District Court
No. A656710

ELAINE P. WYNN’S OPPOSITION TO STAY OF ENTIRE LITIGATION

Intervening real party in interest Elaine P. Wynn opposes Wynn Resorts’ emergency request for a stay of “the underlying litigation in its entirety.” (Mot. 3:5.) Not content to challenge via writ petition the district court’s sanction, which was entered in part for Wynn Resorts’ dilatory tactics, Wynn Resorts now seeks a blanket stay pending the petition—on an emergency basis—that would reward those very tactics and impose further delay. In the motion, Wynn Resorts focuses entirely on itself and, briefly, the Okada parties; it does not address, much less establish the absence of, harm to Ms. Wynn from a stay. Apart from the reasons that the Okada parties give, the requested stay should be denied because it would harm Ms. Wynn's interest in timely resolving her cross-claims.

A. Wynn Resorts' Stay Request Fits a Pattern of Delay

In evaluating a stay motion under NRAP 8(c), this Court has considered the factor dealing with the “merits” of the petition to address not just the likely outcome of the petition, but also whether the stay request itself is filed “for dilatory purposes.” Mikohn Gaming Corp. v. McCrea, 120 Nev. 248, 253, 89 P.3d 36, 40 (2004). Here, the context of Wynn Resorts' request for a stay of the entire litigation shows that it is intended to cause delay.

1. The District Court Sanctioned Wynn Resorts for Willful Obstruction and Delay

The ruling under review in Wynn Resorts' petition describes Wynn Resorts' willful violation of discovery orders and delay in connection with certain discovery requests by the Okada parties related to Wynn Macau. (See, e.g., 42 App. 10,285, ¶ 133 (“Wynn Resorts has acted willfully, because it had control over Macau-related documents at the inception of this litigation, and chose not to produce them as the Court ordered.”.)

2. Wynn Resorts has Also Been Obstructing Ms. Wynn’s Discovery

That ruling is merely illustrative, however. Wynn Resorts has also engaged in willful obstruction and delay with respect to Ms. Wynn’s discovery requests, flouting multiple orders of the District Court compelling production.

Since June 5, 2017, Wynn Resorts has been under orders to respond by July 26 to dozens of Ms. Wynn’s requests for production and interrogatories. (Ex. A, July 13, 2017 Order Compelling Discovery.) Wynn Resorts—without seeking any relief from the order—made just a partial production, indicated that additional searches were “ongoing,” and provided no timeline for completion. (Ex. B, Oct. 16, 2017 Motion for Sanctions, at 10:20–22.) After Ms. Wynn’s repeated attempts to get the court-ordered discovery, Wynn Resorts finally admitted in open court that production would not be completed until June or July 2018—two months after the April 2018 trial date and a full year after entry of the order compelling production. (Ex. C, Oct. 2, 2017 Hr’g Tr., at 22:3–

The district court found that Ms. Wynn made a prima facie case for Rule 37 sanctions against Wynn Resorts for its discovery violations and scheduled an evidentiary hearing for this week. (Ex. D, Oct. 31, 2017 Hr’g Tr., at 43–44.)

The Okada parties correctly observe that Wynn Resorts’ strategy “has been to create delay after delay” to prevent “a fair and timely resolution of this lawsuit on its merits.” (Okada Opp. 1.) Having already been sanctioned for its own discovery failures and delays, and with the prospect of further sanctions looming, Wynn Resorts now asks this Court to give it the benefit of even more delay—without regard to, or even any mention of, the effects of such delay on Ms. Wynn.

3. The District Court Temporarily Stayed Just the Sanctions Order, Not the Entire Litigation

While Ms. Wynn’s motion for sanctions is still pending, the district court has made it clear that a stay of the entire litigation—including trial—is inappropriate. Although Wynn Resorts represents that it obtained a temporary stay from the district court, there is no indication that that ruling was anything other than a stay of the order that is the subject of Wynn Resorts’ petition. (Ex. 2 to Mot., at 29–30.) Indeed, with the exception of Wynn Resorts' discovery violations, the litigation has been proceeding apace toward the April 2018 trial.

4. A Stay of the Entire Litigation would Reward Wynn Resorts' Willful Delay

A stay motion filed for dilatory purposes should be denied.

Mikohn Gaming Corp. v. McCrea, 120 Nev. 248, 253, 89 P.3d 36, 40 (2004). Wynn Resorts' bid to transform the district court's narrow stay of its sanctions order into a blanket stay of the entire litigation, while overbroad to protect its interest in the writ petition, has another target: excusing its anticipated failure to comply with the order compelling discovery of Ms. Wynn's requests before the April 2018 trial date. Such a stay is purely dilatory.

B. A Tailored Stay would Protect the Object of the Petition

The improper purpose of the requested stay is reason enough to deny it. But the most significant factor in assessing a stay, whether the object of the petition will be defeated, also militates against a sweeping stay of the entire litigation. See NRAP 8(c)(1). Wynn Resorts challenges an order imposing sanctions. A stay of that order—while allowing other trial preparations to move forward— would preserve the object of the petition with minimal disruption to the remaining parties in the district court.

C. A Blanket Stay would Prejudice Ms. Wynn

The remaining factors under Rule 8(c), too, favor a narrow rather than a broad stay.

“Normally,” litigation costs and delay are too insignificant to play a major part of the stay analysis under NRAP 8(c)(2) and (3). Mikohn Gaming, 120 Nev. at 253, 89 P.3d at 39.

But the writ practice in this Wynn litigation is not “normal.” This case has spawned a baker’s dozen of writ petitions, and while this Court has by and large granted the parties’ requests for a stay, those stays have been tailored to the relief sought—that is, a stay of the challenged order.¹ In the unique circumstance of this massive litigation, with zig-zagging claims based in some instances on conduct more than a decade ago,² tailoring serves the important interest of ensuring the timely preparation and trial of those claims that are merely incidental to the petition. For a petition that challenges just one sanctions order for discovery vis-à-vis one set of litigants, a stay that intrudes on the trial of Ms. Wynn's separate cross- and counterclaims is prejudicial. The alternative, a stay of just the sanctions order, would cause Wynn Resorts no prejudice.

CONCLUSION

Wynn Resorts is asking too much for an improper purpose. Wynn Resorts wants a disruptive stay of the entire litigation when a narrow stay of the challenged sanctions order would be enough. This Court should deny Wynn Resorts' motion.

Dated this 27th day of November, 2017.

² Wynn Resorts' witnesses have already claimed fading memories. (See Ex. E, Elaine P. Wynn's Response to the Wynn Parties' Renewed Motion to Sever Elaine P. Wynn's Crossclaims (filed Sept. 29, 2017), Ex. B (deposition excerpts).)

ELECTRONIC FILING CASE

ELAINE P. WYNN'S MOTION FOR SANCTIONS AGAINST WYNN
RESORTS, LIMITED PURSUANT TO NRCP 37 FOR FAILURE TO COMPLY
WITH THE COURT'S JULY 12 ORDER
ON ORDER SHORTENING TIME

1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 It has now been more than four months since the Court overruled Wynn Resorts' numerous 4 baseless objections to Ms. Wynn's discovery requests seeking information relevant to her claims.
5 Three months ago, the Court ordered that Wynn Resorts' production of documents responsive to 6 those requests be completed by July 26 – seven weeks after the motion was granted in court on June 7 5. Yet, as the Court has acknowledged, Wynn Resorts remains out of compliance with the Court's 8 July 12 Order. And Wynn Resorts now claims that it will take many more months to complete its 9 production of responsive documents.

10 The following timeline of relevant events lays bare Wynn Resorts' gamesmanship and 11 obstructionism, and Ms. Wynn's good faith efforts to obtain the discovery to which she is entitled:

- 12 • May 25, 2017 – Ms. Wynn files her Motion to Compel Wynn Resorts, Mr. Wynn, Marc 13 Schorr, and Kim Sinatra to respond to dozens of requests for production and interrogatories to which they improperly objected;
- 14 • June 5, 2017 – The Court rules that Wynn Resorts, Mr. Wynn, Marc Schorr, and 15 Kimmarie Sinatra must respond fully to nearly all of the requests at issue in Ms. Wynn's Motion to Compel;
- 16 • July 3, 2017 – Counsel for Ms. Wynn offers to meet and confer in good faith with 17 counsel for Wynn Resorts regarding search terms, but asks that Wynn Resorts, as the party with greatest access to the relevant data, provide an initial proposal. Wynn Resorts 18 does not propose any search terms.
- 19 • July 12, 2017 – The Court issues its Order on Ms. Wynn's Motion to Compel, and requires Wynn Resorts to "produce the documents subject to [that] order by July 26, 20 2017."
- 21 • July 26, 2017 – Without seeking prior relief from the Court or agreed-upon extension of time from Ms. Wynn, Wynn Resorts makes an incomplete document production, 22 indicates that its "[s]earches of email and communications and other documents are ongoing," and provides no date by which its production will be complete.
- 23 • August 9, 2017 – Counsel for Ms. Wynn sends a letter to counsel for Wynn Resorts identifying deficiencies in Wynn Resorts' July 26 production, asking when the 24 production will be complete, and asking that Wynn Resorts provide the search terms and parameters it used to identify the relevant documents. Wynn Resorts does not respond to 25 the letter, or subsequent follow-up communications.
- 26 • August 29, 2017 – Ms. Wynn files her Motion to Enforce, seeking a new date certain by which Wynn Resorts must complete its production, the search terms and custodians 27 Wynn Resorts used for its search, and its expenses and fees as a sanction pursuant to Rule 37(b)(2).

For Mr. Timothy Poster

1 Elaine Wynn is a defendant in your case, so they have an
2 impact in other parts of the case.

3 MR. PISANELLI: Yeah. What I've been referring to 4 is Elaine Wynn's case even pre writ is probably close to June
5 or July of next year. Then we'll go on writs as they want 6 more privilege and as we want her claims of privilege because 7 she used company computers.

8 THE COURT: I understand.

9 MR. PISANELLI: Right.

10 THE COURT: I'm just trying to figure out when your 11 production is going to be completed. Because I understand the 12 writ practice, and I have absolutely no control over the 13 timing that that occurs in Carson City.

14 MR. PISANELLI: So if your question goes to other 15 than Elaine Wynn's campaign, I'll defer to Ms. Spinelli of 16 where we stand on the other side.

17 THE COURT: No. I mean all. I mean all including 18 Ms. Wynn, which is why I asked the question I did.

19 MR. PISANELLI: Well, I know the Elaine Wynn new 20 stuff will go deep into 2018, so I'll defer to Ms. Spinelli on 21 what we have that will still be relevant to this trial.

22 THE COURT: I'm not using "deep." I'm using June.

23 MR. PISANELLI: Well, that's close to deep. That 24 was about mid-level swimming pool, you're headed to the deep 25 end section.

1 evidentiary hearing. I recognize that. But I can't sit by 2 and say that some sanction, any sanction should be given to 3 Ms. Wynn unless I first create my record to show that there's 4 no prejudice to her at all.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Ferrario, did you want to say
6 something, or do you want Mr. Polsenberg to talk?

7 MR. FERRARIO: Well, we'll -- in terms of the 8 process I think I might defer to Dan, but there's --

9 THE COURT: So what are you doing the week of 10 December 11th?

11 MR. FERRARIO: Is that what you want to hear?
12 Because, you know, there's some --

13 MR. PISANELLI: I'm in trial before Judge Mahan.

14 MR. FERRARIO: -- there's some things that need
15 refuted here.

16 THE COURT: Why?

17 MR. FERRARIO: Well --

18 THE COURT: You've made a prima facie showing 19 there's a violation of the Court's order that was filed on 20 July 13th, 2017.

21 MR. FERRARIO: Fine, Your Honor.

22 MR. POLSENBERG: Set a hearing.

23 MR. PEEK: Set an evidentiary hearing.

24 MR. FERRARIO: Could we do --

25 THE COURT: However, there are issues about

2 MR. FERRARIO: Does the Court --

3 THE COURT: -- and the appropriate sanction, if any.

4 MR. FERRARIO: Does the Court available the 29th,
5 30th, and 1st of December -- November and December, I'm sorry,
6 if they're going to have a hearing.

7 (Pause in the proceedings)

8 THE COURT: I don't know. I have to go ask Dan, 9 because for some reason I wrote that Randall Jones has the 10 week of 11/20 through 12/4, and I don't see the 11/27 week, 11 and I'm sure that he's part of that week, too. So it may be

14 of December, or --

15 MR. PISANELLI: No. I start trial December 4th, and 16 so we know Judge Mahan runs his trial calendar --

17 THE COURT: He's a tight ship.

18 MR. PISANELLI: He is tight. But he runs it like he 19 did in State Court where he stacks parties, so I may find that 20 I'm later in the month, but I won't know for a little while.

21 THE COURT: Dulce, Mt. Charleston versus Huerta I 22 think is scheduled to start on November 20th. Is it -- or 23 November 21st. Is it? Or did I write it down --

DEPOSITION OF DEANNA PETTIT-IRESTONE

VIDEOTAPED

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA

FRIDAY, JUNE 10, 2016

REPORTED BY:

CARRE LEWIS, CCR NO. 497, CSR NO. 13337

JOB NO. 307426

1 yes.

2 Q. Turn your attention to paragraph four. It
3 states: "Wynn Resorts spokesman Michael Weaver said
4 Sunday night the company would have," quote, "'no
5 further comment other than what is in the proxy
6 statement,'" close quote, "but Weaver said that,"
7 quote, "'Mr. Wynn supported the candidacy of 8 Elaine.'" Close quote.

9 Did you have any discussions with 10 Mr. Weaver about the statement that, quote:
11 "Mr. Wynn supported the candidacy of Elaine"?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. Was that statement conveyed by Mr. Weaver
14 to this reporter in an e-mail?

15 MR. LANGBERG: Objection. Calls for 16 speculation.

17 THE WITNESS: I don't know.

18 BY MR. SHELTON:

19 Q. To your knowledge, did Wynn Resorts ever
20 issue a press release stating that Mr. Wynn
21 supported the candidacy of Elaine Wynn as reflected 22 in this article?

23 A. I believe so.

24 Q. What press release was that?

25 A. I don't know.

1 Q. Do you recall Wynn Resorts ever issuing a
2 press release that uses this specific language,
3 quote: "Mr. Wynn supported the candidacy of 4 Elaine"?

5 A. I recall something to that nature. I can't 6 speak to that being the exact verbiage.

7 Q. So the words might have been different?

8 A. They may have. I can't recall
9 specifically.

10 Q. So you are not certain whether Wynn Resorts
11 ever issued a press release that specifically stated
12 that Steve Wynn, quote, "supported the candidacy,"
13 close quote, of Elaine Wynn?

14 A. I recall the general subject matter being 15 included in a press release, but I cannot recall 16 specifics.

17 MR. LANGBERG: Counsel, just so we can plan
18 accordingly, I'm going to request a break in about 19 10 minutes to confer with my colleagues on the 20 subject that we have been conferring about.

21 MR. SHELTON: Okay. And, you know, I think 22 we might need to have a call -- can we go off the 23 record? Well, actually, no, let's keep it on the 24 record.

ELAINE P. WYNN’S MOTION TO INTERVENE TO OPPOSE STAY

and

PROPOSED OPPOSITION TO STAY OF ENTIRE LITIGATION

Elaine P. Wynn, who is a counterdefendant, counterclaimant, and crossclaimant in the underlying litigation, seeks leave to intervene to oppose Wynn Resorts’ request to “stay the underlying case in its entirety.” (Mot. 3:4–5.) The proposed opposition is attached.

Parties with a “sufficient interest in the action to entitle [them] to be heard on the merits” should be designated as real parties in interest.¹ See 6A CHARLES A. WRIGHT, ARTHUR R. MILLER & MARY KAY KANE, FEDERAL PRACTICE & PROCEDURE § 1542 (2d ed. Supp. 1998), quoted in Univ. Creek Assocs., II, Ltd. v. Boston Am. Fin. Grp., Inc., 100 F. Supp. 2d 1337, 1339 (S.D. Fla. 1998). A party has standing to be heard on the merits when “either a personal right or right of property is adversely and substantially affected.” Hughes’ Estate v. First Nat. Bank of Nev., 96 Nev. 178, 180, 605 P.2d 1149, 1150 (1980).

Here, it is the breadth of the requested stay that calls for Ms. Wynn’s intervention. The practice in other petitions from this litigation has been to seek a stay tailored to the challenged order.² Here, however, Wynn Resorts requests a blanket stay of the entire litigation, a request that disrupts Ms. Wynn’s own claims and defenses, which are scheduled for trial on April 18, 2018. This circumstance, where the re-

¹ Wynn Resorts’ motion for a stay actually identifies Elaine P. Wynn as the real party in interest, although the petition itself does not.

² See Docket No. 68310 (stay of deposition); Docket No. 68439 (stay of order compelling discovery); Docket No. 70050 (stay of order compelling discovery); Docket No. 70452 (stay of order compelling discovery); Docket No. 71432 (stay of deposition and evidentiary hearing); Docket No. 71638 (stay of order compelling discovery); Docket No. 73641 (stay of order compelling discovery); Docket No. 74063 (stay of order compelling discovery); Docket No. 74184 (stay of order compelling discovery); Docket No. 74519 (stay of depositions).

requested stay disturbs the pending claims and defenses of nonparties to the writ petition, gives Ms. Wynn the right to intervene to oppose Wynn Resorts' motion for a stay. Cf. NRCP 24.
