't make much attention to his
5 cervical and lumbar pain and the pain in his lower extremity.

6           That's exactly what you've heard from every witness
7 in this case. This isn't Enrique saying, oh, well, I fell
8 over and my back and my neck hurt at the time of the injury.
9 This is a consistency, not an inconsistency, and it shouldn't
10 be said otherwise.

11           Dr. Ferrante. I think that what defendants really
12 want us to is ignore a scientific methodology. And that's 13 just painful, because the scientific methodology is the basis
14 of truth. You believe things when you have tested them and 15 found them to be true.

16           And you saw I went through with the doctors what a
17 scientific methodology is. It's having a hypothesis,
18 meticulously gathering data, testing the data against the 19 hypothesis and then dismissing the hypotheses that aren't
20 supported by the data.

21           Okay. Well, let's look at the scientific 22 methodology. Dr. Ferrante looks, and he doesn't say he 23 probably doesn't have RSD. He doesn't say, I am not 24 diagnosing RSD. He doesn't rule out RSD. What he said, it is 25 possible that the patient has a complex regional pain syndrome

1 or a reflex sympathetic dystrophy because even he knows how to
2 -- well, especially he knows, how to distinguish between those 3 things.

4           However, his physical exam is more consistent with 5 chronic knee pain of a mechanical nature. Okay. So, RSD or 6 chronic regional pain syndrome, is included in his
7 differential diagnosis. Every time doctors see a pain
8 complainant, if you go in, Your Honor, God forbid, to a doctor
9 with pain in this quadrant right here, they're going to have 10 potential differential diagnoses.

11           It's going to say appendicitis, it's going to say
12 potentially gall stones. It might include a hernia, it might 13 include a host of things. And then do you know what you do?
14 You test each of those host of things until you find the one
15 that's supported by the tests, and that's your diagnosis.

16           So what were the objective findings for Dr. Miller?
17 Allodynia -- we've been through it to death. Well, a lumbar
18 sympathetic block is the test, one of the tests spoken about,
19 for RSD. When the lumbar sympathetic block works, there's no
20 need to do anything else. You have diagnosed RSD and when you
21 measure it up against the other five criterion he had.

22           What -- what -- okay, I didn't call him a liar. How 23 about this for calling him a liar. When Dr. Becker spoke
24 about the fact when I was, like, he had all of these objective
25 findings, do you remember when Dr. Becker said? Well, I know

1 about people who paint their legs, shave them, put heating
2 pads on one leg and ice packs on the other. You know, that
3 really does happen out there. And I asked the question, "Are 4 you assuming he's psychotic?" He's not psychotic, he's in 5 pain and this is what happens to people who are in pain.

6           So what we're looking at right now is, you can't
7 believe Enrique Rodriguez because he forgot that he went to 8 get a sleep apnea test. Are you kidding me? There's eight
9 doctors who we sat and listened to their testimony about his
10 pain.

11           There's two actual knee surgeries, two lumbar
12 sympathectomies. The pain stimulator that worked, the 13 findings of his doctors upon examination, the testimony of lay
14 witnesses in this case that talk about the changes in his 15 physical condition, his mental health and his happiness
16 [inaudible].

17           I mean, in terms of we like to talk to juries about,
18 you know, the preponderance of the evidence thing. This Court
19 is extremely aware of preponderance of the evidence. This 20 isn't preponderance of evidence, this is overwhelming
21 evidence, which is the oldest defense tactic in the world
22 being used is try to find little inconsistencies in six years
23 of medical records. It's like a telephone game in some 24 aspect. And then say that you can't believe him, because of 25 different notations in the record. It's -- it's just wrong.

1           And if we talked about the life care plan, the life
2 care plan that, you know, it's pulled out of evidence. Do you
3 know that that life care had a lessor value than the one that
4 was put into evidence? I put less meds into evidence than 5 would have been contained in the life care plan.

6           And with respect to Kathleen Hartman, Kathleen
7 Hartman had a bad day. She got it wrong. I -- the life care
8 plan was prepared for someone, and even I, when I was looking 9 at the life care plan, I was like, what's this? This is just 10 -- these aren't the numbers for spinal cord stimulators.

11           And I know some of the attorneys that have had 12 trials in your courtroom, and I know that some of the 13 testimony that's come in with respect to spinal cord
14 stimulators. In this community, we know what they cost, and 15 they cost what Dr. Shifini said they cost.

16           And something is really irritating me with respect
17 to how Dr. Shifini is being addressed. Dr. Shifini is not the 18 anesthesiologist that, you know, looked at Enrique Rodriguez.
19 Dr. Shifini is a board certified pain management specialist in 20 interventional pain management. Okay?

21           He puts things in people. He puts leads and wires.
22 He's not, quote, "an anesthesiologist". And he's an 23 anesthesiologist only in the sense that he's dedicated to 24 taking away people's pain. And he did that with Enrique with 25 the spinal cord stimulator and is desperately waiting to see

1 him have a permanent stimulator, as is Dr. Shaw who cried,
2 desperately waiting to have him have the spinal cord
3 stimulator.

4           And why didn't we call Dr. Thalgott? Well, other
5 than 15,000 bucks, and another day or so in trial. One of the 6 reasons that we did it is, it's been suggested by defendants
7 that a forensic evaluation is a great evaluation. Okay?

8           Dr. Shifini and Dr. Kidwell looked at every medical 9 record in this case. They talked about it. And Dr. Shifini
10 and Dr. Kidwell testified that they believed because of 11 postural changes, Enrique Rodriguez is having lumbar and 12 cervical pain.

13           I asked Dr. Becker on the stand, have you had 14 patients with potentially pre-existing lumbar discogenic
15 pathology, not the radicular, who have had posture changes and 16 gait changes and have resultedly had lower back pain and 17 spinal problems? And he said, yeah, of course. He might not 18 have said of course, he might have said reluctantly, yeah.
19 That's what he testified to.

20           And there's nothing as annoying in a scientific
21 methodology because, come on, the truth has to have a value,
22 then to take things out of context, either negligently or 23 deliberately, say statements were made, but they were not
24 made. Pre-existing degenerative knee condition? That's 25 completely the opposite of what she said. And then to turn

1 around and say certain things just don't fit, certain things
2 just don't fit.

3 Well, you know, sometimes in life everything doesn't
4 fit. And sometimes in life the story needs a little bit of 5 deduction, a little bit of Sri Lankean wisdom, and
6 intelligence, rather than just a rote response to reject
7 everything because a tax return wasn't filed. Or because
8 Enrique didn't realize that he didn't go to a sleep apnea
9 doctor.

10 He still thinks he [indiscernible]. He still thinks
11 this is not him. But that doesn't affect the credibility of 12 every reported pain complaint that you've seen. So sometimes 13 the truth is a web. Sometimes it's not a [indiscernible]. We 14 have shown you a web of truth, of reliable expert testimony,
15 of reliable treating physician testimony.

16 And to criticize Terry Dinneen for using an average,
17 well, let's talk about that. It was his primary physical 18 residence. But what was not brought back up to you is he was 19 only in it for about six months, and then he flipped it
20 because that's what he does, he flips houses when the houses
21 are worth something.

22 So he was living in it, he flipped it, he made money
23 off of it and he went on. That seems like a pretty good way
24 to live to me, if your wife will let you get away with it.

25 But when you look at all of these things and see

1 that the entire approach to this case would be suggestive of,
2 oh, you know, the MRI, the first one didn't show anything. It
3 was taken on an old [indiscernible] MRI machine with .5
4 [indiscernible]. That machine wouldn't show -- it wouldn't
5 show anything. And with respect -- and the tests don't show
6 and it just isn't here.

7           When you put it together, the best observance of 8 something is the observance of it from an internal
9 perspective. When they opened up Enrique's knee, they found
10 it was internally disarranged. When they opened up his body
11 and implanted a spinal cord stimulator, it took away his pain.

12           When you open up the situation and really look at 13 the medical records, the testimony of the witnesses from two
14 different states, both lay witnesses and expert witnesses, you
15 open it up and you look at it, you can tell Enrique's not 16 lying. You can tell he's not here to put anything over on 17 you. You can tell he's not one of these people who get
18 injured and think that there's a jackpot in it. All he wants 19 to do, all anyone told you he wants to do is be out of pain.

20           And, Your Honor, I'm going to look at my notes in a
21 second. But please, I ask you, help him get out of pain.

22                           (Pause in the proceedings)

23           MR. BAKER: Nothing further, Your Honor. Thank you.

24           THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Baker.

Proceedings recorded by audio-visual recording, transcript produced by transcription service.

1        LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 20, 2010, 9:31 A.M.

2                THE CLERK: Enrique Rodriguez v. Fiesta Palms, Case
3 No. A-531538.

4                MR. BAKER: Good morning, Your Honor. Steve Baker,
5 4522, representing Mr. Rodriguez.

6                MS. STEPHENSON: Good morning, Your Honor. Marsha
7 Stephenson for the defendant.

8                THE COURT: Good morning to both of you.

9                MR. CARDENAS: Rob Cardenas on behalf of the 10 plaintiff as well, 7301.

11                MR. BAKER: Sorry about that.

12                THE COURT: Yes, good morning. All right. This was 13 Defendant's Motion to set the matter jury trial. I thought it
14 had been unopposed. I found out yesterday that there was an 15 opposition filed. I haven't had a chance to read the 16 opposition. I don't know, Ms. Stephenson, if you have had?

17                MS. STEPHENSON: Yes, I have, Your Honor.

18                THE COURT: Okay. Very well, it was your motion.

19                MS. STEPHENSON: Your Honor, I think basically I'm 20 not going to repeat what's in the motion, but a trial by jury
21 is preferred. And Your Honor had brought this up apparently 22 at a -- during a telephonic conference call with counsel and 23 that's why the Motion was filed. But since actually this 24 counsel and the Archer Norris firm has been in the case, they 25 preferred having a jury trial.

1           There was the letter apparently that was attached to
2 plaintiff's counsel's opposition which referenced that the
3 jury trial was being waived or something like that. Actually,
4 that was in reference to something that the clerk had
5 requested in light of the fact that there was the joint case
6 conference report referenced to jury trial, but there had been 7 no jury demand.

8           So at no time has the defense ever wanted to waive a
9 jury trial. And we think it's in the Court's discretion to 10 allow the jury trial at this time, because clearly this is a
11 case that's appropriate for a jury.

12           THE COURT: Okay, Mr. Baker.

13           MR. BAKER: I'm probably the only one here who's 14 been involved in it the whole time. I can probably give you
15 the most accurate historical representation of what occurred.

16           And, you know, originally an order setting a non-
17 jury was sent out by this Court in February. There had been 18 no request for a jury trial pursuant to Rule 38.

19           That order did not result then in any motion on the 20 part of the defendant to set aside that order and set for jury
21 trial. The trial was then reset two more times on a non-jury
22 trial basis and no opposition was filed to that.

23           What happened with respect to the call to your 24 office was that a request for jury trial was filed, but wasn't 25 served upon me. I called, and I don't think any deposit of

1 jury fees was made at that time, which would also make it
2 deficient under Rule 38. Marsha might feel differently.

3 I had a conversation with Keith. Keith agree that
4 it should be a non-jury trial. He contacted your department
5 with a letter that was cc'd. And, I'm sorry, you know that we
6 just got the Motion at 4:00 o'clock yesterday afternoon, so
7 this wasn't attached. And if I may approach, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Sure.

9 MR. BAKER: I actually wrote back to your department
10 and indicated that I agreed with Mr. Gillette, that it should 11 be set for a non-jury trial and cc'd that over to your 12 department as well. And it was set then on a new order
13 setting a non-jury trial for now, I think, the third time.

14 With respect to whether I believed that they wanted
15 a non-jury trial, it's been discussed throughout this case
16 that it was a non-jury trial.

17 I conducted every deposition in the most streamline
18 fashion so I could get the information to you quickly. I
19 didn't do a focus group which I would normally do on this type
20 of case.

21 I prepped my experts in a certain way. I did not
22 take their expert's deposition because the cross-examination
23 in a bench trial is very different, as you know, when you're 24 trying to convey things to a jury.

25 And the whole time I have structured this in a

1 streamlined fashion to present to this Court as a non-jury
2 trial. And for five days before the trial is to begin, to
3 request a jury trial is amazing prejudice.

4           There was one case Rob found last night or yesterday
5 afternoon after I had submitted my opposition and if I may 6 approach the bench with it now?

7           THE COURT: Yes.

8           MR. BAKER: And for the Court's record, this is 9 Hardy v. First National Bank of Nevada which is 48 P.2d 581.
10 And I've highlighted the keynote for you, which is Keynote 1,
11 Your Honor.

12           THE COURT: Thank you.

13           MR. BAKER: And in this case --

14           MS. STEPHENSON: Steve, is this Walton?

15           MR. BAKER: -- in the Keynote 1, you can see that a
16 defendant who's demand for a jury trial was first made a year
17 after the matter was first set for trial and after it was 18 reset for trial several times, waived his right to demand a
19 jury trial under the rule providing that such demand be made
20 no later than the time of the enter of the first order setting
21 a case for trial, and is compelled to proceed either by trial
22 to the Court, by advisory jury, I don't even know what that 23 is, or by jury by mutual consent.

24           And it's clear that we're not mutually consenting to 25 the case.

1           Counsel has referenced the constitutional right to a
2 jury trial. A constitutional right is a record that needs to
3 be protected. I've cited for you the O'Connor case, which
4 it's not a federal constitutional right pursuant to the 14th
5 Amendment application to the States, it's completely a state
6 issue.

7           And our state has adopted Rule 38, which states in 8 subsection (d) that if a timely demand for a jury trial is not
9 waived -- is not raised, it's waived.

10           And in this particular case, it's been waived three 11 times passively; once by not filing a timely request, and 12 twice by not opposing or filing some sort of motion with 13 respect to the standing of non-jury trial, and one time
14 actively, when again, imperfect jury request was filed by 15 Archer Norris law firm, then withdrawn, and we both
16 memorialized that fact to your office.

17           To make me go to a jury trial on five days notice on 18 a case with this many doctors, this much evidence to be 19 presented to the Court, I think I've submitted a couple
20 hundred exhibits to you, is extremely prejudicial, Your Honor.

21           THE COURT: Ms. Stephenson?

22           MS. STEPHENSON: Your Honor, in spite of all that, I
23 think the Court does have the discretion to allow the jury
24 trial. And in light of counsel's claims of prejudice, the 25 defense would have no issue with continuing the discovery for

1 additional time if counsel would like to take some additional
2 depositions or whatever he needs to do to prepare for a jury
3 trial.

4           With respect to -- and I'm not sure exactly about
5 this new case, I didn't have a chance to look at it. But I
6 know the Walton case does, and the Walton case is a much more
7 recent case, does still confirm that the Court does have the 8 discretion to allow a jury trial.

9           MR. BAKER: And if I may, very briefly?

10          THE COURT: Yes.

11          MR. BAKER: The Walton case is very distinguishable,
12 and that is a mandamus action to compel a jury trial in the 13 lower court. The court said that it did not have jurisdiction
14 over mandamus and remanded it to the lower court with 15 instructions to permit a motion to enlarge time for jury
16 trial. There's no shepardized following case law that even 17 says what happens on that.

18           But specifically what Walton did say, and I'll quote
19 to you, is only when a timely and proper demand for a jury
20 trial has been made, may the trial court to be found to have 21 exceeded the limits of its discretion under the mandatory
22 language of NRC 39.

23           And that's going to require a balancing test. And
24 the prejudice against the plaintiff is -- I can't even express
25 it to you. And that's in terms of the difference between

1 preparing instructions for a jury trial and for a non-jury
2 trial. I don't even have a Power Point done, Your Honor. The
3 trial starts Monday.

4 THE COURT: Yeah, I'm aware of that. Anything
5 further.

6 MS. STEPHENSON: Well, first of all, and one thing I
7 forgot to mention is, we -- you don't deposit jury fees
8 anymore. So that's really not an issue. And like I said, the 9 defense is willing to continue the trial to allow counsel to 10 be prepared for a jury trial.

11 THE COURT: Don't counsel still have to make deposit
12 for a jury demand?

13 MS. STEPHENSON: No, we don't. Actually, we got all
14 them back. Apparently, I didn't know it was an issue with 15 respect to the money, but we've gotten them back and we don't 16 deposit those anymore as I recall.

17 MR. BAKER: I don't know.

18 THE COURT: Did you know that, Mr. Baker?

19 MR. BAKER: No. Every stipulation I've ever signed 20 to dismiss a case includes a refund of the jury fees. But 21 I've never --

22 MS. STEPHENSON: Those [inaudible] are [inaudible]
23 as I recall.

24 MR. BAKER: I don't know, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: It's probably a financial nightmare for

1 the court.

2 MS. STEPHENSON: It has been, because we get some of
3 those back two, three years later.

4 THE COURT: Well, you know, let me say this.
5 Frankly, the Court prefers these jury trials. I think,
6 however, Mr. Baker makes some very compelling points, both in
7 his written brief and orally today.

8 But aside from that, this case is right on point.
9 I've never seen this case. I'm glad to see this case. I
10 thank Mr. Cardenas for getting it for me.

11 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Mr. Cardenas.

12 THE COURT: And I think it's right on point. So I
13 think this Motion has to be denied. Mr. Baker, I'll ask you
14 to draft an order for the Court's signature. Please run the 15 proposed order past Ms. Stephenson before you submit it to me.

16 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

17 MS. STEPHENSON: Thank you, Your Honor.

18 MR. CARDENAS: Thank you, Your Honor.

19 MS. STEPHENSON: Will defense be ready for a trial
20 then, I guess, on Monday?

21 THE COURT: Be ready for trial on Monday. We start
22 at 9:00 o'clock.

23 Since it's a bench trial, I don't anticipate going
24 real late. Do you know what our schedule is like Tuesday,
25 Wednesday, Thursday, that we only have half days?

1 MR. BAKER: I thought it was full days, Monday,
2 Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and you're dark on Friday.
3 Is that not true?

4 THE COURT: I wish it were so. We're dark on Friday
5 only because it's a holiday.

6 MR. BAKER: What's the holiday?

7 THE COURT: Nevada Day.

8 MR. BAKER: Oh, I mean, my favorite holiday.

9 THE COURT: Yeah. So we have -- we normally would
10 have full days Monday and Friday and only half days Tuesday,
11 Wednesday and Thursday because this court is court sharing
12 with another judge on Tuesdays, Thursdays. So that means
13 we'll be starting at 1:00 o'clock on Tuesday, Wednesday, 14 Thursday. You might want to know that for purposes of 15 scheduling your witnesses.

16 How many witnesses do you anticipate, Mr. Baker?

17 MR. BAKER: A lot less now that it's a bench trial,
18 Your Honor. And it's going to depend a little bit upon how 19 you allow me to introduce medical evidence through other
20 doctors.

21 I can do it with as little as two doctors, two,
22 three experts, two percipient witnesses, and the plaintiff.
23 Or if there becomes some problem with respect to referring 24 doctors and doctors opining to other doctors' treatment, then
25 it will be a lot more.

1 THE COURT: Ms. Stephenson, what about you?

2 MS. STEPHENSON: Yeah. I'm not sure if Steve was
3 calling [inaudible] case from the defendant. And quite
4 frankly, Your Honor, I haven't been really involved with the
5 case.

6 MR. BAKER: You know what?

7 MS. STEPHENSON: So he may know better how many 8 witness we have.

9 MR. BAKER: True. And their witnesses -- okay,
10 there is an objection lodged, but there will be one deposition
11 that's read into evidence, because we can't subpoena the 12 witness and that's Brandy Beavers [inaudible] who's coming in,
13 defendant was defaulted.

14 Probably there's going to be Dr. Shifini [phonetic]
15 who is a pain management doctor who will be called. Either
16 Dr. Shannon or Dr. Trevety [phonetic] or are orthopedic
17 surgeons who would be called. Potentially, Russell Shaw
18 [phonetic], who is a neurologist who would be called to speak
19 about the issue of RSD.

20 The plaintiff, the plaintiff's significant other,
21 two of the plaintiff's friends, and two or three of the 22 employees, either through deposition or via subpoena of the 23 defendants. So it looking like about 11 witnesses, 11 or 12.

24 THE COURT: Total?

25 MR. BAKER: For me.

1 THE COURT: For you.

2 MR. BAKER: Did I mention a economist, a life care
3 planner?

4 MS. STEPHENSON: No.

5 MR. BAKER: And a -- so let's call it an even 15.

6 MS. STEPHENSON: I must say we -- then we probably
7 have at least five, but I don't really know, and I apologize,
8 Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: So are we looking at giving that 10 schedule two weeks?

11 MR. BAKER: Um-hum.

12 THE COURT: Was that a yes?

13 MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor, sorry.

14 THE COURT: All right. That's what I was thinking.
15 All right. Thank you.

16 MS. STEPHENSON: Thank you, Your Honor.

17 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

18 MR. CARDENAS: Thank you, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: See you Monday.

20 MR. BAKER: Oh, and did I forget -- no. Thanks,
21 Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: You're welcome.

23 (Proceeding concluded at 9:43 a.m.)

2 (Court called to order)

3 THE CLERK: Case number A-531538, Enrique Rodriguez
4 v. Fiesta Palms, LLC.

5 MR. BAKER: Good morning, Your Honor. Steve Baker,
6 4522, and Robert Cardenas.

7 THE COURT: Good morning.

8 MR. CARDENAS: 7301.

9 MR. BAKER: Representing the plaintiff.

10 THE COURT: Good morning to both of you.

11 MR. GILLETTE: Good morning, Your Honor. Keith
12 Gillette.

13 THE COURT: Okay.

14 MR. GILLETTE: Bar number 11140 for the Palms.

15 THE COURT: It's G-i-l-l-e-t-t-e?

16 MR. GILLETTE: Yes, ma'am. Just like the razor
17 blade.

18 THE COURT: Okay, thank you.

19 MR. BAKER: He's a walking razor, stepping razor.

20 THE COURT: There are, I think, four motions on 21 calendar here. Let's take -- well, Mr. Baker, do you have a
22 preference on where we start? Three of these motions are 23 yours.

24 MR. BAKER: Well, if he gets a mistrial, Your Honor,
25 I guess the other motions are moot, so.

1 THE COURT: Do you want to take Defendant's Motion
2 for Mistrial first?

3 MR. BAKER: I think so, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: That's fine.

5 MR. GILLETTE: Your Honor, we're happy to submit
6 that on the pleadings.

7 THE COURT: Okay. What about you, Mr. Baker?

8 MR. BAKER: I mean, I really wanted to talk about a
9 lot of these issues and I wanted to speak about it with K.C.
10 in particular, because as this Court's aware, through the 11 trial was accused of manipulating evidence. And after the 12 trial -- or during the trial, actually, I've been accused with 13 ex parte communication with the bench. And it's really 14 startling.

15 I think I do need to make a record and have the 16 Court acknowledge that there were no supplemental,
17 confidential trial briefs that were submitted to the Court,
18 that no ex parte communication occurred between myself and the 19 Court and I never made any attempts at ex parte communication
20 to the Court.

21 That the allegation that I made, ex parte
22 applications, and ex parte communications to the Court, is 23 untrue and unfounded. And I have a real issue with somebody
24 coming and saying to me and to this Court that we acted
25 complicitly and had ex parte communication back and forth when

1 that never, never occurred. And Mr. Gillette's going to
2 object and state, well, we never said that the Court was
3 complicit with that. But specifically, the judicial cannons
4 which required you to -- to contact them in the event I did
5 contact you on an ex parte basis, were cited.

6           So either they're saying that you and I were
7 complicit, and had ex parte communications, and I did brief
8 you throughout the trial, and that's the basis for mistrial;
9 or they'll come forward and say, we're mistaken, that never 10 happened, hopefully, I'm sorry, and then there is no basis for 11 the mistrial, because then there would be no irregularity in 12 the proceedings, no of the specter of impropriety that they're 13 saying would fall upon you in the event that you and I had 14 engaged in this type of ex parte communication.

15           So I would request for this Court to ask of the 16 defendant whether or not those allegations are actually being 17 withdrawn, or have an evidentiary hearing or other hearing, or 18 a findings of facts and conclusions of law by this Court that
19 it never occurred, because if it didn't occur, there's no
20 basis for mistrial. And if it did occur, we need to make a
21 record of it.

22           THE COURT: There was no supplemental brief that I'm 23 aware of. I didn't even hear about a supplemental brief until 24 I read it in defendant's pleadings. And there was certainly 25 no ex parte communications.

1           And frankly, I was surprised to be accused of such a
2 thing. Mr. Gillette?

3           MR. GILLETTE: Your Honor, the basis of this Motion
4 is actually found within plaintiff's own Motion to Strike,
5 within a footnote item, footnote 1 on page 7 of Plaintiff's
6 Motion to Strike Defendant's Post-Trial Brief. There's a
7 reference to a supplemental trial brief. That's the entire
8 basis of the Motion, Your Honor. That's why we're submitting
9 this on the record. No -- I'm not asserting any arguments.
10 I'm certainly not making any accusation as to the Court.

11           With respect to Mr. Baker, my point that is raised
12 in the pleadings is simple and straightforward. It appeared,
13 from the records submitted to this Court, that there were 14 briefs that were submitted, that we were entitled as a matter
15 of law and fairness, to see.

16           If Mr. Baker is saying that those were not, in fact,
17 submitted to the Court, I'm happy to submit this. And that's 18 certainly reflected in his own affidavit that he filed in 19 response to the opposition, which, again, is why I'm happy to 20 submit this on the record that's already submitted.

21           THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

22           MR. BAKER: I'm just making the record here, Your
23 Honor. And as the Court recalls, I submitted a confidential
24 pre-trial brief according to 7.27. We had prepared a
25 supplement to the confidential trial brief, because we

1 anticipated a Rule 50 Motion to Dismiss the punitive damages
2 at the close of evidence as required by Rule 50.

3           When I saw that Mr. Ward didn't do a Rule 50 Motion,
4 there was no basis to present the bench with our confidential
5 trial brief which, for the record, has never been given to 6 this Court, has never been filed, and has never been served on
7 the defendants. It simply wasn't used. We just stuck it back
8 in the envelope and went on our way.

9           But the appropriate thing to do in the event that 10 Mr. Ward, and Mr. Gillette is no way involved with it. He's 11 one of the best lawyers and nicest guys that I know. But the 12 appropriate thing to do is to call me, or to call this Court
13 and request a conference with respect to the appearance of ex
14 parte communication, and for the Judge to inform him or for me
15 to inform him that there was no ex parte communication.

16           Rule 11 requires that you have a good basis for 17 filing your pleadings. And a mention in a brief of a
18 supplemental, confidential trial brief without any follow up
19 doesn't comport with Rule 11.

20           And I'm -- and I know this Court has never seen me
21 upset, but in one trial I've been accused of manipulating
22 medical records and engaging in systematic ex parte
23 communication with the Court. And I want the best record made
24 possible, and I don't really know how to make it, that I
25 didn't do it. That's the type of thing that can affect

1 reputation and affect my ability to appear in this court and
2 represent my clients.

3           Now, I know that the Court has made a record that it
4 never happened. But in the event that they don't have any
5 evidence that it occurred, I'm requesting that this Court
6 either order that that Motion and those allegations be
7 withdrawn, or we have an evidentiary hearing on it, with a
8 penalty of sanctions against Mr. Ward's firm in the event that
9 they can't prove their allegations against me. I mean, it's a
10 really nasty thing to say about a lawyer and a judge and the 11 court system.

12           THE COURT: Well, it is, particularly when one's 13 reputation is really all one has. That's really all one has.
14 I mean, we all have skills, but the only thing that really
15 matters is a person's reputation.

16           MR. GILLETTE: I don't disagree with anything that's 17 being said here, Your Honor. Again, I just want to reiterate
18 that the basis of this motion is simple and straightforward,
19 and it's a reference to the record that's already been created
20 by plaintiff's counsel in this case.

21           There's a specific reference to this Court for -- a
22 reference to plaintiff's supplemental, confidential branch
23 brief. Now it's -- subsequent to the filing of this motion,
24 Mr. Baker has made the record abundantly clear that this 25 document was never filed, never lies with the Court, it was

1 never served on us. We're satisfied with that.

2 MR. BAKER: Okay.

3 THE COURT: Defendant's Motion for Mistrial is
4 denied. Defendant's Alternative Motion to Strike Plaintiff's
5 Confidential Pre-Trial and Trial Briefs, is denied.

6 MR. BAKER: For the record, Your Honor, I withdraw
7 my Motion for Sanctions.

8 THE COURT: Very well. So where does that bring us
9 to?

10 MR. BAKER: That leaves my motions, Your Honor. And 11 if we could just go in order. As long as we're talking about 12 briefs, we might as well speak about my Motion to Strike their 13 post-trial brief.

14 I think we've really spelled out our argument in 15 terms of the -- our Motion to Strike, Your Honor. What this 16 really is, is this is either a Motion for Judgment NOB, or 17 this is an appellate brief. There is no allowance in our 18 rules for briefing after the close of evidence to the Judge on 19 issues that she's ruled at during the trial, and evidence
20 which has already been submitted to the Court.

21 And I've really have never seen something like this.
22 Normally, if the Judge wants an issue briefed during the 23 evidence itself, she'll ask that the issue be briefed by the 24 parties, we'll brief the issue, and then the Judge will make a
25 ruling based upon the briefing and upon her determination of

1 the appropriate law.

2 I don't know what this document purports to do,
3 because all it's doing is telling you [indiscernible]. And
4 your decisions were valid and well-founded in Nevada law, and
5 if there was any real type of objection to your determinations
6 during the course of the trial, they should have requested a
7 briefing schedule and briefed it during the trial.

8 Now, the other way to go and see if there was any
9 error committed by this Court during the course of the trial,
10 like with the punitive damages, and like otherwise, would have 11 been to do directed verdict motions on those issues after the 12 close of evidence and before closing argument.

13 That's what Rule 50 requires. That wasn't done.
14 And because of that, they've waived any argument with respect
15 to punitive damages and that in the event the Court finds
16 general damages for us, we'd be entitled to a hearing on those 17 punitive damages and they've waived their objections to any 18 other of these evidentiary issues.

19 I don't understand -- mostly I don't understand the 20 means in which Mr. Ward tried this case, which was to come
21 into the jurisdiction, accuse lawyers of manipulating medical
22 records, accuse them of ex parte communication with the Court,
23 and then submit to the Court, post-evidentiary, a large brief
24 saying how you were wrong on almost every ruling that you made
25 during the course of the trial.

1           This document is spurious, it's specious, it does
2 not have any place within our NRCP or the statutes which
3 regulate the occurrence of a trial. The Court didn't ask for 4 this information. It shouldn't be part of the record on
5 appeal with respect to what occurred during this trial,
6 because this trial is still on. We don't have a verdict.

7           So this document should be stricken. In the event
8 that they want to raise this argument, they can raise it in 9 post-trial briefs, as is appropriate. We'll then assert our 10 arguments that they had waived certain of these defenses and
11 certain of these allegations by failing to bring a Rule 50
12 motion and move on in the ordinary course.

13           And this is going to sound strange to the Supreme
14 when and if they hear this. But what's going on is just too
15 weird. And this document has no place in the proceedings that 16 we had carried forth pursuant to NRCP and the NRS.

17           THE COURT: Mr. Gillette?

18           MR. GILLETTE: Well, Your Honor, I think Nevada law
19 and decisions clearly recognize post-trial briefs. This 20 post-trial brief is succinct, straightforward. It articulates
21 defendants' positions with respect to pertinent facts that go
22 to issues surrounding liability, damages and punitive damages.
23 It goes to what the substantive law is on all of these points.
24 It's a document that's -- yes, it persuasive, but its key
25 function is to provide the finder of fact in this case some

1 guidance in rendering its decision. There's nothing within
2 the NRCP or any of the decisional laws that say that the type
3 of document that's been submitted to this Court in the form of 4 a post-trial brief is inappropriate or otherwise precluded
5 under the statute.

6 THE COURT: Mr. Baker.

7 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, it's not a post-trial brief.
8 I mean, I'm not the smartest lawyer that there's ever been,
9 but I understand that a trial means you pick a jury, then you
10 give your openings and you do your case-in-chief, then you
11 rest, then you do your motions and then you get a verdict.
12 And when you get a verdict, the trial is over. And then
13 anything that happens after the verdict would be a post-trial
14 brief.

15 This is an evidentiary trial brief on issues that 16 the Judge did not ask for and that was not given during the 17 case-in-chief when the evidence was open. It's -- this 18 doesn't exist in Nevada law. And for that reason I would ask
19 that it be stricken.

20 THE COURT: The Motion's granted.

21 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

22 Our next motion is one that I've never brought
23 before, and it has to do with their expert witness, Dr. -- Mr.
24 Franklin and Dr. Cargill. And as this Court remembers, I'd 25 stipulated in a rather general fashion, but with some

1 reservations, to the qualifications of both Mr. Franklin and
2 Dr. Cargill to testify in their respective areas of security
3 and economics.

4           And by allowing, or stipulating to their
5 qualifications, I stipulated that these were individuals who 6 have an expertise in the area that could be helpful to the 7 trier of fact which would be you in that case. I don't think
8 they were so helpful, but it's a different issue.

9           By stipulating to that, what I said is, is they 10 would no longer testify as percipient or lay witnesses, they 11 would be expert witnesses. And expert witnesses are not
12 allowed to testify in a speculative manner. They can't say it
13 might be, it could be or otherwise, and that's well settled in 14 all of the law all around the country, whether we're using 702
15 and 704 or if we've adopted the Dobbler [phonetic] standard or 16 even in [indiscernible], which would be the highest type of 17 standard, they have to testify in a manner that's not 18 speculative.

19           In our Nevada courts, in cases that you're familiar
20 with, and in the thousands and thousands of times that you've 21 seen expert witnesses be directed, requires that they testify
22 to a reasonable degree of professional probability. And what 23 that does is that takes it from the realm of presumptive or 24 speculative and puts it into the area where they're testifying
25 as an expert to a reasonable degree of probability.

1           And with respect to Dr. Cargill and Mr. Franklin,
2 that simply didn't happen. The question was never asked.
3 That magic question that we've all put at the end of our paper
4 when we're done with our witnesses, so we remember to ask them
5 if their opinion was to a reasonable degree of probability,
6 wasn't asked. And if they didn't testify to a reasonable
7 degree of probability, this Court has no basis and no
8 understanding to understand to what degree they testified to.

9           It could be, it could have been, it could be, it
10 might have been, but what we know that they didn't testify to,
11 was to a reasonable degree of professional probability. And 12 because they didn't do that, their opinion is speculative,
13 it's of no use to the trier of fact, does not comport with 14 Nevada statutory law and common law, and their testimony
15 doesn't belong here again, and it should be stricken.

16           THE COURT: Mr. Gillette.

17           MR. GILLETTE: Your Honor, I think it goes to the 18 essence of what's the substance of the testimony from both of 19 these experts after an extensive body of testimony that was 20 presented by each of them in the course of this trial.

21           The concept of reasonable degree of professional 22 certainty, that concept, if it is applied to the substance of 23 the testimony in its entirety from both of these experts is 24 well met and well founded. The foundations for each of their 25 opinions was delved into, both in direct and cross-examination

1 at length. The opinions that were expressed as the basis of
2 the facts and opinions that both of them identified,
3 articulated and testified to in this case is undisputed.

4           The concept that a reasonable degree of professional
5 certainty is -- is somehow significant to the Court's
6 determination of whether they should -- the Court should 7 consider and weigh those two experts testimony is, at a
8 certain level, somewhat absurd. Mr. Franklin, for example,
9 testified that it's a common event, especially in any sort of 10 sporting venue, for promotional items to be thrown into 11 crowds. He pointed to the Blue Man Group, he pointed to any 12 number of other venues here in the Las Vegas area that 13 routinely throw items into the crowd.

14           Now, the fact that Mr. Franklin may not have said
15 the, quote, "magic words" does not somehow invalidate his
16 testimony or render it capable of being completely disregarded
17 by the Court, simply because he didn't say the words, "this is 18 my -- these are my opinions and they're rendered to a degree
19 of professional probability".

20           The essence of the case is that the plaintiff's
21 counsel rely on and Mr. Baker is point to, all point to one
22 thing, which talks about the plausible, the possible, the 23 maybes, and it doesn't speak to the more likely than not,
24 here's established facts, here's what my opinions are that are 25 expressed in a analytical nature.

1 I don't -- I'll leave it at that, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Baker.

3 MR. BAKER: I respectfully couldn't disagree more,
4 Your Honor. The reason they're called, that we all call them
5 the magic words, is because they're magic. What they do is 6 they take inadmissible speculation and they make it admissible
7 evidence to help the trier of fact. And in order to have that 8 magical transformation, you need to use the words in the 9 manner that they were intended to be used.

10 The fact that he, again, was qualified as an expert,
11 that just lets him work his magic. That lets him say, it is 12 my opinion to a reasonable degree of professional probability,
13 which then gives me the chance to cross-examine him as to 14 those opinions.

15 With respect to any of the percipient observations
16 that he had, they're not relevant. They're just stuff that 17 was thrown out there as a foundation for his opinion which 18 needs to be made to a reasonable degree of professional
19 probability.

20 And being irrelevant in that context, and without 21 having laid that degree of probability that he needs to 22 testify to, it's junk testimony. It's not going to help the 23 Court. The Court can take no guidance from it, because he 24 didn't tell you, I believe that this is reasonably probable.
25 And you don't know to what standard he was actually

1 testifying.

2           And on that basis, I ask that it be stricken, Your
3 Honor.

4           THE COURT: That's consistent with my read of the 5 law. The Motion is granted.

6           MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

7           And, Your Honor, our last motion was a motion for
8 directed verdict on the issue of liability. And as this Court
9 recalls, I put the defendants' employees on the stand. And 10 I've had trouble through that whole trial saying their names,
11 so is it okay with the Court if I just called them the 12 defendants' employees?

13           THE COURT: Yes.

14           MR. BAKER: And consistent with their deposition
15 testimony, they testified to this Court as follows. There was 16 a meeting held between the manager of -- well, it was her
17 position, Your Honor. Is that Vicki Coenga [phonetic]?

18           MR. CARDENAS: Yeah.

19           MR. BAKER: We'll call it Vicki Coenga, Your Honor.
20 That she held a meeting with Brandy Beavers and other
21 individuals of the casino and said, "We will not throw 22 promotional objects during promotional events." And that was 23 based upon the fact that she knew that Brandy Beavers had done
24 it previously. She then held that meeting and said, "This 25 can't happen," and this Court will remember, I asked her, is

1 that because there was a reasonable, foreseeability of injury
2 to patrons? And she said, "Yes. The reason I told them they
3 couldn't throw things is it was reasonably foreseeable that
4 people could be injured."

5 She had that meeting, made a policy to say, that's 6 not going to happen any longer and then afterward, the second
7 defendants' employee that I called said she actually met with 8 Brandy Beavers and constructed a goalpost, of all things, if 9 the Court remembers. And that goalpost was for the purpose of 10 launching things across the promotional areas and to have 11 their patrons gather in whatever fashion it was, those 12 promotional items.

13 And I asked her, too, was it your understanding that
14 that could create a reasonable probability of harm to patients
15 -- to patrons, and she said, "Yes." And I asked specifically,
16 is it the exact sort of harm, as the Court probably recalls,
17 that happened to the plaintiff? And she testified, yeah,
18 that was the exact type of injury or event that I was going to 19 try to prohibit by making a policy to say that we cannot throw
20 promotional devices.

21 Now, that is obvious negligence. And even if you
22 remember, Mr. Franklin said it was a conscious disregard of 23 known safety procedures. Their own expert -- and I wasn't 24 sure if I wanted his testimony stricken because of that very 25 issue -- stated it was a conscious disregard of known safety

1 procedures.

2           And we've cited to you from many authorities, some
3 of the in treatises, as well, that when you adopt a duty, when
4 you voluntarily accept a duty, you have a duty to do it
5 reasonably. And there is no argument and no testimony that
6 contravenes the fact that they made a policy to say we won't
7 throw promotional items, we're not going to throw promotional
8 items because it's a foreseeable risk of harm.

9           They then violated that policy. The harm that 10 occurred was exactly the type of harm that was anticipated in 11 creating the policy. It was testified to by two of the 12 defendants' employees and their own expert witness who
13 testified that it was a conscious disregard of known safety
14 procedures. There's no evidence in this case otherwise.

15           And that specifically, in terms of that -- that Mr.
16 Franklin's testimony has now been stricken, which means not
17 one witness testified that that wasn't negligent, that it
18 wasn't a violation of policy, that it wasn't a foreseeable
19 injury that occurred and that it wasn't a conscious disregard
20 of their own safety procedures.

21           And because there is no evidence in contravention of 22 what this Court heard, it's our opinion, our position that a
23 directed verdict, which is exactly in place for this type of 24 situation, should be granted in this matter.

25           THE COURT: Mr. Gillette.

1 MR. GILLETTE: Your Honor, I -- as a threshold
2 issue, I don't know that a directed verdict is an appropriate
3 request to be placed for the finder of fact in a bench trial.

4 That said, one important and a foundational
5 consideration is the Court examines the witness testimony of 6 defendants' employees. It may be relevant to determining what 7 an appropriate standard of care is, but no law in the State of 8 Nevada has ever articulated that an internal policy sets the 9 standard of care for that party, and it does not determine
10 what the negligence standard should be as against them.

11 THE COURT: Mr. Baker.

12 MR. BAKER: Well, one thing I somewhat agree with 13 Keith is, I've never done a directed verdict in a bench trial.
14 And if this Court remembers when I brought the directed
15 verdict, I said, in the event that the Court was to rule on my 16 ability in our favor absent the directed verdict, then the 17 directed verdict would be moot and -- and, you know, maybe the 18 Court would proceed in that fashion.

19 The fact that the Court hasn't for that period of 20 time, of course, has created some nervousness in us. But what 21 I have assumed is, is that the Court wanted to make a very 22 good record on these trial motions that we're hearing to 23 strike the experts and otherwise before making a ruling on my 24 ability and eventually on damages.

25 //

1 I've never seen any law that says direct verdict is
2 not appropriate. And I think that a directed verdict in the 3 context of the fact that their expert on the issue has been
4 stricken for failure to lay a foundation for his testimony
5 makes it appropriate in this particular instance, because 6 there's now nothing else for the Court to consider and they
7 can just simply do it as a matter of law.

8 THE COURT: I agree. The Motion's granted.

9 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor. I would also 10 like to make a record that the 7.273 brief, the confidential
11 trial brief, was filed and was served prior to a verdict being 12 reached in this case. And I think that that pretty much sums
13 up my appellate record, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: I think it was. I think the record
15 reflects that.

16 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor. The only other
17 thing that I would ask, Your Honor, and I don't even know how 18 to ask this of the Court, is, his client and my client, we've 19 both think kind of clenched at what's going to happen with 20 respect to your verdict.

21 Does this Court want to set a hearing on the verdict
22 or call us or I don't know how it works.

23 THE COURT: Well, the only issue that's really left
24 are the issues of damages.

25 MR. BAKER: Correct, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: And counsel presented those issues to
2 the Court a couple of months ago now. You probably would have
3 had your verdict before now, but for all of this post-trial
4 briefing.

5 MR. BAKER: And I --

6 THE COURT: And the fact that the Court's been in a
7 three-month long -- three-week long, feels like three months,
8 trial. So I don't have that -- I don't have that for you
9 today. And it's probably going to take me a couple of weeks
10 to go back through my notes and review again in order to get 11 that information.

12 MR. BAKER: So an order will just be issued? Or a
13 judgment, or a verdict or -- do you want me to submit a
14 verdict form?

15 THE COURT: I think -- I think that would be a good
16 idea, because I need to re-review those -- those numbers that 17 were submitted.

18 MR. BAKER: Okay, Your Honor. So you would like me
19 to do a verdict form only on the damages issue, as liability
20 has already been determined, and run that past defense counsel
21 as to the appropriateness of the verdict form, and then submit
22 it to you as a joint verdict form? Or in the event it's a
23 contested verdict form, we would have to do some sort of 24 hearing on the verdict form?

25 THE COURT: Mr. Gillette.

1 MR. GILLETTE: I think that's an appropriate course
2 of action.

3 THE COURT: All right.

4 MR. BAKER: And I can tell the Court, all I'm going
5 to put in is past pain and suffering, future pain and
6 suffering, past loss of income, future loss of income, past
7 medical and future medical. And it will be that simple.

8 THE COURT: All right.

9 MR. GILLETTE: Well, if that's the form of the 10 verdict, then why is it necessary for us to even do that?

11 MR. BAKER: To make it easier on the Court. I don't
12 know, I just want to help.

13 THE COURT: All right. We also need a proposed 14 order on the rulings today.

15 MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Please run the proposed order past Mr.
17 Gillette before you submit it to me.

18 MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Thank you.

20 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

21 MR. CARDENAS: Thank you, Your Honor.

2           THE CLERK: Case Number A-531538, Enrique Rodriguez
3 v. Fiesta Palms, LLC.

4           MR. BAKER: Good morning, Your Honor.

5           THE COURT: Good morning.

6           MR. BAKER: Made it.

7           THE COURT: Yes. I'm glad you did.

8           MR. BAKER: Little worse for the wear. I think
9 Keith's appearing by phone.

10          THE COURT: Yes. And so I think what we should do
11 is probably make a call to Court Call, see if we can get him
12 on the line. It's Mr. Gillette, right?

13          MR. BAKER: Yeah.

14          THE COURT: Okay. Will he be doing the arguing?

15          MR. BAKER: I think he is actually going to submit
16 it on the pleadings and maybe I'll just have one or two 17 follow-up words depending upon --

18          THE COURT: Okay, very good. Let me see if I can 19 get him on line.

20                           (Court makes phone call)

21          THE COURT: Good morning. Is it Mr. Gillette?

22          MR. GILLETTE: Good morning, Your Honor.

23          THE COURT: How are you, sir?

24          MR. GILLETTE: Fine. How are you, ma'am?

25          THE COURT: I'm fine. Mr. Baker is present in the 1 courtroom.

2 MR. BAKER: And, Mr. Cardenas.

3 MR. GILLETTE: Okay. Good morning, Mr. Baker.

4 MR. BAKER: Hi, Keith.

5 THE COURT: And Mr. Cardenas is also present.

6 MR. GILLETTE: Oh, I'm outnumbered.

7 THE COURT: You are, sir. Would you please say
8 something, Mr. Baker, Mr. Cardenas, so I can see if Mr.
9 Gillette can hear you?

10 MR. BAKER: Good morning.

11 THE COURT: Could you hear that, Mr. Gillette?

12 MR. GILLETTE: I could, I could.

13 THE COURT: Okay. There are three things on 14 calendar that I'm -- that I'm aware of. First of all, there
15 was no opposition filed to Defendant's Motion to Amend the 16 Judgment on the Verdict.

17 MR. BAKER: Well, I believe we agree with their 18 position that we did use the incorrect calculation on the 19 post-judgment interest. And we've been trying to get together
20 and shoot a proposed amended judgment for you and we just 21 haven't gotten the ability to do that yet.

22 THE COURT: Did you hear that, Mr. Gillette.

23 MR. GILLETTE: I heard the start of it, Your Honor,
24 but Mr. Baker's voice trails off.

25 MR. BAKER: Yeah, I'm sorry, Keith. I said that we

1 were agreeing with your position.

2 MR. GILLETTE: Yeah. Your Honor, we've exchanged
3 voice mails and whatnot over the past several business days.
4 I just have not had a chance to sit down with Mr. Baker and
5 discuss or propose form of an amended judgment. I anticipate
6 we'll be doing that right after this hearing.

7 THE COURT: Very well. This Motion is granted.

8 The next item I had was Defendant's Motion to Tax
9 Costs?

10 MR. GILLETTE: Yes, Your Honor. The -- we've
11 outlined our position within our briefs. The point that I
12 would just make briefly on this, Your Honor, is that no
13 documentation or itemization or substantiation of any number
14 of costs that are articulated within the costs that Mr. Baker
15 is attempting to recover on behalf of his client. And for 16 that reason I believe that our motion is appropriate in the 17 circumstances.

18 The biggest issue as I see it is substantiation of 19 the claimed amounts that are submitted on behalf of various 20 experts that are being sought as elements of claimed damages.
21 Or, excuse me, as claimed costs.

22 So with that said, Your Honor, I'm willing to 23 entertain any argument that Mr. Baker might present on this.

24 THE COURT: Mr. Baker.

25 MR. BAKER: I think Mr. Cardenas is going

1 [indiscernible] the issue with the Court's permission.

2 THE COURT: Very well, Mr. Cardenas.

3 MR. CARDENAS: Yes, Your Honor. We've set forth our
4 position pretty extensively in our opposition. We anticipated
5 the major point of contention was going to be with respect to 6 the expert fees, because we understand what the statute
7 references with respect to those.

8 But as the Court's aware and what we have indicated
9 in our moving papers, the Court is permitted under certain
10 circumstances to award costs in excess of the $1,500.

11 And as this Court is well aware, we spent nearly 12 three weeks together, there were no depositions that were 13 conducted by the defendants. We had to bring certain 14 providers in here live to testify. And I think under the 15 circumstances of this case, the costs that we've sought
16 relative to the experts are certainly warranted under the 17 circumstances of the case.

18 With respect to the itemization, Your Honor, all the 19 costs that we set forth in the Memorandum of Costs, they were 20 attested to under oath by Mr. Baker. Presumably, maybe by 21 myself as well, but they were all actual costs. They weren't
22 an estimation of costs. And I'm not quite sure how much more
23 specific the Court would need us to be in light of the 24 circumstances of this case. And again, you know, you were the 25 -- it was a bench trial and we spent a lot of time together

1 and I'm sure that the Court is aware that the costs that we've
2 set forth are reasonable and actual costs.

3 THE COURT: Mr. Gillette.

4 MR. GILLETTE: Well, Your Honor, I understand that
5 Mr. Baker submitted a declaration, but there's not a single
6 invoice from any expert that they claim were necessary. I'm
7 not disputing the necessity of the experts, I'm talking about
8 specifically the substantiation of the amounts claimed.

9 There's not a single invoice, there's not a single 10 expert who's submitted any documentation supporting the 11 claims. And I believe that's substantial under the 12 circumstances, it's unusual. And I'm not claiming any 13 impropriety on the part, I'm just talking about a burden of 14 proof.

15 And I believe for that reason, Your Honor, assuming 16 for a moment that it is necessary and that statutory limit of 17 $1,500 per expert is something that the Court agrees is 18 something that should be considered, I believe, Your Honor,
19 that there's an absence of any substantiating evidence that 20 speaks to the valuation of the amounts that are being asserted
21 here.

22 THE COURT: I think the law is in your favor, Mr.
23 Gillette, the Village Builders case is pretty clear. And in 24 this particular instance, no supporting documentation
25 whatsoever was attached to either the Memorandum of Costs and

1 Disbursements or the Opposition to this Motion. So I'm
2 inclined to agree that this motion ought to be granted with
3 respect to the expert witnesses.

4 I just want to weigh in briefly on that. I think at 5 some point the Legislature is going to have to take a look at 6 this $1,500 limit per witness. But in the meantime, it does
7 seem clear to me that plaintiff has to at least argue why the 8 statutory limit should be exceeded in these particular
9 instances.

10 Can we move on to Defendant's Motion for a New
11 Trial?

12 MR. BAKER: If -- if, Your Honor, if the Court -- I
13 mean, I would be more than happy to submit every invoice that 14 we have. We've just never been asked to submit invoices
15 before. Our declaration has always been considered by the 16 Court and accepted by the Court. But if this Court would see 17 fit to just continue this motion briefly, I'd be happy to give 18 you ever piece of paper we have in the office.

19 THE COURT: What about -- I don't know, Mr.
20 Gillette, if you could hear everything Mr. Baker said.

21 MR. GILLETTE: I heard some of it, and if I may just 22 paraphrase his -- his comment is that he'd be happy to supply
23 that material.

24 THE COURT: Yes.

25 MR. GILLETTE: Your Honor, I would object to it at

1 this point. This is a motion that's been months in the
2 making. He was aware of his obligations at the time he filed
3 the Memorandum. He was aware of his obligations as we raised
4 the issue within our moving papers. And in his opposition, he 5 had an opportunity to do that.

6 I would submit, Your Honor, that plaintiff's
7 suggestion to now file some sort of supplementary
8 substantiation be denied.

9 THE COURT: Well, I've made my ruling on the issue.
10 I don't suppose there's anything that prevents Mr. Baker from 11 filing a Motion to Reconsider if he thinks that's appropriate.

12 My view is that the Supreme Court looks very, very 13 carefully at these particular issues, not only the costs and 14 the substantiation of those documents, but also requests for 15 attorneys' fees. They look at those issues very, very 16 carefully. So, I try to follow the law to the best of my 17 ability; that's the ruling.

18 Let's move on to the Motion for a New Trial.

19 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, would I leave a blank on the 20 judgment, how much -- I'm not sure what number we're being
21 awarded in costs. Is it --

22 MR. GILLETTE: If I may comment, Your Honor?

23 THE COURT: Yes, because I don't have any of those 24 other pleadings before me. The only thing I have before me is 25 the matters that are going to be argued today.

1 MR. GILLETTE: The -- I would submit for purposes of
2 just moving the matter along, there were four -- there were 3 four experts that plaintiff may statutorily recover costs in 4 the amount of $1,500 each on.

5 I would suggest that the figure within the -- within
6 Defendant's Order on the Motion, and reflected in the amended
7 judgment be $6,000, which represents $1,500 -- or excuse me,
8 I'm misspeaking. Were there 14 expert witnesses? Whatever
9 the number is, Your Honor, we'd be happy to -- I think we can
10 address it in that fashion. My apologies. I believe it is 14
11 experts. Whatever the number is at $1,500, we can work
12 through that.

13 THE COURT: Or the order could be crafted such that
14 the Court is inclined to grant your motion based on the fact
15 that the invoices and documents substantiating the costs were 16 not submitted with -- together with the motion, or with the 17 Opposition.

18 MR. GILLETTE: Understood, Your Honor, I'll take 19 that tact.

20 THE COURT: Mr. Baker? I mean, I anticipate this
21 issue coming back before me again, because, frankly, you know,
22 it was a bench trial, and the Court did hear from these
23 various expert witnesses. But that doesn't alter the fact
24 that plaintiff has to meet a certain burden in order for the 25 Court to consider awarding more than the $1,500 per expert

1 witness, which again, I think is something that will have to
2 be revisited by the Legislature at some date in the future.

3 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry, Your Honor, I'm confused. It
4 might just be July 5th.

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 MR. BAKER: We submitted a Memorandum of Costs --
7 Rob, would you give me -- approximately $150,000; is that
8 right? Is Mr. Gillette suggesting that we been awarded $6,000
9 in total costs on this case?

10 THE COURT: That's what I understood him to say.

11 MR. BAKER: I've just never been in this situation
12 before. I don't -- I don't know --

13 MR. CARDENAS: If I may, Your Honor. Is the basis
14 of the ruling that we didn't provide invoices? Because --

15 MR. BAKER: I've never attached --

16 MR. CARDENAS: -- I've never attached invoices to a
17 Memorandum of Costs. And the way we understood the Rule, and 18 even the moving papers, the Motion to Retax was less than 19 clear as far as the basis being we didn't attach invoices,
20 because certainly if he had said we needed invoices, that 21 would have been the first thing we would have provided this
22 Court.

23 And if what he's suggesting is that those aren't
24 actual costs, our -- the affidavit that we provided in support
25 of it clearly demonstrates that those are the actual costs

1 that we were billed. And if we are going to be required to
2 come back before this Court with a Motion to Reconsider to 3 just simply demonstrate that, here are the invoices, that's --
4 we can do that. But the case law and the case authority
5 allows you to award in excess of $1,500 per expert if the 6 circumstances warrant them.

7 So we'll be right back in front of Your Honor with 8 the invoices, and under the circumstances of this case, we 9 should get our costs that we've asked for.

10 MR. BAKER: And I'm just confused, Your Honor,
11 because I've just simply never have attached invoices. I'm 12 unaware of any law regarding it and I'm just going to defer to 13 Mr. Cardenas, what he says on it [inaudible].

14 THE COURT: Your points are well taken, Mr.
15 Cardenas. In other words, I'm not going to be surprised to 16 see a Motion to Reconsider with -- attached with it,
17 documentation of all the costs.

18 MR. CARDENAS: Okay.

19 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

20 MR. CARDENAS: Thank you, Your Honor.

21 MR. BAKER: And I'm sorry if we disappointed the 22 Court in that regard.

23 THE COURT: Oh, Mr. Baker, you know, I roll with the 24 punches.

1 THE COURT: All right. Can we move on to
2 Defendant's Motion for a New Trial, please? Mr. Gillette?

3 MR. GILLETTE: Yes, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Whenever you're ready. You know I --
5 you know I -- you know I read everything, sir.

6 MR. GILLETTE: Understood. Let me be brief. There
7 are two aspects of this case, Your Honor, that I would like to 8 draw to the Court's attention that I believe are significant
9 for the purposes of framing the Motion.

10 The first involves the pretrial disclosure process
11 and the implications of what didn't happen on defendants'
12 ability to properly defend the case.

13 In a nutshell, there was a supplemental disclosure
14 that was served back in June of last year that identified a
15 disclosed expert by the name of Faruz Mashud [phonetic], that 16 plaintiff identified would be providing expert opinions at 17 trial, and would be providing a written report.

18 We learned at the close of discovery that Mr. -- or
19 Dr. Mashud had been withdrawn as an expert and that plaintiff
20 would be relying upon the testimony of various healthcare
21 providers to substantiate the damages that plaintiff claimed
22 to have suffered in this incident, which is fine.

23 But there is two considerations that becomes 24 significant for our purposes. The first is involving the 25 records of Dr. Shifini. As you know, Dr. Shifini introduced

1 trial testimony, orthopedic issues and medical costs issues
2 that go far, far beyond what a anesthesiologist qualified in 3 the field of medicine to, in that specialty, would be 4 anticipated to provide.

5           We subpoenaed Dr. Shifini's records; 20 pages of 6 treatment history were provided. From that review of those
7 records, there's nothing that would indicate to us that
8 perhaps Dr. Shifini's deposition should be taken, or some 9 attempt to determine whether Dr. Shifini would be providing 10 opinion testimony beyond the parameters that would be 11 established and one would expect from someone who's licensed
12 as an anesthesiologist.

13           The significance of additional 117 pages of 14 documents that we were not provided until the time of trial,
15 during the time that Dr. Shifini actually testified, is 16 significant here, because had defendant been aware of the fact
17 that Dr. Shifini's records contained something beyond the 20
18 pages of his own treatment, would have provided us with some 19 indication that he was an individual with whom plaintiff's
20 counsel intended to bring in additional information,
21 additional evidence, additional opinion testimony that the 22 Court would rely upon and consider in the case.

23           I believe that that in itself, Your Honor, is a
24 significant enough issue, because from Dr. Shifini's opinion
25 testimony, any number of issues that relate to future medical

1 treatment, and by implication, future medical damages, were
2 awarded by the Court. The issue of fundamental fairness comes
3 into play here. We had no idea that Dr. Shifini was going to 4 be a vehicle through which all of this information and
5 evidence would be introduced. We were provided no -- no
6 disclosure to that effect as required under NRCP 16.1.

7           And to the extent that there are decisional laws
8 that provide caveats to that, those are very distinguishable.
9 And as you know from our moving papers, we've distinguished
10 them. I believe that that's a significant issue that by 11 itself, standing alone, would be sufficient for the Court to 12 grant a new trial in the circumstances, because had we known
13 that Dr. Shifini was going to be this vehicle, we would have 14 taken the time to depose him.

15           Now, I know that plaintiff's counsel has raised a
16 number of issues surrounding the depositions that weren't take
17 in this case, but I think that that also bears brief comment.
18 There were 30 distinct healthcare providers, and a total of 19 some 50 healthcare providers identified, who provided
20 meaningful treatment to Mr. Rodriguez.

21           But there's was no real spoke in the wheel, so to 22 speak, or no hub in the spokes of the wheel, that you can
23 point back to and find a referring physician or a consulting
24 physician. These were a -- an array of different types of 25 healthcare providers in different geographic regions that

1 provided a healthcare treatment, and each one of these
2 healthcare providers provided discreet types of treatment to 3 this individual.

4           Had we any indication that Dr. Shifini was going to,
5 in fact, be a hub from which opinion testimony would flow, we
6 certainly would have taken his deposition, and we certainly 7 would have moved the Court to consider his qualifications in 8 limiting the nature of his expert opinion testimony. That's 9 the first point.

10           The second point goes to the same types of issues as 11 it relates to economist Terrance Dinneen. Mr. Dinneen was 12 deposed, his entire records were produced to us. We 13 approached this trial with the impression that there was no
14 substantiation of several tax returns that were purportedly
15 filed by the plaintiff, but there was no substantiation of 16 those tax returns themselves.

17           Plaintiff's wage claim rests entirely upon three tax
18 returns that were filed between 1999 and 2004. That at the 19 time of his deposition, Mr. Dinneen admitted that he didn't 20 know that they were, in fact, ever filed. And that's 21 significant, because we had been requesting economic loss
22 documents, not only through disclosures, but through specific
23 discovery requests and we received nothing.

24           So it boils down to these three reports and the 25 question becomes, do these three reports accurately reflect

1 the income of this individual at the time. And that becomes
2 very questionable in light of the fact that they were -- there
3 was a great deal of uncertainty whether they were ever filed.

4           And on October 20th, Mr. Dinneen, the economist,
5 receives a letter from an individual who says, oh, yeah, these
6 were filed. Had we seen that document, had it been produced
7 at some sort of a pre-trial disclosure, which plaintiff was 8 obligated to do, or provided to us from -- by Mr. Dinneen at 9 the time that we deposed him or requested his records, we 10 would have approached the issue very differently and we would
11 have sought leave from the Court to take this tax preparer's
12 deposition on the issues that surround his one line assertion
13 that, yeah, these were -- these documents were filed.

14           The circumstances under which that document was 15 introduced and relied upon worked to defendants' tremendous 16 disfavor here. And for those two reasons, among all the 17 reasons that are already outlined in our moving papers and 18 reply, Your Honor, we would ask for a new trial in this case.

19           THE COURT: Mr. Baker.

20           MR. BAKER: This has been a very frustrating trial
21 in its own way, Your Honor. And, you know, the reason they 22 want a new trial is because they weren't prepared for the old
23 trial, and that's really what it comes down to.

24           Under -- I guess --

25           MR. GILLETTE: I can't hear you, Mr. Baker, I

1 apologize for interrupting.

2 THE COURT: Yeah, you may have --

3 MR. BAKER: I said the reason that you want a new
4 trial is that you weren't prepared for this trial. And under 5 NRCP 59, that's not enough.

6 You had to be surprised by somebody -- or by
7 something that you could have avoided using reasonable
8 diligence. And I don't mean you, Keith, I mean the defendant
9 in this case.

10 And in this case, none of the doctors' deposition
11 were deposed, in a case of 300 and something thousand dollars
12 worth of medical bills. None of the primary treating 13 physicians.

14 And you're talking about not general practitioners,
15 not that there's something wrong with general practitioners,
16 but the Court heard from Dr. Shifini, who's being
17 characterized as an anesthesiologist. He is a board certified
18 pain management doctor, when the scope and course of that 19 particular type of treatment always works with things like
20 pain stimulators and pain pumps who cost -- and laid a full
21 foundation for his opinion on that point.

22 It's never been my duty and responsibility in this
23 to provide a hub to the defendant to do their discovery. They 24 have a duty to do reasonable discovery and if they were 25 surprised, it's because they didn't do it.

1           And rather than come in prepared, it was just
2 amazing to me on the first day. If the Court remembers, I
3 went to call Dr. Shannon. And Dr. Shannon was the orthopedic
4 surgeon who performed the knee surgery.

5           And Mr. Ward, who was trying the case, came over and
6 he objected to her speaking outside of the treatment. And I
7 cited the Fernandez [phonetic] case and the [indiscernible]
8 versus Levine case to this Court and he stood there -- and 9 it's in the record -- and he said, "I'm not familiar with 10 those cases."

11           Well, if your whole strategy in a trial is going to 12 be to try to block witnesses, be familiar with the case law.
13 In Nevada, we have held that the doctors who are treating are 14 experts, and once qualified as experts, they can treat -- they 15 can testify broadly and widely.

16           And these doctors did, but it was all, all within 17 the scope of their expertise. And if this Court had 18 entertained an objection that they weren't qualified to speak
19 to it, and upheld it, then we would have brought in other
20 doctors.

21           But on that very first day of trial, we made our
22 strategy known to the defendants. They didn't, then, brief
23 you on the issues during the trial if they thought it was 24 really such a substantial issue. And in their -- in their 25 Motion for a New Trial, the cases that they cite to you are

1 all cases from out of this jurisdiction. And I didn't see a
2 single case that held it was an abusive discretion to allow
3 that testimony.

4 Not one Court of Appeals that I saw overturned the
5 trial court judge for allowing the testimony. They've upheld
6 the judge for not allowing the testimony, but you know what,
7 that's what discretion is. Some judges are going to do some
8 things, some judges are going to do other things. Nothing
9 that occurred in this court was inappropriate.

10 What was inappropriate, that we saw on a number
11 occasions, is the lack of defendant to understand our local 12 rules. And if this Court remembers being accused of being in 13 conspiracy with me for complying with the local rules in this 14 case, did not understand the rules with the scope of under -- 15 of doctors being able to testify, did not understand how our
16 court has interpreted NRC 50.275, but instead, just time
17 after time says that I've engaged in misconduct. And I'm 18 sorry, I sound like I'm upset, I kind of am.

19 The issue of Mr. Dinneen. He's an expert who is 20 designated as an expert. He could have relied on any 21 information here in this courtroom. He could have relied on 22 what he heard out in the hallway. There's no secret letter
23 that came to him. That's formally and just [indiscernible]
24 within what he can rely on as an expert. He can rely on 25 hearsay, okay. So with respect to this letter as the grounds

1 for a new trial, there's absolutely no grounds for a new
2 trial.

3           What happened, why the defendants were surprised,
4 began at the beginning of the case. They didn't speak to 5 anyone, look at anything, or take it serious in any manner.
6 They basically came into this jurisdiction, again, without
7 understanding admissibility.

8           And incidently, Your Honor, that all goes to the 9 weight of it. That's not inadmissible. You're very competent
10 to sit and listen to witnesses and see if they laid a
11 foundation for his damages.

12           So, I'm rambling a little. That's because there's 13 about 30 different things in their motion that they said is 14 the grounds for a new trial.

15           With respect to the doctors, we've just discussed
16 that. It was appropriate. And this Court also has a judicial 17 economy it has to consider. If you had told me, Your Honor,
18 Steve, I don't -- Mr. Baker, I don't think it's appropriate
19 for you to put that testimony in through that witness, I would 20 have paraded 32 doctors through your courtroom and we would 21 have been here for -- well, we'd still be here.

22           And you have power in your courtroom to make
23 reasonable decisions within your discretion on what testimony
24 you're going to hear and through whom you are going to hear
25 it. And I think that's what I needed to say.

1           THE COURT: Mr. Gillette, it was your motion. Do
2 you have any concluding argument?

3           MR. GILLETTE: Your Honor, I'm a bit -- I just want
4 to respond to two aspects of Mr. Baker's argument. One is,
5 unpreparedness, and second is judicial economy.

6           What we're talking about, Your Honor, is fundamental 7 fairness. When Dr. Shifini walks into a courtroom with an 8 additional 100 plus pages of documents that had been provided
9 to him from some third party source, that are unrelated to his 10 own treatment, had defendant known about those types of 11 documents in its file, of course we would have taken an 12 opportunity to -- to reconsider how we treated that witness.

13           The same with respect to Mr. Dinneen. Again, what 14 we're talking about is a substantiating document that goes to 15 one of the core arguments the defendant was raising at trial
16 that related to the foundations of Mr. Dinneen's opinion. And 17 I -- we're not talking about unpreparedness, Your Honor. What 18 we're really talking about is fundamental fairness. And on 19 that I will submit.

20           THE COURT: Well, Mr. Baker, I want to hear from you
21 on that one issue, because with respect to your opposition
22 regarding the docket -- the documents that Dr. Shifini
23 reviewed, what I understood is that those documents were 24 previously disclosed.

25 //

1 MR. BAKER: Every document that he had had been
2 previously disclosed. There was additional documents or
3 medical records from other doctors. When he -- and who had
4 also treated Mr. Rodriguez in the case.

5 And if you remember, it was kind of funny when it
6 happened at trial, because we came down here with the 7 additional ones, I had a Bate stamp set and a non-Bate stamp
8 set. Then we couldn't find one. And Mr. Ward allowed us, by 9 stipulation, to include those medical records with Dr.
10 Shifini's records, and had no objection to them being put into 11 the record.

12 There wasn't a single bit of information and what 13 Dr. Shifini had in his file that the defendants didn't also 14 have in their file.

15 THE COURT: That's what I recall. And furthermore,
16 I note that this issue was not particularly addressed by the 17 defense in their reply.

18 MR. GILLETTE: Your Honor, that -- the significance
19 is not the existence of the documents, Your Honor. The 20 significance is the location of the documents. The location
21 of the documents being in Mr. -- or excuse me, in Dr.
22 Shifini's file. That is the significance of what we're
23 talking about here.

24 We're not saying that plaintiff didn't produce under 25 its 16.1 disclosures that various healthcare providers had

1 created records or that they had been disclosed. What we're
2 talking about is the presence of those documents in Dr.
3 Shifini's file. That's the significant consideration here.

4 THE COURT: I'm not sure that you heard what Mr.
5 Baker said a few moments ago. Did you hear what he had to 6 say?

7 MR. GILLETTE: I admit, Your Honor, that I only
8 heard part of it, and I've been trying not just to waste time
9 here.

10 THE COURT: Because what I understood Mr. Baker to 11 argue in his -- in the written pleadings, and what I
12 understood him to say here a moment ago, was that the 100 plus
13 documents that you referred to in your motion were not only 14 previously disclosed, but were also nothing more than the 15 medical records of other physicians.

16 And furthermore, I understood Mr. Baker to say that 17 Mr. Ward had stipulated admission of those particular 18 documents during the course of the trial. Did I get that 19 right, Mr. Baker?

20 MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor.

21 MR. GILLETTE: Your Honor, again, it's not the 22 existence of the records. It's the existence of the records
23 in Dr. Shifini's file. That is the significance of what we're 24 talking about here. And had those -- had there been some 25 indication from plaintiff or plaintiff's experts on that -- on

1 that consideration, we would have approached Dr. Shifini's
2 anticipated testimony quite differently, because at last we
3 would have some indication of from whom expert opinion was 4 going to be solicited.

5           You know, and as I mentioned early on, there was a
6 Dr. Mashud who was originally designated as an expert on 7 medical issues that had been disclosed by the plaintiff and we
8 -- we, for some time, looked at that as the experts they were 9 going to be using at trial. And instead, we -- it's a bit of 10 an ambush situation here. And, you know, ambush is not the 11 right word, but fundamental fairness is. And on that, Your 12 Honor, I will stop talking.

13           THE COURT: Very well, I'm prepared to make my 14 ruling.

15           MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

16           THE COURT: It's the Court's view that the 17 defendants fail to demonstrate why they're entitled to a new 18 trial.

19           Defendants fail to show this Court how the disputed
20 testimony amounted to irregularity in the proceedings,
21 misconduct of the prevailing party, accident or surprise which 22 ordinary prudence would not have guarded against, or newly 23 discovered evidence.

24           It is very persuasive to the Court the defendant
25 failed to object in many instances, and it is even more

1 convincing that the defendant did not depose a single treating
2 physician.

3 Any accident or surprise the defendant did suffer
4 was just as much the product of his own failure to diligently
5 conduct discovery as it was the product of any impermissible
6 expert testimony.

7 Mr. Baker, I'll ask you to prepare an order for the 8 Court's signature. Please run the proposed order past Mr.
9 Gillette before you submit it to me.

10 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Thank you.

12 Thank you, Mr. Gillette.

13 MR. GILLETTE: Your Honor, thank you for your time.

14 THE COURT: You're welcome.

1 TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 2010 AT 2:40 P.M.

2 [Designation of record begins at 2:40 p.m.]

3 THE COURT: Good afternoon, Doctor.

4 MR. BAKER: Sorry, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: How are you? Please remain standing, raise
6 your right hand to be sworn.

7 DR. LOUIS MORTILLARO, PLAINTIFF'S WITNESS, SWORN

8 THE CLERK: Please be seated, stating your full name,
9 spelling your last name for the record.

10 THE WITNESS: Sure. Louis Francis Mortillao,
11 M-O-R-T-I-L-L-A-R-O.

12 THE COURT: Thank you for accommodating us today, Doctor.

13 THE WITNESS: No problem, Judge. Thank God I'm close.

14 THE COURT: Mr. Baker, whenever you're ready.

15 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

16 DIRECT EXAMINATION

17 BY MR. BAKER:

18 Q That's a Jewish name?

19 A Baker or Mortillaro?

20 Q Mortillaro, Louis.

21 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, the -- our Exhibit 51, which was 22 Dr. Mortillaro's records, were incomplete. We are using the 23 Defendant's, and we're going to ask to substitute in Bates
24 Stamped Mortillaro records that were disclosed and produced
25 back and forth from us in the course of the case rather than

1 the incomplete set that I attached to my trial exhibits.

2 THE COURT: Mr. Ward, do you agree?

3 MR. WARD: Your Honor, I haven't gone down and compared 4 the --

5 MR. BAKER: It was lacking the --

6 MR. WARD: -- document for document. If that's what it
7 is, then I have no problem with it.

8 MR. BAKER: Yeah. It's attached with an affidavit from 9 the copying service that was sent by Mr. Ward's office over to 10 Dr. Mortillaro's office. And in fact, it -- my copy from -- 11 somehow missing some documents that he's going to want for
12 cross-examination.

13 THE COURT: Do you have the copy, Madame Clerk?

14 THE CLERK: I do.

15 MR. BAKER: There's a copy on your -- I put a copy down
16 for you too, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Oh, okay. Thank you. Very well.

18 BY MR. BAKER:

19 Q Would you --

20 THE WITNESS: I have no notes -- oh, your notes, Judge?

21 THE COURT: Apparently, I have a copy. Does the witness
22 have a copy too, Mr. Baker? It'd be nice if Dr. Mortillaro
23 had a copy.

24 MR. BAKER: That would help.

25 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

1 BY MR. BAKER:

2 Q Would you identify yourself to the Court, describe
3 your qualifications, training, and experience?

4 A Yes, I have a bachelor's degree in biology and a
5 minor in chemistry and philosophy from Loyola University of 6 Los Angeles. And I have two master's degrees from the 7 University of Southern California. One is in counseling,
8 psychology, and the other is in public administration.

9 I have a Ph.D. from in professional clinical
10 psychology from the old United States International
11 University. Now it's Alliant University in San Diego. And I
12 have a post-doc certificate in neuro psychology from the 13 Fielding Institute in Santa Barbara.

14 And my work history, I was hired in 1971 by Judge
15 Mendoza to be the chief psychologist of the juvenile court.
16 And I worked with the Judge and other of the district court
17 judges at that time that were family court, the juvenile court
18 judges, until 1978. Then I got hired by the State of Nevada
19 to be the chief psychologist at the Jean Hanna Clark
20 Rehabilitation Center. If you remember the old Nevada
21 industrial commissioner, Michael Callahan, built that
22 building, because he was a disabled vet. He wanted to treat
23 to injured people, i.e. injured workers. I was at Jean Hanna
24 as the director of psychology from 1978 to 1989.

25 And then in 1989, I spent a year working with a

1 psychiatrist, my practice and his practice sharing office
2 space at the Monte Vista Psychiatric Hospital. And then in 3 1990 to 1995, Dr. David Tuler [phonetic] and I founded the
4 Nevada Pain and Rehabilitation Center. It was a CARF
5 accredited multidisciplinary rehabilitation center working
6 with injured workers.

7 We had a typical chronic pain program, you know, the 8 three, four-week program at the time, help people get better.
9 And in 1995, the Stark Amendments came into play. And so, it
10 eliminated self-referral in that genre. So we sold the 11 practice to NovaCare and then worked off and on with NovaCare
12 and in my own private practice, you know, for a few years.

13 And then NovaCare sold -- I think they left town,
14 and then I started working with other physical therapy
15 companies. Well, during that time, I also started doing
16 family law referrals from the family court. At that time, I
17 think the family court came into being, Gloria Sanchez, T.
18 Jones, Terri Marin [phonetic], all those early judges I worked
19 with in doing child custody evaluations.

20 And then Judge Glass started the competency court
21 here, and I've been doing competency assessments for her.
22 Also, Mike Cherry [phonetic] used to run the -- Chief Justice
23 Mike Cherry used to run the Special Public Defender's Unit
24 here, and I started working with Mike on death penalty
25 mitigation cases and continue to work with him.

1           So my practice, as it is now, is I still see
2 worker's comp patients. I see personal injury cases, usually
3 doctor referrals. I work probably mostly for the Plaintiff,
4 but also I'm getting a lot more defense cases and referrals
5 from defense lawyers.

6           And like I said, the murder cases, the psychosexual
7 dangerous cases, working there, family court. That's 8 basically it.

9           Q     Yeah. Is it fair to say that you've been to be the 10 partial advisor to the Court, the District Court of Clark
11 County on just numerous, numerous, numerous occasions?

12          A     Yes. I forget about that. When Stew Bell was the 13 District Attorney and Judge Thompson was his assistant, I used
14 to work a lot with them as an AMICAS [phonetic] advisor
15 relative to women's issues, domestic violence against women,
16 and also some of the murder cases that the DA has at the time.

17                I used to work with Stew, and Bill Koot, and Chuck
18 on those cases. So yeah, I've done a lot of --

19          MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I move to qualify Dr. Mortillaro
20 again as a neuropsychologist and related issues.

21          THE COURT: Uh-huh. Any objection?

22          MR. WARD: I do not object to him being accepted as an

24          MR. BAKER: And I'll also offer him as a treating

1 MR. WARD: I object to him being anything other than a
2 treater, because I object to his qualifications. I think he's 3 very well qualified, but he's not disclosed as an expert in
4 this case.

5 MR. BAKER: And, Your Honor, that's the same conversation
6 that we've had.

7 THE COURT: That's the same objection, noted for the 8 record. The motion is granted. So ordered.

9 Mr. Baker.

10 BY MR. BAKER:

11 Q How many people in your practice?

12 A About five or six of us, yes.

13 Q And do you work conjunctively with another Ph.D. to 14 provide mental health services to people on the premises?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And who is that?

17 A Dr. Gamazzo [phonetic], Dr. Johnson, Dr. Craft
18 [phonetic], who is my psychological assistant.

19 Q Is it true that both you and Dr. Gamazzo provided
20 services to Enrique Rodriguez?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And is that your file sitting in front of you with 23 respect to Enrique Rodriguez?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And can you please tell us the first time you saw

1 Enrique and what the purpose for your examination was?

2 A Enrique was initially referred to us -- or our
3 office by Dr. MaryAnn Shannon and --

4 Q Would you refer the Judge to a Bates Number, please?

5 THE WITNESS: I don't know this record, Judge. It's 6 going to be a while to find all those.

7 BY MR. BAKER:

8 Q You're not in a hurry.

9 A Okay.

10 Q Is September 1st of '05 the first time you saw him?

11 A Psychological testing was done on August 31st of 12 '05, and then September 1st was the clinical interview.

13 Q Would it help you to use your file?

14 A Yes, it would.

15 Q You want to go do that, so you don't get all anxious 16 on me?

17 A Yes.

18 Q All right. We'll try to find the dates of the 19 services, so that the Judge and I can follow along. Would 20 that be all right?

21 A Perfect.

22 Q Okay. When you first saw him, did you give him a
23 battery of diagnostic tests?

24 A We -- I did not. I did the initial interview with 25 Enrique, and I -- yes. On 8/31, I gave him the MMPI-2, and

AVTranz

1 then I did a clinical review. He filled out some
2 questionnaires, and I -- in my clinical interview, I think
3 went and cross-validated the information that I had received
4 with him.

5           So -- and that's the standard of practice is one has 6 objective data, subjective data, that I debriefed him on the 7 information just to cross-validate it. Because as we know,
8 the MMPI has a numerous amount of data, and some of the scales
9 are valid and some are invalid. So it's important to really
10 cross-validate some of those test findings with the client.
11 And that's what I did with it.

12           Q     And what were your findings with respect to the 13 MMPI, your evaluation, at the time of your first meeting with 14 Enrique?

15           A     Okay. Well, with everything that we did -- and I
16 also gave him the Beck Anxiety Inventory and the Beck
17 Depression Inventory II.

18           Q     And we've been through those. But could briefly
19 explain to the Judge what the Beck Inventory is with respect
20 to anxiety and depression are?

21           A     Yes. They're just 21 questions each. And the 22 measure, just generalized anxiety that a patient would have.
23 And the same thing with the depression inventory. It'll
24 measure depression. And the two questions on the Beck
25 Depression Inventory that are the most important are the ones

1 that have to do with suicide and with pessimism. And then,
2 like I said, the MMPI has numerous scales. And I debriefed
3 him on all of those, as well as validity scales.

4 Q And are certain axes or axes come as a result of 5 your examination, the MMPI, the Beck Inventory, in terms of 6 both pain and mood?

7 A Yes. The bible that we use, Judge, if you've seen
8 this one before, the DSM-IV-TR. It's used by psychologist.
9 And so, you -- we generally will look at all of the data and 10 attempt to determine whether or not the data, objective and 11 subjective, meet diagnostic criteria in this book. And the 12 two criteria that I thought best met his presenting problems,
13 what we call a pain disorder due to a medical condition with 14 psychological factors -- I'll explain what these mean. And 15 also then a mood disorder --

16 Q Can I interrupt you --

17 A Uh-huh.

18 Q -- for just one second?

19 A Sure.

20 Q I've been told I do that a lot. Are we looking at 21 the same page now? It's your test. It's your examination,
22 May 31?

23 A Yes.

1 Q Sure.

2 MR. BAKER: That's 175, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Thank you.

4 MR. BAKER: 175, Counsel.

5 THE WITNESS: There are two diagnoses. As I said, the 6 pain disorder due to his medical condition with psychological
7 factors and a mood disorder due to his medical condition with
8 mixed features of anxiety and depression. So the obvious
9 question is what do they mean.

10 Okay. And well, a pain disorder due to the medical 11 condition means that he's been diagnosed with a medical 12 condition that is -- there's a pain generator. So Dr. Shannon
13 had evaluated him and found that he --

14 BY MR. BAKER:

15 Q And other doctors?

16 A I'm sorry?

17 Q And other doctors?

18 A And other doctors, yes. And so, his medical 19 condition was severe enough that it was causing him
20 psychological issues. So he was having concerns, you know,
21 fear and anxiety about having a new injury or having an
22 exacerbation of the current injury. And he was physically
23 inactive, and he wasn't able to work his job. And he was 24 having, with the significant other, you know, relationship
25 difficulties. So, all of these issues relative to his

AVTranz

1 lifestyle were affected. So the idea is that he has a medical
2 condition, and he has psychological factors. And --

3 Q Is it -- I'm sorry, go ahead.

4 A And the symptoms that he was producing from our
5 observations weren't fained or weren't malingered. They 6 appeared to be, you know, relative -- relevant to his
7 presenting condition.

8 Now the other diagnosis is the mood disorder due to 9 his medical condition with mixed features of anxiety and 10 depression. And what that means is he has feelings of anxiety
11 and depression secondary to a medical condition, because when 12 someone has a level of pain, suffering, there's biological 13 things that occur, you know, in the human brain. And there's 14 a lot of studies that show that there's less serotonin, for 15 example. And serotonin is one of the chemicals that mediates
16 your depression.

17 So you've heard about people being biologically
18 depressed. That's in many thousands of cases over the years
19 that I've examined. It's almost -- those two things go
20 together, pain, depression and anxiety, as the biological 21 reasons for, as well as the psychological reasons. You're not 22 able to work anymore. You're not able to have sex with your 23 significant other. You're not able to, you know, recreate.
24 You're not able to travel much. You're not able to --
25 whatever it is you were able to do you're not able to do

AVTranz

1 anymore.

2           So those were the two best diagnoses that I could
3 come up with with the data that I had. And then I made some 4 recommendations for treatment.

5           Q     With respect to Bates Stamp Number 178, there's a
6 discussion center -- section that the Judge is looking at.

7           A     Yes.

8           Q     And I hate to ask you to read something into the 9 record, but I'm going to ask you to read something into the
10 record.

11          A     Okay.

12          Q     Is this what you were trying to describe to us is 13 the methodology involved in coming up with those diagnostic 14 axes?

15          A     Basically, yes. I take the objective data, the 16 subjective data, and begin to attempt -- because there's not 17 -- there's never a perfect fit, but the best that you can to 18 put together the data that you have into a diagnosis.

19                   And that's what you see under the discussion there,
20 Judge, if that's what you have.

21          Q     And maybe I can help you out a little bit. It talks
22 about, at the very last line, the symptoms are not intentional
23 produced or fained, as in a factitious disorder, or 24 malingering, is that right?

25          A     Yes.

AVTranz

1 Q Now factitious orders [sic] and malingering are also
2 DSM-TR-III/IV diagnoses, is that correct?

3 A Correct, yes.

4 Q And there is a specific description of both a
5 malingerer and someone with a factitious disorder that did not
6 come to you in order to describe Enrique Rodriguez, is that 7 fair?

8 A Yes.

9 MR. WARD: Object, leading.

10 BY MR. BAKER:

11 Q Well, did you --

12 THE COURT: Well, sustained.

13 MR. BAKER: Sure.

14 BY MR. BAKER:

15 Q Did you consider him to have either a factitious
16 disorder or malingering?

17 A No, I didn't, because I didn't see malingering.
18 Because when one -- usually, when I see malingering, it's 19 usually there's not a pain generator present. You know,
20 there's -- often times, there is a lack of a pain generator,
21 and physicians will refer those types of patients to me and 22 say, you know, we're a little confused here. We don't know
23 what's wrong with these folk. You know, I mean there's not --
24 we don't see a big pain generator coming here. So why are 25 they having pain in excess of what would be expected by the

AVTranz

1 mechanism of injury?

2 Q And --

3 A And the factitious disorder, that's a disorder
4 that's diagnosed -- there's an absence of external incentives
5 for the behavior. So if you have a factitious disorder, it's
6 really not malingering. It's more subconscious. There's a
7 subconscious need to be sick.

8 So like in malingering, it would be I'm going to 9 fake symptoms in order to avoid going into the military, which 10 in my day was what people did during the Vietnam era. They 11 would fake mental illness and go to a psychiatrist, and they
12 would say they're obviously malingering. Or a factitious
13 disorder is you say you have all these symptoms, but it's some 14 conscious need to be sick. So there's a difference. And I
15 didn't see either one.

16 Plus, we had the benefit of seeing Enrique many,
17 many sessions. And over that time, if somebody is 18 malingering, factitious, or, you know, out of control, we will
19 be able to identify that. And we didn't identify it. I mean
20 he has certain personality characteristics about how he is as 21 a man and a person, but that's his personality style. That 22 doesn't mean he's malingering, factitious, or symptom
23 magnifying. That's just him.

24 Q And is there a relationship between a long duration
25 of pain and mood disorder and anxiety disorders?

AVTranz

1           A     Yes.

2           Q     And could you describe to the Judge, does that work
3 on the same limbically medically and sympathetically mediated
4 neurotransmitter basis that you just described a little while
5 ago?

6           A     Yes, because what happens, in the nervous system, we 7 have what's known as the autonomic nervous system or the 8 automatic nervous system, and there's two divisions.
9 Actually, there's three. The one division is called the 10 sympathetic, or fight or flight.

11                     So if you see a dark shadow as you're going out at 12 night to get in your car, that dark shadow might look like
13 it's moving. And it's like all of a sudden, you know, you
14 have a -- you fright or you fear that somebody might be coming
15 to attack you. And then what happens, automatically, you --
16 your pupils dilate. Your hands get sweating. Your breathing
17 changes. The blood moves from the periphery to the trunk,
18 because in case you were attacked, the body wants to protect
19 itself from bleeding in terms of, you know, using extremities.

20                     Versus -- the opposite of that is the 21 parasympathetic or the relaxation response. It's the 22 opposite. And then third is we have an enteric response in 23 the gut. Now pain is definitely correlated with that
24 sympathetic fight or flight. So that's why the neuro
25 chemicals that go on in the brain and the rest of the body,

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 that's why you have that stress response. Stress and pain are
2 very much coequal because of the fight or flight response.

3 Q Are you --

4 A And there's some research to suggest that pain
5 patients, when -- one of the ways you can tell a patient
6 that's in pain is his heart rate might be, you know, elevated.
7 He might be sweaty and perspiring a lot. He might, you know,
8 be unable to focus, because there's that lost attentional
9 capacity.

10 And that's one of the reasons why we use biofeedback
11 therapy as part of our treatment, because biofeedback therapy,
12 when the patient is hooked up to the different sensors that we 13 have, we can help them give feedback relative to increasing
14 their hand temperature, decreasing their sweat, and decreasing
15 their muscle tension, all which is sympathetic or fight or 16 flight developed because of the pain.

17 So that's a -- hopefully, I didn't confuse you, but 18 that's the technology behind all of this. And that's related
19 to this diagnosis and what happened to him.

20 Q Are you familiar with something called chronic pain
21 disorder?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Could you explain to the Judge what a chronic pain
24 disorder is?

25 A When a person is in chronic pain, we know that

AVTranz

1 there's characteristic ways of behaving, you know, that
2 people, generally speaking, they're more prone to muscle
3 spasm. They're more prone to being bothered, you know, by the 4 pain generator.

5 In my -- one of my fields, neuro psychology, there's
6 even research that shows that people in chronic pain have a
7 rewiring of the front lobes of the brain, which is the brain's
8 executive. And so, people in chronic have characteristic --

9 Q Would you explain what the executive functions are?

10 A I'm sorry?

11 Q The executive functions.

12 A Yeah. Executive functions are planning, problem
13 solving, decision making, multitasking, you know, paying 14 attention, concentrating, planning, organizing, all those 15 kinds of things, you know, trying to live a more effective
16 life.

17 Q And if an individual suffering from chronic pain
18 syndrome also reported -- I don't know how to say it medically
19 -- feeling a little bit scatter brained, would that be 20 consistent with the DSM diagnosis of chronic pain syndrome?

21 A Absolutely, yes, it would be.

22 Q Okay. You were speaking to the Judge more about the 23 neuropathology and the workings of chronic pain syndrome.

24 A Right.

25 Q Have you finished?

1           A     Yes.

2           Q     Okay.  And is it your opinion that Enrique Rodriguez
3 suffers from chronic pain syndrome?

4           A     Yes.

5           Q     In fact, by the time he saw you, by the very
6 definition, he had been in chronic pain just because of the 7 longetivity [sic] of it, is that right?

8           A     Right, because there's different definitions of 9 what's chronic.  Some people say after three months pain is 10 chronic, after six months.  I tend to think that probably 11 after three to six months, if you're not better by then, then
12 now it's chronic.  I think now there's beginnings of, like I
13 said, a rewiring of the neural architecture of the brain.

14           A     There's more of an ease for a person to go into muscle spasms.

15                     That's one of the things that we know too is that 16 when one is in chronic pain, the tension spasm pain cycle, you
17 start off with tension.  It could be muscle tension.  It could 18 be mental tension.  That creates spasm in the body.  And spasm
19 then creates pain.  Then pain creates more tension.  So it's a 20 cyclical aspect of what's going on.

21                     And we all have it, you know, because we're all
22 uptight and tense.  We're tense about something.  And where do
23 you start, you know, rubbing?  You know, you take your glasses
24 off and you go oh, man, you know, my neck is sore, my back is 25 tense, because now we're producing chemicals in our body that

1 are -- that, you know, cause inflammation. And that
2 inflammation -- then the more you have that inflammation, the
3 more difficult that it is to resolve it.

4 Q And you were talking to me about your handy bible,
5 the DSM.

6 A Yes.

7 Q Does the DSM recognize that people suffering from 8 chronic pain and anxiety and mood disorders have emotional

10 A Yes.

11 Q Okay. Into tears at times?

12 A Sure.

13 Q They have mood swings. Is that fair to say?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And just kind of act like they're not feeling good?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And are these all things that were recognized and 18 determined at your office that were true with respect to 19 Enrique Rodriguez?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And is that consistent with somebody suffering from 22 a physically trauma caused mood disorder?

23 A Yes.

3 Q And is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of

10 A Yes.

5 A No.

6 Q All right. I'm just going to show you what I have
7 as 110. Is this part of the questionnaire that Enrique filled
8 out at your office?

9 A Yes. Let me see what's at the bottom.

10 Q It says opinions about diagnoses. What page --

11 A 105.

12 Q 105 is the beginning of this particular
13 questionnaire, is that correct?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And it says opinion about diagnoses?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And you see where Enrique has checked off I agree
18 with my doctor's diagnosis and medical diagnostic test and our 19 consultations of that -- that I've received, but I think the 20 following medical tests and consultations should be provided.
21 And at that section he marks off neck and back, complete test,
22 head test, and hand test, is --

23 A Yes.

24 Q -- that right?

25 A Correct.

1 MR. WARD: Is that -- is there a date on there?

2 MR. BAKER: It's September 1st of '05.

3 MR. WARD: Ah, September 1st. Thank you.

4 BY MR. BAKER:

5 Q Okay. Why do you ask such information?

6 A Well, I want to know what a patient believes about 7 their diagnosis because if a patient doesn't accept their
8 diagnosis, then that has to be reported to the doctor. That 9 has to be thoroughly discussed with the physician. It's like 10 if you and I or anybody goes to a doctor and we don't know the 11 diagnosis, and they're treating us, I mean we're confused.
12 We're very confused, you know, like what's going on here. So
13 that's why it was important to know if he agrees or disagrees
14 with the doctor, you know. And also, does he know or 15 understand his doctor's diagnosis.

16 I do a lot of pre-surgical psychological evaluations
17 for physicians that are not only going to do major surgery,
18 but also spinal cord stimulator and fusion pump, and so forth.
19 And that's remarkable to me that how many of those patients
20 don't know what's wrong with them. They have no clue. Like
21 why are you here? I don't know. My doctor sent me here.
22 What's wrong with you? Well, I'm really not sure. And that's 23 a red flag.

24 Q Did Enrique seem pretty sure of why he was there?

25 A Yes, he knew.

1 Q And this was for diagnostic clearance for surgery
2 that Dr. Shannon was to perform?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And was the reason that he was sent to you to see
5 that there weren't comorbidity psychologically that would
6 contraindicate him having that surgery?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And did you clear him?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And was it true at this time Enrique was saying that 11 he thinks in September of '05, that more attention needs to be 12 paid to his pain complaints in his back and his head and other
13 areas of the spine?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Now did you still have an opinion whether Enrique
16 was suffering from chronic pain syndrome at this time?

17 A Yes, he still had it.

18 Q And do you still have an opinion whether there was a
19 mood disorder at this time?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And do you still have an opinion whether he was 22 suffering from an anxiety disorder at this time?

23 A Well, the anxiety and depression secondary to the 24 medical condition.

25 Q Sure. And you've treated patients with a

1 constellation of injuries prior to Enrique and since that
2 time, is that right?

3 A Yes.

4 And the important thing too, Judge, to remember is
5 that even though this person may have these diagnoses, when 6 one is clearing somebody for a surgery, you can still have
7 these diagnosis. But if they're in treatment and if they're 8 being followed by somebody, the protocol is it is okay for 9 them to at least have a trial stimulator. And that's what I
10 was clearing him for, the trial. And then we could reevaluate 11 with the physician relative to the permanence of the 12 placement.

13 But we also had a lot of treatment already done with 14 Enrique, which is unusual when we get these referrals. Often
15 times we'll get a referral, and we've never seen the patient
16 before. So we have no clue about how they typically are. We 17 had the opportunity to evaluate him and see him for a number
18 of sessions prior to this particular clearance. So it -- I
19 was able to, with a greater degree of psychological 20 probability, clear him for the trial stimulator even though he 21 still had some of these symptoms operative.

22 Q And --

23 A I have to make that distinction, because, typically,
24 if I hadn't seen him, didn't know him, I might not have 25 cleared him, like hey, he needs some help. But we've been

1 helping him, so we know what his strengths and weaknesses are.
2 It is a trial, and that's part of the protocol. If you have a
3 trial, you know, even for humanitarian reasons, see if it
4 works for them, because at the point that he was coming to us,
5 and you know, other surgeries and trial stimulator, and so
6 forth, we want to make sure that they're ready to go as long
7 as they're being followed.

8 Q And still, at this point, you've never seen any 9 evidence of malingering?

10 A No.

11 Q Or of a factitious disorder?

12 A No.

13 Q Now you've treated, as we've talked about, a lot of 14 people in chronic pain with a constellation of injuries, is
15 that right?

16 A Yes, I have.

17 Q Have you -- what -- have you ever seen or 18 experienced or observed these individuals suffering from mood
19 disorder, panic disorder, and particularly chronic pain,
20 focusing primarily cause of pain?

21 A All the time.

22 Q Tell the Judge something about that.

23 A I mean when you're in a high level of pain, pain is 24 overwhelming, especially if you're unable to work your job.
25 And like I said before, if you're able to be intimate, if

1 you're able to socialize, if you're unable to travel, if
2 you're unable to, you know, live the kind of life that you
3 wanted to live, you know, I always say to my clients that I
4 mean this is probably one of the biggest stressors you're
5 going to have is this chronic pain, especially with back pain.

6 It's epidemic in our country. There's so many
7 instances of people, you know, with chronic pain and really
8 don't know how to cope with it. And it may go away for a
9 while, but then later on, as one gets older, you know, then
10 one might be subject to arthritic, you know, type conditions
11 because of what you've been through. So it's a pervasive type
12 of problem.

13 Q Are you --

14 A So it's not unusual to have all of the psychological
15 issues.

16 Q Are you familiar with a neurologically mediated pain
17 response called masking?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Would you explain to the Judge how that relates to 20 primarily focusing on your area of worse pain and only
21 secondarily focusing on other areas?

22 A What happens with that concept, as I understand it
23 -- I'm not a physician -- but from my understanding as a
24 psychologist and as a neuropsychologist, is that in the spinal
25 cord, there are different cells that are selected to convey

11 Q Do you study the spinal cord?

14 and the peripheral nervous system?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Have you studied the neurophysiologic responses of 17 both the brain and the spinal cord to pain?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And is that true with respect to the peripheral
20 nervous system as well?

21 A Yes.

1 A Yes.

2 Q Have you treated a constellation of patients
3 suffering from chronic pain who have evidenced masking?

4 A Yes.

5 MR. BAKER: Your Honor.

6 MR. WARD: Same objection.

7 THE COURT: I think he's laid the proper foundation.
8 Overruled.

9 You may continue.

10 THE WITNESS: Okay. So in terms of the different
11 neurotransmitters that are in the spinal column of each
12 segment to transmit the pain stimuli, okay, because there's 13 different tracks going up and different tracks going down --
14 and what happens is there's also not only pain receptors.
15 There's also receptors for touch and for temperature.

16 And for a reason that's unknown, according to the 17 research, is the pain receptors recruit the receptors for 18 touch and temperature. So now you have a much greater array
19 of cells that are dedicated going up and down, you know, the 20 spinal column for transmitting to the brain. And the chronic
21 pain, that part of the chronic pain mediates or is synapsis in 22 the emotional center of the brain, where acute pain goes
23 directly into the part of the brain that has to do with the 24 sensation. But chronic pain, no, it takes a little detour.
25 So you have an emotional response.

1 Q Is that the limbic system?

2 A Yes, the limbic system is part of it, but the
3 thalamus, hypothalamus, and so forth in the brain. So there's
4 a major hormonal aspect that goes on. And so, this particular
5 concept is a neurochemical response in which certain
6 sensations may be masked or inhibited, like the touch part or 7 the temperature.

8 That's why with chronic pain patients, often times
9 we'll ask them what does your pain feel like. Is it burning?
10 Is it slicing? Is it -- you know, is it throbbing? Because 11 it gives us an idea about whether or not this certain pain
12 modality is what they're feeling and if, in point of fact, it
13 is chronic.

14 So that's what we're really working for is that we 15 understand that certain sensations have been inhibited and 16 other sensations have been, you know, say, like a turning up
17 the volume on your stereo. So you're having more cells to go
18 to the brain to have a pain response. And then as the attempt 19 to cope -- you know, that's why hypnosis and biofeedback and 20 cognitive behavioral therapy are used in the sense to overcome
21 or mask over some of those transmissions. It's a very 22 complicated neurophysiological process.

23 Q What type of treatment was Enrique Rodriguez
24 receiving at your office?

25 A He received cognitive behavioral therapy and

1 biofeedback therapy. Biofeedback therapy, as I said before,
2 is the use of equipment, scientifically developed equipment,
3 to measure how we use the three aspects. We do your
4 peripheral hand temperature, because people that have cold
5 hands are in sympathetic fight or flight, under stress.

6 But people with Raynaud's Syndrome, with the very cold
7 hands, you know, they'll report significant pain, because 8 there's not a big blood flow supply. So often times with 9 chronic pain patients, they have very cold or cooler type
10 hands. They don't have good peripheral circulation. So we 11 use that.

12 We also use an EEG. An EEG is a surface electrode
13 that can measure muscle activity, whether or not that muscle
14 is in spasm or whether it's calm and relaxed. And the third
15 one we use is a sweat gland, which is part of a polygraph.
16 You know, it's the skin conductance level. So if your hands
17 are sweaty, that's sympathetic activation. If your hands are 18 dry, then it means you're more in the parasympathetic.

19 So knowing what the measurements are, if you have to 20 low hand temperature, the goal is to increase your hand
21 temperature, so you now get into parasympathetic relaxation.
22 If your EEG is high, which means that you're in spasm, the 23 goal is to lower that. And if your skin conductance level is 24 high, which means you're sweating a lot, showing you're 25 anxious, depressed, in pain, the goal is to decrease that. So

AVTranz

1 that's what we do in biofeedback.

2 Now cognitive behavioral therapy is one of the best
3 used modalities with chronic pain. And what cognitive
4 behavioral therapy does, it basically -- if you were to think
5 of the word benefits, B-E-F-I-T-S. And the B stands for 6 behavior. The E stands for your emotions. The F stands for
7 your feelings. The I stands for what -- your imagery, the T
8 for thoughts, and the S for speech.

9 So the key here is what you imagine, right brain,
10 what you think and say out loud, left brain. Basically,
11 you're -- describing what the imagery is creates an emotion.
12 Now that emotion creates a feeling. And that feeling
13 motivates a behavior to do something or not do anything.

14 So we teach our patients to learn to control what
15 they imagine, what they think, and what they say out loud,
16 because that creates your emotions. It's like, you know, the 17 law of attraction. You have an attraction. So what you
18 think, what you imagine, what you say, that's going to either
19 make you optimistic or pessimistic. So we attempt to teach
20 the patients how to have greater self-control, self-mastery.
21 That's the goal. So that's why we use both of those 22 modalities.

23 Q And are both of those modalities accepted in the 24 neuropsychological community with respect to people suffering
25 from the disorder?

1           A     Well, yeah. These two modalities have been used.
2     In fact, when you look at different national guidelines,
3     they're both -- both of those modalities, cognitive behavioral
4     therapy and biofeedback therapy, are recommended in chronic
5     pain, you know, programs and chronic pain treatment. They're 6     recommended as of choice.

7           Q     And also for anxiety disorders which are caused by a

9           A     Yes.

10          Q     -- a physically traumatic event?

11          A     Yes.

12          Q     Okay. And those are your opinions to a reasonable
13     degree of professional probability?

14          A     Yes.

15          Q     And still, by this time, you've never suspected that

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. And then he came to you for clearance of the 15 spine cord stimulator, is that right?

16 A I believe so, yes.

17 Q And you gave him a battery of test, again, the 18 Becks, is that right?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And that was consistent with everything that you had 21 seen throughout your treatment of Enrique Rodriguez?

1 Q And you also gave a brief battery for health
2 improvement, the BBHI 2?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Could you explain to the Judge what that particular
5 test is?

6 A Yes.

7 I've been using, Judge, as most pain management
8 psychologists, for years, the MMPI-2. And the MMPI-2, I don't
9 know if you've ever taken it, it's a long test, 567 questions,
10 true or false. And it's not normed on pain patients. But 11 certainly, in my training, it's been used with pain patients.

12 But it's very aversive, because it takes a long
13 time. You sit a long time to take it. And although you have 14 respect for some of the findings on it, as I said before, I
15 find that some of the scales on this test are wrong and 16 erroneous. And so I don't use it.

17 So I was able to discover there were two other
18 tests, one called the BBHI 2 and the other one was called the 19 P-3. Both of those tests were normed on community sample
20 patients -- a community sample that did not have pain, plus
21 another sample that was in pain. So now you have pain
22 patients compare to people that are not in pain.

23 And so, research was done with the norming, and the 24 test publishers, when they publish these tests, say that these 25 tests are appropriate for use with the pain patients,

AVTranz

1 pre-surgical screenings, and so forth. And as I said, they're
2 very short. They don't take, you know, an hour-and-a-half to
3 take. I think the P-3 you can take in maybe 10, 15 minutes,
4 and probably the same thing for the Brief Battery for Health
5 Improvement.

6 And I find that I get good data, because what I'm 7 looking for, to screen out someone, Judge, is do they have
8 significant depression, significant anxiety, and that ugly
9 word we don't like that we screen people out, is called 10 somatization.

11 Well, somatization in the DSM-IV-2 -- or TR is 12 different than the somatization on this test. The 13 somatization on the test has to do with concerns about your 14 body not the diagnosis of somatization, which indicates that 15 there probably isn't a pain generator and you have all these 16 different symptoms in different body areas.

17 So that's why I used these tests, because, also,
18 they give me a look at whether or not the patient is engaging
19 in -- possibly engaging in histrionic manner, there's 20 secondary gain, if it's a cry for help. I get a chance to 21 rule some of those things in or out, and that's why I've 22 reverted now to not using the MMPI anymore and using these
23 tests as part of my screening, because the patients love me
24 for and they don't have to spend a long time answering all
25 these questions, many of which have no relevance to the

1 surgical decision.

2 Q And with respect to the P-3, was Enrique determined
3 to be in the average range for somatization and depression?

4 A Take a look.

5 Q I could read to you what it says. His depression
6 and somatization scores are in the average range for pain
7 patients and unlikely to interfere significantly with his
8 progress and treatment.

9 A Right.

10 Q Was that your determination?

11 A Yeah, that was what came out. So depression
12 somatization scores, average for pain patients. The anxiety
13 scale was minimal and unlikely to interfere with treatment.

14 Q Why is it important that it's normed for a
15 population of pain patients?

16 A Well, you're comparing apples with apples not apples
17 with oranges. It's just like with the MMPI-II test, as I said
18 about some of these questions. Like the questions on the 19 hypochondriasi scale on the MMPI, most of those have to do
20 with gastrointestinal upset. People can have gastrointestinal
21 upset not because they have -- GI upset because there's 22 something wrong with them, but it could be medication side
23 effects, because people are always complaining of GI upset and 24 problems with eliminating and voiding, you know, upset stomach
25 and nausea, vomiting, and so forth.

1           So as I said, these tests are better geared to
2 answer the questions that I need about somatization and about
3 depression and anxiety. And then I can ask a patient about
4 schizophrenia, if they're hearing voices or seeing visions.
5 And usually, people that hear voices and see visions, there's
6 a history of that in the record. And you know, psychiatrists
7 diagnose that all the time without reverting to MMPI tests and 8 those kinds of tests. So by using the clinical interview and 9 these tests, and actually focusing in on what their
10 expectations are for surgery, you get I think much better
11 data.

12           And there's a psychologist named Block that 13 developed a basic protocol for a pre-surgical screen, and 14 that's -- I tend to follow Block's methodology. So it
15 helps --

16           Q     If it was suggested that the results of Enrique's
17 P-3 exam demonstrated somatization of the type that you would 18 find in a factitious disorder, would that be right?

19           A     I'm sorry. Say it again.

20           Q     If it was suggested that the somatization that he --
21 that was in the average range that you found in the P-3 test
22 was the type of somatization that you had in a factitious
23 disorder --

24           A     Well, it wouldn't be in a factitious disorder. It
25 would be in more of what they call a somatization disorder.

1 Q Yeah.

2 A Yeah.

3 Q It's not saying that he has a somatization disorder,
4 is it?

5 A Right. It's not saying -- no, because as I said,
6 those are different.

7 Q How are they different?

8 A The DSM will tell you what the criteria is for 9 somatization disorder versus the P-3 and others. It's more
10 about your concern about your pain and your suffering, you
11 know, and somatic concern versus really not having the pain
12 generator. And we know he has the pain generator. He's been 13 treated for it.

14 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of 15 neuropsychological probability?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Now let's talk about the BBHI 2.

18 A Okay.

19 Q What is it and what did it show in this instance?

20 A Okay. This is what they -- the BBHI 2, there's a 21 bigger test called the Battery for Health Improvement. It's 22 longer --

23 Q This is the Brief Battery, isn't it?

24 A This is the Brief Battery, because, again, I get the 25 same data, what I need, from the Brief Battery. And we get

1 computer printouts from both the P-3 and the BBHI 2 that the
2 authors of those tests have developed.

3 This is an interesting test, because it has a number
4 of different characteristics that are useful for us when we're
5 attempting to determine whether or not the client, you know,
6 has issues or not. It gives us what they call critical items,
7 and then it gives us defensiveness scale. Then it allows us
8 to look at their body complaints, pain complaints, functional
9 complaints. And functional means being able to move. And 10 then about depression and anxiety.

11 One of the things I like about the defensiveness
12 scale --

13 Q What is that?

14 A This defensiveness scale, it -- whether or not the 15 person was over -- highly defensive or average defensiveness
16 or low defensiveness. Now, typically, in a pain patient,
17 you're going to see a lowering of defense, because as the 18 computer printout says, his extreme lowering of defenses could
19 be seen as part of a desperate cry for help, an exaggeration
20 of symptoms for secondary gain, or histrionic manner of 21 complaining. And then it goes on to say this strong bias
22 raises questions about the credibility of the patient's
23 self-report, which may be inflated. Now if psychosocial risk
24 factors are present, the possibility that these difficulties
25 are associated with symptom magnification could be -- should

1 be considered.

2 So as a professional, it allows me to look at these
3 possibilities on a rule out basis, because one does not take a
4 characterization from a test and say this is the absolute
5 gospel unless you know your patient, because there's more than 6 just the testing data. There's observations. And we've had a
7 lot of observations about Enrique, because he was working with 8 us as a patient. We also know that he -- his responses on 9 clinical questionnaires and being able to, you know,
10 understand his medical condition.

11 So my thought was as I did this assessment, I did
12 not see it as an exaggeration of symptoms for secondary gain,
13 because from my understanding, he's had a number of surgeries,
14 is going to need more surgeries at the time, or is being 15 worked up by doctors. So he wasn't -- I didn't think it was 16 secondary gain.

17 Well, could it be a desperate cry for help? Well,
18 yes. I think that Enrique has asked for help. But because of 19 fiscal constraints to pay for treatment and so forth, that has 20 not been what's coming for him. So that's been a real sense
21 of frustration for him.

22 And then they talk about a histrionic manner of 23 complaining. Well, he certainly complains, but I don't see it
24 as being histrionic, because somebody that's histrionic is 25 somebody that probably doesn't have a lot of things wrong with

AVTranz

1 them and would tend to complain. Well, his complaints were I
2 have all these problems. It's called delayed recovery. It's
3 taking forever to get me the right treatment. And it's my
4 understanding that he still I don't think has had, you know,
5 the permanent implantation of the spinal cord stimulator,
6 which is really problematic, because he's had to suffer more.
7 So my sense was, at the time, that it wasn't histrionic. I
8 didn't see secondary gain. It was a cry for help.

9 Q And that's in quotations where they speak about the 10 extreme lowering of defenses could be seen as a desperate cry
11 for help. Desperate cry for help is the first thing mention,
12 is that fair to say?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And you were aware by this time Enrique had two knee
15 surgeries, is that right?

16 A I believe so, yes. Uh-huh.

17 Q Had two sympathetic lumbar blocks in California that 18 helped, is that right?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And are you aware that he had one sympathetic lumbar
21 block just two weeks before he came to see you that didn't
22 stop the burning pain he was complaining about?

23 A Right.

24 Q Is this the type of person, from a
25 neuropsychological perspective, you would expect to be

2 A Yes.

3 Q And is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of 4 neuropsychological probability?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Now is what's contained in Exhibit Number 51 your 7 office bills and records associated with your care and
8 treatment of Enrique Rodriguez at your facility? It's right
9 there.

10 A It's this here? If this is the last -- whatever is,
11 I'm sure it is. Yes.

12 Q Was the treat -- let me ask you a question before --

13 A There it is, yes.

14 Q -- I ask you this. If it was suggested by a defense
15 expert on the stand that you diagnosed Enrique Rodriguez in 16 either histrionic or having second gain motives, how would you
17 respond to that?

18 A I think it's ridiculous. I diagnosed him, as I
19 said, more of the cry for help. It wasn't secondary gain, and 20 it wasn't histrionic.

21 Q And was your care and treatment rendered to Enrique
22 Rodriguez, as evidenced in Exhibit 51, reasonable, necessary,
23 and caused by the traumatic event at the Palms Hotel and the

8 Judge, I put down here 19,692, but I believe this

CROSS-EXAMINATION

1
2 BY MR. WARD:

3 Q Doctor, when did you give the BBHI?

4 A 12/18 of 2007.

5 Q Of 2007?

6 A Yes, sir.

7 Q And what were the reported findings?

8 A You need to go through all those, Mr. Ward?

9 Q Yes.

10 A Okay. Just on this test?

11 Q On that test?

12 A Okay. I've already told the Judge what the 13 defensiveness scale was. Do you want me to repeat that?

14 Q Sure.

15 A Okay.

16 THE WITNESS: Okay. Judge, again, the defensiveness
17 scale is extremely low, extreme lowering of defenses --

18 BY MR. WARD:

19 Q What was the --

20 A I'm sorry.

21 Q -- defensiveness scale?

22 A What do you mean what was it?

23 Q Well, does the report say extremely low?

24 A That's what it says, Mr. Ward.

25 Q It says extremely low?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay.

3 MR. WARD: Do we have a page?

4 MR. BAKER: 12.

5 MR. WARD: Page 12?

6 THE WITNESS: It's this page here, Judge.

9 BY MR. WARD:

10 Q Okay. And it says the computer -- the computerized
11 interpretation states this extreme lowering of defenses could 12 be seen as part of a desperate cry for help, exaggeration of 13 symptoms for secondary gain, or histrionic manner of 14 complaint, is that correct?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And it says this strong bias raises questions about 17 the patient's self-reports, which may be inflated, is that
18 correct?

19 A No. You said this strong bias raises questions
20 about the credibility -- you left out credibility -- of the 21 patient's self-reports, which may be inflated.

22 Q Okay. I thought I read that. But if I didn't, let

5 BY MR. WARD:

6 Q This strong bias raises questions about the
7 credibility of the patient's self-reports, which may be
8 inflated, correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay. So the scoring on the tests says that, number
11 one, there can be a desperate cry of help, correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Number two, it could be an indication of 14 exaggeration of symptoms for secondary gain, is that correct?

15 A Correct.

16 Q What is secondary gain?

17 A Secondary gain means that if you, like, have an 18 accident, and there's a chance to receiving remuneration for 19 the accident, there may be a tendency to fake symptoms, or if 20 they're real symptoms, to exaggerate the real symptoms in an 21 attempt to gain financial remuneration for it.

22 Q Okay. Well, secondary gain is actually more than
23 that.

24 A Well, it could be -- yeah, I just think you're using 25 -- it also could be a way to avoid doing housework, for

1 example, avoid having sex with your spouse, avoid having to
2 work. It could be a lot of different things. You're using
3 the injury, fabricating the serious of the injury in order to 4 get something or to avoid something.

5 Q And secondary gain can even include attention, can't
6 it?

7 A Sure.

8 Q All kinds of -- the patient gets all kinds of 9 doctors paying a lot of attention to him, lawyers and all
10 kinds of people paying a lot of attention.

11 A It's possible, yeah, sure.

12 Q People in one's family has a lot of sympathy for the 13 person and pays a lot more attention to him.

14 A Yes.

15 Q And it's a great opportunity to have an excuse when 16 your friend calls and asks you if you'll help move him on the 17 weekend.

18 A Yes.

19 Q Or essentially, to not do just about anything that 20 you don't want to do.

21 A Okay, yes.

22 Q Okay. Now the exaggeration of symptoms, did you
23 ever see any indication, in the period of time that you dealt
24 with Mr. Rodriguez, that he was exaggerating his symptoms?

25 A I'm not aware that we ever observed that. As I

1 stated before, I thought it was a cry for help, and I think
2 that he had legitimate concerns. I don't want to call it
3 complaining, but I want to call it -- he's an expressive man.
4 And in his expressiveness, you know, he's frustrated, because
5 he's living in California, trying to get treatment in
6 California, coming to Nevada, trying to get treatment here,
7 trying to get this thing resolved, so he can feel better and 8 go back to his previous lifestyle and to do whatever he was 9 doing ahead of time.

10 Q And --

11 A So his lifestyle was disrupted.

12 Q And how many times did you actually see
13 Mr. Rodriguez?

14 A I myself, not that many times. But Dr. Gamazzo, who 15 is my trusted assistant who has worked for me for years, and 16 we weekly staff our cases, saw him for the most part.

17 Q But you personally only saw him a couple of times,
18 is that correct?

19 A Correct.

20 Q Okay. And now, you're aware that the original
21 referral to you was from Dr. Shannon.

22 A Correct.

23 Q And you're aware that Dr. Shannon performed surgery
24 on Mr. Rodriguez.

25 A Yes.

1 Q And you're aware that in spite of the surgery, that
2 Mr. Rodriguez had complaints after the surgery just as much as
3 he had before, isn't that true?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And you're aware, I take it, that Dr. Shannon
6 couldn't figure out why he was having so much complaints of 7 pain about his condition.

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. And you're aware that Dr. Shannon, as a
10 result of that, conducted an MRI with contrast.

11 A I don't recall that, but I'll accept that as being
12 true.

13 Q Okay. And you're aware that when she did that, she 14 couldn't find anything wrong, correct?

15 A Was that before or after the surgery. I can't --

16 Q That was after the surgery.

17 A After the surgery, no.

18 Q You're not aware of that?

19 A No.

20 Q Okay. And so, you had no awareness at all, I take
21 it, that after Dr. Shannon's surgery, that Mr. Rodriguez
22 continued to complain of pain of the same level, and in fact,
23 in spite of Dr. Shannon's efforts, that when he left her care,
24 that he said that she hadn't helped him at all?

25 A I think he had mentioned that to Dr. Gamazzo, yes.

1 Q Okay. And you're aware -- I take it you're aware
2 that Dr. Shannon said she couldn't figure out why he was
3 having such complaints.

4 A And that happens when a doctor does a surgery. As
5 we say, it could be technically perfect, but the patient
6 continues to manifest pain. That's not unusual.

7 Q Well, is that --

8 A I see that a lot.

9 Q Is that true that you're aware of that, that 10 Dr. Shannon couldn't find any reason?

11 A Not -- I don't think I could say that right now. At 12 the time -- I think now I could say it, but at the time, I
13 don't think I could say it.

14 Q Okay. But you don't think that that raises the 15 prospect of an exaggeration of symptoms?

16 A Yes, but that also raises a prospect of other
17 explanations.

18 Q Okay. And now you're aware that following the work
19 with Dr. Shannon, that Mr. Rodriguez went to another doctor
20 and had, yet, another knee surgery.

21 A Yes.

22 Q And you're aware that that doctor felt that he had 23 taken care of all of the problems?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And yet, that didn't help Mr. Rodriguez either?

1 A No, it didn't.

2 Q And he continued to complain of pain after that at
3 the same rate that he had complained of pain before?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And you didn't see that as an indication of 6 potential exaggeration of symptoms?

7 A It's possible that it could potential, but I've
8 dealt with this in my professional career many, many times,
9 where people could have multiple surgeries, and sometimes
10 surgery just doesn't work.

11 Q Okay. But the doctors in this instance thought that 12 they didn't see any reason why the pain continued. Are you
13 aware of that?

14 MR. BAKER: I'd object to the characterization of 15 doctors. It was Dr. Shannon.

16 THE COURT: All right.

17 MR. BAKER: And the Court knows what that testimony is.

18 THE COURT: Right. I'd ask you to rephrase, please,
19 Mr. Ward.

20 MR. WARD: Yeah. It was Dr. Shannon and Dr. Tauber. It
21 was two doctors.

22 MR. BAKER: Dr. Tauber testified here, Your Honor, and he

2 BY MR. WARD:

3 Q Now -- so this report, the Brief Battery for Health
4 Improvement, the next sentence says this strong bias. So that
5 means the scores suggested a strong bias?

6 A Well, again, remember this is boiler plated. It's a
7 boiler plate description by the test authors that allows the 8 mental health professionals to rule in or rule out these 9 issues. And so, the word -- that's their word, the strong
10 bias raises the credibility about the self-report, which may 11 be inflated.

12 Q Right.

13 A That's the test author saying that.

14 Q Yeah. They scored the exam, didn't they?

15 A Well, the computer scored the exam.

16 Q Okay.

17 A They put together the protocol for the scoring.

18 Q Okay. They put together the protocol for the 19 scoring, and they scored it, and they said this strong bias
20 raises questions about the credibility of the patient's
21 self-reports, which may be inflated. That's what it says

1 associated with symptom magnification should be considered.

2 That was their statement, correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q But you didn't think any of that was true?

5 A No, because, as I told the Judge before, when we do
6 these evaluations, often we don't have the luxury of having 7 treated a patient and having made independent observations of 8 them at all. So if a patient had come to me that I didn't
9 know, had no clue about whether or not this is true or not 10 true, and then given some of the other information that we 11 had, I probably, you know, would have recommended the 12 treatment that we had recommended earlier in or to determine
13 if, in point of fact, it was an exaggeration of symptoms for 14 secondary gain, was histrionic, or if it was a cry for help.

15 But as I said, we already had the luxury of having
16 many observations of him, both in cognitive behavioral therapy
17 and bio feedback therapy. So in discussions with Dr. Gamazzo
18 and myself, we ruled it out, and we saw it as being more of --
19 again, we said the cry for help.

20 Q Isn't it true that the next sentence says an extreme
21 level of perceived disability was reported that does not 22 exceed what would be expected given the objective mental --
23 medical findings?

24 A Where are you now?

1           A     Would you show me, Mr. Ward?  What's -- say it

6           Q     Third paragraph, under Brief Battery Health
7     Improvements.

8           A     Okay.

9           Q     My question to you, Doctor, is it -- does it say
10    there an extreme level of perceived disability was reported
11    that does not exceed what would be expected given the 12    objective medical findings?  Is that what it says?

13          THE WITNESS:  Where is that, Judge?  I'm not seeing it,
14    sir.

15          MR. WARD:  May I approach the witness, Your Honor?

16          THE COURT:  Right here, sir.

17          THE WITNESS:  Oh.  He -- I'm sorry.  I was going off of 18    my -- I was going off the actual report not my report.  Hold
19    on.

20          MR. BAKER:  Doctor, it says it.

21          THE WITNESS:  Huh?  No, I know it says it.

22          MR. BAKER:  Okay.

23          THE WITNESS:  But I was going off of the actual report,

2 Q Do we have that?

3 A You should have it. You have the file. Okay.

4 What --

5 THE COURT: Do you want my copy, Dr. Mortillaro?

6 THE WITNESS: No, I'm fine. I got -- I can't see well.

7 I got cataracts. So I'm not seeing as well as I should here.

8 Okay, I see it.

9 BY MR. WARD:

10 Q You see it?

11 A Yeah.

12 Q My question, Doctor, is is that what it says there?

13 A Right.

14 Q And is that your statement or the test statement?

15 A That'd be my statement.

16 Q Okay. That's your statement. So the objective

17 medical findings -- now isn't it true that the objective

18 medical findings, after Dr. Shannon did her surgery, was that 19 there weren't any objective medical findings, isn't that true?

20 A I said I don't know.

21 Q Okay. Now you have the Beck Depression Inventory

22 Second Edition?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And that simply is a self-report, isn't it?

25 A Correct.

1 Q And so, it's not really a test, is it?

2 A Well, it's a questionnaire that --

3 Q Right.

4 A It's a subjective questionnaire, true.

5 Q Yeah. I mean if somebody says to me what's your
6 name and occupation, and I put down my name is Casey Ward, I'm
7 a lawyer, you could call that a test.

8 A In a sense, sure.

9 Q Yeah, but it really --

10 A In terms of like your orientation. You know who you
11 are. Part of a neuropsychological test.

12 Q Okay. But for informational purposes, it's just a
13 form that I fill out?

14 A Right.

15 Q And that's essentially what the Beck is, isn't it?

16 A No. It's 21 items. It compares your scores with 17 symptoms of anxiety or no symptoms of anxiety that would be 18 reported by adults.

19 Q But doesn't that have questions like are you sad or 20 you're not sad or --

21 A Well, questions like that, yeah, that's in the Beck
22 Depression.

23 Q Yeah. And in the Beck Anxiety Inventory, it's the 24 same thing?

25 A Same thing.

2 did you not?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And that was conducted in the last day in August of 5 1975 [sic]?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And at the time that that was conducted, did you
8 fill out -- did you have the patient fill out a form about his 9 injuries?

10 A Yes.

11 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry, Your Honor. I think I'm about 40
12 years behind.

13 Did you say 1975?

14 THE COURT: That's what I thought he said.

15 THE WITNESS: Yeah, I'm sorry.

16 THE COURT: And it sort of threw me.

17 MR. WARD: Did I say 1975?

18 THE WITNESS: Yeah, I'm sorry. It's 2005.

2 Q September 1, 2005, you had the patient fill out a

4 A Yes.

5 Q And that was an accident injury<sup>f</sup> questionnaire, is
6 that correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And that told you that the patient had back issues?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay.

11 A Knee, back, and neck.

12 Q Right. And how long had he had back issues?

13 A It says at the time of the injury.

14 Q Okay. And that was your understanding?

15 A Yes.

17 you offered the opinion that everything that has happened to 18 him by way of medical treatment and by way of injuries since
19 the time of this accident was caused by the accident, isn't

5 BY MR. WARD:

6 Q All of the opinions that you have offered today,
7 that you've said were causally related to the incident at the

9 A Psychological.

10 Q -- was based on your assumption that this patient
11 had a back injury at the Palms at the time of the event,
12 November 22, 2004, isn't that true?

13 A No. It was not just a back injury. There were 14 other injuries. The primary injury, I believe, was to the 15 left knee.

16 Q Okay.

17 A And so, my understanding was that was the most
18 significant part, because what he said, the medical issues
19 were -- the MRI revealed meniscus tear, ACL injuries, patella
20 injuries, et cetera. So the focus wasn't on back. The focus
21 was on that left knee --

1           A     Yes, but that was allegedly to provide some pain
2 relief in different areas.

3           Q     And you said that all of the treatment that your 4 clinic provided was all causally related to the accident of
5 November 22, 2004.

6           A     Yes, because we weren't looking at any pre-accident
7 issues --

8           Q     Correct.

9           A     -- because he did not indicate that there were 10 pre-existing psychological issues. So our treatment was 11 related to the medical referral.

12          Q     And you assumed that all of the injuries or all of 13 the medical conditions that he talked to you about, that he 14 listed on this questionnaire of September 1, 2005, occurred in 15 the accident of November 22, 2004, isn't that true?

16          A     No, because he also mentioned that he had an 17 appendectomy, blood clot in the lungs, asthma attacks that all
18 preexisted. So we didn't offer any treatment for a ruptured
19 appendix or asthma attacks or any psychological issues,
20 just --

21          Q     Let me ask it differently. On page 105 of your
22 documents, which is Bates 110, there is a question -- and I
23 can't tell if there are numbers and they're cut off. But the 24 question said opinion about diagnosis, and a box is checked,
25 and it says I agree with my doctor's diagnosis, et cetera.

3 A Yes.

4 Q Can you read the rest of that?

5 A Neck and back, complete test. The neck and back
6 tested, the head test, and the hand test.

7 Q Okay.

8 A And when one has a bad knee, you -- often times, one
9 has -- one complains about bad back pain, because one is not 10 able to walk correctly. So like I said, I'm not offering any 11 medical opinions. I'm just -- I was -- this man was sent to 12 me to be evaluated, and I evaluated him for what I did.

13 Q Didn't you assume that his back injury occurred on

2 evaluation. Have you found that?

3 A Yes, I have. Yes.

4 Q Okay. And now, you have background information
5 here, correct, on this first page?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And on the second page -- on the first page, you
8 have, under background information, it says he also struck the 9 person next to him and -- with the left side of his head,

11 A Yes.

12 Q And you assumed that to be true, is that correct?

13 A That's what he told me, yes.

14 Q You assumed it to be accurate?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And he told you that the promotion was a dangerous
17 thing and should have been stopped?

18 A Yes, that's what he said.

19 Q Okay. And he told you that as a result of the 20 injury, his wife had to do all the work around the house --

21 A Yes.

22 Q -- correct? And he told you that his cervical pain,

6 A Yes.

9 A Yes.

10 Q And he had right hand pain in a range of five to

12 A Yes.

13 Q And he had chest and abdominal pain -- abdomen pain

15 A Yes.

16 Q And he had low back pain in a range of three to ten

18 A Yes.

19 Q Three to 10 is a pretty broad, isn't it?

20 A Yes.

21 Q He had bilateral leg pain in a range of three to ten

4 A Correct.

5 Q And this is all dated in September of 2005, correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And this was all to prepare him for -- your reason

10 A Yes.

11 Q And I take it you never talked to Dr. Shannon about

13 A No.

14 Q And you didn't think that that was any indication of

18 that you didn't have any problem with the idea that one could
19 have neck pain, mid-back pain, bilateral arm pain, right hand
20 pain, chest and abdomen pain, low back pain, bilateral leg
21 pain, left knee pain, and bilateral foot pain all at the same
22 time? You didn't have a problem with that?

AVTranz

1 of it?

2 A Well, I think you can -- people can have multiple
3 pain sites. And if you look at the range, you yourself said
4 it's quite a range, isn't it?

5 Q Right.

6 A And so, what does that mean. That means that there
7 are times when the pain is low, and then there are times when
8 the pain is high. That is, prognostically, a good finding.
9 It's almost like a psychological polygraph for a pain patient,
10 because if a pain patient told me my pain is a nine or a ten 11 all the time, that's bologna. But if the major site of the 12 injury, which is what his left knee was, an eight to ten, now
13 that's believable. But you can certainly have pain in a
14 range, a lower range -- because that's in a low range. You
15 know, by definition, one, two or three is in a low. Four,
16 five, six, seven is in moderate. And eight, nine, and ten
17 would be severe.

18 So I think it's absolutely predictive of the fact
19 that he wasn't magnifying his symptoms. Now if he would have 20 had all eight, nines, and tens, and he's just miserable, and I
21 observe him, you know, to be more functional than a person
22 that's with an eight, nine, or ten, now we've got a problem.

23 Q Okay.

24 A So we didn't have that problem. See, so I think
25 what you've convincingly described is the fact that yes, he

1 had these ranges of pain which is normal given whatever the
2 mechanism of injury is. It doesn't surprise me.

3 Q Okay. And so, it doesn't surprise you that he will
4 have pain in all these different areas at the same time?

5 A No.

6 MR. BAKER: Asked and answered, Your Honor.

7 BY MR. WARD:

8 Q And so, but you said, if I'm -- if I understand you
9 correctly, that if he had pain that was constantly nine or 10 ten, that would be an indication of a problem, right?

11 A In a spot that wasn't really where the mechanism of 12 injury was, unless there is pain migration that's been 13 diagnosed or there's been multiple body part type of pain.
14 And if -- and as you said, if you look at all the ranges of 15 pain here, you know, it's -- I think he did have carpal
16 tunnel. So that was a five to seven on a ten-point scale.
17 And the chest/abdomen, that doesn't bother me. Low back, you
18 know, could go real low all the way to high. So I think that 19 the descriptions are accurate and within what I would expect,
20 as I stated before.

21 Q When did he first complain of cervical pain?

2           I mean, I'm --

3           Q    I know you didn't say you didn't care. I'm asking.

4           A    What?

5           Q    In terms of your analysis, is it significant to you
6           when the cervical pain started? Is it your assumption that it
7           started on the day of the accident?

8           A    Not necessarily. It can start -- it could occur
9           later as somebody is going through treatment, or if they have 10          to overuse one part of their body. One can then develop pain
11          in other body parts, because of postural anomalies. But it -- 12          again, that's a medical opinion to be given by a medical 13          doctor.

14          Q    Well, how much later, if it were caused by the 15          accident and not a secondary cause, how much later could it
16          be? Or is that a medical opinion?

17          A    That's a medical opinion. I can't give that.

18          Q    Okay. Okay. So I take it you haven't seen anything
19          that suggests that he contends that he had cervical pain from 20          the day of the accident? You haven't seen that?

21          A    No.

22          Q    Okay. And now on the testing, you gave him the MMPI
23          on August 31, 2005?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And now, does Pearson routinely add scales to their

8 A Yes.

9 Q They do? How often?

10 A Whenever the test authors decide that they want to 11 add various scales. So it happens at different times.

12 Q Okay. But it isn't very often that it happens, is 13 it?

14 A No.

7 Q Can you answer that yes or no?

8 A No, it's -- data, a collection.

9 Q Okay. So we have --

19 Q And other validity tests for the MMPI had sometimes
20 been normed on students who were supposed to go in and pretend

2 in -- by Pearson in 2007, isn't that true?

3 A I believe so. We said that before.

4 Q And Lees-Haley had been used by many
5 neuropsychologists for years before that, isn't that true?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And when the Lees-Haley scale was adopted by 8 Pearson, Pearson actually went back and took prior tests and 9 did a normative sample on 2600 people who had taken the test,
10 isn't that true?

11 A Sure.

12 Q And when they did that, the highest that they found
13 of any male was 26, isn't that true?

14 A I believe so.

15 Q And Mr. Rodriguez's scale was 34, wasn't it?

16 A I don't know. I didn't compute it and it wasn't
17 computed for me on this test, I don't believe.

18 Q But you've read, I take it, the report from 19 Dr. Becker?

20 A Yes.

21 Q That they took the information that you provided
22 from the test that you gave and made it a scale. You do that 23 kind of thing all the time, don't you?

24 A Not all the time, but we have done it, yes.

25 Q But you can do it?

1 A Sure.

2 Q It's -- you're quite capable of doing it?

3 A Absolutely.

4 Q And so 34, when the highest anyone -- any male out
5 of their 2,600 normative sample, the highest male was 26, 34
6 would be pretty high, wouldn't it?

7 A Sure.

8 Q And 34 on the Lees-Haley indicates a
9 99-point-something percent of symptom exaggeration; isn't that 10 true?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Now, Doctor, I want to go back -- your deposition
13 was taken on May 24, 2010?

14 A I don't know.

15 Q Correct?

16 A I'm sure it was, if that's what you say.

17 MR. BAKER: It seemed like it was hot.

18 THE COURT: I'm sorry?

19 MR. BAKER: It seemed like it was hot out, so that sounds
20 about right.

21 BY MR. WARD:

22 Q It was taken earlier this year, right?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Okay. And you noted at that time that Mr. Rodriguez
25 was being seen by you once a month or so?

2 Q On a maintenance basis?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Now, when you initially saw this patient you made a
5 diagnosis that he had certain issues, correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And you've suggested that you could treat those
8 issues?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And you suggested a certain number of treatments for 11 those issues?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And the number that you predicted that -- or that
14 you projected, and I don't want to put you into a predicament
15 here, but the number that you suggested that you thought would 16 be appropriate to resolve those conditions actually did not
17 resolve those conditions; isn't that true?

18 A Correct.

19 Q So the patient had to continue to treat?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay. And now the condition that the patient had so
22 far as you understand from Dr. Shannon was that he had a torn 23 meniscus; isn't that correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And you're aware that she treated that, she repaired

2 A Yes.

4 A Yes.

5 Q And you know she's an excellent orthopedist?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And she does good work?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And you're aware that after the MRI that she

11 A Yes.

12 Q That Mr. Rodriguez didn't go back to her?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Do you know why?

15 A No.

16 Q Now the Beck Anxiety Inventory is what, 21

18 A Yes.

19 Q And the depression inventory is how many?

20 A The Beck Depression Inventory?

21 Q Yes.

22 A Twenty-one.

2 A Because of what I told the Judge.

3 Q Okay. What is VRIN?

4 A Verbal response indicators.

5 Q Okay. And now the VRIN scale that you got when you
6 gave him the MMP told you what?

7 A That it was high. In some instances it would say
8 that the protocol may -- either interpret it with caution or 9 you don't interpret it, but the test -- even though you have 10 VRIN, the variable response indicators are trend the true
11 response indicators, even though they're at a higher level you
12 can still use some of the data on the test to give a 13 generalized description for what I needed for in a clinical 14 setting.

15 Q Okay. That told you it was reliable, correct?

16 A Yeah, it's on the high end of it, but still yes.

17 Q Okay. That told you essentially that the way that 18 the -- Mr. Rodriguez portrayed himself on the exam was the way
19 he wanted to portray himself?

20 A In how he responded, yes.

21 Q Correct. Okay.

1 forensic analysis, that it would have been different than what
2 you did in the case of Mr. Rodriguez; isn't that correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Okay. Now, you actually were being called upon to 5 do an analysis, weren't you? Wasn't that why the patient was 6 sent to you to begin with?

7 A Clinical analysis.

8 Q Okay.

9 A Clinical.

10 Q And that's different from a forensic analysis?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. Now, the difference -- you do forensic
13 analyses from sometime --

14 A Yes.

15 Q -- from time to time?

16 A Yeah.

17 Q And you do forensic analyses for defendants?

18 A Yes.

19 Q In fact, it's probably the defendants who are asking
20 more for forensic analysis than plaintiffs?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Because plaintiffs are treaters?

23 A Yes.

24 Q When you're dealing with the plaintiff, you're -- 25 plaintiff's patient, you're dealing as a treater and when

AVTranz

1 you're dealing with the defendant, you're not the treater, but
2 you're doing a forensic analysis?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And you said when you do a forensic analysis of a
5 patient, that it's much more thorough in terms of your
6 analysis than what you would do for a patient that was being
7 treated?

8 A Yes, because I would ask for medical records, I
9 would ask for school records, I would ask for employment
10 records, all the standard things that I'm sure the Judge and 11 all of us aware of.

12 Q Right. Because your idea is that when a patient
13 comes to you, you want them to trust you, correct?

14 A Well, you want to develop rapport --

15 Q Right.

16 A -- and even as a forensic examiner you still have to 17 give informed consent because it's almost like a Miranda
18 warning, because you're telling the client, I'm working for 19 the adverse lawyer, so whatever you say can and will be used
20 against you.

21 Q Right.

22 A So it's difficult in a forensic capacity to develop
23 a rapport because you're not the treater, you are working for 24 the lawyer and the insurance company that hired me, for 25 example.

1 Q It isn't always an insurance company?

2 A Well, whatever it is, yeah.

3 Q You just kind of through that in there?

4 A Yeah.

5 Q Okay. And now when the -- when you're actually
6 treating the patient, you want to develop a relationship with 7 that patient?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And so there is a tendency for you to want to accept
10 everything the patient tells you as being valid?

11 A Not everything. Again, we're scientist --

12 Q Most things.

13 A -- we're scientists and we're being -- we're making
14 behavioral observations.

15 Q Okay.

16 A So I don't accept everything that a patient tells 17 me. I'm examining, you know, the patient, just like I would 18 examine everybody that I meet. Looking at facial expressions,
19 looking at tone of voice, looking at inflection, you know,
20 does the patient -- you know, are they manifesting excessive
21 pain behavior that's not -- that doesn't correlate, let's say
22 with the mechanism of injury or whatever.

23 Q Okay.

24 A Or they're always talking about their case. I mean,
25 that's a real giveaway in a lot of personal injury cases,

1 where they're always talking about their case and settlement
2 and so forth. So that tells you something.

3 Q Did Mister --

4 A What we're observing.

5 Q Did Mr. Rodriguez ever tell you that he was in pain
6 on a scale of eight or nine or ten out of ten and you looked
7 at him and you didn't see any indication that he was in pain?

8 A Well, again Dr. Gamazzo saw him most of the time.
9 When I saw him in the office, when he's getting treatment, I
10 did observe him to limp. He would come in with a cane and I
11 would -- he and I would exchange pleasantries because he's a
12 very affable and pleasant man. He has a nice personality.
13 And so I -- you could see -- I could see in his face and body
14 language and movement as he would walk down the hall going
15 into biofeedback or out of biofeedback, or Dr. Gamazzo's
16 office is close to mine, and then sometimes I'd be coming out
17 with a patient, I'd run into him and we'd exchange
18 pleasantries or talk and ask him. And there were times, yes,
19 that I saw he was in a lot of pain. You know, you could see
20 it in his face, you could see it, you know, in his body
21 language.

22 Q Yeah.

23 A Other times he would come in and he was having a
24 good day, so -- and that's what happens with chronic pain
25 patients. You have good days and bad days.

1           Q     My question, sir, was did he -- did you ever
2 experience a time when he told you that he was having pain at
3 a level of eight, nine or ten and it did not appear to you
4 that he looked like he was in pain or did you simply not see
5 him often enough to do that?

6           A     Well, I tried to answer with what I said, but I
7 would never have in the hallway or in my observations say to 8 him oh, Enrique, is that -- are you having an eight or nine or 9 ten day today? I wouldn't do that. So to answer your 10 question, no I can't answer it that way.

11          Q     Okay.

12          A     Sorry.

13          Q     So the answer to the question is you don't have 14 enough data to be able to answer that?

15          A     Yes.

16          Q     Okay. And that's because you didn't see him on a
17 regular basis, it was your partner?

18          A     Yes.

19          Q     Okay. Now if you were doing a forensic assessment, 20 you would want to go back and look at all of the records of 21 his efforts and his medical condition prior to the accident;
22 is that correct?

23          A     Yes, that's one of the things we do.

1           A     Yes.

2           Q     Okay.  And I take it if you found in the records
3           that there were a number of medical entries from a number of 4           doctors that said he had been complaining about pain in his
5           neck from the day of the accident, you'd want to be able to go
6           back and take a look at that?

7           A     Yes, because he did say to us, didn't he, that he
8           had hit his head against somebody and had -- was -- felt a
9           little confused or dazed.  So at least in his report to me,
10          there would be something in that self-report that would be 11          something to investigate.

12          Q     Right.  So you'd want to -- if he told you that he 13          hit his head or he told you that his neck snapped back, you'd 14          want to go back and see if that's actually what he told the 15          people at the time of the accident?

16          A     Sure.

17          Q     You'd want to go see if that's what he told the 18          ambulance attendant?

19          A     Well, I don't put great faith in what people tell
20          ambulance attendants because people oftentimes are in shock
21          and I know what occurs about Glasgow Coma Scales are not
22          accurate, there's been studies done with that.  I'm more 23          concerned about, as a forensic examiner, what was said when 24          symptoms were first reported and so forth.

25          Q     Okay.  So --

3           Q     So -- and that delay might be how long, a couple

5           A     Oh, it could be a couple of weeks.

6           MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this is again asked and answered.

16          A     Yes.

17          Q     And you'd want to see what the doctor found at the 18 time of the examination?

19          A     Yes.

20          Q     And you're aware that Dr. Shannon said that 21 sometimes, she gave an example of a racecar driver, that 22 sometimes people can have a drastic accident and only complain

7 functioning in the world, what's happened with them that could
8 be pre-existing and what could be exacerbated or changed as a
9 result of the accident injury, correct?

10 A If that's what I said, that's what I said.

11 Q Okay. And so you'd want to know what happened to 12 them at the time of the injury?

13 MR. BAKER: Objection; asked and answered.

6 fact, there's not a judge, there's not a jury, there's not
7 anything. It's we are attempting to diagnose what's wrong
8 with the person and provide the treatment. Simple as that.

9 Q What was the purpose of your report of December
10 2009?

11 MR. BAKER: Objection; asked and answered.

7 MR. BAKER: Can I ask the witness to identify it, Your
8 Honor?

9 THE COURT: Yes.

10 MR. BAKER: Oh, I got it.

11 THE COURT: I think it would be helpful for the record
12 anyway.

13 MR. BAKER: It's Bates Stamp Number 72, Your Honor. I
14 believe, is that a handwritten report?

15 THE WITNESS: Yes, Dr. Gamazzo's handwritten note on the 16 psychological treatment session summary.

17 BY MR. WARD:

18 Q Okay. So that's not your handwriting?

19 A No, it's not.

20 Q Okay. On Page 24, this is October 25, '06, can you
21 tell me, Doctor, is that your handwriting?

22 A No, Dr. Gamazzo.

23 MR. BAKER: And that's 77, Your Honor.

24 BY MR. WARD:

25 Q Okay. And September 1, '05?

1           A     I don't have September 1, '05. Oh, hold on, I'm
2 looking at the wrong year. Sorry.

3           MR. BAKER: Is that September 1 or September 10, Casey?

4           MR. WARD: I've got September 1 -- yeah, September 1.

5 This is -- this was something that was filled out by
6 Mr. Rodriguez and it's in his writing.

7           THE WITNESS: Mr. Ward, can I see it? I have no idea
8 what you're talking about.

9           MR. WARD: Sure. May I approach the witness, Your Honor?

10          THE COURT: Sure. Why not?

11          THE WITNESS: Okay. That's the back of a questionnaire.
12 Let me see if I can find that questionnaire.

13          [Counsel Confer]

14          THE WITNESS: Mr. Ward, you don't know what questionnaire
15 that came from, do you? It would be down at the bottom?

16 BY MR. WARD:

17          Q     I apologize, I don't.

18          A     Okay. I found it. It's part of the mental status
19 and personality factors questionnaire, Judge. I found it.

20          Q     Okay.

21          A     Okay.

22          Q     Now that's from September 1, '05; is that correct?

23          A     Yes.

7 MR. WARD: I don't have any further questions. Thank

13 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

14 BY MR. BAKER:

15 Q Is Lees-Haley test in any way an appropriate test to 16 give Enrique Rodriguez?

17 A Well, it's not a test that you give. It's a test
18 that is actually used on the MMPI. There's certain questions
19 on the MMPI that Lees-Haley put together, but there's a body
20 of literature that would indicate that it's inappropriate for 21 people in chronic pain. In fact, there was --

22 Q Explain to the Judge norming really quick and why
23 Lees-Haley is not --

24 A Well, what he did is he got a sample of people that 25 were allegedly, you know, fakers, malingerers, or thought to

1 be because the research on malingerers is not good and when
2 you ask someone to be a fake malingerer to try to answer that,
3 even that may not be actually true, you know, how a malingerer
4 would really be. So this -- and the idea is, with the scale,
5 does it really measure somatic malingering -- physical
6 malingering and does it matter -- does it measure what we call
7 feigned emotion distress. And --

8 Q I'm sorry, he sneezed, what kind of emotional
9 distress? Somebody sneezed.

10 A Feigned. You know, faking. So are they faking --

11 Q F-E-I-G-N?

12 A Yeah, if they're faking emotional distress. And 13 there's been some articles that have been published by 14 credible researchers, in fact Jim Butcher was one of the co-
15 authors of the MMPI, he doesn't like the Lees-Haley scale, and 16 so they did literally an evaluation of thousands and thousands
17 of patients, you know, from the Veterans Administration, from 18 correctional facilities, you know, chronic pain program,
19 general medical condition, a number of them. And their 20 research -- their findings were that it's more likely to 21 measure general maladjustment in physical complaints rather 22 than malingering.

23 And there's -- also there's a lawyer, Dorothy Simms,
24 that did a -- in a magazine I think that goes to the legal
25 professionals, she indicated in her article talking about all

1 the positives, especially somebody with in -- a lot of chronic
2 pain, you're going to have a lot of false positives. So if
3 you have headaches or you have backaches and if you have a lot
4 of different physical problems, that's what it's going to
5 measure. So it doesn't accurately measure a malingerer or a
6 symptom magnifier in somebody that has a medical condition.

7 The Lees-Haley test, in my opinion, is appropriate
8 if I have a patient that doesn't have a pain generator. Now
9 they get a score -- cutoff score 21, 22, whatever it may be,
10 but it's just wrong to use this. And plus, it's a prejudicial
11 test. It unfairly characterizes woman as malingerers. There
12 are more woman that are --

13 Q I was going to mention that.

14 A -- false positives with this particular test. And 15 there's been a real problem in the Veteran's Administration,
16 there's been some articles written about how our wounded
17 warriors have come back with multi-level disabilities because 18 they've been shot up, you know, and so forth, they meet the 19 faking malingering criteria on this test. And sometimes the 20 VA -- of course they're addressing that, they've been denied
21 treatment because of Lees-Haley's test. And that's wrong.
22 That's bad social policy.

23 So this is not a forum, Your Honor, for me to get on 24 my soapbox and talk about, you know, my opinion about the 25 Lees-Haley test and I've had personal conversation with Yossef

1 Ben-Porath, who is one of the lead authors of the new
2 MMPI-2RF, the revised form and -- in fact, I see him at 3 conferences and he goes the other way. He says, "Mortillaro,
4 what are you doing? You're going to start talking about the
5 unacceptability of the Lees-Haley test again with me?" I said
6 "Yeah, Yossef, it's wrong."

7 Have a very high cutoff score for it if you're going
8 to use it, but also make the caveat there that if you have 9 orthopedic, neurological injuries, whatever, that it may not 10 be appropriate for that. It's appropriate for somebody that 11 doesn't have a physical problem, in my opinion, but if you
12 have a physical problem it could falsely classify you and I
13 think that's said and done. I don't know what more I can say
14 about it.

15 Q Is it surprising to you Enrique Rodriguez would have
16 false test positives when he's given a test that's not normed
17 for a client pain population?

18 A No, it's not surprising to me at all because many of 19 my chronic pain patients meet or exceed the cutoff score on 20 that particular scale. It's not a test, it's a scale.

21 Q That's what I meant to say.

22 A It's basically a scale and I think Pearson has done
23 a disservice by putting it in the batteries and I've -- have,
24 you know, expressed my disapproval of that along with other
25 people, but hey they're in the business to make money and do

1 what they go to do, that's fine. I just don't think --

2 Q And you wouldn't apply that test to him if you were
3 trying to responsibly quantify his psychological issues?

4 A Yeah, I don't think that that scale is appropriate.
5 I think it's a poor predictor and I think that what the
6 research shows is that instead of malingering, I think -- I
7 mean, you don't use it in disability evaluations and I think
8 it measures your general maladjustment and somatic
9 preoccupation, so that's what I've -- that's what he has. He
10 has some emotional maladjustment and somatic preoccupation.
11 That's what it measures.

12 Q Brought about --

13 A Is it measuring him malingering? No, I don't think
14 so.

15 Q Brought about by his physical injury?

16 A Yeah, exactly.

17 Q Now Casey spoke -- excuse me, Mr. Ward spoke to you
18 a little bit about Dr. Shannon did a surgery and Enrique's
19 pain didn't go away; seems to be a theme. Do you remember
20 that?

21 A Uh-huh. I sure do.

22 Q And did Casey share with you that after 23 Dr. Shannon's surgery, about six months later, he was 24 diagnosed with a torn meniscus recurrent synovitis, a loose

1 A Right.

2 Q -- and chondromalacia?

3 A Right.

4 Q Does that refresh your recollection?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Is it consistent with malingering that his pain
7 didn't go away when he had chondromalacia, a loose body, a
8 torn meniscus and a synovium -- synovitis, that his doctor
9 directly related to this accident? And in fact his defense
10 expert related to this accident?

11 A No, not at all. I mean, it shows that there is 12 consistency. That in point of fact, he was not malingering
13 and that Dr. Shannon didn't identify what the problem was and 14 so -- but another doctor did. And so there was something
15 physical causing it. It's not to say Dr. Shannon's a bad
16 surgeon --

17 Q No, that happens.

18 A -- stuff like that happens.

19 Q And I think we said it at the same time. Does that 20 just happen?

21 A Pardon me?

22 Q That just happens?

23 A Yes, it just happen -- stuff like that happens.

1 on the stand. And you've been qualified as an expert in this
2 case pursuant to N.R.S. 50.285 and this is what we've heard.
3 That the first accident -- that the first knee surgery was
4 caused by the accident. We've heard Dr. Shannon and
5 Dr. Becker, they're orthopedist, say the second knee surgery
6 was caused by the accident, okay. You can take that into
7 consideration?

8 A Okay.

9 Q That postural changes and the use of assistive
10 devices, funny you should mention it, created a carpal tunnel
11 syndrome, okay.

12 A Okay.

13 Q That those postural changes and weight gain and use
14 of the assistive devices caused postural changes which led to 15 his lumbar problems, okay?

16 A That's been put in the record.

17 Q Oh yeah, Doctor -- every doctor in this case,
18 including Dr. Shannon, has testified to that, except for 19 Dr. Becker, okay?

20 A Okay.

21 Q That he has lumbar disc pathology, which Dr. Kidwell
22 testified was discogenic and nonradicular in nature, all
23 right? He had a spinal cord stimulator implanted after a
24 failed lumbar sympathetic block after two efficacious lumbar
25 sympathetic blocks.

1           A     Okay.

2           Q     That that spinal cord stimulator worked and it gave
3 him 100 percent reduction of pain in his knee. We've heard
4 testimony that he can't get the permanent pain stimulator
5 because of financial reasons and you understand that; is that
6 true?

7           A     Yes.

8           Q     And so is this an individual that five or six
9 doctors -- more than that from different states all testified
10 these injuries are directly and causally related to the 11 accident, okay?

12          A     Yes.

13          Q     Is that presentation consistent with a malingerer or 14 someone suffering from a pain and mood disorder and chronic
15 pain as related to the subject accident?

16          A     Exactly. That's exactly what it is. There's not
17 malingering, so that makes exactly what I've been talking
18 about. It shines a spotlight on it.

19          Q     And is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of 20 professional probability?

21          A     Yes.

22          Q     Casey spoke with you about something that really got

21 Q The Lees-Haley Scale that you don't like -- is that 22 a fair characterization?

23 A I say I don't like if it's used inappropriately. As 24 I told the Judge, I think there's an appropriate use for it,
25 but I think that it's misused -- misapplied.

AVTranz

1 Q Is that to say you would never use it?

2 A I have used it, but I'm telling you, when it's --
3 there's appropriate uses for everything.

4 Q Okay. And when you use it, the purpose of it is to 5 show the potential for symptom exaggeration; is that correct?

6 A Well, I think as I explained to the Judge, we're
7 looking -- I'm looking more toward, is there a preoccupation
8 toward somatic issues -- you know, physical issues and is 9 there a preoccupation towards some emotionality connected with 10 that. I think that is a good measure, especially when you
11 look at Butcher's study, you know, in which he studied
12 thousands of different individuals, which is many more than 13 Lees-Haley's data ever showed. And I think it's badly used to 14 classify a malingerer.

15 I think that's wrong, but the other aspect of it,
16 yes I'm willing to go along with that. In my discussions with 17 Dr. Ben-Porath, I think we both have an agreement relative to 18 that issue. I just don't like it to be used to classify
19 malingering and symptom amplification or magnification. I
20 think that's a wrong use of that scale.

21 Q Lees-Haley is not the only who worked on this, is 22 he?

23 A No, there's other people that he worked with --

24 Q Yeah.

25 A -- and other folk that like it, but that's the --

1 that's why you have peer review journals and they -- that's
2 why you have arguments at conventions. People will line up
3 and -- especially when Lees-Haley speaks. He's not speaking
4 as much anymore.

5 Q And there have been countless peer reviewed articles
6 on this topic?

7 A I don't know if there's countless, but there have
8 been. And also too, I think what's unfortunate is that Lees-
9 Haley, in the literature, it's been spoken about that he
10 doesn't really -- he testifies more for the defense rather 11 than the plaintiffs, so there's response bias that's been -- 12 that he's been accused of. So there's a lot of issues and 13 Dorothy Simms and her group have brought that to light, but
14 that --

15 Q But it --

16 A -- you know, it is what it is.

17 Q But it was adopted by Pearson?

1 TUESDAY - NOVEMBER 9, 2010 - 1:09 P.M.

2 [Designation of record begins at 1:09 p.m.]

3 THE COURT: Who is the next witness?

4 MR. WARD: The next witness is Thomas Cargill, Your
5 Honor.

6 THE COURT: Mr. Cargill, will you please come forward to 7 the witness box?

8 Please remain standing and raise your right hand to 9 be sworn by the Clerk.

10 DR. THOMAS F. CARGILL, DEFENDANT'S WITNESS, SWORN

11 THE CLERK: Please be seated stating your full name,
12 spelling your last name for the record.

13 THE WITNESS: Thomas F. Cargill, C-A-R-G-I-L-L.

14 MR. WARD: Okay, okay. Your Honor, we're going to offer,
15 before Mr. Cargill starts testifying, Exhibit 53, 54, and 55
16 into evidence. That's the tax returns for 1999, for 2001, and 17 for 2004.

18 THE COURT: What about that? Any objection, Mr. Baker?

19 MR. BAKER: I've already stipulated?

20 THE COURT: 53, 54, and did you say 55, Mr. Ward?

21 MR. WARD: I believe I did. Yeah, 53, 54, and 55, Your
22 Honor.

23 THE COURT: They're admitted

24 [Defendant's Exhibits 53, 54 and 55 Received]

25 MR. BAKER: Those are just the tax records?

2 DIRECT EXAMINATION

3 BY MR. WARD:

4 Q Now, Dr. Cargill, tell us what you do.

5 A I'm an economist.

6 Q And your educational background, sir, is what?

7 A I have an associate arts degree in -- from City
8 College of San Francisco with an emphasis in business,
9 bachelor of science in economics from the University of San 10 Francisco, and a master's in economics and a Ph.D. in 11 economics from the University of California at Davis.

12 Q Okay. And I have the CV, the resume of Dr. Cargill.
13 I left one on your desk and I left one on the Clerk's desk.

14 THE COURT: Are you asking it be marked or not?

15 MR. WARD: Yes, Your Honor, and we would mark it -- we're 16 up to --

17 THE COURT: Is it next in order?

18 MR. WARD: Oh, can we add it to 67? There's part of --
19 part of it is in 67, if we could add this to 67, but I didn't
20 do a separate one. Is that okay?

21 THE COURT: Very well.

22 THE CLERK: 67 is not admitted.

23 THE COURT: 67 hasn't been moved into admission.

24 MR. WARD: Correct.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

1 MR. WARD: I will -- I'll lay the foundation for this
2 before moving the whole thing or asking to move the whole
3 thing in, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Very well. Please proceed.

5 BY MR. WARD:

6 Q Now, Doctor, you have a number of areas of academic
7 recognition which would include awards from Nevada.

8 A Yes, that's correct.

9 Q And some from the Ford Foundation?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And --

12 A That goes back a long time ago.

13 Q And your areas of research include financial markets
14 and financial and monetary systems?

15 A That's my primary area of study --

16 Q Okay, and you were --

17 A -- for the last four decades.

18 Q You were a professor -- you are a professor of 19 economics at the University of Nevada at Reno?

20 A That's correct. I joined UNR in 1973.

21 Q Okay. So you've been there a long time?

22 A A long time.

23 Q And what do you teach there?

24 A Well, I teach mainly monetary and financial courses,
25 undergraduate, graduate level. I also teach history of

1 economic thought. And in the past I've taught econometrics
2 and microeconomics, a wide range of things. But the main
3 focus of my teaching and research is finance and monetary
4 issues.

5 Q Okay. And you have been hired as an expert in this
6 case?

7 A Yes, I was by your law firm.

8 Q And you've been hired as an expert before?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And you've done evaluation of business losses and 11 wage losses before?

12 A Yes, I've been doing this kind of stuff I think
13 since 1976.

14 Q And you've been qualified as an expert in courts in 15 Nevada?

16 A Yes, I have.

17 Q And in other jurisdictions?

18 A Yes, but most of my work is in Nevada.

19 Q Okay. Your Honor, I would offer Dr. Cargill as an 20 expert in this area.

21 MR. BAKER: In which area?

22 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

23 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, is he being offered as an expert
24 in vocational rehabilitation or for educational forensics or 25 labor market reentry?

1 THE COURT: I thought economics, but --

2 MR. WARD: He's being offered as an economist in 3 evaluation of this gentleman's wage earning history and
4 losses.

5 THE COURT: Any objection?

6 MR. BAKER: That's kind of punctuated. Only if he's 7 going to offer any testimony about likelihood of returning to 8 the job market or vocationally related issues.

9 THE COURT: Mr. Ward?

10 MR. WARD: He's not going to testify as to that area.

11 THE COURT: Very well. The motion is granted.

12 MR. BAKER: No objection, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Noted for the record, Mr. Baker.

14 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

15 BY MR. WARD:

16 Q Now, Dr. Cargill, you were doing -- with this case,
17 you were looking at an evaluation of an income loss, is that
18 correct?

19 A That's right. I was asked to review the economic 20 loss reports that were offered by Mr. Dinneen and they
21 consisted of an estimate of a life care plan and an estimate
22 of loss compensation.

23 Q Okay. And you were not hired to offer opinions
24 about whether this gentleman will or will not go back to work?

25 A No, no, that's outside of my expertise.

AVTranz

Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 Q Okay. You're there to calculate, to offer
2 information to be able to calculate a wage loss, and you do
3 that by figuring out what his income was?

4 A Yeah, that's part of the process one has -- if an
5 event has occurred that leads to somebody earning less income
6 than they normally would have, and one of the first things you
7 have to do is to establish what the pre-earned injury earning 8 base was.

9 Q Okay. So, in effect what you're doing is you're 10 using your expertise to calculate what he would have earned
11 had he continued to work during the period of time after the 12 accident? Continued to work at the same thing he was doing
13 before?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q Okay.

16 A You need that pre-earnings base and then you need to 17 understand the market and so forth into the future of how that 18 would have materialized, that sort of thing.

19 Q Okay. But before you can project into the future,
20 you have to be able to analyze the past, is that correct?

21 A That's the first thing that one has to do. You have 22 to establish that pre-earning capacity.

23 Q Okay.

24 A Or, excuse me, pre-accident earning capacity.

25 Q Okay. Now, this kind of evaluation that you're

AVTranz

1 doing right now is something that you've done before?

2 A Many times.

3 Q Now, most of the time when you're doing a wage loss,
4 most of the -- excuse me. Most of the time when you're doing
5 a wage loss, you're dealing with an employee, is that correct?

6 A I would say the majority of times it's a person
7 that's employed by somebody.

8 Q Okay.

9 A That's the majority of times.

10 Q Okay. So, now when let's say I were to come to you
11 and say to you, "I want you to calculate my wage loss." And 12 so you would ask me for information, is that correct?

13 A That is correct.

14 Q And if I were an employee and I just came in and I
15 said, "I make 25 cents an hour," you would want more
16 information than that, wouldn't you?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Okay. And if I were an employee, what kind of 19 information would you want?

20 A Well, at a minimum, you'd want to see tax returns.
21 I would also like to see the social security statement of 22 earnings. And if it were somebody who's working for somebody,
23 I'd like to see the employment file. And I would like a
24 complete resume of education, places where you worked.

25 The problem with the tax returns is you can usually

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1 only get them for a few years. Most people don't carry around
2 the last 20 years of tax returns. Social security statement,
3 that's easier to get because we get that each year in the 4 mail.

5 And so at a minimum I'd want the tax returns, social
6 security statement, and W2's sometimes. I want to see those.
7 Without the social security statement, you want to also see
8 W2's.

9 Q Okay. Now, if I were employed by someone, if I were 10 employed by, for example, I were employed by the State of 11 Nevada, one of the things I could bring to you would be a W2
12 and that would demonstrate what my earnings are, at least what 13 my earnings are right now.

14 A Sure, a W2 would be a reasonable --

15 Q Okay. That would be a reliable kind of thing?

16 A Yes, it would be.

17 Q Would that be more reliable than me just writing
18 down on a piece of paper, "This is what my earnings are," and 19 giving them to you?

20 A Yes, much more reliable.

21 Q Okay. And why is that?

22 A Well, because whenever you self-report, there's 23 always two problems. One, you're making a mistake, but it --
24 and the mistake could be intentional or unintentional. And 25 so, well, that's the main problem. You want to see

AVTranz

1 documentation.

2 Q Okay. And if you're looking at history employment,
3 one of the things you want to know is how long have I been 4 doing this?

5 A Absolutely, sure.

6 Q Okay.

7 A You want as long a history as possible.

8 Q Okay. Because is it fair to say that when you're 9 looking at it that one year may be aberrational?

10 A Well, it depends. If somebody were working for the 11 State of Nevada and had not received any promotions, one year
12 actually would be good enough and as long as you had how long
13 that person had been working, because you understand the wage
14 structure for normal employees of the State of Nevada. But in 15 other cases, no, you really need much more history because one
16 year is only one year. It may be atypical one way or the 17 other.

18 Q If I were a commodities trader?

19 A Absolutely you would want to see a long history.

20 Q Okay.

21 A In any kind of activity like that.

22 Q Okay.

23 A Sure.

24 Q Now, when you undertook this task, what kind of 25 information did you expect that you would get? Having done

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 these kind of evaluations in Nevada and being somewhat
2 familiar with the legal system in Nevada, what kind of 3 information did you expect that you would get?

4 A Well, since I knew that an economic loss report had
5 already been provided, I wanted to see that work because I saw
6 myself as being hired as a rebuttal witness. I wanted to see
7 the complaint, the answers to interrogatories, relevant
8 depositions so I could sort of understand what was going on.

9 But in terms of the specific loss estimate that was 10 being opined, I wanted to see the documentation on which that 11 loss estimate was based, which goes back to what we were 12 talking about earlier. I wanted to see tax returns, social 13 security, statement of earnings, a job history, something of 14 that nature.

15 Q Okay. So now the first thing that you were looking 16 to calculate would have essentially been what was this 17 person's earnings for the six year period of 1999 through
18 2004, is that correct?

19 A Well, the six years is sort of defined by the fact
20 that the tax returns start in 1999. Given that in this 21 particular activity you've got a person that -- who says he 22 buys and sells houses, six years is okay, but it would still 23 be nice to have a longer period, but six years was okay. But 24 during that period you want to see documentation as to what
25 kind of earnings this individual was able to generate as a

1 self-employed investor in real estate.

2 Q Okay. Now did you receive information that told you
3 what Mr. Rodriguez had said that he had been doing as for 4 income?

5 A Well, I mean I read his deposition, yes.

6 Q Okay.

7 A Yeah.

8 Q And what did he -- what information did you gather
9 about what he was doing?

10 A Well, that he did not have a real estate license or 11 was not a broker, but he was a self-employed investor in 12 residential structures. He would buy them, sort of get them
13 ready, not do major repairs, but just sort of clean them up,
14 do some minor things, and then sell them. And that I think in 15 deposition he said almost immediately after high school that 16 he started working in this area in Southern California.

17 Q Okay. And did he say -- did you get information
18 about how often, how active he was as a trader?

19 A Well, there's a phrase that he said, something like,
20 "Over 100 houses that he's bought and sold." Now, I don't
21 know quite what timeframe he was thinking of when he said
22 that, but my reading of the deposition as well as 23 Mr. Dinneen's report who interviewed Mr. Rodriguez was that he 24 was a very active person in buying and selling real estate.

25 Q Now, the information that you were provided, what

1 did it tell you in terms of your ability to make an analysis?
2 How did you analyze that information?

3 A Well, the information was insufficient.

4 MR. BAKER: Your Honor --

5 THE WITNESS: First of all --

6 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry. I'm going to object to this line
7 of questioning. Dr. Cargill presented a report in this case.
8 He is a retained expert and pursuant to Section 16.1 he has to 9 set forth all of the opinions that he's going to render in 10 that report. And nowhere in his report does he comment on the 11 paucity or scarcity of information and the impact that any of 12 that would have on calculating wage loss.

13 THE COURT: Huh, Mr. Ward?

14 THE WITNESS: Could I say something?

15 THE COURT: Just a second, sir.

16 MR. BAKER: Permission to have a cough drop, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Sure.

18 MR. BAKER: Thanks.

19 MR. WARD: There is a reference in Mister -- in 20 Dr. Cargill's report about the information that is provided
21 and says that this report is based on available information
22 and that any change in that information will require further
23 consideration of the estimates and opinions presented in the 24 report.

25 MR. BAKER: I don't know how that relates to my

AVTranz

1 objection, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: I don't --

3 MR. BAKER: Dr. Cargill's report put out two bases that
4 he was critical of Terry Dinneen. One was that he continued
5 to project a future income based upon a housing market that 6 has changed and a burst bubble, and the second was that the 7 discounting rates that he used were today's discounting rates
8 instead of some other type of thing.

9 He never, ever mentions the information that was 10 relied on, has no criticism of the information relied on, and 11 in no way reflects that that information makes it -- any way
12 impacts the ability for Mr. Dinneen to calculate the wage
13 loss.

14 THE COURT: Sustain the objection.

15 BY MR. WARD:

16 Q Dr. Cargill, when you -- you first heard this report
17 of August 17, 2010, is that correct?

18 A Well, I prepared two reports.

19 Q Okay.

20 A The August report and then as a supplemental report
21 in October.

22 MR. BAKER: I don't have a supplemental report. Did you
23 say August report?

24 THE WITNESS: Yes, August 17, 2010 was my original report
25 and then I provided a supplemental report on October 5th.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 MR. WARD: We have a supplemental report from October 5,
2 2010?

3 MR. BAKER: I've never seen it.

4 MR. WARD: Well, it's in our binder which we gave you.
5 Take a look in your binder. It's there.

6 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, we've been using a joint pretrial
7 binder that I have his expert reports in. I have the
8 interrogatories in. I've never seen an October report. I
9 don't believe anyone was timely served up on it. If they put 10 it in their binder and handed to me, it was my understanding
11 we were using joint exhibits, so I've never seen that report.

12 Now, if Counsel can show me where it was 13 supplemented on me pursuant to Section 16.1, I'll apologize to 14 the Court and read it real quick, but I know I've never seen
15 it.

16 THE COURT: Well, that presents a problem.

17 MR. BAKER: Also, my experts never looked at it.

18 MR. WARD: Your Honor, I believe that this was served on 19 Counsel for Plaintiff, but we will -- I will see if we can
20 track that down and I will continue to ask him about his first 21 report. There doesn't appear to be any dispute about that.

22 MR. BAKER: Can I have a copy of it in the meantime?

23 MR. WARD: But this has been in the exhibit binder since
24 we started this trial and I have reason to believe that it was 25 delivered to Counsel before the start of this trial.

1 THE COURT: Well, if it was, then it's appropriate, but
2 do you have -- can you provide evidence of that?

3 MR. WARD: We're looking for that right now, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Okay. So in the meantime you can proceed
5 with the first report, I believe?

6 MR. WARD: Sure.

7 MR. BAKER: And just for the record, I'm not at all
8 suggesting anyone is trying to slide anything in. I might 9 have overlooked something, but I don't know.

10 THE COURT: I understand.

11 FURTHER DIRECT EXAMINATION

12 BY MR. WARD:

13 Q Now, Dr. Cargill, in your August 17 report, you
14 provide the information that you were given, is that correct?

15 A Yes, I did. On page 1 and 2, I indicate all the 16 sources of information that I considered in writing a report
17 and the first part of that is the information I received from 18 your office, including Mr. Dinneen's report and depositions.

19 Q Okay. And none of the tax reports had been 20 previously provided, isn't that true?

21 A That is correct.

22 Q None of them were in Plaintiff's disclosures, isn't
23 that true?

24 A That is correct, and I noted that in my report.

25 Q Right, and you noted that they hadn't been produced,

1 but they were obtained from Mr. Dinneen, is that correct?

2 A Well, when I read Mr. Dinneen's report, he said that
3 he reviewed the tax returns from 1999 to 2004, so from that
4 statement, I assumed that there were six tax returns that were 5 available.

6 In my report, I indicated -- I raised an issue about 7 simply taking six years and averaging it because one needs to
8 see the fluctuations, and I said that I -- I think somewhere
9 in there I said I reserve the right, you know, to provide
10 further comments once I see the tax returns and actually see
11 the year-to-year variation because I --

12 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, that's exactly what I had 13 objected to. There was no reference in the report that it was 14 improper to average it, but I can -- if you can tell me where 15 you're --

16 THE WITNESS: On the top of page 4, it said there -- can 17 I read it?

18 THE COURT: I think you have to wait until there's a
19 question.

20 THE WITNESS: Oh, I'm sorry.

21 MR. BAKER: Yeah, Your Honor. My objection was that he 22 should not be allowed to speak to the paucity or the averaging 23 with respect to the taxation because it is not contained in 24 his report. Casey referenced the fact that there may be other 25 technical issues with regard to his report once the writer has

1 reviewed same earnings documentation reviewed by Mr. Dinneen
2 and such. The writer reserves the right to supplement this
3 report based upon additional discovery.

4 I commented during the course of my objection that
5 that wasn't relevant to my objection and this Court has
6 sustained my objection. And now to ask him that exact
7 question is in contradiction of the Court's order on that
8 issue.

9 THE COURT: Mr. Ward?

10 MR. WARD: Well, Your Honor, I'd like to point out and we 11 can demonstrate this, that these tax returns were requested
12 and should have been provided and were not. We never got them
13 officially. We got them through taking Mr. Dinneen's
14 deposition and Mr. Dinneen's deposition was taken after 15 discovery was closed. That's the first time we got them.

16 They've now been -- not only were they disclosed for 17 the first time to us at Mr. Dinneen's deposition, and I'll be 18 more than happy if Counsel for Plaintiff can find his 19 documentation showing when he produced them, then I'll take 20 back my suggestion, but they were not produced. They have
21 been produced in this trial and so I'm asking this witness
22 about something that has been produced at this trial. And the 23 Court has allowed that before in this case and I think it's 24 appropriate here.

25 MR. BAKER: Of course, again, that has nothing to do with

1 my objection. My objection is that he's speaking to matters
2 that this Court has ruled he cannot speak to because his
3 report does not contain a criticism of the methodology with 4 respect to the taxation employed by Mr. Dinneen in terms of 5 averaging. And the Court has already sustained that
6 objection.

7 THE COURT: Then the Court sustains it again.

8 FURTHER DIRECT EXAMINATION

9 BY MR. WARD:

10 Q Now, Dr. Cargill, what did you do in making your
11 evaluation?

12 A With respect to my first report, I read everything.
13 In particular, I read Mr. Dinneen's report. And I evaluated
14 whether the -- two things, whether the estimate of 15 pre-accident earnings was reliable, which I concluded it was 16 not; and secondly, you know, then I went on to other issues
17 about projecting forward and discounting.

18 But one of the main issues in that August report was 19 Mr. Dinneen said he had six tax returns. I didn't have any of 20 them and that any kind of an average was --

21 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this is --

22 THE WITNESS: Well, I'm --

23 MR. BAKER: This is exactly the testimony that you've 24 just excluded.

25 THE COURT: I think it is. Sustained.

2 Q Dr. Cargill, let me ask you about your report at the
3 bottom of page 2, the report that titles, "Estimate of Lost
4 Compensation." Do you see that?

5 A Yes, I do.

6 Q Now, in your report, you note that Mr. Dinneen has 7 made some opinions based upon the market, is that correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And what he's done is he has averaged the earnings
10 over the period of 1999 to the year 2004, is that correct?

11 A Well, that was my understanding what he did.

12 Q Okay.

13 A But that's not what he actually did.

14 Q Okay. But that was your understanding at the time?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And you used -- and then he used that as an estimate
17 of pre-incident future earnings, correct?

18 A Correct.

19 Q And do you think that is appropriate?

20 A Well, no, I did not.

21 Q Right. And in your report, you say what? What's 22 your criticism of that?

23 A Well, I said that it is inappropriate to average
24 earnings over the period from 1999 to 2004 and use the average
25 as an estimate of pre-incident future earnings.

AVTranz

1 Q Okay. Now, let's take a look at the year 2004 that
2 you -- that you looked at -- the tax return. And --

3 A Well, that was subsequent to writing my report
4 because I didn't get these tax returns until October.

5 Q I understand. But you've offered the opinion that
6 you don't think it's appropriate to use 2004 as the primary
7 anchor point for this gentleman's lost income, is that
8 correct?

9 A Oh, of course, no, you would not.

10 Q Okay.

11 A Not one year.

12 Q And looking at the year 2004 shows a larger income
13 than the others?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And is it your understanding that there's been 16 testimony before this Court that Mr. Rodriguez didn't sell any 17 houses after mid-February of the year 2004?

18 A Well, I don't know about testimony, but in 19 Mr. Rodriguez' deposition he said he sold his last house in 20 February of 2004.

21 Q And is it your understanding that his testimony was 22 that that was his personal house?

23 A Yes, he said he was living in it.

24 Q That that was the house that he lived in?

25 A Yes.

AVTranz

1 Q Okay. Now, what is wrong with using, as you stated
2 in your report, what is wrong with using the year 2004 in this
3 instance to make an average of what his income was over that
4 six year period of time?

5 A Well, the issue with 2004 is was this part of his 6 buying and his selling houses as an investment or was this his 7 permanent residence that he just sold.

8 MR. BAKER: Your Honor --

9 THE WITNESS: I don't know.

10 MR. BAKER: -- again, this isn't contained in his report.
11 And they're going so far outside the scope of his report. In 12 fact, when he read to you that "it's inappropriate to average 13 earnings over the period from 1999 to 2004," he forgot to 14 leave in the first part of the sentence, which was, "First,
15 given the economic and financial distress in the housing
16 market, it is inappropriate to use the 2004 number."

17 His report says that because the market fell it's 18 inappropriate to use -- to calculate lost wages the way that 19 Terry Dinneen did. And any of the averaging commentaries or 20 criticisms are outside the scope of that report.

21 THE COURT: You know, I understand that line of reasoning
22 because I remember very clearly what the market was like in 23 those years.

24 MR. BAKER: Right.

25 THE COURT: So, sustain the objection.

1 MR. BAKER: And I can talk to him about that. Thank you,
2 Your Honor.

3 MR. WARD: Your Honor, I'm reading from his report.

4 THE COURT: And I think he's entitled to testify from his
5 report, but you should probably give us a clear picture.

6 MR. WARD: Sure.

7 BY MR. WARD:

8 Q Did you use in your report of projected earnings in 9 the -- influenced by the bubble in housing prices? You're 10 free to look at your report.

11 A Oh, well, sure, I said that, but the bubble didn't 12 start in 1999. It's in --

13 Q But in the year 2004, hadn't the bubble began to 14 build?

15 A That's correct. The bubble started around 2003.

16 Q And isn't that the biggest year of his income as 17 listed in these tax returns that you've seen is the year 2004?

18 A Oh, that's correct, but I only saw three tax
19 returns.

20 Q Okay. But in the year 2004, that was the year that 21 the bubble in the housing market was growing?

22 A It was -- I would say it was sort of -- you know, it
23 started in 2003, began to accelerate in '04, started reaching 24 a peak in the latter part of '05.

25 Q And Mr. Dinneen has averaged over that six year

1 period of time, is that correct?

2 A Yes, I assumed -- at the time I wrote my report, my
3 August report, I didn't know what any of the numbers were for 4 the individual years. All I saw was Mr. Dinneen said, "I had
5 tax returns from '99 to '04. I averaged them and the average
6 was $47,000."

7 Q And did you see that Mr. Dinneen offered -- did you
8 say that Mr. Dinneen offered no explanation as to why you
9 should use 2004 to project into the future?

10 A I mean, I didn't see an argument.

11 Q Feel free to look at your report, Dr. Cargill.

12 A Well --

13 Q Look at the top of page 3.

14 A Oh, sure. I'm saying that, well, I don't -- since I
15 didn't have the individual numbers from each year, I don't 16 know whether there was a big number in '04 and a -- or a small
17 number in '04 and a huge number in '02. I didn't know that.
18 So my statement was to just average these numbers without
19 presenting the individual numbers --

20 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, once again --

21 THE WITNESS: -- and then to use --

22 MR. BAKER: -- this again is the --

23 THE WITNESS: Well, that's what I said.

24 MR. BAKER: -- basis of the objection that we had lodged.
25 He's talking about the methodology of averaging being

2 says in the context of the bursting housing market. And I ask
3 that any testimony with respect to that averaging methodology
4 be stricken.

5 THE COURT: Sustain the objection.

6 BY MR. WARD:

7 Q Dr. Cargill, did you not say in your report at the 8 top of page 3,

9 "Mr. Dinneen offers no rationalization as to 10 why earnings over a period influenced by the bubble
11 in housing prices can even come close to projecting 12 earnings in the burst the bubble phase of the 13 housing market?"

14 A That's exactly what I said.

15 Q Okay. And did you mean by that to say that it would 16 be inappropriate to use earnings from this period of time when 17 the bubble in the housing market was building to project loss
18 of earnings for the period after the bubble burst?

19 A Absolutely, and it's complicated more because the 20 bubble didn't really start until after 2002.

21 Q Okay. And that's what you said in your report?

22 A That's exactly what I said.

23 Q And why is that? Can you explain what that means?

24 A Well, there are two issues. Without seeing the 25 individual numbers for '99 through 2004, I don't know what the

AVTranz

1 average means. I don't know whether it's being influenced by
2 one number or whether there's a real stable pattern of
3 earnings. So, it's inappropriate to use an average from my 4 perspective unless I see that information, and I state that in
5 my report. I said that I need to see the --

6 MR. BAKER: I can't --

7 THE WITNESS: -- actual tax returns.

8 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, that's not stated in his report
9 and it's the exact same thing again.

10 THE WITNESS: That is. I'm sorry. You go to the top of 11 page 4. It does say that.

12 MR. BAKER: Haven't we read this twice now, Your Honor?

13 THE COURT: I don't know. I don't know that I've seen
14 it, but Counsel has probably read it.

15 MR. BAKER: He says,

16 "There may be other technical issues with 17 regard to Mr. Dinneen's report once this writer has 18 received the same earning documentation reviewed by 19 Mr. Dinneen and such. The writer reserves the right
20 to supplement this report based on additional 21 discovery."

22 It's the same thing we're talking about. And if 23 they're talking about the burst in the housing market and the 24 bubble, I understand that that's his testimony. I'm prepared
25 for his testimony. But if he's issuing criticisms based upon

1 an averaging technique that Mr. Dinneen utilized and spoke to,
2 this Court has now three times sustained my objection with
3 respect to that line of questioning.

4 THE COURT: Well, I'd sustain the objection as previously
5 sustained.

6 BY MR. WARD:

7 Q The reason why you can't use 2004 data in the same
8 way as other data is because it's influenced by the bubble in 9 the housing market. Is that true?

10 A That is correct. And when I make the statement
11 about the average, I'm talking about '99, 2000, 2001. That 12 was not a bubble period. It is inappropriate to claim.

13 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this is five times now.

14 THE WITNESS: Can I finish answering the question?

15 THE COURT: Well, there's nothing in his report at all
16 that addressed the issue of averaging as I understand it.

17 MR. BAKER: He says that it is inappropriate to average
18 in the context of the bursting housing market, in the bursting
19 bubble. Now he's speaking about the methodology of averaging 20 as being inappropriate.

21 If he wants to talk about the bursting, the Court
22 understands my objection.

23 THE COURT: I do. Please proceed, Mr. Ward.

2 Q Let's take a look at the discussion on page 2.

3 A Yes.

4 Q And the information you were given was that
5 Mr. Rodriguez was involved in an incident, accident?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q Correct?

8 A An incident, yes.

9 Q Okay. And now you were provided with Mr. Dinneen's
10 lost compensation report?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And did you read Mr. Dinneen's opinions?

13 A Yes, I did.

14 Q And did he base the work history and calculate, did
15 he -- did you note in your report at page two that he
16 calculated the average earnings from 1999 to 2003?

17 A That is correct.

18 Q Okay. So you talked about Mr. Dinneen's calculation
19 of average earnings in your report?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Right there on page 2?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Okay. And --

24 A In two places.

25 Q And then you're aware that Mr. Dinneen then took

1 that number and calculated that through projected retirement?

2 A That's correct. That's what he did.

3 Q Okay. And then he did something to reduce that to 4 present value?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q And did you note that you were not provided with
7 documentation about the reports?

8 A That's correct. I said that I did not have the same
9 documentation that Mr. Dinneen did. I did not have the '99
10 through '04 tax returns.

11 Q Okay. Now when you said the estimate of lost 12 compensation here in your report on page two, at the bottom of 13 page two, that there are two fundamental problems with 14 Mr. Dinneen's assumptions, did you say that?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And you were talking about Mr. Dinneen's assumption
17 that what you could do is average his pre-incident earnings
18 from 1999 to 2003 and project that through the rest of his 19 life?

20 A That's correct.

21 Q Okay. So you were saying in the report that you
22 disagreed with Mr. Dinneen's calculations of average earnings
23 over that period of time?

24 A That's correct.

25 Q And you gave two fundamental reasons why you didn't

AVTranz

1 agree with that, is that correct?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q And the first had to do with the effect on the 4 housing market, correct?

5 A That's correct because the average period includes a
6 boom period and a not so boom period. You've got to -- and so
7 just average that and then project it forward is going to put
8 too much weight on the boom period.

9 Q And that's why you said in your report at the bottom
10 of page 2,

11 "First, given the economic and financial
12 distress in the housing market, it is inappropriate
13 to average earnings over the period from 1999 to 14 2004 and use the average as an estimate of 15 pre-incident future earnings."

16 Correct?

17 A That's exactly what I said.

18 Q In your report?

19 A Yes.

20 Q That report that was provided to Counsel for 21 Plaintiff?

22 A I assume it was provided, yes.

23 Q Okay. And you've explained that Mr. Dinneen offered
24 no rationalization as to why earnings over a period influenced 25 by the bubble in housing prices can even come close to

1 projecting earnings in the burst the bubble phase of the 2 housing market, is that correct?

3 A That's exactly what I said.

4 Q And that's what you said in your report that was
5 produced to this Court?

6 A That's exactly what I said in the report.

7 Q Okay. And why is that, that it's inappropriate in 8 your estimation to use the average earnings over the period of 9 1999 to 2004 as a prediction of future earnings to the end of 10 this gentleman's retirement, expected retirement age?

11 A Well, there are two issues. One is without seeing 12 the individual numbers, I don't know if the average is being 13 influenced by one number or whether it's representative of all
14 the years, so I don't know what that average means. If it's 15 being influenced by the last couple of years, then it would 16 clearly be inappropriate given what happened.

17 The other reason is that an average, it doesn't give 18 you any indication of the variability from year to year, and 19 that's really important in terms of projecting anybody's loss.

20 MR. BAKER: Your Honor.

21 THE WITNESS: So, without --

22 MR. BAKER: Can I --

23 THE WITNESS: That was my problem with using the average.

1 THE COURT: Please proceed, Mr. Ward.

2 MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor.

3 BY MR. WARD:

4 Q Now, when you said that it was inappropriate to use
5 earnings during the bubble phase of the housing market, was it
6 your concern that the earnings would be higher in those years?

7 A Yes, and there were at least two years that would be
8 influenced by the bubble.

9 Q Okay.

10 A And Southern California was like Nevada, prone to 11 the bubble.

12 Q Okay. And so the reason why you said that before
13 you saw the numbers is that you suspected with the housing
14 bubble that they were going to be higher, is that correct?

15 A No, I suspected that '03 and '04 would be large
16 numbers, and much larger than '99 through '02. But again,
17 until I saw it, that was an assumption. That's why I made the 18 statement that the average would be inappropriate because it
19 would be influenced by because I knew that at least two of 20 those years were bubble years.

21 Q Okay. So, even before you saw the numbers, you
22 opined that there might well be a problem using that straight
23 average?

24 A That's correct.

25 Q And --

Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 A That was exactly why I made that statement.

2 Q And your expectation as to why there might be a
3 problem is because you expected those numbers to be abnormally
4 high compared to the other years?

5 MR. BAKER: Eventually, Your Honor, I have to --

6 THE WITNESS: That's what I expected.

7 THE COURT: Sir. Mr. Baker?

8 MR. BAKER: I said eventually I have to object to 9 leading.

10 THE COURT: Sustained.

11 BY MR. WARD:

12 Q Is it true that if they were all the same it
13 wouldn't make any difference?

14 A Well, it wouldn't in terms of the actual number, but 15 that would be kind of unusual, but --

16 Q Okay.

17 A -- that would certainly eliminate some issues.

18 Q Okay. And so what were you able to say based on the 19 information that you were provided and based on your knowledge
20 of the real estate market about this analysis?

21 A Well, since I didn't have the information, there's 22 not a lot I could say about Mr. Dinneen's estimate of 23 pre-incident earnings. And I said when I get that information
24 I can say more.

25 So, I can find my report with respect to the lost

1 compensation to focusing on the fact that the bubble burst and
2 that any average that included an influence of bubble would be
3 inappropriate. And then I focused on some technical issues
4 dealing with discounting and that was it.

5 Q Okay. I would offer the resume of Thomas Cargill
6 into evidence, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Any objection?

8 MR. BAKER: No objections, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Well --

10 MR. WARD: And I would offer the November 17 report --
11 the August 17 report in evidence.

12 THE COURT: The August report or the November report?

13 MR. WARD: The August report, Your Honor. I misspoke.
14 There are two reports. One is August. One is October.

15 THE COURT: Any objection?

16 MR. BAKER: No, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Are they both to be considered as Exhibit 67,
18 Mr. Ward?

19 MR. WARD: I'm sorry, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: They're both included under Exhibit 67,
21 correct?

22 MR. WARD: Yes, yes, they are.

23 THE COURT: So ordered, 67 is admitted.

24 [Defendant's Exhibit 67 Received]

25 MR. WARD: And, Your Honor, I would offer to the Court my

2 Dr. Cargill's supplemental report to --

3 MR. BAKER: Me?

4 MR. WARD: To you.

5 MR. BAKER: Can I see it?

6 MR. WARD: Sure.

7 THE COURT: Take a look at it, Mr. Baker.

8 MR. BAKER: Can I have this?

9 MR. WARD: Yeah.

10 MR. BAKER: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor. Your Honor, my 11 apologies to Casey.

12 THE COURT: Did you receive that already, Mr. Baker?

13 MR. BAKER: It says -- I have never seen this report and 14 I'm not in possession of this supplement, Your Honor, but he's 15 got a signed and dated supplement to 16.1 that references the 16 report and I can't prove a negative.

17 THE COURT: Okay.

18 MR. BAKER: What's that?

19 MR. WARD: I will as an officer of the Court testify that 20 I caused this to be served.

21 MR. BAKER: Oh, wait, this is served on October 5, 2010?

22 MR. WARD: Yeah.

23 MR. BAKER: It's untimely.

24 THE COURT: Well, if it's untimely, that's the problem.

25 MR. BAKER: Yeah, that's after the close of discovery.

1 MR. WARD: That was because of information that was never
2 provided to us until the time I took Doctor -- Mr. Dinneen's
3 deposition. The records, which were supposed to have been
4 provided before that, were never provided. Counsel for 5 Plaintiff never provided them to us.

6 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

7 MR. BAKER: I don't know off the top of my head know if
8 they were ever requested. I do know that that's what the 9 discovery commissioner is for and that if there's an extension
10 wanted to file a report or if there's an extension necessary
11 to provide information, I'd stipulated nine times. Well, that 12 might be an exaggeration, but many, many times in this case to 13 extend discovery dates and do other things. But this is an 14 untimely supplemented report after the discovery cutoff and 15 that's maybe why I haven't seen it.

16 THE COURT: You know, if it's an untimely report, then it
17 presents a problem all the way around because that's the whole
18 point of having discovery rules that both sides have to abide
19 by, so sustain the objection as to the untimely report.

20 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Sustain the objection as to the -- any sort
22 of untimely reports. The Court has to sustain the objection.
23 That's the whole point in having discovery rules.

24 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

25 Oh, Your Honor, I need to make sure of something.

1 MR. WARD: I would simply like to say to the Court, and I
2 accept the Court's rulings, but the first objection was I
3 never gave it to them.

4 THE COURT: I do --

5 MR. BAKER: Well, that's correct. Your Honor, I wasn't
6 absolutely sure as to the discovery cutoff, but October 4th
7 was our original trial setting, so we're going to assume that
8 the discovery cutoff was before the date of trial.

9 THE COURT: Right. When was the discovery cutoff, do you
10 know?

11 MR. BAKER: It was moved so many times, Your Honor, but I
12 can represent to Court that it wasn't on the day of trial.

13 THE COURT: Right.

14 MR. WARD: The one thing I would offer the Court -- do we 15 have the date of Mr. Dinneen's deposition?

16 THE COURT: Well, was Mr. Dinneen deposed within the 17 discovery deadlines?

18 MR. BAKER: I --

19 MR. WARD: I don't think so because of his 20 unavailability.

21 MR. BAKER: Not exactly, Your Honor. I mean I was 22 around. It just kind of got pushed back in a way. I believe
23 that he was deposed by agreement outside of the discovery
24 cutoff.

25 MR. WARD: He was deposed on the 29th of September and

1 that information was given for the very first time. And I
2 agree, that information should have been provided to us in
3 discovery and it wasn't.

4 MR. BAKER: And once again, Your Honor, I don't know if I
5 was ever asked for it, but that's what the discovery
6 commissioner is for. If they requested something that wasn't
7 provided, then the rules require that they first have an EDCR
8 meeting with me, then bring a motion to the discovery
9 commissioner.

10 [Counsel Confer]

11 MR. BAKER: I'm not going to make the representation
12 then, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Okay. So that we're clear and the Clerk, it
14 looks like --

15 MR. BAKER: Does the Court's calendar show when the 16 discovery deadline was, Your Honor?

17 THE COURT: Do you know, Madame Clerk?

18 THE CLERK: I'm sorry. What was the question?

19 THE COURT: Does the Court's calendar show when the 20 discovery deadline was?

21 THE CLERK: I don't have that information.

22 THE COURT: I don't think she's --

1 answer right on the spot, but what I wanted to be sure of is
2 that 67, which has been admitted, consists of Mr. Cargill's
3 resume and qualifications as well as his August 17, 2010
4 report.

5 MR. BAKER: And I'm going to have Monique call the office
6 and check on the discovery cutoff. I do not want to represent
7 anything to the Court.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MR. BAKER: But my understanding is we were ready to go
10 on October 4th, and I believe Casey was in trial. And I can't 11 fathom how the discovery cutoff date could be the date set for 12 bench trial.

13 THE COURT: Yeah, that couldn't be.

14 MR. WARD: It would appear that you served us on October
15 4th with something, your 29th. So you were doing something
16 the day before we served the report.

17 MR. BAKER: What was the 29th?

18 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: Prepared 29th supplemental. It
19 was served on October 4th.

20 MR. BAKER: I don't know what that was, but I'm proud to 21 have made 29 supplements, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Do what, Mr. Baker?

2 MR. WARD: Do we have his report in the exhibit? I'm
3 trying to answer Your Honor's questions. I know that you want
4 to make sure that the resume and the report are part of 67 and
5 I'm trying to figure that out.

6 THE COURT: Well, I'm just trying to help out the Clerk
7 because she tries to keep me in line, you know. I don't want
8 to get sideways with my Court Clerk.

9 [Counsel Confer]

10 MR. WARD: So, we are -- their 67 contained his report
11 from August 17th and we are simply adding his resume to that,
12 Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Right, and that's been included, right?

14 THE CLERK: Right. That's it?

15 THE COURT: You want this back?

16 THE CLERK: Sure, if you don't want it now.

17 THE COURT: Okay. I guess I need -- I need your set; by 18 the time we conclude this, we'll need your set.

19 MR. BAKER: Permission to pass away, Your Honor.

Q Good morning.

A Good morning or afternoon.

Q I'm a late riser. It appears that you're saying that Enrique could not have made as much in the current financial market that he could have back in 2004 because the bubble burst. Is that what you're saying?

A Well, I don't know that. I didn't have the tax returns at the time.

Q So your first opinion then, you do not hold that opinion?

A Would you repeat the question?

Q Sure. It seemed like you were saying Enrique could not make as much today because the housing market has burst, the bubble has burst. Is that right?

MR. WARD: Make as much, it's vague as to what the reference is, make as much as --

THE COURT: Well, it is, sustained.

BY MR. BAKER:

Q As much as he did between 1999 and 2004, is that what you're saying?

A It's unlikely. It was inappropriate because that period was influenced by the bubble. But I didn't have the numbers in front of me to make a definitive statement.

6 A No, that's not what I understood.

7 Q You didn't read that in his deposition transcript?

9 Q Oh, okay. Did you read his trial testimony?

15 Q Do you know that there are people going around right

18 A No, I do not.

19 Q Do you know Omar Nagy down at Bank of Nevada?

1 Q Do you have any reason to disagree that roughly 75
2 percent of existing home sells in Las Vegas are homes in
3 foreclosure and distressed properties and short sells?

4 A I think that's true across the nation.

5 Q Do you know that that's exactly what Enrique
6 Rodriguez specialized in?

7 A No, he bought houses in an upward market. This is a
8 downward market. It's different.

9 Q Do you know he purchased foreclosures and distressed

11 A That is not what I understood.

12 Q That's what he said in Court.

20 A Pardon.

21 Q But nobody showed you the trial testimony?

22 A No, I don't.

2 rate?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Could you -- and you're using a historical rate?

5 A No.

6 Q What rate did you use?

7 A I'm using a rate that is based on economic theory,
8 economic evidence, what the U.S. Congressional Budget Office
9 uses.

10 Q Give me a number.

11 A Would you please let me finish?

12 THE COURT: Yeah, I think you should. Mr. Baker --

13 MR. BAKER: Sorry, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: -- you keep firing questions. He can't 15 finish his answer before you fire another one.

16 MR. BAKER: There was caffeine in the cough drop.

17 THE WITNESS: What the trustees of the Social Security
18 Administration use, and they use a real interest rate of 3
19 percent. So, whatever inflation rate you assume, the discount
20 rate automatically is determined.

21 If you assume a 1 percent inflation rate, then the 22 discount rate is 4 percent. If you assume a 2 percent
23 inflation rate, then the discount is 5 percent. It's the 24 ratio that's important. So I use a real interest rate of 3
25 percent, which is based on economic theory, economic evidence.

5 A I did not say that and you're misinterpreting and
6 misrepresenting what I'm saying.

7 Q Did you do an --

8 A I said a real interest rate of 3 percent.

9 Q Did you do a net discount rate?

10 A Yeah, 3 percent.

11 Q So you have to take a number and you had to subtract
12 another number from it, right?

13 A That's right, 3 percent.

14 Q And 6 minus 3 is 3, is that right?

15 A So is 5 minus 2.

16 Q Okay.

17 A So is 4 minus 1.

18 Q Can you take me down to one of these banks that I
19 just talked about and get me an interest rate anywhere near 6

2 A It is nonsense to use current interest rates.

3 Q Sir, would it surprise you that it's 4.12 today?

4 A No.

5 Q If this Judge granted -- sorry, if our great Judge
6 granted Enrique Rodriguez money today that's discounted for 7 present dollar value, it's assumed that he's supposed to 8 invest that to take for his future medical care, is that
9 right?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q And do you think he should just hold it in his bank

15 Q Today, sir, he could get -- yes or no, 4.12 on a 30

18 is --

19 Q Sir, today could he get it for 4.12 on a 30 year

21 A Yes, and he'd have to let the money sit there for 30

9 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

10 BY MR. WARD:

11 Q Dr. Cargill, how did you calculate the projection
12 into the future in the present value?

13 A I didn't catch the last part. You were walking
14 away.

15 Q Okay. How did you calculate the -- how did you say
16 you should do the calculations to present value? What did you
17 do?

18 A Well, there's two elements, but mathematically, it's 19 really just one. One is you take the number like $50,000 and 20 you grow it into the future and then you discount it by a
21 nominal interest rate. But what's really important is the 22 ratio of the growth factor and the discount factor. And 23 sometimes it's called a net discount factor.

24 There's absolutely nothing in the record to indicate
25 that there is a productivity factor in Mr. Rodriguez'

1 compensation because I didn't have the information to
2 determine that.

3           So, you would assume that his compensation in the 4 future would grow at the average inflation rate. You could
5 assume that at 1 percent, 2 percent, or 3 percent, and nobody
6 really knows because it's very hard to predict inflation.

7           And once you have the inflation rate, then you know
8 what the discount rate is. And that's based on a real rate of 9 interest at 3 percent which is well established, well accepted
10 by virtually everybody.

11           So, if you assume a 1 percent inflation factor, you
12 would discount by 4 percent. If you assumed a 2 percent
13 inflation rate, you would discount by 5 percent. If you
14 assumed a 3 percent inflation rate, you would discount by 6
15 percent. But that's just the mechanical way of doing it.

16           All three of those approaches would give you pretty
17 much the same number, whether you assumed a 1 percent
18 inflation rate and a 4 percent discount factor or a 2 percent
19 inflation rate and a 5 percent discount factor or a 3 percent
20 inflation rate and a 6 percent discount factor. They would 21 all give you numbers pretty darn close to each other.

22           That's why it's a red herring to say, "Show me an 23 interest rate of 6 percent today." It's not relevant to the 24 calculation.

25           Q     So, how would one make the calculation for any --

1 for example, $100 of future expenses or future income loss?

2 A Well, assuming that that expenditure would grow at 3 the assumed inflation rate, you could say, "Well, I'm going to 4 assume it will grow at 3 percent," even though the actual
5 inflation rate is like 1.5 percent.

6 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, it's outside the scope of the 7 cross.

8 THE COURT: I'll allow it.

9 THE WITNESS: So, you would assume it would grow at 3
10 percent. And if you use a real interest rate of 3 percent,
11 which is what I used, then the discount factor would be 6. If 12 you assume it would grow at 2 percent, then you would discount
13 by 5. If you assume it would grow at 1 percent, then you
14 would discount by 4. And all three numbers would be pretty
15 close to each other.

16 BY MR. WARD:

17 Q And so the net effect would be the 3 percent?

18 A Yeah, it's that real interest rate. That's what's 19 critical. And the Congressional Budget Office, you go to 20 their website, they say that the real interest rate over the 21 next couple of years will be 3 percent. And after 2014 to 22 2020, it will be 3.6 percent. So 3 percent is actually on the 23 low side. And that's because of the deficit. And the real
24 interest rate is a fairly complicated thing and it comes out
25 of the financial system.

1                   But we're -- economists are very, very confident
2 that that real interest rate ranges between 2 and 4 and 3 is a
3 good average. And that's what pretty much everybody uses.

4           Q     And is that a conservative number?

5           A     I don't know if I'd call it conservative. You could
6 certainly make an argument that it could be a little higher,
7 but I think for a long run real return on government
8 securities, 3 percent is -- a real return of 3 percent would 9 be acceptable to almost anybody that really knows the 10 financial system.

11          Q     Thank you.

12          A     And the problem in focusing on current interest
13 rates is very low.

14          MR. BAKER: Your Honor. That's all right.

15          THE WITNESS: But if you go out and buy a bunch of bonds
16 at low interest rates, you're going to have a capital loss in 17 a couple of years because as interest rates rise and everybody
18 projects that they're going to rise, the value of bonds will 19 fall. That's why you can't use current interest rates. It's 20 economic nonsense.

21          MR. WARD: Thank you, Doctor.

22          THE WITNESS: Okay.

23          MR. BAKER: No questions, Your Honor.

24          THE COURT: No follow-up, Mr. Baker?

25          MR. BAKER: No follow-up, Your Honor.

11                  THE COURT: Good afternoon, everybody.

12                  MR. WARD: Good afternoon, Your Honor.

13                  MR. BAKER: Hi, Your Honor.

14                  THE COURT: I have a new witness. Could you please

19                  THE WITNESS: Frank Sciulla, S-C-I-U-L-L-A.

20                  THE COURT: Mr. Ward.

21                  MR. WARD: Good afternoon, Your Honor.

22                  THE COURT: How are you?

23                  MR. WARD: I'm doing fine. Thank you. And yourself?

24                  MR. BAKER: Tell her about your laptop, Casey.

25                  THE COURT: What about the laptop, Mr. Ward?

2 THE COURT: Oh, no. Oh, no.

6 you'll probably see in how I comport myself today. And he

9 THE COURT: Oh, boy. See. We get so attached to those 10 things and now what happens.

11 MR. WARD: Yes, we do. Yes, we do. And neither my 12 working partner here nor my spouse were at all surprised.

13 THE COURT: Oh, boy.

14 MR. WARD: So that tells you something about me maybe you
15 didn't want to know.

16 Anyway. Shall we proceed?

17 THE COURT: Whenever you're ready, sir.

18 MR. WARD: I'm ready.

19 DIRECT EXAMINATION

20 BY MR. WARD:

21 Q Mr. Sciulla.

22 A Yes.

23 Q You work at the Palms?

24 A Yes, I do.

25 Q What do you do?

AVTranz

Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 A I'm the director of surveillance.

2 Q And how many years have you been working in
3 surveillance-type activities?

4 A In doing surveillance?

5 Q Right.

6 A Since about 1994.

7 Q Okay. So you've had about 16 years of doing
8 surveillance in casinos?

9 A Correct.

10 Q And how soon in relation to the Palms opening up did
11 you start working at the Palms?

12 A I've been an employee at the Palms since Day One
13 that we opened.

14 Q Okay. So you saw it the day it was opened?

15 A Correct.

16 Q Do you remember being in the Sportsbook?

17 A On the day it opened?

18 Q Sometime within the first week or two after it
19 opened?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Does it look any different today from the way it
22 looked the day it opened?

23 A The seating arrangements appear to be the same as 24 they were when we opened.

25 Q Okay. So it's the same configuration as it's always

1       been?

2           A       Correct.

3           Q       And that would include 2004?

4           A       Correct.

5           Q       Now, tell me, there are how many video cameras at 6       the Palms?

7           A       Approximately 1300.

8           Q       In general. How many?

9           A       Thirteen hundred.

10          Q       Thirteen hundred cameras at the Palms.

11          A       Yes.

12          Q       Okay. Now, that's more than the typical hotel.

13          A       Hotel or hotel with a casino?

14          Q       Hotel?

15          A       I would imagine.

16          Q       Right. And so the reason there are so many cameras
17       is because it's a casino. Is that correct?

18          A       Yes.

19          Q       And they're required by the Gaming Commission?

20          A       We have certain surveillance standards for 21       unrestricted licenses that we must meet those standards.

22          Q       Okay. Which means that there are a lot of cameras
23       that are aimed at the gaming operations and the money counting 24       and everything having to do with that?

25          A       Specific locations. Yes, to address the

1 surveillance standard for unrestricted licenses.

2 Q Okay. Now, let's talk about the Sportsbook. You
3 are familiar with the layout in the Sportsbook?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And the camera layout in the Sportsbook?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And what is the camera layout in the Sportsbook?

8 A There are cameras that cover each of -- on the race
9 side and the sports side it's divided up into two halves. You
10 have a fixed camera that looks down on each betting window so
11 you can see the counter and the drawer both on the race and 12 the sports side.

13 And camera shots that would -- for the face IDs if
14 somebody walks right up to the window. There is also coverage
15 behind where the tellers -- where they're working at their 16 station. And the back wall to monitor the activities -- the 17 employee activities behind their work area.

18 And then there are two PTZ cameras, one on the race
19 side, one on the sports side to monitor the activities in the 20 room.

21 Q Okay. And the two PTZ cameras?

22 A Yes. Pan, tilt, zoom. Unlike the other ones, which 23 are mostly fixed, the pan, tilt, zoom we are able to 24 proactively control it, move it, zoom it in, pan it left,
25 right.

1 Q Now, the pan/zoom cameras are not being zoomed all
2 of the time, all of the cameras all of the time the casino is
3 open are they?

4 A No. They are not on an autorotation. When the 5 camera is not in use, the camera has a location that it's
6 aimed at when it's not being used.

7 Q Okay. Now, the protocol at the Palms is that when
8 there is an incident and an incident report there is a request
9 for a video?

10 A If the security department calls up to us.

11 Q Okay. Did you see the form -- the report form on 12 this incident?

13 A Not today, but I have seen it in the past.

14 Q Right. And you saw it at the deposition?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And did that indicate that a request was made for a
17 video?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And did that indicate whether there was or was not a
20 video?

21 A It was checked that no -- there was no video.

22 Q Okay. Does that surprise you that there was no
23 video?

24 A No, it does not.

25 Q Okay. And so there was no video for this incident?

3 MR. CARDENAS: Uh-huh.

4 MR. WARD: Does it have exhibits?

5 MR. CARDENAS: Nope.

8 BY MR. BAKER:

9 Q Let me just ask you, there are 1300 cameras at the 10 Palms Casino. Is that right?

11 A Approximately.

12 Q And you had an event going on in the Sportsbook
13 where beautiful girls were throwing items out into the 14 audience. And throwing promotional items through field goals
15 and they might have even been a pair of twins there that day.
16 Were you aware of that?

17 A No.

18 Q Nobody panned in on this at all at any given time?

19 A I was not there that evening.

20 Q And you reviewed and you didn't find any tapes of 21 Enrique Rodriguez. Is that true?

22 A Review was -- well, call came up, a review was done

1 And it's very rare that I see a score of 36. It's -- I would
2 say it's alarming in terms of a diagnosis that doesn't include
3 psychological factors to explain it, you've got to explain it.

4 And you've got to understand, you've got to look at 5 every single symptom and ask yourself the question, does this
6 skew the symptom. Is this presentation going to throw me a
7 curve ball? Am I going to do an operation that isn't
8 indicated?

9 And there are things that you have to look at before
10 you undertake to propose surgery to someone, or before you
11 undertake to do any kind of procedure, invasive, or even 12 treated with just medications.

13 So that was kind of the last bit of evidence that 14 convinced me that this is something that we really have to 15 take very seriously in this case.

16 Q And the issues, the opinions that you've offered
17 about the knee, the knee condition and the -- the carpal
18 tunnel that we've talked about, and the need for that being 19 related to this accident and the recovery periods that you've 20 talked about, is that your opinion as to what this gentleman
21 is suffering from as a result of this accident?

22 A Yes, it is. I mean, I think it's reasonably,
23 medically probable that he injured his knee, he needed the 24 knee surgery as a result of the accident, and that he may have 25 needed a second knee surgery as a result of the accident.

1           And I think that the other things regarding the
2 neck, the upper extremities, the shoulder, the wrist, except
3 for the tingling in the hands, which I think it's carpal
4 tunnel syndrome related to the injury, but the low back, the 5 two ankles, I think it's reasonably, medically probable that 6 there's no connection to the accident that happened had the 7 Palms casino.

8           Q     And how about the ongoing pain in the knee?

9           A     I can't explain that purely on a physical basis, and 10 I think I'm with Dr. Shannon on that. There are symptoms here
11 that I can't explain. I don't know why. And I'm -- I also 12 listed here an important list of things that indicate he does
13 not have RSD or CRPS, and the findings that I found that -- 14 you know, he doesn't have abnormal skin. He didn't have 15 change in color, either lying or sitting.

16                     He didn't have allodynia, which is a
17 hypersensitivity if you just breath on the skin it's 18 exquisitely painful.

19           Q     Let me interrupt you about the allodynia, one
20 second. Dr. Miller?

21           A     Yes.

22           Q     Did you read Dr. Miller's records?

23           A     Yes.

24           Q     Did Dr. Miller use a pinwheel?

25           A     Yes.

1 Q Tell us about that.

2 A That brings up two things about RSD or CRPS. CRPS,
3 as I say is not a subtle diagnosis, when it -- if it's been
4 around for awhile, if someone has it, it progresses, unless he
5 gets better, unless he's cured.

6 Q It can be precipitated by a minor injury, stubbing
7 your toe. You get up at night you stub your toe and three
8 weeks later you begin to develop symptoms suggestive of RSD.

9 Someone who has RSD is so sensitive to touch that 10 you would never, even vaguely consider touching them to test
11 sensation with a pinwheel. Do you know what a pinwheel is?
12 It's a little -- it's a testing device that has a handle, and 13 then it's got a wheel about the diameter of a quarter and 14 there are pins coming out of that thing, and it's a wheel, and 15 you roll it down the skin.

16 And pricking the skin every time you turn the wheel,
17 you know, about 30 times per revolution. You couldn't do
18 that. You wouldn't do that with someone if you thought they 19 had RSD. You could seriously worsen the condition.

20 The other issue is that this man had his -- one of 21 his toenails excised, I think it was his left toenail with the 22 fungal infection in it. Nobody, no -- no podiatrist in his 23 right mind would operate on an extremity that had RSD or CRPS.
24 It's an absolute contraindication for anything except for 25 emergency surgery.

AVTranz

1           If you broke a bone and the bone was sticking out
2 through the skin you'd have to operate it on, that's an
3 emergency. But absent that kind of an injury you would not do
4 an elective procedure like that. So that's more evidence that
5 he doesn't have RSD.

6           I think it -- I can't find anything in this record
7 that convinces me that this man has RSD. I think it's all
8 right to consider it as a differential, but you have to rule
9 it out, and it's -- you rule it out. He simply doesn't have
10 it.

11           Q     Can you find anything that suggests that he has a
12 condition that is in any way related to this accident other
13 than those you've already discussed?

14           A     No, I don't.

15           Q     And that is to a medical certainty?

16           A     Yes. Reasonable --

17           Q     Okay.

18           A     -- medical probability I guess is the buzz phrase.

19           Q     Reasonable medical probability. And you heard --
20 you're aware of morphine pumps, is that one?

21           A     Yes.

22           Q     And you're aware of spine stimulators?

23           A     Yes.

24           Q     Do you think those have a purpose?

25           A     Yes.

AVTranz

1 Q Where do you think they have a purpose?

2 A Well, to begin with, I don't insert pain stimulators
3 or morphine pumps and -- if I felt they were indicated I'd 4 send the patient to UCSF, University Medical School in San 5 Francisco.

6 In managing chronic, my own chronic patients I have
7 not found the necessity for either one of those. I think they
8 are particularly useful in malignant pain, where someone has a
9 metastasis into the bones, and it grows, and you don't want
10 that patient to be overly sedated with high doses of morphine.

11 You give them the pain stimulator and you can
12 relieve pain without heavy doses of narcotics, you can use
13 fewer narcotics. So I think they definitely do have a place.
14 I don't think they have a place in chronic knee pain, which is 15 basically of a degenerative nature and is being embellished
16 and colored by functional overlay. And I think that's true of 17 back pain as well --

18 Q Do you --

19 A -- which were the two considerations I know in this
20 case.

21 Q Do you think there's anything -- any residual caused 22 by this accident that would cause, in your opinion, the 23 medical need for a spinal stimulator?

24 A No, I don't. I don't think that a spinal stimulator
25 in this man is going to give him any sustained relief. And I

AVTranz

1 know he had a trial which gave him three or four days of
2 finally relief of his leg pain, but not of his back pain. I
3 think that is generally within what I would call a placebo
4 response. And I do not think that long-term there's anything
5 to be gained from a spinal cord stimulator. I think it's a
6 can of worms, I wouldn't go there.

7 Q Thank you, Doctor. Is that all of the opinions that
8 you --

9 A Well, that's all that come to mind right now.

10 Q -- have for us?

11 A I probably have others, but those are the relevant
12 ones I think for this situation.

13 Q Thank you, Doctor.

14 THE COURT: Mr. Baker, do you have any questions?

15 MR. BAKER: No, Your Honor -- yeah, one or two.

16 CROSS-EXAMINATION

17 BY MR. BAKER:

18 Q Good afternoon, Doctor.

19 A Good afternoon.

20 Q Doctor, you came into this case in a forensic basis,
21 not a clinical basis; is that right?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q You were going to look at the records and make some 24 determinations; is that right?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And when you --

2 A -- look at the records and examine the patient.

3 Q And when you do that do you attempt to utilize a
4 scientific methodology; is that right?

5 A I gather data.

6 Q Right.

7 A And try to draw reason, conclusions from all the 8 data that I gather.

9 Q And you try to meticulously gather your data, is 10 that fine?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Under the philosophy, garbage-in/garbage-out,
13 really?

14 A Well, I don't know about that philosophy, but --

15 Q You've never heard that before?

16 A I've heard the term. I would not apply it to my 17 medical practice.

18 Q Well, I wasn't suggesting garbage, Doctor --

19 A Oh.

20 Q -- but the more accurate you are in your data the 21 more accurate your conclusions are going to be, correct?

22 A Absolutely.

23 Q And first you determined that Enrique Rodriguez is 24 not disabled; is that right?

25 A And first I determined that?

1 Q You have determined that, and first, comma, you have
2 determined that Enrique Rodriguez is not disabled; is that
3 right?

4 A After considering all the data I would say that he
5 is not totally disabled.

6 Q Okay. And "totally disabled" means unable to 7 sustain any sort of employment; is that right?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Now could you please turn to your June 2nd, 2010
10 report.

11 A Right.

12 Q Are you there?

13 A Yes.

14 Q If you go down to the third paragraph. You say
15 there is an undated social security administration document
16 from Richmond, Virginia; do you see that?

17 THE COURT: What page are you on?

18 THE WITNESS: In the third paragraph?

19 THE COURT: What page are you on, Mr. Baker?

20 MR. BAKER: Two -- three. They're not Bates stamped,
21 Your Honor.

22 BY MR. BAKER:

23 Q We're at the June 2nd, 2010 report, part 2 of 2.

24 A Oh, part 2. I was looking at part 1.

25 Q That's why we couldn't find each other.

1 A There's an undated social -- right.

2 Q Okay. And you see, it says -- there is a payment
3 schedule representing the total payments, dot-dot-dot, that
4 Mrs. Hoynstein [phonetic] received.

5 A Yes.

6 Q Who is Mrs. Hoynstein?

7 A I have no idea.

8 Q Okay. But that's in your report, isn't it?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And then you say in bold, don't you: "Although 11 Mr. Rodriguez filed an application for social security and 12 Medicare benefits, he never received any payments or 13 coverage;" is that right?

14 A That's a quote from the document, yes.

15 Q And it's your understanding that Enriquez Rodriguez
16 has never received coverage from social security?

17 A No. That isn't my understanding. My understanding
18 is what I quoted here, that I said that's written in the 19 document, and that was written in the document.

20 Q Are you aware he's been declared permanently,
21 totally, disabled by social security?

22 A I don't know that I've seen the document declaring
23 that, but I wouldn't be surprised at that.

24 Q Are you aware that he has been declared totally,
25 permanently disabled? Did you know that before right now?

1 A No.

2 Q Okay. Did you know that that definition of
3 disability has been adopted by congress and codified in a
4 statute what disability means?

5 A Yes. I'm aware of that. And --

6 Q And are you aware that that's a very difficult
7 definition to meet?

8 A Yes, I am.

9 Q And is it true that today is the first day that you
10 knew that the social security department, that the federal
11 government of the United States has determined that Enriquez
12 Rodriguez is totally, permanently disabled; the first time you
13 knew that?

14 A The first time I knew that.

15 Q Okay. Now what you're given us, is you're saying,
16 okay, his first knee surgery is related to this incident; is
17 that right?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And you're saying the carpal tunnel is related to 20 this incident; is that right?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Have you ever said anything other than the carpal
23 tunnel is related to this incident? Did you in your report
24 say it would be a long stretch of the imagination to relay his 25 carpal tunnel to this incident?

1           A     I think -- well, what I think is that the carpal
2 tunnel was rendered symptomatic when he used the crutches.
3 I've already said that.

4           Q     Did you say --

5           A     And in -- can I finish?

6           Q     Sure. But my question was --

7           A     And I feel that I feel that once the crutches were 8 no longer in use that the carpal tunnel would subside.

9                     Now, he may have had a sub-clinical carpal tunnel
10 syndrome. In other words you can show slowed conduction
11 through the carpal tunnel in a person who doesn't have any 12 symptoms. And that slow conduction doesn't define a carpal
13 tunnel syndrome. A carpal tunnel syndrome is symptoms.

14                    I think that a carpal tunnel syndrome he has now
15 would not be related to the incident as Dr. Gutierrez --

16           MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this isn't responsive to my 17 question.

18           THE COURT: Well, I'm not sure that it is. I'll ask you
19 to rephrase the question. Let's start over.

21 something.

22           THE COURT: Uh-huh.

1                   And my question was, did you ever say it would be a
2 long stretch of the imagination to relay carpel tunnel to the 3 injury that he sustained at the Palms Hotel?

4           A     I'll help you.

5           Q     Can you point me a page.

6           A     Sure.

7           Q     If I -- I may well have written that.

8           A     Page 2 of your report, paragraph number 1, 2, 3, 4.

9     You say --

10          Q     Page 2?

11          A     Correct.

12          Q     Okay. Paragraph 4.

13          A     Yes. Enriquez describes that.

14          Q     It starts out, "Psychological test data." Your 15 September 7th, report.

16          A     September 7th report?

17          Q     Correct.

18          A     I don't think I have that with me.

19          MR. BAKER: Well, can I approach the witness, Your Honor?

20          THE COURT: Sure.

21     BY MR. BAKER:

22                Q     Doctor, do you see here where you say, "A number of 23 other symptoms, however, require a long stretch of the 24 imagination in order to connect them causally to the casino
25 incident"?

1 A Is this a report of mine?

2 Q Here's the first page. Does it say --

3 A Where are you --

4 Q Right here, Doctor.

5 A Number -- inappropriate --

6 Q It starts here in this paragraph.

7 A Okay.

8 Q It says, "A number of the other symptoms, however,
9 require a long stretch of the imagination," correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q "In order to connect him causally to the casino"?

12 A That's correct.

13 Q And then below that, in the paragraph immediately
14 below that, you include carpal tunnel syndrome; is that right?

15 A Right carpal -- right carpal tunnel syndrome,
16 possible thoracic -- yes, I do.

17 Q Okay. And today, however, you relate the carpal
18 tunnel syndrome to the subject accident; is that right?

19 A Yes.

20 Q So it doesn't require such a long stretch of the 21 imagination; is that fair to say?

22 A I was talking about the carpal tunnel syndrome at 23 different times, so the answer is, it does require a long
24 stretch of the imagination.

25 Q Okay, Doctor. Now with respect to the second knee

1 surgery, you believe that that was caused -- that was
2 performed by Dr. Tauber. You believe that was caused by a
3 breaking off, condromalacia that formed the loose body in the 4 joint?

5 A I think that's one of the possibilities of a loose
6 body. It is -- you have to make a differential diagnoses when
7 you have a loose body.

8 Q Dr. Shannon performed the surgery and she cleaned
9 the condromalacia, she did a chondroplasty; is that right?

10 A That's right.

11 Q And you looked at the nice smooth surfaces that we
12 looked at, sitting up at the Judge's desk, and you thought
13 that she did a really good job?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And are you aware --

16 A I still think she did a really good job.

17 Q Me too. Are you aware that Dr. Shannon testified
18 that she believes that loose body is from cartilage that broke
19 up that was traumatically insulted and then broke off post-
20 surgically?

21 A That's what condromalacia is.

22 Q Okay. And do you know that she related that to the 23 traumatic insult on the knee caused by her surgery?

24 A I don't recall that she did.

25 Q You would defer to Dr. Shannon on that?

1           A     No. I think it's a honest difference of opinion. I
2 think that where the -- the nidus comes that makes a loose
3 body, if she wants to say that it's because of her work -- I
4 mean, that's a possibility. Something that has to break off
5 to form a loose body.

6           Q     Correct. And --

7           A     And the question is, did it break off when she did
8 her surgery. And if it did how come it didn't show up when 9 she did the MRI with contrast.

10          Q     Well, she explained that. She said it hid, that it
11 was located in the suprapatellar pouch. Do you recall that 12 part of her testimony?

13          A     That's -- and that is certainly is a possibility.

14          Q     Okay. Now you had a comment with respect to one of 15 your red flags that Dr. Shannon talked about the fact that she 16 wasn't able to figure out what was bothering Enrique's knee,
17 between her surgery and the time he went to Dr. Tauber; is
18 that right?

19          A     That's right.

20          Q     Okay. And when Dr. Tauber operated he found a loose
21 body, correct?

22          A     Yes.

23          Q     Synovitis again, correct?

24          A     Yes.

25          Q     And he also found a torn meniscus, again, correct?

AVTranz

1           A     Yes.  That's what he describes in his operative
2 note.

3           Q     And Dr. Shannon testified that between 10 to 15
4 percent of people who have meniscectomies and chondroplasties,
5 and the type of clean-up she did, have recurrent tears
6 regardless of how pristinely you perform the procedure.  You
7 agree with that, wouldn't you?

8           A     I agree with that.

9           Q     Now, if the first surgery was necessitated by the 10 accident, like you told us, and the loose body broke off,
11 because as Dr. Shannon said, of the traumatic insult to the 12 soft tissue during her surgery, isn't the second surgery also 13 related to the accident?

14          A     I think it's quite possibly related to the accident.

15          Q     And that's --

16          A     Yes.

17          Q     Okay.  And that's great.  So now we have the first 18 two surgeries that are related to the accident; is that right?

19          A     Yes.

20          Q     Now, you know that Enriquez Rodriguez, did you read
21 his deposition, or did you hear his trial testimony?

22          A     I read his deposition and heard his trial testimony.

23          Q     Okay.  Did you hear that he described before
24 Dr. Tauber's surgery, a pain that was like a screwdriver being 25 pushed into his knee and wiggled around?

1 A Yes, I remember that.

2 Q And you saw in the Rancho Physical Therapy records,
3 that even though he was reporting greater mobility, he was
4 reporting continued pain, correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And that was during the period, again, between Dr.
7 Shannon's treatment, and Dr. Tauber's treatment, which 8 resulted in a finding of the loose body, the synovitis and the 9 torn meniscus; is that right?

10 A That's right.

11 Q Okay. So we're getting the chronology going here.
12 Now, with respect to Enriquez Rodriguez' knee pain, are you
13 aware that Dr. Tauber that his knee pain had changed from that 14 type of stabbing pain into a burning pain?

15 A I noted that Dr. Tauber first used the term "burning
16 pain," yes.

17 Q After his surgery; is that right?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And RSD and Causalgia, or complex regional pain
20 syndrome, they're all different things, we'll talk about that.
21 But burning pain is a sign of a reflex sympathetic dystrophy;
22 is that fair to say?

23 A Reflex --

24 Q Doesn't the --

25 A -- sympathetic dystrophy is sometimes associated

1 with burning pain.

2 Q Okay. So there was a change --

3 A It's not the only thing that's associated with 4 burning pain --

5 Q I get it. But there was a burning pain reported
6 from the first time in that left extremity, after Dr. Tauber's
7 surgery; is that right?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And Dr. Tauber's surgery --

10 A As far as I know.

11 Q -- was the second surgery that you said was probably 12 causally related to the incident at the Palms Hotel; is that
13 right?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And that burning pain compelled Dr. Tauber to send 16 Enriquez Rodriguez to Dr. Ferrante; is that right?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And that --

19 A He brought up -- I think that's the first mention,
20 the burning pain I think he felt he had to consider RSD.

21 Q And then Dr. Ferrante said, that it's possible that 22 it's RSD, but I think that there's probably a mechanical
23 component; is that right?

24 A That's right.

25 Q And RSD can be caused by traumatic insults; is that

1 right?

2 A Yeah. That is right.

3 Q And surgery is a traumatic insult; is that right?

4 A That is right.

5 Q Okay. So can RSD be caused by a surgery?

6 A It certainly can.

7 Q All right. So now we have this surgery. We have 8 the first mention of burning pain. He sends him to 9 Dr. Ferrante. Do you know that Dr. Ferrante had Enrique sent 10 to an orthopedist to give an injection into the knee to see if 11 it's mechanical?

12 A I believe he did. That's not the only way to find
13 out if something is mechanical.

14 Q But it's a way to find out, correct?

15 A Well, it finds out something.

16 Q And the shock didn't work; is that right?

17 A I understand the injection didn't work.

18 Q And then Enriquez was sent to see Dr. Miller; is
19 that right?

20 A I don't know the sequence. But I know he was sent 21 to see Dr. Miller.

22 Q A pain management doctor; is that right?

23 A Yes. I think he's an anesthesiologist.

24 Q And Dr. Miller saw allodynia; is that right?

25 A Yes, he described it. He just --

2 A Yes.

3 Q Modeling in the leg; is that right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Abnormal hair growth; is that right?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And a temperature change which he measured with a
8 thermometer not his hands, between the two extremities; is
9 that right?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And on that basis he diagnosed reflex sympathetic
12 dystrophy; is that right?

13 A That's right. Incorrectly --

14 Q And he said --

15 A -- so, I believe.

16 Q And he said specifically that it met five of the six
17 criteria that's recognized?

18 A I agree, he said that.

19 Q Now do you think he made this stuff up?

20 A I think that the things that he found could be found
21 in the absence of RSD, and in and of themselves they do not
22 define RSD.

23 Q I appreciate that. But he found five of the six
24 criterion, a pain management doctor of RSD; is that right?

25 A That's what he's reported.

1 Q And the color changes, the temperature changes, and
2 the hair growth are all objective, you can't fake it; is that
3 right?

4 A I didn't want to go there. But I can tell you that
5 I have seen a patient who has used a depilatory to appear that
6 there was no hair growth.

7 Q Okay. So next --

8 A I've seen patients who have applied a tourniquet
9 before they were seen, for long enough to change the 10 dimensions of the extremity. An extremity that has had recent 11 surgery can also show changes in color and in temperature.

12 So, yes --

13 Q So Enriquez Rodriguez, does not now only have 14 functional overlay, but he's a liar and a psychopathic.

15 A I'm not saying that that's why it's happened. I'm 16 just telling you that that kind of thing can happen.

17 Q Okay.

18 A And one is compelled to consider those things when
19 one considers the psychological testing of Dr. Mortillaro,
20 which until I was given this case everyone seems to have
21 disregarded, they just threw it out.

22 Q Dr. Mortillaro will tell us what he thinks about his

6 was faced with --

7 Q No, because his --

8 A -- and he ignored.

11 A Yes.

12 Q And his diagnosis was a mood disorder secondary to 13 an injury; is that right?

14 A That was his diagnosis.

15 Q And by this time at least what Enrique had been 16 reporting to his doctors, he'd been suffering from pain for 17 years and years; is that right?

18 A That's what is reported in his records.

19 Q Correct. And that by its very definition is a
20 chronic pain syndrome; is that correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And a chronic pain syndrome is actually defined in

2 access isn't it?

3 A Emotional liability is part of what can be seen in a
4 chronic pain syndrome.

5 Q Like weeping, and crying, and things; is that right?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Like Enrique Rodriguez was seen to do the weep and
8 cry, which you call the Waddell sign; is that right?

9 A Yes. Because weeping and crying is not specific and 10 does not define one thing. It has to be considered in 11 clinical context and in terms of the --

12 Q Sure. Let's --

13 A The trouble of Dr. Mortillaro --

14 Q I wasn't asking you the trouble with Dr. Mortillaro.

15 A All right.

16 Q Your lawyer can certainly really ask you about that.

17 A All right.

18 Q Dr. Mortillaro said that his pain and mood and 19 anxiety disorders were secondary to pain complaints; is that
20 right?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And we discussed the DSM and its definition of

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. So, let's talk about objectively again now.
4 Dr. Miller who apparently was fooled the nefarious Enrique who 5 wrapped a tourniquet around his neck, shaved his hair off and 6 painted his leg --

7 MR. WARD: That's argumentative.

8 THE COURT: It is, sustained.

9 MR. BAKER: Sorry --

10 THE COURT: A little over the top --

11 MR. BAKER: -- Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: -- Mr. Baker.

13 MR. BAKER: I get it. Your Honor, could I have a sec?

14 THE COURT: Sure.

15 [Pause]

16 BY MR. BAKER:

17 Q Sent Enrique for -- or performed a series of two 18 lumbar sympathetic blocks; is that right?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And the medical literature recognizes a lumbar
21 sympathetic block as a means of both diagnosing and treating
22 an RSD; is that right?

23 A It's one of the diagnostic clues. It, in and of 24 itself, like any other diagnostic test is useless unless it's 25 considered in clinical context.

1 Q Okay. So let's consider --

2 A All of these things have to be considered in terms
3 of the whole overview. And ideally when viewed
4 simultaneously --

5 MR. BAKER: Again, Your Honor, this isn't really
6 responsible to my question.

7 THE COURT: I think he should be allowed to finish his
8 sentence, and then if you want, just a yes or no answer,
9 perhaps you'll have to ask for one.

10 BY MR. BAKER:

11 Q Go ahead, Doctor.

12 A Ideally, when viewed simultaneously from both
13 psychological and physical perspectives, if you tunnel vision
14 a patient you get a tunnel vision, conclusion, or there's that 15 danger. And it's the importance of the, considering both of 16 these things, that can prevent this man from having 17 unnecessary surgery, and further ruining his life.

18 Q Well, let's talk about tunnel vision for a second.
19 You saw Enrique one time?

20 A Yes.

21 Q You read his medical records; is that right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And there had been doctors who had been treating him
24 for years, and years, and years; is that correct?

25 A Yes.

AVTranz

1 Q Who have seen him on multiple occasions and then
2 have the opportunity to react with him and speak with him; is
3 that right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And I don't mean to get excited. But you're 6 obviously a doctor of great experience and who cares for 7 people, but your relationship with your patients is dynamic,
8 you communicate with them; is that right?

9 A I try to communicate with them.

10 Q And you see them in different days, and different
11 states, is that right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And your care of them is never static. It's not a
14 one-time flash in a moment thing; it's dynamic, it's 15 interpersonal; is that fair to say?

16 A That's fair to say.

17 Q So Dr. Shaw who has seen Enrique for years and years
18 and years says he has RSD based upon that dynamic,
19 interpersonal relationship with him, and a review of all the 20 medical records; are you aware of that?

21 A I'm aware that Dr. Shaw says that, and it's in 22 contra-distinction to what he has written in his records.

23 Q Oh. Dr. Shaw testified here totally. And if you're 24 speaking about the fact that he was talking about the lower

2 A Yeah. He doesn't --

3 Q Yeah.

4 A -- document anything in the records to support a
5 conclusion of RSD.

6 Q Please explain that to us. And the Judge has heard
7 it. The temperature he was speaking about, the modeling he 8 was speaking about, or any colors, was a look at his shin to 9 determine that there was no popliteal type of thrombosis,
10 because of his history of pulmonary embolism.

11 He specified specifically he was not commenting on 12 the condition of the knee, and he specified specifically that 13 it was collusion that there was RSD; do you understand that?

14 A I understand that you can't make a diagnosis of RSD
15 if you don't have the -- the data that compel that conclusion.
16 You have to have a well reason of conclusion.

17 Q Let's talk about --

18 A -- he didn't have any.

19 Q Let's talk about the data. Dr. Miller saw allodynia
20 hyperesthesia, color changes, temperature changes, sweating,
21 and met the five out of six criterion for the guidelines for 22 RSD that we talked about; you'll consider that, right?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And it stopped his pain; is that right?

6 and he went with Dr. Schifini; is that right?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And Dr. Schifini then performed a lumbar sympathetic
9 block; is that --

10 A Right.

11 Q Did you hear Dr. Schifini's testimony, or read any 12 of Dr. Schifini's testimony?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And do recall when Dr. Schifini said that he 15 believed that Dr. Miller had adequately treated the 16 sympathetic component of the RSD, and that Enrique was no
17 longer suffering from RSD, but from a complex regional pain
18 syndrome which was not mediated sympathetically?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And you heard --

21 A I'm aware that.

22 Q -- that testimony?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And he's a board certified pain management doctor
25 with a fellowship; do you understand that?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. Now Dr. Schifini then decided to do a spinal
3 cord stimulator, correct?

4 A Right.

5 Q And a spinal cord stimulator is another means of 6 getting rid of the pain from neurogenically mediated diseases
7 and pathologies; is that fair to say?

8 A Yes. It's --

9 Q And what --

10 A -- fair to say.

11 Q -- happened? Enrique's pain --

12 A Well, they put it in trial --

13 Q And Enrique's pain went away, is that right?

14 A Yes.

15 Q So two recognized modalities, both for diagnosing
16 RSD and for treating RSD worked in this patient; is that
17 correct?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q Okay. And you're aware that he continues to have 20 knee pain today; is that right? He claims to have knee pain;
21 is that fair to say?

22 A You're telling me he claims, I have not talked to 23 him today. So I --

24 Q The doctor's records indicate that he has knee pain;
25 is that right?

1           A     Yes. The records that I've seen indicate ongoing
2 knee pain.

3           Q     And one of these Waddell signs, or your red flags
4 that you talked about, said that a Waddell sign is a
5 disproportionate reaction to an injury in terms of pain; is
6 that right?

7           A     That's one, yes.

8           Q     And the definition, by the way, of RSD, or one of 9 the definitions, is a disproportionate reaction to a traumatic
10 event in terms of pain; is that right?

11          A     No. It's not right. It isn't a reaction. It's a 12 pain that is disproportionate to what would be anticipated
13 given the injury.

14          Q     Correct. And what you said is one of the Waddell
15 sign, is that his pain was disproportionate in severity; is 16 that right? And you said it was disproportionate in duration;
17 is that right?

18          A     I quoted another physician as saying that.

19          Q     Correct. And both of those things could be put into 20 a diagnosis of RSD; is that right?

21          A     There are things that would compel RSD as what I
22 call a differential diagnosis. But when you add everything up
23 RSD isn't the diagnosis that you come out with.

24          Q     Well, let's add stuff up, okay. Dr. Miller noted
25 allodynia, correct?

1 A Right.

2 Q Hyperesthesia, correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Hair growth, correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Sweating, correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Tub temperature changes taken by a thermometer,
9 correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q A lumbar sympathetic block worked on him; is that
12 correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And a pain stimulator which is also efficacious for 15 getting rid of RSD worked on him; is that correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And he is experiencing and demonstrating pain in 18 both duration and severity which is outside of what you would 19 expect from the traumatic event, correct?

20 A That's correct.

21 Q What meets the definition of RSD; is that right?

22 A It doesn't define RSD, it consistent with but not 23 diagnostic of, and --

24 Q So it's --

25 A -- I think that's an important concept --

1 Q It's consistent, correct?

2 A -- to understand with. Consistent with but not
3 diagnostic of.

4 Q So now we have in the terms of tunnel vision and
5 weighing, now we have nine things that can suggest RSD with 6 respect with Enrique Rodriguez. Is that right, do you want me
7 to go through them again?

8 A You don't need to.

9 Q Okay.

10 A I remember them.

11 Q Now we have nine things; is that right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And you're aware that Dr. Schifini diagnosed him
14 with RSD; is that right?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And you're aware that Dr. Shaw diagnosed him with 17 RSD; is that right?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And you're aware that Dr. Tauber suspected RSD, so
20 he sent him to Dr. Miller; is that right?

21 A Yes.

23 A Didn't he send -- didn't Tauber send him first to 24 Doctor --

25 Q Ferrante

1           A     -- Ferrante, who thought he had more likely a knee
2 problem than RSD.

3           Q     Correct? And as we talked about them he went to a
4 doctor for mechanical need pain and got a shot which did not
5 diagnose the mechanical need pain; is that right?

6           A     The shot did not rule out mechanical need pain.

7           Q     Correct.

8           A     No shot does.

9           Q     And then he went for the two diagnostics, the spinal
10 cord stimulator and the lumbar sympathetic block, both which 11 are efficacious for a neurogenically mediated pain; is that
12 right.

13          A     That's right.

14          Q     Okay. So those are two tests that were given to him
15 that did not support Dr. Ferrante's opinion of a mechanical
16 injury; is that correct? Yeah, I mean --

17          A     They didn't demonstrate a mechanical injury, they're 18 not designed to demonstrate a mechanical injury.

19          Q     Correct. They're designed to -- they're tests that 20 were designed to determine neurologically mediated pain. And 21 both of those tests were positive; is that correct?

22          A     That's correct.

23          Q     All right. Now physical therapy, physical therapy
24 is the first line for defense against RSD; is that right?

25          A     Physical therapy and pain relief.

2 the stuff that you talked about with Dr. Mortillaro, because
3 I'm not sure that -- let's turn -- do you have
4 Dr. Mortillaro's records in front of you? Or you could use
5 your report. If you'd turn to page 46 of your report, please.

6 A Okay.

7 Q If you go down to paragraph 2.

8 A Right.

9 Q

10 "If there is an objective basis for this
11 patient's diffuse reports of pain and perceived
12 disability the reported depression may be a reaction
13 to this condition. If not the profile may suggest a
14 somatoform disorder with diffuse unexplained pain
15 symptoms associated with predominantly depressed
16 mood. Psychological treatment for pain
17 magnification and exaggerated perception of 18 disability and depression should be considered."

19 Is that right?

20 A That's a quote.

21 Q Right.

22 A Yes.

23 Q And it begins, "If there is an objective basis." Is 24 that correct?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And that quote signifies one of the red flags that
2 you're talking about, because the red flag is just part of a
3 differential diagnosis; is that right?

4 A I was not relating it here to a red flag. What red
5 flag did you have in mind?

6 Q The red flag that he might symptom magnify, or that
7 might be secondary gain motif that you spoke to about before,
8 when you are on direct examination. Those red flags exist
9 only in the context of a clinical correlation to be ruled in 10 or ruled out; is that right?

11 A Yes. Yes.

12 Q Okay. Because you're involved in this method again;
13 is that right?

14 A Right.

15 Q So it said specifically, "If there is an objective 16 basis," then it should be considered, right?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Okay.

19 A I agree.

20 Q So let's talk again about the objective basis. We 21 talked about hyperesthesia, allodynia, color changes,
22 sweating, temperature changes, efficacious lumbar sympathetic
23 blocks. We talked about efficacious spinal cord stimulators.

24 In each and every one of those instances that's an

1           A     There were a number of objective symptoms --
2 findings reported, yes.

3           Q     It seems like that red flag maybe should be lowered,
4 doesn't it?

5           A     Not at all.

6           Q     Okay.

7           A     I think that as I've said, reflex sympathetic
8 dystrophy --

9           Q     That's okay, Doctor.

10          A     -- CRPS is grossly over-diagnosed. And all of the 11 conditions, or all of the findings that are reported here --

12          Q     Uh-huh.

13          A     -- are findings that can be seen in individuals who 14 don't have RSD and who have had two knee surgeries. Who have 15 had swelling reported around the knee. And who have nothing
16 to suggest an RSD. Which is a dramatic thing --

17          Q     Sure.

18          A     -- you don't have to find subtle things. I had to 19 explain why this man had none of those findings when I saw
20 him.

21          Q     Well, I'll explain that for you and we'll talk about 22 that. But are you telling this Court right now that a spinal
23 cord stimulator or a lumbar sympathetic block would take away
24 a mechanical pain of the knee? Neither of those things is 25 made for that, is it?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1           A     It's not made for that, but there is a -- there is a
2 placebo response --

3           Q     Doctor --

4           A     -- and given the psychological testing you're
5 compelled, not required, absolutely compelled to consider
6 where and in what areas there is misrepresentation of fact for 7 secondary gain, and that's in the report.

8           Q     I appreciate you sharing that with me. My question
9 was: a spinal cord stimulator or a lumbar sympathetic block
10 are not designed to take away mechanical pain; is that right?

11          A     That's right, they're not designed.

12          Q     So just curiously and serendipitously and
13 coincidentally, the two tasks that could take sympathetically
14 mediated pain that were given to Enrique Rodriguez in terms of 15 this entire constellation of treatment he's received those are 16 the two that just happened to work?

17          A     He got a positive response to two of the techniques
18 that were used.

19          Q     He got a positive response. The only pain relief
20 that he got was in the two tasks that were used to relieve 21 sympathetically mediated pain; is that right?

22          A     That's right. He got a transient positive response.

23          Q     Well, he only got a transient response because they 24 took the temporary stimulator out, right?

25          A     They took the temporary stimulator out. I'm not

1 sure that's why he got a transient response.

2 Q Then you're not sure that it's not? You're not sure
3 that it's not why he got a transient response?

4 A That's right. I'm not sure it's not.

5 Q All right.

6 A A double negative --

7 Q So now let's talk about --

8 A -- confuses me.

9 Q Let's talk about your examination of him --

10 A Yes.

11 Q -- okay? Your examination didn't see the color
12 changes, the temperature changes, the sweat type of things
13 that reported in Dr. Miller's report; is that right?

14 A That's exactly right.

15 Q Are you aware that Dr. Schifini had testified that 16 the lumbar sympathetic blocks that were given to him worked,
17 so there was no longer a sympathetic component of his disease.
18 That it was being mediated by other nerves in the autonomic
19 and outside that nervous system, creating a complex regional 20 pain syndrome; did you read that?

21 A I know that's his feeling.

22 Q Right. And if the sympathetic aspect, because you
23 have the sympathetic aspect, and the parasympathetic, correct?

24 A Right.

25 Q Those are also kind of linked into your limbic

1 system which controls emotion, is that right?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. And that's really why one of the reasons why
4 a chronic pain syndrome requires the emotional ability, mood
5 disorder and the rest of it, because it's wired through your
6 limbic system? Yes?

7 A Yes. Pain is -- certainly they're
8 cross-connections, multiple cross-connections, and they do
9 include the limbic system, certainly so.

10 Q Right. So it's not unusual that it would be emotion
11 in a person suffering from a chronic pain syndrome?

12 A A number of patients who have chronic pain syndromes
13 do have emotional liability and some degree of depression.

14 Q Isn't it part of the diagnosis to talk about that.
15 Don't all people who suffer from a chronic pain syndrome have 16 emotional ability, or else you can't diagnose them of having a
17 chronic pain syndrome?

18 A No. Not all patient -- all patients who have a
19 chronic pain syndrome do not have emotional liability,
20 that's --

21 Q Well, we'll look at the DSM at some point and see
22 what it says.

23 Now let's talk about your red flags, okay?

24 MR. WARD: Move to strike.

25 MR. BAKER: Why?

AVTranz

1 MR. WARD: His comment about, "We'll look at the DSM and
2 see what it says," that's not a question. It's simply 3 Mr. Baker offering his commentary.

4 THE COURT: I don't think there's any need to strike it,
5 let's move on.

6 BY MR. BAKER:

7 Q All right. You talked about the red flags who 8 created this need to speculate and to his -- and to his 9 motives and his intents. The first one you talked about was 10 Dr. Shannon, right? And she couldn't explain his weird pain
11 that was ongoing; is that correct?

12 A That's correct.

13 Q And that was between Dr. Shannon and Dr. Tauber's
14 surgeries; is that right?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. And let me give you an explanation, would 17 this be one: the loose body in his knee, the torn meniscus
18 and the synovitis, that would explain the pain that Enrique
19 Rodriguez continued to have, wouldn't it?

20 A A loose body in and of itself is not painful. The 21 inner surfaces of a knee have no nerve endings. The cartilage
22 has no nerve endings, no blood supply. And loose body itself,
23 of course, is loose, so it isn't connected to the central
24 nervous system.

25 The most that a loose body would do would give you a

1 sense that something was clunking in the knee when you moved
2 it, or bent your knee you would feel a jog, or something,
3 clunk.

4 Q I've heard a loose body described as dropping a
5 marble into a gear system; is that not accurate? Have you
6 ever said that?

7 A I don't recall having said that. But I think that a
8 loose body -- if the -- a loose body in and of itself isn't 9 necessarily symptomatic. It only becomes symptomatic if the 10 loose body is interposed between articular surfaces. The 11 femur rubbing against the tibia, and the loose body gets in 12 between, then that feels strange to the person who has it.

13 Q And that can be a pain generating --

14 A But if the -- but if the loose body is hidden away
15 in a recess where it isn't visible, and it stays there, it
16 isn't visible on MRI, then it's not symptomatic.

17 Q Doctor, Dr. Shannon didn't see anything on the MRI
18 with contrast that suggest a pathology in Enrique's knee; is
19 that right?

20 A That's correct.

21 Q And she commented that that was curious; is that
22 right?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And then when his knee was opened up, because intra
25 operative visualization is the gold standard of determining a

1 pathology, correct?

2 A It trumps the imaging study, yes.

3 Q Sure it does. And they opened it up what they saw
4 were loose body, synovitis --

5 A I think there was one loose body.

6 Q -- and a torn meniscus; is that fair to say?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Let's talk about Dr. Spellman who's a red flag,
9 because his findings were very curious. You said Dr. Spellman
10 was confounded by the fact that he had pain out of proportion
11 to the alleged mechanism of injury; is that right?

12 A Let me -- I want to just look at his --

13 Q That's what you testified to?

14 A As for severity and the duration, the severity and 15 direction of his symptoms was disproportionate and I'm not 16 sure of what the end of that sentence was, but it was a
17 discrepancy.

18 Q And with respect to that we've already talked about 19 the fact that that meets the very definition of RSD; is that
20 right?

21 A No. It doesn't meet the very -- one thing is not
22 the very definition of RSD.

23 Q It's part of the definition of RSD?

24 A It's one of the criteria.

25 Q Okay. So perhaps a potential explanation why his

1 pain -- well, let me -- having a pain and it's out of
2 proportion and in terms of severity and duration to the 3 alleged mechanism of injury is consistent with RSD?

4 A Consistent with, yes, it is.

5 Q Let's talk about Dr. Kidwell in July of '06, who
6 couldn't figure out the pain generating mechanism with respect
7 to Enrique Rodriguez. That was before Dr. Miller diagnosed
8 RSD; is that right?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And that was before a lumbar sympathetic block
11 worked; is that right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And it was before a spinal cord stimulator was shown
14 to be efficacious with respect to his pain; is that right?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay.

17 A That's right.

18 Q Okay. Let's talk about Dr. Corvete, he could hook
19 up the pain the complaints. Well, he was sent to Dr. Corvete
20 to rule out a mechanical pain; is that right?

21 A I believe so.

22 Q Dr. Corvete shot him up and ruled him out a
23 mechanical pain; is that right?

24 A Well, he injected him and could not explain the 25 mechanical pain.

1 Q Now, and Dr. Corvete's treatment was before
2 Dr. Miller diagnosed RSD; is that right?

3 A I'm not sure of the chronology.

4 Q Well, I represent to you it was.

5 A Okay.

6 Q Okay.

7 A I'll buy that, that's fine.

8 Q And that was before the spine stimulator, and before
9 the lumbar sympathetic blocks; is that right?

10 A I believe so.

11 Q And let's talk about Dr. Mortillaro. Enrique
12 Rodriguez was sent to Dr. Mortillaro for clearance for surgery
13 with Dr. Shannon; is that right?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q To see if there -- for a functional overlay or a 16 psychological comorbidity which would contra-indicate the 17 surgery; is that right?

18 A That is right.

19 Q Dr. Mortillaro cleared him for the surgery, didn't 20 he?

21 A Yes, he did.

22 Q Okay. Now, Doctor, do you now believe in derivative
23 injuries?

24 A Oh, I believe in derivative injuries. As I've
25 already said, I think that carpel tunnel, transient carpel

1 tunnel syndromes would be what you would call a derivative
2 injury.

3 Q If God forbid one of my legs was longer than the 4 other, would you expect me to develop back pain over time?

5 A Well, not necessarily.

6 Q How about potentially?

7 A Well, one could, but I would expect -- you know,
8 people develop back pain over time when they don't leg length
9 discrepancies. So the mere demonstration of a leg length
10 discrepancy doesn't mean that your back pain is because of the 11 leg length discrepancy. That's what we call post hoc ergo
12 prop to hope reasoning; it doesn't hold.

13 Q I understand, Doctor. If you put a lift into my 14 shoe, would you expect me to develop back pain over time?

15 A Not necessarily.

16 Q How about potentially?

17 A I'd first have to say that without a lift in your 18 shoe I would expect you to develop back pain over time. And 19 you could put a lift in your shoe and you might develop back
20 pain over time, not because of the lift in the shoe.

21 Q Okay. Doctor, did you read in Dr. Shaw's records
22 where back in '06, he said because Enrique's knee wasn't
23 getting fixed, he was going to develop back pain and need back
24 surgery?

25 A I -- I am aware of that.

1 Q And did you see a Dr. Shannon who you regard so
2 much, say that she believed that his back pain was caused by
3 the limping that occurred after the surgeries; it was
4 cross-examination?

5 A I don't remember that, but she may have said that.
6 I wouldn't agree with it, but --

7 Q Are you aware that Dr. Schifini said that there were
8 -- that there were -- back pain was caused by both postural
9 and biomechanical changes after this accident?

10 A I'm aware of that, and I also feel Dr. Schifini has 11 no qualifications with regard to biomechanics.

12 Q Do you see the

13 A That's an orthopedic problem.

14 Q Did you see the strilo [phonetic] radiological x-ray
15 that said that he was having muscle spasm in his lumbar spine
16 secondary to postural changes?

17 A I don't -- I don't know who wrote that I don't 18 remember seeing it. But --

19 Q It's in evidence.

20 A -- you can represent that it's there.

21 Q A radiologist read it, and well actually it was 22 read, and it talked about muscle spasming and hypertonicity
23 due to postural changes. In your experience as a doctor you
24 had never seen back pain caused by postural changes?

25 A This is a very interesting problem, a very

2 who's reasonably fit is amazingly resilient. I have a patient
3 with an artificial leg --

4 Q And Doctor, I appreciate -- Your Honor --

5 A -- who has no back pain.

6 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this isn't responsive. I asked
7 him, in his experience has he seen people who had back pain
8 related to postural problems and changes.

9 THE COURT: If it was a yes or no answer you need too
10 phrase it that way, Mr. Baker.

11 MR. BAKER: It makes me feel like I'm in the Nuremberg
12 trials when I do that.

13 BY MR. BAKER:

14 Q Doctor, yes or no, in your experience have you seen
15 people develop lumbar pain to postural and biomechanical
16 changes?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Okay. It's not uncommon, is that true?

19 A I'm not sure how you're ask -- what --

20 Q Well, let me ask it this way --

21 A I'd get into a double -- double negative. I want to 22 answer the question, but I --

23 Q I don't want a double negative.

24 A All right.

25 Q You're aware that between the time of his injury and

1 when lumbar complaints were first being addressed he was on
2 walking assisted devices; is that right?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And that creates a postural change; is that right?

5 A Yes.

6 Q You're aware that he was limping, is that right?

7 A Yes.

8 Q You were aware that he was gaining weight; is that
9 right?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And that all developed into postural changes; is
12 that right?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And you have seen people who have developed back
15 problems because of postural changes; is that right?

16 A On occasion, yes.

17 Q Okay. And you're aware that Dr. Shannon,
18 Dr. Schifini, Dr. Shaw, have all testified that his lumbar
19 problems are caused by postural changes associated with using 20 the walking devices with limping and gaining weight; is that
21 right?

22 A That's right.

23 Q And so you're the only doctor in this case that has 24 an opinion other than the fact that his lumbar problems are 25 caused by postural changes after the accident; is that right?

1 A I don't know that that's right. But --

2 Q Have you seen anyone else?

3 A -- you know, I know how I feel.

4 Q Have you seen anyone else in this case testify to 5 anything other than his back problems, and his spine problems
6 are caused by postural changes associated with using assistive
7 devices to walk, limping and gaining weight?

8 A I don't know that I've seen more than one or two
9 people qualified to have a biomechanical opinion.

10 Q How about a postural opinion; that's part of what 11 you were discussion when you speaking about the fact that his 12 posture was good, even though he has a belly, right?

13 A Yes. That's part of my reason I'm drawing my 14 conclusion, is that his posture is good. And when I examined
15 him his spine was amazingly straight and moved quite well.

16 Q And you've seen multi-levels of discogenic injury or 17 pathology; is that right?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And isn't it fair to say that a preexisting
20 degeneration can be aggravated when it's asymptomatic by 21 postural changes, the use of walking assistant devices and 22 weight gain?

23 A It could be.

24 Q Okay.

25 A Not very likely to be.

2 A Could be.

3 Q And the walking assistive devices, the limping, the 4 weight gain, they're all associated with the injuries he
5 sustained in this accident; is that right?

6 A You gave a list of several things.

7 Q The assistive walking --

8 A The weight gain is not associated with the injury in
9 this accident.

10 Q You've never seen people gain weight when they
11 become immobile, or less mobile?

12 A I have seen people gain weight, yes, when --

13 Q Were you told about the testimony of his friend Nick
14 Tavaglione and Maria, they talked about the fact that he
15 worked out and was fit before this accident?

16 And Nick described how, yeah, sometimes we all go up
17 and down, but he had a really noticeable weight gain after 18 this accident. Did you hear that testimony, or read that 19 testimony?

20 A I don't believe I saw that testimony.

5 A Anesthesiologist, I think.

6 Q Anesthesiologist that saw him?

7 A I believe so.

8 Q Was it Dr. Miller who used the pinwheel?

9 A I am not sure that it was Dr. Miller who -- I'll 10 have to look through here to find out who used the pinwheel,
11 but I was shocked, I know that.

17 BY MR. WARD:

18 Q Dr. Becker, did you have an opportunity to look at

21 A Yes.

2 Q And did you find that the information that were
3 provided in most of those records in terms of the original
4 accident was different from the accident as reported at the 5 time ambulance attendants and at the time it was reported to 6 Dr. Heaps and at the time it was reported to Dr. Nork?

7 A Yes, they're different versions.

8 Q Okay. And they were more embellished versions?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And so the -- would it be fair to say that those 11 doctors, in expressing their opinion, were expressing them
12 based on different versions that existed at the time of the 13 injury?

14 A Yes, that's true.

15 Q And virtually all those doctors were told that there
16 was a neck and/or back or other pains other than the knee
17 within the first year following the injury.

18 A Yes. That --

19 Q If not almost immediately following the injury.

20 A That's true.

21 Q And --

22 A Indeed, that was the history that I got when I first
23 saw him.

24 Q Okay. And that turned out to not be the history as 25 reflected in the records, at least.

1 A That's true.

2 Q Okay. And now did you look at the records of 3 Dr. Mortillaro?

4 A Oh, yes.

5 Q And what did Dr. Mortillaro find?

6 A Well, he had found different things at different
7 times. He didn't find anything that conflicted with what he 8 reported other than -- I'm trying to find the report that is 9 most telling.

10 Page 21 and -- now, he -- I guess page 16 describes
11 evaluation for mental disorders by Mortillaro. He found
12 exaggeration and embellishment and he raises the issue of 13 credibility based on the psychological tests. And that's in 14 his written report. And I'm trying to put my finger on it.

15 THE COURT: Can I, Counsel, if we're going to hear from 16 Mr. Mortillaro ?

17 MR. BAKER: Maybe. I hope so.

18 THE COURT: Okay. So you mean, like, next week we may

2 MR. WARD: It's okay, Your Honor. It's your court --

3 THE COURT: I just was --

4 MR. WARD: -- not mine.

5 THE COURT: I just was curious because we're talking a
6 lot about what Mr. Mortillaro found and what he didn't find.
7 And we're hearing from other witnesses so I'm just curious
8 whether he's going to actually testify or not.

9 MR. BAKER: I don't believe so, Your Honor.

10 MR. WARD: I can tell you that I operated on the 11 assumption that he was going to be one of the key witnesses.

12 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

13 MR. BAKER: In my mind he's not a key witness, Your
14 Honor.

15 THE COURT: Okay.

16 MR. WARD: I operated under the assumption that he was 17 coming to testify.

18 THE COURT: Okay.

19 MR. WARD: Whether he was a key witness or wasn't a key
20 witness.

21 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

22 THE WITNESS: I think what his psychological testing does
23 is it tells us that there are psychological factors here which 24 are coloring the presentation. And that they are going to 25 color the presentation in the direction of exaggeration,

1 embellishment and even to the degree that credibility is in
2 question. That's all it says.

3 Now, he neglected to do or didn't do, I won't use
4 the word neglected, failed to do a -- one of the subscales in 5 the MMPI, which is called the Lees-Haley scale.

6 Did we mention the Lees-Haley?

7 THE COURT: You did, sir.

8 THE WITNESS: And the Lees-Haley scale, of course, when 9 he tested the patient, I figure it was 2005, had not been
10 accepted by the MMPI people as part of their legitimate study.
11 However, we took -- I took the raw data that he -- the answer
12 sheet, in other words, and we have a computer program that we
13 plug the answers into the computer program and computer
14 program gives us a Lees-Haley scale -- score. Because it's 15 now a standard part of the MMPI. And that score was so high
16 that Dr. Mortillaro, any knowledgeable, up-to-date
17 psychologist would have to say that there is an element of 18 misrepresentation of fact in this case.

19 There's some fact -- that doesn't mean that it's all
20 untrue. This doesn't -- this just -- it does mean that it's 21 an element. And as I say, it's not either or. It's just a
22 factor that needs to be considered when you're considering
23 planning for this man, deciding what -- how much a placebo
24 affect you get if do a sympathetic block and it works.
25 Particularly, you try a stimulator and it works, until you

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1 pull the stimulator out. Is that a placebo affect or is it
2 not?

3 Well, once you factor in the Lees-Haley and you
4 factor in these other things, then I think it makes you very
5 reluctant to say, well, yeah, let's put in a permanent
6 stimulator.

7 This is a big deal putting in a permanent
8 stimulator. And I think that it is probably clinically not 9 necessary because I don't think it's going to provide him any
10 sustained relief. I think it would provide him relief for a
11 while and then it would not. And it would -- it's like doing
12 back surgery on him. I couldn't bring myself to do back
13 surgery on this man. I just think it would be very 14 ill-advised. And I think it would be a failure.

15 And so I'm -- even though I'm -- was seeing him as a
16 Defense examiner, you know, I'm concerned about him as a human 17 being. I don't want him to get a procedure that I think he 18 shouldn't have. And I know I'm in the minority. But I also 19 know that I am able to, in all humility, view this man more
20 comprehensively, psychologically as a psychiatrist and 21 biomechanically as an orthopedist than any other single doctor
22 who has seen him.

23 And that's why I went into the kind of medicine that
24 I'm in. You know, I do this because I want to help people.
25 That's the bottom line, you know.

1 MR. WARD: Okay.

2 THE WITNESS: I'm more interested in helping people than
3 I am in helping Mr. Ward.

4 THE COURT: May I ask a question, Mr. Ward?

5 MR. WARD: Certainly, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: The Lees-Haley component, I think, you said
7 was not approved until 2007?

8 THE WITNESS: Yes, that's correct.

9 THE COURT: And Dr. Mortillaro would have examined
10 Plaintiff before 2007. Right?

11 THE WITNESS: That's right.

12 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you. Please proceed, Mr. Ward.

13 BY MR. WARD:

14 Q Dr. Becker, is 2007 the year that the MMPI started
15 officially grading this in their official grading scales?

16 A Yes.

17 Q But had it been used commonly in the practice for a
18 period of time before that?

19 A Yes. We've been using it -- I've been using it for 20 probably since about -- soon after it was developed.

21 Dr. Lees-Haley wrote a number of papers. And because of the 22 kind of work that involves litigation, worker's compensation
23 and personal injury, it seemed to me that it was a very
24 important new scale to consider. And so a lot of us used it,
25 but didn't put as much weight on it as we do now that it's

1 been officially recognized, because it's been normed [sic] on
2 millions of patients, literally millions of patients.

3 Q And they started norming it on millions of patients
4 even before the year 2000. Isn't that correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And it's been -- so it's been in use for how long?

7 A I'm not sure. But my memory is it's around '94 or 8 '95 that Dr. Lees-Haley wrote his first papers and described
9 the scale.

10 Q And so it had been in common use for ten years at 11 the time Dr. Mortillaro was doing his testing. Isn't that
12 correct?

13 A It's correct. But I also have to say that it was 14 somewhat controversial because anything that's new almost is 15 bound to be controversial. And the controversy was more or 16 less resolved when it was accepted as a standard scale.

17 Q Okay. And is it -- does the fact that it has been 18 accepted make any tests done before invalid?

19 A Oh, no. No. No. The -- I mean, the data -- the 20 raw data, you put into a computer, the truths and falses [sic]
21 of the MMPI. And now the official schedule from Minnesota
22 includes a Lees-Haley scale, whereas before it didn't. But it
23 uses the same data.

24 Q Okay. And so it would be appropriate for you to use
25 it?

1 A Oh, yes.

2 Q And --

3 A Based on the data of 2005.

4 Q And that tells you that it's way beyond the -- way
5 beyond the certainty of conscious misrepresentation?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And --

8 A I really have to underscore that it doesn't mean
9 that everything is consciously misrepresented. It just means
10 that there's an element of conscious misrepresentation in some 11 of the issues. That's all it means.

12 Q Okay. Now, is there any question in your mind as to 13 whether the -- this patient should have recovered from the 14 injury that he sustained in November 22, 2004?

15 A No. No, I think that he should have recovered.

16 Q Do you --

17 A I think he should have recovered from that.

18 Q And do you --

19 A That's a recoverable injury.

20 Q And do you think he did recover?

21 A I think he did.

1 today and the complaints that he has in the last couple of
2 years are caused by this injury of November 22, 2004?

3 A No, I don't. That's what I think takes a long
4 stretch of the imagination. No, I don't think that.

5 Q And is that to a reasonable degree of medical
6 probability?

7 A Yes, it is. I think that -- you know, this man
8 injured his knee. And then he had derivative symptoms in his 9 fingers. But he represents that everything that's happened to 10 him since then is because of this accident at the casino and I
11 simply can't buy that. I think that's really farfetched. It
12 didn't happen. It didn't happen.

13 Q Well, does he not only represent that all of these 14 things not only happened to him after the injury at the 15 casino, but they happened to him right away after the injury
16 at the casino?

17 A Well, a year later he did, yeah.

18 Q Right. He started telling people that he had all
19 these pains immediately after the accident.

20 THE COURT: Sorry. Mr. Baker?

17 A No. I'm convinced he does not have RSD. He may 18 have had a very mild form of RSD which resolved because RSD,
19 contrary to some testimony that I've heard here, is curable.
20 It does sometimes get cured. But if he did have a mild form
21 of RSD, he certainly doesn't have anything -- not any hint of 22 it -- didn't when I examined him. And I really went over him
23 with a fine tooth comb to see if there was anything that would 24 explain RSD.

25 Q Does RSD come and go

1 MR. BAKER: Outside of the scope of cross, Your Honor. I
2 never asked him any questions about the waxing and waning of
3 RSD.

4 MR. WARD: He --

5 THE COURT: That's true. He gave previous testimony.
6 The Court's got a pretty good memory. Sustained.

7 MR. WARD: Thank you. I have no further questions.

8 THE COURT: Mr. Baker.

9 MR. BAKER: Just real quickly.

10 THE WITNESS: Yeah.

11 RE-CROSS-EXAMINATION CONTINUED

12 BY MR. BAKER:

13 Q You said you cared about Enrique Rodriguez as a
14 person?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And you want to help him as a person?

17 A I --

18 MR. WARD: Outside the scope of my redirect.

19 THE COURT: Sustained.

20 MR. WARD: We're going to play the same game.

21 BY MR. BAKER:

22 Q Doctor --

23 MR. BAKER: No further questions.

24 THE WITNESS: Okay.

25 THE COURT: All right. With the thanks of the Court,

2 THE WITNESS: Oh, thank you.

3 MR. WARD: May I take just two minutes with the witness,
4 Your Honor? I'll be right back.

5 THE COURT: Sure.

6 MR. BAKER: Can I call Dr. Tauber in?

7 THE COURT: Yes. Let's call him in and we'll have him
8 seated and be ready for him.

9 MR. BAKER: Sure.

2                    [Designation of record begins at 3:02 p.m.]

3                    MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I'd like to call Dr. Tauber.

4                    THE COURT: Very well. Doctor -- is it Tauber or Tauber?

5                    MR. BAKER: Tauber.

6                    DR. TAUBER: Yes, Jacob.

7                    THE COURT: Please come forward to the witness box, sir.

8                    DR. TAUBER: Do you want me to come up?

9                    THE COURT: Yes, sir. Please remain standing and raise
10 your right hand to be sworn by Madame Clerk.

11                    DR. JACOB TAUBER, PLAINTIFF'S WITNESS, SWORN

12                    THE CLERK: Please be seated, stating your full name,
13 spelling your last name for the record.

14                    THE WITNESS: Jacob Eric Tauber, T-A-U-B-E-R, MD.

15                    THE COURT: Whenever you're ready, Mr. Baker.

16                    MR. BAKER: Thank you.

17                    [Counsel Confer]

18                    DIRECT EXAMINATION

19 BY MR. BAKER:

20                    Q     Would you introduce yourself to the Court, in terms
21 of your education and experience?

22                    A     Sure. Well, starting with college, I received my 23 bachelor of arts degree in 1972 from the University of 24 Pennsylvania, Phi Beta Kappa, Magna Cum Laude. I went to 25 medical school at Yale and received my M.D. in 1976.

1 I did my general surgical training at Cornell, New
2 York Hospital, and then returned to Yale for my orthopedic
3 surgery residence, with the last year being the chief
4 residency year. I completed that in 1980.

5 That's when I moved to California. I became a
6 member of the UCLA clinical faculty when I moved to California
7 and I went on staff at numerous hospitals, including
8 Cedars-Sinai, Brotman, Glendale Adventist. I've served as the 9 chief of orthopedic surgery in the past at both Brotman and 10 Glendale Adventist. I was board certified in 1981. I became 11 a fellow of the Academy of Orthopedic Surgery in 1983. I've 12 published; I'm a member of numerous societies.

13 That's sort of a capsule summary.

14 Q I liked it. Thank you.

15 MR. BAKER: Your Honor --

16 THE COURT: Mr. Baker, we have another Yaley, who also 17 finds himself in California. Two in one day.

18 MR. BAKER: And when I was a kid, I knocked out most of 19 my front teeth in the swimming pool at Cornell, trying to go
20 off of the high board.

21 THE COURT: Oh, boy.

22 THE WITNESS: By the way, I got in my car to drive to
23 California three days after finishing my residency.

24 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I move to admit him as a treating 25 physician and qualify him as an expert in the field of

2 THE COURT: Any objection, Mr. Ward?

3 MR. WARD: I certainly don't object to him as a treating
4 physician and I certainly don't question his qualifications,
5 but he's not a retained expert and I would object to it on 6 that basis.

7 THE COURT: Objection is noted for the record. The 8 motion is granted.

9 BY MR. BAKER:

10 Q Doctor, would you reach behind you and get Volume 2
11 of the exhibits?

12 A Sure.

13 Q And, Doctor, I spoke to you about the fact that I'm 14 going to be extremely brief with you, so that your direct and 15 cross-examination can be completed today.

16 A No problem, yes.

17 Q Would you turn to Section 23 -- or Exhibit 23.

18 A I have it.

19 Q Were you a treating physician for Enrique Rodriguez?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And were you a treating physician for Enrique
22 Rodriguez associated with injuries he sustained as a result of 23 an incident at the Palms Hotel in November of 2004?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And is this your file with respect to your treatment

1 of Enrique Rodriguez?

2 A It is.

3 Q And is the treatment reasonable, necessary and
4 causally related to the incident in November of 2004?

5 A It is.

6 Q And what was -- and is that your opinion to a
7 reasonable degree of medical probability?

8 A It is.

9 Q And what was the bill for your services with respect
10 to the treatment of Enrique Rodriguez associated with the 11 injuries he sustained at the Palms Hotel in November of 2004?

12 A $9,745.

13 Q Was your treatment reasonable, necessary and 14 causally related to the injury?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Was your bill reasonable, necessary and causally
17 related to the injury?

18 A Yes.

19 MR. BAKER: Move to admit 23, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Any objection?

21 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Twenty-three is admitted.

23 [Plaintiff's Exhibit 23 Received]

1 extremity -- his left lower extremity?

2 A I did more than that. I also removed a loose body
3 and I did a chondroplasty, but the answer is yes.

4 Q What was the most likely and probable cause of the 5 loose body?

6 A The loose body came from a -- the chondromalacia
7 that existed and, in my opinion, that is all related to this
8 incident.

9 Q And the surgery performed by Doctor --

10 A Shannon?

11 Q Shannon, thank you.

12 A Yes.

13 Q And is it your opinion that the loose body was a
14 piece of -- for lack of a better word, chopped off or chipped
15 off soft tissue caused by the traumatic assault upon his knee
16 as a result of Dr. Shannon's surgery?

17 A It's a piece of the articular cartilage, as opposed
18 -- and I have a photograph of it.

19 Q Go ahead and show it to the Judge.

20 A Here's an extra copy.

21 THE COURT: Have you seen this, Mr. Ward?

22 MR. WARD: No, I haven't, Your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Do you want to come up and take a look?

24 MR. WARD: Sure.

25 THE WITNESS: This is -- this little pebble-like

AVTranz

1 structure is the loose body in the knee that I removed.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 THE WITNESS: And just from the standpoint of
4 explanation, this did not show up on any study done before
5 surgery.

6 BY MR. BAKER:

7 Q Is that atypical?

8 A It's not atypical because if it's not calcified and 9 if it's articular and the piece breaks off, it gets nourished
10 by the synovial fluid and it will grow. And it can actually
11 act like a marble thrown into a bunch of gears.

12 Q And is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of 13 probability that the presence of that loose body was directly 14 and proximately caused by the accident at the Palms Hotel in 15 November of 2004?

16 A It is.

17 Q Okay, Doctor.

18 A Did you want this or --

19 THE COURT: Yeah, I do.

20 THE WITNESS: I have an extra copy, so --

21 THE COURT: Oh, thank you.

22 MR. BAKER: Do you want me to have that marked, Your
23 Honor?

24 THE COURT: Well, if you're going to seek to admit it, I
25 guess you should.

1 MR. BAKER: Well, you can just look at it. I wasn't
2 really going to seek to admit it.

3 THE COURT: Okay.

4 MR. BAKER: Okay.

5 BY MR. BAKER:

6 Q Doctor, it was testified here that -- well, before
7 we get to that, you also found the torn meniscus; is that
8 correct?

9 A And I have a photograph of that.

10 Q And is that torn meniscus recurrent from the surgery
11 occurring -- performed by Dr. Shannon?

12 A Correct.

13 Q We heard testimony today that a torn meniscus
14 without locking is not symptomatic in its own right, it
15 doesn't cause pain. Will you respond to that?

16 A That would defy everything that has been known for 17 at least the last 40, if not 50, years.

18 Q A torn meniscus itself is a pain generating
19 mechanism?

20 A Sure.

21 Q And if I were to tell you that Dr. Becker testified
22 that it wasn't, how would you respond to that?

23 A I would say that that defies -- I mean, I can 24 explain it, but that -- first of all, I've done thousands of 25 knee surgeries. I've done over 1000 total knee replacements.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 I've done thousands of arthroscopic surgeries, so I have
2 literally thousands of patients who would attest to the fact
3 that you don't have to have locking to have pain and to be
4 improved by surgery, but forgetting about my own experience,
5 that's what's described in literature and you -- it doesn't 6 require locking to have pain. I mean, that -- and 7 incidentally, my own father had a meniscectomy done without 8 locking.

9 Q Your father just had his 95th birthday?

10 A Right.

11 Q Mazal tov.

12 A But that was done at age 70. And at age 70 he had a
13 meniscectomy done for pain without locking. So I mean,
14 between what's published, what's commonly known, the medical
15 literature, my experience, my family experience, I can say
16 without any question you can do a meniscectomy -- you can just 17 have pain without locking.

18 Q And, Doctor --

19 A And did you want the photograph of the meniscal
20 tear?

21 Q Sure. If you could just show it to the, Judge.

22 THE COURT: I'd like to see it. Do you want to see it,
23 Mr. Ward?

24 MR. WARD: Sure, Your Honor.

1 Q Where did you perform -- without giving an
2 explanation, again I just want to give Counsel time for his
3 cross-examination.

4 A This is a probe that's inserted in the defect in the
5 meniscus and is piercing it with this fragment. And so I
6 trimmed it out -- you can see, I trimmed it back and removed
7 it, but this probe is sitting within the torn meniscus.

8 THE COURT: Thank you.

9 THE WITNESS: Sure.

10 BY MR. BAKER:

11 Q Where --

12 A The surgery was performed at the Wilshire Surgery
13 Center. If -- and I think that was your question.

14 Q It was. Are the Wilshire Surgical Center bills
15 contained in your records as well?

16 A They're not in my records, but I have seen their 17 billings and they were reasonable and necessary and 18 appropriate and related to this incident as well.

19 Q And are you familiar with the total amount of that 20 Wilshire bill?

21 A Well, he also had care at Wilshire Surgery Center;
22 he had some pain management.

23 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I'm going to ask Rob to find that 24 bill real quick.

25 THE COURT: Very well.

1 THE WITNESS: That's Number 30, I believe.

2 BY MR. BAKER:

3 Q Thirty? Thank you. And could you tell me what the 4 total charges for the -- and the surgery, of course, had to be
5 performed at a surgical center or hospital?

6 A Correct.

7 Q And could you tell me what the total amount of that
8 bill was, with respect to the surgical room charges and 9 otherwise?

10 A Okay. That was $17,991. And there's another bill
11 from Wilshire Surgery Center for pain management care of 12 $8,260.

13 Q And were both of those approximately 17,000 and 14 8,000, reasonable, necessary and causally related to the 15 subject incident?

16 A Yes.

17 Q To a reasonable degree of probability?

18 A They were.

19 Q And are both of those bills reasonable, necessary
20 and causally related to the subject incident?

21 A Yes.

22 Q To a reasonable degree of probability?

23 A They are.

24 MR. BAKER: Move to admit 30, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Any objection to 30?

1 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

2 THE CLERK: It's already in.

3 THE COURT: Thirty has already been admitted, Mr. Baker.

4 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

5 BY MR. BAKER:

6 Q Were there any other costs associated with the 7 medical procedure that you performed on Enrique Rodriguez?

8 A Not that we haven't covered.

9 Q There is a Beverly Tower Center Advanced Imaging
10 bill, which is 21.

11 A Right.

12 Q Is that an MRI ordered by you?

13 A Right. And that was ordered -- the -- that MRI was 14 done following my surgery and that is the MRI of July 25,
15 2006.

16 Q And is that reasonable, necessary and causally
17 related to the subject accident?

18 A It is.

19 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of 20 probability?

21 A Yes.

22 Q What was the bill for that, please?

23 A Number 21 is 1430 -- $1,430.

24 MR. BAKER: Move to admit 21, Your Honor.

1 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: It will be admitted, 21.

3 [Plaintiff's Exhibit 21 Received]

4 BY MR. BAKER:

5 Q You're the person who referred Enrique Rodriguez out
6 for an RSD evaluation?

7 A Correct.

8 Q Do you have an opinion whether or not Enrique
9 Rodriguez suffers from RSD or a similar neurogenically
10 mediated pathology?

11 A It is my opinion that he does.

12 Q Is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of
13 medical probability?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Thank you.

16 MR. BAKER: No further questions, Your Honor. I'll pass
17 your witness.

18 THE COURT: Well, I have one, since it relates to this 19 picture and --

20 MR. BAKER: And let me -- do you want me to admit those 21 then?

22 THE COURT: Well, I just want to ask him, given the 23 testimony we heard from the last witness about this loose
24 body, you testified this little round thing was the loose
25 body?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 THE WITNESS: It is.

2 THE COURT: And we heard testimony from another witness
3 that these loose bodies don't present any pain.

4 THE WITNESS: The answer to that is a loose pain doesn't
5 present pain when it's in a site where it doesn't impinge.
6 And when it -- because it's loose, it can float around within 7 the knee and then get into a place where it does impinge and 8 cause pain. It can also cause buckling or giving way or 9 swelling, but it depends on where it goes. So if it's in the 10 top of the knee, above the patella and the suprapatellar
11 pouch, then it will not cause pain or a problem, but because 12 it's loose, it floats around within the knee and when it goes
13 into a spot where it causes a problem, it will cause pain.

14 THE COURT: What about this picture, can you tell us
15 where it was and whether it would have been causing pain at 16 the time that you took the picture?

17 THE WITNESS: At the moment I took the picture it would 18 not have been causing pain because it floated to the 19 suprapatellar pouch, above the patella. So at that -- if you
20 knew that it would stay there, which it doesn't, then it
21 wouldn't be a painful entity.

22 So -- but you -- I can also tell you it was mobile.

23 THE COURT: I understand. Thank you. Any follow up
24 based on my questions?

25 MR. BAKER: Can I follow up with that?

2     BY MR. BAKER:

3           Q     So is it fair to say there was one definite pain
4     generating mechanism, which was the torn meniscus?

5           A     Oh, you had several.  You had the loose body, the 6     torn meniscus and there may have been some discomfort from the 7     chondromalacia, the residual as well.

8           Q     Okay.  And each of those would be contributory to
9     the pain complaints that were reported by Enrique Rodriguez?

10          A     Yes.

11          Q     And none of those were identified on the MRI?

12          A     Correct.

13          Q     But it's fair to say that intraoperative
14     visualization is the gold standard of being able to see in 15     pathology?

16          A     There's no question of that.  I've operated on many 17     people with negative MRIs or incorrect MRIs over the years.

18          Q     Thank you, Doctor.

19          MR. BAKER:  Pass the witness, Your Honor.

20          THE COURT:  Very well.  Mr. Ward?

2 A With overwhelming probability.

3 Q Medical probability?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Thank you.

6 MR. BAKER: I've got my whole team here reminding me to 7 say medical probability.

8 THE COURT: Very good, Mr. Baker. Whatever it takes.

9 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

10 CROSS-EXAMINATION

11 BY MR. WARD:

12 Q Now when was it you did the surgery, Doctor?

13 A The surgery date is April 21, 2006.

14 Q And after you performed the surgery, did the patient
15 get better?

16 A Some of his symptoms went away. He did have some 17 improvement, but he developed burning and so his symptoms
18 evolved, or changed, and the burning is what led me, among 19 other things, to diagnose RSD, which is also known as CRPS.

20 Q And the -- you have a chart entry from May 2nd, '06.

21 A I do.

22 Q And what does that indicate to you?

23 A I took his stitches out; his wounds were benign.
24 The patient told me he had improved with the surgery, but he 25 has residual symptomology. I've advised him he will never

1 have a perfect knee and I recommended physical therapy.

2 Q I'm looking -- maybe mine is different. I'm not
3 sure what I'm looking at. It's Bates Stamp Number 14. Do you
4 see that?

5 A I'm looking at my chart. If you want me to look at 6 yours, I will be glad too. Which is the numeric entry of my 7 chart in this?

8 MR. BAKER: Twenty-three.

9 THE WITNESS: Twenty-three. And you want me to look at 10 Number 14? Oh, those are the handwritten notes of that day.
11 BY MR. WARD:

12 Q Whose notes are those?

13 A That is my staff in the room with me and then you'll
14 see the dictated report on Page 13.

15 Q Where did the statement come from?

16 A The statement that he's feeling better, able to bear
17 weight, would be from the patient.

18 Q Okay. So the patient told you that he was able to 19 weight-bear more but still feeling unstable; is that correct?

20 A That's correct.

21 Q Is that what you would expect 11 days post-op?

22 A It's not unusual.

23 Q Okay. And he complained of also buckling with 24 popping?

25 A Correct.

AVTranz

1 Q Were you able to isolate the buckling and popping?

2 A Well, when you have an abnormal joint surface from
3 the chondromalacia, you -- and you haven't had the opportunity
4 to rehab your knee, as you've only had surgery a week or two
5 before, you may still have some buckling or popping.

6 Q Right. My question is were you able to confirm
7 that?

8 A No, that's his subjective complaint. I didn't see
9 his knee buckle or -- on him.

10 Q Did you do an examination to see if there was any
11 popping?

12 A There's still fluid in the knee 11 days post-op, so
13 you can't feel it that well.

14 Q Okay. Now, you saw the patient for the first time
15 on February 14, '06?

16 A Correct.

17 Q Now why was it that the patient came to you rather
18 than going back to Dr. Shannon?

19 A My understanding was he had moved to LA.

20 Q Okay. So your understanding was that during the 21 period of time that he was being examined by -- being operated
22 on by Dr. Shannon he lived where?

23 A I thought he lived here.

24 Q Okay.

25 A Actually, he had moved to Riverside to be more

2 Q Okay. That -- who told you that he had moved to
3 Riverside and that's why he was coming to you --

4 A Well, when he --

5 Q -- and not Dr. Shannon?

6 A I'm sorry. When he filled out his patient
7 registration form, he filled out an address in Riverside,
8 California.

9 Q Correct.

10 A So that's what I have for his address.

11 Q Right. So my question, sir, is the evidence before
12 this Court is that he lived in Riverside at the time of the 13 accident. He lived in Riverside at the time of the surgery by 14 Dr. Shannon. So what I'm trying to find out is, who told you
15 that he had moved to -- just moved to Riverside and that's why
16 he started coming to you?

17 A I didn't -- I should not have said he just moved to 18 Riverside. I don't know -- I just know that he lived in 19 Riverside when I did his surgery. In terms of where he lived
20 when he had surgery by Dr. Shannon, I don't know that answer.

21 Q Let me start again. I'm not trying to put you into 22 a box here. What I'm trying to find out, sir, is do you know
23 why this patient came to you when he had been going to 24 Dr. Shannon? Why he changed doctors.

25 A I just know that there was a referral from his --

1 from another doctor to me and that he was living in the area.
2 That's the total -- that's the totality of what I know.

3 Q Correct. Okay. Now he told you that he had been
4 injured in an accident at the casino, right?

5 A Right.

6 Q What did he tell you were the injuries that he had
7 sustained as a result of that accident?

8 A When he saw me he complained of pain in his knee and 9 ankle.

10 Q That's not my question, sir, and I know you want to 11 get out of here and I want to get out of here too, so if you
12 are okay, I will re-ask my question.

13 A Okay. He -- oh, here it is. He sustained injuries
14 to his neck, back and left knee.

15 Q Okay. So he told you that when he was injured at 16 the casino, that he injured his neck, back and left knee,
17 correct?

18 A Correct.

19 Q Do you know whether that's true?

20 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this is outside the scope of 21 direct examination, as well.

22 THE COURT: Well --

23 MR. BAKER: I only asked him about his knee.

24 MR. WARD: I understand. This is cross-examination, Your

1 opinions.

2 THE COURT: I'll overrule the objection.

3 THE WITNESS: I didn't review -- I reviewed the records
4 with respect to his knee. I didn't review every record with
5 respect to other regions. So I couldn't answer -- I couldn't
6 give you an appropriate answer to that.

7 BY MR. WARD:

8 Q Okay. He told you, did he not, that physical
9 therapy did not provide relief; isn't that true?

10 A Correct.

11 Q So he told you that after the accident he had been 12 -- he had seen Dr. Nork and he had been given physical therapy
13 and the physical therapy didn't help him?

14 A That was really focused on the knee. The answer is,
15 that's correct.

16 Q Okay.

17 A But the knee pain persisted in spite of therapy.

18 Q Yeah, I'm just -- that's what he told you, correct?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q He didn't -- he told you that therapy didn't help.

21 A His knee.

22 Q Right.

23 A Correct.

24 Q And you didn't, of course, go look to see whether 25 that was accurate or not, correct?

1           A     Specifically, no, but he did need surgery for his
2     knee.

3           Q     Okay. Now the floating body that we're talking
4     about, that shows up in that photograph, how large is that at 5     the time of the photograph? Just -- I mean, just general
6     range?

7           A     On the order of five, six millimeters in diameter.

8           Q     Okay. And is that something you said that grows?

9           A     Yes, you see when you break off a piece of articular
10    cartilage in your knee, the synovial fluid nourishes it. So,
11    for instance, if he had not had surgery and additional time
12    had passed, that would enlarge.

13          Q     Okay. And now how is it you know what caused it to 14    break off?

15          A     Oh, because it was a piece of articular cartilage
16    and because we know that he had had a chondroplasty and we 17    know that the natural history is that he didn't have -- that 18    when you have a chondroplasty for chondromalacia and when you
19    see the chondromalacia that I even saw, that it can break off.

20          Q     Okay.

21          A     And that's the most common source.

22          Q     And so when it -- it likely broke off; is that
23    correct?

24          A     I'm sorry?

25          Q     It likely broke off at the time of the surgery?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1           A     No, we don't know for sure when it broke off because
2 there's -- it could have been the piece that was floating
3 around that was hidden and grew over time or it could have
4 been the piece that broke off because you see when you do a
5 chondroplasty, which is what Dr. Shannon did, you don't
6 recreate a normal surface, you're just removing the abnormal.
7 Once you remove the abnormal, you have abnormal wear
8 characteristics at that area and so as an example, even though
9 I did an additional chondroplasty, he could break off more
10 pieces just because of abnormal wear. That's the reason you
11 get your tires balanced and you have your tread checked. It's 12 all actually related in a similar fashion.

13           Q     But in terms of how this was, am I correct that you
14 don't know how big it was when it broke off?

15           A     Of course not.

16           Q     Okay. Could have been very, very small?

17           A     It probably was.

18           Q     And so it would have been much smaller than it was 19 at the time you demonstrated on that photograph?

20           A     Correct.

21           Q     And so it is much more likely that it would be 22 hidden when it's very, very small?

23           A     When it's very small you may not even see it.

24           Q     Okay. And when it's very, very small it may not 25 cause problems?

AVTranz

1 A That's true.

2 Q Okay. So you did surgery about six months after he
3 had his surgery by Dr. Shannon; is that correct?

4 A Right.

5 Q And so you don't know where in that six month period
6 that it got as big as it got?

7 A That would be true.

8 Q But you would believe that it did grow?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And so you couldn't say exactly what day it broke
11 off?

12 A True.

13 Q But what you could say is, it broke off sometime
14 either during or after the surgery?

15 A No, it could have broken off -- any time after this
16 incident, had been small, have been hidden and grown since
17 then. So what I can say to you is, that it broke off on or 18 after November of 2004, but I have no way to know precisely
19 when and I've no way to know precisely the size that it was 20 when it did break off.

21 Q If it was a very small piece, how do you know that 22 it broke off on November 22, 2004 and didn't break off before
23 then?

24 A Because when you have a person who has
25 chondromalacia in an area where there's a torn meniscus

AVTranz

1 causing wear on the medial femoral condyle, then the odds are
2 over -- and, you know in medicine you can never say never or
3 always, but I can say with reasonable medical probability that 4 the torn meniscus, which is a causal -- which was a cause of 5 his medial femoral chondromalacia, and since that came from 6 the incident, that this piece broke off on or after November
7 of 2004. And it would be highly unlikely for this piece to 8 have broken off before that date.

9 Q Okay. And the -- but in terms of the surgery by 10 Dr. Shannon, you don't know whether it broke off before or 11 that or at that time or afterward?

12 A That's true.

13 Q And the only thing you can say with some certainty
14 is that at the time it broke off, it in all likelihood was a
15 lot smaller than it was at the time you observed it?

16 A I'd say that's true.

17 Q Okay. And the arthrogram -- the arthrogram MRI,
18 whether it would show on that would be determined by a variety
19 of things, one of which would be how big it was?

20 A True.

21 Q One of which would be where it was?

22 A Not so true. In other words, if you have a loose
23 fragment in the knee, you are -- if it's above a certain size,
24 it's easier to see on an MR arthrogram. The location of that 25 is not going to be as significant. So that piece is an

AVTranz

1 unlikely finding on an MR arthrogram or on an MRI, no matter
2 where it is.

3 Q Okay. So no matter where it is, it's not likely to 4 be found, no matter how big it is, it's not likely to be 5 found?

6 A That's not true. If it's -- once it's above a
7 certain size, if it were twice or three times that size, then
8 it's more likely to be found.

9 Q Okay. So what we would say based on probability is 10 at the time of the surgery by Dr. Shannon, that it would have 11 been much smaller?

12 A Well, we don't even know that it was broken off or 13 there.

14 Q Okay.

15 A We -- I -- all I can tell you is that it came after 16 this incident, but I -- I've already said that I don't know
17 when it broke off.

18 Q Sure. Okay. But you know that at least the first 19 time you saw the patient after your surgery, he was getting
20 better?

21 A To a degree he was.

22 Q And you're -- are you aware that he told Dr. Becker
23 that he got no improvement at all from the surgery that you
24 did for him?

25 A I don't know what he told Dr. Becker.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1 Q Okay. If that's what he told Dr. Becker that would
2 not fit with what you observed; is that correct? Wouldn't fit
3 with what he told you?

4 A Well, it wouldn't fit with what he said in the first
5 visit, but he did have -- but it would be consistent with the 6 fact that he had a significant issue that developed. So in
7 his mind I can understand where he may feel he didn't benefit,
8 but at the same time he got rid of one set of symptoms, but 9 has another. So I don't know how to necessarily answer that.

10 Q And the condition that he would have had, the torn
11 meniscus --

12 A It had a residual tear, or a recurrent tear of the 13 meniscus.

14 Q Okay. So he had a tear of the meniscus at the time
15 you operated on him five, six months after Dr. Shannon did?

16 A Correct.

17 Q Did he have that tear in the meniscus after the 18 surgery by Dr. Shannon? I mean, that day after Dr. Shannon --
19 did Dr. Shannon leave a tear in there?

20 A I don't think so. It's always a possibility, but I
21 don't believe so. I think it's related to the fact that 22 there is an abnormal medial femoral condyle wearing on the 23 meniscus. And so, if you take a rubbery substance and create 24 a sandpaper over it, it can create additional tearing.

25 Q And the tear that you saw in the meniscus, would you

1 expect that to appear on an arthrogram MRI?

2 A Not necessarily.

3 Q More probably than not, it would, or more probably
4 than not, it would not?

5 A I -- it could go either way. I don't know. It may 6 show and it may not, so I don't know that I can answer that --

7 Q So you don't have an opinion?

8 A Well, it didn't show on this MR arthrogram, is what 9 my opinion is.

10 Q The one conduct --

11 A And whether it would show -- I'm sorry?

12 Q The one conducted by Dr. Shannon?

13 A Correct, the MR arthrogram.

14 Q Okay. I'm sorry, I may have interrupted you. I
15 didn't mean to.

16 A No, that -- you see, the point is that you treat a
17 patient and not a study and in the end, these studies are 18 wonderful and I was in practice before MRI existed, but I've 19 had so many patients over the years who have come in -- I mean
20 I just operated on a golf pro friend of mine who had an MRI
21 that an intact medial -- his MRI showed a torn medial meniscus
22 and an intact lateral meniscus and when I arthroscoped him,
23 the MRI was wrong both ways. His medial meniscus was intact
24 and his lateral meniscus was torn. So it had both a false
25 positive and a false negative in the knee, but it didn't make

1 my surgery unnecessary because he says he's a lot better, so
2 in the end I treated my patient. That's what I'm supposed to
3 do. What I did with Mr. Rodriguez was I treated my patient.

4 Q And how about the pain in his left ankle?

5 A I didn't find much in his ankle.

6 Q But he did complain of pain in his left ankle; isn't
7 that right?

8 A He did.

9 Q Right. So he complained of pain in his left ankle
10 and you examined it and you didn't find anything; is that
11 right?

12 A I found some slight tenderness. It's possible there
13 was an old sprain, but I didn't think there was anything
14 significant.

15 Q And you offered the opinion that as a result of the 16 injury on November 22, 2004, that the patient also sustained
17 injuries to the neck and back; isn't that true?

18 A No, I didn't. I simply said he had a history of 19 neck and back injury based on his history. That's what he 20 told us, but I didn't find anything in his neck or back when I
21 saw him.

22 Q Okay. And did he tell you that he had sleep apnea

1 THE COURT: It is sustained.

2 MR. WARD: Your Honor, for the record, I think I'm 3 entitled to ask what he bases his opinion on and what he
4 relies on to formulate the opinions of this patient.

5 THE COURT: Objection's noted for the record. Sustained.

6 BY MR. WARD:

7 Q You offered the opinion that he had RSD?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And you sent him out for evaluation?

10 A Correct.

11 Q Why did you send him out for evaluation?

12 A Because orthopedic surgeons customarily do not treat
13 RSD. The treatment is customarily -- the diagnosis is 14 customarily confirmed by either a neurologist or a pain
15 management specialist and the treatment is customarily done by 16 pain management specialists. So as an example, proper
17 treatment of RSD involves such procedures as sympathetic
18 blocks or epidurals or procedures of that nature and the pain
19 management people do a lot more of those.

20 And when those procedures -- with certain
21 indications, people can require spinal stimulators and 22 whatnot, so the bottom line is those are all procedures in the 23 customary domain of pain management.

24 Q Is RSD covered on the orthopedic boards?

25 A Sure, to some extent. It's a diagnosis we have to

1 familiarize ourselves with because we have patients who get
2 that condition. That doesn't mean we necessarily treat it.

3 Q And what was it you found that led you to believe
4 that the patient had RSD?

5 A Interestingly, when he came in in September of 2006
6 he had the complaint of burning. Burning is a classic
7 complaint for RSD. When a person has pain that's 8 disproportionate to how that patient should be functioning at 9 that time, that is one tip. And frankly, if I had been 10 smarter I would have diagnosed it earlier.

11 Q And so on the basis of burning pain you diagnosed
12 RSD?

13 A No, I diagnosed it based on the fact that he had 14 disproportionate pain, he had burning and when he returned to 15 me in September that issue had been raised, I believe, by a
16 neurologist, as well. So -- and at that point I thought that 17 that's what he had, but -- so what I did was I sent -- I said
18 in my report of September 2006 that he had a complaint of 19 burning even at rest. This is consistent with a reflex
20 sympathetic dystrophy and I said I am recommending the patient
21 be seen in pain management to determine if in fact there is 22 reflex sympathetic dystrophy and to undergo care for that --
23 for this.

24 So my point is, I didn't definitively make the 25 diagnosis. What I said was the diagnosis was consistent with

1 his complaints, but I wanted to defer to the appropriate
2 specialist to confirm that existence of it and then to treat
3 it properly.

4 Q So you didn't diagnose RSD?

5 A I made a presumptive diagnosis, but I didn't make a
6 definitive diagnosis.

7 Q And that was based on burning?

8 A That was based on disproportionate pain and burning
9 at rest.

10 Q Okay. So the patient told you that he had burning
11 pain in his knee and the patient told you that his pain was 12 very, very bad and on the basis of that you diagnosed RSD?

13 MR. BAKER: This has been asked and answered, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: It has. Sustained.

15 BY MR. WARD:

16 Q Did you base it on anything else?

17 A No.

18 Q Thank you.

19 MR. WARD: I have no further questions.

20 MR. BAKER: No further questions, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Very well. With the thanks of the Court,
22 Dr. Tauber, you may be excused.

23 THE WITNESS: Thank you, Your Honor.

1 in California, been here for a long time.

2 Q Where'd you go to undergraduate?

3 A I did my undergraduate at UNLV and UNR. Went to
4 medical school at Uniform Services University of Health
5 Sciences in Bethesda, Maryland, Military Medical School. Did
6 my internship, residency, and fellowship training in the 7 United States Navy.

8 Q And what -- in what area do you practice in Las
9 Vegas?

10 A Pain management.

11 Q And you're licensed in Las Vegas?

12 A In Nevada, yes.

13 Q And you're board certified in pain management?

14 A Yes.

15 MR. BAKER: Move to admit the doctor as a treating
16 physician of Enrique Rodriguez and is an expert in the field
17 of pain management and anesthesiology.

18 THE COURT: Any objection, Mr. Ward?

19 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Very well.

21 BY MR. BAKER:

22 Q Doctor, I told you --

23 THE COURT: So ordered.

24 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

1 MR. BAKER: I'm just -- I'm learning.

2 THE COURT: You're ready to go, I see.

3 MR. BAKER: I'm learning.

4 BY MR. BAKER:

5 Q Doctor, were you a treating physician of Enrique
6 Rodriguez?

7 A Yes, I was.

8 Q When did you first see Enrique Rodriguez?

9 A In March 2006.

10 Q And I'm going to ask you --

11 MR. BAKER: And may I approach the witness, Your Honor?

12 THE COURT: Yes.

13 MR. BAKER: I waited to answer.

14 BY MR. BAKER:

15 Q What volume do you have in front of you?

16 A Volume 2.

17 Q I'm just going to give you Volume 1 as well. Did
18 you bring your chart with you today?

19 A I did.

20 Q Would you feel more comfortable referring to your 21 chart?

22 A That'd be easier.

23 Q Okay. For what conditions were you treating Enrique
24 Rodriguez?

25 A For neck and low back pain.

AVTranz

1 Q Okay. And what type of neck and low back pain was
2 he experiencing, meaning was it radicular or was it axial?

3 A It appears to be mostly axial. He had a bit of 4 radicular component, but I don't think that was as significant
5 as the axial.

6 Q And for the record, the Judge knows, but we still
7 have to make a record for the appellate court in the event it
8 gets that far. Would you describe the difference between 9 axial and radicular pain?

10 A Radicular pain is what you get when you get
11 sciatica, basically. A nerve root gets irritated, sends pain
12 down the dermatome of whatever nerve root is being irritated.
13 For instance, a C-7 nerve root would radiate to the middle
14 finger. C-6 would radiate to the thumb. In the low back, L-4
15 would radiate across the top of the knee and the inside of the 16 ankle. L-5 would radiate to the top of the foot and the toes.
17 S-1 would radiate to the outside of the foot. So that gives 18 us a guide of pretty much where the lesion is based on where 19 the pain goes.

20 Q And you're aware that Dr. Shah performed a milogram
21 of Enrique's cervical area and determined that it was not
22 radicular in nature but, rather, axial pain?

23 A Correct. He had a ENG consistent with carpal tunnel
24 syndrome, which could mimic C-7 radicular pain. And that 25 explains a lot.

1 Q Okay. What type of services did you provide for
2 Enrique Rodriguez?

3 A Primarily injection therapy and some medication
4 management for a while.

5 Q Do you have an opinion with respect to the mechanism
6 of injury with respect to Enrique's lumbar and cervical
7 spines?

8 A I do. Initially, he was injured at a hotel, injured
9 his knee. Subsequent to that injury, he had a great deal of 10 difficulty ambulating with some significant postural changes.
11 And I think -- my opinion is his back and neck pain progressed
12 throughout his course of pain after his initial injury.

13 Q We've heard some testimony from doctors with respect
14 to masking. Dr. Shannon described it as like a lot of people
15 talking quietly in the background and one person shouting in 16 your face. When that person stops shouting, you're able to 17 hear the background noise. Would you describe the physiologic
18 aspects of physiologic masking to the Judge, please?

19 A Well, it's quite common. I mean it's not rocket
20 science. You focus on what hurts the most, and --

21 Q I love it when rocket scientists say it's not rocket
22 science. Go ahead.

23 A Well, I see it all the time. I'll receive patients
24 with multiple areas of pain. And as soon as I get one cleaned
25 up, something else starts hurting that was essentially there

1 all along. It's just they didn't pay attention to it, because
2 the other thing hurt so bad. Knees and shoulders tend to be
3 extremely painful, I mean more than what you would think. But 4 anatomically, for some reason, the knee and the shoulder is
5 really bad, like worse than a kidney stone. And I think
6 it's --

7 Q I've had surgery on both.

8 A Yeah. And I think it's because of the weight
9 bearing involved. But that seems to be the trend all these
10 years. I've seen knees and shoulders, for some reason, it's 11 just miserable for people. So when your knee is putting you
12 through the roof, it's quite easy to ignore something that's 13 not quite as strong in the neck or the low back.

14 Q I'd like to ask you to go to Exhibit 28, Volume 2.
15 And before I do that, is it your opinion to a reasonable
16 degree of medical probability that the mechanism of injury is 17 as you just described?

18 A Yes.

19 THE COURT: Did you say 23, Mr. Baker?

20 MR. BAKER: 28, Your Honor.

21 BY MR. BAKER:

22 Q Are you at 28?

23 A Yes.

24 Q What specific medical services did you provide to 25 Enrique?

1           A     Provided epidural injections to his neck and low
2 back on two occasions, diagnostic selective nerve root blocks
3 to his neck and low back on one occasion, and medications.

4           Q     And the blocks did not work, is that correct?

5           A     The epidural injections were stacked, so that I did
6 the low back one week, the neck the next, the low back the 7 following week, the neck the next. And he really got no
8 sustained improvement from it.

9           Q     And is that consistent with a pain of an axial
10 rather than a radicular nature?

11          A     Yes, it can be.

12          Q     Would you explain to the Judge why that is?

13          A     Center of the spinal cord -- or center of the spine
14 is a spinal cord. It's surrounded by spinal fluid. Then
15 there's a long fiber sheath that holds that all in. It's call
16 a dura. Epidural technically means outside the dura.

17                 The nerve roots exit the spine from the spinal cord
18 at each level between the vertebrae, and they're enveloped a
19 little bit of the dural sheath as they leave the spine and go
20 to the periphery of the legs.

21                 The epidural space is really not a true space. It's 22 a potential space. It means if you put something in it, it'll
23 expand to accommodate it. When a woman has a baby, we place a
24 catheter in the epidural space in the low back. And as we 25 pump local anesthetic medications in there, it saturates the

AVTranz

14 App. 2787

1 area of local anesthetic, anesthetizes the nerves in that
2 area, and relieves the pain of labor.

3 And epidural steroid injection is a similar animal
4 in that we're trying to get cortisone type medication, a
5 little bit of local anesthetic, in the epidural space with the 6 hope that it will anesthetize the structures around it. It
7 works best for radicular pain, sciatica. It works really well
8 for herniated discs with sciatica. It's less effective for 9 spinal stenosis. It's less effective for discogenic pain.
10 And the real issue is not so much axial pain, but discogenic
11 pain from an internal disc disruption. That is really the 12 bottom line definition.

13 Q Is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of 14 probability that he's suffering from an internal disc
15 disruption?

16 A That would be yes.

17 Q And can you explain what the difference between -- 18 and you know you're right, but yeah, you're correct. It's not 19 so much axial versus radicular but discogenic versus non.

20 A Right.

21 Q Would you explain internal disc disruption to the 22 Judge?

23 A Certainly. Well, before I do that, the reason the 24 medication doesn't work as well for an internal disc
25 disruption is because the medication doesn't get inside the

1 disc. The problem is inside the disc. The medication
2 envelopes the structures around the disc, and sometimes it
3 helps.

4 Now, an internal disc disruption, by definition, is
5 a painful disc, in other words, a disc that's been proven to 6 cause pain with abnormal disc architecture, which means it's
7 not intact. A normal disc is built kind of like a jelly donut
8 and steel belted radial tire, if you can imagine that.

9 Q You're making me hungry.

10 A The outside of the disc has multiple layered fibers
11 like a tire or an onion, very tough and fibrous.

12 Q Is that the annulus?

13 A That's the annulus. And take two Frisbees and put 14 them on top of each other. That's kind of what it looks like.
15 And the center has this jelly called a nucleus. It kind of 16 acts like a shock absorber for the spine.

17 So as a disc degenerates and becomes internally
18 disrupted, little cracks and tears develop through the annular
19 fibers, that tough fibrous outside, and allows disc material
20 to leach to the periphery.

21 In a herniated disc, that disc material actually
22 gets out of the periphery, and that's how it causes sciatica,
23 because the nucleus, the jelly, is full of proteins that is 24 seen as a foreign body when it gets out into the body. So it
25 creates an intense inflammatory reaction. If you took the

AVTranz

14 App. 2789

1 scope and went in and looked at it, it'd all be red and
2 swollen just like if somebody had hives or poison ivy.

3 So putting steroids in there shuts off the chemical
4 reaction of inflammation and treats the pain. It doesn't fix
5 the anatomy, but it treats the pain. However, current
6 research has shown that the reason a disc hurts is thought it
7 was just because of those nerve endings in the peripheral
8 annulus, which is probably the case, but also, an internally
9 disrupted disc will actually grow nerve endings inside the 10 disc that are nociceptive. Nociceptive means pain nerves.
11 And that's why a disc hurts.

12 Q And does the medical literature suggest that 13 disruption of the interior of the disc, such as you just 14 described, is associated with postural changes?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. And did you see a Strehlow Radiology report
17 with respect to Enrique Rodriguez?

18 A Correct.

19 Q Did you note that they describe specifically
20 postural changes mediated by spasming?

21 A Correct.

22 Q And is that exactly what you would expect to see
23 with somebody who's ambulating with assistive devices and 24 limping over a period of years?

25 A Absolutely. Not only that, I can take anybody and

4 A Yes.

5 Q -- as well?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And if somebody suggested that it wouldn't, would
8 you disagree with that?

9 A Correct. In fact, that's why they put lifts in 10 shoes for people that have leg discrepancies, because the 11 sequelae is back pain.

12 Q Okay. Exhibit 28, are these medical bills and

15 Q -- Enrique Rodriguez? Was your treatment of Enrique
16 Rodriguez reasonable, necessary, and causally related to the 17 injuries he sustained at the Palms Hotel to a reasonable
18 degree of medical probability?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Could you please tell the Judge the amount of your 21 bill?

22 A Well, I'm assuming --

23 Q It's on Bates Stamp Number 3.

13 BY MR. BAKER:

14 Q Are these pharmacy bills associated with the care
15 rendered to Enrique Rodriguez?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Doctor, can I ask you for an epidural after we 18 finish here? I can't seem to turn my head at all.

19 A Sure.

20 Q I appreciate that. It's ibuprofen and a variety of 21 other medications that were prescribed to Enrique Rodriguez
22 associated with the injuries that he received in the subject
23 incident?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And are those bills, while not compiled --

1 MR. BAKER: And we'll do it for the Court later.

2 BY MR. BAKER:

3 Q -- were they reasonable, necessary, and causally
4 related to the subject incident?

5 A Yes.

6 Q To reasonable degree of medical probability?

7 A Yes.

8 MR. BAKER: Move to admit 22, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Any objection to 22?

10 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: 22 is admitted.

14 Q And if you would turn to Exhibit 27, please.
15 Doctors -- well, basically, every doctor who's a doctor in the 16 case who is a treating physician has testified that the carpal
17 tunnel syndrome that Enrique Rodriguez experienced was 18 associated with the use of the assistive walking devices. Do
19 you concur with that opinion?

20 A Yes.

21 Q To reasonable degree of medical probability?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And what's contained in Exhibit 27 is an EMG or a
24 nerve conduction velocity?

25 A Both.

6 Q And could you please tell the Court what the charges
7 for those studies were?

8 A $2,118.

9 Q And are those bills reasonable, necessary, and
10 causally related to the subject incident to a reasonable
11 degree of medical probability?

12 A Yes, they are.

6 A Right.

7 Q But they're not duplicative, is that fair to say?

8 A As far as I can tell.

9 Q Can you read off the amounts on each page into the 6 Pharmacy?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And were those prescriptions reasonable, necessary,
9 and causally related to the subject incident?

10 A Some of them are, yes.

11 Q Which ones were?

12 A Most of the pain medications. There's two 13 prescriptions here for ketoconazole, which probably shouldn't 14 be.

15 Q And how much were those two prescriptions?

16 A Let me try to figure this out here. I don't think
17 it has a price here on this sheet.

18 Q Other than those two prescriptions, was the 19 remainder of medication reasonable, necessary, and causally
20 related to the subject incident?

21 A And there's two for Singulair as well. So the 22 amitriptyline, morphine should be. So other than Singulair
23 and ketoconazole, yes.

6 Q Pardon me?

7 A I don't think it lists the total. These are 8 individual charges.

9 Q So the individual charges, if you could state again
10 for the Court which would not be related. Singulair and --

11 A Singulair and ketoconazole. There's some other
12 things in here, Nasonex, that's not related to the pain.

13 Q Okay. Would you -- just so that we can have a

16 A All right. Let me go -- give me a minute. It's a

18 Q Housekeeping is never fun.

19 A Advair, Prolair inhaler, Sandostatin.

20 Q These are the ones that are not related?

21 A Correct.

22 Q Would it be easier to say the ones that are related?

5 Q Oh.

6 A Cephalexin, Azithromycin.

8 A Yeah. Diprivan, and that's about it.

9 Q Okay. Is that an inclusive list of medications that 10 are contained in Exhibit Number 34 [sic] that are not directly

15 remainder of the charges would be reasonable, necessary, and 16 causally related to the subject incident?

8 some point.

9 Q Dr. Schifini and Dr. Shah testified -- well,
10 Dr. Shah testified that he might need a laminectomy or a

1     prescribing two scheduled medications. There's even a
2     suggestion about starting him on some methadone at one point.
3     That's very difficult to monitor this across state lines.
4     It's better that one practice do all the meds proximate to 5     where he lives.

6             Q     And if it was raised that you had some concern about 7     him abusing his drugs, how would you respond to that?

8             A     Well, no. If he's not doing what he's supposed to,
9     he's breaking the law and so forth, we just discharge him from 10    the clinic cold.

11            Q     And that hasn't been done, is that right?

12            A     No, no. This was just one of those situations where 13    it's impractical to monitor from distance. I've done it.
14    It's just very impractical.

15            Q     It's hard. Never in your records did you suggest 16    any necessity to conduct a Waddell's, is that correct?

17            A     No.

18            Q     And would you explain to the Judge why?

19            A     He never presented himself other than what he is. I 20    never had any suspicion that he was magnifying symptoms or 21    malingering.

22            Q     If it was suggested that he was magnifying symptoms
23    or malingering, how would you respond?

24            A     I might suggest that somebody get video surveillance
25    on him.

1 Q Because you don't think it's there?

2 A No. I mean you'd look into it. Actually, on
3 patients that I am suspicious of, I'll actually watch them get
4 into their car from the window. I look for inconsistencies.

5 Q And is it your opinion as well that before having a
6 lumbar fusion, Enrique will require some sort or more
7 non-invasive injection therapy such as you've already 8 conducted?

9 A Certainly. Most patients, the situation will wax
10 and wane a little bit. Once in a while, they'll flare and 11 have severe pain. And that's when you do injections.

12 Q And is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of 13 medical probability that he'll require future injections, the 14 type you've already conducted, as a direct result of the 15 injuries sustained at the Palms Hotel?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q Is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of
18 probability?

19 A Yes, it is.

20 Q Doctor, has Enrique Rodriguez been permanently
21 injured by the accident or the incident at the Palms Hotel and 22 Casino?

23 A I believe so.

24 Q Could you explain to the Judge what you mean by
25 that?

1           A     Well, this has been going on for, what, six years
2     now. He's obviously still suffering a great deal. Past
3     longevity of pain is a pretty good predictor of what the
4     future is going to hold. He's got RSD in his knee, which is a
5     very debilitating condition. Have they gone through RSD in 6     detail?

7           Q     Yes.

8           A     It's --

9           Q     You didn't treat him for his knee though, did you?

10          A     No, but --

11          Q     You left that up to Dr. Shah and Schifini and the 12     remainder?

13          A     Right. Plus he's been seen by a pain specialist in 14     California. RSD is a diagnosis you don't want to get. People
15     have amputations for bad RSD. It's the most miserable thing
16     on the planet. The wind blowing on your skin can cause
17     burning excruciating pain.

18                 In regards to his neck and low back, he continues to 19     suffer from pain. He does have the specter of what appears to 20     internal disc disruptions. And generally, those just go on to 21     get worse with time.

22          Q     So you foresee misery for him?

23          A     Correct.

12 CROSS-EXAMINATION

13 BY MR. WARD:

14 Q Good morning, Dr. Kidwell.

15 A Good morning, sir.

16 Q Now do you know who Dr. Thalgott is?

17 A Yes, I do.

18 Q Who's Dr. Thalgott?

19 A He's an orthopedic spine surgeon.

20 Q He's an orthopedic spine surgeon.

21 A That's correct.

22 Q And now, do you ever refer patients to Dr. Thalgott?

23 A Yes, I do.

24 Q You do. Why do you refer them to Dr. Thalgott?

25 A Because he's an excellent spine surgeon.

1 Q And do you rely on him to make a diagnosis as to
2 when surgery is appropriate?

3 A Yes, many times. Yes.

4 Q Well, if you -- what I'm asking -- and perhaps my
5 question wasn't a very good one. If you had a patient who you
6 had a question about whether they needed back surgery, and you
7 referred him to -- him or her to Dr. Thalgott, you would 8 expect Dr. Thalgott to do an independent evaluation.

9 A That's correct.

10 Q You wouldn't expect that you would make a
11 determination of what kind of surgery would be performed and 12 then just ask Dr. Thalgott to perform that?

13 A Oh, no. He's -- what surgery would need to be done
14 would be strictly his call.

15 Q Okay. So --

16 A In my role, I have a pretty good feel for who might 17 be surgical, but ultimately, the decision to do surgery is up
18 to the surgeon.

19 Q Right. And when Dr. Thalgott does surgery and does 20 it under some sort of an anesthetic, does he often have an 21 anesthesiologist?

22 A Well, I would hope so.

23 Q Okay. He wouldn't do that himself?

24 A No.

25 Q He wouldn't make that call?

1 A Make the call as far as what, sir?

2 Q As what kind of anesthesia should be used and how
3 much of it and monitoring it during the surgery. That would
4 be done by the anesthesiologist, correct?

5 A Well, there are times where there are options
6 regarding a particular surgery, and a surgeon might ask for a
7 regional anesthesia as opposed to a general anesthetic on a
8 given condition.

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A But the actual administration of an anesthetic is up
11 to the anesthesiologist. Absolutely.

12 Q Right. He wouldn't walk over and say now be sure
13 you use this amount and be sure you make the injection here.
14 He wouldn't do a thing like that, he'd leave that to you?

15 A Correct. Now let me clarify that. He will request
16 procedures from me for diagnostics or treatment. He'll refer
17 patients to me to do, let's say, selective nerve root blocks
18 or discograms.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A And then unless there's a reason not to, I'll do it,
21 absolutely.

22 Q Okay. But in terms of just pure anesthesia, that's

7 Q And you understand it?

8 A Yes.

9 Q You've had a lot of experience?

10 A Quite a bit.

11 Q Had many years in the Navy.

12 A Too many. Actually, I miss the Navy, but --

13 Q And you did lots of anesthesia, but you didn't do

18 A Long time ago.

19 Q But you never decided to get board certified in

21 A No, sir.

7 Mr. Rodriguez did or did not sustain on the night in question?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q Okay. And the very first time you talked to 10 Mr. Rodriguez was about a year after, year-and-a-half after

12 A That's correct.

19 can't do that.

20 A That's correct.

21 Q Okay. So it's fair to say, is it not, that when you

7 A Yes, he was.

11 A Yes.

3 Q Center for Diseases and Surgery of the Spine?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And now, his report says that at the time of the 6 accident, that Mr. Rodriguez got up and was dizzy and 7 confused, is that true?

8 A Is that --

9 Q Page 1.

10 A -- true what he said?

11 Q Is that true that that's in the report?

12 A Yes, sir.

13 Q Page 1, that's in the report. And a little bit
14 further down, it says he's under the care of physical therapy
15 with no relief, isn't that true?

16 A That's true.

17 Q And it says that he's seen a chiropractor with no
18 relief, isn't that true?

19 A That's true.

20 Q And on page 2, it says he states his pain in his 21 back, hands -- I'm sorry. I misspoke here. Starting fourth
22 line here on page 2, he states his pain in his neck, hands,

5 was dropping things, right?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q And it says he had physical therapy on his neck and

9 A Yes, sir.

10 Q Okay. Now that past medical history is bladdering
11 [sic] frequent -- bladder frequency?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Now past medical history, that would mean it's not
14 related to the accident, correct?

15 A Past medical history is simply, you know, medical
16 problems, injuries so far.

17 Q Not related to the accident?

18 A Correct.

19 Q Okay. And he -- and so, it has asthma as a past
20 medical history, is not related to the accident?

21 A That's correct.

17 about intent.

18 Q Okay.

19 A In other words --

20 Q Well, then I'll withdraw that.

21 A -- past medical history is past medical history.
22 Inference is that it's not related to the accident, and I
23 could appreciate that, but I can't say that conclusively.

1 and back discomfort initially, correct?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q That says it was overshadowed by his knee.

4 A That's correct.

5 Q Right. It says that he's had pain. He describes
6 the symptoms -- he says internal disc disruption type symptoms
7 of the cervical spine and intermittent radiculopathy and well
8 as probably facet and discogenic pain in his low back,
9 correct?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q And then he says right after that, this has now been 12 over a year-and-a-half, and they have not abated. So I do
13 think they are simple myofascial pain. Correct?

14 A Correct.

15 Q So what you know from Dr. Thalgott's records before
16 Dr. Thalgott -- before you actually saw the patient, you got 17 this report that told you that this patient had been having 18 these kinds of back related pains for a year-and-a-half and 19 they'd not abated, correct?

20 A Correct.

21 Q Okay. And that's important for you to make your

2 and all of the testing is related to the accident, it's based
3 on your understanding of that information, isn't that correct?

4 A Well, I take my own history and physical on the 5 patient as well.

6 Q Well, why don't we take a look at that? Let's talk
7 about your -- your first report is March 20, 2006, is that

9 A That's correct, sir.

10 Q And he told you your history -- by the way, was this

12 A By me.

13 Q He told you that he was knocked down, sustaining
14 injuries to his neck, low back, and left knee, correct?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q So he told you the same thing he told Dr. Thalgott.

20 Q And you assumed that was true?

17 Q Dr. Crovetti, correct?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Okay. So the only thing Dr. Thalgott was seeing him
20 for was things other than his knee. And so, when Dr. Thalgott
21 sent him to you, you were looking for things that were dealing 22 with his back.

23 A That's correct.

24 Q Not with his knee.

25 A Correct.

1 Q And now, you said on your -- at the time of your
2 March 20, 2006 examination, that the patient's symptoms have
3 persisted for well over a year, correct?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q And when you're talking about the patient's
6 symptoms, you're talking about his back and neck issues.

7 A Correct.

8 Q And so, in March of 2006, approximately a
9 year-and-a-half after this accident, you were saying that the 10 patient's neck and back issues had persisted for well over a
11 year, correct?

12 A Well, actually, I was referring to his knee as well,
13 because that's part of his pain complaint. So, historically,
14 that was persisting as well.

15 Q Now, Doctor, I've got -- I want to ask you about 16 some other visits. And my records, unfortunately, are not in 17 order. So I'm going to have you jump around. I'm not doing
18 it on purpose. I just -- I can't do it any other way, because 19 they're --

20 A That's fine.

21 Q -- out of order. Let's jump ahead to February 5,
22 2007. That's about ten months after you saw him for the first
23 time, correct, a little over ten months?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And in the first line of that, that's an office

1 note?

2 A Yes, it is.

3 Q Okay. Is that prepared by your physician's
4 assistant?

5 A Yes, it was.

6 Q Okay. It wasn't prepared by you?

7 A No.

8 Q But your physician's assistant, I take it, is quite 9 capable of taking a history and examining a patient and 10 writing down the appropriate things?

11 A One would hope so, yes.

12 Q Well, I mean --

13 A Yes.

14 Q -- she works for you, doesn't she?

15 A Uh-huh.

16 Q I mean if the patient came in and said -- and you
17 said you wanted them to be examined by the physician's
18 assistant, and you said -- and I asked you if the physician's
19 assistant was competent, you wouldn't say well, I don't know.

20 A No, she's extremely competent.

21 Q Okay. So she's extremely competent. And part of 22 competence with the medical profession is to accurately write
23 down what comes out of an examination, isn't that true?

24 A Correct.

25 Q So that you can rely on it.

1 A Yes.

2 Q Because you don't sit with her every single moment
3 of her visit with the patient.

4 A That's correct.

5 Q Because if you did, there wouldn't be any point in
6 having a physician's assistant, isn't that correct?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q Okay. So a physician's assistant meets with and 9 exams the patient, and takes a history, and asks questions,
10 and writes down things, so that you can review them and rely 11 on them.

12 A That's correct.

13 Q And your physician's assistant said in this office
14 note, a year -- approximately ten-and-a-half months after the 15 first examination that the pain pattern and overall pain
16 control remains unchanged, is that right?

17 A That's correct.

18 Q And he's on morphine, correct?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q Which you prescribe for him.

21 A Correct.

22 Q And he's on Vicodin, which somebody else prescribed

1 going in depth in some of your other examinations. But this
2 says he has had a series of three epidural steroid injections
3 to his cervical and lumbar spine, is that correct?

4 A Correct.

5 Q And so, how many trips does that mean to the surgery
6 center? Is that three trips or is that six trips?

7 A Actually, it was five.

8 Q Would you explain?

9 A The full --

10 Q I'm just a lawyer. I don't understand these things,
11 so --

12 A Well, he had two injections to his neck and two
13 injections to his low back on different days. For an epidural
14 injection, I'll do a maximum amount of steroid that is safe
15 and reasonable for a given individual on one injection. If 16 injection two regions, then I have to cheat one area for the 17 other. So you get a suboptimal injection. So the low back
18 injections and necks were done separately to optimize the 19 amount of medication I'm putting in the area that hurts.

20 The last injection was a selective nerve root block.
21 And so, technically, it's an epidural steroid injection, but 22 it's also a diagnostic test. So the volume and dose I put in 23 is a lot smaller. I anesthetize a segment and see if the pain
24 is relieved. That's the diagnostic part of it. The amount of 25 steroid deposited is a lot less. So I can do two regions at

1 the same time without overdosing him on steroids. So the last
2 injection was a combination neck and low back. That's how we
3 end up with five.

4 Q Okay. And so, he had a series of three epidural
5 steroid injections to the cervical and lumbar spine, correct?

6 A Correct.

7 Q Okay. So we have five trips to the surgery center.

8 A Correct.

9 Q Each one of which involves conscious sedation.

10 A Correct.

11 Q And that's something like a derivative or something
12 similar to valium and Verset.

13 A Well, I use Verset and Alfentanil, typically.

14 Q Okay. And essentially, that isn't technically a
15 general anesthesia. But as far as the patient goes, it's a
16 lot like a general anesthesia, isn't it?

17 A Well, the patient is always able to respond. The 18 purpose of sedation is, one, patient comfort, also to keep him
19 from moving around.

20 Q Right.

21 A So -- but they're always able to respond. They're 22 just -- it's like three-martini sedation.

23 Q Okay. And the Verset is -- among other things, so
24 they don't remember it?

25 A Well, they may or may not remember it. The -- you

1 can give a lot of Verset and create complete amnesia. But I
2 don't do that. I use the combination of two medications to
3 get a synergistic effect, because my goal is to provide
4 comfort, do the procedure quickly, but have them fairly alert
5 15 or 20 minutes later, when we're done.

6 Q Okay. So this is not a procedure that's terribly
7 uncomfortable to the patient, correct?

8 A With their sedation. Without sedation, it's pretty
9 uncomfortable.

10 Q But you don't do it without sedation.

11 A Correct.

12 Q You do it with sedation.

13 A Yes, I do.

14 Q So that's all we're talking about.

15 A Yes, sir.

16 Q With sedation, it's reasonably comfortable to the 17 patient, isn't that correct?

18 A Correct. And they don't move.

19 Q Yeah. I mean that's the idea, isn't it?

20 A Yeah. A moving target is tough.

21 Q We don't have to hurt people to help them.

22 A Correct.

23 Q Okay. Now -- so the patient has been to the surgery

2 A Correct.

3 Q And they haven't done him any good, isn't that
4 right?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q No good.

7 A That's correct.

8 Q And so, on February 5, 2007, Mr. Rodriguez comes in 9 and wants to go back to the surgery center again, is that
10 right?

11 A Well, I mean that's an option if something is 12 changing. It doesn't appear like much is changing in here,
13 but that's one of the future options. To be honest, if it
14 came down to whether we were going to do another injection,
15 and I were to see the patient, I would have recommended
16 discograms.

17 Q You're aware of this visit.

18 A Anecdotally, yes.

19 Q Were you -- you signed at the bottom, didn't you?

20 A Yeah, I signed that I reviewed the note afterwards.
21 I did not perform the visit.

22 Q Okay.

23 A And that's typical to a medical practice.

24 Q Okay. And --

25 A Otherwise, why would you have a P.A.?

2 to have another injection?

3 A He wasn't going to have another injection.

4 Q Okay. So you didn't -- so he was not going to have
5 another injection.

6 A No. At that point in time, he was not.

7 Q Okay. Now if we -- if -- do you see on the right
8 side of the page, down about three lines, you see the word
9 pain?

10 A You mean plan?

11 Q Pain. I'm looking at February 5, 2007.

12 A Okay. Pain is -- okay.

13 Q You see the word pain?

14 A Correct.

15 Q And you see four lines down from that it says the 16 word today?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And that whole sentence is today he requests for a
19 repeat epidural steroid injection, isn't that correct?

20 A Correct.

21 Q So Mr. Rodriguez, having been there five times
22 without it doing any good, is, on this day, coming in and 23 requesting to go do it again, right?

24 A Correct.

25 Q And it notes after that that he's had the series of

2           A       That's correct.

3           Q       And then it says, after discussion with Walter
4       Kidwell, M.D., which I believe would be you --

5           A       Yes.

6           Q       -- it is indicated for him to have a repeat steroid
7       injection, correct?

8           A       Yeah. I'm pretty sure that's a typo. That should 9       be not indicated. And the reason I say that -- and I don't 10       have an independent recollection of it, but it doesn't make 11       sense, and because if she was going to order an injection, she 12       would have ordered it. She didn't order it. And there's no
13       reason to repeat any injections at that time, because they 14       didn't do him any good.

15          Q       So you believe that your records here are wrong.
16       And when it says he is indicated to have a repeat, that it
17       should say he's not indicated to have a repeat?

18          A       That's my belief, yes, sir, because it doesn't make 19       sense.

9 A That's what he says.

10 Q Right. So, "I can't explain. I can't quite explain

12 A You're asking my interpretation of his note.

2 A No, sir.

3 Q And if we take a look at November 6, 2006.

4 A Yes.

5 Q And it says, "Physical examination, that the patient
6 is alert, oriented, and ambulatory."

7 A Correct.

8 Q No mention of a cane, right?

9 A Correct.

10 Q And ambulatory means he's getting around?

11 A Ambulatory means he's walking.

12 Q Right. And his --

13 A Yes, sir.

14 Q And his gait is normal?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q Right? And he has good sitting time?

17 A Correct.

18 Q Okay. November 6th, that's actually more than four 19 years ago, right?

20 A What's today's date? Yes, almost exactly four years
21 ago.

22 Q I was hoping you would know that.

23 A Almost exactly four years ago.

24 Q Okay. And renewal of the Morphine?

25 A Yes.

7 A Correct.

8 Q And it didn't help, right?

9 A Correct.

10 Q Are you beginning to see a pattern here?

11 A What's that?

12 Q Nothing seems to help, right?

13 A Well, okay.

14 Q Well, isn't that true? You did how many injections,
15 five? Didn't help. He was back asking for more. Sent to 16 hand therapy, didn't help. He told you he'd been to a

2 Q Are you seeing a pattern here?

3 A I don't think the data supports a conclusion.

4 Q Oh, okay. And on October 9 you actually increased
5 his Morphine, is that correct?

6 A Correct.

7 Q And is there any reference in here to his gait?

8 A Yes, antalgic. He's ambulatory with a cane.

9 Q Okay. So here he is -- on this date, he's antalgic.
10 What line is -- I see the ambulatory with a cane. Where is 11 the --

12 A Well, that infers that, ambulatory with a cane.

13 Q Well, wait, let me get this clear. Does it say in 15 A No, it doesn't.

16 Q -- gait is antalgic?

17 A No, sir, it doesn't.

18 Q Okay. It says he's using a cane?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q And if his gait were antalgic, that would be

1 Q And the pain -- it says, "The pain doesn't follow
2 any specific dermatome." What does that mean, specific 3 dermatome?

4 A That's a reference to radicular type pain.

5 Q Okay. Because certain parts of our body are 6 innervated by different nerves, we can have a pain in one
7 place and not another related to the same thing and his didn't
8 follow a specific dermatome, is that correct?

2 Q Okay. And this letter is the one dated July 20,
3 2006?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q And it begins by saying, "I performed staged
6 selective nerve root blocks on Enrique Rodriguez today,"

8 A Correct.

9 Q Number one, and it gives the nerve, and it says,
10 "Resulted in no change in the usual pain," correct?

11 A Correct.

12 Q Number two, and it gives the specific nerve. It

17 A Correct.

18 Q And you made the comment then, "It appears that the 19 exact pain generator remains elusive," isn't that true?

20 A That's correct.

21 Q Now, you have a progress note from June 29, 2006.

5 A Correct.

6 Q Correct? Dr. Mortillaro is a psychologist, isn't
7 he?

8 A Dr. Gamazo is too. Those are two separate doctors.
9 They're psychologists.

10 Q Okay. And psychologists don't prescribe medication,
11 do they?

12 A Correct.

13 Q Are you in the habit of asking psychologists what 14 pain medication ought to be --

15 A No.

16 Q -- given to a patient?

17 A No, I didn't ask them. They offered as a
18 possibility.

19 Q Okay. Does it seem to you that maybe they're going 20 a little bit out of their qualifications?

21 A No, we collaborate all the time. Basically, it's a
22 recommendation. I evaluate and determine whether it's 23 important -- if it's something I want to do or not, whether 24 it's beneficial of the patient.

1 again, that's a medication that can be very dangerous. And I
2 follow people very closely when I have them on Methadone.

3 Q Right.

4 A Methadone has an advantage of having a pathway to 5 treat neuropathic pain as opposed to regular narcotics that do
6 not.

7 Q You wouldn't prescribe something for a patient
8 unless you thought it was the right medication to prescribe?

9 A Correct.

10 Q But in terms of these two psychologists volunteering
11 what the pain medication ought to be, that's outside their 12 field, isn't it?

13 A It's just a recommendation. It's nothing more than
14 that.

15 Q Well, I understand it's a recommendation, but do you
16 know what kind of training they have in pain and prescription
17 drugs?

18 A Well, they don't have -- I don't know what they have 19 in the way of prescription drugs. They don't prescribe.

20 Q Right. So far as you know, you don't know of any 21 training that they have in prescription drugs, isn't that
22 true?

12 A I've got one May 5, 2006.

13 Q Okay. I'm looking here at the indications. I want
14 to make sure that I'm looking at the right one. May I

19 Q Okay, right.

20 A That's down at the bottom right hand, date of

5 A Correct.

6 Q And you, I take it, never went back and looked at 20 Q Sick of being on the stand?

21 A Oh, yeah.

22 Q Let's just talk about a couple of things. Counsel

1 Q Where Dr. Thalgott talked about the fact that he
2 couldn't quite figure out where something was coming from, is
3 that right?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q Let me read to you what he was actually talking
6 about because I think that there might be some confusion. He
7 says, "He has a myriad of complaints. At this point, we'll
8 continue his therapy. He's having some ulnar-type symptoms in 9 his right hand. The nerve injections didn't seem to make a
10 difference, so I'm not sure that this is neurogenic. I can't 11 explain what this is."

12 Now, you're aware that Enrique did have injections
13 into his hand, is that right?

14 A Correct.

15 Q And here he's not talking about his back or his 16 neck. He's talking about his arm, is that right?

17 MR. WARD: Objection, leading.

18 THE COURT: Sustained.

19 BY MR. BAKER:

20 Q Doctor, is it your understanding that he's talking
21 about his arm, not his back or his neck?

22 A At that point and time, yes.

23 Q Right. So when he said, "I can't explain what that 24 is," was he talking about his arm at that time?

25 A I believe so.

1 Q And you know that this was before, don't you not,
2 that he had the nerve conduction velocity test on his arm?

3 A Correct.

4 Q And that nerve conduction velocity test showed that
5 there was a median nerve disturbance, is that correct?

6 A Correct.

7 Q So, they found out what it was with respect to his
8 hand, isn't that true?

9 A Well, that's the whole point.

10 Q Right. And it's the same point where you rule
11 things out, isn't it fair to say, as part of a medical 12 diagnosis in a medical procedure?

13 A Correct.

14 Q And when you performed your injections, were you
15 attempting to rule out radicular pain?

16 A Correct.

17 Q And when Dr. Thalgott talked about ruling out
18 neurogenic pain, is that in comparison to discogenic pain,
19 pain relating to the disc itself?

20 A Like I said, I take him, his reading of neurogenic
21 pain, to infer radicular.

22 Q Right. And, in fact, it was discovered that there
23 wasn't a radicular component, is that --

24 A Correct.

25 Q So that was ruled out. That's what you were trying

1 to do, is that what you're saying?

2 A Correct.

3 Q And so you came up with a diagnosis which was
4 internal disc disruption, is that correct?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q Which is not neurogenic pain. It's discogenic pain,
7 is that correct?

8 A Correct.

9 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of 10 probability, that he was suffering from discogenic pain?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q Okay. So, now they talked about some of the time.
13 Do you know that RSD is a disease that wax and wanes, is that
14 correct?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q And we've heard a lot of testimony about how that 17 will change. Is it strange to you that Enrique Rodriguez'
18 presentation wasn't absolutely static? It wasn't the same
19 every day?

20 A No, I'd expect it to vary.

21 Q Okay. So, sometimes he used a cane and sometimes he 22 didn't, is that right?

23 A Yes, sir.

24 Q Do you see anything remotely suspicious about that?

1 Q Okay. And is that your experience with patients
2 that you have who RSD, that it tends to wax and wane?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q And, by the way, a big deal was made about
5 ambulatory. Ambulatory just means not in a wheelchair, right?

6 A Basically, yes.

7 Q Yeah. I mean it's never been suggested by us or any
8 of the doctors that Enrique is wheelchair bound, is that fair
9 to say?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q So, if you see ambulatory, that's consistent with 12 the remainder of his medical records, is that correct as well?

13 A Correct.

14 Q Okay. Now, give me a second, would you, Doctor?

15 THE COURT: Sure.

16 [Pause]

17 BY MR. BAKER:

18 Q Now, it was talked about the fact that Dr. Thalgott
19 says that he was not a surgical candidate. Do you recall
20 speaking about that?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And we've had other doctors testifying in this room
23 that there's no way that he should have a lumbar surgery done
24 until he gets his spine stimulator to get rid of the pain in 25 his knee. Would you agree with that?

AVTranz

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. Would you explain to the Judge why that is?

3 A Well, the knee is the primary pain component. Once
4 you treat that, you see what's left, number one. Number two,
5 the spinal cord stimulator now can cover back pain and leg
6 pain. That's new technology. Two years ago you couldn't make
7 that statement. Spinal cord stimulator wouldn't treat leg
8 pain.

9 Usually in the context of a failure back surgery
10 syndrome, but RSD is certainly an indication for it as well.
11 But now the technology exists that with a tripole technology,
12 we can cover back pain from about L-1 on down pretty reliably.

13 Q And Dr. Schifini testified that he actually put a
14 lead to his back on the temporary spinal cord stimulator.

15 A Right.

16 Q And that that didn't help his back pain except 17 transiently. Did you understand that?

18 A I didn't know that, but whether I did or not is 19 irrelevant because that was done more than two years ago if I
20 recall.

21 Q Correct. Now you've stated that you know
22 Dr. Thalgott, is that right?

25 A He's a great surgeon.

1 Q And you've transferred patients back and forth with
2 him?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Would Dr. Thalgott ever recommend surgery on a
5 person awaiting a spinal cord stimulator for his knee that 6 he's unable to get?

7 MR. WARD: Object, no foundation for this. We don't know
8 what Dr. Thalgott has to say about this. This is speculative.

9 THE COURT: Mr. Baker.

10 MR. BAKER: He said he understands Dr. Thalgott. They 11 refer patients back and forth. He's had experience with 12 patients with Dr. Thalgott and he's aware for the standards
13 for prescribing surgery and recommending surgery in patients.

14 MR. WARD: Your Honor, this witness said on 15 cross-examination that he didn't know what was in 16 Dr. Thalgott's mind and that he couldn't even interpret
17 Dr. Thalgott's suspicions in his medical records. So, how he 18 could possibly offer this kind of an opinion is without
19 foundation.

20 THE COURT: Well, let me ask you this, Mr. Baker. The 21 way you phrased your question, it was a general one. Does it
22 apply to specifically the Plaintiff?

23 MR. BAKER: Huh-uh, general.

24 THE COURT: General question?

25 MR. BAKER: Yeah, but I can restate the question.

3 BY MR. BAKER:

4 Q Would it be acceptable to recommend surgery for
5 Enrique Rodriguez on his back when he is still suffering from 6 an untreated RSD on his knee?

7 A I have not seen Dr. Thalgott do that, so I don't
8 think so.

9 Q Okay. And it's nothing that you would recommend?

10 A Uh-uh.

11 Q And because you will continue to have the postural
12 changes, is that correct?

13 A Correct.

14 Q And will you explain to the Judge, is there a cycle
15 associated with the back pain and the postural changes, the 16 limping and the use of assistive devices?

17 A When his pain is bad, I would anticipate that he 18 would have an altered gait, altered posture, and that would 19 adversely affect his back.

20 Q And we've heard testimony in this Court as well
21 about the fact that if back surgery was done before his knee
22 was repaired, he would likely rip out that back surgery due to 23 the continued postural changes. Do you have an opinion with 24 respect to that?

13 probability to the Judge what's been occurring with respect to 14 Enrique's back and neck as a result of continued postural

20 MR. WARD: Move to strike. There's no foundation that

9 A No, the definition was internal disc disruption.

10 Q And you think that's what's causing the problem?

11 A Most likely, yes.

12 Q Okay. You haven't seen anything like that from

7 FURTHER REDIRECT EXAMINATION

8 BY MR. BAKER:

9 Q So, why? So, why?

10 MR. WARD: Did he see it's the scope of the direct or the 11 recross?

12 MR. BAKER: It's exactly the whole point of the recross,
13 Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: I think the question is appropriate, but I'll 15 ask you to narrow the focus some.

16 BY MR. BAKER:

17 Q Did you want to respond to the question why do you
18 believe he's going to require a lumbar surgery?

19 A Yes, I mean I think that's the crux of the whole
20 thing, why.

21 Q Give it to us.

22 A A surgeon will say they're not a surgical candidate
23 at this point and time. He doesn't feel he's appropriate for 24 surgery at this point and time. There is incomplete data,
25 simply incomplete data.

1           The hypothesis is that he has internal disc
2 disruption in the lumbar spine. There are two basic
3 structures that cause this kind of pain in the low back, discs
4 and facet joints. Neither one of them have been explored as 5 far as a potential pain generator.

6           The symptoms are most consistent with discogenic
7 pain. It could be facet pain, but most consistently with 8 discogenic or perhaps both. The way to prove or disprove the 9 hypothesis is to do a discogram.

10          Q     And we talked about the fact that -- or you spoke 11 about the fact that we don't want to cause pain, that your 12 lumbar epidural injections aren't painful. Tell her about a
13 discogram.

14          A     A discogram is very painful. It's the worst
15 procedure I do on people. We don't take it lightly. You take 16 a patient, you put needles in all the discs you are going to 17 test, and under pressure you'll inject x-ray contrast to 18 stretch the disc. If the disc is torn or causing discogenic
19 pain, it hurts -- excuse my French -- it hurts like hell.
20 It's extremely painful.

21                I've seen patients with Post-Traumatic Stress
22 Disorder have discograms. It's something we don't take 23 lightly and there are techniques to blunt the pain of it.

24          Q     And isn't actually the point of the discogram to re
25 -- give me the word. It's called committing pain, but it's

1 to --

2 A Reproduce.

3 Q -- reproduce --

4 A Reproduce the pain, identify the pain generator, and
5 that's what this is all about is identifying the exact pain
6 generator. You can look at an MRI and see multi level disc
7 disease. You don't know what's hurting. You don't know which 8 disc or which structure is actually causing that pain. And 9 that's the purpose of these procedures, to determine exactly
10 which structure would require surgery if surgery was an 11 option.

12 Dr. Thalgott doesn't have any more information than 13 I do. He's an excellent surgeon and I understand him
14 completely. At that point and time, he's not a surgical
15 candidate. He also has the specter of his knee problem, not a
16 surgical candidate.

17 However, let's say he didn't have a knee problem and
18 I did a discogram showing that he had maybe one or two levels
19 positive. I guarantee he'd be a surgical candidate. And 20 based by multiple reputable spine surgeons in this town.

21 Q And he --

1 to the last response and I move to strike on the basis that
2 it's speculative. He's talking about things that Dr. Thalgott
3 might have done or would have done. Dr. Thalgott has not been
4 here to testify. Dr. Thalgott hasn't seen the patient for 5 several years. This gentleman hasn't seen the patient for 6 several years. It is all speculative.

7 MR. BAKER: He's talking about the course of treatment
8 that someone with a diagnosis of internal disc disruption.
9 That's a recognize diagnosis within the community, a diagnosis
10 he deals with all the time. He has a tremendous experience of 11 individuals who are diagnosed with internal disc disruption.

12 He set the foundation, the fact that they ruled out
13 a radicular component. He's testified to a reasonable degree
14 of medical probability that the pain is discogenic rather than 15 neurogenic and testified to a reasonable degree of probability
16 that there's an internal disc disruption. There's a complete
17 foundation for that question.

18 THE COURT: Any final thoughts, Mr. Ward?

19 MR. WARD: I won't waste the Court's time by repeating

19 a discogram is to try and make it as humane as possible and 20 yet get good objective data, and of course, taking an 21 subjective experience and making it as objective as possible.

22 The exact criteria of a properly performed discogram
23 is to produce concordant pain and a patient is totally alert
24 and can report concordant pain. There also has to be an
25 element of abnormal disc architecture. And the third element

1 is you have to have other levels that are negative to validate

3 So, many physicians will not sedate or sedate very
4 lightly to do this. Placing the needles is very painful.
5 It's a very long needle. It has to go through your back about
6 this far, depending on how thick you are, into your disc.
7 It's a pretty good size needle.

8 So, my particular technique, the one I have been
9 using since I was in the Navy, is I would sedate people
10 generously for needle placement. Once the needles are in 11 position, I'll write a test. I'll give them medications to 12 block the first medications and wake them up.

13 So, the biggest medication is Versed. It's is a
14 benzodiazepine. You can block that with a medication called 15 Romazicon. Within a minute they'll be totally alert and 16 awake.

17 So, once they're awake, I have a conversation with 18 them verifying that they're awake, they know who I am, why
19 we're here. Then I talk about the procedure we're going to 20 do, that they can't see what I'm doing, but it's important
21 they don't know what I'm doing.

22 Then I'll test each disc one at a time. Usually 23 I'll go for the ones I think are going to be abnormal first to 24 validate the study and get a good control of it. I inject
25 each disc with x-ray contrast under pressure. There is a

1 special gauge on the syringe I use and we crank and we watch
2 the pressures and we watch the fluoro screen at the same time
3 looking for abnormalities.

4           Once you've achieved maximum pressure, there are
5 pressure parameters for this, you just can't crank in 200 psi
6 and call it valid. It's like 0 to 50 psi is the range you
7 use.

8           So, I'll test each disc sequentially noting their 9 pain responses, watching the fluoro screen, and watching the 10 volume that I put in. A normal disc won't produce any pain.
11 They won't even know I'm doing it.

12           However, if the disc is torn or a pain generator, it
13 will reproduce their pain quite significantly. Once I've 14 obtained or determined the disc is positive I stop
15 pressurizing it. There's no reason to keep putting them
16 through the rough. But I'll go back and I'll retest anything
17 that was positive a second time, and I do that by injecting a
18 high concentration of local anesthetic.

19           As the medication goes in and stretches the disc
20 again, reproduces the pain, and then hopefully goes on to 21 anesthetize it some because I know these things hurt like hell
22 and I want them to have some comfort afterwards.

23           Then at the very end when I pull the needles out,
24 any positive level, I'll drop an epidural injection on top of 25 it, again just for pain after the procedure. Then they'll go

1 to recovery for a while, then on to a CT scan.

2 So, the two elements that are very painful is
3 placing the needles, very painful, especially as you get down
4 towards the disc and penetrate the disc annulus, and then the 5 actual testing itself.

6 So, what I do is try to make the first part as
7 painless as possible. The second part I can't do anything
8 about. That's the nature of the beast.

9 THE COURT: Thank you. Any follow up based on my 10 questions from either?

11 MR. WARD: Yes, I do, Your Honor.

12 MR. BAKER: Uh-huh.

13 FURTHER REDIRECT EXAMINATION

14 BY MR. BAKER:

15 Q Could you explain to the Court a little bit about
16 the pressurization and the fluid volume that you would expect
17 a normal versus not normal disc?

18 A By definition, when you first put the dye in, the 19 first squirt that shows up in the disc is called opening
20 pressure. You stop, measure the pressure, that's the resting
21 pressure inside the disc. A positive disc will have pain
22 within 0 to 50 psi above opening pressure. The lower the 23 pressure, the more sensitive it is.

24 Also, you don't really want to exceed 4 milliliters
25 of dye. However, sometimes you do. In a very degenerated

1 disc, it will accommodate a lot of volume. And sometimes
2 you'll have a hard time generating enough pressure because a
3 disc is so degenerated, but those are generally the criteria,
4 0 to 50 psi above opening pressure.

5 Pain above that is considered indeterminate. It may 6 be a positive disc, but according to the definition, it's 7 indeterminate.

8 Q And one follow up question. What's the cost of a
9 discogram including the procedure and your time in a surgical
10 suite?

11 A Let's say you do a three level discogram. Average
12 costs are, of course it's varied. This gentleman would 13 probably end up with -- how many levels he got?

14 Q Four.

15 A Probably a five level discogram. They get a
16 control. I figure about $1,000 per disc, rough average, plus
17 surgery center charges, another $5,000.

18 Q How much? I'm sorry.

19 A Probably $10,000 for the total package.

20 Q And is it your opinion he'll require a discogram to 21 a reasonable degree of medical probability?

22 A He would probably have one before he'd have surgery,
23 yes, sir.

24 Q As a direct and proximate result of this subject
25 incident?

1 A Correct.

2 Q To a reasonable degree of medical probability?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q And I'd just ask you to look at one more thing. I
5 think there were four levels of discs that showed pathology.
6 Would he then need a sixth level to have a control above and 7 below each of --

8 A No, I would just do a five level discogram, and this
9 is why. Most surgeons won't operate on more than three 10 levels, so it's a moot point.

11 Q Okay. Thank you.

12 MR. BAKER: No further questions.

13 THE COURT: Mr. Ward?

14 FURTHER RECROSS-EXAMINATION

15 BY MR. WARD:

16 Q Yes, Dr. Kidwell. Isn't it true that for many 17 members of the medical profession that discograms have fallen
18 out-of-favor?

19 A No.

20 Q That's not true?

21 A It's controversial, but it's not out-of-favor. It
22 remains the gold standard for diagnosing.

23 Q Well, but it's controversial, is it not?

24 A It's controversial in that Eugene Carragee is one
25 researcher who's been --

1 MR. BAKER: From Stanford?

2 THE WITNESS: -- from Stanford, for years been trying to
3 discount discograms and he's been unsuccessful. But there is
4 no other way to determine discogenic pain. You cannot see
5 pain on an MRI, a CT scan, x-ray. It is the only way you can
6 determine what structure is causing the pain.

7 BY MR. WARD:

8 Q Isn't the criticism of discograms, is it they have
9 too many false positives?

10 A Isis has shown that that's not exactly the case.
11 There is a very low false positive rate if you have negative
12 control levels to validate the study.

13 The more levels that are negative versus positives, the 14 stronger the correlation. But all tests have a false positive
15 rate. It's very low in discograms if performed properly
16 depending on results.

17 If you have a four level positive discogram, your 18 confidence level goes way down. But then again, no one is 19 going to operate on four levels anyway.

20 Q So, there is a confidence level problem with 21 discograms in certain circumstances?

22 A Well, there is with any studies. I mean that's part
23 of the process. That's by definition.

24 Q And Dr. Thalgott has not recommended a discogram for 25 this patient, has he?

1 A Not at this time.

2 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

3 MR. BAKER: Just one follow-up question and it's just 4 kind of for giggles.

5 FURTHER REDIRECT EXAMINATION

6 BY MR. BAKER:

7 Q Isn't Dr. Carragee in his article the one who used
8 as a norm for false positives on discograms and he saw no
9 evidence of chronic disabling discogenic injury in the 10 population of Portuguese strawberry growers in Washington?

11 MR. WARD: I will object to this questioning on a learned
12 treatise without having provided me with a copy ahead of time.

13 THE COURT: Sustain the objection.

14 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

15 THE COURT: You know, Dr. Kidwell --

16 THE WITNESS: Yes, ma'am.

17 THE COURT: -- I thank you for answering my question.

18 I've heard testimony lots of times about these discograms, but 19 it's generally the jury that gets to ask the questions, not 20 the Judge. So, thank you for answering my question.

21 THE WITNESS: Oh, thank you for asking.

22 MR. BAKER: We don't have any other witnesses today, Your
23 Honor.

24 THE COURT: Very well. With the thanks of the Court,
25 Dr. Kidwell, you may be excused.

1 employers with 1,500 employees or more, and we would assist in
2 looking at their losses, the injuries that their employees
3 were having, and assist those employees in returning to work.

4           Fifteen years ago, I moved to Reno, acquired a very
5 small competitor, where we primarily have done work with
6 veterans with service connected disabilities, assisting them
7 in returning to work. Then in addition to that, I've done
8 forensic work, such as what I'm here to talk about today, both 9 in the area of vocational rehabilitation and economics. And 10 I've published in both of those areas as well.

11           Q     Have you worked in the social security department?

12           A     I have. I worked for the office of hearings and 13 appeals under the Social Security Administration as the 14 court's expert for 20 years, where I was there at the request
15 of the Court to aid and assist in sorting out the issues of 16 disability and the vocational impact of disability, primarily 17 on contested cases where the person had been turned down, and 18 they were now going in front of a United States Administrative 19 Law Judge.

20                     A judge has an option of having a vocational expert 21 there, as well as a medical expert that will sit through the 22 hearing, review the records and respond to any questions to 23 clarify any vocational issues and the person's ability to work
24 in the labor market.

25           MR. BAKER: And Your Honor, at this time, I would ask

1 that he be qualified in the area of vocational rehabilitation
2 and forensic economics.

3 THE COURT: Any objection, Mr. Ward?

4 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

5 MR. BAKER: Okay. Just to let the Court know --

6 THE COURT: So ordered.

7 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor. Just to let the Court
8 know --

9 BY MR. BAKER:

10 Q You and I have done a few trials together. Is that
11 right?

12 A We have.

13 Q Maybe four or five?

14 A Yeah. I don't think five. Three or four. I was 15 trying think.

16 Q There have been times that I have come to you and 17 ask you to use vocational rehabilitation and forensic
18 economics services and you looked at the case and told me,
19 basically, I have no case and --

20 MR. WARD: Object. Leading.

21 THE COURT: Sustained.

22 MR. BAKER: He's an expert on just introduction, Your
23 Honor.

24 THE COURT: I understand.

25 MR. BAKER: Would you like me to rephrase it?

1 THE COURT: Yeah. I think so.

2 BY MR. BAKER:

3 Q Are there times you've told me -- have you agreed to
4 participate in every case I've asked you to render an economic
5 decision -- opinion?

6 A Probably more accurate way is, I've agreed to see
7 your clients and evaluate whether or not I think there is an 8 economic loss, and chances of vocational rehabilitation.

9 Q And have there been sometimes you told me that that 10 answer was no?

11 A There's been some times, yes, that I've told you no,
12 that I don't believe there is a vocational or economic loss
13 that we can calculate.

14 Q I have tried to start every examination with a 15 triple negative, so I think I got it done through today. When 16 were you first contacted in this case?

17 A In 2008.

18 Q Was that by my office?

19 A It was.

20 Q And what was your assignment?

21 A I was asked to look at the vocational issues, the 22 types of work that Mr. Rodriguez was able to do prior to his 23 accident, to look at what vocational options he may have in 24 the future and then, if there was going to be a loss, that he
25 wasn't going to be able to make as much money, to calculate

1 that loss. I was also asked to look at the costs of future
2 medical care and calculate those values as well.

3 Q As in dollar value?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. Did you do an evaluation of Enrique Rodriguez
6 with respect to rehabilitation issues?

7 A I did.

8 Q What was that evaluation of?

9 A I met with Mr. Rodriguez, went through the types of 10 work that he's done in his past, the amount of education that 11 he has, you know, physically how he was doing, how he self
12 assessed the limitations that he has, what had happened
13 between the injury and when I saw him, which was about two and 14 a half, three years ago when he was injured. And I think that 15 encompasses most of what I did in the initial evaluation.

16 Q Did you also conjunctively review materials?

17 A I did.

18 Q Could you explain to the judge what you looked at?

19 A I looked at the medical records that I was provided
20 with, that summarized the medical treatment that he had. I
21 looked at three years of tax returns that I was provided with,
22 as I developed my opinions to write my report.

23 Q Did you review any materials on social security?

24 A I did.

25 Q What materials did you review?

1           A     I have a letter from Social Security that's in my
2 file, that I reviewed. And I think that, maybe, without going
3 through everything, that's the only one that's directly from 4 Social Security.

5           Q     Is there a time --

6           MR. WARD: I would object and move to strike any response
7 about Social Security. Social Security is not relevant to 8 these findings. And I think it is prejudicial, and --

9           MR. BAKER: Your Honor, social security

10          MR. WARD: it's hearsay.

11          MR. BAKER: Social security is absolutely relevant to 12 these findings. 214405 return to work at There is no argument
13 being made that Mr. Rodriguez is not disabled, and there was a
14 Social Security determination that he was disabled. You have 15 previously ruled on an issue that it wasn't relevant when 16 Enrique was speaking about it because of causation. He is 17 specifically not, and has said at these depositions, speaking
18 about causation, just his disability status, whether or not he 19 is disabled, and a determination by the federal government
20 that he is disabled is certainly not.

21          MR. WARD: Counsel for plaintiff is now putting forth to 22 the Court exactly what I was objecting to by saying it, that 23 it found to be disabled. What he was before the Social
24 Security commission, what was said, what was actually found,
25 what was testified to -- that's all hearsay. We don't have it

1 before us. It's not been provided to me. It wasn't -- none
2 of that information was given in the deposition. And I think
3 it's all hearsay.

4 THE COURT: Well, Mr. Baker, is your intent to address
5 this issue in a very narrow fashion?

6 MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Overrule the objection.

8 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

9 BY MR. BAKER:

10 Q Discussed your evaluation in its entirety?

11 A We have.

12 Q And the information that you would have in its 13 entirety?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And this with respect to your initial evaluation is 16 this before coming to your calculations and conclusions?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Okay. Did you come to an opinion whether or not
19 Enrique Rodriguez was disabled?

20 A I did.

21 Q And disabled from work?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Could you explain to the judge your methodology and 24 the basis of your opinions?

25 A I looked at the medical records and the diagnoses

1 that were in my file, in terms of --

2 Q Sorry. Can I just interrupt you for just one second
3 before? Is there a definition of disability that we could use
4 to give us some context to this?

5 A Yes. There are several different definitions. The 6 most prominent one would be the preclusion from substantial
7 gain for acuity. That's a definition of disability that's 8 used by the Department of Veteran Affairs, probably almost
9 every long term disability insurer in the United States uses
10 that definition, as does the Social Security Administration.

11 MR. WARD: Object to -- I object to the Social Security
12 standards and move to strike.

13 THE COURT: Noted for the record. Overruled.

14 THE WITNESS: Yeah. So it's a definition that's used by 15 both private entities, as well as public entities, when we 16 look at a person as to whether or not they're capable of 17 substantial gain from acuity. From a functional standpoint,
18 the preclusion of substantial gainful activity is defined as 19 the ability to make, right now, $950 a month or more. So it
20 not only involves a person's physical ability to work, it also 21 involves looking at their earning capacity. So when the 22 determination is made as to an individual meeting that 23 definition, it means that they've looked at the vocational 24 background, the transferability of any skills or skill moving
25 to a different job that the person may be physically able to

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1 do, plus what they might earn as well. So you see people that
2 are high wage earners, that can work ten hours a month and
3 make over $900 in that ten hours. And even though they may
4 have a severe impairment, they would be determined not to meet
5 that definition of disability because they can earn over $950
6 a month. And those standards are applied to every Social
7 Security case, particularly with individuals under 50, as to 8 whether or not the person meets that definition of disability.
9 So it's a fairly complex definition of disability, and a
10 fairly stringent one. But it is one that's commonly used
11 by --

12 THE COURT: -- objection as to --

13 MR. WARD: Your Honor, may I ask for an ongoing
14 objection? I don't want to keep interrupting. Obviously this 15 is before the Court at this point, so I think the prejudice is 16 already there. So I don't want to be rude and keep 17 interrupting, but I do want to protect the --

18 THE COURT: Noted for the record.

19 MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor.

20 BY MR. BAKER:

21 Q And was that definition actually codified?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Can you explain that to the Judge?

24 A In the Ticket to Work Act -- passed under the first
25 motion of George -- elder -- Bush administration in 1999.

AVTranz

1 Congress took notice of that definition of disability. It's
2 probably one of the most studied definitions of disability
3 because of the impact of the number of people who meet that
4 definition of disability -- have on the Social Security
5 system. And the general accounting office had done a study
6 that was actually written into the act, the Ticket to Work
7 Act, that found a .5 percent return to work rate of people who
8 meet that definition of disability, meaning 99.5 percent of 9 the people who were found to meet that definition of 10 disability do not return to work.

11 Q And with respect to that definition, are the .5
12 percent who return to work -- are they just not lazy, and the 13 other 99.5 percent lazy?

14 A There -- well, there's been subsequent studies to 15 try and determine what are the characteristics that fit into 16 that .5 percent. The only correlation that they've been able 17 to find is higher levels of education, individuals that have 18 education beyond high school into the college level and into 19 the graduate school level. The number of people who returned
20 to work was a severe impairment -- tend to have higher levels
21 of education. But that's the only correlation they could
22 find. They couldn't find any correlation with specific types
23 of impairment, whether it was a congenital impairment or a
24 disease impairment or an impairment generated out of an 25 accident. You know, and they attempted to look at all those

1 different variables, trying to figure out what was the
2 characteristics, and how can we get more people back to work.
3 And that's the only correlation so far. Some of those studies
4 do have a bit higher return to work rate. Highest one I've 5 seen is about 10 or 11 percent, still meaning more people
6 don't return to work than do. But the one that Congress took 7 notice of was the .05 present.

8 Q And did Enrique meet the definition of disability,
9 according to your evaluation of his medical records and your
10 experience as a vocational rehabilitation expert?

11 A Well, when I saw him and interviewed him, he had 12 told me that he had met that definition of disability, so I
13 knew that. In terms of my work with the Social Security
14 Administration, because he was under 50, it wouldn't surprise
15 me if they went through a fair amount of steps when they 16 evaluated whether or not he would meet that level of 17 disability.

18 Q Is it a difficult definition to meet?

19 MR. WARD: Object. Move to strike on the basis of 20 speculation.

21 THE COURT: Overruled. Let's have some foundation,
22 Mr. Baker.

23 BY MR. WARD:

24 Q How many Social Security disability cases do you
25 work here?

AVTranz

1           A     When I went off that panel, I had testified in a
2 little over 4,500 cases.

3           Q     And in each of those 4,500 cases was a certain
4 process used by the administration?

5           A     Yes.

6           Q     And was the process consistent?

7           A     Yes.

8           Q     And was there a specific process utilized for 9 individuals under 50?

10          A     Yes.

11          Q     And was that consistent?

12          A     Yes.

13          Q     And does Enrique Rodriguez qualify as an individual
14 under 50 with respect to that consistent process?

15          A     It does.

16          MR. BAKER: I would ask, then, Your Honor, that I be 17 allowed to have an explanation for most of this.

18          THE COURT: Very well.

19          BY MR. BAKER:

20          Q     Please explain the process.

21          A     Anybody under the age of 50 is considered a younger
22 individual. Starting at age 50, you're considered approaching
23 advanced age. And from age 55 to 60, you're considered of 24 advanced age. And of age 60, you're considered of retirement
25 age. I hate those titles and those age groups, but --

1 THE COURT: Me, too. I object.

2 MR. BAKER: Sustained, Your Honor.

3 THE WITNESS: You know, so different standards begin to 4 apply because age becomes a factor in disability, starting at 5 age 50. If you're 49 and three-quarters, if you're under the 6 age of 50 at any of those levels, you have to meet a different
7 criteria, a criteria that's harder to meet, in relation to 8 whether or not you're disabled. So when a person is under 50,
9 the case is looked at with a much greater scrutiny than, say,
10 a person who's over 60. And you can have two people with 11 identical backgrounds, but the age difference of, say, 49 and 12 61, there's a much higher probability that the person at age
13 61 would be found disabled, and the person who's under the age
14 of 50, because of the consideration of age as a factor of 15 disability --

16 BY MR. BAKER:

17 Q Is it a difficult definition to meet?

18 A It is. It's a very difficult definition of 19 disability to meet because you have, not only a physical
20 component that you have to meet, there's an earning component
21 that you also have to meet, based on your ability to perform
22 job skills.

23 Q And did Enrique Rodriguez meet that criteria?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And was he rendered totally disabled by the federal

1 government?

2 A He was.

3 Q After going through that process that you've 4 described?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And is it an intensive process?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And was that the entirety of your basis for 9 determining that Enrique Rodriguez was totally disabled?

10 A No. It was one of the pieces of the --

11 Q Tell the judge what pieces.

12 A Well, I've reviewed the medical records, noted the 13 diagnosis, complex regional pain syndrome. You know, that's a
14 very nasty little condition to try and rehabilitate somebody
15 from, you know, due to the impact of pain on daily functioning
16 and the inability of us to get a person to the point where 17 they can function at some consistent level. That's sort of, I
18 guess, a roundabout way of saying if we can get somebody who 19 can function four hours a day, five days a week, consistently,
20 then we've got a good chance of starting them back on 21 employment, you know. But if that four hours comes every 22 third day or second day or fifth day, or three times a month
23 that they can work, and it's not predictable, unless they have 24 some highly unusual job skills, their chances of getting them
25 back to employment are not good. In Enrique's case, the

1 impact of the complex regional pain syndrome, I felt, was a
2 significant factor in terms of creating impairment, you know,
3 functionally as well as a disability reason and function,
4 interact, you know, replace. Certainly, significant amounts
5 of various types of medication, you know, that he was and has
6 been -- you know, I felt that are more probable on that basis.
7 There was not a reasonable probability that we could
8 successfully rehabilitate him.

9 Q And is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of 10 professional probability that indicates Enrique Rodriguez was 11 totally disabled?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Now, once you determined that he was disabled, did
14 he set about to calculate lost handling?

15 A I did.

16 Q What materials were you provided to calculate the 17 lost handling?

18 A I was provided the tax returns, three of them, from
19 1999, 2001 and 2004.

20 Q Are you familiar with the fact that those tax
21 returns were filed in April -- filed in 2009 or 2010?

22 A Yes.

23 Q What impact would that have on your calculation, if
24 anything?

25 A I took the tax returns to be reflective of his

1 vocational activity in those years. They were apparently
2 filed, and they did report income, business income, during
3 those years.

4 Q Do you also look at information regarding gross
5 sales?

6 A I did.

7 Q Could you explain to the judge what the totality of 8 that information is?

9 A Sure. Mr. Rodriguez has been through most of his 10 life, with a couple of years of exception, self-employed, you
11 know, buying and selling houses, building -- finding 12 fixer-uppers, repossessed houses or houses going into 13 repossession. This was, of course, before the current 14 economic conditions that we're in now. So he'd find 15 distressed properties, buy them, fix them up, you know, and 16 flip them and resell them. In terms of the gross sales, in 17 2004, he had reported $401,954, in 2001 $144,400 in gross, and 18 in 1999, 286,000 in gross sales in those years. But of 19 course, that doesn't reflect his income. But it does show, 20 you know, a fair amount of activity that he was doing to 21 generate income.

22 MR. BAKER: Okay. Your Honor, can I approach the bench,
23 please?

24 THE COURT: Sure.

25 MR. BAKER: I've given Mr. Ward some charts for Mr.

1 Dinneen and let me just make sure that --

2 THE COURT: Thank you.

3 MR. BAKER: We will refer to those charts in a little
4 bit.

5 MR. WARD: I'll object to these. I'll put it on the 6 record, whenever Your Honor pleases.

7 MR. BAKER: Okay. Another thing is, at least for now,
8 Your Honor, until foundation is made merely for demonstrative
9 purposes, the same as if he had walked up in front of a jury
10 and drawn charts on - on the board.

11 THE COURT: Okay. There's not a motion to admit this 12 item yet.

13 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry, Your Honor?

14 THE COURT: There's not a motion to admit this item yet,
15 Mr. Ward.

16 MR. WARD: Right. That's why I wanted to get up and say
17 I'll make a motion at the appropriate time.

18 THE COURT: Sure.

19 BY MR. BAKER:

20 Q And by the way, was information on some of these 21 charts information gotten from most of this trial, trial
22 testimony?

23 A Relating to the exhibits?

24 Q Yes.

25 A Yes.

1 Q And you used the information that you found in the 2 course of the trial to, not manufacture, but to produce these 3 charts?

4 A Some of them, yes. The ones dealing with the cost
5 of medicines and the cost of the spine stimulator. That was
6 information from the trial. The lost earnings charts are --
7 one of them is identical to what's in my report, and then one
8 is generated based upon some of the opinions of Dr. Schifini.

9 Q And more specifically, the one that speaks about
10 table one statistical worklife expectancy -- that was produced
11 with your report?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And the second, which would be table two return to 14 work part time -- was that generated specifically from the 15 trial testimony of Dr. Schifini related to that?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Now, you weren't given voluminous documents with 18 respect to your calculations, were you?

19 A No.

20 Q So did you go to any outside sources to attempt to,
21 for lack of a better word, fill the gaps?

22 A I did.

23 Q Could you explain to the judge the methodology that
24 you employed in calculating an average with respect to Enrique
25 Rodriguez?

1           A     Sure. First, from the period of 1999 to 2004, I
2 only had three tax returns. For 2003, 2002 and 2000, I didn't
3 have any tax returns or reported income in those years. The 4 reported business income in 2004, where he had the 400 in 5 gross sales, the reported income was 208,000. Then, where he
6 had the 144,000 in 2001, the reported income was 1,748. And 7 where he had the 286, 286,000 in gross sales in '99, the 8 reported income was 76,513. So quite a bit of variance in 9 those numbers -- you know, I looked at the income as percent
10 in different ways to try and analyze that income, to determine
11 an annual earning capacity and what his skill set were.
12 Earning capacity is, essentially, what a person's ability to 13 generate income is in the labor market.

14                     There are a couple of authors that say earning 15 capacity is the highest earnings that anybody is capable of 16 earning. Yes. Roger Weddington Field [phonetic], in their 17 writing -- and they're pretty prolific in their field --
18 defined earning capacity as the highest ability that 19 somebody's demonstrated. Other authors indicate that you've 20 got to look at the skills, the labor market and what those 21 skills are worth in determining earning capacity. And I did
22 both. I looked at what Enrique had done. He did some of the 23 repairing on these properties on his own. I would classify it
24 as some of the easier repairing, you know, not major. And he
25 was selective in picking properties that didn't need major

1 repairing, medic repair, you know, to get them in a salable
2 shape. But he had more skills than that, because he was
3 finding the properties, identifying it, negotiating with 4 lenders, you know, a variety of different things related to 5 the buying and selling, as well as, you know, doing the work.
6 So I looked at real estate sales. I looked at real estate
7 broker. But he'd never been licensed in either one of those.

8 Q What are you looking at again?

9 A That's a good question, actually, that. We look at 10 different databases to find out what earning capacity is. The 11 one I predominantly use is one push by the Economic Research
12 Institute, which uses surveys, not only from the Bureau of 13 Labor and Statistics, but also private surveys. They're the 14 company that the Fortune 50 and Fortune 500 go to if they
15 decided they wanted to open an engineering company in Vegas.

16 They go to ERI to determine, you know, what are we 17 going to have to pay for engineering, help and managers in Las 18 Vegas. So it's a fairly widely used database. I decided not
19 to use the ones related to real estate because he never had a
20 real estate license or a broker's license. I ultimately 21 looked at handyman, and thought that was a reasonable
22 consideration. And I also looked at the Department of Labor
23 statistics, agency education to see what the average earnings
24 for a man at his educational level would be. And I looked at 25 all those, and eventually decided to take the average of the

AVTranz

1 three years of earnings that I had over a six year period. So
2 I treated three years as zero earnings.

3 Q Meaning that when you did an average over six years,
4 for those years not reporting any income, you averaged in as
5 zero?

6 A Yes. I divided the total, essentially the total for 7 the three years, I divided by six -- may be a simpler way to 8 say that. And eventually, I decided to use that figure.
9 Handyman was about 35,000 a year, 35,000 and change. I find
10 that exact figure for --

11 Q That was through the database?

12 A That was the ERI database. Right. The average
13 earnings by education for a person of his age, according to 14 the Bureau of Labor and Statistics, was about 55,000. And 15 averaging his actual earnings over the six year period was 16 about 47,000. And ultimately, I looked at that and said that 17 looks to me to be the most reasonable figure to use. I was 18 hesitant to use handyman because it discounts a significant
19 area that he had skills in, and I was hesitant to use real
20 estate broker and real estate agent. They were higher, but 21 seeing that he was never licensed, I didn't think that that 22 would be an appropriate figure to use. And there is no data
23 on house flippers, in terms of what their earning capacity is.
24 It simply doesn't exist. The Bureau of Labor and Statistics
25 doesn't collect it, and ERI doesn't collect it. It's probably

AVTranz

1 just too small and too diverse a database for anybody to try
2 and collect that data.

3 Q Okay. And just so I'm sure I'm not getting 4 confused, is it fair to say that you've used three bases for
5 determining his earning capacity, one being the tax records,
6 the second being the ERI database and the third BOL
7 statistics?

8 A Correct.

9 Q Is that fair?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And when you did the average with respect to his 12 taxable income that you saw on the tax forms, how did it fall
13 with respect to the ERI database and the BOL statistics for 14 people of his age, experience and education?

15 A Well, it was higher than handyman, which I felt was 16 appropriate. It was lower than the average earnings of 17 individuals of his age, which I also felt was appropriate
18 because of those periods of time where there weren't reported
19 work. And it was substantially lower than real estate brokers
20 and real estate salespeople. But again, he didn't fit in 21 totally to those categories. So I felt that using the actual
22 earnings that were reported as income from his business
23 activity, over a six year period, would be a reasonable
24 approximation of what his annual earnings ability would be.

25 Q Is it an accepted methodology in forensic economics

AVTranz

1 to test empirical data against statistical means such as the
2 ERI database and the BOL information?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And is that what you did in this case?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And didn't the number fall right into the mean?

7 A Yes. Excluding the real estate broker and real
8 estate salespeople, it's probably a little bit above the 9 35,000, 55,000, 47s. So it's a little bit above what the mean
10 between those three figures would be.

11 Q So in a scientific methodology, does that show an 12 acceptable projection of the amount?

13 A I believe it does. Yes.

14 Q Is that within a reasonable degree of professional
15 probability?

16 A It is.

17 Q Now, on table one, you set up a statistical worklife
18 expectancy. But before we get to that, when you were talking
19 about the Fields and Woods definition, you could have actually 20 selected the 208,000 he made in one year and used that as his 21 earning capacity?

22 A Yes.

23 Q That would have been a little bit too cute, though,
24 wouldn't it?

25 A I don't know if I would classify it as too cute.

1 Given the significant variance in earning capacity here, I
2 mean, there have been countless times when I've used the year
3 before an injury -- earnings, to be demonstrative of earning
4 capacity. You know, in this case, I didn't think it would be
5 demonstrative because we had such huge variability in terms of 6 income. Little closer range in the gross income, but from 7 1,700 to 200,000 in his actual reported business income, you
8 know, a huge range. So I didn't feel that using the 2008 from 9 2004, the year before he got injured, would be reflective of 10 what his future earnings ability would be, albeit there are 11 authors that say that's the best figure to use. And at times,
12 I've certainly agreed with that. The last year before an 13 injury is a good figure to use to establish earning capacity.

14 Q And before you go through the chart with the Court,
15 you've dealt with people who flip real estate before?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And is this variance in income unusual to you in 18 that industry?

19 A No.

20 Q -- characterized

21 A The variances are huge.

22 Q Okay. Well, why don't you take the judge through 23 your chart.

24 A Certainly.

25 Q And for the record, we're looking at table one,

AVTranz

1 statistical worklife expectancy.

2 A Yes.

3 Q The top part of the chart just identifies
4 Mr. Rodriguez, his date of birth, the date that he was
5 injured, his age of -- his age at injury, which was 41.36
6 years, and his worklife at injury. Now, I use a statistical
7 worklife table that was published in the Journal of Legal
8 Economics in 2001. It's the most widely used worklife
9 expectancy table in our field. And essentially, what 10 statistical worklife expectancy means is that we're going to 11 look at the probability that a person may pass away before
12 they leave the labor market, that they may be unemployed due
13 to economic downturns, that there may be a reason that 14 somebody would relocated, wife gets a job and the husband has 15 to move to, you know, a different community. Those types of 16 factors are taken into the development of those tables. You
17 know, so when you find a person in their 40s and you look at 18 their statistical worklife, and you add it to age 61, you
19 shouldn't look at age 61 and think that's the exact age at 20 which he would leave the market. You should look at the 19.86
21 years, and that would be the number of years that he would be 22 expected to work before he left the labor market. But to 23 calculate the value, we add the two together. So it's a way
24 that we account for all of those variables that could have 25 impacted a person. Now, there are other ways to do it. This

1 is the predominant way that most forensic economists do this.
2 You can carry the calculation out to 100 year by year, and
3 calculate the probability of employment, and the probability
4 of death, you know, each year out to age 100, because at the 5 life expectancy tables -- will go out to that age.

6 The product of the calculation, generally, though,
7 is not -- the reason I mentioned that, I read the -- Thomas
8 Cargill's report and his method is the method of calculating 9 out to 100. His age on 6/30/2010, which was 46.96 years. The 10 reason that that date is important is, we always have to 11 select a date where we're going to stop the past losses and 12 start calculating the future losses. And that was the date
13 that I did the original report. And then, his life expectancy
14 of 7804 -- going down to the next column, I began calculating 15 his losses on 1/1 of '05. And I selected that date because in 16 2004, he had 208,000 in earnings.

17 And I looked at that and said, you know, it doesn't 18 really make sense with that high an earnings year, given his 19 earnings pattern, to assign a loss from the original date he 20 was hurt, as often we do. You know, and bring it forward I
21 thought it made much more sense to start the loss in January
22 of '05 due to the high number in my report.

23 So in '05, we have $49,293. That's bringing out
24 $47,000 forward by the employment cost index. Employment cost
25 index is a United States Department of Labor statistic that

1 shows how much wages go up each year. So we're allowing for
2 an increase in wages. And in these years, it was running
3 right around 3 percent. The same thing for --

4 Q It's basically COLA?

5 A Yes. It's COLA, but it also has a productivity
6 factor, you know, because it is based upon reported wage
7 earning. So the '06, the 59,920 is again using the Employment
8 Cost Index to bring it forward. You know, the '07, the 9 52,702, in '08, the 53,967. And now, in 2009 and 2010, we're
10 getting down to under 2 percent, about 1.5 percent. Wages
11 started growing at a slower rate, as we've been in this 12 recession.

13 Q Did you calculate for that?

14 A I did. And adjusting for that, and then through the 15 first six months of 2010, it gives you $289,111 in past
16 losses.

17 Q You brought it forward to November. Would that be 18 approximately another 20,000?

19 A Yeah. Well, it's really -- the November period is 20 really accounted for at this point in a future loss. And it
21 would make a small difference to bring it forward to --

22 Q Okay so, the difference from June to now is taken
23 out in the future wage loss calculation.

24 A It is, in this. It is.

25 Q And what is your calculation as to the total past

1 losses that Enrique Rodriguez suffered?

2 A 289,111.

3 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of
4 professional probability?

5 A It is.

6 Q Let's talk about -- and it's really too sad to see
7 how present value is working these days, but I think that the 8 Court's not even going to have to hear present value anytime
9 soon, because -- but would you explain to Her Honor the 10 technology with respect to calculating future earnings?

11 A Sure. In calculating future loss, Your Honor, you
12 have to look at what wage increase is like during the future
13 over a period of time. In this case, approximately 15 years
14 or so. You know, there are a variety of different ways that 15 you can look at it. There are forecasted growth rates that 16 you can look at from the Department of Labor.

17 Q Before you start your discounting discussion,
18 though, is the number that you used as a total future loss
19 before discounting simply applying the average income loss per 20 year and projecting that into the future?

21 A It is. But it's both grown and discounted to 22 present value, so the number that you have under the present
23 value calc -- shows those figures in present value.

24 Q Okay sorry for interrupting, discuss --

25 A So you know, the -- when I did this, the current

AVTranz

1 employment cost index was 1.7 percent. And it's since moved
2 up very slightly to 1.9. So we're increasing his income by
3 what the current employment cost index is. One of the reasons
4 I used current rates deals with discount rates. And back in
5 June, the rates that we used to discount by were subtracting a
6 value to represent interest that could be earned, with the 7 rates of return on five, ten and 30 year United States
8 treasuries.

9           We use treasuries because they're a very safe
10 investment. We know that hopefully, the United States
11 government is going to be there to pay the interest on those 12 treasuries. We use current rates because when an award is 13 made -- and there's case law that speaks to this, it's 14 invested at a point in time, at the current available rates,
15 not at a forecasted rate, not at a historical average rate,
16 but at the rate that is then currently available.

17           Dr. Cargill and I disagree on that. I couldn't
18 glean from his current report exactly where he was right now
19 with discount rates. In the past, he's used a historical 20 average which has been around 6 percent, to discount buy. And 21 you can't, by argument with him -- and I'm sure he'll tell you
22 his arguments with me -- is that you can't discount by 6
23 percent when you can't go into a bank and get 6 percent on 24 your interest. If you're going to discount by a factor that 25 reasonable approximates what a person can get in interest,

1 have a valid figure. So anyway, we're using current rates in
2 June of this year. That yielded the present value of the 3 $679,723 of the future lost income. And referring to the 4 bottom of the chart, add those two together -- the $968,834.
5 That's the combination of the past losses plus the present
6 value of losses over the statistical period that he would be 7 expected to work.

1 Q Could you refer to the next table, please? Now, you
2 were provided, which is table two, to work part time?

3 A Yes.

4 Q You were provided with Dr. Schifini's trial
5 testimony. Is that correct?

6 A I was.

7 Q And you say, basically, me trying like heck to get a
8 spinal cord stimulator for Enrique. Is that fair to say?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And Dr. Schifini commented that perhaps, with the 11 spinal cord stimulator, the reduction in his knee pain, even 12 given some of the lumbar problems that you have in the 13 medications and beyond, that perhaps, you could do some 14 part-time work and referred to a vocational rehabilitation
15 expert?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. And that's you, isn't it?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Okay. Did you do a calculation with respect to the 20 possibility that he would be returned?

21 A I did, because Dr. Schifini was -- I didn't see him
22 testify. I just read his testimony. But he seemed pretty
23 clear in his testimony, that with a spine stimulator, there
24 would be a reduction in pain medication, as well as a
25 reduction in pain. So things like stamina, the ability to do

1 something, should improve. Then if that's going to happen, so
2 I arbitrarily looked at that and said, okay. He's got the
3 spine stim that's got to come in. There's the adjustments
4 that he's got to go through with the various devices over the 5 first year, you know. And I said, well, let's just say in 6 three years, that the spine stim has been able to reduce his
7 pain level, and subsequently reduce his medication at that
8 point. You could do part-time activity. So what this shows,
9 if I can call your attention to just the future losses, past
10 losses stay the same.

11 Q Can I ask you about that for just a second? You're 12 not testifying as to medical probability of returning to the 13 work force. Is that fair to say? You're just saying that if 14 the Court finds that he can return to the workforce, you would 15 give him some direction as to what his anticipated losses
16 would be?

17 A Yes. So you know, so this would assume that he has 18 three years of continuing medical treatment where he can't 19 work. And at the end of that three years, he goes back to 20 work but earns half of what he used to. And then, that 21 continues over the remainder of his worklife expectancy. So
22 it reduces the loss because now, we're saying there's going to
23 be income in the future. And that reduced the future loss
24 from 679,723 to 422,592, if he is able to return to work as a
25 result of the intervention with a spine stimulator.

1 Q So in the event he's able to return to work on a
2 part-time basis, his past losses would be the same. is that
3 fair to say?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And his future losses for 422,592?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Losses at 711,703?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of
10 professional probability?

11 A Yes. If the spine stim is successful.

12 Q And the information gathered on this chart was 13 believed from your reading of Dr. Schifini's trial testimony
14 in this matter?

15 A Yes.

16 MR. BAKER: I move to admit table two, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Any objection?

18 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Table two will be admitted next in order,

21 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

1 A We have.

2 Q Now, you also went through Dr. Schifini's trial
3 testimony and gleaned from that, some future medical losses
4 that he testified to a reasonable degree of medical
5 probability that Enrique Rodriguez would incur?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And is that continued on future medical care cost,
8 table A?

9 A It's the one where it's Dr. Schifini's trial
10 testimony. I just want to make sure we're on the same one.
11 We have the --

12 MR. BAKER: I apologize. Can I approach, Your Honor?

13 THE COURT: Sure.

14 BY MR. BAKER:

15 Q Is that what I'm looking at?

16 A That's the spine stim. Sorry. I was looking --

17 Q Why don't we start with the spine stimulator?

18 A Uh-huh.

19 Q And if you could take the judge through your 20 opinions, please?

21 MR. WARD: And may I object, Your Honor?

22 THE COURT: Sure.

1 month ago and was asked about his opinions, and opinions on
2 this topic were not offered. He was asked if he was going to
3 have additional opinions, that we would like to have them so
4 that we could do further deposition. In addition to which,
5 when I asked him about the issues of the life care plan, which 6 is what this is a part of, his answer at page 86 was, "I would
7 leave the medical issues to Kathy Hartman (Phonetic) in 8 relation to the life care plan. She makes various 9 recommendations within the life care planning area. There are 10 those opinions contained in her report, and I would not
11 respond to these." So I've had no opportunity, nor has this 12 witness been qualified as a life care planner. And he is 13 testifying or will be testifying as to items that the doctor
14 sat, from the witness stand, and offered testimony that we'd
15 never heard before about -- maybe it's going to cost something
16 about this. And now, it's being transmitted into a life care
17 plan. And I object for all of those various reasons.

18 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Baker?

19 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, first, none of the doctors in the 20 case were deposed, so if you want to find out their opinion,
21 you would probably ask them, wouldn't you?

22 Second of all, I am not -- this is not, as counsel
23 said, anything that was continued in the life care plan. This
24 is simply outside the life care plan. He testified,
25 Dr. Schifini, from the stand, over objection. And that

AVTranz

1 testimony was found by the Court.

2           And third, I know the Court knows, but I'd like to
3 respectfully point out that N.R.S. 50.285 says, "The facts or 4 data in a particular case upon which an expert bases an
5 opinion or inference, may be those perceived or made known to 6 him at or before the hearing." And I would just ask the Court
7 to not let him use that. So on the basis that the doctor was 8 never deposed, you can't claim any sort of surprise. These 9 opinions were all by Dr. Schifini. They do not fall within 10 the life care plan. Schifini never said that he wasn't going 11 to testify with respect to that. And N.R.S. 50.285 very 12 specifically allows him to come to opinions for things he's 13 heard at the hearing.

14           MR. WARD: And the doctors were not deposed because there
15 was a life care plan stating what all of the future medical 16 expenses would be for this plaintiff.

17           THE COURT: Well, you know, frankly, I guess you take 18 your chances if you don't depose a witness, and then you don't 19 know what he's going to testify at trial. But that's beside 20 the point. With respect to your objection, it's my 21 understanding that these pages have to do with testimony that 22 Dr. Schifini gave in court the other day. Is that right,
23 Mr. Baker?

24           MR. BAKER: And only those.

25           THE COURT: So objection is noted for the record.

1 Overruled.

2 BY MR. BAKER:

3 Q Would you please take the Court through, really, all
4 you're doing here is you're discounting numbers put into
5 evidence by Dr. Schifini. Is that fair to say?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And again, we're not speaking about any issues of 8 causation or otherwise. It's a mathematical calculation?

9 A That's correct.

10 Q Could you please take the Court through?

11 A Sure. What I did, Your Honor, is I went through 12 Dr. Schifini's trial testimony in relation to where he placed 13 the cost for various things, and also what we refer to as 14 periodicity, which means when is it going to happen, and 15 calculated the present value based upon those. There are a
16 couple of minor differences in, you know, one area. He had --
17 and I can find it here -- you know, he had a replacement
18 period that would exceed life expectancy.

19 Q You said that he'd need four replacements --

20 A If we need four replacements every ten years, then
21 you know, the last one would actually be after his statistical
22 life expectancy. So I made that adjustment, feeling that I
23 couldn't testify as an economist to an issue that
24 statistically, would be after the probability of life. So --
25 but that was really the only difference between this. Was the

1 one that exceeded life expectancy. Other than that, I looked
2 at what he said, what he said things cost, when he said they
3 would happen, or how many times they would happen. And we
4 calculated the present value of those based upon the item and
5 when it would occur.

6 Q Okay.

7 A And in doing that, you know, if we take the first
8 item, the original spinal cord stimulator --

9 Q Future medical cost, table A?

10 A Table A. Yeah. If I can draw Your Honor's
11 attention to the total and the present value, they're the same
12 in this chart because that's expected to occur within the next
13 year. So there's really no reason to adjust that figure.
14 Going down to the next item, the programming fees, four times
15 during the first year after battery replacement, then every
16 four years once thereafter. And you'll notice the total cost
17 if 16,200. And the present value is 14,647. The footnotes
18 that you'll notice, following that footnote three, tells you
19 what we used to grow that by. And in this case, we used the 20 medical consumer price index, professional fees which were 2.4
21 percent, you know. So we're growing that at 2.4 percent. And 22 the discount rates for footnote number 11 -- and those were 23 footnote -- those were discount rates when I did this chart as 24 of yesterday. Those were the rates on the treasuries that 25 were quoted there, that we're discounting by. So the next

AVTranz

1 item again is a replacement of the battery pack every four
2 years, the 22,000, the total and present value, you know. If
3 we can go to the third item, hospital fees --

4 Q Yeah. What's going on there?

5 A Yeah. This is what I want to draw everybody's
6 attention to. You know, we have a total cost of $70,000, but
7 the present value of it goes up. If you look at the footnote,
8 you'll see that hospital fees are increasing at 6.2 percent.
9 And hospital fees, traditionally in the medical consumer price
10 index, are way above inflation. It's one of the major areas
11 of healthcare issues, because hospital fees are increasing so
12 fast. Anything done in a hospital is tremendously expensive.
13 and those costs go up every year. Unfortunately, you know,
14 that rate of increase is higher than what you can get at the 15 bank, in terms of interest. So it creates a higher present
16 value because you're not earning enough interest to compensate
17 for that high growth rate.

18 Q So you're actually back in time here?

19 A Yeah. And that's -- it is a issue with hospital
20 fees. Most other things, you know, that we look at, you know,
21 there's a discount to present value, a lesser area. But in 22 hospital fees, you know, they are accelerating so fast and 23 continue to accelerate so fast, that they're far outpacing
24 interest. Another part of that is -- we have exceedingly low
25 interest rates now, and with the Federal Reserve announcement

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1 that they're going to be buying more debt yesterday, those
2 rates are going to be going down even further in the next year
3 or two. What essentially happens is, the Federal Reserve goes
4 to a bank and says, hey, we'll buy a bunch of your loans. We
5 want these loans. And the bank says, fine. We'll sell them
6 to you. And now, all of a sudden, the bank has more cash to 7 lend out to the community because the Fed has bought those 8 loans. And that drives interest rates down, in an attempt to 9 stimulate the economy. This came out just yesterday and said
10 that they're going to be buying up loans again. So that will 11 further accelerate this trend, you know, at least in the short
12 term.

13 Q You saw the stock market bottomed out, lost 180
14 points in response to that, huh?

15 A Yeah. It was up 200 and something, you know, today,
16 you know, as people are going -- are interested that you can
17 get it so low. They're looking for higher rates of return
18 value, going into stocks.

19 Q Have you finished your review of page one?

20 A I have.

21 Q Can you explain to the judge the contents of page
22 two?

23 A Certainly. Page two, again, you know, the surgeon
24 fees -- you can see that it's 122,000 discounted to present
25 value. It's 96. The electrode replacement is 66,000

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 discounted to present value. It's 53,000. The surgeon's
2 fees, 60,000 -- discounted to present value, it's 49. And
3 then, we're back to hospital fees related to the electrode
4 replacement, which has a total of 210,000. And over this
5 period of time, you know, the present value goes up to 6 362,000, which is again an illustration of what's going on 7 with hospital fees.

8 Q Which is an anomaly in discounted?

9 A In discounting, it is. It actually creates what's 10 called a negative discount rate, which means interest is 11 compounded because you're not getting enough interest to keep 12 up with what the increase in hospital costs have been. And 13 that's been a 20 year trend, that hospital costs have been 14 increasing in this 5, 6 and 7 percent, sometimes as high as 15 eight percent annually, range.

16 So it's the prime target, in terms of what's driving
17 medical care costs, is hospital fees. You know, and we're 18 even looking at physician fees and look at medical 19 commodities. You'll see that it's a third of what hospital
20 fees are increasing at.

21 Q So total costs are 829,200?

22 A That's the total cost. And then, the present value,
23 you know, driven by the hospital fees, is $959,227.

24 Q And the reason the present value is more than the 25 total costs is exactly by the nature of what you just

1 the present value of the income stream, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: And this one is based on five, ten and 20
3 year rates?

4 THE WITNESS: It is. And you know, starting -- and I
5 don't remember the exact date. I should apologize for that.
6 But it was, I think, September 1st, we decided to add to all
7 of our calculations a 20 year, you know. We had been using,
8 you know, a five, ten and thirty, you know. And it had been 9 brought to my attention several times that that meant that 10 everything from ten years on was at a 30 year rate, you know.
11 And that was a reasonable criticism, you know. I felt that,
12 you know, when we're calculating values over a longer period
13 of time, using the 30 year rate for everything over ten, you
14 know, is probably not a good thing.

15 And we started, September 1st, including a 20 year,
16 so you'll find five, ten, 20 and 30. So you know, that was a
17 difference that we made on all of our calculations going
18 forward. So to an extent, you know, I've got one foot back
19 the way we used to do it on the income loss. But that's a
20 short period, remember.

21 That's, you know, only about 14 years. So I didn't
22 feel the need to go back and remember to do that calculation
23 because of this change in the methodology. Here, we're 24 calculating the loss over about 30 years for medical 25 treatment. And you know, there -- that certainly comes into

1 play, but the other sharp object thought that. That's a very
2 good question.

3 THE COURT: Well, you know, I just was trying to follow
4 it, and math is not a strong suit for me. And I'm the first
5 to admit it. So I guess my question really is, do you take
6 those different figures and add them together, and then divide
7 by three? Or how do you do that? Just --

8 THE WITNESS: No. For -- we try and keep it simple. You
9 know, for the first five years, we use the five year rate of 10 return. For years, you know, six through ten, we use the ten 11 year.

12 THE COURT: I see. Okay.

13 THE WITNESS: For years 10 through 20, you know, we use
14 the 20 year.

15 THE COURT: Okay.

16 THE WITNESS: And for years 20 to 30, we use the 30 year.
17 When we looked at this change, you know, we also looked at --
18 maybe we ought to go one, two, three, four, going yearly
19 increments. And at some point, I may move to that. It
20 depends upon how narrow the yield curve gets on interest
21 rates. And that's just -- the yield curve is just what's the 22 difference between the three month note and the 30 year note,
23 you know, to bring more accuracy, used in the ten year, that
24 could go out, actually, in some cases, to 40 years, for people
25 younger than Mr. Rodriguez. You know, it made sense that we

1 not have that long a period of time, so we started including
2 the formula.

3 THE COURT: I don't know, Mr. Baker, if you had any 4 follow-up based on my questions, but I appreciate the 5 clarification.

6 MR. BAKER: No, Your Honor. I'm just now confused as to
7 why I move to object. Did I move to admit future medical care
8 costs, table A, spinal cord stimulator, pages one and two?

9 THE WITNESS: I believe you did.

10 THE COURT: Yes.

11 MR. BAKER: And based on --

12 THE COURT: Yes. They were admitted over counsel's
13 objection.

14 MR. BAKER: I don't know if this is a second copy of 15 this. I'm confused. I'm sorry.

16 THE COURT: So this table A, future medical costs, is a
17 two page document.

18 BY MR. BAKER:

19 Q Now, there's also a page for medical care costs,
20 table B. Is that correct?

21 A Yeah. I don't believe we called it B. I think we 22 left it I. But it's the drug and supply. Oh, B. Yep.
23 You're right. Sorry. I'm getting ahead of myself here.

1 Dr. Schifini?

2 A It is.

3 Q Okay. Could you -- I'd like to move this along just
4 a little faster for the Court. So if you could just tell us
5 what's present on this, it's the fusion, pre-fusion MRI for 6 level district RAM and selective nerve repley injections, all
7 selected by Dr. Schifini. Is that right?

8 A Yeah. On this one, you know, these items that he
9 talked about, we couldn't put an exact period to, you know.
10 He just says there are going to be future care needs, but he 11 doesn't really come out clearly and say exactly when it's 12 going to occur. And that creates a technical problem in 13 calculating present value because if you know when something
14 is going to occur in the future, then you can calculate that 15 value to a certain degree. When you don't know, you have no
16 way to calculate it. So I included this chart because he 17 included -- Dr. Schifini included it in his testimony, as to 18 things that were going to need to occur. But it's not
19 calculated in present value. It's just simply added up,
20 because I couldn't glean from his testimony where, in 21 Mr. Rodriguez's future life, those events would happen.

22 Q So you provided a range?

23 A Well, the range was provided by Dr. Schifini, you
24 know, because he said for example, in the total knee
25 replacement, you know, he says one to two in lifetime. Okay?

AVTranz

1 And that created a range because it might be one. You know --
2 and if it's one, it's 103,000. If it's two, it's 207,000.

3 Q So you provided for the Court, the lowest, most 4 estimated -- or highest, most estimated available from 5 Dr. Schifini's testimony?

6 A I did.

7 Q And was the total range that you discussed $432,540
8 to $686,392?

9 A It was.

10 Q And is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of 11 professional probability?

12 A It is.

13 MR. BAKER: Move to admit, as next in order, future
14 medical care costs, table B, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: Mr. Ward?

16 MR. WARD: Your Honor, in addition to all the other
17 objections that I have made, I would like to point out -- I
18 would like to object on the basis that these figures are 19 unspecific, that Dr. Schifini is not a surgeon who's going to 20 do these kinds of surgeries, and I think there's a lack of 21 foundation for the information that has provided -- I don't 22 think Dr. Schifini gave, from the witness stand, $103,752 for 23 a knee replacement. The rest are all just general sort of 24 numbers and I think there's a lack of foundation and a lack of 25 specificity.

1 MR. WARD: In addition to which, these are not previously
2 disclosed.

3 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

4 MR. BAKER: It's my simple argument, Your Honor,
5 Dr. Schifini on the stand -- the Court with a sufficient
6 foundation for his opinions. Mr. Dinneen has actually
7 testified -- the Court no doubt noticed my collection of trial
8 testimony with respect to the total knee replacement. That 9 was the number I went over with Dr. Schifini from their life
10 care plan.

11 THE COURT: Objection is noted for the record.
12 Overruled. The item will be -- is this one page?

13 MR. BAKER: It's one page.

14 MR. WARD: It's one page.

15 THE COURT: Item is admitted, next in order.

16 [Plaintiff's Exhibit 81 Received]

17 BY MR. BAKER:

18 Q Dr. Schifini, trial testimony --

19 A Yes?

20 Q Is this what I went over with Dr. Schifini, certain 21 medications that were contained in the life care plan?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And it's the total discounted to present dollar
24 value?

25 A It is.

1 Q $199,119?

2 A It is.

3 Q And is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of 4 professional probability?

5 A It is.

6 MR. BAKER: Okay. Your Honor, I would move to admit
7 Dr. Schifini's trial testimony, table one, drugs and supplies.

8 THE COURT: That's a two page item. Right?

9 MR. BAKER: It is two pages.

10 THE COURT: Any objection, Mr. Ward?

11 MR. WARD: Yes. Object. Lack of foundation for these 12 specific costs and in terms of how they were disclosed and 13 what the amounts are.

14 THE COURT: Well, didn't Dr. Schifini give this testimony
15 during the course of the trial?

16 MR. WARD: This information, the foundation for this
17 information, was never laid.

18 THE COURT: I think you made a previous objection similar
19 to that one at the time Dr. Schifini testified. Objections
20 overruled, noted for the record. This item will come in. The 21 Court notes it's two pages, Plaintiff's next in order.

1 Q I'd like to talk to you -- you reviewed
2 Dr. Cargill's report?

3 A I did.

4 Q And did you note in Dr. Cargill's report, where he
5 spoke about that, and Enrique would probably not make money as 6 a real estate flipper because of the real estate market now?

7 A Yes. I saw that.

8 Q Do you agree with that?

9 A Well, first, Dr. Cargill has previously testified
10 that he's not a vocational expert. Second, there are a wealth
11 of skills that he has, absent this injury, that would be very 12 useful in the labor market, not the least of which is, banks
13 are hiring people like Enrique, and giving them 50 homes, go
14 out and look at these homes, tell us which ones you think we 15 should sell, which ones might, with minor repair, have an 16 increase in value, which is right within his skillset. Plus,
17 now there's probably more opportunity for flipping homes than 18 there's ever been in the market. So first, I don't believe 19 that Dr. Cargill has the skill set to evaluate vocational 20 skills. Second, there -- if Enrique was able bodied -- I hate
21 that term -- at this point, and able to resume his previous 22 career, he could certainly look at, you know, these 23 opportunities that are available with banks. There are some 24 hedge funds that are attempting at this point to do the same
25 thing. They're going to banks and saying, okay. You've got

1 100 homes. We think we can buy them and make money out of
2 them. We want to make a deal on those 100 homes. They're
3 hiring people to then go out and look at the specific houses,
4 to make sure that we've all seen the reports on these
5 foreclosed homes. The toilets are gone. The sinks are gone.
6 There's much damage. They've left the water running when they
7 walked out, so nobody was there for two weeks. So everything,
8 including the floor, is ruined. And so, they're hiring people
9 to go out and take a look at houses, and saying, sell this 10 one. Sell this one. Sell this one. This one needs a lot of 11 repair, you know, and helping sort out those issues. So I
12 think his skills are just fine in this tough market. I don't 13 see a reason to reduce his earning capacity due to the current 14 market.

15 Q And in fact, his skill set is exactly what's 16 required to be successful in this market?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Are all of your opinion stated to a reasonable
19 degree of professional probability?

20 A They are.

21 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I pass the witness.

22 THE COURT: Very well. Mr. Ward?

19 A She's a nurse that does life care plans and works
20 with us.

21 Q And how long have you been working with Katherine
22 Hartman?

23 A Over ten years.

24 Q Okay. And she has more initials behind her name

2 Q T.S.N.?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And C.C.N.?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And you've had occasion to work with her for ten
7 plus years?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Fairly closely?

10 A Yes.

11 Q She know what she's doing?

12 A Yes.

13 Q She a competent life care planner?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Do you know what she does in doing life care plans?

16 A I have general knowledge of it, but I'm not a life
17 care planner.

18 Q I understand you're not a life care planner, but you
19 know what she does to do life care plans, don't you?

20 A In some areas, yes.

21 Q Okay. You know that she talks to doctors?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And you know she talks to hospitals?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And she talks to providers of equipment?

3 wants to do it right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And in your experience, she does it right?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And she knows what she's talking about?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Do you have an opinion as to whether she knows the 10 difference between a stimulator battery and a Duracell
11 battery?

12 A I do. I saw that in Dr. Schifini's testimony.

13 Q Well, he kind of maligned your partner, didn't he?

14 A Well, he didn't have very nice things to say about
15 your life care planner, either. He didn't like either life
16 care plan. But I do know the difference, you know, between 17 those two.

18 Q Okay. Well, do you think Katherine Hartman knows
19 the difference between these two?

20 A I believe she does.

21 Q Okay. Now, when I took your deposition, you gave me
22 numbers from a life care plan. Isn't that correct?

23 A I did.

2 A Yes.

3 Q And you thought that her life care plan was correct.
4 Right?

5 MR. BAKER: Objection, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: I'm sorry?

7 MR. BAKER: He's not a life care planner. He can't 8 testify to whether the contents of her life care plan, in 9 terms of its actual contents, was correct or not correct.

10 THE COURT: Well, I'll ask you to rephrase. But I'd like
11 some clarification because he keeps referring to Ms. Hartman

13 THE WITNESS: No, Your Honor. She's not.

14 MR. WARD: I tried to correct that because I realize I
15 was making a mistake. What I'm not -- I'll correct that.

10 A She does -- the contents of the life care plan are 11 developed by her. My portion would be calculating the present
12 value.

13 Q Correct. And you're retained -- your company is 14 retained by attorneys, among other things, to do work for

16 A Yes.

17 Q And in this instance, your company was retained to 18 prepare a life care plan and to price it, and to do a
19 vocational rehabilitation, too?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And do present value calculations?

22 A Yes.

2 Q And you knew she was doing it?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And you wouldn't have her doing it for your company
5 if you didn't think she knew what she was doing, would you?

6 A No.

7 Q And you thought, when you put the numbers to this,
8 the present value to it, you thought that her numbers were
9 accurate. Otherwise, you wouldn't have used them?

10 A Yes. That's correct.

11 Q Okay. Now, you looked at her life care plan to do
12 your present value numbers. Isn't that correct?

13 A I did.

14 Q And when you testified, when I took your deposition,

16 care plan to price it. Correct?

17 A I did. You know, my hesitancy there was, in her
18 deposition, there was another document, you know, that she 19 produced, that we didn't do the present value calculations,
20 you know, on.

21 Q Right.

2 Dr. Vayer [phonetic]. Do you see that?

3 MR. WARD: May I approach the witness, Your Honor?

4 THE COURT: Sure.

5 BY MR. WARD:

6 Q See that?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And what does she have with -- what is it she 9 has that she talked to Dr. Vayer about?

10 A Well, without reading the narrative, you know,
11 what's here is six additional with spine stimulator placement.
12 And then, she has a CPT code, you know, and a 600-per-visit C
13 table K for surgical consults, that the total cost was 3,600.
14 And the present value at that time was 4,961.

15 Q Right. Right. What I just wanted was, and the 16 reason I asked my question so specifically is, this was with 17 respect to Dr. Vayer and the spinal cord stimulator. Isn't 18 that correct?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And the cost that she has here for Dr. Vayer, to 21 which she shows is going to be the one placing the spinal cord
22 stimulator, you have the present value of $2,961. Isn't that
23 correct?

2 THE COURT: Sure.

3 THE WITNESS: That's the trial. All right. I'm there.

4 ///

5 BY MR. WARD:

6 Q Okay. And that is spinal cord stimulator. Correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And you did the number calculations because the 9 proposal here is for the next 32.77 years?

10 A Well, you know, the 32.77 is the remaining life
11 expectancy. This was done in 2008. But if I can draw your 12 attention to year initiated and year suspended, in looking at 13 the present value and the total figures at that time, it was 14 anticipated that that would be done within the next 12 months.
15 Those figures are neither growing or discounted.

16 Q Okay. Well, this is -- but this says permanent, to 17 be replaced by Dr. Vayer. Isn't that correct?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And it gives that there would be, down here, two 20 times of the permanent. Correct?

21 A I would need to go back to K, you know, and see.

22 Q Yeah. I'm --

23 A I'm not sure what that two means.

24 Q I'm -- let's stay with me here for a moment.

25 A Certainly.

1 Q Let's move to unit cost. It says permanent PE. It
2 says, under frequency, it says permanent to be replaced by
3 Dr. Vayer. Isn't that correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And then, it gives purpose. And then, under unit
6 cost, it has perm, meaning I assume, permanent. Right?

7 A Again, I didn't -- the permanent or -- this is 8 nothing that I would have done, you know. So I guess the 9 short answer is, I would assume, from English, that it says
10 what it says. But I didn't develop this, and would not
11 necessarily testify --

12 Q Okay. It says perm, doesn't it?

13 A It does.

14 Q And then, after that, it has $96,145(2)?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And if we multiply that, we come up, coincidentally,
17 with 192,900 -- $290.00?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And that happens to be the number that's in the next 20 column?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And that's 192,290?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And then, under that, it has elec, E-L-E-C?

25 A Uh-huh.

2 electric, but you assume it does?

3 A I would assume it'd be electrode.

4 Q Electrode?

5 A Yeah.

6 Q Okay.

7 A But --

8 Q Electrode?

9 A -- again, you'd be, you know --

10 Q And it has a $10,310?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And after that, it has five?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And that total is $51,550. Isn't that correct?

15 A It is.

16 Q And under that, it has battery. Correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Okay. And battery's actually spelled out. Correct?

19 A It is.

20 Q So we know battery is battery. Right?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And battery is $4,000. Isn't that correct?

25 that right?

3 A It is.

4 Q And after that, it has remove?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And it has the $9320, and after that it has open
7 paren, two. Correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And coincidentally, if we multiply 9320 by two, we
10 have $18,640. Isn't that right?

11 A There's nothing else in this life care plan that 12 makes any reference to any additional costs for the 13 stimulator. Isn't that true?

14 A You know, I haven't read this life care plan. And 15 my expertise would be responding to growth and discount rates
16 and calculations.

17 Q Okay.

18 A You know, so I guess short of reading it, I am sure
19 you wouldn't misrepresent it to me.

20 Q I would not. And so, if we totaled this, we would 21 come up with about $256,000 in round numbers, plus or minus
22 1,000?

23 A No. I think it'd be more than that. I haven't
24 totaled it, but just of 80, between the two, I think it'd be 25 more around 180 -- or 280,000.

20 A No. I didn't see Dr. Schifini's numbers until I saw

21 Q Okay. And would you tell me -- the income of 22 Mr. Rodriguez for the year 2004 is what?

23 A Well, the recorded business income from his activity
24 was $208,605.

25 Q Okay. And is that your opinion as to what the --

1 his income was?

2 A That's my opinion as to what the reported business
3 income on the tax return is.

4 Q Well, sorry. That's not my question. My question,
5 sir is, is that your opinion as to what his income was?

6 A If that's the reported business income, yeah. Now,
7 certainly, in the remainder of the --

8 Q That's not my question. My question, sir, is that 9 your opinion as to what his income was to a reasonable degree
10 of professional probability?

11 A It's -- I would testify to it as it's what his 12 earnings were. Now, that business income goes through some 13 adjustments in his tax returns, if that's what you're getting 14 at.

15 Q What do you believe his net income to be for the 16 year 2004?

17 A Well, the business income was the 208. The taxable
18 reported income was 192. And the adjusted gross was 200.

19 Q That's for the calendar year, 2004?

20 A It is.

21 Q Okay. These three numbers are --

22 A That's the reported business income from the 23 business.

24 Q Okay.

25 A And the gross that year was 400 and something, 401.

1 Q 192?

2 A The 192 is the taxable income.

3 Q Okay.

4 A Okay.

5 Q And this first one, the gross income was income?

6 A That's business income.

7 Q Business income? Okay. So let's deal with the 8 business income. Is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of 9 professional probability that his business income, in the year
10 2004, was $208,000?

11 A If that's what's reported on the return, yes.

12 Q That's not my question. My question is, is it your 13 opinion that that's what his income is, to a reasonable degree
14 of professional responsibility?

15 A Sure. That's what the business income is.

16 Q Okay. When you say that's what the business income
17 is, you used, in your direct examination, you used the term
18 reported income?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Isn't it true that you don't know if any of this
21 income was reported?

22 A I do know that it was reported.

23 Q Have you received additional information since I
24 took your deposition --

25 A Yes.

1 Q -- that you haven't told me about?

2 A I just received this. It's a letter dated October
3 20th from the tax preparer, indicating that the returns were 4 filed.

5 MR. WARD: Okay. I'd like to make that part of the
6 record.

7 THE COURT: Do we need a copy of that, Mr. Dinneen?

8 THE WITNESS: I don't think we need to, Your Honor. You
9 know, counsel provided it to me, so presumably, he has another
10 copy. I can replace that in my file, just for expediency.

11 THE COURT: Very well.

12 MR. WARD: I'm sorry. But I'm not going to mark it?

13 THE COURT: Not?

14 MR. WARD: Not. Now --

15 THE COURT: I guess he's not going to move to admit it
16 after all.

17 MR. WARD: I'm not going to move.

18 MR. BAKER: Okay.

19 BY MR. WARD:

20 Q Now, when your deposition was taken -- by the way,
21 when does that say they were found?

22 A It doesn't. It just says -- it's short. I can read
23 it.

24 Q No. That's okay.

25 A Okay.

1 Q I just want to know if it says when they were filed.

2 A No. It just says that we reprepared and filed
3 Enrique's tax -- Enrique Rodriguez tax returns for '99, '01
4 and '04.

5 Q Okay.

6 A But it doesn't say when those were filed.

7 Q Right. And you have a tax return that's dated 2004,
8 do you not?

9 A I do.

10 Q I mean, for the year 2004?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And when is it signed?

13 A You know, clearly, November of '09. And I can't 14 make out whether that's a five or an eight. And I think we 15 discussed a little bit of that, that those handwritten numbers
16 were hard to read.

17 Q Okay. So it's November '09. Correct? I mean, of 18 2009?

19 A Yes. November of 2009.

20 Q And you have a tax return for 2001. Is that
21 correct?

22 A I do.

23 Q And when was it -- what was the date on it?

24 A Well, there's -- let me look a little farther. I'm

2 Q So 2001 return is dated '04. Is that correct?

3 A Correct.

4 Q And there's a 1999 return?

5 A There is.

6 Q And when is that dated?

7 A That looks like 11/3 of '09.

8 Q Okay. Now, didn't you meet with Mr. Rodriguez in 9 the year 2008?

10 A I did.

11 Q And didn't you ask him for information to evaluate 12 his income?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And didn't you tell him that you would like to have 15 tax returns from him?

16 A Tax returns is one of the items we look for.

17 Q And didn't you tell him you would like to have 18 Social Security statements?

19 A The Social Securities and others. W-2s are another.

20 Q Okay. Now, I'd like to show you this document.

21 [Counsel confer]

5 THE COURT: Let's wait and see if he does recognize it.

6 THE WITNESS: Sure. You know, this is a sample, you
7 know, of a Social Security statement. It does -- it's not
8 germane to Mr. Rodriguez.

9 BY MR. WARD:

10 Q I didn't suggest that it was.

11 A Okay.

12 Q That's a sample of a Social Security statement?

13 A It is.

14 Q I think it says Wanda Anywhere (Phonetic) or 15 something in the name.

16 A Wanda Worker.

17 Q Wanda Worker.

18 MR. BAKER: I'll just continue to object to foundation,
19 and the fact that that's not the type of document that the 20 Court can take judicial notice of.

21 THE COURT: Noted for the record. Let's see where he

1 Department sends out a similar kind of document each year.

2 Correct?

3 A Yes. You're supposed to get it four months before
4 your birthday.

5 Q Right. To each person?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And when that document comes in, that shows income.

8 Correct?

9 A It shows the reported income through payroll tax
10 withholding.

11 Q Well, it also shows reported income from 12 self-employment tax, does it not?

13 A Not always. It depends upon how the self-employment
14 tax is reported.

15 Q Is there a method in which one can get 16 self-employment and/or Social Security tax payments from the 17 federal government?

18 A You know, that I don't know. It depends on how the 19 income is reported. Earned income, you know, from employment
20 for example, if you hired me and I went to work for your law
21 firm, you would pay me and produce a W-2. and out of those 22 W-2 and quarterly reports, Social Security compiles this 23 report. However, when you get into self-employment and 24 business income, that's a different bailiwick in terms of the 25 reporting of income to the Social Security Administration.

1 Q Well, one has to pay self-employment tax, doesn't
2 one?

3 A Depends on how the income is reported. Some 4 business income is subject to self-employment tax. Some 5 business income is not. And I do not put myself out as an
6 expert in taxation.

7 Q Right. But you are -- you spent a long time
8 affiliated with the Social Security Department, did you not?

9 A I did.

10 Q And you spent a lot of time evaluating tax returns,
11 have you not?

12 A Looking at tax returns to determine income? Yes.

13 Q Right. And you hold yourself out as an expert in
14 economics?

15 A Yes. In forensic economics.

16 Q Right. And you can look at a tax return and see
17 whether the person who filed a tax return claimed to have paid
18 self-employment tax, can't you?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And you've looked at these returns, and they have an 21 allotment for self-employment tax, do they not?

22 A I was confused by exactly whether -- you know, I saw 23 for example, in '04, it was about 67,000 that he paid in 24 income tax. But I was confused by, and couldn't figure out if 25 there was a separate -- it would be about 15 percent holding

1 for the Social Security taxes in that return.

2 Q Well, isn't there a reference in the return to
3 self-employment tax?

4 A Yeah. There is a reference. And it was $16,486.

5 Q So according to the tax return, self-employment tax
6 was paid?

7 A Yes.

8 Q So if self-employment tax was paid, self-employment
9 tax and Social Security are essentially the same, aren't they?

10 A That should end up, eventually, in a Social Security
11 report.

12 Q Right. So you would expect that that would appear
13 in the Social Security statement that's mailed out every year
14 to every person?

15 A Well, it would depend on -- this was filed 11/3 of 16 '09. Usually, you know, they're a year behind. So that 17 probably wouldn't have shown up until next year at some point.

18 Q Well, I'm not talking about any particular year,
19 Mr. Dinneen. I'm talking about in general. You would 20 expect --

21 A I'm sorry. I just misunderstood your question.

22 Q You would expect that, in general, that Social 23 Security -- that self-employment taxes would appear on the 25 A Yes. When the self-employment tax is listed, that

3 Q Right. And you don't know what Mr. Rodriguez's
4 Social Security report says, do you?

5 A No. I've never seen one.

6 Q Because he's never given you one, has he?

7 A No. I've never seen one.

8 Q And you've asked for it, have you not?

9 A You know, I'm sure I probably did.

10 Q Right.

11 A Because I asked for all the list of earnings
12 records, as I previously testified.

13 Q Right. You asked for it in 2008.

14 A Yes. For earnings records.

15 Q And that would be some sort of outside confirmation
16 that, in fact, these taxes were paid, wouldn't it be?

17 A That the taxes -- would be outside confirmation that 18 the taxes were paid? Yes.

19 Q Okay. And you never got that?

20 A No. I have not seen a Social Security report.

21 Q And are the return that you saw for the year 2004 --
22 was actually done, or at least signed, a year after you asked
23 for it. Correct?

3 A I wasn't asking for a return that should have been
4 prepared for three years before. I was asking for earnings
5 information. But clearly, there was a significant delay, you
6 know, in the filing of this return.

7 Q If, in fact, it was filed?

8 A You know, the only -- if in fact it was filed? I
9 mean, I don't -- all I have is the letter that I previously
10 testified to.

11 Q Okay. And you don't know who wrote that letter?

12 A No. I don't know the individual personally or 13 professionally.

14 Q And the letter, if the taxes were filed, that would 15 call for a payment of taxes, would it not?

16 A It would.

17 Q And do you have -- did you get any sort of cancelled
18 checks or anything, indicating that any of the taxes were 19 paid?

20 A No.

21 Q How about for the year back in 1999? Did you get 22 anything from that?

23 A No. All I have is the tax returns.

24 Q And how about from the year 2001? Did you get

1           A     You know, I misspoke. I have some other documents
2 that relate to income, that are backup for the tax returns. I
3 do not have, you know, any other documents such as from the 4 Social Security Administration or, you know, that show how
5 that income was reported.

6           Q     And I'm assuming you haven't gotten any additional 7 documents to back up the tax returns since I took your

9           A     No. Other than the ones that we've discussed in my 10 file, that are closing statements on houses, that type of 11 thing. No.

12          Q     Yeah. Let me just talk about dates and make sure
13 this is clear. I took your deposition a month ago, and you
14 had certain financial information.

15          A     That's correct.

16          Q     And you haven't received anything new since then.
17 Correct?

18          A     Other than the letter from the tax preparer, you

20          Q     The letter from the tax preparer doesn't have any 21 financial information in it, does it?

22          A     It does not.

23          Q     Okay. And you took a look at the information that

1 Q The income from the year 2004?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Now, what is it? Seventy-five percent of the income
4 that you have looked at for the six year period all comes from
5 the year 2004?

6 A I don't know that I ever broke it down as a
7 percentage, but eyeballing it, you know, certainly the 8 majority of it does. Yes.

9 Q Somewhere in the 70, 75, 80 percent -- somewhere in 10 that general range?

11 A You know, I could figure it out.

12 Q It's okay.

13 A Okay.

14 Q Now, let's talk about the year 2004. Now, what is 15 the income that year?

16 A Are you talking about the business gross income? Or 17 are you talking about the business income? Or are you talking
18 about the adjusted gross income?

19 Q Just tell me what you want to tell me and give me
20 the number.

21 A Well, all right. The gross receipts, which is under

3 A Some. Yes.

4 Q Okay. Now, Mr. Rodriguez has told us that he gave 5 you all the information that needed to be done to make all the 6 calculations from all these years.

7 MR. BAKER: Objection. Facts not in evidence.

8 THE COURT: Sustain the objection. Ask you to rephrase.

9 BY MR. WARD:

10 Q Did you ask Mr. Rodriguez for information to back up
11 the claimed income?

12 A I don't remember.

13 Q You don't know whether that's what you asked him for 14 when you met in 2008?

15 A In 2008, I was asking him for, you know, tax
16 returns, W-2s, any documents that would show the income that 17 he had in the preceding years. I don't recall if I asked him
18 for actual back-up information to a tax return for that 19 income. I rarely ask for that, so I think it was just 20 provided to me. I don't think I asked for it.

21 Q Well, you took a look at the information. And how 22 much back-up information did you get in terms of what the 23 gross income was that you're --

24 A You know, without going through these documents,
25 there were some years that there more than others. There were

1 some --

2 Q I'm just talking 2004.

3 A Yeah. Yeah. Without going back and looking at 4 those documents, and segregating them out by year, I don't
5 remember what the amount of the closing statements were.
6 There are various checks that were issued to Mr. Rodriguez,
7 you know, in those years. And I didn't commit all of that to 8 memory.

9 Q Well, I'm not asking you from memory. I'm asking
10 you if you can tell me.

11 A Well, I can. It'll take me a while to do that. But 12 -- because I have not segregated out the checks by year, you
13 know, or the closing statements and attempted to assign them
14 to a year. I took them to be representative of work activity.

15 MR. WARD: Well, I'd like to read from your deposition,
16 from page 65. Your Honor, we have lodged an original of that 17 deposition with the Court.

18 THE COURT: Are you moving to publish the deposition?

19 MR. WARD: I'm asking to -- I'm asking about what I'm 20 going to read from his deposition. yes.

21 MR. BAKER: Is he just going to read from it?

22 THE COURT: Do you have a question for the witness?

23 MR. WARD: Yes. I have a question for the witness. I
24 just asked a question of the witness about -- could he tell me
25 the back-up information for the $401,000 and I want -- and

AVTranz

1 he's told me he can't do it. And so, I want to read from his
2 deposition.

3 THE WITNESS: You know, that's not correct. I didn't --

4 THE COURT: Hold on. Wait a minute. He didn't say he
5 couldn't do it. He said he could do it, but it would take a
6 while. So think you need to follow up with another question
7 before you simply read from his deposition.

8 MR. WARD: Okay.

9 BY MR. WARD:

10 Q Isn't it true that you told me, when we met a month
11 ago, that you had totaled up his income, and it did not total
12 the $401,000 that was claimed?

13 A You know, to tell you the truth, I don't remember.
14 It's not something I did in preparation for this. But I would 15 suspect that to be an accurate statement, because my memory is 16 that I didn't have back-up documents to -- that exactly
17 equaled the gross income for any of the years.

18 Q Well, with respect to 2004, isn't it true that your 19 back-up information only, instead of 401,000, only totaled
20 166,000?

21 A That may be true. I didn't review that for my trial
22 testimony today. I can tell you that it is clear that I do
23 not have total back-up information that equals the amounts
24 that are on the returns, in what I was provided with.

25 Q Okay. And in fact, the back-up information that you

AVTranz

1 have is substantially less than what's claimed on the return.

2 Isn't that true?

3 A I would believe so. Yes.

4 Q Okay. And you didn't do any additional
5 investigation to find out what the income was?

6 A I was told I had everything that was available to 7 me. And that's the extent of it.

8 Q Okay. And what you had, what you had was available
9 to you for the year 2004 -- was information that showed gross
10 receipts of approximately 166,000. That would be $166,058.
11 Isn't that correct?

12 A Again, I don't remember those totals. But you know,
13 I don't have any reason to dispute that the gross income,
14 given the documents that I was provided with, does not equal,
15 you know, the business gross income.

16 Q So can I use the number $166,058 --

17 MR. BAKER: As what?

18 BY MR. WARD:

19 Q -- that you had back-up information for?

20 A Again, I will -- without going back and adding it
21 all up, you know, I'll accept that figure as representative,
22 but I haven't -- but again, I haven't added them up and
23 totaled them for this trial appearance today.

24 MR. WARD: I would like to read from this witness's
25 deposition, page 66, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: I don't know that this is the way to do it,
2 but if it's not too long, I guess you can.

3 BY MR. WARD:

4 Q Page 66, line 24 through page 67, line 1. Question,
5 $166,058 -- and that would be the gross income that you are 6 able to account for. Is that correct? Answer, yes. Does that
7 refresh your recollection as to whether this is the gross
8 income that you were able to account for in the year 2004?

9 A I assume it is. You know, again, I didn't revisit
10 it, but had I had that total, or did I total it then, I would
11 assume that would be correct.

12 Q Okay. And now, isn't it true that you didn't have 13 anything that told you what the expenses were?

14 A There were no itemized expenses. You know, but I do
15 have, for example, there's a cost of goods sold. This is a 16 2001, of 169,717. I do not have any list of what that cost of 17 goods sold was, so --

18 Q How about for 2004? Why don't we stick with 2004
19 for now?

20 A I'm sorry. I am in 2004. Okay?

21 Q Okay. And so what was the cost of goods sold for 22 2004?

23 A The cost of goods reported in the return was 24 169,717. You know, but I don't have records of what that cost
25 of goods sold was, either.

1 Q And you don't have any information about that, other
2 than --

3 A Other than what's in the return? No.

4 Q Okay. And now, the profit -- these are the sales of 5 single family homes?

6 A I understand them to be for the most part. Yes.

7 Q Okay. And the home that he sold in 2004 was his own
8 personal home, was it not?

9 A You know, that I don't know because it's not 10 reported that way in this return.

11 Q Okay.

12 A And income tax was paid on the gross amount, which 13 you know, in the sale of a personal residence, the income tax
14 can be deferred. So it wasn't -- from what I can gather, it
15 wasn't reported as a personal residence sale in this return.

16 Q You don't have any information on what income tax
17 was actually paid, do you?

18 A Other than what's stated here, the 67,000, the 19 15,000 and the self-employment tax and 50,000 in income tax --

20 Q Right.

21 A No. But I don't have a record of, say, a check that 22 was made payable to the Internal Revenue Service.

23 Q You don't have any outside source that confirms what
24 was actually paid, if that return was actually filed. Isn't
25 that true?

1 A That's true.

2 Q It would be relatively easy to get that, wouldn't
3 it?

4 A I don't know.

5 Q You don't know?

6 A I don't. I generally, you know -- if I get tax
7 returns, I get them from counsel. I have not gone
8 independently to the IRS and tried to obtain tax returns that 9 have been filed.

10 Q You're aware that the IRS has a provision that if 11 you lost your tax return and you want to find it, that you can 12 contact them and get a copy?

13 A Yes. I'm aware of that process.

14 Q If it was filed?

15 A If it was filed. Yes.

16 Q And you're aware that you can contact the Social 17 Security Administration and get a copy of your Social 18 Security/self-employment taxes that were paid, if they were 19 paid?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And you understand that that's a relatively simple
22 process?

23 A The Social Security is a relatively simple process.

24 Q Right.

25 A The IRS process, I would assume, is simple, but I've

2 Q Right. And you haven't seen either one of those?

3 A No. I haven't.

4 Q And you're looking at a return that is dated for
5 the year 2004, and claims to have been prepared in the year
6 2009. Is that right?

7 MR. BAKER: This is asked and answered, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Yeah. Sustained.

9 BY MR. WARD:

10 Q And so, you don't have anything that confirms any of 11 these numbers that you have. Isn't that correct?

12 MR. BAKER: That's also asked and answered, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Sustained.

14 BY MR. WARD:

15 Q Well, let's go back to the -- let's go to the year
16 2001. What the information that you have there in 2001 --
17 when was that return signed?

18 A This --

19 Q When was it dated?

20 A This was dated 11/8 of '04.

21 Q Okay. And so, that was what? Three years after the 22 time that it should have been filed?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Okay. And if you -- is that when you believe that 25 was filed?

1           A     You know, all I have is the statement that it was
2     filed. You know, it's the same person, you know, that wrote
3     the letter, that says it was filed. And that's 11/8/04. But
4     I don't have any -- other than the letter, I don't have
5     anything that proves that this was filed.

6           Q     Right. Okay. And the signature on there indicates
7     that it was signed in the year 2004?

8           A     Correct.

9           Q     Which would be three years after -- two years, two 10    years plus after it was due. Correct?

11          A     Yes.

12          Q     And for the back-up information for that year, what 13    are -- what is the claim of the gross from the year 2001,
14    business income?

15          A     The gross receipts were 144,400.

16          Q     Okay. Now, that relates to the sale of a property
17    at 3404 North Fairfax Drive in San Bernardino. Isn't that
18    correct?

19          A     You know, again, I'll accept it because I'm sure
20    that you're telling me what's in my file. But without going
21    and looking for it --

22          Q     I'm telling you what you told me very emphatically

1           A     You know, I don't remember and I don't have a copy
2 of my deposition here. You know, so --

3           Q     You want me to read it to you?

4           A     No. I told you, I accept what you're saying as --

5           Q     Okay. So if he sold the property for $144,400, you
6 wouldn't expect that to be his income, would you?

7           A     No.

8           Q     No. His income would be less than that. Correct?

9           A     Yes.

10          Q     And so, to calculate that income, you'd have to know
11 what he paid for that house?

12          A     Well, I took off of the return, you know, what the 13 reported business income was, which was the 1,748 for that 14 year. And again, he had cost of goods sold at 119, some 15 maintenance and repair that are here. But I do not have,
16 other than what's stated on the return, you know, the back-up
17 information for that.

18          Q     So you have no back-up information whatsoever.
19 Correct?

20          A     You know, again, I have probably -- I don't know --
21 30 sheets, maybe more, of back-up information, but I didn't 22 look at it in preparation for my trial appearance today. But 23 the back-up information is clearly limited in relation to the 24 tax returns.

25          Q     Okay. And to do an actual calculation of how much

1 his income was, you'd have to know how much he paid for those
2 houses?

3 A Well, I accepted the tax return as having reliable
4 information in terms of what the business income was that
5 year. I didn't attempt to go back and to assign, in any year
6 that I had taxes for, what, you know, profit would be assigned
7 to a particular house.

8 Q Okay. Now, the -- your file contains -- you have 9 every job file here. Right?

10 A I do.

11 Q Okay. And it contains Bates number 140?

12 A You know, some of mine, I have Bates numbers on.
13 Some, I don't. So if you could --

14 MR. WARD: Okay. May I approach the witness and show him
15 this document?

16 THE COURT: Sure.

17 THE WITNESS: Do you want me to find that in my file and 18 see if I have it? If you're representing to me that you got 19 it when I gave my deposition, I'll accept that just to save

2 Q That would be you.

3 A It would be.

4 Q Dinneen's job file number 40?

5 A 140. Yes.

6 Q 140? Okay. And does that show expenses with 7 respect to that transaction?

8 A It does.

9 Q What are the expenses that it shows?

10 A It shows property taxes, home warranty, hazard
11 disclosure, commissions, a payoff of a mortgage.

12 Q Okay.

13 A Title fees.

14 Q Right.

15 A Escrow fees, document prep fees, title insurance.

16 Q Right.

17 A A wire that was done, demand Investors Title Company
18 and distributed to investors.

19 Q And who are the investors?

20 A I don't know.

21 Q Okay. It just says investors?

22 A Yes.

3 A I was going through them fairly fast. I probably

5 Q Well, I'm going to ask you to see those. Can you
6 see back mortgage?

7 A I don't see back mortgage interest.

8 Q No? And since I gave you my copy, can I take a
9 look?

10 A Sure.

11 Q The date of this document is when?

12 A 2/17/04.

13 Q And when it says mortgage interest there, does it
14 give dates?

15 A It says, mortgage -- oh, I see what you're saying.
16 It says mortgage interest from 12/1 of '03 to 3/1 of '04,
17 $8,750.25.

18 Q So that would be back mortgage interest, wouldn't
19 it?

20 A I would assume so.

21 Q Right. And how much are the foreclosure fees?

22 A Foreclosure fees were 3,930.

23 Q Okay.

24 A I should probably say that correctly. 3,930.

25 Q Okay. So the foreclosure fees were about $4,000 and

2 A I'm sorry. I was just looking at this document.
3 Interest in arrears? Well, the interest from 12/1 of '03 to 4 3/1 of '04 was 8,750.

5 Q Okay. That's interest in arrears, isn't it? That's 6 a common term that economists use, don't they?

7 A I don't know that economists use it, but it's a
8 common term in real estate.

9 Q Okay. And you're familiar with real estate?

10 A To some degree, yes.

11 Q And that means interest that wasn't paid. Correct?

12 A I would assume it to be. Yes.

13 Q Okay. And now, you were told, I believe, that 14 Mr. Rodriguez sold this house because the market was hot at 15 that time. Is that right? Is that what you were told?

16 A I don't remember.

17 Q You don't remember him telling you that?

18 A Yeah. No. I don't have an independent recollection
19 of that. It's possible he did.

20 Q Okay. And now, based on your experience with real 21 estate investors -- you've dealt with real estate investors in

23 A Some. yes.

24 Q You've evaluated them for purposes of vocational

2 Q And does it bode well for a real estate investor to
3 have a house foreclosed on?

4 MR. BAKER: Objection, Your Honor. Outside of the scope

6 THE COURT: Sustained.

7 MR. WARD: May I voir dire the witness then?

8 THE COURT: Sure.

9 VOIR DIRE EXAMINATION

10 BY MR. WARD:

11 Q Do you not know about what it takes to be a real
12 estate investor?

13 A You know, the real estate investors that I have
14 worked with -- how can I describe this? They're -- generally
15 have not been high income people. You know, and using the 16 term real estate investor can include very sophisticated
17 people that are involved in a lot of high end type of 18 developments, so that term, I'm a little bit concerned about.
19 Now, I think I can answer your question. And the issue of an 20 individual's credit, you know, certainly can affect their 21 ability at times to negotiate deals in real estate. And I
22 think, you know, that's what you were getting at, ultimately.

23 Q Well, how about with respect to getting loans? Real
24 estate investors, unless they have a potful of money
25 somewhere, have to get financing, don't they?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1           A     Yeah.  But in this -- in these years, lending was
2 extremely liberal, you know.  And the ability to get loans in 3 relation to income and past credit is not anywhere near what
4 it is today.  So it was easier with individuals with a poorer
5 credit history to buy houses, either for themselves or as 6 investments, during those years.

7           Q     It would be a lot more difficult today.  Correct?

8           A     It would be more difficult today.

9           Q     So it would make it harder today to be a real estate
10 investor, if you had a foreclosure or more on your record?

11          A     Depending upon how you were dealing with credit,
12 yes.

13          Q     Okay.  And now --

14          A     Are we done with this?  I didn't --

15          Q     Sure.

16          A     I didn't want to mix it up with my stuff.

17          Q     How many hours a week did Mr. Rodriguez work as a
18 real estate investor?

19          A     I don't know.  He didn't know when I talked to him,
20 because some weeks, it was a lot and some weeks, it wasn't
21 much.  It just varied, depending upon what he was doing.  So
22 there is no record of the exact number of hours he worked in
23 those years.

24          Q     Would it be accurate to say that you don't know
25 whether he worked as much as 25 hours a year?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1           A     I don't know the exact hours that he worked, whether
2     -- I mean, I know from these tax returns, they do reflect work
3     activity. But you know, the amount of hours he put in to 4     generate that work activity is unknown.

5           Q     Work activity meaning the purchase and sale of real
6     estate?

7           A     The purchase and sale of real estate. Yes.

8           Q     And you're aware, if this seller's closing statement
9     on this property at 996 Dahlia Court was his personal
10    residence, the income from the sale of his personal residence
11    would not be predictive of how much he would earn in future
12    years, would it?

13          A     I wouldn't consider the proceeds of a personal
14    residence income unless for some reason, it was reported as 15    income.

16          Q     Isn't it always reported as income?

17          A     Reported as income. Yeah. I think I said that 18    poorly.

19          Q     Yeah.

20          A     You know, the gain on a personal residence, income
21    tax can be deferred for up to two years, you know. So there
22    are individuals who will move into a house, fix it up and then 23    move again. And the cost of their labor is then reflected in 24    the proceeds of the sale. And if they're flipping personal 25    residences, it's difficult to figure out how much of the -- in

AVTranz

1 that case, he had a $74,000 distribution to him. What portion
2 of that would be attributable to labor, and what portion of it
3 would be attributable to appreciation --

4 Q So it would be less. It would be less than 74,000?

5 A The labor or the appreciation, yes.

6 Q Right. But do you consider, when someone -- you
7 know a number of people who have sold personal residences and 8 made money on it?

9 A Yes. Both long term and short term.

10 Q Okay. And is that predictive how much a person
11 earns when they sell their personal residence -- is that 12 predictive of how much they'll earn in the future as a real
13 estate investor?

14 MR. BAKER: That's also asked and answered, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: I think it was asked and answered.

16 Sustained.

17 BY MR. WARD:

18 Q You don't know of any income from the year 2004,
19 other than from the sale of his personal residence. Isn't
20 that true?

21 A Unless there's other documents in '04 in here, that 22 would be true.

23 Q Okay. Now, you have come to the conclusion that he 24 was determined to be disabled by the Social Security
25 Administration?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1           A     There's -- under their regulations, yes. But the
2 disability determination starts with state employees in each
3 state.

4           Q     Okay. Who was the hearing officer at the hearing
5 that Mr. Rodriguez had?

6           A     They don't have hearing officers.

7           Q     Does anyone hear -- who makes the decision on
8 disability?

9           A     Administrative law judges.

10          Q     Okay. Who was the administrative law judge who made
11 the decision on Mr. Rodriguez's disability?

12          A     If his case went to an administrative law judge
13 level, disability -- it starts out with disability
14 adjudicators, you know. And it would be a disability
15 adjudicator in the State of California. And there are two 16 levels to that process. If the -- at the second level, if 17 he's turned down, it then goes to the office of hearings and 18 appeals within Social Security. And that's where the 19 administrative law judges work. So it's a three step process.
20 I do not have the records of the decision making that was done
21 during that time. I have the record that states that he meets
22 that definition of disability from Social Security, but I do
23 not have the records of the decision process that was going 24 through.

2 A I don't.

3 Q And you don't know how many levels of hearings he 4 did or did not have?

5 A No. I don't.

6 Q And you don't know what Mr. Rodriguez said at those 7 hearings?

8 A Other than there was a consultative exam that I was 9 advised of, I do not. You know, I do not what went on in the 10 intricacies or whether he had a hearing.

11 Q Well, you don't know what he said, if anything, do
12 you?

13 A I don't even know if there was a hearing. So I
14 don't know what he said if there was a hearing.

15 Q You don't know what he said to the Social Security
16 Administration to get a disability rate. Is that correct?

17 A Well, first it's not a rating. It's a
18 determination, you know. And I do not know what he said.
19 There would have been a phone interview with a disability
20 adjudicator at one point, maybe two. And then, after that, if 21 there's a denial, you know, it eventually goes to the office
22 of hearings and appeals. They can make a decision with or 23 without a hearing, on the basis of the administrative law
24 judge. All I know is, he was determined to meet that 25 definition of disability. I do not know who made the

2 Q And you don't know what representations were made to
3 get that decision?

4 A I don't. I don't know what was in his Social
5 Security file.

6 Q And you didn't do a functional capacity evaluation
7 for Mr. Rodriguez, did you?

8 A No. Voc rehab people do not do functional capacity
9 evaluations. That's physical therapy or occupational therapy.

10 Q They're done by physical therapists or occupational 11 therapists?

12 A They are.

13 Q And you didn't see one, did you?

14 A No. They have little probative value.

15 Q And you based Mr. Rodriguez's -- the conclusion that 16 Mr. Rodriguez's disability -- based on, essentially, what he 17 told you and what you read in the medical records. Correct?

18 A As well as the determination of the Social Security
19 Administration. Yes.

20 Q Did you rely on the determination by the Social 21 Security Administration?

22 A It was part of the information that I had.

23 Q Okay. So you did rely on that?

24 A Just as I relied on the medical records and the 25 interview that I had with him.

1 Q Okay. And you're not here to testify about
2 causation. Isn't that true?

3 A That's exactly true.

4 Q So you don't know which, if any, of Mr. Rodriguez's
5 physical conditions are related to an accident of November 22,
6 2004?

7 A I don't. Well, I wouldn't make that decision.

8 Q You're not offering any opinion on causation?

9 A No.

10 Q And you're not doing a medical evaluation.

11 A No.

12 Q Correct?

13 A That's correct.

14 Q So when you say that if the patient has -- if the 15 person being evaluated has RSD, you're not doing any of that 16 based on your own interpretation of what people can or cannot
17 do with RSD. Correct?

18 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, it's stipulated that he's not 19 going to talk about causation.

20 MR. WARD: Okay.

21 THE COURT: Very well. Then let's move on.

22 MR. WARD: Your Honor, this witness testified about RSD
23 and what his findings were.

24 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, he testified that one of the 25 reasons he said he was disabled -- because he reviewed the

1 medical records and saw that there was a finding of RSD.

2 MR. WARD: And he gave an opinion about what happens to
3 people with RSD and why that makes them disabled.

4 MR. BAKER: What?

5 THE COURT: I don't recall that, but we seem to be pretty
6 far afield. He's been designated as an expert in the area of 7 economics.

8 MR. BAKER: And I asked him no questions about causation,
9 Your Honor. So it's outside of the scope.

10 THE COURT: I didn't hear any. Sustain the objection.

11 BY MR. WARD:

12 Q Were you only offered as an expert in economics?

13 A I understood my assignment to be economics and 14 vocational rehabilitation.

15 Q Economics and vocational rehabilitation?

16 A Yes.

17 Q So you were not offered as an expert just in 18 economics?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q You were called as an expert in vocational 21 rehabilitation?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And you consider yourself an expert in vocational 24 rehabilitation?

25 A Yes.

AVTranz

1 Q And a lot of other people consider you to be an
2 expert in vocational rehabilitation?

3 A Hopefully.

4 Q And you're here to testify as an expert in
5 vocational rehabilitation. Isn't that correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay. And is it correct, then, that none of your
8 conclusions about the disability of this particular patient
9 are based on your own medical opinions?

10 A No. I wouldn't offer an opinion as a physician or a
11 physical therapist.

12 Q Okay. And whether having RSD makes just the mere 13 fact of someone having RSD makes them disabled is not 14 something that you would offer testimony on?

15 A Can you restate that please? I'm sorry.

16 Q Sure. Sure. You will not be offering testimony
17 that a person who has RSD is disabled just because they have 18 RSD. You would leave a doctor to testify as to that?

19 A Well, two things there. First, you're asking me
20 about the RSD and second, that I would leave it to a doctor.
21 You know, we look at diagnoses that come from doctors -- you
22 know, in this case, the complex regional pain syndrome or the 23 reflex sympathetic dystrophy. You know, that's part of the 24 information that we know. We then talk to the person to get 25 an idea of what -- of the disease processes affecting them.

AVTranz

1 Secondly, in relation to determination of disability, I don't
2 know that there'll ever be agreements between voc rehab
3 people, doctors and to an extent, physical therapists as to 4 who is omnipotent in deciding that. We like to think that we
5 are because we consider the job skills, duties, abilities,
6 education when we look at disability. Physicians don't do
7 that. You know, so I don't know that there'll ever be
8 agreement between those specialties as to who has the final
9 say.

10 Q Did you ever -- did you agree -- in doing your work
11 as a vocational rehabilitation expert, did you read anything
12 that said that Mr. Rodriguez could not sit at a computer and 13 work?

14 A No. I don't think that that's anything in the 15 medical records that's specifically stated that way.

16 Q So did you assume that he could sit at a computer
17 and work? Or he could not sit at a computer and work?

18 A I concluded that he couldn't sustain work activity.
19 That doesn't mean that he couldn't sit at a computer, you
20 know, and do some activities. But he couldn't sustain it over
21 a period of time.

22 Q Okay. And isn't it true that you don't know how 23 much time he spent at any one occasion being a real estate
24 investor?

25 A That's -- any one occasion?

AVTranz

1 Q Sure.

2 A I do not know how much time he's spent in these
3 years to produce that income.

4 Q Right. And you don't know how much time he spent,
5 he would spend, if he were doing it today?

6 A No. I don't.

7 Q So you don't know whether, if he could sit at a
8 computer for an hour on Monday, and sit at a computer for an
9 hour on Wednesday, or sit at a computer for an hour on Friday
10 and look at the real estate market, and potential real estate
11 houses to drive by. You don't know whether he could do that 12 or not?

13 A Well, he can sit and look at a computer. There is 14 an intermittent nature to, you know, how long he can tolerate
15 it, but tasks like going out, inspecting houses, determining 16 what repairs need to be made, those sorts of physical
17 activities I don't believe that he is capable of doing on a
18 sustainable enough basis that he could make any money at it.

19 Q And -- but in coming to your opinion, you don't have 20 any idea how much time he was spending doing this --

21 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, asked and answered also.

22 THE COURT: You know, we're way beyond the scope of 23 direct examination, in addition. Sustain the objection.

24 BY MR. WARD:

25 Q Isn't it true, for back-up documentation, that W-2s

AVTranz

1 and Social Security reports are always your first choice?

2 A W-2s, Social Security and tax returns are my choices
3 there. Of the two, if somebody's employed, I prefer W-2s or 4 the Social Security reports. Self-employment, we like to look
5 at tax returns as well.

6 Q And you told me, when your deposition was taken,
7 that W-2s and Social Security reports are always your first
8 choice?

9 A Yes. It's that list of documents that we look for.

10 Q You didn't say tax returns. Correct?

11 A I don't remember. If I didn't, I should have 12 because tax returns is something that -- tax returns are 13 something that I do frequently see.

14 Q Okay. Is it true that you don't have any 15 information that shows you how many houses he bought or sold
16 in any one of these years?

17 A No. I have some information, but I don't have total
18 information for those years.

19 Q So if I were to ask you how many houses he bought
20 and sold in the year 2001, you wouldn't be able to tell me?

21 A That's correct.

22 Q And you don't have any information?

23 A I have some information, but I do not have total
24 information that would allow me to figure that out.

25 Q Okay. And if your calculation used the numbers from

AVTranz

1 the year 2004 backwards to 1999 --

2 A I'm sorry. I missed your question.

3 Q Yeah. To do your calculation as to how much you
4 believe his loss was as a real estate investor, you used
5 incomes from the year 2004, 2003, 2002, 2001, 2000 and 1999.

6 A Yes. And those years where I had no records, I used
7 zero.

8 Q Okay.

9 A And for those years that I had records, I used what
10 the records reflect in relation to income.

11 Q Okay. And if there were losses in the years for 12 which you do not have any records at all, then your number
13 would be overstated?

14 A We talked about that at my deposition. And I
15 believe what I said was, I would need to look at it, because 16 sometimes you can have a loss when you're self-employed and it
17 is not reflective of a diminishment in your ability to work.
18 You know, so if I had a return and it was a loss, you know, I
19 would probably go back to Mr. Rodriguez and try and figure
20 out, you know, what drove that loss, and then make a decision
21 as to whether or not that loss figure should be included in an
22 average.

23 Q Well, you used your calculation based on claimed
24 profit, did you not?

25 A Based upon business income. Yes.

AVTranz

Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 Q Right. You didn't -- your calculation's not based
2 on how many hours he worked?

3 A No. It's not.

4 Q It's not based on what he did. It's not based on
5 how much effort he put into it?

6 A It's based upon what he did, to the extent that
7 these records reflect sales activity. You know, I do not have 8 records that, you know, show how many hours he put in, to 9 generate that income.

10 Q The numbers that you used were from the income.
11 Correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q You didn't do any calculations for anything other
14 than income. Correct?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q So you took the claimed income from 1999 and the 17 claimed income from 2001 and the claimed income from 2004 and 18 you totaled it up?

19 A Well, I averaged it using zeroes in the intervening
20 years, but yes. I did add that up. It was 286,000. Divided
21 that by six to account for the intervening years.

22 Q And, if in the intervening years, there was losses,
23 that overall number would be less. Correct?

24 MR. BAKER: That's asked and answered, too, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Yeah. Sustained.

1 BY MR. WARD:

2 Q The labor market that you talked about involved
3 someone who's working over 1,700 hours a year. Is that
4 correct?

5 A The Department of Labor statistics -- is that what
6 you're referring to, in relation to the average earnings?

7 Q Yes.

8 A It's -- the low end is 32 hours and the high end,
9 you know, can be anything up to 60 or 70 hours per week. You
10 know, the Department of Labor classifies full-time work as 11 over 32 hours.

12 Q Right. So that's a minimum of 1,700 hours a year?

13 A Yes.

14 Q When is the last time Mr. Rodriguez worked 1,700
15 hours a year?

16 A I don't know.

17 Q When is the last time Mr. Rodriguez told you that he
18 had worked as an employee?

19 A That's in my report. It's a number of years ago.

20 Q Isn't it true that the last time you --

21 A I'm sorry. I was looking for your answer. Do you
22 want me to go onto your next question?

23 Q Well, I was going to help you, perhaps.

24 A Thank you.

25 Q I thought we're getting short on time. Isn't it

1 true that you don't have information that he's worked for an
2 employer in a full-time employment situation for at least 20
3 years?

4 A You know, I'm not sure where to classify this
5 Oshman's Sporting Goods employment, you know. Let's see. I'd
6 be hesitant -- I would say it has to approach 20 years ago,
7 given the history that he gave me. But I don't have an exact
8 year for it.

9 MR. WARD: May I read from the witness's deposition, Your
10 Honor?

11 THE COURT: Sure.

12 BY MR. WARD:

13 Q Page 62, line one through line six, question -- so
14 is it correct that based on the information you had from 15 Mr. Rodriguez, he hadn't worked at full-time employment for 16 essentially 20 years? Answer, he hadn't. Yeah. He hadn't
17 worked for an employer under a full-time employment situation
18 for 20 years. That's what you told me when your deposition
19 was taken?

20 A Yeah. Yeah. That's the Oshman's Sporting Goods,
21 you know. And I believe that's the last reported history I
22 have with him in an employment situation working for an 23 employer.

24 Q Is it true that you don't have any information
25 whatsoever about how long Mr. Rodriguez held onto any of these

1 properties?

2 A That's true. I don't.

3 Q Do you need to know that to be able to calculate his
4 profit? Would you not?

5 A I would need to know the expenses, but not
6 necessarily the length of time the property was held.

7 Q Well, there's a cost of money, isn't there?

8 A Well, there's a time value of money, but usually the 9 time value of money is not classified as an expense, other
10 than interest paid on the notes during that time. so if you
11 had that information, you could take an individual property,
12 you know, and figure it out. But it would, you know, depend
13 upon actual expenses made, actual expenses incurred.

14 MR. WARD: I have no more questions. Thank you.

15 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

16 BY MR. BAKER:

17 Q Mr. Dinneen, I have just a couple questions for you.
18 Do you agree with me -- and it may have been submitted. It's 19 not the best paperwork in the world. Would you agree with 20 that?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And so, you didn't get volumes of information, as we 23 discussed. Is that right?

24 A That's correct.

25 Q Do you know exactly why you used the two averages

AVTranz

1 that you described to the judge, the ERI and the DOL averages?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And did those averages completely and entirely
4 comport with the information that you cleaned from the tax
5 records?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And is that an accepted methodology in forensic
8 economics?

9 A In determining earning capacity on the vocational
10 rehabilitation side, yes.

11 Q Sir, the available empirical information, that and 12 the statistical base. Is that fair?

13 A Yes.

14 Q It's just exactly what we're looking for when you do
15 a forensic analysis. Is that right?

16 A It is.

17 Q And you would try to use as many variables when you
18 were doing a forensic analysis to show the validity of your
19 forensic analysis. Is that right?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And that's exactly what you did as well. Is that
22 right?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And once again, it just matched up just fine, in 25 terms of a valid forensic analysis, meaning you didn't have to

1 reject your hypothesis. Is that right?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. So no problem there?

4 A No.

5 Q Let me ask you another question. When you talked to 6 Enrique, and you read Enrique's medical records and you
7 determined that he was disabled. Is that right?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And Social Security read Enrique's medical records
10 and they spoke with Enrique and they determined that he was 11 disabled. Right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Well, that seems to be another validation, doesn't
14 it?

15 A Yes.

16 MR. BAKER: Thank you. No further questions, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Any follow-up, Mr. Ward?

18 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: With thanks of the Court --

1           A     A small college in Hartford, Connecticut, Trinity
2 College.

3           Q     Okay. And what did -- where did you go after 4 Trinity College?

5           A     Yale University Medical School.

6           Q     Was it as hard to get into then as it is now?

7           A     It was pretty hard to get into. I was worried about 8 it, but managed somehow to get in.

9           Q     And so you graduated from Yale with an M.D., a
10 Medical Doctorate?

11          A     Yes.

12          Q     Okay. And what did you do after you graduated? Is 13 that when you got drafted?

14          A     No. I became an intern at the Yale New Haven
15 Hospital.

16          Q     Okay.

17          A     A surgical intern, and then I had three years of 18 post internship training as a general surgeon. And then I
19 went into the army.

20          Q     Okay. And how -- what was the arrangement -- what 21 was the trade off that you got to do your residency?

22          A     The deal -- it was called a Berry Plan. And to 23 avoid being drafted and taking out of the middle of a
24 residency program which would disrupt it, if you agreed to 25 sign up -- to say I'll be glad to serve in the military for

1 two years, then they would let you complete your training and
2 not take you. And so that's what happened.

3 Q Okay.

4 A And I then went to Germany for -- extensively for
5 two years. And unfortunately I was there when the Berlin Wall
6 got built. And so I got involuntarily extended for an
7 additional year and a half. So I served three and a half
8 years in the army as a general surgeon.

9 Q Okay. And so you had here -- that would be how many
10 years are we post M.D. degree?

11 A That's four years of training and then the years in
12 the army.

13 Q Okay. And then what did you do after you got out of 14 the army?

15 A Well in my last year of training I developed a
16 fondness for orthopedics. And I go, "Oh this is really 17 interesting. This is what I want to do." So I went back to 18 Yale and did three more years of an orthopedic residency. And 19 then stayed on as clinical faculty at the medical school. And 20 taught orthopedics and had a practice of my own.

21 Q Okay. So you taught orthopedic surgery as a faculty
22 member at Yale University Medical School?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Or Yale University School of Medicine, I guess is --

25 A Yes.

1 Q -- probably the accurate name for it.

2 A Yes.

3 Q And you also had a practice?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And so you had three years training as a surgeon.

6 A Four.

7 Q Four year training. And how many years as an 8 orthopedist?

9 A Three.

10 Q So we have seven.

11 A Yes.

12 Q Seven years training as a surgeon and an
13 orthopedist. And we're not ask how many years it took to pay
14 off the loans. And then you started a practice as an 15 orthopedic surgeon.

16 A Yes.

17 Q Correct. And now -- somewhere along the line you
18 moved to California?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And how many years had you been practicing when you
21 moved to California?

22 A Well I finished medical school in '55. So in the 23 internship and residency one is really practicing surgery. So
24 from '55 to '77. That's 22 years.

25 Q Okay. Now did you ever have -- did you ever see a

1 knee injury during that period of time that you had a practice
2 of orthopedics in the northeast?

3 A Oh, yes. We -- in my practice in Windham,
4 Connecticut one of the counties north of New Haven, I happen
5 to become a very good friend of the University Health
6 Physician at the University of Connecticut. And wound up
7 getting all of the athletic department injuries -- well my
8 partners and I would get them from basketball, from football,
9 from track and from various sports medicine kind of injuries.

10 Q Okay. So every time somebody had an injury at the 11 home field at least, they probably ended up with you.

12 A Well with me or one of my partners.

13 Q Okay. And what would be the range of orthopedic
14 injuries that you would see?

15 A Well really everything from head to toe. Dislocated
16 shoulders, sprains of the spine of various sorts, twisted
17 ankles, fractured ankles, fractured tibias, knee injuries,
18 cruciate ligament injuries, meniscal injuries, medial
19 collateral and lateral collateral ligament -- the whole range
20 of injuries.

21 Q And if they needed surgical repair, did you actually
22 do it yourself?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And so you're familiar with, as they might say, you
25 know your way around a knee?

1 A Yes. I would say so.

2 Q Okay. Now, somewhere along the line you decided to
3 expand what you were doing?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Is that correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And what was it that you decided to expand to do?

8 A I did a fair amount of spine surgery. And there is 9 a certain subset of patients that would present to me -- we 10 would do -- in those days we were doing myelograms, rather 11 than MRI's. We didn't have MRI's then. And there would be 12 pathology. And I would think -- I have a hunch that I'm going
13 to be able to correct the pathology, but I'm not sure you're 14 going to get better.

15 And some of those patients in fact didn't get
16 better. Even though the pathology was corrected. And I
17 thought there's something here that I don't know. A biology
18 teacher in high school once said, "Know what you don't know."
19 So I realized that, "Gosh maybe I need to know something I 20 don't know." And that's why I thought I need to look into the 21 other dimension of chronic pain, psychiatric medicine. And so
22 I -- and I also wanted -- I'd had enough of winters in 23 Connecticut. So I thought I wan to California.

24 And so I came out here and trained -- took a regular 25 residency in psychiatry. After having been a professor at

1 Yale to start in as a psychiatry residency trainee, it sort of
2 represents downward mobility for a while anyway. But I did
3 that and finished that training -- it was in 1980. And during 4 that time I went to the orthopedic rounds in the hospital and
5 got to know all the orthopedists. And they sent me a lot of 6 orthopedic referrals, because they said well we'll send them
7 to George Becker because he's a real doctor.

8 They didn't think psychiatrists were real doctors.
9 So I wound up getting a lot of orthopedic referrals. And so
10 the head of the psychiatry department said why don't -- you're 11 the person to be the director of consultation psychiatry for 12 the California Pacific Medical Center. So I got that job and 13 did that for ten years. And did a lot of pain management in 14 that job. And -- I'm talking too much.

15 Q No. That's fine. That's fine. That's -- so this 16 was -- you were one of the early people doing pain management.
17 Is that true?

18 A Well one of the early people at California Pacific
19 Medical Center, certainly.

20 Q Right. Okay.

21 A I mean there was -- pain management had been around
22 as a specialty. It didn't have a board at that time, but it
23 had been around.

24 Q And I take it your motivation in working with pain
25 management in orthopedic injuries was not so that you could

1 spend more time with lawyers?

2 A No. It was -- I -- the reason I went into -- got
3 the psychiatric training was because I thought there was
4 another dimension. I thought it was important -- I felt there
5 would be a diagnostic advantage in being able to view a
6 patient simultaneously from muscular skeletal prospective and 7 a psychiatric perspective, because one has to consider the 8 whole patient. You know, it isn't just an injured knee or an
9 injured back. It's a human being. And there are dimensions
10 within that human being that are important to consider if 11 we're going to get accurate -- the most accurate diagnosis.

12 As Sherlock Holmes says, if you don't look at all
13 the clues, you're probably not going to find out whodunit.
14 And so I think it is important in medicine, certainly, to look
15 at all the information you can get. And make it --

16 Q And now, let me digress for a moment and ask about
17 some of the things that you have done. You were the director
18 of the Department of Psychiatry at the Presbyterian Hospital
19 in San Francisco.

20 A Yes. Consultation psychiatry. That means when 21 doctors -- obstetricians, gynecologists, urologists,
22 neurologist had a patient that they suspected might have what
23 we call functional overlay or psychological factors coloring
24 their presentation they would call us. And we were training
25 -- it was a training program so I had residents that I was

1 supervising.

2 Q Okay. And now the best part, which I missed, which
3 is actually the first one is you're an organ player?

4 A Oh yes. That's a hobby.

5 Q Okay.

6 A Yeah.

7 Q And you play the pipe organ?

8 A Yes. Yeah. I'm an assistant organist at one of the 9 churches in San Francisco.

10 Q Okay. And you still do that?

11 A I still do that.

12 Q And now you have been on staff with the Los Angeles
13 College of Chiropractic?

14 A Yes. That was through the American Back Society.
15 They -- I met a number of chiropractors who are part of the 16 American Back Society, which is a multidisciplinary society.
17 It has chiropractors, neurologist, orthopedists, spine
18 surgeons, internists, rheumatologists, and one of them asked
19 me if I would write a chapter in a book that he was editing.
20 Two or three other orthopedists had written chapters for the 21 book. And then they said well would you like to be an adjunct
22 faculty.

23 And so I guess I sort of slid into it through the 24 back door. And I did go down and give some lectures there. I
25 haven't been there, probably in ten years, though.

1 Q Okay.

2 A But I did that for a while.

3 Q Now was that the book chapter on managing low back
4 pain?

5 A That was -- no. That's another book chapter, but 6 that book was edited by William Kirkaldy-Willis, who was the 7 president of the American Back Society, but he had been a very
8 distinguished British orthopedist and he had been in East
9 Africa. And then he was in Saskatoon in Canada as a professor
10 of orthopedics and then finally in Vancouver. And he asked me
11 if I would write a book chapter on chronic pain and it's 12 psychological meaning.

13 Q And what was your involvement with the American Back
14 Society?

15 A Oh it was a long involvement. For ten years I was 16 vice president of the society. But it was a multidisciplinary
17 society. And it was really interested in issues of back pain,
18 diagnosis and treatment. And it was a very exciting time for 19 me. I learned a lot. I met a lot of very distinguished
20 persons in the field. And wound up being on panel discussions
21 and chairman -- I was chairman of a number -- probably a
22 couple dozen pain management workshops given by the society.
23 One of them with Gerald Aronoff -- or several of them with 24 Jerry Aronoff, who was a distinguished person in the field of 25 pain management.

1 Q Now you've written a number of articles, is that
2 correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And a number of those articles are about knees?

5 A Well I wrote one article on the knee, published in 6 the Journal of the -- JAMA -- Journal of the American Medical 7 Association.

8 Q Okay.

9 A Yes.

10 Q Now back in 1972 you wrote an article about carpal
11 tunnel syndrome.

12 A Yes.

13 Q Is that correct? Now, so you have some knowledge
14 about carpal tunnel syndrome?

15 A Oh, I would say yes.

16 Q Okay.

17 A I -- after that article I was inundated with 18 referrals of patients thought to have carpal tunnel syndrome.
19 It was before it was really well known. We're talking the 20 '60s now and people would get this -- typists, secretaries and 21 people who were using data input machines before computers
22 would develop these symptoms. And so some of the wound up
23 having neck surgery or fusions, because they thought, well
24 these symptoms must be coming from a disk in the neck. And 25 then they get a myelogram and they'd find a disk in the neck

AVTranz

1 and they'd operate on it, but the patient would still have the
2 same symptoms. And then someone said well maybe this is
3 median nerve problem.

4 And then it turned out -- we did a number of them
5 and yes, indeed it was a median nerve problem and then we
6 started doing nerve conduction studies, electro myelograms
7 testing the speed of the transmission through the carpal
8 tunnel, and showing that it would be slow. And these patients
9 indeed had a carpal tunnel problem and surgery relieved it.

10 Q The surgery -- but the surgery was on the wrist?

11 A On the wrist -- a very simply surgery.

12 Q Not surgery on the neck?

13 A No. No.

14 Q But is -- now does that relate to what it is that 15 you do with respect to pain management in terms of looking to 16 find solutions to patients problems that are the right
17 solutions as opposed to the wrong solutions?

18 A Well one always hopes to make the right diagnosis.
19 I -- in one of the book chapters I put, you know, diagnosis is 20 the cornerstone of any kind of a medical treatment program.
21 If you don't have the right diagnosis, you're not going to get
22 successful treatment results. I mean that's sort of a no
23 brainer.

24 Q And you've written a number of articles on chronic
25 pain?

2 Q And you have been on a number of committees and
3 workshops for chronic pain?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And you've written a number of book chapters on
6 chronic pain?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And you've taught a number of courses on chronic
9 pain?

10 A Yes, to all of those.

11 Q And during this period of time, doctor, have you
12 continued to have an active patient load?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And up until today -- not today because you flew in 15 here last night, but up until the current time you still see
16 patients?

17 A Oh yes.

18 Q You still see orthopedic patients?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Do you still see patients for chronic pain?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Do you occasionally see patients for lawyers?

23 A Yes.

24 Q How much of your practice is that?

25 A It's relatively very little, you know, maybe five

1 percent or so. I think for the past three or four years I
2 haven't had more than two or maybe three medical, legal or
3 workers comp evaluations in a month. So I really don't see
4 very many.

5 Q And have you worked with me before?

6 A Yes. Not very often. I don't remember the names of 7 any cases we worked on before. I think maybe two or three 8 times in the last ten or 15 years.

9 Q Okay. And how many dual board certification
10 orthopedic surgeons, psychiatry do you know of? How many 11 people have those two boards?

12 A That's interesting. It came up in an American Back
13 Society workshop and I didn't know of any. And then we put 14 out the word and I've discovered that there are two others.
15 So there are three of us as of two years ago in the country.
16 And one of them is in Wisconsin, and one of them is in 17 Florida. And the guy in Wisconsin I had lunch with in San 18 Francisco at an orthopedic meeting. But we're kind of rare
19 birds.

20 Q Okay.

21 A I mean it takes a lot of training. I've -- I mean
22 if you think about I've had -- got the doctorate of medicine
23 in '55. I've had ten years of post graduate training. That's 24 a lot of post graduate training. And most people don't want
25 to do that.

7 VOIR DIRE EXAMINATION

8 BY MR. BAKER:

9 Q Doctor, I was looking -- nice to meet you. I was 10 looking at your CV. You haven't authored any papers on the 11 diagnosis or treatment of RSV. Is that correct?

12 A That's correct.

13 Q You have not attended -- you haven't taught any 14 classes on the diagnosis and treatment of RSV. Is that
15 correct?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q You have -- you're not -- you do not have a
18 fellowship in pain management. Is that correct?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q When you treat people for RSV you send them out to 21 pain management doctors. Is that correct?

22 A That is not correct. I treat them myself.

23 Q You treat them yourself?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Have you authored any chapters in any books on RSD?

1           A     No.

2           Q     Have you given any lectures or seminars with respect
3 to RSD?

4           A     No.

5           MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I have no problem with him being
6 in the areas of orthopedic surgery, psychiatry and pain
7 management -- to an extend pain management, but he's not
8 qualified as an expert in RSD. And I do object to him
9 speaking about the diagnosis or treatment of RSD.

10          THE COURT: Will there be any questions regarding the
11 RSD?

12          MR. WARD: Well yes, there will, Your Honor. And he is 13 highly qualified to talk about RSD and treats RSD patients.
14 There's no board certification for RSD. And he's certainly 15 qualified in that area. I can ask him some more questions if 16 Your Honor would like.

17          THE COURT: Well I think what we'll have to do is 18 probably take these questions as they come. You'll have to 19 lay a proper foundation with respect to the RSD issues. But 20 it looks to me like he's clearly qualified in those other
21 areas that you seek to qualify him in. So the Court's going
22 to grant your motion.

23          Mr. Baker, you'll reserve the right to make

17 THE WITNESS: Can I say something?

18 THE COURT: Sure.

19 THE WITNESS: I have been seeing patients with RSD for 55
20 years, since I graduated from medical school in 1955. I have
21 seen many patients with RSD over the years, both as a general
22 surgeon and an orthopedist. And recently with regard to the

1 diagnosed.

2 I have seen RSD in its later stages. It is a
3 severe, very crippling disease. And it doesn't wax and wane.
4 It is a progressive disease unless it is cured. And it is
5 curable.

6 There's a mythology out there that it is incurable,
7 but it is curable. So I -- I get referred patients saying
8 this patient is thought to have RSD, what do you think? And I
9 evaluate them for the orthopedic community in San Francisco.
10 So somebody thinks I have a valid opinion.

11 THE COURT: Well that may address the issue. I don't
12 know. Please proceed.

13 DIRECT EXAMINATION CONTINUED

14 BY MR. WARD:

15 Q Is there a board for RSD?

16 A No.

17 Q When you became interested in and started your
18 practice or expanded into pain management, was there a board
19 for pain management?

20 A No. The pain management board was created by a
21 group of physicians -- especially anesthesiologist and the 22 board was established in 1991. And interestingly the board
23 has not been accepted by or included in the list of directory

1 whole list of common things. And they are not yet included in
2 that list.

3 They may be at some point, but they aren't now.

4 Q Right. Okay. And how many patients have you
5 evaluated for RSD over the years?

6 A Oh hundreds. No I haven't counted them. I don't
7 know. I would say a very significant number.

8 Q And some of those are patients that are specifically
9 sent to you with the question as to whether they have RSD?

10 A Yes.

11 Q How about a patient that comes to you with chronic
12 pain who is not sent to you for evaluation of RSD. Is that --
13 if they have symptoms of RSD is that one of the things you 14 look at?

15 A Well of course. When you see somebody with chronic
16 pain -- particularly pain of an extremity, upper extremity or 17 lower extremity, one establishes what we call a differential
18 diagnosis. And you list the possible diagnoses. In many of 19 the patients that I see with chronic pain RSD is part of the 20 differential diagnosis. It's a diagnosis to be ruled out just 21 the way diabetic neuropathy is a diagnosis to be ruled out.
22 And one has to know enough about what kind -- how does
23 diabetic neuropathy present or how does RSD present before you
24 can make an intelligent differential diagnosis. If you don't 25 consider the diagnosis, you're not going to make it.

1 Q Knees. Do you have to write an article about knees
2 to be able to do knee surgery?

3 A No. Certainly not. At the time that article was 4 written I was in the medical school and Yale is a highly
5 intellectual medical school with a lot of stress on
6 publications. And I did have an interest in a particular knee
7 problem. And so I wrote the article. And developed a
8 technique for a particular operation involving the knee.

9 Particularly adolescent girls have dislocating knee
10 caps and it's a procedure to correct that problem.

11 Q Let me digress for a moment. Are you familiar with 12 Dr. Shannon?

13 A Well I've read her reports. I have seen the 14 photographs through the arthroscopy of the surgery she did.
15 And I think she's a very good orthopedic surgeon. I'm very 16 impressed by the thoroughness of her history, her
17 documentation. And the arthroscopic photographs show that she 18 did a really nice job cleaning up the knee. She made an 19 appropriate diagnosis before she operated, which is what you
20 hope to do.

21 She suspected that there was a torn meniscus and she
22 probed an area and found where the tear was and then addressed
23 it. And she has a wonderful photograph of the meniscus after 24 she's been through trimming it. She did a top notch job.

25 Q Was that she did a nice job?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Do you know how many articles she's written about
3 knees?

4 A I don't know.

5 Q Does that effect how good a job she did?

6 A Certainly not.

7 Q No. Okay. Now, the patient that you saw in this
8 case was Mr. Rodriguez. Is that correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And with respect to the evaluation of 11 Mr. Rodriguez --

12 MR. BAKER: And just for the record, Your Honor, it's a
13 minor thing, but I object to him being referred as his 14 patient. He wasn't. He was an examinee.

15 THE COURT: Okay. Noted for the record.

16 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

17 MR. WARD: I apologize, I didn't --

18 BY MR. WARD:

19 Q The -- you saw Mr. Rodriguez.

20 A For evaluation. Yes.

21 Q And you were not expecting to provide treatment to 22 him. Were you?

23 A No.

24 Q Okay. Nobody asked you to provide treatment to him?

25 A No.

1 Q Okay. So --

2 A As a matter of fact he signed a disclaimer
3 indicating that his understanding was that the examination
4 would be for purposes of evaluation. That the usual
5 doctor/patient privacy is -- doesn't apply in this case,
6 because there will be a report produced that will be available
7 for litigation purposes, and that he will not be treated by 8 me. I have that in my standard form.

9 Q Now did you talk to me before you examined Mr.
10 Rodriguez?

11 A You know, I don't remember. I talked to someone 12 from the Archer Norris Office, and I'm not sure it was.

13 Q Did anybody tell you what it was we wanted you to 14 find?

15 A No. You wanted me to evaluate this man.

16 Q Anyone suggest that you should make certain findings
17 about Mr. Rodriguez?

18 A No.

19 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I'm not going to suggest that.

20 THE COURT: I didn't think you would, Mr. Baker.

21 MR. WARD: I thought you asked the question yesterday of 22 your expert. And so I thought it was appropriate.

23 MR. BAKER: Sure.

24 THE WITNESS: I would have replied, if anyone suggested
25 what I should think or -- you know, I don't work that way.

2 BY MR. BAKER:

3 Q Mr. Rodriguez was examined by you, and you prepared
4 a report, is that correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And that report is marked Exhibit --

7 MR. BAKER: Sixty-six.

8 MR. WARD: Sixty-six.

9 [Counsel confer]

10 MR. WARD: Or maybe not.

12 BY MR. WARD:

13 Q Okay. Exhibit 66. And it says report part one of 14 two. Now let's start with Mr. Rodriguez came to your office
15 that day and he arrived on time?

16 A Yes. So far as I know --

17 Q And --

18 A -- yes.

19 Q And he looked good?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And he was friendly?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And he didn't give you any problems?

24 A That's correct.

25 Q And you conducted an examination.

1 A Yes.

2 Q Correct?

3 A Yes. Took a history and conducted an exam.

4 Q Okay. You took a history first. And was the 5 history taken by you or taken by someone else?

6 A Oh I do it all myself.

7 Q Okay. And so you took a history and after you took 8 the history did you conduct an examination?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And did you make notes of the examination?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Now, let's go through the history that he gave you.
13 I'm on page 1. And I certainly don't want to read everything
14 that's here, but he told you a little bit about himself?

15 A Yes. He did.

16 Q And he told you what kind of work he did?

17 A Yes.

18 Q What did he tell you that he did? How -- what'd he 19 tell you that --

20 A He described working in real estate and I think
21 buying properties, renovating them and selling them. I -- he 22 had a name for that; I've forgotten what he called it. But 23 that's basically what he said he did.

24 Q Okay. And at the top of page 2 did he tell you
25 about the physical activities that he did with respect to that

1 profession that he had?

2 A Yes. I documented it as computer as well as field
3 work. But he had employees doing much of the labor.

4 Q Okay.

5 A And that was essentially the degree of detail I got.

6 Q Okay.

7 A I didn't go into great detail.

8 Q Okay. And he reported an injury, did he not?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And what did -- he told you the injury occurred on 11 November 22, 2004?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And what did he tell you -- what body parts were 14 involved in this injury?

16 Q Take a look at the report, top of page 2.

17 A Right.

18 Q You actually wrote this down. Didn't you?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. And you made your report from notes?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And what did he list as the body parts involved in
23 this accident?

24 A Oh he listed all of these, neck, shoulders, left
25 wrist, right wrist, midback, lower back, left knee, left

1 ankle, left lower extremity right ankle.

2 Q Okay.

3 A So he did tell me that he injured a lot of body
4 parts.

5 Q Okay.

6 A I'd forgotten that.

7 Q Okay. And now down later on, he described to you
8 that -- how the incident occurred.

9 A Yes.

10 Q Did he not?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And did he tell you about something that happened to 13 him at the casino?

14 A Yes. He described -- he was apparently at a bar --
15 but he -- watching television and there were some Las Vegas
16 girls throwing things out into the audience. I guess they 17 were water bottles; I'm not sure what they were. But 18 apparently one of these bottles landed not far from where Mr.
19 Rodriguez was standing. A woman tried -- who had wanted to 20 get one of the bottles apparently lost her balance and fell
21 into his left knee. From the anterior and medial aspect in 22 such a way that it bent the knee backwards. He was standing
23 so that's what's called hyperextension. It's bending and 24 straightening the knee straighter than it likes to be 25 straightened.

1           And he lost his balance, fell and I think he didn't
2 fall completely to the floor; he fell into another patron at 3 the bar.

4           Q     Okay. And then did he express to you some things
5 that happened after that that made him angry?

6           A     Yes. I don't remember the exact details, but he
7 felt that the casino had made an effort to get him to sign
8 something that -- disclaiming that he had had any significant
9 injury or that it was trivial and that it was better. And 10 that they weren't taking him seriously. I think is the bottom
11 line.

12          Q     And the effect on him was it made him angry?

13          A     Yes. They -- he thought they were trying to avoid 14 his claim that he'd been injured.

15          Q     Okay. And did he tell you anything more about the 16 video in your report there?

17          A     He did say that something about there was a video of 18 what actually happened. The -- monitoring the people in --
19 the patrons in the bar. And that they had said that they lost
20 it or something like that. There was something about not 21 being able to produce the video he said existed, and he felt 22 they were --

23          Q     Did he tell you that they -- did he tell you that 24 they destroyed it?

25          A     If I wrote that down, he did.

2 at this point in the narrative?

3 A Oh. "They told me they had destroyed the video of 4 the incident. I got an attorney within 30 days. And that's 5 what they said."

6 Q Okay.

7 A Yes.

8 Q So he told you he was taken to the hospital.

9 A Yes.

10 Q In an ambulance?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And then he told you that he followed up with Dr.
13 Nork?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q And then he told you that he had been doing some 16 physical therapy. Moving over to page 3.

17 A Yes.

18 Q And how long did he tell you he'd been doing
19 physical therapy?

20 A Since December -- that would be December of '04
21 until whatever the present time is. So that would -- he saw
22 Nork in January or February. So until then he had been doing
23 physical therapy.

24 Q Okay. Now did he tell you about seeing Dr. Shannon?

25 A Yes. He did.

3 A Yes.

4 Q And I'm still on page 3. And did he tell you what
5 that did for him?

6 A I didn't hear what you said.

7 Q Did he tell you -- I'm sorry. Did he tell you what
8 that did for him? Her surgery?

9 A Yeah. He said it didn't help.

10 Q Okay. Now, let me stop there for a moment. You saw 11 the testimony of Dr. Shannon?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And you saw the photographs that Dr. Shannon
14 produced?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And they showed the inside of his knee?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And did he indeed have a torn meniscus?

19 A Yes. He did.

20 Q And was it repaired?

21 A Yes. She did a really good job. Trimmed it very 22 nicely.

23 Q Okay. And so did you see any other pathology in the 24 knee?

25 A Yes. There were some mild Condromalacia, I think on

AVTranz

1 the femoral condyle and maybe on the tibia as they oppose each
2 other. Not unusual for a person his age and weight.

3 Q So would that be what you call a degenerative chain?

4 A Yes. Condromalacia.

5 Q Would that have pre-existed this injury?

6 A Almost certainly. Probably has it in both knees.

7 Q Okay. And what is the effect of excess weight on 8 your knees?

9 A Well, you know, they wear out faster.

10 Q And as you get older.

11 A They wear out even faster.

12 Q Now following the surgery and you saw the job that 13 Dr. Shannon did.

14 A Yes.

15 Q What would you have expected to follow with respect
16 to the patient? With the knee surgery and having seen the 17 manner in which it was repaired what would you expect would be 18 the normal course of events?

19 A I would expect that there would be improvement. And 20 the reason being that where there was Condromalacia she 21 smoothed off the surface so that the Condromalacia was 22 addressed. The pre-existing -- presumably pre-existing. And 23 she addressed the torn meniscus as well. She did a partial 24 synovectomy, a fairly extensive one that was any inflammation
25 around the knee. So the knee when she was finished with it

1 was better than it was when he injured it.

2 Q And was it better than the one on the other side?

3 A Probably.

4 Q Okay. And would you expect -- would you expect that
5 the patient would be able to run a marathon the next day?

6 A No.

7 Q Okay. What would you expect the course of recovery
8 to be?

9 A After an arthroscopy it's an invasive procedure.
10 You put an instrument into the knee and there are usually two 11 or three places that you enter the knee. You do a lot of 12 surgery, doing a synovectomy is basically cutting away the 13 lining of the knee. Well that leaves raw tissue underneath
14 that. And that has to heal.

15 It -- the human body has amazing recuperative
16 properties. That's the way -- that's why those of us who do
17 surgery can get away with it. Because the body does do a lot
18 of healing. And you heal that. And usually a patient after 19 arthroscopy is on protected weight bearing for maybe a week,
20 maybe two weeks, but then they gradually get better. The 21 symptoms of the surgery go away and the improved architecture
22 in the knee helps them improve their symptoms. That's why you
23 do the arthroscopy, actually.

24 Q And was there are anything that you saw that 25 Dr. Shannon did or failed to do that would have slowed down

1 any recovery?

2 A No. I think she did a first class job. I'd give it
3 five stars.

4 Q Okay. Did the patient -- did Mr. Rodriguez get
5 better?

6 A Well he said the surgery didn't help.

7 Q Okay.

8 A I have that on -- that's the middle of page 3. That 9 didn't help. So he didn't get better.

10 Q Okay. Now I want to change directions here for a

17 MR. BAKER: Starting "It's of note"?

18 MR. WARD: Starting with "He reports injury November 22,

2 calendar. And this is a calendar from November 2004.

3 A Right.

4 Q And we have filled in November 22. And that's the 5 date of the accident and that is the date of the treatment by 6 Dr. Heaps.

7 A Yes.

8 Q And the patient was seen at Spring Valley Hospital.

9 A Yes.

10 Q And are you familiar with Dr. Heaps examination?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And what did Dr. Heaps do in his -- well let me go
13 back a second. Are you familiar with the report from the --
14 from the ENTs?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. The first people that saw the patient after 17 the injury would be the ENTs. Is that correct?

18 A That is correct.

19 Q Okay. I mean the first medical people that saw him.
20 And they made some notes, did they not?

21 A They did.

1           Q     You -- so tell us what those people said when --
2     about their meeting with Mr. Rodriguez.

3           A     This is dated 11/22/04 and it's on page 4 of the 4     second part of the -- my report.

5                     "Patient 41-year-old male complains of left
6     knee pain, five out of ten, non-radiating, states
7     pain began approximately two hours after a woman
8     dove and hit his knee with her shoulder. Patient
9     states woman hit his knee from the front and his 10    knee buckled. States he tried to walk it off, but 11    it began hurting and called 9-1-1 first. The crew
12    cancelled. Apparently they came and then he
13    cancelled them, said I don't need you. Patient said
14    he would drive himself. States knee began hurting
15    when he started walking, and he called back. The 16    patient has no other complaints at this time. Found
17    sitting in a chair. No obvious distress."

18                    And an exam is described. They said lower extremities.
19    Left knee post impact with woman's shoulder negative
20    contusion, positive swelling.

21                    Negative contusion, that's a misuse of the word
22    contusion. Contusion is something you get from history. If 23    someone is kicking a soccer ball and it hits you in the thigh
24    you have a contusion. You find signs and symptoms of that if 25    there's swelling or edema so that's simply something they say.

1 They don't describe much other than the swelling to
2 authenticate that there's been a contusion.

3 Q Now you heard the testimony from Dr. Shannon?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And you heard Dr. Shannon say that when you look at 6 a knee joint you don't see any dates. Correct?

7 A Any dates?

8 Q Any --

9 A Oh.

10 Q -- not the fruit, but the like from the calendar.

11 A Yes. Yeah, you can't tell what happened when.

12 Q Okay. So you can't specifically tell that, that 13 some condition that you're looking at occurred on a particular
14 day?

15 A That's right.

16 Q But did you also hear Dr. Shannon say that based on 17 the information that she had that it was consistent with an 18 injury that would've occurred on November 22?

19 A Yes.

20 Q As he described.

21 A Yes.

22 Q Did you question her judgment about that?

23 A No.

24 Q So you're in agreement with her assessment?

25 A Yeah. I think it's kind of common sense. Yeah.

1 Q Okay. SO let's say that she's right. And you're in 2 agreement, that this injury to the meniscus was one that was
3 sustained on November 22, 2004 at the Palms.

4 A I think that's reasonable probable.

5 Q Okay. Do you find that the notations that you see
6 from the ENTs to be consistent with that kind of injury?

7 A Yes. Consistent with, but not a diagnostic of. I
8 would say.

9 Q Right. Okay.

10 A Yeah.

11 Q But his pain is at -- what? Five out of ten?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And since we know that that happened to him, you
14 would expect that there would be pain.

15 A Yes.

16 Q And you would expect that that would be a reasonable
17 level?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And they show aside from that no loss of 20 consciousness or dizziness or anything else?

21 A That's right.

22 Q But he's got a knee injury. Right?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And he's got a real knee injury.

25 A Yes.

2 that correct?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q Okay. Now you looked at the records of Dr. Heaps?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And you looked at Dr. Heaps trial testimony which 7 was the deposition in which was read into the record?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And did Dr. Heaps conduct a thorough examination?

10 A I think he conducted a very thorough examination for 11 an emergency room doctor. He didn't confine his exam just to 12 the knee, but he really did a thorough muscular/skeletal
13 system exam.

14 Q And --

15 A A lot of emergency room doctors wouldn't have done
16 that in that circumstance. But he did.

17 Q He was in the process of being board certified as an 18 ER doctor?

19 A Is he? I -- okay.

20 Q Yeah. And what you saw fit with that?

21 A Yes.

22 Q You --

23 A Certainly so.

24 Q You thought he did a nice job?

25 A He did a very thorough exam. Yes.

2 condition?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Did he find anything else?

5 A No. He really didn't. He found, I think a little
6 swelling in the knee. He felt the ligaments of the knee were
7 stable. He tested for the cruciates as well as the collateral
8 ligaments.

9 Q Uh-huh.

10 A Range of motion and the appearance of the knee. And 11 his positive findings were involved with the knee.

12 Q Now the amount of swelling is -- does that have any
13 correlation to the degree of the injury?

14 A I would say yes, it does. I think that if you
15 sustain an injury in the knee, for example, which tears a
16 cruciate -- an anterior cruciate ligament, that's a major
17 problem. Where the ligament comes off the bone, there's 18 bleeding and the knee fills up with blood. It's very swollen
19 and tight and painful and hard to move. So that that does
20 bespeak a very serious injury. If you have minimal or mild
21 swelling, it's less serious of an injury.

22 Q Okay.

23 A So that, sure it's related.

24 Q Okay. And Dr. Heaps made recommendations for 25 Mr. Rodriguez?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Gave him crutches?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And did he explain why it was he gave him crutches?

5 A I think he wanted to limit weight bearing on the 6 left lower extremity.

7 Q Okay. Did he say that one of the reasons that he 8 wanted to do that was because the patient had an injury and if
9 he limits weight bearing these things -- some of them at least 10 tend to heal on their own?

11 A Yes. They do.

12 Q Has that been your experience?

13 A Yes, indeed.

14 Q The body actually does heal itself?

15 A Fortunately the body has amazing recuperative
16 properties. Yes.

17 Q Okay. Now, Doctor, if -- you're familiar with 18 traumatic injuries. Are you not?

19 A Yes. Indeed.

20 Q And you've seen many of them over the years?

21 A Many of them over the years. Athletic, motorcycle
22 accidents, all kind of injuries.

23 Q Okay. Now if you have a soft tissue injury. If 24 someone has a soft tissue injury, do you expect that the pain
25 is going to be instantaneous or does it depend on the severity

AVTranz

1 of the injury?

2 A Well this -- this gets into kind of the mythology of
3 medicine. There's a -- the business of the so called 4 whiplash, which orthopedists don't like to use for a term for 5 a neck injury in rear ending automobile accidents, but the 6 person who has a whip lash supposedly can then develop neck
7 pain two or three weeks later. And I don't think that makes
8 sense. If you sprain your neck -- or if you sprain your back,
9 the ligaments involved in the sprain are richly supplied with 10 sensory nerves which convey to your brain, this hurts. It's 11 painful.

12 So that it's almost instantaneous. It may take
13 overnight. Some people who have a lot of injuries wake up
14 feeling worse than they did when the injury occurred
15 initially. But certainly there's a kind of what I would call
16 a refractory period after the injury when there's -- they're 17 still some -- they're stunned somewhat. Emotionally stunned.
18 And it's like not feeling the impact of bad news. If you
19 discover that your daughter was suddenly killed in an accident
20 you'd be emotionally stunned. And the full reaction would 21 occur sometime later.

22 So there is a refractory period, but I think it's a
23 relatively short period.

24 Q Like two, three days?

25 A Oh yeah, maybe shorter than that. Hours.

AVTranz

1 Q Okay. So if there were any additional injuries
2 would you expect them to show up within two or three days?

3 A Yes. I would.

4 Q Okay. Now, the -- let's move to December. December
5 6 is -- I don't know if we can -- I don't know if you can read
6 that, but that's December 6th -- Monday, December 6th, that's 7 Dr. Nork.

8 A Well I'm looking at this through the bottom of my
9 bifocals, so --

10 THE COURT: It's not easy to see even so, is it, sir.

11 MR. WARD: Okay.

12 THE WITNESS: Right. It isn't, but I can manage.

13 BY MR. WARD:

14 Q Okay. I'm just kind of doing this map as a -- this 15 calendar as a place hold. This is Monday, December 6th the 16 patient is seen by Mr. Nork?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Now this is two weeks post accident. Correct?

19 A Yes. Exactly two weeks.

20 Q And if the patient had any other issues would you
21 expect them to have surfaced by this time?

22 A Yes. Certainly so.

23 Q And so did you look at Dr. Nork's records?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And what does Dr. Nork say?

AVTranz

1           A     Well I've got it here on page 5 of the record
2 review. He describes -- he has the history of the injury
3 essentially similar to what I got. He was given medication
4 and crutches and advised to return to the casino. At the time
5 of my exam the complaint was pain in the left knee. Constant,
6 increased with weight bearing. He was wearing a brace and
7 only took it off to shower. He walked with crutches. He 8 stated the swelling had subsided considerably. And there was 9 no instability or clicking or popping or grinding or grating.
10 And he said he never had an injury to his knee before that.

11           Q     Now is that inconsistent with a meniscal tear from 12 November 22?

13           MR. BAKER: I'm sorry. Did you consistent or in --

14           MR. WARD: Inconsistent.

15           MR. BAKER: Okay.

16           THE WITNESS: No. It's not.

17 BY MR. WARD:

18           Q     Right. Okay. It's consistent.

19           A     It's consistent with a meniscal tear. You can still 20 have this presentation in a meniscal tear.

21           Q     So this is -- is this exactly what you would expect?

22           A     Well it's within the range of things that you'd 23 expect. Yes.

24           Q     Okay. And is there any reference to any other body
25 part that's injured?

AVTranz

1 A I don't see it here. And I don't recall it.

2 Q Okay. Now the Dr. Nork refers the patient to
3 physical therapy. Is that correct?

4 A I think Rancho Physical Therapy.

5 Q Rancho Physical Therapy. And he's seen on December
6 8th?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Now I -- there are a number of visits to Rancho
9 Physical Therapy and I wan to try to breeze through this as 10 quickly as we can, but do you have the records there or do you
11 want me to bring the records up? They're in evidence aren't 12 they?

13 A I don't have all of them here. I -- reviewed them,
14 but haven't --

15 THE COURT: Mr. Ward, could we take about a ten minute
16 break before you do that?

17 MR. WARD: Certainly, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Thank you.

19 [Recess]

20 THE COURT: Okay. We're back on the record. Whenever 21 you're ready, Mr. Ward.

22 MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor.

25 Q We're going to bring up the records from Rancho

1 Physical Therapy and these are already in evidence. And I'm
2 just going to go through them quickly.

3 THE COURT: What number are they, Mr. Ward, do you know?

4 MR. BAKER: I believe it's Volume I, Exhibit 15, Your
5 Honor.

6 THE COURT: 15, you say?

7 MR. BAKER: I think so.

8 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

9 BY MR. WARD:

10 Q Now, the Rancho Physical Therapy starts on 11 December --

12 A Eight.

13 Q -- December 8, 2004?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. Now what is the condition of the patient, as 16 you see it on December 8th? What do they say about his 17 complaints?

18 A Their diagnosis is left lower extremity pain.

19 Q Okay. Is there any indication that that there are 20 any other complaints?

21 A No.

22 Q Now we are, at this point, two weeks post-injury,
23 correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And what limitations on activity would you have for

AVTranz

1 this patient at that time, based on this -- these physical
2 conditions?

3 A They recount the history, that he was seen in the 4 ER, and he was given a brace, referred for physical therapy.
5 Well, he would be -- normally, he would be expected to be 6 bearing some weight and to be exercising and to be
7 strengthening his quadriceps muscles.

8 Q Okay. And based upon the assessment and the injury
9 would you expect at this time that he would be able to move
10 around?

11 A Yes.

12 Q But would you expect there'd be some limitation on 13 that movement?

14 A Yes. I mean that's why he has a brace. The brace
15 helps stabilize the knee and enables him to move without 16 further aggravating whatever is going on inside his knee.

17 Q Okay. Would there be anything about his condition
18 that would limit him from sedentary activities?

19 A No. No.

20 Q So would he be able to sit in a chair and watch
21 television?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Would he be able to sit in a chair and work at a
24 computer?

25 A Yes.

AVTranz

1 Q If he knew how to use computers?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And he would be able to do other kinds of things
4 involving movement?

5 A Sedentary and semi-sedentary things, certainly so.

6 Q Okay. So you're not expecting him to run a marathon
7 at this point?

8 A No. But he could do quite a few things. That's why
9 you fit a person to a knee brace, you want to keep people as 10 active as they can be. You don't want to encourage 11 inactivity.

12 Q Okay. And so when he's seen on December 8th at 13 Rancho Physical Therapy he's assessed and some physical 14 therapy is done; is that correct?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q Okay. Now he's seen again on December 10, Rancho
17 Physical Therapy, and do you see any complaints there that are
18 anything other than the knee?

19 A Well, I don't see anything.

20 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: We see blue.

4 MR. BAKER: Yeah. And they're Bates numbered on the

6 THE WITNESS: Okay. And is this what I -- what number do

17 A Okay.

18 Q And can you read that? Can you see that?

19 A "Patient says home exercise program going well.

3 A "Continue normal therapy next week."

4 Q Let me stop you there.

5 A Yeah.

6 Q Do you see anything -- do you see any complaints of

8 A No.

9 Q And so the next visit is December 13, and these --
10 some of these visits are on the same page.

11 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: Not this one.

20 THE WITNESS: It happens in San Francisco all the time.

21 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: Your binder isn't in order, that's

1 A Yes, I have it.

2 Q And do you see anything other than left knee
3 complaints?

4 A No.

5 Q And below is December --

6 A 16th.

7 Q December -- well, we're at December -- yeah,
8 December -- it's actually, I think, December 15 written on the 9 wrong line. But at any rate, it's Wednesday. Any indication
10 there of anything other than left knee complaints?

11 A Only left knee.

12 Q Okay. And next is December 17th. Do you see 13 anything there of any indication other than left knee
14 complaints?

15 A No.

16 Q Do you see --

17 A Only left knee.

18 Q Do you see anything there that suggests that the 19 patient is improving?

20 A "Patient says his range of motion is much better.
21 Doing stretches daily at home. Treatment as above."

22 Q Now is that what you would expect from this kind of 23 an injury?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And okay. So we go to the next, December 20, and

1 this is December 20 of '04.

2 A Okay.

3 Q Do you see that, Doctor?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Do you see any indication of anything other than
6 left knee?

7 A Left knee only.

8 Q Do you see anything that indicates he's doing
9 better?

10 A "Excellent progress overall" is in the -- and the 11 note ends, "excellent progress overall." That's good.

12 Q Is that what you would expect from this kind of an 13 injury?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And do --

16 A I think what happening here, is that he did really
17 sprain his knee, a sprain strain, and the structures around
18 the knee, when you hyperextend it, you bend it back further
19 than it wants to bend. And the structures that restrain that 20 have been stretched a little bit. They haven't been torn 21 through or there would have been a lot of swelling. But 22 they've been stretched a little bit, more than they want to 23 stretch and that hurts.

24 And as the -- and so the knee protects itself by not 25 letting itself move and then as the inflammation resolves, and

1 the thing quiets down a little bit, then the motion improves.
2 And with the good physical therapy -- and this is a normal
3 regimen -- you get improvement. And that's what's happened.
4 And that's what you'd expect.

5 Q And what would you expect to be his limitation on
6 motion during this period of time, limitation on activity
7 during this period of time?

8 A A gradual increase to pre-injury activity.

9 Q Okay.

10 A I think the thing that's important to understand
11 here is we know that he had a meniscal tear, but a meniscal
12 tear isn't causing him any symptoms. That doesn't mean it
13 doesn't need to be fixed, and it doesn't mean that the surgery
14 was inappropriate. I think the surgery was quite proper, to 15 be done.

16 But it means that it wasn't causing him symptoms at 17 that time. If you have symptoms from a meniscus tear you get
18 what's called "locking of the knee," and you'll bend the knee
19 and then can't straighten it out all the way. That's because 20 the torn meniscus gets in the way of straightening the knee,
21 and that's the thing that can happen.

22 But a torn meniscus in and of itself doesn't cause
23 pain and it doesn't cause a problem unless there's locking;
24 that's the symptom.

25 Q Okay. And do you see any indication of locking

1 here?

2 A No.

3 Q And the next visit is December 17. Is that --

4 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: No, 20.

5 MR. WARD: Oh, 22?

6 BY MR. WARD:

7 Q Twenty-two, yeah. It's written on the wrong -- this
8 is the one that's written on the wrong line.

9 A Okay.

10 Q This -- it's supposed -- they wrote it in Thursdays
11 and they -- and then they put this arrow in the -- it's 12 actually supposed to be Wednesdays, correct?

13 A All right. This is -- shows more improvement. "He 14 says he only uses crutches for longer distances. Treatment as 15 above." That is, again, he's making progress.

16 Q Okay.

17 A Getting better.

18 Q Now, this is -- this particular day here, do you see
19 any indication of any complaints other than knee?

20 A No.

21 Q This is one month post-accident, right?

22 A Okay. Yes.

23 Q This is the one-month anniversary of the accident.
24 And isn't -- is he progressing as you would expect he would
25 progress?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And now we go to the 23rd, we have one more entry
3 here. On the 23rd, do you see that, Doctor?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And any indication of any complaints other than the
6 knee?

7 A I can't read it all, but I don't see anything that
8 suggests anything other than the knee.

9 Q Now, if --

10 A Terrible handwriting.

11 Q -- there had been any other injury to this patient,
12 you would have expected they'd have surfaced long before this,
13 would you not?

14 A Yes, I would.

15 Q And the fact that there is no -- nothing surfaced,
16 what does that tell you, Doctor?

17 A Well that tells me that he really injured his knee
18 and that seems to be what -- the extent of his injury.

19 Q Okay. And the knee's getting better?

20 A And the knee is getting better.

21 Q Okay. And he still needs to have the meniscus
22 repaired?

23 A Yes.

24 Q But it's getting better?

25 A Yes.

AVTranz

1 Q And now the meniscus repair, is that what you would
2 call elective surgery?

3 A Yes, I would.

4 Q Now elective surgery, I take it doesn't mean that
5 it's not necessary?

6 A No, no. I think a torn meniscus is going to cause
7 problems along the line, and it's sort of having gall stones,
8 you know? The gall stones might not be causing a problem but 9 once you find gall stones, most surgeons recommend that you
10 have your gall bladder out.

11 And I think that's good judgment. And the same is 12 true of a torn meniscus, that it's good to get it trimmed so
13 that it doesn't impair the job of the meniscus.

14 Q Okay. Now let's move to January 3. Any indication
15 of any complaints other than the knee?

16 A No. And there's more improvement. "Still getting 17 better. Walking getting easier." That sounds very good.

18 Q And is that what you would expect?

19 A Yes.

20 Q So this patient is getting good medical care?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Good physical therapy?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And ultimately a good surgeon?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And we move to January 5.

2 A Right.

3 Q And do you see anything other than the knee?

4 A No. "Patient states he is better."

5 Q His complaint here is he still can't walk fast; is
6 that correct?

7 A Or pivot, yeah.

8 Q Is that --

9 A Yes.

10 Q -- kind of what you would expect at this stage?

11 A Yes.

12 Q So the fact that this complaint is he can't walk
13 fast enough is an indication that there's substantial
14 improvement?

15 A Yes.

16 Q But he wants to make it better?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And then we move to January 5.

19 A That was January 5.

20 Q I'm sorry. January 7.

21 A Oh, okay.

22 Q And what is the SIG?

23 A Significant increase in range of motion is what that 24 means.

25 Q Okay.

AVTranz

1 A Since evaluation.

2 Q What's that tell you?

3 A That means he's getting better and increasing
4 strength also. "Improved gait."

5 Q Okay.

6 A "But not yet" -- wall -- w-a-l -- well -- I don't 7 know what word is.

8 Q Okay. Now is it correct, Doctor, that the physical 9 therapy that he's continuing to get during this period of time
10 is appropriate?

11 A Oh, I think so. Certainly so.

12 Q And is it effective?

13 A Seems to have been.

14 Q Okay. Now we -- he goes back to -- now he's seen by 15 -- oops, I'm jumping a week. Okay. January 10, and do you
16 see any indication of any complaints other than the knee?

17 A No.

18 Q And January 12, anything other than the knee?

19 A No.

20 Q January 13, anything other than the knee?

21 A Knee only.

22 Q Okay. Now let's move to January 17th. Do you see
23 anything other than the knee?

24 A Nothing other than the knee.

25 Q Okay. Now on your records or your chart, Doctor, do

2 Nork?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And when he saw Dr. Nork were there any complaints
5 of anything other than the knee?

6 A No.

7 Q And what was Dr. Nork's evaluation on January 17th?

8 A Oh, let's see. Can you tell me what page I wrote it
9 on?

10 Q I will -- I'll try.

11 A Let's see.

12 [Counsel Confer]

13 THE WITNESS: I've got it. It's page 5.

14 BY MR. WARD:

15 Q Okay.

16 A Now, what did you ask?

17 Q Yeah. What did Dr. Nork say on this visit? Any 18 complaints about anything other than the knee?

19 A No. Complaints were only about the knee.

20 Q Okay. And did Dr. Nork find anything new?

21 A No. And he felt the patient had had a contusion of 22 the knee with a hyperextension sprain/strain. And he 23 recommended continuing the treatment that was already in 24 place.

25 Q Okay. So that was it -- that was -- that fit with

1 the pattern of what you thought was appropriate?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. And now the patient is seen next, January 20
4 in physical therapy. Do you see anything other than the knee?

5 A Well, January 20 it says N/S, I think that means "no
6 show".

7 Q Okay. And does that tell you anything?

8 A Well it tells me he didn't appear for physical 9 therapy.

10 Q Okay. And the next one is January 21.

11 A Yes.

12 Q Anything other than the knee?

13 A No, only the knee.

14 Q Okay. And on the 28th, he gets -- let's see. Did I
15 jump ahead here? January 24 of 2005, any complaints other
16 than the knee?

17 A No. "No significant changes since last week."

18 Q Okay. And January 27, anything other than the knee?

19 A No new -- something. So I guess nothing new.

20 Q Okay. And January 31?

21 A Only the knee. And he says his pain level is not 22 any better, however.

23 Q And is there -- are there any additional findings by 24 the physical therapy people?

25 A I don't see any noted.

2 A I don't --

3 Q And what's the entry from -- the next entry appears
4 to be 2/17. It's on that same document. Can you see that?
5 "D/C, patient not returning."

6 A "Discontinue physical therapy, patient not
7 returning." Yeah --

8 Q Okay.

9 A -- it says.

10 Q Do you know why that is?

11 A No, I don't.

12 Q Okay. Now when you -- we now move to February 1; is
13 that correct?

14 MR. WARD: Can we bring up the calendar a moment, please?
15 Go back to -- we can go back to December, just quickly.

16 BY MR. WARD:

17 Q So we have December, 2004, the -- in red we have the 18 visits almost every other day to physical therapy. We've got 19 the examination by Dr. Nork.

20 And then we move to January and we've got about 21 every other day to physical therapy and to Dr. Nork on the 22 17th. And now it appears on the 17th that he went to a new 23 doctor. Do you see that?

2 Q Right.

3 A -- the Wellness Group, yes.

5 A No, I don't.

6 Q Okay. And was he seen by Dr. Campbell?

7 A The -- January -- I don't have an entry for Dr.
8 Campbell.

9 Q Let me see if I can find it for you.

12 MR. WARD: Exhibit 8.

13 THE COURT: Do either of you object if I pose a question

15 MR. WARD: No.

16 MR. BAKER: No, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: While we're waiting.

18 Dr. Becker, you have described this knee surgery as being
19 elective. I think Dr. Shannon's description of it was that it
20 was semi-elective. Didn't she say "semi-elective?"

21 MR. BAKER: That's what I recall, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: And I just was curious as to what your

1 THE WITNESS: I would agree. Well, I mean elective is
2 sort of on a continuum. There's a difference between emergent
3 surgery, which has to be done right now, urgent surgery which
4 needs to be done in the next two or three days, and elective,
5 and it can be semi-elective and you could break it down.

6 But I think, I basically agree with Dr. Shannon.

7 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

8 BY MR. WARD:

9 Q Doctor, I'm having trouble finding this and I don't
10 want to slow this down. I'll find it and come back to it.
11 But I want to go to Dr. Simpson who's also part of the 12 Wellness Group. And is seen -- he's seen by Dr. Simpson on 13 February 1st; is that correct?

14 A Yes. I have February 1st.

15 Q And can you tell me, does -- when he's seen by 16 Dr. Simpson on February 1st, is there any complaint other than 17 the knee?

18 A I don't see anything other than the knee.

19 Q Okay. How about on February 15, when he's seen by 20 Dr. Simpson?

21 A He mentions numbness and tingling in his right hand
22 and fingers.

23 Q Okay. Now numbness and tingling in his right hand
24 and fingers, what would the cause of that be?

25 A Well, this man is very heavy and he's been using

1 crutches. And common things occur commonly. And if you put 2 pressure, as you hold a crutch, the pressure falls right in
3 the tunnel that the median nerve goes through, the carpal
4 tunnel and so it's not unusual to get carpal tunnel-like
5 symptoms from pressure on the median nerve particularly in a
6 heavy person because there's a lot weight being borne by the 7 wrist.

8           And those of us who walk on two legs, we're bipeds,
9 the wrist isn't supposed to be a weight-bearing joint, and it
10 becomes that if you use crutches.

11           Q     Okay. Is that indicative of having back or neck
12 pain?

13           A     No.

14           Q     Carpal tunnel syndrome?

15           A     No, no. No. Absolutely not.

16           Q     What is -- it's simply limited to the wrist?

17           A     It's absolutely limited to the pressure on the nerve
18 at the wrist.

19           Q     Okay. And it's a real phenomenon?

20           A     Yes. It's a real phenomenon.

21           Q     And that's something you wrote an article about,
22 about 40 years ago?

23           A     Yes.

24           Q     Okay.

25           A     I wrote an article on carpal tunnel syndrome, before

AVTranz

1 it was popular, before it was well-known, yes.

2 Q And you've had a lot of carpal tunnel patients since
3 that time?

4 A Absolutely.

5 Q And what are the possibilities with someone who has,
6 has what is evidenced by Mr. Rodriguez on this particular day?

7 A Well, I mean you could treat it, but you can't do a
8 carpal tunnel release because then he wouldn't be able to use
9 his crutches, so you can't operate on it.

10 I suppose you could inject it with steroids, some 11 people do that. That would be one approach. Another approach
12 would be to give him a wrist splint to relieve the pressure at 13 night, at least while he was sleeping, when he wasn't using 14 the crutches.

15 But basically you have to put up with it until he's 16 off the crutches. And usually it would regress and after two 17 or three weeks not be symptomatic anymore. Because if you're 18 not irritating and pressing the nerve, the pressure is 19 relieved.

20 Q Okay. So you would expect that one of the 21 possibilities is, after he stopped using crutches, that after 22 a few weeks this will go away on its own?

23 A Yes.

24 Q But not all will go away on their own; is that
25 correct?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 A That's correct.

2 Q And some will persist?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And for those that persist, what treatment
5 possibilities are there? The next level is what, injection?

6 A Well, yes. At the time I wrote that paper, we were
7 interested in finding out how people did after carpal tunnel
8 releases. So we didn't inject very many of them, and I don't
9 really think injection does much; it's a mechanical problem.

10 Like if you've got a stone in your shoe and you're 11 walking around, it doesn't hurt to a -- it doesn't help to 12 inject your foot. It's easier to take the stone out of the 13 shoe. And so this is a common sense thing. You just -- it's 14 such an easy operation.

15 All you do is open the ligament that's pressing on 16 the nerve, just release it, and the nerve pops up and it isn't 17 compressed anymore. And it heals and it gets better. It's --
18 it really is simple. They now do it through an arthroscope,
19 they don't even make an incision. The incision advocated in 20 the paper, I think is about an inch and a half long, but now
21 it's a little mini thing.

22 Q And so it's treatable?

23 A Very treatable.

24 Q And then --

25 A And curable.

AVTranz

1 Q And curable?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Now do you see any other complaints there about

4 anything other than the knee and this numbness?

5 A No.

6 Q Okay.

7 A The knee and the numbness.

8 Q And now Dr. Simpson is with the same group as 9 Dr. Campbell; is that correct?

10 A I don't know, if --

11 Q They're both Wellness Group.

12 A Okay, yes. Campbell is a chiropractor, that's

13 right.

14 Q Right, okay. And now it is March 28 that -- did I

15 jump too far ahead here? No.

16 A I have Dr. Shannon.

17 Q Yeah. The next visit is -- I have a March 1, and

18 Wellness, Simpson Wellness Group. Do you see anything else

19 with Simpson other than -- is that when he reviewed the MRI?

20 A I don't have that March 1 cited in my record review.

21 Q Okay.

22 A I looked at it, but I didn't --

23 Q And you're not aware of any complaints and of 24 anything other than the knee on that date?

25 A No, I'm not.

1 Q Now he sees Dr. Shannon on March 28; is that
2 correct?

3 A Right.

4 Q Dr. Shannon at that time recommends surgery?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And when you called it elective, I take it you
7 didn't mean that it wasn't appropriate to do. I mean you
8 didn't mean elective like someone gets a nose job or something
9 like that?

10 A No, no. I think she -- my understanding is the same
11 as hers, that she recommends arthroscopic surgery. I would 12 have made the same recommendation.

13 Q Okay. Now from a surgical standpoint in the -- in 14 -- before arthroscopic surgery, surgery to the knee involved
15 what in general?

16 A Well, it involved making an incision into the knee
17 joint and actually opening the joint and you could go in and 18 see some of it. But at surgery, open surgery, you can't see
19 as much as you can see through an arthroscope because you can 20 put the scope in little corners and places that you can't get 21 to otherwise.

22 The knee is a very tight joint. It has strong
23 ligaments on each side of it and in fore and aft, and because
24 it's so tight, even when the patient is anesthetized, you
25 can't separate the bones and look in except with an

1 arthroscope, and you can insinuate the arthroscope in places
2 that you couldn't see directly. And so you see more; it's
3 really a much better procedure.

4 Q And in terms of the recuperation time, what would
5 the normal recuperation time be for a completely open knee
6 surgery?

7 A It takes a little bit longer. It takes probably two
8 or three weeks before someone can start protected weight-
9 bearing. They don't want to, because it's sore, it's very 10 sore. It's like an open wound.

11 Q And how does that compare with our -- then
12 arthroscope surgery?

13 A The small wound heals much faster -- or it doesn't 14 heal faster, but there's much less length of scar to heal, and 15 so it hurts less and it's the discomfort that keeps you from 16 using the knee. If it doesn't hurt, you tend to be able to 17 put weight on it.

18 Q Now, the patient has not been seen by anyone else
19 and not getting physical therapy during the month of March,
20 2005; is that correct?

21 A As far as these notes indicate, that's right. I
22 don't --

23 Q What does that tell you?

24 A Well it tells me he didn't see anybody for 25 treatment.

2 A Yes.

3 Q And she recommends surgery?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And now we move to April and you see -- does he see
6 Dr. Shannon again?

7 A Well this chart suggests that he did see her. I'm
8 looking for my note. I don't think I have that note of Dr.
9 Shannon.

10 Q Okay. And you haven't seen anything that suggests
11 that here were any complaints other than the knee?

12 A No, I haven't.

13 Q And there's no other treatment in the month of 14 April, is there?

15 A No.

16 Q And if we move to the month of May?

17 A Nothing.

18 Q There's no treatment in the month of May?

19 A Nothing.

20 Q And we go to June, there's no treatment in --

21 A June, nothing.

22 Q -- the month of June.

23 A Right. And I don't have any notes of anything

25 Q So we're now six months, approximately post-injury,

1 and is this in keeping with what you would expect with this
2 kind of injury?

3 MR. BAKER: It's lacking -- objection, Your Honor; vague.

4 THE COURT: Uh-huh, could I ask you to rephrase.

5 MR. WARD: Sure.

6 BY MR. WARD:

7 Q Is the lack of ongoing treatment what you would
8 expect with this kind of injury?

9 A Yes. And I would expect that if the injury gets 10 better and the physical therapy notes, some of them suggest
11 that he had gotten a lot better, and they have excellent
12 progress in walking without crutches. But so -- and we know
13 that the torn meniscus is not causing locking, so it's not 14 causing symptoms. So I would think that he wouldn't need any 15 treatment until he has the surgery.

16 Q Okay. So this is in keeping with what you would 17 expect for this kind of an injury?

18 A Yes.

19 Q This is normal follow-up?

20 A Yes, I think so.

21 Q And in terms of the restriction on any activities of 22 this patient, what would you expect the restriction to be at 23 this point?

24 A If he were my patient, I'd say activity as 25 tolerated. Do what you can do. And he'd -- the physical

2 think that -- I would say, well you're doing it. Go ahead,
3 keep doing it.

4 Q And if -- okay.

5 A I would encourage activity.

6 Q Now we move to July of 2005.

7 A Right. No orthopedic treatment.

8 Q And the end of July, he sees Dr. Mortillaro.

9 A Yes. That's a --

10 Q And Dr. Mortillaro is a psychologist?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And that was at the request of Dr. Shannon; is that
13 correct?

14 A Yes. Yes, I believe so.

15 Q Okay. And now in August he sees Dr. Shannon again?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Is this in preparation for the surgery?

18 A I believe so. My documents are out of order, but 19 she normally would see the patient pre-op.

20 Q Okay. And --

21 A I know the surgery occurs October 4, so she's seeing 22 the patient shortly before the surgery, which you'd expect.

23 Q Okay. And the patient's seen by Dr. Mortillaro?

24 A Yes.

25 Q On the 31st of August and again on the 1st of 1 September?

2 A That's what I have.

3 Q And she's -- sees Valley Hospital for a chest x-ray.
4 Now what was the chest x-ray about?

5 A Well, we -- it's common practice to evaluate a
6 person who's going to undergo anesthesia from a cardio
7 respiratory standpoint. And we know here that there's a
8 history of possible pulmonary embolus, and he has asthma or he 9 had asthma.

10 Q Okay.

11 A And so he's got some history to that suggests that 12 one would be well-advised to check his chest x-ray before you
13 subject him to major anesthesia.

14 Q Now do the records reveal that the patient advised
15 Dr. Shannon that he had a history of pulmonary embolus?

16 A I think the patient told --

17 Q Told?

18 A -- Dr. Shannon that --

19 Q Right.

20 A -- because that's the only way she found out.

21 Q Right.

22 A And --

23 Q And you saw the records from Magnolia Center?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And was that Mr. Rodriguez?

1 A Yes.

2 Q At Magnolia Center?

3 A Yeah. Yes, I have that.

4 Q And did he indeed have a suspected pulmonary
5 embolus?

6 A Yes. He was worked up for a pulmonary embolus.

7 Q Was he treated for anything else at Magnolia Center
8 before this accident?

9 A I think they felt he had asthma. They found he had 10 asthma and sleep apnea.

11 Q Okay. And --

12 A And he may have gotten a CPAP machine at that time.

13 Q Okay. And that was well before this accident,
14 correct?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Now Dr. Shannon, in having a chest x-ray and the 17 things Dr. Shannon did, was that appropriate or inappropriate?

18 A Absolutely appropriate. I think she's a good
19 doctor. I like Dr. Shannon.

20 Q So she's doing everything that a cautious and well
21 qualified surgeon should do?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Looking out for the patient?

25 Q And there's another visit to Dr. Shannon on

2 A Yes.

3 Q -- I take it there haven't been, other than the 4 carpal tunnel issue that we talked about, there haven't been
5 any complaints other than the knee; is that correct?

6 A That's correct. "Chief complaint, left knee pain."

7 Q And now Dr. Mortillaro sees the patient again on 8 October 3.

9 A Yes.

10 Q And then on October 4, Dr. Shannon does the left
11 knee arthroscopy at Valley Hospital?

12 A Correct.

13 Q And we've talked about -- you've talked about what 14 Dr. Shannon did?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Following Dr. Shannon's surgery and with the knee in 17 the condition that you saw that it was on the photographs,
18 what would you expect would happen then after the surgery?
19 What would the course of recovery be?

20 A The normal course of recovery following a knee
21 arthroscopy of this intensity would be that within two or 22 three days he could start protective weight-bearing with 23 crutches. And assuming that the entry, that he was walking
24 without crutches before, I would think that he would have

1 the crutches and be walking. Because his knee is better now,
2 than it was before he injured it.

3 Q Okay. Now, you said earlier that our body, our body
4 heals itself.

5 A Yes.

6 Q There were some things I take it that the body
7 doesn't heal itself?

8 A Yes, that's why we need doctors.

9 Q Job security?

10 A Yeah.

11 Q All right. A torn meniscus, will that heal itself?

12 A No. A meniscus will not heal itself because it has 13 no blood supply.

14 Q Okay. So the meniscus needs to be surgically
15 repaired by the surgeon?

16 A Yes, or excised.

17 Q Okay. Once that surgery is done, does the rest of 18 the body change any differently from the way it would have 19 changed before the accident? Is that -- does that --

20 A I'm not sure what you --

21 Q Well let me --

22 A -- mean.

23 Q Let me try it again. That didn't come out very 24 well.

25 A No.

1 Q Let me try it again. Is it true that our body --
2 and I know nobody in this room wants to admit it -- but our
3 body actually degenerates?

4 A Yes, it is.

5 Q Okay. And is that progressive?

6 A It seems to be.

7 Q And as we get older, does it progress more?

8 A It does.

9 Q And are there certain conditions that make certain
10 parts of our body progress even faster?

11 A Yes. Gravity is one of them.

12 Q Okay. And overweightness [sic] affects the joints?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And causes them to wear out earlier than they ought 15 to?

16 A In most cases, yes.

17 Q Okay. Now the accident happened six years ago.

18 A Right.

19 Q In another --

20 A Six years ago now, yes.

21 Q And in another couple of weeks it'll be six years.

22 A Yes.

23 Q Would you expect that Mr. Rodriguez's body has 24 degenerated to some extent over that period of time?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Just like yours and mine has?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And --

4 A I would expect so.

5 Q Okay. Yours has, mine has, everybody else's has?

6 A Mine surely has, yes.

7 Q Okay. And is that caused by the accident?

8 A No, no.

9 Q And does the -- is the accident somehow supposed to 10 freeze him in time so that no more degeneration occurs, and if 11 it does occur, it must be because of the accident?

12 A Well, no.

13 Q Did you see any additional, throughout the year
14 2005, did you see any indication in the period of time
15 following up from this surgery that there was any complaint
16 other than the knee?

17 A You mean after the surgery?

18 Q Within the short period of time after the surgery?

19 A No. I don't have -- I -- if I did, I didn't
20 document it, and I'm -- I believe that if I'd had seen it I
21 would have documented it.

22 Q Okay.

23 A I don't find anything.

24 Q Okay. And now did Mr. Rodriguez progress, as you
25 would have expected following this arthroscopic surgery?

1           A     He says it didn't help -- and he says it didn't
2 help, that he didn't get any better. And it's documented that
3 his complaints continued.

4           Q     Okay. And if anything, his complaints got worse,
5 didn't it?

6           A     Yes.

7           Q     And did you see anything in these films that would
8 account for why it got worse?

9           A     You mean the films from the arthroscopy?

10          Q     Right.

11          A     No, they looked good.

12          Q     Okay.

13          A     They looked very good, actually.

14          Q     Okay. And now the patient went back to Dr. Shannon?

15          A     Yes.

16          Q     And said that he had increasing knee pain.

17          A     Yes.

18          Q     Did she just ignore him?

19          A     No. She wondered what was going on and she ordered
20 an MRI with contrast. That means material put into the knee
21 to outline the structures in the knee a little better than 22 simply you would see them in a plain MRI.

23          Q     And so this is a highly efficacious study?

24          A     It's a very good study. It's a very accurate study.

25          Q     And did this study show anything abnormal?

AVTranz

1 A No. My remembrance is that it didn't.

2 Q So what does that -- does that tell you anything?

3 A Well, it certainly makes one suspicious, while --
4 one has to wonder, have we got the right diagnosis, what's 5 going on here? Why is this knee pain going on? Why -- and we
6 don't find any reason to explain it when we examine the knee,
7 and even when we get an MRI with contrast, we don't find an 8 explanation. And it raises questions about that; what's 9 causing it, why the symptoms?

10 Q Now can someone who has a meniscus removed, at some 11 point in time need further repair to the surgical site?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And is that because the surgical site has changed?

14 A Well, yeah. I mean the surgical site is the 15 interior of the knee.

16 Q Right.

17 A And the interior of a knee that is a degenerative
18 knee is going to continue to degenerate, and particularly if 19 there's chondromalacia. I think what finally happened here
20 was that a loose body was developed and I think that that can
21 come from the detritus, the little fragments of the rough
22 cartilage break off, and then they become a loose body.

23 And sometimes in the joint, they will increase in 24 size and they become problematic, and cause popping.

25 Q Okay. So is it possible that a -- there was a loose

AVTranz

1 body that was a residual from the surgery, that was so small
2 that it couldn't be seen?

3 A It's remotely possible. I mean I don't think I -- I
4 think Dr. Shannon did a very thorough surgery and I don't
5 think she left any loose body in the knee, if that's what
6 you're asking me, I'm not sure.

7 I think it's more likely that the loose body
8 developed with ongoing use of the knee and deterioration.

9 Q So that's something that came later?

10 A I think so.

11 Q As a result of the fact that the knee was already
12 deteriorating?

13 A Yes. That's would be my -- the way I would call it.

14 Q I take it the surgery that she conducted, no matter
15 how good she is, can't return his knee to what it was 20 years
16 before?

17 A That's right.

18 Q And she did make some things better. She smoothed
19 off the inner aspect of the patella?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And that's the area where the chondromalacia would 22 be?

23 A Yes. That's --

24 Q And --

25 A -- a rough cartilage.

AVTranz

1 Q And so, there's actually some improvement there?

2 A Yes, indeed.

3 Q So does that mean that he'll never have
4 chondromalacia again in that knee?

5 A No, it doesn't. You have chondromalacia -- as I
6 look around the room, I think there are probably a number of 7 cases of chondromalacia in this room.

8 Q Don't look at me --

9 A Including my own knee. But no, chondromalacia is 10 slowly progressive, but it's not debilitating. I mean most of 11 us manage to hobble around.

12 Q Okay. Now you know that there was a -- yet another
13 surgery?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And that surgery was sometime later?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And before we get to when that was, during this 18 period of time that Dr. Shannon was seeing the patient, and 19 she had the arthrogram conducted, and she didn't find anything
20 on it, what was her assessment of the patient's condition at 21 that time?

22 A I think she was puzzled. She wrote something, and 23 I'm not sure what page. She wrote: "There are symptoms with 24 no obvious explanation for them." And that was December of 25 '05, December of '05. "Patient with symptoms and no obvious

AVTranz

1 explanation for them." She couldn't find out -- she couldn't
2 explain the symptoms.

3 Q Right. So she could not offer an explanation that
4 would account for the symptomatology?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q What was the symptomatology?

7 A Well, as she documents the increasing pain and I'm 8 not sure if at that point he was complaining of popping, he 9 may have.

10 Q Was there a period of time when she -- when he
11 complained of popping and she couldn't find it on examination?

12 A Yes, as I recall.

13 Q So the symptomatology that we're talking about here,
14 was it anything other than the patient complaining to her?

15 A No. It was only a historical things that the 16 patient -- yeah, medical history.

17 Q So she did an MRI with contrast?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Couldn't find anything?

20 A That's right.

21 Q She conducted an examination, she couldn't find
22 anything?

23 A Right.

24 Q And so she's puzzled because there's no explanation
25 for the patient's symptoms which are patient says it hurts?

AVTranz

1 A That's correct.

2 Q With -- and there's nothing else she can find that
3 supports that?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q And at that point, does the patient leave the care
6 of Dr. Shannon?

7 A I don't find any records of hers after that point.

8 Q Okay.

9 A So presumably did.

10 Q Now does the patient ultimately end up seeing 11 another doctor and having surgery?

12 A Yes, he does.

13 Q And that doctor, from that surgery found what?

14 A I think he found some synovitis. He found an 15 additional tearing of the meniscus, and I think he trimmed
16 that further, and he found a loose body. And I don't have the 17 note in front of me, so I'm not sure what else he found, but 18 those were the significant findings and the loose body was, I
19 think the --

20 Q Would you expect that the loose body would account
21 for all of the complaints of pain of this patient?

22 A No. Loose bodies in and of themselves don't cause
23 pain. They do cause a mechanical clunk or something -- a
24 sense that there's something loose in the knee. But it
25 normally isn't painful because the cartilage surfaces of the

AVTranz

1 knee are not set -- they're not sensitive to pain. That's why
2 if you have chondromalacia you can't feel it.

3           You can sometimes hear it crunch as you bend --
4 straighten your knee and bend it. But a loose body in and of 5 itself is not a cause for pain in the knee.

6           Q     Okay. And so what was found on that surgery at that
7 time would have been something that did not exist at the time
8 that Dr. Shannon did her arthroscopic surgery on October 4 of 9 2004?

10          A     I think that's highly likely. That's most probable.
11 I mean there's a small -- with regard to the contrast MRI,
12 with any examination of that sort it's -- the wisdom is that
13 if you looked for it and didn't find it, it doesn't mean it
14 wasn't there, it just means you didn't find it.

15                So that if you -- like if you lose something in this 16 room and it's in this room, and you hunt and you don't find
17 it, it doesn't mean it isn't in the room. And it's that kind
18 of logic, so that -- but the contrast MRI is highly accurate
19 so that it's 99.5 percent sure that it's not there.

20          Q     Okay. And so that would be -- that would refer to 21 the loose body?

22          A     Yes.

23          Q     How about the tear in the meniscus?

24          A     Probably would show it.

25          Q     Okay.

AVTranz

1           A     Probably would show it if there was a significant
2     tear. I would expect that would show.

3           Q     Would that be to a reasonable medical probability
4     that it would show it?

5           A     Yes.

6           Q     And it did not show it?

7           A     It didn't. That's --

8           Q     So that would suggest that the condition of the knee
9     at the time the second surgeon did the surgery, was different
10    from the condition of the knee after Dr. Shannon finished her
11    surgery?

12          A     Yes.

13          Q     And I --

14          A     That's right.

15          Q     -- take it that there was no intervening accident at 16    the casino?

17          A     There's no history of any intervening accident.

18          Q     Okay. Now let me jump ahead to your exam. When was 19    it that Mr. Rodriguez came to see you?

20          A     May 21, 2009.

21          Q     And what we talked about --

22          A     That's a year-and-a-half ago.

23          Q     What we talked about earlier was that Mr. Rodriguez
24    told you, top of page 2, that he had an injury on November 22,
25    2004 and the following body parts were involved: neck,

AVTranz

1 shoulders, left wrist. All the ones that we've read before.

2           You've conducted a thorough examination of all the
3 medical records for that first year. Did you see any
4 indication that any of those were listed other than the left
5 knee?

6           A     No, I did not.

7           Q     So does that tell you that something isn't right
8 here?

9           A     Well, it's what I call -- it's a red flag. I think
10 that when there is significant changes in the history from 11 what the -- the best history, it's assumed, it's a reasonable
12 assumption, is the history of the first doctor who sees the 13 patient, the first people who see the patient are probably 14 going to get the most accurate history.

15                     And that would be Dr. Heaps and then later Dr. Nork
16 and the people in the ambulance. So when it's -- another red
17 flag is what we call symptom proliferation. When someone who 18 comes in with a knee injury, then develops hand symptoms, well
19 those are -- we can relate to the knee injury, I think.

20                     But then, neck symptoms and mid-back symptoms and 21 low back symptoms and there's a -- all these things that are 22 listed here, wrist symptoms, ankle, both ankles, left ankle
23 and right -- left ankle and right ankle both, I would wonder
24 what's going on.

25           Q     Okay. And when you conducted the examination,

1 Doctor, let's -- tell us, where is the -- I see on page 3 we
2 have current physical symptoms, is the examination part
3 further down?

4 A Eight, page 8 is --

5 Q Page 8?

6 A -- the examination.

7 Q Okay. Tell us about the examination? Did you do
8 the examination or did somebody else do it?

9 A No. I always do it. I take the full history and do
10 the exam. I don't have any assistant to do that.

11 Q Okay.

12 A We noted his blood -- he was a little hypertensive.
13 His blood pressure was 150/90; that's borderline hypertensive.
14 And I told him what his blood pressure was.

15 He had a brace. He was able to straighten his knee
16 completely and he was able to walk without the brace. And he 17 had a cane. He was at least a hundred pounds overweight at 18 160 [sic] because someone five-six, a male with an average
19 frame should be somewhere in the range of 140, 145 pounds. So
20 260 is at least a hundred pounds overweight.

21 Q Now, Doctor, when you conduct this examination, do
22 you force the patient to do anything?

23 A No, no.

24 Q You don't --

25 A I don't want to hurt people. I'm not in that

1 business.

2 Q You don't grab his leg and bend it?

3 A No, I don't do that. I'm very gentle with people.
4 I don't -- I don't want to cause someone pain.

5 Q And so during the period of time that you are 6 conducting the history, obtaining the history --

7 A Uh-huh.

8 Q -- and conducting the examination, you also observe
9 the patient?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Is that a significant part of what you do?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. Let's go back to your examination here. It
14 says "Station is unremarkable." What does that mean?

15 A It means where he stands, he stands with his spine
16 straight, that he's not listing to one side. He doesn't have 17 an obvious spinal curvature or some other deformity of his 18 spine.

19 Q Okay.

20 A We talk about station and gait, stance; the way he 21 looks when he's standing. I thought that was all right.

22 He did have a protuberant abdomen, which is not a
23 surprise at that weight. The weight in males tends to be 24 around the waist, unfortunately, and so some --

25 Q Why don't you tell us the rest of the exam? Tell

1 Her Honor --

2 A Well, I examined his head and cranial nerves, those
3 were basically normal. Neck, the range of motion when I
4 formally examined his neck, was much less than it was when I
5 was interviewing him. I have a lot of different things, some 6 artworks in my office. And people tend to look around for 7 their photographs, and I see what -- how they move their neck,
8 particularly.

9 And there was a big difference, so that's -- I would
10 consider that a red flag. Something is rotten in Denmark. It
11 doesn't compute, why is he not able to move when I'm formally
12 examining him, and why is he able to move when I'm just watch
13 -- talking to him. So that's one thing. I measured that.

14 He had mild tenderness over the shoulder girdle, the 15 back of his shoulder girdle in the back of his neck, and along
16 the cervical spine. But not in an anatomic pattern, not in a
17 pattern that would suggest a certain nerve root. It was sort
18 of diffuse and not localized.

19 Q Can I take a second there, Doctor?

20 A Yeah.

21 Q We have nerves that come out of our spinal cord?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And they control various parts of the body?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And for example, my hand --

AVTranz

1           A     Right.

2           Q     -- if I say to you my hand is numb all the way from
3 my wrist on down, it must be a neck problem, what do you say
4 to that?

5           A     Well, that's what we call glove or stocking
6 hypesthesia, that's a -- I mean it's very -- in the hand,
7 though, this is C-6, this is C-7, and this is C-8, the nerves
8 and we -- every medical student knows that and that's sort of 9 where the nerves go. And if someone has pain in the thumb and 10 they don't have a carpal tunnel syndrome one would suspect
11 that it's probably coming from the neck. And then depending 12 on what you suspect, you get studies to confirm what you
13 suspect.

14          Q     Okay. And so with respect to the issue around his 15 shoulders, that was in a non-anatomical basis?

16          A     That was non-anatomic. It was too diffuse to 17 suggest any one nerve or two nerves.

18          Q     Okay. And go on?

19          A     I examined his upper extremities. He told me about 20 locking of his thumb. I couldn't elicit locking of the thumb.
21 If a thumb locks when you bend the thumb, you can't straighten
22 it and you push it hard to straighten it and it snaps. That's 23 what's called a locking thumb. Sometimes fingers do that.
24 And it's a thickening of the tendon where it goes through a
25 little sheath, a pulley.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1           But it's easily treated. It's conceivable that you
2 could have a locking thumb and that it would get better and
3 that it would get -- it might wax and wane, depending on what
4 use you did.

5           A barber who is always using scissors might very
6 well have -- I've had a barber as a patient who has a locking
7 thumb from using the scissors all the time, so it's -- but and 8 when he stopped using the scissors, didn't lock, but he 9 couldn't work as a barber. So that -- you know, it's easy to 10 release the thumb.

11           Q     Okay.

12           A     Okay. The other significant finding that his left
13 wrist flexion was limited to 25 degrees. This is about 25
14 degrees and the wrist normally flexes 90 degrees. So if you 15 can only flex that much, there's a real limitation and he had 16 that much of a limitation.

17           Q     Was that in any way related to the accident of
18 November 22, 2004?

19           A     I -- no, no.

20           Q     To a reasonable degree of medical probability?

21           A     Yes, to a reasonable degree of medical probability.

22           Q     Okay.

23           A     That's related to degeneration in the wrist joint 24 itself, and I think he sees Dr. Gutierrez about that, and 25 Dr. Gutierrez I think is a hand surgeon. I would defer to 1 Dr. Gutierrez on that issue.

2 Q Okay.

3 A Examined the back. He moved -- his back was very
4 well aligned and he moved his back very well, surprisingly
5 well, for someone of his weight. As noted he had a
6 protuberant abdomen.

7 Then we go to his -- oh, he had diffuse tenderness
8 on either side of his low back, and again this was diffuse, it
9 was not well localized. It was like the tenderness in the 10 neck, it was not well localized. Didn't suggest any one or 11 any two nerve roots.

12 Q Now with respect to his spine?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Have you seen some records of some MRIs that have 15 been done of his spine?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And does he have degenerative condition?

18 A Yes, he does. Both in his neck and in his low back.

19 Q And is that in any way related to the accident of
20 November 22, 2004?

21 A No, no. I can't imagine why it would be.

22 Q To a medical probability?

23 A A reasonable medical probability, yes.

24 Q Okay. And his -- the MRIs that you saw, do they 25 show bulges?

AVTranz

1           A     Well, I've seen the reports of the MRIs. I have not
2     seen the films, which I would be glad to look at, but I
3     haven't seen them. But they do describe a number of changes.
4     They describe disc desiccation; that's drying out of the 5     discs. They describe bulging of the discs. They describe
6     facet arthropathy, the joints hypertrophied, and narrowing of 7     the spinal canal. That's called stenosis.

8                     So there are a number of degenerative changes
9     described in those MRI reports.

10           Q     And did any of those appear traumatic in nature?

11           A     No. They're a progressive degenerative changes in 12     nature. There's no report that shows an acute disc rupture,
13     there's no -- actually there's no disc rupture shown. There's 14     bulging.

15           Q     And are those affected by being overweight?

16           A     Yes.

17           Q     And for an extended period of time, does that affect 18     your back?

19           A     Yes.

20           Q     Does that -- the fact that there are disc bulges,
21     does that necessarily mean that you have to operate on them?

22           A     Oh, no. Absolutely not.

23           Q     Do you see any reason for surgical intervention with 24     respect to his back?

25           A     You know, this is a -- orthopedic wisdom has

1 increased in recent years, particularly with regard to some of
2 the big surgeries that are being done and proposed. If we can
3 find a single lesion, a pain generator and we'll say this is 4 L-5 or this is L-4, we would say okay, and if the pain -- if
5 it all computes, we would recommend surgery.

6 But if there are two or three lesions, the more
7 lesions there are, the less anxious we are to do surgery. And 8 he has multi-level disease. So he has multi-level disease and 9 he is markedly overweight and I and a number of my colleagues,
10 I know, would say this man is not a candidate for surgery.
11 He's a disaster waiting to happen.

12 If you operate on his back, he is going to be worse
13 and then there will be -- somebody will say, well, let's
14 repair the fusion. In the first place, there's a risk that 15 the fusion wouldn't heal because of the extra stress on the 16 fusion. You do a fusion and you put screws into the vertebral
17 bodies through the pedicles.

18 Well, if you've ever looked at a ham bone, you know
19 that the inside of the ham bone is soft and what we call
20 cancellous bone. It doesn't hold a screw very well and the 21 edge of a vertebral body is fairly thin. It's only a few
22 millimeters thick. And so you're depending on that to hold
23 the screw, and these are big screws. I mean they're about 24 that big in diameter.

25 And the more stress there is, the screws can pull

AVTranz

1 out. The screws are designed to hold things still until the
2 fusion takes place, and then you don't need the screws
3 anymore. But there's a high -- the higher the risk of failure
4 -- the risk of failure is higher when there's overweight as a
5 complication.

6 So I think he would be a very poor candidate for 7 disc or spine surgery and a fusion. It's interesting, John
8 Frymoyer, who is the head of the University of Vermont
9 Orthopedic Department and a specialist in biomechanics, talks
10 about ill-fated fusions. And he says the most common cause
11 for a failed surgical back is poor surgical judgment. And he 12 is advocating that people do less and less back surgery when 13 there's multi-level disease, because you're not likely going
14 to get any prolonged improvement in function.

15 Q Irrespective of what is or is not the appropriate
16 treatment for his back --

17 A Uh-huh.

18 Q -- if there were surgery is there any part of that 19 that would be caused by or made necessary related to this
20 accident of November 22, 2004?

21 A I don't think so. What's going on in his back is 22 structural changes, and these structural changes are changes
23 that have developed over time. He had them when he had this
24 accident at the casino. They've gotten a little bit worse
25 over time. They're still there.

1                   And they certainly weren't caused by this accident
2 of the knee. With regard to the spine, the knee is relatively
3 remote and relatively trivial.

4           Q     And are these opinions to a reasonable degree of
5 medical probability?

6           A     Absolutely, yes.

7           Q     Now what did you see next?

8           A     Oh, I examined his lower extremities.

9           Q     Okay.

10          A     He had flat feet. And I -- because of the issue of 11 RSD had been raised, Causalgia, I did all -- looked at all of 12 the things one would look for to see if he had any of these 13 signs.

14          Q     Can I --

15          A     His skin --

16          Q     Can I interrupt you for a second?

17          A     Yeah.

18          Q     You're board certified in orthopedics?

19          A     Yes.

20          Q     Is there anything about RSD on the Board
21 certification?

22          A     Oh, absolutely. It's an orthopedic problem. RSD
23 most commonly presents to orthopedic surgeons because it's 24 often a sequelae of a rather trivial injury. People can stub
25 a toe and then develop RSD.

AVTranz

1 RSD is described in orthopedic textbooks and every
2 orthopedic resident is expected to be able to make a die --
3 include RSD in differential diagnosis. And if -- I've taken
4 the Boards and I've actually helped give the Boards and if
5 someone didn't answer -- include that as part of a
6 differential diagnosis of knee pain or changes in color or 7 temperature or sweating or any of these things, he wouldn't
8 pass the Boards. That would be a flunk.

9 Q Okay.

10 A No. It's absolutely necessary.

11 Q So it is -- and it comes under the guidance of 12 orthopedic surgeons?

13 A General orthopedic surgery, yes.

14 Q Okay. And was RSD mentioned to be something
15 especially aware of on your examination of Mr. Rodriguez?

16 A Well, yes. I had read the medical records and I
17 knew that there were people who felt that he did have RSD.

18 Q Okay. Now before we get to your examination, did
19 you see the examination of Dr. Ferrante?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And did you read what it was that Dr. Ferrante did
22 in his examination?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And the things that he looked at?

25 A Yes.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1 Q Did you see anything in Dr. Ferrante's examination
2 when you -- what he said when he examined the patient that
3 suggested that this patient had RSD?

4 A No. There was not one hard, positive finding on
5 Dr. Ferrante's exam that he documented that would support a
6 conclusion of RSD. And in fact, Dr. Ferrante said very
7 tactfully, because when people refer patients to you, you
8 don't want to insult them, you want to handle them with tact.
9 And he says this patient may have RSD but there's insufficient
10 data to support it. And I think it's more likely a mechanical 11 knee problem, which makes sense based on the findings that he 12 documents on his knee exam.

13 Q And did Dr. Ferrante request additional testing if 14 the symptoms persisted?

15 A Yes. He, certainly I think he suggested contrast
16 films, suggested a bone scan, that's a radio uptake -- a bone
17 scan they inject a radioactive dye. And then they scan the 18 bones at a certain timed interval.

19 And if there is RSD or if there's a healing
20 fracture, or if there's an active arthritis, that area will
21 light up and you can see increased -- it's dark on the bone
22 scan, it's black. And it's just a -- like a diffuse redness
23 around -- or blackness around the joint on the film.

24 MR. WARD: And may I approach the witness, Your Honor?

1 BY MR. WARD:

2 Q I'm going to show you from Dr. Ferrante's
3 examination.

4 A Yes.

5 Q And this is in evidence, I believe. And what is it
6 you see in his examination that you believe is negative for
7 RSD?

8 A Oh, well there was no tenderness in the right knee
9 or the ankles. The left knee was a little swollen, and 10 swelling of course goes along with a chronic knee problem that 11 he's had, so that's not RSD.

12 Q Swelling in the other knee?

14 Q In the left knee.

15 A There was pain on extension and flexion but the 16 range of motion was good. Well, knees can hurt, that's not
17 diagnostic for RSD.

18 Exam of skin and subcutaneous tissues revealed a
19 scar in the abdomen. And then he described -- but he doesn't
20 describe any discoloration of the skin, loss of hair growth,
21 temperature differential, texture change in the skin. And 22 then he talks about oniko mycosis was noted in the nails of 23 both great toes. So the --

24 Q And what is that?

25 A Oniko mycosis is a fungus infection of your

1 toenails. It makes it -- it makes them large and overgrown
2 and thick looking.

3 Q Is the fungus --

4 A Not very attractive.

5 Q Is the fungus in the toenails indicative of RSD?

6 A Not at all, no.

7 Q And of the testing that was recommended by 8 Dr. Ferrante, are you aware that that was ultimately carried 9 out?

10 A I believe he had a bone scan and that was negative.

11 Q And the x-rays?

12 A I am not sure about the comparative x-rays.

13 Q If the comparative x-rays were done and were 14 negative, would that tell you anything?

15 A Well, that would -- you know, one thing won't make
16 the diagnosis. A bone scan won't make the diagnosis, sweaty
17 skin won't make the diagnosis. You have to -- and look at the 18 whole picture.

19 And so if the bone scan is negative, that's one
20 piece of evidence to suggest, that's not supportive of an RSD
21 diagnosis. If the comparative x-rays are both the same,
22 that's not supportive of an RFD -- RSD diagnosis.

23 And then these other things that he would look for,
24 normally, like temperature and all that, would neither support
25 or suggest that he might have. But he doesn't have much. And

1 when that -- that's consonant with what I found. I didn't
2 find anything to suggest RSD.

3           And the temperature, for example, RSD is not subtle.
4 You don't have a subtle temperature differential; it's a big
5 temperature differential. You don't have a subtle color
6 change; it's a big color change. And temperature
7 differential, you can have in a knee that's had two surgeries
8 on it, even though they're healed there's a normal little 9 temperature differential from side to the other that is 10 normal.

11           Just the way there's a difference in size. If you
12 measure your right biceps and your left biceps, there's 13 usually a centimeter difference. That doesn't mean that 14 there's anything wrong. So that's all I would say about that.
15 I find it very farfetched to make a diagnosis of RSD.

16           Q     Is that to reasonable medical probability?

17           A     Absolutely. I think it's highly unlikely that he
18 has RSD.

19           Q     Okay.

20           A     I think it's impossible, actually.

21           Q     And do you -- when you conducted this examination
22 and you were looking at his lower extremities, you have here
23 that skin color, texture and temperature were equal.

24           A     Yes.

25           Q     And do you see where I am, on page 10?

AVTranz

1 A Yes.

2 Q And I take it you did not measure the temperature
3 with a thermometer?

4 A No. I think that that -- I'll tell you. When my
5 kids were growing up, they had earaches and they -- sore
6 throats and things like that. I would put my hand on their
7 forehead and I could immediately tell if they had a
8 temperature or not, a fever or not. And we'd take the 9 temperature and sure, they had a fever.

10 But for all the years that I made rounds on my 11 surgical patients, and I have 15 or 20 of them, I think that 12 it's incumbent on a physician to touch his patients. And 13 every morning I would go around and I would my hand on my 14 patient's forehead to ask them how they had done through the 15 night.

16 And I could immediately tell if they had a fever.
17 And then I'd say, well I want to see the temperature chart.
18 And sure, I could tell a fever of a -- normal temperature is 19 98-6, nowadays it's 37, but I'm still in a 98-6 age group. I
20 could tell if they had a fever of a 101, which is one that you
21 -- from palpation. I did that for 25 years, you know and I
22 know what I'm talking about.

23 Q Is that close --

24 A I could tell.

25 Q Is that close enough for a diagnosis of whether

1 there is or is not that particular issue for RSD?

2 A Yes. I -- the RSD patients that I've seen that have
3 real RSD, it's not subtle. You -- I'd use the back of my 4 hands the way you do, testing baby's bath water, and you can
5 -- one feels really cold versus the other, versus the normal
6 one. It's dramatic.

7 Q And tell us about the rest of your examination,
8 please?

9 A Well, as I had noted, both toenails had the fungal
10 infection. We've talked about the flat feet. His ankles were 11 -- had normal range of motion. The straight leg raising was 12 normal; that's a test of sciatic stretch. We stretch the 13 sciatic nerve to see if he's got disc pressure.

14 Q How about McMurray's Test?

15 A Well, I would have done that, but he wanted me not
16 -- he asked me not to do a McMurray's Test, and he asked me
17 not to test him with a reflex hammer on that side, so I
18 didn't. I'm -- I don't want to cause anyone discomfort, you
19 know.

20 Q Okay. Did -- in your overall observation of his 21 knee, did you see anything that looked out of the ordinary?

22 A There was a ten degree limitation of flexion of the 23 knee, the one -- normally a knee bends a bit past 90 degrees,
24 130, 140 is normal. If -- he bent 120 on the left versus 130
25 on the other side, the right side. That was a significant

1 finding.

2 The -- I could find no swelling, no atrophy and
3 there was no effusion; he didn't have fluid in his knee.

4 Q And how about -- how was his toe walking?

5 A Oh, he had what's called giveaway weakness. That's 6 another red flag, that if you have normal calf girth and you
7 have normal reflexes, when you check the ankle jerk reflexes,
8 Achilles tendon reflexes, you ought to be able to stand and 9 walk on your tiptoes if you have normal ankle motion as well.

10 And if someone can do it for a second or so and then
11 it collapses, that's what's called functional overlay. That's 12 a positive Waddell sign. I don't -- do you know -- should I
13 explain a Waddell's sign?

14 THE COURT: Yes, please.

15 THE WITNESS: Gordon Waddell is a Scottish orthopedic
16 surgeon who described a number of signs that raised the 17 question of a nonorganic cause for pain. Pain, something
18 other than the musculoskeletal system. One of them is 19 collapsing weakness. One of them is total body pain. One of 20 them is pain when you press on the top of the head, they 21 complain of low back pain. One is pain when you rotate the 22 pelvis, they complain of low back pain.

23 Another one is -- what am I thinking -- there are 24 five -- I'm blocking whatever the other one is. But it's --
25 they're basically red flags that should raise your suspicion

1 that there's more here than meets the eye, that's it's not an
2 -- it's not something mechanically wrong.

3 So if you give away weakness on -- oh, giveaway
4 weakness on muscle testing is what it is. If that happens
5 then he suggests that you need to suspect that there is 6 nonorganic causes at work here, which is true in most cases of 7 chronic pain.

8 In my book chapter, I open it with the comment that
9 there is a psychological dimension in all chronic pain.
10 Anyone who has chronic pain, it isn't just physical; there is 11 an emotional and psychological component, and that's part of 12 why I was interested in getting some psychiatry training, to 13 be able to address that in treating patients. So anyway --

14 Q Now after collapse weakness, you say, so -- you say,
15 "So also when he attempted heel walking."

16 A Yes. That --

17 Q You mean, so also you mean --

18 A Well, also --

19 Q -- collapse weakness again?

20 A Yes. That was a -- on heel walking. Heel walking
21 tests, the ability of the anterior tibial muscle, that's the 22 muscle in the front of your leg, which if you bend your foot
23 upward, you can feel the muscle tighten. And you should be 24 able to heel-walk if that muscle is strong. And there was no
25 shrinkage of that muscle, it was strong. He should have been

1 able to heel walk. No reason for -- no anatomic reason for
2 giveaway on that.

3 Q Okay. Then you have EHL, is that what you were
4 talking about, EHL strength?

5 A Yeah, that's extensor hallucis longus, that's a --
6 the big toe, that's the muscle that bends the big toe up.

7 Q And EBB [sic]?

8 A Extensor -- EDB, extensor digitorumgravis. That's a
9 muscle that you can feel on the dorsum of the foot, on the top
10 of the foot. And when you ask somebody to bend their toes up 11 without lifting their foot up, that muscle tightens and he has 12 a normal one.

13 Q Okay. Knees --

14 A On both sides.

15 Q Knees alignment?

16 A Satisfactory.

17 Q Effusion?

18 A No effusion, no fluid in the knee.

19 Q Swelling?

20 A I think I said no visible swelling, measureable
21 swelling. I also measured his knee with a tape measure.

22 Q Okay. And what else did you find?

23 A Well, the rest was basically normal. We -- I
24 checked the way the knee cap tracks and that was normal. He 25 had some crepitation on motion. That means if you have the

1 hand on the knee cap and the knee straightens, it bends down,
2 you can feel a little crunching. I can feel it in my knee
3 right now. So it's -- it comes with the territory. But I
4 noted it in both knees. That confirms that he's got early
5 degenerative changes in the knees, that's what it means.

6 Q And there were certain tests that were not performed
7 at his request?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q And if --

10 A The McMurray test.

11 Q And he reported what?

12 A What do you mean?

13 Q At the end of that paragraph? "Such tests were not 14 performed by the like" --

15 A Oh, he reported constant burning pain, yes. And I
16 -- on exam I couldn't find any reason to -- how you would 17 explain that.

18 Q Okay. Hips and ankles?

19 A They were all right, were normal, basically.

20 Q Oswestry Questionnaire?

21 A Okay. The Oswestry Questionnaire was developed in 22 England. There's a -- on the outskirts of London, there's an
23 Oswestry Clinic and they developed a questionnaire to measure
24 the impact of pain on a person's activities of daily living.

1 the -- well, of course the patients answer these directly, so
2 the -- you -- the test is as valid as the answers are honest
3 by the patient.

4           Some of these suggested that they were not -- didn't
5 make sense. One was "Pain meds have no effect on my pain."
6 Well if pain meds have no effect on a person's pain, I wonder,
7 well why are you taking them for, you know, if they have no
8 effect? I mean that's outrageous.

9           Pain meds do have an effect on pain and this man is 10 taking pain medications that are of strong enough potency that 11 they should have an effect on his pain, and I suspect that 12 they indeed do, because other times he said, well if I'm
13 taking my meds, the pain is a five or a six, and other times
14 it could reach a nine or a ten. So that's a -- he's saying
15 that they do have an effect, but here he says they don't have 16 an effect.

17           "I can only walk using a cane or crutches." Well,
18 we have physical therapy notes that says he's walking without
19 a cane or crutches and he can walk with a can or -- without a
20 cane or crutches for short distances. So that is not 21 completely historically true.

22           "Pain prevents me from sitting more than a half
23 hour." When I talked to him he sat for at least an hour and a
24 half, maybe two hours with no obvious pain. No pain; so that 25 again, that's -- it doesn't compute. Doesn't balance.

1 Q Okay. And standing?

2 A What did he say? "Pain prevents me from standing
3 more than ten minutes." I did not have him stand more than 4 ten minutes, but from the physical therapy notes I don't see
5 any reason why he couldn't.

6 Q And how about "Pain prevents me from traveling
7 except to doctor or hospital."

8 A Well, we know -- I know from reading the records
9 that he was at least traveling from the Los Angeles area or 10 Las Vegas, and driving. So that's a -- now maybe those are 11 just for doctors or hospital visits, I don't know. But if he 12 can travel for doctor and hospital visits and appear not in 13 acute distress in the doctor's offices, I would think he could
14 travel for other things too.

15 Q Next we have a pain drawing?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And there's a copy of the pain drawing?

18 A Yes. Have you got that? I don't have it with me,
19 but --

20 Q Oh, I've got it in a report. But it says this: "In 21 context, this -- he speaks to likelihood of a functional 22 overlay."

23 A Right.

24 Q Okay.

25 A That means pain basically from top to bottom; neck,

1 down to his big toes and every -- most things in between, you
2 know.

3 Q Now Doctor, you came to some conclusions following
4 your examination; is that correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And your conclusion as to whether his need for the 7 first surgery was caused by the accident, is in accord with 8 what Dr. Shannon said?

9 A Yes, I agree with her.

10 Q And the -- and for that surgery and the follow-up
11 time, what period of time would you expect that the patient
12 would be limited functionally from moving around or sitting at 13 a work station working on a computer?

14 A You mean after Dr. Shannon's first surgery?

15 Q Total time, that first year related to the original
16 accident and related to Dr. Shannon's surgery.

17 A Well, regards to the original accident, after a
18 couple of weeks in the physical therapy notes, they say
19 "excellent progress, able to" -- at one point bear more
20 weight, full weight, good range of motion. At that point, two 21 or three weeks, I would expect he would be able to resume
22 pre-injury activities.

23 Q Okay. With respect to the surgery?

24 A At the point of the surgery, I would expect he would 25 be laid up, maybe for a week, to three weeks at the most. But

1 back -- or fairly early to semi-sedentary work.

2 Q And are there any other of his symptoms or
3 complaints -- let me go back and ask it differently.

4 A Uh-huh?

5 Q You said that the pins and needles in his right
6 wrist were indicative of carpal tunnel syndrome?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And so that may or may not go away with disuse of 9 crutches?

10 A Yes.

11 Q If that didn't go away with the disuse of crutches,
12 how long would you expect any disability to be associated with
13 that?

14 A Well, carpal tunnel syndrome symptoms are on a
15 continuum. And if the only symptom is tingling in the 16 fingers, that's not very much of a deal.

17 But the nerve enervates this big muscle at the base
18 of your thumb, that's called the flexor pollicis and the 19 abductor -- and when you do this motion, pinching, or pinching
20 even this way, you use that muscle.

21 And so you'd lose strength of pinch. Once you begin
22 to get motor problems then you can have a chronic problem. If 23 -- even, it begins to progress, it's so simple to do the 24 carpal tunnel release, because that's curative. You really --
25 it's like taking your appendix out when you have appendicitis;

AVTranz

1 it's cured, that's it. And that's what a good carpal tunnel
2 release does. It's cured, that's it.

3 Q Okay.

4 A And it's no big deal. You -- you know?

5 Q So if that were related and if that surgery were 6 necessary what would you expect the period of disability to 7 be?

8 A Shorter than what I said it was in the paper. That
9 -- when I wrote that paper, it was 1968, I think. You know,
10 we kept people in the hospital after disc surgery, a week.
11 And after carpal tunnel releases we'd keep them at least two 12 days, one or two days. Now it's a drive-by, McDonald's type
13 surgery. You go into the surgi center, you have it done and 14 you drive home.

15 So the disability should be very short.

16 Q Okay.

17 A I'll tell you a story. One -- in connection with my 18 being an organist, my -- a good friend of mine was the head of 19 the organ department at Yale. And he had a carpal tunnel
20 syndrome on both sides. And he had a release -- I didn't want
21 to do it, because he was my friend, and so I -- but Jim
22 Albright [phonetic] did it at Yale. And Charles Trigbalm
23 [phonetic], the organist played a recital the week after that,
24 an organ recital.

25 So you know, you can do it.

9 THE COURT: This may be a good place for a break.

10 [Recess]

11 THE COURT: Mr. Ward.

12 MR. WARD: Yes, Your Honor.

13 Your Honor, a bit of housekeeping, I would offer
14 Dr. Becker's CV into evidence.

15 MR. BAKER: No objection.

16 THE COURT: Any objection?

17 MR. BAKER: None, Your Honor.

18 MR. WARD: And it --

19 THE COURT: So ordered. Does it need to be marked?

20 MR. WARD: Yes, it needs to be marked F.

21 THE COURT: F like Frank?

22 MR. WARD: Yes. Defendant's F.

16 A Yes.

17 Q And it was prepared following your examination?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And it reflects your opinions on this case?

20 A Yes.

2 THE COURT: Any objection?

3 MR. BAKER: It's not what I usually do, but in this

5 THE COURT: That was number 66, right?

6 THE CLERK: Yes.

7 THE COURT: 66 is admitted.

8 [Defendant's Exhibit 66 Received]

9 MR. WARD: And part 2 of the report is number 77?

10 [Counsel confer]

11 MR. WARD: It's all 66.

12 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, just for the Court's edification,
13 there was originally -- there's two pages that are a report
14 itself, and then there were many pages after the first two 15 pages which are all part of the doctor's report.

16 So I think right now what he was testifying to was 17 within the first two pages of Exhibit 66, which is the first
18 part of this report.

19 MR. WARD: No. He's been -- we were on page 18, I think.

20 MR. BAKER: I thought we went back to it, but that's 21 okay. And we're on page 18.

22 THE COURT: You don't object to any of it coming in, do

9 Q Now, Dr. Becker, you wrote an article on managing

11 A Right. I wrote two chapters of that book, actually.

12 Q And one of the chapters you wrote, Chapter 7, The 13 Psychological Factors in Chronic Back Pain?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And although you called it chronic back pain does it
16 apply to chronic pain in general?

17 A I think yes. Every -- anything in that chapter
18 refers to generally chronic, non-malignant pain.

19 Q Okay. Now you have a section in which you talk
20 about --

21 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I'm sorry. For the record I'd

2 THE COURT: What about that, Mr. Ward?

3 MR. WARD: I was just going to ask him questions about a

5 MR. BAKER: It's the same the objection. I've got no

13 Q Dr. Becker, you have in your practice worked at the 14 issue of functional overlay?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And you have in your practice use something which 17 call "red flags"?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And what is the purpose of that?

20 A Well, the purpose is very similar to the purpose of 21 Gordon Waddell developing his signs and symptoms which we 22 talked about earlier. They are flags designed, and I use this
23 list of red flags very often in American Back Society
24 Presentations. Almost every time there was a meeting I would
25 give a paper about recognizing when there was more than meets

AVTranz

1 the eye in patient who presents with, in this case, back pain.

2 It's generally know and it's generally true that
3 most physicians, myself included, don't listen to a patient
4 talk to me and suspect that there's anything more than total
5 openness without embellishment, just telling the story like it
6 is, never suspecting that there might be something rotten in 7 Denmark, something that more than meets the eye in the initial 8 presentation.

9 And it's because of that that Gordon Waddell
10 developed his symptoms and said: Hey, look, when these things
11 happen you have to look further and consider the psychological
12 and emotional part of this presentation.

13 The same is true of my list of red flags, which I
14 developed before I knew about Dr. Waddell and his signs. If 15 someone said to me, hey, you've got a couple of Dr. Waddell
16 signs in your list of red flags, and -- so there is overlap.
17 But I -- I got 40 finally.

18 I started out with 12, and then people would come to 19 me and say, well, what about this? And what about this,
20 aren't these red flags? And so the list grew and it was a
21 thing that was -- I was often asked, got emails, could I have 22 your list of red flags, and you know, I have -- I had a slide
23 that I showed.

24 And so anyway, I developed and there are I think 40
25 on here.

1 Q And is the purpose of it, Doctor, is that any one,
2 any one of these doesn't necessary mean anything?

3 A No, that's right. It's a cumulative thing. I mean,
4 if you have a discrepancy between observed and motion, and
5 motion on formal testing that's a red flag.

6 If -- it's a red flag if a patient tells you that
7 their pain is nine on a ten scale, and they're sitting calmly
8 not exhibiting screaming or any obvious anguish; but that's a
9 red flag. Things that don't compute.

10 Q Why don't you tell us the red flags, I assume we 11 don't have to go through all 40, tell us --

12 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, can I be permitted a small voir
13 dire on this issue of these red flags?

14 THE COURT: Sure.

15 VOIR DIRE

16 BY MR. BAKER:

17 Q Sir, is this list of 40, quote, "red flags," a
18 published list?

19 A It's a list that has been published, but it's also 20 been presented at many symposia and things. And it is a list
21 that's in evolution, it's constantly changing, I'm adding to
22 it.

25 Q Has it been submitted for peer review as a list of

1 40, quote, "red flags," which are generally accepted in the
2 medical community?

3 A I don't believe it has. It's been presented at 4 American Back Society meetings and it's generally accepted at 5 those meetings, and --

6 Q I guess what my question is, is has a peer review
7 group ever look at this quote: list, and said that this is a
8 list that's generally accepted in the medical community as 9 Waddell's has been generally accepted in peer review in the 10 medical community?

11 A I don't think it has.

12 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I objection to the use of the 13 quote: list, as it's not generally accepted in the medical 14 community and does not pass the threshold for a learned
15 treatise or other reliable medical treatise.

16 THE COURT: Is that the extent of your objection?

17 MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Any response to that, Mr. Ward?

19 MR. WARD: Well, Your Honor, this is a -- the issue here
20 is that this is something that's been developed entirely by 21 Dr. Becker for his personal use.

22 And, I mean, it's used by other people, but in this
23 particular instance he's using his own list that he explains
24 as to why it is that he uses this in analyzing the pain to 25 look at other things; it's not solely from this list. And I

1 was not going to talk about anything other than the things
2 that he found in this particular examination.

3 THE COURT: I think you can examine him to that extent,
4 but as far as the list, if you were intending to exam him
5 based on the list it probably should have been provided to 6 counsel before now.

7 MR. WARD: Right. I will not examine him on the list.

8 THE COURT: All right.

9 MR. BAKER: And just to continue, my, and then I'm going
10 to sit down, because I can see the time, having to testifying
11 on something that hasn't been found valid within the 12 scientific community is akin to allowing a biomechanical
13 engineer to use one of those handmade coefficient-of-friction,
14 to devices. I mean, they're saying the test
15 coefficient-of-friction friction, but it hasn't been subject
16 to any kind of review, and therefore is not considered to be 17 valid.

18 THE COURT: Well, I'm going to sustain the limited
19 objection. But I think, Mr. Ward, you're entitled to question
20 this witness based on what he learned of the Plaintiff.

21 MR. WARD: Sure. Thank you, Your Honor.

1           A     Functional overlay is the way that emotional and
2     psychological issues, non-physical issues color the physical
3     presentation, color the history.

4           Q     Okay. And is that something that you've looked at 5     for some period of time?

6           A     Yes. Yes. For the last 33 years.

7           Q     Okay. And did you see any indications of the 8     possibility of functional overlay with respect to this
9     particular examinee?

10          A     Yes, I did.

11          Q     And can you tell us what those were?

12          A     Well, what happened was, I don't use the -- my list
13     of red flags as a checklist, but after I've examined, taken
14     the history and examined someone, I sometimes think, "Gee, I 15     think there were some red flags there," and then I go back and 16     look at the list. And I don't -- I don't even look at this 17     list very often.

18                 But here are some that I found: a discrepancy in 19     the injury history; there are several injury histories.
20     Someone who has a clear-cut injury history, like I was using a 21     cutting machine in bookbinding and the machine came down and 22     cut off my fingertip, well, that history stays the same
23     usually throughout time.

24                 This history has changed in terms of what symptoms
25     precipitated initially and then how they have changed. They

1 -- okay. Pain rated nine or more on a scale of ten when
2 someone is sitting not in excruciating distress --

3 Q Let's --

4 A -- it's a discrepancy.

5 Q Let's stop there quickly. What's the significance
6 of that to?

7 A Well, pain rated nine on a ten scale is the kind of 8 pain that you wouldn't be able to sit still if you had. You'd 9 be screaming for someone to give you something that would 10 relieve it.

11 It's the kind of pain you would have if you spilled
12 a cup of hot McDonald's coffee on a child's hand. The child
13 would be in anguish and screaming. That's incredibly painful,
14 that's a -- that's a level 9 pain.

15 Pain of a kidney stone is often considered level 9
16 pain. And pain of childbirth is considered a pain -- level
17 pain 9; it's extremely painful. And the person who's 18 experiencing it is usually screaming for relief.

19 Q So is the basic issue that you're getting to, is 20 that there's a discrepancy between what's claimed and what 21 actually exists?

22 A Yes. In several cases.

23 Q Okay. And what is symptom proliferation?

24 A Well, it's when a person has, as in this case,
25 started out with knee symptoms and then -- first there'll be

AVTranz

1 the tingling. That's proliferation but clearly related, I
2 think, to the injury and its aftermath.

3 But things that people might call derivative, like
4 neck pain or back pain, or pain because of an unbalanced
5 posture, or pain involving the shoulders or the arms
6 otherwise. Others, or basic of the neck pain, there are 7 number of pains that were complained about here, that I would
8 call symptom proliferation.

9 And is that because in your opinion to a reasonable
10 degree of medical probability that those other pains aren't
11 related to this accident?

12 A Well, I think that these red flags, any one of them
13 alone doesn't say that it's purely functional overlay, but if 14 you have a whole lot of them then you have -- you're compelled 15 to consider that very seriously. And it's just looking at 16 data and trying to decide where the data will lead you.

17 Q How about symptoms worsen despite treatment?

18 A Yes, that would be one. If you treat something -- 19 if you have a diagnosis and you treat the diagnosis the 20 symptoms, if the diagnosis is right ought to get better,
21 otherwise you don't treat it.

22 Q Okay. And how about a patient being tearful or 23 weeping?

24 A Right. Again, in context. Most people who have a
25 knee sprain or who have a ruptured disc, it can come and be in

1 severe pain. Most of them don't weep to embellish their
2 presentation. I can -- I've seen patients with very severe
3 pain who don't weep at all.

4 Q And anger?

5 A There have been studies. There have been clinical
6 studies to show that this is -- first was in the workers' comp
7 setting, that if a worker feels that the employer took 8 insufficient safety precautions and because of that was 9 injured and is very angry, the anger will often fuel symptoms
10 that don't have a physical basis.

11 It's kind of in a way of expressing the anger with 12 symptoms other than saying I'm angry at the employer, you
13 know; it's kind of acted-out anger.

14 Q Does that relate to non-employment situations as 15 well?

16 A And so -- yeah. And it obviously relates to 17 personal injury situations. If somebody smashes the rear-end
18 of your car it's hard not to be a little angry at them, in 19 addition to whatever symptoms you might have.

20 Q What's the significance of childhood asthma and 21 other chronic illness?

22 A I would defer to a pediatrician on this, or an
23 allergist, but the general consensus is that children who come
24 from homes in which there are some turmoil are more likely to 25 have early asthma than children who come from homes that are

1 free of turmoil.

2 Q Okay.

3 A Very few homes are --

4 Q And --

5 A -- completely free of turmoil.

6 Q -- discrepancy between observed and tested motion?

7 A Yes. We talked about that.

8 Q And that's a Waddell sign?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Now, so in this situation that you have here, that 11 you analyzed --

12 A Yes.

13 Q -- that Mr. Rodriguez came to you and he presented
14 with certain symptoms and you evaluated the records that were 15 presented to you.

16 A Yes.

17 Q And did you come to an explanation for the claims of 18 pain?

19 A Yes, I did.

20 Q And those are what?

21 A I felt that there was a lot of what we call
22 "functional overlay." There was a very significant
23 psychological and emotional component. And it was based on a
24 number of entries in the medical record, and I can cite those.

25 I think the first was Dr. Shannon who said, after

1 she had done her surgery; "there are symptoms with no obvious
2 explanation for them." I agreed with that.

3 Q Did anyone else find that?

4 A Well, yes, Dr. Spellman, in February 2006 said:
5 "The severity and the duration of symptoms is disproportionate
6 to the reported injury and what's going on."

7 A lot of complaints and the length of time that 8 those complaints lasted doesn't really compute, is what he's 9 saying.

10 Q How about Dr. Mortillaro?

11 A Well, Doctor -- I was going to finish his last.

12 Q Oh, I'm sorry. Excuse me.

13 A Dr. Kidwell, in July of '06, after examining, the 14 patient says it appears that the exact pain generated is 15 elusive. Well, that's sort of a nice way of saying, "I don't 16 know what's causing the pain." I think that's how I
17 understand those words.

18 And Dr. Corvete wrote, "the pain and the complaints
19 do not correlate with the history." So that, again,
20 everything doesn't add up.

21 Now, Dr. Mortillaro did psychological testing and 22 among the testing he did an MMPI. He did a number of tests
23 like the Beck Depression Inventory and the Beck Anxiety
24 Inventory that are tests that the patient fills -- fills out.

25 And those tests are not really psychological tests

AVTranz

1 that look beneath the surface, because the person who takes
2 the test says, you know, I have a headache, when I wake up in
3 the morning I -- they're all subjective.

4 And they describe the way the patient wants to be
5 perceived. The patient fills out the test for you to see and 6 wants to be perceived the way he feels out the test.

7 However, Dr. Mortillaro did do an MMPI, and the 8 MMPI. And the MMPI of all psychological tests is the gold
9 standard test, you probably -- do you know about the MMPI?

10 THE COURT: Not a great deal.

11 THE WITNESS: Oh. It was developed many years ago in 12 Minnesota, the University of Minnesota, and it's call the 13 Minnesota Multiphasic Personality Inventory. And what it is,
14 is a series of questions about 560, it may be plus or minus
15 ten. Simple questions, you just answer true or false.

16 The first question is: I like mechanics magazine.
17 Well, that doesn't seem emotionally charged, you either do or 18 you don't. And all of the questions are similarly true or 19 false answers.

20 This test has been in use for several decades and 21 it's been normed on millions, and millions, and millions of 22 individuals, and it is in the psychological community
23 considered the gold standard psychological test of all tests.

24 The psychological test that Dr. Mortillaro used
25 revealed, what he says that the test shows exaggeration of

1 symptoms for secondary gain or a histrionic manner of
2 complaining. This strong bias raises questions about the
3 credibility of the patient's self-reports which may be
4 inflated.

5 If psychological risk factors are present the 6 possibility that these difficulties are associated with
7 symptom magnification should be considered.

8 BY MR. WARD:

9 Q Now that's a comment that was made by
10 Dr. Mortillaro; is that correct?

11 A That's a comment made by Dr. Mortillaro.

12 Q It wasn't made by you?

13 A No.

14 Q Okay.

15 A And there are other comments of Dr. Mortillaro and 16 there -- I could give several of them to you that are similar 17 to that, basically saying that there's evidence here of 18 symptom exaggeration, symptom embellishment, raising issues of 19 credibility in the historical presentation.

20 Those, again, are added to these red flags and the 21 discrepancies that I've discovered when I took a history and 22 examined this gentleman. And then there are these -- then 23 there are these comments of Dr. Shannon, and Dr. Spellman, and 24 Dr. Kidwell, and Corvete.

25 And then lastly, we found that on the MMPI there is

1 scale called the Lees, L-E-E-S, H-A-L-E-Y. It's a Dr. Lees-
2 Haley who's developed the scale.

3 And it's called the FB scale, and pundits have 4 called this the fake bad scale. It has been known on so many
5 patients now that it's part of the standard MMPI subscale
6 list, and they publish a list in Minnesota as to what scales
7 are valid, what scales are less valid, what scales have not
8 yet been admitted but are provisional.

9 Well Lees-Haley was admitted fully in 2007. And the 10 data of the scale show that if you have a Lee scale, Haley
11 scale of 29, a score of 29, that the likelihood of conscious
12 symptom misrepresentation of fact is in the area of 99
13 percent. If it's above --

14 Q That's 29?

15 A Huh?

16 Q That's 29?

17 A That's the score of 29. If it's above that it's
18 almost without question that there is. But that doesn't mean
19 it's either or, but that means that this is a factor in the 20 presentation. It doesn't mean that it's to all fabrication,
21 and I think it's important to understand that. It simply 22 means that this is an element that's got to be considered in 23 the diagnostic conclusions that are reached and in the 24 treatment program that's evolved for the patient.

25 Mr. Rodriguez' score was 36, that is way, way above.

1 TUESDAY - NOVEMBER 2, 2010 - 1:02 P.M.

2 [Designation of record begins at 1:02 p.m.]

3 [Counsel Confer]

4 THE MARSHAL: Just pick that right up. Please come to 5 order. Department 10 is now in session, the Honorable Jessie
6 Walsh, Judge, presiding.

7 THE COURT: Good afternoon. Please be seated.

8 MR. BAKER: Good afternoon, Your Honor.

9 MR. WARD: Good afternoon, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Good afternoon. Please be seated. Okay.

11 MR. BAKER: Do you have that list of sheets for me?

12 MR. WARD: Yeah.

13 MR. BAKER: Is that what you're getting?

14 MR. WARD: Are all of these reasonable, necessary, and 15 cost --

16 MR. BAKER: Is that true?

17 THE COURT: It's the same one, isn't it?

18 MR. BAKER: Good morning.

19 THE COURT: All right. We're back on record. Looks like
20 everybody is here and accounted for. Doctor is back with us.
21 Thanks for returning, doctor.

22 THE WITNESS: No problem.

23 THE COURT: Since it's a new day, we'll ask the Court to 24 reswear you.

25 THE MARSHAL: Please stand and raise your hand to be

2 DR. RUSSELL J. SHAH, PLAINTIFF'S WITNESS, SWORN

3 THE CLERK: Please be seated, stating your full name,
4 spelling your last name for the record.

5 THE WITNESS: Sure. Russell J. Shah, R-U-S-S-E-L-L, J is
6 my middle initial, Shah, S-H-A-H.

7 THE COURT: Whenever you're ready, Mr. Ward.

8 MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor. I'm going to try not
9 to pull anything over on top of me here.

10 THE COURT: If you need any help, just ask the Bailiff.
11 I'm not saying he'll help you, but you can ask him.

12 MR. WARD: Oh, I asked --

13 THE MARSHAL: I'm always helpful, Your Honor. You know
14 that.

15 THE COURT: That's true. You are.

16 MR. WARD: I asked Mr. Baker if he'd provide me with a
17 list of questions and he said he would, but they haven't
18 materialized, so I'm --

19 THE COURT: Huh, I'm surprised. Mr. Baker?

20 MR. BAKER: It's just the same question over and over
21 again. Is it reasonable and necessary and related to a
22 reasonable degree of medical probability?

23 THE COURT: I see. Got you.

24 MR. BAKER: And the answer is yes. Yes, thank you.
25 Okay. Thank you.

1 MR. WARD: Your Honor, can I approach the witness for a
2 second?

3 [Counsel Confer]

4 MR. WARD: That's strange. Thank you, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Very strange.

6 MR. BAKER: Are you okay? Ready to go?

7 THE WITNESS: Yeah, I'm just -- so much information.
8 Okay. Go ahead, please.

9 CROSS-EXAMINATION

10 BY MR. WARD:

11 Q Did you tell us you had patients until 8:00 last
12 night?

13 A I have patients tonight even up until 8:00 tonight.

14 Q So, but there's no game on tonight?

15 A Game? I don't watch sports.

16 Q World Series, you don't?

17 A I don't watch sports, but I heard the Giants won.

18 Q Okay.

19 A You know, I'm sorry. I'm a real dud when it comes 20 to your guy.

21 Q So, I don't have to tell you that, huh? You read
22 that in the paper this morning?

23 A No, I just -- I have some strange life.

24 Q Now, Doctor, you started in medical school back
25 about when?

AVTranz

1 A 1989.

2 Q Okay. So you've been doing this 20 plus years,
3 since the time you started medical school?

4 A Yeah, I mean, yeah. I mean I guess 19 -- it's a
5 long time, 21 years.

6 Q All right. Okay.

7 A I started off in this career path, right.

8 Q Okay.

9 A That's right.

10 Q Okay. And I suppose one goes to medical school for 11 a lot of reasons, but one of the main reasons is to be able to 12 help people.

13 A Hopefully, yeah. That's a good idea. I mean that's 14 what you're there for.

15 Q Well, I mean that's the goal, isn't it?

16 A Absolutely.

17 Q Okay. And so when -- is it true, doctor, that when 18 a patient comes to you, that the very first thing you hope
19 before you even knew anything about them is that if they've 20 got something wrong with them that you can help them?

21 A Absolutely.

22 Q Okay. And so is it fair to say that you don't 23 consider yourself Sherlock Holmes as a doctor. You don't 24 cross-examine patients about this or that or the other thing?

25 A I think that that's fair to say. I'm not -- you

1 know, there is -- you try, but you're not --

2 Q Sure.

3 A -- a Sherlock Holmes obviously.

4 Q Right. Okay.

5 A You know, and I'm not a great detective, no.

6 Q Right. But I mean if a patient comes to you and 7 tells you that a particular event happened or an incident or 8 an accident, you accept that?

9 A Yeah. You definitely take the history and most of 10 your assessment is based on the history.

11 Q Right.

12 A Of course.

13 Q Right. Somebody tells you they were in a car
14 accident, you don't go down to the intersection. You don't go
15 down and look at the cars? Somebody says they had an accident
16 at the Palms. You don't go over to the Palms and take a look
17 and see what's going on there?

18 A Right. In general, that's absolutely completely
19 correct.

20 Q Right, okay.

21 A And, that's right. I've never seen the accident
22 or --

23 Q Okay.

24 A -- you know, I take a history, right.

25 Q And that's because you're not retained as an

1 accident reconstruction expert?

2 A It's I don't know what that actually is, an accident
3 reconstruction, but it sounds like that would be --

4 Q Okay.

5 A I actually just can't get out of my office.

6 Q Right.

7 A It's just the way --

8 Q Okay.

9 A -- the practice is designed. We just don't go
10 outside.

11 Q Yeah. You don't --

12 A We just kind of -- yeah.

13 Q You don't think that's what you do, at least, is --

14 A Yeah, I've never been --

15 Q -- reconstruct accidents?

16 A Exactly.

17 Q Okay.

18 A Exactly.

19 Q So, when a patient comes in and tells you that there
20 was an accident, you pretty much accept what they tell you,
21 isn't that right?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q Okay. And when the patient comes in and tells you
24 that they sustained an injury in a certain way, you accept 25 that, don't you?

AVTranz

1 A Yeah.

2 Q Okay. I mean unless it's something that seems
3 impossible. If they said they were flying around a flying
4 saucer and they did something, you might wonder, but other
5 than that.

6 A Well, I mean you're taking down the history. This
7 is what the patient's telling you.

8 Q Right.

9 A And this is their understanding of how they got 10 injured.

11 Q Uh-huh.

12 A Obviously you're going to evaluate that.

13 Q Sure.

14 A You know, see if they're correct because they may
15 not understand their mechanism of injury, but that's what -- I
16 mean that's -- you know, I mean, yeah, I mean you listen to 17 the patient. You have to.

18 Q Uh-huh, right. But if they tell you they had a pain
19 on a particular day or at a particular time, you accept that?

20 A That's correct.

21 Q You don't go back and do an independent
22 investigation?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q Okay. And isn't it true that as part of your 25 treatment of patients that in addition to what we've talked

1 about that you expect that when you do any sort of an
2 examination of the patient or any sort of testing, that the
3 patient is going to be completely cooperative to you?

4 A I'm hoping he's going to be cooperative. I don't
5 know if he can tolerate the studies, but obviously we want him
6 to participate or her to participate because it's nice to get 7 data.

8 Q Sure.

9 A Right.

10 Q But I mean, for example, if you say to me, "How far
11 can you turn your head to the right," and I say, "I can turn
12 it that far," you accept that, don't you?

13 A You try, and if they're not going fully, then you
14 try to get him to be a little more active and passive.

15 Q Right.

16 A Try to help them.

17 Q Okay.

18 A Yeah, because -- and there's a lot of guarding, you
19 know.

20 Q Okay.

21 A You know, because a lot of patients are hesitant
22 because they have been injured, so what happens is they may 23 not participate, but absolutely.

24 Q Right.

25 A I mean it's just part of the exam process.

AVTranz

1 Q Right.

2 A Yes, absolutely.

3 Q Yeah, yeah. And you're expecting that the patient
4 is going to be forthright.

5 A Yes.

6 Q Because if they're not, that makes it very difficult
7 for you to do your job.

8 A It makes it an increased challenge. That's right.

9 Q Right, okay, okay.

10 A But it happens all the time, so it's not very 11 difficult to get used to it, so.

12 Q Okay.

13 A I mean we get used to it, so.

14 Q Okay. But by and large, you expect that when you
15 have an examination and you ask the patient, "Does this hurt
16 or does this whatever or I've got this or I've got that," you
17 expect that they're being forthright with you?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q Okay. And you don't look for people that are not 20 being forthright with you, do you?

21 A I don't know that the question -- I mean I want all
22 my patients to be honest.

23 Q Right, but --

24 A If that's what you're asking. I mean I want them to 25 participate, be honest, give me --

1 Q Sure.

2 A -- you know, I mean tell me the truth so I can at 3 least tell them what's going on, you know, help them out.

4 Q Right.

5 A You know, that's what a doctor does, absolutely.

6 Q No, I understand.

7 A Right.

8 Q But what I'm trying to get to is of course you want
9 all your patients to be honest and when you walk into an
10 examining room and there's a patient in there, you don't say,
11 "Gee, I wonder if he's going to be forthright with me." You
12 walk in and assume that he's going to --

13 A Absolutely.

14 Q -- that he's straight up.

15 A That's why they're there, right.

16 Q Okay.

17 A Right.

18 Q And you're going to have an interaction with him and
19 you're going to be forthright with him or her, and you expect
20 they're going to be forthright with you?

21 A Yes, absolutely.

22 Q Okay. And lastly, you expect when you have a
23 patient, that the patient has a sincere interest in getting
24 better, is that right?

25 A That's correct.

AVTranz

1 Q Okay. You don't think that someone is just there
2 because they've got nothing better to do that day. You expect
3 they're there because they want to get treatment and they want
4 to get better?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And if you give them a treatment plan and expect and
7 ask them to do certain things or take certain medications or 8 do whatever, you expect they're going to do that to the best
9 of their ability?

10 A I'm hoping.

11 Q Right.

12 A Right.

13 Q You understand there's some -- there may be some 14 limitations.

15 A That's right. There is always the exception. Like
16 today I had a patient --

17 Q Right.

18 A -- that didn't take my medicine. You know, it's 19 like it just keeps going and on and on. It's just, you know,
20 because they're hesitant about medicine. There's always some 21 -- you know, there's always a -- you know, you have to kind of 22 delve into why they're not doing the treatment plan.

23 Q Right.

24 A What's going on. You know, because everybody has 25 some psychosocial background and, you know, I don't believe in

1 that medicine. You know, they had their friend, but
2 absolutely. I want them to try and be compliant to my
3 treatment program, yes.

4 Q Right, because essentially you think people that
5 don't believe in doctors -- I mean there are such people out
6 there, don't believe you should go to doctors --

7 A I know one, yes.

8 Q -- they're not coming to you, right?

9 A That's --

10 Q For the most part?

11 A That's absolutely true, yes.

12 Q Okay.

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. So you're thinking that if people are coming
15 to you that they're coming to you for a reason and they're 16 going to do their best to get better?

17 A Yeah. There's always a family member that's always 18 pushing their other family member to come to the doctor.
19 Absolutely, yes.

20 Q Okay. Okay. Now, I asked you a lot of questions
21 the other day.

22 A Yes.

23 Q I don't have a transcript in front of me. I think I
24 know where I am. I will do my best not to repeat anything. I
25 just want to try to go through some areas relatively quickly.

2 Q And then we'll be done and Mr. Baker, I'm going to
3 give him a list of questions that he can ask. And then we'll
4 be done and you can go back to your patients.

5 A Thank you.

6 Q Okay?

7 A Thank you.

8 Q Now, we were talking. I think we had made it most 9 of the way through the report of Dr. Ferrante. Do you have 10 that in front of you?

11 A That was on the monitor. Dr. Ferrante was --

12 Q Right.

13 A -- on the screen.

14 Q Yeah.

15 A And we were going down the report.

16 Q Yeah.

17 A I believe in Dr. Gutierrez' report. Somewhere it
18 was on the screen too.

19 Q Okay. Now, I want to show the witness something and 20 rather than try to pull it up, may I just approach the witness
21 and shown him the report --

22 THE COURT: Sure. Why not?

23 MR. WARD: -- just to show him Dr. Ferrante's report.
24 Okay.

25 MR. BAKER: It's 25, I think. Is that 25, Casey?

2 MR. BAKER: First time I got it right the whole time.

3 THE COURT: Noted for the record, Mr. Baker.

4 MR. BAKER: Feel like $100, Your Honor.

5 THE WITNESS: It should be in this one. Actually, it's 6 this one.

7 BY MR. WARD:

8 Q What did you do to your foot?

9 A I'm sorry.

10 Q What did you do to your foot?

11 A Well, I was exercising and I kind of had a personal
12 trainer and I kind of did a partial full tear of the Achilles
13 tendon on the right side. And it's been 12 weeks now, so it's 14 been -- and I, you know, and I try to get a little strength,
15 but --

16 THE COURT: You need a new trainer, Dr. Shah.

17 THE WITNESS: Yeah, you know, it's just like, you know,
18 just -- it's unfortunate, so.

19 MR. WARD: Do you wear the same pair of shoes all the 20 time or are all your shoes going to be half worn out?

21 THE WITNESS: Every different one and just, you know,
22 because the height of the booth is higher and just, you know,
23 the asymmetrical walking in them, you know. That's why I'm --
24 but, yes, 25 is -- I have Doctor -- it says F. Michael 25 Ferrante, UCLA Pain.

2 Q Right.

3 A Yes.

4 Q And I just want to ask you about the area that's 5 called assessment.

6 A Okay.

7 Q In the middle of that, it says that Dr. Ferrante
8 suggested that if the pain continues or worsens that he should 9 do several things. And I'm going to take them not necessarily 10 in order, but trial of Clonidine patches and Neurontin. Do
11 you see that?

12 A Yes.

13 Q What is that, Doctor?

14 A Different types of ways to stop the sympathetic
15 nervous system. The Clonidine is an alpha one agonist,
16 anti-hypertensive, I believe. And it's a blood pressure
17 medication actually.

18 Q Okay.

19 A And it stops hyperactivity. It's also, you know,
20 it's a patch. It's -- I'm very familiar with this patch. But 21 it's basically -- you can buy it -- they have these patches
22 that you can actually put on your skin. They give you a
23 constant release. It's a medication, been around for a long
24 time. The companies that are selling them though are -- it's 25 quite expensive. Two hundred dollars a month for a patch, a

1 Clonidine patch right now at CVS, but that's the retail price.

2 So, but they put them on. And it's basically
3 another medicine, just like Gabapentin, Neurontin, which is a
4 seizure medication, which I've probably given out to like
5 10,000 patients by now. It's my most favorite.

6 And it's another medication that is to decrease
7 stimulation of electrical impulses and pain. It's FDA
8 approved for seizures, the Neurontin medication. And, you
9 know, it's just another medication for stopping pain.

10 Q Okay. So, those two things, Clonidine patches and 11 Neurontin, are ways -- the patch is simply a way to deliver
12 medicine, correct?

13 A Yeah, it's just a medicine. You put it on and you,
14 you know, it gives some skin irritation, but.

15 Q Right, okay.

16 A Right.

17 Q Okay. And so if you were giving a patient either --
18 would you do both Clonidine patches and Neurontin or is it
19 either or?

20 A I mean there's more than that. He just wrote down
21 two. There's probably a whole of -- like there's 20
22 medications that you can give. I mean, you know.

23 Q Right. I'm just talking about what he said here.

24 A I don't know.

25 Q Okay.

1           A     I mean, you know, I give Neurontin, maybe some
2 Clonidine patch. You know, I'm more familiar with Neurontin
3 because I've given out 10,000 prescriptions to it.

4           Q     Okay.

5           A     I've started patients on it, so.

6           Q     Okay. Tell me --

7           A     Clonidine I'm familiar because of personal reasons,
8 so I know Clonidine quite well too, but, you know.

9           Q     Sure. Here's my question, doctor. When you give 10 that to a patient or, in this situation, what would you be 11 looking for? You give it to a patient and the patient takes 12 it or puts the patch on. What is it you're expecting?

13          A     Well, he might have decreased sweating.

14          Q     Okay.

15          A     Decreased, he might -- the goal, of course, is to 16 reduce pain.

17          Q     Right.

18          A     So, there is so many different ways of stopping
19 pain, so you try to use these medications to decrease some of 20 the symptoms of pain. I mean, you know, it's just a pain
21 medication.

22          Q     Right. So, the way you tell if that's being 23 effective is you ask the patient and the patient reports?

24          A     Yeah.

25          Q     Okay.

1           A     Yeah. I mean I would -- you know, I mean, yeah, if
2 you're going to give medicine, the patient has to be
3 compliant, has to take the medicine.

4           Q     Right.

5           A     And then, you know, see if you have a response. You
6 know, there's always side effects, but you have to always --

7           Q     Right.

8           A     -- try to assess medications.

9           Q     No, no, I understand. And I --

10          A     Okay.

11          Q     All I'm trying to find out is when you give it to 12 the patient, what is it you're expecting? If I understand it
13 correctly, you ask the patient about this. "Did your sweating
14 get better? Did your pain get better? Did your whatever?"

15          A     Yeah.

16          Q     And the patient says to you yes or no or in between 17 or whatever. That's the way that works?

18          A     Right.

19          Q     Correct?

20          A     Right.

21          Q     Okay. And now before that is lumbar sympathetic
22 blocks. Do you see that?

23          A     Yes.

24          Q     Now, how does that work? I understand that it's an
25 injection, correct?

1           A     Yes.

2           Q     And how does it -- how do you measure whether that's 3 working or not working?

4           A     A gained response, when I'm with a patient, how they 5 feel afterwards.

6           Q     Okay. Okay. So, the lumbar sympathetic block, you
7 would ask the patient, "Did this give you relief or didn't it
8 give your relief or did it decrease the pain," or whatever?

9           A     Absolutely.

10          Q     Okay. Anything else on that, lumbar sympathetic
11 blocks?

12          A     I mean on all of them there's always going to be 13 side effects, you know.

14          Q     Right.

15          A     And there's always complications.

16          Q     I'm not asking about --

17          A     But, you know, I mean it's just response to pain.
18 The patient --

19          Q     Okay.

20          A     It's subjective pain relief.

21          Q     Okay, okay.

22          A     And, you know, I mean and, yeah, I mean you could 23 maybe see the walking, to see if it changes, to see if they're
24 having more agility. You know, things like can they move
25 around a little more? Can they, you know -- they'll tell you.

1 Q Okay.

2 A Hopefully. You know, I mean that's what you want.

3 Q Now, the one after that, after Neurontin, says
4 bilateral foot and leg x-rays. And that one explains in order
5 to contrast possible osteoporosis in the left lower extremity
6 and foot in comparison to the right.

7 So, now how would you find if that was -- if that
8 test told you what you wanted to see?

9 A Well, I don't know if that's the correct test, to be 10 honest with you, but that's -- what he's looking for is bone
11 density.

12 Q Okay. So what he --

13 A And --

14 Q -- what he would do is -- correct me if I'm wrong.

15 A Yes.

16 Q Have an x-ray taken of the left lower extremity,
17 have an x-ray taken of the right lower extremity. And hold
18 the two up and say, "Are they different?"

19 A I'd presume so. I mean I wouldn't personally be 20 reading those types of x-rays, so I've never actually -- I
21 mean don't know what's the best way. I was always thinking I
22 guess you could do x-rays to see, you know, for -- what he's 23 looking basically for right here is he's doing a complex
24 regional pain syndrome evaluation.

25 Q Well, I --

AVTranz

1 A Yeah, because he's looking at bone density, right.

2 Q -- understand that, but what he's looking for --

3 A Right.

4 Q I don't mean to be absurd about this.

5 A Sure.

6 Q But when I hold the x-rays up, it doesn't say,
7 "Complex regional pain syndrome," does it?

8 A No, it's actually in chronic, as you get -- you'll
9 see changes eventually in the bone densities.

10 Q Right.

11 A And that's what he's trying to state. I don't know,
12 you know, his clinical background of how he evaluates. I've,
13 you know, I mean I'm not an expert in bone density. I have to 14 be honest with you. I would have to defer that to the 15 radiologist and say, "Okay. Well, what's the correct test,
16 you know, if you're going to do something?" I thought bone
17 scan. That's what I -- but again, I'm just listening to some 18 radiologist. Maybe he's got a different way to do things.

19 Q I'm not asking you to tell me what he's thinking --

20 A Sure.

21 Q -- because I know you don't know and I won't ask you
22 to speculate.

23 A Right.

24 Q All I'm asking you is what that means. And what 25 that means is bilateral foot and leg x-rays to contrast

1 possible osteoporosis comparing the left to the right.

2 A That's correct.

3 Q Correct? Okay.

4 A Yes.

5 Q And then the other one that he has here is bone
6 scans and that's different, correct?

7 A Bone scan is different, yes.

8 Q Okay. And you --

9 A Oh, yeah, that's right. I suggest patient undergo 10 bone scans.

11 Q And bone scans would be looking for a similar kind
12 of thing. You're looking at the bones.

13 A Right.

14 Q To see if there's a change?

15 A Exactly.

16 Q Okay. Okay. And the way you would tell that is you
17 can tell by the bone density?

18 A You know, I actually don't know exactly. I've never 19 actually looked at a bone scan, so I can't tell you.

20 Q Then I'm not trying to push you into it then.

21 A Right.

22 Q But you would send it to somebody for a bone scan
23 and ask them to tell you whether it was normal or abnormal?

24 A That's right.

25 Q Okay. But that's the way it would be read is that

AVTranz

1 somebody who looks at these things would look at it and say,
2 "This is normal or this is not normal," or whatever.

3 A That's correct. That's right.

4 Q And then they'd provide you with that information?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q Okay. Now, you send your patients out for testing
7 of different kinds, do you not?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. You don't do everything yourself?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q Okay. And sometimes like these bone scans or like 12 the x-rays, it's something that it's not that you couldn't do
13 it. It's that you don't do it because of a variety of 14 reasons. You're a neurologist and so somebody else does this 15 and you do what you do.

16 A That's correct.

17 Q Correct? But you utilize what they give you?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q Because they're experts in their field?

20 A That's right.

21 Q And you expect they know what they're doing?

22 A That's right.

23 Q And it's going to be useful to you?

24 A Yes.

25 Q In making assessments of the patients?

1 A That's right.

2 Q And so you would be -- these kinds of things, you
3 might have a different way of looking at it from this
4 particular doctor, you would have -- you would sometimes have
5 some things that you might send a patient out for that would
6 be the way you do your analysis. And you would look at it and 7 come to some sort of opinions?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q Okay. Now, let's go from this is dated November 14,
10 2006. And my best recollection is that I was going in 11 chronological order through your records.

12 A Okay.

13 Q So, if you would be so kind as to tell me what is 14 the next -- your next exam date after November 14, 2006.

15 A It looks like November 29, 2006.

16 Q Okay. Do you have a page number, please?

17 A Yes, 56, so section 49.

18 Q Fifty-six.

19 A Fifty-six, volume three.

20 Q Okay. Did you find it?

21 MR. BAKER: Yes.

22 BY MR. WARD:

23 Q Okay. Now, November 29, and did you have a chance

2 MR. BAKER: The billing issue with respect --

3 BY MR. WARD:

4 Q We were talking about this listing at the front of 5 the -- on page --

6 A Oh, no, I haven't. They're out in Jamaica, so I
7 was --

8 Q Oh, okay.

9 A The Montego Bay today, so.

10 Q Okay. Okay. Now, you saw him on November 29th and 11 he said he had left knee pain.

12 A Yes.

13 Q Correct? And he said he had pain spreading into the 14 left shin and foot with sharpness episodes.

15 A Yes.

16 Q And he said he had gained a lot of weight since the 17 left knee injury.

18 A Uh-huh.

19 Q And he said he had right low back pain down the 20 right leg.

21 A Uh-huh.

22 Q And he said he feels tired and has sleep apnea
23 that's held -- that slows his thinking, correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And he says he has bilateral hand pain, numbness

2 A Yes.

3 Q Correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And these are all things that he told you?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And you accepted it?

8 A Uh-huh.

9 Q And then you did an objective examination, correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And you said that his left knee was mildly swollen,
12 correct?

13 A Uh-huh.

14 Q Now, this is after he's had two surgeries on his 15 left knee, is that right?

16 A I believe so, yeah.

17 Q Okay. And you found that he had good foot pulses?

18 A Uh-huh.

19 Q What's that tell you?

20 A Good foot pulse, like you don't have to worry about 21 arterial disease.

22 Q Okay. And --

23 A You know, I do stroke evaluations, so, you know,
24 people have peripheral vascular disease --

25 Q Right.

2 they don't get blood supply.

3           Q     Okay. And you have skin turgor, that's kind of the 4 pressure, natural pressure kind of?

5           A     Yeah, just the way it looks, right.

6           Q     Okay. And it's -- you said that it's normal in the 7 feet and the shin?

8           A     That's right.

9           Q     And you said left knee moderate tenderness?

10          A     Yeah.

11          Q     Okay. Now, tenderness is when you touch it, the 12 patient says it hurts or it's tender or whatever?

13          A     Yeah, or they just kind of squirm or, you know, they 14 have --

15          Q     Okay.

16          A     -- pain. It's pain.

17          Q     Okay. They react in some way? It's either by 18 saying, "Ouch," or by saying, "That hurts," or by moving their 19 leg or they do something?

20          A     Yeah, most of the time they react. That's correct.

21          Q     Okay. And you accept -- when they're your patient,
22 you accept that, right?

23          A     Yeah. I mean --

1 got pain."

2 A No, the tenderness has a subjective and objective
3 component to it.

4 Q Okay.

5 A Yes.

6 Q Okay. And you have no warmth?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q Now, did you measure his skin with a thermometer?

9 A No.

10 Q You have developed a sense of touch?

11 A By hands. You just touch.

12 Q Okay. Okay. It takes a long time to do that,
13 doesn't it?

14 A Yeah, you just touch it. Yeah, I see --

15 Q Right.

16 A I'm looking to see if there's an infected joint
17 obviously.

18 Q Right, sure, sure.

19 A You know, because warmth means it's infected.

20 Q Right.

21 A It's a swollen joint.

22 Q Right.

23 A You just want, you know, you have to check to see if 24 it's hot because then, you know, you can lose your joint.

3 educate your senses after a while so that you can feel things
4 that perhaps other people can't?

5 A That's right.

6 Q And you can probably feel things better than you
7 could when you were in undergraduate school before you went to 8 medical school?

9 A That's correct.

10 Q Okay. And you found no warmth, right?

11 A I found no warmth or hyperesthesia in the left shin
12 and foot.

13 Q Okay. And what does lack of warmth tell you?

14 A Just it's not infected.

15 Q Okay.

16 A I mean not infected.

17 Q Okay. I'm not questioning.

18 A Yeah.

19 Q I'm just asking you to tell me, okay?

20 A Yeah.

21 Q I'm not doubting what you found there. I'm just

2           Q     Sure.
3           A     -- have touched it inside. I can't see the inside.
4           Q     Right.
5           A     Right.
6           Q     You said no hyper -- hyperesthesia?
7           A     Hyperesthesia.
8           Q     Hyperesthesia?
9           A     That's right.
10          Q     What is hyperesthesia?
11          A     When you touch the area, they have increased
12 sensation.
13          Q     Okay. Okay. Hype aesthesia is abnormal sensation,
14 right?
15          A     That's right.
16          Q     And hyperesthesia is increased sensation?
17          A     Right, hypo, hyper. And then dysaesthesia means
18 unpleasant sensation.
19          Q     Okay. Okay. And so you said no hyperesthesia in 20 the left shin or foot, correct?
21          A     That's right.
22          Q     And you said no sweating?
23          A     That's right.
24          Q     Okay. And I presume by that you mean abnormal

2 Q Okay. And --

3 A The skin turgor was normal, so it has to be some
4 obviously moisture.

5 Q Right.

6 A Otherwise it'd be --

7 Q Yeah.

8 A -- decreased, right?

9 Q Yeah. And I mean our body is mostly fluid, isn't
10 it?

11 A Yeah, that's right. Most of it's water.

12 Q So, we've got stuff everywhere. We just have -- 13 sometimes we may have more than we're supposed to have?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q But he didn't, in this particular area, have more
16 than he was supposed to have?

17 A That's right.

18 Q No sweat. And now it says, "Change of color or 19 intense pain." And the way that comment is, I'm assuming that 20 what that means is no sweating, change of color, or intense
21 pain, correct?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q So it means no change of color.

24 A Right.

25 Q No intense pain.

1 A That's correct.

2 Q On all sensory modality testing -- testing modality
3 done today.

4 A That's correct.

5 Q So what you did here was you checked every -- you
6 did a complete exam of the lower extremities.

7 A That's correct.

8 Q And you didn't see anything that was out of order
9 other than there was some moderate tenderness on the left
10 knee.

11 A Around the left knee area.

12 Q Okay.

13 A But when I was doing the -- you know, it's the shin
14 and foot area that I'm looking at.

15 Q Right, right.

16 A So it's not really I guess the whole legs.

17 Q Okay.

18 A It's more the -- what I'm worried about is he's -- 19 I'll just tell you so that this makes it easier. I'm just 20 worried that he does have a clot in the leg.

21 Q Right.

22 A So, that's why you're doing this.

23 Q Right.

24 A From my point of view, if -- since I've had some

1 have a bad problem. They're not immobile.

2 Q Uh-huh.

3 A You want to make sure the person doesn't develop a
4 deep venous thrombosis, a clot.

5 Q Right, right.

6 A So you kind of -- you just want to check to see if 7 how is that leg looking.

8 Q Right.

9 A So, obviously because there's secondary
10 complications of things that occur.

11 Q Sure.

12 A So, that's one of the things. But I was definitely,
13 you know, kind of looking to make sure that the venous -- you
14 know, the veins are pushing blood through, there's not too
15 much swelling down the leg.

16 Q Right.

17 A You know, because he's got the brace on.

18 Q Right.

19 A Right.

20 Q And he's your patient --

21 A Right.

22 Q -- and he's been your patient for a while.

1 A Right.

2 Q And so you want to do a thorough exam and make sure
3 everything is okay.

4 A That's correct.

5 Q Okay. And so you did a thorough exam and found out
6 that everything was okay?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And now you have antalgic slow asymmetric
9 gait with moderate distress on exam. Tell me what that --
10 what your finding was there, doctor, what that means.

11 A All right. He has an off balance asymmetric gait.
12 He's limping and it's painful and he's in a lot of distress
13 while maneuvering --

14 Q Okay.

15 A -- and walking.

16 Q Okay. Now, the asymmetric gait, is that what 17 antalgic means is asymmetric gait, or are they --

18 A No.

19 Q -- two different things?

20 A Just painful. Antalgic means painful.

21 Q Okay.

22 A Asymmetric means not symmetric.

23 Q Okay.

24 A You know, that's why it's --

25 Q Okay.

1 A -- you know, off balance.

2 Q Okay.

3 A That's totally -- they're separate, but they could
4 be somewhat together.

5 Q Sure.

6 A You know, in patients that, you know, it's if you
7 have a limp and you might be in pain, you might have
8 asymmetric, but the reason there's three different words here
9 is because there's three different things I'm describing.

10 Q Okay.

11 A He's antalgic, that's one. He's got the slow,
12 asymmetric gait, that's two. And he's in moderate distress on 13 effort. So, it's going to be more distress to even do this 14 maneuver.

15 Q Right.

16 A You know.

17 Q Okay. And under discussion you have that he was 18 seen in follow up. And you went over his EMG/NCV results
19 again today.

20 A Okay.

21 Q And what -- EMG is electromyogram, correct?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q That's nerve conduction.

24 A Actually, that's a muscle test. That's the muscle.
25 Electromyogram means electrical muscle graph, yes.

1 Q Okay.

2 A And the nerve conduction, NCV is the nerve
3 conduction velocity.

4 Q Okay.

5 A The nerve test.

6 Q And the -- do we have the results of that testing in
7 your record there, do you see?

8 A Yeah.

9 Q Can you tell me what page, please?

10 A It starts off at 63.

11 Q Okay.

12 A And it goes to -- 63 is the start.

13 Q Okay. Let's bump up there for the moment. Then 14 we'll go back to 58. Okay. So this is the -- this is where 15 it says study type, upper and lower extremity, EMG.

16 A Yes.

17 Q Correct?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Now, the -- number one is a normal EMG study of the 20 upper extremities?

21 A That's correct.

22 Q And what does that mean?

23 A That there's no axonal changes to the nerve --
24 excuse me, axonal changes to the muscle. And the muscle
25 itself does not show any muscle abnormality.

1 Q Okay.

2 A So, there's two components to that. So, when you
3 look at -- you're evaluating the muscle and you're just 4 checking muscles to see if there's any nerve denervation to 5 that muscle from the axons or from anywhere in the axons or if
6 there's a muscle pathology itself. That's what it means.

7 Q Okay. And you have an abnormal EMG of the lower
8 extremities?

9 A That's correct.

10 Q Okay. And then you have abnormal nerve conduction
11 study right median distal. What is that?

12 A The right median distal compound mode action
13 potential is prolonged. That is actually the nerve motor
14 component, which is totally different from the axon. So,
15 totally separate, even though we use the terminology, but 16 they're totally looking at different things.

17 Q Okay.

18 A And it's basically -- prolonged means it's delayed
19 at the compound -- the distal meaning when we stimulate 20 distally, meaning the nerve actually generates somewhere
21 around the brachial plexus in the lower armpit. And it kind
22 of goes down and it kind of gives you the innervation to abduct
23 the thumb so you can open up beer bottles. So, what happens
24 is if it's a very -- it's the number one most common -- it's 25 carpal tunnel.

1 Q Okay.

2 A You're looking at the hand tunnel, the wrist area.
3 You're looking at pressure on the nerve. The motor -- the
4 median motor. Median means middle in Greek, and so back a
5 long time ago they decided this is the middle nerve and this
6 is carpal hand tunnel. So, it was just basically a finding --

7 Q Okay.

8 A - that showed that there is some slowing there.

9 Q Okay. So there's some slowing of the nerve
10 conduction study and then needle EMG of the right abductor.
11 pollicis brevis hand muscle demonstrated no significant 12 denervation potentials.

13 A Yes.

14 Q What does that mean?

15 A That means the actual axons -- now we're going back
16 to axons, but they're a little different. In the median
17 motor, not the latency in the outside of the nerve, but the 18 actual axon of this peripheral nerve.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A Okay, is actually not what I stick the need into 21 this area right here. It's not dying off that particular
22 muscle.

23 Q Okay.

24 A That's what it's saying.

25 Q Okay. Now, let's go back to 58.

1           A     It's basically just a rating system for carpal
2 tunnel.

3           Q     Okay.

4           A     But, you know, they just have standard radians.

5           Q     Okay.

6           A     You know.

7           Q     And now you expressed concern that you thought that 8 you should increase -- you wanted -- you hoped to increase the 9 mobility for Mr. Rodriguez' left knee, is that correct?

10          A     In general --

11          Q     I'm looking at discussion.

12          A     I mean in general I've been doing -- wanting that as 13 a goal, of course, all the time.

14          Q     Okay.

15          A     Yes.

16          Q     And you found in your -- you made a plan here of 17 things that you were -- that he was going to do, one of which 18 was to see Dr. Wong in Las Angeles?

19          A     Yes.

20          Q     And who is Dr. Wong?

21          A     Jeffrey Wong, he's the spine orthopedic chair and 22 UCLA.

23          Q     Okay. Did he see Dr. Wong?

24          A     I don't know.

25          Q     Okay. And you said, among other things, that the 1 wrist splints were not helping.

2 A That's right.

3 Q Is that correct?

4 A That's right.

5 Q Okay. Now, what's the -- we're at November 29, '06
6 What's the next, date of your next exam?

7 A According to this, August 7, '07, about nine months
8 later.

9 Q And you're in the Bates page?

10 A It looks like it's 53.

11 Q And is there anything that -- in the subjective 12 examination, you add here that he has continuous neck and 13 upper back pain. You didn't have that in the last one, did
14 you?

15 A I don't know if I did, but I don't think so. I
16 think there was only a couple of things we wrote down on this
17 one.

18 Q Okay. And how about this? "At night while asleep
19 he has jerking episodes, no loss of consciousness. The jerks
20 happen during sleep." That was reported to you?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Okay. Now, what did you think was causing that?

23 A Muscle tightness, I thought it was a muscular
24 problem. It's common.

25 Q Okay.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1           A     Just spasm. It's at night time, so, you know, I had
2 to -- you know, I tried to tell him it's not a seizure. I
3 don't think it's a seizure, you know. But you have to 4 obviously rule it out. But basically it just -- he's been
5 injured. You know, so just muscles are now getting weak,
6 spasming. He's trying to rest at night and you've got these 7 jerking movements.

8           Q     Okay.

9           A     That's by far the most common thing that I always 10 think about, you know.

11          Q     Right. If you've got a patient who's having 12 seizures, you want to know about it and do something about it?

13          A     Yeah, but medication sometimes also can cause it, 14 but that's --

15          Q     Sure.

16          A     -- less likely, you know what I mean?

17          Q     Yeah.

18          A     I've seen that on a few cases, but by far, it's got 19 to be muscle.

20          Q     Okay.

21          A     Most muscle related, you know. So, and that's a
22 whole different issue because now you've got these weak,
23 chronic muscles, and you have to now decide, you know, because 24 you can't just put them on a Baclofen pump or something like
25 that. You know, you've got to think about what you want to do

1 with this.

2 Q Right, okay.

3 A You know, so.

4 Q And now the examination, you found that his left
5 knee is mildly swollen, correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And he had good foot pulses?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Skin turgor is normal in feet and shin?

10 A Uh-huh.

11 Q Left knee, moderate tenderness.

12 A Uh-huh.

13 Q The same. No warmth?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q Correct? No hyperesthesia left shin and foot.

16 A Yes.

17 Q No sweating?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q Now change of color or intense pain on all sensory
20 testing modality done today, correct?

21 A That's correct.

22 Q Now, you actually looked at him and saw those things
23 before you wrote them down, isn't that correct?

24 A No, actually this looks exactly like the last one,
25 so it's quite possible that there's a typo here meaning it

1 looks like they're the exact same note as my last visit. So,
2 if you could see it, it's actually word for word. So it's
3 quite possible that I don't know if this is actually correct
4 or not, to be honest with you, because they're the exact same
5 note.

6 Q So, you did an examination or you didn't do an
7 examination?

8 A I always do an exam. No, but what happens is we use
9 computers and if you don't press the save, all the data is 10 gone. It happens. I can't help it. I have a very expensive
11 computer system. And I can tell you right now that how can it
12 be the exact same exam. That's impossible, right? I mean
13 nine months later. So, it has to be -- it's the computer. I
14 can't do anything. I mean I can't remember then what he's got 15 on that day.

16 Q So we can't rely on your records to --

17 A Well, you can rely on some of it and plus my plan
18 because I mean if the plan changed, but you have to see a
19 change obviously. I mean there's a thought process, you know,
20 because you can't just see the exact same exam. How can that
21 be? That's, you know -- I mean it's possible it's the same,
22 but I can't rely on it now. I mean and there's no way because 23 when you see these patients and you press the -- it's 24 happened.

25 I mean we see a lot of patients and sometimes the

1 computer, there's always a problem. I mean I have -- I spent
2 a lot of money on the computer systems, but I mean I just --
3 you know, I mean I try to manage the patient, but the 4 documentation may not reflect everything, and that's just the 5 way it is. And that's, you know, I mean I apologize, but 6 that's the way my practice is. And I do the best I can.

7 Q Your plans --

8 A And I do a pretty good job compared to other places,
9 so that's all -- but I want to get perfect, of course.

10 Q Your plan says EEG.

11 A Uh-huh.

12 Q Electroencephalogram.

13 A Yes.

14 Q And was that conducted?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And, now, before we get to that, what is your next
17 exam after -- we were on August 7, '07?

18 A 9/4/07.

19 Q And would you be so kind as to give me the date on
20 that?

21 A Sure. The number is 34.

22 Q Or not the date. You just gave me the date.

23 A Sorry, 34.

24 Q I can't even talk here.

1 can see the objective has now changed, so obviously it's been
2 updated correctly.

3 Q Okay.

4 A Yeah.

5 Q And so here he tells you that he has left knee pain
6 and he tells you that he has seen Dr. Miller in California,
7 correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And --

10 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry. Doctor, I'm sorry. Can you give 11 me a Bates number?

12 THE WITNESS: Number 34, 34, 3-4.

13 MR. WARD: Oh, I'm sorry.

14 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

15 MR. WARD: I thought you were -- could find it. You got
16 it?

17 MR. BAKER: Yeah. Thank you. I appreciate it.

18 BY MR. WARD:

19 Q Okay. He has left knee pain and he's seen
20 Dr. Miller in California, correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And says he's awaiting pain stimulator?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q So this is back in September of '07?

25 A That's correct.

2 Vicodin and Morphine?

3 A He's on, yeah, Topamax, Effexor, Vicodin, and
4 Morphine.

5 Q Okay. And you have, "The patient appears to be in 6 moderate distress." What does that mean, doctor?

7 A He looks uncomfortable.

8 Q Okay. And, "Observation reveals no anxiety or hyper 9 excitability?"

10 A That's correct.

11 Q Okay. Now, you did an examination of him and you
12 found that his left knee was mildly swollen?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And that he had good foot pulses, correct?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q And his skin turgor was normal?

17 A That's correct.

18 Q And that was both in his feet and shin?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q Okay. So you did both feet, right?

21 A In skin turgor, it is normal, in feet and shin,
22 that's correct.

23 Q Feet means two?

24 A That means two.

25 Q Okay. And left knee has mild to moderate

2 correct?

3 A Wasn't it moderate tenderness?

4 Q It was one or the other.

5 A Okay, yeah, a little different though.

6 Q Is that --

7 A Well, to me, it means a difference, but --

8 Q Okay.

9 A But, whatever, it's tender. That's fine. Okay.

10 Q Okay. Well, do you want to go back and look to see
11 if there was a change?

12 A Yeah, I can. Yeah, before it was left knee moderate
13 tenderness.

14 Q Okay.

15 A And now it's left knee, mild to moderate tenderness.

16 Q Which is more tender, mild or moderate?

17 A No, mild to moderate is one level less than 18 moderate.

19 Q Okay. So left knee tenderness has decreased, is
20 that --

21 A Yeah, it's --

22 Q Do I have it right?

23 A Yeah, to my --

2 A On that particular, yeah, exactly.

3 Q Okay. And you checked for warmth?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And you're able to tell warmth from feeling it with
6 your hands, correct?

7 A I would hope so. I mean, you know, I mean I'm not a
8 thermometer, but, you know.

9 Q No, I understand, but --

10 A Yeah, I mean I try. I mean warmth, you can't -- I
11 don't know. When I meant warmth, I meant like it has to be --
12 you know, it can't be like one or two degrees. You know, you
13 can't tell that sensitive.

14 Q Right.

15 A Again, when I'm looking at warmth, I'm looking for 16 infection warmth, which is hot.

17 Q Sure, right.

18 A You know, so --

19 Q You examine both knees, right?

20 A No, I don't know if it's the knee. I was -- the 21 warmth and the hyperesthesia of the left foot and the shin.

22 Q No, I understand that.

23 A Right.

1 A No.

2 Q No?

3 A No, I don't.

4 Q You just feel it and say it's warm or it's not warm?

5 A No, it's he's tender, so you really can't -- how can
6 you -- it's hard when you're tender. You don't want to touch
7 that area because it's -- you know, you basically look at 8 other areas. Again, you're looking at a problem with the 9 mobilization of the left knee. You're looking for clots and 10 infection, so you can look distally, like below the knee. I'm 11 looking at the shin and foot. These are -- that's how I've 12 been evaluating him.

13 The shin and foot to me are more important because 14 if you don't move the left knee, what happens, immobilization,
15 you get the clots. And you got -- you know, it swells up and 16 you get a DVT, a deep venous thrombosis. That's when you see
17 -- when I'm seeing him, I'm looking at that area.

18 Q Okay.

19 A That's how I'm looking because I'm -- you don't want
20 to -- what you want is he's got already the other doctors
21 helping him on one aspect. I'm making sure he doesn't, while 22 they treat him, that he doesn't just throw a clot and die.
23 You know, I mean that happens in chronic pain.

24 Q Okay.

25 A So that's what I'm looking for. He's a chronic

2 Q And you see mild hyperesthesia, left shin and foot,
3 and you see no sweating and you see no missing turgor?

4 A Right. He's got a little hyperesthesia, but it's --
5 I put it down mild. I did not think the shin and foot was --

6 Q Right.

7 A -- severe. I just decided to call it mild.

8 Q And it says turgor, T-U-G-O-R, but it means -- it
9 should be T-U-R-G-O-R.

10 A G-O-R, right.

11 Q Turgor, okay.

12 A Yes.

13 Q And antalgic, slow, asymmetric gait with moderate
14 distress on exam, correct?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q Okay. Now, you did some testing, right?

17 A I did.

18 Q And it says, "No evidence of seizure with negative
19 48 hour ambulatory is noted." And what does that mean?

20 A I did an ambulatory EG. We hooked him up for 48
21 hours. It would have been done in my Long Beach practice.

22 Q Okay.

11 unremarkable."

12 A That's correct.

13 Q Okay. So, I'm assuming that you had an MRI done.

14 A That's right. That's right.

15 Q Okay. And I'm assuming you didn't go down to the 16 machine. You had somebody else do it and you got the --

17 A The report.

18 Q -- report and --

19 A Yeah, there must be a report that shows an --

20 Q Right.

21 A -- an unremarkable.

22 Q Sure.

23 A That doesn't mean normal, but nothing that can
24 explain, again, jerking movements.

25 Q Right.

1           A     Right, so, yeah.

2           Q     So you got the report and it's unremarkable for
3 focal pathology, meaning it doesn't point to a particular
4 problem.

5           A     That's correct.

6           Q     Okay. And then you said, "In either case, Requip
7 for RLS." What is RLS?

8           A     That's Restless Leg Syndrome.

9           Q     Oh, okay.

10          A     Jerking movements of the legs.

11          Q     Right.

12          A     And the back, you know.

13          Q     Okay. Is Clonidine, is it called Clonidine? Is 14 that one of the drugs for that?

15          A     You know, I don't know if Clonidine is approved for 16 Restless Leg Syndrome. I don't actually know.

17          Q     It's not approved for Restless Leg Syndrome.
18 Doctors just prescribe it to patients because it helps?

19          A     You mean like off label? I don't actually know. I
20 don't have a lot of patients I treat for, you know, Restless
21 Leg Syndrome.

22          Q     Okay.

23          A     Requip, I believe, is. I've tried a couple of 24 people on dose packs.

25          Q     Okay, okay.

1           A    Now I think it's approved. I think they just got --
2 actually, they are actually a Parkinson's medicine.

3           Q    Okay.

4           A    Requip is actually for Parkinson's.

5           Q    Okay. And then your plan is to follow up in four
6 months?

7           A    Yes.

8           Q    Okay. And then your next exam after September 4 is 9 what?

10          A    It's February 5, 2008, and that's 29.

11          Q    Okay. You got it?

12          MR. BAKER: Thank you.

13 BY MR. WARD:

14          Q    And he was seen in follow up and he is seeing
15 Dr. Schifini for pain management, is that correct?

16          A    That's correct.

17          Q    Okay. Now, what was he seeing Dr. Miller for?

18          A    Dr. Miller is a pain management doctor in 19 California.

20          Q    Okay.

21          A    And Dr. Schifini is a pain management doctor here in 22 the Nevada area.

23          Q    Okay. So he's seeing two different doctors, one in 24 California, one in Nevada?

25          A    Right.

2 Nevada.

3 A Nevada.

4 MR. BAKER: There you go.

5 MR. WARD: The trap door is going to open up and I'm
6 going to fall down into it.

7 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I move for sanctions.

8 THE COURT: I know. We are so particular about that,
9 aren't we?

10 MR. BAKER: Right.

11 BY MR. WARD:

12 Q And he's to see Dr. Corvete [phonetic throughout]?
13 And what is he seeing Dr. Corvete for?

14 A He's actually an orthopedic surgeon.

15 Q Okay.

16 A For the knee.

17 Q Okay. And, now, you said here that he's had low
18 back blocks by Dr. Schifini?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And those did not give any significant pain relief?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Okay.

23 A Left knee pain relief, right.

24 Q Okay. And he's still wearing a brace?

25 A Yes.

2 A Yes.

3 Q Correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And it says, "Has left knee pain and he is awaiting 6 pain stimulator which now is," what?

7 A It says improved. I guess there's something about
8 the pain stimulators are now improved.

9 Q Yeah, that's what it's supposed to read, right?

10 A Improved.

11 Q Improved?

12 A Improved.

13 Q Or approved?

14 A No, it says improved.

15 Q Right, that's what I'm asking you. Is the pain
16 stimulator improved or is the pain stimulator approved?

17 A I wrote down improved. Improved means maybe there's 18 a new stimulator.

19 Q No, I understand what improved means. I'm asking do
20 you -- is it your opinion that the pain stimulator is 21 improved?

22 A Yeah, I mean I guess he's -- they're waiting for 23 some pain stimulator and I guess now there's one that's 24 improved.

25 Q Oh, okay. So this is what he's telling you, is that

1 correct?

2 A Yeah, I mean, yes.

3 Q Okay.

4 A I mean, you know, I don't remember the 5 conversations.

6 Q I don't expect you to.

7 A But I, you know.

8 Q Okay. And medications, you're still giving Topamax,
9 Effexor, Vicodin, and Morphine?

10 A He's on medication, Topamax, Effexor, Vicodin, and 11 Morphine.

12 Q Okay. Now this time under objective, is this new 13 and different?

14 A Yeah.

15 Q Okay. So we can count on this one?

16 A There's actually a little difference, yeah.
17 There's, I mean it's really almost the same, but it's not 18 because there's difference.

19 Q Okay.

20 A Now this time he's got more knee tenderness. It's 21 gone from mild to moderate to moderate. And he's also got 22 this -- it's also now going down. It's on the dorsum of the 23 left foot, so I've actually just kind of decided to actually
24 tell you where exactly the hyperesthesia is. And there's also
25 hyperpathia. And it's moderate. Mild to moderate hyperpathia

1 is now. But I'm only talking about only the shin and the
2 dorsum, or the foot.

3 Q Okay.

4 A Because that's the area that I'm looking at.

5 Q Okay.

6 A Okay. I'm not looking where the knee braces are.

7 Q Okay.

8 A So, I'm just making sure you know, yeah, there's a
9 change. And I did -- I just kind of wrote down that small 10 one, the left knee is, you know, swollen.

11 Q Okay.

12 A Again, I'm not the swelling expert of the left knee.

13 Q Okay.

14 A But I just said swollen.

15 Q Okay.

16 A And then I just kind of try to put what's going on 17 with the left knee.

18 Q Sure.

19 A Just kind of giving you a couple of lines.

20 Q Sure.

21 A Right.

22 Q And when you say swollen, you are just looking at 23 it, correct?

24 A Yeah, that's really just kind of basically,
25 visualizing, oh, my gosh. It's swollen from the other side.

1 Q Right.

2 A It looks kind of puffy. That's all.

3 Q Okay.

4 A Right. I mean I --

5 Q You're not measuring it?

6 A Right, I'm not an expert of swelling, so, you know,
7 when I look at swelling, it's like either you've got swelling
8 or you don't. I don't know if there's a grading system.

9 Q Okay.

10 A But I just put mild because, you know, if it looks
11 gigantic, I say it's big swelling, and if it's mild, I guess
12 it's mild swelling.

13 Q Okay. And what is hyperpathia?

14 A To me, a very painful response.

15 Q Okay.

16 A So, he's now having some mild to moderate
17 hyperpathia, meaning a painful response.

18 Q Okay. This is new, right?

19 A Well, I don't know if it's new. I'm just, you know,
20 documenting it.

21 Q It's new from the last time you saw him?

22 A New on this report, right, that it's been written
23 down.

24 Q Right, that's what I meant.

25 A Exactly. You know, the more time you have with a

1 patient, the more you write.

2 Q Right, okay.

3 A Exactly.

4 Q Okay. And, now, here it says, "Discussion, he is 5 awaiting opinion from orthopedic surgery for left knee,"
6 correct?

7 A Right, and it says approved --

8 Q Right.

9 A -- for pain relief.

10 Q Okay. This --

11 A Now approved. So it must not be improved. It's 12 approved.

13 Q Okay. Okay. So, what that means is that in 14 February 5, 2008, that would be almost three years ago, that 15 his pain stimulator was approved?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q For pain relief and to be done by Dr. Schifini?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q Correct? Okay.

20 A That's, yeah.

21 Q And you're going to follow up in four months?

22 A Right, I figure that everything would be done.

23 Q Okay. And when did you see him next after February 24 5?

25 A May 19, '08.

2 A Twenty-five.

3 Q Twenty-five. Okay. Now, this time when he comes
4 in, he tells you that he saw Dr. Corvete, correct?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q And Dr. Corvete injected his left knee.

7 A That's correct.

8 Q And no improvement, right?

9 A Yeah, that's correct.

10 Q Okay. And he still has a knee brace, correct?

11 A He's always had a knee brace, so I mean he's always
12 had that since I've seen him.

13 Q Okay. Now, this one says, "He has left knee pain.
14 He is awaiting pain stimulator which now is improved." Is 15 this supposed to be now approved?

16 A It looks like, yeah, he's just waiting for pain
17 stimulator.

18 Q Okay, so --

19 A He's always been waiting for a pain stimulator. I
20 think pretty much since February of '08, we're waiting for 21 this pain stimulator.

22 Q Okay, so --

23 A That's pretty much, yeah, that's what's going on 24 now.

25 Q -- it's been approved since that time?

1           A     Yeah, it's been approved.

2           Q     Okay.

3           A     And then I basically wrote down second opinion was 4     obtained to make sure this is the best treatment course. He's 5     just getting second opinions.

6           Q     Okay. And then you have, "He feels tired and has 7     sleep apnea that has helped, but feels slow in his thinking."
8     Is there something missing from that sentence?

9           A     "He feels tired and has sleep apnea that has 10    helped." And but basically it's a bad worded sentence, but 11    basically I think he's on CPAP and it's helping him.

12          Q     Okay, good.

13          A     So, just --

14          Q     Good. And, now, he -- in the next paragraph it
15    says, "He has trigger finger number one left thumb digit."

16          A     That's right.

17          Q     What does that mean?

18          A     He's been told, and he's telling me subjectively,
19    that he has trigger finger, the left number one digit, and 20    he's seeing Dr. Gutierrez for the trigger finger.

21          Q     Okay. Now, did you ever look at Dr. Gutierrez'
22    records?

23          A     Not on this day. I didn't have record of view.
24    And --

25          Q     Okay. Did you ever talk to Dr. Gutierrez?

2 ever talked of substance about any patient actually.

3           Q     Okay.

4           A     To be honest with you.

5           Q     Okay, so let me ask my --

6           A     I don't think I've talked to him about Gutierrez, or 7 Dr. Gutierrez about Mr. Rodriguez.

8           Q     -- question differently so it's clear for the record
9 because I'm not looking for your personal conversations with 10 Dr. Gutierrez.

11          A     Sure, sure.

12          Q     Did you ever talk to Dr. Gutierrez about this
13 patient?

14          A     I don't think so.

15          Q     No?

16          A     No.

17          Q     Okay. And, now, here he tells you that he has 18 shoulder pain and it's constant pain. I'm looking down the 19 end of that, above record review.

20          A     Oh, he's noted three months of right shoulder
21 discomfort. The shoulder pain started. Yeah, it's he's got 22 some right shoulder pain.

23          Q     Okay. And he's on the same drugs? Well, actually,
24 he's on some more now. You have that sentence, he's on 25 Topamax, Effexor, Vicodin, and Morphine. And then, in

1 addition, he's on Valium as needed, Albuterol inhaler as
2 needed. He's also on Lovastatin, Cyclobenzaprine, Dulcolax,
3 Enulose syrup, Singulair inhaler, Advair disk inhaler, and
4 Viagra as needed.

5 A That's correct.

6 Q Correct, okay. And now objective, you note that his 7 left knee is mildly swollen. Is that pretty much the same as 8 what it's been?

9 A Left knee is mildly swollen, yeah.

10 Q Okay. And he has left ankle mild swelling?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q And the next sentence, good foot pulses, skin turgor
13 is normal in feet/shin, left knee moderate tenderness, no
14 warmth, mild to moderate. That's all the same, correct?

15 A It looks like exactly the same, yeah.

16 Q Okay.

17 A That area is the same.

18 Q Okay.

19 A And --

20 Q No sweating, normal skin turgor.

21 A That's right.

22 Q Correct?

23 A That's right.

24 Q And he has mild antalgic and fair initiation and 25 fair arm swing. What does that mean? That's something new

1 here.

2 A So, I'm just documenting something else. Let me
3 just thing. Fair initiation and fair arm swing. Well, I
4 mean, yeah, there's so many reasons I could have put that
5 down. One, Parkinson's patients because remember he had that,
6 you know, that whole Restless Leg Syndrome.

7 Q Right.

8 A So, even though I didn't put him on Requip, you
9 know, when you put people on medications, they can become 10 Parkinsonism.

11 Q Right.

12 A So, fair initiation. So, I don't think it's -- on 13 this case, I'm just actually just now just describing how he 14 looks a little more.

15 Q Okay.

16 A I don't think it's a -- you know, I sometimes will
17 put down arm swing when we're looking at like a stroke patient
18 or a Parkinson's patient, but in his case, I'm actually
19 putting arm swing to see if he's got any kind of, you know --
20 he's been having a limp and not moving correctly for a while.
21 So there's so many other things that can start to occur. So
22 we're just kind of writing down what I see, you know, just in 23 a general way. You know, he's got something. So, I'm just 24 kind of describing more about him because, you know, there's 25 so many different body parts here, so I'm just expanding the

2 Q Okay.

3 A And just kind of laying even more things.

4 Q And he's awaiting pain simulator placement?

5 A Yes, yeah.

6 Q And you changed a drug because of the side effect
7 was weight gain, correct? Lyrica substituted to Topamax.

8 A Due to side effect of weight gain. Yeah, okay.

9 Q Correct?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q Okay. And so --

12 A Topamax is being used for diet. It's a seizure
13 medication. They're both seizure, but Topamax is now FDA
14 approved for migraine, for preventing migraine, for dieting
15 off label, very bad for young women, but people like that 16 because he can lose maybe three pounds, five pounds. It's 17 better than gaining three pounds.

18 Q Okay.

19 A You know, it's not a major, but it's something
20 definitely.

21 Q Okay. Okay. And the next exam is when?

22 A The next exam is 7/22/08.

23 Q And page, please, sir?

24 A Page 22.

2 A Yes.

3 Q And progress notes from Matt Smith, physical

5 correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And there -- and he finished it and it was to reduce
8 his left knee pain, correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And there is a plan for a permanent implant in the 11 next three weeks, right?

12 A That's, yeah.

13 Q Okay. So, according to this, the trial is done and 14 we're going to move on to a permanent implant, correct?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q Okay. And you note here he's still 75 pounds, and 17 you said 275 compared to 200 overweight since the injury,
18 correct?

19 A Right, but you mentioned 225 on the ER doctor's
20 note.

21 Q Yeah, I'm just --

1 you?

2 A No.

3 Q No. And under the next page, under subjective,
4 you've got, "There is continuous left wrist pain, no
5 improvement." And it says, "Dr. Gutierrez has not seen over
6 the last four months," correct?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q Now, do you know -- did he tell you why that was,
9 why he hadn't seen Dr. Gutierrez over the last four months?

10 A No. Well, I mean I -- no.

11 Q Did you expect that he should have seen
12 Dr. Gutierrez or was that just not your issue?

13 A Well, I actually -- we're still -- you know, I mean
14 maybe Dr. Gutierrez wants to see him. Maybe he doesn't want
15 to see him, but we're still trying to get the pain stimulator,
16 so I think that -- you know, I'm still more focused on that.
17 I wasn't really thinking about it.

18 Q Right. Yeah, I'm just -- again, I'm not 19 questioning. I'm just -- some of this falls within your 20 bailiwick and some of it doesn't, and I'm just -- so, whether 21 he sees Dr. Gutierrez or not is not something that you have to 22 do with, correct?

23 A Well, I mean I'd like for him to see somebody, but I
24 figure people are busy out here. I mean, you know, I mean I
25 don't know Dr. Gutierrez that well, to be honest with you --

1 Q Okay.

2 A -- about why he hasn't seen him in the last four
3 months. I don't know.

4 Q Okay. So you don't know --

5 A I'm just documenting what he's saying.

6 Q You don't know whether the failure to see
7 Dr. Gutierrez has been because Dr. Gutierrez doesn't want to 8 see him or the patient doesn't want to see the doctor or just 9 hasn't seen him?

10 A Or for other reasons too, right.

11 Q Or other reasons.

12 A Exactly, exactly.

13 Q Yeah. You don't -- that's essentially not your 14 issue, right?

15 A Well, it's not an issue. I don't know. It's always 16 an issue, but it's not -- there's so many issues, I'm just 17 trying to deal with one at a time.

18 Q Right.

19 A I mean there's a lot of issues here and it's just 20 not -- you know, I mean go see the hand surgeon. You want to 21 see another guy? See another guy. You know what I mean?
22 Just, you know, take care of that, but that's not the issue at 23 hand.

24 Q Right. And now objective, we've got pretty much the 25 same thing. Knee mildly swollen, left ankle, mild swelling,

1 good foot pulses, et cetera, et cetera, correct?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Nothing major? No major change there?

4 A No.

5 Q And no spinal spasm noted on today's exam?

6 A That's, yeah.

7 Q Bilateral APB. What's APB? It used to be all
8 points bulletin in the old cop shows, but I don't think that's 9 what you meant there.

10 A The median nerve for the hand strength or the carpal
11 tunnel abnormality, abductor pollicis brevis muscle.

12 Q Okay. And bilateral hand power is five. What's 13 that mean, good or bad or --

14 A Normal, normal.

15 Q Normal.

16 A Normal power.

17 Q So the hand power of both hands is normal?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q Correct? Okay.

20 A The APB.

21 Q Right, the hand power.

22 A Not hand, just the muscle.

23 Q The muscle power?

24 A Yeah, bilateral APB power, hand power is normal, not 25 the grip.

1 Q Normal?

2 A Or the rest of the fingers.

3 Q Okay.

4 A I'm just looking at the median carpal tunnel.

5 Q And, "Discussion, he's awaiting pain stimulator
6 placement," correct?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q And it says, "He's using wrist splints."

9 A Yes.

10 Q And it says, "His pain stimulator is now approved."

11 A Yes.

12 Q And that's perhaps a repeat because his pain
13 stimulator was approved a long time ago, wasn't it?

14 A Well, it's still in the discussion because -- and 15 you'll see that it's always been -- you know, it just keeps
16 going, you know.

17 Q Right. I'm just saying that's not new. It was 18 approved before.

19 A No, no, no, I just -- yeah, it's the same thing,
20 yeah.

21 Q Okay. And so the plan here is, "Await Dr. Gutierrez
22 for left thumb/finger trigger finger surgery," correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q That's -- can you say that three times real fast?

25 A Yeah.

2 correct?

3 A Yeah, I guess they're waiting and he's waiting to 4 see Dr. Gutierrez. He hasn't seen him, you know, for four 5 months.

6 Q Right.

7 A But I guess he's waiting. I don't know.

8 Q Okay.

9 A So, I guess they're doing something.

10 Q Okay. And now this was July 22, '08. And next
11 visit is when, doctor?

12 A Next visit, October 27, 2008, and it's 19.

13 Q Got it? Okay. So he was seen in follow up and 14 under subjective you have right shoulder worsening?

15 A Yeah, the right shoulder probably pain, I presume,
16 is worsening.

17 Q Okay.

18 A Yeah, so right shoulder is worsening, yeah.

19 Q Okay. And you have, "Good results with stimulator."
20 The stimulator trial was some time ago, wasn't it? You
21 reported that several visits back?

22 A Yeah, there was -- well, I don't know if that was a
23 stimulator trial. It was some kind of trial. I presume the 24 stimulator trial just occurred, I presume, maybe two visits
25 prior.

2 A Yeah, two visits, yeah, a couple of visits prior.
3 Q Okay.
4 A Yeah, there was some kind of stimulator trial.
5 Q Right, so this --
6 A And then he had some good results, and now he's
7 awaiting Dr. Vadar [phonetic throughout] now --
8 Q Right.
9 A -- to do I guess a surgery to put the stimulator in.
10 Q So, the stimulator trial was several months before?
11 A Yes.
12 Q And so it was approved for a permanent stimulator?
13 A Yes.
14 Q And so he's waiting to get that done?
15 A Yes.
16 Q And right now, it's going to be done by Dr. Vadar
17 [phonetic throughout]?
18 A Hopefully.
19 Q Correct?
20 A Yeah, that's right.
21 Q Okay.
22 A So, it's hopefully this month.

5 MR. BAKER: It's Vadar like in Nevada.

6 THE COURT: Vadar like water.

7 MR. WARD: Like Vadar and Mother? Is that --

8 MR. BAKER: That's right.

11 A That's right.

12 Q And, now, again you have on the next page,

13 "Continuous left wrist pain, no improvement. Dr. Gutierrez 14 has not seen over the last four months." I think that's the

16 A Yeah.

17 Q -- am I correct in guessing that that's just been
18 there --

19 A Not a lot of updates, right?

20 Q -- been there for a while?

21 A I've just basically -- yeah, just kind of gone.

22 Basically on this report, it just changes on the plan.

3 cervical, thoracic, and lumbar paraspinal muscles throughout.
4 There's no muscle spasm. I put that in there. And really, I
5 guess we're just waiting.

6 Q Okay.

7 A You know, nothing --

8 Q And the objective examination is pretty much the 9 same as what it's been before, right?

10 A Yeah, it's not really changing, you know.

11 Q Okay.

12 A It just kind of --

13 Q Kind of staying the same?

14 A Yeah, it's pretty much -- it's just there.

15 Q Okay. And, okay. And the next visit?

16 A Is February 3, '09, and that's 15.

17 Q We're going in reverse order here, I believe, are we

8 BY MR. WARD:

9 Q Doctor, I think we had just come back to page Bates
10 15 for February 3, 2009, is that correct?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q Okay. And, now, under subjective, we're still 13 waiting for the pain stimulator?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q And it says, "24/7 left knee pain that is intense."
16 Now, is that different from what was before?

17 A Not really.

18 Q No, okay. "Left knee pain, left ankle, swelling."
19 Now, before you said -- no, I'm sorry. "Right knee is 20 fluctuating and doing self therapy and sleep -- does not sleep
21 on the right side to avoid pain."

22 A Yeah, the right shoulder, right, exactly.

23 Q And, "Waiting for Dr. Vadar for the permanent

2 A That's correct.

3 Q Okay. And he's down to 240?

4 A That's right.

5 Q And he has right hand issues?

6 A He has some right hand issues.

7 Q Okay. And left wrist issues?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And right ankle pain?

10 A Yes.

11 Q This is the first right ankle pain, isn't it? First

12 recently, at least?

13 A That's I think the first time I've actually write

14 down that there's a right ankle pain. I write down it's

15 progressive. It's getting weak. He's putting more weight

16 onto it, yeah.

17 Q Okay. And, now, it says he's putting more weight on

18 the right foot due to left knee pain. He's had pretty much

19 constant left knee pain for the last five years at this point,

20 hasn't he?

21 A About four years and three months, I think, right?

22 Q Right, okay.

23 A Yeah, 51 months.

2 Q Okay.

3 A I mean it could be sleep or, you know, he's 4 depressed.

5 Q Okay.

6 A I'm not too sure.

7 Q Now, do I see signs of a new computer?

8 A No, it's actually -- no, it's the same computer. I
9 just don't know why he's on Provigil. Is it a different
10 computer?

11 Q No, the next, right down below, examination, vital
12 signs. It looked you got a new --

13 A Oh, I think it could be update software, but I don't
14 know if I saw him -- this could be my California practice.

15 Q Oh, okay.

16 A So, I don't know actually -- I think this is still

18 Q Okay.

19 A But I think they updated the computer. They do
20 these updates every six months.

21 Q Right.

22 A And then they crash my system.

1 A That's right. I guess they put vitals now.

2 Q Okay. Okay. And, now, under objective, left knee
3 is mild swelling and left ankle is minimal swelling, correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q What's the different between minimal and mild, other
6 than they both begin with MI?

7 A Just my only subjective rating of how I look at 8 swelling. There's some swelling.

9 Q Right. No, I understand. I'm just trying to find
10 out which is higher, minimal or mild?

11 A Minimal is less than mild.

12 Q Okay, mild and then minimum.

13 A Mild is pretty good.

14 Q Okay.

15 A I mean, well, minimal is really good, and mild means
16 pretty good because again when you're looking at clots, you're 17 looking at severe swelling, you have stasis, no movement, you
18 get a clot.

19 Q Uh-huh.

20 A So, the swelling itself is a joint problem, but what 21 I'm looking for is, you know, you don't just want him to have 22 a clot because he's got the disability. So, as long as it
23 stays in the mild range, that's not going to -- in my opinion,
24 not going to make the clot.

25 Q Okay.

2           Q     Okay. Now, you have, "Good foot pulses," correct?

3           A     Yes.

4           Q     And so you checked the pulses in his feet?

5           A     Yeah.

6           Q     And you have, "Skin turgor is normal in the feet and 7     shin?"

8           A     Yeah.

9           Q     Is that right?

10          A     Yes.

11          Q     And then you have, "Left knee has persistent

12     moderate tenderness," right?

13          A     That's right.

14          Q     "And no warmth?"

15          A     That's right.

16          Q     "No warmth in the left knee."

17          A     That's right.

18          Q     Okay. So, the skin turgor is in the feet and the 19     shin and the no warmth is in the left knee?

20          A     I don't know. Maybe the warmth is in left leg. I

21     just put down normal warmth, but it's left somewhere. You

22     know, just --

23          Q     Okay.

1 A That's, you know, from what I can tell.

2 Q All I'm trying to find out is --

3 A All right.

4 Q -- what you said here is, "Left knee, persistent
5 moderate tenderness, no warmth," correct?

6 A Yeah, I don't think I've ever actually touched his
7 knee to actually look. You know, maybe I have, but I don't --
8 we're looking at the joint now, all right.

9 Q Okay.

10 A So, I don't know if I've actually looked at his left
11 knee to look for actual -- I'm thinking more of infection type
12 -- that's what I'm looking for.

13 Q Okay. And under -- on the next page, "Bilateral 14 hand power, bilateral APB hand power is five," correct?

15 A Yeah.

16 Q That's normal?

17 A Yeah.

18 Q And under discussion, is there anything new there?

19 A There's just, "Still waiting for pain stimulator."

20 Q Okay.

21 A And I just told him to go swimming.

22 Q Okay.

23 A And do, you know, do some cardiac range of motion.

3 A Just I told him he should do range of motion,
4 cardiac, seven days a week, twice daily, because there's so
5 many different areas that are now injured. And I just thought
6 it was a good idea for him to keep, you know, until he gets
7 treated --

8 Q Okay.

9 A -- to help and, you know, I mean there's a cardiac
10 -- you know, he's overweight for a while and that's not good
11 for long term survival. So, you know, just in general you
12 don't want to be overweight.

14 A Yeah, I mean, you know, 240, he's the height.

15 Q Right.

16 A You know, he's, yeah.

17 Q Yeah. When you're 5'6?

7 A I think the next exam is -- I can't tell you. Do

9 Q Well, I'm sure -- I'm not seeing anything here, but
10 I'm sure that we have a 2010 exam.

15 Q Okay. Do you have records from after that?

16 MR. BAKER: The last -- and that's -- this might just be

1 MR. BAKER: The last I have is 15, which is -- thank you,
2 2/3/09. And that's, I think, the one we just went over.

3 THE WITNESS: I mean I would estimate I've seen him four
4 times since 2/3 or more. And I know I saw him this year, I'd
5 just like to note, just a couple of months ago. But I've seen
6 him probably twice in 2010, maybe three times, or past the

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 THE WITNESS: You know.

10 MR. WARD: Do you have the records?

11 MR. BAKER: Uh-huh.

1           A     Sure.

2           Q     At Bates page 41, tell us what that is, would you,
3 please, doctor?

4           A     This is a patient event. This is a -- well, it's a
5 piece of paper obviously that's designed that shows that we
6 give to the patients for seizures about what to do. There's 7 some general instructions from the Cadwell Manufacturer when
8 you hook them up.

9           And then what I'm more interested is I just say, "You
10 know, since you're having some shaking and stuff, when you --
11 you know, just tell me," I'm more looking to see if there's a
12 -- if any kind of spell. We're not talking about seizures,
13 just in any that you want me to look at more, I can
14 concentrate to see what's going on on that time period.

15           So, when you do 48, 24, and 72 hour hookups,
16 there's, you know, the patient just kind of writes down
17 anything that's interesting, anything. Just, "You know, hey,
18 did you blank out? Did you have a spell? Did you -- you
19 know, did somebody say that you were not paying attention?"
20 So I can just, you know, make sure that that's not a seizure.

21           Q     Okay.

22           A     You know, I mean we -- in addition, we also read the 23 study, plus -- and remember it's a 48 hour study, so it's a 24 long recorded. Plus, we also do spike analysis on that 25 whole --

3 Q So, what we have on here is we have a patient event
4 diary that says it's for August 8, 2007. He had dinner at
5 7:00. At 7:30, he's driving to his parent's house. At 1:15
6 p.m., it's -- oh, 9:15 p.m. it's --

11 A A.m. is bathroom.

16 Q Okay.

17 A 9:30, yeah, something -- there's something, yeah.

18 Q Okay.

19 A Basically, the bottom line is he fell asleep around
20 -- he wanted to try to go to bed at 11:15.

21 Q Okay.

10 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: I don't know if it's in their
11 book, but I can bring it up.

12 MR. WARD: What's it? Do you have a Bates number?

13 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: It says 87 at the bottom.

14 MR. BAKER: What are we looking for?

15 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: Shaw 87, but it's not printed. I
16 see that.

17 MR. WARD: Yeah, mine only go to 81.

18 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: Mine are electronic.

19 MR. WARD: Okay. I thought I had seen it somewhere.

20 BY MR. WARD:

21 Q We're going to bring it up on the screen, doctor.

22 A Sure.

23 MR. BAKER: I don't know what we're looking at, Your
24 Honor.

25 MR. WARD: This is from your electronic forms. They're

3 THE MARSHAL: It's not on. Oh, now it is.

4 THE COURT: Now it's off?

5 THE MARSHAL: Now it's off. It was on. Okay.

6 BY MR. WARD:

7 Q Okay. So we have -- we'll wait for that to come on.

8 While we're doing that, we've got August 10, 2010, is that

9 correct?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q Okay. Now, do you know, doctor, is that the last 12 time you've seen the patient?

13 A I think it was August 10th. I just looked at it

14 this morning.

15 Q Right, okay.

16 A And I believe it's August 10th, yes.

17 Q Okay. And here we are. Okay. And you have

18 subjective, no change in status now on Neurontin. Now, that's 19 a new entry, correct?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And there's continuous burning in the left knee,

22 that's a new entry?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And, okay. Can we go down to the next --

25 A But I don't know if it's a new entry to the

2 Q Okay.

3 A So, I just making sure you know. I don't know if 4 it's a new entry.

5 Q Right.

6 A But it's new compared to 18 months ago.

7 Q You think that's more that are -- that we don't know
8 where they are, but okay.

9 A Yeah.

10 Q And right hand tingling, numbness and decreased
11 strength, correct?

12 A Yes, and dropping items, yeah.

13 Q And can we go down? We have examination.

14 MR. BAKER: I can't see. Your Honor, do you mind if I --
15 I can't read it from that far back.

16 THE COURT: Oh, sure, move around, Mr. Baker.

17 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

18 MR. WARD: There's this and there's that.

19 MR. BAKER: Oh, okay.

20 MR. WARD: Whichever you want.

21 BY MR. WARD:

22 Q The good foot pulses and left knee, mild, that's 23 pretty much what you had before, right?

24 A Yeah. I mean I think it's very similar.

2           Q     And then we go down to impression and then
3 discussion. No change in status, now on Neurontin. Actually,
4 it looks like he's coping with the waiting process, correct?

5           A     Yeah.

6           Q     Okay. "Plan is pain stimulator being done at UCLA
7 and continue pain medication and obtain physical therapy
8 information from Riverside," correct?

9           A     Yeah.

10          Q     Okay. Now, the plan is different here, right? Pain
11 stimulator being done in UCLA?

12          A     Yeah.

13          Q     It was originally going to be done by Dr. Vader?

14          A     Yes.

15          Q     And before that, it was going to be done by
16 Dr. Schifini?

17          A     I don't know if he was doing -- he was doing
18 something in pain.

19          Q     Okay.

20          A     I believe he -- Schifini was doing something.
21 That's right.

22          Q     Right, okay. Could we -- do we have any more on

2 MR. WARD: One? It's just this one report?

3 BY MR. WARD:

4 Q Okay. Now, was there a time, doctor, do you
5 remember, that the patient called you and said that he was 6 having problems at night at home or is that the time that he
7 had the EEG?

8 A Well, there is -- on the 4/9, there was a note. And 9 I think that I put actually a note in the chart.

10 Q Okay.

11 A And it was -- let me just read off the note.

12 Q What page is that?

13 A I think it's just before the EEG, at ambulatory EEG.

14 Q Okay.

15 A And he called me and he was telling me about
16 something.

17 Q Yeah, if you find that --

18 A I put a note.

19 Q -- if you could tell me.

20 [Pause]

21 THE WITNESS: It was a telephone conversation on 10/1/07.
22 It's Bates 33. It's --

2 Q Yeah, I think we didn't go over that report, so.

3 A Sure.

4 Q So, why don't we cover that? That's 10/1/2007, and
5 that's a letter from you to Dr. Koka, correct?

6 A Yeah, I'm just trying to update him about what's 7 going on with --

8 Q Okay.

9 A -- you know, the patient. So, you know, he's the 10 primary care.

11 Q Okay. And you say there, "I spoke to Mr. Rodriguez
12 by telephone today. He was last seen on September 4, 2007,
13 and he is still having full body trembling, shaking
14 episodically, and jerking at times at night. And I spoke to 15 him in depth about the symptoms," correct?

16 A That's right.

17 Q And so this is, if you were talking to him on the 18 telephone, he was somewhere other than where you were?

19 A Yeah.

20 Q So these are all things he was reporting to you?

21 A That's right.

22 Q And he said here that, "He will video record the 23 events in a trial of low dose muscle relaxants for post

2 Q Now, did you ever get the video record?

3 A I don't even think there was a video done. I just
4 told him that -- I kind of basically just reassuring him.
5 We've already done the EEG.

6 Q Right.

7 A And I basically -- you know, I mean he's still
8 having the jerking movements. It hasn't gone away.

9 Q Right, right.

10 A So, you know, so you're basically just trying to 11 say, "You know, is it that much of a big deal to you?" You
12 know what I mean?

13 Q Yeah.

14 A You know, I mean as long as the person knows that 15 they're not having anything that they have to worry about, it
16 could be medication side effects. It could be something like
17 that. And so you just kind of -- he's already on medications.
18 The last thing I want to do is put him on another medication.
19 I'm hesitant.

20 Q Right.

21 A You know, I mean we're talking about side effects,
22 muscle, chronic pain. A lot of patients have trembling. I
23 see it. You know, I mean I've done EG's. There's nothing
24 there. Just, you know, I don't -- you know, this is not a
25 seizure obviously.

2 A I mean I told him that, you know. So, I just -- but
3 I'll say, "Okay, if you want me to look at it, let's go ahead
4 and, you know, go get a camcorder if you want. You know, I'll
5 look at it." But I'm not, you know, it just doesn't --

6 Q You didn't need it?

7 A No, I don't need it, no.

8 Q Okay.

9 A No, I'm okay just reassuring the patient that this
10 is spinal muscular skeletal, you know.

11 Q Okay. And you had already done an EEG at that 12 point, is that correct?

13 A A 48 hour.

14 Q Right.

15 A Right.

16 Q And it was negative for epileptic discharges?

17 A That's correct.

18 Q Correct?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. And, now, on page 42, Doctor.

21 A Yes.

22 Q Bates 42, this is a nerve conduction study report,
23 correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And this talks about what was done by a technician

1 under your guidance and supervision.

2 A Yeah.

3 Q And it says, in paragraph two, it says, "Additional 4 nerve conductions may have been performed." What does that 5 mean?

6 A This is a standard template report that just shows
7 that I might do additional nerve conductions on patients.

8 Q Okay. So they may have been performed or may not
9 have been performed. This is what your report says?

10 A Well, actually it's actually additional nerve
11 connections may have been performed when we're looking at like 12 8 centimeter carpal tunnel. It's just -- it's something that 13 I typed up back in 2002 and I just put on -- it's on every 14 report.

15 Q Okay.

16 A Yeah, it's not tailored specific. The only thing
17 you need to know is the impression, which is page two, the 18 nerve conduction report on Bates 43. And I just -- and the 19 disclosure is a California thing because that's just a
20 disclosure from California or work comp.

21 Q Okay.

22 A So, we just --

23 Q So, under findings where you say, "Please see the 24 below tables to note the values obtained during the nerve
25 conduction study. F wave responses are non-specific in

1 localization. In general, if a motor nerve conduction is
2 normal in a patient with a finding of asymmetric prolongation
3 or response, then a proximal pathology, plexopathy, or 4 radiculopathy should be considered and other possibilities
5 exist."

6 So, that's a standard thing on all your reports,
7 correct?

8 A Yeah, something from 2001 training.

9 Q Right.

10 A You know, it just -- basically, you know, you always
11 talk about procedure findings and then you give an impression
12 when you do testing.

13 Q Right, right.

14 A So, some people like to know what the procedure is 15 all about, so it explains it, the nerve conduction procedure,
16 the findings. So, I try to -- and then there's a lot of what 17 you call basically -- and it just says you don't want to 18 commit because, remember, these reports sometimes go to 19 surgeons, pain management. You know, so you want to make sure
20 that they don't just -- they have an evaluation with it
21 because, you know, these nerve studies are done all the time
22 and people order nerve studies.

23 Q Right.

4 Q I know we're missing --

5 A -- evaluations, but they're -- I don't believe that 6 there was any more additional.

7 Q Right.

8 A I mean I followed him maybe every three to four
9 months --

10 Q Right.

11 A -- between February '09 to you have the August 2010.
12 That's this year.

13 Q Right.

14 A And maybe I saw him I think once or twice or maybe
15 three times total --

16 Q Okay.

17 A -- in that period. That's pretty much it.

18 Q So, we may be missing a couple of reports, but you
19 don't recall that there was anything significantly different
20 than any of the rest?

3 BY MR. BAKER:

4 Q You okay?

5 A Yeah.

6 Q How's your leg?

7 A Oh, good, good.

8 Q All right.

9 A I started exercising on it after, you know, last
10 night. I just started moving it around.

11 Q Well, you've got time to do your upper body.

12 A Yes.

13 Q Doctor, there's been an attempt to characterize
14 Enrique Rodriguez as a guy who gets treatment and gets 15 treatment and just doesn't get better. You were asked that 16 question during your direct if you recall. Do you recall?

17 A I didn't recall that question, but --

18 Q Now, you're aware that Enrique was suffering from 19 upper extremity pain, is that right?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And the cause of upper extremity pain, it could be 22 the -- it could be tenderness, or it could be nerve related,
23 is that right?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And you knew that he was having pain in his upper

1 extremity, is that fair to say?

2 A Yeah.

3 Q And you sent him to Dr. Cateris [phonetic
4 throughout], is that right?

5 A I don't know if I sent him or Dr. Koka, the primary,
6 but --

7 Q He went to Dr. Cateris?

8 A Yeah, he went to Dr. -- I mean I may have, I mean.

9 Q And he was given an injection of steroids into the 10 ulna area of his arm, is that right?

11 A I think he was treating the more medial aspect of 12 the hand, right.

13 Q No, but the injection he got, itself, from 14 Dr. Cateris, I'll represent to you was in the ulna portion of 15 the arm, okay?

16 A Okay, and I saw something like that, yes.

17 Q And that's contained in his records.

18 A Yes.

19 Q Now, an injection of steroids would be for something
20 like a de Quervain syndrome or tenosynovitis, something that 21 has to do with maybe the tendon itself, is that right?

22 A Right, inflammation. You're just stopping
23 inflammation.

24 Q Right.

25 A That's all the injections do.

1 Q And that didn't work, correct?

2 A Yeah, I mean I don't think he got a lot of response.

3 Q Is that surprising to you when your tests showed
4 that his pain was medial nerve, median nerve mediated?

5 A I'm not even -- actually, Dr. Gutierrez' wasn't even
6 -- actually his tests, he actually sent somebody, I think.
7 They verified that, you know, I mean, which is I don't know
8 why he did that, but that's okay. But mine's a median nerve
9 problem.

10 Q Correct.

11 A And he's looking at something, you know, which is 12 interesting. I mean he's a surgeon. He can do whatever he 13 wants. I said that I agree that he should see the patient.
14 You know, I didn't say that I agree with everything that he 15 does. You know, I mean it's like I just say, "Go see the 16 doctor."

17 Q My question is did he not respond to it because he's 18 a guy who just doesn't get better or did he not respond to it
19 because the problem was in the median nerve?

20 A Well, yeah, I mean I'm looking. I diagnosed him
21 with it. He might also have something extra that, you know,
22 that Dr. Gutierrez was seeing. I was just looking at the 23 carpal tunnel. You know, and carpal tunnel syndrome, you
24 know, when you put weight. You know, if you get an MRI, not 25 only can you see the median nerve, but you can actually see

AVTranz

1 damage to the wrist. So, there's a lot of things that you do
2 when you put weight. I just want to make sure you understand
3 all that.

4 Q I do.

5 A And I just think that's an important. The median
6 nerve is just a test to check the nerve. It doesn't tell you
7 where, you know, it is, if there's something next to it that's
8 causing it or anything like that. You know, or did you injure
9 two things. It doesn't tell you any of that stuff. So, I --
10 you know, and I don't --

11 Q You were dealing with --

12 A And I think Dr. Gutierrez is -- whatever he did is 13 fine. You know, I mean that's his own assessment.

14 Q You were dealing with the median nerve problem
15 associated with carpal tunnel though, right?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q Okay.

18 A That's what I'm looking at, right.

19 Q So it wouldn't surprise you that an injection given
20 to reduce inflammation in a different part of the arm did not 21 reduce the median nerve mediated pain, is that fair?

22 A That's right. I mean --

23 Q Well, that's obviously.

24 A That's obvious that it will not. I've never seen
25 that before. That's true. I did give wrist splints. It did

AVTranz

1 not work. And that's actually in 50 percent of the patients.
2 And plus, he still has the ideology. It's still ongoing, so
3 you wouldn't -- it's a trial.

4 Q And talking in that vein, nowhere in your notes did
5 you ever say that you suspected Enrique of malingering, and
6 you've known him for four or five years now. Is that --

7 A Yeah, I don't think he is malingering. I never
8 think he is malingering. I think he's a very down to earth
9 person. He has just had a very bad luck.

10 Q And there were tests that you could have performed
11 with dials and such if you suspected malingering, is that
12 right?

13 A That's correct.

14 Q But you don't give a malingering test to someone who 15 just, unfortunately, by no fault of his own is down on his 16 luck, is that fair to say?

17 MR. WARD: Argumentative.

18 THE WITNESS: Well, in addition to that, in addition to
19 that --

20 THE COURT: Noted for the record.

21 THE WITNESS: In addition to that, in general,
22 neurologists, we actually evaluate the patients and we
23 actually do our objective testing. That's what we do, but I
24 have to tell you that if I thought he was malingering, I would

1 down in my chart, which I do in other patients. I did not
2 think he's ever been over exaggerating his symptoms.
3 Actually, he's been a little moody a couple of times. That's
4 the best way of me saying it.

5 And I have talked to my staff because I said, "You
6 know, he's in pain and that's why he will be short and snap."
7 And, but that's been rare. And most of the time, and he does
8 wait in my office. And I can tell you that makes people --
9 but by talking to them, you understand that they're more
10 focused on getting better rather than -- they understand.
11 They just want to get better. And I find him to be very 12 straightforward.

13 BY MR. BAKER:

14 Q And just wanting to get better?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And has done everything that he can to get better
17 within his power?

18 A Yeah, I think so, yeah, absolutely.

19 Q And let's talk a little bit about the chronology of 20 events. A temporary pain stimulator was approved in February
21 of '08, is that correct?

22 A I don't know the exact dates, but, yeah, I think it
23 was approval and it just has not been done and there's been a 24 delay.

25 Q But there were two pain stimulators? There was a

1 temporary pain stimulator.

2 A Temporary, right.

3 Q That was put in by Dr. Schifini, is that right?

4 A That's right. He did the temporary and that's the 5 one that gave the 8 out of 10 back pain relief and the 10 out
6 of 10 left knee pain relief. That's the temporary and that
7 was a good thing. That's a spinal cord stimulator.

8 Q Then let's talk about, right.

9 A All right. That's a temporary, one week.

10 Q No, and we understand that.

11 A Right.

12 Q That Dr. Schifini put in a temporary pain
13 stimulator.

14 A Stimulator, right.

15 Q Now, when you say approval, you mean medically 16 approved, don't you? That a doctor said, "It's okay to have 17 this temporary."

18 MR. WARD: Object, leading, argumentative.

19 BY MR. BAKER:

20 Q Doctor, do you mean --

21 THE COURT: Sustained as to leading. I'd ask you to

1           A     Well, a doctor has to give it okay because I'm not
2 making the approval for that.

3           Q     I'm talking about the word approval because it could
4 be approved either through medically approved or, say,
5 financially approved. Were you talking about medically
6 approved?

7           A     Gosh, I don't know. I thought it was financially,
8 but it could be medically. I actually never knew. I just 9 thought because it's not me that's actually doing that. I'm
10 just waiting for the pain stimulator to be put in. I don't
11 know if they were checking his heart, lungs. I always thought
12 it was just a financial thing. That was my thoughts, but I
13 could be wrong. I never actually delved into it. I just 14 said, "Why are we not doing this? Why are we not doing this?"

15          Q     So, you're confused as to whether or not that 16 approval meant approval by a doctor or if it could actually
17 get funded, is that what you're saying?

18          MR. WARD:   Leading.

19          THE COURT:   Sustained.

20          THE WITNESS:  I mean I actually don't know. You know,
21 remember, everything I have is based on what the patient tells 22 me, but, you know, it could be both or it could be financial.
23 I thought it was a financial issue, but maybe not. I don't 24 know. I mean I never really looked at the data of why he's 25 not getting it, but I thought that --

1 BY MR. BAKER:

2 Q Because Enrique has testified that it was approved
3 by his doctor. It was approved by Dr. Vader, but he was not
4 able to get financially funded for it. Is that what your
5 understanding of the issue was or otherwise?

6 Q Okay.

7 A Yeah, I --

8 MR. WARD: This is leading and argumentative.

9 THE COURT: That was the testimony, nonetheless.

10 THE WITNESS: Yeah, I mean I'm just -- you know, in 11 general, I think that he was -- I had the impression that it
12 was more of a funding issue because usually if it's the doctor
13 doesn't like to do it, you just go to another doctor. It's as 14 simple as that.

15 I mean you don't have to listen to one doctor's
16 opinion. He's got a problem and he already got better eight
17 out of ten, so that was my understanding. I never actually 18 looked at why, you know, but that was -- and that's always
19 what he told me.

20 BY MR. BAKER:

21 Q But you never looked at why he hadn't received the 22 permanent pain stimulator, is that fair to say?

23 A That's right. I'm not, you know, and, yes, he did
24 mention there was a funding issue, but I don't want to say
25 that that's the reason because I actually don't know the

1 doctor's notes.

2 Q Right.

3 A I actually don't know at that time when I was seeing
4 him on these notes. So, I don't want to say why.

5 Q We get to, because this is a bench trial, we get to 6 talk about some stuff that we ordinarily wouldn't talk about
7 or that I ordinarily wouldn't talk about. Now, you do some 8 lien work, is that fair to say?

9 A I do.

10 Q Okay. So, that's you, is it fair to say, taking the 11 risk saying, "I'll provide the treatment upfront?"

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. But now you don't own a surgical center, is
14 that right?

15 A I do not.

16 Q And you don't sell batteries or the stimulator
17 package itself, is that fair to say?

18 A No, I don't.

19 Q Or the leads for that?

20 A No.

21 Q And we've heard testimony that the expense of that 22 outside of the doctor itself could be as much as $700,000 for 23 a spinal cord stimulator. Now, do you know if Enrique was 24 able to get that kind of funding, $700,000, for the non-doctor
25 related services?

1           A     I don't think. I think that there was -- I think
2 there's some notes in 2009 and 2010 that's not in this chart
3 that talks about maybe those issues about --

4           Q     But you just don't know?

5           A     Yeah, I cannot recall, but --

6           Q     So, when you say approved for surgery, you can't
7 tell this Court right now whether you mean approved by a
8 doctor or approved by someone who would fund the procedure?

9           A     My understanding was that he was having some -- it
10 was an expensive surgery. And that was my understanding.

11          Q     Okay.

12          A     And this is only from what he was telling me.

13          Q     Well, I don't want to put you into something that 14 you're --

15          A     And, right. And that was my understanding and the 16 numbers were very large. You know, more than -- I was like
17 much more than that. And I just figure -- and that's why I --
18 you know, I didn't even push for the carpal tunnel. I just 19 figure if you have a limited amount of funding, you cannot fix
20 the carpal tunnel for $10,000 or $20,000 or both sides because 21 that's not the big issue here.

22                   The big issue is he needs the spinal cord
23 stimulator. And if they're not going to -- if he doesn't have 24 the funding, then what's the point of doing anything? I was 25 frustrated. I was frustrated last year. Like I said, I was

1 frustrated with him. And he --

2 Q And did it appear that Enrique was also frustrated?

3 A He was very frustrated.

4 Q Because --

5 A I was frustrated. We spoke.

6 Q What was your impression on whether he wanted the 7 spinal cord stimulator?

8 A He was upset.

9 Q By the way, can we take your private plane up to go
10 see a baseball game.

11 A No, I don't have a private plane.

12 Q You don't? Do you want a private plane?

13 A Do I want it? No, no, I can't --

14 Q Could you afford it?

15 A I could not afford it.

16 Q Is it fair to say that your experience that some 17 patients can't always get what they want or need because of 18 economic issues?

19 A That's true.

20 Q That saddens you, it appears?

21 A It does.

22 Q And frustrating. Would you imagine it's even more
23 sad and frustrating for the patient? Okay. Let's talk about 24 something that's not so emotional.

25 A Sure.

2 something to drink?

3 A Sure.

4 Q I've got to say that I hate to see you cry, but it's
5 very nice to see that the community has people like you. I
6 felt the same way.

7 We were talking about the exams and Counsel went
8 through systematically -- systemically -- systematically --
9 I'm making up words -- all of the exams. And you spoke about 10 the fact that what you were looking at was the foot and the 11 shin area, is that right?

12 A That's right.

13 Q And when you're talking about the lower extremity,
14 the proximal is closest to your hip and the distal is closest
15 to your toes?

16 A That's right. I was mostly just kind of looking to 17 make sure he doesn't get a clot.

18 Q And is it fair to say that people who will get
19 DVT's, that very often it will start to pump to a region
20 behind or underneath?

21 A Right. The exam, on the last exam, you'll see it
22 says, "No calf tenderness." I've gotten better on my 23 documentation.

24 Q And you were --

25 A Because other issues that come in practice, we

1 always document what exactly we're doing. Mostly making sure
2 he doesn't, while he's waiting for immobilization, you don't
3 get a secondary issue that's very life threatening.

4 Q So, if you, if later in this proceeding, it was
5 suggested that you didn't find changes in color or temperature
6 to the knee, that would be an unfair characterization because
7 you were looking below the knee?

8 A Right, obviously he's got a brace, so I can't even 9 see it. I mean he's always got a brace on. Actually, you can 10 only see just the top of it when you kind of look at his 11 braces. And it's always swollen. And so I'm not really kind
12 of -- I'm just, you know, I mean if it's blue, well, hey, it
13 looks blue. There's something wrong with it. But I'm more
14 looking just to see if there's a complication about to come
15 because of the immobilization.

16 Q So you were not commenting on any of the knee
17 characteristics having to do with the obvious external signs
18 of RSD?

19 A Right. Actually, I don't like to examine it. I
20 stay away from that. I just kind of -- you've got the 21 tenderness and that's enough -- and that's good enough for me
22 to -- there's still a problem.

23 Q But you would feel, you'd put your hand on them and 24 you would feel for temperature. Counsel spent some time
25 talking about your wonderfully sensitive hands. Do you

1 remember that?

2 A Yeah, I do remember him talking about that. You
3 know, I mean if when I meant temperature, I mean I'm looking
4 for like an infected knee, that's it.

5 Q A high fever in the knee?

6 A Yeah, I mean I'm not -- you know, I mean I don't 7 think I'm actually the best person for tactile responses of 8 temperature.

9 Q Right.

10 A But I try.

11 Q And you said this yourself. Do you remember saying
12 you're not a thermometer?

13 A Right, I'm not a thermometer. Actually, sometimes I
14 can't even feel my kids, but I don't even know, but I try. I
15 mean I just, you know.

16 Q And did you also say, did I hear it right that you
17 said you wouldn't be able to tell temperature changes of one
18 or two degrees with your hands?

19 A No, I wouldn't. I can't even tell. I can tell you
20 I can't even tell sometimes 101 degrees on my kids, so that's 21 three degrees, and I know that because I've actually had to 22 get a thermometer out. I can't tell. Sometimes, you know, it
23 depends on -- I mean sometimes you get lucky and you can tell.
24 It all depends on your feet and hands, but I'm just not -- I
25 don't know. I mean I never trust myself to see if I'm

1 different from other people, but.

2 Q One or two degrees would be extremely challenging?

3 A Oh, yeah, I don't think I could even do that.

4 Q And, in fact, you were only feeling one extremity,
5 is that right?

6 A Well, I'm actually not even feeling. See, you have
7 to understand. When you're feeling, when you're touching,
8 he's actually only got a surface area of this much exposed.
9 So, you actually, how would you -- you know, when it's easy to 10 touch it, but it's hard to actually feel.

11 On the back of your hand, you try to feel, but it's 12 hard to do. So, I wasn't really doing that. I was more just 13 to make sure that I'm just kind of watching them. I guess
14 that's more better the way of saying it. He's just being seen
15 and I'm just making sure you don't have another problem.
16 That's all it comes down to.

17 Q Let me probably ask the question that I should ask
18 just directly. You were not checking for sympathetically
19 mediated temperature changes between the two lower
20 extremities, is that fair to say?

21 A I was not, not on a regular basis. You know, I
22 don't think I did --

23 Q And if you did that --

24 A -- check, you know, because I mean definitely not in 25 the last three years, I mean.

1 Q And if you did that, you would use a thermometer or
2 a temperature patch?

3 A No, I think that I mean I guess you could do a
4 thermometer or a temperature patch. I mean I, you know --

5 Q Okay.

6 A I mean, you know, it's just a -- it's basically, you
7 know, looking. I guess I mean I was basically just saying
8 it's still tender. It's still got a problem.

9 Q I'm not talking. I'm asking you. If you were 10 checking for a sympathetically mediated temperature change of 11 one or two degrees between the left and the right knee, would 12 you have a thermometer available to you?

13 A I don't even think I was checking for that and I
14 don't even have a thermometer.

15 Q Hypothetically, if you would.

16 A I don't even have a thermometer available for that.

17 Q Okay. I'll leave the question.

18 A Yeah, I don't have that.

19 Q You know what, doctor? I have no further questions.
20 Thank you.

21 THE COURT: Very well. Any follow up, Mr. Ward?

THE COURT: Mr. Ward.

MR. WARD: We are, at the -- with the agreement of Mr. Baker we are calling out of order, Mr. Franklin.

THE COURT: Mr. Franklin, would you please stand, raise your right hand to be sworn by Madam Clerk.

FORREST FRANKLIN, DEFENDANT'S WITNESS, SWORN

THE COURT: Please be seated, stating your full name, spelling your last name for the record.

THE WITNESS: Forrest P. Franklin, F-r-a-n-k-l-i-n.

THE COURT: Whenever you're ready, Mr. Ward.

MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor. Before I start examining Mr. Franklin we have a housekeeping matter.

MR. BAKER: Actually, two.

MR. WARD: Two.

MR. BAKER: Okay. Go ahead.

MR. WARD: Mine is that Exhibit Number 68, which is Mr. Franklin's report, which is two pages, says that his full CV is attached hereto, and of course his full CV is not attached hereto. I have asked Mr. Baker to agree, and he has agreed that we may attach, simply attach these two pages to this exhibit, rather than make a new exhibit.

THE COURT: Very well. So ordered.

MR. BAKER: And the second issue was, I was speaking with

1 the Clerk about this, and Exhibit 15 was Rancho Physiotherapy.
2 And if the Court recalls I put the first half of it or so in 3 through Dr. Schifini or Dr. Shannon, which left 12,000 in 4 bills in the second half. And I recall offering and admitting
5 the second half through Dr. Shaw. The Clerk couldn't remember
6 one way or another.

7 So I'd either move to admit the second half of 15
8 now, or ask the Court to recognize that it's already been 9 offered and admitted.

10 THE COURT: Mr. Ward, do you have any objection?

11 MR. WARD: None other than the ones we've making. No, I
12 don't have no problem with this, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: You're also ordered.

14 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

15 [Court confers with Clerk]

16 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you. Now we're ready.

17 MR. WARD: Okay.

7 A It is.

8 Q Okay. And is that reasonable accurate to-date?

9 A Yes, it is.

10 Q Okay. And the other two documents are -- the other
11 two pages, single document, are those your report?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And that was procured by you?

14 A For you, yes.

15 Q Yes. Thank you. Now, I'm now -- your report is 16 Exhibit 69, if you have need to refer to it, it's back there

12 so, yes.

13 Q Okay. And then you went to the -- attended the 14 Oakland Police Academy?

15 A Yes, sir.

16 Q Graduated in 1969?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And now there's a couple year gap here before you go
19 another degree. Were you an officer with the Oakland Police
20 Department?

21 A Briefly.

22 Q Okay. And what period of time was that?

23 A From '68 to '70 I was actually in the San Leandro
24 Police Department, but dispatch almost entirely, during that 25 period of time, deployed during the student unrest, which

1 probably everybody in the court is too young remember, at 2 Berkeley P.D.

3 Because of continuity and process and reporting
4 every police department in the east bay of San Francisco, or
5 most of them went to Oakland Police Academy, so they used the 6 same report forms, format and methodology, because of the 7 standardization of arrest protocol at Berkeley during the 8 student unrest.

9 Q Okay. And then you went off to Golden Gate
10 University and that's where you got your Master's Degree in 11 Public Administration?

12 A Yes, sir.

13 Q And then back to British Columbia?

14 A I matriculated briefly for a PhD in organizational 15 psychology at Rutherford, yes.

16 Q Okay. And did you complete that degree?

17 A I did not, nor will I.

18 Q You decided you'd had enough education and degrees?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. Now, tell us about your organizations that 21 you are a member of?

22 A Okay. I'm Board Certified by ASIS International,
23 which is the remainder man of American Society for Industrial 24 Security. A certified -- a certified protection professional
25 certificate, from that group. I'm certified as a disaster

2 intervention type stuff, by the disaster journal.

3 I'm certified by the American Board of Forensic
4 Examiners in Homeland Security Level 3, and I'm a Fellow of 5 the College of Forensic Examiner's Institute. I'm members of 6 each of those organizations.

7 Q Okay. And did we cover all of your memberships?

8 A No, sir. I'm also a member of Building Owners and 9 Managers Association where I currently preside as the Chair of 10 the San Francisco Emergency Preparedness Committee, and caucus
11 regularly in Washington, DC, with the international arm of 12 that -- of that organization.

13 Q Okay. And in addition to that?

14 A I am currently on the counsel for Fire Life Safety,
15 with ASIS International.

16 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I'd stip to his qualifications
17 and to the admission of his CV.

18 THE COURT: What about that, Mr. Ward?

19 MR. WARD: Sure, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 MR. WARD: I'll agree to that. And so the CV will go
22 into evidence.

23 BY MR. WARD:

24 Q And now, on the CV are publications that you've
25 made? And you don't have to read them, but there's a listing

1 of your publications?

2 A Yes, sir.

3 Q Okay. And there a listing of your affiliations?

4 A Right.

5 Q Now, sir, what I would like to do, is I would like
6 to ask you about -- you've told us about 1968 to 1970 where
7 you were working, among other things, with riot-type
8 situations.

9 Tell us, sir, about the employment, and as best you
10 can do in chronological order, starting from about then, about 11 the employment that you've had that you believe relates to 12 security and crowd control?

13 A Well, starting with the Berkeley escapade, it was 14 all crowd control and riot control. With respect to all of 15 the other employments I've had, they've been in the,
16 exclusively, in the security vector, and have related in one
17 way or another in every instance to some sort of crowd
18 control.

19 For example, the Embarcadero Center is a ten-acre,
20 eight building structure, a high rise community in San
21 Francisco, and we had festivals, block parties, huge numbers
22 of various ethnic groups at various restaurants, and night
23 clubs, and saloons and cabarets, that required not only
24 modicum of, but a pretty heavy emphasis on crowd control,
25 because in that structure all of the retail component is above

1 ground and three-storeys up.

2 So consequently because the garage is four storeys
3 below grade, when the folks would leave the various venues
4 they'd have to get back to their cars, some as many as seven
5 storeys, and were in various stages, how shall I say it,
6 inebriation, revelry, and quite often caused a stir, and 7 consequently crowd control was at issue, largely.

8 Q Before you move on to the next one how long were you
9 at Embarcadero Center?

10 A Twelve years.

11 Q Twelve years. Okay.

12 A Yes, sir.

13 Q And next?

14 A Well, the very next job of any tenure that I had,
15 not as a consultant, was as directory of security of the Trans
16 American Pyramid, which is that tall white pointy Al-Qaeda
17 target in China Town in San Francisco. And much of what we 18 did there was, as is happening today as I speak to you,
19 because of the giant victory parade, crowd control oriented.

20 We basically kept people from climbing the building,
21 because it's a completely sequestered high-security building.
22 Controlled access was at issue, including access into the 23 garages, and peripheral areas, because we also had an open
24 public park -- strike that. And open park that was private to 25 ours, but given over to the City for daytime use, and

1 encouraged all sorts of meetings, political referenda, folks
2 doing their thing in groups; so again, crowd control became an
3 issue. The --

4 Q The Trans America Pyramid is the building that
5 everybody complained about when it was being built, and now
6 it's the symbol of the City?

7 A It is. In addition to which the Israeli Consulate
8 was one-half block from us and managed by the same management
9 company, Cushman and Wakefield, and often we would have direct
10 interface with both the police department, the sheriff's 11 department, the SWAT teams and a tactical squad with respect
12 to the demonstrations that would occur a block off our 13 property, and most of the transit came through our property
14 during those -- those four years that I was there.

15 Q And after that?

16 A Well, I retired.

17 Q Okay. Now you have been a consultant over the 18 years?

19 A Yes, sir.

20 Q And have you had ever worked in areas where you've 21 had crowd control with entertainment venues?

22 A Yes, sir. The Embarcadero Center there was a,
23 because of the redevelopment agency's deal for reciprocity, a
24 public park called Justin Herman Plaza, which is a seven-acre
25 open area that had -- the City, the Recreation and Parks

1 Department had jurisdiction over it, but we maintained it. In
2 other words, we put up the dollars and they used it.

3           Everybody from Bill Graham Presents, who would have
4 a media blast and attract 10,000 people in a couple of hours
5 to watch U2, right down to John Denver, crooning, as well as 6 upscale, units like ZaSu Pitts Memorial Orchestra, and 7 goodness knows how many, in San Francisco, political 8 demonstrations that would occur that.

9           With respect to entertainment in particular, we had,
10 every Sunday, several orchestras, ranging from the Navy Band,
11 the way to Pride and Joy, Pointer Sisters, and that sort of 12 thing.

13           Clint Eastwood film, three movies there. The 14 streets of San Francisco had 12 episodes that used part of our 15 facility. Freebie and the Bean, it goes on and on. There
16 were lots of movies, lots of entertainment crowd control
17 issues, and entertainment in the raw issues.

18           Q     Okay. Now you were contacted about this case?

19           A     Yes, sir.

20           Q     And you were contacted by my office?

21           A     Yes, I was.

22           Q     And were you given a brief explanation as to what we 23 were interested in hiring you for?

24           A     Yes, sir.

25           Q     And did you feel like that was something that you

1 felt comfortable about, something that you knew something
2 about?

3 A I did.

4 Q Okay. And what were you asked -- well, first of 5 all, when were you hired; do you remember?

6 A I want to say the second quarter of this year I
7 produced the report on the 19th of August. So that seems
8 right.

9 Q Okay. And what were you asked to do?

10 A To develop, unless I already had one, and render an 11 opinion with respect to the standard of care as it relates to 12 throwing objects, memorabilia, promotional articles into 13 crowds.

14 Q Okay. Now the concept of throwing articles,
15 memorabilia, whatever, into crowds, is that something that you
16 were familiar with?

17 A I have been all my security career, yes, sir.

18 Q Okay. And, I mean, you didn't say: Oh, my 19 goodness, I've never heard of anybody doing this?

20 A Let me do it another way. I never -- I've hardly 21 ever heard of anybody not doing it.

22 Q Okay. And so in terms of what it was you did to 23 prepare for this case, to prepare to give an opinion and write
24 your report, what did you do?

25 A I reviewed some documentation, some depositions that

1 your firm had taken. I looked at a document security manual
2 from Palms, and I formed an opinion.

3 Q Okay. And after you formed an opinion did you
4 prepare a report?

5 A I did, it's here as Exhibit 69.

6 Q Okay. And what opinion did you come to?

7 A That throwing memorabilia as a promotional effort
8 into crowds is not a substandard protocol.

9 Q Okay. And are you familiar with other places that 10 throw items into crowds?

11 A I am. In fact I've initiated processes where we've 12 thrown items into many crowds, both in the philanthropic 13 operations, as well as completely secure venues.

14 Q Okay. And with respect to organizations that you
15 belong to, do you belong to any large organizations?

16 A I belong to ASIS International, which has 83,000
17 members, of which as many as 30 to 50,000 attend an annual 18 conference.

19 Q And have you attended the annual conference?

20 A Almost every year, with very few exceptions.

21 Q And that's a security group?

22 A It is a security group.

23 Q And do they throw items, promotional items into the 24 audience at the conference?

25 A We do that two ways: the conference is a series of

1 breakout sessions for educational purpose. It has a series of
2 keynote speakers like Colin Powell, and Sully, the guy that
3 crashed the plane into -- into the Hudson River. Somebody
4 always of repute. And they had exhibits, and the exhibits
5 there are, I think there were 1100 exhibitors almost every 6 year.

7           They, the exhibitors, regularly throw packages of 8 mints, hand sanitizer, young ladies from Stanley a couple of 9 years ago threw small basketballs. The Canadian contingent in 10 fact has Canada Night, which is a sort of adjunct breakout,
11 threw hockey pucks, real life hard hockey pucks into the 12 crowd.

13           So, yes. And that's impressive to me because this
14 is the largest security organization on the planet, so clearly
15 there's no standard that they reached.

16           Q    Okay. And have you seen the Palms area where this 17 incident occurred?

18           A    Yes, sir, I have.

19           Q    And was there anything about the Palms area where 20 this occurred that you thought would preclude the tossing of 21 promotional items to people that were there?

22           A    Well, in fairness, given the time that I saw it,
23 which is several years after the event, unless there were some 24 drastic architectural or structural changes, I saw nothing
25 that would have --

3 THE COURT: Yes.

4 VOIR DIRE

5 BY MR. BAKER:

6 Q You saw it several years after; is that right?

7 A I didn't see it in '04, no, sir.

8 Q When did you see it?

9 A Yesterday.

10 Q Yesterday for the first time?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And you never saw any photographs of it at the time
13 that this -- it happened; is that correct?

14 A No. I worked entirely off the drawing that's an 15 exhibit to Plaintiff's deposition.

16 Q And you never asked for any photographs that might 17 have been in existence at the time?

18 A In '04?

19 Q Yes.

20 A I did not.

21 Q And you never asked for any architectural specs. to 22 see if any construction had gone over?

23 A Let me do this: I saw deposition testimony that
24 there were no video, VCR, DDR --

25 Q No, I understand.

2 information.

3           Q     Did you see any architectural --

4           A     I did not.

5           Q     -- stats? Have you asked anybody if there were any 6 major construction changes in the premises at the time?

7           A     I did ask if the occupancy loading had changed from 8 whatever it was then, to 562, which it is now?

9           Q     And?

10          A     Well, nobody knows, that was yesterday.

11          Q     So nobody knows; is that correct?

12          A     I haven't had time to talk --

13          Q     So is it fair to say that you cannot state that the 14 condition of the Palms Sports Bar when you saw it is the same
15 as when it occurred in the accident?

16          A     That's fair.

17          MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I move to strike any testimony on 18 that issue, based upon the fact that he cannot substantiate
19 that it's in the same or similar condition.

20          THE COURT: Mr. Ward, do you want to respond?

21          MR. WARD: I will ask some other questions, and I will 22 offer through another witness the foundation for that, and 23 would request that the motion to strike on that topic be held
24 in abeyance until I lay the foundation.

1 THE COURT: Do you mean you'll then recall Mr. Franklin
2 until --

3 MR. WARD: No, I meant, I will ask Mr. Franklin other
4 questions, I won't ask him anymore specific questions relating
5 to that. And then I will -- would request that the Court,
6 since the testimony has already been given, that the Court
7 hold in abeyance the motion to strike until I bring in another
8 witness to lay a foundation.

9 MR. BAKER: I've never heard something like that before,
10 Your Honor. I'd object to that. This witness that's on the 11 stand right now and the foundational questions should be asked
12 of him. He can't lay the foundation in a future witness and 13 then have it somehow retrospectively apply to questions for a
14 witness on the stand.

15 THE COURT: It's a bit irregular, sustain the objection.

16 DIRECT EXAMINATION CONTINUED

17 BY MR. WARD:

18 Q Mr. Franklin, did you look at the deposition of the 19 Plaintiff?

20 A I did.

21 Q And did you look at drawings that the Plaintiff made
22 with respect to the area where the accident occurred?

23 A I saw a drawing.

24 Q Okay.

25 A As an exhibit, yes.

1 Q And were you able to see a general -- discern a
2 general configuration from his drawing?

3 A Yes.

4 Q I'm going to ask you questions about this based on
5 his drawing. You saw that before yesterday, correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Is there anything about this drawing in the way the 8 conditions are set forth in the drawing that changes any of 9 the opinions that you offered before?

10 A No.

11 Q Is the -- is the question, the testimony that you
12 gave with respect to tossing things into crowds, does it
13 depend upon the configuration of the facility?

14 A No.

15 Q So your opinions are not dependant upon the 16 configurations of the Palms at the time of the accident; is
17 that correct?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q Okay. And the document that we have, that you have 20 explained, is your report of August 19, 2010, that is in fact
21 your report containing all of your opinions?

22 A It is.

23 Q Okay. Now did you read the deposition of Brandy
24 Beavers?

25 A I did.

1 Q Did she provide any information as to her experience
2 with whether facilities allowed items to be thrown into
3 crowds?

4 A Yes, she did.

5 Q And what was that?

6 A She indicated specifically that Cesar's Palace, is 7 one that I recall right off the top of my head, not looking at 8 the depo here, allowed that, prescribed it.

9 Q Okay. Are you aware of any books on management and 10 crowd control? Are you aware, in general, books on management
11 crowd control?

12 A ASIS International has a tone of reference which is 13 probably several thousand pages thick, called The Protection
14 Of Assets Manual that articulates virtually every security
15 protocol known to man since they came into being in the late
16 forties. There's reference in many of those that -- to crowd
17 control, I am sure.

18 Q Okay. Is there anything in that, that prohibits or 19 suggests it's a bad thing to throw promotional items into 20 crowds?

21 A I've never read anything anywhere that prohibits or 22 inhibits or suggests that, or mandates that it shouldn't be
23 done.

24 Q Are you familiar with any casinos, any other
25 casinos, not the Palms, but any other casinos in town that

1 have any written rules that proscribe the tossing of
2 promotional items into crowds?

3 A I'm sorry, would you repeat that?

4 Q Sure. Are you familiar with any casinos in Las
5 Vegas -- well, let me go back and make it broader.

6 Are you familiar with any facilities, anywhere, that
7 have written rules that proscribe the -- that preclude the 8 throwing of promotional items into crowds?

9 A No. And in fact I articulated that in number 69
10 here, with respect to Blue Men, Cirque du Soleil and all of 11 the ones I've ever attended anywhere, throw all kinds of 12 things into the crowd. And fain water that's really confetti.
13 Teatro ZinZanni in San Francisco did it. Peter Pan does it in 14 San Francisco. All manner of stuff thrown into crowds, yes.

15 Q Okay.

16 A And the question was: did I know of any preclusion,
17 no, I don't.

18 Q Right. Okay.

19 MR. WARD: I would offer the witness' August 19, 2000
20 report, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Isn't it already in?

22 MR. WARD: It's not into evidence. I offer it into

2 MR. BAKER: -- won't stip. for reports coming in, but
3 this time is okay, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: 68 or 69?

5 MR. WARD: It's 68. It's all part -- what we did was, I
6 know it's a little screwy, but since counsel only stipulated
7 to the CV at the outside, I wasn't trying to sneak it in at 8 the same time. So that's why I offered it separately, but 9 it's all one exhibit, 68, four pages.

10 THE COURT: 68 is admitted.

11 [Defendant's Exhibit 68 Received]

12 MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor.

13 I have no further questions, Mr. Franklin. Thank
14 you.

15 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

16 THE COURT: Very well. Mr. Baker.

17 CROSS-EXAMINATION

18 BY MR. BAKER:

19 Q Good morning -- good afternoon, Mr. Franklin.

20 A Good day.

21 Q All right. Let me start with this, let's go to

2 into the patronage of Monday night football with any greater
3 degree of alacrity than effectuated by the Defendants."

4 What does that mean?

5 A Well, it was some of the verbiage that came out of 6 the complaint as I recall, about the effectuation of such 7 protocol.

8 Q What does your sentence mean?

9 A That I would have trouble articulating a protocol,
10 or throwing things -- I would have trouble writing a standard,
11 or making a program for throwing things.

12 Q Really. Did you read any of the depositions in this
13 case?

14 A I did.

15 Q Did you read Sheri Long's deposition?

16 A I did.

17 Q Do you know who Sheri Long is?

18 A She's the Director of Marketing.

19 Q Right. Sheri Long, she was the promotional
20 director, marketing director; is that right?

21 A That's what I understand.

22 Q And you read that she found out that items were 23 being thrown in another room, the Key West Room, and that 24 pissed her off. You read that, right?

1 where items were thrown yes.

2 Q Did you see here statement where she said that that
3 created a foreseeable possibility of people being injured?

4 A I'm sorry, Counsel, you said "pissed her off"?

5 Q Yes,

6 A I didn't read that anywhere.

7 Q Did you see that she said it was inappropriate?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Did you see where she said it created a foreseeable
10 risk of harm to patrons?

11 A She said it was a safety issue, as I recall.

12 Q She said it was absolutely a safety concern. But do
13 you recall reading where she said it created a foreseeable
14 risk of injury to people in the sports bar?

15 A I saw that.

16 Q Did you hear, or did anyone tell you from her
17 testimony in this court, that she said that it was a breach I
18 the standard of care for it to be done?

19 A I haven't seen that.

20 Q Okay. Well, did you read Brandy Beaver's
21 deposition?

22 A I did.

23 Q And did you hear her say that -- oh, let me ask you
24 something about Sheri Long. Did you read where Sheri Long had 25 a meeting with her staff, including Denise something with a D.

1 Do you remember her name, a woman named Denise. And
2 specifically instructed Denise that promotional items were no
3 longer to be thrown?

4 A I don't recall that.

5 Q You don't recall that in Brandy Beaver's deposition?
6 Can I remind you?

7 A Sure.

8 MR. BAKER: Page 64 only. Would you spell that name into
9 the record, please, Rob.

10 MR. CARDENAS: Denise Demoncas, D-e-m-o-n-c-a-s, is the 11 last name.

12 MR. BAKER: No the quote that has to do with that -- oh,
13 it's in Sheri Long's deposition.

14 If you'll give me just a moment.

15 [Pause]

16 BY MR. BAKER:

17 Q And I'll read it to you, and this is on page 63 --
18 53 to 54 of the deposition. She said:

19 "Q At the time in the Key West Room when you
20 discovered someone was throwing promotional items
21 out into the crowd, who was it you spoke to?

22 "A I'm sure it was the marketing manager.

23 "Q Who was it at that time?

24 "A I believe it was Maureen.

25 "Q Do you remember the substance of the

1 conversation?

2 "A No, we don't recall.

3 "Q But you discussed it wasn't safe to throw
4 promotional items out into the crowd?

5 "A I believe that's so, right.

6 "Q For the reasons that you said there's a
7 real safety concern?

8 "A Yes.

9 "Q And because it's foreseeable that if you
10 throw promotional items out during Monday night
11 football someone could get hurt?

12 "A Correct.

13 "Q And, okay, did you follow-up with a
14 memoranda to your department?"

15 She says she doesn't remember doing that.

16 Sir, are you aware that she spoke with people in her
17 marketing department that promotional items should not be 18 thrown out into the crowd?

19 A I seem to recall it, yes.

20 Q Okay. Are you aware that Brandy Beavers had a
21 meeting with Denise Demoncas after that, where they actually
22 constructed a goal post so that promotional items could be
23 thrown through the sports bar?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And you're aware that that occurred after Sheri Long

AVTranz

1 instructed her staff that promotional items should not be
2 thrown?

3 A Sure.

4 Q Okay. Now when Sheri Long told them, promotional
5 items shouldn't be thrown, she was implementing, as she said,
6 a safety protocol, a safety procedure; is that right?

7 A It could be.

8 Q Yeah. And Denise thereafter met with Brandy Beavers
9 after being told that promotional items were not to be thrown,
10 and constructed goals posts so that promotional items could be 11 thrown through the sports bar; is that fair to say?

12 A That is fair to say.

13 Q Does that sound to you like a conscious disregard
14 then of that safety procedure?

15 A It wasn't a safety procedure.

16 Q You just said it was a safety procedure, when Sheri
17 Long said: "promotional items should not be thrown," that was 18 a safety procedure, right?

19 A I'll concede that, then.

20 Q Okay. And so when Denise, after that time, met with 21 Brandy Beavers and said: Hey, we got a great idea, let's put 22 up football goal posts in the middle of the sports bar to
23 throw promotional items, wouldn't that appear to you to be a
24 conscious disregard of a known safety procedure?

25 A Okay.

2 A Yes.

3 Q All right. Now, you also read in Brandy Beaver's
4 deposition that security guards were in the area when this was
5 occurring; is that right?

6 A Right.

7 Q And you know who Vicki Colinga (phonetic) is, don't
8 you?

9 A I think it's Colinga, right?

10 Q I've had trouble with that name the whole time. Is 11 it Colinga? Who is she?

12 A She's the Director of Risk Management.

13 Q Okay. So the risk manager at the hotel, you read in 14 her deposition that she also said it was inappropriate to 15 throw promotional devices.

16 A Right.

17 Q And she also said that it's foreseeable that someone
18 be hurt.

19 A Yes.

20 Q And she also said that it was inappropriate for it
21 to be her; is that right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And she in this court also sat and said that in a
24 sports bar environment in a hotel, that it was beneath the 25 standard of care to throw those promotional items; did you

2 A Yeah. But there's no standard.

3 Q She's the risk manager of the hotel. Okay? When
4 you tell people to do something for safety purposes you expect
5 to be followed; is that right?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q And you've never worked as a risk manager in a
8 hotel, is that right?

9 A Tangentially I have.

10 Q Have you worked in a position where you were paid
11 and your title was risk manager of the hotel?

12 A No.

13 Q Okay. Have you ever been a marketing director for a
14 hotel?

15 A No.

16 Q And you'll agree that when rules are set people
17 should follow them; is that true?

18 A Sure.

19 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor. I have no further 20 questions.

21 THE COURT: Very well.

3 security guards in the area they should have stopped Brandy
4 Beavers from throwing promotional devices.

5 A I don't remember seeing that. Do you want to read
6 -- if you can read it to me I'll --

7 Q I'll read it to you. This time I have the right
8 deposition transcript.

9 A What's this from, Counsel?

10 Q It is from Vicki Colinga's deposition, it's page 43.
11 And, I say:

12 "Q I've read through your security manual, and 13 in your security manual it defines it as a
14 guideline; would that be fair to say?

15 "A It's a guideline.

16 "Q But it also compels the security officers
17 to use what you defined as their commonsense as 18 well; is that right?

19 "A Commonsense and experience.

20 "Q And if a security individual working at the 21 Palms Hotel in November of 2004 saw somebody
22 throwing promotional items into the audience would

1 Colinga, about the foreseeability of injury; do you agree with
2 that?

3 A No.

4 Q Do you think that it is -- that the tossing of
5 promotional items into crowds presents a foreseeable
6 possibility of injury?

7 A No, and let me say why. I work regularly as the 8 Safety Coordinator for the American Diabetes Association
9 toward a cure, in Northern California. I also founded and now
10 direct the ALS, that's Lou Gehrig's disease to stop ALS. And 11 at all of their gatherings, which are bicycle rides, some 12 which are 2,000 riders strong -- strike that, 2200 riders
13 strong, there are people who are diseased.

14 People with diabetes sometimes don't move as fast as 15 others, particularly after a hundred mile bicycle ride, and 16 people with ALS in wheelchairs, with tricks (sic), and 17 inability to have any mobility whatsoever don't move very 18 quick at all.

19 And we have, with great regularity for the last 19
20 years for ADA, Diabetes Association, and the last five with 21 Lou Gehrig's disease, which are crippled folks, thrown 22 memorabilia into the bicycle crowd, which is peppered with 23 folks in wheelchairs and folks with not a great degree of 24 mobility. To include power bars, high fiber bars, special
25 drinks, water bottles wrapped in t-shirts. No, I don't have a

1 problem with that at all, and that's the reason, that's one of 2 the reasons.

3 Q Does that mean to you that no one under any
4 circumstances, no matter how many years this went on could
5 ever get hurt; is that what you're saying?

6 A Absolutely not. You can get hurt doing anything.

7 Q In your opinion, with respect to whether it is below
8 the standard of care to throw promotional items into crowds is 9 what, sir?

10 A I know of no such standard, sir.

11 Q And so do you think it's appropriate?

12 A To throw things into -- I don't find it
13 inappropriate at all.

14 Q Okay. So would you -- if someone came to you and 15 asked you today, would it be something that would be 16 appropriate to throw things into crowds, would you say it was 17 okay?

18 A I would. And I will say -- I will say that in my 19 visit yesterday to Palms, they now have Miller girls that 20 proffer some sort of entertainment throughout the Monday night
21 football, and it says on their marquee right beside the room,
22 and I have no idea if they throw things. But not much seems
23 -- else to have changed since then. And I would not tell
24 anybody not to throw things into crowds.

25 MR. WARD: Okay. Thank you.

1 THE WITNESS: Yes, sir.

2 MR. BAKER: Just a couple, Your Honor.

3 RE-CROSS-EXAMINATION

4 BY MR. BAKER:

5 Q A foreseeable danger is a danger that you could
6 preconceive happening; is that right?

7 A No. Foreseeable means it's based on similar prior
8 events that could lead you to believe that it could repeat
9 itself.

10 Q That's your definition of foreseeable?

11 A Based on prior similar events, yes.

12 Q Okay. Do you know that both Vicki and Sheri Long
13 preconceived that exactly what happened to Ricky, Enriquez,
14 could happen to somebody? They both testified to that at 15 trial. I asked, is that injury that happened to him what 16 raised your concern in the first place.

17 MR. WARD: I don't believe that's the testimony.

18 THE COURT: I was listening pretty carefully, and it was 19 pretty close to that. I don't think counsel has 20 mischaracterized that at all.

21 BY MR. BAKER:

22 Q Do you know that?

23 A No, I didn't know that.

24 Q Okay. Do you think maybe they're just a little
25 better at determining what a foreseeable injury would be in a

1 circumstance, than you?

2 A Well, let me make sure that I understand you
3 correctly.

4 Q You know, I --

5 A A foreseeability is based on somebody throwing a
6 bottle, which hits the ground, and somebody running to get the 7 bottle after it's hit the ground and hurting another
8 individual.

9 Now I have to really stretch to make that series of 10 events and that number of components a foreseeable event.

11 Q Your definition of foreseeable is based upon, you
12 know it's going to happen again, because it's happened in the 13 past?

14 A That's not what I said. Prior similar events are my 15 signal that something's foreseeable.

16 Q That's your signal, right?

17 A Well, I've been told by other counsel that 18 "foreseeable" simply means it happened.

19 Q Can I ask you something? Is one day the sun going 20 to engulf the earth?

21 A I don't think so, but I have heard of solar flares
22 are supposed to have some damage on a petrochemical function
23 and our electronic function.

24 Q So that's foreseeable?

25 A Who knows.

2 A No.

3 MR. BAKER: Okay. I don't have any further questions,
4 Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Anything further, Mr. Ward?

6 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: With the thanks of the Court you may be 8 excused.

4                    THE COURT: Good afternoon.

5                    MR. BAKER: Enrique, go ahead and take your seat. I'm
6 sorry, Your Honor. She was nervous.

7                    THE COURT: No, no, it's quite all right. Please be 8 seated.

9                    Okay. So, we need to ask the witness to stand,

18 BY MR. BAKER:

19                    Q Do you have a last name?

20                    A Perez, P-E-R-E-Z.

21                    Q And, Maria, you've never been so scared in your 22 whole life?

23                    A No.

24                    Q Okay. Remember what I said. We're at a barbecue

2 Q So, just think about that, all right?

3 A That's funny, okay.

4 Q Are you Henry's significant other?

5 A Yes, I am.

6 Q When did you first meet him?

7 A About 29 years ago.

8 Q Okay. And can you tell the Judge where you first
9 met him?

10 A He was my neighbor and we used to roller skate
11 together.

12 Q And is that what you started doing just right away?

13 A Right away.

14 Q Was it love at first sight?

15 A I would say so.

16 Q I heard rumor you moved in with him pretty quick 29
17 years ago.

18 A That's correct.

19 Q Okay. And have you been with him ever since?

20 A Ever since.

21 Q Okay. I want you -- now, you know that we're here
22 to talk about the occurrence at the Palms in 2004, is that

1 Judge about your life with Henry before you came to Las Vegas
2 and Henry went to the Palms in 2004?

3 A We had a very good life. We had -- it was a
4 beautiful home. He gave us -- gave me everything I wanted.
5 We had a big family. We raised, along with one, my son, we 6 had foster children, so -- or foster boys, so we were a big 7 family and --

8 Q Did Henry used to go to their football games?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And tell me about some of the things that Henry used
11 to do with the boys?

12 A He did everything with them. They were in football.
13 Some were playing in football teams and some were baseball.
14 And he did everything with them. We would go camping.
15 Because some were foster children and were troubled, he would
16 be at the school a lot, you know.

17 Q And you haven't had foster children for about ten
18 years, is that right?

19 A Yeah, it's been about ten years now, yes.

20 Q Did the home feel empty?

21 A It is very empty.

22 Q Talk to the Judge about the things that you and 23 Henry would do from that, say, ten years ago to the time that
24 Henry came to Las Vegas and was injured at the Palms Hotel?

25 A Well, we lived a good life. He made good money. He

5 A Yes, it is.

6 Q Okay.

7 A Yes, it is.

8 Q And did you enjoy traveling with Henry?

9 A Oh, very much so.

10 Q And were you traveling together and having fun
11 together right up to the time that you came to Las Vegas and 12 he was hurt at the Palms?

13 A That's pretty much, yes.

14 Q Did you ever go with Henry when he was looking at 15 real estate?

16 A I have been with him, yes.

17 Q Would you explain for the Judge, please, what Henry
18 would do when he was checking out whether or not he wanted to 19 buy a house?

20 A Well, Henry could look at a property and decide if 21 he wanted -- if that was one of the properties he would want
22 to pick up.

23 Q Did he do a thorough search of the house or a
24 thorough look at the house?

7 Q So, if he wasn't interested, he knew right away.
8 He'd just look at it and leave?

9 A He could look at it and knew if he wanted it, you
10 know, without even going through it, but yes.

11 Q He would go through it?

12 A Uh-huh.

13 Q And, say in the year before the accident at the 14 Palms Hotel, tell the Judge a bit about how you guys were.
15 Were you happy? Were you living life?

16 A Oh, life was -- well, it was wonderful. We did
17 everything together. We were -- I was very spoiled by him,
18 very spoiled because he did make good money. He spoiled
19 everyone.

20 Q Does he have a -- was he a lazy guy?

21 A No, no.

22 Q Was he the kind of guy who would just give up?

23 A No, no. As a matter of fact, he's the kind of guy
24 that you would see at -- he works out a lot or he -- I'm
25 sorry. He used to work out a lot. He was -- be at the gym,

1 if not every day, it would be every other day.

2 Q Active?

3 A Yeah.

4 Q Did he have friends?

5 A Did he have friends?

6 Q Yeah.

7 A Oh, yes.

8 Q Tell the Judge about Enrique's friend, Nick.

9 A Oh, Nick is a -- Nick is a very, very special man.
10 I'm going to guess his age.

11 Q Don't. It could be dangerous.

12 A Don't? Okay. Oh, he has always looked at Henry as 13 like family, nephew. And they're -- because Nick is a -- let 14 me see, a developer.

15 Q He's also a high school football coach?

16 A Oh, yes, everything. He, yeah. He --

17 Q What sort of things would Henry -- you're doing
18 okay. What sort of things would Henry and Nick do together?

19 A You know what? They used to tease. Nick always 20 said that Henry was his right-hand man, so playing or not,
21 they, you know --

22 Q Did they play sports?

23 A Oh, yes, yes.

24 Q What kind of sports?

25 A Well, pretty much every -- Nick has like a

1 racquetball court in his backyard and basketball court and --

2 Q I want to go play at Nick's house.

3 A -- a golf course. He has -- they were very --

4 Q A miniature golf course?

5 A I don't know if it was a miniature one, but he had
6 everything there.

7 Q And would Henry and Nick enjoy that?

8 A Oh, yeah, yeah. They spent hours together when --
9 you know, that's playing time and then there was, you know,
10 business time.

11 Q Okay. Did Henry enjoy his playing time?

12 A Oh, sure.

13 Q Was he happy before he came to Las Vegas in November
14 of 2004?

15 A Oh, yes, yes. You know, Henry was into 16 bodybuilding, not just working out and staying fit, but he 17 used to build. So, he -- yeah, he had buddies that they would 18 get -- you know, they eat a certain way, so I have to make 19 certain types of food and he has to eat thousands of calories.
20 Bodybuilders do that kind of thing. And that was daily. And 21 he did -- I'm sorry.

22 Q You ran out of stuff to say?

23 A I'm not --

24 Q Okay.

25 A -- sure what I was even saying.

1 Q Let's talk about why you came to Vegas in 2004.

2 A Okay.

3 Q Would you explain that to the Judge?

4 A Oh, I'm sorry.

5 Q Would you explain to the Judge why you and Henry,
6 Enrique, came to Las Vegas in November of 2004?

7 A Well, we came because it was a little celebration
8 and I was a little ill. So, when I found out that I wasn't as 9 ill as we thought, we decided -- we did. We came to here, to 10 Vegas.

11 Q We have good pizza here too.

12 A It's okay. But I had some breast tumors and when 13 things -- when it came out good, the news, we came out here
14 for a celebration. But he --

15 Q Where did you -- where were you staying?

16 A At the Harrah's.

17 Q Okay. And did you check in at Harrah's?

18 A Yes, we did.

19 Q And then at some time, did Enrique go out? Yeah.

20 A Yes, yeah.

21 Q What was he going to go do?

22 A Let me see. After what he was -- what was he going
23 to do? He was just going to go run the Las Vegas because he 24 put me down to sleep because I -- and I was not feeling well.
25 And he tucked me in and then I told him just to go out and

1 have a good time.

2 Q Okay. Did it bother you that he was going to leave
3 you in the hotel room?

4 A Oh, no, no. I was so glad that he was leaving me
5 there because --

6 Q You just needed -- go ahead.

7 A So he could go out and have a good time. I just
8 wanted to relax and sleep.

9 Q Okay. And that makes sense. Was there a time that 10 you found out that Enrique had been injured?

11 A Yeah, I did find out.

12 Q Okay. When did that occur?

13 A I don't know what time it was, but I did see him
14 come in.

15 Q Come into the hotel room?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. Could you please tell the Judge what he 18 looked like and how he was acting when he came into the hotel
19 room?

20 A He was very crippled. He was very crippled. He had 21 something on his leg, some type of leg stabilizer with like a
22 cast type and crutches and he was in bad shape.

23 Q Okay. Did you put him to bed that night?

24 A Yes, I did.

25 Q And how was he feeling?

1 A He was bad.

2 Q Okay.

3 A He was in a lot of pain.

4 Q What hurt him?

5 A Especially his leg.

6 Q Okay. You say especially. Were there other things
7 that were hurting him?

8 A Oh, his -- yes. Well, I had to lay him down and to 9 roll him over, but his leg was especially bad.

10 Q And how do you know that?

11 A How do I know what?

12 Q How bad his leg was.

13 A Oh, oh, he was bad. I had to help him.

14 Q Have you ever seen him like that before?

15 A No.

16 Q Had he ever hurt his knee before?

17 A He has -- I've never seen him, no, never.

18 Q So, was this scary for you then?

19 A It was terrible.

20 Q Okay. Well, what did you guys do? Did you go out
21 and party on the town the next day?

22 A Oh, no, no.

23 Q Well, what'd you do?

24 A I had -- no. No, I had to take -- we had to go
25 home. We had to -- no, he was in very bad pain. He could not

1 even -- he could not drive. He could hardly walk. No, he was
2 -- it was bad.

3 Q Was he complaining at that time of pain in his neck
4 or in his back?

5 A Not, you know, no, not really because his leg was 6 killing him, but I know the pain he was in because I had to 7 roll him over. I had to get him undressed.

8 Q Is he a complainer?

9 A No, he's not. You would never know he -- no, no, he 10 does not complain about pain. As a matter of fact, even when 11 I'm in pain, he'll tell me not to say -- just to deal with it
12 because he doesn't -- no, he's not one --

13 Q So, even if he wasn't saying things to you because 14 he doesn't believe in complaining about pain, did you observe
15 him to be in pain?

16 A Yes, yes. Even now, last night, even now when he's 17 asleep, he cries in his sleep.

18 Q What type of pain do you observe him to be in?

19 A Well, he -- the type of pain? We cannot -- he is --
20 we can't even sleep close together because he thinks that I'm 21 going to touch him or something or he feels -- oh, a lot of 22 the time he thinks that I'm going to put the sheet on him or 23 he thinks he feels the sheet or --

24 Q What happens if you put the sheet onto his knee?

25 A No, yeah. He's very jerky, no.

1 Q Does it hurt him?

2 A Yes, but he doesn't say. He just -- but yeah,
3 he's --

4 Q Okay. As a person, in terms of enjoying his life
5 and living, how is Enrique now after the accident as compared
6 to how he was before?

7 A Our life is totally different now, totally. Oh,
8 God, no. Excuse me. It is so different. He can't even 9 hardly walk now. I mean before, you know, you could run and 10 play and roll around and -- I mean just him and I.

11 Even if we were just to play, roll around, let's
12 hang out on the floor or in bed, just enjoying each other's 13 company. No, that doesn't happen no more.

14 Q Does he have --

15 A You can't -- that can't happen.

16 Q Why?

17 A Well, normally he was the type to sleep on his 18 stomach. No, that can't happen anymore.

19 Q Because of his knee?

20 A Yeah, he is -- he won't tell you how bad his pain
21 is, but if you -- well, as a doctor, if you were to ask him,
22 "Okay, describe your pain." He will tell you, you know, this 23 -- he'll describe it. But, you know, with friends and 24 company, he won't say nothing.

25 And I have -- there's been many, many times when he

1 is at home because I give him his medication and stuff. I can
2 -- he will not think I am behind him and I can look straight
3 at his face and see him crying. And that is the honest to 4 God's truth.

5 Q Is he strong now like he was before this happened at 6 the Palms?

7 A No, it's not the same no more. He was into 8 bodybuilding. Now he just stays. It's a physical act -- let 9 me see. What is it? He's trying to stay active only just so
10 that if something doesn't break down. I don't know the proper
11 term.

12 Q That's okay. Is he happy like he was before the
13 accident?

14 A Oh, no. Nothing is the same no more.

15 Q No?

16 A Nothing.

17 Q Like what?

18 A Well --

19 Q Can he play sports anymore?

20 A No, no, no, no. He's -- if you watch him walk, he 21 doesn't even -- he can't even have a normal walk anymore only
22 because he thinks that his leg is going to buckle or, I don't 23 know. He thinks that -- I mean I understand the pain, but 24 he's afraid. He's afraid that he would fall.

25 Q The pain is that bad?

1           A     That, yeah, he won't take the risk. When walking on
2 a -- like on a lawn, even walking through the house, it's, you
3 know, no, he's very, very cautious.

4           Q     Are you aware of a time when he started to 5 experience pain in his neck and his back?

6           A     You know what? I've heard and seen when he has.
7 What I -- the memories I have and the memories he has are 8 different. I saw -- a long time ago, I saw it coming, but --

9           Q     The neck and back pain?

10          A     Yes, but he -- all he would talk about is or be real
11 careful about is his leg.

12          Q     Is his knee?

13          A     Or, yeah, his knee.

14          Q     Okay. Maria, this is a hard question to ask you,
15 but if someone was to suggest Enrique is faking this so that 16 he could get money from a lawsuit, what would you tell them?

17          A     That is not true. You know what? As a matter of 18 fact, one time somebody mentioned that just in the 19 conversation. Henry said he would rather have his life back.

20          Q     Thank you. No further questions.

21          MR. BAKER: Your Honor, can I approach?

1 Q And how long have you resided in Riverside?

2 Seventy-nine years last spring.

3 Q Oh really?

4 A Yes.

5 Q You look great.

6 A For an old man.

7 Q Can you tell the Judge, please, some of your
8 community affiliations in Riverside? What do you do?

9 A Well -- in the community I do a lot of things.

10 Q Like --

11 A I'm involved with the community college on their 12 board. I'm a former grand jurist. I'm a former planning
13 commissioner. I formed little league sports in Riverside
14 years ago and I was -- modestly I was alumnist of the year and 15 very -- I've been very civic-minded and --

16 Q Thank you.

17 A -- that's been my -- and I've been in development.

18 Q And before development or maybe even contemporaneous
19 with it. Were you a high school football coach?

20 A Yes. I was.

21 Q What high school and for how long did you coach?

22 A I was -- I coached at a Catholic School called Saint
23 Frances. And then I coached at Riverside Polytechnic High
24 School.

25 Q Can I call you Coach?

1           A     You can call me whatever you want, as long as it's 2 nice.

3           Q     Okay. And how did you get to meet Enrique?

4           A     Well that happened through coaching. He has --

5           Q     If you can explain to the Judge.

6           A     I'm sorry, again. He was my grand -- one of my
7 grandsons was involved in football. And one of his children
8 were involved in football. And we just came together and the 9 kids were friends. And my house was kind of an open house,
10 because it had everything you'd want for kids. Because I --
11 that was my primary. I mean I used to have kids over there --
12 I'd have 1000 from all over the community. And -- because my 13 wife and I loved to do that.

14                     And so he was there and, you know, the kids were 15 there and just --

16           Q     Maria testified yesterday and she said you had a
17 racquetball court at your house.

18           A     Yes.

19           Q     A basketball court.

20           A     Yes.

21           Q     She said a golf course. You couldn't have a golf
22 course in your house.

23           A     I had an 18-hole miniature golf course.

24           Q     So this was the place to play, wasn't it?

25           A     Well it was good for the kids.

1 Q And you knew Enrique before he came to Las Vegas in
2 November of 2004?

3 A Oh, yeah.

4 Q And were you his friend?

5 A I hope so.

6 Q Do you socialize with him?

7 A I socialized with him mainly through the schools and 8 the kids and that type of thing.

9 Q Tell us about Enrique before November of 2004. What 10 kind of a man was he? Was he physical?

11 A He was a beast. I mean, he was really, really -- I
12 mean, he participated in all the athletic events we had at my
13 house. And when I say that I mean that we had like 18
14 different events. We had play days and it was a fun place.
15 And he was very active at all the events.

16 Q Did you play racquetball with him.

17 A I wasn't very good at racquetball. I tried not to 18 play racquetball too much.

19 Q How about basketball?

20 A Yeah. We'd shoot hoops. Yeah.

21 Q Who was better?

22 A Well that depends who you're asking.

23 Q That makes total sense. Could you tell us about him
24 in terms of his personality?

25 A I mean he was very vibrant and outgoing, good

1 personality.

2 Q Okay.

3 A You know, people liked him.

4 Q Maria described him as a body builder. Is that
5 true?

6 A Well, yeah. He wouldn't have the muscles he had by 7 just walking down the street, that's for sure.

8 Q Okay. And did you know him, say in the year before
9 he came to Las Vegas in November of 2004?

10 A Oh, yeah.

11 Q And how was he then?

12 A I mean he -- you know, he used to come over to the 13 house and I sold the house, but I still --

14 Q Kept recreation rights?

15 A Yeah.

16 Q Okay.

17 A And so we could go over there and, you know, fool
18 around play a little basketball and -- I'm sorry. I keep 19 turning that way.

20 THE COURT: That's all right, sir.

21 BY MR. BAKER:

22 Q That's okay. Did he seem to you like a happy
23 person?

24 A Well he was very -- more than happy. He was very,
25 you know, just outward good personality.

1 Q Okay. And his relationship with Maria. Could you
2 tell us a bit about that?

3 A I guess I could sum it up by saying -- my wife would
4 say to me, "Why don't you treat me that way?" You know, but I
5 mean -- okay. I'm not going to elaborate. I just --

6 Q Well, go ahead.

7 A Well, no. It's just that, you know, I'm in such a
8 different world of having phone calls constantly and I'm 9 involved in a lot of community things and --

10 Q Well, speaking about that --

11 A I mean, I love my wife, I'm sure, as much as he did.
12 It was just -- I was just too involved, but I'm slowing down.

13 Q We're going to seal this part of the transcript,
14 don't worry.

15 A Okay.

16 Q Speaking about your phone calls and the things that 17 you do. Did you know Enrique professionally before November
18 of 2004?

19 A Yes. I did.

20 Q And could you explain that to the Judge, please?

21 A Well how I met him was, like I say, we were very 22 involved and we knew a lot of people. And through some 23 gathering I met Enrique and we became friends. And --

24 Q Are you aware what his profession was before

1           A     Oh, yeah.

2           Q     What he did for a living?  What did he do for a
3 living?

4           A     Well, he would book for properties, mainly houses.
5 And kind of more or less foreclosure, depressed properties.
6 And he would ask me to go with him on short rides, just you
7 know, maybe a half-hour or whatever and look at the properties
8 and give him my thoughts and ideas of what -- you know, what I
9 felt he could do with them.

10                     But that, you know, didn't happen all the time
11 because he learned what to do and so he kind of, you know --

12           Q     Was he --

13           A     I had to -- I didn't have to go with him, because he 14 knew what he was doing.

15           Q     Okay.  And that was really my question, did he know
16 what he was doing?

17           A     Yeah.

18           Q     Was --

19           A     He definitely knew.

20           Q     Was he making a living?

21           A     He was making better than a living.

22           Q     Well, what do you mean by that?

23           A     Well, I mean he had a nice home and, I mean, if you
24 can judge a person by their home.  Sometimes you can't but --

25           Q     If we could judge you by your home, you would be a

1 summer camp director, but -- right?

2 But really and seriously, did it appear to you, from
3 what you could see that he was financially secure?

4 A Yeah. Because he would always chip in to help
5 because we had barbeques like every Friday before a game and
6 if it was a Thursday. But mainly on Fridays we'd walk up
7 Central Avenue to Gary Rawlings's home and we'd have a big
8 steak, you know, dinner for the kids. They all came and ate
9 and then they went with the coaches.

10 Q Now you're aware that he was involved in an incident
11 at the Palms Hotel in November of 2004?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And when was the first time you saw him after that?

14 A No. I don't believe I could tell you exactly the 15 timing on when I saw him after.

16 Q The first time --

17 A I know it was --

18 Q Go ahead.

19 A You know, I would see him often. So I don't know if 20 he'd had it two months ago. I probably sometime during that 21 two months. You know, I mean there wasn't a long period of 22 time that we didn't either talk to each other or see each
23 other, but to give you an exact date or timing I couldn't do
24 that.

25 Q That's fair enough. How did he appear to you the

1 first time you saw him after this incident?

2 A I was shocked, actually.

3 Q Why?

4 A He was walking worse than I should be walking as an
5 old man. He just -- he wasn't good.

6 Q Did he appear to be in pain to you?

7 A Yeah.

8 Q You say you were shocked. Was it a marked change?

9 A Oh, yeah.

10 Q Describe it to me, sir.

11 A Well I mean you take a guy like Henry that's always
12 been very active, moving around and you know if we would meet
13 out at the football practices we'd be throwing the ball and --

14 Q This was before?

15 A Yeah. And when he came down and normally he would 16 come upstairs to my office. My wife said, well Henry's down
17 here. So I went down. And I said -- and usually he'd just 18 walk in the house and walk upstairs. Because that's the way
19 we are. And but he just was hurting.

20 I mean his -- you could tell he was hurt. And that
21 -- you know, the first time that he told me, you know I said,
22 "What the heck's wrong with you?" And so then we started
23 going into it. It was obvious that he was hurting. And if --
24 you can tell, I mean, I just came through a terrible episode
25 myself, but -- being hit by a truck, but you know he was

1 hurting.

2 Q And did your friendship continue over the years?

3 A Oh, yeah. Never had a --

4 Q And would you continue to see him from 2004 up to 5 present?

6 A Sure.

7 Q Would you tell the Judge what you observed about him
8 physically during that period of time, please? Did he 9 continue to look like he was in pain to you? You're smiling.
10 Go ahead and tell me, sir.

11 A Well he put a lot of weight on. And, you know,
12 obviously that tells me one thing, that I can tell you
13 personally, too. He just -- you could tell that he wasn't --
14 when not around me even, he couldn't be doing much.

15 Q Okay.

16 A You know, or he wouldn't be in the physical
17 condition that he appeared to be in. But as far as hurt goes,
18 you know, hurt to me is, you know, how do I feel inside. Am I
19 hurting bad? And you would see him grimace once and a while,
20 but you know, you can't tell what another people -- another
21 people -- excuse me, another person is feeling inside.

22 Q How about in terms of his personality? Did that
23 change after the incident in November of 2004?

24 A Oh, yeah. I mean, you know, he wasn't jumping
25 around and being happy.

1 Q I mean this is really a guy that before this
2 incident was literally jumping around and being happy?

3 A He was very -- had a great personality.

4 Q How has he changed?

5 A Well, I mean, to me I think he tries to make me feel
6 like that he's feeling great. But you can tell he's not.

7 Q How can you tell that?

8 A Well, I mean he doesn't move good. He doesn't have 9 good conversations. You know, I mean we usually would sit
10 down and talk for, you know, a half-hour, 45 minutes and go
11 over things and it just -- it just isn't the same.

12 Q Have you noticed changes in his concentration and 13 his mental abilities?

14 A I, you know, that's a hard question. Henry's always 15 been pretty sharp, very sharp. I haven't got into real detail
16 with him on any --

17 Q Deals?

18 A Yeah. Or mathematical things. You know, my 19 questions to him are "How you feeling?" "How's Maria?" And 20 then we'd talk about the kids and, you know.

21 Q What changes have you seen in Henry's life as a
22 result of this incident at the Palms hotel in 2004?

23 A Well I --

24 MR. WARD: Object, calls for speculation.

25 MR. BAKER: I've asked what he'd seen, Your Honor.

1 MR. WARD: That's --

2 THE COURT: It's pretty open-ended.

3 MR. WARD: And it's argumentative.

4 THE COURT: It's a pretty open-ended question as long as
5 the witness isn't speculating I think he can answer.

6 Overruled.

7 MR. WARD: May I for the record simply explain why I'm 8 objecting, Your Honor?

9 THE COURT: Sure.

10 MR. WARD: I don't object to his asking what Henry was -- 11 what Mr. Rodriguez was feeling. But his question was, "How is 12 he feeling as caused by the incident at the Palms Hotel?"
13 That's the basis for my objection to his question.

14 THE COURT: That's not what I recall the question was.

15 MR. BAKER: I think I asked what changes had he seen in 16 his life since the incident at the Palms Hotel in 2004.

17 THE COURT: Then --

18 MR. BAKER: I think that was my question, and I'll 19 happily make that my question.

20 THE COURT: You may answer the question.

21 THE WITNESS: Okay. May I have the question?

22 BY MR. BAKER:

23 Q What changes have you seen in Henry's life since the

25 A Well, as far as my connections with Henry or

1 associations with him, you know, he's just not Henry. And
2 he's just -- he's not active. He's, you know, limping and
3 that's not him. You know, and he doesn't really like --
4 there's not much of a -- I don't know. It just -- he just 5 isn't him.

6 He just -- he -- just appears to be in pain when 7 he's walking and like he even makes me feel at times that he 8 might even be embarrassed because he's not able to get up and 9 go do things. I mean, he just isn't him. I wish I could give 10 you a better definition, but he just isn't.

11 Q I think your inability to say it might be saying a 12 lot.

13 Coach, let me ask you a question. If it was 14 suggested to you that Henry is faking this, and that he's 15 living this life in order to get money from some lawsuit, how
16 would you respond to that?

17 A Kindly. I would say that's -- I would say --
18 there's no way Henry wants to be the way he is today. I mean,
19 he's a young man. Me, I'm different, you know. I don't -- I
20 just -- there's no way that he would want to be limping around
21 and -- no.

22 Q If someone would suggest that he's faking for the 23 money --

24 A No. It's bull. Oh, excuse me. I'm sorry.

25 Q You scared me for a second. I have no further

10 Q Tavaglione.

11 A Tavaglione is --

12 Q Tavaglione.

13 A Yeah, but you can --

14 Q No. No. I'm trying to trying to say it right.

15 A It's actually Tavaglione.

16 Q Tavaglione.

17 A That's where the g comes in.

18 Q Okay. Tavaglione? Is that close enough.

19 A Just anything. It doesn't matter.

20 Q Okay.

21 A I've been called by everything.

22 Q Okay. You've known Mr. Rodriguez for over 20 years?

23 A Yes, sir.

24 Q And you've been friends, right?

25 A Yes, sir.

2 A Yes.

3 Q He likes you?

4 A Well, I would hope to think he does.

5 Q And the way you got to know him was through the 6 sports of the kids?

7 A Yeah. That was pretty much and -- I mean, I had
8 seen him at real estate functions, but you know, then the kids
9 were there and he was at practice and that's how we got to 10 know each other better.

11 Q And he had a -- he had a child that was at least one
12 that was playing football?

13 A Yes.

14 Q On your team?

15 A Well, I was very involved with the team. Yeah.

16 Q Okay. And so you'd get together with that team?
17 You'd get together with Mr. Rodriguez with events related to 18 that team?

19 A At the games?

20 Q Anywhere.

21 A Sure.

22 Q Okay. And now, Mr. Rodriguez's son who was involved
23 was a foster child. Is that correct?

24 A You know, I believe so. But I never -- you know, he 25 had two or three different. And I wasn't sure if he had a

1 child or not himself.

2 Q Okay.

3 A I didn't.

4 Q Okay.

5 A But I know he did have a foster child.

6 Q Okay. But your situation with Mr. Rodriguez was not
7 so close that you knew whether those kids that were playing
8 football were his foster kids or his actual kids. Is that
9 correct?

10 A Well, I know one of them definitely was --

11 Q Okay.

12 A -- a foster.

13 Q But how about the other two?

14 A Well I don't know if there were two or another
15 one --

16 Q All right.

17 A But I'm not sure about that one.

18 Q Okay. And when is the last time Mr. Rodriguez had 19 foster kids?

20 A I don't have that answer.

21 Q No idea?

22 A If I told you it would be a guess.

23 Q Okay. I'm not asking you to guess, I'm just trying 24 to find out what you know and what you don't know.

25 A Okay.

1 Q And you don't know. Is that correct?

2 A I don't know the exact date.

3 Q Was there a time that Mr. Rodriguez gained weight?

4 A From my observation. Yes.

5 Q All right. And when was that?

6 A Well, I really never noticed his large gain in
7 weight until after the accident.

8 Q Okay. So your understanding was that he didn't gain
9 weight until after the incident. Is that correct?

10 A Well, I would say that that's probably partially
11 true. I also would like to comment that, you know, most of us
12 sometimes will put on a little weight and then lose it again.
13 So, but the most intense weight period that I have noticed has 14 been since he's definitely not been doing anything.

15 Q Okay.

16 A Since the accident.

17 Q Now, how tall do you think Mr. Rodriguez is?

18 A He's -- I'm not a specialist but I think that he's 19 probably about five foot, nine or something like that.

20 Q And what do you think he weighed about the time of 21 this accident?

22 A I can't answer that question.

23 Q Do you have any guesses?

24 A No. I'd rather not.

25 Q Okay. But you think that he gained weight for the

1 first time that you experienced after this incident.

2 A Largest weight that I've ever seen that he's had has
3 been after the accident.

4 Q Do you think Mr. Rodriguez, before this accident,
5 could have weighed as much as 225 pounds?

6 A You know, I -- I mean --

7 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, it's obvious --

8 THE WITNESS: -- there's always that possibility.

9 MR. BAKER: It's obviously asking him to speculate.

10 THE COURT: I understand. Agreed. Sustained.

11 BY MR. WARD:

12 Q What I'm trying to find out is you said that he 13 gained weight. You said that he gained weight after the 14 accident. So I'm just trying to find out what you thought
15 that he would have weighed before the accident. Are you
16 telling you don't have any idea?

17 A Well, I'm not guessing what somebody's weight is.
18 All I can tell you is he was fit. He had more weight after 19 his accident, considerably. And you know, I never looked at 20 any friend whether they're heavy or not heavy. All I'm saying
21 is that after the accident he couldn't do anything. He 22 therefore put on a lot of weight. And I could tell he put a
23 lot of weight on. I mean, I've had the same problem.

24 Q Okay. Now, you weren't the one who introduced
25 Mr. Rodriguez to real estate. Is that correct?

1 A No.

2 Q He was buying some houses before he met you, or
3 before you met him?

4 A Yes. I believe he was. When I met him that's what
5 he was doing.

6 Q Sure. And -- but somewhere along the line you got 7 together with him for real estate investments. Isn't that
8 true?

9 A When you say got together with him, sir, what are 10 you implying?

11 Q Well, I'm not implying anything.

12 A Okay. Well, I'm sorry, what are you asking of me?

13 Q Here's what -- let me ask it another way.

14 You would from time to time go out with 15 Mr. Rodriguez to look at houses?

16 A Yes.

17 Q I take it you did that more than once?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And I would -- would I be correct in assuming that 20 sometimes Mr. Rodriguez would drive and sometimes you would?

21 A That would be true.

22 Q Okay. Most of these homes you looked at with him
23 were single family dwellings right?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And how many houses do you suppose you looked at?

1 A That would be hard.

2 Q More than five or ten?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Okay. Fifty?

5 A Well, I would be guessing.

6 Q Yeah. I'm not looking for you to guess. I'm trying 7 to get some --

8 A I can't give you an exact answer. All -- you know,
9 if he'd call me up and want to go look at something, you know,
10 or wanted to look at three or four in a day, you know, I'd 11 just take the time to go with him and do it.

12 But how many times did he call me? I don't know.
13 How many houses did I look at? I honestly want to tell you
14 that I was doing million dollar construction jobs. And 15 normally I wouldn't even, you know, take the time. But I
16 liked Henry. I liked what he was doing and what he stood for.
17 So I didn't mind taking the time to do it. So again, I never 18 kept track of that kind of stuff.

19 Q Okay. When you would go look at a house, what would 20 you look at? Would you kind of look at it -- first drive by 21 the house and just look at the outside and see what it looked 22 like?

23 A Well, that all depends. There were houses that I
24 did just drive by with him. There were houses that we got out
25 and walked through and some of that stuff.

1           Q     Right.  So you would -- it would be more than one
2 thing.  You might first look at it.  If you decided you didn't
3 want to look any further, you just keep going.  If you decided
4 you did want to look further then you'd get out of the car and
5 go into the house?

6           A     Yes.  That's true.

7           Q     And you'd take a look at the general condition.
8 Now, were you sometimes investing in real estate as well?
9 Buying some house?

10          A     Individually?

11          Q     Yeah.

12          A     I didn't do that too much, because -- well, at the 13 start when I met Henry I did that before, but my -- I had 14 larger developments, you know, apartments and subdivisions,
15 that type of thing.

16          Q     How would Mr. Rodriguez find these houses that you
17 were going to look at?

18          A     Well, I don't know.  I would guess though --

19          MR. BAKER:  Your Honor, if he doesn't know then it's 20 asking for speculation.

21          THE WITNESS:  I just don't know.

1           The number of times that you rode with Mr. Rodriguez
2 in the car on the way to look at a house, the number of times
3 you talked to Mr. Rodriguez about this, did you ever find out
4 where he was getting these homes that you were looking at?

5           A     I couldn't really -- I really didn't pay attention
6 to that part of it. He'd just call me and say I want you to 7 look at this and give me your opinion.

8           Q     Did you ever tell him, here's a good place to find
9 homes that you might want to consider?

10          A     I may have said that.

11          Q     What kinds of places would you tell him? Would you
12 quote real estate brokers, internet, foreclosure sales, what 13 kinds of things would you talk about?

14          A     We probably hit all of them.

15          Q     Okay. And when did Mr. Rodriguez have to stop
16 having children that were playing on the football team that 17 you were talking about?

18          A     In the -- you mean the dates?

19          Q     Years. Approximate years. I mean, like 20 years
20 ago, ten years, five?

21          A     Somewhere between 15 and 20.

22          Q     So it was 15 or 20 years ago that you were seeing 23 Mr. Rodriguez at these football games.

24          A     Yeah. That would be about right.

2 A I've been to a few football games, but not like I
3 used to.

4 Q Okay. How many times have you see Mr. Rodriguez at 6 A In the last ten years? I don't know, you know, it

7 would be a guess if I told you, but I don't know.

8 Q Not as many as before?

9 A No. Because I didn't go either.

10 Q Okay. So you weren't seeing him as often in the 11 last ten years as you had been seeing him the ten years before
12 that.

13 A Well you've got to bear in mind that the games were 14 only one game a week, so --

15 Q Right. I'm not criticizing, I'm asking.

16 A I would say -- I'm not sure that I didn't see him as 17 much, because he would stop by my house just to -- just as a
18 friend to talk, so, I don't think that I would hang it on just 19 seeing him at the football games.

20 Q How often per week or month or year would you see
21 Mr. Rodriguez, in the last ten years.

22 A My door is always open and I don't keep track.

1 did Mr. Rodriguez live?

2 A Let's see -- I think at that time he was living in
3 Nevada.

4 Q Okay. So at the time of the accident he was living
5 in Nevada. Do you remember where?

6 A I don't know exactly if he was living in Nevada, but
7 I believe that he was living in Nevada.

8 Q Okay. I'm just trying to find out to the best of 9 your recollection.

10 A Okay.

11 Q Henry -- Mr. Rodriguez was your friend.

12 A Right.

13 Q You cared about him.

14 A Yeah, certainly.

15 Q And so it's your recollection that at the time of 16 this event he was living in Nevada. Did he ever move back to 17 California?

18 A I'm -- yes. I mean, to the best of my -- I don't 19 know if he moved back, but I know that he was at his mother's 20 and father's when he called me several times. I don't know
21 that he legitimately -- legally moved back to California or 22 not. I mean, he might have still been at a residence here,
23 and was spending time in California because of his medical
24 conditions.

25 Q All right. I'm not trying to get into where he had

1 his driver's license or those kinds of things. I'm just
2 asking generally when you would see him --

3 A And I --

4 Q -- where you understood that he was living.

5 A That was -- I know that he was at times in Nevada,
6 at times in California. But where his residence was as far as
7 legalities or whatever it is, I don't know.

8 Q And now, how many times did you actually invest with
9 Mr. Rodriguez?

10 A Henry's deals were, you know, I was -- his deals
11 were -- and I don't mean to be rude, were just things that,
12 you know, if he wanted some investor on a quick deal or 13 something then I would in -- you know, I would invest with 14 him. You know, and there were, you know, little amounts. I
15 don't even remember how much. I mean, maybe I'm a poor
16 business man, but you know, a friend walks in and says he 17 needs something I normally would just give it to him, without 18 paper. And I would get in trouble with my wife about that,
19 but that's the way it is.

20 Q Yeah, but what I'm trying to find out is how many 21 times did you invest with him? Not how many different times?

22 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I know that I spoke very briefly
23 about [indiscernible] **01:37:57.

24 THE COURT: Maybe so, but I think Counsel is entitled to 25 explore this area.

1 MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor.

2 BY MR. WARD:

3 Q Here's the question, and before we ask any further
4 -- what I'm trying to find out, sir, is not how much money did
5 you invest. I'm trying to find out how many times --
6 approximately how many times you invested in Mr. Rodriguez's
7 real estate investments.

8 A I wish I could give you an honest answer. I can't
9 tell you. I could say ten, in my own heart know that maybe it
10 was 15 or 20, or maybe -- you know, but I know it was quite a 11 few.

12 Q Okay. And when you invested in properties would you 13 actually go out and look at those properties or would you just 14 rely on Mr. Rodriguez?

15 A I didn't look at all of them because I trusted him.

16 Q You looked at some of them?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Would it be fair to say that you did not have 19 information about Mr. Rodriguez's financing?

20 A Financing as --

21 Q Finances.

22 A I know, but in regards to a specific plan or if he 23 had a dollar or a million dollars?

24 Q Right.

25 A No. I really didn't care. I liked him. And my

1 theory, as dumb as it may sound, was I've loaned out a lot of
2 money to a lot of people and not got anything back. I've 3 always got back what I gave Henry.

4 Q Oh --

5 A But I don't care if I get my money back. When I
6 loan money, it's gone. And that way I'm not going to be upset
7 about it, if I don't get it back.

8 Q I'm concerned there might -- maybe some
9 misinterpretation. So let me try to explain, sir.

10 I'm not questioning whether you loaned him any money
11 or why or anything like that. What I'm asking about is that 12 you were asked on direct examination about his financial 13 condition. About -- and you testified that you thought he was 14 probably financially sound. He lived in a nice house,
15 et cetera, et cetera, et cetera.

16 The reason I'm asking this question is I have a lot
17 of close friends. I don't know anything at all about how much
18 money they have. I don't ask them how much money do you make?
19 I don't ask them how much they have in the bank. And I'm just 20 trying to find out if that's the same with you, that you
21 didn't ask Mr. Rodriguez how much money he had in the bank.
22 You didn't have any personal knowledge about his finances.
23 When you answered that you thought he was financially secure
24 essentially what you're saying is he lived in a nice house.
25 And you figured that was okay. Is that right?

1           A     Well, in my own mind I felt that he was financially
2     stable.

3           Q     Sure.

4           A     And based on our conversations that varied from one
5     thing to another, I didn't feel that I had to ask a lot of 6     personal questions.

7           Q     Right. And so you never asked to look in his 8     checking account.

9           A     Never.

10          Q     And you never asked to look in savings account. And 11     you never asked him how much he paid for his house. And you
12     never asked him how many stocks he owned.

13          A     I don't know if I didn't ask how much he paid for 14     his house, but I didn't ask any of those other questions.

15          Q     Okay. Well let me take out how much he paid for his 16     house. What I'm asking, sir, is you didn't try to stick your 17     nose into his financial business. Did you?

18          A     Well, I only stuck my nose into maybe asking the 19     questions of how much are you paying for the house. What's it
20     going to take to get it fixed up? And you know, what's the 21     profits going to be out of it.

22          Q     Right, but --

23          A     And --

24          Q     I'm sorry.

25          A     That would be about all I would ask.

1 Q Right. And that all relates to the purchase of an
2 investment house. Right?

3 A Yeah.

4 Q Right.

5 A Of course.

6 Q What I was saying is you didn't ask about his
7 personal financial information.

8 A No.

9 Q Right. And you don't have any solid opinions about
10 his personal financial information. Isn't that true?

11 A I just -- I didn't feel that I had to ask.

12 Q I didn't think you would. But that's why I'm 13 asking. Now, do you know when Mr. Rodriguez sold his last 14 house?

15 A I don't. No.

16 Q Let me ask you this, if you found out that the last
17 house that Mr. Rodriguez sold was approximately nine to ten
18 months before this accident occurred, would you have any 19 knowledge about that?

20 A Well he didn't tell me everything he did.

21 Q Right. So you wouldn't have any knowledge as to why
22 he wasn't buying houses for nine to ten months before this
23 accident occurred. Isn't that true?

24 A Yeah. I don't know.

25 MR. WARD: Thank you. No further questions.

1 MONDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 2010 AT 9:11 A.M.

2 [Designation of record begins at 9:11 a.m.]

3 THE MARSHAL: Please come to order. Department 10 is now
4 in session, the Honorable Jessie Walsh presiding.

5 MR. WARD: Good morning, Your Honor.

6 MR. BAKER: Good morning, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Good morning. Please be seated. Okay.

8 We're back on record. Looks like everybody is here. And our 9 next witness is.

10 MR. BAKER: Is Dr. Russell Shah, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Is Dr. Shah?

12 MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Dr. Shah, would you please stand and raise
14 your right hand to be sworn by Madame Clerk?

15 DR. RUSSELL SHAH, PLAINTIFF'S WITNESS, SWORN

16 THE CLERK: Please be seated, stating your full name,
17 spelling your last name for the record.

18 THE WITNESS: Sure. Russell Jayendra Shah,
19 R-U-S-S-E-L-L. My middle name is, well, Jay. And the last 20 name is Shah, S-H-A-H.

21 DIRECT EXAMINATION

22 BY MR. BAKER:

23 Q Doctor, good morning. How are you feeling?

24 A Good.

25 Q How's your foot?

1 A Much better, thank you.

2 Q It's my understanding you have a ripped Achilles
3 tendon?

4 A That's right.

5 Q At any time you feel like you need to -- I don't 6 know if you want to stretch a ripped Achilles tendon. But if 7 you need to move or get comfortable, please just ask the 8 Judge.

9 A I'll be okay. Thank you.

10 THE COURT: Ouch. I would say so. Just let us know if 11 you need a break, sir.

12 THE WITNESS: Sure, absolutely. Absolutely.

13 BY MR. BAKER:

14 Q Doctor, would you quickly -- well, not so quickly,
15 would you take the Judge through your education?

16 A Sure. I'm sorry. I'm a neurologist practicing here
17 in Las Vegas. I went to Long Beach State University, and then 18 I went down to the Caribbean in the mid-1990s, down at the 19 American University of the Caribbean. Then I went to do some 20 research for about a year, and that was in Chicago. Then I
21 went to Northwestern University of Evanston Hospital, and I
22 decided to become a psychiatrist.

23 And then in the middle of that, I met a neurology --
24 a neurologist and Nick Vick [phonetic]. And he inspired me,
25 and I became a neurologist. And instead of switching from

1 Northwestern, I went to Rush University, which is a great
2 program in neurology.

3 And then after three years of neurology residency, I
4 decided to do a fellowship, and I did in electro- -- clinical
5 neurophysiology, which is actually EMG's and epilepsy.

6 So I did my fellowship there, and then I did a
7 couple months in critical care neurology at UCLA, because I'm 8 from Los Angeles and I wanted to come back. And my wife was 9 practicing there.

10 Q What type of doctor is your wife?

11 A She's a nephrologist. She's was actually a year
12 ahead of me. So she already had a job a Santa Monica UCLA.
13 And then, after about a year in the first group, which was 14 private practice neurology and neuro rehab, which was part of 15 UCLA -- it was a brain injury rehab unit at Daniel Freeman at 16 Englewood, California. That's my first. And I was employed
17 by the group of physicians, and then they somewhat broke 18 apart.

19 And I went into private practice in 2001, just before
20 9/11. And then I got very busy in practice, and I was a 21 hospitalist neurologist for the next six years. And in the 22 meantime, in 2004, I was trying to do my EMG subspecialties.
23 And I started coming into the Las Vegas market in 2004. And I
24 was going back and forth for five years. And I finally closed
25 down my Long Beach office and, completely, I'm out as of a

1 year-and-a-half ago. And my brother is here. He's a
2 cardiologist in town. So I decided to come out here.

3 Q Your parents must be not proud at all.

4 A Yeah, they --

5 Q Your brother is a cardiologist. You're a
6 neurologist, and you're married to a nephrologist.

7 A You should ask my dad. He says: Never educate kids.
8 They never talk to the family. They just keep working, so --
9 so he just wants us to go by a liquor store or something --
10 totally --

11 Q Okay. I'm sorry for interrupting you. I was just 12 impressed.

13 A That's all right. So I'm a full-time practice
14 physician here in the Las Vegas area, right here in Charleston
15 and between Rancho and Valley View. I have my own office, and 16 it's building up and we're excited, and very busy actual
17 practice.

18 Q As part of being a neurologist, do you perform EMG
19 and nerve conduction velocity tests?

20 A Yes, actually, that's my subspecialty. And I've 21 slowed down. I only do about two or three procedures a day
22 now. I used to do quite a few at multiple locations,
23 hospital, you know, just -- but that's actually the bread and 24 butter of neurology. We do nerve and muscle testing.

25 Q And as a neurologist, you're trained and familiar

1 with the care and treatment of RSD, Complex Regional Pain
2 Syndrome, Causalgia, and other neurologically mediated
3 pathologies?

4 A That's correct. Yeah, that's part of the training.
5 Yes, absolutely.

6 Q And you're a treating physician for Enrique
7 Rodriguez?

8 A I have been for quite some time now, since 2006.

9 Q Many years now.

10 A More than four years. That's right.

11 Q And you know Enrique.

12 A I know him very well, yes.

13 Q And you've reviewed other doctor's medical records
14 in terms of your care and treatment of Enrique Rodriguez, is 15 that correct?

16 A I have, yes.

17 MR. BAKER: At this time, Your Honor, I'd like to admit
18 him as a treating physician but also qualify him as an expert
19 in neurology, neurologically mediated diseases, those 20 diagnostic tests to determine neurologic injury and related 21 matters.

22 THE COURT: Any objection, Mr. Ward?

23 MR. WARD: Your Honor, I don't have any objection to his 24 expertise, his qualifications. I don't have any objection to 25 admitting him as an expert as a treating physician. He was

1 not disclosed as an expert in this case. I object to anything
2 that falls under the routine expert disclosure.

3 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, that's the argument that we've
4 been making throughout trial.

5 THE COURT: Right. But, Mr. Ward, your objection is 6 noted for the record.

7 MR. BAKER: And do you want a standing objection or are 8 you more comfortable objecting each time? I mean I'm very 9 happy to stipulate to a standing objection.

10 MR. WARD: I don't care. I just want to make sure I put 11 it on the record.

12 THE COURT: I understand. The objection is noted for the 13 record. The motion is granted.

14 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

15 BY MR. BAKER:

16 Q Now you've been treating Enrique, as you said, for 17 the last several years, is that right?

18 A Yes, since about -- more than four years now.

19 Q And you're aware that before he saw you, he went to 20 see a doctor named Dr. Ferrante in Los Angeles?

21 A Yes, he did.

22 Q And Dr. Ferrante came up with a differential
23 diagnosis of complex regional pain syndrome? Or actually, at
24 that time --

25 MR. WARD: Objection, leading.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1 THE COURT: Sustained.

2 BY MR. BAKER:

3 Q Did Dr. Ferrante come up with any sort of diagnosis
4 on a differential basis?

5 A Yes. One of the differentials in his thought was 6 that the patient had symptoms consistent with RSD, which is 7 Reflex Sympathetic Dystrophy.

8 Q He sent him out to a Dr. Miller?

9 A Yes, he did.

10 Q Did Dr. Miller perform an examination?

11 A Yes, he did.

12 Q Can you explain to the Court what Dr. Miller's 13 findings were?

14 A Sure. Dr. Miller actually had made the diagnosis of 15 complex regional pain syndrome based on criteria. There are 16 six criteria. The patient, at that time, had five of the six
17 criteria. With regard to the left knee, Dr. Miller said that 18 the skin was glossy. There was swelling with edema. There
19 was decreased hair loss. There was hypersensitivity to touch,
20 and also that there was cold sensitivity to temperature.

21 So there are -- complex regional pain syndrome has 22 different ways of diagnosing the --

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A -- disorder, because there is no lab test they can
25 just draw. It's a clinical diagnosis. So he actually

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 examined the patient. He hit the criteria. When I saw him,
2 he actually looked like he had that also, except he was
3 missing one other criteria, but he had already been treated.
4 So I had seen him just a few months later. But he still
5 looked like, right away, wow, this looks really bad. So --

6 Q Now this is a clinical diagnosis by Dr. Miller?

7 A It is a clinical diagnosis, yes.

8 Q And just for the record, at that time, did Henry
9 evidence allodynia, which is everything causes you pain?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And hyperesthesia, which is pain unrelated or 12 greater than the trauma?

13 A Absolutely.

14 Q Skin changes, is that correct?

15 A That's right. He had skin changes too.

16 Q Were there hair changes as well, hair pattern
17 changes at that time?

18 A Right, there was hair loss.

19 Q And a difference in temperature, is that correct?

20 A Right. He had cold sensitivity, right.

21 Q And Dr. Schifini spoke to us about the temperatures
22 because it's sympathetically mediated disease, RSD?

23 A That's right. One of the components of RSD is the 24 sympathetically mediated. That's right. There are other
25 components too.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 Q The Judge understands, but we still need to make a
2 record.

3 A Sure.

4 Q Would you go through and explain what the 5 sympathetically mediated component observed by Dr. Miller was?

6 A Right. So the sympathetic would be when a person
7 has hyper- -- the sympathetic nervous system is the fight or 8 flight reaction of your body. And you get -- you'll see the 9 adrenaline pump on your heart. You'll see a person diffusely
10 sweating.

11 Q Dry mouth?

12 A I'm sorry?

13 Q Dry mouth?

14 A Dry mouth, sweating, but you'll also -- you'll see 15 changes of color and -- to the actual blood vessels. They'll 16 constrict or dilate. The sympathetic nervous system is 17 necessary for pain modulation. So a person, you just even 18 touch the skin, they jump, and they're very upset. You can't 19 even examine the person, and you can't even touch them. And 20 they won't even let anybody touch them. And the vessels, the 21 blood vessels get affected by the sympathetics, because they 22 constantly constrict or -- and or dilate to a degree that 23 doesn't even make sense as to like how you would actually be 24 able to -- you couldn't reproduce that. And it just has to do
25 with the whole nervous system being hyper or over -- just

AVTranz

1 totally disregulated and just constantly firing. That's the
2 worst part of complex regional pain syndrome.

3           When I was trained, it was Reflex Sympathetic
4 Dystrophy. They keep changing the name, so -- because they've 5 tried -- actually, in 1994, they actually -- 1995, mid-1990s,
6 that's when they actually started making all the different
7 categories. So it was very -- even difficult even by program
8 director back in the '90s when trying to define what exactly
9 is complex regional pain syndrome. We just knew it when we 10 saw it.

11           Q     Is it a painful condition?

12           A     I would -- yeah, it's very painful.

13           Q     And does medical literature suggest that the pain is 14 over what you would expect from the mechanism of injury?

15           A     Right. I mean it's basically a person has some 16 underlying pathology, some kind of injury. But you just --
17 you know, you can't even examine it. Like they have a bad
18 joint, you can't even touch it, because they won't let you
19 touch it. It's just so painful to touch it.

20                     Actually, I had one patient -- I'll just tell you.
21 I couldn't -- I had -- he wouldn't let me come within four
22 feet of him. That was at Tri-City Hospital down in Long
23 Beach. And I -- and she -- and it was a post -- it was right
24 after surgery. She had surgery, and then she wouldn't even 25 let me touch her. It was a consultation, and I couldn't even

1 come close to her.

2 MR. WARD: I would object and move to strike examples of
3 other patients unless they directly relate to this patient.

4 THE COURT: On what basis since this is a bench trial?

5 MR. WARD: Because it's irrelevant, and because 6 everything is taking a lot longer, and we're trying to get
7 done. It is the undue consumption of time.

8 THE COURT: Mr. Baker.

9 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, that's not really a basis for an
10 objection, but I'll assume the hat.

11 THE COURT: Overrule the objection for the record.

12 Let's move on.

13 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

14 BY MR. BAKER:

15 Q Now that was a clinical diagnosis, is that right,
16 made in the office?

17 A That's correct.

18 Q And it met the AMA guidelines, or did it not, for a
19 person having Reflex Sympathetic Dystrophy at the time?

20 A I don't know if there was an AMA guideline, but it
21 met the guidelines.

22 Q Okay.

23 A Yes.

24 Q And do you concur with Dr. Miller's diagnosis of 25 RSD, at least at that time?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1           A     Yeah. I actually -- I wanted the guy to get
2 treated. Yes.

3           Q     Did you agree with that diagnosis when you found
4 that Dr. Miller had come to a diagnosis of RSD?

5           A     Oh, yes, absolutely.

6           Q     Now there's also a matter of diagnostically, in
7 terms of lumbar sympathetic blocks determining the existence
8 of an RSD, is that true?

9           A     One component of RSD. That's correct.

10          Q     Is that the sympathetic component?

11          A     That's correct.

12          Q     Did Dr. Miller perform a lumbar sympathetic block on 13 Enrique Rodriguez?

14          A     Yes, he did.

15          Q     Could you explain to the Judge the procedure and 16 what the results of the procedure were?

17          A     Actually, I can't tell you the procedure or what he
18 exactly does. All I know is he does a procedure that blocks
19 the sympathetic discharges in the low back area, and the 20 patient did well with that.

21          Q     And what does doing well mean in terms of a
22 diagnosis of RSD?

23          A     That means that one of the components of the complex
24 regional pain syndrome, RSD, one of the components of the 25 sympathetic, the pain, the burning sensation, the -- is now

AVTranz

1 alleviated. It's just -- it's a good thing.

2 Q And were there other changes that were noted? Did
3 he have a temperature response to the sympathetic nerve block?

4 A I cannot remember.

5 Q It's already in evidence. It's not important at 6 this point.

7 A That's fine. I can't remember everything. I just 8 remember he had a very good response to that.

9 Q Is there a diagnostic and a therapeutic component to 10 the lumbar sympathetic block?

11 A Diagnostic is if, obviously -- well, all procedures,
12 I mean if it works, it's diagnostic too. I mean that's in any 13 procedure. Therapeutic, of course, it's therapeutic, because 14 the patient is getting better. I mean you're going to do the 15 block on pretty much every -- I mean a lot of people get the 16 block. I mean that's something that we just do.

17 Q So based upon the fact that the block itself is 18 efficacious, did Dr. Miller cement his diagnosis of RSD for 19 lack of a better word?

20 A Yeah. No. I mean everything was very consistent
21 with that diagnosis. I thought -- I agreed with it. I said
22 okay, he's -- we got, you know, at least rid of one component
23 of it. That's good. Now I mean it's all correct.

24 Q When is the first time -- and why don't you grab
25 Exhibit 3 behind you? It's Exhibit Binder 3. Is Bates Stamp

1 Number 80 -- or Bates Stamp Number 76 your first visit?

2 THE COURT: Which exhibit?

3 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry, Your Honor. It's Dr. Shah's
4 records, Exhibit Number 49, Exhibit Book 3.

5 THE COURT: Thank you.

6 MR. BAKER: Bates Stamp Number 76.

7 BY MR. BAKER:

8 Q Is that your first office visit?

9 A That's correct.

10 Q What was your understanding of the mechanism of 11 injury that brought Henry to your office?

12 A Oh. Well, it's basically a history and plus all the 13 other history. But he was at the Palms Casino, and a lady
14 dived to get some kind of things that they were throwing in a
15 football and hit Mr. Rodriguez on the left knee leg area, and 16 he kind of fell backwards onto other people. And at that 17 time, he had excruciating pain. He was in a lot of pain. And 18 he -- the ambulance came and picked him up from the casino,
19 and they took him to the hospital on that day. And he had a
20 whole bunch of different complaints. But I think the 21 overwhelming one was the actual left knee was it looked like
22 it was really bad.

23 And then he went to the emergency room, and they
24 gave him -- he couldn't walk, and they had to give him
25 crutches. So he had really injured his -- it looks like they

1 were focused on the left knee.

2 Q Now you're not an orthopedic knee expert, is that
3 right?

4 A No, I'm not.

5 Q But you do treat patients with RSD arising from the 6 lower extremities?

7 A Yes, I have.

8 Q And would you inform the Judge what the medical 9 literal suggests with respect to the areas of your body which
10 are most likely to develop RSD upon a traumatic event?

11 A I mean I've seen areas on all -- I don't know which 12 areas, but joints get injured quite a bit. And those are the 13 ones I've seen and, of course --

14 Q The extremities?

15 A -- hand. And hands. Yeah, extremities and -- yeah,
16 usually -- yeah, I mean I've seen one full body RSD case.
17 I've seen one RSD of the ears. But by far, it's always joints
18 and the hands.

19 Q And RSD can proliferate through your body?

20 A Yes, it can. It can spread.

21 Q And that's something you want to avoid, is that
22 correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Because you don't want pain through your whole body?

25 A That's correct, yes.

1           Q     Is therapy recognized as the best modality to
2 prevent the proliferation of RSD?

3           A     I don't know if it's -- I mean it's the first line
4 of treatment right away. Everybody -- I don't know if it's
5 the best line, but I -- it responds to a lot of mobili- --
6 immobile -- no. Mobilization means movement and physical
7 therapy. So a lot of therapy is supposed to be done right
8 away, and pain medications should be given to keep the person
9 very flexible. You don't want to immobilize.

10          Q     Do you have an opinion whether Henry currently 11 suffers from a neurologically mediated pain disorder in his 12 left leg?

13          A     The RSD.

14          Q     Well, does he have RSD now?

15          A     Yeah, he has -- he still has complex regional pain
16 syndrome. He still has it. Once you have it, it doesn't go
17 away. What happens is at the beginning, you would try to get
18 him into remission. And if you don't get him into remission
19 within 90 days, then the chance of getting him into remission
20 is extremely poor. That means it just goes away. Basically,
21 the pain goes away. Is he going to get better by himself?
22 And so, you have -- there's a time amount. And right now,
23 he's been having it for way over four years since I've known
24 him. So he basically has to get treatment now for it. He's 25 not going to make remission spontaneously. That's in --

1 Q He --

2 A -- the literature. That's pretty much accepted.

3 Q So is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of
4 medical probability that as we sit here today, Henry suffers
5 from complex regional pain syndrome?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay. Now at a point in time, it was called RSD,
8 and now it's being called complex regional pain syndrome. So
9 could you explain to the Judge what the reason was for that
10 change?

11 A Okay. So there were -- because this is such an 12 unusual devastating kind of process that occurs, and every 13 field of medicine gets into it. Now keep in mind, a 14 neurologist first saw it. And one of the few doctors -- an 15 orthopedic doctor starting seeing it.

16 Pain management started out in the '80s as a
17 subspecialty. So they started dealing with it because there's 18 big -- lots of pain. So you have to understand there's a lot
19 of different fields of medicine looking into this. And at the 20 actual term, just to let you know, is complex regional pain
21 syndrome, because they wanted to just get a broad -- there
22 were so many subtypes and so many different subspecialties in 23 medicine making the same diagnosis with different terminology
24 that they decided let's just call it complex regional pain
25 syndrome. And to make sure everybody is happy, they actually

AVTranz

1 made subtypes of RSD and Causalgia. And they also have a
2 third type now, type three. But they've done that just so
3 that everybody is happy, that we'll have one name for this
4 entire process.

5 And so, if it's complex regional pain syndrome --
6 and he's the symptoms of the classic. So he's got type one,
7 which is complex regional pain syndrome, Type One RSD, which
8 is the subtype, and then there's type two and then there's a
9 type three. And it just has to do with different features of 10 what we find on his clinical exam.

11 Q Are you aware that Dr. Schifini performed a lumbar
12 sympathetic block as well?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And are you aware that there was no reduction in his 15 pain after Dr. Schifini's lumbar sympathetic block?

16 A Yes, I was.

17 Q How was that significant to you with respect to 18 whether or not now we're dealing with an RSD or a complex
19 regional pain syndrome?

20 A Right. He has the complex regional pain syndrome,
21 RSD. It's the same thing. It's just that he -- you know,
22 they -- there procedures of stopping the sympathetic is one
23 component. You like to try to stop that. They've done a good
24 job. There's no more treatment for that. I think the problem
25 lies in there's a whole bunch of tissue information. There's

AVTranz

1 a whole bunch of pathways that get disrupted. Actually,
2 there's like multiple. And there's a whole bunch that they
3 actually don't know about, but there's a hypothesis.

4 But so you want to try to get rid of a sympathetic
5 one, because that's very painful. But I think the classic
6 one, A evidence -- type A evidence is the spinal cord
7 stimulator. That's the one now that he would need. And 8 that's treatment of choice from what's accepted right now.

9 So I mean the sympathetic is good. It's -- you got 10 rid of one, and I think it was a good thing. But I think that 11 he's not going to benefit from that type of treatment modality
12 anymore. You can do as many sympathetic blocks as you want.
13 You're not going to get anymore response out of that. He's 14 still having a lot of pain. You just get the other -- you
15 just get the treatment that he needs.

16 Q And you're aware that Dr. Schifini placed a
17 temporary pain stimulator in Henry?

18 A Yes, I am.

19 Q What was the result of the temporary pain
20 stimulator?

21 A I think he had a 80 to 100 percent relief of 22 reduction of pain. He had 80 percent reduction of pain I
23 believe, and he had -- he was looking at two components.
24 There's the pain reduction, and I think it was 80 or 100
25 percent. And there was another component, and it was 80 or

1 100 percent. One was 100 and one was 80. So it was 2 incredibly good.

3 Q If I --

4 A And that was a good response.

5 Q If I suggested to you that it was 100 percent
6 reduction of pain in the knee, immediate 80 percent reduction
7 in the back --

8 A Right.

9 Q -- but then the back didn't have long-lasting 10 relief, would that be consistent with your review of the 11 records?

12 A Yes, that's -- yeah, that sounds about right. And I
13 remember it was 80 to 100 percent, and I thought hey, this was 14 really good. And obviously, it worked, so that was really
15 good. So I think that was in 2007. I mean they did that a
16 long time ago, and -- yeah.

17 Q And the fact that it worked is consistent with the 18 fact that RSD was the pain causing mechanism?

19 A The -- I mean he has a diagnosis of complex regional 20 pain syndrome, RSD, and the spinal cord stimulator works. And 21 that is the mechanism, and that's why the spinal cord
22 stimulator is working. That's correct.

23 Q Let me tell you why I'm phrasing my questions like
24 this.

25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. Because you're looking at me fine. And the
2 reason is is there's an expert that's going to come into this
3 case that said he does not have a complex regional pain
4 syndrome. And the way you're responding is it's obvious to 5 you that there's a complex regional pain syndrome. How would
6 you respond to a hired expert who came into this case and said
7 he is not suffering from regional pain syndrome?

8 MR. WARD: Objection, it's argumentative.

9 THE COURT: Overruled.

10 BY MR. BAKER:

11 Q Do you understand my question?

12 A I understand the question. I'd be surprised if 13 there was a guy like that that wants to come and tell you
14 that. This was the first thing I saw from four feet, five 15 feet away from this guy. It was obvious he was suffering from 16 RSD. That was my first thought, and I just said oh, my gosh.
17 This is such a mess.

18 And when I saw him on July 2006, I think I -- I was 19 just stunned at how bad this was. I mean this look -- and 20 right away in my mind, I was already thinking he's not going 21 to get better. So I mean you always want to give hope to your
22 patient --

23 Sorry, Mr. Rodriguez.

24 But I always want to give hope to people, because 25 that's what you always do. But I mean he -- you -- he was

1 really swollen up. He was very -- quite symptomatic. So I
2 don't know -- I mean, I know that there's -- I mean, I've been
3 his treating doctor for four years. I've been saying the same
4 thing from the first note. I've always thought -- you know, I
5 think I even wrote down -- I said we need to get a second
6 opinion. We need to try anything, because this is looking 7 really bad.

8 Q Well, let's go to -- now isn't that hope available
9 in the form of a permanent pain --

10 A Spinal cord stimulator. Right, of course.
11 Absolutely. Absolutely.

12 Q That's the hope for him right now?

13 A Right, absolutely. No, I mean he -- I think he -- I
14 think the last -- I mean back in '06, in four months, I was 15 already trying to refer him out. I mean I was his treating 16 doctor. I was referring him out to everywhere just to try to 17 get him taken care of. I mean --

18 Q Okay. Let's go to that first visit.

19 A Yes.

20 Q On that first visit, what did your examination note?

21 A I'm sorry?

22 Q What did your examination note?

23 A Well, I mean I did my own history, examined the 24 patient.

1 MR. BAKER: It is Exhibit 49, volume three, Bates Stamp
2 Number 76.

3 MR. WARD: Okay.

4 THE WITNESS: Right. So on the first day I saw him --
5 and I still remember the first couple of visits with this guy,
6 Mister --

7 BY MR. BAKER:

8 Q Why do you remember it?

9 A You don't get -- you -- it's something that you just 10 feel sorry for when you see a patient with these types of 11 problems, because you know that they're in -- you're -- I've 12 seen some bad situations. I mean it's a pretty bad disease
13 process.

14 So when I saw him -- people have lots of different
15 complaints, but if -- they don't even care about -- yeah, I'm 16 sure he had back pain going down the right leg. He was having 17 neck pain going down to the left shoulder, the right arm. He 18 had developed carpal tunnel, because he was holding the 19 crutches. And to be honest with you, all he was looking at is 20 the left knee. And if I couldn't fix this left knee and the 21 pain in the left knee region, he was never going to get
22 better.

23 Q In your experience, is it unusual for a patient to 24 focus their treatment on the area that's most painful?

25 A Absolutely. And he -- that's -- even I thought -- I

AVTranz

1 said don't worry about everything else. I mean we're going to
2 have to take care of this left knee.

3 Q Well, now that you brought it up, is it typical for 4 doctors to focus their treatment course towards the most
5 painful area that a patient is demonstrating?

6 A Yeah, I think most -- I would 99 percent of all good
7 treating doctors that I've ever met focus on the main issue.
8 You don't start -- you only -- and especially when it's
9 totally overwhelming a patient.

10 Q So you've spoke about -- and did Henry seem totally 11 overwhelmed by pain to you?

12 A Yes, he was.

13 Q Does that affect your mood and disorder -- your 14 mood?

15 A It does.

16 Q And if Henry exhibited memory problems or problems
17 with emotional ability or defensiveness, is that something
18 that you've seen in people with RSD and complex regional pain
19 syndrome?

20 A Yes, it does.

21 Q That behavior wouldn't surprise you?

22 A No. Actually, I expect it, I mean especially with 23 the type of pain you get in RSD. Like I said, it's very 24 common.

25 Q And there's a constellation of medicine that's also

1       been prescribed to Henry to try to deal with this terrible
2       pain, is that fair?

3           A       That's correct. He's been -- yeah, he has been 4       prescribed some medications. And the key here is to get rid
5       of the pain. I mean if we focus on getting rid of the pain,
6       that would really make a difference in the quality of his
7       life.

8           Q       And can those medicines also affect your emotional
9       affect?

10          A       Yes, they can. They all have side effects and they 11       all give you -- a lot of them give irritability and mood
12       swings and just a lot of behavioral issues with these 13       medications.

14          Q       Could it affect his ability to respond -- I don't 15       want to say appropriately -- but to respond in an emotionally
16       non-labile way to questions that are asked of him when he's on 17       the stand. Do you understand my --

18          A       Yeah, I mean these medications really can affect you
19       thinking wise, your behavior. I have seen that with 20       Mr. Rodriguez. I have seen him -- I've actually seen him in 21       my Long Beach office. So I actually saw him even before I
22       closed down. I mean he -- you know, because --

23          Q       You ever see the movie "What About Bob?"

24          A       No, but I'm -- because remember, I'm -- when I was 25       practicing here, I lived out -- actually, when I started

1 seeing him, I actually lived in Long Beach. So I didn't
2 actually live here. And I wanted him to go out. And I
3 actually don't -- I know Dr. Miller and I know -- because I
4 got trained also at UCLA. So I kind of know what's out here
5 in Las Vegas and what's out there.

6 So I was actually saying gosh, you know, this is --
7 I wanted him to come to the doctors -- I was more familiar
8 with the doctors in the Long Beach area. So, obviously, I
9 wanted him to come out and get the best of care, because I
10 want -- you know. So I said Las Vegas is good, but, you know,
11 obviously, there's ten times more people in southern
12 California and there's more specialists. So we -- you know,
13 so I was encouraging him to go, and I was giving him a list of 14 names of all the -- because, you know, if you don't stop this 15 process, it just doesn't get better.

16 Q You're talking about RSD?

17 A Right, complex regional pain syndrome. If you don't 18 stop the process, it just does not get better. And so, you
19 kind of know early on. I mean I've been doing this for a long
20 time, seeing a lot of patients. You just know. Oh, my gosh,
21 this guy, he's going to go into this way and this is the 22 doctors that need to see him right away. And we're going to
23 have to do a lot of therapy, which he did a lot of therapy. I
24 encouraged him to do therapy. I said just keep doing therapy.
25 Keep doing therapy. Don't worry. Max out. Do more therapy.

1 And he did.

2 I mean I kept telling him. I wrote him
3 prescriptions and said just keep doing therapy because just in 4 case there's a way to get better. You know, don't worry about
5 the literature. Let's go out of the literature. Let's just
6 talk about trying to get you in remission. Let's -- you know,
7 it's hope.

8 Q Now you spoke to us a little bit ago, and you said
9 that you treated Henry for his hands, his arms, his neck and 10 his back. Okay.

11 A That's correct. I did assess --

12 Q Let's --

13 A -- him right away, yes.

14 Q Let's kind of categorize, and I think that it will 15 help us put things into perspective, okay?

16 A Sure.

17 Q Now you treated Henry for carpal tunnel syndrome, is
18 that right?

19 A I did.

20 MR. BAKER: And, Your Honor, if I could approach the

1 Honor.

2 THE COURT: Very well.

3 BY MR. BAKER:

4 Q This is a record generated in the course of Henry's
5 treatment in February of '05, about three months after the
6 accident.

7 A Okay.

8 Q There's handwritten notations made on that
9 particular exhibit. Do you see?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And could you read for the Judge, please, what it
12 says right here? Begin with "also."

13 A "Also some numbness in right hand and fingers.
14 Wondering if use of cane aggravates."

15 Q Okay. Is it fair to say that there's medical
16 notations that Henry is suffering from numbness and tingling
17 in his fingers as early as February of '05?

18 A Yes, February 1st, '05. Yeah.

19 Q And he noted himself that he wondered if it was 20 being caused by the cane?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Can using a cane cause numbness and tingling in your
23 fingers?

24 A Yeah, it's actually really common. A lot of people,
25 they actually just put too much pressure on when they're

AVTranz

1 trying to lift themselves up, and they get carpal tunnel.

2 So it's just because he's also gaining weight. He
3 had already gained 70, 80 pounds by the time I saw him. That
4 was on my first day. I was really concerned about that. And
5 he's having a lot of immobility. He's not moving around. His
6 left -- he's already gone through some procedures on his left
7 knee. He's also trying to get out of bed, moving around, just
8 kind of putting pressure. And he's going to have both sides
9 eventually. I mean it's just a obvious thing. If you don't 10 get rid of one problem, you get other problems that just keep 11 coming on.

12 Q Is that a normal cascade?

13 A Yeah, it's actually -- it just -- we call it
14 derivative injuries, just -- if you limp, you get the low back
15 pain and then you get the neck pain. It just keeps
16 progressing. You get depressed, you know. And if you're 17 constantly putting weight to lift yourself help, the hands are 18 not supposed to do that. You get the -- you get just an 19 irritated nerve. That's all carpal tunnel is, just an 20 irritated nerve. And the best thing to stop it is to stop the 21 etiology, the cause of the problem, obviously.

22 In his case, he's got a multitude of problems. In 23 addition to the cane, it's -- could be the weight gain now
24 going on. In addition to that is the -- you know, the 25 swelling in his body from complex. Swelling also causes

1 carpal. So you have to actually address all issues. I
2 started treating him right away. I just gave him wrist
3 splints, which is the first line of treatment. It's actually
4 22 bucks, and a lot of people use it. It's a very common
5 thing. And I explained to him how to use it, and he tried it.
6 Did not work for him. He did not get better. I documented
7 it. And I just said well, you know, it's only your hands, you
8 know. I hate to say that to somebody, but he also gained --
9 remember, it's not the biggest problem he ever had.

10 None of the -- actually, none of the other issues he
11 has is a big issue. It was actually the pain. Everything
12 else is a derivative secondary issue. We've always focused on 13 that. We know that he has other issues. He has pain going
14 down his right leg. He's got -- obviously, he's got a
15 positive EMG for that. He's got a pain going down the right
16 arm. He had a negative EMG for that.

17 So, you know --

18 Q We'll get into that.

19 A Right.

20 Q Let me ask you this question first. Is it your 21 opinion to a reasonable degree of medical probability that the 22 complex regional pain syndrome was caused by the traumatic

4 Q And is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of
5 medical probability that that mechanism you described in using
6 the canes, and changing the canes, and switching to crutches
7 is the cause of that carpal tunnel syndrome?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And that is also, to a reasonable degree of medical 10 probability, caused by the traumatic insult to his knee at the 11 Palms Hotel?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Now let's talk a little bit about the nerve
14 conduction velocity test that you did and the EMG that you
15 did, because -- are those different tests or the same thing?

16 A They're totally different. So --

17 Q Would you start with the EMG, which you said was a
18 normal test?

19 A Of the upper extremities, it was a normal study.
20 That's right.

21 Q Explain just for the record again. She knows. But 22 for the record, what the EMG tests for and what the 23 significance of a normal study is?

24 A Sure, okay. So what I do, all patients get an EMG
25 nerve conduction study. And EMG nerve conduction studies are

1 the goal standard for physiologic testing of nerve and muscle.

2           Okay. So there's two components to all the EMG
3 nerve -- and it doesn't make a difference what you call it,
4 the nerve test or the muscle test, the needle study. You
5 always do both components. We always start off doing the 6 nerve testing on everybody. And the nerve testing is really
7 straightforward. And sometimes technicians will do it, but I
8 did it in his case.

9           Okay. So you'll stimulate by putting some 10 electrodes, and then you'll receive some -- have a receiving
11 electrode. You have a very small electrical stimulation.
12 I'll turn it off to zero at the beginning. Do you feel 13 anything? No. And then I'll just start to increase the 14 stimulation. And you'll get a nice wave response that it has 15 a norm lithology and a certain amplitude and latency, because 16 you're looking at nerves. It's like electrical conduction.
17 And you'll do a whole bunch of those on the right arm and left
18 arm to compare, to see if there's any focal slowing.

19           If there's pressure on the nerve, the transmission
20 of the nerve goes slow, and that's all. And so, in his case,
21 he has slowness right here across the right wrist. So that 22 doesn't necessarily mean that's carpal tunnel syndrome. That 23 just means that he has an abnormality at that level. But on 24 the other side he didn't have a problem. So now you have a
25 slowing. He's got clinical features of it. And so, now you

1 make the clinical diagnosis of carpal tunnel syndrome. So he
2 had what we called I think a mild to moderate carpal tunnel
3 syndrome. And --

4 Q That was a long time ago.

5 A That was a long time ago.

6 Q What happens with continued use of the assisted
7 walking devices?

8 A Right, it progressively worsens over time. Also, in 9 addition, right away, I also gave him wrist splints. He was 10 refractory to treatment. In other words, he did not get 11 better from that treatment. So it's actually easily -- what 12 happens is there's more and more pressure constantly at the 13 wrist. And what ends up happening is the person will 14 eventually not use the right hand. They'll start to use the 15 left hand more often. So 40 percent of the people who have 16 symptomatic carpal tunnel on one side always check the other
17 side, because they'll start to develop it.

18 Also, during surgery, because a lot of people
19 actually just get it release, there's a period of time of six
20 to 12 weeks that you are unable to use the right hand, because 21 they need to -- for the scars and stuff. So what happens is 22 during that time, the vast majority of the asymptomatic side
23 becomes symptomatic. So it's very common to actually have --
24 now we haven't said that for him, but I'm just trying to tell
25 you that when you do the surgery, you have to think nobody can

1 actually use the right hand.

2 So in his case, when that one is immobile, he's
3 going to be using the left hand more. So, you know, it's just 4 something that we see in all the patients.

5 Q Is Henry taking a required carpal tunnel surgery?

6 A Yeah, he's going to have to have carpal tunnel
7 surgery.

8 Q On which arm?

9 A The right hand.

10 Q And is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of
11 medical probability?

12 A Yes, it is.

13 Q Would you inform the Court what the cost of the 14 carpal tunnel surgery will be?

15 A Yeah, 12 to 14,000.

16 MR. WARD: Object.

17 THE COURT: On what basis?

18 MR. WARD: There's no evidence that he's qualified to 19 talk about the cost of carpal tunnel surgery. I don't think
20 he's indicated that he does carpal tunnel surgery.

21 THE COURT: Some clarification.

22 MR. BAKER: Sure.

1           A     All the time.

2           Q     Are you familiar with the cost of carpal tunnel
3 surgery in this community?

4           A     Absolutely.

5           Q     Surgical costs plus the cost of the facility and 6 anesthesia?

7           A     Yes.

8           MR. BAKER: Your Honor, may I ask the question?

9           THE COURT: I think so.

10          BY MR. BAKER:

11           Q     What will the cost of his carpal tunnel surgery on 12 his right hand be?

13           A     Twelve to 14,000, including anesthesia. Usually, a
14 surgical center fee and a basic orthopedic doctor. And this 15 is a basic surgery. So most -- it pretty much is bread and 16 butter. Anybody can do it.

17           Q     Do most people go for physical therapy after carpal
18 tunnel surgery?

19           A     After six weeks, for strengthening, they do
20 occupational therapy. O is above P, so occupational therapy
21 not physical therapy. Yes. And they'll do that for 22 strengthening in the hand, right.

23           Q     And are you familiar with the costs of that in this

25           A     I am, yes.

1 Q And do you frequently refer people for O above P

3 A All the time.

4 Q And what's the cost of that going to be?

5 A Roughly about $1000 to $2000. That's -- usually,
6 that's all they need.

7 Q And are the need and the cost associated with both
8 the surgery and the result in therapy, reasonable,
9 necessarily, and causally related to the subject trauma and 10 the Palms Hotel?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of

14 A Yes.

15 Q Now before we do anything else, let me put your 16 records in. So -- and then we'll talk about more of your

20 care and treatment you rendered to Henry as a result of the 21 injuries he sustained at the Palms Hotel?

22 A That's correct.

12          Q     Now Henry wasn't hit in the neck or the back as far
13 as you know in respect -- in terms of the direct traumatic

15          A     Not that I know of, no. I saw -- there's other --
16 remember, I started seeing him in July '06. I was -- you
17 know, as -- you know, when I looked at Dr. Miller's notes, he 18 has a little different history. You know, he was saying that 19 the -- so there is a little variation of history. He actually 20 says that -- and he saw him earlier than I did. Remember, as 21 a person is seen over time, you always try to go back to the 22 doctors who saw him initially, because they have a better
23 history. There's less time difference.

24                     So Dr. Miller had seen him before. And he has a

1 the patient fell onto a gentleman, he was actually -- they
2 talked about the ambulance and, you know, paramedics coming to
3 take him to the hospital, left knee. But at that time, he
4 also had neck pain. And you know -- so -- but I don't know --
5 so there is a history before my history that does say neck
6 pain. So I -- you know, so I just want to -- but I don't know
7 -- and he also said left shoulder pain too. There was also a
8 mention of left shoulder on a history prior to mine.

9 Q So it would be unfair to say that you're the first
10 doctor that he complained of neck or back pain too?

11 A No, not at all. I'm not the first doctor.
12 Actually, if you look at the time, I'm actually 18 months out
13 from the -- I mean, I saw him in July '06. His injury is on 14 November '04. So you have to kind of look at other doctors
15 who have taken histories before, because people forget what 16 exactly happened. They start to focus on a lot of things.
17 And they've also -- so you have to kind of look at all the 18 doctors and say what exactly happened. You know what I mean?

19 All I know is when I took him, I -- you know, the 20 first day when he comes in, I don't expect -- I'm more
21 focusing -- but he's giving me some history, just giving me an 22 overview of what happened 18 months ago.

23 Q Uh-huh.

24 A You know, so that's -- and, you know, a progression
25 and what we're looking at. That's how I get my history.

1 Q So let's talk about his back.

2 A Okay.

3 Q Okay. Is it your opinion that Henry was
4 experiencing back pain when he saw you on the first visit?

5 A Yes, he was having back pain, and it was going down
6 his right leg.

7 Q And what type of back pain was he experiencing and
8 what did the diagnostic tests show with respect to his lower
9 back?

10 A Okay. So he had low back pain and it was radiating
11 down his right leg. We call it sciatica in -- you know, and 12 so, right away I decided we should -- so the standard of care
13 when you have a patient with back pain going down the right
14 leg is you get a simple radiographic film. I like MRIs. So
15 he already had an MRI of the low back. It doesn't show a 16 tumor. And then you basically do a nerve and muscle test to 17 see how much pressure onto the nerve root.

18 The nerve root, if you irritate the nerve root on the 19 outside of the nerve rate -- nerve root, you'll get shooting
20 pain --

21 Q Before you go into it -- I'm sorry.

22 A Yes.

23 Q Are there two components of the nerve roots, one
24 being basically the skin and one being the core?

25 A Right. So on the anatomy of the low back, the root

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 -- they call it like a tree. The root of the nerve grows into
2 branches, and then goes into the end muscles, the muscles like
3 your gastrots and different muscles in your leg.

4 So there's two components to that actual root. On
5 the outside of the root is a protective sensory mechanism. So
6 you -- if you irritate the outside of the nerve root, you get
7 -- people have complained of pain, numbness, tingling,
8 shooting pains, pins and needles. And it goes down their leg,
9 and that's why they're actually there in the office, to 10 actually evaluate.

11 Q But isn't that pain complaint actually a health
12 complaint with respect to if that nerve is still dead or 13 alive?

14 A Right. It's actually irritating the outside of the 15 nerve root, and it's actually a protective mechanism. It's 16 not a healthy complaint, because that's actually the only
17 reason people show up to my office.

18 Q With respect to the health of the nerve root I mean.

19 A Right. The only reason people come is because 20 you're irritating the outside nerve root. In diabetics, they 21 don't actually feel -- they lose that. So you no longer have 22 that protective mechanism. So they don't even know when 23 something is actually touching the nerve root.

24 So the actual core of the nerve root, which we call
25 the axons, A-X-O-N-S, actually grow and they innervate the

AVTranz

11 App. 2082

1 organs, let's say the leg. So when you have axonal damage --
2 and the axons are necessary to keep tone in the muscle. If
3 you actually cut off or damage the axons -- let's say a Polio
4 patient, the virus actually hits the axons. So what happens
5 is you'll see the muscles atrophy. Luckily, they don't have
6 any pain in Polio patients, because the outside of the nerve
7 root is still protected, and that's the pain transmitters.
8 There are no pain transmitters within the axon of the nerve
9 root. The axon nerve root, all it does is grow into the 10 nervation of muscles. There are no pain fibers.

11 Therefore, by definition, a patient would not be 12 able to actually -- the reason you actually do the test is to 13 actually see if there's any axonal nerve damage. The reason
14 is if you see axonal nerve damage, it tells you not only is 15 the pathology touching the outside of the nerve root and 16 irritating it, swelling, irritation, bumping into the outside
17 of the nerve root, causing a transmission of pain, but you're
18 actually putting pressure onto the nerve root and the axons
19 are dying off and denervating those end muscles.

20 And that is -- and what they'll do is they'll become 21 weaker. And of course, that's the indication and that's when 22 we decide okay, this person needs surgery now, because that is 23 actually without symptoms. The person actually doesn't 24 complain of anything, except they actually just become weak in 25 their leg or in their arm. So it is an objective test to see

AVTranz

1 if there's a axonal denervation to the nerve root.

2 Now I have to tell you that most patients don't
3 really care about all that. They just want to know, hey, I
4 have pain. I want to get rid of it. But when I tell them, I
5 say, you know, that's -- pain is technically not an indication
6 from a neurologist to actually have surgery. Only if you have 7 axonal denervation, that's when you're actually supposed to 8 decompress that nerve root to actually have the procedure
9 done.

10 Q Is that because it will lead to atrophy?

11 A Right, atrophy. You'll start to fall down. You'll 12 get a foot drop over time, because you're actually killing --
13 you know. And if you think about it, if you do it long enough
14 and you put pressure onto the nerve, you might actually lose
15 the protective mechanism and you don't actually feel the pain,
16 but they'll start to atrophy. That's because you're actually
17 -- and that's why EMG's are done.

18 Q Important.

19 A That's why they're done. That's the goal standard,
20 yes.

21 Q Now are you aware that at the time that he came to

3 and he was -- you know, he's been limping from all the records
4 I've -- I mean he's been having pain and -- you know, since --
5 all the records I see.

6 Q And so, do you have experience with patients of 7 yours who limp and they use assistive devices, who begin to 8 suffer from lumbar pain?

9 A Right. It's called, yeah, just a derivative injury.
10 And it's just very common. And the longer the injury is to 11 the left knee and when you're walking asymmetrically, it's 12 very bad. They have so many articles about mechanical 13 stability, posture.

14 But basically, your body is very good at keeping
15 yourself upright. The way God made us is we're all upright.
16 But if we constantly have to overcompensate and we have a
17 asymmetric not a symmetric gait, or we're constantly -- then 18 we're going to have secondary issues. The whole spine is 19 going to be compensating, and it's going to cause pain and 20 pressure throughout the entire spine.

21 Q You say you've seen this before. It's very common?

22 A It's very, very common. In fact --

23 Q It's very, very common.

1 seeing orthopedic cases. When you do EMG nerve conduction
2 studies, you have to understand that a lot of people, if you
3 get arthritis patients, you're going to see complications of 4 arthritis. If you're going to see knee injury patients, all
5 you're going to see is complications, derivative injuries of 6 that knee. If you have patients that have epilepsy, you're
7 going to see patients that are very depressed. That's the --
8 that's -- and you have to know that. Otherwise, you can't be 9 a treating doctor. You got to know what's the other
10 complications of any kind of diagnosis.

11 When you have a knee problem, it is extremely common for 12 people to have low back pain. And then the whole --

13 Q Is that why Henry is experiencing low back pain?

14 A Yeah, I think -- that's why he's got a continued low
15 back pain. And it's been going on since four-and-a-half years
16 -- four-and-a-quarter years since I've seen him, and even 17 before that. And he actually had back pain touching off the 18 disc or irritating the disc and putting pressure, and it was 19 going down his right leg, even when I saw him on the first 20 day, on July 11th.

21 Q Is --

22 A And that's why I went ahead and did nerve testing on

1 is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of medical
2 probability?

3 A Absolutely.

4 Q Now I'd like you to go in your Exhibit 49, and 5 please turn, if you would, to page 58.

6 A Yes.

7 Q You're at 58?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Would you go to number four, and tell me as early as 10 11/25/2006 what you thought these postural and mechanical 11 changes with respect to his knee were going to result with 12 respect to his back? Are we looking at the same page?

13 A Oh, yeah. Okay. 11/29/06. You said 11/25.

14 Q I'm sorry.

15 A That just -- yeah. No problem.

16 Q I've been having this problem the whole trial.

17 A Sorry. It's just my mind. Anyhow, number four,
18 spine surgery lumbar eventually after left knee, as his right
19 leg radicular complaints will progressively worsen and as he 20 is not getting his left knee problem solved.

21 Q So is it fair to say you foresaw as much as --

22 A Four years ago.

23 Q -- four years ago almost this month that Henry was 24 going to need back surgery because of his unresolved knee
25 problems?

1           A     Well, that's the day I wrote it. I actually figured
2     that out on the day I did my EMG study, before that. Just to 3     let you know, I just happened to put it on paper on 11/29/06.
4     But on the day I did the EMG needle study, you know, I -- see,
5     what happens is I do my follow-up first, then I do my EMG
6     study on the same day.

7           Then the next visit I go through the data and then I
8     put the -- just -- but around that time. I already -- you
9     know, when I stuck him with the needle in the muscles, you see
10    the denervation. You already know what's going on. You're 11    already figuring out what's going on for him.

12          Q     And it is opinion -- your opinion to a reasonable
13    degree of medical probability that he will require a lumbar
14    surgery due to the trauma he sustained at the Palms Hotel?

15          A     Oh, yes, absolutely.

16          Q     What kind of surgery is he going to need?

17          A     I can't tell you right now. I can't tell you the 18    type.

19          Q     Okay.

20          A     Because I'll tell you the -- there's a couple
21    reasons. On that day, there could be one type. It's been 22    four years. Nothing is -- you know, and you don't do -- you
23    don't -- he has to have -- when they want to decide, they'll 24    have to decide what type of surgery based on his current
25    anatomy, because the last thing you can do -- or the worst

1 thing you can do, and I see it done all the time,
2 unfortunately, in California, they do one level, because they
3 want to go ahead and do a second surgery, which is absolutely
4 insane.

5 Q Are you talking a discectomy or a fusion?

6 A No, I'm actually talking about multiple levels, one
7 level, two level. Because his MRI done before I saw him, on 8 his lumbar spine, shows multilevel discopathies, which means a
9 whole bunch of different disc abnormalities.

10 In itself, one disc could be causing the problem. But 11 when you fix it, you might have to actually stabilize multiple
12 levels. So that's a whole different issue. So --

13 Q Is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of 14 probability that he'll require at least a one-level lumbar
15 fusion?

16 MR. WARD: Object. This patient -- this doctor is not an 17 orthopedist, lack of expertise in this particular area as to 18 what surgical procedures will need to be done.

19 THE COURT: Let's have some foundation, Mr. Baker.

20 BY MR. BAKER:

21 Q Have you seen many, many people with discogenic
22 injuries?

23 A Yes, I have.

24 Q Have you seen many, many people with discogenic
25 injuries with neurological involvement?

1 A Yes, I have.

2 Q And those type of people undergo the type of
3 radiculopathy that you've described in Henry, is that right?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q And you refer these people to orthopedists, is that
6 correct?

7 A Yes, I do.

8 Q And --

9 A Spine surgeons or neurosurgeons, right.

10 Q Or neurosurgeons.

11 A Spine orthopedic and neurosurgeons, right.

12 Q You consult and you communicate with either the 13 spine or the neuro in the scope and course of their treatment,
14 is that right?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q And recommendations are made back and forth with 17 respect to the particular patient?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q And on many, many occasions when you've diagnosed a 20 obvious lumbar radiculopathy, your patient has gone on to have 21 surgery, is that correct?

22 A That's correct.

23 MR. WARD: Object, leading.

1 THE COURT: Sustained.

2 BY MR. BAKER:

3 Q Have you stayed in communication with the doctors
4 with respect to the ongoing treatment of those patients?

5 A Yes, I have.

6 Q And have you been made -- notified of whether or not
7 they've had lumbar surgery with respect to the radicular
8 complaints?

9 A Yes, I have.

10 Q And have you had the opportunity to discuss the 11 surgery with your patients both before and after undergoing a
12 lumbar fusion?

13 A Yes, I have.

14 Q And have you had the opportunity to review bills
15 associated with single and multilevel lumbar fusions?

16 A Yes, I have.

17 Q Okay. And is it your opinion to a reasonable degree
18 of probability that based upon your diagnostic findings and 19 your long experience, and your education and training, that 20 Enrique Rodriguez will require at least a one level lumbar
21 fusion?

22 MR. WARD: I renew my objection. This man is very well
23 qualified as a neurologist. He is not a neurosurgeon. He is 24 not an orthopedic surgeon. He can talk to a lot of people.
25 He was not disclosed as an expert in this case to come in and

1 talk about back surgery. He wasn't disclosed as an expert in 2 this case for anything. And I don't think that this fits the 3 qualifications and the requirements.

4 THE COURT: Any response?

5 MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor. We briefed the Court
6 extensively about both NRS and the common law associated with 7 the scope of a treating physician's ability to comment upon
8 diagnoses, prognoses. And even in the Prabhu v. Levine
9 standard of care, he is not a retained expert. And by virtue
10 of the fact that in case law, Nevada recognizes that he is an 11 expert, and a foundation has been laid with respect to his 12 knowledge, familiarity with both the procedures, the 13 circumstances that the procedures under, and the cost of the 14 procedure, it's respectfully suggested that he should be able
15 to answer the question.

16 THE COURT: Overrule the objection. I think he can 17 answer this particular question, but I don't want him to get
18 too far afield out of his area of expertise.

19 MR. BAKER: I'll keep --

20 THE COURT: The Court is going to hear from other
21 surgeons with respect to this issue though.

22 MR. BAKER: I don't --

23 MR. WARD: May I just add one quick comment for the 24 record, Your Honor? The differentiation here, among other
25 things -- and I understand the Court's objection [sic], and

1 I'm not trying to waste the Court's time renewing this
2 continually. But we've been talking about doctors talking
3 about treatment by other people. We're not in that area at 4 this point. We're talking about a diagnosis in things that he
5 thinks people will recommend not treatment that -- he's not
6 commenting on treatment that's been given. He's talking about
7 what treatment doctors will recommend. That's my difference,
8 Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: I understand the nature of the objection. I
10 think he can answer the question as it was posed.

11 BY MR. BAKER:

12 Q Is it your opinion to reasonable degree of medical
13 probability that he'll require at least a one-level lumbar
14 fusion associated with the injuries he sustained at the Palms
15 Hotel?

16 A I don't want to say one-level lumbar fusion.

17 Q I said at least.

18 A Yeah. It could be a fusion or laminectomy. I can't 19 tell you -- but that's the minimal. That's correct.

20 Q Would they perform a laminectomy without fusing a
21 lumbar intervertebral area?

22 A I can't tell you that. It's beyond my scope. I
23 cannot tell you that.

24 Q That's very fair, and I appreciate that.

25 A Yes.

1 Q Are you familiar with the cost of a laminectomy?

2 A Yes, I know the cost of a basic lumbar surgery. We
3 do that all the time. And the cost is 100 to $120,000.

4 Q Does that include --

5 A That includes the surgeon, the facility fees,
6 hospital fees, anesthesia fees. That is the actual accepted
7 rate in the Las Vegas community.

8 Q And would those charges be reasonable, necessary,
9 and causally related to the injuries Henry sustained as a
10 result -- at the Palms Hotel?

11 A Yes, it is.

12 Q And is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of 13 medical probability?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Let's talk now -- you've described the issues with 16 respect to his back. And I want to understand how the neck
17 pain can be associated with the injuries that Henry sustained
18 at the Palms Hotel in Las Vegas.

19 A Right. So --

20 Q If you'd just tell the Judge.

21 A Right. I think it just has to do with the way the 22 person is walking. They're not symmetric. And it's very 23 common that if you have six months of low back pain you'll 24 start to develop neck pain and cervicogenic headaches. In 25 fact, that's a very common thing we see in our practice all

AVTranz

1 the time. And we just call -- we just basically give them
2 muscle relaxants and tell them listen, if you get rid of the 3 asymmetric walking or the low back pain, you'll get rid of 4 your neck pain and headaches.

5 And so, we call that a derivative injury, and it's -- the 6 literature is up to 70 percent of people who have chronic low
7 back pain more than six months will develop neck pain and neck
8 pain related headaches. So --

9 Q And doesn't the literature also suggest -- and I
10 don't know if we're saying the same thing. But if you look at 11 people complaining of neck pain, 70 percent of those people
12 will also comment and complain of lower back pain?

13 A No, now --

14 Q It's the other way.

15 A It's the other way around. It's the low back pain
16 will give you the neck pain. There are a lot of people that 17 have neck pain, but I don't think -- I can't - it's not 70
18 percent of the people with neck pain develop -- chronic neck
19 pain develop low back pain. I see just probably a very small
20 percentage.

21 Actually, I think in my practice, I -- you know,
22 just -- I would say it's much lower, less than five percent.
23 So that's the other way around. But it's very -- if you have 24 a limp and a walk, you'll see the -- and you have low back
25 pain, actually, I'll automatically even ask now for -- you

AVTranz

1 know, because I'll just assume -- it's just such a common
2 thing -- that do you have any neck pain? Do you have any
3 headaches in the back right here? And they'll -- you know,
4 and a lot of people -- and it'll be -- always be usually a
5 minor complaint compared to the major complaint, obviously.
6 You know, I mean it just fills the paper, you know, but it's
7 not the major complaint.

8 Q Now Henry had the temporary spinal cord stimulator,
9 is that right?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q And do you have an opinion whether he should be 12 afforded a permanent spinal cord stimulator?

13 A I told him for more than two years that I've been 14 waiting for the spinal cord stimulator. I want him to have 15 it. I want this guy to get better. Yes.

16 Q Okay. Do you think it'll work?

17 A I think it would work. I think we need to have it
18 right away. I've been very frustrated.

19 Q We all have.

20 A I have been frustrated.

21 Q Will that spinal cord stimulator cure his back pain?

22 A No, but I mean -- it's not going to cure his back
23 pain, but it's going to make his quality of his left -- he 24 needs to have it done. I mean -- you know, I mean, no, it's 25 not going to get even rid of his walk. He's still going to

1 actually have a limp. But his quality of life is just going
2 to be significantly better. It just gets rid of a pain,
3 believe it or not. It's just a -- technically, a spinal cord
4 stimulator is just a pain -- stops this pain. It doesn't get
5 rid of the actual problem. It doesn't get rid of your knee.
6 It doesn't get rid of your -- the way it looks. You know, it
7 doesn't do any of that stuff. I mean it's just going to 8 basically get rid of the pain.

9 Q So --

10 A And he's still going to have a walking asymmetry.
11 He's still going to have -- you know, hopefully, he'll have 12 the strength that he doesn't have to, you know, use a cane.
13 It's unlikely. It's been so many years now. I mean, you
14 know, but -- you know, I mean you want to just start treating
15 one thing at a time.

16 Q So questions arise from that. One is is he going to 17 have complex regional pain syndrome for the rest of his life?

18 A Yeah, absolutely. That -- the treatment -- he's got 19 it for the rest of his life. I mean he --

20 Q and the second question is he going to require the 21 back surgery that you testified with [sic], regardless of 22 whether he reached -- he receives the permanent pain
23 stimulator?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. Let me put some bills into evidence through

2 about. Would you go into volume one, which is behind you. Go
3 to Exhibit Number 15, which is the Rancho Rehab in California
4 bill. Thank you for explaining to us that you were seeing him
5 in California as well.

6 A Yes.

7 Q The Rancho bill, the testimony in this case has been 8 -- was kind of split into three parts. One was Dr. Nork had 9 referred. The second was Shannon had referred. And the third
10 you had referred.

11 The evidence has been --

13 That's Exhibit 1 -- excuse me. Volume one Exhibit 15 if I'm 14 reading it correctly.

15 THE COURT: Okay, thank you.

16 BY MR. BAKER:

17 Q Okay. The evidence has been and the Court has heard
18 that the total of the bill was $23,323. Of that amount, Dr.
19 Nork's bill, which is in evidence, was 6,783. Shannon's,
20 which is in evidence, is 4,150. And that leaves a remainder 21 of 12,895, which was between 6/3/09 and 11/2/09. And it is 22 Govind Koka referring -- and you were working with Govind Koka
23 to try to get Enrique better. Is that fair to say?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And was the treatment rendered by Rancho between 8 6/3/09 and 11/12/09 reasonable, necessary and causally related
9 to the incident at the Palm?

10 A I don't see the bill of the Rancho -- am I looking
11 at the -- I'm looking at '05, and '06, and '07, and '08. I
12 may have -- I did see a whole bunch. I mean I prepared for

14 Q Yeah.

15 A I just don't see '09 here. It was -- he should be 16 getting therapy. I mean I just don't see the bill in this.

17 Q If the record contains a bill of $12,895 referred to 18 by you and Dr. Koka --

19 A Yes.

20 Q -- would that be reasonable, necessary, and causally
21 related to the accident?

22 A Here's the bill, and the answer is yes. It's always

12 A I'm sorry. Okay.

13 Q So was the care and treatment rendered to Enrique

16 A Yes.

17 Q To a reasonable degree of medical probability?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And was the resulting bill generated through your 20 and Dr. Koka's referral of $12,895 reasonable, necessary, and

2 A To medical probability, yes.

3 Q Thank you.

4 A Yes.

5 Q And if you turn to page 63 of that exhibit.

6 A Yes.

7 Q There's a bill that you can see totals $31,300.

8 A Yes.

9 Q Is that reasonable, necessary, and causally related
10 to the subject accident?

11 A Yes, it is.

12 Q To a reasonable degree of medical probability?

13 A Yes, it is.

14 accident?

15 A Yes, it is.

16 Q To a reasonable degree of probability?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And the bill for that is what?

19 A I have a bill of $7,500 for three uprights.

20 Q And are those bills reasonable, necessary, and
21 causally related to the subject accident?

9 BY MR. BAKER:

10 Q Yeah, if you turn to Exhibit Number 46, please.

11 A Okay.

12 Q There are no medical records. Do you know what this 13 bill is for?

14 A It looks like he did a consultation on 9/2/08. It
15 was a comprehensive consultation. I think he did a x-ray of 16 the low back. Then he also did a follow-up. So he did a
17 consultation and follow-up.

18 Q Is that consult and follow-up, given Enrique's
19 condition, reasonable, necessary, causally related to the 20 subject accident?

21 A Absolutely.

22 Q To a reasonable degree of probability?

23 A Yes.

4 9/16/08. And then on 10/1/08, he signed a bill for $240.

5 Q Were both of those bills reasonable, necessary,

11 A Known as Kelly Hawkins. Yeah, I mean that's 12 different from Valley. Right. Matt Smith, Valley, Kelly
13 Hawkins, all different. They're all competing against each
14 other and have different therapists.

15 Q Was the treatment at Kelly Hawkins reasonable,

4 BY MR. BAKER:

5 Q By the way, I was looking at the date of that. And
6 I believe that you testified earlier that Dr. Miller had seen

9 A Early on, yes.

10 Q Does that --

11 MR. WARD: Object, leading.

12 THE COURT: Sustained.

13 BY MR. BAKER:

14 Q When with respect to the treatment did Dr. Miller --
15 when with respect to your treatment of Enrique did Dr. Miller
16 see him?

17 A I know when I saw him in my Long Beach he was seeing
18 Dr. Miller. And because we even had conversations about him,
19 because Dr. Miller is a very busy pain management doctor, and 20 I was asking -- but I've never met Dr. Miller, but I have 21 shared patients with him in Los Angeles and in Englewood and 22 in Long Beach. So somewhere around 2008 he came to see me in 23 Long Beach, 2007ish.

1 of RSD with respect to this patient?

2 A No, no. Actually, no. It's just the -- when I
3 started seeing him, no. You know, he had to go see a lot of 4 different people, and that's fine. I mean, you know, it's 5 great that he's seen Dr. Miller. It's good that he was 6 already with another pain management doctor before he then
7 came and saw me. And I think I was trying to get other
8 opinions here to actually get him better. So -- and then he 9 moved, I think, to California. So he saw some doctors in 10 California. And I practiced and lived in Long Beach in 2006
11 late. I moved here in 2007. So somewhere around 2006/7.

12 Q Okay. That's fine. It was just, again, for 13 housekeeping.

14 A It is.

15 Q Turn to Exhibit 36. Yesterday, or before the

5 A Oh, I understand. He's a geriatric physician. I
6 know. I know Dr. Koka and Dr. Jorgensen own Advanced Urgent
7 Care at the -- next to St. Rosanna. So --

8 Q Was his treatment --

9 A I don't know who saw him. One of his PA's must have 10 seen him. You know what I mean? Because I don't think they 11 actually see the patients themselves, so --

12 Q Right.

13 A But --

14 Q Is the treatment reasonable, necessary, causally
15 related to the subject incident?

16 A Sure, absolutely.

17 Q To a reasonable degree of probability?

18 A Absolutely.

19 Q And what was the amount of that bill?

20 A One is $74, and the other one is 239. So --

10 Q All right. Doctor, I'm going to ask you two 11 scenarios. And if you could explain this to the Judge as 12 concisely or in as much detail as you'd like. The two
13 questions are going to be, one, what is Enrique Rodriguez's
14 prognosis if he does get the spinal cord stimulator?

15 And the second will be what is his prognosis if he
16 does get the spinal cord stimulator?

17 So if you could start with the first. What do you
18 see in his future if he gets the spinal cord stimulator with 19 respect to his medical care, treatment, and quality of life.

20 A If he gets the spinal cord stimulator?

21 Q First.

22 A Okay. First of all, he needs the spinal cord
23 stimulator. So that's the only option I can think of. He 24 needs that, so he can at least reduce the amount of pain he's 25 having. And if he doesn't have -- I'll just tell you. The

1 only difference -- that makes the difference, the spinal cord
2 stimulator, is that it's not -- he's going to get a treatment
3 that is class one level A supported, which is cost effective,
4 by the way, by the NINDS -- and they actually published it --
5 compared to here, just take more pain morphines, take a
6 morphine pump, take just morphine, which is going to, you
7 know, mess up -- you know, get all the side effects, and you
8 can get anorexia. You can get all these ridiculous side
9 effects with -- more on a pain medication. It is not going to 10 give him full relief. It's not going to change his gait.
11 It's going to change his limp. It's not likely to make 12 anything better from that point of view, because he still has 13 a problem in the left knee region.

14 All it's going to do is reduce the pain. And it is 15 actually the treatment of choice.

16 Q Is there anything else out there?

17 A Well, actually -- okay. There -- that is the 18 treatment of choice, but that may not be the only thing he 19 needs. And you know, and I -- you know, and I've talked to 20 him about it, but a lot of -- you know, in addition to the --
21 you know, the spinal cord stimulator and more therapy, a lot
22 of these patients will end up getting a pain pump that is put 23 in, again, is given intrathecal into the epidural space. And 24 again, it's all published about the benefit of adding the pain
25 pump to your individual's spinal cord stimulator.

1           We never talked about that, because it's just not
2 being talked about. But I have to be honest with you. He's -
3 - and that's why -- and those things are expensive. Let's
4 just -- everybody knows that. So I mean that's -- those are
5 expensive things. So the spinal cord stimulator has been the 6 delay of the century, so on this patient that's the only --
7 and I -- actually, there's a time that I actually did not want
8 to see Mr. Rodriguez anymore. I gave up. I just said I'm not 9 going to see you anymore, because nothing is changing here.
10 There's nothing going on here.

11           And that's a really sad thing to -- for me to say,
12 because -- and that's why I've actually -- you know, and it's
13 really kind of just to watch this guy come in year after year
14 and just like waiting and doing nothing. So, you know, it's
15 really kind of just to watch this guy come in year after year
16 and we're waiting and doing nothing. So it just felt like
17 okay, do therapy, but it's not really the treatment.

18           The real treatment he needs is a spinal cord
19 stimulator. It is actually cost effective. It's been 20 published. It is the correct thing to do. So that's -- from 21 an ethical moral thing, you have to do that. Okay.

22           All right. The --

1 Q He'll continue to have back pains in the way you
2 describe?

3 A Absolutely. He's still going to have the back pain,
4 still going to have a limp. He's still going to have pain
5 going down the right arm. He still may not have strength. Of 6 course, you're going to try him rehabilitation and strength.
7 But you have to understand that all you're doing with the 8 spinal cord stimulator is getting rid of pain, just like the 9 sympathetic nerve block that was done originally and then a
10 second trial by two different pain management doctors. That 11 was getting rid of one component of the pain.

12 But that's done. Now you have to get rid of the 13 second component with the spinal cord stimulator. But even 14 after that, you actually need to get a pain pump in smaller
15 percentage, but not like one percent, not 50 percent.
16 Probably 10 to 20 percent actually get a pain pump actually
17 get a pain pump. So that's why we -- that's not -- you can't 18 just say he's going to get a pain pump after this. I can't 19 say that, because it's less than 50 percent, you know, from -- 20 but if they do add it, that's all been published. That's 21 where he's at right now.

22 And if you don't do that, then, basically, you don't 23 do it. You just give him pain medications. He's still going 24 to need to get all the rest of the stuff done, because he's 25 not going to get better. He's not getting better. It's been

1 four years since I started treating this guy, and he's just
2 not improving. So he's still got the limp. He's still going
3 to have headaches. You know, he -- when he first came to me,
4 he was actually having pain going down the right arm.

5 I -- you know, what is that? I mean he's got an
6 MRI. He's got some disc bulges. He's got sensitization.
7 We're not even putting that in there, because I'm hoping that
8 some of the things that are not crushing the nerves will
9 somehow get better. I don't even know that is true. But I
10 can't say he's going to get worse, because we're still on 11 square one still. I've always been on square one, getting the 12 spinal cord stimulator in this guy, and then we'll see how 13 he's doing.

14 And remember, he's -- I've been pretty much just,
15 you know, seeing if he gets depressed, see if he -- you know,
16 see how his family is. We talk about my kid. My son was 17 sick. So we're talking. You know, he knows about my family.
18 We talk about chronic pain and disabilities in life. And, you
19 know -- and I've -- he's a good patient.

20 Q Is Enrique Rodriguez totally disabled today?

21 A Yeah, he's completely 100 percent -- he's 22 permanently disabled. He's 100 percent disabled. He's on 23 pain medications. He's got a limp. He gets fatigued. I've 24 seen him sweat profusely in my office. He sits there. He's 25 -- a couple times he's been upset at my staff, but I also have

1 a long wait. I've seen his behavior.

2 I actually had people -- you know, you get people who
3 have chronic pain. You know that they can't sit in your
4 office for a long time. You know, sometimes I was running
5 three hours behind two weeks ago. I'll just tell you, I was 6 just like kept apologizing to all my patients. I don't like
7 that. I don't like to do that. And he's actually waited a
8 long period of time. And I actually say to the staff go get
9 him something to drink, do something for him. I've apologized
10 to him when I've been late to him a couple times. You know,
11 just common courtesy. You know what I mean? He's in pain.
12 He can't sit. He's always shifting weight. He's always 13 shifting his weight in my seat. That's really objective.
14 When you see somebody kind of shifting weight when you're in a
15 seat, you kind of know that, you know, you can always blast
16 him with more pain medication, so he doesn't feel the pain,
17 but it's always the discomfort of the spine.

18 Q Is it your opinion that he's totally and permanently
19 disabled to a reasonable degree of medical probability?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And is that as a direct and proximate result of the 22 injuries he sustained at the Palms Hotel?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of
25 probability?

1 A Medical probability, absolutely.

2 Q Doctor, is Enrique Rodriguez going to live the rest
3 of his life in pain?

4 A Hopefully not. I won't say that to him. No, I'm
5 going to give him pain medications. We're going to give him
6 pain medications. He's going to be comfortable.

7 Q Okay. Thank you for your help.

8 A Yes, absolutely.

9 MR. BAKER: I'll pass the witness, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Very well.

11 Ward, what are you doing over there?

12 MR. WARD: I'm trying to -- I'm moving.

13 THE COURT: Okay then.

14 MR. WARD: Your Honor, I'm moving to the podium.

15 THE COURT: Very well. Whenever you're ready, sir.

16 MR. BAKER: Mr. Peak [phonetic] informed me very loudly
17 during a trial, Your Honor, that it's not a podium. It's a
18 lectern. And I looked up lectern. Couldn't find it.

19 MR. WARD: Your Honor, I'm moving to this wooden thing.

20 THE COURT: Okay, no problem, Mr. Ward.

1 Q You are -- you started seeing Mr. Rodriguez when?

2 A On July 11th, 2006.

3 Q And it was apparent to you right away that he had
4 RSD, correct?

5 A I thought about it right away.

6 Q And --

7 A Definitely in my differential, yes.

8 Q Yeah. And in fact, I believe you said that you
9 could tell from four feet away that he had RSD, right?

10 A No, but you could tell in some patients from a long
11 distance. They don't even want to touch you. But from also 12 from looking at him a couple times and kind of looking -- 13 seeing what he's -- how he's moving and what he's doing with 14 the leg, you can actually kind of say oh, my gosh, this is a
15 bad pain syndrome.

16 Q Right, yeah.

17 A Not the actual diagnosis of RSD, because you have to 18 actually look at it and examine it.

19 Q Let me help. My guess is you don't want to still be 20 here on Friday --

21 A On Friday?

22 Q -- testifying from the witness stand.

23 A I'm happy to.

24 Q Okay. Well --

25 A Well, my patients will not like it, because I have

1 patients at 1:00, but --

2 Q What I want to do, doctor, is I want to ask you some
3 questions that I believe you can answer yes or no.

4 A Okay.

5 Q And I'm looking for yes or no answers, because I
6 think I've got a limited amount of time.

7 A Okay.

8 Q Okay. Didn't you testify from the witness stand
9 that you're sitting in right now that you could tell from four 10 feet away that Mr. Rodriguez had RSD?

11 A Did I say that? Then I said that. I'm sure -- you
12 know what I mean -- to actually make a diagnosis, you have to 13 examine the patient, ask questions, take a history, look at 14 the person. But if I said that, sure.

15 Q Right. Yeah, you said --

16 A You know --

17 Q You said his condition was so extreme that you could 18 tell from four feet away that he had RSD, correct?

19 A I guess that's a superlative -- my daughter says
20 that's a superlative statement. I guess -- you know,
21 obviously --

22 Q I'm trying to get yes or no. Isn't that what you
23 said or not? Do you deny having said that or did you say it?

24 A I said that, yes.

25 Q Okay. You said that?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Thank you. And that was the very first time you saw
3 him? Yes or no.

4 A I believe 7/11/06 is the first day I saw him.

5 Q Okay. And that's the day that you made that, you
6 could tell from four feet away that he had RSD, isn't that
7 true?

8 A I thought about it, yeah.

9 Q Okay. Well, are you now questioning whether you
10 could see from four feet away and turning this into you
11 thought about it? Are you changing your testimony?

12 A No. Sometimes you write things and sometimes you
13 don't write things, because you never make a diagnosis on the 14 first day. You know, it's just -- you know, a patient -- you
15 just -- you don't like to actually commit to anything. That's 16 just the way it is in medicine.

17 Q But you remember Mr. Rodriguez, correct?

18 A I do.

19 Q You remember him very well.

20 A I do.

21 Q So you remember even when you don't write things
22 down?

23 A Yeah.

24 Q But it's your practice, isn't it true, to write
25 things down?

1 A Of course, everything is written down, absolutely.

2 Q Correct. In fact, that's the custom and practice in
3 the medical communities to write things down, isn't it?

4 A Absolutely.

5 Q When people do examinations and they find something,
6 they write it down.

7 A Yeah.

8 Q Yes. That's what doctors do.

9 A Absolutely.

10 Q That's what the custom and practice requires that 11 they do.

12 A That's correct.

13 Q Correct?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q And you've looked at other treating physicians in 16 this case, have you not?

17 A Oh, yes, I have.

18 Q And so, one of the things that you were concerned
19 about was what condition did Mr. Rodriguez report right after 20 the injury, isn't that true?

21 A Yeah, I mean you like to get information --

22 Q Yes or no?

23 A -- and find out what -- yeah, of course. I have 24 reviewed --

25 Q I'm asking yes or no.

2 Q Yes, that's true?

3 A Yes.

4 Q You're interesting in seeing what he reports right
5 after the injury?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q And so, you went back and looked at his first
8 treating physician's records.

9 A I looked at some of the treating physician's
10 records.

11 Q Yes or no. Did you go back --

12 MR. BAKER: That's not a yes or no.

13 THE COURT: Let me interject something here, because I'm 14 not sure the witness understands. If the question can be 15 answered in yes or no, do so, sir. If it cannot be answered
16 yes or no, then please tell Mr. Ward that, so he can rephrase
17 his next question.

18 THE WITNESS: Oh, okay.

19 THE COURT: All right. Let's continue on that basis.

20 BY MR. WARD:

21 Q Yeah. Here's my yes or no question. Did you go
22 back and look at the original treating physician? Yes or no.

23 A No.

24 Q No. Did you go back and look at his second treating
25 physician? Yes or no.

1           A     I don't know.

2           Q     Did you go back and look at his first physical
3 therapy notes?

4           A     I may have.

5           Q     You don't know?

6           A     Actually, I don't know if I looked at the first
7 physical -- I don't know.

8           Q     Okay. It would be significant to you if the 9 findings by the original doctor were different from what
10 Mr. Rodriguez told you they were, isn't that true?

11          A     Yeah, it might, absolutely.

12          Q     Okay. So -- but you didn't go back and look at the 13 original treater?

14          A     I don't -- I think he went to the hospital. I don't 15 think I looked at the hospital note. That's the original
16 treater I presume you're talking about. I don't have the 17 hospital note. So the answer is you're right. I don't have 18 the original treater's note. I just know based on what the 19 patient told me and from the other doctors that have seen him.
20 But the answer is I have not seen the original treater's note.

21          Q     Okay. Let me ask you this. Have you ever, at any 22 time, seen anything in the records that seem to you to be
23 inconsistent and not explained them?

24          MR. BAKER: Objection, vague.

6 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, object to the characterization.
7 He wasn't obtained.

8 THE COURT: Very well, sustained.

9 THE WITNESS: Doctor --

10 THE COURT: Ask you to rephrase it.

14 MR. WARD: I didn't -- by the way, I didn't say by a 15 lawyer.

16 MR. BAKER: Okay. Then I'm cool.

17 MR. WARD: I thought, perhaps, he was retained by 18 Mr. Rodriguez. Maybe retained is the wrong word.

19 BY MR. WARD:

20 Q How did Mr. Rodriguez get to see you?

21 A Dr. Govind Koka saw him for a consult.

22 Q Okay. So doctor -- the doctor asked you to examine
23 Mr. Rodriguez.

24 A That's correct.

1 A Yes.

2 Q And so, you saw Mr. Rodriguez for the first time
3 about two years after the accidents?

4 A About 18 months, about a year-and-a-half, yes.

5 Q Okay.

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay. Now you're a -- you specialize in pain
8 management, do you not?

9 A No.

10 Q What do you specialize in?

11 A General neurology.

12 Q Okay. So you don't specialize in pain management?

13 A No.

14 Q Now the -- you have the -- your report from your 15 first examination of Mr. Rodriguez?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And tell me, sir, what is -- tell me, doctor, what 18 is the date of that report?

19 A July 11, 2006.

20 Q And from looking at the exhibits, can you tell me
21 the Bates Number?

22 A Sure, it's volume three. Number 49 is the section,

24 Q So page 76?

25 A 76 is the number on the bottom right.

2 it says date of evaluation 7/11/2006, correct?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q And that is a letter that's written to Dr. Govind
5 Koka, correct?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q And you reported to Dr. Koka that the patient was in 8 intense pain and had sweatiness due to pain, when the 9 paramedics took him to the local hospital and x-rays were 10 done, correct?

11 A Yeah. I mean whatever -- this is coming from the 12 patient, yes.

13 Q Yeah. That's what you wrote down?

14 A That's what I wrote down.

15 Q That's what the patient told you.

16 A That's correct?

17 Q What x-rays? What parts of his body were x-rayed?

18 A I don't know.

19 Q I take it you would expect the doctor at the 20 emergency room to do a thorough examination?

21 A I would expect him to do whatever he is supposed to

3 Q And you don't find -- you have never seen any 4 indication of upper back trapezes and left shoulder pain in
5 the year -- written down in any of the records in the year
6 2004, isn't that true?

7 A No, I haven't looked at any document produced, I
8 think, in the year 2004. So there's --

9 Q So --

10 A -- no way for me to actually -- yeah, absolutely,
11 you're right, I think.

12 Q Okay.

13 A I don't think I've seen a document in 2004. I don't
14 think -- I think I've seen a therapy note, but I can't 15 remember to be honest with you.

16 Q But you've seen lots of records, right?

17 A I have.

18 Q And you could have gone back and looked at those
19 records?

20 A I could have.

21 Q And you haven't?

2 Q Has the patient ever told you that -- anything that
3 you found significant in your treatment of him that you
4 thought didn't make sense in terms of his physical condition,
5 or when symptoms appeared, or anything like that?

6 A That didn't make sense to me or --

7 Q Yeah, to you.

8 A -- didn't make sense?

9 Q To you.

10 A Not that I can recall.

11 Q Anything that was inconsistent that you said gee, I
12 don't understand this?

13 A I mean I don't understand everything, because I'm 14 not an expert in everything. So, you know, I mean -- you
15 know, but I -- no.

16 Q Okay. You're aware that the patient got treatment
17 in the year 2004.

18 A I have, yes.

19 Q And you're aware he didn't get any better?

20 A Since -- yeah, he did not get -- he may have gotten 21 somewhat better, but other things have occurred.

22 Q Okay.

23 A Yes. I mean --

24 Q You were aware that he had treatment in 2005.

25 A Yes.

1 Q And he was largely unresponsive to that as well?

2 A He did not -- that's right. He did not get better
3 form, I think, two arthroscopies. That's right.

4 Q Now when did you next -- oh, let's see. This first
5 examination, you said that -- let's see. Your impression is 6 that left knee strain with two surgeries, correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And lumbar strain with radiculopathy into the right
9 leg, correct?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q And how do you diagnose that?

12 A The first one is based on the patient's history.

13 Q Okay.

14 A Left knee strain, and the two surgeries at least.

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A The strain is actually when you press -- you try to 17 examine that area that's a muscle area. Okay.

18 Q And the patient tells you it hurts.

19 A Right, exactly. It's all subjective. Right.

20 Q Right, so --

21 A It's based on history. Everything is subjective.

22 Q Okay.

23 A The second impression, the lumbar strain
24 radiculopathy means you have a finding on a clinical exam that 25 looks like there's a low back issue.

1 Q Right.

2 A And the patient is complaining of pain going down
3 the right leg.

4 Q Right. So --

5 A So that's just a clinical diagnosis.

6 Q So the second part of that is the patient complains
7 of pain?

8 A The patient complains of pain. And also, you're 9 looking at how they complain. And then you try to do physical 10 findings to see if there is objective -- more objective. And 11 then, of course, that's -- you know, as you assess that 12 symptom that he has.

13 Q And you can't see pain.

14 A I cannot visualize pain.

15 Q No. And the -- you said your impression is 16 bilateral carpal tunnel syndrome, correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And you can't see that either, isn't that true?

19 A In his case, no, I cannot see -- I cannot visualize
20 the syndrome.

21 Q Okay. And you said left shoulder strain, correct?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q And you can't see that either, right?

25 Q Yeah, and --

1 A You exam but --

2 Q And the patient complains of pain.

3 A Well, they don't -- and it's also not just they
4 complain of pain. It's also when you examine, you're also
5 doing palpation, objective tenderness evaluations. You're 6 seeing if they're have an overreaction, under-reaction.

7 Q Can you see tenderness?

8 A Yeah, that's -- tenderness, there's a subjective and
9 an objective component to it.

10 Q Of tenderness?

11 A Yes.

12 Q An objective component of tenderness?

13 A How a person, after you see them, you get trained to 14 examine them. You go ahead and press the muscles, and you see 15 how their reaction is. And you -- and then based on that --
16 like I said, there's a subjective and objective component.
17 You actually make a diagnosis. There's tenderness to this
18 muscle.

19 Q You ever find that the patients learn what these 20 things are about after awhile?

21 A There are a lot of educated patients, yes.

22 Q Right. And they know what to say sometimes, right?

2 A No.

3 Q No. How about his weight gain? What'd he tell you

5 A He told me that he had gained 70 or 80 pounds of 6 weight.

7 Q Right. He told he weighed 200 pounds at the time of 8 the accident, isn't that correct?

9 A You know, I didn't have -- I don't know if I wrote
10 down exact pounds. He gained 70 pounds since the injury, or 11 even more.

12 Q Yeah. He told you that he weighed 275, and at the 13 time of the injury he weighed 200, correct?

14 A Is that what I said later on another document?

15 Q That's what you said at page 9.

18 A 79?

19 Q Bates Stamp 0-9.

20 A Oh, 0-9?

21 THE COURT: It must be a different document. I'm looking
22 at a health insurance counter form, 0-0-9.

23 MR. WARD: I apologize. Maybe I wrote down the wrong

1 MR. WARD: I'm sorry, 19. I apologize.

2 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

3 BY MR. WARD:

4 Q I can't read my own writing. I've got 0-1-9, and
5 I've got the one crowded up against the zero.

6 A Yes, in 2008, October 27, 2008. He is 75 pounds,
7 275 compared to 200, overweight since the injury.

8 Q Okay. And do you think it's accurate that he
9 weighed 200 pounds at the time of the injury?

10 A I wasn't there at the time of the injury.

11 Q Right.

12 A I mean that's what he said he is. He was overweight
13 at the time of the injury. Two hundred is not normal for him.

14 Q Okay.

15 A So he's now really overweight.

16 Q But he told you that he was in good physical 17 condition at the time of this accident, isn't that right? Is 18 that what he told you?

19 A Yeah. He didn't have a knee problem at the time of 20 the injury, and he was in good condition.

21 Q Yeah.

22 A But he's overweight, obviously.

23 Q Yeah. Well, let me advise you that he's -- that the 24 doctor said he weighed 225 pounds at the time of this 25 accident. That would be overweight even more, would it not?

AVTranz

1 A Yeah.

2 Q And what -- and I want you to assume that he's been
3 225 pounds for a number of years before this accident. What
4 effect does that have on the knees? Have any effect on the 5 knees?

6 A How old is he?

7 Q He's about 46 or seven, somewhere in that area?

8 A Well, if -- it might have something to do with the 9 knees. It can affect -- if you're overweight for a long
10 period of time, you can develop big giant bone osteoarthritis.

11 Since I'm quite in the high category of weight right
12 now, I'm quite familiar with that. I don't -- you don't 13 necessarily have to have it. But it also makes it difficult
14 for injuries to get better when you have a trauma. So you
15 always worry about osteoarthritis in people who are 16 overweight. Obviously, there's a big difference between 225
17 and 275, you know. So that's definitely going to cause more
18 big bone arthritis. And you'll see pain in both knees,
19 shoulders, low back, everywhere, maybe, depending --

20 Q Ongoing overweight, is it good for the knees or bad
21 for the knees?

22 A No, it's not good for the knees.

23 Q Okay. How about ongoing overweight, it is good for 24 the back or bad for the back?

25 A Not good for the back.

2 wait. Let me go back here a second. I apologize here. We
3 were back on page 76, is that right?

4 MR. BAKER: Let me see. Was that 7-6?

5 MR. WARD: I think it was 76. I want to go back to where 6 I was.

7 THE WITNESS: That's correct, 76. You're right.

8 BY MR. WARD:

9 Q 76?

10 A 76.

11 Q Thank you. And so, your findings at that time was 12 that he had the items that we just talked about and that had 13 ringing of the ears, is that correct?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q Now when did ringing of the ears show up for the 16 first time in his records?

17 A I can't recall.

18 Q A couple years after the accident?

19 A I can't tell you.

20 Q Okay. Do you specialize in that condition?

21 A I've only seen a thousand people with ringing of the 22 ears, but I don't know if I specialize in it.

23 Q Okay.

24 A I don't consider -- I'm a neurologist, but I treat
25 people with Tinnitus, which is ringing of the ears. I don't

1 specialize in it. I guess a thousand patients, some people
2 might say you could specialize in it. Nobody really does. I
3 mean I know that, because nobody really get better with
4 ringing in the ears. So -- but that's a non-treatable thing
5 anyhow.

6 Q Nobody gets better. Once they've got it, they've 7 got it.

8 A Yeah. Usually, if it doesn't spontaneously go away
9 within six months, it goes -- it's completely gone. You can 10 get it from stress, from a trauma. You can get it from 11 medications, aspirin toxicity.

12 Q Uh-huh.

13 A It makes no difference. A lot of people get it, but 14 you just deal with it.

15 Q Okay. And if you got it from trauma, you get it
16 right away?

17 A No. You could actually get it later on in trauma,
18 or you can get it from medications from the trauma.

19 Q Okay. But from trauma, you can have trauma, and 20 then a couple years from now, you've got ringing of the ears?

21 A I've never seen that. I've only seen it like three 22 months and six months.

1 any better?

2 A No, but you can cope with it. You know, we -- you
3 know, most people just kind of deal with it. It's not -- you
4 know, just -- you know, if you think about it, all those -- if
5 you go down to Indiana and you to those toll booths, cha-
6 ching, cha-ching, cha-ching, pretty much that's the number on
7 work comp injury in all the toll booth operators in Indiana
8 State, if you ever go. They all have ringing of the ears. So
9 they just get used to it. Some of them want to kill
10 themselves. That's a few patients of mine. But most of them
11 deal with it.

12 Q Now isn't it true that in your first examination
13 here, you didn't make any reference to RSD?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q Okay. What's the second date -- date of the second
16 examination?

17 A I don't know if -- do you have 8/9 as my second?

18 Q 8-9, is that the second one?

19 A I thought there was one between, but maybe not. I
20 don't see anything here on the chart.

21 Q Let's go to the 8/9, which appears on Bates Number
22 71.

23 A I have it under Russell Jay Shaw, MD, 00040. It's

4 BY MR. WARD:

5 Q Okay.

6 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

7 BY MR. WARD:

8 Q Now at 71, you have that he has constant left knee
9 pain, correct?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q Okay. And that he complains of lower back pain?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And he complains of cervical pain?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And complains his right hand is numb with all
16 fingers?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And you think this is all related to the accident,
19 isn't that true?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And that's he's anxious all the time?

22 A Yes, he is anxious all the time.

23 Q Okay. And he described to you that he got Tinnitus
24 shortly after the accident, isn't that correct?

25 A He says shortly after the injury. That's right.

2 related, isn't that true?

3 A No, because after -- you know, he's in pain. He's 4 taking medications.

5 Q How long do you consider shortly?

6 A I don't know. Shortly means whatever the patient
7 says, shortly. I don't know what shortly is.

8 Q Two days?

9 A Shortly could be four months. I mean we're talking
10 about a 18 month history.

11 Q I know. I'm --

12 A I have no idea.

13 Q What I'm asking you, doctor, is your opinion that
14 you get -- that you can get Tinnitus from taking medication.
15 How long do you have to take the medication? Are you telling
16 me if I take pills today, that I may have Tinnitus tomorrow
17 from those pills?

18 A You could.

19 Q Okay.

20 A Yes. Or you can wait two years and get it too.

21 Q Has that been your experience that patients get
22 Tinnitus the day after they take something?

23 A I've had a few, yeah, absolutely.

24 Q And it never gets any better?

25 A No. Sometimes they do get better. But, you know,

2 months or three -- if it doesn't spontaneously go away, it's
3 not going to go away.

4 Q Okay. And your opinion was that he developed sleep
5 apnea?

6 A Uh-huh.

7 Q And that was related to the accident, correct?

8 A Waking.

9 Q Well, and you relate the waking to the accident, do
10 you not?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q Okay. So in your opinion, he got sleep apnea from 13 the wake -- from the accident, isn't that right?

14 A Yeah.

15 Q Okay. He ever have sleep apnea before?

16 A He might have.

17 Q Do you know?

18 A No.

19 Q And your impression is pretty much the same as 20 it was last time?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And where -- which number is RSD under impressions?

23 A It's not there.

24 Q Oh, it's not there.

5 A 60.

6 Q And at the beginning, you said that you saw him on 7 8/18/2006 for a follow-up, correct?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q And you listed spinal stenosis lumbar?

10 A Spinal stenosis lumbar.

11 Q I'm looking at page 1 of your report.

12 A Oh, I guess that's what my billers have listed. I
13 didn't list that. They must just check off billing.

14 Q So in the -- when you do a report, the problem list
15 doesn't mean anything?

16 A Yeah, I don't know. Actually, it's this new 17 computer system. He doesn't have a brachial neuritis. I
18 guess we have to educate our biller, so --

19 Q Okay.

20 A Sorry.

21 Q So let's look at impression. You have right lumbar
22 radiculopathy with positive EMG, correct?

7 Q And on page -- Bates page 61, under objective, you

9 A Yeah.

10 Q And under objective, you have antalgic gait.

11 MR. BAKER: Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Yes.

13 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry to interrupt during -- but if we're

18 THE COURT: You'll have a chance to follow up, Mr. Baker.

19 MR. BAKER: Sure.

20 BY MR. WARD:

21 Q You have, under objective -- and objective means
22 what, objective as compared to subjective or objective what

2 Q Okay. So if I do this across the room, what you
3 saying is it's objective that I have a limp?

4 A That's a limp. I would agree.

5 Q Okay. But you don't know whether it's real or 6 whether I'm just doing it?

7 A No, I mean you can't. No, exactly. You're right.

8 Q So it's objective from the standpoint it's something
9 you can see.

10 A Something you can see and it looks the correct way.
11 It's not over exaggerated. It's not under. It looks -- and 12 remember, you're kind of --

18 have to send out to a specialist that does sleep apnea. But 19 obviously, you know, there's so many different types of 20 treatment.

21 Q Doctor, do you have -- can you see page 58, Bates

2 A Yes. I actually said spine surgery lumbar
3 eventually --

4 Q And you --

5 A -- after left knee, right.

6 Q And you made the note that the wrist splints weren't
7 helping, correct?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q And you didn't make any reference to RSD in this
10 report, isn't that true?

11 A Well, I have in the discussion section. But you
12 have to understand that you still look at the left knee. You
13 can't make the diagnosis of RSD unless you absolutely know
14 there's no underlying pathology. That's why I was I was 15 pushing for him to go from Dr. Shannon to a different knee
16 person. And that's why I can't make the diagnosis, because 17 it's not right to make -- all the textbooks, you have to make 18 sure there's no underlying pathology that explain the 19 symptoms.

20 Q So what --

21 A That's why I wanted to get a second opinion. And I
22 did that on my 8/18 note.

23 Q So what you said here, he has seen a specialist in

1 don't have the records. Right.

2 Q Okay. So you make reference to the fact that
3 somebody else noted possible RSD, but you didn't make any
4 reference that you were convinced that -- for well over a year
5 that he'd had RSD, isn't that right?

6 A I have to make sure the left knee joint has got no
7 underlying explainable item that could be causing and 8 mimicking and giving you the type of pain symptoms that he's 9 having. And it has to be done. That's why I, in the last
10 visit, I told him to go get a second opinion from a doctor
11 that he was already treating and they already procedures. I
12 said I want more opinions here.

13 Q But you never said in any of your reports that he

4 Q Okay. And you've looked at all the records in this

6 A That's correct.

7 Q Okay. And why did you look at all the records in 8 the case? Do you customarily, for your patients, look at all
9 of the records from all of their treating doctors?

10 A Sometimes.

11 Q And you did in this case?

12 A I don't think I saw all of them. I didn't see the 13 ER visit. You know, I mean I just -- I look at things that 14 are at hand.

15 Q Okay.

16 A You know, I can't -- this is a very complex case. I
17 mean and when he comes to me, there's also an emotional -- I
18 spend time with him just on an emotional level. You know what 19 I mean? I mean there's a lot of issues here.

20 Q So you looked at all of the records except those

1 right after the accident, isn't that right?

2 A Well, I think it's important, absolutely.

3 Q Right. Right. And so, instead, you relied on what
4 Mr. Rodriguez told you.

5 A Right. Now you know I don't have Dr. Ferrante's
6 notes on this day. When you're saying -- I just started
7 getting Dr. Ferrante's notes now.

8 Q Okay.

9 A I don't actually have any of his notes, even on this
10 day.

11 Q Didn't have his report?

12 A No.

13 Q Okay.

14 A No, I'm actually just treating him here as a patient
15 and trying to figure out who's doing what and why is this guy
16 not getting better, and getting a second opinion. The main
17 person who was treating him at this time was Dr. Shannon from 18 what I'm gathering. And she's done some procedures, and I
19 wanted him to go see another knee person for a second opinion.

20 Q Okay. So you thought that he was seeing 21 Dr. Shannon, and you wanted him to see another knee person.

22 A Absolutely.

23 Q Correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Well, did you ever look at Dr. Shannon's records?

1 A Now -- I don't know. I can't remember.

2 Q Okay. So you don't know if he was seeing some other
3 orthopedist at this period of time, isn't that right?

4 A No. I mean at this time, I'm just talking to my
5 patient, and he's telling me this is what's going on. And I
6 said okay, fine.

7 Q Okay.

8 A I'll let you go see this other guy.

9 Q Okay.

10 A So I gave him names and I said okay, you know. I
11 lived in Los Angeles at this time. So -- and he was coming
12 out to L.A. So I was trying to get him the guys I knew. See,
13 I'm in practice, and I know a lot of guys in Los Angeles,
14 because I'm familiar with those guys. I don't know the guys
15 here.

16 Q Okay. And you referred him to a Dr. Gutierrez, did
17 you not?

18 A I know Dr. Gutierrez. I don't know if I made the 19 referral of his primary, Dr. Koka, did. Maybe I did --

20 Q Okay.

21 A -- because of that right hand.

22 Q Well, let me put it this way. You're aware that he 23 went to see Dr. Gutierrez, correct?

24 A That's correct.

25 Q In fact, you just testified that everything Dr.

2 this accident, isn't that right?

3 A Yeah, his opinions, absolutely.

4 Q And you said all of Dr. Gutierrez's charges and
5 everything were necessary and related to this accident,
6 correct?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q I want to direct your attention to the records of 9 Dr. Gutierrez. And we have it under -- what I want to bring 10 up is FP-0698. We're going to bring it up on the screen and 13 MR. WARD: I'm sorry, what?

2 Q Can you see the document here?

3 A Yeah.

4 Q It's Dr. Rodriguez's records -- or Dr. Gutierrez's
5 records, correct?

6 A Yeah, it looks like -- yes.

7 Q Okay. And you testified that all of his treatment
8 that he did was reasonable and necessary and causally related
9 to this accident?

10 A Yeah.

11 Q Correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And that all of his charges were reasonable and 14 necessary and causally related to this accident?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q Now you wouldn't do that if you didn't know what
17 kind of treatment he did, would you?

18 A That's true.

19 Q Okay. And so, you're eminently familiar with what 20 kind of treatment he gave and what records he has?

21 A Yes.

22 Q So you're familiar with this record?

23 A I can't recall it, but it's there.

24 Q Does it appear to be Dr. Gutierrez's records?

25 A It says encounter note by Robert Gutierrez. That's

1 correct.

2 Q Okay. And you looked at those records. So does
3 this look like when they looked like when you looked at them?

4 A I can't recall.

5 Q Well, can you recall whether everything he did was
6 reasonable and necessary?

7 A Yeah, I think so.

8 Q You can recall that?

9 A He's a good doctor.

10 Q You can -- well --

11 A He's not going to do anything that's not reasonable.

12 Q Well, wait. The question is not whether he's a good
13 doctor. The question is whether all of the treatment that he 14 rendered in this situation was reasonable and necessary and 15 caused by the accident, not whether he was a good doctor.

16 A Yes.

17 Q So you're able to say that?

18 A Yeah.

19 Q And you're able to remember that?

20 A Yeah. I think the patient was fine, then sees the 21 guy with the right hand. He finds a trigger finger or 22 whatever. He's got carpal tunnel.

23 Q Okay.

24 A He should take care of everything.

25 Q Okay. So --

1 A I mean just like everybody else does.

2 Q So you know what he -- so you're familiar with these
3 records?

4 A Yeah. I don't remember this one, but now I'm seeing
5 it. Yes.

6 Q I mean you couldn't offer that opinion without
7 knowing what kind of treatment he gave, could you?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q Okay. So let's take a look here and see. What is 10 the chief complaint here?

11 A Chief complaint -- well, it just says follow-up
12 note. He doesn't really -- he doesn't -- it says here for 13 reexamination of trigger thumb following injection into the 14 tendon sheath.

15 Q Okay. So this note relates to his thumb, isn't that
16 correct?

17 A It goes to trigger thumb following injection to 18 tender sheet [sic]. Yes.

19 Q So it relates to his thumb?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And so, according to this record, the onset date is
22 November 22, 2004, isn't that correct?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q So the suggestion is that the thumb problem started
25 on November 22, 2004?

1           A     Even before that, because he's already had an
2 injection as a follow-up.

3           Q     November 22, 2004 is the date of the accident.

4           A     Okay.

5           Q     So you're suggesting it -- the problem started even 6 before the accident?

7           A     No, I'm suggesting that -- I don't know if this is 8 even a correct date.

9           Q     Well, how do you know then if it's all reasonable
10 and necessary and related to the accident if you don't know
11 whether the problem was before the accident?

12          A     He had right carpal tunnel, and Dr. Gutierrez is a 13 right-hand release person. And of course, when you have 14 carpal tunnel, you have injury of the wrist. You can also 15 have tendons getting tight. And I just think that -- and I --
16 just kind of knowing how reports are generated, I suspect that 17 there's a date error. That's all I'm just saying. I mean I
18 just kind of know in that community. I'm not trying to blame
19 Dr. Gutierrez's notes, because I -- look at my -- how my notes
20 are. I have diagnoses that don't even have diagnoses.

5 THE COURT: Sure.

6 BY MR. WARD:

7 Q And so, now he has -- he recommended an injection,
8 is that correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And the injection was given, and there was no
11 positive response from the patient, isn't that right?

12 A Is that true? I mean is that correct?

13 Q You're the one who's offered the opinion that all of 14 his treatment is reasonable and necessary and relates to the 16 A I don't know if he got better or not.

17 Q Okay. Well, let me read from under the discussion.

3 Q -- from care given that I cannot recommend a write

5 A Okay.

6 Q Does that suggest to you that an injection was given
7 and he didn't respond?

8 A Yes.

9 Q So he was given an injection and he didn't get any 10 better, right?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. So the injection that was given was one that 13 should have made the condition better if, in fact, that was 14 the problem that he had, isn't that true?

15 A If, in fact, it was the condition that he actually
16 had. That's correct.

17 Q Okay.

18 A If that was the correct diagnosis. That's correct.

19 Q And now, let's move down to 701.

20 MR. BAKER: Is that the next page?

21 MR. WARD: Next page, 700, 701.

7 A I'm sorry. Say that again.

8 Q Well, let me read it for you.

9 A What'd he say.

10 Q Do you see where it says discussion?

10 A Not really, but I'm sure he would, maybe sometimes.

11 Q So you don't think he conducts thorough
12 examinations. Is that what you're telling us?

13 A I think his -- he probably has some assistants. He

15 just have assistants.

16 Q So you think when it's in Dr. Gutierrez's records,

15          Q     Okay. So this statement isn't correct, is it?

16          A     No, that's -- that may not be an inaccurate

18 the reason I asked for a second opinion before this, on August
19 18th, '06, was to see if there's any underlying possibility
20 that Dr. Shannon is incorrect about the left knee, because if

1           A     No, I'm -- but he's getting this from the history of
2 the patient.

3           Q     How do you know that?

4           A     Isn't this an evaluation from the patient?

5           Q     Well, I'm just asking you, doctor, what you know.
6 Do you know where he's getting this information?

7           A     No.

8           Q     But the information that's in this report that says
9 Dr. Shah evaluated the patient on September 12th, '06 is 10 incorrect, isn't that right?

11          A     Yeah, I mean I don't see a note in my chart --

12          Q     Right.

13          A     -- on this, saying that I have seen the patient on 14 9/16/06.

15          Q     And his -- and it -- where it says his final
16 diagnosis regarding the knee included the possibility of RSD,
17 that's not correct either, is it? You don't have any reports
18 before the date of this that say final diagnosis is RSD.

19          A     No, but it doesn't say it's based on a report.

20          Q     Well, how --

21          A     I mean I tell my patients things. Patients also 22 tell Mr. Weber. Mr. Weber may have confirmed. I mean I'm 23 talking to the patient, trying to get him better.

24          Q     So you made a final --

25          A     I mean --

1 Q You made a final diagnosis that -- regarding his
2 knee, that he had the possibility of RSD, and you did not put
3 it in your report or in your chart, is that right?

4 A You can't. You don't actually have -- you have to 5 actually rule out that there's underlying pathology to the 6 left knee before you make that diagnosis.

7 You cannot make a diagnosis of RSD unless there's --
8 that is -- that it is the -- on the complex regional pain
9 syndrome, the caveat is you cannot make a diagnosis if there's
10 something going on on the left knee. I'm not a left knee
11 expert. I was hoping there was something in the left knee. I
12 said wait a second. If there's something in the left knee,
13 maybe that's causing the pain generator. That's the reason on 14 my 8/18 note I said go get a second opinion, because if 15 they're telling you there's nothing going on in the left knee,
16 that's a bad thing.

17 Q So --

18 A So I'm going to be telling the patient why it's 19 important that he's compliant, why he's got to go to all these 20 doctors.

21 Q So, in your opinion, it would be inappropriate for a
22 doctor to say that the patient possibly has this?

23 A No, I've been talking to the patient. You know, I
24 mean I talk to my patients.

25 Q I'm not talking about talking to the patient. I'm

1 talking about putting in the report. It would be
2 inappropriate for the doctor to put -- be inappropriate for
3 you to put in your report he possibly has RSD.

4 A Yeah, it would be very bad, because --

5 Q Okay.

6 A -- remember, I don't want to put down RSD, because 7 if I did, it's like telling -- it'll give an open checkbook to 8 a pain management doctor.

9 Q Okay. So you could --

10 A You never do that. That's the wrong thing you could 11 do.

12 Q You couldn't do that. That would be inappropriate.

13 A Right. So that would be probably wrong.

14 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry.

15 BY MR. WARD:

16 Q That would be --

17 A That's correct.

18 Q -- below the standard of care?

19 A Well, it would be a wrong thing, because he's going
20 to doctors outside, and I want them to give independent second
21 opinions.

22 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, is he asking him these questions
23 in his capacity as a neurologist as opposed to a pain
24 management doctor or somebody of a different element? Because 25 I think that that's where -- objection vague as to from who's

1 perspective he is asking him these questions, in terms of
2 which specialization.

3 THE COURT: Mr. Ward.

4 MR. WARD: I'm asking this doctor just from this doctor's
5 experience.

6 MR. BAKER: My question is is his ask --

7 MR. WARD: This is cross-examination. This is not you
8 ask questions about him when he's wearing this hat or you ask
9 questions about him when he's wearing this hat. He's a
10 witness. I'm asking him questions about what he does.

11 MR. BAKER: Well, then lack of foundation, Your Honor,
12 because if you're asking him what he does, you have to ask him
13 from the perspective of neurologist.

14 THE COURT: Overrule the objection. You'll have a chance
15 to reexamine him, Mr. Baker.

16 MR. BAKER: Okay.

17 BY MR. WARD:

18 Q Now let's go to page 5 of the report of 19 Dr. Ferrante, under assessment, the top half. Do you see
20 that?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And he says it is possible that the patient has 23 complex regional pain syndrome, correct?

24 A That's correct.

25 Q Okay. So you think that's bad that he put in it's

1 possible?

2 A No, I think he's actually quite accurate. If you
3 see the second sentence, it states that however, the physical
4 exam is more consistent with a chronic knee pain.

5 Q Well, you said that you can't put in possible.

6 A This is a pain management doctor. I'm a
7 neurologist. There's a difference.

8 Q Ah, I see. I see. Now this doctor examined the 9 patient, did he not?

10 A Yeah, he did.

11 Q And he had an opportunity to look at the hair
12 growth?

13 A I presume he examined him completely, whatever he 14 does.

15 Q It's referred to, isn't it, that the patient told
16 him he had abnormal hair growth?

17 A I don't know what the patient told him. I actually 18 -- I'm sorry. I have to -- the monitor doesn't show me the 19 whole thing.

20 Q Okay.

21 A I can -- we can see what the history shows.

22 Q Okay. Well, let's go up above -- since we're on 23 this page, under assessment -- we have the word assessment.
24 And then up at the top, we have extremities. Do you see that?

25 A Yes.

1 Q The last sentence begins with a word that begins
2 with a letter O.

3 A Ochemosis [phonetic].

4 Q Yeah, what's that?

5 A Some kind of fungus.

6 Q Yeah. That's not RSD, is it, fungus?

7 A No, fungus is not RSD. It's seen in complex
8 regional pain syndrome, but it's not RSD. RSD is Reflex
9 Sympathetic Dystrophy.

10 Q And you don't think fungus is caused by RSD, do you?

11 A It -- like I said, in complex regional pain
12 syndrome, it does say fungus -- people will actually have 13 fungus. But I didn't -- I don't say -- I'm not -- I don't 14 even know why he has fungus. I mean he could have -- there's 15 other causes of fungus. I mean --

16 Q Is he --

17 A It's athlete's foot, right?

18 Q Is it your opinion that the fungus he has in his 19 toenails is caused by RSD?

20 A I have no opinion right now. I can't tell you.

21 Q And after Dr. Ferrante examined him and did all
22 these things, he did not conclude that the patient had RSD, 23 did he?

24 A No, he said it's just -- it's possible. He thought
25 it was a mechanical left knee thing.

1 Q He said it's possible.

2 A Right.

3 Q But he said, however, his physical exam is more
4 consistent with chronic knee pain, correct?

5 A That's right.

6 Q So all of the things that were present that you used
7 to diagnose RSD were also present for Dr. Ferrante, isn't that
8 correct?

9 A Yeah. I mean I presume it's almost the same period
10 of time. I'm seeing him the same time, so --

11 Q Sure.

12 A -- whatever -- you know, I'm doing it from a
13 neurology perspective. He's doing it from a pain management
14 perspective. That's right.

15 Q Well, when you do it, allodynia is allodynia, isn't
16 it?

17 A Allodynia is -- right, is pain.

18 Q Right.

19 A Right.

20 Q Right. Whether you're a neurologist or whether 21 you're a pain management specialist, allodynia is allodynia.

22 A No, no, that's not true. Pain management
23 definitions and their examinations and treatment is totally 24 different from the scope of neurology. Just like reflexes.
25 When I do a two out of four reflex, another person might see a

1 three out of four reflex. Another person might have a
2 hyporeflexia. Totally different training. So that's a very
3 important thing.

4 He's the pain management doctor. He's looking at it
5 from his perspective. And this is his assessment. I'm 6 looking at it from a neurology perspective.

7 Q Isn't allodynia some abnormal pain that's so bad
8 that you can't stand being touched even?

9 A That's correct.

10 Q Okay.

11 A That's correct.

12 Q And that's the definition for a neurologist?

13 A That's a general definition. But the way we 14 interpret it on a clinical exam is totally different.

15 Q Isn't that the definition for a neurologist?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q And isn't that a definition for a pain management
18 specialist?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. And change in toenails is the same thing,
21 whether it's a neurologist or a pain management specialist?

22 A I would think so, yeah.

23 Q Change in hair growth?

24 A Change in hair growth, absolutely.

25 Q Okay. And Dr. Ferrante saw all of those and still

1 didn't conclude that it was RSD, did he?

2 A No, he actually thought it was more the left knee.

3 Q Yeah, more --

4 A He said it's still in the possibility, but he 5 still --

6 Q He said --

7 A He's still thinking on exam, he really believes
8 there could something wrong with the left knee.

9 Q Well, you don't know what he's thinking, do you?

10 A That's what it says.

11 Q You know what he's saying.

12 A Well, same thing. I presume he's writing and 13 thinking the same thing.

14 Q Okay.

15 A Unless, you know, maybe he's not, but --

16 Q Okay.

17 A But he's not really a treating doctor, but --

18 Q And he used the word however, correct?

19 A That's right.

20 Q However, the exam is more consistent with chronic
21 knee pain, correct?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q And says, at that time -- at this time, we do not
24 have sufficient objective information from which to make a
25 definitive diagnosis, isn't that correct?

1 A That's correct.

2 Q And then says if the pain continues or worsens, I
3 suggest that the patient undergo bone scans, correct?

4 A That's right.

5 Q And he recommends some other things, but the very
6 first thing he says are bone scans.

7 A That's right.

8 Q Correct?

9 A That's right.

10 Q And you can't fake bone scans, can you?

11 A I don't think so. I mean --

12 Q No, okay.

13 A -- that's a nuclear test.

14 Q Okay. And so, the patient underwent bone scans,
15 correct?

16 A I think he had a bone scan.

17 Q Right. And the bone scans were completely normal,
18 weren't they?

19 A I don't think it showed anything.

20 Q Right.

21 A But I don't know what it shows.

22 Q Right. So then we have an objective test that 23 doesn't show anything. So we just ignore that, right?

24 A Yeah, but -- yes, we're ignoring that.

25 Q Okay.

1 A Absolutely.

2 Q We just ignore those things that don't fit with our
3 diagnosis.

4 A We're -- we have a clinical diagnosis, and we're
5 doing testing to support or disprove that clinical diagnosis.
6 That's correct.

7 MR. WARD: Your Honor, it's 10 after 12:00. I'm not

10 THE COURT: I say we take a break, Mr. Ward.

11 MR. WARD: Okay.

12 THE COURT: Is 1:15 adequate for lunch for everybody?

13 MR. BAKER: Yeah, more than. I have -- I'm sorry, Your 14 Honor. I have Dr. Schifini coming back at 1:00/1:30 too.

15 THE WITNESS: I also have patients booked continuously
16 now.

17 THE COURT: For this afternoon you mean?

18 THE WITNESS: Oh, yeah. Actually, there's a patient
19 there right now, 11:30, for a history.

20 THE COURT: Oh, boy. So can we bring this witness back
21 another day if we have Dr. Schifini returning?

22 MR. BAKER: We --

23 THE COURT: I mean when can we bring him back?

1 to call Kathleen Hartman [phonetic], his life care planner.
2 I'm not going to call Baker. My fear is that we're not going
3 to be able to get the case done this week. And it's been
4 somewhat of a scheduling --

5 THE COURT: Oh, I kind of speculated about this myself.

6 MR. BAKER: Well, and I --

7 THE COURT: So --

8 MR. BAKER: -- tried to trim it. And if we could get 9 this witness and Dr. Schifini done today, I think we can get 10 it done this week.

11 THE COURT: But I thought this witness said he has 12 patients this --

13 MR. BAKER: He does.

14 THE COURT: -- and Dr. Schifini is apparently planning to 15 be here.

16 MR. BAKER: Yeah. So I guess there's nothing we can do
17 about that.

18 THE COURT: Are you booked all afternoon, doctor?

19 THE WITNESS: Yeah. After 6:00 p.m.

20 THE COURT: After 6:00 p.m.?

21 MR. BAKER: No, the county doesn't like paying overtime.

22 THE WITNESS: Okay. Well, I'm good until 8:00 tomorrow,
23 or 8:30. I'm seeing patients -- I have such a busy practice.
24 I have to be honest with you. I'm booked up to November.

2 THE COURT: Wow. Well, that's a good thing for you
3 you're so busy. But my question is when can you come back so
4 we can conclude the examination?

5 How much, ballpark? Do you have any idea, Mr. Ward?

6 MR. WARD: I would guess another hour.

7 THE COURT: Another hour? Mr. Baker will have some
8 follow-up I imagine.

9 MR. BAKER: Not so much so far.

10 THE COURT: So when can you come back? Do you know
11 offhand? Or will you need to check and let Mr. Baker know?

12 THE WITNESS: I mean I'd like to give at least one day
13 notice to patients. I mean, obviously, that would be always a 14 good thing --

15 THE COURT: Right.

16 MR. WARD: -- to do that. You know what I mean? I can
17 explain to them, call them up personally.

18 THE COURT: Do you have patients booked every afternoon
19 this week?

20 THE WITNESS: Yes.

21 THE COURT: Well, then I'll guess you'll have to 22 coordinate with Counsel.

23 But, Mr. Ward, my question is given the schedule of

2 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor. I understand he's -- I mean,
3 you know, we all like it some other way.

4 THE COURT: I know.

5 MR. WARD: But we can't. And so, of course. Of course,
6 I'm not going to insist that he leave all of his patients
7 sitting. Of course, not.

8 THE COURT: Mr. Baker.

9 MR. BAKER: I'm with you guys.

10 THE COURT: Any thoughts on when we can bring Dr. Shah
11 back?

12 MR. BAKER: Can I talk to someone smarter than me?

13 THE COURT: Sure.

14 MR. BAKER: Monique.

15 Does the clerk keep the same schedule always, the 16 mornings of the -- Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday?

17 THE COURT: Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday are pretty much
18 out of the question. But we can start at 1:00 every day this 19 week if that helps any. And we do have all day Friday.

20 [Pause]

21 MR. BAKER: If the continued cross and redirect take two 22 hours or less, we could move Dr. Shah -- well, but you have 23 patients scheduled you said and you need at least a day to

2 MR. BAKER: Because we were talking about Tuesday at 3 1:00, but today is Monday, right?

4 THE WITNESS: I think Tuesday at 1:00, I can go to the
5 office and start calling people. At least, you know, they're
6 -- I'm booked until 8:00 tomorrow. So it doesn't make a
7 difference. So you just have to tell me, hopefully, a real
8 time estimate. Like, you know --

9 MR. WARD: I have two people that I can't play around.
10 And that is I have a doctor who'll be here at 9:00 on Friday
11 morning.

12 MR. BAKER: So --

13 MR. WARD: I have a witness who's flying in from Japan,
14 who will be here at 4:00 on Thursday.

15 MR. BAKER: And you figure you have another hour on 16 cross?

17 MR. WARD: That's my guess.

18 MR. BAKER: And I will not have an hour on redirect. So
19 Tuesday at 1:00. If we can do it, we can do it.

20 THE WITNESS: I'll make it happen. There's a deposition
21 I have at 1:00 on Tuesday tomorrow, but I'll -- I'm sure I can 22 tell them that --

23 MR. BAKER: That's with Dave Riddle [phonetic]?

25 can cancel that or change it.

Bench Trial

Plaintiff's Witness(es):

Enrique Rodriguez (Continued)..... 3

Defendant's Witness(es):

None

1                   TUESDAY - NOVEMBER 2, 2010 - 3:21 P.M.

2                   [Designation of record begins at 3:21 p.m.]

3                   THE COURT:   Who's the next witness, Mr. Baker?

4                   MR. BAKER:   Enrique Rodriguez on cross-examination.

5                   THE COURT:   Okay, very well.   Please come forward, sir.

6                   THE CLERK:   Has he been previously sworn in?

7                   THE COURT:   Yes, but since it's a new day, you'll have to 8 re-swear him.

9                   THE CLERK:   Okay.

10                  THE COURT:   Sir, please remain standing so we can 11 re-swear you since it's a new day.

12                  ENRIQUE RODRIGUEZ, PLAINTIFF'S WITNESS, SWORN

13                  THE CLERK:   Thank you.   Please be seated.   State your 14 name and spell it for the record, please.

15                  THE WITNESS:   My name is Enrique Rodriguez,
16 E-N-R-I-Q-U-E.   Last name is R-O-D-R-I-G-U-E-Z.

17                  THE COURT:   Thank you.   Whenever you're ready, Mr. Ward.

18                  MR. WARD:   Thank you, Your Honor.

19                                   CROSS-EXAMINATION

20 BY MR. WARD:

21                  Q     Good afternoon, Mr. Rodriguez.

22                  A     Good afternoon.

23                  Q     At the time of the accident, which was November 22,
24 2004, you lived in what town?

25                  A     In Hemet, California.

1 Q Hemet is next to Riverside, near Riverside?

2 A Yes, it is, Riverside County.

3 Q Okay. And then did you move from Hemet? Do you
4 still live in Hemet?

5 A No, I don't.

6 Q Okay. So you moved from Hemet?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Approximately when did you move from Hemet?

9 A I don't recall when. It was a couple of years
10 after.

11 Q Okay. Do you remember what year, 2006, 2007?

12 A No, I don't.

13 Q No? Okay. Where did you move to?

14 A Eventually, I moved out to Las Vegas.

15 Q Okay. So, do you remember what year you moved to 16 Las Vegas?

17 A I don't recall.

18 Q Why did you move to Las Vegas?

19 A I moved to Las Vegas. At that time, I was having a 20 lot of my doctors out here and physical therapy and it was 21 more convenient at that time.

22 Q Okay. Now, in 2005, you came under the treatment of 23 Dr. Shannon?

24 A I believe so, yes.

25 Q Okay. It was Dr. Shannon who performed the surgery

1 on you?

2 A In 2005?

3 Q Uh-huh.

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. Dr. Shannon was here in Las Vegas, correct?

6 A Correct.

7 Q Okay. And your physical therapy was in California
8 at that time?

9 A I don't recall.

10 Q Okay. And so you think that sometime about 2006 you
11 moved to Las Vegas?

12 A I don't recall what year I moved to Las Vegas.

13 Q Okay. Do you still live in Las Vegas?

14 A No.

15 Q When did you move away from Las Vegas?

16 A I'm going to guess about a year-and-a-half ago.

17 Q Okay. So that would be sometime in the year '08?

18 A I believe so, yes.

19 Q Okay. And so did you live in Las Vegas or the Las 20 Vegas area fairly continually from sometime about 2006 until
21 about 2008?

22 A I would believe around there.

23 Q Okay, okay. So, if I just kind of summarize this.
24 At the time of this accident, you lived in Hemet. Sometime,
25 perhaps a couple of years later, you moved to Las Vegas.

1 A Uh-huh.

2 Q And sometime a couple of years after that you moved
3 away from Las Vegas.

4 A Correct.

5 Q So, in '08 when you moved away from Las Vegas, where 6 did you move to?

7 A Back to -- I moved back to -- when we left back in 8 -- when we left from Las Vegas, my -- the place that I was 9 living at, the owner lost his home, so we had to leave.

10 Q Yeah, I'm just trying to find out where that town
11 is.

12 A So, we temporarily went to live with one of my sons
13 up north because we didn't have a place to live.

14 Q What town?

15 A That was up in the Fresno area.

16 Q Okay. So when you moved away from Las Vegas
17 sometime about 2008, you moved generally to the Fresno area?

18 A Temporarily.

19 Q Okay. And about how long did you live in the Fresno
20 area?

21 A Just a couple of weeks.

22 Q Okay. And then where did you move to?

23 A And then we were basically homeless.

24 Q What town were you mostly living in?

25 A I went to the Riverside area.

1 Q Okay. So sometime in about 2008, after you left
2 Fresno, you moved back to the Riverside area?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And have you been pretty much in the Riverside area
5 from that time up until now?

6 A Yes.

7 Q For the last two or three years?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. And so during this period of time that you
10 were living in Hemet for the first couple of years. Hemet for 11 the first couple of years after this accident, you had to come
12 to Las Vegas every time you had a doctor's appointment in Las 13 Vegas, is that correct?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. So every time you saw Dr. Shannon you had to 16 drive over to Las Vegas to see her?

17 A Correct.

18 Q Okay. And so any physical therapy that you had in 19 Las Vegas during that time, you had to drive over to Las Vegas
20 for that?

21 A No, because when I had physical therapy at Rancho
22 Physical Therapy. They had a facility in Hemet.

23 Q Okay. So you were having physical therapy -- when 24 you were living in Hemet, you were having physical therapy in 25 Hemet?

1 A Correct.

2 Q Okay. So, now you moved to Las Vegas sometime in
3 '06. And, Mr. Rodriguez, I'm using '06 for convenience. I
4 know you said you don't know exactly whether it was '06 or
5 wherever, but somewhere about that time, right?

6 A Correct.

7 Q Okay. So, in about '06 you now became pretty much
8 living in Las Vegas?

9 A Okay.

10 Q And so anything that you did in California for 11 purposes of treatment, at that period of time, you had to 12 drive from Las Vegas back to California, is that correct?

13 A Yeah, I did a lot of driving.

14 Q Okay. You did a lot of driving?

15 A Correct.

16 Q Put a lot of miles on the car, right?

17 A Correct.

18 Q Okay. And that was driving back and forth between 19 Las Vegas and California for purposes of treatment?

20 A Correct.

21 Q Okay. And did you ever come to Las Vegas or go back
22 and forth for any reason other than medical treatment?

23 A It was typically medically.

24 Q Okay. But sometimes you'd do it for other things or 25 never for other things?

1 A No, it was typically for medical purposes.

2 Q Okay, okay. And, now, were you able to drive during 3 this period of time?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. So, it wasn't -- your spouse's name is Maria?

6 A Maria, yes.

7 Q It wasn't -- Maria didn't have to do all the 8 driving, correct?

9 A She did most of the driving.

10 Q Okay. But you were able to drive, right?

11 A If necessary, yes.

12 Q Okay. And you told your doctors you were able to 13 drive, right?

14 A Did I tell my doctors?

15 Q Right.

16 A If they asked.

17 Q Right. If they asked, you told them you were able 18 to drive, right?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. And, now, how did you spend your typical day
21 during this period of time? Did you ever have anything you'd 22 consider a typical day?

23 A Not -- what period are we talking about?

24 Q Any -- if you can give me any time between November
25 20, 2004 and today. Just give me a period of time and tell me

1 what your typical day was.

2 A Typical day is being tired, is being frustrated,
3 being sad, not being active, not having a good memory.

4 Q Let me explain what I'm looking for, and I don't
5 mean to --

6 A Okay.

7 Q -- interrupt you. I want you to answer your
8 question if I haven't given you an opportunity to answer it
9 all.

10 A Okay.

11 Q But what I'm looking for is I want you to tell me
12 what you did, what you actually did. I'm not asking about how 13 you felt.

14 A Okay.

15 Q It's about what you did.

16 A Sticking to my physical therapy, making a point to 17 do my physical therapy, to make it in to physical therapy, to 18 keep my body moving, to make that a point of my life, physical 19 therapy. To get up and do physical therapy no matter how I 20 felt.

21 Q Yeah. About how often did you do -- did you go to
22 physical therapy?

23 A I try to do it at least three times a week.

24 Q Okay. So, three times a week. Now, was that every 25 week out of the year? I mean, did you go to physical therapy

1 150 times a year or --

2 A I would say I tried to do it three times a week --

3 Q So you --

4 A -- very religiously.

5 Q So you believed you went to physical therapy 150
6 times a year?

7 A I wouldn't say 150 whatever.

8 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, is that assuming that there are 9 450 days in a year?

10 THE COURT: Well, yeah. Ask your -- rephrase the 11 question, please.

12 MR. WARD: There's 52 weeks in a year, right?

13 MR. BAKER: Fifty-two, 150.

14 MR. WARD: Fifty-two times three is 156.

15 MR. BAKER: I only have ten fingers and ten toes. Your 16 Honor, object to the form.

17 THE COURT: I'll ask you to rephrase, Mr. Ward.

18 MR. WARD: Sure.

19 BY MR. WARD:

20 Q Here's all I'm trying to find out. You said you
21 went to physical therapy about three times a week.

22 A Uh-huh.

23 Q Now -- were you objecting?

24 MR. BAKER: Oh, no. I'm sorry.

25 ///

1 BY MR. WARD:

2 Q Okay. You said you went to physical therapy about
3 three times a week. Now, if you went to physical therapy
4 every week, that would be about 150 times a year. So, what
5 I'm trying to find out is did you go to physical therapy about
6 150 times a year or did you not go every single week? I'm 7 just trying to find out.

8 A Well, there were times that physical therapy was 9 closed or that I couldn't make it because I might have got 10 sick.

11 Q Sure.

12 A But three times a week was my goal.

13 Q Okay. So you think you went to physical therapy
14 more than 100 times a year?

15 A Absolutely.

16 Q Okay.

17 A Yes.

18 Q Okay. And, now, on those days that you didn't go to 19 physical therapy, if you went three times a week, there's four 20 days you're not going, correct?

21 A Uh-huh.

22 Q What'd you do on those four days, your typical day?

23 A Get out of bed. Fortunately, I have a prescribed
24 hospital bed at home that's remote control that lifts me up.
25 So, most of the times when I wake up, it's hard to get out of

1 the bed, so I'm one of the lucky ones that has a bed that
2 helps me get out of bed.

3 And I get out of bed and there's not much that I
4 could do, you know. I can't walk out the front door and go
5 jogging, so everything is limited. There's -- my whole life
6 is limited now. So, whether I get on the computer, watch
7 something on the computer, watch TV, it ain't what it used to
8 be, you know. It ain't as easy as going to watch the kids go
9 play football or because the body just don't feel like it
10 anymore.

11 Q Do you ever use the computer?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And how often do you use the computer?

14 A Not as often as I used to because the -- it's just 15 different than before I was injured.

16 Q Okay, right. What prevents you from using a
17 computer today?

18 A Well, it's not like anything prevents me. It's just 19 maybe the anxiety or the thrill of being the computer or maybe
20 the stuff that's on the computer. It's just maybe the stuff
21 that's on the computer, it's not the same that the excitement
22 it used to bring me, the happiness it used to bring me, so.

23 Q Did you ever look at real estate on the computer?

24 A No.

25 Q No? How about back in 2004? Did you ever look at

1 real estate on the computer?

2 A My life was real estate.

3 Q So, did you look at real estate on the computer?

4 A Absolutely.

5 Q Okay. Did you spend a fair amount of time finding
6 houses on the computer?

7 A I was, whether it was a computer or whether it was
8 the newspaper, I was on top of my game in real estate.

9 Q Okay.

10 A That was my life.

11 Q Right. And now one of the great things about real 12 estate was you didn't have to work very many hours, isn't that
13 right?

14 A For me myself?

15 Q Right.

16 A No, not necessarily.

17 Q I'm not -- I don't understand your answer, so I'm
18 going to ask it differently and see if I can -- are you
19 telling me that you spent a lot of hours doing real estate or 20 you did not spend a lot of hours doing real estate?

21 A For me as an investor, I spent as many hours as I
22 needed to do real estate.

23 Q Right. And how many hours a week typically would 24 that be that you spent doing real estate?

25 A Well, every transaction was different, but there

1 were some that were quicker than others. And being that I was
2 an investor, I would use the escrow department or title
3 company, so they would do a lot of the work that I didn't have 4 to do.

5 Q Right. The escrow or title company would do things
6 so you wouldn't have to do that part of it, right?

7 A Correct.

8 Q And in terms of any time you did any refurbishing of 9 the houses that you purchased, you could have that done by 10 outside people, correct?

11 A Correct.

12 Q You'd hire people?

13 A Correct.

14 Q To do things like painting and cleanup and stuff
15 like that?

16 A Correct.

17 Q Okay. And you could hire people to climb into 18 attics and under the house and do things like that for doing
19 inspections, couldn't you?

20 A Most of the times, I like to take part in doing that
21 myself initially. If I drove through a neighborhood and saw a
22 house, I would like to be part of that, to see what I was 23 looking at.

24 Q Sure. You'd want to be able to actually be there
25 physically and look at the house from the outside?

1 A Correct.

2 Q And you'd actually want to be there physically to
3 look at the house from the inside if there was an opportunity
4 to take a look at it at the inside, correct?

5 A Correct.

6 Q Okay. But you didn't always crawl under the house,
7 did you?

8 A Not if there wasn't a place to crawl into.

9 Q Right. You were -- you've been a big man for quite
10 a while, haven't you?

11 A You can say so, yes.

12 Q Okay. And it's not as easy for big men to crawl
13 under houses as it is for little guys?

14 A I always got the job done that I needed to.

15 Q Right, okay. But you didn't have to crawl under 16 every single house, did you?

17 A Not if there wasn't a place to crawl into, correct.

18 Q Right. And you didn't have to go into the attic of 19 every single house?

20 A I'd like to take a look into attics if it was 21 necessary.

22 Q Sure, which means you could climb up a step ladder
23 and look in the attic with a flashlight?

24 A No, actually at the size that I've always been, I
25 had no problem getting in there.

1 Q Okay. So you'd like to be up there and see what was
2 there?

3 A Absolutely.

4 Q Okay. But you could hire someone else to do that,
5 couldn't you?

6 A If need be, yes.

7 Q Okay. And you'd still be able to see the inside of 8 the house?

9 A If I hired somebody?

10 Q No, if you -- you've been physically able to walk
11 into a house, haven't you, for the last five or six years?

12 A For the last five or six years when I've been 13 injured?

14 Q Uh-huh.

15 A I have been in so much pain, I have problems just 16 walking down a curve. I have problems just driving. I have
17 problems just sleeping. I have problems just putting a sheet
18 over my leg. That question that you just asked me about going
19 into a house and doing this real estate, that is like for me
20 to do, is very, very difficult, if not almost impossible.

21 Q So, it's been almost impossible for you to even walk
22 into a house?

23 A For business purposes, yes.

24 Q Well, is there a difference between ability to walk
25 into a house for business purposes and ability to walk into a

1 house for some other purpose?

2 A Well, when you're doing it as a business and you
3 want to do it correctly, you're dealing with buyers. You're
4 dealing with sellers. You're dealing with contracts. You're
5 dealing with trying to do things right and ethical. I'm not
6 capable of a good phone conversation, to be honest with you.

7 I'll give you an example right now. I just called
8 somebody in California and if it wasn't for Maria there, I'm 9 telling them on the voice message I've been in trial for two 10 days. And then Maria hears the phone conversation. She taps
11 me on the shoulders and says, "No, this is two weeks now."

12 That, to me, is the way sometimes I'm thinking and 13 that's not the way to leave a voice message and it sure ain't
14 the way to run a business. And she had to clear and clarify
15 that and say, "No, you're going on two weeks, on two days."
16 That was just a message that I was leaving a friend on their 17 voicemail. I'm not trying to do that on purpose. If I can't 18 even leave that, that bothers me.

19 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, can we take a break.

20 THE COURT: Do you want a short break?

21 MR. BAKER: Could I just have permission to approach?

22 THE COURT: Sure.

23 [Counsel and Client Confer]

24 MR. BAKER: Is it okay that I'm just talking to him?

25 THE COURT: Sure.

1 [Counsel and Client Confer]

2 MR. WARD: Did you want to take a break?

3 THE WITNESS: No, I'm okay. I'm okay.

4 MR. BAKER: And I didn't speak to him about anything. I
5 know we know. I just --

6 THE COURT: Okay. Is it your desire to continue?

7 THE WITNESS: Yes.

8 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Ward?

9 BY MR. WARD:

10 Q Thank you, Your Honor.

11 A Okay.

12 Q Now, in your business, when you would sell a house,
13 you typically used a real estate broker, did you not?

14 A There were sometimes that I did.

15 Q Well, you said that you're not a licensed real
16 estate broker, isn't that true?

17 A Correct.

18 Q Okay. So, when you sold a house, you typically used
19 a real estate broker, correct?

20 A Sometimes I did.

21 Q Okay. And when you bought a house, there was 22 oftentimes a real estate broker?

23 A Pardon me.

24 Q When you bought a house, there was oftentimes a real
25 estate broker?

1 A Sometimes there were, sometimes there weren't.

2 Q Okay. And when there wasn't a real estate broker,
3 there would be an escrow company?

4 A There would always be an escrow company.

5 Q So in every purchase there was an escrow company and
6 they would do the papers, right?

7 A Correct.

8 Q Paperwork?

9 A Correct.

10 Q Okay. And the escrow company would arrange for 11 things like termite inspections?

12 A Correct.

13 Q And inspection companies to do things?

14 A Correct.

15 Q And if there was work that needed to be done, they 16 would arrange for that to be done?

17 A Correct.

18 Q And sometimes you would arrange for your own work to 19 be done?

20 A Correct.

21 Q Predominantly you were the brains of the outfit,
22 right?

23 A Correct.

24 Q You took courses, did you not?

25 A Correct.

1 Q And you learned how to do this?

2 A Correct.

3 Q Okay. And you learned how to buy houses?

4 A Correct.

5 Q And you learned how to sell them?

6 A Correct.

7 Q And sometimes you would do things like flip houses?

8 A Correct.

9 Q Tell me, sir, what does that mean, to flip a house?

10 A Well, I think that's a term that became popular
11 because of TV. So, it's just a term that I used. TV brought 12 it into the mainstream. It's basically buy a house, fix it
13 up, refurbish it, and then resell it, so it's just kind of a 14 flip.

15 Q Right.

16 A That's basically what it means.

17 Q And sometimes you'd even buy a house and not do
18 anything and sell it, right?

19 A If I was fortunate enough to run into that great
20 opportunity, I think we would all love that.

21 Q Right.

22 A Yes.

23 Q And you did that from time to time?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And you did that because you knew what you were

1 doing?

2 A Not typically because I knew what I was doing. It
3 was just the luck of the opportunity.

4 Q Okay. Okay. But you had to buy it at the right
5 price. You had to know what the right price was to buy it at,
6 didn't you?

7 A That was part of it.

8 Q Because if you bought -- if you paid too much money
9 for it, you'd get burned.

10 A Well, pretty much, yeah, that's correct.

11 Q Okay. And by that, I'm sort of speaking in slang.
12 I don't mean to do that.

13 A Yeah.

14 Q If you paid too much for the house and couldn't sell
15 it for more than you paid for it, it wasn't good?

16 A Yeah, it wouldn't be good for anybody.

17 Q Right, okay. And so you learned pretty much how to 18 avoid doing that?

19 A I tried my best to do my due diligence.

20 Q Correct. And so you would do research and check
21 neighborhoods and find out comparables and all of the kinds of 22 things that went with selling real estate, buying and selling
23 real estate.

24 A Correct.

25 Q Right. And that included doing your research and

1 doing a lot of this stuff on the computer, right?

2 A Correct.

3 Q I mean you didn't spend a lot of time driving up and
4 down the street in front of a house trying to find out about
5 the neighbors, did you?

6 A Everything was incorporated.

7 Q Sure, but what I mean is, sir, having done this for 8 a while, you might drive into the neighborhood to see what the 9 neighborhood looked like, but you wouldn't go up and down
10 trying to figure out what each house on the block was worth?

11 A Everything, you still had to put your research, so
12 yeah.

13 Q Sure, right. And the research would be mostly 14 finding out about other sales, correct?

15 A Correct.

16 Q That's how you find comparables. You find out what 17 houses have sold.

18 A Correct.

19 Q You can't tell that from driving up and down the 20 street because the for sale signs aren't in the yards anymore.

21 A Correct.

22 Q Right? You've got to do it some other way.

23 A Well, I haven't done it in all these years, so I
24 don't know what's really --

25 Q Right.

1 A -- going on in today's market.

2 Q Okay. I understand that you haven't done it
3 recently, but actually nobody's been doing a lot of it
4 recently, isn't that true?

5 A 2004 was the last time I did it, so.

6 Q Right, I understand. But you have some awareness of 7 the real estate market, don't you?

8 A From 2004 to right now?

9 Q Right.

10 A You know, to be honest with you, my mind is not even
11 there, to be honest with you.

12 Q I understand. Here's what I'm looking for. Just 13 tell me this. I believe that in general in the last few years
14 the real estate market hasn't been very good. Is that -- do
15 you have some understanding about that or not?

16 A Well, I guess it would depend on what side of the 17 fence you're on.

18 Q Okay. Okay. Now is there -- when you buy a house
19 that you're going to sell, how would you typically do it?
20 Here's -- let me tell you what I'm looking for.

21 A Okay.

22 Q Because I've never been a real estate investor, so I
23 truly don't know how this is done. But like when you -- when 24 I bought houses before to live in, I go see a house that's got
25 a sign in the front or I look in multiple listings or I do --

1 look in ads in the paper or I do something to see what various
2 houses are and find a house that maybe I want to go look at.
3 Is that how you would buy your houses or would you buy your
4 houses from banks or how would you find out about it?

5 A I think you pretty much explained a great source
6 like that.

7 Q Okay.

8 A Yeah.

9 Q So an investor like you would buy it pretty much
10 like an end-user like me?

11 A Yeah, but there would be other approaches. I can 12 advertise looking for properties or I also could use the 13 internet.

14 Q Uh-huh, uh-huh. And most of the brokers have 15 properties online now?

16 A Now at this time, I don't know, no.

17 Q Well, they've had properties online for a number of 18 years, haven't they?

19 A Well, from 2004 and to now, I'm sure a lot has 20 changed. A lot is different.

21 Q Right. Back in 2004, they had properties online,
22 didn't they?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Okay. So, before your accident you could do
25 research for purchasing properties and finding comparables

1 online?

2 A Correct.

3 Q Okay. And then when you would buy the house, would
4 you have to get a mortgage on the house that you'd buy?

5 A Every property would be different.

6 Q Okay. Sometimes you'd pay cash for the houses?

7 A They would be different.

8 Q Most of the time you'd take out a loan on the house?

9 A Sometimes you can assume a loan.

10 Q Okay.

11 A Like I said, every situation is different.

12 Q And then you would look at the house and decide what
13 you needed to do. And then, if necessary, you would hire
14 somebody to do it?

15 A Correct.

16 Q And then you'd put it on the market to sell?

17 A Typically that's the way it was.

18 Q Okay. And the last house you sold was in February
19 of 2004?

20 A I believe so, yes.

21 Q And that was the house you lived in?

22 A Correct.

23 Q How long had you lived in that house?

24 A I believe I recall six months, four months.

25 Q Four to six months?

1 A I believe.

2 Q So that house was in Hemet?

3 A That was in Hemet.

4 Q Okay. And so and before the four to six months that
5 you lived in that house in Hemet, did you live in another
6 house in Hemet?

7 A I don't recall where I was at before that.

8 Q Okay. Were the houses that you were buying and 9 selling, were these mostly houses that you were living in?

10 A No.

11 Q No? The house in Hemet was kind of unusual?

12 A I would say so, yeah.

13 Q Okay. Generally, you were not living in the houses
14 that you were buying and selling for purposes of your real
15 estate investment?

16 A Correct.

17 Q Okay. And so the house that you lived in before
18 Hemet, did you own that or did you rent that or --

19 A I don't recall.

20 Q You don't recall?

21 A No.

22 Q Okay. Thank you, sir.

23 MR. WARD: I don't have any further questions.

24 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

25 THE COURT: Just a moment.

1 THE WITNESS: Oh.

2 THE COURT: I don't know if Mr. Baker has any.

3 THE WITNESS: Oh, I forgot.

4 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

5 MR. BAKER: No questions, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you, sir. You may step down.

7 THE WITNESS: You're welcome. Thank you.

11                    A     I'm Joseph Schifini.

12                    Q     What area do you practice?

13                    A     I'm an anesthesiologist, practicing in pain

21                    A     I was born in California, but moved here when I was 22 two. My parents sort of made me come with them, but -- so I
23 went to school here, got a scholarship to UNLV. I have a

1 Nevada School of Medicine up in Reno. I completed that in
2 four years, and then pursued an anesthesia residency as a
3 requirement. For the anesthesia residency, you have to do a
4 year internship in something. It's usually either internal
5 medicine or surgery. I chose the internal medicine route, did
6 that for a year at UMC here, and then did a three-year
7 anesthesia residency in southern California at UC-Irvine,
8 where I served my last year as chief resident and multiple
9 rotations in pain management. I came back here to Las Vegas
10 to start my private practice, which from the beginning was 11 primarily pain management, in the summer of, like the 90
12 percent range. The other 10, 20 percent is the traditional 13 anesthesiology-type role, where you put patients to sleep.
14 And then, as my sort of employment situation progressed, it
15 became 100 percent pain management, probably about seven or 16 eight years ago. So what I'm doing now is basically looking 17 at diagnoses and treatment of complex painful conditions,
18 oftentimes associated with either the spine or the 19 extremities.

20 Q Does that include neurologically mediated disease?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Does that include diseases, such as causalgia,
23 complex regional pain syndrome and RSD?

24 A Yes.

25 Q All those things are somewhat different, as we'll

2 A They're similar, but there's major differences
3 between them.

4 MR. BAKER: I'm going to have him accepted by this Court
5 as a treating physician, qualified as an expert in the areas
6 of pain management, including neurologically mediated disease
7 and the modalities of which are used to treat those diseases.

8 THE COURT: Any objection?

9 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: So ordered.

11 BY MR. BAKER:

12 Q Now, you've reviewed all the medical records in this 13 case. Is that fair to say?

14 A I have. Yes.

15 Q And you're aware of the manner in which Mr.
16 Rodriguez was injured?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Would you explain to the Court, please, your 19 understanding of this injury?

20 A My understanding of it is that Mr. Rodriguez was at 21 the Palms Casino, watching or observing -- I believe it was a
22 football game, some sort of sporting event on one of the big
23 screen TVs. During the course of these events -- he was more 24 kind of interested in the sporting event -- but during the 25 course of the events, there was a promotional sort of giveaway

1 with one of the Palms girls or something that was occurring,
2 where I've seen a couple different accounts of -- whether or
3 not they were throwing something into the crowd, whether it
4 was a water bottle wrapped with a t-shirt, or some sort of
5 promotional item that was being thrown into the crowd by a
6 girl who was blindfolded and being spun around and she was 7 meant to throw these things out into the crowd. During the --
8 one of the tosses of the items, one of the items was coming
9 towards Mr. Rodriguez and another patron of the casino dove
10 for the item, the promotional item, striking Mr. Rodriguez in 11 the area of his knee. And based on the contact with his knee, 12 he became unstable and fell into the gentleman who was 13 standing next to him.

14 Q And when was the first time that you saw Mr.
15 Rodriguez?

16 A The first consultation was November 26, 2007.

17 Q And I would refer you to a Bates number, but as 18 we've talked about, I've brought the non-Bates stamped
19 documents. However, someone from my office is coming down.
20 And if they get in quick enough, perhaps we can do something
21 about that. And your last visit was November 26th, 2007?

22 A That is correct.

23 Q And are you referring to -- well, that's really
24 strange because mine is Bates stamped.

2 MR. BAKER: I did, Your Honor. Your Honor, can I
3 suggest or ask the Court if we can take three minutes, and if
4 the Court would copy this, this would go much quicker?

5 THE COURT: Sure. Why not?

6 MR. BAKER: Thank you. Do you have an old copier?

7 THE BAILIFF: I have one piece.

8 THE COURT: Pretty good copier, actually.

9 MR. BAKER: Oh, my goodness.

10 THE COURT: Wouldn't get that done in the office
11 copier, but there's a big one out in the hallway.

12 MR. BAKER: Sorry about that.

13 THE COURT: No problem.

14 BY MR. BAKER:

15 Q So what do you want to talk about?

16 A War and peace, I guess.

17 Q Same.

18 THE COURT: This bench witness -- can we Bates stamp

20 MR. WARD: Mine's not Bates stamped.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

1 of the mechanics of the injury; is that correct?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q And he first visited you November 26, 2007; is that
4 correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q But you're aware that prior to seeing you he had 7 seen a variety of other physicians in the Los Angeles area; is
8 that correct?

9 A That's my understanding, yes.

10 Q And is it your understanding he saw Dr. Ferrente
11 [phonetic]?

12 A Yes. Who is Dr. Ferrente, and what area of medicine
13 does he practice?

14 A Dr. Ferrente is the Chairman of the Anesthesia
15 Department at UCLA in southern California. He's a pain --
16 he's a pain management anesthesiologist like I am, but he's 17 actually chairman of the department there. He was at a
18 different school I believe in Texas, prior to that, where he 19 was chairman there and he was recruited to be the department
20 head at UCLA. And he has seen Mr. Rodriguez in relation to 21 this injury.

22 Q And if you would turn to Exhibit Number 25. It's in

24 A Yes.

2 meant 25 of what we have.  Okay.  I'm there.

3           Q     Did Dr. Ferrente do an examination of Mr. Rodriguez?

4           A     Yes.  It appears he did an examination on November
5 14th, 2006.

6           Q     And as Chairman of the Department of Pain Management
7 at UCLA, to your knowledge he studied RSD causal to a complex
8 regional pain syndrome and a variety of neurologically
9 mediated pathologies?

10          A     Yes, that --

11          MR. WARD:  Object; hearsay.

12          THE WITNESS:  Dr. --

13          MR. BAKER:  It's not a statement, Your Honor.

14          THE COURT:  Mr. Ward, what was that?

15          MR. WARD:  Hearsay.  This witness is going to testify as 16 to qualifications.  And presumably he's going to testify as to 17 qualifications and presumably he's going to testify as to 18 findings, and I think it's all hearsay.

19          MR. BAKER:  Your Honor, we dealt with that issue
20 yesterday when I gave you the problem case and the remainder
21 of the cases in yesterday, your ruling was that the doctors
22 were allowed to refer to information that they had reviewed.

23                   He's been qualified as an expert, under the Omastat

2 MR. WARD: And I don't believe the case says that, but I
3 will -- I'm not going to argue it anymore, and I'll simply

5 MR. BAKER: A continuing objection is stipulated to, Your
6 Honor.

7 THE COURT: Very well, noted for the record. Please
8 proceed.

9 BY MR. BAKER:

10 Q If you go to page five of Exhibit 25, would you
11 discuss with the Court what Dr. Ferrente's [phonetic] was of 12 Enrique Rodriguez?

13 A Dr. Ferrente, during that visit, said it is possible
14 that the patient has complex regional pain syndrome, or 15 regional sympathetic dystrophy. However, his physical
16 examination is more consistent with a chronic knee pain of a
17 mechanical nature. Furthermore, we don't have sufficient
18 objective information for which to make a definitive
19 diagnosis.

20 He goes onto say that if the pain continues or 21 worsens, he suggests that the patient undergoes bone scans,
22 lumbar sympathetic blocks, trial of clonidine patches and
23 neurontin, all of which are geared towards dealing with nerve-
24 type pain or neurogenic pain of a nature consistent with 25 complex regional pain syndrome.

1 Q And I believe that the Court's familiar with the
2 syndrome. But would you explain to the Judge, for the record,
3 please, what RSD is? Incidentally, is it true that
4 sympathetic component was discovered by a scientist named Walt
5 Cannon [phonetic], who also happens to be the name of a pretty
6 famous lawyer in Las Vegas?

7 A It is.

8 Q Okay.

9 A Reflex sympathetic dystrophy, or more appropriately
10 termed complex regional pain syndrome is oftentimes discussed
11 in an acronym, RDS or CRPS. The term RSD is a term that seems 12 to have applied during the earlier dysfunction stages of this 13 syndrome, which is not very well understood.

14 It's been a complex syndrome and involves almost 15 some very detailed neurologic pathways and understanding of 16 that. But in a simplistic way, it used to be thought that all
17 pain associated with nerves that didn't go away in a short
18 period of time, or an expected period of time, was to be 19 labeled RSD. If it seemed like nerve pain, it was electrical.
20 It was numbing, it was tingling. If you have hyperesthesia,
21 which means, you know, painful touch of skin, or things like
22 that, it was thought that, you know, you sprain your ankle,
23 you potentially stretch the nerve.

24 We expect that to be better in two to four weeks.
25 But a year and a half later, you're still having pain in that

AVTranz

1 ankle, we do an MRI and there's no obvious finding for a
2 defect in that particular area, oftentimes, the patient was
3 labeled as having RSD or reflex sympathetic dystrophy. The 4 important portion of that word is the S part, where we thought
5 that the sympathetic nerve system was the primary component,
6 that was maintaining that uncomfortable feeling. Well, around
7 the time of 2006, 2007, the diagnosis of this syndrome sort of 8 changed. And there was a lot of discussion as to whether or 9 not you had to have a sympathetic component to have this
10 syndrome.

11 And so, the name changed from RSD or reflex
12 sympathetic dystrophy, to complex regional pain syndrome, type
13 1 and type 2. And they divided it up to whether or not you
14 injured a major nerve or a minor nerve. And that sort of 15 replaced the terms RSD, and then another term called 16 causalgia, which is a term that dates back to one of the early
17 wars, where soldiers injured a femoral nerve or a very large
18 nerve in their body, and they had something called causalgia,
19 due to a nerve injury.

20 So what they discovered, basically, was that the 21 sympathetic component was unnecessary to diagnose a patient
22 with RSD, because they've now changed the name to complex
23 regional pain syndrome, kind of indicating that the pain
24 syndrome isn't only a component of the sympathetic nervous
25 system, although that sort of is the original thought. That

1 can be a component, but it's not an essential component. You
2 don't have to check that box to make that diagnosis.

3           So the idea is that there's nerves in your body that
4 you can feel, sensory nerves. There's motor nerves that allow
5 you to move things. And then, there's autonomic nerves that
6 sort of have the inner workings of your body -- your heart
7 rate and your fingernail growth and your hair growth and 8 things like that, and that somehow, an injury, no matter how 9 minor or major the injury is, if you screw up those nerves or 10 you mix up maybe the sensory nerves with a sympathetic nerve
11 component, when your body is trying to increase the blood flow
12 to your leg, you may sense that as a sensory kind of a
13 component, as a painful condition.

14           And that pain may be there without, really,
15 something stimulating it. It might just be something that 16 your body's doing as a normal finding because you've --
17 instead of having that -- the nerves all lined up correctly,
18 you might kind of screw them up a little bit. So when your 19 body's intending to send one signal, your body's actually 20 recognizing that signal as a painful condition. So in the 21 diagnosis part of it, sympathetic nerves are a component of 22 it, but they're no longer necessary to confirm the diagnosis.

23           Q     And with respect to just one thing you said, the 24 autonomic nervous system can be both sympathetic and the 25 parasympathetic nerve groups?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And this particular is mediated through the
3 sympathetic nervous system?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Which is that flight or fight type of reaction,
6 control --

7 A Yes. It's kind of the stuff you associate with 8 adrenaline or epinephrine or something like that, the response
9 that would increase your blood pressure, increase your heart
10 rate, increase your awareness, dilate your pupils, that sort
11 of thing.

12 Q Would you please turn to page 006? Is the treatment
13 received by Dr. Ferrente reasonable, necessary and possibly 14 sustained in the --

15 A Yes.

16 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of
17 medical probability?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Certain times during this trial, I might ask you to 20 a reasonable degree of probability. Will you understand that 21 I mean to a reasonable degree of medical probability?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And you'll answer each of the questions,
24 probability, to a reasonable degree of medical probability?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. That's just called covering myself. But how
2 much was the bill in this particular case?

3 A It appears to be $1,500.

4 Q Was that bill reasonable, necessary and causally
5 related?

6 A Yes.

7 Q To a reasonable degree of medical probability?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Now, one of the things that Dr. Ferrente recommended
10 was a sympathetic nerve block --

11 A Yes.

12 Q -- to the lower extremity. Is that correct?

13 A And is that one of the gold standard ways of 14 diagnosing a reflexive sympathetic dystrophy?

15 A It is one of the standard ways to diagnose this 16 syndrome. Well, it's --

17 Q What does it do?

18 A It's a way to diagnose this syndrome. The 19 sympathetic component doesn't sort of rule out all the other
20 potential components of it.

21 Q Like causalgia or complex regional pain syndrome?

22 A Yes. And so again, the name has changed. So the 23 sympathetic component, they're trying to downplay a little bit
24 in saying, yes. It's a component, but it's not the only
25 component. You can have a complex regional pain syndrome

AVTranz

1 without a sympathetic component. It's most commonly included,
2 but it's not absolutely necessary.

3 But a sympathetic blockade involves placing a
4 needle, instead of an epidural, which is placed in the -- sort
5 of the back part of the spine, this is placing a needle
6 farther or deeper inside the patient's body into the front of 7 the spine. So the needle goes into the front of the spine,
8 typically, at one, two or three levels, depending on the 9 doctor's preference. But the needle will be placed into an
10 area right next to the two big blood vessels that carry blood
11 to the lower portion of the body, the aorta, essentially, and 12 the fena cava.

13 So you'll place a needle into this particular area,
14 to deposit a local anesthetic or a numbing medicine like the 15 dentists use, into the area where there's a big bundle of 16 nerves. It's kind of like a train station for all the 17 sympathetic nervous system that carries signals for the lower
18 part of the body. When we're talking about the lumbar spine,
19 it's a different bundle of nerves for the neck and the upper
20 extremities.

21 But in the lumbar spine, there's a big bundle of 22 nerves that sits, kind of over three different vertebral
23 bodies -- L2, L3 and L4. You place a needle in that
24 particular area under x-ray guidance, typically at a surgery
25 center so you're watching on a television screen while you're

AVTranz

1 placing that needle. You inject some dye in there. You
2 outline the bundle of nerves that you recognize. You want to
3 make sure that you're not in any blood vessels that are in
4 that neighborhood. And by injecting the dye, you've confirmed
5 the needle placement. You then inject a large volume of local 6 anesthetic or numbing medicine.

7           Now, this numbing medicine doesn't anesthetize the 8 nerves that would go to the leg, like the nerves, like a
9 pregnant woman would get during an epidural. It anesthetizes
10 only the sympathetic component of the nerves, and it blocks
11 all the transmission in that area. The thought is that if you
12 anesthetize those nerves, and there is a sympathetic
13 component, you've blocked that, and you can see if the 14 patient's pain gets better, if their movement is better, and 15 basically, are they able to function better while these nerves
16 are anesthetized. So essentially, you're blocking the nerve
17 spot to be the major component of discomfort in that way.

18           Q     And when you're performing a sympathetic nerve
19 block, if you -- it's to be diagnostic as an RSP, what will 20 happen?

21           A     What will happen if you're looking at an RSD-type of 22 syndrome or a very sympathetic remediated pain, is what we 23 oftentimes call that, is if you block those nerves, the 24 patient oftentimes will describe stiffness in the joint. You
25 all of a sudden can now move that joint more freely. They're

AVTranz

1 not guarding it anymore. The pain level decreases. But the
2 things that you will notice is that the leg heats up. You're
3 going to increase the blood flow there, which is an indication
4 that you've done an adequate block.

5 You're going to notice that there's no motor or 6 sensory changes. There might be improvement in the pain, but
7 it's not like the leg is dead. You can still move the leg,
8 just like you did before. We're only blocking the sympathetic
9 component, not the sensory or the motor components of it,
10 which is very specific for that bundle of nerves. So you
11 should notice that the range of motion improves, the patient's
12 ability to function improves, and the pain level drops
13 significantly during the time frame that that's occurring.

14 Q What's onychomycosis? Let me spell that for you.
15 It is O-N-Y-C-H-O-M-Y-C-O-S-I-S? Does that have to do with 16 analysis?

17 A Yes. It is. It's a fingernail or toenail sort of 18 appearance. It's either a ridge -- or it's kind of an odd-
19 looking toenail or fingernail.

20 Q Now, there are some diagnostic hallmarks of RSD
21 aren't there?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And there are five or six recognized hallmarks?

24 A There are all sorts of different definitions for it,
25 but there are typically some categories where you would want

AVTranz

1 to look at -- that are kind of similar in most definitions.

2 Q Is it onychomycosis?

3 A Yes. So that's --

4 Q I had to do it.

5 A -- the odd-looking toenails or fingernails,
6 depending on if we're talking about upper or lower
7 extremities. You know, there's shiny skin, meaning that the 8 skin has been stretched, so the skin will look different.
9 There's decreased range of motion, aesthesia or hyperalgesia
10 where you're touching something, and like, if you touched
11 somebody very lightly across, you know -- touched like the 12 hairs on their arm or their hand, that's typically not viewed
13 as a painful situation.

14 But sometimes, just the blowing of an air condition
15 over somebody's extremity will cover it up. So oftentimes,
16 patients will wear things over an area so that they're sort of 17 covering it up from any of those fine little motions and 18 things like that. So there are a few different kind of 19 hallmarks of this that you want to look at when you're 20 evaluating a patient for it.

21 Q What's allodynia?

22 A Allodynia is sort of pain to, sort of light touch,
23 something that would normally be considered -- I don't want to 24 use the word pleasurable, but not painful -- is now considered
25 painful.

1 Q And did Dr. Ferrente refer Mr. Rodriguez to a Dr.
2 Miller for sympathetic nerve blocks?

3 A Yes. He did.

4 MR. BAKER: Before we go there, I move to admit Exhibit
5 25, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Any objection other than those noted, Mr.
7 Ward?

8 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: So ordered. 25 is admitted.

10 [Plaintiff's Exhibit 25 Received]

11 BY MR. BAKER:

12 Q Who is Dr. Miller?

13 A Dr. Miller is a pain anesthesiologist that 14 Dr. Ferrente referred to -- similar in training to myself and 15 Dr. Ferrente -- to perform these lumbar -- the nerves that sit
16 in front of the spine.

17 Q And I'd like to ask you to turn to Exhibit 42.

18 A I think I need a different book.

19 Q I think it's in the next log behind you, volume
20 three.

21 A Okay.

22 Q Is it 42?

23 A Yes.

24 Q What date was he referred to go see Dr. Miller?

25 A Looks like March 7th, 2007.

1 Q And if you'll turn to page 11 --

2 A Yes.

3 Q -- did Dr. Miller come to a diagnostic impression
4 with respect to Mr. Rodriguez?

5 A Yes. On page 11, it's noted that Dr. Lawrence
6 Miller felt that Mr. Rodriguez was suffering from complex
7 regional pain syndrome of the left lower extremity.

8 Q And if you'll turn to page 22, what were Dr.
9 Miller's examination findings?

10 A Dr. Miller noted temperature and color changes,
11 edema or swelling, atrophic changes in the hair and nail
12 growth patterns, impaired motor function, so stiffness in the 13 joint, and then hyperpathia or allodynia, which is the painful
14 sensation of touch, and then pseudo-motor changes, which 15 involve changes of vascular supply or sweating. So you may 16 notice that a hand is very sweaty, versus the other hand is 17 not. That's an unusual finding. That's the findings that he 18 diagnosed with him, which led him to believe that the 19 diagnosis of complex regional pain syndrome existed in Mr.
20 Rodriguez.

21 Q Now, this was a clinical diagnosis. Is that fair to 22 say?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And do you agree with that diagnosis based upon
25 those six findings?

1 A Yes.

2 Q But then, he was sent out for a diagnostic
3 examination. Is that true?

4 A The diagnostic examination was the lumbar
5 sympathetic blocks that we discussed before.

6 Q When were they conducted? If you'll go to 27 --

7 A Okay. It looks like the first one was April 18th,
8 2007.

9 Q The second?

10 A And the second one appears to be -- well, I think 11 March 14th, 2007 was the first one. April 18th, 2007 was the 12 second one.

13 Q And was it reasonable, necessary and causally
14 related to the injuries Enrique sustained at the Palms, to 15 conduct those sympathetic blocks?

16 A Absolutely.

17 Q And with respect to the examination?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And are those your opinions to a reasonable degree
20 of probability?

21 A Medical probability, yes.

22 Q Thank you. What was the result in the sympathetic
23 blocks?

24 A With both injections, Mr. Rodriguez noted complete
25 relief of his symptoms in his left lower extremity, indicating

2 that his presumptive diagnosis of complex regional pain

5 A Yes.

6 Q And do you agree with that opinion --

7 A Yes.

9 A Yes.

10 Q And what was Dr. Miller's bill in this case? If you

5 A They were conducted at a UCLA-affiliated surgery

7 Beverly Hills, California.

8 Q That's Wilshire Surgical Center?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Would you turn to Exhibit 30, please? You might

12 A Okay.

13 Q I assume this is a surgery you wouldn't want to do

15 A No. It's not. Because of the potential
16 complications with this procedure, you want to do this at a
17 facility that you can deal with complications.

18 Q Was it reasonable, necessary and causally related to 19 the Palms incident, to do these lumbar sympathetic blocks at a

14 A Yes.

15 Q And the charge for that is how much?

16 A $8,260. And the second one is $17,991.

19 A Yes.

6 Q Now, are you aware that the patient was also sent to 7 see Dr. Cravetti [phonetic]?

8 A Yes. An orthopedic surgeon. Yes.

9 Q And Dr. Cravetti is an orthopedic surgeon in the 10 area?

11 A Yes. In Las Vegas.

12 Q Do you know who referred him to Dr. Cravetti?

13 A I believe he was originally referred to Dr. Cravetti
14 by either Dr. Coca [phonetic] or myself. I don't know the --
15 I can't remember the exact timing.

16 Q But you were working with Dr. Coca in attempting to 17 get Enrique back to health at this time, weren't you?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Okay. And what was the purpose for sending Enrique
20 to Dr. Cravetti?

21 A It was the same concern that Dr. Ferrente had, that 22 I had. I evaluated Mr. Rodriguez as to whether or not he had 23 any mechanical component to his knee pain, that was 24 contributing or maintaining the CRPS or the RSD-type syndrome.
25 So --

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 Q Would you explain what you mean by that?

2 A Well, yeah. I would --

3 Q Were you worried if it --

4 A I was just about to.

5 Q I'll be quiet. I'm going to go sit.

6 A Essentially, if you have something that's constantly
7 irritating a particular area or nerve, unless you address the 8 original problem, you're not going to get rid of the secondary
9 problem, which is the RSD or the CRPS. So if there's an 10 ongoing knee issue in the patient, or other issues that are 11 going on, in this particular case the knee issue, unless you
12 verify that there's no problem with the knee that can be 13 corrected, you're treating sort of symptoms, if you will, or 14 secondary problems, but you're ignoring the first problem.

15 And you'll never get rid of the secondary problem
16 unless you address the first one. So the purpose of going to 17 Dr. Cravetti as an orthopedic specialist was to determine --
18 is there anything else surgically that needed to be addressed
19 in the knee? Or are we now dealing with a knee that was 20 relatively stable, from a surgical point of view, you know,
21 short of a knee replacement, and now we're dealing with the 22 secondary problem, which becomes in a sense, the primary
23 problem. Because you've surgically corrected the primary
24 problem.

25 You've kind of gotten rid of that one essentially.

AVTranz

1 Now, you're dealing with the remainder of the issues. So the
2 secondary problem is now the primary issue. So we wanted Dr.
3 Cravetti to evaluate Mr. Rodriguez to make sure that we could 4 address everything, that we've checked all the boxes before we
5 just start looking to correct the pain with other modalities,
6 such as this spinal cord stimulator that I'm sure we'll talk
7 about in the near future.

8 Q Now, with respect to you working with Dr. Coca, what
9 was your joint effort?

10 A Well, I mean, our joint effort was to confirm a
11 diagnosis, come up with a treatment plan, and without input
12 from an orthopedic surgeon, that treatment plan was 13 incomplete.

14 Q And give me a second to find the exhibit for 15 Dr. Coca. Would you turn to Exhibit 36, please?

16 A Okay.

17 MR. WARD: What number was that?

18 THE WITNESS: 36.

19 MR. BAKER: No. I'll do that at a later time. Let's
20 keep going to your treatment.

21 THE WITNESS: Okay.

22 BY MR. BAKER:

23 Q When was the first time that you saw Enrique
24 Rodriguez?

25 A November 26th, 2007.

1 Q And I believe that your medical records are Exhibit
2 32. Is that right?

3 A I think she said 42.

4 Q Would you please turn to 42? Can I have a second?
5 You got it?

6 A Got it right here.

7 MR. BAKER: All right. Mine's in the book. This is
8 what's called schlepping, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: I've heard of this.

14 A Okay.

15 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I'd direct you to 41.

16 THE COURT: Thank you.

17 BY MR. BAKER:

18 Q On the first time that you saw him, what were your 19 clinical observations?

20 A Examination-wise?

21 Q Yes.

22 A During the examination, he was 5'6", 244 pounds. He
23 was alert, oriented, well groomed, pleasant, cooperative,
24 moderately obese. He had some limitations in range of motion
25 of his cervical spine. Essentially, the examination was more

AVTranz

1 focused on musculoskeletal and neurological issues. But
2 coming from the head down, he had some range of motion losses
3 in his cervical spine.

4 He also had some tenderness and spasm to palpation
5 over the back area of his neck and upper back. His upper 6 extremities in the examination was normal, except for 7 bilateral positive tenilsign [phonetic], which is an 8 indication of a carpal tunnel-type syndrome, where you tap
9 somebody on the wrist and they will get these electrical 10 shocks that shoot out into their hand. So essentially, you're 11 creating some tension on the nerve, and then tapping over it,
12 which creates a sensation. In the normal individual without 13 carpal tunnel, even with a typical response -- because the 14 nerve's not so tight. So -- and his head and neck, he had 15 decreased range of motion, some spasm.

16 In his upper extremities, he had the symptoms of 17 carpal tunnel on examination, and the findings of carpal
18 tunnel. In his examination of his lower back, or his trunk
19 area, he also had some spasm throughout his lumbar spine. But 20 he had more significant limitations of range of motion in his 21 lumbar spine, about half of normal, in both flexion and 22 extension, so both bending forward or bending back were about
23 half of normal.

24 The major findings, not that we're discounting
25 those, but the major findings were present in his lower

AVTranz

1 extremities. He had an antalgic gait, which means he sort of
2 walked like an old person. He had a hinged brace over his
3 knee, so it was kind of a protective mechanism over his knee
4 from his previous injury, and surgeries that he had had up to 5 that point.

6 He had some scars over his knee from the surgery.
7 And then, he had a tremendous amount of tenderness, to even
8 light touch, the allodynia or hyperesthesia that we talked 9 about before, over his left knee, specifically over the 10 kneecap area. That was the major focus of that. Besides the 11 gait abnormalities that he had when he was walking, he also 12 had some decreased strength when swatting down, which requires
13 a lot of power derived from your quadriceps or your thigh
14 muscles.

15 He had difficulty doing that. The reflexes in his 16 lower extremities were absent, kind of indicating that he had 17 sort of a spinal injury associated with this, and that, at 18 that point, I didn't know necessarily what to make of that.
19 But he did have some cold sensitivity, which is one of the 20 hallmarks of reflex sympathetic dystrophy, or CRPS.

21 Sometimes, the reflex hammer alone, which usually 22 has a metal stand, or a metal handle and then a rubber kind of 23 ball or a triangle at the end, sort of like a tomahawk, if you
24 take just the -- if you hold the end of it, the tomahawk part,
25 the triangle part, and you just touch a patient with the

AVTranz

1 handle, which should be sort of room temperature, but metal
2 always feels colder than room temperature -- if you just touch
3 that one somebody who has RDS, they will become sensitive. He 4 was sensitive to that type of sensation. Light touch was 5 sensitive for him.

6           And then, we went ahead and looked at temperature
7 differences. And a lot of doctors just measure temperature by 8 touching somebody. And you can tell if somebody's hot or 9 cold, but if I had you touch somebody and said, is that 78.5
10 degrees or 82.3 degrees, it would be very difficult for you to 11 distinguish between those two. So when I do evaluations for 12 patients who are describing symptoms similar to what Mr.
13 Rodriguez was, I'll take out an infrared thermometer, which is 14 oftentimes used in different settings. Like, mechanics use
15 them to touch something and go, is that going to be real hot
16 before I touch it, so that it's sort of a safety mechanism.
17 We use it in the medical field to isolate specific 18 temperatures.

19           He had a difference in temperatures from the right
20 versus the left. The right leg had more blood flow to it than 21 the left did, which is another one of those indicators of 22 complex regional pain syndrome, or RSD. He had some swelling
23 or edema in his lower extremity.

24           He also had some shiny skin over the knee and the 25 foot area, in that extremity, due to the swelling or

AVTranz

1 stretching of the skin. It creates sort of a shiny
2 appearance. Like, if you look at the -- somebody's skin in a
3 regular light, and it's almost as if they put lotion on just,
4 you know, parts of their skin, because it stretches out. He 5 had joint stiffness, and then he had some changes in his
6 toenails at that time. So all indications were that he had a
7 sympathetically maintained pain, or RSD CRPS. So it looked 8 like the diagnosis that had been made, prior to me evaluating
9 Mr. Rodriguez, were correct.

10 Q I'm going to give you a little more information.
11 Mr. Rodriguez testified on the stand that he was having 12 strange hair growth patterns. Is that a condition commonly 13 associated with RSD?

14 A It is. Yes.

15 Q And if you turn to page -- you know, I haven't asked
16 you, and I should. Would you describe for the jury, the type
17 of pain that's reported, both by patients and by the medical 18 literature, with respect to somebody who's suffering from 19 causalgia, RSD or complex regional pain syndrome?

20 MR. WARD: Object on the grounds of relevance, unless it's 21 related to this patient, something that this patient has told 22 him about.

23 THE COURT: Could you rephrase the question, Mr. Baker?

24 MR. BAKER: Sure.

1 BY MR. BAKER:

2 Q What kind of pain did Enrique report to you? Is
3 that consistent with the medical literature in your experience
4 with other RSD sufferers?

5 A Well, the type of pain that this patient in
6 particular described to me was constant, daily, aching,
7 burning, numbing, pins and needles, shooting, stabbing and
8 tingling-type pain. So what he was describing was very 9 electrical sort of sensations that -- the way patients
10 describe certain things kind of lead you to believe that 11 you're either dealing with a musculoskeletal problem, a bony
12 problem or a nerve problem.

13 All of the words that he used to describe his pain,
14 other than aching, will be very consistent with a CRPS or a 15 nerve-related condition. The aching seemed to be referred to 16 some of the other body parts, the neck and the low back that 17 we discussed briefly during the examination. That's the --
18 that word was attributed to something else, but the particular 19 words that people usually give to a particular category of 20 pain, and all of the words that he was using, led me to 21 believe that a nerve source was the primary source of his
22 pain.

23 He talked about his average pain score in another
24 descriptive mechanism, where he described it as being a nine
25 out of ten, with a high of ten out of ten. So he's in very

1 severe pain.

2 Q And I'm sorry. Is that consistent with the medical
3 literature in your experience, with other RSD patients?

4 A Yes. Absolutely.

5 Q And in fact, is that kind of definitional for RSD?

6 A I mean, severe pain, whether it's a nine out of ten
7 or a seven out of ten, sort of doesn't matter. It's sort of 8 in that severe pain category. Yes. That is -- severe pain is 9 very characteristic.

10 Q Kind of life-changing pain?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And is that your opinion to a reasonable of 13 probability, medical?

14 A Medical probability? Yes.

15 Q Thank you. If you'd turn to page number two of 16 Exhibit 40, and go to the bottom section, there are certain --
17 under where it says RSD diagnosis, AMA 5th, there's an actual
18 RSD diagnosis set forth by the American Medical Association?

19 A There is. And that's one of the diagnoses for it.
20 In my practice, I do a lot of workers' compensation
21 evaluations. And so, this is the guide or the guidelines that 22 they use to confirm the diagnosis. But some of the other
23 things I discussed in the examination are characteristic and 24 defined by other groups. So I didn't want to just define him
25 by the AMA.

AVTranz

1           But there's the International Association for the 2 Study of Pain and various other groups that have come up with
3 these diagnoses, which are not necessarily included in the AMA
4 diagnosis. So the cold sensitivity, the light touch, things
5 like that, are characteristic of a kind of inclusion of a
6 variety of different diagnoses or, sort of, inclusion criteria
7 for this diagnosis. So it's not just limited to the AMA.
8 They just have to be one of the ones that the industrial, sort
9 of, patients are defined by.

10           Q     And if we go to that particular -- would it be fair
11 to call this a guideline?

12           A     Yes.

13           Q     Let's look at it. On that day, under number one, he 14 exhibited no changes in his skin color. Is that true?

15           A     That is correct.

16           Q     Is it true that the symptoms associated with RSD are 17 dynamic? They're not static? You can show some of them one
18 day, and not others on another day?

19           A     Absolutely.

20           Q     And if you look at two, skin temperature change, and 21 you discussed that change in skin temperature that you did
22 with a laser thermometer?

23           A     Yes.

24           Q     Okay. If somebody just did a temperature check with 25 their hands, would that be consistent to the standard of care

1 in those examinations diagnostic as RSD?

2 A Absolutely not.

3 Q Okay. And again, you noted temperature changes.
4 Temperature change something you can fake?

5 A No.

6 Q Did Enri ever appear to you to be a malingerer?

7 A No.

8 Q Enrique, Enri -- you know I'm talking about the same
9 person? If he was a malingerer, or if there were any signs of 10 him malingering, you would have put it in your record?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And you saw none of that. Is that right?

13 A No.

14 Q His skin wasn't exhibiting any dryness or 15 overwetness on that day?

16 A Not on that day.

17 Q But there are texture changes under number -- I
18 can't read that. Would you?

19 A Number five. Yes.

20 Q And would you describe what texture changes that 21 was?

22 A That's with the shiny skin that I was describing to
23 you earlier, where the skin is sort of stretched. And so, you
24 lose the little wrinkles that are in the skin, and it becomes 25 almost like you're overstretching a balloon.

1 Q By the way, he suffered from edema, did he not?

2 A Yes.

3 Q If it was suggested that in the course of his
4 treatment, Enri had not suffered edema, would you disagree
5 with that?

6 A Absolutely.

7 Q Okay. And would you help me out here? Would you
8 just go down the list and tell me the positive findings?

9 A Yeah. I mean, and again, these are just the 10 positive findings in this AMA category. The other things to 11 be included in this, you know, are the tenderness to light
12 touch, the cold sensitivity and the swelling that's in that 13 particular area.

14 But the -- where we left off was this skin texture
15 changes with the shiny skin. He didn't show any atrophy of 16 the fingertips or the -- excuse me -- I guess they're called
17 toetips. But the ends of the toes sometimes will shrink down
18 because the blood flow is not as adequate to that area, so
19 you'll shrink the muscle and you'll get some narrowing. I did
20 not notice that on examination. That's --

21 Q With respect to that shrinking, is that known to 22 cause ingrown toenails?

23 A It can cause ingrown toenails just because of the 24 fact that you're taking something of a certain size -- your 25 toenail doesn't shrink in size, but the skin around it will,

AVTranz

1 and it will become tighter, so therefore, the nail is all of a
2 sudden too big for the toe.

3 Q And please continue.

4 A There was joint stiffness in, not only his knee, but 5 his ankle area with passive movement. So basically take your
6 knee, show me what range of motion you had. And even when I'm 7 moving it with, you know, against gravity, you could see that
8 just -- little small movements of it were difficult.

9 And it was almost that it was just so tight in that
10 particular area, that that's why I marked that it was a
11 positive finding on him. And then, clearly, he had some nail
12 changes that were present on examination on that particular 13 day. I didn't notice any hair growth patterns. And then, the 14 final category, according to the AMA, would be the bone skin
15 or x-ray findings. And at that point, he had not had one.

16 Q And if it was a negative bone scan, would that rule
17 out RSD?

18 A No.

19 Q Okay. Could you explain to the Judge why not?

20 A A bone scan is one of the criteria for diagnosing
21 RSD or CRPS. If it was a criteria that could be used alone,
22 we wouldn't need the other, you know, ten things that are on 23 this list. We would just order bone scans on everybody. But 24 the timing of the bone scan, the radiologist who reads the 25 bone scan is very dependent. But bone scans basically will

1 show increased blood flow to a particular area of injury,
2 which is kind of a degenerative change. But on RSD patients,
3 you may get blood flow to a particular area and then you never
4 get that medication, which is kind of a radioactive type of a
5 -- it's a nuclear medicine study -- you never get that to be 6 efficiently taken away from the area. So you may note when 7 you take a picture three hours later, you may still note that 8 the knee or the ankle is still lit up on the scan. So it's an 9 important. It's oftentimes something I just use for 10 completeness. My diagnosis is typically made before I even get 11 to that point. And that's why I put that as the last thing on 12 -- this is, you know, a form, this Page 2 of Exhibit 41, is a
13 form that's contained in all of my charts. So I use that form
14 kind of in the order of the priority of things that I'm 15 checking, so the bone scan is sort of at the end. If it's 16 present, that's a bonus. But if it's not present, it doesn't
17 bother me either way.

18 Q What doesn't bother you either way?

19 A If a bone scan has been ordered or not. I ordered
20 it for completeness sake. Dr. Furante [phonetic], the 21 chairman at UCLA, had recommended it. So -- he felt it was 22 important. So I wasn't going to disagree with him.

23 Q You're aware that Henry ultimately had a bone scan
24 which was negative.

25 A Yes, that's correct.

5 A No.

6 Q That's your opinion to a reasonable degree of

8 A Medical probability, yes.

9 Q Yes, thank you. And it's recognized that the 11 this particular ruling? Is that --

12 MR. WARD: Object. Leading.

13 BY MR. BAKER:

14 Q Does the absence of the guideline line items rule
15 out the diagnosis of RSD?

16 A No. You're looking at the big picture here. And 17 it's clear -- the picture becomes more clear the more positive
18 findings that you have. But the absence of one or another
19 does not.

20 Q Were you pretty clear that he had RSD or some sort
21 of neurologically mediated pain syndrome?

1     Rodriquez that believed it, including Dr. Furante, the
2     chairman at UCLA, whom I've heard lecture. I've read articles
3     he's written. So I mean, he's very well known and recognized.
4     If he didn't believe that the diagnosis was likely, I would

13 Q Dr. Schifini, did you set Enrique on a treatment

15 A I did.

16 Q What did that treatment course include?

17 A We talked to Mr. Rodriguez about -- kind of the 18 risks, the benefits, the options and the alternatives, as is 19 usual during my consultations. So we kind of go over
20 different things after I evaluate the patient and the records
21 that we look at. But the specific recommendations for him
22 following that office visit was to repeat the lumbar
23 sympathetic block. The repeating of the block was just for my 24 own satisfaction that we're repeating the block. We're sort
25 of checking things again in a different way. Other than Dr.

AVTranz

1 Miller, he had two of these lumbar sympathetic blocks before.
2 We were going to check and see if there was a large
3 sympathetic component to his pain or if we were just dealing 4 with more of a nerve issue at that point. So the plan was to 5 repeat a third lumbar sympathetic block before moving on to
6 things that had been recommended by myself and Dr. Thowgott
7 and I believe other doctors regarding a spinal cord
8 stimulator. So before we were going to -- talked to him about 9 something that we were going to implant into him potentially
10 forever and ever, we were trying to solve his problem in a
11 different more simple way, a more conservative way.

12 Q And did you perform a sympathetic block?

13 A We did on November 30th, 2007.

14 Q Where did you perform the sympathetic block?

15 A The block, I believe was performed at the Las Vegas
16 surgery center.

17 Q Can you explained to the judge -- have you already
18 talked about what performing a sympathetic block entails?

19 A I did. But we'll kind of go through it just --

20 Q What did you do?

21 A -- very quickly. We repeated the same injection
22 where we're putting a needle in front of the spine to block
23 those nerves.

24 The main reason we do these things at surgery center is -
25 - the reason why Dr. Miller, prior to me doing it, did it at

AVTranz

1 a surgery center is because of the proximity of the needle and
2 the large volume of local anesthetic into an area where there
3 are two large blood vessels. If you inject into those blood
4 vessels, the patient can have a seizure. They can have a
5 stroke. They can have an arrhythmia of their heart, which
6 oftentimes, based on the local anesthetic we use is not a
7 rhythm of the heart that is easily able to be shocked. You've 8 seen patients, you know, on TV be shocked with defibrillators.

9 We do these things at surgery centers for safety reasons.
10 We also are doing them for both diagnostic and therapeutic
11 purposes.

12 Sometimes when you do one of these injections, you can
13 actually reset these nerves so that the things that were kind
14 of hooked up incorrectly can go back to the same way. I
15 oftentimes describe it to patients -- depends on the age of 16 the patient -- if they've ever played a pinball machine and 17 you've tilted the pinball machine, it's kind of how I think of 18 RSD. Sometimes you can reset the pinball machine. You put in 19 another quarter or throw out another ball into the whole mix.
20 Sometimes these lumbar sympathetic blocks will allow you to 21 reset things.

22 But you want to do it in a safe place, which requires the 23 use of X-ray equipment and fluoros -- which is called 24 fluoroscopy, as well as the surgery center where we have all
25 the resuscitative measures available to us.

1 Q So this is a risky procedure?

2 A Absolutely, yes.

3 Q And he's undergone it three times now?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. What was the result of your sympathetic
6 block?

7 A When we did the sympathetic block for him on
8 November 30th, 2007, the injection was performed adequately.
9 We measured the responses for the nerves and we actually --
10 there's a picture in the chart. It's part of my chart. But 11 essentially, we place a needle in front of the spine to look
12 at that and then we document certain things in the recovery
13 room. So we do this in kind of an operating room type
14 setting. And then the patient will go out on a gurney to a
15 recovery room where they'll be evaluated by myself to see if
16 they have any motor or sensory changes. If a patient has a 17 motor or sensory change, it indicates that you're blocking
18 different nerves which may lead you to a wrong conclusion.
19 Mr. Rodriguez, following this injection, had zero motor or 20 sensory changes, which means we put it in the right spot. He 21 did have changes in the temperatures in his left lower
22 extremity. Following the blockade of these nerves, we would 23 expect an increase in blood flow. So you're taking something
24 that's typically colder and now you're warming it up by 25 increasing the blood flow by blocking these nerves. He had an

1 appropriate increase in temperature which we would expect.
2 But unfortunately he had no relief of his pain which led me to
3 the conclusion that the sympathetic component of his pain was 4 no longer a major player. That doesn't necessarily mean he
5 doesn't have the CRPS or RSD but it makes the diagnosis less
6 likely. It doesn't get right of the diagnosis of CRPS or RSD.

7 Q Let's turn to Page 39 of Exhibit 42.

8 MR. BAKER: And the reason I get confused, Your Honor, is 9 I guess someone's trying to save money, and on these tabs,

1           Q     And let me ask you, it says, "It's just a brief
2 letter to inform that I saw your patient Enrique Rodriquez
3 today in follow up, one week after his initial left lumbar
4 sympathetic block. As you may recall, he did not receive any 5 immediate relief despite adequate block indicating that he's 6 no longer suffering from the sympathetically mediated pain."
7 Can you explain what you meant by not suffering from the 8 sympathetically mediated pain?

9           A     Again, that's sort of a sub-set of RSD and CRPS.
10 And I'm sorry this is so confusing. But it's takes a while to 11 kind of get used to all these terms. But sympathetically
12 maintained or mediated pain is a specific sub-set of the RSD
13 or more appropriately, the term is CRPS now. If you have a 14 significant component of that leading to some of these
15 diagnoses, you would expect somebody to receive complete
16 release of their pain following this so -- following this
17 block. So you can treat that successfully. Dr. Miller did
18 twice before. He noted that Mr. Rodriquez had complete relief
19 of his pain following these injections which indicates a large
20 sympathetic nerve mediated component of the pain. What my 21 diagnosis was at that point was that that component was fairly
22 minor, if at all present. And now we're dealing with 23 potentially something else going on which is either the 24 mechanical knee pain which both I and Furante, the chairman at 25 UCLA, were concerned about, or that he was dealing with some

1 other peripheral nerve kind of issue affecting that lower
2 extremity, which can also maintain this diagnosis of CRPS or
3 RSD.

4 So essentially what I did was rule out the diagnosis
5 of sympathetically maintained pain. And I think in my 6 dictation, there's sort of error because, again, during this 7 timeframe was the transition between the terms and nobody had
8 really said, everybody we're all using this term now versus 9 this one. So what this should have said is really more we've
10 -- you know, his RSD component of this was successfully
11 treated rather than the RSD in the CRPS or the complex regions
12 pain syndrome. So I think I misstate something in my record

2 A Yes.

3 Q And could you tell me what Dr. Cocha's bill was?

4 A It appears Dr. Cocha's bill -- final bill was 5 $3,389.60.

6 Q And is that bill reasonable, necessary and causally
7 related to the subject incident to a reasonable degree of
8 medical probability?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of 11 medical probability?

12 A Yes.

13 MR. BAKER: Move to admit the entirety of 37, Your Honor.

14 MR. WARD: Foundation, hearsay, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: Noted for the record. 37 will be admitted.

16 [Plaintiff's Exhibit 37 Received]

17 BY MR. BAKER:

18 Q What was your plan for Enrique now that the 19 sympathetic aspect of his -- well, before I ask you that, did
20 you believe he was still suffering from a neurologically
21 mediated pain syndrome?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Even if the sympathetic component of it had been 24 successfully treated?

25 A Yeah. Again, that's, as I've described, that's just

1 kind of one piece of the puzzle that at that point or at that
2 moment anyway appeared to be successfully treated.

3 Q What did you intend to do with him now? Was Henry
4 still in pain?

5 A Oh, absolutely. I mean, the pain unfortunately
6 hadn't changed even though we potentially successfully treated
7 one component of it, the pain was still very severe.

8 Q The severe pain that's recognized in the medical 9 literature?

10 A Yes.

11 Q So what were you going to do? How were you going to 12 help him?

13 A Well, we were during that timeframe -- I believe
14 that was the timeframe that we were talking about sending him
15 to Dr. Cravetti to rule out a --

16 Q Mechanical?

17 A -- a mechanically component -- or mechanical
18 component of his left knee pain before we take upon a
19 procedure which truly is meant to cover up and treat the 20 problem. But more to cover it up because what we were talking
21 about next or considering next was a spinal cord stimulator
22 placement which was something that, I suppose in theory can
23 treat a problem. But the, you know, 99 percent of the reason
24 to put one in is cover up something that you can't treat in 25 another way.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 Q What does it do?

2 A A spinal cord stimulator is something that we
3 utilize in patients who have surgically treated pain that
4 there's no more surgery that can be done or the surgery can be
5 done may lead to a worse problem. For example, you know, Mr.
6 Rodriquez might have been offered a knee replacement surgery.
7 But based on his age and other factors, he was not necessarily
8 thought to be a good candidate for a knee replacement surgery
9 to correct some of his problems. Which in my experience,
10 probably wouldn't have corrected them because he has RSD. Any 11 surgical intrusion to that extremity can flare it up and make
12 it even worse than it is at that particular component. So
13 that was felt not to be a good sort of course of action. So a
14 spinal cord stimulator was thought to be a good course of 15 action. We discussed it with the patient. Kind of went over 16 the risk, benefits, options, and alternatives that we 17 discussed before.

18 But the way this works is it's a device that's thought
19 of -- if you want to think of it as a filter. It's placed -- 20 wires are placed in the patient's spine to block the 21 transmission of pain signals coming up from a lower extremity
22 or an upper extremity depending on the situation. In this
23 particular situation, it's leg and knee pain. So basically
24 you're creating an electrical filter. So as the pain signals
25 are coming up through the nerve roots, the spinal cord and

AVTranz

1 then ultimately would go up to your brain and Mr. Rodriguez
2 would say, gee, why is my knee hurting, or, you know, things
3 like that. Gee, this accident was a long time ago, why is it
4 still hurting. We can block the signals potentially as they
5 are coming up through that area and sort of filter them out.

6           So for example -- this is just an example. Let's
7 say he has a pain signal coming up ten times a second. But I
8 can stimulate these wires to send signals up to his brain at,
9 you know, 150 times a second. I'm overwhelming his brain --
10 down the same nerve paths that the pain signals are coming,
11 I'm overwhelming his brain with signals that I'm generating
12 from these little wires that are placed in the epidural space
13 right next to the spinal cord. And what his brain is seeing 14 and feeling is a sort of more pleasant tingling sensation in 15 the area which is pain. So basically you're replacing a
16 painful condition with something more pleasurable. If you are 17 able to do that, the patient will improve their function,
18 decrease their medications. They'll decrease their pain
19 scores. Everything will seemingly improve. And the sort of 20 the thing that we talked about before, like, the decrease in 21 temperature in that extremity that was present on his
22 examination. By stimulating the -- what they call the dorsal
23 columns of the spinal cord, you're actually stimulating the 24 improved blood flow into that particular area. And you may 25 reverse some of the damage done by the RSD or the CRPS by

AVTranz

1 improving a lot of the things and kind of reversing that
2 signal. Well, that works when the machine on. When the
3 machine is off -- you can turn it on. You can turn it off.
4 Up, down. But if it's off, he's cured and his pain is gone,
5 his pain will come back to the level it was. So patients
6 typically don't turn it off. They want to keep it on all the 7 time, which requires maintenance and battery changes and 8 things that associated with it. But essentially it's an 9 electrical filter creating a filtration of pain signals going
10 up the spinal cord going up to the brain.

11 The device is placed as a trial. Sort of like you
12 would buy a car. It's a test drive. You test drive the 13 device. We do it over a three to five day period. I think he 14 had a four-day trial of this. So it's not a placebo effect.
15 We're not putting this in and saying, "Do you like it?" Yes.
16 You like it. Okay. Let's put it in permanently." It's, "We 17 want you to go home and try this and make sure you like it,
18 for four days, five days. And then come back to me and tell
19 me how it changed your life in a positive way before we're 20 recommending something to be put in permanently?"

21 Q Did you place it?

22 A Yes. We placed the trial spinal cord stimulator on 23 July 14th, 2008.

24 Q Where did you do that?

25 A At the same facility, the Las Vegas Surgery Center.

AVTranz

1 Q And could you describe the procedure, itself. Is it
2 a surgical procedure?

3 A Yes. It's done in the operating room. You -- when 4 you do typical injections, they're done in kind of an
5 operating room, a sterile environment. It's not specifically
6 an operating room. It's usually a room dedicated for pain or 7 spinal injection procedures. This particular procedure is 8 actually done in the operating room setting because you're 9 going to leave something -- a foreign substance in a person's 10 body for several days.

11 They're not in a hospital setting so that you can't watch
12 them and observe them and put them on antibiotics and make 13 sure that they get hooked up to IVs and stuff. We're 14 encouraging him to go home and do his normal stuff afterwards.
15 So we do this in more of a sterile environment like the 16 operating room.

17 So a full sterile prep and gown and surgical preparation
18 goes on just like a regular operation. And under X-ray
19 guidance, same X-rays that -- or X-ray machine that we use for 20 the regular injections are utilized in this particular 21 procedure.

22 The injection is done in the -- sort of the mid-back part
23 of the spine. Even though this problem is in his knee, the 24 nerves that control the knee come out of the spine in that 25 particular area where they're bundled closely together in that

AVTranz

1 particular area anyway.

2 And you basically place a large needle -- it's probably
3 about as thick as one of these microphone wires -- into the
4 patient's back. The reason why we use is a large needle is I
5 have to put an electrode through that needle. So the needle
6 sort of serves as a conduit for -- to allow me to put the 7 electrode in the place.

8 We ended up using three needles on him because what we 9 were trying to do is not only control the pain in his left leg
10 and left knee from the RSD or the nerve related pain, we're 11 also trying to see by utilizing the same device, could we 12 control some of his back pain.

13 So there were three different needles placed, one in 14 the center and then two flanking on the left and right side,
15 that are placed into his spine. They go up to about the level
16 of T-7 or T-8, which is right in the middle of your thoracic
17 spin or your ribcage area. And that allows him to have 18 independent control over the left versus the right. Or you
19 can light them all up at the same time and try to get back
20 pain coverage. Because if you have one electrode, you can
21 stimulate up and down. If you have multiple electrodes, you
22 can stimulate across, which is what's necessary to control the 23 back pain.

24 Once those are put in, we then take the patient out
25 to the recovery room, show them how to use the device so what

1 when they're at home, they have a device that's hooked up to
2 wires that are coming out of their back. They can turn it up,
3 down, on, off. They can manipulate the left side to be higher
4 than the right side or turn them all on at the same time. So
5 it requires some extensive education from myself and the 6 representative from the company who we utilized to put these 7 in.

8 Q How did he do?

9 A He did great during the immediate post procedure
10 period. And on the table, we were able to cut down 80 percent
11 of his pain, including some of his back pain, but mainly the 12 pain in his left leg and left knee. But more importantly,
13 over the trial period, over the four-day trial period, when he 14 returned to my office for the removal, because again these are 15 temporary. This is a test drive. He hasn't bought the car
16 yet. We're basically putting these things in temporarily.
17 When he came back, all of his leg and knee pain was totally 18 gone. The stimulator was able to cover up all the pain in 19 that particular area. Unfortunately, he did not receive the 20 relief that he was hoping for in his back.

7 and happy and his gait was improved for the first time in
8 years. Does that comport with what you observed?

9 A Absolutely.

10 Q How did you feel about that?

11 A I felt pretty good about it. And I know he did.

12 Q Okay. If you'll turn to Exhibit 22. Excuse, not

19 reported to Dr. Cocha that he had 100 percent immediate long
20 term relief in his left leg pain but less in his back?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Now, Henry had been through a difficult treatment
23 course. Is that right?

24 A Absolutely, yes.

25 Q Hadn't had any resolution of his pain.

1 A No.

2 Q And is it fair to say by this time he had been
3 through two knee surgeries, three lumbar sympathetic blocks,
4 and an implantation of a stimulator into his system?

5 A Yes. I mean, at best, he had some temporary relief
6 during the first two lumbar sympathetic blocks. But that was
7 a few hours. This was for four days, which gave him quite a
8 bit of home.

9 Q The hound is out, the hunt is on. Right?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And did you send Henry to any physicians to discuss
12 a permanent spine stimulator?

13 A Yes. He was seen by Dr. Thomas Votter [phonetic],
14 who's an orthopedic spine surgeon.

15 MR. BAKER: Rob, what's Votter's -- you around?

16 MR. CARDENAS: What's that?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And was that examination reasonable, necessary and
5 causally related to the subject accident to a reasonable

7 A Yes.

8 Q What's Dr. Votter's bill?

9 A $330.

10 Q That sounds pretty reasonable. Is that reasonable,

12 A Yes.

13 Q To a reasonable degree of probability?

14 A Yes -- medical probability, yes.

15 Q Medical probability. Thank you.

22 BY MR. BAKER:

23 Q How does this permanent spinal cord stimulator
24 differ from the temporary spinal cord stimulator other than 25 obviously being permanent?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1           A     Well, the permanent spinal cord stimulator is
2 different in that it's surgically implanted. There are a
3 couple of components to the stimulator whether it's temporary
4 or permanent. The device in a temporary setting has 5 electrodes, so that's in common with the permanent one. But 6 the battery pack and the battery power is a handheld device in 7 the temporary one where the patient has a digital display and 8 can turn it up or down, on, off, by pushing buttons. But 9 there's a wire. The permanent one is wireless. There's 10 something that looks very similar to a computer mouse that 11 they can utilize that they would put over an implanted battery
12 pack, over the site that it's implanted in the hip and buttock
13 area. Then they can manipulate the computer chip and the 14 battery pack back on some radio frequency waves, just like a
15 remote control would do. So there's a remote control, no
16 wires. But there's a battery pack which is implanted in a
17 patient's body that typically lasts three to five years during 18 that timeframe. So it averages about four years that the 19 battery pack will last. The battery pack is then connected to 20 electrodes. The electrodes --

21           Q     How much does that battery pack cost?

22           A     The battery pack costs about $22,000.

23           Q     And how many times would you estimate that had to be 24 replaced if Enrique received a permanent spinal cord
25 stimulator?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1           A     Well, based on his age, we're talking about a four-
2 year life span of that, probably ten times.

3           Q     Approximately $220,000?

4           A     Yes.

5           Q     Is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of
6 medical probability?

7           A     Yes. That's just the battery pack portion.

8           Q     And you were discussing how the battery pack has 9 leads to the stimulation --

10          A     Yes. The battery is then hooked to a -- kind of an 11 interconnecting wire which is hooked up to the electrodes.
12 The difference between a temporary stimulator versus a
13 permanent stimulator involves -- when I put in lead in -- we 14 use, again, the big needle, kind of similar to the size or 15 caliber of the microphone wires, to place a lead or wire
16 through the needle, then I remove the needle, leave the wire
17 in place. Dr. Votter -- or a surgically placed permanent lead
18 involves removing a piece of the bone in that particular area
19 which is called a laminectomy which actually sticks the --
20 what they call a paddle lead. So instead of having three 21 wires individually wrapped, which is sort of inefficient
22 because if you use a wire, I send a signal down a wire, the 23 electricity, which in this case is sort of like a medication,
24 is going to be sort of circumferentially distributed in a 360
25 degree. So I can't send the signal down the wire saying I

AVTranz

1 only want you to send that signal in a certain direction. It
2 goes wherever it wants. The paddle leads, though, have the
3 electrodes implanted on them. Then they have a layer of 4 insulation on the other side. So when you put in those paddle
5 leads, which is approximately the size of a popsicle stick,
6 that paddle lead has all the electrodes placed one side of it.
7 And it's a much more efficient delivery system which is why we
8 can get the battery to last several years, four years. That 9 allows for the patient to receive relief of their pain based 10 on the stimulation patterns that are set up on the electrodes.
11 But it also allows them to have it all implanted underneath
12 their skin. Wires move. They tend to roll because they're 13 sort of cylindrical objects. The paddle would be very 14 difficult to move. But you can have little fractures of the 15 leads along the wire that require replacement. They don't 16 have to be replaced that frequently. Not every four years.
17 But the typical replacement of the electrodes is about every 18 ten to fifteen years because of sort of wear and tear on that 19 area where is the patient is bending and twisting, as we 20 expect, patients who have these to be more active. And so
21 there's going to be some wear and tear on the actual products
22 that we put in there.

23 Q What is the costs of those electrodes?

24 A The electrodes are about the same cost of the 25 generator. They're approximately 20 -- $22,000 as well.

2 Q And so --

3 A -- is probably reasonable --

4 Q -- in his lifetime?

5 A For the electrodes, three times would be and 6 adequate timeframe. Because again, ten to fifteen years is 7 the typical timeframe in which you're replacing those. So,
8 yes, three times --

9 Q Anywhere from 45- to $65,000, approximately?

10 A 45 -- probably -- yes, 45 to 65, yes.

11 Q Okay. And that's at today's ex -- that's at today's 12 cost. Is that what you're saying?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of 15 medical probability that those electrodes will also need to be 16 replaced?

17 A Yes.

18 Q So now we're talking $220,000 for the battery power?

19 A Yes.

20 Q An additional 45 to 65,000 for the electrodes. Is 21 that fair to say?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Tell us about the stimulator unit, itself.

24 A Well, the stimulator unit is the battery pack. It
25 has a computer chip in there. And those computer chips are,

AVTranz

10 App. 1879

1 as you know, your computers go out of date. So they -- the
2 battery lasts for four years, which is probably a good thing
3 because then you're replacing it with the new and improved
4 computer chip which may allow for different programming of the 5 actual electrodes. There's usually sixteen different
6 electrodes that we place, which is -- gives you multiple
7 combinations. If you remember from math, if you have four
8 different variables, four times three times two gives you
9 multiple combinations. So if you have four of them, there's 10 24 different combinations. I've never done the math. But if 11 you take 16 times 15 times 14, you can imagine the number of 12 combinations. So it takes a pretty powerful computer chip to 13 manage those different combinations to customize the device.
14 It's not one size fits all. It's, we put it in, in the exact
15 spot that the trial was successful. The area in the spine
16 where it's place is the same exact spot as the trial because 17 we now have an X-ray picture of it. We can give that as a
18 roadmap to the surgeon. But that device is placed under the 19 skin and it's accessed with the remote control. So you don't 20 have to do anything special to do that. But these are 21 typically done instead of at a surgery center, they're done in 22 a hospital setting and then there's additional costs
23 associated with the surgeon's fees and the anesthesiologist
24 fees and the hospital fees, which are also part of the whole
25 permanent implantation.

1 Q Are you familiar with the hospital costs?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And is there a hospital cost that would have to be
4 incurred each time electrodes or the stimulator is replaced?

5 A Yes.

6 Q They'll be done in a hospital setting each time. Is
7 that right?

8 A Yes.

9 Q What are the hospital costs associated with a spinal
10 cord stimulator?

11 A Well, there's the physician cost to place them,
12 which would be a spine surgeon. You're performing basically a
13 laminectomy. And then you're creating a tunnel and pocket. So
14 the cost associated with that type of procedure, approximately 15 $25,000 for the surgery costs. We talked about the device
16 costs.

17 Q Now, I'm a little confused with the math. With 18 respect to the electrodes and the stimulator, are they going
19 to be replacing them at the same time or different times?

20 A Their paths may cross at some point.

21 Q Could Henry need as much as eight to ten additional 22 surgical procedures to replace the spinal cord stimulator, the 23 battery and the electrodes?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. And the cost of each of those packages is

1 what?

2 A When you say packages, I'm --

3 Q Well, you add $220,000 would be the cost of putting
4 in the original unit and the electrodes. Is that right?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And then you would need battery -- and that was
7 about $220,000?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And then the battery replacements would be about you
10 said four times in his lifetime?

11 A The electrodes.

12 Q The electrodes?

13 A Yes. So I would say 10 to 15 years. So I would say
14 three times for that. That's kind of where we got the 45 to 15 65 -- or 45 -- yeah, 45 to 65, I guess, you know, I'll use
16 your math -- with the electrode replacements. The original
17 surgery costs, where they're putting the entire device is 18 approximately $25,000. That's the surgeon's fees. The 19 anesthesia fees for the original placement is approximately 20 $2000 for the time that it's going to take to keep Mr.
21 Rodriquez asleep. Then there's the hospital associated costs
22 which some of the costs for the devices are built into the 23 hospital costs, so separating those out -- the hospital costs
24 for this type of procedure, not inclusive of the battery pack
25 that we're already talking about replacing, and the

AVTranz

1 electrodes, are approximately $70,000.

2 Q So I'm going to ask you to do it for me, and I hate
3 to do it, but could you explain to the judge what the lifetime
4 cost of replacements of the permanent stimulator associated
5 with the changes in electrodes and the changes in the unit
6 would be for Henry's lifetime.

7 A Yes. The --

8 Q And then total it.

9 A Well, I'll do my best. The electrode costs -- and 10 I'll give that 45 to $65,000 range. I don't know exactly
11 where it's going to be, but more likely than not, to a
12 reasonable degree of medical probability, he will need three 13 of those just based on the fact that he will be and is 14 anticipated to be more active. And therefore, the little 15 wires, they're very fine wires that make up the electrode, are 16 known to fracture. So every 10 to 15 years it is likely that 17 that will need to be replaced. The batteries will need to be 18 replaced on average every four years. We calculated out that 19 he probably would need 10 of those over a lifetime. The 20 surgery costs associated --

21 Q About $22,000 a time?

22 A $22,000 a time. So $220,000 just for that.

23 Q And you're aware that Henry is 46 right now?

24 THE PLAINTIFF: 47.

1 BY MR. BAKER:

2 Q 47?

3 A Yes. You're looking at now the hospital costs. The 4 initial hospital costs -- and I've already kind of calculated
5 out the costs associated with the actual devices that are --
6 is about $70,000 for the first initial placement. The batter
7 -- and then there's the anesthesiologist costs of $2000, the 8 surgeon costs of $25,000. Those are typically the costs
9 associated with the initial placement and devices. The 10 battery replacement does not require a major surgery. There's 11 still going to be costs associated with it, but it will not be 12 the hospital costs of the $70,000. The battery replacement
13 for a surgery center costs are approximately $10,000 because 14 that can be done at a surgery center or a hospital. But the 15 charges are about the same. $10,000 for the surgery center or 16 the hospital charges. The anesthesia charges go down to about 17 a thousand dollars. And then the surgeon charges go down to 18 about $10,000. So each time the battery is going to be 19 replaced, there's going to be $16,000 of additional costs
20 associated with that, based on the surgeon fees, the 21 anesthesia fees, the hospital charges or the surgery center
22 charges. But then there's cost of the batteries. So that's 23 the $22,000. So we're already kind of calculated that out.

24 Q Are you keeping a running total?

25 A I'm trying to. I'm doing my best. The laminectomy

1 or the revision of the leads is going to be the tricky part.
2 That's going to be need to be done, let's say, three times
3 over the course of his life to replace the electrodes or the
4 leads. That electrode cost, we've already kind of calculated
5 into that 45 to $65,000 charges. The surgery fees will be 6 similar to the original surgery fees. It might be reduced by
7 about $5000. So you're talking about a surgeon fee of $20,000
8 because they have to go in and revise the leads that are 9 placed. So they have to go in and do a spinal surgery again.
10 The hospital costs associated with that are still about the 11 same. They're about $70,000. And now you're adding in the 12 leads. So realistically, you're three times a year -- or 13 three times in a lifetime, you're going to have 70,000 -- or,
14 excuse me, $90,000 in costs. So that's 270,000. The $16,000
15 costs are going to be associated with ten times over a
16 lifetime. So you have $160,000 of surgery center costs.
17 That's going to cover those costs over the lifetime. You're 18 also know looking at the original $220,000 of the sort of cost
19 of the batteries times 10, so $220,000, plus the costs
20 associated with the electrodes, which is estimated to be 45 to 21 $65,000.

22 Q Can I average out at 50?

23 A Sure. That would be acceptable. And then those are 24 the associated hard costs with this. These devices typically 25 in their first year of life are going to require more frequent

1 programming changes. And the nice thing about having a
2 computer is you can program it. Some of the programming Mr.
3 Rodriquez can do on his own with the little computer. Some of 4 it requires visits in my office to be done. Those are
5 typically about a $300 charge. The first year -- every year
6 of the first year, so the -- of the four years, the first
7 year, there's going to be three of those visits -- or excuse
8 me, four of those visits. So you're talking about $1200 each
9 of the first years. And then additional years, that
10 programming needs to be done once a year. So you're talking
11 about an additional $2100 every time the battery is changed
12 for programming issues. So that's the other associated costs
13 with this.

14 Q That would total?

15 A That's going to be $21,000 times -- or excuse me,
16 $2100 times 10, so an additional $21,000. I think those are 17 all the costs. So I'm going to --

18 Q And that totals --

19 MR. BAKER: And we'll get the transcript and add it up,
20 Your Honor, and make sure it's all consistent.

21 BY MR. BAKER:

22 Q -- $721,000?

23 A That sounds about right over the lifetime --

24 Q 270 plus 160 plus 220 plus 50 plus 21,000.

25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. And is it your opinion to a reasonable degree
2 of medical probability that those charges are reasonable,
3 necessary, and would be causally related to the injuries that
4 Enrique sustained at the Palms Hotel?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Okay. Does he need the permanent spinal cord
7 stimulator?

8 A If we want him to get better, yes.

9 Q Well, let's assume we want him to get better. Is it
10 going to help him?

11 A Yes. It's already been shown to have helped him.

12 Q Were the results of the permanent spinal cord
13 stimulator but your experience similar to the temporary spinal
14 cord stimulator?

15 A They're similar, if not improved just because of the 16 efficiency of the delivery system of the electricity because 17 we're not shooting electricity in multiple different
18 directions. We're pushing it towards the spinal cord or 19 towards the nerve that we think are carrying these pain
20 signals.

21 Q You've reviewed a life care plan in this case?

22 A Yes, I have.

23 Q And there were certain medicine costs that were 24 involved in the life care plan?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And have you reviewed them?

2 A I have.

3 Q What medications are you aware that Enrique is on 4 right now?

5 A Currently he is on some medications to help control
6 some of his nerve type pain. I'd have to look at the actual
7 list. I hadn't memorized it.

8 Q Do you have an actual list?

9 A I do, in the life care plan.

10 Q Take your time and just a second and take a look.

11 A Okay. I'm on the page.

12 Q He's presently taking Valium?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And if he doesn't receive the -- well, let's go
15 through it this way. He's presently taking Valium. Correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And Hydrocodone?

18 A Yes.

19 Q What does Hydrocodone do?

20 A Hydrocodone is a pain medication. It's Vicodin or 21 Lortec.

22 Q Morphine?

23 A Morphine is another opiate pain medication.

24 Q Effexor.

25 A Effexor is an antidepressant medication that used

1 for treatment of chronic pain anxiety and depression.

2 Q Psychobenzadrine.

3 A That is a muscle relaxer type medicine.

4 Q Doculax [sic]?

5 A That is a stool softener for constipation that's
6 oftentimes associated with the use of opiate medications.

7 Q Anulose.

8 A That's another medication for constipation.

9 Q Okay.

10 A And there is one other one that he's taking for the 11 discomfort, which is Topomax, which is a medication for some 12 of the head and neck pain that he's also suffering. But it's 13 also used for nerve related pain. So -- it's listed here for 14 the purpose of headaches. But in my experience, this is a
15 useful for a nerve related pain.

16 Q If the pain stimulator works and relieves the pain,
17 as you said that it probably would and relieves the pain in 18 his knee, is Henry going to be pain free?

19 A No.

20 Q Explain that to me.

21 A Well --

22 Q Better, yet, explain that to Your Honor.

23 A Yeah. When you look at the bigger picture here,
24 clearly the major pain component in Mr. Rodriguez is his left
25 leg, left knee, which you think is nerve related or CRPS

AVTranz

1 related. The problem with decreasing or eliminating the pain
2 in that particular area is it makes other things more obvious.
3 He still has components of pain in his back, his neck, his
4 bilateral wrists. So as we relieve one pain, we'll make other
5 things more obvious. And they're not as severe as the leg pain
6 or the knee pain obviously. But when you relieve one, you're
7 now something else more and more obvious for the patient. So,
8 like for example, what was disappointing with his lumbar -- or 9 the trial spinal cord stimulator trial, is we were unable to 10 relieve his back pain. Well, unfortunately, when I saw him
11 back, his leg pain was gone, but his back pain became more
12 obvious once that other component of his discomfort was gone.
13 So it is likely that he may require additional care and 14 continuation of some of these medications. I would say that 15 there would be a reduction certainly in the need for these 16 medications which, you know, based on the component of his 17 pain and the sort of the totality of, you know, all of the 18 components of it, with the knee and the leg being the majority
19 of it, we may be able to get rid of, you know, 75 percent of 20 the costs of these medications by replacing it with something
21 much more efficient and directed towards the problem. But I
22 don't think you're going to get rid of them totally.

23 Q And I'll go with through it with you.

2 A -- if it's 42.

3 Q Thank you. And what is contained in Exhibit 42,
4 does it contain the records of your care and treatment of 5 Enriquez Rodriguez.

6 A I want to say mine is actually 41, what it looks
7 like.

8 Q Let's start that over again. All right.

9 It is 41. It is contained in Exhibit volume 2. Do
10 you have that?

11 A I do have it, but I don't have the ones that we made
12 copies of the other day, I have the original one.

13 Q Does that one contain it? No.

14 MR. BAKER: The Court's indulgence.

15 THE COURT: Sure.

16 THE WITNESS: Here they are. I have them up here.

17 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

18 THE WITNESS: I left them up here last.

19 MR. BAKER: Oh, incidentally, Your Honor, I found the 15 Q Exhibit 41 is your treatment records in this case?

16 A Yes, they are.

17 Q And they contain records of the care and treatment
18 that you rendered to Enriquez Rodriguez as a result of his 19 injuries at the Palms Hotel and Casino?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And was your treatment reasonable, necessary and
22 causally related to the injury --

23 A Yes.

24 Q -- he sustained at the Palms Casino?

25 A It was.

1 Q Is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of
2 medical probability?

3 A Yes, it is.

4 Q And what was the bill that you generated with
5 respect to care and treatment?

6 A I did not bring that bill with me, and it wouldn't
7 be part of this copy, but I'm sure you have a total there
8 somewhere. I just don't know what exhibit it is.

9 Q The bill is not contained in Exhibit 42 -- Exhibit
10 41?

11 A No. That's just a copy of my -- of my chart.

12 THE COURT: Is it in this copy that Counsel gave me the 13 other day?

14 MR. BAKER: I'm not sure, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: You don't think so?

16 MR. BAKER: I don't know, Your Honor. If you give me

21 Q We've disclosed in the course of discovery bills in

24 A That sound approximately the rate for the medical

6 A Yes.

11 THE COURT: Very well, noted for the record; 41 will be 12 admitted.

13 [Plaintiff's Exhibit 41 Received]

14 BY MR. BAKER:

15 Q And if you'll go to 40, is this the surgery that you
16 performed -- is it correct to call them surgeries, or would 17 they be procedures?

18 A They're procedures performed in a surgery center.
19 But because of the potential consequences they oftentimes are 20 treated as if they are surgeries because of the potential side
21 effects.

22 Q Would it be fair to say that the lumbar sympathetic
23 blocks are more procedures and the inferentation of the spinal
24 cord stimulator was more surgical in nature?

25 A Yes. You could argue either way for either one of

1 them. But, yes, I would agree with that statement.

2 Q And it had to be performed at the surgical center;
3 is that correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And Exhibit 40, is that the surgical center records
6 and bills?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And was -- would you please tell the Court what the 9 bill for the surgical procedure was?

10 A Well, there were two procedures performed there.
11 One was a lumbar sympathetic block, I think the third of which 12 that he had. One of the bills for that is $1,972, and that's 13 a reasonable standard bill for the southern Nevada community.

14 Q Is it also necessary and causally related to the 15 subject accident?

16 A It is.

17 Q To a reasonable degree of medical probability?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And that's to be found on Bates Number 04 in Exhibit
20 Number 40, which is contained in volume number 2?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And then there's another bill which is contained on
23 '03, for $32,550?

24 A Yes. That is the bill for the surgery center costs
25 associated with the implantation of the triple lead spinal

2 causally related to the Palm's incident, based on my
3 experience with these type of procedures and reviewing surgery
4 center bills.

5 Q To a reasonable degree of medical probability?

6 A Yes.

7 MR. BAKER: Move to admit 40, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Any objection, other than that stated
9 previously?

10 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: 40 will be admitted.

12 [Plaintiff's Exhibit 40 Received]

13 BY MR. BAKER:

14 Q You have Dr. Becker [phonetic], the Defendant's
15 expert witness report, is that right?

16 A I have, Your Honor.

17 Q And he speaks about mountains out of mole hills and 18 a constellation of injuries; is that correct?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And one of the things that you talked to me about
21 was that RSD is associated with the shrinking of the nerve
22 fibers in the tissue of the toe, which could result in things
23 like ingrown toes; is that correct?

24 A Yes. You're changing basically the ratio of the 25 nail to the nail bed. As you shrink the tip of the toe the

1 toenail stays the same size and it doesn't fit very well.

2 Q And that's something in your experience and through
3 the medical literature, which is related to either a complex
4 sympathetic pain syndrome or and RSD?

5 A Yes.

6 Q So would it make you giggle or something, if it was 7 suggested that Mr. Rodriguez' ingrown toenail is part of this
8 constellation of symptoms as related to his RSD?

9 A Would it make me giggle?

10 Q Sure. Or do you anticipate that someone with RSD
11 would get an ingrown toenail?

12 A No. That's kind of an anticipated progression of 13 this.

14 Q And would it be fair to say that within the record
15 now we've seen ingrown toenails which are associated with RSD?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Edema?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Allodynia?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Hyperesthesia?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Change in colors?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Temperature changes?

10 App. 1903

1 A Yes.

2 Q All of these are objective signs of RSD; is that
3 right?

4 A Yes. And just to point out, and I think we pointed 5 this out last time, is those can be present in some 6 circumstances and then absent, you know, a day later. So some 7 of the color changes and things like that can be kind of 8 transient, depending on when you're actually performing the 9 objective examination.

10 Q And that's -- does that dovetail with the finding of 11 a one hundred percent relief in pain in the prior sympathetic
12 lumbar blocks?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And that's again evidence of the fact of an existing 15 neurologically mediated pathology?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And is that the same too, with respect to the 18 response to the temporary pain stimulator?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Doctor, I'm going to ask you a question that's, I
21 don't know how you're going to feel about it, if it was 22 suggested to you that I am orchestrating this treatment and 23 building a case for him for gain, through my law office, how
24 would you respond to that?

25 A It would be quite a feat, because there's multiple

1 doctors involved in multiple States, in multiple specialties
2 that you would have had to contact and orchestrate, and --
3 that would be quite a feat.

4 Q It adds a little nefarious sound to it.

5 A A little more than that, yes.

6 Q Okay. I appreciate you saying that.

7 Could you turn to Exhibit Number 32.

8 MR. WARD: Object to the last question and move to strike
9 the answer. There's been no suggestion that he's 10 orchestrating everything in this case.

11 THE COURT: No suggestion at all?

12 MR. WARD: No.

13 MR. BAKER: And, Your Honor, let me state for the record,
14 is that he and I spoke about what occurred during opening and 15 everything's good as between us. You know, I'm not -- I'm 16 fine with that.

17 But with respect to the fact that whether 18 Dr. Foranti's [phonetic] bill came to my office, rather than 19 another medical care provider, I understand doing that in 20 front of a jury so people could look at me and say: Oh, bad
21 lawyer, look what he's doing. But I believe that that's 22 suggestive.

23 MR. WARD: May I respond to that?

24 THE COURT: Motions granted to the nefarious comment.

25 MR. WARD: I would just like to respond to that.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1 THE COURT: Sure.

2 MR. WARD: In fairness to Mr. Baker. My -- the reason I
3 asked that question is not because that I think Mr. Baker is 4 being nefarious, but because I believe that the submitting the 5 patient to Dr. Foranti, and the billing, and the report were 6 litigation expenses and not treatment expenses.

7 I did not say, nor did I suggest that there was 8 anything nefarious about it. I just thought it was -- it was 9 not a referral from the doctor. He didn't write report to the 10 doctor and it's potential litigation. People do that all the 11 time, there's nothing wrong with it. I didn't suggest there
12 was anything wrong with it.

13 MR. BAKER: I withdraw the question.

14 MR. WARD: That's the reason why I asked that question.

15 MR. BAKER: I withdraw my question.

16 THE COURT: Very well.

17 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

18 MR. WARD: I hope I'm not imputing your integrity, it's 19 not --

20 THE COURT: You know, here's the thing, gentlemen, and 21 I'm sure Mr. Baker is aware of that, I'm not sure Mr. Ward if 22 you're aware of it or not, we're seeing more and more and more
23 pretrial motions in limine on the subject of whether a case is 24 attorney-driven or somehow, you know, some medical build-up on 25 the issue of being attorney-driven.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1           And so, you know, the Court is sensitive to the
2 issue, because I see the issue come up a lot of times in
3 motions in limine. I don't know whether it was a motion in 4 limine in this particular case, frankly because I see the
5 particular motion in limine so many times.

6           And what I'll often ask counsel is, do you have any
7 evidence that the case is attorney-driven. Because if you do
8 I'd like to see it right here, right now. Maybe it is 9 relevant.

10          MR. WARD: I don't have any and I'm not contending it.

11          THE COURT: I understand you don't. But I think since
12 the issue came up I thought you might want to know I think 13 maybe what the source of it might have been.

14          MR. WARD: Certainly, certainly.

15          MR. BAKER: And my comment and my question was withdrawn,
16 Your Honor.

17          THE COURT: Okay. Very well.

18 BY MR. BAKER:

22          Q       Now I'd like to -- is this medical records having to

1 A Yes.

2 Q As you stated that's a medical condition and medical
3 procedure that you see frequently associated with complaints
4 of RSD?

5 A Yes.

6 Q I'd like to go through just a couple of sections of 7 it with you real quick. If you'll go through muscular
8 skeletal; what does it say?

9 A On the page 4 of this exhibit?

10 Q Exactly. Thank you.

11 A Okay. Muscular skeletal joint pain, muscle cramps,
12 back pain, difficulty with walking.

13 Q Are all of those things typically associated with 14 RSD?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And is this a podiatrist?

17 A This is a podiatrist, yes, Dr. Stacey [phonetic], I
18 believe.

19 Q So is it fair to say we now have a pain management
20 doctor, an orthopedic surgeon, a two pain -- well, two or 21 three pain management doctors all noting symptoms consisting 22 with an RSD, in this patient?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Let's go to something else. Let's go to skin.

25 A The integument/skin section notes change in color

1 and change in nails, both of which are indicative of RSD, or 2 CRPS.

3 Q Is change in color, that type of vascular mediated
4 change in color, due to the sympathetic response that you
5 described to the Judge earlier?

6 A Yes. That's what I believe this to represent.

7 Q Again, is that consistent with complaints of RSD?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And was the treatment reasonable and necessary and
10 causally related to the subject incident?

11 A It was. And there was another finding in there
12 consistent with RSD, which is under the hematologic and 13 lymphatic system. Slow to heal after cuts which implies and 14 impaired vascular supply to the extremity.

15 Q And the doctor performed an excision; is that right?

16 A Yes.

17 Q You'd be in a position to know?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Thank you. Do you know what the bill for this 20 particular treatment was?

21 A It appears to $782.50.

22 Q Is that reasonable and necessary, causally related
23 to a reasonable degree of medical probability?

24 A Yes.

25 MR. BAKER: Move to admit -- what exhibit number was

3 MR. BAKER: Move to admit 32, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Any objection, Mr. Ward?

5 MR. WARD: No news one, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Very well. It's noted for the record. I
7 will be admitted.

8 [Plaintiff's Exhibit 32 Received]

9 BY MR. BAKER:

10 Q I'm going to switch gears on you for a little bit,
11 perhaps take you into an area that's a little bit more
12 significant. You stated that Enriquez will require a 13 permanent pain stimulator; is that right?

14 A Yes, that's my opinion.

15 Q And that was your opinion to a reasonable degree of 16 medical probability; is that correct?

17 A Yes, that's correct.

18 Q And that's as a direct and approximate cause of the 19 subject incident?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And that's to a reasonable degree of medical
22 probability?

23 A It is.

24 Q What's the desire for the pain stimulator? Is it to 25 permanently mask his pain, or something different?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1           A     It's basically something when you've ran out of
2 options and you're trying to cover up the pain based on that
3 filter sort of theory that we talked about earlier.

4                     So essentially it's -- there's no other way to fix
5 the nerve problem. It's probably within the spinal cord at 6 that point and the stimulator is present to cover up the pain.
7 So when it's on the pain's covered up. When it's off it's not
8 covered up. So the pain would still be there.

9           Q     And Dr. Shaw testified that even though the pain
10 won't be felt the condition is still there?

11           A     Yes.

12           Q     You concur with that?

13           A     I do.

14           Q     Is it then your opinion that Enriquez Rodriguez,
15 with respect to his knee, suffered a permanent, it can be 16 forever, injury to his left knee?

17           A     Yes, that's my medical opinion.

18           Q     And Dr. Shaw also spoke about the fact that although 19 the pain might be masked he'll continue to limp?

20           A     He will continue to limp due to some anatomical
21 abnormalities present within the knee which cause him to limp,
22 which also caused changes in his posture and his gait.

23                     He may still require assistive devices if the 24 majority of the reason he's using those is because of the pain
25 in combination. So it really depends on the ratio of the pain

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

Denver (303) 634-2295

1 versus the anatomic abnormalities which may continue to cause
2 problems and need for assistive devices for ambulation.

3 Q And Dr. Shaw testified that he believes that carpal
4 tunnel syndrome that's he reported is caused by the use of
5 assistive devices, from probably some weight gain, compiled
6 with just the need to use his hands while -- to move around.
7 Do you concur with opinion?

8 A I do, yes. I think that's very reasonable to 9 assume. We oftentimes see that in patients who are using 10 assistive devices. Because if they injure one or both of 11 their lower extremities, they're now using a cane or a crutch,
12 which puts a lot of extra weight and pressure on the wrist,
13 which oftentimes leads to a diagnosis of carpal tunnel
14 syndrome.

15 Q And if he continues to need to use the assistive
16 devices is he caught in a vicious circle, or is that carpal
17 tunnel going to spontaneously heal?

18 A He's already formed it, so it's not going to 19 spontaneously heal even if the assistive devices and the need
20 for those go away.

21 Q And you're aware, and you've treated Mr. Rodriguez
22 for pain in other areas than just his knee; is that right?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q And when you gave him the trial pain stimulator, the 25 temporary pain stimulator, would you remind the Judge what

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 occurred with respect to his lumbar pain?

2 A We were attempting to treat both the lumbar and the 3 lower extremity symptoms with the same device. Although 4 initially 80 percent of his pain was resolved in the 5 procedure, or the operating room, as he got to do the test
6 drive over the four days we lost the coverage of his low back
7 and all of the stimulation provided him with complete relief
8 of his left lower extremities. So we could get that under 9 control, but his back was not able to be under control with 10 the stimulator, so his back is still an issue for him.

11 Q Do you know Enriquez' major, or there wasn't one
12 noted in the record with respect to his lumbar complaints?
13 Did we discuss this already?

14 A No. But I think it's -- the best sort of 15 explanation for that is found I believe in Dr. Fallgett's
16 [phonetic] notes where he basically says that at this point,
17 you know, he's now going to start focusing on the low back,
18 because we've sort of addressed his knee.

19 So it's sort of you have to prioritize symptoms that 20 patients have. His knee was the overwhelming problem at that
21 time. And as his gait and posture continued to be an issue
22 for him, his back became more of a problem as time went on,
23 and it continues to be a problem for him.

24 Q In your experience treating over these last, how 25 many years has it been now --

AVTranz

1 A I think almost --

2 Q No, your experience in being a medical provider?

3 A Oh, in my experience, I've been a physician since
4 1993.

5 Q In the area of pain?

6 A In pain management, well, that sort of encompasses
7 all specialties. So specifically pain since 1997.

8 Q From your experience and does the medical literature
9 suggest that individuals with overwhelming situs of pain tend
10 to complain less, or focus less on the secondary pain areas?

11 A Yes. I mean, and that's why when I see a patient I
12 will have them divide up their pain into different areas of 13 percentages, so I know what to focus on first.

14 Q And do you find that physicians tend to concentrate
15 most on the overwhelming pain area?

16 A Yes. I mean, that's why we call it the chief
17 complaint. So, I mean, it's -- you know, a patient may say:
18 I have left knee pain, back pain, neck pain, this and that and 19 they may list out a list of pain complaints. And you may get 20 them to focus on something and say: What is your main
21 complaint? What would you like me to address specifically
22 today? And for him initially that was left knee.

23 Q Okay. Is the pain stimulator going to work if 24 Enriquez is able to afford it?

25 A Yes.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 Q What's going to happen now, to a reasonable degree
2 of medical probability, with respect to his lumbar and
3 cervical complaints?

4 A They will become more obvious. Unfortunately as you
5 decrease one pain it becomes more obvious. It's sort of like
6 when I explain to patients that if you have one pain that 7 supersedes another one you'll focus less on that.

8 So the example I always give, if you're hammering
9 something and hit a hammer onto your thumb, I don't care if 10 blood is squirting out of your thumb, if somebody comes up and 11 stomps on your big toe, your big toe is going to hurt more.
12 At that particular moment you're going to focus on that.

13 So you could ask the patient the question at that 14 moment, what's bothering you more, they may say the big toe,
15 even though blood is squirting out of their thumb. But as the 16 big toe pain resolves you're now going to be focusing back on 17 the other complaint.

18 So it just becomes more obvious. Your mind kind of 19 focuses on and prioritizes things in a different way than you
20 may expect. I mean, a lot of times back pain is very 21 disabling to patients. But although Mr. Rodriguez had back
22 pain his knee seemed to be the main focus.

23 Q Dr. Shannon [phonetic], when she was speaking, and I
24 believe it was on cross, it wasn't in response to something
25 that I said, and analogy of a bunch of people talking in a

AVTranz

1 room, and one person screaming in a room standing next to you,
2 when that person shuts up finally you can hear the background
3 noise. Do you concur with that type of analogy?

4 A I think that's similar to what I just described,
5 that's probably a better analogy.

6 Q Do you want to use it from now on?

7 A I probably will.

8 Q I'll get you licensing rights through that, and
9 she'll probably have to sign something.

10 So did we describe why you believe Enriquez has 11 lumbar pain?

12 A I think I touched on it a little bit, but not --

13 Q And we've spoken to so many people recently that I'm 14 getting a little bit unclear as to who said what. But can you 15 please talk to the Judge about how -- what's the mechanism of 16 Enriquez' lumbar pain?

17 A Well, the mechanism probably began during the 18 initial event, but progressively worsened as time went on,
19 based on his abnormal gait, which created sort of a
20 compensatory reliance on other structures in your body.

21 So when your left knee hurts you may put more of 22 your weight on your right, so you may end up with a right knee
23 problem. When your leg hurts, your knee hurts, and you now
24 have to use crutches, which was present and continues to be 25 present in Mr. Rodriguez, that will change your gait, your

AVTranz

1 ability to ambulate without assistance, but it also will
2 change your posture.

3 And those postural changes were not only things that
4 were suggested, they were actually noted I believe on a -- or 5 excuse me, a CAT scan -- or no, I'm sorry, an x-ray study that 6 I saw in the chart, by Dr. Strilo [phonetic], it was 7 interpreted by him, showing some postural changes.

8 So it's not just subjectively, I look at him and I
9 say, he's walking differently than I would expect him to walk.
10 It's demonstrated, and findings are present even on x-ray
11 studies.

12 So I believe it started with the initial event and 13 has progressively worsened over the time that Mr. Rodriguez
14 has been suffering from the pain in his knee.

15 Q Overwhelmingly have the medical records demonstrated
16 an antalgic gait with respect to Mr. Rodriguez?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And do you believe that the precipitating event in 19 this developing lumbar problem was the incident that occurred
20 at the Palms Hotel in 2004?

21 A Yes. I don't see how you can separate the two.

22 Q Did that incident at the Palms in 2004 cause his 23 lumbar back pain, according to the mechanism that you just 24 described?

25 A I think ultimately, yes, it caused it. Was it

1 directly -- was it the overwhelming complaint at the moment,
2 no. But I think over time it developed.

3 Q Well, maybe I should ask this way: but for the
4 event at the Palms Casino would Mr. Rodriguez be suffering
5 from back pain today?

6 A No.

7 Q Is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of
8 medical probability?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And over time, still ambulating with an antalgic
11 gait, still using the assistive devices, if the pain
12 stimulator is placed in him more, what do you to a reasonable
13 degree of medical probability believe is going to happen with 14 respect to his lumbar complaints?

15 A I believe he'll ultimate submit to injection therapy
16 directed towards his lumbar spine, and ultimately surgery, or 17 more likely than not of the fusion type. Based on his weight
18 that a laminectomy or discectomy would create instability in 19 his spine and lead to more surgeries that are sort or 20 additive.

21 I think, in my experience with dealing with similar 22 cases and dealing with surgeons, they would opt in a person of 23 a body habit like Mr. Rodriguez has progressed into being,
24 being overweight, they're going to opt more towards a fusion
25 type surgery, which is going to create more stability in the

6 neurosurgeon, and I believe this is beyond the area of his 7 expertise as to what kind of surgery will be done and who will 8 do it.

9 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

10 MR. BAKER: Would you like me to lay foundation, Your
11 Honor?

12 THE COURT: I would.

13 BY MR. BAKER:

14 Q Since 1993 you've had many, many pain patients; is 15 that true?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And many, many pain patients who have had antalgic
18 gaits; is that correct?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And many, many pain patients who have had bio-
21 mechanic and postural changes with respect to their lumbar
22 spine?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And with respect to those patients you sent them out
25 to see surgeons; is that correct?

1 A Yes. And the other way, yes.

2 Q Okay. And so you've had referrals back and forth,
3 to you to manage the pain, and to the surgeons for a potential
4 surgical approach; is that fair to say?

5 A It's a team effort, yes.

6 Q And you're part of that team?

7 A I am.

8 Q And an important part of that team?

9 A I think so.

10 Q And as part of that team you keep in communication
11 with the surgeon, about the surgeon's recommendations and 12 treatment, cross-diagnoses, and prognoses; is that correct?

13 A Yes. Very seldom am I surprised, although I'm not a
14 surgeon as the other attorney pointed out, I am able to 15 anticipate basically, I'm very rarely surprised what the 16 surgeon will recommend as I've sent the patient to a surgeon
17 for a particular consultation. I typically can anticipate
18 what is going to be recommended.

19 So although I'm not performing the surgery myself I
20 am able to anticipate what the answer is going to be after 21 they've seen the surgeon.

22 Q And that anticipation is based upon medical 23 recognition of the physiologic factors which necessitate in 24 the surgery; is that fair to say?

25 A Yes.

2 the procedure, but it's a surgical referral; is that fair to

4 A Yes.

5 Q And you continue to communicate with the surgeon
6 about the treatment course?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And he continues to communicate with you about the 9 treatment course?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And the option for surgery becomes part of that team
12 effort that you've discussed?

13 A Yes, it's always an option.

14 Q And you've seen the bills for these surgeries many,
15 many, many times since 1993?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And you're familiar with the reasonable and 18 customary charges for surgery, including -- well, as distinct 19 from the physiological and pathological needs leading to 20 surgery?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Okay. And based upon that knowledge, your

24 you've seen us in a clinical sense, and your team effort with 25 a surgeon, is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of

1 probability that Enriquez Rodriguez will require a lumbar
2 surgery associated with the injuries he sustained at the Palms

4 A Yes.

5 MR. WARD: Your Honor, I object and move to strike. It's 6 one thing to report on what other practitioners have done,
7 which I object to, but it's still one -- it's one thing to do
8 that.

9 It's quite another to make a prognostication as to 10 what a surgeon would do. The last time I checked this 11 witness, even though he's a very well qualified
12 anesthesiologist, he's still sending patients out for surgical
13 consultations, he's not making them himself.

14 And I think that establishes that while he may be 15 the smartest guy in the world he's not qualified to give that 16 opinion for this Court. And in addition he's not been 17 disclosed as an expert.

18 MR. BAKER: And, Your Honor, these are identical
19 objections that were made at the time when Dr. Shaw testified.
20 Based upon the Pravue versus Radine [phonetic] case that we've 21 given you that speaks about the fact, that not only can a
22 doctor speak to reasonable sustentative causation, but even 23 standard of care.

24 Even when designated as a treating physician, and

1 case I can never remember the name of, that I submitted to the
2 Court during the course of Dr. Shannon's examination, I
3 believe he has adequate foundation to testify to it. The case
4 law readily supports you, in addition with the NRS, which 5 speaks about what the scope of an expert's testimony can be.

6 MR. WARD: And I would simply add, that case is not about
7 a non-disclosed expert offering opinions outside of their 8 field as to what kind of future treatment somebody else might
9 get that's not been previously disclosed.

10 BY MR. BAKER:

11 Q Do you believe that he's going to require a lumbar
12 surgery?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Dr. Shaw spoke about the fact that he might require
15 either a laminectomy or a fusion, but it seems to me that you
16 believe a fusion would be more appropriate under these
17 circumstances?

18 A Yes. I believe a laminectomy would be a stepping
19 stone to a fusion. So progressing in that sense is just going 20 to add medical costs and time delays for what ultimately seems
21 to be reasonable to do for Mr. Rodriguez.

22 Q Mr. Rodriguez hasn't been shown to be overwhelmingly 23 stenotic either, has he?

24 A He does have some stenosis present, which is multi-
25 factorial. It's due to disk bulging and ligamentus

1 hypertrophy, all narrowing the canal that is housing his
2 nerves and his spinal cord.

3 Q Do you believe he's going to need a fusion and
4 laminectomy?

5 A No.

6 Q Okay. So fusion is the road that you believe that 7 this is going to take?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of
10 medical probability?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And is the requirement for that fusion related to 13 the biomechanical and postural changes undergone by 14 Mr. Rodriguez as a result of the incident at the Palms Hotel
15 in 2004?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of
18 probability?

19 A Medical probability, yes.

20 Q Thank you. And yesterday I explained to you that
21 sometimes I forget to say medical probability. Each time I
22 ask to a probability of understanding I mean medical
23 probability.

24 A Yes, I do.

25 Q And each of the questions you've answered have been

1 to a reasonable degree of medical probability?

2 A Yes, they have.

3 Q Are they going to run off straight to do a fusion?

4 A No.

5 Q Can you explain the treatment course that would be
6 necessary on a somewhat less invasive basis prior to fusion?

7 A There would need to be some diagnostic, further
8 diagnostic workup that would be necessary. Dr. Kidwell,
9 another pain management physician that was involved in the 10 care of Mr. Rodriguez, had performed some epidural injections
11 in the cervical and lumbar spine previously, but they were 12 fairly -- no offense to Dr. Kidwell [phonetic] -- they were 13 fairly generic sort of injections, where he was trying to 14 infiltrate local anesthetic and some steroid medicine over
15 multiple levels, which is indicative of the type of procedure
16 that he had done. It was not really diagnostic, it was meant
17 to be therapeutic. So that's -- that particular injection had 18 a purpose to it.

19 The type of injections we're talking about are oftentimes
20 referred to as selective nerve root blocks, or transforaminal
21 epidural injections, where you're trying to isolate a disk
22 segment. Once you get an idea of which disks -- or disk or 23 disks are involved in the process, then you would move to 24 performing lumbar provocation discography to determine the 25 pain generator and the exact level. And then based on putting

1 all the pieces of the puzzle together: the patient's symptoms,
2 the MRI, the diagnostic injection studies including
3 discography, you would then formulate a plan to have a fusion
4 type surgery.

5 Q Start with the MRI. Do you know the cost for the 6 MRI in this area?

7 A It's around 1,400, $1,500.

8 Q And would that be reasonable, necessary, and 9 causally related to the subject incident?

10 A Yes.

11 Q To a reasonable degree of medical probability?

12 A Yes.

13 Q With respect to the discography, that also has to 14 take place at a surgical center?

15 A Yes.

16 Q So could you tell us -- break down the costs
17 associated with the discography?

18 A Based on the levels that his MRI shows, issues which 19 -- with -- which are multiple levels, he would need
20 discography at L1 to L2-3, L3-4, and L4-5, above and below the 21 levels of suspected pathology, which would help to validate
22 that study.

23 Q Are those control discs?

24 A The L1-2 and L4-5 would be, yes. So it would need
25 to be a four level discogram. And again, using the surgery

AVTranz

1 center, costs of $1,972 per level. You'd have about $8,000 in
2 costs associated with just surgery center fees. And then
3 there would be a physician fee, which is about $750 a level.
4 So there'd be another $3,000 in costs for the discogram, which
5 would be performed one time.

6 Q $11,000 altogether?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And would those discograms at those multiple levels
9 be reasonable, necessary, and causally related to the subject
10 incident at the Palms Hotel?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And that's a -- your opinion to a reasonable degree
13 of medical and only medical probability?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. With respect to the injections, what type of 16 injections would Enrique require?

17 A Those would sort of precede the discography. And 18 those would be the transforaminal epidurals, or selective
19 nerve root block injections. Those would ultimately be 20 performed in a series of three at multiple levels, just to get
21 an idea of where you're dealing with the pain from. So there
22 would be two needles with each one of those. The cost
23 associated with that particular injection from a physician
24 standpoint would be approximately $1,500. The cost from a
25 surgery center standpoint would have been approximately

1 $4,000. It is my anticipation to a reasonable degree of
2 medical probability that that would have to be done twice. So
3 you're talking about an extra $11,000 for two injections.

4 Q 10,500?

5 A I think it's 55 --

6 Q 11,000, right.

7 A Yeah.

8 Q Okay. And is that $11,000 for -- and the injections
9 associated with that -- reasonable, necessary, and causally
10 related to the subject incident?

11 A Actually I did the math wrong for you. I led you to 12 believe something that wasn't true. It's 16,500, because it
13 would have been done three times.

14 Q Okay. And I was going to ask you about that.
15 Typically it's a series of three shots?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And the total cost for that would be $16,500?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And is -- are those shots, injections, and the 20 associated costs reasonable, necessary, and causally related
21 to the incident occurring at the Palms Hotel?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of 24 medical probability?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Tell us about the lumbar surgery that he will
2 undergo.

3 A The lumbar fusion surgery involves removal of a disc
4 and placement of a combination of metal and bone into an area
5 where the disc used to be so it maintains that height. There
6 is hardware that is placed in the form of screws and bars in
7 that particular area. Basically what I describe to patients
8 is kind of like super gluing a handle onto your favorite
9 coffee mug. You -- your hands are very important while you're 10 -- while the glue is bonding, but after the glue bonds your 11 hands are no longer important. The hardware is there to hold
12 all the bony structures in place so that the patient does not 13 move too much to displace any of that bone fragments or the 14 metal that's placed in there.

15 So that -- the big determining factor, would that need to 16 be done at one or two levels. That's what I do not know. And 17 I don't want to guess on that. Based on the MRI, I would say
18 it's L2-3 and L3-4 which are the likely levels to be done.
19 That would change the price range for the surgery from 20 approximately $100,000 for a single level fusion all the way
21 up to about $150,000 for a two level fusion, including the 22 hospital costs and the physician costs.

23 Q That's exactly the numbers to which Dr. Shaw
24 testified, I believe. So you concur with his opinion in that 25 regard?

1           A     I do, because I don't think anybody at this point
2 knows if it's going to be a one level or two level type
3 fusion.

4           Q     But is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of 5 medical probability that at least a one level fusion will have
6 to be performed upon Enrique Rodriguez caused by the injuries
7 he sustained at the Palms Hotel and Casino?

8           A     Yes.

9           Q     And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of
10 probability?

11          A     Medical probability, yes.

12          Q     Thank you. And the 100 to $150,000 was reasonable,
13 necessary, and caused by the subject collision?

14          A     Yes.

15          Q     By the subject incident at the Palms Hotel and 16 Casino?

17          A     Yes. It was sort of a collision, yes.

18          Q     Yeah. Well, I was kind of thinking that too. Thank 19 you. And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of
20 medical probability?

21          A     Yes.

22          Q     Is -- and I asked Dr. Shaw this. I want you to do

1 that he describes if he gets the spinal cord stimulator on a
2 permanent basis and if he does not get the spinal cord
3 stimulator on a permanent basis?

4 A Well, I think that if he gets the spinal cord
5 stimulator on a permanent basis his life will be much
6 different than it is now. The pain level will be down.
7 Again, once you take away that pain, you're going -- other
8 things are going to become more obvious and the focus may 9 become on his back. The least of all of his problems I'm 10 worried about is his neck at this point. But again, that -- 11 as you fix the back, the neck may become the focus. But I'm 12 looking at --

13 Q Nobody's been real comfortable to comment on any 14 future treatment with respect to his neck. Are you?

15 A Not at this point. I don't -- I mean obviously it's 16 there on all the pain diagrams, but I don't know what that's 17 going to require and I don't feel comfortable stating anything
18 to a reasonable degree of medical probability. The best I can 19 give you is possibilities, which I know is not necessarily 20 preferred here in court. But as far as his neck -- or excuse
21 me, his neck, I would sort of leave that to speculation as to 22 what's going to happen there.

23 But in relation to his back and his knee, I don't 24 foresee the gait abnormalities dramatically changing just the 25 pain level is gone. I believe Dr. Becker even speculated that

1 he feels that Mr. Rodriguez will require a knee replacement
2 and put that --

3 Q Who said this?

4 A Dr. Becker, the other expert that was included in 5 the life care plan provided.

6 Q Whose expert?

7 A The defense expert.

8 Q So the defense expert says that he believes he's 9 going to need a knee replacement?

10 A Yes, according to the life care plan and the coding
11 by Ms. Highland, who's, I guess, a vocational rehab
12 specialist. They talked about in 5 to 10 years Mr. Rodriguez
13 will need a total knee replacement if he doesn't lose weight.
14 And I didn't see how they had planned on getting him to lose
15 weight because it seems like as his gait abnormality and his 16 life has changed, his weight has done nothing but increase.
17 So I don't know how we're magically going to make him lose
18 weight at this point. But they estimated a cost of 19 $103,751.94 --

20 Q Is that a single time cost?

21 A It's a one-time cost only, which --

22 Q With respect to a knee replacement?

23 A Which was odd for the circumstances because knee
24 replacements, as Dr. Becker I'm sure should know, have 25 lifetime plans sort of with them, or life spans. Usually

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

Denver (303) 634-2295

1 that's in the range of 10 to 15 years. So it's likely that
2 once you get a knee replacement, in 10 to 15 years you're
3 going to have to have a second one. And in Mr. Rodriguez's
4 situation, likely a third one depending on the age limits and
5 things. Dr. Becker also pointed out that Mr. Rodriguez has
6 good genes and apparently is planning on living a while. So I
7 would anticipate that there's going to be a need for three 8 knee replacements just because of the gait abnormalities and 9 the weight.

10 He will also need a permanent spinal cord stimulator. We 11 outlined those costs. And I believe that he will need a -- at 12 least a one level lumbar fusion. That doesn't even account
13 for the potential for what we call adjacent segment breakdown.
14 Once you fused one level, you're potentially now exposing the 15 other levels, you know, to additional risk of surgery, which 16 is usually given at a 1 to 3 percent chance per year.

17 So even if you kind of take the average of that and look
18 at the level at which you would have an operation, which in 19 this case let's -- we'll just pick L3-4 just as a single 20 level. You're looking at a risk above and below. So within 21 25 years -- and he still has at least a 25-year life
22 expectancy -- an adjacent segment problem is probable, 50
23 percent or more, at one or both of those levels, just based on 24 the simple math.

25 Q Did you see in Doctor --

16 sufferers. Is that fair to say?

17 A That's correct.

18 Q And you've read the medical literature with respect
19 to adjacent segmental disc disease; is that correct?

20 A Not only have I read the literature regarding the 21 subject, I've been a medical legal expert both on the 22 plaintiff and the defense side. And I've read reports from 23 physicians on each side and no one seems to argue with the 1
24 to 3 percent sort of range. I kind of picked the number sort
25 of in the middle, sort of as a middle of the road number, but

1 there's a 2 percent range.

2 It's basically based on accelerated degeneration which
3 occurs. If you take away a segment -- if you just think of it
4 as three workers, one guy is now -- he calls out sick, the
5 other two are going to have to do more work. And with a
6 fusion you're looking at it as a permanent sort of an issue,
7 and the additional adjacent segments are going to have to do
8 more work. So it's a very accepted fact of that 1 to 9 3 percent range. I'm sure we could get you some literature --

10 Q Is adjacent segmental disc disease something that's
11 commonly recognized in the Las Vegas medical community?

12 A In the world community, not just Las Vegas.

13 Q And is it something that's even warned about when 14 surgeons are speaking to their patients about the possible
15 consequences and normal risks of surgery?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Is it contained in writing on those forms that 18 you've seen?

19 A It's typically a big list of -- it's almost like a
20 disclosure list. I discuss with the patient erectile
21 dysfunction, adjacent segment breakdown, infection, death,
22 paralysis. I mean those are kind of the list of things that
23 surgeons typically will put in a consultation with a
24 recommendation for surgery.

25 Q Have you ever been pro --

1 MR. WARD: May I renew my objection, Your Honor. I
2 believe -- it's not that I don't think this witness is a well
3 qualified anesthesiologist. It's not that I don't think he
4 discusses such things with his patient. But he's not
5 disclosed as an expert witness and I think it's insufficient
6 to come in and testify about orthopedic things on the basis of 7 I've read some articles and I've talked to some doctors and
8 I've seen some reports. I think that's insufficient.

9 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

10 MR. BAKER: That's not what he testified, Your Honor. He 11 testified that in his experience as a treating physician for 12 long-term pain sufferers he's seen many, many instances of 13 this. He speaks to his patients about this, he discusses 14 these issues with others; that he's spoken about it on behalf
15 of both plaintiffs and defendants.

16 BY MR. BAKER:

17 Q And has that been in courts, in the district court
18 in Clark County, Nevada?

19 A It's been in court in Nevada. But it's also the 20 same discussion I have when we talk about the reason for 21 discography with patients. We're using the above and below
22 sort of levels as control levels to determine are they bad at 23 the time you're contemplating surgery, understanding that 24 these will go bad on a more likely than not basis eventually 25 based on that 1 to 3 percent sort of adjacent segment

AVTranz

1 breakdown.

2 Q And is it also true that the discography that you
3 perform, for example, if it's an L4-5 disc that's suspect of
4 being bad and that they're going to fuse and an L3-L4
5 discogram shows an internal disc obstruction in the superior
6 disc, is that information that you provide used by surgeons
7 to determine then to do a two level instead of one level
8 fusion?

9 A Yes. I mean all that information becomes important.
10 And in that scenario you would have had to test the L2-3 disc,
11 which would be kind of considered a normal disc in that
12 scenario, and then the L5-S1 disc, that they would not show
13 any anatomic -- any major anatomic abnormalities or any pain
14 responses.

15 Q Okay.

16 MR. BAKER: Based upon that, Your Honor, the cases that 17 we provided you with respect to the discretion that the Court
18 has in allowing a nonretained expert to testify, his 19 experience, his treatment of patients, the communications he's 20 had with doctors, plus the fact that he informs doctors
21 whether or not an adjacent level is likely to have advanced
22 disease on the basis of discography, I think it's appropriate
23 for him to speak on this issue.

24 THE COURT: The objection is overruled. For the record
25 -- the Court notes Mr. Ward's objection. For the record, I

2 just was curious to know specifically from this witness. So
3 thank you.

4 MR. BAKER: You're welcome --

5 THE COURT: Please proceed.

6 MR. BAKER: -- Your Honor.

7 BY MR. BAKER:

8 Q And is it your opinion to a reasonable degree of 9 medical probability that he will undergo that sort of problems
10 with the adjacent vertebral level?

11 A Eventually. Again, if we're just sticking with kind
12 of the average and just picking the 2 percent, I'm expecting
13 that his life expectancy is going to be greater than 25 years
14 as I've testified to earlier, which makes it more likely than 15 not and probable, medically probable, that he will suffer
16 additional breakdown above and/or below based on just the 17 passage of 25 years of time.

18 Q Have you spoken in your -- its entirety about your 19 prognosis with respect to Enrique if he receives the permanent
20 pain stimulator?

21 A That won't change. The receipt of the permanent
22 stimulator won't change the need for spine surgery. His pain
23 was still there even with the temporary.

24 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of
25 medical probability?

AVTranz

1 A Yes.

2 Q Before I asked you just as a kind of please describe
3 to the Court what his life will be like, what his prognosis is
4 if he gets the permanent pain stimulator. Have you discussed
5 that in its entirety?

6 A No. I mean obviously his pain -- we suspect his 7 pain will be reduced. Hopefully he will become more -- or 8 it's anticipated that he will become more functional, be less
9 depressed about his situation that he's got going on. The 10 idea of being more functional means quality of life,
11 participation in activities of daily living that he has not
12 been able to participate in at this point. But I don't think
13 that's going to change significantly his development of this 14 antalgic gait. I don't think that's going to change his 15 development of the postural and specifically the gait
16 abnormalities, or the need for the knee replacement or the 17 lumbar surgery.

18 Q Let me discuss something to you about his medicine,
19 because you're describing a reduction in his pain associated 20 with the implantation of the pain stimulator. Is that fair?

21 A That's -- that is fair.

22 Q Are you aware that he's currently on valium?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And have you reviewed the life care plan by 25 Ms. Hartman?

1 A Yes.

2 Q She had a total cost of the valium to his life plan
3 of $10,230, with a present value -- and if you want to look at 4 it it's on page 13 of the life care plan.

5 A Do you have a -- I have a copy of --

6 MR. BAKER: May I approach the witness, Your Honor?

7 THE COURT: Yes.

8 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, may I stand next to the witness?

9 THE COURT: Sure.

10 BY MR. BAKER:

11 Q Do you see the charges for valium?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And do you agree and concur that the total lifetime
14 cost would be the approximate amount of $10,230?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Discounted to present value of $7,619?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Would there be a reduction associated with his 19 reduction in his pain complaints for the future costs of his 20 valium?

21 A No.

22 Q The same question with respect to the hydrocodone.
23 Is that a painkiller?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And you see that the total cost for life would be

AVTranz

1 $16,741?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Does that sound reasonable to you?

4 A It sounds reasonable, but that's one of the 5 medications I would suspect that would be reduced by 6 approximately 75 percent --

7 Q Okay.

8 A -- along with the next item, which is morphine.

9 Q Let's go -- before that, I gave the present value of 10 16,000. Did you know -- excuse me, the total value of 16,000.
11 Do you note a present value at 12,480?

12 A Yes.

13 Q So it would be your testimony to this Court that he 14 may only need about a quarter of that cash?

15 A Yes, or approximately $3,000 worth of hydrocodone
16 over the lifetime.

17 Q And how about with respect to morphine. It had a
18 totaled up cost of 46,883 and a present at 34,749. Am I
19 reading that correctly?

20 A That is correct.

21 Q Do you again concur with those cost projections?

22 A I agree with the cost projections. But again, as 23 the permanent spinal cord stimulator would be placed, my 24 estimate of reduction would be approximately 75 percent as 25 well.

1 Q So 75 percent of approximately $35,000?
2 A Yes.
3 Q Can you do the math?
4 A I could. It's about --
5 Q 8,300?
6 A -- 8,500 or something like that.
7 Q Okay. And is that your opinion to a reasonable
8 degree of probability?
9 A Yes.
10 Q And that cost would be reasonable, necessary, and 11 casually related to the accident?
12 A Yes.
13 Q And that's true with respect to the valium as well?
14 A Yes.
15 Q And the hydrocodone?
16 A Yes.
17 Q How about -- what's Effexor?
18 A Effexor is a antidepressant type medicine that's 19 used for anxiety and depression. I'm hopeful that that will
20 be reduced, but I'm not confident enough to say it to a
21 reasonable degree of medical probability.
22 Q So the present value of the Effexor is?
23 A 25 -- or present value is $18,667 and the total cost
24 is 25,186.
25 Q More likely than not, is that total present value

AVTranz

1 going to be required with respect to the injuries and damages
2 sustained by Enrique at the Palms Hotel?

3 A Yes.

4 Q To a reasonable degree of probability?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Are there any other medications that he's currently
7 on? By the way, some of those narcotic pain medications cause
8 constipation?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay. And is it reasonable, necessary, causally
11 related to give him something to try and assist with that 12 problem?

13 A Yes. I mean that's a very common problem, not only 14 with the pain medications but the lack of activity and the 15 concurrent use of muscle relaxer type medicines like valium
16 and cyclobenzaprine, which is a Flexeril type medicine.

17 Q Is the next medicine on that list cyclobenzaprine?

18 A Yes, it is.

19 Q And what's the total value as projected by Kathleen
20 Hartman with respect to that medication?

21 A The present value is $5,021 and the total cost is 22 $6,774.

23 Q With respect to the present value, would you
24 anticipate a reduction in that specific medication?

25 A No.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 Q Okay. So more likely than not it will remain at 2 5,021?

3 A Yes. I would say that would remain due to the fact
4 that it's a muscle relaxant. I didn't -- do not anticipate
5 that being useful to treat his knee, but I would say that's 6 more useful to treat his low back and partly his neck issues.

7 Q That's your opinion to a reasonable degree of
8 medical probability?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And that type of medication, reasonable, necessary,
11 and causally related to the accident to a reasonable degree of 12 medical probability?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And the two laxatives, are those two -- by the way,
15 would you read the next two medications?

16 A Doculace and Enulose syrup. Both are used for 17 constipation. They're laxatives and stool softeners. The 18 Doculace has a present value of $4,158 and a total cost of 19 $5,610. The Enulose syrup has a present value of $10,157 and 20 a total cost of -- I think this is probably incorrect. These 21 numbers don't necessarily make sense. The total cost should 22 be higher. So I'm --

23 Q Yeah, it seems like they're inverted.

24 A Yes, or the number -- there should be a one in front
25 of there. But I --

1 Q Could you project for the Court what the total value
2 of the --

3 A Well, if we're using the present value and we're
4 assuming the numbers are inverted, they're approximately 5 $11,000. Again, I would envision those would be decreased by 6 75 percent as well, because much of the reason for the 7 constipation is due to the use of the opiate type medicines,
8 the hydrocodone and the morphine.

9 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of
10 medical probability?

11 A Yes.

12 MR. BAKER: You have a objection?

13 MR. WARD: Yeah. I'd like to object for the record and 14 move to strike. Your Honor, we've been given -- one of the 15 experts that was disclosed in this case was a life care
16 planner. And a life care plan was provided and the life care
17 planner was deposed, and all of those questions were asked and 18 answered.

19 Now we find out the life care planner's not going to be 20 called and this treating physician is testifying as to 21 expenses that are much higher than set forth in the life care
22 plan. There's no point in disclosing experts at some point if 23 you can just bring in everything that you want to any way you
24 want to do it.

25 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I --

1 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

2 MR. BAKER: I think that we have the right to put in 3 futures through either a life care planner or through the 4 physicians who are actually referring and prescribing the
5 future treatment. And I think that it's typically preferred
6 by the Court for the doctors to put in the evidence rather 7 than to have the life care planner go through the medical 8 records and pick the medical records and try to project
9 expenses. And I believe that the life care planner would 10 probably have drawn exactly the type of hearsay objection from 11 Mr. Ward that we've been hearing through the whole trial.

12 This is a doctor testifying to medicines that have been
13 prescribed to his patient, the future need for those medicines
14 and the costs. And again, on the basis of the cases that 15 we've given you, Gruber v. Levine [phonetic], the cases that 16 we've cited to this Court for the wide discretion for him to 17 speak, and the fact that he's actually a treating physician
18 and not a retained expert. This is, respectfully, completely
19 appropriate.

20 THE COURT: Any final thoughts, Mr. Ward?

21 MR. WARD: Yeah. I'll make it quick, Your Honor. I know
22 Your Honor's tired of hearing this, but I feel the need to 23 make the record because essentially here's the issue we have.
24 When a life care planner comes in, the life care planner is 25 given parameters about treatment. The life care planner

1 doesn't say this person needs a back surgery, but they do go
2 out and do things.

3           It's a -- to some extent it's a little bit like buying a
4 car, say, you know, I went to this dealer and the car's this
5 much and I went to this dealer and the car is this much, and I
6 went to that dealer and the car is that much. And then when 7 we take the life care planner's deposition, that's what we
8 cross-examine him on. And essentially what we have instead is 9 we have someone coming in and saying well, you know, off the 10 top of my head, I just -- I'm not really sure what all those 11 things cost, but I think it's a lot of money; and therefore, I
12 think it's X dollars. And --

13           THE COURT: I think we're stuck with whatever the figures
14 are in that exhibit. Is that an exhibit?

15           MR. BAKER: It's not an exhibit, Your Honor. And I'm 16 actually asking him to testify not with respect to the 17 exhibit, but whether what's put forward on it comports with 18 his understanding as a treating physician and as a doctor of 19 what these medicines would cost. And I believe I laid the 20 foundation for that asking if he knew what these medicines
21 cost in the community, if he was being prescribed these 22 medicines currently, if those medicines were reasonable,
23 necessary and causally related to the subject accident, and to 24 what the future costs of it. If I don't want to call the life
25 care planner and put it in through percipient witnesses, I

1 believe that's completely appropriate.

2 THE COURT: Final thoughts?

3 MR. WARD: I would offer to voir dire their witness on 4 this topic.

5 THE COURT: I think you're entitled to examine this
6 witness as you have been doing, Mr. Baker, but I don't think
7 he can speculate about some figures being inverted or anything
8 like that. So --

9 MR. BAKER: Yeah. And actually, Your Honor --

10 THE COURT: -- to that extent --

11 MR. BAKER: -- I was going to -- I thought that his 12 objection was going to be that. And I wasn't -- I was going 13 to withdraw that testimony, because if he is speculating that 14 they're inverted or there should be a one --

15 THE COURT: Right.

16 MR. BAKER: -- then that's not appropriate.

17 THE COURT: To that extent, Mr. Ward's objection is 18 granted. Otherwise it's denied.

19 MR. BAKER: Okay.

20 BY MR. BAKER:

1 before, you read -- was it Dr. Becker's report?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And do you recall when he said he in no way would
4 want to trivialize the damage that was caused to 5 Mr. Rodriguez's knee as a direct result of the trauma he
6 sustained at the Palms?

7 A Yes.

8 Q If he was suggesting that he doesn't need a spinal
9 cord stimulator given all the evidence that you've seen: your
10 clinical exams and everything that you've reviewed, would you
11 -- your opinion be that he was trivializing the knee injury?

12 A I don't think he specifically addressed the spinal
13 cord stimulator to the extent that I would have expected in a
14 expert report, based on the fact that he's a orthopedic
15 surgeon and a psychiatrist. I'm not sure how familiar he is 16 with spinal cord stimulator and the technology, but this is a
17 very standard procedure that we perform on these patients.
18 Dr. Becker pointed out, as Mr. Enrique Rodriguez told him
19 during the testimony, that I was the one -- and I remember
20 Mr. Rodriguez being very excited about this -- that I was the 21 one who put in Jerry Lewis's spinal cord stimulator, the 22 Muscular Dystrophy Association chairman. He put that in 23 Dr. Becker's notes. Dr. Becker felt the need to comment on
24 that.

25 I believe I'm an expert in this. I don't know that I

1 would consider Dr. Becker to be an expert in spinal cord
2 stimulation just based on his lack of comment on these in any
3 specific scientific way. There was no argument against the 4 spinal cord stimulator; he just discounted the idea, which
5 that was sort of ridiculous.

6 Q Could you tell the Court what you believe the 7 prognosis will be if Enrique doesn't receive a spinal cord
8 stimulator?

9 A I think it will be more of the same. I think you're 10 going to see extensive weight gain, I think you're going to 11 talk about knee replacements much earlier than we would have,
12 you know, in Dr. Becker's estimation. He's an orthopedic
13 surgeon, I'm just quoting his estimate. He felt that if 14 there's no reduction in weight gain that a knee replacement is 15 going to be necessary in the next 5 to 10 years. Without 16 increasing his activity some way, I don't know how we're going
17 to get that weight loss. So just looking at it from a purely 18 knee standpoint, he's going to need a knee replacement in the 19 next 5 to 10 years.

20 If the weight keeps escalating -- I think we've kind of 21 estimated here that he's gained 60 to 70 pounds; some
22 estimates are even up to 100 pounds more than his ideal body
23 weight -- I get the feeling that, to a reasonable degree of 24 medical probability, that the need for the knee replacement
25 will be escalated and occur much quicker than it is now. And

AVTranz

1 he will still need the three knee replacements over time.
2 He'll eventually submit to the back surgery and -- that we
3 talked about just because of the gait abnormalities, which are
4 going to be present due to the knee operation.

5 We haven't even got to the fact that he's now describing
6 some right knee pain, which is oftentimes a result of the gait
7 abnormality. So I don't even want to get into that part of it
8 because there's other things that happen as a result of this.
9 So more of the same will occur if he doesn't get the spinal
10 cord stimulator.

11 Q Did you read in Dr. Shaw's records where Dr. Shaw
12 recommended potentially a gastric bypass?

13 A I believe, yes, he did call for a gastric bypass
14 surgery.

15 Q So without a spinal cord stimulator, he might even 16 have to undergo gastric bypass?

17 A In order to lose weight, yes.

18 Q Doctor, is Mr. Rodriguez disabled?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Is he permanently disabled at this point?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And is he 100 percent disabled?

23 A I don't --

24 Q Do you defer that to somebody who does vocational
25 rehabilitation?

2 Q And if he receives the spinal cord stimulator and
3 makes great advances as we hope he will, would you defer what
4 his future vocational capabilities would be to that same sort
5 of vocational rehabilitation expert?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Doctor, has -- have all your opinions today been to

9 A Yes.

10 Q I appreciate your time.

11 MR. BAKER: Pass the witness, Your Honor. This is going

CROSS-EXAMINATION

1
2 BY MR. WARD:

3 Q Doctor, you told us on Friday that -- actually you
4 didn't tell us anything on Friday, Friday was Nevada day, so
5 we weren't here.

6 You've been retained as an expert witness before?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Have you ever been retained by Mr. Baker or his 9 firm?

10 A His firm, yes.

11 Q On how many occasions?

12 A Three.

13 Q Three. And what were you retained for?

14 A Two review records, kind of a forensic record review
15 to come up with a treatment plan for a patient. And I think
16 those are the three -- I think that that's the only purposes,
17 other than being a treating physician.

18 Q Okay. And review of opposing reports?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Now as a treater, how do you -- do you see patients?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Patients come in and they're referred by other
23 patients?

24 A Other doctors, usually.

25 Q Your referrals usually come from doctors?

AVTranz

1           A     Usually. But it can come from attorneys, it can
2 come from other patients, things like that, family members.

3           Q     Sure. Sure. And so when those situations arise you
4 take a look at the patient themselves?

5           A     Yes.

6           Q     And you interview them?

7           A     Yes.

8           Q     Do you take notes?

9           A     Yes.

10          Q     Do you examine them?

11          A     Yes.

12          Q     Sometimes you look at prior medical records?

13          A     When available, yes.

14          Q     Do you routinely gather all their medical records?

15          A     It depends on the circumstances. That's preferable,
16 but not always available.

17          Q     Okay. Do you routinely look at expert reports?

18          A     Yes.

19          Q     Opposition expert reports?

20          A     Yes.

21          Q     As a treating physicians?

22          A     Yes. That's part of the job, yes.

23          Q     It is? In what way, what do you -- how is looking 24 at opposing expert reports part of being a treating physician?

25          A     Well, you want to see the totality of the records

AVTranz

1 when -- again, when available, and all these records were made
2 available to me, which would include Dr. Becker's [phonetic]
3 records, I'm assuming you're referring to. But you want to 4 look at all points-of-view and to come to an unbiased
5 conclusion regarding the information presented.

6 So it's a piece of data that would be odd for me to 7 dismiss or not look at.

8 Q So whenever you have a regular patient you get all
9 expert reports, even opponent litigation reports?

10 A If they're available, yes. I typically am referred 11 those. I mean, again, no one's really discussed with me in my 12 practice, but the great majority of my practice, probably 80,
13 85 percent of it revolves around the industrial system. So
14 oftentimes I am court-appointed to see a patient and I have 15 all these documents available to me. So it's not unusual for 16 me.

17 Q Well, when you're court appointed you're actually
18 actively involved in litigation, are you not?

19 A No. I'm usually the, sort of the guy who's middle 20 of the road and sort of calls it like it is, which is why the 21 court refers the patients to me for the review. So I'm just 22 the guy chosen.

23 Q Okay. You're the guy that's the middle of the road.
24 You're the guy who said in 2008, "I believe that this patient
25 had undergone conservative treatment"?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. Now in 2008 we were four years post-accident?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And he had how many surgeries at that point?

5 A I think it was two surgeries on his left knees.

6 Q And how many doctors had he seen?

7 A I'd have to total them up, but approximately eight

8 to ten.

9 Q Okay. And how many MRIs and arthrograms had he had?

10 A Several.

11 Q And how many times had he been to physical therapy?

12 A I don't know.

13 Q And that's your -- that's what you call conservative

14 treatment?

15 A To the point where I was involved, yes, that -- I

16 would consider that conservative treatment.

17 Q What do you call "non-conservative treatment"?

18 A Where we're implanting things in patients, like the

19 spinal cord stimulator, things like that --

20 Q Oh.

21 A -- where we're talking about a major surgery on the

22 spine.

23 Q Okay. Now, you never talked to Dr. Foranti, did

3 Q Okay. So you haven't talked to Dr. Foranti about
4 this case?

5 A No.

6 Q You haven't seen Dr. Foranti's notes about this
7 case?

8 A Handwritten notes?

9 Q Notes?

10 A You're going to have to be a little more specific,
11 because I've seen records from Dr. Foranti regarding the 12 handwritten notes. I don't think those were made available to 13 me.

14 Q You've seen a report, have you not?

15 A Yes.

16 Q You've seen more than that?

17 A I've seen what?

18 Q More than that --

19 A I think --

20 Q -- from Dr. Foranti?

21 A I think I've seen documentation, typed

6 A No.

7 Q And you know what that is, right?

8 A It's a report.

9 Q Right. It's not notes, is it?

10 A You asked about notes, that's why I didn't know what 11 you meant, but --

12 Q Right. You know what notes are?

5 a number of people that had diagnosed Mr. Rodriguez as having
6 RSD. Isn't that correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q You did not testify that they testified that they

10 MR. BAKER: That misstates his testimony, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: I'm sorry.

13 a further workup. You said that they testified that he had
14 RSD.

5 that the patient had RSD?

6 A Yes. I must have misspoke.

7 Q You must have misspoke?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Let me play your testimony from Thursday afternoon,

11 [Pause]

12 Q We seem to have a technical difficulty, so I'm going

3 MR. BAKER: Your Honor --

4 THE COURT: That's always the way, isn't it.

5 Mr. Baker?

6 MR. BAKER: We had that conversation -- with respect, can
7 I ask you not to play it for just one sec, please.

8 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: Sure.

9 MR. BAKER: About the use of the deposition with respect
10 to -- or testimony with respect to a witness and prior 11 testimony. And he's just playing something not for 12 impeachment purposes and not in any specific context. He's 13 asked the witness if he said something. The witness answered
14 what he said, and then he said, "Perhaps I misspoke" about
15 something.

16 So this is not impeachment, and is not the proper
17 way, or the proper reason to use prior testimony, consistent,
18 inconsistent or otherwise.

19 THE COURT: Mr. Ward?

20 MR. WARD: It is impeachment. It makes it clear, he 21 didn't misspeak at all.

22 THE COURT: Well, if he's playing it for purposes of

2 "Yes," and then plays it to show that he in fact did say what
3 he admitted to saying, that's not impeachment.

4 THE COURT: Well, understand your point. But if he can

6 MR. BAKER: And I really --

7 THE COURT: -- the opportunity.

8 MR. BAKER: -- want to see it, because it's cool, and 9 I've never seen it never it happen before.

10 THE COURT: You know what, Mr. Baker, it is so cool.
11 It's one of the most effective things that I've seen done
12 during the course of trial. I've not seen it done in a bench
13 trial, but I've seen it done in jury trials. It's really 14 extremely effective, can be, especially with respect to these 15 expert witnesses when the jury over a long period of time has 16 heard an awful lot of them, it can be effective.

17 [Pause]

18 MR. WARD: Okay. While she's working on that I'm going

5 BY MR. WARD:

6 Q Now, you saw Dr. Foranti's assessment, correct?

7 A Yes, that's correct.

8 Q And Dr. Foranti examined the patient, did he not?

9 A Yes, he did.

10 Q And you're aware that -- you've read this?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And you're aware that Mr. Rodriguez called it to his 13 attention of what he thought were changes in the skin?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And you're aware that Mr. Rodriguez called to the 16 doctor's attention what he thought were changes in the hair
17 growth?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And you're aware that Mr. Rodriguez called to the 20 attention of the doctor of what he thought the things were 21 about sensitivity?

5 Q Okay. And in spite of hearing all that Dr. Foranti
6 did not say: I think he's got RSD, did he?

7 A No, he didn't say, I think he's got RSD.

8 Q He said, "I think it's possible that he's got RSD,"
9 correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q But more likely he's got something else?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. And that's after he saw all of those things?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And those were essentially the same things that you

17 A Yes.

18 Q Okay. So Dr. Foranti saw them and did not diagnose
19 RSD. You saw them and did diagnose RSD?

20 A I don't know that Dr. Foranti didn't diagnose RSD.

21 Q You can't read his report?

22 A I read his report, and I'm point out something to

5 Q And then he said that further we do not have 6 objective information, sufficient objective information from 7 which to make a definitive diagnosis, correct?

8 A Yes. Which is what I was answering earlier.

9 Q And then the next line says: "If the pain continues
10 or worsens I suggest that the patient undergo bone scans,"
11 correct?

12 A Among other things, yes.

13 Q Well, he goes on. But what I just read you is 14 accurate, correct?

15 A That is accurate, yes.

16 Q "Bone scans" is the first thing he put in it.

17 A It doesn't really need to be plural, but yes.

18 Q Bone scans are not subjective, are they?

19 A No.

20 Q Bone scans are objective?

21 A They can be.

22 Q And -- well, what are the circumstances when they're 23 not?

4 Q And it was negative?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And you said, in effect, I'm just going to throw
7 that out, right?

8 A I don't know that that's exactly what I said, but,
9 yes, I think that a bone scan is probably of the list of 10 things I look at to diagnose with RSD or CRPS as one of the 11 least useful pieces of information.

12 Q But that apparently is not what Dr. Foranti felt,
13 correct?

14 A Well, I think you're misquoting his notes.

15 Q Well, let me try it again. Feel free to read along
16 with me. "Furthermore, at this time we do not have sufficient
17 objective information from which to make a definitive
18 diagnosis. If the pain continues or worsens I suggest that 19 the patient undergo bone scans, comma," is that correct?

20 A Well, there's a lot after the comma.

21 Q I understand.

22 A Yes. You've read it perfectly.

1 week is a result of this accident, correct?

2 A No, that wasn't my opinion. I don't think his
3 asthma treatment is related to this accident. But, yes, I
4 understand the spirit of your question.

5 Q Other than the asthma can you think of anything that
6 you have found is not related to this accident?

7 A Nothing we've discussed.

8 Q Now if you wanted to know about whether a damage on 9 a car had come from a particular accident, it would help to 10 know what happened in the accident wouldn't it?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And injuries to people to some extent are the same
13 way, isn't it?

14 A Yes. The mechanism of injury is what you're 15 describing.

16 Q Yeah. Before you know, before you're able to offer
17 an opinion as to whether something's related it helps to know
18 something about the accident?

19 A Yes, sir.

20 Q And it helps to know something about the condition
21 of the patient after the accident; isn't that correct?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q Isn't it correct that you've never looked at the 24 records from the doctor who examined the patient immediately
25 after the accident?

1 A No, that's incorrect.

2 Q That's incorrect?

3 A Yes, that's incorrect.

4 Q Okay. So you saw the records from Dr. Heaps
5 [phonetic]?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And you saw that Dr. Heaps conducted a complete
8 physical examination?

9 A I don't know if it was complete, but it was focused
10 on complaints at the time.

11 Q Well, did you read his deposition?

12 A No.

13 Q Are you telling me you don't know whether Dr. Heaps
14 did an examination of the patient's neck?

15 A I'm sure he did an examination of the patient's
16 neck, focused mainly though on the main complaint or the chief
17 complaint, which is a focused exam, which is typically done in 18 the emergency room, which would have been the left knee.

19 Q And you base that on what? How long have you known
20 Dr. Heaps?

21 A I don't -- I don't know Dr. Heaps.

22 Q How many of Dr. Heaps' examinations have you seen?

23 A I think this is the first one.

24 Q The first one. And you actually haven't seen this 25 one, correct?

1 A This one, yes, I have.

2 Q You have seen the examination?

3 A I'm sure that it was contained in the bundle of 4 records that I reviewed.

5 Q And you haven't read his deposition?

6 A I don't believe so.

7 Q So it would be your opinion, I take it, if Dr. Heaps 8 testified that he examined the patient's neck and back and 9 there wasn't anything wrong with it, that that just doesn't
10 mean anything?

11 A I'm not sure that there was anything wrong with it
12 at that particular moment. So I wouldn't have any reason to 13 disagree with that testimony.

14 Q You saw the patient's description of the accident;
15 did you not?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And did you see anything other than the neck as 18 being involved?

19 A Are you talking about the knee or the neck?

20 Q I'm sorry, the knee?

21 A No.

22 Q Now, you reviewed the -- you reviewed the records of 23 Dr. Miller, did you not?

24 A Yes.

1 and a half years after the accident, isn't that correct?

2 A I believe that's about the timeframe.

3 Q And Dr. Miller noted that the patient told him that
4 his neck was snapped backwards, he was dizzy and confused.

5 "The patient sustained acute pain to the knee, neck, back and
6 upper extremities," isn't that true?

7 A I believe that's Dr. Miller's notes --

8 Q Okay.

9 A -- that you're quoting.

10 Q You didn't see any of that in the examination by Dr.
11 Heaps, did you, other than the knee?

12 A No.

13 Q And it's your belief I take it that if I have 14 something and snap my neck backwards sufficient to cause me to 15 be dizzy, and sustain acute pain to my knee, neck, back and 16 upper extremities, that when I go to the doctor because my 17 knee hurts I can't feel anything else.

18 A Occasionally that does occur.

19 Q And a doctor examining me can't find anything else?

20 A Some people feel physical exams are not all they're 21 cracked up to be.

22 Q Well, right. But you're testifying about this 23 particular patient, are you not?

1 things that you've read, would you suggest that this is a
2 patient who seems to have a little more pain than the average
3 person?

4 A No.

5 Q No?

6 A I mean, I -- for the injuries he suffered, no. I
7 mean, in the context of what we're discussing, then no.

8 Q This patient consistently lists the pain as being
9 constant, does he not?

10 A Well, it's funny that you mention the word
11 "consistently" because that's sort of the theme of this 12 particular case from my review of the records. But, yes, he 13 does mention that it's constant.

14 Q He mentions it over, and over, and over as constant,
15 doesn't he?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And he tells everybody that he goes to that it's 18 constant, correct?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And he usually puts it as somewhere between eight or 21 generally nine or ten on a scale of one to ten, right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And what are the words that describe nine, was it
24 "agonizing"?

25 A I don't know. I used the word severe, but --

1 Q Okay. Have you ever looked at any of the pain
2 charts that he has, in terms of what they say about describing
3 the pain?

4 A That everybody has their own different pain charts,
5 but the typical one is just a line with a zero and a ten on 6 it, and you put a mark. It's just hard to interpret the 7 number at that point. So most people put numbers, or words to 8 account for language or intelligence barriers.

9 Q Okay. Well, the patient did a pain drawing on 18 patient has done, have you not?

19 A Yes.

20 Q In looking at all of his records so you could come
21 in and testify about all this, you've looked at quite a number
22 of pain drawings, haven't you?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q Okay. But on this particular drawing two months
4 afterwards he doesn't put down different areas of his body,
5 does he?

6 A No. He's just got an X on his left knee.

7 Q Right. And the number 9 in that situation, what is 8 that called?

9 A It doesn't have a word associated with it.

10 Q Okay. Does it have a word associated below it?

11 A No.

12 Q How about eight?

13 A Eight has very severe, and ten has worse possible.
14 So it's somewhere between very severe and worse possible, or 15 horrible and agonizing.

16 Q Yeah. So is pain is somewhere between horrible and 17 agonizing. And so -- and this is constant, right?

18 A Yes. I don't know that they asked it on this 19 particular drawing, but, yes --

20 Q Okay.

21 A -- it has been.

22 Q May I approach the witness?

25 And you've seen over, and over, and over again that

1 the pain is constant. The pain in his knee is constant. The
2 pain in his back is constant. The pain, all these places,
3 right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And, now, have you ever seen anyone other than Mr.
6 Rodriguez, who was in horrible, agonizing pain?

7 A Yes.

8 Q What makes it look like?

9 A They don't have a typical, sort of like a drug
10 addict. You can really -- you can show of somebody that 11 looked like you or Mr. Baker, or Mr. Rodriguez, and say who's 12 the drug addict and you wouldn't be able to pick it out. Pain
13 is not something that you can look at somebody and determine
14 whether they have it or not.

15 That's why we have to ask people to fill out these
16 pain diagrams and the visual analog pain scales. It's a --
17 sort of an accumulation of sort of experiences in a patient's
18 life. Your three might be his nine. So it's -- you trust
19 what the patient tells you.

20 Q Well, when you said pain is something that you can't 21 see, it's like if I tell you I've got a headache, you can't 22 tell whether I have a headache or not?

23 A That's correct.

25 A Yes.

1 Q A kidney stone I'm told is, and fortunately I
2 haven't had one yet, but -- and I haven't had a baby, but I've 3 heard that both of those can be relatively painful.

4 A Yes.

5 Q And oftentimes people react to them?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay. So, while you might not be able to tell
8 whether I've got a headache or not, if I'm having agonizing
9 pain, you suspect that I might be showing something.

10 A It depends. I mean it's not a guaranteed thing. If 11 you see somebody who's a ten, again they may be rating that as 12 a ten based on their life experience. And this exact same
13 thing could happen to somebody like you and it might be a
14 three. So, again, that's their own personal sort of scale.
15 It's not your scale compared to them. We're not comparing
16 apples and apples. We're comparing apples and oranges.

17 To someone who has a kidney stone and is writhing in 18 pain and somebody who has a kidney stone who says, "Well, this 19 is no big deal. I have these all the time." So, it just sort
20 of depends. This is a new experience for Mr. Rodriguez.

21 Q And Mr. Rodriguez is taking pain medication?

1 A No.

2 Q OxyContin.

3 A He's taking Hydrocodone.

4 Q Okay, Hydrocodone. Is that like Vicodin?

5 A Yes.

6 Q What else is he taking for pain?

7 A He's taking Valium for spasms and anxiety. He's
8 also taking Flexeril, which is a muscle relaxer for spasms.
9 He's taking medications to treat his depression which also are 10 useful in treating pain, Effexor, are the medicines he's 11 taking specifically for this problem.

12 Q And in spite of taking all of these, some of these 13 are narcotics, right?

14 A Well, narcotics is kind of an unusual term and 15 implies illegal substances, so he's taking --

16 Q Let me withdraw that. I don't want to --

17 A Yeah.

18 Q I don't mean to imply that.

19 A I didn't think you did. I just --

20 Q Some of them are opiates?

21 A Opiate medications and then he's taking 22 benzodiazepine, which is a Valium. So, multiple different
23 types of medications.

25 anything.

1 A I understand. I don't take it personally.

2 Q Okay. But he's taking some fairly powerful pain
3 medication, correct?

4 A Yes, he is.

5 Q Among the most powerful?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And he's still complaining of pain constantly?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Never relieves anything?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q And your explanation for that is that what? That it
12 doesn't -- that it's not as bad as it might be with someone 13 else, but he just can't tolerate it and that's why he -- he's 14 got a low pain threshold. Is that what you're saying?

15 A He might have a low pain threshold, but the type of 16 pain that he has, oftentimes morphine and Lortab or Vicodin
17 type medicines are ineffective in treating nerve pain, which 18 seems the great majority of his symptoms.

19 Q Okay. Now, you were asked a question about whether 20 you had seen any evidence of Mr. Rodriguez being a malingerer?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Okay. Have you ever had a patient who was a
23 malingerer?

24 A I've suspected patients of malingering. I've never 25 been able to prove it.

1 Q What is a malingerer?

2 A A malingerer is a DSM-IV, which is the sort of
3 standard diagnosis both that a lot of psychologists and
4 psychiatrists use to determine kind of classifications of 5 different disease states or afflictions. Malingering is 6 contained within that book, but it's specifically not a
7 psychological or psychiatric disorder. It's a -- it's kind of 8 put in another type of category.

9 In order to diagnose somebody with malingering, you
10 have to prove intent, which is the key ingredient in the sort
11 of diagnosis. It's basically the intent to defraud something
12 or prove that something is there. But you have to prove that 13 somebody is lying.

14 And although I have suspected patients of being
15 malingerers in the past, the intent part was never disclosed,
16 so therefore you can't make the diagnosis unless you prove 17 intent.

18 Q And that's the DSM-IV?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay.

21 A Or the DSM-IVTR, I believe is what we're on now.

22 Q Okay. But aside from the DSM, malingering is a
23 word. Malingering was a word in the English language before
24 the DSM was around, wasn't it?

25 A Sure, but we're talking about a medical condition

1 here, so that would be the gold standard.

2 Q Yeah. Well, I'm just asking you about malingering.
3 What is it?

4 A Well, that's my definition.

5 Q Okay.

6 A I gave you my definition. I'm using the one from 7 the DSM-IV.

8 Q Okay. So you're using the one from the DSM-IV and 9 you're utilizing the part that says that you can't diagnose
10 them as a malingerer unless you know what their intent is?

11 A Well, intent seems to be the key to the definition.

12 Q Okay. Is it -- in general, isn't malingering on a 13 non-substantive basis, isn't malingering someone who 14 exaggerates their symptoms for gain?

15 MR. BAKER: Objection, relevance, Your Honor. It's a
16 medical diagnosis. He's being asked to testify as a doctor.

17 THE COURT: Well, I am wondering what the relevance is 18 because I under -- I mean, to some extent, I think your follow
19 up questions were fine, but I understood the doctor to say the 20 other day that he didn't have any indication that Plaintiff
21 was a malingerer.

22 MR. WARD: Right, I understand.

8 A Mr. Rodriguez, no, I never had any suspicion that he
9 was a malingerer.

10 Q Yeah. What did you do? What kind of testing did
11 you do? What kind of anything did you do to come to that

1 person and one thing to another?

2 MR. BAKER: Same objection, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Can you be a little more specific, Mr. Ward?

4 MR. WARD: Yes, Your Honor, I can.

5 BY MR. WARD:

6 Q Let's go to your first examination, which is
7 November 26, '07, is that correct?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q And you say in here he divides his pain into 10
10 percent neck pain, 2 percent right arm pain, 2 percent left
11 arm pain, 8 percent mid back pain, 8 percent lower back pain,
12 and 70 percent left leg and knee pain. Do you know how he did

19 MR. BAKER: Is that this? Yeah, that's it.

20 THE COURT: Yes.

21 THE WITNESS: On the paperwork I have the patient fill
22 out, it basically says divide your pain into 100 percent, so I
23 don't know if he used a calculator or if he did the math in

2 So, he understood it in my office. I'm not sure
3 exactly how he figured it out, but it's basically simple math.

4 BY MR. WARD:

5 Q Well --

6 A You know, dividing something into 100.

7 Q Let me offer this and you tell me whether you agree
8 with me. You're talking about the document that we -- this

11 Q May I approach, Your Honor?

12 THE COURT: Yes.

13 BY MR. WARD:

14 Q All right.

15 A Yes, that's the same document you showed me earlier.

16 Q Okay. My interpretation of that, because that's all
17 he put, was that because he marked the box down below which 18 said nine, that he was simply putting in that his pain was 19 nine and not 9 percent.

20 A Yeah, and that's my assumption too. I just was 21 pointing out that he did the math on mine, but didn't do the 22 math correctly here.

23 Q Okay.

24 A It was basically asking him the same sort of

2 that he wasn't doing percentages on that pain drawing at all?

3 A No, I would assume that pain drawing that you showed
4 me from the Wellness Group, Bate stamped 00015, refers to, I
5 would assume 100 percent pain in his left knee at that --

6 Q Right.

7 A -- particular moment.

8 Q Thank you. And how was it when you asked him, how 9 was it -- did he explain to you how it was he was able to 10 allocate his pain?

11 A No, I'm just happy when patients can actually add up
12 to 100. He -- 70 percent of his pain he attributed to his 13 left leg and left knee, so the other 30 percent had developed
14 in between the time he filled out your diagram that you
15 referred from The Wellness Group to the time he saw me.

16 Q Okay. And you put in here that the patient states
17 that this pain originally began on November 22, 2004.

18 A Yes.

19 Q Correct?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And that's your note, right?

4 Q -- with the examination after he --

5 A No, but I mean yeah, yeah.

6 Q You do know that his only complaint was knee pain?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And so the way you achieve consistency here
9 is to say he must have had all this other pain but Dr. Heaps 10 just wasn't able to find it and the patient wasn't even aware
11 of it. Is that essentially your assessment of it?

12 A Well, perhaps Dr. Heaps didn't do the right testing
13 to find the pain. I mean I'm not sure exactly what you're 14 referring to other than a negative examination in the areas
15 that you're talking about.

16 So you're talking about physical examination skills
17 and I don't know Dr. Heaps or his physical examination skills.
18 I'm assuming they're up to snuff, but again, sometimes in 19 order to find things you have to actually look for them. And 20 were the right tests ordered at that point or did Mr.
21 Rodriguez, was he most concerned about his left knee which was 22 documented to swell up shortly after this accident? I mean,
23 again, the main concern was his left knee, so I don't find
24 what you're describing inconsistent at all.

25 Q Okay. Well, now tell me this. When you look at

1 this based on what the patient told you, it seems to me there
2 are several possibilities here.

3 A Okay.

4 Q I can think of at least two and there may be more.
5 One possibility is that the patient was having pain in all
6 these different areas and didn't tell the doctor and so the 7 doctor didn't write it down. That's a possibility.

8 A Sure, that's one possibility.

9 Q Another possibility is that the patient told the 10 doctor about all the pain, but the doctor didn't do his job
11 and didn't write it down.

12 A That's another possibility.

13 Q Because it would be the doctor's -- it would be 14 appropriate for the doctor to write it down if the patient
15 told him, right?

16 A It would be, yes.

17 Q So, if he didn't write it down, the doctor is not
18 doing his job, right?

19 A Not necessarily. Again, he might have thought it
20 was trivial at that point because the focus was on something
21 else, but we're talking about an emergency room doctor who's 22 there to determine are you going to die before you leave. I
23 mean they're not there to spend quality time with patients and 24 get to know them. There's no physician patient relationship 25 that's typically going beyond that one visit. So, it's not as

1 complete as you'd like to portray it.

2 Q Well, I was simply portraying it as Dr. Heaps said
3 it happened. He said he conducted an examination.

4 A Sure, yeah, he conducted an examination.

5 Q Of not just his knee, but of his head and of his
6 shoulders and of his whatever. So, the three possibilities
7 are either the patient had it and didn't tell the doctor about
8 all these problems because his knee hurt so bad.

9 A Okay.

10 Q The other possibility is that the patient told the 11 doctor and the doctor didn't write it down. Another
12 possibility is the doctor did such an incomplete examination
13 that he never even checked for it, right?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Another possibility is he didn't have any pain in 16 those areas and he changed his story later on. Isn't that
17 true?

18 A I guess that's certainly a possibility as you list
19 all of those, but there's another possibility that you're 20 forgetting.

21 Q And what is that?

22 A That these symptoms that developed over time could
23 have blended together at some point where Mr. Rodriguez three 24 years after his original accident couldn't remember what
25 started exactly when. So, I think that's the most likely.

1 Out of all the scenarios that you presented, I think that's
2 the most likely scenario.

3 Q Oh, so the most likely scenario, if I understand it
4 correctly then, what you're saying is he didn't have pain in 5 all those different areas. He only had pain in his knee. But 6 later on as a result of this accident, he had pain in all
7 those different areas?

8 A I think that's the most likely scenario and I think
9 that's --

10 Q Okay.

11 A -- consistent with my previous testimony.

12 Q Okay. So, if your neck is snapped back, how soon
13 does it start hurting, like three months from now?

14 A It could start as soon as immediately or it --

15 Q Right.

16 A -- could be a couple of weeks. I mean it just sort
17 of depends. Inflammation has to sort of set in.

18 Q Okay. So you had -- you're familiar with 19 orthopedics enough to say that I can suffer a neck injury and 20 it would be perfectly reasonable that I don't feel anything
21 for two weeks?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Okay. And now how about the part down below that 24 says the patient was unaware that this activity was taking
25 place as he was paying attention to the game?

1 A Yes, that was his testimony.

2 Q That's what he told you, correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Anything inconsistent about that?

5 A Not in my opinion.

6 Q No? What all did you look at? Did you look at Dr.
7 Mortilauro's reports?

8 A Yes, I have.

9 Q Okay. Did you see in Dr. Mortilauro's reports where 10 he told you that he was standing there watching this and all 11 this thing was going around him and it was so dangerous he was 12 concerned about his safety?

13 A I don't remember seeing that specifically, but I
14 have no reason to doubt that that's present.

15 Q Okay. But if he did, that would be a little 16 different from saying, "The patient was unaware of this 17 activity was taking place as he was paying attention to the 18 game," isn't that right or would those in your opinion both be 19 the same?

20 A I think both of them can exist, but it depends on 21 how the question was phrased to the patient. But, yes, I
22 would agree that that is somewhat inconsistent.

23 Q Somewhat inconsistent?

24 A Yes, not troublesome, but --

25 Q Okay.

2 Q Tell me this hypothetically. How could it be more
3 inconsistent? He says on the one had he didn't even know what
4 was happening and on the other hand he said it was so
5 dangerous he was concerned about his safety. How could it be 6 more disparate than that?

7 MR. BAKER: That's not even a hypothetical, Your Honor.
8 If he's asking that question hypothetically, that's not
9 hypothetical. If he's asking it otherwise, it's 10 argumentative. He's answered the question.

11 THE COURT: Sustain the objection as to argumentative.

14 A Yes, that's correct.

15 Q And he was 5'6"?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And he weighed 244 pounds?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Did you weigh him?

20 A No.

1 the time of the accident?

2 A I don't believe I asked that question.

3 Q Okay. But you've offered the opinion that he gained
4 70 or 80 pounds between the time of the accident and the time
5 you saw him, isn't that true?

6 A Yes, based on the records I reviewed.

7 Q Okay. Well, the records that I have, and I'll be 8 happy to divvy them out and show you, showed that he weighed
9 225 pounds on the night of the accident.

10 A Okay.

11 Q Okay. The way I calculate it 225 pounds three years
12 before is 19 pounds below 244. So, how do you get the 70 or 13 80?

14 A That's what's reported in the records. I think the 15 time that we were looking at these, he was talking about 16 weighing 260, 270 pounds, which would be significantly more
17 than what you're quoting. But if he's 225 at the time of the 18 accident, I would agree 19 pounds of weight gain have occurred
19 over the past three years.

20 Q Okay. And he's been pretty inactive, hasn't he?

21 A Yes.

22 Q So you wouldn't be terribly surprised that someone
23 who's in their forties gains weight as they get older?

24 A No, I think it's kind of a normal process to gain a
25 pound or two a year, but 19 pounds in three years, I think you

1 need some help with that.

2 Q Okay. And 70 or 80, you'd need a lot more?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And all you knew is what the patient tells you,
5 right?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q And you said that he exhibits no obvious pain
8 behavior?

9 A Yes.

10 Q That was significant to you?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Why did you write that down?

13 A He wasn't trying to exaggerate the symptoms that he
14 was having. He wasn't groaning and grimacing and the things
15 that we typically see patients with. And again, that's 16 typically due to my industrial medicine sort of background
17 that those are common comments that I will make in these type
18 of scenarios.

19 Q Right. And so he -- you said that he wasn't trying 20 to exaggerate his pain by doing anything to show that he was 21 experiencing pain?

22 A No, he wasn't groaning or grimacing --

23 Q Right.

24 A -- or huffing and puffing when I asked him to do
25 things, so there was nothing that led me to believe that he

1 was trying to defraud or show me that his exam was
2 inconsistent.

3 Q Well, he was telling you though that his pain was 4 horrible, right?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And in spite of the fact that he told you his pain
7 was horrible and constant and horrible, he didn't exhibit any 8 signs of pain?

9 A Well, I think you're misinterpreting my designation
10 of pain behavior. I'm talking about exaggerating pain
11 behavior, not pain -- he didn't exhibit any evidence of pain.
12 It's does he exhibit exaggerated pain behavior like Waddell
13 signs and things that we're looking for like that. That's a -
14 - just to explain that statement in there.

15 Q Well, this doesn't say exaggerated pain behavior,
16 does it?

17 A No, but I'm the person who documented it, so I think
18 I would be the best person to explain it to you.

19 Q Okay. And so you can explain this by telling us
20 that when you put obvious pain, when you said, "He exhibits no
21 obvious pain behavior," what you really meant was he didn't
22 exhibit any exaggerated pain behavior?

23 A Yes, that's what the spirit of that sentence is.

24 Q Okay. Is that typically the way you do things, use
25 one word when you mean another?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription

1           A     No, I just don't usually use the word exaggerated in
2 patient records unless it's sort of necessary. Obvious pain
3 behavior is a typical word that I see commonly used in 4 physicians who do a lot of industrial medicine.

5                     Pain behavior, if I saw that he had obvious pain
6 behavior on examination, we would have looked at more of 7 performance of what's down at the bottom of my Bate stamped 2,
8 which would have been I would have checked him for Waddell
9 signs and things like that.

10                    So, there was no indication that there was any 11 exaggeration, so that wasn't -- that portion of the test
12 wasn't performed.

13           Q     Now, you wrote down here that he was able to toe
14 walk and heel walk without difficult, is that correct?

15           A     That's correct.

16           Q     And toe walk and heel walk is sort of like that, on 17 the turn of the heel?

18           A     No, it would be actually walking on your tippy toes
19 or going back on your heels?

20           Q     Like this?

21           A     Yes.

22           Q     Okay. Now, when he was seen by Dr. Foranti, Dr.
23 Foranti recorded that his gait and station were normal, didn't
24 he?

25           A     I would have to look that up, but --

2 A Yes.

3 Q And, oh, by the way, did you look at the ambulance

5 A Yes.

6 Q And you saw that they indicated that he was alert?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And wasn't dizzy?

9 A I don't believe that they documented any dizziness.

10 Q Okay. And they documented non-dizziness, right?
11 They said he wasn't lightheaded or any of that stuff?

12 A Yeah, I don't think there was anything in reference
13 to that that was documented.

14 Q Right. But in -- he told Dr. Miller that he was 15 dizzy and confused, correct?

16 A I believe he's mentioned that a couple of times
17 throughout the records.

18 Q Okay. Do you find that to be inconsistent?

19 A That might be his recollection looking back on the 20 sort of the experience. I don't know.

21 Q Okay. Well, let's say it is his recollection
22 looking back on the experience. Would you say his 23 recollection is wrong?

24 A Well, then you'd have to ask yourself which 25 recollection is wrong. Is it that he was dizzy or is it that

1 he was not dizzy? I mean which recollection would you like to
2 believe if we're saying they're wrong.

3 Q Well, the EMT's don't do it based on recollection,
4 do they? They sit down and examine the patient and they have
5 a chart and book and they write it out, don't they? You've
6 seen what EMT's do.

7 A Yes.

8 Q They don't talk to the patient and sit down three
9 years later and say, "Oh, yeah. What was that patient? I
10 remember it's not."

11 A About a previous event, so it is --

12 Q Well, they're asking about an event when they're 13 right there.

14 A Well, the paramedics weren't standing there when he
15 got hurt. They came. They were called to the scene, so they 16 came minutes later. And if you're asking somebody who's dizzy
17 and confused if they're dizzy and confused, perhaps they can't 18 remember being dizzy and confused as a possibility. I
19 understand the point of your question and I do find it
20 somewhat, like if you ask me and things blend together. And 21 so I don't think it's inconsistent years later to discuss that 22 with a doctor.

23 Q Well, let me ask you this. You're familiar with 24 what the EMT's do?

3 A Yes.

6 A Yes.

7 Q And so it's your belief, isn't it, that when if they
8 want to find out -- if EMT's want to find out if somebody's
9 got a head injury one of the things they do is ask them do a
10 global assessment?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And they don't say, "Are you dizzy?" They say,
13 "What day is it?"

14 A They'll ask them common questions.

15 Q "What's your name?"

16 A "Who's the president? What's your name?" Things
17 like that.

18 Q Where you were for Halloween yesterday?

19 A Yes.

3           Q     You didn't find anywhere in the first year that he
4 contended that his neck snapped back backwards at the time of 5 the accident, isn't that true?

6           A     That's correct.

7           Q     Okay. So, are you suggesting that if the patient
8 remembers something other than what happened, that that's what 9 you base your diagnosis on?

10          A     No.

11          Q     The patient remembers?

12          A     No, that's not necessarily what I based my diagnosis
13 on, but again, it's a recollection and again, some people can 14 be misquoted or misrecollect things.

15          Q     Okay. Now -- so Dr. Foranti said that gait and 16 station were normal?

17          A     Yes. You're correct.

18          Q     And then he said toe to toe gait and heel to heel
19 gait were deferred as the patient stated he would fall.
20 Correct?

21          A     Yes.

22          Q     The doctor said on review of symptoms that the 23 patient said had loss of balance, is that correct?

24          A     Yes and I think that kind of fits in with the fear

1 Q And reflexes were bilaterally symmetric?

2 A In the upper extremities, in the lower extremities,
3 the reflex on the left was decreased compared to the right.

4 Q And the sensation in the lower extremities, now you
5 said, I believe, that you believe the patient had
6 hypersensitivity --

7 A Yes.

8 Q -- correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q So, hypersensitivity is you touch my arm and I pull
11 it away, or I say "Ouch" or I do something, right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q You can't see hypersensitivity, can you?

14 A No.

15 Q Yet hypersensitivity was one of the significant
16 items as to why you diagnosed RSD, isn't that true?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Okay. And Dr. Foranti said sensation was grossly
19 normal in the lower extremities. Didn't he?

20 A Yes, he did.

21 Q Okay. So he didn't say anything about
22 hypersensitivity.

23 A He did not mention it, no.

24 Q And you believe that he would have.

25 A Yes, I do.

1 Q Because that would be completely inconsistent with
2 sensation was grossly normal in the lower extremities?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Correct? Okay. And now did you testify that the 5 records of Dr. Simpson, that the treatment given by Dr.
6 Simpson was reasonable and necessary and caused by the
7 accident?

8 A Remind me who Dr. Simpson is because --

9 Q Okay. Dr. Simpson is the doctor who saw the 10 patient, the orthopedist who saw the patient before Dr.
11 Shannon saw him.

12 A Yes.

13 Q So you can't remember who he is, but you think that 14 all of his treatment was reasonable and necessary?

15 A Well, he had a left knee problem. It's very 16 reasonable to see an orthopedic surgeon and seek treatment for 17 the problem that you have.

18 Q So are you suggesting that when these patient --
19 most of these doctors have bills in excess of $10,000, right?

20 A When you say --

21 MR. BAKER: Objection. That misstates facts and --

22 THE WITNESS: Most of the doctors I met --

23 THE COURT: I don't know. I'll ask you to rephrase the 24 question.

25 MR. WARD: Sure.

2 Q How many different treaters have you looked at in
3 this case?

4 A I've looked through all of the treaters essentially.

5 Q A bunch, right?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Many doctors. Many of these doctors have bills in 8 excess of $10,000, don't they?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay.

11 A It's basically the --

12 Q You've testified that their treatment's all
13 reasonable and necessary?

14 A Yes.

15 Q So you know what their treatment is?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And they all have liens, don't they?

18 A I believe so, yes.

19 Q Essentially nobody got paid.

20 A No.

21 Q So they all will get paid perhaps if Mr. Rodriguez
22 is successful in his claim, right?

23 A Yes. Yeah, that's my understanding.

24 Q And if Mr. Rodriguez is not successful in his claim,
25 they won't get paid?

1           A     Well, I don't know that that's true but they would
2 have to pursue Mr. Rodriguez personally for that which happens
3 so.

4           Q     Right. Yeah. But there's no indication that
5 they've done that yet?

6           A     No, it's a little too early.

7           Q     Okay. So they have an economic incentive to assist
8 Mr. Rodriguez with his recovery, do they not?

9           A     When you say they, I'm included in they so I can't 10 speak for they but I can speak for me and I guess there is 11 some economic incentive but really the idea here is to help
12 the patient.

13          Q     Okay. That's not my question. My question is 14 simply there is an economic incentive for these doctors to 15 testify that everything that happened to him was caused by the 16 accident?

17          MR. BAKER: Your Honor, he said he could only speak to 18 himself. So it would be speculative to anybody outside of 19 himself.

20          THE COURT: Sustain the objection.

21          BY MR. WARD:

22          Q     Isn't it true with you?

23          A     It's true with me in the sense that I provide a

1 hesitate to pursue Mr. Rodriguez personally. That's because
2 he's responsible for the services I provided to him.

3 Q Okay. And now what did Mr. Foranti, Dr. Foranti
4 testify or what did he say in his report with respect to how
5 the accident occurred? Do you remember that?

6 A I don't remember specifically but since I'm in 7 Exhibit 25, I can tell you for certain. He described it as
8 Mr. Rodriguez being tackled in a casino. His knee bent inward
9 and he was unable to walk. He was taken by ambulance to 10 Spring Valley Hospital and was released with a knee stabilizer
11 and crutches.

12 Q Okay. And now you have looked at the -- you said in 13 your report of November 26, 2007, that the sensation is normal
14 on the right but abnormal to light touch and temperature
15 sensation differences on the left. You're talking about lower 16 extremities at that point?

17 A Yes, that's correct.

18 Q And so in essence what you're saying is that you're 19 saying that when you touch the patient, the patient tells you
20 that the right leg's different from the left leg?

21 A Yes.

22 Q You can't see that, correct?

23 A I can't see that.

24 Q Okay. And you have been practicing what? 20 years?
25 15 years?

1           A     Well, since medical school, almost 20 years. 18
2 years.

3           Q     Okay. Quite a while.

4           A     Yes.

5           Q     I know when I finished 20 years as a lawyer, I
6 thought I had been doing it quite a while.

7           A     It seems that way sometimes.

8           Q     Okay. And you get pretty sensitive with respect to 9 your fingers, do you not?

10          A     Yes, you acquire some skill, yes.

11          Q     Right. Okay. You can do things after you have done
12 it for awhile that you -- that probably the average person
13 couldn't do?

14          A     Yes, that's a fair statement.

15          Q     So when you feel -- when a person -- when you feel 16 the person's two legs, you can usually tell if one -- if 17 there's a temperature difference in the two, can't you?

18          A     There's going to be a variability on how much
19 temperature difference one can appreciate with your hands but 20 not necessarily the standard way to measure temperature.

21          Q     That isn't my question. And I'm not asking whether 22 you can tell me whether it's 37.2 degrees Celsius or anything
23 else. I'm just asking isn't part of your examination
24 sometimes you feel two limbs and you can tell the difference
25 by touch whether one's warmer or colder than the other?

AVTranz

1           A     Right, but there's a certain threshold that you
2 would have to be -- in order for you to do that, you would
3 have to be a certain number of degrees difference to be able
4 to -- your hands aren't that sensitive. If you recall wanted
5 to get personal, you could probably put your lips on something
6 and tell the difference between the two more than your hands
7 but, you know, I don't want to get that personal with my
8 patients. So that's why I use a thermometer.

9           Q     But you're aware that doctors can tell gross
10 differences in temperature by a touch?

11          A     It is possible, yes.

12          Q     Well, it's more than possible, isn't it? Haven't 13 you experienced physicians who do that?

14          A     When I'm checking for a fever and I understand what 15 the normal temperature in a patient is versus a fever, then
16 yes, but again the standard of care when you're checking
17 temperatures is to actually measure it with some device that's 18 reproducible. My hands might be different and more calloused
19 than another doctor and I may not be able to appreciate the 20 differences. And I'm assuming you're referring to Dr.
21 Becker's notes without really referring to them. I don't see 22 that he used temperature strips or an infrared thermometer to 23 check temperature differences. So therefore I think it's 24 possible to measure them but not probable.

1 do when you do these sympathetic blocks is when you do all of
2 the things you do with respect to a stimulator is to ask the
3 patient is there pain relief?

4 A Yes, that's correct.

5 Q And that's subjective, right?

6 A Yes, it is.

7 Q So we're back to the vast majority of these tests
8 all revolve around what the patient tells you?

9 A Yes.

10 Q We can find some exceptions, right?

11 A Yes.

12 Q One of those exceptions is bone density scan?

13 A A bone density scan is different than the bone scan.
14 So I'm assuming you're referring to the bone scan?

15 Q The bone scan that's referred to in the records.

16 A Yeah, not bone density though. I just want to make 17 it clear.

18 Q I apologize. I'm not a doctor. I'm using --

19 A So yes, that -- I understand. That's an objective
20 test. We discussed that earlier.

21 Q That's one of the objective tests and that was 22 negative, correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Okay. And when you did the block with the patient,
25 he had no immediate reduction in his usual pain, correct?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Now when you were here testifying on Thursday, I
3 think I got the day right, you were talking about a
4 stimulator.

5 A Yes.

6 Q Now were you asked before you came in here to come
7 in and testify about the cost of a stimulator?

8 A No.

9 Q No. So that was just kind of off the top of your 10 head?

11 A No.

12 Q It was based on your experience?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. And the numbers that you had totaled up to 15 about $721,000?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. And that included $22,000 for a battery?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And the battery had to be replaced every four years?

20 A That's correct.

21 Q Correct. Okay. And you looked at the life care
22 plan, didn't you?

23 A Yes, I've looked at both your life care plan and the

2 the life care plan from Ms. Hartman (phonetic), correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And Ms. Hartman is a well qualified life care
5 planner?

6 A I don't know that for certain but I am assuming that
7 she went through some sort of qualifications. I don't know
8 Ms. Hartman.

9 Q Okay. She was disclosed as an expert in this case,
10 correct?

11 A I have no reason to dispute that then.

12 Q And she was disclosed as an expert for Mr.
13 Rodriguez, correct?

14 A I'm assuming that to be true.

15 Q And her report was provided, correct?

16 A To who?

17 Q To me?

18 A Yes, I'm assuming it was provided to you, yes.

19 Q Okay. I mean you understand how litigation works,
20 don't you?

21 A I do.

22 Q You've seen these reports, doctors' different

25 A Not in this case.

1 Q Well, you did offer comments when you were on the
2 stand just a few minutes ago.

3 A Not prior to this testimony today.

4 Q Okay. But you did offer comments about the life
5 care plan from the witness stand today, correct?

6 A Specifically related to medications only.

7 Q And Thursday, you offered comments about the cost of 8 a stimulator?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And you said $22,000 a battery every four years..

11 A And that's wholesale costs to the surgery center.
12 I'm not even including the markup that the surgery center or 13 the hospital would charge to that. I didn't think that was 14 necessary or helpful.

15 Q Okay. And the life care planner said $4,000 a
16 battery, correct?

17 A I am not sure exactly what she said. Again, I
18 thought her life care plan was probably one of the worst life
19 care plans I've ever seen. So, you know, it's one of those 20 things where looking at the numbers that she quoted, I'm not 21 sure who she actually spoke to, but I'm sure you had the 22 opportunity to depose her and ask her these questions and I'm 23 not sure exactly who she talked to or what her answer to that
24 question was. But my answers sort of supersede hers. She's a

1 Q Well, she's a life care planner. She's a qualified
2 life care planner, correct?

3 A I assume, yes. But I don't know what the --

4 Q And she was hired by Mr. Baker, correct?

5 A That is correct.

6 Q And she testified, right?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And she testified that the whole thing would cost --
9 that the batteries for the next 31 years would cost 32,000 and 10 you have the batteries for the next 31 years at $220,000.

11 A And I'm buying Duracell batteries here, sir. I mean
12 it's -- I mean if you look at the -- just the cost of the 13 temporary trial, the costs are somewhere in the neighborhood
14 of $42,000. So when we're talking about permanent
15 implantation, $4,000 for a battery won't even get you in room.

16 Q Oh, so the life care planner just doesn't have any
17 idea what she's talking about. She's using flashlight
18 batteries, right, is that what you're suggesting?

19 A At that price, yes.

20 Q Oh, okay. $4,000 a battery for flashlight
21 batteries. And so when she says that the permanent -- that 22 the permanent stimulator will be put in by Dr. Vader
23 (phonetic) and that the spinal stimulator cost for the next 31
24 years in her opinion is around something under 300,000 as

3 Q Okay. Now in your consultation from November 26,

5 [Counsel Confer]

6 BY MR. WARD:

7 Q You looked at it and said or you asked the patient
8 and he described for you that he has constant daily aching,
9 burning, numbing, pins and needles, shooting, stabbing and
10 tingling type pain.

11 A Yes.

12 Q All of those pains at the same time?

13 A Yes.

14 Q That doesn't seem unusual to you?

15 A Absolutely not.

16 Q Okay. Is it true that when you did the implant of 17 the spinal cord stimulator and when you said unfortunately he 18 had minimal relief of the low back pain, you said which would 19 have been predicted, correct?

20 A Which would have been predicted based on the fact
21 that stimulators as a bonus will help low back pain
22 occasionally which is the reason why we use three leads but if 23 you had to predict whether or not it was going to help the 24 back pain, you would predict no.

25 Q Okay. So you actually thought before you did all

1 this that it wasn't going to do any good?

2 A For his back pain?

3 Q Right.

4 A Okay, I just wanted to complete your thought.

5 Q Right?

6 A Yes, I was hoping that it was going to help his back
7 pain so that he could have relief of both areas of concern but 8 it seemed like that in the long term fashion, which is the 9 letter you're referring to, it helped his leg pain and not his 10 back pain. But there was hope during the initial phase of the 11 trial that 80 percent of all of the pain in those two areas
12 were taken care of. So there was a thought that it actually 13 may improve his back pain. That didn't sort of pan out over 14 the trial period.

15 Q He told you that 80 percent of the pain had gone
16 away, correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q So you don't know whether it was or not. What you
19 know is that's what he told you?

20 A I have no reason to disbelieve him but yes, that's 21 what he told me.

22 Q Right, okay. And very few things -- there have been
23 a lot of treatment by Mr. Rodriguez in the last six years,
24 right?

25 A That's correct.

AVTranz

1 Q And most of the doctors were hopeful that they would
2 -- he would get some relief?

3 A I assume that's the truth, yes.

4 Q And he almost never did, right?

5 A He still has a lot of pain so I don't know that any 6 of the treatments to him were successful in relieving his
7 pain. They may have relieved some anatomical problems but not
8 necessarily pain.

9 Q And a number of physicians told you or reported that
10 they couldn't find any reason why he still had pain.

11 A There were a couple of physicians who reported that,
12 yes.

13 Q Okay. And none of that put you on notice or 14 questioning that maybe there was a problem here with the 15 complaint?

16 A Not in the context of this particular case. It
17 would have bothered me perhaps in other cases when there
18 wasn't as much documentation leading to a conclusion for a
19 syndrome that is mysterious and not well understood by most 20 physicians. So in this particular scenario with the context
21 of RSD or CRPS, it doesn't bother me in the least it.

22 Q And he never went back to Dr. Foranti, did he?

23 A No, I think it was a one-time consultation.

24 Q And now if you have hypersensitivity, is that felt
25 on just touch?

1           A     It can be felt on touch. It can be felt with the
2 air conditioner blowing on you. It can be felt with clothes
3 on you. It can be felt in many different circumstances.

4           Q     Okay. How about with pins?

5           A     Pins, yes.

6           Q     Pins would be really painful to someone who has
7 hypersensitivity, isn't that correct?

8           A     Not as much as cold but pins can be sensitive. Most 9 people don't use pinwheels anymore because of the potential
10 for infectious disease transmission. But yes, it would be 11 painful if it was present at that particular time.

12          Q     Okay. And inserting a pin would be even more pain?

13          A     Yes.

14          Q     Okay. Like when an EMG was done?

15          A     Yes, that's usually considered painful with or 16 without symptoms of RSD.

17          Q     Okay. And so for someone who had RSD, that would be 18 contraindicated, wouldn't it?

19          A     No.

20          Q     You've give them an EMG anyway?

21          A     Oh, absolutely. I mean you need to rule out is 22 there any other nerve sources of pain at that particular time.
23 So it's not necessarily a contraindication. It's sort of a
24 relative contraindication but I will oftentimes discuss with 25 neurologists and physiatrists who perform these tests to go

1 ahead and perform the test because we need to know if we're
2 dealing with another problem. Because unless you find the
3 original offending diagnosis, you're going to end up with a
4 treatment for the wrong thing.

5 Q And surgery would be contraindicated, correct?

6 A Not if you're attempting to correct something.

7 Q If you've got RSD, you can operate on the area and
8 it's not contraindicated?

9 A It depends on what the circumstances are but if
10 there is an ongoing problem that unless you solve it, the RSD
11 is not going to go away, then you have to weigh the risks and 12 benefits. So it's a relative contraindication. It's not an 13 absolute contraindication to surgery.

14 MR. WARD: Thank you, doctor.

15 MR. BAKER: Judge, I have a few follow ups.

4 Q Many, many providers?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And there were I think two or three consistencies
7 that were pointed out to you about what you thought were
8 trivial issues, is that correct?

9 A I thought they were all trivial issues. I mean the 10 biggest inconsistency which I was waiting for him to point out
11 was the fact that was it a water bottle being thrown or was it
12 a t-shirt or some other sort of souvenir. That was the 13 biggest inconsistency. That's in my mind a question that's 14 still unanswered of what was being thrown out.

15 Q Great import, I'm sure. But with respect to 16 reporting of an incident, pain complaints and duration, was 17 Enrique extremely consistent for your experience?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Over six years of treatment?

20 A Yes.

21 Q That counsel was able to point out two or three what
22 you called trivial inconsistencies?

23 A Yeah, the inconsistencies that were pointed out were 24 very minor and don't necessarily add up to things. I mean
25 again the most inconsistency that would be concerning in the

1 big picture would be the inconsistencies on the examination
2 but again put into the context of this is a dynamic condition
3 that changes frequently where you might have swelling and
4 discoloration at one point and the next doctor examines you
5 three days later and the swelling is down and there
6 discoloration is no longer present, is something that needs to 7 be pointed out. So the examination, you're looking at the 8 totality of the examination.

9 And I've done these for defense experts before when 10 a patient was diagnosed with RSD and I've looked at the 11 totality of the records which I think is necessary when it
12 comes to these cases, not a one-time examination. But if you
13 look at all of the records and you try to fit the diagnosis
14 for RSD or CRPS, there's overwhelming evidence that Mr.
15 Rodriguez has this condition. When you look at one particular
16 exam, he may not fit the criteria, but I think that's the 17 wrong thing to do. And when I do these for defense firms that 18 are, you know, representing insurance companies, what I'm 19 looking at is the entire records to look at this. Not one
20 particular examination.

21 Q And that's why --

22 MR. WARD: I object and move to strike the gratuitous
23 commentary about defense firms and insurance companies and he 24 wasn't asked a question about that. It's entirely
25 inappropriate to put that into this record.

1 MR. BAKER: That all came in in cross when he spoke about
2 the fact that he did IMEs, he was middle of the road, that he
3 worked as an impartial observer. That was all that he stated
4 on cross.

5 MR. WARD: Those were not questions that I asked and he
6 sort of volunteered and I surely didn't ask him anything about
7 working for defendants and insurance companies.

8 THE COURT: I think this witness testified that he has 9 worked for both. I think that was his testimony. But in any 10 event, the objection is overruled. Noted for the record.

11 BY MR. BAKER:

12 Q Okay. And in order to discuss the dynamics of RSD,
13 you have to understand the guidelines, is that right?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And you've discussed subjective versus objective and 16 subjective versus objective, color changes, part of RSD?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Subjective or objective?

19 A Objective.

20 Q Temperature changes, part of RSD?

21 A Well, they can be subjective when measured by the 22 hand. But when you're actually measuring them with a device,
23 which is the standard is the temperature strip or some sort of 24 an infrared device, they're objective. Otherwise, they are 25 subjective and so they don't mean anything in a physical exam

1 which is meant to be objective.

2 Q Temperature change is taken of different extremities
3 using a laser thermometer like you use, objective or 4 subjective?

5 A Those are definitely objective.

6 Q And let's talk about Dr. Becker. You know it's 7 going to be said that Dr. Becker said that he could tell the 8 temperature changes between the legs with his human hands, his 9 bare hands, correct?

10 A Yeah.

11 Q The temperature changes you found were one and a 12 half degrees different between the left and the right leg, is
13 that right?

14 A Be almost impossible to tell with just hands to tell
15 that difference. Sometimes that's even difficult to tell with 16 the standard temperature strips which is the reason why I've 17 gone to using an infrared thermometer like the mechanics use
18 before they touch something hot on a car.

19 Q Skin color changes, objective or subjective?

20 A Those are objective.

21 Q And those are all part of RSD determination, is that
22 right?

23 A Yeah, RSD or CRPS, yes.

24 Q And a bone scan was negative in this case?

25 A Yes, and again I wasn't asked why the bone scan was

1 ordered but I usually put that at the bottom of my list as far
2 as things that I find helpful in making this diagnosis. It
3 was ordered because Dr. Foranti suggested it and it was 4 basically to fulfill his wishes that these things had been 5 done. I mean we're talking about the chairman at UCLA, if he
6 felt it was reasonable to order it, even if I disagreed, I was 7 going to order the test just for completeness sake.

8 Q Now when you were going over Dr. Foranti's records
9 with Mr. Ward, you wanted to tell him something. What did you
10 want to tell him?

11 A Well, the way that he asked the question that made
12 it sound like that I had misspoke and after looking back at 13 the specific record that I was referring to, the only thing
14 that I misspoke and I said I -- or many doctors believed that 15 Mr. Rodriguez had RSD and they talk about complex regional 16 pain syndrome is possible. He also felt that there was a
17 mechanical component which is the reason why I evaluated the 18 patient. I agreed with Dr. Foranti and I sent Mr. Rodriguez
19 for another orthopedic evaluation to somebody who had never 20 met him before, Dr. Kraveti (phonetic) in order to determine
21 if there was this mechanical component to this. But Dr.
22 Foranti's notes reflected it is possible that the patient, Mr.
23 Rodriguez, has complex regional pain syndrome or reflex
24 sympathetic dystrophy based on the complaints that he had and 25 he even felt that it was necessary to order bone scans comma

1 and then that's where we stopped.

2 Q Why don't you finish that sentence.

3 A Lumbar sympathetic blocks, trial of Clonidine
4 patches, Neurontin, as well as x-rays of his bilateral feet
5 and legs, to see if there was osteoporosis. So again, you're 6 being presented with very limited sort of information. The 7 physical examination may not have been absolutely consistent
8 with reflect sympathetic dystrophy on that particular occasion
9 but the history, the mechanism of injury, the chronicity of 10 the complaints, led Dr. Foranti to suggest other studies.

11 He also talked about carpal tunnel syndrome and if
12 you look at his examination, there's a negative Tunnel sign
13 and a negative Phalen's test which is a compression test over
14 the nerves that are affected, the median nerve specifically
15 with the carpal tunnel. Even though the examination was 16 normal for these tests, Dr. Foranti said secondarily I believe 17 the gentleman may have carpal tunnel syndrome and should be 18 evaluated for this. So even though the examination didn't fit
19 with it, again that's one piece of the puzzle. If you add
20 them altogether, you're now coming up with a much completer
21 picture or a more complete picture and that's what we're doing
22 here as physicians. We're looking at the records, the 23 patient's history, the examination, the mechanism of injury,
24 the context of everything and trying to formulate a diagnosis
25 that's the best fit.

10 App. 2026

1           In looking at the totality of the records, this is
2 the diagnosis that's the best fit.

3           Q     What diagnosis is that?

4           A     CRPS.

5           Q     And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of
6 medical probability?

7           A     Yes.

8           Q     And a negative bone scan doesn't rule out RSD, does
9 it?

10          A     No, because if that was the only thing that you
11 could order, we would have ordered that in the beginning and 12 said you don't have it. It's normal, so therefore you don't 13 have CRPS, it's again one of the pieces of the puzzle and to 14 me it's very minor slice of pie.

15          Q     And a lumbar sympathetic block did work to reduce 16 his pain because we've heard comments about how nothing worked
17 on his pain. A lumbar sympathetic block worked on his pain?

18          A     Temporarily.

19          Q     Okay. And is that exactly what you would expect to 20 see alleviate his pain if he was suffering from a
21 neurologically mediated disease?

22          A     Yes.

23          Q     And then the spinal cord stimulator, thank God for 24 it. It really alleviated his pain, is that right?

25          A     Completely alleviated his pain and then, you know,

1 just to clarify one other point that was made earlier about
2 the constant daily aching, numbing, tingling type discussion
3 of pain. Those are all words that I see described in nerve
4 type pain. And they can all be consistent. You can have
5 numbing and tingling and stabbing pain and all the words that
6 were chosen there other than the word aching fit with nerve
7 type pain.

8 Q And when they gave him the temporary pain
9 stimulator, that's exactly what you would expect to see
10 alleviate the pain if it was RSD mediated pain, is that fair
11 to say?

12 A Yes.

13 Q So if it's been suggested that nothing works on the 14 man, is it true that exactly those modalities that treat RSD
15 or CRPS worked on him?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And could be anticipated to work into the future, is
18 that right?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q Now Mr. Ward suggested when he was talking about Dr.
21 Heaps' exam -- do you remember that conversation?

22 A Yes, I do.

23 Q He told you about certain explanations why no neck
24 and no back pain were noted at that examination. Do you
25 remember that?

AVTranz

1           A     I do.

2           Q     Do you feel that the explanation that you gave that
3 it was a cascade caused by postural changes and the use of 4 assistant devices was ignored in those range of possibilities
5 that you were given?

6           A     Well, I do -- I mean I think this is a progression
7 of things over time. That was that particular day. When you
8 look at things in the totality of the records, there is a
9 progression which I think is very well documented in the 10 notes.

11          Q     Overwhelmingly as his treating physician, do you
12 believe his neck and back pain was caused by that cascade that 13 you described because of postural changes and the use of 14 assistant devices over time?

15          A     Yes.

16          Q     And is there a component also of that lumbar and 17 cervical pain being masked by his primary, his chief main
18 complaint which is his knee?

19          A     Yes, as we explained earlier, that's -- it's a very 20 likely scenario.

21          Q     And when you read the medical records, don't that 22 scenario, one the masking, and second the development of the 23 ideology over time, make perfect absolute sense to someone
24 who's looking at it from an unbiased perspective of a treating
25 physician?

1           A     Absolutely.

2           Q     With respect to the RSD, do you think that any
3 responsible physician given the mountain of information that
4 you've reviewed, could come to the diagnosis that this
5 individual did not suffer from RSD?

6           A     I would have difficulty and question the intentions
7 of anybody who does not come up with that diagnosis whose 8 allegedly read the entirety of all these records and the 9 supporting information contained within these records.

10          Q     Now when you spoke about malingering, you saw 11 absolutely no evidence that Enrique was malingering, is that
12 true?

13          A     That's correct.

14          Q     And malingering is not just some dictionary
15 definition with five or six different possibilities, you know,
16 reported in Webster. It's a DSMTR diagnosis, is that right?

17          A     Yeah, I mean we're -- in the medical context here,
18 we're not talking about other things where, you know, I tell
19 my wife my back hurts because I don't want to take out the 20 garbage. I mean there's that context. Then there's the 21 actual medical context which in order to state that a patient
22 has that, it requires intent. That was hinted at in Dr.
23 Becker's report but as Dr. Becker is I'm assuming a board
24 certified psychiatrist as well as an orthopedic surgeon, he 25 more than me would know that the DSM4 definition for

1 malingering requires intent to deceive which --

2 Q He never mentioned in his report?

3 A He's never mentioned, no.

4 Q And that doesn't meet a definition of malingering if
5 the intent aspect isn't included pursuant to the DSMTR?

6 A You have to have that to include it.

7 Q Now, it's been suggested that you have an economic 8 reason for wanting Enrique Rodriguez to be compensated in this 9 matter. Do you remember that?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Do you want him to get his pain stimulator?

12 A Oh, absolutely.

13 Q Do you want him to get the therapies that he needs
14 to feel better?

15 A I want the best for Mr. Rodriguez and I want him to 16 get the medical treatment that he's been so desperately
17 waiting for.

18 Q You've only got $9,000 invested in this on a lien
19 basis, if you have a lien, is that right?

20 A That's correct.

21 Q Tell the Court why you want Enrique Rodriguez to get
22 his pain stimulator and to get better?

23 A Well, I think this would change his -- I mean this 24 is a life changing event just much like the collision that he 25 had in the Palms Hotel was a life changing event. Perhaps we

1 can correct some of the problems that occurred during the
2 particular event with a new and improved event like a
3 permanent spinal cord stimulator to get rid of the pain in his
4 left leg and his knee. And then we can sort out some of the 5 other remaining complaints that he has.

6 He's having side effects from the medications with 7 constipation, the lethargy. He's frustrated he's having
8 emotional problems from this. I think the idea of the spinal
9 cord stimulator is an easy fix for him to get rid of many of 10 the problems that he's currently experiencing due to the event
11 that happened at the Palms Hotel.

12 MR. BAKER: Thank you, doctor. No further questions.

1 BY MR. WARD:

2 Q What information do you have now to make a diagnosis
3 that Dr. Foranti did not have at the time he wrote his report?

4 A I have the knowledge of the totality of the medical
5 records. Dr. Foranti was dealing with his one piece of 6 information and had not completed his thought yet. He wanted
7 and requested additional diagnostic testing to be done which
8 was ultimately performed by Dr. Miller. So he had not yet
9 formulated all of his thoughts and if given an opportunity to 10 review this, I am confident that Dr. Foranti would come to the 11 same conclusions that I have.

12 MR. WARD: Move to strike as non-responsive.

13 THE COURT: Overruled.

14 BY MR. WARD:

15 Q How is it you know what Dr. Foranti would do? Have

17 A I have talked to him. Not in --

18 Q About this case?

19 A -- this case, no.

20 Q Then how is it you would know what he would do in
21 this case?

22 A Because I'm a board certified anesthesiologist
23 specializing in pain management just like Dr. Foranti and the 24 information that he felt was valuable in the reference to the 25 further diagnostic testing that he requested was ultimately

1 done which helps me come to the diagnosis of complex regional
2 pain syndrome in Mr. Rodriguez's case. So again Dr. Foranti
3 did not have the opportunity to finish his thoughts because he
4 -- there was an incomplete diagnostic workup.

5 Q Well, he suggested that there was insufficient
6 objective information, correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And so he asked for a number of things.

9 A Yes.

10 Q One of those things that he asked for was a bone
11 scan?

12 A Yes.

13 Q So you did a bone scan or you had a bone scan done?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q It was negative?

2 BY MR. WARD:

3 Q So of the things that Dr. Foranti said, after bone
4 scans, he said lumbar sympathetic blocks, correct?

5 A That's correct.

6 MR. BAKER: This is all asked and answered still, Your
7 Honor.

8 THE COURT: It has been. Is there a specific question
9 with respect to that? I don't --

10 MR. WARD: But I didn't go into those on my cross-

19 BY MR. WARD:

20 Q The items in that sentence, which of those are truly
21 objective?

22 A The x-rays and the bone scans are truly objective.

25 subjective. Mostly subjective.

5 well.

6 Q Okay.

7 A So just the x-rays and the bone scan.

8 Q And what did they show?

9 A They did not show any evidence of osteoporosis.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 27, 2010, 1:01 P.M.

[Designation of record begins at 1:01 p.m.]

THE COURT: Are you ready for Dr. Shannon?

MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor. Call Dr. Shannon.

THE COURT: Very well.

[Pause]

MARYANN SHANNON, PLAINTIFF'S WITNESS, SWORN

THE CLERK: Please be seated, stating your full name, spelling your last name for the record.

THE WITNESS: Okay. My name is MaryAnn Shannon, last name is spelled S-H-A-N-N-O-N.

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. BAKER:

Q Good morning. Funny you should walk in, we were just talking about you.

A Okay.

Q Good morning.

A Good morning. Well, it's afternoon, actually.

Q Yeah. I guess it's getting to that time.

MR. BAKER: Are you all -- do you need a second?

MR. WARD: No, we're okay. No, we're just working.

UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: Wrestling with paper.

MR. BAKER: Okay.

BY MR. BAKER:

Q Would you please introduce yourself to the Court?

1           A     I'm Mary Ann Shannon, I'm a local orthopedic
2 surgeon, been practicing here since 1992.

3           Q     And are you board certified in orthopedic surgery?

4           A     Yes.

5           Q     Could you just please briefly -- just as -- as it's 6 a bench trial and not a jury trial, explain your education to 7 the Judge?

8           A     Sure. I went to the University of Illinois. I
9 graduated with a bachelor's degree in chemistry and 10 mathematics and went on to Northwestern University and 11 finished medical school, got my MD degree.

12                     And then went on to do a rotating internship at the 13 University of Minnesota in Minneapolis, general surgery
14 followed by a four-year orthopedic residency. I then moved to 15 Colorado and with the University of Colorado, did a hand
16 fellowship at Hand Surgery Associates.

17                     That's my education, do you want me to go into my 18 clinical practice too?

19           Q     Sure. Just a little bit. You're doing it at light
20 speed. I don't think it's --

21           A     Okay. Following that I moved -- I got married, so I
22 moved to Washington D.C. where my ex-husband worked for 23 Lockheed Martin, that's not really relevant but he made me
24 move to the Washington D.C. area. I was regional hand surgeon
25 for Kaiser Permanente and for the private practice group

1 called Greater Washington Orthopedics.

2 Following my divorce I moved to Texas, where I
3 established a private practice and started to raise my
4 daughter and then finally moved here to Las Vegas in 1992
5 following my mother's development of cancer. And I needed to 6 stop practicing clinically, because I had to take care of my
7 daughter and my mother. So I took an administrative job here
8 in Las Vegas working for what was State Industrial Insurance.
9 I took care of my mother until she died and then I went into
10 private practice through Sierra Health Services and then
11 ultimately into private practice with a couple of different
12 groups.

13 Q Is that it?

14 A That's it.

15 Q And Doctor, as part of your practice, do you
16 prescribe and refer people for MRIs?

17 A Yes, I do.

18 Q As part of your practice, do you prescribe and refer
19 people for physical therapy?

20 A Yes, I do.

21 Q As part of your practice, do you review the medical 22 records of other physicians who have seen the patient both
23 before and after you?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And is that common and customary in orthopedic

1 practice?

2 A Yes. Depending on the source of the patient, yes.

3 Q And you've testified for your patients in court
4 before?

5 A Yes, I have.

6 Q On approximately how many occasions?

7 A Well since I've been -- we've been legislated to 8 keep records in 2005 this would be the 22nd time I've appeared
9 in court here.

10 Q I remember the legislation, Doctor. And have you
11 been qualified both as a treating physician and as an expert
12 in courts in the State of Nevada?

13 A I've never been denied, so --

14 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I move to have her admitted as a 15 treating physician and qualified as an expert in the field of 16 orthopedic surgery and the related matters to which she'll 17 testify.

18 THE COURT: Any objection?

19 MR. WARD: I have no objection to her qualifications.

20 The only objection I have is that she has not be
21 disclosed as anything other than a treating physician, so I
22 would object to any claims of questions in terms of what would
23 normally be submitted to an expert --

24 MR. BAKER: Can I have --

25 MR. WARD: -- aside from her treating.

1 MR. BAKER: Your Honor --

2 THE COURT: Mr. Baker?

3 MR. BAKER: Yes, Your Honor.

4 I'd like to show you both the Fernandez v. Admirand
5 [phonetic] case that speaks to the fact that once a physician
6 is qualified to be expert, they can speak in any area of their 7 expertise.

8 But more importantly, Your Honor, Prabhu v. Levine,
9 which is 112 Nev. 1538 and speaks about the fact specifically
10 that in the Prabhu case, a treating physician was allowed to 11 testify to standard of care. It basically says that the 12 treating physician or a doctor is an expert for any purpose.

13 THE COURT: Mr. Ward?

14 MR. WARD: I am not familiar with that specific case.
15 The -- but I am familiar with Nevada Revised Statute 15.285
16 and 51.065, that I believe that it would limit her from 17 anything that she's been -- other than what she's been 18 disclosed as, and she has only been disclosed as a treater.

19 If there are -- certainly she would be qualified.
20 I'm not saying she wouldn't be qualified if she had been 21 properly disclosed. She's not given a report. She's not been
22 disclosed as anything other than a treater. So to ask her --
23 I understand she can offer opinions about her own treatment.
24 But to try to use her to -- as an expert to testify as to 25 other doctors, I think would be inappropriate.

1 MR. BAKER: And Your Honor, particularly I intend to use
2 her to speak about other doctors. She's testified that she
3 uses other doctors' treatment in the course of her diagnoses,
4 prognoses and treatment of patients.

5 As an expert this Court certainly recognizes there's
6 a difference between a retained expert and a not retained
7 expert. She has not been retained as an expert in this case.
8 She is a treating physician who has reviewed the course of the 9 medical treatment, has commented on the course of the medical 10 treatment and should rightly be allowed to testify to that.

11 And I'd like to add as well that N.R.S. 50.275
12 allows her, in her capacity as expert as set out in the Prabhu
13 v. Levine case, to speak to matters that would be otherwise
14 inadmissible including hearsay.

15 And so Your Honor, by Nevada case law and Nevada
16 statute she's an expert. She's not been disclosed as a
17 retained expert but she is a physician and an expert.

18 THE COURT: I understand the distinction, and I am
19 familiar both of these cases. Frankly I'm familiar with 20 Dr. Shannon. She's testified in this Court before.

21 So I think the motion should be granted in it's
22 entirety.

23 MR. BAKER: Which motion is that?

24 THE COURT: Motion to qualify her as an expert.

25 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor. And --

2 MR. BAKER: Right. I forgot that that was actually a

4 THE COURT: I think -- sort of.

5 MR. BAKER: Yeah.

6 MR. WARD: Yeah.

7 MR. BAKER: Sort of.

8 BY MR. BAKER:

9 Q Okay. Doctor, do you have your file with you today

11 A I'll probably have to use your exhibits. I figured
12 there was no point in my bringing what would be duplicates all
13 the way across town.

14 Q Save the trees.

15 MR. BAKER: May I approach the witness, Your Honor?

16 THE COURT: Yes.

17 MR. BAKER: And may I direct the witness to Number 1 to

3 MR. BAKER: Some bifocals.

4 THE WITNESS: I understand and can relate. Okay. We're

6 BY MR. BAKER:

7 Q Are you there?

8 A Uh-huh.

9 Q Oh, you beat me.

10 A Yeah.

11 Q When is it that you first saw Enrique Rodriguez?

12 A He first presented himself on March 28th, 2005.

13 Q And what were his presenting conditions?

14 A He was being sent for evaluation of his left knee.

15 Q Okay. Did you evaluate his left knee?

16 A Yes, I did.

17 Q And did you perform a physical examination of his 18 left knee?

19 A Yes, I did.

20 Q Could you describe to the Judge, please, what the 21 physical examination entailed?

22 A Well physical examination require -- entails first,
23 observation, of course. So you look for any bruising,
24 swelling, any obvious deformity of the limb or the part, the 25 body part you're looking at. So say if it was a fracture and

AVTranz

1 I saw something that didn't look normal or out of alignment, I
2 would observe that it's -- that there's deformity, that kind
3 of thing.

4 Then after observation, you'll do palpation, which
5 is to touch the body part. So, if specifically a knee you
6 palpate the different areas of the knee, on the front of the 7 knee, the kneecap, the quadriceps mechanisms, the patellar
8 tendon mechanism. Then you move on to the collateral
9 ligaments, the joint lines, palpate the bones of the joint.

10 You can feel the interior of the joint as best you
11 can, whether there's swelling associated with it and whether 12 that swelling may be fluid or just tissue inflammation.

13 And then the test -- and then you would go on to do
14 provocative testing, to test the stability and to look for 15 such problems as malalignment, active movement problems,
16 atrophy which is observational, but also by testing of 17 strength. And then provocative things such as testing
18 ligaments and the meniscus.

19 Q And before we get into your further treatment is 20 what's been marked as Exhibit 16 your file in this matter?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And is that kept in the ordinary course of your 23 office?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay.

2 THE COURT: Any objection?

3 MR. WARD: I'd like to look at it before it's admitted,
4 just to see what's in there.

5 MR. BAKER: We can have a --

6 MR. WARD: I can do that at a break. I don't want to --

7 THE COURT: You don't mind if Mr. Baker examines this
8 witness with virtue of this --

9 MR. WARD: No. Absolutely not, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Very well. Please proceed.

11 MR. WARD: And I won't make any foundational objections.

12 THE COURT: Okay. We'll address this later. Don't

14 MR. WARD: Okay.

15 MR. BAKER: He's good at reminding us though, Your Honor,
16 because I had completely forgot.

17 BY MR. BAKER:

18 Q Now, you're aware that Mr. Rodriguez had seen other
19 providers prior to seeing you; is that fair?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And you're aware that he was transported from the 22 Palms Hotel in an ambulance; is that correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And are you familiar with the ambulance services in 25 Clark County, Nevada?

1 A Yes, I am.

2 Q And I'd ask you to please -- and I'm doing it kind
3 of backwards. I normally do the housekeeping afterwards but I
4 don't want to forget, if that's all right?

5 A Okay.

6 Q If I can ask you to turn Exhibit Number 2, to which 7 authenticity and genuineness has been stipulated, is this the 8 American Ambulance Response bill?

9 A Yeah, American Medical Response.

10 Q Okay. And when you're looking at that, the records,
11 what was Mr. Rodriguez's complaint at the time he was 12 transferred by ambulance?

13 A At that point he was complaining of left knee pain.

14 Q And --

15 A And it occurred at that -- on that date.

16 Q And do you notice that they put ice on 17 Mr. Rodriguez's knee on AMR three?

18 A Let's see. Yes, they applied ice.

19 Q And what's the effect of ice when you apply it to a
20 traumatically injured knee?

21 A It is done in order to minimize and decrease
22 swelling.

23 Q Swelling and effusion, which would be water on the 24 knee?

25 A Yes. Fluid accumulation within the joint.

AVTranz

1 Q Do you notice that they also immobilized his knee?

2 A Yes, they did.

3 Q And what is the effect of immobilization on the
4 knee?

5 A Also the same type of thing. It will decrease
6 swelling and fluid production within joint.

7 Q And what is the effect of a long-term resting period
8 with respect to the knee? Does that also minimize effusion
9 and swelling?

10 A Yes. It will decrease that, but it will also cause
11 weakness and atrophy of the muscles which causes another set
12 of problems.

13 Q Okay. If Mr. Rodriguez had ice applied to his knee,
14 had his knee immobilized and then spent several hours in a
15 room lying in a gurney in a restful point, would it be
16 surprising to you that emergency room doctor would not note
17 that he had no effusion or swelling at the time of an initial 18 investigations?

19 A Well, those treatments are geared to stopping
20 effusion, stopping swelling and diminishing bruising or 21 minimizing bruising that may occur.

22 Q And that bruising, after the ice and the 23 immobilization is taken off, could later appear?

24 A Correct.

25 Q And so my question, Doctor, just so I make a clean

AVTranz

1 record, would it be surprising to you that an emergency room
2 physician conducting an examination to that knee after ice was
3 placed on the knee, the knee was immobilized and there was a
4 long period of resting did not note swelling or effusion?

5 MR. WARD: Object to the form, as to whether it's
6 surprising to her. I mean --

7 THE COURT: What's improper about that?

8 MR. WARD: Well, I don't think that's the issue at hand.
9 And I don't think it's relevant as to whether it's surprising
10 to her.

11 THE COURT: I think it's relevant. Overruled.

12 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

13 THE WITNESS: Normally in the pattern of injuries that I
14 see, be it coming from football or coming, you know, from 15 somebody tripping down their stairs at their own home, they
16 don't -- the -- it takes actually several days for a bruising
17 that comes from -- the deeper it comes from the body, the 18 longer it takes to show itself.

19 So if it's an abrasion or a scrape or a scar, or 20 something where somebody cut them and is superficial to the 21 skin, it's almost immediately visible. But if it's an 22 indirect injury to a joint, say a ligament or a meniscus, it
23 has -- the bleeding that occurs is so deep in the joint, it
24 takes a while for it to diffuse out to hit the skin.

25 The first thing you would see would be swelling.

AVTranz

1 You can minimize that and stop it by immobilizing and icing
2 it. But it will eventually come, given time. And the deeper
3 it is within the limb, the longer it takes to show itself.

4 I've seen bruising from deep tissue injuries can
5 take, you know, up to a week to show themselves. Sometimes
6 they'll not even show themselves at the knee because if 7 they've been walking on it, it will dissect and they'll have 8 bruising at their ankle because gravity pulls it all down, and 9 the only superficial area it comes out, at the first place,
10 would be at the ankle itself --

11 Q And --

12 A -- if it's very, very deep.

13 Q And I appreciate you sharing that with me. It makes
14 me lead to one question, and then I'm going to step back for a 15 sec, okay?

16 A Uh-huh.

17 Q So it would be consistent with your testimony if
18 Enrique Rodriguez was noted to have ecchymosis by a orthopedic
19 surgeon in California approximately one week -- ecchymosis is 20 bruising -- approximately one week after this accident?

21 A Correct. It also takes up to a week to ten days for 22 bruising, once it shows itself, to resolve and to -- you know,
23 that bluish discoloration turning into that purplish, turning 24 into that green, turning into that yellow, that eventually the 25 bruise goes away.

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 Q And that's consistently orthopedically with how you
2 would expect an injury to unfold?

3 A Correct.

4 Q Now the question that I asked before we got into
5 bruising was: Would it be surprising to you if an individual
6 that had his knee iced, had his knee immobilized and then was 7 put at rest for several hours before being seen by an 8 emergency room doctor did not evidence swelling or effusion at 9 the time of his examination?

10 A Well that -- it's not surprising in the sense that,
11 you know -- of course if he had a sledge hammer hit him it
12 would be that way. But of an indirect trauma, if it's 13 immediately immobilized and immediately treated it would take 14 quite a while for the bruising and all of the secondary signs
15 to show themselves.

16 Q And what's your understanding of the trauma in this
17 case?

18 A It was indirect trauma, someone fell into him and 19 caused hyperextension, twisting of the leg. He didn't quite 20 fall, that's my remembrance of his history. You know, he was 21 made unbalanced but did not actually fall to the ground.

22 Q Okay. And you've reviewed views -- bills from 23 American Medical Response before?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And the bill in this case if you look at 2 is $534?

3 to the subject accident?

4 A Yes.

5 MR. BAKER: Move to admit Exhibit Number 2, Your Honor.

7 MR. WARD: No, Your Honor.

6 Q -- on your arm?

8 Q Okay. If somebody has a bruise on their arm do you

10 A No.

11 Q Do you say they have a contusion?

12 A I will usually call it -- well, that's my

14 Q Yeah.

15 A I will say there is bruising, but that usually the 16 contusion -- the conclusion is there is a contusion.

17 Q Right. That's the --

18 A In order to get to a bruise you have to have some --
19 you have to have a contusion.

20 Q Right. That's the conclusion but if you see
21 bruising, you say bruising or you say ecchymosis?

4           A     I don't know Dr. Nork.

5           Q     How long did you talk to Dr. Nork about what he said
6 about this patient?

7           A     I never talked to Dr. Nork.

9 writes down contusions?

10          A     I can only infer it, as to what he meant.

12          A     Other than his reports, no.

13          Q     Okay. Is ecchymosis a term that doctors commonly

15          A     Yes. We can use that term.

21          Q     Did you see any indication in Dr. Nork's records

2 Q Nowhere, right?

3 A He doesn't use that terminology, no.

4 Q Right. And if a patient came to you --

5 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, this is past voir dire on the 6 issue. It isn't a cross-examination.

7 THE COURT: I wonder where you're headed here, Mr. Ward?

8 MR. WARD: My objection will stand, that for her to 9 determine what Dr. Nork meant when he meant when he wrote the 10 word "contusion" specifically to suggest that he really meant
11 bruising is speculation. And there's no foundation for this 12 expert to testify as to what he meant when he said it.

13 THE COURT: I don't think that was the question that 14 Mr. Baker posed of this witness.

15 MR. BAKER: I asked her if contusion was part of the 16 process where deep blood comes up towards the surface--

17 THE COURT: Right.

18 MR. BAKER: -- that she had described.

19 THE COURT: Right.

20 MR. BAKER: And she testified, yes.

21 Is that correct?

1 he examined him.

2 THE COURT: Well my understanding is that she has
3 reviewed these notes and she is being questioned by Mr. Baker
4 as a result of some of the things that she's reviewed.

5 So the way that you've characterized the question is 6 really not precisely how Mr. Baker posed the question. I'll
7 note your objection for the record. Overruled. Let's move
8 on.

10 BY MR. BAKER:

11 Q So contusion was noted by Dr. Nork in Los Angeles;
12 is that right?

13 A That's correct.

14 Q And as you said that's exactly what you would expect
15 to see in a week to ten days or two weeks after a indirect
16 traumatic impact?

17 A Correct.

18 Q And could you check the date that that contusion was 19 noted?

20 A December 6th, 2004.

21 Q Does that fall exactly into the time period that you
22 were describing?

23 A Yes. It falls well within the timeframes for still 24 noting bruising and contusions.

25 Q And then again that doesn't surprise you that from a

1 medical point of view that he would show contusion within two
2 weeks?

3 A Correct.

4 Q And in fact that's exactly what you would expect
5 from a traumatic impact to the knee?

6 A Correct.

7 Q Now Dr. Nork referred Mr. Rodriguez to physical
8 therapy at Rancho Physical Therapy?

9 A Let me see it. I know he was referred --

10 Q He went for physical therapy at --

11 A -- for physical therapy --

12 Q Right.

13 A -- at this time.

14 Q I believe that's Exhibit 16.

15 MR. CARDENAS: 15.

16 MR. BAKER: 15, it looks like 16, Your Honor, 15.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Got it.

18 MR. BAKER: Were you able to find the bill for Nork?
19 We'll talk about that.

20 BY MR. BAKER:

21 Q What was the purpose of Doctor -- are you there?

22 A Uh-huh.

23 Q What was the purpose of Dr. Nork referring Enrique
24 for physical therapy to Rancho?

25 A It was to treat the sprain/strain of the knee and

AVTranz

1 the contusion.

2 Q And what sort of modalities were utilized at Rancho?

3 A Let me look here. Electrical stimulation, hot
4 packs, cold packs. So you use ice. He did a physical therapy
5 evaluation, electrical stim, which is to stimulate the muscles
6 that have been disused. Pool therapy was done. Let's see,
7 manual therapy was done, that would be range of motion, and
8 I'd imagine strand -- therapeutic exercise strengthening to 9 get the joint moving again.

10 Q Now, I kind of broke this down anticipating
11 Counsel's objection a little bit.

12 If you look from Bates Numbers 7 -- let me think
13 about how to do this.

14 Okay. Mr. Rodriguez on referral by Dr. Nork,
15 treated at Rancho from the period of 12/8/04 to 4/14/05, do
16 you see that?

17 A Let me see here? That's 12/8/2004 --

18 Q And I'll represent to you that in March of '05, is 19 when you began seeing Enrique and referred him to Rancho.

20 A All right.

21 Q So it's fair to say that on --

22 A Yes, to Jim. But the last time he was seen at this

4 A 1/31.

5 Q 1/31 -- reasonable, necessary and causally related?

6 A That's well within the normal confines of treating
7 sprain/strains.

8 MR. BAKER: And Your Honor, move to admit then --

9 BY MR. BAKER:

10 Q Can you tell me the Bates numbers for the treatment
11 between those two dates?

12 A Sure. Rancho PT, Number 2 through to Number 5.

13 Q Were the treatment dates?

14 A Were the treatment dates.

15 Q And those --

16 A Well they're the billings for treatment dates
17 between December 8th, 2004 and January 31st of 2005.

18 Q And I hate to ask you to do it, but are you able to 19 see what the Bates numbers are for the actual treatment
20 records?

21 A Really?

22 Q I think I can find it for you.

23 A All right.

24 Q Is it 00070?

25 A Yeah. They're placed backwards, so -- it actually

2 Q Right.

3 A . Okay. Rancho PT 70.

4 Q And goes through to 76?

5 A Yes. Those are the -- that was the initial intake
6 evaluation.

7 Q And were -- was that intake records and the 8 treatments rendered thereby were reasonable, necessary and
9 causally related to the subject accident?

10 A Yes.

12 MR. BAKER: My apologies to the Court.

13 THE COURT: Sure.

14 MR. BAKER: I got kind of mixed up.

17 A All right.

18 Q To 00051? Is that also treatment that was referred

20 A Yes.

21 Q And was the treatment between 20 and 51 reasonable
22 and necessary and causally related?

23 A This was. Because he had two session of therapy. A
24 group of treatment was done at the end of 2005, I guess, when
25 he returned back to California.

2 A And that's what you're talking about here, correct?

3 Q Correct.

4 A Because that's what I'm looking at as far as dates.

5 It's like they're not exactly well organized here. They go
6 from back from the beginning, when they start talking about
7 it, Dec 12th, 2006 and then it works backwards in the notes.

8 Q And Doctor, I'll refer to you --

9 A As to what they did.

10 Q I might not be that interested in admitting the

12 A Uh-huh.

13 Q But you've reviewed the file of the treatment as 14 prescribed by Dr. Nork; is that right?

15 A Yes, I have.

16 Q And the billing statements associated with those 17 treatments are set forth in Bate stamps Numbers 77 to 80?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And that's treatment in the amount of $6,783?

20 A Yes. Yes.

21 Q And was -- those bills associated with services you

1 Q Okay. What was his condition on that time you saw
2 him at your next visit?

3 A He continued to have the same symptomology. It had
4 not resolved or diminished between his first visit and when I
5 saw him pre-operatively.

6 Q Did you perform a physical exam at that time?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And what did your physical examination reveal?

9 A At that point in time he had an increased Q angle
10 which is the alignment of the kneecap to the -- kneecap to the 11 patellar tendon. He had traced mild crepitation, which is 12 something you see underneath the patella, which can be due to 13 trauma, but it can also be due to degeneration and disuse.

14 He had both medial and lateral joint line discomfort
15 at that time, one plus synovitis which was inflammation and 16 swelling that was tissue-related, not fluid. He had a very 17 tight lateral retinaculum on clinical --

18 Q Sorry. Can you say --

19 A -- examination.

20 Q -- that again, please?

21 A Huh?

22 Q The last thing you said, please?

1           A     Yeah. One plus synovitis. Synovitis is a -- to
2 distinguish a swollen knee between fluid, you can palpate and
3 tissue swelling. There is -- tissue swelling means the joint
4 lining is inflamed. The joint lining is what produces the 5 fluid in the joint. We have a physiologic fluid we have in 6 our joint like lubricant so that the motor -- the gears don't
7 get -- aren't dry moving.

8                     That's what happens with people with arthritis.
9 They get pain because it's a dry joint. When you've had 10 trauma or inflammation, it winds up being fluid in the joint.
11 And if it's inflamed, the inflammation or the tissue created
12 by injuries or other conditions that cause swelling, is 13 basically the joints' protective mechanism. That's the 14 synovitis, the joint lining is what protects the joint and 15 actually heals it. It creates chemicals that will heal
16 injuries, but it will also takes care of damage and trauma to 17 joint. It's there to heal it and take care of it.

18                     So if it's inflamed that means there's a process
19 that the joint -- the joint lining says, I need to help this 20 joint out, I need to do something. And then it gets -- it
21 will basically hypertrophy. As part of that you also get 22 fluid with it too, so usually synovitis and diffusion.
23 Diffusion is the term for being able to feel fluid in it, not 24 just puffiness but it feels like there's fluid within the 25 joint.

1                   There's techniques of blotting the joint and, or you
2 can touch it and you can feel the fluid wave. That can't 3 happen with a synovitis, so you try to make a distinction when
4 we do exam. We don't always in a shortcut way like this
5 examination, put down I did ballottement, to determine that
6 there was -- whether or not there was an effusion versus
7 synovitis. I just went right to the chase. I saw synovitis
8 of his tissue.

9                   Q     Correct.

10                  A     Inflammation of the joint.

11                  Q     Had his knee gotten better over time?

12                  A     No. It had actually had gotten worse because he had 13 pain both medially and laterally.

14                  Q     And the first time that you saw him, you actually 15 diagnosed him with a lateral meniscus tear; is that correct?

16                  A     I believe that's just actually a typo. It's a voice
17 recognition thing. I don't recall that I have thought he had 18 lateral meniscus tear.

19                  Q     Did you always think he had a medial meniscus tear?

20                  A     Yes.

21                  Q     And what was your basis for thinking he had a medial
22 meniscus tear in your March visit with him?

23                  A     It was that he had significant -- he still had 24 significant tenderness throughout, but when I tested his 25 McMurray's it was painful primarily medially.

1 Q Could you --

2 A I also looked at his MRI and I know when I looked at
3 the MRI there was degeneration of the medial meniscus, and he
4 had an antecruciate ligament strain.

5 Q Which MRI did you look at?

6 A The one that he came with. He came with an MRI.

7 Q So he actually brought you an MRI; is that right?

8 A Yes. Because the way I wrote this here, I did see
9 an MRI. I didn't just read a report.

10 Q Now if you'll turn to Exhibit 7? I know, I'm sorry.

11 A It's all right.

12 Q It's not nice to mess with a surgeon's hands.

13 A No, not problem. All right.

14 Q Now you're an orthopedic surgeon, do you read MRIs
15 all the time?

16 A Yes. It's one of our tools for treatment.

17 Q And you practice primarily in extremities; is that
18 right?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And you received advanced diagnostic and 21 radiographic training with respect to diagnosing injuries and 22 extremities; is that right?

23 A Well yes, that's -- we're trained in it because we 24 have to utilize the test. We're not taught -- as an
25 orthopedic surgeon, primary care is maybe taught to read a

1 report and make a determination to refer on to somebody else;
2 they are looking for things they can treat. They may have
3 some knowledge about say, general surgical or who knows what,
4 but generally on an extremity we never -- we're taught never
5 to rely on what a radiologist says. We're always to taught to 6 read the reports -- read the films ourselves.

7 So I always try to make a distinction in my
8 recording whether or not I actually physically saw the actual 9 films. If I don't have access to the films and all I have is 10 the report, I'll say "the MRI report indicates." That's the 11 way I always put it, and when I write "the MRI reveals," it
12 means I saw the films.

13 Q And I am not trying to disparage DCs or DOs but you
14 would never defer to what DC or a primary DO read on an MRI
15 film; is that right?

16 A No, I would not.

17 Q And certain things could make MRI readings
18 difficult; is that right?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q And one of those things could be just the strength
21 of the MRI machine itself? Is that fair to say?

22 A That is correct.

23 Q And when you look at 000004, that's the report for 24 the MRI, correct?

25 A Correct.

2 causally related to send him for an MRI; is that right?

3 A That's correct.

4 Q And if you'll look at Number 2, the bill in this
5 case was $1800?

6 A Yes, it was.

7 Q Is that reasonable, necessary and causally related
8 to the subject accident?

9 A Yes, it would be.

10 Q And the treatment the MRI itself was reasonable,
11 necessary and causally related to the subject accident?

12 A Yes.

1 open MRI; is that correct?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q And if you could tell the Court about closed and
4 open MRIs. Basically do they have a different geography?

5 A Yes, they certainly do. Open MRIs were designed --
6 they're at much lower strength because what you do -- MRI is a
7 magnet. You put a person into a magnet. It's not an X-ray,
8 it's not putting photons of radiation into somebody to get a
9 picture of their body. We're putting them into a magnet to 10 magnetize their tissues and then scan it to get a picture of 11 the magnetic characteristics of whatever tissue we're looking 12 at -- be it a knee, an abdomen, a heart, whatever it may be.

13 The strength of the coil is important in that it
14 tells us basically how much definition we can get. It's like 15 having a .1 megapixel camera versus a ten megapixel camera.
16 You're going to get further definition.

17 You can -- and there's another aspect to MRIs that 18 you have to deal with. It's the length of the tube, it's the 19 magnetic strength which is what Tesla talks about, that .35
20 Tesla -- 1.5 is considered standard for high definition at a
21 minimum 3 Teslas is the newest technology, but it's limited --
22 the 3 Teslas don't have the same software capability. They
23 don't have the same support structures that 1.5 Tesla has; 1.5
24 Tesla is considered standard for high definition if you really 25 want to know exactly how good an MRI is, use a 1.5 Tesla. And

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 you want a company that has very, very advanced software to
2 get you to the information you need. And a 1.5 Tesla strength
3 magnet magnetizes you to a certain level.

4 It takes a little bit longer time than say a 3
5 Tesla. Three Tesla, the reason that they even developed it is 6 to get the scan faster, because one of the big complaints is 7 people laying in a tube and they just can't sit still if 8 they're in pain. So, but what you have to do is then you have 9 to magnetize the people, and they have residual magnetic 10 signals within them and you then have to -- you can also get 11 into where the additional magnetic -- it causes artifacting.

12 It accentuates any artifacts that may be present
13 because the magnet is so strong, and that's one of the 14 downsides of the 3T units is that you have to have software to 15 take out the artifact, because it magnifies artifact and 16 that's why they're sort of, more or less still standard within
17 the radiology community is 1.5 Tesla, because the support
18 structures for the software are so good that they can make it
19 look -- they can define it better. And it doesn't magnify
20 artifacts which a 3 Tesla unit will do if they don't have good
21 software support for the unit.

22 So 3Ts are not as widely used as a 1.5 Tesla unit
23 would be.

24 Q Now, let's -- before we go into this particular --
25 because this was a .35 Tesla machine; is that right?

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1           A     Right.  It's an open-sided MRI for people who feel
2     too claustrophobic.  It has a shorter tube, so you've got less
3     magnetism and it's -- but it's a quicker sample.  So what
4     you're getting is a less defined picture.

5                     The best analogy is having like a one megapixel
6     camera versus a ten megapixel camera picture.

7           Q     And that -- and in your analogy, this would be about
8     a third of the megapixels that you were talking about
9     together?

10          A     Well 1.5 is standard in the -- you know, 3.0 is the 11     highest that you can get so --

12          Q     And this was point --

13          A     -- it's one-tenth of it and it's one -- 20 -- it's 14     20 percent of what a 1.5 is.

15          Q     Just not a very good machine; is that fair to say?

16          A     That's correct.  It'll show shadows and it'll be 17     grainy and you're going to have to -- you're going to have 18     difficulty interpreting it well.

19          Q     And before we even get into that, there's a
20     percentage of false negatives and false positives in any MRI
21     read of the knee; is that fair to say?

22          A     That's correct.

23          Q     And when you compound that with the fact that this
24     is a .35 Tesla machine, you're starting to get into a
25     situation where some oversight would be really expected; is

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 that fair to say?

2 A Some inaccuracies within the read of the film would
3 be expected, meaning you could miss something. You could miss
4 something. You could have -- it could tell you something's
5 there that isn't there, and it could also tell you that
6 something isn't there that is there. Because it's too grainy
7 a picture to really be able to determine, especially in a
8 person who's say over the age of 30.

9 You get degeneration within a meniscus, meniscal
10 tears can hide within that degenerative meniscus. You know,
11 and degenerative meniscal tears, as we get over -- when we 12 start approaching 30s, 40s and 50s, age-related changes which 13 is degeneration. It's when the meniscus dries out.

14 A meniscus is like a shock absorber and it's very 15 akin to a rubber band. In that sense it's basically a gasket
16 or a seal. It's got a rubbery-like constitution to it, and 17 just like a rubber band what happens to a rubber band as it
18 gets older, it starts drying out. And degeneration of the 19 meniscus is the drying out, like a drying out of a rubber
20 band. It gets easier for it to be injured with any kind of 21 trauma.

22 So those are all the factors that, you know, kind of 23 play in as to why it really needs a clinician. I mean,
24 there's tons of studies out that we didn't even talk about,
25 what's more specific, what's more accurate? And certainly

1 open-sided versus the 1.5 Tesla closed unit, there is ten --
2 five times the accuracy in the 1.5 Tesla.

3 Q By the way did you notice who read this particular
4 film? It was a DO?

5 A Correct, yes.

6 Q And that's the primary care physician that you said
7 you would never defer to with respect to a read?

8 A No.

9 MR. WARD: Object; leading, argumentative.

10 THE COURT: Sustained. Ask you to rephrase.

11 BY MR. BAKER:

12 Q Is that the type of person that you would not defer
13 to?

14 A I normally, as I said previously, will read my own
15 MRIs.

16 Q In the case where a film is read by a DO and it's on 17 a .35 Tesla machine and the individual is in the age period
18 that we talked about, being 35 or older, is there anything
19 nefarious or curious or suspicious about sending out that film
20 for a second read?

21 A No, not at all.

22 Q And that's something -- is that something you see
23 that occurs all the time?

24 A Well it certainly will occur if another doctor
25 certainly say -- as an example, I would look at it and I said

AVTranz

1 this is read wrong. Then we would -- you know, normally what
2 would happen, if it wasn't, you know, a question of a
3 liability case where there would be arguments, I would just
4 act on it and say, you know, this MRI says there's nothing
5 there and I think there is. And talk to the patient and make
6 a determination, because they're the person who's being
7 responsible for what's going to transpire.

8 But if there's a question of oversight over it and 9 you totally disagree with it, then I would protect myself with 10 getting a second read because I wouldn't want argument that it
11 was my opinion against this person's opinion.

12 Q And --

13 A You know, to try to get a second opinion, now I
14 don't think I -- you know, the example, I think there's 15 something here. I think it needs to be looked at again. I
16 don't think this doctor read it properly.

17 Q Okay. And in instance -- like, in Enrique
18 Rodriquez, are you familiar that he continued to have pain
19 after the MRI read?

20 A Yes.

21 Q So in an instance where an individual continues to 22 have pain, there's a .35 Tesla machine, that the film is read
23 by a DO, and the person falls into the age category that we're 24 talking about, is there anything suspicious, nefarious or 25 wrong in sending the MRI out for an additional read?

1 A No, not at all.

2 Q And in fact does good orthopedic practice require
3 that you in fact do send it out?

4 A Yes. You want to have as much backup for what
5 you're going to -- what you're going to recommend to a patient
6 as possible.

7 Q Now you're aware that this MRI was sent out for a
8 second read and that's in Exhibit Number 9?

9 A Yes, I'm aware of that.

10 Q And could you turn to Exhibit Number 9? First of 11 all, with respect to Exhibit Number 9, was that referral
12 reasonable, necessary and causally related to the trauma?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of 15 probability?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And as to all your opinions to reasonable, necessity
18 and causation up to this point, been to a reasonable degree of 19 probability?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And this MRI was read by a DC; is that correct?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And could discuss the impressions with the Court?

24 A The impressions sections reads:

25 "Thickening, some degree of thickening,

1 intermediate single change and equivocal
2 redundancy/laxity of the anterior cruciate ligament,
3 consistent with a partial tear and/or early mucoid
4 degeneration."

5 That means he felt, when he reviewed it, the 6 anterior cruciate ligament was not completely normal, that
7 there -- the conclusion of these types of changes in signal,
8 is that, it either is degeneration of that cruciate ligament,
9 or an injury had occurred and there's an attempt at healing of
10 it.

11 Q I'm more interested in the healing.

12 MR. WARD: I want to object and I wanted to wait until 13 the witness finished the answer.

14 But I would object on the basis that she's offering
15 an opinion as to what he thought and that's speculative.
16 There's no foundation that she's ever talked to him. There's 17 no foundation that she knows him and she's offering her
18 interpretation of what he thought when he wrote this and I
19 object to that.

20 MR. BAKER: Impressions are what somebody thinks, and she 21 is speaking about the fact and relating to what he wrote down
22 on the piece of paper with respect to his thoughts concerning
23 the condition of the anterior cruciate ligament.

24 MR. WARD: And my objection, Your Honor, is not her
25 testifying as to what he wrote down. My objection is to her

1       testifying as to what he meant when he wrote that down.

2               THE COURT: Well --

3               MR. WARD: That's the speculative part.

4               THE COURT: -- your objection's noted for the record.

5                       The thing of it is this is a bench trial and so I
6 think this expert witness probably is helpful to the Court in 7 figuring out what the facts are in this case.

8               MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

9 BY MR. BAKER:

10              Q       I'm more interested if you could please speak to the 11 Court about what mucoid degeneration is?

12              A       The anterior cruciate ligament is an internal 13 ligament within the joint. We have four ligaments within our 14 knee and we have two that are outside the joint and two that 15 are with -- inside the joint, and it's easy to determine the 16 two. The two that are inside in the joint are called the 17 cruciate, they cross; that was what cruciate means.

18                       They are in the middle of the joint and they keep,
19 they basically keep the lower half of the leg from moving
20 forward and backward. That's why one's called anterior
21 cruciate and one's called posterior cruciate. Anterior
22 cruciate will not allow forward movement of the calf on the 23 femur, so it doesn't -- so the foot can't come out from 24 underneath the leg.

25                       And the posterior cruciate protects against that

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 posterior movement. They are crossing ligaments inside the
2 middle of the joint, so it describes what they are.

3           And then thirdly, the other thing is, it's 4 intrasynovial, meaning that ligament's blood supply comes from
5 the ends of the ligament. There is no blood supply coming
6 from tissues around the ligament. The collateral ligaments on 7 the outside of the joint get blood supply from all of the soft
8 tissues, so if they're traumatized, they heal very easily.
9 When the cruciate ligaments are injured by any kind of forward
10 -- any kind of hyperextension injuries, if we're going to talk
11 about the mechanism of injury that was described that occurred
12 to this individual.

13           It is putting at risk the anterior cruciate
14 ligament. That's the ligament that is the most likely to get 15 damaged with a knee that gets hit and extends, hyper-extended,
16 meaning back-kneed where your knees straight and they try to 17 push your knee even further straight. That's the ligament
18 that kind of holds all that together so you don't dislocate
19 your knee.

20           So when it's traumatized, it's got to heal
21 internally and it can only get its blood supply to heal from 22 the top and the bottom, from the tibia and the femur where it
23 attaches. There is no blood supply anywhere else. So where 24 is the area of the meniscus -- or not the meniscus, but the 25 cruciate ligament that's going to be most likely to get to not

AVTranz

1 heal? It's the middle part, because the blood supply can only
2 go so far. If you strain it, you've stretched the ligament,
3 the little capillaries that cover the joint that come from the
4 bone can get traumatized. If they get damaged then the blood
5 supply to that anterior cruciate ligament is compromised and
6 then the ligament can go on to completely rupture
7 intrasynovially.

8           One of the factors of, you know, say it's a partial 9 injury. The mucoid degeneration is basically like partial
10 rupture. Mucoid means it's deteriorated, the ligament isn't
11 normal any more. The mucoid degeneration is basically parts
12 of that ligament did die and they turned to liquid, spots of 13 the ligament that did -- their blood supply was compromised.

14           So mucoid degeneration means the blood supply was 15 compromised and that ligament in little areas, it's like horse
16 hairs, some of the little fibers just didn't survive. And 17 when they don't survive, they liquefy and that's what mucoid
18 degeneration is, mucus. It can't turn into water because it
19 was a tendon at one -- it was a ligament at one time. It
20 turns into a mucousy tissue as it deteriorates.

21           Q     And Doctor, are you

22           A     So --

23           Q     Oh, I'm sorry.

24           A     Go ahead.

25           Q     Are you aware that Dr. Heaps' deposition was read

1 and diagnosed Mr. Rodriguez with some partial ligamentus
2 tearing upon his examination?

3 A Correct. I'm aware of that.

4 Q And that's consistent with what you just spoke
5 about?

6 A It's consistent with this MRI report.

7 MR. WARD: Object; that misstates what Dr. Heaps said.

8 MR. BAKER: Well, we'll let the Court remember that.

9 THE COURT: Well, I mean can you point to a portion in 10 the deposition testimony that was read into record that --

11 MR. BAKER: Can I see?

12 THE COURT: -- supports your statement?

13 MR. WARD: I can track it down in a moment.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MR. WARD: The -- I can explain exactly where I differ,
16 and that is the question asked if that's what Dr. Heaps found
17 on examination. Dr. Heaps testified he didn't find anything
18 on examination. He offered a conclusion that he had a sprain
19 of the knee, but he didn't say that was based on something
20 that he found on his examination. He said that was based on 21 what the patient told him. What he found on his examination
22 was not --

23 MR. BAKER: On page 40, lines 20 through 21 of Dr. Heaps'
24 examination, Dr. Heaps' impression, there was fibrous damage
25 to the medial collateral ligaments, Your Honor.

1 MR. WARD: That's -- I agree. That's his impression but
2 that isn't -- but that doesn't say that's what he found on his
3 examination and that was the question, "What did he find on 4 his examination?"

5 BY MR. BAKER:

6 Q If Dr. Heaps had an impression there was damage to 7 ligaments, would that be consistent with what you said?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Thank you. And more importantly for purposes of 10 this conversation, mucoid degeneration, does -- can that hide
11 a frank meniscus tear from being observed through MRI
12 observation?

13 A Mucoid degeneration within the interior of a
14 meniscus can hide meniscal tears, yes.

15 Q Okay. Is it fair to say then in this case we have a
16 bad machine?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Read by a DO?

19 A Correct.

20 Q With a follow-up read which was reasonable,
21 necessary and causally related?

22 A Correct.

23 Q And then you read the film yourself?

24 A Yes.

25 Q With a higher level of training?

1 A Correct.

2 Q And what was your impression? What was your
3 diagnosis on the basis of the --

4 A Let me go back to my --

5 Q -- MRI that was conducted in --

6 A January of '05.

7 Q -- January of '05, a month-and-a-half after the
8 accident?

9 A Clinically, I felt -- well when I reviewed the MRI I
10 though there was meniscal tear and this said lateral, but I
11 meant medial. That the anterior cruciate ligament was 12 strained and that there was some injury to the patella femoral
13 joint with lateral patellar compression syndrome.

14 That -- so the kneecap was a little bit off to the 15 side, it was out of alignment a little bit, which can happen
16 once you've immobilized the leg and the muscles start to 17 weaken, then the patella -- the kneecap will start getting out
18 of alignment.

19 Q Now if was suggested that you ran off and performed
20 a surgery on Mr. Rodriguez's left knee without sufficient MRI
21 or diagnostic evidence, how would you respond to that?

22 A He'd had failure of conservative management. He had 23 an MRI which was to say the least, lowest accuracy type of 24 test, and a clinical examination that said there was still 25 something ongoing that had not responded to what the original

AVTranz

1 -- the original diagnosis was contusion, sprain/strain.

2 Contusion, sprain/strain should get better within
3 six weeks. He continued to have the same -- similar
4 symptomatology going over many, many months. In fact, I
5 didn't operate on him until October of 2005, which is not
6 quite a year before the -- the year after the accident and he
7 had the same persisting symptoms. At that point in time, he 8 meets all criteria and even if he came off the street and 9 didn't have an injury, and you know, with -- and we didn't
10 have sprain/strain, persisting symptoms with a clinical
11 examination indicating potential meniscus problems, on a
12 clinical basis he meets all the criteria for surgery.

13 Q Okay.

14 A So --

15 Q Eventually did you perform surgery?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And although MRIs and everything are nice is the 18 gold standard for finding a meniscal tear, an arthroscopic
19 intervention?

20 A That's correct. It is considered the gold standard.

21 Q What -- when did you conduct your surgery?

22 A It was completed on October 4th of 2005.

23 Q Could you tell the Judge what you did?

24 A We did -- well, the arthroscopic treatment is 25 basically you put cameras into the joint through little stab

AVTranz

1 holes -- stab wounds, and we take a look at the interior of
2 the joint. We can then, through other little stab wounds, put
3 probes, push on -- and a lot of people will talk about
4 degeneration within the meniscus and meniscal tears caused by 5 degeneration. You have to actually palpate the meniscus in 6 order to determine that. That can't be done with an MRI. It
7 can only be done with actually palpating it through an 8 arthroscope -- I mean other than opening it physically up with 9 a big, huge incision which is not done anymore.

10 I mean it was done in the '70s -- '60s and '70s but 11 it's currently -- no one opens up a joint unless you've got
12 some tumor to deal with or something huge or doing cartilage
13 transplant surgery. We do open -- I do arthrotomies for 14 cartilage transplants but that's in order to place cartilage
15 on the bone's surface.

16 Generally speaking we treat all meniscal problems,
17 ligament tears and everything within the knee and a large
18 amount of articular cartilage sorters, all through the 19 arthroscope because it allows us to not only look at what 20 we're doing, it allows us to put instrumentation in and 21 introduce tissues. We can suture through a scope, we can put 22 screws and we can even augment by putting in artificial
23 ligaments to replace, like the anterior cruciate, and all 24 through a scope. We drill tunnels and we put them in, but we 25 palpate the joint.

AVTranz

1           So that's the gold standard. We can see everything.
2 We can push, pull, maneuver, manipulate and we can prove
3 whether or not there's stability, instability, tears or other
4 problems within the joint.

5           Q     Now you have some pictures?

6           A     Yes.

7           Q     Would you please demonstrate for the Judge what you
8 found intraoperatively?

9           A     Okay. Yes. What I found --

2 know, so --

3 MR. BAKER: Well, let me do it this way first, to --
4 BY MR. BAKER:

5 Q Doctor, was the entirety of your treatment
6 reasonable, necessary and causally related to the subject
7 accident?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And you have a bill in this case; is that correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And could you please tell the Court what the amount
12 of your bill was?

13 A Oh, I didn't bring it with me, but I -- it was 14 somewhere in the $16,000 range.

15 Q I have the bill which was included in Exhibit 16 as 16 $16,701.50?

17 A Correct.

18 Q Was that reasonable, necessary and causally related
19 to the subject accident?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And with respect to both of those opinions are those 22 opinions held to a reasonable degree of medical probability?

23 A Yes.

24 MR. BAKER: Move to admit 16, and then I think you could
25 put the pictures as part of 16, Your Honor.

2 her having them. You know, with the Court having them, that's
3 not an issue.

4 THE COURT: Did you want to see these pictures, Mr. Ward?

5 MR. WARD: I just would like them marked and admitted
6 into evidence if they're going to be talked about.

7 THE COURT: Okay.

8 MR. BAKER: And I just wanted to get -- so Your Honor, I
9 move to admit 16.

10 THE COURT: And I didn't hear any objections?

11 MR. WARD: No, there isn't any objection.

12 THE COURT: 16 is admitted.

13 [Plaintiff's Exhibit 16 Received]

14 THE COURT: I guess we'll ask the clerk to mark these.
15 Do they need to be marked individually or can they be marked
16 all as a packet?

17 MR. WARD: I think it would be worthwhile marking them

19 MR. BAKER: Maybe just A and B, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: I'm sorry?

21 MR. BAKER: A and B.

22 THE WITNESS: There's four of them.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Okay.

3 [Clerk to Court]

4 THE WITNESS: A through E, if it's five.

5 THE COURT: You're right, yes. Okay.

6 MR. BAKER: If we go above J, I can't get that.

7 THE WITNESS: Yeah. Me either.

8 MR. BAKER: Right.

9 THE WITNESS: I have trouble with that myself.

10 THE CLERK: Well the first one is 78 and then 78A, B, C
11 and D --

12 THE COURT: And E.

13 THE WITNESS: That will work.

14 THE COURT: Oh, the first one's 78?

1 see this physical appearance of the articular surface.

2           The articular surface should be glossy smooth and
3 you should be able to see a well defined line. When you
4 don't, when it looks irregular and looks like there's peach
5 fuzz on it, it means it's -- the articular cartilage is 6 deteriorating. And we see this patella femoral problem, as 7 you can see with age, but you can see it from trauma, there --
8 we have to kind of put it together as to why you see it but we 9 definitely see a articular cartilage abnormality.

10           The femoral trochlea, this is the groove between the 11 patella. He had some fluid in the joints, so sometimes what 12 happens is you get a -- it gets -- the picture gets fuzzy
13 because of bleeding. And I always do my MRI -- I do my 14 arthroscopies without a tourniquet because it lessens the 15 probably of getting DVT and this gentleman had a history of 16 clots. And I felt it was important not to put a tourniquet on 17 his leg so he could get another --

18 BY MR. BAKER:

19           Q     Blood clot?

20           A     -- potentially an embolis. We even treated him with 21 Lovenox for a while just to minimize the risk of clots
22 forming. Because that's one of the complications of these
23 surgeries, is that you could wind up with clots. So you

4 Q Like the three-year-old not smiling anymore?

5 A And they stop smiling, exactly. It's like taking a
6 picture.

7 So this was unfortunately taken. I was -- really
8 did it to take a look at the alignment, but the kneecap has 9 got a little bit of irregularity; when you look at it's not 10 even. The joint ought to be even. If it isn't even, it's 11 tilted. That means there is some malalignment in the kneecap
12 area, so there's a little malalignment.

13 THE COURT: Okay. Let interrupt with you here for a 14 moment.

15 Mr. Ward, do you want to come up here and look at these 16 pictures as she's testifying?

17 MR. WARD: Sure.

1 irregularity which would be the condromalacia, which shows
2 it's not a hundred percent pristine. It's -- this has got
3 degeneration within it. This shows the alignment of the 4 kneecap joint with the groove that the kneecap sits in, and
5 this is the kneecap itself. And you can see there's a little
6 bit of malalignment because the spaces are not equal. There's 7 a little wider on one side than the other which means that the 8 kneecap is just a tiny bit tilted, not a tremendous amount by 9 any means.

10           And during a full range of motion the kneecap could 11 start out being straight and then as it gets further and 12 further, it could tilt more and more and more, until it's all
13 -- until when you get it fully bent it's way off the side.
14 So, we try to check for all these things and this was just 15 trying to get a picture of that.

16           This is looking at the medial meniscus with buckling
17 which is, you know, potentially got some degeneration. The 18 good news is other than this area, which is to the inside
19 part, that is showing potential damage to the articular
20 cartilage. But generally speaking much smoother than this 21 kneecap cartilage was and the tibia, which is below. So,
22 you're looking at the tibia as the floor and the meniscus,
23 which is the shock absorber, which is this little area which 24 is a crescent. Meniscus means moon and that's Latin and it's 25 crescent moon, basically.

AVTranz

1           So it's what we call semi-lunar cartilage, that's
2 what the term meniscus means. So it looks like a crescent
3 moon. But what does it is, it makes that -- the tibia which 4 is flat meet the femur. When you look at the femur, the 5 femur's rounded, the round and the flat, it's like putting a
6 square peg in a round hole; they don't work. And this makes 7 them work together.

8           So what the meniscus does -- they used to think it
9 was avascular, it was a remnant, it didn't do anything, but it
10 actually is a shock absorber. It allows full weight 11 transmission across the whole tibia from the femur. So the 12 areas of the femur that are -- that directly hit bone to bone
13 aren't taking all the pressure and that the whole of this 14 curved surface is transmitting pressure across the whole of 15 the tibia.

16           And when the meniscus is removed completely, as it
17 was done say in the '50s and '60s, they used to take -- just 18 make a big incision and cut the whole thing out because they 19 knew it was not vascular. In adults, only ten percent of the 20 meniscus edge has actually got a blood supply where it can 21 heal. And that's the problem when you have trauma to the 22 meniscus, the meniscus doesn't have the capability of healing,
23 especially when it's damaged on its interior.

24 BY MR. BAKER:

25           Q     Because its lack of vascularity?. That's why

AVTranz

1 children, you can do surgery on, because up to a half of their
2 meniscus will have a blood supply. It's as they grow and the 3 meniscus gets bigger and then they age, that the meniscus
4 becomes more avascular and only at the edges where it will
5 heal.

6 So, when you have a detachment along the edge we try
7 to fix all of those, because we've found over time that if you
8 don't fix the meniscus and you take the whole thing out,
9 you're going to wind up with progressive arthritis of the 10 joint because of the action of removing that shock absorber.
11 So all the weight's got to go through one small area.

12 They found in studies -- and I can get them for you
13 if you want to actually read the studies -- that 50 percent of 14 your weight is -- comes through the meniscus and 50 percent
15 comes through the direct bone to the -- tibia to femur. So if 16 you remove that half of the weight-bearing area, that means
17 that the only -- the weight-bearing area that normally takes 18 it because of shape, has got to twice the amount of work over 19 the rest of that person's lifetime which means it will
20 degenerate twice as quickly as another individual.

21 So we basically are -- potentially, if we take out a
22 whole meniscus, a subtotal meniscectomies, we don't like to do
23 them are -- you're basically sentencing that person to 24 arthritis in their knee by removing the shock absorber.

25 Q May I ask you a quick question? You described the 1 non-arthritic quality of the articular surfaces?

2 A Uh-huh.

3 Q And however there's a frank medial meniscus tear; is
4 that true?

5 A Yes. But he also doesn't have exactly a hundred
6 percent no-problem on the medial condyle. He's got an area
7 that's irregular, that's only shadowed because it's on the 8 edge of the picture here.

9 Q But that's indicative of a traumatically-related
10 tear of the meniscus?

11 A Yes. It sits -- yes. When you have degenerative
12 arthritis, it's a uniform loss of the articular cartilage
13 throughout the whole joint. You don't have spots that are 14 deteriorating.

15 Q And you don't see that in this case?

16 A Correct.

17 Q Which indicates to you that meniscal tear is a frank
18 traumatically-related meniscal tear?

19 A It's causing traumatic degeneration of the articular
20 surface and it has to come from some place.

21 Q So the degeneration of the articulated surface is 22 caused by the frank meniscal tear; is that right?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And that meniscal tear is entirely consistent with 25 your reading of the MRI from January; is that true?

1           A     Correct.

2           Q     And is that your opinion to a reasonable degree of
3 probability?

4           A     Yes.

5           Q     So in fact the findings that you're seeing on these
6 films is all consistent with what you saw in the January MRI,
7 which you read yourself?

8           A     Correct.

9           Q     And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of
10 probability?

11          A     Correct. Now this next picture the last one on the 12 front page shows the anterior cruciate ligament. The anterior
13 cruciate ligament normally -- this is -- you can see it's 14 intrasynovial. You see this redness on it. It's got all
15 these -- you see the little vessels on the top of it, and then
16 you see all this bunch of like gunk on it, like tissue. Like
17 why is that thickened? The ligament should look white like 18 the articular surface.

19                 That's because that's a traumatized area of the ACL
20 that's been trying to heal. The lining, the stuff that covers
21 the top of the ACL does have the capability to do some limited
22 healing and that's been -- there's an area here with this
23 redness -- this is the femur up here, the notch where it
24 attaches.

25                 And this is the middle part of the ligament which is

AVTranz

1 consistent with the MRI finding that when it was -- when you
2 look at that mucoid degeneration that there was some trauma
3 and there was some attempt at healing, so he had a partial
4 ACL. That's what you clinically see here.

5 Now the lateral joint, this is the lateral. The 6 outside part looks absolutely pristine, normal lateral
7 meniscus, normal articular surface, normal femur. Okay.

8 Q It's pretty.

9 A Yeah. It was very pretty. When you go back to the 10 medial side, you see this again. There is the articular
11 cartilage again. When you look at the notch towards the edge
12 and that's articular cartilage degeneration.

13 Q And that --

14 A And --

15 Q -- in your opinion, is directly related to the 16 trauma in the subject accident?

17 A Well, it's more flat-like, which is what you what 18 consider. If it was degenerative, like I said, it's just a
19 buffing. It's just --

20 Q So --

21 A The patella femoral joint is more degenerative
22 because it's like fuzzy, peachy fuzz, because it's thinning
23 out uniformly because of wearing. You know, you're just 24 buffing it up and you're scraping off the surface uniformly
25 over an area.

1           When you are looking at traumatic arthritis, you're
2 looking for these types of things, where like, it's a carpet
3 being pulled up. The articular surface -- the articular
4 cartilage sits on a foundation of the bone. The articular
5 surface has no blood supply. It's just like tile and carpet;
6 it's glued to the bone.

7           And when it's been ripped up, and then you're
8 ripping it up, you're getting a flap. A flap means it's being
9 pulled off by something traumatic. It's not just being worn
10 down by wear or people walking over the carpet and it's just 11 getting smaller and smaller, it got ripped up.

12           And that's what this other picture here shows, is 13 articular cartilage, you can see, it looks like it's all
14 loose, like you can put a probe in it and you can pull that 15 stuff away. That means it's flap-like degeneration, so it's 16 like the carpet being pulled up off of its -- of the 17 attachment to the bone and it's loose like a loose piece of 18 carpet.

19           So you can clean this up. We can't -- if it's full
20 thickness, we do a cartilage transplant. The articular
21 cartilage has no blood supply, so it can't heal at all.

22           Q     All right.

23           A     Once it's been damaged like this, we can shave it
24 down, we smooth it down and make it like a degenerative
25 arthritic change to smooth it so it won't -- because when you

AVTranz

1 move this, it's like catching carpet on a door opening and
2 closing it'll jam the door -- it'll jam the joint.

3 We want to make it smooth. Even though it's not full
4 thickness, we want to make -- you know, if that carpet under
5 the door is lower pile, it's not going to abrade the door
6 opening and closing. We don't -- we have to accept what we 7 can do.

8 We can't make the pile as high as it used to be if
9 it's already damaged. We thin it down, so it doesn't catch
10 when the door opens and closes, which what the meniscus does.
11 It sits, glued to the tibia, just like carpet or tile. So,
12 and you know, we don't want the loose tile kicking up so you
13 trip while you go through the door, or it catches on the door.

14 Q Doctor, may I interrupt for a sec? That traumatic
15 meniscus tear, it is your opinion to a reasonable degree of 16 probability it's traumatic?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And it's your opinion to a reasonable degree of 19 medical probability that it's directly related to the incident
20 that happened at the Palms Hotel?

21 A Based on history, there was no other traumatic
22 incident for me to attribute it to. The reason I say it's 23 traumatic is the articular cartilage has degeneration in it
24 that say trauma occurred. It didn't come out of nowhere. The 25 meniscus is causing that.

1 Q Okay. And is it your opinion that the tear is
2 directly and proximately related to this incident at the Palms
3 Hotel?

4 A Yes. I have no other traumatic incident to 5 attribute it to.

6 Q And is that in your opinion to a reasonable degree
7 of probability?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And is that opinion bolstered by the fact that your 10 findings through arthroscopy are what would be actually
11 anticipated by your reading of the MRI in January?

12 A Well it would be anticipated based on the history
13 and the MRI.

14 Q That --

15 A Now, the other thing here is this is the synovitis.
16 Remember we -- this is the patella femoral joint again. You
17 see the alignment, a little bit open so the kneecap, that's --
18 that can be corrected with physical therapy. This was not so
19 severe that I felt had -- I had to go release and realign it
20 and make any ligamentous changes. I felt it could be corrected
21 with physical therapy post-operatively.

22 This is looking at the joint lining, the synovium,
23 and you see it's inflamed. There's redness, there's -- and 24 it's very thick. Normally, the joint lining is very thin, you
25 can see ligaments through it. You can see again up on this

AVTranz

1 first picture, a lot of tissue. It looks like it's a whole
2 bunch of stuff there, and sometimes this tissue will get
3 pinched by the two bones and that causes pain because the 4 nerve endings for the interior of the joint are in the 5 synovium. So --

6 Q Can I get you some water?

7 A No, I'm good. Did -- then when I went back here,
8 it's way in the back, so it's hard to get underneath the 9 corner, but I did pull the meniscus up and was able to put my
10 probe underneath the meniscus, high -- and that's a meniscus
11 tear, because I was able to pull the meniscus forward. Again
12 I had a lot of bleeding going on because I was actually
13 getting to trauma area and I wasn't able to catch a good
14 picture of it.

15 But the meniscus did pull forward because that's 16 what probe was under when I was pulling on it. That's a
17 meniscus tear and you have to deal with that.

18 So the last set of pictures, let's see here. Well,
19 actually the last two sets of pictures. Well last -- next to 20 last. I guess this would come up as being C, shows after 21 we've cleaned out the meniscus that it's all -- I've taken off
22 the part of the meniscus that's the thinnest, the part that
23 was torn and can't heal. The peripheral rim is what can heal
24 and the meniscus is triangle-shaped, it's very thick at the 25 edges and it's very thin in the middle, because of the round

AVTranz

1 curvature of the femur you want to slip in and fit into that
2 triangle.

3 So when you take out part of the meniscus, and I
4 clean -- we clean out the cartilage, you wind up taking out
5 some of the meniscus and so then you have a truncated flat --
6 a truncated meniscus that's not as -- it's not perfectly
7 triangle shaped.

8 Q And once it's truncated does that create the 9 permanent biomechanical change in the structure of the knee?

10 A Yes. Based on the percentage of the meniscus that 11 you removed, so you remove as little as possible, okay?

12 And there again is the inflammation of the joint 13 lining. That's what creates the joint fluid and lubricates the 14 joint. And you can see it's very, very thickened, which is 15 inflammation and that means there's a trauma in the joint, the 16 joint's trying to compensate for. Having cleaned up your --
17 in full flexion -- this is a picture of the kneecap joint
18 again, when it's in full flexion. The kneecap is in a nice
19 position, so that's why I didn't do a release of the 20 ligaments.

21 But again, lot's of inflammatory tissue in the 22 front. He had synovitis everywhere.

23 So, that's what these pictures show.

24 Q I just learned more about the knee than I ever
25 thought I would. Thank you.

1 THE COURT: Me too.

2 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: We'll give my pictures to one -- the clerk.

4 BY MR. BAKER:

5 Q Doctor, you showed us your surgery and --

6 A Uh-huh.

7 Q -- it's a pretty amazing thing. But even under the 8 most pristine environment, even under the best circumstances,
9 is there a percentage of people who have post-operative
10 failure and require a secondary surgery?

11 A Yes. Ten to 15 percent, if you're doing your job
12 properly. We build in a recurrence rate and that's due to -- 13 it's a philosophical thing. If I wanted to make sure I've got 14 no recurrent tears, I'd just take out the whole meniscus. But 15 what have I done? I've taken away 50 percent of his 16 weight-bearing capability.

17 Remember only 10 percent, the -- right at the edge
18 is all that's got a good blood supply and can be guaranteed to 19 heal. What we want to do is make sure that it -- it has 20 limited healing capability inside where we stopped the 21 meniscectomy. And what we do especially with age is we make a
22 determination, based on skill and experience, as to where to 23 stop. What's the part of the meniscus that I can stop on,
24 keeping as much as possible to try to maintain as much shock
25 absorber as humanly possible?

AVTranz

1           So we make an educated guess. It's through
2 experience, and the American Academy, you know, feels that if
3 it's 10 to 15 percent recurrence you've done about your -- the 4 right amount, because otherwise if your recurrence rate is
5 less, you're taking too much meniscus. You're putting that
6 person at risk for more arthritis.

7           If you have too high a reoccurrence rate, you go to 8 25 or 30 or 40 percent, then you're not taking enough and 9 they're -- you never did clear up the whole problem and they
10 just get it right back right away. And one of the aspects
11 that we have to judge -- it's a judgment, so we're like 12 trimming material.

13           Okay? The good analogy for the meniscus is, I'm in 14 there and I'm a tailor and now I'm trimming material, but I
15 can't hem it. I can't serge it. I can't smooth it. The body
16 seals it and smoothes it over a six to eight week period after 17 the surgery. And when you go back in on a meniscectomy, say
18 for whatever reason you have to look again? And there's been 19 studies and they've done this, where they go and look -- you
20 know, how many people are actually going to sign up to have 21 another surgery, so we can check their meniscus if they're 22 doing well?

23           They're not going to. So the only thing we have is 24 antidotal evidence. And I think there might be one study out
25 there where they went -- where somebody signed up and said

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1     okay, I'll let you do my meniscectomy and I'm going to let you
2     do it -- in ten to 12 weeks I'm going to let you look again,
3     even though I don't need surgery. Number one, insurance
4     companies won't pay for it and neither would a patient. And 5     so we have only antidotal evidence really.

6             And I've had -- I've looked in on several of my
7     patients and what you find -- you know, say they had a trauma
8     and I did a meniscectomy. I can remember specifically one
9     individual -- of course I can't name him, because it's not 10    appropriate -- but had a meniscectomy and they did fine for a 11    year-and-a-half and then they tripped and they fell again and 12    now they have a new tear. The MRI showed a tear elsewhere, so
13    I had to go in and trim out this new tear on the other side.
14    But I got an opportunity to look at my meniscectomy from the 15    other year, and what happens is it's truncated, but it does
16    smooth out.

17            So we leave the roughened edge always when we're
18    going in there, like the tailor who just cuts the material,
19    and the body seams it and it will do it over a period of time.
20    And what you get ultimately is a smoothed edge. It is 21    truncated and blunted. It can't be that full, nice triangle
22    shape that goes out to a thin edge.

23            Q     You love this stuff don't you?

24            A     I like it. Yeah.

25            Q     Okay.

1 A So --

2 Q And Doctor, therefore, is it foreseeable that
3 Enrique Rodriguez would require a follow up surgery to his
4 left knee regardless of how well you performed the procedure?

5 A There's a 10 to 15 percent probability of that.

6 Q And that's your opinion to a reasonable degree of
7 probability?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And Doctor, you're aware that there's a six or seven
10 month gap in the time that Enrique first saw you and he had 11 his surgery; is that right?

12 A Correct.

13 Q However, even intraoperatively, the findings that
14 you found were the same as you saw all the way back on the MRI
15 in January of '05; is that right?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And are you aware of why he had that gap in 18 treatment?

19 A Well, I'm aware that he had difficulty with funding
20 the procedure.

21 Q Have you seen this before?

22 A Oh, absolutely, yes.

1 could you explain to the Judge how that works?

2 A Yes. I can't pay the hospital's bill and
3 arrangements have to be made and the hospitals are very
4 unforgiving. And they already do a lot of free surgery
5 through people who come through the emergency room, who have
6 no way to pay. So, bringing in what would be considered a
7 semi-elective -- it would be considered semi-elective. It's 8 not a truly elective, and that it's not something he could,
9 you know, go on living with because he was having difficulty
10 functioning.

11 So it's not truly emergent because his life's not
12 threatened by it, so it's -- we consider those semi-elective.
13 They need to be done but there's no timeframe that, you know,
14 that I could then go to a hospital administration and say if 15 you don't do something by this date, you're causing X, Y, Z to 16 occur, which is the only leverage I would have to make a
17 hospital pay for -- do a surgery that wasn't going to get
18 paid.

19 So, what we have to do then is make -- help make the 20 patient make arrangements to get somebody to fund it, and 21 that's what liens are about.

22 Q And you find nothing nefarious in that gap in
23 treatment?

24 A No, no. I mean, it just is difficult to get --
25 because what they have to do with liens -- the lien company,

1 because they won't basically buy -- the lien companies, they
2 buy the risk.

3 Q It's a shame that there's not more access, isn't it?

4 A Correct. But the hospital isn't going to take that 5 risk and neither will, you know, other facilities, potentially
6 anesthesiologists and the like. They want to get paid.

7 Q And just so I don't forget to ask, was your

14 A Yes.

15 Q And the bill of 16,000 and so, that's already in

7 A Yes.

8 Q And you testified that your portion of the Rancho

10 causally related and reasonable, necessary -- and reasonable
11 and necessary in terms of its billing?

12 A Yes.

13 Q To a reasonable degree of probability?

14 A Yes.

15 Q I'd like you to turn to Exhibit Number 6, which is

1           A     Let me see. This was for -- one was at least for an
2 arthrogram MRI which I ordered on the patient.

3           Q     Why did you do that?

4           A     Because of ongoing symptoms after surgery. The only
5 way -- once you've done surgery on a knee -- here's one of the 6 things about magnetic resonance imaging, and I think this is a
7 pretty good analogy and it makes it sense for most people.

8                     When you've done an MRI, it's not a picture. It is 9 looking at electrical -- it looks at electrical charges. It's 10 looking at your magnetism. So think of it like looking for 11 uranium and I'm -- I've got my little Geiger counter out and 12 I'm scanning it and I find something bad because it goes
13 click, click, click, click, click, and I find that piece of 14 uranium on the ground and I take it away. All right. That's 15 my surgery. I've removed the uranium I've got rid of the 16 problem.

17                     The ground itself still has the uranium in it. It
18 still shows a shadow and that's what you see on MRIs because 19 it takes a while for that electrical charge to dissipate.
20 Even though I've removed part of that meniscus, it still shows
21 the shadow of what was there.

22                     What I've found over time is that if I did an MRI
23 within six months to a year of having done a surgery, that it
24 would show me -- it would show that I did absolutely nothing.
25 I've gotten several of them where it said I had the exact same

1 meniscus tear and I've got pictures that show I took it out.
2 And where you put the two MRIs against each other and they'd
3 say "Oh, my gosh, they're identical."

4 Q That's weird.

5 A And well, it's because the magnetic shadow. It's
6 the shadow. It's the ghost of it. Its like walking on a
7 beach and you've seen -- you're looking for people on --
8 you're looking for life. You see all the footprints in the 9 sand. You put your helicopter up and you go looking and you
10 say, gosh there must be people on this island. There's 11 footprints everywhere. And you -- but you go there and you
12 land your little helicopter and you take all those people away
13 who were on the Lost island and you -- they'll go away, the 14 campfires are still there and footprints are still in the 15 sand.

16 Q That's good.

17 A It take time to wear those away. So if you do an 18 MRI within, up to a year of the actual first MRI or a surgical
19 intervention, the MRI can look identical. How do you stop
20 that? How do you make a determination --

21 Q By doing the MRA?

22 A We do the MR -- arthrogram, correct.

23 Q And was this MRA reasonable, necessary and causally
24 related to a reasonable degree of probability?

25 A Yes.

4 Q They're little more expensive than the MRI?

5 A Yes. They were -- well, also it was an
6 inteventional procedure. You have to put a needle into a
7 patient and you take additional risks.

8 Q And that's painful.

9 A It has to be -- it's painful and it has to be done
10 by a radiologist, not just a scanner, so --

2 CROSS-EXAMINATION

3 BY MR. WARD:

4 Q Now, Doctor, the photographs that you had were,
5 what, originally taken in digital format?

6 A 2005, I'm not sure if Valley Hospital was -- well,
7 it was digital. I don't know to what level the digital was --

8 Q Right.

9 A -- so I don't know.

10 Q There were digital photographs?

11 A Yeah, I believe it -- I don't know what level of 12 digital it was, because they just recently, of course, made a
13 change.

14 Q And do you have copies of those digital photographs?

15 A I scanned those digital photographs into my computer
16 system because I'm paperless.

17 Q Okay.

18 A So I do -- actually, I should have a copy in my 19 actual computer system. Now, it's a scanned photo. It's not 20 digital coming from Valley that took it on -- do you know what
21 I'm saying? There's a difference.

22 Q Yeah, my question --

23 A I mean, the printer printed up something from a
24 digital format that was taken on their printer. I don't know
25 what Valley did with the actual digital photographs. My

1 digital copies are those that were scanned off of those
2 photographs, but I do have digital copies.

3 Q Okay. So you -- if I understand it correctly, these 4 were originally taken as digitals?

5 A I'm pretty certain that it was a digital camera.
6 I'm pretty sure --

7 Q Then they were printed out?

8 A Correct. They were printed out and --

9 Q And then you took --

10 A -- I was given the prints.

11 Q -- the printed out copies --

12 A Correct.

13 Q -- and scanned those?

14 A Into my computer system.

15 Q And then printed them out again from your computer

17 A Those pictures came from the hospital.

18 Q Oh, those are the photographs from the hospital,
19 okay.

20 A Yes, correct.

21 Q So those are the hospital prints from the original
22 digitals?

1 Q Do you know whether the hospital does?

2 A I do not know how they record keep.

3 Q Okay.

4 A I do know that when I do my surgeries I make three
5 copies of the actual digital photographs. I place one into
6 the paper chart for the hospital, I take one copy for myself
7 and I give a copy to the patient.

8 Q Okay.

9 A I always print up three because Las Vegas tends to 10 be very migratory and the hospital never gives up anything and 11 when a patient leaves and go out of town and they want -- and 12 a doctor calls for photographs, they're going to be asking for 13 mine and I don't let go of them. I mean, this is like 14 probably the first time I've ever let go of them, so -- but 15 the patient knows that he can't come to get them from me
16 anymore because I've given them up. So barring, you know,
17 from that standpoint.

18 MR. BAKER: And, Your Honor, sorry to interrupt. Can the 19 record reflect that we have consented, and Mr. Rodriguez has 20 consented, for the release of those original photographs and 21 waives any rights or remedies with respect to that?

7 Q Okay. And what is the one that they did the MRI

12 normally printed on the actual films, so I don't have them at

1 is?

2 A No, I wasn't -- I wasn't aware I was actually going
3 to testify at all in any circumstance until the end of last
4 week. So I worked all last weekend, Saturday, Sunday, clinic
5 and then surgery yesterday so I didn't have any opportunity to 6 do so.

7 Q And you got the -- you got the MRI that was done on 8 Mr. Rodriguez in January of 2005; isn't that correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And you thought it was sufficient for your purposes;
11 is that correct?

12 A At that point in time I was relying mostly on my
13 clinical examination, recognizing it was a lower Tesla unit, I
14 mean I can piece together what I would have done. I knew it
15 would be grainy and I went on my clinical evaluation of the 16 patient.

17 Q And your clinical evaluation of the patient was what 18 you did in -- on March 28 of '05?

19 A Correct.

20 Q Okay. Now you said earlier that if you totally 21 disagreed with the person who read the MRI, that you get a
22 second opinion, correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Okay. Now the person who read that MRI said there
25 is no evidence of acute internal derangement, magnetic

1 resonance arthrography can be performed if clinical symptoms
2 persist. Be fair to say you had a pretty sharp disagreement
3 with the conclusions offered?

4 A I based my exam -- I based my conclusions on
5 clinical examination.

6 Q I understand that, but you testified that if you
7 totally disagree with someone else who read the MRI, that
8 you'd get a second opinion?

9 A I don't know that I said exactly that. I mean, you
10 might have inferred that from it. I said if there is a big 11 enough -- big enough disagreement I can -- I would do it, but 12 I don't always do it, no. It's not given that I'll go ahead
13 and do it.

14 Q Wouldn't you say there's a pretty big disagreement
15 between saying there was an internal derangement and saying
16 there's no internal derangement?

17 A Yes, but normally I'll rely on clinical examination,
18 especially when enough time has gone by.

19 Q Okay. Now you are unable to determine from looking
20 at the actual photographs of the knee when those conditions
21 developed; isn't that true?

22 A That's correct. There's no timeframe on those.

23 Q Okay. So when you say these were all caused by the 24 incident at the Palms, what you're essentially saying is, I
25 haven't been told about anything else and therefore it must be

1 what happened at the Palms, correct?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q It's not because of anything else, it's simply
4 process of elimination?

5 A Yes, that's correct.

6 Q And if you knew that there had been some other
7 something or other you might offer a different opinion?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q You'd certainly take it into consideration?

10 A Absolutely.

11 Q Okay. Now, I will represent to you that 12 Mr. Rodriguez at the time of the accident was five feet, six
13 inches tall and weighed approximately 225 pounds. Now, you're 14 a doctor and you've been treating people for a number of 15 years, is that overweight?

16 A Correct, it is, yes.

17 Q Is that overweight by a fairly significant margin?

18 A Yes, it is.

19 Q What effect does that have on your knees?

20 A It wears them out earlier.

21 Q And so would you expect someone who is 45 years old
22 and who has been -- 44 years old and has been walking around
23 for a number of years at 225 pounds, that that would have some 24 significant effect on his knees?

25 A Oh yes, it would be a cumulative micro-trauma that

AVTranz

1 would degenerate the joint.

2 Q Okay. And you would call that trauma as well,
3 correct?

4 A It's called micro-trauma because it's wear and tear
5 -- additional wear and tear that's, you know, over and above
6 the norm.

7 Q Okay.

8 A It'd be similar to the type of determination you
9 could make by somebody who did heavy labor who was hopping up
10 and down all the time even who was normal weight, he's 11 traumatizing the joint on his own with the type of activities
12 he, you know, is involved in.

13 Q Right.

14 A It's a different kind of micro-trauma, but it's a
15 micro-trauma too.

16 Q And that has an effect on the knee joints of 17 Mr. Rodriguez; is that correct?

18 A Yes, it will.

19 Q And you could see that on the photographs, could you
20 not?

21 A There was degeneration within the meniscus.

22 Q Yeah.

23 A And I cannot determine -- I mean, which I know the 24 next question. I cannot make a determination as to what the 25 source of that degeneration -- what contribution of that

AVTranz

1 degeneration would come from wear and tear and age and factors
2 such as weight.

3 Q Right. And when you actually looked in his knee it
4 was almost a year after the accident, correct?

5 A That is correct.

6 Q And would you expect that he would be -- that his 7 knee would have gotten a lot better over that year, even if he
8 hadn't had an accident?

9 A Well, yes and no. I mean, whatever can heal would
10 heal.

11 Q That was a bad question. Let me try again.

12 A Okay.

13 Q Let's assume he had no accident at all. Given what 14 you know about Mr. Rodriguez, that he's 225 pounds and weighs 15 -- weighs 225 pounds and is five feet, six inches tall, would 16 you expect that he would suffer some degeneration -- ongoing
17 degeneration in his knee joints?

18 A Well, age alone will do that, and then you have that 19 additional factor.

20 Q Okay. So age alone causes degeneration and extra
21 weight causes it even more?

22 A Correct. It's all impacted, of course, by genetics.

23 Q Right.

24 A And there are people who have tremendous genetics,
25 who are massively overweight, and I look at their knees and I

AVTranz

1 say to myself, my god, they -- it should be worse than it is
2 and they look, but it's their genetics, doesn't allow them to
3 respond to micro-trauma. They're able to keep it in check and
4 they look great. And then I have people who are skinny, who
5 don't do much of anything, have a minor trauma and I look in 6 that knee and I say oh my, lord, it looks horrible; how it can
7 be this way? This person was -- never did anything wrong.

8           They just -- you know, it's just the genetics caused
9 -- you add all these other factors and so everybody is so
10 individual, you know, you can't say oh, just because he weighs
11 this much and he's this age, he has to have degeneration. It
12 may be a very low amount because of his genetics. It could be 13 a high amount because of genetics too and other additional 14 factors like work activities, you know, how many other traumas
15 a person has had, at what age those traumas may have occurred.

16           So if they played football, so a young man who's 17 skinny who plays football and has one major trauma when he's 18 17 years old, even if it's a meniscus, or he strains his 19 anterior cruciate ligament, then goes on to become a
20 carpenter. Still not very fat and just does his work, by the 21 time he's 40 he's got an arthritic knee and he never had
22 anything, except maybe that football injury when he was 15
23 years old that was examined, had an MRI and they said there
24 was only a sprain/strain of his leg, but we know that there
25 was almost certainly something more or it wouldn't have had --

1 it wouldn't have fallen that direction. So it's kind of a
2 incomplete hypothetical to give me all -- you know, a couple
3 of -- one factor and to hang everything on it, but you're 4 right, that factor does -- the time factor and weight -- the 5 weight does bear on it and that it will shift, you know,
6 whatever his genetics will allow in an adverse way. It's like
7 sliding him on a scale in a direction. I think I did -- I
8 think I answered the question, but you can always answer it
9 again -- ask it again and I'll answer it more succinctly for
10 you.

11 MR. BAKER: Does that mean I waived my incomplete
12 hypothetical objection, Your Honor?

13 THE COURT: I think so.

14 MR. WARD: Would you submit your objections in writing?

15 MR. BAKER: Thank you, I will.

16 [Laughter]

17 BY MR. WARD:

18 Q So you don't know how much of what you saw when you
19 operated on his knee was caused by an event -- a one-time
20 event from a year before and how much of it was caused by 21 ongoing degeneration?

22 A There are aspects of what was in his knee that I can
23 attribute to trauma, though I cannot say specifically without 24 knowing -- be living in his life and being at his side 24/7
25 from the time of the incident that occurred at the Palms to

AVTranz

1 the time I did a surgery on him that that was the absolute
2 only trauma that occurred. There were findings on the
3 cruciate ligament, both the tibial plateau and femoral condyle
4 that were traumatic in origin.

5 The only history of trauma that was given to me by
6 the patient was the Palm's trauma. There was degeneration
7 within the patella femoral joint, which I can absolutely 100
8 percent attribute to age and weight probably, because it was 9 an irregular wear, your -- it looked like peach fuzz on the 10 patella femoral joint. That's not traumatic; that's 11 degenerative.

12 And I don't -- I can't -- you know, the, we -- some 13 people will argue that an aggravation of degenerative
14 conditions can be caused by trauma, I can't say for certain 15 looking at that that there was any trauma that degeneration on 16 the patella without looking at his other patella and have to,
17 you know, to compare the two patellas because they're bookends
18 and I wasn't going to scope his other leg to go look at what 19 percentage of the degeneration that's currently present in 20 that knee could be attribute -- might be a variable that 21 trauma might have affected.

22 So I'd say --barring anything like that, I'd say the 23 patella femoral joint itself definitely was degenerative. The 24 femoral condyle, the meniscus tear, thought it may have a
25 contribution of a degenerative tear that was accelerated or

AVTranz

1 aggravated by the hyperextension injury, because that's the
2 other next question that obviously comes up. If I have a
3 degenerative meniscus tear then that -- part of that's 4 degeneration and that's made it tear easily. And then the
5 tear that was present was a cut I could put my probe into, so
6 there was a traumatic component to that.

7 But even over and above that, the femoral condyle
8 lesions were isolated, distinct and spotted -- spot areas, not
9 diffuse. Those were traumatic. And without -- but I only --
10 and I only have the one trauma to attribute it to, based on 11 history.

12 Q Okay. And so now to the -- if you have a
13 significant event, a tear that occurs on a particular
14 occasion, would you expect someone who perform -- a physician
15 who performed a physical exam to notice that tear on the 16 examination?

17 A Depends on when they see them. One of the aspects
18 of tears is that they increase over time with normal activity.
19 You have to factor in, if he was having pain he stopped his 20 activities. So there's going to be a mitigating factor, in 21 that it's not going to progress quickly -- as quickly as say a
22 guy who has minimal discomfort and has to go out and feed his 23 family and he gets into his truck and gets up and down and up
24 down.

25 It's like a seam that tears; it can tear

AVTranz

1 progressively over time. So that early on when you see
2 somebody with trauma, you have to separate out what is
3 contusion, sprain/strain and is there an underlying internal
4 derangement that persists and just keeps on not getting
5 better.

6 Time -- and so you can -- and when you have a
7 contusion, if you look at the -- at examination findings,
8 bruising and contusions are extremely painful. That's going
9 to overshadow anything else that's behind it. A small tear of 10 a meniscus isn't going to be painful until it causes
11 mechanical symptoms and that's going to be stress related
12 movement, like pivoting, twisting, going up and down stairs
13 and running. That's when a meniscus tear becomes symptomatic
14 to a patient.

15 If you have a trauma that's a contusion or a bruise,
16 the soft tissues are all -- have got bleeding in them,
17 ecchymosis, strain of a ligament where you're -- every step --
18 every normal step puts stress on the ligament and you get pain
19 because of that stretching on it. That kind of pain is very 20 sharp, our nerve endings are more superficial than they are 21 deep, our sensory input from our brain doesn't have to be very 22 dense in the interior of a joint because you've got the 23 exterior to protect it. So the density of our ability to 24 sense things is more superficial. So when you have an initial 25 injury like a contusion, a bruise or a strain you see the

AVTranz

1 bruising, that's the first thing anyone feels. You have to
2 examine a knee to find the instabilities. You have to examine
3 the knee to find the meniscus tears, but their contusions,
4 their bruises cause them so much pain you can't get a proper
5 examination.

6           So you find these other findings over time and
7 that's sometimes why you'll see a person have the diagnosis of 8 a contusion or a sprain/strain and then over the next month
9 the contusions and the abrasions all heal up and now it seems
10 like the pain has changed. And then they say well, I had all
11 this pain.

12           The patient doesn't basically discriminate; it's
13 pain in the joint. But the character of the pain can change
14 from one examiner to another over time because of changes in 15 the circumstances because remember, if you have a -- if an 16 injury comes from superficial to deep, superficial areas, the 17 bruising, the contusion areas have all got most of the nerve
18 endings. They go on like fire. They're just going crazy and 19 the brain is listening to them.

20           Pain is like a party, I mean when you have an 21 injury. This is the best analogy for how pain is perceived by 22 a person's human brain. Pain has a gate theory and so you can
23 have -- if you have multiple traumas, you get your head
24 smashed and you break your arm and you break your pelvis and 25 you go into that emergency room and they drag you in on the

AVTranz

1 gurney and you've got bruises everywhere and that person will
2 tell the doctor -- if the doctor sits -- because I did this
3 through residency all the time. You'll talk to them, my most
4 famous example was a racecar driver, and she got burned,
5 everything, and she got crushed, open fractures of her ankles,
6 everything, and -- NASCAR driver, and they brought her in and
7 she said, you know, my wrist hurts.

8           She's got open fractures of her ankles staring me in 9 the fact, I'm looking at a smashed pelvis, burn perineum from 10 the fire and she says, you know, my wrist is killing me; if 11 you could just do something about my wrist. And that, for me,
12 as a resident was like the most confusing thing I think I'd 13 ever seen. I mean, I'm looking at this tremendous trauma on 14 this woman and I had -- I research and I find -- you finally
15 figure out, it's the brain takes -- it's like walking into a
16 party and you got 50 people -- you got 50 injuries, all 50
17 different things, it's like people talking at the party. The 18 loudest one or the one closest to you is the voice you hear.
19 You can't hear all those voices in that room, you just drown
20 them out, it's white noise. So you get -- you take care of 21 the things as you see them.

22           Now for her it was very unusual that it's a minor
23 problem that was giving her so much trouble. Usually it's the 24 most severe thing that will give you the biggest problem
25 that's the biggest pain you get. When that thing quiets down,

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 that's the voice that stops in the party, the next voices show
2 up and you can hear them, because when that person shuts up,
3 you've got 100 people in the room, you know they're all
4 talking. When John stops talking, you're going to hear
5 Louise, you know, because he stopped. Your brain now focuses 6 on something else. Pain is that way and the lesser levels of 7 pain, as contusions and bruises are, like a very high level
8 discomfort because of the nerve endings, very dense nerve
9 endings, you get a bruise and swelling, the skin goes crazy.
10 Once the bruising starts to subside, then the character of the 11 pain changes; it's like that person shut up, now we got 12 another problem.

13           During that period of time you can continue to walk
14 on the leg, so you've got a little tear of a meniscus. You
15 think on clinical when you examine them, you don't really see 16 this, you know, the -- because the bruise -- you touch the 17 bruise, it hurts too bad. You can't touch the meniscus
18 because the bruise is interfering with your examination and 19 when you examine them, you bend their knee up, you can't do a
20 McMurray's Test because the contusion gets in the way.

21           So you can have a clinical examination that says
22 contusion, sprain/strain, but that doesn't mean there isn't a
23 meniscus tear within it. And with a meniscus tear is a tear
24 that, with activity, will increase over size -- with size over
25 time when you do activity. It mitigates because he wasn't

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024
Denver (303) 634-2295

1 walking on the leg, he stopped doing activity, so then he has
2 that factor that's probably part of why you can only surmise
3 his articular surfaces actually look pretty good after a year,
4 because he decreased his activity level to such a point that
5 he wasn't damaging the articular cartilage with activity. ;
6 But if he'd have forced himself to walk on it, he probably
7 would have caused more damage over time on the bone surfaces,
8 which don't have a lot of nerve endings, but he had enough of 9 a tear near the nerve ending on the capsule that he knew it
10 hurt and he wasn't going to move on it.

11 So that's why a clinical examination early on 12 evolves and it changes. And one examiner early on is going to 13 see potentially something totally different than another
14 examiner later on because of the character of the resolution
15 of the other associated injuries that come with the trauma.
16 The bruises and contusions start to subside and then you start
17 seeing other things. So you have the benefit of time.

18 That's another -- you know, the MRI was done, that's 19 all well and good, but the clinical over time is something you
20 have to look at. When -- there are studies out there, I can 21 -- I think I even brought one if you want to put it into 22 evidence, that talks about the -- and it was done in Britain
23 -- that shows that clinical examination is far more sensitive
24 than MRIs. Well, that's -- you know, I didn't examine the 25 study, what Tesla units were used and how they went about

AVTranz

E-Reporting and E-Transcription
Phoenix (602) 263-0885 • Tucson (520) 403-8024

1 getting the study and how they determined the sensitivity, but
2 there's a ton of argument in the orthopedic community as to
3 whether or not an MRI is superior to a clinical examination
4 versus, you know, which one should be used as a gold standard
5 to determine if you need surgery. We do agree overall when
6 you compare arthroscopy and MRI, arthroscopy is the gold
7 standard. It doesn't matter what the MRI says; there's false
8 negatives and false positives, but it's 100 percent accurate
9 when you look inside.

10 So from that perspective, you know, if there's any 11 confusion with regard to physical examination, you have to 12 look at the timeframes and the development of the process and 13 the change with what healing can occur in a person. So the 14 exams don't have to be -- I don't have to have the exact same
15 exam as somebody two months prior had examined him. So you
16 have to take all that stuff into consideration when you take 17 your histories.

18 So I don't know if that answered the question. I
19 kind of got off in a ramble, but I thought I stayed on point.

20 Q He was seen by Dr. Heaps on the night of the 21 accident?

22 A Yes.

23 Q If he had suffered a significant injury, you would 24 expect no swelling?

25 MR. BAKER: Vague. Excuse me, vague to definition of

1 significant, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Ask you to rephrase, given her testimony
3 earlier.

4 MR. WARD: Sure.

5 BY MR. WARD:

6 Q Given the injury that you think that he sustained
7 that night, you would expect that he would have that injury
8 and have no swelling whatsoever?

9 A Not necessarily. It depends on if he completely
10 immobilized and iced it down. You can keep the bruising down,
11 it can keep the tenderness down, because ice is an anesthetic.

12 Q So --

13 A So it depends on how he examined the patient. I
14 don't know exactly what was done. If he examined the patient
15 immediately after ice is removed, the patient may be numb and 16 may not show -- it may not show any swelling or bruising
17 either because you're minimizing it by immobilization and ice,
18 you know. So -- and when swelling will occur is usually 19 because you're moving it and you're causing more bleeding
20 within the joint. He wasn't moving it at all.

21 So usually the best time to examine for contusions,
22 bruising, sprains and strains is within two to three days.
23 Like people who sprain their ankle, the swelling in the ankle
24 gets worse over the next couple of days. If you want to see
25 what it looks like at its worst, bring the patient in at three

1 days and take a good look.

2 Q And how soon does the swelling start?

3 A It can start immediately. It can start within 12 to 4 24 hours. It depends on the person's activity. If they do
5 absolutely nothing, it may take a lot longer for the swelling
6 to show itself.

7 Q What's your understanding as to what Mr. Rodriguez
8 did after the event?

9 A I know I read in some of the reports that he didn't
10 do much of anything with it. I know he went home within a few 11 days, that a spent a couple of days not doing anything and 12 then he went home. I don't know how he went -- was 13 transported; I don't know if he was laying in the back of a
14 seat of a car or how he got back home. I don't know anything
15 about the particulars.

16 Q What's your information about what he did
17 immediately after the accident?

18 A That he tried to walk it off, I understand, but then
19 he felt he had a lot of discomfort so he stopped and then sat
20 down and didn't move it and then iced it and then decided not 21 to do anything about it.

22 Q So --

23 A I think he brought -- they brought an ambulance, he 24 talked to them, I guess he thought it -- they -- I believe
25 that what I read was he tried -- he decided -- he basically

1 said well, no I think I'm not going to go in an ambulance and
2 then thought better of it after trying to walk it off and said
3 yes, I need one and they brought them back a second time. I
4 think that's what happened.

5 Q Did you look at the ambulance records?

6 A I looked at the one that we discussed already.

7 Q And so you --

8 A I haven't seen more than one.

9 Q -- saw the one that said that the ambulance went
10 back out on a non-emergency basis?

11 A I did see -- like I said, I gave you that history --

12 Q Right.

13 A -- so I know I looked at the records that reflect
14 something like that, but I didn't see the original emergency
15 -- the original ambulance records when they didn't take him.

16 Q Well, you test --

17 A And what paperwork might have been produced from
18 that?

19 Q You testified that this was all reasonable and 20 necessary, correct?

21 A Well, I wasn't given that. The ones I did see were
22 reasonable and necessary.

23 Q Okay. And the ones you did see said that they went 24 out on a non-emergency basis?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And it says that he got up -- that he was sitting in
2 a chair in no apparent distress; is that correct?

3 A I believe so, yes.

4 Q Yeah. And when they got there, he got up and walked
5 over to where the gurney was.

6 A Yes, they asked him to, I think, was what I thought
7 I read. He didn't do it voluntarily -- he walked over
8 voluntarily, but I don't know who told who to do what.

9 Q Well, would you show me where you see that in the 10 record?

11 A It says here, "41-year-old male" -- and I don't know
12 what that c-slash whatever is, complains of or -- I don't know
13 what it means, I'm assuming complains of, "left knee PX" -- I
14 don't know what that abbreviation means -- "five of ten" -- so
15 I'm assuming that's his pain level, is five out of ten,
16 "moderate amount of pain radiating. Patient states he began"
17 -- pain -- patient --

18 Q Radiating or not radiating?

19 A It says radiating -- or let me see. Five of ten,
20 okay, it's got such a separation, non-radiating, so it stays
21 in the knee. Patient states that "something began
22 approximately two hours ago after a woman dove and hit his
23 knee with her shoulder. Patient states the woman hit his knee
24 from the front." I don't know if that's front, it's hard to 25 tell -- "of his knee and his knee buckled. He states he tried

1 to walk it off, but it began hurting and he called 9-1-1."

2 First something -- oh, first crew canceled, okay.

3 "Patient said he would drive himself. Patient states he began
4 hurting when he started walking and called back for the 5 ambulance." So I knew there was -- I thought I had read that.

6 Q Okay. And you read the part at the end of that 7 paragraph where it says, "Patient has no other complaints at 8 this time"?

9 A Let me see. Yes, I see that.

10 Q And you see the next sentence where it says,
11 "Patient found sitting in chair in care of security"?

12 A Uh-huh.

13 Q "Patient in no obvious distress."

14 A Correct.

15 Q Okay.

16 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, I'd ask if she's reading part of 17 this document into evidence, because apparently she's going to 18 read it, if she reads the entirety of it.

19 THE COURT: I'm sorry, I couldn't hear.

20 MR. BAKER: I'd ask that she reads the entirety of the 21 document into evidence, since she's the only one who can read
22 it if he's going to be questioning her on the document.

23 THE COURT: That's right, there is that medical

25 MR. BAKER: Thank you, Your Honor.

1 BY MR. WARD:

2 Q So next it says, "Age 41, male." What's it say
3 after that?

4 A No, "Patient, 41-year-old" and I don't know what
5 those abbreviations mean. It says c-slash -- and I'm not sure
6 if it's an L or an S or an 8. It looks like it was --
7 somebody tried to write something, maybe it was an 8 and then
8 they changed their mind or made it an L; I can't really tell
9 honestly. But then there's a left --

10 Q But you don't know what that means?

11 A I don't know.

12 Q And then there's what?

13 A And then there's a left -- the L circle is left --
14 knee PX. I have no idea what PX means. I'm going to -- I
15 can't for certain know what it means, except maybe they mean
16 pain, because next is five of ten, which is normally a pain
17 scale. So the PX may mean pain.

18 Q Well, isn't it true you don't know what that means?

19 A Huh?

20 Q Isn't that true you don't know what that means?

21 A I'm almost certain I don't know what PX means.

22 Q Okay. Then --

23 A So --

24 MR. BAKER: Didn't she already read this portion into

1 THE COURT: I'm sorry, Mr. Baker?

2 MR. BAKER: Didn't she already read this portion into
3 evidence. She read down to O; is that right?

4 THE WITNESS: I did.

5 MR. BAKER: All I was asking the Court, Your Honor, is 6 after O, if she could just read from skin down.

7 THE WITNESS: Okay. You want me to do the O part?

8 MR. BAKER: Well, I don't --

9 THE WITNESS: Patient found sitting.

10 MR. BAKER: -- want to take over the questioning of the 12 MR. WARD: I would like to ask questions.

13 THE COURT: And you're entitled to.

14 MR. WARD: Thank you, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: But let's just make sure we get all of it
16 read into the record.

17 MR. BAKER: And I did -- that's exactly correct. I'm 18 sorry, Your Honor.

19 THE WITNESS: Okay.

20 BY MR. WARD:

21 Q And next it says weight, 130 kilograms?

22 A Yeah, it says age 41, they x'ed off male, AVPU, they
23 circled A and on the next -- and they have something else
24 circled on the bottom, A and O, it looks like. Oh, I think

3 Q Is it true you don't know what this is for sure?

4 A I don't know for certain.

5 Q Then I would ask that you not offer --

6 A Okay.

7 Q -- opinions --

8 A Okay.

9 Q Wait. Can you stop for one second?

10 A Yes.

11 Q We've already gone over this, so can I go the next
12 area?

13 A Sure.

14 Q Thank you. The next part of the chart says,
15 "Documented findings."

16 A Correct.

17 Q And then under that it says "Skin," printed, and it
18 says "LPD." What's LPD mean?

19 A Might be a WPD.

20 Q Okay. What does WPD mean?

21 A I have no idea.

22 Q Okay. Next it has "Head," correct?

23 A Correct.

24 Q "Negative, dizzy"?

25 A Correct.

2 A Correct.

3 Q "Negative, loss of consciousness"?

4 A Correct.

5 Q Next it has "Neck."

6 A Uh-huh.

7 Q "Negative," what?

8 A "JVD," which is jugular venous distention.

9 Q Okay. Negative?

10 A "Negative tracheal deviation."

11 Q Okay. Next it has "Chest"?

12 A Chest, yes.

13 Q And what's that say?

14 A I think it's a three, but it says "rise and fall."

15 Q Okay.

16 A So I'm assuming that means normal rise and fall;

17 he's breathing adequately.

18 Q Okay. "Lung sounds"?

19 A They're "clear" and then I can't read -- B1L -- I

20 guess bilateral, must be bilateral, but it looks like a one

21 not an I.

22 Q "Abdomen"?

23 A "Soft and non-tender."

24 Q "Pelvis"?

25 A "Is stable"?

1 Q "Lower extremities"?

2 A "Left knee PX, post-impact with woman's shoulder."

3 They put "negative, contusion," but "positive, swelling."

4 Q Okay. What does negative contusion mean?

5 A They didn't see any definite ecchymosis is what I
6 would assume it means, no abrasions, no ecchymosis was evident
7 to them.

8 Q Do people often refer to contusions as marks on the 9 surface?

10 A Yes, it's bruising, like ecchymosis. It would be --

11 Q But you can also have contusions that aren't 12 bruising, can't you?

13 A You can have abrasions.

14 Q Right.

15 A Which is like scratches.

16 Q Right.

17 A Right.

18 Q Or you can have like contusions, I can hit my hand
19 on this and leave a mark there. It's not a bruise, but it's a
20 mark, it's a contusion, right?

21 A Right, normally associated with some bruising under 22 the skin with it normally, but you can have just marks with no
23 bruising.

24 Q Okay. But they said negative contusion?

25 A Yes.

2 Now, next is "clinical condition."

3 A Yes.

4 Q And it says "R/O," which is rule out?

5 A Rule out.

6 Q Rule out what?

7 A "Musculoskeletal PX due to impact."

8 Q Okay. After that is?

9 A "ABL." I don't know if that means ambulance or not.

10 Q Okay. And "assessment"?

11 A "Assessment, walk to gurney."

12 Q Now, let me stop you there. Where does it say that 13 they asked him to walk to the gurney?

14 A The assessment would be walk to a gurney. I mean,
15 that's the plan. The plan -- from what I can tell was there
16 plan to have him to walk to the gurney.

17 Q So that's where -- you get all that from the 18 statement, walk to the gurney?

19 A Yeah, that's kind of what I'm getting out of it.

20 Q You don't just get he walked to the gurney?

21 A I don't -- I don't know. You'll have to talk to 22 them specifically to know if they forced him to walk to the 23 gurney or he volunteered to the walk to the gurney, but the 24 plan was to get him to go the gurney.

25 Q I understand. The reason I'm asking you this is

1 that you offered that they asked him to walk to the gurney and
2 I'm trying to find out --

3 A Yeah.

4 Q -- where you got that?

5 A I got it from the plan, because the plan is to have
6 him walk to the gurney. That's what I get out of it. Now, if 7 it's a mistake, you'll have to get them to say so, but the way
8 I read it, he was asked to walk to the gurney. That's what I
9 got out of it.

10 Q Okay. Was he also asked for an assessment?

11 A No, but it's the plan. We're under plan, which is 12 what they're going to do, which would be indicating this is 13 what they plan to do.

14 Q Okay. What else did they plan to do?

15 A It says "gurney to" -- and I can't read that word --
16 it looks like tinkle, but I know that that can't be right.

17 Q Okay.

18 A Gurney to --

19 Q How about truck?

20 A Okay. Yeah, that could be truck, but it looks like
21 it's an I, you know what I mean?

22 Q Okay.

23 A But it could be truck. You're right, it could be.

2 You've seen EMT's work before?
3 A Yes.
4 Q You're familiar with how they do it?
5 A Yes.
6 Q Do they carry a bucket of ice with them?
7 A No, no, they have those little chemical packs that
8 they break and put on the person.
9 Q So when they say apply ice, they didn't really mean
10 they applied ice?
11 A No, they -- probably cold compression.
12 Q Okay.
13 A So a cold press of some type.
14 Q And how long do those stay cold?
15 A Twenty to thirty minutes maximum.
16 Q Okay. And where do you see that they ever applied
17 another?
18 A Oh, the transport didn't take that long. I'm sure 19 that they may or may not have.
20 Q Okay.
21 A It's hard to say. I mean, they don't have a follow
22 up note as to what they did or how many they put on, but they 23 did apply one at least.
24 Q All right. And is there anything else in that

1           A     "Vital signs, transport" and I don't know what those
2 numbers are after it, but "gurney to" FD -- or "ED," must be
3 emergency department, "report to nurse."

4           Q     Okay.

5           A     I'm assuming that's an ED, but it looks like an FD.

6           Q     Okay.

7           A     So.

12          A     Oh, maybe that's a time underneath there. That 13 could be time.

14          Q     Okay.

15          A     Hard to know. I can't really read it.

16          Q     So next he got to the doctor, correct?

17          A     Say that -- that's not in this record, but I'm
18 yeah --

19          Q     It's in another record.

20          A     -- he was taken to the emergency room.

1 these are the doctor's notes.

2 BY MR. WARD:

3 Q Yeah. Now do you see anything in his records that
4 indicate that they put another icepack on him?

5 A Well, let me see here. I don't know who these notes
6 are. You know, honestly, I work out of Spring Valley and 7 there's usually a more -- there's usually a nursing note here.
8 The nurses are the ones who put icepacks on, but I don't see
9 the nursing notes here.

10 Q Okay.

11 A So the doctor is not going to necessarily apply
12 icepacks on his own.

13 Q So the answer is you don't see anything there that 14 suggests anybody put an icepack on him again?

15 A Correct.

16 Q Okay.

17 A I don't see anything that said they didn't either,
18 because I don't see the proper nursing notes in this emergency
19 record.

20 Q Well, you've looked at medical records, haven't you?

21 A Yes, I have.

22 Q They don't -- you don't expect to find a medical 23 record that says, "We didn't put an icepack on"?

4 tenderness. They --

5 BY MR. BAKER:

6 Q Could you read the Bates Number, please?

7 A It says six on Spring Valley.

8 Q Thank you.

9 A Range of motion was limited by pain, he did have
10 tenderness --

11 Q Okay. Now let me inter- --

12 A -- overlying --

13 Q Let me interrupt you for a second, please.

14 A Okay.

15 Q Tenderness isn't something you can see, is it?

16 A No, it is not.

17 Q It's not something you can measure, is it?

18 A You can measure by a person's reaction, but no, you
19 can -- there's nothing qualitative that you can physically
20 touch with your fingertips to tell you how diffuse a
21 tenderness is, other than what the patient reports to you.

22 Q Right. If you were giving me an examination and you
23 touch my arm and I said that really hurts, you'd write down
24 that that's tender?

25 A Correct.

1 Q And -- but you don't have any way of knowing whether
2 it is -- whether it hurts or it doesn't hurt, right?

3 A No, there's nothing that I can see, feel or touch
4 that would verify that tenderness existed.

5 Q So when we do an examination -- when you do an
6 examination, you write down things that you actually observe?

7 A Yes.

8 Q That you can see?

9 A Yes, we do.

10 Q Okay. He's got -- a big cut on their arm, blood
11 coming out, you don't have to ask them, do you have a cut on 12 your arm?

13 A That's correct.

14 Q But there are other things that are a result of the 15 patient telling you that you write down that you just, for the 16 most part, accept what the patient is telling you, correct?

17 A Correct.

18 Q And that relates to things like tenderness?

19 A That is correct.

20 Q So if I say to you, you can't examine my knee
21 because it hurts too much, you don't know whether it hurts too
22 much or not?

23 A Correct.

24 Q Okay. And essentially Dr. Heaps did an examination, 25 did he not?

1 A Yes, he attempted to do one.

2 Q And he wrote down that there were complaints of pain
3 on the inner aspect of the left knee; is that correct?

4 A That's correct.

5 Q Now are you telling me, Doctor, that if you have
6 pain in the inner aspect of your left knee that you're not
7 going to be aware of any other pain?

8 A No, I'm not saying that.

9 Q Okay. So it's not like -- it's not like it
10 completely covers up -- I'll withdraw that question. That's a
11 bad question. Let me ask it a different sort of way.

12 A Yeah.

13 Q You're talking about the racecar driver who came in,
14 who had all these issues and had a -- had -- and said to you
15 my wrist hurts, correct?

16 A Correct.

17 Q So let me understand. So you wrote down she injured
18 her wrist, let's put a cast on her wrist and send her home?

19 A Well, of course not.

20 Q No.

21 A No, of course not.

22 Q What did you do?

23 A I examined her and got proper x-rays on everything
24 that we could examine.

1           A     She complained of pain, but once you touch other
2 areas she complained of pain in all the proper areas.
3 Everything that was broken did hurt her, but I had to elicit
4 it by examination in order to get her to admit to it.

5           Q     Right.

6           A     That's correct.

7           Q     So you conducted an examination?

8           A     Absolutely.

9           Q     And you're aware that Dr. Heaps conducted an

12          Q     So when your racecar driver came in and complained
13 about her wrist, when you conducted an examination and asked
14 her about other areas did she say oh, nothing else hurts?

15          A     No, she said that's what hurts her the most.

16          Q     Correct. But once you started doing the examination
17 then you were able to find that she had other areas?

18          A     Correct.

19          Q     Okay. And you're aware that Dr. Heaps did a
20 complete examination head-to-toe, correct?

21          A     As far as I can tell, he did.

22          Q     Yes. And he didn't find anything; isn't that true?

23          A     Let me take a look at this, though. Yes, he 24 examined -- basically, as far as I can tell, the lower 25 extremities. I don't -- let me see, here's the head/neck, is

1 it -- oh, they got them reversed. Okay.

2 Q Have you never seen these records before?

3 A No, I've seen these records, but there's multiple
4 sheets.

5 Q Okay.

6 A And Spring Valley also has an upper extremity sheet.
7 Now, if you're going to talk about there being a complete
8 examination of every joint, that page is missing. That's all
9 I'm saying.

10 Q Have you --

11 A But he did do a complete lower extremity
12 examination, focused to lower extremity.

13 Q And are you aware from Dr. Heaps' deposition that he 14 said he did a complete examination of his whole body?

15 A I never saw the depos.

16 Q Okay. So you don't know whether he did that or not?

17 A Not from this record.

18 Q Okay. But you would expect him to do that in a
19 matter of course?

20 A Of course, yes.

21 Q So you would think if he's a good doctor, that he's 22 going to do that?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Why does he do that?

25 A Because he's required to do it by being in the

1 emergency room. Someone says that there's a trauma, he's
2 going to try to clear and make sure he doesn't have any
3 additional injuries as best he can tell.

4 Q Right. So the requirement -- when you say
5 "required", I take it what you mean -- correct me --

6 MR. WARD: I'm sorry, I didn't get permission from the 7 Court.

8 THE COURT: That's all right. We don't stand on ceremony
9 around here in this Department.

10 MR. BAKER: Now you tell us.

11 BY MR. WARD:

12 Q So you're not saying required that he's got some 13 sort of a list that says you got to do this. What you're 14 saying is, if I understand you correctly, that a good
15 physician, such as yourself, such as Dr. Heaps, such as 16 someone like that, knows that if you have a patient who tells 17 you they've been involved in some sort of an accident that 18 they may have injuries to other parts of their body that they 19 haven't told you about?

20 A That's correct.

21 Q And therefore, you want to do a complete examination
22 so that you can find out if they've got injuries to the rest
23 of their body that they haven't told you about?

24 A Correct.

25 Q And I take it that you assume that being a competent

1 physician, that as long as the patient is conscious and being
2 honest and cooperative with you, that you will be able to
3 conduct an examination and find out if they have other
4 injuries --

5 A Yes.

6 Q -- that they haven't told you about when they came
7 in?

8 A Yes, generally speaking you can get to most of the 9 injuries --

10 Q Okay.

11 A -- with a clinical examination.

12 Q Okay. And isn't it true that you don't find any 13 evidence that Dr. Heaps noted any swelling?

14 A No, he didn't write that there was an swelling.

15 Q Okay. He wrote negative, didn't he?

16 A He didn't write negative. He just only noted
17 tenderness. So it's not a negative, it's just not -- he 18 didn't see that there was any swelling. I mean, I guess he 19 didn't put a little circle that says no swelling, but he --
20 the lack of a circle or a diagram would indicate he did not 21 think there was any swelling.

22 Q Okay.

1 THE COURT: Sure.

2 BY MR. WARD:

3 Q And he has a chart, a chart of the lower part of the 4 human body?

5 A Yes, he does.

6 Q And there's a place for marks on that chart?

7 A Yes, there is.

8 Q And he -- the legend is tenderness, that's one of 9 the things?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And S for swelling?

12 A Correct.

13 Q That's another one of the things. And E for 14 ecchymosis?

15 A That is correct.

16 Q Ecchymosis is bruising?

17 A Correct.

18 Q And the only marks on that chart are at the inner
19 aspect of the left knee; is that correct?

20 A Yes, that's correct.

21 Q And that has the letter T for tenderness?

22 A Yes, it does.

23 Q Meaning when the doctor touched that area the 24 patient told him that the area was tender?

25 A That is correct.

1 Q And are you aware that Dr. Heaps did an examination
2 and said he did not find any nerve injury anywhere?

3 A Let me see the nerve injury, where he put it. He
4 did a neurovascular examination, yes.

5 Q And he didn't find any evidence of any problems;
6 isn't that correct?

7 A That's correct.

8 Q Isn't it fair to say that other than the fact that 9 he noted tenderness, which means he touched the knee the 10 patient told him it was tender --

11 A Yes.

12 Q -- he didn't find anything else; isn't that true?

13 A Other than guarding of the joint, because of 14 restricted range of motion, he couldn't do a good stability
15 examination, that meant the patient was guarding it, yeah he 16 wasn't able to find anything positive or abnormal because the 17 patient wasn't allowing examination completely of the knee.

18 Q Okay.

19 A Everything else turned -- looks normal. Basically,
20 he checked off normal on everything else.

21 Q Everything he tested was okay.

22 A Right.

23 Q So he didn't find anything other than the patient
24 said the knee hurt and wouldn't let him examine part of it?

25 A Correct.

1 Q Okay. Now the patient then went to see Dr. Nork;
2 isn't that correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And Dr. Nork saw him when?

5 A Was it December 6th, I think.

6 Q Okay.

7 A Of 2004.

8 Q Okay. So we're talking about --

9 A Within 14 days.

10 Q Okay. And so -- did Dr. Nork find any swelling?

11 A Let me see. He saw no effusion, so he had no fluid
12 within the joint.

13 Q Okay.

14 A You have significant guarding again, as he did with 15 the emergency room visit. Diffuse tenderness around the 16 kneecap and the patella tendon. As best as he could tell, the 17 collateral ligaments were intact.

18 Q If you had a significant internal derangement, would 19 you not expect some fluid in the knee by this time?

20 A It depends on if they're not moving the leg. I'm --
21 a person completely immobilizes it, ices it, doesn't weight
22 bear it, the original -- that trauma can -- swelling may not
23 show itself until you're using it. I mean, he came in a
24 long-leg extension brace, so he wasn't using the leg at all.

25 Q Well, the long-leg extension brace is a walkable

AVTranz

1 brace, isn't it?

2 A He could weight bear on it, yes. I don't know that
3 he was or wasn't weight bearing on it. He comes in -- was 4 walking with crutches, so we don't know what element of weight
5 bearing he was do. He had the knee in extension, though.

6 Q So you don't have any knowledge about how much
7 weight bearing he was doing?

8 A No, it's not noted here.

9 Q And you don't have anything to suggest that he
10 continually had ice on it, correct?

11 A I don't see anything in the history indicating that.

12 Q And it's your experience that under normal
13 circumstances, most non-athlete patients don't ice things down
14 for two consecutive weeks?

15 A Depends on the patient, depends on how they are, but 16 generally speaking, that's correct.

17 Q Okay. Did you ever see any indication that 18 Mr. Rodriguez was putting ice on his knee?

19 A I saw him several -- you know, a couple of months
20 later, so it wasn't like I would have any indication by that 21 time. Any icing that would be beneficial would of -- wouldn't 22 be beneficial anymore.

23 Q Okay. So unless you knew the patient was icing the 24 knee all the time, wouldn't you expect that there would be 25 some effusion at the joint if there had been significant

AVTranz

1 tearing two weeks earlier?

2 A If he was moving the knee, yes. I don't know that
3 he was moving the knee. If he kept the knee in complete
4 extension, he wasn't moving it in any direction, and ice --
5 just keep -- even if he didn't ice it, effusions will go away
6 as long as you're not disturbing the meniscus tear. So if you
7 completely immobilize something and you don't move it,
8 effusion will go away because there's no irritation with --
9 from within the joint to make it swell.

10 Q Okay.

11 A So I don't know how much movement he was doing or 12 not doing.

13 Q Okay. Well, if the patient had not been using the 14 knee and not weight bearing would you expect there to be any 15 swelling?

16 MR. BAKER: Assumes facts in evidence, Your Honor.

17 THE WITNESS: Say that again. If I --

18 THE COURT: I'd like to hear the question again before I
19 rule on your objection.

20 MR. WARD: Sure.

21 BY MR. WARD:

22 Q If you were to assume that the patient was not
23 moving the knee and not weight bearing on the knee, would you
24 expect there would be swelling or not?

25 MR. BAKER: Same objection, Your Honor. That's assuming

1 facts in evidence and an incomplete hypothetical.

2 THE COURT: Maybe not, but I'll allow it.

3 THE WITNESS: I would not expect any swelling at that
4 point.

5 BY MR. WARD:

6 Q Well, didn't Mr. Rodriguez tell Dr. Nork that there
7 had been swelling?

8 A Yes, he did.

9 Q Why would that be?

10 A He reported -- I'm just going based on what his 11 history was, he reported that there was -- that the knee was 12 swollen.

13 Q Okay. Dr. Nork wrote down that he had been told by 14 Mr. Rodriguez that there had been substantial swelling; isn't
15 that correct?

16 A That's correct.

17 Q Okay. So now we have a situation where a -- at 18 least according to Mr. Rodriguez he got swelling, so why did
19 that happen if he's not using the knee?

20 A You would indicate that he probably was using the 21 knee at some point.

22 Q Okay. So then you would expect that when Dr. Nork
23 examined him two weeks later that there would be some residual
24 swelling?

25 A Potentially.

AVTranz

1 Q Yeah. And --

2 A Depends on when he stopped walking on it, how much
3 time occurs in between. So it's a -- you know --

4 Q Is this sort of like when Jupiter aligns with Mars?

5 A Something like that. It depends on -- I mean, I'd 6 have to have an accounting of the whole two weeks, as to --

7 Q Right.

8 A -- what his activity levels were, as to say on this
9 day I would expect swelling, on this day I wouldn't expect
10 swelling.

11 Q Okay. So there's all these possibilities that you
12 don't know, right?

13 A Correct. This is completely, you know,
14 incomplete --

15 Q Right, but what --

16 A -- to make a determination about.

17 Q What you do know is that Dr. Heaps said he didn't 18 see any swelling and Dr. Nork said he didn't see any swelling,
19 right?

20 A Let me see here. He saw no joint effusion. Yes,
21 that's correct. If you're going to equate effusion and 22 swelling. In order to have swelling -- swelling -- there's 23 one aspect of swelling, which is effusion; one aspect which is 24 synovitis. He did not note any synovitis either, but he 25 didn't say no there was none, but based on this I would assume

2 Q Right. He says in the current complaints that the
3 patient states that the swelling has subsided considerably,
4 correct?

5 A Yes, he did say that.

6 Q Okay. And he says that the patient states that his 7 knee was swollen when he was taken to the medical facility at 8 Spring Valley; isn't that correct?

9 A That's what it says.

10 Q But that's not what the records show, correct?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q Okay. Now let me ask you this, Doctor, you
13 performed surgery on Mr. Rodriguez; isn't that correct?

14 A I did.

15 Q And in what year was that?

16 A 2005, October, wasn't it?

17 Q Yeah.

18 A I believe.

19 Q Yeah. And is it true that, according to the 20 complaints of Mr. Rodriguez, he wasn't really helped by the 21 surgery?

22 MR. BAKER: I'm sorry, could you repeat that?

23 THE WITNESS: Yeah, that's what I've gotten subsequently.

2 Q Let's see if I can remember. According to the
3 complaints of Mr. Rodriguez, he would say that he wasn't
4 helped to any significant extent by the surgery; isn't that
5 correct?

6 A That's correct.

7 MR. BAKER: Thank you.

8 MR. WARD: Did I get it right that time?

9 MR. BAKER: You got it.

10 BY MR. WARD:

11 Q And, in fact, he came back and you recommended some 12 more follow up. You recommended another MRI of his knee,
13 correct?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q And what they essentially found when they look --
16 did the MRI was that a surgeon had been at work?

17 A Yeah.

18 Q And that would be you?

19 A The arthrogram MRI reflected the pictures.

20 Q Okay.

21 A So, yes.

22 Q And that you had done your job well?

23 A Yes, there was no additional tears, there was no --
24 it didn't even show any loose bodies or anything, which I know
25 on the second surgery they did find, but that wasn't present

AVTranz

1 on the arthrogram --

2 Q Right.

3 A -- that I did.

4 Q And so, he was still complaining of pain and you put
5 in your -- you put in your chart that you did everything to 6 find out why he was complaining of pain and you couldn't find
7 anything --

8 A Right. I didn't recommend surgery as a -- to 9 address his pain because I didn't find any surgical treatable
10 lesion based on the MRI. To take a look -- post-operatively,
11 when you look at knees, you deal with additional set of 12 issues, including scar tissue forming in the joint when you do
13 a synovectomy. And you don't want to operate on that, because 14 it's like chasing your tail, you'll never catch it.

15 So you usually have to let the soft tissue subside.
16 So the normal recommendation is, if you can't find any
17 surgically treatable lesion, you give it time.

18 Q And so, you recommended that he have some sort of 19 injections?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And they didn't help him?

22 A Correct.

23 Q And he told you that his physical therapist said

2 Q And being an orthopedic surgeon, you know a lot
3 about these joints and what causes problems, correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And you looked at everything you could look at,
6 right?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And your conclusion was that there was no effusion?

9 A Yes.

10 Q That's fluid?

11 A Correct.

12 Q Trace synovitis?

13 A Correct.

14 Q So trace means just a little tiny bit?

15 A Minimal. Minimal. It was present, but it wasn't 16 excessive.

17 Q Yeah. But the patient complained vigorously about 18 pain; isn't that correct?

19 A Yes, including popping. It was one of the things he 20 complained about post-operatively.

21 Q Right. He complained to you about popping and so
22 you did a McMurray's Test?

23 A Right.

24 Q And found no popping?

25 A Couldn't demonstrate it, no.

10 Q I'm not questioning your honesty in any way.

19 A Yes, I know that was on his initial visit.

20 Q Dr. Nork is an orthopedic surgeon; is he not?

21 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. So what I'm asking is, Dr. Nork did an 18 examination. Other than the fact that the patient complained

20 A Just the tenderness that he exhibited.

21 Q Well, tenderness isn't --

1 finding that's taken into consideration when you make
2 diagnoses. Unfortunately, we do have to take into
3 consideration what a patient says.

4 Q Sure. And --

5 A So he did find tenderness on his examination.

6 Q Okay. But I take it you don't do things based on 7 what the patient reports to you alone?

8 A Oh, no, of course not.

9 Q And now it says that Mr. Rodriguez had minimal
10 weight bearing?

11 A He reported that he was not weight bearing --
12 minimal weight bearing.

13 Q Well, let me be clear here. He says minimal weight
14 bearing, right?

15 A Right. He was using crutches primarily.

16 Q Okay. So minimal weight bearing means some weight
17 bearing?

18 A Yes. It's hard when you're an older individual to 19 put -- to completely non-weight bear. That means you have to 20 bend your knee. Unless you're wearing high heels or large --
21 you know, with a knee in extension, which is what this man
22 had, he has to put some kind of weight, otherwise he's going
23 to scuff the ground when he walks through. Normally we get
24 around that by saying you don't put your shoe on under the leg
25 that you're walking through so your body -- your foot can

1 swing and your other shoe, which has maybe an inch heel on it,
2 will allow you to clear the ground where you're not hiking up
3 your hip and injuring your back trying to walk.

4 The other thing that you find is with people as they
5 get older, they can't balance themselves properly and they
6 will at least toe touch to maintain balance so they're not 7 falling off to the side. The other reason that that's done is 8 because when a person does not weight bear on their limbs
9 appropriately. They're going to strain, get a chronic strain
10 to their back; they're going to strain their shoulders;
11 they're going to injure their neck because you're not really
12 designed to be on crutches continuously.

13 So that's basically one of the issues for this is 14 that, you know, one of the problems with it is that if he
15 didn't do any weight bearing, he's putting a lot of pressure
16 on everything else with the non-weight bearing, or the minimal
17 weight bearing, such as toe touch, but you have to toe touch
18 to balance or you're really going to screw your back up.

19 Q So he was doing minimal weight bearing?

20 A Yes, he was at least trying to balance himself
21 properly.

22 Q Okay. So with minimal weight bearing you would 23 expect, if there was going to be swelling, that there would be
24 swelling?

25 A If there was going to be minimal weight bearing,

1 you'd have minimal swelling, depends on -- because swelling
2 normally comes from moving the knee and if he's got it in an
3 immobilizer primarily he's not going to have much in the way
4 of swelling because he's not irritating the joint by the 5 movement.

6 Q Where did the patient go after Dr. Nork? You said,
7 as I understood, that Dr. Nork didn't find anything, correct?

8 A Correct.

9 Q On his examination?

10 A I'm not exactly sure how he got to me.

11 Q And he -- and I think I asked this, but Dr. Nork did
12 not register -- did not record anywhere bruising or 13 ecchymosis?

14 A No, he didn't record any.

15 Q Okay.

16 A I guess he -- here, he went to Dr. Campbell --

17 Q Okay.

18 A -- in the interim, before I saw him in March.

19 Q Okay. And you testified that everything
20 Dr. Campbell and the people at Wellness did for him was 21 reasonable and necessary, correct?

22 A Yes.

23 Q What did they do that was reasonable and necessary?

24 A They did physical modalities, electrical stim, that 25 kind of thing, to try to keep the muscles from atrophying

1 tremendously.

2 February 1, 2005, there was a positive McMurray's
3 Test on the left knee. And --

4 Q Dr. Nork did not register a positive McMurray's
5 sign, did he?

6 A No. No, he did not.

7 Q And he's an orthopedist, correct?

8 A Correct.

9 Q And Dr. Campbell is what?

10 A I believe he's a chiropractor, isn't he?

11 Q He's a chiropractor.

12 A Yeah.

13 Q Okay.

14 A He's a QME doctor, but a chiropractor.

15 Q Okay. QME has something to do with workers' comp,
16 right?

17 A It sure does.

18 Q Okay. And this isn't a workers' comp issue, right?

19 A No, not at all.

20 Q Okay. So now when did the -- when did he see
21 Dr Campbell, do you know?

22 A Okay. He saw Dr. Campbell -- get the paperwork
23 here. That's Dr. Simpson. He said Dr. Campbell, initial 24 office visit January 24, 2005.

25 Q Okay. I want to see if we can bring something up.

1 I don't know how long it will take, if you want to try it.

2 [Counsel Confer]

3 MR. WARD: I'm going to see if we can get this on the 4 projector, but I'll -- so I don't waste your time, I'll
5 continue on with my questions.

6 THE WITNESS: Okay.

7 MR. WARD: And we've learned that we're supposed to turn
8 this on before we --

9 MR. BAKER: Haven't we been through this already?

10 BY MR. WARD:

11 Q Now, you've -- let me put this aside for the moment
12 while we're trying to figure out what we're going to do here.

13 You've treated lots of people with knee injuries,
14 correct?

15 A Yes, I have.

16 Q Like hundreds?

17 A Probably thousands over 20 years.

18 Q Thousands? Okay.

19 A You know, at least one or two thousand maybe.

20 Q In terms of the injury itself, how would you rank
21 this in terms of severity?

22 A You mean as far as what I've seen over the whole
23 scale?

24 Q Uh-huh.

25 A Mild to moderate.

AVTranz

1 Q Okay.

2 A You know, it might eeks it way to just the moderate
3 edge of something.

4 Q Okay.

5 A This is certainly not a severe injury.

6 Q Okay. It's on the lower end of moderate?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And you would expect that the patient would 9 get better with treatment?

10 A You would expect, yes.

11 Q And you would expect the patient to get better with 12 time?

13 A Correct.

14 Q You wouldn't expect that this would be a life --

15 A Altering --

16 Q -- altering event?

17 A No, you would not expect that. No.

18 Q Okay. You wouldn't expect that ingrown toenails
19 would be a result of a knee injury?

20 A Oh, no.

21 Q No?

22 A No.

23 Q Now, when the patient was seen in -- by Dr. Campbell
24 -- here we are.

25 A Okay. It's a blank screen.

1 THE COURT: It's not working? Still not working?
2 THE WITNESS: No, it's not working.
3 THE COURT: Who pulled the plug on the witness?
4 THE WITNESS: I can look at that.
5 MR. WARD: It's not -- we're not hooked up to the 6 internal system. That's why we have the projector.
7 THE WITNESS: Okay.
8 THE COURT: Well, I can see it on my screen.
9 MR. WARD: Oh, really?
10 THE WITNESS: Oh, you are?
11 THE COURT: Yeah.
12 THE WITNESS: There you go.
13 MR. WARD: We thought we weren't hooked up.
14 THE WITNESS: There's one up there, too.
15 MR. WARD: Okay. Well I -- may I suggest that we proceed
16 to try to get through this witness, unless Your Honor --
17 THE COURT: Of course. Can you see the screen,
18 Mr. Baker?
19 MR. BAKER: It's on.
20 THE COURT: If you can't see it, feel free to move
21 around.
22 MR. BAKER: It's on right here, Your Honor.
23 THE COURT: Oh, it is?
24 MR. BAKER: Yes.
25 MR. CARDENAS: Just turn it on. Hit the on button.

1 MR. WARD: Is ours not turned on?

2 THE COURT: Does the witness have one?

3 THE WITNESS: No, it's still black. It doesn't like me.
4 I felt for a little button somewhere else, any buttons.

5 THE COURT: What about on this side? Is the power button
6 on?

7 THE WITNESS: Is there such thing as a power button? Oh,
8 it says welcome, so I guess not. There it is, okay.

9 MR. WARD: You got it?

10 THE WITNESS: Yeah, I've got it.

11 BY MR. WARD:

12 Q Okay. I'm going to ask you from the screen and then
13 you can look on there if you need it.

14 A Yeah.

15 Q Now, you're familiar with this, are you not?
16 Patient pain drawing?

17 A Yes.

18 Q What's the purpose of that?

19 A To get a least serial -- because it's normally done
20 -- you do it certainly on your initial, but a lot of people
21 will do them on a serial basis to determine what their current 22 pain status is or current pain complaints.

23 Q Okay. And this was two to three months
24 post-accident; is that correct?

25 A Does it have a date on the top of it? Where's the

1 date on it?

2 Q You know, I can't tell what the date is. There's a
3 date up there, but it looks like it's a fax date, so I don't 4 know what the --

5 A Yeah, that's not going to count. I don't see a
6 specific date on this diagram.

7 Q Okay. Well, we know that Mr. Rodriguez went to the 8 Wellness Group sometime in January of 2005?

9 A Right.

10 Q So we know this is at least two months
11 post-accident.

12 A Okay.

13 Q Your NASCAR driver, I take it, by the time two 14 months had passed, realized that she had more injuries than 15 just her wrist

16 A She was in rehab by that time, but you know, she 17 went -- did go back to racecar driving.

18 Q She did?

19 A That was her goal, even though she'd destroyed her
20 ankles, she found a way and she got back to racecar driving.
21 I saw that by the end of my residency.

22 Q Did --

23 A It was amazing.

24 Q Did -- was there any lawsuit connected with her
25 injury?

1 A I think that she --

2 MR. BAKER: Your Honor --

3 THE WITNESS: -- those racecar drivers sign their life
4 away, that if you die or whatever, it doesn't mean anything.

5 MR. BAKER: Your Honor, you know what I'm going to say,
6 relevance.

7 THE COURT: Sustained.

8 MR. BAKER: Relevance objection to that.

9 THE COURT: Sustained, Mr. Baker.

10 MR. BAKER: Thanks. Could we strike that from the
11 record?

12 THE COURT: I'll wipe it out of my memory.

13 MR. BAKER: Sure.

14 MR. WARD: Well, I would submit that I can offer why it's 15 relevant.

16 THE COURT: Very well.

17 MR. WARD: If the Court wants to allow me to do that?

18 THE COURT: Go for it.

19 MR. WARD: Okay.

20 BY MR. WARD:

21 Q You've been treating patients over 20 years with 22 orthopedic injuries?

23 A Yes.

2 MR. BAKER: I really want to finish.

3 THE COURT: Yeah, I was hoping we could finish with 4 Dr. Shannon today.

5 THE WITNESS: I'd like that too.

6 THE COURT: I bet you would.

7 MR. WARD: We can look at the record at how long the 8 questions are and how long the answers are.

9 THE COURT: Please proceed, Mr. Ward.

10 BY MR. WARD:

11 Q With the patient pain drawing, the purpose is to 12 have the patient write down what's troubling them; isn't that
13 correct?

14 A That is correct.

15 Q And it says on here for aches and burning and 16 numbness and pins and needles and stabbing and other, correct?

17 A Correct.

18 Q And it says on here "percentage of pain in the 19 back"?

20 A Uh-huh.

21 Q And "percentage of pain in the legs." And it
22 invites the patient to mark on the pain drawing?

23 A Yes, it does.

24 Q And where does the patient mark? Where did this 25 patient mark?

AVTranz

1 A On the left knee. I believe -- isn't that the left.

2 Q And what does that tell you?

3 A That his pain complaint was his left knee.

4 Q And nowhere else?

5 A That's what this diagram says, yes.

6 Q And below that, can we go down a line or two? And 7 what does he contend his level of pain is?

8 A Nine out of ten.

9 Q Okay. So it's beyond horrible and very severe and 10 it's just under agonizing?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q Correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. Now, when -- were any of these records
15 provided to you at any time?

16 A This particular record, I don't recall seeing. This 17 specific diagram, no.

18 Q Any of the records from the Wellness Group?

19 A Yes, I've seen Dr. Simpson's note, but -- I've seen
20 what's in this packet. One thing that's not in this is 21 Dr. Campbell's QME report, initial office visit moderate. I
22 don't see it here unless he did it just on paper, which there
23 is a paper documentation I thought.
