know, you feel like I've lied to you to this point? I've been up front with you about everything. First thing I said to you when I saw you was at that apartments, "Hey, man, you good? You all right?" Am - am I right? Did I not say that?

A: Yeah.

Q: And I been cool with you up front, right? You wanted a cigarette. We said - hey, sh- I told my partner, "Bring this man a cigarette." I'm not t- I'm not trying to pull no - no tricks or nothing, man. I'm up front with you, man. I'm just - I'm being 100 with you. And I'm just telling you when I get out of this car and I go talk to him, he's gonna say, "Hey, what's up?" And I - and I tell him, you know, A, B, and C. You know, he's being cooperative. He's - he's up front with me. He's being honest with me. At least I feel that way. You know, but he won't tell me where the gun's at. How's that gonna look, man? He be like, "What kinda bullshit is that, man? How is he being honest with you if he ain't - he ain't being completely honest with you?" I ain't trying to jam you up, but we gotta put the miss- the missing pieces of the puzzle together. That's all. And so we can paint the full picture. I'm not trying to jam you up on nothing or nothing like that, man. I already know you got issues with California. I'm not here for that, bro. You know, I'm here about this incident. That's why we was asking, man. I mean, I wanna be able to go tell him, you know, where the gun at.

A: Mmm.

Q: Is it inside this apartment right here where you at now?

A: I don't know.

Q: What's that?

A: Um, uh, mmm.

Q: I'm kinda getting a feeling maybe it is. I get it. 'Cause you're scared, man. You got people still after you, or at least you think that 'cause...

Q1: 'Cause of what happened.

Q: Right? I mean, am I - am - am I wrong? If I - if I'm wrong, tell me I'm wrong, man. But you still gotta be feeling some kinda way after what went down, right? I mean, that's what the normal person would feel.

Q1: Especially when you're here with your kid. You gotta protect them.

Q: Right?

A: Yeah. I know. I...

Q: So where inside the - is - I - where - where inside this apartment is that gun, man? So we can get it, we can go on by our merry little way, man.

A: It's not - it's - make sure no - no kids can get it.

Q: Okay.

A: Just - I'm just scared of what it might bring.

Q1: What it might bring?

A: Yeah. We - we get in trouble? Al- already in troubles 'cause I - it'll make it worse.

Q1: It's not really - I don't see how it's gonna make it worse. I mean, a gun's a gun. I mean, I- like my partner said, if it's stolen or it's some stuff like that, it's not really why I'm here. You know, my job was to investigate, you know, the incident that happened out there, and why the incident happened. And so far, everything that we've talked about in here matches what everyone's kind of told us. So we just wanna put, like my partner said, the missing pieces together because like you said, if other people were shooting, and say the - the rounds are different size and stuff like that, I can say, "Yeah, these came from, you know, this gun. He was running away. That's the one, you know, that DeAndre told us about, so these other ones must belong to, you know, the people that were shooting at him and stuff like that."

Q: Kinda helps us match up the story. You know what I'm sayin'?

Q1: Ties it all together.

A: I'm just nervous right now, you know. This is - you know what the s...

Q: You said you got it up so Junior can't get to it. Where inside the apartment is it?
(Unintelligible) go ahead.

A: (Unintelligible). It just - it's who I got the gun from. I don't mean...

Q: I'm not asking who you got it from. I'm just asking where it's at. I didn't even ask about where you got it from, did I? I d- I ain't ask you that.

Q1: We're not gonna probably be able to find out anyways. Guns aren't registered anymore.

Q: I just wanna know where it's at now. And I know it's inside this apartment. I

A: It's in there.

Q1: It's in the apartment?

Q: Is it, like, it's gotta be up somewhere, like, high or somewhere where Junior can't get to it, right? Somewhere low or something? Well, must tell me where it's at, man, and we can - we can...

Q1: Is it in - is it in, like, uh, in a cabinet?

A: Mm-mm.

Q1: Dishwasher?

Q: Where...

Q1: Like, uh, like, a vent? It's in a vent?

Q: Like, where at? Which one, man?

A: In the hallway under the AC thing.

Q1: Under the AC vent in the hallway? Okay. Is there any other - is there any other ammo in the - in the apartment for the gun?

A: Nothing. I just - I...

Q1: Is there still ammo in the gun though?

A: No, I don't...

Q1: Just to make sure, but...

A: I didn't bring no...

Q1: I mean, the gun - the gun is the important thing. That's pretty much what we're here for. The gun - firearms related stuff. Let me ask you. Does your family and your people know about what happened obviously? Like, do they know you're - do they know that you're involved in this?

A: No.

Q1: They don't know? Okay. Well, just so you know, the way we handle things, I don't contact them, or if they ask me, I tell them, hey, talk to you. Down the road if...

A: (Unintelligible) only Tia. She's the only person.

Q1: Tia?

A: Only person.

STATEMENT OF: DEANDRE GATHRITE

Q: I told my boss you was being cooperative. Uh, I told him, uh, I didn't want to, you know, cause any undue drama inside the apartment in there. Uh, let me ask you this. Do we have permission to just go in there and get the gun out the vent and leave, I mean, without having to search the place? Can we just go in there and get that? I mean, you - you the adult inside the apartment, so that means you in c- you in care and control of the apartment. So I'm asking you for permission without having to do a search warrant, and go in there and just grab the gun out of the vent. That's all I'm - that way we ain't gotta search through nothing. We ain't gotta go through her stuff. We ain't gotta go through all that nonsense. We can just go in there - go into the air conditioner vent. I'll even have you show me where it's at. You can go with me so you know we ain't going through all your stuff, or going through all her stuff. We can go into the vent. You can say, "Hey, it's that vent right there." We can open it up, we can get it, and we can bounce.

A: What time is it? I don't know how to read that, uh...

Q: It's 4:20.

A: Uh, my girl should be on her way. I just - I don't...

Q: I mean, I - I mean, it's just up to you, man. I mean, it's - it - I mean, it's - I'm just asking, you know, if we got your permission. I'll even write it down, dude. S- or, uh, we have permission to grab only the gun from the air conditioning vent. I'll write it down, I'll sign it. I'll have you sign it. That way we ain't - we ain't going in and searching through all her personal belongings and all that stuff. You know what I'm saying? I mean, that way we ain't having to - like I said earlier, man, we ain't gotta cause any undue stress or, you know...

Q1: Inconvenience or anything like that.

Q: Yeah. I mean, that - that - that's all, man. I mean, we simply wanna get the gun so we can match it all up with the stuff that we found at the scene and all that, and we can finish processing what we gotta process, man. That's it. It's up to you, man, you know. I mean, you, uh, you the - you was the only adult inside the apartment. That means you have care and control of the apartment, you know, whether or not you live here or not, you was entrusted with the apartment, so, you know, and then I'm not trying to, you know, trick you or nothing like that. I'm just laying it out for you. That's just, you know, how it is, so if we got your permission - and I'll write it down for you, man. I'll write it down for you. I'll sign it. You can sign it. And it - it'll only state gun from air conditioning vent. That's all it'll say, man. And then you can watch me once we go into here and get the gun from the air conditioning vent, so there's no - you don't think we goin' through everything. You ain't giving me permission to go dig through the whole apartment. You're giving me permission to go in there (unintelligible).

Q1: And get the gun from the air conditioning vent.

- A: She rides the Sahara bus.
- Q1: Sahara bus? So when your place got shot up a couple - it was what, a couple days before then?
- A: Yeah.
- Q1: Did you guys call the police on that or no?
- A: Yeah. The police came, but I had left because of my warrant in Cali.
- Q1: Oh. Yeah, you don't wanna stick around?

Q1: So what - I thought you said the kids were there. Was Tia there or no?

A: No, not those kids.

Q1: Oh, other kids?

A: Yeah.

Q1: Okay. So who were you staying with over there, then?

A: It was just a place that we used to have.

Q1: So you guys are just kinda - just crashing there? Is there anything else, then, you can - you can tell me about anyone else that was there or anything else that happened you think would be useful for us to know?

A: Well, the ones that was with 'em, they - they stay in the abandoned apartment on the corner up there in those white apartments.

Q1: The one that was with the...

A: Yeah.

Q1: So, uh, so the guy you ended up shooting, do you know what his name is or what he goes by?

A: Uh, they called him T-Rex.

Q1: T-Rex?

A: Yeah.

Q1: Okay. And how many people were with T-Rex, then?

A: About four.

A: Yeah, apartment. It's the white apartments down by the Sahara end of Van Patten. Right there...

Q1: White apartments. Sahara end.

A: Right there on the corner up stairs. Like, soon as you go in, if you coming from Sahara.

Q1: Uh-huh.

A: They're on your right. The first one, you go past that first alley.

Q1: Mm-hm.

A: You look upstairs, there's the windows towards the edge right there, towards the - where you come in the gate.

Q1: Mm-hm.

A: It goes right there. That apartment.

Q1: Okay.

A: And that's where supposedly they take all his guns and his work and stuff.

Q1: How do you know they went there?

A: Somebody else that stay over there was telling me on the phone.

Q1: Okay.

A: Like, no, don't come back, they said they gonna kill you.

Q1: Did you hear something about his people going to, like, y- the place you were staying, trying to find you? You heard about that? Chasing - chasing your

A: Chasing the kids and stuff.

Q1: Yeah?

A: Yeah. (Unintelligible) scared to come outside.

Q1: Yeah. I mean, you got people co- like, loo- flat out looking for you. I mean, bein' scared 'cause of what happened and trying not to get caught or stay away from us is one thing, but when you got people goin' after your people and kids and they have guns and they're looking for you, I mean, you gotta keep your head down, man. I mean, it's just a bunch of back and forth, and it's gonna keep escalating. That's the problem.

A: Tia make it?

Q1: Uh, we'll see. I mean, if she's here, dude, I'll make sure that you can talk to her quick.

A: I just wanna hug my daughter (unintelligible) get this over with.

Q1: And then the other - TY was with you, and then you said Ray Dog? Was there anyone else or no? J- just the three of you?

A: And Matrina Smith, she knows about it too.

Q1: She knows about it? Who is Latrina?

A: Matrina Smith.

Q1: Oh, Matrina?

The following is the transcription of the recorded Application for Search Warrant between Affiant Detective Sergeant Jon Scott (JS) and Judge J. Wiese (JW).

JS: Okay Judge Wiese, do you understand this phone call is being recorded?

JW: I do.

JS: This is Detective Sergeant Jon Scott, P number 4532, of the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department Homicide Section. I am making an Application for a Telephonic Search Warrant pursuant to N.R.S. 179.045, under Event Number of 180211-3549. I am talking with Judge Wiese and the date is February 16th, 2018 and the current time is now 1727 hours. Judge, would you please place me under oath?

JW: Yes. Do you swear the testimony you're about to give is the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth so help you God?

JS: I do.

JW: Okay. Go ahead.

JS: My name is Detective Sergeant Jon Scott, P number 4532. I'm employed by the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department and have been so employed for 25 years. I'm currently assigned to the Homicide Section and have been so assigned for the past 7 years.

Judge, my Application is as follows:

LAS VEGAS METROPOLITAN POLICE DEPARTMENT
APPLICATION FOR TELEPHONIC SEARCH WARRANT
CONTINUATION

Event #180211-3549

On February 11th, 2018, detectives from the Homicide Section began an investigation into the death of Kenyon Tyler, which occurred at 2612 Van Patten, Las Vegas, Clark County, Nevada.

There is probable cause to believe that certain property hereinafter described will be found on at the following described premises, to wit:

2630 Wyandotte, apartment number 1, Las Vegas, Clark County, Nevada. The structure is a two story multi-unit apartment building having a primarily cream colored stucco exterior with green trim. And the number 1 is affixed to the center of the front door of the residence.

The property referred to and sought to be seized consists of the following:

Paperwork such as rent receipts, utility bills, and addressed letters showing the names of persons residing at the premises, paperwork such as proof of insurance, DMV registration showing the names of persons owning or responsible for vehicles.

Photographs, video and/or audio tapes, DVD or CDs, thumb drives, cellular phones, or electronic storage devices such as laptop or desktop computers, game consoles, tablets or like items.

Epithelial cells from the mouth of Deandre Gathrite, date of birth of 11/8/88, to be collected via buccal swab, who is currently located outside the residence in question.

Handguns and ammunition.

Cell phone off the person of Gathrite.

Also, we want to look for any gang paraphernalia inside the apartment.

In support of your Affiant's assertion to constitute the existence of probable cause, the following facts are offered:

On February 11th, 2018 at approximately 2049 hours, the L.V.M.P.D. patrol officers responded to a call that subject shot at 2612 Van Patten Street. Patrol officers arrived and located Kenyon Tyler on the sidewalk in front of the building suffering from multiple gunshot wounds to the torso. Medical personnel responded and transported Tyler to the Sunrise Hospital where he succumbed to his injuries. During the crime scene process, the investigators located several .45 caliber cartridge cases in front of the building. Several small baggies of narcotics were also located hidden in the brick wall of the building.

On February 12th, 2018 a complete autopsy was performed on the body of Kenyon Tyler. Doctor Roquero determined the cause of death was multiple gunshot wounds. The manner of his death was ruled a homicide.

The following investigation revealed Kenyon Tyler got into an argument with Deandre Gathrite in front of the building. Tyler was upset because Gathrite and several other subjects were hanging around in front of Tyler's building, which disrupted Tyler's illicit drug dealing business. Tyler was alleged to have pulled a handgun out and according to a confidential informant, and was shot by Deandre Gathrite, who also had a gun, who fired multiple times. Gathrite fled the scene and after fleeing the scene, witnesses removed Tyler's handgun from the crime scene prior to the arrival of police officers.

CONTINUATION

On February 16th, 2018 members of the L.V.M.P.D. Criminal Apprehension Team located Deandre Gathrite at 2630 Wyandotte, apartment number 1, in Las Vegas, Nevada. Gathrite was arrested on an unrelated probation violation at that time. The apartment which Gathrite was removed from has been secured awaiting the Search Warrant for the items we have listed earlier.

Through my training and experience I've learned the examination of the crime scene and the recovering of the above described property is necessary in providing the cause and manner of death, the circumstances involved related to the death, and to potentially identify the perpetrator of the crime.

A thorough microscopic crime scene search of the premises is necessary in order to establish the location of the crime, its extent, and the circumstances surrounding the crime. This search may involve the damaging or removal of items such as carpeting, wallboard, and other interior/exterior surfaces.

The evidence of dominion and control as described is necessary in establishing dominion and control over the premises and often assists in identifying the perpetrator. Such evidence is normally left or maintained upon or within the premises.

CONTINUATION

Event #180211-3549

Just one second, Judge. I want to make sure that I noted earlier that we're looking for all handguns and ammunition and the cell phone that was taken off the person of Gathrite in our Search Warrant.

JW: Okay.

JS: Your Affiant believes the collection of epithelial cells via buccal swab sought to be obtained would when submitted to laboratory analysis disclose the presence of evidence tending to demonstrate or eliminate the described person's involvement in the criminal offense of murder. In the event Deandre Gathrite refuses to cooperate with the collection of the samples, the use of reasonable force is authorized to the extent necessary to obtain these samples.

Nighttime service is necessary because my training and experience indicates that evidence is often small, sometimes invisible to the eye and is easily eliminated by the environmental changes. The residence to be searched is currently unoccupied and secured by officers during the nighttime service hours. There is no one inside to be annoyed by the nighttime service of a Search Warrant. Wherefore your Affiant requests that a Search Warrant be issued directing a search for and the seizure of the aforementioned items at the location set forth herein, executing this Warrant any time day or night.

Judge, do you find there's probable cause exists for the issuance of a Search Warrant?

Event #180211-3549

- JW: I do. One of the things you asked for was a buccal swab but that guy's not going to be there anymore. Does it matter?
- JS: No, he is still here. He's outside the residence in a patrol car.
- JW: Okay.
- JS: He's being arrest on the Warrant which is not related to the investigation that we're conducting but he is still here.
- JW: Okay. I didn't realize he was still there at the premises.
- JS: Yes, he's still here on the premises. Do you authorize the nighttime search clause?
- JW: I do.
- JS: Do I have your permission to sign your name to the Duplicate Original Search Warrants?
- JW: Yes, you do.
- JS: One Duplicate Original will remain with me in the Search Warrant Packet. The other copies of the Duplicate Originals will be left at the premises searched. For the record now, I am signing your name Judge to the Duplicate Original Search Warrants. Judge Wiese, this ends our conversation and concludes the recording at 1735 hours on the 16th day of February, 2018. Thank you for your time, Judge.
- JW: No problem. Good luck.
- JS: Thank you.
- JW: Bye-bye.

MS. OVERLY: Good afternoon everyone. My name is Sarah Overly and I'm a deputy district attorney

10 with the Clark County District Attorney's Office. Today

11

I am here presenting the case of State of Nevada versus 12

14

There should be a proposed Indictment with the following offense of one count of ownership or 16 possession of firearm by prohibited person.

17

Additionally the State has marked as Exhibit 2 the 18 instructions with regards to that count. Additionally 19 there is an Exhibit 3 which references a certified

Judgment of Conviction specifically for Deandre Gathrite

21

under case number C271196 out of the Eighth Judicial

22

23

And the State's first witness is going to 24 be Detective Gerry Mauch.

25

THE FOREPERSON: Please raise your right

02:25 1 hand.

2                   You do solemnly swear the testimony you are
3 about to give upon the investigation now pending before
4 this Grand Jury shall be the truth, the whole truth, and
02:25 5 nothing but the truth, so help you God?

6                   THE WITNESS: Yes.

7                   THE FOREPERSON: You may be seated.

8                   You are advised that you are here today to 9 give testimony in the investigation pertaining to the 02:26 10 offense of ownership or possession of firearm by
11 prohibited person, involving Deandre Gathrite.

12                   Do you understand this advisement?

13                   THE WITNESS: Yes.

14                   THE FOREPERSON: Please state your first
02:26 15 and last name and spell both for the record.

16                   THE WITNESS: Gerry Mauch. G-E-R-R-Y, last 17 name is M-A-U-C-H.

18                   GERRY MAUCH,

19 having been first duly sworn by the Foreperson of the
02:26 20 Grand Jury to testify to the truth, the whole truth,
21 and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

22                   EXAMINATION

24 BY MS. OVERLY:

02:26 25                   Q.     Good afternoon, sir. How are you employed?

02:26 1 A. Detective with Las Vegas Metro Police.
2 Q. And how long have you been a detective with 3 Metro?
4 A. Going on eight years.
02:26 5 Q. Now were you working as a detective on 6 February 16th of 2018?
7 A. Yes.
8 Q. And were you working with a partner during 9 that time?
02:26 10 A. Yes, I was.
11 Q. Who was that?
12 A. That day I was with Detective Jarrod
13 Grimmett.
14 Q. On that date were you pursuing an 02:27 15 investigation?
16 A. Yes, I was.
17 Q. And that was in your capacity as a
18 detective?
19 A. Correct.
02:27 20 Q. Throughout that investigation did you have 21 cause to make contact with someone by the name of 22 Deandre Gathrite?
23 A. Yes, I did.
24 Q. And specifically where did you make contact
02:27 25 with him?

02:27 1 A. It was the address of 2630 Wyandotte
2 Street, apartment number 1.
3 Q. And is that located here in Clark County?
4 A. Yes, it is.

02:27 5 Q. And where specifically did you make contact
6 with him? Was it in that unit or in the actual complex
7 or where exactly?
8 A. It was in the actual apartment.
9 Q. Apartment number 1?
02:27 10 A. Yes.
11 Q. And was he the individual who answered the 12 door?
13 A. He was already inside the apartment with 14 other detectives from our criminal apprehension team.

02:27 15 Q. Now did you get a chance to sit down and 16 talk with Mr. Gathrite?
17 A. Yes, I did.
18 Q. And when you did, was he in custody
19 pursuant to the investigation you were pursuing?

02:28 20 A. To our specific investigation, no. There 21 were some other charges that he was dealing with at the 22 time.
23 Q. So he was technically in custody, just not 24 pursuant to your investigation?

02:28 25 A. Correct.

02:28 1 Q. Now where is it that you spoke with
2 Mr. Gathrite?

3 A. We conducted the interview in my plain,
4 unmarked vehicle.

02:28 5 Q. And who was that interview conducted with?

6 A. Myself and Detective Grimmett.

7 Q. And you indicated that he was not in 8 custody at that time?

9 A. Correct.

02:28 10 Q. Did he agree to speak with you?

11 A. Yes, he did.

12 Q. And pursuant to that discussion, did you
13 ask him questions about this separate investigation?

14 A. Yes.

02:28 15 Q. And did he reveal his involvement in that 16 investigation?

17 A. Yes, he did.

18 Q. And did he indicate if he possessed
19 anything of interest to Metro pursuant to that

02:29 20 involvement?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. What was that?

23 A. That was a I believe silver in color
24 revolver.

02:29 25 Q. And specifically what did he indicate about

02:29 1 that revolver?

2 A. That he possessed it and it had been used
3 in a shooting.

4 Q. And specifically did he indicate that he 02:29 5 used it in a shooting?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. When would that shooting have occurred?

8 A. It occurred, I believe it was 9 February 11th.

02:29 10 Q. Of 2018?

11 A. Yeah, same year.

12 Q. And again this occurred, this conversation
13 happened on February 16th?

14 A. Correct.

02:29 15 Q. Now the specific firearm that he's 16 referencing, what type was it?

17 A. I can't remember exactly the make and 18 model.

19 Q. Did he indicate where it was?

02:29 20 A. Yes, he did.

21 Q. What did he say?

22 A. He said it was hidden inside the apartment.

23 Q. And just to go back a little bit. When he 24 indicated that this firearm was inside the apartment,

02:30 25 although you had indicated he was not in custody, had

02:30 1 the defendant been read his Miranda rights at that 2 point?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. Before he indicated where the firearm was?

02:30 5 A. Yes.

6 Q. And he indicated to you that the weapon was 7 located inside the apartment; correct?

8 A. Correct.

9 Q. And was that the apartment that you greeted 02:30 10 him at?

11 A. Yes, apartment number 1.

12 Q. And specifically what did he indicate about
13 his possessory interest in that apartment?

14 A. He was staying with his girlfriend who 02:30 15 resided at the apartment with her children.

16 Q. And the child they share in common?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. Was she present at the apartment when you
19 arrived?

02:30 20 A. No, she was not.

21 Q. Was he the only adult present?

22 A. Yes.

23 Q. Now did he indicate where exactly in this 24 apartment the firearm would be located?

02:30 25 A. Yes.

02:30 1 Q. Where was that?

2 A. It was inside the duct work or inside the

3 vent for the AC unit.

4 Q. How many bedroom unit was this?

02:31 5 A. I believe it was a one bedroom.

6 Q. Now eventually did police officers access

7 that unit?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. To recover the firearm?

02:31 10 A. Yes.

11 Q. And by what method was that done?

12 A. With consent he gave us.

13 Q. So he provided, Mr. Gathrite provided

14 police consent to access the apartment?

02:31 15 A. Correct.

16 Q. Did he also consent to recover the actual

17 firearm?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. Did he indicate whether or not that firearm

02:31 20 belonged to anyone else but him?

21 A. No.

22 Q. Now were you the one who actually recovered

23 the firearm?

24 A. No.

02:31 25 Q. And who was that?

02:31 1 A. Detective DePalma was there to do that with 2 a crime scene analyst.

3 MS. OVERLY: I have no further questions
4 for this witness. Do any of the grand jurors have 02:32 5 questions?

6 BY A JUROR:

7 Q. Was this apartment a primary residence of 8 the defendant?

9 A. At the time I believe so, but they had just 02:32 10 moved there somewhat recently.

11 THE FOREPERSON: Any other questions?

12 MS. OVERLY: I guess I have a couple
13 questions to follow-up on that actually.

14 THE FOREPERSON: Okay.

02:32 15 BY MS. OVERLY:

16 Q. What was your understanding of who resided 17 at that apartment?

18 A. Deandre Gathrite and his girlfriend.

19 Q. And you indicated their shared child?

02:32 20 A. Yes.

21 Q. Any other adults that you were aware of 22 that resided there?

23 A. No.

24 Q. And specifically the air duct that you're 02:32 25 referring to that the firearm was described as being

02:32 1 located in, was that something that is visible to the 2 naked eye?

3 A. No.

4 Q. What would you have to do to then recover
02:32 5 that?

6 A. You'd have to remove like the outside vent
7 cover and then there was a filter over the vent.

8 Q. And the firearm would then be inside that?

9 A. Yes.

02:33 10 Q. Okay. And are you aware of whether the 11 firearm that was recovered was in fact the same one that 12 Deandre Gathrite was describing?

13 A. Yes.

14 MS. OVERLY: No further questions for this 02:33 15 witness.

16 THE FOREPERSON: By law, these proceedings
17 are secret and you are prohibited from disclosing to 18 anyone anything that has transpired before us, including
19 evidence and statements presented to the Grand Jury, any 02:33 20 event occurring or statement made in the presence of the 21 Grand Jury, and information obtained by the Grand Jury.

22 Failure to comply with this admonition is a
23 gross misdemeanor punishable by up to 364 days in the 24 Clark County Detention Center and a $2,000 fine. In
02:33 25 addition, you may be held in contempt of court

02:33 1 punishable by an additional $500 fine and 25 days in the
2 Clark County Detention Center.

3 Do you understand this admonition?

4 THE WITNESS: Yes.

02:33 5 THE FOREPERSON: Thank you. You're
6 excused.

7 MS. OVERLY: And the State's next witness
8 is Detective DePalma.

9 THE FOREPERSON: Please raise your right
02:34 10 hand.

11 You do solemnly swear the testimony you are
12 about to give upon the investigation now pending before
13 this Grand Jury shall be the truth, the whole truth, and
14 nothing but the truth, so help you God?

02:34 15 THE WITNESS: I do.

16 THE FOREPERSON: You may be seated.

17 THE WITNESS: Thank you. Good afternoon.

18 THE FOREPERSON: Good afternoon.

19 You are advised that you are here today to 02:34 20 give testimony in the investigation pertaining to the 21 offense of ownership or possession of firearm by
22 prohibited person, involving Deandre Gathrite.

23 Do you understand this advisement?

24 THE WITNESS: Yes, I do.

02:35 25 THE FOREPERSON: Please state your first

02:35 1 and last name and spell both for the record.

2 THE WITNESS: Detective Philip DePalma.

4 PHILIP DEPALMA,

02:35 5 having been first duly sworn by the Foreperson of the
6 Grand Jury to testify to the truth, the whole truth,
7 and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

9 EXAMINATION

02:35 10

11 BY MS. OVERLY:

12 Q. Good afternoon.

13 A. Good afternoon.

14 Q. How are you employed?

02:35 15 A. With the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police
16 Department.

17 Q. In what capacity?

18 A. I'm a detective in the homicide section.

19 Q. And how long have you been a detective?

02:35 20 A. I've been a detective for over ten years.

21 Q. Now were you working in that capacity on 22 February 16th of this year?

23 A. Yes, I was.

24 Q. And were you investigating a case along

02:35 25 with Detective Mauch who just left?

02:35 1 A. Yes, I was.

2 Q. And in that assistance, were you arriving
3 at a specifically an apartment at 2630 Wyandotte Street?

4 A. That's correct.

02:36 5 Q. Is that located here in Clark County?

6 A. Yes, it is.

7 Q. And when you arrived at that location, what
8 was your purpose of involvement?

9 A. I was instructed to stand by the apartment
02:36 10 door that was open, apartment number 1, while the 11 individual Gathrite was being interviewed by Detective
12 Mauch and Detective Grimmett.

13 Q. And were you involved in that interview?

14 A. No, I was not.

02:36 15 Q. At some point did you become aware that 16 apartment number 1 was going to be searched?

17 A. Yes, I was.

18 Q. And what was it going to be searched for?

19 A. A firearm.

02:36 20 Q. And was that pursuant to a warrant or some 21 other means?

22 A. I believe we had consent to go in to 23 retrieve a firearm that Mr. Gathrite said was inside the 24 apartment.

02:37 25 Q. And who had provided consent for that?

02:37 1 A. Mr. Gathrite.

2 Q. And at that point was Mr. Gathrite the only

3 individual at that particular apartment?

4 A. Yes.

02:37 5 Q. And was it Metro's understanding that he

6 had a possessory interest in that apartment?

7 A. Yes, he did.

8 Q. Now did you assist with the search and 9 recovery of that firearm?

02:37 10 A. Yes, I did.

11 Q. What did you find?

12 A. I was instructed that the firearm was 13 inside a air conditioning vent, the intake. I took off

14 the grate -- it was photographed first, it was in the

02:37 15 hallway to the apartment. I assisted in taking off a

16 couple of the screws to the vent, I removed that and 17 behind that metal grate was a filter. I removed the 18 filter, put it off to the side and inside the big duct

19 work so to speak was a revolver. Firearm. Handgun.

02:38 20 Q. And specifically do you recall what kind of 21 revolver this was?

22 A. It was an Amadeo Rossi 357 Magnum.

23 Q. And would that have also been serial number

24 F379181?

02:38 25 A. Yes, I believe that's in the officer's

02:38 1 report as well.

2 Q. And was there any other firearm that was
3 recovered from that location?

4 A. No, there was not.

02:38 5 Q. And again would that firearm have been 6 observed by the naked eye walking in the apartment?

7 A. No.

8 Q. So you would have had to remove the duct
9 and the filter?

02:38 10 A. I removed the actual metal grate and then
11 behind that was the actual air conditioning filter, so
12 you couldn't see it from the naked eye, no.

13 Q. Now are you aware if that gun was loaded or 14 not?

02:39 15 A. Yes, it was.

16 Q. And are you familiar with how many 17 cartridges were in that firearm?

18 A. There were six.

19 Q. Six loaded?

02:39 20 A. Yes.

21 Q. And would that have been the exact location
22 that Mr. Gathrite indicated that the firearm was going
23 to be located?

24 A. Yes, it was.

02:39 25 MS. OVERLY: I have no further questions

02:39 1 for this witness.

2 THE FOREPERSON: By law, these proceedings
3 are secret and you are prohibited from disclosing to
4 anyone anything that has transpired before us, including
02:39 5 evidence and statements presented to the Grand Jury, any
6 event occurring or statement made in the presence of the 7 Grand Jury, and information obtained by the Grand Jury.

8 Failure to comply with this admonition is a
9 gross misdemeanor punishable by up to 364 days in the 02:39 10 Clark County Detention Center and a $2,000 fine. In
11 addition, you may be held in contempt of court
12 punishable by an additional $500 fine and 25 days in the
13 Clark County Detention Center.

14 Do you understand this admonition?

02:40 15 THE WITNESS: Yes, I do.

16 THE FOREPERSON: Thank you. You're
17 excused.

18 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

19 MS. OVERLY: Just briefly, the State does
02:40 20 need to recall Detective Mauch for just one question.

21 THE FOREPERSON: As a reminder you're still 22 under oath from your previous testimony.

23 THE WITNESS: Yes.

24 THE FOREPERSON: You can be seated.

02:41 25 GERRY MAUCH,

02:41 1 having been previously duly sworn by the Foreperson of
2 the Grand Jury to testify to the truth, the whole truth,
3 and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

02:41 5 FURTHER EXAMINATION

7 BY MS. OVERLY:

8 Q. And Detective, I just had one additional 9 question for you. You indicated that you had 02:41 10 interviewed and spoke with Deandre Gathrite; correct?

11 A. Correct.

12 Q. Showing you what has been marked as State's 13 Exhibit 4. Do you recognize that individual?

14 A. Yes.

02:41 15 Q. And who is that?

16 A. That's Deandre Gathrite.

17 Q. And that's the individual that indicated to 18 you there was a firearm located in apartment number 1?

19 A. Correct.

02:41 20 MS. OVERLY: Okay. No further questions.

21 THE FOREPERSON: And the admonition still 22 applies from the previous testimony. So you're excused.

23 THE WITNESS: Okay.

24 MS. OVERLY: And with the State's marked
02:41 25 exhibits, I will submit it to your deliberation.

02:41 1 A JUROR: I have a quick question for you.
2 Is this on the 11th or the 16th? Because in the 3 Indictment it says the 11th, but all the testimony was 4 for the 16th.

02:42 5 MS. OVERLY: You're right. This
6 actually -- thank you for catching that. This, if I can 7 I would like to make an amendment to the Indictment to 8 reflect the change from the 11th to the 16th of 9 February, 2018.

02:42 10 A JUROR: Line 20.

11 MS. OVERLY: Sorry?

12 A JUROR: That's line 20.

13 MS. OVERLY: Correct, line 20 on page 1.

14 (At this time, all persons, other than 02:42 15 members of the Grand Jury, exit the room at 2:42 p.m.
16 and return at 2:45 a.m.)

17 THE FOREPERSON: Madame District Attorney,
18 by a vote of 12 or more jurors a true bill has been 19 returned against defendant Deandre Gathrite charging the 02:45 20 crime of ownership or possession of a firearm by a
21 prohibited person, in Grand Jury case number 18AGJ044X.
22 We instruct you to prepare an Indictment in conformance
23 with the proposed Indictment previously submitted to us
24 with the change of the date to February 16th in the 02:45 25 proposed Indictment previously submitted to us.

Re: State of Nevada v. Deandre Gathrite
Case No.: 18F03565X
Notice of Intent to Seek Indictment sent on June 19, 2018

Ms. Overly,

I am in receipt of the Notice of Intent to Seek Indictment against Deandre Gathrite for the alleged crimes of Possession of a Firearm by a Prohibited Person (NRS 202.360) and Murder with Use of a Deadly Weapon (NRS 200.010, 200.030 and 193.165). My client, Mr. Gathrite, may wish to exercise his right to testify at the Grand Jury proceeding. Therefore, under Sheriff v. Marcum, 105 Nev. 824 (1989), please notify me of the date, time, and place of the scheduled Grand Jury proceeding. You may send this information by email at: adrianlobo@lobolaw.net or by United States mail or hand delivery at: Adrian Lobo, Lobo Law PLLC, 400 S. 4th Street, Suite 500, Las Vegas, Nevada 89101.

Additionally, I request that the State comply with its duty under NRS 172.145(2) and present any and all exculpatory evidence the State is aware of to the Grand Jury including but not limited to the following:

- 1) Reporter's Transcript of the Las Vegas Justice Court proceedings on May 29, 2018 before the Honorable Eric Goodman holding both the gun and Gathrite's statement as inadmissible evidence that was seized in violation of both the Fourth and Fifth Amendment rights of the United States Constitution and the Nevada State Constitution. (Enclosed in this letter)
- 2) Field Interview cards documenting Kenyon Tyler AKA "T-Rex" as a Blood Gang Member from both Nevada and California.
- 3) Autopsy photographs that depict T-Rex's many gang tattoos and affiliation with the Blood Gang.

4) Tyler's prior criminal history that would be admissible under NRS 50.095

- a) 2010 CA Obstructing/Resisting (felony)
- b) 2010 CA Possession of Cocaine for Sale (felony)
- c) 2011 CA Willful Discharge of Firearm (felony)
- d) 2014 CA Willful Discharge of Firearm (felony)

5) Tyler was engaged in selling drugs at the time of the shooting out of 2612 Van Patten Street, Apartment #11 and possessed numerous guns inside of the apartment according to Moore's statement. (p.9, 21)

6) If Raymond Moore testifies at the grand jury, the jurors should be informed that

a) Moore stated that T-Rex was armed and had a gun in his left front pocket (p.5);

b) Moore stated that T-Rex's friend, Juge AKA Devin AKA Little Rick Ross, took T-Rex's gun after the shooting to make it look like he didn't have one. (p.5-6);

c) Moore stated that T-Rex kept taking his gun in and out of his pocket multiple times. (p.17-18; Inaudible on transcript but is heard at 14:50 time.);

d) T-Rex and Gathrite were face to face when the shooting took place. (p.25);

e) Moore stated that "T-Rex was the one who provoked everything." (p.18);

f) T-Rex was having problems with another apartment occupant at 2612 Van Patten who was also a percipient witness, TY (no identity has been disclosed via the Officer's Report but should be easily accessible to the District Attorney's office through Homicide Detectives.) (p.2, 21, 31);

g) Gathrite and T-Rex had not had a past problem and appeared to get along. (p.31);

h) Gathrite was not wearing blue clothing as worn by Crip gang members (p.9);

i) Gathrite did not use any gang slang or lingo to denote that he was a Crip gang member during the T-Rex incident. (p.24);

j) Moore's statement indicates that T-Rex was wearing all red. (p.4)

k) Of any benefits that the State of Nevada has provided to Moore for housing, travel or leniency in any criminal matter; and

l) Moore's criminal history that is admissible under NRS 50.095 including but not limited to: SCE298527 and FSB18001710 which are both felony offenses.

1 would rule on it and then I have just brief
2 supplementation, another tidbit I didn't put in the Reply.
3 THE COURT: Okay, go ahead.

4 MS. LOBO: Okay.

07:51AM 5 One of the things that was not fully
6 flushed out, and forgive me because I'm in trial right now,
7 is that I didn't state in there that it was explicit. I
8 think the Court knows and is well aware how the CAT Team
9 works and that they're not out there just, you know,
07:52AM 10 finding who's on parole violations or probation violations
11 or who's a fugitive in another state.

12 This is done at the request of another
13 jurisdiction or it's done at the request of detectives
14 locally here and it's a focused team that is designed to,
07:52AM 15 you know, extract a particular person for a particular
16 reason and one of the things that was a little bit -- not a 17 little, a lot disturbing about this case was the fact that 18 it was Homicide who contacts CAT, CAT who contacts
19 California Parole, and has that warrant listed on NCIC in 07:52AM 20 order to, you know, actually execute the arrest warrant at 21 the house.

22 So I just don't know how they get around
23 the fact that this is, you know, not something that, you
24 know, trying to keep an arms-length distance away as either
07:52AM 25 though it's parole or probation. That is not analogous to

4 THE COURT: All right, let's go on Deandre

07:50AM 5 Gathrite.

6 Good morning.

7 MS. LOBO: Good morning.

8 THE DEFENDANT: Good morning.

07:50AM 9 THE COURT: All right, this is basically
10 on for possible negotiations.

11 You also filed a Motion to suppress the 12 statement and the gun --

13 MS. LOBO: That is correct, Judge.

07:51AM 14 THE COURT: -- as being, basically, the 15 fruit of the poisonous tree and other reasons, but really 16 if the statement gets suppressed, the gun gets suppressed.

17 MS. LOBO: Correct.

07:51AM 18 THE COURT: So there was also possible
19 negotiations. Is this going to be negotiated or are we 20 actually just going on the Motion?

21 MS. LOBO: I think we're going forward on 22 the Motion. We went back and forth and we weren't able to 23 reach a resolution.

24 THE COURT: All right.

07:51AM 25 MS. LOBO: So we would wish the Court
PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3785

1 that. This is directly at their behest and request.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MS. OVERLY: And, your Honor, I want to 4 address that and then if I can address something else as 07:51AM 5 well?

6 THE COURT: Sure.

7 MS. OVERLY: With regards to the CAT
8 Team's arrest of the defendant on his parole violation, as
9 your Honor is well aware, the CAT Team has no control over
07:51AM 10 issuing warrants. California, that jurisdiction --

11 THE COURT: Oh, but who triggered it?

12 MS. OVERLY: Triggered what?

13 THE COURT: Who triggered it? Who
14 triggered the arrest? Was it San Diego? Did San Diego
07:51AM 15 call Metro and say, Please don't pick him up, or was it the 16 homicide detectives that got CAT to go pick him up so they 17 could interview him about a murder you are interested in?

18 MS. OVERLY: Homicide detectives became 19 well aware that he was on parole while this was going on,
07:51AM 20 this investigation was going on.

21 THE COURT: Right, I understand.

22 MS. OVERLY: They contacted California.

23 THE COURT: Right.

24 MS. OVERLY: They indicated to California
07:51AM 25 he was on parole and they said, Well, actually, we need to
PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3785

1 issue a warrant for him because he's been MIA. He keeps
2 doing this since 2014 where he disappears.
3 THE COURT: So this is triggered by Metro?
4 MS. OVERLY: Yes, their contact to Metro.
07:54AM 5 THE COURT: There is triggered by Metro.
6 They want to get him in custody.
7 MS. OVERLY: Yes.
8 THE COURT: They have information he may
9 have committed a murder. They want to get him in custody
07:54AM 10 so they can interview a murder, correct?
11 MS. OVERLY: They want to locate him, yes,
12 the CAT Team, yes. That's what they do. They have a basis
13 to arrest him on a parole violation, but contact with them
14 is independent of that. They have no control of whether or
07:54AM 15 not he is going to get arrested on a parole violation.
16 Ultimately, that was the circumstances
17 under which he was located and found, but there was -- it's 18 not like Metro contacted them and said, Hey, issue this 19 warrant. He had a active warrant validly issued out of
07:54AM 20 California by California's Department of Parole & Probation
21 and the means by which they located him was that, but that
22 warrant was an independent valid warrant nonetheless and,
23 when he was arrested in this particular incident, he was 24 arrested exclusively on that warrant. He was never, during 07:55AM 25 any of the interaction, arrested on this murder.

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 THE COURT: But he was arrested for the
2 sole purpose of allowing the detectives to go over and
3 interview him about the murder.
4 MS. OVERLY: Well, I mean that's something
07:55AM 5 that I think would need to be flushed out by the detectives
6 themselves, if they were to testify at a preliminary
7 hearing, which was kind of what I think --
8 THE COURT: Why do they need to flush it
9 out? This is the information I have in front of me. This 07:55AM 10 is what's in the application. This is everything I have in 11 front of me is that they wanted to arrest him solely so
12 they could get over there, talk to him because they have
13 all this information about him, but it's on the streets.
14 Nobody on the street is going to stand up and say, Yeah, he
07:55AM 15 did it and I will testify.
16 MS. OVERLY: Right.
17 THE COURT: So they have to get him in
18 custody. They have to arrest him and get him in custody so
19 they can come interview him about the murder.
07:55AM 20 MS. OVERLY: Well, yes, they wanted to --
21 I think the State's Motion is, yes, they wanted to locate
22 him. If the means by which they located him was, in fact,
23 he was arrested on a parole violation, then, yes, he was.
24 He was arrested on a parole violation and that was the 07:55AM 25 means by which CAT contacted him. They went over there and

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 they interviewed him, but --
2 THE COURT: So to get this straight, they
3 contact San Diego, San Diego says, Okay, we will issue a
4 warrant, now you have a basis to go arrest him.
07:55AM 5 MS. OVERLY: That's correct.
6 THE COURT: Which is triggered by Metro --
7 MS. OVERLY: That's correct.
8 THE COURT: -- wanting to arrest him so
9 that -- wanting to locate him, arrest him so they can have
07:55AM 10 him in custody to interview him.
11 MS. OVERLY: That's my understanding, yes.
12 THE COURT: So he was in custody and he
13 was in custody on behalf of Metro --
14 MS. OVERLY: No.
07:55AM 15 THE COURT: -- so homicide detectives can
16 go over and talk to him about this murder case.
17 MS. OVERLY: But I think that's where the
18 legal issues are alleged in the Motion is that, yes, he was
19 technically in custody, as they were in those cases cited
07:55AM 20 in the Motion. Yes, he was in custody and that was the 21 means and under the circumstances by which they went and
22 interviewed him, but he was not under a custodial
23 interrogation and in custody in reference to this case.
24 THE COURT: They know exactly why they
07:55AM 25 wanted to talk to him. They know exactly why they want to
PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 arrest him, get him in custody. Why didn't they just read
2 him his Miranda rights?
3 MS. OVERLY: I mean I think that arguably
4 they could have, at the outside, read him his Miranda
07:57AM 5 rights.
6 THE COURT: They could have or should
7 have?
8 MS. OVERLY: Well, the State's argument is
9 that they were not legally required to read him Miranda at 07:57AM 10 the time.
11 THE COURT: It's 28 pages into the
12 interview with him before they even bother to read him his 13 Miranda and it's one of the worse things I have seen, in
14 terms of reading him his Miranda rights, and I'm just going
07:57AM 15 to turn to page 28 on this. I think it was 28; I may be
16 off a page.
17 From the detective, and this is on the
18 third line of the page towards kind of the end of that, "I
19 mean would you -- would you feel better if I read you your 07:57AM 20 Miranda rights and stuff, man?"
21 I mean that's what the detective said.
22 The standard isn't does it make you better if he had his
23 Miranda rights read to him. The standard is if he is in
24 custody, he needs to have his Miranda rights read before
07:58AM 25 they interview him. It's not whether somebody feels

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 better. That's not the way the Fifth Amendment works.

2 MS. OVERLY: No, I understand that, your
3 Honor, and I think if the detective believes he was, in
4 fact, under custodial interrogation and in custody with
07:58AM 5 regards to this case, they would have read him Miranda,
6 either by card or memory, at the outset of the interview,
7 but based on their position, it was the State's position in
8 its Opposition was that he, in fact, was not. They didn't
9 feel the need to issue these Miranda warnings at the outset
07:58AM 10 or throughout any point in time in the interview, as they
11 didn't in Fields rather.

12 THE COURT: The interviews basically are
13 voluntary. They are always voluntary interactions with the 14 police. You cited a case where the guy's in prison, they
07:58AM 15 bring him in the interview room, and he is free to leave.
16 He may have be in prison, but in prison, his cell is his
17 home. So they say, You are free to leave. That means go
18 back to your cell and just go back to what is basically his 19 home.

07:58AM 20 MS. OVERLY: Correct.

21 THE COURT: If he was free to leave, that
22 means he was going to be uncuffed, let out, put in a police
23 car, go back to his apartment, make a sandwich, turn on the 24 TV, and go on with his day or by free means he is going to
07:58AM 25 be in handcuffs and put in the back of the car?

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 MS. OVERLY: Well, free to leave in the
2 same respect as he was in Fields. I mean like that's why
3 the State believes it's analogous. In that case, they even
4 indicated that he was free to leave and by that, they meant
07:58AM 5 free to leave and go back to his cell.

6 THE COURT: His cell is his home.

7 MS. OVERLY: Correct.

8 THE COURT: Right. He's not free to go
9 back to his home, right?

07:58AM 10 MS. OVERLY: No, he's not because of this
11 active parole violation where he was going to independently
12 go back to California, as he had been doing since 2014.

13 THE COURT: And that's the ball that Metro
14 got started rolling.

07:58AM 15 MS. OVERLY: Correct.

16 THE COURT: Correct.

17 MS. OVERLY: And the ball -- Metro's ball
18 started rolling, but it's a ball he created for himself and
19 had this warrant issued nonetheless.

07:58AM 20 THE COURT: All right.

21 MS. OVERLY: So the State's argument was
22 similar to that case. He could have indicated, with his 23 extensive criminal history and his knowledge about the
24 criminal justice system, and merely say to them, I don't
08:02AM 25 want to talk to you about this. They would have taken him

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 back to CCDC and that would have been, granted, his
2 temporary home, but just like in Fields, it's like him
3 going back to his cell. He was going to be extradited back
4 to California, as he indicated he well knew in the
08:02AM 5 interview.

6 MS. LOBO: One other thing for the Court
7 too.

8 Mr. Gathrite, it was so bazaar and strange
9 to him. He's appeared a few times before your Honor on the
08:02AM 10 fugitive calendar. He's been extradited back and forth.
11 This is the one time California didn't come to get him.
12 California was not interested this time. He's gone back
13 and forth like two, three times. They always come get him.
14 Somebody said, Don't bother, he's got a murder case.

08:02AM 15 MS. OVERLY: Well, I think that's --

16 THE COURT: Well, no, whatever you have
17 locally, you have to clean up the new local charges first
18 before they come pick you up. So he does have an open
19 murder case. They are not going to come get him.

08:02AM 20 MS. LOBO: Here's the thing, Judge. He is
21 not booked for murder, though. It's just they don't bother
22 to come get him. It's not until a week later.

23 MS. OVERLY: And, your Honor, just one
24 brief thing.

08:02AM 25 THE COURT: Sure.

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 MS. OVERLY: If they were to be --
2 typically, as your Honor knows, these issues are litigated
3 up in District Court as well and after they're litigated in
4 a motion, like in Jackson V Denno, a preliminary hearing is
08:02AM 5 typically ordered at that point in time.

6 The reason I mentioned the preliminary
7 hearing is because it would be the State's position that
8 given the jurisdiction in which we are in right now, if
9 that your Honor felt that under Jackson V Denno or
08:02AM 10 something of equal footing would be appropriate, that a
11 preliminary hearing would suffice, so forth, that would
12 flush out those issues.

13 THE COURT: I'm not sure what issues there
14 are to flush out. He is clearly in custody. This was all
08:02AM 15 triggered by Metro. They was all set in motion. They knew
16 exactly what they were doing. They knew exactly what they 17 were doing. They wanted to get him in custody so they
18 could interview him on the murder case.

19 That is the only reason how this thing
08:02AM 20 starts. It's the only reason to contact San Diego. This 21 is all a ruse. This is all a ruse by Metro to get him in 22 custody to interview him about the murder case. So he was
23 in custody and, when he is custody, they should have read
24 him his Miranda Rights. They didn't, not until 28 pages
08:02AM 25 into this.

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 They violated his rights. The fact it's a
2 murder case doesn't matter to me. It doesn't matter if he
3 is caught with 20 pounds of weed or if it's a murder case.
4 They violated his rights.

08:02AM 5 Because they violated his rights when he
6 was in custody, I'm going to suppress his statement.
7 Because the gun comes from the statements made during the
8 interview, I'm going to suppress the gun --

9 MS. OVERLY: And, your Honor --

08:02AM 10 THE COURT: -- and that's going to be this
11 Court's ruling.

12 So you can proceed to prelim, if you want
13 to, but the statement is not coming in and the gun is not
14 coming in.

08:02AM 15 MS. OVERLY: And, your Honor, can I ask
16 then what your specific ruling would be in reference to the
17 State's Opposition in reference to how Miranda does not 18 apply to the issue of consent with regards to the retrieval
19 of the gun?

08:02AM 20 THE COURT: The gun is a fruit of the 21 poisonous tree. The only information they have is the
22 information they gleaned while interviewing him illegally
23 because they knew he wasn't read his Miranda rights
24 properly. All of this is the fruit of the poisonous tree.

08:03AM 25 MS. OVERLY: But, your Honor --

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 THE COURT: So the only information they
2 have about the gun is the information he gave during the
3 interview. So if the statement goes out, the gun goes out.

4 MS. OVERLY: Okay.

08:03AM 5 So, specifically, the State's Opposition
6 references how the Miranda warnings and any illegally
7 obtained statements is non-testimonial for purposes of
8 somebody's rights being violated.

9 So I just want to be clear that your
08:03AM 10 Honor's ruling is independent of that, I guess, case law?

11 THE COURT: Do they have the gun without
12 the statement? Do they get the gun without the statement
13 from him as to where the gun was?

14 MS. OVERLY: Well, the argument is, your
08:03AM 15 Honor, that his consent is not testimonial. So it's not 16 technically considered his statement. It's independent of
17 the usual Miranda suppression because it's not testimonial.

18 THE COURT: I have a gun that he said was 19 hidden here. That's the information received in the
08:04AM 20 investigation. I have the gun used in the murder. It's 21 located here.

22 MS. OVERLY: I understand, but the State's
23 argument is that he consented to them accessing the 24 apartment to retrieve a firearm and that that consent
08:04AM 25 allowed them to go inside and obtain that and then,

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 additionally, the State's Inevitable Discovery Doctrine,
2 I'm not sure if your Honor wants to rule on that issue as
3 well?

4 THE COURT: No. The statement is out, the
08:04AM 5 gun is out. You can proceed however you want, but the 6 statement is not coming in at prelim. The gun is not
7 coming in at prelim. So --

8 MS. OVERLY: So the Inevitable Discovery
9 Doctrine would be denied as well in that respect?

08:04AM 10 THE COURT: Counsel, the statement is out.
11 The gun is out.

12 MS. OVERLY: Okay.

13 THE COURT: So okay.

14 MS. LOBO: Thanks, Judge.

08:04AM 15 THE COURT: Okay, do we have a prelim set?

16 MS. LOBO: Friday.

17 THE CLERK: June 8.

18 MS. LOBO: Next Friday, one week.

19 THE COURT: All right.

08:04AM 20 MS. LOBO: Thank you.

21 THE CLERK: June 8, 9 A.M. stands.

14                                      STATEMENT OF THE CASE

15           On February 26, 2018, Deandre Gathrite ("Defendant") was charged by way of 16       Criminal Complaint with one (1) count of Murder with Use of Deadly Weapon (Category A 17       Felony) and one (1) count of Ownership or Possession of Firearm by Prohibited Person
18       (Category B Felony) in Justice Court Case No. 18F03565X. Defendant was arraigned on 19       February 28, 2018 and the Public Defender was appointed. Preliminary Hearing was scheduled
20       for March 23, 2018. Subsequent to discovering a conflict in representing Defendant, the Public
21       Defender withdrew as counsel and Adrian Lobo, Esq. was appointed. The Preliminary Hearing
22       was reset for April 5, 2018 where defense sought to continue the hearing. The Preliminary
23       Hearing was reset for April 20, 2018. The Defense sought to continue the preliminary hearing
24       and the hearing was reset for May 11, 2018. On May 9, 2018 both parties continued the 25       preliminary hearing by means of stipulation and the hearing was reset for June 8, 2018.

26           On May 10, 2018, Defense filed a motion to suppress evidence. The State filed an 27       Opposition on May 23, 2018. On May 25, 2018, the Justice Court ruled that the Defendant's 28       statements provided to police and the firearm recovered by police suppressed. On June 8, 2018, the State filed a Motion to Continue based on the unavailability of an essential witness,

1 Raymond Moore. The Court granted the motion and the preliminary hearing was reset for June
2 29, 2018 with a status check on negotiations set for June 21, 2018.

3 On June 21, 2018, both parties indicated the case was not resolved and that the defense
4 counsel had received Marcum Notice from the State via email on June 19, 2018. On June 29,
5 2018, the State made a Motion to Dismiss the case and made additional representations
6 regarding the unavailability of witness Raymond Moore. Defense made an oral motion to 7 dismiss the case with prejudice, which was denied by the Justice Court. The case was instead
8 dismissed without prejudice pursuant to the State's Motion.

9 On August 15, 2018, an Indictment was filed charging Defendant with one (1) count of 10 Ownership or Possession of Firearm by Prohibited Person (Category B Felony) stemming from 11 the facts associated with the prior Justice Court case. The Defendant was arraigned in District
12 Court on September 4, 2018 where he pled not guilty and invoked his right to trial within sixty
13 (60) days. Jury trial is currently scheduled for November 13, 2018, with a respective Calendar
14 Call date of November 8, 2018.

15 On September 7, 2018, the Defense filed the instant Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus.
16 The State responds as follows.

17 STATEMENT OF FACTS

18 On February 16, 2018, Detectives with the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department
19 were conducting an investigation that led them to an apartment complex located at 2630
20 Wyandotte Street in Clark County. "Grand Jury Transcript" GJT, 7-8. Pursuant to that 21 investigation, Detectives made contact with the Defendant<sup>1</sup> at Apartment #1 of that apartment
22 complex. GJT, 7-8. The Defendant was not in custody pursuant to the investigation police 23 were conducting but was in custody on separate charges. GJT, 8. Detective Mauch and 24 Grimmatt spoke with the Defendant in an unmarked police vehicle. GJT, 9. Defendant 25 indicated he was involved in the current shooting investigation being conducted by police and

27 <sup>1</sup> Defendant is a convicted felon, having previously been adjudicated in 2012 of Assault with 28 Deadly Weapon (Category B Felony) and Discharging Firearm At or Into Vehicle (Category
B Felony) in the Eighth Judicial District Court of Clark County, Nevada in Case No. C271196-
1. GJT, 5; Exhibit 3.

1 revealed that he was in possession of a revolver involved in that shooting. GJT, 9. The 2 Defendant indicated that the revolver was located in Apartment #1, the apartment he was
3 residing at with his girlfriend and child. GJT, 11.

4 Specifically, the Defendant indicated the firearm was located in the duct work inside
5 the air conditioning unit of the apartment. GJT, 12. Defendant subsequently gave police
6 consent to enter the apartment and recover the firearm from the air vent. GJT, 12. Detective
7 DePalma entered the apartment and recovered an Amadeo Rossi 357 Magnum, with serial
8 number F379181 from inside the hallway air conditioning vent. GJT, 18.

9 ARGUMENT

10 I. STANDARD OF REVIEW

11 NRS 171.206 requires the magistrate to hold a defendant to answer in the district court if 12 it appears from the evidence adduced at the preliminary examination that there is probable
13 cause to believe that an offense has been committed and that the defendant has committed it.
14 Marcum v. Sheriff, 85 Nev. 175, 451 P.2d 845 (1969); citing Beasley v. Lamb, 79 Nev. 78,
15 378 P.2d 524 (1963). A preliminary hearing is not a trial. Whitley v. Sheriff, 87 Nev. 614,
16 491 P.2d 1282 (1971); see also Goldsmith v. Sheriff, 85 Nev. 295, 454 P.2d 86 (1969). In a
17 preliminary hearing, the State is only required to present enough evidence to support a
18 reasonable inference that the accused committed the offense. LaPena v. Sheriff, 91 Nev. 692,
19 696, 541 P.2d 907, 910 (1975); citing Kinsey v. Sheriff, 87 Nev. 361, 487 P.2d 340 (1971).

20 Furthermore, the State is not required to negate all inferences but need only present enough
21 proof to support a reasonable inference that the accused committed the offense. Whitley, 87
22 Nev. 614; see also Lamb v. Holsten, 85 Nev. 566, 459 P.2d 771 (1969). The same standard
23 of proof applies to proof of the corpus delicti. Sheriff v. Middleton, 112 Nev. 956, 921 P.2d
24 282 (1996).

25 Neither the preliminary hearing nor a hearing on a Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus is 26 designed to resolve factual disputes or matters of defense, which are functions of the trier of 27 fact at trial. Brymer v. Sheriff, 92 Nev. 598, 555 P.2d 844 (1976); Wrenn v. Sheriff, 87 Nev.

1 85, 482 P.2d 289 (1971). Likewise, it is not incumbent upon the state to negate all other
2 inferences at the preliminary hearing. Graves v. Sheriff, 88 Nev. 436, 498 P.2d 1324 (1972).

3 II. THE STATE PRESENTED LEGALLY SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TO THE
4 GRAND JURY FOR THE CHARGE OF PROHIBITED PERSON IN
5 POSSESSION OF A FIREARM.

6 Defendant argues the State violated NRS 172.145(2) because it failed to present
7 exculpatory evidence to the Grand Jury, failed to inform Defendant of a date and time to testify
8 before the Grand Jury, and relied upon evidence that should have been suppressed. However,
9 the evidence Defendant claims is exculpatory in nature is, in fact, not exculpatory and largely 10 inadmissible. Furthermore, the State did not rely upon inadmissible evidence in establishing 11 probable cause before the Grand Jury. Defendant did not request a specific time to testify
12 before the Grand Jury and absent such a request, he is not entitled to be advised of the date
13 and time of any other scheduled witnesses or evidence presentation before the grand jury.
14 However, if Defendant's complaint is that he wished to testify before the Grand Jury, the 15 appropriate remedy is to permit him to go before the Grand Jury and testify under oath before
16 the jurors, and not to dismiss the Indictment.

17 A. The State Did Not Violate NRS 172.145 As A Preliminary Hearing Was 18 Never Held And Any Evidentiary Decisions Made By The Justice Court Do
19 Not Fall Within The Statutory Language of NRS 172.145.

20 NRS 172.145 governs the presentation of alleged exculpatory evidence to a sitting
21 grand jury. In this case, the State did not fail to present exculpatory evidence warranting a
22 dismissal of the Indictment. Defendant contends the State violated NRS 172.145 by not 23 advising the Grand Jury of the Justice Court's ruling on a Motion to Suppress. Prior to the 24 Grand Jury presentment, Defendant sent a letter requesting the State to "comply with its duty
25 under NRS 172.145(2) and present any and all exculpatory evidence the State is aware of to 26 the Grand Jury...". See Def. Motion, Exh. I, p. 1. Defendant now argues that request obligate 27 the State to advise the Grand Jury of the Justice Court's ruling with respect to the Motion to 28 Suppress. However, that is not what NRS 172.145 pertains to.

1 Pursuant to NRS 172.145, a defendant is entitled to submit a statement which the grand
2 jury must receive providing whether a preliminary hearing was held concerning the matter
3 and, if so, that the evidence presented at the preliminary hearing was considered
4 insufficient to warrant holding the defendant for trial.

5 In this case, however, a preliminary hearing was never held. The Court, without the 6 benefit of an evidentiary hearing, and without a preliminary hearing, determined the 7 Defendant's statement should be suppressed at the time of the preliminary hearing based upon 8 what it perceived as a constitutional violation. The Court did not rule that the evidence was 9 insufficient to warrant holding the defendant for trial.

10 As previously addressed in the State's Opposition to Defendant's Motion to Suppress,<sup>2</sup>
11 the State was not prohibited from presenting this case to the Grand Jury because of the Justice
12 Court's ruling regarding evidence to be presented at the time of the preliminary hearing. The 13 Supreme Court has ruled a legal ruling by the justice court does not render a subsequent grand
14 jury presentation impermissible. See, Sheriff v. Harrington, 108 Nev. 869, 840 P.2d 588
15 (1992). In Harrington, the defendant was facing charges of felony driving under the influence
16 ("DUI") during the course of a preliminary hearing. Id. at 870-71, 840 P.2d at 588. At the 17 preliminary hearing, the justice court ruled the defendant's prior convictions for DUI were 18 constitutionally invalid, and therefore, the State had failed to prove a necessary element for 19 the felony DUI charge. Id. The justice court then dismissed the case at the preliminary hearing.
20 Id. at 870-71, 840 P.2d at 588-89.

21 Following the dismissal, the State presented the case -- including the same precluded
22 prior convictions -- to the grand jury, who returned an indictment for the felony DUI charge.
23 Id. at 871, 840 P.2d at 588-89. The defendant filed a petition for writ of habeas corpus, arguing
24 the State violated its duty to preset exculpatory evidence to the grand jury by failing to disclose
25 the justice court had ruled the prior conviction constitutionally infirm. Id. The district court
26 granted the petition, and the State appealed. Id. In ruling that the State did not violate its ethical

27 <sup>2</sup> Because Defendant's instant Petition contains many of the same arguments as were made in 28 his Motion to Dismiss, the State has included the same arguments in its Return as discussed in its opposition to the Motion to Suppress.

1 obligations when presenting the case to the grand jury, the Supreme Court stated a legal ruling
2 by a justice of the peace is "not evidence regarding the charge, but was rather an opinion on a
3 legal issue." Id. at 871, 840 P.2d at 589.

4 Here, the State did not violate NRS 172.145 by not advising the Grand Jury of the 5 Justice Court's ruling. NRS 172.145 is clear and unambiguous. It provides only for a
6 statement that the Court found insufficient evidence. As there was no such finding in in this
7 case, there was no requirement for the State to read any such statement to the Grand Jury.

8 B. The State Did Not Present Legally Insufficient Evidence To The Grand
9 Jury.

10 Defendant argues the State was prohibited from presenting Defendant's statement to 11 the Grand Jury because the State is bound by the Justice Court's decision regarding the Motion
12 to Suppress, and because of the Justice Court's determination, such evidence is inadmissible.
13 Nevada law, however, does not support this argument.

14 Curiously, Defendant cites to NRS 179.085 for the proposition that the grand jury, and 15 for that matter, the district court, is bound by the legal opinions of the justice court, and argues
16 this statute renders the Defendant's statement inadmissible. See, Def. Motion, p. 15. NRS 17 172.085 provides:

18 1. A person aggrieved by an unlawful search and seizure or the 19 deprivation of property may move the court having jurisdiction where the 20 property was seized for the return of the property on the ground that:

- 21 (a) The property was illegally seized without warrant;
22 (b) The warrant is insufficient on its face;
23 (c) There was not probable cause for believing the existence of the 24 grounds on which the warrant was issued;
25 (d) The warrant was illegally executed; or 26 (e) Retention of the property by law enforcement is not reasonable
27 under the totality of the circumstances. The judge shall receive evidence 28 on any issue of fact necessary to the decision of the motion.

2. If the motion is granted on a ground set forth in paragraph (a), (b), (c) or (d) of subsection 1, the property must be restored and it must not be admissible evidence at any hearing or trial.

3. If the motion is granted on the ground set forth in paragraph (e) of subsection 1, the property must be restored, but the court may impose reasonable conditions to protect access to the property and its use in later proceedings.

1           4. A motion to suppress evidence on any ground set forth in 2 paragraphs (a) to (d), inclusive, of subsection 1 may also be made in the 3 court where the trial is to be had. The motion must be made before trial
4 or hearing unless opportunity therefor did not exist or the defendant was 5 not aware of the grounds for the motion, but the court in its discretion
6 may entertain the motion at the trial or hearing.

7           5. If a motion pursuant to this section is filed when no criminal
8 proceeding is pending, the motion must be treated as a civil complaint
9 seeking equitable relief.

10 NRS 179.085 (2017). As pointed out by defense, NRS 179.085 applies specifically to motions
11 to return property. While Defendant may not be asking for the return of any property, NRS
12 179.085 is not applied or read in a section by section vacuum. NRS 179.085(2) applies only 13 in cases where a motion to return property has been filed and granted by the trial court. Because 14 no such motion was filed here, section 2 is not applicable to the instant case. Additionally,
15 NRS 179.085(4) provides for the trial court to hear motions to suppress, and makes no
16 reference to legal opinions of the justice courts. Accordingly, nothing within NRS 179.085
17 renders Defendant's statement inadmissible, legally insufficient evidence before the grand 18 jury.

19           Defendant, as in his Motion to Dismiss, also argues the State was bound by the justice
20 court's legal opinion based upon the Nevada Supreme Court's decision in Grace v. Eighth
21 Judicial District Court, 132 Nev. Adv. Rep. 51, 375 P.3d 1017 (2016), wherein the Nevada 22 Supreme Court ruled a justice court has inherent authority to suppress evidence at the time of 23 preliminary hearing. Again, as discussed in the State's Opposition to Defendant's Motion to 24 Dismiss, this argument is without merit.

25           In Grace, the defense made a motion at the time of the preliminary hearing to suppress 26 narcotics found on the defendant's person at the time of her arrest because the State failed to 27 call the officer who initially arrested the defendant pursuant to a probation warrant. Id. at 51, 28 375 P.3d at 1019-20. Instead, the State called only the officer who searched the defendant after the arresting officer had transferred custody of the defendant, who testified he had found the narcotics in defendant's possession after conducting a search incident to arrest. Id. At the time of the preliminary hearing, the defense moved to suppress the narcotics, arguing the State had

1 failed to establish a proper and valid arrest, and therefore, the search incident to arrest was
2 invalid. Id. The justice court agreed and ordered the evidence suppressed and the case
3 dismissed. Id. The State appealed the justice court's order, arguing the justice court was a court
4 of limited jurisdiction, and therefore lacked the authority to rule on a motion to suppress at the 5 time of the preliminary hearing. Id. The district court agreed and remanded the case back to 6 the justice court for a preliminary hearing. Id.

7 On a writ of mandamus, the Supreme Court ruled justice courts have the limited and 8 inherent authority to grant or deny motions to suppress because such motions are intrinsically 9 tied to the statutory duties carried out by the justice courts – namely to conduct preliminary 10 hearings and determine probable cause. Id. at 51, P.3d at 1020-21. The Court reasoned that in 11 the exercise of the statutory duties conferred upon the justice courts, the courts necessarily 12 possessed inherent authority to adjudicate evidentiary matters at issue in the context of a 13 preliminary hearing, relying upon the statutory language in NRS 47.020 (rules of evidence
14 apply at the time of a preliminary hearing) and NRS 48.025 (instructing that only relevant 15 evidence is admissible). Id. at 51, P.3d at 1020. Notably, the Supreme Court focused on the 16 authority of a justice court to rule on suppression motions in the context of a preliminary
17 hearing for the purpose of establishing probable cause, and cautioned this inherent authority
18 was limited in nature. Id. In fact, the Supreme Court further noted that specifically because 19 NRS 47.020 did not mention preliminary hearings by name, the absence of such a delineated
20 item meant the statute was intended to apply to that specific hearing. Id. The Grace decision,
21 however, does not stand for the proposition that the State is without recourse when a motion
22 to suppress is granted without an evidentiary hearing, and when a preliminary hearing does 23 not actually take place. Nor does the Grace decision specifically prohibit the State from 24 seeking a grand jury indictment in the same case. The Grace decision simply clarifies that at 25 the time of a preliminary hearing, the justice court has the limited and inherent authority to 26 hear motions to suppress in relation to the evidence presented at the time of the preliminary 27 hearing.

1 Defendant's reliance on Grace for the proposition that the State was forever bound by
2 the justice court's legal decision on a motion to suppress when no preliminary hearing occurred
3 is misplaced. Indeed, the Supreme Court has ruled a legal ruling by the justice court does not
4 render a subsequent grand jury presentation impermissible. See, Harrington, 108 Nev. at 871,
5 840 P.2d at 589. Similarly, there is nothing that prevents the State from seeking an indictment
6 even when a preliminary hearing is still pending, or has been bifurcated, or even when a 7 complaint – for any number of reasons including dismissal for lack of probable cause at 8 preliminary hearing – is dismissed. NRS 173.015 specifically states “the first pleading on the 9 part of the state is the indictment or information.” NRS 173.015 (2017). This statute makes no
10 distinction between when or even if the State must choose one procedure over the other. See,
11 State v. Maes, 93 Nev. 49, 559 P.2d 1184 (1977). The Nevada Supreme Court has held the 12 State may choose one or the other, and, may seek an indictment, even while an information
13 may still be pending, or where a preliminary hearing has only partially taken place. Id.

14 In Maes, the State charged the defendant with sexual assault by way of a criminal 15 complaint. Id. at 50, 559 P.2d at 1184. A preliminary hearing was scheduled, and prior to the 16 preliminary hearing, the defense argued certain elements and facts of the charged crime to the 17 justice court, suggesting the State lacked probable cause and was relying upon inadmissible
18 evidence in their case. Id. Specifically, defense counsel argued these infirmities would negate
19 a finding of probable cause by the justice court at the time of the preliminary hearing. Id.

20 Following that argument, the State presented the case to the grand jury, who issued an 21 indictment charging defendant with the same crimes. Id. The defendant filed a motion to 22 dismiss the indictment, arguing the State had engaged in a “contemptible procedure” when the 23 prosecutor ignored the arguments of defense counsel, implicitly recognizing the validity of the 24 arguments and acknowledging the inadmissibility of the evidence, and instead, bypassed the 25 preliminary hearing. Id. The district court agreed, dismissed the indictment, and ordered the 26 case remanded to justice court for a preliminary hearing. Id.

27 In reviewing NRS 173.015, the Nevada Supreme Court held the State had not engaged 28 in “contemptible procedure” by presenting the case to the grand jury, and furthermore, had no

1 duty to follow the arguments of counsel before the justice court in electing to pursue either a
2 preliminary hearing or an indictment from the grand jury even if the arguments of counsel
3 indicated some of the evidence may be deemed inadmissible at a preliminary hearing. Id. at 4 51, 559 P.2d at 1185. Specifically, the Court held the State was not required to pursue one
5 process simply because it began first, but rather, it was up to the State to elect how to proceed
6 in charging a defendant, even if it means the State pursues an indictment while a preliminary
7 hearing began, but had not yet finished. Id.

8 Further, the ruling of Grace is more limited than Defendant suggests. The Supreme 9 Court specifically noted the justice court's authority to rule on motions to suppress is only
10 derived from the inherent authority in its limited jurisdiction to conduct preliminary hearings.
11 In so finding, the Court pointed to State v. Sargent, 122 Nev. 210, 128 P.3d 1052 (2006), 12 noting the limitations of the jurisdiction of the justice courts and finding the jurisdiction is 13 limited only insofar as it relates to their jurisdiction over preliminary hearings. Grace, 375 P.3d
14 at 1018 ("Thus, the authority to even hear such motions is entirely related to, and tied solely 15 to, the conduction of a preliminary hearing"). In Sargent, the Court determined justice courts
16 do not have the inherent authority to even order a defendant to appear at a preliminary hearing
17 because the physical presence of the defendant was but one of many ways the State could 18 identify the defendant, and outside of establishing identity at the preliminary hearing, the 19 justice courts lacked jurisdiction. Id.

20 There is nothing either within the NRS or Nevada case law that suggests the State is 21 somehow bound by a legal opinion of the justice court when presenting evidence to the grand
22 jury. Rather, Nevada law expressly grants the State the authority to seek an indictment 23 regardless of the decisions by the justice court. Certainly, there are some limitations, for 24 example, if there had been a preliminary hearing held and the justice court had failed to find 25 probable cause based upon the evidence and dismissed the case, then a specific statement of 26 that fact pursuant to NRS 172.145 would be required to be read to the grand jury. But even the 27 plain language of NRS 172.145 indicates the State is not bound by even the legal rulings in 28 presenting a case to the grand jury. If the justice court's interlocutory legal opinions were

1 binding upon the grand jury, NRS 172.145 would be rendered meaningless. Because Nevada
2 law has repeatedly affirmed the State's ability to seek an Indictment separate and apart from 3 the justice court's procedures, the State did not submit legally insufficient evidence to the 4 grand jury simply because it presented Defendant's statement.

5 C. Defendant's Statement Is Admissible.

6 Inasmuch as Defendant's argument is that the statement itself is inadmissible –
7 irrespective of the justice court's decision – the State nevertheless did not submit legally
8 insufficient evidence to the Grand Jury because Defendant's statement was not taken in 9 violation of his Fifth Amendment rights. First, the State notes this argument should be raised
10 in a separate motion to suppress before this Court, and should be the subject of an evidentiary
11 hearing. Because this is not in the form of a separate motion, nor addressed in substance in 12 Defendant's Petition, this Court should not entertain Defendant's argument as to whether the 13 statement is independently admissible. However, to the extent this Court considers the 14 independent admissibility of Defendant's statement, the State responds as follows.

15 Miranda rights are required to be given to a defendant before a custodial interrogation.
16 Mitchell v. State, 114 Nev. 1417, 1423, 971 P.2d 813, 817-818 (1998), overruled on other 17 grounds by Sharma v. State, 118 Nev. Adv. Op. No. 69 (October 31, 2002). Custody has been 18 defined as a “‘formal arrest or restraint on freedom of movement’ of the degree associated 19 with a formal arrest.” Alward v. State, 112 Nev. 141, 154, 912 P.2d 243, 252 (1996) (citing 20 California v. Beheler, 463 U.S. 1121, 1125, 103 S.Ct. 3517, 3520 (1983)). When determining 21 whether a person who has not been arrested is “in custody,” the test “‘is how a reasonable man
22 in the suspect's position would have understood his situation.’” Alward at 154 (citing 23 Berkemer v. McCarty, 468 U.S. 420, 442, 104 S.Ct. 3138, 3151-3152 (1984)).

24 Once voluntariness of a confession has been raised as an issue, there must be a hearing
25 pursuant to Jackson v. Denno, 378 U.S. 368, 84 S.Ct. 1774 (1964), before an accused's
26 statements are brought before a jury. At this hearing, the Court must hear evidence concerning 27 what the defendant told the police and the circumstances under which the defendant made the 28

1 statements. The Court must then decide (1) whether his statement was voluntary using the
2 totality of the circumstances, and (2) whether Miranda was violated.

3 Coercive police conduct is a "necessary predicate" to a finding that a Defendant's
4 statement is involuntary such that its admission violates the Defendant's Due Process rights.
5 Colorado v. Connelly, 479 U.S. 157, 167, 107 S.Ct. 515, 522 (1986). "A confession is 6 admissible only if it is made freely and voluntarily, without compulsion or inducement."
7 Franklin v. State, 96 Nev. 417, 421, 610 P.2d 732, 734-35 (1980). In order to be considered
8 voluntary, a confession must be the product of free will and rational intellect. Blackburn v.
9 Alabama, 361 U.S. 199, 208, 80 S. Ct. 274, 280 (1960). A confession is involuntary if it is the 10 product of physical intimidation or psychological torture. Townsend v. Sain, 372 U.S. 293, 11 307, 83 S. Ct. 745, 754 (1963). To determine the voluntariness of a confession, the court must 12 consider the effect of the totality of the circumstances on the will of the defendant. Passama,
13 103 Nev. at 213, 735 P.2d at 323. The question is whether the defendant's will was overborne
14 when he confessed. Id.

15 Furthermore, it is well settled law that the interrogating police officers are entitled to 16 an unequivocal invocation of the right to either an attorney or the right to remain silent. See
17 Davis v. United States, 512 U.S. 452, 114 S.Ct. 2350 (1994). Even, "I think I better talk to a 18 lawyer first," has been found not to be unequivocal. See State v. Eastlack, 883 P.2d 999
19 (Ariz.1994).

20 i. Defendant Was Not In Custody For Purposes Of Triggering Miranda
21 Warnings.

22 The bare fact of custody may not in every instance require a warning even when the 23 suspect is aware that he is speaking to an official, but we do not have occasion to explore that 24 issue here." Illinois v. Perkins, 496 U.S. 292 (1990). Instead, we simply "reject[ed] the 25 argument that Miranda warnings are required whenever a suspect is in custody in a technical 26 sense and converses with someone who happens to be a government agent." Id. at 297.

27 Whether a suspect is "in custody" is an objective inquiry. J. D. B. v. North Carolina, 28 564 U.S. 261 (2011). Two discrete inquiries are essential to the determination: first, what were the circumstances surrounding the interrogation; and second, given those circumstances,

1 would a reasonable person have felt he or she was at liberty to terminate the interrogation and
2 leave. Id. “Custody” is a term of art that specifies circumstances that are thought generally to 3 present a serious danger of coercion. Id. at 508-509. In determining whether a person is 4 in custody in this sense, the initial step is to ascertain whether, in light of “the objective
5 circumstances of the interrogation,” Stansbury v. California, 511 U.S. 318, 322-323 (1994) a
6 “reasonable person [would] have felt he or she was not at liberty to terminate the interrogation
7 and leave.” Thompson v. Keohane, 516 U.S. 99, 112 (1995). And in order to determine how a 8 suspect would have “gauge[d]” his “freedom of movement,” courts must examine “all of the 9 circumstances surrounding the interrogation.” Howes v. Fields, 565 U.S. 499, 509 (2012).

10 Miranda adopted a “set of prophylactic measures” designed to ward off the “‘inherently 11 compelling pressures’ of custodial interrogation,” Shatzer, 559 U.S. at 103, 130 S. Ct. at 1217, 12 175 L. Ed. 2d at 1050 (quoting Miranda, 384 U.S., at 467), but Miranda did not hold that such 13 pressures are always present when a prisoner is taken aside and questioned about events
14 outside the prison walls. Indeed, Miranda did not even establish that police questioning of a 15 suspect at the station house is always custodial. Mathiason, 429 U.S., at 495 (1977) (declining 16 to find that Miranda warnings are required “simply because the questioning takes place in the 17 station house, or because the questioned person is one whom the police suspect”). Howes v.
18 Fields, 565 U.S. 499, 507-508 (2012).

19 A prisoner is not always considered “in custody” for purposes of Miranda whenever a 20 prisoner is isolated from the general prison population and questioned about conduct outside 21 the prison. Id. at 508. The three elements of that rule — (1) imprisonment, (2) questioning in 22 private, and (3) questioning about events in the outside world—are not necessarily enough to 23 create a custodial situation for Miranda purposes. Id. A prisoner, unlike a person who has not
24 been sentenced to a term of incarceration, is unlikely to be lured into speaking by a longing
25 for prompt release. Id. When a person is arrested and taken to a station house for interrogation, 26 the person who is questioned may be pressured to speak by the hope that, after doing so, he 27 will be allowed to leave and go home. Id. On the other hand, when a prisoner is questioned,
28 he knows that when the questioning ceases, he will remain under confinement. Id. at 511

1 (citing Shatzer, 559 U.S., at 124, n. 8). Third, a prisoner, unlike a person who has not been
2 convicted and sentenced, knows that the law enforcement officers who question him probably
3 lack the authority to affect the duration of his sentence. Id. And “where the possibility of parole
4 exists,” the interrogating officers probably also lack the power to bring about an early
5 release. Ibid. “When the suspect has no reason to think that the listeners have official power
6 over him, it should not be assumed that his words are motivated by the reaction he expects 7 from his listeners.” Id. (citing Perkins, 496 U.S., at 297). Under such circumstances, there is 8 little “basis for the assumption that a suspect . . . will feel compelled to speak by the fear of 9 reprisal for remaining silent or in the hope of [a] more lenient treatment should he confess.” Id.
10 at 512 (citing Shatzer, 496 U.S., at 296-297).

11 In Fields, the defendant was a prisoner escorted from his prison cell into a conference
12 room by a corrections officer. Id. at 502. Once inside, Defendant was questioned between five 13 to seven hours by two sheriff’s deputies regarding allegations of sexual conduct with a 12-
14 year-old boy that pre-existed his prison sentence. Id. at 502-503. Sheriffs told the defendant
15 he was free to leave and return to his cell and the conference room door sometimes remained 16 open and other times shut. Id. at 503. During the interview, the defendant became upset and 17 stood up shouting expletives. Id. Sheriffs told the defendant to sit down and that he could go 18 back to his cell if he didn’t want to cooperate. Id. the defendant eventually confessed to the 19 sexual abuse. Id. The defendant even repeatedly indicated he did not wish to speak to 20 detectives anymore but did not request to leave. Id. When the interview was over, the defendant 21 was delayed in his transport back to his cell and did not return until well after the hours he 22 typically retired. Id. at 503-504. At no point during Defendant’s entire interaction with Sheriffs
23 was the defendant Mirandized. Id. at 504. The defendant was later charged with criminal 24 sexual conduct and sought to suppress his confession based on a Miranda violation. Id.

25 The Supreme Court determined that the defendant was not in custody for purposes of 26 Miranda. Id. at 514. The court weighed the totality of the circumstances in making this 27 determination:
28

1 ...Respondent did not invite the interview or consent to it in advance, and he
2 was not advised that he was free to decline to speak with the deputies. The 3 following facts also lend some support to respondent's argument
4 that Miranda's custody requirement was met: The interview lasted for between 5 five and seven hours in the evening and continued well past the hour when 6 respondent generally went to bed; the deputies who questioned respondent were 7 armed; and one of the deputies, according to respondent, "[u]sed a very sharp
8 tone," and, on one occasion, profanity.

9 These circumstances, however, were offset by others. Most important,
10 respondent was told at the outset of the interrogation, and was reminded again
11 thereafter, that he could leave and go back to his cell whenever he wanted. ("I
12 was told I could get up and leave whenever I wanted"). Moreover, respondent
13 was not physically restrained or threatened and was interviewed in a well-lit, 14 average-sized conference room, where he was "not uncomfortable." He was 15 offered food and water, and the door to the conference room was sometimes left
16 open. "All of these objective facts are consistent with an interrogation 17 environment in which a reasonable person would have felt free to terminate the 18 interview and leave." Yarborough, 541 U.S., at 664-665.

19 Because he was in prison, respondent was not free to leave the conference room
20 by himself and to make his own way through the facility to his cell. Instead, he 21 was escorted to the conference room and, when he ultimately decided to end the 22 interview, he had to wait about 20 minutes for a corrections officer to arrive and 23 escort him to his cell. But he would have been subject to this same restraint even 24 if he had been taken to the conference room for some reason other than police 25 questioning; under no circumstances could he have reasonably expected to be 26 able to roam free. And while respondent testified that he "was told . . . if I did
27 not want to cooperate, I needed to go back to my cell," these words did not coerce 28 cooperation by threatening harsher conditions. ("I was told, if I didn't want to cooperate, I could leave"). Returning to his cell would merely have returned him to his usual environment.

Id. at 515-516.

23 In Minnesota v. Murphy, 465 U.S. 420 (1984), the defendant sought to suppress 24 statements made during a meeting with his probation officer on an unrelated charge. The Court
25 held that "custody" for Miranda purposes has been narrowly circumscribed. Id. at 430. The 26 Court reasoned that the extraordinary safeguard of Miranda warnings do not apply outside the 27 context of the inherently coercive custodial interrogations for which it was designed. Id. The 28 court found the defendant's situation was not unlike suspects in noncustodial settings:

1 ...the nature of probation is such that probationers should expect to be
2 questioned on a wide range of topics relating to their past criminality. Moreover,
3 the probation officer's letter, which suggested a need to discuss treatment from 4 which Murphy had already been excused, would have led a reasonable
5 probationer to conclude that new information had come to her attention. In any 6 event, Murphy's situation was in this regard indistinguishable from that facing suspects who are questioned in noncustodial settings and grand jury witnesses who are unaware of the scope of an investigation or that they are considered potential defendants.

7 Id. at 432.

8 In Junior v. State, the defendant tested positive for drugs while on parole. Junior v.
9 State, 107 Nev. 72 (1991). After the defendant absconded, a warrant was issued for his arrest,
10 and he was subsequently arrested and charged with three counts of being under the influence
11 of a controlled substance. Id. at 74. The defendant asserted the parole officer should be required
12 to have Mirandized him prior to his submission of the drug test. Id. The Supreme Court held 13 there was no relevant authority for the proposition that evidence of an independent felony
14 offense obtained by a parole officer in his official capacity could not be used in a subsequent 15 prosecution for the offense. Id. at 74-75.

16 In Holmes v. State, 306 P.3d 415 (2013), the defendant argued that his non-Mirandized
17 statements made while being interviewed by Nevada Detectives in his California Parole
18 Officer's office should be suppressed. The Court held that Miranda warnings were not required
19 since the interrogation was not custodial. Id. at 423.

20 In Mathiason, the Court held that a parolee who voluntarily came to a police station at 21 the request of a police officer, who was immediately informed that he was not under arrest, 22 who was thereafter questioned about a burglary, who confessed to the burglary after the 23 questioning officer falsely stated that the parolee's fingerprints were found at the scene of the 24 burglary, and who left the police station without hindrance at the close of his one-half hour
25 interview, was not in custody or otherwise deprived of his freedom of action in any significant 26 way for purposes of the requirement that an individual must be in custody or deprived of his 27 freedom before police must give Miranda warnings. Oregon v. Mathiason, 429 U.S. 492
28 (1977). The Court held that the questioning officer's false statement about the parolee's fingerprints has nothing to do with whether he was in custody for purposes of Miranda

1 warnings. Id. Additionally, despite the police officer advising the parolee of his Miranda rights
2 after he had confessed, the court held that the parolee's confession did not have to be excluded
3 in his prosecution for burglary on the ground that it was not preceded by Miranda warnings.
4 Id.

5 Here, Defendant previously argued he was "absolutely" in custody based on his arrest
6 for the California warrant. However, the circumstances surrounding the Defendant's arrest
7 clearly establish he was not "in custody" for purposes of triggering Miranda warnings in the 8 instant case.

9 On February 14, 2018, a Sheriff's Warrant for Defendant's arrest was issued out of San 10 Diego County, California for Defendant's 2010 felony conviction for Manufacturing and/or 11 Possessing a Dangerous Weapon. Defendant was on parole for the offense and the warrant 12 authorized Defendant be extradited back to California. On February 16, 2018, Defendant was 13 located by the LVMPD Criminal Apprehension Team (CAT) and arrested. When Defendant
14 was arrested on the warrant, he had no Nevada charges pending. In fact, after Defendant was 15 questioned and the firearm was recovered, the Defendant was not arrested on either the Murder
16 or Possession of Firearm by Prohibited Person charge. Instead, Defendant was transported to 17 the Clark County Detention Center exclusively on his California warrant. Five days later,
18 California lifted the hold and Defendant was released from the detention center. LVMPD
19 Detectives did not obtain the Defendant's arrest warrant for the murder or firearm charge until 20 February 26, 2018 and after interviewing two additional witnesses.<sup>3</sup> The LVMPD CAT team
21 located Defendant on that day and arrested Defendant on the murder and possession of firearm
22 charges.

23 Similar to Fields, where police sheriffs questioned the Defendant while he was serving 24 a prison sentence for a separate offense, Detectives here spoke to Defendant while he was in 25 custody on his California parole violation. Like in Fields, the Defendant's status of being in 26 custody on his California felony offense for which he was on parole had no bearing on the 27 independent Nevada investigation. Also similar to Fields, Detectives here had no influence on 28 Defendant's California sentence or extradition. Additionally, questioning by Detectives had

<sup>3</sup> Raymond Moore was interviewed on February 21 and Towan Abrams was interviewed on February 23.

1 no impact on Defendant's restraint since he was going to remain in custody on his California
2 warrant independent of whether Detectives questioned him on an unrelated event or not. At no
3 point throughout questioning did Detectives make any promises or insinuations regarding the 4 impact of Defendant's California sentence.

5 Furthermore, the objective circumstances surrounding Defendant's questioning clearly
6 establishes his freedom of movement did not trigger Miranda. Once Detectives made contact
7 with Defendant, his handcuffs were removed, he was permitted to smoke outside of the patrol
8 car, he was given the opportunity to hug his child, and was repeatedly told that he could "leave
9 at any time" and was a "free man." Similar to Fields, where police told the defendant he could 10 leave and return to his cell, the Defendant here could have refused to speak to police and 11 simply awaited transport to jail on his warrant. Instead, Defendant spoke with Detectives, 12 smoked a cigarette, and never expressed any desire to end questioning.

13 Moreover, the circumstances here were far less coercive than those in Fields, where the 14 court still found Defendant was not in custody for purposes of triggering Miranda. In Fields, 15 the interview lasted between five (5) to seven (7) hours and continued well into the night. At 16 one point during questioning, the defendant became upset and stood up from his seat as if to 17 leave. Police used a sharp tone and even cursed throughout the interview. And most notably,
18 at no point did police advise the defendant of his Miranda rights. Here, however, the Defendant
19 was interviewed in the afternoon for less than three (3) hours. The conversation never turned 20 hostile, Defendant never indicated he wanted to terminate the conversation, and Defendant
21 was advised of his Miranda rights approximately twenty-five (25) minutes into questioning.

22 Finally, Defendant was fully aware of the circumstances of his arrest and what to 23 anticipate as a result. Defendant repeatedly educated Detectives on his California case,
24 specifically, that he had been on the run since 2014 due to his California probation violations.
25 Defendant explained the process of getting extradited to California on the warrant where he 26 would serve minimal time in custody before getting released. Defendant even explained to 27 Detectives he would definitely be extradited back to California:

28 Q: I haven't - I haven't even discussed with my boss about taking you away or even if that's - I don't know if that's - I don't know what's going on with that.
I'm being honest with you, dude. I - I ain't even - that hasn't even crossed my mind at this point.

1 A: 'Cause I have a warrant for Cali, so I know I'm goin' ...

2 Q: You have a warrant?

3 A: Yeah. In Cali.

4 Q: Will they extradite them? You sure?

5 A: Yes. Mmm.

6 Q: I don't know about that at this point. I mean...

7 A: That's why I don't - that's why I'm saying I - I know I'm not goin' - 'cause
8 I - it's a lot going on now.

9 Def. Exh. F, at 49-50.

10 Defendant's knowledge of his extradition process stemmed not only from his California
11 warrant but his extensive criminal history, which includes multiple felony arrests and 12 convictions dating back over the course of ten (10) years. Defendant's familiarity with the 13 system only further substantiates his proficiency with the criminal justice system, including 14 his rights when speaking to law enforcement.

15 Therefore, when looking at the totality of the circumstances involving Defendant's and 16 the supporting case law, it is evident Defendant was not in custody for purposes of triggering
17 Miranda when speaking with Detectives. Thus, any Miranda advisement at the time of the 18 questioning was elective and not required pursuant to the Fifth Amendment.

19 ii. Defendant's Statements Were Voluntary.

20 A defendant bears the initial burden of arguing that a statement was involuntarily given
21 and requesting the appropriate hearing. Wilkins v. State, 96 Nev. 367, 372, 609 P.2d 309, 312
22 (1980). Following a challenge to the voluntariness of a confession, the State must prove by a
23 preponderance of the evidence that the confession was voluntary. Rosky v. State, 121 Nev.
24 184, 192 n.18, 111 P.3d 690, 695 (2005) (citing Lynum v. Illinois, 372 U.S. 528, 534, 83 S.
25 Ct. 917 (1963)). In such an analysis, the Court must consider whether a defendant's will is 26 overborne by physical intimidation or psychological pressures. Id. The court must review the 27 totality of the circumstances to determine whether a defendant's confession was voluntarily 28 given. Passama v. State, 103 Nev. 212, 214, 735 P.2d 321, 323 (1987). "Factors to be considered include: the youth of the accused; his lack of education or his low intelligence; the lack of any advice of constitutional rights; the length of detention; the repeated and prolonged

1 nature of questioning; and the use of physical punishment such as the deprivation of food or 2 sleep." Id.

3 The United States Supreme Court has recognized that before there can be a finding that
4 a confession is not "voluntary" within the meaning of the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth
5 Amendment, there must first be a finding of some coercive police conduct. Colo. v. Connelly,
6 479 U.S. 157, 166-677, 107 S. Ct. 515, 521-22 (1986) (recognizing that absent a police conduct 7 prong, courts would be required to "divine a defendant's motivation for speaking or acting as 8 he did even though there be no claim that governmental conduct coerced his decision."); see 9 also United States v. Salameh, 152 F.3d 88, 117 (2d Cir. 1998) (quoting United States v.
10 Chrismon, 965 F.2d 1465, 1469 (7th Cir. 1992)) ("A diminished mental state is only relevant 11 to the voluntariness inquiry if it made mental or physical coercion by the police more 12 effective.").

13 As previously noted above, the totality of the circumstances surrounding Defendant's
14 questioning clearly establish Defendant's statements were voluntary. Defendant was in a 15 comfortable environment whereby he was questioned in the middle of the afternoon, his 16 handcuffs were removed, he was permitted to smoke cigarettes, and even hug his child. At no
17 point did Detectives threaten, harass, or promise Defendant any benefits in exchange for 18 speaking with them. The conversation never grew hostile and Defendant even agreed that 19 Detectives treated him with respect and did not harass or threaten him in any way.

20 Additionally, Detectives indicated they appreciated the Defendant's honesty and that 21 he was agreeing to speak with them. Detectives even reiterated they were aware Defendant did 22 not have to speak with them:

23
24 I mean, I'm not gonna tell you how to feel, man, one way or the other 'cause I
25 can't imagine what you're going through in your head. I mean, I get it. You
26 sitting here, you talking to us and I appreciate your cooperation. And I know it
27 ain't something that you have to do, but, uh, but you sitting here talking to us, 28 man, and - and - and all that is a blessing in itself, man, given how things coulda transpired, right?...

Def. Exh. F, at 27.

iii.

iv. Defendant Waived His Miranda Rights.

The prosecution does not need to show that a waiver of Miranda rights was express. An "implicit waiver" of the "right to remain silent" is sufficient to admit a suspect's statement into evidence. Butler, supra, at 376, 99 S. Ct. 1755, 60 L. Ed. 2d 286. Butler made clear that a waiver of Miranda rights may be implied through "the defendant's silence, coupled with an understanding of his rights and a course of conduct indicating waiver." 441 U.S., at 373, 99 S. Ct. 1755, 60 L. Ed. 2d 286. The Court in Butler therefore "retreated" from the "language and tenor of the Miranda opinion," which "suggested that the Court would require that a waiver . . . be 'specifically made. Berghuis v. Thompkins, 560 U.S. 370, 384 (2010). The question of waiver must be determined on "the particular facts and circumstances surrounding that case, including the background, experience, and conduct of the accused." North Carolina v. Butler, 441 U.S. 369, 374-375 (1979).

Here, Detectives did not feel compelled to advise Defendant of his Miranda rights at the outset of the interview since Defendant was not "in custody" for purposes of their questioning. Instead, Detective Grimmert advised Defendant of his rights in order to develop a rapport, not out of legal necessity. This is further evidenced by Detective Grimmert's comments prior to reading the warnings:

Q: ...there's a reason for everything, right? And that's what you explained to us. There - there's a reason for everything, man. I mean, would you - would you feel better if I read you your Miranda rights and stuff, man? I mean, I don't have, I mean, you free to go, man. I mean, you know what I'm saying? I - I'm not here to jam you up. I'm here to simply get your side of the story. And that's why I appreciate - and I'll read 'em for you, you want me to read 'em to you, man. I mean, know, uh, you got the right to remain silent. Anything you say can be used against you in a court of law. You have a right to consult with an attorney before questioning. You have a right to the presence of a attorney during questioning. If you cannot afford an attorney, one will be appointed before questioning. You understand all that? You unders- you understand all that, Dre? Yeah? Yes, no, maybe so? I mean, I ain't trying to jam you - I'm just letting you know I ain't trying to trick you with nothing. You see what I'm sayin'? Those are your rights. You know what I'm sayin'? Those are your rights. Now, I'm not saying that, uh, you're under arrest, not like that. I'm just telling you those are your rights. If you - if you feelin' some kinda way - if that makes you feel better - you understand that? Yes, no? Am I making sense?

1 Def. Exh. F, at 23.

2 Without articulating any concerns or questions regarding the rights that were just 3 explained, the Defendant immediately resumed talking to Detectives, stating "It's just that the 4 situation sucks so bad." Furthermore, Defendant is a thirty (30) year old man with at least four
5 (4) prior felony convictions, one of which he had been "on the run" from since 2014. The ease
6 at which Defendant answered questions, was familiar with the extradition process, and 7 continued to engage with Detectives post Miranda, clearly demonstrates Defendant knowingly 8 and voluntarily waived his rights.

9 In this case, Defendant's statement to detectives was not taken in violation of his Fifth
10 Amendment rights. Defendant was not in custody for the purposes of Miranda. Inasmuch as 11 detectives advised Defendant of his Miranda rights, such advisement was voluntary and not 12 compelled. Even so, the totality of the circumstances indicate his statement was voluntary and 13 that he even waived his rights. Accordingly, the State did not admit legally insufficient
14 evidence to the grand jury and the instant Petition should be denied.

16 D. The State Did Not Fail To Present Exculpatory Evidence To The Grand 17 Jury, Nor Did It Intentionally Conceal Exculpatory Evidence From The 18 Grand Jury.

19 Pursuant to NRS 172.145, the State is required to present any exculpatory evidence it
20 is aware of at the time of the Grand Jury presentment. NRS 172.145(2) (2017). Specifically,
21 subsection (2) states that, "If the district attorney is aware of any evidence which will explain
22 away the charge, he shall submit it to the grand jury." Id.

23 Thus, the statutory test is two-fold. First, was the State aware of the alleged evidence
24 and secondly, was the alleged evidence of a nature which would explain away the charge.
25 However, dismissal of an indictment on the basis of government misconduct is an extreme
26 sanction that should be utilized infrequently. Sheriff v. Keeney, 106 Nev. 213, 216, 791 P.2d
27 55 (1990). In order to warrant dismissal of an indictment the defendant must show substantial
28 prejudice. Id. In Lay v. State, 110 Nev. 1198, 886 P.2d 448 (1994), the Nevada Supreme

1 Court held that a defendant shows prejudice only when there is a reasonable probability that
2 the outcome would have been different absent the misconduct. Id. at 1198. (emphasis added).

3 "Exculpatory evidence has been defined as that evidence which has a tendency to 4 explain away the charge against the target of the Grand Jury investigation." Id. Several Nevada
5 Supreme Court cases have interpreted what is considered exculpatory evidence. In State v.
6 Babayan, 106 Nev. 155, 787 P.2d 805 (1990), the Nevada Supreme Court upheld the district
7 court's finding that substantial exculpatory evidence had been known by the State, but that the 8 prosecutors failed to present it to the grand jury. Id. The prosecution presented evidence that 9 several children had been sexually assaulted and that some of the children indicated that there
10 was complete penetration. Id. At the time of the grand jury presentation, the prosecutors were 11 also aware that reports prepared by physicians who had examined the children indicated no
12 clear evidence of penetrating injury. Id. The prosecution did not present these reports to the 13 grand jury. Id.

14 The Court held that while not entirely dispositive of whether the children were sexually 15 assaulted, see NRS 200.364(2) (defining sexual penetration as any intrusion, however slight),
16 evidence that there were no physical findings of penetration would tend to explain away the 17 charges against the defendants, or, at the very least, would suggest that any sexual abuse that 18 might have occurred did not happen as recounted by some of the alleged victims. Id. The grand 19 jury should have had this information before it in order for it to make an informed
20 determination. Id. at 172. (emphasis added).

21 In Lay, infra., the Court held that a "prior inconsistent statement of a witness does not 22 'explain away [a criminal charge]' within the meaning of the exculpatory evidence statute."
23 Lay, 107 Nev. at 1198. The simple fact that a witness has contradicted himself/herself in the 24 past does not tend by itself to explain away the charge. Id. The State's duty to present
25 exculpatory evidence does not require the State to present the defendant's theory of the case,
26 nor does it obligate the State to conduct an investigation on part of the defense. Kinsey, 87
27 Nev. at 363, 487 P.2d at 341; Miley, 99 Nev. at 377.

1 Defendant argues the State failed to present requested exculpatory evidence to the 2 Grand Jury, as reflected in Exhibit I to Defendant's Petition. However, none of the items listed
3 within the letter sent by defense counsel are actually items of "exculpatory evidence." The 4 State is not required to submit evidence to the grand jury merely because a defendant requests
5 the State to do so. Rather, the evidence must be exculpatory for the State to be required to 6 present it to the jurors. As detailed below, none of the items requested by the defense are 7 exculpatory, and therefore, were not required to be presented pursuant to NRS 172.145.

8 Transcript of Las Vegas Justice Court Argument on Motion to Suppress

9 First, the content of this transcript, or the statements of counsel or legal rulings by the 10 Justice Court judge are not exculpatory in any fashion, and furthermore, were not required to 11 be disclosed to the Grand Jury as such statements are a legal opinion, and not evidence in the 12 case. Second, this transcript in and of itself is not independently admissible, even if this Court
13 finds the substance of the Justice Court's legal opinion was required to be disclosed to the 14 Grand Jury. The transcript does not contain any statements or testimony of any witnesses, but 15 is merely a transcript of a legal argument made before the justice court. There is nothing about 16 this transcript that constitutes evidence, and as such, it is not admissible.

17 Field Interview Cards Reflecting Gang Affiliation of Murder Victim

18 This evidence is not exculpatory and is irrelevant to this case. Gang affiliation in and 19 of itself is not exculpatory in nature, as it does not tend to explain away the charges against 20 Defendant. Moreover, gang affiliation of any witness is tantamount to character evidence
21 pursuant to NRS 48.045, and is inadmissible. Defendant in this case is not charged with 22 murder, so to the extent this request relates to the murder victim, it is irrelevant in the instant
23 proceedings. As such, no evidence whatsoever of the victim was presented to the Grand Jury, 24 and the State did not violate NRS 172.145 by failing to present this irrelevant evidence to the 25 Grand Jury.

26 Autopsy Photos Reflecting Gang Affiliation of Deceased

27 Such evidence, much like the prior request, is not exculpatory because it does not tend 28 to explain away the charges here, and is inadmissible character evidence. Similarly, the State

1 notes Defendant is not charged with murder, and any tattoos of a deceased victim are not
2 relevant to whether Defendant possessed a firearm.

3 Murder Victim's Criminal History

4 This too, is not exculpatory in nature, and is irrelevant. The deceased's criminal history
5 does not explain away the firearm charges pending against Defendant. And again, Defendant
6 is not charged with murder, so this request is also irrelevant.

7 Allegations Murder Victim Was Engaged In Sales of Drugs

8 This request is not exculpatory in nature, as it does not tend to explain away the firearms
9 charge pending against Defendant, and again, is irrelevant.

10 Certain Elements of Testimony Of Raymond Moore

11 Raymond Moore did not testify, and again, the State is not charging Defendant with 12 murder in this case, so the identified portions of Moore's testimony are completely irrelevant.

13 The Type of Gun Found In Defendant's Possession And Casings Recovered At The Scene Of 14 The Murder

15 Such evidence does not tend to explain away the firearms charges pending against 16 Defendant. Operability of the firearm, the type of firearm, and the shell casings from the 17 shooting are irrelevant to the instant charge, and therefore are not exculpatory and were not 18 required to be presented to the Grand Jury.

19 None of the enumerated items in Defendant's letter are exculpatory, and most are 20 irrelevant and inadmissible. As such, the State did not fail to present exculpatory evidence to 21 the Grand Jury.

22 Defendant similarly contends he was entitled to be advised of the place and time for the 23 Grand Jury because he wanted to testify in this case. First, the letter Defendant sent to the State
24 did not indicate Defendant was going to testify. Rather, the letter demanded to know the time
25 and place of the proceedings because he "may" want to testify. Defendant is not entitled to 26 simply know the time and place of the Grand Jury presentment because he "may" want to 27 testify. Defendant is entitled to present his own statement to the Grand Jury, and had Defendant
28 done so equivocally, the State would have reserved a time and date for Defendant to appear

1 and testify. Because no such request was made, the State did not violate its duties at the Grand
2 Jury.

3 Second, if Defendant's complaint is in fact that he wanted to testify and wishes to do
4 so, then the appropriate remedy is for this Court to grant Defendant an opportunity to appear
5 before the Grand Jury and give his statement. However, dismissal of the instant Indictment is 6 not warranted.

7 E. The State Did Not Elicit Impermissible Hearsay Evidence Before the Grand
8 Jury, As Any Statements From Detective DePalma Demonstrate Effect
9 Upon The Listener, And Fall Within An Exception To The Hearsay Rule.

10 Defendant claims the State presented impermissible hearsay evidence to the Grand Jury
11 in the form of Detective DePalma's testimony. Under NRS 51.035, hearsay is generally
12 defined as an out-of-court statement offered in evidence to prove the truth of the matter
13 asserted. NRS 51.035 (2017). NRS 51.065 provides that as a general rule, hearsay testimony
14 is inadmissible. NRS 51.065 (2017). Evidence establishing the effect upon the listener, 15 however, or evidence providing context for a particular situation, does not constitute 16 impermissible hearsay evidence when it is not offered to prove the truth of the matter asserted.
17 Byford v. State, 116 Nev. 215, 232, 994 P.2d 700, 712 (2000).

18 Detective DePalma's testimony at the Grand Jury falls squarely within this exception.
19 Detective DePalma testified as to the search he conducted within the apartment. When 20 questioned about whether he was searching the apartment pursuant to a warrant or consent, he 21 indicated consent as given to detectives who interviewed Defendant. He also testified he 22 specifically searched the air vent because Defendant had indicated that was where the firearm
23 would be located, and when asked about why he searched that apartment, he indicated it was 24 because that was the apartment where Defendant had been staying. None of these statements
25 are offered for the truth of the matters asserted therein, but rather were offered to illustrate why
26 Detective DePalma conducted a particular search in that particular apartment. These 27 statements are not inadmissible hearsay, and as such, this argument is without merit.

28 F. The State Did Not Present Impermissible Evidence Of Other Acts, Crimes,
Or Wrongdoings By Defendant.

1 Defendant's next argument related to alleged character evidence admitted in violation
2 of NRS 48.045.<sup>4</sup> While it is true NRS 48.045 prohibits the admission of character evidence or 3 evidence of other acts at the time of trial to prove conformity therewith, there are nevertheless
4 exceptions to that general rule. The State is entitled to present the complete story surrounding 5 the facts and circumstances of a case in order to provide the grand jury with the complete story.
6 The general rule of law pertaining to the "complete story" or res gestae was set forth by the 7 Nevada Supreme Court in Dutton v. State, 94 Nev. 461, 581 P.2d 856 (1978). There the Court
8 stated:

9 "The State is entitled to present a full and accurate account of the 10 circumstances of the commission of the crime, and if such an 11 account also implicates the defendant or defendants in the 12 commission of other crimes for which they have not been charged,
13 the evidence is nevertheless admissible."

14 (quoting State v. Izatt, 534 P.2d 1107 (Idaho 1975).

15 In Dutton, the defendant and a co-offender entered a police sponsored store which was 16 fronting as a "fencing" operation. Id. Negotiations were entered into with regard to several 17 items of property, including some bronze wear and a camera. Id. As a result of that conduct,
18 the defendant was indicted for possession of the stolen property, to include the stolen camera.
19 Id. In finding no error with regard to the evidence dealing with his possession of the bronze
20 wear, which was likewise stolen from the victim at the same time as the camera, the Court
21 stated, "courts have long adhered to the rule that all the facts necessary to prove the crime
22 charged in the indictment, when linked to the chain of events which support that crime, are 23 admissible." Id.

24 The Nevada Supreme Court reaffirmed the doctrine in State v. Shade, 111 Nev. 887, 25 900 P.2d 327 (1995). Shade was charged with possession of controlled substances:
26 Methamphetamine and Cocaine. Id. The drugs were found by officers pursuant to a vehicle 27 stop, following an investigation involving the purchase/sale of a quantity of heroin by 28 defendant Shade and his son-in-law. Id. The trial court prohibited the prosecution from

<sup>4</sup> Again, the State notes this argument was also made in Defendant's Motion to Dismiss, and similarly, the State has included its argument from the State's Opposition here as well.

1 revealing to the trial jury evidence pertaining to the uncharged heroin transaction. Id. The
2 Nevada Supreme Court in overruling the trial court stated:

3 "If the agents are not allowed to testify regarding their surveillance,
4 the State cannot inform the jury how Shade obtained the drugs or that 5 officers suspected Shade was participating as a lookout during the 6 purchase of the drugs that were ultimately found in the car he was 7 driving. *Without such testimony, the State cannot effectively
8 prosecute the transportation of illegal narcotics charges pending
9 against Shade.*

10 . . . .The charges at issue were contemporaneous to the heroin
11 purchase, arose out of the same transaction, and involved the same
12 participants. *The excluded evidence was inextricably intertwined with 13 the charged crimes and completed a story leading up to Shade's
14 ultimate arrest.* We conclude that the State's witnesses could not 15 adequately testify about the methamphetamine and cocaine charges
16 without some reference to the heroin sale and the accompanying 17 surveillance activity. The district court, thus abused its discretion by 18 granting the motion in limine. The district court should have admitted 19 the evidence and issued a cautionary instruction to the jury.

20 (emphasis added).

21 It is important to note that the Shade court relied upon Allan v. State, 92 Nev. 318
22 (1976), a case where the defendant complained that the trial court erred by admitting evidence
23 of uncharged lewd behavior in a Sexual Assault on Minor case. The Allan court explained the 24 complete story doctrine:

25 When several crimes are intermixed or blended with one another, or 26 connected such that they form an indivisible criminal transaction and 27 when full proof by testimony, whether direct or circumstantial, of any 28 one of them can- not be given without showing the others, evidence of any or all of them is admissible against a defendant on trial for any offense which is itself a detail of the whole criminal scheme.

29 Id. at 7 (citing Allan, supra at 321). Ultimately, the Allan court found the evidence admissible 30 stating:

31 The testimony regarding the additional acts of fellatio, as well as the 32 act of masturbation, was admissible as part of the res gestae of the 33 crime charged. Testimony regarding such acts is admissible because 34 the acts complete the story of the crime charged by proving the 35 immediate context of happenings near in time and place. Such 36 evidence has been characterized as the same transaction or the *res
37 gestae*.

38 Id. at 8 (citing Allan, supra at 320).

1           Returning to the facts of Shade, the Court found that the district court improperly denied
2 the undercover officer from testifying about the uncharged acts. Specifically, the district court
3 erroneously relied on NRS 48.035(1), which provides for the weighing of the relative,
4 probative and prejudicial value of the evidence. The Shade court recognized that when the 5 complete story doctrine applies:

6           The determinative analysis is not a weighing of the prejudicial effect
7 of evidence of other bad acts against the probative value of that 8 evidence. If the doctrine of res gestae is invoked, the controlling 9 question is whether witnesses can describe the crime charged without referring to related uncharged acts. If the court determines that the evidence of the uncharged acts, it must not exclude the

10 Id. at 9.

11           The Shade court found that the uncharged acts should be admitted because, “the charges
12 at issue were contemporaneous to the heroin purchase, arose out of the same transaction, and 13 involved the same participants.” Id. at 10. Therefore, it was necessary for the officer to be 14 able to explain the events leading up to the arrest of the defendant for sale of controlled 15 substance.

16           In Brackeen v. State, 104 Nev. 547, 763 P.2d 59 (1988), the defendant was convicted
17 of Burglary and Possession of Credit Card Without Consent of the Owner. The defendant
18 entered a pizza parlor, sat down at a table occupied by the Millers, and began eating their pizza
19 and drinking their beer without their permission. Id. The defendant, thereafter, left the pizza
20 parlor and was observed by the Millers to burglarize several automobiles. Id. The trial court
21 allowed into evidence testimony that the defendant had helped himself to the Millers’ pizza
22 and beer even though the defendant had not been charged with that conduct. Id. The Nevada
23 Supreme Court ruled that this evidence was admissible in that it bore on the identification of 24 Brackeen by the Millers, and:

25           Additionally, the description of Brackeen’s pilfering was admissible
26 as an integral part of the Millers’ narration of the events leading up to 27 Brackeen’s removal of the personal property from the vehicles in the 28 parking lot. We have adopted the rule that the State is entitled to present a full and accurate account of the circumstances surrounding the commission of a crime, and such evidence is admissible even if it

1           implicates the accused in the commission of other crimes for which
2           he has not been charged.

3           Apparent from the Nevada Supreme Court's holdings is the preference for permitting the State
4           to present a full and accurate picture of the offense charged.

5           Here, the State did not present impermissible character evidence to the grand jury, but 6           rather, presented such facts as part of the res gestae of the instant case. The complained of 7           instances wherein the State discussed the shooting with Detective Mauch served to 8           demonstrate to the grand jury why the detectives were interviewing the defendant, and why
9           they asked specifically about whether he had a firearm in his possession. Notably, the State
10          never once advised the Grand Jury of the facts surrounding the murder, or even the fact that 11          the Defendant was charged with murder, or even that the victim died as a result of a gunshot
12          wound inflicted by the Defendant. Rather, the State merely elicited very limited testimony to 13          demonstrate the circumstances for why the detectives had spoken with Defendant, and why
14          they were asking questions about his individual possession of the firearm. Because this 15          evidence was elicited as part of the complete story of the case and to give context to the facts
16          at hand, the State did not violate NRS 48.045.

17          Defendant further argues the State admitted character evidence when admitting 18          evidence that Defendant was dealing with other charges when detectives first contacted him
19          for an interview. Again, this is not character evidence, as the elements of those charges, the 20          nature of those charges, or the circumstances of his arrest were not discussed. The State is 21          obligated to present none but legal evidence to the grand jury, and that requires the State to lay
22          out facts to demonstrate a foundation for admission of the evidence – including facts
23          demonstrating Defendant was not in custody for the purposes of Miranda in order to admit his 24          statement. As such, this testimony was not impermissible character evidence and does not 25          warrant dismissal of the Indictment.

26               G. Even If This Court Finds The State Impermissibly Presented Improper
27               Evidence To The Grand Jury, This Court Nonetheless Should Not Grant
28               The Instant Petition Because The State Nevertheless Presented Sufficient Evidence To The Grand Jury.

1 Even if this Court finds the evidence admitted at the Grand Jury was improper, the 2 appropriate remedy is not, contrary to Defendants' position, to dismiss the Indictment in its
3 entirety. Rather, the remedy is to review the evidence without regard to any improper evidence
4 and determine whether there is sufficient probable cause. Robertson v. State, 84 Nev. 559, 445
5 P.2d 352 (1968).

6 Although the rules of evidence governing the presentation of a jury trial are generally
7 applicable to a grand jury proceeding, the Nevada Supreme Court has long recognized that the 8 nature of the proceeding and the fact that guilt is not at issue before the grand jury permits the 9 relaxation of the rules in order to accommodate the process. In Robertson, the Court stated
10 that regardless of the presentation of inadmissible testimony if there is the slightest sufficient 11 legal evidence and best in degree to support the indictment then the indictment will be 12 sustained. See also Franklin v. State, 89 Nev. 387, 513 P.2d 1256, wherein the Court stated:

13 The legal efficacy of an indictment will be sustained if there has been 14 presented to the grand jury the slightest sufficient legal evidence and 15 best in degree even though inadmissible evidence may also have been adduced . . .

16 Furthermore, as discussed above, in Sheriff v. Keeney, 106 Nev. 213, 791 P.2d 55
17 (1990), the Nevada Supreme Court specifically stated, "[p]reliminarily, we observe that 18 dismissal of an indictment on the basis of governmental misconduct is an extreme sanction
19 which should be infrequently utilized." Id. at 216, 791 P.2d at 57.

20 The evidence presented to the Grand Jury in this case far exceeds the State's burden to 21 present "slight or marginal" evidence that Defendants committed the crime alleged in the 22 Indictment. Here, Defendant readily admitted he had a firearm in his possession. He also 23 advised detectives where he was residing, and where the firearm could be located, even giving 24 consent for the search of the apartment. Thus, even if this Court finds the reference to the 25 shooting was improper, or the reference to Defendant's other charges was improper, when 26 striking that evidence and disregarding it, the State has nevertheless met its burden of 27 establishing probable cause for the crime charged.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated above, the State presented evidence sufficient to establish probable cause in this case, and did not violate its duties at the grand jury presentment. Accordingly, the State requests this Court to dismiss Defendant's Petition.

Attorney for Defendant

1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 1. Clarification of Facts

3 The State represents to this Court that the Defendant was “residing at [the Wyandotte
4 apartment] with his girlfriend and child.” State’s Return at 4, citing the Grand Jury Transcript
5 (“GJT”) at 11. This is not an accurate statement, as set forth in the Petition.

6 For clarity, the Defendant reiterates what was actually said to detectives (including the 7 detective who gave the false testimony before the grand jury):

8 Q1: And this address on Wyandotte, that’s your – that’s Tia’s place,
9 your girlfriend, baby mama. She’s only been here a couple days? And do
10 you – you weren’t living here. You – you just stayed here last night and that 11 was it.

12 A: Yeah.

13 See Petition, Ex. D at 45.<sup>1</sup>

14 The State’s assertion that the Defendant was residing at the Wyandotte address ignores
15 clear evidence to the contrary, the least of which is the Defendant’s own statement to the detectives
16 that it was not his residence. Despite a grand juror’s inquiry to determine if the address was the 17 primary residence of the Defendant, the State through Det. Mauch persisted in this misinformation.
18 “At that time I believe so, but they had just moved their recently.” See Petition, Ex. H at 13.

19 2. Legal Argument

20 The State’s argument that the justice court’s ruling is limited due to the lack of a 21 preliminary hearing ignores the common-sense outcome of such rulings. The State’s entire aim is 22 to circumvent a valid ruling of the justice court because it was adverse to the State- a quest that 23 continues to work significant prejudice on the Defendant.

28 <sup>1</sup>See also Petition Ex. A at 1 (noting Deandre Gathrite’s address as unknown).

1 Third, the issue of admissibility is not exclusive of the grand jury procedure. Here, the
2 State's evidence was considered by the justice of the peace pursuant to a timely and proper motion
3 filed by the Defendant, and that judge rendered a decision: the evidence is inadmissible. While the 4 State is basing its whole opposition on its apparently ability to move back and forth between justice
5 court and the grand jury at will, with no accountability as to any of the evidence it is presenting as 6 "legal" evidence despite a ruling to the contrary, this ignores the purpose of the two arenas that
7 the State seeks to straddle: a probable cause determination. Whether the State goes to justice court
8 or impanels a grand jury, the ultimate goal is the showing of probable cause sufficient to support
9 a formal charge or charges against a defendant.

10 With this purpose in mind, it is illogical to claim that evidentiary decisions made in one
11 arena do not (should not, cannot, etc.) impact the other. The intent can be inferred from the statute;
12 a prosecutor may only present legal evidence to a grand jury, it must present exculpatory evidence.
13 there are protections for the defendant that mirror some of the protections afforded in justice court,
14 etc. To claim that one arena exists completely independent of the other only makes sense if in fact
15 they are kept independent of the other. Once the State begins hopping from one proceeding to the 16 other, it should bear the burden of its prior missteps (such as having its evidence suppressed).

17 As stated in the underlying Petition, the obligation of a prosecutor to present none but legal 18 evidence to a grand jury typically is subject to retrospective analysis. The defendant in question is 19 provided with the grand jury transcript, the exhibits (sometimes), and other discovery to support
20 his seeking such a writ of habeas corpus upon the challenge that there was insufficient probable 21 cause to hold him to answer for the charges. This can, and often does, include challenges to the 22 admissibility of evidence that the State knew or should have known was not "legal" evidence-
23 things like hearsay, vouching, improper testimony (such as a witness testifying as an unqualified 24 expert), etc.

25 In this case, no such retrospective analysis is needed; a judge has already ruled the evidence
26 to be inadmissible and has suppressed it. The State fleeing from the justice court for the relative 27 unassuming and much more prosecutor-friendly venue of the grand jury is telling, as the grand

1 jurors are not convened to make qualitative determinations as to the admissibility or legality of
2 evidence, but merely the sufficiency and the weight of it for the purposes of a probable cause
3 determination.

4 B. The State's Intent to Circumvent the Justice Court's Ruling Is Evident from the State's
5 Efforts to Relitigate Admissibility Here

6 The State's proper avenue when confronted with an adverse ruling is not to seek greener
7 pastures, but to appeal the decision. NRS 177.015 is informative on this point. According to that 8 statute, the State when faced with an order suppressing the whole of its evidence was to appeal to 9 the district court. NRS 177.015(1)(a). See also NRS 189.120. To argue that the State can merely 10 dismiss its complaint against a defendant and then seek a more favorable forum elsewhere to evade
11 the inadmissibility of its evidence ignores common sense and sets an unhealthy precedent.

12 The support for this proposition comes from the State itself. "If the justice court's
13 interlocutory legal opinions were binding upon the grand jury, NRS 172.145 would be rendered
14 meaningless." State's Return at 11-12. By this logic, then the grand jury system cannot itself render 15 the justice court procedure meaningless- precisely what the State is attempting to do here by 16 claiming that the grand jury is the ultimate "do over" wherein it can present the same evidence
17 exclusive of the justice court's adverse ruling. This not only renders the justice courts ultimately 18 meaningless for probable cause determinations, it is the State outright admitting that it will forum
19 shop to get the result it wants (if the State loses, for whatever reason, it will just go to the grand 20 jury where it has much more control over the proceedings).

21 Look no further than the State's subsection 'C' to its Return, seeking to relitigate the issue
22 of the Defendant's statement and its admissibility. The State already fought this battle and lost; the 23 justice court heard all of the State's extensively cut-and-paste argument that it now recycles for its 24 Return, and ruled against it. Rather than be bound by that decision, the State went to the grand jury, 25 presented suppressed evidence to secure an indictment, and now seeks to re-litigate the issue for 26 its second bite at the apple.

1 The State's proper vehicle for this, as stated above and in the Petition, was to seek an appeal
2 pursuant to the statute.

3 And indeed, all of the State's points were argued, analyzed, and decided in the justice court.
4 The State argues that the Defendant's statement is admissible; that the Defendant was not in 5 custody; that the Defendant's statement was voluntary; and that the Defendant waived his Miranda
6 rights. Upon arguing all of these same points, nearly word-for-word, the justice court had the 7 following exchange with the State:

8 THE COURT: ...The standard is if he is in custody, he needs to 9 have his Miranda rights read before they interview him. It's not whether somebody feels better. That's not the way the Fifth Amendment works.

10 MS. OVERLY: No, I understand that, your Honor, and I think if the 11 detective believes he was, in fact, under custodial interrogation and in 12 custody with regards to this case, they would have read him Miranda, either
13 by card or memory, at the outset of the interview, but based on their position, it was the State's position in its Opposition was that he, in fact, was not.
They didn't feel the need to issue these Miranda warnings at the outset or throughout any point in time in the interview, as they didn't in Fields rather.

14 THE COURT: The interviews basically are voluntary. They are 15 always voluntary interactions with the police. You cited a case where the 16 guy's in prison, they bring him in the interview room, and he is free to leave.
He may have be [sic] in prison, but in prison, his cell is his home. So they say, You are free to leave. That means go back to your cell and just go back
17 to what is basically his home.

18 MS. OVERLY: Correct.

19 THE COURT: If he was free to leave, that means he was going
20 to be uncuffed, let out, put in a police car, go back to his apartment, make a sandwich, turn on the TV, and go on with his day or by free means he is going to be in handcuffs and put in the back of the car?

21 MS. OVERLY: Well, free to leave in the same respect as he was in Fields.
22 I mean like that's why the State believes it's analogous. In that case, they even indicated that he was free to leave and by that, they meant free to leave and go back to his cell.

23 THE COURT: His cell is his home.

24 MS. OVERLY: Correct.

25 THE COURT: Right. He's not free to go back to his home, right?

26 MS. OVERLY: No, he's not because of this active parole violation where he was going to independently go back to California, as he had been doing since 2014.

27 See Petition, Ex. F at 8-10.

1 The justice court expressed further dismay as the State persisted in its argument
2 and request for a hearing to develop the record before the court:

4 THE COURT: I'm not sure what issues there are to flush out. He's 5 clearly in custody. That was all triggered by Metro. That [sic] was set in 6 motion. They knew exactly what they were doing. They knew exactly what 7 they were doing. They wanted to get him in custody so they could interview
8 him on the murder case.

9 That is the only reason how this thing starts. It's the only reason to 10 contact San Diego. This is all a ruse. This is all a ruse by Metro to get him
11 in custody to interview him about the murder case. So he was in custody, and 12 when he is in custody, they should have read him his Miranda rights.
13 Id. at. 12.

14 The State obviously disagreed with the justice court's ruling (it sunk the State's case).
15 Rather than appeal, or even move for reconsideration, the State simply side-stepped the justice
16 court. It now argues that expecting it to respect the justice court's decision somehow undermines
17 the justice system in general, all while trying to ignore and circumvent that very same decision.

18 C. Substantial Prejudice Has Been Visited Upon the Defendant As a Result of the State's 19 Ongoing Procedural Gaffes

20 "In order to warrant dismissal of an indictment the defendant must show substantial
21 prejudice." State's Return at 23 (citing Sheriff v. Keeney, 106 Nev. 213, 216, 791 P.2d 55 (1990)).
22 The State goes on to cite that "substantial prejudice" means the "'reasonable probability' that the 23 outcome would have been different absent the misconduct."<sup>2</sup> State's Return at 23-24 (citing Lay v.
24 State, 110 Nev. 1198, 886 P.2d 448 (1994) (emphasis in original)).

25 The prejudice here is extreme, both in its effect and based upon the "reasonable probability"
26 that the grand jury would not have indicted. First, the Defendant has once more been arrested, and 27 is presently incarcerated. This means that the Defendant, this year along, has been arrested no less 28

<sup>2</sup> The State's misconduct is the subject of a contemporaneous Motion to Dismiss filed by the Defendant. The use here of "misconduct" comes directly from the State's Return and is quoted for the purposes of argument.

1 than three times while the State tries to figure out how to put on its case. The State first had the 2 Defendant arrested on an inactive California warrant after the State's agents (detectives) called
3 California authorities and requested the warrant be activated. The warrant was then turned over to
4 the Criminal Apprehension Team for fulfillment, and the Defendant was arrested on the state
5 charges out of California. This is also the arrest for which the State attempts to claim that the 6 Defendant was not in custody during his interrogation.

7       Following the Defendant's release on the aged California charges, the State then had the 8 Defendant arrested on a newly filed open murder count. This was, apparently, based on the 9 additional testimony of two witnesses that the State has since been unable to produce, either to 10 support its quest for probable cause or to fulfill discovery obligations to the defense. This was the 11 case that was dismissed in justice court once the State had its evidence suppressed.

12       Now, the Defendant languishes in Clark County Detention Center following his third arrest
13 on the same set of facts, and owing to the State's indictment in this case.

14       The prejudice is not only in the State's almost obsessive need to see the Defendant in jail;
15 it is in the utter disruption this has caused to the Defendant's life, his employment prospects, his 16 personal life with his girlfriend and children, etc.<sup>3</sup>

17       More importantly, however, is the "reasonable probability" analysis. Here, the State
18 presented previously suppressed evidence to the grand jury, with no mention of the court's 19 disposition and in knowing violation of various legal and ethical obligations that otherwise
20 prohibited it from doing so. Without going before a grand jury and presenting the Defendant's 21 statement and the firearm in question, it is reasonably probable that the grand jury would not have 22 indicted, if indeed any evidence was presented at all. When this evidence was suppressed in the 23 justice court, it was sufficient to move the State into dismissing its case. Therefore, it stands to

25
26
27 <sup>3</sup> Following the Defendant's third arrest, the Defendant's girlfriend and children were evicted from 28 their apartment due to their association with the Defendant.

1 reason that the State had, and has, no other evidence with which to support a probable cause
2 determination.

3 D. The State Fails to Show That DePalma's Testimony Was Excepted from Hearsay Under
4 "Effect Upon the Listener"

5 The State argues that because Det. DePalma was merely following orders, the statements
6 attributed to the Defendant as relayed through another declarant are permissible. This threatens to 7 become an exception that swallows the rule.

8 First, the statements were not elicited on testimony merely to show the "effect" upon Det.
9 DePalma (who could just as easily have testified that he searches the apartment and found the 10 weapon). Instead, the State deliberately questioned Det. DePalma as to supposed statements from 11 the Defendant—that he supposedly lived there, that the weapon was there, where it was, that he 12 consented to the search, etc.—so as to bolster the State's evidence as a means of further 13 undermining the justice court's suppression of that very same statement. Rather than ask why Det.
14 DePalma was searching the apartment (i.e. because he was instructed to, believed there to be 15 contraband, was serving a warrant, etc.), the State elicited hearsay testimony. The entirety of his 16 testimony cannot be said to fall entirely within the "effect upon the listener" exception. Were this 17 true, any prosecutor would simply need to ask why a witness did or believed something, and any 18 hearsay statement recollected for that purpose would arguably go to its "effect on the listener."

19 Second, Det. DePalma did not merely recount his actions as a result of what he apparently 20 heard; he adopted the statements wholesale. During the hearing, he testified as to what Metro (as 21 an organization) knew, had been told, had heard, etc.- not merely him. This adoption of the 22 Defendant's statements, as relayed through an intermediary (i.e. textbook hearsay), exempts Det.
23 DePalma from the "effect on the listener" exception. The statements were elicited specifically as 24 a means of introducing the Defendant's words into testimony.

25 Lastly as to this point, the State has failed to address the fact that the Defendant's apparent
26 statements constitute hearsay within hearsay. The "effect upon the listener" exception would only
27 apply to the statements of his fellow detectives and other colleagues. Instead, Det. DePalma

1 testified as to what someone else told him the Defendant had said, and therefore Det. DePalma
2 was not acting under the effects of the Defendant's own words, but what he had been told those 3 words were.

4 E. The State's Own Return Demonstrates That Its Directed, Intentional Effort to Elicit
5 Bad Acts Testimony Was Improper

6 The State claims that its focused examination of Det. Mauch was part of an effort to present
7 a complete story to the grand jurors, and therefore was not impermissible introduction of prior bad
8 acts. State's Return at 28. This argument must give way to the plain meaning of the charge
9 presented in the proposed indictment: possession of a firearm by a prohibited person. Ignoring, for 10 a moment, the plain wording of that charge, we turn to the elements necessary to prove such a 11 charge.

12 Ownership or possession of firearm by a prohibited person is covered under NRS 202.360.
13 It states, in relevant part, that "A person shall not own or have in his or her possession or under his 14 or her custody or control any firearm if the person" meets certain criteria that prohibit them from 15 having such ownership or possession of a firearm. Therefore, the two main concerns for a probable 16 cause determination are 1) did the defendant have in his possession a firearm?; and 2) was the 17 defendant prohibited from having in his possession a firearm? The inquiry ends there.

18 The State's claims that it was necessary to elicit additional testimony in order to present
19 some "complete story" ignores the reality of the charge- simple possession. For the purposes of 20 this type of charge, the simple act of having the firearm would constitute the offense. It is not 21 necessary to elicit purposefully testimony that a defendant had been arrested on another charge;
22 that a defendant had been arrested by a specialty team of officers tasked with serving warrants;
23 that a defendant was facing "other charges" in addition to the lone weapons charge at issue during 24 the instant grand jury proceedings; that the firearm in question had been fired recently; that the 25 firearm in question had been used in a homicide recently; and/or that a defendant had used the 26 firearm in a homicide recently.

1 The grand jury could have made a probable cause determination on the mere possession of 2 a firearm without additional, prejudicial information that tended to show the Defendant was 3 connected to other crimes, was already under arrest on unrelated charges, and that the weapon had
4 not only been fired recently, but that it had been fired by the Defendant as part of a homicide.<sup>4</sup> The 5 State also claims that it presented this extraneous information in as limited a manner as possible:
6 “Notably, the State never once advised the Grand Jury of the facts surrounding the murder, or even
7 the fact that Defendant was charged with murder, or even that the victim died as a result of a
8 gunshot wound inflicted by the Defendant.” State’s Return at 31. However, the transcript speaks 9 for itself.

10 One of the witnesses, Det. DePalma, testified that is a homicide detective; that he was 11 working in that capacity pursuant to this case; and that he was working the case alongside of the 12 other detective-witness who testified before the grand jury.<sup>5</sup> Based upon these associations, it is 13 not too questionable of a leap for the grand jurors to have inferred that the person shot with the 14 gun in question succumbed to his wounds (else homicide detectives would not be investigating).

15 Finally, this Court need look no further than the State’s efforts to excuse its failure to 16 present exculpatory evidence to see how disingenuous its res gestae argument is here.

17 When working down the defense’s Marcum letter in list fashion, the State disposes in rote
18 fashion of several requests.<sup>6</sup> For example, the State claims it had no obligation to show any gang
19 affiliation, criminal history, or drug sales by the shooting victim, “T-Rex,” because is it “irrelevant.”

23 <sup>4</sup> The Defendant is not conceding to any of these allegations, but merely summarizing the witness’s
24 testimony for illustrative purposes.

24 <sup>5</sup> See underlying Petition, Ex. G at 16-17.

25 <sup>6</sup> It should be noted the letter, sent to the State, was drafted in anticipation that the State would 26 proceed forward with both the Murder With Use of Deadly Weapon and the Possession of a
27 Firearm by Prohibited Person if their comatosed witness, Raymond Moore, had come to or they 28 acquired new legal evidence. If the State later chooses to go to the Grand Jury later for the Murder charge, as it eluded to at the Grand Jury Return Hearing, Gathrite will address those applicable issues in turn.

1 "tantamount to character evidence pursuant to NRS 48.045," and is "inadmissible character
2 evidence." State's Return at 25-26. This is, however, precisely in the same vein of the "evidence"
3 it impermissibly injected into the proceedings to taint the minds of the grand jurors against the 4 Defendant.

5 By eliciting testimony that the Defendant was already in custody on an unrelated manner,
6 the State was introducing evidence of prior criminal activity and what the State otherwise terms as
7 "inadmissible character evidence" (when it is someone other than the Defendant). By eliciting
8 testimony that the Defendant had used the gun in a shooting, the State was introducing evidence
9 of a potentially violent person- "inadmissible character evidence" that was not necessary to support
10 a simple weapons possession charge. By eliciting testimony that the Defendant had shot someone,
11 and that he has being investigated by homicide detectives, the State was introducing evidence of a 12 dangerous person who had killed someone with the very gun he was charged with possessing- not 13 just any gun, but a murder weapon.

14 The State cannot seek to hide behind evidentiary standards when it suits its case, while 15 simultaneously denying those protections to Defendant. The testimony was improper bad acts and 16 character evidence that poisoned the minds of the grand jurors.

18 CONCLUSION

19 Based on the foregoing, Petitioner prays for relief by issuance of a Writ of a Habeas Corpus.

2 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

3 1. Statement of Facts

4 Gathrite is charged by the State, by way of an Indictment filed on August 15, 2018, with 5 one count of Owning or possessing a gun by a prohibited person. A bit more context is necessary
6 for the court's edification. This case stems from the February 11, 2018 shooting death of a drug
7 dealer by the name of "T-Rex,"<sup>1</sup> at approximately 2612 S. Van Patten Street in Las Vegas, near 8 the intersection of E. Sahara Ave. and Joe Brown Dr. See Exhibit A – Officer's Report Continuation 9 at 1.<sup>2</sup>

10 It is difficult to follow Metro's investigation, as the Officer's Report states that "Subjects
11 in the area were reluctant to communicate with police and no witnesses provided formal statements.
12 Id. at 5. The Report goes on to say that "Gang Crimes Detectives developed information that a
13 black male from the neighborhood known as 'Dre' was responsible for the shooting," but it does
14 not detail how this information was developed given the above-cited reluctance and lack of formal
15 statements. Id. Even more fortuitously, "Patrol Investigation Detectives familiar with the area
16 provided information regarding the possible identity of 'Dre.'" Id.

17 "Dre" was, somehow, identified as Gathrite, and the Report also claims that he "was the 18 subject of several active criminal investigations." Id. Despite apparently being the subject of 19 "several active" investigations, on February 11, 2018 Gathrite did not have a warrant for his 20 arrest in Nevada or California. See Exhibit B - Declaration of Arrest for Fugitive Arrest
21 (emphasis added). The Officer's Report states that a records check was conducted but does not say
22 on what date this was conducted and what database was searched. Ex. A at 10. Nonetheless, it
23 was later disclosed that Homicide detectives contacted the Criminal Apprehension Team (CAT)
24 to locate Mr. Gathrite. See Exhibit C – Reporter's Transcript, Case No. 18F03565X, May 25, 2018,

28 <sup>2</sup> See concurrent filing for Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus for Exhibits A -I

1 p. 4-7. The CAT team contacted the Department of Parole in California and was able to procure
2 a warrant for Gathrite's arrest for a Parole Violation on February 14, 2018. See Exhibit B.

3 The Metro Criminal Apprehension Team (CAT) was tasked with locating Gathrite, and 4 tracked him to 2630 Wyandotte St., Apt. #1 in Las Vegas through his girlfriend's lease (Tia Kelly).
5 See Exhibit D – Email correspondence- April 11, 2018 from Sarah Overly. Gathrite was arrested
6 on the outstanding San Diego warrant on February 16, 2018 at approximately 1:24 p.m. See
7 Exhibit E- CAD LOG Event #180216-2092.

8 Following the CAT arrest, Metro Homicide detectives arrived at Wyandotte at 2:56 p.m.
9 and contacted Gathrite at the scene of his arrest and began to question him surreptitiously about 10 the T-Rex shooting. Ex. E at 1. This interview was only partially transcribed,<sup>3</sup> and is described as 11 a "post-Miranda" interview with Gathrite. Ex. A at 9. The Report goes on to summarize that the 12 interview resulted in Gathrite's statement that he fired at T-Rex, but "didn't know if he hit anyone".
13 Id. Gathrite further told the detectives the location of the gun used in the shooting. Id.

14 These details were not "post-Miranda," as the Report claims. In fact, the detectives also 15 misrepresented to Gathrite that he was free to leave at any time during the interview, despite this 16 interview taking place immediately following Gathrite's apprehension by CAT:

17 Q: Let me ask you this, man. 'Cause here's – here's the magic question,
18 man. I mean, I know they kinda run up. You ain't out looking for trouble,
19 you know, 'cause that ain't you 'cause I know all about your history. I know
20 all about what you, you know, we done done our research. You e- you feel
21 me? So, I mean, I know I ain't talking to some bad dude. That's why I came
22 in there and took the cuffs off of you, got you comfortable, and let you hug
23 your kid. Be cool with you. You – you feel me? 'Cause I know what kinda
24 p- I know what kinda person you are, man. So what I'm asking, man,
25 basically, what it boils down to is why'd you pull the trigger, man? What 26 happened? Walk me through it, man. Walk me through how it went down.

27 <sup>3</sup> Both the audio recording of Gathrite's questioning and the corresponding transcript clearly begin
28 partway through the interview (and both begin at the same point). The only discernable timeline is through the CAD Log of his arrest. Homicide detectives arrive at 2:56 p.m., and then Gathrite is not booked into CCDC until 6:18 p.m. Ex. E at p.1-2.

1 You know what I'm sayin'? So I can explain that. That's what I'm trying to
2 say 'cause I know that wasn't what – you didn't go lookin' for it.
3 Exhibit F – Transcribed Interview with Defendant at 3.

4 The detective continued to elicit details of the shooting from Gathrite:

5 Q: So what point in time did you pull yours out? I mean, 'cause he got they
6 shit out first, so at what point in time you pull yours out? Was it before or 7 after them?

8 A: Wasn't – wasn't before them.

9 Q: So it was after them.

10 A: Or I wouldn't have been able to be out there.

11 Q: Right. Exactly. So they got they's out, and at some point in time during 12 this whole talking that they goin' back and forth, at what point in time do
13 you pull yours out? It was, I mean, was it...

14 A: I don't know. It just – it just happened so fast.

15 Id. at 10.

16 It is clear that during this questioning Gathrite was not free to leave:

17 A: Can – can I smoke a cigarette? I'm just...

18 Q: You got a cigarette?

19 A: I do. My pack in on the counter in there [in the Wyandotte Apartment].
20 I...

21 Q: Uh...

22 Q1: Hey, you care if you have an old one? I got some old ones there
23 if that's okay. You just wanna step out [of the patrol car]?

24 A: Uh, yeah. I had just...

25 Q: I'll text my boy and have him go – I'll text him to have – you said it's 26 on the kitchen counter? All right.

27 Id. at 10-11.

28 Only after Gathrite had provided numerous, inculpatory details about the T-Rex shooting did detectives finally see fit to Mirandize him, on page 23 of the interview.

Eventually, Gathrite told detectives that the firearm used in the T-Rex shooting was located in an air vent inside of the Wyandotte apartment. Id. at 39. The detectives asked Gathrite for consent to enter the apartment to recover the weapon, on the premise that Gathrite had dominion and control over the apartment. Id. at 47. Gathrite was reluctant to allow this, and stated to detectives specifically that the apartment was not actually his residence. Id. at 40. The detectives even acknowledged that the apartment was not Gathrite's residence:

1 Q1: And this address on Wyandotte, that's your – that's Tia's place,
2 your girlfriend, baby mama. She's only been here a couple days? And do
3 you – you weren't living here. You – you just stayed here last night and that
4 was it.

A: Yeah.

Id. at 45.

5 Detectives ultimately recovered the firearm from the apartment, where Gathrite told them
6 it would be located (in an air conditioning vent). Once recovered, the detectives then applied
7 telephonically for a search warrant to search for additional evidence in the premises. The warrant
8 sought the following:

- 9 1. Paperwork such as rent receipts, utility bills, and addressed letters
10 showing the name(s) of persons residing at the premises. Paperwork
11 such as proof of insurance, DMV registration showing the name(s) of 12 persons owning or responsible for the vehicle(s).
- 13 4. Photographs, video and/or audio tapes, DVD or CD's, cellular phones,
14 Electronic Storage Devices such as lap or desk top computers, game
15 consoles, tablets and like items. To include pass or pattern codes for the 16 same.
- 17 5. Telephonic information to include; caller ID history, answering 18 machine messages, voicemails, phone directories, contacts, call history,
19 photographs, audio and/or video recordings stored electronically in 20 residential or cellular phones.
- 21 6. A thorough, microscopic examination and documentation of the crime
22 scene to discover trace evidence to include but not limited to:
23 fingerprints, blood, hair, fibers and bodily fluid samples.
- 24 10. Epithelial cells from the mouth of [Defendant's name and date of birth
25 are handwritten], to be collected via Buccal Swab.<sup>4</sup>
26 See Exhibit G – Search Warrant Application at 1.

27 In addition, the Warrant Application indicated that detectives would search for additional,
28 items that had been handwritten into the application: "Handguns and Ammunition"; "Cell phone off person of [Gathrite]"; and "Gang Paraphernalia [sic]". Id. The Application indicated the

<sup>4</sup> Line Items 2-3, and 7-9 contained additional items to be recovered, but these lines had been crossed out. See Ex. E at 1.

1 address of "2630 Wyandotte #1"- the apartment belonging to Gathrite's girlfriend. Id. The
2 Application was dated February 16, 2018 at 1735 hours (5:35 p.m.). Id.

3 No additional items were recovered from or in the apartment. Ex. A at 11.

4 Predictably, Gathrite was arrested following this chat with detectives (and despite having 5 been told multiple times that he was free to go) and booked into the jail on the California warrant.
6 Despite relinquishing his right to fight extradition, California never extradited Gathrite on the 7 parole violation warrant and he was released from custody on February 21, 2018.

8 Finally on February 26, 2018, Gathrite was arrested on the Murder with Use of a Deadly
9 Weapon and Ownership or Possession of Firearm By a Prohibited Person and charged under 10 Case#18F03565X before the Honorable Eric Goodman. Gathrite moved immediately for 11 suppression of his statement to police and suppression of the fruits of his statement due to law
12 enforcement's failure to Mirandize Gathrite.

13 On May 25, 2018, Gathrite's suppression motion came before Judge Goodman. Following 14 argument by undersigned counsel and the State, Judge Goodman ordered that the statement and 15 the handgun be suppressed due to Metro's failure to provide Miranda warnings to Gathrite prior 16 to his questioning:

17 THE COURT: So he was in custody and, when he is [in] custody,
18 they should have read him his Miranda Rights. They didn't, not until 28
19 pages into this.

20 They violated his rights. The fact it's a murder case doesn't matter to 21 me. It doesn't matter if he is caught with 20 pounds of weed or if it's a
22 murder case. They violated his rights.

23 Because they violated his rights when he was in custody, I'm going to 24 suppress his statement. Because the gun comes from the statements made
25 during the interview, I'm going to suppress the gun ... and that's going to
26 be this Court's ruling.

27 See Exhibit C – Reporter's Transcript, Case No. 18F03565X, May 25, 2018
28 at 12-13.

29 The State attempted to claim that Gathrite was not "in custody" pursuant to the murder
30 investigation, but merely for his parole violation warrant, and thus police did not need to Mirandize
31 him even as they sought incriminating statements from Gathrite:

1 THE COURT: ...The standard is if he is in custody, he needs to
2 have his Miranda rights read before they interview him. It's not whether
3 somebody feels better. That's not the way the Fifth Amendment works.

4 MS. OVERLY: No, I understand that, your Honor, and I think if the
5 detective believes he was, in fact, under custodial interrogation and in
6 custody with regards to this case, they would have read him Miranda, either
7 by card or memory, at the outset of the interview, but based on their position,
8 it was the State's position in its Opposition was that he, in fact, was not.
9 They didn't feel the need to issue these Miranda warnings at the outset or 10 throughout any point in time in the interview, as they didn't in Fields rather.

11 THE COURT: The interviews basically are voluntary. They are 12 always voluntary interactions with the police. You cited a case where the 13 guy's in prison, they bring him in the interview room, and he is free to leave.
14 He may have be [sic] in prison, but in prison, his cell is his home. So they
15 say, You are free to leave. That means go back to your cell and just go back
16 to what is basically his home.

17 MS. OVERLY: Correct.

18 THE COURT: If he was free to leave, that means he was going
19 to be uncuffed, let out, put in a police car, go back to his apartment, make a
20 sandwich, turn on the TV, and go on with his day or by free means he is 21 going to be in handcuffs and put in the back of the car?

22 MS. OVERLY: Well, free to leave in the same respect as he was in Fields.
23 I mean like that's why the State believes it's analogous. In that case, they
24 even indicated that he was free to leave and by that, they meant free to leave
25 and go back to his cell.

26 THE COURT: His cell is his home.

27 MS. OVERLY: Correct.

28 THE COURT: Right. He's not free to go back to his home, right?

MS. OVERLY: No, he's not because of this active parole violation where he was going to independently go back to California, as he had been doing since 2014.
Id. at 8-10.

1 Following the lower court's ruling, the State dismissed its case against Gathrite on June 29,
2 2018. However, the State then proceeded to the Grand Jury on August 15, 2018.

3 During the Grand Jury proceedings, the State called Det. Gerry Mauch of Metro's homicide
4 team. The testimony elicited from Det. Mauch was carefully styled to be in-line with the State's 5 position—previously rejected by Judge Goodman—that Gathrite was not “in custody” during 6 Mauch's interrogation because Gathrite had been arrested on a seemingly unrelated parole
7 violation:

8 Q: And was he [Gathrite] the individual who answered the door?

9 A: He was already inside the apartment with other detectives from our criminal apprehension team.

10 Q: Now did you get a chance to sit down and talk with Mr. Gathrite?

11 A: Yes, I did.

12 Q: And when you did, was he in custody pursuant to the investigation you were pursuing?

13 A: To our specific investigation, no. There were some other charges that he was dealing with at the time.

14 Q: So he was technically in custody, just not pursuant to your investigation?

15 A: Correct.

16 *See Exhibit H – Transcript of Grand Jury Proceedings, GJ No. 18AGJ044X,
August 14, 2018 at 8.*

17 The State continued to elicit testimony from Det. Mauch regarding Gathrite's statements
18 given during the interrogation, despite the lower court's ruling that the statement in its entirety be 19 suppressed. The State continued to elicit testimony from Det. Mauch regarding the discovery and 20 seizure of the firearm, despite the lower court's ruling that the fruits of Gathrite's statement—the 21 firearm—be suppressed.

22 The State then called Det. Philip DePalma, the detective who actually recovered the firearm.
23 Det. DePalma's testimony indicated that the firearm was located inside of an apartment behind a
24 secured ventilation grate in the residence:

25 Q: Now did you assist with the search and recovery of that firearm?

26 A: Yes, I did.

27 Q: What did you find?

28 A: I was instructed that the firearm was inside a[n] air conditioning vent, the intake. I took off the grate – it was photographed first, it was in the

1 hallway to the apartment. I assisted in taking off a couple of the screws to
2 the vent, I removed that and behind that metal grate was a filter. I removed
3 the filter, put it off to the side and inside the big duct work so to speak was
4 a revolver. Firearm. Handgun.
5 Id. at 18.

6 Furthermore, Det. DePalma confirmed that this firearm was not discoverable through
7 ordinary observation:

8 Q: And again would that firearm have been observed by the naked eye
9 walking in the apartment?

10 A: No.

11 Q: So you would have had to remove the duct and the filter?

12 A: I removed the actual metal grate and then behind that was the actual air
13 conditioning filter, so you couldn't see it from the naked eye, no.

14 Id. at 19.

15 Prior to the Grand Jury proceedings, undersigned counsel received a Notice of Intent to 16 Seek Indictment on June 19, 2018. In response, defense counsel sent via U.S. mail to the State on
17 June 21, 2018, care of Ms. Overly, a letter pursuant to Sheriff v. Marcum, 105 Nev. 824 (1989)
18 (the "Marcum Letter"). See Exhibit I – Marcum Letter, June 21, 2018 (enclosures omitted). The 19 Marcum Letter requested that the defense be informed "of the date, time, and place of the 20 scheduled Grand Jury proceeding," and provided multiple means of providing such information to 21 undersigned counsel; additionally "that the State comply with its duty under NRS 172.145(2) and
22 present any and all exculpatory evidence the State is aware of to the Grand Jury including but not
23 limited to" the Reporter's Transcript of the lower court's hearing wherein the suppression matter
24 was argued and decided, as well as additional information and evidence; and that any additional 25 exculpatory evidence not known or heretofore provided to the defense was presented to the Grand
26 Jury in accordance with statutory directives.

27 The defense was never provided with a notice of the date, time, and location of the Grand
28 Jury proceeding, and no such exculpatory evidence was presented to the Grand Jury.

1     2.     Legal Argument

2             This case is a clear example of prosecution not for prosecution's sake, but out of some
3 errant desire to punish the Defendant for perceived wrongs. Unfortunately, the State's fascination
4 with the Defendant in this case has resulted in the State disregarding the prior order of the Justice
5 Court, circumventing the Defendant's due process rights, and pursuing a vendetta against the 6 Defendant in a way that compromises not only the integrity of the District Attorney's office, but 7 the legal profession as a whole.

8         A.   Legal Standard

9             As stated above, this case was previously brought by way of a Complaint filed in Justice
10 Court under case #18F03565X, the Hon. Eric Goodman presiding. The Justice Court heard and 11 decided a suppression motion brought by the Defendant as part of the preliminary proceedings in 12 that matter.

13            The ability of a Justice Court to hear and to decide suppression motions similar to the one
14 in this case has been recognized and affirmed by the Nevada Supreme Court in the recent decision
15 Grace v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court of Nev., 375 P.3d 1017, 132 Nev. Adv. Op. 51 (Nev. 2016).
16 That case—which originated from Judge Goodman's court—considered “whether Nevada's
17 justice courts are authorized to rule on motions to suppress during preliminary hearings.” 375 P.3d 18 at 1018. The Court held that “the justice courts have express and limited inherent authority to 19 suppress illegally obtained evidence during preliminary hearings.” Id.

20            Specifically, the Court based its decision on the concept that “the evidence presented at a
21 preliminary hearing ‘must consist of legal, competent evidence,’” and “[t]herefore, justice courts’
22 authority to make probable cause determinations includes a limited inherent authority to suppress
23 illegally obtained evidence.” Id. at 1021 (citation omitted).

24            The Nevada Supreme Court has not only taken a dim view of prosecutors ignoring a court's
25 rulings, it has actively admonished prosecutors for doing so. In the case of McGuire v. State, 100
26 Nev. 153 (1984), the prosecutor made several disparaging remarks about both the defendants and 27 defense counsel. Id. at 156-57. The court termed the misconduct as a “contemptuous and blatant

1 disregard for the trial court's rulings." Id. at 157. In a harsh and criticizing rebuke of the 2 prosecutorial misconduct in the McGuire case, the court announced multiple policy-based reasons
3 for ensuring prosecutors conducted their duty in an ethical manner:

4       We view with grave concern the staggering cost to the taxpayer of financing
5 our criminal justice system. Of equal concern to this court is the trauma to 6 which victims of crime must be resubjected when a new trial is required.
7 We accordingly approach with great sensitivity the prospect of reversing
8 the verdicts of citizens who have been impaneled as jurors to sit in judgment
9 of the guilt or innocence of an accused. It has nevertheless been the solemn 10 responsibility of appellate courts to safeguard the fundamental right of 11 every person accused of criminal behavior to a fair trial, basically free of 12 prejudicial error. This is but a reflection of the high value our nation and 13 state place on an individual life, and the right of each citizen to liberty and 14 their lawful pursuit of happiness. It is the obligation of government to 15 vouchsafe to its citizens a continuing respect for these values. We therefore 16 conclude that it is an intolerable affront to the criminal justice system, the 17 state and its citizens that the type of egregious conduct outline in part in this 18 opinion be allowed to occur in our courtrooms. The waste and diversion of 19 limited judicial and human resources are but some of the inevitable
20 consequences of such behavior. Another is the danger that youthful 21 prosecutors may, in their zeal to learn, be persuaded that emulation and 22 perpetuation of such conduct may be both effective and acceptable. These 23 and other consequences not discussed herein must be foreclosed or at least 24 minimized.

25 Id. at 158-59.

26       The Nevada Supreme Court has considered numerous cases of alleged prosecutorial
27 misconduct, across a range of activity falling under the term. When considering prosecutorial
28 misconduct, the court employs a two-step analysis. Valdez v. State, 196 P.3d 465, 476 (Nev. 2008).
The first step of the analysis is to determine if the prosecutor's conduct was improper. Id. If the conduct was indeed improper, then the court determines whether the conduct warrants a remedy.
Id. Where the remedy requested is dismissal of an indictment, the court will determine if the alleged prosecutorial misconduct substantially prejudiced the defendant, such that it resulted in basic unfairness that violated the defendant's right to due process. Sheriff, Clark County v. Keeney, 791 P.2d 55, 57, 106 Nev. 213, 216 (Nev. 1990). In Nevada, "the dismissal of an indictment serves equally well to eliminate prejudice to a defendant and to curb the prosecutorial excesses of

1 a District Attorney or his staff.” 791 P.2d at 57, 106 Nev. at 217 (quoting State v. Babayan, 106
2 Nev. 155, 171, 787 P.2d 805, 818 (1990)). “Dismissal with prejudice is warranted when the
3 evidence against a defendant is irrevocably tainted or the defendant’s case on the merits is 4 prejudiced to the extent ‘that notions of due process and fundamental fairness would preclude
5 reindictment.’” Keeney, 791 P.2d at 57, 106 Nev. at 217 (quoting Babayan, 106 Nev. at 171, 787
6 P.2d at 818).

7 B. The State committed prosecutorial misconduct when it completely ignored the Justice
8 Court’s ruling and presented the same evidence to the Grand Jury.

9 Most egregiously, the State presented to the Grand Jury evidence that had already been 10 ruled as inadmissible. The State’s entire probable cause pitch to the Grand Jury in this case was 11 predicated on the statements made by the Defendant during his improper and un-Mirandized
12 interrogation by two Metro detectives, and the eventual discovery (based on these statements) of 13 a firearm. As demonstrated from the record above, the admissibility of not only the Defendant’s 14 statements, but of the gun itself (as a fruit of those statements) was litigated and ruled upon by the 15 Justice Court in no uncertain terms.

16 The Nevada Rules of Professional Conduct (NRPC) set forth special considerations for 17 prosecutors. Rule 3.8 – Special Responsibilities of a Prosecutor – requires that a prosecutor
18 “Refrain from prosecuting a charge that the prosecutor knows is not supported by probable cause.”
19 NRPC, Rule 3.8(a). Furthermore, the State may only present to a grand jury “none but legal 20 evidence, and the best evidence in degree, to the exclusion of hearsay or secondary evidence.” NRS
21 172.135(2). Additionally NRS 179.085(2) bars the introduction of evidence in any hearing or trial,
22 if the evidence was acquired as the product of a warrantless search, unsupported by probable cause,
23 a defective warrant or was illegally executed.

24 Here, the State ignored both of its duties- first, by pursuing a charge against the Defendant
25 that it knew was not supported by probable cause; and second, by submitting improper evidence
26 to the Grand Jury. With regard to probable cause, the State is pursuing a charge that was already 27 dismissed in the lower court as a direct result of that court’s suppression of both the Defendant’s
28

1 statement and the recovered firearm (as a fruit of the statement). This would require some other
2 evidentiary basis to proceed, such as an independent witness, admissible statements by the 3 Defendant, etc. The State produced no such evidence, and instead chose to rely upon evidence that
4 a court of competent jurisdiction has already ruled as inadmissible and suppressed- thus the State
5 is knowingly and willfully putting improper evidence before the Grand Jury for a probable cause
6 determination.

7 The fact that this evidence has been suppressed renders it "irrevocably tainted" and thus
8 dismissal of the indictment, with prejudice, is the appropriate remedy in this case. The evidence
9 never should have been presented, and never should have been received or considered by the grand
10 jurors. Furthermore, as the State did not present any additional or independent evidence beyond
11 what was already suppressed, it is undeniable that the Grand Jury's probable cause determination
12 was based solely on this tainted evidence.

13 The statutory duty to present only legal evidence to a grand jury is, in most cases, a 14 retrospective analysis. As the grand jury proceedings are closed to the defense (beyond the 15 inclusion of exculpatory evidence and possibly the defendant's choosing to testify), the first 16 impression as to the legality of evidence presented to the grand jurors is typically after-the-fact.
17 Here, however, we have the benefit of a prior determination as to the legality of the evidence
18 presented- the Justice Court ruled that the evidence was inadmissible. To permit the State to 19 proceed to a grand jury, armed and forewarned that the evidence it intended to present was 20 inadmissible, is to undermine the purpose and authority of the Justice Court (authority that the 21 Nevada Supreme Court has affirmed is "express" and "inherent").

22 And then there are the important policy bases to consider (enumerated in the McGuire case, 23 above). Specifically, actions such as those the State has engaged in here violate almost every one 24 of those policy bases announced in McGuire.

25 First, the State's actions here have incurred a "staggering cost to the taxpayer" of financing
26 not only an untenable Justice Court action by way of the initial criminal complaint, but in the 27 impaneling of grand jurors, the use of court resources for a grand jury hearing, the use of

1 prosecutor's time, and the use of two Metro detectives' time to testify, to say nothing of the costs
2 of appointed defense counsel in fighting this frivolous, vindictive action. Second, this court is now
3 faced with the prospect "of reversing the [determination] of citizens who have been impaneled as 4 [grand] jurors" to make a probable cause determination in this case. Third, this case is clearly one
5 of prejudicial error in that the State is proceeding on an unsustainable path of introducing
6 inadmissible evidence to a grand jury, and concealing the prior court's ruling. Fourth, this whole
7 indictment represents a "waste and diversion of limited judicial and human resources"- all for the 8 potential prosecution of a weapons charge, with a potential "victory" for the State of a 9 probationable offense.

10 Lastly, and perhaps most importantly, there is a danger that other "youthful prosecutors, in 11 their zeal to learn, [may] be persuaded that emulation and perpetuation of such conduct may be 12 both effective and acceptable." The conduct here is that if, as a prosecutor, you are unhappy with 13 the Justice Court's ruling, you can simply "forum shop" via the grand jury and indictment process,
14 even if you present the same evidence that was ruled inadmissible in the lower court.

15 The State ignored the Justice Court's ruling and attempted to circumvent that court's 16 findings by submitting suppressed evidence to the Grand Jury. This conduct was clearly improper,
17 and in violation of the State's special duties as a prosecutor, as well as the State's obligation to 18 present only legal evidence to a Grand Jury. Based on the prevailing case law, as well as the policy
19 considerations set forth by the Nevada Supreme Court, dismissal of the Indictment, with prejudice,
20 is the appropriate remedy.

21 C. The State introduced improper, uncharged, prior bad acts into the Grand Jury proceedings, 22 and prejudiced the Defendant.

23 During the Grand Jury proceedings, the State elicited testimony from a witness, Det.
24 Mauch, that the Defendant had been allegedly committed a prior shooting, and that the Defendant
25 was facing other charges. None of this testimony was relevant to the State's sole count in the 26 proposed Indictment of Ownership or Possession of Firearm By a Prohibited Person. The mentions 27
28

1 of Defendant's alleged conduct and other, extraneous charges was misconduct, and unfairly
2 prejudiced the Grand Jury.

3 "Reference to a defendant's prior criminal history may be reversible error." Collman v.
4 State, 7 P.3d 426, 437 (Nev. 2000) (citing Witherow v. State, 104 Nev. 721, 724, 765 P.2d 1153,
5 1155 (1988)). "The test for determining if such a reference occurred is whether the jury could
6 reasonably infer from the evidence presented that the defendant had engaged in prior criminal 7 activity." Id.

8 In Collman, a State's witness testified that the defendant had previously been in jail. Id. at 9 438. In an exchange after the testimony, and outside the presence of the jury, the witness told the 10 court that the disclosure had been inadvertent, and furthermore that the prosecution had coached 11 the witness prior to testimony not to reveal that the defendant had previously been in jail. Id. The 12 district court denied a motion for mistrial, finding that the "slips" in testimony were in fact
13 inadvertent, and that the jury could easily have inferred that the defendant was in jail due to the 14 case at bar. Id. This ruling was upheld on appeal, with the court finding that although the references
15 and remarks improperly referred to the defendant's prior criminal history, the remarks were not 16 elicited by the prosecutor and were made by an inexperienced witness. Id.

17 The Collman facts are significantly different from the instant matter, and amount to 18 improper tainting of the Grand Jury.

19 Here, the State was pursuing only one count from the outset of the grand jury proceedings:
20 an ex-felon in possession of a firearm charge. Accordingly, all testimony should have been 21 limited to the elements and circumstances of that charge. Instead, the State strategically and 22 repeatedly elicited testimony from a sophisticated, experienced detective as to other uncharged
23 bad acts alleged against the Defendant.

24 ///

25 ///

26 ///

1           Primarily, the State elicited testimony from Det. Mauch regarding the Defendant's alleged
2 possession of a firearm:

3           Q: And did he [Gathrite] indicate if he possessed anything of interest to 4 Metro pursuant to that involvement?

5           A: Yes.

6           Q: What was that?

7           A: That was a I believe silver in color revolver.

8           Ex. G at 9.

9           For the State's single proposed count of an ex-felon in possession of a firearm, this
10 testimony arguably would have been sufficient.<sup>5</sup> Not content merely to establish the Defendant's
11 possession of a firearm, however, the State intentionally pressed the detective for additional,
12 extraneous, and prejudicial details about the firearm:

13           Q: And specifically what did he indicate about that revolver?

14           A: That he possessed it and it had been used in a shooting.

15           Id. at 9-10.

16           This statement, while unnecessary, may ultimately be benign in nature as the testimony
17 itself centers on the weapon and not the Defendant. The State was not done, though:

18           Q: And specifically did he indicate that he used it in a shooting?

19           A: Yes.

20           Q: When would that shooting have occurred?

21           A: It occurred, I believe it was February 11th.

22           Q: Of 2018?

23           A: Yeah, same year.

24           Id. at 10.

25           Rather than merely establish probable cause to believe that the Defendant was unlawfully
26 in possession of a firearm, the State asked multiple follow-up questions in order to introduce 27 improper character and propensity evidence, and to indicate to the Grand Jury that the Defendant
28

1 was a violent criminal. Furthermore, this testimony cannot possibly be said to have been
2 spontaneous testimony, as the detective was asked specific follow-up questions beyond what was 3 necessary to provide probable cause for the jurors. In fact, the State qualified the answers it was 4 seeking by asking the detective "And specifically..." and even asking for the date of this alleged 5 shooting. When the detective provided the month and day, the State took the additional step of 6 specifying the year of the shooting.

7 And yet the State still was not done with purposefully eliciting improper, prejudicial
8 testimony. Not content merely to connect the Defendant to an uncharged, recent shooting, the State
9 purposefully asked Det. Mauch questions designed to elicit testimony as to the Defendant's
10 supposed overall criminal character:

11 Q: Throughout that investigation did you have cause to make contact with 12 someone by the name of Deandre Gathrite?

13 A: Yes, I did.

14 Q: And specifically where did you make contact with him?

15 A: I was the address of 2630 Wyandotte Street, apartment number 1.

16 Q: And is that located here in Clark County?

17 A: Yes, it is.

18 Q: And where specifically did you make contact with him? Was it in that 19 unit or in the actual complex or where exactly?

20 A: It was in the actual apartment.

21 Q: Apartment number 1?

22 A: Yes.

23 Q: And was he the individual who answered the door?

24 A: He was already inside the apartment with other detectives from our
25 criminal apprehension team.

26 Q: Now did you get a chance to sit down and talk with Mr. Gathrite?

27 A: Yes, I did.

28 Q: And when you did, was he in custody pursuant to the investigation you were pursuing?

A: To our specific investigation, no. There were some other charges that he was dealing with at the time.

Id. at 7-8.

25 The initial questions as to the detective's contact with the Defendant should have been—
26 arguably were—sufficient. The remaining questions elicited responses that the Defendant was with 27 the criminal apprehension team; that the Defendant was in custody; and that the Defendant was

1 apparently "dealing with" some "other charges" in addition to Det. Mauch's investigation. Not
2 only is this information wholly extraneous to the State's sought-after single count of unlawful
3 possession of a firearm, it is prejudicial in that the Grand Jury is left with the impression of the 4 Defendant as someone who needed a special team to apprehend him, and someone who is the focus
5 of multiple criminal investigations.

6 Nor can the State hide behind the inexperience of its witness, as in the Collman case. Det.
7 Mauch, the witness that provided the testimony, testified to being a detective with Metro for 8 "Going on eight years." Id. at 7. While it is unclear how long the detective has been a police officer 9 overall, eight years as a detective is certainly substantial in and of itself with regard to 10 sophistication and experience testifying in court proceedings, regardless of how long Det. Mauch
11 was working as a patrolman.

12 The testimony regarding the Defendant's alleged involvement in a shooting was improper.
13 Distressingly, it was not a fleeting bit of spontaneous testimony, or an inadvertent "slip" of an
14 inexperienced witness. Rather, the testimony was the deliberate eliciting of prejudicial information
15 by the State, from a savvy, experienced detective, that had absolutely no bearing on the single 16 charge sought in the proposed Indictment. As such, eliciting this testimony impermissibly tainted
17 the Grand Jury and prejudiced the Defendant.

18 Accordingly, and as a result of the prosecutor's deliberate misconduct, the Indictment 19 should be dismissed with prejudice.

20 CONCLUSION

21 Based on the foregoing, Defendant prays for relief by way of a dismissal of the Indictment 22 against him.

23 DATED this 6th day of September, 2018.

1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 1. Statement of Facts

3 The Petitioner is charged by the State, by way of an Indictment filed on August 15, 2018,
4 with one count of Owning or possessing a gun by a prohibited person. A bit more context is
5 necessary for the court's edification. This case stems from the February 11, 2018 shooting death
6 of a drug dealer by the name of "T-Rex,"<sup>1</sup> at approximately 2612 S. Van Patten Street in Las Vegas,
7 near the intersection of E. Sahara Ave. and Joe Brown Dr. See Exhibit A – Officer's Report
8 Continuation at 1.

9 It is difficult to follow Metro's investigation, as the Officer's Report states that "Subjects
10 in the area were reluctant to communicate with police and no witnesses provided formal statements.
11 Id. at 5. The Report goes on to say that "Gang Crimes Detectives developed information that a
12 black male from the neighborhood known as 'Dre' was responsible for the shooting," but it does
13 not detail how this information was developed given the above-cited reluctance and lack of formal
14 statements. Id. Even more fortuitously, "Patrol Investigation Detectives familiar with the area
15 provided information regarding the possible identity of 'Dre.'" Id.

16 "Dre" was, somehow, identified as the Petitioner, and the Report also claims that he "was 17 the subject of several active criminal investigations." Id. Despite apparently being the subject of 18 "several active" investigations, on February 11, 2018 the Petitioner did not have a warrant for his 19 arrest in Nevada or California. See Exhibit B - Declaration of Arrest for Fugitive Arrest. The 20 Officer's Report states that a records check was conducted but does not say on what date this was 21 conducted and what database was searched. Ex. A at 10. Nonetheless, it was later disclosed that 22 Homicide detectives contacted the Criminal Apprehension Team (CAT) to locate Mr. Gathrite.
23 See Exhibit C – Reporter's Transcript, Case No. 18F03565X, May 25, 2018, p. 4-7. The CAT

1 team contacted the Department of Parole in California and was able to procure a warrant for 2 Gathrite's arrest for a Parole Violation on February 14, 2018. See Exhibit B.

3 The Metro Criminal Apprehension Team (CAT) was tasked with locating the Petitioner,
4 and tracked him to 2630 Wyandotte St., Apt. #1 in Las Vegas through his girlfriend's lease (Tia
5 Kelly). See Exhibit D – Email correspondence- April 11, 2018 from Sarah Overly. The Petitioner
6 was arrested on the outstanding San Diego warrant on February 16, 2018 at approximately 1:24
7 p.m. See Exhibit E- CAD LOG Event #180216-2092.

8 Following the CAT arrest, Metro Homicide detectives arrived at Wyandotte at 2:56 p.m.
9 and contacted the Petitioner at the scene of his arrest and began to question him surreptitiously
10 about the T-Rex shooting. Ex. E at 1. This interview was only partially transcribed,<sup>2</sup> and is 11 described as a "post-Miranda" interview with the Petitioner. Ex. A at 9. The Report goes on to 12 summarize that the interview resulted in the Petitioner's statement that he fired at T-Rex, but
13 "didn't know if he hit anyone". Id. The Petitioner further told the detectives the location of the gun
14 used in the shooting. Id.

15 These details were not "post-Miranda," as the Report claims. In fact, the detectives also 16 misrepresented to the Petitioner that he was free to leave at any time during the interview, despite 17 this interview taking place immediately following the Petitioner's apprehension by CAT:

18 Q: Let me ask you this, man. 'Cause here's – here's the magic question,
19 man. I mean, I know they kinda run up. You ain't out looking for trouble,
20 you know, 'cause that ain't you 'cause I know all about your history. I know
21 all about what you, you know, we done done our research. You e- you feel
22 me? So, I mean, I know I ain't talking to some bad dude. That's why I came
23 in there and took the cuffs off of you, got you comfortable, and let you hug
24 your kid. Be cool with you. You – you feel me? 'Cause I know what kinda
25 p- I know what kinda person you are, man. So what I'm asking, man, 26 basically, what it boils down to is why'd you pull the trigger, man? What

---

27 <sup>2</sup> Both the audio recording of the Petitioner's questioning and the corresponding transcript clearly 28 begin partway through the interview (and both begin at the same point). The only discernable timeline is through the CAD Log of his arrest. Homicide detectives arrive at 2:56 p.m., and then Gathrite is not booked into CCDC until 6:18 p.m. Ex. E at p.1-2.

1 happened? Walk me through it, man. Walk me through how it went down.
2 You know what I'm sayin'? So I can explain that. That's what I'm trying to
3 say 'cause I know that wasn't what – you didn't go lookin' for it.

5 The detective continued to elicit details of the shooting from the Petitioner:

6 Q: So what point in time did you pull yours out? I mean, 'cause he got they
7 shit out first, so at what point in time you pull yours out? Was it before or 8 after them?

A: Wasn't – wasn't before them.

Q: So it was after them.

A: Or I wouldn't have been able to be out there.

9 Q: Right. Exactly. So they got they's out, and at some point in time during
10 this whole talking that they goin' back and forth, at what point in time do
11 you pull yours out? It was, I mean, was it...

A: I don't know. It just – it just happened so fast.

Id. at 10.

13 It is clear that during this questioning the Petitioner was not free to leave:

14 A: Can – can I smoke a cigarette? I'm just...

Q: You got a cigarette?

15 A: I do. My pack in on the counter in there [in the Wyandotte Apartment].
16 I...

Q: Uh...

17 Q1: Hey, you care if you have an old one? I got some old ones there
18 if that's okay. You just wanna step out [of the patrol car]?

A: Uh, yeah. I had just...

19 Q: I'll text my boy and have him go – I'll text him to have – you said it's 20 on the kitchen counter? All right.

Id. at 10-11.

21 Only after the Petitioner had provided numerous, inculpatory details about the T-Rex
22 shooting did detectives finally see fit to Mirandize him, on page 23 of the interview.

23 Eventually, the Petitioner told detectives that the firearm used in the T-Rex shooting was 24 located in an air vent inside of the Wyandotte apartment. Id. at 39. The detectives asked the 25 Petitioner for consent to enter the apartment to recover the weapon, on the premise that the 26 Petitioner had dominion and control over the apartment. Id. at 47. The Petitioner was reluctant to 27
28

1 allow this, and stated to detectives specifically that the apartment was not actually his residence.

2 Id. at 40. The detectives even acknowledged that the apartment was not the Petitioner's residence.

3 Q1: And this address on Wyandotte, that's your – that's Tia's place,
4 your girlfriend, baby mama. She's only been here a couple days? And do
5 you – you weren't living here. You – you just stayed here last night and that 6 was it.

A: Yeah.

Id. at 45.

7 Detectives ultimately recovered the firearm from the apartment, where the Petitioner told
8 them it would be located (in an air conditioning vent). Once recovered, the detectives then applied
9 telephonically for a search warrant to search for additional evidence in the premises. The warrant
10 sought the following:

- 11 1. Paperwork such as rent receipts, utility bills, and addressed letters
12 showing the name(s) of persons residing at the premises. Paperwork
13 such as proof of insurance, DMV registration showing the name(s) of 14 persons owning or responsible for the vehicle(s).
- 15 4. Photographs, video and/or audio tapes, DVD or CD's, cellular phones,
16 Electronic Storage Devices such as lap or desk top computers, game
17 consoles, tablets and like items. To include pass or pattern codes for the 18 same.
- 19 5. Telephonic information to include; caller ID history, answering 20 machine messages, voicemails, phone directories, contacts, call history,
21 photographs, audio and/or video recordings stored electronically in 22 residential or cellular phones.
- 23 6. A thorough, microscopic examination and documentation of the crime
24 scene to discover trace evidence to include but not limited to:
25 fingerprints, blood, hair, fibers and bodily fluid samples.
- 26 10. Epithelial cells from the mouth of [Defendant's name and date of birth
27 are handwritten], to be collected via Buccal Swab.<sup>3</sup>
28 See Exhibit G – Search Warrant Application at 1.

23 In addition, the Warrant Application indicated that detectives would search for additional
24 items that had been handwritten into the application: "Handguns and Ammunition"; "Cell phone

27 <sup>3</sup> Line Items 2-3, and 7-9 contained additional items to be recovered, but these lines had been
28 crossed out. See Ex. E at 1.

1 off person of [Petitioner]"; and "Gang Paraphernalia [sic]". Id. The Application indicated the 2 address of "2630 Wyandotte #1"- the apartment belonging to the Petitioner's girlfriend. Id. The
3 Application was dated February 16, 2018 at 1735 hours (5:35 p.m.). Id.

4 No additional items were recovered from or in the apartment. Ex. A at 11.

5 Predictably, the Petitioner was arrested following this chat with detectives (and despite 6 having been told multiple times that he was free to go) and booked into the jail on the California
7 warrant. Despite relinquishing his right to fight extradition, California never extradited Gathrite
8 on the parole violation warrant and he was released from custody on February 21, 2018.

9 Finally on February 26, 2018, Petitioner was arrested on the Murder with Use of a Deadly
10 Weapon and Ownership or Possession of Firearm By a Prohibited Person and charged under 11 Case#18F03565X before the Honorable Eric Goodman. The Petitioner moved immediately for 12 suppression of his statement to police and suppression of the fruits of his statement due to law
13 enforcement's failure to Mirandize the Petitioner.

14 On May 25, 2018, the Petitioner's suppression motion came before Judge Goodman.
15 Following argument by undersigned counsel and the State, Judge Goodman ordered that the 16 statement and the handgun be suppressed due to Metro's failure to provide Miranda warnings to 17 the Petitioner prior to his questioning:

18 THE COURT: So he was in custody and, when he is [in] custody,
19 they should have read him his Miranda Rights. They didn't, not until 28
20 pages into this.

21 They violated his rights. The fact it's a murder case doesn't matter to 22 me. It doesn't matter if he is caught with 20 pounds of weed or if it's a
23 murder case. They violated his rights.

24 Because they violated his rights when he was in custody, I'm going to
25 suppress his statement. Because the gun comes from the statements made
26 during the interview, I'm going to suppress the gun ... and that's going to
27 be this Court's ruling.

28 See Exhibit C – Reporter's Transcript, Case No. 18F03565X, May 25, 2018
at 12-13.

1           The State attempted to claim that the Petitioner was not "in custody" pursuant to the murder
2 investigation, but merely for his parole violation warrant, and thus police did not need to Mirandize
3 him even as they sought incriminating statements from the Petitioner:

4           THE COURT:           ...The standard is if he is in custody, he needs to
5 have his Miranda rights read before they interview him. It's not whether
6 somebody feels better. That's not the way the Fifth Amendment works.

7           MS. OVERLY:   No, I understand that, your Honor, and I think if the
8 detective believes he was, in fact, under custodial interrogation and in
9 custody with regards to this case, they would have read him Miranda, either
10 by card or memory, at the outset of the interview, but based on their position,
11 it was the State's position in its Opposition was that he, in fact, was not.
12 They didn't feel the need to issue these Miranda warnings at the outset or 13 throughout any point in time in the interview, as they didn't in Fields rather.

14          THE COURT:           The interviews basically are voluntary. They are 15 always voluntary interactions with the police. You cited a case where the 16 guy's in prison, they bring him in the interview room, and he is free to leave.
17 He may have be [sic] in prison, but in prison, his cell is his home. So they
18 say, You are free to leave. That means go back to your cell and just go back
19 to what is basically his home.

20          MS. OVERLY:   Correct.

21          THE COURT:           If he was free to leave, that means he was going
22 to be uncuffed, let out, put in a police car, go back to his apartment, make a
23 sandwich, turn on the TV, and go on with his day or by free means he is 24 going to be in handcuffs and put in the back of the car?

25          MS. OVERLY:   Well, free to leave in the same respect as he was in Fields.
26 I mean like that's why the State believes it's analogous. In that case, they
27 even indicated that he was free to leave and by that, they meant free to leave
28 and go back to his cell.

          THE COURT:           His cell is his home.

          MS. OVERLY:   Correct.

          THE COURT:           Right. He's not free to go back to his home, right?

          MS. OVERLY:   No, he's not because of this active parole violation where he was going to independently go back to California, as he had been doing since 2014.

Id. at 8-10.

24           Following the lower court's ruling, the State dismissed its case against the Petitioner on 25 June 29, 2018. However, the State then proceeded to the Grand Jury on August 15, 2018.

26           During the Grand Jury proceedings, the State called Det. Gerry Mauch of Metro's homicide
27 team. The testimony elicited from Det. Mauch was carefully styled to be in-line with the State's 28

1 position—previously rejected by Judge Goodman—that the Petitioner was not “in custody” during
2 Mauch’s interrogation because the Petitioner had been arrested on a seemingly unrelated parole
3 violation:

4 Q: And was he [the Petitioner] the individual who answered the door?

5 A: He was already inside the apartment with other detectives from our criminal apprehension team.

6 Q: Now did you get a chance to sit down and talk with Mr. Gathrite?

7 A: Yes, I did.

8 Q: And when you did, was he in custody pursuant to the investigation you were pursuing?

9 A: To our specific investigation, no. There were some other charges that he was dealing with at the time.

10 Q: So he was technically in custody, just not pursuant to your investigation?

11 A: Correct.

12 *See Exhibit H – Transcript of Grand Jury Proceedings, GJ No. 18AGJ044X,
August 14, 2018 at 8.*

13 The State continued to elicit testimony from Det. Mauch regarding the Petitioner’s 14 statements given during the interrogation, despite the lower court’s ruling that the statement in its 15 entirety be suppressed. The State continued to elicit testimony from Det. Mauch regarding the 16 discovery and seizure of the firearm, despite the lower court’s ruling that the fruits of the 17 Petitioner’s statement—the firearm—be suppressed.

18 The State then called Det. Philip DePalma, the detective who actually recovered the firearm.
19 Det. DePalma’s testimony indicated that the firearm was located inside of an apartment behind a
20 secured ventilation grate in the residence:

21 Q: Now did you assist with the search and recovery of that firearm?

22 A: Yes, I did.

23 Q: What did you find?

24 A: I was instructed that the firearm was inside a[n] air conditioning vent, the intake. I took off the grate – it was photographed first, it was in the hallway to the apartment. I assisted in taking off a couple of the screws to the vent, I removed that and behind that metal grate was a filter. I removed 25 the filter, put it off to the side and inside the big duct work so to speak was a revolver. Firearm. Handgun.

26 Id. at 18.

1 Furthermore, Det. DePalma confirmed that this firearm was not discoverable through
2 ordinary observation:

3 Q: And again would that firearm have been observed by the naked eye
4 walking in the apartment?

5 A: No.

6 Q: So you would have had to remove the duct and the filter?

7 A: I removed the actual metal grate and then behind that was the actual air
8 conditioning filter, so you couldn't see it from the naked eye, no.

9 Id. at 19.

10 Prior to the Grand Jury proceedings, undersigned counsel received a Notice of Intent to 11 Seek Indictment on June 19, 2018. In response, defense counsel sent via U.S. Mail to the State on
12 June 21, 2018, care of Ms. Overly, a letter pursuant to Sheriff v. Marcum, 105 Nev. 824 (1989)
13 (the "Marcum Letter"). See Exhibit I – Marcum Letter, June 21, 2018 (enclosures omitted). The 14 Marcum Letter requested that the defense be informed "of the date, time, and place of the 15 scheduled Grand Jury proceeding," and provided multiple means of providing such information to 16 undersigned counsel; additionally "that the State comply with its duty under NRS 172.145(2) and
17 present any and all exculpatory evidence the State is aware of to the Grand Jury including but not
18 limited to" the Reporter's Transcript of the lower court's hearing wherein the suppression matter
19 was argued and decided, as well as additional information and evidence; and that any additional 20 exculpatory evidence not known or heretofore provided to the defense was presented to the Grand
21 Jury in accordance with statutory directives.

22 The defense was never provided with a notice of the date, time, and location of the Grand
23 Jury proceeding, and no such exculpatory evidence was presented to the Grand Jury.

1           2.       Legal Argument

2           This case is a distressing example of prosecutorial misconduct<sup>4</sup> and selective presentation
3 of evidence in an effort to inconvenience (at best) or convict (at worst) the Petitioner despite 4 questionable law enforcement tactics and practices.

5           A.       Legal Standard

6           Since 1912, the Nevada courts have recognized that the Writ of Habeas Corpus is the plain,
7 speedy, and adequate remedy by which to determine the legal sufficiency of the evidence
8 supporting a Grand Jury Indictment. Shelby v. Sixth Judicial Dist. Court, 82 Nev. 204, 207, 414
9 P.2d 942 (1966); see also Eureka Bank Cases, 35 Nev. 80, 126 P. 655 (1912). It is fundamentally 10 unfair to require a defendant to stand trial unless he is committed upon a criminal charge with 11 reasonable or probable cause. Shelby, 82 Nev. at 207.

12           NRS 172.135 states the following:

13           1. In the investigation of a charge, for the purpose of either presentment or 14 indictment, the grand jury can receive no other evidence than such as is 15 given by witnesses produced and sworn before them or furnished by legal documentary evidence or by the deposition of witnesses taken as provided in this title, except that the grand jury may receive any of the following:

- 16           (a) An affidavit or declaration from an expert witness or other 17 person described in NRS 50.315 in lieu of personal testimony or a deposition.
18           (b) An affidavit of an owner, possessor or occupant of real or 19 personal property or other person described in NRS 172.137 in lieu of personal testimony or a deposition.

20           2. ... [T]he grand jury can receive none but legal evidence, and the best evidence in degree, to the exclusion of hearsay or secondary evidence. ...
21 NRS 172.135(1)-(2).

22           Thus the purpose of the Grand Jury process, and the function of the Writ of Habeas Corpus,
23 is to observe and to protect the rights of the accused, and to preserve his presumption of innocence.
24 "The purpose of the preliminary proceedings is to weed out groundless or unsupported charges of

26
27 <sup>4</sup> Defendant's argument concerning prosecutorial misconduct are fully developed in Gathrite's
28 Motion to Dismiss for Prosecutorial Misconduct.

1 grave offenses and to relieve the accused of the degradation and the expense of a criminal trial.
2 Many unjustifiable prosecutions are stopped at that point, where the lack of probable cause is 3 clearly disclosed.” State v. Von Brincken, 86 Nev. 769, 772 (1970).

4 Accordingly, the Grand Jury does not determine guilt or innocence, but needs only to have
5 before them legally sufficient evidence to establish probable cause. Franklin v. State, 89 Nev. 382,
6 388, 513 P.2d 1252, 1257 (1973), citing Kinsey v. Sheriff, 87 Nev. 361, 487 P.2d 340 (1971)
7 (emphasis added).

8 Furthermore, NRS 171.206 states, in pertinent part, the following:

9 If from the evidence it appears to the magistrate that there is probable cause
10 to believe that an offense has been committed and that the defendant has 11 committed it, the magistrate shall forthwith hold the defendant to answer in the district court; otherwise the magistrate shall discharge the defendant.

12 The probable cause necessary at a preliminary hearing has been defined as slight, even 13 marginal, evidence because it does not involve a determination of guilt or innocence of an accused.
14 Sheriff, Washoe County v. Dhadda, 980 P.2d 1062, 115 Nev. 175 (1999) (rehearing denied). The 15 Nevada Supreme Court (NSC) has held that although the State’s burden at the preliminary hearing
16 is “slight, it remains incumbent upon the State to produce some evidence” as to each of the State’s 17 burdens. Woodall v. Sheriff, 95 Nev. 218, 220 (1979); see also Marcum v. Sheriff, 85 Nev. 175, 18 178 (1969) (“The state must offer some competent evidence on those points to convince the 19 magistrate that a trial should be held”). If the State fails to meet its burden, “an accused is entitled 20 to be discharged from custody under a writ of habeas corpus.” State v. Plas, 80 Nev. 251, 252
21 (1964).

22 However, probable cause is not to be found in a vacuum. NRS 172.145(2) imposes a duty
23 upon the State to present any exculpatory evidence to a grand jury: “If the district attorney is aware 24 of any evidence which will explain away the charge, the district attorney shall submit it to the 25 grand jury.” This duty has been held by the Nevada Supreme Court to be “plain and unambiguous”.
26 Sheriff, Clark County v. Frank, 103 Nev. 160, 165, 734 P.2d 1241, 1244 (Nev., 1987). A violation 27 of this duty can also be found where the State “actively discouraged the grand jury from receiving 28

1 and exploring evidence” of an exculpatory nature. Id. Where ““a prosecutor refuses to present
2 exculpatory evidence, he, in effect, destroys the existence of an independent and informed grand
3 jury.”” Id., 734 P.2d at 1245 (citing United States v. Gold, 470 F.Supp. 1336, 1353 (N.D. Ill. 1979)).

4 A prosecutor “cannot act in a way that overlooks inherent prejudice to the person under 5 criminal investigation”. United States v. Gold, 470 F.Supp at 1346. This undermines the function
6 of the grand jury to “protect citizens from malicious prosecutions”, since it is “not given
7 information which is material to its determination.” Id. at 1353.

8 Lastly, a potential defendant to a Grand Jury proceeding “is entitled to submit a statement
9 which the grand jury must receive providing whether a preliminary hearing was held concerning 10 the matter and, if so, that the evidence presented at the preliminary hearing was considered
11 insufficient to warrant holding the defendant for trial.” NRS 172.145(1).

12 B. The State presented inadmissible evidence to the Grand Jury.

13 As set forth in NRS 172.135(2), “the grand jury can receive none but legal evidence.” Thus 14 any evidence that would not be admissible under an exception, or that has been rendered as 15 inadmissible, is improperly presented to a grand jury. NRS 179.085(2) is in accord with NRS
16 172.135 stating that if a motion to suppress is granted because the property was illegally seized
17 without warrant, the warrant is insufficient on its face, the warrant is without probable cause or the 18 warrant was illegally executed, then the property must not be admissible evidence at any hearing
19 or trial.<sup>5</sup> (Emphasis added).

20 First and foremost, the presentation of any evidence relating to, derived from, or otherwise
21 connected with, the Petitioner’s statement is a violation of NRS 172.135(2), as such evidence has 22 already been suppressed by the lower court. The ability of a Justice Court to hear and to decide
23 suppression motions similar to the one in this case has been recognized and affirmed by the Nevada
24 Supreme Court in the recent decision Grace v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court of Nev., 375 P.3d 1017.

26
27 <sup>5</sup>NRS 179.085 deals with Motions to Return Property and to Suppress Evidence. Petitioner is 28 not seeking return of the property seized.

1 132 Nev. Adv. Op. 51 (Nev. 2016). That case considered “whether Nevada’s justice courts are 2 authorized to rule on motions to suppress during preliminary hearings.” 375 P.3d at 1018. The
3 Court held that “the justice courts have express and limited inherent authority to suppress illegally
4 obtained evidence during preliminary hearings.” Id.

5 Specifically, the Court based its decision on the concept that “the evidence presented at a
6 preliminary hearing ‘must consist of legal, competent evidence,’” and “[t]herefore, justice courts’
7 authority to make probable cause determinations includes a limited inherent authority to suppress
8 illegally obtained evidence.” Id. at 1021 (citation omitted).

9 Second, the evidence presented to the Grand Jury was impermissible hearsay. NRS
10 172.135(2) states, in relevant part, that “the grand jury can receive none but legal evidence, and 11 the best evidence in degree, to the exclusion of hearsay or secondary evidence” (emphasis added).
12 Furthermore, NRS 172.135(2)(a)-(c) sets forth limits acceptable hearsay evidence to only the three
13 exceptions, none of which apply to this case, or this set of facts.<sup>6</sup>

14 Third, the State purposefully elicited impermissible and prejudicial bad acts evidence, in 15 violation of the Petitioner’s rights and NRS 172.135(2)’s requirement for only legal evidence.
16 Under NRS 48.045(2), “Evidence of other crimes, wrongs or acts is not admissible to prove the 17 character of a person in order to show that the person acted in conformity therewith.” Furthermore, 18 evidence, however relevant, is inadmissible “if its probative value is substantially outweighed by 19 the danger of unfair prejudice.” NRS 48.035(1).

20 21
22
23
24
25 <sup>6</sup>NRS 172.135(2)(a)-(c) (in relevant part) allows the following hearsay exceptions: (a) A sexual 26 offense committed against a child who is under the age of 16 years if the offense is punishable as 27 a felony; (b) Abuse of a child pursuant to NRS 200.508 if the offense is against a child who is 28 under 16, and the offense is punishable as a felony; and (c) An act which constitutes domestic violence pursuant to NRS 33.018, and which is punishable as a felony and resulted in substantial bodily harm to the alleged victim. None of these exceptions apply here.

- 1                   1. The Petitioner's statement, and the resulting firearm, had already been ruled
2                   inadmissible. The State's use of this evidence was not only improper, but it
3                   failed to notify the Grand Jury of the prior proceedings as well.

4                   Here, the primary point of contention with this Petition is that the State knowingly,
5                   intentionally presented inadmissible evidence when it allowed its witness, Det. Mauch, to testify
6                   as to the Petitioner's statement- a statement that had already been ruled by Judge Goodman as 7                   suppressed and therefore inadmissible. The State called Det. Mauch and immediately laid the 8                   foundation for his testimony as having been derived entirely from the Petitioner's statement
9                   received pursuant to his interrogation by Det. Mauch on February 16, 2018:

10                  Q: Now where is it that you spoke with Mr. Gathrite?

11                  A: We conducted the interview in my plain, unmarked vehicle.

12                  Q: And who was that interview conducted with?

13                  A: Myself and Detective Grimmett.

14                  Q: And you indicated that he was not in custody at that time?<sup>7</sup>

15                  A: Correct.

16                  Q: Did he agree to speak with you?

17                  A: Yes, he did.

18                  Q: And pursuant to that discussion, did you ask him questions about this 19                  separate investigation?

20                  A: Yes.

21                  Q: And did he reveal his involvement in that investigation?

22                  A: Yes, he did.

23                  Q: And did he indicate if he possessed anything of interest to Metro
24                  pursuant to that involvement?

25                  A: Yes.

26                  Q: What was that?

27                  A: That was a I believe silver in color revolver.

28                  Ex. H at 9.

29                         Nothing from Det. Mauch's testimony indicates that any evidence supporting the single 30                         charge in the Indictment stemmed from independent police work. Rather, the firearm is only 31                         attributed to the Petitioner by way of the Petitioner's statement- a statement, once again, that was

32                         <sup>7</sup> This question, and the Detective's response, is a gross misrepresentation of the situation, and flies
33                         in the face of Judge Goodman's ruling. It will be discussed further below.

1 ordered suppressed by the lower court, in full exercise of what the Nevada Supreme Court
2 described as the Justice Courts' "express and limited inherent authority to suppress illegally
3 obtained evidence" during preliminary proceedings. Rather than appeal the lower court's ruling,
4 as set forth in NRS 177.015<sup>8</sup>, the State instead chose to seek an indictment through the grand jury
5 process, but did so by presenting the exact same body of evidence that had been ruled suppressed—
6 and therefore inadmissible—by the justice court.

7 The State's use of the suppressed testimony did not constitute legal evidence, and thus the 8 entire proceeding was defective and the Indictment must be dismissed.

9 Nor is this simply a matter of the State seeking an indictment as to the sufficiency of the 10 evidence, as would have been proper. Instead, the State pretended that that entire lower court
11 proceeding never took place, and did so in two ways.

12 First, the State did not honor its obligations under the Marcum case when it failed to present
13 any of the exculpatory evidence in its possession. Not only did this violate the State's compulsory
14 obligation under NRS 172.145(2)—a duty held by the NSC to be "plain and unambiguous"—it
15 ignored the very specific, very detailed Marcum Letter sent to the State on June 21, 2018, wherein 16 the State was then obligated to present to the Grand Jury information consistent with NRS
17 172.145(1). The defense's Marcum Letter very specifically requested that the State present to the 18 Grand Jury the "Reporter's Transcript of the Las Vegas Justice Court proceedings on May 25, 19 2018 before the Honorable Eric Goodman holding both the gun and Gathrite's statement as 20 inadmissible evidence that was seized in violation of both the Fourth and Fifth Amendment rights
21 of the United States Constitution and the Nevada State Constitution." Ex. H at 1. The defense was 22 even kind enough to enclose the referenced transcript for the State's convenience, and the State
23 still failed to present it to the Grand Jury.

25
26 <sup>8</sup> NRS 177.015 states that "The party aggrieved in a criminal action may appeal only as follows: 1.
27 Whether the party is the State or the defendant: (a) To the district court of the county from a final 28 judgment of the justice court" (emphasis added).

1 Second on this point, the State intentionally concealed this exculpatory information from 2 the Grand Jury. As cited above, the transcript of Det. Mauch's examination, conducted by the same
3 Deputy District Attorney that argued the suppression motion before Judge Goodman, wholly 4 ignored that the Petitioner's interrogation had already been held by a court of competent
5 jurisdiction to be a violation of Miranda and its progeny. Instead, the State examined Det. Mauch,
6 and Det. Mauch played along, with the same, heretofore rejected argument that the Petitioner was 7 not "in custody" because, despite having been arrested by Metro's Criminal Apprehension Team
8 on a warrant that they procured from California Parole Officers, the detectives were questioning
9 him about another case.

10 In not only failing to present evidence to the Grand Jury of the lower court's disposition—
11 an act not only compelled by statute in general, but also specifically compelled once requested by 12 the Petitioner—the State violated its duty under Nevada law. As stated in relevant case law, cited
13 herein, the State's active concealment of the lower court's ruling (by presenting the evidence in a 14 manner already disposed of and ruled down by Judge Goodman) constituted active discouragement 15 of the grand jury from receiving and exploring evidence, and thus undermined the purpose and 16 intent of "an independent and informed grand jury."

17 Accordingly, the only appropriate remedy is dismissal of the Indictment.

18 2. The State elicited impermissible hearsay testimony with regard to the location
19 and seizure of the firearm.

20 The State's second witness, Det. DePalma, presented testimony that was impermissible
21 hearsay in multiple areas, and thus his entire testimony should be ruled inadmissible.

22 Hearsay is defined under Nevada law as "a statement offered in evidence to prove the truth
23 of the matter asserted," with certain limited exceptions. NRS 51.035. A "statement," under the 24 hearsay statute, is "An oral or written assertion," or possibly nonverbal conduct if intended as an 25 assertion. NRS 51.045(1)-(2). Furthermore, it is possible to have multiple levels of hearsay with 26 regard to the same statement- "hearsay within hearsay." "Hearsay included within hearsay is not
27 excluded under the hearsay rule if each part of the combined statements conforms to an exception
28 to the hearsay rule" provided under Nevada law. NRS 51.067.

1 Preliminarily, Det. DePalma was not present during the Petitioner's interrogation, and the
2 Petitioner's statements to Dets. Mauch and Grimmatt:

3 Q: And when you arrived at that location, what was your purpose of 4 involvement?

5 A: I was instructed to stand by the apartment door that was open, apartment
6 number 1, while the individual Gathrite was being interviewed by Detective
7 Mauch and Detective Grimmatt.

8 Q: And were you involved in that interview?

9 A: No, I was not.

10 Ex. H at 17.

11 Accordingly, Det. DePalma's testimony is textbook definition hearsay. Consider the 12 following:

13 Q: At some point did you become aware that apartment number 1 was 14 going to be searched?

15 A: Yes, I was.

16 Q: And what was it going to be searched for?

17 A: A firearm.

18 Q: And was that pursuant to a warrant or some other means?

19 A: I believe we had consent to go in to retrieve a firearm that Mr. Gathrite 20 said was inside the apartment.

21 Id.

22 Furthermore, Det. DePalma stated, in testimony before the Grand Jury, numerous other 23 statements and assertions that he attributed to the Petitioner, despite not having been present during 24 the Petitioner's interrogation:

25 Q: And at that point was Mr. Gathrite the only individual at that particular 26 apartment?

27 A: Yes.

28 Q: And was it Metro's understanding that he had a possessory interest in that apartment?

A: Yes, he did.

Q: What did you find?

A: I was instructed that the firearm was inside a[n] air conditioning vent, the intake.

Id. at 18;

Q: And would that have been the exact location that Mr. Gathrite indicated that the firearm was going to be located?

A: Yes, it was.

Id. at 19.

This is a departure from Det. Mauch's testimony at-large, and immediately prior to Det. DePalma's testimony. Specifically, Det. Mauch merely attributed certain statements to the Petitioner—statements that, again, were suppressed in the lower court. While any statements elicited from the Petitioner by Det. Mauch would otherwise have been admissible under a valid hearsay exception (see NRS 51.035(3)(a)- the exception for statements of a party-opponent, or the accused's own statements) had they not been suppressed, this does not permit Det. DePalma to rely upon, testify to, or otherwise provide such statements during testimony as if they had been heard directly.

Det. DePalma testified that he was not present during the Petitioner's interrogation, therefore each of the statements that Det. DePalma attributed to the Petitioner, as set forth above, are impermissible hearsay either because they clearly were not statements uttered to Det. DePalma, or because they constitute layered, hearsay-within-hearsay for which the State did not offer any indication of the multiple exceptions required to render such statements admissible. In other words, Det. DePalma's testimony either falsely represents that the Petitioner gave such statements directly to Det. DePalma, or Det. DePalma is testifying in a "the other detectives told me that Petitioner said..." format- or hearsay-within-hearsay.

Thus, Det. DePalma's testimony is inadmissible, and must be stricken. As Det. DePalma's testimony concerned the location and seizure of the firearm, this results in the dismissal of the Indictment against the Petitioner.

3. The State introduced improper evidence of prior bad acts, in violation of the Petitioner's rights and its duty to present legal evidence to the Grand Jury.

As cited above, Nevada law prohibits the use or introduction of evidence of uncharged bad acts, due to the tendency of such bad acts to be highly prejudicial. Such mention of uncharged bad acts not only taints the jurors, it forces the accused to adapt his whole defensive strategy:

1 Moreover, "[t]he use of uncharged bad acts to convict a defendant is heavily
2 disfavored in our system of criminal justice. Such evidence is likely to be 3 prejudicial or irrelevant, and forces the accused to defend himself against 4 vague and unsubstantiated charges.... Evidence of uncharged misconduct
5 may unduly influence the jury, and result in a conviction of the accused
6 because the jury believes he is a bad person.... The use of specific conduct
7 to show a propensity to commit the crime charged is clearly prohibited by 8 Nevada law, ... and is commonly regarded as sufficient grounds for 9 reversal."

10 Roever v. State, 963 P.2d 503, 506, 114 Nev. 867 (Nev., 1998), citing Taylor
11 v. State, 109 Nev. 849, 854, 858 P.2d 843, 847.

12 Here, Det. Mauch's testimony was, apparently, centered around whether the Petitioner was 13 unlawfully in possession of a firearm. The detective testified that he interrogated the Petitioner as 14 to the possession of a firearm; that the Petitioner indicated a firearm; that the firearm was located
15 in the girlfriend's apartment; and that police could enter the premises and recover the firearm:<sup>9</sup>

16 Q: And did he [the Petitioner] indicate if he possessed anything of interest
17 to Metro pursuant to that involvement?

18 A: Yes.

19 Q: What was that?

20 A: That was a I believe silver in color revolver.

21 Ex. H at 9.

22 For the single count of "ownership or possession of firearm by prohibited person,"<sup>10</sup> these 23 statements, and the testimony surrounding the statements, should have been sufficient.

24 Perhaps not merely content with indicting the Petitioner for the weapons charge, the State
25 instead chose to introduce an uncharged, and highly prejudicial, prior bad act:

26 Q: And specifically what did he indicate about that revolver?

27 A: That he possessed it and it had been used in a shooting.

28 Id. at 9-10.

<sup>9</sup> The foregoing statements are set forth here only for illustrative purposes, and for clarity. The Petitioner still disputes the admissibility of these statements, pursuant to Judge Goodman's ruling suppressing the Petitioner's statement and the recovered firearm.

<sup>10</sup> Ex. G at 5: "There should be a proposed Indictment with the following offense of one count..."

1 While this arguably may have been a spontaneous statement on Det. Mauch's part, the 2 State's follow-up question indicates that it instead was a deliberate, calculated effort to taint the 3 proceedings with uncharged propensity evidence, suggesting the Petitioner was a violent offender.

4 Q: And specifically did he indicate that he used it in a shooting?

5 A: Yes.

6 Q: When would that shooting have occurred?

7 A: It occurred, I believe it was February 11th.

8 Q: Of 2018?

9 A: Yeah, same year.

10 Id. at 10.

11 The State's Indictment charges the Petitioner with a violation of NRS 202.360(1). Under 12 that statute, there is no element, requirement, or mention that such a weapon have been used in a
13 shooting; that the weapon have been used in a shooting as recently as the same year; etc. The State
14 merely elicited this testimony, deliberately, to cast aspersions on the Petitioner, and perhaps with 15 knowledge of, and frustration over, its prior adverse ruling in the lower court. Given the 16 inadmissibility of both the Petitioner's statement and the firearm itself, it is highly questionable
17 for the State also to inject unwarranted and unfair prejudice into the proceedings by purposefully
18 developing inadmissible testimony regarding a prior, uncharged bad act.

19 Furthermore, the State elicited additional testimony of a more generalized "character" of 20 the Petitioner to commit crimes, and therefore injected even more unfair prejudice into the 21 proceedings. This testimony, from Det. Mauch, was a direct result of the State's attempt to 22 "sanitize" the prior Miranda challenges in the lower court:

23 ///

24 ///

25 ///

26 ///

27 ///

28 ///

29 ///

1 Q: Throughout that investigation did you have cause to make contact with
2 someone by the name of Deandre Gathrite?

3 A: Yes, I did.

4 Q: And specifically where did you make contact with him?

5 A: I was the address of 2630 Wyandotte Street, apartment number 1.

6 Q: And is that located here in Clark County?

7 A: Yes, it is.

8 Q: And where specifically did you make contact with him? Was it in that
9 unit or in the actual complex or where exactly?

10 A: It was in the actual apartment.

11 Q: Apartment number 1?

12 A: Yes.

13 Q: And was he the individual who answered the door?

14 A: He was already inside the apartment with other detectives from our
15 criminal apprehension team.

16 Q: Now did you get a chance to sit down and talk with Mr. Gathrite?

17 A: Yes, I did.

18 Q: And when you did, was he in custody pursuant to the investigation you
19 were pursuing?

20 A: To our specific investigation, no. There were some other charges that he 21 was dealing with at the time.

22 Id. at 7-8.

23 Rather than elicit testimony only that Det. Mauch had interrogated the Petitioner, the State
24 went to the additional step of asking if the Petitioner was alone in his apartment, to which the 25 detective testified that the Petitioner was already in custody of a criminal apprehension team.
26 Rather than elicit testimony only that the Petitioner was in the custody of a team specifically tasked
27 with arresting fugitives, the State went to the additional step of asking if the Petitioner was arrested 28 pursuant to Det. Mauch's investigation, to which the detective testified that the Petitioner was facing other, additional charges beyond Det. Mauch's investigation.

Not only are such additional details not necessary to lay any foundation for Det. Mauch's testimony as to his interrogation of the Petitioner (other than the aforementioned effort at "cleaning up" the lower court's suppression ruling), these details are highly and unfairly prejudicial in that they paint the Petitioner not as someone who allegedly had a gun in his possession, but as someone who was using the gun in a recent shooting, was being apprehended by a specialty team within Metro, and was dealing with additional charges beyond Det. Mauch's investigation. It is clear from

1 this deliberate, focused examination into these areas—in violation of Nevada statute and case
2 authority—that the State was intentionally painting the Petitioner as someone with a propensity
3 for criminal acts beyond the allegations of an unlawful firearm.

4 For the foregoing reasons, the Indictment must be dismissed.

6 CONCLUSION

7 Based on the foregoing, Petitioner prays for relief by way of a dismissal of the charges

OFFICER'S REPORT CONTINUATION

Event #: 180211-3549

The follow-up investigation revealed Deandre Gathrite shot Tyler after an argument in front of the building. Tyler was upset because Gathrite and several other subjects were hanging around in front of Tyler's building, which disrupted Tyler's illicit drug dealing business. Tyler was armed with a .45 caliber handgun, which was in his left front pocket at the time he was shot. After being shot, Tyler attempted to return fire, but was unable. An associate of Tyler's picked up Tyler's handgun and fired nine (9) times at Gathrite as he ran away. Tyler's handgun has yet to be recovered.

Event #: 180211-3549

V. PRELIMINARY INVESTIGATION:

On 02-11-18 at approximately 2040 hours, LVMPD dispatch received several 9-1-1 calls reporting a subject shot at 2612 Van Patten Street in Las Vegas. Patrol officers and medical personnel were dispatched to the crime scene under LVMPD event number 180211-3549.

At approximately 2047 hours, Patrol Officer Avalos arrived and located a black male adult lying on sidewalk in front of 2612 Van Patten Street. The male, who was tentatively identified as Kenyon "T-Rex" Tyler, appeared to have been shot in the chest. Medical personnel arrived and transported Tyler to Sunrise Hospital, where he underwent emergency surgery.

Patrol Investigation Detectives, Gang Crimes Detectives, and Crime Scene Analysts responded to the crime scene to conduct the follow-up investigation. Subjects in the area were reluctant to communicate with police and no witnesses provided formal statements. Gang Crimes Detectives developed information that a black male from the neighborhood known as "Dre" was responsible for the shooting.

Patrol Investigation Detectives familiar with the area provided information regarding the possible identity of "Dre." Patrol Investigation Detectives believed Dre was Deandre Gathrite ID# 2592432. Gathrite lived in the immediate area and was the subject of several active criminal investigations.

At approximately 2231 hours, while investigators were still processing the Tyler shooting scene, several gunshots were heard one block east on Sherwood Street. Investigators responded to the area and located Jomiah "TY" Wingo at 2575 Sherwood Street suffering from multiple gunshot wounds. Wingo was transported to Sunrise Hospital with non-life threatening gunshot wounds. The preliminary information received by Gang Crimes Detectives was Wingo was shot because he witnessed the Tyler shooting.

At 2313 hours, Kenyon Tyler succumbed to his injuries at Sunrise Hospital.

Gang Crimes Supervisors determined further investigation from the Homicide Section was warranted. Homicide Sergeant Scott was notified and arrived on scene at approximately 0021 hours with Homicide Detectives Sanborn, Boucher, and Ochsenhirt. Homicide detectives received a briefing from Gang Crime Detective Parquette. Detective Sanborn was assigned the responsibility of documenting the crime scene with crime scene analysts; Detectives Boucher and Ochsenhirt were assigned to interview available witnesses. Homicide Detective DePalma responded to Sunrise Hospital to conduct the follow-up investigation there.

VI. CRIME SCENE INVESTIGATION:

The crime scene analysts and Homicide Detective Sanborn examined the crime scene for evidence. The crime scene analysts documented the crime scene and any evidence with digital photographs and a crime scene diagram. Crime Scene Analyst Thomas recovered and impounded any available evidence.

A. DESCRIPTION OF SCENE AND VISIBLE EVIDENCE

The crime scene was located in front of the apartment building at 2612 Van Patten Street. The building was further described as a two story, multi-family, concrete building on the east side of Van Patten Street, between Sahara Avenue to the north and East Karen Avenue to the south. The primary crime scene was located on the west side of the building in front of the main entrance to the courtyard. The entrance was protected by a large metal gate, which stood open upon homicide detectives' arrival on the scene. A second entrance was located on the east side of the building and provided access from the rear alley parking area. The rear entrance gate also stood open. In the center of the building was a square concrete courtyard area. Apartments surrounded the courtyard on both the first and second floors. A metal stairway in the northeast corner of the courtyard provided access to the second floor apartments.

A concrete walkway led east from the east sidewalk of Van Patten Street to the front entrance of the building. Concrete curbs on both sides of the walkway, separated the walkway from the landscape planters, which were located on both sides of the walkway. The planters consisted of dirt, shrubs, and trees. A raised planter was located just north of the entrance gate. A decorative concrete block design was located in the wall above the raised planter. The area appeared dirty and neglected with garbage and debris present.

An LVMPD issued trauma kit was observed on the walkway. A small area of blood with some clothing was observed in the southeast corner of the walkway.

One (1) empty "Coca-Cola" can (Item 9) was on the planter wall, just outside (north) the gate. One (1) swab of possible DNA was recovered from the mouth area of the can. The can was chemically processed for latent prints with negative results.

Two (2) cartridge cases (Items 7-8) bearing the headstamp "G.F.L. 45 A.C.P." were located on the walkway just inside (east) of the gate.

Seven (7) cartridge cases (Items 1-6, 21) bearing the headstamp "G.F.L. 45 A.C.P." were recovered from the walkway outside (west) of the gate.

LAS VEGAS METROPOLITAN POLICE DEPARTMENT

Event #: 180211-3549

A small area of blood was observed southwest of the entry gate. One (1) black, short-sleeved t-shirt (Item 22) bearing a white and red design on the front and areas of apparent blood throughout the back was recovered near the southeast corner of the walkway leading to the entry gate. One (1) blue/multi-colored "Disney" brand blanket (Item 23) bearing areas of apparent blood was recovered near the southeast corner of the walkway leading to the entry gate.

Two (2) bullet impacts were located in the west wall of the building, south of the entry gate and east of the area of blood. One (1) bullet (Item 20) was recovered near the southeast corner of the walkway.

Five (5) cigarette butts (Items 10-14) were recovered from the landscape planter north of the walkway.

Five (5) cigarette butts/partially smoked cigarettes (Items 15-19) were recovered from the landscape planter south of the walkway.

A Las Vegas Valley Water District utility box was located in the landscape planter south of the walkway. Two (2) apparent bullet holes (entry) were observed in the south side of the box, with one (1) bullet hole (exit) on the north side. The apparent trajectory of the bullet holes did not appear to correspond with the shooting under investigation and it was possible the bullet holes were from a previous shooting. The bullet holes were photographed.

B. LOCATION AND DESCRIPTION OF THE BODY

On 02-12-18, Homicide Detective DePalma was assigned to assist with the homicide investigation, which was being conducted under LVMPD event number 180211-3549. The victim had been transported from the crime scene to Sunrise Hospital prior to the arrival of homicide detectives on the scene and Homicide Detective DePalma was assigned to respond to Sunrise Hospital.

Homicide Detective DePalma arrived at Sunrise at approximately 0025 hours, followed by Crime Scene Analyst Biwer and Clark County Coroner's Office Investigators Gallagher and Brown.

The victim had been transported to Sunrise Hospital by Medic West Unit 587. The victim appeared to have suffered gunshot wounds to the right side of the chest, the lower abdominal area and the middle of the buttocks. Sunrise Doctor Stewart pronounced the victim deceased at 2313 hours on 02-11-18 and the body remained inside the operating room (A-6).

LAS VEGAS METROPOLITAN POLICE DEPARTMENT
OFFICER'S REPORT CONTINUATION

Event #: 180211-3549

Clark County Coroner's Office Investigator Gallagher conducted the preliminary death investigation. There was no information as to the identity of the victim, and he was tentatively identified as Trauma Moe.

The body was supine on a hospital gurney and covered with a white hospital blanket. Investigator Gallagher removed the hospital blanket, which revealed the unclothed body of a black male adult. Evidence of medical intervention was present on the body.

Crime Scene Analyst Gallagher documented the overall condition of the body with digital photographs. Evidence preservation bags were placed over the hands by Crime Scene Analyst Gallagher. The body was then placed on a clean sheet and into a body bag, which was sealed with seal 730715. The body was transported to the Clark County Office of the Coroner/Medical Examiner by Hites Funeral Home Attendants Cushman and Rivera.

Homicide Detective DePalma made contact with Apollo Elaine Norman at Sunrise Hospital. Apollo was Kenyon Tyler's girlfriend and stated she received a telephone call from Tyler, who said he was shot. Apollo did not have any information regarding the shooting and did not wish to provide a statement. Kenyon Tyler's Cousin Taron Holland responded to the hospital with Apollo, but had no information about the shooting. Apollo provided investigators with the name and telephone number of Tyler's mother in California (Anesha Tyler (323) 271-8259). The next-of-kin information was provided to Coroner's Office Investigator Gallagher.

D. RESULTS OF AUTOPSY

On 02-12-18, a complete autopsy was performed on the body of Kenyon Tyler. Doctor Roquero determined the cause of death was multiple gunshot wounds; the manner of death was ruled homicide.

VIII. FOLLOW-UP INVESTIGATION:

The synopsis of witness interviews were created by the detectives conducting the interview; the substance of which was learned during contact, interview and/or from the statement of the witness.

Representative image(s) of a cartridge case recovered from the crime scene was entered into the National Integrated Ballistic Information Network (NIBIN) by LVMPD Forensic Scientist Anya Lester. Associations to other events in the network will be reported separately.

On 02-12-18, Homicide Detective Sanborn was advised representative images of the .45 caliber cartridge cases recovered at the Kenyon Tyler crime scene were associated in NIBIN to a shooting in Los Angeles California, which took place on March 03, 2017, under LAPD case number 17-1807405.

Homicide Detective Sanborn contacted LAPD Southeast Division Gang Impact Team Detective Shear, who had conducted the follow-up investigation into the aforementioned shooting. Detective Shear related the shooting had been reported by a witness, and that neither the suspect nor victim was ever located. A black male driving a silver hatchback fired several shots at a black Dodge Charger. After the shooting, both vehicles fled the scene. Detective Shear recovered two (2) .45 caliber rounds and one (1) expended round at the crime scene. The evidence was subsequently entered into NIBIN, which produced the association.

Homicide Detective Sanborn reviewed the LAPD investigative report and no investigative leads were developed as a result of the reported NIBIN association.

OFFICER'S REPORT CONTINUATION

Event #: 180211-3549

A police records check on possible suspect Deandre Gathrite revealed a felony parole violation warrant issued out of the San Diego County Sheriff's Office, reference a previous weapons related offense. The LVMPD Criminal Apprehension Team (CAT) was tasked with locating Gathrite.

On 02-16-18 at approximately 1440 hours, the Criminal Apprehension Team located Deandre Gathrite at 2630 Wyandotte Street, apartment 1. Homicide detectives were advised of Gathrite's location and responded.

On 02-16-18 at approximately 1547 hours, Homicide Detectives Mauch and Grimmatt conducted a post-Miranda interview with Deandre Gathrite, who related the following: Gathrite identified the male he shot as T-Rex. Gathrite was outside the building with Raydog and TY. T-Rex and four other black males confronted Gathrite about them hanging out in front of the building. One of the males with T-Rex had a gun in his hand and Gathrite saw a gun in T-Rex's pocket. Gathrite described being scared and he fired his gun a couple times at T-Rex while he ran away. Gathrite didn't know if he hit anyone and he continued to hear gunfire as he ran away after he stopped shooting.

Gathrite told detectives the gun he used in the shooting was hidden inside the apartment in an air conditioning vent in the hallway. Gathrite provided detectives with verbal consent to recover the firearm from the apartment. The firearm was still loaded and no other ammunition or additional firearms in the apartment.

Gathrite showed detectives a Facebook messenger conversation between a male that contacted his girlfriend Tia Kelly on her cellular telephone after the shooting. She received numerous messages from the male, who told her he shot her baby daddy "on blood because T-Rex was his people." He also sent pictures of himself to her.

For further details refer to Deandre Gathrite's transcribed statement.

Homicide Detective DePalma, Crime Scene Analyst Chen-Huynh, and Crime Scene Analyst Supervisor Taylor entered Gathrite's apartment (2630 Wyandotte, Apt.1) to recover the handgun hidden inside the air vent. The overall condition of the apartment was documented with digital photographs prior to searching the vent. The air-conditioning intake vent was located in the hallway near the south portion of the apartment and the grate was affixed by two small bolt and nuts. The grate was removed and behind the 20x20 filter was a silver revolver. The revolver was an Amedeo Rossi S. A .357 caliber handgun with a black grip with serial number F379181. The revolver was photographed in place and then recovered by Crime Scene Analyst Chen-Huynh.

OFFICER'S REPORT CONTINUATION

Event #: 180211-3549

The revolver was fully loaded with six (6) rounds. The head stamp on each round was "FC357 Magnum." The revolver was swabbed for possible DNA evidence and processed for fingerprints, with negative results. The revolver and ammunition was impounded as evidence by Crime Scene Analyst Chen-Huynh.

After the firearm was located, Homicide Sergeant Scott obtained a telephonic search warrant to search the apartment for additional firearms, ammunition, and firearm related items. The search warrant also included the recovery of a DNA sample from Gathrite and the cellular telephone he had in his possession. The search warrant was approved by District Court Judge Wiese.

At approximately 1755 hours, Detective DePalma and Crime Scene Analyst Chun-Huynh re-entered the apartment. Apartment 1 was located on the first floor and consisted of one bedroom and one bathroom. The apartment was sparsely furnished and unremarkable. Homicide Detective DePalma searched the apartment and did not locate any additional items of evidentiary value.

Crime Scene Analyst Chun-Huynh recovered a sample of Deandre Gathrite's DNA via the application of a buccal swab kit. Homicide Detective Mauch recovered Gathrite's cellular telephone. The buccal swab kit and cellular telephone were later impounded as evidence by Crime Scene Analyst Chun-Huynh.

A copy of the duplicate original search warrant and search warrant return was photographed by Crime Scene Analyst Chun-Huynh and left on the kitchen counter.

On 02-21-18 at approximately 1535 hours, Homicide Detectives Sanborn and Mauch interviewed Raymond Moore (Raydog), who related the following: Moore was hanging out in front of the building on Van Patten with TY and Dre. Moore was showed a database photograph of Deandre Gathrite and confirmed he was Dre. They were hanging around outside of the gate of the courtyard, when T-Rex confronted them and said they had to leave. One other male, known as "Juge," was with T-Rex. Dre told T-Rex they always hang out there and T-Rex continued to tell the group he didn't care and they had to move. T-Rex had a gun in his left front pocket, which he continually grabbed at while arguing with Dre.

T-Rex walked up to Dre and then would take a couple steps back during the verbal arguing. Dre ultimately pulled his gun out and shot three times at T-Rex before he fled on foot. Moore described them being face to face when Dre shot T-Rex. T-Rex pulled his gun out of his pocket and was unable to fire it before falling to the ground. Juge then grabbed T-Rex's gun and fired 4-5 times at the group and TY fired his gun as well. Moore believed T-Rex and TY both had .45 caliber guns. Dre's gun was described as a .357 chrome revolver. T-Rex did not have his gun out until after Dre shot T-Rex.

OFFICER'S REPORT CONTINUATION

Event #: 180211-3549

For further details refer to Raymond Moore's transcribed statement.

A police records check of Gathrite revealed he was a four (4) time convicted felon. Gathrite was convicted of three (3) felonies in Nevada; once in 2011 for Larceny from Person, and twice in 2012 for Assault with a Deadly Weapon (AWDW) and Discharging a Firearm at/into a Structure. Gathrite was convicted of at least one felony in California; 2010 for Manufacture / Possess a Dangerous Weapon.

On 02-21-18, California authorities lifted the hold placed on Deandre Gathrite and he was released from the Clark County Detention Center.

On 02-23-18, SCAC Patrol Officer Ross (PN 14852) interviewed Towan Abram (ID# 2667384) reference the service of a search warrant at Abram's apartment at 2635 Sherwood Street, Apartment 2. The search warrant service was not related to the Kenyon Tyler murder investigation; however, Abram stated he had information regarding the case. Abram claimed Andre Gathrite called him on Facebook messenger the day after the murder and admitted to killing T-Rex. Gathrite told him the dude pulled his pistol and he shot him. At the conclusion of the interview Abram's was arrested on outstanding warrants and booked into the Clark County Detention Center.

For further information refer to Towan Abram's transcribed statement.

On 02-26-18, Homicide Detective Mauch obtained an arrest warrant for Deandre Gathrite for the charges of Open Murder with a Deadly Weapon and Possession Firearm by Prohibited Person. The warrant was approved by Justice Court Judge Goodman. Members of the LVMPD Criminal Apprehension Team located Deandre Gathrite and arrested him on the warrant. Gathrite was booked at the Clark County Detention Center.

On 02-28-18, LVMPD Forensic Scientist Geil completed the preliminary firearms and toolmarks examinations of the evidence. The evidence bullets were examined and were determined to be visually consistent with nominal .38 caliber class, to include .38 Special and .357 Magnum. The bullets were microscopically compared and were identified as having been fired from the same firearm.

Common firearms manufactured with rifling general characteristics similar to the ones present on the bullets; included, but were not necessarily limited to: Astra, Colt, Dan Wesson, FIE, Rossi, and Ruger firearms.

For further information refer to Forensic Scientist Geil's Report of Examination.

OFFICER'S REPORT CONTINUATION

Event #: 180211-3549

On 03-15-18, Homicide Detective Mauch obtained a Computer Forensics Lab Search Warrant for the cellular telephone seized from Deandre Gathrite. The Search Warrant was approved by District Court Judge Bell and filed with the District Court Clerk's Office under SW 18-404. The Search Warrant was sent electronically to the LVMPD Computer Forensics Lab for processing.

On 04-06-18, Homicide Detective Sanborn submitted a request to the LVMPD Crime Lab to have the evidence recovered during the follow-up investigation forensically examined.

The requested forensic examinations have not been completed at the time of this report.

5 One of the things that was not fully

6 flushed out, and forgive me because I'm in trial right now,

7 is that I didn't state in there that it was explicit. I

8 think the Court knows and is well aware how the CAT Team

9 works and that they're not out there just, you know,

10 finding who's on parole violations or probation violations

11 or who's a fugitive in another state.

7 MS. OVERLY: With regards to the CAT
8 Team's arrest of the defendant on his parole violation, as
9 your Honor is well aware, the CAT Team has no control over
10 issuing warrants. California, that jurisdiction --

11 THE COURT: Oh, but who triggered it?

12 MS. OVERLY: Triggered what?

13 THE COURT: Who triggered it? Who

14 triggered the arrest? Was it San Diego? Did San Diego

16 homicide detectives that got CAT to go pick him up so they 17 could interview him about a murder you are interested in?18 MS. OVERLY: Homicide detectives became

 4 MS. OVERLY: Yes, their contact to Metro.
 07:54AM 5 THE COURT: There is triggered by Metro.
 6 They want to get him in custody.
 7 MS. OVERLY: Yes.
 8 THE COURT: They have information he may

 07:54AM 10 so they can interview a murder, correct?
 11 MS. OVERLY: They want to locate him, yes,
 12 the CAT Team, yes. That's what they do. They have a basis
 13 to arrest him on a parole violation, but contact with them
 14 is independent of that. They have no control of whether or
 07:54AM 15 not he is going to get arrested on a parole violation.
 16 Ultimately, that was the circumstances
 17 under which he was located and found, but there was -- it's
 18 not like Metro contacted them and said, Hey, issue this 19 warrant. He had a active warrant validly issued out of
 07:54AM 20 California by California's Department of Parole & Probation
 21 and the means by which they located him was that, but that
 22 warrant was an independent valid warrant nonetheless and,
 23 when he was arrested in this particular incident, he was 24 arrested exclusively on that warrant. He was never, during 07:55AM 25 any of the interaction, arrested on this murder.

1 THE COURT: But he was arrested for the
 2 sole purpose of allowing the detectives to go over and
 3 interview him about the murder.
 4 MS. OVERLY: Well, I mean that's something
 07:55AM 5 that I think would need to be flushed out by the detectives
 6 themselves, if they were to testify at a preliminary
 7 hearing, which was kind of what I think --
 8 THE COURT: Why do they need to flush it
 9 out? This is the information I have in front of me. This 07:55AM 10 is what's in the application. This is everything I have in 11 front of me is that they wanted to arrest him solely so
 12 they could get over there, talk to him because they have
 13 all this information about him, but it's on the streets.
 14 Nobody on the street is going to stand up and say, Yeah, he
 07:56AM 15 did it and I will testify.
 16 MS. OVERLY: Right.
 17 THE COURT: So they have to get him in
 18 custody. They have to arrest him and get him in custody so
 19 they can come interview him about the murder.
 07:56AM 20 MS. OVERLY: Well, yes, they wanted to --
 21 I think the State's Motion is, yes, they wanted to locate
 22 him. If the means by which they located him was, in fact,
 23 he was arrested on a parole violation, then, yes, he was.
 24 He was arrested on a parole violation and that was the 07:56AM 25 means by which CAT contacted him. They went over there and

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
 (702) 671-3795

1 they interviewed him, but --
 2 THE COURT: So to get this straight, they
 3 contact San Diego, San Diego says, Okay, we will issue a
 4 warrant, now you have a basis to go arrest him.
 07:56AM 5 MS. OVERLY: That's correct.
 6 THE COURT: Which is triggered by Metro --
 7 MS. OVERLY: That's correct.
 8 THE COURT: -- wanting to arrest him so
 9 that -- wanting to locate him, arrest him so they can have
 07:56AM 10 him in custody to interview him.
 11 MS. OVERLY: That's my understanding, yes.
 12 THE COURT: So he was in custody and he
 13 was in custody on behalf of Metro --
 14 MS. OVERLY: No.
 07:56AM 15 THE COURT: -- so homicide detectives can
 16 go over and talk to him about this murder case.
 17 MS. OVERLY: But I think that's where the
 18 legal issues are alleged in the Motion is that, yes, he was
 19 technically in custody, as they were in those cases cited
 07:56AM 20 in the Motion. Yes, he was in custody and that was the 21 means and under the circumstances by which they went and
 22 interviewed him, but he was not under a custodial
 23 interrogation and in custody in reference to this case.
 24 THE COURT: They know exactly why they
 07:56AM 25 wanted to talk to him. They know exactly why they want to

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER

Page 8

1 arrest him, get him in custody. Why didn't they just read
 2 him his Miranda rights?
 3 MS. OVERLY: I mean I think that arguably
 4 they could have, at the outside, read him his Miranda
 07:57AM 5 rights.
 6 THE COURT: They could have or should
 7 have?
 8 MS. OVERLY: Well, the State's argument is
 9 that they were not legally required to read him Miranda at 07:57AM 10 the time.
 11 THE COURT: It's 28 pages into the
 12 interview with him before they even bother to read him his 13 Miranda and it's one of the worse things I have seen, in
 14 terms of reading him his Miranda rights, and I'm just going
 07:57AM 15 to turn to page 28 on this. I think it was 28; I may be
 16 off a page.
 17 From the detective, and this is on the
 18 third line of the page towards kind of the end of that, "I
 19 mean would you -- would you feel better if I read you your
 07:57AM 20 Miranda rights and stuff, man?"
 21 I mean that's what the detective said.
 22 The standard isn't does it make you better if he had his
 23 Miranda rights read to him. The standard is if he is in
 24 custody, he needs to have his Miranda rights read before
 07:58AM 25 they interview him. It's not whether somebody feels

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
 (702) 671-3795

1 better. That's not the way the Fifth Amendment works.

2 MS. OVERLY: No, I understand that, your
3 Honor, and I think if the detective believes he was, in
4 fact, under custodial interrogation and in custody with
07:58AM 5 regards to this case, they would have read him Miranda,
6 either by card or memory, at the outset of the interview,
7 but based on their position, it was the State's position in
8 its Opposition was that he, in fact, was not. They didn't
9 feel the need to issue these Miranda warnings at the outset
07:58AM 10 or throughout any point in time in the interview, as they
11 didn't in Fields rather.

12 THE COURT: The interviews basically are
13 voluntary. They are always voluntary interactions with the 14 police. You cited a case where the guy's in prison, they
07:58AM 15 bring him in the interview room, and he is free to leave.
16 He may have be in prison, but in prison, his cell is his
17 home. So they say, You are free to leave. That means go
18 back to your cell and just go back to what is basically his 19 home.

07:58AM 20 MS. OVERLY: Correct.

21 THE COURT: If he was free to leave, that
22 means he was going to be uncuffed, let out, put in a police
23 car, go back to his apartment, make a sandwich, turn on the 24 TV, and go on with his day or by free means he is going to
07:58AM 25 be in handcuffs and put in the back of the car?

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 MS. OVERLY: Well, free to leave in the
2 same respect as he was in Fields. I mean like that's why
3 the State believes it's analogous. In that case, they even
4 indicated that he was free to leave and by that, they meant
07:58AM 5 free to leave and go back to his cell.

6 THE COURT: His cell is his home.

7 MS. OVERLY: Correct.

8 THE COURT: Right. He's not free to go
9 back to his home, right?

07:58AM 10 MS. OVERLY: No, he's not because of this
11 active parole violation where he was going to independently
12 go back to California, as he had been doing since 2014.

13 THE COURT: And that's the ball that Metro
14 got started rolling.

07:58AM 15 MS. OVERLY: Correct.

16 THE COURT: Correct.

17 MS. OVERLY: And the ball -- Metro's ball
18 started rolling, but it's a ball he created for himself and
19 had this warrant issued nonetheless.

07:58AM 20 THE COURT: All right.

21 MS. OVERLY: So the State's argument was
22 similar to that case. He could have indicated, with his
23 extensive criminal history and his knowledge about the
24 criminal justice system, and merely say to them, I don't
08:00AM 25 want to talk to you about this. They would have taken him

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 back to CCDC and that would have been, granted, his
2 temporary home, but just like in Fields, it's like him
3 going back to his cell. He was going to be extradited back
4 to California, as he indicated he well knew in the
08:00AM 5 interview.

6 MS. LOBO: One other thing for the Court
7 too.

8 Mr. Gathrite, it was so bazaar and strange
9 to him. He's appeared a few times before your Honor on the
08:00AM 10 fugitive calendar. He's been extradited back and forth.
11 This is the one time California didn't come to get him.
12 California was not interested this time. He's gone back
13 and forth like two, three times. They always come get him.
14 Somebody said, Don't bother, he's got a murder case.

08:00AM 15 MS. OVERLY: Well, I think that's --

16 THE COURT: Well, no, whatever you have
17 locally, you have to clean up the new local charges first
18 before they come pick you up. So he does have an open
19 murder case. They are not going to come get him.

08:00AM 20 MS. LOBO: Here's the thing, Judge. He is
21 not booked for murder, though. It's just they don't bother
22 to come get him. It's not until a week later.

23 MS. OVERLY: And, your Honor, just one
24 brief thing.

08:01AM 25

THE COURT: Sure.

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 MS. OVERLY: If they were to be --
2 typically, as your Honor knows, these issues are litigated
3 up in District Court as well and after they're litigated in
4 a motion, like in Jackson V Denno, a preliminary hearing is
08:01AM 5 typically ordered at that point in time.

6 The reason I mentioned the preliminary
7 hearing is because it would be the State's position that
8 given the jurisdiction in which we are in right now, if
9 that your Honor felt that under Jackson V Denno or
08:01AM 10 something of equal footing would be appropriate, that a
11 preliminary hearing would suffice, so forth, that would
12 flush out those issues.

13 THE COURT: I'm not sure what issues there
14 are to flush out. He is clearly in custody. This was all
08:01AM 15 triggered by Metro. They was all set in motion. They knew
16 exactly what they were doing. They knew exactly what they 17 were doing. They wanted to get him in custody so they
18 could interview him on the murder case.

19 That is the only reason how this thing
08:02AM 20 starts. It's the only reason to contact San Diego. This 21 is all a ruse. This is all a ruse by Metro to get him in 22 custody to interview him about the murder case. So he was
23 in custody and, when he is custody, they should have read
24 him his Miranda Rights. They didn't, not until 28 pages
08:02AM 25 into this.

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
(702) 671-3795

1 They violated his rights. The fact it's a
 2 murder case doesn't matter to me. It doesn't matter if he
 3 is caught with 20 pounds of weed or if it's a murder case.
 4 They violated his rights.

08:02AM 5 Because they violated his rights when he
 6 was in custody, I'm going to suppress his statement.
 7 Because the gun comes from the statements made during the
 8 interview, I'm going to suppress the gun --

08:02AM 9 MS. OVERLY: And, your Honor --
 10 THE COURT: -- and that's going to be this
 11 Court's ruling.
 12 So you can proceed to prelim, if you want
 13 to, but the statement is not coming in and the gun is not
 14 coming in.

08:02AM 15 MS. OVERLY: And, your Honor, can I ask
 16 then what your specific ruling would be in reference to the
 17 State's Opposition in reference to how Miranda does not
 18 apply to the issue of consent with regards to the retrieval
 19 of the gun?

08:02AM 20 THE COURT: The gun is a fruit of the 21 poisonous tree. The only information they have is the
 22 information they gleaned while interviewing him illegally
 23 because they knew he wasn't read his Miranda rights
 24 properly. All of this is the fruit of the poisonous tree.

08:03AM 25 MS. OVERLY: But, your Honor --
 PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
 (702) 671-3795

1 additionally, the State's Inevitable Discovery Doctrine,
 2 I'm not sure if your Honor wants to rule on that issue as
 3 well?

4 THE COURT: No. The statement is out, the
 08:04AM 5 gun is out. You can proceed however you want, but the 6 statement is not coming in at prelim. The gun is not
 7 coming in at prelim. So --

8 MS. OVERLY: So the Inevitable Discovery
 9 Doctrine would be denied as well in that respect?

08:04AM 10 THE COURT: Counsel, the statement is out.
 11 The gun is out.
 12 MS. OVERLY: Okay.
 13 THE COURT: So okay.
 14 MS. LOBO: Thanks, Judge.

08:04AM 15 THE COURT: Okay, do we have a prelim set?
 16 MS. LOBO: Friday.
 17 THE CLERK: June 8.
 18 MS. LOBO: Next Friday, one week.
 19 THE COURT: All right.
 08:05AM 20 MS. LOBO: Thank you.
 21 THE CLERK: June 8, 9 A.M. stands.
 22
 23 (Off the record discussion not reported.)
 24
 25 * * * * *

PATSY K. SMITH, OFFICIAL COURT REPORTER
 (702) 671-3795

1 THE COURT: So the only information they
 2 have about the gun is the information he gave during the
 3 interview. So if the statement goes out, the gun goes out.

4 MS. OVERLY: Okay.

08:03AM 5 So, specifically, the State's Opposition
 6 references how the Miranda warnings and any illegally
 7 obtained statements is non-testimonial for purposes of
 8 somebody's rights being violated.
 9 So I just want to be clear that your
 08:03AM 10 Honor's ruling is independent of that, I guess, case law?

11 THE COURT: Do they have the gun without
 12 the statement? Do they get the gun without the statement
 13 from him as to where the gun was?

14 MS. OVERLY: Well, the argument is, your
 08:03AM 15 Honor, that his consent is not testimonial. So it's not 16 technically considered his statement. It's independent of
 17 the usual Miranda suppression because it's not testimonial.

18 THE COURT: I have a gun that he said was
 19 hidden here. That's the information received in the 08:04AM 20 investigation. I have the gun used in the murder. It's 21 located here.

22 MS. OVERLY: I understand, but the State's
 23 argument is that he consented to them accessing the 24 apartment to retrieve a firearm and that that consent
 08:04AM 25 allowed them to go inside and obtain that and then,

Hi Adrian,

Per Detective Sanborn, the CAT team reached out to Defendant's parole officer in California. CA P&P issued a warrant for Defendant's arrest. The CAT team was able to locate him through his girlfriend's lease. However, there were no reports generated by the CAT team.

Once the warrant was issued it was put into NCIC. However, per Detective Sanborn, once the Defendant is booked on the warrant it is cleared from NCIC. Thus, any NCIC run currently done would not reflect the warrant back when it was originally issued by CA.

As for the gun, that was recovered after Defendant gave consent to retrieve it. Metro subsequently did a SW to recover other evidence, which is why the gun is not on the return. The gun will be reflected in the CSA impound report. However, that has not yet been prepared. I'll provide that as well as the autopsy report when I receive it.

Thanks.

The following is the transcription of a tape-recorded interview conducted by DETECTIVE G. MAUCH P# 8566, LVMPD HOMICIDE SECTION, on February 16, 2018.

Q: Hey, how do these fools roll up? I mean, paint a picture for me. How they - how they come up at you, and how they, you know, how - how that whole confrontation go down, man?

A: It was, like, two other - two or three other people. Well, it's more than that. It's - we came through.

Q: Mm-hm.

A: But he, like, I was out there minding my own. That's it.

Q: Mm-hm.

A: I was minding my own. I don't get in nobody's business.

EVENT #: 180211-3549
STATEMENT OF: DEANDRE GATHRITE

Q: Mm-hm.

A: None of that. I don't do none of that.

Q: Mm-hm.

A: It's just, like, it just, like, it just happened, like, even, uh, the people that was out there.

Q: Mm-hm.

A: To dis you - this - but you know it - it just happened. It - nobody knew, like, nobody knew what's, like, it just - just was, like, it's - I don't know how to explain things.

Q: It all happened kinda quick, just kinda out of nowhere.

A: Yeah, but it - it was, like, not even a hour before, like, everybody was just chillin', you know.

Q: Mm-hm.

A: And then you come back with a attitude with your partners.

Q: Right.

A: Nobody paid no mind to it but, you know, hey, you got your own feelings. It's, like, I - I don't know what - I don't know what, like, I don't know.

Q: Okay. Well, let me...

A: It's, like...

Q: Let me ask you this, man. 'Cause here's - here's the magic question, man. I mean, I know they kinda run up. You ain't out looking for trouble, you know,

'cause that ain't you 'cause I know all about your history. I know all about what you, you know, we done done our research. You e- you feel me? So, I mean, I know I ain't talking to some bad dude. That's why I came in there and took the cuffs off of you, got you comfortable, and let you hug your kid. Be cool with you. You - you feel me? 'Cause I know what kinda p- I know what kinda person you are, man. So what I'm asking, man, basically, what it boils down to is why'd you pull the trigger, man? What happened? Walk me through it, man. Walk me through how it went down. You know what I'm sayin'? So I can explain that. That's what I'm trying to say 'cause I know that wasn't what - you didn't go lookin' for it.

A: No. I'm just, like, I hear everybody keep saying that, like, everybody's trying to say that I did it, and then somebody else get shot. That same night. And he was one of the ones that was out there.

Q: Right. Okay.

A: Yeah. Well, the - I don't know. It's, like, 'cause something happened a couple nights before.

Q: What was that? What happened a couple nights before?

A: Across the alley somebody shot up in a apartment.

Q: Was you there for that? Did you see that?

A: I was in that apartment.

Q: Oh, you was in the apartment that got shot up?

EVENT #: 180211-3549
STATEMENT OF: DEANDRE GATHRITE

- A: Yeah. And I left.
- Q: Okay. What was that all about?
- A: Just some...
- Q: Competition, man? Is they shooting up the trap spot or what?
- A: No, no trap.
- Q: Okay.
- A: I had this (unintelligible) basically homeless.
- Q: Okay. Somebody roll up and just shoot it up or what?
- A: Yeah, 'cause they thought whatever they was looking for was up there.
- Q: Okay. Do you know who he was lookin' for?
- A: I don't wanna find out.
- Q: Right. Do you know who was - who d- who did the shooting up into there?
- A: Yeah. They had this - they got his name and stuff. They - somebody had came up on this backpack.
- Q: Okay. So you talking about the detectives or somebody got his name or just...
- A: I think they might have his name, but somebody had came up on his backpack with his information in it.
- Q: Okay. So after being in an apartment, man, that gets shot up, you gotta be feeling some kinda way. You in there with your people or what?
- A: No. This older girl that I talk to and...
- Q: Right.

SURREPTITIOUS RECORDING

EVENT #: 180211-3549

STATEMENT OF: DEANDRE GATHRITE

A: ...all of her kids was in there.

Q: Damn.

A: And we was just in there - was just chillin'. We had barely got up. It was early in the morning.

Q: And y'all got kids and shit up in there?

A: Yeah. That's why I...

Q: Damn.

A: But then he bragged about it, talking about (unintelligible) four, five, six, Bloods, and this and that.

A: Then this night, this dude (unintelligible) mentioning that, then keep on going, like, keep on - keep on grabbing for his gun.

Q: So what's that make you feel like? I mean, you already been shot at once the night - couple nights before, right? And then he's over here doin' that. How you - how you feelin'? Uh, man, I mean, walk me, uh, you s- you - you see what I'm getting at?

A: I'm tryin'...

Q: Ho- how you feelin' when you see that, man?

A: I was trying to walk away. I was - I kept on trying to leave...

Q: Right.

A: ...with my other two but the one that got shot - we was all trying to leave.

EVENT #: 180211-3549
STATEMENT OF: DEANDRE GATHRITE

Q: Mm-hm.

A: And he kept on, and then he came up with his partners and they all got their hands in they pocket, grabbing they sh- stuff, talking about on Bloods, this and that.

Q, And what's that make you feel like? When people start grabbin', what you thinkin'? When - when you see people grabbin' like that, what you thinkin'?

A: I wanted to go home.

Q: All right. But what you thinkin' they grabbin' for?

A: I know. I seen it. I seen it.

Q: Seen what? That's what - you see - you see what I'm saying?

A: Man, I seen it.

Q: I'm helping you explain what you saw. So explain to me when - when you...

A: We all seen it.

Q: You seen what?

A: He had his gun in his pocket.

Q: All right. And what'd it look like?

A: It was - he had a few guns in there. I don't know which one it was, but...

Q: I mean, black, silver?

A: They said it - it was black but it fit in his pocket.

Q: Okay.

A: All those little partners are still over there.

SURREPTITIOUS RECORDING

EVENT #: 180211-3549

STATEMENT OF: DEANDRE GATHRITE

Q: Right.

A: You know what I'm sayin'? It wasn't - I don't - no competition, nothing.

Q: Right.

A: People come through to get tree, I tell 'em - run money...

Q: Right.

A: ...to you. I'm...

Q: Yeah.

A: I'm not on that. I'm - I'm not on nothing like that. Like, you know what I'm saying?

Q: Mm-hm.

A: You making money off me.

Q: Yeah, yeah, yeah.

A: I don't get nothing but, uh, probably a dollar brew if that - if I ask.

Q: For - okay.

A: I don't want nothing. I - I didn't - it wasn't, like, I was out there trying to gang or prove anything.

Q: Mm-hm.

A: You know what I'm saying? It's, like, you know what I'm saying? You - you in the situation that you trying to leave from, and it keeps - it es- escalates when you try to defuse it.

Q: So how did it escalate? They showing you guns and, I mean, that's escalating

EVENT #: 180211-3549

STATEMENT OF: DEANDRE GATHRITE

right there on they part, not your part. And what's next?

A: Just - I don't know, man. It just - was out there arguing too for a minute. It's, like...

Q: What's being said in the argument? Walk me through that. I mean, what they saying?

A: Like, he talking about, uh, "On Athens. Niggas ain't got no respect."

Q: Mm-hm.

A: Athens Park. Niggas don't respect what I say. This my trap spot." Like, bro, we not even - we sitting here drinking, just smoking blunts, bro. You, like, you're sitting here trippin'. For what?

Q: Mm-hm.

A: We do this every day. Every - i- if not every day, occasionally.

A: So it's, like, uh, oh, man. Oh.

Q: I mean, you gotta be feeling, like, you know, they had already shot up the place the night before or whatever.

A: Um, just - scared.

Q: And I would - who - who wouldn't be? Right? They had already shot the place up once before. It ain't, like, they just strapped up. I mean, you see 'em strap, but shit, two nights before or night before, whatever, they done shot that other spot up. I mean, so what it's, I mean, how does that make you feel? When you see - they had already shot the place up, and - and now you see 'em with guns again, how does that make you feel, man? I mean, just be real. Were you scared? You concerned? I mean...

A: I was scared. Like, 'cause...

Q: Okay. So as things escalate, and they - and they - they talkin' all this smack and reaching for they guns, how - how do you respond, man?

A: There was a problem when they first came up 'cause his - was in his pocket.

Q: Right.

A: And had his hand on it.

Q: Mm-hm.

A: Then he took his hand off, and that's how I seen it.

Q: Mm-hm.

A: And now his partner stand out there, but one of 'em got his in his hand.

Q: Mm-hm.

A: And they standing all right there. It's, like, just four of 'em.

Q: And with his shit out?

A: When he talk - yeah. He got it...

Q: Yeah.

A: ...in his hand.

Q: Okay. Yeah.

A: They - they talking and he - he's sitting there. I guess he the ring leader. He - he

- and now he pacing back and forth, putting his hand in his pocket, this and that, pacing back and forth. And then his homies step in the gate behind the wall.

Q: Okay.

A: We still outside the gate. He keep goin'. Damn. Just pull up. Dead - dead homies. Like, man, bro, you trippin', man. Like, we don't even be on nothing like that. We just be out here chillin'.

Q: Right.

A: Just, like, yeah, yeah, just...

Q: So what point in time did you pull yours out? I mean, 'cause he got they shit out first, so at what point in time you pull yours out? Was it before or after them?

A: Wasn't - wasn't before them.

Q: So it was after them.

A: Or I wouldn't have been able to be out there.

Q: Right. Exactly. So they got they's out, and at some point in time during this whole talking that they goin' back and forth, at what point in time do you pull yours out? It was, I mean, was it...

A: I don't know. It just - it just happened so fast.

Q: Okay. So walk me through from the point where you pull yours out and - and that whole process. They already got they's out first from what you tellin' me, so that's...

A: Can - can I smoke a cigarette? I'm just...

Q: Uh...

Q1: Hey, you care if you have an old one? I got some old ones there if that's okay.

You just wanna step out?

A: Uh, yeah. I had just...

Q: I'll text my boy and have him go - I'll text him to have - you said it's on the kitchen counter? All right.

A: Yeah. They're Newport (unintelligible).

Q: So at what point in time do you - so he's got his out first, and then you pull yours out. And then, I mean, what happens? Man, walk me through it.

A: It's, like, man, I don't know how to explain it.

Q: I mean, just explain it in your words, man. I mean...

A: The guy...

Q: I mean, the important part is that...

A: Everybody don't look at it the same. It...

Q: No, but, I mean, I'm looking at it as they got their shit out first. That's what you told me. And then...

A: If - if you ask anybody that was out there...

Q: They - I - I - it - hey. Been there, done that. That - that's why I'm - they got they's out like you said. Then you pull yours out. Walk me through the whole confrontation, man. That's all I'm saying.

A: Just - they, like, he just, uh, it's, like, he kept going, like, man. (Unintelligible).

Q: I - I just texted him, told him to bring those Newports off the counter, so - here he come right now. So what happened, man? You pull yours out and, I mean, walk me through that, man.

A: Well, when I, uh...

Q: Well, let me ask you this, man. Let me - let me ask you this, man. What made you pull the trigger? I mean, you already kinda told me a little bit from your perspective. They got they's out. They done shot up the place the night before, or a day or two before or whatever. And now you out here now. They acting all funky with you. They comin' at you all crazy. You know, they thirsty. They out there trippin. You know, they got they stuff out already.

A: It was - yeah.

Q: So what made you go, you know, pull the, you know, I mean, what...

A: It was, like, uh, it - it was, like, uh, it was, uh, out of fear 'cause I started running when I did it.

Q: Mm-hm.

A: I didn't know I really hit him until after. And they told me, like, "Man Dre." Like, "What, bro? Did I hit somebody?" And he said, "Yeah."

Q: Okay.

A: And then I just started hearing more shots. It's, like, they started shooting after me.

Q: Right.

A: So I just kept going. I just kept going. I didn't know what else to do.

Q: Right.

A: Just wanted to come home to my baby.

Q: Right, man.

A: I wasn't (unintelligible) nobody dead. I wasn't - so wasn't real - that's - this might be - I done change from that.

Q: Right.

A: My baby was born.

Q: What's his name?

A: My son?

Q: Mm-hm.

A: Junior. He's a junior.

Q: Okay.

A: And after my daughter I just slowed down. And - and then - and that was, like, they - they laughing at me 'cause I ran in there. Like, you scary when - I wasn't trying to do that. That was - that's not my intentions. I - mmm.

Q: I get it, man.

A: I don't...

Q: Mm-hm.

A: And then - 'cause the crowd I'm in this side, it - it's, like, they put me in the situation where I - I mean, I didn't - I wasn't, like, just, like, that's not, you know, I'm not gang member. I don't sell drugs like that. Smoke weed. I drink a lot of alcohol.

A: Anybody knows me know Dre is a alcoholic.

Q: Right, right, right. You ain't over there running no trap house, trying to make your ends meet or nothing, man?

A: Never.

Q: I mean - I mean, whether you is or ain't or whatever, I mean...

A: Never, bro.

Q: ...you don't...

A: I've never had a trap spot. I swear I've never had enough money to do nothing.

A: I just see him through there whenever he off of work or something. He come.

Q1: Okay.

A: We - we smoke a blunt, chill, you know, just chop it up.

Q1: Okay.

A: Sports or stuff like that. He cool.

Q1: Okay.

A: That's why when I heard I was like, "How?" And they said he was coming from the Eureka.

Q1: Okay.

A: And they said it was one of the dude that got shot homies 'cause they knew he was out there.

Q1: So the guy that shot TY was one of the guys that was out there earlier with all the stuff that happened with you?

A: Yeah.

Q1: Okay.

A: But his other friend stayed next door to those apartments. If you come down Van Patten, in those apartments on your left.

Q1: Mm-hm.

A: And the next apartment - it's on the bottom right, that first apartment in the corner, as soon as you cross the alley, that apartment at the bottom. It...

Q1: So the next - the next set of buildings after it?

A: Right next to it. His - he has the bottom in the corner. They call him, uh, like, like, Ray Dog.

Q1: Ray Dog?

A: Yeah. He stays right there. He was out there. He seen me.

Q1: So does he hang with you guys, or does he just happen to be outside too?

A: We was - it was me, him, and the guy that got shot. We were drinking and smoking.

Q1: Okay.

A: And - and dude had his little friends out there.

Q1: Well, I think it - it definitely helps that you're being honest with us, and providing us with this information, especially when I know a lot of this matches stuff we've already been told. So that's why I know you're being honest and truthful with us, so we - we definitely appreciate that. Did someone at least - someone else at least get the gun so we know it's not just hiding on the street somewhere, and some kid's not gonna come across it or something? Like, like, my partner said, I just wanna make sure s- someone doesn't pick it up that shouldn't have it, you know, someone young, anything like that.

A: No, I don't think no kids will be able to get to it.

Q1: Okay. Why is that? 'Cause of where it's at?

Q: So where can we recover the gun from, man? I mean, you doin' the right thing. Let's do the right thing. Feel me?

A: Just have a feeling I'm - might ne- never come home.

Q: What makes you feel that way, man? I been up front with you from the get go.

A: I know - 'cause - because s- somebody else can't...

Q: Somebody what?

A: Somebody else can't go home.

Q: Well, I mean...

Q1: Mmm.

Q: Sounds like that's on him, right?

A: (Unintelligible). I don't know what to do.

Q: Well, I mean, like I said, man, I mean, I'm gonna hop out of this car, and I'm a go talk to my boss and I'm a let him know that you cooperated and - and been truthful with me and up front with me. And that holds a lot of weight with him.

A: But...

Q: You know.

- Q1: Holds even more weight when, you know, if you tell us where we can kinda get this gun, make sure it's safe, and where it's supposed to be, and...
- Q: I mean, you ain't got nothing to hide- you done - you done been up front with me and kinda already told me the story. I mean, I mean, it's not gonna change the situation. It is what it is. They - they come up. They got guns out. You know, you already gave me the rundown. I mean...
- A: I was scared. So...
- Q: I - I - I get it.
- Q1: It makes sense. They got guns.
- Q: You know? I'm not here to judge you, man. I'm just here to figure out the facts, brother. Feel me? You know? And that's why we - and that's why I've come to you the way I come at you, man. You know? But I'm just being real with you. I mean, his big question is - he's gonna wanna know is where's the gun. You know, he ain't got nothing to hide, where's the gun? And I don't - I don't care if the gun is stolen or this, that, and the other. That's not my - that's not my concern right now. 'Kay. We'll be concerned about that, w- whatever with this - something funky with the gun, that - that's not - I'm not here for that. You feel me? It's kinda, like, the missing piece of the puzzle, man. We're just trying to close up all the loose ends on this thing, and - and that's one of the questions that's gonna be posed from him and his bosses and, you know, I gotta answer to it, man. My partner gotta answer to it. That's it. I know you're trying to, you
