(TS0000073). But before May 19, 2015, each of Adams, Kane and McEachern communicated to EC their agreement to vote as RDI directors to terminate plaintiff as President and CEO of RDI. App. Ex. 1 (EC 6/16/16 Dep. Tr. 175:17-176:8); App. Ex. 5 (Storey 2/12/16 Dep. Tr. at 96:5-91:4, 98:21-100:8, 100:14-101:11); App. Ex. 9 (Adams 4/28/16 Dep. Tr. at 98:7-17; 98:18-99:22); App. Ex. 9 (Adams 4/29/16 Dep. Tr. at 378:15-370:5); see also App. Ex. 6 (TS 8/31/16 Dep. Tr. at 66:22-67:20) and App. Ex. 26 (Dep. Ex 131).

During their planning that predated the supposed May 21 meeting, Kane sent an email to Adams on May 18, 2016, in which he (Kane) agreed to second the motion for plaintiff's termination:

See if you can get someone else to second the motion [to terminate Plaintiff as President and CEO]. If the vote is 5-3 I might want to abstain and make it 4-3. If it's needed I will vote. It's personal and goes back 51 years. If no one else will second it I will.

App. Ex. 19 (Dep. Ex. 81 at GA00005500).

Also prior to May 21, 2015, Kane and Adams discussed other motions related to plaintiff's termination, such as the appointment of an interim CEO. App. Ex. 9 (Adams 4/29/16 Dep. Tr. at 366:5–367:6); see also App. Ex. 20 (Adams Dep. Ex. 82 at GA00005502-03). In a May 19, 2015 email to Kane, Adams confirmed they had chosen sides in a family dispute:

Ed,

I am sorry, as I know your relationship with the family started long before they were born. I also know—and now see for myself-why SR placed such a high value on you and your counsel. More than anyone else on the board, you worked behind the scenes attempting to bridge every problem with the kids. Lastly, I know that more than anyone else, you have been at SR's side at every turn as he built his empire. I think you and I share a [sic] obligation to the family . . . . based upon our commitment to our friend.... Unfortunately, it seems that we have no choice but to choose a side.

App. Ex. 21 (Adams Dep. Ex. 85 at GA00005544-45 (emphasis added); see also App. Ex. 6 (TS 8/3/16 Dep. Tr. at 65:12-66:20). Where is the "interest" of RDI in this admission? NRS 78.138(1).

In the face of a pre-arranged agreement among Adams, Kane and McEachern to vote to terminate plaintiff, Gould warned that they all could "face possible claims for breach of fiduciary duty if the Board takes action without following a process . . . . " App. Ex. 318 (Gould Dep. Ex. 318). (Emphasis added). Storey used the term "kangaroo court," and observed as to the non-Cotter directors that, "as directors we can't just do what a shareholder [meaning EC and MC] asks." App. Ex. 22 (Kane Dep. Ex. 116) (emphasis added). Kane rejected their request to meet separately from the Cotters, stating that "the die is cast." App. Ex. 23 (EK Dep. Ex. 117 at TS000069).

The supposed May 21, 2015 special meeting was convened and concluded with no termination vote having been taken. Sept. 23, 2016 JJC Declaration In Support of Plaintiff's Motion ("JJC Decl.") ¶ 11.

On or about Wednesday, May 27, 2015, a lawyer representing MC and EC in the California Trust Action sent an attorney representing Plaintiff in that action a document outlining terms on which EC and MC would resolve their disputes with him. Id.  $\P$  12; App. Ex. 4 (MC 6/15/16) Dep. Tr. at 154:19–156:19); App. Ex. 32 (Dep. Ex. 322). Not coincidentally, EC on May 27, 2015 emailed RDI directors stating "that the board meeting held last Thursday [May 21] was adjourned, to reconvene this Friday, May 29, 2015. The board meeting will begin at 11:00 a.m. at our Los Angeles office." JJC Decl. ¶ 13; App. Ex. 1 (MC 6/16/16 Dep. Tr. at 185:13-186:9); App. Ex. 35 (Dep. Ex. 340).

Once the termination threat had been made, Kane continued misusing his position of trust and power as a director at RDI to pressure Plaintiff to give in to the threat of his sisters and resolve his disputes with them by acceding to their demands. For example, on May 28 Kane wrote Plaintiff: "Ellen is going to present you with a global plan to end the litigation and move the Company forward. If you agree to it, you, Ellen and Margaret will work in a collaborative manner and you will retain your title." App. Ex. 4 (Dep. Ex. 118 at EK 00000396 (emphasis added). Kane further warned, "If it is a take-it-or-leave-it, then I STRONGLY ADVISE YOU TO TAKE IT, even though I have not seen or heard the particulars." Id. (emphasis added).

The supposed special board meeting on May 29 commenced and Adams made a motion to terminate Plaintiff as President and CEO. In response, Plaintiff questioned Adams' independence and/or disinterestedness. JJC Decl. ¶ 15. Adams refused to speak to the subject, and neither Gould nor any other RDI director received or required an explanation from Adams. Id. The supposed special meeting was adjourned until 6:00 p.m. that evening. Plaintiff was then told by Kane, McEachern and Adams that he needed to resolve his disputes with his sisters by then or they would to terminate him. Id. That threat was memorialized by director Storey, whose contemporaneous handwritten notes state:

long board discussion

ended with basically a command from "majority" - Jim go settle something with sisters in next hour or you will be terminated.

App. Ex. 5 (Storey 2/12/16 Dep. Tr. at 110:6–12); App. Ex. 15 (Storey Dep. Ex. 17) (emphasis added).

The Board reconvened telephonically around 6:00 p.m. and Ellen Cotter reported that she and Margaret Cotter had reached an agreement in principle with plaintiff to resolve their disputes. Ellen Cotter concluded that, while no definitive agreement had been reached, she would have one of their lawyers provide documentation to counsel for plaintiff. No termination vote was taken. JJC Decl. ¶ 16; Motion App. Ex. 3 (MC 5/13/16 Dep. Tr. at 368:13-369:22); see also App. Ex. 15 (Dep. Ex. 17) and Ex. 1 (Kane 5/2/16 Dep. Tr. at 191:6-24). On Wednesday, June 3, 2015, counsel for EC and MC transmitted a new document to counsel for JJC. JJC Decl. ¶ 17; App. Ex. 3 (MC 5/13/16 Dep. Tr. at 377:7-24); App. Ex. 28 (Dep. Ex. 167).

A few days later, on June 7 and 8, 2015, Kane admitted that the termination threat was in furtherance of the interests of EC and MC, not RDI. In a June 8 email to Plaintiff, Kane stated that "there is no one more qualified to be the CEO of this company than you." App. Ex. 2 (JCOTTER009286) (emphasis added). A day earlier, Kane said "I want you to be CEO and run the company for the next 30 years or more." Id. Kane thus confirmed that when he, Adams, and McEachern threatened to terminate Plaintiff and thereafter did so, they not only were not acting in the interests of RDI, but that they were acting against of RDI's interests, in breach of their fiduciary duties.

On June 8, 2015, Plaintiff advised EC and MC that he could not accept their so-called settlement document. MC responded that she would advise the RDI board of directors. JJC Decl. ¶ 18; App. Ex. 3 (MC 5/13/16 Dep. Tr. at 368:13-369:22); see also App. Ex. 3 (MC 5/12/16 Dep. Tr. at 271:22-279:7); App. Ex. 27 (Dep. Ex. 156). On Wednesday afternoon, June 10, 2015, EC transmitted an email to all RDI board members stating, among other things, that "we would like to reconvene the Meeting that was adjourned on Friday, May 29th, at approximately 6:15 p.m. (Los Angeles time.) We would like to reconvene this Meeting telephonically Friday, June 12 at 11:00 a.m. (Los Angeles time) . . . " JJC Decl. ¶ 19.

When the termination vote was rescheduled for the next day, Kane resumed pressuring Plaintiff stating on June 11, 2015: "I do believe that if you give up what you consider 'control' for now to work cooperatively with your sisters," Kane admonished, "you will find that you will have a lot more commonality than you think." App. Ex. 5 (Kane Dep. Ex. 306 at EK 00001613). "Otherwise," Kane threatened, "you will be sorry for the rest of your life, they and your mother will be hurt and your children will lose a golden opportunity." Id. Tellingly, Kane also wrote:

"[F]or now I think you have to concede that Margaret will vote the B stock. As I said, your dad told me that giving Margaret the vote was his way of 'forcing' the three of you to work together. Asking to change that is a nonstarter."

App. Ex. 5 (Kane Dep. Ex. 306) (emphasis in original).

On Friday, June 12, 2015, a supposed RDI board of directors special meeting was convened. Adams, Kane and McEachern voted to terminate JJC (as did MC and EC). App. Ex. 10 (Kane 5/2/16 Dep. Tr. at 191:25-192:12, 193:-194:10); App. Ex. 5 (Storey 2/12/16 Dep. Tr. at 139:22-140:11); see also App. Ex. 6 (TS 8/3/16 Dep. Tr. at 75:4-76:16 and 81:22-82:6). Kane in deposition admitted that JJC was fired because he did not acquiesce to the termination threat made by Kane, Adams and McEachern:

Kane: I—I said to him at one point, "Take it. You have nothing to lose. You're going to get terminated if you don't. If you can work it out with your sisters, it will go on and I will support you. I'll even make a motion to see if the company will reimburse the legal fees." I did not want him to go. And you, I'm sure, see emails in there to that effect. Even though I voted—was voting against him, I wanted him to stay as C.E.O.

But that resolution did not come to pass because Jim Cotter, Jr., rejected it, correct?

He rejected it, yes. Kane:

And he got himself terminated, right? Q.:

Yes. Kane:

b) The Aborted CEO Search

Rather than recite the record evidence regarding the CEO search again, Plaintiff respectfully refers the Court to his prior briefs and the evidence described therein and proffered therewith. See October 13, 2016 Oppositions to Partial MSJ No. 5 and Gould's MSJ and December 1, 2017 Supplemental Opposition to Partial MSJ Nos. 2 and 5. By way of summary, that evidence shows that the CEO search committee, comprised of MC, McEachern and Gould (after EC declared her candidacy and withdrew), effectively terminated the search on the same day EC declared her candidacy. That was the last day the committee had a substantive communication with Korn Ferry, the outside professional search firm employed and paid by RDI to lead the CEO search. Shortly thereafter, Korn Ferry was told to stand down, to not provide the agreed and paid for proprietary assessment of final qualified candidates and, in effect, to not interfere with the decision of MC, McEachern and Gould to ignore the fact that EC did not possess the experience and qualifications that they had agreed were the sine qua non to be selected as RDI's new CEO. The CEO search committee then presented (surprise!) EC as their choice, and did not present the full Board with the final three candidates as the previously set process prescribed. The Board dutifully agreed, and EC was made CEO. For Judy Codding, a close family friend who had been a Board member for only two months, that was the result she previously had determined to bring about, because it was her view that RDI was a "family business" of which only a Cotter should be CEO. JJC Decl. ¶ 24.

c) The Matters Which Were the Subject of MSJ No. 6

Because the Court is familiar with the matters raised in Partial

MSJ No. 6 and denied that motion, Plaintiff will not recite the record evidence bearing upon those matters. However, Plaintiff respectfully reminds the Court that it was director defendant Kane who, together with

Adams, authorized the exercise of the 100,000 share option, and did so notwithstanding the fact that (1) questions he deemed needed to be answered before doing so were not answered, and (2) the responses provided were identified as insufficient by director Storey. Together with the context of that conduct—to enable EC and MC to retain control of RDI-Plaintiff respectfully submits that these facts alone preclude dismissal of this action as against Kane.

Gould's Recurring Intentional Misconduct. d)

Rather than attempt to recite the record evidence contained in Plaintiff's oppositions to the various motions addressing matters to which Gould was a party, Plaintiff respectfully refers to Court to the motions. However, for ease of reference and the convenience of the Court, Plaintiff provides the following inventory of facts that he contends show that director-defendant Gould engaged in intentional misconduct, meaning that he intentionally failed of to act in the face of a known duty to act, demonstrating a conscious disregard of his duties to RDI, and/or that he intentionally acted with a purpose other than advancing the best interests of RDI. The inventory of misconduct includes the following:

- Gould failed to take steps to prevent or to terminate the efforts by Kane, Adams and McEachern to extort plaintiff.
- Gould failed to follow through and require Adams to produce, and the Board assess, information regarding his financial dependence on EC and MC, as a result of which Gould allowed Adams to cast the decisive vote to terminate Plaintiff.
- Gould failed to require the Board to decide whether the position taken by EC, that Plaintiff was required to resign as a director upon termination as an executive, notwithstanding the fact that Gould new the position was erroneous, thereby acquiescing to conduct that was erroneous if not improper.
- Gould acquiesced to the use of an executive committee he knew at the time it was put in place would be used to limit the participation of Plaintiff and Storey as directors.

Gould acquiesced to stacking the RDI board with unqualified loyalists to the Cotter sisters, even acknowledging at the time that he did not have sufficient opportunity to make an informed decision about whether to disagree or acquiesce. Gould as one of three members of the executive committee

- Gould as one of three members of the executive committee allowed EC to manipulate the process and then took affirmative steps to abort the CEO selection process, in order to bend to the wishes of EC to be CEO.
- Gould admitted at the time and subsequently that MC lacked real estate development experience, making her unqualified to be the senior executive vice president of RDI responsible for development of its valuable New York City real estate, but he nevertheless acquiesced to her being given that position and paid as if she were qualified.
- Gould acquiesced to EC's recommendation that Adams be given $50,000, without having any RDI basis for doing so.
- Gould took his cue from EC and Craig Tompkins and directed the discussion at the 1 hour and 25 minutes telephonic board meeting regarding the Patton Vision offer to the subject of whether the controlling shareholders would approve, thereby pre-empting and preventing any genuine consideration of how RDI should assess and respond to that offer.
- Gould repeatedly acquiesced to RDI issuing and not correcting erroneous SEC filings, including a June 15, 2015 Form 8-K that asserted the erroneous statement that Plaintiff was required to resign as a director upon termination as a senior executive, as well as a materially misleading if not erroneous Form 8-K in January 2016 regarding the selection of CEO, which included a statement from Gould implying that the selection of EC was the result of a "thorough search process," when in fact the process had been aborted and selection was not the result of the proper process.

The motion papers are devoid of any explanation, much less justification, for the conduct of Kane, McEachern and Adams in threatening Plaintiff with termination in order to force him to settle trust disputes with his sisters on terms that suited them, as distinguished from terms suitable to RDI. The evidence regarding the aborted CEO search, for which MC, Gould and McEachern are responsible, likewise raises disputed issues of material fact that preclude dismissal of this action against any of them. Finally by way of example, when viewed collectively and in context, as it must be, Gould's recurring abdication of his fiduciary responsibilities evidences disputed issues of material fact that require denial of Gould's separate motion.

$MORRIS\ LAW\ GROUP$ E. Bonneville Ave., Ste. 360 · Las Vegas, Nevada 89101 702/474-9400 · FAX 702/474-9422

IV. CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated above, the Court should clarify, reconsider, and vacate its rulings on Partial MSJ Nos. 1 and 2, and on Gould's MSJ.

Nominal Defendant.

THESE MATTERS HAVING COME BEFORE the Court on October 27, 2016, Mark G. Krum appearing for plaintiff James J. Cotter, Jr. ("Plaintiff"); H. Stanley Johnson, Christopher Tayback, and Marshall M. Searcy appearing for defendants Margaret Cotter, Ellen Cotter, Douglas McEachern, Guy Adams, Edward Kane, Judy Codding and Michael Wrotniak; Mark E. Ferrario and Kara Hendricks appearing for Reading International, Inc.; and Ekwan Rhow, Shoshana E. Bannett appearing for William Gould, on the following motions:

- Individual Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment (No. 1) Re: Plaintiff's Termination and Reinstatement Claims;
- Individual Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (No. 2) Re: The Issue of Director Independence;
- Individual Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (No. 3) On Plaintiff's Claims Related to the Purported Unsolicited Offer;
- Individual Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (No. 4) On Plaintiff's Claims Related to the Executive Committee;
- Individual Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (No. 5) On Plaintiff's Claims Related to the Appointment of Ellen Cotter as CEO;
- Individual Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (No. 6) Re:
   Plaintiff's Claims Related to the Estate's Option Exercise, the Appointment of Margaret Cotter, the Compensation Packages of Ellen Cotter and Margaret Cotter, and the Additional Compensation to Margaret Cotter and Guy Adams; and
- Defendants' Motion In Limine to Exclude Expert Testimony of Myron Steele, Tiago Duarte-Silva, Richard Spitz, Albert Nagy, and John Finnerty;

100040057_2

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED THAT the Motion for Partial Summary Judgment No. 1 is DENIED. There are genuine issues of material fact as to the issues related to interested directors participating in the process.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED THAT Rule 56(f) relief is GRANTED with respect to Motion for Partial Summary Judgment No. 2, and supplemental briefing will be discussed once the relevant discovery is complete. The independence issue needs to be evaluated on a transaction or action-by-action basis, because the independence related to each needs to be separately evaluated; even though facts overlap, the Court cannot evaluate this in a vacuum. Motion for Partial Summary Judgment No. 2 is CONTINUED pending Plaintiff's submission of a supplemental opposition.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED THAT Rule 56(f) relief is GRANTED with respect to Motion for Partial Summary Judgment No. 3, because depositions have not been completed and the relevant documents have not been produced. Motion for Partial Summary Judgment No. 3 is CONTINUED pending Plaintiff's submission of a supplemental opposition.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED THAT Motion for Partial Summary Judgment No. 4 is GRANTED IN PART. As to the formation and revitalization (activation) of the Executive Committee, the motion is GRANTED; as to utilization of the committee, the motion is DENIED. Formation and revitalization includes a decision by the company to make use of their previously dormant Executive Committee and put people on that Executive Committee.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED THAT Rule 56(f) relief is granted with respect to Motion for Partial Summary Judgment No. 5. Motion for Partial Summary Judgment No. 5 is CONTINUED pending Plaintiff's submission of a supplemental opposition.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED THAT Rule 56(f) relief is granted with respect to Motion for Partial Summary Judgment No. 6. Motion for Partial Summary Judgment No. 6 is CONTINUED pending Plaintiff's submission of a supplemental opposition.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED THAT the Motion in Limine to Exclude Expert Testimony of Myron Steele, Tiago Duarte-Silva, Richard Spitz, Albert Nagy, and John Finnerty is GRANTED IN PART. With respect to Chief Justice Steele, he may testify only for the limited purpose of identifying what appropriate corporate governance activities would have been, including activities where directors are interested, including how to evaluate if directors are interested. As to Dr. Finnerty, the Motion In Limine was WITHDRAWN. As to the other experts, the motion is DENIED. DATED this 20 day of December, 2016. of a breach whether they are in and of themselves a breach. See, there's a different concept that I'm trying to deal with as a trial judge than I think you're dealing with in your 3 motions, which it's your job. MR. TAYBACK: There's two issues. One is could it 5 be a breach as a matter of law. And my answer to that question is no. The second question is is there evidence that it's a breach. And the answer to that is no, as well. THE COURT: That's not what I said, Counsel. Is 9 this activity taken with other activities evidence of a breach 10 11 of fiduciary duty? MR. TAYBACK: I understand his argument, plaintiff's 12 13 argument. THE COURT: That's not his argument. That's what 14 15 trial judges think about. MR. TAYBACK: The question -- it begs the question, 16 though, is what is the breach. There has to be a specific 17 thing that occurred that is a breach --18 THE COURT: Uh-huh. 19 MR. TAYBACK: -- as opposed to saying, this is a 20 course of conduct. And that's the way plaintiff has 21 characterized it. And the course of conduct can be relevant 22 to a breach --23 THE COURT: Yes. 24 MR. TAYBACK: -- but it begs the question what is 25 the breach, what is the breach. This is not the breach. is not a breach. It's not a valid basis for a breach claim. And to say it might be relevant evidence of something else, 3 some other breach, that's a decision you could make. THE COURT: You're not asking me to exclude evidence 5 of this, only to not instruct it or include it on a special 6 interrogatory that it could be found an independent breach --7 MR. TAYBACK: That's correct. 8 THE COURT: -- as opposed to evidence of breaches 9 that have occurred. 10 MR. TAYBACK: That's absolutely correct. 11 THE COURT: I just needed you to say that, because 12 13 that's not what your motion says. MR. TAYBACK: I believe it's not -- I believe 14 ultimately it wouldn't be relevant perhaps. But that's a 15 different question. That's a different question. And that's 16 not our motion. Our motion is to summarily adjudicate the 17 basis of this unsolicited offer as being a breach. 18 THE COURT: There is no -- there is no allegation of 19 the unsolicited offer as the breach of fiduciary duty claim. 20 It is one of many things that are alleged as evidence of 21 breach of fiduciary duty. 22 MR. TAYBACK: If I'm --23 THE COURT: I pulled the complaint to read it again, 24 25 because --

MR. TAYBACK: I did, too.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. TAYBACK: And if in fact we misunderstood what his basis of the alleged breach is, then you're right, then it's not an issue, then it's not an alleged breach how we dealt with the -- how the company dealt with this unsolicited offer. It's merely evidence. But it's only relevant evidence if it relates to a breach. And certainly I think somewhere in our motions we address the thing that he says was actually the breach. But begs the question is what he's saying is the breach. What occurred that breached a fiduciary duty by individual directors, individual directors. For instance, Mr. Wrotniak, who's never even been deposed, who's seemingly collateral to every theory that's being proffered by the plaintiff, was in the room to discuss this particular unsolicited offer. What, if anything, did he do to breach any duty, and what is the relevance, I suppose, to address Your Honor's question, of how he did it to some other breach that is alleged but unspecified at least in our conversation right now as to what it is that plaintiff is saying breached a fiduciary duty to the company. THE COURT: Okay. Anything else?

MR. TAYBACK: Only if you have questions, Your

24 Honor.

THE COURT: I don't have any more. I asked you them.

MR. KRUM: Your Honor, as I see this motion, the partial issue is the one you identified. And it's not just this motion, it's arguably all of them. But it's certainly this one. It's certainly the executive committee motion. And I've said this. I said it when we moved for leave to amend. We pleaded the complaint this way, as you saw it. We haven't alleged 10 or however many isolated acts as individual unrelated fiduciary duty breaches. That's not the nature of the case. And in point of fact the offer issues in some respects sort of close the loop that begun with the seizure of control of the company. So I can go through that whole argument that you've obviously read and you understand better than I do, because you try cases all the time. It's an argument that is a practical, realistic, and legal issue from the perspective of trying a case, it's an argument that has a basis in the law of corporate fiduciaries.

THE COURT: So let me ask you a question. So you've got your couple of breach of fiduciary duty claims and your aiding and abetting claim, and it is your intention, I assume, to submit special interrogatories to the jury.

MR. KRUM: Yes.

THE COURT: What are you going to ask them?

MR. KRUM: Well, I need to finish the discovery. I'm not trying to be nonresponsive, Your Honor, but, for example, we're talking about the offer. I haven't deposed a single witness, so I can't tell you today whether I'm going to take the position that what transpired with respect to the offer is evidence only or is evidence and independent breach. Your question is a perfectly correct question. I acknowledge that.

THE COURT: Okay. So when after you finish the discovery are you going to be able to answer that question for me? Because that impacts like six of these motions.

MR. KRUM: That, Your Honor, is on our whole list of trial-related activities to perform. So obviously we'll turn to that as quickly as we can after we complete the discovery. Perhaps I can answer it when we speak on December 1st. I'll do my best.

And, by the way, I have all sorts of arguments here on this particular motion, a 56(f) argument about the facts and the law.

THE COURT: I know.

MR. KRUM: But I assume you don't need to hear those from me.

THE COURT: No. The reason I did this one next is because it's the most closely related to the 56(f) issues. And it makes it hard for you to finish when you don't have the last little bit of information, haven't finished the depos. But I was hoping you could tell me what questions you thought you were going to ask the jury.

will have to, as discussed, decide what exactly the special interrogatories are going to be. But it is absolutely, positively compelling evidence of what transpired here. It was a whole exercise to seize and perpetuate control. So it's not -- it's not -- you know, it's legal and therefore everything is copacetic is just wrong as a matter of law.

I don't have anything unless you have questions for me.

THE COURT: Thank you.

The motion related to the executive committee is granted in part. As to the formation and revitalization of the committee the motion is granted.

As to the utilization of the committee it's denied.

MR. KRUM: Point of clarification, Your Honor. By revitalization are you referring -- is that something different than -- that's activation? Is that what that is?

THE COURT: Activation. I think you called it repopulation, putting people on it. I'm not including utilization, which is the activities of the executive committee afterwards.

MR. KRUM: And utilization includes the purposes for which these other activities were done?

THE COURT: No. Formation and revitalization include a decision by the company, whether it's a decision by the company to make use of their previously dormant executive plaintiff. There's no wrong to the company for the company following the bylaws, following Nevada law, following the terms of the contract, and on these facts, taking them as he said, where people are fighting and its infecting the operation of the company for the board to say, I'm picking these two over that one. It's literally that simple. THE COURT: Okay. Are you done? MR. FERRARIO: Yes. THE COURT: All right. The motion's denied, as there are genuine issues of material fact and issues related to interested directors participating in a process. If I could go to the motion in limine related to plaintiff's experts. So, for the record, in September of 2013 I spoke on a panel called Multijurisdiction Case Management Litigation Being Pursued in Multiple Forums with Chief Justice Myron Steele. I don't think it affects my ability to be fair and impartial, but I make that disclosure to you just in case you need it. MR. SEARCY: Thank you, Your Honor. I'll try and go through the four experts that were touched upon in our motion in limine fairly briefly, because it's getting late.

LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, MONDAY, DECEMBER 11, 2017, 10:24 A.M. 1 (Court was called to order) 2 MR. FERRARIO: Ms. Hendricks has something to take 3 up with you. 4 5 MS. HENDRICKS: I just have a question. THE COURT: On what? 6 MS. HENDRICKS: On how many drives we each need. 7 THE COURT: Wait. That's not me. Wait. Don't go 8 9 there yet. MS. HENDRICKS: Okay. 10 THE COURT: Who are you looking for? 11 MR. MORRIS: I'm so unaccustomed to being on the 12 13 plaintiff's side. (Pause in the proceedings) 14 THE COURT: All right. So moving on. Good morning. 15 We were talking about the pro bono awards at the 8:00 o'clock 16 session this morning, and Mr. Ferrario didn't get one this 17 year, so I was giving him a hard time because nobody from his 18 firm did a lot of work. But apparently they did. It just 19 didn't get reported because it was done with a different 20 21 agency. Right, Ms. Hendricks? 22 MS. HENDRICKS: Yes. We're getting that fixed right 23 24 now. THE COURT: Okay. So before we start on your 25

motions I need to hit some practical problems. As those lawyers who practice here in the Eighth all the time know, as the chief judge I do not have a courtroom. That occurred because when the Complex Litigation Center was investigated for purposes of conducting the CityCenter trial we determined that it had a structural issue and some electrical issues. As a result, we did not renew the lease --

When was that, Mr. Ferrario?

MR. FERRARIO: It was 2013.

THE COURT: In 2013 we did not renew the lease, and since that time we have been down one courtroom. The person who gets screwed is the chief judge. So since 2013 we have had the chief judge be a floater. Unfortunately for you guys, I'm the first judge who kept my docket, because Business Court cases have a lot of history and it's not one of those things you can get rid of and assume somebody else is going to be able to be familiar with it fairly quickly.

So the down side for all of you is that I don't have a courtroom. Which is why sometimes we borrow Judge Togliatti's courtroom when you guys see me, sometimes in this courtroom. And you've been in the two Family Court courtrooms a couple of times here. I also have judges who lend me their courtrooms on a regular basis on the third floor, and sometimes I have courtrooms in other places in the building I borrow.

Recently I learned that I am going to be able on behalf of the court to acquire the seventeenth floor that used to be occupied by the Supreme Court and to build a new Complex Litigation Center, because since 2013 every time we have a complex trial we build out a courtroom, it costs a quarter of a million dollars, and then when we're done with it we take it back down to put it back in regular shape. And so finally the County has realized that's probably not an effective use of the funds, and so we're going to build out the seventeenth floor as a complex litigation, jury, and criminal caseload accommodated. Unfortunately, that's a construction project, and it is in process. And when I say in process it means they're still in the bid evaluation process and it has to now go to something called long-term planning at County management, which means that some day there'll be a courtroom there. In the meantime -- $$\operatorname{MR}.$$  MORRIS: So our trial will start when the construction is complete on 17?

THE COURT: No, no. You're going to start. I just don't know where we're going to be, Mr. Morris. This is the reason for the speech, because Mr. Ferrario says nobody believes me that I don't have a courtroom. I don't have a courtroom. So I will have a courtroom when I end being chief judge. I'll go back to being a regular judge and I'll have a courtroom, and then the new chief won't have a courtroom unless we finish building out the seventeenth floor by then.

So right now the reason I'm telling you that is it impacts your trial. The trial I am currently in is a bench trial, so it's not a jury trial and we have moved from courtroom to courtroom during our 10 days we've been in proceedings so far. So we've not been in the same courtroom every day. But that's sort of the life of being in this department at the moment. That's the history.

Now let's go to the electronic exhibit part of our Brandi is the head of the Clerk's Office, Mike is problem. the head of IT, so they are the two people who are here to make sure that they are able to interact with you -- and then I'll let them leave while I hear your motions -- about the electronic exhibit protocol. Because when we use the electronic exhibit protocol there's two ways that we have to deal with it, from an IT standpoint and from the Clerk's Office standpoint. So instead of us hauling all the paper volumes from courtroom to courtroom, depending on where we're going to be, the clerk won't have to do that. They will have the drives, as Ms. Hendricks mentioned earlier, for that purpose so that Dulce will then -- after IT has cleared the drives Dulce will then work with the drives, and then we usually keep one that is called golden that we don't mess with, and we have one that's a working drive. But I'll let Mike explain that and Brandi explain it, because not all of you have been through the electronic exhibit protocol in the past.

Mike, you're up.

MR. DOAN: So this is a jury trial, so a high level. We expect three drives, a working copy, a golden copy, and then a blank for the jury that everything that gets accepted or submitted in a group will be over on that drive.

Depending on the number is drives is just based on the space. So if your teams, whoever's putting these drives together -- we have problems if you get a million exhibits on one drive or even 600,000 on one drive. Not so much even the space, it's just navigating through those files. And so as long as your team can navigate and view the files, that's okay for us. We don't have like a set number. We just ask that the drives be twice as big as the amount of the exhibits, because in theory everything could get accepted, and therefore everything would be stamped and there'd be duplicate on the drive.

THE COURT: And when it's stamped there's a program that goes through and it puts a stamp on each page of the electronic exhibit that says it's admitted so that we have your original proposed copy and then your admitted copy. The one drawback for lawyers is if you decide you want to admit a partial version if an exhibit, we cannot do that with electronic exhibits. We need you to submit a replacement electronic exhibit that includes only the pages that you are offering. That will then have an exhibit marker placed upon it. But I can't with the electronic exhibits admit pages 6 through 10 of the 25-page document.

So, Mike, what did I miss?

MR. DOAN: That's it.

THE COURT: Okay, Brandi. You're up.

MS. WENDELL: Have you already given them the ranges? Do we have --

THE COURT: No, we have not done ranges yet.

MS. WENDELL: Okay. The protocol is pretty basic. Your paralegals or your IT people that are going to be working on those might have questions. Usually -- a lot of times on all the other trials Litigation Services was used. They're very familiar with this program. I'm not advocating for them or anything, but if anybody's contracted with them, they're pretty familiar with how to do it. It's really important that you pay attention to the naming convention. Make sure there are no letters in it. It has to be strictly numbers and then .pdf. The last time there was a question about whether .tifs worked, and Mike was able to verify that .tifs are -- we're able to use those. But color photos can be done as long as there's a little border up at the top for the stamping program to mark all of the information.

Another thing that we have found useful, it's not in the protocol, but at least a couple weeks before the trial starts we do like a dry run, because your exhibit list, the templates that Dulce went ahead and emailed to you, you cannot change that, the formatting. It's critical because Mike's team will do a validation, and it validates the exhibit numbers to what is on the drive, each exhibit. And it'll identify if there's something that's missed or skipped that's on the list but it's not actually on the drive. And a lot of times there's been some formatting problems when people try to get creative. So, you know, just a little advice that we found from trial and error that that is an important piece.

What else?

MR. DOAN: That's the biggest thing, is if you can get with us -- and we'll make ourselves available as soon as you're available to do like an initial run before you start all printing and doing all these other things just so everything can be tested for format so there's not a lot of time wasted.

MS. WENDELL: The clerk must have -- the exhibit list must be printed out.

THE COURT: Not in 2 font, Ms. Hendricks.

MS. HENDRICKS: [Inaudible] that was not our office's fault, Your Honor.

MS. WENDELL: That should be in a binder so that the clerk as you're actually offering and admitting the evidence

during the trial, she'll be working on that. Later that day 1 she'll be doing the electronic stuff or we'll have a second clerk that'll be helping her. Antoinette is court clerk 3 supervisor, and so she's here to make sure that, you know, if 4 we have any questions that have to be answered. 5 A lot of times -- oh. Last trial somebody asked if 6 because the exhibit list itself was going to be like 14 of 7 those big binders, they asked if they could print on the front 8 and the back. That was in Judge Kishner's big trial. We let 9 them do it, and -- but the trial settled, so it wasn't an 10 issue. 11 THE COURT: It's not a good idea. 12 MS. WENDELL: It's not ideal, so --13 THE COURT: Please don't do a front and back. 14 MS. WENDELL: Anybody have any idea how many 15 exhibits you're looking at? 16 THE COURT: We're going to start with them and do 17 our ranges first. But we're not quite there yet. 18 So if anybody has questions or your staffs have 19 questions, would you like contact information to reach out to 20 21 either Antoinette, Brandi, or Mike? MR. TAYBACK: Yes. 22 MS. HENDRICKS: That would be great, Your Honor. 23 THE COURT: So tell them or give them business 24 25 cards.

MS. WENDELL: Okay. 1 MR. FERRARIO: If you all have cards, then that'd be 2 3 easiest. THE COURT: They're County employees. 4 5 mean they get cards? MR. DOAN: Yeah. 6 THE COURT: Oh. Look at that. 7 MR. DOAN: You know, and it's best to have one point 8 9 of contact so then we don't get confused. MS. WENDELL: I'm putting my cards away now. 10 THE COURT: Who do you guys want to be the person 11 that calls? Do they want to call Antoinette, they want to 12 call you, want call Mike? 13 MS. WENDELL: Well, Antoinette is -- she's not 14 Dulce's direct supervisor, but I can be the point of contact, 15 and then I can go ahead and let you guys know. My email 16 address and my phone number are both on here. If you could 17 pass some of these out, that'd be great. And then I'll 18 probably hand you off depending on the questions that come up. 19 Most of them are going to be technical questions, but I'll try 20 21 to help if I can. THE COURT: All right. So do you have any more 22 questions for the Clerk's Office, the IT folks, in the 23 electronic exhibit protocol? You will notice because of what 24 happened in CityCenter in paragraph 6 it now says the exhibit 25

list will be font size 12, Times New Roman. So we're very specific on what size, because the clerk's actually have to 2 work with the paper copy. And so although you can blow up the 3 Xcel spreadsheet and see it when it's 2 font, they can't. So 5 we have to have it in a larger font. Any more questions? 6 Okay. Mr. Krum, how many exhibits do you think 7 you're going to have so I can set the exhibit ranges? 8 MR. KRUM: The answer is it's in the hundreds, not 9 in the thousands. So if --10 THE COURT: So if I give you 1 to 9999, you will be 11 12 okay? MR. KRUM: Yes. 13 THE COURT: All right. Who wants to have 10000 as 14 their start? Mr. Searcy, how many have you got? 15 MR. SEARCY: I think our approximation is basically 16 the same. It's in the hundreds, not the thousands. So if we 17 had 10000 to --18 THE COURT: 1999 [sic]? 19 20 MR. SEARCY: Yeah, that would be perfect. THE COURT: I have to give you lots of extras, 21 because if you're going to do partial exhibits, we need that 22 space to be able to add those. So if you've got subparts of 23 one exhibit, I need an exhibit number for each one of those. So I'm giving you more than you need.

1	Mr. Ferrario, how many do you need?
2	MR. FERRARIO: Your Honor, Your Honor, I would
3	suspect our any exhibits we would introduce independent of
4	what Mr. Krum and the other defendants would be nominal. So
5	you can give us a very short range.
6	THE COURT: 20000 to 2499 [sic].
7	THE COURT: Who else wants exhibit lists that's not
8	one of those three? Anybody else need
9	MR. TAYBACK: Counsel for Mr. Gould is sitting
10	behind me.
11	THE COURT: So Mr. Gould's counsel, you want about
12	the same range Mr. Ferrario has, 25000 to 30000?
13	MR. RHOW: That's fine, Your Honor. Just for
14	protocol
15	THE COURT: Hold on. They've got to get your name,
16	because otherwise I'm going to get really I'm going to
17	screw up.
18	MR. FERRARIO: Can you let Ekwan speak today? He's
19	been here all he hasn't even got to argue one time, Your
20	Honor.
21	THE COURT: All right, Mr
22	MR. RHOW: I'm actually in this case. Ekwan Rhow,
23	Your Honor. Thank you.
24	THE COURT: Okay.
25	MR. RHOW: We can have a separate range for sure,

but is there any problem with incorporating Mr. Gould's exhibits into the exhibits for Mr. Searcy that he presents?

THE COURT: There is absolutely no problem with your exhibits being within their exhibit range, but I need to give you a separate range for your own in case you all don't reach an agreement.

MR. RHOW: I see.

THE COURT: So my exhibit ranges based on what I've heard today is 1 to 9999 for the plaintiffs, 10000 to 1999 [sic] for the Quinn Emanuel folks and their associated, which includes Mr. Edwards; right? Okay. And 20000 to 2499 [sic] for Mr. Ferrario and his team. And, Mr. Krum, we gave you 25000 to 2999 [sic] for Mr. Gould.

Do we anticipate there is anyone else who's going to need more numbers? Anybody else who's going to show up randomly in the case?

All right. Any other stuff I need to do on your part?

MS. WENDELL: No. Based on that, that's very good news. The goal will be for all counsel to prepare your exhibits and then everybody put them one drive. The only reason why we do different drives is because if there's like 10,000 exhibits on one, like Mike said, so if there's any way possible -- and you all have to use the same exhibit list template. Now, if that's a problem to do that, then if your exhibits are on your own hard drive, then your exhibit list 1 must be what is on that drive. So if two of you get together or three of you get together, everything that's on that drive 3 must be one exhibit list, because it cross-checks and makes 4 5 sure it validates. THE COURT: So it's okay for the plaintiffs to have 6 one drive and an exhibit list of 1 through 9999 -- or up to 7 that number, and the defendants to decide jointly they're just 8 going to use the 10000 to 1999 [sic], have one drive, and one 9 1.0 exhibit list? MS. WENDELL: That is okay. But based on the size, 11 you know, we're -- I think that, you know, it's better to 12 13 always have one --THE COURT: Yeah. But you're asking for 14 15 cooperation? MS. WENDELL: Yes. 16 THE COURT: Just because you worked for Commissioner 17 Biggar for however many years and you could make them 18 cooperate doesn't make I can as a trial judge. 19 All right. So anybody else have more stuff? 20 21 Yeah. Your history will never die. MS. WENDELL: I know. It's going to follow me out 22 23 of here in February. THE COURT: All right. Anybody else have any more 24 questions for my IT team or my Clerk's Office team so that they can leave and not have to sit here through your motion 1 2 practice? Dulce wants you to set the dry run date today. 3 have a holiday coming up, and you have asked me to let you go 4 5 the second week. I'm going to be able to accommodate that request. I found some victim to go the first week. 6 MR. FERRARIO: So we start on the 8th now? 7 THE COURT: Plan is for you to start on the 8th. So 8 9 when do you want your dry run to be with your staff to bring over the lists and the drives? It doesn't have to be you 10 guys. It can be your paralegals. 11 MR. FERRARIO: But you said you want enough time in 12 case there's glitches. So --13 MS. WENDELL: If there's a glitch, then you'll need 14 15 time to fix it. MR. FERRARIO: So at least the week before -- we 16 17 need it two weeks before; right? THE COURT: Two weeks before is the week of 18 Christmas, so we'll be here the 26th through the 29th working 19 20 that week. 21 MR. FERRARIO: And then you guys will be here to do 22 that? MR. DOAN: We'll make it work. 23 THE COURT: Some of them will be here. 24 25 MR. FERRARIO: I think it has to be that week in case there's a problem. Because then the following week is short, and then we're right up on trial and won't be able to correct any of the stuff.

MR. KRUM: So why don't we say the 29th?

THE COURT: You guys all okay with the 29th? What time do you want to meet?

MR. KRUM: I think we need to talk to the people who are going to do it.

THE COURT: Okay. I would recommend the morning.

And the reason I recommend the morning is typically on the weekend of New Year's Eve they try and get everybody out of downtown by about 2:00 o'clock because of all the things that happen in the streets here on that weekend.

MR. KRUM: Understood.

THE COURT: So -- and we will tell you what courtroom we are able to find. I'm pretty sure on that day I could get a courtroom on this floor. And if you guys want a morning, if you can accommodate that, we'll do that.

19 Otherwise --

MR. FERRARIO: I'm going to tell you, Judge,
[inaudible] people are going to be in this trial, I think if you could convince Judge Sturman to let you have this for the length of the trial, that would [inaudible].

THE COURT: She has a trial that I had to vacate when her mom became ill that I think she's going to try and restart in January. I will know better when she actually gets 1 back to town. But we will talk to her. Her courtroom and 2 Judge Johnson's courtrooms are equipped differently than the 3 other courtrooms, so they are a little bit bigger. 4 MR. FERRARIO: Yes. This would accommodate 5 6 [inaudible]. I was thinking of putting you in THE COURT: 7 Potter's courtroom and having a special corner for you. 8 MR. KRUM: Your Honor, I've just been reminded that 9 10 it was presumptuous of me to speak for others. THE COURT: You want to talk to the staff members to 11 see who's taking the week off? 12 MR. KRUM: Here's the question. And I'm now taking 13 Mr. Ferrario's line. Would it be possible for us to start the 14 following week so we could make --15 THE COURT: No. We won't get done. If we do that, 16 we won't get done in time for me to do my February stuff. 17 It's a five-week stack. It starts on the 2nd of January. 18 if you need to talk to your teams and see if being here on 19 January 2nd at 8:00 o'clock in the morning is a preference for 20 them instead of the 29th, which gives you -- you lose the 21 weekend, but you're here the rest of the time. It gives you 22 almost two weeks to straighten it out. 23 MR. KRUM: Okay. 24 THE COURT: And that's okay with me. Even though 25

Mike would say he needs two weeks before, January 2nd is okay 2 with me. MR. KRUM: Okay. We will check with our people. 3 THE COURT: Okay. So any other electronic exhibit 4 5 lists? So, Dulce, just mark them down that they are 6 planning to visit with you on January 2nd. I'm fairly certain 7 I can find a courtroom on January 2nd, but there's no 8 9 guarantees on that day. All right. 'Bye, guys. Thank you for being here. 10 Antoinette, thank you for being here. I know it's going to be 11 12 exciting again. All right. That takes me to the motions. Do you 13 have a preferred order you'd like to argue them in? I usually 14 try and do the summary judgments and then go to the motions in 15 16 limine. MR. KRUM: That would be our suggestion, as well. 17 MR. TAYBACK: That makes sense, Your Honor. You can 18 go numerical order is fine. 19 THE COURT: Whatever you want to do. 20 Can I have my calendar. I don't need -- well, I 21 have notes all over the motions, so --22 MR. FERRARIO: Are we on the clock? 23 THE COURT: You have until five till 12:00. 24 we've got an hour.

(Pause in the proceedings)

MR. TAYBACK: Mr. Krum was just suggesting that I raise the parties' -- both filed joint motions -- or filed motions to seal. We'd ask you to grant them.

THE COURT: Is there any objection to any of the motions to seal? They weren't all motions to seal. Some of them were motions to redact, and that was appropriate. The motions to seal I do have a question for Mr. Morris's office, and so I'll ask you -- hold on, if I can find the one I wrote the page on. Got a question. It was a process question, not a substance question, so let me hit it before we go to the next step.

When you sent me a courtesy copy and the courtesy copy had a sealed envelope in that did you also file the sealed version of the document that has like this sealed envelope that's with the Clerk's Office?

MS. LEVIN: I don't believe, Your Honor.

THE COURT: And we have to do it that way --

MS. LEVIN: Okay.

THE COURT: Because otherwise I can't even grant your motion now, because then it's going to get screwed up.

MS. LEVIN: I understand, Your Honor. And I think that this was based on our conversations with the clerk, who said you cannot submit it until you have the order. And we were saying, but that --

THE COURT: No. You submit it when you file the motion. When you file the motion with it, which is why you have to file them at the counter. You can't efile when you're filing under seal.

MS. LEVIN: Right.

THE COURT: And that's why it gets screwed up.

So I have some process concerns about the plaintiff's filings related to that, and I'm going to let you and Dulce talk about those after we finish the hearing to see, if we can.

I'm going to grant the motion, but it may be that you have to do something different to have a motion that actually goes with it to the Clerk's Office instead of an order. Because having the order will not accomplish what you want.

All right. So to the extent that you asked previously for a motion to seal and/or redact, it appears to be commercially sensitive information related to financial issues, and there's some other sensitive information that relates to individuals' personal information, so I'm going to grant the requests for sealing and redacting that have been submitted.

Okay. You're up. What motion do you want to start with?

MR. TAYBACK: It'll be Summary Judgment Motion

Number 1. And it also -- there's -- relates to Summary

Judgment Motion Number 2. So I will argue them jointly. They were at least opposed jointly, and we replied jointly with respect to those two motions.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. TAYBACK: I'm here on behalf of the director defendants Michael Wrotniak, Judy Codding, Douglas McEachern, Edward Kane, Guy Adams, Margaret Cotter, and Ellen Cotter. As Your Honor will recall and as addressed in the briefing, Your Honor said, and this is a truism, really, for any case, you've got to analyze claims defendant by defendant, in this case director by director, and transaction by transaction. And that's, you know, just basic, basic legal analysis.

On top of that, sort of as an overlay, another thing that I know Your Honor is well aware of is the recent law that clarifies -- I see you chuckling --

THE COURT: I don't know anything about the Wynn-Okada case. You don't know anything about it, because your firm wasn't involved at all, and Mr. Ferrario doesn't know anything, and Mr. Morris I'm sure was involved, too, because he's been involved in some of the appellate process in that case, too.

Right, Mr. Morris?

MR. MORRIS: Yes.

THE COURT: See, so we all know.

MR. TAYBACK: But all I need to know, all I need to 1 know and all I really care about here and all that matters 2 here is the language of the Supreme Court's opinion, because 3 that's really what animates the business judgment rule in Nevada as we stand here now. And I think that combined with 5 the recent clarifications by the legislature regarding the 6 latitude afforded directors work together to set the bar very, 7 very high. I'm sure Your Honor has read the opinion multiple 8 times, applied it in that case, a case I'm not privy to, but 9 it's --10 THE COURT: I did. I granted partial summary 11 judgment, which is on a writ. 12 MR. TAYBACK: And, as you well know --13 THE COURT: Are we supposed to be calling somebody? 14 MR. FERRARIO: No. 15 THE COURT: I have a call-in number. I'm not in 16 charge of doing this. 17 (Pause in the proceedings) 18 THE COURT: Hold on. Apparently someone thinks 19 20 they're calling in. MR. RHOW: It's okay, Your Honor. No need. 21 22 here. It was you? THE COURT: Oh. 23 24 MR. RHOW: Not necessary. THE COURT: Okay. Good. I'm glad we don't have to 25

Okay. Keep going. So I granted partial summary judgment, but I found some directors were not disinterested, so not all of the directors were covered by the summary judgment. I also in that case made a determination the business judgment rule only applies to officers and directors, it does not apply to the corporation itself. Just so you know.

MR. TAYBACK: And I'm aware of that only through having read the pleadings and having read now the court's opinion here. But the question is as it applies to this case. And as it applies to this case collectively that recent guidance and the guidance from the legislature make it clear that it's not really the province of a plaintiff or a court or jury to come in and say the business judgment rule should be overridden in order to second guess a particular decision made by a corporation's directors or its officers. And if you start at that premise, the idea that the applicable Nevada statutes here elevate -- give that sort of latitude to directors in the first instance and then you take it to sort of the next level of analysis, that is to say, even if one could rebut the presumption, even it's rebutted the standard then for imposing liability is even higher, because there remains still a two-prong test for which plaintiffs have to show a material disputed issue of fact to proceed to trial.

Both an individual director on a particular transaction 1 breached their fiduciary duty and, secondly, that that individual director did so with fraud, knowing -- as a knowing 3 violation of the law or engaged in intentional misconduct. 4 THE COURT: Well, you understand that finding is 5 6 only needed to make a determination as to whether the individual officer or director is insulated from -- for 7 personal liability purposes, as opposed to derivative 8 9 liability, which would be funded through the corporation. MR. TAYBACK: Correct. 10 THE COURT: Okav. 11 MR. TAYBACK: Though they are seeking personal 12 liability. Their complaint makes that clear. 13 THE COURT: I understand they are. But your motion 14 seemed to take the position that unless I found fraud they 15 need to be dismissed. And that's not how it works. 16 MR. TAYBACK: Well, but they do need to rebut the 17 presumption with respect to the business judgment rule: 18 THE COURT: That's a different issue, Counsel. 19 MR. TAYBACK: It is a different issue. And it's a 20 21 multiple-hurdle test. THE COURT: Yes. 22 MR. TAYBACK: And with respect to that second hurdle 23 even the issue comes down to Your Honor's adjudicating their 24 claim for personal liability, then that's also part of the motion.

But you don't need to get there, because they have not established the evidence necessary to rebut the initial presumption. And that's clear because when you look at what governs the decision here by these individual directors on termination, which I'm going to take that transaction because that's the subject of our first motion for summary judgment, if you look at that, what governs that decision are the bylaws. And the bylaws which we've submitted are amply clear that the board was given complete discretion, that officers, including the CEO, serve at the pleasure of the board and can be terminated with or without cause at any time.

With the bylaws being the operative rules of the road, so to speak, and the law being what it is with respect to the deference afforded boards and individual board members, plaintiff's efforts to try to get around the idea that that presumption should be applied here are based on generalized allegations of disinterestedness. But you don't see specific evidence in the record anywhere that any of the three directors who voted to terminate Mr. Cotter, Jr. --

THE COURT: And you're including Mr. Adams in that, are you?

MR. TAYBACK: I am including Mr. Adams in that.

THE COURT: Just checking. So what happens if I make a determination that Mr. Adams is not disinterested? You then do not have a majority of disinterested directors; correct?

MR. TAYBACK: If you made that finding that would be true. But it wouldn't change the liability, the claim against Mr. McEachern or Mr. Kane.

THE COURT: You mean for personal liability? MR. TAYBACK: I mean whether -- not whether or not you can say we need to revisit that action, but whether or not they were disinterested, whether they breached their fiduciary duty. That would be adjudicated in their favor even if you found against Mr. Adams on a particular transaction -- but I would say you should not find against Mr. Adams on this transaction. The evidence isn't that his -- that the decision to terminate had any connection to his -- the level of his income, the amount of his -- the amount of his income, the amount of his expenditures, his continuity on the board. There's no connectivity, which is required in order to find disinterestedness even if disinterestedness was the standard. Because I will say the standard in Nevada is not independence for -- unless it's a transaction in which the director is on both sides of the transaction or it's a change of control circumstance. The termination of a CEO is an operational matter where you don't get to the independence question unless and until you have established a basis, a legitimate basis in the law to show that the presumption should not apply.

In light of the law, in light of the bylaws, in light of the undisputed evidence with respect to Mr. Adams, Mr. Kane, Mr. Wrotniak, the Cotter sisters, and Ms. Codding -- and, of course, Mr. Wrotniak and Ms. Codding weren't even on the board at the time of this transaction -- the fact is that there's no basis upon which to allow plaintiff's claim to proceed.

The last point that I want to make with respect to Summary Judgment Motion Number 1 and 2 as it relates to that point is the plaintiff has tried to really muddy the law. And I think whatever you ultimately decide on this motion for summary judgment — and I absolutely believe that these defendants are entitled to summary judgment on this record, but whatever you decide the parties will be well served by understanding Your Honor's view of the law. Because we do not see eye to eye with the plaintiffs on the law. They strive to import this Delaware entire fairness test.

THE COURT: I rejected that in Wynn, because that was the part that the Okada parties argued once the writ came back on [inaudible].

MR. TAYBACK: And notwithstanding that, I believe the plaintiffs are still advocating for it. It shows up in their papers.

THE COURT: I understand it's in their briefing.

MR. TAYBACK: And the law at least in Nevada with respect to that is that it doesn't apply here. Independence for the same reasons is not required for the benefit of the business judgment rule where, as here --3 THE COURT: You don't think the Shoen case says that 4 5 independence is required for application of business judgment rule? MR. TAYBACK: In Shoen to the extent it says that at 7 all it says it in the context of demand futility. It's not 8 9 the presumption that we're talking about here. And in fact that's -- I believe that's exactly what certainly the Wynn 10 11 Supreme Court --THE COURT: There's two Shoen cases; right? 12 13 MR. TAYBACK: Yes. THE COURT: There's the first Shoen case and the 14 second one that they gave a different name to. 15 MR. TAYBACK: Independence is not required unless 16 you have a director who's on both sides of a transaction. 17 THE COURT: Okay. 18 MR. TAYBACK: I believe the law is amply clear on 19 20 that. 21 THE COURT: Okay. I think their analysis is slightly broader than that, but okay. 22 MR. TAYBACK: Given the bylaws, given the fact that 23 entire fairness does not apply, you cannot simply get past or rebut the presumption of the applicability of the business judgment rule by saying a director is biased, a director has some family connection, a director has income that's attributable to the company. And that's really what this case comes down to. Where the facts here are frankly undisputed summary judgment is warranted.

That's it for Summary Judgment 1 and 2, Your Honor, unless you have any questions.

THE COURT: No. It's okay.

Mr. Krum, Mr. Morris?

MR. KRUM: Good morning, Your Honor. Thank you.

So I have some argument to make about what are pervasive misstatements of the law that were made with respect to Number 1, as well as the other ones. That said, if I'm listening, you're prepared to deny Number 1, just as you did previously, nothing has changed, including the law; and if that's the case, I'll just defer those comments till we get to something else.

THE COURT: Well, then let me ask you a question.

Because when I read all these I have notes all over them, because some of them are interrelated and the disinterestedness issue is an issue that is involved in some of the motions in limine, as well as this.

Can you tell me what evidence, other than what is listed on page -- you had -- in your brief you had a list of all of the company activities that you believe show decisions

that were made by certain of the directors that showed they were interested. Can you tell me, other than that list -- and I can't, of course, find it right now, but I'm looking for it -- is there any other information other than from Mr. Adams that you have that would provide a basis for the Court to determine that they are not disinterested?

MR. KRUM: I'm sorry. That who is not disinterested with respect --

THE COURT: Anyone except Mr. Adams and the two Ms. Cotters. The two Ms. Cotters I think is fairly easy. They didn't even move, from what I can tell. But, for instance, for Mr. Kane.

MR. KRUM: Certainly, Your Honor. In our -- first let me say I think the list to which you're referring is a list that I had understood the Court to request when we last argued summary judgment motions and was intended, Your Honor, to identify the particular matters which we contend give rise to or constitute breaches of fiduciary duty in and of themselves as well as together with other matters. And so --

THE COURT: I don't know that that's the reason you did it. I found it. It is on pages 5 and 6. I'm on the Supplemental Opposition to Motion for Summary Judgment Number 1 and 2 and Gould Motion for Summary Judgment, and there is a list that includes threats of termination if you don't get along with your sisters and resolve the probate case --

MR. KRUM: Yes.

THE COURT: -- exercise of the options, the termination, the method of the CEO search. All of those are company transactions. What I'm trying to find out is, other than for Mr. Adams, is there other evidence of a lack of disinterestedness that you have other than what is included in the list of activities that relate to their work as directors which are on pages 5 and 6 of that brief in the bullet points.

MR. KRUM: Let me answer it this way, Your Honor. 5 and 6 was our effort to do what I just said. And what that is, to try to be clear, is to identify particular activities that we thought would be the subject of, as is appropriate, either instructions or interrogatories to the jury with respect to these particular matters.

So let's take Number 1 bullet point, the first bullet point, the threat by Adams, Kane, and McEachern to terminate plaintiff if he did not resolve trust disputes with his sisters on terms satisfactory to them. That, Your Honor, from our perspective is separate from the termination which is the subject of Number 1. And on this --

THE COURT: I see that. But let me have you fall back, because I certainly understand those may be issues that you may want to submit interrogatories or just to include in jury instructions related to breaches of fiduciary duty by someone who survives this motion, who I don't grant it on behalf of.

But my question is different. Other than these which you've argued in your brief are evidence of a lack of disinterestedness separate and apart from Mr. Adams, who you have other evidence that is presented related to a lack of disinterestedness, is there any evidence that has been attached to your various supplements and other motions related to a lack of disinterestedness for the other directors known as Mr. Kane, Mr. McEachern, Mr. Gould, Ms. Codding, and Mr. Wrotniak?

MR. KRUM: The answer is yes, Your Honor. So I'm going to try to do it a couple ways.

THE COURT: Tell me where to go. Because I looked through this whole pile of about 2 foot of paper last night trying to find it, and the only one I could find specific allegations of a lack of disinterestedness, besides the two Cotter sisters, was Mr. Adams.

MR. KRUM: Okay. Well, so, for example, with respect to Mr. Kane in the response to MSJ Number 1 and 2 we introduced evidence that showed that Kane was of the view that he knew best what James Cotter, Sr., wanted in his trust documentation.

THE COURT: I see he understood what Mr. Cotter, Sr.'s plan was. How does that make him have a lack of disinterestedness?

MR. KRUM: Well, the answer, Your Honor, is he acted That was the basis on which he decided to vote to terminate the plaintiff. He -- and, for example, the evidence includes an email from Mr. Adams to Mr. Kane in April or early May 2015 in which Mr. Adams says, "This was difficult. We had to pick sides in this family dispute. But we can take comfort that Sr. would have approved our decision." And so the point from our perspective, Your Honor, is Kane, in acting as a director, in fact acted to carry out what in his judgment were the personal interests of Sr. with respect to his trust planning. And on that basis he voted to terminate Mr. Cotter. There are emails from Mr. Kane to Mr. Cotter telling him, I don't know what the sisters' settlement is but I urge you to take it. Well, we think the evidence also shows that he knew what it was, that it entailed Mr. Cotter giving up control of the issues they've been litigating.

THE COURT: Under the Shoen analysis do you believe that that contact and that information is sufficient to show that Mr. Kane is not disinterested?

MR. KRUM: Well, the answer is, yes, we do, Your Honor. And I hasten to add that the way Shoen puts it is that disinterestedness and independence are a prerequisite to having standing to invoke the business judgment rule.

THE COURT: I'm aware of that. Which is why we're having this discussion. So -- but usually we have either a direct financial relationship, even if it's not on both sides of the transaction, or we have a very close personal or familial relationship with the people who are subject to the transaction. And simply believing you understand Sr.'s plan — estate plan does not, I don't think, rise to that same level to show a lack of disinterestedness; but I'm waiting for you to give me a spin on that argument I may not have thought of.

MR. KRUM: Sure, Your Honor. The answer is -- and I say this because I appreciate what the finder of fact -- what the Court has to do now and what the finder of fact has to do. The evidence has to be assessed collectively, not individually. And you understand that. We've cited cases for that. The other side disputes that. There's "The complaint of acts and omissions upon which plaintiff's claims are based must be viewed and assessed collectively, not separately in isolation." That's the Ebix case that we've cited. And there are other cases for that proposition. The point, Your Honor, is "assessing whether a director was independent and in a particular instance acted independently or whether the director was disinterested as required or whether -- and made the decision based entirely on the corporate merits, not influence by personal or extraneous considerations," that was CVV Technicolor, that's the test. And so, Your Honor, in Shoen, just to go back to that, "Independence can be challenged by showing that the directors' execution of their duties is unduly influenced." If Kane made a decision based in any respect on his view that Sr. intended for one or both of the sisters to have something and Jr. was in the way of that, that, Your Honor, at a minimum survives summary judgment so the finder of fact can make a determination after considering all the evidence whether the director acted and decided in that particular instance entirely on the corporate merits. So what is --

THE COURT: Let's skip ahead, then. Mr. McEachern. What evidence of disinterestedness do you have for Mr. McEachern? And if you could tell me where in the briefing it is, I will look at it again. But, as I've said, other than Mr. Adams I did not see evidence of disinterestedness as opposed to allegations of breach of fiduciary duty.

MR. KRUM: Mr. McEachern attempted to extort Mr. Cotter. Along with Mr. Kane and Mr. Adams he told Mr. Cotter, you need to go resolve your disputes with your sisters and we're going to reconvene at 6:00 o'clock and if you don't you'll be terminated. Now, there's no dispute about that. We have in evidence the testimony --

THE COURT: I understand that that's one of your claims of breach of fiduciary duty. But I'm trying to determine if there was any additional evidence, other than those items that are those bullet points you put in the brief, which are on pages 5 and 6 of your supplemental opposition, that goes to Mr. McEachern. And then I'm going to ask you the same question for Mr. Gould and Ms. Codding and Mr. Wrotniak.

MR. KRUM: Your Honor, as a threshold matter, the presumption can be rebutted by showing conduct in derogation of the presumption. It's not simply a interest or disinterested phenomenon, cite Shoen. Let me be clear. I don't want to talk past you. The other side argues there are only two circumstances in which interestedness matters. Well, that's belied by Shoen. It says, "Business judgment rule pertains only to directors whose conduct falls within its protections. Thus, it applies only in the context of a valid interested director transaction --" that's 138 -- 78.140, excuse me "-- or the valid exercise of business judgment by disinterested director in light of their fiduciary duties." And to be a valid exercise, Your Honor, it has to be made in the interest of the corporation.

So Mr. McEachern -- let me go through the list mentally. He attempted to extort Mr. Cotter to resolve the trust disputes in favor of the sisters, he voted to terminate -- he decided not to terminate after he understood an agreement had been reached to resolve those disputes. And when that didn't come to pass he voted to terminate. He, along with Mr. Gould, chose the wishes of the controlling shareholders. Rather than to complete the process he had set up, they aborted the CEO search. So, Your Honor, that's squarely within the Shoen language of manifesting a direction of corporate conduct in such a way as to comport with the wishes or interests of the person doing the controlling.

Now, I heard you. You view that as a fiduciary breach.

THE COURT: An allegation of a fiduciary duty breach.

MR. KRUM: Allegation of fiduciary duty breach, right. But that's -- if proven, that rebuts the presumption, and off we go.

I skipped over Mr. McEachern's role in involuntarily retiring Mr. Storey. Mr. McEachern, together with Mr. Adams and Mr. Kane, in October and November -- September or October I guess it was of 2015 comprised the ad hoc first time one time special nominating committee. That committee had two roles. One was to tell noncompliant director Timothy Storey that he wasn't going to be renominated, and they explained to him that the sisters, who controlled the vote, had told him they weren't going to vote to elect him so he could either resign and get a year's benefits of some sort or just be left off.

What else did that committee do? They approved Judy Codding and Michael Wrotniak. Did they undertake to search for candidates? No. Did they do anything that one would do as a director of a nominating committee to identify and recruit directorial candidates? No. What did they do? They did what they were asked and told. Ellen Cotter gave them Judy Codding, good friend of Mary Ellen Cotter, the mother, with whom Ellen Cotter lives, and Michael Wrotniak, husband of Patricia Wrotniak, one of Margaret Cotter's few good friends. And they obviously did virtually nothing, because promptly after the company announced Ms. Codding had been added to board a shareholder brought to their attention there were lots of Google articles that raised questions about Ms. Codding's relationship with her prior employer and the prior employer's conduct.

So on the nominating issue, Your Honor, on the board stacking our view is that all evidences loyalty to the controlling shareholders. And that, Your Honor, would be somewhere in the range of lack of independence or disinterestedness.

THE COURT: So, Mr. Krum, if we're going to get through all the motions this morning I need you to wrap up. Because I think I have all the information I need on Motion for Summary Judgment Number 1.

MR. KRUM: Okay. Certainly, Your Honor.

So just to finish the bullet points which you brought to my attention, these directors, Kane, Adams, McEachern, they're all on record dating back to the fall of 2014 that, yes, we should find a position for Margaret Cotter at the company so she can have health insurance, but, no, she can't be running our real estate. Well -- that's in the emails we have in the evidence actually, Your Honor, the first time around. And there's some more from Mr. Gould or McEachern. We had some additional testimony that we added this time. And so what happens? Ellen Cotter is made CEO after the aborted CEO search, she says, I want Margaret to the have the senior executive position, for which she has no prior experience and no qualifications. And what do these people do as committee members and board members? They say, where do we sign.

So, Your Honor, it's an ongoing, recurring, pervasive lack of independence or disinterestedness. And the conclusion of that, Your Honor, of course, was by what they did in response to the offer -- and I've sort of wrapped up the whole thing without talking about the law I intended to discuss -- and that is they ascertained what the controlling shareholders wanted to do and they did it in an hour-and-twenty-five-minute telephonic board meeting.

I didn't discuss what I intended to discuss, but I tried to answer your questions.

THE COURT: I understand, Mr. Krum. But the briefing was very thorough, which is why I tried to hit the questions --

1 MR. KRUM: Understood. THE COURT: -- because I had some questions after 2 3 reading it. So Motion for Partial Summary Judgment Number 1 is 4 granted in part. It is granted with respect to Edward Kane, Douglas McEachern, William Gould, Judy Codding, and Michael 7 Wrotniak. It is denied as to Margaret Cotter, Ellen Cotter, 8 and Guy Adams because there are genuine issues of material 9 fact related to the disinterestedness of each of those 10 individuals. As a result, they cannot at this point rely upon 11 the business judgment rule. 12 MR. TAYBACK: Your Honor, is there a ruling on the 13 aspect of the motion that goes to inability to hold the 14 individuals personally liable for this claim? 15 THE COURT: For the three that I didn't grant the 16 17 business judgment? MR. TAYBACK: Correct. 18 THE COURT: No, you do not get a ruling to that 19 effect. 20 Did you want to go to your next motion for summary 21 22 judgment? MR. TAYBACK: Yes, Your Honor. 23 THE COURT: And I'm trying to be consistent with the 24 decision I made in the  $\underline{\text{Wynn}}$  based upon the facts that seem to be slightly different on the conduct of directors. I've got this thing in my head that nobody understands but me, so I'm trying to draw that line by asking questions so I can figure out where that is. Mr. Ferrario knows nobody understands but me. And I can't say it in a way the Supreme Court will understand, because they don't understand it, except for Chris Pickering, and she won't be deciding your appeal.

MR. TAYBACK: Your Honor, we have a second motion. It's Motion Number 2. It's also woven through some of the other motions. For the sake of just clarity I'll address Motion Number 2 separately, and I'll only --

THE COURT: Briefly.

MR. TAYBACK: -- briefly. I'll only say this. Even if you go to the -- well, I've certainly said my piece already, and I think you can just incorporate what I've said previously on this point, that independence I do not believe is a legal prerequisite to the invocation of the business judgment rule. Even if you look at the Shoen case, which Your Honor has discussed, where it talks about interestedness and the word it uses "interestedness," the quote there is, "To show interestedness a shareholder must allege that --" it's talking about allegations in that case "-- allege that a majority of the board members would be, quote, 'materially affected' either to benefit or detriment by a decision of the board in a manner not shared by the corporation and the stockholders." To the extent there is a question of independence, it's not the generalized allegations that I think pollute the claims here, the transaction-by-transaction claims that the plaintiff seems to be asserting. You can't just say independence is lacking because there's -- one of the directors favored one of the board members versus one of the others, favored the sisters versus the brother. You have to show that there's a material impact in the transaction itself that was being voted upon, and that's the contention that we're making with respect to independence and how plaintiff's claims, all of them against all of the individual defendants transaction by transaction should fail under a summary judgment standard. With that I'll stop, and then I'll allow him to address it, and then I've got on Motion Number 3. THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Krum, anything else on Motion

Number 2?

MR. KRUM: Just briefly, Your Honor, because I think we have a fundamental -- I'm going to repeat myself in one respect -- misapprehension of law. This is not a check-thebox exercise.

THE COURT: No, it is not.

MR. KRUM: So in Shoen the court says, "Thus, as with the Aronson test, under the Brehm test, director independence can be implicated by particularly alleging that the directors' execution of their duties is unduly influenced, manifesting a direction of corporate conduct in such a way as to comport with the wishes or interests of the person doing the controlling."

Now, we know that's a demand case, but that doesn't change the law, it just changes the application of the law.

And so the point isn't any more complicated than what it said elsewhere in Shoen, and that is "Directors' discretion must be free from the influence of other interested persons."

So Motion Number 2 is -- it's nonsensical, because that has to be assessed based on facts and based on the particular application. You just did it with respect to Number 1. And so it doesn't work that way. And the -- in Rails the court said, of which Shoen is cited with approval, "Directorial interest exists whenever divided loyalties are present." And we have this ongoing set of transactions that entail furthering and protecting the interests of the Cotter sisters. That, Your Honor, is a perfect example of circumstances that show divided loyalties. Thank you.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Motion for Summary Judgment Number 2 is granted in part. To the extent that you asked me to make a determination as to whether there has been a showing of a lack of disinterestedness there is a lack of disinterestedness for Margaret Cotter, Ellen Cotter, and Guy Adams.

With respect to the other directors who were involved in the motion there does not appear to be sufficient evidence presented to the Court to proceed with a claim of lack of disinterestedness.

Okay. That takes you to Number 3.

MR. TAYBACK: Your Honor, with respect to the Motion for Summary Judgment Number 3, which relates to what's called the patent vision expression of interest --

THE COURT: Yeah.

MR. TAYBACK: -- there are --

THE COURT: The unaccepted offer which may not have been a real offer.

MR. TAYBACK: Not may not have been. Was admitted by plaintiff --

THE COURT: Eh, you know.

MR. TAYBACK: Was admitted by the plaintiff was nonbinding expression of interest that could have been withdrawn or rejected at any point in time. Moreover, when you look — that in and of itself disposes of the claim, because there are no damages that flow from that. There cannot be. And that Cook case, which is a Delaware case, but the Cook case really makes that clear.

THE COURT: I thought I wasn't supposed to look at Delaware law according to you. You know the legislature can't tell the court what it's allowed to look at.

MR. TAYBACK: And I did know that.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. TAYBACK: I'm encouraging you to look at it.

THE COURT: I'm looking at all sorts of things, but I'm trying to interweave it into the legislative intent related to business judgment and the protections that we should give to officers and directors in Nevada.

MR. TAYBACK: Yeah. And I think what it is is it's factually analogous. It's factually analogous.

THE COURT: Right. I just had to give you a hard time. Anything else you want to tell me?

MR. TAYBACK: The only other thing that I would tell you is that when you look at what it is that the board members can look at with respect to the consideration of potential change of control overtures, call it expression of interest or anything else, it's nonexclusive. It says they may consider any of the relevant facts. And here the undisputed evidence is that they did consider a lot of relevant facts, including the views of the plaintiff, the views of the two Cotter sisters, including the presentations of the board. And they're entitled to rely upon that. And the reasonableness of the decision is not something that can be second guessed at this juncture based upon the showing that plaintiff has made.

THE COURT: Mr. Krum. Let's skip past a couple of those arguments and focus on a different issue. Other than as evidence of breaches of fiduciary duty, do you have any claim 1 of specific damages to the failure to accept the unsolicited 3 offer? Well, first, Your Honor, the notion that MR. KRUM: 4 5 it's nonbinding and therefore it cannot result in damages is 6 belied --7 THE COURT: I asked you a very direct question. No. MR. KRUM: I'm sorry. 8 9 THE COURT: Do you have damages that you have provided me evidentiary basis for strictly related to the 10 failure of the company or the directors to accept the 11 12 unsolicited offer? 13 MR. KRUM: Mr. Duarte Solis speaks to that in his expert opinion which was the subject of a motion in limine you 14 15 denied in October of last year. THE COURT: I know. But I'm asking you a question. 16 17 Do you have specific evidence of damages related to the decision by the board not to accept the unsolicited offer? 18 MR. KRUM: No. The answer I have is the one I just 19 gave, Your Honor. 20 21 THE COURT: All right. So that's the only answer you have. Okay. Anything else you want to tell me? 22 MR. KRUM: I just wanted to say again on law, 23 different point, though, intentional misconduct, one of the 24 ways that occurs is where the fiduciary acts with a purpose other than advancing the best interests of the corporation. In think the evidence on this subject, Your Honor, the offer raises a question of fact, a disputed question of material fact as to whether that's what the directors did.

Another category of intentional misconduct is where the fiduciary intentionally fails to act in the face of a known duty to act, demonstrating a conscious disregard for his duties. That is a pervasive and recurring phenomenon here, and I submit, Your Honor, with respect to the so-called offer that's what happened. So the point is, as I said before on the offer in particular, Your Honor, it sort of bookends this whole sequence of events, starting with the seizure of control. And you've read the papers, so I'll leave it at that.

THE COURT: Anything else?

MR. KRUM: No.

THE COURT: Okay. Because of the failure of damages related to an unenforceable, unsolicited, nonbinding offer, I am granting the motion.

However, that does not preclude the plaintiff from utilizing that factual basis for claims of a breach of fiduciary duty. Okay?

MR. TAYBACK: Or for other alleged -- to prove other alleged breaches you're saying it might be admissible as evidence.

THE COURT: Well, it may be additional evidence of breach of fiduciary duty. But they don't get to claim any damages from it, since they haven't established damages related to that because of the legal issues related to the nature of the offer.

So what is your next motion for summary judgment, if any? I think there were six.

MR. SEARCY: Your Honor, I'm addressing Motion for Summary Judgment Number 5. That relates to the CEO search.

And --

THE COURT: Ready for me to say denied?

MR. SEARCY: If you'll let me --

THE COURT: You can talk, Mr. Searcy, but we're leaving here in 25 minutes whether you guys are done or not.

MR. SEARCY: All right. Well, if you're going to -before you say denied then let me just address a few of the points in it. If you're going to say granted, then I'll certainly sit down.

THE COURT: I'm not going to say granted.

MR. SEARCY: The point, Your Honor, is that there's no dispute on the material facts here. There was a process that was undertaken by the board here to appoint a CEO. The board appointed a special committee, the special committee hired a search firm, that search firm went out and got information, they interviewed candidates, those candidates were selected by the search firm Korn Ferry, and they were considered along with internal candidates. The board -- or the committee, rather, interviewed Ellen Cotter and decided that she was the best candidate, and the board agreed with that decision. And in the context of the law here you have a majority of disinterested directors who agreed with that decision. There's a presumption that all of this was conducted in good faith. There hasn't been a rebuttal of the presumption here, Your Honor, and, as a result, the motion should be granted. Are there particular issues, though, that I can address for Your Honor? THE COURT: Not that will cause you to be able to get me to change my mind on denied. MR. SEARCY: Okay. Are there any that I can at least make an effort on, Your Honor? 16 THE COURT: Nope. MR. SEARCY: Thank you, Your Honor. THE COURT: All right. So that motion is denied. Can we go to Number 6. MR. SEARCY: Number 6 is mine, as well. THE COURT: This has to do with the special bonus to Mr. Adams. 23 MR. SEARCY: That's correct, Your Honor. There are three main issues here. One has to do with the exercise of options, and in that case there was an executive committee that considered those options. There's no doubt, no dispute that that was an existing plan, that the committee received advice from counsel, and approved of the -- approved of the exercise of the options.

THE COURT: Okay. Anything else?

MR. SEARCY: In addition to that -- and that's -- again, that is an exercise that is presumed to be done in good faith and especially here, where the statute provides that you can obtain information. And that's what the committee did.

In addition to that, Your Honor, there's the issue of the payment to Mr. Adams that you just raised. That again was approved by the board, approved by unanimous board who were disinterested in the subject and are entitled to business judgment on that subject.

And finally, with respect to Margaret Cotter's appointment it's certainly within the board's discretion to decide that someone who's worked for the company and been affiliated with the company for approximately 20 years or so has the qualifications to take on that job. And as Mr. Tayback said, hiring someone to fill a role is certainly — that's an operational decision that's within the discretion of a board of directors, and certainly they're entitled to be able to exercise the business judgment when it comes to that, especially here. And with all of these decisions, Your Honor, you're talking about a decision made by a majority of disinterested directors, directors that you've found to be 3 disinterested. THE COURT: Some directors I found to be 5 disinterested. MR. SEARCY: Well, for those directors, though, Your 6 Honor, that you found to be disinterested, they constitute a majority of the decision makers here. And --8 9 THE COURT: Well, they're protected. Those people 10 are protected. 11 MR. SEARCY: And exercising their business judgment they approved these decisions. 12 13 THE COURT: Okay. Anything else? MR. SEARCY: Thank you, Your Honor. That's it. 14 15 THE COURT: Denied. So you had Number 4 I think we didn't get to. Was 16 17 Number 4 reserved for this time, or had I ruled on it 18 previously? 19 MR. TAYBACK: Your Honor, you --MR. KRUM: You ruled on it previously. 20 21 THE COURT: Okay. So that takes me to your motions in limine. There were two that I think are important. One is 22 Mr. Gould's motion in limine to exclude irrelevant and 23 speculative evidence. 24 25 MR. RHOW: Your Honor, can I speak on this one?

1	THE COURT: It's your motion.

8	I'd like to know that first.
9	THE COURT: My first question for you is one that
10	I'm going to ask all the people in motions in limine. Did you
11	have an opportunity to meet and confer with opposing counsel
12	before you filed the motion to see if there were areas of
13	agreement?
14	MR. RHOW: The answer is I don't think we did.
15	THE COURT: You know, we have a rule.
16	MR. SEARCY: I'm going to have to disagree with Mr.
17	Rhow. We actually did meet and confer with Mr. Krum on the
18	phone.
19	MR. RHOW: Oh. I'm sorry.
20	MR. SEARCY: Mr. Rhow wasn't part of the meet and
21	confer, but his associate, Shoshana Bannett, was.
22	THE COURT: Oh. Okay. All right.
23	MR. RHOW: Okay. I had looked at I should have
24	looked at Mr. Searcy.
25	THE COURT: Because usually usually I get a declaration that tells me, we met and conferred on this date  $\ensuremath{\mathsf{--}}$

MR. RHOW: Correct.

THE COURT: -- so that I can then gauge whether somebody's being unreasonable or not. So it's your motion.

MR. RHOW: Thank you, Your Honor.

I think the motion was short and sweet on purpose. During the deposition of Mr. Cotter, Jr., and it lasted days and days and days, and throughout the questioning it was quite clear that he was testifying based on not what he saw, what he heard, what he observed; he was literally saying, here's what I think -- thought at the time, here's what I was thinking Mr. Gould was thinking and others were thinking and so therefore I believe the claim is sufficient because of my subjective belief as to what other directors were thinking. If that's going to be part of this trial, first, this trial's not going to be four weeks, it's going to be eight weeks; but, second, there's nothing in the law, there's nothing based on common sense that tells you that what the subjective beliefs of the plaintiff are none of that is relevant, none of that is relevant under the law, none that is relevant under common sense. So to streamline this case, if he's going to talk about what he saw, what he heard, certainly that's admissible. But if he's going to talk about what he believes, that's subjective and should not be part of this trial.

THE COURT: Thank you. 1 Ms. Levin, is this your motion? 2 MS. LEVIN: Yes, Your Honor. 3 As we said in our opposition, we believe this is an 4 improper and premature motion just because Mr. Cotter 5 6 obviously will be here at trial testifying. THE COURT: So you want me to rule on the questions 7 and answers as they're given. So if somebody asks him, well, did you talk to Mr. Adams about what he was going to do, he 9 10 can then tell me what he said. MS. LEVIN: Correct, Your Honor. 11 THE COURT: Well, what did you think he meant? 12 That's speculation. 13 MS. LEVIN: Unless, of course, he's got a basis for 14 his belief. And I think that some of the deposition 15 testimony, those responses were invited by the very questions. 16 So to the extent that he has a basis to believe -- you know, 17 to state his belief I think that, again, it should be 18 determined on the question by question. 19 THE COURT: Okay. So the motion is denied. It's 20 premature. It's an issue that has to be handled at trial 21 based upon the foundation that is laid related to the issue. 22 So -- and plus you won't be here. You won't be 23 here; right? 24 25 MR. RHOW: I'm sorry?

1	THE COURT: You won't be here; right?
2	MR. RHOW: I don't know. I hope not. Is Your Honor
3	saying I should not be here or that my client won't be here
4	then?
5	THE COURT: That's what the business judgment ruling
6	deals with; right? So I granted your client's business
7	judgment rule motion. Well, you know, he may be a witness.
8	MR. KRUM: I'm sorry, Your Honor. Did I miss
9	something?
10	THE COURT: What?
11	MR. KRUM: We haven't had that motion argued yet,
12	Mr. Gould's motion.
13	THE COURT: I included Mr. Gould because you briefed
14	it relate to all of the motions for summary judgment and I
15	asked you questions about all the directors, except Mr. Adams.
16	MR. KRUM: I'm sorry. I didn't understand that,
17	Your Honor. I didn't answer as to Mr. Gould.
18	THE COURT: Do you want to tell me an answer to Mr.
19	Gould?
20	MR. KRUM: I do, because we have a hearing set for 21	the 8th on his motion, which is why misunderstood that.
22	THE COURT: I used it because it was included in
23	your opposition, the supplement to those motions.
24	MR. KRUM: That was confusion that we created, and I
25	apologize. The reason we did that, Your Honor, is that we didn't have an opportunity to prepare a Gould brief, but we didn't want to be accused of doing nothing. And some of the evidence in those motions in our view did relate to Gould, and we therefore put him on there.

That said, he filed two pieces of paper, they asked me if we could have the hearing today. I told them no, I wanted to respond. So -- but let me try to answer your question with respect to Mr. Gould. So we start, Your Honor, as we do, with the threat to terminate and the termination. And I respectfully submit --

THE COURT: I will tell you that on your Mr. Gould you've got the same list that we've already talked about. What I'm trying to find out is -- and I understand the threat is part of what you've alleged related to Mr. Gould along with the other six or seven bullet points that are on pages 5 and 6 of the opposition. Is there something else related to Mr. Gould, something like you have with Mr. Adams that would establish a lack of disinterestedness?

MR. KRUM: Let me answer, and then you'll decide.

THE COURT: Yeah. That's what I'm trying to pull out of you.

MR. KRUM: So, for example, with respect to the termination Mr. Cotter raised the question of Mr. Adams's independence before a vote was taken, and Mr. Gould asked Mr. Adams, well, can you tell us about that. And Mr. Adams got mad and said in words or substance, no. And Mr. Gould said, okay. That, Your Honor, is a perfect example of a failure to act in the face of a known duty to act. We're not talking about someone who is unfamiliar with fiduciary obligations here. Mr. Gould is a corporate lawyer.

So we get to the -- we get to the executive committee, same meeting, June 12. Ellen Cotter says, I want to repopulate the executive committee, Mr. Gould, would you like to be on it. His testimony, his deposition testimony was that he declined because he knew that it would take a lot of time. Now, if he knew that it would take a lot of time, Your Honor, how is it that it didn't occur to him that this was what the sisters were doing in October of 2014 when they were trying to circumvent the board?

THE COURT: These are all on your list of bullet points.

MR. KRUM: Okay.

THE COURT: What I'm trying to find out is if there's anything that's not on the list of bullet points that are on pages 5 and 6 of your supplemental opposition that relate to Mr. Gould. Because when I made my ruling I was including Mr. Gould as someone because I specifically excluded Mr. Adams and the two Ms. Cotters.

MR. KRUM: Bear with me. I'm mentally working.

THE COURT: I'm watching you. I'm watching him

MR. KRUM: So I don't think we had the executive committee there, but I just said that.

So then, Your Honor, the composition of the board. So Mr. Gould was not a member of the nominating committee. His testimony was that, on a Friday Ellen Cotter called me and asked me if she could come to my office and she and Craig Tompkins came to my office and showed me Judy Codding's resume and said we were going to have a board meeting on Monday to put Ms. Codding on the board. And Bill Gould said, this isn't sufficient time, I can't do my job. But he voted for her nonetheless. That, Your Honor, is the same thing that happens over and over again with Mr. Gould. That is, in the face of a known duty to act he chooses not to do so. That is intentional misconduct. Your Honor, you've denied the motion with respect to the CEO search. That is Mr. Gould. It is Mr. Gould and Mr. McEachern who are the ones who together with Margaret Cotter aborted the CEO search. Literally the last time they spoke to Korn Ferry was the day Ellen Cotter declared her candidacy. After the what did they do? They told Craig Tompkins to tell Korn Ferry to do no more work. And Mr. Gould, he was the one whose name was on a press release saying, Ellen Cotter was made CEO following a thorough search. She was not made CEO as a result of that search. was made CEO in spite of that search.

THE COURT: Okay. So all of those are issues that I'm aware of considered when I had previously included Mr. Gould in the granting of the summary judgment related to the business judgment rule. The fact that I am denying certain issues related to other summary judgments does not diminish the fact that the directors that I found there was not evidence of a lack of disinterestedness have the protection the statute provides to them.

Okay. So let's go back to Mr. Cotter's Motion Number 3. This is related to the coach.

MS. LEVIN: Your Honor, this motion should be denied because the hiring of High Point, that's post hoc --

THE COURT: It's your motion. You wanted it granted.

MS. LEVIN: I'm sorry. You know, the Court -- I'm sorry. The Court should exclude the after-acquired evidence on the -- in the form of any testimony or documents relating to the hiring of High Point, because the breach of fiduciary duty claims, they are -- they concern what the directors did and knew at the time that they decided to fire the plaintiff. So we cited the Smith versus Van Gorkom case, which holds post hoc data is not relevant to the decision.

So at the time that they made this decision they did not have nor did they rely on the High Point evidence. So therefore the after-acquired evidence cannot be as a matter of law relevant to their decision to terminate the plaintiff. That would amount to a retroactive assessment of his ability, which are not at issue. And I think that that's the -- you know, the -- what your client's position has been in this case is he is suitable to be acting as the CEO, and if there is information that is relevant to that suitability, that's where I have the problem on this. I certainly understand from a decision—making process that that information was not in the possession of anyone who was making the decisions at the time. But given the affirmative proposition by your client that he is suitable to CEO, I have concerns about granting the motion at this stage.

MS. LEVIN: Well -- okay. So -- but with respect to the decision which you can agree that they could not use that evidence to show that after the fact they made the right decision because of the after --

THE COURT: No. That's a problem if your client is saying he's suitable and therefore he should be able to be CEO. Because part of what he originally asked for was to make them make him be CEO.

MS. LEVIN: All right. And here at issue I believe it's the -- we're seeking to void the termination.

THE COURT: I know.

MS. LEVIN: So -- but I think that even -- and I think that in that respect if you were inclined to allow it on his suitability, the problem then becomes first of all the hiring of consultant doesn't necessary mean that somebody is unsuitable. THE COURT: Absolutely. It may mean they're trying to get better. Exactly. And I was thinking -- when I MS. LEVIN: read these facts I was thinking about the analogy. If you were a professional runner and you hire a runner coach --THE COURT: Coach. MS. LEVIN: -- doesn't mean that you're not a good You may -runner. THE COURT: You want to be better. MS. LEVIN: Exactly. So that was --THE COURT: I understand.

MS. LEVIN: So and the other thing is that, you know, the opposition argues, well, but it looks like in his own assessment he wasn't good for it. And that, of course, again doesn't follow from that. And so then we get into the category of even if there's a remote relevance, Your Honor, then whatever that relevance is would be substantially outweighed by the unfair prejudicial effect that that would cause. Because, again, his assumed thoughts, then the jury could think like, well, you know, he thinks he's not qualified because he hired a coach. So all in all I believe that it's unfairly prejudicial.

Just on the point of the unclean hands defense, again they are citing the Fetish, Las Vegas Fetish case. But, again, the unclean hands defense requires egregious misconduct and serious harm caused by it. And they haven't further substantiated that. So with that being said, our position is to exclude it for those reasons.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MS. LEVIN: Thank you.

THE COURT: Mr. Searcy --

MR. SEARCY: I'll address that.

THE COURT: -- I am inclined to deny the motion.

But if the evidence is admitted at trial, to admit it with a limiting instruction that says that it only goes to suitability.

MR. SEARCY: And, Your Honor, I think that we're okay with that.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. SEARCY: I just want to clarify that we can certainly ask Mr. Cotter about the Alderton documents --

THE COURT: You ask him about it, then I'm going to give the limiting instruction, and we'll probably give it five times or six times, and it'll be a written instruction, so it's part of it. And if the plaintiff doesn't want me to give the limiting instruction because they believe that calls to much attention to it, they can, of course, waive that request.

MR. SEARCY: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. So think about whether you really want the limiting instruction, come up with your text for the limiting instruction, and then we'll talk about it when we have our final pretrial conference as to whether you think you really want it.

That takes me to the last motion in limine by Mr. Cotter, which relates to the ability of Mr. Ferrario to participate at trial, also known as Motion in Limine Number 2.

MR. KRUM: Thank you, Your Honor. I enjoy this very much, showing that perhaps I've spent too many years in the corporate governance jurisprudence. Three points, and it's not complicated. First, as a general rule a nominal defendant is not allowed to introduce evidence and defend the merits of claims against the director defendants.

Second, the handful of exceptions to that are exceptions where it's a serious fundamental corporate interest that is challenged by the derivative suit, a reorganization or restructuring, an effort to appoint a receiver. None of those exist here.

Third, if you disagree with us on all of that, there's a question of unfair prejudice and waste of time.

And, you know, the individual defendants are represented by capable counsel. They don't need a second lawyer carrying their water. And for a jury to have someone who represents the company asking questions that imply conclusions adverse to 3 the plaintiff is, if not unfairly prejudicial, something 5 beyond that. So that's the argument in a nutshell, Your Honor. 6 If you have any questions, I'd be happy to answer them. 7 THE COURT: Nope. Motion's denied. 8 All right. So let's go to your Motion in Limine 9 Number 1 regarding advice of counsel. I forgot we need to hit 10 that one. Ms. Levin. 11 And then we're going to go to the Chief Justice 12 Steel that I'm not going to really hear, because I didn't give 13 you permission to refile. 14 MS. LEVIN: Your Honor is familiar with the share 15 options, so if I talk about the share option, I don't --16 THE COURT: I am. 17 MS. LEVIN: Okay. Well --18 THE COURT: And also with the drama related to the 19 production and the creation and all the stuff about the advice 20 21 of counsel issue. MS. LEVIN: Okay. I'll just --22 THE COURT: But I also am aware the Nevada Supreme 23 Court has told us on a business judgment issue we cannot reach

behind the advice of counsel except to make a determination as

and directors.

MS. LEVIN: That's true, Your Honor. And so our arguments are really twofold. Number one is that Adams and Kane, who were two of the three directors on the compensation committee, they testified, as the Court found in its October 27, 2016, hearing, that they relied solely on the substance of advice of counsel to determine whether the authorization decision to authorize the estate to invoke the option was proper. So, unlike in Wynn or in Comverge, on which the defendants rely, they did not rely on anything else. So if they are asked at trial to explain why they authorized the option, they must rely on that legal advice.

So the second point is that the defendants waived the attorney-client privilege by partially disclosing attorney-client privileged information. Now, they're saying -- or RDI says in the opposition that individual directors cannot waive the privilege.

THE COURT: That's the Jacobs versus Sands case.

MS. LEVIN: Exact, Your Honor. And I agree with that. But, of course, RDI can only act through its officers

THE COURT: That's the Jacobs versus Sands case.

MS. LEVIN: And the current officer -- and I think in particular if you look at the Exhibit 4 that we attached to our motion, is that that email was produced by Ellen Cotter, who is a current CEO and is an officer and director, and she --

THE COURT: I understand.

MS. LEVIN: So, in other words --

THE COURT: And then Mr. Ferrario clawed it back.

MS. LEVIN: Right. So she produced it, and so there's a Supreme Court case that says, "The power to waive the corporate attorney-client privilege rests with the corporation's management and is usually -- and is normally exercised by its officers and directors." And that's what happened here.

and 3, the 2 and 3 they raise the legal issues. 2 and 3 identify the legal issues of whether there was a reason why Ellen Cotter could not exercise the option and whether enough — whether the trust documents did not pour over — the share option didn't pour over into the trust. But Exhibit 4 specifically seeks legal advice from the company attorney and as to the legal rights of the estate to exercise the option in light of the proxy language. So that is — under our statute is an attorney-client communication for the purpose of obtaining legal advice. So they partially disclosed that, so we believe there's a waiver issue. And under Wardleigh you cannot use the attorney privilege both as a shield and a sword, which is what they're now doing, is because what they're going to say is, well, we partially disclosed but you cannot find out what it was. But even the very -

THE COURT: But that's the Nevada Supreme Court who's made that decision, not the rest of us. They were very

MS. LEVIN: Correct. But one thing that the  $\underline{Wynn}$  decision did not decide was the waiver issue. And that was in Footnote 3 of the decision.

clear that we're not allowed to get behind that.

THE COURT: I made that decision separately after that came back. But that's a case by case, and I haven't made that decision in this case. In fact, my belief is you guys have a writ pending on this issue still. Right?

MR. KRUM: I think the writ pending is on a different privilege issue, Your Honor.

5

MS. HENDRICKS: Your Honor, the writ relating to this issue was filed by RDI, and the Supreme Court actually came back and said the facts were analogous to Wynn and it needed to make a decision, and that was shortly after you did make the decision when we were back before you on it.

THE COURT: Yeah. We had a hearing.

 $\ensuremath{\mathsf{MS}}.$  HENDRICKS: And we had the supplemental briefing.

THE COURT: Yep. Okay. So anything else on this 1 2 one? Only -- the only thing is that the 3 MS. LEVIN: partially disclosed privileged emails themselves show that the board had information that would cause reliance on advice to 5 be improper. So that would --THE COURT: Okay. So your motion's denied. Come up 7 I'm going to give you these. These are your I believe 8 here. 9 documents you actually want sealed. Since I granted your motion, it was on the calendar today, hopefully you can work 10 out with the Clerk's Office so they will actually take the 11 sealed documents and put them so they're part of the record in 12 13 some way. MS. LEVIN: And I brought them with me, too. 14 THE COURT: Yeah. Good luck. You've got to do it 15 at the counter. 16 MS. LEVIN: Okay. Thank you. 17 THE COURT: Okay. So I am declining to hear again 18 the motion in limine on Chief Justice Steel. I've previously 19 made a ruling on that. I've reviewed your brief, and there's 20 nothing in it that causes me to change my mind. 21 I have already granted your motions to seal and 22 redact. It was on calendar for today. 23 And now we need to set our final pretrial 24 conference. I usually do it the week before.

MR. KRUM: The week before is fine, Your Honor. 1 (Pause in the proceedings) 2 THE COURT: The week before is fine? 3 The week before is fine, Your Honor. MR. KRUM: 4 5 THE COURT: What day are you guys arguing in the 6 Supreme Court? MR. TAYBACK: That's the 3rd. 7 THE COURT: 3rd. So do you want to come in on --8 9 MR. TAYBACK: 4th? THE CLERK: [Inaudible]. 10 THE COURT: No, I'm not seeing them on January 2, 11 you're seeing them on January 2. 12 13 How about on January 5 at 3:00 o'clock? MR. TAYBACK: That's good. Thank you. 14 MR. KRUM: Perfect. 15 MR. FERRARIO: Thank you, Judge. 16 17 THE COURT: That will be your final pretrial conference. At your final pretrial conference we're not going 18 to bring exhibits, because you're already going to deal with 19 that. But you are going to bring any jury instructions, 20 you're going to exchange your draft jury instructions. If you 21 have limiting instructions you think are appropriate, try and 22 have those, as well. And we're also going to deal with any 23 exhibits that you want in a notebook for the jury. The only 24 25 reason I suggest that is sometimes documents that we show on screens aren't easily able to be seen by a juror. There's contract documents and things you may want. If there are selected items you want to have in a jury notebook, it will be a single jury notebook. It will be not more than 3 inches. So whatever we put in it has to fit in the 3 inches. And so if you have things you think you want included in that, we'll talk about that. And you're going to -- I will make final decisions on voir dire questions at that time. I encourage you to exchange them a week ahead of time. MR. KRUM: Your Honor, with respect to exhibits we have a date this week of Wednesday or Thursday for our exhibit list. I think in view of today's developments it would be a good idea to push that back to next week. THE COURT: You guys need to get working on it. MR. KRUM: No, we're working on it. THE COURT: It takes a lot longer than you think it does. All right. Anything else that I missed? MR. FERRARIO: There may be some utility to that, Mark, in light of the rulings of the Court today, because the complexion of the case has changed. MR. KRUM: Well, that's -- we're working on it. understand that, Your Honor. So may we have until Wednesday of next week you think, Mark?

THE COURT: I still need to see representatives from those parties who remain in the case at the calendar call on December 18th. If you are out of town, I do not do call-ins for calendar calls, Mr. Krum, so just make sure Mr. Morris and Ms. Levin know whatever it is they need to say.

I am going to be asking you whether given the rulings I made today it has changed the estimate that you provided to me through Ms. Hendricks on December 4th as the amount of time for trial. Because I need to negotiate for space, and knowing the time that I need is important for me in my space negotiations.

MR. RHOW: Your Honor, sorry. One point of clarification as to Mr. Gould specifically. He is out of the case entirely?

THE COURT: Well, I granted the motion on the business judgment for him. My understanding is that is the only way that you would be involved, because there are no direct breach of contract claims against you. If there were other types of claims against you that were not protected by the business judgment rule, you might not be out. But I didn't see that in the briefing. But I don't know your case as well as you do.

MR. RHOW: Assuming that's the case, I just want to make sure that no one's going to sanction me if I don't show up.

THE COURT: Do you think you have any remaining 1 claims against Mr. Gould given my ruling today? MR. KRUM: Your Honor, probably not. But I'll go 3 back through it. 4 THE COURT: If you could communicate if you think 5 there are any, and then I'll have to handle that on a 6 7 supplemental motion practice. MR. So the people who I anticipate will be here only in the capacity as witnesses would be --10 okay, I've got to go back to this list -- Kane, McEachern, 11 Gould, Codding, Wrotniak. That's all of them. So the people 12 who remain parties are Cotter, Cotter, Adams, and then Mr. 13 Cotter. 14 MR. TAYBACK: Yes, Your Honor. I understand that. 15 THE COURT: All right. So see you on the 18th. 16 MR. MR. EDWARDS: Okay. THE COURT: But it may be helpful if local counsel is going to be intimately involved in the process of doing it for you to have someone here. But I leave that to work out with your people. Anything else? MS. HENDRICKS: Your Honor, on the exhibit list did we get an extra week, then, so we kind of work through these issues? I'm not involved in the exhibit list THE COURT: That's you guys on 2.67. I'm out of that. MR. FERRARIO: Thank you, Your Honor. THE PROCEEDINGS CONCLUDED AT 12:00 NOON

INTRODUCTION

At the hearing held on December 11, 2017, the Court determined that Plaintiff James J. Cotter, Jr. failed to raise a genuine issue of triable fact as to the disinterestedness and/or independence of five of his fellow Reading International, Inc. ("RDI") directors: Michael Wrotniak, Judy Codding, Douglas McEachern, Edward Kane, and William Gould. In light of Nevada's strong business judgment rule and consistent with the contours of well-established law, the Court granted summary judgment in favor of these directors on all breach of fiduciary duty claims asserted by Plaintiff. In contrast, the Court denied the Individual Defendants' summary judgment motions with respect to Directors Ellen Cotter, Margaret Cotter, and Guy Adams, finding that a triable issue of fact exists with respect to their disinterestedness and/or independence as to the various corporate transactions identified by Plaintiff. This was not a hasty, ill-considered decision by the Court. Rather, the Court made its ruling after affording Plaintiff over two years of extensive discovery, carefully reviewing the "2 feet" of summary judgment materials submitted by the parties, and holding multiple oral arguments on Plaintiff's ever-evolving breach of fiduciary claims. At the hearing, the Court specifically asked Plaintiff whether there were any additional facts that Plaintiff wanted the Court to consider in determining this issue. None were forthcoming.

Despite having been provided every opportunity to establish a basis for his causes of action, Plaintiff now seeks "reconsideration" of the Court's decision, particularly because it leaves only one challenged action—the RDI Board's June 12, 2015 termination of Plaintiff as CEO and President—without a majority of disinterested, independent directors voting in its favor. Plaintiff's motion should be rejected forthwith. Procedurally, Plaintiff has no basis to seek reconsideration. Plaintiff failed to comply with EDCR 2.24(a), which requires that he seek leave of the Court before filing any motion for consideration. Moreover, the Nevada Supreme Court has made clear that motions for reconsideration are to be granted "only in very rare" instances" involving "new issues of fact or law." Neither are present here; Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration admittedly reargues what was already in evidence before the Court.

Even if the Court were inclined to revisit the merits of its decision (which is both unnecessary and unwarranted), it is plain that its ruling was not "clearly erroneous," as is required for reversal. Contrary to Plaintiff's objections of "surprise," the Individual Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (No. 2) re: the Issue of Director Independence covered all claims, and their separate summary judgment motions—addressing particular issues—covered all decisions that Plaintiff has identified as independent breaches. Of course, as both the Court and Plaintiff's own expert, Myron T. Steele, have noted, Plaintiff has to establish that RDI's directors were either interested or not independent before he can proceed on the merits of any of his fiduciary duty claims against them.<sup>2</sup> As the record makes clear and the Court correctly found, Plaintiff has not met—and cannot meet—this burden with respect to Directors Wrotniak, Codding, McEachern, and Kane. Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration, which attempts to skip to the "entire fairness" of certain transactions, entirely ignores this necessary first step. For the reasons the Court previously found (which Plaintiff's motion does nothing to disturb), its December 11, 2017 ruling with respect to Directors Wrotniak, Codding, McEachern, and Kane was correct and should not be reconsidered.

ARGUMENT

I. PLAINTIFF'S MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION IS PROCEDURALLY IMPROPER

Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration is procedurally defective. The Rules of Practice for the Eighth Judicial District Court state, in relevant part:

No motions once heard and disposed of may be renewed in the same cause, nor may the same matters therein embraced be reheard, unless by leave of the court granted upon motion thereof, after notice of such motion to the adverse parties.

&lt;sup>2</sup> The Individual Defendants recognize that Steele's testimony at trial is limited to what a reasonable director would do, and that he will not be permitted to offer evidence as to the requirements or standards of practice under Delaware law. Still, Plaintiff cannot ignore for purposes of this motion the opinions proffered by his own witness, as reasonably considered and applied by this Court.

EDCR 2.24(a) (emphasis added). Plaintiff did not comply with this Rule prior to filing his Motion for Reconsideration; rather than filing a motion for leave with the Court and attaching a copy of his proposed Motion for Reconsideration as an exhibit (as contemplated by the Rule), Plaintiff filed his underlying motion directly with the Court. This was improper.

The purpose of EDCR 2.24 is to assist the Court in controlling the influx of matters to which it must attend in the normal course of motion practice, such as the time required to properly review the parties' filings or hearing arguments on the merits of the matter before it and issuing an ultimate decision on the merits. These issues of judicial economy inherent in EDCR 2.24(a) are also emphasized in subsection (c) of the Rule, which provides that "[i]f a motion for rehearing is granted, the court may make a final disposition of the cause without reargument or resubmission or may make other such orders as are deemed appropriate under the circumstances of the particular case." EDCR 2.24(c).

Plaintiff's filing of his Motion for Reconsideration without first requesting and then receiving leave of this Court to do so has initially deprived the Court of its duty and ability to make the threshold determination of whether to grant leave in the first instance. Moreover, Plaintiff's filing without leave has required the Individual Defendants' counsel to spend time formally responding to and opposing Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration, which they otherwise may not have been required to do if Plaintiff had followed the clear mandate of seeking leave of the Court prior to filing his motion. In light of this clear procedural defect, Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration should be stricken.

II. PLAINTIFF FAILS TO MEET THE NEVADA SUPREME COURT'S STANDARD FOR RECONSIDERATION

A. Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration Revisits the Same Facts and Same Legal Arguments Previously Raised

Even considered on its merits, Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration fails to meet the strict standard set by the Nevada Supreme Court for reconsideration of a court's judgment. A motion for reconsideration is not a "do over." See Merozoite v. Thorpe, 52 F.3d 252, 255 (9th Cir. 1995) ("Since [Plaintiff's] motion merely reiterated the arguments that he had already presented to the district court, the motion was properly denied."). Rather, the Nevada Supreme Court has made clear that motions for reconsideration are to be granted "[o]nly in very rare instances in which new issues of fact or law are raised supporting a ruling contrary to the ruling already reached." Moore v. City of Las Vegas, 92 Nev. 402, 405, 551 P.2d 244, 246 (1976) (emphasis added) (concluding that, because the "motion for rehearing raised no new issues of law and made reference to no new or additional facts, . . . the motion was superfluous and, in our view, it was an abuse of discretion for the district court to entertain it"). In Nevada, a district court may reconsider a previously-decided issue only if "substantially different evidence is subsequently introduced or the decision is clearly erroneous." Masonry & Tile Constr. Ass'n of S. Nev. v. Jolley, Urga & Wirth, Ltd., 113 Nev. 737, 741, 941 P.2d 486, 489 (1997).

Here, there is no new issue of fact or law raised in Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration that might generate a contrary ruling. This is not one of those "rare instances" in which reconsideration is appropriate, and to do so would be an abuse of discretion, negating the overriding policy in favor of finality of judgments. Instead, Plaintiff's motion is nothing more than an attempt to re-argue what was already in evidence before the Court during the summary judgment phase. Plaintiff's re-hash includes:

- An extended section focused primarily on Director Edward Kane and the RDI Board's months-long process in evaluating Plaintiff's deficient performance as CEO of RDI, which ultimately culminated in Plaintiff's termination. (See Mot. for Recons. at 15-21.) Plaintiff's attack cites the exact same "evidence" and repeats—almost verbatim—the same arguments that appear in Plaintiff's Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (pp. 5-8, 16-21), Plaintiff's Opposition to the Individual Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (No. 1) re: Plaintiff's Termination and Reinstatement Claims (pp. 4-8), and Plaintiff's Reply in Support of His Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (pp. 3-7).
- The argument that "the acts and omissions of the individual director defendants must be viewed collectively, not in isolation." (Mot. for Recons. at 14-15.) In making this legal point, Plaintiff cites the same four cases in exactly the same order as in his Opposition to the Individual Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (No. 5) re: the Appointment of Ellen Cotter as CEO (pp. 11-12).
- An attack on Director Judy Codding, who—based on an assertion contained in a declaration prepared by Plaintiff—is alleged to have voted for Ellen Cotter as permanent CEO based on her purported "view that RDI was a 'family business' of which only a Cotter should be CEO." (Mot. for Recons. at 22 (citing JJC Decl. ¶ 24).) Plaintiff previously made this same argument citing the same evidence in his Opposition to the Individual Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (No. 2) re: Director Independence (p. 7).

• A section focused on the purportedly "aborted CEO search." (Mot. for Recons. at 22.) Here, Plaintiff does not even pretend to introduce "substantially different evidence," as required. Instead, he "respectfully refers the Court to his prior briefs and the evidence described therein and proffered therewith." (Id. (citations omitted).)

A party is not entitled to reconsideration simply because "he or she is unhappy with the judgment." Khan v. Fasano, 194 F. Supp. 2d 1134, 1136 (S.D. Cal. 2001). A motion for reconsideration is not the place for "the plaintiff to 'reload and shoot again," Butler v. Sentry Ins. Mut. Co., 640 F. Supp. 806, 812 (N.D. Ill. 1986), and it cannot "be utilized as a vehicle to reargue matters considered and decided in the court's initial opinion." Matter of Ross, 99 Nev. 657, 659, 668 P.2d 1089, 1091 (1983) (denying rehearing). Plaintiff's arguments are admittedly and uncontrovertibly identical to those raised during motion practice and the various summary judgment hearings before the Court. Nothing new has been added; no intervening precedent has been identified nor any "substantially different" facts adduced. The Court need not proceed any further. Reconsideration is plainly unwarranted as a matter of law. See Bundorf v. Jewell, 142 F. Supp. 3d 1133, 1137 (D. Nev. 2015) (denying motion for reconsideration because it "primarily rehashes the same arguments that Federal Defendants raised—or could have raised—in the earlier summary judgment briefing").

B. Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration Is Without Substantive Merit

Even if the Court were inclined to revisit the substance of its ruling granting judgment in favor of Directors Michael Wrotniak, Judy Codding, Douglas McEachern, and Edward Kane on all claims asserted against them in light of their disinterestedness and independence, it is plain that the Court's December 11, 2017 ruling was correct a matter of law. Plaintiff's arguments to the contrary are legally baseless and factually unsupportable.

1. The Court's Decision Was Procedurally Proper and Did Not Overlook Evidence of Any Conduct, Acts, or Omissions

Plaintiff first contends that the Court's ruling as to Directors Wrotniak, Codding, McEachern, and Kane should be reconsidered because it did not given him "proper notice and adequate time to respond," since the Individual Defendants "moved for partial summary judgment only on specific issues," not entire "claims." (Mot. for Recons. at 4 (emphasis in original).) Plaintiff further asserts that the Court's decision was somehow "sua sponte," and that the Court failed to consider "additional issues not addressed in the MSJs," such as "materially misleading and erroneous board materials published in public disclosures and process failures." (Id. at 9-11 (emphasis in original).) None of Plaintiff's assertions withstand scrutiny.

First, Plaintiff's attempted distinction between "claims" and "specific issues" is meritless. Plaintiff's Second Amended Complaint generically pleaded three causes of action against Directors Wrotniak, Codding, McEachern, and Kane: (1) breach of the fiduciary duty of care; (2) breach of the fiduciary duty of loyalty; and (3) breach of the fiduciary duty of candor. (See Second Am. Compl. ("SAC") ¶¶ 173-192.) Due to Plaintiff's vague and obtuse pleading, the Individual Defendants consistently sought clarity from Plaintiff as to what specific RDI Board decisions he claims are actionable breaches as compared to what activities he considers to be mere evidence of entrenchment or misconduct. As a result, at the first summary judgment hearing held on October 7, 2016, the Court directed Plaintiff's counsel to "give me more information" following the completion of discovery as to the specific breaches of fiduciary duty Plaintiff is alleging. (Ex. A to the Decl. of Noah Helpern in Supp. of Ind. Defs.' Suppl. Mots. for Summ. J. (10/7/16 Hr'g Tr.) at 84:16-85:3.)

Plaintiff's counsel finally complied with this directive in opposing the Individual Defendants' Supplemental Motions for Summary Judgment, in which he set forth six "matters" that he claimed were "independently entailing or constituting breaches of fiduciary duty":

(1) the threat to terminate Plaintiff "if he did not resolve [the Cotter family] trust disputes";

(2) Plaintiff's actual termination; (3) the authorization of the exercise of the 100,000 share option; (4) the permanent CEO search, which resulted in Ellen Cotter's selection; (5) the decision to hire Margaret Cotter as Executive Vice President, Real Estate Development-New York; and (6) the Board's response to the indications of interest presented by Patton Vision.

(See, e.g., Pl.'s Opp'n to Ind. Defs.' Suppl. Mot. for Summ. J. Nos. 1 & 2 at 5-6.) Not surprisingly, the Individual Defendants moved for summary judgment on all six of these purportedly-actionable "breaches." Contrary to Plaintiff's baseless assertions (Mot. for Recons. at 8), there was therefore no disconnect between the "claims for breach of fiduciary duty" against the Individual Defendants in the Second Amended Complaint and the "issues" covered in their motions for summary judgment.

Second, Plaintiff was also clearly on notice that the Individual Defendants were moving for summary judgment on all claims asserted against Directors Wrotniak, Codding, McEachern, and Kane. There was no surprise "sua sponte" ruling by the Court, nor anything procedurally improper about its decision. Plaintiff conspicuously avoids that (i) the Individual Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (No. 2) on the Issue of Director Independence covered all claims, and (ii) Plaintiff admittedly used the same evidence to question the disinterestedness and independence of Directors Wrotniak, Codding, McEachern, and Kane in every transaction or cause of action at issue. (See, e.g., Pl.'s Opp'n to Ind. Defs.' Mot. for Partial Summ. J. (No. 2) re: Director Independence at 1-10.)

Plaintiff has advocated, and the Court has accepted,<sup>3</sup> a legal framework governing Plaintiff's Nevada law claims under which, "with respect to the challenged actions the individual director defendants [can] . . . invok[e] the business judgment rule" if "the majority of those making the challenged decisions were independent generally and independent specifically with respect to the challenged decisions." (Id. at 1.) Plaintiff's expert, Myron T. Steele, has agreed, emphasizing in his deposition that any decision by "a majority of independent, disinterested directors . . . wouldn't raise any issues under Delaware law." (Decl. of Noah Helpern in Supp. of Ind. Defs.' Opp'n to Mot. for Recons., Ex. A (10/19/16 Steele Tr.) at 140:15-141:12.) As Steele testified, Delaware has a "two-step analysis"; "[i]n the first step, if there are no facts sufficiently pleaded to suggest a lack of independence and interest – in – interestedness, then you get – don't go to the next line of inquiry and reach any decision about whether there was any breach of fiduciary duty because [the directors] get the benefit of the business judgment rule." (Id. at 150:6-151:8.) This is why, in his Expert Report, Steele emphasizes that the predicate inquiry is whether "an independent and disinterested majority of directors" at RDI took an action before he opines whether it could potentially constitute a breach of the Individual Defendants' "duty of loyalty to the Company" on the merits. (Decl. of Noah Helpern in Supp. of Renewed MIL re: Myron Steele, Ex. D (Initial Steele Expert Report) at 3-4.)

Thus, while Plaintiff in his Motion for Reconsideration now identifies thirteen "matters" of purported individual misconduct that he claims rebut the business judgment presumption (see Mot. for Recons. at 12-13), he is putting the proverbial cart before the horse. The Court correctly recognized this problem at the December 11, 2017 hearing, pointing out to Plaintiff's counsel that these are really "one of your claims of breach of fiduciary duty," and that Plaintiff—despite ample opportunity—still was not providing any "evidence of disinterestness as opposed to allegations of [conduct allegedly constituting] breach of fiduciary duty." (Ex. 3 (12/11/17 Hr'g Tr.) to Pl.'s Mot. for Recons. at 36:10-37:3; see also id. at 33:2-10, 33:13-17 (noting that, "I looked through this whole pile of about 2 [feet] of paper last night trying to find it, and the only [director] I could find specific allegations of a lack of disinterestedness, besides the two Cotter sisters, was Mr. Adams".)

Before Plaintiff can question the substantive merits of these thirteen RDI Board decisions and proceed to trial on some kind of generalized usurpation and entrenchment theory against the various Individual Defendants,<sup>4</sup> he must first show that a majority of the directors involved in these decisions were either interested or not independent—Plaintiff cannot simply skip this "first step" in the legal analysis. See Goldman v. Pogo.com, Inc., No. Civ. A. 18532-NC, 2002 WL 1358760, at *2 (Del. Ch. June 14, 2002) ("Only upon a showing by a challenger that raises a reasonable doubt as to the independence and/or disinterestedness of a majority of a company's directors who approved the challenged transaction will the presumption of director fealty which lies at the core of the business judgment rule be rebutted."). To do so otherwise, as Plaintiff advocates, would turn Nevada's strong business judgment rule on its head, forcing defendants to prove fairness on the merits before the business judgment presumption could be applied. See Shoen v. SAC Holding Corp., 122 Nev. 621, 632, 137 P.3d 1171, 1178-79 (2006); NRS 78.138(3), (7). Even Plaintiff's expert, Myron Steele, has agreed. At his deposition, he conceded that "two independent, objective directors could disagree" on the proper process for a board decision, and admitted that "[t]he mere fact that people have voted in a certain way certainly is not dispositive on th[e] issue of breach of fiduciary duty." (Decl. of Noah Helpern in Supp. of Ind. Defs.' Opp'n to Mot. for Recons., Ex. A (10/19/16 Steele Tr.) at 160:14-161:2.)

Ultimately, what Plaintiff calls "intentional misconduct" is merely a series of RDI Board decisions, including and post-dating his termination, with which he disagrees. Standing alone, these decisions are not themselves evidence of any breach of fiduciary duty, as the Court and former Justice Steele have noted. To proceed to trial on fiduciary duty claims arising from these transactions against Directors Wrotniak, Codding, McEachern, and Kane, Plaintiff must, at a minimum, first show that these directors were either interested in, or not independent with respect to, each transaction alleged to be a breach of fiduciary duty. The Court correctly found at the December 11, 2017 hearing that Plaintiff did not meet the required interestedness/non-independence showing with respect to these four Defendants, and Plaintiff's re-hash of his previous arguments provides no basis to revisit that considered decision. Plaintiff's claim that the Court "did not adequately consider" purported "intentional misconduct by directors" (Mot. for Recons. at 5) is therefore baseless, and his Motion for Reconsideration should be denied.<sup>5</sup>

&lt;sup>5</sup> Putting aside that Nevada law applies here, the Delaware Supreme Court has noted that "Delaware courts have often decided director independence as a matter of law at the summary judgment stage," and the Court's choice to do so on December 11, 2017 certainly was not an outlier. Kahn v. M & F Worldwide Corp., 88 A.3d 635, 649 (Del. 2014) (citing In re Transkaryotic Therapies, Inc., 954 A.2d 346, 369-70 (Del. Ch. 2008) and In re Gaylord Container Corp. S'holders Litig., 753 A.2d 462, 465 (Del. Ch. 2000)); see also SEPTA v. Volgenau, C.A. No. 6354-VCN, 2013 WL 4009193, at *12-21 (Del. Ch. Aug. 5,2013) (holding, on summary judgment, that directors on the special committee were disinterested and independent).

2. The Court Correctly Determined That Plaintiff Did Not Raise a Genuine Issue of Material Fact as to the Disinterestedness or Independence of Directors Wrotniak, Codding, McEachern, and Kane

Even if the Court were to revisit its decision with respect to the disinterestedness or independence of Directors Wrotniak, Codding, McEachern, and Kane, it is clear that the Court's December 11, 2017 ruling was correct as a matter of law, and certainly not "clearly erroneous," as required by the Nevada Supreme Court for reversal. Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration provides no evidence—let alone "substantially different" evidence—to the contrary.

None of these four RDI directors were "interested" in any of the transactions placed at issue by Plaintiff. In Nevada, "[n]o issue of self-interest exists where directors did not stand on both sides of the transaction or receive any personal financial benefit." La. Mun. Police Emps.' Ret. Sys. v. Wynn, No. 2:12-cv-509 JCM, 2014 WL 994616, at *4 (D. Nev. Mar. 13, 2014) (applying Nevada law); see also NRS 78.140(1)(a) (defining "interested director"); Shoen, 122 Nev. at 639, 137 P.3d at 1183 ("to show interestedness" in the context of analyzing futility of demand, the board member must be "materially affected, either to [their] benefit or detriment, by a decision of the board, in a manner not shared by the corporation and the stockholders"). Here, there are no allegations, let alone evidence, that Directors Wrotniak, Codding, McEachern, or Kane stood on both sides of any challenged transaction or received any personal financial benefit as the result of any decision by the RDI Board put at issue by Plaintiff. (See Mot. for Recons. at 12-13 (listing thirteen transactions, none of which involved financial benefits accruing to these four directors).) Accordingly, these directors are disinterested as a matter of law.

Instead, the only possible avenue for Plaintiff to challenge the decisions made by Directors Wrotniak, Codding, McEachern, and Kane is through a lack of independence. This is a difficult task. "[T]here is a presumption that directors are independent," In re MFW S'holders Litig., 67 A.3d 496, 509 (Del. Ch. 2013), aff'd sub nom., Kahn v. M & F Worldwide, 88 A.2d 635 (Del. 2014), and "even proof of majority ownership of a company does not strip the directors of the presumptions of independence, and that their acts have been taken in good faith and in the best interests of the corporation." Aronson v. Lewis, 473 A.2d 805, 815 (Del. 1984). Plaintiff "has the burden" to show "particularized facts that create a reasonable doubt to rebut the Ellen and Margaret Cotter. Beam ex rel. Martha Stewart Living Omnimedia, Inc. v. Stewart, 845 A.2d 1040, 1050 (Del. 2004). This requires that he introduce facts showing that these four non-Cotter directors are so "beholden" to Ellen and Margaret Cotter "or so under their influence that their discretion would be sterilized." Rales v. Blasband, 634 A.2d 927, 936 (Del. 1993); Shoen, 122 Nev. at 639, 137 P.3d at 1183 (same); In re AMERCO Deriv. Litig., 127 Nev. 196, 219, 252 P.3d 681, 698 (2011) (same).<sup>6</sup> To raise a genuine issue of fact as to independence, Plaintiff needs "particularized" facts showing that each of these directors "would be more willing to risk his or her reputation than risk the relationship with" Ellen or Margaret Cotter. Teamsters Union 25 Health Servs. & Ins. Plan v. Baiera, 119 A.3d 44, 59 (Del. Ch. 2015).

presumption" that Directors Wrotniak, Codding, McEachern, and Kane were independent of Plaintiff's case is nothing more than a recitation of what the directors allegedly did, coupled with his assertion that they could not possibly have done what they allegedly did if they were independent, and, ergo, that they were not independent. The "evidence" submitted by Plaintiff in his summary judgment papers and with his Motion for Reconsideration falls far short of this stringent test to show lack of "independence" with respect to Directors Wrotniak, Codding, McEachern, and Kane.

(a) Michael Wrotniak

Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration offers no new evidence or argument challenging the independence of Director Michael Wrotniak. As established in the Individual Defendants' prior briefing (see Ind. Defs.' Mot. for Partial Summ. J. (No. 2) re: Director Independence at 21-22; Ind. Defs.' Reply in Supp. Mot. for Partial Summ. J. (No. 2) re: Director Independence at 8-9), Wrotniak was clearly independent of Margaret and Ellen Cotter as a matter of law. The alleged "close friendship" of which Plaintiff complains is actually between Margaret Cotter and Wrotniak's wife—not Wrotniak himself. (SAC ¶ 131-133.) In fact, the undisputed evidence instead indicates that Margaret Cotter did not have a substantial "ongoing relationship" with

Wrotniak; she would see him about "once a year" prior to his joining the RDI Board, and their communications were mainly limited to "email" and focused on the topic of "show tickets." (HD#2 Ex. 6 (5/13/16 M. Cotter Dep.) at 314:10-327:18.)<sup>7</sup>

"Allegations of mere personal friendship or a mere outside business relationship, standing alone, are insufficient to raise a reasonable doubt about a director's independence." Beam, 845 A.2d at 1050. Plaintiff's allegations and evidence vis-à-vis Wrotniak fall well short of the kind of "thick as blood relations" that could possibly undermine Wrotniak's presumptive independence. See In re MFW S'holders Litig., 67 A.3d at 509 n.37 (no justified concerns regarding independence where the parties "occasionally had dinner over the years, go to some of the same parties and gatherings annually, and call themselves 'friends'"); Beam, 845 A.2d at 1051 ("Allegations that Stewart and the other directors moved in the same social circles, attended the same weddings, developed business relationships before joining the board, and described each other as 'friends,' even when coupled with Stewart's 94% voting power, are insufficient, without more, to rebut the presumption of independence."); La. Mun. Police Emps.' Ret. Sys., 2016 WL 3878228, at *6-7 (applying Nevada law and finding that a 23-year friendship with dominant stockholder, coupled with political contributions, threat against an opponent in an election, and a million dollar charitable contribution did not disturb the presumption of independence).

Similarly, the Cotter sisters' participation in the proposal of Wrotniak as a nominee to the RDI Board is irrelevant as a matter of law, and any argument to the contrary "has consistently been rejected" by courts. Andreae v. Andreae, Civ. A. No. 11,905, 1992 Del. Ch. LEXIS 44, at *13-14 (Del. Ch. Mar. 3, 1992) (also noting that "the relevant inquiry is not how the director got his position, but rather how he comports himself in that position"); In re W. Nat'l Corp. S'holders Litig., No. 15927, 2000 WL 710192, at *16 (Del. Ch. May 22, 2000) (prior relationship with, and nomination by, a significant or controlling shareholder "merely establishes" that board member was "known and trusted," not that director was "beholden"). In light of the actual facts, the Court's decision finding that Director Wrotniak was disinterested and independent, and granting judgment in his favor on all claims, was not clearly erroneous.

(b) Judy Codding

The only "evidence" of Director Judy Codding's purported lack of independence offered by Plaintiff in his Motion for Reconsideration comes from his previously-submitted declaration, in which he claims that Codding once told him around the time of her appointment that "only a Cotter should be CEO" of RDI. (Mot. for Recons. at 22 (citing JJC Decl. ¶ 24).) This argument was already raised and refuted at the summary judgment stage. (See Ind. Defs.' Mot. for Partial Summ. J. (No. 2) re: Director Independence at 20 & nn.4-5.)

It is well established that a self-serving affidavit from a party will not defeat a summary judgment motion. See Clauson v. Lloyd, 103 Nev. 432, 434-35, 743 P.2d 631, 633 (1987); Weeks v. Samsung Heavy Indus. Co., Ltd., 126 F.3d 926, 939 (7th Cir. 1997) (plaintiff's own uncorroborated testimony is insufficient to defeat a motion for summary judgment); Dupont v. United States, 663 F. Supp. 2d 961, 966 n.13 (D. Haw. 2009) ("uncorroborated allegations and 'self-serving testimony" do not "create a genuine issue of material fact"). Moreover, the purported statement by Codding identified in Plaintiff's declaration is hearsay, which cannot be considered on a motion for summary judgment. See Henry v. Nanticoke Surgical Assocs., P.A., 931 A.2d 460, 462 (Del. 2007) ("The Court should not consider inadmissible hearsay when deciding a Motion for Summary Judgment."). Even on the merits, the purported statement from Codding—that either Ellen Cotter, Margaret Cotter, or Plaintiff should be CEO—actually undermines his claim that Codding is not independent from the Cotter sisters, as she was apparently willing to contemplate his return as permanent CEO of RDI (which is what he seeks in this lawsuit). And, of course, any purported policy consideration held by Codding that one of the controlling stockholders of RDI would be best suited to run the Company is, itself, not evidence that she is "beholden" to any of them.

As established in the Individual Defendants' prior briefing (see Ind. Defs.' Mot. for Partial Summ. J. (No. 2) re: Director Independence at 19-20; Ind. Defs.' Reply in Supp. Mot. for Partial Summ. J. (No. 2) re: Director Independence at 7-8), Codding was clearly independent of Margaret and Ellen Cotter as a matter of law. Plaintiff himself has admitted that Codding "might" satisfy a "legal technical definition of independence." (HD#2 Ex. 7 (5/16/16 J. Cotter, Jr. Dep.) at 70:18-71:6.) It is also undisputed that Codding has a "limited" relationship with Ellen and Margaret Cotter; before Ellen Cotter asked Codding to consider becoming a director, she had met Codding only five or ten times over the course of fifteen years. (See Ex. 16 (5/19/16 E. Cotter Dep.) to Pl.'s Opp'n to Ind. Defs.' Mot. for Partial Summ. J. (No. 2) re: Director Independence at 307:19-308:7.)

While Codding does have a friendship with Mary Cotter, the mother of the Cotter siblings who is not a defendant and is not herself a director or significant stockholder of RDI, that relationship is entirely irrelevant to the legal issue of whether Codding is "beholden" to Ellen and Margaret Cotter, and therefore "unable to consider a business decision on the merits" as it relates to their interests. La. Mun. Police Emps.' Ret. Sys., 2014 WL 994616, at *7. Indeed, like Codding, Plaintiff himself has had a "long-standing personal relationship" with his mother but considers himself "independent." (HD#2 Ex. 7 (5/16/16 J. Cotter, Jr. Dep.) at 71:8-72:15.) Moreover, there exists no non-hearsay evidence establishing what Mary Cotter thinks as to the intra-family fight, whether she has even communicated her feelings to Codding, and whether Mary Cotter's view would be in any way material to Codding's exercise of her director duties. "Mere insinuation is unfair and improper," and Plaintiff's pure speculation does not "support a reasonable inference" that Codding "could not act independently." In re W. Nat'l Corp. S'holders Litig., 2000 WL 710192, at *16.

In addition, like Wrotniak, the fact that Ellen and Margaret Cotter supported Codding's nomination to the RDI Board is irrelevant to the independence inquiry. See White v. Panic, 793 A.2d 356, 366 (Del. Ch. 2000) ("[T]he law is well-settled that [a defendant's] involvement in selecting [board members] is insufficient to create a reasonable doubt about their independence."); Frank v. Elgamal, C.A. No. 6120-VCN, 2014 WL 957550, at *22 (Del. Ch. Mar. 10, 2014) ("Merely because a director is nominated and elected by a large or controlling shareholder does not mean that [s]he is necessarily beholden to [her] initial sponsor."). As with Wrotniak, Codding's limited relationships with Ellen and Margaret Cotter are hardly the kind that would support a finding that Codding is "so under their influence that [her] discretion would be sterilized." Rales, 634 A.2d at 936. Accordingly, the Court's decision finding that Director Codding was disinterested and independent, and granting judgment in her favor on all claims, was not clearly erroneous.

(c) Douglas McEachern

Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration offers no new evidence or argument challenging the independence of Director Douglas McEachern. The entirety of Plaintiff's attack focuses on rehashing his previous objections to certain Board decisions supported by McEachern (see Mot. for Recons. at 12-13, 15-23), but—as the Court correctly noted at the December 11, 2017 hearing—support for a particular transaction is not itself evidence of a lack of independence. See also Aronson, 473 A.2d at 817 ("mere directorial approval of a transaction, absent particularized facts . . . otherwise establishing the lack of independence or disinterestedness of a majority of the directors, is insufficient" to support a breach of fiduciary duty claim). Plaintiff again offers absolutely no evidence as to why McEachern's discretion would be sterilized or why he would be "beholden" in any way to Ellen or Margaret Cotter; he identifies no disqualifying financial connection or personal relationship that would call into question McEachern's impartial judgment.

Instead, the actual evidence is that McEachern made considered decisions. For instance, in determining whether to continue Plaintiff's employment as CEO, McEachern concluded after months of close scrutiny that Plaintiff lacked the necessary experience and management ability, undercut fellow executives and wasted time, did not interact with staff, acted in an abusive manner to RDI's employees, had an inability to communicate with people and create trust, and was not moving the Company forward. (HD#1 Ex. 7 (5/6/16 McEachern Dep.) at 49:25-50:7, 50:19-52:5, 112:18-114:15, 28:23-286:11, 292:25-293:9, 293:23-294:15.) As McEachern testified, "from August of 2014 until [Plaintiff's] termination, I cannot tell you one thing that we did that created value for the company, one thing that Jim Cotter, Jr. managed to do. Nothing." (Id. at 292:2-5.) Plaintiff's mere disagreement with McEachern's business judgment as an RDI director falls far short of his burden of identifying "admissible evidence" showing "a genuine issue for trial" regarding McEachern's independence. Posadas v. City of Reno, 109 Nev. 448, 452, 851 P.2d 438, 442 (1993); Shuck v. Signature Flight Support of Nev., Inc., 126 Nev. 434, 436, 245 P.3d 542, 543 (2010) ("bald allegations without supporting facts" are insufficient).

Moreover, as the Individual Defendants have repeatedly emphasized (see Ind. Defs.' Mot. for Partial Summ. J. (No. 2) re: Director Independence at 5, 15, 23; Ind. Defs.' Reply in Supp. Mot. for Partial Summ. J. (No. 2) re: Director Independence at 4), Plaintiff has already admitted that Director McEachern is independent. When asked at his deposition, "Mr. McEachern, is he independent, in your view?" Plaintiff answered: "Yes. I mean, he's – I mean, again, he's independent. He's got no relationship with Ellen and Margaret or, you know, no business relationship with Ellen and Margaret." (HD#2 Ex. 7 (5/16/16 Cotter, Jr. Dep.) at 84:21-85:1.) When pressed as to whether, "in your view, Mr. McEachern is independent and has always been independent," Plaintiff responded "Okay. Yes." (Id. at 85:6-86:4.) Plaintiff, as in prior briefing, never confronts this critical admission in his Motion for Reconsideration. This alone is sufficient to warrant summary judgment in McEachern's favor, and the Court's decision to do so was obviously not clearly erroneous.

(d) Edward Kane

As with Director McEachern, Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration offers no new evidence or argument challenging the independence of Director Edward Kane. Instead, Plaintiff admittedly provides only a repeat of his previous complaints as to the substance of Kane's decisions as an RDI Board member, beginning with Plaintiff's termination. (See Mot. for Recons. at 15 ("As Plaintiff demonstrated in his own summary judgment motion and in his oppositions to Partial MSJ No. 1, and as summarized again below, . . . ").) As with McEachern, Plaintiff's attempt to challenge the "entire fairness" of Kane's decisions as an RDI Board member is premature (and ultimately unsupportable). Plaintiff must first establish that Kane was not disinterested or not independent—which he cannot do.

Plaintiff's attacks on Kane's independence in his previous filings were without legal merit. Plaintiff has not identified any financial connection or monetary dependence between Kane and the Cotter sisters, nor can he. Moreover, as previously established by the Individual Defendants, Kane also has no "personal relationship" with Ellen or Margaret Cotter sufficient to raise a triable issue of fact as to his independence. (See Ind. Defs.' Mot. for Partial Summ. J. (No. 2) re: Director Independence at 16-17; Ind. Defs.' Reply in Supp. of Mot. for Partial Summ. J. (No. 2) re: Director Independence at 5.) As Plaintiff has conceded (see Pl.'s Supp. Opp'n to MSJ Nos. 1 & 2 at 8), the friendship of which he complains was actually between Kane and his father, not between Kane and Ellen or Margaret Cotter.

Plaintiff has never cited any evidence indicating that Kane's friendship with James J. Cotter, Sr. has resulted in him having a closer relationship with Cotter, Sr.'s daughters than with his son. Indeed, while Ellen and Margaret Cotter have, at times, referred to Director Kane as "Uncle Ed," so has Plaintiff. (HD#2 Ex. 3 (5/2/16 Kane Dep.) at 29:4-35:6; HD#2 Ex. 7 (5/16/16 Cotter, Jr. Dep.) at 83:6-12.) Plaintiff does not dispute that he has known Kane all of his life and even visited Kane at his home as late as the spring of 2015, just weeks before his termination, to personally implore Kane to help Plaintiff resolve his disputes with his sisters and retain his position as CEO. (HD#2 Ex. 3 (5/2/16 Kane Dep.) at 35:10-22; HD#2 Ex. 8 (7/26/16 Cotter, Jr. Dep.) at 753:9-754:8.) Even if Kane were Ellen and Margaret Cotter's actual "uncle" (and not Plaintiff's), that is considered a "more remote family relationship" that is "not disqualifying" to a director's independence as a matter of law in Nevada. In re Amerco Deriv. Litig., 127 Nev. at 232-33, 252 P.3d at 706 (Pickering, J., concurring in part and dissenting in part); 1 Principles of Corporate Governance § 1.26 (1994) (an uncle/nephew relationship does not establish the parties as members of one another's immediate families).

In addition, Plaintiff has never explained why Director Kane's "understanding" that James J. Cotter, Sr. intended for Margaret Cotter to control his personal estate would affect his independence as an RDI Board member. (See Ind. Defs.' Reply in Supp. of Mot. for Summ. J.

(No. 1) re: Plaintiff's Termination and Reinstatement Claims at 5-7.) As the undisputed evidence establishes, it was actually Plaintiff who involved Kane in the trust settlement discussions; Kane supported such a settlement because, as Kane explained to Plaintiff at the time, he—like Plaintiff—believed that a settlement would end all the "ill feelings," "enhance the company, benefit [Plaintiff] and [his] sisters and allow [the Cotters] to work together going forward." Further, it would give Plaintiff the time to prove "that [he] do[es] in fact have the leadership skills to run this company." (Ex. 4 (5/28/16 emails between Kane and Cotter, Jr.) to Pl.'s Opp'n to Ind. Defs.' Mot. for Partial Summ. J. (No. 2) at 32-33.)

All evidence shows that Director Kane engaged in any settlement-related discussions on exactly the terms Plaintiff requested prior to his termination (see Ind. Defs.' Reply in Supp. of Mot. for Summ. J. (No. 1) re: Plaintiff's Termination and Reinstatement Claims at 5-7 (collecting evidence)); none of it shows the kind of bias in favor of Ellen and Margaret Cotter (and against Plaintiff) required by law to challenge Kane's independence. See Beam, 845 A.2d at 1050. Indeed, while Plaintiff claims that Kane somehow "extorted" him, the actual evidence is that Kane supported a negotiated resolution of the trust dispute because he knew by mid-June that "there were votes there to terminate [Plaintiff]" and that he himself would be "voting against him" if Plaintiff's leadership deficiencies were not alleviated by the kind of further oversight and more harmonious management structure contemplated in the pending settlement deal—including, for example, oversight of Plaintiff's management by an Executive Committee. (See HDO Ex. 7 (6/9/16 Kane Dep.) at 596:13-25; HDO Ex. 5 (5/2/16 Kane Dep.) at 193:3-195:2.)<sup>8</sup>

Given the clear insufficiency of Plaintiff's challenges, coupled with the fact that Plaintiff—mere weeks before his termination—approved an SEC filing that identified Kane as "independent" (HD#2 Ex. 11 (5/8/15 RDI From 10-K/A, Am. No. 1) at -5644 & -5665), the Court's December 11, 2017 that Plaintiff has not met his burden of showing a genuine issue for trial with respect to Kane's independence was not clearly erroneous.

- Q. During your time as a judge in
- 2 Delaware did you ever have a case that applied or
- 3 used Nevada law?
- 5 Have you ever, by yourself or working Q.
- 6 with others, ever conducted any research into Nevada
- 7 corporate law?
- A. The closest to that was participation 8
- 9 in an ABA seminar in Nevada in Las Vegas with
- 10 practicing lawyers from Nevada where the discussion
- 11 for the audience focused on similarities and
- 12 dissimilarities between Nevada and Delaware law.
- 13 That's one CL -- CLE out of many over the years, but
- 14 the only one where the focus was a comparison
- 15 between Nevada and Delaware.
- 16 And do you recall when that CLE took
- 17 place?
- 18 A. No.
- 19 Q. Okay.

2 anything down?

- 20 It was when I was still on the bench.
- 21 For -- for purposes of that CLE did
- 22 you personally conduct any research into Nevada law?

1 you looked at the Nevada statutes, did you write

5 at the CLE about the similarities or differences

Did you give any sort of presentation

- 23 A. I looked at the Nevada statutes and
- 24 compared them to our general corporation law; yes.
- 25 For those purposes did you -- when

- - 3 of that. It wasn't a discussion about which policy
  - 4 is the better policy relative to corporate
- 6 between the Nevada statutes and Delaware statutes? Q. And in terms of the discussion on the
  - A. I -- it wasn't in the form of a paper
- 8 that was presented. It was more of a panel 9 dialogue. And the discussion was focused on
- 10 Nevada's adoption of exculpation for breach of duty
- 11 of loyalty as opposed to Delaware's 102(b)(7), which
- 12 would not allow that to occur.
- All right. And so you in that
- 14 presentation -- or I guess panel discussion is the
- 15 way you described it --
- 16 A. Yes.
- 17 Q. -- that was a discussion between --
- 18 was it law -- I'm sorry -- lawyers or judges from
- 19 Nevada and yourself?
- A. All I remember are two attorneys
- 21 practicing in the area from Nevada. I don't
- 22 remember a Nevada judge being part of the panel.
- 23 And you recall that there was a
- 24 discussion on the panel of the differences between
- 25 the Nevada exculpation statute and the Delaware

- 1 exculpation statute?
- 2 Α. That's the only part of it that I 3 recall discussing.
- And do you remember there that there
- 5 was a discussion during that time that the Nevada
- 6 exculpation statute -- that's a mouthful, I'll get
- 7 it out -- that the Nevada exculpation statute was
- 8 broader than the Delaware statute?
- Well, the distinction, as I
- 10 understood it at the time, was that Nevada allows
- 11 exculpation for a breach of duty of loyalty.
- 12 Delaware does not.
- 13 Q. Do you remember anything else that
- 14 was discussed on that panel?
- 15 Oh, there was some discussion about
- 16 why Nevada was doing this, whether it was to affect
- 17 the number of charters that it could attract to the
- 18 State, whether there was any case law that focused
- 19 on what that really would mean, and there was a
- 20 discussion about what implications that might have
- 21 for federal intervention into state space if things
- 22 went awry in a Nevada case where there was an
- 23 egregious breach of the duty of loyalty that
- 24 resulted in damage and then exculpation resulted in
- 25 no punishment for the directors.

- It was more of a political
- 2 discussion, what are the ramifications potentially
- governance.
- panel for exculpation for breach of duty of loyalty,
- 8 what was the panel's -- you said that the -- let me
- 9 back up for a second.
- You said that the panel discussed the
- 11 ramifications of exculpation for breach of duty of
- 12 loyalty in terms of bringing in businesses into
- 13 Nevada; is that right?
- A. Well, that was the -- ramifications
- 15 meaning what could one expect, worst case/best case
- 16 scenario. No one knew at the time what -- to my
- 17 knowledge, no one on the panel knew at the time what
- 18 the implications might ultimately be. There was
- 19 speculation about it.
- Q. And is that -- part of the reason why
- 21 no one knew what the ramifications would be was
- 22 because the Nevada exculpation statute was so
- 23 different than the Delaware exculpation statute?
- Well, different and had social policy
- 25 implications that follow exculpation for a breach of

- 1 duty of loyalty. It's contrary to the common law
- 2 and there are -- there are social policy
- 3 implications there.
- And that's what drew us into the
- 5 discussion about if there's an egregious case, would
- 6 this result in, by way of example, an institutional
- 7 investor invested in a Nevada corporation running to
- 8 Washington, D.C., as a part of a group of
- 9 institutional investors and complaining to the SEC
- 10 and to Congress that there was an egregious result
- 11 and it was because Nevada went so far as to
- 12 exculpate for a breach of duty of loyalty.
- 13 It was pure discussion about what
- 14 could happen down the road with no factual basis to
- 15 support there would be such a case or that Congress
- 16 would do anything, but just like most CLEs, it was
- 17 talking heads on a panel discussing the issues.
- 18 Q. And in -- in preparation -- excuse
- 19 me -- for your report in this litigation, did you
- 20 have the opportunity to review the Nevada
- 21 exculpation statute?
- 22 A. I did look at it, yes.
- 23 And is the text of that statute still
- 24 the same as it was when you were back on the panel?
- 25 To the best of my recollection. But

- 1 I don't -- I didn't research any changes from what
- 2 the Nevada lawyers told me and what I saw initially,
- 3 what was given to me in the materials, and what I
- 4 had seen most recently, which were in the papers
- 5 connected to this case.
- So in your research in preparation
- 7 for the papers in this case, did you observe that
- 8 the Nevada exculpation statute was still
- 9 fundamentally different than the Delaware
- 10 exculpation --
- 11 A. Yes.
- 12 Q. -- statute?
- 13 A. Yes.
- 14 And to your knowledge, has there ever
- 15 been any of the type of federal, we'll say,
- 16 interference or concerns about the Nevada
- 17 exculpation statute that was discussed at that --
  - No. My focus my entire career has
- 19 been entirely on federal interference and internal
- 20 governance of Delaware charter corporations.
- 21 Okay. So you -- so you're not aware
- 22 of any -- any federal interference when it comes to
- 23 Nevada corporations or in particular the Nevada
- 24 exculpation statute.
- 25 A. I am not.

- Other than what you've just
- 2 described, have you ever been involved in any other
- 3 research or discussions involving Nevada corporate
- 4 law?
- 5 A. No.
- 6 Okay. Would you agree, sir, that
- 7 you're not an expert in Nevada corporate law?
  - I would agree.
- In preparation for your expert
- 10 reports that you submitted, you submitted an initial
- 11 report and then a supplemental report; correct?
  - Correct.
- 13 In preparation of those reports did
- 14 you conduct any research into Nevada corporate law?
- 15
- 16 Okay. In preparation of your initial
- 17 and expert report did anyone at your direction
- 18 conduct any research into Nevada corporate law?
  - A. I asked the associate who worked with
- 19 20 me in preparation of the report to document one
- 21 footnote you'll see in the report that refers to
- 22 Nevada looking from time to time to Delaware case
- 23 law for guidance where there was no existing Nevada
- 24 law. That's what I've understood largely because of
- 25 the CLE that I mentioned earlier, but I wanted

- 1 something to document that. That is the extent to
- 2 which I looked into Nevada law because that was not 3 my role.
- 4 When you say it was not your role,
- 5 you mean you didn't intend to or expect to provide
- 6 any expert testimony or opinion about Nevada
- 7 corporate law; is that right?
- That's correct.
- 9 Q. The associate that you mentioned,
- 10 what is his or her name?
- A. Diva Bole. Sorry; we have so many
- 12 and I'm not sure about your firm, but they come and
- 13 go. It's hard to keep up with them.
- O. All right. In terms of -- of
- 15 Ms. Bole's research -- and, you know, I've got an
- 16 e-mail here that may help us with the spelling of
- 17 her name --

- B-O-L-E. A.
- 19 B-O-L-E.
- In terms of her research into Nevada
- 21 law, do you know what she did to conduct any
- 22 research into Nevada law?
- To my knowledge, she did what I asked
- 24 her to do, and that is document the one statement
- 25 that I just made so I could rely that that -- there

Page 17

- 13 before the preparation of your expert report that he
- 14 contacted you?
- 15 A. No.
- 16 Q. Do you recall if it was a matter of
- 17 days? weeks?
- 18 I don't recall. If I -- I know it
- 19 was more than a matter of days. It was certainly
- 20 more than a matter of a week or two. So it -- to
- 21 answer your question, was it a matter of weeks? I
- 22 guess the answer to that has to be yes, although I
- 23 don't know how many weeks.
- All right. In your -- as you sit
- 25 here, you estimate it's more than one or two weeks;

- 2 though, is -- and I want to make sure that this is

All right. Your best recollection,

- correct -- more than one or two weeks.
- Yes.
- 5 Q. Okay. But beyond that you can't be 6 more specific.
  - A. That's correct.
- 8 Now, when Mr. Krum contacted you, Q.
- 9 what did he say to you?
- 10 He contacted me and asked if I was in
- 11 a position to consider an expert witness report for
- 12 a case in Nevada and I said the first thing we have
- 13 to do, if I'm going to help, is a conflicts check.
- 14 So that was the first step.
- 15 And then he indicated to me, because
- 16 I stated I didn't find myself in a position to offer
- 17 an opinion on Nevada law, he said I'm interested in
- 18 whether you can give an opinion on Delaware law as
- 19 it may apply in this case.
- 20 And I said I can give an opinion
- 21 perhaps after I review what's available to me and it
- 22 will be basically the analytical framework that a
- 23 Delaware court would apply in attempting to resolve
- 24 the issues that are posed by the pleadings.

Words to that effect. Those

Page 32

- 1 is that correct?
- That's my best recollection, yeah.
- 3 Is it fewer than three?
- 4 I really can't safely answer that. I
- 5 don't recall. I didn't -- I didn't focus on that.
- One or two weeks is your best 7 estimate?
- 8 MR. KRUM: No. Mischaracterizes the 9 testimony.
- 10 THE WITNESS: No. What I said was it
- 11 had to be more than a week and your question
- 12 said was it a few weeks, so if it's more
- 13 than a week or two, it could have been a few
- 14 weeks, yeah.
- 15 BY MR. SEARCY:
- Okay. And I'm not trying to put 16
- 17 words in your mouth with the -- with the deposition
- 18 testimony.
- 19 A. No. I --
- 20 Q. That's quite all right.
- 21 A. Sorry.
- 22 I'm just trying to get your best
- 23 estimate of how long it was before you prepared your
- 24 expert report that you spoke to Mr. Krum.
- 25 A. I don't have a clear recollection.

- 1 obviously aren't the exact words.
- O. Sure. When Mr. Krum indicated to
- 3 you or used the words "Delaware law as it may
- 4 apply," did he indicate to you that there might be
- 5 instances in the case where Delaware law might apply
- 6 instead of Nevada law?
- He indicated to me, my best
- 8 recollection, similarly to the Footnote No. 1, that
- 9 where Nevada did not have developed law, Nevada
- 10 courts often looked to Delaware to see what the
- 11 Delaware answer would be. He never represented to
- 12 me that Delaware was a gap-filler to the extent that
- 13 a Nevada court was either obligated or even inclined
- 14 to follow Delaware law. Simply that they would look
- 15 to Delaware law, which is something I've heard my
- 16 entire career; not just from Nevada, but from any
- 17 other jurisdictions.
  - And did --O.
- 19 So that didn't surprise me at all.
- Okay. But you didn't see yourself
- 21 as -- as being asked to provide an expert opinion on
- 22 any aspect of Nevada law; correct?
- He absolutely never asked for that.
- 24 He would have -- that would have been our last

Page 31

- 1 You wouldn't have --Q.
- 2 I couldn't have done. A.
- 3 Right. Okay.
- 4 And in terms of areas where a court
- 5 in Nevada might look to Delaware law, did he
- 6 indicate what those areas might be?
- A. No. He just made the general
- 8 comment, as I recall.
- And as you sit here today, are you
- 10 aware of any areas where a Nevada court might look
- 11 to Delaware law?
- 12 A. I didn't -- let me state that a
- 13 little more carefully.
- 14 I made no inquiry. I only did what I
- 15 was asked to do in what I believed to be a limited
- 16 scope in order to provide the court guidance if the
- 17 court wanted it about how Delaware would analyze
- 18 this dispute.
- 19 Q. Okay. After your initial
- 20 conversation with Mr. Krum, did you decide to take
- 21 the -- the engagement?
- 22 Yes. A.
- 23 Okay. O.
- 24 A. After the conflicts check.
- 25 Okay. After you ran the conflicts

- 1 Correct.
- 2 O. Is that material that's identified
- 3 in -- in your expert report as Exhibit B?
- Yes, the --
  - I'm sorry; let me take that back.
- 6 Whatever the exhibit number is.
  - Q. Exhibit C, yeah.
- 8 A. Whatever the exhibit letter is.
- 9 All right. And just for
- 10 clarification, looking to Exhibit C of your expert
- 11 report, that identifies the information that was
- 12 considered; correct?
- 13 A. Yes.
- 14 O. Okay. And to your -- and it's your
- 15 understanding that Ms. Bole received the information
- 16 considered that's on Exhibit C from Mr. Krum; is
- 17 that right?
- 18 A. Either from Mr. Krum or from me. I
- 19 don't know whether the e-mails would reflect that he
- 20 sent information to both of us or simply to me and 21 some was sent by my office to Diva Bole or whether
- 22 she received anything directly. I don't know the
- 23 answer to that.
- Q. Do you recall if there was any
- 25 information that Ms. Bole asked for from Mr. Krum

1 check, did you then prepare or start preparing a

- 2 draft of your report?
- A. Did I start a draft? No, I did not
- 4 start a draft of the report.
- 5 Who -- who did?
- 6 Diva Bole did. A.
- 7 Okay. When did Diva start with her
- 8 draft?
- 9 A. I don't know the answer to that.
- 10 Do you know how long she spent on Q.
- 11 that?
- 12 Some considerable time. Obviously we
- 13 talked in the interim.
- 14 When you say "some considerable
- 15 time," can you attach a hours figure to that?
- 16 A. I can't, no. It may be and should be
- 17 reflected in any bill that she appears on.
- Q. And do you know -- in terms of what
- 19 Ms. Bole did to draft the report, do you know
- 20 what -- what steps she took to draft the report? 21 A. I know she read all the material that
- 22 had been sent to us.
- Q. When you say all the material that
- 24 had been sent to you, is that material that was sent
- 25 by -- by plaintiff's counsel?

- 1 that was not provided for purposes of the report?
- Not to my knowledge.
- 3 Q. Let me ask you more generally: Do
- 4 you recall Ms. Bole asking Mr. Krum for any
- 5 additional information?
  - A. I don't recall.
- 7 Q. Did you ever ask Mr. Krum for any
- 8 additional information or documents?
- 9 Either before or after the report was
- 10 prepared?
- Q. Well, let me -- let me start with
- 12 that.

- A. Yeah.
- 14 Before the report was prepared, did
- 15 you ask Mr. Krum for any additional documents?
- 16 A. I didn't ask him for any specific 17 item, no.
- 18 O. Okay. Generally speaking, did you
- 19 ask him for items?
- Generally, I had an understanding
- 21 that he would send me any documents that he thought
- 22 might be helpful to me in reaching the opinion or,
- 23 after the opinion was written, any additional
- 24 documents that may have come to his attention that

25 would have bearing on the issues in the opinion. Page 37

11

- 1 Q. And how did you obtain that 2 understanding?
- 3 A. Just by conversation.
- 4 Q. You had a conversation with Mr. Krum 5 where Mr. Krum told you that he would send you 6 anything helpful; is that right?
- 7 MR. KRUM: Object to the
- 8 characterization of the testimony.
- 9 THE WITNESS: It -- I don't have a 10 specific recollection it was that broadly
- 11 stated. There's -- there was an
- 12 understanding that developed out of a
- conversation that if there were any other
- 14 relevant documents that I would need, he
- would send them to me because there -- there
- is always the possibility that something
- pops up that could alter the opinion and I
- would want to know about it.
- 19 BY MR. SEARCY:
- Q. Do you recall what Mr. Krum said to
- 21 you about sending all relevant documents?
- A. No, not specifically.
- Q. And do you have an understanding as
- 24 to whether or not the documents listed in Exhibit C
- 25 are all the relevant documents in the case?

Page 38

- 1 I've seen.
- Q. Okay. In terms of any of the
- 3 documents produced by any of the parties in
- 4 discovery, have you looked at any of those --
  - A. No.
- 6 O. -- additional documents?
- 7 Did you ever review the deposition
- 8 testimony of Jim Cotter, Jr.?
- 9 A. Yes.
  - Q. Okay. You did. Did you review all
- 11 the -- all the deposition transcripts from his
- 12 deposition, all the volumes?
  - A. All that I knew of.
- 14 Q. Okay. Do you recall how many you
- 15 reviewed?
- 16 A. No.
  - Q. Okay. Now, with respect to
- 18 Mr. Cotter, Jr.'s, deposition transcript, that's not
- 19 identified as being information considered in
- 20 Exhibit C; correct?
- A. I don't -- I don't know. I haven't
- 22 looked at Exhibit C.
- Q. All right. So Ms. Bole prepared the
- 24 first draft of the expert report; is that right?
- 25 A. Yes.

- 1 A. No. To my mind, they are not all the 2 relevant documents to the case. They were the 3 relevant documents to the opinion at the time I gave
- 3 relevant documents to the opinion at the time I gave 4 it.
- 5 Q. Okay. And then when you say relevant 6 to the opinion, does that mean that they supported 7 the opinion?
- 8 A. Oh, they did in part or didn't in
- 9 part. It all depends on what they said and how they 10 stated it.
- 11 Q. Beyond the 17 documents -- or beyond
- 12 the documents that are listed in Exhibit C, are you
- 13 aware of any other relevant documents in the case?
- 14 A. That existed --
- MR. KRUM: Objection; vague.
- 16 THE WITNESS: -- before the opinion
- or after?
- 18 BY MR. SEARCY:
- 19 Q. Let's start with before.
- 20 A. No.
- Q. Okay. And I'll ask -- then I'll ask
- 22 you about after.
- A. Yeah. I have seen motions for
- 24 summary judgment. I have seen the objection to my
- 25 report. Those are the additional documents that Page 39

- 1 Q. Do you recall how many drafts of the 2 expert report she prepared?
  - A. No; but it was more than one.
  - Q. Do you recall whether or not
- 5 plaintiff's counsel submitted any portions of the
- 6 draft from Ms. Bole?
- A. I do not.
- Q. Okay. You don't know whether
- 9 plaintiff's counsel might have written some portion
- 10 of the -- of the expert report?
  - A. To my knowledge, he didn't.
- 12 Q. Do you know either way?
- 13 A. What?
- 14 Q. Do you know either way?
- 15 A. With certainty? No.
- 16 Q. Okay. Do you recall how many drafts
- 17 there were of the expert report?
- 18 A. Three, I believe.
- 19 Q. Now, and did you take any notes of
- 20 your conversations with plaintiff's counsel?
- 21 A. The ones I produced are the notes I 22 took.
- MR. SEARCY: Let's attach this as the next exhibit.

18 (Pages 66 - 69)

- 1 the dash, that Margaret Cotter sought the position,
- 2 and the depositions of everyone involved were
- 3 replete with discussions about the extent to which
- 4 she was qualified for the position and who supported
- 5 her for that position, who did not, and it was an
- 6 integral part, as I understand the depositions, of
- 7 the interfamilial dispute which so concerned Ed
- 8 Kane. So that footnote I think is consistent with
- 9 at least the information after the dash.
- 10 Q. And when you say "the information
- 11 after the dash," that's the -- the last phrase, the
- 12 position MC sought with respect to the Company's New
- 13 York City real estate?
- 14 A. Yeah. The under -- yes. The
- 15 underlying facts are -- are rife with a dispute over
- 16 whether she was qualified for the position, should
- 17 have the position, whether someone with real estate
- 18 development expertise should be there as opposed to
- 19 management of theaters. And it -- it -- it runs
- 20 throughout all the depositions.
- Now, maybe "angered" is a stronger
- 22 word than can be supported by the use of that
- 23 particular word, but it's certainly the basis of
- 24 the -- of considerable contention, as I read it, in
- 25 context throughout all the depositions.

- 1 BY MR. SEARCY:
- Q. In preparing your expert report did
- 3 you look at the terms of the employment agreement
- 4 between Jim Cotter, Jr., and Reading?
- 5 A. No.
- 6 Q. Okay. Were you ever aware that
- 7 Mr. Cotter, Jr., had an employment agreement with
- 8 Reading --
- 9 A. It was -
- 10 Q. -- prior to submission of your expert
- 11 report?
- 12 A. It was -- yes. It was referred to in
- 13 the depositions.
- 14 Q. Did you ever ask to see that
- 15 employment agreement?
- 16 A. No.
- 17 Q. Okay. Would the employment agreement
- 18 have affected your analysis in this case?
- 19 A. My analysis of the standard of review
- 20 that would apply, whether or not entire fairness
- 21 would apply to the decision-making, and whether the
- 22 process for his termination was arguably consistent
- 23 or inconsistent with a breach of fiduciary duty? It
- 24 would not.
- Page 70 25 Q. Why not?

Page 72

- 1 Q. It's fair to say, though, that when
- 2 you went through the drafts of the expert reports,
- 3 you weren't cite-checking the deposition
- 4 testimony --
- 5 A. That's correct.
- 6 O. -- that was cited; correct?
- 7 A. That's correct. I used the associate
- 8 much as -- much as I used a law clerk. They know
- 9 their job. I can rely upon it until I learn
- 10 differently, and I do rely upon it.
- 11 Q. For purposes of your expert report,
- 12 did you also have the associate conduct the initial
- 13 legal research?
- 14 A. No. We had discussions about the
- 15 research. That came -- that came from me. What
- 16 general principles of law applied and how we should
- 17 approach the opinion, that came from me.
- Q. But in terms of asking for particular
- 19 cases that were consistent with those general
- 20 principles of law, did you ask the associate to
- 21 research those cases?
- 22 A. Yes.
- 23 MR. KRUM: Object.
- 24 THE WITNESS: Sorry.
- MR. KRUM: That's okay.

- 1 A. Because from what I understood from
- 2 the depositions, he was continuing to be employed as
- 3 the CEO; and if he had a contract to terminate him
- 4 as of a date certain, it was after the date he was
- 5 terminated. You can infer nothing else from the --
- 6 from the depositions.
- 7 Q. Let me see if I can understand your
- 8 testimony somewhat about the -- the CEO contract.
- 9 When you said he was continuing to be employed as a
- 10 CEO, do you mean continuing to be employed under the
- 11 contract?
- 12 A. No. I didn't take the contract into
- 13 consideration other than the references to it that I
- 14 read in the deposition suggested that he had a year
- 15 of benefits if he were terminated under the
- 16 contract.
- Q. If the contract stated that
- 18 Mr. Cotter, Jr., could be terminated without cause,
- 19 would that have impacted your analysis?
- 20 A. It would not have impacted my
- 21 analysis on whether the process for his termination
- 22 constituted a breach of fiduciary duty. It's an
- 23 issue when you initiate a process to terminate
- 24 somebody, that process -- if you owe a fiduciary

- 1 THE WITNESS: Unless the action was a 2 sham, it has to be examined in the context 3 of what and why they were trying to achieve 4 the termination of Cotter, Jr., I'll call 5 him, for lack, JJC, however --6 BY MR. SEARCY: 7 Q. Sure. 8 -- however he's referred to in the 9 depositions, I think often as JJC. But, in any 10 event, it depends upon the context. With respect to your analysis in this 12 case, did you try to obtain any information about 13 any accomplishments that Mr. Cotter, Jr., had while

- 15 O. So with respect to implications to 16 minority shareholders, are you able to identify any accomplishments or benefits that would be lost to
- 18 minority -- minority shareholders but through
- 19 termination of Mr. Cotter, Jr.?
- 20 No. My focus would be more on the 21 process that replaced him and with whom he was 22 replaced.
- 23 With respect to Mr. Cotter, Jr.'s, 24 termination, did you look at the bylaws of RDI?

25 A. No.

Page 80

- 1 Q. Do you --
- 2 -- depending on who was speaking.
- 3 Okay. Do you recall any of the good 4 statements about the quality of the work that he was 5 doing?
- Well, I understand Mr. Kane thought 7 he was doing a good job up to a certain point. The 8 real -- the real contextual issue here is the extent
- 9 to which the family feud interfered with the 10 exercise of fiduciary duty by the directors, were
- 11 they trying to solve the family feud here, focused
- 12 on that, were they ever focused on the implications
- 13 for the minority stockholders on the -- on the
- 14 actions -- with the actions they took. That --
- 15 that's what I was looking at because that's what a
- 16 Delaware judge is concerned about.
- 17 The fiduciary duty is owed not just 18 to the controlling stockholders and the corporation
- 19 itself but also to the minority stockholders.
- 20 There's not a word of concern in any of the
- 21 depositions or your other expert reports about the
- 22 effect on the minority stockholders.
- 23 Turning back to the -- the question
- 24 that I asked you, though, with respect to

- 1 Q. And did you undertake any
- 2 consideration as to what the bylaws said about the
- 3 discretion of the board of directors in hiring or
- 4 firing a CEO?
- 5 Not having read them, I couldn't have 6 done.
- 7 Fair point.
- 8 Would those bylaws have impacted your
- 9 analysis at all if you had -- if you had reviewed 10 them?
- 11 Not the narrow scope of my analysis,
- 12 which was on the process they used, no.
- So, in other words, your review 14 wasn't about whether or not the board had the right
- 15 and the ability to terminate Mr. Cotter, Jr., but
- 16 just about the process that was used in terminating 17 him; is that correct?
- 18 A. Yes. And let me explain that answer.
- 19 Under Delaware law the fact that you have the
- 20 authority to act doesn't end the inquiry,
- 21 particularly in entire fairness review. Our law is
- 22 well-established that despite being authorized
- 23 either by the charter or the bylaws to take certain
- 24 action, when you take the action, it must be taken 25 equitably.

- MR. KRUM: Same objections.
- 2 THE WITNESS: Well, it depends on how

- 18 A. There is.
- 19 Q. Okay. Do you know how many meetings
- 20 the board of directors held before terminating
- 21 Mr. Cotter, Jr.?

- MR. KRUM: Objection; vague and ambiguous, asked and answered, may contradict the testimony.
  - THE WITNESS: It's -- it's possible for the person reviewing the process to decide either way on that. They could decide that it was important that it didn't play out to June 30th and that the decision to change from the June 30th original plan, if that indeed she concludes was the original plan, was a breach of fiduciary duty.
  - So firing on June 12th would be different than firing by coming back to a meeting and saying we've exhausted all of our efforts acting as ombudsman, the difficulties continue, we have to make a decision about what to do about it, one of those alternatives is to terminate Mr. Cotter, Jr. That could -- that could

- 12 Q. Okay. Let me ask you about an
- 13 expression of interest letter sent by a fellow named
- 14 Paul Heth to the company. Does that sound familiar
- 15 to you?
- I A. I don't remember the name Heth, but I
- 17 remember an expression of interest letter.
- 18 Q. Okay. Have you reviewed the
- 19 expression of interest letter submitted or -- I'm
- 20 sorry -- signed by Mr. Heth?
- 21 A. No.
- Q. Okay. With respect to the expression
- 23 of interest, have you reviewed anything other than
- 24 plaintiff's Amended Complaint?
- 25 A. No.

Page 111

- 1 Q. Now, as you sit here, you don't have
- 2 any knowledge of what the terms of Mr. Heth's letter 3 provided for; correct?
- 4 A. I do not.
- 5 Q. Okay. And with respect to any
- 6 discussion undertaken by the board concerning
- 7 Mr. Heth's letter, you don't have any knowledge
- 8 other than what's set forth in the Complaint; is
- 9 that right?
- 10 A. Just from the pleadings.
- 11 Q. Okay. Now, when you say "the
- 12 pleadings," you mean the Amended Complaint; right?
- 13 A. Well, that's where the allegation
- 14 occurs; yeah.
- 15 Q. You haven't looked at any underlying 16 documents?
- 17 A. No.
- 18 MR. KRUM: That were produced on or
- about the 15th of September, I should note.
- 20 MR. SEARCY: All right.
- 21 BY MR. SEARCY:
- Q. With counsel's speaking objection in
- 23 mind, have you reviewed any documents since then?
  - A. No. At the point in time of my
- 25 opinion, I had some conversation at some point with

- 6 look at all at Nevada Revised Statute 78.138 4.(d)?
- 7 A. I did not.
- 8 Q. Do you have any knowledge as to
- whether the board responded to Mr. Heth's letter?
- 10 A. From what I read in the materials
- 11 that were available to me, the board rejected any
- 12 further inquiries. But now I understand there have
- 13 been further solicitation by a prospective buyer and
- 14 there -- there's some action that might be taken as

- 10 A. Yes.
- 11 Q. Is that a reference to intentional

- 13 A. Yes.
- 14 Q. Okay.
- 15 A. It -- I -- I don't know with
- 16 certainty what the case law in Nevada has stated
- 17 about how one defines in context intentional
- 18 misconduct. I'm taking it at its dictionary
- 19 meaning, which to me, since it doesn't parrot

- 21 it must mean someone intentionally breached their
- 22 1 thrust mean someone mentionary steamed then
- 22 duty of loyalty knowing, when they did so, they were

- Q. Well, let me unpack a couple items on
- 25 that. I think you testified previously that the

Page 134

- 1 sought and obtained as a result of a breach of
- 2 fiduciary duty. It simply means the directors can't
- 3 be held personally liable for their breach of

- A. Sure.
- 8 Q. -- here fro -- for our purposes,
- 9 because I think you said on Page 31, where you make
- 10 reference to intentional misconduct, you were -- you
- 11 were doing that with respect to Nevada law; correct?
- 12 A. I -- I had that phrase in mind. But
- 13 when I say with respect to Nevada law, in no way am
- 14 I suggesting that my interpretation of intentional
- 15 misconduct is my formulation of Nevada law.
  - 6 It's -- I'm just taking two
- 17 dictionary words, putting them together, and
- 18 interpreting them consistent with my, I guess now,
- 19 46 years of practice and 25 years on the bench, they
- 20 must have some meaning and that's the meaning that I 21 give them.
- Q. All right. Now, with respect to your
- 23 reference to the Nevada statute, I believe you said
- 24 when you prepared this sentence, were you referring
- 25 to it by memory, you didn't go --

Page 136

- 1 exculpatory statute in Nevada is exculpatory also
- 2 with respect to alleged breaches of duties of
- 3 loyalty; correct?
- 4 A. Yes.
- 5 Q. Okay. In providing your opinion on
- 6 intentional misconduct on Page 31, just to be clear,
- 7 you didn't consult the Nevada statute?
- 8 A. I wouldn't -- well, I was aware of
- 9 the statute's reference to the exculpation for
- 10 breach of the duty of loyalty and two exceptions,
- 11 intentional misconduct and violation of the law. So
- 12 I was aware and consulted the statute to that
- 13 degree.
- 14 And what I represent here is while I
- 15 don't know if there is Nevada case law, taken out of
- 16 specific context, like there often is in Delaware,
- 17 where the term "intentional misconduct" is
- 18 interpreted, so I gave it the ordinary meaning that
- 19 I think a judge would give it, which is a knowing,
- 20 willful, dereliction of duty.
- 21 And I interpret it to be an
- 22 intentional breach of the duty of loyalty would be
- 23 an exception to exculpation, which, after all, at
- 24 least in Delaware, only means exculpation from money
- 25 damages; not from other remedies that could be

- 1 A. Yes.
- 2 Q. Okay. You didn't go and look it up,
- 3 you just remembered.
- 4 A. Yes. That's a fair comment. That's
- 5 correct.
- 6 Q. And in formulating this opinion about
- 7 intentional misconduct, is it also true that you
- 8 didn't consult with any Nevada case law?
- 9 A. I did not, no.
- 10 Q. Looking to the sentence above, is it
- 11 correct that the intentional misconduct that you're
- 12 opining about here concerns what you describe as
- 13 manipulation of the search for a new CEO?
- 14 A. Yes.
- 15 Q. And the -- first of all, is there any
- 16 other area in all of these expert reports where you
- 17 make reference to any intentional misconduct by

- 1 further questions at this time. I reserve
- 2 all rights in the event that there are any
- 3 issues with outstanding document requests,
- 4 but I have no further questions for now.
- 5 BY MR. RHOW:
- 6 Q. Your Honor, Justice Steele, nice to
- 7 meet you. My name is Ekwan Rhow. I represent Bill
- 8 Gould and only Bill Gould and so I have some
- 9 questions for you --
- 10 A. Sure.
- 11 Q. -- about your opinions.
- First of all, in terms of your
- 13 background, clearly you are -- you've been a judge
- 14 for many years, but have you ever served on the
- 15 board of a company?
- 16 A. On the board of a regional hospital;
- 17 yes.
- Q. Was that a publicly traded company?
- 19 A. It was not.
- Q. All right. So in your career you've
- 21 never served on -- as a board member of a publicly
- 22 traded company; correct?
- A. That -- that's correct; only non --
- 24 nonprofits.
- Q. All right. The judge in this case,

Page 146

- 1 question is: Did you read Mr. Gould's deposition?
  - A. Yes.
- 3 O. And I want to be clear, I'm not
- 4 implying otherwise. Did you read it or did your
- 5 associate read it?
- 6 A. Both.
- 7 Q. All right. And you said in your
- 8 testimony with Mr. Searcy that in some parts of the
- 9 depositions you would skim it and other parts you
- 10 read more carefully.
- 11 A. Right.

12

17

- Q. And what happened with -- with your
- 13 review of Mr. Gould's deposition?
- 14 A. I skimmed the entire deposition.
- 15 Q. Okay. So there were no parts of
- 16 Mr. Gould's deposition that you read carefully?
  - A. That's correct.
- 18 Q. And I take it the fact that you
- 19 skimmed through it meant that for purposes of your
- 20 opinions you didn't view his testimony to be
- 21 important
- A. Well, I think his testimony is
- 23 important. I think all of the directors' testimony
- 24 is important. I looked at the pleading.
- 25 Having looked at the pleading and

Page 148

- $1\,$  her name is Judge Elizabeth Gonzalez. Do you have
- 2 any connection with her?
- 3 A. Not of which I'm aware.
- 4 Q. Never worked on committees with her?
- 5 I'm not implying you have, by the
- 6 way. I'm really asking it open-ended.
- A. And -- and you -- you cause me pause
- 8 because my activity over the last 25 years with so
- 9 many judicial organizations makes me wonder because
- 10 I have served on committees, particularly those
- 11 focused on the formulation of business courts in
- 12 various states, and it could well be that she may
- 13 have been with me or me with her on a committee at
- 14 some point discussing business courts.
- 15 Q. And that's fine. I'm not -- that's
- 16 not -- the question is: Do you recall --
- 17 A. I do not recall.
- 18 Q. -- or do you have any connections --
- 19 A. No.
- Q. -- with Judge Gonzalez?
- A. No, none of which I'm aware of.
- Q. And that's all that you're required
- 23 to testify to.
- Now, as I told you, I represent Bill
- 25 Gould, not the rest of the directors. And my first

- 1 then skimming his deposition, I reached the 2 conclusion that I could find insufficient facts to
- 3 suggest to me there was a reasonable doubt about his
- 4 independence or his disinterestedness. So his
- 5 deposition as a result became less important to me.
  - Q. But separate and apart from
- 7 disinterestedness or a lack of independence, were
- 8 you or are you offering any opinion as to whether
- 9 Mr. Gould might have breached a fiduciary duty?
- A. I am not.
- 11 Q. All right. And so that -- that's
- 12 what I wanted to get to next.
- 13 In terms of your report -- and I
- 14 first thought it was an oversight, but now from your
- 15 testimony, I'm beginning to think it was
- 16 intentional -- on Page 2, if you look at 441, you
- 17 define "defendants" to be the various individuals
- 18 stated there, but it doesn't include Mr. Gould.
- 19 A. It does not.
- Q. And that was on purpose.
  - A. Yes.
- Q. All right. And then in terms of each
- 23 of the opinions that you provided in this report,
- 24 those opinions only apply to the defendants as you

25 defined them and they do not apply to Mr. Gould.

Right, okay. Yeah. And -- and let --16 -- would that be something a board 16 17 17 member can consider in deciding how to vote on a O. So It depends on the facts. 6 I reached no opinion about whether he breached his It depends on -- the fiduciary's 7 fiduciary duty or not. No.

24 things that was mentioned earlier was this concept

- 1 Q. Do you know the identities of any of 2 the minority shareholders? 3 No, although you could argue that 4 Cotter, Jr., is a minority stockholder.
  - And you did review Cotter, Jr.'s --5
  - Yeah.
  - 7 Q. -- deposition.
- 8 Yeah. So with that qualification.
- 9 It depends on whether you want to define him as one 10 or not because we don't know what the result's going
- 11 to be of the trust dispute.
- 12 Q. Okay.
- 13 A. At least I don't think so as of the
- 14 time of my reading of the documents.
- 15 Another question about the interest
- 16 that a board member is supposed to be looking after
- 17 or -- or the variables that a board member has to
- 18 consider. Is board unity a valid consideration for
- 19 a board member when voting?
- 20 MR. KRUM: Objection; vague.
- 21 THE WITNESS: If the -- if the
- 22 context suggests to the thoughtful board
- 23 member that board unity is in the best
- 24 interest of the corporation and all of the
- 25 stockholders, it certainly can be. It's not

Page 154

- 1 doubt about -- I say "about" rather than "as to," as
- 2 most lawyers -- an individual director's
- 3 independence or disinterestedness. That's where
- 4 that phrase comes into play.
- Q. And to -- what you just said, is that - something you consider at the pleading stage?
- 8 O. Subsequent to the pleading stage is
- that same standard of proof used?
- And then it -- then you go to the
- 11 materiality standard. By way of example, you
- 12 examine, okay, there was a reasonable doubt on the
- 13 facts as pleaded about whether an individual
- 14 director had an economic interest so aligned with
- 15 controllers that it would dominate his or her
- 16 decision-making process and -- and so burden them
- that they couldn't be objective.
- 18 Now, then there's a materiality
- 19 standard. You look at, well, okay, there's an
- 20 economic association there, how -- actual -- how
- 21 material would that really be to the director in
- 22 order to determine whether or not there is
- 23 interestedness.
- 24 Do you follow me?
  - Q. I do to a certain extent. It seems

Page 156

- 1 an invalid consideration ab initio.
- 2 BY MR. RHOW:
- 3 Q. All right. I'm jumping around
- 4 because I'm moving around in the outline here.
- 5 You had mentioned reasonable doubt a 6 couple times.
- 7 Who? A.
- 8 Q. You had mentioned reasonable doubt?
- 9 Yes.
- 10 Now, was that -- is that on purpose? Q.
- I'm sorry; I thought -- I really
- 12 didn't think it was somebody's name. I just didn't
- 13 hear you clearly. God, what a name.
- In expressing some of your opinions,
- 15 you said if there's a reasonable doubt about X, Y,
- 16 and Z.
- 17 Yeah.
- 18 Is that the standard you're using for Q.
- 19 your opinions?
- That's what the Delaware -- yes. To
- 21 the extent the Delaware case law says when one is
- 22 reviewing the pleadings to determine whether or not
- 23 there is sufficient evidence to move to a standard
- 24 of a review other than business judgment, it is
- 25 whether the facts as pleaded create a reasonable Page 155

- 1 to me -- and maybe I'm -- you're the expert for sure 2 on Delaware law over me. But what I'm asking is
- 3 really what's the evidentiary standard, because it
- 4 seems like on a -- on a pleading attack you're
- 5 applying a reasonable doubt standard. On motions
- 6 subsequent to a pleading attack --
- 7 A. Okay.
- 8 -- what is the evidentiary standard?
  - Well, if -- if you've shifted the
- 10 burden to entire fairness, then it's preponderance
- 11 of the evidence that it's entirely fair or it's not.
- And so here you chose a reasonable
- 13 doubt standard because you were analyzing the
- 14 pleadings.
- 15 Because that's the first step that
- 16 the Delaware case law teaches you when you're
- 17 determining whether there should be a burden shift
- 18 or not.
- 19 Then when there's a determination
- 20 made about whether the defendants have carried their
- 21 burden, that takes place at trial where credibility
- 22 can brought -- be brought into play, because
- 23 credibility can't be obviously brought into play 24 in pl -- in motion practice.

And why is that? 9 Because there was difficulty that was 10 perceived and there was rational action taken to 11 deal with it. 12 Q. The difficulty being the familial 13 dispute. 14 A. That's correct. 15 And resolving that dispute would be 16 something that could be in the best interest of the 17 company. 18 MR. KRUM: Objection; incomplete 19 hypothetical. 20 THE WITNESS: Yeah. I 6 don't want to put words in your mouth. Do you 7 recall that testimony? Yeah. The extraordinary nature of it 9 was that it suddenly resulted in a controlling 10 stockholder being the CEO. What is your foundation for saying 12 that's an extraordinary situation? MR. - 1 MR. SEARCY: Mark Ferrario?
- 2 MR. FERRARIO: I just have a couple
- 3 questions.
- 4 BY MR. FERRARIO:
- 5 Q. I just want to go to something that
- 6 Ekwan touched on and it had to -- it related to the
- 7 selection of Ellen as the CEO. As you were speaking
- 8 in response to his questions, you mentioned
- 9 something about evaluating the ability of a person
- 10 to lead. Do you recall that testimony?
- 11 A. I'm not sure specifically what you're
- 12 talking about, but generally yes.
- 13 Q. Do you recall -- if you're on a board
- 14 of directors -- and I know you haven't been on a
- 15 board other than this hospital board -- if you're on
- 16 a board of directors, probably the most important
- 17 decision you're going to make is hiring the CEO;
- 18 correct?
- 19 A. There is certainly literature to
- 20 support that, yes.
- Q. Okay. And -- and actually this
- 22 dovetails into something you said at the beginning
- 23 of your testimony that -- when you mentioned you
- 24 didn't -- you didn't know the name or you couldn't
- $25\,$  recall the name of your associate, you said

Page 171

- 1 associates come and they go. Do you remember that?
  - A. Yes.
- 3 Q. And despite your best efforts in the
- 4 interview process, sometimes you get an associate in
- 5 and they just don't work out; right?
  - A. That's certainly correct.
- 7 Q. Sometimes you -- you get someone in
- 8 that is a marginal player, they get in there and you
- 9 find out when they're in the trenches, they're
- 10 actually very good; right?
- 1 A. That's correct.
- Q. And probably the best way to evaluate
- 13 someone's ability to handle a position is to see how
- 14 they perform. Would you agree with me on that?
- MR. KRUM: Objection; incomplete hypothetical.
- 17 THE WITNESS: It's certainly an - important consideration. I'm not sure I - could go along with it's the best way. But
- 20 it's certainly a very important one.
- 21 BY MR. FERRARIO:
- Q. Why don't you tell me any other thing
- 23 you think would be better in terms of evaluating how
- 24 somebody could perform in a particular position than
- 25 seeing how they actually do the job?

Page 172

- MR. KRUM: Same objections.
- THE WITNESS: Well, what's missing,
- 3 Mark, from your question is a time frame.
- 4 BY MR. FERRARIO:
- 5 Q. Let's say --
  - A. Wait. Let me finish, please.
- 7 Q. Okay.
- 8 A. And it depends on how long they're
- 9 performing in a job. As -- as Mr. Kane's own
- 10 deposition suggests, there was a time when he
- 11 thought Cotter, Jr., was doing a good job. Then
- 12 there became a time when he no longer thought so.
- So, yes, I agree with you that if you
- 14 have a long period of time to observe someone who's
- 15 trained and who has experience and see performance,
- 16 that performance is a very important measure of a
- 17 CEO's ability and retention considerations. I don't
- 18 disagree with that at all.
- 19 Q. And I wasn't even speaking to -- to
- 20 Jim, Jr. I'm speaking to the board's decision to
- $21\,$  hire Ellen as the CEO. How long did they have to
- 22 evaluate her performance in that position?

FERRARIO: 18 Q. It wouldn't have? 19 No, it would not have. A. 20 Q. Okay. And why is that? 20 21 Because it wasn't -- there's so many 22 variables and emergencies and crises that can occur, 23 you need to be able to observe somebody over a 24 substantial period of time to gauge their reactions, 25 25 their preparation. A strategic plan is important Page 174 1 more than just for one year. Whether it's been 2 fulfilled, setting the criteria for performance 3 evaluation. All of that's important and has to be 4 observed over a period of time, unless they've done 4 5 something demonstrably egregious that would cause 6 you to want to terminate them earlier. But it's very difficult to say this
- 8 is the CEO, this is the chairman of the board, this 9 is the president, the chief executive officer, 10 however you want to characterize it, over a period 11 of time of a year or so. 12 Do you know how long Ellen had been 13 with the company? 13 14 A. I know it had been many years. 14 15 15 Q. 16 In a -- in a much reduced form of 16 A. 17 role. 17 18 But when you say "much reduced," why 18 19 don't you tell mean how much reduced? 19 Well, she wasn't the chief of all of 20 21 21 the operations in effect as CEO. 15 of the controlling stockholders and the fact that 16 there was at least one director there who was 17 concerned about the family would raise questions in 18 the mind of a judge, all of which can be resolved, 19 but only after hearing the testimony. I don't -- I reached no conclusion 21 about whether it was the correct decision or not or 22 whether it was a breach of fiduciary duty. I only 23 say it raises the issues that need to be resolved by 24 the trier of fact. That's all. Okay. And -- and you didn't go --Page 176 1 you didn't do a deep dive through the depositions to 2 see what, you know, the directors were considering 3 when they decided to hire Ellen. A. I did not. Okay. And -- and I don't want you to 6 take this question the wrong way. Okay? But I really don't know how else to ask it. You have basically given us a report 9 that from my perspective appears to be a memo on 10 Delaware law as it may apply to the, as you said, 11 unique facts of this case. That's essentially what 12 you've done; correct? MR. KRUM: Well, objection; mischaracterizes the day of testimony. THE WITNESS: You can characterize it any way you want to. I'm not going to respond to that question. BY MR. FERRARIO: Do you disagree --That's a pejorative question. What? Mr. Gould's entitlement to the business judgment rule in four supplemental oppositions filed on December 1, 2017, and he made those same arguments again at the December 11, 2017 hearing. Plaintiff still does not—and cannot—demonstrate that Mr. Gould lacked independence or disinterestedness. Mr. Gould did not have a direct financial or close personal relationship with any of the Cotter siblings or personally benefit from any of the challenged decisions and Plaintiff does not claim otherwise. As a result, the Court properly concluded that Mr. Gould was entitled to the protection of the business judgment rule and granted summary judgment in his favor. Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration should be denied.

II. ARGUMENT

Plaintiff was afforded an adequate opportunity to be heard on Α. Mr. Gould's Motion for Summary Judgment, and he makes no new arguments in his Motion for Reconsideration.

Plaintiff's argument that he did not have an adequate opportunity to defend himself because Mr. Gould's motion for summary judgment was set for January 8, 2018, and "not fully briefed" rings hollow. Plaintiff first filed an opposition brief to Mr. Gould's summary judgement motion in October 2016. He then filed another four supplemental briefs opposing Mr. Gould's motion for summary judgment on December 1, 2017. The four supplemental briefs included a brief addressing the Plaintiff raised this argument during the December 11, 2017 hearing and the Court properly rejected it then. Ex. A (12.11.17 Hrg. Tr.) at p. 56-57. Plaintiff concedes that Mr. Gould properly moved for summary judgment as to all claims against him. Mot. for Reconsideration at 4.

specific grounds on which summary judgment was granted—Mr. Gould's independence and disinterestedness and entitlement to the business judgment rule. See Suppl. Opp. to MSAs 1 & 2 and Gould's Motion for Summary Judgment at 5-7, 9-10. In that brief (and the other supplemental oppositions), Plaintiff made the very 5 same arguments regarding Mr. Gould's independence that he does in the Motion for Reconsideration—that Mr. Gould's actions or lack of action in his capacity as a board member was sufficient to demonstrate a lack of independence. Id.<sup>2</sup> In fact, 7 8 Plaintiff expressly concedes that he already made all of the arguments about Gould that appear in his motion for reconsideration, when he states "[r]ather than attempt to recite the record evidence contained in Plaintiff's oppositions to the various 10 motions addressing matters to which Gould was a party, Plaintiff respectfully refers 11 to [sic] Court to the motions." Mot. for Reconsideration at 23. Plaintiff does not 12 13 point to any new facts or arguments that Plaintiff was unable to raise before the Court granted summary judgment. And the Court made clear that it considered 14 15 those briefed arguments in deciding to grant summary judgment in favor of Mr. Gould. Ex. A (12.11.17 Hrg. Tr. at 56:13-15; 22-23) ("I included Mr. Gould 16 17 because you briefed it relate[d] to all of the motions for summary judgment . . . 18 I used it because it was included in your opposition, the supplement to those 19 motions.").

Plaintiff was afforded yet another opportunity to be heard on this matter at the December 11, 2017 hearing. Plaintiff again raised the same arguments—namely, that a lack of independence could be demonstrated merely by review of Mr. Gould's actions as a board member—that he does in the Motion for Reconsideration. Ex. A (12.11.17 Hrg. Tr. at 57:22-59:25).

The Court correctly rejected these arguments. As the Court noted at the hearing, to show a lack of independence and/or disinterestedness for purposes of rebutting the business judgment rule, Plaintiff must demonstrate that there is a direct financial relationship or very close personal relationship with the people who are interested in the transaction. Id. at 34:24-35:4. And here, Plaintiff does not contend that Mr. Gould had any financial relationship to any of the Cotter siblings or that Mr. Gould had a close personal relationship with any of the Cotter siblings. Mot. for Reconsideration at 23-24. That is why his own paid expert witness, a former justice on the Delaware Supreme Court, testified that there was no evidence that called into question Mr. Gould's independence or disinterestedness. See Gould's Supplemental Reply in Support of Summary Judgment at 3-4 (responding to Plaintiff's Supplemental Oppositions). As a result, Plaintiff's expert agreed with the Court and opined that Mr. Gould was entitled to the protections of the business judgment rule. Id. <sup>3</sup>

Simply put, the Court was correct to grant summary judgment in favor of Mr. Gould on the basis that he was entitled to the protections of the business judgment rule, and there is no basis to disturb the Court's decision. Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration should be denied.

III. CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated above, and in Gould's Motion for Summary Judgment, Reply in Support of Summary Judgment, and Supplemental Reply in Support of Summary Judgment, Plaintiff's Motion for Reconsideration should be denied.

To the extent that Plaintiff argues, based on Delaware law alone, that there are other ways to rebut the business judgment presumption and that he has done so with respect to Mr. Gould here, he fundamentally misunderstands and misapplies those cases, as evidenced by the fact that his own expert witness, a former justice on the Delaware Supreme Court who served on the Delaware Supreme Court when those cases were decided, opined that there was no evidence that Mr. Gould lacked independence and disinterestedness and that Mr. Gould was entitled to the protection of the business judgment rule.

1 LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, MONDAY, DECEMBER 11, 2017, 10:24 A.M. 2 (Court was called to order) 3 MR. FERRARIO: Ms. Hendricks has something to take 4 up with you. 5 MS. HENDRICKS: I just have a question. THE COURT: On what? 6 7 MS. HENDRICKS: On how many drives we each need. 8 THE COURT: Wait. That's not me. Wait. Don't go 9 there yet. 10 MS. HENDRICKS: Okay. 11 THE COURT: Who are you looking for? 12 MR. MORRIS: I'm so unaccustomed to being on the 13 plaintiff's side. 14 (Pause in the proceedings) 15 THE COURT: All right. So moving on. Good morning. 16 We were talking about the pro bono awards at the 8:00 o'clock 17 session this morning, and Mr. Ferrario didn't get one this year, so I was giving him a hard time because nobody from his 18 19 firm did a lot of work. But apparently they did. It just 20 didn't get reported because it was done with a different 21 agency. 22 Right, Ms. Hendricks? 23 MS. HENDRICKS: Yes. We're getting that fixed right 24 now. 25 THE COURT: Okay. So before we start on your motions I need to hit some practical problems. As those lawyers who practice here in the Eighth all the time know, as the chief judge I do not have a courtroom. That occurred because when the Complex Litigation Center was investigated for purposes of conducting the CityCenter trial we determined that it had a structural issue and some electrical issues. As a result, we did not renew the lease --

When was that, Mr. Ferrario?

MR. FERRARIO: It was 2013.

THE COURT: In 2013 we did not renew the lease, and since that time we have been down one courtroom. The person who gets screwed is the chief judge. So since 2013 we have had the chief judge be a floater. Unfortunately for you guys, I'm the first judge who kept my docket, because Business Court cases have a lot of history and it's not one of those things you can get rid of and assume somebody else is going to be able to be familiar with it fairly quickly.

So the down side for all of you is that I don't have a courtroom. Which is why sometimes we borrow Judge Togliatti's courtroom when you guys see me, sometimes in this courtroom. And you've been in the two Family Court courtrooms a couple of times here. I also have judges who lend me their courtrooms on a regular basis on the third floor, and sometimes I have courtrooms in other places in the building I borrow.

Recently I learned that I am going to be able on behalf of the court to acquire the seventeenth floor that used to be occupied by the Supreme Court and to build a new Complex Litigation Center, because since 2013 every time we have a complex trial we build out a courtroom, it costs a quarter of a million dollars, and then when we're done with it we take it back down to put it back in regular shape. And so finally the County has realized that's probably not an effective use of the funds, and so we're going to build out the seventeenth floor as a complex litigation, jury, and criminal caseload accommodated. Unfortunately, that's a construction project, and it is in process. And when I say in process it means they're still in the bid evaluation process and it has to now go to something called long-term planning at County management, which means that some day there'll be a courtroom In the meantime -there.

MR. MORRIS: So our trial will start when the construction is complete on 17?

THE COURT: No, no. You're going to start. I just don't know where we're going to be, Mr. Morris. This is the reason for the speech, because Mr. Ferrario says nobody believes me that I don't have a courtroom. I don't have a courtroom. So I will have a courtroom when I end being chief judge. I'll go back to being a regular judge and I'll have a courtroom, and then the new chief won't have a courtroom unless we finish building out the seventeenth floor by then.

So right now the reason I'm telling you that is it impacts your trial. The trial I am currently in is a bench trial, so it's not a jury trial and we have moved from courtroom to courtroom during our 10 days we've been in proceedings so far. So we've not been in the same courtroom every day. But that's sort of the life of being in this department at the moment. That's the history.

Now let's go to the electronic exhibit part of our Brandi is the head of the Clerk's Office, Mike is the head of IT, so they are the two people who are here to make sure that they are able to interact with you -- and then I'll let them leave while I hear your motions -- about the electronic exhibit protocol. Because when we use the electronic exhibit protocol there's two ways that we have to deal with it, from an IT standpoint and from the Clerk's Office standpoint. So instead of us hauling all the paper volumes from courtroom to courtroom, depending on where we're going to be, the clerk won't have to do that. They will have the drives, as Ms. Hendricks mentioned earlier, for that purpose so that Dulce will then -- after IT has cleared the drives Dulce will then work with the drives, and then we usually keep one that is called golden that we don't mess with, and we have one that's a working drive. But I'll let Mike explain that and Brandi explain it, because not all of you have been through the electronic exhibit protocol in the past.

Mike, you're up.

MR. DOAN: So this is a jury trial, so a high level. We expect three drives, a working copy, a golden copy, and then a blank for the jury that everything that gets accepted or submitted in a group will be over on that drive.

Depending on the number is drives is just based on the space. So if your teams, whoever's putting these drives together -- we have problems if you get a million exhibits on one drive or even 600,000 on one drive. Not so much even the space, it's just navigating through those files. And so as long as your team can navigate and view the files, that's okay for us. We don't have like a set number. We just ask that the drives be twice as big as the amount of the exhibits, because in theory everything could get accepted, and therefore everything would be stamped and there'd be duplicate on the drive.

THE COURT: And when it's stamped there's a program that goes through and it puts a stamp on each page of the electronic exhibit that says it's admitted so that we have your original proposed copy and then your admitted copy. The one drawback for lawyers is if you decide you want to admit a partial version if an exhibit, we cannot do that with electronic exhibits. We need you to submit a replacement electronic exhibit that includes only the pages that you are offering. That will then have an exhibit marker placed upon it. But I can't with the electronic exhibits admit pages 6 through 10 of the 25-page document.

So, Mike, what did I miss?

MR. DOAN: That's it.

THE COURT: Okay, Brandi. You're up.

MS. WENDELL: Have you already given them the ranges? Do we have --

THE COURT: No, we have not done ranges yet.

MS. WENDELL: Okay. The protocol is pretty basic. Your paralegals or your IT people that are going to be working on those might have questions. Usually -- a lot of times on all the other trials Litigation Services was used. They're very familiar with this program. I'm not advocating for them or anything, but if anybody's contracted with them, they're pretty familiar with how to do it. It's really important that you pay attention to the naming convention. Make sure there are no letters in it. It has to be strictly numbers and then .pdf. The last time there was a question about whether .tifs worked, and Mike was able to verify that .tifs are -- we're able to use those. But color photos can be done as long as there's a little border up at the top for the stamping program to mark all of the information.

Another thing that we have found useful, it's not in the protocol, but at least a couple weeks before the trial starts we do like a dry run, because your exhibit list, the templates that Dulce went ahead and emailed to you, you cannot change that, the formatting. It's critical because Mike's team will do a validation, and it validates the exhibit numbers to what is on the drive, each exhibit. And it'll identify if there's something that's missed or skipped that's on the list but it's not actually on the drive. And a lot of times there's been some formatting problems when people try to get creative. So, you know, just a little advice that we found from trial and error that that is an important piece.

What else?

MR. DOAN: That's the biggest thing, is if you can get with us -- and we'll make ourselves available as soon as you're available to do like an initial run before you start all printing and doing all these other things just so everything can be tested for format so there's not a lot of time wasted.

MS. WENDELL: The clerk must have -- the exhibit list must be printed out.

THE COURT: Not in 2 font, Ms. Hendricks.

MS. HENDRICKS: [Inaudible] that was not our office's fault, Your Honor.

MS. WENDELL: That should be in a binder so that the clerk as you're actually offering and admitting the evidence during the trial, she'll be working on that. Later that day she'll be doing the electronic stuff or we'll have a second clerk that'll be helping her. Antoinette is court clerk supervisor, and so she's here to make sure that, you know, if we have any questions that have to be answered.

A lot of times -- oh. Last trial somebody asked if because the exhibit list itself was going to be like 14 of those big binders, they asked if they could print on the front and the back. That was in Judge Kishner's big trial. We let them do it, and -- but the trial settled, so it wasn't an issue.

THE COURT: It's not a good idea.

MS. WENDELL: It's not ideal, so --

THE COURT: Please don't do a front and back.

MS. WENDELL: Anybody have any idea how many exhibits you're looking at?

THE COURT: We're going to start with them and do our ranges first. But we're not quite there yet.

So if anybody has questions or your staffs have questions, would you like contact information to reach out to either Antoinette, Brandi, or Mike?

MR. TAYBACK: Yes.

MS. HENDRICKS: That would be great, Your Honor.

THE COURT: So tell them or give them business

25 cards.

MS. WENDELL: 1 Okay. 2 MR. FERRARIO: If you all have cards, then that'd be 3 easiest. 4 THE COURT: They're County employees. Does that 5 mean they get cards? MR. DOAN: 6 Yeah. 7 THE COURT: Oh. Look at that. 8 MR. DOAN: You know, and it's best to have one point 9 of contact so then we don't get confused. 10 MS. WENDELL: I'm putting my cards away now. THE COURT: Who do you guys want to be the person 11 12 that calls? Do they want to call Antoinette, they want to 13 call you, want call Mike? 14 MS. WENDELL: Well, Antoinette is -- she's not 15 Dulce's direct supervisor, but I can be the point of contact, 16 and then I can go ahead and let you guys know. My email 17 address and my phone number are both on here. If you could 18 pass some of these out, that'd be great. And then I'll 19 probably hand you off depending on the questions that come up. 20 Most of them are going to be technical questions, but I'll try 21 to help if I can. 22 All right. So do you have any more THE COURT:

electronic exhibit protocol? You will notice because of what happened in CityCenter in paragraph 6 it now says the exhibit questions for the Clerk's Office, the IT folks, in the list will be font size 12, Times New Roman. So we're very specific on what size, because the clerk's actually have to work with the paper copy. And so although you can blow up the Xcel spreadsheet and see it when it's 2 font, they can't. So we have to have it in a larger font.

Any more questions?

Okay. Mr. Krum, how many exhibits do you think you're going to have so I can set the exhibit ranges?

MR. KRUM: The answer is it's in the hundreds, not in the thousands. So if --

THE COURT: So if I give you 1 to 9999, you will be okay?

MR. KRUM: Yes.

THE COURT: All right. Who wants to have 10000 as their start? Mr. Searcy, how many have you got?

MR. SEARCY: I think our approximation is basically the same. It's in the hundreds, not the thousands. So if we had 10000 to --

THE COURT: 1999 [sic]?

MR. SEARCY: Yeah, that would be perfect.

THE COURT: I have to give you lots of extras, because if you're going to do partial exhibits, we need that space to be able to add those. So if you've got subparts of one exhibit, I need an exhibit number for each one of those. So I'm giving you more than you need.

Mr. Ferrario, how many do you need? 1 2 MR. FERRARIO: Your Honor, Your Honor, I would 3 suspect our -- any exhibits we would introduce independent of what Mr. Krum and the other defendants would be nominal. So you can give us a very short range. THE COURT: 20000 to 2499 [sic]. 6 7 THE COURT: Who else wants exhibit lists that's not 8 one of those three? Anybody else need --9 MR. TAYBACK: Counsel for Mr. Gould is sitting behind me. 10 THE COURT: So Mr. Gould's counsel, you want about 11 the same range Mr. Ferrario has, 25000 to 30000? 12 13 MR. RHOW: That's fine, Your Honor. Just for 14 protocol --15 THE COURT: Hold on. They've got to get your name, because otherwise I'm going to get really -- I'm going to 16 17 screw up. 18 MR. FERRARIO: Can you let Ekwan speak today? He's been here all -- he hasn't even got to argue one time, Your 19 20 Honor. 21 THE COURT: All right, Mr. --22 MR. RHOW: I'm actually in this case. Ekwan Rhow, 23 Your Honor. Thank you. THE COURT: Okay. 24 25 MR. RHOW: We can have a separate range for sure, but is there any problem with incorporating Mr. Gould's exhibits into the exhibits for Mr. Searcy that he presents?

THE COURT: There is absolutely no problem with your exhibits being within their exhibit range, but I need to give you a separate range for your own in case you all don't reach an agreement.

MR. RHOW: I see.

THE COURT: So my exhibit ranges based on what I've heard today is 1 to 9999 for the plaintiffs, 10000 to 1999 [sic] for the Quinn Emanuel folks and their associated, which includes Mr. Edwards; right? Okay. And 20000 to 2499 [sic] for Mr. Ferrario and his team. And, Mr. Krum, we gave you 25000 to 2999 [sic] for Mr. Gould.

Do we anticipate there is anyone else who's going to need more numbers? Anybody else who's going to show up randomly in the case?

All right. Any other stuff I need to do on your part?

MS. WENDELL: No. Based on that, that's very good news. The goal will be for all counsel to prepare your exhibits and then everybody put them one drive. The only reason why we do different drives is because if there's like 10,000 exhibits on one, like Mike said, so if there's any way possible -- and you all have to use the same exhibit list template. Now, if that's a problem to do that, then if your exhibits are on your own hard drive, then your exhibit list must be what is on that drive. So if two of you get together or three of you get together, everything that's on that drive must be one exhibit list, because it cross-checks and makes sure it validates.

THE COURT: So it's okay for the plaintiffs to have one drive and an exhibit list of 1 through 9999 -- or up to that number, and the defendants to decide jointly they're just going to use the 10000 to 1999 [sic], have one drive, and one exhibit list?

MS. WENDELL: That is okay. But based on the size, you know, we're -- I think that, you know, it's better to always have one --

THE COURT: Yeah. But you're asking for cooperation?

MS. WENDELL: Yes.

THE COURT: Just because you worked for Commissioner Biggar for however many years and you could make them cooperate doesn't make I can as a trial judge.

All right. So anybody else have more stuff?

Yeah. Your history will never die.

MS. WENDELL: I know. It's going to follow me out of here in February.

THE COURT: All right. Anybody else have any more questions for my IT team or my Clerk's Office team so that they can leave and not have to sit here through your motion practice?

Dulce wants you to set the dry run date today. We have a holiday coming up, and you have asked me to let you go the second week. I'm going to be able to accommodate that request. I found some victim to go the first week.

MR. FERRARIO: So we start on the 8th now?

THE COURT: Plan is for you to start on the 8th. So when do you want your dry run to be with your staff to bring over the lists and the drives? It doesn't have to be you guys. It can be your paralegals.

MR. FERRARIO: But you said you want enough time in case there's glitches. So --

MS. WENDELL: If there's a glitch, then you'll need time to fix it.

MR. FERRARIO: So at least the week before -- we need it two weeks before; right?

THE COURT: Two weeks before is the week of Christmas, so we'll be here the 26th through the 29th working that week.

MR. FERRARIO: And then you guys will be here to do that?

MR. DOAN: We'll make it work.

THE COURT: Some of them will be here.

MR. FERRARIO: I think it has to be that week in case there's a problem. Because then the following week is short, and then we're right up on trial and won't be able to correct any of the stuff.

MR. KRUM: So why don't we say the 29th?

THE COURT: You guys all okay with the 29th? What time do you want to meet?

 $$\operatorname{MR}.$$  KRUM: I think we need to talk to the people who are going to do it.

THE COURT: Okay. I would recommend the morning.

And the reason I recommend the morning is typically on the weekend of New Year's Eve they try and get everybody out of downtown by about 2:00 o'clock because of all the things that happen in the streets here on that weekend.

MR. KRUM: Understood.

THE COURT: So -- and we will tell you what courtroom we are able to find. I'm pretty sure on that day I could get a courtroom on this floor. And if you guys want a morning, if you can accommodate that, we'll do that.

Otherwise --

MR. FERRARIO: I'm going to tell you, Judge,
[inaudible] people are going to be in this trial, I think if you could convince Judge Sturman to let you have this for the length of the trial, that would [inaudible].

THE COURT: She has a trial that I had to vacate when her mom became ill that I think she's going to try and restart in January. I will know better when she actually gets back to town. But we will talk to her. Her courtroom and Judge Johnson's courtrooms are equipped differently than the other courtrooms, so they are a little bit bigger.

MR. FERRARIO: Yes. This would accommodate [inaudible].

THE COURT: I was thinking of putting you in Potter's courtroom and having a special corner for you.

MR. KRUM: Your Honor, I've just been reminded that it was presumptuous of me to speak for others.

THE COURT: You want to talk to the staff members to see who's taking the week off?

MR. KRUM: Here's the question. And I'm now taking Mr. Ferrario's line. Would it be possible for us to start the following week so we could make --

THE COURT: No. We won't get done. If we do that, we won't get done in time for me to do my February stuff.

It's a five-week stack. It starts on the 2nd of January. So if you need to talk to your teams and see if being here on January 2nd at 8:00 o'clock in the morning is a preference for them instead of the 29th, which gives you -- you lose the weekend, but you're here the rest of the time. It gives you almost two weeks to straighten it out.

MR. KRUM: Okay.

THE COURT: And that's okay with me. Even though

- 1 Mike would say he needs two weeks before, January 2nd is okay 2 with me.
- MR. KRUM: Okay. We will check with our people.
- 4 THE COURT: Okay. So any other electronic exhibit
- 5 lists?

9

- So, Dulce, just mark them down that they are planning to visit with you on January 2nd. I'm fairly certain
  I can find a courtroom on January 2nd, but there's no
- All right. 'Bye, guys. Thank you for being here.
- Antoinette, thank you for being here. I know it's going to be
- 12 exciting again.
- 13 All right. That takes me to the motions. Do you
- 14 have a preferred order you'd like to argue them in? I usually
- 15 try and do the summary judgments and then go to the motions in
- 16 limine.
- MR. KRUM: That would be our suggestion, as well.
- 18 MR. TAYBACK: That makes sense, Your Honor. You can
- 19 go numerical order is fine.

guarantees on that day.

- 20 THE COURT: Whatever you want to do.
- 21 Can I have my calendar. I don't need -- well, I
- 22 have notes all over the motions, so --
- 23 MR. FERRARIO: Are we on the clock?
- 24 THE COURT: You have until five till 12:00. So
- 25 we've got an hour.

(Pause in the proceedings)

MR. TAYBACK: Mr. Krum was just suggesting that I raise the parties' -- both filed joint motions -- or filed motions to seal. We'd ask you to grant them.

THE COURT: Is there any objection to any of the motions to seal? They weren't all motions to seal. Some of them were motions to redact, and that was appropriate. The motions to seal I do have a question for Mr. Morris's office, and so I'll ask you -- hold on, if I can find the one I wrote the page on. Got a question. It was a process question, not a substance question, so let me hit it before we go to the next step.

When you sent me a courtesy copy and the courtesy copy had a sealed envelope in that did you also file the sealed version of the document that has like this sealed envelope that's with the Clerk's Office?

MS. LEVIN: I don't believe, Your Honor.

THE COURT: And we have to do it that way --

MS. LEVIN: Okay.

THE COURT: Because otherwise I can't even grant your motion now, because then it's going to get screwed up.

MS. LEVIN: I understand, Your Honor. And I think that this was based on our conversations with the clerk, who said you cannot submit it until you have the order. And we were saying, but that --

THE COURT: No. You submit it when you file the motion. When you file the motion with it, which is why you have to file them at the counter. You can't efile when you're filing under seal.

MS. LEVIN: Right.

THE COURT: And that's why it gets screwed up.

So I have some process concerns about the plaintiff's filings related to that, and I'm going to let you and Dulce talk about those after we finish the hearing to see, if we can.

I'm going to grant the motion, but it may be that you have to do something different to have a motion that actually goes with it to the Clerk's Office instead of an order. Because having the order will not accomplish what you want.

All right. So to the extent that you asked previously for a motion to seal and/or redact, it appears to be commercially sensitive information related to financial issues, and there's some other sensitive information that relates to individuals' personal information, so I'm going to grant the requests for sealing and redacting that have been submitted.

Okay. You're up. What motion do you want to start with?

MR. TAYBACK: It'll be Summary Judgment Motion

Number 1. And it also -- there's -- relates to Summary

Judgment Motion Number 2. So I will argue them jointly. They were at least opposed jointly, and we replied jointly with respect to those two motions.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. TAYBACK: I'm here on behalf of the director defendants Michael Wrotniak, Judy Codding, Douglas McEachern, Edward Kane, Guy Adams, Margaret Cotter, and Ellen Cotter. As Your Honor will recall and as addressed in the briefing, Your Honor said, and this is a truism, really, for any case, you've got to analyze claims defendant by defendant, in this case director by director, and transaction by transaction. And that's, you know, just basic, basic legal analysis.

On top of that, sort of as an overlay, another thing that I know Your Honor is well aware of is the recent law that clarifies -- I see you chuckling --

THE COURT: I don't know anything about the Wynn-Okada case. You don't know anything about it, because your firm wasn't involved at all, and Mr. Ferrario doesn't know anything, and Mr. Morris I'm sure was involved, too, because he's been involved in some of the appellate process in that case, too.

Right, Mr. Morris?

MR. MORRIS: Yes.

THE COURT: See, so we all know.

MR. TAYBACK: But all I need to know, all I need to 1
 2 know and all I really care about here and all that matters 3 here is the language of the Supreme Court's opinion, because that's really what animates the business judgment rule in Nevada as we stand here now. And I think that combined with 5
   the recent clarifications by the legislature regarding the
 7 latitude afforded directors work together to set the bar very, 8 very high. I'm sure Your Honor has read the opinion multiple 10

15
              MR. FERRARIO:
                             No.

              THE COURT:
                         I have a call-in number.

Okay. Keep going. So I granted partial summary judgment, but I found some directors were not disinterested, so not all of the directors were covered by the summary judgment. I also in that case made a determination the business judgment rule only applies to officers and directors, it does not apply to the corporation itself. Just so you know.

MR. TAYBACK: And I'm aware of that only through having read the pleadings and having read now the court's opinion here. But the question is as it applies to this case. And as it applies to this case collectively that recent quidance and the quidance from the legislature make it clear that it's not really the province of a plaintiff or a court or jury to come in and say the business judgment rule should be overridden in order to second guess a particular decision made by a corporation's directors or its officers. And if you start at that premise, the idea that the applicable Nevada statutes here elevate -- give that sort of latitude to directors in the first instance and then you take it to sort of the next level of analysis, that is to say, even if one could rebut the presumption, even it's rebutted the standard then for imposing liability is even higher, because there remains still a two-prong test for which plaintiffs have to show a material disputed issue of fact to proceed to trial.

Both an individual director on a particular transaction breached their fiduciary duty and, secondly, that that individual director did so with fraud, knowing -- as a knowing violation of the law or engaged in intentional misconduct.

THE COURT: Well, you understand that finding is only needed to make a determination as to whether the individual officer or director is insulated from -- for personal liability purposes, as opposed to derivative liability, which would be funded through the corporation.

MR. TAYBACK: Correct.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. TAYBACK: Though they are seeking personal liability. Their complaint makes that clear.

THE COURT: I understand they are. But your motion seemed to take the position that unless I found fraud they need to be dismissed. And that's not how it works.

MR. TAYBACK: Well, but they do need to rebut the presumption with respect to the business judgment rule.

THE COURT: That's a different issue, Counsel.

MR. TAYBACK: It is a different issue. And it's a multiple-hurdle test.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. TAYBACK: And with respect to that second hurdle even the issue comes down to Your Honor's adjudicating their claim for personal liability, then that's also part of the motion.

But you don't need to get there, because they have not established the evidence necessary to rebut the initial presumption. And that's clear because when you look at what governs the decision here by these individual directors on termination, which I'm going to take that transaction because that's the subject of our first motion for summary judgment, if you look at that, what governs that decision are the bylaws. And the bylaws which we've submitted are amply clear that the board was given complete discretion, that officers, including the CEO, serve at the pleasure of the board and can be terminated with or without cause at any time.

With the bylaws being the operative rules of the road, so to speak, and the law being what it is with respect to the deference afforded boards and individual board members, plaintiff's efforts to try to get around the idea that that presumption should be applied here are based on generalized allegations of disinterestedness. But you don't see specific evidence in the record anywhere that any of the three directors who voted to terminate Mr. Cotter, Jr. --

THE COURT: And you're including Mr. Adams in that, are you?

MR. TAYBACK: I am including Mr. Adams in that.

THE COURT: Just checking. So what happens if I make a determination that Mr. Adams is not disinterested? You then do not have a majority of disinterested directors; correct?

MR. TAYBACK: If you made that finding that would be true. But it wouldn't change the liability, the claim against Mr. McEachern or Mr. Kane.

THE COURT: You mean for personal liability?

MR. TAYBACK: I mean whether -- not whether or not you can say we need to revisit that action, but whether or not they were disinterested, whether they breached their fiduciary That would be adjudicated in their favor even if you found against Mr. Adams on a particular transaction -- but I would say you should not find against Mr. Adams on this transaction. The evidence isn't that his -- that the decision to terminate had any connection to his -- the level of his income, the amount of his -- the amount of his income, the amount of his expenditures, his continuity on the board. There's no connectivity, which is required in order to find disinterestedness even if disinterestedness was the standard. Because I will say the standard in Nevada is not independence for -- unless it's a transaction in which the director is on both sides of the transaction or it's a change of control circumstance. The termination of a CEO is an operational matter where you don't get to the independence question unless and until you have established a basis, a legitimate basis in the law to show that the presumption should not apply.

In light of the law, in light of the bylaws, in light of the undisputed evidence with respect to Mr. Adams, Mr. Kane, Mr. Wrotniak, the Cotter sisters, and Ms. Codding -- and, of course, Mr. Wrotniak and Ms. Codding weren't even on the board at the time of this transaction -- the fact is that there's no basis upon which to allow plaintiff's claim to proceed.

The last point that I want to make with respect to Summary Judgment Motion Number 1 and 2 as it relates to that point is the plaintiff has tried to really muddy the law. And I think whatever you ultimately decide on this motion for summary judgment -- and I absolutely believe that these defendants are entitled to summary judgment on this record, but whatever you decide the parties will be well served by understanding Your Honor's view of the law. Because we do not see eye to eye with the plaintiffs on the law. They strive to import this Delaware entire fairness test.

THE COURT: I rejected that in Wynn, because that was the part that the Okada parties argued once the writ came back on [inaudible].

MR. TAYBACK: And notwithstanding that, I believe the plaintiffs are still advocating for it. It shows up in their papers.

THE COURT: I understand it's in their briefing.

MR. TAYBACK: And the law at least in Nevada with respect to that is that it doesn't apply here. Independence for the same reasons is not required for the benefit of the business judgment rule where, as here --

THE COURT: You don't think the Shoen case says that independence is required for application of business judgment rule?

MR. TAYBACK: In Shoen to the extent it says that at all it says it in the context of demand futility. It's not the presumption that we're talking about here. And in fact that's -- I believe that's exactly what certainly the Wynn
Supreme Court --

THE COURT: There's two Shoen cases; right?

MR. TAYBACK: Yes.

THE COURT: There's the first Shoen case and the second one that they gave a different name to.

MR. TAYBACK: Independence is not required unless you have a director who's on both sides of a transaction.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. TAYBACK: I believe the law is amply clear on that.

THE COURT: Okay. I think their analysis is slightly broader than that, but okay.

MR. TAYBACK: Given the bylaws, given the fact that entire fairness does not apply, you cannot simply get past or rebut the presumption of the applicability of the business judgment rule by saying a director is biased, a director has some family connection, a director has income that's attributable to the company. And that's really what this case comes down to. Where the facts here are frankly undisputed summary judgment is warranted.

That's it for Summary Judgment 1 and 2, Your Honor, unless you have any questions.

THE COURT: No. It's okay.

Mr. Krum, Mr. Morris?

MR. KRUM: Good morning, Your Honor. Thank you.

So I have some argument to make about what are pervasive misstatements of the law that were made with respect to Number 1, as well as the other ones. That said, if I'm listening, you're prepared to deny Number 1, just as you did previously, nothing has changed, including the law; and if that's the case, I'll just defer those comments till we get to something else.

THE COURT: Well, then let me ask you a question.

Because when I read all these I have notes all over them,

because some of them are interrelated and the disinterestedness issue is an issue that is involved in some of the motions in limine, as well as this.

that were made by certain of the directors that showed they were interested. Can you tell me, other than that list -- and I can't, of course, find it right now, but I'm looking for it -- is there any other information other than from Mr. Adams that you have that would provide a basis for the Court to determine that they are not disinterested?

MR. KRUM: I'm sorry. That who is not disinterested with respect --

THE COURT: Anyone except Mr. Adams and the two Ms. Cotters. The two Ms. Cotters I think is fairly easy. They didn't even move, from what I can tell. But, for instance, for Mr. Kane.

MR. KRUM: Certainly, Your Honor. In our -- first let me say I think the list to which you're referring is a list that I had understood the Court to request when we last argued summary judgment motions and was intended, Your Honor, to identify the particular matters which we contend give rise to or constitute breaches of fiduciary duty in and of themselves as well as together with other matters. And so --

THE COURT: I don't know that that's the reason you did it. I found it. It is on pages 5 and 6. I'm on the Supplemental Opposition to Motion for Summary Judgment Number 1 and 2 and Gould Motion for Summary Judgment, and there is a list that includes threats of termination if you don't get along with your sisters and resolve the probate case --

MR. KRUM: Yes.

THE COURT: -- exercise of the options, the termination, the method of the CEO search. All of those are company transactions. What I'm trying to find out is, other than for Mr. Adams, is there other evidence of a lack of disinterestedness that you have other than what is included in the list of activities that relate to their work as directors which are on pages 5 and 6 of that brief in the bullet points.

MR. KRUM: Let me answer it this way, Your Honor. 5 and 6 was our effort to do what I just said. And what that is, to try to be clear, is to identify particular activities that we thought would be the subject of, as is appropriate, either instructions or interrogatories to the jury with respect to these particular matters.

So let's take Number 1 bullet point, the first bullet point, the threat by Adams, Kane, and McEachern to terminate plaintiff if he did not resolve trust disputes with his sisters on terms satisfactory to them. That, Your Honor, from our perspective is separate from the termination which is the subject of Number 1. And on this --

THE COURT: I see that. But let me have you fall back, because I certainly understand those may be issues that you may want to submit interrogatories or just to include in jury instructions related to breaches of fiduciary duty by someone who survives this motion, who I don't grant it on behalf of.

But my question is different. Other than these which you've argued in your brief are evidence of a lack of disinterestedness separate and apart from Mr. Adams, who you have other evidence that is presented related to a lack of disinterestedness, is there any evidence that has been attached to your various supplements and other motions related to a lack of disinterestedness for the other directors known as Mr. Kane, Mr. McEachern, Mr. Gould, Ms. Codding, and Mr. Wrotniak?

MR. KRUM: The answer is yes, Your Honor. So I'm going to try to do it a couple ways.

THE COURT: Tell me where to go. Because I looked through this whole pile of about 2 foot of paper last night trying to find it, and the only one I could find specific allegations of a lack of disinterestedness, besides the two Cotter sisters, was Mr. Adams.

MR. KRUM: Okay. Well, so, for example, with respect to Mr. Kane in the response to MSJ Number 1 and 2 we introduced evidence that showed that Kane was of the view that he knew best what James Cotter, Sr., wanted in his trust documentation.

THE COURT: I see he understood what Mr. Cotter, Sr.'s plan was. How does that make him have a lack of disinterestedness?

Well, the answer, Your Honor, is he acted MR. KRUM: That was the basis on which he decided to vote to terminate the plaintiff. He -- and, for example, the evidence includes an email from Mr. Adams to Mr. Kane in April or early May 2015 in which Mr. Adams says, "This was difficult. We had to pick sides in this family dispute. But we can take comfort that Sr. would have approved our decision." And so the point from our perspective, Your Honor, is Kane, in acting as a director, in fact acted to carry out what in his judgment were the personal interests of Sr. with respect to his trust planning. And on that basis he voted to terminate Mr. Cotter. There are emails from Mr. Kane to Mr. Cotter telling him, I don't know what the sisters' settlement is but I urge you to take it. Well, we think the evidence also shows that he knew what it was, that it entailed Mr. Cotter giving up control of the issues they've been litigating.

THE COURT: Under the Shoen analysis do you believe that that contact and that information is sufficient to show that Mr. Kane is not disinterested?

MR. KRUM: Well, the answer is, yes, we do, Your Honor. And I hasten to add that the way Shoen puts it is that disinterestedness and independence are a prerequisite to having standing to invoke the business judgment rule.

THE COURT: I'm aware of that. Which is why we're having this discussion. So -- but usually we have either a direct financial relationship, even if it's not on both sides of the transaction, or we have a very close personal or familial relationship with the people who are subject to the transaction. And simply believing you understand Sr.'s plan — estate plan does not, I don't think, rise to that same level to show a lack of disinterestedness; but I'm waiting for you to give me a spin on that argument I may not have thought of.

MR. KRUM: Sure, Your Honor. The answer is -- and I say this because I appreciate what the finder of fact -- what the Court has to do now and what the finder of fact has to do. The evidence has to be assessed collectively, not individually. And you understand that. We've cited cases for The other side disputes that. There's "The complaint of acts and omissions upon which plaintiff's claims are based must be viewed and assessed collectively, not separately in isolation." That's the Ebix case that we've cited. are other cases for that proposition. The point, Your Honor, is "assessing whether a director was independent and in a particular instance acted independently or whether the director was disinterested as required or whether -- and made the decision based entirely on the corporate merits, not influence by personal or extraneous considerations," that was CVV Technicolor, that's the test. And so, Your Honor, in Shoen, just to go back to that, "Independence can be challenged by showing that the directors' execution of their duties is unduly influenced." If Kane made a decision based in any respect on his view that Sr. intended for one or both of the sisters to have something and Jr. was in the way of that, that, Your Honor, at a minimum survives summary judgment so the finder of fact can make a determination after considering all the evidence whether the director acted and decided in that particular instance entirely on the corporate merits. So what is --

THE COURT: Let's skip ahead, then. Mr. McEachern. What evidence of disinterestedness do you have for Mr. McEachern? And if you could tell me where in the briefing it is, I will look at it again. But, as I've said, other than Mr. Adams I did not see evidence of disinterestedness as opposed to allegations of breach of fiduciary duty.

MR. KRUM: Mr. McEachern attempted to extort Mr. Cotter. Along with Mr. Kane and Mr. Adams he told Mr. Cotter, you need to go resolve your disputes with your sisters and we're going to reconvene at 6:00 o'clock and if you don't you'll be terminated. Now, there's no dispute about that. We have in evidence the testimony --

THE COURT: I understand that that's one of your claims of breach of fiduciary duty. But I'm trying to determine if there was any additional evidence, other than those items that are those bullet points you put in the brief, which are on pages 5 and 6 of your supplemental opposition, that goes to Mr. McEachern. And then I'm going to ask you the same question for Mr. Gould and Ms. Codding and Mr. Wrotniak.

MR. KRUM: Your Honor, as a threshold matter, the presumption can be rebutted by showing conduct in derogation of the presumption. It's not simply a interest or disinterested phenomenon, cite Shoen. Let me be clear. I don't want to talk past you. The other side argues there are only two circumstances in which interestedness matters. Well, that's belied by Shoen. It says, "Business judgment rule pertains only to directors whose conduct falls within its protections. Thus, it applies only in the context of a valid interested director transaction --" that's 138 -- 78.140, excuse me "-- or the valid exercise of business judgment by disinterested director in light of their fiduciary duties."

And to be a valid exercise, Your Honor, it has to be made in the interest of the corporation.

So Mr. McEachern -- let me go through the list mentally. He attempted to extort Mr. Cotter to resolve the trust disputes in favor of the sisters, he voted to terminate -- he decided not to terminate after he understood an agreement had been reached to resolve those disputes. And when that didn't come to pass he voted to terminate. He, along with Mr. Gould, chose the wishes of the controlling shareholders. Rather than to complete the process he had set up, they aborted the CEO search. So, Your Honor, that's squarely within the Shoen language of manifesting a direction of corporate conduct in such a way as to comport with the wishes or interests of the person doing the controlling.

Now, I heard you. You view that as a fiduciary breach.

THE COURT: An allegation of a fiduciary duty breach.

MR. KRUM: Allegation of fiduciary duty breach, right. But that's -- if proven, that rebuts the presumption, and off we go.

I skipped over Mr. McEachern's role in involuntarily retiring Mr. Storey. Mr. McEachern, together with Mr. Adams and Mr. Kane, in October and November -- September or October I guess it was of 2015 comprised the ad hoc first time one time special nominating committee. That committee had two roles. One was to tell noncompliant director Timothy Storey that he wasn't going to be renominated, and they explained to him that the sisters, who controlled the vote, had told him they weren't going to vote to elect him so he could either resign and get a year's benefits of some sort or just be left off.

What else did that committee do? They approved Judy Codding and Michael Wrotniak. Did they undertake to search for candidates? No. Did they do anything that one would do as a director of a nominating committee to identify and recruit directorial candidates? No. What did they do? They did what they were asked and told. Ellen Cotter gave them Judy Codding, good friend of Mary Ellen Cotter, the mother, with whom Ellen Cotter lives, and Michael Wrotniak, husband of Patricia Wrotniak, one of Margaret Cotter's few good friends. And they obviously did virtually nothing, because promptly after the company announced Ms. Codding had been added to board a shareholder brought to their attention there were lots of Google articles that raised questions about Ms. Codding's relationship with her prior employer and the prior employer's conduct.

So on the nominating issue, Your Honor, on the board stacking our view is that all evidences loyalty to the controlling shareholders. And that, Your Honor, would be somewhere in the range of lack of independence or disinterestedness.

THE COURT: So, Mr. Krum, if we're going to get through all the motions this morning I need you to wrap up. Because I think I have all the information I need on Motion for Summary Judgment Number 1.

MR. KRUM: Okay. Certainly, Your Honor.

So just to finish the bullet points which you brought to my attention, these directors, Kane, Adams, McEachern, they're all on record dating back to the fall of 2014 that, yes, we should find a position for Margaret Cotter at the company so she can have health insurance, but, no, she can't be running our real estate. Well -- that's in the emails we have in the evidence actually, Your Honor, the first time around. And there's some more from Mr. Gould or McEachern. We had some additional testimony that we added this time. And so what happens? Ellen Cotter is made CEO after the aborted CEO search, she says, I want Margaret to the have the senior executive position, for which she has no prior experience and no qualifications. And what do these people do as committee members and board members? They say, where do we sign.

So, Your Honor, it's an ongoing, recurring, pervasive lack of independence or disinterestedness. And the conclusion of that, Your Honor, of course, was by what they did in response to the offer -- and I've sort of wrapped up the whole thing without talking about the law I intended to discuss -- and that is they ascertained what the controlling shareholders wanted to do and they did it in an hour-and-twenty-five-minute telephonic board meeting.

I didn't discuss what I intended to discuss, but I tried to answer your questions.

THE COURT: I understand, Mr. Krum. But the briefing was very thorough, which is why I tried to hit the questions --

1 MR. KRUM: Understood.

THE COURT: -- because I had some questions after reading it.

So Motion for Partial Summary Judgment Number 1 is granted in part. It is granted with respect to Edward Kane, Douglas McEachern, William Gould, Judy Codding, and Michael Wrotniak.

It is denied as to Margaret Cotter, Ellen Cotter, and Guy Adams because there are genuine issues of material fact related to the disinterestedness of each of those individuals. As a result, they cannot at this point rely upon the business judgment rule.

MR. TAYBACK: Your Honor, is there a ruling on the aspect of the motion that goes to inability to hold the individuals personally liable for this claim?

THE COURT: For the three that I didn't grant the business judgment?

MR. TAYBACK: Correct.

THE COURT: No, you do not get a ruling to that effect.

Did you want to go to your next motion for summary judgment?

MR. TAYBACK: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: And I'm trying to be consistent with the decision I made in the Wynn based upon the facts that seem to be slightly different on the conduct of directors. I've got this thing in my head that nobody understands but me, so I'm trying to draw that line by asking questions so I can figure out where that is. Mr. Ferrario knows nobody understands but me. And I can't say it in a way the Supreme Court will understand, because they don't understand it, except for Chris Pickering, and she won't be deciding your appeal.

MR. TAYBACK: Your Honor, we have a second motion. It's Motion Number 2. It's also woven through some of the other motions. For the sake of just clarity I'll address Motion Number 2 separately, and I'll only --

THE COURT: Briefly.

MR. TAYBACK: -- briefly. I'll only say this. Even if you go to the -- well, I've certainly said my piece already, and I think you can just incorporate what I've said previously on this point, that independence I do not believe is a legal prerequisite to the invocation of the business judgment rule. Even if you look at the Shoen case, which Your Honor has discussed, where it talks about interestedness and the word it uses "interestedness," the quote there is, "To show interestedness a shareholder must allege that --" it's talking about allegations in that case "-- allege that a majority of the board members would be, quote, 'materially affected' either to benefit or detriment by a decision of the board in a manner not shared by the corporation and the stockholders." To the extent there is a question of independence, it's not the generalized allegations that I think pollute the claims here, the transaction-by-transaction claims that the plaintiff seems to be asserting. You can't just say independence is lacking because there's -- one of the directors favored one of the board members versus one of the others, favored the sisters versus the brother. You have to show that there's a material impact in the transaction itself that was being voted upon, and that's the contention that we're making with respect to independence and how plaintiff's claims, all of them against all of the individual defendants transaction by transaction should fail under a summary judgment standard.

With that I'll stop, and then I'll allow him to address it, and then I've got on Motion Number 3.

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Krum, anything else on Motion Number 2?

MR. KRUM: Just briefly, Your Honor, because I think we have a fundamental -- I'm going to repeat myself in one respect -- misapprehension of law. This is not a check-the-box exercise.

THE COURT: No, it is not.

MR. KRUM: So in Shoen the court says, "Thus, as with the Aronson test, under the Brehm test, director independence can be implicated by particularly alleging that the directors' execution of their duties is unduly influenced, manifesting a direction of corporate conduct in such a way as to comport with the wishes or interests of the person doing the controlling."

Now, we know that's a demand case, but that doesn't change the law, it just changes the application of the law.

And so the point isn't any more complicated than what it said elsewhere in Shoen, and that is "Directors' discretion must be free from the influence of other interested persons."

So Motion Number 2 is -- it's nonsensical, because that has to be assessed based on facts and based on the particular application. You just did it with respect to Number 1. And so it doesn't work that way. And the -- in Rails the court said, of which Shoen is cited with approval, "Directorial interest exists whenever divided loyalties are present." And we have this ongoing set of transactions that entail furthering and protecting the interests of the Cotter sisters. That, Your Honor, is a perfect example of circumstances that show divided loyalties. Thank you.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Motion for Summary Judgment Number 2 is granted in part. To the extent that you asked me to make a determination as to whether there has been a showing of a lack of disinterestedness there is a lack of disinterestedness for Margaret Cotter, Ellen Cotter, and Guy Adams.

With respect to the other directors who were involved in the motion there does not appear to be sufficient evidence presented to the Court to proceed with a claim of lack of disinterestedness.

Okay. That takes you to Number 3.

MR. TAYBACK: Your Honor, with respect to the Motion for Summary Judgment Number 3, which relates to what's called the patent vision expression of interest --

THE COURT: Yeah.

MR. TAYBACK: -- there are --

THE COURT: The unaccepted offer which may not have been a real offer.

MR. TAYBACK: Not may not have been. Was admitted by plaintiff --

THE COURT: Eh, you know.

MR. TAYBACK: Was admitted by the plaintiff was nonbinding expression of interest that could have been withdrawn or rejected at any point in time. Moreover, when you look -- that in and of itself disposes of the claim, because there are no damages that flow from that. There cannot be. And that Cook case, which is a Delaware case, but the Cook case really makes that clear.

THE COURT: I thought I wasn't supposed to look at Delaware law according to you. You know the legislature can't tell the court what it's allowed to look at.

MR. TAYBACK: And I did know that.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. TAYBACK: I'm encouraging you to look at it.

THE COURT: I'm looking at all sorts of things, but I'm trying to interweave it into the legislative intent related to business judgment and the protections that we should give to officers and directors in Nevada.

MR. TAYBACK: Yeah. And I think what it is is it's factually analogous. It's factually analogous.

THE COURT: Right. I just had to give you a hard time. Anything else you want to tell me?

MR. TAYBACK: The only other thing that I would tell you is that when you look at what it is that the board members can look at with respect to the consideration of potential change of control overtures, call it expression of interest or anything else, it's nonexclusive. It says they may consider any of the relevant facts. And here the undisputed evidence is that they did consider a lot of relevant facts, including the views of the plaintiff, the views of the two Cotter sisters, including the presentations of the board. And they're entitled to rely upon that. And the reasonableness of the decision is not something that can be second guessed at this juncture based upon the showing that plaintiff has made.

those arguments and focus on a different issue. Other than as

THE COURT: Mr. Krum. Let's skip past a couple of evidence of breaches of fiduciary duty, do you have any claim of specific damages to the failure to accept the unsolicited offer?

MR. KRUM: Well, first, Your Honor, the notion that it's nonbinding and therefore it cannot result in damages is belied --

THE COURT: No. I asked you a very direct question.

MR. KRUM: I'm sorry.

THE COURT: Do you have damages that you have provided me evidentiary basis for strictly related to the failure of the company or the directors to accept the unsolicited offer?

MR. KRUM: Mr. Duarte Solis speaks to that in his expert opinion which was the subject of a motion in limine you denied in October of last year.

THE COURT: I know. But I'm asking you a question. Do you have specific evidence of damages related to the decision by the board not to accept the unsolicited offer?

MR. KRUM: No. The answer I have is the one I just gave, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. So that's the only answer you have. Okay. Anything else you want to tell me?

MR. KRUM: I just wanted to say again on law, different point, though, intentional misconduct, one of the ways that occurs is where the fiduciary acts with a purpose other than advancing the best interests of the corporation. I think the evidence on this subject, Your Honor, the offer raises a question of fact, a disputed question of material fact as to whether that's what the directors did.

Another category of intentional misconduct is where the fiduciary intentionally fails to act in the face of a known duty to act, demonstrating a conscious disregard for his duties. That is a pervasive and recurring phenomenon here, and I submit, Your Honor, with respect to the so-called offer that's what happened. So the point is, as I said before on the offer in particular, Your Honor, it sort of bookends this whole sequence of events, starting with the seizure of control. And you've read the papers, so I'll leave it at that.

THE COURT: Anything else?

MR. KRUM: No.

THE COURT: Okay. Because of the failure of damages related to an unenforceable, unsolicited, nonbinding offer, I am granting the motion.

However, that does not preclude the plaintiff from utilizing that factual basis for claims of a breach of fiduciary duty. Okay?

MR. TAYBACK: Or for other alleged -- to prove other alleged breaches you're saying it might be admissible as evidence.

THE COURT: Well, it may be additional evidence of breach of fiduciary duty. But they don't get to claim any damages from it, since they haven't established damages related to that because of the legal issues related to the nature of the offer.

So what is your next motion for summary judgment, if any? I think there were six.

MR. SEARCY: Your Honor, I'm addressing Motion for Summary Judgment Number 5. That relates to the CEO search.

And --

THE COURT: Ready for me to say denied?

MR. SEARCY: If you'll let me --

THE COURT: You can talk, Mr. Searcy, but we're leaving here in 25 minutes whether you guys are done or not.

MR. SEARCY: All right. Well, if you're going to -before you say denied then let me just address a few of the points in it. If you're going to say granted, then I'll certainly sit down.

THE COURT: I'm not going to say granted.

MR. SEARCY: The point, Your Honor, is that there's no dispute on the material facts here. There was a process that was undertaken by the board here to appoint a CEO. The board appointed a special committee, the special committee hired a search firm, that search firm went out and got information, they interviewed candidates, those candidates were selected by the search firm Korn Ferry, and they were 2 considered along with internal candidates. The board -- or 3 the committee, rather, interviewed Ellen Cotter and decided that she was the best candidate, and the board agreed with 5 that decision. And in the context of the law here you have a 6 majority of disinterested directors who agreed with that 7 decision. There's a presumption that all of this was 8 conducted in good faith. There hasn't been a rebuttal of the 9 presumption here, Your Honor, and, as a result, the motion 10 should be granted.

Are there particular issues, though, that I can address for Your Honor?

THE COURT: Not that will cause you to be able to get me to change my mind on denied.

MR. SEARCY: Okay. Are there any that I can at least make an effort on, Your Honor?

THE COURT: Nope.

MR. SEARCY: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. So that motion is denied.

Can we go to Number 6.

MR. SEARCY: Number 6 is mine, as well.

THE COURT: This has to do with the special bonus to Mr. Adams.

MR. SEARCY: That's correct, Your Honor. There are three main issues here. One has to do with the exercise of options, and in that case there was an executive committee that considered those options. There's no doubt, no dispute that that was an existing plan, that the committee received advice from counsel, and approved of the -- approved of the exercise of the options.

THE COURT: Okay. Anything else?

MR. SEARCY: In addition to that -- and that's -- again, that is an exercise that is presumed to be done in good faith and especially here, where the statute provides that you can obtain information. And that's what the committee did.

In addition to that, Your Honor, there's the issue of the payment to Mr. Adams that you just raised. That again was approved by the board, approved by unanimous board who were disinterested in the subject and are entitled to business judgment on that subject.

And finally, with respect to Margaret Cotter's appointment it's certainly within the board's discretion to decide that someone who's worked for the company and been affiliated with the company for approximately 20 years or so has the qualifications to take on that job. And as Mr. Tayback said, hiring someone to fill a role is certainly -- that's an operational decision that's within the discretion of a board of directors, and certainly they're entitled to be able to exercise the business judgment when it comes to that, especially here. And with all of these decisions, Your Honor, you're talking about a decision made by a majority of disinterested directors, directors that you've found to be disinterested.

THE COURT: Some directors I found to be

THE COURT: Some directors I found to be disinterested.

MR. SEARCY: Well, for those directors, though, Your Honor, that you found to be disinterested, they constitute a majority of the decision makers here. And --

THE COURT: Well, they're protected. Those people are protected.

MR. SEARCY: And exercising their business judgment they approved these decisions.

THE COURT: Okay. Anything else?

MR. SEARCY: Thank you, Your Honor. That's it.

THE COURT: Denied.

So you had Number 4 I think we didn't get to. Was Number 4 reserved for this time, or had I ruled on it previously?

MR. TAYBACK: Your Honor, you --

MR. KRUM: You ruled on it previously.

THE COURT: Okay. So that takes me to your motions in limine. There were two that I think are important. One is Mr. Gould's motion in limine to exclude irrelevant and speculative evidence.

MR. RHOW: Your Honor, can I speak on this one?

THE COURT: It's your motion.
 1
 2
             MR. RHOW:
                         Thank you, Your Honor.
 3
             MR. FERRARIO: Hey, come on. This is his first 4
   time.
 5
             MR. RHOW:
                         I feel honored to actually --
             THE COURT: Here's my first question.
 7
             MR. RHOW: By the way, is it tentative to grant?
 8
   I'd like to know that first.
 9
             THE COURT: My first question for you is one that
   I'm going to ask all the people in motions in limine. Did you 10
11 12
13 agreement?
14
             MR. RHOW: The answer is I don't think we did.
15
             THE COURT: You know, we have a rule.
                           I'm going to have to disagree with Mr.
16
17
18
   phone.
19
             MR. RHOW:
                         Oh.
                              I'm sorry.
20
             MR. SEARCY: Mr. Rhow wasn't part of the meet and confer, but his associate, Shoshana Bannett, was.
21
              THE COURT:
                         Oh. Okay. All right.
23
             MR. RHOW:
                         Okay. I had looked at -- I should have 24 looked at Mr. Searcy.
25
             THE COURT: Because usually -- usually I get a declaration that tells me, we met and conferred on this date --

MR. RHOW: Correct.

THE COURT: -- so that I can then gauge whether somebody's being unreasonable or not. So it's your motion.

MR. RHOW: Thank you, Your Honor.

I think the motion was short and sweet on purpose. During the deposition of Mr. Cotter, Jr., and it lasted days and days and days, and throughout the questioning it was quite clear that he was testifying based on not what he saw, what he heard, what he observed; he was literally saying, here's what I think -- thought at the time, here's what I was thinking Mr. Gould was thinking and others were thinking and so therefore I believe the claim is sufficient because of my subjective belief as to what other directors were thinking. If that's going to be part of this trial, first, this trial's not going to be four weeks, it's going to be eight weeks; but, second, there's nothing in the law, there's nothing based on common sense that tells you that what the subjective beliefs of the plaintiff are none of that is relevant, none of that is relevant under the law, none that is relevant under common So to streamline this case, if he's going to talk about what he saw, what he heard, certainly that's admissible. But if he's going to talk about what he believes, that's subjective and should not be part of this trial.

THE COURT: Thank you. 1 2 Ms. Levin, is this your motion? 3 MS. LEVIN: Yes, Your Honor. 4 As we said in our opposition, we believe this is an 5 improper and premature motion just because Mr. Cotter obviously will be here at trial testifying. 6 7 THE COURT: So you want me to rule on the questions 8 and answers as they're given. So if somebody asks him, well, 9 did you talk to Mr. Adams about what he was going to do, he 10 can then tell me what he said. 11 MS. LEVIN: Correct, Your Honor. 12 THE COURT: Well, what did you think he meant? 13 That's speculation. 14 MS. LEVIN: Unless, of course, he's got a basis for 15 his belief. And I think that some of the deposition 16 testimony, those responses were invited by the very questions. 17 So to the extent that he has a basis to believe -- you know, 18 to state his belief I think that, again, it should be 19 determined on the question by question. 20 THE COURT: Okay. So the motion is denied. 21 It's an issue that has to be handled at trial 22 based upon the foundation that is laid related to the issue. 23 So -- and plus you won't be here. You won't be 24 here; right? 25 MR. RHOW: I'm sorry?

THE COURT: You won't be here; right? 1 2 MR. RHOW: I don't know. I hope not. Is Your Honor 3 saying I should not be here or that my client won't be here 4 then? 5 THE COURT: That's what the business judgment ruling deals with; right? So I granted your client's business 6 7 judgment rule motion. Well, you know, he may be a witness. 8 MR. KRUM: I'm sorry, Your Honor. Did I miss 9 something? 10 THE COURT: What? 11 MR. KRUM: We haven't had that motion argued yet, Mr. Gould's motion. 13 THE COURT: I included Mr. Gould because you briefed it relate to all of the motions for summary judgment and I 14 15 asked you questions about all the directors, except Mr. Adams. 16 MR. KRUM: I'm sorry. I didn't understand that, 17 Your Honor. I didn't answer as to Mr. Gould. 18 THE COURT: Do you want to tell me an answer to Mr. 19 Gould? 20 MR. KRUM: I do, because we have a hearing set for the 8th on his motion, which is why misunderstood that. 21 22 THE COURT: I used it because it was included in 23 your opposition, the supplement to those motions. 24 MR. KRUM: That was confusion that we created, and I 25 apologize. The reason we did that, Your Honor, is that we didn't have an opportunity to prepare a Gould brief, but we didn't want to be accused of doing nothing. And some of the evidence in those motions in our view did relate to Gould, and we therefore put him on there.

That said, he filed two pieces of paper, they asked me if we could have the hearing today. I told them no, I wanted to respond. So -- but let me try to answer your question with respect to Mr. Gould. So we start, Your Honor, as we do, with the threat to terminate and the termination.

And I respectfully submit --

THE COURT: I will tell you that on your Mr. Gould you've got the same list that we've already talked about. What I'm trying to find out is -- and I understand the threat is part of what you've alleged related to Mr. Gould along with the other six or seven bullet points that are on pages 5 and 6 of the opposition. Is there something else related to Mr. Gould, something like you have with Mr. Adams that would establish a lack of disinterestedness?

MR. KRUM: Let me answer, and then you'll decide.

THE COURT: Yeah. That's what I'm trying to pull out of you.

MR. KRUM: So, for example, with respect to the termination Mr. Cotter raised the question of Mr. Adams's independence before a vote was taken, and Mr. Gould asked Mr. Adams, well, can you tell us about that. And Mr. Adams got mad and said in words or substance, no. And Mr. Gould said, okay. That, Your Honor, is a perfect example of a failure to act in the face of a known duty to act. We're not talking about someone who is unfamiliar with fiduciary obligations here. Mr. Gould is a corporate lawyer.

So we get to the -- we get to the executive committee, same meeting, June 12. Ellen Cotter says, I want to repopulate the executive committee, Mr. Gould, would you like to be on it. His testimony, his deposition testimony was that he declined because he knew that it would take a lot of time. Now, if he knew that it would take a lot of time, Your Honor, how is it that it didn't occur to him that this was what the sisters were doing in October of 2014 when they were trying to circumvent the board?

THE COURT: These are all on your list of bullet points.

MR. KRUM: Okay.

THE COURT: What I'm trying to find out is if there's anything that's not on the list of bullet points that are on pages 5 and 6 of your supplemental opposition that relate to Mr. Gould. Because when I made my ruling I was including Mr. Gould as someone because I specifically excluded Mr. Adams and the two Ms. Cotters.

MR. KRUM: Bear with me. I'm mentally working.

MR. KRUM: So I don't think we had the executive committee there, but I just said that.

So then, Your Honor, the composition of the board. So Mr. Gould was not a member of the nominating committee. His testimony was that, on a Friday Ellen Cotter called me and asked me if she could come to my office and she and Craig Tompkins came to my office and showed me Judy Codding's resume and said we were going to have a board meeting on Monday to put Ms. Codding on the board. And Bill Gould said, this isn't sufficient time, I can't do my job. But he voted for her That, Your Honor, is the same thing that happens nonetheless. over and over again with Mr. Gould. That is, in the face of a known duty to act he chooses not to do so. intentional misconduct. Your Honor, you've denied the motion with respect to the CEO search. That is Mr. Gould. It is Mr. Gould and Mr. McEachern who are the ones who together with Margaret Cotter aborted the CEO search. Literally the last time they spoke to Korn Ferry was the day Ellen Cotter declared her candidacy. After the what did they do? told Craig Tompkins to tell Korn Ferry to do no more work. And Mr. Gould, he was the one whose name was on a press release saying, Ellen Cotter was made CEO following a thorough She was not made CEO as a result of that search. was made CEO in spite of that search.

I'm aware of considered when I had previously included Mr. Gould in the granting of the summary judgment related to the business judgment rule. The fact that I am denying certain issues related to other summary judgments does not diminish the fact that the directors that I found there was not evidence of a lack of disinterestedness have the protection the statute provides to them.

Okay. So let's go back to Mr. Cotter's Motion Number 3. This is related to the coach.

MS. LEVIN: Your Honor, this motion should be denied because the hiring of High Point, that's post hoc --

THE COURT: It's your motion. You wanted it granted.

MS. LEVIN: I'm sorry. You know, the Court -- I'm sorry. The Court should exclude the after-acquired evidence on the -- in the form of any testimony or documents relating to the hiring of High Point, because the breach of fiduciary duty claims, they are -- they concern what the directors did and knew at the time that they decided to fire the plaintiff. So we cited the Smith versus Van Gorkom case, which holds post hoc data is not relevant to the decision.

So at the time that they made this decision they did not have nor did they rely on the High Point evidence. So therefore the after-acquired evidence cannot be as a matter of law relevant to their decision to terminate the plaintiff.

That would amount to a retroactive assessment of his ability, which are not at issue. And I think that that's the -- you know, the --

THE COURT: The problem I have with that is part of what your client's position has been in this case is he is suitable to be acting as the CEO, and if there is information that is relevant to that suitability, that's where I have the problem on this. I certainly understand from a decision—making process that that information was not in the possession of anyone who was making the decisions at the time. But given the affirmative proposition by your client that he is suitable to CEO, I have concerns about granting the motion at this stage.

MS. LEVIN: Well -- okay. So -- but with respect to the decision which you can agree that they could not use that evidence to show that after the fact they made the right decision because of the after --

THE COURT: No. That's a problem if your client is saying he's suitable and therefore he should be able to be CEO. Because part of what he originally asked for was to make them make him be CEO.

MS. LEVIN: All right. And here at issue I believe it's the -- we're seeking to void the termination.

THE COURT: I know.

MS. LEVIN: So -- but I think that even -- and I think that in that respect if you were inclined to allow it on his suitability, the problem then becomes first of all the hiring of consultant doesn't necessary mean that somebody is unsuitable.

THE COURT: Absolutely. It may mean they're trying to get better.

MS. LEVIN: Exactly. And I was thinking -- when I read these facts I was thinking about the analogy. If you were a professional runner and you hire a runner coach --

THE COURT: Coach.

MS. LEVIN: -- doesn't mean that you're not a good runner. You may --

THE COURT: You want to be better.

MS. LEVIN: Exactly. So that was --

THE COURT: I understand.

MS. LEVIN: So and the other thing is that, you know, the opposition argues, well, but it looks like in his own assessment he wasn't good for it. And that, of course, again doesn't follow from that. And so then we get into the category of even if there's a remote relevance, Your Honor, then whatever that relevance is would be substantially outweighed by the unfair prejudicial effect that that would cause. Because, again, his assumed thoughts, then the jury could think like, well, you know, he thinks he's not qualified because he hired a coach. So all in all I believe that it's unfairly prejudicial.

Just on the point of the unclean hands defense, again they are citing the Fetish, Las Vegas Fetish case. But, again, the unclean hands defense requires egregious misconduct and serious harm caused by it. And they haven't further substantiated that. So with that being said, our position is to exclude it for those reasons.

THE COURT: Thank you.

MS. LEVIN: Thank you.

THE COURT: Mr. Searcy --

MR. SEARCY: I'll address that.

THE COURT: -- I am inclined to deny the motion.

But if the evidence is admitted at trial, to admit it with a limiting instruction that says that it only goes to suitability.

MR. SEARCY: And, Your Honor, I think that we're okay with that.

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. SEARCY: I just want to clarify that we can certainly ask Mr. Cotter about the Alderton documents --

THE COURT: You ask him about it, then I'm going to give the limiting instruction, and we'll probably give it five times or six times, and it'll be a written instruction, so it's part of it. And if the plaintiff doesn't want me to give the limiting instruction because they believe that calls to much attention to it, they can, of course, waive that request.

MR. SEARCY: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. So think about whether you really want the limiting instruction, come up with your text for the limiting instruction, and then we'll talk about it when we have our final pretrial conference as to whether you think you really want it.

That takes me to the last motion in limine by Mr. Cotter, which relates to the ability of Mr. Ferrario to participate at trial, also known as Motion in Limine Number 2.

MR. KRUM: Thank you, Your Honor. I enjoy this very much, showing that perhaps I've spent too many years in the corporate governance jurisprudence. Three points, and it's not complicated. First, as a general rule a nominal defendant is not allowed to introduce evidence and defend the merits of claims against the director defendants.

Second, the handful of exceptions to that are exceptions where it's a serious fundamental corporate interest that is challenged by the derivative suit, a reorganization or restructuring, an effort to appoint a receiver. None of those exist here.

Third, if you disagree with us on all of that, there's a question of unfair prejudice and waste of time.

And, you know, the individual defendants are represented by capable counsel. They don't need a second lawyer carrying their water. And for a jury to have someone who represents the company asking questions that imply conclusions adverse to the plaintiff is, if not unfairly prejudicial, something beyond that.

So that's the argument in a nutshell, Your Honor. If you have any questions, I'd be happy to answer them.

THE COURT: Nope. Motion's denied.

All right. So let's go to your Motion in Limine

Number 1 regarding advice of counsel. I forgot we need to hit that one. Ms. Levin.

And then we're going to go to the Chief Justice

Steel that I'm not going to really hear, because I didn't give you permission to refile.

MS. LEVIN: Your Honor is familiar with the share options, so if I talk about the share option, I don't --

THE COURT: I am.

MS. LEVIN: Okay. Well --

THE COURT: And also with the drama related to the production and the creation and all the stuff about the advice of counsel issue.

MS. LEVIN: Okay. I'll just --

THE COURT: But I also am aware the Nevada Supreme Court has told us on a business judgment issue we cannot reach

behind the advice of counsel except to make a determination as to essentially process issues, how the attorney was hired, what the scope of the retention was, and those kind of issues, as opposed to the actual advice.

MS. LEVIN: That's true, Your Honor. And so our arguments are really twofold. Number one is that Adams and Kane, who were two of the three directors on the compensation committee, they testified, as the Court found in its October 27, 2016, hearing, that they relied solely on the substance of advice of counsel to determine whether the authorization decision to authorize the estate to invoke the option was proper. So, unlike in Wynn or in Comverge, on which the defendants rely, they did not rely on anything else. So if they are asked at trial to explain why they authorized the option, they must rely on that legal advice.

So the second point is that the defendants waived the attorney-client privilege by partially disclosing attorney-client privileged information. Now, they're saying -- or RDI says in the opposition that individual directors cannot waive the privilege.

THE COURT: That's the Jacobs versus Sands case.

MS. LEVIN: Exact, Your Honor. And I agree with that. But, of course, RDI can only act through its officers and directors.

THE COURT: That's the Jacobs versus Sands case.

MS. LEVIN: And the current officer -- and I think in particular if you look at the Exhibit 4 that we attached to our motion, is that that email was produced by Ellen Cotter, who is a current CEO and is an officer and director, and she --

THE COURT: I understand.

MS. LEVIN: So, in other words --

THE COURT: And then Mr. Ferrario clawed it back.

MS. LEVIN: Right. So she produced it, and so there's a Supreme Court case that says, "The power to waive the corporate attorney-client privilege rests with the corporation's management and is usually -- and is normally exercised by its officers and directors." And that's what happened here.

so I think especially Exhibit 4, but even Exhibit 2 and 3, the 2 and 3 they raise the legal issues. 2 and 3 identify the legal issues of whether there was a reason why Ellen Cotter could not exercise the option and whether enough -- whether the trust documents did not pour over -- the share option didn't pour over into the trust. But Exhibit 4 specifically seeks legal advice from the company attorney and as to the legal rights of the estate to exercise the option in light of the proxy language. So that is -- under our statute is an attorney-client communication for the purpose of obtaining legal advice. So they partially disclosed that, so we believe there's a waiver issue. And under Wardleigh you cannot use the attorney privilege both as a shield and a sword, which is what they're now doing, is because what they're going to say is, well, we partially disclosed but you cannot find out what it was. But even the very --

THE COURT: But that's the Nevada Supreme Court who's made that decision, not the rest of us. They were very clear that we're not allowed to get behind that.

MS. LEVIN: Correct. But one thing that the Wynn decision did not decide was the waiver issue. And that was in Footnote 3 of the decision.

THE COURT: I made that decision separately after that came back. But that's a case by case, and I haven't made that decision in this case. In fact, my belief is you guys have a writ pending on this issue still. Right?

MR. KRUM: I think the writ pending is on a different privilege issue, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

MS. HENDRICKS: Your Honor, the writ relating to this issue was filed by RDI, and the Supreme Court actually came back and said the facts were analogous to Wynn and it needed to make a decision, and that was shortly after you did make the decision when we were back before you on it.

THE COURT: Yeah. We had a hearing.

MS. HENDRICKS: And we had the supplemental briefing.

THE COURT: Yep. Okay. So anything else on this one?

MS. LEVIN: Only -- the only thing is that the partially disclosed privileged emails themselves show that the board had information that would cause reliance on advice to be improper. So that would --

THE COURT: Okay. So your motion's denied. Come up here. I'm going to give you these. These are your I believe documents you actually want sealed. Since I granted your motion, it was on the calendar today, hopefully you can work out with the Clerk's Office so they will actually take the sealed documents and put them so they're part of the record in some way.

MS. LEVIN: And I brought them with me, too.

THE COURT: Yeah. Good luck. You've got to do it at the counter.

MS. LEVIN: Okay. Thank you.

THE COURT: Okay. So I am declining to hear again the motion in limine on Chief Justice Steel. I've previously made a ruling on that. I've reviewed your brief, and there's nothing in it that causes me to change my mind.

I have already granted your motions to seal and redact. It was on calendar for today.

And now we need to set our final pretrial conference. I usually do it the week before.
