	MERIT	COURT REPORT	ring 3	23-4715

1	RENO, NEVADA; THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1994; 1:30, P.M.
2	-o0o -
3
4	THE COURT: This is the time set for the
5	preliminary hearing in the case of State of Nevada versus
6	Charles Joseph Maki.
7	MR. GRECO: That's correct, your Honor.
8	THE COURT: Let's see. Mr. Greco is here
9	representing the State this morning. Ms. Schmuck is here
10	from the Public Defender's Office representing Mr. Maki.
11	It's case number 62,921. In this case the
12	defendant is charged with, I believe, six counts of sexual
13	assault on a child under the age of 14 years, and it appears
14	to be five counts of lewdness with a child under the age of
15	14 years. Is that correct, Mr. Greco?
16	MR. GRECO: That's correct. The amended complaint
17	was filed yesterday, and
18	MS. SCHMUCK: Your Honor, I'm going to indicate I
19	have not seen the amended complaint.
20	THE COURT: Has he been arraigned on the amended
21	charges?
22	MR. GRECO: No. That was filed yesterday, so
23	we'll need to arraign him on the amended charges.
24	THE COURT: Ms. Schmuck, will you have your client
25	look at the amended complaint? Mr. Greco?

1 MR. GRECO: Your Honor, is there a copy in your file? 2 THE COURT: I have the amended complaint. 3 MR. GRECO: Is there an extra copy for the defense 5 in your file? No, I can have one made. 6 THE COURT: 7 MR. GRECO: Your Honor, I submitted two copies. THE COURT: Let me do this, while she looks at 8 that I'll have my bailiff make a copy of the amended 9 10 complaint. 11 MR. GRECO: In a nut shell, what the amended complaint changes from the original criminal complaint is it 12 13 adds one count of lewdness with a child under the age of 14, the dates are changed to broaden the period, and finally 14 15 stylistically on the top, although the under 14 allegation was made in the original complaint, I'd like to have it on 16 the actual heading and I've done that. 17 Those are the 18 changes. 19 THE COURT: All right. 20 MS. SCHMUCK: Your Honor, perhaps during this interim I'd like to indicate to the Court that Mr. Maki is 21 somewhat hard of hearing. He is wearing a hearing aid in 22 his left ear and does not have a hearing aid for his right 23 ear. He will let me know if he has problems with hearing, 2.4 25 and I'll let the Court know.

THE COURT: That's fine. All right. We have a 1 copy of the amended criminal complaint that has been 2 provided to the defendant. I have to sign one thing here. 3 Okay. We have the amended complaint before us in case 5 number 62,921. I guess Mr. Maki needs to be arraigned on б these charges as well. Let's see. For my own information 7 is the name correctly spelled in the amended complaint? 8 That's his true and correct name, is that right, Ms. Schmuck? 10 11 MS. SCHMUCK: That's correct, your Honor. THE COURT: For the record then, Mr. Maki, you are 12 13 charged in the amended complaint with six counts of sexual assault on a child under the age of 14 years and it involves 14 15 two persons by the name of Desiree M. and Summer M, and Counts VII through XI all charged lewdness with a child 16 under the age of 14 years with the same persons, Desiree M. 17 and Summer M. They are violations of NRS 200.366 and 18 201.230. Do you understand these charges, Mr. Maki? 19 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I do your Honor. 20 THE COURT: Okay. You have the right to have me 21 22 read this complaint to you in its entirety, but if you understand it, you can waive a reading. Do you want to 23

THE DEFENDANT: Yeah.

25

waive the reading?

1	THE COURT: All right. And for your information,
2	I guess the bail, Mr. Greco, is still at $80,000.
3	MR. GRECO: That's my understanding, yes, your
4	Honor.
5	THE COURT: It's not on the amended complaint, but
6	the bail will continue at $80,000 as set forth in the
7	original criminal complaint.
8	This is the time set for the preliminary hearing
9	on the amended criminal complaint that you have before you
10	this morning. So I guess we are ready to proceed.
11	MR. GRECO: The State is ready.
12	MS. SCHMUCK: The defense is ready.
13	THE COURT: How many witnesses do we have to call
14	this morning?
15	MR. GRECO: I have three, possibly four. The two
16	adult witnesses are in the courtroom. I'd like to have the
17	adults sworn in now, and we can't swear the children until
18	we establish competency.
19	THE COURT: If the two adults will stand, raise
20	your right hand and be sworn.
21	(The Court administered the oath to
22	the prospective witnesses.)
23	THE COURT: I guess we can go ahead and begin.
24	You can be seated.
25	MS. SCHMUCK: I'd ask the Rule of Exclusion be invoked. 1 The defense attorney has requested 2 THE COURT: that the witnesses be excluded from the courtroom until they 3 4 are called to testify. Please remain outside until you are 5 called and do not discuss the case among yourselves or any other persons until you are called to testify. 6 Call your first witness. 7 MR. GRECO: The first witness is Desiree Menees. THE COURT: If you will come up sit to my left. 9 10 DESIREE MENEES 11 12 having been called as a witness herein, was examined and testified as follows: 13 14 DIRECT EXAMINATION 15 BY MR. GRECO: 16 17 Would you tell us your name please. Q Desiree Menees. 18 Α How do you spell your first name? 19 Q D-e-s-i-r-e-e. 20 Α How do you spell your last name? 21 Q M-e-n-e-e-s. 22 Α Desiree, what grade are you in? 23 Q Fourth. 24 Α Desiree, I'm going to put the microphone right in 25 Q MERIT COURT REPORTING 323-4715 front of you, and I want you to talk right in front of it, 1 okay. Put you mouth right up to it. All right. Desiree, what grade are you in? Α Fourth. Desiree, do you know the difference between the 5 6 truth and a lie? 7 Α Yes. 8 Q What's the difference? Well, truth is when you tell your mom and dad if Α 9 you broke, like, a model. 10 If you broke a model and you told your mom and dad 11 that your little sister broke it, would that be a truth or 12 would that be a lie? 13 Α Lie. 14 Is the truth something that happened? 15 Q 16 Yes. Α Okay. What about a lie? Is a lie something that 17 Q 18 happened? 19 Α No. Okay. Desiree, if I told you this shirt I have 20 on-- Can you see it from there? If I told you this shirt I 21 have on is red, is that a truth or a lie? 22 A lie. 23 Α If I said you are a boy, is that a truth or a lie? 24 25 A lie. Α

Why is that a lie?
1
         Q
              Because I'm a girl.
2
              Okay. If Ms. Schmuck and myself ask you some 3 questions, will you tell us the truth?

 5

              Yes.

         Α
              Yes.
              MR. GRECO: Your Honor, at this point I ask she be 8 9 deemed competent.
              THE COURT: Ms. Schmuck?
10
              MS. SCHMUCK: No objection.
11
              THE COURT: All right. By stipulation she is 12
13 deemed competent to testify.
              MR. GRECO: Does this take care of the swearing in? Do we formally need to swear her in?
14
15
              THE COURT: Ms. Schmuck?
16
              MS. SCHMUCK: I have no objection if she is not 17 formally sworn in.
18
              THE COURT: I think basically her ability to tell 19 20
    the truth is sufficient, so go ahead.

15
         Q
              And in what room did you interview Desiree and Summer?
16
              We have an interview room that is attached to the 17
         Α
   youth services section. It's specifically equipped with a 18 19
    video camera and an audio monitor. It has an aquarium in it and stuffed animals and stuffed things. It's basically 20 designed to make the girls feel comfortable in that type of

```

1 Α No. Can you recall which of the girls you interviewed 2 Q 3 first? A Yes, I can. 5 Q Who was that? Α That was Desiree. 6 7 Prior to your going into that interview room did you ask the girls any questions about Charles Joseph Maki? 9 A Not at all. 10 Q All right. How did you decide which girl to interview first? 11 Both girls were brought down to the police 12 department by their father, Mr. Gary Menees. And at that 13 time when they arrived at the station, I asked them to all 14 have a seat in the briefing room in the police department. 15 16 It's a large room approximately the size of this room. At that particular time they sat there I'd say for 17 18 10 or 15 minutes while I equipped the room with a VHS videotape to capture the interview itself. 19 Upon entering the briefing room, Mr. Maki's name 20 was never mentioned to the girls. As a matter of fact, how 21 I approached the girls was I said, Who would like to go 22 23 first, and both of them pointed to each other. All right. Did you make the final decision? 24 Q 25 Α Actually I tossed a coin in the air and had one of the them call it, and whoever lost is who went first. 1 Who went first? 2 0 Desiree did. Α 3 How long did your interview of Desiree take? I would say approximately 20 minutes. 5 Α Who was interviewed next? 6 After her interview was concluded I returned her 7 Α back to the briefing room, and immediately when she sat down I took Summer with me and started her interview. 9 0 All right. And as you walked into that room with 10 11 Summer did you discuss the details of the case with her at al1? 12 13 Α Not at all. Had you met either of these girls before that 14 Q 15 date? Α Negative. 16 All right. Now, you mention that room was 17 equipped with video-tape equipment? 18 Yes, sir. 19 20 Was the interview videotaped? Q Yes, it was. 21 Α 22 Q At the conclusion of the interview did you remove the original videotape from the machine? 23 Α Yes, I did. 24 Did you check it to make sure it had accurately 25

56

57 recorded the interviews? Yes, I did. 2 Α MR. GRECO: I'd like to mark this. THE COURT: Sure. Do you want it on the tape or on the box? Your Honor, I think it's better on the 6 MR. GRECO: It's up to you, your Honor. 7 box. 8 THE COURT: Why don't I put it on the tape since the box could get lost. I'll do both. MR. GRECO: Thanks, Judge. I'd just like to be 10 able to store it in that later. 11 THE COURT: Okay. 12 (State's Exhibit A was marked for identification.) 13 BY MR. GRECO: 14 Now, Detective Stegmaier, showing you a box and a 15 Q videotape that's been marked as State's Exhibit A, will you 16 take a look at the writing on the exterior of the tape 17 itself? 18 Okay. 19 Α Whose writing is that? 20 Q It's my writing. 21 Α When did you record that writing? 22 Q Immediately after I had returned both girls. At 23 Α the conclusion of their interviews I ejected the tape after 24 checking it and labeled it with this label here. 25

58

Is that the videotape you removed from the machine 1 0 2 that day? Α Yes, it is. MR. GRECO: Your Honor, to let you and the public 5 defender know where I'm going to proceed, I plan on showing 6 the videotape of Summer only under the child hearsay statute, that's the foundation I just laid for it, and then 7 8 we are going to get into the interview of the suspect's alleged confession. I'm not going to show the videotape of 9 10 Desiree because she was 10 and so she didn't come under the statute. 11 THE COURT: All right. 12 So at this time I would ask that you 13 MR. GRECO: 14 tentatively admit the tape and let it be shown, the 15 interview of Summer, subject to any objection after it's 16 played. That's fine, your Honor. 17 MS. SCHMUCK: THE COURT: All right. Do you want to do that, 18 Mr. Greco, or do you want me to have my bailiff do that? 19 is probably better equipped to do that. Let me call him in. 20 21 MR. GRECO: I'll let your bailiff handle it. 22 Your Honor, I have the times on your unit based upon minutes and seconds. Do you know if that unit has a 23 24 minute and second --I don't think it 25 THE COURT: It has a counter.

Q It was at the beginning of Mr. Maki's interview so 6 I would say in about another five seconds you might be pretty good. 7 THE COURT: We'll see where we are at, and Pat 8 will help you locate her testimony. 9 10 THE WITNESS: I would say if you push play, you might be in good shape. 11 THE COURT: Okay. 12 THE WITNESS: It sounds like it went all the way. 13 14 THE COURT: Okay. You want it to play now? 15 MR. GRECO: Yes. Your Honor, the record should probably reflect 16 that we have now fast forwarded the tape to the beginning of 17 Summer Menees's interview with Detective Stegmaier which is 18 coming on the screen momentarily I believe. 19 THE WITNESS: You might want to fast forward for 20 21 about five seconds. There you go. THE COURT: Let me put it on pause. If your 22 23 client would like to stand near the TV set so he can hear 24 it, that will be fine. MS. SCHMUCK: Thank you, your Honor. 25

7	BY MR. GR	ECO:
8	Q	Detective Stegmaier, after you interviewed the two
9	girls did	you attempt to make contact with the defendant,
10	Charles M	aki?
11	А	Yes, I did.
12	Q	And where did you go?
13	А	I went to his residence which is located at 1015
14	Nevada St	reet in the City of Reno.
15	Q	Is that within Washoe County, Nevada?
16	А	Yes, it is.
17	Q	Did anyone go with you?
18	А	Yes, they did.
19	Q	Who went with you?
20	А	Detective John Bohach who was also seen on that
21	video acc	ompanied me over to Mr. Maki's house.
22	Q	Did you locate Mr. Maki at 1015 Nevada Street?
23	A	Yes, I did.
24	Q	Did you make contact with him?
25	A	Yes, I did.

1	Q Do you see Mr. Maki here in the courtroom?
2	A Yes, I do.
3	Q Would you point him out to the Court?
4	A Mr. Maki is wearing the orange coveralls there
5	seated at the defense table.
6	Q Did you identify yourself to the defendant?
7	A Yes, I did.
8	Q And what did you talk to him about?
9	A I found Mr. Maki working on his truck at the rear
10	of the apartment building located at 1015 Nevada Street.
11	Detective Bohach and I approached him. Mr. Maki 🗸
12	was with another gentleman. I asked Mr. Maki, after I
13	showed him my badge, if I could speak to him away from his
14	friend to avoid any embarrassment.
15	He stepped approximately 20 feet away, and I told
16	him I was a detective with the Reno Police Department and
17	that I was investigating a case involving where his name had
18	come up. I stated that I wanted to know if he would
19	voluntarily come with me to the Reno Police Department to
20	speak with me about it. I even offered at that time for him
21	to take his own truck.
22	Q Did you tell him When you asked him about going
23	down to the police department, did you tell him he was under
24	arrest?
25	A Just the opposite. I told him he was specifically

- not under arrest. And at that time he told me he was working on his truck so he would grab a ride with John Bohach and I.
- Q Did you explain to him that he had the right to not go down with you if he so desired?
 - A Yes, I did.

- Q Okay. And prior to starting the interview there at the police department did you again advise him regarding whether or not he was under arrest?
- A On the tape-- I had the tape started when I first entered the room with Mr. Maki while he was seated in the interview room. I again on tape reiterated the fact that he is not under arrest. In fact if he wanted to leave at that time, he could.
- Q All right. And during the ride over to the police department did either you or Mr. Bohach threaten the defendant in any way?

Basically it was Detective Bohach and I sat and listened to Mr. Maki who was very cooperative with us showing -- concerned that this whole incident was possibly in reference to a battery that he had been involved in one way or another, whether he was the victim or whatever that never came out.

At no time-- We kept telling Mr. Maki that we wanted to allow him the opportunity to review the police work we had, and we would explain and answer any questions that he had once we were at the police department in reference to what it was for.

- Approximately what time did the interview of Mr. Maki occur at the police department? 14
- 15 Α I believe it was approximately seven minutes after one on the 19th of January, 1994. 16
- And roughly how long did that interview last? Q 17
- I would say half an hour. 18 Α
- All right. And was that interview videotaped? 19
- Yes, it was. 20 Α
- And did you utilize the same VHS that you had used 21 Q for the girls? 22
- Yes, I did. Α 23
- Is that the same VHS tape that we saw a little bit 24 Q of here? 25

1	A Yes, it's on the original also. On the front part
2	after I had finished the girls' interview I wrote their
3	names. When Mr. Maki came down, I decided to use the same
4	tape. If you pull the tape out, you will see I wrote on the
5	center-console area of the tape. There is a label there. I
6	wrote Mr. Maki's interview was completed also on the same
7	date, the 19th.
8	MR. GRECO: Your Honor, at this time I ask the
9	interview of the defendant be played.
10	THE COURT: All right.
11	(State's Exhibit A, the videotape, was
12	played in open court.)
13	BY MR. GRECO:
14	Q Detective Stegmaier, do you know how much lag time
15	there is in this portion of the time before he comes into
16	view?
17	A I would say at this speed right now if it was fast
18	forwarded for approximately 30 more seconds, you will be
19	fine. When this tape goes off, the other one will follow.
20	MR. GRECO: Your Honor, while he is sitting there,
21	there are some more spontaneous admissions. They come
22	inadvertently. The total remaining running time of the tape
23	right now is ten minutes.
24	THE COURT: What I was going to ask is do you want
25	to break for lunch, and we can continue this at 1:30? I can

1	do it I can go ahead and continue
2	MR. GRECO: Your Honor, after the ten minutes of
3	the tape are played I have two or three more questions of
4	the detective and I'm done.
5	THE COURT: You don't have another witness to
6	call?
7	MR. GRECO: I decided I don't need to call the
8	fourth witness. He will be my last witness.
9	THE COURT: Let's see if we can go for another 15
10	or 20 minutes then.
11	(State's Exhibit A, the videotape,
12	was played in open court.)
13	MR. GRECO: Your Honor, can you stop the tape at
14	this point?
15	THE COURT: Stop it?
16	MR. GRECO: Yes, your Honor. At this point there
17	is another five or six minutes. In the interest of time I
18	don't want to play it. If Ms. Schmuck wants it played, I
19	have no objection to that.
20	THE COURT: Do you want to see the rest of the
21	tape?
22	MS. SCHMUCK: I'd like to see the rest of the
23	tape.
24	MR. GRECO: That's fine, your Honor.
25	THE COURT: All right.

MR. GRECO: Your Honor, they will leave the room 1 together in about twenty seconds, and there are two minutes 2 of blank space after that and that's the end of the tape. 3 THE COURT: Okav. 4 (State's Exhibit A, a videotape, 5 6 was played in open court.) BY MR. GRECO: 7 8 Q. What charges did you place the defendant under arrest for? 9 NRS 200.366, which is sexual assault, and NRS 10 201.230, lewdness with a minor under the age of 14. 11 All right. And why about two thirds of the way 12 through the tape did you Mirandize the defendant? Why did 13 you do it at that point? 14 Up to that point Mr. Maki, which I mentioned 15 Α several times to him on the tape, had been free to leave. 16 At that particular point I felt Mr. Maki was no longer free 17 to leave, and I wanted him to stay there and answer further 18 questioning. At that time I decided to advise him of his 19 Miranda rights. 20 Why did you decide he was not free to leave? 21 Q Because in my mind I had enough to place him under 22 Α 23 arrest. Because of all the admissions he had made up to 24 Q 25 that point?

67

1	A Correct.
2	MR. GRECO: I know earlier I asked the tape be
3	admitted. At this time I move for the tape's admission for
4	purposes of this preliminary hearing.
5	THE COURT: All right. Ms. Schmuck, any
6	objection?
7	MS. SCHMUCK: Your Honor, I would Actually, I'm
8	going to object to the admission of the portion of the tape
9	showing Summer because I think that's cumulative. We have
10	had the child here. You had the chance to see the child. I
11	don't see any reason why the tape of the interview with her
12	should be admitted. I have no objection to the other tape.
13	THE COURT: Other portion?
14	MS. SCHMUCK: Right.
15	MR. GRECO: When the legislature accepted the
16	child hearsay statute, it says if you satisfy the
17	trustworthiness requirements, it can come in whether the
18	child testifies at the proceeding or even if the child is
19	unavailable, and I think it should come in. And it just
20	buttresses the State's case. And there was some additional
21	information on it that I did not ask her on the stand.
22	THE COURT: It may be cumulative, but under the
23	statute I will admit it as provided by law.
24	(State's Exhibit A was admitted into evidence.)
25	MR. GRECO: Your Honor, I have no other witnesses, and that concludes the State's case.

              THE COURT: Did you want to cross-examine the 2 detective?
3
              MR. GRECO:
                         I'm sorry.
              MS. SCHMUCK: I would like to cross-examine.

   have some questions I'd like to ask, and I'll leave it to 6
    the Court's discretion if you wish to proceed after lunch.
7
              THE COURT: It might be better. It might be 8 better to break for now and continue at 1:30. Will that be 9 all right or possibly 1:15?
10
              MS. SCHMUCK: That's fine with me.
11
              THE COURT: Deputy, is that going to give you 12 enough time to do what you need to do?
13
14
              THE DEPUTY: If we go code three.
15
              THE COURT: Let's make it 1:30. Does that give 16 you enough time?
              THE DEPUTY: Yes, sir.
17
                          So at 1:30 we'll be all ready, or is
              THE COURT:
18 19
    that not enough --
              THE DEPUTY: Yeah, we can make it at 1:30.
20
              THE COURT: I don't know if we'll be here or in 21 another courtroom.
22
              The record will reflect I'm giving the tape back to Mr. Greco.
23
24
              MR. GRECO: We'll maintain custody of it.

22	A Yes, ma'am.

24	indicate to me what led you to ask that question?
25	A When I had Let me think. When I had asked

Summer on the tape about the tattoos-- This is Summer in particular rather than--

O Yes.

A Oh, the reason I asked that question was because I finished a case recently where one of the most distinguishing things that the girl in that case could remember was something that was very unusual in the penis area. And sometimes it is a tattoo, sometimes you use the word scar, anything at all unusual. And I'm looking for specifically in that area.

Q Okay. Thank you. This morning I-- I'm trying to remember-- Would you refresh my recollection in terms of your training in so far as dealing particularly with children and this type of crime?

A I've attended three post-certified academies which are each roughly 16 weeks in length courses, and those include talking with victims on sensitive issues such as rape and child molestation. Those victims being also sometimes children and women and people who may need special handling.

I've also have a two year administration degree in criminal justice which also will include classes on interview techniques. Most recently, as of I think November of 1993, I attended a 40-hour course on sexual assault investigations which included a special eight-hour block on children-interview techniques, non-leading questions, things 1 2 of that nature and a variety of things that are not as specific as those I just mentioned. 3 You also mentioned -- I think you mentioned 4 something about techniques or things you were taught to 5 indicate to you that a child would not be telling the truth? 6 7 Α Yes, ma'am. Could you indicate to the Court what some of those 8 9 indications might be? In my experience of interviewing children, usually 10 11 if in fact they are being very truthful, everything will 12 flow chronologically. There won't be parts that will be so 13 fantastic that you can tell they are in fact making them up. They are consistent, very consistent. 14 15 They are concentrating more on you and what's around them rather than what they are saying. 16 In other

They are concentrating more on you and what's around them rather than what they are saying. In other words, if I ask them a question, if they are truthful, the answer comes out again and again. I can ask it two hours later, and it won't change. They are not concentrating on what they are saying. Their eyes, to me, will be very scared, concerned and trying to concentrate on exactly what they are saying as opposed to— These two girls were just very, very, very spontaneous with their answers.

- Q Did you interview the children's father?
- A A formal-type interview, no.

6	A	No.
7		MS. SCHMUCK: I have no further questions.
8		THE COURT: Mr. Greco, anything further?
9		MR. GRECO: Nothing further, your Honor.
10		THE COURT: Thank you, detective. You are
11	excused.	That's the State's case?
12		MR. GRECO: That's the State's case.
13		THE COURT: Ms. Schmuck, have you advised your
14	client of	his right to testify in these proceedings this
15	afternoon	and call witnesses on his own behalf?
16		MS. SCHMUCK: Yes, I have discussed that with him,
17	your Honor	r. He has chosen not to testify, and we will not
18	be calling	g any witnesses.
19		THE COURT: All right. Do either of you wish to
20	argue the	case?
21		MR. GRECO: Your Honor, I'm going to move to
22	dismiss C	ount VI, which is the finger penetration of Summer
23	because o	f course there was no such testimony.
24		THE COURT: Right. I made a note that neither in
25	the tape 1	nor in the testimony was that covered.

MR. GRECO: Yes, your Honor. 1 2 THE COURT: Okay. Other than that, I would simply submit 3 MR. GRECO: 4 the case. 5 THE COURT: Let me make a note. I did compare the 6 tape to the in-court testimony and this is what I noted. 7 to Count XI, Summer testified on tape that this had occurred but it was not what I noted from the testimony. I think she said -- when you asked her, I think she said no to that 9 10 question as to that, but then on the tape she did indicate 11 that so there is some question. I will go ahead and--12 Because it is on the tape and it is admitted I will go ahead 13 and allow it so long as there was probable cause to believe this occurred. 14 15 MR. GRECO: That hearsay exception is it does 16 become substantive evidence, so--17 THE COURT: One other note, and then, Ms. Schmuck, 18 if you want to argue on it. On Count IV, I believe that 19 when Desiree was asked as to whether or not the defendant had inserted his finger into her vagina she said, No, he had 20 not placed it inside. 21 22 MR. GRECO: No, your Honor, that's not my memory 23 of the testimony. Summer said that, but Desiree -- I believe when she was asked again she said it went inside of her. 24 25 And I suppose we could have the reporter check that, but I'm almost certain of that. 1 2 THE COURT: Ms. Schmuck? MS. SCHMUCK: Unfortunately, I tend to believe the 3 representation made by the district attorney. That's what 4 5 my recollection is. That's what I remember hearing. THE COURT: I remember Desiree saying, if it was 6 7 her, that he wet his finger but he did not insert it. 8 MR. GRECO: No, your Honor, I think that was not Desiree, your Honor. 9 I think that was Summer. 10 THE COURT: Summer. Okay. 11 MR. GRECO: But in any event, I'm certain that Desiree said he inserted his finger inside her. 12 13 THE COURT: I guess if my recollection is faulty, it will be decided at the district court level. 14 15 Ms. Schmuck, did you have anything you wanted to argue in regard to the case? 16 17 MS. SCHMUCK: I'm planning to submit this, however, I would just ask the Court to consider that there 18 19 were discrepancies. And I think you are well aware of 20 those. I won't belabor them. I will ask the Court in light 21 of the fact of the videotape this morning to disregard the 22 comments of particularly what I would consider or what could be construed as prior bad acts on the part of Mr. Maki in 23 24 several different areas, but particularly with the ex-felon, 25 the drugs and the battery that was discussed. I ask the Court to disregard those. 1 I will. I focused only on the portion 2 THE COURT: of the tape that related to the charges that are facing 3 Mr. -- that Mr. Maki is facing. Based on the tape and also the testimony of the 5 detective and also Desiree and Summer, I will find that 6 7 there is probable cause to believe the defendant committed Counts I through V. Count VI is dismissed. And Counts VII 8 through XI I find that there is probable cause to believe 9 10 that those offenses were also committed and bind him over for trial in the Second Judicial District Court on all but 11 Count VI. 12 13 MR. GRECO: I neglected to mention one thing. regard to Count VII at line 25 it says, Said defendant 14 15 kissed the victim's breasts, referring to Desiree, and I would ask that be amended to sucked or kissed which I think 16 17 was the testimony. 18 THE COURT: She did say sucked. Okay. I'll make it sucked and/or--? 19 2.0 MR. GRECO: I'd like it sucked or kissed, your Honor. 21 THE COURT: Okay. All right. That's amended. 22 All right. Anything further? 23 MR. GRECO: No, your Honor. 24 25 THE COURT: Okay. We'll be in recess.

MS. SCHMUCK: Thank you, your Honor.

I'm sorry for the delay.

Your Honor, Mr. Maki has indicated to me his name is spelled correctly on line 12. He is aware of the contents of this Information and would waive a formal reading at this time.

Your Honor, we're prepared to go forward and enter not-guilty pleas to each of the 10 counts listed in the Information.

THE COURT: Okay. How long do you think trial will take?

MR. GRECO: Your Honor, I believe trial will take no longer than three days, and it's possible that we might finish in two.

THE COURT: All right. Is that--

MS. SCHMUCK: I would agree with that, your Honor.

Your Honor, I have also spoken to my client. We would be waiving the 60-day rule.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. GRECO: Your Honor, in this particular case, the State does not wish to waive its 60-day right under 174.511. The statutory right does apply equally to the State as well as the defendant. I'd like to move this case along.

It's not particularly complicated for a sexual assault. There's no psych testimony in this case. It's just a matter of two little girls testifying, an alleged confession from the defendant coming into evidence. There's no shrink or other type of psychiatric testimony involved.

THE COURT: Mr. Maki, do you understand -- First of all, let me confirm this. You desire to plead not guilty to all 10 counts; is that right?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

THE COURT: You have the absolute right to go to jury trial within 60 days. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

THE COURT: But you don't mind going outside of the 60 days; is that right?

THE DEFENDANT: No, I don't care.

THE COURT: The State desires to exercise it. I have-- Let's go ahead and set the trial for April 11. Let's set a motion to confirm for April 1st. Trial will start at 10:00 a.m. The motion to confirm will be at 9:00.

And please have everything done by April 1. When I say "done," I mean all discovery, all motions out of the

POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

FACTS

The two minor victims in this case are Desiree Menees, d.o.b. 1/13/84, and Summer Menees, d.o.b. 2/28/86. The two victims are sisters and live with their father, Gary Menees, in the City of Reno.

On one day in December of 1993, the girls were left in the care of the defendant, Charles Joseph Maki. The defendant lived in the same apartment complex as the Menees and he had recently befriened Gary Menees and the girls. Gary Menees offered the defendant twenty dollars to watch the girls while he went to work at a local casino.

During the day the defendant subjected the girls to numerous incidents of sexual assault and lewdness as more fully alleged in the Information filed on February 10, 1994.

While Desiree sat on a couch in her nightgown, the defendant began rubbing and fondling the exterior of her vagina over her panties. He then pulled her panties down and she told him to "stop." The defendant then laid on top of her and inserted his penis a short distance into her vagina. According to Desiree, the defendant moved his penis "in and out" of her vagina.

The defendant pulled his penis out of Desiree when Summer walked into the room where the sexual assault was occurring. Summer left the room a short time later and the defendant then re-inserted his penis into Desiree's vagina and began moving it in and out. A short time later Summer walked back into the room and the defendant once again pulled his penis out of Desiree. The above events occurred in the defendant's apartment.

After the defendant penetrated Desiree for the second time, she left his apartment and went to her own apartment, which was next door. A short time later the defendant entered the apartment where Desiree lived and went into her bedroom. He lifted her nightgown up and pulled her panties down. He then inserted his penis a short distance into her vagina and began moving it in and out.

The defendant also inserted his finger into Desiree's vagina while he was still at the Menees' apartment. The defendant moved his finger in and out of Desiree's vagina using his index finger on his right hand. According to Desiree this penetration "hurt."

The defendant also made Desiree touch and fondle his penis and testicles during the day in question.

Several times during the same day the defendant was also alone with Desiree's sister, Summer. At one point during the day the defendant began rubbing and fondling the exterior of Summer's vagina. The defendant asked Summer to touch his "privates" but she said "no."

At one point the defendant laid Summer down, removed her panties, and inserted his penis a short distance into her vagina. He began moving his penis in and out of Summer's vagina. Summer asked the defendant to "please stop" but the defendant would not stop. According to Summer, the defendant's penis "hurt" her. She told him to stop several times during the ordeal.

The defendant also rubbed and fondled the exterior of Summer's vagina for a period of time. On a number of occasions the defendant also asked Summer to touch his "privates" but Summer refused to do so.

During the day the defendant instructed both girls not to tell anyone or else he would "go to jail."

Several weeks after the above-described events occurred, the girls disclosed to their father exactly what had happened to them. The police were immediately contacted and the case was assigned to Reno Police Department Detective James Stegmaier.

Detective Stegmaier interviewed the girls at the Reno Police Department on January 19, 1994. The interview of the girls was conducted in a non-leading manner and was videotaped. Detective Stegmaier had no previous discussions with the girls about what had happened to them prior to the commencement of the videotaped interviews. During the interviews the two girls freely discussed all of the abovedescribed acts in great detail.

Later that same day Stegmaier contacted the defendant, Charles Joseph Maki. Maki voluntarily went with Stegmaier to the Reno Police Department for the purposes of an interview.

The entire interview was videotaped.

During the first ten minutes of the interview the defendant denied having any improper sexual contact with either Desiree or Summer. During the next five minutes of the interview, the defendant began making statements like "I don't know what happened" and "I don't really remember what happened."

A short time later the defendant began to make inculpatory statements. The defendant admitted that he had Desiree wash his back while he took a shower at his residence. The defendant admitted that he had her wash around his genitals and that she "might have" washed his testicles. A short time later, the defendant began making many more admissions. The defendant admitted that he pulled Desiree's panties off and rubbed his penis on her vagina.

When Stegmaier asked the defendant to tell him exactly what happened, the defendant replied "probably what Desiree told you." The defendant also admitted "[he] was guilty" regarding Desiree. The defendant made numerous other general admissions of guilt such as "I should have known better."

Detective Stegmaier and his partner left the interview room for a period of time. The defendant was left alone in the room during this time. While alone, the defendant made a number of spontaneous admissions of guilt. The defendant made statements like "Why ... the stupidist thing," and "Why, why

26 ///

... I don't believe I did that." While making these admissions the defendant would alternatively place his head in his hands or look skyward.

At the conclusion of the interview the defendant was placed under arrest. While Detective John Bohach asked the defendant the routine questions necessary to fill out the booking/probable cause form, the defendant spontaneously blurted out "I had to get this off my chest ... I did something wrong ... I've never done this before ... I hope it never happens again." This was not in response to any questioning by Bohach. After Bohach completed the booking/probable cause form, he placed handcuffs on the defendant. A short time later the defendant spontaneously blurted out "My lawsuit with S.I.I.S. just went down the drain ... why, why ...". This admission was also not made in response to any question asked by Bohach. The defendant did in fact have a worker's compensation case pending at the time of the interview. The defendant was then taken into custody.

Later that day, while still in custody, the defendant telephoned the girls' father, Gary Menees. The defendant apologized to Menees for what he had done to Desiree and Summer. He told Menees that he "couldn't explain why it happened, it just happened." He also told Menees that he was sorry he had "messed up" their friendship and told Menees not to blame the girls.

The preliminary hearing was held on February 3, 1994, and the defendant was bound over on the ten counts of Sexual Assault and Lewdness alleged in the Information.

ARGUMENT

The defendant's confession was completely voluntary in nature. Jackson v. Denno, 378 U.S. 137 (1964); see also State v. Passama, 103 Nev. 212 (1987). When Detective Stegmaier asked the defendant to accompany him to the police station the defendant immediately agreed. Absolutely no pressure or coercion was implied in order to get the defendant to come down to the police station. Additionally, the videotape which will be played at the Motion Hearing in this matter clearly shows that no coercion or intimidation was utilized by the police. Indeed, the interview was remarkably calm and polite, given the seriousness of the allegations discussed.

The defendant was not subjected to repeated questioning, nor was he deprived of food or sleep. He was not subjected to any physical or mental abuse. He was not even in custody until the conclusion of the interview. The entire interview took only 45 minutes, and this includes the portions of the videotape where the defendant is left alone and where he is answering the routine questions being asked by Detective Bohach for purposes of completing the booking/probable cause form.

A suspect must be read his constitutional rights prior to questioning only in those situations where the suspect is

25

26

being subjected to "custodial interrogation." Miranda v. Arizona, 384 U.S. 436 (1966); Berkemer v. McCarty, 468 U.S. 4209 (1984).

The defendant went down to the police station voluntarily and was not under arrest. At the beginning of the videotaped interview Stegmaier explained to the defendant that he was free to leave at any time. Toward the end of the interview Stegmaier read the defendant his constitutional rights. Stegmaier did this because he had heard so many admissions from the defendant that he was beginning to think about arresting him. The defendant replied that he did not want to talk any further and the detectives stopped questioning him about the Menees case. Stegmaier and Bohach then left the interview room. While alone in the room, the defendant then made the various spontaneous admissions of quilt summarized in the "FACTS" section, supra. The defendant later made additional spontaneous admissions while being asked routine booking questions by Detective Bohach. These admissions were not in response to any questions asked by Bohach. these admissions had nothing to do with the routine questions regarding date of birth, social security number, etc., which were being asked by Bohach.

CONCLUSION

Based upon the foregoing, the State respectfully requests that the entire contents of the videotaped interview of the defendant be deemed admissible in evidence at trial, following the motion hearing in this matter presently scheduled for March 11, 1994. The State is requesting that this determination be made well in advance of trial, so that if any deletions are required by the Court they can be made in a timely manner without causing any delay of the scheduled trial date.

The preliminary hearing was held on February 3, 1994, and the defendant was bound over on the ten counts of Sexual Assault and Lewdness alleged in the Information.

ARGUMENT

NRS 51.385 provides:

- 1. In addition to any other provision for admissiblity made by statute or rule of court, a statement made by a child under the age of ten years describing any act of sexual conduct performed with or on the child is admissible in a criminal proceeding regarding that sexual conduct if the:
- (a) Court finds, in a hearing out of the presence of the jury, that the time, content and circumstances of the statement provides sufficient circumstantial guarantees of trustworthiness; and
- (b) [the] Child either testifies at the proceeding or in unavailable or unable to testify.

In the case at bar, the State seeks to introduce the videotaped interview of Summer Menees pursuant to NRS 51.385. Summer was seven years old at the time of the interview by Detective Stegmaier. The State will not be seeking a finding that Summer is "unavailable to testify" pursuant to NRS 51.385(1)(b). Rather, the State will call Summer to the stand to testify during its case-in-chief at trial. This will allow defense counsel to fully and vigorously cross-examin Summer regarding both her trial testimony and out-of-court statements allowed into evidence by the Court pursuant to this motion.

The State is not seeking to introduce Desiree's videotaped interview within the context of this motion because Desiree was ten years and six days old on the date she was interviewed by Detective Stegmaier. Therefore, she was technically six days beyond the age limit set forth in NRS 51.385. Of course, if the credibility of Desiree is attacked by the defense at trial, then the State may seek to introduce the videotaped interview of Desiree as a prior consistent statement, as allowed by law.

CONCLUSION

Based upon the foregoing, the State respectfully requests that a hearing be held pursuant to NRS 51.385(1)(a), and that at the conclusion of the hearing the Court grant the instant motion, and allow into evidence the videotaped interview of Summer Menees.

COMES NOW, CHARLES JOSEPH MAKI, by and through his counsel, JANET COBB SCHMUCK, Deputy Public Defender, and opposes the above entitled motion by the State. Mr. Maki's opposition is based upon the attached Points and Authorities, records cited, and any argument regarding the issue.

POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT OF OPPOSITION TO STATE'S MOTION TO DETERMINE ADMISSIBILITY OF OUT-OF-COURT STATEMENTS OF CHILD SEX VICTIM

STATEMENT OF THE FACTS

A preliminary hearing was conducted in this case on February 3, 1994. At that hearing, three witnesses provided testimony: Desiree M., Summer M., and Detective James Stegmaier.

Desiree, age ten, testified that in December, prior to Christmas, her father asked their neighbor, Charles Maki, to babysit her. Preliminary Hearing Transcript, hereinafter, "PHT", p. 9, 24, 25, 26. Mr. Maki babysat Desiree on a regular basis, particularly on Mondays and Tuesdays when she would stay at his apartment after school until her father came home from work at 6:30 p.m. PHT, pp. 31-32.

On this particular Monday, Desiree said she went to Mr. Maki's apartment around 9:00 a.m. PHT, p. 26. It was a holiday. Id. She was accompanied by her younger sister, Summer. PHT, p. 13. She testified that Mr. Maki asked Summer to go get some milk from their apartment. PHT, p. 15. While Summer was gone, Mr. Maki rubbed his finger on her vagina, then he removed her underwear, laid on top of her and put his penis inside of her. PHT, pp. 14-17. Summer returned without the milk, stayed a few seconds and left again. PHT, p. 18. According to Desiree's testimony, Mr. Maki laid down on top of her again and put his penis inside of her. Id. He stopped when Summer returned once more. PHT, p. 19.

That same morning, according to Desiree, Mr. Maki came to her apartment where he penetrated her vagina with his penis, his finger and sucked her right breast. PHT, pp. 20-21. Mr. Maki also made her touch his penis. PHT, p. 22.

Summer M., age 7-1/2, testified that Mr. Maki placed his private on her private but she was not sure about penetration. PHT, p. 42. She also stated that Mr. Maki licked his finger and put it on her private but not inside of her. PHT, pp. 44-46. Summer recalled speaking with the police about Mr. Maki and stated that she told them the truth which included that Mr. Maki had put his private inside her private. PHT, pp. 42-43. Over the objection of Mr. Maki, the State was allowed to play and enter into evidence Summer's taped interview by the police. PHT, p. 61, 68.

Detective James Stegmaier of the Reno Police

Department testified that he interviewed Desiree and Summer M.

on January 19, 1994. PHT, pp. 54-55. The interviews were conducted at 11:45 a.m. PHT, p. 55. The detective subsequently interviewed Mr. Maki that same day. PHT, p. 64. The interview lasted about one half hour and resulted in Mr. Maki being placed under arrest.

ARGUMENT

NRS 51.385 allows for the admissibility of an out-of-court statement made by a child under ten years of age describing acts of a sexual nature done with or to the child. This admissibility must satisfy three requirements. First, the child's statements must be found to be trustworthy by the court in a hearing outside the presence of the jury; second, the child must either testify at the proceeding, or, a determination has to be made that the child is unavailable or unable to testify; and third, the child must be under the age of 10 years.

In the instant case, the State has indicated that the child in question, Summer M., will testify during its case in chief at trial. According to the record at preliminary hearing, the child was 7-1/2 years old on February 3, 1993 and therefore meets the statute's age requirement. This leaves the question of the trustworthiness of the child's statement to be determined by this Court and thereby, the admissibility of the statement.

The State Has Not Shown The Statement To Be Trustworthy

In Felix v. State, 109 Nev.Adv.Op. 26, ____ P.2d _____
1993, the Nevada Supreme Court considered at length the question of the reliability of a child's hearsay statement. The Court observed that "the totality of evidence must indicate that the incriminating hearsay statements are particularly trustworthy." Id. at p. 26. Citing to Idaho v. Wright, 497
U.S. 805 (1990), the Supreme Court provided a non-exclusive list of factors to be used in determining trustworthiness:

(1) whether the statements were spontaneous; (2) whether the child was subjected to repetitive questioning; (3) whether the child had a motive to fabricate; (4) whether the child used terminology unexpected of a child of similar age; and
(5) whether the child was in a stable mental state. Id. at 821-26.

Further, as noted by the Nevada Supreme Court, Wright, supra, held that as the proponent of hearsay evidence, the State must bear the burden of "affirmatively rebutting the presumptive unreliability of a child's hearsay statements." Id. at p. 821.

The statement made by Summer M. to the Reno Police and

The statement made by Summer M. to the Reno Police and offered to this court is hearsay. Because of the inherent unreliability of statements by children under the age of ten years, the Nevada Legislature passed NRS 51.385 requiring that such statements be deemed trustworthy through a determination that "the time, content and circumstances of the statement provide sufficient circumstantial guarantees of trustworthiness."

In its motion to determine the admissibility of the out-of-court statements of Summer M., the State has provided no factual basis for its motion other than the interview was conducted in a nonleading fashion, no previous discussions were held with the child regarding the subject of the interview and the interview was videotaped. This is not sufficient to establish the trustworthiness of the statement and therefore Mr. Maki opposes it.

POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT OF OPPOSITION TO STATE'S MOTION TO DETERMINE ADMISSIBILITY OF VIDEOTAPED INTERVIEW OF DEFENDANT'S CONFESSION

STATEMENT OF THE FACTS

A preliminary hearing was conducted in this case on February 3, 1994. At that hearing, three witnesses provided testimony: Desiree M., Summer M., and Detective James Stegmaier.

Desiree, age ten, testified that in December, prior to Christmas, her father asked their neighbor, Charles Maki, to babysit her. Preliminary Hearing Transcript, hereinafter, "PHT", p. 9, 24, 25, 26. Mr. Maki babysat Desiree on a regular basis, particularly on Mondays and Tuesdays when she would stay at his apartment after school until her father came home from work at 6:30 p.m. PHT, pp. 31-32.

On this particular Monday, Desiree said she went to Mr. Maki's apartment around 9:00 a.m. PHT, p. 26. It was a holiday. Id. She was accompanied by her younger sister, Summer. PHT, p. 13. She testified that Mr. Maki asked Summer to go get some milk from their apartment. PHT, p. 15. While Summer was gone, Mr. Maki rubbed his finger on her vagina, then he removed her underwear, laid on top of her and put his penis inside of her. PHT, pp. 14-17. Summer returned without the milk, stayed a few seconds and left again. PHT, p. 18. According to Desiree's testimony, Mr. Maki laid down on top of her again and put his penis inside of her. Id. He stopped when Summer returned once more. PHT, p. 19.

That same morning, according to Desiree, Mr. Maki came to her apartment where he penetrated her vagina with his penis, his finger and sucked her right breast. PHT, pp. 20-21. Mr. Maki also made her touch his penis. PHT, p. 22.

Summer M., age 7-1/2, testified that Mr. Maki placed his private on her private but she was not sure about penetration. PHT, p. 42. She also stated that Mr. Maki licked his finger and put it on her private but not inside of her. PHT, pp. 44-46. Summer recalled speaking with the police about Mr. Maki and stated that she told them the truth which included that Mr. Maki had put his private inside her private. PHT, pp. 42-43. Over the objection of Mr. Maki, the State was allowed to play and enter into evidence Summer's taped interview by the police. PHT, p. 61, 68.

Detective James Stegmaier of the Reno Police

Department testified that he interviewed Desiree and Summer M.

on January 19, 1994. PHT, pp. 54-55. The interviews were conducted at 11:45 a.m. PHT, p. 55. The detective subsequently interviewed Mr. Maki that same day. PHT, p. 64. The interview lasted about one half hour and resulted in Mr. Maki being placed under arrest.

ARGUMENT

The State moves this Court to allow the admission of Mr. Maki's videotaped interview by the Reno Police on January 19, 1994. The State argues that Mr. Maki's statement was voluntary and it cites Jackson v. Denno, 378 U.S. 137 (1964) and State v. Passama, 103 Nev. 212, 735 P.2d 321 (1987).

With all due respect to the State's eagerness to have this issue decided by the Court, Mr. Maki will be filing a Motion to Suppress which is the appropriate procedural mechanism to present this matter for the Court's consideration. See Cook v. State, 85 Nev. 642, 462 P.2d 523 (1969). Further, NRS 174.125 (3)(a) provides that a motion to suppress must be made not less than 15 days before the date set for trial. Mr. Maki's trial is currently scheduled for April 11, 1994 which allows him until March 28 to file motions under NRS 174.125. Therefore, Mr. Maki respectfully requests that this Court deny the State's motion, or, in the alternative, delay its decision until it hears Mr. Maki's motion to suppress.

RENO,	NEVADA,	FRIDAY	MARCH	11,	1994,	1:25	P.M.

THE COURT: I want to thank everybody for coming in a little early. I appreciate it.

Okay. We're here on the record in case number CR94-0345, State of Nevada versus Charles Maki.

Mr. Maki is present with counsel, Ms. Janet Schmuck. The State is represented by Mr. Dan Greco.

This is a hearing pursuant to statute regarding the statement of the youngest child. Is that right, the youngest child?

MR. GRECO: That's correct, your Honor.

THE COURT: And seven-and-a-half years old?

MR. GRECO: She was approximately seven-and-a-half at the time of the interview, your Honor. Her name is Summer.

THE COURT: Okay. Why don't we go ahead and do a brief statement first, if you desire to do so, both of you, and then we'll go ahead with the videotape.

MR. GRECO: Yes, your Honor.

In terms of the summary of the facts that are going to be presented in support of the motion, I'm going to present Detective Jim Stegmaier, who in terms of this little girl, Summer, was the first and only police officer to interview her. You'll see that this interview occurred on January 19th, and that Summer had not been talked to previously by the police.

You'll see also that her sister, Desiree, who is over 10, had been very briefly for a few minutes talked to by the police the day before. This is the child's first contact with the police. You will hear Detective Stegmaier simply brought her in the room. Everything that was said between them is on the tape. There was no conversation between the two of them that's not on the tape. And he'll testify to that, your Honor.

And you'll also hear about the officer's qualifications and experience in dealing with child victims in sex cases.

THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

MS. SCHMUCK: Your Honor, I will reserve any statements until our final arguments.

Thank you.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Do you plan on calling Detective Stegmaier as a

2	MR. GRECO: Yes, your Honor. I would like him

- Q. Who are you employed by?
- A. I'm employed with the City of Reno as a police detective.
 - Q. What is your current rank or capacity?
- A. It's a detective assigned to the Youth Services Sex Crimes Unit with the Reno Police Department.
- Q. How long have you been employed by the Reno Police Department?
 - A. Approximately five-and-a-half years.
- Q. And have you received any specialized training in interviewing child sex victims?
 - A. Yes, I have.
 - Q. And briefly describe that training for the Court.
- A. I've graduated from three POST-certified academies, which are each approximately four months in length. Prior to this I was a police officer in the City of Westminster in Orange County, California.

I have an associate's degree in criminal justice, which contained a portion of classes that did touch on the aspect of dealing with people who--or crimes involving victims that are possibly sensitive to questioning, such as children and/or female adults or rape victims and that nature.

Also prior--excuse me--after that I was assigned to the Youth Services Section of RPD. I attended a 40-hour San Jose College course involving sexual assault. Part of that course involved the interview of children. How to ask proper questions that are both non-leading, and basically allow the children to tell you what happened without giving them any type of direction at all.

- Q. And using the last six months as a reference point, approximately how many interviews of children under 16 who have allegedly been the victims of some type of sex crime would you say you have interviewed?
 - A. I would say in the last six months 25.
- Q. Detective Stegmaier, are you assigned to the case of State of Nevada versus Charles Joseph Maki?
 - A. Yes, I am.
- Q. And can you recall on what date you were first assigned that case?
- A. The case originally came into the police department on January 18th. It was placed on my desk on the morning of January 19th, 1994.
- Q. And did you conduct an interview of a child or children as a result of your being assigned that case?

- Upon receiving report on January 19th I contacted the children's father, Gary Menees, and introduced myself as the detective assigned to that case. I asked Mr. Menees if he would be willing to bring the girls in for an interview with me, which would have been the first time I met the girls. We agreed upon 11:00 o'clock that morning for the interview to be conducted.
 - And did they arrive at that time, 11:00 o'clock?
 - A. Yes, they did.
 - Did you conduct an interview of both children?
 - Yes, I did. A.
- Where did you conduct the interview of the 0. children?
- The Reno Police Department has an interview room Α. which is specifically assigned to the Sex Crimes Unit. And the interview of each girl individually was completed in that room.

 - A. Yes.

A. Both girls were placed in the briefing room that we use for the patrol officers so that I could speak to their father alone for a while and basically just inform him how I was going to go about talking to the girls and see if he had any questions that he wanted me to hit on prior to going in there.

When I approached the girls, I asked which one wanted to go first. Both of them kind of pointed to each other. So I flipped a coin, and Desiree called it, and she lost, so she was the first one to go.

- Q. And how long did your interview last with Desiree ?
 - A. Approximately 20 minutes.
 - Q. And did you then interview Summer?
 - A. Yes, I did.

. 1

- Q. At approximately what time did the interview of Summer commence?
 - A. I would say roughly at probably 12:15.
- Q. And how old was Desiree on this date, January 19th?
 - A. She was seven and a few months. I don't know--

22	presentation of the evidence on the motion. The rest I have
23	would be by way of argument.

THE COURT: Okay. Do you have anything, Miss

Schmuck?

MS. SCHMUCK: I have nothing further, your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Go ahead, Mr. Greco.

MR. GRECO: Your Honor, the statutory language is very clear. NRS 51.385 states that: In addition to any other provision for admissibility made by statute or rule of court, a statement made by a child under the age of 10 years describing any act of sexual conduct performed with or on the child is admissible in a criminal proceeding regarding that sexual conduct if the Court finds in a hearing outside of the presence of the jury the time, content and circumstances of the statement provides sufficient circumstantial guarantees of trustworthiness, and the child either testifies at the proceeding, or is unavailable or unable to testify.

And then, your Honor, Miss Schmuck correctly points out the factors that our State Supreme Court has set forth in determining whether or not that there is trustworthiness. The Court says you should look to, one, whether the statements were spontaneous; two, whether the child was subjected to repetitive questioning; three, whether the child has a motive to fabricate; four, whether the child used terminology unexpected of a child of similar age; and, five, whether the child was in a stable mental state.

Judge, I think, given that we have a seven-year-old, that interview was conducted in as non-leading a fashion as possible. You heard about the officer's training. And I think he did an excellent job of not leading her. I think her answers to just about every question you saw were spontaneous. She did not have to search long minutes for answers. She gave immediate answers in each case.

Your Honor, in terms of factor number two, whether the child was subjected to repetitive questioning, she was not. For a child sex case, this case is fairly unique in that at least in the evidence you heard today there was almost no questioning before this point. The police did not talk to Summer at all, and they talked to Desiree only briefly the day before. And you heard in the testimony, your Honor, that Gary Menees, when he heard these allegations, immediately called the police. That occurred on the 18th. And the first officer arrived on the 18th, talked to Desiree only briefly, and then Stegmaier comes into the case the next day.

Whether the child has a motive to fabricate.

Nothing presented here showing that, your Honor.

Whether the child used terminology unexpected of a child of similar age. She did not. She used terminology exactly as you would expect a seven-year-old to use. Of course, she was a little uncomfortable talking to these men that to her seemed quite a bit older. But she used words exactly as you would expect a child her age to.

Finally, your Honor, whether the child was in stable mental state. The only evidence presented here both in the testimony and on the videotape was that she was calm, collected. She was not upset or excited. You heard Detective Stegmaier tell you that after she left the room there were no type of outbursts.

So, Judge, even using the factors presented by Miss Schmuck, I think this tape is about as good as it gets in a child sex case. But the key is: The words were clearly coming from Summer's mouth and from Summer's thought process. The answers she gave clearly were not coming from Detective Stegmaier. I think the evidence shows that the tape is clearly trustworthy, your Honor, and I think it should be admitted.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Miss Schmuck.

. 1

MS. SCHMUCK: Thank you, your Honor.

Your Honor, first of all, let me say that I, in terms of the officer's questioning of the child, I think that he did an excellent job, and I am not questioning that in terms of the nature of the questioning and his training. That I think that that was an excellent job.

Why I'm taking issue, we are taking issue, of the trustworthiness of this is that according to Summer's testimony at the preliminary hearing, she had spoken previously to her sister, Desiree. She had talked to her teacher at her school. She had talked to the school counselor. She said she talked to a doctor--

MR. GRECO: Your Honor, I'm going to object to argument at this point because we are talking about evidence that was not presented at this hearing. This is the motion hearing for presentation of evidence. There was no motion to have the prelim transcript admitted.

THE COURT: I will overrule the objection. One of the parameters is whether or not the child was subjected to repetitive questioning. I think that's what Miss Schmuck is saying. As an officer of the court, if she's telling me that was said at the prelim, so be it.

MS. SCHMUCK: I would add, your Honor, that I did in my facts for my opposition, I did cite to the preliminary hearing.

THE COURT: And I accept that.

MS. SCHMUCK: Thank you, your Honor.

She had talked to--she also testified that she had talked to a doctor. So there were a number of people that the child talked to prior to talking to the police. I think that she also testified that she talked to the neighbors downstairs.

My concern at this point, and from the officer's testimony just now, is that no one talked to the people that the child had talked to to determine whether or not there was any sort of consistency with the statements.

I think that just viewing this tape in the vacuum of the tape itself, the tape looks trustworthy in the way it was made. I'm not saying there's any splicing, that there's anything going on. We don't know what sort of statements that the child had made previously from who she had talked to. That's my very real concern with this. Obviously the courts have real concerns with that, too, since the Supreme Court addressed that in Felix.

I would direct the Court's attention again to the Felix case on page 26. And if I may quote, it says that,
"In assessing the reliability--speaking of the child's statement of the hearsay statement--the Court should examine the earliest statements made by the child-declarant, and look for continuity in subsequent statements."

That I think is a real issue here, your Honor, is to look for some sort of continuity with the statements.

Your Honor, I would also ask this Court to consider one other question here in terms of the admissibility of the videotape. If the Court deems the videotape trustworthy, I believe that there's another question that must be answered, and that is how the tape would be used at the particular trial.

I'm bringing this up now because I have given some thought just this morning in terms of what we're talking about here. If the child comes into court, and if she testifies differently than what appears on this tape, I can understand the State desiring to use the tape basically to rehabilitate their witness.

If the child comes into court and testifies consistently with what is in the tape, I am obviously going to raise an objection to the cumulative nature, as well as the prejudicial nature of the tape. I'm just raising this now because I do believe that we need to decide—or the Court needs to decide as far as the trustworthiness of this tape.

If the Court deems the tape trustworthy, the Court needs to also consider how the tape will be used at trial.

Thank you.

THE COURT: Thank you.

2

call Summer to the stand at the trial.

3

MR. GRECO: Yes, your Honor.

5

And you also, based on this call today, THE COURT:

MR. GRECO: That's what we're asking, your Honor.

And from your motion, Mr. Greco, you're going to desire to use the tape at the trial.

6

7

And the reason for that, your Honor, is this: Because the 9 statute expressly and clearly allows that to happen.

10

Subsection B of the statute says if you make the 11 trustworthiness finding, then the tape--I'm sorry--hearsay

12 statement comes in whether the child either testifies at the 13 proceeding, or is unavailable, or unable to testify.

14

can present the tape if she testifies or if she's 15 unavailable.

16

defendant and to counsel to do it in this situation; that

I would submit it's much, much fairer to the

is, to seek the admission of it when I'm going to put the 19

child on the stand, and, therefore, allow Miss Schmuck to 20

cross-examine the child regarding her trial testimony and 21

the tape, than to do it where the child is not available.

22

It's much fairer because she's subjected to 23 cross-examination.

24

But, your Honor, the cumulative point I think is not an issue. The statute clearly answers that question.

The tape can come in if the child testifies at the proceeding. It's right there in the statute.

1.3

Your Honor, this statute is, of course, for little children because little children, being what they are, they do not have the memory capacity or the ability to relay the way adults do. So you want to be able to look at the hearsay statements that are much closer in time because, of course, they are the most reliable statements.

These events occurred in December. You heard her say it on the tape. That's what is alleged in the Information. This interview occurred in January. This trial won't be happening until April. So children have special—there are special issues relating to children and their memory. That is the reason why these types of statutes have been adopted. Nothing unusual about this procedure, your Honor, of introducing both the tape and putting the child on the stand.

Again, I would submit the fairer method is to do it this way rather than me relying on the last prong of that section, which is the child is unable to testify or unavailable because it allows them full cross-examination.

THE COURT: Thank you.

The tape will be admitted for trial.

You can go ahead and reserve the objection if you wish as far as cumulative. As a matter of fact, I was discussing this this morning in anticipation of what it would be used for. And the very issue that I was discussing, the very issue that you brought up, Miss Schmuck.

Realistically, because of me being a former trial attorney, it's a very interesting concept. The concept is:

If you effectively cross-examine the witness at the case, then the State brings it on for rehabilitative purposes, but before the very people that you have destroyed-destroyed is not the word-but you've effectively cross-examined, that is an effective point.

The flip side is: If you have not cross-examined effectively, why would the State use it?

So, you know, I'm on the same wave length as both of you are, I'm sure. As far as what I saw today, there's no question in my mind that the statements were spontaneous. The child certainly was not subjected to any repetitive questioning in this particular tape. You bring up a point, but also it could very well be construed—and I suspect both of you will certainly take a look at this in discovery—as to when the answer was given at the prelim, she may very well have been truthful as far as talking to somebody, but at what time?

This is close enough after the incident, one of the first times that it came across, to make it trustworthy.

We don't know anything about motive. So that's a negative--excuse me--that's just nothing to me as far as the parameters.

And terminology. I'm smiling. I guess that is the terminology that children use. But, I mean, it's certainly— I guess you can use "dick" in the same context as "Charlie" or "thing" or "private parts," or whatever. But that's the only thing. I'm smiling because she's a young child, and she uses that term, and she knows what it is. So I think it's consistent.

And I think she's very clearly under stable mental state.

So it can be admitted, and it will be.

MR. GRECO: Your Honor, may the tape be released to the State pending trial in the matter?

THE COURT: Do you have any objection?

MS. SCHMUCK: I don't have any objection.

THE COURT: It was admitted for this purpose. But, sure, if you've got to use it for your investigation, further investigation, go ahead.

MR. GRECO: Thank you, your Honor.

MS. SCHMUCK: Your Honor I had just one other order of business. That is this: that according to the Information that was filed in this case at the arraignment, the State has designated a physician and a representative of the Saints team as witnesses in this case. To date I do not have any discovery with respect to the physician's report or the Saints report.

I would ask this Court to order that discovery so

. 1

I would ask this Court to order that discovery so that I can make use of that just as soon as possible.

MR. GRECO: May I have a moment with Detective Stegmaier, your Honor?

THE COURT: Now, I want to turn it over-- Excuse me, Mr. Greco. Excuse me. I'm sorry to interrupt. But along those lines, we have got to get that information to the defense as quickly as possible.

MR. GRECO: Yes, your Honor. I think I may have an answer for you in one second.

Your Honor, I have the answer to that. She did apparently see a Saints examiner, which is the nurse practitioners that examine child sexual assault victims. They are experts. And Detective Stegmaier, the report's out there somewhere, your Honor. We'll have it Monday or Tuesday. As soon as I have it, I'll provide a copy to Miss Schmuck.

1	THE COURT: That's fine.
2	MR. GRECO: I think that's the doctor she was
3	referring to. I think she means Saints examiner. I don't
4	think there was any separate examination by a regular
5	medical doctor.
6	THE COURT: Is that your understanding, Detective?
7	DETECTIVE STEGMAIER: Yes, sir.
8	THE COURT: Well, then, given those facts, then

POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO SUPPRESS STATEMENT PURSUANT TO JACKSON V. DENNO, 378 U.S. 368 (1964); MIRANDA V. ARIZONA, 384 U.S. 436 (1966)

FACTS

On January 19, 1994, Detective James Stegmaier of the Reno Police Department interviewed Desiree M. and Summer M. at 11:45 in the morning. Preliminary Hearing Transcript, hereinafter, "PHT", p. 55. Both girls identified Charles Maki and alleged that he had committed the offenses of sexual assault and lewdness with them. (videotaped interviews) Immediately following the interviews, Detectives Stegmaier and Bohach went to Mr. Maki's residence at 1015 Nevada Street. PHT, p. 61. They found Mr. Maki at the rear of the residence working on his vehicle. PHT, p. 62.

Detective Stegmaier showed Mr. Maki his badge and asked to speak with him. Id. Mr. Maki agreed and the detective told him that he was investigating a case where his name had come up. He asked Mr. Maki if he would voluntarily come to the Reno Police Department to talk with him. Id. Mr. Maki agreed and was allowed to sit, unhandcuffed, in the front seat of the patrol vehicle. PHT, p. 63. At the police station, Mr. Maki was "placed in an interview room" and an interview began. Id. A videotaped recording of this interview had already been started when Detective Stegmaier entered the room. Id.

At the beginning of the videotaped interview with Mr.

Maki, Detective Stegmaier asked him if he understood the reason he was at the police station; that he, Stegmaier, was investigating a crime, that he had spoken with some people and Mr. Maki's name came up. In response to this, Mr. Maki stated that he had been to prison before, that he was a violent person, and that he thought he was at the police station because of an incident where he beat a guy up and the guy had to go to the hospital.

Detective Stegmaier had to explain to Mr. Maki that the reason he was at the police station had nothing to do with the beating up of some guy. He had spoken to Desiree and Summer. Mr. Maki indicated that he did not know what the officer was talking about. The detective told Mr. Maki that the children had accused him of molesting them, other investigations had been done and that the only reason Mr. Maki was there was to give his side of the story. In the following few minutes of the interview, Detective Stegmaier made a series of statements indicating that they knew the girls were not lying, that they were not interested in if something happened but in Mr. Maki's side of the story. This culminated in the detective telling Mr. Maki that they had enough information to arrest him in the field. Following this, Mr. Maki made a series of incriminating statements describing two incidents with Desiree and Summer.

At that point, Detective Stegmaier advised Mr. Maki of his rights per Miranda. Mr. Maki immediately invoked by saying that he did not want to talk to the police anymore. The police continued to question Mr. Maki with respect to anything else he would want to tell them and requested that he consent to a search of his apartment and vehicle. Finally the officer placed Mr.

Maki under arrest and told him the charges being lodged against him. At that point, Mr. Maki was left alone in the interview room with the videotape still recording. Mr. Maki talked to himself outloud making several more incriminating statements.

ARGUMENT

Prior to evidence of an accused alleged confession being introduced to a jury, two legal hurdles must be cleared. First, the trial court must determine that the statements made by the accused were voluntary. Jackson v. Denno, 378 U.S. 137 (1964). Second, the trial court must determine that any incriminating statements made by the accused were not made as a result of coercion. Miranda v. Arizona, 384 U.S. 436 (1966). NRS 47.090 provides that a preliminary hearing to challenge the lawfulness of the manner in which an accused's confession or statement was obtained must be conducted outside the hearing of the jury.

In this motion, Mr. Maki challenges the admission of any incriminating statements made by him to the police prior to receiving the Miranda warning, as well as any incriminating statements made after the Miranda warning.

1. Statements Made Prior To The Miranda Warning

As related in the facts, Mr. Maki made certain incriminating statements to the police prior to receiving the admonition embodied in Miranda. These statements involved his description of an incident where he was showering and he allowed Summer M. to wash his lower back and genital area. A second incident involved Mr. Maki's description of an incident with Desiree M. in which he pulled her underwear down and rubbed his penis on her.

The State has previously argued that these statements by Mr. Maki should be admitted because he came to the police station on a voluntary basis and that the statements were not coerced. In other words, the State proposes that Mr. Maki was not subject to custodial interrogation.

Contrary to the State's argument and to the efforts of the police to operate outside constitutional and statutory guidelines, Mr. Maki was subject to custodial interrogation. This is clearly demonstrated by two factors. Mr. Maki did accompany the police to the station voluntarily, and maybe he even believed that he was free to leave when Detective Stegmaier said he was. However, Mr. Maki thought he was at the police station talking to the police about a matter totally unrelated to anything the police were prepared to question him about.

The question that the trial court must ask at this point is this: What would Mr. Maki have done if the police had informed him in back of his apartment about the real reason they wished to speak with him at the police station? Would Mr. Maki have so willingly gone down to the police station and tried to answer the questions posed to him. The answer to these questions are clearly no and Mr. Maki suggests that the police detectives knew this.

Further, Mr. Maki was subject to custodial interrogation simply because the police had probable cause to arrest him when they first spoke with him behind his apartment. Detective Stegmaier admits this several times on the tape during his questioning of Mr. Maki. The two young girls had identified Mr. Maki as their molester. Neither of them mentioned any other perpetrator or equivocated about the identity of the offender. Contrary to what the Detective told Mr. Maki during the interview, he had not done any investigation. There was no time since the girls were interviewed at 11:45 a.m. and by 1:07 p.m. Mr. Maki was seated before a video camera at the police station.

Clearly, the detectives believed Mr. Maki was the cul-They knew they had sufficient probable cause to arrest prit. So, why didn't they? The answer to this is obvious. him. police wanted to give the appearance that Mr. Maki was at the police station voluntarily, that he was free to leave at anytime and that he was not the object of their investigation. ately, the testimony of Detective Stegmaier at Mr. Maki's preliminary hearing and the videotape itself undermine the appearance put forward by the police. The question that the trial court must ask itself at this juncture is this: What would the police have done if Mr. Maki had refused to speak with them or accompany them to the police station? Would the detectives have allowed him to walk away at that point? Obviously the answer is, that upon Mr. Maki's refusal to cooperate, the police would have arrested him.

The statements made by Mr. Maki to the police prior to receiving the Miranda warning were not voluntary because he agreed to accompany the police and speak with them based on a mistaken belief that they were investigating a battery. Second, the statements were not made voluntarily because Mr. Maki was not free to leave. The police had probable cause to arrest him and he was the single object of their investigation and interrogation even if Mr. Maki was not informed of that fact.

In Passama v. State, 103 Nev. 212, 735 P.2d 321 (1987), the Nevada Supreme Court provides an in depth discussion of the constitutional law with respect to the issue of voluntariness of an accused's confession:

A confession is admissible only if it is made freely and voluntarily, without compulsion or inducement. Franklin v. State, 96 Nev. 417, 421, 610 P.2d 732, 734-735 (1980); see also Crew v. State, 100 Nev. 38, 675 P.2d 986 (1984). A criminal defendant is deprived of due process of law if his conviction is based, in whole or in part, upon an involuntary confession, and even if there is ample evidence aside from the confession to support the conviction. Jackson v. Denno, 378 U.S. 368, 376 (1964). In order to be voluntary, a confession must be the product of a "rational intellect and a free will." Blackburn v. Alabama, 361 U.S. 199, 208 A confession is involuntary (1960).whether coerced by physical intimidation or psychological pressure. Townsend v. Sain, 372 U.S. 293, 307 (1963).

Id. at pp. 213-214.

In the instant case, it is clear that Mr. Maki's confession was not in anyway the outcome of rational choice or free will.

Further, Mr. Maki's statements were the outcome of coercive questioning by the police without any benefit of the Miranda warning. Mr. Maki was told by the detective that he knew what had happened already and they merely wished to hear his side of the story; that if he were not interested in hearing Mr. Maki's side of the story, he would have been placed under arrest.

> [24, 25] At the outset, if a person in custody is to be subjected to interrogation, he must first be informed in clear and unequivocal terms that he has the right to remain silent. For those unaware of the privilege, the warning is needed simply to make them aware of it--the threshold requirement for an intelligent decision as to its exercise. More important, such a warning is an absolute prerequisite in overcoming the inherent pressures of the interrogation atmosphere. It is not just the subnormal or woefully ignorant who succumb to an interrogator's imprecations, whether implied or expressly stated, that the interrogation will continue until a confession is obtained or that silence in the face of accusation is itself damning and will bode ill when presented to a jury. Further, the warning will show the individual that his interrogators are prepared to recognize his privilege should he choose to exercise it.

Miranda v. Arizona, 384 U.S. 436, 467-468 (1966). Mr. Maki's interrogator gave him no indication that he recognized his right not to incriminate himself, much less a choice as to exercising that right.

2. Statements Made After The Miranda Warning

At Mr. Maki's preliminary hearing, Detective Stegmaier testified that he mirandized Mr. Maki about two thirds of the way through the taped interview. PHT, p. 67. He did this because "[a]t that particular point I felt Mr. Maki was no longer free to leave, and I wanted him to stay there and answer further questioning." Id. In response to a question as to why Mr. Maki was not free to leave, he said "[b]ecause in my mind I had enough to place him under arrest." Id.

Even though, by his own statements, Detective Stegmaier thought he had enough to place Mr. Maki under arrest from the time he met him, he did not place him under arrest until sometime later. In the meantime, even though Mr. Maki invoked immediately upon hearing the Miranda admonition, the detective continued to question Mr. Maki about searching his apartment and vehicle. Finally, Mr. Maki was placed under arrest and informed that this could not have been any worse even if he had said he did not want to talk.

During this portion of the videotape, after the Miranda warning, the police detective left Mr. Maki alone in the interview room. However, the videotape continued to run capturing Mr. Maki talking to himself. Certain of Mr. Maki's ruminations at that point could be incriminating in light of the circumstances.

None of the statements made by Mr. Maki following his indication to the police officers that he did not wish to speak to them anymore should be heard by the jury at his trial. While the state may argue that Mr. Maki did not actually invoke to the extent that he requested a lawyer, he clearly indicated he did not wish to speak further with the police. In Sechrest v. State, 101 Nev. 360, 365, 705 P.2d 626 (1985), the Nevada Supreme Court held:

[e]ven an equivocal request for counsel by an accused requires that law enforcement officials must cease the interrogation unless they ask the suspect further questions to clarify whether the suspect wants to consult with an attorney before continuing with the interrogation.

United States v. Cherry, 733 F.2d 1124, 1130 (5th Cir.

1984) (citing Nash v. Estelle, 597 F.2d 513, 517 (5th Cir. 1979 (en bano)).

In the instant case, the police officers did not ask Mr. Maki questions in an effort to clarify whether or not he wished to speak with counsel. They questioned him about if they could search his apartment and what they would find if they did so. While Mr. Maki did not agree to a search of his apartment, he did respond to the officer's questions. When left alone, Mr. Maki talked out loud to himself. Clearly, he thought he was alone and that the interview had been concluded since he had expressed his desire to exercise his Fifth Amendment privilege.

CONCLUSION

Based upon the above, Mr. Maki requests a hearing pursuant to NRS 47.090, outside the presence of the jury. At that hearing Mr. Maki will move to have this court suppress any unlawfully obtained statements.

COMES NOW, the State of Nevada, by and through DOROTHY NASH HOLMES, District Attorney of Washoe County, and DANIEL J. GRECO, Deputy District Attorney, and offers its Opposition to Motion to Suppress Statement.

POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

FACTS

The two minor victims in this case are Desiree Menees, d.o.b. 1/13/84, and Summer Menees, d.o.b. 2/28/86. The two victims are sisters and live with their father, Gary Menees, in the City of Reno.

On one day in December of 1993, the girls were left in the care of the defendant, Charles Joseph Maki. The defendant lived in the same apartment complex as the Menees and he had recently befriended Gary Menees and the girls. Gary Menees offered the defendant twenty dollars to watch the girls while he went to work at a local casino.

During the day the defendant subjected the girls to numerous incidents of sexual assault and lewdness as more fully alleged in the Information filed on February 10, 1994.

While Desiree sat on a couch in her nightgown, the defendant began rubbing and fondling the exterior of her vagina over her panties. He then pulled her panties down and she told him to "stop." The defendant then laid on top of her and inserted his penis a short distance into her vagina. According to Desiree, the defendant moved his penis "in and out" of her vagina.

The defendant pulled his penis out of Desiree when Summer walked into the room where the sexual assault was occurring. Summer left the room a short time later and the defendant then re-inserted his penis into Desiree's vagina and began moving it in and out. A short time later Summer walked back into the room and the defendant once again pulled his penis out of Desiree. The above events occurred in the defendant's apartment.

After the defendant penetrated Desiree for the second time, she left his apartment and went to her own apartment, which was next door. A short time later the defendant entered the apartment where Desiree lived and went into her bedroom. He lifted her nightgown up and pulled her panties down. He then inserted his penis a short distance into her vagina and began moving it in and out.

The defendant also inserted his finger into Desiree's vagina while he was still at the Menees' apartment. The defendant moved his finger in and out of Desiree's vagina using his index finger on his right hand. According to Desiree this penetration "hurt."

The defendant also made Desiree touch and fondle his penis and testicles during the day in question.

Several times during the same day the defendant was also alone with Desiree's sister, Summer. At one point during the day the defendant began rubbing and fondling the exterior of Summer's vagina. The defendant asked Summer to touch his "privates" but she said "no."

At one point the defendant laid Summer down, removed her panties, and inserted his penis a short distance into her vagina. He began moving his penis in and out of Summer's vagina. Summer asked the defendant to "please stop" but the defendant would not stop. According to Summer, the defendant's penis "hurt" her. She told him to stop several times during the ordeal.

The defendant also rubbed and fondled the exterior of Summer's vagina for a period of time. On a number of occasions the defendant also asked Summer to touch his "privates" but Summer refused to do so.

During the day the defendant instructed both girls not to tell anyone or else he would "go to jail."

Several weeks after the above-described events occurred, the girls disclosed to their father exactly what had happened to them. The police were immediately contacted and the case was assigned to Reno Police Department Detective James Stegmaier.

Detective Stegmaier interviewed the girls at the Reno Police Department on January 19, 1994. The interview of the girls was conducted in a non-leading manner and was videotaped. Detective Stegmaier had no previous discussions with the girls about what had happened to them prior to the commencement of the videotaped interviews. During the interviews the two girls freely discussed all of the abovedescribed acts in great detail.

Later that same day Stegmaier contacted the defendant, Charles Joseph Maki, at his residence in Reno. Stegmaier told Maki that his name had come up as a suspect in an ongoing criminal investigation. Stegmaier asked the defendant if he would be willing to answer a few questions. Stegmaier clearly told the defendant he was not under arrest and did not have to answer any questions if he did not want to. The defendant agreed to submit to an interview at the Reno Police Department. Since the defendant was working on his truck when Stegmaier arrived, Stegmaier offered him a ride in his vehicle. The defendant readily agreed and got into Stegmaier's vehicle. He was not handcuffed or restrained in any way and absolutely no show of force or intimidation was utilized by Stegmaier.

Maki voluntarily went with Stegmaier to the Reno Police Department for the purposes of an interview. The entire interview was videotaped. At the beginning of the videotaped interview, Stegmaier reminded Maki that he was not under arrest and was free to leave at any time. Stegmaier was joined in the interview by Detective John Bohach.

During the first ten minutes of the interview the defendant denied having any improper sexual contact with either Desiree or Summer. During the next five minutes of the interview, the defendant began making statements like "I don't know what happened," and, "I don't really remember what happened."

A short time later the defendant began to make inculpatory statements. The defendant admitted that he had Desiree wash his back while he took a shower at his residence. The defendant admitted that he had her wash around his genitals and that she "might have" washed his testicles. A short time later, the defendant began making many more admissions. The defendant admitted that he pulled Desiree's panties off and rubbed his penis on her vagina.

When Stegmaier asked the defendant to tell him exactly what happened, the defendant replied, "Probably what Desiree told you." The defendant also admitted "[he] was guilty" regarding Desiree. The defendant made numerous other general admissions of guilt such as "I should have known better." He also provided a significant amount of detail regarding what he and the girls were wearing as well as where and when the assaults occurred. These admissions were corroborated by the girls' interviews.

After the defendant made the above-summarized admissions, plus additional admissions, Stegmaier decided to Mirandize the defendant. He did so at this point because he had decided he had heard enough to surpass the probable cause to arrest standard and that from this point forward, the defendant was no longer free to leave. After he was Mirandized, the defendant stated he did not want to talk any further. Stegmaier and Bohach stopped asking the defendant questions about Desiree and Summer. They did briefly ask the defendant about an unrelated offense, namely, his failure to register as an ex-felon.

Detective Stegmaier and Detective Bohach then left the interview room for a period of time. The defendant was left alone in the room during this time. While alone, the defendant made a number of spontaneous admissions of guilt. The defendant made statements like "Why ... the stupidist thing," and "Why, why ... I don't believe I did that." While making these admissions the defendant would alternatively place his head in his hands or look skyward.

When the detectives subsequently returned to the room, the defendant was placed under arrest. Detective Stegmaier briefly discussed searching the defendant's apartment and asked the defendant whether he would consent to a search. thereafter, Stegmaier left the room. Detective John Bohach then asked the defendant the routine questions necessary to fill out the booking/probable cause form. While this process was ongoing, the defendant spontaneously blurted out "I had to get this off my chest ... I did something wrong ... I've never done this before ... I hope it never happens again." This was not in response to the routine booking questions asked by Bohach. After Bohach completed the booking/probable cause form, he placed handcuffs on the defendant. A short time later the defendant spontaneously blurted out "My lawsuit with S.I.I.S. just went down the drain ... why, why This admission was also not made in response to any question asked by Bohach. The defendant did in fact have a worker's compensation case pending at the time of the interview. The defendant was then taken into custody.

Later that day, while still in custody, the defendant telephoned the girls' father, Gary Menees. The defendant apologized to Menees for what he had done to Desiree and Summer. He told Menees that he "couldn't explain why it happened, it just happened." He also told Menees that he was sorry he had "messed up" their friendship and told Menees not to blame the girls.

The preliminary hearing was held on February 3, 1994, and the defendant was bound over on the ten counts of Sexual Assault and Lewdness alleged in the Information.

ARGUMENT

The defendant's confession was completely voluntary in nature. Jackson v. Denno, 378 U.S. 137 (1964); see also State v. Passama, 103 Nev. 212 (1987). When Detective Stegmaier contacted the defendant at his residence, he told the defendant he was not under arrest and did not have to answer any questions if he did not want to. When Detective Stegmaier asked the defendant to accompany him to the police station the defendant immediately agreed. Absolutely no pressure or coercion was implied in order to get the defendant to come down to the police station. Additionally, the videotape which will be played at the Motion Hearing in this matter clearly shows that no coercion or intimidation was utilized by the police.

Indeed, the interview was remarkably calm and polite, given the seriousness of the allegations discussed.

The defendant was not subjected to repeated questioning, nor was he deprived of food or sleep. He was not subjected to any physical or mental abuse. He was not even in custody until the conclusion of the interview. The entire interview took only 45 minutes, and this includes the portions of the videotape where the defendant is left alone and where he is answering the routine questions being asked by Detective Bohach for purposes of completing the booking/probable cause form.

In Miranda v. Arizona, the United States Supreme Court announced that certain prophylactic warnings must be given by police whenever a person is subjected to custodial interrogation. Miranda v. Arizona, 384 U.S. 436, 16 L.Ed 2d 694, (1966).

officers not required [P]olice are administer Miranda warnings to everyone whom they question. Nor is the requirement of warnings to be imposed simply because the questioning takes place at the station house, or because the questioned person is one whom the police suspect. Miranda warnings required only where there has been such a restriction on the person's freedom as to render him 'in custody.' It was that sort of coercive environment to which Miranda by its terms was made applicable, and to which it is Oregon v. Mathiason, 429 U.S. 492, 495, 50 L.Ed. 2d 714, 719 (1977).

Miranda warnings are not required simply because the police have "focused" on a particular suspect. Beckwith v. United States, 425 U.S. 341, 347, 48 L.Ed 2d 1, 8 (1976).

Furthermore, it is irrelevant to the Fifth Amendment analysis that the police were consciously seeking incriminating evidence when they questioned the particular suspect.

Minnesota v. Murphy, 465 U.S. 420, 428-431, 79 L.Ed. 2d 409, 419-422 (1984). In Murphy, the Supreme Court noted that "it has long been recognized that '[t]he Constitution does not forbid the asking of criminative questions.'" Murphy, id., 79 L.Ed. 2d at pp. 419-420.

When Stegmaier first contacted the defendant at his residence, he explained to the defendant that he was not under arrest and did not have to answer any questions if he did not want to. The defendant went down to the police station voluntarily and was not handcuffed or restrained in any manner. At the beginning of the videotaped interview Stegmaier explained to the defendant that he was free to leave at any Toward the end of the interview Stegmaier read the time. defendant his constitutional rights. Stegmaier did this because he had heard so many admissions from the defendant that he was beginning to think about arresting him. The defendant replied that he did not want to talk any further and the detectives stopped questioning him with the exception of a very brief discussion regarding searching the defendant's residence and regarding defendant's failure to register as an ex-felon.

No incriminating statements or evidence was gathered as a result of this brief discussion.

Stegmaier and Bohach then left the interview room.

While alone in the room, the defendant then made the various spontaneous admissions of guilt summarized in the "FACTS" section, supra. Voluntary and spontaneous statements made by an accused, even after his Miranda rights have been asserted, are admissible in evidence if the comments were not made in response to government questioning. Miranda v. Arizona, 384 U.S. 436, 477-478 (1966); Cannady v. Dugger, 931 F.2d 752, 654 (11th Cir. 1991); United States v. Paskett, 950 F.2d 705, 707 (11th Cir. 1992). Not only were defendants' incriminating admissions of guilt in response to police questioning, the police weren't even in the room when they were made. The defendant was simply talking to himself.

The defendant later made additional spontaneous admissions while being asked routine booking questions by Detective Bohach. See "FACTS" section, supra. These admissions were not in response to any questions asked by Bohach. Indeed, these admissions had nothing to do with the routine questions regarding date of birth, social security number, etc., which were being asked by Bohach. Even if these statements were somehow determined to be responses to the routine booking questions being asked (and they were not), they would still nonetheless be admissible. A police officer's request for routine information for booking purposes is not custodial interrogation pursuant to Miranda, even if the answers turn out to be incriminating. United States v. Sweeting, 933 F.2d 962, 965 (11th Cir. 1991).

CONCLUSION

Based upon the foregoing, the State respectfully requests that the Motion to Suppress be denied and the entire contents of the videotaped interview of the defendant be deemed admissible in evidence at trial, following the motion hearing in this matter.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT OF MOTION IN LIMINE RE: UNCHARGED COLLATERAL OR BAD ACTS

I.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

On February 16, 1994, Charles Joseph Maki was arraigned on charges of Sexual Assault on a Child Under the Age of Fourteen Years (Counts I-V) and Lewdness With a Child Under the Age of Fourteen Years (Counts VI-X). He entered not guilty pleas to all charges.

II.

ARGUMENT

A. DISCLOSURE OF INTENTION TO USE EVIDENCE OF OTHER CRIMES, WRONGS OR COUNTS SHOULD PRECEDE JURY SELECTION

NRS 50.115 states in part the "[t]he judge shall exercise reasonable control over the mode and order of interrogating witnesses and presenting evidence [.]." NRS 47.060 provides "[p]reliminary questions concerning the qualifications of a person to be a witness [or] the admissibility of evidence shall be determined by the judge [.]". Finally, NRS 47.080 mandates that "[i]n jury cases, hearings on preliminary questions of admissibility . . . shall to the extent practicable, . . . be conducted out of the hearing of the jury, to prevent the suggestion of inadmissible evidence."

NRS 48.045(2) prohibits the use of evidence of other crimes, wrongs or acts of an accused to proved that he acted in conformity therewith. The statute does, however, allow the use of such evidence for other purposes. Before such evidence may be presented to a jury, the Court must apply the standards of NRS 48.015 and NRS 48.035 to ascertain the relevancy of the evidence and its relative prejudicial effect. This consideration affects the fundamental fairness of a criminal trial. See e.g., Nester v. State, 75 Nev. 41, 334 P.2d 524 (1959); Cirillo v. State, 96 Nev. 489, 611 P.2d 1093 (1980).

P.2d 503 (1985), the Nevada Supreme Court summarized procedures that should be followed prior to the admission of evidence of other crimes, wrongs or acts. The Court noted that: (1) the State must first bring the matter before the trial court in a hearing outside the presence of the jury; (2) the State must present its reasons for the admission of the evidence under one of the exceptions in the statute and provide an offer of proof showing the quantum and quality of the evidence; (3) the evidence offered must be plain, clear and convincing; and (4) the trial court must weigh the probative value of the evidence against its prejudicial effect.

Inasmuch as the State must first present the evidence to the Court out of the presence of the jury, common sense would indicate that such hearing take place prior to the call of the jury. This would allow the Court ample time to consider the arguments and authorities of counsel before rendering a ruling. Additionally, it would eliminate many delays during the course of the trial; and, it would eliminate a situation where a jury is impaneled but then waits in the jury room with little or nothing to do.

Moreover, inasmuch as the State must first present its evidence to the Court out of the presence of the jury, fundamental fairness requires that the Defendant have notice of such evidence and the opportunity to review it. The right to effective assistance of counsel requires prior review by counsel in order to determine the probative value and prejudicial effect. Only in this way may counsel adequately assist his client and the trial court in the balancing of these factors. By avoiding surprise and by allowing counsel to adequately prepare to meet the potential tendering of such evidence, the Court will insure "reasonable control over the mode and order of . . . presenting evidence [.]." NRS 50.115.

B. EVIDENCE OF UNCHARGED BAD ACTS SHOULD BE RECEIVED WITH EXTREME CAUTION

The term "uncharged misconduct" refers to all wrongs or acts that are not contained in the charging document. NRS 48.045(2) excludes such evidence if offered to prove "the character of a person in order to show that he acted in conformity therewith." NRS 48.045(2). However, such evidence is admissible to prove such things as motive, opportunity, intent, preparation, plan, knowledge, identity or absence of mistake or accident. Id. As noticed above, the Supreme Court in Petrocelli, supra, summarized the proper procedure for the admission of this type of evidence.

The first two components of the Petrocelli approach are self-explanatory. However, the third component is extremely important as it brings into play other statutes and rules. appraisal of the judge of the quantum and quality of the proffered evidence presents a preliminary question of admissibil-See NRS 47.060. This statute requires that NRS 47.070 determine the issue. NRS 47.070(1) states that when the relevance of evidence depends on the fulfillment of a condition of fact, there must be sufficient evidence of that condition pre-In the case of uncharged misconduct, the trial court sented. must review the evidence and determine that the evidence is plain, clear and convincing of the accused's commission of the uncharged or collateral act. Tucker v. State, 82 Nev. 127, 131, 412 P.2d 970 (1966); Petrocelli v. State, supra. Moreover, this must occur before the court goes on to the next step, i.e., the balancing under NRS 48.035(1) (legal relevance).

Even if the quantum and quality of the evidence meets the clear and convincing test, it must still be relevant to an "issue of consequence" in the trial. Vipperman v. State, 96 Nev. 592, 295, 614 P.2d 532 (1980); and see NRS 48.015.

The fourth component, balancing the probative value against the prejudicial effect, requires the trial judge to make a specific ruling or finding that the probative value outweighs the prejudicial impact of such evidence. Cirillo v. State, supra, 96 Nev. at 492, n. 2 (citations omitted). The reason for the rule is to prevent improper consideration by the jury of matters not charged in the information or indictment. As the Court in Nester v. State, supra, observed regarding the trial judge's discretion to exclude otherwise relevant evidence if the prejudicial effect outweighs its probative value:

[t]he trial judge should be recognized to have a discretion to decide whether the probative weight of the evidence outweighs its mere prejudice. . . he should be allowed to say. . . whether it is the peg of relevance or the dirty linen hung thereon, upon which the jury is going to concentrate and if in his opinion, the peg is so small and the linen so bulky and dirty that a jury will never see the peg, but merely yield to indignation at that dirt, he should be allowed to exclude it.

Nester v. State, supra, 75 Nev. at 55 (citation omitted). The trial court has a "grave duty imposed upon it to strike a balance." Brown v. State, 81 Nev. 397, 400 404 P.2d 428 (1965). Evidence of uncharged misconduct "should be received with extreme caution, and if its relevancy is not clear, the evidence should be excluded." McMichael v. State, 94 Nev. 184, 190, 577 P.2d 398 (1978); Shultz v. State, 96 Nev. 742, 616 P.2d 388 (1980). The importance of resolving before jury selection, the issue of admissibility of alleged uncharged misconduct is readily apparent. The effect that such evidence will produce if admitted is that he Defendant will have to defend against charges not pled in the Indictment and for which he is not on trial. Cirillo, supra; Nester, supra. The admission of uncharged evidence exposes the Defendant to the risk that the jury will be diverted from the charge at hand and will convict on an improper basis. Nester, supra.

III.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, authorities and arguments it is respectfully requested that this Court enter its Order granting Defendant's Motion.

COMES NOW, THE STATE OF NEVADA by and through DOROTHY NASH HOLMES, District Attorney of Washoe County, Nevada, by DANIEL J. GRECO, Deputy District Attorney, and moves this Honorable Court for an Order as follows:

That the Information heretofore filed herein be amended to add the following name as witness:

> KATHY PEELE, R.N., C.P.N.P. Washoe County Medical Center Reno, Nevada

Endorsement of the above name is respectfully requested for the reason that at the time of filing the Information the identity of the Washoe County Child Sexual Abuse Investigation Team (W.C.C.S.A.I.N.T.) member who examined the victims was unknown and thus was generally listed as "S.A.I.N.T.S. Examiner." On or about March 30, 1994, the W.C.C.S.A.I.N.T. examination report was received which indicated that Kathy Peele, R.P., C.P.N.P., was in fact the person who examined both victims. Copies of the W.C.C.S.A.I.N.T.'s exam report have been provided to defense counsel. Said witness is required for the successful prosecution of the case.

- 14 Q. I just want to get your I.D. update. Put it in one of these pockets.
- 16 A. Well, I've got nothing to hide that I know of.
- 18 Q. So, you're here voluntarily?
- 20 A. Yeah.
- 21
 22 Q. Okay. This is Det. John Bohach, and I'm Det. Stegmaier. The reason we asked you to come here,....do you go by Chuck or Charles?
- 25 A. I like Chuck.26
- 27 Q. Alright Chuck. The reason we asked you to come here today, is uh, we're investigating a crime.
- 30 A. Uh huh.
- 31
 32 Q. We have uh, obviously talked to a couple of people, and your name came up, okay?
- 34 A. Yeah. 35
- 36 Q. So, that's why you're here today. We wanted to bring you down here providing you were willing to come, to talk to you about those charges, and see what you had to say about them, or even if you're involved, okay?

- Q. Well, that's what they both said. And Chuck, I do this for a living. Det. Bohach does this for a living. We do nothing else but se crime cases, okay? Now, I taped the girls interviews. Now, we wanna play those interviews for people, and we'll let them decide if you're lying, okay? Cuz I'll tell you what, we do this for a living. We know how to catch the girls when they're lying. And the girls aren't lying. Chuck, I'm telling you, they aren't lying. I'm telling you straight out, they are not lying. The reason you're here right now, is so you can give your story about what happened. I don't know if you were drinking that day. I don't know what occurred. But, I'm not here to ask you if it happened. If that's what you're thinking I'm here to do, you're totally long. That's not even a question in my mind. I'm here to let you tell me what happened. Why it happened.

Neither on of them said that. Otherwise, uh, there would have been no 7 talking, 8 Yeah. 9 A. 10 11 Q. Okay. Det. Bohach and I depending on what happened, have a lot options. Some of those options, obviously, are arrest. But, then that's not the only way you can go. If we 12 wanted to make an arrest, we had our opportunity when we were out with you in the 13 field. 14 15 A. Inaudible.... 16 17 18 Q. There are reports that can be written about what occurred and submitted to the District Attorney's Office and let them decide whether or not charges are going to be filed. But 19 20 we have two young girls here, right now, that told us what occurred. They're taking apart of the blame it themselves. I told Gary I didn't wanna babysit them anymore. Um, I borrowed money from Gary A. alot and uh, the kids and I drove. Uh, what exactly do you want me to say? Q. I want you to tell me what happened. The truth. Tell you what. This is what's gonna happen. So, this is what you have to understand. Is that right now it's a quarter after 1:00, and the only thing we're doing again, is here to get the truth out. We know what occurred. And, when we interview people Chuck, who are in your position and it ends up taking up sometimes one minute, sometimes it takes them 3 to 4 hours. But, the thing is, it always comes around to what happened. And, I'm asking you to work with us this, okay? Cuz, if you weren't working with us Chuck, and we weren't working with you, we wouldn't even be here right now. We would have ended this out there, okay? But, the okay? Let me tell you, we had enough right out there in the field just to say, hey Chuck, turn around and put your hands behind your back. But, we're, we're not about that.

We're too busy to be about that. We gotta hear. And, we owe it to you. We ove it to everybody. To give everybody the opportunity to find out. Make sure that those same people do not have contact with those kids again. That's our main priority, obviously.

thing is, if you aren't working with us, you, you,.....

- A. Okay, so now you're saying if I tell you my supposed side of the side story, you,....
- Q. No, no, no Chuck, if you tell the truth. That's what I want.
- Α. Okay, if I tell the truth to you as you want to hear it, and it comes out like uh, like some kind of confession or something, is that what you wanna hear?
- No. I don't wanna hear nothing from you Chuck, except the truth. Okay, now look it, Q. we can end this real quick.

-But, so have-we == So, what we're gonna do is, if you don't have nothing to say Chuck, and-if-these-girls-are-so-way off, if these girls,....listen to-me-now,....

Q. If these girls are just out of their minds, then tell me that, okay? Tell me that they're out of their minds, and then we have nothing more to talk about, okay? We have nothing more to talk about. This is your opportunity. The reason you were brought here was to tell me what occurred.

- You know what? I can't lie to you. I just can't do that. Not to those girls, I can't. A. I was buzzed.
- 0. What happened.
- I'm gonna hate myself for this. It's, uh,...I don't really know. I swear to God I don't A. really know. I was....I had a buzz on that morning. And, I'm ashamed of it no doubt.
- Your head is not clear that morning. Is that right? 0.
- A. Not really. I mean, I was drinking fucking alcohol. I was drinking tequila and Jack Daniels the night before. And, I inaudible....the same morning. Gary come over and he wanted me to watch his girls for 20 bucks or something. Uh, it was after school or something. And, I'm not really sure. Then I know, I know uh, uh, Desiree,....I don't know if it was Summer.
- I did touch her. Uh, I didn't actually touch her, she touched me. A_{\cdot}
- How did she touch you? Q_{i}
- Well she said,.... I was telling her I was gonna take a shower. And she was watching A. t.v. on my couch, and she just some how or another, she mentioned something about how she gave her dad a shower and washed his back or something. And, I just jokingly said something about uh, do wanna wash my back. You know, just as a joke. She came back with yeah, yeah inaudible....but, don't tell my sister or something. And, I said whatever, and I went in the shower. And she come in and washed my legs and uh, my back.

What happened?

I

Q. Did it give you an erection when she did that?

 A. No. No, she did not give me an erection. She did not. Um, it wasn't her fault. I'm an adult, and I should have known better. The girl should have,...she's only like 7 or 8 years old. I know,...it's never happened. I don't know why I even did it. I'm not that kind of person. I,....honest to fucking God am not that kind of person.

Q. So, when you said that she was washing you? Was she washing your, your genitals?

A. No. Well, she washed around there. She didn't actually wash them. Well yeah she might have. She grabbed everything. She might of washed around my balls or something. Basically she washed my legs right here and here. And she washed my back. My lower back. Uh, she probably, she might of,....yeah she might of even given me a hard on. I don't think so. But, yeah she possibly could have. Inaudible....

A. She was not. No. No she was not. She was standing by outside. And, it was probably for about 15 seconds give or take. I don't know. But, yeah. Yeah, she did.

Q. But, it didn't arouse you at all?

A. No it did not.

Q. Why do think, why do you think it happened?

A. You know, to be honest, I really don't know. I ask myself that question in my own mind that too. I've had ta,...I've felt guilty. I don't even know why. You know, I've had two daughters of my own. I, I enjoy women, you know. Um, I don't,....I have no answer. I've asked myself that too. Because, I am not that type of person. I, I'm not. I never have been. I've never even thought about shit like that. You know, I mean I beaten dudes up when I was in the joint for-shit-like-that. I've kicked guy's-ass-for-doing-that. You know, you-know, I-really-couldn't-tell-you-though. Because-this-has-never-happened you know. When it did happen, it wasn't you know, uh, it wasn't satisfactory in no way. So, don't even think that. I mean professionally, okay fine be professional. I don't know how to clue you in on something that you know, that has never happened, and I hope to God never fucking happens again because I have no answer for it. I don't know. You

- No. Not really drinking. I just had a beer to get rid of the hangover. I had a bad A. hangover. I was hot and I had some tequila and Jack Daniels and probably a couple of other beers. And uh, I, I, don't work so I get an occasion,....occasional I get a buzz. I drink with their dad next door you know, occasionally. Um,

	Q.	What happened Chuck?
ŧ	Α.	The two girls were talking about it and wouldn't let each other know about it. And, I don't know exactly what happened. Then said something to me. I bent over and I just, I don't know. Goddamn it.
	Q.	Where were you at when it happened?
	Α.	It was in her house.
	Q.	What happened?
	Α.	Probably what she told you. With Desiree, yes.
	Q.	What happened?
	Α.	I did take her panties off. And, I did rub my penis on her. Yes I did.
	Q.	And, do you remember when that was roughly?
	Α.	I know it was in the same period, time period. Uh, I don't know exactly what day.
	Q.	Do you remember what month?
	A.	It was sometime last month I think. Um,
	Q.	I mean what month? December?
	Α.	I, I think it was sometime in December.
	Q.	Okay.
	Α.	Uh, uh, oh yeah. I mean I can't live with the bullshit. I don't know,
	Q.	What did you say to her when you were doing it?
	Α.	I, I, I, don't know. I don't really remember saying anything. Um, she said something

I ·		to me. I said something to her I guess. I, I, really don't know.
2 3	Q.	How did you take her panties off?
4 5	Α.	Uh, I think I just took them off.
6 7	Q.	Okay. Do you remember what she was wearing?
8 9	Α.	No.
0 11 12 13	Q.	What do you think she was wearing? Was she wearing clothes? Was she wearing pajamas?
14 15	Α.	Uh, probably. Fuck I don't know. To answer that, I don't know. I really don't know. They um, they uh, I don't know. I don't know what them girls were wearing.
16 17	Q.	Okay.
18 19	Α.	I only babysat them a couple of times.
20 21	Q.	Right. So, you take her panties down. What, what were you wearing?
22 23	Α.	My robe. I was wearing my robe.
24 25	Q.	Were you wearing anything underneath?
26 27 28	А.	Um, probably, probably my drawers. It was anything it would be my underwear I'm sure. It might even of been my pants.
29 30	Q.	So, what, what part of the house were you in, in her house?
31 32	Α.	Her bedroom.
33 34	Q.	Okay, and what piece of furniture in her bedroom?
35 36	А.	Uh, she had a bed there.
37 38	Q.	Okay. Were they bunk beds type beds?
39 40	Α.	Oh of course.

Ι.	Q.	Okay. And so what happened?
2 3 4	Α.	I don't know. I don't know. I just uh, I guess it just happened. I don't know what happened. I walked in her bedroom and I guess uh, I don't know.
5 6	JB	You pulled her pants down? Or her panties?
7 8 9	Α.	Yeah.
0	JB	Then you lifted up whatever she was wearing on top?
1 2 3	Α.	I guess. I don't know if she was wearing something on top or not. I really don't know. I don't think so. Um,
4 5	Q.	Do you remember kissing her chest?
6 7	Α.	No.
8	Q.	You don't remember kissing Desiree's chest?
20 21	Α.	Not at all.
?2 ?3	JB	Come on Chuck.
?4 ?5	Α.	Why would I kiss her chest? What would I do to her chest?
26 27	Q.	Did you uh, did you end up ejaculating?
28 29	Α.	No, not that I can recall.
30 31	Q.	So uh, did you put your penis in her mouth?
32 33	Α.	No.
34 35	Q_{\cdot}	On that one?
36 37 38	Α.	On that one? No. No.

Okay.

Q.

1 .	. = A.	No. By all means, no.
2 3	Q.	Okay.
4 5 _,	Α.	Not at all, no, no.
6 7	Q.	I believe you.
8 9	A.	No.
10 11 12 13	Q.	I believe you. I'll tell you what, I believe you cuz I know what happened. And, that's and that's not one of the things that happened. I'm just telling you so you have no idea, so you can realize what about what I'm telling you, sitting here saying that I know what happened.
15 16	A.	Yeah.
' 7 ' 8	Q.	That's not one of the things that happened.
9 20	Α.	No. No. No.
? 1 ? 2	Q.	Okay. Uh, here's the deal, is uh, I need for you to be totally honest about everything.
?3 ?4	Α.	Well I've been as honest as I can fucking be now. Jesus Christ.
25 26 27 28 29	Q.	Well, let me tell you this though. Because uh, Summer and uh, Desiree made some allegations, uh, concerning you, we wanted to come to you to get your side of the story, okay? And, we asked you to come here and you came here. And, you're sitting in front of me Chuck, and I appreciate you're being honest. But, now you're being honest,
30 31	Α.	Now, I'm under arrest?
32 33 34	Q.	No, not at all. Now that you're being honest, we appreciate you're being honest, I have to advise you of your rights.
35 36	Α,	Yeah, I know. I'm under arrest, I know.
3 7 38	Q.	Just,nothat's not true at all.
39	t D	Vou're not under arrest man

JB

You're not under arrest man.

1	Q.	If you're under arrest, we could end this here.
2. 3	Α.	Okay.
4 5 6 7 8	Q.	You're not under arrest at all. The only reason I have to do that Chuck, is for,the laws of the land say that when it comes to a point where you have told me that in fact, there is some validity to these things, I have to make sure that you understand your rights.
9 0	Α,	Okay.
1 2 3 4	Q.	It doesn't change. It doesn't mean that I've changed. It just means that I have to advise you of your rights. I think it's a good thing. But, it goes like this,you have the right to remain silent. Anything you say, can and will be used against you in a court of law.
5 6	Α.	Yeah.
7 8 9 0	Q.	You have the right to consult an attorney. If you cannot afford an attorney, one will be appointed free of charge to represent you before any further questioning if you so desire. Do you understand these rights?
1 2	Α.	Uh huh.
3 4	Q.	Having those rights in mind, do you want to talk to John and I about what happened?
5 5	A.	No. I don't wanna talk anymore.
