No. 67763 Electronically Filed

No. 67786 Trace K. Lindeman
Clerk of Supreme Court

8 EMERGENCY MOTION UNDER NRAP 27(E)
9 BAIL PENDING APPEAL

10 COMES NOW, Appellant LINDSIE NEWMAN, through her appointed 11 counsel, KARIN L. KRIEZENBECK, Nevada State Public Defender, and 12 SALLY DESOTO, Chief Appellate Deputy, and moves this Court for an 13 Emergency Order granting her release pending appeal, to be decided and 14 ordered no later than May 9, 2015.

15 This Motion is brought pursuant to NRS 178.488 and NRAP Rule 8,

1 NRAP 27(e), and is based upon the accompanying Memorandum of Points and
2 Authorities.

3 DATED this 24th day of April, 2015.

4 KARIN L. KRIEZENBECK
Nevada State Public Defender

5 By: /S/ SALLY DESOTO
6 Chief Appellate Deputy
7 Bar I.D No. 8790
8 511 East Robinson Street, Suite 1
Carson City, Nevada 89701
(775)687-1080

1 Appellant is presently imprisoned at Florence McClure Women's
2 Correctional Center and is seven months pregnant in a high-risk pregnancy.
3 This motion is being filed at the earliest possible time based on the research that 4 staff had to conduct to insure that the appeal was not frivolous. She is due to 5 deliver at mid-June, 2015, but based on the high-risk status of her pregnancy,
6 she will probably deliver sooner.

7 Generally, a stay or injunction pending appeal must ordinarily move first 8 in the district court. Appellant requests that this Court grant that this motion for 9 relief be filed directly before the Court because a motion to the district court
10 would be impracticable considering the issue on appeal. NRAP Rule
11 8(a)(2)(A)(i).

12 POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

14 NRS 178.488 provides:

- 15 1. Bail may be allowed pending appeal or certiorari unless it appears 16 that the appeal is frivolous or taken for a delay.
- 17 2. [inapplicable]
- 18 3. Pending appeal or certiorari to the appellate court of competent
19 jurisdiction pursuant to the rules fixed by the Supreme Court
20 pursuant to Section 4 of Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution, bail may be allowed by the District Court or by any judge thereof or the Supreme Court or a justice thereof.
4. Any court or any judge or justice authorized to grant bail may at any time revoke the order admitting the defendant to bail.

1 5. The court or judge by whom bail may be ordered shall require
2 such notice of the application therefor as the court or judge may 3 deem reasonable to be given to the district attorney of the county in which the verdict or judgment was originally rendered.

4 In adjudicating this motion, the Court must consider whether the appeal
5 was frivolous or taken for delay, and whether the applicant's release on bail
6 would pose a danger to the community or a risk of flight. See Lane v. State, 98
7 Nev. 458, 459-60, 652 P.2d 1174 (1982); In Re Austin, 86 Nev. 798, 802, 477
8 P.2d 873, 875 (1970). The mere fact of a conviction does not end the court's 9 authority to evaluate the quality of the legal and factual underpinnings of a 10 conviction in considering a Motion for Bail or to give "due weight to the 11 evidence and circumstances of the offense." Bergna v. State, 120 Nev. 869,
12 874, 102 P.3d 549, 552 (2004). The fact that the defendant was convicted of a 13 violent and serious felony is highly relevant to the danger that might be posed by 14 his release, but the nature and quality of the alleged legal errors may raise 15 serious concerns respecting the validity of the conviction, and may weigh 16 heavily in favor of granting the application for bail pending review. Bergna, Id.
17 If the judge views the defendant's release as posing a risk of danger o flight, he 18 should point to those facts in the record which foreshadows such a possibility.
19 Bergna, 120 Nev. at 875, 102 P.3d at 553.

1 a. Risk of Danger/Flight.

2 We began with the “danger to the public” factor.

3 Appellant risks no danger to the public. At most, there is a risk to herself.
4 Appellant is in a high-risk pregnancy and due to deliver at mid-June, 2015, but 5 most likely will deliver sooner.¹

6 The basis for this appeal is the fact that the district court sentenced
7 Appellant to a longer sentence based on her status as a pregnant addict, and this 8 will be discussed further below. But at this juncture, this Court should note that 9 Appellant’s condition suggests that she is not even remotely a risk of danger or 10 flight if released.

11 And in fact, this Court can construct conditions that would insure there
12 would be no flight. Appellant has the support of family—this Court may order 13 that Appellant remain on house arrest with GPS monitoring at the residence of 14 her parents or one of her siblings—both are very stable environments. Further,
15 to insure compliance with orders restricting drug use, color-coded drug testing
16 can be ordered and supervision with the Division of Parole and Probation,
17 including a search and seizure clause.

19 ¹ Because the issue would become moot upon the birth of Appellant’s child, this 20 issue is preserved because pregnancy “provides a classic justification for a conclusion of nonmootness.” Roe v. Wade, 410 U.S. 113, 124-25, 93 S. Ct. 705, 712-13 (1973).

1 b. Non-Frivolous Issue

2 During Appellant's sentencing hearing on March 23, 2015, the district
3 judge stated on three occasions that his main concern was that Appellant be in 4 custody "long enough for that child to be born" and "to protect that unborn
5 child." See attached exhibit, sentencing transcripts, March 23, 2015 at 7:1-5, 6 9:3-8; 13:16-19.

7 The Nevada Supreme Court has stated that it will refrain from interfering 8 with the sentence imposed by the district court "[s]o long as the record does not 9 demonstrate prejudice resulting from consideration of information or 10 accusations founded on facts supported only by impalpable or highly suspect
11 evidence." Silks v. State, 92 Nev. 91, 94, 545 P.2d 1159, 1161 (1976).

12 The district court abused its discretion by sentencing Appellant to a more 13 severe sentence based on her status as a pregnant addict.

14 Addiction to the use of narcotics is "said to be a status or condition and 15 not an act." Robinson v. California, 370 U.S. 660, 662, 82 S.Ct. 1417, 1418 16 (1962). "[a] state law which imprisons a person thus afflicted [with addiction to 17 narcotics] as a criminal . . . inflicts a cruel and unusual punishment in violation
18 of the Fourteenth Amendment." Id. at U.S. 667, 82 S.Ct. at 1420-21.

19 Notably, Nevada has no statutes that criminalize substance abuse during 20 pregnancy. In fact, as decided in Sheriff v. Encoe, "[t]he legislature is an

1 appropriate forum to discuss public policy, as well as the complexity of prenatal
2 drug use, its effect upon an infant, and its criminalization.” 110 Nev. 1317,
3 1320, 885 P.2d 596, 598 (1994), citing People v. Hardy, 469 N.W.2d 50, 53
4 (Mich. Ct. App. 1991). The district court’s decision in this case encroaches on 5 the legislative power in violation of separation of powers. “Judges who take it
6 upon themselves to solve problems of drug-exposed infants, however
7 sympathetic their actions may be, are acting like legislators and are making
8 medical decisions that they are usually ill-equipped to make.” Becker and Hora, 9 The Legal Community’s Response to Drug Use During Pregnancy in the 10 Criminal Sentencing and Dependency Contexts: A Survey of Judges,
11 Prosecuting Attorneys, and Defense Attorneys in Ten California Counties, S.
12 Cal. Riv. L. & Women’s Stud., 527, 531 (Spring 1993).

13 Although certainly not binding, the New Jersey Superior Court, Appellate
14 Division, recently decided a case that is on point with the present case. 850
15 A2d 516 (N.J. Super. Ct. App. Div. 2004). In that case, defendant Ikerd, a 16 pregnant addict, was sentenced to a more severe sentence based on the fact that 17 she was pregnant. Id. at 519. In fact, the court instructed defense counsel that if 18 defendant lost the baby, they could make an application to the court, but in the 19 meantime “I want to keep her off the street. I don’t want her using drugs. The 20 only way I can do it is by putting her in jail.” Id. at 617.

1 “The purpose of the criminal justice system is to determine whether a crime has 2 been committed and, if so, to punish the guilty parties—not to determine the 3 most effective policy to combat a particular social ill.” Id. at 621, quoting State
4 v. Des Marets, 455 A.2d 1074 (1983); see also, Becker, Order in the Court:
5 Challenging Judges Who Incarcerate Pregnant, Substance-Dependent
6 Defendants to Protect Fetal Health, 19 Hastings Const. L. Q. 235 (Fall 1991).

7 Accordingly, this Motion should be granted as Appellant has a non-
8 frivolous issue to explore on appeal. Most certainly, the Court can fashion
9 conditions of release that will protect Appellant. Given her high-risk pregnancy 10 and the stable influence of family and long-time ties to the community, it is 11 implausible that Appellant would flee.

4 THE COURT: The next matters before the Court are 5 going to be Case No. 12 CR 00226, State of Nevada versus
6 Lindsie Newman. And Case No. 13 CR 00050, State of Nevada
7 versus Lindsie Newman. It's the time for a hearing in regards
8 to the probation revocation.
9 Present on behalf of the State of Nevada is 10 Melanie Porter, Deputy District Attorney. Present on behalf
11 of the Defendant is --
12 MS. MERIDETH: Jennifer Merideth.
13 THE COURT: Oh, I got it.
14 -- in respect to this particular matter. Also 15 present on behalf of the Parole and Probation, I think, is 16 Ashley Miller; correct?
17 THE PROBATION OFFICER: No. Wendy Maxwell, Your 18 Honor.
19 THE COURT: Wendy Maxwell. Okay. 0 for 2.
20 Thank you.
21 In respect to this particular matter, we're here
22 with regards to the -- previously, she'd been removed from 23 drug court, it's my understanding.
24 Is that correct, Ms. Merideth?

Page 3

1 MS. MERIDETH: I'm sorry, Your Honor. My client
2 was speaking to me.
3 What did you just say?
4 THE COURT: She's been removed from the drug
5 court program; correct?
6 MS. MERIDETH: She has, Your Honor.
7 THE COURT: And basically, if the Court recalls,
8 it's basically she left the City of Refuge and left; correct?
9 MS. MERIDETH: That's correct, Your Honor.
10 THE COURT: And we have a violation report dated
11 February 25th, now, 2015; is that correct?
12 MS. MERIDETH: I have a file stamped copy that 13 came into my office on the 26th, and the date, it looks like
14 to me, it was prepared was the 2nd on Case 13 CR 0050 1B.
15 I don't have an actual violation report on 16 13 CR 00226 1B.
17 THE COURT: That's the one I have a violation
18 report on. I don't have one on 13 CR 00050, so if you have 19 one --
20 MS. PORTER: I have them on both.
21 MS. MERIDETH: She's prepared to admit the 22 violations, Your Honor, but (inaudible).
23 THE COURT: I've got one but not the other one.
24 THE PROBATION OFFICER: Your Honor, may I

Page 4

1 approach?
2 THE COURT: You may.
3 MS. MERIDETH: Oh, I'm sorry. I do have this.
4 I apologize, Your Honor.
5 THE COURT: Okay. In reference to Case
6 No. 13 CR 00050, have you had a chance to review that
7 violation report, Ms. Merideth.
8 MS. MERIDETH: I have, Your Honor. My client
9 indicates that she is willing to admit the violations in this 10 case and, as indicated, in the other case as well.
11 THE COURT: And the violation report dated
12 February 25th, 2015, in respect to Case Nos. 13 CR 00050
13 indicates the following violation. Controlled substance,
14 associates law, directives and conduct. Special Condition
15 No. 3. Abstain from use, possession or control of any 16 alcoholic beverages, controlled substance, stolen property
17 during your probation.
18 Special Condition No. 6. You shall not enter any 19 bars or casinos whatsoever except for employment in respect to 20 this matter.
21 So do you admit those violations?
22 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.
23 THE COURT: Also Special Condition No. 2. Submit 24 to a substance abuse intake evaluation; participate in

Page 5

1 counseling program approved by the Division. You were
2 terminated from the Western Regional Drug Court program;
3 correct?
4 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.
5 THE COURT: So you admit that violation as well?
6 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.
7 THE COURT: Ms. Merideth, any statement you'd 8 like to make?
9 MS. MERIDETH: Your Honor, as I indicated,
10 Ms. Newman is prepared to ask for revocation in both of these 11 cases today. She's appreciated the opportunities that the 12 Court has afforded her by allowing her diversion and the drug
13 court program as well as the City of Refuge so her baby will 14 be born safe.
15 Unfortunately, now, she'll be -- or he. I don't 16 know if it's a he or she.
17 THE DEFENDANT: She.
18 MS. MERIDETH: She will be born while Ms. Newman
19 is incarcerated.
20 I did have an opportunity to speak with the 21 Division of Parole and Probation. What the agreement was when 22 she was initially -- well, sentenced on the possession of a
23 controlled substance charge is that this case would run
24 concurrent with the gross misdemeanor charge. She has nine

1 months suspended on that gross misdemeanor as well as I
2 believe that you're going to obviously rescind her deferred.
3 And our request is that you would sentence her to 12 to 32
4 concurrent with the gross misdemeanor charge with credit for 5 265 days time served of presentence employment, and that's the 6 number that I have from the Division of Parole and Probation.
7 I went and pulled the records of her ins and outs at the jail
8 in Carson.
9 THE COURT: So the credit for time served on Case
10 No. 13 CR 00050 reflects credit for time served, 173 days; is 11 that correct? I'm looking at the report. That was as of 12 February 25th, 2015.
13 MS. MERIDETH: I think what the Division and what 14 I've been trying to talk to them about is initially, they were 15 going to -- and they might still be. They want to request
16 credit on the gross misdemeanor case and then credit on the 17 felony case separate too. And my request -- and that's the 18 agreement we had with the State is that the time would run
19 concurrent to each other.
20 So I think that --
21 THE COURT: Well, if I run it concurrent, the 22 time runs concurrent, I guess.
23 MS. MERIDETH: Correct.
24 THE COURT: But my question -- and I want to make

Page 7

1 sure, and I guess my main concern is no matter what happens in 2 this particular matter, she stays in custody long enough for
3 that child to be born. I don't want her to go out and go 4 through any hoops or anything else and be out of custody until 5 that child's been born, and I don't know if I -- otherwise,
6 I'm going to run them consecutively.
7 THE PROBATION OFFICER: Your Honor, she's set to 8 expire her gross misdemeanor case next month on the 14th.
9 THE COURT: It expires?
10 THE PROBATION OFFICER: Her gross misdemeanor
11 case expires.
12 As far as the deferred sentence --
13 THE COURT: Well, we're going to sentence her in 14 a minute on that.
15 But anyway, I'm going to go ahead and revoke on 16 this case. I'm going to go ahead and revoke your probation
17 with respect to Case No. 13 CR 0050. We will give you credit
18 at least until you were picked up, I guess, up to 19 February 25th, 2015. We'll give you credit of 173 days, and 20 then I'll decide what I'm going to do on the other case. If I
21 run them concurrent, it won't matter. They'll all run
22 together.
23 So in respect to Case No. 13 CR 0026, we do
24 have -- you had a suspended sentence in that particular case,

1 if I recall correctly, where you were given the benefit of
2 diversion in respect to this -- that particular matter. So
3 it's up to the Court to determine what the sentence I should
4 give on that case; correct, Ms. Porter?
5 MS. PORTER: That's correct.
6 THE COURT: What's the State recommending?
7 MS. PORTER: Your Honor, our initial agreement in 8 the plea memorandum was concurrent time with the gross
9 misdemeanor case. You know, typically the way it works is if 10 they don't complete, we regain the full right to argue, and 11 that's part of the plea memorandum as well.
12 I agree with the Court that we don't want to see
13 her out of custody until that baby is born.
14 My concern is that, you know, on the 12 to 32,
15 she's going to serve, what, eight months maximum before she's 16 paroled. And with 170 days' credit for time served, that's a
17 substantial amount. That's like six of those eight months.
18 I'll submit that to the Court for your
19 consideration for whatever you choose to do at sentencing.
20 THE PROBATION OFFICER: And, Your Honor, if I
21 may, the Division is recommending that she not receive any 22 credit for time served on her deferred case as she picked up
23 this case while she was on her gross misdemeanor probation.
24 So her officer is requesting that she not receive any time on

1 her deferred case.
2 THE COURT: Ms. Merideth, do you understand my
3 concern? I just want to make sure above all that she -- and 4 I'll sentence her accordingly -- make sure she stays in 5 custody until that child is born. Obviously, you couldn't
6 trust her at the City of Refuge. You can't trust her
7 anywhere. I don't want that child to be put at any risk in 8 respect to this matter. So --
9 MS. MERIDETH: Well, I understand that, Your 10 Honor, and I appreciate the Court's concern. I don't see that 11 anyone wouldn't share the same concerns.
12 Unfortunately, based on Lindsie's behavior, she's 13 young and she's not making smart decisions.
14 The simple fact of the matter is if you're going
15 to give her 173 days on one case, she still has 92 days that 16 she's actually served either on one of these two cases. So it
17 needs to go somewhere.
18 The Division themselves are the ones that 19 prepared the information for me about the time that she's been 20 in custody, so I don't think it's fair to give her 173 days
21 when she's been in 265 days all told.
22 THE COURT: I ran that calculation too, and I
23 think she's entitled -- unless I don't run them
24 consecutively -- I mean, I don't run them concurrent and I run

Page 10

1 them consecutively. And I don't know if that's fair to her
2 either, so --
3 MS. MERIDETH: Well, I would rather see her --
4 and I think she would agree -- do her time, the remaining time
5 in the actual prison system. There's more resources available
6 to her. There's doctors. She's having problems getting into 7 seeing doctors in the jail.
8 And she's also currently having a high-risk
9 pregnancy, so she's going to have to be seen in Reno. I don't
10 know how quickly they can get her down to Florence McClure.
11 They have resources down in Las Vegas as well, but I know
12 that, you know, the sooner she goes, the better care she's 13 going to get. We just don't have --
14 THE COURT: I guess my point is if I run them
15 consecutively and she's done on the other case, if I do it
16 consecutively, then she gets credit for 173 days on that case.
17 And then I run it -- on this case, she would get credit for 18 92 days. I almost think I have to do that, and I'm doing it
19 primarily for a good reason, I think, in respect to that.
20 MS. MERIDETH: Well, and she's due on the 14th of 21 June. I don't know if she'll go full term with the baby.
22 She's had some complications already.
23 I think it was last week that you went to the 24 doctor?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.
2 THE COURT: Well, it was probably high risk due
3 to the heroin use and everything else. I don't know if that's 4 true or not. Ms. Porter?
5 MS. PORTER: You know, the other option is to 6 apply all 270 days to the gross misdemeanor case. That would 7 expire the gross misdemeanor case. And then if you choose to 8 run the 12 to 32 consecutive, then she would start fresh, and 9 she could go to the prison system and wouldn't have the gross
10 misdemeanor trailing behind.
11 THE COURT: Well, in reference to this particular
12 matter, I do have to sentence her.
13 Ms. Merideth, I do have to sentence her. Her 14 having previously in respect to this particular matter having 15 pled -- appeared before this Court and having pled guilty --
16 and this is in Case No. 13 CR 0026. The Court is going to go
17 ahead and sentence you to -- to a minimum of 12 months to a
18 maximum of 32 months at the Nevada Department of Corrections.
19 Previously, we had assessed a $25 administrative 20 assessment fee, a $60 chemical reassessed. We will assess the 21 $3 that's required for that.
22 We did assess the attorney's fees previously in 23 respect to this particular matter in regards to this 24 particular case.

1 So as a result of that and then a result of your
2 violations -- and I presume -- the report's identical to the 3 other one.
4 Do you admit the violations in the report dated
5 February 25th, 2015, in respect to Case No. 13 CR 00226,
6 Ms. Newman?
7 (Discussion off the record.)
8 MS. MERIDETH: Your Honor, my client indicates
9 under controlled substances -- it says "laws, directives, 10 et cetera" -- that she is denying that a drug test found the 11 presence of methamphetamine. She indicates to me that's never 12 a drug that has been her drug of choice, nor did she use it.
13 She requested to see a copy of the drug test, which they did
14 not provide to her.
15 THE COURT: But she does admit she was removed
16 from the Western Regional Drug Court program (inaudible)?
17 THE DEFENDANT: That part, yes.
18 MS. MERIDETH: That's correct, Your Honor.
19 THE COURT: She does admit violations of the 20 controlled substance, associates laws, directives and conduct?
21 MS. MERIDETH: That's correct.
22 THE COURT: Okay. Well, I'm going to go ahead,
23 again, and -- based upon those violations, again, and sentence
24 you as indicated: 12 to 32 months in respect to this

Page 13

1 particular matter. All 265 days' credit for time served will
2 apply to the gross misdemeanor case in this particular matter.
3 And, again, I'm going to run that consecutive, not concurrent.
4 (Discussion off the record.)

5 MS. PORTER: Your Honor, the one thing I didn't
6 hear was the $150 DNA fee, which would apply now to the felony
7 issue.

8 THE COURT: We'll apply that too. Thank you,
9 Ms. Porter.

10 MS. PORTER: Thank you.

11 THE COURT: Again, I want to make abundantly
12 clear what's transpired. You had every single benefit that 13 anybody could ever possibly give to anybody. You violated all
14 those benefits in respect to this matter. So I hope you
15 understand why I'm doing this.

16 I'm doing this more than anything to protect that 17 unborn child. I don't want to see you out doing anything
18 until that child is born, clearly.

19 Anything further, Counsel?

20 MS. PORTER: No, Your Honor. Thank you.

21 MS. MERIDETH: No, Your Honor.
