11 It is the duty of the jury to apply the rules of law contained in these instructions to the 12 facts of the case and determine whether or not the Defendant is guilty of one or more of the 13 offenses charged.

14 Each charge and the evidence pertaining to it should be considered separately. The 15 fact that you may find a defendant guilty or not as to one of the offenses charged should not 16 control your verdict as to any other offense charged.

To constitute the crime charged, there must exist a union or joint operation of an act forbidden by law and an intent to do the act.

The intent with which an act is done is shown by the facts and circumstances surrounding the case.

Do not confuse intent with motive. Motive is what prompts a person to act. Intent refers only to the state of mind with which the act is done.

Motive is not an element of the crime charged and the State is not required to prove a motive on the part of the Defendant in order to convict. However, you may consider evidence of motive or lack of motive as a circumstance in the case.

You are here to determine the guilt or innocence of the Defendant from the evidence in the case. You are not called upon to return a verdict as to the guilt or innocence of any other person. So, if the evidence in the case convinces you beyond a reasonable doubt of the guilt of the Defendant, you should so find, even though you may believe one or more persons are also guilty.

The evidence which you are to consider in this case consists of the testimony of the witnesses, the exhibits, and any facts admitted or agreed to by counsel.

There are two types of evidence; direct and circumstantial. Direct evidence is the testimony of a person who claims to have personal knowledge of the commission of the crime which has been charged, such as an eyewitness. Circumstantial evidence is the proof of a chain of facts and circumstances which tend to show whether the Defendant is guilty or not guilty. The law makes no distinction between the weight to be given either direct or circumstantial evidence. Therefore, all of the evidence in the case, including the circumstantial evidence, should be considered by you in arriving at your verdict.

Statements, arguments and opinions of counsel are not evidence in the case. However, if the attorneys stipulate to the existence of a fact, you must accept the stipulation as evidence and regard that fact as proved.

You must not speculate to be true any insinuations suggested by a question asked a witness. A question is not evidence and may be considered only as it supplies meaning to the answer.

You must disregard any evidence to which an objection was sustained by the court and any evidence ordered stricken by the court.

Anything you may have seen or heard outside the courtroom is not evidence and must also be disregarded.

2 The credibility or believability of a witness should be determined by his manner upon 3 the stand, his relationship to the parties, his fears, motives, interests or feelings, his 4 opportunity to have observed the matter to which he testified, the reasonableness of his
5 statements and the strength or weakness of his recollections.

6 If you believe that a witness has lied about any material fact in the case, you may 7 disregard the entire testimony of that witness or any portion of his testimony which is not
8 proved by other evidence.

A witness who has special knowledge, skill, experience, training or education in a particular science, profession or occupation is an expert witness. An expert witness may give his opinion as to any matter in which he is skilled.

You should consider such expert opinion and weigh the reasons, if any, given for it. You are not bound, however, by such an opinion. Give it the weight to which you deem it entitled, whether that be great or slight, and you may reject it, if, in your judgment, the reasons given for it are unsound.

2 It is the constitutional right of a defendant in a criminal trial that he may not be
3 compelled to testify. Thus, the decision as to whether he should testify is left to the 4 defendant on the advice and counsel of his attorney. You must not draw any inference of 5 guilt from the fact that he does not testify, nor should this fact be discussed by you or enter
6 into your deliberations in any way.

2 Although you are to consider only the evidence in the case in reaching a verdict, you
3 must bring to the consideration of the evidence your everyday common sense and judgment
4 as reasonable men and women. Thus, you are not limited solely to what you see and hear as 5 the witnesses testify. You may draw reasonable inferences from the evidence which you feel 6 are justified in the light of common experience, keeping in mind that such inferences should 7 not be based on speculation or guess.

8 A verdict may never be influenced by sympathy, prejudice or public opinion. Your 9 decision should be the product of sincere judgment and sound discretion in accordance with 10 these rules of law.

The Defendant is presumed innocent until the contrary is proved. This presumption places upon the State the burden of proving beyond a reasonable doubt every element of the crime charged and that the Defendant is the person who committed the offense.

A reasonable doubt is one based on reason. It is not mere possible doubt but is such a doubt as would govern or control a person in the more weighty affairs of life. If the minds of the jurors, after the entire comparison and consideration of all the evidence, are in such a condition that they can say they feel an abiding conviction of the truth of the charge, there is not a reasonable doubt. Doubt to be reasonable must be actual, not mere possibility or speculation.

If you have a reasonable doubt as to the guilt of the Defendant, he is entitled to a verdict of not guilty.

During the course of this trial, and your deliberations, you are not to:

- (1) communicate with anyone in any way regarding this case or its merits-either by phone, text, Internet, or other means;
- (2) read, watch, or listen to any news or media accounts or commentary about the case;
- (3) do any research, such as consulting dictionaries, using the Internet, or using reference materials;
- (4) make any investigation, test a theory of the case, re-create any aspect of the case, or in any other way investigate or learn about the case on your own.

A person who subjects another person to sexual penetration, against the victim's will, or under conditions in which the perpetrator knows or should know that the victim is mentally or physically incapable of resisting or understanding the nature of his/her conduct, is guilty of sexual assault.

"Sexual penetration" includes fellatio, or any intrusion, however slight, of any part of a person's body or any object manipulated or inserted by a person into the genital or anal openings of the body of another, including sexual intercourse in its ordinary meaning. Evidence of ejaculation is not necessary.

Digital penetration is the placing of one or more fingers of the perpetrator into the genital or anal opening of another person.

Fellatio is a touching of the penis by the mouth or tongue of another person.

Sexual intercourse is the intrusion, however slight, of the penis into the genital opening of another person.

Anal intercourse is the intrusion, however slight, of the penis into the anal opening of another person.

Physical force is not necessary in the commission of sexual assault. The crucial question is not whether a person was physically forced to engage in a sexual assault but whether the act was committed without his/her consent or under conditions in which the defendant knew or should have known, the person was incapable of giving his/her consent or understanding the nature of the act. There is no consent where a person is induced to submit to the sexual act through fear of death or serious bodily injury.

A person is not required to do more than his/her age, strength, surrounding facts and attending circumstances make it reasonable for him/her to do to manifest opposition to a sexual assault.

Submission is not the equivalent of consent. While consent inevitably involves submission, submission does not inevitably involve consent. Lack of protest by a victim is simply one among the totality of circumstances to be considered by the jury.

2 It is a defense to any charge of sexual assault that the Defendant entertained a
3 reasonable and good faith belief that the alleged victim consented to engage in sexual 4 intercourse. If you find such reasonable, good faith belief, even if mistaken, you must give
5 the Defendant the benefit of the doubt and find him not guilty of sexual assault.

6 A belief that is based upon ambiguous conduct by the alleged victim that is the 7 product of force, violence, duress, menace, or fear of immediate and unlawful bodily injury
8 on the person of another is not a reasonable and good faith belief.

Any person who willfully commits any lewd or lascivious act, other than acts constituting the crime of sexual assault, upon or with any part of the body of a child under the age of 14 years, with the intent of arousing, appealing to, or gratifying the lust or passions or sexual desires of that person or of that child, is guilty of lewdness with a minor.

To constitute a lewd or lascivious act it is not necessary that the bare skin be touched.
The touching may be through the clothing of the child.

Lewdness with a child under the age of 14 years requires an act upon or with the body of a child under the age of 14 years, but does not require physical contact between the perpetrator and the victim.

Although an essential element of the crime of lewdness with a minor is an intent to arouse, appeal to or gratify the lust, passions or sexual desires of either the person committing the acts or the child, the law does not require that the lust, passions or sexual desires of either of such persons actually be aroused, appealed to, or gratified.

Consent in fact of a minor child under fourteen years of age to sexual activity is not a defense to a charge of Lewdness with a Child Under the Age of 14.

There is no requirement that the testimony of a victim of sexual assault or lewdness with a child be corroborated, and his/her testimony standing alone, if believed beyond a reasonable doubt, is sufficient to sustain a verdict of guilty.

Incest occurs when one person commits fornication with another person, under circumstances in which both persons are within the degree of consanguinity within which marriages are declared by law to be incestuous and void.

Fornication is defined as unlawful sexual intercourse between two unmarried persons.

You are instructed that, as a matter of law, a parent and that parent's natural child are within the degree of consanguinity within which a marriage between the two would be declared by law to be incestuous and void.

Open or Gross Lewdness is defined as any indecent, obscene or vulgar act of a sexual nature that:

1. is committed in a public place, even if the act is not observed; or
2. is committed in a private place, but in an open manner, as opposed to a secret manner, and with the intent to be offensive to the observer.

Where a child has been the victim of a sexual act and does not remember the exact date of the act, the State is not required prove a specific date, but may prove a time frame within which the act took place.

Where multiple counts are charged, the alleged victim must testify with some particularity regarding each incident in order to uphold each charge. There must be some reliable indicia that the number of acts charged actually occurred.

Where multiple sexual acts occur as part of a single criminal encounter a defendant may be found guilty for each separate or different sexual act.

Where a defendant commits a specific type of act he/she may be found guilty of more than one count of that specific type of sexual act if:

1. There is an interruption between the acts which are of the same specific type, when such interruption constitutes movement or conduct distinct from the specific and individual act itself,

2. Where the acts of the same specific type are interrupted by a different specific type of sexual act, or

3. For each separate object manipulated or inserted into the genital or anal opening of another.

Only one sexual act occurs when a defendant's actions were of one specific type of sexual act and those acts were continuous and did not stop between the acts of that specific type.

A person who, by intimidating or threatening another person, prevents or dissuades a victim of a crime, a person acting on behalf of the victim or a witness from performing certain acts, to include:

(a) Reporting a crime or possible crime to a:

(1) Judge;

(2) Peace officer;

(3) Parole or probation officer;

(4) Prosecuting attorney;

(b) Commencing a criminal prosecution, or seeking or assisting in such a prosecution; or

(c) Causing the arrest of a person in connection with a crime, or who hinders or delays such a victim, agent or witness in an effort to carry out any of those actions is guilty of preventing or dissuading witness or victim from reporting crime or commencing prosecution.

A person who wilfully, unlawfully and feloniously causes a child under the age of 18 years to suffer unjustifiable physical pain or mental suffering as a result of abuse or neglect or to be placed in a situation where the child may suffer physical pain or mental suffering as a result of abuse or neglect is guilty of child abuse.

As used in these instructions:

"Abuse or neglect" means physical or mental injury of a nonaccidental nature, sexual abuse, sexual exploitation, and/or negligent treatment or maltreatment of a child under the age of 18 years.

"Sexual Abuse" includes an act upon a child who is less than 18 years of age constituting: (1) Incest; (2) Lewdness with a Child; (3) Sexual assault; and/or (4) Open or gross lewdness.

"Sexual Exploitation" includes forcing, allowing or encouraging a child who is less than 18 years of age to: (1) View a pornographic film or literature; or (2) Be filmed, photographed, or recorded on videotape, or posed, modeled, or depicted in a live performance before an audience, in a manner which captures or displays an exhibition of a child's genitals or any sexual conduct with a child.

"Negligent treatment" or "maltreatment of a child" occurs if a child has been abandoned, is without proper care, control and supervision or lacks subsistence, education, shelter, medical care or other care necessary for the well-being of the child because of the faults or habits of the person responsible for the welfare of the child or the neglect or refusal of the person to provide them when able to do so.

A person who knowingly uses, encourages, entices or permits a minor to simulate or engage in or assist others to simulate or engage in sexual conduct to produce a performance and/or uses, encourages, entices, coerces or permits a minor to be the subject of a sexual portrayal in a performance is guilty of Use of a Minor in Production of Pornography.

Sexual conduct means sexual intercourse, lewd exhibition of the genitals, fellatio, cunnilingus, bestiality, anal intercourse, excretion, sado-masochistic abuse, masturbation, or the penetration of any part of a person's body or of any object manipulated or inserted by a person into the anal opening of the body of another.

2 In determining whether a visual depiction of a minor constitutes a lewd exhibition of
3 the genitals, you should look to the following factors:

4 1) Whether the focal point of the visual depiction is on the child's genitalia or pubic
5 area;

6 2) Whether the setting of the visual depiction is sexually suggestive, i.e., in a place or 7 pose generally associated with sexual activity;

8 3) Whether the child is depicted in an unnatural pose, or in inappropriate attire,
9 considering the age of the child;

10 4) Whether the child is fully or partially clothed, or nude;

11 5) Whether the visual depiction suggests sexual coyness or a willingness to engage in 12 sexual activity;

13 6) Whether the visual depiction is intended or designed to elicit a sexual response in 14 the viewer.

15 Of course, a visual depiction need not involve all of these factors to be lewd
16 exhibition of the genitals. The determination will have to be made based on the overall
17 content of the visual depiction, taking into account the age of the minor.

“Performance” means any play, film, photograph, computer-generated image, electronic representation, dance or other visual presentation.

“Sexual portrayal” means the depiction of a person in a manner which appeals to the prurient interest in sex and which does not have serious literary, artistic, political or scientific value.

A prurient interest in sex is a shameful or morbid interest in nudity, sex, or excretion, or involving sexual responses over and beyond those that would be characterized as normal.

A person who knowingly and willfully has in his possession for any purpose any film, photograph or other visual presentation depicting a person under the age of 16 years as the subject of a sexual portrayal or engaging in or simulating, or assisting others to engage in or simulate, sexual conduct is guilty of Possession of Visual Presentation Depicting Sexual Conduct of Person Under Sixteen Years of Age.

2 A conspiracy is an agreement between two or more persons for an unlawful purpose.
3 To be guilty of conspiracy, a defendant must intend to commit, or to aid in the commission
4 of, the specific crime agreed to. The crime is the agreement to do something unlawful; it
5 does not matter whether it was successful or not.

6 A person who knowingly does any act to further the object of a conspiracy, or 7 otherwise participates therein, is criminally liable as a conspirator. However, mere 8 knowledge or approval of, or acquiescence in, the object and purpose of a conspiracy without 9 an agreement to cooperate in achieving such object or purpose does not make one a party to 10 conspiracy. Conspiracy is seldom susceptible of direct proof and is usually established by 11 inference from the conduct of the parties. In particular, a conspiracy may be supported by a 12 coordinated series of acts, in furtherance of the underlying offense, sufficient to infer the 13 existence of an agreement.

14 A conspiracy to commit a crime does not end upon the completion of the crime. The 15 conspiracy continues until the co-conspirators have successfully gotten away and concealed 16 the crime.

2 It is not necessary in proving a conspiracy to show a meeting of the alleged
3 conspirators or the making of an express or formal agreement. The formation and existence
4 of a conspiracy may be inferred from all circumstances tending to show the common intent
5 and may be proved in the same way as any other fact may be proved, either by direct
6 testimony of the fact or by circumstantial evidence, or by both direct and circumstantial
7 evidence.

Each member of a criminal conspiracy is liable for each act and bound by each declaration of every other member of the conspiracy if the act or the declaration is in furtherance of the object of the conspiracy.

The act of one conspirator pursuant to or in furtherance of the common design of the conspiracy is the act of all conspirators. Every conspirator is legally responsible for a specific intent crime of a co-conspirator so long as the specific intent crime was intended by the Defendant. A conspirator is also legally responsible for a general intent crime that follows as one of the reasonably foreseeable consequence of the object of the conspiracy even if it was not intended as part of the original plan and even if he was not present at the time of the commission of such act.

You are instructed that the crimes of Lewdness with a Child Under the Age of 14 and Use of Minor in Producing Pornography are Specific Intent crimes. The crimes of Sexual Assault, Incest, Open or Gross Lewdness, Preventing or Dissuading Witness or Victim from Reporting Crime or Commencing Prosecution, Child Abuse and Neglect and Possession of Visual Presentation Depicting Sexual Conduct of a Child are all General Intent crimes.

INSTRUCTION NO. 43

Evidence that a person was in the company or associated with one or more other persons alleged or proven to have been members of a conspiracy is not, in itself, sufficient to prove that such person was a member of the alleged conspiracy. However, you are instructed that presence, companionship, and conduct before, during and after the offense are circumstances from which one's participation in the criminal intent may be inferred.

Where two or more persons are accused of committing a crime together, their guilt may be established without proof that each personally did every act constituting the offense charged.

All persons concerned in the commission of a crime who either directly and actively commit the act constituting the offense or who knowingly and with criminal intent aid and abet in its commission or, whether present or not, who advise and encourage its commission, with the intent that the crime be committed, are regarded by the law as principals in the crime thus committed and are equally guilty thereof.

A person aids and abets the commission of a crime if he knowingly and with criminal intent aids, promotes, encourages or instigates by act or advice, or by act and advice, the commission of such crime with the intention that the crime be committed.

Every person who aids and abets in the commission of a crime is legally responsible for a specific intent crime of another person so long as the specific intent crime of that other person was intended by the Defendant. A person who aids and abets in the commission of a crime is also legally responsible for a general intent crime that follows as one of the reasonably foreseeable consequences of the acts of another, and even if he was not present at the time of the commission of such act.

You are instructed that the crimes of Lewdness with a Child Under the Age of 14 and Use of Minor in Producing Pornography are Specific Intent crimes. The crimes of Sexual Assault, Incest, Open or Gross Lewdness, Preventing or Dissuading Witness or Victim from Reporting Crime or Commencing Prosecution, Child Abuse and Neglect and Possession of Visual Presentation Depicting Sexual Conduct of a Child are all General Intent crimes.

The State is not required to prove precisely which defendant actually committed the crime and which defendant aided and abetted.

Mere presence at the scene of a crime or knowledge that a crime is being committed is not sufficient to establish that a defendant is guilty of an offense unless you find beyond a reasonable doubt that the Defendant was a participant and not merely a knowing spectator.

However, the presence of a person at the scene of a crime and companionship with another person engaged in the commission of the crime and a course of conduct before and after the offense are circumstances which may be considered in determining whether such person directly committed or aided or abetted the commission of that crime.

While a guilty verdict must be unanimous, you need not be unanimous on the means or theory of liability in arriving at your verdict. In other words, you do not need to be unanimous in deciding whether the defendant is responsible by directly committing an offense or by being an aider or abettor or conspirator.

2 An accomplice is one who is subject to prosecution for the identical offense charged
3 against the Defendant on trial.

4 To be an accomplice, the person must have aided, promoted, encouraged, or instigated
5 by act or advice the commission of such offense with knowledge of the unlawful purpose of 6 the person who committed the offense.

7 A Defendant cannot be found guilty based upon the testimony of an accomplice
8 unless such testimony is corroborated by other evidence which tends to connect such 9 defendant with the commission of the offense.

10 It is not necessary that the evidence of the corroboration be sufficient in itself to 11 establish every element of the offense charged, or that it corroborate every fact to which the 12 accomplice testifies. The necessary corroboration of an accomplice's testimony need not be 13 found in a single fact or circumstance; rather several circumstances in combination may 14 satisfy the law. If evidence from sources other than the testimony of the accomplice tends on 15 the whole to connect the accused with the crime charged, the accomplice's testimony is 16 lawfully corroborated.

When viewing the testimony of an accomplice, you may not arbitrarily disregard such testimony, but you should give it the weight to which you find it to be entitled after examining it with care and caution and in light of all the evidence in the case.

2 You have heard testimony that a witness has received benefits from a negotiation with
3 the State in connection with this case. You should examine such witness's testimony with 4 greater caution than that of other witnesses. In evaluating the testimony, you should consider 5 the extent to which it may have been influenced by the receipt of the benefits from the 6 negotiation. This does not mean that you may arbitrarily disregard such testimony, but you
7 should give it the weight to which you find it to be entitled after examining it with care and 8 caution and in light of all the evidence in this case.

Evidence that the Defendant committed offenses other than that for which he is on trial, if believed, was received by you in the course of this trial. This included the following evidence:

1. Evidence that Deborah Sena and Defendant were involved in the commission of sexual acts upon B.S. when he was approximately three (3) years of age;
2. Evidence that Deborah Sena, Terrie Sena, and Defendant were involved in the commission of sexual acts upon B.S. and R.S. when they were approximately five (5) years of age;
3. Evidence that Defendant committed sexual acts and took photographs of M.C. in what appears to be a pose with a sexual object, beginning when M.C. was approximately eleven (11) years of age;
4. Evidence of acts of violence committed by Defendant within his household; and
5. Evidence that Defendant sent emails to Deborah Sena and/or her coworkers after she left the residence.

The above referenced sexual acts were received as evidence of Defendant's character, or sexual propensity, as well as to show the Defendant's Intent, knowledge, motive, and lack of mistake or accident in the commission of such sexual crimes.

The evidence of acts of violence, as well as evidence of emails sent by Defendant, was not received and may not be considered by you to prove that Defendant is a person of bad character or to prove that he has a disposition to commit crimes. Such evidence was received and may be considered by you only for the limited purpose of proving the Defendant's Intent, knowledge, motive, and lack of mistake or accident in the commission of the charged acts as well as to show the situation that surrounded the charged acts. You must weigh this evidence in the same manner as you do all other evidence in the case.

2 If, during your deliberation, you should desire to be further informed on any point of
3 law or hear again portions of the testimony, you must reduce your request to writing signed
4 by the foreperson. The officer will then return you to court where the information sought
5 will be given you in the presence of, and after notice to, the district attorney and the 6 Defendant and his/her counsel.

7 Playbacks of testimony are time-consuming and are not encouraged unless you deem 8 it a necessity. Should you require a playback, you must carefully describe the testimony to 9 be played back so that the court recorder can arrange his/her notes. Remember, the court is 10 not at liberty to supplement the evidence.

In your deliberation you may not discuss or consider the subject of punishment, as that is a matter which lies solely with the court. Your duty is confined to the determination of the guilt or innocence of the Defendant.

When you retire to consider your verdict, you must select one of your member to act as foreperson who will preside over your deliberation and will be your spokesperson here in court.

During your deliberation, you will have all the exhibits which were admitted into evidence, these written instructions and forms of verdict which have been prepared for your convenience.

Your verdict must be unanimous. As soon as you have agreed upon a verdict, have it signed and dated by your foreperson and then return with it to this room.

Now you will listen to the arguments of counsel who will endeavor to aid you to reach a proper verdict by refreshing in your minds the evidence and by showing the application thereof to the law; but, whatever counsel may say, you will bear in mind that it is your duty to be governed in your deliberation by the evidence as you understand it and remember it to be and by the law as given to you in these instructions, with the sole, fixed and steadfast purpose of doing equal and exact justice between the Defendant and the State of Nevada.
