Direct Mail Rewards Comparison & Analysis Report
April 2015

Overview:

The following report summarizes the information contained in the direct mail offers received for the month of April 2015. CDC Consulting maintains player's accounts at Peppermill, Atlantis, Silver Legacy and Nugget casinos and are included in this comparative direct mail analysis for Grand Sierra Resort and Casino.

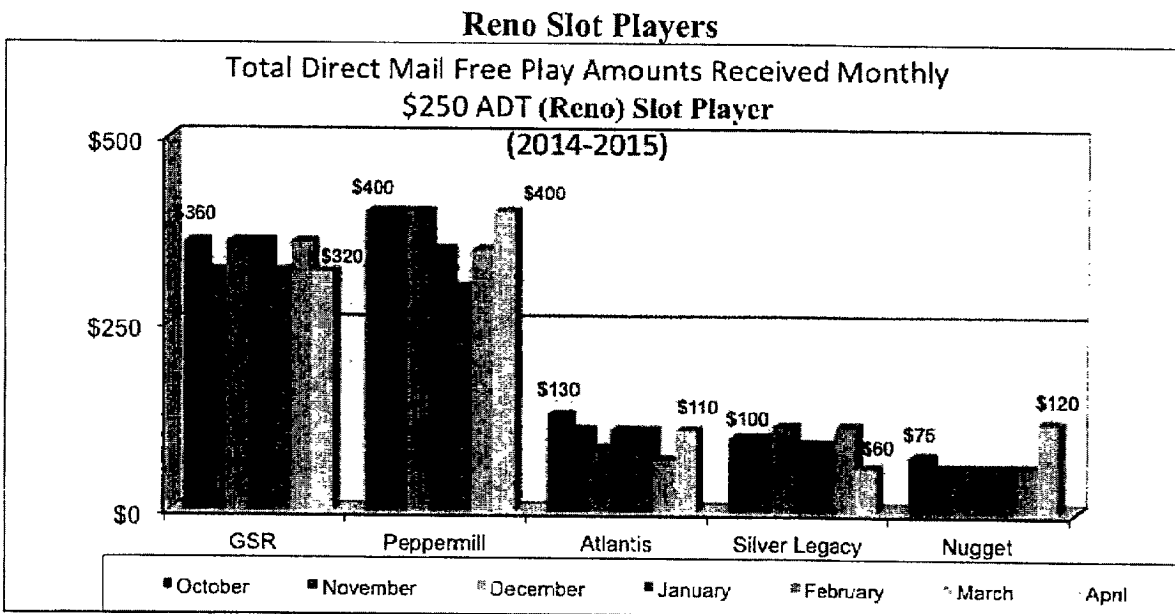

For baseline comparison purposes, six identical player accounts were established at Grand Sierra Resort and Casino. Comparable slot play takes place on each of these accounts each month as well.

In order to review the direct mail offers received, (3) player accounts have been established at each casino using a Reno address and (3) player accounts using a Sacramento address. One player account at each address is played to $250 ADT, $100 ADT and $50 ADT.

In order to achieve an "apples to apples" comparison, similar slots & denominations are played at each casino during the course of each month's gaming visit to these casinos.

Direct Mail Rewards Comparison & Analysis Report
May 2015

Overview:

The following report summarizes the information contained in the direct mail offers received for the month of May 2015. CDC Consulting maintains player's accounts at Peppermill, Atlantis, Silver Legacy and Nugget casinos and are included in this comparative direct mail analysis for Grand Sierra Resort and Casino.

For baseline comparison purposes, six identical player accounts were established at Grand Sierra Resort and Casino. Comparable slot play takes place on each of these accounts each month as well.

In order to review the direct mail offers received, (3) player accounts have been established at each casino using a Reno address and (3) player accounts using a Sacramento address. One player account at each address is played to $250 ADT, $100 ADT and $50 ADT.

In order to achieve an "apples to apples" comparison, similar slots & denominations are played at each casino during the course of each month's gaming visit to these casinos.

  1. GSR: 9
  2. Peppermill: 8
  3. Atlantis: 5
  4. Silver Legacy: 4
  5. Nugget: 4
- The Peppermill's $100 ADT local customer increase in monthly free play is due to large tracked losses on several recent trips.
- The Peppermill's $50 ADT local customer offer stayed at $10 per grant period. However the total grant periods for the month of May were lowered from (8) to (4) for the $50 ADT local customer.

Direct Mail Free Play Rewards Comparisons:

The total amount of direct mail free play rewards received by the non-local Sacramento area slot players in May are compared in the charts below.

Sacramento Slot Players

- The Peppermill $100 & $50 ADT non-local customers were offered a Sweepstakes weekend offer of $50 in additional free play valid May 15-16. This offer was the same for the month of April as well. Both of these customers offers have increased recently due to several large tracked losses on recent trips on both accounts.
- The Nugget $100 ADT non-local customers free play offer went from $10 four times a month to a one time “play and earn” offer for the month of May. This offer was the same for the month of April. Earn 50 points to receive $5 in free play, 250 points for a total of $15, 500 points for a total of $30 and 1,000 points for a total of $60 in free play.

Reno Casinos
Direct Mail Rewards Comparison & Analysis Report
February 2015

Overview:

The following report summarizes the information contained in the direct mail offers received for the month of February 2015. CDC Consulting maintains player's accounts at Peppermill, Atlantis, Silver Legacy and Nugget casinos and are included in this comparative direct mail analysis for Grand Sierra Resort and Casino.

For baseline comparison purposes, six identical player accounts were established at Grand Sierra Resort and Casino. Comparable slot play takes place on each of these accounts each month as well.

In order to review the direct mail offers received, (3) player accounts have been established at each casino using a Reno address and (3) player accounts using a Sacramento address. One player account at each address is played to $250 ADT, $100 ADT and $50 ADT.

In order to achieve an "apples to apples" comparison, similar slots & denominations are played at each casino during the course of each month's gaming visit to these casinos.

Direct Mail Free Play Rewards Comparisons:

The total amount of direct mail free play rewards received by the local Reno area slot players in February are compared in the charts below.

- Total free play grant days for the Reno local customers are listed below:
  1. GSR: 8
  2. Peppermill: 6
  3. Atlantis: 5
  4. Nugget: 4
  5. Silver Legacy: 4

- The Peppermill's $100 ADT local customer increase in monthly free play is due to a large tracked loss on a recent trip

Direct Mail Free Play Rewards Comparisons:

The total amount of direct mail free play rewards received by the non-local Sacramento area slot players in February are compared in the charts below.

Sacramento Slot Players

- The Peppermill's decrease in monthly free play in all three segments of non-local players is due to the fact that no "monthly" sweepstakes promotion was held in February. This event was held in December and January.
- The Peppermill's $50 ADT non-local customer increase in free play is due to large tracked losses on recent trips.
- The Nugget $50 ADT non-local customers free play offer went from $5 twice a month to a one time "play and earn" offer for the month of February. Earn 50 points to receive $5 in Free play, 250 points for a total of $15 and 500 points for a total of $30 in free play. (see attached copy of this offer change by the Nugget)

Direct Mail Offer/Promotional Volume Comparisons:

The volume of direct mail, email offers and promotions received by each of the player segments in the Reno and Sacramento areas over the past seven months are compared in the charts on the following pages.

- The increase in the Peppermill's $100 and $50 ADT non-local customer offers received were due in part to large tracked losses on both accounts on recent trips.

Overall Value of Direct Mail Offers & Promotions Received

The total estimated/perceived value of each casino's direct mail rewards offers received for February is compared in the chart & graph combinations on the following pages. This total value amount is our interpretation of the perceived value of all free play rewards, hotel, dining, event, promotions and tournament offers received this month.

Direct Mail Rewards Comparison & Analysis Report
March 2015

Overview:

The following report summarizes the information contained in the direct mail offers received for the month of March 2015. CDC Consulting maintains player's accounts at Peppermill, Atlantis, Silver Legacy and Nugget casinos and are included in this comparative direct mail analysis for Grand Sierra Resort and Casino.

For baseline comparison purposes, six identical player accounts were established at Grand Sierra Resort and Casino. Comparable slot play takes place on each of these accounts each month as well.

In order to review the direct mail offers received, (3) player accounts have been established at each casino using a Reno address and (3) player accounts using a Sacramento address. One player account at each address is played to $250 ADT, $100 ADT and $50 ADT.

In order to achieve an "apples to apples" comparison, similar slots & denominations are played at each casino during the course of each month's gaming visit to these casinos.

Direct Mail Free Play Rewards Comparisons:

The total amount of direct mail free play rewards received by the local Reno area slot players in March are compared in the charts below.

BACKGROUND

Grand Sierra Resort (GSR) is a hotel casino located in Reno, Nevada. GSR alleges that an employee of Peppermill Casinos, Inc. (Peppermill), Ryan Tors (Tors), made an unauthorized entry into certain slot machines located at the GSR. GSR alleges that Tors “illegally and unlawfully” opened certain machines and “unlawfully accessed the confidential and proprietary information contained within the machines, including each machine’s diagnostic screen and payback percentages.”

The GSR claims that the information obtained by Tors constitutes a trade secret, as it derives independent economic value, actual or potential, from it not being generally known to and not readily ascertainable by the public. Additionally, GSR maintains that they took reasonable efforts to maintain its secrecy. As a result, GSR claims they have been damaged.

Information was allegedly obtained by Tors on two occasions. The first instance was on December 29, 2011, when Tors reportedly obtained information on a total of seven penny slot machines. Nine penny slot machines are listed on Tors schedule, however, there are two duplicates. Additionally, Tors denies having accessed any of GSR’s slot machines on this date. The second instance was on June 14, 2012 when Tors reportedly obtained information on a total of six penny slot machines. In both instances Tors prepared a schedule which reflected the manufacture date, machine number, theoretical payback percentage and the gross theoretical hold percentage (referred to as Exhibits 7 and 8 to the depositions).

There are many terms that are utilized throughout the gaming industry with the same meaning. For clarification purposes, the following terms will be used herein and are defined as follows:

1. Gross Theoretical Hold Percentage (Par) – The internal Peppermill reporting identifies the gross theoretical hold percentage (par) as the “Gross Theo.” These terms are used interchangeably. This is the percent of total overall play, including free play that will be retained by the slot machine on a theoretical basis.
2. Theoretical Payback Percentage – The theoretical payback percentage is the amount that the player should theoretically retain. This is also referred to as the player payback settings, as established by the manufacturer of the slot machine. This is the information that was allegedly obtained by Tors via the diagnostic screen of the thirteen penny slot machines.
3. Actual Hold Percentage – The internal Peppermill reporting identifies the net actual hold percentage as the “hold percentage.” This is the percent of total overall play, including free play, which is actually retained by the slot machines.

4. Net Actual Hold Percentage – The internal Peppermill reporting identifies the actual hold as the “net hold percentage.” This is the percent of total overall play, excluding free play, which is actually retained by the slot machines.

Jeremy Agüero (Agüero) prepared an expert report dated June 4, 2015 (Bates #GSREXP001-GSREXP028). Agüero was retained on behalf of the GSR to evaluate potential damages stemming from Tors “unlawfully obtaining casino operating information from GSR slot machines.” Agüero notes that the fundamental question is to what extent GSR was damaged as a result of Peppermill’s actions. Agüero concludes that in instances where the ability to prove damages is not possible, courts have used a “reasonable royalty” approach under the Uniform Trade Secrets Act. Agüero arrived at a damage amount due to GSR based upon a reasonable royalty method. Agüero cites a Second Circuit Court of Appeals case, Vermont Microsystems Inc. v. Autodesk, Inc. quoting that a “reasonable royalty award attempts to measure a hypothetically agreed value of what the defendant wrongfully obtained from the plaintiff...the court calculates what the parties would have agreed to as a fair licensing price at the time that the misappropriation occurred.” On page three of Agüero’s report, he notes that there are many ways to calculate a reasonable royalty, respecting that the individualized facts and circumstances require a “flexible and imaginative approach to the problem of damages” when a misappropriation of the trade secret is put to commercial use. Agüero uses a 1% “hypothetical” increase as a basis for his damage conclusion and opines that a reasonable royalty of $24.1 million due from the Peppermill to the GSR “would appear appropriate considering the facts and circumstances in the immediate case.”

Agüero prepared an amended expert report dated August 27, 2015 and opined that a reasonable royalty of $8 million would be appropriate. Agüero testified that his conclusion set forth in his June 4, 2015 report of $24.1 million was incorrect.

In a Stipulation for Settlement and Order executed on February 13, 2014, between the Peppermill and the Nevada Gaming Commission (NGC), Peppermill agreed to pay a $1 million fine to the State of Nevada for the allegations against Tors for the unauthorized entry into certain casino penny slot machines. In the settlement hearing with the NGC, Bill Paganetti (Paganetti), one of the owners of Peppermill, is described as having said that an extra one percent point (referring to gross theoretical hold percentage or par) could add a $100,000 per week in revenue. Agüero used this quote as a basis for certain “hypothetical” assumptions in his analysis.

On February 25, 2015 a report entitled “Slot Market Assessment-Analysis of Industry Data” was prepared by Applied Analysis and submitted to Marcus Prater, Executive Director, Association of Gaming Equipment Manufacturers. Agüero is a principal analyst with Applied Analysis. The report stated, the “objective of the analysis is to evaluate whether a lower or higher RTP impacts slot revenue.” RTP is defined as the return to the player. The report includes an analysis of the United States as a whole as well as an analysis of certain states, including Nevada.

Casino owners throughout Northern Nevada have provided declarations and/or letters stating that the information allegedly obtained by Tors has no value. See APPENDIX C. These statements from reputable and distinguished owners and operators of gaming properties in Northern Nevada provide proof that Agüero's "hypothetical negotiation" is illusionary and contrary to the realities of this case.

ANALYSIS

Rebuttal to Jeremy Aguero's June 4, 2015 Report

In Aguero's June 4, 2015 report, he concludes that damages incurred by the GSR total $24.1 million based upon a reasonable royalty determination. Aguero bases his conclusion on the following:

1. The assumption that the information obtained by Tors is a trade secret and was put to commercial use.
2. The assumption that an increase in the net actual hold percentage results in an increase in the total net slot revenue.
3. The reasonable royalty method is applicable for determining damages.

The factors considered by Tors and the assumptions made by Tors will be addressed below.

1. Was the Information Allegedly Obtained by Tors a Trade Secret Pursuant to the Uniform Trade Secrets Act and was it Put to Use by the Peppermill?

Chapter 600A of the Nevada Revised Statutes (NRS) is referred to as the Uniform Trade Secrets Act. Pursuant to NRS 600A.030, the definition of a trade secret includes information, including, without limitation, a formula, pattern, compilation, program, device, method, technique, product, system, process, design, prototype, procedure, computer programming or economic code that:

1. Derives independent economic value, actual or potential, from not being generally known to, and not being readily ascertainable by proper means by the public or any other persons who can obtain commercial or economic value from its disclosure or use; and (emphasis added)
2. Is the subject of efforts that are reasonable under the circumstances to maintain the secrecy of the trade secret.

Therefore, the question becomes whether the information allegedly obtained by Tors:

1. Derives independent economic value.
2. Is generally known to or is readily ascertainable by proper means by the public or GSR's competitors.
3. Was used by the Peppermill.

A. Derives Independent Economic Value

The question of whether the information allegedly obtained by Tors has independent economic value was addressed by Aguero during his deposition on September 15, 2015. Aguero admitted that he does not have an opinion on whether the information allegedly obtained by Tors has independent economic value.

Terry Vavra (Vavra), the Vice President of Development at the GSR was deposed on December 3, 2014. Vavra testified that an individual machine has no value, "it's what is done with this information is really where the value comes." Regarding the schedules prepared by Tors on the thirteen penny machines, Vavra opined that the information allegedly obtained by Tors has no value if not used. He agreed that the only time the information would have value to the Peppermill is if it was used somehow to generate a benefit.

Tom Sullivan (Sullivan), former Slot Director at the GSR was deposed on August 4, 2015. Sullivan testified that he would pay "nothing" to buy or license a par. He also testified that based upon his experience in the industry, pars do not have commercial value.

Other casino owners throughout Northern Nevada have provided confirmation that the information allegedly obtained by Tors has no value. See APPENDIX C. The statements from the casino owners explains why Aguero avoids the reality of gaming practice in the real and actual world of casino operations.

B. Readily Ascertainable by Proper Means by GSR's Competitors

David G. Schwartz, Ph.D. (Schwartz) is a consultant for the GSR and a NRS 16.1(a)(1)(C) disclosed expert in this matter. Schwartz testified in his deposition on October 21, 2014, that the casinos in Reno, Nevada promote their "payback rate" for their slot machines. Schwartz also testified that the GSR and other casinos market and advertise their "pars". Schwartz agreed that the GSR marketed, advertised and promoted the "hold percentages" for their Buffalo machines. The Buffalo machine is included on the list of slot machines allegedly accessed by Tors.

The following examples illustrate such availability using data from the Atlantis Hotel and Casino, Wynn Resorts, Ltd.-Las Vegas Operations and the Las Vegas Sands Corporation.

Atlantis Hotel and Casino

The Atlantis Hotel and Casino (Atlantis) advertises in the Reno Gazette-Journal, a local newspaper, that they were "20% Looser" based upon information published by the Nevada Gaming Control Board (NGCB) from the previous 12 months. In the gaming industry, looser means that the gross theoretical hold (par) is lower and the theoretical payback percentage is higher.

Although inappropriate in the industry and evidence of Aguero's confusion, Aguero analyzes the net actual hold percentage to determine whether adjustments can be made to the gross theoretical hold percentage (par). Aguero is confusing par settings with what is actually reported on the NGCB Revenue Reports.

Nonetheless, to set forth an example, LVC considered the NGCB Gaming Revenue Report for the Washoe County Reno Area for All Nonrestricted Locations, for the time period July 1, 2014 through June 30, 2015, the previous twelve month period. The Atlantis, Peppermill and GSR all fall within this category of reporting to the NGCB. The Gaming Revenue Report sets forth the net actual hold percentage (identified as the win percent by the NGCB) of 5.14% as shown herein as APPENDIX A. If a casino advertises that they are "20% Looser" as the Atlantis does, one can compute the net actual hold percentage for the Atlantis by multiplying the 5.14% by 80%. The result is the net actual hold percentage for the Atlantis of 4.11% (5.14% x 80%). Therefore, using the Atlantis advertisement and Gaming Revenue Reports available on the NGCB website, the public and GSR's competitors can easily ascertain the net actual hold percentage of the Atlantis. See APPENDIX A. The data published by the NGCB is for casinos based upon a certain geographic area.

Wynn Resorts, Ltd.-Las Vegas

The Wynn Resorts, Ltd.-Las Vegas (Wynn) operates a hotel/casino in Las Vegas, Nevada. They are publicly traded, and as a result, are required to file quarterly and annual reports with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC). The quarterly reports are referred to as a Form 10-Q and the annual reports are referred to as a 10-K. The Forms 10-Q and 10-K, available to the public, report the slot machine win and the slot machine handle. Using this data one can arrive at the net actual slot hold percentage and the actual payback percentage. The analysis prepared by Aguero is based upon the net actual hold percentage and not the information allegedly obtained by Tors, the gross theoretical hold percentages (pars). See APPENDIX B.

Las Vegas Sands Corporation

The Las Vegas Sands Corporation (Sands) operates a hotel/casino in Las Vegas, Nevada. They are also publicly traded, and as a result, are required to file quarterly 10-Q and annual 10-K reports with the SEC. The Sands publishes their slot hold percentage. Therefore, it is not necessary to calculate, as the information is set forth on the financial statement.

As previously stated, the analysis prepared by Aguero is based upon the net actual hold percentage and not the information allegedly obtained by Tors, the gross theoretical hold percentages (pars).

C. Disclosure and Use

NRS 600A.050 addresses the determination of damages for the misappropriation of a trade secret. "Damages include both loss caused by misappropriation and unjust enrichment caused by misappropriation that is not taken into account in computing the loss. In lieu of damages measured by any other methods, damages caused by misappropriation may be measured by imposition of liability for a reasonable royalty for a misappropriator's unauthorized disclosure or use of a trade secret" (emphasis added).

Additionally, Aguero cites University Computing Co. v Lykes-Youngstown Corp., 504 F.2d 518 (5th Cir. 1974) noting that the individualized facts and circumstances require a "flexible and imaginative approach to the problem of damages when a misappropriation of the trade secret is put to commercial use" (emphasis added).

Bill Paganetti has been quoted as representing that a 1% increase in the gross theoretical hold percentage (par) will increase revenue by $100,000 per week. The question becomes whether this statement was taken out of context and whether the statement, if true, can be supported by financial records. If revenue is increased by $100,000 per week, the annual increase in revenue equals $5.2 million ($100,000 x 52 weeks). However, page 4 of Aguero's report illustrates that the Peppermill did not increase their revenue by $5.4 million, and in fact between 2010 and 2012, the total net slot revenue actually decreased. Later in this report a discussion of revenue will be reflected month by month for 2010 through 2014.

Aguero testified in his deposition on September 15, 2015 that he had no evidence that the information allegedly obtained by Tors was put to commercial use. This admission is made in light of Peppermill's production of over 800,000 pages of financial, marketing and slot operation related documents.

2. Is there a direct relationship between an increase in the net actual hold percentage, gross theoretical hold percentage (par) and total net slot revenue?

LVC has considered information for the Sands, Peppermill and the GSR which will be discussed in detail below.

Analysis of Peppermill NGC-31 Data

Using the data for the Peppermill as summarized in the table on page 4 of Aguero's report (Bates #GSREXP006), Exhibit 1 summarizes the monthly net slot revenue and the monthly net actual hold percentage. As can be noted in yellow in Exhibit 1 below, an increase in the net actual hold percentage does not necessarily result in an increase in total net slot revenue. For example, between August 2010 and September 2010, the net slot revenue decreased from $7,633,996 to $7,249,668. However, the net actual hold percentage increased. Between September 2010 and October 2010, the net slot revenue increased, yet the net actual hold percentage decreased. Between October 2010 and November 2010, the net slot revenue decreased, however, the net actual hold percentage increased. The same comparison has been prepared for the years 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014 as reflected in Exhibit 2 through Exhibit 5, respectively.

It should be noted that the NGC-31 reports, which are submitted to the NGCB identify the revenue figure as Total Gross Slot Revenue. The revenue figure reported to the NGCB is equal to the net slot revenue, excluding free play and not the gross slot revenue. The internal reporting of the Peppermill refers to this figure as the net win.

Analysis of GSR NGC-31 Data

Exhibit 6 through Exhibit 11 summarize the monthly total net slot revenue and the net actual hold percentage using the NGC-31 reports filed with the NGCB by the GSR. As can be noted in yellow throughout these exhibits, an increase in the net actual hold percentage does not necessarily result in an increase in total net slot revenue.

No data provided	December	2014

Source: GSR Monthly Gross Revenue (NGC-31) Reports.

By dividing the GSR's total net slot revenue by the total coin-in, one can determine the net actual hold percentage. By performing this analysis with the information from January through September of each year as forth in Exhibits 7 through 11, it is revealed that the GSR's second lowest net actual hold percentage is in 2014 at 4.15% for the period January 2014 through September 2014. However, even at this lower net actual hold percentage, the GSR reported the highest total coin-in and the highest total net slot revenue for the same time period (2009 to 2014). The GSR records also show the fallacy of Aguero's assumption that coin-in would remain constant.

Las Vegas Sands Corporation Quarterly Data Available to the Public

Using the Las Vegas Sands Corporation Forms 10K as set forth at Bates #PM12668, the annual slot handle and the slot hold percentage is reported for the years ended December 31, 2010 and 2011. Using the slot handle and the slot hold percentage one can calculate the total net slot revenue. The slot handle increased by $719,999 (in thousands), the net slot revenue increased by $42,225 (in thousands), yet the slot hold percentage decreased. As set forth in this example, an increase or decrease in the net actual hold percentage does not necessarily equate to a corresponding increase or decrease in net slot revenue.

Andrew Klebanow and Applied Analysis

Andrew Klebanow, Principal at Gaming Market Advisors wrote an article entitled “What Players Really Want” which was published in the Indian Gaming magazine in December 2006. Gaming Market Advisors is a gaming research and consulting firm. They specialize in marketing plan and business plan development, market research, casino property analysis, service quality measurement programs and player rewards programs designed exclusive for the gaming and hospitality industries. In this article Klebanow wrote, “An argument can be made that reducing the hold percentage of a slot floor can actually yield greater returns to the casino operator. In other words, by reducing the hold percentage of the slot floor and enhancing value customers receive when they play in a casino, that casino can increase customer satisfaction, market share and profitability” (emphasis added).

Additionally, the report prepared by Applied Analysis on February 25, 2015, entitled “Slot Market Assessment-Analysis of Industry Data” concludes that the “slot hold percentage has continued to edge up during the same post-recession timeframe, while gaming volumes have continued to edge down.” They also state, “while statistical correlations on a state-by-state basis vary due to any number of factors, the broader, aggregate trends would suggest a rising hold percentage has not translated into incremental gaming revenue for operators during the post-recession era. In fact, they very well may be contributing to its decline” (emphasis added). Therefore, Aguero’s own firm has concluded that an increase in the net actual hold percentage does not necessarily result in an increase in the total net slot revenue.

As discussed in detail above, an increase in the net actual hold percentage or the gross theoretical hold percentage (par) does not necessarily result in an increase in the total net slot revenue. In his deposition on September 15, 2015, Aguero agreed that “pars do not necessarily correlate directly to revenue.” Therefore, Aguero’s assumption for which he bases his damage conclusion, is in direct contradiction to the report prepared by his firm, is contrary to the financial records discussed above, and is flawed.

3. What are the damages utilizing the reasonable royalty method?

Aguero admits that he is unable to quantify damages in this instance. As a result, he utilizes a reasonable royalty approach and opines that a reasonable royalty of $24.1 million due from the Peppermill to the GSR “would appear appropriate considering the facts and circumstances in the immediate case.”

Aguero bases his damage determination on a 25% royalty. As noted in the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit case, Uniloc USA, Inc. v. Microsoft Corp., 447 F.Supp.2d 177 (2006), the 25% rule of thumb, is a “fundamentally flawed tool for determining a baseline royalty rate in a hypothetical negotiation.” The Court of Appeals precluded its use for damage calculations and the ruling read as follows:

This court now holds as a matter of Federal Circuit Law that the 25 percent rule of thumb is a fundamentally flawed tool for determining a baseline royalty rate in a hypothetical negotiation. Evidence relying on the 25 percent rule of thumb is thus inadmissible under Daubert and the Federal Rules of Evidence, because it fails to tie a reasonable royalty base to the facts of the case at issue.

The Court of Appeals criticized the application of the 25 percent rule because there was no link between the rule and the specific case. In the matter at hand, Aguero fails to link the rule to the specific facts and appears to have haphazardly selected a 25 percent royalty rate with no explanation regarding its applicability.

In determining damages pursuant to NRS 600A.050, there must be unauthorized disclosure or use of the trade secret. Additionally, Aguero cites University Computing Co. v Lykes-Youngstown Corp., 504 F.2d 518 (5th Cir. 1974) that the individualized facts and circumstances require a “flexible and imaginative approach to the problem of damages when a misappropriation of the trade secret is put to commercial use” (emphasis added).

Aguero has testified that he is assuming that the information allegedly obtained by Tors is a trade secret. He also testified that there is no evidence reflecting the use of the information by the Peppermill. Therefore, even if it is determined that the information is a trade secret, without use, the reasonable royalty method is not applicable and cannot be used.

A well respected author, Robert F. Reilly, MBA, CPA/ABV, CVA, CFA, ASA, (Reilly) has co-authored textbooks and has written articles published in various magazines. He has written numerous articles involving the calculation of damages relating to intangible assets and the valuation of intangible assets. He wrote an article entitled “Valuation of Technology-Related Intangible Assets” which was published in the Insights magazine by Willamette Management Associates in the Summer 2015. The article defines technology based assets as those that create proprietary knowledge and processes. When assessing the amount of reasonable compensation related to a technology intangible asset, there are a number of factors that may be considered, as outlined by Reilly as follows:

1. The calculation of the amount of income that the intangible asset would have earned or contributed but for the damage event, compared to the amount of income the intangible asset actually did earn or contribute after the damage event.
2. A quantification of the amount of income decrease that the owner experienced since the damage event.

3. A projection of the amount of actual or hypothetical royalty income that the owner will forego as a result of the damage event. That royalty income relates to the actual or hypothetical outbound license of the intangible asset, before the intangible asset experiences any of the effects of the damage event.
4. The remaining useful life of the intangible asset is a factor that is typically taken into consideration in every technology related intangible asset valuation, performed for any purpose.

Aguero has failed to discuss any of these factors specific to the thirteen penny slot machines. Aguero bases his damage calculation on a limited amount of information gleaned from thirteen penny slot machine pay tables and then applied this limited information to an entire casino floor of slot machines. The slot machines contained on an entire casino floor have different paytables, player payback percentages and different denominations. Thus, different approaches are typically taken for configuring this wide variety of slot machines, and there is no "one size fits all" approach. Recall that Tors allegedly obtained information from within seven penny slot machines on December 29, 2011, and six penny slot machines on June 14, 2012. The total number of slot machines operated by the GSR in December 2011 and June 2012 totaled approximately 1,100. Therefore, Tors allegedly obtained information from 1.18% (13 divided by 1,100) of the total slot machines. For Aguero to base a damage calculation on information derived from 1.18% of the total slot machines, for a multi-year period, defies all logic and common sense. Additionally, Aguero did not take into consideration the useful life of the payback percentages, nor did he provide any analysis regarding the data previous to the alleged damage versus after the alleged damage.

ANALYSIS

Rebuttal to Jeremy Aguero's August 27, 2015 Report

On August 27, 2015, Aguero submitted an amended expert report with two notable changes. On page 4 he identifies the slot revenue for the Peppermill between December 29, 2011 and July 12, 2013 as $116.3 million. He opines that if the reasonable royalty is limited to the time period for which the "Peppermill admitted to the theft of GSR's slot machine payback percentages by unlawfully accessing GSR's slot machines (December 29, 2011 through July 12, 2013) would result in a reasonable royalty in the amount of $8 million." He noted that his original set forth in his June 4, 2015 was incorrect.

LVC's rebuttal comments as addressed in this report above are the same whether the time period consists of 2010 through 2014 or the more limited time period of December 29, 2011 through July 12, 2013. However, it should be noted that it is LVC's understanding that the Peppermill never received the data allegedly obtained by Tors on July 12, 2013. Therefore, Aguero's revised damage calculation is in error and should not be relied upon for the reasons stated in detail above.

CONCLUSION

The information allegedly obtained by Tors does not derive independent economic value, is readily ascertainable by proper means by the public and GSR's competitors and there is no evidence that it was used by the Peppermill. The reasonable royalty method is applicable under the Uniform Trade Secrets Act (in instances where the ability to prove damages or unjust enrichment is not possible), but results in no amount due from the Peppermill, because among other things, there is no evidence that the information was put to commercial use.

Worse, Agüero has confused gross par settings with an analysis that is strictly limited to net hold percentages. These are different concepts that cannot be used interchangeably. GSR contends that pars are trade secrets and were misappropriated. Those pars were gross pars and not net pars. Agüero's report does not calculate damages based upon independent economic value of the gross pars allegedly misappropriated by Tors. Therefore, Agüero's analysis is wrong and cannot be relied upon in this matter.

Agüero's "hypothetical negotiation" is irrelevant and misleading. As shown in APPENDIX C, casino owners have confirmed that the "hypothetical negotiation" would in fact demonstrate that the information allegedly obtained by Tors is of no value to competitors of the GSR and/or the Peppermill. It is unreasonable to conclude that any reasonable and experienced casino operator would pay any money whatsoever for the information allegedly obtained by Tors.

LVC's conclusions are based on the information made available. If subsequent information is provided, LVC's opinions and conclusions may change. LVC reserves the right to revise and/or supplement this report if necessary. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us.

* - All amounts are in thousands unless otherwise specified.

1 - The slot machine win and the slot machine handle were obtained from quarterly Forms 10Q and annual Forms 10K for Wynn Resorts, Ltd.-Las Vegas operations which are available to the public.

2 - The slot hold % was calculated using information obtained from the Forms 10Q and 10K for Wynn Resorts, Ltd.-Las Vegas operations. The slot hold % is the same as net actual hold % and is calculated by dividing the slot machine win by the slot machine handle.

3 - The payback % is the percentage retained by the player. It is the inverse of the slot hold %.

APPENDIX C

DECLARATION OF JOHN FARAH

John Farahi, being first duly sworn, deposes and states under penalty of perjury as follows:

1. I am Co-Chairman of the Board of Directors of Monarch Casino and Resort, Inc. I am also Chief Executive Officer of Monarch Casino and Resort, Inc. and have served in that capacity since 1993.
2. I have also served as Chief Executive Officer of Golden Road Motor Inn, Inc. since 1993. I have been responsible for the major and important operational decisions concerning the operations of the Atlantis Casino Resort.
3. I have been asked to express my opinion concerning the issue of whether par settings on slot machines have independent economic value. I have extensive familiarity with the Northern Nevada casino market. I am familiar with and have substantial experience in decisions, strategies and operations of slot machine strategies and marketing programs.
4. I have over 30 years' experience regarding slot machine operations, strategies and marketing programs.
5. I have been provided a copy of and I am familiar with the Plaintiff MEI-GSR Holdings, LLC, d/b/a/ Grand Sierra Resort's Supplemental Disclosure of Expert Witness to which Jeremy Aguero's August 28, 2015 Amended Expert Report is attached.
6. In my opinion, Mr. Aguero's Amended Expert Report is flawed, incorrect and unreliable.
7. Every casino could engage in the same process as did Mr. Aguero in his August 27, 2015 Amended Report. Each casino property in Northern Nevada can readily ascertain its own "slot machine operating metrics" and can easily ascertain its own total coin in for any given year, its own total slot revenue for any given year and its own "net hold" percentage (net win) for any given year. A casino operator could then easily and properly compare its own slot machine operating metrics to the information revealed by Nevada Gaming Control Board revenue reports to ascertain whether the casino's net floor par is below or above the market as reflected in the gaming revenue reports and could adjust its par settings accordingly.

8. One of the mistakes Mr. Aguero has made is to suggest that higher pars mean increased revenue. The higher the par setting, the less time on device by the customer. Reduced time on device reduces the entertainment value to the customer. Raising pars alone does not increase coin in.

9. I have been made aware of the fact that Ryan Tors was a former employee of the Peppermill and that he utilized a "reset key" (2341 key) to obtain hold percentages from various slot machines from various gaming casinos, including the Atlantis, in the Reno/Sparks area.

10. Attached hereto is what I have been informed are Exhibits 7 and 8 to the depositions taken in the above-captioned matter. Assuming that the par and payback percentage information reflected in these exhibits is accurate, it is my opinion that the information set forth and contained in Exhibits 7 and 8 attached hereto is too limited to have value to a reasonably prudent casino operator or owner. As the Chief Executive Officer of the company that owns and operates the Atlantis Casino Resort Spa, I would not pay any money whatsoever for a license to know or use the par and payback percentages set forth in the attached exhibits.

DATED this 13 day of oct, 2015.

Re: Grand Sierra Resort v. Peppermill Casinos Inc. re: Par Settings

Through Peppermill's counsel, Kent Robison, I have been asked for my opinion on the discussion regarding par settings (theoretical hold percentages) of video reel slot machines in Northern Nevada and if I consider them to be secret and or confidential. They are not. It is known throughout the industry that par settings are ascertainable through a variety of proper means. In fact most casinos in Northern Nevada are fully aware of and have knowledge about the par settings of their competitors.

My career in gaming started in the early 50's with a gentleman from Boise, Idaho named Dick Graves who owned a number of restaurants throughout Idaho. I had met Dick while working my way through college. Dick was much more than a restaurateur. He was a great idea man. So when Idaho outlawed slot machines in restaurants, Mr. Graves packed up and headed to the Reno/Sparks area in 1953 and I joined him fresh out of school.

In 1955, Graves opened Dick Graves' Nugget in Sparks, Nevada. By 1960, I agreed to purchase the 60 seat coffee shop with a row of slot machines with a handshake deal. Over 5 decades John Ascuaga's Nugget grew from that coffee shop on B Street in Sparks, Nevada to a full season destination resort that included 1600 rooms, 9 award winning restaurants, over 110,000 square feet of convention space, big name entertainment, and a full service casino floor with numerous table games and over 1,500 slot machines at one time.

As a Northern Nevada casino operator for over 55 years, I became very familiar with the gaming and marketing strategies needed to run a successful operation. I am well aware of the shopping activities that occur amongst the Northern Nevada casinos. Shopping is an accepted industry practice by which competitors attempt to learn more about each other through inspections, visits, and other analytical tools. The Nevada Gaming Control Board Reports also reflect the net par settings for Northern Nevada casinos, including the six largest performing casinos. While individual properties are not identified in the gaming reports, the net par for the various markets are published.

To be competitive it is far more valuable to ascertain a specific market's par from public records than it is to know individual par settings on individual machines of individual competitors.

For many reasons, pars change frequently. Pars mean nothing without additional information such as free play, theoretical win, frequency, variability, comp reinvestment percentage and much more. Pars alone, without information about the machine, the floor par, the other slot settings and free play have no value in and of themselves. Each operator knows their coin in slot revenue and the net par for that specific market. Therefore, any casino operator could determine whether to raise or lower pars based upon their own net win percentage compared to the net pars of the market in Northern Nevada published by gaming. Par levels are not a secret. In fact we have ascertained pars of competitors through the various methods previously listed.

Because so much information is available concerning the par settings of the Northern Nevada casinos, it is my firm belief that pars have no independent economic value. I have also considered the issue of whether any reasonable and thoughtful casino operator and owner would pay any money for a license agreement to have access to the par setting of other casinos. The notion is absurd. No reasonably prudent casino operator would pay money to have access to another casino's pars.

I hope the foregoing helps you with your assignments to formulate expert opinions in the above-referenced matter. Thank you for your courtesy and cooperation.

Sincerely,

John J. Ascuaga

Dear Mr. Robison,

I have been asked to inform you of my opinions concerning these issues.

1. Do the 7 or 9 pars (theoretical hold percentages) reflected on the attached two schedules have any independent economic value? They do not. The par settings of individual machines located at a competitor's casino do not have any value, independent or otherwise.
2. Would I pay money to know the par settings on a handful (say 15) of penny video reel slot machines of a competitor? I would not. The information has no value.
3. If I were to be involved in negotiations with a competitor where I was asked to pay for the "knowledge" that I could raise my floor par by 1% point and still be lower than my competitor, I would refuse to pay any money for that "knowledge". That "knowledge" is readily ascertainable without having to pay for it.
4. Paying money for the par settings on video reel penny slot machines of my competitors would be foolish and in my opinion that would never happen in the real world. Too many factors and influences are involved in gaming practices, slot strategies and casino operations for par settings to have any independent economic value.
5. If I negotiated for 18 months of complete and unfettered access to another casino's par settings, I would offer no money for that access. Without knowing much more about the other casino's operation, paying for access to pars alone would be foolish.

Sincerely,

David Ensign

BUSINESS COURT DOCKET

PEPPERMILL CASINOS, INC., a Nevada
Corporation, d/b/a/ PEPPERMILL CASINO;
RYAN TORS, an individual; JOHN DOES I-X
and JANE DOES I-X and CORPORATIONS I-X,

Defendant(s).

PEPPERMILL CASINOS, INC.'S AMENDED ANSWER TO COMPLAINT

Defendant Peppermill Casinos, Inc. ("Peppermill") submits the following as and for its Amended Answer.

1. Peppermill admits that on December 29, 2011, Ryan Tors used a master key to gain

1 access to nine GSR slot machines at the Grand Sierra Resort ("GSR"). Peppermill management
2 had knowledge of the activity.

3 2. Peppermill admits that on June 14, 2012, Ryan Tors gained access to six GSR slot
4 machines by and through the use of a master key (2341). Peppermill management had knowledge
5 of the activity.

6 3. Peppermill admits that on July 12, 2013, Defendant Ryan Tors gained access to six
7 GSR slot machines at the GSR. Peppermill learned of the event from the Gaming Control Board.

8 4. As a result of Mr. Tors being detained for the July 12, 2013 incident, the Nevada
9 Gaming Control Board initiated an exhaustive investigation into Mr. Tors' activities and the 10 Peppermill's knowledge and participation therein.

11 5. The Peppermill has admitted the allegations alleged in the Gaming Control Board's 12 proposed Complaint.

13 6. On February 20, 2014, the Nevada Gaming Commission conducted a hearing for 14 public comment on the Gaming Control Board Complaint against the Peppermill. Bill Paganetti
15 presented comments to the Gaming Commission, wherein he, on behalf of the Peppermill, 16 admitted that the Peppermill had knowledge of Mr. Tors' activities and further stated that the 17 information obtained by Tors was not used by the Peppermill.

18 7. Bill Paganetti, on behalf of the Peppermill, stipulated that the Peppermill be fined
19 $1,000,000. The fine has been paid.

20 8. Peppermill admits the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 and 2 of GSR's
21 Complaint.

22 9. In response to paragraph 3 of the GSR Complaint, Peppermill admits that it
23 condoned Tors' activities that occurred on December 29, 2011, and June 14, 2012. Because the 24 phrase "all times relevant to this Complaint" is unintelligible, Peppermill denies that it "ratified"
25 conduct of Tors "for all times relevant" to GSR's Complaint. Moreover, the accusation calls for a 26 legal conclusion.

27 10. Responding to paragraph 4 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that it became 28 aware of Tors' keying activities on December 29, 2011, June 14, 2012, and eventually those of

1 July 12, 2013. Because the phrase "at all times relevant to this Complaint" is vague and
2 unintelligible, Peppermill denies that Tors was acting in the course and scope of his employment
3 "at all times relevant to" GSR's Complaint.

4 11. Peppermill denies the allegations in paragraph 5 of GSR's Complaint.

5 12. Responding to paragraph 6, Peppermill can neither admit nor deny the allegations
6 because they are unintelligible. Without knowing what "actions of the Defendants and their 7 employees and/or agents" refers to, the Peppermill does not have sufficient information upon 8 which it can form a belief as to the truth or falsity of the vague reference to "the actions" and 9 therefore denies the same.

10 13. Peppermill admits the allegations in paragraph 7 of GSR's Complaint.

11 14. Responding to paragraph 8 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that Tors was 12 an employee from December 28, 2011, through July 12, 2013. Because the phrase "at all times
13 mentioned herein" is vague, Peppermill denies those allegations. Peppermill admits that Tors
14 was within his employment on December 29, 2011, June 14, 2012, and July 12, 2013.

15 15. Responding to paragraph 9 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits the allegations
16 contained therein.

17 16. Responding to paragraph 10 of the GSR Complaint, Peppermill admits that Tors,
18 through the use of a master key (2341), accessed six slot machines at the GSR. Peppermill denies
19 that the information was confidential and/or proprietary because of the manner in which GSR
20 publicly advertised its par percentages and because of GSR's failure to properly safeguard what it
21 now considers to be trade secrets.

22 17. Responding to paragraph 11 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that Tors is 23 not an employee of GSR and it admits that Tors was not authorized by GSR to access computer
24 diagnostics of GSR's slot machines. Peppermill denies all other allegations set forth in paragraph 25 11.

26 18. Responding to paragraph 12 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that Tors was 27 detained by GSR on July 12, 2013, and admits that the Nevada Gaming Control Board has called 28 and notified. Peppermill denies all other allegations in paragraph 12.

1           19.     Responding to paragraph 13 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that Tors
2 stated he was a corporate analyst of the Peppermill and that he stated he was at the GSR for the
3 purpose of accessing diagnostic information from certain slot machines belonging to GSR.

4           20.     Responding to paragraph 14 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that Tors
5 stated that the July 12, 2013 incident was not an isolated incident and that he had "keyed" for the 6 previous year. Peppermill denies that Tors stated that he did so "especially at the Grand Sierra 7 Resort".

8           21.     Responding to paragraph 15 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that Tors was 9 escorted from the premises and was advised that if he returned to the premises he would be 10 prosecuted for trespassing.

11          22.     Responding to paragraph 16 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that on July 12 12, 2013, Tors obtained diagnostic information in the six GSR slot machines identified and 13 denies the remaining allegations of paragraph 16.

14          23.     Responding to paragraph 17 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that Tors had 15 a list, but lacks sufficient information upon which to base or form a belief as to the truth or falsity
16 of the remaining allegations and therefore denies the same.

17          24.     Responding to paragraph 18 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies that the 18 diagnostic screens and payback percentage information is proprietary or confidential to GSR
19 because of GSR's marketing and advertising campaign in which it divulged to the public its par
20 percentages. Further, master keys (2341) are prevalent throughout the community and can be 21 purchased on line, therefore negating any suggestion that unless otherwise protected, what is 22 revealed by the use of a master key is neither proprietary nor confidential.

23          25.     Responding to paragraph 19 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies as set forth
24 hereinabove and incorporates its responses to paragraphs 1 through 18 as fully set forth herein.

25          26.     Responding to paragraph 20 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that NRS
26 600.A.010 says what it says, but the quote in paragraph 20 is inappropriate because of the manner
27 in which GSR cites the Nevada statute. Peppermill denies that GSR implemented efforts that 28 were reasonable under the circumstances to maintain the secrecy of its par percentages.

1           27.    Responding to paragraph 21 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies that Tors
2    breached NRS 600A.010 because of GSR's failure to implement efforts that were reasonable
3    under the circumstances to maintain the secrecy of the diagnostics in the GSR slot machines.
4    Peppermill denies the remaining allegations in paragraph 21.

5           28.    Responding to paragraph 22 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies that GSR
6    derived independent economic value, actual or potential, from its par percentage settings. The 7    Peppermill denies that because of GSR's marketing and advertising promotions, it made
8    reasonable efforts to keep its diagnostic information secret. Based on GSR's marketing and 9    advertising programs, the GSR made its par percentages readily ascertainable by proper means by 10   the public or any other persons who were exposed to GSR's marketing and advertising
11   campaigns. The allegations of paragraph 22 are also denied because of GSR's failure to lock the 12   diagnostic information, knowing full well that master keys (2341) were present and prevalent
13   throughout the gaming community.

14          29.    Responding to paragraph 23 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies that its
15   managerial employees, including former employee Ryan Tors, will in the future access GSR's
16   machines and therefore Peppermill denies that it or any of its employees are likely to 17   misappropriate anything from GSR.

18          30.    Responding to paragraph 24 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that NRS
19   600A.035 says what it says. The quote is incomplete.

20
22
23
24
25          32.    Responding to paragraph 26 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies that a 26   conspiracy as alleged is possible under applicable Nevada law and therefore denies the 27   allegations.

28          33.    Responding to paragraph 27 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that Tors

1 gained access to GSR slot machines on December 29, 2011, and June 14, 2012, but denies all
2 remaining allegations, since the alleged conspiracy cannot exist as a matter of law.

3 34. Responding to paragraph 28 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies that GSR has 4 sustained any damages whatsoever as a result of Tors' conduct. GSR has steadfastly refused to 5 provide any information in discovery or otherwise that would suggest in any way that the GSR
6 "has suffered general and special damages" of any amount of any kind of damages and therefore 7 paragraph 28 must be denied.

8 35. Responding to paragraph 29 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies the allegations
9 set forth therein.

10 36. Responding to paragraph 30 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies the allegations
11 set forth therein.

12 37. Responding to paragraph 31 of GSWR's Complaint, Peppermill denies as 13 previously set forth and incorporates herein its responses to paragraphs 1-30.

14 38. Responding to paragraph 32 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that Tors was 15 a corporate analyst and that he did visit other gaming establishments and obtained par percentages
16 from other casinos. All other accusations are denied.

17 39. Responding to paragraph 33 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill admits that Tors
18 accessed GSR machines at the GSR on July 12, 2013, and did so to determine whether GSR was 19 falsely advertising its par percentages and payback percentages of its slot machines. Peppermill
20 denies the remaining allegations.

21 40. Responding to paragraph 34 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies vicarious
22 liability "for all tortious conduct" committed by Tors. Because GSR has sustained no damages or 23 harm because of Tors' activities, Peppermill denies the remaining allegations.

24 41. Responding to paragraph 35 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies that GSR has 25 sustained any damages whatsoever as a result of Tors' activities. GSR has improperly and 26 wrongfully refused to comply with Nevada law and has steadfastly failed to produce any 27 information or evidence that it sustained any damages whatsoever.

28 42. Responding to paragraph 36 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies that Tors'

1 activities were wanton or reckless and denies all allegations therein.

2 43. Responding to paragraph 37 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies all allegations
3 therein.

4 44. Responding to paragraph 38 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies as previously
5 set forth and incorporates herein as though fully set forth its responses to paragraphs 1 through 6 37.

7 45. Responding to paragraph 39 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill does not know
8 whether GSR has an interest in protecting confidential and proprietary information because it has 9 failed to do so with respect to par percentages on its slot machines. Peppermill, therefore, denies 10 that GSR has implemented or exercised appropriate safeguards to protect what it now alleges to 11 be confidential and proprietary information or trade secrets of its business.

12 46. Responding to paragraph 40 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies that GSR took 13 adequate and reasonable measures or efforts to protect what it now alleges to be confidential and 14 proprietary. GSR has not adequately or effectively made any attempts to limit access to 15 diagnostic data contained in its slot machines because of the widespread use of master keys and 16 the recognition that technicians from slot machine manufacturers, other casino employees and 17 indeed the public in general have access to master keys (2341). Peppermill denies, therefore, that 18 GSR is entitled to any form of injunctive relief against the Peppermill.

19 47. Responding to paragraph 41 of GSR's Complaint, GSR makes requests rather than 20 alleges facts. Peppermill denies the need and/or propriety of ordering Peppermill to cease and 21 desist, as the Peppermill is prepared to stipulate that neither it nor any of its employees will make 22 any future attempts to access GSR slot machines or other gaming devices at GSR.

23 48. Responding to paragraph 42 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies that there
24 exists any actual or threatened efforts to access GSR gaming devices. Particularly in light of the 25 Gaming Control Board's involvement, injunctive relief is neither appropriate or required and the 26 allegations in paragraph 42 are therefore denied.

27 49. Responding to paragraph 43 of GSR's Complaint, Peppermill denies the allegations
28 set forth therein.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

2           1.       GSR's Complaint fails to state a claim for vicarious liability, since as a matter of
3 law vicarious liability is not a claim for relief.

4           2.       As set forth in its motions, GSR's Complaint should be dismissed for improper
5 pleading practices and failure to abide by the mandatory provisions of NRCP 16.1.

6           3.       The Court has ruled that the Peppermill not be restrained and enjoined and for even
7 stronger reasons there presently exists no need for a injunctive relief given the Gaming Control
8 Board's jurisdiction over this matter.

9           4.       GSR has abused process by alleging that the Peppermill conspired with its own
10 employees, knowing full well that an employer cannot legally conspire with its own employees.

11          5.       GSR failed to make any reasonable efforts to preserve what it now in hindsight 12 refers to as secrets and proprietary information and has therefore not stated a claim upon which 13 relief can be granted.

14          6.       GSR's marketing and advertising programs boast par percentages, thereby revealing 15 to the public the settings for par percentages and hold percentages of its slot machines, resulting 16 in a waiver of any claim under the Nevada Trade Secret Act.

17          7.       GSR is estopped from obtaining the relief requested in its Complaint.

18          8.       GSR's Complaint fails to state claims upon which relief can be granted, since it
19 admittedly cannot establish any losses, injury or damages caused by Tors' activities.

20          9.       Discovery will reveal that, if damaged, GSR failed to mitigate. The only financial 21 damages that GSR can claim is paying attorneys for filing a claim against Peppermill, knowing
22 full well that GSR has sustained no damages whatsoever.

23          10.       GSR continues to refuse and fail implementing reasonable safeguards and 24 protective measures preventing the public, other gaming properties and third persons from 25 obtaining diagnostic information from its machines.

26          11.       GSR has waived each and every claim for relief set forth in its Complaint.

27          12.       Punitive damages cannot be awarded or considered because GSR has sustained no
28 consequential damages.

1 13. GSR is not entitled to civil penalties as though have already been imposed by the 2 Gaming Control Board.

3 14. Under the circumstances, any award of punitive damages would be 4 unconstitutional.

5 15. The Court's rejection of GSR's request for an injunction against the Peppermill is 6 the law of the case and should not be revisited.

7 16. Par percentages have no bearing on GSR's revenues when taken in light of all
8 marketing, advertising and promotional activities that have been pursued by the GSR.

9 17. Knowing that it sustained no damages, GSR brought its claims in bad faith, in 10 violation of Rule 11, and should be held accountable for vexatious and malicious initiation and 11 prosecution of this case.

12 18. To the extent the slot department of the GSR is mismanaged, revenue consequences
13 are attributable only to the GSR's managerial practices and not in any way related to the activities
14 of Tors.

15 19. Discovery may lead to additional affirmative defenses and to the extent discovery
16 reveals additional affirmative defenses, Peppermill will seek amendment of this answer to plead
17 accordingly.

18 WHEREFORE, Peppermill requests judgment as follows:

19 1. That GSR's Complaint be dismissed with prejudice and GSR take nothing by and 20 because of its Complaint;

21 2. Peppermill be awarded its costs of Court and reasonable attorneys' fees for 22 defending this action; and

23 3. For such other relief as the Court determines to be appropriate under the 24 circumstances.

Direct Mail Rewards Comparison & Analysis Report
January 2015

Overview:

The following report summarizes the information contained in the direct mail offers received for the month of January 2015. CDC Consulting maintains player's accounts at Peppermill, Atlantis, Silver Legacy and Nugget casinos and are included in this comparative direct mail analysis for Grand Sierra Resort and Casino.

For baseline comparison purposes, six identical player accounts were established at Grand Sierra Resort and Casino. Comparable slot play takes place on each of these accounts each month as well.

In order to review the direct mail offers received, (3) player accounts have been established at each casino using a Reno address and (3) player accounts using a Sacramento address. One player account at each address is played to $250 ADT, $100 ADT and $50 ADT.

In order to achieve an "apples to apples" comparison, similar slots & denominations are played at each casino during the course of each month's gaming visit to these casinos.

Direct Mail Free Play Rewards Comparisons:

The total amount of direct mail free play rewards received by the local Reno area slot players in January are compared in the charts below.

Reno Slot Players

- Total free play grant days for the Reno local customers are listed below:
  1. GSR: 9
  2. Peppermill: 7
  3. Atlantis: 5
  4. Nugget: 4
  5. Silver Legacy: 4

Direct Mail Free Play Rewards Comparisons:

The total amount of direct mail free play rewards received by the non-local Sacramento area slot players in January are compared in the charts below.

Sacramento Slot Players

- The Peppermill's $50 ADT non-local customer received their first free play offer in the month of December. This trend has continued for the month of January. This is due to a large tracked loss on a recent prior trip. This customer also received several other offers this month that this customer did not previously receive in prior months due to the large tracked loss.

Direct Mail Offer/Promotional Volume Comparisons:

The volume of direct mail, email offers and promotions received by each of the player segments in the Reno and Sacramento areas over the past seven months are compared in the charts on the following pages.

- The increase in the Peppermill's $100 ADT local customer offers received was due in part to a large tracked loss on a recent trip.

- The increase in the Peppermill's $100 and $50 ADT non-local customer offers received were due in part to large tracked losses on both accounts during recent trips.

Overall Value of Direct Mail Offers & Promotions Received

The total estimated/perceived value of each casino's direct mail rewards offers received for January is compared in the chart & graph combinations on the following pages. This total value amount is our interpretation of the perceived value of all free play rewards, hotel, dining, event, promotions and tournament offers received this month.
