DEPUTY CLERK

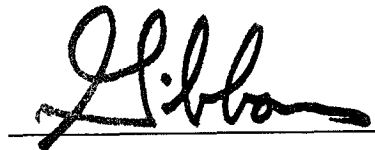

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

This is an appeal from a December 9, 2013, amended district court disbursement order in an interpleader action. Our preliminary review of the docketing statement and the documents submitted to this court pursuant to NRAP 3(g) reveals a potential jurisdictional defect. Specifically, it appears that the district court has not entered a final, written judgment adjudicating all the rights and liabilities of all the parties, and the district court did not certify its order as final pursuant to NRCP 54(b). NRAP 3A(b)(1); Lee v. GNLV Corp., 116 Nev. 424, 996 P.2d 416 (2000). In particular, while appellant submitted with its docketing statement a September 5, 2012, order labeled "Default Judgment as to Defendant Steven Zlatt, M.D.," the body of that order purports to grant a default judgment against a different defendant, the Los Angeles Orthopaedic Institute, Inc. As a result, it appears that the claims involving Zlatt remain pending, such that the September 16, 2013, disbursement order did not constitute a final, appealable order and the district court retains jurisdiction over this matter.

Accordingly, appellant shall have 30 days from the date of this order within which to show cause why this appeal should not be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. We note that appellant might be able to cure this perceived jurisdictional defect by obtaining a proper default judgment as to Zlatt. We caution appellant that failure to demonstrate that this court has jurisdiction may result in this court's dismissal of this appeal. The briefing schedule in this appeal shall be suspended pending further order of this court. Respondents may file any reply within ten days from the date that appellant's response is served.

It is so ORDERED.
