c. Commenting on Inability to Call Witnesses Because of Privilege Violates the Constitution and Nevada Law.

A prosecutor may not comment on the state's inability to call people as witnesses because of an assertion of a privilege, or to call a witness so that he will invoke the privilege before the jury. Commenting on the inability to call witnesses also violates the rule against alluding to facts outside the record. See section II (A) (5).

- U.S. v. Sanchez, 1999 WL 343734, at *9 (9th Cir. 1999) ("The prosecutor committed misconduct in revealing to the jury that he could not make [the defendant's wife] testify as a witness for the prosecution.").

- U.S. v. Tsinnijinnie, 601 F.2d 1035, 1039 (9th Cir. 1979) ("[I]t is improper to comment adversely on a defendant's exercise of the marital privilege, or to permit the jury to draw adverse inferences.").
- Courtney v. U.S., 390 F.2d 521, 526-27 (9th Cir. 1968) (holding that prosecutor committed plain error by commenting on the failure to call wife as witness where defendant gave notice of intent to invoke privilege), cert. denied, 393 U.S. 857 (1968).
- Robbins v. Small, 371 F.2d 793, 795 (1st Cir. 1967) (holding that prosecutor's questioning of witness despite invocation of privilege violates Confrontation Clause), cert. denied, 386 U.S. 1033 (1967).

- 8       • Hylton v. State, 100 Nev. 539, 541, 688 P.2d 304, 304-05 (1984) (explaining that it was

- 10      • George v. State, 98 Nev. 196, 197, 644 P.2d 510, 511 (1982) (holding that it was improper 11      for prosecution to comment on state's inability to call defendant's spouse to the stand).
- 12      • Emerson v. State, 98 Nev. 158, 162, 643 P.2d 1212, 1215 (1982) (reversing and remanding 13      because of prosecutorial misconduct, including improper comment on exercise of marital 14      privilege).
- 15      • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standard 3-5.7 (c) (improper to "call a witness who

20           7.       ARGUMENTS ABOUT THE VICTIM WHICH VIOLATE THE 21       CONSTITUTION AND NEVADA LAW.

22           a.       Putting Jurors in Victim's Shoes.

23           A prosecutor may not make remarks putting jurors in the victim's shoes. Normally, such 24           inflammatory comments also violate the rule against alluding to facts not in evidence since 25           evidence of the victim's reaction before death is not before the jury. See section II (A) (5), above.

- 26      • Rhodes v. State, 547 So.2d 1201, 1205-06 (Fla. 1989) (per curiam) (remanding for new 27      sentencing hearing where prosecutor improperly asked jurors to place themselves at crime scene), 28      cert. denied, 513 U.S. 1046 (1994).

- 1 • Bertolotti v. State, 476 So.2d 130, 133 (Fla. 1985) (condemning prosecutor's suggestion
2 that jurors put themselves in victim's position and imagine the "final pain, terror and 3 defenselessness.").
- 4 • Sanborn v. State, 107 Nev. 399, 408, 812 P.2d 1279, 1286 (1991) (holding that it is 5 improper for a prosecutor to place the jury in victim's shoes).
- 6 • Howard v. State, 106 Nev. 713, 718, 800 P.2d 175, 178 (1991) ("We have held that 7 arguments asking the jury to place themselves in the shoes of a party or the victim (the Golden 8 Rule argument) are improper.").
- 9 • Williams v. State, 103 Nev. 106, 109, 734 P.2d 700, 702-03 (1987) (explaining that 10 prosecutor "improperly placed the jury in the position of the victim by stating the following: Can 11 you imagine what she must have felt when she saw that it was the defendant and he had a gun?").
- 12 • Jacobs v. State, 101 Nev. 356, 359, 705 P.2d 130, 132 (1985) (reversing and remanding 13 where prosecutor committed misconduct in describing murder and remarked to the jury "I will not 14 tell you to put yourselves in Mrs. Jacobs' position looking down the barrel of this shotgun, because 15 that would be improper." ).<sup>14</sup>

- 17 • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standards 3-5.6 (b), 3-5.8 (d), 3-5.9.

18 b. Identifying The State With the Victim Is Improper.

19 A prosecutor may not put himself or herself in the victim's shoes or otherwise ally himself
20 with a victim. Such comments also violate the rules against expressing personal opinions and 21 invoking the authority of the state. See sections II (A) (3), above; II (B) (9), below.

- 22 • Hawthorne v. U.S., 476 A.2d 164, 172 (D.C. 1984) ("A prosecutor may no more represent 23 the victim ... than he may urge the jurors to place themselves in the victim's shoes.").

25 <sup>14</sup> The Nevada Supreme Court has recently contravened its own "golden rule." In Williams v. State, 113 Nev. 1008, 945
26 P.2d 438, 445 (1997), the court explained that the "'Golden Rule' argument asks the jury to place themselves in the shoes of the 27 victims, and has repeatedly been declared to be prosecutorial misconduct." It nevertheless held that the prosecutor had not 28 committed misconduct even though he asked jurors to "[i]magine the pain that [the victims] went through both physically and mentally" and proceeded to describe in vivid detail from the victims' perspective the murder. See also Witter v. State, 112 Nev.
908, 921 P.2d 886 (1996) (holding that prosecutor did not violate the Golden Rule by telling jurors "[f]or a moment, we recreate that crime ... how aggravating is it to sit there and this man get in your car, the vehicle that you own, and begin to perpetrate these crimes on you?"). Neither case is distinguishable from the court's decisions in Williams and Jacobs. Indeed, the supreme court did not attempt to distinguish them factually or to explain its reasoning in either case. See Williams 113 Nev. at 445-46; Witter, 112
Nev. at 927, 921 P.2d at 899.

1 • Flanagan v. State, 104 Nev. 105, 107, 754 P.2d 836, 837 (1988) (calling it “inappropriate”
2 for prosecutor to ally himself with the victim by comparing his own relationship with his
3 grandmother to that of the accused with his grandmother who also happened to be the victim).

4 • Nevius v. State, 101 Nev. 238, 248, 699 P.2d 1053, 1059 (1985) (holding that the 5 prosecutor committed misconduct by telling jurors to return a death sentence for the victims and 6 himself).

9 c. Referring to Victims and Holidays Violates the U.S. Constitution and 10 Nevada Law.

11 A prosecutor may not seek to elicit an emotional reaction by referring to holidays.

12 • U.S. v. Payne, 2 F.3d 706 (6th Cir. 1993) (per curiam) (condemning prosecutor’s remarks
13 about Christmas time as “part of a calculated effort to evoke strong sympathetic emotions” for 14 victims).

15 • Williams, 103 Nev. at 109, 734 P.2d at 702 (explaining that “[i]t is quite clear that 16 ‘holiday’ arguments are inappropriate; they have no purpose other than to arouse emotions” and 17 admonishing prosecutor for telling jury, “Happy Valentine’s Day from [accused to victim] with 18 malice. Cupid uses arrows. [The accused] used bullets...”).

19 • Dearman v. State, 93 Nev. 364, 368, 566 P.2d 407, 409 (1977) (labeling “improper”
20 prosecutor’s comment that victim would not be able to keep New Year’s resolution or to see 21 springtime roses bloom).

22 • Moser v. State, 91 Nev. 809, 813, 544 P.2d 424, 427 (1975) (condemning as improper and 23 having “no place in a trial” prosecutor’s comment to jury, “December 2, 1972, Merry Christmas, 24 from [the accused to the victim’s] family”).

25 • Mears v. State, 83 Nev. 3, 422 P.2d 230 n. 4 (1967) (admonishing prosecutor for telling 26 jury that “[t]here was a little girl here that will not be able to hear her daddy say, ‘Merry
27 Christmas’ this year, or any year in the future because of the inconsiderate, selfish act of this 28 defendant.”), cert. denied, 389 U.S. 888 (1967).

- SCR 173 (5).

- ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standards 3-5.6 (b), 3-5.8 (d), 3-5.9.

d. Arguing that The Victim Did Not Have as Many Rights As The Defendant Violates the Federal Constitution and Nevada Law.

A prosecutor may not compare the victim's rights with those of the accused. Such arguments infringe the defendant's exercise of his constitutional rights to trial by jury, to representation by counsel, to cross-examination and confrontation, and all other trial rights, see section II (A), above; and they also seek to deform the jury's constitutional function, by suggesting that the jury should act the same way as an alleged criminal. See section III (3)(c), below.

- Cunningham v. Zant, 928 F.2d 1006, 1019-20 (11th Cir. 1991) (affirming grant of habeas corpus writ where prosecutor remarked that he was offended by defendant's exercise of right to trial by jury).

- Brooks v. Kemp, 762 F.2d 1383, 1411 (11th Cir. 1985) (condemning the prosecutor for impermissibly commenting on the defendant's exercise of his constitutional rights and for remarking that the victim did not enjoy the same procedural protections), cert. denied, 478 U.S. 1022 (1986), vacated on other grounds, 478 U.S. 1016 (1986).

- State v. Cockerham, 365 S.E.2d 22, 23 (S.C. 1988) (reversing sentence where prosecutor violated Sixth Amendment rights to counsel and jury trial by remarking that victim's rights under the Constitution "didn't do much for her that night because [defendant] ... was her judge, jury, and executioner. And she didn't have the right to ... be represented by a lawyer ... to have independent people on her jury.").

- SCR 173 (5).

- ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standards 3-5.6 (b), 3-5.8 (d), 3-5.9.

8. INSINUATING OR STATING THAT JUDGE AND STATE ARE ON SAME SIDE VIOLATES THE FEDERAL CONSTITUTION AND NEVADA LAW.

A prosecutor may not suggest that the judge is on the state's side or otherwise invoke the authority of the court. The Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit has explained, "[a] prosecutor must not abuse his position and his duty to see justice done by invoking the authority of the court."

1 U.S. v. Kerr, 981 F.2d 1050, 1053 (9th Cir. 1992). This is because, as the same court elaborated in
2 another case,

3 vouching ... on behalf of the court would pose a clear threat to the 4 integrity of judicial proceedings. That particular form of vouching
5 goes beyond the mere proffer of an institutional warranty of 6 truthfulness; rather, it casts the court as an active, albeit silent,
7 partner in the prosecutorial enterprise. In doing so, it strikes at two 8 principles that lie at the core of our system of criminal justice. The 9 first of these is that '[t]he principle that there is a presumption of innocence in favor of the accused is the undoubted law, axiomatic and elementary....' The second, long elevated to constitutional significance because it is so closely intertwined with the first, is that 'to perform its high function in the best way 'justice must satisfy the appearance of justice.'

10 U.S. v. Smith, 962 F.2d 923, 936 (9th Cir. 1992) (citations omitted).

11 • U.S. v. Frederick, 78 F.3d 1370, 1380 (9th Cir. 1996) (reversing conviction partly because 12 the prosecutor implied that the state and the court agreed in an interpretation of the law by telling 13 jurors that "[t]he Government and the Judge will be asking you to consider all of the evidence in 14 making your decision").

15 • Kerr, 981 F.2d at 1053 (reversing conviction in spite of the defense's failure to object
16 because the prosecutor insinuated that the judge, by accepting a witness' plea bargain with the 17 state, believed that the witness was truthful).

18 • Smith, 962 F.2d at 936 (reversing conviction in spite of defense counsel's failure to object 19 where the prosecutor vouched for the credibility of a witness by arguing to the jurors "if I did 20 anything wrong in this trial, I wouldn't be here. The court wouldn't allow that to happen" and 21 explaining that "unlike the other comments that courts have on some occasions reluctantly
22 overlooked, it placed the imprimatur of the judicial system itself on [witness's] credibility. That is 23 something we simply cannot permit").

26 respect and consideration for the judiciary...").

9. INVOKING THE POWER OF THE STATE OR DISCUSSING THE STATE'S SYSTEM FOR CHARGING A PERSON.

It is impermissible for a prosecutor to invoke the authority of the state. Such comment also constitutes an impermissible reference to facts outside the record., See section II(A)(5).

- Brooks v. Kemp, 762 F.2d 1383, 1410 (11th Cir. 1985) (calling "clearly improper" prosecutor's argument that "we only prosecute the guilty" because it "is, at the least, an effort to lead the jury to believe that the whole governmental establishment had already determined the appellant to be guilty on evidence not before them").

- Garza, 608 F.2d at 665 (reversing conviction in spite of failure to object to prosecutor's comment that "those people and the Government [have] no interest whatsoever in convicting the wrong person" because such comment "presumed that the whole government apparatus, and the prosecutor individually, had reached a determination of the defendant's guilt before the trial and implied that the jury should give weight to this fact in making its determination").

10. PRESSURING THE JURORS AS A GROUP OR AS INDIVIDUALS VIOLATES THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION AND NEVADA LAW.

a. Telling Jurors to "Do Your Job," to Fulfill their Civic Duty, To Act as the Conscience of the Community, To Correct Society's Ills, Or To Send Out a Message (Deterrence) Is Improper.

A prosecutor may not pressure jurors by telling them to do their "job," to fulfill their civic duty, to act as the conscience of the community, to cure society's ills, or to send out a message by finding the defendant guilty.<sup>15</sup> Such comments may also constitute an impermissible assertion of a personal opinion and a reference to facts outside the record. See section II(A)(4,5).

- Simmons v. South Carolina, 512 U.S. 154, 163 (1994) (arguing dangerousness of defendant improper at guilt phase of trial).

<sup>15</sup> Were deterrence a proper subject for argument, the defendant would have a due process right to present evidence, for example, to rebut allegations that the death penalty deters under Simmons v. South Carolina, 512 U.S. 154, 163-64 (1994) (if state rests its arguments at sentencing at least in part on future dangerousness, due process requires that defendant be allowed to rebut with evidence that he will not be eligible for parole). See also section II (A) (6) (referring to facts outside the record); section III (3)(C)(a) below.

1 • U.S. v. Young, 470 U.S. 1, 5-7 (1985) (reminding prosecutors to “refrain from improper
2 methods calculated to produce a wrongful conviction” in holding that it was improper for a
3 prosecutor to tell jurors that “[i]f you feel you should acquit him for that it’s your pleasure. I don’t 4 think you’re doing your job as jurors in finding facts as opposed to the law...”).

5 • Viereck v. U.S., 318 U.S. 236, 247 (1943) (holding that the prosecutor’s statement, 6 including telling jurors that “[t]he American people are relying upon you ladies and gentlemen for 7 their protection against this sort of a crime” compromised the defendant’s right to a fair trial).

8 • U.S. v. Sanchez, 1999 WL 343734, at *11 (9th Cir. 1999) (“The prosecutor committed

10 • U.S. v. Leon-Reyes, 1999 WL 314682, at *5 (9th Cir. 1999) (“A prosecutor may not urge 11 jurors to convict a criminal defendant in order to protect community values, preserve civil order, or 12 deter future lawbreaking. The evil lurking in such prosecutorial appeals is that the defendant will 13 be convicted for reasons wholly irrelevant to his own guilt or innocence. Jurors may be persuaded 14 by such appeals to believe that, by convicting a defendant, they will assist in the solution of some 15 pressing social problem. The amelioration of society’s woes is far too heavy a burden for the 16 individual criminal defendant to bear.”).

17 • U.S. v. Tulk, 171 F.3d 596, 599 (8th Cir. 1999) (“A prosecutor should not urge a jury to 22 newspapers), as somehow applicable to the question of a particular defendant’s guilt or innocence.

23 A jury cannot appropriately reason that a particular defendant is guilty based on media reports of 9 would continue unless jurors acted).

10       • U.S. v. Machor, 879 F.2d 945, 955 (1st Cir. 1989) (comment that cocaine “is poisoning our

19 newspaper or turn on your radio or television newscast, has the whole world gone crazy, when you
20 read about a crime like this, has the whole world lost its mind?... when have you said to yourself
21 what can I do, just one citizen, just one individual to stop this?”), cert. denied, 463 U.S. 1210
22 (1983), overruled by Brooks v. Kemp, 762 F.2d 1383, 1399 (11th Cir. 1983).

25       • Flanagan, 104 Nev. at 112, 754 P.2d at 840 (ordering new penalty hearing commented that 26 “if we don’t punish, then society is going to laugh at us,” which court concluded “serve[d] no other 27 purpose than to raise the specter of public ridicule and arouse prejudice against Flanagan”).

28       • Schoels v. State, 114 Nev. 109, 966 P.2d 735 (1998) (recognizing “well-established

7 Dallas County is to make examples of each and every one of the five..." as "arguments ...
8 calculated to introduce prejudice into the minds of jurors").<sup>17</sup>

9 b. Seeking to Make the Defendant a Scapegoat For Asserted Failings of 10 the American Justice System is Improper.

11 The prosecutor may not seek to make the defendant a scapegoat for asserted failings of the 12 American justice system. Such comment also violates the rule against alluding to facts outside the 13 record and against asserting a personal opinion. See section II (A) (3, 5), above.

14 • Darden, 477 U.S. at 179-80 (condemning as "improper" the prosecutor's comment that 15 "attempted to place some of the blame for the crime on the Division of Corrections").

16 • U.S. v. Leon-Reyes, 1999 WL 314682, at *5 (9th Cir. 1999) (calling "unnecessary and 17 largely irrelevant" comments that emphasized importance of the oath in American justice system).

19 <sup>16</sup> The Nevada Supreme Court has failed to adhere to the constitutional prohibition against arguments appealing to the 20 civic duty of jurors. In Williams v. State, 113 Nev. 1008, 1019, 945 P.2d 438, 445 (1997), the court held that "a prosecutor in a 21 death penalty case properly may ask the jury, through its verdict, to set a standard or make a statement to the community." The
22 prosecutor in that case argued to jurors that they should send a "message" to others and reminded them of the "commitment" they
23 had undertaken. Id. at 447. Although these remarks violate well-established law prohibiting appeals to civic duty or to the 24 conscience of the community, the supreme court failed to find any misconduct. See also Witter v. State, 112 Nev. 908, 924, 921
25 P.2d 886, 896 (1996) (holding that prosecutor did not violate Constitution where commented that failure to impose death "would be 26 disrespectful to the dead and irresponsible to the living," which implies the existence of a duty to society); Mazzan v. State, 105
27 Nev. 745, 750, 783 P.2d 430, 433 (1989) (recognizing that it is improper to pressure jurors and to threaten them with community 28 opprobrium but refusing without reasoning to find improper comment that jurors needed to "set a standard" for the community); cf.
Collier v. State, 101 Nev. 473, 479, 705 P.2d 1126 (1985) (condemning argument that jury must be angry with defendant "or we are not a moral community" as impermissible appeal to community standard).

29 <sup>17</sup> But see Collier v. State, 101 Nev. 473, 478, 705 P.2d 1126, 1129 (1985) (relying on Gregg to hold that "[o]f course, it
30 may be proper for counsel to go beyond the evidence to discuss general theories of penology such as the merits of punishment,
31 deterrence and the death penalty"; note that cited portion in Gregg opinion merely states that "[b]oth counsel ... made lengthy 32 arguments dealing generally with the propriety of capital punishment" and does not hold that this is proper comment for either side
33 in criminal trial), cert. denied, 486 U.S. 1036 (1988); see also Williams v. State, 113 Nev. 1008, 1023, 945 P.2d 438, 447 (1997)
34 (writing that "[t]he United States Supreme Court has held that it is permissible to argue in favor of the purposes of the death
35 penalty, including the objectives of retribution and deterrence"; note that the cited portion of Gregg v. Georgia, 428 U.S. 153, 186
36 (1976), explains that legislators can properly consider these factors in determining whether to enact a capital sentencing scheme but 37 does not hold that these are proper subjects for argument in criminal trial or for sentencers to consider in deciding whether to 38 impose death).

1                   c.     Telling Jurors They Are Involved in War or Appealing to Patriotism
2                             Violates the Federal Constitution And Nevada Law.

3             A prosecutor may not allude to a war or appeal to the patriotic sensibilities of jurors. Such
4 comment also violates the rule against alluding to facts outside the record and against asserting a 5 personal opinion. See section II (A) (3, 5), above.

6             • Viereck, 318 U.S. 236, 247-48 (1943) (holding that it denied defendant right to a fair trial
7 when prosecutor remarked to jurors that "this is war. This is war, harsh, cruel, murderous war"
8 because these comments "were offensive to the dignity and good order with which all proceedings
9 in court should be conducted. We think that the trial judge should have stopped counsel's 10 discourse without waiting for an objection.").

11            • Arietta-Agressot v. U.S., 3 F.3d 525, 526 (1st Cir. 1993) (holding that it was reversible
12 error for prosecutor to tell jurors they are involved in war against drugs and defendants are enemy 13 foot soldiers).

14            • Newlon v. Armontrout, 885 F.2d 1328 (8th Cir. 1989) (affirming grant of habeas corpus
15 writ in spite of defense's failure to object where prosecutor committed misconduct, including 16 resorting to war and self-defense analogies), cert. denied, 497 U.S. 1038 (1990).

17            • Brooks v. Kemp, 762 F.2d 1383, 1412 (11th Cir. 1985) (condemning use of "the soldier
18 metaphor, and coupling it with a challenge to the jurors' patriotism -- 'When [the soldiers] did a 19 good job of killing ... we decorated them and gave them citations'"), cert. denied, 478 U.S. 1022
20 (1986), vacated on other grounds, 478 U.S. 1016 (1986).

21            • Harris v. People, 888 P.2d 259, 265 (Colo. 1995) ("[T]he prosecutor's repeated references
22 to past and present military operations by and against Saddam Hussein were not only irrelevant but 23 constituted improper encouragement to the jurors to employ their patriotic passions in evaluating 24 the evidence.").

25            • State v. Fitch, 65 Nev. 668, 685, 200 P.2d 991, 1000 (1948) (condemning prosecutor's 26 comment that victim was a veteran who had given defendant freedom by serving in the war),
27 overruled on other grounds by Graves v. State, 82 Nev. 137, 139, 413 P.2d 503, 506 (1966).

28            • Comm. v. LaCava, 666 A.2d 221, 235 (Pa. 1995) (admonishing prosecutor for saying that

1 drug dealers "suck the life out of our community" and that they bore the responsibility for ruining
2 neighborhoods and turning children into drug addicts, which "painted a vivid picture that society is
3 under heavy attack and that this jury was in a unique position to respond to that attack...").

4 d. Speaking to Only a Few Jurors or Otherwise Singling Them Out
5 Violates the Federal Constitution and Nevada Law.

6 A prosecutor may not single out jurors because "it brings to bear a collateral influence
7 which may tend to prejudice the mind of the juror on the basis of something irrelevant to the issues
8 of the case." Lee v. Bennett, 927 F. Supp. 97, 105-06 (S.D.N.Y. 1996). Such arguments may also 9 constitute impermissible appeals to group bias. See section II (B) (4), above.

10 • Lee v. Bennett, 927 F. Supp. 97, 104-05 (S.D.N.Y. 1996) (explaining that "[i]t is grossly 11 improper to address individual jurors or less than all of the members of the jury in summation" in 12 ruling that prosecutor made impermissible appeal to female jurors in case involving rape), aff'd, 13 104 F.3d 349 (1996).

14 • Dixie Motor Coach Corp. v. Galvan, 86 S.W.2d 633, 633 (Tex. Crim. App. 1935)
15 ("[A]rgument [addressing individual jurors], as well as all other remarks suggestive of an intimate 16 friendly relationship between counsel and jurors, should be scrupulously avoided.").

17 • SCR 176 (1) ("A member of the state bar should scrupulously abstain from all acts,
18 comments and attitudes calculated to curry favor with any juror, such as fawning, flattery, actual or 19 pretended solicitude for the juror's comfort or convenience, or the like.").

23 EXAMPLES OF IMPROPER ARGUMENT AT THE PENALTY PHASE

24 The prohibition on impermissible arguments described above applies with even greater
25 force to the phase of a capital trial. As the Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit explained, "it
26 is most important that the sentencing phase of a trial not be influenced by passion, prejudice, or 27 any other arbitrary factor .... With a man's life at stake, a prosecutor should not play on the 28 passions of the jury." Hance v. Zant, 696 F.2d 940, 951 (11th Cir. 1983), cert. denied, 463 U.S.

1 1210 (1983), overruled on other grounds by Brooks v. Kemp, 762 F.2d 1383, 1399 (11th Cir.
2 1985). The Nevada Supreme Court has quoted this passage in stressing the importance of the
3 sentencing phase of a capital trial. See Flanagan v. State, 104 Nev. 105, 107, 754 P.2d 836, 837
4 (1988), vacated on other grounds, 504 U.S. 930 (1992).

5 A prosecutor's impermissible arguments typically violate the constitutional requirement of 6 individualized sentencing. In Woodson, the Supreme Court invalidated North Carolina's 7 mandatory capital sentencing scheme, explaining that "in capital cases the fundamental respect for 8 humanity underlying the Eighth Amendment requires consideration of the character and record of 9 the individual offender and the circumstances of the particular offense as a constitutionally 10 indispensable part of the process of inflicting the penalty of death." 428 U.S. at 304.<sup>18</sup> In Penry v.
11 Lynaugh, 492 U.S. at 326, the Supreme Court recognized that improper prosecutorial argument
12 poses an unconstitutional impediment to individualized sentencing. The prosecutor in Penry told 13 jurors that "[y]our job as jurors and your duty as jurors is not to act on your emotions, but to act on 14 the law as the Judge has given it to you, and on the evidence that you have heard in this courtroom,
15 then answer those questions accordingly." The Supreme Court concluded that these comments
16 prevented sentencers from considering the defendant's mitigating evidence and therefore violated
17 the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments. Id. A prosecutor's appeals based on prejudice, by 18 definition, suggest to jurors that they ignore the individual's traits and impose a punishment of 19 death based on stereotype and prejudice. Such appeals, like statutes or arguments suggesting that 20 sentencers ignore the individual characteristics or mitigating evidence of a defendant effectively
21 "treat[] all persons convicted ... not as uniquely individual human beings, but as members of a 22 faceless, undifferentiated mass to be subjected to the blind infliction of the penalty of death."
23 Woodson, 428 U.S. at 304 (emphasis added). The task of jurors in determining the appropriate 24 sentence is to make a "reasoned moral response to the defendant's background, character, and 25 crime," California v. Brown, 479 U.S. 538, 545 (1987) (O'Connor, J., concurring), and

27 <sup>18</sup> The Supreme Court invalidated the mandatory portion of the Nevada death scheme in Sumner v. Shuman, 483 U.S. 66
28 (1987); see also Lockett v. Ohio, 438 U.S. 586, 605 (1978) (striking down a sentencing scheme which restricted the consideration of sentencers to a handful of mitigating factors, elaborating that "we cannot avoid the conclusion that an individualized decision is essential in capital cases. The need for treating each defendant in a capital case with that degree of respect due the uniqueness of the individual is far more important than in noncapital cases.")

1 prosecutorial argument which diverts the jurors' attention from that task violates the Eighth and 2 Fourteenth Amendments.

3 This Court must ensure that the prosecutor refrain from making improper arguments at the 4 penalty phase of the defendant's capital trial. To safeguard the fairness of the defendant's penalty
5 phase and the specific constitutional rights to which he is entitled, the defendant sets forth some of 6 the improper arguments a prosecutor is forbidden from making in the penalty phase by the federal 7 Constitution, and the laws and ethical rules of this state. This list merely represents some of the 8 most common improper arguments the prosecutor can make and is not exhaustive. The defendant
9 incorporates the arguments made in section II, (A) (1, 2, 3, 4, 5), II (B) (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10),
10 as if fully set forth herein, since the forms of misconduct identified in those sections are equally 11 impermissible when they are made in a penalty proceeding.

12 A. ARGUMENTS INFRINGING THE DEFENDANT'S SPECIFIC
13 CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS.

14 1. ARGUMENTS ABOUT THE DEFENDANT.

15 a. Comment on the Defendant's Failure to Express Remorse is 16 Unconstitutional.

17 A prosecutor may not comment on the defendant's failure to express remorse because the 18 Fifth Amendment right against self-incrimination applies to the penalty phase of a capital trial.

19 • Estelle v. Smith, 451 U.S. 454, 462 (1981) (holding that Fifth Amendment right against 20 self-incrimination applies in penalty phase of capital trial).

21 • Miller v. Lockhart, 65 F.3d 676, 684 (8th Cir. 1995) (explaining that a prosecutor may not 22 comment on the convicted defendant's failure to ask for mercy or to express remorse in holding
23 that prosecutor violated the Fifth and Fourteenth amendments by commenting that the defendant 24 had failed to testify, which showed that he was "tough" and that he did not care about having 25 committed the crime).

26 • Lesko v. Lehman, 925 F.2d 1527, 1541 (3d Cir. 1990) (explaining that it violates the Fifth
27 and Fourteenth amendments for prosecutor to comment on failure to ask for mercy or to express
28 remorse during allocution and granting relief in habeas corpus proceedings where prosecutor

1 paraphrased the defendant's testimony as "I don't want you to put me to death, but I'm not even
2 going to say that I'm sorry" and commented on the defendant's "arrogance" in taking the stand
3 without showing "the common decency to say I'm sorry for what I did").<sup>19</sup>

4 • Stephen P. Garvey, Aggravation and Mitigation in Capital Cases: What Do Jurors Think?,
5 98 Colum. L. Rev. 1538, 1560 (reporting that a lack of remorse is "highly aggravating," which
6 means that it is very likely that jurors view a lack of remorse as a reason, albeit an impermissible
7 one, for imposing a death sentence).

8 b. Invoking Group Bias or Otherwise Disparaging the Defendant is 9 Improper.

10 As shown in sections II (B) (3) and II (B) (4), above, arguments personally attacking the 11 defendant or seeking to evoke a jury's bias and prejudice against a defendant are improper. In the 12 setting of the penalty phase, these arguments are inconsistent with individualized and reliable
13 sentencing required by the Eighth Amendment and they violate the due process and equal 14 protection guarantees of the Fourteenth Amendment. The authorities cited in those sections are 15 incorporated as if fully set forth herein. Similarly, commenting on the defendant's exercise of his 16 constitutional rights is improper. Sections II (A) (1), II (A) (2).

17 c. Arguing that the Defendant Should be Sentenced to Death on the Basis
18 of His Beliefs Unrelated to the Appropriate Punishment is Improper.

19 It is improper under the First Amendment to argue that the defendant should be sentenced 20 on the basis of his abstract beliefs, however "morally reprehensible" they may be, if those beliefs
21 are not related to any issue presented at sentencing.

22 • Dawson v. Delaware, 503 U.S. 159, 166-167 (1992) (improper to admit evidence of

24 <sup>19</sup> The Nevada Supreme Court has failed to adhere to the federal constitutional rule prohibiting comments on the failure
25 to testify, to express remorse, or to ask for mercy. In McNelson v. State, 111 Nev. 900, 903-04, 900 P.2d 934, 936-37 (1995), cert.
26 denied, 517 U.S. 1212 (1996), the court faced the same facts the federal court of appeals faced in Lesko but, unlike the court in 27 Lesko, ruled that the prosecutor could comment on the defendant's failure to express remorse. Like Lesko, the defendant exercised 28 his right of allocution and made a statement to the jury in an attempt to prove the existence of mitigating factors. Id. at 935. Like the prosecutor in Lesko, the prosecutor in McNelson, commented that the defendant had failed to express remorse despite his opportunity to do so. Id. Unlike the federal court of appeals in Lesko, however, the Nevada Supreme Court concluded that the prosecutor had not committed misconduct. Although the court in Lesko explained that a "capital defendant does not completely waive his Griffin rights by testifying at the penalty phase," the Nevada Supreme Court held that "the prosecutor was entitled to comment in rebuttal on McNelson's statement, including commentary on what McNelson did not say which he could properly have said within the bounds of an allocution statement." Id. at 937. The McNelson decision directly contradicts the federal court's holding in Lesko, does not analyze the constitutional issue, and is erroneous.

1 defendant's membership in Aryan Brotherhood prison gang, where not related to issues presented 2 at sentencing, and admission of evidence of abstract beliefs, without more, as relevant to
3 defendant's "character" violates First Amendment).

4 2. ASSERTING PERSONAL OPINION OR EXPERTISE VIOLATES THE U.S.
5 CONSTITUTION.

6 As described above in section II (A) (3), it is unconstitutional for a prosecutor to assert a
7 personal opinion or expertise on any matter. For the same reasons, a prosecutor may not assert a 8 personal opinion on the propriety of the death penalty or an expertise in arguing whether it is the 9 appropriate punishment. An assertion of a personal opinion may also constitute an impermissible
10 attempt to invoke the authority of the state, see section II (B) (9), and an improper reference to 11 facts outside the record. See section II (A) (5).

12 a. Expressing Opinion About the Propriety of the Death Penalty Violates 13 the Constitution.

14 A prosecutor may not express an opinion about the death penalty or assert an expertise in 15 determining the propriety of imposing a death sentence on the defendant. Such impermissible
16 expressions of opinion include positive statements about the general deterrent effect of the death
17 penalty, which are always without evidentiary support. See section II (A) (5), above.

18 • Darden v. Wainwright, 477 U.S. 168, 179 (1986) (condemning as "improper" comments by 19 the prosecutor, including a comment that "I will ask you to advise the Court to give him death.
20 That's the only way that I know that he is not going to get out on the public").

21 • Miller v. Lockhart, 65 F.3d 676, 684 (8th Cir. 1995) (granting habeas relief and ordering 22 new penalty phase where prosecutor expressed his personal belief that death penalty was 23 appropriate punishment based on his experience of working for twenty years with people who 24 commit crimes).

25 • Newlon v. Armontrout, 885 F.2d 1328, 1335-36 (8th Cir. 1989) (affirming grant of writ of 26 habeas corpus where prosecutor expressed personal belief in the death penalty as appropriate 27 punishment), cert. denied, 497 U.S. 1038 (1990).

28 • Bowen v. Kemp, 769 F.2d 672, 679-80 (11th Cir. 1985) (holding that it was improper for prosecutor to express personal opinion about the prospects for rehabilitation in support of death

1 penalty), cert. denied, 478 U.S. 1021 (1986).

2 • Tucker v. Kemp, 762 F.2d 1480, 1486 (11th Cir. 1985) (en banc) (holding that “[a]n
3 attorney’s personal opinions are irrelevant to the task of a sentencing jury” and condemning
4 prosecutor’s comment to jurors that, “if he is executed, and if you bring in a verdict of guilty, I’ll
5 sleep just as good, or I’ll sleep better knowing that one of them won’t be on the street. Knowing
6 that one of them will be gone. It’s not all of them, but it’s better than none.”), vacated on other
7 grounds, 474 U.S. 1001 (1985).

8 • Marshburn, 522 S.W.2d 900, 901 (Tex. Crim. App. 1975) (telling jurors that “[t]here is 9 something special about this case” was “calculated to introduce prejudice into the minds of 10 jurors”).

11 • Collier v. State, 101 Nev. 473, 480, 705 P.2d 1126, 1130 (1985) (reversing death sentence
12 and ordering a new penalty hearing in part because the prosecutor’s remark while facing him, 13 “Gregory Alan Collier, you deserve to die” amounted to an expression of a personal opinion and 14 was “egregiously improper”), cert. denied, 486 U.S. 1036 (1988).

15 • Guy v. State, 108 Nev. 770, 786, 839 P.2d 578, 588 (1992) (concluding that it was 16 “improper” for prosecutor to tell the defendant, “you, sir, deserve to die”), cert. denied, 507 U.S.
17 1009 (1993).

18 • Howard v. State, 106 Nev. 713, 718, 800 P.2d 175, 178 (1991) (explaining that 19 prosecutor’s statement, “[w]e have to tell you that we believe in what we’re telling you, that Sam
20 Howard should be put to death, and we do believe that” was “improper and constituted 21 prosecutorial misconduct.”).

22 • Dearman v. State, 93 Nev. 364, 368, 566 P.2d 407, 409 (1977) (rebuking prosecutor for 23 “improper remarks” where stated “I believe that mercy cannot rob justice even for persons who 24 murder their good friends.”).

25 • SCR 173 (5) (improper to “state a personal opinion as to the justness of a cause...”).

1                   3.       COMMENTS MISLEADING JURORS ABOUT THE SENTENCING
2                   PROCESS OR ABOUT THE DEATH PENALTY VIOLATE THE CONSTITUTION.

3                   It is essential that jurors recognize "the truly awesome responsibility of decreeing death for 4                   a fellow human [so that they] will act with due regard for the consequences of their decision."
5                   McGautha v. California, 402 U.S. 183, 208 (1971). When prosecutors attempt to mislead jurors
6                   about their role in the sentencing process or to diminish their sense of responsibility, they violate
7                   the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments requirement of reliability in sentencing. Indeed,
8                   "[a]rguments that trivialize the task of a capital jury are improper." Tucker v. Kemp, 762 F.2d
9                   1480, 1485 (11th Cir. 1985) (en banc), vacated on other grounds, 474 U.S. 1001 (1985). The 10                  following sections describe some examples of impermissible attempts by prosecutors to diminish
11                  jurors' sense of responsibility by misleading jurors about the sentence, the sentencing process, or 12                  the appeals system.

13                               a.       Misstating the Law On Mitigation or Otherwise Misleading Sentencers
14                               About the Sentencing Determination Violates the Constitution.

15                  A prosecutor may not misstate the law on mitigation or otherwise mislead sentencers about 16                  how to impose sentence. Comments telling jurors that they cannot consider certain factors
17                  mitigating or that they cannot show the defendant mercy are unconstitutional. Whenever a 18                  prosecutor tells jurors that they cannot consider evidence the defense presents as mitigating, he or 19                  she violates the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments. See also Sections II (B) (5) (denigrating 20                  defense theory); II (B) (6) (denigrating witnesses).

21                  • Penry v. Lynaugh, 492 U.S. 302, 326-28 (1989) (explaining that it is not enough "simply to 22                  allow the defendant to present mitigating evidence to the sentencer," and that there must be no
23                  impediment -- including prosecutorial argument -- to sentencer's full consideration and ability to 24                  give effect to mitigating evidence in holding that prosecutor's argument that they could not act on 25                  their emotions violated the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments).

26                  • Lockett v. Ohio, 438 U.S. 586, 604 (1978) (holding that jury must be allowed to consider 27                  "as a mitigating factor, any aspect of the defendant's character or record and any of the 28                  circumstances of the offense that the defendant proffers as a basis for a sentence less than death").

b. Arguing that Jurors Should Not Show Mercy Violates the Federal Constitution and Nevada Law.

A prosecutor may not suggest to jurors that they refrain from showing the defendant mercy in deciding whether to impose the death penalty. Mercy -- as opposed to "mere sympathy or emotion" -- is a relevant factor in capital sentencing. See California v. Brown, 479 U.S. 538, 545 (1987) (O'Connor, J., concurring); see also Nelson v. Nagle, 995 F.2d 1549, 1556 (11th Cir. 1993) ("[T]his court has found that mercy is an implicit sentencing consideration in many United States Supreme Court decisions in capital cases."). It is thus unconstitutional for the state to argue that mercy has no place at a capital proceeding.

- Penry, 492 U.S. at 326 (holding that the prosecutor violated the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments by telling jurors that they could not act on their emotions and instead had to act on the law as the judge had given it to them).

- Nelson, 995 F.2d at 1556 (concluding that prosecutor committed misconduct where state quoted case to the effect that axe of justice should be stern, unbending and unflinching, which court said rendered sentencing fundamentally unfair).

- Presnell v. Zant, 959 F.2d 1524, 1529 (11th Cir. 1992) (holding that the trial was rendered fundamentally unfair in violation of due process where prosecutor argued to the jury, based on a quotation from a nineteenth century state case, that jurors should not show the defendant mercy).

- Drake v. Kemp, 762 F.2d 1449, 1460 (11th Cir. 1985) ("[T]he suggestion that mercy is inappropriate was not only a misrepresentation of the law, but it withdrew from the jury one of the most central considerations, the one most likely to tilt the decision in favor of life"), cert. denied, 478 U.S. 1020 (1986).

- Stanley v. Zant, 697 F.2d 955, 960 (11th Cir. 1983) (concluding that Eighth Amendment creates "asymmetry weighted on the side of mercy").

- Spivey v. Zant, 661 F.2d 464, 471 (5th Cir. 1981) (emphasizing that the Constitution requires clear instruction on mercy option), cert. denied, 458 U.S. 1111 (1982).

2                                   Victim Violates the U.S. Constitution and Nevada Law.

3             A prosecutor may not suggest that jurors show the defendant the same mercy he showed
4     the victim. Exhorting the jurors to act in the same way that the perpetrator of a criminal homicide
5     would act is the antithesis of generating a "reasoned moral response" to the defendant and his 6     crime.

7             • Lesko v. Lehman, 925 F.2d 1527, 1545 (3d Cir. 1991) (holding that it was impermissible
8     for the prosecutor to argue that jurors should make their decision about whether the defendant
9     should receive the death penalty in the "cruel and malevolent manner shown by the defendant
10    when they tortured and drowned William Nicholls and shot Leonard Miller," which court 11    characterized as an attempt to "incite an unreasonable and retaliatory sentencing decision, rather 12    than a decision based on a reasoned moral response to the evidence").<sup>20</sup>

13            • Rhodes v. State, 547 So.2d 1201, 1206 (Fla. 1989) (per curiam) (holding that prosecutor's

20             A prosecutor may not comment that the defendant is unlikely to be rehabilitated, or that the

21             <sup>20</sup> The Nevada Supreme Court has not adhered to the federal constitutional rule prohibiting prosecutors from suggesting
22     that sentencers show the defendant the same sympathy or mercy he showed the victim. In Williams v. State, 113 Nev. 1008, 945
23     P.2d 438, 444-45 (1997), the prosecutor argued that the jury should show the defendant the same sympathy he had shown the 24     victim. Even though the case fell squarely under the federal constitutional rule enunciated in Lesko, this state's Supreme Court
25     nonetheless held that the prosecutor's argument was not improper because the defense had first raised the issue of mercy. The issue
26     of mercy, however, is a proper consideration by sentencers. There is no rule which permits prosecutors to violate the Constitution
27     in response to proper argument by the defense. The court in Williams appears to have misconstrued and misapplied the United 28     States Supreme Court's holding in U.S. v. Young, 470 U.S. 1, 11 (1985), which upheld in certain circumstances the "invited response" rule, under which appellate courts can consider improper arguments by prosecutors in response to improper arguments by the defense to determine on appeal whether the prosecutor's misconduct amounts to reversible error. The decision in Williams, by contrast, is not limited to the determination of prejudice, but rather, allows prosecutors to respond improperly to proper arguments by defense counsel. The decision contravenes well-established federal law holding that it is a federal constitutional violation for a prosecutor to argue either that jurors show no mercy to the defendant or that they show the same mercy the defendant showed the victim.

           Arguing that the jury should act in the same manner as the perpetrator of a criminal homicide is also inconsistent with the Nevada Supreme Court's own jurisprudence. In Collier v. State, 101 Nev. 473, 481, 705 P.2d 1126 (1985), the Nevada Supreme Court held that it is improper to "blatantly attempt to inflame a jury by urging that, if they wish to be deemed 'moral' and 'caring,' the jury must approach their duties in anger and give the community what it needs." Urging the jury to show the defendant the same mercy he showed the victim similarly asks the jury to "approach their duties in anger."

1 defendant's potential for rehabilitation cannot be considered as a mitigating factor.

2 • Bowen v. Kemp, 769 F.2d 672, 678 (11th Cir. 1985) (improper for prosecutor to express
3 opinion about prospects for rehabilitation in support of death penalty), cert. denied, 478 U.S. 1021
4 (1986).

6 prosecutor's reference to defendant's improbable rehabilitation was "particularly objectionable"
7 and ordering new penalty hearing ), vacated on other grounds, 504 U.S. 930 (1992).

9 inappropriate" prosecutor's comment that rehabilitation was improbable), cert. denied, 486 U.S.
10 1036 (1988).

11 e. Referring to the Possibility of Escape Without Presenting Evidence On 12 this Question Is Improper.

13 A prosecutor may not refer during the penalty hearing to the possibility that the defendant 14 will escape unless the defendant presents evidence on this question.

15 • Hance v. Zant, 696 F.2d at 951-53 (holding that it was improper to mention James Earl 16 Ray's escape from "[w]hat was thought to be the most secure cell in the most secure prison in the 17 United States").

18 • Howard v. State, 106 Nev. 713, 719, 800 P.2d 175, 178 (1991) (holding that, without 19 evidence to prove the statement, it is improper to remark that defendant might escape).

20 • Collier v. State, 101 Nev. at 480, 705 P.2d at 1130 ("Remarks about the possibility of 21 escape are improper. The prospect of escape is not part of the calculus that the jury should 22 consider in determining a defendant's sentence.").

23 f. Suggesting, Without Evidence Independent of the Offense, that the 24 Person Will be a Threat to Society If He Is Not Executed, Or Would 25 Endanger Future Victims, Violates the Federal Constitution.

26 A prosecutor may not suggest that the person convicted will pose a threat to society unless 27 he presents evidence independent of the commission of the capital offense. The constitutional rule
28 that prosecutors cannot suggest at the penalty phase that the defendant poses a continuing threat

1 unless they present evidence independent of the offense is consistent with the Constitution's
2 requirement that aggravating factors narrow the class upon which sentencers can impose the death
3 penalty. The Supreme Court has long held that aggravating factors must "genuinely narrow the 4 class of death-eligible persons" in a way that reasonably "justifies the imposition of a more severe
5 sentence on the defendant compared to others found guilty of murder." Zant v. Stephens, 462 U.S.
6 862, 877 (1983). Furthermore, aggravating circumstances must permit the sentencer to make a
7 "principled distinction between those who deserve the death penalty and those who do not." Lewis
8 v. Jeffers, 497 U.S. 764, 774 (1990); see also Richmond v. Lewis, 506 U.S. 40, 46 (1992) ("[A]
9 statutory aggravating factor is unconstitutionally vague if it fails to furnish principled guidance for 10 the choice between death and a lesser penalty"); Clemons v. Mississippi, 494 U.S. 738, 758 (1990)
11 (holding that invalid aggravating circumstance provided "no principled way to distinguish the case
12 in which the death penalty is imposed, from the many cases in which it was not"); Maynard v.
13 Cartwright, 486 U.S. 356, 362 (1988) ("Since Furman, our cases have insisted that the channeling
14 and limiting of the sentencer's discretion in imposing the death penalty is a fundamental 15 constitutional requirement for sufficiently minimizing the risk of wholly arbitrary and capricious 16 action."). In other words, the death penalty cannot be imposed on every defendant convicted of 17 first-degree murder. Were prosecutors permitted to argue, based merely on the offense for which 18 the defendant is convicted, that a defendant poses a continuing threat, sentencers could impose the 19 death penalty on every person convicted of first-degree murder. This would contravene the 20 constitutional requirement that schemes narrow the class of people upon whom sentencers can
21 impose death.

22 Such arguments may also constitute an impermissible assertion of personal opinion, see
23 section II (A) (3), above, and reference to facts outside the record, see section II (A) (5), above.<sup>21</sup>

27
28 <sup>21</sup> While consideration of the defendant's dangerousness is not impermissible in sentencing, see, e.g., Simmons v. South Carolina, 512 U.S. 154, 163 (1994), the vice of the kind of argument cited in this section is that it implies, without evidentiary support, that imposition of the death penalty is the sole means of controlling that danger.

5 • Castillo v. State, 114 Nev. 271, 280, 956 P.2d 103, 109 (1998) (holding that it is improper

20 <sup>22</sup> The Nevada Supreme Court has failed to follow federal constitutional law requiring that prosecutors present evidence
21 independent of the offense to prove future dangerousness. In a series of cases, the court has concluded that the prosecution can 22 argue that the defendant will pose a continuing threat even though it presents no evidence other than the offense for which he has 23 been convicted. See, e.g., Jones v. State, 113 Nev. 454, 937 P.2d 55, 65 (1997) (reaffirming that finding of future dangerousness could be based solely on offense itself and need not be based on independent evidence); Witter v. State, 112 Nev. 908, 927, 921
P.2d 886, 889 (1996) (holding that prosecutor could argue that the defendant posed future danger based solely on murder in question), cert. denied, 117 S.Ct. 1708 (1997); Redmen v. State, 108 Nev. 227, 235, 828 P.2d 395, 400 (1992) (“[W]e expand our holding in Riley to allow prosecutors to argue the future dangerousness of a defendant even when there is no evidence of violence independent of the murder in question.”), cert. denied, 506 U.S. 880 (1992), overruled on other grounds by Alford v. State, 111
Nev. 1409, 906 P.2d 714 (1995).

24 <sup>23</sup> The Nevada Supreme Court has not consistently followed federal constitutional law, or its own jurisprudence, in 25 condemning comments on possible future victims. In Bennett v. State, 106 Nev. 135, 141, 787 P.2d 797 (1996), the court held that 26 it was a permissible reference to future dangerousness for the prosecutor to argue “[y]ou possess the power to guarantee that [the defendant] will never again make a healthy, vibrant, caring woman into a corpse.” It does not appear that Bennett is distinguishable from McKenna, Castillo, Flanagan, and Jones, cited above. Further, Bennett demonstrates the fact that this kind of argument is 27 based on speculation and matters outside the record, when there is no evidence to support a future dangerousness argument, and 28 thus it is constitutionally impermissible. There is nothing to suggest that the defendant in Bennett would “again make ... a woman a corpse” if he had been given a sentence less than death. See Simmons v. South Carolina, 512 U.S. 154, 157-58 (1994) (defendant constitutionally entitled under due process clause to inform jury that life sentence meant life imprisonment without possibility of parole, where evidence showed that defendant was dangerous to specific class of potential victims and defendant would not be in contact with that class of people in prison).

1 98 Colum. L. Rev. 1538, 1559 (1998) (57.9% of the jurors questioned were more likely to vote for 2 death if they thought that the defendant might present a danger to society).

7 It is improper to suggest that sentencers are not ultimately responsible for imposing the 8 death penalty, either by telling them that the sentence is reviewable or that they do not actually
9 impose the death penalty. Such arguments also constitute an impermissible reference to facts
10 outside the record. See section II (A) (5), above.

8 h. Inaccurately Describing, or Misleading Sentencers About, the Death
9 Penalty or Alternative Punishments Is Unconstitutional.

10 A prosecutor may not mislead jurors about the nature of the death penalty or a lesser

19 difficult and uncomfortable choice, will minimize the burden of sentencing someone to death by 20 comforting themselves with the thought that the death would at least be instantaneous, and 21 therefore painless and easy. The prosecutor’s argument diminished the jurors’ sense of

25 <sup>24</sup> The Nevada Supreme Court has failed to follow the rule in Caldwell. In Williams v. State, 113 Nev. 1008, 945 P.2d

28 the last step. You are the next step.” (emphasis added). Although, as described above, federal courts have condemned any attempt by prosecutors to suggest that sentencers do not bear the ultimate responsibility for imposing death, the court explained without referring to the holdings in these federal cases or distinguishing them from the case that “an isolated reference to future steps in the case does not amount to prosecutorial error.” Id. at 446. See also McKenna v. State, 114 Nev. 1044, 968 P.2d 739, 747 (1998)

11 i. Referring to the Cost of Imprisonment Violates the U.S. Constitution
12 And Nevada Law.

13 A prosecutor may not refer to the cost of imprisonment. As the Court of Appeals for the 14 Eighth Circuit explained, “[t]here is simply no legal or ethical justification for imposing the death
15 penalty on this basis and it is not a proper factor to be considered by the jury, for it does not reflect

11 j. A Prosecutor May Not Comment On Mitigating Factors During 12 Argument Which the Defendant Did Not Raise.

13 It is impermissible for a prosecutor to comment on mitigating factors which the defendant
14 does not raise for a number of reasons. First, it suggests that jurors are restricted in the sentencing 15 process to only the mitigating factors the prosecution discusses. Second, it suggests that the 16 defendant is more worthy of receiving the death penalty because his case does not present 17 mitigating factors found in other cases, which is fundamentally inconsistent with the principle of 18 individualized sentencing.

10          the relative coldness of this crime and compared the circumstances of this crime to other crimes
11          that were not in the record”).

12          • Tucker v. Kemp, 762 F.2d 1480, 1484 (11th Cir. 1985) (holding that it is improper for a 13          prosecutor to suggest to jurors that the prosecution rarely seeks the death penalty and explained,
14          “[i]t is wrong for the prosecutor to tell the jury that, out of all possible cases, he has chosen a 15          particular case as one of the very worst. While facts of the crime can be 16          stressed to show the seriousness of the case, the prosecutor’s careful decision that this case is 17          special is irrelevant and is potentially prejudicial. Such comments, made by an experienced 18          prosecutor, may alter the jury’s exercise of complete discretion by suggesting that a more 19          authoritative source has already decided the appropriate punishment.”).

20          • Brooks v. Kemp, 762 F.2d 1383, 1410 (11th Cir. 1985) (“Because the jury is empowered
21          to exercise its discretion in determining punishment, it is wrong for the prosecutor to undermine 22          that discretion by implying that he, or another high authority, has already made the careful 23          decision required. This kind of abuse unfairly plays upon the jury’s susceptibility to credit the 24          prosecutor’s viewpoint.”).

25           5.     ARGUMENTS PRESSURING JURORS TO IMPOSE THE DEATH
26           PENALTY ARE IMPROPER.

- 27           a.     Telling Jurors to Do Their Jobs, to Fulfill their Civic Duty, to Act as the 28                 Conscience of the Community, To Correct Society’s Ills, to Send Out a Message (Deterrence), or To Seek Revenge, in Support of the Death Penalty is Improper.

1 A prosecutor may not suggest to sentencers that it is their duty to impose death. In U.S. v.
2 Young, the Supreme Court held that a statement by the prosecutor that the jury should do its "job"
3 has "no place in the administration of justice." This kind of argument is inconsistent with the 4 principles of individualized sentencing and the jury's duty of making a "reasoned moral response"
5 to the defendant and his crime, by suggesting that the jury should engage in the kind of "payback"
6 associated with criminal vigilantes. See section II (B) (10), above.

7 • Lesko v. Lehman, 925 F.2d 1527, 1545 (3d Cir. 1990) (holding that it was reversible error
8 to suggest at penalty phase that jurors had an obligation to "even the score for two murders"), cert.
9 denied, 502 U.S. 898 (1991).

10 • U.S. v. Mandelbaum, 803 F.2d 42, 44 (1st Cir. 1986) (finding no difference between 11 "urging a jury to do its job and urging a jury to do its duty" because "such an appeal is designed to 12 stir passion").

13 • Tucker v. Kemp, 762 F.2d 1496, 1508 (11th Cir. 1985) (holding that it was improper for 14 prosecutor to emphasize importance of decision and to tell jurors they were last line of defense
15 against Tucker).

16 • Hance, 696 F.2d at 952 (holding that it was improper for a prosecutor to appeal to the 17 patriotism and courage of sentencers, "extorting them to join in the war against crime" by 18 returning a death verdict).

19 • Brooks v. Kemp, 762 F.2d 1383, 1413 (11th Cir. 1985) (holding that the description of 20 jurors as "soldiers in the war on crime" was improper).

22 prohibition against" referring to the jury as "conscience of the community").

23 • Collier v. State, 101 Nev. 473, 479, 705 P.2d 1126, 1130 (1985) ("Gregg in no way
24 supports the view that a prosecutor may blatantly attempt to inflame a jury by urging that, if they 25 wish to be deemed 'moral' and 'caring,' they must approach their duties in anger and give the 26 community what it 'needs.'"), cert. denied, 486 U.S. 1036 (1988).

27 • Flanagan, 104 Nev. at 112, 754 P.2d at 840 (ordering new penalty hearing where 28 prosecutor commented that "if we don't punish, then society is going to laugh at us," which court

1 concluded "serve[d] no other purpose than to raise the specter of public ridicule and arouse
2 prejudice against Flanagan.").

3 Further, the improper arguments seeking to identify the state with the victim, asking the 4 jurors to put themselves in the victim's shoes, or otherwise inflaming the jury on the basis of 5 emotional factors relating to the victim, are equally improper in the penalty phase of the trial. The 6 defendant incorporates the authorities cited in section II (B) (7) as if fully set forth herein. See
7 also Payne v. Tennessee, 501 U.S. 808, 825 (1991) (due process clause limits admission of victim 8 impact evidence that is unduly prejudicial).

9 b. Equating the Death Penalty with Self-Defense is Unconstitutional.

10 A prosecutor may not equate the death penalty with an act of self-defense by the 11 community.

12 • Kirkpatrick v. Blackburn, 777 F.2d 272, 283 (5th Cir. 1985) (explaining that it is 13 impermissible to focus the jury's attention on the law of self-defense as the basis for giving the 14 death penalty. It is thus improper to urge the death penalty "simply because lethal force could 15 have been used in defense of the victim.") (quotation omitted).

17 CONCLUSION

18 For all the reasons stated above, the defendant respectfully submits that this Court should 19 enter an order in limine, prohibiting the prosecutor from committing any of the misconduct
20 specified in sections II and III of this motion, or any similar misconduct, and to enforce that order
21 as requested in section I of this motion.

1                                   DECLARATION OF HOWARD S. BROOKS

2                   HOWARD S. BROOKS makes the following declaration:

3                   1.       I am an attorney licensed to practice law in the State of Nevada; I am a
4 Deputy Public Defender assigned to represent Glenford Budd in this case, and I am familiar with 5 the allegations made by the State and the procedural history of the case.

6                   2.       The State has charged Glenford Budd with three counts of Murder with Use
7 of a Deadly Weapon. The State has also filed a Notice of Intent to Seek the Death Penalty.

8                   3.       During my 16 years as an attorney, I have noticed that various judges handle
9 the recording of matters in court in various ways. A particular concern to the defense is a custom 10 engaged in by some courts, whereby objections are made at an unrecorded bench conference, and 11 the defense must later make a record before the court reporter at a hearing outside the presence of 12 the jury. This procedure, as I describe it, robs the defendant of a true record of what happens at 13 trial. And the record made later, in front of a court reporter, outside the presence of a jury, may or 14 may not accurately reflect the discussions that occurred before the judge at the bench conference.

15                  4.       Supreme Court Rule 250 applies to cases where the State seeks the death
16 penalty. Subsection 5 (a) of Supreme Court Rule 250 states the following:

17                               The District Court shall give capital cases calendar priority
18 and conduct such proceedings with minimal delay. The 19 Court shall ensure that all proceedings in a capital case are 20 reported and transcribed, but with the consent of each parties'
21 counsel, the court may conduct proceedings outside the 22 presence of the jury or the court reporter. If any objection is made or any issue is resolved in an unreported proceeding, the court shall ensure that the objection and resolution are made part of the record at the next reported proceeding.

23                  5.       Some courts have attempted to comply with Supreme Court Rule 250 by 24 having all bench conferences in the hallway outside the court with a court reporter present. This 25 was the custom in the courtroom of District Court Judge Maupin and also District Court Judge
26 Gibbons, both of whom are now on the Nevada Supreme Court.

27                  6.       Any failure to record the entire proceedings in the trial court and make them
28 part of the record violates a defendant's right to full review of his case on appeal, his right to the

1 assistance of counsel on appeal in post-conviction, and his right to equal access to the courts that
2 would review any conviction on appeal or collateral attack, as guaranteed by the Sixth, Eighth, and
3 Fourteenth Amendments of the United States Constitution. See, E.G. Draper v. Washington, 372
4 U.S. 487, 499 (1963); United States v. Selva, 559 F.2d 1303 (5th cir. 1977); United States v.
5 Brumley, 560 F.2d 1268, 1281 (5th Cir. 1977).

6 7. The Defense invokes the full protections of these cited cases and also the 7 protections afforded by Supreme Court Rule 250.

8 8. The Defense objects to any unrecorded bench conference or any unrecorded
9 conference in chambers.

10 9. The Defense seeks an order that all proceedings in this case be recorded and 11 that Supreme Court Rule 250 be complied with in its entirety.

12 I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. (NRS 13 53.045).

14 EXECUTED this 14 day of September, 2004.

9 THE STATE OF NEVADA,
11 Plaintiff,
12
13 v.
14 GLENFORD ANTHONY BUDD,
15 Defendant.

CASE NO. C193182

DEPT. NO. XVIII 18
DATE: October 13, 2004
TIME: 9:00 a.m.

16 MOTION 4: DEFENDANT BUDD'S MOTION TO DISQUALIFY ALL POTENTIAL
17 JURORS WHO KNEW OR WERE ACQUAINTED WITH THE VICTIMS OR THEIR 18 FAMILIES

19 COMES NOW Defendant GLENFORD ANTHONY BUDD, by and through 20 Deputy Public Defender HOWARD S. BROOKS, and respectfully requests, pursuant to the Sixth,
21 Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution and Article I of the Nevada
22 Constitution, that this Court enter an order disqualifying from jury service all members of the jury
23 venire who knew or were acquainted with the victim or with any member of the victim's family.

24 1. Glenford Budd is before this Court on a charge of capital murder, and because this 25 is a capital prosecution, exacting standards must be met to assure that it is fair. "The fundamental 26 respect for humanity underlying the Eighth Amendment's prohibition against cruel and unusual 27 punishment gives rise to a special "need for reliability in the determination that death is the 28 appropriate punishment" in any capital case." Johnson v. Mississippi, 486 U.S. 578, 584 (1988)
(quoting Gardner v. Florida, 430 U.S. 349, 363-64 (1977) (quoting Woodson v. North Carolina, 428 U.S. 280, 305 (1976) (White, J., concurring)).

2. As a matter of constitutional law, it is well established that individuals who have been exposed to highly prejudicial information regarding a capital defendant must be presumed

CIRC

RECEIVED
SEP 14 2004

1 biased for purposes of sitting on his capital sentencing jury and thus should be excused from jury
2 service.

3 3. As early as Blackstone's Commentaries, our forefathers had relinquished the 4 practice of purposefully selecting jurors who knew beforehand the character and credibility of the 5 parties and witnesses. 3 W.Blackstone, Commentaries. This practice was abandoned because 6 "jurors, coming out of the immediate neighborhood, would be apt to intermix their prejudices and 7 partialities in the trial of right." Id. Thus, for centuries now, juries have been selected "only . . . de
8 corpore comitatus, from the body of the county at large, and not de vicineto, or from the particular 9 neighborhood." Id.

10 4. This long tradition reflects values that are fundamental to our criminal justice
11 system: the right to a fair trial and to impartial and uninterested jurors.

12 5. "[T]he right to jury trial guarantees to the criminally accused a fair trial by a panel
13 of impartial, 'indifferent' jurors." Irvin v. Dowd, 366 U.S. 717, 722 (1961). In the language of Lord
14 Coke, for a juror to be impartial he must "be indifferent as he stands unsworn." Reynolds v.
15 United States, 98 U.S. 145, 154(1878).

16 6. The United States Supreme Court, in Irvin v. Dowd, implied juror bias where there 17 was evidence of community prejudice introduced at voir dire -- even though the jurors insisted that 18 they could render an impartial verdict. Irvin v. Dowd, 366 U.S. at 724. That decision announced a 19 standard of heightened scrutiny for juror bias in capital cases. Id. at 727-28. In a long line of 20 cases, the Court subsequently presumed juror prejudice without considering any evidence of bias.

21 7. A capital sentencing jury that includes people who knew the victim or his family --
22 hereinafter referred to as "victim jurors" -- is precisely the kind of "tribunal organized to return a 23 verdict of death" that is prohibited by the Constitution. Witherspoon v. Illinois, 391 U.S. 510,
24 520-21 (1968). The Supreme Court has indicated that a state would violate a capital defendant's 25 right to an impartial jury if it deliberately --i.e., without a legitimate state purpose -- stacked the 26 capital sentencing jury against the defendant for the purpose of making the imposition of death
27 more likely. Lockhart v. McCree, 476 U.S. 162 (1986).

1           8.       When a trial court allows "victim jurors" to sit on the sentencing jury, there is no
2       doubt that the court "'crosse[s] the line of neutrality' and 'produce[s] a jury uncommonly willing to 3       condemn a man to die.'" Lockhart v. McCree, 476 U.S. at 179 (quoting Witherspoon, 391 U.S. at 4       520-21).

5           9.       Moreover, when "victim jurors" sit on a capital sentencing jury, the state deprives
6       the defendant of a sentence based on the evidence produced at the penalty phase of his capital trial.
7       It is well settled that the Sixth Amendment guarantees a jury verdict based on the evidence
8       produced at trial. Turner v. Louisiana, 379 U.S. 466, 472 (1965); Irvin v. Dowd, 366 U.S. at 722.
9       This requirement "goes to the fundamental integrity of all that is embraced in the constitutional 10      concept of trial by jury." Turner v. Louisiana, 379 U.S. at 472.

11          10.      "Victim jurors" possess evidence of the victim's characteristics and of the impact of 12      the crime on the victim's family. This evidence is not capable of being subjected to the procedures
13      necessary for a fair trial, and the defendant is accordingly deprived of fundamental protections,
14      including the right of confrontation, the right of cross-examination and the right to counsel.
15      Turner v. Louisiana, 379 U.S. at 473.

16          11.      In addition, "victim jurors" deprive a capital defendant of his right to an 17      "individualized determination" of whether he should live or die based on his character and the 18      circumstances of his crime. Zant v. Stephens, 462 U.S. 862, 879 (1983). Regardless of any 19      statements to the contrary, "victim jurors" simply cannot guarantee a capital defendant an 20      individualized sentence. "Victim jurors" have lived, played, and talked with the victim or have 21      experienced the pain and suffering of the victim's close family. They would therefore be unable to 22      determine impartially whether the man on trial for his murder should live or die, and thus would 23      deprive any sentencing verdict of the reliability required by the Eighth Amendment.

24          12.      For these reasons, potential jurors who are related to the victims -- whether closely
25      or distantly -- must be removed from a capital jury if Mr. Budd challenges them. Clearly, "victim 26      jurors" must be removed from the venire at Mr. Budd's capital trial due to implied bias. The 27      failure to remove any such jurors would result in reversible error since Mr. Budd would be forced 28      to use peremptory challenges to remove the jurors himself. Under Nevada law, the defendant's

1 right to exercise peremptory challenges is absolute: A trial court commits reversible error --
2 without a showing of prejudice -- if it errs in denying the defendant's challenge for cause and 3 compels the defendant to remove a juror peremptorily.

4 WHEREFORE, Mr. Budd respectfully requests that this Court enter an order granting the 5 motion and excusing from jury service any person who knew or was acquainted with the victim or 6 the victim's family.

7 DATED this 14 day of September, 2004.

1                                   MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2                   State and federal law prohibit the exercise of a peremptory challenge against a
3 single juror on the basis of race. Batson v. Kentucky, 476 U.S. 79 (1986). The United States
4 Supreme Court ruled in Batson that a prosecutor may not rebut a prima facie showing of 5 discrimination "merely by denying any discriminatory motive or affirming his good faith in 6 individual selections."

7                                   CONCLUSION

8                   The Defense respectfully requests this Court enter an Order prohibiting the State from 9 employing its peremptory challenges to remove minority jurors if such use of peremptories is 10 racially motivated.

CLARK COUNTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY

By Karen Miller

comment, despite a corrective instruction, once such statements are made, the damage is hard to undo: 'Otherwise stated, one 'cannot unring a bell'; 'after the thrust of the saber it is difficult to say forget the wound'; and finally, 'if you throw a skunk into the jury box, you can't instruct the jury not to smell it.'") (quoting Dunn v. U.S., 307 F.2d 883, 886 (5th Cir. 1962)); Government of Virgin Islands v. Toto, 529 F.2d 278, 282 (3d Cir. 1976) (holding that curative instruction could not cure the violation of the defendant's right to a presumption of innocence).

To the extent that the prosecutor may commit misconduct that is only marginally covered by the cited caselaw, this court should intervene to protect the defendant's rights by instructing the jury in terms which address the real effect of the misconduct. An instruction merely to disregard misconduct would not be adequate and would likely exacerbate the effect of the misconduct. See note 1, above. Only an instruction that explains to the jury what has actually occurred - - that is, that the prosecutor has attempted to influence the jury by impermissible and unconstitutional means, and that it would be a violation of the jurors' duty to consider in any way the substantive basis of the misconduct in its decision - - would arguably correct the harm. Thus, if a court concludes that it can cure misconduct by giving a cautionary instruction, the court "should aim to make a statement to the jury that will counteract fully whatever prejudice to the defendant resulted from the prosecutor's remarks." People v. Bolton, 23 Cal. 3d 208, 589 P.2d 396, 400 n. 5 (1970). In Bolton, the prosecutor's argument insinuated that the defendant had a criminal record when in fact he did not. The court in Bolton indicated that a cautionary instruction sufficient to counterbalance such an argument could take this form:

"Ladies and Gentlemen of the jury, the prosecutor has just made certain uncalled for insinuations about the defendant. I want you to know that the prosecutor has absolutely no evidence to present to you to back up these insinuations. The prosecutor's improper remarks amount to an attempt to prejudice you against the defendant. Were you to believe these unwarranted insinuations, and convict the defendant on the basis of them, I would have to declare a mistrial. Therefore, you must disregard these improper, unsupported remarks." Id.

To the extent that the prosecutors in this case may commit any misconduct not clearly within the categories of misconduct explicitly identified in this motion, the defendant submits that

1 only an instruction similar in form to the one described in Bolton could adequately correct the 2 harm such misconduct would cause.

3 E. CONCLUSION.

4 The defendant has shown that this court should issue an order in limine directing the 5 prosecutors not to commit misconduct in argument. Such an order is an appropriate use of a ruling
6 in limine; it is not objectionable by the state; it is necessary in light of the Clark County District
7 Attorney's pattern and practice of committing misconduct; and it is imperative in order to furnish
8 actual protection, rather than mere lip-service, to the defendant's rights. Accordingly, this court 9 should issue an order in limine prohibiting the prosecutors from committing any of the kinds of 10 misconduct discussed in sections II and III, below, and any other form of misconduct, and enforce 11 that order as requested above.

12 II.

13 EXAMPLES OF IMPERMISSIBLE ARGUMENT AT THE GUILT PHASE

14 To safeguard the fairness of the defendant's trial and protect the specific constitutional
15 rights to which he is entitled, the defendant sets forth some of the improper arguments a prosecutor
16 is forbidden from making by the federal Constitution, and the laws and ethical rules of this state.
17 This list represents some of the most common improper arguments the prosecutor can make and is 18 by no means exhaustive. The defendant presents these examples of improper arguments to inform 19 the Court of his unequivocal objection to them in advance of trial.

20 A. ARGUMENTS INFRINGING SPECIFIC CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS.

21 A prosecutor may not under any circumstances make a comment which violates the 22 specific constitutional rights the accused enjoys under the Bill of Rights and the Fourteenth
23 Amendment's Due Process Clause. The Supreme Court has held that "[w]hen specific guarantees
24 of the Bill of Rights are involved, this Court has taken special care to assure that prosecutorial
25 conduct in no way impermissibly infringes them." Donnelly v. DeChristoforo, 416 U.S. 637, 643 26 (1974).

27 • Darden v. Wainwright, 477 U.S. 168, 182 (1986) ("The prosecutor's argument [may] not ...
28 implicate other specific rights of the accused such as the right to counsel or the right to remain

1 silent”).

2 • Mahorney v. Wallman, 917 F.2d 469, 472 (10th Cir. 1990) (explaining that a lower
3 standard applies for the grant of the federal writ of habeas corpus where “the impropriety
4 complained of effectively deprived the defendant of a specific constitutional right”).

5 The following sections identify some, but not all, of the arguments which would violate the 6 defendant’s specific constitutional rights. The arguments below also violate the more general right
7 an accused enjoys to a fair trial under the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment.
8 Since these arguments infringe specific constitutional rights, however, they are especially 9 intolerable and must be met with extremely strong measures by this Court.

10 1. ARGUMENTS ABOUT THE DEFENDANT WHICH VIOLATE THE BILL
11 OF RIGHTS.

12 a. Commenting on Defendant’s Post-Arrest Silence Violates the Fifth and 13 Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution And Nevada
14 Law.

14 A prosecutor may not comment on the accused’s post-Miranda silence.

15 • U.S. Const. amend. V (“No person ... shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a 16 witness against himself.”); see also Molloy v. Hogan, 378 U.S. 1, 3 (1964) (right against self-17 incrimination applies to the states through the Fourteenth Amendment’s due process clause).

18 • U.S. v. Robinson, 485 U.S. 25, 32 (1988) (“Where the prosecutor on his own initiative asks
19 the jury to draw an adverse inference from a defendant’s silence ... the privilege against 20 compulsory self-incrimination is violated.”).

21 • Darden, 477 U.S. at 182 (“The prosecutor’s argument [may] not ... implicate other specific 22 rights of the accused such as ... the right to remain silent.”).

23 • Wainwright v. Greenfield, 474 U.S. 284, 291 (1986) (explaining that the Doyle decision 24 “rests on the ‘fundamental unfairness of implicitly assuring a suspect that his silence will not be 25 used against him and then using his silence to impeach an explanation subsequently offered at 26 trial.”) (quoting South Dakota v. Neville, 459 U.S. 553, 565 (1983)).

27 • Doyle v. Ohio, 426 U.S. 610, 619 (1976) (holding that a comment by the State’s attorneys 28 about the accused’s post-Miranda silence, even during the course of impeachment, violates the due process clause).

- People of the Territory of Guam v. Veloria, 136 F.3d 648, 652-53 (9th Cir. 1998) (reversing conviction and remanding for a new trial, after concluding that the prosecutor's comment on the defendant's post-Miranda silence amounted to plain error since "the Doyle rule prohibiting testimony regarding post-arrest silence has been well-established in the law") (emphasis added).

- U.S. v. Harp, 536 F.2d 601, 602 n. 2 (5th Cir. 1976) (holding that prosecutor violated Constitution when asked, "[n]ow doesn't it make sense that if the facts had been like the defendants said they had been, that they would have told somebody?").<sup>5</sup>

- Nev. Const. art. I, § 8 ("No person shall ... be compelled, in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself.").

- Washington v. State, 112 Nev. 1054, 921 P.2d 1253, 1255 (1996) (ordering new trial where prosecutor asked defendant, "[f]rom the time that you had your Miranda rights read to you till today, have you ever told the police officer or someone in authority your story?").

- Mahar v. State, 102 Nev. 488, 489, 728 P.2d 439, 440 (1986) (reversing and remanding for new trial where prosecutor asked defendant during cross-examination why he had failed to tell the police about his story).

- McGee v. State, 102 Nev. 458, 461, 725 P.2d 1215, 1217 (1986) (reversing and remanding for new trial where prosecutor in closing argument commented that the defendant "didn't tell anybody in the system, law enforcement. He didn't tell anybody in our offices").

- Bernier v. State, 96 Nev. 670, 671-72, 614 P.2d 1079, 1080 (1980) (reversing and remanding for new trial where prosecutor argued that an innocent person would not have waited two years before telling his story).<sup>6</sup>

<sup>6</sup> The Nevada Supreme Court has frequently recognized that prosecutors cannot comment on the right to remain silent. See, e.g., McCraney v. State, 110 Nev. 250, 255-57, 871 P.2d 922, 925-27 (1994); Neal v. State, 106 Nev. 23, 25, 787 P.2d 764, 765 (1990); Murray v. State, 105 Nev. 579, 584, 781 P.2d 288, 291 (1989) (ordering new trial where prosecutor commented on

1 The Nevada Supreme Court has extended the protection of the Fifth Amendment to include
2 an accused's silence after arrest but before receiving Miranda warnings.

3 • Morris v. State, 112 Nev. 260, 264, 913 P.2d 1264, 1267 (1996) (holding that the 4 prosecution cannot use post-arrest, pre-Miranda silence in case-in-chief).

5 • Coleman v. State, 111 Nev. 657, 664, 895 P.2d 653, 656 (1995) (applying Doyle doctrine
6 to post-arrest, pre-Miranda silence).

7 • Supreme Court Rule 173 (5) ("In trial [the prosecutor shall not] allude to any matter that 8 the lawyer does not reasonably believe is relevant...").

9 • The American Bar Association, Standards for Criminal Justice, Standards Relating to 10 Prosecution Function, Standard 3-5.6 (b) (3d ed. 1993) ("A prosecutor should not knowingly and 11 for the purpose of bringing inadmissible matter to the attention of the judge or jury ... make ...
12 impermissible comments or arguments in the presence of the judge or jury."); see also Standard 3-13 5.8 (d) ("The prosecutor should refrain from argument which would divert the jury from its duty to 14 decide the case on the evidence."); Standard 3-5.9 ("The prosecutor should not intentionally refer
15 to or argue on the basis of facts outside the record whether at trial or on appeal, unless such facts 16 are matters of common public knowledge based on ordinary human experience or matters of which 17 the court may take judicial notice.").

18 b. Directly Commenting on the Defendant's Failure to Testify Violates the 19 Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.

20 A prosecutor may not comment directly on a defendant's failure to testify.

21 • U.S. Const. amend. V.

22 • Carter v. Kentucky, 450 U.S. 288, 301 (1981) (a person accused of committing a crime 23 "must pay no court-imposed price for the exercise of the constitutional privilege not to testify").

24 • Baxter v. Palmigiano, 425 U.S. 308, 319 (1976) ("Griffin prohibits the judge and 25 prosecutor from suggesting to the jury that it may treat the defendant's silence as substantive 26 evidence of guilt.").

27 • Griffin v. California, 380 U.S. 609, 612 (1965) (holding that the Fifth Amendment

28 silence and argued that it permitted the defense to fabricate plausible defense); Acsoph v. State, 102 Nev. 316, 320, 721 P.2d 379,
382 (1986); McGuire v. State, 100 Nev. 153, 156, 677 P.2d 1060, 1063 (1984); Vipperman v. State, 92 Nev. 213, 214, 547 P.2d

2 • Lesko v. Lehman, 925 F.2d 1527, 1541-42 (3d Cir. 1990) (reversing death sentence and
3 holding that comment on failure to express remorse violated Fifth Amendment's right against self-
4 incrimination), cert. denied, 502 U.S. 898 (1991).

5 • Flanagan v. State, 104 Nev. 105, 110, 754 P.2d 836, 839 (1988) (finding that prosecutor 6 committed "flagrant" and "reversible error" where he stated "they could or could not take the 7 stand, whatever they wanted"), vacated on other grounds, 504 U.S. 930 (1992).

8 • In Re Dubois, 84 Nev. 562, 574, 445 P.2d 354, 361 (1968) (holding that it was improper
9 for prosecutor to refer to the defendant's "opportunity to take the stand" in objecting to closing 10 argument).<sup>7</sup>

11 • See section II (A) (1) (a), above; SCR 173 (5).

12 • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standards 3-5.6 (b); 3-5.9.

13 • Stephen P. Garvey, Aggravation and Mitigation in Capital Cases: What Do Jurors Think?,
14 98 Colum. L. Rev. 1538, 1560 (1998) (reporting that jurors take into account an absence of 15 expression of remorse when they determine whether to impose death sentence).

16 c. Indirectly Commenting on the Defendant's Failure to Testify Violates 17 the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution
18 And Nevada Law.

19 The Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments prohibit a prosecuting attorney from commenting 20 indirectly on the defendant's failure to testify. Federal courts have repeatedly held that where no
21 one but the defendant can refute a witness's testimony, it is improper for a prosecutor to say that 22 the evidence the state presents is "uncontroverted," "undisputed," "unchallenged," 23 "uncontradicted," "undenied," "intact," or "unrefuted," or to otherwise draw attention to the 24 accused's failure to testify.

25 • U.S. v. Cotnam, 88 F.3d 487, 496-500 (7th Cir. 1996) (holding that the prosecutor
26 committed reversible error in violation of the Fifth Amendment when he commented that the

27 <sup>7</sup> Both federal and this state's courts have recognized that it is impermissible for prosecutors to comment on the 28 defendant's failure to testify. Burke v. Greer, 756 F.2d 1295, 1300 (7th Cir. 1985); Raper v. Mintzes, 706 F.2d 161, 164 (6th Cir.
1983); Harkness v. State, 107 Nev. 800, 803, 820 P.2d 759 (1991); McGuire v. State, 100 Nev. 153, 156, 677 P.2d 1060, 1063 (1984).

1 evidence the state had put on was "uncontroverted" since it was unlikely that anyone but the
2 accused could contradict the evidence), cert. denied, 117 S.Ct. 326 (1996).

3 • U.S. v. Hardy, 37 F.3d 753, 759 (1st Cir. 1994) (reversing a conviction after holding that 4 the prosecutor indirectly commented on the defendant's failure to testify by commenting that the 5 defendant is "still running and hiding today").

6 • Freeman v. Lane, 962 F.2d 1252, 1259 (7th Cir. 1992) ("Our cases have recognized that a
7 prosecutor may not comment concerning the uncontradicted nature of the evidence when 'it is 8 highly unlikely that anyone other than the defendant could rebut the evidence.'") (quoting U.S. v.
9 Di Caro, 852 F.2d 259, 263 (7th Cir. 1988).

10 • Floyd v. Meachum, 907 F.2d 347, 353 (2d Cir. 1990) (holding that the prosecutor's 11 question "if there was confusion in this case, from whence did that come?" and "[i]f there were 12 facts left out in this case, from whence did that come?" violated the accused's right under the Fifth 13 Amendment against self-incrimination).

14 • U.S. v. Sblendorio, 830 F.2d 1382, 1391 (7th Cir. 1987) ("We have taken Griffin to forbid
15 comment on the defendant's failure to call witnesses, when the only potential witness was the 16 defendant himself."), cert. denied, 484 U.S. 1068 (1988).

17 • Williams v. Lane, 826 F.2d 654, 664 (7th Cir. 1987) (affirming district court's grant of 18 habeas corpus and conclusion that prosecutor's comment that witness "told it to you and nobody 19 else told you anything different" was unconstitutional, explaining that "[t]his Court has on 20 numerous occasions held that prosecutorial references to 'undisputed,' 'unchallenged,' or 21 'uncontradicted' testimony were indirect references to defendant's failure to testify in violation of 22 the Fifth Amendment."), cert. denied, 484 U.S. 956 (1987).

23 • Raper v. Mintzes, 706 F.2d 161, 166 (6th Cir. 1983) (affirming district court's grant of 24 relief and holding that prosecutor violated Constitution by arguing that state witness' testimony 25 was "uncontradicted or unrefuted" which constituted indirect reference to failure to testify).

26 • Kelly v. Stone, 514 F.2d 18, 19 (9th Cir. 1975) (concluding that prosecutor committed

5 and “what is he hiding?”).

6 • Barron v. State, 105 Nev. 767, 778, 783 P.2d 444, 451 (1989) (holding that the prosecutor 19 • U.S. v. Carroll, 678 F.2d 1208, 1209 (5th Cir. 1982) (reversing and remanding for new 20 trial, holding that prosecutor’s reference to the defendant’s courtroom behavior violated his Fifth

21 Amendment right not to testify, and not to be convicted except on the basis of evidence the state
22 puts on against him, and the Sixth Amendment’s right to a trial by jury which prohibited his 23 presence from being taken into account as evidence of guilt).

24 • U.S. v. Wright, 489 F.2d 1181, 1186 (D.C. Cir. 1973) (holding that it violates due process

8 e. Suggesting that Defendant's Presence At Trial Helped Him Fabricate A 9 Defense Violates the United States Constitution and Nevada Law.

10 A prosecuting attorney may not suggest that the accused's presence at trial helped him
11 frame his testimony or fabricate a defense. Such comments infringe the defendant's constitutional 12 right to be present at trial and to confront and cross-examine the witnesses against him.

13 • U.S. Const. amend. VI ("In all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right ... to 14 be confronted with the witnesses against him..."); see also Pointer v. Texas, 380 U.S. 400, 403 19 defendant was putting on a "show" for jurors).

20 • Murray v. State, 105 Nev. 579, 584, 781 P.2d 288, 291 (1989) (reversing conviction where

2 papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no
3 Warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly 4 describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized."); see also Mapp v.
5 Ohio, 367 U.S. 643, 654 (1961) (holding that right under Fourth Amendment would be enforced
6 by "the same sanction of exclusion as is used against the federal government"); Ker v. California, 8 standards as those the Fourth Amendment imposes on federal searches).

16 searched because defendant enjoyed "privilege to be free from comment upon the assertion of a 17 constitutional right").

2. ARGUMENTS ABOUT DEFENSE COUNSEL THAT VIOLATE THE FEDERAL CONSTITUTION AND NEVADA LAW.

The Sixth Amendment to the United States Constitution provides in pertinent part that “[i]n all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right ... to have the Assistance of counsel for his defence.” U.S. Const. amend. VI. The right to counsel applies to the states through the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. Gideon v. Wainwright, 372 U.S. 335 (1963).

The right “to counsel is so basic to all other rights that it must be accorded very careful treatment. Obvious and insidious attacks on the exercise of this constitutional right are antithetical to the concept of a fair trial and are reversible error.” U.S. v. McDonald, 620 F.2d 559, 564 (5th Cir. 1980). For this reason, certain comments about counsel are a violation of the Sixth and Fourteenth amendments. Examples of these are set forth below.

a. Commenting on the Defendant’s Retention of, or Request for, Counsel Violates the Sixth and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution and Nevada Law.

Under the Sixth Amendment’s right to counsel and the Fourteenth Amendment’s due process clause, a prosecutor may not comment on the accused’s retention of, or request for, counsel.

- Hill v. Turpin, 135 F.3d 1411, 1417-19 (11th Cir. 1998) (granting relief in habeas corpus under Fourteenth Amendment’s due process clause where prosecutor referred to petitioner’s request for counsel).

- U.S. v. Kallin, 50 F.3d 689, 693 (9th Cir. 1995) (holding that prosecutor violated the due process clause under the rule in Doyle and committed reversible error when prosecutor asked the accused during cross-examination whether he had hired an attorney, whether that attorney was a criminal defense lawyer, and the length of time during which he had retained his services).

- U.S. v. Santiago, 46 F.3d 885, 892 (9th Cir. 1995) (“[U]nder the Sixth Amendment right to counsel, prosecutors may not imply that the fact that a defendant hired a lawyer is a sign of guilt.”), cert. denied, 515 U.S. 1162 (1995).

- Sizemore v. Fletcher, 921 F.2d 667, 671 (6th Cir. 1990) (“A prosecutor may not imply that an accused’s decision to meet with counsel, even shortly after the incident giving rise to a criminal indictment, implies guilt.... Such statements strike at the core of the right to counsel and must not

1 be permitted.”).

2 • U.S. v. Daoud, 741 F.2d 478, 480 (1st Cir. 1984) (holding that prosecutor’s reference to the 3 defendant’s request for the best attorney in Puerto Rico violated the Constitution).

4 • Bruno v. Rushen, 721 F.2d 1193, 1194 (9th Cir. 1983) (per curiam) (affirming grant of writ
5 of habeas corpus and holding that it violates due process to suggest that jury take into account the 6 hiring of counsel in determining guilt), cert. denied, 469 U.S. 920 (1984).

7 • U.S. v. McDonald, 620 F.2d 559, 564 (5th Cir. 1980) (holding that prosecutor’s conduct
8 “penalized McDonald for exercising his Sixth Amendment right to counsel” by eliciting testimony,
9 and commenting in closing, that attorney was present when Secret Service agents searched 10 defendant’s home).

11 • Zemina v. Solem, 573 F.2d 1027, 1028 (8th Cir. 1978) (affirming habeas corpus relief and 12 district court’s conclusion that prosecutor violated the petitioner’s right under the Sixth 13 Amendment where suggested in closing that the defendant’s phone call to his attorney after his 14 arrest indicated guilt).

15 • U.S. ex. rel. Macon v. Yeager, 476 F.2d 613, 614 (3d Cir. 1973) (reversing conviction
16 under Sixth Amendment because prosecutor argued that hiring attorney after crime committed 17 supported finding of guilt), cert. denied, 414 U.S. 855 (1973).

18 • See section II (B) (2), above; SCR 173 (5).

19 • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standards 3-5.6 (b), 3-5.8 (d), 3-5.9.

20 b. Disparaging Counsel Violates the Sixth And Fourteenth Amendments
21 to the United States Constitution and Nevada Law.

22 A prosecutor may not disparage or ridicule the defendant’s counsel or criminal defense
23 attorneys in general because defendants enjoy “the right to counsel unstained by unfair
24 disparagement.” U.S. v. Rodrigues, 159 F.3d 439, 451 (9th Cir. 1998); see also U.S. v. Santiago, 25 46 F.3d 885, 892 (9th Cir. 1995) (“[U]nder the Sixth Amendment, prosecutors may not imply that 26 ... all defense counsel are programmed to conceal and distort the truth.”), cert. denied, 515 U.S.
27 1162 (1995). Comments suggesting that defense counsel in general, or the defendant’s attorney in 28 particular, are unethical, amoral, sneaky, cunning, or deceptive violate the Constitution’s Sixth

1 Amendment right to counsel and the Fourteenth Amendment's due process clause.

2 • U.S. v. Richardson, 161 F.3d 728, 735 (D.C. Cir. 1998) (reversing conviction and ordering 3 new trial where prosecutor suggested to jury that defense counsel was "out of touch with the 4 realities and concerns" of the defendant's and the jury's world ).

5 • U.S. v. Rodrigues, 159 F.3d at 451 (ordering new trial in spite of defense counsel's failure
6 to object contemporaneously where the prosecutor told jurors at trial that after listening to defense
7 counsel, "you all must be feeling somewhat confused ... [defense counsel] has tried to deceive
8 you" because the prosecutor "does not speak as a mere partisan. He speaks on behalf of a 9 government interested in doing justice. When he says the defendant's counsel is responsible for 10 lying and deceiving, his accusations cannot fail to leave an imprint on the jurors' minds. And 11 when no rebuke of such false accusations is made by the court, when no response is allowed the 12 vilified lawyer, when no curative instruction is given, the jurors must necessarily think that the 13 false accusations had a basis in fact. The trial process is distorted.").

14 • U.S. v. Friedman, 909 F.2d 705, 709-10 (2d Cir. 1990) (holding that it was reversible error 15 for prosecuting attorney to state that defense counsel would "make any argument he can to get that 16 guy off" and that "while some people ... prosecute [drug] dealers ... there are others who try to get 17 them off, perhaps even for high fees").

18 • Bruno v. Rushen, 721 F.2d 1193, 1195 (9th Cir. 1983) (per curiam) (holding that 19 prosecutor violated defendant's right to due process by commenting that witness changed story
20 after meeting with defense attorney and explaining that, maligning defense counsel "severely
21 damage[s] an accused's opportunity to present his case before the jury. It therefore is an 22 impermissible strike at the very fundamental due process protections that the Fourteenth 23 Amendment has made applicable to ensure an inherent fairness in our adversarial system of 24 criminal justice"), cert. denied, 469 U.S. 920 (1984).

25 • Manley v. State, 115 Nev. 114, 979 P2d 703 (1999) (calling prosecutor's comment, that
26 "we could do that one exhibit at a time for the mentally challenged" in response to defense
27 counsel's request that the prosecutor admit exhibit more slowly, "inappropriate," and emphasizing 28 that "we direct the prosecutors to refrain from interposing these kinds of remarks").

1       • Riley v. State, 107 Nev. 205, 213, 808 P.2d 551, 556 (1991) (per curiam) (condemning the 2 prosecutor for commenting that defense counsel was “making stuff up” because “it is ...
3 inappropriate for a prosecutor to make disparaging remarks pertaining to defense counsel’s ability
4 to carry out the required functions of an attorney”), cert. denied, 514 U.S. 1052 (1995).

5       • Cuzdey v. State, 103 Nev. 575, 578, 747 P.2d 233, 235 (1987) (reversing and remanding 6 for new trial where prosecutor made disparaging remarks about counsel).

7       • Yates v. State, 103 Nev. 200, 204, 734 P.2d 1252, 1255 (1987) (labeling the prosecutor’s
8 remarks that defense counsel was in “violation of all ethics of any attorney” and that the court
9 should hold him in contempt “gross injustice” and a “foul blow”).

10       • Williams v. State, 103 Nev. 106, 110, 734 P.2d 700, 703 (1987) (holding that it is 11 improper for the prosecutor to criticize defense counsel for legitimately impeaching prosecution 12 witness in a case where prosecutor commented that impeaching the witness was a “poor reward for 13 testimony of public-spirited citizen”).

14       • McGuire v. State, 100 Nev. 153, 157, 677 P.2d 1060, 1064 (1984) (“Disparaging 15 comments have absolutely no place in a courtroom, and clearly constitute misconduct.”).

19 ed. 1991) (“Counsel should avoid the expression of personal animosity toward opposing counsel, 20 regardless of personal opinion.”).

21               c.       Complimenting Defense Counsel Violates the Sixth and Fourteenth
22                       Amendments to the United States Constitution and Nevada Law.

23       A prosecutor may not compliment the defense attorney.

24       • U.S. v. Frederick, 78 F.3d 1370, 1380 (9th Cir. 1996) (explaining that it was improper for 25 prosecutor to comment that “it is a defense attorney’s job to do his best to cross-examine 26 thoroughly the witnesses presented by the Government for the benefit of his client. And you can 27 have admiration for [the defense attorney] because he is a skilled practitioner of that art,” and in 28 response to an objection, “I’m trying to compliment him that he did a very good job of confusing

1 [the witness] on the stand" because they suggested to jurors that the defense counsel's "methods
2 were somewhat underhanded and designed to prevent the truth from coming out.").

- 3 • See section II (B) (2), above; SCR 173 (5).
- 4 • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standards 3-5.6 (b), 3-5.8 (d), 3-5.9.

5 d. Commenting On the Cost Of Defense Violates the Constitution and
6 Nevada Law.

7 A prosecutor may not comment on the cost of the defense, including the fees the state must 8 pay for lawyers and witnesses.

- 9 • U.S. Const. amend. VI.
- 10 • Gideon v. Wainwright, 372 U.S. 335, 359 (1963) (recognizing that an indigent defendant 11 has a right to have counsel appointed for him by the state).
- 12 • Taylor v. U.S., 329 F.2d 384, 386 (5th Cir. 1964) (holding that right as indigent to 13 subpoena witnesses exists under the Sixth Amendment's right to compulsory process).
- 14 • Young Bark Yau v. U.S., 33 F.2d 236, 237 (9th Cir. 1929) (holding that the district court 15 erred in denying application to take the testimony of witnesses in China).
- 16 • Ake v. Oklahoma, 470 U.S. 68, 70 (1985) (holding that "the Constitution requires that an 17 indigent defendant have access to the psychiatric examination and assistance necessary to prepare 18 an effective defense based on his mental condition").

19 Prosecutors may not comment on the cost of the defense since this would penalize the 20 accused for the exercise of federal constitutional rights. Were prosecutors permitted to make these 21 comments, they would force the defendant to choose between, first, exercising his rights to the 22 assistance of counsel and the right to present a defense under the federal Constitution and being 23 penalized for it, or second, foregoing these rights in an effort to foreclose the opportunity for the 24 prosecutor to argue improperly. Like other comments which penalize the accused for asserting a 25 constitutional right, comment on the cost of the defense would, as the Supreme Court explained in 26 U.S. v. Robinson, 485 U.S. 25, 30 (1988), "cut[] down on the privilege by making its assertion 27 costly." Under the federal constitution, therefore, a prosecutor may not comment on the cost of the 28 defense.

1 Nevada's ethical rules similarly prohibit prosecutors from commenting on the cost of the 2 accused's defense. See also section II (A) (1, 2), above; SCR 173 (5); ABA Standards for 3 Criminal Justice, Standards 3-5.6 (b), 3-5.8 (d), 3-5.9.

4 3. ASSERTING PERSONAL OPINION OR EXPERTISE.

5 The prosecutor may not offer a personal opinion or assert an expertise on any matter
6 because it violates the accused's right to confrontation. The Sixth Amendment to the United States
7 Constitution provides in pertinent part that "[i]n all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy
8 the right ... to be confronted with the witnesses against him..." This right applies to the states
9 through the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. Pointer v. Texas, 380 U.S. 400, 403
10 (1965). The Supreme Court explained in California v. Green, 399 U.S. 149, 158-59 (1970), that 11 the Confrontation Clause requires that a witness be "subject to full and effective cross-12 examination" and it emphasized that:

13 Confrontation: (1) insures that the witness will give his statements
14 under oath--thus impressing him with the seriousness of the matter
15 and guarding against the lie by the possibility of a penalty for 16 perjury; (2) forces the witness to submit to cross-examination, the 17 'greatest legal engine ever invented for the discovery of truth'; permits the jury that is to decide the defendant's fate to observe the demeanor of the witness in making his statement, thus aiding the jury in assessing his credibility.

18 By offering an opinion or asserting an expertise on a matter, the prosecutor performs the 19 role of a witness. As one court explained it,

20 [b]y giving his opinion, an attorney may increase the apparent
21 probative force of his evidence by virtue of his personal influence, 22 his presumably superior knowledge of the facts and background of 23 the case, and the influence of his official position.... The prosecutor 24 is not just a retained attorney; he is a public official occupying an exalted station. Should he be allowed to 'testify' in closing argument, jurors hear the 'expert testimony' of a trusted officer of the court on, perhaps, a crucial issue. On the other side may be 25 appointed counsel, laboring valiantly to present all defenses
26 available to the accused, who nevertheless may be unable to respond 27 to the implied challenge by asserting his personal belief in his assigned client's innocence.

28 U.S. v. Morris, 568 F.2d 396, 401-02 (5th Cir. 1978). When a prosecutor offers "expert

1 testimony," he or she does not take the stand, testify under oath, or subject himself to the defense's
2 right of confrontation. Indeed, as the ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standard 3-5.8, have 3 noted in their commentary, "[e]xpressions of personal opinion by the prosecutor are a form of 4 unsworn, unchecked testimony and tend to exploit the influence of the prosecutor's
5 office..."<sup>8</sup> They therefore violate the right of confrontation.

6 The prosecutor also violates the right to a trial by an impartial jury when he or she offers a
7 personal opinion or asserts an expertise on a matter. The Sixth Amendment to the United States
8 Constitution guarantees that, "[i]n all criminal prosecutions, the accused shall enjoy the right to a 9 speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury..." U.S. Const. amend. VI. In Duncan v. Louisiana,
10 391 U.S. 145 (1968), the Supreme Court recognized that the accused enjoys the right to have a jury
11 ascertain the facts and determine the ultimate question of guilt or innocence. Id. at 149. When a 12 prosecutor offers a personal opinion, jurors will naturally be swayed. As the Supreme Court
13 explained in U.S. v. Young, 470 U.S. at 18-19, a prosecutor may not offer his personal opinion
14 because "the prosecutor's opinion carries with it the imprimatur of the Government and may 15 induce the jury to trust the Government's judgment rather than its own view of the evidence." In 16 U.S. v. Garza, 608 F.2d 659, 663 (5th Cir. 1979), the court of appeals wrote that:

17 The power and force of the government tend to impart an implicit
18 stamp of believability to what the prosecutor says. That same power 19 and force allow him, with a minimum of words, to impress on the 20 jury that the government's vast investigatory network, apart from the 21 orderly machinery of the trial, knows that the accused is guilty or has 22 non-judicially reached conclusions on relevant facts which tend to 23 show he is guilty.

24 Indeed, the court of appeals emphasized in Morris, 568 F.2d at 401 that "an attorney's statement of 25 his beliefs impinges on the jury's function of determining the guilt or liability of the defendant."

<sup>8</sup> The Supreme Court, in Donnelly v. DeChristoforo, 416 U.S. 637, 643 n. 15 (1974), briefly and without explanation remarked in a footnote that, although improper, the assertion of a personal opinion itself might not violate the Confrontation Clause. This does not, however, foreclose the argument that the assertion of a personal opinion about a factual matter is tantamount to testifying without taking the stand and would violate this provision of the Sixth Amendment.

1 and authority, rather than objectively weighing the evidence.”).<sup>9</sup>

2 Ethical rules in this state prohibit the assertion by a prosecutor of a personal opinion. Rule
3 173 of the Supreme Court Rules forbids “assert[ing] personal knowledge of facts in issue except 4 when testifying as a witness, or stat[ing] a personal opinion as to the justness of a cause, the 5 credibility of a witness ... the guilt or innocence of an accused...” The ABA Standards for 6 Criminal Justice provide, moreover, that “[t]he prosecutor should not express his or her personal 7 belief or opinion as to the truth or falsity of any testimony or evidence of the guilt of the 8 defendant.” Standard 3-5.8 (b). In the explanatory notes, the ABA warns prosecutors to avoid 9 using the first person in describing or remarking on evidence and to instead “restrict themselves to 10 statements such as ‘The evidence shows...’ or something similar.” Id. Commentary.

11 The unconstitutional and improper assertion of a personal opinion can take different forms.
12 As described below, courts have condemned prosecutors for expressly stating an opinion or a 13 belief. They have also held that pointing at the defendant or facing him melodramatically while 14 stating that he is guilty or deserves the death penalty constitutes an improper assertion of a
15 personal opinion. See, e.g., Collier v. State, 101 Nev. 473, 480, 705 P.2d 1126, 1130 (1985)
16 (holding that prosecutor improperly asserted personal belief when melodramatically faced 17 defendant and said, “you deserve to die.”), cert. denied, 486 U.S. 1036 (1988). The following
18 arguments are examples of improper assertions by prosecutors of personal opinions or expertise.

19 a. Expressing A Personal Opinion About the Defendant’s Guilt Violates 20 the United States Constitution And Nevada Law.

21 Under federal constitutional law, a prosecuting attorney may not express a personal opinion
22 about the guilt of the person on trial or assert an expertise in assessing guilt. Asserting a personal
23 opinion also violates the rule against referring to facts outside the record. See section II(a)(5); see 24 also Young, 470 U.S. at 18-19; U.S. v. Francis, 170 F.3d 546, 550-51 (6th Cir. 1999).

26 <sup>9</sup> The Nevada Supreme Court has inconsistently followed the federal constitutional rule prohibiting prosecutors from 27 asserting a personal opinion or expertise on any matter. In Earl v. State, 111 Nev. 1304, 1311, 904 P.2d 1029, 1033 (1995), for 28 example, the court held that there is a “duty not to inject [the prosecutor’s] personal beliefs into argument.” As fully described recently that prosecutors can assert a personal opinion as long as it concerns a proper subject. Williams v. State, 113 Nev. 1008, 1020, 945 P.2d 438, 446 (1997), cert. denied, 119 S.Ct. 82 (1998). The court fails to grasp that it is the assertion of a personal opinion itself that both federal and state courts have long condemned and not just the assertion of a personal opinion on improper matters as the Williams court apparently believes.

1 • U.S. v. Young, 470 U.S. 1, 17 (1985) (holding that it is “improper” for prosecutors to 2 express an opinion about the guilt of the accused).

3 • U.S. v. Leon-Reyes, 177 F.3d 816 (9th Cir. 1999) (calling prosecutor’s comments about his 4 experience of 26 years as a lawyer and his story of his grandfather’s struggles “irrelevant and 5 unnecessary” as well as “objectionable” and an attempt “to vouch for his own credibility and 6 thereby the credibility of the prosecution’s case”).

7 • Young v. Bowersox, 161 F.3d 1159, 1162 (8th Cir. 1998) (comment that crime was 8 “disgusting and it’s as cold as anything I’ve ever seen,” in support of aggravating factor, was 9 “clearly improper” because “[i]t invited the jury to rely on the prosecutor’s personal opinion about
10 the relative coldness of this crime and compared the circumstances of this crime to other crimes
11 that were not in the record”).

12 • U.S. v. Molina, 934 F.2d 1440, 1444-45 (9th Cir. 1991) (“[A] prosecutor may not express 13 his opinion of the defendant’s guilt...”).

14 • Floyd v. Meachum, 907 F.2d 347, 354-55 (2d Cir. 1990) (explaining that prosecutor’s
15 misconduct in requesting that jury consider prosecutor’s own integrity before considering and 16 evaluating the evidence against the defendant was reversible error).

17 • U.S. v. Garza, 608 F.2d 659, 662 (5th Cir. 1979) (reversing conviction and remanding for 18 new trial because prosecutor’s comments that “I don’t want innocent people going to jail” and “if I
19 thought that I had ever framed an innocent man and sent him to the penitentiary, I would quit” 20 were “so clearly improper and so obviously require reversal”).

21 • U.S. v. Morris, 568 F.2d 396, 401 (5th Cir. 1978) (explaining that it is impermissible for 22 prosecutor to state “I believe that the defendant is guilty”).

23 • Kelly v. Stone, 514 F.2d 18, 19 (9th Cir. 1975) (ordering the district court to grant habeas 24 corpus relief where state’s attorney made “highly improper expression of personal opinion” in 25 telling jurors that “[i]f you can’t find the defendant guilty on the facts that I have presented to you,
26 I feel like I just might as well, you know, close up shop and go home...”).

27 • Barron v. State, 105 Nev. 767, 780, 783 P.2d 444, 452 (1989) (“A prosecutor may not offer

3 that" the accused is guilty and "I believe the evidence has shown us that Mr. Santillanes is indeed 4 guilty of this crime").
- 5 • Albitre v. State, 103 Nev. 281, 283, 738 P.2d 1307, 1308 (1987) (condemning prosecutor's

- 9 • McGuire v. State, 100 Nev. 153, 157, 677 P.2d 1060, 1064 (1984) (reversing conviction 10 and remanding for new trial and labeling "highly improper" the state's comment that "I will never 11 want to be accused of trying to send an innocent man to jail. You don't think I got a rape victim 12 out of the street to march here into court and waste your time, do you?").
- 13 • Dearman v. State, 93 Nev. 364, 368, 566 P.2d 407, 409 (1977) (labeling "improper"

21           Opinion About the Evidence Violates the Sixth and Fourteenth
22           Amendments to the United States Constitution And Nevada Law.

23           A prosecutor may not vouch for the credibility of any witness. There are two types of 24 vouching and they are both improper. The Ninth Circuit, in U.S. v. Frederick, 78 F.3d 1370, 1378
25 (9th Cir. 1996), held that a prosecutor can neither personally vouch for the witness by asserting his 26 belief in him nor bolster his testimony by alluding to facts outside the record tending to support the

28 <sup>10</sup> The Nevada Supreme Court has repeatedly condemned the assertion of personal opinions by prosecutors. See, e.g., Dawson v. State, 103 Nev. 76, 79, 734 P.2d 221, 222 (1987) (per curiam), cert. denied, 507 U.S. 921 (1993); Emerson v. State, 98 Nev. 158, 163, 643 P.2d 1212, 1215 (1982); Owens v. State, 96 Nev. 880, 885, 620 P.2d 1236, 1239 (1980).

2 • Young, 470 U.S. 1, 18-19 (1985) ("The prosecutor's vouching for the credibility of
3 witnesses and expressing his personal opinion concerning the guilt of the accused pose two 4 dangers: such comments can convey the impression that evidence not presented to the jury, but 5 known to the prosecutor, supports the charges against the defendant and can thus jeopardize the 6 defendant's right to be tried solely on the basis of the evidence presented to the jury; and the 7 prosecutor's opinion carries with it the imprimatur of the Government and may induce the jury to 8 trust the Government's judgment rather than its own view of the evidence.").

9 • U.S. v. Sanchez, 1999 WL 343734, at *10 (9th Cir. 1999) (holding that prosecutor
10 improperly vouched for government witnesses when commented that "Department of Justice
11 would be put on the line to solicit false testimony just to prove up a case against these two 12 defendants" and "you will have to believe what the two people who have the most to lose here 13 have said happened").

14 • U.S. v. Dispoz-O-Plastics, Inc., 172 F.3d 275, 283-84 (3d Cir. 1999) (reversing conviction
15 because prosecutor improperly vouched for credibility of witnesses by telling jurors that "[t]hey
16 told the Government they fixed prices twice and I can guarantee you the Justice Department
17 doesn't give two for one deals; they had to plead guilty to both price-fixing conspiracies and their 18 sentence reflected that," which court concluded was an attempt "to buttress the credibility of 19 cooperating witnesses by providing extra-record information").

20 • U.S. v. Francis, 170 F.3d 546, 550-51 (6th Cir. 1999) (holding that prosecutor's comments
21 about role she would play in recommending whether witnesses' sentences would be lowered were 22 improper vouching because she "made it clear that her recommendation would depend on whether 23 she personally believed [the witnesses] told the truth. Because this could lead a reasonable juror to 24 infer that the prosecutor had a special ability or extraneous knowledge to assess credibility, the 25 statements were improper").

26 • U.S. v. Garcia-Guizar, 160 F.3d 511, 520-21 (9th Cir. 1998) (calling defendant a "liar" 27 based on state witness' "compelling" testimony constituted improper vouching).

28 • Frederick, 78 F.3d 1370, 1377 (9th Cir. 1996) (holding that prosecutor's reference to the

1 consistency of witness' testimony and earlier statement was improper).

2 • Maurer v. Minn. Dept. Of Corrections, 32 F.3d 1286, 1290 (8th Cir. 1994) (reversing
3 denial of writ and ordering habeas relief where prosecutor improperly bolstered credibility of 4 witnesses by asking witnesses if complainant appeared sincere when she reported rape).

5 • U.S. v. Manning, 23 F.3d 570, 572-75 (1st Cir. 1994) (holding that it was reversible error
6 for prosecutor to comment that government witnesses could not lie on the stand), cert. denied, 117
7 S.Ct. 147 (1996).

8 • U.S. v. Kerr, 981 F.2d 1050, 1053 (9th Cir. 1992) (holding that it was plain error for 9 prosecutor to relay to jurors his opinion about a witness' testimony).

10 • U.S. v. Simtob, 901 F.2d 799, 805 (9th Cir. 1990) (reversing because prosecutor 11 improperly bolstered witness's credibility by offering to grant immunity to witness and urging to 12 tell the truth).

13 • U.S. v. Rodriguez-Estrada, 877 F.2d 153, 158 (1st Cir. 1989) (holding that "prosecutor 14 crossed the line" and "was out of bounds" when assured jurors that the witness was telling the 15 truth).

16 • U.S. v. Shaw, 829 F.2d 714, 717 (9th Cir. 1987) (holding that it was improper for the 17 prosecutor to bolster witness's credibility by remarking to jurors that plea agreement requires 18 truthful testimony because this remark "contains an implication, however muted, that the 19 government has some means of determining whether the witness has carried out his side of the 20 bargain), cert. denied, 485 U.S. 1022 (1988).

21 • U.S. v. West, 680 F.2d 652, 655 (9th Cir. 1982) (reversing and remanding where 22 prosecutor improperly vouched for witness' credibility by saying to jurors, "[i]f you are willing to 23 believe that an officer of this Court and a member of the U.S. Attorney's Office is going to commit 24 perjury...").

25 • U.S. v. Garza, 608 F.2d 659, 663-64 (5th Cir. 1979) (reversing conviction and ordering 26 new trial where prosecutor both offered his opinion about the motives of state witnesses and 27 bolstered their credibility by arguing that they were "professional" and "dedicated" and would not 28 have obtained a job with the Drug Enforcement Administration unless they had integrity).

1 • U.S. v. Morris, 568 F.2d 396, 402 (5th Cir. 1978) (explaining that prosecutor may not say,

8 4. MISSTATING THE FACTS VIOLATES THE DEFENDANT'S
9 CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS.

10 A prosecutor may not misstate or misrepresent the facts. The Ninth Circuit recently
11 explained that the rationale of the rule against misstating the facts is that "[w]hen a lawyer asserts
12 that something in the record is true, he is, in effect testifying. He is telling the jury: 'look, I know
13 a lot more about this case than you, so believe me when I tell you X is a fact.' This is definitely 14 improper." U.S. v. Kojayan, 8 F.3d 1315, 1321 (9th Cir. 1993). See sections II (A) (3), above;

- Mahan v. State, 104 Nev. 13, 16, 752 P.2d 208, 209 (1988) (reversing a conviction where the prosecutor incorrectly stated that the fingerprints at the crime scene matched those of the defendant which contradicted the testimony of a police officer).

- Layton v. State, 91 Nev. 363, 365, 536 P.2d 85, 87 (1975) (holding that it was improper for prosecutor to call defendant's statements admissions when they were not).

5. ALLUDING TO FACTS OUTSIDE THE RECORD VIOLATES THE DEFENDANT'S RIGHT TO A FAIR TRIAL.

In Donnelly, 416 U.S. at 645, the Supreme Court explained "[i]t is totally improper for a prosecutor to argue facts not in evidence..." Such arguments also violate the right to confrontation and cross-examination, in the same way that a prosecutor's expression of personal opinion puts unsworn "testimony" before the jury. See section II (A) (3), above.

1       • Berger, 295 U.S. at 85 ("It is fair to say that the average jury, in a greater or less degree,
2 has confidence that these obligations [of the prosecutor to uphold justice], which so plainly rest
3 upon the prosecuting attorney, will be faithfully observed. Consequently, improper suggestions,
4 insinuations, and, especially, assertions of personal knowledge are apt to carry much weight
5 against the accused when they should properly carry none.").

6       • Agard v. Portuondo, 117 F.3d 696, 711 (2d Cir. 1997) (holding that alluding to facts that
7 are not in evidence is "prejudicial and not at all probative."), cert. granted on other grounds, 119
8 S.Ct. 1248 (1999).

9       • U.S. v. Molina, 934 F.2d 1440, 1446 (9th Cir. 1991) ("The prosecutor's assertions that 12       • Hance v. Zant, 696 F.2d 940, 950-53 (11th Cir. 1983) (holding that it was improper for 13 prosecutor to imply that he knew more evidence of guilt than had been presented, which partly 14 rendered sentencing hearing fundamentally unfair), cert. denied, 463 U.S. 1210 (1983), overruled

16       • U.S. v. Carroll, 678 F.2d 1208, 1210 (5th Cir. 1982) (calling it "wholly improper" to argue,
17 with no evidence on the proposition, that defendant was at scene of crime because he knew more

19       • People v. Adcox, 47 Cal.3d 207, 236, 763 P.2d 906, 919 (Cal. 1988) (reaffirming that 20 "statements of fact not in evidence by the prosecuting attorney in his argument to the jury
21 constitute misconduct.") (quoting People v. Kirkes, 39 Cal.2d 719, 724, 249 P.2d 1 (Cal. 1952)),
22 cert. denied, 494 U.S. 1038 (1990).

25 supporting evidence), cert. denied, 505 U.S. 1224 (1992).

26       • Williams v. State, 103 Nev. 106, 110, 734 P.2d 700, 703 (1987) (per curiam) (holding that 27 it is improper to argue that defendant purchased alibi testimony based on facts outside record).

28       • Downey v. State, 103 Nev. 4, 8, 731 P.2d 350, 353 (1987) (calling it "unprofessional

1 conduct" for prosecutor to suggest that there was evidence he was not permitted to present to the 2 jury).

3 • State v. Cyty, 50 Nev. 256, 256 P. 793, 794 (1927) ("[I]t is an abuse of the high prerogative
4 of a prosecuting attorney in his argument to make statements of facts outside of the evidence or not

18 B. OTHER ARGUMENTS INFRINGING THE DEFENDANT'S RIGHT TO FAIR 19 TRIAL.

20 In addition to enjoying specific constitutional rights, the accused enjoys the right to due

22 deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law..." U.S. Const. amend.
23 XIV, § 1. The Supreme Court has held that prosecutorial misconduct may violate the federal

27 <sup>12</sup> The Nevada Supreme Court has frequently condemned prosecutors for alluding to facts outside the record. See, e.g.,
28 Guy v. State, 108 Nev. 770, 780, 839 P.2d 578, 585 (1992), cert. denied, 507 U.S. 1009 (1993); Sanborn v. State, 107 Nev. 399, 408-09, 812 P.2d 1279, 1286 (1991); Jiminez v. State, 106 Nev. 769, 772, 801 P.2d 1366, 1368 (1990); Collier v. State, 101 Nev.
473, 478, 705 P.2d 1126, 1129 (1985), cert. denied, 486 U.S. 1036 (1988); Ybarra v. State, 103 Nev. 8, 15-16, 731 P.2d 353, 357-
58 (1987).

1 some examples of arguments which violate the right to a fair trial under the due process clause of 2 the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution and Nevada law. In many of these cases, federal 3 courts and the Nevada Supreme Court have granted defendants relief from their convictions and 4 ordered new trials.

5 1. MISSTATING THE LAW VIOLATES THE DEFENDANT'S RIGHT TO A
6 FAIR TRIAL.

7 a. Misstating the Law on the Presumption of Innocence Violates the
8 Constitution and Nevada Law.

9 A prosecutor may not misstate the law on the presumption of innocence. To do so not only 10 violates the due process clause, but also, the prohibition against alluding to facts outside the 11 record. Such comment may also violate the rule against asserting a personal opinion about the 12 guilt of the accused.

13 • Mahorney v. Williams, 917 F.2d 469, 473-74 (10th Cir. 1990) (reversing denial of writ of 14 habeas corpus where prosecutor commented, in violation of Fifth Amendment, that presumption 15 protected only the innocent and that it did not apply in petitioner's case).

16 • Floyd v. Meachum, 907 F.2d 347, 354 (2d Cir. 1990) (reversing denial of habeas relief
17 where prosecutor remarked that the Fifth Amendment is "a protection for the innocent" rather than 18 "a shield" for "the guilty").

19 • Browning v. State, 104 Nev. 269, 272, 757 P.2d 351, 353 n. 1 (1988) (deeming 20 "outrageous" the prosecutor's reference to the presumption as a "farce," stressing that "[t]he 21 fundamental and elemental concept of presuming the defendant innocent until proven guilty is 22 solidly founded in our system of justice and is never a farce").

23 • Nevius v. State, 101 Nev. 238, 248, 699 P.2d 1053, 1059 (1985) (emphasizing that remark 24 by prosecutor that the state has right to have defendant convicted "clearly constituted 25 misconduct.").

26 • SCR 172 (a) (lawyers cannot knowingly "make a false statement of ... law to a tribunal").

27 • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standard 3-5.8 (a) ("The prosecutor should not ...
28 mislead the jury as to the inferences it may draw.").

b. Misstating the Law About What The State Must Show to Establish Guilt Violates the Federal Constitution and Nevada Law.

A prosecutor may not misstate the law on the meaning of guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

- Sullivan v. Louisiana, 508 U.S. 275, 278 (1993) (holding that misstating law on reasonable doubt is so egregious that it is never harmless).

- Cage v. Louisiana, 498 U.S. 39, 41 (1990) (holding that any equation of reasonable doubt with "substantial doubt" or "moral certainty" as well as any other definition that would confuse jurors or lead them to believe that the state's burden is less significant than it is, is unconstitutional), overruled on other grounds by Estelle v. McGuire, 502, U.S. 62, 73 (1991).

- Holmes v. State, 114 Nev. 1357, 972 P.2d 337, 343 (1998) (holding that any misstatement by prosecutors of the standard is reversible error).

- Quillen v. State, 112 Nev. 1369, 1382, 929 P.2d 893, 902 (1996) (holding that it is improper for prosecutors to analogize reasonable doubt with major life decisions since they are different from decision jurors must make in determining guilt of accused).

- Lord v. State, 107 Nev. 28, 35, 806 P.2d 548, 552 (1991) (holding that it is improper to quantify reasonable doubt).

- McCullough v. State, 99 Nev. 72, 75, 657 P.2d 1157, 1159 (1983) ("The concept of reasonable doubt is inherently qualitative. Any attempt to quantify it may impermissibly lower the prosecution's burden of proof, and is likely to confuse rather than clarify.")

c. Misstating the Law on Who Carries The Burden of Proof or Suggesting that the Accused Bears Any Burden of Proof Violates the Constitution and Nevada Law.

A prosecutor may not suggest that the defendant bears a burden of proof.

- U.S. v. Roberts, 119 F.3d 1006, 1011 (1st Cir. 1997) (holding it is reversible error for the prosecutor to tell jurors the defendant must present a compelling case).

- Lisle v. State, 113 Nev. 540, 937 P.2d 473, 481 (1997) (holding that it was "improper" to insinuate that the defendant must explain the absence of witnesses or evidence), cert. denied, 119 S.Ct. 101 (1998).

- Washington v. State, 112 Nev. 1054, 1059-61, 921 P.2d 1253, 1256-58 (1996) (improper to call attention to the defendant's failure to call witnesses or to present evidence because

1 “[p]rosecution comments on the failure to present witnesses or to produce evidence
2 unconstitutionally shift the burden of proof to the defense”) (citations omitted).

3 • Whitney v. State, 112 Nev. 499, 502, 915 P.2d 881, 882-83 (1996) (ordering new trial
4 where prosecutor commented on defendant’s failure to produce evidence or witnesses and 5 explaining that “it is generally improper for a prosecutor to comment on the defense’s failure to 6 produce evidence or call witnesses as such comment impermissibly shifts the burden of proof to 7 the defense”).

8 • Harkness v. State, 107 Nev. 800, 803, 820 P.2d 759, 761 (1991) (reversing and remanding
9 for new trial where prosecutor asked “whose fault is it if we don’t know the facts in this case,”
10 which suggested that the defendant bore burden of proving not guilty).

11 • Barron v. State, 105 Nev. 767, 778, 783 P.2d 444, 451 (1989) (“The tactic of stating that
12 the defendant can produce certain evidence or testify on his or her own behalf is an attempt to shift
13 the burden of proof and is improper. It suggests to the jury that it is the defendant’s burden to 14 produce proof by explaining the absence of witnesses or evidence. This implication is clearly 15 inaccurate.”).<sup>13</sup>

16 • SCR 172 (a).

17 • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standard 3-5.8 (a).

18 d. Misstating the Law on Intent Violates the Federal Constitution and 19 Nevada Law.

20 A prosecutor may not misstate the law on intent.

21 • Francis v. Franklin, 471 U.S. 307, 317 (1985) (holding that jury instruction which shifted 22 burden of persuasion on intent element to the defendant violates Constitution’s Fourteenth 23 Amendment).

24 • Sandstrom v. Montana, 442 U.S. 510, 520 (1979) (ruling that instruction presuming a 25 person intends ordinary consequences of voluntary acts violated due process clause under which 26

27 <sup>13</sup> See also Ross v. State, 106 Nev. 924, 927, 803 P.2d 1104, 1105 (1990) (reversing and remanding for new trial and 28 explaining that it is “outside the boundaries of proper argument to comment on a defendant’s failure to call a witness. This can be viewed as impermissibly shifting the burden of proof to the defense”); Cuzdev v. State, 103 Nev. 575, 578, 747 P.2d 233, 235 (1987); Emerson v. State, 98 Nev. 158, 163, 643 P.2d 1212, 1215 (1982) (explaining that it was “clearly inaccurate” for prosecutor to insinuate that defendant had to explain absence of witnesses or to “come up with something” in reversing and ordering new trial).

1 state must prove each element of offense beyond a reasonable doubt).

- 2 • SCR 173 (a).
- 3 • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standard 3-5.8 (a).

4 2. MISCHARACTERIZING THE EVIDENCE VIOLATES THE 5 DEFENDANT'S RIGHT TO A FAIR TRIAL.

6 A prosecutor may not mischaracterize the evidence. Mischaracterizing the evidence
7 introduces the same kind of unsworn "testimony" before the jury, without cross-examination or 8 confrontation as misstatements of the facts and expressions of personal opinion. See sections II
9 (A) (3, 4), above.

- 10 • U.S. v. Donato, 99 F.3d 426, 432 (D.C. Cir. 1997) ("[I]t is clear that it is error for a 11 prosecutor to mischaracterize evidence...").
- 12 • State v. Cyty, 50 Nev. 256, 259, 256 P.2d 793, 794 (1927) ("Courts have uniformly 13 condemned as improper statements made by a prosecuting attorney, which are not based upon, or 14 which may not fairly be inferred from, the evidence.").
- 15 • SCR 172 (a) (a lawyer "shall not knowingly make a false statement of material fact...").
- 16 • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standard 3-5.8 (a) ("The prosecutor should not 17 intentionally misstate the evidence or mislead the jury as to the inferences it may draw."); see also 18 Standard 3-5.8 (d) ("The prosecutor should refrain from argument which would divert the jury 19 from its duty to decide the case on the evidence.").

20 3. ARGUMENTS ABOUT THE DEFENDANT WHICH VIOLATE THE 21 DEFENDANT'S RIGHT TO A FAIR TRIAL.

22 a. Ridiculing Or Disparaging the Defendant Violates the Federal 23 Constitution and Nevada Law.

24 It is improper for prosecutors to ridicule or disparage the defendant. Indeed, "the 25 prosecutor's obligation to desist from the use of pejorative language and inflammatory rhetoric is 26 every bit as solemn as his obligation to attempt to bring the guilty to account." U.S. v. Rodriguez-
27 Estrada, 877 F.2d 153, 159 (1st Cir. 1989). Such comments not only violate the right to due 28 process of law, but may also violate the rule forbidding prosecutors from asserting a personal opinion and from alluding to facts which are not in the record.

1       • Harris v. People, 888 P.2d 259, 263 (Colo. 1995) (en banc) (the prosecutor bears “the
2 responsibility to refrain from improper methods calculated to produce a wrong conviction as well
3 as to use every legitimate means to bring about a just one. The constitutional basis for this
4 prosecutorial duty is the right to trial by a fair and impartial jury guaranteed by the Sixth
5 Amendment to the United States Constitution...”).

6       • Jones v. State, 113 Nev. 454, 937 P.2d 55, 62 (1997) (“[T]he responsibility of the 7 prosecutor is to avoid the use of language that might deprive a defendant of a fair trial.”).

8       • Earl v. State, 111 Nev. 1304, 904 P.2d 1029, 1033 (1995) (recognizing “duty ... not to 9 ridicule or belittle the defendant or his case”).

10       • Barron v. State, 105 Nev. at 780, 783 P.2d at 452 (same).

11       • SCR 173 (5) (lawyers cannot “[i]n trial, allude to any matter that the lawyer does not 12 reasonably believe is relevant or that will not be supported by admissible evidence.”).

13       • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standard 3-5.6 (b) (“A prosecutor should not
14 knowingly and for the purpose of bringing inadmissible matter to the attention of the judge or jury 15 ... make ... impermissible comments or arguments in the presence of the judge or jury.”); see also 16 Standard 3-5.8 (c) (“The prosecutor should not make argument calculated to appeal to the 17 prejudices of the jury.”); Standard 3-5.8 (d) (“The prosecutor should refrain from argument which 18 would divert the jury from its duty to decide the case on the evidence.”).

19               b.     Calling The Accused An “Animal,” or a Particular Animal, “Monster,” 20                     “Beast,” “Creature,” or a “Devil” Is Improper.

21       It is improper to call the defendant a monster, beast, creature, devil, an “animal” or to 22 describe him as a particular type of animal. Such improper descriptions may also constitute a 23 comment appealing to group prejudice. See section II (B) (4), below.

24       • Darden v. Wainwright, 477 U.S. 168, 180 (1986) (condemning as “improper” the 25 prosecutor’s description of defendant as an “animal”).

26       • Miller v. Lockhart, 65 F.3d 676, 683 (8th Cir. 1995) (calling defendant “mad dog” violated 27 due process).

28       • Volkmor v. U.S., 13 F.2d 594, 595 (6th Cir. 1926) (ordering new trial where prosecutor

1 referred to defendant as "skunk," "onion," "weak-faced weasel," "cheap, scaly, slimy crook").

2 • Cassady v. State, 287 So.2d 254, 257 (Ala. 1973) ("[W]e agree with appellant that the
3 prosecuting attorney should never demean a defendant by unwarranted vituperation, abuse, and 4 appeals to prejudice in order to foster convictions upon accused. It was highly improper to refer to 5 appellant as a demon, even though he may have possessed such evil traits of character.").

6 • Dandridge v. State, 727 S.W.2d 851, 853 (Ark. 1987) (calling defendant "gross animal"
7 improper) (non-capital).

8 • State v. Couture, 482 A.2d 300, 317 (Conn. 1984) (holding that defendants were entitled to 9 new trial where prosecutor, among other things, referred to them as "murderous fiends," "rats," 10 and "creatures" which was improper), cert. denied, 469 U.S. 1192 (1985).

11 • People v. Caballero, 533 N.E.2d 1089, 1097 (Ill. 1989) (holding that description of 12 defendant as "animal" was "improper" and explaining that "[w]here a prosecutor's statements in 13 summation are not relevant to the defendant's guilt or innocence and can only serve to inflame the 14 jury, the statements constitute error") (non-capital).

15 • People v. Williams, 425 N.E.2d 1321, 1324 (Ill. App. 1981) (calling defendants "disgusting 16 animals" and "beasts" "reach[ed] the bounds of propriety" and constituted error) (non-capital).

17 • State v. Blanks, 479 N.W.2d 601, 603 (Iowa 1991) (reversing conviction because 18 prosecutor referred to the movie, "Gorillas in the Mist," in a case of black man accused of 19 assaulting white woman which "can be interpreted by the jury as having racial overtones.
20 Additionally, the comparison of a defendant to gorillas, apes, other animals or other demeaning 21 descriptions by itself may constitute reversible error.") (non-capital).

22 • Sanborn v. Comm., 754 S.W.2d 534, 544 (Ky. 1988) (emphasizing that "[t]here is no place 23 in argument for scurrilous and degrading terminology" in holding that it was improper to 24 characterize defendant as "black dog of the night," "wolf," "monster," and "coyote that roamed 25 the road at night hunting women to use his knife on," and, combined with other forms of 26 misconduct, required new trial) (non-capital).

27 • State v. Wilson, 404 So.2d 968, 971 (La. 1981) (explaining that, where defendants were 28 black and jurors all white, "the repeated references to ... 'animals' as a description of the

1 defendants were obviously intended to appeal to racial prejudice, as they had no relevance to the 2 elements of the crime of murder with which defendants were charged, and did not tend to
3 enlighten the jury as to a relevant fact”).

4 • Walker v. State, 709 A.2d 177, 185 (Md. App. 1998) (holding that prosecutor committed 5 misconduct by calling defendant an animal and emphasizing that “[n]ot only is it inappropriate to 6 refer to a defendant in a criminal case as ‘an animal,’ it may be argued that such a strategy, in 7 some instances, could be counterproductive should the jury view the State as engaging in a
8 personal contest with the defendant. It is incumbent upon the People’s representative to maintain 9 an air of dignity and stay above the fray.”) (non-capital).

10 • Comm. v. Collins, 373 N.E.2d 969, 973 (Mass. 1978) (explaining that it “was clearly an 11 impermissible excess” for prosecutor to use the term “animal,” which jurors might have 12 understood to refer to the defendant).

13 • Jones v. State, 113 Nev. 454, 468-69, 937 P.2d at 62 (calling defendant a “rabid animal” 14 constituted misconduct).

15 • Hilt v. State, 91 Nev. 654, 660, 541 P.2d 645, 649 (1975) (condemning prosecutor’s 16 remarks that “I have got dogs at home I wouldn’t shoot them and leave them out in the parking 17 lot”).

18 • Pacheco v. State, 82 Nev. 172, 178-80, 414 P.2d 100, 103 (1966) (holding that description 19 of defendant as “mad dog” was improper).

20 • State v. Jerrett, 307 S.E.2d 339, 355 (N.C. 1983) (holding that it was improper for 21 prosecutor to state that defendant was a “disciple of Satan” and a “con man”).

22 • People v. Burke, 566 N.Y.S.2d 169, 169 (N.Y. App. Div. 1991) (referring to accused as 23 “predatory animal” in murder case, combined with other misconduct, required reversal of 24 conviction); see also People v. Rivera, 426 N.Y.S.2d 785, 786-87 (N.Y. App. Div. 1980) (holding 25 that, although defendants were conclusively shown to have committed a brutal and singularly 26 senseless murder, convictions had to be reversed because of improper closing argument, during 27 which prosecutor referred to defendants as “wolves of this society” and victim as “sheep” and 28 emphasizing that “prosecutor must speak with special care to insure that the right of a defendant to

1 a fair trial is not destroyed. Such was not here the case. Here, the purple passages were used as a
2 tool to inflame the passions of the jurors to the end that a conviction would be assured.”).

3 • State v. Keenan, 613 N.E.2d 203, 208 (Ohio 1993) (by calling defendant an animal, the 4 “prosecutor’s histrionic approach to this case crossed the line that separates permissible fervor
5 from a denial of a fair trial”) (non-capital).

6 • Comm. v. McGeth, 622 A.2d 940, 944 (Pa. Super 1993) (reversing conviction because 7 prosecutor “exceed[ed] reasonable latitude extended to counsel in arguing their case” when 8 commented that “creeps like this should not be allowed to treat others like this.... We’re dealing 9 with animals...”); see also Comm. v. Lipscomb, 317 A.2d 205, 207 (Pa. 1974) (calling defendants 10 “hoodlums” and “animals” improper and “interjected his personal belief in the guilt of the 11 accused”) (non-capital); Comm. v. Balles, 50 A.2d 729, 731 (Pa. Super. 1947) (reference to 12 “Beasts of Belsen” improper) (non-capital).

13 • State v. Bates, 804 S.W.2d 868, 881 (Tenn. 1991) (“rabid dog” argument “patently 14 improper”) (capital).

15 • State v. Music, 489 P.2d 159, 170 (Wash. 1971) (holding that prosecutor improperly 16 referred to the defendant in closing argument as a “mad dog” in murder trial and stressing that 17 “[w]e do not condemn vigor, only its misuse. When the prosecutor is satisfied on the question of 18 guilt, he should use every legitimate honorable weapon in his arsenal to convict. No prejudicial
19 instrument, however, will be permitted. His zealously should be directed to the introduction of 20 competent evidence. He must seek a verdict free of prejudice and based on reason.”).

21 • Tompkins v. State, 774 S.W.2d 195, 218 (Tex. Crim. App. 1987) (calling defendant 22 “animal” improper).

23 • State v. Brown, 853 P.2d 851, 860 (Utah 1992) (“Referring to a defendant as a “mad dog”
24 is the type of personal invective that reflects a lack of objective detachment a prosecutor should 25 maintain in carrying out prosecutorial responsibilities. It should not be part of the prosecutor’s 26 rhetoric on remand.”) (non-capital).

27 • Rosser v. Comm., 482 S.E.2d 83, 86-7 (Va. App. 1997) (reversing conviction because 28 prosecutor called shackled defendant “in every sense an animal” which “deprived appellant of the

1 'scrupulously fair and impartial trial' to which he was entitled.") (quotation omitted) (non-capital).

2 c. Calling the Defendant Evil, Sadistic, Wicked, Depraved, a Maniac, a 3 Psychopath, a Liar, Scum, Filth, or Dirt Is Improper.

4 It is improper for a prosecutor to call a defendant evil, sadistic, wicked, depraved, a
5 maniac, a psychopath, scum, filth, or dirt. Such comments may represent an impermissible
6 assertion of a personal opinion. See section II (A) (3). Where a defendant is from a minority
7 group, such comments are also racially and ethnically inflammatory. See section II (B) (4), below.

8 • Martin v. Parker, 11 F.3d 613, 616 (6th Cir. 1993) (condemning prosecutor's improper 9 remarks that referred to accused as "dictator," a "disturbed individual," and "one of the most 10 obnoxious witnesses you'll ever hear").

11 • Drew v. Collins, 964 F.2d 411, 419 (5th Cir. 1992) (calling "inflammatory" prosecutor's 12 reference to the defendant as "sadistic killer" and to trip during which murder took place as 13 "rolling torture chamber"), cert. denied, 509 U.S. 925 (1993).

14 • Floyd v. Meachum, 907 F.2d 347, 355 (2d Cir. 1990) (explaining that prosecutor's 15 references to defendant as "liar" were "clearly excessive and inflammatory").

16 • Rodriguez-Estrada, 877 F.2d at 158-9 (emphasizing, in recounting prosecutor's comments
17 that defendant was a "liar," a "crook" and that prosecutor "had the courage" to call the accused 18 these names "that these statements were improper is so clear as not to brook serious discussion ...
19 the prosecutor's obligation to desist from the use of pejorative language and inflammatory rhetoric 20 is every bit as solemn as his obligation to attempt to bring the guilty to account").

21 • U.S. v. Prantil, 764 F.2d 548, 555 (9th Cir. 1985) (holding that prosecutor's description of 22 defendant as "corrupt," "dishonest, sleazy, and greedy" were reversibly prejudicial and represented 23 an assertion of personal knowledge in a testimonial, rather than an argumentative manner).

24 • U.S. v. Weatherless, 734 F.2d 179, 181 (4th Cir. 1984) (holding that it "well beneath the 25 standard which a prosecutor should observe" to call the accused a "sick man" with "problems"),
26 cert. denied, 469 U.S. 1088 (1984).

27 • Patterson v. State, 747 P.2d 535, 537-38 (Alaska 1987) (reversing conviction because, 28 among other errors, prosecutor referred to defendant as "crud").

1 • Biondo v. State, 533 So.2d 910, 911 (Fla. 1988) (holding that prosecutor's reference to the 2 defendant as "slime" was improper).

3 • Green v. State, 427 So.2d 1036, 1038 (Fla. 1983) (reversing conviction after holding that
4 prosecutor improperly referred to defendant as "Dragon Lady, beautiful, cunning, and evil" and 5 emphasizing that "[i]t is improper in the prosecution of persons charged with a crime for the 6 representative of the state to apply offensive epithets to defendants or their witnesses, and to 7 engage in vituperative characterizations of them. There is no reason, under any circumstances, at 8 any time for a prosecuting attorney to be rude to a person on trial; it is a mark of incompetency to 9 do so").

10 • People v. Terrell, 310 N.E.2d 791, 795 (Ill. App. Ct. 1974) (concluding that prosecutor's 11 characterization of defendant in closing argument as a "maniac" exceeded the bounds of 12 propriety).

13 • People v. Nightengale, 523 N.E.2d 136, 141-42 (Ill. 1988) (reversing conviction after 14 holding that state's attorney violated right to fair trial by telling jurors to sweep "scum" like the 15 defendant off of the streets); People v. Hawkins, 410 N.E.2d 309 (Ill. 1980) (holding that it was 16 improper for prosecutor to characterize the defendants as "evil men"); People v. Smothers, 302
17 N.E.2d 324 (Ill. 1973) (prosecutor in murder trial improperly referred to defendant in closing 18 argument as a "sociopath").

19 • Bridgeforth v. State, 498 So.2d 796, 801 (Miss. 1986) (reversing in part because prosecutor
20 characterized the defendant as "scum" that should be removed from the streets and emphasizing 21 that "[t]here is no justification for such an argument to the jury. While an attorney has a right to 22 argue his case a prosecutor should not indulge in personal abuse or vilification of the defendant....
23 The interest of the State of Mississippi is best served by the orderly rational lawful presentation of 24 the facts and the law. That is the way the criminal justice system is designed to operate. Justice is 25 not served by attorneys who use closing argument to express inflammatory personal ideas or 26 engage in personal vilification. The purpose of closing argument is to enlighten the jury, not to 27 enrage it.").

28 • Barron, 105 Nev. at 780, 783 P.2d at 452 (holding that it was improper to comment that "I

1 got some ocean front property for you in Tonopah” if jurors believed defendant’s testimony).

2 • State v. Rodriguez, 31 Nev. 342, 102 P. 863, 864 (1909) (explaining that “we are of the 3 opinion that [calling defendant a “macque”] unduly influenced the jury in arriving at their 4 verdict.”).

5 • Comm. v. MacBride, 587 A.2d 792, 796-97 (Pa. 1991) (holding that prosecutor committed 6 reversible error when he referred to defendant as “nut,” which “insinuates that defendant is a 7 mindless and dangerous individual who had no reason whatsoever for his conduct,” was 8 “stigmatizing” and tantamount to an expression of “personal opinion of defendant’s character -- 9 and, indirectly, defendant’s guilt or propensity to act recklessly”).

10 • Comm. v. Smith, 385 A.2d 1320, 1322 (Pa. 1978) (reversing denial of post-conviction 11 relief where prosecutor told jurors that the defendant was a “vicious” criminal who would “kill for 12 a nickel,” explaining that it is impermissible for prosecutor to assert personal belief as to 13 defendant’s guilt).

14 • State v. Moss, 376 S.E.2d 569, 574 (W. Va. 1988) (trial judge reversibly erred in first-
15 degree murder case by failing to intervene in the prosecutor’s closing argument and correct 16 improper description of the accused as a “psychopath” with a “diseased criminal mind”).

17 d. Comparing the Defendant to Notorious Figures is Improper.

18 It is improper for a prosecutor to compare the defendant to a notorious figure; it is thus 19 impermissible to compare him to terrorists, murderers, movie characters, and so forth. Such 20 comments can also constitute impermissible appeals to racial, ethnic, and other group prejudices.
21 See section II (B) (4), below. They also constitute improper assertions of personal opinion, see 22 section (11)(A)(4), above, and references to facts outside the record, see section II (A)(5).

23 • Young v. Bowersox, 161 F.3d 1159, 1161 (8th Cir. 1998) (calling “improper” prosecutor’s 24 comparison of defendant’s crime to other murders which the court remarked “invited the jury to 25 rely on the prosecutor’s personal opinion about the relative coldness of this crime and compared 26 the circumstances of this crime to other crimes that were not in the record”).

27 • Martin v. Parker, 11 F.3d 613, 616 (6th Cir. 1993) (per curiam) (ordering habeas corpus
28 relief in part because of highly improper comparisons by prosecutor of defendant to Hitler and a

1 dictator).

2 • U.S. v. North, 910 F.2d 843, 895 (D.C. Cir. 1990) (holding that prosecutor's comment that
3 compared defendant's strategy to that of Adolf Hitler was "[u]nquestionably inflammatory"), cert.
4 denied, 500 U.S. 941 (1991).

5 • Newlon v. Armontrout, 885 F.2d 1328, 1341 (8th Cir. 1989) (affirming grant of habeas
6 corpus writ where prosecutor compared the defendant to Charles Manson in violation of the 7 Constitution), cert. denied, 497 U.S. 1038 (1990).

8 • U.S. v. Steinkoetter, 633 F.2d 719, 720-21 (6th Cir. 1980) (holding that the comparison by 9 prosecutor of accused to Pontius Pilate and Judas Iscariot warranted reversal of conviction).

10 • Steele v. U.S., 222 F.2d 628 (5th Cir. 1955) (referring to defendant as "doctor Jekyll and 11 Mr. Hyde" as well as "cunning," "crafty," and "smart," held improper and reversibly prejudicial).

12 • Lee v. Bennett, 927 F. Supp. 97, 104-05 (S.D.N.Y. 1996) (condemning as "completely 13 irrelevant or totally unsupported by the evidence," in granting habeas corpus writ, prosecutor's 14 remark that victim's mental state was similar to that of "our flyers shot down over Iraq and 15 captured"), aff'd, 104 F.3d 349 (1996).

16 • People v. Bedolla, 94 Cal.App.3d 1, 8, 156 Cal.Rptr. 171 (Cal. Ct. App. 1979)
17 (condemning prosecutor's comparison of defendant's actions with those of Hitler's Brown Shirts,
18 Mussolini's loyalists in Italy, and Tojo's in Japan, the Ku Klux Klan, and George Lincoln
19 Rockwell's people).

20 • Harris v. People, 888 P.2d 259, 263 (Colo. 1995) (ordering new trial in spite of failure to 21 object where prosecutor compared defendant to Saddam Hussein soon after President announced
22 military strikes against Iraq).

23 • Mathis v. U.S., 513 A.2d 1344, 1348 (D.C. 1986) (holding that repeated reference to 24 defendant as "the Godfather," had "strong prejudicial overtones," and along with other 25 misconduct, constituted reversible error).

26 • Comm. v. Graziano, 331 N.E.2d 808, 812-13 (Mass. 1975) (holding that repeated 27 references to one or both defendants as "Al Capone," constituted reversible error because "those 28 references were calculated to appeal to prejudice based on national origin, and thus 'to sweep jurors beyond a fair and calm consideration of the evidence”).

- Browning v. State, 104 Nev. 269, 272, 757 P.2d 351, 353 (1988) (admonishing the prosecutor for referring in argument to the horror movie, “Friday the 13th,” which the court explained “served no purpose other than to divert the jury’s attention from its sworn task”).

- Flanagan v. State, 104 Nev. 105, 110, 754 P.2d 836, 839 (1988) (labeling, in ordering a new sentencing hearing, “patently prejudicial” and “serv[ing] to divert the focus of the juror’s attention” the prosecutor’s comments about a murderer who had no connection to the defendant), vacated on other grounds, 504 U.S. 930 (1992).

- Collier v. State, 101 Nev. 473, 477, 705 P.2d 1126, 1129 (1985) (condemning the prosecutor’s references to a notorious inmate), cert. denied, 486 U.S. 1036 (1988).

- Comm. v. Valle, 362 A.2d 1021, 1023 (Pa. 1976) (holding that defendant was entitled to new trial because prosecutor remarked in closing that defendant was “vicious” and was an “Al Capone”).

e. Calling the Defendant a “Professional Criminal” is Improper.

It is improper for a prosecutor to refer to the accused as a “professional criminal.”

- U.S. v. Blakey, 14 F.3d 1557, 1560 (11th Cir. 1994) (ordering new trial because prosecutor committed reversible error by referring to the defendant as “a professional, professional criminal”).

- Hall v. U.S., 419 F.2d 582, 587 (5th Cir. 1969) (reversing conviction after holding that it was misconduct to refer to defendant as “hoodlum,” explaining that “[t]his type of shorthand characterization of an accused, not based on evidence, is especially likely to stick in the minds of the jury and influence its deliberations. Out of the usual welter of grey facts it starkly rises--succinct, pithy, colorful, and expressed in a sharp break with the decorum which the citizen expects from the representative of his government”).

- Cox v. State, 465 So.2d 1215, 1216 (Ala. 1985) (reversing conviction after holding that repeated references to defendant as “bad boy in the community” “constituted a direct attack on the character of the appellant and the remark was highly improper in light of the fact that there had been no attempt by the appellant to present evidence of his good character”).

- Ellis v. State, 254 So.2d 902 (Miss. 1971) (holding that prosecutors cannot refer to 1 defendant as a "professional criminal" where there is no proof in the record to that effect).

2 • State v. Teeter, 65 Nev. 584, 200 P.2d 657, 686 (1948) (holding that it was improper to 3 refer to defendant as a "hoodlum").

6 f. Suggesting that the Defendant Poses a Threat to Society or to 7 Individual Jurors is Improper.

8 A prosecutor may not tell jurors that the person on trial is a threat to society in general or to 9 jurors in particular. Such comments can also be racially inflammatory. An academic study reports
10 that 57.9% of the jurors he questioned were more likely to vote for death if they thought that the 11 defendant might present a danger to society. Stephen P. Garvey, Aggravation and Mitigation in 12 Capital Cases: What do Jurors Think?, 98 Colum. L. Rev. 1538, 1559 (1998). Since jurors will 13 likely be influenced by a prosecutor's improper suggestion that the defendant will pose a future
14 threat unless he is found guilty and executed, this Court must prevent the prosecutor from making 15 such comments. See section II (B) (4), below.

16 • Darden, 477 U.S. at 180 (condemning as "improper" comment that "implied that the death 17 penalty would be the only guarantee against a future similar act").

18 • Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands v. Mendiola, 976 F.2d 475, 486 (9th Cir.
19 1992) (reversing conviction because prosecutor's remark that if jurors acquitted him, he would 20 follow them out of the courtroom and retrieve the gun, denied him his right to a fair and impartial 21 jury), overruled on other grounds by George v. Camacho, 119 F.3d 1393 (9th Cir. 1997).

22 • Rodriguez v. Peters, 63 F.3d 546, 566 (7th Cir. 1995) (condemning as "inflammatory" and 23 "improper" the prosecutor's remark that the defendant would "scurr[y] off into the night to do it 24 again").

25 • Tucker v. Kemp, 762 F.2d 1496, 1508 (11th Cir. 1985) (holding that prosecutor made
26 improper comment emphasizing to jurors the importance of their decision and that they were last 27 line of defense since it implied that they were the only ones who could stop him from killing 28 again).

1 • Kelly v. Stone, 514 F.2d 18, 19 (9th Cir. 1975) (ordering habeas relief because of
2 prosecutorial misconduct, including “[h]ighly inflammatory and wholly impermissible appeal to
3 racial prejudice” in which prosecutor told jurors that “maybe the next time it won’t be a little black
4 girl from the other side of the tracks; maybe it will be somebody that you know. And maybe the
5 next time he’ll use the knife”).

6 • Russell v. State, 233 So.2d 154, 155 (Fla. App. 1970) (reversing and remanding after 7 finding that the district attorney’s comment that if the defendant was not convicted there would be 8 “people getting stabbed all over” the region was highly prejudicial and required a new trial).

9 • Jones v. State, 113 Nev. 454, 468, 937 P.2d 55, 64 (1997) (calling “clearly inflammatory”
10 and stating that “we admonish the prosecutor for suggesting that Jones’ violent tendencies could be 11 visited upon individual jurors”).

12 • McGuire v. State, 100 Nev. 153, 156, 677 P.2d 1060, 1063 (1984) (reversing and 13 remanding for new trial where prosecutor suggested to jurors that if they acquitted him, he would 14 rape again, saying, “these comments [were] exceedingly improper in and of themselves”).

15 • Cosey v. State, 93 Nev. 352, 354, 566 P.2d 83, 85 (1977) (condemning as “improper” 16 comment that “[i]f you cut [the defendant] loose, you are going to be cutting loose a person who is 17 going to be out there to rob you or I.”).

18 • Lime v. State, 479 P.2d 608, 609 (Okl. Crim. 1971) (holding that it was reversible error for 19 prosecutor to tell jurors that if they did not convict “there will be somebody else’s relative that will 20 be killed by these two men within I will say, a year or two”).

21 • SCR 173 (5).

23 g. Referring to the Defendant’s Gang Involvement Violates The U.S.
24 Constitution and Nevada Law.

25 A prosecutor may not refer to a person’s gang involvement when gang involvement is not 26 relevant to the proof of the charged offense. Such comments both violate the rule against referring 27 to facts outside the record and can be racially or ethnically inflammatory. See section II (B) (4), 28 below.

1 • U.S. v. Williams, 496 F.2d 378, 384 (1st Cir. 1974) (prosecutor's comment that he did not
2 know the names of "characters of the underworld" was "utterly unacceptable" and "inconsistent
3 with 'the dignity of the government' and cannot be permitted") (quotation omitted).

4 • McGuire v. State, 100 Nev. 153, 156, 677 P.2d 1060, 1063 (1984) (reversing the 5 conviction where the prosecutor called the defendant an "Aryan warrior," since "[t]hese comments
6 were completely irrelevant to the issues in this case, and could only have impermissibly served to 7 inflame the emotions of the jury, therefore clearly constituting misconduct on the prosecutor's 8 part").

9 • People v. Billingsley, 425 N.Y.S.2d 139, 141 (N.Y. App. Div. 1980) (holding that new trial
10 was required where prosecutor commented that during the defendant's confession, "[t]hey had big 11 bright lights shining on his face. Just like we see in the movies with all the gangsters," which the 12 court deemed an extremely prejudicial use of the gangster idiom).

13 • SCR 173 (5).

14 • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standards 3-5.8 (c), 3-5.8 (d).

15 h. Referring to Prior Convictions Violates the U.S. Constitution and 16 Nevada Law.

17 A prosecutor may not refer to the defendant's prior convictions which are not in evidence
18 or suggest in any way to the jury that the defendant has a criminal record.

19 • Stewart v. Duckworth, 93 F.3d 262, 267 (7th Cir. 1996) (holding that it was improper to 20 refer to past convictions).

21 • U.S. v. LeQuire, 943 F.2d 1554, 1571 (11th Cir. 1991) (holding that prosecutor's elicitation 22 of testimony about defendant's prior convictions was reversible error), cert. denied, 505 U.S. 1223
23 (1992).

24 • Witherow v. State, 104 Nev. 721, 723, 765 P.2d 1153, 1154 (1988) (reversing the 25 conviction because of the prosecutor's references to the defendant's relationship with inmates
26 while he was in prison and to his filing a habeas petition, explaining that "[r]eference to prior 27 criminal history is reversible error.").

28 • McGuire v. State, 100 Nev. 153, 156, 677 P.2d 1060, 1063 (1984) (explaining that the

1 prosecutor's remarks about defendant's felony convictions were a "highly improper use of 2 character evidence.").

- 3 • SCR 173 (5).
- 4 • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standards 3-5.8 (c); 3-5.8 (d).

5 4. ARGUMENTS BASED ON GROUP PREJUDICE VIOLATE THE UNITED 6 STATES CONSTITUTION AND NEVADA LAW.

7 "A prosecutor may not make an appeal to the jury that is directed to passion or prejudice
8 rather than to reason and to an understanding of the law." Cunningham v. Zant, 928 F.2d 1006, 9 1019 (11th Cir. 1991). Such comments not only violate the right to due process of law, but also, as 10 the federal court explained in Lee v. Bennett, 927 F. Supp. 97, 101 (S.D.N.Y. 1996), aff'd, 104
11 F.3d 349 (1996), "[d]eliberate injection of extrinsic or prejudicial matter which has no relevance to 12 the case and no basis in the evidence is not an appropriate element of a prosecutor's summation
13 because it impinges on the jury's function for determining guilt or innocence." The American Bar 14 Association has similarly condemned such arguments, providing in one of its standards that "[t]he 15 prosecutor should not make arguments calculated to appeal to the prejudices of the jury," and 16 elaborating:

17 Remarks calculated to evoke bias or prejudice should never be made
18 in a court by anyone, especially the prosecutor. Where the jury's 19 predisposition against some particular segment of society is 20 exploited to stigmatize the accused or the accused's witnesses, such argument clearly trespasses the bounds of reasonable inference or fair comment on the evidence.

21 American Bar Association Standards for Criminal Justice, Standard 3-5.8. The National District
22 Attorneys Association also states that it is impermissible for prosecutors to make "prejudicial or 23 inflammatory argument..." National Prosecution Standards, Rule 6.5 (g) (5). Such comments may 24 also violate the rule against singling out jurors. See section II (B) (10) (d), below.

25 Arguments explicitly or implicitly urging the jury to make a finding of guilt, or to impose 26 punishment, based on group bias violate the defendant's right to equal protection of the laws under 27 the State and Federal Constitutions. U.S. Const. amend. XIV; Nev. Const. Art. 4 § 21.

28 a. Comments, Whether Explicit or Veiled, About Race Violate the U.S.
Constitution and Nevada Law.

1 A prosecutor may not make a comment which appeals to the racial prejudices jurors may 2 hold. A recent study about the reactions of jurors to certain factors highlights the need for 3 prosecutors to refrain from, and for courts to prevent, improper comments about race. Jurors take 4 into account the race of an accused in deciding at sentencing whether aggravating factors, like
5 future dangerousness, exist. Stephen P. Garvey, Aggravation and Mitigation in Capital Cases:
6 What do Jurors Think?, 98 Colum. L. Rev. 1538, 1560 (1998). When prosecutors make comments
7 appealing to racial prejudice, they evoke or reinforce any racial prejudice jurors may hold and 8 confirm in their minds that race is a proper consideration at a capital trial. Comments referring to 9 race, whether explicit or veiled, thus compromise the accused's right to a fair trial and to equal 10 protection of the laws.

11 • U.S. v. Richardson, 161 F.3d 728, 735 (D.C. Cir. 1998) (reversing the conviction where 12 prosecutor attempted to rebut defense of misidentification by stating to predominantly black jurors
13 "we don't all look alike, ladies and gentlemen," which court held was attempt to appeal to racial 14 prejudices of jurors).

15 • U.S. v. Cannon, 88 F.3d 1495, 1502-03 (8th Cir. 1996) (holding that it was reversible error
16 for prosecutor to refer to black people as "bad people" and to comment on fact that defendants 17 were not from region).

18 • U.S. v. Doe, 903 F.2d 16, 25 (D.C. Cir. 1990) (racial bias appeal in prosecutor's closing 19 argument constitutes reversible error).

20 • Kelly v. Stone, 514 F.2d 18, 19 (9th Cir. 1975) (ordering habeas relief because of 21 prosecutorial misconduct, including "[h]ighly inflammatory and wholly impermissible appeal to
22 racial prejudice" in which prosecutor told jurors that "maybe the next time it won't be a little black
23 girl from the other side of the tracks; maybe it will be somebody that you know. And maybe the 24 next time he'll use the knife").

25 • State v. Blanks, 479 N.W.2d 601, 605 (Iowa 1992) (holding that reference to movie, 26 "Gorillas in the Mist," in case of black man was racially prejudicial and emphasizing that 27 "[r]egardless of the prosecutor's good faith intentions and what he claims to be an innocent
28 remark, there is the prejudicial possibility that from the jury's standpoint an attempt was made to

1 compare the behavior of the defendant with that of apes and gorillas”).

2 • State v. Wilson, 404 So.2d 968, 971 (La. 1981) (explaining that, where defendants were
3 black and jurors all white, “the repeated references to ... ‘animals’ as a description of the 4 defendants were obviously intended to appeal to racial prejudice, as they had no relevance to the
5 elements of the crime of murder with which defendants were charged, and did not tend to
6 enlighten the jury as to a relevant fact”).

7 • Dawson v. State, 103 Nev. 76, 80, 734 P.2d 221 (1987) (per curiam) (emphasizing that, in 8 recounting prosecutor’s comment to jurors that the defendant, a Black man, had a “preference for 9 white women” and a “relationship” with them, “we unhesitantly declare such conduct to be 10 prejudicially improper even if there were some logic to it and even if, as claimed, no racial bias 11 was intended to be elicited by the remarks”), cert. denied, 507 U.S. 921 (1993).

17 prejudices of the jury.”).

18 b. Comments Appealing to Gender Bias Violate the United States
19 Constitution and Nevada Law.

20 A prosecutor may not appeal to gender bias in argument.

21 • Lee v. Bennett, 927 F. Supp. 97, 104-05 (S.D.N.Y. 1996) (prosecutor improperly appealed 22 to gender bias by commenting that defense witness’s testimony helped explain “why so many 23 rapes go unreported in this country” and was “completely insensitive” because the term
24 “insensitive” is “a current buzz word used on TV talk shows and soap operas to describe masculine 25 reactions to complaints by women. This statement itself was an appeal to gender bias among the 26 jurors.”), aff’d, 104 F.3d 349 (1996).

27 • SCR 173(5).

28 • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standards 3-5.8 (d), 3-5.8 (c).

c. Comments Appealing to Class Bias Violate the United States Constitution and Nevada Law.

A prosecutor may not appeal to class bias.

- U.S. v. Socony-Vacuum Oil Co., 310 U.S. 150, 239 (1940) (“[A]ppeals to class prejudice are highly improper and cannot be condoned and trial courts should ever be alert to prevent them.”).
- Sizemore v. Fletcher, 921 F.2d 667, 670-72 (6th Cir. 1990) (explaining that “appeals to class prejudice must not be tolerated in the courtroom” in holding that prosecutor committed reversible error where referred to the accused’s “money,” “multitude of attorneys,” and made the statement that the defendant “would rather kill” two people than increase their salaries).
- SCR 173 (5).
- ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standards 3-5.8 (d); 3-5.8 (c).

d. Comments About Region Violate the Federal Constitution and Nevada Law.

A prosecutor may not appeal to regional prejudice.

- U.S. v. Cannon, 88 F.3d 1495, 1502 (8th Cir. 1996) (reversing conviction after holding that it was improper for prosecutor to point out to jurors that defendants were not locals).
- Miranda v. State, 101 Nev. 562, 569, 707 P.2d 1121, 1126 (1985) (condemning the prosecutor’s comment about the accused’s Cuban nationality and his mode of entry into the U.S.), cert. denied, 475 U.S. 1031 (1986).
- SCR 173(5).
- ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standards 3-5.8 (d); 3-5.8 (c).

e. Comments About Religion Violate the Federal Constitution and Nevada Law.

A prosecutor may not appeal to religious authority in support of an argument. Such comment also constitutes an impermissible reference to facts outside the record.

- Cunningham v. Zant, 928 F.2d 1006, 1020 (11th Cir. 1991) (affirming grant of habeas corpus writ and condemning prosecutor’s “outrageous” appeals to religious beliefs and statement

1 that "How do you know that if you let him go this time it won't be done again? You know, Judas
2 Iscariot was a good person, the most trusted of them all and you all know what he did.").

3 • Cobb v. Wainwright, 609 F.2d 754, 756 n.2 (5th Cir. 1980) (calling "clearly objectionable"
4 prosecutor's references to the Bible to support his proposition that there was no reason to show the 5 defendant mercy).

6 • People v. Wrest, 3 Cal.4th 1088, 1091, 839 P.2d 1020 (Cal. 1992) (holding that it was 7 "improper" for prosecutor to refer to the bible for support), cert. denied, 510 U.S. 848 (1993).

8 • People v. Poggi, 45 Cal.3d 306, 340, 753 P.2d 1082 (Cal. 1988) (calling "inappropriate"
9 prosecutors' statement that a higher authority would judge the defendant, that victim would testify
10 against him, and that the defendant would suffer eternal damnation and hell).

11 f. Comments About Beliefs Protected by the First Amendment Violate the 12 Federal Constitution and Nevada Law.

13 Arguments stigmatizing the defendant on the basis of beliefs protected by the First 14 Amendment, or membership in unpopular organizations, when those facts are not relevant to 15 issues presented at trial, are improper.

16 • Dawson v. Delaware, 503 U.S. 159, 166-167 (1992) (impermissible to admit evidence of 17 defendant's membership in Aryan Brotherhood prison gang at sentencing, where not relevant to 18 issues presented and defendant's abstract beliefs protected by First Amendment and not admissible 19 to show "character").

20 • Keyeshian v. Board of Regents, 385 U.S. 580, 606 (1967) ("[M]ere knowing membership
21 without a specific intent to further the unlawful aims of [Communist Party]" not adequate basis for 22 exclusion from university employment).

23 • Schware v. Board of Bar Examiners, 353 U.S. 232, (1957) (previous membership in 24 Communist Party not basis for denying admission to bar where no connection to requirement of 25 "good moral character").

26 5. RIDICULING OR DENIGRATING THE DEFENSE THEORY VIOLATES
27 THE CONSTITUTION AND NEVADA LAW.

28 A prosecutor may not ridicule the defense theory.

• U.S. v. Sanchez, 1999 WL 343734, at *11 (9th Cir. 1999) (holding that the prosecutor

1 "committed misconduct in ... denigrating the defense as a sham" and reversing the conviction).

2 • Earl v. State, 111 Nev. 1304, 904 P.2d 1029 (reversing the conviction where the
3 prosecuting attorney called the defendant's testimony "malarkey," explaining that "[t]his remark
4 by the prosecutor violated his duty ... not to ridicule or belittle the defendant or the case").

5 • Barron v. State, 105 Nev. 767, 780, 783 P.2d 444, 452 (1989) (recognizing a duty not to 6 ridicule the defense theory and condemning prosecutor for telling jurors that the defense "tried to 7 hustle you" and that if "you accept what Barbara Barron and Carol Tomlinson told you, I got some 8 ocean front property for you in Tonopah").

9 • Pickworth v. State, 95 Nev. 547, 550, 598 P.2d 626, 629 (1979) (holding that prosecutor's 10 comment, referring to defense theory as "red herring," was improper).

11 6. ARGUMENTS ABOUT WITNESSES WHICH VIOLATE THE 12 CONSTITUTION AND NEVADA LAW.

13 a. Disparaging, Complimenting, or Ridiculing Defense's Expert Witness
14 Violates the Federal Constitution And Nevada Law.

15 A prosecutor may not disparage or ridicule an expert witness. As the Nevada Supreme 16 Court has explained:

17 The District Attorney may argue the evidence and inferences before 18 the jury. He may not heap verbal abuse on a witness nor 19 characterize a witness as a perjurer or a fraud.... Such 20 characterizations transform the prosecutor into an unsworn witness
21 on the issue of the witnesses [sic] credibility and are clearly
22 improper.

23 Yates v. State, 103 Nev. 200, 204-05, 734 P.2d 1252, 1255 (1987) (citations omitted).

24 • People v. McGreen, 107 Cal.App.3d 504, 514-19, 166 Cal.Rptr. 360 (Cal. Ct. App. 1980)
25 (explaining that "character and professional assassination is misconduct" in holding that it was 26 improper for prosecutor to suggest that defense expert was habitual liar, the subject of an ethics
27 investigation, and prostituted his expertise for $50 per hour), overruled on other grounds by People
28 v. Wolcott, 665 P.2d 520, 34 Cal.3d 92 (1983).

• Albitre v. State, 103 Nev. 281, 283, 738 P.2d 1307, 1308 (1987) (admonishing prosecutor for disparaging defense's expert as one who "goes to the highest bidder.").

• Yates, 103 Nev. at 204, 734 P.2d at 1255 (condemning prosecutor's statement that expert

1 had "crawl[ed] up on the witness stand" and that testimony was "melarky" [sic] "an outright
2 fraud," and that he had violated his "oath to God").

3 • Aesoph v. State, 102 Nev. 316, 323, 721 P.2d 379, 383 (1986) (holding that it was 4 improper for prosecutor to compliment expert witness by saying, "you will see the definition of an
5 expert. That was [expert witness] and that was his job here and he did it in my opinion very 6 well...").

7 • Sipsas v. State, 102 Nev. 119, 125, 716 P.2d 231, 234 (1986) (reversing and remanding for 8 new trial in spite of failure to object in part because of prosecutorial misconduct, including 9 disparaging and ridiculing defense expert by calling him "[t]he hired gun from Hot Tub Country.
10 Have stethoscope, will travel.").

11 • National Prosecution Standards, Rule 6.5 (f) (prosecutors "should treat witnesses fairly and 12 with due consideration .... should take no action in taking testimony of a witness to abuse, insult,
13 or degrade the witness. Examination of a witness's credibility should be limited to accepted
14 impeachment procedures"); see also Rule 77. 1 (providing that "[t]he examination of all witnesses 15 should be conducted fairly, objectively, and with due regard for the reasonable privacy of 16 witnesses").

17 • ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, Standard 3-5.7 (a) ("The interrogation of all witnesses
18 should be conducted fairly, objectively, and with due regard for the dignity ... of the witness, and 19 without seeking to intimidate or humiliate the witness unnecessarily.").

20 b. Calling Lay Witness a "Liar" Violates The Constitution And Nevada
21 Law.

22 A prosecutor may not call a lay witness a "liar." Such comment is also an assertion of a
23 personal opinion, see section II (A) (3), and of a fact outside the record, see section II (A) (5).

24 • Ross v. State, 106 Nev. 924, 927, 803 P.2d 1104, 1105 (1990) ("[P]revious decisions of 25 this court clearly state that it is improper argument for counsel to characterize a witness as a liar.").

26 • Witherow v. State, 104 Nev. 721, 724, 765 P.2d 1153, 1155 (1988) (reversing and 27 remanding, in part because prosecutor improperly stated that witness was lying).

REXENE WORRELL

called as a witness on behalf of the State,
having been first duly sworn,
was examined and testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION

BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

Q By whom are you employed?

A The Clark County Coroner's Office.

Q In what capacity?

A As a medical examiner.

Q And how long have you been so employed?

A Just under two years.

Q And have you testified as an expert in the field of forensic pathology here in Clark County?

A Yes, I have.

MR. SCHWARTZ: Your Honor, I believe Mr. Brooks would stipulate to Dr. Worrell's expertise in the field of forensic pathology for the purposes of this preliminary hearing.

MR. BROOKS: That's correct, Your Honor.

THE COURT: That will be noted.

MR. SCHWARTZ: Thank you.

BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

Q Doctor, directing your attention to May the 28th, 2003, did you have occasion to perform an autopsy on an individual by

Page 3 of 50

Las Vegas, Nevada, Wednesday, June 25, 2003, 10:00 a.m.

* * * * *

THE COURT: At this time, we will call Glenford Budd, who is present, in custody, 03F09137X. He is present with Mr. Brooks. The defense is ready to proceed.

And we have -- excuse me -- Miss Pandukht for the State and Mr. Schwartz for the State.

And just for the record, we've had four witnesses testify, 1 through 3, all State's exhibits, are in evidence.

And the State's next witness.

MR. SCHWARTZ: Dr. Worrell.

THE COURT: And, Dr. Worrell, please come up to the chair on my right and we will have you sworn in.

(Witness sworn.)

THE CLERK: You can be seated.

And if you would state your first and last name and spell them both for the record, please.

THE WITNESS: My name is Rexene Worrell; R-e-x-e-n-e, W-o-r-r-e-l-l.

THE CLERK: Thank you.

the name of Jason Moore?

A Yes, I did.

Q And during the course of the autopsy on Mr. Moore, did you perform an external examination on the body?

A Yes, I did.

Q And what were the significant findings from that examination?

A The significant findings were that this was a 19 year old male that had been shot three times in the back.

Q In connection with that autopsy, did you perform an internal examination on Jason Moore?

A Yes, I did.

Q And what were the significant findings from your internal examination?

A The significant findings consisted of the wounds and injuries associated with the -- the three gunshot wounds; and there was no other significant medical problems.

Q Okay. Now, based upon the autopsy you performed, as well as your expertise in the field of forensic pathology, do you have an opinion as to Jason Moore's cause of death?

A Yes.

Q And what is your opinion on that?

A He died of multiple gunshot wounds.

Q Let me direct your attention again to that same date of May the 28th, 2003.

Page 8 of 50

1 Did you perform a second autopsy that day?

2 A Yes, I did.

3 Q And was that autopsy on an individual by the name of

4 DaJon Jones?

5 A Yes, sir.

6 Q Okay. During the course of the examination of DaJon

7 Jones, did you perform an external examination on his body?

8 A Yes, I did.

9 Q And what were the significant findings from that

10 examination?

12 side of the neck.

13 Q In your opinion, were both or either of those two 14 gunshot wounds fatal?

15 A Yes, sir.

16 Q Both or --

17 A Oh, I'm sorry.

18 One of the wounds of the neck entered his head and that

19 was a fatal wound. The second wound did damage some significant

20 vessels; however, with treatment, those could have been

21 survivable.

22 Q Based upon your examination, your external examination,

23 were you able to tell whether or not those two gunshot wounds

24 were at close range?

25 A Yes, they were.

1 the body of Derrick Jones?

2 A Yes, I did.

3 Q And what were your significant findings from your

4 internal examination?

5 A The significant findings were the injuries that I found

6 associated with the seven gunshot wounds; and there were no other

7 significant findings.

8 Q And based upon the autopsy on Derrick Jones, do you have

9 an opinion as to his cause of death?

10 A Yes, I do.

11 Q What is that opinion, Doctor?

12 A Derrick Jones died of multiple gunshot wounds.

13 MR. SCHWARTZ: Thank you.

14 I would pass the witness, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: Cross.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

18 BY MR. BROOKS:

19 Q Dr. Worrell, you did the autopsies yourself?

20 A Correct.

21 Q Did someone assist you?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Who assisted you?

24 A Let me -- I'm having trouble reading my writing. I

25 believe it was the tech Danny. It's either Darrell or Danny that

1 Q Okay. And based -- during the examination of DaJon

2 Jones, did you perform an internal examination?

3 A Yes, I did.

4 Q And what were your findings from the internal

5 examination?

6 A The internal examination, I found the injuries

7 associated with the two gunshot wounds and no other significant

8 findings.

9 Q Based upon the autopsy you performed on DaJon Jones,

10 what is your opinion regarding his cause of death?

11 A He died of multiple gunshot wounds.

12 Q And on that same day of May the 28th, 2003, did you

13 perform yet a third autopsy?

14 A Yes, I did.

15 Q And was that on an individual identified to you as 16 Derrick Jones?

17 A Yes.

18 A Yes, sir.

19 Q During the course of Derrick Jones' autopsy, did you

20 perform an external examination on his body?

21 A Yes, I did.

22 Q And could you relate to the Court the significant

23 findings from that examination.

24 A Derrick was shot seven times.

25 Q Okay. Did you also perform an internal examination on

1 day. I'd have to check my records at the office.

2 Q What were Darrell's and Danny's last name?

3 A It's Darrell Cannar and Dan Price, I believe.

4 Q Price?

5 A Price.

6 Q Now, did you do these three autopsies one after another?

7 A Yes, I did.

8 Q How long does it take to do an autopsy for one body?

9 A That's real variable. Derrick Jones took several hours;

10 I believe four or five hours on that case.

11 I can look at the times and tell you pretty specific. I

12 did Jason Moore at 8:30.

13 Q 8:30 a.m.?

14 A Correct.

15 I did Mr. Jones at 11:30.

16 Q Is that DaJon Jones --

17 A Correct.

18 Q -- or Derrick Jones.

19 DaJon Jones.

20 A So Eric Moore took three hours.

21 Q Eric Moore?

22 MR. SCHWARTZ: We're getting the names mixed up here.

23 THE WITNESS: Oh. Okay.

24 THE COURT: Yeah. I have Jason Moore and Derrick Jones.

25 THE WITNESS: Right. Jason Eric Moore was the first

Page 10 of 50

1 case I did that day. I began the autopsy at 8:30.
 2 BY MR. BROOKS:
 3 Q Okay.
 4 A I finished it at 11:30; at which time, I began DaJon
 5 Jones at 11:30. I finished him at 1:30, at which time I began,
 6 at 1:30, the autopsy on Derrick Morgan Jones and I believe I
 7 finished him around five o'clock.
 8 Q Was anyone else present besides yourself and either
 9 Darrell Cannar or Danny Pace -- or Price?
 10 A The Las Vegas Metropolitan homicide detectives are 11 always present during the autopsies, as well as their crime scene
 12 analysts are doing their things in the next room associated with 13 these cases.
 14 Q Were there two detectives with you during the entire 15 autopsies, during all the autopsies?
 16 A I don't recall.
 17 Q Do they come and go during the autopsies?
 18 A I would not remember. I was focusing on my work.
 19 Q Let's go -- let's go first to the autopsy of Jason
 20 Moore.
 21 You have described he was shot three times in the back,
 22 correct?
 23 A Correct, yes, sir.
 24 Q Are there any exit wounds?
 25 A Yes. The gunshot wound on the back of the head, the

1 first one in my report labeled number one, was a through and
 2 through gunshot wound, so it was associated with an exit wound,
 3 as well as the second gunshot wound I described to the neck,
 4 there was an exit wound.
 5 Q Okay. I'm sorry. You got a shot to the neck here as
 6 well?
 7 A Well, he was shot three times.
 8 Q Okay.
 9 A Once in the back of the head --
 10 Q Okay.
 11 A -- which exited the body.
 12 Q Okay.
 13 A A through and through wound is what we call it.
 14 He was shot in the right neck. That exited the body.
 15 And then he was shot in the right shoulder and that 16 bullet remained in his body.
 17 Q Could you describe the trajectory of the -- of where he
 18 was shot in the right neck?
 19 A I will need to refer to my report for that.
 20 Q Yes, go right ahead, please.
 21 A The wound course was front to back, right to left and 22 downward.
 23 Q Okay. I apologize. Did I misstate that?
 24 He was shot at -- this first wound is in the back and 25 exits out the right neck; is that correct?

Page 12 of 50

1 A No. The entrance wound is on the right side of the 2 neck.
 3 Q And it's the back side of the neck, not the front,
 4 correct?
 5 A No, it's the front. The back of the right neck to me is 6 behind the midline -- you know, the side. It's to the front of 7 the right neck.
 8 Q Okay. That's the entrance?
 9 A Correct.
 10 Q And exits out the back of the neck?
 11 A No. It exits out the back of the chest. This wound
 12 entered his right neck, crossed the midline in a downward
 13 pattern, entered the left chest cavity and exited his back.
 14 Q Okay.
 15 A So it was front to back, right to left and downward.
 16 Q Okay. Was that particular wound a survivable wound?
 17 A Again, I'll refer to what it -- the structures damaged
 18 in the path. This was a lethal wound.
 19 Q And why was it a lethal wound?
 20 A It transected the trachea and the apex, which is the 21 upper part of the left lobe of the lung. So his airway was 22 transected, no air in, and there was a lot of blood dumping into 23 that from the lung.
 24 Q Describe the next wound that you examined of these 25 three.

1 A We didn't discuss the one that I labeled as number one.
 2 Q Okay. Let's talk about number one.
 3 A Okay. Number one wound entered the back of the head.
 4 Q Where on the back of the head?
 5 A On the left back of the head.
 6 Q The trajectory?
 7 A Back to front, left to right and upwards.
 8 Q Where did it exit, if it exited?
 9 A It did exit the left top of the head through the frontal
 10 bone.
 11 Q You describe a bullet as number two.
 12 Is that the one we've already talked about or not?
 13 A The wound that I labeled as number two in my report is 14 the one to the right neck that we discussed.
 15 Q Okay. Let's talk about number three then.
 16 What happened on number three?
 17 A Number three entered the back of the right shoulder,
 18 passed behind the shoulder joint, went into the body, passing
 19 through the -- the vertebral column and transected his spinal
 20 cord.
 21 Q Did that wound exit out -- did that bullet exit out?
 22 A Yes, that -- no, I'm sorry. That one, I recovered the 23 bullet within the musculature of the left neck or within the 24 muscles of the left neck.
 25 Q Was that a survivable wound?

1 A I did not note in my report exactly the location where
2 the cord was transected, so it may have been survivable; however,
3 he would have been paralyzed. But it also could have been fatal.
4 I didn't note that.

5 Q Did you do a toxicology report on Jason Moore?
6 A Yes, I did.
7 Q What were the results of that?
8 A His toxicology was negative, except for marijuana.
9 Q And how much marijuana was in the -- was this from the 10 eyes or the blood or the urine?
11 A Let's see what they tested.
12 This was in a blood screen and it's a qualitative test,
13 not a quantitative.
14 Q What does that mean exactly?
15 A It's there, but we don't measure how much.
16 Q Do you have the ability to measure how much?
17 A I believe the lab can do that. We normally don't 18 measure marijuana.
19 Q So, basically, you can say that marijuana was there, but 20 you don't know how much?
21 A Correct.
22 Q Okay. Was there any stippling on the body of Mr. Jason
23 Moore?
24 A No.
25 Q None at all?

Page 15 of 50

1 A No.
2 Q Was there any -- did you have a chance to examine the 3 clothes at all?
4 A No. The crime scene analyst for the Las Vegas police
5 department recovered his clothes.
6 Q And you are not aware of whether there was any powder on 7 the clothing at all?
8 A No.
9 Q Was there anything else on this body that indicated to 10 you anything regarding distance in terms of the gunshots?
11 A Regarding distance, they weren't contact range wounds
12 and they weren't close, so --
13 Q When you say they're not contact wounds, what exactly
14 are you saying there?
15 A The gun was not put right up to the body and pressed
16 against the skin. The gun was not within 18 to 24 inches,
17 because I had no stippling on the body.
18 However, you've mentioned the the clothing. So 19 examination of the body tells me that the gunshot wounds were 20 greater than 24 inches.
21 Q Is there anything, in terms of the exit wounds, that 22 suggests to you whether the person was up against a surface?
23 A No.
24 Q Let's go on to Mr. Da'Jon Jones.
25 You've testified that he was shot two times in the left

1 neck; is that correct?
2 A Correct.
3 Q Did you -- did you label those with a number, each of 4 those wounds?
5 A Yes, I did.
6 Q What would those numbers be, one and two?
7 A One and two, correct.
8 Q Okay. Could you describe number one, please.
9 A Number one was a lethal wound into the left neck that 10 transected the spinal cord at the level it just exits the head.
11 The wound then passed upward into his brain, caused significant 12 damage to the cerebellum, which is the back part of the brain, as 13 well as the cerebrum.
14 Q I'm sorry. Could you describe the trajectory on that.
15 A This one was left to right, front to back and upward.
16 Q And the bullet in this case remained lodged in the 17 brain?
18 A No, it did not.
19 Q There is an exit wound?
20 A Yes.
21 Q Where is that exit wound, please?
22 A The exit wound is on the right top of the head.
23 Q Can you describe wound number two.
24 A Wound number two was also in the left side of the neck,
25 very close to wound number one. This was also a through and

1 through gunshot wound.
2 There was an exit wound. This wound -- this bullet
3 passed through the internal/external jugular veins, which are 4 large veins -- oh, I'm sorry -- yes, the internal/external
5 jugular veins and then exited the body. That was the only
6 structures that it -- significant structures that it went 7 through.
8 Q What is the trajectory of this bullet?
9 A Left to right, front to back directly.
10 Q Okay. And up or down?
11 A Direct -- there was no --
12 Q Just level?
13 A -- discernible up or down; just straight through.
14 Q Again, was there any stippling on this body?
15 A Yes, there was.
16 Q Can you describe the stippling?
17 A The stippling -- the wounds were very close together, so
18 how I described the stippling was I measured from the center
19 point between the two wounds and measured every direction of the 20 stippling. It went as far as 4.5 inches inferiorly and 3.7
21 inches upward, 3.5 towards the midline and 1.9 inches laterally.
22 So it formed a fairly large pattern around the wound --
23 wounds.
24 Q Now, based on your experience and training, can you
25 estimate how far away the gun was that fired that -- those two

1 bullets?

2 A Less than 24 inches.

3 Q But this is not a contact wound, is it?

4 A No.

5 Q In fact, by having the wider pattern, it would suggest

6 that it was at least some distance away, somewhere between zero

7 and 24 inches?

8 A Correct.

9 Q Okay. Did you do a toxicology report on DaJon Jones?

10 A Yes, I did.

11 Q What were the results of that?

12 A His results are negative, except for the presence of 13 marijuana.

14 Q And, again, you are not able to tell how much marijuana?

15 A No.

16 Q Let's go to Mr. Derrick Jones.

17 You described seven entry gunshot wounds; is that

18 correct?

19 A Correct.

20 Q And I'm assuming that you labeled those with numbers?

21 A Yes, I did.

22 Q One through seven?

23 A Correct.

24 Q Let's talk about wound number one.

25 A Wound number one entered his head on the left forehead.

1 It exited just to the left of that and a portion of that bullet

2 fragment transversed down the side of his face and exited the

3 front of his face. So there were actually two exit wounds

4 associated with this gunshot wound.

5 Q Can you describe the trajectory of this bullet that

6 entered the head?

7 A Right to left and downward.

8 Q And, essentially, are we saying that the bullet, once it

9 entered the head, split in two?

10 A Correct. It came at such an angle to the body that it

11 actually caused a continuous entrance and exit wound within the 12 bone of the skull. There is no separation between the two.

13 And we can tell that by, certainly, characteristics be

14 the wound of the bone. With that bone involvement, it caused

15 a -- a fragment of that bullet to separate off and transverse

16 down.

17 I recovered a fragment from that -- from that bullet at

18 a different location on his face; and I could tell that by

19 tracking the wound of hemorrhage to see that it came from that 20 same entrance.

21 Q Describe wound number two, please.

22 A Wound number two entered the right side of the head,

23 just in front of the ear -- excuse me -- wound number one was a

24 face wound.

25 Wound number ten -- two entered just the right side of

Page 20 of 50

1 the ear, crossed the midline, heading downward, and I recovered a

2 bullet in the soft tissues of the chest.

3 Q Was that a fatal wound?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Can you describe wound number three, please.

6 A Number three was a through and through gunshot wound of 7 his left ear.

8 Q Where on the left ear did it enter?

9 A I can't point -- the external ear, the front of the ear,

10 the lower portion; and exited the back of the ear. This was not

11 a fatal wound.

12 Q I'm assuming there was no discernible trajectory for 13 such a small wound?

14 A It was front to back directly.

15 Q Just front to back; not up or down?

16 A No.

17 Q Okay. Can you describe wound number four, please.

18 A Number four was a graze wound on the left shoulder.

19 Q Where on the left shoulder?

20 A I would have to refer to the pictures. I didn't measure

21 it.

22 Q Okay. You say graze. It doesn't even enter the body,

23 correct?

24 A Well, it takes off the surface of the skin and the --

25 but it was just barely grazed the -- the skin. I mean, that,

1 technically, is entering.

2 Q Okay. Can you describe wound number five.

3 A Wound number five was to the right upper back. That

4 wound came at such an angle that it went just under the skin,

5 into the fat, transversed along the fat and exited the body --

6 I'm trying to think right or left -- on the right back as well.

7 Q Can you describe the trajectory on that?

8 A This one is right to left and downward.

9 Q Can you describe wound number six, please.

10 A Number six was a through and through gunshot wound of 11 the right hand.

12 Q Where on the right hand?

13 A It entered the back of the right hand at the base of the 14 first finger; and it exited the front of the right hand at the 15 base of the thumb.

16 Q Would you characterize this as a defensive wound?

17 A Could you be more specific?

18 Q If you can't, that's fine.

19 I mean, sometimes coroners will say that wounds are 20 defensive wounds. If you -- if you don't believe that or you

21 don't have an opinion on that, that's fine.

22 A There were some interesting characteristics about this

23 wound. There was stippling with the wound, meaning that it was

24 within 24 inches, but the entrance wound was on the -- the back

25 of the hand.

1 I would like to see that on the front if I was blocking,
 2 you know, but that would be speculation.
 3 Q I understand.
 4 So how much stippling was there on the hand itself?
 5 A It extended 0.6 inches medially and laterally 1.2
 6 inches, so not -- not very large compared to what we saw in the 7 other case; however, the hand is a small area.
 8 Q Now, would this suggest to you that the gun was 9 closer -- from a zero to 24 inch range, would that suggest the 10 gun is possibly closer to the zero than it is to the 24, based on 11 the small amount -- small distance of spread of the stippling?
 12 A That would have to be up to ballistics. I couldn't 13 answer that question.
 14 Q Okay. Was that, what, number six or seven?
 15 A That was number six.
 16 Q How about number seven?
 17 A That was a gunshot wound to the back of the left arm.
 18 It was a through and through gunshot wound.
 19 Q Can you describe the trajectory on that?
 20 A No, I cannot. This wound -- I made a comment in my 21 report that examination of these wounds, I could not determine,
 22 with a reasonable degree of medical certainty, which was the 23 entrance and which was the exit. So I could not come up with any 24 type of trajectory.
 25 Q You talked about stippling on number six.

1 Was there stippling on number seven?
 2 A No, there was not.
 3 Q Was there stippling on number five?
 4 A No. The only wound with stippling was the one to the 5 hand.
 6 Q Okay. Was there a toxicology report on Mr. Derrick
 7 Jones?
 8 A Yes, there was.
 9 Q What were the results of that?
 10 A His toxicology was negative, except for the presence of 11 marijuana.
 12 Q And, again, you are not able to say how much marijuana?
 13 A No, sir.
 14 Q And does this toxicology report cover alcohol?
 15 A Yes, it does.
 16 MR. BROOKS: I will pass the witness.
 17 THE COURT: Redirect.
 18 MR. SCHWARTZ: No redirect, Your Honor.
 19 Thank you.
 20 THE COURT: And, Doctor, thank you for testifying.
 21 Please don't discuss your testimony with anybody until the end of 22 the preliminary hearing.
 23 And you are free to go.
 24 THE WITNESS: Thank you.
 25 THE COURT: You are welcome.

Page 24 of 50

1 State's next witness.
 2 MS. PANDUKHT: The State calls Celeste Palau.
 3 THE COURT: Come up this way, please.
 4 (Witness sworn.)
 5 THE CLERK: State your first and last name and spell
 6 them both for the record, please.
 7 THE WITNESS: Celeste Palau; C-e-l-e-s-t-e, P-a-l-a-u.
 8 THE CLERK: Thank you.

CELESTE PALAU

11 called as a witness on behalf of the State,
 12 having been first duly sworn,
 13 was examined and testified as follows:
 14

DIRECT EXAMINATION

15 BY MS. PANDUKHT:
 16 Q Do you know a person by the name of A.I.?
 17 A Yes.
 18 Q Is A.I. in the courtroom today?
 19 A Yes.
 20 Q Could you point to him -- could you point to him and 21 tell me something he's wearing today.
 22 A He is in blue.
 23 Q I'm sorry?
 24 A In blue.
 25

1 Q In blue.
 2 Is he seated at defense table, directly in front of you?
 3 A Yes.
 4 Q Okay. I'm just going to ask if you could keep your 5 voice up and speak into the microphone. Everything that you say
 6 is going to be transcribed and we need to get it on record.
 7 MS. PANDUKHT: Your Honor, may the record reflect that
 8 the witness has identified the defendant Glenford Budd.
 9 THE COURT: That will be noted.
 10 BY MS. PANDUKHT:
 11 Q How do you know the defendant?
 12 A Just by living in the apartments and him knowing some of 13 the people I know.
 14 Q What apartments do you live at, the address?
 15 A 2895 East Charleston Boulevard.
 16 Q Is that the Saratoga Palms Apartments?
 17 A Yes.
 18 Q Do you know A.I. lives in those apartments?
 19 A Yes.
 20 Q Where does he live or who does he live with?
 21 A I have known that he stayed with a family member.
 22 Q Okay. Now, Saratoga Palms Apartments has how many 23 floors in general in the buildings?
 24 A Two.
 25 Q Do you live on the first or second floor?

1 A Second.
 2 Q I'd like to ask you about an apartment that is located
 3 across from yours.
 4 Are you familiar with who lives in Apartment Number
 5 2068?
 6 A Yes.
 7 Q Who lives in that apartment?
 8 A I have known for the boys to live there and their mom.
 9 Q Do you know any of their names?
 10 A No.
 11 Q Okay. Now, the boys that you have talked about, how did
 12 you know them?
 13 A By other people knowing them and seeing them around.
 14 Q So would you characterize yourself as a close friend of 15 those boys?
 16 A No.
 17 Q Acquaintances of the boys?
 18 A Just walking around, passed by each other, something
 19 like that.
 20 Q Okay. Now, I'd like to ask you when -- the date of May 21 26th, a couple weeks ago, around Memorial Day, May 26th, 2003, do
 22 you remember what you were doing late that evening?
 23 A I was outside, as usual; every day thing.
 24 Q When you are talking about outside, what are you talking 25 about specifically?

1 A Down my steps, around my car area, like that.
 2 Q Now, before midnight on May 26th, 2003, were you on your
 3 patio at all?
 4 A Yes.
 5 Q About what time were you on your patio when something
 6 unusual occurred?
 7 A About five minutes.
 8 Q Do you know what time that was at night?
 9 A I thought it was around maybe 10:45, but I'm not for 10 sure.
 11 Q Were you on your patio with anyone else?
 12 A Yes, my friend.
 13 Q Now, on your patio, somewhere around 10:45 at night, or 14 whatever that you can remember, did you have any lights
 15 illuminating your patio?
 16 A No.
 17 Q Are lights normally there?
 18 A Yeah, but people keep busting them out, so it's dark in 19 my area.
 20 Q So on this night, on the night of May 26th, was your 21 light broken?
 22 A Yes.
 23 Q How light or dark was your patio?
 24 A Dark, because my patio light didn't work either.
 25 Q Now, normally, what kind of light illuminates your

1 patio?
 2 A Either my patio light or the big bright one in the 3 middle of the two top apartments.
 4 Q Okay. Could you describe this big bright light, where 5 it's located?
 6 A It's in between the two bedrooms, the master bedrooms.
 7 Q Is it on every building?
 8 A Yes.
 9 Q So above Apartment Number 2068 where the three boys
 10 lived, was there a big light on that building?
 11 A Yes.
 12 Q On the night that I've asked about, May 26th, was that 13 light working?
 14 A Uh-huh.
 15 Q How far above the apartment was that light?
 16 A It's right by the -- the main bedroom. It's in between 17 the two, so it's -- it's right in between.
 18 Q How lit up did the stairs, door and patio of Apartment
 19 2068 look?
 20 A It was bright on the steps; and then it kind of glares
 21 onto the patio.
 22 Q Now, how well could you see what was taking place, if 23 anything, by the front door and by the patio?
 24 A I could see.
 25 Q Do you wear glasses?

Page 29 of 50

1 A No.
 2 Q Now, where were you sitting on your patio, in terms of
 3 being able to look at the front of Apartment 2068?
 4 A My chair was facing directly towards that direction.
 5 Q About 10:45 that night, or the time that you remember,
 6 did something unusual take place on May 26th, 2003?
 7 A Yes.
 8 Q What happened?
 9 A It sounded like fireworks. I thought somebody was just 10 messing with fireworks and I looked--
 11 Q How many noises did you hear?
 12 A It was quite a lot.
 13 Q Could you estimate how many?
 14 A To me, when I heard it, it was about seven or eight
 15 times, but I don't know for sure.
 16 Q How many times did you hear the noise before you tried 17 to look to see where it was coming from?
 18 A As soon as I heard it.
 19 Q How many had you heard when you first started looking?
 20 A I heard about -- on the sixth time that I heard it, I
 21 started looking.
 22 Q Where did you look?
 23 A First, I looked across the street in the Charleston
 24 Village, because I thought something was going on over there; but 25 then something made me look the other way.

Page 30 of 50

1 Q And what way was that?

2 A Towards the direction of Apartment 2068.

3 Q What did you see?

4 A When I looked over there, I saw the door open up and I

5 saw a female and the younger -- the other boy starting to run

6 down the steps.

7 And I thought they were just messing around, you know.

8 They had balloon fights and stuff, you know, a daily thing, so I

9 thought they were just playing around.

10 So I was like, oh, you know, they were just playing

11 around, maybe they were doing fireworks, because a little bit of 12 smoke looked like was in the apartment when the door opened up.

13 Q Okay.

14 A So I said: Oh, definitely they're doing fireworks, you

15 know. They were playing around. But then it all changed when 16 the other person came out.

17 Q Who came out?

18 A The defendant.

19 Q Where did he come out from, did you see?

20 A The front door.

21 Q What did he do?

22 A I didn't see anybody on the patio, so I thought the 23 other two were just -- were just running off and playing, but

24 they got away.

25 I didn't see nobody on the patio, but then he started

Page 31 of 50

1 shooting the gun.

2 Q How did you know it was a gun?

3 A I heard it and then the -- the second time it went off,

4 I saw him pointing it. And then I realized that somebody was on

5 that patio and had been shot; and I didn't think nothing of it

6 and I was like: Oh, I can't believe this.

7 After the third shot on the patio, he left and went down

8 the steps, like an every day thing, just walked down and just 9 leave.

10 I waited a few minutes and I told my friend I need to go

11 over there, because I don't -- I don't know what's going on. I

12 need to go over there.

13 By then, the boys from downstairs were going up there to 14 see who -- I mean, who was it, any of them alive. And I wanted

15 to go up there to see, you know, can any of us do anything to 16 hold them off until people came to help them.

17 But they wouldn't let me up there because, by then, it

18 wasn't, I guess, good for me to go up there and see what was 19 going on up there.

20 Q I'd like to ask you a couple more questions, if I could,

21 back a little bit about what you said.

22 I asked you how you knew it was a gun and you said that

23 you heard it.

24 Could you describe what it looked like?

25 A From the view, it just looked like a small, regular gun,

Page 32 of 50

1 like a pistol or something. But I don't know my guns, so I can't

2 say what type of gun it was.

3 Q Could you tell what color it was?

4 A No.

5 (Whereupon, a sotto voce at this time.)

6 BY MS. PANDURHT:

7 Q Now, you said that you couldn't see anybody on the floor

8 of the patio.

9 Is there a wall on the patio?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And what is that wall made of? Can you see through it?

12 A No.

13 Q Is it made of --

14 A Like concrete, I guess. I don't know.

15 Q So it's a wall that you can't see through; there is no

16 bars or anything?

17 A All you could see is the -- the bars on the steps and

18 the front entry of the door, but you can't see nothing on the

19 patio unless somebody was standing up on the patio, which I

20 didn't see.

21 Q And you described A.I. as holding the gun and pointing

22 at somebody -- or something down on the patio.

23 A Yes.

24 Q Could you describe a little bit more specifically

25 exactly how the defendant was holding that gun and how he was

1 pointing it?

2 A He was pointing it as if -- whoever was on the patio, he

3 was following that person as if he was trying to get away,

4 because he went -- he was moving from angles.

5 Q What direction was the defendant moving from?

6 A When you step out the door, that was the first shot.

7 The second shot was more going towards the corner. The third

8 shot was by the -- the storage area.

9 Q Where would the storage area be in relation to the wall?

10 A It was in the corner of the patio, where the door is at.

11 You have the heater or something like that.

12 Q So that would be the end of the patio there by the 13 storage area?

14 A Yeah.

15 Q Did you ever see anyone, other than the defendant, come

16 out onto that patio?

17 A No.

18 Q At the time the defendant comes out onto the patio,

19 where was the female and the male you had seen running down the 20 stairs? Were they still around?

21 A No.

22 Q Do you know who the male was?

23 A It's their brother.

24 Q One of the people that lives there?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. Do you know who the female was?
 2 A Yes.
 3 Q Who is she?
 4 A Christy.
 5 Q Does she have a relationship to the defendant?
 6 A From what I have heard, yeah.
 7 Q Could you describe what she looks like?
 8 A She -- when I saw her last, she had braids in her hair,
 9 had some little shorts on and a T-shirt and walked around.
 10 Q Could you describe what A.I. looked like on May 26th,
 11 2003?
 12 A He had braids in his hair.
 13 Q How long was his hair?
 14 A I don't know for sure, but it was a good length,
 15 probably shoulder length or a little shorter.
 16 Q Did he have any hair on his face?
 17 A That I don't -- I didn't -- you know, know him that 18 well, but -- I had seen him around, but, at that time, he had 19 little facial hair.
 20 Q Could you tell what the defendant was wearing this 21 night?
 22 A I remember like a basketball jersey; and I don't know if 23 the shorts were blue or black, because it's at night.
 24 Q What color was the basketball jersey, could you tell?
 25 A It was like red and white.

1 Q Could you tell if there was any writing on it?
 2 A No.
 3 Q Do you know what A.I. stands for?
 4 A They said Alan Iverson.
 5 (Whereupon, a sotto voce at this time.)
 6 MS. PANDUKOFF: I'll pass the witness.
 7 THE COURT: Cross.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

10 BY MR. BROOKS:
 11 Q Ma'am, how old are you, please.
 12 A Twenty-three.
 13 Q Do you have children?
 14 A Yes, I do.
 15 Q How many children do you have?
 16 A Two girls.
 17 Q How long have you lived at Saratoga Apartments?
 18 A A year and a half.
 19 Q And do you recall the month you moved in there?
 20 A January of 2002.
 21 Q Do you still live there now?
 22 A No, I don't.
 23 Q You've moved out since the shooting?
 24 A Yes.
 25 Q You say that you knew A.I. ?

1 How long had you known him?
 2 A I got to know him when I had a roommate.
 3 Q Who was your roommate?
 4 A His name was Seven.
 5 Q Seven?
 6 A He used to live with me. Yes.
 7 Q Seven lived with you?
 8 A Yes.
 9 Q What was Seven's real name?
 10 A I don't know his real name.
 11 Q How long did Seven live with you?
 12 A For about two months.
 13 Q And Seven was a friend of A.I.'s?
 14 A I don't know how they met, but, yeah.
 15 Q They hung out together?
 16 A I seen them a couple times; he's came to my house and 17 asked for him.
 18 Q Would -- would A.I. hang out at your house with Seven?
 19 A No.
 20 Q But he would hang out with Seven?
 21 A Yeah. He's came to our door and I guess asked Seven for 22 a ride to take him somewhere and then they'd leave. But he's 23 never hung out at my house.
 24 Q When did Seven move out of your apartment?
 25 A The first week of April.

1 Q Since April, when Seven moved out of your apartment, has
 2 A.I. been inside of your apartment?
 3 A No.
 4 Q Have you hung out with with him at all since -- since
 5 April?
 6 A No.
 7 Q Have you yourself ever hung out with A.I.?
 8 A No.
 9 Q You'd never had a conversation with him?
 10 A No.
 11 Q You just knew who he was?
 12 A Uh-huh.
 13 Q And you knew he was a friend of your former boyfriend?
 14 A No, he wasn't my boyfriend. He was just my roommate.
 15 Q He was your roommate.
 16 So you were not involved in a romantic relationship with 17 Seven?
 18 A No.
 19 Q Is the apartment in your name?
 20 A Yes.
 21 Q How many bedrooms were there?
 22 A Two bedrooms.
 23 Q Did you only have one roommate typically?
 24 A Yes.
 25 Q One roommate, plus your children, perhaps?

Page 38 of 50

1 A Yes.
 2 Q Did you have a roommate as of May 26th?
 3 A No.
 4 Q You've testified that you knew the boys in the apartment
 5 across the way who were shot.
 6 Did you know them by name?
 7 A I knew them by name because they knew my other friend.
 8 Q Who is your other friend?
 9 A I'm not going to say her name.
 10 Q I'm sorry?
 11 A I'm not going to say her name.
 12 MR. BROOKS: Judge, I'd ask that she be instructed to 13 say the name.
 14 THE COURT: Why would you not want to say the name?
 15 THE WITNESS: I don't want to bring the name out.
 16 THE COURT: Well, you are going to have to answer the 17 question, because it has nothing to do with her being a witness
 18 in the case. It's how you know the victims' names.
 19 What is her name?
 20 THE WITNESS: Eliana.
 21 BY MR. BROOKS:
 22 Q How do you spell that?
 23 A E-l-i-a-n-a.
 24 Q And her last name, please?
 25 A I don't know her last name.

1 Q And she was living in your apartment as of May 26th?
 2 A No. She lives in the apartments.
 3 Q She was living in the apartments?
 4 A She lived in the apartments.
 5 Q Okay. Did she --
 6 A Not mine.
 7 Q She didn't live in your apartment?
 8 A No.
 9 Q Was she -- she was with you when you were outside --
 10 outside watching May 26th?
 11 A No.
 12 Q She was not.
 13 But she is how you knew the three fellows?
 14 A That's how I got to know about Day Day and Derrick. I
 15 don't know nothing about Jason.
 16 Q Okay. Do you know Day Day's real name?
 17 A No, I don't.
 18 Q You just knew him as Day Day and you knew Derrick as 19 Derrick?
 20 A Right.
 21 Q Did you know their last names?
 22 A No.
 23 Q Did you know Jason Moore?
 24 A No, I didn't.
 25 Q Did you know the mother of these three gentlemen -- I'm

Page 40 of 50

1 sorry -- the lady that was living with them?
 2 A I've talked to her once.
 3 Q What was her name?
 4 A I don't know her name.
 5 Q Have you ever been inside their apartment?
 6 A No.
 7 Q So you've never hung out with her? They're 8 acquaintances, correct?
 9 A Just by walking around the apartments and me checking my 10 mail and their playing basketball, stuff like that.
 11 Q On May 26th, this is roughly 10:45 at night, correct?
 12 A Yes.
 13 Q Your kids were in your apartment perhaps?
 14 A Sleeping.
 15 Q And you are sitting outside on the stairs.
 16 A On the patio.
 17 Q You are with someone?
 18 A Yes.
 19 Q Who were you with?
 20 A My friend Michele.
 21 Q I'm sorry?
 22 A My friend Michele.
 23 Q What is her last name?
 24 A Rodriguez.
 25 Q Did she live in the apartment complex with you?

Page 41 of 50

1 A No.
 2 Q She was just a friend visiting you?
 3 A Yes.
 4 Q How long had you all been hanging out that day?
 5 A She came maybe an hour and a half before.
 6 Q Had you been having anything to drink?
 7 A No.
 8 Q Anything to smoke?
 9 A No.
 10 Q No drugs?
 11 A No.
 12 Q Your -- your apartment is a second story apartment?
 13 A Yes.
 14 Q You are sitting out on your patio and you are in clear
 15 view of the apartment across the way?
 16 A Yes.
 17 Q Is that the apartment across the way where the shooting
 18 occurs?
 19 A Yes.
 20 Q How many feet, if you know, between their apartment and 21 your apartment?
 22 A I don't know. It's a distance, but it's in plain view.
 23 Q You are sitting in the dark, correct?
 24 A Yes.
 25 Q The apartment across the way, can you see inside the

1 apartment?
 2 A No.
 3 Q Are their curtains drawn?
 4 A No, they're blinds.
 5 Q They're blinds.
 6 But you cannot see inside that apartment?
 7 A No.
 8 Q The first hint you have of something going on is that
 9 you hear the sound you describe as fire crackers.
 10 A Correct.
 11 Q And you describe it as seven or eight sounds, correct?
 12 A Right.
 13 Q They sound like pops?
 14 A Yes.
 15 Q Okay. Is it fair to say that you hear the seven or 16 eight pops roughly all at once?
 17 A No, but they're one after another.
 18 Q They're one after another. They're not all at once.
 19 A No.
 20 Q So there are intervals in between the bullets?
 21 A No. They just kept going.
 22 Q They just kept going.
 23 I'm just going to say this, but I'm just trying to find
 24 out how long it lasted. Just bear with me here.
 25 I'm first going to go pop, pop, pop, pop, pop, pop, pop;

1 and then I'm going to go -- a second time, I'm going to go pop,
 2 pop, pop, pop, pop, pop.
 3 Now, those two things have different times.
 4 Which is it closer to?
 5 A More toward the second one.
 6 Q Is it fair then to say that the second pops I described,
 7 which I think was roughly 10 to 15 seconds, is that roughly the 8 time that the first pops lasted?
 9 A I mean, I couldn't fix that for sure, but most likely,
 10 yes.
 11 THE COURT: And for the record, the second example of 12 pop sounds had more of a delay between each one.
 13 MR. BROOKS: Correct.
 14 And, Judge, would it be fair to say it was roughly 10 to 15 15 seconds, the total?
 16 THE COURT: I wasn't timing it.
 17 MR. SCHWARTZ: I'd say about ten.
 18 MR. BROOKS: About ten seconds.
 19 And that's the prosecutor speaking.
 20 BY MR. BROOKS:
 21 Q You hear this sound and this attracts your attention.
 22 Do you stand up?
 23 A Yes.
 24 Q And you are looking around?
 25 A I first looked to my left across the street to the other

Page 44 of 50

1 apartments across the street.
 2 Q If you looked at that apartment across the way, you
 3 can't see anything at that moment, can you?
 4 A No.
 5 Q So you can't see what happens on those first shots?
 6 A No.
 7 Q Your friend is sitting there beside you?
 8 A No. She's near my satellite, facing the opposite
 9 direction. We were sitting across from each other.
 10 Q So you are facing that apartment across the way; she is 11 not.
 12 A Right.
 13 Q But she's obviously in a position to hear these shots?
 14 A Yes.
 15 Q You stand up when you hear the shots?
 16 A Yes.
 17 Q You are looking around?
 18 A Yes.
 19 Q Is she standing up and looking around also?
 20 A She's sitting there stuck.
 21 Q I'm sorry?
 22 A She was just stuck. She didn't move.
 23 Q She didn't move.
 24 Q Now, the first thing you see is -- after the pops, you
 25 see two people come out of that apartment, correct?

Page 45 of 50

1 A Yes.
 2 Q And that was the girl and the guy?
 3 A Yes.
 4 Q And the girl, I think, it's Christy?
 5 A Yes.
 6 Q Do you know her last name?
 7 A No, I don't.
 8 Q Did she hang around that apartment complex?
 9 A Yes.
 10 Q Did she live there, that you know of?
 11 A In the complex?
 12 Q Yes.
 13 A Never.
 14 Q She was the girlfriend of A.I., perhaps?
 15 A Yes.
 16 Q Do you know the apartments she lived in?
 17 A No, I don't.
 18 Q They get out -- they run away, correct?
 19 A They're running down the steps.
 20 Q Okay. Then you see somebody come out of the apartment;
 21 is that right?
 22 A Yes.
 23 Q And the person coming out is A.I.?
 24 A Yes.
 25 Q You heard no more gunshots from that first of seven or

Page 46 of 50

1 eight until he comes out of the apartment?
 2 A Right.
 3 Q Now, he comes out of the apartment.
 4 Is he coming out the same way he would leave or is he 5 coming out on a patio where he could not leave from?
 6 A He stepped out the door and looked on the patio.
 7 Q I'm sorry. Just help me here: Is the patio something
 8 where you go out on and you had to go back in the apartment from 9 the patio or you could go out where you could leave from it?
 10 A The front door and the patio are connected, so when you
 11 step out the front door, the patio is right there.
 12 Q And this patio is on your side of the apartment?
 13 A Yes.
 14 Q Is there somebody out there on the patio?
 15 A I didn't see anybody.
 16 Q So you see him come out and then you see him go out on 17 the patio?
 18 A He stood right where he was at and that's when he fired
 19 the first shot.
 20 Q Where is he fighting towards?
 21 A Towards like down on the patio.
 22 Q Okay. But you don't see anybody on the patio?
 23 A No.
 24 Q How many times did you see him fire on the patio?
 25 A He shot three times.

1 Q Three times.
 2 Did you ever see exactly what he was shooting on the
 3 patio?
 4 A After everything happened, when we found out that there
 5 was a body on the patio.
 6 Q And there is only one body out there, correct?
 7 A Yes.
 8 Q And there were two or three shots there?
 9 A Yes.
 10 Q Were there -- after the shooting on the patio there, do
 11 you see him shoot anybody -- shooting any more after that?
 12 A No.
 13 Q Do you hear any more shots?
 14 A No.
 15 Q Do you hear any shots between that first seven or eight
 16 and that shooting on the patio?
 17 A I can't say I did. It happened very fast.
 18 Q After the shooting on the patio, does he leave?
 19 A Yes.
 20 MR. SCHWARTZ: When you say he, Your Honor, I'm assuming 21 he's talking about the defendant?
 22 MR. BROOKS: That's correct. I'm talking about the 23 person who was the shooter.
 24 THE COURT: Was that your understanding?
 25 THE WITNESS: Yes.

1 MR. BROOKS: Court's indulgence, please.
 2 BY MR. BROOKS:
 3 Q Now, your friend that is sitting there with you, does
 4 she not ever turn around and watch this?
 5 A No.
 6 Q She never turns around?
 7 A She looked with me, but then she went in the house.
 8 Q Do you know where she is now?
 9 MS. PANDUKHT: Objection.
 10 MR. BROOKS: Judge, I'd like to talk to her. I'd like
 11 to know where she's at. If she knows, she knows.
 12 THE COURT: I will overrule it.
 13 Do you know where she's at?
 14 THE WITNESS: I don't know exactly where to get her at.
 15 BY MR. BROOKS:
 16 Q One other question: When you're sitting there on the 17 patio, is there a light on there illuminating the patio?
 18 A The light that's in the middle of the apartments.
 19 MR. BROOKS: I'll pass the witness.
 20 THE COURT: Redirect.
 21 MS. PANDUKHT: I have no redirect.
 22 THE COURT: And, Miss Palau, thank you for testifying.
 23 Is she free to go or do you want her to remain outside?
 24 MR. SCHWARTZ: She's free to go.
 25 THE COURT: You are free to go.

1 Any other evidence or testimony from the State?
 2 MR. SCHWARTZ: No, Your Honor. We have no additional 3 witnesses we wish to call today
 4 We would rest.
 5 THE COURT: Any evidence or testimony from the defense
 6 today?
 7 MR. BROOKS: No, Your Honor.
 8 We will submit it to the Court. We will be presenting 9 any testimony this morning.
 10 THE COURT: Mr. Budd, if you will stand up.
 11 MS. PANDUKHT: Judge, may we amend the criminal 12 complaint: On or between the 26th and the 27th of May, to add
 13 the 26th.
 14 THE COURT: Any objection to that, Mr. Brooks?
 15 MR. BROOKS: No objection.
 16 THE COURT: We put what the last witness testified to on 17 line 11, page one, on or about May 26th to the 27th day of May.
 18 Mr. Budd, there is no closing arguments, so that ends
 19 the hearing.
 20 This is a preliminary hearing. I do not determine your 21 guilt. I do not determine your guilty. I just determine if 22 sufficient evidence exists that you committed the alleged crimes,
 23 and that has been established.
 24 I do find that there is sufficient evidence that the 25 crime of murder with use of a deadly weapon, three counts, has

Page 50 of 50

1 been committed by you.

2 I hereby order you to answer to said charges in the 3 Eighth Judicial District Court, State of Nevada, County of Clark,
4 at the following date and time --

5 THE CLERK: July 16th, nine a.m., District Court XVIII.

6 MR. BROOKS: Judge, I'm just curious. I'm out of the 7 jurisdiction the week of the 14th through the 18th.

8 Is there any way to get it the week of the 7th through
9 the 11th?

10 THE COURT: The only way we can do it is give an in-11 custody date, which is not what we usually do when we have a 12 prelim, but July 2nd is the other date that we have in Department
13 XVIII.

14 MR. SCHWARTZ: That's fine.

15 MR. BROOKS: July 2nd is better.

16 THE CLERK: July 2nd, nine a.m., District Court XVIII.

17 THE COURT: And that will be in District Court July 2nd
18 then.

19 MR. SCHWARTZ: Thank you, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: You are welcome.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 2, 2003; 9:00 A.M.

THE COURT: Mr. Brooks, what do you have?

MR. BROOKS: Thank you, Judge. Mr. Budd, Glenford Budd on page 11, I believe; it's a not guilty plea.

THE COURT: State of Nevada versus Budd, 193182. The defendant is present in custody. It's the date and time set for an arraignment.

Mr. Budd, your attorney tells me that -- sir, you can be seated. Your attorney tells me that you're going to be entering a plea of not guilty, is that your understanding?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, ma'am.

THE COURT: What is your true name?

THE DEFENDANT: Glenford Anthony Budd.

THE COURT: If that is not your true name, you must declare to me now your real name. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, ma'am.

THE COURT: How old are you?

THE DEFENDANT: 20 years old.

THE COURT: I'm sorry?

THE DEFENDANT: 20.

THE COURT: How far did you go in school?

THE DEFENDANT: High school.

THE COURT: So, do you read, write and understand the English language?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I do.

2 THE COURT: And you've received a copy of the Information in this
3 case charging you with murder with use of a deadly weapon?

4 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

5 THE COURT: And you've had an opportunity to discuss this with Mr.
6 Brooks, is that correct?

7 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

8 THE COURT: And as to that charge, sir, how do you plead?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Not guilty.

10 THE COURT: You have a right to have this matter set for trial within 11 60 days. Do you wish to waive that right of invoke it?

12 THE DEFENDANT: Waive.

13 THE COURT: Very well, let's get it set.

14 MR. BROOKS: Judge, for the record, is this going to be a death
15 penalty case?

16 MS. PANDUKHT: The State is going to have to take that to the 17 committee in the next week or two, so we'll let you know --

18 MR. BROOKS: My preference would be, I think there's a decent 19 chance because this is a triple homicide, the State may in fact file. My 20 preference would be February, March or April of next year.

21 THE CLERK: You can have a portion of February or a portion of 22 March.

23 MR. BROOKS: Either one is fine with the defense.

24 MS. PANDUKHT: And this is Dave Schwartz' case, I'll be trying it

1 with him, so I don't know what his schedule is but I think next year will be
2 pretty clear.

3 THE CLERK: Jury trial is February 16th, 1:30, calendar call is February
4 11th, 9:00.

5 MS. PANDUKHT: The only thing I would ask, the only thing I would
6 ask is that going fall in a four day week, because of President's Day, do you
7 know that?

8 THE CLERK: I don't have the holidays yet for next year.

9 MS. PANDUKHT: Because that's typically holiday time there.

10 THE CLERK: Well --

11 MS. PANDUKHT: Do you know what day the 16th is?

12 THE COURT: Let's just leave it --

13 MR. BROOKS: The 16th is President's Day.

14 MS. PANDUKHT: It's a Monday.

15 MR. BROOKS: In fact, the 16th is in fact the holiday.

16 THE CLERK: It is, okay.

17 MS. PANDUKHT: Oh, okay.

18 THE CLERK: Well, let's go the next week then, February 23rd for trial 19 ...
20 ...
21 ...
22 ...
23 ...
24 ...

1 and February 18th for calendar call.

2 MR. BROOKS: Thank you.

3 THE COURT: You're welcome.

CASE NO. C193182

DEPT. NO. XVIII

DATE: February 11, 2004

TIME: 9:00 a.m.

DEFENDANT'S MOTION TO VACATE AND CONTINUE TRIAL DATE

COMES NOW the Defendant GLENFORD ANTHONY BUDD, by and through Deputy Public Defender HOWARD S. BROOKS, and moves this Honorable Court to vacate the trial of this matter currently scheduled for February 23, 2004, and reset the trial in ordinary course, preferably for sometime in July or August, 2004.

This Motion to Continue is made and based upon the attached Declaration of Howard S. Brooks.

DECLARATION

Declaration of HOWARD S. BROOKS ;

1. I am an attorney licensed to practice law in the State of Nevada; I am the Deputy Public Defender assigned to represent Glenford Anthony Budd in this case; and I am familiar with the allegations made by the State and the procedural history of the case.

2. The State of Nevada filed an Information on June 26, 2003 alleging three counts of murder with use of deadly weapon against defendant Glenford Anthony Budd.

3. On July 25, 2003 the State of Nevada filed a Notice of Intent to Seek the Death Penalty alleging two aggravating circumstances.

4. The trial for this matter is currently set for February 23, 2004 with a calendar call date of February 18, 2004.

5. Since November of 2003, my case load has exploded from approximately five cases set for trial to eleven cases set for trial. I am a member of the Murder Team, and all of these cases are murder cases. Furthermore, three of these cases are death penalty murder cases.

6. Because of the explosion in my case load, I have been completely been unable to focus on preparing for the Glenford Anthony Budd murder case. This means that I have not worked with my client to prepare a defense to the charges; this means that I have not done the necessary investigation to prepare a mitigation case for possible penalty phase. The process of obtaining records so that a mitigation case can be prepared has also been hindered because my client is from the nation of Belize. We are currently in contact with the Belize Consulate in Los Angeles, and are trying to expedite the obtaining of records necessary to prepare a mitigation case. Those records have not been received as of this date.

7. Because of my lack of preparation, because I have not received necessary records, and because we have not been able to prepare a mitigation case yet, this case is not ready to go to trial.

8. I have orally informed Deputy District Attorney David Schwartz of my situation, and I have also informed him of my intent to continue the trial date.

9. I currently have murder cases set for virtually every month through June of 2004. The best date for me to have this trial reset is sometime in July or August, 2004.

10. Based on all of the above, I am respectfully asking this Honorable Court to vacate the trial currently set for February 23, 2004, and reset the trial in ordinary course. This motion is made in good faith and not merely for the purposes of delay.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. (NRS 53.045).

EXECUTED this 27 day of January, 2004.

3. The trial of this matter is currently set for November 15, 2004 with a calendar call date of November 10, 2004.

4. This motion seeks two forms of relief: a blanket order that the prosecutors in this case avoid making arguments which Courts have ruled are improper; and an Order that the Court takes judicial notice of the authorities cited in this motion when or if the defense objects to improper argument by the State.

5. This is not an "original" motion. This is a standard motion filed in many criminal cases, especially death penalty murder cases.

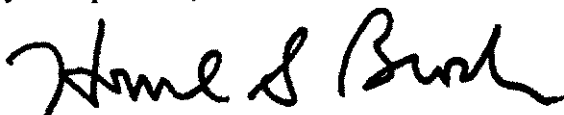

6. Many prosecutors have responded with indignation when this motion is filed, contending it is "insulting." I want to make it clear I am not calling any individual prosecutor unethical nor am I claiming that the prosecutors in this case routinely make improper arguments. However, the overwhelming majority of the caselaw in Nevada regarding prosecutorial misconduct derives from conduct by prosecutors in the Clark County District Attorney's Office. As a criminal defense attorney who has practiced in Clark County for 16 years, I have personally

1 witnessed repeated misconduct, including: argument to the jury that the role of the defense
2 attorney is to confuse and mislead the jury; argument to the jury that defendant must be lying
3 because he has had the chance to sit in his cell for more than a year to think up lies; argument to 4 the jury (in death penalty guilt-trial phase) that the dead victim's life must be considered in 5 deciding whether the defendant is guilty; argument to the jury that the defendant is guilty because 6 he is a bad man; and other such arguments. So the factual predicate requiring the filing of this 7 document exists, but no personal insult is intended to any individual person.

11 7. The Defense also requests that the Court take judicial notice of the authority cited in this
12 motion when or if the Defense objects during trial to improper argument. This prong of the motion
13 is based upon NRS 47.140 which allows the Court the take judicial notice of existing legal 14 authority.

16 I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. (NRS

5 I.

6 A. GRANTING THE MOTION IN LIMINE REQUESTED BY THE DEFENDANT IS 7 AN APPROPRIATE AND NECESSARY MEASURE TO PREVENT IMPROPER
8 ARGUMENT BY THE PROSECUTOR.

9 This Court should enter an order in limine barring the prosecution from engaging in the 10 types of misconduct identified below and requiring it to abide by the requirements imposed on 11 prosecutors by the federal and state constitutions, laws, and ethical canons. The Court of Appeals
12 for the Ninth Circuit has explained that “[t]he whole purpose of a motion in limine is to prevent the 13 opposing side from asking a question or making comments in opening statements or otherwise
14 bringing before the jury some fact which the movant believes will damage his case by the mere 15 mention of it.” Barnd v. City of Tacoma, 664 F.2d 1339, 1343 (9th Cir. 1982). Similarly, 16 McCormick on Evidence §52, at 74 (4th ed. 1992), notes that the “purpose of such motions may be 17 to insulate the jury from exposure to harmful inadmissible evidence or to afford a basis for 18 strategic decisions.” As described below, prosecutorial misconduct in argument violates the state
19 and federal constitutions and prejudices jurors against the accused. Entering an order in limine 20 would assist in avoiding violations of these rights by prohibiting prosecuting attorneys from 21 making improper arguments.

22 Entering the motion in limine would fulfill the role trial judges must play in safeguarding
23 the constitutional rights of defendants at criminal trials. State and federal courts have stressed that 24 trial judges bear the responsibility for preventing prosecutorial misconduct. In United States v.
25 Young, 470 U.S. 1, 10 (1985), the Supreme Court wrote, “[w]e emphasize that the trial judge has 26 the responsibility to maintain decorum in keeping with the nature of the proceeding; ‘the judge is 27 not a mere moderator, but is the governor of the trial for the purpose of assuring its proper 28 conduct.’” (quoting Quercia v. United States, 289 U.S. 466, 469 (1933)); see also Mahorney v.
Wallman, 917 F.2d 469, 473 (10th Cir. 1990) (explaining that trial judge should have acted to prevent improper argument instead of overruling the defense’s objections, which gave the prosecution’s argument an “official imprimatur”).

Like federal courts, the Nevada Supreme Court has long recognized and stressed that trial

1 judges are ultimately responsible for preventing improper argument by prosecutors. In Yates v.
2 State, 103 Nev. 200, 205-206, 734 P.2d 1252, 1256 (1987), the court emphasized that "[t]he
3 district judge is in an especially well-suited position to control the overall tenor of the trial. He can 4 order the offending statements to cease and can instruct the jury in such a manner as to erase the
5 taint of improper remarks that are made." See also Collier v. State, 101 Nev. 473, 477, 705 P.2d
6 1126, 1128 (1985) ("Our district courts have a duty to ensure that every accused shall receive a fair
7 trial. This duty requires that trial courts exercise their discretionary power to control obvious
8 prosecutorial misconduct sua sponte."); State v. Cyty, 50 Nev. 256, 259, 256 P.793, 794 (1927)
9 ("[I]t is the duty of the court, unsolicited, to reprimand instantly such [prosecutorial] misconduct");
10 State v. Moss, 376 S.E.2d 569, 574 (W. Va. 1988) (trial court erred in failing to intervene sua 11 sponte to correct improper argument). The ABA Standards for Criminal Justice similarly provide 12 that "[i]t is the responsibility of the [trial] court to ensure that final argument to the jury is kept 13 within proper, accepted bounds." American Bar Association, ABA Standards for Criminal Justice, 14 Standards Relating to Prosecution Function, Standard 3-5.8 (3d ed. 1993) (citations omitted).

15       Given the breadth and persistence of such misconduct evidenced by the number of Nevada
16 cases devoted to this issue, see note 2, and sections II, III, below, entering and enforcing such an 17 order is the only adequate means of insuring the fundamental fairness of the proceeding and the 18 reliability of the resulting sentence. The court's duty to ensure the fairness of the proceedings is 19 particularly important in capital cases, which must satisfy a "heightened standard of reliability"
20 under the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments. Ford v. Wainwright, 477 U.S. 399, 411 (1986).
21 Any improper argument which diverts the jury from imposing a sentence that is a "reasoned moral 22 response to the defendant's background, character and crime," California v. Brown, 479 U.S. 538, 23 545 (1987) (O'Connor, J., concurring), or from making an "individualized decision" as to the 24 punishment for the particular defendant and the particular crime, Penry v. Lynaugh, 492 U.S. 302,
25 326-28 (1989) (prosecutorial misconduct in argument violates right to individualized sentencing
26 under Eighth and Fourteenth amendments); see Woodson v. North Carolina, 428 U.S. 280, 305
27 (1976); Lockett v. Ohio, 438 U.S. 586, 605 (1978); Sumner v. Shuman, 483 U.S. 66, 75 (1987), 28 will violate the requirement of heightened reliability in capital sentencing proceedings imposed by

1 the Eighth Amendment, as well as the protections of the other amendments cited below.

2       Entering an order in limine would also reduce the burden of litigation over this issue on this
3 state's highest court and in habeas corpus proceedings in federal courts.<sup>1</sup> The Nevada Supreme
4 Court has consistently expressed frustration about improper arguments and remarks by the state's 5 attorneys, noting both the severe consequences for the defendant and the cost society must 6 shoulder as a result. In Neal v. State, 106 Nev. 23, 25, 787 P.2d 764 (1990), the Nevada Supreme 7 Court emphasized that, "[t]his court has repeatedly condemned such prosecutorial misconduct, and 8 noted the enormous expense borne by the state each time such misconduct necessitates a retrial.
9 Unfortunately, as this case illustrates, the problem continues."<sup>2</sup>

11       <sup>1</sup> By filing this motion, the defense preserves the issue of prosecutorial misconduct in argument for appeal. The
12 commission of misconduct places counsel for the defendant in a position in which nothing counsel does will adequately protect the 13 defendant's rights. If counsel objects, he or she runs the risk of drawing attention to, and reinforcing, the prejudicial effect of the 14 misconduct, thus giving the prosecutor a further reward for committing the misconduct. Courts have acknowledged that interrupting
15 a prosecutor's argument to object can draw attention to an offensive argument. See, e.g., United States v. Young, 470 U.S. 1, 13-14
16 ("[I]nterruptions of arguments, either by an opposing counsel or the presiding judge, are matters to be approached cautiously.");
17 U.S. v. Garza, 608 F.2d 659 (5th Cir. 1979); U.S. v. Garza, 608 F.2d 659, 666 (5th Cir. 1979) ("[O]bjection to these extremely 18 prejudicial comments [by the prosecutor] would serve only to focus the jury's attention on them."); U.S. v. Grayson, 166 F.2d 863,
19 871 (2d Cir. 1948) ("[T]o raise an objection to [improper] testimony - and more, to have the judge tell the jury to ignore it - often 20 serves but to rub it in.") (Frank, J., concurring). Similarly, objections followed by curative instructions risk both drawing attention
21 to and exacerbating a prosecutor's unconstitutional argument. The Supreme Court has recognized, for instance, that a curative
22 instruction to objectionable remarks can compound the error in the eyes of the jury. See, e.g., Bruton v. United States, 391 U.S.
23 123, 129 (1968) (citing a study finding that "the limiting instruction actually compounds the jury's difficulty in disregarding"
24 inadmissible evidence). Similarly, in the analogous situation of judicial misconduct, the Nevada Supreme Court has recognized:

25       Counsel for plaintiffs was placed in the untenable position of silently accepting the judge's
26 [misconduct] or risking the prospect of alienating the judge or the jury...
27 Litigants who bear the brunt of [misconduct] by trial judges are faced with a 'Hobson's 28 choice' of either objecting to the misconduct (with the attendant risks of antagonizing the judge and exasperating the jury), or refusing to assume the risks posed by such objections, thereby jeopardizing their right of appellate review.

29       Parodi v. Washoe Medical Center, 111 Nev. 365, 369, 892 P.2d 588, 591 (1995). By filing this motion in limine, the defendant
30 should be considered to have made an objection to each and every kind of misconduct specified herein, without the necessity of 31 risking further prejudice by objecting at the time of the misconduct, and to have invoked the court's sua sponte duty to grant a 32 mistrial.

33       <sup>2</sup> See also Albitre v. State, 103 Nev. 281, 283, 738 P.2d 1307, 1308 (1987) ("We have less difficulty in determining that
34 [the prosecutor's] misbehavior was non-prejudicial than we do in understanding why it occurred. In both instances, the impropriety
35 of the prosecutor's conduct was beyond speculation."); Williams v. State, 103 Nev. 106, 110, 734 P.2d 700 (1987) ("[W]e are 36 unwilling - indeed, not at liberty - to see the criminal justice system unnecessarily encumbered and extended by inappropriate
37 behavior on behalf of the State. Accordingly, we are constrained to again emphasize that those who violate these rules do so at their 38 peril.") (citations omitted); Yates v. State, 103 Nev. 200, 206, 734 P.2d 1252 n. 7 (1987) ("It is time that this kind of conduct be stopped. We do not see reversal of convictions as an appropriate or useful way to adjudicate prosecutorial misconduct. Reversal may prejudice society more than it does the prosecutor.... We have reached the point where we can no longer look at this problem in terms of isolated examples of 'understandable, if inexcusable overzealousness in the heat of trial.'") (citations omitted); Collier v.
State, 101 Nev. 473, 705 P.2d 1126 (1985) (describing prosecutorial misconduct as "a burden to the judicial system that is totally unnecessary and, so far as the prosecution is concerned, often self-defeating."), cert. denied, 486 U.S. 1036 (1988); Nevius v. State, 101 Nev. 238, 248, 699 P.2d 1053, 1059 (1985) ("We again admonish the district attorneys of this state to heed the warnings we expressed in McGuire"); McGuire v. State, 100 Nev. 153, 155, 677 P.2d 1060, 1062 (1984) ("In the past we have publicized our concern over the serious nature of the problem of prosecutorial misconduct. We have emphasized not only the problems such misconduct causes in terms of depriving an accused of his or her right to a fair trial, but also the additional public expense

Prosecutorial misconduct is unique among constitutional violations at trial because it results from the prosecutor's unilateral action. The easiest way to avoid the constitutional problems arising from misconduct is for the prosecutor to refrain from committing misconduct. The caselaw cited below establishes the representative kinds of misconduct which the prosecutor should not commit. This court should therefore enter an order directing the prosecutors not to commit misconduct, the prosecutors should obey that order, and no further litigation over this issue should be necessary.

B. ENTRY OF AN ORDER IN LIMINE IS NECESSARY BECAUSE OF THE PERSISTENT PATTERN OF MISCONDUCT ENGAGED IN BY THE CLARK COUNTY DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

Entry of the order in limine is not only appropriate but it is necessary as well. The Clark County District Attorney has a history and practice of violating the constitutional rights of defendants through the commission of prosecutorial misconduct. The most experienced members of that office (who are now retired) were consistent and habitual perpetrators of misconduct. See, e.g., McKenna v. State, 114 Nev. 1044, 468 P.2d 739 (1998) (Mr. Seaton); Howard v. State, 106 Nev. 713, 722-723 and n.1, 800 P.2d 175 (1991) (Mr. Seaton); Dawson v. State, 103 Nev. 76, 80, 734 P.2d 221 (1987) (Mr. Harmon); see note 1, above. Unfortunately, the new generation of prosecutors in the Clark County District Attorney's Office has learned from its seniors to commit the same type of pernicious misconduct. See, e.g., Greene v. State, 113 Nev. 157, 170, 931 P.2d 54 (1997) (Mr. Schwartz); Murray v. State, 113 Nev. 11, 17-18, 930 P.2d 121 (1997) (reversing three Clark County cases for prosecutorial misconduct in commenting on defendants' post-arrest silence).

needlessly occasioned by such misconduct, especially where such misconduct results in the necessity of a retrial."); State v. Citty, 50 Nev. 256, 256 P.2d 793, 794 (1927) ("There is no excuse for such misconduct in any kind of a case. If the state has a strong case it is not necessary, and if it has a close case such misconduct is gross injustice to the defendant. Furthermore, prosecutors should remember that such misconduct often leads to the expense of burdensome retrials, which can but be a serious reflection upon their regard for the welfare of the taxpayer."); State v. Rodriguez, 31 Nev. 342, 102 P.2d 863, 865 (1909) (noting that improper argument "caus[es] the necessity of courts of last resort to reverse causes and order new trials, to the expense and detriment of the commonwealth and all concerned").

3 ARGUMENT TO THE DICTATES OF THE LAW ON IMPERMISSIBLE
4 PROSECUTORIAL ARGUMENT.

5 Given the unique role prosecutors play in the criminal justice system, the state cannot 6 legitimately oppose this motion or raise any objection to the entry of an order in limine. State and 7 federal law, as well as professional ethical standards, not only prohibit prosecutors from 8 committing the type of misconduct described below, but also, obligate them to assist in protecting 9 the constitutional rights of people facing trial. The United States Supreme Court has held that the 10 prosecutor:

11 is the representative not of an ordinary party to a controversy, but of 12 a sovereignty whose obligation to govern impartially is as 13 compelling as its obligation to govern at all; and whose interest, 14 therefore, in a criminal prosecution is not that it shall win a case, but 15 that justice shall be done.

16 Berger v. United States, 295 U.S. 78, 88 (1935), overruled on other grounds by Stirone v. United 17 States, 361 U.S. 212 (1960). The Ninth Circuit explained in Commonwealth of the Northern 18 Mariana Islands v. Mendiola, 976 F.2d 475, 486 (9th Cir. 1992), overruled on other grounds by 19 George v. Camacho, 119 F.3d 1393 (9th Cir. 1997), that "[i]t is the sworn duty of the prosecutor to 20 assure that the defendant has a fair and impartial trial." See also Brown v. Borg, 951 F.2d 1011, 21 1015 (9th Cir. 1991) ("The proper role of the criminal prosecutor is not simply to obtain a 22 conviction, but to obtain a fair conviction."); National District Attorneys Association, National 23 Prosecution Standards, Rule 1.1 (2d ed. 1991) ("The primary responsibility of prosecution is to see 24 that justice is accomplished."). In State v. Rodriquez, 31 Nev. 342, 347, 102 P.d 863, 865 (1909),
25 the Nevada Supreme Court agreed that:

26 "Prosecuting attorneys ... have a duty to perform equally as sacred to 27 the accused as to the state they are employed to represent, and that is 28 to see that the accused has the fair and impartial trial guaranteed every person by our Constitution, no matter how lowly he may be, or degrading the character of the offense charged..." (emphasis added).

Prosecutors cannot look to the standards applicable to other lawyers to determine the propriety of their conduct, remarks, and argument. The Ninth Circuit has stressed that:

Prosecutors are subject to constraints and responsibilities that don't

1 apply to other lawyers. While lawyers representing private parties
2 may -indeed, must - do everything ethically permissible to advance
3 their clients' interests, lawyers representing the government in 4 criminal cases serve truth and justice first. The prosecutor's job isn't 5 just to win, but to win fairly, staying well within the rules.

6 U.S. v. Kojayan, 8 F.3d 1315, 1323 (9th Cir. 1993); see also American Bar Association,
7 Professional Responsibility: Report of the Joint Conference, 44 A.B.A.J. 1159, 1218 (1958) ("The
8 public prosecutor cannot take as a guide for the conduct of his office the standards of an attorney 9 appearing on behalf of an individual client.").

10 Given the obligation prosecutors have to respect the rights of accused under well-
11 established federal and state law, the state has no legitimate basis for opposing entry of the order in 12 limine sought by the defendant: The state cannot contend that its prosecutors have a right to 13 commit the misconduct described below; nor can it legitimately contend that the court should not
14 enter an order which is consistent with the law the prosecutors are obligated to follow. This Court
15 cannot assume that the prosecutors will comply with their obligations in this regard, or credit any 16 self-serving assertions by the prosecutors that an order in limine is unnecessary because they are 17 aware of their ethical obligations.

18 D. ENTRY AND ENFORCEMENT OF AN ORDER IN LIMINE IS REQUIRED TO 19 ENSURE THAT THE DEFENDANT'S CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHTS ARE ACTUALLY,
20 AND NOT MERELY HYPOTHETICALLY, ENFORCED.

21 In light of the historical practices of the Clark County District Attorney, the defendant and 22 this court must consider the measures to take should the prosecutor nevertheless commit
23 misconduct. That analysis must take into account the intentional character of any such 24 misconduct. While courts sometimes find misconduct to be non-prejudicial on the ground that it
25 was unintentional or inadvertent, see, e.g., Turner v. Johnson, 106 F.3d 1178, 1188 (5th Cir. 1997);
26 United States v. Manning, 56 F.3d 1188, 1199 (9th Cir. 1995), that cannot be the case here: The 27 defendant has compiled below the caselaw illustrating the kinds of misconduct the prosecutor is 28 prohibited from committing; the prosecutors in this case thus cannot claim that any misconduct they commit is a result of ignorance or inadvertence.

There are several reasons militating in favor of a mistrial sua sponte should the prosecutor make an impermissible comment in spite of the filing of this motion. First, the state's knowing,

1 deliberate and intentional attempt to bolster a weak case by depriving the defendant of a fair trial,
2 prior to the entry of the verdict requires a mistrial sua sponte. As noted above, it is primarily the
3 trial court's obligation to respond to misconduct before it. See, e.g., Collier v. State, 101 Nev.
4 473, 477, 705 P.2d 1126 (1985). Any act of misconduct in this case must be recognized for what it
5 will be: A deliberate and intentional attempt to violate the defendant's right to a fundamentally fair
6 trial and a reliable sentence; and an acknowledgment of the weakness of the prosecution's case by 7 attempting to win the case by impermissible means. "By resorting to wrongful devices, [the party]
8 is said to give ground for believing that he thinks his case is weak and not to be won by fair
9 means." McQueeney v. Wilmington Trust Co., 779 F.2d 916, 922 (3d Cir. 1985) (quoting
10 McCormick, Handbook of the Law of Evidence § 273 at 660 (2d ed. 1972)); see also United States
11 v. Metcalf, 435 F.2d 754, 758 (9th Cir. 1970) (characterizing commission of misconduct as result 12 of "the careless zeal of a prosecutor conscious of the weakness of the case").

13 In the habeas corpus context, the United States Supreme Court recognized in Brecht v.
14 Abrahamson, 507 U.S. 619, 638 n.9 (1993):

15 [T]he possibility that in an unusual case, a deliberate and especially 16 egregious error of the trial type, or one that is combined with a 17 pattern of prosecutorial misconduct, might so infect the integrity of the proceeding as to warrant the grant of habeas relief, even if it did 18 not substantially influence the jury's verdict.

19 The Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit has characterized this type of error as a "hybrid" which 20 is "declared to be incapable of redemption by actual prejudice analysis. The integrity of the trial,
21 having been destroyed, cannot be reconstituted by an appellate court." Hardnett v. Marshall, 25
22 F.3d 875, 879 (9th Cir. 1994), cert. denied, 513 U.S. 1130 (1995). The defendant here has 23 provided the state and the court with the caselaw establishing what the prosecutors cannot do, and 24 the defendant has done all he can to prevent misconduct from occurring. If the prosecutors attempt 25 to bolster their case by committing misconduct anyway, they should not be heard to argue that any 26 response less than an immediate mistrial would be an adequate remedy for their intentional and 27 deliberate attempt to deprive the defendant of a fair trial. A mistrial is also necessary to prevent 28 the state from obtaining the further benefit of rubbing in the misconduct by objection and instruction. See note 1, above. Having polluted the trial by prejudicing the jury, the state cannot

1 properly seek to gain the benefit of having that jury, which it has deliberately poisoned, render a
2 verdict.<sup>3</sup>

3 Second, the integrity of the court is at stake where the prosecutor commits misconduct in 4 argument. By providing the relevant case authorities to this court in advance of argument, the 5 defendant has also ensured that this court can satisfy its duty to intervene sua sponte to prevent or 6 sanction misconduct. Further, because this court, as well as the state, is on notice as to what 7 constitutes misconduct, this court must fulfill its duty to respond to the prosecutor's misconduct.
8 If the court fails to intervene sua sponte, or fails to sustain defense objections to misconduct, it
9 thereby places its imprimatur on the misconduct; and it invests the prosecutor's violation of the 10 defendant's constitutional rights with the weight and authority of the court, thus necessarily 11 making that misconduct prejudicial. See Bollenbach v. United States, 326 U.S. 607, 612 (1946)
12 ("[T]he influence of the trial judge on the jury is necessarily and properly of great weight," 13 [citation] and jurors are ever watchful of the words that fall from him."). As the Nevada Supreme 14 Court recognized in Peterson v. Pittsburg Silver Peak Gold Mining Co., 37 Nev. 117, 121-122, 140
15 P.519 (1914):

16 The average juror is a layman; the average layman looks with most 17 profound respect to the presiding judge; and the jury is, as a rule, 18 alert to any remark that will indicate favor or disfavor on the part of 19 the trial judge. Human opinion is oftentimes formed upon 20 circumstances meager and insignificant in their outward appearance;
21 and the words and utterances of a trial judge, sitting with a jury in 22 attendance, are liable, however unintentional, to mold the opinion of 23 the members of the jury to the extent that one or the other side of the 24 controversy may be prejudiced or injured thereby.

25 Accord Parodi v. Washoe Medical Center, 111 Nev. 365, 368, 892 P.2d 588 (1955); Ginnis v.
26 Mapes Hotel Corp., 86 Nev. 408, 416-417, 470 P.2d 135 (1970). If the court refuses to sustain a 27 proper objection to the prosecutor's deliberate and intentional misconduct, based upon the settled 28 caselaw cited in this motion, it will violate its own duty to enforce the law evenhandedly against

---

29 <sup>3</sup> At minimum, any commission of misconduct would have to be analyzed under the Chapman standard of prejudice
30 applicable to further constitutional errors. Chapman v. California, 386 U.S. 18 (1967). This standard requires the prosecution, and 31 not the defendant, to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that its intentional commission of misconduct would not "contribute to the 32 verdict." Id. at 24. If the prosecutor is so desperate to obtain a conviction or death sentence that he commits misconduct after the 33 filing of this motion, this court can only infer that the prosecutor considered the misconduct necessary to achieve his aim, and thus 34 that it could not be shown, beyond a reasonable doubt, to be non-prejudicial.

1 the prosecution. See, e.g., Collier v. State, 101 Nev. 473, 477, 705 P.2d 1126 (1985); State v.
2 Cyty, 50 Nev. 256, 259, 256 P. 793 (1927).

3 Third, since a reversal would be required on appeal, granting a mistrial sua sponte will
4 lessen the burden of litigation on this state's highest court and on federal courts in habeas corpus
5 proceedings. A refusal by the court to enforce the law against the prosecution at the proper 6 instance of a defendant would demonstrate judicial bias in favor of the prosecution and thus 7 require reversal. See, e.g., Mahorney v. Wallman, 917 F.2d 469, 473 (10th Cir. 1990) (failure of 8 court to act in response to improper argument gave prosecutor's argument "official imprimatur");
9 Peterson v. Pittsburg Silver Peak Gold Mining Co., 37 Nev. 117, 122, 140 P. 519 (1914) ("[I]f
10 remarks made by the judge in the progress of a trial are calculated to mislead the jury or prejudice
11 either party, it would be grounds for reversal."). Since trial before an impartial tribunal is a
12 fundamental element of due process of law under the Fourteenth Amendment, such a refusal 13 would be prejudicial per se. Tumey v. Ohio, 273 U.S. 510, 535 (1927); see Neder v. United States,
14 1999 WL 373186, at *5 (June 10, 1999).<sup>4</sup>

15 Finally, curative instructions cannot adequately repair the damage impermissible arguments
16 inflict on the constitutional rights of the criminally accused. As the Supreme Court explained in 17 Bruton, 391 U.S. at 129 n. 3, "[t]he naive assumption that prejudicial effects can be overcome by 18 instructions to the jury all practicing lawyers know to be unmitigated fiction." (quoting
19 Krulewitch v. U.S., 336 U.S. 440, 453 (1949) (Jackson, J., concurring); see also Throckmorton v.
20 Holt, 180 U.S. 552, 567 (1901) ("[T]here may be instances where such a strong impression has 21 been made upon the minds of the jury by illegal and improper testimony, that its subsequent 22 withdrawal will not remove the effect caused by its admission, and in that case the general
23 objection may avail on appeal or writ of error."); U.S. v. Garza, 608 F.2d 659, 666 n. 7 (5th Cir.
24 1979) ("[A]s this Court observed in overturning a conviction because of improper prosecutorial
25

26
27 <sup>4</sup> The judicial response to misconduct objections is a serious problem. In the Jones matter, the trial court failed to sustain 28 an objection to prosecutorial misconduct which was flagrant and obvious under existing authority (although that authority was not cited by the defense), Ex. 1 at II 88-89; but when the prosecutor objected to defense argument, which does not even appear to have been misconduct, the trial court's response in front of the jury was to tell defense counsel "you're out of line." Ex. 1 at II-96. The defendant submits that such a double standard of response to alleged misconduct would be prima facie evidence of judicial bias which violates the due process clause, as well as depriving the defendant of equal protection under the Fourteenth Amendment.

1                   And that's a conversation about
2 marijuana; correct?

3           A.   Yes, sir.

4           Q.   Can you give us any context for why this
5 question would be asked?

6           A.   I don't know why he would ask Derrick or 7 -- or me. I don't know why. I just know he 8 confronted Derrick about it. I don't know what 9 made him do it.

10          Q.   Did Derrick often, or did Derrick ever
11 have marijuana that belonged to Mr. Budd?

12          A.   No, sir.

13          Q.   Had you ever seen Mr. Budd with 14 marijuana?

15          A.   Yes, sir.

16          Q.   Did he have marijuana with him very 17 often?

18          A.   Yes, sir.

19          Q.   Did you guys hang around with him when 20 he had his marijuana?

21          A.   Yes, sir.

22          Q.   And did Derrick ever have marijuana?

23          A.   No, sir.

24          Q.   And the other gentleman, Jason, did he 25 ever have marijuana?

1 A. No, sir.

2 Q. Had you ever seen either one of these
3 people take marijuana and hold it for Mr. Budd?

4 A. No, sir.

5 Q. None of these people are selling
6 marijuana, are they?

7 A. No, sir.

8 Q. None of these people are selling drugs?

9 A. No, sir.

10 Q. When you're playing basketball, did you
11 see any evidence that Mr. Budd had a gun?

12 A. No, sir.

13 Q. Did you see any evidence before the 14 basketball game that he had a gun?

15 A. I thought that he did, from the way I
16 seen his walk, but I couldn't -- I never seen a
17 gun.

18 Q. When was this? When did you think he 19 had a gun?

20 A. This was way earlier in the day before
21 any of this happened.

22 Q. Like what time?

23 A. Around the a.m., in the a.m.

24 Q. I'm sorry?

25 A. a.m. sometime.

1 Q. So in the morning you thought he had a
2 gun?

3 A. Yeah.

4 Q. And you thought it because the way he
5 was walking?

6 A. Yeah.

7 Q. How was he walking?

8 A. He was just walking, grabbing his 9 pocket.

10 Q. I'm sorry?

11 A. He was walking, holding his pocket.

12 Q. Because he was holding his pocket, that 13 forced you to think he had a gun?

14 A. Yeah.

15 Q. But you didn't actually see him with a
16 gun?

17 A. No.

18 Q. In fact, you never saw him with a gun
19 from the basketball game or before?

20 A. No.

21 Q. Did anybody else playing basketball have 22 a gun?

23 A. No.

24 Q. Were there any guns in the apartment?

25 A. No.

1 Q. Were there any knives in the apartment?

2 A. Of course.

3 Q. I'm sorry?

4 A. Of course.

5 Q. I'm sorry?

6 A. Of course.

7 THE COURT: Of course.

8 MR. BROOKS: A course?

9 THE COURT: Of course.

10 BY MR. BROOKS:

11 Q. Of course? Of course there were knives?

12 THE COURT: I mean, he's referring --

13 BY MR. BROOKS:

14 Q. Kitchen knives; right?

15 A. Yeah.

16 Q. What about drugs, were there drugs in 17 the apartment?

18 A. No, sir.

19 Q. None at all?

20 A. No, sir.

21 Q. How were the four of you guys supporting 22 yourself during this month?

23 A. My mother lives there. We just -- that 24 night, she wasn't there, but we live with my 25 mother.

1 Q. Does she live in the apartment with you?

2 A. Yes, sir.

3 Q. What's her name?

4 A. Cheryl Jones.

5 Q. So, basically, your mother's supporting
6 you?

7 A. Yeah.

8 Q. And is your mother supporting all these 9 other people as well?

10 A. Yes, sir.

11 Q. None of you have jobs; correct?

12 A. No, sir.

13 Q. So after the basketball game, all five
14 of you go to the apartment; correct?

15 A. Yes, sir.

16 Q. And how long do you hang out in the 17 apartment together, the five of you?

18 A. About two hours.

19 Q. For about two hours.

20 And during this two hours, is there any 21 more discussion about any marijuana or weed?

22 A. No, sir.

23 Q. Is there any argument between my client
24 and anybody else there?

25 A. No, sir.

1 Q. Any rough words between anybody?

2 A. No, sir.

3 Q. No sign of any trouble?

4 A. (Shakes head.)

5 Q. So approximately what time does my 6 client leave?

7 A. I -- I would say 11:45.

8 Q. And he --

9 A. Close to.

10 Q. -- he tells you he's going where?

11 A. To the store to get a drink.

12 Q. So he leaves.

13 How long is he gone?

14 A. Ten to fifteen minutes.

15 Q. Anybody else come into the apartment
16 during this time?

17 A. No, sir.

18 Q. He shows back up ten or fifteen minutes
19 later?

20 A. Yes, sir.

21 Q. He doesn't hang out with you in the 22 living room at that point?

23 A. No, sir.

24 Q. He goes directly to the bedroom?

25 A. Yes, sir.

1 Q. Does he say anything to you in the 2 living room?

3 A. He said he was finna use the bathroom.

4 Q. Does he ask where -- is it Derrick
5 that's now in the bedroom?

6 A. Da'Jon.

7 Q. Da'Jon?

8 A. Yeah.

9 Q. Does he ask if Da'Jon is in the bedroom?

10 A. No, sir.

11 Q. So he goes into the bedroom where Da'Jon
12 is; correct?

13 A. Yes, sir.

14 Q. Closes the door?

15 A. Yes, sir.

16 Q. You hear two shots?

17 A. Yes, sir.

18 Q. You don't see anybody, because the door
19 is closed?

20 A. Yes, sir.

21 Q. But as far as you know, no one else is 22 in there except for Da'Jon and my client?

23 A. Yes, sir.

24 Q. When you hear the two shots, what do you
25 say to the friends that you have there?

1           A.   Well, I ran to the door and opened it.
2   And Derrick told me to get back in the house.  And
3   I was trying to explain to him that the shots is 4   coming from the room, but --

5           Q.   Did you initially think the shots were 6   coming from somewhere else?

7           A.   No.  I knew they was coming from in the 8   house.

9           Q.   When you say you ran to the door, this 10   is the outside door?

11          A.   The front door.

12          Q.   The front door?

13          A.   Yeah.

14          Q.   So you go ahead and run to the door, and 15   then you leave?

16          A.   I didn't leave immediately.

17          Q.   But you went outside the door?

18          A.   No.

19          Q.   You didn't go outside the door?

20          A.   No.  I opened the door.

21          Q.   You opened the door?

22          A.   Yeah.

23          Q.   So you've heard two shots.

24                When do you hear more shots?

25          A.   I heard one shot after the two, one

1 more.

2 Q. Now, when you hear the third shot, you
3 can still see in the living room; right?

4 A. Yeah.

5 Q. So that third shot is occurring, as far
6 as you know, in the bedroom still?

7 A. Yeah.

8 Q. So at that point, you leave and you run
9 away?

10 A. Yes, sir.

11 Q. And as you're running away, you hear
12 more shots?

13 A. No, sir.

14 Q. You hear no more shots?

15 A. No, sir.

16 Q. So you go to the 7-Eleven and call the 17 police?

18 A. Yes, sir.

19 Q. And at some point, you return to the 20 apartment?

21 A. I never went back to the apartment
22 again. I was in the squad car the whole time.

23 Q. Okay.

24 MR. BROOKS: I'll pass the witness.

25 MR. SCHWARTZ: No further questions.

1 THE COURT: Is Mr. Jones free to go, or
2 do you want him to remain outside?

3 MR. SCHWARTZ: Yes, he's free to go.

4 THE COURT: Mr. Jones, you're free to 5 go. Please do not discuss your testimony with 6 anybody until the end of the preliminary hearing
7 today. Thank you for testifying.

8 Before we call the next witness, let me
9 call two misdemeanors that were scheduled for 10 10:30.

11 (Whereupon there was a brief pause in 12 proceedings to handle unrelated matters.)

13
14 THE COURT: And we'll go back to 15 Glenford Budd, 3F 9137X. He is still present, has 16 not left the courtroom, with Mr. Brooks.

17 State's next witness.

18 We have Ms. Pandukht and Mr. Schwartz
19 present.

20 MS. PANDUKHT: State calls Tracey
21 Richards.

22
23 Thereupon--

24 TRACEY RICHARDS
25 was called as a witness and sworn to testify to the

1 truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

3 THE CLERK: Please be seated.

4 Would you state your first and last name
5 and spell them both for the record.

6 THE WITNESS: Tracey Richards.

7 THE CLERK: Would you spell them?

8 THE DEFENDANT: I'm sorry. T-r-a-c-e-y
9 R-i-c-h-a-r-d-s.

11 DIRECT EXAMINATION

12 BY MS. PANDUKHT:

13 Q. Ms. Richards, do you know a person by 14 the name of A.I.?

15 A. Yes, I do.

16 Q. Is that person in the courtroom today?

17 A. Yes, he is.

18 Q. Could you point to him, where he is 19 sitting, and an article of clothing he's wearing
20 today?

21 A. He's right there. He's right there
22 (indicating).

23 Q. Could you describe something he's 24 wearing today?

25 A. He has blue and orange socks on and blue

1 outfit. That's A.I.

2 MS. PANDUKHT: May the record reflect
3 the identification of the defendant?

4 THE COURT: That will be noted.

5 BY MS. PANDUKHT:

6 Q. Do you know the defendant by any other
7 name?

8 A. No.

9 Q. Do you know what A.I. stands for?

10 A. No.

11 Q. Do you know if the defendant has any 12 tattoos?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. What tattoos?

15 A. Mr. Budd.

16 Q. That's what it says?

17 A. That's what it says on his arm. Right
18 or left arm, I'm not sure.

19 Q. Okay. And how is Mr. Budd spelled, the 20 "Budd" part?

21 A. B-u-d-d.

22 Q. Now, how is it that you know the
23 defendant?

24 A. Well, Saratoga Palms East, II, I used to 25 live over there a couple years ago myself. And I

1 have a sister that lives over there now.

2 Q. Is that 2895 East Charleston?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. Is that located here in Clark County,
5 Nevada?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. When was the last time you lived at the 8 Saratoga Palms?

9 A. Two years ago.

10 Q. And that's how you knew the defendant?

11 A. Yes and no. Because I still would go
12 visit, you know. My sister lives over there now.
13 So after I moved out, my sister moved over there
14 and got her an apartment. And I like to play ball
15 a lot, so I play basketball with a lot of guys. So
16 A.I., he's cool, you know, like I say, a homeboy.

17 Q. How often would you see A.I. when you
18 lived at the apartment complex?

19 A. Not too much. I mean, he'd be around
20 like everyone else, playing basketball, What's up,
21 A.I.? Hey, what's up, Tracey? You know, stuff
22 like that, you know.

23 Q. How often had you seen A.I. or the 24 defendant before this incident occurred?

25 A. How often do I see him before? I went

1 to my sister's house like every other weekend, so I
2 would see him like every other weekend or so. I
3 always go over. My kids be out of school, and I
4 take my kids over there, we spend the weekend over
5 there; get out of the, you know.

6 Q. By "over there," you mean the apartment?

7 A. Yeah, Saratoga Palms East, II.

8 Q. Now, your relationship with him, then,
9 would be an as acquaintance, as a friend?

10 A. Good friend.

11 Q. Did you at any point have a romantic
12 relationship with him?

13 A. No.

14 Q. Now, I'd like to draw your attention to 15 the date of May 27th, on a Wednesday.

16 A. Uh-huh.

17 Q. Excuse me, that's a Tuesday.

18 A. Uh-huh.

19 Q. About 8:00 or 9:00 o'clock in the 20 evening.

21 A. Uh-huh.

22 Q. Do you remember what you were doing at 23 that time?

24 A. Well, like I told the detectives, I was 25 out and about, taking my kids' grandmother out, and

1 about when I dropped her off at home, I was on my
2 way home. And that's when I was out and about on 3 Eastern and Karen by that Jack in the Box over
4 there. That's when I, you know, came in contact
5 with him. I was in my car with my three young
6 children.

7 Q. What kind of --

8 A. Ford, Ford Taurus wagon. Station wagon.
9 Sorry.

10 Q. As you were driving down -- were you
11 driving down Karen or Eastern?

12 A. Karen, turning left on Eastern. And I
13 seen -- I seen A.I. A.I. was calling me, and I'm 14 like, What's up? You know; what's going on? Hey.
15 You know when you see somebody.

16 Q. Where was he?

17 A. He was standing by the Jack in the Box.
18 He was smoking a cigarette. He had a white tank
19 top, blue jeans, white shoes.

20 Q. Okay. And what corner was he? Where 21 was he exactly?

22 A. Karen and Eastern. You know, this is 23 Karen, this is Eastern, okay. The Jack in the Box
24 is right here. Now, if I'm turning left on 25 Eastern, make that left on Eastern, it's -- and you

1 looking left at the Jack in the Box right here, you
2 see some benches sitting right here (indicating).

3 He was standing over by some benches,
4 and he was calling my name. And so I turn and I
5 have a conversation. He's telling me how he got 6 into it with this girl and he had a fight or 7 whatever, he hadn't had any sleep. I was like, you
8 know, What's up? You know, What happened? I'm 9 concerned at this point. And then --

10 Q. Was he sitting or standing?

11 A. By the time he -- he's standing up.
12 He's smoking a cigarette.

13 Q. When you first saw him, he -- was he 14 sitting on a bench?

15 A. No. He was standing, calling me.

16 Q. How was he calling you? What was he 17 saying?

18 A. Tracey, Tracey, hey, hey, you know.

19 Q. Did you pull your car over to him?

20 A. Yeah, I pulled over there.

21 THE COURT: One second. Lazon Jones
22 came back in the courtroom, and, actually, one of 23 the investigators just called him to step back
24 outside. I'm sorry, I missed the question, what 25 you just said, and then you had answered. I missed

1 that.

2 But go ahead.

3 BY MS. PANDUKHT:

4 Q. Did you pull your car over to where he
5 was?

6 A. Yes. And I talked to him, had a
7 conversation with him, you know.

8 Q. Did you ever get out of your car?

9 A. No.

10 Q. And at this point, was he still standing
11 by the bench?

12 A. Yes

13 Q. Was he still smoking the cigarettes?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. And then at what point did something 16 happen that took you away from the intersection of 17 Karen and Eastern?

18 A. Nothing that took me away from. He just 19 -- he said he hadn't had any sleep. I was like,
20 I'm getting ready to go home, come sleep at my 21 house if you're tired, because he's cool, you know.
22 I know him, you know. And then --

23 Q. Did he mention anything about another
24 person?

25 A. No, he didn't mention nothing about

1 anyone else.

2 Q. Did he say he had gotten into any kind
3 of an argument with anyone?

4 A. His girlfriend.

5 Q. Did he say his girlfriend's name?

6 A. No. I don't know her.

7 Q. Did he tell you what her name was,
8 though?

9 A. No, just, you know how they say "my 10 girl," so always --

11 Q. Did he tell you what the argument was 12 about?

13 A. No. I wasn't --

14 Q. And then you -- when you said it was 15 okay to stay at your house, did he then get in your 16 car?

17 A. Yeah. We went to my house.

18 Q. And you drove him to your house?

19 A. Yes, I did.

20 Q. And where is your house located?

21 A. Henderson, 1100 North Center Street.

22 Q. And when you got over to your house,
23 what did the defendant do?

24 A. Went to sleep.

25 Q. And when was the next time you saw the

1 defendant?

2 A. Well, the next morning.

3 Q. When you were in the car or in your
4 apartment before the next morning, so when you're 5 in your car the day before and in the apartment the 6 night before, does the defendant say anything to 7 you that was unusual?

8 A. Well, he did say something unusual when 9 I was -- I was on my way to pick up my son from 10 school, on my way out the door.

11 Q. Now, would it be the next day?

12 A. This is after the overnight, the next
13 day, yes.

14 Q. So the day before, he didn't say
15 anything unusual?

16 A. No, we didn't discuss. He was pretty
17 much quiet.

18 Q. Okay. Then the next morning, about what 19 time were you referring to?

20 A. The next morning between -- because I
21 went -- I went to the store, and he asked me to get 22 him some cigarettes. So it was about 9:00ish.
23 Early morning.

24 Q. He asked you to get cigarettes?

25 A. Yeah. He gave me the money, because I

1 was going to the store. I was like sure, you know.

2 Q. He had been smoking a lot of cigarettes?

3 A. Yeah.

4 Q. Did he have any breakfast?

5 A. No. He wouldn't eat anything. I
6 offered, but he wouldn't eat anything.

7 Q. So when you went to the store, did he 8 give you the money, or did you pay for the 9 cigarettes?

10 A. He gave me the money.

11 Q. Did he say why he didn't want to go to 12 the store himself?

13 A. No, he didn't. It wasn't even an issue
14 of him going because I was on my way. You know,
15 grab cigarettes.

16 Q. Then when you got the cigarettes, did
17 you come back to the house?

18 A. Uh-huh.

19 Q. What happened when you got back to the 20 house, and about what time?

21 A. I came right back, ten, fifteen.
22 7-Eleven's on the corner. Got his cigarettes and 23 just kind of like, just probably laid around, kick
24 back. I get my kids off to school. I -- I have 25 four kids. So once one's coming out, the other one

1 is going in. I'm pretty busy with my kids. And
2 when I was going to take my second, my oldest son,
3 to school, that's when I was -- when A.I. made the 4 statement like he had a dream that --

5 Q. Now, what time was that, about?

6 A. 3:00, 3:15.

7 Q. In the afternoon?

8 A. My son get out of school at 3:21.

9 Q. So about 3:15 in the afternoon?

10 A. That's when I was coming to go get my 11 son from school.

12 Q. And that would be the next day, on the 13 28th?

14 A. Yeah, I suppose.

15 Q. What is it that the defendant told you?

16 A. Well, when I was on my way out the door,
17 he had made a statement, said, I had a dream that I
18 killed three people over some weed. And I just 19 thought nothing of it and, you know.

20 Q. What did you say to him?

21 A. You crazy. That's what I said.

22 Q. Did he say anything else?

23 A. No.

24 Q. What did you do?

25 A. Walk out the door, went and got my son

1 from school. Then when I came back, he was gone.

2 Q. About how long were you gone?

3 A. About ten, fifteen minutes.

4 Q. Now, when you saw the defendant, what
5 did his hair look like?

6 A. Braids, long braids.

7 Q. How long did they go?

8 A. They pretty long, shoulder length.

9 Q. Shoulder length braids?

10 A. He had long hair.

11 Q. And today, the defendant's hair, is that 12 how it looked when you saw him?

13 A. No. He had long hair when I saw him.

14 MS. PANDUKHT: I'll pass the witness.

15 THE COURT: Cross.

16

17 CROSS-EXAMINATION

18 BY MR. BROOKS:

19 Q. Ms. Richards?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. You talked about how you had lived in 22 that apartment complex roughly two years before;
23 correct?

24 A. Right.

25 Q. But you didn't know Mr. Budd two years

1 before?

2 A. No.

3 Q. How long had you known Mr. Budd?

4 A. Couple -- for a while. My sister been
5 living over there about a year and a half. So
6 about a year or so.

7 Q. So you had known Mr. Budd for roughly a
8 year?

9 A. I mean, I know -- I mean, I know him. I
10 mean, I don't know him, know him, to be like family
11 know him, but I know him. I know a lot of guys.

12 Q. You had hung out with him for almost a
13 year?

14 A. No, not hung out with him.

15 Q. He was a friend of yours?

16 A. I -- if I see him, Hey. You know,
17 What's up? I know him.

18 Q. But he was around that area for roughly 19 a year?

20 A. I couldn't tell you where he was at. I
21 just know that when I go over there, I would see 22 A.I., just like anybody else, and say what's up to 23 him, play ball, whatever.

24 Q. And you had been doing this for almost a
25 year?

1 A. Yeah. My sister lives over there.

2 Q. But, I mean, you had been doing this
3 with him, saying hello to him --

4 A. Yeah.

5 Q. -- for almost a year?

6 A. Yeah.

7 Q. And you had been playing ball with him
8 for almost a year?

9 A. Well, not -- no, I ain't been playing
10 ball with him for almost a year, but I play ball
11 with different people, but I play ball with him
12 before, yes.

13 Q. How long had you been playing ball with 14 him?

15 A. Off and on, year. You could say that.

16 Q. A year?

17 A. Yeah.

18 Q. So you had hung out with him there in 19 the apartment complex?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. Did you ever see him smoking marijuana?

22 A. No.

23 Q. Did you ever see him with marijuana?

24 A. No.

25 Q. Had you ever smoked marijuana with him?

1 A. No.

2 Q. Ever drunk alcohol with him?

3 A. No.

4 Q. Had you been around the 26th at all?

5 A. No.

6 Q. On the 27th, when you picked him up, did

7 you know, had you heard anything about what had

8 happened on the 26th?

9 A. No. I'm too busy. I got four kids.

10 Q. You didn't even know about the shooting?

11 A. Had no idea.

12 Q. So when he says that he had this dream

13 about killing three people --

14 A. Uh-huh.

15 Q. -- did you ask him any questions about

16 it?

17 A. No. I just told him he was crazy, it's

18 a dream.

19 Q. When you picked him up on the 27th --

20 A. Uh-huh.

21 Q. -- did it appear he had been drinking?

22 A. No.

23 Q. Did he show any signs of being high?

24 A. He showed signs of being nervous,

25 smoking.

1 Q. Nervous?

2 A. Smoking all them cigarettes.

3 MR. BROOKS: I'll pass the witness.

4 THE COURT: Redirect?

5 MS. PANDUKHT: No.

6 THE COURT: And is Ms. Richards free to 7 go, or do you want her to remain outside?

8 MS. PANDUKHT: She's free to go.

9 THE COURT: You're free to go. Please
10 do not discuss your testimony. We should be 11 finished within an hour. But thank you for 12 testifying and waiting.

13 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

14 THE COURT: Welcome.

15 State's next witness?

16 MR. SCHWARTZ: Winston Budd.

17 THE CLERK: Raise your right hand,
18 please.

19
20 Thereupon--

21 WINSTON BUDD
22 was called as a witness and sworn to testify to the 23 truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

24
25 THE CLERK: You can be seated.

1                   Would you state your first and last
2 name, spelling them both for the record.

3                   THE WITNESS: Winston Budd.

5                   DIRECT EXAMINATION

6 BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

7                   Q. Mr. Budd, I'm going to ask you a few
8 questions, and then Mr. Brooks will ask you some 9 questions. We'd appreciate it if you answer slowly
10 and speak into this microphone so everybody can 11 hear what you're saying.

12                  Mr. Budd, do you know Glenford Budd?

13                  A. Yes, sir.

14                  Q. And do you see Glenford Budd in the 15 courtroom today?

16                  A. Yes, sir.

17                  Q. Could you point to where he is and 18 describe what he's wearing today?

19                  A. A blue outfit.

20                  MR. SCHWARTZ: May the record reflect
21 the identification of the defendant, your Honor?

22                  THE COURT: That will be noted.

23                  MR. SCHWARTZ: Thank you.

24 BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

25                  Q. How is it that you know the defendant?

1 A. My nephew.

2 Q. And do you know the defendant by any
3 other name besides Glenford?

4 A. Junior.

5 Q. Junior, okay.

6 Let me direct your attention now to 7 Tuesday, May 27th, 2003 at about 3:30 in the 8 morning.

9 Did you receive a phone call from your
10 brother Kirk?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. Without telling us what Kirk said to you
13 on the phone, as a result of that phone call, did
14 you become concerned regarding your nephew Junior?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. Okay. Now, let me direct your attention
17 to May the 27th -- that's Tuesday -- at about 11:00
18 o'clock in the morning.

19 Did you receive a phone call from the 20 defendant, your nephew?

21 A. Yes.

22 THE COURT: Wait a second. Let me keep 23 this straight. 11:00 a.m.

24 Is this still the 27th?

25 MR. SCHWARTZ: Tuesday. Tuesday, yes,

1 your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Still the 27th?

3 MR. SCHWARTZ: Yes.

4 THE COURT: That's -- actually, I meant
5 to say Tuesday. Thank you.

6 BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

7 Q. Okay. What did the defendant tell you
8 when he called you at about 11:00 o'clock that 9 Tuesday morning?

10 A. He asked me to get in touch with their 11 mother to get some money so he could get out of 12 here.

13 Q. And what else did he say when you talked
14 to him on the phone this Tuesday morning?

15 A. He also told me that he needed me to 16 come pick him up.

17 Q. Okay. What did he say? What, if 18 anything, did he say regarding why he needed you to 19 pick him up?

20 A. Could you repeat that again?

21 Q. Sure.

22 Why did the -- why did your nephew need
23 you to come pick him up?

24 A. Because where -- where -- wherever he 25 was, the person didn't want him to stay there no

1 more.

2 Q. What did the defendant tell you about
3 any trouble he might be in?

4 A. Could you repeat it?

5 Q. What did the defendant say regarding 6 what possible trouble he could be in? What had he 7 done that caused you some concern?

8 A. I couldn't remember. He told me that he
9 went to get some money.

10 Q. Uh-huh.

11 A. Get some -- they was supposed to rob him
12 or something, or something. I don't remember
13 exactly.

14 Q. About 20 minutes ago, you and I spoke in 15 my office.

16 And you had a clear memory then, didn't
17 you?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. Why don't you tell us what your nephew
20 told you that Tuesday morning.

21 A. He told me that he went -- he told me
22 that they was trying to rob him.

23 Q. What did he do as a result of them
24 trying to rob him?

25 A. He said he shoot them.

1 Q. Okay. Did he tell you how many of them
2 he shot?

3 A. No.

4 Q. Did you ask him anything about the gun?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. What did you ask him?

7 A. I asked him where the gun at.

8 Q. What did he say?

9 A. He said he give it back to some friend.

10 Q. Did he mention the name of the friend
11 who he gave the gun back to?

12 A. No.

13 Q. Did he indicate what he was being robbed
14 -- robbed of when he shot them?

15 A. Weed.

16 Q. Weed?

17 A. (Nods head.)

18 Q. Do you know what weed is?

19 A. Marijuana. Same thing.

20 Q. Did your nephew, the defendant, indicate
21 where he was when he called you Tuesday morning?

22 A. Yes.

23 Q. Where did he say he was?

24 A. Henderson.

25 Q. Henderson?

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. Okay. Did there come a time when you
3 drove up to and went to Henderson to pick up your
4 nephew, sir?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. And would that have been the following
7 day, Wednesday?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. And when you picked up your nephew, the 10 defendant, on Wednesday, was he alone?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. Did he have anything in his hands?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. What did he have?

15 A. Plastic bag with some clothes.

16 Q. Could you notice anything unusual about 17 the clothes that was in the plastic bag?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. What did you notice about the clothes?

20 A. About the clothes?

21 Q. Yeah.

22 A. I didn't see the clothes. I only see in 23 the plastic bag.

24 Q. Was there anything different about your 25 nephew's appearance when you saw him on Wednesday,

1 as opposed to a day or two earlier?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. What was different about his appearance?

4 A. He cut -- cut his hair.

5 Q. Okay. Where did you -- once you picked
6 up your nephew on Wednesday, where did the two of 7 you go?

8 THE COURT: Mr. Budd, do you want some
9 water?

10 THE WITNESS: To get to my house.

11 BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

12 Q. And who was at your house when you and 13 your nephew arrived, sir?

14 A. My family.

15 Q. Okay. Did there come a time while you
16 were at your house with your nephew when the police
17 arrived?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. And was it obvious to you who they were 20 looking for?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. They were looking for your nephew?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. Did you make any suggestions to your 25 nephew as to what you thought he should do?

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. What did you tell him?

3 A. To turn his self in.

4 Q. What did he say to that?

5 A. He say he prefer to run.

6 Q. Did you talk to him about what possible
7 sentences he could receive?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. What did you say to him?

10 A. I say he could possibly get death or 11 life, life in prison.

12 Q. And what, if anything, did he say in 13 response to that?

14 A. Nothing.

15 MR. SCHWARTZ: I have no further
16 questions, your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Cross-examination.

18

19 CROSS-EXAMINATION

20 BY MR. BROOKS:

21 Q. Mr. Budd, you speak with an accent.

22 Are you from Belize?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. But you speak English, that's your 25 native language?

- 1 A. Broken English.
- 2 Q. Do you speak any foreign language?
- 3 A. (Shakes head.)
- 4 THE COURT: For the record --
- 5 THE WITNESS: No.
- 6 THE COURT: Thank you.
- 7 BY MR. BROOKS:
- 8 Q. You are Glenford's uncle.
- 9 Is his father your brother?
- 10 A. Yes.
- 11 Q. What's the name of his father?
- 12 A. Glenford Budd.
- 13 Q. And his father, Glenford Budd, lives in
- 14 Belize still?
- 15 A. Yes.
- 16 Q. How long was my client, A.I. or
- 17 Glenford, in Las Vegas before the shooting
- 18 occurred?
- 19 A. I think in December.
- 20 Q. I'm sorry?
- 21 A. In December.
- 22 Q. He came to Las Vegas in December?
- 23 A. Yes.
- 24 Q. Of last year?
- 25 A. Yes.

1 Q. So he's been here since December of 2 2002?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. So he's been here roughly six months?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. Was he living with you at your house?

7 A. No.

8 Q. Did he live at your house at all during 9 the six months?

10 A. No.

11 Q. Do you know where he was living?

12 A. With my brother.

13 Q. With your brother?

14 A. (Nods head.)

15 Q. What is your brother's name?

16 A. Kirk.

17 Q. Is that K-i-r-k?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. And he lives here in Las Vegas?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. Is that where my client was living
22 almost the entire six months, as far as you know?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. You've testified that when you picked
25 him up on Wednesday the 27th, his hair was cut;

1 correct?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. Prior to that day, when was the last
4 time you had seen him?

5 A. Memorial Day.

6 Q. I'm sorry?

7 A. Memorial Day.

8 Q. Memorial Day?

9 A. Uh-huh.

10 Q. And at that time on Memorial Day, his 11 hair was not cut?

12 A. No.

13 MR. BROOKS: Pass the witness.

14 MR. SCHWARTZ: No redirect, your Honor.
15 Thank you.

16 THE COURT: And Mr. Budd is free to go,
17 I presume?

18 MR. SCHWARTZ: Yes, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Mr. Budd, thank you for 20 testifying. You're free to leave. And please do
21 not discuss your testimony until the end of the 22 preliminary hearing. And thank you.

23 THE WITNESS: Thanks.

24 THE COURT: Welcome.

25 ///

1 Thereupon--

2 JAMES CHARLES VACCARO
3 was called as a witness and sworn to testify to the 4 truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.
5

6 THE CLERK: Please be seated.

7 Would you state your first and last name
8 and spell them both for the record, please.

9 THE WITNESS: My name is James Charles 10 Vaccaro, V-a-c-c-a-r-o.
11

12 DIRECT EXAMINATION

13 BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

14 Q. Sir, by whom are you employed?

15 A. By the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police
16 Department.

17 Q. In what capacity?

18 A. As a homicide detective.

19 Q. And how long have you been so employed?

20 A. About ten years now.

21 Q. Let me direct your attention to, I
22 believe it was May the 27th, in the early morning
23 hours of the 27th.

24 Did you have occasion to respond to 2895
25 East Charleston, Building 9, Apartment 2068?

1 A. 2068, yes.

2 Q. And what was your purpose in going to
3 that location on that date?

4 A. Myself and other members -- other
5 homicide detectives were requested to respond there
6 to investigate what started off as a double
7 homicide situation and then turned into a triple
8 homicide.

9 Q. When you arrived at or when you entered
10 -- strike that.

11 When you arrived in the area of 12 Apartment 2068, did you see any victims of the 13 homicide present at the location?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. And can you describe for the Court where 16 you saw these individuals?

17 A. Yes. The apartment complex is the 18 Saratoga Palms East, II apartment complex, and it
19 consists of some two-story apartment buildings.
20 The 2068 apartment that we were at was in Building
21 9, which was kind of in the south and east corner
22 of the complex. When I went up the stairs into the 23 apartment, I remembered entering the door. The 24 door faced the west. And the layout of the 25 apartment was such that the north bedroom was the

1 master bedroom and bathroom. And there was a
2 common area, living room, the central area of the 3 apartment, and two additional bedrooms were in the 4 southeast and southwest corners of the apartment.
5 The first deceased that I saw when I got to the top
6 of the stairs of 2068 was a black male who was sort
7 of in the corner by a closet out on a patio landing
8 and was later identified as the body of Jason --
9 Jason Moore.

10 Q. Let me show you -- let me interrupt you
11 for one moment.

12 (Whereupon, State's Exhibits 1-3 13 were marked for identification.)

14 BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

15 Q. Show you State's Proposed Exhibit I.
16 And if you can identify the individual depicted in 17 that proposed exhibit.

18 A. Yes. This is a photograph taken at the 19 coroner's office, but I recognize this individual.
20 This is the man that I saw on the patio landing
21 when I first arrived at the apartment.

22 Q. Who was identified to you as Jason
23 Moore?

24 A. Yes.

25 MR. SCHWARTZ: Your Honor, we move for

1 the admission of State's 1.

2 MR. BROOKS: No objection.

3 THE COURT: It will come in.

4 (Whereupon, State's Exhibit 1
5 was admitted into evidence.)

6 BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

7 Q. Please continue, Detective.

8 A. After I did a brief inspection of that 9 individual, I wanted to walk through the rest of 10 the apartment to see what I was up against there.
11 And so after I walked through the front door, I
12 come into the living room area, and I turned to the 13 left into the master bedroom -- and that was where 14 I found the door to the master bedroom partially 15 opened. And so that required me to step through 16 the small area, and there was a body of another
17 black male on the floor that was preventing the 18 door from opening all the way. This man I came to 19 know to be Da'Jon Jones.

20 Q. Let me show you State's Proposed Exhibit
21 2 and ask if you're able to identify the individual
22 depicted in that exhibit?

23 A. Yes. This is a photograph taken at the 24 coroner's office of that young black male that I
25 came to know him as Da'Jon Jones.

1 MR. SCHWARTZ: Your Honor, the State
2 would move for the admission of State's Proposed
3 Exhibit 2.

4 MR. BROOKS: No objection.

5 THE COURT: It will come in.

6 (Whereupon, State's Exhibit 2
7 Was admitted into evidence.)

8 BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

9 Q. Detective, did you locate an area within 10 that apartment where there was evidence of perhaps 11 yet another victim having been present at that 12 location?

13 A. Yes, I did.

14 Q. Can you tell the Court about that?

15 A. Yes. Proceeding to the south in the 16 apartment, towards those other two bedrooms that I
17 talked about -- a common hallway that connected
18 those two bedrooms -- on the floor in that hallway,
19 I found a very large pool of blood, which was 20 consistent with the location of where I would have 21 believed the third victim would have been. I found 22 ballistic evidence at this location. And I also 23 learned from detectives that were present that this 24 was where they had found that person before he was 25 evacuated by ambulance to the hospital.

1 Q. Did you subsequently learn the identity
2 of the third individual?

3 A. Yes. This would be a black male who I
4 learned was identified as Derrick Jones.

5 Q. In connection with this investigation,
6 did there come a subsequent time when you attended
7 the autopsy of all three individuals?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. And let me show you State's Proposed
10 Exhibit 3 and ask if you recognize the individual
11 depicted in that exhibit?

12 A. Yes. This is Derrick Jones.

13 MR. SCHWARTZ: Your Honor, the State
14 would move for the admission of State's Proposed
15 Exhibit 3.

16 MR. BROOKS: No objection.

17 THE COURT: It will come in, as well as
18 Exhibit 2.

19 (Whereupon, State's Exhibit 3
20 was admitted into evidence.)

21 MR. SCHWARTZ: Thank you, your Honor.

22 BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

23 Q. Now, Detective Vaccaro, let me direct
24 your attention to May the 29th.

25 Did you have an occasion to have a brief

1 conversation with an individual identified to you
2 perhaps as Glenford Budd?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. Do you see that individual in the
5 courtroom today?

6 A. Sure. He's next to Mr. Brooks here with 7 blue jail clothing on.

8 MR. SCHWARTZ: Record reflect
9 identification of the defendant, your Honor?

10 THE COURT: That will be noted.

11 BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

12 Q. And where did that conversation take 13 place?

14 A. It took place there within the Clark
15 County Detention Center.

16 Q. Who was present during the conversation?

17 A. Myself and my partner, Detective Marty
18 Wildman.

19 Q. Prior to your conversation with the 20 defendant, had you advised him of his 21 constitutional rights per the Miranda decision?

22 A. Yes, I did.

23 Q. How did you go about doing that, from 24 memory or through a card?

25 A. I -- I believe I read it from a card on

1 this occasion.

2 Q. And did the defendant indicate to you
3 whether or not he understood his rights?

4 A. Yes, he certainly did.

5 Q. Did you have a brief conversation with 6 him?

7 A. Yes, I did.

8 Q. What did he say?

9 A. During the conversation, I explained to 10 him that we had a lot of information about the case
11 and that it would be in his best interest if he 12 tried to explain what happened.

13 He told me that he was present at 14 Apartment 2068 on the night of the shooting. He 15 said that he had gone there because there was a 16 dispute between he and other occupants of the 17 apartment about some marijuana. He said a half a 18 pound of marijuana. I asked him specifically about 19 who was present, and he named the three victims.
20 He named himself. And then he named another young 21 man that I know as Lazon Jones, but I think he 22 called him a different name. I think he referred 23 to a street name or nickname.

24 Q. Would that have been Casper?

25 A. Yeah, I think it was Casper. And I

1 asked him again. So I said, There were only five
2 of you there? And he said yes. And then I said to 3 him, Well, if five people were there and three of 4 them are now dead and one has called the police to 5 report this, could you explain to me how you're
6 role fits into this? What did you do? Are you
7 responsible? And that was when he invoked and said
8 that he'd like to talk to a lawyer.

9 Q. So you had no further questioning after 10 that; is that correct?

11 A. That's right.

12 Q. Okay.

13 MR. SCHWARTZ: Court's indulgence.

14 BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

15 Q. Did the defendant, during this brief
16 conversation with you, indicate whether or not he 17 heard any gunshots?

18 A. Yes, he did.

19 Q. What did he say about that?

20 A. He said that he had heard a gunshot and 21 also ran from the apartment.

22 Q. Thank you.

23 MR. SCHWARTZ: I have nothing further,
24 your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Cross.

1 MR. BROOKS: No questions, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: And, Detective, I thank you
3 for testifying. You're free to go. Please do not
4 discuss your testimony with anybody until the end
5 of the preliminary hearing.

6 MR. SCHWARTZ: Your Honor, there's one
7 possible additional witness, but in view of the 8 hour, I think we'll just rest at this time.

9 MR. BROOKS: Court's indulgence, your 10 Honor.

11 MR. SCHWARTZ: I mean, just for today,
12 not rest.

13 THE COURT: That was going to be my 14 clarification.

15 So where does that leave us at this
16 stage?

17 MR. SCHWARTZ: Your Honor, we're going
18 to call Dr. Worell when she gets back from vacation
19 on our next court appearance here and then an 20 additional witness who has just recently been 21 discovered by the police. I had first found out
22 about her about 8:00 o'clock this morning. I think
23 Mr. Brooks probably found out about 8:30 or 8:45.
24 So we'd like to put her on as well.

25 THE COURT: And this was discussed in

1 chambers about the continuance for the new witness
2 as well as the coroner to be present.

3 And I forgot what you said about the
4 vacation time when the coroner would be back.

5 MR. SCHWARTZ: She's back this Friday,
6 but I think with everything, we thought Monday
7 would be best unless the Court's schedule is --

8 THE COURT: I'm sure Monday will be 9 busy, if it's been like the last few Mondays. But 10 we'll set it out and see what the schedule looks 11 like.

12 What about Tuesday?

13 MR. SCHWARTZ: The only day I'd ask is 14 not Tuesday. But Wednesday. Any day but Tuesday.

15 MS. PANDUKHT: Wednesday would be fine.

16 THE COURT: There's a case on Monday
17 that may be going for sure already. So let's do
18 Wednesday, June 25th.

19 And for the friends and family and 20 people that are in this courtroom, that will be at 21 10:00 o'clock, because we have our normal 9:00
22 o'clock calendar, and I don't know if anything will 23 be resolved or not resolved regarding the cases on.
24 But the earliest we'll get started, as you noticed
25 today, will be 10:00 o'clock, June 25th, 10:00 a.m.

1 This will be continued per agreement of the parties
2 and the Court.

3 And I know some of the witnesses are
4 outside. I told them not to talk about the case
5 during the prelim. And it's still pending. I told
6 one witness that it would definitely be going. I
7 forgot that we were continuing. I said she could
8 talk about it this afternoon.

9 MR. SCHWARTZ: The witnesses that we
10 find, we'll urge them not to discuss it.

11 THE COURT: All right. So we'll see you
12 back here a week from Wednesday, which would be,
13 once again, June 18th.

14 MR. SCHWARTZ: June 25th.

15 THE COURT: Wait. I'm sorry, June 25th
16 at 10:00 a.m. Thank you.

17 (Whereupon the proceedings concluded.)

CIRCUMSTANCES OF ARREST

That on May 27th 2003, Tuesday morning at approximately 0001 hours, the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department received several 911 emergency calls reference gun shots being fired in building 9, apartment 2068 at the Saratoga Palms Apartments II, located at 2895 E. Charleston Boulevard. One of the callers, a Lazon Jones, stated he was in the apartment when the shots were being fired. Lazon Jones stated his brother, along with two other friends were in the apartment with a man he knows as "A.I." Jones said when the shooting started he fled and he believed A.I. shot everyone in the apartment.

At the same time L.V.M.P.D. was receiving the 911 calls, two L.V.M.P.D. Gang Crimes Section Detectives, Detective Patricia Spencer and Detective Michael Wallace, were patrolling in the Saratoga Palms II apartment complex when the shots were fired. Detective Spencer heard the shots being fired and both Detectives Wallace and Spencer went to the area where she heard the shots. As they were en route, Detective Spencer noticed a black male juvenile, later identified as Lazon Jones, running from the area where the shots were fired. Detectives Spencer and Wallace were directed by citizens to apartment 2068 who informed the Detectives, "People are dead up there." Detectives Spencer and Wallace went up the stairs to apartment 2068 and could see the body of Jason Moore lying on the balcony in front of the door to the apartment.

Detectives Spencer and Wallace decided to enter the apartment to check for surviving victims, locate any suspects or witnesses and to secure the crime scene. Both Detectives stated as they entered the apartment they could still smell and see smoke from the gunfire. Upon further entry into the apartment, Detectives Spencer and Wallace discovered Derrick Jones lying on the hallway floor which led to the back bedrooms. Derrick Jones was suffering from several gunshot wounds including several gunshot wounds to the head, but was still alive at the time detectives entered the apartment. Detectives Spencer and Wallace discovered the body of 14 year old DaJon Jones lying on the floor of the master bedroom. DaJon Jones had gunshot wounds to his head and neck area. Detectives requested emergency medical services respond to the apartment.

Paramedics determined both DaJon Jones and Jason Moore were dead at the scene but had vital signs from Derrick Jones. Jones was subsequently transported to the University Medical Center.

At approximately 0100 hours, Detective Sergeant K. Manning contacted Detectives Vaccaro, Wildemann and Mesinar and requested they respond to a double homicide that could potentially turn into a triple homicide at 2895 East Charleston, apartment 2068. Homicide Detectives responded and it was decided Detective Vaccaro would work the crime scene along with Crime Scene Analysts and Detectives Wildemann and Mesinar would interview any potential witnesses.

Detectives Spencer and Wallace were able to locate Lazon Jones after back up officers arrived, (Lazon Jones was the person Detective Spencer saw running from the scene when they arrived.) Detective Wildemann and Mesinar conducted a taped interview of Lazon Jones. Jones informed Detectives he, his brother DaJon Jones and their friends, Derrick Jones and Jason Moore, were all in their apartment, apartment 2068, watching television on the evening of May 26th. A friend who Lazon knew only as "A.I." joined the four and was hanging out at the apartment but left to go get a drink. Lazon described "A.I." as a black male approximately 20 years old, 5'5" tall and a thin build. Lazon stated "A.I." was wearing a red "Clippers" jersey with the number 21 on it, a pair of blue jeans and a blue "doo rag". Lazon also stated "A.I." had shoulder length hair that was in braids. Lazon stated shortly before midnight "A.I." returned to the apartment and walked directly to the master bedroom where DaJon Jones was watching television. Lazon said DaJon was the only person in the bedroom at the time. Lazon said he was lying on a couch in the living room and Derrick and Jason were lying on the adjacent couch watching television when he heard two gunshots. Lazon stated he jumped up but Derrick told him to come back inside the apartment. Lazon said he told Derrick the gunshots were from inside the apartment and as he said that he heard one additional shot from inside the bedroom where DaJon and "A.I." were. Lazon said after he heard the third shot he heard the master bedroom door open so he ran out of the apartment and didn't look back.

Detective Wildemann asked Lazon if he has ever seen "A.I." carry a gun. Lazon replied he thought "A.I." was carrying a gun that evening because of the way he was walking. Detective Wildemann asked Lazon how "A.I." was walking and Lazon stated he was walking with his hand in his pocket as if hiding something.

Detective Wildemann asked Lazon why he thought "A.I." would shoot everyone in the apartment. Lazon stated earlier in the day on the 26th, Lazon, Derrick, DaJon, Jason and "A.I." were all playing basketball on the court inside the complex when "A.I." became extremely upset because he thought Derrick had stolen an unknown amount of Marijuana. Lazon stated "A.I." continued to accuse Derrick of the theft while he became more upset. (Other witnesses at the basketball court would later give the same story regarding the altercation between A.I. and Derrick)

Detectives Wildemann and Mesinar met with the mother of Lazon and Dajon Jones, Sheryl Jones. Mrs. Jones stated "A.I." had dated her daughter for a short period of time. Mrs. Jones had a Nextel phone and was able to contact her daughter in California with the walkie talkie option as Detectives stood by. Mrs. Jones' daughter stated "A.I.'s" name was

Glenford Anthony Budd. She further stated he had a tattoo of "Mr. Budd" on his arm, "Only God can judge me" on his back and his mother's name on his chest. Mrs. Jones' daughter further stated she thought "A.I." was staying with his Aunt and Uncle in building 12 in the Saratoga Palms II. She stated the apartment was an upstairs apartment and faced the pool. Mrs. Jones' daughter further stated "A.I." lived in Los Angeles, California and would probably head straight for the bus station and head back to L.A.

At approximately 0315 hours, Detective's Wildemann and Mesinar, along with Sgt. Manning went to building 12 of the Saratoga Palms II. Detectives observed there were four upstairs apartments in building 12 that faced the pool, one of which was apartment 2096. Detectives knocked on the door to apartment 2096 and contacted Rosalie Bishop. Detective Wildemann asked Miss Bishop if Anthony was living there and she replied "Glenn lives here." Detective Wildemann asked if Anthony was Glenn and Miss Bishop replied yes. Miss Bishop said Detectives could look in the apartment and see where Glenn sleeps. Detectives looked through the apartment and did not locate Glenn. Miss Bishop's husband, Kurt Budd, came out of the master bedroom and said Glenn Budd was his nephew and had been staying in the apartment since December. Miss Bishop took Detective Wildemann to where Glenn slept and showed him the duffle bag where Glenn kept his clothes. Detective Wildemann saw a luggage tag on the handle of the duffle bag from Greyhound Bus Lines. The tag stated the originating city was Los Angeles California and the destination was Las Vegas Nevada. The tag also had the name Glenn Budd written on it. Mr. Budd stated Glenn had left the house on the evening of the 26th and had not returned home.

At approximately 0415 hours, Detectives Wildemann and Mesinar drove to the Greyhound Bus Station located on Main Street in downtown Las Vegas, in order to try to locate Glen Budd. Once at the bus station Detectives spoke with Kim, a ticket agent for Greyhound. Kim stated she saw a subject matching Glenn Budd's description approximately 30 minutes prior to the Detectives arrival. Kim stated the subject walked into the bus station, hung out for a couple of minutes and then left. Kim described the subject as being a black male approximately twenty years old, and being short. Kim further described him as wearing a red jersey and blue jeans. Kim stated about 15 minutes prior to officers arrival the subject was seen entering the Nevada Casino located across the street from the bus station. Detectives went over to the Nevada Casino and contacted the bartender. When given the description of "A.I." the bartender stated a black male matching the description did indeed come into his bar about 15 minutes ago and sat down. The bartender stated the black male did not order a drink nor was he gambling so the bartender asked him to leave. Detectives checked the downtown area but were not able to locate Glenn Budd.

At approximately 0500 hours, Detective Wildemann learned Jason Moore had died at the University Medical Center as a result of his gunshot wounds he received earlier that night.

On May 28th, Wednesday morning at approximately 0930 hours, Detective Wildemann and Sergeant Manning attended the autopsies of DaJon Jones, Derrick Jones and Jason Moore at the Clark County Coroner's Office. Dr. Rexenne Worrell determined that all three victims died of multiple gunshot wounds and the manner of their deaths was homicide.

ON 5-29-03 AT APPROXIMATELY 1640 HRS., MEMBERS OF THE LAS VEGAS METROPOLITAN POLICE DEPARTMENT CRIMINAL APPREHENSION TEAM CONTACTED GLENFORD ANTHONY BUDD AT A RESIDENCE IN NORTH LAS VEGAS, NEVADA.

MR. BUDD IDENTIFIED HIMSELF TO THOSE DETECTIVES AS GLENFORD ANTHONY BUDD. DETECTIVES NOTICED HE HAD CHANGED HIS APPEARANCE BY CUTTING OFF THE LONG BRAIDED HAIR HE WAS SEEN WITH ON THE NIGHT OF THE MURDERS. THE C.A.T. DETECTIVES TRANSPORTED MR. BUDD TO C.C.D.C. WHERE THEY WERE MET BY HOMICIDE DETECTIVES WILDEMAN AND VACCARO. DETECTIVES MIRANDIZED MR. BUDD AND ASKED HIM IF HE WISHED TO TALK ABOUT WHAT HAPPENED IN THE APARTMENT. MR. BUDD SAID HE WAS PRESENT IN THE APARTMENT WITH JASON MOORE, DERRICK JONES, LAZON JONES AND DAJON JONES WHEN HE HEARD A GUNSHOT. MR. BUDD SAID HE AND THE OTHER FOUR WERE THE ONLY ONES IN THE APARTMENT AT THE TIME. HE SAID HE WAS THERE TO TALK TO THE OTHERS TO FIND OUT WHO HAD STOLEN ONE HALF POUND OF MARIJUANA

FROM HIM. HE SAID WHEN HE HEARD THE GUNSHOT HE RAN OUT OF THE APARTMENT DOWN THE STAIRS. HE SAID LAZON JONES ALSO RAN FROM THE APARTMENT. MR. BUDD SAID HE LOOKED UP THE STAIRS, BACK TOWARD THE APARTMENT DOOR, AND HE SAW JASON MOORE SITTING ON A BUCKET ON THE LANDING/PATIO IN FRONT OF THE DOOR. DETECTIVE ASKED MR. BUDD TO EXPLAIN HOW, OF THE FIVE PEOPLE THAT WERE IN THE APARTMENT, THREE WERE DEAD, ONE WAITED TO TELL DETECTIVES WHAT HAD HAPPENED, AND HE RAN AWAY.

MR. BUDD SAID HE WAS IN THE APARTMENT BUT DIDN'T SHOOT ANYONE. DETECTIVES ASKED MR. BUDD IF HE WOULD GIVE A TAPED STATEMENT ABOUT THE ABOVE STORY, AND HE SAID HE WANTED TO TALK TO A LAWYER.

DETECTIVES STOPPED THE QUESTIONING AND BOOKED MR. BUDD FOR 3 COUNTS OF MURDER U.D.W.

Detectives Spencer and Wallace decided to enter the apartment to check for surviving victims, locate any suspects or witnesses and to secure the crime scene. Both Detectives stated as they entered the apartment they could still smell and see smoke from the gunfire. Upon further entry into the apartment, Detectives Spencer and Wallace discovered Derrick Jones lying on the hallway floor which led to the back bedrooms. Derrick Jones was suffering from several gunshot wounds including several gunshot wounds to the head, but was still alive at the time detectives entered the apartment. Detectives Spencer and Wallace discovered the body of 14 year old DaJon Jones lying on the floor of the master bedroom. DaJon Jones had gunshot wounds to his head and neck area. Detectives requested emergency medical services respond to the apartment.

Paramedics determined both DaJon Jones and Jason Moore were dead at the scene but had vital signs from Derrick Jones. Jones was subsequently transported to the University Medical Center.

At approximately 0100 hours, Detective Sergeant K. Manning contacted Detectives Vaccaro, Wildemann and Mesinar and requested they respond to a double homicide that could potentially turn into a triple homicide at 2895 East Charleston, apartment 2068. Homicide Detectives responded and it was decided Detective Vaccaro would work the crime scene along with Crime Scene Analysts and Detectives Wildemann and Mesinar would interview any potential witnesses.

Detectives Spencer and Wallace were able to locate Lazon Jones after back up officers arrived, (Lazon Jones was the person Detective Spencer saw running from the scene when they arrived.) Detective Wildemann and Mesinar conducted a taped interview of Lazon Jones. Jones informed Detectives he, his brother DaJon Jones and their friends, Derrick Jones and Jason Moore; were all in their apartment, apartment 2068, watching television on the evening of May 26th. A friend who Lazon knew only as "A.I." joined the four and was hanging out at the apartment but left to go get a drink. Lazon described "A.I." as a black male approximately 20 years old, 5'5" tall and a thin build. Lazon stated "A.I." was wearing a red "Clippers" jersey with the number 21 on it, a pair of blue jeans and a blue "doo rag". Lazon also stated "A.I." had shoulder length hair that was in braids. Lazon stated shortly before midnight "A.I." returned to the apartment and walked directly to the master bedroom where DaJon Jones was watching television. Lazon said DaJon was the only person in the bedroom at the time. Lazon said he was lying on a couch in the living room and Derrick and Jason were lying on the adjacent couch watching television when he heard two gunshots. Lazon stated he jumped up but Derrick told him to come back inside the apartment. Lazon said he told Derrick the gunshots were from inside the apartment and as he said that he heard one additional shot from inside the bedroom where DaJon and "A.I." were. Lazon said after he heard the third shot he heard the master bedroom door open so he ran out of the apartment and didn't look back.

Detective Wildemann asked Lazon if he has ever seen "A.I." carry a gun. Lazon replied he thought "A.I." was carrying a gun that evening because of the way he was walking. Detective Wildemann asked Lazon how "A.I." was walking and Lazon stated he was walking with his hand in his pocket as if hiding something.

Detective Wildemann asked Lazon why he thought "A.I." would shoot everyone in the apartment. Lazon stated earlier in the day on the 26th, Lazon, Derrick, DaJon, Jason and "A.I." were all playing basketball on the court inside the complex when "A.I." became extremely upset because he thought Derrick had stolen an unknown amount of Marijuana. Lazon stated "A.I." continued to accuse Derrick of the theft while he became more upset. (Other witnesses at the basketball court would later give the same story regarding the altercation between A.I. and Derrick)

Detectives Wildemann and Mesinar met with the mother of Lazon and DaJon Jones, Sheryl Jones. Mrs. Jones stated "A.I." had dated her daughter for a short period of time. Mrs. Jones had a Nextel phone and was able to contact her daughter in California with the walkie talkie option as Detectives stood by. Mrs. Jones' daughter stated "A.I.'s" name was

Glenford Anthony Budd. She further stated he had a tattoo of "Mr. Budd" on his arm, "Only God can judge me" on his back and his mother's name on his chest. Mrs. Jones' daughter further stated she thought "A.I." was staying with his Aunt and Uncle in building 12 in the Saratoga Palms II. She stated the apartment was an upstairs apartment and faced the pool. Mrs. Jones' daughter further stated "A.I." lived in Los Angeles, California and would probably head straight for the bus station and head back to L.A.

At approximately 0315 hours, Detective's Wildemann and Mesinar, along with Sgt. Manning went to building 12 of the Saratoga Palms II. Detectives observed there were four upstairs apartments in building 12 that faced the pool, one of which was apartment 2096. Detectives knocked on the door to apartment 2096 and contacted Rosalie Bishop. Detective Wildemann asked Miss Bishop if Anthony was living there and she replied "Glenn lives here." Detective Wildemann asked if Anthony was Glenn and Miss Bishop replied yes. Miss Bishop said Detectives could look in the apartment and see where Glenn sleeps. Detectives looked through the apartment and did not locate Glenn. Miss Bishop's husband, Kurt Budd, came out of the master bedroom and said Glenn Budd was his nephew and had been staying in the apartment since December. Miss Bishop took Detective Wildemann to where Glenn slept and showed him the duffle bag where Glenn kept his clothes. Detective Wildemann saw a luggage tag on the handle of the duffle bag from Greyhound Bus Lines. The tag stated the originating city was Los Angeles California and the destination was Las Vegas Nevada. The tag also had the name Glenn Budd written on it. Mr. Budd stated Glenn had left the house on the evening of the 26th and had not returned home.

At approximately 0415 hours, Detectives Wildemann and Mesinar drove to the Greyhound Bus Station located on Main Street in downtown Las Vegas, in order to try to locate Glen Budd. Once at the bus station Detectives spoke with Kim, a ticket agent for Greyhound. Kim stated she saw a subject matching Glenn Budd's description approximately 30 minutes prior to the Detectives arrival. Kim stated the subject walked into the bus station, hung out for a couple of minutes and then left. Kim described the subject as being a black male approximately twenty years old, and being short. Kim further described him as wearing a red jersey and blue jeans. Kim stated about 15 minutes prior to officers arrival the subject was seen entering the Nevada Casino located across the street from the bus station. Detectives went over to the Nevada Casino and contacted the bartender. When given the description of "A.I." the bartender stated a black male matching the description did indeed come into his bar about 15 minutes ago and sat down. The bartender stated the black male did not order a drink nor was he gambling so the bartender asked him to leave. Detectives checked the downtown area but were not able to locate Glenn Budd.

At approximately 0500 hours, Detective Wildemann learned Jason Moore had died at the University Medical Center as a result of his gunshot wounds he received earlier that night.

On May 28th, Wednesday morning at approximately 0930 hours, Detective Wildemann and Sergeant Manning attended the autopsies of DaJon Jones, Derrick Jones and Jason Moore at the Clark County Coroner's Office. Dr. Rexenne Worrell determined that all three victims died of multiple gunshot wounds and the manner of their deaths was homicide.

ON 5-29-03 AT APPROXIMATELY 1640 HRS., MEMBERS OF THE LAS VEGAS METROPOLITAN POLICE DEPARTMENT CRIMINAL APPREHENSION TEAM CONTACTED GLENFORD ANTHONY BUDD AT A RESIDENCE IN NORTH LAS VEGAS, NEVADA.

MR. BUDD IDENTIFIED HIMSELF TO THOSE DETECTIVES AS GLENFORD ANTHONY BUDD. DETECTIVES NOTICED HE HAD CHANGED HIS APPEARANCE BY CUTTING OFF THE LONG BRAIDED HAIR HE WAS SEEN WITH ON THE NIGHT OF THE MURDERS. THE C.A.T. DETECTIVES TRANSPORTED MR. BUDD TO C.C.D.C. WHERE THEY WERE MET BY HOMICIDE DETECTIVES WILDEMAN AND VACCARO. DETECTIVES MIRANDIZED MR. BUDD AND ASKED HIM IF HE WISHED TO TALK ABOUT WHAT HAPPENED IN THE APARTMENT. MR. BUDD SAID HE WAS PRESENT IN THE APARTMENT WITH JASON MOORE, DERRICK JONES, LAZON JONES AND DAJON JONES WHEN HE HEARD A GUNSHOT. MR. BUDD SAID HE AND THE OTHER FOUR WERE THE ONLY ONES IN THE APARTMENT AT THE TIME. HE SAID HE WAS THERE TO TALK TO THE OTHERS TO FIND OUT WHO HAD STOLEN ONE HALF POUND OF MARIJUANA

FROM HIM. HE SAID WHEN HE HEARD THE GUNSHOT HE RAN OUT OF THE APARTMENT. DOWN THE STAIRS. HE SAID LAZON JONES ALSO RAN FROM THE APARTMENT. MR. BUDD SAID HE LOOKED UP THE STAIRS, BACK TOWARD THE APARTMENT DOOR, AND HE SAW JASON MOORE SITTING ON A BUCKET ON THE LANDING/PATIO IN FRONT OF THE DOOR. DETECTIVE ASKED MR. BUDD TO EXPLAIN HOW, OF THE FIVE PEOPLE THAT WERE IN THE APARTMENT, THREE WERE DEAD, ONE WAITED TO TELL DETECTIVES WHAT HAD HAPPENED, AND HE RAN AWAY.

MR. BUDD SAID HE WAS IN THE APARTMENT BUT DIDN'T SHOOT ANYONE. DETECTIVES ASKED MR. BUDD IF HE WOULD GIVE A TAPED STATEMENT ABOUT THE ABOVE STORY, AND HE SAID HE WANTED TO TALK TO A LAWYER.

DETECTIVES STOPPED THE QUESTIONING AND BOOKED MR. BUDD FOR 3 COUNTS OF MURDER W.D.W.

5 THE COURT: For the record, Glenford
6 Budd, 3F 9137X.

7 MR. BROOKS: Judge, Howard Brooks on
8 behalf of Mr. Budd. Originally, Judge, there were 9 three cameramen here, one from Channel 3, one from 10 Channel 8, one from Channel 13. Channel 8 is the 11 only channel that filed the notice required by the 12 statute, and so I brought that to the Court's 13 attention.

14 THE COURT: And my bailiff informed the 15 cameramen as well as the photographers. There's no
16 objection to the still photography. Also there was 17 an objection because 3 and 13 did not file on time.
18 And 8 is present.

19 And, also, Mr. Schwartz?

20 MR. SCHWARTZ: Schwartz.

21 THE COURT: Schwartz wanted to say not 22 to have the witnesses photographs or have -- and 23 that goes for the still photographs as well as the 24 video, for redacting or dedacting, whichever word
25 we're supposed to use.

1                   And as soon as Mr. Budd comes back,
2                   we'll get started.

3                   And when we get started, who will the 4                   State's first witness be?

5                   MR. SCHWARTZ: Lazon Jones.

6                   THE COURT: Mr.? Or is it Mr. or Mrs.?

7                   MR. SCHWARTZ: Mr.

8                   THE COURT: Mr. Jones, you'll be the 9                   first witness to come up. All the other witnesses
10                  will go outside, and we'll just wait. Remain
11                  seated.

12                  MR. BROOKS: For the record, Judge, the 13                  defense does invoke the exclusionary rule.

14                  THE COURT: The exclusionary rule is 15                  invoked.

16                  THE COURT: This is 3F 9137X, Glenford
17                  Budd. He's present in custody. Mr. Brooks
18                  representing him. Mr. Schwartz for the State and 19                  Ms. Pandukht for the State as well.

20                  Tell him to come in now; otherwise, he's 21                  going to have --

22                  MS. PANDUKHT: Well, until he finishes
23                  talking to her, we are not ready.

24                  THE COURT: He said it was resolved.

25                  MS. PANDUKHT: It was until he realized

1 there was an amendment made sometime back.

2 THE BAILIFF: He's not ready.

3 THE COURT: Actually, earlier in the 4 record, Mr. Brooks did request the exclusionary
5 rule.

6 And I believe you said Lazon Jones.

7 Mr. Jones, come up to the chair on my
8 right. We'll have you sworn in.

9 Once again, any witnesses that are 10 present, please have a seat outside.

11 And I presume they are outside?

12 MR. SCHWARTZ: Yes, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Raise your right hand.

14 THE BAILIFF: Raise your right hand.
15 Stay right there.

16

17 Thereupon--

18 LAZON JONES

19 was called as a witness and sworn to testify to the 20 truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth.

21

22 THE CLERK: Please be seated.

23 Please state your first and last name

13 Q. And yourself. So that's four of you.

14 You also mentioned A.I.; is that right?

15 A. Yes, sir.

16 Q. Do you see A.I. in the courtroom today?

17 A. Yes, sir.

18 Q. Could you point to where he is sitting
19 and describe what he's wearing today?

20 A. He's sitting to the right in front of 21 me, and he has on orange socks and a blue jumpsuit.

22 MR. SCHWARTZ: Could the record reflect
23 the identification of the defendant, your Honor?

24 THE COURT: That will be noted.

25 ///

1 BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

2 Q. Okay. Did you know the defendant by any
3 name other than A.I.?

4 A. No, sir.

5 Q. Okay. Did you know what A.I. stood for?

6 A. I assume what it stood for, but I
7 never --

8 Q. What did you think it stood for?

9 A. Allen Iverson.

10 Q. And he's a basketball --

11 MR. BROOKS: I'm sorry, I didn't hear
12 the answer.

13 BY MR. SCHWARTZ:

14 Q. You have to speak up.

15 A. Allen Iverson.

16 Q. Allen Iverson.

17 Now, shortly before midnight on May the 18 26th, could you tell the Court what happened?

19 A. What happened?

20 Q. In the apartment.

21 A. I was laying on the couch, and there was 22 a knock at the door. And Derrick answered the 23 door, and it was A.I. And he had came in,
24 supposedly coming back from the store from getting 25 a drink. And he wanted to use the bathroom, so he

1 walked in the room where my brother was at and
2 closed the door.

3 Q. Okay. Let's slow down for a second.

4 A.I. knocked on the door and came back
5 into the apartment?

6 A. Yes, sir.

7 Q. So he had left, you said, to get a
8 drink?

9 A. Yes, sir.

10 Q. Okay. And he asked to use the rest
11 room?

12 A. Yeah.

13 Q. The bathroom?

14 A. Yes, sir.

15 Q. What room did he then go into?

16 A. The master bedroom.

17 Q. And who was in the master bedroom?

18 A. My brother, Da'Jon Jones.

19 Q. Okay. Where were you located at this 20 time?

21 A. In the living room on the couch.

22 Q. And where was Derrick Jones?

23 A. In the living room on the other couch.

24 Q. And how about Jason Moore?

25 A. In the living room on the couch.

1 Q. Okay. So there's three of you in the 2 living room and your brother Da'Jon is in the 3 master bedroom?

4 A. Yes, sir.

5 Q. What happened after A.I. went into the
6 master bedroom?

7 A. He closed the door. And I heard two 8 gunshots. And I jumped up and ran to the door and 9 opened it. And I hesitated before I ran out, and I
10 ran when I heard the third shot from in the room.

11 Q. What door did you run to?

12 A. The front door.

13 Q. So you heard a total of three shots?

14 A. Yes, sir.

15 Q. What did you do after you got to the 16 front door?

17 A. After I got to the front door, I waited
18 for a minute to see if I'd hear anything. And then
19 I heard A.I. say -- after the first two shots, I
20 heard him say, Where my stuff at? And then I heard
21 another shot, and then I ran after that shot.

22 Q. Where did you run to?

23 A. I ran down the stairs into the back of 24 the building towards the 7-Eleven.

25 Q. And what, if anything, did you do when

1 you arrived at the 7-Eleven?

2 A. I called the police.

3 Q. Okay. Was that a 911 call?

4 A. Yes, sir.

5 Q. When you heard the first two shots after 6 the defendant had gone into the master bedroom, was 7 there anyone else in the apartment besides you the 8 defendant, your brother Da'Jon, Derrick Jones, and 9 James Moore?

10 A. No, sir.

11 Q. So only the five of you in that
12 apartment?

13 A. Yes, sir.

14 Q. As you were running to the 7-Eleven
15 store, did you hear any other gunshots?

16 A. No, sir.

17 Q. Did you see the defendant A.I. again
18 after he went into the master bedroom?

19 A. In the apartment?

20 Q. Yes.

21 A. No, sir.

22 Q. Did you see him -- okay.

23 How long have you known the defendant,
24 A.I.?

25 A. For about a month.

1 Q. Do you know if he lived in the same
2 apartment complex where you were living?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. He did live there?

5 A. Yes, sir.

6 Q. Did you ever play basketball with the 7 defendant?

8 A. Yes, sir.

9 Q. Did you play basketball with him earlier
10 that night?

11 A. Yes, sir.

12 Q. Were all the people who were in your 13 apartment at the time of the shooting also playing
14 basketball with the defendant earlier that night,
15 James, Derrick, and Da'Jon?

16 A. Da'Jon was not, but Derrick and Jason
17 was.

18 Q. Jason. I'm sorry, I said James.

19 Now, while you, the defendant, Jason,
20 and Derrick were playing basketball earlier that 21 night, was there any type of an argument between 22 the defendant and anybody else?

23 A. Yes, sir.

24 Q. What was the argument? Who was the 25 argument between?

1           A.    The first argument was between A.I. and 2   Derrick, because A.I. had asked him did he take his 3   weed.

4           Q.    Did he take his weed?

5           A.    Yes, sir.

6           Q.    And what do you think "weed" means?

7           A.    Marijuana.

8           Q.    Okay. What was the second argument
9   about?

10          A.    It was over a foul between him and Jason
11   while they were playing.

12          Q.    Jason. I'm sorry.

13                So there was a foul that occurred when 14   the defendant and Jason were playing basketball?

15          A.    Yes, sir.

16          Q.    And was the argument between the 17   defendant and Jason at that time?

18          A.    Yes, sir.

19          Q.    What was said?

20          A.    A.I. told Jason that he wasn't going to 21   fight him, he would put some slugs in him.

22          Q.    And that was over just a foul in a
23   basketball game?

24          A.    Yes, sir.

25          Q.    Now, earlier, you mentioned that there

1 was an argument over some weed?

2 A. Yes, sir.

3 Q. And who was that argument between?

4 A. Derrick and A.I.

5 Q. Did that take place also on the 6 basketball court?

7 A. Yes, sir.

8 Q. Did it seem to resolve or end
9 peacefully?

10 A. Yes, sir.

11 Q. And then was it after the basketball
12 game that the five of you went to your apartment?

13 A. Yes, sir.

14 Q. Did everything seem to be okay while the 15 five of you were in the apartment?

16 A. Yes, sir.

17 Q. And you said before the shooting had 18 occurred, the defendant had left to get a drink?

19 A. Yes, sir.

20 Q. Did he indicate where he was going to 21 get the drink?

22 A. To the store.

23 Q. How long was he gone before he came back
24 and knocked on the door?

25 A. Ten, fifteen minutes.

1 Q. And then how long would you say it was 2 from the time he entered the apartment till you
3 heard the shots coming from the master bedroom?

4 A. Two minutes at the most.

5 Q. Okay. You see the defendant in court
6 today?

7 A. Yes, sir.

8 Q. Does his appearance look any different
9 than from the time you saw him on May the 26th,
10 2003, when the shooting occurred?

11 A. Yes, sir.

12 Q. How does he look different?

13 A. His hair is cut. And he had more facial
14 hair on the side.

15 Q. Okay. Thank you.

16 MR. SCHWARTZ: I have nothing further,
17 your Honor. Thank you.

18 THE COURT: Cross-examination.

19

20 CROSS-EXAMINATION

21 BY MR. BROOKS:

22 Q. Is it Lazon Jones?

23 A. Yes, sir.

24 Q. How old are you, sir?

25 A. Sixteen.

- 1 Q. And your brother is Derrick?
- 2 A. Da'Jon.
- 3 Q. Da'Jon is your brother?
- 4 A. Yes, sir.
- 5 Q. How old was Da'Jon?
- 6 A. Thirteen.
- 7 Q. Derrick is not your brother?
- 8 A. No, sir.
- 9 Q. Is Derrick a brother of Da'Jon?
- 10 A. No, sir.
- 11 Q. But they both have the Jones last name?
- 12 A. Yes, sir.
- 13 Q. And you're not related to Jason Moore?
- 14 A. No, sir.
- 15 Q. Who actually lived in this apartment?
- 16 A. All of us lived there.
- 17 Q. The four of you lived there?
- 18 A. Yeah.
- 19 Q. My client did not live there?
- 20 A. No.
- 21 Q. You say my client lived in the same
- 22 apartment complex?
- 23 A. Yes, sir.
- 24 Q. Where did he live there?
- 25 A. I've never actually been to his

1 apartment, but I know he stayed in the complex.

2 Q. But so you don't know which apartment he 3 stayed in?

4 A. No, sir.

5 Q. Do you know who he lived with?

6 A. His aunt and uncle.

7 Q. Do you know their names?

8 A. No, sir.

9 Q. Was there anyone else that lived there,
10 that you know of?

11 A. No, sir.

12 Q. You say that you knew Mr. Budd for 13 approximately one month; correct?

14 A. Yes, sir.

15 Q. He was your friend?

16 A. Yes, sir.

17 Q. You hung out with him?

18 A. Yes, sir.

19 Q. And he hung out with Derrick, Da'Jon,
20 and Jason as well --

21 A. Yes, sir.

22 Q. -- for that month time?

23 A. Well, Jason haven't been there for a
24 month. He was there for at least two weeks before 25 it happened. He moved out there later, after we

1 moved out there.

2 Q. How long had you been in Las Vegas?

3 A. About a month.

4 Q. Where did you come from?

5 A. Hesperia

6 Q. I'm sorry?

7 A. Hesperia.

8 Q. Hesperia, California?

9 A. Yeah.

10 Q. Did you come here with your brother?

11 A. No.

12 Q. How long had your brother been in town?

13 A. He had came the same day, just the 14 following night. I got there before him.

15 THE COURT: Following night after you
16 got here originally?

17 THE WITNESS: The night I got there.

18 THE COURT: In Las Vegas?

19 THE WITNESS: Yeah. He came just later
20 on in the day.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 BY MR. BROOKS:

23 Q. So the four of you are living in this
24 apartment together?

25 A. Yes, sir.

1 Q. But only one of you, one of the four,
2 has only been here two weeks?

3 A. Yes, sir.

4 Q. And the other three have been in town
5 roughly a month?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. And during this time at the apartment
8 complex, you would hang out with Mr. Budd?

9 A. Yes, sir.

10 Q. As far as you know, was there any bad
11 blood between Glenford Budd and any of the other 12 three individuals?

13 A. No, sir.

14 Q. There was no bad blood between him and 15 you?

16 A. No, sir.

17 Q. Do you have a nickname?

18 A. Yes, sir.

19 Q. What is your nickname?

20 A. Casper.

21 Q. Casper?

22 A. Yes, sir.

23 Q. Did Derrick Jones have a nickname?

24 A. Not to my knowledge, no.

25 Q. Did Da'Jon James (sic) have a nickname?

1 A. No.

2 Q. What about Jason Moore?

3 A. No, sir.

4 Q. When you are that day playing basketball
5 earlier, what time were you playing basketball?

6 A. I don't really know, but the sun had
7 just started to go down. Late afternoon.

8 Q. Had the five of you been together
9 earlier that day?

10 A. Yes, sir.

11 Q. Had you been together most of the day?

12 A. Yes, sir.

13 Q. What had y'all been doing before the 14 basketball game?

15 A. Just at the house, kicking it, listening
16 to some music, playing dominos, rapping, just 17 regular activities.

18 Q. Were you drinking?

19 A. No, sir.

20 Q. Were you smoking your marijuana?

21 A. No, sir.

22 Q. Did you smoke marijuana with Mr. Budd
23 occasionally?

24 A. No, sir.

25 Q. You had never smoked marijuana with him?

1 A. No, sir.

2 Q. Had you ever seen any of your brothers
3 smoke marijuana with him?

4 A. No, sir.

5 Q. Had you seen Jason Moore smoke marijuana
6 with him?

7 A. No, sir.

8 Q. Had you seen Derrick James -- Derrick
9 Jones smoke marijuana with him?

10 A. No, sir.

11 Q. Had anybody been smoking marijuana that 12 day, of those five people?

13 A. To my knowledge, no, sir.

14 Q. And that's true for that evening as 15 well?

16 A. Yes, sir.

17 Q. So nobody is high?

18 A. No, sir.

19 Q. Nobody is using other drugs?

20 A. No, sir.

21 Q. Did y'all ever use other drugs with 22 Mr. Budd?

23 A. No, sir.

24 Q. You're playing basketball and there's a 25 conversation about weed.
