

Case No. 71759

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

Electronically Filed
Feb 16 2017 01:06 p.m.
Elizabeth A. Brown
Clerk of Supreme Court

X'ZAVION HAWKINS, an Individual,

Petitioner,

vs.

EIGHTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA, IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF CLARK, THE HONORABLE Joanna Kishner, DISTRICT JUDGE,

Respondent,

-and-

GGP MEADOWS MALL, a Delaware Limited Liability Company; MYDATT
SERVICES, INC. D/B/A VALOR SECURITY SERVICES, an Ohio Corporation; and MARK WARNER, an Individual.

Real Parties in Interest.

District Court Case No. A-15-717577-C

PETITIONER'S REPLY IN SUPPORT OF PETITION FOR EXTRAORDINARY WRIT RELIEF

DAVID J. CHURCHILL, Nev. Bar No. 7301
JOLENE J. MANKE, Nev. Bar No. 7436
INJURY LAWYERS OF NEVADA
6900 Westcliff Drive, Suite 707
Las Vegas, Nevada 89145
Telephone: 702-868-8888
Facsimile: 702-868-8889
david@injurylawyersnv.com
jolene@injurylawyersnv.com
Attorneys for Petitioner

TABLE OF CONTENTS

TABLE OF AUTHORITIES	ii-iii
I. THE ENTIRETY OF THE OCTOBER 18, 2,016, ORDER SHOULD BE STRICKEN	1
A. LBBS' Direct Violation of Petitioner's Attorney-Client Privilege and Improper Use of Confidential Information Wrongfully Benefitted Mydatt and Warner Via the Motion to Dismiss and the Subsequent Order of October 18, 2016	3
B. The Work LBBS Performed Against Petitioner Should Not Be Allowed to Stand Against Him to the Benefit of the Real Parties	5
C. The Order of October 18, 2016, Ignores the Fact Petitioner Voluntarily Corrected his Deposition Testimony	9
D. The Order of October 18, 2016, Violates the Jury's Duty to Determine the Credibility or Believability of Witnesses	10
II. REAL PARTIES CANNOT SUPPORT THE PROPOSITION THAT A CONFLICTED LAW FIRM MAY OR SHOULD BE AWARDED ATTORNEYS' FEES FROM THE AGGRIEVED PARTY	12
A. Real Parties' Answering Brief is Silent about the Most Important Fact in the Case of Weigel v. Shapiro , which Makes the Case Totally Irrelevant	15
B. The Case of In re TMA Associates, Ltd. is Significantly Distinguishable	17
III. CONCLUSION	21
CERTIFICATION PURSUANT TO NRAP 28.2 AND NRAP 21(5)	22
CERTIFICATE OF SERVICE	23

TABLE OF AUTHORITIES

CASES

Cooke v. Superior Ct., 147 Cal.Rptr. 915, 83 Cal.App.3d 582 (Cal. App. 2 nd Dist. 1978)	8
Goldstein v. Lees, 120 Cal.Rptr. 253 (Cal. Ct. App. 1975)	14
In re Matter of King Resources, Co., 20 B.R. 191, 204 (D. Colo. 1982)	19
In re Sixth Avenue Car Care Ctr., 81 B.R. 628, 630 (Bankr.D. Colo., 1988)	18
In re TMAAssociates, Ltd. 129 B.R. 643 (Bkrtcy. D.Colo. 1991)	17-20
In re: Vandervilt Assoc. Ltd., 111 B. R. 347, 353 (Bankr. D. Utah, 1990)	19
Jeffry v. Pounds, 136 Cal.Rptr.373 (Cal. Ct. App. 1977)	14
Lioce v. Cohen, 124 Nev. 1, 174 P.3d 970 (2008)	11
Palmer v. Pioneer Inn Assoc., Ltd., 59 P.3d 1237, 1240 (Nev. 2002)	7
Sheppard Mullin Richter & Hampton LLP v. J-M Mfg. Co., Inc., 198 Cal.Rptr.3d 253 (Cal. Ct. App. 2016)	14
Weigel v. Shapiro, 608 F.2d 268 (7 th Cir. 1979)	15-17

CODES, JURY INSTRUCTIONS AND RULES

28 U.S.C. § 1291	16
NRCP 37	10
NRPC 1.6	5
NRPC 1.6(a)	5
NRPC 1.9	6
NRPC 1.10	6
NRPC 3.4(e)	11
NRPC 4.2	6
NRS 48.035	11
NRS 50.115	10
Nev. J.I 1.08	11
Nev. J.I 2.07.....	11

1 I. THE ENTIRETY OF THE OCTOBER 18, 2016, ORDER SHOULD BE
2 STRICKEN.

3
4 Petitioner's Writ Petition revolves around the prejudice caused to Petitioner by
5 the work performed by the conflicted law firm of Lewis Brisbois Bisgaard & Smith
6 ("LBBS").¹ 1) LBBS knew it had an actual conflict with Petitioner even before it
7 accepted the assignment to defend Real Parties Real Parties Mydatt Services, Inc.
8 d/b/a Valor Security Services ("Mydatt") and Mark Warner ("Warner");² 2) LBBS 9 never took any action to give notice to Petitioner of the very real conflict;³ 3) All of 10 the work LBBS performed in this matter was directly adverse to Petitioner; 4) LBBS 11 brought the motion to dismiss against Petitioner;⁴ 5) the October 18, 2016, order that 12 forms the basis of the Writ Petition revolves around LBBS' motion to dismiss against 13 Petitioner;⁵ and 6) Allowing LBBS' work to stand against Petitioner would 14 wrongfully benefit Real Parties Mydatt and Warner to the prejudice of Petitioner.
15

16
17
18 ///

19
20
21 ¹ See Doc., No. 16-71759, Petition for Extraordinary Writ Relief, Nov. 22, 2016
22 ["Writ Petition"].)

23 ² See, 3PA, Ex. 19 at 581:4-18.

24 Hereinafter, citations to Petitioner's Appendix will immediately be preceded by 25 the volume number, followed by an Exhibit number, followed by a pincite to the 26 Appendix pagination (e.g., "2PA, Ex. 14, at 198").

27 ³ 4PA, Ex. 25 at 826:20-22; 827:1-3, 10-21; 828:1-9, 15-18; 3PA, Ex. 19 at 28 581:4-18.

⁴ See generally, 1PA, Ex. 11.

⁵ See Doc., No. 16-71759, Petition for Extraordinary Writ Relief, Nov. 22, 2016
["Writ Petition"].)

1 Real Parties' Answer goes to great length to outline the basis of the motion to
2 dismiss.⁶ What Real Parties fail to acknowledge is that the motion to dismiss and its
3 ensuing October 18, 2016, order are founded on the adverse work performed by 4 LBBS.⁷ This was not a case where LBBS' conflict arose from an unrelated matter.
5 LBBS actively worked against Petitioner while knowing an actual conflict existed
6 relating to this very matter.
7

8
9 The order relating to the motion to dismiss was entered on October 17, 2016.⁸
10 The notice of entry of order was entered on October 18, 2016.⁹ While different issues
11 are presented in Petitioner's Writ Petition, the entirety of Petitioner's Writ Petition is 12 based upon the October 18, 2016, order.¹⁰ At the time LBBS performed the 13 underlying work it was fully aware that it had a direct conflict with Petitioner and it
14 knew it was acting against Petitioner whom was never notified of the very real 15 conflict.¹¹ Josh Cole Aicklen, Esq. of LBBS stated in his affidavit opposing 16 Petitioner's motion to disqualify LBBS that he was aware of the conflict between 17 LBBS and Petitioner even before he accepted the assignment to defend Real Parties
18
19
20
21

22 ⁶ See Doc., No. 16-71759, Respondents/Real Parties in Interest's Answer to 23 Petition for Extraordinary Writ Relief, Jan. 24, 2017 [Answer to Petition] at pp.
24 2-13.

25 ⁷ See generally, 2PA, Ex. 11; 4PA, Ex. 35.

26 ⁸ See 4PA, Ex. 34.

27 ⁹ 4PA, Ex. 35.

28 ¹⁰ See generally, Writ Petition, Nov. 22, 2016.

¹¹ 4PA, Ex. 25 at 826:20-22; 827:1-3, 10-21; 828:1-9, 15-18; 3PA, Ex. 19 at 581:4-18.

1 Mydatt and Warner.¹² Yet, neither he nor anyone at LBBS did anything to give 2 notice to Petitioner of the very real conflict.¹³ Instead, LBBS accepted the
3 assignment to defend Real Parties Mydatt and Warner, kept quiet about the conflict
4 and actively set to work against Petitioner.
5

6 A. LBBS' Direct Violation of Petitioner's Attorney-Client Privilege and 7 Improper Use of Confidential Information Wrongfully Benefitted
8 Mydatt and Warner Via the Motion to Dismiss and the Subsequent 9 Order of October 18, 2016.
10

11 The directly adverse work LBBS performed against Petitioner violates public 12 policy holding the attorney-client privilege inviolate in all but a small number of 13 instances. While knowing LBBS had a direct conflict with Petitioner that was 14 unbeknownst to Petitioner, Mr. Aicklen of LBBS took Petitioner's deposition.¹⁴
15 While knowing LBBS had a direct conflict with Petitioner that was unbeknownst to 16 Petitioner, LBBS filed the motion to dismiss Petitioner's complaint in favor of Real
17 Parties Mydatt and Warner.¹⁵ Later, during open court Mr. Aicklen essentially told 18 the district court that he was privy to Petitioner's state of mind at the time of his 19
20
21
22
23
24

25 ¹² 3PA, Ex. 19 at 581:4-18.

26 ¹³ 4PA, Ex. 25 at 826: 20-22; 827:1-3, 10-21; 828:1-9, 15-18.

27 ¹⁴ 1PA, Ex. 11 at 118-132.

28 ¹⁵ See generally, 1PA, Ex. 11.

1 deposition when during the evidentiary hearing on May 3, 2016, Mr. Aicklen argued
2 against Petitioner as follows:

3
4 . . . We find this out and I take his deposition and based upon his written
5 discovery responses, I think he's going to lie to me. And, based on 26
6 years of practicing law, I think he's going to lie in his depo, but I had
7 no idea how much he was going to lie. Other than his name, I don't
8 believe the man spoke the truth throughout the entire time of his reported
9 deposition.¹⁶

10 Mr. Aicklen was very passionate against Petitioner and did not accurately
11 reflect the entirety of the facts on at least one occasion during the hearing as follows:

12 And I apologize. That is a mistake. He did not identify anybody in the 13 first one. In the second one, he did, and I apologize. I was wrong. First
14 one, he did not. Second one, he did.¹⁷

15 What Mr. Aicklen did not say during the evidentiary hearing was that he knew
16 there was an ongoing conflict between LBBS and Petitioner. What Mr. Aicklen did
17 not say during the hearing was that he knew he and LBBS were actively working 18 against Petitioner to the benefit of Real Parties Mydatt and Warner. LBBS actively 19 chose to violate Petitioner's almost inviolate attorney-client privilege. LBBS never 20 gave Petitioner the opportunity to decide if it was proper for LBBS to actively work
21 against him to the benefit of Real Parties Mydatt and Warner. LBBS' decision to 22 actively benefit Real Parties Mydatt and Warner to Petitioner's detriment formed the 23

24
25
26 ¹⁶ 5PA, Ex. 37, at 994.

27 ¹⁷ 5PA, Ex. 37 at 994.

1 foundation of the work LBBS performed in this matter, including the motion to
2 dismiss and the October 18, 2016, order based upon that work.

3
4 B. The Work LBBS Performed Against Petitioner Should Not Be Allowed
5 to Stand Against Him to the Benefit of the Real Parties.

6 Mr. Aicklen's argument to the court on May 3, 2016, suggests he had inside
7 knowledge as to the workings of Petitioner's mind.¹⁸ NRPC 1.6 governs the 8 confidentiality of information known by an attorney. Specifically, NRPC 1.6(a)
9 states as follows:
10

11
12 (a) A lawyer shall not reveal information relating to representation of 13 a client unless the client gives informed consent, the disclosure is 14 impliedly authorized in order to carry out the representation, or the disclosure is permitted by paragraphs (b) and (c).

15 Mr. Aicklen's affidavit admits he knew of the very real conflict between LBBS
16 and Petitioner before he accepted the assignment to defend Mydatt and Warner
17 against Petitioner.¹⁹ Knowing of the conflict, LBBS went ahead and accepted the 18 defense of Real Parties Mydatt and Warner against Petitioner. At no time did LBBS
19 make any effort to advise Petitioner of the conflict.²⁰ Mr. Aicklen's affidavit was 20 silent about having any right to reveal any confidential information relating to 21
22 Petitioner. Mr. Aicklen's possession of confidential information was not rightfully
23
24

25
26 18

Id.

27 19

3PA, Ex. 19 at 581:4-11.

28 20

4PA, Ex. 25 at 826: 20-22; 827:1-3, 10-21; 828:1-9, 15-18.

1 gained. The fact that LBBS had such information while Petitioner never consented to 2 the dissemination of such information is improper.

3
4 LBBS owed a duty to Petitioner based upon Paul A. Shpirt, Esq.'s former
5 representation of Petitioner. Given that LBBS knew it had a conflict with Petitioner
6 before it accepted the assignment to defend Real Parties Mydatt and Warner, LBBS
7 chose to put Real Parties Mydatt and Warner's interest ahead of Petitioner's interests.
8 The very intent of NRPC 1.9 and 1.10 is to prevent attorneys and law firms from 9 benefitting and prejudicing clients who are more or less favored on a given case.
10 Now, based on the October 18, 2016, order, Petitioner's complaint is in jeopardy of 11 being dismissed.²¹

12
13 LBBS' actions in this matter are akin to an attorney obtaining information by 14 wrongfully communicating with a party who is represented by counsel. NRPC 4.2
15 provides as follows:

16
17
18 Rule 4.2 Communication With Person Represented by Counsel. In 19 representing a client, a lawyer shall not communicate about the subject
20 of the representation with a person the lawyer knows to be represented 21 by another lawyer in the matter, unless the lawyer has the consent of the 22 other lawyer or is authorized to do so by law or a court order.

23 When an attorney violates NRPC 4.2 by wrongfully obtaining information 24 from a represented party, sanctions may be to exclude the information obtained by the 25

26
27 ²¹ See generally, 4PA, Ex. 36.
28

1 ex parte contact and/or to prohibit use of the information at trial.²² While Petitioner's
2 attorney client privilege and right to confidential communication with Mr. Shpirt has 3 been violated, no remedy relating to the adverse work performed by LBBS has been 4 afforded him. LBBS' actions of favoring Real Parties Mydatt and Warner to the 5 prejudice of Petitioner are so egregious as to possibly lead to the dismissal of his 6 complaint.²³ Yet, other than the fact that LBBS is no longer actively working against
7 Petitioner, the adverse work it performed against Petitioner remains to prejudice him
8 to the benefit of Real Parties Mydatt and Warner.

9 All work performed by LBBS which is done knowingly adverse to Petitioner
10 should be stricken as a matter of public policy. Clearly, public trust demands that the 11 attorney-client privilege remain inviolate. And, the public trust of the profession is 12 shaken when Mr. Shpirt personally undertook to represent Petitioner for several 13 months, becomes a partner in the firm that is adverse to Petitioner and fails to inform 14 Petitioner of the conflict. While disqualification is proper, the remedy also demands
15 striking all of the work performed done by LBBS while the conflict persisted. To 16 hold otherwise, would encourage attorneys to be unscrupulous and reward their 17 unethical behavior.

18 Granted, our courts have an interest in ascertaining the truth. However, courts
19 have also recognized striking improperly obtained information is a proper remedy

20
21
22
23
24
25
26
27 ²² Palmer v. Pioneer Inn Assoc., Ltd. 59 P.3d 1237, 1240 (Nev. 2002).
28

1 which does not conflict with the quest for ascertaining the truth. For example, in
2 Cooke v. Superior Court,²⁴ California Second District Court of Appeals was faced
3 with a similar situation. There, in a divorce proceeding, the husband, Mr. Cooke, was 4 accused of hiding marital assets contrary to Mrs. Cooke's interests.²⁵ Mr. Cooke
5 employed a butler who overheard Mr. Cooke's conversations with his attorney and
6 copied a document allegedly regarding Mr. Cooke's business assets.²⁶ The butler
7 then mailed a copy of the documents to Mrs. Cooke.²⁷ Mr. Cooke sought to have the 8 documents stricken pursuant to the attorney client privilege.²⁸ The trial court struck
9 the documents in question and prevented their use by Mrs. Cooke and her attorneys.²⁹
10 California's Second District Court of Appeals upheld the trial court's order with only 11 slight modification.³⁰ The appellate court ordered the documents to be sealed and 12 delivered to clerk of the court rather than returning the documents to Mr. Cooke.³¹
13
14
15
16
17

18
19 ²³ See generally, 4PA, Ex. 36.)

20 ²⁴ 147 Cal.Rptr. 915, 83 Cal.App.3d 582 (Cal. App. 2nd Dist. 1978)(Court stated, 21 "As we have pointed out above, it is possible (albeit improbable) that the trial
22 court may, at some future date in the course of the dissolution proceeding,
23 permit access to and use of some of those documents.")

24 ²⁵ Id. at 919.

25 ²⁶ Id. at 917.

26 ²⁷ Id.

27 ²⁸ Id.

28 ²⁹ Id.

³⁰ Id.

³¹ Id. at 919. Court stated, "As we have pointed out above, it is possible (albeit improbable) that the trial court may, at some future date in the course of the dissolution proceeding, permit access to and use of some of those documents."

1 Similarly, all work which was performed by LBBS should be stricken. The
2 public trust of holding Petitioner's privileged communications inviolate demands a
3 remedy beyond mere disqualification and beyond mere disgorgement of attorney
4 fees. Real Parties must not be allowed to benefit from any work performed by the 5 conflicted and disqualified law firm.
6

7
8 C. The Order of October 18, 2016, Ignores the Fact Petitioner Voluntarily
9 Corrected his Deposition Testimony.

10 Contrary to any suggestion in the Answer to the Petition, Petitioner voluntarily
11 produced an errata sheet clarifying his deposition testimony.³² Petitioner told
12 Defendants at the outset of his deposition that he takes a number of pain medications
13 (morphine, hydrocodone, bacopin and gabapentin.)³³ He also testified that he
14 probably would not be able to give his best testimony because "I forget sometimes."³⁴
15 Petitioner testified repeatedly that he did not know the answer to specific questions
16 relating to the shooters.³⁵
17

18
19
20 Petitioner was never compelled to clarify his deposition testimony. Real
21 Parties never moved to compel Petitioner to participate in discovery, and Petitioner
22
23
24

25 ³² 2PA, Ex. 14 at 335-338.

26 ³³ 1PA, Ex. 11, at 119.

27 ³⁴ Id.

28 ³⁵ Id., generally.

1 never refused to do so.³⁶ Accordingly, it was proper for the district court to deny
2 Real Parties' motion to dismiss Petitioner's complaint pursuant to NRCP 37, which
3 relates to compelling disclosure or discovery. However, the entry of the October 18,
4 2016, order based upon the work performed by LBBS to the benefit of Real Parties
5 Mydatt and Warner and the prejudice of Petitioner is improper, especially given that
6 Petitioner is potentially facing dismissal of his complaint based upon the work
7 performed by LBBS.³⁷

10 D. The Order of October 18, 2016, Violates the Jury's Duty to Determine
11 the Credibility or Believability of Witnesses.

13 Petitioner acknowledges that the judiciary always has an interest in credibility,
14 and Petitioner satisfied his obligation to produce an errata to his deposition testimony
15 without being compelled to do so.³⁸ Real Parties could certainly cross examine 16 Petitioner at trial about the errata to his deposition testimony pursuant to NRS 50.115.
17 The October 18, 2016, order removes the jury's duty to determine the credibility
18 and/or believability of Petitioner.

21 The District Court's role is to determine the proper application of the law, not 22 the weight of witness testimony. The District Court cannot invade the province of the 23 jury to determine credibility while remaining impartial. The District Court

26 ³⁶ 4PA, Ex. 24 at 819.

27 ³⁷ See generally, 4PA, Ex. 36.

28 ³⁸ See generally, 2PA, Ex. 14 at 335-338.

1 specifically advises the jury regarding its impartiality in Nevada Jury Instruction No.
2 1.08 as follows:
3

4 If, during this trial, I have said or done anything which has suggested to 5 you that I am inclined to favor the claims or position of any party, you
6 will not be influenced by any such suggestion.

7 I have not expressed, nor intended to express, nor have I intended to 8 intimate, any opinion as to which witnesses are or are not worthy of 9 belief, what facts are or are not established, or what inferences should be 10 drawn from the evidence. If any expression of mine has seemed to 11 indicate an opinion relating to any of these matters, I instruct you to 12 disregard it. [Emphasis added.]

13 The determination of whether Petitioner is or is not being honest, and the 14 weight his testimony should be given is an issue that should be left for the jury. Any 15 benefit from allowing the district court to craft a jury instruction relating to 16 Petitioner's credibility would be "substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair
17 prejudice, of confusion of the issues or of misleading the jury." NRS 48.035. Neither
18 the District Court nor counsel should be permitted to express an opinion concerning
19 the credibility of parties per NRPC 3.4(e).³⁹ Allowing the District Court to craft a
20 jury instruction relating to Petitioner's credibility would be contrary to Nev. J.I. 1.08
21 and would obviate Nev. J.I. 2.07. Stepping outside the bounds of determining the 22 proper law to apply to the facts and assuming determining witness credibility would 23 be appealable error.

24 ///

25
26
27 ³⁹ See also Lioce v. Cohen, 124 Nev. 1, 174 P.3d 970 (2008).
28

1 II. REAL PARTIES CANNOT SUPPORT THE PROPOSITION THAT A
2 CONFLICTED LAW FIRM MAY OR SHOULD BE AWARDED
3 ATTORNEYS' FEES FROM THE AGGRIEVED PARTY.
4

5 First, Real Parties essentially argue the law firms are not seeking attorneys'
6 fees from Petitioner because the law firms did not generate an invoice and forward it
7 to Petitioner.⁴⁰ However, the sanction issued by the District Court does in fact
8 require Petitioner to pay attorneys' fees to the law firms arising from work initiated
9 and performed by the disqualified law firm of LBBS.⁴¹ All law firms, including the 10 disqualified firm of LBBS, provided a memorandum of attorneys' fees and costs that 11 was attached to Real Parties' motion for attorneys' fees and costs against Petitioner.⁴²
12 Mr. Aicklen was the person who signed the memorandum for attorneys' fees and 13 costs against Petitioner on behalf of LBBS.⁴³ Mr. Aicklen is also the person who 14 stated in his affidavit in opposition to Petitioner's motion to disqualify that he knew 15 there was a direct conflict with Petitioner when he was first assigned the defense of 16 Real Parties Mydatt and Warner, even before he asked LBBS' office manager to 17 perform a conflicts check.⁴⁴ Despite having this knowledge, neither Mr. Aicklen nor 18
19
20
21
22

23
24 ⁴⁰ See Doc., Respondents/Real Parties in Interest's Answer to Petition for 25 Extraordinary Writ Relief, filed January 24, 2017, at pp. 20-26 [Answer to 26 Petition].

27 ⁴¹ See generally, 4PA, Ex. 35.

28 ⁴² 4PA, Ex. 23 at pp. 721-814.

⁴³ Id. at 721-749.

⁴⁴ 3PA, Ex. 19 at 581:4-18.

1 anyone at LBBS did anything to give notice to Petitioner of the conflict.⁴⁵ Instead,
2 Mr. Aicklen and LBBS quietly and actively set to work against Petitioner.
3

4 Second, Real Parties argue that because the law firms that were awarded
5 attorneys' fees against Petitioner are not suing Petitioner for the attorneys' fees, this 6 matter is distinguishable from cases prohibiting disqualified law firms from receiving
7 compensation during the period of the conflict.⁴⁶ The Real Parties' argument is form
8 over substance when one considers the remedy that Real Parties are seeking against 9 Petitioner. Hypothetically, if Real Parties were suing Petitioner for attorneys' fees
10 and costs, they could receive a judgment which could then be enforced and/or 11 potentially discharged in bankruptcy. Instead, for failure to pay the ordered
12 attorneys' fees and costs, Real Parties are seeking one of the harshest remedies
13 available, complete dismissal of Petitioner's underlying cause of action.⁴⁷
14
15
16

17 Third, Real Parties argue there is case law allowing an award of attorney's fees
18 to a conflicted law firm for work performed before the disqualification. This is 19 simply inaccurate. Petitioner will specifically address the cases cited by Real Parties
20 herein below.
21

22 At this time, there is no case law on point in Nevada specifically addressing the 23 issue of whether it is unethical for a conflicted law firm to receive attorneys' fees
24
25

26
27 ⁴⁵ 4PA, Ex. 25 at 826: 20-22; 827:1-3, 10-21; 828:1-9, 15-18.
28 ⁴⁶ See Answer to Petition at pp. 21-22.

1 from the aggrieved client. However, there is decades of case law in California
2 prohibiting a conflicted attorney from receiving compensation. See Goldstein v. Lees,
3 120 Cal.Rptr. 253 (Cal. App. 1975)(holding conflicted attorney must be denied
4 attorney's fees when the attorney possessed corporate secrets that were material);
5 Jeffry v. Pounds, 136 Cal.Rptr. 373 (Cal. App. 1977)(holding that attorney must be 6 denied any fees for work performed after a conflict arose even though the 7 representations involved unrelated matters)[Emphasis Added.]. While the case is 8 under review, California's Fourth Court of Appeals has even gone so far as to require
9 disgorgement of attorneys fees by the conflicted attorney. Sheppard Mullin Richter
10 & Hampton LLP v. J-M Mfg. Co., Inc., 198 Cal.Rptr.3d 253 (Cal. App. 4th
11 2016)(holding that applying Cal. RPC 3-310 prohibiting attorney-client conflicts
12 without written consent requires disgorgement of attorneys' fees by conflicted law 13 firm consistent with the purpose of the statute even when the conflict relates to 14 completely different matters)[Emphasis Added].
15
16
17
18
19

20 ///
21
22
23
24
25
26

27 ⁴⁷ See generally, 4PA, Ex. 36.
28

1 A. Real Parties’ Answering Brief is Silent About the Most Important
2 Fact in the Case of Weigel v. Shapiro, which Makes the Case Totally
3 Irrelevant.
4

5 Real Parties cite the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals case of Weigel v.
6 *Shapiro*⁴⁸ to support their claim that a trial court may order an aggrieved client to pay
7 attorneys’ fees to a conflicted law firm. This argument is not well founded because
8 neither the underlying court nor the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals ever addressed
9 the disqualification of the law firm.⁴⁹ Rather, the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals 10 determined that “it is plain that the district court did not decide the merits of the 11 question presented by the motion [to disqualify].”⁵⁰ Accordingly, there was no
12 appealable decision for the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals to consider.⁵¹
13
14
15

16 In Weigel, the underlying court denied the party’s motion to disqualify counsel
17 “without prejudice as moot” because the judge had already dismissed the original
18 complaint.⁵² The judge did not discuss any of the arguments advanced by the parties
19 relating to the motion, and, thus, the appellate court determined the district court had 20 not decided the motion on the merits.⁵³ The appellate court also reasoned that a 21 decision on the merits “would have been required for the district court’s decision to 22
23

24
25 ⁴⁸ 608 F.2d 268 (7th Cir., 1979).

26 ⁴⁹ Id. at 272.

27 ⁵⁰ Id. at 272.

28 ⁵¹ Id. at 272.

⁵² Id.

1 be an appealable 'final decision' under 28 U.S.C. § 1291 . . . especially given the
2 exceptional status of appeals from denials of disqualification motions."⁵⁴
3

4 Because the underlying facts of Weigel are somewhat complicated, the 5 appellate court addressed them as follows:

6 Even assuming [the judge's] order was a final decision, plaintiff failed to 7 take his appeal within the 30 days allowed by Rule 4 of the Rules of 8 Appellate Procedure. As noted, plaintiff did not renew his 9 disqualification motion after the trial court on November 6, 1978,
10 granted him leave to amend his original complaint. Since the 30-day
11 period runs from this November 6 order . . . his December 8 appeal was 12 clearly too late to contest the October 2 order in which the denial of the 13 disqualification motion appears. Nor is it tenable to argue, as plaintiff
14 does in his reply brief, that the filing of the amended complaint
15 automatically revived the disqualification motion and that the final 16 judgment on that issue occurred only with the November 17, 1978,
17 dismissal of the amended complaint. That argument is tantamount to 18 asserting that although the disqualification motion was moot on October 19 2 when the district court explicitly denied it, yet it became final on 20 November 17 when the court did not even mention it!⁵⁵
21 Finally, the motion to disqualify is a live issue only if the cause of action
22 itself survives. As a substantive matter, the motion depends on some 23 adverse relationship between defendants and the Corporation, and the 24 dismissal of each complaint eliminates any evidence of such a
25 relationship. In simple procedural terms, moreover, the dismissal of the 26 amended complaint would render any opinion on the merits of the 27 disqualification motion merely advisory. Since we are affirming the 28 district court's final judgment order dismissing this case, the motion to disqualify counsel remains moot at this time.⁵⁶

21 Simply put, the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals never addressed
22 disqualification of the law firm because the underlying court never addressed
23

25 ⁵³ Id.

26 ⁵⁴ Id.

27 ⁵⁵ Id.

28 ⁵⁶ Id.

1 disqualification of the law firm. Real Parties cannot cite to Weigel to support the 2 proposition that a disqualified law firm is entitled to attorneys' fees from the 3 aggrieved party because the judge in the underlying case dismissed both the 4 complaint and the amended complaint before a ruling was made on the motion to 5 disqualify. The law firm was never disqualified as the motion was deemed moot.
6 Thus, it is inappropriate for Real Parties to suggest that Wiegel supports any argument
7 that the disqualified law firm of LBBS is entitled to attorneys' fees from its aggrieved
8 client, the Petitioner.
9

10
11
12 B. The Case of In re TMA Associates, Ltd. is Significantly
13 Distinguishable.

14 The disqualification of LBBS and the subsequent award of attorneys' fees in 15 this matter is entirely distinguishable from the bankruptcy case cited by Real Parties,
16 *In re TMA Associates, Ltd.*⁵⁷ In TMA, the bankruptcy court sua sponte considered 17 the debtor counsel's potential conflict upon the filing of the voluntary petition for 18 bankruptcy pursuant to Chapter 11 of the Bankruptcy Code along with the notice
19 pursuant to Rule 23 of the application to employ attorneys filed at the same time.⁵⁸
20 The purpose of the TMA Court immediately considering the potential conflict sua 21 sponte was "...to avoid the denial of fees after considerable time and effort has been 22
23
24

25
26 ⁵⁷ 129 B.R. 643 (Bkrtcy. D.Colo., 1991).

27 ⁵⁸ Id. at 644.
28

1 expended by counsel and significant benefit derived by the clients, this issue should
2 be addressed upon the filing of the initial application for employment pursuant to §
3 327.”⁵⁹
4

5 The TMA court determined that debtor counsel’s relationship with the general
6 partners the limited partnership created a potential impermissible conflict noting
7 “...Counsel’s ill-defined sense of the entangled relationships and numerous conflicts,
8 actual and/or potential, and the Firm’s readiness to simply overlook or ignore the 9 problems and pervasive appearances of impropriety with which this Court is bound to 10 deal head on.”⁶⁰ The TMA Court further reasoned as follows:
11
12

13 Section 327 is intended to address the appearance of impropriety as 14 much as its substance, to remove the temptation and opportunity to do
15 less than duty demands. It is intended to prevent even the appearance of 16 conflict, irrespective of the integrity of the person or firm under consideration.⁶¹

17 The TMA court also cited *In re Sixth Avenue Car Care Ctr.*⁶² supporting the 18 proposition that an appearance of impropriety may undermine the public’s confidence
19 in the fairness of bankruptcy proceedings. Likewise, the appearance of impropriety 20 may undermine the public’s confidence in civil proceedings or the judicial system as 21 a whole.
22
23
24

25
26 ⁵⁹ Id. at 645.

27 ⁶⁰ Id. at 647.

28 ⁶¹ Id.

⁶² 81 B.R. 628, 630 (Bankr. D. Colo., 1988).

1 Even though debtor's counsel in the TMA matter had obtained written conflict
2 waivers from the general partners, the TMA court determined that the waivers were 3 insufficient given the nature of the facts.⁶³ The TMA court cited to In re Matter of 4 King Resources Co.,⁶⁴ in reasoning that "[t]here are certain factual situations where 5 the conflicts of interests between parties are so critically adverse to one another so as 6 to not permit the representation of multiple parties by an attorney, even with the 7 consent of all parties made after full disclosure."⁶⁵ The TMA court further supported
8 its decision to find the conflict waivers insufficient by citing the case of In re
9 Vanderbilt Assoc. Ltd.,⁶⁶ as follows:

13 [i]f the people who actually make the decision to consent are the same 14 individuals whose interest are in conflict, that consent is suspect...it is 15 problematic that effective consent could be given by the limited
16 partnership. Such consent would of necessity be given by the general
17 partner....This situation creates a circumstance much like the fox in 18 the hen house.⁶⁷

17 The TMA matter is distinguishable from the instant matter for several reasons.
18 First, in TMA, the attorney's conflict immediately came to the court's attention upon 19 the filing of the bankruptcy petition along with the application to employ counsel.
20 Here, LBBS kept quiet about the conflict and went about performing significant work
21 against Petitioner. Second, the TMA attorney was compensated for the minimal work
22

25 ⁶³ Id. at 647.

26 ⁶⁴ 20 B.R. 191, 204 (D. Colo., 1982).

27 ⁶⁵ TMA, 129 B.R. 643 at 647.

28 ⁶⁶ 111 B.R. 347, 353 (Bankr. D. Utah, 1990).

1 performed before the court sua sponte determined the conflict was impermissible.⁶⁸
2 Here, LBBS did not perform minimal work against Petitioner. Rather, LBBS
3 performed work so adverse to Petitioner's interests that his matter is potentially in 4 jeopardy of being dismissed.⁶⁹ Third, while the TMA court reasoned that the conflict
5 waivers were insufficient, at least the TMA attorney had put the clients on notice of 6 the conflict and attempted to obtain meaningful conflict waivers. Here, there is 7 absolutely no evidence suggesting that LBBS ever put Petitioner on notice of the 8 actual conflict much less tried to obtain consent after full disclosure.⁷⁰ Theoretically,
9 if LBBS had attempted to obtain a conflict waiver, the district court may have 10 determined that that any waiver obtained was insufficient. Given the opportunity, the 11 district court may have determined that allowing LBBS to proceed directly against 12 Petitioner's best interests would have been the exact definition of putting the fox in 13 the hen house. No one knows the answers to these questions because LBBS kept 14 quiet about its known, directly-adverse conflict with Petitioner.
15

16 III. CONCLUSION

17 To allow the order of October 18, 2016, to stand would be against public policy
18 as it is arises from work performed by a conflicted law using confidential information 19 to act contrary to the aggrieved client's interests to the point of potential dismissal of 20

21 ⁶⁷ Id.
22 ⁶⁸ TMA, 129 B.R. 643 at 649.
23 ⁶⁹ See generally, 4PA, Ex. 36.
24
25
26
27
28

1 his complaint. The order of October 18, 2016, further violates public policy as it
2 forces the aggrieved client to pay for the conflicted law firm's work performed to
3 prejudice him and benefit adverse parties. Accordingly, Petitioner respectfully
4 requests that the Court issue a writ of mandamus vacating the District Court's order
5 of October 18, 2016, and directing the District Court to enter an order denying
6 Respondents' motion for attorney fees and costs and an adverse jury instruction.
7

8
9 DATED this 14th day of February, 2017.

10 INJURY LAWYERS OF NEVADA

11
12 /s/ Jolene J. Manke

13 By: _____

14 DAVID J. CHURCHILL (SBN: 7031)
15 JOLENE J. MANKE (SBN: 7436)
16 Attorneys for Petitioner
17
18
19
20
21
22
23
24
25
26

27 ⁷⁰ 4PA, Ex. 25 at 826: 20-22; 827:1-3, 10-21; 828:1-9, 15-18.
28

1 CERTIFICATION PURSUANT TO NRAP 28.2 AND NRAP 21(5)

2 I, Jolene J. Manke, attorney for Petitioner in the above-matter, do hereby
3
4 certify pursuant to NRAP 28.2 the following:

5 (1) I have read Petitioner's Reply in Support of Petition for Extraordinary
6 Writ Relief;

7
8 (2) To the best of my knowledge, information and belief, the Reply is not
9 frivolous or interposed for any improper purpose, such as to harass or to cause
10 unnecessary delay or needless increase in the cost of litigation;

11
12 (3) I believe that the Reply complies with all applicable Nevada Rules of 13 Appellate Procedure, including the requirement of Rule 28(e) that every assertion in 14 the briefs regarding matters in the record be supported by a reference to a page and 15 volume number, if any, of the appendix where the matter relied on is to be found; and 16

17 (4) I represent that the Reply complies with the formatting requirements of 18 Rule 32 (a)(4)-(6), and either the page- or type-volume limitations stated in Rule
19 32(a)(7).
20

21 (5) Pursuant to NRAP 12(5), I verify that the facts set forth herein are true
22 and correct to the best of my knowledge.
23

24 I declare the foregoing is true under penalty of perjury.

25 DATED this 14th day of February, 2017.

26 /s/Jolene J. Manke
27 JOLENE J. MANKE, ESQ.
28

- 1
- 2
- 3
- 4
- 5
- 6
- 7
- 8
- 9
- 0
- 1
- 2
- 3
- 4
- 5
- 6
- 7
- 8
- 9
- 0
- 1
- 2
- 3
- 4
- 5
- 6
- 7
- 8

I certify that I am an employee of and that on the 14th day of February, 2017, service of the foregoing Petitioner's Reply in Support of Petition for Extraordinary Writ of Relief was made by electronic service through the Nevada Supreme Court's electronic filing system and/or by depositing a true and correct copy in the U.S. Mail, first class postage prepaid, and addressed to the following at their last known address:

Page 23 of 23