ORDER REGARDING NOTICE

On January 24, 2013, appellant filed in this court a notice of entry of a district court order granting appellant's motion to amend the district court's November 30, 2012, order to correct clerical mistakes pursuant to NRCP 60(a). The notice states that, pursuant to the district court's November 30 order, the parties stipulated to convert this court's December 2, 2011, order granting a stay of a November 17, 2011, district court order that required a supersedeas bond, into a permanent stay of any order requiring a bond. Appellant requests an "order from this court to that effect."

Appellant's notice states that the November 17 district court order requiring a bond has been vacated. Appellant does not indicate that the district court has subsequently imposed any bond. As such, there appears to be no order concerning a supersedeas bond for this court to stay. See NRAP 8(a)(1)(B). Accordingly, we take no action concerning the request to convert the December 2 stay.

It is so ORDERED.
