5 For the past four years, she has had problems with a tube, several problems. But there's a tube that 6 7 goes into her head and the area where the cerebellum 8 was. Cerebellum is for mainly balance, drainage, and it stores the fluid that goes into your spinal cord. She didn't have any of that. So the things that she's got 10 11 going on have to do -- they're life-altering, very, very 12 critical issues, and over the past four years she 13 started to lose the use of her extremities. She can't 14 pick up a cup. She couldn't work because she can't 15 type. She has had -- she hasn't had a day without 16 debilitating pain to the point where it's affecting her 17 ability to get up, move around, and walk, talk, 18 construct sentences. And she had a surgery six weeks 19 ago today that -- actually she had a surgery two years 20 ago September that took some pressure off of the area. 21 She had another surgery six weeks ago today that 22 reconstructed the spinal area and how the cord is 23 affected because the cord was being bunched. She has 24 numbness in some hands. And today was a really big 25 medical day with her. My parents are 80. My sister --

A. With doctors, her doctors.

Which doctor?

A. I think that they -- I don't know all the doctors' names. Her main doctor is a guy named Paul Elliott who did the surgery. I don't know exactly. You know, she's got a whole host of doctors. She's got a 7 doctor named Ian Levenson who I actually met with last 8 night over dinner about this whole thing. He rearranged everything so I could come and be here with you today.

Q. And did you ask him to do that last week?

A. No. The issue just came up actually.

O. What issue?

A. She's having recurring issues.

Q. What are the recurring issues?

15 She needed to see the docs today. I mean, she can't stand up in the shower. She's wobbly. She can't 16 17 keep her balance.

O. Where does she live?

A. She has pain. She lives in Devine, Colorado, but she was -- she had the surgery. She was in the hospital for seven days or something like that. Then she went to a longer term care facility and last week we brought her to my parents who live in Denver.

Q. And did she go to the doctor's appointments today?

my dad is 81. My mom is 79. They are -- my dad is newly retired six months ago. He's got some medical issues himself that don't allow him to be involved. It's on my shoulders. She doesn't live in Denver. Today was a big day with doctors.

So, you know, your guys' complete insensitivity to this issue was a real problem for me, and I couldn't be there with her today and she relies on me completely to handle these medical issues. I communicate with her doctors. I support her financially. And it's this insensitivity is why we're here today.

It started in May with Treasure Island. It's the exact same problem that happened. And, you know, I'm sitting here reading your motion, and I'm, like, shaking reading your motion because I think it's total garbage and, you know, it's without truth and it's without fact. "Dragul has avoided his deposition since September the 9th." If you knew my medical schedule with my sister -in fact, you should add this to the record because I walked in here with it. So really I read it walking in. I hadn't seen it, and it blows me away. Life is not about, you know -- some things are bigger than money and this to me was. So I got on a plane, and I flew down here today.

Q. Okay. What were the medical appointments today?

A. Nope. They were moved.

O. And when were they moved?

A. When were they moved? Last night/this morning. I couldn't be there.

Q. How long did you know about those appointments?

A. Two days ago. Whenever we -- whenever I called you to move -- I don't know. A few days ago. Whenever you got the phone call from us.

9 Q. What's the doctor's name who moved the 10 appointments? How do you spell it?

11 Levenson. I don't know how to spell his last 12 name.

O. What's his first name?

A. Ian.

Q. And is he a physician in Colorado? In Denver?

Α. Denver.

O. Which hospital?

A. I think -- I think he's at Sky Ridge. I think 18 he's at Rose Medical. He's a doctor at a bunch of 19 20 hospitals.

Q. And the first time that you knew that she had an appointment today was on Monday?

23 A. Yeah, it was. Well, whenever we called you is 24 when I -- I called my attorneys and asked them if they 25 could move it.

Dear Mr. Dragul:

Please be advised that our firm has been retained to write you this letter concerning the lease between Rose, LLC and Treasure Island, LLC dated April 13, 2011. This letter shall serve as notice that the Landlord has elected to terminate that lease effective immediately pursuant to the defaults of Rose, LLC. Said defaults include but are not limited to, the failure to remit the full required 7% gross sales rent payment pursuant to the terms and conditions of the lease, and the demand letter sent to you dated May 14, 2014.

Mr. Fieldstone please have your client contact Brad Anthony, General Counsel for Treasure Island to enter into negotiations for a new leasing agreement for either the sub-leased portion of the leased premises or the entire lease premises. He can be reached at 702-894-7510.

FIFTH AMENDMENT TO LEASE AGREEMENT

WHEREAS Treasure Island, LLC ("Landlord") and Rose, LLC ("Tenant") (collectively the "Parties") entered into that certain Lease Agreement ("Agreement") dated April 13, 2011 and Amended by those certain documents entitled First Amendment to Lease Agreement ("Amendment 1") dated October 10, 2011, Second Amendment to Lease Agreement ("Amendment 2") dated December 22 2011, Third Amendment to Lease Agreement ("Amendment 3") dated April 20, 2012, and Fourth Amendment to Lease Agreement ("Amendment 4") dated April 18, 2013.

WHEREAS the Parties desire to further amend the Agreement as amended;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the terms, covenants, conditions, and provisions set forth in the Agreement as amended and herein, and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which is hereby acknowledged, it is mutually agreed by and between the Parties that:

1. The Parties agree Section 2.3 is amended and replaced as follows:

"Tenant may extend the Term of this Lease for four (4) additional periods of five (5) years (each, an "Additional Term") by providing written notice to Landlord not later than one hundred eighty (180) days prior to the expiration date of the Initial Term or that Additional Term (each, an "Option"). Minimum Annual Rent for the Option terms is set forth in Section 3.1(A), herein. Minimum Annual Rent for the third and fourth Option terms shall be equal to 105% of the Minimum Annual Rent payable by Tenant during the period immediately preceding the applicable Option period."

2. The Parties agree Section 3.1(A) is amended, effective April 15, 2014, and replaced as follows:

"Minimum annual rent in the amount of Three Hundred Ninety Nine Thousand Dollars ($399,000) per annum payable in monthly installments of Thirty Three Thousand Two Hundred Fifty Dollars ($33,250) in advance upon the first day May, 2014, and continuing thereafter through April, 2021 (such monthly installment being hereinafter called "Minimum Monthly Rent"). Upon the first (1st) date of the first Option Term, Minimum Monthly Rent shall be increased to Fifty Four Thousand Six Hundred Dollars ($54,600), and upon the first day of the second Option Term, Minimum Monthly Rent shall be increased to Fifty Seven Thousand Three Hundred Thirty Dollars ($57,330). Minimum Monthly Rent for further renewal terms shall be calculated pursuant to Section 2.3. If the Commencement Date is other than the first day of a month, Tenant shall pay on the Commencement Date a prorated partial Minimum Monthly Rent for the prior to the first day of the next calendar month."

3. The Parties agree Section 5.1 is amended to include the following:

"Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, Landlord and Tenant agree Tenant Additional Alterations shall include without limitation such alterations, additions or improvements to the Leased Premises, at no cost to Landlord, as are necessary to accommodate within the Leased Premises the operation by Tenant of an additional Mexican-themed business complementary to, consistent with, and in conjunction with Señor Frog's (which name and concept shall be approved by Landlord, but, for example, The Big Deck at Señor Frog's) ("Complementary Use")."

4. The Parties agree Section 7.1 is amended to include the following:

"In addition to the foregoing, Tenant may use, upon receiving Landlord's consent, the Leased Premises as set forth herein for the Complementary Use. In no instance shall Tenant's Complementary Use operate as a sports bar, private club, separate nightlife venue, or permit any use not specifically permitted in this Section 7.1."

5. The Parties agree that Section 7.4 shall be modified to add the following phrase to the end of the first sentence of Section 7.4:

", provided that the main level of the Leased Premises shall be operated a minimum of 11 hours per day, unless business dictates otherwise, in which instance the Parties shall meet to determine the acceptable hours of operation."

6. The Parties agree Section 7.7 is amended to include the following:

"In addition, the Trade Name may include the approved operating name of a Complementary Use conducted by Tenant."

- 7. The Parties agree Section 17.1 is amended to remove existing item (e), which encompasses Landlord's representation, warranty and covenant to Tenant that, as of the Effective Date and at all times during the Term, Landlord shall conduct, or cause to be conducted, the live-entertainment show, known as the pirate show, in the same location adjacent to the Leased Premises, and in substantially the same form as it was conducted, as of March 2011.
- 8. The Parties agree Section 19.2 is amended to include the following:

"In addition, Tenant shall have the right to install signage on the exterior of the Leased Premises identifying its Complementary Use business, subject to Landlord's reasonable approval and Clark County approval as to such exterior signage. For purposes of this Section 19.2, all signage and advertising available to Tenant shall be available to be shared between Subtenant and the Complementary Use business."

- 9. The Parties agree the Lease is amended to include the following new Section 20 for the benefit of Señor Frog's Las Vegas, LLC, a current subtenant of Tenant ("Subtenant"):
- a. Provided there is a Sublease in full force and effect between Tenant and Subtenant ("Sublease"), and Subtenant is not in default under such Sublease (beyond any period given the Subtenant under the Sublease to cure any default) then:
- i. Subtenant's right of possession to the subleased portion of the Leased Premises and Subtenant's other rights arising out of such Sublease as defined by Tenant and Subtenant as part of such Sublease shall not be affected or disturbed by the Landlord in the exercise of any of its rights under the Lease or the obligations which it secures subject to Landlord's right to demand a new leasing agreement with Subtenant as outlined below. To the extent the Lease Agreement is terminated by Landlord due to a default by Tenant and Subtenant is not in default under the Sublease, Subtenant and Landlord will enter into negotiations for a new leasing agreement for either the subleased portion of the Leased Premises or the entire Leased Premises in Landlord's discretion and in a form acceptable to Subtenant and Landlord to replace the Sublease. Landlord may require from Subtenant any of the financial assurances it has required from Tenant or might require from any other primary lessee for the purpose of any new leasing agreement.
- ii. In the event any person acquires title to the subleased portion of the Leased Premises by conveyance or sale or any related proceeding, the Landlord covenants that any such transfer of the subleased portion of the Leased Premises shall be made subject to the Sublease and the rights of Subtenant under the Sublease, provided that in such event, Subtenant covenants and agrees to attorn to such person as its new landlord, and the Sublease shall continue in full force and effect as a direct lease between the new landlord and the Subtenant upon all of the terms, covenants, conditions, and agreements set forth in the Sublease and/or any additional amendments. However, in no event shall the new landlord be:
  - i) liable for any act or omission of Subtenant;
- ii) bound by any payment of rent or additional rent made by Subtenant to the Tenant for more than one month in advance.
- b. The Sublease shall be subject and subordinate to the rights of the Landlord or any new landlord under the Agreement, to the extent applicable.
- c. Any notices required or permitted to be given under this Agreement shall be in writing and personally delivered, given by certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, or delivered by overnight courier, in each instance addressed to the parties at the addresses listed in the first paragraph of this Agreement or at such other addresses as the parties may designate in writing as provided herein for the purpose of receiving notices under this Agreement. Notices shall be deemed given when actually received by the recipient, or when the recipient thereof refuses receipt.

- d. This Agreement: (a) shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns; (b) may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but together shall constitute one and the same instrument; (c) constitutes the entire agreement of the parties hereto concerning its subject matter except as outlined herein; and, (d) may not be modified except in writing signed by both parties or by their respective successors in interest.
- e. The above provisions shall be self-operative and effective without the execution of any further instruments on the part of either party. However, Subtenant shall execute and deliver to Landlord, or any such person to whom Subtenant agrees to attorn, such other instruments as either shall reasonably request in order to comply with these provisions. In addition, at Tenant's request, Landlord shall execute and deliver to Tenant and Subtenant a separate instrument confirming these provisions. In such event, the separate instrument shall include the following: THE PARTIES HERETO, HEREBY KNOWINGLY, VOLUNTARILY AND INTENTIONALLY WAIVE ANY RIGHT THEY MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LITIGATION BASED ON THIS INSTRUMENT, OR ARISING OUT OF, UNDER OR IN CONNECTION WITH THIS INSTRUMENT, OR ANY COURSE OF CONDUCT, COURSE OF DEALING, STATEMENTS (WHETHER VERBAL OR WRITTEN) OR ACTIONS OF ANY PARTY WITH RESPECT HERETO. THIS PROVISION IS A MATERIAL INDUCEMENT FOR LANDLORD'S ACCEPTANCE OF THIS INSTRUMENT.
- f. The provisions of this Section 20(c) shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the parties, their heirs, successors and assigns.
- g. Except as outlined in this Section 20(c), nothing herein otherwise modifies the rights, obligations or the remedies of the parties where applicable with respect to the Agreement as amended or the Sublease.
- 10. Except as otherwise set forth herein or in any other applicable instruments as outlined in Section 20(c) of the Agreement as amended, the terms and conditions of the Agreement shall remain in full force and effect.
- 11. The Parties agree that for purposes of Section 19.6 of the Lease, Tenant's notice address is updated to 5690 DTC Boulevard, Suite 515, Greenwood Village, CO 80111, and that copies of notices sent to Tenant per the Lease shall also be sent to Subtenant addressed to: Operadora Andersons S.A. de C.V, Boulevard Kukulkan km 14.2, Cancun, Mexico, C.P. 77500 Zona Hotelera, and to Subtenant's counsel, addressed to: Ronald R. Fieldstone, Esq. and Susan Trench, Esq., Arnstein & Lehr LLP, 200 South Biscayne Boulevard, Suite 3600, Miami, Florida 33131.

WHEREAS, IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties have signed this Fifth Amendment to Lease Agreement as of the dates set forth below.

Re:

"Loan Repayment" letter

Dear Mr. Anthony:

Mr. Fieldstone and I are in receipt of your letter of December 17, 2015, purportedly advising the two of us that we owe money to Treasure Island under its Lease Agreement with Rose. We are somewhat at a loss as we did not borrow money from Treasure Island, are not parties to the referenced Lease Agreement, and do not represent Rose. We solely serve as counsel to Operadora Andersons.

We therefore are going to assume this letter was a mistake. If that is incorrect, please contact me to explain.

Sincerely,

Susan E. Trench

AMENDED SUBLEASE

This Amended Sublease ("Sublease") is entered into by and between Rose, LLC, a Colorado limited liability company ("Landlord"), and Senor Frogs Las Vegas, LLC, a Nevada limited liability company ("Subtenant"), as of the Landlord day of May, 2014, to be effective as of the Effective Date defined in this Sublease.

This Sublease is entered into with reference to the following facts:

- A. Landlord is the tenant under a Lease, dated April 13, 2011, as amended (collectively, the "Prime Lease"), between Landlord and Treasure Island, LLC, a Nevada limited liability company ("Prime Landlord"). An executed copy of the Prime Lease shall be provided to Subtenant upon the Effective Date of this Agreement as defined herein.
- B. Pursuant to the Prime Lease, Landlord leased certain premises located in the Treasure Island Hotel Casino, consisting of approximately eighteen thousand one hundred thirty five (18,135) square feet ("Premises"). Landlord and Subtenant are parties to an existing Sublease dated June of 2011, a First Amendment dated October 4, 2011, and a Second Amendment dated April 20, 2012, for the entire Premises (collectively, the "Existing Sublease").
- C. Landlord and Subtenant are parties to a confidential Settlement Agreement, Release and Covenant Not to Sue ("SA").
- D. In accordance with the terms of the SA, Landlord and Subtenant desire to enter into this Sublease for only a portion of the Premises, which Sublease shall become effective on the Effective Date (defined below), and Landlord and Subtenant desire that the Existing Sublease terminate on the Effective Date. The portion of the Premises to be subleased by Landlord to Subtenant ("Subleased Premises") is further described in this Sublease.

AGREEMENT

In consideration of the agreements made in this Sublease and the SA, Landlord and Subtenant hereby agree:

1. Effective Date. The SA is confidential but provides in relevant part that upon the parties' satisfaction of any and all of their obligations under the SA, the Existing Sublease will terminate and this Sublease will become effective ("Effective Date"). Any claims under the Existing Sublease shall thereafter be deemed waived unless excepted under the SA or unknown to Landlord or Subtenant as of the Effective Date. Landlord will provide Subtenant with a Notice of Sublease Effective Date in the form attached as Exhibit A upon the parties' satisfaction of any and all of their obligations under the SA, but the SA is not incorporated herein or otherwise part of this Sublease and nothing herein waives any of the confidentiality protections afforded by the SA.

- 2. Term. The term of this Sublease shall begin on the Effective Date and shall terminate upon expiration of the Prime Lease, unless sooner terminated in accordance with the terms set forth herein ("Sublease Term"). The Landlord must exercise all options to renew under the Prime Lease if Subtenant is not in default and is otherwise in compliance with this Sublease, and the term of this Sublease shall extend through the terms of the Prime Lease, as such term may be extended; or else, Subtenant can enter into direct negotiations with the Prime Landlord to renew the term of this Amended Sublease subject to the SDNS as defined below.
- 3. Subleased Premises. The term "Subleased Premises" as used herein shall mean the portion of the first floor of the Premises, and only the existing kitchen portion of the second floor of the Premises. The Subleased Premises shall not include any portion of the second floor of the Premises other than the kitchen existing as of February 1, 2014.

4. Surrender of Premises Other Than Subleased Premises.

- a. Landlord and Subtenant acknowledge that as of the Effective Date, Subtenant shall vacate and surrender to Landlord all portions of the Premises other than the Subleased Premises in good and clean condition, including all furniture, fixtures, restaurant equipment, audio-visual equipment, televisions, decorations, improvements, personal property and other property of Subtenant existing in the portion of the Premises that does not include the Subleased Premises ("Existing FF&E").
- b. Landlord shall be entitled to the exclusive use of the Existing FF&E in the Premises other than the Subleased Premises as long as Landlord provides Subtenant with reasonable written notice of right of first refusal to staff and supply catered food and beverages in the Premises other than the Subleased Premises on an event by event basis provided that Subtenant's price to staff and supply catered food and beverages is consistent with Section 4(f) herein (the "Subtenant Catering ROFR"). Subtenant shall, if it so elects, exercise the Subtenant Catering ROFR by delivering to Landlord written notice of such election within 24 hours of Landlord's notice. If Subtenant does not exercise the Subtenant Catering ROFR for any particular event, Landlord still shall be entitled to the exclusive use of the Existing FF&E in the Premises other than the Subleased Premises.
- c. Unless and until Landlord terminates the Subtenant Catering ROFR, Subtenant shall be obligated to rent from Landlord, on an event by event basis, a portion of the Premises other than the Subleased Premises if space is available at the applicable time for special events, private parties, convention engagements and other event bookings for more than 150 people and for any "Latin Night" or any similar event irrespective of size. Subtenant can cancel any reservation of the Premises other than the Subleased Premises for such purposes without penalty by providing 30 days written notice to Landlord, however, and Landlord may cancel any such reservation by providing 60 days written notice to Subtenant.

- d. If Subtenant rents from Landlord a portion of the Premises other than the Subleased Premises for special events, private parties, convention engagements or other event bookings or for "Latin Night" or any similar themed party irrespective of size, Subtenant shall pay Landlord Thirty-Two Hundred Dollars ($3,200.00) or 12% of Gross Sales from the booking as rent for any event scheduled for a Saturday (whichever is greater) or shall pay Landlord a minimum of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00) or 15% of Gross Sales from the booking as rent for any event scheduled for a day other than a Saturday (whichever is greater), provided however, that the amount payable to Landlord by Subtenant will be 20% of Gross Sales from the booking as rent for any event scheduled for the following periods during the term of this Sublease, as it may be extended, and must be reserved by Subtenant sufficiently in advance if space is available: New Year's eve and day, Super Bowl weekend, St. Patrick's Day, Cinco de Mayo holiday period, Memorial Day weekend, Labor Day weekend, the Halloween holiday period, and Thanksgiving Day and weekend.
  - Subtenant will continue to operate "Latin Night" and rent a portion of the Premises other than the Subleased Premises for same as outlined in Section 4(c) and 4(d) above, as long as Subtenant operates "Latin Night" or any similar party irrespective of size. Subtenant may not operate "Latin Night" or any similar party irrespective of size out of the Subleased Premises under any circumstances without renting a portion of the Premises other than the Subleased Premises for same as outlined in Section 4(c) and 4(d) above.
- f. Subtenant shall bill Landlord for staff provided under the Subtenant Catering ROFR at Subtenant's actual hourly wage costs for such staff. Subtenant also shall bill Landlord for any food and beverages provided under the Subtenant Catering ROFR with a twenty percent (20%) discount applied to food and a twenty-five percent (25%) discount applied to beverages based upon the standard menu offered by Subtenant to patrons. Subtenant understands that Landlord may provide food and beverages pursuant to the Subtenant Catering ROFR to Landlord's patrons at a rate higher than the discounted rate billed by Subtenant, and that Subtenant will not be entitled to anything other than the discounted rate applicable to the Subtenant Catering ROFR.
- g. Landlord and Subtenant will cooperate with respect to any licensing or branding needs related to the Subtenant Catering ROFR for the Premises other than the Subleased Premises, including but not limited to application of the Trade Name requirements in Section 7.7 of the Prime Lease as outlined in Section 9(a) herein. Except that, Landlord will define and promote the Premises other than the Subleased Premises as "The Big Deck above t Senor Frogs," "The Huge Deck above Senor Frogs," "Above Senor Frogs" or as otherwise agreed in writing by Landlord and Subtenant.

- h. Subtenant shall transition to the Subleased Premises in a timely fashion, i.e., within approximately thirty (30) days after the Effective Date. Landlord will secure general liability insurance for the Premises other than the Leased Premises by the time that Subtenant transitions to the Subleased Premises.
- i. Landlord may terminate the Subtenant Catering ROFR at any time and in its discretion. If Landlord terminates the Subtenant Catering ROFR, Landlord will not utilize any licensed or branded materials or decorations as outlined in Sections 4(a) and 4(g) above included in the Existing FF&E further and will allow Subtenant to remove any licensed or branded materials or decorations included in the Existing FF&E from the Premises other than the Subleased Premises within but no later than ten (10) days from the date of Landlord's termination of the Subtenant Catering ROFR. In addition, if Landlord terminates the Subtenant Catering ROFR then Landlord and Subtenant will cooperate with respect to any necessary amendments or modifications relating to Section 7.7 of the Prime Lease as outlined in Section 9(a) herein for the Premises other than the Subleased Premises. In the event that Landlord terminates the Subtenant Catering ROFR Landlord will retain possession of and exclusive use over any fixtures, restaurant equipment, audio-visual equipment, televisions, or improvements encompassed within the Existing FF&E, and Subtenant will be entitled to remove any licensed, branded or proprietary materials or decorations included in the Existing FP&E, including but not limited to any furniture (including non-branded furniture) supplied by Subtenant.
- In the event that Landlord terminates the Subtenant Catering ROFR and Landlord continues to honor this Sublease, Landlord may lease the Premises other than the Subleased Premises to a third party subject to the requirements of Section 8 herein, the consent of the Prime Landlord, and Prime Landlord's consent to modify the Prime Lease and SDNS as defined below so that any default related to the Premises other than the Subleased Premises will not constitute a default under this Sublease and consistent with the SDNS as defined below.
- k. Landlord will be responsible for complying with any applicable liquor licensing requirements with respect to the Leased Premises other than the Subleased Premises, except when Subtenant rents from Landlord, or exercises the Subtenant Catering ROFR on an event by event basis for, that portion of the Leased Premises other than the Subleased Premises.
- 5. Use of Subleased Premises. Subtenant may use the Subleased Premises for the purpose of conducting thereon the operation of a bar, lounge, restaurant and/or nightclub serving Mexican food and international food; that may feature live entertainment and/or pre-recorded music and disc jockeys, dancing, bottle service, live entertainment and private events; and that may offer retail sales and services, including any existing operational uses currently being conducted by the Subtenant on the Premises. Subtenant agrees it shall not serve Breakfast in the Subleased Premises, unless consented to by the Prime Landlord. For the purpose of this Sublease, the term "Breakfast" is defined by, and subject to the discretion of, Prime Landlord. Subtenant also agrees it shall not operate within the Subleased Premises a Hawaiian-themed restaurant. Subtenant shall operate under the trade name "Señor Frogs" unless Prime Landlord consents in writing to the use of a different trade name at the Subleased Premises. Landlord affirms, however, that it has obtained the Prime Landlord's consent for the uses of the Subleased Premises as outlined in this Sublease.

6. Rent. In consideration of Subtenant's lease of the Subleased Premises as set forth herein, Subtenant shall pay Rent directly to Landlord as defined and set forth herein. From the Effective Date through the end of the 12th full month following the Effective Date, Subtenant shall pay to Landlord rent equal to $80,000 per month ("Rent"). Monthly Rent payable to Landlord by Subtenant shall then increase by three and one half percent (3.5%) on each anniversary of the Effective Date. Rent shall be payable in monthly installments, on or before the third day of each month during the Sublease Term, without notice or demand and without abatement, counterclaim, setoff or deduction whatsoever. All payments of Rent to be made by Subtenant shall be made payable to Landlord and sent to Landlord at the place to which notices to Landlord are required to be sent unless Landlord shall direct otherwise by notice to Subtenant, on or before the first day of each month during the Sublease Term. Landlord shall provide Subtenant with written notice of default for any Rent payment and five (5) days to cure same, If any installment of Rent is not paid when due, Subtenant also shall pay to Landlord a late charge equal to seven and one/half percent (7.5%) of the amount due along with interest from the due date at the rate of twelve percent (12%) of the amount due.

7. Default.

- a. Subtenant's failure to timely pay Rent or Additional Rent or any other amounts due hereunder or to perform any obligation of Subtenant hereunder, Subtenant's violation of any other provision of this Sublease, or any act or omission by Subtenant or Subtenant's employees, agents or contractors that results in a violation by Landlord of the Prime Lease shall constitute an "Event of Default," subject to any Rent default notice and opportunity to cure as set forth above and subject to a period of twenty (20) days after written notice of a non-monetary default by Landlord to Subtenant; provided, however, that if the failure complained of in such notice is of such a nature that the same can be rectified or cured, but cannot with reasonable diligence be done within said twenty (20) day period, then such failure shall be deemed to be rectified or cured if Subtenant shall, within said twenty (20) day period, commence to rectify and cure the same and shall thereafter complete such rectification and cure with all due diligence.
- b. Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default as a result of a monetary default hereunder or any other default under Subsection 7(a), Landlord may (i) terminate this Sublease as of the date set forth in Landlord's written notice to Subtenant, in which case Subtenant's right to possession of the Subleased Premises shall cease and this Sublease shall thereupon be terminated, provided that Subtenant's obligations, including but not limited to past due Rent to be paid, and the balance of the Rent due for the remainder of the thencurrent Sublease Term, shall be due and payable to Landlord when due under the then-current Sublease Term subject to any offsets for Landlord's actual and reasonable tenant or leasing mitigation efforts; (ii) re-enter and take possession of the Subleased Premises and repossess the same, expel Subtenant and remove Subtenant's personal property, without being liable for prosecution for same and without prejudice to any remedies to accelerate Rent for the balance of the Sublease Term or for any breach of the covenants or conditions of this Sublease; and/or (iii) pursue any other remedy available at law or equity.

8. Separation of Subleased Premises from Premises.

- a. Landlord and Subtenant agree that the Subleased Premises will be modified as necessary to provide Landlord with unrestricted and marketable access to all portions of the Premises other than the Subleased Premises, including without limitation construction in the first floor casino bar areas of the Premises of a new entrance to the second floor of the Premises and construction of an employee entrance to the second floor of the Premises through or near the existing kitchen and employee entrance area of the second floor of the Premises. Subtenant and Landlord shall mutually cooperate as necessary to accomplish such objectives and shall provide access to the Subleased Premises as necessary to accomplish such objectives.
- b. Subtenant and Landlord shall cooperate in arriving at a reasonable plan to separate the Subleased Premises from the Premises in compliance with any and all municipal, local, or federal codes, statutes, regulations or ordinances ("Separation Plan") related thereto, and in selecting materials, vendors and contractors, and shall each pay half of the cost to complete the agreed upon Separation Plan by prefunding a third party neutral account held by Fidelity National Title out of which payments will only be made after both parties are provided copies of and approve in writing the invoices or other documents relating to same. No party will unreasonably withhold consent for payments relating to completed work, however.
- c. Subtenant shall, at Subtenant's sole cost and expense and within ten (10) days of demand by Landlord or Prime Landlord, remove and/or modify any and all exterior and/or interior signage of Subtenant as required by Landlord or Prime Landlord in connection with the separation of the Subleased Premises from the Premises. Subtenant may, subject to Prime Landlord's consent and all applicable requirements of any governing authorities, install in and on the Subleased Premises alternative signage at Subtenant's sole cost and expense consistent with the existing signage of the Premises and the separation of the Subleased Premises as outlined herein, except that any signage opportunity on the exterior of the Premises shall be split 50/50 between Landlord and Tenant.

d. If Landlord has not terminated the Subtenant Catering ROFR and maintains use of the Existing FF&E, Landlord will forego any of the modifications, construction or other improvements outlined above in Sections 8(a), 8(b) and/or 8(c).

9. Prime Lease

- a. Except as set forth herein or in the Subordination, Non-Disturbance and Attornment Agreement set forth in Exhibit C attached hereto (the "SDNS"), this Sublease is subject to and subordinate to the provisions of the Prime Lease if invoked by Landlord, Prime Landlord or Subtenant.
- b. During the term of this Sublease, Landlord shall be responsible to observe and perform the provisions of the Prime Lease. During the term of this Sublease, Subtenant shall be responsible to observe and perform the provisions of the Prime Lease set forth for any tenant as designated in relevant part within Exhibit B, attached hereto and incorporated herein. The Landlord and Subtenant will cooperate to amend Exhibit B as necessary to reflect any amendments to the Prime Lease.
- c. Subtenant and Landlord shall, to the extent applicable, not, by any act or omission, cause there to be a violation of or in default under the provisions of the Prime Lease set forth on Exhibit B outlined below or otherwise.
- d. Prime Landlord is obligated to provide Subtenant with simultaneous notice of any Landlord default under the Prime Lease as outlined in Exhibit D. In the event that Prime Landlord notifies Landlord of any default under the Prime Lease and does not provide simultaneous notice to Subtenant, Landlord will provide Subtenant with a copy of any Prime Landlord notice of default under the Prime Lease within twenty-four (24) hours and an opportunity to cure same on behalf of Landlord and to the satisfaction of Prime Landlord. If Subtenant cures any alleged default under the Prime Lease on behalf of Landlord and to the satisfaction of Prime Landlord and excepting when the alleged default is prompted or caused by Subtenant, Landlord will be responsible to repay Subtenant within thirty (30) days for any monetary amounts reasonably expended to cure the alleged default under the Prime Lease, plus a late charge equal to seven and one/half percent (7.5%) of the amount due along with interest per annum in the amount of twelve percent (12%) from the date paid by Subtenant until repaid by Landlord. If Subtenant cures an alleged default under the Prime Lease that is not prompted or caused by Subtenant on behalf of Landlord and to the satisfaction of Prime Landlord as noted above more than four (4) times, then Landlord will not object to Subtenant's efforts to assume the Prime Lease consistent with the SDNS. Nothing herein, however, allows Subtenant to offset any monetary amounts

- expended to cure any alleged defaults under the Prime Lease from the Rent due under Sections 4 or 6 hereunder.
- e. The SDNS shall be executed and protect the Subtenant from a default of the Landlord under the Prime Lease subject to the terms of the SDNS.
- f. During the term of this Sublease, Subtenant and Landlord, if deemed applicable to Landlord by the Prime Landlord, also shall observe and perform the Section 3.1(B) and 3.1(C) provisions of the Prime Lease set forth within Exhibit B, by reporting Gross Sales directly to Prime Landlord in the manner required of a tenant under Section 3.1(B) and 3.1(C) of the Prime Lease.
- g. Subtenant shall comply with the terms of any Collective Bargaining Agreement to which Prime Landlord is a party, which applies to the Premises and/or the Subleased Premises, or which is otherwise required or necessary for the Use of Subleased Premises as outlined in Section 5 above. If applicable, Landlord also shall comply with the terms of any Collective Bargaining Agreement to which Prime Landlord is a party, for activities in the Premises Subleased Premises other than the Use of Subleased Premises by Subtenant outlined in Section 5 above.
- h. Subtenant shall institute a policy and procedure acceptable to Prime Landlord and use its best efforts to ensure that no underage drinking occurs in the Subleased Premises, or any other consumption of alcohol in violation of any applicable law. Similarly, Landlord shall institute a policy and procedure acceptable to Prime Landlord and use its best efforts to ensure that no underage drinking or any other consumption of alcohol in violation of any applicable law occurs in the Premises other than the Subleased Premises.
- i. Landlord agrees to comply with its obligations under the Prime Lease and not to create a default thereunder due to Landlord's actions, however, in no event shall this provision apply to any default under the Prime Lease prompted or caused by Subtenant and Subtenant shall not have the right or authority to determine whether or not Landlord has in fact complied with its obligations under the Prime Lease.
- j. Landlord agrees that the Prime Landlord obligations under the Prime Lease as outlined in Exhibit D inure to the benefit of the Subtenant except as set forth herein, and that the Subtenant can take steps to enforce the provisions of the Prime Lease with respect to the obligations outlined in Exhibit D unless excepted or contradicted herein, as a third party beneficiary under the Prime Lease without objection from Landlord, except that Subtenant shall remain obligated under this Sublease to comply with the provisions of the Prime Lease set forth on Exhibit B.

- k. Landlord will not modify or amend the Prime Lease in any material fashion without the prior consent of Subtenant.
- 1. Landlord retains any rights under the Prime Lease that it does not specifically share with Subtenant under this Sublease and Exhibit D hercto.
- designates Renato Alvarado ("Subtenant Representative") as Subtenant's point of contact for Landlord and Prime Landlord with respect to all matters related to the Sublease, and confirms that Subtenant Representative's contact information is as follows: rana@frogsorlando.com. Landlord shall work in good faith with Prime Landlord to identify a representative of Prime Landlord ("Prime Landlord Representative") as a point of contact for the Subtenant Representative and Landlord with respect to the Subleased Premises as outlined below and to facilitate contact between the Subtenant Representative and the Prime Landlord Representative regarding the Subleased Premises with respect to any non-monetary issues related to the Subleased Premises, any of the non-monetary obligations outlined in Exhibits C and E, or with respect to the Complimentary Items as defined below.
- 11. Hours of Operation. Subtenant agrees to operate the Subleased Premises a minimum of eleven (11) hours per day, unless business dictates otherwise, in which instance the Landlord and Subtenant shall meet to determine hours of operation acceptable to Prime Landlord.
- 12. Complimentary Items. Subtenant agrees that Prime Landlord shall have the right to offer complimentary meals and admission at Subtenant's business in the Subleased Premises to Prime Landlord's patrons and employees pursuant to the terms of the Prime Lease ("Complimentary Items"). To the extent applicable, Subtenant shall bill Complimentary Items to Prime Landlord with a forty percent (40%) discount applied in accordance with the Prime Lease.
- 13. Prime Landlord Systems. Subtenant agrees to comply with all rules and regulations of Prime Landlord with respect to the Premises and Subleased Premises in accordance with Exhibit B attached hereto.
- 14. Prime Landlord Contribution. Prime Landlord provided a total of $2.5 Million ("Prime Landlord Contribution") for improvements to the Premises that have been used by Subtenant pursuant to the Existing Sublease and may continue to be used by Subtenant in the Subleased Premises pursuant to this Sublease. A portion of the Prime Landlord Contribution to be repaid to Prime Landlord, plus 6% interest, remains due and outstanding to Prime Landlord as set forth in Exhibit E, attached hereto and incorporated herein. During the Sublease Term, Subtenant shall pay to Landlord the unpaid Prime Landlord Contribution on a monthly basis in an amount equal to $50,000, with interest as set forth in Exhibit E, on or before the first day of each month of the Sublease Term, through and including May 2017 or until such payments satisfy the unpaid portion of the Prime Landlord Contribution.
  - 15. Assignment.

- a. This Sublease may not be assigned or the Subleased Premises subleased to a third party by Subtenant except to a franchisee or other business entity or individual for the same use as permitted under the Prime Lease, i.e., for the operation of a bar, lounge, restaurant and/or nightclub serving Mexican food and international food and that may feature live entertainment and/or prerecorded music and disc jockeys, dancing, bottle service, live entertainment and private events in accordance with the Prime Lease, including but not limited to application of the Trade Name requirements in Section 7.7 of the Prime Lease as outlined in Section 9(a) herein, or for any other purpose to which the Landlord and Prime Landlord give prior written consent which shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed under certain conditions pursuant to the terms of the Prime Lease.
- b. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the Prime Lease, Subtenant may, assign or sublease this Sublease to a Subtenant affiliate, in connection with a sale of all or substantially all of the Subtenant's operations, or the merger or consolidation of the Subtenant with another entity.
- c. Subtenant shall not permit the Subleased Premises to be used or occupied for any purpose other than as set forth herein. No sublease or assignment shall release Subtenant of any of its obligations under this Sublease and/or the Prime Lease or be construed as, or constitute a waiver of, any of Landlord's rights or remedies hereunder. Absent a written agreement to the contrary which is executed by Landlord, no assignment, sublease, mortgage, pledge, hypothecation or encumbrance of this Sublease by Subtenant shall act as, or affect a release of, Subtenant from any of the agreements, obligations and covenants of this Sublease to be performed by Subtenant hereunder.
- d. Moreover, to the extent that Subtenant is permitted to sublease or assign this Sublease, Subtenant is not allowed to profit from any such sublease assignment (except for profits associated with the sale of all or substantially all of the Subtenant's operations as outlined in Section 15(b) above), and Landlord will be entitled to any positive income margin between the Rent outlined in Section 6 herein and any rent charged or collected by Subtenant from any permitted sublease or assignment. Nothing herein, however, prevents Subtenant from selling or franchising its business for profit and retaining the proceeds related thereto.
- 16. Recording. Subtenant may not record this Sublease or a memorandum thereof.

27 28 resolution of this dispute as a matter of law based on the existing factual record. The parties subsequently agreed to extend the deadline for briefs to June 29, 2016. Pursuant to the Stipulation, this Court maintains jurisdiction to hold an evidentiary hearing in the event the Court is unable to decide this case as a matter of law.

INTRODUCTION I.

This case represents an attempt by Plaintiff and Counterdefendant Treasure Island, LLC ("TI") to claw back valuable leased space from its tenant, notwithstanding a long-term contractual occupancy agreement and based purely on a technical leasing infraction. As evidenced below, TI's notice of any alleged breach or default did not properly notify all of the necessary and involved parties in accordance with the Lease and TI's failure to notice the appropriate parties was material with respect to available cure opportunities. Moreover, TI subsequently refused to accept properly tendered lease payments and has acted in bad faith by using this litigation as a pretextual platform to renegotiate or abandon its contractual leasing commitments.

This Court should reject TI's claims as a matter of law based on the governing leasing provisions and uncontested facts, and award Defendant and Counterclaimant Rose, LLC ("Rose") its associated costs and attorney fees. This Court also should grant judgment in favor of Rose on its counterclaims as amended as a matter of law based on the stipulated record, and require involved party submissions or hold an evidentiary hearing with respect to Rose's related damages. Alternatively, if this Court concludes that it cannot grant judgment as a matter of law to Rose with respect to the claims and counterclaims at issue based on the briefs before the Court then this Court should hold a more involved evidentiary hearing pursuant to the express terms of the Stipulation allowing the Court to be provided testimony from the parties involved.

II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND

This case primarily concerns a lease agreement between TI and Rose that was entered into between the parties on April 13, 2011 and amended ("Lease") for a space located on TI's property

See the Lease dated April 13, 2011 and five Amendments thereto dated October 10, 2011, December 22, 2011, April 20, 2013, April 18, 2013, and April 30, 2014 respectfully. True and correct copies of which are attached hereto as Exhibits 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 respectfully.

(the "Premises") wherein Grupo Anderson's ("Anderson's") operates a Mexican-themed restaurant called Señor Frog's ("Señor Frog's").<sup>2</sup> The Premises is a two story space of over 18,000 square feet³ with a completely custom Señor Frog's design and is located directly adjacent to the body of water where TI historically held its famous pirate shows.<sup>4</sup> Without a doubt, the Premises are prime real estate on the Las Vegas Strip and the Lease itself is a substantial asset.

Anderson's is based out of Cancun, Mexico and owns over forty restaurants throughout Latin America and the United States.<sup>5</sup> Rose is based out of Greenwood Village, Colorado and deals primarily in the business of real estate.<sup>6</sup> Prior to the execution of the Lease, Gary Dragul ("Mr. Dragul"), President of Rose, contacted David Krouham ("Mr. Krouham"), President of Anderson's and licensee of the Señor Frog's name, to discuss the joint venture that would later become one of the most prominent Señor Frog's restaurants in the United States ("Joint Venture").<sup>7</sup> After reaching a deal agreeable to both Rose and Anderson's, Mr. Dragul approached Phillip G. Ruffin ("Mr. Ruffin"), President of TI, to negotiate the terms of the Lease.<sup>8</sup>

Shortly after the Lease was executed and Señor Frog's was operating, it became apparent to both Rose and Anderson's that it would be best to forego the Joint Venture so that Operadora, i.e., Anderson's operating company charged with the responsibility of overseeing the operations of all the Señor Frog's restaurants, could operate Señor Frog's alone while Rose continued to act as its landlord and utilized a portion of the Premises for other uses. As a result, Anderson's subleased, under its subsidiary Senor Frog's Las Vegas, LLC ("SFLV"), most of the Premises from Rose in June of 2011 (the "Sublease") and the two entities continue to maintain those same business relationships to this day.

THE LEASE, SUBLEASE, AND FIFTH AMENDMENT

Mr. Ruffin and Mr. Dragul were directly involved in negotiations over the Lease terms and each amendment thereto as the primary party decision-makers. 11 Although Anderson's is not a party to the Lease, Anderson's is a third-party beneficiary of the Lease so Mr. Krouham was also involved in the Lease negotiations and Operadora bargained for a number of provisions within the Lease as amended including TI's obligation to provide direct notice of any alleged breach or default, together with the associated cure provisions, to Operadora and SFLV counsel in Florida. 12

The Lease is a long-term commitment for all of the involved parties. <sup>13</sup> The initial term of the Lease is ten (10) years and grants Rose the unilateral right to exercise options adding additional terms totaling twenty (20) years, resulting in a potential expiration date of approximately April 13, 2041. <sup>14</sup> Rose initially paid $52,000.00 per month in addition to seven percent (7%) of the gross sales of Señor Frog's within thirty (30) days after the end of each quarter ("Percentage Rent"). <sup>15</sup> At the time, TI was obligated under the Lease to continue its highlight reel attraction pirate show during the leasing term. <sup>16</sup> Because TI's construction projects and decision to abandon the pirate show significantly affected the sales of Señor Frog's, Rose successfully negotiated its monthly obligation down to $33,250.00 through leasing amendments ("Rent") and continues to pay Percentage Rent as well. <sup>17</sup> As part of those Lease amendment efforts, Rose, Operadora, and SFLV also bargained for stronger notice and cure rights and TI received permission to discontinue its pirate show attraction. <sup>18</sup>

Under the Lease, Rose, Operadora, and SFLV all have significant notice and cure rights. <sup>19</sup> The Lease defines an event of default as failure "to pay any installment of Rent or any other amount or charge required to be paid by Tenant to Landlord pursuant to the terms of [the] Lease, and such failure continues for ten (10) days from [TI's] written notice to Rose that any such Rent installment or other amount or charge is due."<sup>20</sup> In other words, Rose's failure to make timely payments to TI would put Rose in breach; however, the Lease allows Rose ten (10) days to cure any such breach after written notice and prior to default. TI does not dispute the notice obligations or cure rights in the Lease, or consider them to be ambiguous.<sup>21</sup>

Indeed, the Lease was always very specific with respect to appropriate notice procedures.<sup>22</sup> Along with the requirements for any notice to be in writing, Section 19.6 of the Lease outlines the methods and manner of proper notice under the Lease<sup>23</sup>:

Any notice or other communication required or permitted to be given by a party hereunder shall be in writing, and shall be deemed to have been given by such party to the other party or parties (a) on the date of personal delivery, (b) on the date delivered by a nationally recognized overnight courier service when deposited for overnight delivery, (c) on the next Business Day following any facsimile transmission to a party at its facsimile number set forth below; provided, however, such delivery is concurrent with delivery pursuant to the provisions of clauses (a), (b) or (d) of this Section 19.6, or (d) three (3) Business Days after being placed in the United States mail, as applicable, registered or certified, postage prepaid addressed to the following addresses (each of the parties shall be entitled to specify a different address and/or contact person by giving notice as aforesaid):

Accordingly, the Lease has always required TI to put Operadora directly on notice of any alleged breach or default.

In the early months of 2014, Rose and Anderson's were in negotiations regarding the Sublease and the involved parties revisited the master leasing relationship again.<sup>24</sup> In conjunction with the subleasing negotiations and in anticipation of an amended Sublease, Rose and TI executed the Fifth Amendment to the Lease to amend a number of its sections ("Fifth Amendment").25 In relevant part, TI and Rose amended the notice provision of Section 19.6 to reiterate TI's requirement to send Operadora a copy of any notice sent to Rose and added an additional requirement that TI also send a copy of any such notice to SFLV's counsel in Florida.<sup>26</sup> Section 11 of the Fifth Amendment specifically provides<sup>27</sup>:

The Parties agree that for purposes of Section 19.6 of the Lease, Tenant's notice address is updated to 5690 DTC Boulevard, Suite 515, Greenwood Village, CO 80111, and that copies of notices sent to Tenant per the Lease shall also be sent to Subtenant addressed to: Operadora Andersons S.A. de C.V, Boulevard Kukulkan km 14.2, Cancun, Mexico, C.P. 77500 Zona Hotelera, and to Subtenant's counsel, addressed to: Ronald R. Fieldstone, Esq. and Susan Trench, Esq., Arnstein & Lehr LLP, 200 South Biscayne Boulevard, Suite 3600, Miami, Florida 33131.

As such, the Lease as it currently is amended continues to require TI to notice Operadora directly of any alleged breach or default and was strengthened to require TI to provide notice directly to the operating subtenant SFLV's counsel. These Lease amendments provided Rose, Operadora, and SFLV with heavily negotiated and reinforced notice rights and cure options.

On May 6, 2014 Rose and SFLV amended the Sublease and further reinforced SFLV's need to be directly involved in any notice and cure efforts associated with an alleged breach or default ("Amended Sublease").28 Under the Amended Sublease, Operadora maintained a direct payment right for cure purposes which allowed SFLV to pay TI directly if necessary for any amounts owed by Rose under the Lease.<sup>29</sup> The purpose of this provision was to enable SFLV to cure any alleged breach and then revisit the issue with Rose as necessary in the context of their ongoing financial relationship.<sup>30</sup> The updated notice provision found under Section 11 of the Fifth Amendment is reinforced in the Amended Sublease as Section 9.d, which provides in relevant part<sup>31</sup>:

[TI] is obligated to provide [SFLV] with simultaneous notice of any [Rose] default under the Prime Lease... If [SFLV] cures any alleged default under the Prime Lease on behalf of [Rose]... Landlord will be responsible to repay [SFLV] within thirty (30) days for any monetary amounts reasonably expended to cure the alleged default under the Prime Lease.

Again, the purpose of these notice and direct payment terms was to provide Anderson's an assurance that it would have an opportunity to cure any default on the part of Rose so that Anderson's and Operadora could protect their significant investment of over eight million dollars in SFLV and the Premises.<sup>32</sup> Rose also bargained for the revised notice requirement so that its tenant would cure any inadvertent default on Rose's part and protect Rose's nearly four-milliondollar investment in SFLV and the Premises.<sup>33</sup> While Anderson's and Rose dissolved their Joint Venture, Rose and Anderson's nevertheless maintain an ongoing subleasing relationship and both parties are still heavily invested in the success of SFLV and work together toward that mutual goal.34

ROSE'S ALLEGED BREACH AND ATTEMPTS TO CURE

On Thursday May 14, 2015, TI sent correspondence purporting to provide Rose with notice of an alleged breach of the Lease because Rose had failed to tender timely Percentage Rent ("Alleged Breach Notice").35 In other words, the base Rent was timely paid but the additional Percentage Rent amount was late. However, Mr. Dragul and his staff were not present at Rose's office in Colorado because they were out of town on other business and the following weekend was Memorial Day.<sup>36</sup> Considering the ten (10) day cure period provided by Section 15.1.1 of the Lease, TI nevertheless expected Rose to cure the alleged default by Sunday, May 24, 2015.37 It was a scenario such as this that was contemplated by Rose and Anderson's when the parties executed the Fifth Amendment reiterating TI's requirement that TI notify Operadora and adding a requirement to notify SFLV's counsel in Florida should Rose be in breach or default.<sup>38</sup> If Rose was out of pocket or if payment lapsed for any reason with respect to the Premises, Operadora had bargained for the right to fix any leasing problem one way or another and then resolve the issue with Rose directly.39

Despite these specific bargained for rights, TI's Alleged Breach Notice under the Lease was infirm and inadequate on its face. 40 TI failed to send a copy to either Operadora or SFLV's Florida counsel and addressed the Alleged Breach Notice to Rose with attention to Mr. Dragul, who was out of town, rather than to Rose's "contact person" under Section 19.6, i.e., Susan Markusch ("Ms. Markusch") - the Vice President of Rose who was actually in charge of accounting issues.41

TI then immediately tried to exploit the alleged breach and default as an opportunity to exit its long-term leasing obligations with Rose and develop a direct leasing relationship with SFLV or otherwise repurpose the Premises.<sup>42</sup> Rose received a letter from TI's counsel purporting to terminate the Lease on May 28, 2016 ("Alleged Termination"). 43 On the very same day, TI filed its Complaint against Rose (the "Complaint") initiating this action for breach of the Lease and contacted SFLV's counsel to initiate lease negotiations directly with Anderson's.44 Indeed, TI wrote SFLV directly and attempted to circumvent and interfere with Rose's contractual relationships by negotiating a leasing relationship between TI and SFLV that boxed Rose out of the business equation.<sup>45</sup>

Rose immediately responded to TI's Alleged Breach Notice and letter regarding TI's Alleged Termination.<sup>46</sup> In his May 29, 2015 letter, Mr. Dragul pointed out that TI's notice of Rose's alleged breach and TI's Alleged Termination letter were in breach of the Lease and Fifth Amendment and immediately thereafter attempted to tender payment of the Percentage Rent to TI in the amount of $119,229.00 via wire transfer, but TI returned the funds. 47 Rose again attempted to make the same payment to TI on June 3, 2015 via wire transfer into another account, but TI also returned those payments.<sup>48</sup> Rose attempted to pay TI a third time using a cashier's check that was sent via FedEx overnight to TI, but once again TI again refused to accept Rose's payment.<sup>49</sup> Rose ultimately made several more payment attempts to TI without gaining any traction on advancing TI's actual acceptance of the tendered funds.50

TI eventually accepted Rose's payment after receiving a Court Order confirming its ability to do so without waiving any of its rights under the Lease. 51 Since that time, Rose has been current with all of its payment obligations to TI pursuant to the Lease.

TREASURE ISLAND'S DEFAULTS UNDER THE LEASE

When it became clear that TI had no intention of honoring the notice, cure or payment terms of the Lease, Rose was forced to put TI on notice of its related defaults.<sup>52</sup> In its first Notice of Default, Rose laid out each of TI's breaches under the Lease with respect to notice and payment and stated, "Treasure Island cannot manufacture a breach of the Lease by ignoring the notice provisions in the Lease and unilaterally rejecting rental payments tendered by Rose and/or Treasure Island in accordance with the Lease. And in doing so, Treasure Island has breached the Lease itself."53 Similarly, Rose outlined TI's breaches a second time in its Second Notice of Lease Default — after TI had filed a motion seeking the Court's permission to accept Rose's rent payments even though it recognized Nevada Supreme Court precedent that permitted landlords to accept rent for continued occupancy without waiving any rights — and stated, "Based on Treasure Island's judicial admissions, it appears uncontested that Treasure Island rejected rental payments properly tendered by Rose pursuant to the Lease. Treasure Island concedes that it did not have the right to reject rental payments that Rose properly tendered pursuant to the Lease, based on Nevada law. It should be noted that all of Rose's Notices to TI pursuant to the Lease conformed with the relevant notice provisions; nevertheless, TI never responded to Rose regarding the Notices or made any attempt to cure its defaults."54 All told, TI has never disputed that it breached the Lease with respect to its notice failures or refusal to accept Rose's Lease payments.

DEFAULT USED AS A PRETEXT TO REMOVE ROSE

Although Rose tried a number of times to take the deposition of Mr. Ruffin to determine why TI was hampering the notice and cure rights that Rose and Operadora bargained for by refusing to comply with the Lease and accept Rose's payments, TI obtained a protective order preventing Mr. Ruffin from testifying regarding the very claims he and TI had initiated.<sup>55</sup> On March 30, 2016, Rose therefore took the deposition of Brad Anthony ("Mr. Anthony") as the person most knowledgeable for TI.56 Mr. Anthony was designated as the person most knowledgeable because he has been TI's general counsel for many years and was directly involved in negotiations and business interface regarding the original Lease, the Fifth Amendment, the Alleged Breach Notice and Alleged Termination sent to Rose, and the Notices of Default and

When asked, "Based upon your prior testimony, the notices of default were not properly sent consistent with the terms of the lease; correct?"; Mr. Anthony responded, "The notices of default - the original notice of default that was sent, that is the ten-day notice, was not sent in accordance with the written document."59 Worse yet Mr. Anthony admitted that TI's failure to notify the appropriate parties in accordance with the Fifth Amendment was intentional for whatever reason.<sup>60</sup> Mr. Anthony also confirmed Rose's belief that Mr. Ruffin is the only one with knowledge of TI's plans for the Premises in the event SFLV and/or Rose are removed, even though TI had previously represented that Mr. Ruffin was only involved in this matter because of his status as TI's president. 61 It also became evident from Mr. Anthony's deposition testimony that Mr. Anthony is a mere surrogate for Mr. Ruffin and that Mr. Ruffin possesses information relevant to Rose's allegations that TI's default efforts were part of a preconceived plan to avoid TI's Lease obligations and that TI's failure to notice the appropriate parties adequately was an intentional ploy to prevent Rose or Anderson's from curing the alleged payment default.62

DAMAGES IN THE EVENT THE LEASE IS TERMINATED OR MAINTAINED

TI is a well-established name on the Las Vegas Strip and leases space to tenants for a substantial sum. For example, Mr. Anthony testified that TI leases a five-foot by ten-foot space to a tenant for approximately $7,000.00 per month.<sup>63</sup> On the other hand, Rose successfully negotiated an extremely favorable long-term lease for substantial square footage with significant visibility from Las Vegas Boulevard at a much greater discount per square foot, as well as a profitable Sublease with its subtenant SFLV.<sup>64</sup> Rose currently has approximately twenty-five (25) years left on the Lease and generates revenue each year on the Sublease. 65 Terminating the Lease will cause Rose to forfeit nearly four million dollars it has already invested in Señor Frog's, millions of dollars in future profits, and other significant opportunity costs.<sup>66</sup> Moreover, if the Lease is terminated and Rose is removed from the equation, Anderson's will be forced to renegotiate its leasing relationship with TI on terms that could be much less favorable than it currently enjoys.<sup>67</sup>

On the other hand, TI has nothing to lose in this litigation apart from exposure for Rose's incurred costs and attorney fees, i.e., an amount roughly equivalent to a single bad day for just one gambler at the TI casino.<sup>68</sup> TI effectively has decided to risk relatively modest exposure for Rose's litigation fees on a flyer claim, with the ambitious hope (however remote) that it might gut the Lease and seize the Premises back. This Court should not reward TI for its brazen attempt to circumvent contractual rights or serve as an agent for TI to renegotiate its leasing obligations just because TI can flippantly afford to push the judicial envelope, and Rose is entitled to recover its incurred costs and fees in both defending TI's meritless claims and prosecuting its related counterclaims.

FACTUAL ISSUES THAT REMAIN OUTSTANDING

Although both parties have conducted discovery in this case, there are still a number of factual issues that potentially remain outstanding. For example, neither Operadora nor SFLV nor Anderson's are parties to this case but they are third party beneficiaries of the Lease under any analysis. Given the nature of the relationship between Rose and Anderson's, this Court may need to hear testimony from Anderson's regarding the willingness and ability of Operadora and SFLV to have cured Rose's default if they had received proper notice in the event this Court is unable to rule in Rose's favor as a matter of law based on the Affidavit from Mr. Krouham. Anderson's was intimately involved in the negotiations of the Fifth Amendment and bargained for exacting terms in the Lease that are dispositive of this entire case. 69 Therefore, Mr. Krouham's testimony is critical to resolving any outstanding issues of fact. This is especially true where, as here, Mr. Krouham has offered the Court testimony that should be conclusive with respect to TI's claims and mandate judgment as a matter of law on the claims and counterclaims in favor of Rose.

Furthermore, it is Rose's belief that Mr. Ruffin is the ultimate decision-maker behind the Alleged Breach Notice and the Alleged Termination and that Mr. Ruffin either failed to crosscheck TI's notice efforts under the Lease or deliberately chose to ignore TI's notice and cure obligations. In addition, Rose believes that Mr. Ruffin has engaged in a conscious plan to obviate the Lease to piggyback off of Rose's subleasing efforts, renegotiate the economics associated with the Premises, or use the Premises for other purposes. Any one of these factual issues could prove probative with respect to the claims and counterclaims. If TI contests these issues and they are not clear from the existing record, issues of fact also remain with respect to Rose's related defenses and counterclaims at a minimum. Given the potential outstanding factual issues that exist, this Could should honor the parties' Stipulation and hold an evidentiary hearing in the event it is unable to rule in Rose's favor as a matter of law.

III. LEGAL ARGUMENT

It is uncontested that a valid contract was breached by TI when it failed to comply with the notice requirements under Section 19.6 of the Lease and Section 11 of the Fifth Amendment. The undisputed record also reflects that TI breached the payment acceptance terms of the Lease, and that TI both circumvented Rose's contractual Sublease relationship with SFLV and had alternative plans for the Premises.

The only issues before the Court therefore are: 1) whether TI's breaches of the Lease were material; 2) whether TI's actions were in bad faith and in direct violation of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing; and, 3) whether TI's Alleged Termination of the Lease was equitable under such circumstances. In the event this Court is unable to decide these issues or associated damages as a matter of law, the Court must hold an evidentiary hearing with respect to the various outstanding factual issues pursuant to the Stipulation.

TI FAILED TO PROVIDE PROPER NOTICE OR ACCEPT TENDERED A. RENT PAYMENTS, DESPITE THE TERMS OF THE LEASE

Both TI and Rose have claims before this Court that depend on the adequacy or lack thereof of TI's Alleged Breach Notice. In particular, TI has alleged that Rose breached the Lease when it failed to tender the Percentage Rent due to TI for the first quarter of 2015 after notice and an opportunity to cure and has sought a related declaratory judgment. 70 Similarly, Rose has asserted a counterclaim against TI for a breach of the Lease with respect to notice requirements and the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing and has asked this Court for a declaratory judgment barring TI from the draconian relief it has sought.71

In addition, Rose has asserted counterclaims for breach of the Lease and its actual and/or implied covenants due to TI's failure to accept properly tendered rental payments. Rose can establish that TI rejected properly tendered payments as part of its ongoing effort to manufacture a dispute sufficient to warrant termination of the Lease so that TI could seize Rose's substantial investment in the SFLV relationship without any compensation or repossesses Rose's valuable interest in the leased Premises. These two core issues, i.e., TI's improper notice and refusal to accept tendered rent payments, have been the focus of each court proceeding and deposition in this case and should be the focus of this Court's analysis.

TI's Claims for Breach of Lease and Declaratory Relief. 1.

TI's claims all depend on the adequacy of its notice efforts under the governing Lease provisions.

TI's Claims Allegations a.

TI alleges that Rose breached the contractual Lease when it failed to tender its Percentage Rent portion of rent for the first quarter of 2015. As a result of Rose's alleged breach, TI claims

Telephone: (702) 478-7770 Facsimile: (702) 478-7779 that it provided proper notice and an opportunity to cure to Rose. TI's claims that Rose failed to satisfy its contract obligations therefore depend on the adequacy of TI's notice of the alleged breach pursuant to the Lease as amended.<sup>72</sup>

Neither party disputes the validity of the leasing contract or claims that the related notice and cure provisions are ambiguous, and Rose does not dispute that it failed to timely pay its Percentage Rent payment for the first quarter of 2015. TI's claim for breach of Lease is infirm, however, due to TI's abject failure to provide Rose and Operadora with the mandated adequate notice of any alleged breach and an appropriate opportunity to cure under Section 19.6 of the Lease and the Fifth Amendment and because TI's notice and cure failings were material as outlined below. Furthermore, TI has requested a declaratory relief order stating that the Lease has been terminated properly and that Rose therefore needs to exit the Premises.

b. Standards of Review Applicable to TI's Claims

TI cannot prove its claim for breach of the Lease or support its request for declaratory relief based on the governing standard of review. TI cannot establish the elements necessary to prevail on its breach of Lease claim. To prevail on a claim for breach of contract in Nevada, a plaintiff must prove: 1) the existence of a valid contract; 2) a breach by the defendant; and, (3) damage as a result of the breach.<sup>73</sup> Further, a party exercising contractual remedies has to comply with any contractual conditions precedent.<sup>74</sup> As outlined above, neither party disputes the existence of a valid and unambiguous contract or the occurrence of an initial payment oversight; therefore, the issues before this Court with respect to TI's claim for breach of the Lease are whether TI properly noticed any alleged breach and complied with any conditions precedent to the exercise of default remedies, and if so whether TI even suffered any actual damages as a result of the alleged breach.

Rose, Operadora or SFLV would have timely cured any payment mistake if TI had properly notified Rose, Operadora and SFLV. Instead, TI chose to avoid complying with the governing notice provisions in the Lease as amended to allow Rose, Operadora, and SFLV the opportunity to cure. Irrespective of any payment error with respect to Percentage Rent for the first quarter of 2015, Rose quickly attempted to tender full payment to TI. However, TI refused Rose's attempts to tender payment for months. As such, TI did not comply with conditions precedent in the Lease for proper notice of breach, notice of default, or termination. In addition, Rose has made TI whole and TI has suffered no damages under the Lease. Therefore, TI cannot establish a viable claim for breach of Lease.

TI similarly cannot support its request for declaratory relief as TI never properly put Rose in default after adequate notice and opportunity to cure, so TI has no grounds for terminating the Lease or any related declaration by this Court. In order to establish an equitable claim for declaratory relief in Nevada, the party seeking such relief must prove: 1) a justifiable controversy exists between the parties regarding their respective rights pursuant to a contract such that the party seeking such relief asserts a claim of a legally protected right; 2) the issue is ripe for judicial determination; and, 3) the party seeking relief asks the court to determine the parties' relative rights under the contract. 75 As outlined below, TI's claim for declaratory relief is barred because TI failed to notify Rose, Operadora and SFLV of the alleged breach or default in accordance with the terms of the Lease.

In this case, TI also cannot support a request for equitable relief since TI cannot articulate a justiciable breach or default controversy without establishing compliance with the conditions precedent of adequate notice and opportunity to cure under the Lease and Fifth Amendment. Because TI did not properly notify Rose, Operadora, and SFLV's counsel in Florida, the notice and opportunity to cure periods were never triggered before Rose made so many attempts to satisfy any outstanding payment obligations. Therefore, TI cannot establish an equitable basis for a claim for Declaratory Relief under the governing legal standards.

Rose's Counterclaims Against TI for Breach of Contract, Breach of 2. the Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing, and Declaratory Judgment.

Likewise, Rose's counterclaims are based in part on TI's failure to provide Rose with proper notice under the Lease. Once more, TI's notice and cure mistakes are conclusive with respect to Rose's notice failure counterclaims.

Rose's Claim Allegations

Rose's claims against TI are based in part on TI's clear breach of the notice and cure provisions in the Lease. In the event of default under the Lease, any enforcing party must provide written notice of the alleged breach or default to certain persons and entities in accordance with Section 19.6 of the Lease and the Fifth Amendment.<sup>76</sup> However, TI failed to comply with the notice requirements under both Section 19.6 and the Fifth Amendment.<sup>77</sup> Rose therefore provided TI with a Notice of Default on September 11, 201578 and a subsequent Notice of Default on November 18, 2015 that both accorded with the notice provisions in the Lease.<sup>79</sup> Because TI failed to cure its Lease communication mistakes after proper notice by Rose and an appropriate opportunity to cure, TI has defaulted under the Lease.

Rose's counterclaims against TI also are based in part on TI's failure to accept properly tendered rent payments. Rose made a number of attempts to cure its alleged default, but TI was so intent on concocting a dispute that it actually rejected rent payments for contemporaneous and ongoing tenancy and in turn breached the Lease when it rejected Rose's numerous attempts to tender Percentage Rent and other rent payments. 80 Again, Rose provided TI with a Notice of Default on September 11, 2015 with respect to the payment tender issues<sup>81</sup> and a subsequent Notice of Default regarding TI's payment acceptance defaults on November 18, 2015 that both conformed with the notice provisions in the Lease.82 But TI failed to cure its Lease payment acceptance

4. The Lease provided that the rent for gross sales would be paid pursuant to a certain formula and that within 30 days of the end of each calendar quarter during the lease term, the Tenant (Rose), would deliver to Landlord a writing setting forth the amount of Tenant's gross sales made during each month of the proceeding calendar quarter and concurrently therewith, pay the Landlord the percentage rent due and payable for the proceeding calendar quarter.

- 5. The Lease further provided for default interest on any rents or other charges to be paid by Tenant to Landlord if the same was not paid following a 10 day additional notice from the Landlord.
- 6. Rose breached the Lease and its obligation to pay the 7% gross sales portion of the rent for the first quarter of 2015.
  - 7. As a result, on May 14, 2015, Treasure Island sent Rose, LLC, a notice of default.
- 8. Despite the obligation to pay the rent under the Lease, and despite the notice of default to pay the rent, Rose, LLC failed and refused to pay the same.
- 9. As a result of this breach of Lease, Treasure Island has been damaged in an amount to be proven at trial. The damages include not only the missed rent payments, interest and other late charges as provided for under the lease but in addition other damages for future lost rents and other things as set forth in the lease including but not limited to paragraph 15 under the lease.
  - 10. The total amount of those damages exceeds $10,000.
- 11. It has been necessary for Treasure Island to hire an attorney to prosecute this action and it is entitled to its reasonable attorney's fees therefore pursuant to the terms of the Lease.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF (Declaratory Relief)

12. Pursuant to the parties' Lease if Tenant failed to pay any installment of rent or any 10448379.1/039472.0001

other amount or charge required to be paid by Tenant [Rose] to Landlord, [Treasure Island] and 1 2 such failure continued for 10 days from Landlord's written notice to Tenant that any such rent 3 installment, other amount or charge was due, Tenant/Rose was in default. 4 13, This occurred as Rose failed to pay the 7% gross sales rent payment when due and 5 further, failed to pay the same after a 10 day notice from Treasure Island. 6 As a result, Rose, LLC was and is in default of the Lease. 14. 7 15. 3

- Under paragraph 15.2.1 of the Lease, upon such a default Landlord had the right to terminate the Lease and Tenant's estate thereunder by written notice of such termination.
  - 16. Treasure Island has provided such written notice of termination.
  - 17. Accordingly, the Lease has been terminated.
- As a result, Plaintiff asks the Court to issue a declaratory relief order stating that 18. the Lease has been terminated and that Rose, LLC needs to remove itself from the premises.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for relief as follows:

- 1. For damages in an amount to be proven in excess of $10,000.
- For an order of declaratory relief declaring the Lease terminated. 2.
- 3. For its reasonable costs and attorney's fees.
- For such other and further relief as the Court may allow. 4.

Dated this 24 day of May, 2015.

PISANELLI BICE PLLC 00 S. 7TH STREET, SUITE 30 LAS VEGAS, NEVADA 89102 702,214,2100

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

- 3. On or about April 13, 2011, Rose, as the tenant, and Treasure Island, as the landlord, entered into a Lease Agreement (the "Lease") for premises located within the Treasure Island resort hotel casino, consisting of approximately 18,135 square feet (the "Premises").
- 4. The Lease identifies that the Premises are to be used for the operation of a bar, lounge, restaurant and/or nightclub.
- 5. On or about June 11, 2011, Rose entered into a sublease for a portion of the leased Premises with Senor Frog's Las Vegas, LLC ("Senor Frogs") as the subtenant.
- 6. Section 15 of the Lease identifies certain events of default whereby Rose may be deemed to be in default of the Lease ("Events of Default").
- 7. Such Events of Default include Rose's failure "to pay any installment of Rent or any other amount or charge required to be paid by Tenant to Landlord pursuant to the terms of this Lease, and such failure continues for ten (10) days from Landlord's written notice to Tenant...."
- 8. Section 19.6 of the Lease identifies the manner in which the parties are to provide "[a]ny notice or other communication required or permitted to be given by a party hereunder...."
- 9. Pursuant to Section 19.6, any notice to Rose must be directed to the attention of Susan Markusch at the address identified. Additionally, a copy of any such notice must be provided to Senor Frogs.
- 10. On or about April 30, 2014, the parties entered into a Fifth Amendment of the Lease which, among other things, updated certain contact information for notice purposes under the Lease with respect to both Rose and Senor Frogs and imposed an additional requirement that Senor Frog's counsel be copied on any notice.
- 11. On or about May 14, 2015, Treasure Island sent correspondence purporting to provide Rose with notice of an alleged breach of the Lease ("Alleged Breach Notice").

12.	2. However, despite the terms of Section 19.6, Treasure Island faile	d to deliver its
Alleged Br	Breach Notice to the attention of Susan Markusch. Additionally, Treasu	re Island failed to send a co	copy to Senor Frogs or counsel for Senor Frogs.

- 13. Having failed to comply with the Lease's express notice provisions, Treasure Island cannot claim that Rose is in default of the Lease.
- 14. Despite this, Treasure Island sent correspondence to Rose on or about May 28, 2015, purporting to terminate the Lease ("Alleged Termination"). However, like the Alleged Breach Notice, the Alleged Termination failed to comply with the notice requirements of Section 19.6.
- 15. Following delivery of the Alleged Termination, Rose is informed and believes that Treasure Island contacted Senor Frogs with the intention of contracting directly with Senor Frogs as the tenant for a portion of the Premises.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Contract)

- 16. Rose repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 15 above as though fully set forth herein.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. OUT OF AN ABUNDANCE OF CAUTION TREASURE ISLAND HEREBY MOVES THE COURT FOR CONFIRMATION THAT IT CAN COLLECT RENTAL PAYMENTS DUE DURING THE PENDENCY OF THE LITIGATION BETWEEN TREASURE ISLAND AND ROSE, LLC.

On or about April 13, 2011 Plaintiff Treasure Island, entered into a lease with Defendant, Rose, LLC ("Rose"). Pursuant to the terms of the lease, Treasure Island leased space to Rose inside the Treasure Island Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas, Nevada. One of the obligations of Rose under the Lease was to pay rent in two forms. The first, minimum monthly rent, the second in an amount equal to 7% of gross sales.

Regarding the latter, the Lease provided that the rent for gross sales would be paid pursuant to a certain formula and that within 30 days of the end of each calendar year during the lease term, the tenant (ROSE), would deliver to landlord a writing setting forth the amount of tenant's gross sales made during each month of the preceding calendar quarter and concurrently therewith, pay the landlord the percentage rent due and payable for the preceding calendar quarter. The Lease further provided for default interest on any rents and other charges to be paid by tenant to landlord if the same where not paid following a ten (10) day notice from the landlord.

Rose breached the Lease and its obligation to pay the 7% gross sales portion of the rent for the first quarter of 2015. As a result, on May 14, 2015, Treasure Island sent Rose a notice of default. Despite the obligations to pay the rent under the Lease, and despite the notice of default to pay the rent, Rose failed and refused to the pay the same.

As a result of this breach of lease, Treasure Island sent a letter purportedly terminating the party's Lease. However, Rose disputes that Treasure Island had the ability to terminate the Lease claiming that one or more notices were defective. As a result, this litigation has been filed and in effect both sides seek declaratory relief as to whether the Lease was properly terminated. The parties have recently filed the case conference report and have begun the discovery phase of the case.

In the meantime, the question of rent has been the subject of ongoing discussions between the parties. Despite those discussions no resolution to the issue has been reached.

As a result, Treasure Island hereby seeks an order confirming that it may demand the rent (in fairness Rose has tendered rent but Treasure Island has, out of an abundance of caution, not accepted that rent pending negotiations to try and put the rent into a court escrow) during the pendency of the litigation.

Attached as Exhibit I is the case of Davidsohn v. Doyle, id. In that case, the Nevada Supreme Court stated that the lessor has the right to accept rent after breach by lessee when lessor timely expresses his/her intent to terminate the lease and the lessee nevertheless remains in possession pending litigation. Plaintiff seeks confirmation by this Court that it does in fact, have the right to collect the rent, and/or provide notice of default should Rose fall in arrears, during the pendency of this litigation as set forth in the Nevada Supreme Court in the Davidsohn matter.

Dated this 2 day of August, 2015.

146 OPINION

PER CURIAM:

Facts

Appellant Luis Davidsohn leased land and commercial warehouses to the respondent, Helen Doyle, Doyle, in turn, subleased space to various parties. The Davidsohn-Doyle lease requires Doyle, at her own cost, to keep the entire demised premises in good condition and repair 1 Paragraph 7(h) of the lease permits the lessor to reenter the property and terminate the lease upon the lessee's breach.2

**1228 In February 1988, Davidsohn hired Ivan Tippetts, a real estate appraiser and licensed contractor, to inspect the condition of the leased premises. Tippetts' inspection revealed "a complete disregard for the maintenance, health, safety and code requirements." Consequently, Davidsohn's attorney sent a letter to Doyle and her attorney. The first three paragraphs of the letter discuss the Tippetts report. The fourth paragraph of the letter states:

THIS LETTER IS NOTICE OF TERMINATION OF THE LEASE TENANCY. Pursuant to the Lease, you have thirty (30) days within which to institute significant repair efforts. I am well aware that it is virtually impossible to accomplish what is needed to bring this property up to the very minimum standard within thirty (30) days. This notice is sent pursuant to the Lease and

The remainder of the letter expresses concern over the condition of the leased property, and suggests that the parties' attorneys sit down to devise a plan of action.

the requirements within the State of Nevada

Tippetts reinspected the property in April after Doyle made *147 some repairs, but found that the work was not done in a professional manner, and that it failed to cure the major problems. Thereafter, Davidsohn's attorney sent a second letter to Doyle, dated April 25, 1988. This letter stated that Doyle's lease was terminated because she failed to remedy the breach charged in the March 14th letter

Davidsohn filed a complaint for declaratory relief to terminate the lease on May 3, 1988. Doyle continued to pay rent through August 1989 by depositing checks in a Los Angeles bank under an account maintained in the name of Davidsohn's wife. On June 1, 1988, Davidsohn sought a temporary restraining order, enjoining Doyle from (1) collecting rent from her sublessees, (2) interfering with Davidsohn's access to the property and tenants, and (3) doing further work on the property without prior approval. The district court denied this motion, but ordered Doyle to give Davidsohn reasonable access to the properly. Tippetts inspected the property again on July 21, 1968, and found the repair work still inadequate and unprofessional. That day Tippetts filed a complaint with the Las Vegas Police Department stating that his life had been threatened by Doyle's property manager during the inspection

Davidsohn moved for summary judgment on August 10, 1988. After being granted time for discovery, Doyle also moved for summary judgment. The court denied Davidsohn's motion and granted Doyle's, on the basis that Davidsohn had waived his right to terminate the lease by accepting rent from Doyle despite knowledge of the breach. Additionally, the court determined that the March 14, 1988 letter did not comply with NRS 40 2516, which requires that written notice in an unlawful detainer action give the tenant the option to comply with the lease terms or vacate the premises.

Doyle filed a motion to amend the court's findings of fact and conclusions of law and judgment, seeking attorney's fees and costs of $36,917.36 under the lease. After oral argument, the court denied Doyle's motion, finding that the lease provision regarding attorney's fees did not apply under the facts of the case

Davidsohn appealed from the grant of summary judgment in favor of Doyle, and Doyle cross -appealed from the denial of her motion requesting attorney's fees and costs. We are convinced that under the facts of this case, Davidsohn did not waive his right to terminate the lease by accepting rent from Doyle. We are also persuaded that Davidsohn gave Doyle adequate notice of his intent to terminate the lease. Therefore, we reverse the summary judgment and remand the matter to the district court for further proceedings

*148 Discussion

A party is entitled to summary judgment when there are no material issues of fact to be resolved, and the moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. **1229 NRCP 56 (c) Neither party contends that there are any disputed material factual issues. Therefore, our analysis centers on whether the district court correctly perceived and applied the law Mullis v Nevada Nat'l Bank, 98 Nev 510, 512, 654 P.2d 533, 535 (1982)

A. Acceptance of rent as a waiver of breach.

1 In ruling as it did, the district court relied on the general rule that when a lessor accepts rent, with full knowledge of a breach by his lessee, the lessor waives his right to terminate the lease based upon that breach. Reno Realty v. Hornstein, 72 Nev 219, 301 P.2d 1051 (1956); Sharp v. Twin Lakes Corp., 71 Nev. 162, 283 P.2d 611 (1955).

Davidsohn urges this court to recognize an exception to the general rule based upon the protracted pendency of the action between the parties, the commercial nature of the subject lease, and the March 14, 1988 "notice of default" communicated to Doyle. The principal Nevada case holding that a lessor waives his right to terminate a lease by accepting rent from the lessee is Sharp v. Tivin Lakes Corp., 71 Nev. 162, 283 P.2d 611 (1955). In Sharp, a lessee sued its lesser for the return of deposit money which was held in escrow to ensure performance of the lease terms. The lessor counterclaimed for forfeiture of the lease based on numerous breaches by the lessee. We held that the lessor had waived his right to terminate the lease for breach by accepting rent without giving the lessee any "intimation that he regarded the lease as forfeited "71 Nev at 167, 263 P.2d at 613 Until filing the counterclaim, the lessor's actions "affirmed the existence of the lease and recognized the lessee as his tenant." Id.

In Sharp we were concerned about the lessor seeking to terminate the lease after fulling the lessee into believing that its breach of the terms of the lease would be overlooked. In the present case, Doyle cannot reasonably contend that Davidsohn's actions led her to believe that any failure to properly maintain the leased premises would be excused. Davidsohn acted promptly after learning of the deteriorated condition of the buildings. After giving Doyle an apportunity to repair the property, Davidsohn pressed for termination of the lease. Doyle was aware of these efforts as she continued to pay rent for well over a year after Davidsohn brought suit. Thus, Davidsohn did not induce Doyle into believing the breach would be excused

Additionally, the lease involves commercial property. Doyle is *149 a businesswoman subleasing the property for profit, not an unsophisticated residential tenant in need of a roof over her head. Doyle was in need of no special protection from Davidsohn.

Several neighboring jurisdictions permit a lessor in certain instances to accept rent without waiving the right to terminate the lease. See DMV Co. v. Bricker, 137 Ariz, 589, 672 P.2d 933, 935 (1983); Riverside Development Co. v. Ritchie, 103 Idaho 515, 650 P.2d 657, 662-63 (1982); Fogel v. Hagen, 496 P.2d 322, 324 (Colo Ct App 1972). These states recognize the general rule that a landlord's acceptance of rent after notice of a breach waives the right to terminate the lease based on that breach. However, when a lessor takes definite action to terminate a lease, and the lessee opposes the action and remains in possession, these jurisdictions allow the lessor to continue accepting rent from the lessee while pursuing termination. But see Woodland Theatres v. ABC Intermountain Theatres, 560 P 2d 700 (Utah 1977) (finding a waiver even though lessor initiated two actions to terminate lease).

2 We agree with the reasoning of those cases that recognize as an exception to the general rule, a lessor's right to accept rent after a breach by the lessee when the lessor timely expresses his intent to terminate the lease and the lessee nevertheless remains in possession. 5 Irrespective **1230 of who prevails in litigation, the lessee will be liable for rent incurred during the period of possession of the demised premises. The issue is simply one of timing, not of entitlement. Requiring a lessor to forego rental payments until resolution of a dispute may be unduly burdensome, as in the instant case involving a commercial lease with a substantial monthly rental. To recognize a waiver in the present case would be tantamount to sanctioning the breach by allowing Doyle to continue collecting rent from her sublessees without paying Davidsohn or curing the breach. As stated in Riverside Development:

The doctrine of waiver is an equitable doctrine based upon fairness and justice. However, the lessor, who has mortgages, taxes and other expenses to pay, cannot fairly be said to be a beneficiary of such fairness and justice as long as he is forced to avoid the acceptance of any compensation for a tenent's unlawful possession of the property (which may extend for periods of months or years due to litigation), because of the threat that as soon as he does the tenant will cry waiver. 650 P 2d at 662

*150 Based upon our adoption of the exception to the general rule, as discussed above, we hold that Davidsohn did not waive his right to terminate the lease by accepting rental payments from Doyle after knowledge of the breach. Davidsohn timely pursued his action, and we cannot seriously doubt that Doyle was aware of Davidsohn's intention to terminate the lease if repairs were not timely made. Although the first letter sent to Doyle was somewhat equivocal, the second letter and the initiation of the declaratory judgment action adequately notified Doyle that Davidsohn was seeking to terminate the lease because of the state of disrepair of the leased property. Davidsohn's complaint about the condition of the premises appears well supported in the record. Therefore, Davidsohn may pursue his action for termination despite his acceptance of the rent tendered by Doyle

B, Sufficiency of the notice.

- 4 The district court determined that Davidsohn failed to give adequate notice of his intent to terminate the lease, because the March 14, 1988 letter did not satisfy the statutory notice requirements for unlawful detainer actions. Davidsohn contends, however, that the unlawful detainer statute was inapplicable because he sought to terminate Doyle's tenancy under the terms of the lease. We agree and hold that a lessor who seeks termination under a lease provision is not obligated to meet the notice requirements of NRS
- 5 NRS 40 2516 outlines the procedures for regaining possession of real property from a tenant in unfawful detainer. 4 In an unfawful detainer action, strict compliance with the statutory notice provision is a jurisdictional prerequisite. Roberts v. District Court, 43 Nev 332, 340, 185 P 1067, 1069 (1920); Paul v Armstrong, 1 Nev 70, 76 (1865). Here, Davidsohn did not institute an unlawful detainer action; he sought a declaratory *151 judgment terminating the lease pursuant to a provision of the lease. When a lessor seeks termination under a lease provision, the notice requirements for an unlawful detainer action are inapplicable. § Thus, the district court improperly found that Davidsohn was **1231 required to comply with NRS 40.2516.

Because of our disposition of this appeal, it is unnecessary to discuss Doyle's cross-appeal from the district court's ruling denying her attorney's fees.

For the reasons specified above, we reverse the district court's summary judgment in favor of Doyle and remand the case for further proceedings consistent with this opinion.

MOWBRAY, C.J., and ROSE, STEFFEN, and YOUNG, JJ., and LEHMAN, District Judge, A concur.

- NRS 40.2515, in pertinent part, is set forth below:

- Since we have determined that the notice given was sufficient, Davidsohn may be entitled, under the lease, to expenses incurred in drafting and serving the notice of termination to Doyle. The district court, determining that no "notice" was served, denied such expenses.

DISTRICT COURT

DEFENDANT'S OPPOSITION TO PLAINTIFF'S MOTION FOR CONFIRMATION THAT TREASURE ISLAND MAY COLLECT RENT DURING THE PENDENCY OF THE LITIGATION

Date of hearing: September 28, 2015

Time of hearing: 9:30 a.m.

I. INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff/Counter-defendant Treasure Island, LLC's ("Treasure Island") Motion is an impermissible attempt to obtain an advisory opinion from the Court. As Treasure Island concedes, Defendant/Counter-claimant Rose, LLC ("Rose") continues to tender all rental amounts due under the Lease. Moreover, Rose does not dispute that the Nevada Supreme Court's decision in Davidsohn v. Doyle is settled law. Thus, there is no dispute upon which the Court should rule. While Rose agrees that Treasure Island may collect rent, and was required to do so pursuant to the terms of the Lease, no ruling is necessary or proper. An advisory opinion from this Court is inappropriate.

II. BACKGROUND

As Treasure Island concedes, Rose disputes any termination of its Lease and continues to tender rent. Treasure Island and Rose executed their Lease on April 13, 2011. (See Ex. 1 hereto.) Thereafter, on or about June 11, 2011, Rose entered into a sublease for a portion of the leased premises with Senor Frog's Las Vegas, LLC ("Senor Frogs") as the subtenant. Naturally, the Lease contains explicit provisions protecting Rose's tenancy, and Senor Frogs' sub tenancy, from unilateral termination. These protections include Section 15.1.1's instruction that any failure to pay rent could not become an "Event of Default" unless "such failure continues for ten (10) days from Landlord's written notice ...."

Additionally, Section 19.6 of the Lease contains unambiguous requirements for providing proper notice, including the identity and addresses of those individuals who must receive notice of any Event of Default. These individuals include representatives for Rose and Senor Frogs:

19.6 Notices. Any notice or other communication required or permitted to be given by a party hereunder shall be in writing, and ... addressed to the following addresses (each of the parties shall be entitled to specify a different address and/or contact person by giving notice as aforesaid):

See id.

Operanda Andersons S.A is the business address of Senor Frogs. Thus, Treasure Island is required to provide notice to both Rose and Senor Frogs regarding any alleged Event of Default. On April 30, 2014, the parties executed a Fifth Amendment to the Lease updating the notice provisions to provide a current address for Rose and adding Senor Frogs' counsel to the service list. (See Ex. 2 hereto.) No other provision of Section 19.6, including the requirement that Treasure Island's notifications to Rose be sent to the attention of Susan Markusch, was modified.

However, Treasure Island flaunted these notice obligations in the Lease. Despite the explicit instructions of Section 19.6, Treasure Island sent a May 14, 2015, letter to Rose, which purported to provide a notice of default. However, the notice was not sent to the attention of Susan Markusch or copied to Senor Frogs or its counsel. Thus, Treasure Island's "notice" was fundamentally and fatally defective under the Lease's clear terms. Indifferent to Rose's Lease rights and its obligation to provide actual effective notice of any claimed breach, Treasure Island sent a second letter on May 28, 2015, purporting to terminate the Lease, effective immediately. This letter again violated the clear mandates of Section 19.6 and Section 11 as it once again violated the notice provisions of the Lease. Tellingly, Treasure Island filed its Complaint initiating this action at 6:00 p.m. that same day.

Treasure Island seems intent on undermining its own Lease by preventing performance by Rose and Senor Frogs. Toward that apparent end, Treasure Island rejected Rose's May 29, 2015, wire transfer of the amounts that were allegedly overdue. Since that time, Rose continues to timely tender all rental amounts under the Lease, and Treasure Island consistently and stubbornly has either rejected these checks/transfers or held them without deposit, all in breach of the Lease. Now, Treasure Island comes to this Court seeking an advisory opinion so as to ensure that its overreaching doesn't come back to haunt it. Regretfully, it is far too late in the day for Treasure Island's second-guessing.

III. ANALYSIS

As the Court is aware, "[i]t is inappropriate for the courts to issue advisory opinions where there is no justiciable controversy ...." Carlisle v. Spatola, 232 A.D.2d 444, 445 (N.Y. 1996); see e.g., Herbst Gaming, Inc. v. Heller, 122 Nev. 877, 890, 141 P.3d 1224, 1232 (2006) ("Essentially, the district court's determination was an improper advisory opinion. Thus, it is void."); Equitable Trust Co. v. Commodity Futures Trading Comm'n, 669 F.2d 269, 275 (U.S. Ct. App. 1982) ("As the Commission properly points out, this is, in effect, an improper request for an advisory opinion as to who, if anyone, may contest the Commission's emergency order."); see also Legendary Investors Group No. 1, LLC v. DP NPI Century City, LLC, 2013 WL 4496390, at *2 (Cal. Ct. App. 2013) ("We express no opinion about the judgment's preclusive effect on any remaining disputes between the parties since those disputes are not properly before us.").

Here, Rose does not dispute that Treasure Island must accept rent. The clear terms of the Lease require Treasure Island to do so and Rose continues to tender all due amounts. (See Ex. 3 hereto.) Thus, there is no justiciable controversy before the Court and Treasure Island is just trying to have this Court provide a roadmap of insurance for what is contractually necessary to comply with the Lease terms. Rose tendered all rent since the onset of litigation and will continue to do so. Because Treasure Island is not entitled to an advisory opinion regarding Davidsohn v. Doyle, its Motion should be denied. Treasure Island, like any other litigant, must live with any consequences of its strategic maneuvering given the context of unambiguous contractual leasing terms.

Authorities" means those federal, state and local governmental, regulatory and administrative authorities, agencies, boards and officials responsible for or involved in the regulation of gaming or gaming activities in any jurisdiction and, within the State of Nevada, specifically, the Nevada Gaming Commission, the Nevada State Gaming Control Board, together with those local governmental, regulatory and administrative authorities, agencies, boards and officials responsible for or involved in the regulation, licensing or permit authority over the sale, distribution and possession of alcoholic beverage. "Gaming Laws" means all laws pursuant to which any Gaming Authority possesses regulatory, licensing or permit authority over gaming within any applicable jurisdiction and, within the State of Nevada, specifically, the Nevada Gaming Control Act, as codified in NRS Chapter 463, the regulations of the Nevada Gaming Commission and the Nevada State Gaming Control Board promulgated thereunder and the Clark County Code.

2. TERM; HOLDING OVER.

2.1 Term. This Lease shall be for an initial term of ten (10) years commencing on the Commencement Date, unless earlier terminated as provided herein ("Initial Term" and, as may be extended by the Additional Term pursuant to Section 2.3, "Term"). "Commencement Date" means the date that the Tenant opens the Leased Premises for business to the public for Tenant Operations. Within ten (10) days after Landlord's or Tenant's request therefore, Landlord and Tenant shall execute and deliver to the other, who shall execute within ten (10) days of receipt, a Certificate of Commencement, in the form attached hereto as Exhibit "B" setting forth the Commencement Date and the expiration date of the Initial Term of this Lease. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth herein, Tenant shall have the right to terminate this Lease if Tenant is unable to obtain or maintain any permit, license or other consent necessary for Tenant to conduct Tenant Operations in the Leased Premises. In such event, this Lease shall terminate ten (10) days following Tenant's delivery to Landlord of written notice of Tenant's inability to obtain or maintain any permit, license or other consent necessary for Tenant to conduct Tenant Operations in the Leased Premises. For purposes of this Lease, "Lease Year" means, for the first Lease Year, the period beginning on the Commencement Date and ending twelve (12) months thereafter, except that if the Commencement Date is other than the first day of a calendar month, the first Lease Year shall end twelve (12) months from the last day of the calendar month during which the Commencement Date occurs. For the Lease Years after the first Lease Year, "Lease Year" means the twelve (12) month period beginning on the next day following the expiration of the preceding Lease Year. If the Term of this Lease shall end prior to the last day of a Lease Year, the final Lease Year under this Lease shall be deemed to end on the last day of the Term.

- 2.2 Landlord Delivery. Landlord will deliver the Leased Premises on a mutually acceptable date following Landlord's approval of Tenant's Final Plans, as set forth in Section 5.2.2.
- 2.3 Additional Term. Tenant may extend the Term of this Lease for four (4) additional periods of five (5) years (each, an "Additional Term") by providing written notice to Landlord not later than one hundred eighty (180) days prior to the expiration date of the Initial Term or the first Additional Term (each, an "Option"). As set forth in Section 3.1.A of the Lease, Minimum annual rent during each Option Term shall be equal to 105% of the Minimum annual rent payable by Tenant during the period immediately preceding the applicable Option period.
- Holding Over. If Tenant holds over and continues to be in possession of the Leased 2.4 Premises with Landlord's consent after expiration or termination of the Term, such holding over shall be considered to be a tenancy from month-to-month only, subject to all provisions of this Lease except those relating to the Term and any renewal option, and except that the Rent shall be adjusted on the first day of such holding over to be one hundred twenty-five percent (125%) of the Rent payable for the last month of the Term preceding the holding over, prorated for partial months. If Tenant holds over and continues to be in possession of the Leased Premises without Landlord's consent after the expiration or termination of the Term, such holding over shall be a tenancy from month-to-month only, subject to all provisions of this Lease except those relating to the Term and any renewal option and except that the Rent shall be adjusted on the first day of such holding over to be one hundred fifty (150%) of the Rent payable for the last month of the Term preceding the holding over, prorated for partial months; provided, however, the acceptance by Landlord of such Rent during such tenancy shall in no manner limit or preclude Landlord's exercise of any rights or remedies available to Landlord as a result of such holding over, as provided pursuant to the terms of this Lease, at law, or in equity.

3. RENT AND LANDLORD CONTRIBUTION.

- 3.1 Minimum and Percentage Rent. Tenant covenants and agrees to pay to Landlord, without notice or demand, at Landlord's address for notice, as rent for the Premises:
- A. Minimum annual rent in the amount of Six Hundred Twenty Four Thousand Dollars ($624,000) per annum payable in monthly installments of Fifty Two Thousand Dollars ($52,000) in advance upon the first day of each and every month commencing upon the Commencement Date and continuing thereafter through and including the last month of the Lease Term (such monthly installment being hereinafter called "Minimum Monthly Rent"). Upon the first (1st) day of the first Option Term, Minimum Monthly Rent shall be increased to Fifty Four Thousand Six Hundred Dollars ($54,600), and upon the first (1st) day of the second Option Term, Minimum Monthly Rent shall be increased to Fifty Seven Thousand Three Hundred Thirty Dollars ($57,330). If the Commencement Date is other than the first day of a month, Tenant shall pay on the Commencement Date a prorated partial Minimum Monthly Rent for the prior to the first day of the next calendar month.
- В. The amount of seven percent (7%) of "Gross Sales," provided that the amount of Minimum Monthly Rent due and payable by Tenant for each period shall be deducted from Gross Sales before determining seven percent (7%) of Gross Sales, payable in the manner, and under the terms, set forth in Section 3.1.C of this Lease (hereinafter called "Percentage Rent"). "Gross Sales" means, following the Commencement Date, the aggregate of all revenues derived from Tenant Operations, whether from cash or credit. Excluded from Gross Sales for purposes of this Lease shall be: (i) complimentary food or beverage provided to patrons by Tenant at the Leased Premises, (ii) gratuities paid by patrons, including, without, limitation, automatic gratuities charged to patrons and distributed to employees, (iii) returns to vendors or manufacturers, (iv) refunds to customers (but only to the extent included in Gross Sales), (v) sales of fixtures, machinery and equipment after use in Tenant's business in the Leased Premises, (vi) sales of trade fixtures, store equipment, furniture, or furnishings used in the operation of Tenant's business of the Premises, (vii) insurance proceeds, (viii) credit card fees, (ix) sales taxes, so called luxury or value added taxes, casino entertainment taxes or similar taxes now or hereafter imposed upon the sale of products, merchandise or services, whether such taxes are added separately to the selling price thereof and collected from customers or paid by Tenant and included in the retail selling price, (x) amounts collected from patrons for the account of, and for direct payment to, unrelated third parties providing services specifically for a patron's function which generate Gross Sales, such as flowers, music and entertainment, (xi) the amount of overrings, refunds, rebates, discounts and credits given, paid or returned in the course of obtaining Gross Sales in connection with credit card transactions occurring with respect to obtaining Gross Sales, unless recovered by Tenant, (xii) the purchase of gift certificates, but not the redemption of gift certificates; and (xiii) the amount of all themed goods and merchandise (i.e., apparel, accessories and similar merchandise, including without limitation, t-shirts, hats, glassware, souvenirs, etc.) sold, in, upon or from the Leased Premises.
- C. Within 30 days after the end of each calendar quarter during the Lease Term, Tenant shall deliver to Landlord a written statement setting forth the amount of Tenant's Gross Sales made during each month of the preceding calendar quarter and Tenant shall, concurrently therewith, pay Landlord the Percentage Rent due and payable for the preceding calendar quarter.

- 3.2 Default Interest. If Tenant shall fail to pay, when same is due and payable, Rent or any other amount or charge to be paid by Tenant to Landlord hereunder within ten (10) days of the due date, and the same continues for an additional ten (10) days after Tenant's receipt of written notice of such failure, then such unpaid amount shall bear interest from the date such payment is due at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum, compounded monthly ("Default Rate"), payable upon demand; provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall give Tenant the right to pay any such installment of Rent or other amount or charge other than on the due date thereof and Landlord's collection of such Default Interest shall not waive any other rights which Landlord may have hereunder or at law or in equity in respect to such late payment.
- 3.3 Real Estate Taxes and Other Costs. Landlord shall pay or cause to be paid all Real Estate Taxes assessed or imposed upon the Hotel Casino which become due or payable during the Lease Term. As used in this Lease, "Real Estate Taxes" means all real estate taxes, public and governmental chargers and assessments, including extraordinary and special assessments, or assessments against any of Landlord's personal property now or hereafter located in the Hotel Casino, all costs, expenses and attorneys' fees incurred by Landlord in contesting or negotiating with public authorities as to any of the same, but shall not include taxes on Tenant's personal property or assets of Tenant, Tenant agreeing to pay, before delinquency, all taxes upon or attributable to such excluded items without apportionment. Landlord shall pay or cause to be paid all costs of any kind paid or incurred by Landlord in connection with the ownership, management, maintenance, repair, replacement, restoration or operation of the Property (including all Common Areas), including by way of illustration but not limitation, all Real Property Taxes, all costs, charges and surcharges for utilities, water, sewage, janitorial, waste disposal and refuse removal and all other utilities and services provided to the Property, and all insurance costs for the Property.
- Landlord Contribution. Landlord shall provide to Tenant Two Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($2,500,000) ("Landlord Contribution") with Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000.00) payable no later than ten (10) days following the full execution of this Lease, and the remainder due within ten (10) days following Tenant's acquisition of all permits required to commence construction. Commencing on the 15th day following the first full calendar quarter for which Rent is due and payable by Tenant, and continuing on the 15th day following each calendar quarter until such payments equal, in the aggregate, the amount of the Landlord Contribution, Tenant shall deliver to Landlord the Net Income attributable to Tenant Operations for the prior calendar quarter (and any partial calendar quarter, if applicable), if any, as repayment of the Landlord Contribution. "Net Income" means Gross Sales, less all costs and expenses reasonably incurred in the ordinary course of business with respect to all Tenant Operations, which costs and expenses shall include without limitation, the following: (a) all amounts paid by Tenant to Landlord pursuant to the Lease, including but not limited to Minimum Monthly Rent and Percentage Rent; (b) cost of food, beverages, merchandise and other goods sold as part of Tenant Operations; (c) payroll expenses for Tenant employees and reimbursement of payroll expenses, insurance, and union payments relating thereto; (d) credit card fees charged by credit card companies; (e) complimentary expenses; (f) general corporate overhead; (g) advertising and promotion expenses and decoration expenses; (h) dues and subscriptions; (i) cost of uniforms, linen and laundry; (j) cost of maintenance, repairs, refurbishment and replacement of the furniture and equipment; (k) cost of menus; (l) office cost of operating supplies; (n) cost of security services and expense and supplies; (m)

- 15.1.4any representation or warranty made by Tenant or a permitted subtenant or assignee in connection with this Lease shall have been materially false or misleading;
- 15.2 Remedies. Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, in addition to any other rights or remedies provided for herein or at law or in equity, and without barring election of any other remedy, Landlord, at its sole option, shall have the following rights:
- 15.2.1Landlord may terminate this Lease and Tenant's estate hereunder by written notice of such termination; provided, however that the mere giving by Landlord of a Notice to Pay (or perform) or a Notice to Quit shall not, of itself, constitute a notice of termination of this Lease, and Landlord shall recover from Tenant all damages incurred by Landlord by reason of the Event of Default including, but not limited to, (i) the worth at the time of the award of the unpaid Rent and other charges which had been earned at the time of the termination; (ii) the worth at the time of the award of the amount by which the unpaid Rent and other charges which would have been earned after termination until the time of the award exceeds the amount of such rental loss that, to the extent permitted by law, Tenant proves could have been reasonably avoided; and (iii) the worth at the time of the award of the amount by which the unpaid Rent and other charges which would have been paid for the balance of the Term after the time of award exceeds the amount of such rental loss that, to the extent permitted by law, Tenant proves could have been reasonably avoided. As used in subparts (i) and (ii) above, the "worth at the time of the award" is computed by allowing interest on unpaid amounts at the Lease Interest Rate, or such lesser amount as may then be the maximum lawful rate, accruing the date such payments are due until paid. As used in subpart (iii) above, the "worth at the time of the award" is computed by discounting such amount at the discount rate of the Bank of America, National Association at the time of the award, plus one percent (1%), and "Lease Interest Rate" means the lesser of (a) two percentage points (2%) over that fluctuating rate of interest announced from time to time by the Bank of America, National Association as its prime or reference commercial lending rate of interest (or in the event such bank is no longer announcing such rate, by such other federally regulated banking institution of comparable stature as Landlord shall reasonably determine), or (b) the maximum interest rate permitted by law, if any;

15.2.2 without taking possession of the Leased Premises, Landlord may require strict performance of all of the agreements, obligations and covenants hereof as the same shall respectively accrue, and shall have the right of action therefor; and

15.2.3Landlord may take possession of the Leased Premises through suit or termination of this Lease, for the purpose of re-letting them.

15.3Right to Cure. Whenever under any provision of this Lease, Tenant shall be obligated to make any payment or expenditure, make any improvement or repair, or do any act or thing, or to incur any liability whatsoever, and Tenant fails, refuses or neglects to perform within the time period herein required, which time period shall include the expiration of applicable notice and cure periods, Landlord shall be entitled, but shall not be obligated, to make any such payment or to do any such act or thing, or to incur any such liability, all on behalf of at the cost and for the account of Tenant. In such event, the amount thereof with interest thereon at the Default Rate commencing on the date paid by Landlord and until such time as paid in full by Tenant, shall be due and payable by Tenant with the next payment of Minimum Monthly Rent.

16.CASUALTY; CONDEMNATION.

16.1 Casualty.

16.1.1 Destruction. In the case of total destruction of the Leased Premises or the destruction of a material portion of the Leased Premises that substantially interferes with Tenant Operations, whether by fire or other casualty (collectively, "Casualty"), either party may terminate this Lease effective as of the date of such Casualty, by so notifying the other party in writing within thirty (30) days after the date of such Casualty. If Landlord desires to repair the Leased Premises, Landlord may revoke Tenant's termination by so notifying Tenant in writing within thirty (30) days after the date of such Casualty, which notice shall state the estimated time to complete such repairs ("Landlord's Repair Notice"). If the estimated time to complete such repairs is in excess one hundred eighty (180) days, Tenant shall have the right to terminate this Lease by so notifying Landlord in writing, within thirty (30) days after Tenant's receipt of Landlord's Repair Notice. If Landlord elects to repair, and Tenant does not, or is not entitled to, terminate this Lease, and if Landlord proceeds to and does repair the damage with reasonable dispatch, this Lease shall not terminate, but shall continue in full force and effect, except that Tenant shall be entitled to a reduction in the Minimum Rent to an amount equal to that proportion of the Minimum Rent that the number of square feet of floor space in the usable portion bears to the total number of square feet of floor space in the Leased Premises. Minimum Rent shall only be reduced until Landlord substantially completes the repair and restoration of the Leased Premises. If this Lease is terminated pursuant to this Section 16, Rent shall be prorated as of the date of Casualty.

- 16.1.2 Damage Repair by Landlord. If the Leased Premises, exclusive of Tenant's Property not affixed to the Leased Premises, shall be damaged by Casualty but the damage does not substantially interfere with Tenant Operations, Landlord agrees to repair such Leased Premises with reasonable promptness and diligence and in that case the Minimum Rent shall not be abated or reduced. Tenant shall immediately notify Landlord in case of damage due to Casualty or otherwise to the Leased Premises. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if Landlord is required to repair the Leased Premises or portion thereof pursuant to this Section 16.1.2 or elects to repair under Section 16.1.1, as a part of such work, Landlord shall not be required to repair and restore any permanent alterations made by Tenant including any Tenant Improvements or any of Tenant's Property, such excluded items being the sole responsibility of Tenant to repair or restore.
- 16.1.3 Damage to Hotel Casino. In the event the Hotel Casino, not limited to, or not including, the Leased Premises, is damaged such that (a) the building of which the Leased Premises are a part is damaged to the extent of twenty percent (20%) or more of the cost of replacement; or (b) the buildings (taken in the aggregate) of the Hotel Casino are damaged to the extent of more than twenty percent (20%) of the aggregate cost of replacement; and in either event Landlord decides (i) not to repair such damage; (ii) to demolish the Hotel Casino; (iii) in connection with repairing the damage, to discontinue the use of the Leased Premises as retail space for tenants; or (iv) any combination of the foregoing, then Landlord may elect to terminate this Lease upon giving written notice of such election to Tenant within ninety (90) days after the Casualty causing such damage.
- 16.1.4 Insurance Proceeds. All insurance proceeds payable under any insurance policies carried by Landlord shall be payable solely to Landlord, and Tenant shall have no interest therein. Landlord shall not be liable, and Tenant shall in no case be entitled to compensation from Landlord, for damages on account of any loss of business, annoyance or inconvenience in making repairs under any provisions of this Lease. Except to the extent provided for in this Section 16, neither the Rent payable by Tenant nor any of Tenant's other obligations under any provision of this Lease shall be affected by any damage to or destruction of the Leased Premises or any portion of the Leased Premises by any cause whatsoever.
- 16.1.5 Damage Near End of Term. If at any time during the last nine (9) months of the Term there is damage for which the cost to repair exceeds the average monthly Rent amount paid during the last twelve (12) months, either party may terminate this Lease by giving written termination notice to the other party within thirty (30) days from the occurrence of such damage. If this Lease is terminated pursuant to this Section 16.1.5, Rent shall be prorated as of the date of damage.
- 16.1.6 Express Agreement. This Lease shall be considered an express agreement governing any case of damage to or destruction of the Leased Premises and/or the Hotel Casino by fire or other

Casualty, and any present or future law the purpose of which is to govern the rights of Landlord and Tenant in such circumstances in the absence of express agreement, shall have no application.

16.2 Condemnation.

16.2.1Complete and Partial Taking. If the whole of the Leased Premises is lawfully taken by condemnation, eminent domain or in any other manner for any public or quasi-public purpose (each a "Taking"), this Lease shall terminate as of the date of such Taking, and Rent shall be prorated to such date. The date of Taking shall be the date possession of the Leased Premises is granted to the applicable Governmental Authority or other Person. If less than the whole of the Leased Premises is subject to the Taking, this Lease shall be unaffected by such Taking; provided, however, that (a) Tenant shall have the right to terminate this Lease by notice to Landlord given within ninety (90) days after the date of such taking if ten percent (10%) or more of the Leased Premises is taken and the remaining area of the Leased Premises is not reasonably sufficient for Tenant to conduct Tenant Operations, and (b) Landlord shall have the right to terminate this Lease by notice to Tenant given within ninety (90) days after the date of such taking if ten percent (10%) or more of the Leased Premises is taken; provided, further, however, Landlord shall not have the right to terminate this Lease unless Landlord also terminates the leases of any other tenants who have suffered the same extent of Taking as suffered by Tenant. If either Landlord or Tenant so elects to terminate this Lease, the Lease shall terminate on the thirtieth (30th) day after either such notice. The Rent shall be prorated to the date of termination. If this Lease continues in force upon such partial Taking, the Minimum Rent shall be equitably adjusted according to the remaining rentable areas of the Leased Premises.

16.2.2 Proceeds. In the event of any Taking, partial or whole, all of the proceeds of any award, judgment or settlement payable by the condemning Governmental Authority shall be the exclusive property of Landlord, and Tenant hereby assigns to Landlord any and all of its right, title and interest in any award, judgment or settlement from the condemning Governmental Authority; provided, however, that Tenant shall have the right, to the extent that Landlord's award, judgment or settlement is not reduced or prejudiced, to claim from the condemning Governmental Authority (but not from Landlord) such compensation as may be recoverable by Tenant in its own right for relocation expenses and damage to Tenant's Property.

16.2.3 Landlord's Restoration Obligation. In the event of a partial Taking of the Leased Premises which does not result in a termination of this Lease, Landlord shall, at its sole cost and expense, undertake any restoration or repair to the remaining portion of the Leased Premises necessary for the Leased Premises to be as nearly as practicable to their condition prior to the Taking. Tenant shall be responsible at its sole cost and expense for the repair, restoration and replacement of any Tenant's Property in connection with the same.

17.REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND COVENANTS.

17.1 Landlord's Representations, Warranties and Covenants. Landlord hereby represents, warrants and covenants to Tenant, as of the Effective Date and at all times during the Term, that:
(a) Landlord is a limited liability company, duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Nevada, and is duly qualified and in good standing as a foreign entity in the jurisdictions wherein the nature of the business transacted by it or property owned by it make such qualification necessary; (b) Landlord has the valid limited liability company power to enter into and perform all of its obligations under this Lease and this Lease has been authorized by all necessary limited liability company action; (c) there are no known actions, suits or proceedings pending or, to the best knowledge of Landlord, threatened against Landlord by any Governmental Authority which would prevent Landlord from completing the transaction provided for herein; (d) this Lease and the other agreements and instruments contemplated hereby constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of Landlord, enforceable in accordance with their respective terms except to the extent such enforcement may be limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, and other similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally and general principles of equity; and (e) that Landlord shall conduct, or cause to be conducted, the live-entertainment show, known as the pirate show, in the same location adjacent to the Leased Premises, and in substantially the same form as it is conducted, as of March 2011.

17.2 Tenant's Representations, Warranties and Covenants. Tenant hereby represents, warrants and covenants to Landlord, as of the Effective Date and at all times during the Term, that: (a) Tenant is a limited liability company, duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of its organization, and is duly qualified and in good standing as a foreign entity in the jurisdictions wherein the nature of the business transacted by it or property owned by it make such qualification necessary; (b) Tenant has the valid limited liability company power to enter into and perform all of its obligations under this Lease and this Lease has been authorized by all necessary corporate action; and (c) this Lease and the other agreements and instruments contemplated hereby constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of Tenant, enforceable in accordance with their respective terms except to the extent such enforcement may be limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, and other similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally and general principles of equity.

18.SUBORDINATION.

18.1 Subordination of Tenant's Interest. This Lease and Tenant's interest in the Leased Premises is subordinate to any lien, mortgage or deed of trust now or hereafter placed, charged or enforced against the Leased Premises or the Property (collectively, a "Mortgage"), provided that such subordination shall be conditioned upon Tenant's right to quiet possession of the Leased Premises during the Term not being disturbed. If a Mortgagee ("Mortgagee" means the mortgagee under a mortgage or beneficiary under a deed of trust holding a lien encumbering the Property or any part thereof) requests a reasonable subordination, non-disturbance and attornment agreement, Landlord shall pay Tenant's reasonable costs and expenses incurred in connection therewith, and Landlord agrees to obtain a subordination, non-disturbance and attornment agreement from any current and future Mortgagee in a form reasonably acceptable to Tenant and such Mortgagee. In the event Landlord is unable to obtain a subordination, non-disturbance and attornment agreement in a form reasonably acceptable to Tenant and executed by Landlord and the current Mortgagee within thirty (30) days after Tenant's request, Tenant shall have the right to terminate this Lease.

18.2 Attornment. Tenant shall, in the event any proceedings are brought for the foreclosure of the Leased Premises or in the event of exercise of the power of sale under any Mortgage covering the Leased Premises, attorn to the purchaser upon such foreclosure or sale, and recognize such purchaser as the Landlord under this Lease.

19.MISCELLANEOUS.

19.1 Certificates. At any time, and from time to time, within thirty (30) days after notice of request by either party, the other party shall execute, acknowledge, and deliver to the requesting party or to such other recipient as the notice shall direct, a statement: (a) certifying that this Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect, or, if there have been any modifications, that it is in full force and effect, as modified in the manner specified in the statement; (b) stating the date to which the Rent and any other charges have been paid in advance; (c) acknowledging that there are not, to the non-requesting party's knowledge, any uncured defaults on the party of the requesting party hereunder, or specifying such defaults if they are claimed; and (d) containing such other information regarding this Lease as the requesting party reasonably requests. The statement shall be such that it can be relied on by any auditor, creditor, commercial banker, or investment banker of either party and by any prospective encumbrancer of the Leased Premises, or of all or any part of Tenant's or Landlord's interests under this Lease. A party's failure to execute, acknowledge and deliver the certified statement described above within the specified time shall constitute acknowledgment by such party to all persons entitled to rely on the statements that the Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect, that the Rent and other charges have been duly and fully paid to and including the respective due dates immediately preceding the date of the notice of request, that such information regarding this Lease set forth therein is true and complete, and shall constitute a waiver, with respect to all persons entitled to rely on the statement, of any defaults that may exist before the date of notice.

19.2Signage. Throughout the Term, Landlord shall, at no additional expense to Tenant: (a) provide directional signage from the Hotel Casino and within the Property to the Leased Premises, and (b) include Tenant on all digital marquees, including prominent exposure on the primary marquee. As part of Tenant's Work, Tenant shall have the right to install signage on the exterior wall of the Leased Premises, subject to the mutual agreement of the Parties. Without limiting the foregoing, Tenant shall be afforded an equal opportunity to advertise in all of Landlords' advertising featuring other restaurant or bar/lounge tenants at the Property and at equal cost to other tenants.

19.3 Waiver of Rights. Failure to insist on compliance with any of the obligations and covenants hereof shall not be deemed a waiver of such agreements, obligations and covenants, nor shall any waiver or relinquishment of any right or power hereunder at any one or more time or times be deemed a waiver or relinquishment of such rights or powers at other times. Exercise of any right or remedy shall not impair Landlord's or Tenant's right to any other remedy.

19.4 Assignment; Sublease. Notwithstanding any references herein to successors, assigns, subtenants and licensees, Tenant shall not assign or in any manner transfer, sublease, mortgage, pledge, hypothecate or encumber this Lease or any right, option or interest of Tenant herein, without the prior written consent of Landlord, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed; provided, however, in all cases, the proposed assignee, sublessee, transferee, mortgagor or pledgor must, at a minimum, be approved by Landlord's compliance committee. No assignment shall release Tenant of any of its obligations under this Lease or be construed as, or constitute a waiver of, any of Landlord's rights or remedies hereunder. Landlord will accept Rent and other amounts due and payable by Tenant pursuant to this Lease directly from a sublessee of Tenant. The acceptance of Rent by Landlord from any other person shall not be deemed to be a waiver of any provision of this Lease or consent to the assignment of Tenant's interest in this Lease. Absent a written agreement to the contrary which is executed by Landlord, no assignment, sublease, mortgage, pledge, hypothecation or encumbrance of this Lease by Tenant shall act as, or affect a release of, Tenant from any of the agreements, obligations and covenants of this Lease to be performed by Tenant hereunder. Without limiting the foregoing, it is understood and agreed that neither this Lease nor the leasehold interest created hereunder shall pass by operation of law under any state or federal insolvency, bankruptcy or inheritance act, or any similar law now or hereafter in effect, to any trustee, receiver, assignee for the benefit of creditors, heirs, legatees, devisees, or any other Person whomsoever without the prior written consent of Landlord. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, Tenant may, without Landlord's prior written consent, assign or sublease this Lease (i) Senor Frogs Las Vegas, LLC, a Nevada limited liability company, (ii) to a Tenant Affiliate, (iii) in connection with a sale of all or substantially all of the Tenant Operations, or (iv) the merger or consolidation of Tenant with another entity.

19.5Quiet Enjoyment; Right of Access. Tenant shall lawfully, peaceably, and quietly have, hold, occupy and enjoy the Leased Premises during the Term without hindrance or ejection by Landlord or by any persons lawfully claiming under Landlord. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Landlord and its authorized agents and representatives shall be entitled to enter the Leased Premises with reasonable notice, or immediately in the case of emergency, for the purpose of (a) observing, posting or keeping posted thereon notices provided for hereunder or required by Applicable Laws, or such other notices as Landlord may reasonably deem necessary or appropriate, (b) reasonably inspecting the Leased Premises, (c) exhibiting the Leased Premises to prospective purchasers or tenants; provided, however, Landlord shall not exhibit the Leased Premises to tenants prior to the last twelve (12) months of the Term, and (d) making repairs to the Leased Premises required by Landlord hereunder and reasonably performing any work upon the Leased Premises in accordance with the terms hereof.

19.6 Notices. Any notice or other communication required or permitted to be given by a party hereunder shall be in writing, and shall be deemed to have been given by such party to the other party or parties (a) on the date of personal delivery, (b) on the date delivered by a nationally recognized overnight courier service when deposited for overnight delivery, (c) on the next Business Day following any facsimile transmission to a party at its facsimile number set forth below; provided, however, such delivery is concurrent with delivery pursuant to the provisions of clauses (a), (b) or (d) of this Section 19.6, or (d) three (3) Business Days after being placed in the United States mail, as applicable, registered or certified, postage prepaid addressed to the following addresses (each of the parties shall be entitled to specify a different address and/or contact person by giving notice as aforesaid):

- 19.8 Severability. If any part of this Lease is determined to be void, invalid or unenforceable, such void, invalid, or unenforceable portion shall be deemed to be separate and severable from the other portions of this Lease, and the other portions shall be given full force and effect, as though the void, invalid or unenforceable portions or provisions were never a part of the Lease.
- 19.9 Amendment, Modification and Waiver. No supplement, modification, waiver or termination of this Lease shall be binding unless executed in writing by both parties. No waiver of any of the provisions of this Lease shall be deemed or shall constitute a waiver of any other provisions (whether or not similar), nor shall such waiver constitute a continuing waiver unless otherwise expressly provided.
- 19.10 Headings. Section or Subsection headings are not to be considered part of this Lease and are included solely for convenience and reference and shall not be held to define, construe, govern or limit the meaning of any term or provision of this Lease. References in this Lease to a Section or Subsection shall be reference to a Section or Subsection of this Lease unless otherwise stated or the context otherwise requires.
- 19.11Governing Law; Jurisdiction; Litigation. This Lease has been prepared, executed and delivered in, and shall be interpreted under, the internal laws of the State of Nevada, without giving effect to its conflict of law provisions. Each of the parties hereto irrevocably and unconditionally waives any objection to the laying of venue of any action, suit or proceeding arising out of this Lease or the transactions contemplated hereby in (a) the courts of the State of Nevada, Clark County, or (b) the United States District Court for the District of Nevada, and hereby further irrevocably and unconditionally waives and agrees not to plead or claim in any such court that any such action, suit or proceeding brought in any such court has been brought in an inconvenient forum. The parties hereto waive trial by jury in any action or proceeding brought in connection with this Lease.

- 19.12 Interpretation. This Lease is to be deemed to have been prepared jointly by the parties hereto, and if any inconsistency or ambiguity exists herein, it shall not be interpreted against either party but according to the application of rules of the interpretation of contracts, if such an uncertainty or ambiguity exists. Each party has had the availability of legal counsel with respect to its execution of this Lease.
- 19.13 Third Persons. Nothing in this Lease, expressed or implied, is intended to confer upon any Person other than the parties hereto any rights or remedies under or by reason of this Lease.
- 19.14 Attorneys' Fees. In the event any party incurs legal fees or other costs to enforce any of the terms of this Lease, to resolve any dispute with respect to its provisions, or to obtain damages for breach thereof, whether by prosecution or defense, the unsuccessful party to such action shall pay the prevailing party's reasonable expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees and costs, incurred in such action.
- 19.15Binding Effect. This Lease and the agreements set forth herein shall be binding upon the heirs, executors, successors and permitted assigns of the parties hereto.
- 19.16 Brokers. Landlord and Tenant hereby represent and warrant that they have no dealings with any broker or agent in connection with this Lease and covenant to pay, hold harmless and indemnify each other from and against any and all cost, expense or liability for any compensation, commissions and charges claimed by any broker or agent with respect to this Lease or the negotiation thereof.
- 19.17 Recording. Neither Landlord nor Tenant shall record this Lease. Landlord and Tenant agree to execute, acknowledge and deliver at any time after the date of this Lease, at the request of the other party, a short-form memorandum of this Lease suitable for recording, setting forth the Lease Term, the extension options and such other provisions of this Lease as Landlord and Tenant shall reasonably deem appropriate, and such short-form memorandum may be recorded at Landlord's or Tenant's option.
- 19.18 Counterparts. This Lease may be executed in any number of counterparts, each one of which so executed shall be deemed an original, and all of which shall together constitute one and the same agreement. A facsimile signature shall have the same effect as an original signature.
- 19.19 Force Majeure. Neither party shall be deemed in breach hereunder and neither shall be liable to the other if either fails to perform any of its obligations hereunder by reason of any fire, earthquake, flood, epidemic, accident, explosion, labor dispute, riot, civil disturbance, act of public enemy or terrorism, embargo, war, act of God, any municipal, county, state or national ordinance or law, any executive or judicial order, or similar event beyond such party's control (financial inability excepted) (each a "Force Majeure Event"); provided, however, that no party shall be entitled to relief under this Section 19.19 unless such party shall have given the other party reasonable notice of such Force Majeure Event.

19.21 Exclusion of Certain Parties. The parties acknowledge that neither Phil Ruffin nor any related enterprise apart from Licensor, individually or collectively, is a party to this Agreement or any exhibit or agreement attached hereto. 1. The Parties agree Section 2.3 is amended and replaced as follows:

"Tenant may extend the Term of this Lease for four (4) additional periods of five (5) years (each, an "Additional Term") by providing written notice to Landlord not later than one hundred eighty (180) days prior to the expiration date of the Initial Term or that Additional Term (each, an "Option"). Minimum Annual Rent for the Option terms is set forth in Section 3.1(A), herein. Minimum Annual Rent for the third and fourth Option terms shall be equal to 105% of the Minimum Annual Rent payable by Tenant during the period immediately preceding the applicable Option period."

    - "In addition, the Trade Name may include the approved operating name of a Complementary Use conducted by Tenant."
  - 7. The Parties agree Section 17.1 is amended to remove existing item (e), which encompasses Landlord's representation, warranty and covenant to Tenant that, as of the Effective Date and at all times during the Term, Landlord shall conduct, or cause to be conducted, the live-entertainment show, known as the pirate show, in the same location adjacent to the Leased Premises, and in substantially the same form as it was conducted, as of March 2011.
  - 8. The Parties agree Section 19.2 is amended to include the following:

"In addition, Tenant shall have the right to install signage on the exterior of the Leased Premises identifying its Complementary Use business, subject to Landlord's reasonable approval and Clark County approval as to such exterior signage. For purposes of this Section 19.2, all signage and advertising available to Tenant shall be available to be shared between Subtenant and the Complementary Use business."

- 9. The Parties agree the Lease is amended to include the following new Section 20 for the benefit of Señor Frog's Las Vegas, LLC, a current subtenant of Tenant ("Subtenant"):
- a. Provided there is a Sublease in full force and effect between Tenant and Subtenant ("Sublease"), and Subtenant is not in default under such Sublease (beyond any period given the Subtenant under the Sublease to cure any default) then:
- i. Subtenant's right of possession to the subleased portion of the Leased Premises and Subtenant's other rights arising out of such Sublease as defined by Tenant and Subtenant as part of such Sublease shall not be affected or disturbed by the Landlord in the exercise of any of its rights under the Lease or the obligations which it secures subject to Landlord's right to demand a new leasing agreement with Subtenant as outlined below. To the extent the Lease Agreement is terminated by Landlord due to a default by Tenant and Subtenant is not in default under the Sublease, Subtenant and Landlord will enter into negotiations for a new leasing agreement for either the subleased portion of the Leased Premises or the entire Leased Premises in Landlord's discretion and in a form acceptable to Subtenant and Landlord to replace the Sublease. Landlord may require from Subtenant any of the financial assurances it has required from Tenant or might require from any other primary lessee for the purpose of any new leasing agreement.
- ii. In the event any person acquires title to the subleased portion of the Leased Premises by conveyance or sale or any related proceeding, the Landlord covenants that any such transfer of the subleased portion of the Leased Premises shall be made subject to the Sublease and the rights of Subtenant under the Sublease, provided that in such event, Subtenant covenants and agrees to attorn to such person as its new landlord, and the Sublease shall continue in full force and effect as a direct lease between the new landlord and the Subtenant upon all of the terms, covenants, conditions, and agreements set forth in the Sublease and/or any additional amendments. However, in no event shall the new landlord be:
  - i) liable for any act or omission of Subtenant;
- ii) bound by any payment of rent or additional rent made by Subtenant to the Tenant for more than one month in advance.
- b. The Sublease shall be subject and subordinate to the rights of the Landlord or any new landlord under the Agreement, to the extent applicable.
- c. Any notices required or permitted to be given under this Agreement shall be in writing and personally delivered, given by certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, or delivered by overnight courier, in each instance addressed to the parties at the addresses listed in the first paragraph of this Agreement or at such other addresses as the parties may designate in writing as provided herein for the purpose of receiving notices under this Agreement. Notices shall be deemed given when actually received by the recipient, or when the recipient thereof refuses receipt.

- d. This Agreement: (a) shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective legal representatives, successors, and assigns; (b) may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original but together shall constitute one and the same instrument; (c) constitutes the entire agreement of the parties hereto concerning its subject matter except as outlined herein; and, (d) may not be modified except in writing signed by both parties or by their respective successors in interest.
- c. The above provisions shall be self-operative and effective without the execution of any further instruments on the part of either party. However, Subtenant shall execute and deliver to Landlord, or any such person to whom Subtenant agrees to attorn, such other instruments as either shall reasonably request in order to comply with these provisions. In addition, at Tenant's request, Landlord shall execute and deliver to Tenant and Subtenant a separate instrument confirming these provisions. In such event, the separate instrument shall include the following: THE PARTIES HERETO, HEREBY KNOWINGLY, VOLUNTARILY AND INTENTIONALLY WAIVE ANY RIGHT THEY MAY HAVE TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN RESPECT OF ANY LITIGATION BASED ON THIS INSTRUMENT, OR ARISING OUT OF, UNDER OR IN CONNECTION WITH THIS INSTRUMENT, OR ANY COURSE OF CONDUCT, COURSE OF DEALING, STATEMENTS (WHETHER VERBAL OR WRITTEN) OR ACTIONS OF ANY PARTY WITH RESPECT HERETO. THIS PROVISION IS A MATERIAL INDUCEMENT FOR LANDLORD'S ACCEPTANCE OF THIS INSTRUMENT.
- f. The provisions of this Section 20(c) shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the parties, their heirs, successors and assigns.
- g. Except as outlined in this Section 20(c), nothing herein otherwise modifies the rights, obligations or the remedies of the parties where applicable with respect to the Agreement as amended or the Sublease.
- 10. Except as otherwise set forth herein or in any other applicable instruments as outlined in Section 20(c) of the Agreement as amended, the terms and conditions of the Agreement shall remain in full force and effect.
- 11. The Parties agree that for purposes of Section 19.6 of the Lease, Tenant's notice address is updated to 5690 DTC Boulevard, Suite 515, Greenwood Village, CO 80111, and that copies of notices sent to Tenant per the Lease shall also be sent to Subtenant addressed to: Operadora Andersons S.A. de C.V, Boulevard Kukulkan km 14.2, Cancun, Mexico, C.P. 77500 Zona Hotelera, and to Subtenant's counsel, addressed to: Ronald R. Fieldstone, Esq. and Susan Trench, Esq., Arnstein & Lehr LLP, 200 South Biscayne Boulevard, Suite 3600, Miami, Florida 33131.

WHEREAS, IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Parties have signed this Fifth Amendment to Lease Agreement as of the dates set forth below.

Re: Lease Agreement between Treasure Island, LLC and Rose, LLC (April 13, 2011), First Amendment to Lease Agreement (October 10, 2011), Second Amendment to Lease Agreement (December 22, 2011), Third Amendment to Lease Agreement (April 20, 2012), Fourth Amendment to Lease Agreement (April 18, 2013), and Fifth Amendment to Lease Agreement (April 30, 2014) (collectively, "Lease"); Sublease between Rose, LLC and Senor Frogs Las Vegas, LLC (June 2011), First Amendment to Sublease (October 4, 2011), Second Amendment to Sublease (April 20, 2012), and Amended Sublease (May 6, 2014) (collectively, "Sublease"); Subordination, Non-Disturbance and Attornment Agreement between Treasure Island, LLC, Rose LLC and Senor Frogs Las Vegas, LLC (May 6, 2014) ("Attornment Agreement"); Treasure Island Lease Notice (May 28, 2015) ("TI Lease Notice"); Treasure Island Payment Notice (June 3, 2015) ("TI Payment Notice").

Rose, LLC ("Rose") previously provided Treasure Island, LLC ("Treasure Island") with a TI Lease Notice. Although the Lease provides Treasure Island with only limited cure rights in the event of a breach of Treasure Island's obligations, Treasure Island has not taken any steps to cure its notice and enforcement breaches under the Lease and Attornment Agreement. Accordingly, Treasure Island is now in default under Sections 19.6 and 19.20 of the Lease and Section 3 of the Attornment Agreement.

Rose also previously provided Treasure Island with a TI Payment Notice. Section 3.1 of the Lease specifically addresses rental payment transmission and receipt obligations and requires Rose to pay Treasure Island rent "at Landlord's address for notice . . . . " To date, however, Treasure Island has refused rental payments tendered by Rose under the Lease to Treasure Island's address for notice pursuant to Section 19.6 of the Lease. Indeed, Treasure Island rejected rental payments tendered by Rose to Treasure Island's address for Lease notice purposes subsequent to the TI Payment Notice in July, August and September of 2015. And Treasure Island again has failed to cure its rental payment receipt breaches under the Lease. Accordingly, Treasure Island is now in default under Sections 3.1 and 19.20 of the Lease as well,

To the extent that Treasure Island believes it has discretion under the Lease with respect to rental payments or receipt, it has not acted in good-faith by rejecting rental payments for the Leased Premises during a period of uncontested occupancy pursuant to the other terms of the Lease and without advance leave from a presiding court to ignore or modify the existing unambiguous Lease terms regarding payment.

In short, Treasure Island cannot manufacture a breach of the Lease by ignoring the notice provisions in the Lease and unilaterally rejecting rental payments tendered by Rose and/or Treasure Island in accordance with the Lease. And in doing so, Treasure Island has breached the Lease itself.

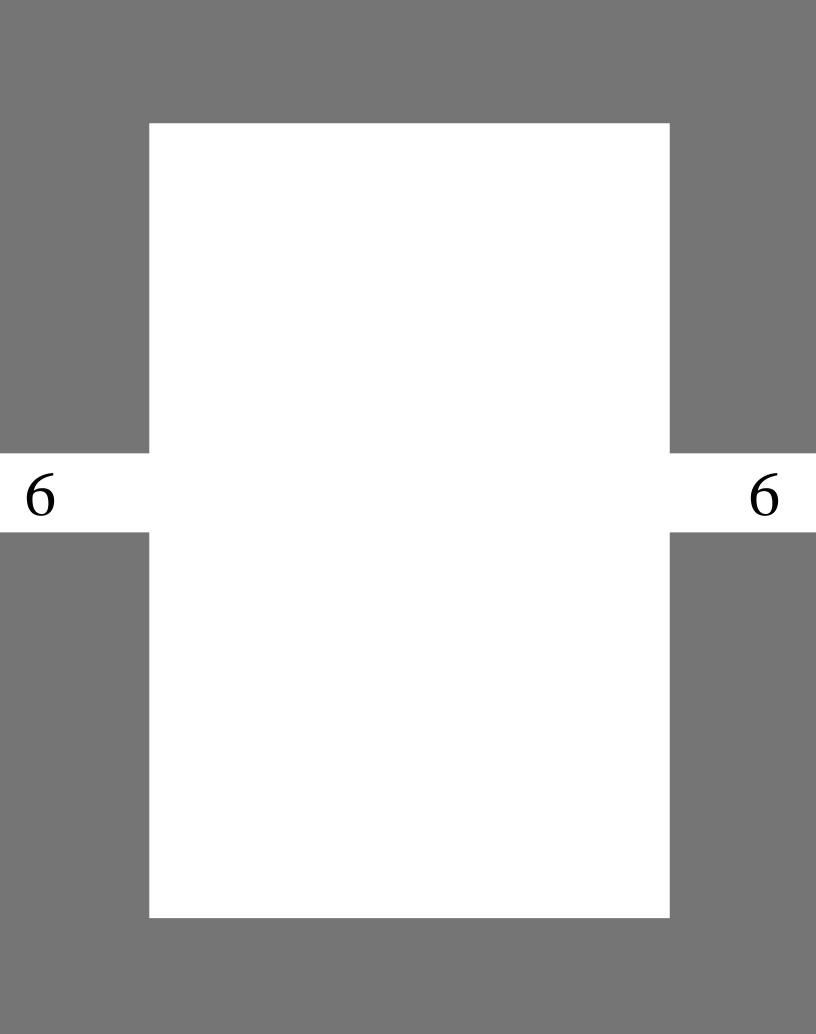

Rose remains concerned that Treasure Island is trying to prevent Rose performance under the Lease, interfere with Rose's quiet enjoyment of the Lease Premises, or otherwise meddle in Rose tenant or subtenant operations. It is unclear to Rose whether Treasure Island is breaching the Lease to circumvent or interfere with Rose's relationship with Senor Frogs Las Vegas, LLC ("Senor Frogs"), or if Treasure Island is breaching the Lease due to its own alternative business plans for the Lease Premises. In any case, Rose reserves all of its rights and remedies under the law, including but not limited to those outlined in Sections 19.14 and 19.20 of the Lease.

Sincerely,

Rose Management, Inc., Manager

Defendant Rose states in its opposition that it does not dispute that the Nevada Supreme Court's decision in Davidsohn v. Doyle is settled law. In that case, the Supreme Court held that one could accept rent during the pendency of litigation involving whether a lease termination was effective or not without a waiver of any claims. Out of an abundance of caution the Plaintiff filed a motion making sure that if it accepted the rent payments (see letter from Defendant Rose demanding that Plaintiff accept the rent payments attached as Exhibit A) Defendant could not claim that Plaintiff waived its claim that the Lease had been terminated.

Defendant Rose now claims that there is no controversy because the law is well settled. This presumably means that the law is well settled that Defendant Rose cannot claim that Plaintiff waived its right to declare that the Lease has been terminated, as a result of Rose's default (Rose claims that the Lease has not been terminated due to deficiencies in the notices), by accepting rent during the pendency of the litigation. Assuming this is the case and that Defendant agrees that it cannot claim Plaintiff waived its right to declare the Lease terminated by acceptance of rent during the pendency of litigation, there is no controversy and no need for the motion.

On the other hand, if Defendant is going to claim that the acceptance of the rent during the pendency of litigation was a waiver of Plaintiff's rights, then there is a controversy and Plaintiff has a right for the court to issue an order.

              THE COURT: -- Senor Frog's or somebody; right?
 4
              MR. SHEEHAN: Rose LLC.
 5
              MR. RICKARD: Rose LLC, Your Honor.
              THE COURT:
 6
                        Okay.
 7
              MR. SHEEHAN: Pat Sheehan on behalf of -- 8
              THE COURT:
                        This is odd, Mr. Sheehan.
 9
              MR. SHEEHAN:
                            Understood, Your Honor.

10
              MR. RICKARD: Jarrod Rickard on behalf of the 12 defendants, Your Honor.

13
              MR. SHEEHAN: Here's the thing, Your Honor.
14 cited in our brief, we have a case that says that while 15 parties are disputing whether or not a lease has been 16 terminated it's okay to accept rent.
17
              THE COURT: As long as they're continuing to occupy 18
    the premises.
19
              MR. SHEEHAN: As long as they're continuing to 20 occupy the premises. And so out of an abundance of caution w 21 want to make sure that that's okay, because we don't want them 22 to argue later, hey, by accepting the rent you've waived the 23 termination. And so --
24
              THE COURT: Well, but they say your termination was 25
   bad.

They say our termination was bad. MR. SHEEHAN: so we say, okay, you know, we're fine to argue about whether the termination is bad or good, but we don't want you to come back to us later and say, by accepting the rent you've waived the claim that the termination --

> THE COURT: I understand.

MR. SHEEHAN: And they have filed a lawsuit against us for not accepting the rent, so we're kind of stuck in a So we just asked them to stipulate, okay, stipulate --

THE COURT: Usually when they send you a wire with money in, you don't reject it. But --

MR. SHEEHAN: Well, understood. But then we don't want them to say, by accepting you've waived your claim that the lease is terminated.

THE COURT: I know what you're trying to do.

MR. SHEEHAN: And so all we ask them is to stipulate that by accepting -- by us accepting the rent we haven't waived our right to termination and we can leave. they're not going to do that and they're going to argue differently, then we've got an issue for the Court.

THE COURT: So I've done it two ways. occupancy continues had it go to the landlord, because you're actually continuing to use the property. Some people who have had more of a fight over other issues about the amounts I put portions of it that are still disputed in an escrow account.

    Do you guys care?
 3
              MR. RICKARD: My clients obviously don't care, Your 4
    Honor, because we've been tendering the rent to the landlord.
    Our preference would be that the landlord --
 5
              THE COURT: Okay.
 6
 7
              MR. RICKARD: -- accepts the rent that we're 8 tendering to it.
 9
              THE COURT:
                         And I'm not going to say it's a waiver, but you guys can argue all you want about whether there's 10 defaults, bad notice, what's going to happen, and some day 11
    we'll talk about it.
12
13
              MR. SHEEHAN: I appreciate it, Your Honor.
14
              THE COURT: So please continue to pay the rent 15 during the period of occupancy.
16
              MR. SHEEHAN:
                            Okay. So the order should be that the 17
    Court orders them to continue to pay the rent during the 18 pendency of occupancy and -- 19
              THE COURT: They may continue. You may accept the 20 rent they tender.
                       How's that?
21
              MR. SHEEHAN:
                            Perfect.
                                      Thank you, Your Honor.
22
              THE COURT: I'm not ordering them to do anything.
23
                            But the motion is denied; correct,
              MR. RICKARD:
    Your Honor?
24
25
              THE COURT: Well, the motion's granted in part.

```
MR. RICKARD: What's granted?
 1
2
              THE COURT:
                           They may accept the rent if you tender
 3
    it.
                             There's no basis for them to claim
 4
              MR. RICKARD:
 5
    that we've stipulated anything or the Court's given an advisory opinion about -- 6
7
              THE COURT: Nobody's stipulated, nobody's given an 8 advisory opinion, but they're not waiving any defenses as a 9
    result of accepting any tenders of rent you make.
              MR. RICKARD: Okay.

represented by Jarod Rickard of Pisanelli Bice, PLLC; the Court having reviewed the motion, the opposition and entertained oral argument finds as follows: The Nevada Supreme Court has set forth in the case of Davidsohn v. Doyle, 108 Nev 145 (1992) that a landlord may accept rent during the pendency of litigation even after it alleges its lease has been terminated (as long as the tenant continues to occupy the premises) accordingly the motion is granted as far as Treasure Island, LLC can accept rent during the pendency of the litigation (as long as Rose continues to occupy the premises) without waiving its claim that the lease has been terminated. It is further noted that Rose, LLC has not waived any of its claims or defenses in this matter by tendering the rent either.

Dated this day of October, 2015.

Respectfully Submitted By:

Rose is a Nevada limited liability company. 26 2. Rose is informed and believes and thereon alleges that Counterdefendant 27 Treasure Island, LLC ("Treasure Island") is a Nevada limited liability company. 28

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

- A. Under the Direction of its Owner, Treasure Island Enters Into a Lease With Rose.
- 3. On or about April 13, 2011, Rose, as the tenant, and Treasure Island, as the landlord, entered into a Lease Agreement (the "Lease") for premises located within the Treasure Island resort hotel casino, consisting of approximately 18,135 square feet (the "Premises").
- 4. The Lease identifies that the Premises are to be used for the operation of a bar, lounge, restaurant and/or nightclub.
- 5. Rose is informed and believes that the primary decision-maker for Treasure Island with respect to the Lease is the owner of Treasure Island, Phillip Ruffin ("Ruffin"). Rose is informed and believes that Ruffin directed leasing negotiations with Rose as well as leasing amendments in December, 2011, March through April, 2014 and June through July, 2015.
- 6. Rose is informed and believes that Ruffin conveyed his position on leasing issues through Treasure Island employees Brad Anthony ("Anthony"), Najam Khan ("Khan"), and/or Jerry Griffis ("Griffis"), all of whom were not authorized to take material actions with respect to the Lease without the advance approval of Ruffin. Indeed, leasing decisions by Treasure Island were often delayed or deferred in order to accommodate Ruffin's work and travel schedule.
  - B. The Lease's Notice Provisions Require Notice to Rose and its Subtenant.
- 7. On or about June 11, 2011, Rose entered into a sublease for a portion of the leased Premises with Senor Frog's Las Vegas, LLC ("Senor Frogs") as the subtenant.
- 8. Section 15 of the Lease identifies certain events of default whereby Rose may be deemed to be in default of the Lease ("Events of Default").
- 9. Such Events of Default include Rose's failure "to pay any installment of Rent or any other amount or charge required to be paid by Tenant to Landlord pursuant to the terms of this Lease, and such failure continues for ten (10) days from Landlord's written notice to Tenant...."

	10.	Sect	ion 19.	6 of the Lease id	entifies the	e ma	anner in wh	ich	the p	oarties a	are to	pı	ovide
"[a]ny	notice	or	other	communication	required	or	permitted	to	be	given	by	a	party hereun	der	."

- 11. Pursuant to Section 19.6, any notice to Rose must be directed to the attention of Susan Markusch at the address identified. Additionally, a copy of any such notice must be provided to Senor Frogs.
- 12. Section 19.20 of the Lease governs the process by which the landlord shall remedy its default.
- 13. On or about April 30, 2014, the parties entered into a Fifth Amendment of the Lease which, among other things, updated certain contact information for notice purposes under the Lease with respect to both Rose and Senor Frogs and imposed an additional requirement that Senor Frog's counsel be copied on any notice.

C. Treasure Island Breaches the Lease by Failing to Provide Adequate Notice.

- 14. On or about May 14, 2015, Treasure Island sent correspondence purporting to provide Rose with notice of an alleged breach of the Lease ("Alleged Breach Notice").
- 15. However, despite the terms of Section 19.6, Treasure Island failed to deliver its Alleged Breach Notice to the attention of Susan Markusch. Additionally, Treasure Island failed to send a copy to Senor Frogs or counsel for Senor Frogs.
- 16. Having failed to comply with the Lease's express notice provisions, Treasure Island cannot claim that Rose is in default of the Lease.
- 17. Treasure Island's failure to comply with the Lease's express notice provision prevented Rose's performance of the Lease.
- 18. Despite this, Treasure Island sent correspondence to Rose on or about May 28, 2015, purporting to terminate the Lease ("Alleged Termination"). However, like the Alleged Breach Notice, the Alleged Termination failed to comply with the notice requirements of Section 19.6.
  - 19. Treasure Island filed its Complaint against Rose that same day.

7	20.	Rose is informed and l	believes that Ruffin w	as the ultin	mate decision-r	maker beh	inc
the Alle	eged	Breach Notice and the	Alleged Termination.	Rose is	informed and	believes t	ha

- 21. Rose is informed and believes that Ruffin directed his staff and/or agents to use this dispute as an opportunity to develop a direct relationship with Senor Frogs or otherwise eliminate any Rose leasing relationship in order to seize the Premises for other business purposes.
  - D. Treasure Island Commits Additional Breaches of the Lease.
- 22. Following the time that Treasure Island delivered the Alleged Termination, Rose has attempted, on numerous occasions, to tender rent under the Lease via both wire transfers and cashiers' checks. However, Treasure Island has refused to accept these tenders in violation of the unambiguous terms of the Lease, including Section 3.1's requirement that Rose pay Treasure Island rent "at Landlord's address for notice ...."
- 23. In light of this, Rose sent Notices of Lease Default to Treasure Island representatives on September 11, 2015.
- 24. Treasure Island has failed to attempt to cure or otherwise respond after the receipt of the default notices.
- 25. Rose is informed and believes that Ruffin authorized the payment refusals or was uniformed and failed to direct Treasure Island's payment tender and acceptance practices or otherwise ensure compliance with the Lease.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Contract)

- 26. Rose repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in paragraphs 1 through 25 above as though fully set forth herein.
- 27. The Lease sets forth certain notice requirements that Treasure Island must follow in order to provide Rose valid and sufficient notice.
  - 28. Despite agreeing to these notice requirements, Treasure Island has breached them.

29.	In	light	of	its	failure	to	provide	sufficient	notice,	Treasure	Island's	Alleged Termination i	s inv	valid a	nd	a br	each of	the	Lease.

- 30. Rose has continued to attempt tender of its rents under the Lease. However, Treasure Island continues to breach the Lease by rejecting Rose's attempts at tender.
- 31. Treasure Island's failure to provide notice pursuant to the Lease and refusal to accept Rose's attempts at tender prevents Rose's performance under the Lease.
  - 32. Rose provided Notice of Default on September 11, 2015.
  - 33. Rose has attempted to perform all of its obligations under the Lease.
  - 34. Rose has been damaged by Treasure Island's breaches.
- 35. Rose has been forced to hire an attorney to prosecute this action and therefore seeks recovery of their attorney's fees and court costs.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Breach of Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing)

- 36. Rose repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1 through 35 above as though fully set forth herein.
- 37. Implied in every agreement under Nevada law is the obligation of good faith and fair dealing.
- 38. Rose believes that the notice and rent provisions of the Lease are clear and unambiguous; to the extent that Treasure Island has discretion under either provision, there is an implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing that prevents Treasure Island from exercising any discretion unfairly.
- 39. Treasure Island breached its duty of good faith and fair dealing by, among other things, delivering notices under the Lease in an unfair manner designed to prevent performance and attempting to contract directly with Senor Frogs. Treasure Island's actions were unfaithful to the purpose and intent of the Lease.
- 40. Treasure Island also breached its duty of good faith and fair dealing by failing to accept Rose's ongoing tender of rent.

41.	As result of the acts and omissions of Treasure Island, Rose's justified expectations
under the Lea	se have been denied

42. Rose has been forced to hire an attorney to prosecute this action and therefore seeks recovery of their attorney's fees and court costs.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

(Declaratory Judgment)

- 43. Rose repeats and realleges the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1 through 42 above as though fully set forth herein.
- 44. A true and ripe controversy exists between Rose and Treasure Island as to their respective rights regarding the Lease.
- 45. As set forth in the Lease, Treasure Island must comply with certain notice requirements in order to provide Rose notice of any alleged breach.
- 46. However, in sending the Alleged Breach Notice and Alleged Termination, as well as rejecting Rose's tenders, Treasure Island failed to comply with these notice requirements.
  - 47. Treasure Island has refused to accept properly tendered rent payments.
- 48. Declaratory relief pursuant to NRS 30.040 is necessary to declare the respective rights, responsibilities and obligations of Rose and Treasure Island under the Lease.
- 49. Rose seeks a declaratory judgment from this Court that Treasure Island failed to comply with the notice requirements of the Lease and, therefore, the Alleged Breach Notice and Alleged Termination are ineffective.
- 50. Rose also seeks a declaratory judgment from this Court that if Treasure Island failed to comply with its leasing obligations, Treasure Island is not entitled to the relief request in its Complaint.
- 51. Rose has been forced to hire an attorney to prosecute this action and therefore seeks recovery of their attorney's fees and court costs.

WHEREFORE, Rose prays for judgment as follows:

1. Direct, incidental and consequential damages against Treasure Island in an amount to be proven at trial but, in any event, in excess of $10,000.00;

1	2.	For a declaratory judgment finding that:
2		(a) Treasure Island's Alleged Breach Notice and Alleged Termination are
3	invalid;
$_4$		(b) Rose has not defaulted under the Lease;
5		(c) The Lease between the parties' remains in effect.
6	3.	For a temporary and permanent injunction precluding Treasure Island from
7	moving for	ward with terminating the Lease and denying Rose its leasehold interests in the
8	Premises.
9	4.	An award of reasonable costs and attorneys' fees;
10	5.	Prejudgment and post-judgment interest on the foregoing sums at the highest rate
11	permitted by	law; and
12	6.	Any additional relief this Court deems to be just and proper on the evidence
13	presented at	trial.

NO.: XXIX 11 Plaintiff, 12 TRIAL BRIEF v. 13 ROSE, LLC, a Nevada limited liability company, 14 15 Defendant. 16 ROSE, LLC, a Nevada limited liability company, 17 Counterclaimant, 18 v. 19 TREASURE ISLAND, LLC, a Nevada limited 20 liability company, 21 Counterclaimant. 22 23 I. STATEMENT OF FACTS 24 On or about April 13, 2011, Plaintiff, Treasure Island, entered into a Lease Agreement 25 ("Lease") with Defendant, Rose, LLC ("Rose"). Ex. 1. Pursuant to the terms of the Lease, 26 Treasure Island leased space to Rose inside the Treasure Island Hotel and Casino in Las Vegas, 27 Nevada (the "Property"). One of Rose's most fundamental obligations under the Lease was to 28 PSHEEHAN/11767265.1

timely pay rent. Per the Lease, this rent came in two forms: minimum monthly rent, and quarterly rent in an amount equal to 7% of modified gross sales.

Regarding the latter, the Lease provided that the rent for gross sales would be paid pursuant to a certain formula and that, within 30 days of the end of each quarter during the lease term, Rose would deliver to landlord a writing setting forth the amount of tenant's gross sales made during each month of the preceding calendar quarter and, concurrently therewith, pay the landlord the percentage rent due and payable for the preceding calendar quarter.

As part of the Lease, Treasure Island agreed to loan Rose $2,500,000.00 on an interest free basis to assist with construction costs associated with building the venue. Id. at 5. Originally, the parties negotiated that the construction loan would be paid back by paying Treasure Island the greater of $300,000.00 per quarter or 100% of net revenue. Id. That obligation was later modified to only require the greater of $300,000.00 or 80% of net revenue. In August, 2012, Treasure Island became aware that Rose was delinquent in paying several of its contractors. Due to concern that this failure to pay construction costs could result in a lien against the Property, Treasure Island, through its General Counsel, Brad Anthony ("Anthony"), sent Rose a letter reminding it that no liens were permitted under the Lease. Ex. 2. This letter was sent in strict compliance with the Lease's notice requirements. Id.

Shortly after that letter was sent, Gary Dragul, President of Rose ("Dragul"), called Mr. Anthony to discuss the letter that Rose received and to request further relief from the loan repayment obligation. Exh. 3, Affidavit of Brad Anthony. During that call, Dragul specifically requested that Anthony send all future correspondences dealing with the Treasure Island-Rose relationship directly to him and further requested that Operadora Andersons ("Operadora"), Rose's subtenant in the venture, not be copied in the future. Id.

On September 19, 2012, Anthony sent a letter following up on Dragul's request regarding the construction loan repayment. Ex. 4, September 19 letter to Rose. Mr. Anthony complied with Dragul's request for how notice should be provided and sent the letter directly to Dragul. Operadora was not carbon copied.

In the years that followed, Treasure Island had numerous communications with Rose. In PSHEEHAN/11767265.1

each instance, barring one<sup>1</sup>, the communication was sent directly to Dragul and Operadora was not copied. See, Exs. 5 & 6, letters to Rose. In all of its communications with Treasure Island, Rose did not carbon copy its subtenant once.

In May, 2015, Rose breached the Lease when it failed to pay the 7% gross sales portion of the rent for the first quarter of 2015. As a result, on May 14, 2015, Treasure Island sent Rose a notice of default. Ex. 7. This is undisputed. Dragul even admitted as much in his deposition:

Q. But you do admit that at the time of this May 14th letter, you were in - - had not met your rental obligations as set forth in this letter?

A. I do admit that. Ex. 8 at page 58.

It is also undisputed that between May 14 and May 28, Rose did not pay, or attempt to pay, the overdue rent even though the May 14, 2015 letter specifically warned that if Rose did not pay within ten (10) days, it would be placed in default. Therefore, as of May 28, 2015, Rose was in default pursuant to the terms of the Lease. Ex. 1.

As a result of this default, Treasure Island had the contractual right to terminate the Lease pursuant to Section 15.2, which states, "upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, in addition to any other rights or remedies provided for herein or at law or in equity, and without barring election of any other remedy, Landlord, at its sole option, shall have the following rights:

"15.2.1 Landlord may terminate this lease and Tenant's estate hereunder by written notice of such of termination" Ex. 1 at page 16.

Treasure Island exercised its right to terminate the lease by a letter dated May 28, 2015. Exh. 9. Rose disputed that Treasure Island had the ability to terminate the Lease, claiming that one or more notices were defective. As a result, this litigation was filed to confirm that the Lease was properly terminated.

II. ARGUMENT

A. The Default Notices Were Effectively Served On Rose.

Rose admits that it defaulted in the most fundamental of its obligations under the Lease and failed to meet its rent obligations in a timely manner. Rose also does not dispute that once it failed to meet its rental obligations following the 10-day notice and right to cure, Treasure Island had the right to terminate the parties' Lease.

&lt;sup>1</sup> The only exception to this was a letter from Jerry Griffis, Treasure Island's Chief Financial Officer, which did include notice to Operadora since the subject of that letter was Operadora itself not paying food charges owed to Treasure Island.

Rose is now asking the court to excuse its material default under the Lease because its subtenant, Operadora, was not carbon copied on the letter sent on May 14, 2015, and because that letter was addressed to Dragul instead of Susan Markusch. These arguments are flawed.

This was made clear by the Court in Pierce v. Sentry Ins., 421 N.E. 2d 1252 (App. Ct. Mass. 1981). In that case, the Court noted that contractual provisions requiring notice to a third party have discrete purposes separate and apart from the notice to the first party. As a result, it is a separate obligation and failure to give notice to the third party does not defeat notice to the first party. The Pierce Court stated:

> Notice to the insured and notice to the mortgagee have discrete purposes, however, and it is difficult to see how, as to the party who receives notice, a failure to give notice to the other, can be anything but merely formal. . . . This quality of separate obligations has been noted particularly, where, as in the instant case, the insurance policy contains a so-called 'standard mortgage clause.' (Citations omitted.) Under that clause 'the result has been that the Courts have held that the agreement of the company with the mortgagee being separate and divisible from that with the mortgagor. . .

Thus, under the law, Rose only has a valid argument if it can show that the notice it received was, in itself, deficient, independent of the failure to carbon copy Operadora. It cannot.

When the notice sent to Rose is examined, the fact is that Treasure Island complied with the notice requirements as far as Rose is concerned. The notice was in writing. It was delivered by a nationally recognized overnight courier (Fed-Ex), and required the signature of someone at Rose upon delivery. It was sent to Rose, LLC, at the address specified in the Fifth Amendment to the Lease Agreement. Ex. 10. As such, Rose had actual notice that it would be placed in default if it did not pay the rent within the 10-day timeframe and chose not to do so. It cannot blame anyone but itself for the result of its choice. Rose certainly cannot viably claim that failing to carbon copy Operadora somehow affected whether Rose itself properly received the notice.

Rose's only argument regarding an inherent deficiency in the notice it received is that the letter was addressed to Dragul, not Susan Markusch. First, Ms. Markusch had been written out of the notice provision via the Fifth Amendment. Ex. 10. Second, Dragul specifically requested that notices be sent attention to him. Ex. 3. Third, and perhaps most importantly, Rose received the notice letter. The notice to Rose was clearly effective and sufficient. This is consistent with case law which holds that, "where there is evidence of actual notice, a technical deviation from a contractual notice requirement will not bar the action for breach of contract brought against a party that had actual notice." Stonehenge Land Co. v. Beazer Homes Investments, LLC, 893 N.E.2d 855, 863 (Ohio Ct. App 2008).<sup>3</sup>

The notice defects identified by Rose are immaterial.

Both "defects" identified by Rose—failing to copy Operadora and sending the letter to Dragul—are immaterial deviations from the Lease's terms, and neither should invalidate the notice that Rose admittedly received. A defect is immaterial when it does not disadvantage the party receiving the notice. See, Pierce, 421 N.E. 2d 1252. In Pierce, an insurance policy required the insurance company to give the insured parties and any mortgagees twenty days' written notice of cancellation. Id. at 1253 (emphasis added). The insured parties defaulted and received a cancellation notice, but argued that it was defective because the insurance company failed to notify the mortgagee. Id. The court noted the "general rule that conditions imposed with respect to giving notice of cancellation of insurance must be strictly followed," but clarified that the rule applies to those cases that combine "defects of form with [a] disadvantage to the person who received the defective notice." Id. at 1253–54 (emphasis added). The court found it "difficult to see how, as to the party who receives notice, a failure to give notice to the other, can be anything but merely formal." Id. at 1253. The insured parties speculated that if the insurance company had notified the mortgagee of the default, the mortgagee might have called it to their attention and motivated them to pay. Id. at 1254. The court, however, was not convinced that further notification would have prompted them to pay an obligation they had consciously ignored. Id. Though the notice was clearly defective as to the mortgagee, the court held that it was valid as to the insured parties. Id.

The similarities between Pierce and the facts of this case are striking. It is undisputable that Rose, like the insured parties in Pierce, received notice. The letter sent by Treasure Island is only inadequate in that it did not carbon-copy Operadora. Like in Pierce, this failure is utterly immaterial to Rose's conscious choice not to pay the quarterly rent in a timely fashion. And while Operadora might have a claim for not having received the notice (even that claim would actually sound against Rose for their direct breach of the sublease), Rose in fact received the notice and therefore has no claim.

Similarly, the court in Stonehenge Land, supra, found that a deviation from a contractual notice provision was immaterial when it did not disadvantage a party that received actual notice. Stonehenge Land, 893 N.E.2d at 863. In that case, a contract between a land developer and a home builder provided that if the builder defaulted, the developer could terminate the contract after giving thirty days' notice with a chance to cure. Id. at 859. The contract required the developer to send the notice to a specific employee in the builder's office, but the developer sent it to the builder's attorney instead. Id. at 859–60. The court rejected the builder's argument that PSHEEHAN/11767265.1

failing to directly notify the specified employee put the builder at a disadvantage because that employee was the designated decision-maker on matters relating to the contract. Id. at 862–63. The court found this technical deviation insufficient to invalidate the notice because the builder (including the specified employee) received actual notice and sending the notice directly to the employee would not have put him in a better position to make a decision. See id. at 863–64. The court also noted that it would be unfair to allow the builder to require strict compliance with the notice provision. Id. at 864. Because the builder "repudiated the contract by failing and refusing to perform the obligations that went to the heart of the contract itself," the court held that it could not "now insist that [the developer] scrupulously adhere to every term of the contract." Id.

It is undisputed that Rose received the letter. The fact that it was sent to Dragul's attention instead of Markusch's is a technicality that is even more frivolous than the one identified in Stonehenge Land because Dragul was the decision-maker for Rose. It is simply disingenuous for Rose to pretend that Ms. Markusch receiving the letter instead of Mr. Dragul changes the outcome. The Court should not forgive Rose's material default because of such an immaterial fact.

ii. The Notice Letter Sent to Rose Substantially Complied With the Lease Requirements.

Other cases have held that substantial compliance with a notice provision is sufficient, as long as there is no prejudice to the noticed party. In Triangle Props., Inc. v. Homewood Corp., 3 N.E.3d 241, 257 (Ct. App. Ohio 2013), the court held that even though the parties' agreement required written notice, and instead the parties sent notice via a voice mail, there was substantial compliance. The trial court cited Stonehenge Land, supra, stating, "Where there is evidence of actual notice, a technical deviation from a contractual notice requirement will not bar the action for breach of contract brought against a party who had actual notice."

Here, Treasure Island actually complied with the written notice provisions in the Lease, but also sent a copy to Dragul's counsel, Ms. Elizabeth Gold<sup>4</sup>, via email. Ms. Gold even contacted Treasure Island on Rose's behalf shortly after the May 14 notice was sent asking for more time to pay the quarterly rent because Mr. Dragul was traveling to take care of an ill brother, which evidences Rose's receipt of the notice. That extension was denied. Exh. 3.

Treasure Island's failure to carbon copy Operadora, or the name of the party who received the notice, is immaterial to the claims between Treasure Island and Rose. Treasure Island complied with the provisions requiring notice to Rose, and Rose does not dispute that it received actual notice. Accordingly, Rose's default should stand and the court should determine that Treasure Island properly terminated the lease.

B. Rose Cannot Hijack Operadora's Claim.

Rose's claim that the notice was ineffective because it was not copied to Operadora is spurious for several reasons. First, Rose is attempting to hijack Operadora's claim. Operadora may have a complaint that it was not copied, but Operadora is notably absent from this lawsuit. Indeed, as will be shown, were Operadora to pursue such a claim, they would be better served by proceeding against Rose, who violated an affirmative obligation to send notices to Operadora instead of Treasure Island, who merely failed to copy Operadora on a letter warning Rose that it was about to be in default.

Second, Rose is attempting to revise history by pretending that Operadora would have intervened and paid on Rose's behalf to prevent the default. When Operadora's counsel received notice of the breach, and this lawsuit, it merely contacted Treasure Island to make sure that if the Lease with Rose was terminated, the subtenant (Operadora) still had the right to negotiate its own direct lease with the Treasure Island. Ex. 5, Affidavit of Brad Anthony.

Further, when Operadora was advised of a subsequent breach (since the lawsuit was filed the parties have continued the Lease pending the Court's decision and Rose has defaulted several times since its original breach but cured within a 10-day period), Operadora, through its lawyers, sent a letter in response to being provided a copy of Treasure Island's default notice to Rose which stated:

Mr. Fieldstone [another lawyer in the firm of the letter's author] and I are in receipt of your letter of December 17, 2015, purportedly advising the two of us that we owe money to Treasure Island under its Lease Agreement with Rose. We are somewhat at PSHEEHAN/11767265.1

a loss as we did not borrow money from Treasure Island, are not parties to the referenced Lease Agreement, and do not represent Rose. We solely serve as counsel to Operadora and/or Andersons.

We therefore are going to assume this letter was a mistake. If that is incorrect please contact me to explain.

Sincerely Susan E. Trench.<sup>5</sup>

Ex. 11. This letter makes it clear that even if Operadora had been copied by way of its counsel, Ron Fieldstone and Susan Trench, they would not have taken any action to cure the default.

C. Rose is Barred From Arguing that Failing to Carbon Copy Operadora Renders the Notice Deficient Because Of Its Own Bad Acts.

It is axiomatic that Rose should not benefit from its own bad acts. In this matter, it was Rose itself who insisted that Treasure Island not include Operadora on any default notices in the phone call with Anthony after the August 31, 2012, letter. Ex. 3. Now, though, Rose is asking the Court to do just that, and to punish Treasure Island for complying with Rose's request concerning notice letters. This request gives rise to arguments that sound in estoppels, waiver, and unclean hands.

i. Rose Was Obligated to Send the Notice Itself, and Did Not.

Rose's sublease with Operadora specifically stated:

[i]n the event that Prime Landlord [Treasure Island] notifies Landlord [Rose] of any default under the Prime Lease and does not provide simultaneous notice to subtenant [Operadora], Landlord [Rose] will provide subtenant with a copy of any Prime Landlord notice of default under the Prime Lease within twenty four (24) hours and an opportunity to cure same on behalf of Landlord and to the satisfaction of Prime Landlord.

See Sublease between Rose and Operadora/Señor Frogs at Page 7, Paragraph 9(d). Ex. 12.

Rose cannot complain that the notice of default sent to it was ineffective since it was not carbon-copied to Operadora when it defaulted on its affirmative obligation to send such notice to Operadora pursuant to its sublease. Rose's abject failure to send the default notice to Operadora only further exhibits that it did not want Operadora to know about its default and bolsters Mr.

Anthony's testimony that Gary Dragul had specifically told him not to notice Operadora. It defies logic to allow Rose to request that Treasure Island not notice Operadora, fail to notice Operadora itself, though such notice was affirmatively required of it via its sublease, and then argue that Treasure Island's "failure" to send the notice invalidated the notice to the extent that Rose's original default of the Lease should be excused.

ii. Rose is Estopped From Arguing That Notice Was Defective.

"Equitable estoppel operates to prevent a party from asserting legal rights that, in equity and good conscience, they should not be allowed to assert because of their conduct." Nev. State Bank v. Jamison P'ship, 106 Nev. 792, 799, 801 P.2d 1377, 1382 (1990) As discussed above, Rose's conduct in this matter far outweighs Treasure Island's sin of relying on and accommodating a request from the president of one of its tenants.

To prevail on an argument of estoppel, the party asserting the defense must prove four elements:

- 1. The party to be estopped must be apprised of the true facts;
- 2. He must intend that his conduct shall be acted upon, or must so act that the party asserting estoppel has the right to believe it was so intended;
- 3. The party asserting the estoppel must be ignorant of the true state of facts;
- 4. He must have relied to his detriment on the conduct of the party to be estopped.

Among other things, silence can raise an estoppel quite as effectively as can words.

Teriano v. Nev. State Bank, 121 Nev. 217, 223, 112 P.3d 1058, 1062 (2005).

Here, Rose was aware of Treasure Island's decision not to copy Operadora. After all, Dragul had specifically requested that exact action. Dragul's conduct in asking Anthony to change how notice was given under the Lease was relied upon and implemented by Anthony in that he began sending all communications directly to Dragul and stopped carbon-copying Operadora following the August 31, 2012 letter and the phone call with Dragul. Treasure Island had no idea that Rose would now try to claim that its failure to carbon-copy Operadora somehow prevented Treasure Island from asserting its contractual rights against Rose. Treasure Island and Mr. Anthony clearly relied to their detriment on the conduct of Dragul (his request that Operadora not be copied).

In addition to the above-described acts, Rose also persistently failed to notify Treasure Island that it needed to copy Operadora on any notices following Anthony's change to only noticing Rose following the August 31, 2012, construction loan notice (and the phone call with Mr. Dragul shortly thereafter). This silence should be interpreted as approval, and raises the issue of estoppel by silence. Cheqer, Inc. v. Painters and Decorators, 98 Nev. 609, 614, 655 P.2d 996, 998-99 (1982) ("This court has noted that silence can raise an estoppel quite as effectively as can words.")

Given that each of the factors of estoppel are met in this matter, Rose should be estopped from asserting that Treasure Island's failure to copy Operadora caused a fatal defect in the notice process.

iii. Rose Expressly Waived Any Argument That Notice Was Defective.

The doctrine of waiver is also applicable in the case at bar. A waiver is the intentional relinquishment of a known right, and may be implied from conduct which evidences an intention to waive a right, or by conduct which is inconsistent with any other intention than to waive the right. Mahban v. MGM Grand Hotels, Inc., 100 Nev. 593, 596, 691 P.2d 421, 423-24 (1984). Rose's told Treasure Island not to send a notice to Operadora. It never acted to correct Treasure Island when Treasure Island complied with its request. Despite its contractual obligation to do so, Rose did not notice Operadora itself. Each of these acts proves that Rose waived any right to now argue that Treasure Island's failure to copy Operadora on any default notices to Rose is material.

iv. Rose's Unclean Hands Bar It From Arguing That Notice Was Defective.

It is amply clear that Rose's conduct underpins this entire matter. Rose did not pay its rent in a timely fashion (after it had already received the same from Operadora). Rose told Treasure Island not to provide any default notices to Operadora but only to send the same to Rose. Rose did not abide by its own contractual obligation to its subtenant to send any Treasure Island default notices to Operadora. The unclean hands doctrine prevents Rose from now alleging that Treasure Island's failure to carbon copy Operadora somehow excuses Rose's default. Park v. Park, 126 Nev. 745 (2010) ("the District Court found a connection between Appellant's misconduct, breach of contract, and cause of action for unjust enrichment. ... substantial evidence supports the District Court's decision to bar Appellant's unjust enrichment claim under the unclean hands doctrine."). While unclean hands is generally regarded as an argument that sounds in equity, the Ninth Circuit has recognized that "[t]he unclean hands doctrine applies not only to equitable claims, but also to legal ones." Adler v. Fed. Republic of Nigeria. 219 F.3d 869 (9th Cir. 2000).

Here, Rose's failure to pay the rent to begin with, coupled with its insistence that Treasure Island not provide Operadora notice, and, perhaps most importantly, failing to provide Operadora the default notice itself, despite its specific contractual obligation to do so, caused all the harm to occur. If notice to Operadora was so important to Rose, it should have sent the notice to Operadora itself. It follows logically that since Operadora had already paid Rose the rent necessary to cover the quarterly rent that was due, Rose did not want Operadora to know that Rose had not paid the rent to Treasure Island. In any event, pursuant to the unclean hands doctrine, Rose is prevented from relying upon the lack of notice to Operadora to excuse its default.

D. Dragul's Testimony Undercuts Each of Rose's Expected Arguments.

Treasure Island expects Rose to make two arguments. First, that it did not receive the May 14 notice because, incredibly, its whole office was in Las Vegas for a shopping center conference. Second, that sending copies to Operadora was a material term to Rose. Even if the Court allows Rose's arguments to survive the battery of law and equity arrayed against them, the arguments fail. Dragul's own deposition testimony shows that each of these arguments is without PSHEEHAN/11767265.1 merit.

As previously discussed, there can be no question whether or not Rose received the May 14 notice letter. Not only was it sent via Fed-Ex, signature required, with a receipt showing delivery at 10:02 a.m. on Friday, May 15, but it was also sent via email to Elizabeth Gold, who called Mr. Anthony on Rose's behalf to request additional time to pay the delinquent quarterly rent. There is absolutely no question whether Rose received the notice and was aware of their obligation to pay the monies.

Rose cannot contest this since even though Mr. Dragul was extremely uncooperative, forgetful and used the 'I am not a lawyer' excuse for most of his deposition he specifically testified that although he did not know when he received the notice, he received it by at least May 26th. Mr. Dragul's testimony regarding the subject is as follows:

- O. You do recall the notice coming in saying you were in default?
- A. I was told that we got a notice. I do not recall seeing a notice that came in just to be grammatically correct.

  - A. I don't recall.

A. She is.

A. Most days. Half days.

P. 81 Il. 6-11.

ICSC was from May 17 through May 20 in Las Vegas. Therefore, even if Mr. Dragul was at ICSC, he certainly would have received or been informed about the notice either before he left for the conference or after he returned. He stated that he was in the office during the last part of the week of the 17 and the letter was addressed directly to him. Additionally, Ms. Gold, whose office is right next to his, received the notice by email on May 14. Indeed, the above-quoted testimony shows that he was told about the notice. Given the call Mr. Anthony received from Ms. Gold, it is apparent that she spoke to Mr. Dragul about the notice shortly after she received it.

At a minimum, that testimony eliminates any defense by Rose that it did not receive the notice since it admits it received the notice and does not know when. Therefore they cannot say now that they did not receive the notice by a certain date. Moreover, Dragul's testimony indicates that he personally should have seen the letter by May 22, since he was personally back in the office by that date, and, at a bare minimum he saw the notice by May 26. Even giving Mr. Dragul the benefit of every doubt—and there are many—Rose could have acted to pay the amount owed immediately and still not been in formal default. Instead of paying and defusing the whole issue, Rose decided to accuse Treasure Island of interfering with its relationship with its subtenant.

If Rose was in a position to pay its rent on time, then it could have paid the obligation off by May 27 or before the termination even if, in defiance of all facts, evidence, and logic, Mr. Dragul only became aware of the letter on May 26. Rose did not. Thus, the defense that Dragul did not receive the notice or have an opportunity to cure is completely frivolous.

Next, Dragul's testimony shows that Rose's argument concerning the failure to copy Operadora is a non-starter. First, as established earlier, Rose and Operadora were parties to a PSHEEHAN/11767265.1

As shown earlier, Rose cannot be permitted to argue that copying Operadora was a material term of its Lease with Treasure Island when it utterly and completely failed, by its President's own admission to abide by its own agreement with Operadora with respect to the notice it received.

E. Operadora Would Not Have Paid On Rose's Behalf.

Treasure Island anticipates that Rose may claim that the reason copying Operadora was so important is that Operadora would have paid Treasure Island on Rose's behalf. This is extremely unlikely.

According to the sublease between Rose and Operadora, Operadora paid Rose $80,000 per month. Ex. 12. It was then Rose's responsibility under the Lease between itself and Treasure Island to pay the monthly rent and the quarterly rent amounts. This means that Operadora paid $80,000 for January, February and March in 2015. Rose had paid Treasure Island $33,000 per month in that same time period. This left $141,000 in Rose's coffers with which to pay the quarterly 7% rent, which, for the first quarter of 2015, was $119,229.00. Rose's argument is essentially that if Treasure Island had copied Operadora on the May 14, 2015, letter to Rose, Operadora would have rushed to pay the $119,229.00. Of course, this argument ignores the fact that Rose was required to send Operadora such notice itself and also ignores the fact that Operadora had already paid enough to cover the entire amount. What is more likely—in fact, what actually happened—is that upon receiving the notice, Operadora would ensure that its rights to negotiate a lease directly with Treasure Island were still intact. See Affidavit of Brad Anthony Exh. 5, last paragraph.

Treasure Island anticipates that Dragul may try to submit an improper affidavit<sup>6</sup> from David Krouhan, his friend, to bolster Rose's failed argument. Attempts to revise history aside, Operadora's actions back in 2015 make it clear that Operadora was not interested in paying the rent on Rose's behalf. If Rose does submit an affidavit from Mr. Krouhan, Treasure Island reserves the right to submit additional evidence showing Operadora's actual position, which was not previously submitted due to Mr. Krouhan's exclusion from Rose's witness list.

F. Rose's Counterclaim Contains No Cognizable Cause of Action.

Rose has filed a Counterclaim alleging the Treasure Island's refusal to accept Rose's tender of rents under the lease is a breach of the lease. Presumably, this Cause of Action is now moot because, pursuant to an earlier order of the Court, Treasure Island has accepted Rose's tender pending the outcome of this case. However, even if Rose had not accepted the rent, this would not be a breach.

Similarly, the Amended Counterclaim for Breach of the Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing is without merit. If anyone breached the Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing, it was Rose for failing to pay the rent when it was due. Mr. Dragul's above-quoted testimony states that he knew the rent was due and that Rose failed to pay it. Therefore, it was Rose who breached the Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing. Certainly, accepting the rent from its subtenant and not paying the landlord constitutes a breach of the Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing by Rose, not Treasure Island. Similarly, Rose can offer no evidence proving its claim that Treasure Island interfered in its relationship with Operadora.

As to its Declaratory Relief claim, the above arguments show that it is Treasure Island who is entitled to win on the competing Declaratory Relief claims.

III. CONCLUSION

Treasure Island is entitled to Judgment because it complied with the Notice provisions to Rose. Rose's only argument concerning the notice to itself is that it was not sent to the attention of Susan Markusch. However, the Fifth Amendment took out the requirement that the notice be sent to Ms. Markusch. Even if the Fifth Amendment had not taken out that requirement, Treasure Island substantially complied with the notice by sending it to the attention the President (at the Preasident's own request) and e-mailing it to the in house counsel. There is no question that Rose received the notice; and, therefore, the notice to Rose was sufficient. When Rose failed to pay the rent, Treasure Island had the right to terminate the lease and the lease was terminated.

Rose's argument that the failure to carbon copy Operadora is without merit as that claim

PSHEEHAN/11767265.1

Treasure Island. Moreover, even if Rose could raise the issue of not carbon copying Operadora under the law, it is precluded from doing so under the facts of this case. First, it waived the carbon copy to Operadora when Mr. Dragul asked Mr. Anthony not to send carbon copy to Operadora. Second, Rose is equitably estopped from arguing that the failure to carbon copy Operadora precludes termination since it was Rose itself that caused Treasure Island not to carbon copy Operadora through Mr. Dragul's actions and Rose's silence when numerous notices were made without carbon copying Operadora. Third, Rose is precluded from arguing that Treasure Island's failure to carbon copy Operadora makes the notice to Rose ineffective since Rose itself had the obligation to provide notice to Operadora and failed to do so. Thus, the Unclean Hands Doctrine is applicable since it was Rose's actions which caused all the issues, including failing to pay rent, asking Treasure Island not to copy Operadora, and failing to provide a Notice of Default to Operadora, as it was obligated to do so.

As a result, Treasure Island is entitled to an order holding that the lease was properly terminated.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary set forth herein, Tenant shall have the right to terminate this Lease if Tenant is unable to obtain or maintain any permit, license or other consent necessary for Tenant to conduct Tenant Operations in the Leased Premises. In such event, this Lease shall terminate ten (10) days following Tenant's delivery to Landlord of written notice of Tenant's inability to obtain or maintain any permit, license or other consent necessary for Tenant to conduct Tenant Operations in the Leased Premises. For purposes of this Lease, "Lease Year" means, for the first Lease Year, the period beginning on the Commencement Date and ending twelve (12) months thereafter, except that if the Commencement Date is other than the first day of a calendar month, the first Lease Year shall end twelve (12) months from the last day of the calendar month during which the Commencement Date occurs. For the Lease Years after the first Lease Year, "Lease Year" means the twelve (12) month period beginning on the next day following the expiration of the preceding Lease Year. If the Term of this Lease shall end prior to the last day of a Lease Year, the final Lease Year under this Lease shall be deemed to end on the last day of the Term.

- 2.2 Landlord Delivery. Landlord will deliver the Leased Premises on a mutually acceptable date following Landlord's approval of Tenant's Final Plans, as set forth in Section 5.2.2.
- 2.3 Additional Term. Tenant may extend the Term of this Lease for four (4) additional periods of five (5) years (each, an "Additional Term") by providing written notice to Landlord not later than one hundred eighty (180) days prior to the expiration date of the Initial Term or the first Additional Term (each, an "Option"). As set forth in Section 3.1.A of the Lease, Minimum annual rent during each Option Term shall be equal to 105% of the Minimum annual rent payable by Tenant during the period immediately preceding the applicable Option period.
- 2.4 Holding Over. If Tenant holds over and continues to be in possession of the Leased Premises with Landlord's consent after expiration or termination of the Term, such holding over shall be considered to be a tenancy from month-to-month only, subject to all provisions of this Lease except those relating to the Term and any renewal option, and except that the Rent shall be adjusted on the first day of such holding over to be one hundred twenty-five percent (125%) of the Rent payable for the last month of the Term preceding the holding over, prorated for partial months. If Tenant holds over and continues to be in possession of the Leased Premises without Landlord's consent after the expiration or termination of the Term, such holding over shall be a tenancy from month-to-month only, subject to all provisions of this Lease except those relating to the Term and any renewal option and except that the Rent shall be adjusted on the first day of such holding over to be one hundred fifty (150%) of the Rent payable for the last month of the Term preceding the holding over, prorated for partial months; provided, however, the acceptance by Landlord of such Rent during such tenancy shall in no manner limit or preclude Landlord's exercise of any rights or remedies available to Landlord as a result of such holding over, as provided pursuant to the terms of this Lease, at law, or in equity.

3. RENT AND LANDLORD CONTRIBUTION.

- 3.1 Minimum and Percentage Rent. Tenant covenants and agrees to pay to Landlord, without notice or demand, at Landlord's address for notice, as rent for the Premises:
- A. Minimum annual rent in the amount of Six Hundred Twenty Four Thousand Dollars ($624,000) per annum payable in monthly installments of Fifty Two Thousand Dollars ($52,000) in advance upon the first day of each and every month commencing upon the Commencement Date and continuing thereafter through and including the last month of the Lease Term (such monthly installment being hereinafter called "Minimum Monthly Rent"). Upon the first (1st) day of the first Option Term, Minimum Monthly Rent shall be increased to Fifty Four Thousand Six Hundred Dollars ($54,600), and upon the first (1st) day of the second Option Term, Minimum Monthly Rent shall be increased to Fifty Seven Thousand Three Hundred Thirty Dollars ($57,330). If the Commencement Date is other than the first day of a month, Tenant shall pay on the Commencement Date a prorated partial Minimum Monthly Rent for the prior to the first day of the next calendar month.
- В. The amount of seven percent (7%) of "Gross Sales," provided that the amount of Minimum Monthly Rent due and payable by Tenant for each period shall be deducted from Gross Sales before determining seven percent (7%) of Gross Sales, payable in the manner, and under the terms, set forth in Section 3.1.C of this Lease (hereinafter called "Percentage Rent"). "Gross Sales" means, following the Commencement Date, the aggregate of all revenues derived from Tenant Operations, whether from cash or credit. Excluded from Gross Sales for purposes of this Lease shall be: (i) complimentary food or beverage provided to patrons by Tenant at the Leased Premises, (ii) gratuities paid by patrons, including, without, limitation, automatic gratuities charged to patrons and distributed to employees, (iii) returns to vendors or manufacturers, (iv) refunds to customers (but only to the extent included in Gross Sales), (v) sales of fixtures, machinery and equipment after use in Tenant's business in the Leased Premises, (vi) sales of trade fixtures, store equipment, furniture, or furnishings used in the operation of Tenant's business of the Premises, (vii) insurance proceeds, (viii) credit card fees, (ix) sales taxes, so called luxury or value added taxes, casino entertainment taxes or similar taxes now or hereafter imposed upon the sale of products, merchandise or services, whether such taxes are added separately to the selling price thereof and collected from customers or paid by Tenant and included in the retail selling price, (x) amounts collected from patrons for the account of, and for direct payment to, unrelated third parties providing services specifically for a patron's function which generate Gross Sales, such as flowers, music and entertainment, (xi) the amount of overrings, refunds, rebates, discounts and credits given, paid or returned in the course of obtaining Gross Sales in connection with credit card transactions occurring with respect to obtaining Gross Sales, unless recovered by Tenant, (xii) the purchase of gift certificates, but not the redemption of gift certificates; and (xiii) the amount of all themed goods and merchandise (i.e., apparel, accessories and similar merchandise, including without limitation, t-shirts, hats, glassware, souvenirs, etc.) sold, in, upon or from the Leased Premises.
- C. Within 30 days after the end of each calendar quarter during the Lease Term, Tenant shall deliver to Landlord a written statement setting forth the amount of Tenant's Gross Sales made during each month of the preceding calendar quarter and Tenant shall, concurrently therewith, pay Landlord the Percentage Rent due and payable for the preceding calendar quarter.

- 3.2 Default Interest. If Tenant shall fail to pay, when same is due and payable, Rent or any other amount or charge to be paid by Tenant to Landlord hereunder within ten (10) days of the due date, and the same continues for an additional ten (10) days after Tenant's receipt of written notice of such failure, then such unpaid amount shall bear interest from the date such payment is due at the rate of ten percent (10%) per annum, compounded monthly ("Default Rate"), payable upon demand; provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall give Tenant the right to pay any such installment of Rent or other amount or charge other than on the due date thereof and Landlord's collection of such Default Interest shall not waive any other rights which Landlord may have hereunder or at law or in equity in respect to such late payment.
- Real Estate Taxes and Other Costs. Landlord shall pay or cause to be paid all Real Estate 3.3 Taxes assessed or imposed upon the Hotel Casino which become due or payable during the Lease Term. As used in this Lease, "Real Estate Taxes" means all real estate taxes, public and governmental chargers and assessments, including extraordinary and special assessments, or assessments against any of Landlord's personal property now or hereafter located in the Hotel Casino, all costs, expenses and attorneys' fees incurred by Landlord in contesting or negotiating with public authorities as to any of the same, but shall not include taxes on Tenant's personal property or assets of Tenant, Tenant agreeing to pay, before delinquency, all taxes upon or attributable to such excluded items without apportionment. Landlord shall pay or cause to be paid all costs of any kind paid or incurred by Landlord in connection with the ownership, management, maintenance, repair, replacement, restoration or operation of the Property (including all Common Areas), including by way of illustration but not limitation, all Real Property Taxes, all costs, charges and surcharges for utilities, water, sewage, janitorial, waste disposal and refuse removal and all other utilities and services provided to the Property, and all insurance costs for the Property.
- 3.4 Landlord Contribution. Landlord shall provide to Tenant Two Million Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($2,500,000) ("Landlord Contribution") with Five Hundred Thousand Dollars ($500,000.00) payable no later than ten (10) days following the full execution of this Lease, and the remainder due within ten (10) days following Tenant's acquisition of all permits required to commence construction. Commencing on the 15th day following the first full calendar quarter for which Rent is due and payable by Tenant, and continuing on the 15th day following each calendar quarter until such payments equal, in the aggregate, the amount of the Landlord Contribution, Tenant shall deliver to Landlord the Net Income attributable to Tenant Operations for the prior calendar quarter (and any partial calendar quarter, if applicable), if any, as repayment of the Landlord Contribution. "Net Income" means Gross Sales, less all costs and expenses reasonably incurred in the ordinary course of business with respect to all Tenant Operations, which costs and expenses shall include without limitation, the following: (a) all amounts paid by Tenant to Landlord pursuant to the Lease, including but not limited to Minimum Monthly Rent and Percentage Rent; (b) cost of food, beverages, merchandise and other goods sold as part of Tenant Operations; (c) payroll expenses for Tenant employees and reimbursement of payroll expenses, insurance, and union payments relating thereto; (d) credit card fees charged by credit card companies; (e) complimentary expenses; (f) general corporate overhead; (g) advertising and promotion expenses and decoration expenses; (h) dues and subscriptions; (i) cost of uniforms, linen and laundry; (j) cost of maintenance, repairs, refurbishment and replacement of the furniture and equipment; (k) cost of menus; (l) office cost of operating supplies; (n) cost of security services and expense and supplies; (m) cleaning services; (o) cost of service contracts for the Leased Premises; (p) sales taxes not otherwise included in another component of operating expenses or previously deducted from Gross Sales; (q) accounting and other professional fees and cost of telephones, printing, stationary and postage; (r) cost of employee relations and training, including the cost of housing and transportation; (s) cash losses, including cash shortages, and theft not previously deducted from Gross Sales or required to be included in Gross Sales; (t) cost of outside entertainment; (u) cost, if any, of support functions, for Tenant Operations, including but not limited to, service bar and bar porters, stewards, cashiers and reservations; (v) income taxes; (w) interest and principal paid on indebtedness. In no instance shall this quarterly repayment amount be less than $300,000.00.

4. DELIVERY, INITIAL IMPROVEMENTS.

- 4.1 Landlord Delivery of Leased Premises. Landlord shall deliver to Tenant the Leased Premises on an "as-is" basis, including all existing furniture fixtures and equipment and personal property in the Leased Premises as of March 2011, which Tenant shall be permitted to utilize during the Term, except for the interior space furnishings, including artwork that is not owned by Landlord, and the items listed as excluded items in Exhibit "C" attached hereto, which Landlord may remove, promptly following the full execution of this Lease (the date of such delivery being the "Delivery Date"). Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing to the contrary, Landlord represents and warrants that as of the Delivery Date, the Leased Premises shall conform in all respects with all Applicable Laws and shall be free of Hazardous Materials (defined in Section 14.3.1). Landlord shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless Tenant and Tenant's Associated Parties from all claims, suits, liabilities, obligations, judgment, fees, costs and expenses, including reasonable attorney fees, incurred as a result of the foregoing representation being untrue in any material respect. For purposes of this Lease, "Applicable Laws" means those applicable existing and future statutes, laws, rules, regulations, orders, codes, permits, authorizations, building regulations, zoning laws and ordinances of any Governmental Authorities, as amended from time to time, now or hereinafter in effect, including, without limitation, Gaming Laws, having jurisdiction over Landlord or any Affiliate of Landlord, Tenant, this Lease, Tenant Operations or the Hotel Casino. For purposes of this Lease, "Governmental Authorities" means those federal, state and local governmental, quasi-governmental authorities, agencies, courts, departments, boards and officials, as amended from time to time, now or hereinafter in effect having jurisdiction over Landlord or any Affiliate of Landlord, Tenant, this Lease or Tenant Operations
- 4.2 Tenant Work. Tenant shall construct such improvements to the Leased Premises as Tenant deems necessary to open the Leased Premises for business to the public for Tenant Operations ("Tenant Work"). Tenant hereby agrees that (i) all plans, specifications and drawings for Tenant Work shall be subject to Landlord's prior written approval, which shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed and shall be deemed provided if Landlord fails to respond within seven (7) Business Days after Landlord's receipt of Tenant's request for approval of any plans, (ii) Tenant shall obtain all applicable Approvals of Governmental Authorities necessary for the completion of the Tenant Work, Tenant's occupancy of the Leased Premises, and Tenant's conducting of the Tenant Operations at the Leased Premises, and (iii) all Tenant Work shall comply with all Applicable Laws. Tenant Work may also be referred to herein as the "Initial Improvements". Tenant's use and occupancy of the Leased Premises prior to the Commencement Date for purposes of constructing Tenant Work is subject to all of the terms, conditions and provisions of the Lease, except for Tenant's obligation to pay Rent, Minimum Monthly Rent, Percentage Rent or any other amounts to Landlord. Following construction of the Tenant Work, Tenant shall submit Adobe .PDF "As-Built" drawings to Landlord for its records, along with copies of all construction contracts, and proof of payment for all labor and materials, and copies of lien waivers of the Contractor. Tenant agrees to begin the permitting process expeditiously and shall commence construction at the earliest practical date thereafter. Tenant further agrees that construction will commence, at the latest, within 30 days after obtaining all required permits.

- 4.3 Contractor and Contract. Prior to Tenant's selection of the general contractor for the work contemplated by this Lease, Tenant will provide Landlord with the name of such general contractor, along with evidence of such contractor's insurance, and any other information that Landlord may reasonably request, for Landlord's review and approval, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Tenant shall cause its Contractor, subcontractors, vendors and/or suppliers to execute lien waivers in a form acceptable to Landlord contemporaneously with its receipt of payment, copies of which shall be immediately delivered to Landlord. Tenant shall also immediately repair or cause to be repaired, at its expense, all damage caused to the Leased Premises and/or the Property by Tenant's Contractor.
- Liens. Tenant, at all times, shall keep the Landlord, the Property, the Leased Premises, the Improvements, the leasehold estate created by this Lease and all of Tenant's Property free and clear from any claim, lien or encumbrance, tax lien or levy, mechanic's lien, attachment, garnishment or encumbrance arising directly or indirectly from any obligation, action or inaction of Tenant whatsoever. In the event any lien is filed against the Leased Premises or Property as a result of activity by Tenant, if Tenant fails to remove such lien within thirty (30) days of written notice from Landlord, Landlord may, but shall not be required to, pay the amount of the claim, and the amount so paid, together with attorneys' fees incurred in connection therewith, shall be immediately due and owing from Tenant to Landlord; provided, however, Tenant may contest any such lien as long as a foreclosure action has not commenced and Tenant causes such lien to be bonded over in a manner satisfactory to Landlord.
- 4.5 Initial Improvements. All Initial Improvements that are fixtures, excluding Tenant's Property, shall, become the property of Landlord upon the expiration or earlier termination of this Lease.

5. SUBSEQUENT IMPROVEMENTS.

5.1 Other Tenant Improvements. Subsequent to the Tenant Work, Tenant shall not make or allow to be made any alterations, additions or improvements to the Leased Premises or any part thereof, without first obtaining the written consent of Landlord, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed; provided, however, Tenant shall have the right, with Landlord's prior written consent, to make interior alterations to the Leased Premises, so long as such alterations are (i) of a non-structural nature, (ii) do not require a permit or other approval of a Governmental Authority pursuant to Applicable Laws, (iii) do not affect any building systems, including fire-life safety systems, and (iv) are made in compliance with all Applicable Laws (collectively, "Tenant Additional Alterations"). Any Tenant Additional Alterations shall be made solely by Tenant at Tenant's sole cost and expense

5.2Title to Subsequent Improvements. All Tenant Additional Alterations that are fixtures, excluding Tenant's Property, shall, become the property of Landlord upon the expiration or earlier termination of this Lease.

6.POSSESSION AND SURRENDER OF LEASED PREMISES.

6.1Limited Representations. Except as specifically provided in Section 17.1, Tenant acknowledges and agrees that neither Landlord nor any of Landlord's agents, employees, servants, or contractors have made any representations or promises concerning the Leased Premises, the furniture, fixtures and equipment contained therein, the expenses of operation or any other matter or things affecting or related to the Leased Premises or Tenant Operations, and no rights, easements or licenses shall be acquired by Tenant by implication or otherwise except as expressly set forth herein. Tenant acknowledges and agrees that it is leasing the Leased Premises "AS IS", except as specifically provided in Section 17.1.

6.2Title to Property. Tenant may, at any time and at its sole cost and expense, remove from the Leased Premises all personal property and trade fixtures that Tenant has installed or placed in the Leased Premises (collectively, "Tenant's Property") and shall repair all damage thereto resulting from such removal. Upon expiration or termination of the Lease, Tenant shall surrender the Leased Premises in reasonable, broom clean condition, ordinary wear and tear excepted. Landlord hereby waives and releases any liens which Landlord may have against Tenant's owned or leased personal property, trade fixtures or equipment or against Tenant's merchandise, cash or accounts receivable, whether such lien is statutory, constitutional or contractual, or arises out of operation of law or otherwise.

7.USE AND MAINTENANCE OF LEASED PREMISES.

7.1Use of Property. Tenant may use the Leased Premises for the purpose of conducting thereon the operation of a bar, lounge, restaurant and/or nightclub serving Mexican food and international food and that may feature live entertainment and/or pre-recorded music and disc jockeys, dancing, bottle service, live entertainment and private events. Tenant may also use the Leased Premises for other purposes with Landlord's prior written consent, which will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Tenant agrees it shall not serve breakfast in the Leased Premises. Tenant agrees it shall not operate within the Leased Premises a Hawaiian-themed restaurant.

7.2 Compliance. Tenant shall not use the Leased Premises in any way which constitutes, or would constitute, a violation of any Applicable Laws, occupancy certificates or other Approvals in connection with the Leased Premises. Landlord represents and warrants to Tenant that, as of the date hereof, no existing requirement exists which would materially restrict the Tenant Operations.

7.3 Interior Displays. Tenant shall have the right, subject to Landlord's prior approval, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed, to place upon the interior glass surface of any window or storefront such decals and decorations that are seasonal in nature, or that promote products offered for sale within the Leased Premises or promote other purposes related to Tenant Operations, including but not limited to advertising campaigns.

7.4 Hours of Operation. Subject to Applicable Laws, Tenant may operate within the Leased Premises between the hours of 10:00 AM – 6:00 AM Mondays-Sundays, unless business warrants otherwise. In the event any Applicable Laws operate to reduce such hours of operation, Landlord and Tenant shall reasonably cooperate, at Tenant's sole cost and expense, to seek waivers or other appropriate Approvals with respect to the variation of such Applicable Laws. If such waivers or Approvals are unable to be obtained, the parties will work together to establish mutually satisfactory hours to conduct Tenant Operations. Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing to the contrary, Tenant shall have the right to close the Leased Premises for renovations, remodeling, alterations or repairs due to casualty, other damage, and Force Majeure Events.

7.5 Exclusive Use. Landlord covenants and agrees that throughout the Lease Term Landlord shall not lease, rent or suffer or permit any portion of the Hotel Casino, other than the Leased Premises, to be used or occupied as or for a Mexican-themed restaurant or that is a party-themed competitor of Señor Frogs, including Coco Bongo, Cabo Wabo and Margaritaville.

7.6Common Areas; Parking. For purposes of this Lease, "Hazardous Material" means, those materials that are regulated by or form the basis of liability under any Environmental Law, including: (a) any substance identified under any Environmental Law as a pollutant, contaminant, hazardous substance, liquid, industrial or solid or hazardous waste, hazardous material or toxic substance; (b) any petroleum or petroleum derived substance or waste; (c) any asbestos or asbestos-containing material; (d) any polychlorinated biphenyl (PCB) or PCB-containing or urea-formaldehyde-containing material or fluid; (e) any radioactive material or substance, including radon; (f) any lead or lead based paints or materials; and (g) any mold, fungi, yeast or other similar biological agents that may have an adverse effect on human "Environmental Laws" means, any Applicable Law, including requirements under Approvals, relating to pollution or protection of human health or the environment, including those that relate to emissions, discharges, releases or threatened releases, or the generation, manufacturing, processing, distribution, use, treatment, storage, disposal, transport, or handling, of Hazardous Materials.

- 15.1.3Tenant files a petition, or if an involuntary petition is filed against Tenant, under Chapter 11 of the United States Code or any other state or federal bankruptcy, insolvency or similar law (whether presently in existence or enacted hereafter); Tenant is determined by a court to be insolvent; Tenant is placed in receivership or a receiver or trustee is appointed to operate or control Tenant; or Tenant is voluntarily or involuntary subject to a general assignment for the benefit of creditors;
- 15.1.4any representation or warranty made by Tenant or a permitted subtenant or assignee in connection with this Lease shall have been materially false or misleading;
- 15.2 Remedies. Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default, in addition to any other rights or remedies provided for herein or at law or in equity, and without barring election of any other remedy, Landlord, at its sole option, shall have the following rights:
- 15.2.1Landlord may terminate this Lease and Tenant's estate hereunder by written notice of such termination; provided, however that the mere giving by Landlord of a Notice to Pay (or perform) or a Notice to Quit shall not, of itself, constitute a notice of termination of this Lease, and Landlord shall recover from Tenant all damages incurred by Landlord by reason of the Event of Default including, but not limited to, (i) the worth at the time of the award of the unpaid Rent and other charges which had been earned at the time of the termination; (ii) the worth at the time of the award of the amount by which the unpaid Rent and other charges which would have been earned after termination until the time of the award exceeds the amount of such rental loss that, to the extent permitted by law, Tenant proves could have been reasonably avoided; and (iii) the worth at the time of the award of the amount by which the unpaid Rent and other charges which would have been paid for the balance of the Term after the time of award exceeds the amount of such rental loss that, to the extent permitted by law, Tenant proves could have been reasonably avoided. As used in subparts (i) and (ii) above, the "worth at the time of the award" is computed by allowing interest on unpaid amounts at the Lease Interest Rate, or such lesser amount as may then be the maximum lawful rate, accruing the date such payments are due until paid. As used in subpart (iii) above, the "worth at the time of the award" is computed by discounting such amount at the discount rate of the Bank of America, National Association at the time of the award, plus one percent (1%), and "Lease Interest Rate" means the lesser of (a) two percentage points (2%) over that fluctuating rate of interest announced from time to time by the Bank of America, National Association as its prime or reference commercial lending rate of interest (or in the event such bank is no longer announcing such rate, by such other federally regulated banking institution of comparable stature as Landlord shall reasonably determine), or (b) the maximum interest rate permitted by law, if any;

15.2.2 without taking possession of the Leased Premises, Landlord may require strict performance of all of the agreements, obligations and covenants hereof as the same shall respectively accrue, and shall have the right of action therefor; and

15.2.3Landlord may take possession of the Leased Premises through suit or termination of this Lease, for the purpose of re-letting them.

15.3Right to Cure. Whenever under any provision of this Lease, Tenant shall be obligated to make any payment or expenditure, make any improvement or repair, or do any act or thing, or to incur any liability whatsoever, and Tenant fails, refuses or neglects to perform within the time period herein required, which time period shall include the expiration of applicable notice and cure periods, Landlord shall be entitled, but shall not be obligated, to make any such payment or to do any such act or thing, or to incur any such liability, all on behalf of at the cost and for the account of Tenant. In such event, the amount thereof with interest thereon at the Default Rate commencing on the date paid by Landlord and until such time as paid in full by Tenant, shall be due and payable by Tenant with the next payment of Minimum Monthly Rent.

16.CASUALTY; CONDEMNATION.

16.1 Casualty.

16.1.1 Destruction. In the case of total destruction of the Leased Premises or the destruction of a material portion of the Leased Premises that substantially interferes with Tenant Operations, whether by fire or other casualty (collectively, "Casualty"), either party may terminate this Lease effective as of the date of such Casualty, by so notifying the other party in writing within thirty (30) days after the date of such Casualty. If Landlord desires to repair the Leased Premises, Landlord may revoke Tenant's termination by so notifying Tenant in writing within thirty (30) days after the date of such Casualty, which notice shall state the estimated time to complete such repairs ("Landlord's Repair Notice"). If the estimated time to complete such repairs is in excess one hundred eighty (180) days, Tenant shall have the right to terminate this Lease by so notifying Landlord in writing, within thirty (30) days after Tenant's receipt of Landlord's Repair Notice. If Landlord elects to repair, and Tenant does not, or is not entitled to, terminate this Lease, and if Landlord proceeds to and does repair the damage with reasonable dispatch, this Lease shall not terminate, but shall continue in full force and effect, except that Tenant shall be entitled to a reduction in the Minimum Rent to an amount equal to that proportion of the Minimum Rent that the number of square feet of floor space in the usable portion bears to the total number of square feet of floor space in the Leased Premises. Minimum Rent shall only be reduced until Landlord substantially completes the repair and restoration of the Leased Premises. If this Lease is terminated pursuant to this Section 16, Rent shall be prorated as of the date of Casualty.

16.1.2Damage Repair by Landlord. If the Leased Premises, exclusive of Tenant's Property not affixed to the Leased Premises, shall be damaged by Casualty but the damage does not substantially interfere with Tenant Operations, Landlord agrees to repair such Leased Premises with reasonable promptness and diligence and in that case the Minimum Rent shall not be abated or reduced. Tenant shall immediately notify Landlord in case of damage due to Casualty or otherwise to the Leased Premises. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if Landlord is required to repair the Leased Premises or portion thereof pursuant to this Section 16.1.2 or elects to repair under Section 16.1.1, as a part of such work, Landlord shall not be required to repair and restore any permanent alterations made by Tenant including any Tenant Improvements or any of Tenant's Property, such excluded items being the sole responsibility of Tenant to repair or restore.

16.1.3 Damage to Hotel Casino. In the event the Hotel Casino, not limited to, or not including, the Leased Premises, is damaged such that (a) the building of which the Leased Premises are a part is damaged to the extent of twenty percent (20%) or more of the cost of replacement; or (b) the buildings (taken in the aggregate) of the Hotel Casino are damaged to the extent of more than twenty percent (20%) of the aggregate cost of replacement; and in either event Landlord decides (i) not to repair such damage; (ii) to demolish the Hotel Casino; (iii) in connection with repairing the damage, to discontinue the use of the Leased Premises as retail space for tenants; or (iv) any combination of the foregoing, then Landlord may elect to terminate this Lease upon giving written notice of such election to Tenant within ninety (90) days after the Casualty causing such damage.

16.1.4 Insurance Proceeds. All insurance proceeds payable under any insurance policies carried by Landlord shall be payable solely to Landlord, and Tenant shall have no interest therein. Landlord shall not be liable, and Tenant shall in no case be entitled to compensation from Landlord, for damages on account of any loss of business, annoyance or inconvenience in making repairs under any provisions of this Lease. Except to the extent provided for in this Section 16, neither the Rent payable by Tenant nor any of Tenant's other obligations under any provision of this Lease shall be affected by any damage to or destruction of the Leased Premises or any portion of the Leased Premises by any cause whatsoever.

16.1.5 Damage Near End of Term. If at any time during the last nine (9) months of the Term there is damage for which the cost to repair exceeds the average monthly Rent amount paid during the last twelve (12) months, either party may terminate this Lease by giving written termination notice to the other party within thirty (30) days from the occurrence of such damage. If this Lease is terminated pursuant to this Section 16.1.5, Rent shall be prorated as of the date of damage.

16.1.6 Express Agreement. This Lease shall be considered an express agreement governing any case of damage to or destruction of the Leased Premises and/or the Hotel Casino by fire or other Casualty, and any present or future law the purpose of which is to govern the rights of Landlord and Tenant in such circumstances in the absence of express agreement, shall have no application.

16.2 Condemnation.

16.2.1Complete and Partial Taking. If the whole of the Leased Premises is lawfully taken by condemnation, eminent domain or in any other manner for any public or quasi-public purpose (each a "Taking"), this Lease shall terminate as of the date of such Taking, and Rent shall be prorated to such date. The date of Taking shall be the date possession of the Leased Premises is granted to the applicable Governmental Authority or other Person. If less than the whole of the Leased Premises is subject to the Taking, this Lease shall be unaffected by such Taking; provided, however, that (a) Tenant shall have the right to terminate this Lease by notice to Landlord given within ninety (90) days after the date of such taking if ten percent (10%) or more of the Leased Premises is taken and the remaining area of the Leased Premises is not reasonably sufficient for Tenant to conduct Tenant Operations, and (b) Landlord shall have the right to terminate this Lease by notice to Tenant given within ninety (90) days after the date of such taking if ten percent (10%) or more of the Leased Premises is taken; provided, further, however, Landlord shall not have the right to terminate this Lease unless Landlord also terminates the leases of any other tenants who have suffered the same extent of Taking as suffered by Tenant. If either Landlord or Tenant so elects to terminate this Lease, the Lease shall terminate on the thirtieth (30th) day after either such notice. The Rent shall be prorated to the date of termination. If this Lease continues in force upon such partial Taking, the Minimum Rent shall be equitably adjusted according to the remaining rentable areas of the Leased Premises.

16.2.2 Proceeds. In the event of any Taking, partial or whole, all of the proceeds of any award, judgment or settlement payable by the condemning Governmental Authority shall be the exclusive property of Landlord, and Tenant hereby assigns to Landlord any and all of its right, title and interest in any award, judgment or settlement from the condemning Governmental Authority; provided, however, that Tenant shall have the right, to the extent that Landlord's award, judgment or settlement is not reduced or prejudiced, to claim from the condemning Governmental Authority (but not from Landlord) such compensation as may be recoverable by Tenant in its own right for relocation expenses and damage to Tenant's Property.

16.2.3Landlord's Restoration Obligation. In the event of a partial Taking of the Leased Premises which does not result in a termination of this Lease, Landlord shall, at its sole cost and expense, undertake any restoration or repair to the remaining portion of the Leased Premises necessary for the Leased Premises to be as nearly as practicable to their condition prior to the Taking. Tenant shall be responsible at its sole cost and expense for the repair, restoration and replacement of any Tenant's Property in connection with the same.

17.REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES AND COVENANTS.

17.1 Landlord's Representations, Warranties and Covenants. Landlord hereby represents, warrants and covenants to Tenant, as of the Effective Date and at all times during the Term, that:
(a) Landlord is a limited liability company, duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the State of Nevada, and is duly qualified and in good standing as a foreign entity in the jurisdictions wherein the nature of the business transacted by it or property owned by it make such qualification necessary; (b) Landlord has the valid limited liability company power to enter into and perform all of its obligations under this Lease and this Lease has been authorized by all necessary limited liability company action; (c) there are no known actions, suits or proceedings pending or, to the best knowledge of Landlord, threatened against Landlord by any Governmental Authority which would prevent Landlord from completing the transaction provided for herein; (d) this Lease and the other agreements and instruments contemplated hereby constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of Landlord, enforceable in accordance with their respective terms except to the extent such enforcement may be limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, and other similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally and general principles of equity; and (e) that Landlord shall conduct, or cause to be conducted, the live-entertainment show, known as the pirate show, in the same location adjacent to the Leased Premises, and in substantially the same form as it is conducted, as of March 2011.

17.2 Tenant's Representations, Warranties and Covenants. Tenant hereby represents, warrants and covenants to Landlord, as of the Effective Date and at all times during the Term, that: (a) Tenant is a limited liability company, duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of its organization, and is duly qualified and in good standing as a foreign entity in the jurisdictions wherein the nature of the business transacted by it or property owned by it make such qualification necessary; (b) Tenant has the valid limited liability company power to enter into and perform all of its obligations under this Lease and this Lease has been authorized by all necessary corporate action; and (c) this Lease and the other agreements and instruments contemplated hereby constitute legal, valid and binding obligations of Tenant, enforceable in accordance with their respective terms except to the extent such enforcement may be limited by applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, and other similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally and general principles of equity.

18.SUBORDINATION.

18.1 Subordination of Tenant's Interest. This Lease and Tenant's interest in the Leased Premises is subordinate to any lien, mortgage or deed of trust now or hereafter placed, charged or enforced against the Leased Premises or the Property (collectively, a "Mortgage"), provided that such subordination shall be conditioned upon Tenant's right to quiet possession of the Leased Premises during the Term not being disturbed. If a Mortgagee ("Mortgagee" means the mortgagee under a mortgage or beneficiary under a deed of trust holding a lien encumbering the Property or any part thereof) requests a reasonable subordination, non-disturbance and attornment agreement, Landlord shall pay Tenant's reasonable costs and expenses incurred in connection therewith, and Landlord agrees to obtain a subordination, non-disturbance and attornment agreement from any current and future Mortgagee in a form reasonably acceptable to Tenant and such Mortgagee. In the event Landlord is unable to obtain a subordination, non-disturbance and attornment agreement in a form reasonably acceptable to Tenant and executed by Landlord and the current Mortgagee within thirty (30) days after Tenant's request, Tenant shall have the right to terminate this Lease.

18.2 Attornment. Tenant shall, in the event any proceedings are brought for the foreclosure of the Leased Premises or in the event of exercise of the power of sale under any Mortgage covering the Leased Premises, attorn to the purchaser upon such foreclosure or sale, and recognize such purchaser as the Landlord under this Lease.

19.MISCELLANEOUS.

19.1Certificates. At any time, and from time to time, within thirty (30) days after notice of request by either party, the other party shall execute, acknowledge, and deliver to the requesting party or to such other recipient as the notice shall direct, a statement: (a) certifying that this Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect, or, if there have been any modifications, that it is in full force and effect, as modified in the manner specified in the statement; (b) stating the date to which the Rent and any other charges have been paid in advance; (c) acknowledging that there are not, to the non-requesting party's knowledge, any uncured defaults on the party of the requesting party hereunder, or specifying such defaults if they are claimed; and (d) containing such other information regarding this Lease as the requesting party reasonably requests. The statement shall be such that it can be relied on by any auditor, creditor, commercial banker, or investment banker of either party and by any prospective encumbrancer of the Leased Premises, or of all or any part of Tenant's or Landlord's interests under this Lease. A party's failure to execute, acknowledge and deliver the certified statement described above within the specified time shall constitute acknowledgment by such party to all persons entitled to rely on the statements that the Lease is unmodified and in full force and effect, that the Rent and other charges have been duly and fully paid to and including the respective due dates immediately preceding the date of the notice of request, that such information regarding this Lease set forth therein is true and complete, and shall constitute a waiver, with respect to all persons entitled to rely on the statement, of any defaults that may exist before the date of notice.

19.2Signage. Throughout the Term, Landlord shall, at no additional expense to Tenant: (a) provide directional signage from the Hotel Casino and within the Property to the Leased Premises, and (b) include Tenant on all digital marquees, including prominent exposure on the primary marquee. As part of Tenant's Work, Tenant shall have the right to install signage on the exterior wall of the Leased Premises, subject to the mutual agreement of the Parties. Without limiting the foregoing, Tenant shall be afforded an equal opportunity to advertise in all of Landlords' advertising featuring other restaurant or bar/lounge tenants at the Property and at equal cost to other tenants.

19.3 Waiver of Rights. Failure to insist on compliance with any of the obligations and covenants hereof shall not be deemed a waiver of such agreements, obligations and covenants, nor shall any waiver or relinquishment of any right or power hereunder at any one or more time or times be deemed a waiver or relinquishment of such rights or powers at other times. Exercise of any right or remedy shall not impair Landlord's or Tenant's right to any other remedy.

19.4Assignment; Sublease. Notwithstanding any references herein to successors, assigns, subtenants and licensees, Tenant shall not assign or in any manner transfer, sublease, mortgage, pledge, hypothecate or encumber this Lease or any right, option or interest of Tenant herein, without the prior written consent of Landlord, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed; provided, however, in all cases, the proposed assignee, sublessee, transferee, mortgagor or pledgor must, at a minimum, be approved by Landlord's compliance committee. No assignment shall release Tenant of any of its obligations under this Lease or be construed as, or constitute a waiver of, any of Landlord's rights or remedies hereunder. Landlord will accept Rent and other amounts due and payable by Tenant pursuant to this Lease directly from a sublessee of Tenant. The acceptance of Rent by Landlord from any other person shall not be deemed to be a waiver of any provision of this Lease or consent to the assignment of Tenant's interest in this Lease. Absent a written agreement to the contrary which is executed by Landlord, no assignment, sublease, mortgage, pledge, hypothecation or encumbrance of this Lease by Tenant shall act as, or affect a release of, Tenant from any of the agreements, obligations and covenants of this Lease to be performed by Tenant hereunder. Without limiting the foregoing, it is understood and agreed that neither this Lease nor the leasehold interest created hereunder shall pass by operation of law under any state or federal insolvency, bankruptcy or inheritance act, or any similar law now or hereafter in effect, to any trustee, receiver, assignee for the benefit of creditors, heirs, legatees, devisees, or any other Person whomsoever without the prior written consent of Landlord. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, Tenant may, without Landlord's prior written consent, assign or sublease this Lease (i) Senor Frogs Las Vegas, LLC, a Nevada limited liability company, (ii) to a Tenant Affiliate, (iii) in connection with a sale of all or substantially all of the Tenant Operations, or (iv) the merger or consolidation of Tenant with another entity.

19.5Quiet Enjoyment; Right of Access. Tenant shall lawfully, peaceably, and quietly have, hold, occupy and enjoy the Leased Premises during the Term without hindrance or ejection by Landlord or by any persons lawfully claiming under Landlord. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Landlord and its authorized agents and representatives shall be entitled to enter the Leased Premises with reasonable notice, or immediately in the case of emergency, for the purpose of (a) observing, posting or keeping posted thereon notices provided for hereunder or required by Applicable Laws, or such other notices as Landlord may reasonably deem necessary or appropriate, (b) reasonably inspecting the Leased Premises, (c) exhibiting the Leased Premises to prospective purchasers or tenants; provided, however, Landlord shall not exhibit the Leased Premises to tenants prior to the last twelve (12) months of the Term, and (d) making repairs to the Leased Premises required by Landlord hereunder and reasonably performing any work upon the Leased Premises in accordance with the terms hereof.

19.6 Notices. Any notice or other communication required or permitted to be given by a party hereunder shall be in writing, and shall be deemed to have been given by such party to the other party or parties (a) on the date of personal delivery, (b) on the date delivered by a nationally recognized overnight courier service when deposited for overnight delivery, (c) on the next Business Day following any facsimile transmission to a party at its facsimile number set forth below; provided, however, such delivery is concurrent with delivery pursuant to the provisions of clauses (a), (b) or (d) of this Section 19.6, or (d) three (3) Business Days after being placed in the United States mail, as applicable, registered or certified, postage prepaid addressed to the following addresses (each of the parties shall be entitled to specify a different address and/or contact person by giving notice as aforesaid):

- 19.9 Amendment, Modification and Waiver. No supplement, modification, waiver or termination of this Lease shall be binding unless executed in writing by both parties. - 19.12 Interpretation. - 19.17 Recording. Neither Landlord nor Tenant shall record this Lease. Landlord and Tenant agree to execute, acknowledge and deliver at any time after the date of this Lease, at the request of the other party, a short-form memorandum of this Lease suitable for recording, setting forth the Lease Term, the extension options and such other provisions of this Lease as Landlord and Tenant shall reasonably deem appropriate, and such short-form memorandum may be recorded at Landlord's or Tenant's option.
- 19.18 Counterparts. This Lease may be executed in any number of counterparts, each one of which so executed shall be deemed an original, and all of which shall together constitute one and the same agreement. A facsimile signature shall have the same effect as an original signature.
- 19.19 Force Majeure. Neither party shall be deemed in breach hereunder and neither shall be liable to the other if either fails to perform any of its obligations hereunder by reason of any fire, earthquake, flood, epidemic, accident, explosion, labor dispute, riot, civil disturbance, act of public enemy or terrorism, embargo, war, act of God, any municipal, county, state or national ordinance or law, any executive or judicial order, or similar event beyond such party's control (financial inability excepted) (each a "Force Majeure Event"); provided, however, that no party shall be entitled to relief under this Section 19.19 unless such party shall have given the other party reasonable notice of such Force Majeure Event.

In that event, Landlord will reimburse Tenant for all costs incurred by Tenant in curing such default, so far as the same are reasonable in amount. Such reimbursement to Tenant shall be due and payable by Landlord on demand. Re: Construction Liens

Ms. Markusch:

It has come to Treasure Island's attention that you owe $1,100,640.00 in construction costs that you incurred on the Senor Frog's project. Due to your delinquency, subcontractors are beginning to threaten to lien the Treasure Island. This is unacceptable.

It is vital to our mutual ongoing business relationship that you do not allow liens to be established on preperty. Treasure Island will not sit idly by and allow our business and preperty to be drugged into this dispute, and will view the establishment of any lien on property as a direct violation of your obligation under the Lease. Simply put, pay your bills or face eviction.

Pursuam to § 4.4 of the Lease Agreement dated April 13, 2011, you have an affirmative obligation to keep us and our property "free and clear from any claim, lien, encumbrance, tax lien or levy, mechanic's lien, attachment, garnishment," or etc. In case this is not clear, your failure to comply with this basic obligation will be deemed a material default of this Agreement under section 15.

Contact us immediately with your plan of action.

Thank you.

AFFIDAVIT OF BRAD ANTHONY

STATE OF NEVADA ] | S.S. COUNTY OF CLARK ]

- 1. I Brad Anthony state the following under penalty of perjury and state that it is all true and correct to the best of my knowledge.
- 2. I am General Counsel to the Treasure Island Hotel owned by Treasure Island, LLC ("Treasure Island").
- 3. On August 31, 2012, I drafted a letter to Rose, LLC, ("Rose") concerning Rose's failure to pay certain construction costs. I addressed that letter to Rose, LLC, attention Susan Markusch with a carbon copy to, "Operadora Andersons S.A. de CV Boulevard Kukulan km 14.2 Cancun, Mexico C.P. 77500 Zona Hotelera."
- 4. After I sent that letter, I spoke on the phone with Gary Dragul, who I knew to be the President of Rose. Mr. Dragul asked if Treasure Island would postpone the payment obligations concerning the construction loan and briefly discussed the then-ongoing issue between Rose and its contractors. He also asked me to send all further notices directly to his attention and to not include Operadora (commonly known as Señor Frogs) on any future correspondence dealing with issues pertaining to Rose.
- 5. As a result, on all future notices pertaining to Rose's defaults I sent the letters to the attention of Gary Dragul and did not carbon copy Operadora. For example, in the very next letter dated September 19, 2012 where I addressed the phone conversation I had with Mr. Dragul, the letter was sent to Rose, LLC attention Gary Dragul without a carbon copy to Operadora. The same is true with numerous other letters regarding Rose's defaults and operations thereafter.

- 6. Neither Mr. Dragul nor anyone from Rose ever advised me that the September 19, 2012, letter sent to Gary Dragul without carbon copying Operadora should have been sent attention to someone else or carbon copied to Operadora or was in any other way defective.
- 7. To the contrary Mr. Dragul had expressly told me to send the letters attention to him and not to copy Operadora and I abided by that request.
- 8. I can definitely attest that Rose received my May 14, 2015, default letter. This is because in addition to sending the letter attention Gary Dragul I sent it via email to Elizabeth Gold. Ms. Gold was Vice President and in-house counsel for Rose. She was the one that took part in the negotiations for various amendments to the lease and wrote on behalf of Mr. Dragul with respect to the lien issue which was addressed back in 2012.
- 9. I am certain that Ms. Gold received the email since she called me shortly after I sent the May 14th default notice. During that conversation she asked for additional time to make the overdue payment and even mentioned that Mr. Dragul was out of the office attending to his sick brother. I told her I could not grant any extension.
- 10. At no time has Operadora ever complained about not being carbon copied on the default notice to Rose. To the contrary, the only communication to Treasure Island that I am aware of (which occurred between counsels) was a communication from Operadora confirming that the lawsuit against Rose would not act to also evict Operadora (which it would not pursuant to the express terms of the Fifth Amendment to the Lease Agreement which states that Treasure Island must negotiate a direct lease with Operadora in good faith if the Rose lease were terminated) and that if Treasure Island prevailed in terminating Rose's lease Treasure Island would then negotiate a lease directly with Operadora pursuant to section 9 of the Fifth Amendment.

Re: Construction Loan Repayment

Dear Mr. Dragul:

Several days ago, you requested that Treasure Island postpone your repayment obligations on the $2,500,000.00 interest free loan granted to you in accordance with section 3.4 of the Lease Agreement between Rose, LLC and Treasure Island. This letter serves as Treasure Island's response to that request.

As you are aware, the original Lease Agreement contemplated that, beginning after the first full calendar quarter when Rent became due, Rose, LLC, would pay to Treasure Island the greater of 100% of the Net Income generated by the Leased Premises or $300,000.00, as repayment for the above-referenced loan. This obligation was changed on, or around, December 22, 2011, to only require the greater of 80% of the Net Income or $300,000,00.

Since the Leased Premises opened for business in April, 2012, your first payment on the loan would have been due on October 15, 2012. As a courtesy, Treasure Island agrees to grant you a grace period of an additional quarter. Therefore, your first payment will be due no later than January 15, 2013. In exchange, Treasure Island requests that you provide us with monthly financial records contemplated by section 3 of the Agreement until your repayment commences.

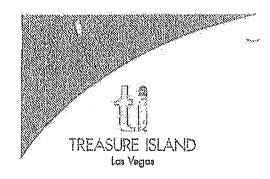

Your failure to begin repayments on January 15, 2013, will trigger section 15.1.1 of the Lease Agreement, and you will, at that time, be considered in default. All other terms and conditions not mentioned herein shall remain in full force and effect.

If you have any questions, or would like to discuss this further, please contact me.

Sincerely

-Real-R. Anthony General Counsel

Re: Security Issues

Dear Mr. Dragul:

As you are aware, Treasure Island has concerns regarding your security force at Sefior Frogs. Specifically, the venue is consistently generating reportable issues for our security force on Saturday evenings (Latin Nights). Several fights have been started by guests exiting your establishment. These incidents have spilled onto the casino floor and involved Treasure Island patrons and employees.

More recently, we have heard several disturbing reports of abuse by your security officers. One is accused of using a taser on patrons to the club. A separate incident involved your security team taking an individual to TI's holding area, asking our officer to turn around so that your team could physically attack the restrained individual, and then abandoning the area, leaving the individual handcuffed in Treasure Island's care.

These incidents cannot continue. Treasure Island has requested, in the past, that you provide better security on Latin Nights. While we appreciate the changes you have made, they are insufficient. We receive at least one report of misconduct from inside your club every week on Latin Night. In the end, your failure to adequately control that environment can cause fines to be issued to Treasure Island and may eventually impact our gaming license. Other clubs in town have Metro on duty on their theme nights. While Latin night is not necessarily as volatile (from a gun violence perspective) as hiphop nights are, the number of incidents is beginning to advocate for a stronger formal police presence.

Second, given your officer conduct (tasering, physical contact, lack of professionalism), Treasure Island has decided not to be party to your arrests. As such, we will no longer permit Sener Frogs security to utilize our holding area. If you plan on arresting patrons in your club, we recommend that you renovate a space to use as a holding area until Metro can arrive, and properly train your security feam.

If you have any questions, or would like to discuss this further, please contact me.

Re: Construction Loan Repayment

Dear Mr. Dragul:

Treasure Island hereby informs you that you are either in default or about to be in default under the Lease Agreement.

- 1) Treasure Island has not received the Fifty Thousand Dollar ($50,000.00) payment due to it by or before January 15 pursuant to Section 3.4 of the Lease Agreement and specifically guaranteed by Amendments 2 and 4 to the Lease Agreement.
- Treasure Island has not been paid $75,307.43 in Live Entertainment Tax for taxable events that were held in the Leased Premises.
- 3) Treasure Island has received your response to your letter of January 2, 2015, and would like to remind you that you agreed to indemnify Treasure Island against all expenses arising out of occurrences in the Leased Premises. Ordering fixed through Treasure Island is an occurrence that has caused Treasure Island to incur substantial expenses. In fact, the $211,514.95 that you were notified of 13 days ago remains unpaid, and has since increased to $301,405.76 as October's obligations came due.

Treasure Island hereby demands payment in full of each of the items set forth above.

We would also like you to note that Selfor Frogs attempted to pay the $106,534.87 that was due for August's reimbursement obligation with a check that was returned for having insufficient funds available. This is a violation of NRS 205.132 and NRS 205.765, and Treasure Island is weighing its options with regards to these statutes.

Nothing in this letter shall be deemed a waiver of Treasure Island's rights under Section 15 of the Lease.
