CHIEF DEPUTY CLERK

Dear Chief Justice Gibbons and Members of the Nevada Supreme Court,

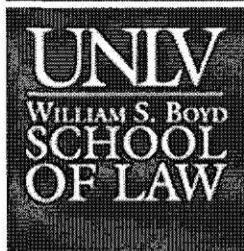

We have received the ADKT 538 order of July 9th and have reviewed the Court's proposed changes. Please accept our gratitude for the careful work of the Court in addressing the limited practice issues contained in Rule 49.1. Your proposed changes will streamline some of the current administrative hurdles for law faculty while maintaining the commitment to high-quality representation that is shared by the Court, the State Bar of Nevada, and the Boyd School of Law. The support for military spouses is also particularly worthwhile.

Thank you for recognizing the important work that Boyd School of Law faculty and students do for the people of Nevada through the mechanisms of Rule 49.1 and the student practice rules. In August we will hold the swearing in ceremony for the students who will launch their careers as student attorneys in the Thomas and Mack Legal Clinic in the Fall semester. That transition from student to student attorney is a meaningful one, as they understand that they are now accountable to the same professional obligations that bind every attorney in Nevada.

We look forward to the completion of the ADKT 538 project, and to working with the Court at any time and in any way that the Boyd School of Law or I can be helpful.

Best,

Dan
