INTRODUCTION/SUMMARY OF ARGUMENT

As it pertains to Helix,[1] Helix opposes APCO's Motion for Attorney's Fee and Costs ("Motion"). Specifically, but without limitation, Helix opposes the Motion as it relates to costs on the grounds asserted in Helix's pending Motion to Re-Tax Costs and hereby adopts the arguments asserted by reference therein. As it relates to APCO's request for an award of attorney's fees, Helix opposes the Motion on the following grounds:

- At APCO's express urging, this Court concluded that the Subcontract Agreement between APCO and Helix dated April 17, 2007 (the "Subcontract"-- Trial Exhibit 45), upon which APCO relies in asserting

[1] Helix anticipates that National Wood Products ("NWP"), against whom APCO seeks similar relief, will also oppose the Motion on grounds that, at least in part, would apply equally or similarly to Helix. Helix anticipates joining in NWP's Opposition to the extent such Opposition relies on grounds applicable to the claims for relief against Helix.

its entitlement to an award of attorney's fees, was assigned to the owner, Gemstone, and, later, to Camco after APCO left the Project in 2008. As such, (i) APCO has voluntarily assigned, waived and relinquished any rights it may have previously possessed to an award of attorney's fees, (ii) APCO is not a party to the Subcontract and has no agreement upon which it may seek an award of fees, and (iii) APCO is not the real party in interest with regard to an award of fees and has no standing to seek the same;

- By way of the express terms of a previous Order issued by Judge Scann dated November 28, 2012 ("2012 Order"), and which APCO urged Judge Scann to issue, trial in this consolidated matter commenced on October 30, 2012. Accordingly, APCO's Offer of Judgment (dated November 13, 2017)[2] was issued nearly five years too late and is therefore ineffective and inapplicable. Even if APCO was entitled to make an Offer of Judgment more than five years after trial commenced, APCO has failed to identify, much less demonstrate, that the factors set forth in Beattie v. Thomas, 99 Nev. 579, 588 (1983) favor an award of fees to APCO. Among other things, and without limitation, Helix's claim was brought in good faith, the Offer of Judgment was unreasonable in timing and amount, and Helix's decision to reject the offer and proceed to trial was not grossly unreasonable or made in bad faith;

- Under NRS 108.237(3), attorney's fees are not available to APCO because this Court has made no finding that Helix pursued its notice of lien "without a reasonable basis in law or fact," nor do the facts of this case support any such post-trial finding (even if the same were permitted). Moreover, APCO included in its notice of lien (which it pursued through appeal before the Nevada Supreme Court) amounts attributable to Helix' notice of lien; and

- If the Court nonetheless determines that APCO is entitled to an award of attorney's fees and costs (despite the foregoing arguments and facts), any such award should be drastically reduced from the nearly $500,000 APCO seeks (collectively against Helix and NWP) because, among other things, APCO unjustly seeks recovery of:

    - Attorney fees for legal work performed prior to the date this matter was remanded by the Nevada Supreme Court (i.e., when APCO and its subcontractors were united in their efforts to recover on their respective notices of lien), especially where Helix actively participated with APCO in pursuing the lien claimants' priority to the property and proceeds;

    - Attorney fees that APCO failed to adequately apportion among the more than 18 lien claimants that remained involved in this

[2] APCO's Motion incorrectly identifies the date of its Offer of Judgment as November 13, 2018 (an obvious impossibility).

consolidated proceeding after remand from the Nevada Supreme court, and instead and in most cases, asks this Court to order Helix to pay no less than 50% of APCO's attorney's fees;

- Attorney fees expended on APCO's unsuccessful motions and motions filed by Helix and others that APCO unsuccessfully challenged;

- Attorney fees for duplicative work and work performed by new counsel to "come up to speed" on the case;

- Attorney fees expended on unnecessary research and analysis regarding the Five-Year Rule when – at APCO's urging, by way of the 2012 Order which APCO's attorneys prepared more than five years before – the Court had already concluded that the Five-Year-Rule was "no longer applicable;"

- Attorney fees for counsel's "travel time" to and from his home in Arizona for a trial in Nevada arising out of a Nevada construction project; and

- Excessive attorney fees for time spent on post-trial briefing (more than 160 hours and nearly $50,000 on these matters alone) and other matters generally.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. APCO HAS NO CONTRACTUAL BASIS FOR AN AWARD OF FEES.

It is settled law that attorney's fees are not recoverable absent a statute, rule or contractual provision to the contrary. Locken v. Locken, 98 Nev. 369, 650 P.2d 803 (1982); Von Ehrensmann v. Lee, 98 Nev. 335, 647 P.2d 377 (1982). Nevada's statutory provisions regarding attorney's fees provides in pertinent part that "the compensation of an attorney and counselor for his services is governed by agreement, express or implied, which is not restrained by law." NRS 18.010(1). In short, unless APCO has a contract that includes a provision entitling it to an award of attorney's fees, it must seek the same through some other means, if at all. As more fully discussed below, APCO has no contractual basis and no standing to seek an award of fees from Helix.

Here, APCO argues that it is entitled to an award of attorney's fees as the prevailing party pursuant to Paragraph 18.5 of the Subcontract (Trial Exhibit 45). However, APCO waived, assigned and relinquished all rights arising or derived from the Subcontract, when it knowingly acquiesced to the assignment of the Subcontract to Gemstone, then Camco. See Nevada Yellow Cab Corp. v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court ex rel. Cty. of Clark, 123 Nev. 44, 49, 152 P.3d 737, 740 (2007) (Waiver requires the intentional relinquishment of a known right). The waiver of a right may be inferred when a party engages in conduct so inconsistent with an intent to enforce the right as to induce a reasonable belief that the right has been relinquished. Id. citing Hudson v. Horseshoe Club Operating Co., 112 Nev. 446, 457, 916 P.2d 786, 792 (1996).

By way of the findings of fact and conclusions of law (that APCO urged the Court to adopt for its express benefit), this Court determined that APCO is not and (since at least 2008) has not been a party to the Subcontract because the Subcontract, and all of APCO's rights thereunder (including a claim to entitlement to an award of attorney's fees) were assigned to the project owner, Gemstone and, subsequently, to Camco. Specifically, but without limitation, this Court found:[3]

- "[T]he Subcontracts were assigned to Gemstone." [See Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law ("FFCL") p. 68];
- Each party's behavior is consistent with the assignment of the Helix and CabineTec Subcontracts to Gemstone" [See Conclusion of Law ("CL") No. 116];
- "The [prime] Contract contained a subcontract assignment provisions that assigned Gemstone APCO's subcontracts upon termination of the Contract." [See CL No. 117];
- The Contract was incorporated into the subcontracts." [See CL No. 118];
- Once APCO left the Project, the Helix and Cabinetec Subcontracts were assigned to Gemstone per Gemstone's written notice to APCO." [See CL

[3] Helix disputed these contentions and still respectfully disagrees with the Court's conclusions. Nothing in this Opposition should be interpreted as Helix's agreement with these conclusions. Nonetheless, the Court must evaluate APCO's Motion consistent with Court's conclusions.

No. 119]; and

- Once Gemstone had those Subcontracts, it facilitated Camco's assumption of those subcontracts." [See CL No. 120].

An assignment of a right is a manifestation of the assignor's intent to transfer such right and the assignor's right to performance by the obligor is extinguished and the assignee acquires a right to such performance. Restatement (Second) of Contracts §317. An assignment is a transfer of all the interests and rights to the thing assigned. Dept. of Rev. v. Bank of America, 752 So.2d 637 (Fla. 1st DCA 2000) (emphasis added). Here, APCO argued, and this Court concluded, that APCO voluntarily and pursuant to its contractual obligations with Gemstone (that it entered into voluntarily), assigned the Subcontract, and all rights and remedies thereunder, when its contract with Gemstone ("Prime Contract") was terminated. APCO's actions in assigning the Subcontract plainly constitute a voluntary relinquishment of known rights. See Nevada Yellow Cab Corp, supra.

Stated more directly, APCO assigned to Gemstone and Camco all rights of contractual enforcement, including the attorney's fees provision. "An assignment vests in the assignee the right to enforce the contract, an assignor retains no rights to enforce the contract after it has been assigned." Estate of Basile v. Famest, Inc., 718 So.2d 892 (Fla. 4th DCA 1998) (emphasis added). See also Ryder Truck Rental, Inc. v. Transportation Equipment Co., Inc., 339 N.W.2d 283 (Neb., 1983) citing 6A C.J.S. Assignments § 96 (1975) (generally, an assignor retains only those rights which have not passed to the assignee by the assignment. The assignor loses all right to control or enforce an assigned right against the obligor) (emphasis added); Imel v. Travelers Indem. Co., 281 N.E.2d 919, 921 (Ind.App. 1972) ("assignment is an outright transfer of the claim.") (emphasis added); Allstate Insurance Company v. Medical Lien Management, Inc., 348 P.3d 943, 947 (Colorado 2015) citing Corbin on Contracts, § 50.1, at 223 (an assignment "extinguishes a contract right in the assignor and recreates that right in the assignee") (emphasis added).

This universally accepted maxim that the assignor "deprives himself of all interest and control" over the assigned rights applies equally to a judgment for attorney's fees. See Boarman

v. Boarman, 556 S.E.2d 800, 804 (W.Va 2001). See also Oral Roberts University v. Anderson, 11 F.Supp.2d 1336 (N.D. OK 1997) (a party can assign away its contractual right to receive an award of attorney's fees but cannot, by assignment, delegate the obligation away).

Here, and as requested and encouraged by APCO, the Court ruled that APCO's rights and duties under the Subcontract were, in or about August 2008, voluntarily assigned to Gemstone and Camco. As such, APCO has had no right to enforce any provisions of the Subcontract since before this Action was commenced. Based on the Court's decision, APCO, and not Helix, assigned away APCO's rights under the Subcontract. As a result, APCO has waived, relinquished and forever assigned away all Subcontract rights and is therefore without any contractual basis to recover attorney's fees from Helix.

II. APCO HAS NO STANDING TO SEEK AN AWARD OF FEES UNDER THE SUBCONTRACT AND IS NOT THE REAL PARTY IN INTEREST WITH RESPECT TO THE SUBCONTRACT.

The Nevada Supreme Court has held that an assignment of rights "eliminates the standing of the assignor to pursue the litigation, and the assignee acquires standing instead." Manko Holdings Ltd. v. Reno Project Management, LLC, 385 P.3d 43 (Unpublished Decision, Docket No. 70525, September 27, 2016[4]) citing Butwinick v. Hepner, 128 Nev. 718, 721–22, 291 P.3d 119, 121 (2012); Applied Medical Technologies, Inc. v. Eames, 44 P.3d 699 (Utah 2002) (granting a defendant judgment creditor's motion to dismiss an appeal, after the defendant purchased at a constable's sale claims asserted against him by the plaintiff judgment debtor).

The inquiry into whether a party is a real party in interest overlaps with the question of standing. Arguello v. Sunset Station, Inc., 127 Nev. 365 (2011) citing Szilagyi v. Testa, 99 Nev. 834, 838, 673 P.2d 495, 498 (1983). NRCP 17(a) provides that "[e]very action shall be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest." A real party in interest "is one who possesses the right to enforce the claim and has a significant interest in the litigation." Id. The purpose of the rule, since it was amended in 1971 to conform to the federal rule, "was to make unmistakably clear that 'the modern function of the [real party in interest] rule in its negative aspect is simply to protect the defendant against a subsequent action by the party actually entitled to recover, and to insure generally that the judgment will have its proper effect as res judicata.'" Easton Bus. Opp. v. Town Executive Suites, 126 Nev. 119 (2010) citing Fed.R.Civ.P. 17(a) advisory committee's note (1966).

Here, APCO seeks to enforce a right that – by virtue of the assignment - belongs to another. Specifically, if Camco had prevailed in defending Helix's contractual claims, it surely would have asserted a right to an award of attorney's fees with respect to the assigned Subcontract. Such exposure to liability to both APCO and Camco arising out of the same contractual provision is exactly what NRCP 17(a) is designed to prevent. See Town Executive Suites, supra. Having voluntarily assigned away all its rights under the Subcontract, APCO is not the real party in interest with respect to the Subcontract and has no standing to seek recovery of its attorney's fees based on rights derived from the Subcontract that were assigned to and are owned by another.

III. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO FEES OR COSTS PURSUANT TO RULE 68.

APCO also incorrectly asserts entitlement to an award of fees and costs pursuant to NRCP 68. Specifically, APCO seeks an award of fees and costs from the date of its November 13, 2017 Offer of Judgment. However, based upon the 2012 Order of this Court which was made at APCO's urging and more than five years prior, trial in this Action commended on October 30, 2012. As such, APCO's Rule 68 Offer of Judgment was issued more than five years too late. Even if the Offer of Judgment were timely (which it plainly was not) APCO has not proved, or even identified, the Beattie factors, which the Court must consider and weigh before awarding attorney's fees pursuant to NRCP 68.

A. The Offer of Judgment was Untimely.

NRCP 68 provides that an Offer of Judgment may be made "at any time more than 10 days before trial." NRCP 68; See also Palace Station Hotel & Casino, Inc. v. Jones, 115 Nev. 162, 165, 978 P.2d 323, 325 (1999) (express language of NRCP 68 "expressly provides that the offer of judgment must be made 'more than 10 days before the trial begins,' [and] the trial date is the event from which the ten-day period begins to run.").

In this consolidated action, and as expressly set forth in the 2012 Order of this Court (per Judge Susan Scann), trial commenced on October 30, 2012. [See Exhibit 1]. Specifically, the 2012 Order (which was prepared and submitted by and at the behest of APCO, by and through its then-attorneys, Howard & Howard) provides:

> 3. Trial of this consolidated matter commenced on October 30, 2012 upon the trial of the lien amount, lien validity and related claims of Ready Mix, Inc., and therefore, the five year rule set forth in Nevada Rule of Civil procedure 41(e) is no longer applicable.

[Ex. 1, emphasis added].

As the context of the 2012 Order makes clear, the parties (including APCO who authored the 2012 Order) were concerned that the five-year rule might impact their respective claims.[5] Although some parties ceased to participate after the date of the 2012 Order, this Action has never been bifurcated or de-consolidated. Accordingly, while the specific claims and issues between APCO and Helix remained pending as of November 13, 2017, APCO's Offer of Judgment was not made "more than 10 days before the trial [began]." To the contrary, the Offer of Judgment was made more than five years after trial commenced. Because the Offer of Judgment was served more after trial had commenced, it is ineffective and not available to APCO as a vehicle to recover attorney's fees or costs.

B. The Beattie Factors Do Not Support an Award of Fees to APCO.

Even though, or perhaps because, APCO knows that (by virtue of it's the 2012 Order) its Offer of Judgment was untimely, APCO has not presented the Court with any analysis of the Beattie factors,[6] nor does it support an award in its Motion.

[5] As of 2012, APCO was continuing to pursue its lien claim against the property and the proceeds. The Nevada Supreme Court's decision granting priority of those proceeds to the lenders was not issued and final until February 2016.

In determining whether to award attorney fees in the context of a Rule 68 offer of judgment, the district court must consider and weigh the following factors:

(1) whether the plaintiff's claim was brought in good faith;
(2) whether the defendants' offer of judgment was reasonable and in good faith in both its timing and amount;
(3) whether the plaintiff's decision to reject the offer and proceed to trial was grossly unreasonable or in bad faith; and
(4) whether the fees sought by the offeror are reasonable and justified in amount.

Sands Expo & Convention Center, Inc. v. Bonvouloir, 385 P.3d 62 (Unpublished disposition, Docket No. 68091, October 6, 2016[7]) citing Beattie, 99 Nev. at 588–89. APCO's Motion failed to even identify, much less address the Beattie factors in support of its Motion. As such, the Court should summarily deny APCO's Motion for attorney's fees based on its Offer of Judgment.

To the extent the Court considers the Beattie factors irrespective of APCO's failure to brief the same,[8] the Court should conclude that these factors weigh against, not for, an award of fees to APCO.

1. Helix's claims were made in good faith.

First, it cannot be seriously asserted that Helix did not bring its claims in good faith. Helix, along with APCO, asserted standard contractual and lien claims and for most of the 10 years that this Action has been pending, worked closely together in a concerted effort to collect monies owed from the sale proceeds of the real property. Thereafter, Helix survived APCO's pre-trial motion to dismiss its lien claim (and those of other lien claimants) and ultimately prevailed on its claims against Camco. While Helix disagrees with the Court's ultimate conclusion that APCO is not liable to Helix for the unpaid balance of the work, materials and equipment (collectively, "Work") it provided for the Project, Helix respectfully submits that to suggest that Helix's claims were brought in bad faith is absurd. This Beattie factor clearly favors Helix.

[7] Pursuant to NRAP 36(c)(3), a party may cite an unpublished disposition of the Nevada Supreme Court issued on or after January 1, 2016.

[8] Helix objects to any attempt APCO may make to brief the Beattie factors on Reply. Such an untimely analysis of critical factors that APCO has the burden of establishing in its motion is grossly unfair to Helix, who has no opportunity to respond to the same.

HENDERSON, NEVADA 89074
(702) 990-7272 ♦ FAX (702) 990-7273

2. The offer of judgment was not reasonable in timing or amount.

In Bonvouloir, supra, the Nevada Supreme Court held that plaintiff's "decision to reject the $12,000 all-inclusive offer in the face of extensive anticipated damages and on-going discovery does not appear grossly unreasonable." Here, more than 10 years after the project collapsed and this consolidated Action commenced and nearly two years after this case had been remanded from the Supreme Court (after years of united effort on the part of APCO and Helix to collect monies owed from the sale proceeds of the real property), APCO offered Helix the underwhelming sum of $25,000 to walk away from more than $1,400,000 in claims, exclusive of interest and the costs and fees it had incurred (as of that date) in prosecuting those claims. "While the purpose of NRCP 68 is to encourage settlement, it is not to force plaintiffs unfairly to forego legitimate claims." Beattie, 99 Nev. at 588. Under the circumstances, APCO's offer might as well have been $1.00 because $25,000, in the context of this Action, objectively could not have encouraged settlement. Accordingly, APCO's Offer of Judgment was nothing more than a fee-shifting mechanism and it is unsurprising that Helix declined to accept the offer. This Beattie factor also favors Helix.

3. Helix's decision to proceed to trial was not grossly unreasonable or in bad faith.

For the same reasons expressed above, it cannot be seriously argued that Helix's decision to decline the Offer of Judgment and to proceed to trial was unreasonable or made in bad faith. In addition to the issues discussed above with regard to the second Beattie factor, Helix's claims against APCO and Camco (who made no settlement offer) were factually intertwined. Furthermore, the Court had granted partial summary judgment with respect to Pay-if-Paid, a critical issue in the case.[9]

Even if Helix had accepted APCO's miniscule offer it would have still been required to proceed to trial against Camco and present most of the same facts. Indeed, Helix's proposed findings of facts and conclusions of law ("FFCL") against Camco (most of which this Court adopted) contain many of the same facts that were included in its proposed FFCL against [9] Respectfully, Helix believes that the Court's trial decision is materially inconsistent with its ruling on Pay-if-Paid.

APCO. In short, Helix had almost nothing to gain, and nearly everything to lose, by accepting APCO's pittance of an offer. The Third Beattie factor therefore also favors Helix.

4. Reasonableness of the Fees

Because the reasonableness of the fees is addressed in the alternative in more in-depth detail below, Helix respectfully requests the Court to consider and apply the arguments set forth below to the fourth Beattie factor. Accordingly, Helix respectfully submits that even the attorney's fees sought after the date of the Offer of Judgment are unreasonable and excessive, and therefore, the fourth Beattie factor also favors Helix.

IV. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO ATTORNEY'S FEES PURSUANT NRS 108.237(3).

APCO alternatively contends (incorrectly) that the Court should award it fees pursuant to NRS 108.237(3). For the reasons discussed below, the Court should reject APCO's arguments.

The Nevada legislature intentionally applied different standards for awarding attorney's fees in a mechanic's lien action depending on which party prevails. Specifically, while it is statutorily mandated that the court award a prevailing lien claimant its attorney's fees and costs (see, NRS 108.237(1)), any award of attorney's fees and costs against the lien claimant is purely discretionary and subject to specific factual findings that this Court has not made. NRS 108.237(3) provides as follows:

> If the lien claim is not upheld, the court may award costs and reasonable attorney's fees to the owner or other person defending against the lien claim if the court finds that the notice of lien was pursued by the lien claimant without a reasonable basis in law or fact.

NRS 108.237(3). At no time has this Court been asked to find, nor has it found that Helix' lien was pursued "without a reasonable basis in law or fact". Moreover, even if the Court could–after the conclusion of trial and submission of the evidence - now evaluate whether Helix pursued its notice of lien without a reasonable basis in law of fact, the Court must reject any such finding for the following reasons.

Importantly, NRS 108.237(3) does not permit the Court to award fees to APCO simply because APCO successfully defended Helix's lien claim (among other causes of action). See Certified Fire Prot. Inc. v. Precision Constr., 128 Nev. 371, 384 (2012) citing Rodriguez v. Primadonna Company, 125 Nev. 578, 588–89, 216 P.3d 793, 800–01 (2009) ("A party's clam may be reasonable despite losing."). In Precision Constr., the Court determined that the lien claimant had a reasonable basis in law or fact, even though the district court, like this Court, rejected the lien claimant's legal theories based on express and implied contract and unjust enrichment theories. 128 Nev. 371.

PEEL BRIMLEY LLP

Before the Court may award APCO's attorney's fees (pursuant to NRS 108.237(3)), the statute requires the Court to find that the notice of lien was pursued without a reasonable basis in law or fact. Here, the court reached exactly one conclusion of law arguably relating to Helix's lien – that "APCO is not legally liable for any deficiency judgment because it is not the party responsible for any deficiency." [See Conclusion of Law ¶ 36]. In other words, rather than determine that Helix's notice of lien was made without a reasonable basis in law or fact, the Court instead ruled against Helix on its contract claims, which therefore precluded any liability against APCO on the lien.

Indeed, because APCO itself recorded a lien upon which it obtained a $20 million judgment [see Trial Exhibit 3176; Joint Pre-Trial Memorandum ¶ 16] and included in its lien amounts attributable to Helix' lien, APCO necessarily admits (in asserting that Helix's notice of lien was pursued without a reasonable basis in law or fact) that its own notice of lien was also pursued without a reasonable basis in law or fact. Of course, APCO will not concede this point, nor did it ever so contend the same against itself or Helix while counsel for Helix and the other Peel Brimley Lien Claimants (by way of a united front) joined in the Writ Petition to the Supreme Court, cooperated and assisted in its preparation and presentation, and joined APCO's counsel at counsel table during oral arguments.

It is also worth noting that APCO could have filed (but chose not to) a motion or petition to expunge Helix's notice of lien by way of NRS 108.2275. That statute allows the debtor of the lien claimant or a party in interest who believes the notice of lien "is frivolous and was made without reasonable cause" to apply to the Court for an order to show cause and to release the lien.[10] Tellingly, APCO never pursued that option even though (if successful) it would have been entitled to a mandatory award of fees (as would Helix for successfully defending such a motion). [See NRS 108.2275(6)(a), (c)].

APCO did, however, file a motion for summary judgment asking the Court to dismiss Helix's cause of action for lien foreclosure, which Helix and other lien claimants successfully defended and defeated. [See Exhibit 2]. Were the Court to conclude that Helix's lien was pursued without a reasonable basis in law or fact, that motion would have been an appropriate time to reach such a conclusion. Having instead denied APCO's motion for partial summary judgment, the Court certainly should not now conclude that Helix pursued its notice of lien without a reasonable basis in law or fact.

Despite the foregoing, should the Court nonetheless conclude that Helix pursued its notice of lien without a reasonable basis in law or fact, the extent of any attorney's fees awarded should not exceed the de minimis time necessary to draft Conclusion of Law ¶ 36.

V. APCO'S ATTORNEY FEE APPLICATION IS UNREASONABLE

If, despite the foregoing, the Court nonetheless determines that APCO is entitled to an award of attorney's fees and costs, any such award should be drastically reduced for the reasons set forth below.[11]

A. APCO's Costs Are Overstated.

Pursuant to NRS 18.110(3), Helix filed a Motion to re-Tax Costs, which motion is pending and set for hearing (by stipulation of the parties) on the same date and time as APCO's present Motion. Helix has therein identified its specific objections to APCO's cost memorandum and incorporates the same (and any reply brief) herein by reference.

[10] NRS 108.2275(1) provides: "The debtor of the lien claimant or a party in interest in the property subject to the notice of lien who believes the notice of lien is frivolous and was made without reasonable cause, or that the amount of the notice of lien is excessive, may apply by motion to the district court for the county where the property or some part thereof is located for an order directing the lien claimant to appear before the court to show cause why the relief requested should not be granted."

[11] By critiquing the minutiae of APCO's time entries and fee requests, Helix in no way admits or agrees that APCO is entitled to any fees or costs. The following arguments are made out of an abundance of caution and in the alternative.

B. APCO's Attorney's Fees Are Grossly Excessive and Should be Substantially Reduced.

In reviewing APCO's attorney's fee application, the Court must consider the Brunzell factors. Shuette v. Beazer Homes Holdings Corp., 121 Nev. 837, 865, (2005); Schouweiler v. Yancey Co., 101 Nev. 827 (1985) (reversing the district court's order awarding attorney fees and remanding the issue to be evaluated under the Brunzell factors[12]); see also Beattie v. Thomas, 99 Nev. 579, 589 (1983) (noting that it is an abuse of discretion to award the full amount of requested attorney fees without making "findings based on evidence that the attorney's fees sought are reasonable and justified."). The Court's discretion should be tempered "by reason and fairness." Shuette, 121 Nev. at 865. APCO has the burden of establishing that the Brunzell factors support its application for fees but wholly fails to justify it application for such a massive award.

Here, as between Helix and NWP, APCO seeks an award of attorney's fees of $447,809.98. As against Helix alone, APCO seeks an award of one-half this amount ($223,904.89) or, if fees are only awarded arising from APCO's Rule 68 Offer of Judgment, $113,622.77.[13] As more fully discussed below, these astounding requests: (i) are grossly excessive, (ii) improperly seek fees for legal work performed when APCO and Helix were united, aligned, and actively cooperating in their mutual pursuit of claims against the property and proceeds, (iii) fail to properly allocate the fees as to all subcontractors who were pursuing claims against APCO and instead predominantly allocates to Helix and NWP on a 50/50 basis, (iv) improperly seek recovery of attorney's fees unrelated to the claims on which APCO prevailed or otherwise arising from APCO's unsuccessful motion practice, (v) absurdly ask Helix to pay for APCO's counsel's "travel time" for a Nevada case involving a Nevada project, (vi) seek recovery for redundant, excessive and otherwise unproductive and unnecessary work, [12] The Brunzell factors relevant to determining the reasonableness of an attorney fee award include: "(1) the qualities of the advocate: his ability, his training, education, experience, professional standing and skill; (2) the character of the work to be done: its difficulty, its intricacy, its importance, time and skill required, the responsibility imposed and the prominence and character of the parties where they affect the importance of the litigation; (3) the work actually performed by the lawyer: the skill, time and attention given to the work; (4) the result: whether the attorney was successful and what benefits were derived." Brunzell v. Golden Gate Nat'l Bank, 85 Nev. 345, 349 (1969).

[13] Stated differently, APCO is seeking, from the period of November 13, 2017 through trial, more than half the amount it is seeking for the entire duration of the case.

and (vii) are generally without merit.

Based on the following, if the Court is to grant any award of fees and costs, the amount should be reduced by no less than 90%.

1. APCO is not entitled to fees before February 2016.

APCO seeks a significant amount of fees for work performed by its attorneys, Marquis & Aurbach ("M&A")[14] for the period prior to this case being remanded to the Court, following the decision of the Nevada Supreme Court denying the Joint Writ Petition relating to priority and entitlement to the proceeds of the sale of the real property that APCO, Camco, Helix and dozens of other contractors and materials suppliers liened. As demonstrated by Exhibit 3, the writ proceeding was a joint effort by APCO and the subcontractor parties represented by Peel Brimley LLP at the time, including Helix,[15] which efforts benefitted, or attempted to benefit, every other lien claimant that chose to stay on the sidelines and freeload on these efforts.

At the expense of Helix and Peel Brimley Lien Claimants, the undersigned and others in the Peel Brimley LLP firm spent countless hours working with APCO's counsel, drafting portions of the Writ Petition and subsequent briefing, reviewing and revising briefs, preparing for oral argument, appearing at and joining APCO's counsel at counsel table, and otherwise consulting with and closely working with APCO's counsel for the mutual benefit of their respective clients. Helix and the other Peel Brimley Lien Claimants only became actively adverse[16] to APCO after the Supreme Court rejected the Joint Petitioner's petition for en banc reconsideration and the case was remanded to this Court on or about February 19, 2016. [See Exhibit 4, Order Denying En Banc Reconsideration]. Despite this indisputably cooperative relationship, APCO seeks, as part of the M&A fees more than $12,500.00, for which credit [14] It is worth noting that APCO's Exhibit 7A (the M&A fees) is in type so small that a magnifying glass is required to read it, perhaps to discourage a careful review that would reveal the many problems with this submission.

[15] At that time the so-called Peel Brimley Lien Claimants included Accuracy Glass & Mirro Company, Inc., Buchele, Inc., Bruin Painting Corporation, Cactus Rose Construction, Inc., Fast Glass, Inc., HD Supply Waterworks LP, Heinaman Contract Glazing, Helix electric of Nevada LLC, Interstate Plumbing & Air Conditioning, SWPPP Compliance Solutions, and WRG Design, Inc.

[16] Obviously the Peel Brimley Lien Claimants, or at some of them, filed claims against APCO as early as 2009. The point is that until February 2016, these parties were cooperating closely to pursue the lien claims against the owner and the property rather than aggressively working against one another.

should be given.[17]

2. APCO fails to properly allocate fees among the various claimants.

Even though there were no less than 18 claimants with claims, or potential claims, against APCO throughout the post-Supreme Court period,[18] APCO allocates the vast majority of its time entries and fees to Helix and NWP on a 50/50 basis. With respect to the M&A Fees, and beginning on or about February 22, 2016, APCO allocates more than 90% of its time entries to Helix and NWP on a 50/50 basis. The few exceptions include time entries when specific claimants are identified in the text of the time entry, including multiple entries attributed solely or predominantly to Helix. By way of example only, M&A's entry on September 1, 2016 allocates to Helix 1/6th of the amount billed because the time entry reflects review of documents and claims asserted by six identified parties. While this allocation is more appropriate, APCO frequently miscounts or assigns a percentage of the fee to an inaccurate number of claimants. For example, on September 23, 2016, APCO allocates 1/6th of the amount to Helix even though nine claimants are referenced in the work. As another (of many) examples, APCO allocates 100% of a time entry on July 27, 2017 to Helix even though the entry clearly also relates to opposition briefs filed by Zitting Brothers and Interstate Plumbing as well as work on a reply brief for an unsuccessful APCO motion (discussed more fully below).

In addition, APCO frequently allocates to Helix all or most of the fees relating to motions by or activities relating to all of the Peel Brimley Lien Claimants, of which Helix is but one. For example, on October 5, 2017, APCO allocates 50% of a time entry to Helix for "preparation for hearings on Helix and Zitting's motions for summary judgment." Yet the motion apparently referred to was not just Helix's motion but rather the Peel Brimley Lien Claimants (successful) motion for partial summary judgment regarding Pay-if-Paid in which multiple others joined[19] and that pertained to all of the subcontractor claims against APCO.

[17] As noted above, the type in the M&A fees is so small that a magnifying glass is required to read it. In addition, Helix does not have the benefit of the digital spreadsheet that was used to prepare this exhibit (or, for that matter, APCO's exhibit containing time entries and fee calculations for the Spencer Fane law firm). Accordingly, to the extent there are any errors in the discussion of substance or amounts relating to the M&A fees, the same is owing primarily to the condition of the raw materials provided in APCO's motion.

[18] Prior to the Supreme Court decision there were dozens of claimants.

[19] See Exhibit 5, Entry of Order Granting Summary Judgment re: Pay-if-Paid.

Such shorthand allocation occurs throughout the M&A Fees and is grossly unfair to Helix who – APCO's burden of proof notwithstanding – finds itself having to repeatedly prove a negative.

As another example, APCO allocates 50% of the M&A Fees on October 18, 2017 to "update and review litigation matrix regarding active subcontractors with claims against APCO in preparation for upcoming depositions." Yet just one month earlier, on September 20, 2017, APCO allocates to Helix only 1/14th of its time entry to, among other things, "analyze and review various documents provided from client and binders for subcontractors who have purported claims against APCO." Stated differently, ACPO allocates to Helix 50% of time entries "regarding active subcontractors" while in the same time frame it allocates only 1/14th of time entries relating to "subcontractors who have claims against APCO." The 1/14th allocation is itself an admission that there were no less than 14 subcontractors with claims or potential claims against APCO to whom the vast majority of time entries should have been allocated.

In fact, and as evidenced by multiple letters and reports and recommendations of Special Master Floyd Hale, from the time of remand until (at the earliest) shortly before the trial of Helix's claims against APCO in January 2018, there were as many as 14-35 subcontractors with claims or potential claims against APCO, many of whose claims were much larger than Helix's. By way of example only, as demonstrated by their responses to the Special Master Questionnaire:

- Interstate Plumbing and Air Conditioning, LLC identified claims against APCO in excess of $4 million. [Exhibit 6A];
- Nevada Prefab Engineers asserted a claim against APCO in excess of $1 million. [Exhibit 6B];
- Zitting Brothers Construction, Inc. asserted a claim against APCO in excess of $750,000. [Exhibit 6C];
- Noorda Sheet Metal Company asserted a claim against APCO in excess of $945,000. [Exhibit 6D]; and
- Unitah Investments, LLC d/b/a Sierra Reinforcing asserted a claim against APCO in excess of $420,000. [Exhibit 6E].

At the time the Special Master was appointed, the service list included more than 30 law firms, some of whom represented multiple claimants (exclusive of APCO and Camco). [See Exhibit 7A]. In his Report and Recommendation dated August 2, 2016, the Special Master identified three parties who were withdrawing their claims, meaning that there no less than 21 and as many as 35 claimants at that time. [See Exhibit 7B]. In the Special Master's Report dated October 7, 2016, Special Master Hale recommended, and this Court affirmed, that there were 18 remaining subcontractors (following submission of mandatory responses to the Special Master Questionnaire). [Exhibit 7C].[20] By the time of this Court's Order dated September 19, 2017, there were 14 subcontractors remaining. [See Exhibit 8]. While additional parties later withdrew, failed to appear at calendar call, resolved their disputes or otherwise ceased to participate in the litigation, some of them did not officially withdraw from the case until long after trial of the Helix claims was completed. [See e.g., Exhibit 9, Stipulated Dismissal of Interstate Plumbing, dated February 5, 2018; Exhibit 10, Stipulated Dismissal of Steel Structures, Gerdau Reinforcing Steel, and Nevada Prefab Engineers, dated May 23, 2017].

In any event, M&A's occasional allocation to 14 claimants is a far more accurate representation and admission of a proper allocation. Similarly, and while Spencer Fane's fee record (APCO Ex. 7B) does a better job of allocating its fees, it too fails to fully allocate. For example, there are a number of entries applicable to all claimants in which APCO allocates 1/8th of the cost to Helix. See e.g., 10/5/2017 entry to "prepare for and attend APCO summary judgment hearing."

Even if Helix's counsel had the time to do so, it would be impossible to accurately deconstruct these improperly-allocated time records because the records themselves were created by others and are not necessarily subject to after-the-fact interpretation. More to the point, APCO bears the burden of establishing that it properly allocated and has badly failed to do so. Accordingly, and without limitation to other deductions requested herein, Helix recommends that the M&A fees be reduced such that no more than 1/14th of its total fees, or [20] The then-remaining subcontractors were: Helix Electric of Nevada, Inc., Fast Glass, Inc., Buchele, Inc., Accuracy Glass & Mirror Co., Zitting Brothers Construction, Inc., Nevada Prefab Engineers, Inc., Noorda Sheet Metal, Insulpro Projects, Inc., Interstate Plumbing and Air Conditioning, LLC, Heinaman Contact Glazing, Inc., Cardno WRG fka WRG Design, Inc., Cactus Rose Construction, Inc., National Wood Products, Inc., and United Subcontractors dba Sky Line Insulation.

$17,561.00, be allocated to Helix. The Spencer Fane Fees should also be reduced to align with the 1/14th allocation of the M&A Fees such that no more that $17,142.00 is allocated to Helix.

3. APCO should not receive an award for fees expended on unsuccessful motions and related activities.

One of the Brunzell factors is: "whether the attorney was successful and what benefits were derived." Despite this, APCO seeks recovery of tens of thousands of dollars relating to motions it unsuccessfully filed and its unsuccessful defense of motions by Helix and other subcontractors. For example, APCO seeks recovery for multiple time entries and thousands of dollars relating to its omnibus motions in limine. See e.g., Spencer Fane time entries (APCO Ex. 7A) 10/22/17, 11/4/12, 11/6/17 totaling more than $2,600.00 allocated to Helix alone. Despite these efforts, this Court denied most of those motions. [See Exhibit 11]. Furthermore, only one of APCO's motions in limine directly related to Helix and that motion was denied (No. 4, seeking to bar evidence of unjust enrichment damages that Helix asserted in the alternative). Nonetheless, APCO asks Helix to pay no less than 1/3 of its fees relating to all of APCO's motions in limine. Similarly, APCO seeks recovery of fees expended in defending Helix's motions in limine even though the Court granted three of Helix's four motions. [See Exhibit 12]. APCO's fees relating to these matters (more than $6,200.00 allocated to Helix) should therefore be reduced by 75% - i.e., no less than $4,650.00). In addition, APCO allocates to Helix no less than $3,000.00 from M&A's billings relating to APCO's motions in limine and Helix is entitled to a reduction of no less than $5,445.00.

APCO also allocates to Helix no less than $10,300.00 of M&A billings in connection with APCO's unsuccessful (i) motion for partial summary judgment re: Lien Foreclosure Claims [see Exhibit 13], (ii) opposition to the Peel Brimley Lien Claimants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment re: Pay-if-Paid [see Ex.5] and (iii) motion for reconsideration of Order Granting Partial Summary Judgment re: Pay-if-Paid [see Exhibit 14]. APCO should not be awarded any of these fees. Similarly, APCO allocates no less than $16,200.00 of Spencer Fane billings to these same unsuccessful motions and oppositions for which APCO should receive no recovery. APCO's fees should therefore be reduced by another $26,500.00.

PEEL BRIMLEY LLP

(702) 990-7272 ♦ FAX (702) 990-7273

APCO's attorneys also spent considerable time on other unproductive tasks and issues. For example, APCO allocates to Helix approximately $1,000.00 for Spencer Fane and M&A to research and analyze possible Five-Year Rule defenses even though (as discussed in detail above) APCO itself proposed and prepared the November 28, 2012 Order deeming the trial commenced and the Five-Year Rule "no longer applicable." While these wasted efforts no doubt resulted from APCO's decision to hire three separate law firms to represent it in this case, Helix should not be made to incur the cost of such unnecessary redundancies.

APCO's decision in approximately September 2017 to hire the Spencer Fane firm as its third law firm engaged in this action carried with it significant redundancies and otherwise unnecessary "get up to speed" work. Indeed, nearly all of the Spencer Fane Fees in September 2017 (i.e., before it even appeared in the action) appear to be redundant catch-up work. See e.g., 9/7/17 (conference with clients "about the Helix litigation"); 9/26/17 ("review all pleadings" and "attend meeting at Apco's office with Apco representatives and counsel to discuss status and strategy"). Additionally, and even though Spencer Fane officially appeared on September 29, 2017 and it became evident that Spencer Fane would be APCO's trial lawyers, M&A continued to bill substantial amounts of time and dollars, approximately half of which APCO allocates to Helix. While APCO is certainly entitled to hire whomever it wishes as counsel, Helix should not be exposed to the duplicative efforts of multiple lawyers in multiple firms on a case that could and should have been handled by a single partner-level lawyer and, perhaps, an associate. While an exact reduction is difficult to assess, Helix recommends that APCO's fees be further reduced by no less than $30,000.00 for sch redundancies and inefficiencies.

4. "Travel time" is not compensable lawyer time.

APCO also allocates to Helix substantial "travel time" for its trial attorney to "travel to Las Vegas." See e.g. 1/16/18 ("travel to Las Vegas"); 1/19/18 ("travel to Phoenix"); 1/23/18 ("travel to Las Vegas"); 1/24/18 ("return to Phoenix"). While APCO is certainly entitled to hire counsel who resides out of state,[21] Helix should not be responsible for that attorney's travel time [21] The undersigned also resides out of state and frequently commutes between Seattle and Law Vegas. However, he does not bill clients for travel between these cities for local work. This seems only reasonable. While APCO and their counsel are free to reach an alternative arrangement, Helix should not bear the brunt of that agreement.

PEEL BRIMLEY LLP

to and from Las Vegas for a Las Vegas case involving a Las Vegas construction project and Las Vegas-based parties (i.e., APCO and Helix). As it appears that APCO has allocated Helix approximately 4 hours of travel time, any award to APCO should be reduced by another $1,600.00.

5. APCO billings relating to Martin Harris project should be deducted.

APCO seeks recovery of at least $2,300.00 (see e.g. M&A Fees) relating to its spurious contention – which it withdrew at trial – that Helix recovered some or all of its unpaid balance by way of work it performed for general contractor Martin Harris Construction on the Grammercy project. APCO very likely seeks recovery of additional time relating to these claims that is embedded within other time entries (e.g., pre-trial memorandum, trial preparation). As such, any fee award to APCO should be further reduced by no less than $4,000.00 relating to work on this contention.

6. APCO's post-trial briefing is excessive.

APCO seeks recovery for more than 160 lawyer hours – more than $50,000.00 total and more than $25,000.00 allocated to Helix- for post-trial briefing and preparation of findings of fact and conclusions of law. While the parties' submissions were extensive, 160 hours is the equivalent of 20 working days. 20 working days to prepare post-trial submissions arising from four days of trial is plainly excessive. Helix respectfully suggests that any allocation to Helix for these activities be reduced by $15,000.00.

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, Helix respectfully requests that the Court deny APCO's motion for attorney's fees in its entirety and grant only those costs identified as reasonable and recoverable in Helix's Motion to Re-Tax Costs. To the extent the Court concludes that APCO has a legal basis for recovery of reasonable attorney's fees against Helix, the Court should allow no more than $25,000.

ORDER STAYING THE CASE, EXCEPT FOR THE SALE OF THE PROPERTY, PENDING RESOLUTION OF THE WRIT PETITION BEFORE THE NEVADA SUPREME COURT

This matter having come before the Court upon the joint oral motion for a stay of the case, except for any procedures necessary to complete the pending sale of the Property, made by APCO Construction, the Peel Brimley Lien Claimants and Scott Financial, the Court having heard no objections, and other good cause appearing:

THE COURT FINDS AS FOLLOWS:

1. A stay of the entire case, with the exception of any actions necessary for the sale of the Property as previously ordered by the Court, pending resolution of the Writ Petition currently before the Nevada Supreme Court, is appropriate pursuant to Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 62 and Nevada Rule of Appellate Procedure 8.

2. No bond is necessary as the real parties in interest have jointly moved for the stay.

3. Trial of this consolidated matter commenced on October 30, 2012 upon the trial of the lien amount, lien validity and related claims of Ready Mix, Inc., and therefore, the five-year rule set forth in Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 41(e) is no longer applicable.

4. To the extent that trial under Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 41(e) has not commenced, the stay pursuant to Nevada Rule of Appellate Procedure 8, tolls the five-year rule of Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 41(e).

Based upon the above findings by the Court and other good cause,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that all causes of action, counterclaims, third-party claims or otherwise are hereby stayed pending resolution of the Writ Petition currently pending before the Nevada Supreme Court, except for any actions necessary for the sale of the Property as previously ordered by this Court, and the establishment of an account for the proceeds of the sale, to which all lien claims shall attach.

This matter came on for hearing November 16, 2017, before the Honorable Mark Denton in Dept. 13 on the Peel Brimley Lien Claimants' ("PB Lien Claimants")[1] Motion for Partial Summary Judgment Precluding Defenses Based on Pay-if-Paid Agreements ("the Motion"). Joinders were filed by Zitting Brothers, Construction, Inc., William A. Subcontractors") APCO Construction ("APCO") and Camco Pacific Construction, Inc. ("Camco") opposed the Motion. The issues having been well-briefed and argued and the Court being fully advised in the premises, the Court is persuaded that the Motion has merit and should be granted.

A. Findings of Fact.

Specifically, but without limitation, there are no genuine issues of material fact as follows:

1. This action arises out of a construction project in Las Vegas, Nevada known as the Manhattan West Condominiums Project ("the Project") located at West Russell Road and Rocky Hill Street in Clark County Nevada, APNs 163-32-101-003 through 163-32-101-005, 163-32-101-010 and 163-32-101-014 (the "Property" and/or "Project"), owned by Gemstone Development West, Inc. ("Gemstone" or the "Owner").

2. The Owner hired APCO and, subsequently, Camco as its general contractors, who in turn entered into subcontract agreements with various subcontractors including the PB Lien Claimants and the Joining Subcontractors. In December 2008 the Owner suspended the Project and advised the various contractors that the Owner's lender did not expect to disburse further funds for construction. Numerous contractors, including the PB Lien Claimants, the Joining Subcontractors, APCO and Camco recorded mechanic's liens against the Property.

3. After several years of litigation and a Writ Action to determine the priority of the various lienors (during which the Property was sold, the proceeds of the same held in a blocked account and this action was stayed), the Nevada Supreme Court ruled that the Owner's lenders had priority over the proceeds of the sale of the Property, holding that the NRS Ch. 108 mechanic's liens were junior to the lenders' deeds of trust. The Court subsequently ordered the proceeds be released to the lender. Thereafter, the stay was lifted and the PB Lien Claimants, Joining Subcontractors and others continued to pursue claims for non-payment from APCO and Camco.

4. APCO and Camco assert defenses to the various subcontractor claims based on so-called "pay-if-paid agreements" (hereinafter referred to generally as "Pay-if-Paid"). Specifically but without limitation, APCO and Camco rely on language in the APCO Subcontract Agreement that was adopted by way of a Ratification Agreement between Camco and some of the subcontractors, that APCO and Camco have no obligation to pay the subcontractors for the work materials and equipment they furnished to the Project ("the Work") unless and until the Owner pays APCO and Camco for the Work. APCO and Camco claim that they have not been paid, in whole or in part, for the Work and/or that the Owner by-passed them by making or intending to make payments to subcontractors through a voucher control company, Nevada Construction Services ("NCS"). Among other provisions, APCO and Camco rely upon the following:

> 3.4 Any payments to Subcontractor shall be conditioned upon receipt of the actual payments by Contractor from Owner. Subcontractor herein agrees to assume the same risk that the Owner may become insolvent that Contractor has assumed by entering into the Prime Contract with the Owner.
> 3.5 Progress payments will be made by Contractor to Subcontractor within 15 days after Contractor actually receives payment for Subcontractor's work from Owner. Any payments to Subcontractor shall be conditioned upon receipt of the actual payments by Contractor from Owner. Subcontractor herein agrees to assume the same risk that the Owner may become insolvent that Contractor has assumed by entering into the Prime Contract with the Owner.
> 3.8 The 10 percent withheld retention shall be payable to Subcontractor upon, and only upon the occurrence of all the following events, each of which is a condition precedent to Subcontractor's right to receive final payment hereunder and payment of such retention: ... (c) Receipt of final payment by Contractor from Owner.
> 3.9 Subcontractor agrees that Contractor shall have no obligation to pay Subcontractor for any changed or extra work performed by Subcontractor until or unless Contractor has actually been paid for such Work by the owner.
> 4.2 The Owner's payment to Contractor of extra compensation for any such suspension, delay, or acceleration shall be a condition precedent to Subcontractor's right, if any, to receive such extra compensation from Contractor.

5. Each of these provisions represents or contains Pay-if-Paid such that, if enforced, may allow APCO and Camco to deny payment to their subcontractors for work performed on the grounds that APCO and Camco have not been paid.

6. Any finding of fact herein that is more appropriately deemed a conclusion of law shall be treated as such.

B. Conclusions of Law.

As discussed below, Pay-if-Paid is void and unenforceable in Nevada and, as a result, the Motion to Preclude Defenses based on Pay-if-Paid Agreements in GRANTED.

1. In 2008 the Nevada Supreme Court declared Pay-if-Paid void and unenforceable as against Nevada's public policy because "Nevada's public policy favors securing payment for labor and material contractors." Lehrer McGovern Bovis, Inc. v. Bullock Insulation, Inc., 124 Nev. 1102, 1117-18, 197 P.3d 1032, 1042 (Nev. 2008). The Bullock Court noted that "because a pay-if-paid provision limits a subcontractor's ability to be paid for work already performed, such a provision impairs the subcontractor's statutory right to place a mechanic's lien on the construction project." 124 Nev. at 1117 n. 51 (citing Wm. R. Clarke Corp. v. Safeco Ins. Co., 15 Cal. 4th 882, 64 Cal. Rptr. 2d 578, 938 P.2d 372, 376 (Cal. 1997)

2. Nevada's statutory schemes designed to secure payment to contractors and subcontractors in the construction industry as a whole are remedial. See Hardy Companies, Inc. v. W.E. O'Neil Const. Co., 245 P.3d 1149, 1155 (Nev. 2010) (citing Las Vegas Plywood v. D & D Enterprises, 98 Nev. 378, 380, 649 P.2d 1367, 1368 (1982)). As stated in Bullock:

> Underlying the policy in favor of preserving laws that provide contractors secured payment for their work and materials is the notion that contractors are generally in a vulnerable position because they extend large blocks of credit; invest significant time, labor, and materials into a project; and have any number of workers vitally depend upon them for eventual payment. We determine that this reasoning is persuasive as it accords with Nevada's policy favoring contractors' rights to secured payment for labor, materials, and equipment furnished.

Bullock, 124 Nev. at 1116 (emphasis added).

3. Despite the fact that the Bullock decision involved mechanic's liens, the Court rejects as without merit the argument that the public policy rationale of Bullock is limited to the concept of security or does not apply when there is no security such as in the present case, where the Property has been sold and the proceeds have been released to senior lienors. Among other things, the term "secured payment" utilized by Bullock, at 1116, uses "secured" as an adjective and "payment" as a noun.

4. By way of a footnote, the Bullock Court noted that the Nevada Legislature "amended NRS Chapter 624 to include the prompt payment provisions contained in NRS 624.624 through 624.626. Pay-if-paid provisions entered into subsequent to the Legislature's amendments are enforceable only in limited circumstances and are subject to the restrictions laid out in these sections." 124 Nev. at 1117 n. 50. No such "limited circumstances" exist in this case.

5. NRS 624.624(1) provides for the obligation of prompt payment by a higher-tiered contractor (such as APCO and Camco) to a lower-tiered subcontractor (such as the PB Lien Claimants), as follows:

> Except as otherwise provided in this section, if a higher-tiered contractor enters into:
> (a) A written agreement with a lower-tiered subcontractor that includes a schedule for payments, the higher-tiered contractor shall pay the lower-tiered subcontractor:
> (1) On or before the date payment is due; or
> (2) Within 10 days after the date the higher-tiered contractor receives payment for all or a portion of the work, materials or equipment described in a request for payment submitted by the lower-tiered subcontractor,
> ↪ whichever is earlier.
> (b) A written agreement with a lower-tiered subcontractor that does not contain a schedule for payments, or an agreement that is oral, the higher-tiered contractor shall pay the lower-tiered subcontractor:
> (1) Within 30 days after the date the lower-tiered subcontractor submits a request for payment; or
> (2) Within 10 days after the date the higher-tiered contractor receives payment for all or a portion of the work, labor, materials, equipment or services described in a request for payment submitted by the lower-tiered subcontractor,
> ↪ whichever is earlier.

NRS 624.624(1) (emphasis added).

HENDERSON, NEVADA 89074

6. Stated simply, if there is a "schedule of payments" in an otherwise enforceable written agreement, the higher-tiered contractor must pay the lower-tiered subcontractor – at the latest – on the date payment is due. If there is no enforceable written agreement containing a schedule of payments, the payment is due to the lower-tiered subcontractor – at the latest - within 30 days of its request for payment. Under either circumstance it has been approximately nine years since payments on the Project ceased to be made.

6. The Court also rejects the argument that the "schedule of payments" delays the obligation of payment until "within 15 days after Contractor actually receives payment for Subcontractor's work from Owner." Because the expiration of 15 days is itself dependent upon payment being received from the Owner, this is not a "schedule of payments" but rather simply another form of Pay-if-Paid.

7. Any conclusion of law herein that is more appropriately deemed a question of fact shall be treated as such.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED as follows:

1. The Peel Brimley Lien Claimants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment Precluding Defenses Based on Pay-if-Paid Agreements GRANTED; and

2. APCO and Camco may not assert or rely upon any defense to their payment obligations, if any, to the PB Lien Claimants and the Joining Subcontractors that is based on a pay-if-paid agreement.

IT IS SO ORDERED this 29th day of December, 2017.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION

After the appeal, the remaining portion of this complex litigation involves numerous contractors with respective claims and defenses against each other arising from the Manhattan West Mixed-Use Development Project ("Property"). There are voluminous numbers of pages of documents, countless witnesses and potential need for experts. With the case now coming out of the stay, the parties will be resuming their disclosure of documents, participating in discovery, setting a case agenda/case management and so forth. Odds are there will be the disputes over documents, witnesses and so forth. As such, APCO respectfully requests this Court appoint a Special Master[1] to set a case agenda/case management on the remaining claims, guide the parties in their dealings with each other and resolve any forthcoming disputes.

II. PROCEDURAL SUPPORT

A. 2012 STAY

There was a stay ordered on the litigation when the mechanic lien claimants filed a Joint Petition for Writ of Mandamus or, in the Alternative, Prohibition on June 22, 2012 (the "Subcontractors' Writ"). On or about September 24, 2015, the Nevada Supreme Court denied the Subcontractors' Writ holding that the contractual partial subordination by the creditors of a common debtor did not subordinate the first priority lien.[2] Furthermore, the Court indicated that NRS 108.225 did not change the priority of the mechanic's lien to a partially subordinated lien recorded before the mechanic's lien.[3] Accordingly, the Court held that the priority of the mechanic's lien remained junior to the amount secured by the original senior lien holder – Scott Financial Corporation ("SFC").

Thereafter, on or about October 19, 2015 the mechanic lien claimants petitioned the Nevada Supreme Court for a rehearing, which was denied on or about November 24, 2015.[4] On or about December 17, 2015 the mechanic lien claimants then petitioned the Nevada Supreme Court for an en banc reconsideration, which was denied on or about February 16, 2016.[5] Thus, with this Litigation coming out of a stay, various parties will be resuming discovery, including but not limited to, the disclosure of voluminous documents; propounding discovery requests; conducting depositions; and potentially disclosing experts. This case is now in need of a Special Master.

B. THIS COURT PREVIOUSLY DEEMED THIS LITIGATION COMPLEX AND ENTERED A CASE MANGEMENT ORDER.

This Court has already deemed the Litigation complex and entered into a Case Management Order on or about January 28, 2010 in the lead case ("Case Management Order").[6] This Court identified that the purpose of the Discovery Plan and Case Management Order was to hopefully reduce the costs of litigation as follows:

> 1.1 Purpose. This construction action is deemed complex, in that it shall involve a large number of parties and claims, and trial, if it occurs, is likely to be prolonged. This Case Management Order ("Order") is entered to reduce the costs of litigation, to assist the parties in resolving their disputes if possible and if not, to reduce the costs and difficulties of discovery and trial.[7]

As the Court suspected, this Litigation necessitated the inclusion of countless subcontractors with various mechanic lien claims against the Property. Notably, this Court identified that this Litigation would require the consolidation of numerous lawsuits addressing mechanic's lien claims to the Property and additionally the joinder of parties with claims to the Property.[8] Due to the inevitable consolidation of numerous lawsuits and joinder of various parties, the Case Management Order identifies procedures for discovery to hopefully reduce the costs and difficulty of discovery and trial. However, all of those deadlines due to the Stay have passed.

Finally, the Case Management Order explicitly identifies that "[n]othing herein shall prevent any party, upon a showing of good cause, from filing a motion to modify or amend any provision of this Case Management Order." As such, by this Motion APCO is seeking that his Court not only enter a new case management order but also appoint a special master to guide the Parties in their dealings with each other to resolve any forthcoming disputes.

III. THIS COURT SHOULD APPOINT A SPECIAL MASTER

The Nevada rules empower this Court to appoint a special master to guide the Parties in their dealings with each other to resolve any forthcoming disputes. Specifically, NRCP 53(a) allows for the appointment of special masters as follows:

> (a) Appointment and Compensation.
> (1) The court in which any action is pending may appoint a special master therein. As used in these rules the word "master" includes a referee, an auditor, an examiner and an assessor. The compensation to be allowed to a master shall be fixed by the court, and shall be charged upon such of the parties or paid out of any fund or subject matter of the action, which is in the custody and control of the court as the court may direct. The master shall not retain the master's report as security for the master's compensation; but when the party ordered to pay the compensation allowed by the court does not pay it after notice and within the time prescribed by the court, the master is entitled to a writ of execution against the delinquent party.

Additionally, NRS 108.239(7) permits the use of special masters in mechanics' lien cases. It provides, in pertinent part, that "[t]he court shall ..., by decree, proceed to hear and determine the claims in a summary way, or may, if it be the district court, refer the claims to a special master to ascertain and report upon the liens and the amount justly due thereon."[9]

The Nevada Supreme Court has appointed a special master in a similar litigation involving subcontractors' claims on its mechanics' liens to the subject property.[10] The CSA Court identified that special masters are appointed to:

> regulate all proceedings ... and ... do all acts and take all measures necessary or proper for the efficient performance of the master's duties under the order. NRCP 53(c). They are appointed when necessary and in matters of account and of difficult computation of damages ... upon a showing that some exceptional condition requires it. NRCP 53(b). In lien matters, the special master may only report on the liens and the amount due, whereas the district court determines the lien's validity.[11]

In accordance with NRCP 53 and NRS 108.239(7), the district Court in CSA appointed a special master to resolve "the calculation, computation of damages, and amount owing, including principal, interest, attorney's fees and lien costs, as to each lien claimant" and to further determine the lien priority.[12] The Nevada Supreme Court determined that the CSA District Court did not abuse its discretion in appointing a special master because complex civil matters with various parties are:

> exactly the type where it is proper to use a special master because litigation involves matters of account that would reach substantial proportions and would potentially consume an inordinate amount of judicial resources.[13]

Like CSA, this Court should appoint a special master to carry out the normal duties and obligations associated with special masters in complex construction defect cases. The parties should equally share in the cost and expense of the special master. Ultimately, it would not be improper for this Court to assign a special master in this consolidated complex case involving various subcontractors with claims to the Property as it could potentially consume inordinate amount of judicial resources.[14]

IV. CONCLUSION

Based on the above, APCO moves for a Special Master to guide the Parties in their dealings with each other to resolve any forthcoming disputes.

DISCOVERY PLAN AND CASE MANAGEMENT ORDER

1. GENERAL PURPOSE

1.1 Purpose. This construction action is deemed complex, in that it shall involve a large number of parties and claims, and trial, if it occurs, is likely to be prolonged. This Case Management Order (the "Order") is entered to reduce the costs of litigation, to assist the parties in resolving their disputes if possible and if not, to reduce the costs and difficulties of discovery and trial.

1.2 Code Governs Where Silent. On any matter as to which this Order is silent, the Nevada Revised Statutes, the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure, and the Eighth Judicial District Court Rules shall be controlling.

2. TRIAL

Trial is not yet scheduled in this matter, but is requested and anticipated to be set in February 2012. The parties anticipate trial may last sixty to ninety days.

3. PARTIES

3.1 Case Caption: To simplify the captioning of this case, the consolidated cases shall be identified as "In Re Manhattan West Mechanics' Lien Litigation" in the caption. The caption should be prepared with the case number of the lead case – and the notation "and all consolidated cases."

3.2 Consolidation: The Court finds that numerous lawsuits have been filed addressing the issue of mechanics' lien claims for the project commonly known as the Manhattan West project in Clark County, Nevada. The Court finds that all such cases share sufficient common questions of law and fact that all such cases should be consolidated for purposes of discovery and trial. To the extent any case currently pending before the Eighth Judicial District Court brings a cause of action seeking to foreclose mechanics lien on the property that is the subject of these consolidated cases, such case is ordered consolidated for purposes of discovery and trial with this litigation without need for further motion. If future cases are filed seeking to foreclose mechanics' liens on the property that is the subject of this litigation, such case shall be directly consolidated into this litigation without need for further motion. Such consolidation shall be accomplished by filing a notice of consolidation along with a copy of this order in the case being consolidated.

3.3 Joinder of Any Additional Lien Claimants: The Court finds that in order to achieve a resolution of this case that is most consistent with judicial economy that it is necessary for all parties who seek to pursue mechanics' lien claims against this property to be joined in this litigation. To that end, the Court is concerned that there may be certain parties who have recorded liens against the property but who have not yet filed an action to foreclose on their liens (hereinafter "Non-Participating Lien Holders"). Accordingly, the Court orders that Gemstone Development West, Inc. (hereinafter the "Owner Defendant"), and/or Scott Financial Corporation (hereinafter the "Lender Defendant") shall, on or before March 1, 2010 identify any Non Participating Lien Holders and serve such parties with an Order to Show Cause why their liens should not be expunged. The Court will conduct a hearing on any such Orders, and at that time any Non Participating Lien Holder that does not commit to participating in this litigation shall have its lien expunged.

3.4 Subsequently Appearing Parties: When a party subsequently makes an appearance in this case, the party who sued the subsequently appearing party is responsible for serving a copy of this order within 10 days after the subsequently appearing party files its first responsive pleading or answer.

4. DISCOVERY ISSUES

Due to the need for enhanced case management in this litigation the Court shall hear all motion practice in this case including discovery motions. Discovery motions in this litigation may be filed directly with the Court instead of with the Discovery Commissioner. Nothing contained herein shall relieve counsel for any party of their obligations pursuant to EDCR 2.34.

5. DOCUMENT PRODUCTION

The parties agree to produce all documents in electronic images. The following protocol shall apply to the documents produced in this case:

a. The documents shall be scanned in .tif format for documents and .jpeg format for photographs.

b. All document images shall have bates numbers embedded in the document. The image files shall be named in a way that corresponds with the bates number (e.g., document ABC00001 shall bear the file name ABC0001.tif).

c. Each party shall be responsible producing documents in accordance with this order by generating or causing to be generated by a third party electronic images of the documents. Once a party has arranged for the imaging of its documents the party shall serve the remaining parties in the case with notice that documents have been imaged. The notice shall specify the vendor who performed the imaging and shall state the cost of obtaining copies of the imaged documents. Serving all parties with notice that documents have been imaged and may be obtained from a third party shall constitute the production of those documents for purposes of this litigation. Any party wishing to obtain a copy of another party's documents shall bear the responsibility for obtaining the copy directly from the third party who prepared the document images.

d. The production of plans shall be through vellums or CDs of the originals. Plans should include the bid set, approved set, field set, as built set, and any amendments thereto.

e. Any party not producing all documents in its possession, custody or control, shall serve a privilege log with its production of documents that will:

(i) Identify any documents withheld with sufficient particularity to support a Motion to Compel; and

(ii) State the basis for refusing to produce each document.

f. Documents that are designated as "Confidential" or that may contain confidential information shall not be required to be produced until a protective order has been entered by the Court with respect to those documents.

All parties agree to maintain the original documents, which shall be made available for inspection upon reasonable notice of counsel pursuant to Nevada law. All parties are under a continuing obligation to produce all non-privileged documents discovered after the initial production as contemplated by Rule 16.1. In the event that a party subsequently discovers documents, that party shall follow the same procedures as set forth above including the preparation of a Supplemental Notice that additional documents have been imaged and are available for parties to obtain. Failure to comply and/or rectify any deficiency in a deposit may be reported to the Court and may result in the imposition of sanctions.

6. WRITTEN DISCOVERY

Counsel for Owner and Counsel for any Lenders shall jointly prepare standard interrogatories and requests for admission to the lien claimants in this case. Counsel for all lien claimants shall jointly prepare standard interrogatories and requests for admission to the lenders and property owner. The standard written discovery shall be served on all parties and the Court on or before January 18, 2010. Any objections to the written discovery requests shall be filed with the Court on or before January 29, 2010. Unless there is a sustained objection to

7.3 Lien Perfection & Priority: The first phase of discovery in this case shall be limited to the subject of determining whether any lien claimant has failed to properly perfect a mechanics' lien pursuant to Nevada law and to adjudicating the priority of the mechanics' lien claims asserted against the property as opposed to the security interests asserted by the lenders in the property. SPECIAL MASTER REPORT, RECOMMENDATION AND DISTRICT COURT ORDER

APCO Construction filed a first Amended Complaint on December 8, 2008, seeking damages for construction services performed for the construction of the Manhattan West mixed use development project, located at 9205 W. Russell Road, Clark County, Nevada. The Amended Complaint, in addition to seeking monetary damages, sought a declaration from the Court ranking the priority of all lien claims and secured claims and other declaratory relief, including a requested foreclosure sale. Numerous lienclaimants have joined the litigation which has now been consolidated. On June 9, 2016, the District Court entered an Order Appointing Special Master. The initial Special Master Hearing was conducted on August 1, 2016.

Since the first Amended Complaint in this matter was filed in 2008, counsel for the parties requested an Order scheduling deadlines to complete discovery and to finalize the actual claimants entitled to relief. The Order Appointing the Special Master also allowed parties to submit a request that the Special Master conduct hearings to ascertain and report upon the liens and amount justly due thereon to the District Court.

At the initial Special Master Hearing, it was agreed that parties would have until August 31, 2016, to complete the production of all documents and information required to be produced pursuant to NRCP 16.1, although much of that information has already been provided. Counsel for the parties did not anticipate that experts would be retained, however a deadline is being Recommended for expert disclosures and for rebuttal expert disclosures so that the parties will be informed if experts have been retained in this litigation. Finally, the Special Master asked counsel to assist in the drafting of a Questionnaire to be completed by all parties providing the basic information as to their liens, including dates of service for required Notices, amounts of liens, and contracting parties related to the services that justify those liens. That Questionnaire will be discussed and reviewed with counsel and, ultimately submitted to the District Court for approval.

IT IS RECOMMENDED that the Court enter the following Order:

1. That the Special Master shall have all powers enumerated in the District Court Order entered on June 9, 2016; and that the Special Master will be compensated $495.00 per hour assessed as follows: 25% to be paid by APCO; 25% to be paid by Camco; and 50% to be paid by the remaining lienclaimants. The Special Master has been advised that the following parties will be withdrawing their claims and, consequently, will not be billed for Special Master services: Ready Mix, Inc.; Bruin Painting Corporation; HD Supply Waterworks, LLP;

2. That the Special Master will discuss with counsel the procedure for requesting initial hearings with the Special Master regarding liens at the next Special Master Hearing;

3. That the District Court approves the initial discovery schedule as follows:

8/31/16	Parties to provide documents and all information required to be produced pursuant to NRS 16.1
9/29/16 4:00 p.m.	Special Master Hearing, 3800 Howard Hughes Parkway, 11th Floor, Las Vegas, Nevada

SPECIAL MASTER REPORT REGARDING REMAINING PARTIES TO THE LITIGATION, SPECIAL MASTER RECOMMENDATION AND DISTRICT COURT ORDER AMENDING CASE AGENDA

APCO Construction filed a first Amended Complaint on December 8, 2008, seeking damages for construction services performed for the construction of the Manhattan West mixed use development project, located at 9205 W. Russell Road, Clark County, Nevada. The Amended Complaint, in addition to seeking monetary damages, sought a declaration from the Court ranking the priority of all lien claims and secured claims and other declaratory relief, including a requested foreclosure sale. Since that time, numerous lienclaimants have joined the litigation which has now been consolidated. A Special Master was appointed on June 9, 2016, by the District Court.

RECEIVED
OCT 06 2016

Special Master Report:

Pursuant to a prior Special Master Order, the parties were required to complete Questionnaire by electronic service in this litigation by September 23, 2016. That Questionnaire, drafted by counsel in this litigation and approved by the Special Master, was to limit unnecessary discovery requests and to document what parties were remaining in this litigation. The September 1, 2016, Special Master Order indicated, "It will be assumed the parties that do not respond to the Questionnaire have abandoned any claim related to this litigation. The following parties provided a timely Questionnaire and have provided NRCP 16.1 documentation by September 23, 2016, or subsequently obtained approval of the Special Master to extend the deadline. It is being Recommended to the District Court that the only remaining parties that have claims in this consolidated litigation are the following parties which did provide the necessary NRCP 16.1 documents and a completed Questionnaire:

APCO Construction	Camco Pacific Construction Co.
Steel Structures, Inc.	Nevada Prefab Engineers, Inc.
Unitah Investments, LLC	Noorda Sheet Metal
E&E Fire Protection	Insulpro Projects, Inc.
SWPP Compliance Solutions, LLC	Interstate Plumbing and Air Conditioning, LLC
Helix Electric of Nevada, Inc.	Heinaman Contract Glazing, Inc.
Fast Glass, Inc.	Cardo WRG fka WRG Design, Inc.
Buchele, Inc.	Cactus Rose Construction, Inc.
Accuracy Glass & Mirror Co.	National Wood Products, Inc.
Zitting Brothers Construction, Inc.	United Subcontractors dba Sky Line Insulation

Due to the delay in completing the Questionnaire format, and obtaining response to the Questionnaire, it was agreed that the Case Agenda or discovery schedule submitted to the District Court on August 2, 2016, by the Special Master and approved by the District Court on August 4, 2016, required amendment. The parties also acknowledged that the designated depository for this litigation is Litigation Services, located at 3770 Howard Hughes Parkway, #300, Las Vegas, Nevada, 89169. Under the amended Case Agenda, initial expert disclosures will be required by January 9, 2017, with rebuttal expert disclosures to be deposited by February 13, 2017. The discovery cut-off date for the litigation will be May 15, 2017, with the earliest trial date being July 10, 2017. There will be no Stay of discovery, however, the Special Master will consider requests to limit discovery requests to the parties.

IT IS RECOMMENDED that the Court enter the following Order:

1. That the only remaining parties that have claims in this consolidated litigation are the parties listed in this Special Master Report as having responded to the Questionnaire and having provided NRCP 16.1 documents;

2. That the designated document depository for this litigation is Litigation Services, located at 3770 Howard Hughes Parkway, #300, Las Vegas, Nevada, 89169;

3. The Court adopts and approves the Amended Case Agenda attached hereto as Exhibit "A."

1. MIL No. 1 (seeking to exclude evidence of the topics that the PMK witness for Zitting Bros. ("Zitting") could not address) is DENIED WITHOUT PREJUDICE to objections made to evidentiary proffers at trial that the Court can consider in context.

2. MIL No. 2 (seeking to strike pleadings of parties that do not appear at the pre-trial conference is GRANTED IN PART to the extent that it addresses parties which, as APCO puts it, have "chosen not to participate in trial..." (Reply, p. 4, ll. 21-22), but it is DENIED IN PART as to parties which have participated.

3. MIL No. 3 (seeking to exclude evidence of unjust enrichment damages) is DENIED as it essentially seeks a summary adjudication without reference to any specific evidence. Furthermore, unjust enrichment is commonly pleaded in the alternative and its viability relates to development of the evidence.

4. MIL No. 4 (seeking to exclude evidence of purported changes that were not in writing and signed by Zitting and APCO) is DENIED WITHOUT PREJUDICE to objections to specific evidence proffered.

5. MIL No. 5 (seeking to exclude evidence of claims that were not delineated on lien releases) is DENIED WITHOUT PREJUDICE to objections to specific evidence proffered.

6. MIL No. 6 (seeking to strike evidence of damages of parties that were not made available for a deposition) is GRANTED to the extent that it seeks to preclude witnesses who should have been, but were not, properly disclosed. Attorneys for Plaintiff-In-Intervention,
NATIONAL WOOD PRODUCTS, INC., a Utah corporation

DISTRICT COURT

CLARK COUNTY, NEVADA

APCO CONSTRUCTION, a Nevada corporation, Plaintiff, vs. GEMSTONE DEVELOPMENT WEST, INC., a Nevada corporation; et al., Defendants. AND ALL RELATED MATTERS.	CASE NO. A571228 DEPT. NO.: XIII Consolidated with: A574391; A574792; A577623; A583289; A587168; A580889; A584730; A589195; A595552; A597089; A592826; A589677; A596924; A584960; A608717; A608718; and A590319 PLAINTIFF-IN-INTERVENTION NATIONAL WOOD PRODUCTS, INC.'S OPPOSITION TO APCO CONSTRUCTION'S MOTION FOR ATTORNEYS' FEES AND COSTS HEARING: JULY 19, 2018 TIME: 9:00 A.M. DEPT.: XIII

Plaintiff-in-Intervention, NATIONAL WOOD PRODUCTS, INC[1] ("National Wood"), by and through its counsel of record, the law offices of Richard L. Tobler, Ltd. and Cadden & Fuller LLP, hereby submits its Opposition to APCO CONSTRUCTION'S ("APCO") Motion for Attorneys' Fee and Costs ("Motion").

I. INTRODUCTION

National Wood hereby opposes APCO's Motion as it relates to costs on the grounds asserted in National Wood's pending Motion to Re-Tax costs and hereby incorporates those grounds herein by this reference. National Wood also incorporates the grounds asserted by Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC ("Helix") in its pending Motion to Re-Tax Costs which National Wood previously joined.[2]

II. SUMMARY OF ARGUMENTS

In its Motion, APCO seeks an award of attorneys' fees and costs on the following three grounds:

A. APCO HAS NO STANDING TO SEEK ATTORNEYS' FEES PURSUANT TO THE SUBCONTRACT AGREEMENT SINCE APCO ASSIGNED THE SUBCONTRACT AGREEMENT TO GEMSTONE DEVELOPMENT WEST, INC.

First, APCO seeks attorneys' fees pursuant to Section 18.5 of the Subcontract Agreement between APCO and Cabinetec, Inc. ("Cabinetec") dated April 28, 2008 ("Subcontract Agreement[3]"). APCO's Motion fails because APCO is no longer a party to the Subcontract

[1] / National Wood is the successor-in-interest to the claims of Cabinetec. National Wood was a supplier for Cabinetec and, as a result of Cabinetec's inability to pay National Wood, National Wood has succeeded to the rights of Cabinetec against the Defendants. This status is confirmed by the Assignment signed by Cabinetec. [See Trial Exhibit 3177, Assignment.]

[2] / National Wood will join in Helix's Opposition to APCO's Motion ("Helix Opposition") to the extent such Helix Opposition relies on grounds and authorities applicable to the claims for relief asserted by APCO against National Wood.

[3] / Trial Exhibit 149, Subcontract Agreement between APCO and Cabinetec, Inc.

Agreement. At APCO's request, this Court concluded that the Subcontract Agreement was assigned by APCO to Gemstone Development West, Inc. ("Gemstone"), who then facilitated CAMCO's assumption of the subcontracts after APCO left the Project in 2008. [See APCO's Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law ("FFCL") at p. 69, Nos. 116-120[4], Exhibit ("Exh.") 1 to APCO's Motion.] As a result of APCO's voluntary assignment of the Subcontract Agreement, APCO waived and relinquished its purported rights to an award of any attorneys' fees under Section 18.5. Accordingly, APCO has no standing to seek attorneys' fees pursuant to the Subcontract Agreement.

B. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO SEEK ATTORNEYS' FEES AGAINST NATIONAL WOOD PURSUANT TO NRS 108.237 BECAUSE CABINETEC DID NOT PURSUE FORECLOSURE OF A MECHANIC'S LIEN AGAINST APCO.

Second, APCO asserts that it is entitled to seek attorneys' fees pursuant to NRS 108.237. APCO is not entitled to seek attorneys' fees pursuant to this statute against National Wood since Cabinetec pursued a foreclosure of a mechanic's lien against Gemstone and not APCO. Nonetheless, the Court has made no finding that either Cabinetec or National Wood pursued Cabinetec's lien claims "without a reasonable basis in law or fact." Moreover, the facts demonstrate that the lien claims were reasonable. In fact, APCO also filed liens against the project.

C. APCO'S OFFER OF JUDGMENT IS INVALID BECAUSE IT WAS NOT TIMELY SERVED 10 DAYS BEFORE THE TRIAL IN THIS CONSOLIDATED MATTER THAT COMMENCED ON OCTOBER 30, 2012, PURSUANT TO THE COURT ORDER ENTERED ON NOVEMBER 29, 2012.

Third, APCO claims that it is entitled to an award of attorneys' fees pursuant to NRCP 68, which provides that if an "offeree rejects an offer and fails to obtain a more favorable

[4] / National Wood and Helix have disputed these contentions and respectfully disagree with the Court's conclusions. Any references made regarding the FFCL in this Opposition should not be interpreted as National Wood's agreement with these conclusions. Nonetheless, the Court must evaluate the Motion consistent with the Court's conclusions set forth in the FFCL.

judgment, . . . the offeree shall pay the offeror's post offer costs . . . and reasonable attorney's fees, if any be allowed, actually incurred by the offeror from the time of the offer." Nev. R. Civ. P. 68. In the Motion, APCO notes that it obtained a judgment in this action more favorable than an offer of judgment of $35,000.00 ("APCO Offer") that it served on National Wood on November 13, 2017, and that it is entitled to its attorneys' fees. [See APCO Offer, Exh. 6 to APCO's Motion.] APCO is wrong. At the time APCO made its offer, the trial in this consolidated matter had commenced on October 30, 2012, over 5 years prior to the service of the APCO Offer. As a result, the APCO Offer is invalid since it was not timely served.

Moreover, APCO fails to present an analysis of the four factors set forth by the Supreme Court of Nevada in Beattie v. Thomas, 99 Nev. 579 (1983) ("Beattie") for the trial court to consider the four factors to make findings whether the attorneys' fees sought by APCO are reasonable and justified, which they are not as more fully set forth below.

Even if the Court decides to award any attorneys' fees pursuant to NRCP 68, APCO is still not entitled to any award of attorneys' fees for the following reasons: (1) National Wood's claim was brought in good faith; (2) APCO is not entitled to any costs or fees under NRCP 68 because the timing and amount of the APCO Offer was not reasonable, and inconsistent with NRCP 68's purpose of facilitating reasonable settlements; (3) National Wood's decision to reject the APCO Offer and proceed to trial was NOT grossly unreasonable or in bad faith; and (4) the amount of attorneys' fees that APCO seeks is not reasonable or justified in this action.

D. THE AMOUNT OF ATTORNEYS' FEES REQUESTED BY APCO IS NOT REASONABLE.

Further, if the Court determines that APCO is entitled to an award of attorneys' fees, which it is not, the Court must significantly reduce the fees that APCO is seeking totaling $447,809.28 on the grounds that (i) the fees sought are excessive, (ii) not properly allocated to the subcontractors who filed claims against APCO which it defended, (iii) unreasonable and not justified when the work performed did not derive benefits (i.e., APCO filed unsuccessful motions and APCO filed unsuccessful oppositions to motions filed by subcontractors), and (iv)
