Social Worker: Rocio Lopez

PRESENTING SITUATION: Jackie a 23 year old, Hispanic woman, was referred by Washoe County Department of Social Services to complete a psychosocial evaluation. Jackie consented to the evaluation and signed a release of information to share results of the evaluation with social worker, Rocio Lopez of WCDSS. Jackie currently lives with her partner, Robert Hunt-Taylor, who is the father of her three children, Roberto (6), Kayleigh (3) and Nathan (2). Jackie states she is currently pregnant but has not received prenatal care and is unsure of how far along she is. Jackie also explained she suffered a miscarriage in February of 2013.

Jackie's chief complaint is her current separation from her children as they were removed from her home on April 19, 2013 by WCDSS. Jackie reports the reason for removal was the parent's inability to provide basic needs combined with the family's history with the agency.

Jackie provided the following account of incident: On April 19, 2013 her landlord visited the motel room the family was temporarily living in and explained the family would be immediately evicted due to non-payment. Although Jackie did not agree with the landlord's record of payment she and Robert made plans to pack and prepare to move to a shelter. Jackie stated that when the WCDSS workers arrived she attempted to explain that the family had a plan for shelter and "tried to show the worker food in the home." When the workers explained the children were going to be removed, Jackie stated, "I was very angry and emotional." Jackie explained she disagreed with reason for removal and then was escalated when the worker asked the children to get in the car because she didn't want the children to learn it was "okay to go with strangers." It was at this point Jackie stated, "I blacked out" and had no recollection of events until the next morning when she woke up and Robert informed her of the remaining events. Jackie stated, "I guess I said I'd kill the worker, but it was a figure of speech." Jackie reported no current or past intention to hurt anyone.

Since this incident Jackie has been experiencing anxiety related to lack of coping with her current situation. Jackie states, "I have normal feelings about what is going on; feeling angry, sad, and clueless."

SOCIAL HISTORY: Jackie was born in Long Beach, California to her single, 17 year old mother. Jackie explained that her maternal grandmother helped raise her and support the family. Jackie denies any abuse throughout her life. Jackie's mother married when she was 7. Jackie's mother had three other children, all four years apart. Jackie reported that her mother was in a domestic violence situation, but does not recall witnessing the violence. Jackie's mother and step-father divorced during late childhood (exact age could not be recalled). Jackie has never had contact with her biological father, but has some connections with his family. Jackie explained that she and her mother had a strained relationship. Jackie states, "Me and my mom didn't have the best bond, but she worked hard." Jackie explained that she and her mother were "in and out of counseling to work on our relationship." Jackie met her current partner Robert when she was 16 which caused more stress to her relationship with her mother. Jackie had her first child, Roberto, at 17 years old and placed herself in foster care when Roberto was 2-3 months old. Jackie states that her mother called Child Protective Services and stated Jackie was unable to care for Roberto. Jackie remained in care with Roberto. Jackie's maternal grandmother passed away in 2005 which was an extremely difficult experience since she had a strong attachment to her grandmother. Jackie maintains contact with her mother but states it is infrequent and inconsistent. Jackie reports having a small group of friends she has met over the years, but mainly relies on Robert for support. Jackie reports a positive, "very supportive" relationship with Robert, but often worries that she overwhelms him with emotion and "talking too much." Jackie is not currently working, but has worked in the hotel industry, providing janitorial services.

MEDICAL HISTORY: Jackie reports arthritis in her hands over the last couple years. Jackie has recently developed Gallstones which have been addressed by a doctor. Jackie reports seasonal allergies but rarely takes medication for them. Jackie states she was medicated at the age of 13 for depression but had an allergic reaction to the medication (unknown) and was not prescribed any other medications. Jackie states she is "scared to take any medications or drugs." Jackie suffered a miscarriage in February of 2013 by an unknown cause. Jackie states she is currently pregnant, but unaware of length of gestation. Jackie is scheduled to see a doctor and start prenatal care in the next week. Jackie reports possible postpartum ("baby blues") after her first pregnancy, but attributes this to being a young mother and "overwhelmed" by the responsibility. Jackie denies history of head injury, seizure or any other medical issue.

FAMILY MENTAL HEALTH HISTORY: Jackie reports her biological father "has mental health issues", but is unaware of diagnosis due to lack of contact with him. Jackie's maternal grandmother's brother "had depression, overdosed on anti-depressant medication and died." Jackie states his death was not intentional, but was an accidental overdose.

SUBSTANCE HISTORY: Jackie denies any history of alcohol or drug use. When asked about drug use, Jackie stated, "I'm afraid to. I've watched other people and it's scary."

LEGAL HISTORY: None Reported

MENTAL HEALTH HISTORY: Jackie denies any history of formal diagnosis, but was put on anti-depressants for a short period of time at the age of 13, which she had an allergic reaction to and discontinued use of any medication. Jackie reports a history of "anger issues" starting in early adolescent years and continuing on. Jackie states she has developed and regularly implements healthy coping strategies to address anger, such as "yelling in a pillow, drawing a picture and throwing it away and cleaning the house." Jackie's anger is normally triggered by "irritating people" and is often related to feelings of fear. Jackie has experienced anxiety and panic attacks starting at the age of 13 when peers would bully her at school. Jackie's panic attacks have continued through the years but have been episodic and normally triggered by interactions with others but more recently is also triggered internally, for example, thoughts of her current separation from her children. Jackie reports panic attacks 2-3 per six month period, but frequency has increased since April 2013 (exact amount unknown). Jackie describes these panic attacks as "so emotional, crying, scared, can't breathe, scared I'm losing it." Jackie states that she "feels alone" during these moments of panic and at times can only be calmed by Robert. When asked about current coping strategies for these panic attacks, she states, "I need Robert and I hold on to him really tight." Robert helps calm Jackie by telling her to breathe and stays with her until she is able to regain control. Jackie states, "I try hard to control my emotions, it's hard during these panic attacks." Jackie describes shortness of breath, a sense of terror, tight chest, depersonalization and fear of losing control. Jackie reports minor sleep disturbance since the children's removal from the home, but have been recently improving. Jackie states she gets an average 5-7 hours of sleep where she often wakes up and worries about her children. Jackie reports lower than normal energy levels but attributes that to pregnancy. Jackie has experienced difficulty eating since her children were removed, but is "trying to improve eating habits" and has been somewhat successful. When asked to describe mood, Jackie states, "It is scared, anxious and motivated."

CLINICAL IMPRESSION: Jackie was cooperative and forthcoming with information throughout the interview. She continually stated she is "motivated" to have her children return to her care. Jackie's affect was congruent to the situation and topics discussed. Jackie did appear to become restless when discussing anxiety issues and separation from children. Jackie's flow of thought and language was normal. Jackie's insight was good, as she demonstrated an ability to make connections between specific thoughts and anxiety. Jackie's judgment was fair as she understood and agreed with the need for assessment and current services in place.

Diagnosis

AXIS I 300.01 Panic Disorder without Agoraphobia (provisional-due lack of information from childhood. Jackie cannot recall emotional and cognitive response to panic attacks during childhood)

AXIS II No diagnosis

AXIS III None

AXIS IV Family stress/separation

AXIS V GAF=68 (current)

RECOMMENDATIONS: It would be helpful for Jackie to enter into individual therapy with an emphasis on psychoeducation around panic attacks, stress reduction, and coping. Jackie would benefit from learning new strategies to cope with panic attacks since Robert may not always be present when they occur. Jackie states she interested in couple's therapy to increase effective communication. Couple's therapy may also decrease Jackie's anxiety due to her thoughts and worry around her interactions with Robert. Jackie's anxiety and experience with panic attacks does not currently meet the need for a referral to a physician to assess for medication. Jackie's reported symptom presentation does not meet full criteria of other anxiety or depressive disorders. Jackie is currently experiencing normal levels of anxiety, considering life stressors which could be decreased with the support of therapy.

LIMITS OF CONFIDENTIALITY

Jacqueline Guerrero, female, was informed that the usual and customary doctor/client confidentiality privilege did not apply in her case since the Independent Psychological Evaluation was ordered by the Washoe County Department of Social Services. REFERRAL QUESTIONS

Malia Seronio, LSW, states the following in her request for services:

"Jacqueline often claims not to understand information and has shown a pattern of repeating information inaccurately. From this, concerns arise regarding her ability to process information.

In the past, Jacqueline has been assessed for depression and anxiety, and has struggled with panic attacks.

What services will Jacqueline need in order to address her mental health and emotional well-being?

The agency is invested in understanding how these cognitive/mental health concerns may impact her ability to parent her children, especially in the areas of being able to plan ahead, to provide for their needs, and being motivated to follow through with a plan."

 5. "All of my four children are in foster care now. I am accused of not caring for them adequately. I think they are wrong. Social services should get out of my life."
 6. "CPS is working on terminating my parental rights. I don't want that."

BIOGRAPHICAL PROFILE

Jacqueline Guerrero was born on 06/15/90 in Long Beach Pacific Hospital in Long Beach, California to Francisco Guerrero and Marie Salazar. "I have 11 siblings. We barely see each other. My parents live in town. My father and his wife are my support system. My mother and I do not get along."

Growing up was reported as uneventful. "I don't want to talk about it. I can only tell you it was not pretty, but it was okay."

Educational history is reported as completing an 11th grade education. "I did well when I was in foster care. When they sent me home, I stopped going to school. My grades were mostly As and Bs. I was not in special education. I did have trouble with comprehension. I did fine with reading, but comprehension is a problem for me. I was never evaluated by a psychologist. I think I might have ADD or ADHD. I used to bang my head a lot against a wall because I was angry."

The client states she never sat for a GED examination.

When talking about marriages, she states she has never contracted a legal marriage. "I have four children. I was engaged three times, but I panicked and never got married. I could not marry. I did not know how girls get pregnant until I got pregnant."

Legal history is reported as "no arrests."

When we met on December 5, 2014, Jacqueline Guerrero appeared to have a clear understanding of the purpose of the evaluation as a psychological evaluation related to her mental health needs.

After the first meeting, it was difficult to agree on appointments. The office manager was able to secure an appointment with Jacqueline Guerrero for December 8th and she was a no-show. Again, the office manager secured another appointment for her on December 17th and she was a no-show. The office manager attempted a third time to secure an appointment for the client to come to the office to complete psychological testing for December 23rd. SUMMARY AND CONCLUSIONS

Jacqueline Guerrero is a 24 year old, single, Hispanic female, the mother of four children ages 7, 4, 3, and 11 months. All four children are currently placed in foster care.

Malia Seronio, LSW, ongoing caseworker with the Washoe County Department of Social Services, referred Jacqueline Guerrero for an Independent Psychological Evaluation.

Since Jacqueline Guerrero did not complete her psychological testing as hoped. The examiner is providing limited conclusions based on the limited examination.

Jacqueline Guerrero presents as a person with significant mood disorder problems. She also presents with significant anxiety disorder problems, including panic disorder problems. She also meets criteria for unspecified neurocognitive disorder based on limited testing. Her significant problems, however, are based within her personality structure that have avoidant personality disorder variables.

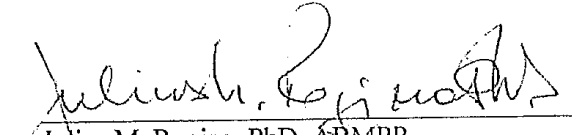

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. The Washoe County Department of Social Services is encouraged to request from the court to perform a Psychological Evaluation of Parental Capacities prior to considering

Jacqueline Guerrero
January 4, 2015

- reunification between Jacqueline Guerrero and her four children.
2. Jacqueline Guerrero must be referred to psychiatric services. There is hope that psychiatric medications would provide relief both for her depressed mood, as well as anxious mood.
 3. Individual psychotherapy is a must with a qualified psychologist who would engage Jacqueline in meaningful and reciprocal exploration of appropriate skills for alleviating depression, as well as anxiety.
 4. A Dialectical Behavioral Therapy approach might prove to be most beneficial.
 5. Group psychotherapy, after relative success is attained with medications and individual psychotherapy, could also prove beneficial.
 6. The most difficult part of treatment will probably be in the area of restructuring her deficient personality structure related to avoidance. A caring and skillful psychologist could prove to be beneficial in this process.
 7. The Washoe County Department of Social Services must continue to monitor closely Jacqueline Guerrero's participation in treatment and her meeting target goals. In the meantime, the children should continue in foster care.

Reason for Referral

Jacqueline's social worker referred Jacqueline for a neuropsychological evaluation to determine her strengths and weaknesses for treatment planning.

Background Information

Jacqueline is a twenty-four year old young woman.

Jacqueline's social worker has concerns because Jacqueline claims she does not understand information. They have questions on whether this is a processing problem. There are concerns about anxiety. She also has a history of headaches and possible seizures.

Test Results:

Intellectual

The Wechsler Abbreviated Scale of Intelligence II (WASI-II) & the Wechsler Adult Intelligence Scale IV

The WASI-II measures nonverbal and verbal ability. The Coding and Digit Span subtests from the WAIS-IV measure working memory ability and processing speed.

Subtest	T-Score
Vocabulary	47
Similarities	61
Block Design	45
Matrix Reasoning	46

Average = 40-60

Scale	IQ	Percentile	Category
Verbal Comprehension	106	66 %	Average
Perceptual Reasoning	92	30 %	Average
Full Scale	100	50 %	Average

Average = 85-115

Digit Span total	4
Coding	9

Average = 8-12

Jacqueline performed in the average range on the Verbal Comprehension Index. This measured her ability to solve problems using words. She was above average on the Similarities subtest. This subtest shows good verbal reasoning and required less vocabulary knowledge. She was average on the Vocabulary subtest.

Jacqueline was average on the Perceptual Reasoning Index. This measured her ability to solve novel, nonverbal problems. She was consistently average on both subtests that compose this measure.

Jacqueline struggled on the Digit Span subtest. This shows a problem with verbal working memory. She was average on the Coding subtest. This shows good processing speed.

Overall, Jacqueline performed consistently in the average range and was average on her Full Scale IQ. She was average on the Verbal Comprehension Index, the Perceptual Reasoning Index, and the Processing Speed Index. The only area she had a problem was on the Verbal Working Memory subtest.

Memory Tests

The California Verbal Learning Test - II (CVLT)

The CVLT offers a measure of a person's ability to remember and learn a list of words after a series of exposures. The CVLT also measures a person's ability to remember information when confronted with a distraction, a person's ability to recall verbal information, and recognize information.

Trial Type	Raw Score (# of words)	T-Score
Trial 1	5	35
Trial 2	10	50
Trial 3	10	40
Trial 4	8	25
Trial 5	9	25
Total for first 5 trials	42	36
Trial B	4	35
Short Delay Free Recall	7	30
Short Delay Cued Recall	11	40
Long Delay Free Recall	12	50
Long Delay Cued Recall	12	45
Yes/No Recognition	13	30
Forced Choice	16	-

An average T-score = 40-60

Jacqueline performed in the below average range after one exposure to the first list. She did increase but remained below average. She had a difficult time encoding this verbal information consistently in the average range.

Jacqueline was below average with one exposure to the second list. She could go back to the first list at the same range as previously but was below average. She did benefit from a cue and then was average. This shows that Jacqueline had issues retrieving what she knew in an organized manner.

Jacqueline was able to recognize the list in the below average range because she only recognized those words she recalled.

Overall, Jacqueline struggled with both encoding and retrieval on some level. She was limited in the information she encoded. She did retrieve it better if given outside structure in the form of a cue.

Visual Spatial Tests

The Rey-Complex Figure Test and Recognition Trial

This test investigates visuospatial constructional ability and visual memory in brain-injured persons. This test involves the client copying a drawing then reproducing the drawing from memory immediately and thirty minutes later. In addition, this test offers a recognition test that involves the client identifying if a figure was part of the original picture.

	T-score	Percentile
Immediate Recall	40	16 %
Delayed Recall	37	10 %
Recognition Total Correct	59	28 %

Average T-score = 40-60

Original Copy	11-16 %
Time to Copy	≤ 1 %
Recognition: True Positives	> 16 %
Recognition: False Positives	> 16 %
Recognition: True Negatives	> 16 %
Recognition False Negatives	> 16 %

Anything over 16% = within normal limits

Jacqueline was low average in her ability to copy this complicated visual picture. She took longer than a typical person does. This shows an anxious profile.

Jacqueline was low average in her ability to copy this picture after a brief and long delay. She was average in her ability to recognize the pieces of the picture. This shows she had the information encoded.

Overall, Jacqueline had good visual memory. She had a mild visual motor integration issue. This was more about issues with organization. This was mild. This can correlate with mood and math difficulties.

Language Tests

Boston Naming Test

The Boston Naming Test (BNT) measures a person's ability to name a series of common objects. The client is shown a series of line drawings where he/she must identify the object verbally.

	Raw Score	T-score
Regular administration	44	34
When Cued	48	42

Average = 50

Jacqueline was low average in her ability to name these items. She did increase into the average range with a phonemic prompt. This was not significant. She was slightly lower on the naming but otherwise did well.

Motor, Sensory, and Tactile

Grooved Pegboard

Hand	Time	Drops	T-Score	Difference
Right Hand	59	0	52	30.5% on the right
Left Hand	77	0	37

Hand Dynamometer

Hand	Kg.	Trials	T-Score	Difference
Right Hand	22	3	33	27.3% stronger on the right

On the Hand Dynamometer and the Grooved Pegboard, the dominant hand (the right hand) should be about 10% faster than the non-dominant hand.

Jacqueline had two left hand weaknesses. This lateralizes to the right hemisphere. This would be associated with visual motor integration issues, lower nonverbal IQ, and problems with mood and math.

Attention and Executive Functions

Wisconsin Card Sorting Test

The Wisconsin Card Sorting Test offers a measure of executive functioning. Executive functioning requires an ability to develop and maintain an appropriate problem-solving strategy across changing stimulus conditions. This requires strategic planning, organized searching, utilizing feedback, shifting cognitive sets, and modulating impulsivity.

Age and Education Demographically Corrected	Raw Score	Standard Score	Percentile
Number of trials administered	101
Total Number Correct	76
Total Number of Errors	25	104	61 %

Perseverative Errors	13	107	68 %
Nonperseverative Errors	12	101	53 %
Conceptual Level Responses	72
Percent Conceptual Level Responses	71 %	103	58 %

Standard scores maintain an average of 100 with anything from 85-115 is in the average range.

	Raw Score	Percentile
Number of Categories Completed (out of 6)	6	> 16 %
Trials to Complete First Category	11	> 16 %
Failure to Maintain Set	1	> 16 %
Learning to Learn	-1.52	> 16 %

Any score with a percentile of >16% is considered within normal limits.

Jacqueline performed in the average range on this measure. She did well at reasoning. She did not have any issues benefiting from feedback. Jacqueline showed good executive functions on this measure.

Delis Kaplan Executive Function System (D-KEFS)

The D-KEFS provides a standardized test for assessing higher-level cognitive functions in both children and adults. This assessment measures areas of attention, language, perception, creative thinking, and abstract thinking. The subtests can be administered individually or as a battery.

The Trail Making Test, the Verbal Fluency Test, and the Color-Word Interference Tests were administered as measures of executive functioning using both verbal and nonverbal means.

Trail Making Test

The Trail Making Test involves the client drawing lines between dots, letters, numbers, and switching between numbers and letters.

	Scaled Score
Condition 1 – Visual Scanning	13
Condition 2 – Number Sequencing	12
Condition 3 – Letter Sequencing	11
Condition 4 – Number-Letter Switching	11

Average Scaled Score= 8 to 12

Jacqueline performed well on this measure. She was able to sequence and switch between stimuli with no problems. Jacqueline did not show an executive function issue on this measure.

The Verbal Fluency Test

The Verbal Fluency Test involved the subject coming up with as many items he/she can think of that start with a particular letter or belong in a particular category. The Category Switching Condition involved the subject switching from one category to another.

Condition	Scaled Score
Condition 1 - Letter Fluency	9
Condition 2 - Category Fluency	14
Condition 3 – Category Switching	13
Condition 4 – Switching Accuracy	13

Jacqueline was able to produce based on a letter and category prompt. She did well when switching between categories. Jacqueline did not show executive function issues on this measure.

The Color Word Interference Test

This subtest involved either reporting the color of a word or a block, reading the word, or alternating between reading the word and reporting the color of the word.

	Scaled Score
Condition 1 – Color Naming	9
Condition 2 – Word Reading	11
Condition 3 - Inhibition	9
Condition 4 – Inhibition/Switching	9

Jacqueline performed in the average range on all these conditions. She did not have issues with inhibition on both the simple and complicated measure.

The Conners' Continuous Performance Test III (CPT-III)

The CPT-III offers a measure of a person's ability to respond and withhold responses over a long period with a boring task.

Jacqueline's performance did match a group with attention problems in the high likelihood. She had issues with sustained attention and impulsivity.

The Personality Assessment Inventory

This self-report measures a person's view of their psychological, emotional, and behavioral profile.

Scale & subscales	T-Score

Main Scales
Anxiety Related Disorders	73
Subscales
Anxiety Related Disorders – Phobias	76

Jacqueline had validity statements in the acceptable range. This offers a good view of how Jacqueline sees herself.

Jacqueline had an elevation the Anxiety Related Disorders scale. This is because she had an elevation on the phobias subscale. She endorsed specific fears and anxiety surrounding situations. These fears interfere with her functioning. She has multiple phobias or fears that greatly affect her.

Jacqueline also indicated some mild issues associated with elevated and variable mood. She sees herself as outgoing but others may perceive her as impatient and demanding.

Jacqueline indicated her self-concept is stable and positive. She has periods of self-doubt and pessimism. Jacqueline reports that her interpersonal style is warm, friendly, and sympathetic. She likes harmony. Because of this and is uncomfortable with interpersonal confrontation or conflict. She is quick to forgive others.

Jacqueline did report that she has some issues being troubled by a bad experience. She also indicated she does not enjoy things since this bad experience. This suggests a significant traumatic experience. This was consistent with the interview.

Jacqueline did indicate a mild degree of stress in regards to the situations in her life. She did feel she has several supportive relationships.

Summary and Recommendations

Jacqueline's social worker referred Jacqueline for a neuropsychological evaluation to determine her strengths and weaknesses for treatment planning. Jacqueline is a twenty-four year old young woman.

Jacqueline's social worker has concerns because Jacqueline claims she does not understand information. They have questions on whether this is a processing problem. There are concerns about anxiety. She also has a history of headaches and possible seizures.

Jacqueline's children are in foster care because she was not able to meet their basic needs. She was evicted and then did not send her children to school. The referral from social services states she relies on others for daily living issues and this sometimes falls through.

Intellectually, Jacqueline performed consistently in the average range and was average on her Full Scale IQ. She was average on the Verbal Comprehension Index, the Perceptual Reasoning Index, and the Processing Speed Index. The only area she had a problem was on the Verbal Working Memory subtest. This score was below average.

Verbally, Jacqueline did well for the most part. She had an average vocabulary. She had an above average ability to abstractly work with words. She was below average in verbal working memory. She was low average in her ability to retrieve and encode verbal information on a learning task. She was low average in her naming ability but did not have an anomia. Overall, Jacqueline had some weaknesses with language but did not make a language disorder. This can interfere with her processing of information that is consistent with the report from social services. This is mild.

Nonverbally, Jacqueline did well for the most part. She showed average ability in visual spatial ability and pattern analysis. She could reason abstractly with patterns. She had good visual memory. She had a mild issue with visual motor integration. This was more about issues with visual organization than a significant problem. This can correlate with mood and math issues.

Jacqueline did well on all the measures of executive functions with the exception of one. She had good reasoning. She could transition and benefit from feedback. She had good transitions on another test. She had good production. This correlates with a person that can be productive in work and tasks. She did not demonstrate a problem with impulsivity. She did have issues with inattention and matched a group with attention problems in the high likelihood. This could be contributing to some of her issues. Highly anxious people tend to have issues in this area. She did make the diagnosis of Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder predominately-inattentive presentation. This is mild and her anxiety issues are contributing to this.

Overall, social services verbalized concerns about Jacqueline's ability to understand tasks and requests. She can understand the information that she processes well. She has a good vocabulary and good reasoning. She did have some issues encoding the verbal information initially and this could be contributing to this issue. This combined with attention problems might make it difficult for Jacqueline but she can understand things and has good cause and effect.

Jacqueline has significant anxiety symptoms. She meets the diagnosis of Generalized Anxiety Disorder with panic attacks. She has had this disorder for many years. She also makes the diagnosis of Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder. Jacqueline's interview and personality assessment are consistent with a person with trauma. She does meet the diagnosis of PTSD. All three of these disorders are in the anxiety family and play off each other. They will all need treatment.

Jacqueline has significant issues being dependent on others. Many of her issues come from her waiting for someone to help her in her situation. She does not report long periods where she is outside a relationship. She appears highly dependent on others. She reports she did better when she was in an environment where others structured everything – such as in the foster home before her first child. She does meet the diagnosis of Dependent Personality Disorder. Her issues with anxiety probably cause her to be more dependent. Jacqueline would benefit from therapy to help her become more independent.

Overall, Jacqueline has many good strengths. She has some issues encoding language into memory but is able to process it. She has good frontal lobe skills but some attention problems. She has anxiety and problems with dependence. She should be able to benefit from therapy.

Based on the results of the assessment and the intake interview Jacqueline's diagnosis is as follows:

DSM-V Diagnoses
300.03	Generalized Anxiety (F41.1) with panic attacks
300.3	Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder (F42)
301.6	Dependent Personality Disorder (F60.7)
314.00	Attention Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder – Predominately inattentive type -- MILD
309.81	Posttraumatic Stress Disorder (43.10)

Recommendations

- Jacqueline reports migraines and an incident where her eyes rolled up into her head and she had altered consciousness. She should see a neurologist. Dr. Swartz at Renown is an epileptologist. She will help with these issues. Her phone number is 775-982-2970.
- Migraines are often diet related. She should keep a diary before going to the neurologist to help them with diagnosis. There is an online one at <http://diary.migrainetrust.org/>
- Jacqueline needs therapy to deal with her anxiety and dependency issues. It appears the anxiety feeds the dependency and vice versa. They might consider a dialectical behavioral therapy program. These are available at Mojave (334-3033) or Northern Nevada Adult Mental Health Services (775-688-2001).
- Her therapist will also have to address her PTSD and past traumas.
- Jacqueline should be seen for medication therapy. The first thing they should examine is her anxiety symptoms. She also has attention issues but these might improve if her anxiety was less. She can receive psychiatric therapy at Mojave or NNAMHS. Those numbers are above.
- There is a question on whether Jacqueline can understand what people tell her. She can if she processes it. She was a little low on working memory and the initial encoding of verbal information. She might do better with repetition, having her repeat it back, or written instruction in addition to verbal instructions. She is capable of understanding language in the average range. She has an average vocabulary.
- Jacqueline did have good reasoning; however, she has issues with sustained attention. This can cause her difficulties completing tasks, maintain focus on a task, and encoding the information. This can explain many of her issues that she is having with social services. This could be treated behaviorally through therapy or with medication. The difficulty is that they have to be careful to watch her anxiety if they choose to do medication.

- Jacqueline might benefit from someone that helps her structure her day and month more consistently. They can work on making sure daily life skills are met like paying bills, having groceries, and maintaining a consistent dinner schedule. If she creates good habits, she might do better at maintaining in these areas.
- Several of Jacqueline's children have special education. She would benefit from services through Nevada PEP. Their number is 448-9950.
