- 11. I understand and agree that pursuant to the terms of the plea agreement stated herein, any counts which are to be

MENTAL STATUS EXAMINATION: Kupa'a Kea, an 18 year old male, was generally cooperative and respectful throughout evaluation. Physical presentation was normal. Speech suggested good verbal skills. Affect or facial expression was normal. Mood was mildly depressed.

Thoughts of harming himself or others were absent. Thought process was focused. Thought content was absent delusions, hallucinations, and psychosis.

Kupa'a described that when first arrested the day after the instant offense, October 28, 2011, he underwent methamphetamine and alcohol-related withdrawal including feeling physically ill, nose bleeds, and oversleeping. When re-incarcerated in early January 2011, he felt his life was done and he harbored suicide ideations of hanging himself with a sheet. When a deputy saw him with a sheet in hand, he was sent to the infirmary. During interview with the nurse practitioner, he expressed concern about his imaginary friend coming back (he had seen and heard him when under the influence of methamphetamine). Washoe County Detention Center records revealed that on January 4, 2012, he placed on suicide watch, and prescribed Vistaril for anxiety and Risperdal for mental health issues, to potentially ward off voices. On January 7, 2012 he was noted as improved ("adjustment improved") and returned to the general population. In February 2012, his medicines were discontinued. He then learned that his girlfriend (with whom he had started a relationship in September 2011) had miscarried their child, which caused him to feel sad. In March, due to his situational stressors, he began to feel depressed, was over-sleeping, and had less appetite. On March 22, he was prescribed the antidepressant, Celexa. At the time of evaluation, he was taking Celexa. He felt that his mood was improved with the medicine although he continued worried about his pending sentencing. His sleep and appetite had returned to normal. He denied that he has experienced hallucinations during his incarceration.

CLINICAL INTERVIEW

DEFENDANT'S OFFENSE ACCOUNT: Kupa'a Kea (aka Krums) described that on October 27, 2011, he awoke at about 8:00 AM, having slept for six to seven hours. He ate breakfast and spent the morning and early afternoon with his sister, Momi Kea, and her children, with whom he was living. At 3:00 PM he drove to pick up five friends, all fellow Deadside Gang members: Sergio Aquino aka Silent; Jose Via aka Bomber; Marcos Rodriguez aka Oneer; Luis Lopez aka Tunes; and Christian Garcia aka Criminal. The group got pizza, Corona beer, and brandy, and bought five grams of methamphetamine. They went to Marcos' home to "sit, chill, get high, and drunk." During the next few hours, Kupa'a drank about six shots of brandy and about four Corona beers.

During the early evening, Kupa'a got a call from fellow DSG gang member, Manuel Gatica (aka Junior), stating, "We're going to get down." He described that someone had tried to jump Brian Alvarado (aka Teddy), who affiliated with Unfadeable Kings (UFK), a party erew, but who was not a member of DSG. Manuel told Kupa'a to meet him at McDonalds. Kupa'a knew Brian through Manuel, who used to affiliate with UFK.

From Marcos' home, Marcos grabbed a .38 revolver and Christian grabbed a .22 revolver. Kupa'a drove himself and his five fellow DSG friends to meet Manuel and others. They smoked the rest of the methamphetamine in route to McDonalds. When asked how he felt at the moment, Kupa'a stated, "I was pumped up. My adrenaline was rushing....I felt invincible, like I can't really be harmed." He explained that he had formerly been shot at on three occasions — two gang fights and one drive-by shooting — and had not been hit. Such caused him to have a sense of invincibility.

At McDonald's, Kupa'a and his group joined up with Manuel, Brian, and about six to eight others who Kupa'a did not know and who were not affiliated with DSG. Manuel told the group that they were going to fight Norteños and that the Norteños were "as deep as we are." Kupa'a felt, "They're as deep as we are, so I'm even more pumped out."

Kupa'a and his group followed Manuel and his group to Paradise Park, arriving as it was getting dark. Marcus had the .38 revolver, Christian had the .22 revolver, and Manuel took out a .22 rifle. The group of about 12 to 14 began walking through the park, looking for the Norteños. Manuel handed him the .22 rifle and said, "Here Krums." When asked what his thoughts and feelings were when handed a rifle, Kupa'a denied having specific thoughts: "I just took it. I don't know why it took it." Once he had the rifle, he felt, "Cool again."

The group heard the Nortefios shouting at them, calling them out: "Like wolf calls, screaming, yelling, no words." Kupa'a thought, "This is the time of truth when this is going to go down. This is the moment to shine. This is it." He explained that it was the group's moment to shine not his moment to shine individually. He felt, "That's when my blood boiled more. I felt hot physically." He denied that the physical sensation was associated with anger, and noted that it was associated with adrenaline.

The Norteños were on the other side of a bridge, equal in number to their group. Kupa'a and Sergio walked toward them with the rest of the group behind him. When asked why he took the lead, he described he did not know. The Norteños started running towards them, sporting axes, bats, or hammers. Kupa'a felt "scared." In reaction, with the rifle at his hip, he shot four times at the ground. He then heard voices from the Norteños group calling out to him, "Krums, Krums, stop." He saw that he knew some of the other group members from school: "They were the wrong people. They weren't even Norteños." At the front of the other group were Tony Alvarado (aka Travieso), who he knew from ROP; and Grizzle (true name unknown; one of the two shooting victims), who he knew from Hug High School and with whom he had previously "kicked it." Sergio told Tony that he thought they were Norteños. Tony told Sergio he thought they were Norteños. Grizzle said, "What the f—k Krums."

After shooting and realizing the people he shot at were people he knew, everything felt surreal: "It was like a movie. It's like everything tuned out. Like I was just seeing what was in front of me. Like I couldn't see everything on the side. It was kind of like I was stuck....I didn't know what was going on after that. I was confused. Like I didn't know what was happening." When they heard sirens, the group ran.

Later that same day, after further alcohol and methamphetamine use, Kupa'a thought, "What did I do?" He felt: "I was scared even more, looking over my shoulder. I didn't know where the bullets went. I was scared if anybody died." When incareerated he learned that he had shot two people — Grizzle and one other male.

When police reports were reviewed with him, he denied that he shot from behind a tree, although .22 rifle casings were found in that area. He did not know if someone else shot from a tree. At the time he shot, he was unaware of other shots fired. He later read that Marcos had also shot, but at the time he was unaware of that.

Attempt to Provide Substantial Assistance. In mid-December 2011, Kupa'a agreed to provide substantial assistance to law enforcement related to a homicide in exchange for a deal, but failed to provide assistance. When he agreed to substantial assistance, he had mixed feelings about such: "I wasn't at the point where I am now, where I know what I need to do to live differently. If I would have done that, provide substantial assistance, it would have dropped my ties [to the gang].... I wasn't ready to drop ties back then because... I'm not sure why.... I tried but I couldn't do it all the way. I wanted to change in a way, but the other half of me didn't....I wanted to cooperate but I didn't want to give up my homeboys."

When out on bail, he got a job at Walmart but found night shift difficult. He then got a job at Patagonia. His girlfriend was pregnant and he was preparing his world to be ready for his unborn child (his girlfriend eventually miscarried). One day (December 28, 2011), he called Sergio Aquino (aka Silent), who he considered to be his best friend. They smoked methamphetamine. When they and others went to buy drugs, they were confronted by an individual. Sergio shot the man.

When the law enforcement officer he was working with questioned him about the December 28 homicide, he initially denied being present and then stated he was present but that a TJ gang member had committed the shooting. Eventually, he provided "substantial assistance without a deal" -- "I snitched out my best friend." Kupa'a's bail was revoked and he was charged with conspiracy to violate controlled substance act (SJC 12-12). In reflection of giving up his friend, he stated, "I thought it was the right thing to do. What am I doing with my life? There are a lot of kids with talent like me and they don't sit in rooms like this [at the police station].... I knew if I snitched, I wouldn't be accepted anymore and the [gang] ties would be broken....I want to change." If imprisoned, he is fearful that he may be stabbed for snitching. He hopes to not be sent to the same prison as Sergio

Reflection of Offense Behavior and Plans if Granted Probation. In reflection of his offense behavior, Kupa'a Kea stated, "It is the biggest mistake I ever made in my life. I've caused pain and suffering I can't take back. No one deserves that. I had dreams. I had goals. I was going to be somebody in life but I threw it all away. I'm so sorry for what I've done to myself and them, the victims. If there was anything I can do to take it back, I would. I think about their families hurt. I think of the story they have to tell somebody about how they got shot. I think about what my life could have been if this never happened."

Is granted probation, Kupa'a expressed plan to return to live with his sister, Momi, get a job, and go back to school potentially at Truckee Meadows Community College. He is 1/4 credit short of attaining a high school diploma. Although he could get a GED, his preference is to obtain his high school diploma. When he has saved enough money, he would get a place of his own.

Kupa'a expressed willingness to participate in court ordered treatment. If ordered to a residential program, he would welcome the opportunity to return to the Rite of Passage program to ready him for a vocational program or college. He realizes he needs substance abuse treatment to learn to resist cravings to return to methamphetamine.

Phone consultation with his maternal aunt, Tricia Meares, age 63, revealed that if Kupa'a were granted probation and the opportunity to transfer his probation to Hawaii, she would be willing to have him live with her and her 45-year old son in Hawaii and enroll him in whatever treatment program is deemed necessary.

RELEVANT PERSONAL BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Early Childhood, a Dysfunctional Family Environment, and Multiple Childhood Traumas. Accounts from Kupa'a Kea and his aunt, Tricia Meares, suggested that Kupa'a was raised in a highly dysfunctional family environment and was the victim of multiple childhood traumas.

Kupa'a was born November 5, 1993, in Reno, Nevada. He was raised by his mother, Jacqueline Kea, who is Hawaiian, and three older siblings – an older brother and two older sisters. From age 5/6 to 6/7, he lived with his mother and stepfather. From age 13 to 17, when not in correctional and treatment facilities, he lived with his mother and her live-in boyfriend. Childhood traumas included the following:

Death of his father. His father, who was half Hawaiian, half Hispanic, and an alcoholic, died in a DUI related motor vehicle accident when Kupa'a was five months old. In reflection of not having his biological father in his life, he stated, "I always wondered what my life would have been if I had a dad. I think I probably wouldn't have joined a gang. I wondered what kind of dad I'd have. I was jealous of others who have a dad. I wish I could go home to a dad right now."

Parental substance abuse. Both Kupa'a's biological parents were alcoholics. His mother abused alcohol throughout his childhood, drinking alcohol to excess on a daily basis. Her live-in boyfriend, who was in his life from age 13 to 17, abused alcohol and marijuana.

Emotional/verbal and physical abuse by his mother. Throughout his childhood, his mother subjected Kupa'a to emotional/verbal abuse and physical abuse. His aunt described, "Since he was born, [his morn] always told Kupa'a she hated him." More than the other siblings, she repeatedly hit him with a ruler with a nail, bat, hose, belt, fist and threw things at him causing injury, i.e., scar on his right cheek, bruises, bloody noses, and bloody lips.

Witness to domestic violence by his stepfather. When Kupa'a was 5/6 to 6/7 years old, for two years he witnessed domestic violence by his stepfather against his mother and three older siblings.

Emotional/verbal and physical abuse by his older brother and witness to domestic violence by his older brother. When Kupa'a was 7 to 12 years old, his older brother repeatedly hit their mother and insulted him, punched him, and threw things at him causing injury, i.e., bruises and bloody noses. He reasoned that his brother treated him and his mother in this way because their stepfather for two years prior had abused his older brother.

Exposure to gangs by his older brother. When Kupa'a was 9 to 10, he was exposed to the Bloods gang, with whom his older brother affiliated.

Child neglect by his mother. Kupa'a's mother engaged in various forms of child neglect including keeping him from school to avoid disclosing his bruises and exposing him to substance abuse and domestic violence in the home.

Prejudice. Kupa'a was raised in a Hawaiian family culture. When he was young, because his Glen Duncan Elementary School peers tended to be Hispanic, he thought he was Hispanic. Eventually, he learned the difference. From about age eight to 11, he was the focus of prejudicial statements. His school peers called him "pincapple boy" and his older brother and Bloods gang friends called him "white boy" (he was the only siblings not born in Hawaii) and accused him of wanting to be Mexican. He struggled with his identity and felt he did not belong at home or at school.

Poverty and unstable residency. In the sixth grade, he attended Billinghurst Middle School and became aware that he was from a lower socioeconomic class (SES). Due to his lower SES, he experienced multiple evictions, multiple changes in living arrangements, and at times slept on the floor or living room

Elementary school was Kupa'a's respite from his dysfunctional family and traumas. Receiving negative attention at home, he sought positive attention at school by being a good student and the "funny guy." He learned he was smart and that academics came casy for him. He was frequently on the dean's list and honor roll and once received an award for perfect attendance. He used his intelligence and good grades to set himself apart from his siblings and his school peers who would tease him. When his mother was intoxicated and bragged to her friends about her "baby boy going to college," he felt good. His siblings would respond with jealousy and disdain. As his behavioral problems increased, he lost his motivation to do well in school.

Child Neglect and Abandonment, Gangs, and Attempts to Separate from the Gang. Kuppa's aunt, Tricia Meares, described, "From the time he was 11 years old, Kupa'a raised himself....[His mom] worked nights... When he was 13, [his mom] took up with her boyfriend and there was no room for the kids....She abandoned [Kupa'a], washed her hands, and gave him no structure....She'd tell him, 'I hate you. I can't wait till you move out'....She never sat down with him....He got shut out of his mom's life. [She] just closed him off and did nothing to help him....He has spent more time in a police car than with his own family."

Considering Kupa'a Kea's dysfunctional family and traumas, when in the sixth/seventh grade he joined the tagging crew Ultimate Tagging Crew (UTK) and felt he finally belonged: "Now I was part of something. I was accepted." In the seventh grade, most of his UTK peers began to "kick it" with Deadside Gang (DSG; his neighborhood gang) or Dirty Mob Killers (DMK). He began to "kick it" with the Sunset gang from Grove Street but he still maintained friendships with DSG members. Although not yet jumped into Sunset, he "put in the work," including fighting, jumping in others, and assisting in stealing. In the eighth grade, he was jumped into Sunset.

When asked why he chose Sunset rather than BSG, he explained, "They made me feel wanted. They would call me and invite me to join them." Additionally, Sunset had older gang members, ages 18 to 26. Absent a father and having an abusive older brother, he yearned for approval from older males: "Sunset had older people that didn't know me but were going to love me. And that's what felt good."

When at Sparks Middle School his eighth-grade year, all the Sureño gangs hung out together — Sunset, Southside Locos (SSL), Criminal Mexican (CM), and Infamous Solidiers (IS). All were attached to Sunset in one way or another because Sunset was the longer established gang. He reflected, "Being attached to them, I might as well call myself a celebrity." When associating with the tagging crew and gangs, Kupa'a learned that fighting brought him attention and approval from his gang peers and older gang members: "They made me feel that's all they do. Be the center of attention all the time. Be funny, never look soft.....I felt cool. I felt popular."

In 2008-2009, Kupa'a first went to China Springs and then to the Nevada Youth Training Center (NYTC), where he was surrounded by other gang members who maintained their allegiances despite the programming. He fought Nortefios and resisted all interventions to cease his gang affiliation. He thought such was the "rules on the street" and "all the old gangsters did time." He reflected: "I wasn't into changing my life. It was kind of making me hard, say I did it. I thought it was cool. It made me harder." When he finally completed NYTC: "I still had gang thinking."

When returning home August 26, 2009, at age 15, three months before his 16th birthday, both his family and gang environment were different. At home, his siblings were gone, his mother was living with her drug-using boyfriend with whom he did not get along, and his mother had little to do with him. His mother had moved to Mira Loma, so he was far from his Sunset gang members on Grove St. Although he still considered himself Sunset, he began hanging out with the Deadside Gang (DSG): "With DSG it wasn't' fighting anymore, it was all guns." At 15, he got his first gun.

When re-arrested on October 14, 2009 and ordered to participate in Rite of Passage (ROP), Kupa'a began the program with the same resistance and gang mentality he had during his previous placements: "I was scratching and getting into fights." However, he began to focus and enjoy the classes and vocational opportunities — culinary arts, computers, journalism. He reflected "I loved it." In January 2010, he qualified for ROP's less restrictive Q House but he "puffed up" in front of a Norteño, fought, and lost this privilege. For the latter 7/14 months, he had les problems, felt he was "on track," and considered that academics may be his way out of the life he was living.

On January 3, 2011, he successfully completed ROP. For the first time ever, at 17, he attended regular high school at Hug High School and was enrolled in three AP classes. Academically, he felt hopeful, but he perceived that his AP teacher's questioned his placement in their classes. Socially, he was over-stimulated by seeing friends he had not seen in years and all the high school extra-curricular opportunities available. Within one week, as other gang-affiliated youth gravitated toward him, he was suspended.

With suspension came Kupa'a's gravitation back to his DSG gang and return to carrying a gun. When asked why he carried a gun, he described, "Everyone had one....Bragging rights, I had one. Without one, I'm not the same as others." The underground rap music the group listened to referred to carrying guns. Lyrics included: "Never leave your strap at home...I always ride with my chopper." By then the gang mentality was "shoot or be shot." Finding himself back off-track, he felt he had nothing to live for and that he would likely die in the near future. Therefore, he was "more courageous, bold."

Within two months, Kupa'a was again sent to NYTC. Initially, he was frustrated that he was back at NYTC and his philosophy was: "All I have to do is manipulate the system, keep my nose clean, stay out of trouble, and go back home." However, while in the program, he decided that he wanted to change and break from his gang friends. The PSI notes: "During this incarceration, the defendant appeared to have changed his behavior for the better; he followed rules and kept his anger under control. The defendant expressed he would do whatever it took to stop his negative behavior. His caseworker wrote, 'He knows that he needs to earn what he gets and not take it. I am still concerned that he may go back to his old ways once released.""

Upon his release from NYTC on August 11, 2011, Kupa'a was abandoned by his mother who in July 2011 had moved to South Carolina. He was discharged into the care of his 21-year old sister, Momi. For one week he stayed away from his gang friends. He didn't call them nor contact them via Facebook. After one week, he craved methamphetamine. He sought out his DSG friends to use. He told himself that he would only drink and use drugs with them and not resume the other gang activities. He vacillated about his choices: "I half-assed it. I wanted to change but couldn't." He eventually became re-entrenched in his "DSG family," his family who had not abandoned him, including drinking alcohol, using methamphetamine, engaging in gang fights, stealing, and carrying a .38 revolver. He reasoned, "That's how it is on the streets now. Everybody has one."

Substance Abuse/Dependence. Kupa'a first used alcohol and marijuana at age 11/12, when in the fifth/sixth grade. In seventh grade, he drank alcohol and used marijuana about every other day. In the eighth grade, with his UTK and then Sunset gang friends, he used methamphetamine, ecstasy, and cocaine about once a week; 20 times inhaled spray paint, dust off, or air freshener; and a few times experimented with PCP, mushrooms, LSD, and pain pills

When with Sunset his freshman year and with DSG his sophomore year, almost daily he drank alcohol, once a week he went on a two-day run with methamphetamine, and once a week he used ecstasy and cocaine. After ROP, during the two months he was out (January 3, 2011 to March 1, 2011), his methamphetamine use increased to two to three two-day runs a week.

Upon his release from NYTC on August 11, 2011, Kupa'a remained clean for one week. He then craved methamphetamine. For two months preoffense, he heavily and daily drank beer and used methamphetamine. Typically, he drank two 32-ounce beers a daily and used two to three 8-balls a week. He reflected, "I couldn't stop the meth. I loved it. It made me so emotional. It made me tell everyone my deepest feelings." In early September, two or three times he used methamphetamine intravenously but his preference was to smoke it. During these two months, Kupa'a experienced drug-related auditory and visual hallucinations involving the imaginary friend he had when he was eight years old, Ghost. At age eight, Ghost had been friendly. Under the influence of methamphetamine, Ghost was "like a demon" who sang songs and phrases to him, i.e., "Demons in my head...martyr, martyr, martyr...kill, kill, kill." He considered that the phrases reflected his belief that in the near future he was going to die. During a 1 1/2 week drug-run in September during which he barely slept, he saw Ghost daily. He saw him three or four times thereafter. He did not see him the day of the offense.

Medical and Mental Health History. Kupa'a denied acute medical problems. In 2008, through Juvenile Services, he was evaluated by psychologist Richard Weiher, Ph.D., who diagnosed him with Conduct Disorder and Antisocial Personality Traits; and by Quest who diagnosed him with Alcohol Abuse and Cannabis Abuse.

Legal History. The PSI identified 15 juvenile referrals from April 4, 2005 to the present offense on October 27, 2011, for status offenses, probation/parole violations, substance-related offenses, other nonviolent offenses, gang-related offenses, and violent offenses [(simple battery x 2, robbery no weapon, and battery with deadly weapon x 2 (instant offense)]. Juvenile interventions have included several incarceration at the Jan Evans Juvenile Justice Center, probation (7/9/2008), China Springs (10/08 to 11/17/08), Nevada Youth Training Center with parole 8/26/09; Rites of Passage (11/30/09 to 1/3/11); recommitment to Nevada Youth Training Center with parole 8/11/11; and certification as an adult related to the instant offense. Youth parole will be unsuccessfully terminated upon sentencing for the instant offense.

Adult legal history includes the instant offense and conspiracy to violence the controlled substance act (SJC 12-12) to be dismissed per plea negotiations in the instant offense.

Employment History. For one week in September 2011, Kupa'a worked as a graveyard stocker at Walmart. For three to four weeks November to December 2011, he worked as a picker and packer at Patagonia.

TEST RESULTS

Intellectual Functioning.

The Wechsler Adult Intelligence Scale – IV, a comprehensive test of intelligence, suggested that Kupa'a Kea is high average in intelligence, with WAIS-IV Full Scale IQ = 110, at the  $75^{th}$  percentile. Perceptual reasoning is comparably high average. Verbal comprehension, working memory (attention/concentration), and processing speed are average. Perceptual reasoning is significantly higher than verbal comprehension.

WAIS-IV Composite Score Summary

Scale	Sum of Scaled Scores	Comp Sco		Percentile Rank	Confidence Interval	Qualitative Description
Verbal Comprehension	32	VCI	103	58	97 - 109	Average
Perceptual Reasoning	3 8	PRI	115	84	108 - 120	High Average
Working Memory	22	WMI	105	63	98 - 1 11	Average
Processing Speed	23	PSI	108	70	99 - 116	Average
Full Scale	115	FSIQ	110	75	106 - 114	High Average

Personality Functioning.

The Minnesota Multiphasic Personality Inventory -2, a test of psychopathology and personality suggested that Kupa'a produced an invalid and uninterpretable profile due to a tendency to overendorse psychological problems. Such a response style is potentially reflective of genuine feelings of extreme vulnerability associated with a current episode of acute turmoil considering his many situational stressors, a cry for help, a tendency to be self deprecatory or self-pitying, and/or attempt to impact his present legal situation.

The Brown ADD Scales, a measure of ADHD symptoms, suggested that Kupa'a endorsed problems potentially consistent with ADHD, specifically problems with attention (focusing, sustaining, and shifting attention to tasks) and affect/emotion (managing frustrating and modulating emotions). However, his WAIS-IV results did not evidence problems with working memory, processing speed, or perceptual reasoning, which are potentially reflective of inattentiveness. Consider such finding, his tendency to over-endorse problems on the MMPI-2, and his lack of significant psychomotor restlessness potentially indicative of hyperactivity, a diagnosis of ADHD was not suggested.

CONCLUSION. Kupa'a Kea was referred for psychological evaluation by defense counsel, Kathy Berning, Esq. Pursuant to plea negotiation, he pled guilty to two counts of that battery with a deadly weapon causing substantial bodily harm for acts on October 27, 2011 involving willful and unlawful use of force and violence upon two male victims, with a deadly weapon, a .22 caliber rifle, causing substantial bodily harm to both victims. Chronic and acute problems that may have been contributory factors to the offense are listed below:

- 1. Psychosocial Challenges: Dysfunctional Family Environment and Severe and Multiple Childhood Traumas. Psychosocially, Kupa'a was raised in a dysfunctional family environment with severe and multiple childhood traumas death of father, parental substance abuse, witness to domestic violence, emotional/verbal abuse and/or physical abuse by mother, stepfather, mother's boyfriend and brother, sibling gang affiliation, child neglect and abandonment by mother, prejudice, poverty, and unstable residency. Children lack the life experience and coping mechanisms to adequately deal with such challenges and, therefore, are at risk of developing emotional problems, behavior problems, and maladaptive personality traits in response.
- 2. Gang Affiliation: An Alternate Family. Considering his dysfunctional family environment, the absence of his father and a stable father figure, his mother's neglect and abandonment, and prejudicial statements by elementary school peers due to his Hawaiian culture and lower socioeconomic status, Kupa'a yearned for love, acceptance, belongingness, and family. When in the sixth/seventh grade he joined the tagging crew Ultimate Tagging Crew (UTK), he felt a sense of belonging: "Now I was part of something. I was accepted." When in the seventh/eighth grade he kicked it with and was then jumped in by the Sunset gang, he found an alternate family: "They made me feel wanted. They would call me and invite me to join them....Sunset had older people that didn't know me but were going to love me. And that's what felt good."

When reviewing childhood risk factors between the age of 10 and 12 that predispose youth to join and remain in a gang, Kupa'a had several risk factors:

Neighborhood Factors: Lived in gang-affiliated neighborhoods

Family Risk Factors: One parent household plus other adults; low household income; siblings gang affiliation; poor family management

Peer Group Risk Factors: Association with friends who engage in problem behaviors

Individual Risk Factors: Early marijuana use; early violence; antisocial beliefs; early drinking; externalizing behaviors, poor refusal skills

Considering the number of risk factors identified for Kupa'a (12), he would be identified as at "high risk" of joining a gang at ages 13 to 18. He would be 13 times more likely to join a gang as compared to "no-risk" youth with no risk factors or only one risk factor.

Angel's gang affiliation was a significant contributory factor to the offense. His DSG sureño gang sought to fight a norteño gang, although it appears their adversaries may have been misidentified.

3. Conduct Disorder. At the time of the instant offense, Kupa'a Kea met the criteria for the childhood/adolescent disruptive behavior disorder, Conduct Disorder, Severe, which fueled his offense behavior. Symptoms of this behavior disorder include serious rule violations, deceitfulness, theft, destruction of property, and/or aggression. Adolescents with Conduct Disorder frequently have interactions with the juvenile justice system and may engage in unlawful and violent behavior. A Conduct Disorder places a child/adolescent at risk of developing Antisocial Personality Features as adolescents and Antisocial Personality Disorder as adults.

4. Antisocial and Narcissistic Personality Features and Unformed Character. Personality, defined as one's sense of self, one's coping skills, and one's interpersonal skills, is rooted in biopsychosocial factors. Considering Kupa'a's psychosocial challenges (dysfunctional family environment and severe and multiple childhood traumas), his gang experience and risk factors, and his Conduct Disorder, his personality development has been challenged. However, at the time of the instant offense, his character/personality was not yet fully formulated. Even now, he is still in the process of developing his character/personality.

At age 17 and 18, Kupa'a has maladaptive personality traits, specifically, Antisocial and Narcissistic Personality Features, which contributed to the offense behavior. Kuppa's Antisocial Features involve disregard for the rights of others, social norms, and the law; deceitfulness; irresponsibility; impulsivity; and aggressive behavior. Kupa'a's Narcissistic Features involve grandiosity, arrogance, and admiration-seeking. The latter developed as a compensatory reaction to his dysfunctional and abusive childhood. Such experiences compromised his sense of self. However, he was intelligent and school was his respite. In an attempt to vie for positive attention and feel better about himself, he sought opportunity to show off his intelligence and wit. In the process, he developed a compensatory inflated sense of self.

Kupa'a is at risk of developing an Antisocial Personality Disorder with Narcissistic Features (Rule Out). As to whether Kupa'a will end up with this Personality Disorder has yet to be determined. Personality formulation is most prominent during the adolescent years but extends into the midtwenties. Personality formulation includes exploration and experimentation. Exploration and experimentation may include risky, illegal, and dangerous activities like substance use, unsafe sex, risky driving, and antisocial behavior. For most teens who experiment in risky or illegal activities, these behaviors are fleeting and cease with maturity. Only a small portion of adolescents develop an entrenched pattern of problem behavior that persists into adulthood. Statistics show that 17 year olds commit more crimes than any other age group and that thereafter, the crime rate declines steeply; most adolescents grow out of their antisocial tendencies as their individual identity becomes settled and their character/personality fully form.

Adolescent Cognitive Maturity and Psychosocial Immaturity. Adolescent maturity involves both cognitive/intellectual maturity and psychosocial maturity. By age 16, adolescents of average to above average intelligence have cognitive/intellectual maturity comparable to adults. Intelligence testing suggested that Kupa'a is high average in intelligence, with intellectual functioning at the 75th percentile (WAIS-IV Full Scale IQ = 110); so, at the time of the offense and presently, he has cognitive/intellectual maturity comparable to an adult.

However, at the time of the offense, at age 17, Kupa'a was not psychosocially mature. At 17, adolescents are less capable than adult in making real-world choices for a variety of reasons: (1) Their brain, particularly the frontal lobe which allows one to prioritize thoughts, think abstractly, anticipate consequences, plan, make decisions, and control impulses, is not yet fully developed;<sup>5</sup> (2) They lack experience; and (3) They are less efficient in their decision-making capacity.

Adolescent decision-making, distinct from adult decision-making is marked by the following: 1) Susceptibility to peer influence; 2) Focus upon immediate or short-term consequences rather than long-term consequences; 3) More focus upon reward than risk when calculating risk vs. reward; and 4) Proneness toward emotional and behavioral impulsivity rather than self-regulation.<sup>2</sup>

During the alleged offense, Kupa'a was susceptible to peer influence of the gang (called by his 18-year old DSG peer and expected to back him up; handed a weapon by this same gang member). He was focused upon immediate consequences and rewards (backing up a gang member's friend; fighting a rival gang) rather than long-term consequences and risks (arrest, conviction, incarcetation, injury to his two victims, and the impact upon so many people) and did not engage in adequate cost-benefit analysis. He acted with emotional and behavioral impulsivity (felt a sense of invincibility, adrenaline-rush, and fear; impulsively shot into the crowd of his presumed adversaries). He did not engage in self-regulation involving regulation of his emotions and behaviors and implementation of a well thought-out prosocial plan to better manage the conflict at hand or extricate himself from the situation.

6. Substance Intoxication and Dependence. Finally, at the time of the offense, Kupa'a Kea met the criteria for Amphetamine (Methamphetamine) Intoxication and Dependence and Alcohol Intoxication and Dependence. There is a strong link between substance intoxication and violence in that substances decrease emotional and behavior inhibition and increased the likelihood of an emotional or affective response and reactionary or impulsive behavior. In the case of the instant offense, substances decreased his inhibition and facilitated his emotional and reactionary or impulsive behavior.

From age 11/12 until the time of his offense, Kupa'a has used a variety of substances, also meeting the criteria for History of Polysubstance Dependence (amphetamines, cannabis,cocaine, hallucinogens, inhalants, opioids, phencyclidine). At the time of the present evaluation, his substance dependence is in early remission (remission for over one month but under 12 months) in a controlled environment (jail).

Defendant's Post Offense Reflections: In reflection of his offense behavior, Kupa'a Kea stated, "It is the biggest mistake I ever made in my life. I've caused pain and suffering I can't take back. No one deserves that. I had dreams. I had goals. I was going to be somebody in life but I threw it all away. I'm so sorry for what I've done to myself and them, the victims. If there was anything I can do to take it back, I would. I think about their families hurt. I think of the story they have to tell somebody about how they got shot. I think about what my life could have been if this never happened."

Penal Proportionality for Adolescents involved in the Adult Criminal Justice System. Proportionality holds that fair criminal punishment is measured not only by the amount of harm caused by the defendant but also by his degree of culpability. Literature suggests that adolescents are potentially less culpable than their adult counterparts due to their developmental immaturity, deficiencies in decision-making capacity, heightened vulnerability to coercive circumstances, and unformed character. In Kupa'a's case, there is no doubt that he is responsible for his violent crime. However, due to his adolescent status at the time of crime, psychosocial immaturity, adolescent decision-making, susceptibility to gang-related peer pressure, and unformed character, from a psychological perspective he is potentially less culpable than a comparable adult offender. As to whether he then deserves to be punished less harshly than a comparable adult offender is left to the discretion of the court.

Treatment Recommendations. In making treatment recommendations for Kupa'a Kea, it is important to consider both his treatment needs and the safety of the community. If granted probation, he would need a six to twelve month residential program that addresses his substance abuse, maladaptive personality traits, and violent offending behavior and concurrently provides him the opportunity to pursue academic and/or vocational training opportunities to ready him for return to the community. He expressed interest in re-entering the Rites of Passage program, but as to whether he would be eligible as an adult who has committed a violent crime is unknown. If incarcerated, Kupa'a would benefit from involvement in as many mental health and substance abuse programming interventions and academic and vocational opportunities as he is eligible.

4	THE COURT: I'm prepared to go on the Kupaa Kea case,
5	unless anybody needs a short recess.	10:02
6	MS. BERNING: We would like a recess, Your Honor.
7	THE COURT: All right. Five minutes?
8	MS. BERNING: Yes, Your Honor.
9	(A brief recess was taken at the hour of 10:02 a.m.)
10	THE COURT: Thank you. Please be seated.	10:10
11	This is the time set for sentencing in CR12-0110,
12	State versus Kupaa Kea. Did I pronounce it correctly?
13	MS. BERNING: "Koop-ah Kee-ah."
14	THE COURT: "Koop-ah Kee-ah." Thank you. Good
15	morning.	10:11
16	THE DEFENDANT: Morning, sir.
17	THE COURT: I have in my possession a presentence
18	report dated March 8, 2012. I've carefully reviewed that.
19	I've carefully reviewed the Guilty Plea Memorandum, the
20	Information, the minutes of the court. I've also carefully	10:11
21	reviewed an evaluation that was provided to the Court
22	yesterday's date.
23	Have you received a copy, Mr. Wilson?
24	MR. WILSON: I have, Your Honor.

1	THE COURT: Thank you.
2	MR. WILSON: Are you talking about Martha Mahaffey?
3	THE COURT: Yes, I am. Thank you.
4	Appearance from the Division?
5	THE PROBATION OFFICER: Deborah Brown.	10:11
6	THE COURT: Any factual corrections, Ms. Brown?
7	THE PROBATION OFFICER: No, sir.
8	THE COURT: Any factual corrections to the report and
9	has your client read it and understands it?
10	MS. BERNING: Yes, Your Honor. My client has gone	10:11
11	over the presentence investigation report.
12	There are a couple of things that I'd ask the Court to
13	note. Within the report, Mr. Kea would ask the Court to note
14	that as far as his education, that he was number one in a
15	vocational class in graphic design, which was not listed in the	10:12
16	report,
17	THE COURT: Where are you at?
18	MS. BERNING: I'm on page 3, Your Honor, under
19	"Education."
20	THE COURT: Uh-huh.	10:12
21	MS. BERNING: Oh, I'm sorry, if we go back one page,
22	Your Honor, it says his employment status is "unemployed at the
23	present time." He had been working for Applied Staffing
24	Company Solutions at $10 an hour.

THE COURT: You said "Pride Staffing"? 1 MS. BERNING: "Applied." 2 THE COURT: "Applied." Thank you. 3 MS. BERNING: Applied Staffing Company Solutions. As far as children, under the -- his girlfriend had a 10:12 5 miscarriage, so there's not a listing there. It says that 6 she's currently pregnant. 7 On page 3 now, Your Honor, on vocational skills, we would also like the Court to note that Mr. Kea has skills in 9 auto welding and landscaping that were not mentioned in the 10:13 10 11 report. Also, Your Honor, on substance abuse history, within 12 that, it lists his age as 13 when he began either smoking or 13 snorting. Mr. Kea reports to me that he didn't start doing 14 10:13 15 that until he was 15 years old. THE COURT: How old is he now? 16 MS. BERNING: Mr. Kea turned 18 in November of last 17 18 year. THE COURT: Thank you. Any other factual corrections? 19 MS. BERNING: There are a couple of things that I 10:13 20 wanted to note for the Court. On page 7, as to a reason not to 21 note a factual correction, but as I present my argument, on the 22 bottom of page 7, it said that when the defendant was approved 23 for home passes, this is -- well, he was in the Rite of Passage

1	program that his mother became concerned about his negative
2	behavior, and she sent him a list of rules to follow while he
3	was visiting and that he looked at them and threw them in the
4	trash. I'm going to ask the Court to particularly note that
5	because there's a lengthy, I think not lengthy, but a really	10:14
6	pointed explanation of that that, I think, Ms. Mahaffey alludes
7	to as far as his mother's conduct toward him as far as why he
8	would do the behavior. We're not talking about the factual
9	correction but as a reason behind that.
10	There are no other factual corrections that we noted	10:14
11	in the PSI.
12	THE COURT: Thank you very much. Do you have any
13	witnesses other than argument? Do you have any witnesses or
1.4	anything from an evidentiary standpoint you'd like to present
15	to me in mitigation other than argument?	10:15
16	MS. BERNING: No, Your Honor. I'd only ask the Court

MS. BERNING: No, Your Honor. I'd only ask the Court to note this: That Mr. Kea has -- while his immediate family failed him, his extended family, his Aunt Trisha Meares is here --

THE COURT: Please stand up.

MS. BERNING: -- in the back of the courtroom.

His sister, Momi, is seated in the back of the court.

MS. BERNING: And what's very distinctive about

Ms. Meares is that she traveled all the way from Hawaii in order to be here to support her nephew and, also, to provide the Court with letters, which I know the Court has also received.

10:15

THE COURT: Thank you, ma'am. I have read your letter, and thank you for making the trip.

MS. BERNING: There is one other matter before I begin the rest of my argument. I've provided to Mr. Wilson copies of certificates that I was e-mailed just at the end of the day yesterday by Mr. Kea's mother, who is located in North Carolina, and I just ask these to be admitted into the record.

10:16

THE COURT: Any objection?

10:16

MR. WILSON: None, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

All right. You may proceed.

MS. BERNING: Thank you. Your Honor, as the Court looks at the PSI and the number of offenses that my client, Mr. Kea, had amassed prior to turning 18 years old, there's no doubt that there is a number of them, and they are violent.

10:16

A lot of that, Your Honor, I believe, can be explained by his need for family, because, if you note in Martha

1	Mahaffey's report, what had occurred for him was his father
2	died when he was five months old. His mother, at one point,
3	was trying to raise the children by herself and not very
4	successfully. His brother his oldest brother ended up being
5	incarcerated in Hawaii eventually, but before that time, he was	10:17
6	a member of the Bloods, the older brother, so he was exposed
7	fairly early on.
8	THE COURT: I noted what did his brother go to
9	prison for in Hawaii?
10	MS. BERNING: I think it was a violent crime. I'd	10:17
11	have to ask.
12	MS. MEARES: He violated his probation.
13	THE COURT: Do you know what he was on probation for?
14	I'm just curious.
15	MS. MEARES: Well, just like all of them, they just	10:17
16	keep on bouncing until they hit a wall.
17	THE COURT: Ma'am, was it a violent crime?
18	MS. MEARES: Pardon?
19	THE COURT: Was it a violent crime?
20	MS. MEARES: I think it was just not showing up.	10:18
21	MS. BERNING: Your Honor, so he was exposed to that
22	kind of life early.
23	In addition, during this time when Pa'a which is
24	the name that he goes by was still very young, his mother took up with another gentleman who was abusive to him, abusive to his family and abusive to his mother. His mother, Pa'a remembers many points in time, told him that she hated him.

And ultimately, when the family moved several times — moved lots and lots of different times, but at one juncture, what happened was they finally got an apartment — a house that had enough bedrooms so that the girls could have a bedroom, and the boys could have a bedroom. And Pa'a was put with his brother, Pono, in a bedroom. But Pono was so violent and controlling in the family, controlling the mother, that Pa'a's clothes ended up in his mother's bedroom, and he ended up sleeping on the floor in the living room, with the mother doing nothing about that.

While Pa'a was in Rite of Passage, before he even finished his sentence, his mother, who really had psychologically abandoned him in so many ways, did the ultimate thing: She didn't want to stick around until he got out, and so she transferred guardianship of him over to his 21-year-old sister, Momi.

So, in a situation where the rest of us have had the benefit of a family at each and every turn along the road, in his immediate family, Pa'a has been faced with a situation where there's -- he's crying out for love, and it's not there.

During his early schooling, he went to Glenn Duncan.

10:19

10:19

24

And Ms. Hardaway, whose letter you also read, also mentioned how he lacked that. And what she tried to do was at least show him what a normal family was like and, many times, as a grade school teacher, got him into her home, bought clothes for him, did what she could as a school teacher for him.

10:20

When he reached junior high and high school, he was associated with Ms. Lauren Ford. I had contact with Ms. Ford, who let me know that she feels like he was one of the kids who slipped through cracks. And so here we are in this situation.

In talking to Pa'a, he has really evaluated what has happened. And it has been very, very difficult for him, because the gang involvement, which started very early -- he was in a crew. He was in -- he got involved in the Dead Side Gang, the Sunset before that. And he came to a point in his life where he really wanted to -- with this incident, he wanted 10:21 to belong in the worst way.

10:20

If you read Ms. Mahaffey's report, she says that it was -- we're doing this together. This is, you know, what they were going to do. And then he finds out that he's finding people that he knows, that it's not this other gang, and he becomes very confused about the situation, which is easy to see because he's high on meth at the time.

10:21

And why is he doing meth? Why is he doing alcohol? believe it's because of the pain of the situation. Around him he sees his friends who have family to support them, and he walks back to nothing.

any of those opportunities. And what is interesting is, is that -- and I direct your attention now to the exhibits that I just filed in -- is that he becomes an outstanding student while he's at Rite of Passage. He gets a diamond award as a 4.0 for computer science. He's recognized for academic excellence and selected to Allstate Academic Team. At Rite of Passage Charter High School, he's at 4.0, honor roll. And finally, he is awarded a certificate for being in the NIAA playoffs.

All of those things show that when away from his family, Pa'a does very well and he succeeds. A lot of his education is important to him. But most of all, he's looking for acceptance, and the only acceptance that was available to him in the Wedekind Road/Clearacre/Ninth Street area was the acceptance of the gang, because he didn't receive that from his own mother.

I want to highlight a couple of items that

Ms. Mahaffey talked about. This is a really critical time for

Mr. Kea. He is very young, and as she states, his character and personality are not yet totally formulated.

I'm looking at her report -- I'm looking at a report on page 12. The references that I've already made to his prior history are listed earlier in — on pages 4 through 5 and 6 of the report. One thing, I think, is of particular note, on page 12 of the report, is that she sees Mr. Kea as one of those 17-year-olds that is divided into two different groups. One is the one who is going to continue to do crime, but what she says, in looking at where he is, is that he's likely to be one of the people who decline — the actual criminal inclination would decline. And I think that there is some recent events that happened in Mr. Kea's life that point to that.

10:22

10:22

10:24

One thing is, is that he was -- and I know the Court is aware of the bail hearing that we had, and Mr. Kea got out of -- was bailed out of jail, was going to cooperate with the police in order to apprehend -- work with them to apprehend another a person that they suspected of a murder. You'll see in Ms. Mahaffey's report that that was just too strong, too tough for him to do at that time, because the gang was really his family. He had already been denied by his own family and rejected, and it was so hard for him, too hard for somebody who just turned 18 in November, just 18.

10:24

He was going to be re-enrolled in high school in order to finger this guy. This is how young this person is. And in looking at what Pa'a did, he then got involved in a situation where he came back to be with his friends and cooperated with the police. When Detective Crow talked to him, he did -- was interviewed in Sparks, and he cooperated with the police with regard to that case.

And that was his way -- as we've talked about the several times that I've visited while he's on Parr Boulevard, that's one of the reasons why he said, "I wanted to cut my ties. I know I can't live this life. I know this is not my family. I need to have a new life." And I think that's where Ms. Meares steps up as extended family to say she's ready to assist him.

10:25

Now, in looking at that, there's been a drastic change in him from the time that he entered jail until the time we've reached the sentence. It's a total of 164 days that he's spent incarcerated. That's given him a long time to think.

10:26

What he's asking the Court for -- and we were looking for programs initially where he could experience probation, but he's also very aware of the gravity of the crime that he committed.

10:26

I would just point out to the Court that he did shoot two people, but they were both shot in the legs; one in the calf, the other in the tibia. He was handed the gun. He was on meth at the time, and he wasn't taking aim at anyone's head or anyone's heart.

And in speaking with Martha Mahaffey, he was trying to scare. It was in the moment. And I'd ask the Court to take that into the consideration, both the level of the injury and, also, what was going on for him at the time.

In addition to that, what I see -- we looked at different placements for him that would be in Hawaii because Mr. Kea realizes that Reno is really a poisoned place for him. The only family he has is his sister, Momi, here, but that hasn't been the support that -- she has other concerns, of course, raising her own family.

And what we're hoping to do is to ask this Court to look at a program called Habilatat in Hawaii, and there's another program called Sand Island, I believe. However, neither one of those programs would take Mr. Kea because of what he was charged with.

I checked with Rite of Passage, and because of his age and his past history, they, too, will not accept him. In addition, the Salvation Army, I spoke with Chaplain Furlong, and again, because of the charge, they were unwilling to -- because they're not a lock-down facility, are unwilling to do anything. I then contacted Delancey Street, but the problem was we needed a personal interview, and Mr. Kea is incarcerated.

So, looking at all that -- and Mr. Kea realizes he knows that he needs help. He knows that he has issues of abandonment. He knows that he has methamphetamine addiction that he has to conquer, and he wants assistance with that. And more than anything, he wants a new life.

And what Parole and Probation has asked for is 35 to 156 months to run consecutive. What I would propose, Your Honor, is that the Court sentence Mr. Kea to concurrent time in the amount of 24 to 72 months. He wants to take responsibility for his actions.

And the reason that I would ask for this, and, in this matter, dispute the presentence investigation, is his age and his psychosocial immaturity. He fits the criteria the psychological studies point to that make a juvenile less responsible for criminal conduct than an adult. That's based, really, on two things: One, Mr. Kea's level of cognitive and social development, and also, that tends to undermine a use of choices in their decision making process.

They also -- that Mr. Kea was looking to the moment, not at what the ultimate consequence was going to be of his actions in getting involved and supposedly supporting the gang, which really was his family for him.

What it means to be -- excuse me. What it means to be psychosocially immature is that a person is much more susceptible to peer influence and their attitude towards the perception of risk. And it's much more difficult for self-management.

10:29

In looking at that, in Mr. Kea's need for a family and that became the gang, I think that this -- he fits exactly the categories described by Ms. Mahaffey. He's going to be one of those folks, those 17-year-olds, who this is his shot, and if he moves away from the gangs, which he's determined to do -- and I think you'll hear him say that when you talk to him -- that what he really wants is a chance to start his life over.

His aunt, who has come all this way based upon her faith in him, really wants to have a new life. And so, at the end of his incarceration, what he would be asking is he's going to be looking at a program that he can transition into, because he doesn't want this to be his life.

He was admitted to college at one point. His grades are excellent. You can see from Ms. Mahaffey's report that he is a very intelligent person, and he has an option for a whole different kind of life. And I think that the time that he has spent in incarceration prior to coming before you for sentencing and a realization of the gravity of his actions — it's been so difficult for him as a young man. This is his first time that he's been before a Court as an adult for a felony, as over 18, and I'm asking the Court to consider that as you consider his sentence, and sentence him, rather than to consecutive time, to concurrent time and not what the

I		i

THE COURT: Did you want to have him --

MR. WILSON: No, he's just present.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MR. WILSON: You've already heard him testify.

THE COURT: I was going to say, for the record, I recall from the previous hearing when we had a bail hearing that we perpetuated their testimony for the purpose of sentencing. I reviewed that, I'm familiar with that and recall it.

MR. WILSON: Absolutely.

THE COURT: Thank you.

10:34

MR. WILSON: Thank you, sir. I'd like to point out most of those certificates you have, where do they come from? Various Nevada juvenile detention facilities. What does that tell you? It tells you who the defendant is. This defendant can only toe the line as a man with a gun in his hand.

10:34

10:33

He claims he bailed out and it was in order to work with the police. That's not true. He bailed out on his own. It was after he was out that he went to the detectives, and he said, "I think I can help you." And then what did he do? He didn't do anything. He ran around with his gang, and we're going to get to that, what he did while he was on bail.

10:34

THE COURT: If you all want to sit down, you can.

MR. WILSON: I'd like to point out his criminal history. I can kind of make a road map out for the Court who this young man is. And he is no angel, as Defense Counsel is pointing out. And everybody has a mother. Everybody has a family that thinks well of them, but that doesn't negate what they did, who they are. And he is a violent, violent, violent man. He's a danger to this community and a danger to any community he is released in. And I'm going to point that out as I go along.

10:34

His prior criminal history. Now, I actually went further than P and P did. I actually went and took a look at all of his juvenile record that I could get from our district attorney's office.

10:35

And P and P, which is close on just a few of the things, but they missed a few of the things he was actually arrested on as a juvenile: 2006, battery; 2006, disturbance at school; 2006, disturbance at school; 2000 -- correction, that last disturbance at school was in 2008; 2008, just two months later, battery on a school employee, possessing graffiti materials, obstructing. Now, that was listed in the PSI as a 4-1-08 offense.

10:35

Then we have that same year, just a month later, robbery, burglary, battery, trespass. That's what he was actually arrested for. PSI only listed the robbery.

10:35

Then we have 2008, two months later, battery, obstructing and resisting. Then we have, three months after that, failure to obey a court order. And then we have, a year later, intimidating a public officer to go along with a juvenile probation violation.

Now, I'm just listing the violence. I'm not going into all the graffiti and the larcenies and all the other things he had in his history. That's just where he started from. That's him going to school.

But where -- what kind of young man was he? Now,

Defense Counsel claims this is the first time he's ever been in adult court. We had him certified as an adult when he was 17.

Of course, it's the first time.

Nevertheless, how many times has he been in front of a judge of one nature or another in this county who has tried to rehabilitate this young man? 2006, contempt, ordered to complete the work program; November 2006, ordered to complete a work program; December 2006, ordered to complete basic skills program; February 2007, ordered to complete another work program; July 2008, finally declared delinquent, ordered to complete substance abuse treatment.

Well, that didn't last very long, because in August he was committed to China Springs. That was his first detention facility. Then we have December of 2008, committed to Nevada Youth Training Center. After he was paroled, you'll notice in the PSI, that's when he threatened to kill a Washoe County deputy.

10:36

10:36

Then we have, November 2008, ordered to complete the Rite of Passage; March 2011, once again committed to Nevada Youth Training Center. And then when he got out -- and that was on August 10th, 2011 -- what do we have, two months between that time and he commits this crime. It took him two months. Now, he was certified as an adult, as the Court knows, on August 31st, 2011, last fall.

Now, the State contends that the defendant is manipulative. If you read the PSI, it's clear in that, but I would like to point out more so how manipulative this young man is. He'll say and do anything to avoid the consequences of his actions.

Gang association. He told Detective Chad Crow when he was being interviewed that he was a member of the Dead Side Gang. That was a spin-off of the Sureños Gang.

Now, when we were in arraignment in court, he told

Judge Robison when he asked -- when Judge Robison asked him if he was a member of a gang, he denied any and all involvement in any gang and claimed it was not a gang shooting. And then P and P -- when they interview him, what does he say to P and P? He denied this is a gang shooting or being a member of the Dead Side Gang. Yet, we know he told Martha Mahaffey something completely different. And in that, he's talking about all these gang memberships. This young man is very, very manipulative.

10:37

10:37

10:38

Let's talk about the next thing. He claims he did not ambush his victims. That's what he's been claiming, and he didn't ambush them by shooting from behind a tree as they were approaching and entering the park. We know that's not true.

Number one, .22-caliber bullets found near the tree; two, Edwin Baca -- he's a member of the defendant's own gang -- he told Detective Crow that the defendant was -- and I'm quoting it from the police report -- "shooting from a sandy area behind some trees."

10:39

Then we have Ariel Mariscal. Now, she was on the scene. She saw what happened. She was a witness. She's the one that walked the detectives through the crime scene. What did she do? She pointed out the very trees on the east side of the pond as the location where the shooting originated from. That's about 50 meters from the bridge where you enter that park.

10:39

And then, according to the friends of the victims at the hospital -- and the police interviewed them -- when they arrived at the park, they were immediately shot at from rivals

10:39

This was an ambush, plain and simple. No matter how who were -- and I'm quoting it -- "hiding in nearby bushes."

he tries to couch it, how he tries to color it, he ambushed those people.

Let's talk about the injuries. In this event, we have Caesar Anton. We know that he had a gunshot wound to his lower left leg. Now, luckily, that was just a muscular injury.

Then we have Oscar Valencia. He's the young man that he shot in the left tibia.

THE COURT: Do we have any victims here, by the way? MR. WILSON: No, sir. I was looking for them earlier. THE COURT: Any victim statements?

MR. WILSON: None other than what they explained to P and P and explained in the PSI.

THE COURT: I read that. Go ahead.

MR. WILSON: But -- so Oscar Valencia, he was shot in the left leg, as well -- in the tibia. And as the Court knows, P and P got it right; I had the medical records for them to view -- it actually shattered, broke his tibia, and that bullet is still in there. And when they interviewed and talked to him, he's still in a wheelchair.

Now, Christian Anton, he was the young man that -- this young man's friend, Mr. Rodriguez, Marcos Rodriguez, because when he was shooting from behind the bush -- and I'm going to get to the facts of the case in a little more detail in a minute -- after he ambushed them from about 50 meters away, his young, little friend, Marcos Rodriguez, and Edwin

10:40

Baca walked up, and Christian Anton, who is the brother of Caesar Anton, the man they just shot — he shot Caesar Anton. Though his brother, Christian Anton, comes to — tried to — comes to the rescue — or trying to come to the rescue, find out what's going on. And then Marcos Rodriguez and Edwin Baca then approach him, and Marcos Rodriguez shoots Christian Anton in the back, and the bullet exits his chest.

10:41

To say this wasn't a violent offense or try to downplay it just is minimization in its worse extreme.

10:41

So what happened here? And I'm just talking about October 2010. We're going to talk about Sparks here in a minute, what he did when he jumped bail. On October 27, what did he do? Him and his friends decided they wanted to fight a rival group. They all go to the park. They got there in advance. He's got his .22-caliber rifle. Marcos Rodriguez has got a handgun. He stands behind that sandy area near some trees and bushes where the rounds were found, and he ambushes the other rival group.

10:42

Now, the rival group wasn't even gang members. He had been told they were Norteños, because he was associated with the Sureños. He's with the Dead Side Gang. He thought they were Norteños. They weren't. They were a bunch of high school kids being stupid and going to a park to fight.

They arrived on scene, and as soon as they enter the park, he opens fire from the bushes. He hits the two of them I just described. And after he opens fire, Christian Anton comes, trying to find out what's going on because his little brother had been shot. And then his buddy, Marcos Rodriguez, approaches him. They get into an argument, and he shoots —— Marcos Rodriguez shoots Christian Anton in the back. Now, that's what happened. After the shooting, he runs from the scene. He gets arrested the next day, October 28, 2011.

Now, interesting enough, a few days after that,

Detective Crow gets called by the defendant and wants to speak to him. And when he's out there -- Detective Crow has been paying attention, talking to people. He knows what's going on.

And as they're having a conversation, Detective Crow fully confronts him that the defendant was going to fight this case by having someone else falsely confess to being the shooter, the person behind the trees.

Now the wind's out of his sails at this point.

Nevertheless, he still bails out of custody. He posts $31,641,

I believe through a bondsman. So when he bails out, after he's out of custody, he then goes back to the detectives: "Oh, I can help you, officers, I can help you, I can help you."

What does he do when he's out? Two months later,

December 28th, 2011, just two months after the shooting, we have that shooting in Sparks. And the Court knows well what happened there. We had the testimony of that. When he's at the apartment complex and the victim there, Jason Cartegeña, was wearing a 49ers jersey. He wasn't a gang member. He just happened to be wearing a 49ers Jersey during football season. They have a beef. He chests up with him. He's the one that instigates it and takes it to the next level. And his little friend, Sergio Aquino, comes and shoots him. And this Jason Cartegeña -- it was in the base of the neck -- he's paralyzed now.

10:44

That's who you have sitting here. That's the dangerous, violent young man you have here.

What's this man's philosophy? Well, what did he tell Martha Mahaffey? "All I have to do is manipulate the system." That was one of my favorite lines from that. And then you listen to what his juvenile probation officer relayed: According to his juvenile probation officer -- correction, to the community."

parole officer, "The defendant is manipulative and is a danger

Now, this Court well knows that. It was clear in its ruling at the bail hearing, and I have full faith that the Court understands that and will render the appropriate sentence in this case. He is a danger to the community.

10:44

Let's talk about Martha Mahaffey's report very briefly. She made some findings that I found very crucial to the Court's determination, what we should do with him. Now, the defense, they want us to give him the minimum sentence, basically reward him, give him the minimum sentence, ignore what he did when he was on bail, ignore his actions of shooting two people, ambushing them from the bushes.

But let's look at what Martha Mahaffey found:

"Defendant's antisocial features: One, disregard for the rights of others. Two, disregard for social norms. Three, disregard for the law." We know that. From his juvenile history alone, we know that. "Four, deceitfulness. Five, impulsivity. Six, aggressive behavior." And we certainly know that based upon his conduct all the way through the juvenile courts, the many years they tried to work with him and what we've seen in this case and when he was on bail.

"Number 2, defendant's narcissistic features: One, grandiosity; two, arrogance, admiration-seeking."

Your Honor, parole has not worked. Probation has not worked. Bail pending a crime, pending this case, this very case we're in here, when he's out on bail, knowing that this is looming, that wasn't enough to dissuade this man.

The only thing we can do to protect this community, the only guarantee we can give them is give this community 12 to 30 years' protection from him, because if we don't, somebody else is going to get hurt, because that's who he is. He's a danger to the community. And if he's given any sentence other than the maximum sentence, somebody is going to get hurt.

Now, I wish I could argue for more, but the maximum is what it is. It's 72 to 180 months for each count, consecutive, but he's earned it, and that's what you get when you shoot people, and that's the insurance policy we can give this community. We can say for 12 years -- he'll be 30 when he gets out. He's not going to be 60 or 70; he'll be 30 years old. It will give him time to grow up and give this community a rest.

10:47

10:47

With that, I submit it, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you.

You may respond, Ms. Berning.

MS. BERNING: Thank you. Your Honor, when Mr. Wilson states that there's not really any punishment or that Mr. Kea isn't accepting any punishment, I think the very fact that we're here saying that he's looking at prison time, that he accepts that responsibility to the Court and for his actions.

Also, you've read the report with what Ms. Mahaffey states: He was shooting toward the ground. I want to clear up the item that Mr. Wilson talked about with Judge Robison and that he denied that occurred during his -- during an experience before him where he denied that he was a member of the gang.

At that point, what Mr. Kea was trying to do was -- in his viewpoint, he was incarcerated. He made the decision in his mind that he was done with that kind of lifestyle, and that's how he interpreted what the judge had said, and that was what he meant when he said that he's not involved, because that's -- he wanted to make a clear break.

g

1.2

1.3

10:48

And as the Court knows, that when an individual within a prison setting says that, there's all sorts of things that can happen to them within the prison setting, and for that reason, I want that cleared up, that that was his intent, was to break the bond, and that came at a very high cost.

10:48

I think that what Mr. Wilson points out only goes to show what the defense has pointed out concerning his psychosocial immaturity. Of course, he's going to say different things. He's scared. He's a young man. He doesn't know what's going on. This is — the situation went way past anything that he thought was going to happen.

10:49

Also, I don't want -- and I would ask the Court to note that Mr. Aquino was the shooter in that other case. In fact, Mr. Kea was unarmed and actually moved back away from the situation. He wasn't leading anything. He was moving away, backing away from the situation, and that is memorialized within the bail hearing that we had. He wasn't the main player. It was Mr. Aquino. He was the one who had the gun. He was the one who fired.

10:49

Mr. Kea knows that he was there. He admits that he 1 was there. He talked to police about that, but he wasn't the 2 shooter. 3 THE COURT: I have a question. 4 10:50 5 MS. BERNING: Surely. THE COURT: Why was he there? 6 MS. BERNING: Your Honor, I believe that it -- that 7 would be a question for the Court to ask --8 THE COURT: I'm asking you. 9 MS. BERNING: Oh. I believe that he was there because 10:50 10 he didn't have -- he knew was supposed to stay away, but I --11 from a gang situation, but I think that was the only family 12 that he knew, so he hooked up with his friends again. He knows 1.3 it's wrong now. But that was all he had, so that's where he 14 10:50 15 hooked up again. THE COURT: Thank you. 16 MS. BERNING: And he would tell you that. 17 THE COURT: Thank you. Please continue. Is there 18 anything else you want to tell me? 19 MS. BERNING: Yes, Your Honor. I believe that for 10:50 20 Pa'a, to send him to prison for 12 to 30 years does an 21 injustice. What he's done -- we're not talking that he -- he 22 did shoot, and somebody was wounded, but apparently, it wasn't 23 serious enough for the victims even to be here today. They wouldn't even respond to P and P.

24

Now, I know that Mr. Wilson's argument is that we have to protect the whole community, but we also have to give people an opportunity to change, and I don't know what giving Mr. Kea more time in prison is going to do.

10:51

I think the Court, given his age, given the fact that, for a youth who doesn't -- who really, according to psychological studies, is less guilty because of their adolescence, that the point will be made for the Court and for the community with the time suggested by the defense, that 12 -- that 12 to 72 months is going to be adequate in order to -- concurrent, is adequate to -- to make -- for the Court to make the point for Mr. Kea to set his life aright and for society to be protected.

10:51

I think the idea of having such a high punishment for such a young person, given the nature of this crime, I think, is misplaced, and I would ask the Court to consider the sentence suggested by the defense.

10:52

THE COURT: Thank you very much.

10:52

Sir, please stand. The law affords you the opportunity to tell me anything you want to tell me before I impose sentence. Now would be your time.

THE DEFENDANT: Sir, the first thing I would like to say to my victims is I'm sorry. I can't take that back, what I did. And I caused somebody pain and hurt. Their family suffered for it too. And I see that each day. I live through a reminder, like, to myself every day of what I have become. I had college scholarships. I want to do something right with my life.

I left the gangs. They brought out the worst in me. But I don't blame it on them. It was all my decisions, you know. I'm old enough to understand and know what I'm doing is right from wrong.

And Mr. Wilson is right, you know, I feel like I'm a bad person, myself, and I do deserve to go to prison, and that's the truth of it. As much as it hurts, I do deserve to bad person, myself, and I do deserve to go to prison, and that's the truth of it. As much as it hurts, I do deserve to go to prison. But I wish and I pray that you give me another chance and show mercy on me. Please don't give me the max.

10:53

THE COURT: All right. Anything else?

MS. BERNING: No, sir.

THE COURT: All right. I think that when you make a decision to use methamphetamine, do shots of brandy, take a gun and shoot it, you are a danger to the community. I believe that you -- I look at your prior record to give me an idea of 10:53

21 what will happen in the future.

22 Your lawyer has done a

Your lawyer has done a phenomenal job in this case. She has brought to the Court every possible thing she could to try to minimize your horrendous prior record. I mean, she got you evaluated by someone everyone respects. She has called numerous places to find placement for you, and they all said no. And you know why they said no, is because you can't use a gun in our community. You can't shoot people in our community. It is not tolerated.

10:54

10:54

10:54

10:55

This is not a probation case. The question is, how much time am I going to give you in prison? Do you understand?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

THE COURT: Because you hurt two people and you made the decision to use methamphetamine. Whether you're 18, 17, the bullet doesn't have an age. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

thing that you have going for yourself is your age. It's the one thing. And you have a history of the fact that you have the ability and -- you have an ability to do well in certain environments. So I don't think this is a "throw away the key" type of case despite the very, very appropriate argument made by Mr. Wilson. And I can't blame him word one. And as I'm listening to him, I'm thinking, that makes sense, that makes sense, yeah, he's right, he's right, that's the message, that's the message.

And they didn't certify you as an adult for no reason.

They certified you as an adult so some day you'd be before me as an adult. Do you understand that?

THE DEFENDANT: Yes

THE COURT: And that's the sentence you're going to get, is an adult sentence. And when you go to prison -- and I appreciate that your understanding this is a prison case. When you go to prison, I want you to think about the things that we talked about today and the fact that you want to turn your life around and do the things you're supposed to do.

But there are consequences to using a gun in our community, and I am no liberal when it comes to violence in our community. It is my duty to protect our community, and you have quite a track record. So it's going to be up to you, whether you want to really — those are just words and manipulative stuff to get out of gangs. It's going to be up to you, but there is a price to be paid for your behavior.

I don't think it's the maximum, but I do believe that Probation probably got it right in this case. The Probation Department analyzed this case. They put together everything they thought was appropriate. They outlined in detail your prior record, and they made an evaluation, and I believe it's right.

- (1) This petition must be legibly handwritten or typewritten, signed by the petitioner and verified.
- (2) Additional pages are not permitted except where noted or with respect to the facts which you rely upon to support your grounds for relief. No citation of authorities need be furnished. If briefs or arguments are submitted, they should be submitted in the form of a separate memorandum.
- (3) If you want an attorney appointed, you must complete the Affidavit in Support of Request to Proceed in Forma Pauperis. You must have an authorized officer at the prison complete the certificate as to the amount of money and securities on deposit to your credit in any account in the institution,
- (4) You must name as respondent the person by whom you are confined or restrained. If you are in a specific institution of the Department of Corrections, name the warden or head of the institution. If you're not in a specific institution of the Department but within its custody, name the Director of the Department of Corrections.
- (5) You must include all grounds or claims for relief which you may have regarding your conviction or sentence. Failure to raise all grounds in this petition may preclude you from filing future petitions challenging your conviction and sentence.
- (6) You must allege specific facts supporting the claims in the petition you file seeking relief from any conviction or sentence. Failure to allege specific facts rather than just conclusions may cause your petition to be dismissed. If your petition contains a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel, that claim will operate to waive the attorney-client privilege for the proceeding in which you claim your counsel was ineffective.

(7) When the petition is fully completed, the original and one copy must be filed with the clerk of the state district court for the county in which you were convicted. One copy must be mailed to the respondent, one copy to the Attorney General's Office, and one copy to the district attorney of the county in which you were convicted or to the original prosecutor if you are challenging your original conviction or sentence. # PRESENTENCE INVESTIGATION REPORT Kupaa Kea

DEFENDANT INFORMATION: (Continued)

Gang Activity/Affiliation: During arraignment in the Instant Offense, the defendant denied he was part of a gang and that his actions were gang-related. However, a review of his juvenile parole file revealed he initially joined a tagging crew in the sixth grade. During middle school, he was "jumped into his gang." According to other reports, the defendant claimed to have been disassociating with all gangs.

The Regional Gang Unit (RGU) was contacted on February 13, 2012. According to their records, the defendant is currently associated with the Deadside Gang (DSG). In October 2007, the RGU made first contact with the defendant at Sparks Middle School because he was exchanging colors with another gang member. At that time, he proclaimed Surrefio membership; however, the next day, he claimed South Side Locos membership. In July 2008, the defendant claimed membership with the Criminal Mexican Infamous Soldiers. Three years later, he stated he was a member of Sun Set Trece. Finally, in December 2011, the defendant was arrested for Conspiracy to Violate the Controlled Substance Act and was also a suspect in an Attempted Homicide. During a consensual search of his residence, a BB gun and two .22 caliber bullets were located.

While being interviewed on March 2, 2012 at the Washoe County Jail, the defendant was confronted about his statements to Senior Judge Robison denying any gang involvement and/or being part of a gang shooting. According to the defendant, the Instant Offense was not gang-related and he did not mislead the judge about being part of a gang because he is trying to disassociate himself from the gang lifestyle. He also informed he has been part of the Sunset Gang since age 14 and only "hangs out" with DSG members.

Re: Appeal of Conviction

Dear Mr. Kea:

It is my understanding that you have contacted my office and wanted to know if I would handle the appeal of your sentence for you on the criminal matter that just concluded and that I represented you on. You have thirty (30) days from June 1, 2012, the day of your sentencing to appeal your case.

Pursuant to Nevada Revised Statute (NRS) 177.015 with regard to appealing a final judgment in a criminal matter it is stated that;

"...the defendant in a criminal case shall not appeal a final judgment or verdict resulting from a plea of guilty, guilty but mentally ill or nolo contendere that the defendant entered into voluntarily and with a full understanding of the nature of the charge and the consequences of the plea, unless the appeal is based upon reasonable constitutional, jurisdictional or other grounds that challenge the legality of the proceedings." (emphasis added).

As you may recall during your arraignment hearing in District Court, the judge asked you the following questions:

- 1) If you understood the charges against you;
- 2) If you had read the guilty plea memorandum, (you and I discussed this document before your arraignment hearing);
- 3) If you understood the terms of the sentencing on the charges that were outlined in the guilty plea memorandum;
- 4) If you were forced into agreeing to what you were charged with, and the terms of your sentencing;
- 5) If you had willingly entered into the plea agreement.

Page Two Mr. Kupa'a Kea June 13, 2012

Those terms are also present in the Guilty Plea Memorandum which you voluntarily signed. I have included a copy of your Guilty Plea Memorandum as a courtesy to you.

In reviewing all of the pleadings, documents, and my notes that were generated during the course of your case, I have not been able to find an appealable issue on which to base a legal argument upon in order to have your sentence overturned or reduced.

Very truly yours

Kathrine I. Berning, Esq.

Petitioner,

v. Case No. CR12-0110

THE STATE OF NEVADA, Dept. No. 9

Respondent.

MOTION TO DISMISS PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS (POST-CONVICTION)

COMES NOW, the State of Nevada, by and through counsel, and moves this honorable court to dismiss the petition for writ of habeas corpus (post-conviction). This motion is based upon the records of this court and of the Supreme Court and the following points and authorities.

POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

Petitioner Kea pleaded guilty to two counts of battery with a deadly weapon. The court imposed sentence and Kea appealed but the judgment was affirmed. Kea v. State, Docket No. 61160, Order of Affirmance (February 13, 2013). The remittitur issued on March 25, 2013. Kea filed a timely petition for writ of habeas corpus on February 14, 2014. Kea also moved for the appointment of counsel but this court has ordered a response before determining if there will be counsel and a supplemental petition. This motion followed.

Ground One begins with the assertion that petitioner's car was searched without sufficient cause, and that led to drugs which led to a warrant which led to recovery of a couple bullets. He claims that his lawyer was ineffective in failing to file a motion to suppress. There are three problems with that. First, Kea pleaded guilty early on in the process. If there is going to be no trial, there is no point in moving to suppress evidence from being admitted in that trial. If the claim is that counsel should have overridden Kea's decision to accept a plea bargain and compelled the defendant to litigate the matter further, possibly leading to loss of the plea bargain, that is not counsel's duty. Instead, counsel has a duty to inform the client of the plea bargain. See Missouri v. Frye, ____ U.S. ____, 132 S.Ct. 1399 (2012). If the client decides to accept the deal, counsel has no authority to override that decision. See Nevada Rules of Professional Conduct, Rule 1.2. Thus, the decision to accept the plea bargain means that there was no point in filing a motion to suppress.

The second flaw is that, according to the pre-sentence report, and Exhibit 1, Page 15, attached hereto, Kea reported his car as stolen. That would authorize the police to recover the car and then to inventory the contents.

Finally, there is no allegation that defense counsel had any reason to believe that a motion to suppress would be successful. According to police reports provided to counsel in discovery, police officers first sealed the car but did not search it until after the issuance of the search warrant by Justice of the Peace Pearson. See Exhibit 1 at page 11. Kea may now be claiming that was a lie and that he has some reason to believe the reports are false, but there is no allegation that defense counsel at the time had any reason to believe that a motion to suppress would be successful. The petitioner bears the burden of pleading specific facts, going so far as to identify witnesses and give a summary of their testimony. Hargrove v. State, 100 Nev. 498, 686 P.2d 222 (1984). In the absence of any specific allegation of fact leading to the conclusion that defense counsel had any reason to anticipate that a motion to suppress would be successful, there is no need for a hearing and Ground One should be dismissed.

Kea also claims that his plea was not a knowing plea because he was told by his lawyer, prior to the entry of plea, that the deal called for the prosecutor to recommend sentences of 2 to 15 years each, concurrent. The State has denied that allegation but there is no need to schedule a hearing because the claim is repelled by the record. The transcript of the arraignment reveals that whatever he may have believed earlier, by the time he entered the plea he was fully aware of all the terms of the agreement. Upon hearing the deal set forth in open court, if he did not want it, then the remedy was to plead not guilty.

Kea next has some sort of complaint about the gang enhancement. The enhancement was not imposed. Thus, no hearing is required.

Part "A,d" is a series of allegations that counsel was ineffective in failing to object to various bits of evidence. There was no trial and no evidence and thus no opportunity to object.

Part "A,e" is also a series of allegations that counsel was ineffective in failing to present evidence at trial. There was no trial because Kea pleaded guilty and thus counsel never had the opportunity to present any evidence relating to guilt or innocence.

Ground Two, Part A is a claim that counsel was ineffective in failing to object to hearsay evidence in the sentencing hearing or in the pre-sentence report. The rules of evidence do not bar hearsay in the report or in the sentencing hearing. Buschauer v. State, 106 Nev. 890, 894, 804 P.2d 1046, 1049 (1990); Silks v. State, 92 Nev. 91, 545 P.2d 1159 (1976).

Ground Two, Part B, is a claim that the court had an insufficient factual basis to accept the guilty plea. The transcript reveals that Kea acknowledged the elements of the crimes and admitted that he "shot a kid." He claimed there was a fight that got out of hand and he fired his gun. That is a sufficient factual hasis.

Ground Two, Part C is a claim that there were deficiencies in the pre-sentence report.

The first is that it included hearsay. That is permissible. Silks, supra. Next is the claim that no witnesses testified in the sentencing hearing in support of the report. No rule of law requires witnesses to support the report. Finally, Kea complains that the report did not include the psychological report from Dr. Mahaffey. The record reveals that the judge had that report at sentencing and so the failure to attach it to the pre-sentence report means nothing.

Ground Two, Part D is a claim that the sentence is unlawful. That claim was rejected on appeal and is now barred by the "law of the case." Hall v. State, 91 Nev. 314, 316, 535 P.2d 797, 798-99 (1975).

Ground Three, Part A asserts again that Kea did not understand the plea bargain. That was addressed earlier as the record reveals that the court explained the plea bargain before accepting the plea.

Ground Three, Part B starts to assert that the defendant was incompetent when he entered his plea, but the claim that he did not understand is repelled by the transcript showing that he did understand and that he responded appropriately to the court and clearly understood the proceedings. That could sometimes be overcome by more specific allegations but in this case there is only the bare claim of incompetence and that is repelled by the record.

Ground Four, like the motion to modify the sentence, is based on the assertion that Kea was improperly certified as an adult. NRS 62B.330(3)(c) excluded the case from the juvenile court if the defendant used a gun (he did) and was over 16 (he was) and had ever been adjudicated delinquent for any act that would be a felony for an adult. According to the petition, Kea had been adjudicated for the charge of burglary. Burglary is a felony. Hence, the juvenile court had nothing to say about this case. When a charge is excluded from the jurisdiction of the juvenile court, the juvenile court need not conduct a certification hearing.

Ground Five concerns the appeal. Kea rails that his attorney did not wish to appeal, but the fact of the matter is that he got an appeal. Thus, the only remaining issue is whether he has specifically pleaded any omitted issues on appeal that had a reasonable likelihood of success. See Kirksey v. State, 112 Nev. 980, 998, 923 P.2d 1102, 1114(1996). The only things mentioned in the petition are the various claims in Ground One of the petition and those are all waived by the plea of guilty. Therefore, Ground Five, like the others, should be dismissed.

RPD Case 11-21113 Crime: BDW (3 counts) Arrested: Kupaa KEA 11/5/93

Marcos RODRIGUEZ 11/26/93

Victims: Oscar VALENCIA, Cesar and Christian ANTON

Summary of Report

Two rival groups agreed to meet up and fight at Paradise Park. Several members of each group were once friends but now wanted to fight each other. In addition members from both the suspect and victim group called extra friends to come back them up at the fight should they need extra assistance. Edwin BACA who was with the suspect group misidentified the rival group to have Norteno Gang members in it. BACA called his cousin Manuel GATICA "JR" a "Dead Side Gang" member and informed him that BACA and his friends would need back up as they would be out numbered by Norteno's who they referred to "Chaps". GATICA then called the Defendants who were also "DSG" members. GATICA drove members of the suspect group to the scene where they met with Defendants Marcos RODRIGUEZ "Suspect" and Kuppa KEA "Krums". GATICA provided firearms to KEA and RODRIGUEZ, KEA took the rifle which GATICA provided to him and took a shooting position from behind a tree near the location where the victim group parked. RODRIGUEZ waited with the rest of the suspect group near the entrance to the park. Immediately after the victim group arrived on scene KEA opened fire on them from behind the tree as they exited their cars. RODRIGUEZ then advanced on members of the victim group after KEA had already fired upon them from his hidden position. RODRIGUEZ engaged in an argument with Victim Christian ANTON and ultimately fired one shot at him in the upper body striking Christian in the back and exiting out of his chest.

Narrative

On 10/27/11 at around 2130 hours Detective CLARK and I responded to 1155 Mill St (Renown Medical Center) on a report of three victims who arrived with gun shot wounds. It should be noted that just prior to the victims arriving at Renown there was a call for service at Paradise Park of a fight with at least one shot being fired.

Upon arrival I met with victim Oscar VALENCIA (Herein referred to as Oscar) while Detective CLARK met with victim Cesar ANTON (Herein referred to as Cesar). Oscar had a single gun shot wound to the left leg near his shin which fractured his bone and required surgery. Cesar had a single gun shot wound to his left calve which exited the interior side of his left leg. Cesar was discharged later that morning with out requiring surgery.

While we were meeting with Oscar and Cesar, Officer LASKIN and his trainee Officer GREENLEE were in trauma room number one with victim Christian ANTON (Herein referred to as Christian). They advised me that Christian had a single gun shot wound to his lower back which exited on the right side of his chest. It was learned that Christian had lost his pulse and life saving efforts were enacted to prevent him from dying.

I spoke very briefly with Oscar who advised me that he was shot at Paradise Park. I told Oscar that I remembered him as "Grizzo" from "Silver Lake Boys" which is a validated criminal youth gang. Oscar said he does not "Bang" any more. In talking with Oscar I learned that he was shot by members of "Dead Side Gang". Oscar said he did not get a look at the person who shot and said he would not be able to identify them. Oscar was quickly wheeled off for a CT scan and was I was not able to continue speaking with him.

Detective CLARK continued speaking with Cesar until he was also wheeled off for a CT scan. For more information see Detective CLARKS supplemental report.

I then met with friends of the victims who were in the ER waiting room, all of whom were later transported to the main station for formal interviews. In talking with them I learned that the victim group agreed to meet up and fight at Paradise Park with several persons associated with "Dead Side Gang". I learned that shortly after the victim group arrived at the park they were immediately shot at from rivals who were hiding in near by bushes. I also learned that the victims were transported from the scene to the hospital in two separate vehicles described as a red Chevy Cavalier bearing NV license 268PLW and a red Mercury Sable bearing NV license 140URM. Asael MARISCAL was the driver of the Chevy Cavalier and Edgar BARRAZA was the driver of the Mercury Sable. Both Asael and Edgar consented to searches and processing of their vehicles by FIS. There were no weapons or firearms located in either of the two victim vehicles.

I responded to the station to conduct a series of formal interviews. I interviewed Monica HERRERA, Francisco BARRAZA, Robin VALDOVINOS, and Asael MARISCAL. Detectives LAMPERT and HANNIFAN interviewed several other witnesses. For more information refer to their supplemental reports. Detective CLARK responded to the crime scene with FIS and later obtained a search warrant for one of the suspect vehicles which remained on scene after the shooting. See Detective CLARK'S supplemental report for further.

The following are brief summaries of each interview and are not verbatim transcripts. For the entirety of the interviews please refer to full length recordings which were booked in to evidence under this case number.

Interview with Monica HERRERA (Victim Group):

Monica said she was riding in Asael MARISCAL'S with Robin VALDOVINOS, and an unidentified male known as Tony. Monica said they were being followed by Edgar BARRAZA'S vehicle which contained the rest of their group. Monica said they approached the round about at Clear Acre/ Wedekind when they saw a subject who wanted to fight Robin after school earlier today. Monica identified the subject as Brian ALBARADO whose nick name was "Teddy". Monica said Brian was also with Jacob BAKER who wanted to fight a different friend of theirs. Monica said Brian pulled a knife on her friends and that Jacob diffused the situation and took "Teddy" away.

Narrative

Monica said they left the round about to pick up Francisco BARRAZA from 2111Whitfield and said they all went to the costume store. Monica said Robin received several phone calls at the costume store from Brian's friend Luls VARELA asking Robin to meet up and fight Brian. Monica said several others wanted to meet up and fight members from the other group but she was not sure who each person wanted to fight. Monica said they arrived on the east side of Paradise Park and parked next to each other.

Monica said shortly after getting out of the car she heard gun shots which was when Cesar and Oscar were struck in the leg. Monica said Christian approached Edwin BACA (Herein referred to as Edwin) who was walking across a green bridge from the west side of the pond. Monica said Edwin was with two others males one of which was Marcos RODRIGUEZ (Herein referred to as Marcos). MONICA approached the rival group with Christian who was upset that they just shot his brother. Monica said as they got closer to the rival group Edwin moved a side making room for Marcos to get in front of him, which was when Marcos pointed a revolver straight at Christian and shot him in the chest. Monica said Marcos pointed a gun at her shortly after shooting Christian. Monica said she was in fear for her life when Marcos pointed the gun at her. Monica said Marcos put the gun away and ran off west bound back across the bridge with his friends. I asked Monica what the gun looked like and she said it was black and had a long barrel.

I asked Monica how she knew Marcos. Monica said she has known Marcos since Kindergarten. Monica said that Marcos was her first "Crush" in elementary school. Monica then identified a confirmation photo of Marcos RODRIGUEZ born 11/26/93 as the person who shot Christian and pointed the gun at her.

Interview with Francisco BARRAZA (Victim Group):

BARRAZA said that Asael picked him up from 2111 Whitfield and they went to the costume store. Francisco said he heard Robin, Christian and Monica talk a little about the earlier incident with Brian at the round about at Clear Acre/ Wedekind but he did not pay close attention. Francisco said while they were at the store he was aware that they were receiving calls to meet up and fight some one. Francisco said he did not concern himself with the pre planned fight as he was older and has moved on in life. Francisco did however ride in Asael's car to Paradise Park. Francisco said he got out of the car to pee while the rest of the group walked to where the fight was supposed to occur. Francisco said he was peeing when he heard several gun shots. Francisco ran across the street towards some apartments near 1200 El Rancho. Once he got across the street Francisco noticed his half brothers Christian and Cesar ANTON were not with the group. Francisco ran back to the park just as Christian was shot in the parking lot near the "Green Bridge". I asked Francisco if he saw the shooters and he said no. Francisco could only describe the shooters as wearing dark colored "Hoodies". Francisco said there were 3-4 people with the guy who shot Christian. Francisco dld say that he thought Christian was turning away and was shot in the back.

Interview with Robin VALDOVINOS (Victim Group):

ROBIN told me that this started because Brian ALBARADO "Teddy" wanted to fight him after school earlier today. Robin said he used to be friends with Brian but Brian has grown jealous of him because Robin gets more girls. Robin said that he was supposed to fight Brian at the "Sonic" restaurant near Hug High after school today but the fight never happened. I asked Robin why the fight did not happen and he said that his friend Daniel GARCIA would not allow him to go over there because Brian had all of his friends with him. Robin told me that Brian belongs to a crew call "UFK" (Unfadeable Kings). I asked Robin who belongs to "UFK" and he said "All those guys". Robin told me that Edwin BACA, Luis VALERO, Jacob BAKER, and Brian all claim to be "UFK" and whose names were mentioned as being at this shooting.

Robin told me that Brian has been "Talking shit on Facebook" challenging him to fight. Robin who was scarred of Brian decided tonight that he would just fight him and get it over with. Robin said they showed up at the park and he went off to pee next to Francisco which was when the shots were first fired. Robin did not talk about running across the street once the shots were fired. I asked Robin if he thought there were one or two shooters. Robin said he only thought there was one shooter. Robin did not see Oscar and Cesar get shot in the legs but he did see Christian get shot. I asked Robin who shot and he said Marcos. I asked him how he knew that and he said just from listening to Monica talk in the car and at the hospital. I asked Robin if he knew Marcos before this and he said no. Robin told me that the first shots came from the bushes on the west side of Paradise Pond where the suspects were hiding and waiting for them.

In talking with Robin I learned that one of Christian's friends known as only as "Tony" and an unidentified black male rode their bikes to the park to watch the fight. Robin told me that one of them pulled a BB gun out after they were shot at by the real guns. Robin thought it was funny that they even bothered pulling the BB gun as it would not protect them against a real gun. I asked Robin if that BB gun was ever produced before the real shots were fired and he said no it was only after the suspect group started shooting. Christians two friends that were on bikes rode away from the scene after the shooting and were not interviewed.

I re-interviewed both Monica and Francisco to clarify the BB gun statements. Monica told me that two Hispanic males she only knew as Tony and Michael showed up on bikes with an unidentified black male. Monica said they were all three friends with Christian. Monica never saw a BB gun and only heard about it from Robin. I re-interviewed Francisco who said he thought he heard a BB gun when he was urinating which was when the first of the real gun shots were fired by the suspect group. Francisco also thought there was only one shooter because he only heard one gun firing. It should be noted that Francisco was a distance away from the victims when Cesar and Oscar were first shot. It should also be noted that during later interviews with both Defendant's neither one mentioned shooting because they were shot at or presented with a threat resembling a gun.

I then responded to the crime scene with both Asael MARISCAL and Monica HERRERA who seemed to be the best witnesses. I attempted to have them walk me through the crime scene so that I may better understand what had occurred.

Upon arriving at the scene on the east side of Paradise Park they showed me where they had parked both of the victim vehicles which were about 100 yards north of the main entrance off of El Rancho. It should be noted that the "Green Bridge" which the suspect group approached from was nearly in line with the El Rancho entrance (This was Important in the later interview with Defendant Marcos Rodriguez to take away in self defense claims). Both Asael and Monica walked me through the crime scene. Asael pointed out some trees which lined the east side of Paradise Pond about 50 yards north of the "Green Bridge". Asael said this was where the suspects first started shooting from (In a subsequent interview Marcos RODRIGUEZ described this as the area where Kupaa KEA fired from). Monica and Asael walked me through the parking lot and stopped near a blood stain on the pavement between the El Rancho entrance and where the victim group parked. They both pointed that as the spot where Christian was shot.

We walked back to my police vehicle when they noticed a grey 1989 Cadillac which I parked next to. When they saw the car Asael said "That's Krums car". At that point Asael and Monica started talking about who it was they believed shot Christian. As they spoke I learned that Asael initially thought "Krums" (Kupaa KEA) shot Christian, it was while they were en route to the hospital that Monica told him she thought it was Marcos RODRIGUEZ who shot Christian. Asael never mentioned to Detective LAMPERT who interviewed him that he believed "Krums" was involved. The grey 1989 Cadillac which belonged to "Krums" (Kuppa KEA) was sealed and towed to the police station as evidence pending service of a search warrant.

I returned to the station with Asael and Monica to re-interview them on tape. During that interview Asael who had known "Krums" (Kupaa KEA) for years identified him as the person who shot Christian. It was not until later in the investigation when KEA was identified as the correct shooter by Edwin BACA, Manuel GATICA and Marcos RODRIGUEZ as the person who shot Christian and Oscar with the .22 riffle. In addition Monica HERRERA was correct in her initial identification of Marcos RODRIGUEZ as the person who shot Christian.

Detective CLARK obtained a search warrant granted Judge PEARSON for the 1989 Cadillac belonging to "Krums" (Kuppa KEA). While serving the warrant Detective CLARK located a .22 caliber bullet similar to those found on scene. Detective CLARK also located .52 gram presumptive positive methamphetamine, an E&J Brandy bottle inscribed with "DSG" graffiti and a digital scale with crystalline residue. KEA was ultimately booked for his involvement in this shooting and additionally charged with possession of methamphetamine, and possession of paraphernalia. For more information refer to Detective CLARK'S supplemental report for details regarding service of the search warrant on KEA'S vehicle.

Narrative

On 10/28/11 at around 0400 hours RGU officers located Edwin BACA at his residence. Edwin was identified by members of the victim group as being with the suspect group at the time of this shooting. In addition Edwin was described as challenging the group initially and making room for Marcos to move up front and fire at Christian. Edwin declined a voluntary interview at the station. He was arrested for his involvement in this case and brought to the station for a formal interview. Prior to conducting the interview I read Edwin his Miranda warning and he agreed to speak with me.

Edwin told me that he was at the McDonalds on Oddie with Brian ALBARADO, Luis VARELA, Jacob BAKER and a friend named Eddie. Edwin said they left the McDonalds and began walking home. Edwin said Jacob and Brian went their separate ways while Edwin called his cousin Manuel GATICA (Herein referred to as Manuel) to give the rest of them a ride back to Edwin's house. Edwin said shortly after he got home he received a phone call from Brian saying that Asael and his friends "Hit him up" and that he was outnumbered. Brian said he wanted to meet up and fight Asael's friends to "Squash the beef".

Edwin said Manuel picked up Brian and Jacob and drove them to Paradise Park where both side agreed to meet and fight. Along the way Manuel called his friends who were also "DSG" to let them know they were going to fight some "Chaps". I asked Edwin who all was with him when they went to the park. Edwin said that he was with Luis VARELA, Brian ALBARDO, Jacob BAKER and another unidentified male known as Eddie. Edwin said they parked on the east side of the park and met up with some of Manuel's friends to include the Defendants Marcos RODRIGUEZ and Kupaa KEA who were already at the park. Edwin said that Manuel handed a riffle to one of them (Later learned to be Kupaa KEA.)

Edwin said they waited for the victim group to show up. Edwin said the group showed up and then he heard gun shots. Edwin described the person who was handed the riffle as shooting from the sandy area behind some trees on the east side of Paradise Pond which corroborated evidence found on scene. I asked Edwin if he could identify the person who shot the rifle and he said he couldn't. I asked Edwin to identify the person who shot Christian as I knew he was standing next to them. Edwin said Marcos was the person who shot Christian. I asked Edwin to describe how that shooting happened. Edwin said that members of the victim group approached them one of which was armed with a hammer. Edwin said the guy with the hammer was going to swing it at them so Marcos shot. I asked Edwin if Marcos shot before or after the person with the rifle shot. Edwin told me the person with the rifle shot first. I asked Edwin if he and Marcos continued advancing on the victim group once the first set of shots were fired and he said yes (The examination of the crime scene showed the Edwin and Marcos who waited near the green bridge walked north toward the victim group and engaged them, This also takes away a self defense claim for Marcos shooting Christian as he advanced on the Christian after KEA had shot at them already). Edwin eventually identified Marcos RODRIGUEZ born 11/26/93 as the person who shot Christian with a revolver. Edwin was transported home in exchange for his cooperation with the investigation.

Interview with Brian ALBARADO (Suspect Group):

RGU officers located Brian ALBARADO at his residence and he agreed to come to the station voluntarily for a taped interview. Brian confirmed previous interviews and said that he was "Hit up" by Asael and his friends at the round about at Clear Acre/Wedekind. Brain said he and Jacob went to Edwin's house after this incident and arranged to fight Asael and his friends at Paradise Park. Brian said he rode in the back of Manuel's truck with Eddie, Jacob and Luis as they drove to Paradise Park. Brian said he got out of the truck and walked across the "Green Bridge" to the west side of the pond. Brian said it was once he was on the other side that he heard the gun shots being fired. Brian said he initially thought his group was being shot at. Brian said he ran to the 7-11 at Silverada /Paradise Dr after he heard the gun shots. Brian said he did not see who shot. Brian did say that he heard some one say "Fuck Chaps" at the time the shots were fired. Brian also said that Manuel and his friends were all claiming to belong to a gang called "DSG".

Interview with Manuel GATICA "Jr" (Suspect Group):

At around 1300 hours Officer Herrera located Manuel GATICA walking in the area of Sutro and Wedekind. GATCIA agreed to a voluntary interview at the main station. GATICA admitted to being a member of "DSG" and corroborated the information about what led up to the fight. GATICA admitted to driving Brian, Luis, Eddie, Edwin, and Jacob to the fight in his moms white 1995 Chevy pick up and parking next to "Krums" grey Cadillac. GATICA admitted to handing his riffle to KEA and witnessing "Krums" (Kuppa KEA) shoot Cesar and Oscar from the same area were the .22 casings were recovered. GATICA also admitted to witnessing Marcos shoot Christian with a revolver, GATICA identified both KEA and Marcos out of photo line ups. GATCIA also heard KEA yell "Fuck Chaps" when he fired at the victim group.

Interview with Defendant Marcos RODRIGUEZ:

On 10/28/11 at around 1715 hours RGU officers located Defendant Marcos RODRIGUEZ at his residence at 2380 Jesse Ln. Marcos agreed to come voluntarily to the main station for a formal interview. At the beginning of the interview I thanked Marcos for coming in voluntarily and agreeing to speak with me. I asked Marcos to give me a timeline of what he had done the day before. The initial timeline Marcos gave me would have placed him at home at the time of this incident.

Marcos eventually admitted to going to the park to fight some "Chaps" (Norteno's) when he heard 5-6 shots but denied any involvement. Marco's admitted to getting a phone call from Manuel asking if he would "Have his back in a fight" as they were going "Get down with some Chaps". Marcos said he rode his bike to the park to meet up with Manuel who showed up in his white pick up.

Marcos eventually admitted to being a member of Dead Side Gang and admitted to being the person who shot Christian. I asked Marcos why he shot and he said he shot because Christian had a hammer. I asked Marcos if he ever felt he should have ran away after the first set of shots were fired and he said yes. I asked Marcos why he did not run away and I asked him why he approached the victim group after his friend already started shooting at them and he said "I had to have my homies backs". Marcos also admitted that "Krums" (Kuppa KEA) was the person who shot the other two victims with the rifle. Marcos was eventually arrested and transported to Jan Evans where he was charged with Battery with a Deadly Weapon and gang enhancement since he went to the park to fight what he believed to be rivals.

Interview with Kuppa KEA "Krums"

On 10/28/11 at around 1800 hours RGU officers located Kuppa KEA at his residence at 2055 Cannon #E. KEA agreed to come to the station voluntarily to speak with me. It should be noted that KEA tried to report his grey Cadillac stolen earlier that morning but was not home when patrol officers arrived. KEA was under the impression that he was coming to speak with me about his car being stolen. I met with KEA to conduct a taped interview.

I told KEA I wanted to talk about his car getting stolen. KEA said he last saw his car in front of his apartments. I asked KEA why he did not wait around for the police to show up this morning and he said he did not think he needed to be there. KEA eventually asked me if we found his car. I told him that we did and that we towed it. KEA asked why I wanted to talk to him at the station rather than take a report at his house for the stolen car, I told him I thought it was suspicious that he did not wait around for the police after trying to report the car stolen. I told KEA I wanted to make sure there was nothing more to the story. KEA said there was nothing else surrounding his car being stolen.

I asked KEA if he could tell me what he did yesterday. KEA said he left home around 2:00 PM with his girlfriend Janet MARISCAL. KEA said that they went to Little Ceaser's Pizza, then to the Game Stop in Sparks. KEA said after leaving Game Stop he went to get gas at the Rainbow Mart on Merchant when he got "Hit up" by members of "Dead Side Gang" (His own gang). KEA said he was at the gas station at around 5:00 PM. I asked KEA what he did after that and he said he went to Janet's house at 5617 Sidehill in Sun Valley. KEA said he stayed at Janet's for a little while before returning to his residence at 2055 Cannon #E with Janet at around 6:00-7:00 PM. KEA said he stayed home the rest of the evening with Janet. KEA said he woke up the following morning to find that his car was stolen. KEA provided a stated in he related the above information.

While I was interviewing KEA, RGU officers were simultaneously meeting with Janet MARISCAL who provided a written statement detailing her timeline the day of this shooting. Janet said that she was with KEA the day before and that during the time of the shooting they were at her friend Chloe's house. Janet said they were at Chloe's house from approximately 8:30-11:30 PM (This was when KEA said he was at his house with Janet). Janet statement differed drastically from KEA'S which led me to believe neither of them was truthful about the prior day's events.

Narrative

While talking with KEA during the first part of the interview I learned that he wanted to fight Janet's brother Luis who is a rival Norteno gang member. KEA told me that he wants to "Break his face". I asked KEA why he would fight his girlfriend's brother and he told me it was because Luis was a Norteno and they have "Beef". It should also be noted that Janet's cousin Asael was with the victim group during this incident and that KEA believed Asael was also a Norteno.

After taking KEA'S false police report of his car being stolen I went back inside to interview him about this shooting. I asked him if the statement he just provided was the truth and he said "Yea". I then told him I knew he was at the park and he left his car on scene after the shooting. I told KEA I knew he shot the riffle and he replied "I didn't shoot nobody". I told KEA that I would probably be arresting him for two counts of battery with a deadly weapon. I exited the interview room for a short while to allow KEA to think about the situation.

I went back in to the interview room to speak with KEA. I told him that I was going to arrest him but I would like to continue talking with him. I asked KEA if he wanted to continue talking to me and he said "Yea, I'm having a baby", "I can't be doin years". I told KEA I would have to read him his rights before we continued talking and asked him if he knew his rights. KEA replied "Miranda rights, right?" KEA then started reciting his first couple of Miranda rights. I interrupted him and gave him all of his rights in order to include the juvenile admonishment. I asked KEA if he understood his rights and he said "Yea".

I began asking KEA questions which he was not answering. KEA then asked "Can I call my sister, she has a lawyer" (KEA'S sister Momi is his legal guardian). I asked KEA if he wanted a lawyer. Kea said he just wanted to call his sister so that she could talk to her lawyer. KEA then asked if I could just bring her down there. I told him I would go get her. As I was walking out of the room KEA asked if he could ask me a question. I said "What's the question" KEA asked "How much time am I looking at?" I told him I didn't know and we began talking again and KEA eventually asked if we could bring Janet down also. As I was walking out of the interview room to ask RGU officers to bring Momi and Janet to the station KEA asked if I could sit with him and keep talking as we waited for Janet and Momi to arrive.

I went back in to the interview room to sit with KEA (as he requested) while we waited for Janet and Momi to arrive. KEA asked me "There's no way I can go home today?" I told him no, then I told him he was identified by several people and I told him that we found meth and paraphernalia in his car. I told KEA I knew he did not shoot Christian and that I knew he only shot the two who were struck in the leg. KEA asked me "Can you make me a deal?" I told him I don't make deals and that is something discussed amongst lawyers. I told KEA that I knew he shot the riffle and struck Oscar and Cesar in the leg, I then told him that I only wanted to know why he shot them. I told KEA that people would be looking at this case and wanting to know his mindset at the time of the shooting. I asked KEA if he was sorry for what he did. KEA said "Before this shit happened I was with that full throttle", but now I just want to graduate and wish I could walk across the stage with my class. I continued telling him what I did know about the shooting and he interrupted me asking "Can I make a deal?" KEA asked "We'll can I get some legal advice?" I told KEA that I don't give legal advice and told him that his family was coming down to see him and he can call the lawyer as he requested.

We continued talking and he once again asked me if he could make a deal. I told him again that I could not cut deals with him and that was something that the DA would discuss with his lawyer. I told KEA that he could talk to his lawyer and get back to me and decide if he wanted to tell the truth about what happened. I then told KEA that I was not trying to "Fuck his life up" and that I just "Wanted to know why this happened". KEA told me "I fucked my own life up". I was getting ready to step out of the room when he asked "Can I talk to you after I talk to my lawyer?" I told him that was fine. KEA then asked "If my lawyer doesn't answer can you still come to Jan Evans and talk to me?" I told him I could but I wanted to know if he wanted a lawyer before answering any questions about this crime. KEA said he just wanted to ask his lawyers opinion before he keeps talking to me. I told him that I was not sure what he was getting at so I was going to stop asking him questions related to the case until he talked to the lawyer. We stayed in the room and continued talking about other things until Janet arrived.

KEA kept asking questions about the case which I answered such as "What happened to the other guys?" I told him I talked to the other guys and there at home. He asked "So is it just me Marcos going to jail?" I told that J believed they were the only two who shot. KEA said he just wanted to talk to his sisters' lawyer and then he said

"After I talk to the lawyer I promise you'll have the full story of what happened, more than likely".

KEA asked if I could please not charge him for filing a false police report about his car being stolen and I told him I wouldn't. KEA also asked me if the room we were in was being recorded. I told him it was and he asked if I could stop the recording and I told him I could not stop it. KEA asked how we would handle the conversation between he and his lawyer and I told him I would move him to the next room which was not recorded when it was time for him to make the phone call. I exited the room again as I learned Janet and Momi had arrived.

KEA first wanted to speak with Janet alone in the interview room. I put Janet in the room with him and they began whispering to one another however the whispering was partly captured on audio recording. While they were whispering they compared stories on what each of them said for their time line the day before and they learned of each others discrepancies. KEA told Janet she "Fucked up" by providing her timeline. KEA also told Janet "We said we would not snitch but they broke and snitched" They were talking about whether he should be honest with me and he told her "I won't say shit and do a couple of years".

I then put KEA'S sister Momi in the room with him and allowed them to visit. When it was time for KEA to talk to the lawyer he knocked on the door informing me that it was time to transfer him to the unrecorded room. I let KEA go in the other room and talk with the lawyer. KEA knocked on the door to let me know he was done using the phone. I put KEA back in the original room with the rest of his family. While I walked him back to the original room he told me that his lawyer advised him not to talk to me. KEA then apologized for wasting my time. I told him it was not a waste and I expected his lawyer would tell him not to talk to us.

KEA was transported to Jan Evans Detention Center where he was booked for two counts of battery with a deadly weapon causing substantial bodily harm with the additional charge of gang enhancement, possession of methamphetamine and possession of drug paraphernalia. On 10/31/11 Juvenile District Attorney Jo Lee Wickes notified me that KEA needed to be transferred to Washoe County Jail and booked in on this case as he has been adjudicated as an adult in the juvenile system. Officer Schwartz responded to Jan Evans and picked up KEA and the appropriate court order showing him to be adjudicated as an adult. Officer Schwartz transported KEA across the street to Washoe County Jail where he was booked on the listed charges.
