- Minute Order Re: Release of CPS Records

Pursuant to NRS 432B.280, CPS records are confidential. There are only limited circumstances/exceptions to this confidentiality, outlined in NRS 432B.290(2). Pursuant to NRS 432B.290(2)(e), specifically, the records can be provided to the court for in camera inspection only, unless the Court determines that public disclosure of the information is necessary for the determination of an issue before it. COURT FINDS the CPS records in question contain information that is necessary for the determination of an issue before it in the instant case and hereby confirms, pursuant to this ORDER, the full copy set of said records may be properly provided to counsel for the Defendant.

To the extent either counsel would seek a ruling from the Court as to the admissibility of certain portions of the CPS records in question at the time of trial, COURT FINDS any ruling on admissibility is premature and more properly addressed at the time of trial. That said, to the extent it promotes the timely preparation for trial, the Court offers as guidance to the counsel for the parties that it does not perceive at this time that the probative value of any of the CPS records in question to be substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice.
