1 PETITION FOR WRIT OF MANDAMUS AND/OR PROHIBITION

2 Petitioners Valley Health System, LLC, a Delaware limited-liability
3 company d/b/a Centennial Hills Hospital Medical Center (hereinafter “Centennial
4 Hills”), and Universal Health Services, Inc., a Delaware corporation (hereinafter
5 “UHS”), by and through their attorneys of record, Hall Prangle & Schoonveld,
6 LLC, pursuant to Nevada Rule of Appellate Procedure 21, and based on this 7 Court’s original jurisdiction set forth Art. 6, Sec. 4 of the Nevada Constitution and 8 NRS 34.160, hereby respectfully petition this Honorable Court to issue a Writ of 9 Mandamus and/or Writ of Prohibition, directing the Respondent District Court (the 10 Honorable Richard F. Scotti) to vacate that portion of his February 27, 2015, Order
11 Granting Plaintiff’s Motion for Summary Judgment Re: Liability in Part, wherein 12 Respondent:
13
14
15
16
17

- 18 1. Held that for purposes of imposing liability on an employer for the 19 intentional criminal conduct of an employee under NRS 41.745,
20 Plaintiff’s burden of proof is limited to establishing only “general 21 foreseeability,” while the defendant employer has the burden to prove 22 that the conduct of the particular criminal assailant employee was not 23 reasonably foreseeable under the facts and circumstances of the particular 24 case (WA0852, Vol. IV) (emphasis added); and 25
26
27
28

1 2. Found that the criminal assailant, Steven Farmer, was, as a matter of law,
2 also an employee of Centennial Hills and its parent company UHS, at the 3 time of the subject incident.¹ (WA0852, Vol. IV) (emphasis added).

5 A. The District Court Improperly Interpreted NRS 41.745 And
6 Made Improper Conclusions Of Law Regarding Proximate Cause
7 And Burden Of Proof, For Which This Court's Intervention Is
8 Necessary

9 An employer is not liable for harm or injury caused by an employee's 10 intentional conduct, if the conduct:

- 11 (a) Was a truly independent venture of the 12 employee;
13 (b) Was not committed in the course of the 14 very task assigned to the employee; and 15 (c) Was not reasonably foreseeable under the 16 facts and circumstances of the case considering
17 the nature and scope of his or her employment.
18 For the purposes of this subsection, conduct of an 19 employee is reasonably foreseeable if a person of 20 ordinary intelligence and prudence could have 21 reasonably anticipated the conduct and the 22 probability of injury.

- 23 2. Nothing in this section imposes strict liability on 24 an employer for any unforeseeable intentional
25 act of an employee.

26 NRS 41.745(1)-(2) (emphasis added).
27
28

¹ These two rulings reflect the prior oral rulings of Judge Valorie J. Vega (WA0840-41, Vol. IV).
Judge Vega retired from the bench before a written order was entered.

1 Neither the Wood court nor the Nevada Legislature has ever imposed the 2 Respondent's "dual" burden of proof to hold employers vicariously liable for their
3 employees' intention torts under NRS 41.745, which is an unworkable proposition 4 that will necessarily leave a lay jury in a state of hopeless confusion in trying to 5 understand and resolve the issues in this case. Thus, writ relief is imperative to 6 prevent the parties and the district court from needlessly expending voluminous
7 resources in an attempt to prepare and try this case under the impossible procedural 8 standard that the district court has established; the result of which would likely be 9 another trial under proper burden of proof rules. See MountainView Hosp., Inc. v.
10 Eighth Judicial Dist. Ct., 273 P.3d 861, 864-65, 128 Nev. Adv. Op. 17 (2012)
11 (citing "judicial economy" as a proper basis for granting writ).

12 Moreover, Respondent's order reflects the pressing need for this Court to 13 clarify its decade-old decision in Wood v. Safeway, Inc., 121 Nev. 724, 739, 121
14 P.3d 1026, 1036 (2005), wherein this Court rejected the "general foreseeability"
15 standard that the Respondent improperly applied to the instant matter in its order.
16 Furthermore, the Wood court gave no indication that the traditional burden of proof
17 rules were altered to hold employers vicariously liable for their employees'
18 intention torts under NRS 41.130 and NRS 41.745, and specifically the Wood

1 decision does not relieve Plaintiff of her burden to prove “reasonable
2 foreseeability” to overcome the NRS 41.745 requirements.

3 The plain language of NRS 41.745, its legislative history, as well as this 4 Court’s holding in Wood, make clear that the Nevada legislature clearly intended to 5 eliminate the “general foreseeability” standard and to place the burden on Plaintiff
6 to prove that the statutory elements of NRS 41.745 are not satisfied – including 7 proof that the employee’s conduct was “reasonably foreseeable.” NRS 41.745(c).
8 Accordingly, Respondent’s order, which not only limits Plaintiff’s burden of proof
9 under NRS 41.745 to a “general foreseeability” requirement, but also places the 10 burden on Defendants “to prove the various sections and provisions of NRS
11 41.745,” reflects an urgent need for this Court’s expeditious intervention to clarify 12 its holding in Wood – specifically the burden of proof imposed by NRS 41.745 and 13 applicable foreseeability standard. (WA0852, Vol. IV). See Rolf Jensen & Assoc.,
14 Inc. v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Ct., 282 P.3d 743, 746, 128 Nev. Adv. Op. 42 (2012)
15 (noting the “need for clarification” of Nevada law as an appropriate basis for 16 granting a writ petition); International Game Technology, Inc. v. Second Judicial 17 Dist. Ct., 124 Nev. 193, 198, 179 P.3d 556, 559 (2008) (writ petition would be 18 granted where it “raise[d] an important legal issue in need of clarification,

4 B. This Court's Intervention Is Also Necessary To Address The 5 District Court's Improper Finding That Steven Farmer Was An 6 Employee Of Petitioners, Centennial Hills Hospital And UHS As 7 A Matter Of Law

8 This Court's intervention is also needed to address Respondent's summary 9 judgment order that the criminal assailant in this case was an employee of 10 Centennial Hills, as well as its parent corporation UHS, as a matter of law, at the 11 time of the subject incident. (WA0852, Vol. IV). These issues raise questions of 12 fact for the jury to resolve.

A. This Court's Guidance Is Urgently Needed To Resolve The Burden Of Proof And The Foreseeability Standard Issues Under NRS 41.745

1. In an action against an alleged employer for injuries caused by the intentional criminal conduct of an alleged employee under NRS 41.745:

a) Does the “general foreseeability” standard apply in light of the statutory language of NRS 41.745, this Court’s decision in Wood v. Safeway, Inc., 121 Nev. 724, 121 P.3d 1026 (2005), and the statute’s legislative history; and

b) Does Plaintiff have the burden to prove the statutory elements necessary for recovery against an employer under NRS 41.745, including the burden to prove that the employee's intentional criminal conduct was "reasonably foreseeable" to the employer "under the facts and circumstances of the case"?

2. Does the assailant's alleged employment by entities other than his employer present a fact issue that should be resolved by the trier of fact?

1 II. STATUTE INVOLVED – NRS 41.745

2 41.745. Liability of employer for intentional conduct of employee;
3 limitations

4 1. An employer is not liable for harm or injury caused by the 5 intentional conduct of an employee if the conduct of the employee;

6 (a) Was a truly independent venture of the employee;

7 (b) Was not committed in the course of the very task assigned 8 to the employee; and

9 (c) Was not reasonably foreseeable under the facts and 10 circumstances of the case considering the nature and scope of his or 11 her employment.

12 For the purposes of this subsection, conduct of an employee is 13 reasonably foreseeable if a person of ordinary intelligence and 14 prudence could have reasonably anticipated the conduct and the 15 probability of injury.

16 2. Nothing in this section imposes strict liability on an employer
17 for any unforeseeable intentional act of an employee.

18 3. For the purposes of this section:

19 (a) "Employee means any person who is employed by an 20 employer, including, without limitation, any present or former officer
21 or employee, immune contractor, an employee of a university school
22 for profoundly gifted pupils described in chapter 392A of NRS or a
23 member of a board or commission or Legislator in this State.

24 (b) "Employer" means any public or private employer in this 25 State, including, without limitation, the State of Nevada, a university 26 school for profoundly gifted pupils described in chapter 392A of 27 NRS, any agency of this State and any political subdivision of the 28 State.

*Added by Laws 1997, p. 1357. Amended by Laws 2005, c. 481, § 22,
eff. July 1, 2005.*

III. STATEMENT OF FACTS

A. Jane Doe Suffers From Seizure Disorder & Is Admitted To Centennial Hills Hospital In May 2008

In May 2008, Jane Doe was a fifty-one year old woman who had a medical history of severe anxiety, depression, and a seizure, or “pseudoseizure,” disorder, which caused her to experience “uncontrollable sensory overload.” (WA0328-29, Vol. II). Ms. Doe testified that when she had seizures, her body would “clench” and “tighten,” and that she did not know what was going on around her.” (WA0329, Vol. II). Ms. Doe further testified that after a seizure she was unable to speak or move, and was effectively immobilized for a period of time, which could last 24 to 48 hours following a seizure episode. (WA0270, Vol. II; WA0329-30, Vol. II). Ms. Doe also testified that, despite this immobilization, she was completely aware of everything going on around her, but that she “just can’t participate in any of it.” (WA0270, Vol. II).

On May 13, 2008, Ms. Doe was transported to Centennial Hills Hospital’s emergency department via ambulance sometime between 5:10 p.m. and 5:35 p.m., after having suffered a seizure episode in the parking lot of a grocery store earlier that same day. (WA0330, Vol. II; WA0857, WA0859-60; Vol. IV). Upon her arrival to the emergency department, the emergency physician, Erik Evensen, D.O., assessed Ms. Doe and determined that she was suffering from a prolonged

1 postictal (post-seizure) period. (WA0855, WA0856, WA0859-60; Vol. IV). After
2 performing a physical examination, Dr. Evensen ordered an IV, a cardiac monitor,
3 pulse oximeter, O₂ nasal cannula, and Foley catheter for Ms. Doe, all of which 4 were placed or inserted by the emergency department nursing staff. (WA0858-60, 5 Vol. IV). Dr. Curtis Bazemore then admitting Ms. Doe for observation and 6 monitoring, and was taken to the med surg telemetry floor, room 614, sometime
7 between 7:15 p.m. and 8.30 p.m., on May 13, 2008. (WA0859-60, Vol. IV).

10 11 B. Steven Farmer Supplied To Centennial Hills By ANS Pursuant To 12 BroadLane Contract

13 At the time of Ms. Doe's admission, Steven Farmer, a Certified Nursing
14 Assistant ("CNA"), was an employee of American Nursing Services ("ANS"), a 15 supplemental staffing agency (WA0162-204, Vol. I). Mr. Farmer had been 16 certified as a CNA in both California and Nevada. (WA0162, WA0168-69, 17 WA0176-81; Vol. 1). See NRS 632.2852 for certification process. Mr. Farmer 18 was on Centennial Hills' premises pursuant to a contractual agreement, referred to 19 as the "Broadlane Contract," by which ANS agreed to provide staffing to 20 Centennial Hills. (WA0127, Vol. 1). Mr. Farmer had completed an application for 21 employment with ANS, he had been interviewed by ANS staff, and he had 22 completed a CNA "skills test" that was administered by ANS. (WA0162-87, Vol.
23 1). ANS also performed a criminal background investigation of Mr. Farmer in 24
25
26
27
28

1 accordance with its obligation under the Broadlane Contract, which revealed that
2 he had no record of a criminal history. (WA0170-72, Vol. 1). While on Centennial
3 Hills' premises, Mr. Farmer wore an identification badge that listed the name of 4 the facility at the top, then his name, then the term "Contract Staff," and then the 5 name of his employer, "American Nursing Services, Inc." (WA0699-700;

7 performing a number nursing support tasks. See Nevada State Board of Nursing,

12 C. Farmer Is Assigned To The Sixth Floor At Centennial Hills
13 Hospital And Thereafter Assaults Ms. Doe

14 On May 14, 2008, Mr. Farmer was scheduled to work in Centennial Hills
15 Hospital's emergency department from 7:00 p.m. to 7:00 a.m. (WA0863, Vol. IV).
16 At approximately 9:30 p.m., Mr. Farmer was reassigned to the Sixth Floor, where 17 he allegedly remained for the duration of his shift into the early morning of May 18 15, 2008. (WA0863-64, Vol. IV). During this time period, Mr. Farmer entered 19 Ms. Doe's room on multiple occasions and committed various sexual assaults on 20 her. (WA0122-24, Vol. I).

D. Evidence That There Was No Work-Related Reason For Farmer To Enter Ms. Doe's Room At The Time Of The Sexual Assaults

Farmer was subsequently indicted on six crimes against Jane Doe, including sexual assault, open or gross lewdness, and indecent exposure. (WA0122-24, Vol. I). During Farmer's criminal trial, Ms. Doe testified about the various sexual assaults committed by Mr. Farmer. She testified that, on one occasion, Farmer entered her room and pinched her nipples, stating that "one [of] the leads has come off on your heart monitor." (WA0076, Vol. I). However, Ms. Doe testified that the leads "were not on [her] nipples" and that she did not hear "the beeping sound" that the telemetry machine makes when a lead has fallen off. (WA0076-77, Vol. I). Ms. Doe described another incident where Farmer entered her room, claiming that he had to clean feces from her leg, and inserted his fingers into her anus. (WA0080, Vol. I). However, Ms. Doe did not feel that she had gone to the bathroom (WA0101, Vol. I), and she further testified that Farmer did not wipe her off, he did not change the blue pad that was underneath her to protect against a bowel movement or a catheter leak, and he did not change her hospital gown. (WA0080-81, Vol. I). On another occasion, Ms. Doe testified that Farmer digitally penetrated her vagina, claiming that he was checking her catheter. (WA0081-82, Vol. I). However, Ms. Doe testified that the catheter was not inside her vagina. (WA0081-84, Vol. I). On another occasion, Farmer entered Ms. Doe's room for

1 no stated reason and lifted up her gown so that he could see her entire body.
2 (WA0079, Vol. I).

3 4 IV. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

5 A. Plaintiff's Complaint And Amended Complaint

6 On July 23, 2009, Ms. Doe filed the instant action against Steven A. Farmer,
8 ANS, Centennial Hills and UHS, alleging that during her admission in May 2008,
9 Farmer sexually assaulted her while she was a patient at Centennial Hills.
10 (WA0001-06, WA0007-12; Vol. I). Plaintiff alleged that the corporate defendants 11 (ANS, Centennial Hills and UHS) were liable to Plaintiff for the intentional acts of 12 their alleged employee, Farmer, based inter alia on the doctrine of respondeat 13 superior. (WA0004, WA0010; Vol. 1). Plaintiff's complaint sought general and 14 punitive damages. (WA0006, WA0012; Vol. I). Subsequently, Ms. Doe died of 15 causes unrelated to this case, and Misty Peterson, Special Administrator of the 16 Estate, was substituted as Plaintiff for Ms. Doe. (WA0042-3, WA0126; Vol. I; 17
19
20
21 WA0248, Vol. II).

22 B. Farmer Is Convicted Of The Assaults Against Jane Doe

23 On May 30, 2014, Farmer was criminally convicted in the Eighth Judicial 24 District, Clark County, Nevada, Case No. 08 C 245739/C249693, of six crimes
25
26
27
28

1 against Jane Doe, which included sexual assault, open or gross lewdness, and 2 indecent exposure. (WA0122-24, Vol. I).

4 C. Plaintiff Moves For Summary Judgment On Liability

5 On September 29, 2014, Plaintiff moved for summary judgment on the issue
6 of liability against all defendants, including ANS, Centennial Hills and UHS.
7 (WA0053-124, Vol. I). Plaintiff urged that each of these corporate entities was 8 vicariously liable as a matter of law for Farmer's criminal assaults on Ms. Doe.
9 (WA0062-64, Vol. I). However, Plaintiff's initial motion did not cite to NRS
10 41.745, or even argue the issue of foreseeability as to any of the corporate 11 defendants. (WA0053-124, Vol. I).

14
15 Centennial Hills and UHS opposed Plaintiff's summary judgment motion, 16 citing NRS 41.745 and urging that Plaintiff could not recover even at a jury trial,
17 much less as a matter of law, as Centennial Hills and UHS urged that in criminally
18 assaulting Ms. Doe, Farmer was engaged in a truly independent venture; that he 19 was not acting within the course and scope of any assigned task or duties as nurse
20 assistant; and that his criminal assaults of Ms. Doe were not reasonably foreseeable
21 to Centennial Hills. (WA0129-38, Vol. I). Specifically, Centennial Hills and UHS
22 relied upon this Court's decision in Wood v. Safeway, Inc., 121 Nev. 724, 737, 121
23 P.3d 1026, 1035 (2005), and urged that there were no known prior acts or any
25
26
27
28

1 other circumstances that could have put Centennial Hills on notice that Farmer
2 would sexually assault Ms. Doe. (WA0132-35, Vol. I). ANS provided Centennial
3 Hills with documentation showing that Farmer was certified as a CNA in both 4 California and Nevada, that he had passed a criminal background test in both 5 states, as well as a negative drug test. (WA0133-34, WA0170-72, WA0183; Vol.
6 I). ANS also provided Centennial Hills with Farmer's prior employment 7 information, which contained no reports of improper conduct or bad character.
8 (WA0133-34, Vol. I).

12 In her Reply, Plaintiff urged that she was required to prove only the "general
13 foreseeability" standard discussed in State Dep't of Hum. Res. v. Jimenez, 113 Nev.
14 735, 941 P.2d 969 (1997), a Nevada Supreme Court opinion that was subsequently 15 withdrawn. (WA0521, Vol. III). Although Plaintiff acknowledged that the Nevada
16 legislature intended to overrule Jimenez when it drafted NRS 41.745 (WA0519, fn.
17 9; Vol. III); nevertheless, she urged that it was sufficient for her to show that 18 Farmer's sexual assaults were "not so unusual or startling," given that CNAs and 19 other hospital personnel often have physical contact with a patient. (WA0521-24, 20 Vol. III). Plaintiff even urged that foreseeability was established as to ANS by the 21 fact that ANS had purchased liability insurance to cover sexual assaults.
22 (WA0523, Vol. III). Plaintiff also provided "expert" affidavits asserting the 23
25
26
27
28

1 “general foreseeability” of such assaults on the basis that hospitals often insure
2 against such incidents. (WA0525-26, Vol. III). Plaintiff claimed that these general
3 foreseeability assertions satisfied “the foreseeability element of Wood’s respondeat
4 superior analysis.” (WA0525, Vol. III).

6 Ultimately, Plaintiff ignored the foreseeability issue and argued that 7 Centennial Hills and UHS should be “strictly liable” for Farmer’s conduct
8 (WA0541, Vol. III), despite the fact that NRS 41.745(2) expressly states that 9 “[n]othing in this section imposes strict liability on an employer for any 10 unforeseeable intentional act of employee.”
11

13 Centennial and UHS filed a supplemental brief to emphasize that the 14 foreseeability standard applied by this Court in Wood was not general
15 foreseeability, but rather was a fact specific “reasonable foreseeability” standard
16 pertaining to the specific employee involved in the criminal assault, and the facts 17 and circumstances of the particular case. (WA0762-87, Vol. IV). Centennial and 18 UHS further urged that the burden of proving the statutory elements of NRS
19 41.745 required for imposing intentional tort liability on an employer remained 20 with the Plaintiff. (WA0768, Vol. IV).

1 D. Respondent Grants Plaintiff's Motion On Liability In Part

2 On February 27, 2015, Respondent entered its Order granting Plaintiff's
3 Motion for Summary Judgment on Liability in part, which included, inter alia, the 4 following findings of fact and conclusions of law:

6 Findings of Fact:

- 7
- 8 • "In May 2008, Centennial/UHS had a contractual agreement whereby ANS
9 would provide certain Hospital Staff, which including Certified Nursing 10 Assistants ("CNA");"
 - 11 • "In May 2008, Farmer was an agency CNA working at Centennial/UHS 12 through ANS;"
 - 13 • "On May 14, 2008, Farmer originally was told to work in the Emergency 14 Room by Centennial/UHS;"
 - 15 • "In May 2008, Farmer wore an employee badge that had his name, ANS, 16 Centennial/UHS, and contract staff written on it;"
 - 17 • "At around 21:30 hours on May 14, 2008, while Farmer was working at 18 Centennial Hills Hospital Medical Center, Farmer was moved from the 19 Emergency Room to the Sixth Floor by Centennial/UHS to work;"
 - 20 • "On May 14, 2008, Jane Doe was on the Sixth Floor in Room 614 at 21 Centennial/UHS;"
 - 22 • "On May 14, 2008, in the course and scope of his employment with ANS 23 and Centennial/UHS as a CNA, and in the course and scope of working at 24 Centennial/UHS, it was expected that Farmer would enter patients' rooms on 25 the Sixth Floor of Centennial/UHS as part of his tasks;"
 - 26 • "In addition, Farmer was expected to give bed baths, cleanup stool, cleanup 27 urine, and check monitor leads;"
- 28

- “On May 14, 2008, having contact with a patient in the patient’s room on the Sixth Floor of Centennial/UHS was in the course and scope of Farmer’s employment with ANS and Centennial/UHS as a CNA;”
- “Farmer had contact with Jane Doe in her room on the Sixth Floor of Centennial/UHS.”

Conclusions of Law:

- “Pursuant to NRS 41.133, and based upon Farmer’s criminal conviction for the acts underlying the instant lawsuit, Plaintiff’s Motion as to Farmer’s liability is granted, however the issue of damages as to Farmer remains an issue for the time of trial;”
- “Farmer, at the time the criminal acts were committed, was the employee of American Nursing Services, Inc., Universal Health Services, Inc., and Valley Health Systems, LLC;”
- “With regard to negligence, the Court further finds that plaintiff must prove general foreseeability;”
- “To refute respondeat superior liability per NRS 41.130, the defendants must prove the various sections and provisions of NRS 41.745 in order to rebut a claim made under NRS 41.130;”
- “At this time, the Court finds there is a genuine issue of material fact with regard to liability, the principal one being whether the misconduct of Farmer was reasonably foreseeable;”
- “Hence, the Court denies Plaintiff’s Motion for Partial Summary Judgment without prejudice, pursuant to NRCP 56, Wood v. Safeway, 121 Nev. 724, 121 P.3d 1026 (2005); Prell Hotel Corp. v. Antonacci, 86 Nev. 390, 469 P.2d 399 (1970); and NRS 41.745.”

(WA0847-54; Vol. IV)(emphasis added).

1 V. REASONS WHY A WRIT OF MANDAMUS SHOULD ISSUE

2 A. Standard Of Review

4 A writ of mandamus is available (1) “to compel the performance of an act 5 which the law especially enjoins as a duty resulting from an office, trust or 6 station,” NRS 34.160, (2) “to control a manifest abuse of or arbitrary or capricious 7 exercise of discretion,” or (3) “to clarify an important issue of law.” Bennett v.
8 Eighth Judicial Dist. Ct., 121 Nev. 802, 806, 121 P.3d 605, 608 (2005) (emphasis 9 added). When the District Court’s findings raise questions of law, such as those at 10 issue in this petition, they are reviewed de novo. Marquis v. Eighth Judicial Dist.
11 Ct., 122 Nev. 1147, 1156, 146 P.3d 1130, 1136 (2006); Borger v. Eighth Judicial 12 Dist. Ct., 120 Nev. 1021, 1026, 102 P.3d 600, 604 (2004). The writ shall be issued 13 in all cases where the petitioner does not have a plain, speedy and adequate remedy
14 in the ordinary course of law. NRS 34.170.

20 Foreseeability,” And Imposing The Burden Of Proving The 21 Statutory Elements of NRS 41.745 on Defendants, Raises
22 Significant Legal Issues For Which Clarification Of Nevada Law
23 Is Urgently Needed

24 1. The “General Foreseeability” Standard Does Not Comport
25 With Nevada Jurisprudence, As The Plain Language Of NRS
26 41.745 Sets Forth A Specific “Reasonable Foreseeability”
27 Standard
28

1 NRS 41.745 states in pertinent part that an employer is not liable for the 2 harm or injury caused by the intentional conduct of an employee that:

3 c) Was not reasonably foreseeable under the facts and
4 circumstances of the case considering the nature and 5 scope of his or her employment.

6 [C]onduct . . . is reasonably foreseeable if a person of ordinary 7 intelligence and prudence could have reasonably anticipated
8 the conduct and the probability of injury. (emphasis added).

9 Accordingly, the plain language of NRS 41.745 establishes that the 10 foreseeability standard required to impose liability on an employer for the 11 intentional criminal acts of an employee is fact specific “reasonable 12 foreseeability,” to be determined “under the facts and circumstances of the case,”
13 not the “general foreseeability” urged by Plaintiff and set forth in Respondent’s
14 Order. (WA0519-25, Vol. III; WA0852, Vol. IV).

15
16
17
18 a. This Court Held In Wood That The “General
19 Foreseeability” Standard Is An Incorrect Statement
20 Of Nevada Law

21 This Court has already interpreted and expressly endorsed NRS 41.745’s
22 reasonable foreseeability standard, which limits an employer’s liability to conduct 23 by that employee that was reasonably foreseeable to the employer “under the facts
24 and circumstances of the particular case.” In Wood, plaintiff, a mentally disabled
25 Safeway employee, sued her employer (Safeway) and the company that provided 26
27
28

1 Safeway with janitorial service, after she was sexually assaulted by a one of the 2 janitorial company's employees. 121 Nev. at 724, 121 P.3d at 1026. Plaintiff
3 alleged that the assailant's acts were foreseeable to the janitorial service company 4 because it was not "highly extraordinary" that a workforce comprised of highly 5 transient, untrained, largely unsupervised illegal aliens would sexually assault
6 "vulnerable females" such as herself. Id., at 739, 121 P.3d at 1036. This Court
7 rejected all of the plaintiff's arguments and affirmed summary judgment in favor
8 of defendants under NRS 41.745. Id. at 1037.

12 On the issue of foreseeability, the Court explained that the "highly 13 extraordinary" standard was "an incorrect statement of the law." Wood, 121 Nev.
14 at 739-40, 121 P.3d at 1036. Rather, "whether an intentional act is reasonably 15 foreseeable depends on whether one has 'reasonable cause to anticipate such act
16 and the probability of injury resulting therefrom.'" Id. (Emphasis added). The 17 Court held that plaintiff failed to show a material issue of fact as to the reasonable 18 foreseeability of the criminal assailant employee's conduct, given that the 19 employee had no prior criminal history, and the janitorial service had received no 20 complaints of misconduct or sexual harassment involving the assailant or any other 21 employee in the past ten years. Id. at 740, 121 P.3d at 1036-37. Accordingly, 22 "[u]nder the circumstances of this case, it was not reasonably foreseeable that [the 23
24
25
26
27
28

1 assailant] would sexually assault a Safeway employee.” Wood, 121 Nev. at 740,
2 121 P.3d at 1037 (emphasis added).²

4 As demonstrated by this Court’s analysis in Wood, the foreseeability
5 required to impose employer liability under NRS 41.745 is “reasonable 6 foreseeability” – i.e., the criminal conduct of the particular assailant employee
7 must be reasonably foreseeable to the employer under the facts and circumstances
8 of the particular case – and the “general foreseeability” set forth in Respondent’s
9 Order (WA0852, Vol. IV) is not the law.
10
11

12 b. The “Reasonable Foreseeability” Standard Applied In 13 Wood* Comports With The Legislature’s Intent
14 Behind Its Enactment Of NRS 41.745

15 The plain language of NRS 41.745 and this Court’s holding in Wood make 16 clear that “reasonable foreseeability” under the specific facts and circumstances of 17 the case is required to impose employer liability under NRS 41.745. However, to 18 the extent any ambiguity exists and/or remains, it is resolved by the statute’s 19 legislative history.
20
21

22 NRS 41.745, formerly Assembly Bill 595, was enacted by the Legislature in 23 response to this Court’s March 27, 1997, decision in State, Dep’t of Human Res., 24

25 ² Relying on the same absence of evidence of reasonable foreseeability, this Court in Wood 26 further held that the janitorial service company was entitled to summary judgment on the 27 additional ground that the employee’s criminal assaults constituted an unforeseeable intervening
28 and superseding cause. Wood, 121 Nev. at 741; 121 P.3d at 1037.

1 Division Of Mental Hygiene & Mental Retardation v. Jimenez, 113 Nev. 356, 359,
2 935 P.2d 274, 275-76 (1997), opinion withdrawn, reh'g dismissed, 113 Nev. 735,
3 941 P.2d 969 (1997), wherein a new test for employer liability was announced,
4 replacing the previous test from Prell Hotel Corp. v. Antonacci, 86 Nev. 390, 469
5 P.2d 399 (1970). Under the Jimenez test, an employee's intentional torts were 6 considered foreseeable if, in the context of the particular enterprise, the employee's 7 conduct was not "so 'unusual or startling' that it would seem unfair to include the 8 loss resulting from it in the costs of the employer's business." Jimenez, 113 Nev. at 9 365, 935P.2d at 279-80.
10
12

13 Recognizing that this new risk allocation/general foreseeability test, set forth
14 in Jimenez, essentially imposed strict liability on employers for an employee's 15 intentional wrongdoing, the Legislature enacted NRS 41.745 both to codify the 16 Prell standard – contained within NRS 41.745(1)(a) and (b) – and to add a 17 "reasonable foreseeability" standard set forth in NRS 41.745(1)(c). See Hearings
18 on A.B. 595, 69th Leg., Assem. Comm. on Jud., at 14, 15 (Nev. June 19, 1997).
19 (WA0789-90, WA0791-808; Vol. IV). Indeed, in her comments to the Assembly
20 Committee on Judiciary, Assistant Attorney General Brooke Neilsen, whose office 21 proposed the bill, testified that "the language in . . . subsection 1(c), which required 22 the conduct of an employee to be reasonably foreseeable for the employer to be 23
24
25
26
27
28

1 held liable, was included in the bill to address the foreseeability test mentioned in 2 the Jimenez opinion” to “try and get the court and jury to focus on what happened
3 in a particular case.” (WA0795, WA0797; Vol. IV). Committee Counsel Risa L.
4 Berger further explained that “[t]he intent of [section 1, subsection 1(c)] was to 5 bring it back to an ordinary negligence standard.” (WA0800, Vol. IV). Most 6 succinctly, Assemblywoman and Vice Chairman Barbara Buckley testified that 7 “subsection 1(c) needed to be included, so that the definition of foreseeability as 8 spreading the risk to private employers was overruled. Otherwise, there was no
9 point in the legislation being passed.” (WA0801, Vol. IV) (emphasis added).
10
12

13 2. The Burden To Prove Reasonable Foreseeability Under NRS 14 41.745 Remains On Plaintiff

15 The fact that Respondent’s Order applies the “general foreseeability”
16 standard rejected in Wood is grounds in itself for this Court to intervene and vacate
17 that portion of Respondent’s February 27, 2015, Order. Furthermore, Respondent’s 18 concurrent finding that the defendant employer has the burden of proof on all
19 issues under NRS 41.745 (WA0852, Vol. IV), presents yet another compelling
20 basis for writ relief. Neither this Court’s holding in Wood, the language of NRS 21 41.745, nor the statute’s legislative history, support the proposition that traditional 22 negligence principles – imposing the burden of proof on plaintiff – do not apply in 23 a case where plaintiff sues an employer for an employee’s intentional criminal acts.
24
25
26
27
28

1 To recover in a negligence action, “a plaintiff must demonstrate (1) that the 2 defendant owed the plaintiff a duty of care, (2) that the defendant breached that 3 duty, (3) that breach of the duty caused harm to the plaintiff that was reasonably
4 foreseeable, and (4) damages.” Butler ex rel. Biller v. Bayer, 123 Nev. 450, 464,
5 168 P.3d 1055, 1065 (2007) (emphasis added). This Court has long recognized
6 that the burden of proof remains with the plaintiff and that he or she must show 7 “that the injury was the natural and probable consequence of the negligence or 8 wrongful act, and that it ought to have been foreseen in the light of the attending
9 circumstances.” Yamaha Motor Co., U.S.A. v. Arnoult, 114 Nev. 233, 238, 955
10 P.2d 661, 664 (1980). (citations omitted).

11 The plain language of NRS 41.745 does not alter or amend these 12 fundamental burden of proof principles. NRS 41.745 sets forth “reasonable 13 foreseeability” and other elements required to render an employer liable for the 14 intentional conduct of its alleged employee. In Wood, the Court affirmed summary 15 judgment in favor of the employer, and gave no indication that the traditional 16 burden of proof rules would be altered in a jury trial under NRS 41.745.³

17 ³ Wood involved the employer’s summary judgment motion; thus the employer had the “burden”
18 to produce evidence establishing that there were no material issues of fact requiring a trial. See 19 NRCP 56(c).

1 Furthermore, to the extent there is any ambiguity in NRS 41.745 as to which party
2 bears the burden of proof, it is resolved by the statute's clear legislative history: In 3 her testimony before the Assembly Committee on Judiciary, Assistant Attorney
4 General Brooke Nielsen testified: "the plaintiff retained the burden of proof with 5 respect to the provisions of section 1, subsection 1. The plaintiff must prove his or 6 her case. The bill did not alter this burden." (WA0795, Vol. IV) (emphasis 7 added).

10 Thus, to recover against an employer for an employee's intentional acts at 11 trial, a plaintiff must prove all three of the following requirements: (a) the 12 employee's conduct was not an independent venture; (b) the employee's conduct 13 was committed in the course of his or her assigned tasks; and (c) the employee's 14 conduct was reasonably foreseeable under the facts and circumstances of the case
15 considering the nature and scope of his or her employment. See NRS 41.745
16 (emphasis added). Accordingly, the Writ should be granted to vacate 17 Respondent's contrary ruling that "[t]o refute respondeat superior liability per 18 NRS 41.130, the defendants must prove the various sections and provisions in NRS
19 41.745. (WA0852, Vol. IV) (emphasis added).

1 C. Writ Review Is Also Needed Because Farmer's Employment
2 Status With Respect To Centennial And UHS Raise Questions Of
3 Fact That Must Be Decided By A Jury And Not The District
4 Court

5 Respondent's Order also granted Plaintiff's motion on the issue of Farmer's 6 employer(s) at the time of the subject sexual assaults, specifically finding that
7 Farmer was, as a matter of law, an employee of Centennial Hills and its parent
8 corporation, UHS, in addition to ANS. (WA0852, Vol. IV).

9 In her briefing to the district court, Plaintiff expressly disclaimed any 10 reliance on a theory of ostensible agency for purposes of establishing the alleged 11 employment relationship. (WA0515, Vol. III). Rather, plaintiff has steadfastly 12 argued that Farmer was an employee of Centennial Hills and UHS based upon the 13 following evidence: (1) Farmer was an agency CNA working at Centennial Hills
14 through ANS; (2) ANS sent Farmer to Centennial Hills to work there as a CNA;
15 (3) Farmer was originally told to work in the Emergency Room but was then later
16 moved to the Sixth Floor by Centennial Hills to work; and that (4) Farmer wore a 17 badge which stated his name, Centennial Hills, ANS, and "Contract Staff."
18 (WA0057-59, Vol. I; WA0848-49, Vol. IV). This is the entirety of the evidence 19 upon which Plaintiff relies, and upon which Respondent based its finding that 20 Farmer was, as a matter of law, an employee of Centennial Hills and its parent
21 corporation, UHS, at the time of the sexual assaults.

1 Centennial Hills and UHS denied that Farmer was their employee and in 2 support of this denial, presented substantial evidence that Farmer was not their 3 employee, including: Farmer's HR file which included a completed ANS
4 employment application; evidence that he had completed an interview with ANS
5 personnel; evidence that ANS provided the job description for which Farmer
6 applied; and evidence that Farmer had completed a CNA skills test at ANS'
7 request. (WA0125-38, Vol. 1; WA0762-87, Vol. IV). There was no evidence that 8 Centennial Hills or UHS paid Farmer or provided workers' compensation benefits
9 or any other remuneration for his services.

13 In Rockwell v. Sun Harbor Budget Suites, 112 Nev. 1217, 1223, 925 P.2d
14 1175, 1179 (1996), this Court recognized that in order for an employer-employee 15 relationship to exist, the purported employer must maintain control over the 16 purported employee, and that control must relate to all the "details and method of 17 performing the work" within the course and scope of the alleged employment.⁴
18 Normally such issues of control and scope of employment are questions of fact for 19 the jury. Yellow Cab of Reno, Inc. v. Second Judicial Dist. Ct., 262 P.3d 699, 704, 20

23
24

25 ⁴ The Rockwell Court found employment status as a matter of law based upon a property
26 owner's non-delegable duty to provide responsible security personnel. Rockwell, 112 Nev. at 27 1223; 925 P.2d at 1179. No such non-delegable duty exists here.
28

1 127 Nev. Adv. Op. 52 (2011). That should certainly be true here where there is no
2 evidence that Centennial Hills or UHS directed Farmer to enter Plaintiff's room at 3 any of the times at issue or directed him to do any of the things that he claimed that 4 he was doing at the time of the assaults (cleaning up bowel movement, checking
5 catheter placement, or replacing a telemetry lead that had fallen off). Indeed, the 6 testimony of Ms. Doe herself, supra, would give the jury an ample basis to 7 conclude that Farmer had no work-related reason for entering her room at the time 8 of any of the assaults, and thus he was clearly acting outside the scope of any 9 alleged employment or control by Centennial Hills or UHS. See Kornton v.
10 Conrad, Inc., 119 Nev. 123, 124, 67 P.3d 316, 317 (2003);⁵ J.C. Penney Co. v.
11 Gravelle, 62 Nev. 434, 450, 155 P.2d 477, 482 (1945). Accordingly, Respondent's 12 finding that Farmer was an employee of Centennial Hills and UHS, as a matter of 13 law, should be vacated.

19 CONCLUSION

20 Respondent's Order evidences an urgent need for this Court to grant the 21 requested Writ in order to clarify Nevada law on this important and recurring legal 22 issue, which will also promote judicial economy and administration of justice 23
24

25 ⁵ The district court made only general findings about the course and scope of Farmer's 26 employment (WA0848-49, Vol. IV), and properly did not address the factual issues of whether 27 Farmer was in the course and scope of his employment at the time of the sexual assaults on Ms.
28 Doe, or whether he was actually performing any assigned task at the time the assaults occurred.

1 throughout the State, as Respondent's facially erroneous "dual" burden of proof
2 Order should not be allowed to persist and potentially affect other pending and 3 future Nevada cases involving an employer's liability for its employees'
4 intentional torts. Accordingly, Petitioners respectfully request that this Court issue,
5 as appropriate, a Writ of Mandamus or Prohibition directing the Respondent
6 District Court to vacate the portions of its February 27, 2015, Order that: (1)
7 require Plaintiff to prove only "general foreseeability"; (2) impose on Petitioners
8 the burden of proof under NRS 41.745; and (3) find as a matter of law that 9 Petitioners were the employer of the criminal assailant.
