("Plaintiffs"), on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated, and hereby alleges as follows:

All allegations in this Complaint are based upon information and belief except for those allegations that pertain to the Plaintiffs named herein and their counsel. Each allegation in this Complaint either has evidentiary support or is likely to have evidentiary support after a reasonable opportunity for further investigation and discovery.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

- 1. This Court has original jurisdiction over the state law claims alleged herein because the amount in controversy exceeds $15,000 and a party seeking to recover unpaid wages has a private right of action pursuant to the Nevada Constitution, Article 15 Section 16, and Nevada Revised Statute ("NRS") Chapter 608. See Neville v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court, Terrible Herbst, Inc., 133 Nev. Adv. Op. 95, 406 P.3d 499 (Dec. 7, 2017). Plaintiffs made a proper demand for wages due pursuant to NRS 608.140 on March 6, 2016.
- 2. Pursuant to NRS 608.050(2), the Nevada state district court has jurisdiction to foreclose the lien for the wages alleged due herein on the place of employment, as provided in NRS 108.221 to 108.246, inclusive.
- 3. Venue is proper in the Nevada state district court because one or more of the Defendants named herein maintains its principal place of business, or otherwise is found, in that judicial district, and the acts complained of herein occurred in Washoe County, Nevada.

Plaintiff Vaughan believes her last hourly rate of pay was $8.25. Defendants are the only Party in possession of Plaintiff's schedule, pay, time, and employment records.
- 8. Defendant HG STAFFING, LLC, is a Nevada Limited Liability Company whose managing member is MEI-GSR HOLDINGS, LLC, located at 2500 East Second Street, Reno, NV 89585.
- 9. Defendant MEI-GSR HOLDINGS, LLC is a Nevada Limited Liability Company located at 2500 East Second Street, Reno, NV 89585. 11. The identity of DOES 1-50 is unknown at this time and this Complaint will be amended at such time when the identities are known to Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs are informed and believe that each of Defendants sued herein as DOE is responsible in some manner for the acts, omissions, or representations alleged herein and any reference to "Defendant," "Defendants," or "GSR" herein shall mean "Defendants and each of them."

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

- 12. Plaintiffs were employed by Defendants as non-exempt hourly employees.
- 13. Plaintiff Jackson-Williams was scheduled for, and regularly worked, five (5) shifts per week, at least eight (8) hours per shift, and forty (40) hours per workweek and worked split shifts with less than 16-hours in between the end of one shift and the beginning of another shift ("jammed shift") especially during special events and busy periods such as, but not limited to, concerts, Burning Man, Hot August Nights, and Street Vibrations during the relevant time periods alleged herein. Defendants are the only Party in possession of Plaintiff's schedule, pay, time, and employment records.
- 14. Plaintiffs Martel, and Vaughan worked shifts over eight (8) hours per shift one or more times a week on a regular basis and worked jammed shifts especially during special events and busy periods such as, but not limited to, concerts Burning Man, Hot August Nights, and Street Vibrations during the relevant time periods alleged herein. Specific to Plaintiff Vaughan, because, dance classes were usually held on Saturday mornings and it was not unusual to be scheduled to work a full shift the Friday night into Saturday, then be required to attend dance class that same morning resulting in a jammed shift. Defendants are the only Party in possession of Plaintiffs' schedule, pay, time, and employment records.
- 15. At all times relevant herein, Defendants maintained the following policies, practices, and procedures of requiring various employees to perform work activities without compensation. This was achieved by either rounding hours so that employees who were technically "on the clock" did not receive pay for all their recorded hours worked or by having employees perform work without being logged in to the timekeeping system. Indeed, Defendants maintain an unlawful rounding policy whereby it rounds the time recorded and worked by all hourly employees to the nearest 15 minutes for purposes of calculating payment of wages owed. Such rounding favors the employer and deprives the employees of pay for time they actually perform work activities.

16. At all times relevant herein, Defendants have been aware that their policies and practices of failing to fully compensate Plaintiffs and all others similarly situated for all hours worked was willful, oppressive, fraudulent, and illegal. Further, Defendants' practice as set forth herein is anti-competitive in that these illegal practices make one of Defendants' largest cost items, labor, lower than as compared to other casino/resort/hotel operators who comply with the labor laws of the State.

A. DEFENDANTS' CASH BANK POLICY

- 17. Defendants required employees who handle monetary transactions in the regular course of their employment to use or "carry" a cash bank. For example, the following job positions are some of the job positions that required employees to carry a cash bank: cashiers, bartenders, change persons, slot attendants, retail attendants, arcade attendants, and front desk agents.
- 18. Defendants required all employees who carry a cash bank to retrieve and deposit their respective cash bank both before and after the employees' regularly scheduled shifts without compensation. As an example of this policy, Named Plaintiff Martel was required to collect his bank of money at the dispatch cage prior to proceeding to his workstation and without compensation. Similarly, at the end of his regularly scheduled shifts, Plaintiff Martel was required to reconcile and deposit his cash bank to the same dispatch cage without compensation. Upon information and belief, Defendants required all employees who carry a cash bank in the performance of their work duties to retrieve their cash bank from the same dispatch cage pre- and post-shift without compensation.

- 19. Named Plaintiff Martel estimates it took him approximately 15 minutes to perform banking activities for which he was not paid the minimum, regular rate, or overtime wages required by law. Upon information and belief, all other GSR employees who carry a cash bank are similarly not compensated for the time in which they spend performing their banking activities.
- 20. As an example, only, Plaintiff Martel was employed from on or about January 25, 2012 through June 12, 2014 for approximately 443 shifts (3.56 shifts per week X 124.3 weeks = 443 shifts). See Exhibit 1 attached to the Toney Report, and attached as Exhibit 1 to this Complaint. One specific date where Plaintiff Martel conducted banking activities prior to clocking in and after clocking out is on May 28, 2013. Id. Although his shift was scheduled to start at 4:00 p.m. he picked up his bank at 3:42 p.m. Id. His shift ended at 12:00 a.m. on May 29, 2013 but did not drop off his bank until 12:03 a.m. Id. Because he conducted banking activities off the clock and without pay, he should have been paid for an additional, approximately 15 minutes of work time. Based on the data currently available to Plaintiffs, the additional 15 minutes of cash banking activities multiplied by 443 shifts equates to 110.8 hours of unpaid wages (15 minutes X 443 shifts = 6,645 minutes divided by 60 = 110.8 total pre-shift hours). Id. Based on a weighted overtime rate of $9.62 (not all pre-shift activities resulted in overtime), Plaintiff Martel is owed $1,065.90 in unpaid wages. Id. Based on a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Martel should have been paid to January 31, 2019, he is owed an additional $496.28 in interest. Because Plaintiff Martel is no longer employed by Defendants, he is also owed waiting time penalties in the amount of $3,598.65 (7.27 hours per day X $8.25 = $59.98 X 60 = $3,598.65). Thus, Plaintiff Martel is owed approximately $5,160.83 for unpaid cash banking activities.
- 21. Upon information and belief, all other GSR employees who were similarly required to carry a cash bank were not compensated for the time in which they conducted banking activities. Based on a class list provided by Defendants for the period of June 24, 2010 through April 21, 20141 (attached as Exhibit 2, hereto), there are approximately 587 class members. Based on the average weekly shift count and pay rates for Plaintiff Martel, extrapolated for the full class period, the putative Cash Bank Class Members are owed approximately $700,927.63 in unpaid wages. Id. Additionally, 379 members of the Cash Bank Class are no longer employed as of April 21, 2014. Id. Thus, based on the failure to pay 379 class members all wages due and owing at the time of termination, formerly employed class members are owed an additional $1,363,888.35 in waiting time penalties. Id. If termination rates remain steady for the full class period, it is estimated that the putative Cash Bank Class Members would be owed $3,494,289.15 in waiting time penalties. Id. The total estimated damage amount due for the Cash Bank Class is $4,195,216.78. Id.

22. Defendants are legally required to maintain the employment records for Plaintiff Martell and all putative Class Members who carried a cash bank. GSR is therefore in possession (or should be in possession) of the necessary scheduling, gate data (swipe in/out of the GSR property), punch data (clock in/out records), and pay data to demonstrate the exact amount of wages that Plaintiff Martell and all putative Class Members are owed and at the correct rate of pay those wages must be paid. Since Plaintiff was never compensated for the pre- and post-shift activities outlined herein, Plaintiff and all putative Cash Bank Class Members are owed compensation at the applicable hourly rate for each and every day they carried a cash bank.

B. DEFENDANTS' DANCE CLASS POLICY

23. Defendants required all employees who worked as a servetainer and/or dancing dealer to learn dance routines and attend rehearsals without compensation. If the employee did not attend dance classes, they would be taken off the schedule and written up for misconduct.

¹ Although the Class List provided spans the time period of June 24, 2019 through April 21, 2014, the Class period is limited to March 30, 2011 to the present, because the current owners, HG STAFFING, LLC, MEI-GSR HOLDINGS LLC purchased the property known as the Grand Sierra Resort ("GSR"), March 31, 2011.

- 24. When named Plaintiff Vaughan was a dancing dealer, she was required to attend dance classes of an hour or more, two to four times a week for which she was not paid her minimum, regular rate, or overtime wages. Additionally, dance classes were usually held on Saturday mornings and it was not unusual to be scheduled to work a full shift the Friday night into Saturday, then be required to attend dance class that same morning.
- 25. As an example, only, Plaintiff Vaughan was employed from on or about August 1, 2012 through June 13, 2013 for 46 weeks. See Exhibit 2 to the Toney Report. Upon information and belief, one specific date where Plaintiff attended dance classes off the clock occurred when Plaintiff Vaughan worked April 26, 2013 from 8:30 p.m. to April, 27, 2013 at 4:00 a.m. (7.5 hours), was required to attend dance class (2 hours), then worked from 8:15 p.m. on April 27, 2013, to 1:00 a.m. on April 28, 2013 (4.75 hours). See Exhibit 6. Because she was required to attend dance classes off the clock and without pay, she should have been paid for 2 hours. Based on the data currently available to Plaintiffs, the two hours per week of unpaid dance classes amounts to 92 hours (46 X 2 = 92). See Exhibit 2 to Toney Report. Ninety-two hours at Plaintiff Vaughan's straight-time rate of $8.25 amounts to $759.00 of unpaid wages. Id. Based on a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Vaughan should have been paid to January 31, 2019, she is owed an additional $428.08 in interest. Because Ms. Vaughan is no longer employed by Defendants, she is owed waiting time penalties equal to 60 days of wages in the amount of $2,623.50 (average of 5.3 hours per shift, multiplied by $8.25 = $43.725 per day X 60 = $2,623.50). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Vaughan is owed approximately $3,810.58 for unpaid dance classes.
- 26. Upon information and belief, all other GSR employees who were similarly required to attend dance classes were not compensated for the required dance class time. Based on a class list provided by Defendants for the period of June 24, 2010 through April 21, 2014, there are approximately 48 class members. See Exhibit 2. Based on the average weekly shift count and pay rates for Plaintiff Vaughan, extrapolated for the full class period, the putative Dance Class Members are owed approximately $143,081.40 in unpaid wages. See Exhibit 2 attached to the Toney Report. Additionally, 21 members of the Dance Class are no longer employed as of April 21, 2014. Id. Thus, based on the failure to pay 21 class members all wages due and owing at the time of termination, formerly employed class members are owed an additional $55,093.50 in waiting time penalties. Id. If termination rates remain steady for the full class period, it is estimated that the putative Dance Class Members would be owed $139,045.50 in waiting time penalties. Id. The total estimated damage amount due for the Cash Dance Class is $282,126.90. Id

27. Defendants are legally required to maintain the employment records for Plaintiff Vaughan and all putative Class Members who attended dance classes. GSR is therefore in possession (or should be in possession) of the necessary scheduling, gate data (swipe in/out of the GSR property), punch data (clock in/out records), and pay data to demonstrate the exact amount of wages that Plaintiff Vaughan and all putative Dance Class Members are owed and at the correct rate of pay those wages must be paid. Since Plaintiff was never compensated for the dance classes outlined herein, Plaintiff and all putative Dance Class Members are owed compensation at the applicable hourly rate for each and every dance class they attended.

C. DEFENDANTS' ROOM ATTENDANT PRE-SHIFT POLICY

28. Defendants required all employees who worked room attendant/housekeeper to engage in pre-shift work activities off the clock and without compensation. Room attendants were required to arrive 20 minutes or more prior to their regularly scheduled start time to present themselves to their shift supervisors for room/floor assignments, a uniform inspection, and to retrieve tools necessary to complete their work tasks, including but not limited to filling their caddies with room amenities, and their cleaning carts. These tasks were completed off the clock and without compensation.

As an example, only, Plaintiff Jackson-Williams² was employed from on or 29. about April 9, 2014 through December 31, 2015 for approximately 90.3 weeks. See Exhibit 3 attached to the Toney Report. She alleges she worked an average of five shifts per week or 452 shifts (90.3 X 5 = 451.5). She also alleges that each and every shift she worked during her 90.3 weeks of employment, she was required to work approximately twenty (20) minutes each and every shift of unpaid pre-shift time amounting to 150.7 hours (452 X 20 minutes = 9,040 minutes, divided by 60 = 150.7 hours). One-hundred fifty point seven hours multiplied by the overtime rate of $12.375 ($8.25 X 1.5 = $12.375) equates to $1,864.91 in unpaid wages. Id. Based on a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Jackson-Williams should have been paid to January 31, 2019, she is owed an additional $561.34 in interest. Id. Because Ms. Jackson-Williams is no longer employed by Defendants, she is owed waiting time penalties equal to 60 days of wages in the amount of $3,960.00 (average of 8 hours per shift, multiplied by $8.25 = $66.00 per day X 60 = $3,960.00). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Jackson-Williams is owed $6,386.25 for unpaid pre-shift activities. Id.

30. Named Plaintiff Jackson-Williams was required to complete these work tasks each and every shift worked and was not paid her minimum, regular rate, or overtime wages. Based on her knowledge and belief all employees who were similarly employed as room attendants/housekeepers followed the same policy and procedure as mandated by Defendants. Upon information and belief, all other GSR employees who were similarly employed as room attendants were not compensated for the required ore-shift time. Based on a class list provided by Defendants for the period of June 24,

² Plaintiff Jackson-Williams is not in possession, custody or control of any of her schedules, time, or pay data, however she was scheduled to work and did work five shifts per week. Defendants are legally required to maintain the employment records for Plaintiff Jackson-Williams and all putative Room Attendant Class Members. GSR is therefore in possession (or should be in possession) of the necessary scheduling, gate data (swipe in/out of the GSR property), punch data (clock in/out records), and pay data to demonstrate the exact amount of wages that Plaintiff Jackson-Williams and all putative Room Attendant Class Members are owed and at the correct rate of pay those wages must be paid.

See Exhibit 3 attached to the Toney Report. Additionally, 83 members of the Room Attendant Class are no longer employed as of April 21, 2014. Id. Thus, based on the failure to pay 83 class members all wages due and owing at the time of termination, formerly employed class members are owed an additional $328,680.00 in waiting time penalties. Id. If termination rates remain steady for the full class period, it is estimated that the putative Room Attendant Class Members would be owed $839,520.00 in waiting time penalties. Id. The total estimated damage amount due for the Room Attendant Class is $1,949,380.54.3 Id

31. Defendants are legally required to maintain the employment records for Plaintiff Jackson-Williams and all putative Room Attendant Class Members. GSR is therefore in possession (or should be in possession) of the necessary scheduling, gate data (swipe in/out of the GSR property), punch data (clock in/out records), and pay data to demonstrate the exact amount of wages that Plaintiff Jackson-Williams and all putative Room Attendant Class Members are owed and at the correct rate of pay those wages must be paid. Since Plaintiff was never compensated for the pre-shift work activities outlined herein, Plaintiff and all putative Room Attendant Class Members are owed compensation at the applicable hourly rate for each and every shift worked.

attendants to attend a pre-shift meeting without compensation. The pre-shift meetings were held in order to instruct employees on job duties, special events in the area and at the GSR, occupancy, and other job related information. Pre-shift meetings could take 10 minutes or more and were either held off the clock or during the period of time that was improperly rounded off of employees' time cards.

- 33. As an example, only, Plaintiff Capilla was employed from on or about March 23, 2011 through September 9, 2013 for approximately 128.9 weeks. See Exhibit 4 attached to the Toney Report. Because she was required to attend pre-shift meeting off the clock and without pay, she should have been paid for an additional 10 minutes of compensable work time in addition to her regular work hours. Based on the data currently available to Plaintiffs, she worked an average of 3.82 shifts per week or 493 shifts (3.82 X 128.9 = 493). Id. Ten minutes multiplied by 493 shifts equates to 82.2 hours of unpaid pre-shift meeting work (10 X 493 = 4,930 divided by 60 = 82.16 hours). ld. Eighty-two hours multiplied by the weighted rate of \$8.47 (not all hours worked were overtime hours) equates to \$696.23 in unpaid wages due $($8.47 \times 82.2 = $696.23)$. Based on a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Jackson-Williams should have been paid to January 31, 2019, she is owed an additional \$375.96 in interest. ld. Because Ms. Capilla is no longer employed by Defendants, she is owed waiting time penalties equal to 60 days of wages in the amount of \$3,001.50 (average of 6.9 hours per shift X \$7.25 = \$50.03 X 60 = \$3,001.50). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Capilla is owed approximately \$4,073.69 for unpaid pre-shift meetings. Id.
- As an example, only, Plaintiff Martel was employed from on or about 34. January 25, 2012 through June 12, 2014 for approximately 124.3 weeks. See Exhibit 4 attached to the Toney Report. Because he was required to attend pre-shift meetings off the clock and without pay, he should have been paid for an additional 10 minutes of compensable work time in addition to his regular hours. Based on the data currently available to Plaintiffs, he worked an average of 3.56 shifts per week or 443 shifts (3.56 X 124.3 = 443). Ten minutes multiplied by 443 shifts equates to 73.8 hours of unpaid pre-shift meeting work (10 X 443 = 4,430 divided by 60 = 73.8 hours). Id. Seventy-three point 8 hours multiplied by the weighted rate of $9.62 (not all hours worked were overtime hours) equates to $709.96 in unpaid wages due ($9.62 X 73.8 = $709.96). Based on a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Martel should have been paid to January 31, 2019, he is owed an additional $383.38 in interest. Id. Because Mr. Martel is no longer employed by Defendants, he is owed waiting time penalties equal to 60 days of wages in the amount of $3,598.65 (average of 7.27 hours per shift, multiplied by $8.25 = $59.98 per day X 60 = $3,598.65). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Martel is owed approximately $4,691.99 for unpaid pre-shift meetings. Id.

35. Named Plaintiffs Capilla and Martel were required to attend these pre-shift meetings without compensation and for which they were not paid their minimum, regular rate, or overtime wages. Based on their knowledge and belief all employees who were similarly employed as dealers, cocktail waitresses, baristas, security quards, bartenders, and retail attendants followed the same policy and procedure as mandated by Defendants. Upon information and belief, all other GSR employees who were similarly required to attend pre-shift meetings were not compensated for the required pre-shift time. Based on a class list provided by Defendants for the period of June 24, 2010 through April 21, 2014, there are approximately 609 class members. See Exhibit 2. Based on the average weekly shift count and pay rates for Plaintiff Capilla and Plaintiff Martel, extrapolated out for the entire class period, the putative Pre-Shift Meeting Class Members are owed approximately $571,434.92 in unpaid wages. See Exhibit 4 to the Toney Report. Additionally, 417 members of the Pre-Shift Class are no longer employed as of April 21, 2014. Id. Thus, based on the failure to pay 417 class members all wages due and owing at the time of termination, formerly employed class members are owed an additional $1,371,396.24 in waiting time penalties. Id. If termination rates remain steady for the full class period, it is estimated that the putative Pre-Shift Class Members would be owed $3,512,352.96 in waiting time penalties. Id. The total estimated damage amount due for the Cash Bank Class is $4,083,787.88. Id

36. . Defendants are legally required to maintain the employment records for Plaintiffs Capilla and Martel and all putative Pre-Shift Meeting Class Members. GSR is therefore in possession (or should be in possession) of the necessary scheduling, gate data (swipe in/out of the GSR property), punch data (clock in/out records), and pay data to demonstrate the exact amount of wages that Plaintiffs Capilla and Martel and all putative Pre-Shift Meeting Class Members are owed and at the correct rate of pay those wages must be paid. Since Plaintiff was never compensated for the pre-shift work activities outlined herein, Plaintiffs and all putative Pre-Shift Class Members are owed compensation at the applicable hourly rate for each and every shift worked.

Ε DEFENDANTS' UNIFORM POLICY

- 37. Defendants required all employees who worked as dancing dealers, cocktail waitresses, and baristas to change into and out of their uniforms on the GSR premises without compensation.
- 38. Named Plaintiff Vaughan was required to change into and out of her uniform on the GSR premises without compensation and for which she was not paid her minimum, regular rate, or overtime wages. Changing into and out of uniforms could take 15 minutes or more and employees either changed off the clock and/or were changing during the period of time that was improperly rounded off of employees' time cards.
- 39. As an example, only, Plaintiff Vaughan was employed from on or about August 1, 2012 through June 13, 2013 for 45.3 weeks or approximately 95 shifts (45.3 X 2.1 = 95.13). See Exhibit 5 attached to the Toney Report. Upon information and belief, one specific date where Plaintiff attended dance classes off the clock occurred when Plaintiff Vaughan worked April 26, 2013 from 8:30 p.m. to April, 27, 2013 at 4:00 a.m. (7.5 hours), was required to attend dance class (2 hours), then worked from 8:15 p.m. on April 27, 2013, to 1:00 a.m. on April 28, 2013 (4.75 hours). See Exhibit 6 to Toney Report. Because she was required to engage in uniform changing on premises and off the clock and without pay, she should have been paid for 15 minutes of additional work time. Fifteen minutes per shift of unpaid uniform changing time per shift amounts to 23.8 hours (95 X 15 = 1,425 divided by 60 = 23.75). See Exhibit 5 attached to the Toney Report. Twenty-three point seven-five hours at Plaintiff Vaughan's weighted wage rate of $8.46 (not all hours were overtime hours) amounts to $201.35 of unpaid wages (23.75 X $8.46 = $201.35). Id. Based on a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Martel should have been paid to January 31, 2019, he is owed an additional $113.76 in interest. Id. Because Ms. Vaughan is no longer employed by Defendants, she is owed waiting time penalties equal to 60 days of wages in the amount of $2,623.50 (average of 5.3 hours per shift, multiplied by $8.25 = $43.725 per day X 60 = $2,623.50). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Vaughan is owed approximately $2,938.61 for unpaid uniform changing activities. Id.

- 40. Based on Plaintiff Vaughan's knowledge and belief all employees who were similarly employed as dancer dealers, cocktail waitresses, and baristas followed the same policy and procedure mandated by Defendants. Upon information and belief, all other GSR employees who were similarly required to change in to and out of uniforms on the GSR premises were similarly not paid. Based on a class list provided by Defendants for the period of June 24, 2010 through April 21, 2014, there are approximately 240 class members. See Exhibit 2. Based on the average weekly shift count and pay rates for Plaintiff Vaughan, the putative Uniform Class Members are owed approximately $50,970.65 in unpaid wages. See Exhibit 5 to the Toney Report. Additionally, 157 members of the Unifrom Class are no longer employed as of April 21, 2014. Id. Thus, based on the failure to pay 157 class members all wages due and owing at the time of termination, formerly employed class members are owed an additional $411,889.50 in waiting time penalties. Id. If termination rates remain steady for the full class period, it is estimated that the putative Uniform Class Members would be owed $1,054,647.00 in waiting time penalties. Id. The total estimated damage amount due for the Uniform Class is $1,197,561.78. Id
- 41. Defendants are legally required to maintain the employment records for Plaintiff Vaughan and all putative Uniform Members. GSR is therefore in possession (or

Since Plaintiff was never compensated for the uniform changing activities outlined herein, Plaintiff and all putative Uniform Class Members are owed compensation at the applicable hourly rate for each and every shift worked.

F. DEFENDANTS' SHIFT JAMMING POLICY

- 42. In addition to requiring employees to perform work activities without compensation, Defendants engaged in the unlawful practice known as "shift-jamming."
- 43. Pursuant to NRS 608.018(1), employees who are paid less than one and one half times the minimum wage must be paid daily overtime if they work more than 8 hours a day (or 10 hours in a day if they are on a recognized and agreed upon 4-10 workweek—four days a week at ten hours a day).
- 44. NRS 608.0126 defines a "Workday" as a period of 24 consecutive hours, which begins when the employee begins work.
- 45. Upon information and belief, Defendants did not offer health insurance to qualify for the lower minimum wage for insured employees.
- 46. Thus, hourly employees paid less than $12.375 who the Defendants required, suffered or permitted to return to work before the expiration of 16 hours between when they last worked for the employer and started their next shift, must be paid at overtime rates until the end of that workday.
- 47. Defendants routinely required employees who were entitled to daily overtime to return to work sooner than 16 hours from when they last worked, whether it to be for their normal job duties or a special event, during high occupancy periods such as for concerts, Burning Man, Hot August Nights, and Street Vibrations, or mandatory meetings, without paying the proper overtime rate.

- 48. Plaintiffs were scheduled to and did work shifts with less than 16 hours between the end of one shift and the beginning of the next without being paid overtime premium for hours worked over eight in a workday.
- 49. As an example, only, Plaintiff Martel was employed from on or about January 25, 2012 through June 12, 2014. Where KRONOS (time) data is available, he worked approximately 101 weeks. See Exhibit 6 attached to the Toney Report. For instance, Plaintiff Martel worked from 6:45 p.m. on August 10, 2013 to 4:15 a.m. on August 11, 2013 (8.0 hours). Id. He then worked 4:00 p.m. on August 11, 2013 to 12:30 a.m. on August 12, 2013 (8.0 hours). Because he was required to return to work before he received 16 hours off between the end of his first shift and the beginning of the next, he worked a jammed shift. The available KRONOS clock time contains 362 shifts. Id. Of the analyzed shifts, a shift jam was observed in 37 shifts or 10% of the time. Id. Of the jammed shifts, 21 or 6% resulted in unpaid overtime premium due. Id. When an overtime impact existed, the average overtime hour amount was 1.52. Id. The total shift jam hours with overtime premium due is 21 shifts, resulting in an underpayment of 31.9 hours (21 shifts X 1.52 hours = 31.9 hours). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Martel is due and additional $138.77 in unpaid overtime premium (31 X $4.13 (half-time rate) = $131.75). ld. Based on a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Martel should have been paid to January 31, 2019, he is owed an additional $67.19 in interest. Id. Because Mr. Martel is no longer employed by Defendants, he is owed waiting time penalties equal to 60 days of wages in the amount of $3,598.65 (average of 7.27 hours per shift, multiplied by $8.25 = $59.98 per day X 60 = $3,598.65). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Martel is owed approximately $3,797.59 for jammed shifts. Id.
- 50. As an example, only, Plaintiff Vaughan was employed from on or about August 1, 2012 through June 13, 2013. Where KRONOS (time) data is available, she worked approximately 45.3 weeks. See Exhibit 6 attached to the Toney Report. Upon information and belief, one specific date where Plaintiff attended dance classes off the clock occurred when Plaintiff Vaughan worked April 26, 2013 from 8:30 p.m. to April, 27,

Because she was required to change and attend dance classes off the clock and without pay, and did not receive 16 hours off between the end of her first shift and the beginning of the next, she worked a jammed shift. The available KRONOS clock time contains 95 shifts. Id. Of the analyzed shifts, a shift jam was observed in 8 shifts or 9% of the time. ld. Of the jammed shifts, 4 resulted in unpaid overtime premium due. Id. When an overtime impact existed, the average overtime hour amount was 1.12. Id. The total shift jam hours with overtime premium due is 8 shifts, resulting in an underpayment of 9.0 hours (8 shifts X 1.12 hours = 9.0 hours). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Vaughan is due and additional $37.17 in unpaid overtime premium (9 X $4.13 (half-time rate) = $37.17). Id. Based on a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Vaughan should have been paid to January 31, 2019, she is owed an additional $21.00 in interest. Id. Because Ms. Vaughan is no longer employed by Defendants, she is owed waiting time penalties equal to 60 days of wages in the amount of $2,623.50 (average of 5.3 hours per shift, multiplied by $8.25 = $43.725 per day X 60 = $2,623.50). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Vaughan is owed approximately $2,681.67 for jammed shifts. Id.

- 51. Defendants have admitted that they did not pay employees for jammed shifts for the period of time between November 4, 2011 and July 11, 2014 for "certain" team members." See Exhibit 3 attached, hereinafter "Audit Letter."
- 52. It is not possible for Plaintiff to estimate class damages because Defendants are the sole Party in this action who have access to the relevant schedule, time, and pay data required to conduct further analysis. Defendants are legally required to maintain the employment records for Plaintiffs Martell and Vaughan and all putative Shift Jamming Class Members. GSR is therefore in possession (or should be in possession) of the necessary scheduling, gate data (swipe in/out of the GSR property), punch data (clock in/out records), and pay data to demonstrate whether or not employees were subject to a jammed shift and whether or not these Class Members

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

- 53. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by this reference all the paragraphs above in this Complaint as though fully set forth herein.
- 54. Plaintiffs seek to represent the following classes of employees in Defendants' employ during the relevant time period⁴:
 - Cash Bank Class: All Nevada residents who were employed by Defendants at the time of filing the original complaint in this action and who were required to carry a cash bank and performed banking activities without compensation, including (but not limited to), cashiers, bartenders, slot attendants, retail attendants, change attendants, and front desk agents, at any time from March 31, 2011 to the present⁵;
 - B. Dance Class: All Nevada residents who were employed by Defendants at the time of filing the original complaint in this action and who were

On June 21, 2013 Plaintiffs Tiffany Sargent and Bailey Cryderman filed a proposed class action for failure to pay wages due and owing in the Second Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada in and for the County of Washoe. (See CV13 01351.) Defendants removed that action to the United States District Court District of Nevada on August 22, 2013. Plaintiffs' claims asserted in the instant Complaint were dismissed prior to being certified as a class action on January 12, 2016. The Nevada Supreme Court grants equitable tolling for all putative class members. Golden Coin, Ltd., 124 Nev. at 34, 176 P.3d at 275 ("[C]lass actions brought under NRCP 23 toll the statute of limitations on all potential unnamed plaintiffs' claims[.]"); see also Allen v. KB Home Nevada, Inc., 2013 WL 8609775 (Nev. Dist. Ct. July 25, 2013) (It is determined that pursuant to Jane Roe Dancer I-VII v. Golden Coin, Ltd., 124 Nev. 28, 176 P.3d 271 (2008), that based on the complaint filed on December 2, 2008, which alleges class action status as a remedy, the statute of limitations and/or repose is tolled for all putative class members." (citations omitted)). Accordingly, pursuant to Golden Coin tolling, Plaintiffs and putative class members' wage claims go back to June 21, 2010, three years prior to the original filing of the Sargent action.

required to attend dance classes without compensation at any time from March 31, 2011 to the present;

- C. Room Attendant Class: All Nevada residents who were employed by Defendants at the time of filing the original complaint in this action and who were employed as room attendants and were required to perform pre-shift work activities without compensation at any time from March 31, 2011 to the present;
- D. Pre-shift Meeting Class: All Nevada residents who were employed by Defendants at the time of filing the original complaint in this action and who were required to attend pre-shift meetings without compensation, including (but not limited to), cocktail waitresses, bartenders, dealers, security guards, technicians, construction workers, and retail attendants, at any time from March 31, 2011 to the present.
- E. Uniform Class: All Nevada residents who were employed by Defendants at the time of filing the original complaint in this action and who were employed as cocktail waitresses and/or baristas and were required to change into and out of their uniforms on property without compensation at any time from March 31, 2011 to the present.
- F. Shift Jamming Class: All Nevada residents who were employed by Defendants at the time of filing the original complaint in this action and who were employed by Defendants as non-exempt hourly paid employees and were not covered by a valid and effective collective bargaining agreement and who worked subjected to Defendants' shift jamming policy.
- 55. Class treatment is appropriate in this case for the following reasons:
- A. The Class is Sufficiently Numerous⁶: Upon information and belief, Defendants employ, and have employed, at least 587 Cash Bank Class Members; at least 48 Dance Class Members; at least 217 Room Attendant Class Members;

⁶ Plaintiffs base the approximate class members on number of employees who hold and/or held the positions encompassed by the subclasses, which were provided as part of the Master Class List in the Sargent case attached as Exhibit 2.

- B. Plaintiffs' Claims are Typical to Those of Fellow Class Members: Each Class Member is and was subject to the same practices, plans, or policies as Plaintiffs—Defendants required Plaintiffs to work "off the clock" and without compensation; Defendants' engaged in improper shift jamming; and Defendants failed to pay wages due and owing at the time of separation of employment.
- C. Common Questions of Law and Fact Exist: Common questions of law and fact exist and predominate as to Plaintiffs and the Class, including, without limitation: Whether the time spent by Plaintiffs and Class Members engaging in the alleged "off-the-clock" work is compensable under Nevada law; whether Defendants' engaged in improper shift jamming; and whether Defendants failed to pay wages due and owing at the time of separation of employment.
- D. Plaintiffs are Adequate Representatives of the Class: Plaintiffs will fairly and adequately represent the interests of the Class because Plaintiffs are members of the Classes, they have issues of law and fact in common with all members of the Class, and they do not have interests that are antagonistic to Class Members.
- E. Predominance/Superiority: Class issues predominate, and a class action is superior to other available means for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy, since individual joinder of all members of the Class is impractical. Class action treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons to prosecute their common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently, and without unnecessary duplication of effort and expense. Furthermore, the expenses and burden of individualized litigation would make it difficult or impossible for individual members of the Class to redress the wrongs done to them, while an important public interest will be served by addressing the matter

Failure to Pay Wages for All Hours Worked in Violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.016 (On Behalf of All Plaintiffs and the Cash Bank, Dance, Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting, and Uniform Classes Against All Defendants)

- 40. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by this reference all the paragraphs above in this Complaint as though fully set forth herein.
- 41. NRS 608.140 provides that an employee has a private right of action for unpaid wages.
- 42. NRS 608.016 states, "An employer shall pay to the employee wages for each hour the employee works." Hours worked means anytime the employer exercises "control or custody" over an employee. See NRS 608.011 (defining an "employer" as "every person having control or custody . . . of any employee."). Pursuant to the Nevada Administrative Code, hours worked includes "all time worked by the employee at the direction of the employer, including time worked by the employee that is outside the scheduled hours of work of the employee." NAC 608.115(1).
- 43. By failing to compensate Plaintiffs and members of the Cash Bank, Dance, Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting and Uniform Classes for the time spent performing the work activities without compensation identified above, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and members of those classes for all hours worked in violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.016.
- 44 Despite demand, Defendants willfully refuse and continue to refuse to pay its employees wages for each hour the employee works.
- 45. Wherefore, Plaintiffs demand for themselves and for all members of the Cash Bank, Dance, Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting and Uniform Classes payment by Defendants at the regular hourly rate of pay for all hours worked during the during

Failure to Pay Minimum Wages in Violation of the Nevada Constitution (On Behalf of All Plaintiffs and the Cash Bank, Dance, Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting, and Uniform Classes Against All Defendants)

- 46. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by this reference all the paragraphs above in this Complaint as though fully set forth herein.
- 47. Article 15 Section 16 of the Nevada Constitution sets forth the requirements the minimum wage requirements in the State of Nevada and further provides that "[t]he provisions of this section may not be waived by agreement between an individual employee and an employer. . . . An employee claiming violation of this section may bring an action against his or her employer in the courts of this State to enforce the provisions of this section and shall be entitled to all remedies available under the law or in equity appropriate to remedy any violation of this section, including but not limited to back pay, damages, reinstatement or injunctive relief. - 48. By failing to compensate Plaintiffs and members of the Cash Bank, Dance, Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting, and Uniform Classes any sort of compensation (zero dollars) for the time spent performing the work activities identified above, Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and members of those classes minimum wages for all hours worked in violation of the Nevada Constitution.

Re: EDDY MARTEL (also known as MARTEL-RODRIGUEZ) vs. HG STAFFING, LLC, MEI-GSR HOLDINGS LLC d/b/a GRAND SIERRA RESORT
Case No. CV16-01264

Dear Ms. Jones,

Per your request, I have reviewed documentation related to the hours worked in the Grand Sierra Resort or "GSR" matter.

Partial data provided includes: class lists which contained employment dates for each group for the time period March 30, 2011 through April 21, 2014; partial Time Clock Plus and Kronos time records, partial cage dispatch records, and partial related pay rates. The analysis requested included the following three components:

- Calculate unpaid hours tied to required off-the-clock work
- Calculate unpaid premium hours related to required off-the-clock work
- Waiting Time Penalties for terminated employees

Within this report, calculations for both the employment weeks and average shifts worked per week will be provided for specific class members. The Class Member data will be used to extrapolate damages to the full group provided in the class lists.

Per Plaintiff's allegation, additional pay is required for time spent on work activities that were not compensated. The following six groups were impacted by working off-the-clock hours.

- Cash Bank Employees 15 minutes per shift
- Dance Class 2 hours per week
- Pre-Shift Housekeeping 20 minutes
- Pre-Shift Meetings 10 minutes per shift
- Uniform Donning 15 minutes per shift
- Shift Jamming

Damages for the class will be calculated for two periods.

- March 30, 2011 April 21, 2014 the end date is based on the final employee termination available in the class list data.
- March 30, 2011 January 31, 2019 the end date is the end of the current month. Amounts are based on the data observed in the class lists provided.

Calculation of Cash Bank Employee Damages

Cash Bank employees worked 15 minutes per shift before their clock in punch. Based on a review of KRONOS data, E. Martel-Rodriguez worked an average of 3.6 shifts per week over his employment period which spanned 124.3 weeks. Damages and penalties were calculated for Mr. Martel-Rodriguez and for the full class and are provided in Exhibit 1. Below are the total amounts for both Mr. Martel-Rodriguez and the full class.

- E. Martel Rodriguez $5,160.83
- Full Class for the period March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019 $4,195,216.78

Calculation of Dance Class Damages

Employees in this group were required to work off-the-clock activities each week. These activities amounted to 2 hours per week. Based on the class provided, W. Vaughn's employment period spanned 46 weeks. Damages and penalties were calculated for Ms. Vaughan and for the full class, they are provided in Exhibit 2. Below are the total amounts for both Ms. Vaughan and the full class.

- W. Vaughan $3,810.58
- Full Class for the period March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019 $282,126.90

Calculation of Pre-Shift Activity-Housekeeping Damages

Housekeeping employees worked 20 minutes per shift before their clock in punch. Based on a review of estimates provided, J. Jackson-Williams worked and average of 5.0 shifts per week over her employment period which spanned 90.3 weeks. Damages and penalties were calculated for J. Jackson-Williams and for the full class and are provided in Exhibit 3

Below are the total amounts for both J. Jackson-Williams and the full class. The full class is comprised of both full and part time employees. The full-time employees are assumed to work 5 shifts a week whereas the part time employees work between 1 and 4 shift a week.

- J. Jackson-Williams $6,386.25
- Full Time Employees for the period March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019 $1,949,380.54
- Part Time Employees for the period March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019 ranges from $960,347.03 to $1,037,708.10 based on the weekly shift count

Calculation of Pre-Shift Meeting Damages

Employees attended 10 minutes meetings, prior to their clock in, for each shift. Based on a review of KRONOS data, M. Capilla and E. Martel-Rodriguez worked and average of 3.7 shifts per week over their employment periods which spanned 128.9 weeks for Ms. Capilla and 124.3 weeks for Mr. Martel-Rodriguez. Damages and penalties were calculated for Ms. Capilla and Mr. Martel-Rodriguez and for the full class and are provided in Exhibit 4. Below are the total amounts for Ms. Capilla, Mr. Martel-Rodriguez and the full class.

- M. Capilla $4, 073.69
- E. Martel Rodriguez $4,691.99
- Full Class for the period March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019 $4,083,787.88

Calculation of Uniform Donning Damages

Employees in this group were required to don uniforms prior to their shift clock in. The donning activity is estimated to be 15 minutes per shift. Uniform donning employees worked 15 minutes per shift before their clock in punch. Based on a review KRONOS data, W. Vaughn worked and average of 2.1 shifts per week over her employment period which spanned 45.3 weeks. Damages and penalties were calculated for Ms. Vaughan and for the full class and are provided in Exhibit 5. Below are the total amounts for both Ms. Vaughan and the full class.

- W. Vaughan $2,938.61
- Full Class for the period March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019 $1,197,561.78

Calculation of Shift Jamming Damages

Kronos records were reviewed for E. Martel-Rodriguez and W. Vaughan with a focus on shift jamming. Shift Jamming, that resulted in a need for overtime payments, occurred in 6% of the shifts for Mr. Martel-Rodriguez and in 8% of the shifts for W. Vaughan. The calculation of amounts owed for these shifts are provided in Exhibit 6. No calculation was made for the class as information was not provided to determine the impact on the larger group. When additional time records are provided, they can be analyzed to determine the class size and the extent of damages owed for shift jamming. The below amounts for Ms. Vaughan and Mr. Martel-Rodriguez include Waiting Time penalties.

- E. Martel-Rodriguez $3,797.59
- W. Vaughan $2,681.67

Conclusion

It is my understanding that Plaintiff allege that employees were not paid for all hours worked. The specifics of these unpaid hours vary depending on the class assignment. This report captures the monies owed to employees based on their work assignment.

To a reasonable degree of professional certainty, the contents of this report represent my opinion. I alone conducted the analysis contained in this report. I reserve the right to alter my opinion should additional information become available.

Respectfully submitted,

House Keeping Calculations - PART TIME Employees

The calculation methodology is consistent with the "Full Time" employees with the exception of shifts. The Part-Time employee numbers were calculated based on four scenarios with the single variable being the number of shifts worked. Below are the numbers for a weekly shift count between 1 and 4.

The first period for calculation is March 30, 2011 through April 21, 2014

	1 Shift	2 Shifts	3 Shifts	4 Shifts
Employee Ct.	94	94	94	94
Work Week Ct	2,759.70	2,759.70	2,759.70	2,759.70
Weekly Shift Ct	1	2	3	4
Total Shift Ct	2,759.70	5,519.40	8,279.10	11,038.80
Minutes Per Shift	20	20	20	20
Total Minutes	55,194.00	110,388.00	165,582.00	220,776.00
Total Hours	919.9	1839.8	2759.7	3679.6
Overtime Rate	$12.375	$12.375	$12.375	$12.375
Sub-Total Damages	$11,383.76	$22,767.53	$34,151.29	$45,535.05
Waiting Time	$40,095.00	$40,095.00	$40,095.00	$40,095.00
Total	$51,478.76	$62,862.53	$74,246.29	$85,630.05

⁻ The termination count through April 21, 2014 is 80. The penalty amount is 60 days multiplied by 8 hours, multiplied by $8.25. This calculation (60*8*$8.25) equals $3,960 multiplied by the termination count of 80, yields a total amount of $316,800.00

The second period for calculation is March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019.

	1 Shift	2 Shifts	3 Shifts	4 Shifts
Employee Ct.	94	94	94	94
Work Week Ct	6,251.40	6,251.40	6,251.40	6,251.40

Total	$140,627.03	$166,414.05	$192,201.08	$217,988.10

⁻ The termination count through April 21, 2014 is 80 and when extrapolated out to January 31, 2019 is estimated to 207. The amount of $3,960 multiplied by 207 terminations totals $819,720.00

- Kronos records available for shift jamming analysis were 363. A shift jam was observed in 37 or 10% of the shift records.
- A review of the shifts that were jammed, showed that 21 or 6% contained an overtime impact. When an overtime impact existed the average overtime hour amount was 1.52.
- The total shift jam hours with overtime premium due is 21 shifts multiplied by 1.52 hours for a total of 31.9 hours
- Only the overtime premium is due for the shift jam hours. The rate was calculated by taking the S.T. Rate multiplied by 0.5 or $8.25 * 0.5, which yields $4.13.

Dear 😇

An audit of our payroll system revealed that overtime was not being paid accurately for certain team members. Nevada law states that if an individual works over 8 hours in a 24 hour period, and does not earn at least 1-1/2 times the minimum wage, overtime must be paid. For example, if an individual worked 8 AM – 4 PM on Monday, and came in at 5 AM on Tuesday – the hours between 5 AM and 8 AM on Tuesday would be considered overtime if the person's base rate is less than 1.5 times minimum wage.

The period of time that the calculation was performed inaccurately was November 4, 2011 to July 11, 2014. Enclosed please find a check which pays you for the overtime you are owed.

If you have any questions, please contact the Human Resources Department.

The state law wage claims, alleged in the First Amended Class Action Complaint ("Complaint") of Plaintiffs Eddy Martel ("Martel"), Mary Anne Capilla ("Capilla"), Janice Jackson-Williams (Williams) and Whitney Vaughan ("Vaughan") (collectively, "Plaintiffs"), have no more merit than Plaintiffs' original complaint that was dismissed by this Court. Plaintiffs are still seeking to pursue a class action that was rejected by the federal district court in Sargent v. HG Staffing, LLC, Case No. 3:13-cv-453-LRH-WGC, 171 F. Supp. 3d 1063 (D. Nev. 2016), attached as Exhibit 1, and also by the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals in Sargent v. HG Staffing, LLC, Case No. 16-80044 (denying the petition for permission to appeal the district court's March 22, 2016 order denying class action certification), attached as Exhibit 2. Counsel for Plaintiffs in this case is also counsel for plaintiffs in the Sargent Action. Despite these rejections, counsel for Plaintiffs has simply repackaged these same bogus class-action claims with new named plaintiffs, three (3) of whom were opt-in plaintiffs and therefore parties to the Sargent Action, with the hopes that this Court will swallow what the federal court has rejected. Upon this Court's rejection of Plaintiffs' inappropriate attempt to sidestep the federal court's proper decision to deny class certification, counsel for Plaintiff will likely chase down new plaintiffs so as to pursue these class claims indefinitely. Such blatant forum shopping should not be tolerated, and is nothing more than deliberate harassment.

This Court is empowered to stop counsel for Plaintiffs' scheme of unrelenting litigation under the principles of issue and claim preclusion. Plaintiffs Martel, Capilla, and Vaughan (collectively the "Sargent Parties"), were parties to the Sargent Action. See Exhibit 3, Sargent Action, Docket with Party List. As parties, the Sargent Parties are bound by Judge Hicks' well-reasoned decision denying class certification of identical claims seeking to represent the same GSR employees. This Court may also dismiss Plaintiffs' class action claims based on principles of comity and the first-to-file rule. Counsel for Plaintiffs is improperly seeking to relitigate the denial of class certification, which decision was reached at the expense of hundreds of thousands of dollars, and the result of extensive motion practice involving hundreds of pages of briefing. See Exhibit 3, Sargent Action, Docket. Relitigating the denial of class certification would misuse this Court's and GSR's resources and would result in hundreds of thousands of dollars of additional and unnecessary expense.

Not only should Plaintiffs' class claim be dismissed, Plaintiffs claims are barred, all or in part, by the two-year statute of limitations. Plaintiffs filed their complaint on June 14, 2016. Accordingly, all claims accruing before June 14, 2014 are bared, including all of Vaughan's and Capilla's claims, all but one (1) month of Martel's claims, and all but six (6) months of Williams' claims. Contrary to Plaintiffs' suggestions, the statute of limitation on their claims was not tolled while the Sargent Parties' claims were pending in federal court. While such tolling has been recognized when a previous class action was pending in the same jurisdiction, Courts have repeatedly rejected cross-jurisdictional tolling to avoid the very forum shopping that Plaintiffs' counsel are actively pursuing. Even if Plaintiffs had pursued their claims in federal court, instead of improperly shopping for an alternate forum, tolling would apply only to their individual claims and not to their class claims, so as to avoid the endless rounds of class action litigation by successive named plaintiffs envisioned by Plaintiffs' counsel.

Moreover, other than her claim for minimum wage under the Nevada Constitution, Plaintiffs' wage claims are non-justiciable because Plaintiffs failed to exhaust the mandatory statutory administrative remedies provided in NRS Chapter 607, which begin with filing a claim with the Nevada Labor Commissioner. These claims are also barred because Plaintiffs failed to make a good faith attempt to collect her wages without litigation, a prerequisite required by the Labor Commissioner before "an employee may file a claim for wages unpaid when due."

Plaintiffs have also failed to plead facts necessary to establish their statutory wage claims. Again, Plaintiffs fail to identify even one week in which Plaintiffs were not paid the proper wage when working for GSR, much less allege the number of hours worked and the amount that Plaintiffs were underpaid, all of which are required facts necessary to state a wage claim. Based on this glaring deficiency, Plaintiffs' entire Complaint should be dismissed.

Plaintiff Williams' claims are also bared because, while employed by GSR, she was covered by a collective bargaining agreement and failed to follow the grievance procedures set forth in that agreement. Federal labor law provides that the failure to follow such grievance Williams' statutory procedures when pursing state law wage claims mandates dismissal. overtime claims are also without merit because, under Nevada law, those statutory overtime provisions do not apply when the collective bargaining agreement provides otherwise for overtime.

Finally, Plaintiffs are not entitled to seek class certification on behalf of GSR employees that are represented by a union. Each union employee already has an exclusive representative with respect to wages. Federal law prohibits former employees from using a class action to usurp the Union's role as the exclusive representative for an employee's bargaining unit. Accordingly, as Plaintiffs claims have no merit and are untimely, this Court should grant GSR's motion and dismiss Plaintiffs' Complaint in its entirety.

II. ARGUMENT

In Johnson v. Travelers Ins. Co., 89 Nev. 467, 472, 515 P.2d 68, 71 (1973) (emphasis added), the Nevada Supreme Court held that, to avoid dismissal, the "complaint must... allege facts sufficient to establish all necessary elements of the claim for relief." In performing this analysis, the court "must look at the substance of the claims, not just the labels used in the . . . complaint." Nevada Power Co. v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court of Nevada ex rel. Cty. of Clark, 120 Nev. 948, 960, 102 P.3d 578, 586 (2004). A "complaint that offers labels and conclusions, a formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action, or naked assertions devoid of further factual enhancement will not suffice." Landers v. Quality Commc'ns, Inc., 771 F.3d 638, 641 (9th Cir. 2014), as amended (Jan. 26, 2015), cert. denied, 135 S. Ct. 1845 (2015). Where the complaint fails to state facts which are "legally sufficient to constitute the elements of the claim asserted," the complaint should be dismissed for "failure to state a claim upon which relief can

All or Part of Plaintiffs' Individual Claims Are Barred by the Statute of Limitations. Α.

All of Plaintiffs' claims are subject to a two-year statute of limitation and therefore any claim arising before June 14, 2014, two (2) years before Plaintiffs filed their complaint, is barred. In Perry v. Terrible Herbst, Inc., 132 Nev. Adv. Op. 75, 383 P.3d 257, 260-62 (2016), the Nevada Supreme Court held that claims made under the Minimum Wage Amendment ("MWA"), added to the Nevada Constitution, are governed by the two-year statute of limitation found in NRS 608.260 for statutory minimum wage claims. The Court reasoned that "when a statute lacks an express limitations period, courts look to analogous causes of action for which an express limitations period is available either by statute or by case law," and found NRS 608.260 to be the "most closely analogous" limitation period. Id. The Court rejected imposing the "catch-all four-year limitations period in NRS 11.220" because "NRS 608.115 requires employers to maintain an employee's record of wages for two years" and "[i]f the four-year limitations period in NRS 11.220 applied to MWA claims, an employee could bring a claim after the employer is no longer legally obligated to keep the record of wages for the employee." Id. at 262. The court concluded that "[a]nalogizing [plaintiff's] MWA claim to one under NRS 608.260 and applying NRS 608.260's two-year limitations period avoids conflict between the MWA and existing law. Id. Accordingly, Plaintiffs' MWA claims are subject to a two-year statute of limitations.

For the same reasons expressed in Perry, Plaintiffs' other wage claims brought under NRS Chapter 608 are likewise subject to a two-year statute of limitations. Other than the twoyear limitation period found in NRS 608.260, NRS Chapter 608 lacks an express limitation period. Both NRS 608.260 and NRS 11.290(1)(a), governing wage claims against Nevada Contractors, provide for a two-year limitation period for wage claims. The Nevada Department of Labor Commissioner has also recognized a two-year limitation period is the most analogous for claims under NRS Chapter 608. See NAC 607.105 ("the Commissioner will not accept any claim or complaint based on an act or omission that occurred more than 24 months before the date on which the claim or complaint is filed"); Baldonado v. Wynn Las Vegas, LLC, 124 Nev. 951, 963, 194 P.3d 96, 104 (2008) (recognizing Labor Commissioner's "special expertise" as to NRS Chapter 608); Nevada Comm'n on Ethics v. JMA/Lucchesi, 110 Nev. 1, 5–6, 866 P.2d 297, 300 (1994) (holding a district court is "obligated to give deference to the construction afforded" by the "agency charged with the duty of administering an act" because "the agency is impliedly clothed with power to construe it"); State ex rel. Nevada Tax Comm'n v. Saveway Super Serv. Stations, Inc., 99 Nev. 626, 630, 668 P.2d 291, 294 (1983) (holding "[g]reat deference will be afforded to an administrative body's interpretation when it is within the statutory language; moreover, the Legislature's acquiescence in an agency's reasonable interpretation indicates that the interpretation is consistent with legislative intent"). The two year limitation period is the most analogous because it not only avoids a conflict with the employers' two-year obligation to maintain records under NRS 608.115, but also avoids a conflict with the Labor Commissioner's determination that a two-year period is the appropriate limitation period for claims under NRS Chapter 608. Accordingly, all of Plaintiffs' claims are subject to a two-year statute of limitation.

As Plaintiffs' claims are subject to a two-year limitation period, claims by Whitney Vaughan and Mary Ann Capilla are completely barred. Plaintiffs' original complaint was filed on June 14, 2016. Accordingly, any claim arising before June 14, 2014 is barred. Because Plaintiffs' complaint acknowledges that Vaughan and Capilla last worked for GSR in 2013 (see Complaint at 3, ¶¶ 5 and 7), they could not possibly assert claims after 2014. Vaughan's and Capilla's claims should therefore be entirely dismissed with prejudice.

Despite the two-year statute of limitation, Plaintiffs are asserting both individual and class claims from March 2011. See Complaint at 2:23 - 3:17, ¶¶ 4-7; 19:7 - 20:22, ¶ 54. Due to the two-year statute of limitation, however, Plaintiffs may only assert claims after June 14, 2014. This Court should therefore dismiss all of Plaintiffs' claims that accrued prior to June 14, 2014.

¹ NAC 607.105 was passed in 2003. The Legislature, however, has done nothing in the past fifteen (15) years to lengthen this period.

Plaintiffs have apparently asserted claims prior to June 14, 2014, based on the mistaken notion that, pursuant to Jane Roe Dancer I-VII v. Golden Coin, Ltd., 124 Nev. 28, 176 P.3d 271 (2008), their state law claims were tolled during the pendency of the Sargent action filed in June 2013. See Complaint at 19 n.4. Golden Coin, however, only adopted limited tolling with respect to a single class-action, filed in a single state court, and only because the named plaintiff was not an appropriate class representative which required a putative class member to substitute for the named plaintiff. 124 Nev. at 31-34, 176 P.3d at 273-75. In Archon Corp. v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court in & for Cty. of Clark, 407 P.3d 702 (Nev. 2017), the Nevada Supreme Court declined to adopt cross-jurisdiction during the pendency of a class action in federal court.

In Portwood v. Ford Motor Co., 701 N.E.2d 1102, 1105 (Ill. 1998), the Illinois Supreme Court held that a state "statute of limitations is not tolled during the pendency of a class action in federal court." The court reasoned that such cross-jurisdictional tolling of a "state statute of limitations" would "increase the burden on that state's court system" because it would expose the state court system to the evils of "forum shopping." Id. at 1104. The court rejected crossjurisdictional tolling because Plaintiffs, dissatisfied with class action decisions in federal court or other jurisdictions, would file repeated "incarnations" of the same action until Plaintiffs found a favorable forum, thus prolonging the suit almost indefinitely. Id. at 1104-05. The court further found that because "state courts have no control over the work of the federal judiciary, ... [s]tate courts should not be required to entertain stale claims simply because the controlling statute of limitations expired while a federal court considered whether to certify a class action." Id. at 1104.

The court in Portwood rejected cross-jurisdictional tolling even though the court had previously "adopted the [tolling] for class actions filed in Illinois state court." Id. at 1103-05. The court found that while "[t]olling the statute of limitations for purported class members who file individual suits within the same court system after class status is denied . . . serves to reduce the total number of filings within that system," cross-jurisdictional tolling would only multiply proceedings and encourage forum shopping. Id. at 1104.

The majority of the states that have considered the issue have likewise rejected crossjurisdictional tolling. See Ravitch v. Pricewaterhouse, 793 A.2d 939, 944 (Penn. Super 2002) (rejecting cross-jurisdictional tolling based on the persuasive reasoning in the Illinois Supreme Court's decision in Portwood); Maestas v. Sofamor Danek Grp., Inc., 33 S.W.3d 805, 808–09 (Tenn. 2000) (rejecting "the doctrine of cross-jurisdictional tolling in Tennessee" because it would "sanction . . . forum shopping" and would improperly "grant to federal courts the power to decide when Tennessee's statute of limitations begins to run," which "outcome is contrary to our legislature's power to adopt statutes of limitations and the exceptions to those statutes" and therefore would "offend the doctrines of federalism and dual sovereignty"); Casey v. Merck & Co., 722 S.E.2d 842, 845 (Va. 2012)(rejecting the "tolling of a statute of limitations based upon the pendency of a putative class action in another jurisdiction"); Bell v. Showa Denko K.K., 899 S.W.2d 749, 757–58 (Tex. App. 1995), writ denied (Oct. 5, 1995) (rejecting argument that "that American Pipe operates to toll our state statute of limitations" because under Erie Railroad Co. v. Tompkins, 304 U.S. 64, 58 S.Ct. 817, 82 L.Ed. 1188 (1938) and its progeny, where a claim is derived from state law, as is appellant's suit, state law governs the tolling of the statute of limitations"); Clemens v. DaimlerChrysler Corp., 534 F.3d 1017, 1025 (9th Cir. 2008) (holding the "weight of authority and California's interest in managing its own judicial system counsel us not to import the doctrine of cross-jurisdictional tolling into California law").

This case is a prime example of why this Court should also reject cross-jurisdictional tolling. The federal court already refused to certify an almost identical class action lawsuit. Fearing an identical result, Plaintiffs now have improperly split their federal wage claims from their state law wage claims in order to increase their odds of certifying a class action.² As with the majority of other states, this Court should prohibit such blatant forum shopping by rejecting the notion of cross-jurisdictional tolling of the statute of limitations. Moreover, pursuant to NRS 11.500, the Nevada Legislature has determined that a statute of limitations should only be tolled based on an action filed in another jurisdiction when "the court lacked jurisdiction over the subject matter of the action," (which it did not here), and then limited tolling to "[n]inety days after the action is dismissed." This Court should not adopt a policy which would permit federal courts to decide when Nevada's statute of limitations has run, as those considerations are best left to the legislature. As the Nevada Legislature has chosen not to adopt cross-jurisdictional tolling, and the Nevada Supreme Court has not adopted cross-jurisdictional tolling, Plaintiffs' claims have not been tolled during the pendency of the federal action in Sargent and this Court should dismiss all claims which accrued before June 14, 2014, including all claims asserted by Plaintiffs Vaughan and Capilla.

В. Class Claims, Accruing Before June 14, 2014, Are Barred by the Two-Year Statute of Limitations.

In a unanimous opinion, the United States Supreme Court, in China Agritech, Inc. v. Resh, 138 S. Ct. 1800, 1804 (2018), held that tolling does not apply to class action claims because the tolling in "does not permit the maintenance of a follow-on class action past expiration of the statute of limitation." The Court reasoned that the "efficiency and economy of litigation' that support tolling of individual claims . . . do not support maintenance of untimely successive class actions" because "any additional class filings should be made early on, soon after the commencement of the first action seeking class certification." China Agritech, 138 S.Ct. at 1806. The Court found that "Rule 23 evinces a preference for preclusion of untimely successive class actions by instructing that class certification should be resolved early on," and to allow tolling of class action claims "would allow the statute of limitations to be extended time and again; as each class is denied certification, a new named plaintiff could file a class complaint that resuscitates the litigation." Id. at 1807-08.

Pursuant to the Court's reasoning, which the Nevada Supreme Court follows when interpreting class action requirements of Nev. R. Civ. P. 23, Plaintiffs' class claims are therefore not tolled. See Beazer Homes Holding Corp. v. Dist. Ct., 128 Nev. 723, 734 n.4, 291 P.3d 128, 136 n.4 (2012); McClendon v. Collins, 132 Nev. Adv. Op. 28, 372 P.3d 492, 494 (2016) ("federal cases interpreting the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure are strong persuasive authority, because the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure are based in large part upon their federal counterparts").

Both the Nevada and Federal Rule 23 evince a preference for preclusion of untimely successive class actions. Compare Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(1)(a) ("At an early practicable time after a person sues or is sued as a class representative, the court must determine by order whether to certify the action as a class action") with Nev. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(1) ("As soon as practicable after the commencement of an action brought as a class action, the court shall determine by order whether it is to be so maintained"). To permit tolling of class action claims, however would subvert this preference and provide for never-ending successive class actions because the statute of limitation would never expire. New named plaintiff could always file a class complaint that would resurrect the litigation.

Contrary to Plaintiffs' claim, the statute of limitations has not been tolled so that they may repeatedly assert one class action after another. The United States District Court in Sargent already declined to certify the identical claims raised in this action as a class action. To allow tolling of class action claims would permit Plaintiffs to repeatedly file new class action claims, based on the same set of facts, as long as another of GSR's more than 8000 employees is persuaded by Plaintiffs' attorney to file, thus creating an endless stream of class actions. This Court, just like the unanimous United States Supreme Court, should refuse to permit Plaintiffs to prolong class action litigation further. Accordingly, class action claims are not tolled and therefore this Court should dismiss all of Plaintiffs' class action claims that accrued prior to June 14, 2014, two (2) years before Plaintiffs filed their original complaint.

Plaintiffs' First, Third and Fourth Claims for Relief Should Be Dismissed for the Failure to Exhaust Administrative Remedies with the Labor Commissioner as Required by NRS Chapter 607.

With the exception of Plaintiffs' minimum wage claim under the Nevada Constitution, Plaintiffs were required to first file and pursue their state law wage claims with the Nevada Labor Commissioner before seeking relief in this Court. In Allstate Ins. Co. v. Thorpe, 123 Nev. 565, 571–72, 170 P.3d 989, 993–94 (2007, the Nevada Supreme Court held that "a person generally must exhaust all available administrative remedies before initiating a lawsuit, and failure to do so renders the controversy nonjusticiable." The Court reasoned that "the exhaustion doctrine gives administrative agencies an opportunity to correct mistakes and conserves judicial resources, so its purpose is valuable; requiring exhaustion of administrative remedies often resolves disputes without the need for judicial involvement." Id. at 571–72, 170 P.3d at 993–94. In State Department of Taxation v. Masco Builder, 129 Nev. Adv. Op. 83, 312 P.3d 475, 478 (2013), the Nevada Supreme Court held "the exhaustion doctrine applies" when the agency "statutorily maintains original jurisdiction" over the claims asserted. See also Nevada Power Co. v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court of Nevada ex rel. Cty. of Clark, 120 Nev. 948, 959, 102 P.3d 578, 586 (2004) (holding the exhaustion doctrine applies "when an administrative agency has original jurisdiction").

Likewise, in Campbell v. Regents of Univ. of California, 106 P.3d 976, 982 (Cal. 2005), the California Supreme Court held that "the rule of exhaustion of administrative remedies" applies "where an administrative remedy is provided by statute, [and therefore] relief must be sought from the administrative body and this remedy exhausted before the courts will act." The Court continued that the "rule is not a matter of judicial discretion, but is a fundamental rule of procedure binding upon all courts." Id. The court reasoned that exhaustion is required because "(1) it serves the salutary function of mitigating damages; (2) it recognizes the quasi-judicial tribunal's expertise; and (3) it promotes judicial economy by unearthing the relevant evidence and by providing a record should there be a review of the case." Id. at 983. The Court concluded when a statute provides an administrative remedy, "the Legislature's silence [as to exhaustion] makes the common law exhaustion rule applicable here and requires employees to exhaust their internal administrative remedies prior to filing a lawsuit." Id. at 987.

The Labor Commissioner clearly has original jurisdiction to resolve Plaintiffs' claims asserted under NRS 608.016, 608.018, 608.020, 608.040, 608.050 and 608.140. NRS 608.180 expressly provides that the "Labor Commissioner or his representative shall cause the provisions of NRS 608.005 to 608.195, inclusive, to be enforced." In Baldonado v. Wynn Las Vegas, LLC, 124 Nev. 951, 961, 194 P.3d 96, 102 (2008), the Nevada Supreme Court held that the "Legislature has entrusted the labor laws' enforcement to the Labor Commissioner, unless otherwise specified." The Court continued that "the Labor Commissioner is charged with knowing and enforcing the labor laws" and "these responsibilities acknowledge a special expertise as to those law." Id. at 963, 194 P.3d at 104. The Court found that "[i]mplicit in the Labor Commissioner's obligation to know and enforce the labor laws is the duty to hear and resolve labor law complaints" and therefore "the Labor Commissioner's duty to hear and resolve enforcement complaints is not discretionary," but provides "access to an adequate administrative enforcement mechanism," for claims under NRS 608.005 to 608.195. Id. at 963–64, 194 P.3d at 104. The Court reasoned by using the Labor Commissioner's enforcement mechanism, "the Labor Commissioner's expertise is optimized, and the parties then have an opportunity to petition the district court for judicial review and, ultimately, appeal to this court." Id. at 964, 194 P.3d at 104.

NRS Chapter 607's enforcement mechanism is essential to resolving wage claims under NRS Chapter 608. The Labor Commissioner is charged with the duty to "enforce all labor laws of the State of Nevada" and "[m]ay adopt regulations to carry out" that mandate. See NRS 607.160. The Labor Commissioner has a duty to hear and resolve administrative complaints with respect to the enforcement of wage claims under NRS Chapter 608. See NRS 607.160(6), 607.205, 607.207; NAC 607.200. In conducting those hearings, the Labor Commissioner can issue subpoenas and take testimony. See NRS 607.210. The Labor Commissioner has adopted comprehensive regulations with respect to the procedures for bringing, hearing, and resolving such wage claims. See NAC 607.075 – 607.525. Pursuant to NRS 607.215, after the Labor

Commissioner "issue[s] a written decision, setting forth findings of fact and conclusions of law developed at the hearing," and "[u]pon a petition for judicial review, the court may order trial de novo." This "trial de novo" represents the implied "private cause of action for unpaid wages" recognized by the Nevada Supreme Court in Neville v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court in & for Cty. of Clark, 406 P.3d 499, 504 (Nev. 2017), but may only be pursued after the employee exhausts the required administrative remedies.³

Accordingly, exhaustion is required because: (1) the Labor Commissioner has statutorily mandated original jurisdiction to rule on Plaintiffs' wage claims which may have been asserted under NRS Chapter 608.005 to 608.195; (2) NRS Chapter 607 has proscribed a specific administrative scheme to remedy those claims, which has been implemented through comprehensive regulations adopted by the Labor Commissioner; (3) the Labor Commissioner's expertise would undoubtedly aid in resolving such claims; (4) NRS 607.215 mandates exhaustion before the district court may "order a trial de novo;" and (5) exhaustion would conserves judicial resources by resolving disputes without the need for judicial involvement. Plaintiffs, however, do not allege that they have pursued their administrative remedies with the Labor Commissioner. Plaintiffs' failure to exhaust renders the controversy nonjusticiable, and therefore this Court should dismiss Plaintiffs' First, Third and Fourth Claims for relief, with prejudice.

D. Plaintiffs' First, Third and Fourth Claims for Relief Should Also Be Dismissed for Failing to Make Good Faith Attempt to Collect Their Wages Before Filing Their Claim for Wages with this Court.

Pursuant to NRS 607.160, the Labor Commissioner is charged with the duty to "enforce all labor laws of the State of Nevada" and "[m]ay adopt regulations to carry out" that mandate.

NAC 608.155(1) requires: "Before an employee may file a claim for wages unpaid when due, the employee shall make a good faith attempt to collect any wages due the employee from an employer at the normal place and in the normal method that payment is made to employees of the employer." See Rite of Passage, ATCS/Silver State Acad. v. State, Dep't of Bus. & Indus., Office of Labor Com'r, Case No. 66388, 2015 WL 9484735, at *1 (Nev. Dec. 23, 2015) (holding that regulations adopted by the Nevada Labor Commissioner "implement[]" provisions of NRS Chapter 608). Plaintiffs have not and cannot allege facts showing that they have made any effort to collect wages due before filing their wage claims, much less a good faith effort. Plaintiffs in fact have not even identified a single week when they were underpaid. Accordingly, this Court should dismiss Plaintiffs' First, Third and Fourth Claims for relief, with prejudice, for failing to meet the mandatory prerequisite found in NAC 608.155(1).

Plaintiffs Lack Standing to Represent Union Employees, Who Are Exclusively Represented by their Respective Unions.

Pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 159(a) (emphasis added), "[r]epresentatives designated or selected for the purposes of collective bargaining by the majority of the employees in a unit appropriate for such purposes, shall be the exclusive representatives of all the employees in such unit for the purposes of collective bargaining in respect to rates of pay, wages, hours of employment, or other conditions of employment." While employees may pursue grievances over wages individually or in a group, they may only do so if the "bargaining representative has been given opportunity to be present at such adjustment." Id. For that reason, in Vaca v. Sipes, 386 U.S. 171, 186, (1967), the United States Supreme Court held that individual workers may step into the union's shoes and represent themselves or other employees only when the union, as the exclusive representative, has "breached its duty of fair representation in its handling of the employee's grievance."

Plaintiffs acknowledge that certain GSR employees are represented by a Union and covered by a collective bargaining agreement. See Complaint at 20:20-21. While Plaintiffs exclude such employees from their alleged shift-jamming sub-class, they improperly attempt to represent Union members with respect to their other sub-classes. Plaintiffs, however, may not do so because the employees' respective Unions are the "exclusive" representative for those employees.

In Baker v. IBP, Inc., 357 F.3d 685, 690 (7th Cir. 2004), the Seventh Circuit held that where a "suit is at its core about the adequacy of the wages [the employer] pays," individual employees may not represent union workers in a class action when the Union has not breached its duty of fair representation. The court reasoned that union workers "have a representative one that under the NLRA is supposed to be 'exclusive' with respect to wages" and therefore "Plaintiffs' request to proceed on behalf of a class of all workers shows that they seek to usurp the union's role." Id. at 686, 690.

Plaintiffs, likewise, are attempting to usurp the respective unions' roles as the exclusive representatives for their bargaining units by attempting to pursue a class action on behalf of those employees. Plaintiffs therefore lack standing to represent such union employees and their class action claims seeking to do so should be dismissed.4

F. Plaintiffs Again Have Failed to State a Claim for Wages, Including Minimum Wages.

This Court has already held that a complaint fails to state a claim for unpaid wages when "Plaintiffs do not identify any one week in which any one plaintiff was paid less than the required wage by alleging how many hours that plaintiff worked in that week, the plaintiff's rate of pay, how much that plaintiff was paid, and how much that plaintiff believes he or she is owed for a given week." See Order dated 2018-10-09, at 9:19 - 10:13 citing Pruell v. Carita Chirsti, 678 f.3d 10, 14 (1st Cir 2012 (affirming dismissal of amended complaint where the complaint "does not provide examples (let alone estimates as to the amounts) of such unpaid time for either plaintiff or describe the nature of the work performed during those times."). Despite adding eleven (11) pages to their original complaint, Plaintiffs still fail to meet this minimal standard.

First, Plaintiffs do not allege any facts which would show that any plaintiff was paid less than the minimum wage. Instead, all facts supposedly show only that Plaintiffs were underpaid in relation to the number of hours worked.

Second, Plaintiffs do not allege how much they were paid in any week. Plaintiffs have no basis to believe that they were underpaid when they do not know how much they were paid. While Plaintiffs allege when Plaintiffs Martel and Vaughn supposedly began and ended work for ONE day, Plaintiffs do not allege when they clocked in or clocked out for that day which would indicate the amount of hours paid. See Complaint, at 6:6-15, 8:7-13, 14:19-26, 17:4-9, 17:24 – 18-5, ¶ 20, 25, 39, 49, 50. Instead, Plaintiffs merely allege the time they were scheduled for their shift for that day, and then assume that was the same time when they clocked-in and clocked-out. Id. Plaintiffs Jackson-Williams and Capilla however do not make any claim with respect to how much they worked even in a single day. Without alleging how many hours that each plaintiff worked in a week, and comparing that to the amount actually paid based on each plaintiff's actual rate of pay, this Court can only speculate as to whether Plaintiffs were underpaid, which is all that Plaintiffs do.

Moreover, activities such as changing clothes and collecting equipment or supplies are not deemed to be work and therefore are not compensable under NRS Chapter 608. See Integrity Staffing Sols., Inc. v. Busk, 135 S. Ct. 513, 517-19 (2014)(holding that "preliminary and postliminary" activities are non-compensable work, even though the "employer required [the] particular activity" or "the activity is for the benefit of the employer," such as "changing clothes" or "checking in and out and waiting in line to do so," because these activities are not "an intrinsic element of [the employee's principal] activities" or "one with which the employee cannot dispense if he is to perform those activities"); Balestrieri v. Menlo Park Fire Prot. Dist., 800 F.3d 1094, 1001 (9th Cir. 2015) (holding that firefighters that come in early "before the shift, gathering and transporting turnout gear . . . , that activity is 'preliminary'" and not compensable under the FLSA because "it is not 'intrinsic' to the firefighting activity that he is employed to perform"); Terry v. Sapphire Gentlemen's Club, 336 P.3d 951, 955-57 (Nev. 2014) (relying on cases interpreting the FLSA to interpret Nevada wage law because the Legislature has long relied on the federal "wage law to lay a foundation of worker protections that this State could build upon" and because if the FLSA and Nevada wage law "were inharmonious it would increase [employer] operation costs and bring about inefficiency because [employers] would have to keep two sets of books"); Aguilar v. Mgmt. & Training Corp., Case No. CV 16-00050 WJ/GJF, 2017 WL 4804361, at *19 - *21 (D.N.M. Oct. 24, 2017) (holding that "Plaintiffs' FLSA claims with regard to pre-and post-shift activities also apply to Plaintiffs' state law claim" even though the state wage act "contains no analog to the federal Portal-to-Portal Act" because courts look to the FLSA when interpreting state law wage statutes). Since these preliminary or postliminary activities are not work as a matter of law, they cannot support a claim for unpaid wages.

Plaintiffs have again failed to provide any facts showing that any plaintiff was underpaid in a given workweek required to state a claim for unpaid wages because they are merely speculating that they were not paid the proper wage. As Plaintiffs fail to allege facts showing the underpayment of wages, Plaintiffs' Complaint should again be dismissed.

G. Plaintiff Williams' Clams for Wages and Overtime Are Barred for Failing to Exhaust Grievance Procedures of the Collective Bargaining Agreement.

In Kostecki v. Dominick's Finer Foods, Inc. of Illinois, 836 N.E.2d 837, 842 (Ill. App. 2005), the Illinois Court of Appeals explained that "[f]ederal labor policy provides that when resolution of a state law claim depends on an analysis of the terms of the agreement, the claim must either be arbitrated as required by the collective bargaining agreement or dismissed as preempted under section 301 of the Labor Management Relations Act (29 U.S.C. § 185(a) (2000)), which grants federal district courts exclusive jurisdiction over disputes involving collective bargaining agreements." See Also Allis-Chalmers Corp. v. Lueck, 471 U.S. 202, 210-20 (1985) ("state-law rights and obligations that do not exist independently of private [labor] agreements, and that as a result can be waived or altered by agreement of private parties, are preempted by those agreements," pursuant to Section 301 of the Labor Management Relations Act, and the employee must either "make use of the grievance procedure established in the collectivebargaining agreement" or the employee's claim must be "dismissed as pre-empted by federal labor-contract law"); MGM Grand Hotel-Reno, Inc. v. Insley, 102 Nev. 513, 517, 728 P.2d 821, 824 (1986) (same). The Kostecki Court held that claims made under Illinois statutes requiring the payment of wages and/or overtime "arise from the collective bargaining agreement, as the agreement "provides for how overtime pay is to be calculated" and provides "how employees are to be paid" and therefore "a finder of fact would have to interpret the bargaining agreement to determine whether the defendants' violated" Illinois wage laws. 836 N.E.2d at 844-45. The court affirmed dismissal of the employees' state law statutory wage claims "because the bargaining agreement set forth a procedure for arbitrating grievances arising from the agreement" and "plaintiffs were required under federal labor policy to arbitrate their claims before seeking judicial relief." Id. at 844.

Plaintiff Williams is also subject to a collective bargaining agreement which specifies amount, method, and timing of payment of wages and overtime. See Exhibit 4, Montrose Dec., at p. 1, ¶ 2; Exhibit 4A, CBA, at pp. 9, 15. Plaintiff Williams' statutory claims for wages or overtime therefore are not independent of the collective bargaining agreement, but are expressly dependent upon finding a breach of that agreement to maintain those claims. Any claim for breach, however, may only be pursued by the grievance procedures set forth in the collective bargaining agreement. See Exhibit 4, Montrose Dec., at p. 1, ¶ 2; Exhibit 4A, CBA, at p. 26-27. Williams, however, does not allege that she initiated, much less exhausted, the grievance procedures in the collective bargaining agreement and therefore her first, third, and fourth causes of action should be dismissed. See Union Pac. R. Co. v. Harding, 114 Nev. 545, 550, 958 P.2d 87, 90 (1998) (holding complaint was properly dismissed when state law claims were preempted by federal labor law); Barton v. F.3d 1, 8 (1st Cir. 2012) (holding a statutory state-law wage claim was preempted because it relied on the amount of wages provided in the CBA even if those amounts were altered or enlarged by state law); Mowry v. United Parcel Serv., 415 F.3d 1149 (10th Cir. 2005) (holding a state-law wage claim were preempted because the court would have to resolve issues regulated by the CBA such as what work plaintiff performed and when, whether he was paid or underpaid, and the amount of the shortfall to resolve the complaint); Atchley v. Heritage Cable Vision Associates, 101 F.3d 495,500 (7th Cir. 1996) (holding that statutory state-law wage claim was pre-empted because the court "must look to the CBA, which properly governs the amount, method, and timing of payment" of wages); Clee v. MVM, Inc., 91 F. Supp. 3d 54, 62–64 (D. Mass. 2015) (holding employees' statutory wage clams for uncompensated work were preempted by federal labor law because they depended on the interpretation of the collective bargaining agreement as to what constituted compensable work and whether the agreement conflicted with state wage law).

H. Plaintiff Williams IS NOT Entitled to Overtime Pursuant to NRS 608.018 Because the CBA Provide Otherwise for Overtime.

In their Third Cause of Action, Plaintiffs seek overtime pursuant to NRS 608.018(1) and (2). See Complaint at 24:12-25:4, ¶ 52-54. NRS 608.018(3), however, provides that the "provisions of subsections 1 and 2 do not apply to . . . (e) Employees covered by collective bargaining agreements which provide otherwise for overtime. . ." Plaintiff Williams is covered by the CBA, which provides otherwise for overtime. See Exhibit 4, Montrose Dec., at p. 1, ¶ 2; Exhibit 4A, CBA, at p. 15. Article 9.01 of the CBA, entitled "WORK SHIFTS, WORKWEEK, AND OVERTIME," states:

The workweek pay period shall be from Friday through Thursday. For purposes of computing overtime, for an employee scheduled to work five (5) days in one (1) workweek, any hours in excess of eight (8) hours in a day or forty (40) hours in a week shall constitute overtime. For an employee scheduled to work four (4) days in one (1) workweek, any hours worked in excess of ten (10) hours in a day or forty (40) hours in a week shall constitute overtime. . . . Employees absent for personal reasons on one (1) or more of their first five (5) scheduled days of work in their workweek shall work at the Employee's request on a scheduled day off in the same workweek at straight time.

See 5A, CBA, at p. 15, Art. 9.01. The overtime provision of NRS 608.018, therefore, do not apply to Plaintiff Williams and therefore her Third Cause of Action should again be dismissed. See Wuest v. California Healthcare W., Case No. 3:11-CV-00855-LRH, 2012 WL 4194659, at *5 (D. Nev. Sept. 19, 2012) (holding that overtime guarantees of NRS 608.018 are suspended where the CBA "provides otherwise" for overtime payments—that is, when the CBA contains a negotiated provision on the same subject but different from the statutory provision"); Jacobs v. Mandalay Corp., 378 F. App'x 685, 687 (9th Cir. 2010) (ruling that "section 608.018 exempts from coverage those employees 'covered by collective bargaining agreements which provide otherwise for overtime").

Similarly, Plaintiffs cannot pursue class actions on behalf of baristas, bartenders, cocktail servers, servertainers, and slot attendants -- who are included within the alleged Cash Bank Class, Dance Class, Pre-Shift Meeting Class, and Uniform Class (see Complaint, ¶¶ 23, 54) ---, and who are also covered by the collective bargaining agreement with the Culinary Workers Union Local 226, and therefore cannot maintain claims for overtime pursuant to NRS 608.018. Accordingly, Plaintiffs' proposed class action claims on behalf of these putative class members should also be dismissed.

I. Plaintiffs' Wrongful Attempt to Re-Litigate the Federal District Court's Order, Denying Certification of an Identical Class Action, Is Barred by Claim and Issue Preclusion.

In his well-reasoned order dated March 22, 2016, Judge Hicks already determined that Plaintiffs' wage claims cannot proceed as a class action. See Exhibit 1, Sargent, 171 F. Supp. 3d at 1073-77. Plaintiffs are barred from their wrongful attempt to relitigate the federal district court's judgment denying class certification under the principles of claim and issue preclusion.

In Five Star Capital Corp. v. Ruby, 124 Nev. 1048, 1054, 194 P.3d 709, 713 (2008), the Nevada Supreme Court, relying upon the same factors "used by the majority of state and federal courts," held that a plaintiff's claim is barred when: "(1) the parties or their privies are the same, (2) the final judgment is valid, and (3) the subsequent action is based on the same claims or any part of them that were or could have been brought in the first case." The Court further held that a claim is bared by issue preclusion when the following factors are met: "(1) the issue decided in the prior litigation must be identical to the issue presented in the current action; (2) the initial ruling must have been on the merits and have become final; (3) the party against whom the judgment is asserted must have been a party or in privity with a party to the prior litigation; and (4) the issue was actually and necessarily litigated." Id. at 1055, 194 P.3d at 713. Each of these factors is clearly met and therefore Plaintiffs' class action claims are barred by both claim and issue preclusion.

In their Complaint, Plaintiffs seek to certify a class action based on the same wage claims on behalf of GSR employees which are identical to those claims brought in Sargent Action. Compare Complaint at 4:8 – 27:27 with Exhibit 5, Sargent Complaint at 4:14 – 9:21, 12:21 – 17:7. The federal district court entered a final judgment on the merits denying class certification. See Exhibit 1, Sargent, 171 F. Supp. 3d at 1073-77, 1084; see also Brown v. Capanna, 105 Nev. 665, 668–69, 782 P.2d 1299, 1301–02 (1989) (holding plaintiff's claim "was resolved on the merits when the court ordered partial summary judgment" which "bars further consideration of the issue based on the principles of res judicata"); Robi v. Five Platters, Inc., 838 F.2d 318, 327 (9th Cir. 1988) (holding that interlocutory decisions of a district court were "final for purposes of issue preclusion" because a "final judgment" for purposes of issue preclusion "includes any prior adjudication of an issue in another action that is determined to be sufficiently firm to be accorded conclusive effect"); Greenleaf v. Garlock, Inc., 174 F.3d 352, 360 (3d Cir. 1999) (holding "decisions not final for purposes of appealability may nevertheless be sufficiently final to have issue preclusive effect"); Tripati v. Henman, 857 F.2d 1366, 1367 (9th Cir. 1988) (holding that judgment was final for purposes of claim preclusion even though it was subject to a pending Rule 59(e) motion) cited with approval by Brewer v. State, 125 Nev. 1021, 281 P.3d 1157, 2009 WL 1492228 (2009).

In fact, Judge Hicks held that Plaintiffs could not establish that their federal wage claims could be pursued as collective action, which is involves a far less stringent standard. See Exhibit 1, Sargent, 171 F. Supp. 3d at 1079-84; see also O'Brien v. Ed Donnelly Enterprises, Inc., 575 F.3d 567, 584 (6th Cir. 2009) (explain that the "similarly situated' requirement [required to certify a collective action under the FLSA] is less stringent than ... Rule 23(b)(3)'s requirement that common questions predominate for a 23(b)(3) class to be certified") abrogated on other grounds by Campbell-Ewald Co. v. Gomez, 136 S. Ct. 663, 193 L. Ed. 2d 571 (2016). The issue of class certification was therefore actually and necessarily decided by the federal district court.

Additionally, Plaintiffs who opted in to the Sargent Action were parties to that action. The Sargent Parties became parties to the Sargent Action when they specifically opted-in to the Sargent Action. See Exhibit 1, Sargent Action, Docket with Party List. In Prickett v. DeKalb Cty., 349 F.3d 1294, 1297 (11th Cir. 2003), the Eleven Circuit expressly held that "by referring to them as 'party plaintiffs," in 29 U.S.C. § 216(b), "Congress indicated that opt-in plaintiffs should have the same status in relation to the claims of the lawsuit as do the named plaintiffs." The court reasoned that "plaintiffs do not opt-in or consent to join an action as to specific claims, but as to the action as a whole" because congress did "not indicate that opt-in plaintiffs have a lesser status than named plaintiffs insofar as additional claims are concerned." Id.; see also Fengler v. Crouse Health Sys., Inc., 634 F. Supp. 2d 257, 262 (N.D.N.Y. 2009) (holding "once a potential [FLSA] plaintiff opts in, that person is a party to the action, not just to a claim"). McElmurry v. U.S. Bank Nat. Ass'n, 495 F.3d 1136, 1139 (9th Cir. 2007) (holding "plaintiffs who expressly join the collective action are bound by its results"). While Williams was not a party to the Sargent action, she is in privity those parties as she has joined the Sargent Parties in this action and is attempting to bring suit on behalf of all those parties that opted-in to the Sargent action. See Nationwide Mut. Fire Ins. Co. v. George V. Hamilton, Inc., 571 F.3d 299, 312 (3d Cir. 2009) (holding a nonparty is in privity with a party for purposes of preclusion when the nonparty "attempts to bring suit as the designated representative of someone who was a party in the prior litigation").

As all the requirements of issue and claim preclusion have been met, Plaintiffs are precluded from relitigating Judge Hick's order which denied certification of the very class that Plaintiffs wrongly now seek to certify. This Court should therefore grant Defendants' motion to dismiss Plaintiffs' class action claims.

J. Plaintiffs' Wrongful Attempt to Re-Litigate the Federal District Court's Order Denying Certification of an Identical Class Action Should Also Be Denied on Principles of Comity and the First-to-File Rule.

In Smith v. Bayer Corp., 564 U.S. 299, 317 (2011), the United States Supreme Court expected that courts should "apply principles of comity to each other's class certification decisions when addressing a common dispute." The Court explained that "our legal system generally relies on principles of stare decisis and comity among courts to mitigate the sometimes substantial costs of similar litigation brought by different plaintiffs." Id. In Gonzales-Alpizar v. Griffith, 130 Nev. Adv. Op. 2, 317 P.3d 820, 826 (2014), the Nevada Supreme Court recognized the "doctrine of comity" which "is a principle of courtesy by which "the courts of one jurisdiction may give effect to the laws and judicial decisions of another jurisdiction out of deference and respect."

As already set forth, the statutory state law wage claims alleged in Plaintiffs' Complaint are identical to those found in Sargent. Counsel for Plaintiffs in this case is also counsel for plaintiffs in the Sargent case. The Sargent Action involved thirty-three (33) months of extensive discovery and motion practice to determine that the same claims, involving the same putative class members, could not appropriately be certified as a class action, at the cost of hundreds of thousands of dollars which resulted in hundreds of pages of briefing. In fact, all but one of the Plaintiffs in this action were parties to the Sargent Action. As a result of that effort, Judge Hicks set forth a detailed order denying class certification, after finding that "class certification [was] not appropriate" Exhibit 1, Sargent, 171 F. Supp. 3d at 1076. As already set forth, Judge Hicks held that Plaintiffs could not establish that their federal wage claims could be pursued as collective action, which is involves a far less stringent standard. See Exhibit 1, Sargent, 171 F. Supp. 3d at 1079-84; see also O'Brien, 575 F.3d at 584 (explaining that the "similarly situated" requirement [required to certify a collective action under the FLSA] is less stringent than ... Rule 23(b)(3)'s requirement that common questions predominate for a 23(b)(3) class to be certified").

Not satisfied with that decision and knowing that any further appeal would be fruitless, Plaintiffs have brought this identical action seeking to start the whole class certification process 1 over again, at the expense of hundreds of thousands of more dollars. Undoubtedly, upon dismissal of the class action claims in this case, counsel for Plaintiffs will most likely simply recruit a new set of Plaintiffs to start a new class action. This blatant forum shopping should not be permitted, as Plaintiffs are only attempting to multiply fees in the wrongful attempt to force a settlement. The United State Supreme Court, however, "expects" that is Court will see through the charade and "mitigate the sometimes substantial costs of similar litigation" through the principles of comity.

In Baker v. Home Depot USA, Inc., Case No. 11-C-6768, 2013 WL 271666, at *5 (N.D. Ill. Jan. 24, 2013), the court refuse to consider class claims when class certification in previous cases were "materially identical to the instant action." The court reasoned that when ruling on "proposed class action litigation that, based upon the principle of comity, courts are required 'to pay respectful attention to the decision of another judge in a materially identical case." Id.

Likewise, the Court in Wright v. RBC Capital Markets Corp., Case No. CIV-S-09-3601-FCD-GGH, 2010 WL 2599010, at *7 (E.D. Cal. June 24, 2010), the court dismissed California class action claims, in the "interests of federal comity and the conservation of judicial resources," under the "first-to-file rule," because the class claims "have been raised and litigated" in another action where the "court ultimately denied certification of the California class." The Court found that when applying the "first-to-file rule, courts look to three essential factors: (1) the chronology of the two actions; (2) the similarity of the parties; and (3) the similarity of the issues." Id. at *5; see also SAES Getters S.p.A. v. Aeronex, Inc., 219 F.Supp.2d 1081, 1089 (S.D.Cal.2002) (explaining "where substantially identical actions are proceeding in different courts, the court of the later-filed action should defer to the jurisdiction of the court of the first-filed action" as a matter of comity) cited with approval in Sherry v. Sherry, Case No. 62895, 2015 WL 1798857, at *1 (Nev. Apr. 16, 2015). The Wright court reasoned that it "would be a misuse of this court's and the parties' resources to re-litigate these claims when they involve the same evidence, damages and putative class as in the [prior] action" because that "matter has progressed through extensive discovery and class certification and summary judgment briefing." 2010 WL 2599010, at *7.

Here, the Sargent Action was filed first in 2013, and that the parties fully briefed the issue of class certification, which was denied by the district court. See id. at *5 (finding dismissal of class claims "appropriate" when the issue of class certification "were fully briefed" and the prior "court rendered its decision"). Additionally, as already set forth, all of the Plaintiffs in this action were parties to the Sargent Action, or are in privity with them, and all of the Plaintiffs are seeking class certification of the identical claims raised in the Sargent Action on behalf of the very same class of employees. See Id. at *7 (holding that "courts do not require identical parties or claims to apply the first-to-file rule; rather only substantial similarity is required" which "is easily met" when the prior "action remains pled as a putative . . . class action on behalf of the very same class of ... employees that plaintiff seeks to represent here on the same core issues at stake in the [prior] action"). Just as in Wright, it would be a misuse of this Court's and GSR's resources to permit Plaintiffs and their counsel to relitigate the issues of class certification. This Court should therefore dismiss Plaintiffs' class action claims based on comity and the first-to-file rule.

III. CONCLUSION

Pursuant to the foregoing, this Court should grant GSR's motion and dismiss Plaintiffs' First Amended Class Action Complaint with prejudice.

Synopsis

Background: Employees brought putative collective and class action in state court against employer, alleging that employer violated Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA), Nevada's minimum wage statute, and Nevada's age discrimination statute. Following removal, employees moved for class certification, and employer moved for partial summary judgment and to decertify FLSA collective action.

Holdings: The District Court, Larry R. Hicks, J., held that:

- [1] employees' general allegations, that terminated employees who were over the age of 40 suffered from common policy of age discrimination, were insufficient to satisfy commonality requirement for class certification;
- [2] employees' pure gap time claim was not cognizable under FLSA's minimum wage provision;
- [3] FLSA did not allow recovery for employees' overtime gap time claim;
- [4] disparate factual and employment settings of individual employees favored finding that employees were not similarly situated with respect to claims based upon FLSA violations;

- [5] defenses individual to each employee favored finding that employees were not similarly situated with respect to claims based upon FLSA violations; and
- [6] fairness and procedural considerations favored finding that employees were not similarly situated with respect to claims based upon FLSA violations, and thus employees' FLSA claims, which were conditionally certified, would not be allowed to proceed as collective action.

Ordered accordingly.

Under the two-step process utilized in the pretrial phase for Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) collective actions, the second stage is triggered by an employer's motion for decertification; at this point, the district court has a much thicker record than it had at the notice stage, and can therefore make a more informed factual determination of similarity between employees. 29 U.S.C.A. § 216(b).

There are a number of factors that courts should consider at the decertification stage of the two-step process utilized in the pretrial phase for Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) collective actions, such as: (1) disparate factual and employment settings of the individual plaintiffs; (2) the various defenses available to defendants that appear to be individual to each plaintiff; and (3) fairness and procedural considerations. 29 U.S.C.A. § 216(b).

Defendants filed a Motion for Leave to File Excess Pages for their Response to Plaintiff's Motion for Class Certification. Doc. # 164. Plaintiff's filed a Response (Doc. # 165), to which Defendant's replied (Doc. # 166). I. Facts and Procedural History

On June 21, 2013, Plaintiffs Tiffany Sargant ("Sargant") and Bailey Cryderman ("Cryderman") filed their original collective and class action Complaint against Defendants in the Second Judicial District *1070 Court for the State of Nevada in and for the County of Washoe. Doc. # 1, Ex. A. On August 22, 2013, Defendants filed a Petition for Removal. Doc. # 1. On June 13, 2014, Plaintiffs filed the operative Second Amended Complaint ("SAC") before the Court. Doc. # 47.

The SAC alleged nine causes of action: (1) Failure to Pay Wages for All Hours Worked in Violation of 29 U.S.C. § 201, et. seq; (2) Failure to Pay Overtime in Violation of 29 U.S.C. § 207; (3) Failure to Pay Overtime at the Correct Rate, 29 U.S.C. § 207; (4) Failure to Compensate for All Hours Worked in Violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.016; (5) Failure to Pay Minimum Wages in Violation of the Nevada Constitution and NRS 608.250; (6) Failure to Pay Overtime in Violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.018; (7) Failure to Timely Pay All Wages Due and Owing in Violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.020-.050; (8) Unlawful Chargebacks in Violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.100; and (9) Age Discrimination Violation of 29 U.S.C. § 621 and NRS 613.330. On May 6, 2014, Plaintiffs' Fair Labor Standards Act ("FLSA") claims (first, second, and third causes of action) were conditionally certified. Doc. # 40.

On September 3, 2015, Plaintiffs filed a Motion for Class Certification as to their fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, and ninth causes of action. Doc. # 144. On November 4, 2015, Defendants filed their Response to Plaintiffs' Motion for Class Certification and a Motion to Decertify FLSA Collective Action and for Partial Summary Judgment on Plaintiffs' First Cause of Action. Doc. # 161 and 162. On November 30, 2015, Plaintiffs filed a Reply in support of their Motion for Class Certification and their Response to Defendants' Motion for Decertification and Partial Summary Judgment. Doc. # 167 and 168. On December 17, 2015, Defendants filed a Reply in support of their Motion for Decertification and Partial Summary Judgment. Doc. # 169. On January 12, 2016, Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment was granted as to Plaintiff's fourth, sixth, seventh, and eighth causes of action. Doc. # 172.

II. Legal Standard

A. Class Certification

[1] To qualify for class certification, the class must meet the requirements of Rule 23(a), and at least one requirement of Rule 23(b). Fed. Judicial Center, Manual for Complex Litigation § 21.131 (4th ed. 2004); Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a), (b). The proponents of the class bear the burden of demonstrating that all the prerequisites for class designation are met. See In re No. Dist. of Cal. Dalkon Shield IUD Prods. Liab. Litig., 693 F.2d 847, 854 (9th Cir.1982). "The class determination generally involves considerations that are enmeshed in the factual and legal issues comprising the plaintiff's cause of action." Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Dukes, 564 U.S. 338, 131 S.Ct. 2541, 2551–52, 180 L.Ed.2d 374 (2011) (quotation marks and citation omitted). Rule 23(a) sets forth four threshold requirements applicable to all class actions: (1) the class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable; (2) there are questions of law or fact common to the class; (3) the claims or defenses of the representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the class; and (4) the representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class. Fed. R. Civ. P 23(a).

The Supreme Court refers to these elements as "numerosity," "commonality," "typicality," and "adequacy of representation," respectively. Amchem Products, Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 613, 117 S.Ct. 2231, 138 L.Ed.2d 689 (1997).

In addition, Plaintiffs must satisfy the requirements under Rule 23(b)(1), (2), or (3) in order to maintain a class action. Under Rule 23(b)(3)—the subsection chosen *1071 by Plaintiffs—certification is appropriate if the court finds that "questions of law or fact common to the class members predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, and that a class action is superior to other available methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the controversy." Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3).

B. Summary Judgment

[2] Summary judgment is appropriate only when the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, affidavits or declarations, stipulations, admissions, and other materials in the record show that "there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law." Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(a). In assessing a motion for summary judgment, the evidence, together with all inferences that can reasonably be drawn therefrom, must be read in the light most favorable to the party opposing the motion. Matsushita Elec. Indus. Co. v. Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S. 574, 587, 106 S.Ct. 1348, 89 L.Ed.2d 538 (1986); Cnty. of Tuolumne v. Sonora Cmty. Hosp., 236 F.3d 1148, 1154 (9th Cir.2001). A motion for summary judgment can be complete or partial, and must identify "each claim or defense—or the part of each claim or defense—on which summary judgment is sought." Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(a).

[5] The party moving for summary judgment [3] bears the initial burden of informing the court of the basis for its motion, along with evidence showing the absence of any genuine issue of material fact. Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 323, 106 S.Ct. 2548, 91 L.Ed.2d 265 (1986). On those issues for which it bears the burden of proof, the moving party must make a showing that no "reasonable jury could return a verdict for the nonmoving party." Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248, 106 S.Ct. 2505, 91 L.Ed.2d 202 (1986). On an issue as to which the nonmoving party has the burden of proof, however, the moving party can prevail merely by demonstrating that there is an absence of evidence to support an essential element of the non-moving party's case. Celotex, 477 U.S. at 323, 106 S.Ct. 2548.

[6] [7] [9] [10] motion for summary judgment, the nonmoving party must point to facts supported by the record that demonstrate a genuine issue of material fact. Reese v. Jefferson Sch. Dist. No. 14J, 208 F.3d 736, 738 (9th Cir.2000). A "material fact" is a fact "that might affect the outcome of the suit under the governing law." Liberty Lobby, 477 U.S. at 248, 106 S.Ct. 2505. Where reasonable minds could differ on the material facts at issue, summary judgment is not appropriate. See v. Durang, 711 F.2d 141, 143 (9th Cir.1983). A dispute regarding a material fact is considered genuine "if the evidence is such that a reasonable jury could return a verdict for the nonmoving party." Liberty Lobby, 477 U.S. at 248, 106 S.Ct. 2505. The mere existence of a scintilla of evidence in support of the party's position is insufficient to establish a genuine dispute; there must be evidence on which a jury could reasonably find for the party. See id. at 252, 106 S.Ct. 2505. "[S]peculative and conclusory arguments do not constitute the significantly probative evidence required to create a genuine issue of material fact." Nolan v. Cleland, 686 F.2d 806, 812 (9th Cir.1982).

C. Decertification of a Collective Action

[12] The FLSA authorizes collective actions against employers accused of violating the FLSA. 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). Section 216(b) provides that "[a]n action ... may be maintained against any employer ... by any one or more employees for and in behalf of himself or themselves and other employees similarly situated." 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). Thus, to maintain a collective *1072 action under the FLSA, plaintiffs must demonstrate that they are similarly situated. See Anderson v. Cagle's, 488 F.3d 945, 952 (11th Cir.2007).

[13] Participants in a § 216(b) collective action must affirmatively opt into the suit. 29 U.S.C. § 216(b) ("No employee shall be a party plaintiff to any such action unless he gives his consent in writing to become such a party and such consent is filed in the court in which such action is brought."). That is, once a plaintiff files a complaint against an employer, any other similarly situated employees who want to join must affirmatively consent to be a party and file written consent with the court. Albritton v. Cagle's, 508 F.3d 1012, 1017 (11th Cir.2007).

[11] To successfully rebut a collective actions utilize a two-step process in the pretrial phase. The first step of whether a collective action should be certified is the notice stage. Anderson, 488 F.3d at 952–53; Hipp v. Liberty Nat. Life Ins. Co., 252 F.3d 1208, 1218 (11th Cir.2001). Here, a court determines whether other similarly situated employees should be notified.

[15] [16] [17] A plaintiff has the burden of showing a "reasonable basis" for his claim that there are other similarly situated employees. See Anderson, 488 F.3d at 952; Grayson v. K Mart Corp., 79 F.3d 1086, 1097 (11th Cir.1996); Haynes v. Singer Co., 696 F.2d 884, 887 (11th Cir.1983). The standard for determining similarity, at this initial stage, is "not particularly stringent." Hipp, 252 F.3d at 1214. The district court's broad discretion at the notice stage is thus constrained, to some extent, by the leniency of the standard for the exercise of that discretion. Nonetheless, there must be more than "only counsel's unsupported assertions that FLSA violations [are] widespread and that additional plaintiffs would come from other stores." Haynes, 696 F.2d at 887.

[18] This first step is also referred to as conditional certification since the decision may be reexamined once the case is ready for trial. Albritton, 508 F.3d at 1014 (discussing Hipp's first stage as "conditionally certifying the collective action"); Anderson, 488 F.3d at 952 (stating district court certified collective action, "but only conditionally," noting the possibility of later decertifying once discovery is substantially over).

[19] [20] The second stage is triggered by an employer's motion for decertification. Anderson, 488 F.3d at 953. At this point, the district court has a much thicker record than it had at the notice stage, and can therefore make a more informed factual determination of similarity. Id. This second stage is less lenient, and the plaintiff bears a heavier burden. Id. (citing Thiessen v. Gen. Elec. Capital Corp., 267 F.3d 1095, 1103 (10th Cir.2001)).

[21] At this stage, as more legally significant differences appear amongst the opt-ins, it becomes less likely that the group of employees is similarly situated. Id. ("Exactly how much less lenient we need not specify, though logically the more material distinctions revealed by the evidence, the more likely the district court is to decertify the collective action."). In order to overcome the defendant's evidence, a plaintiff must rely on more than just "allegations and affidavits." Id. Because the second stage usually occurs just before the end of discovery, or at its close, the court likely has a more extensive and detailed factual record. Id.

[22] [23] There are a number of factors that courts should consider at the second stage, such as: "(1) disparate factual and employment settings of the individual plaintiffs; (2) the various defenses available to defendant[s] [that] appear to be individual to each plaintiff; [and] (3) fairness and *1073 procedural considerations[.]" Thiessen, 267 F.3d at 1103. Thus, at the second stage, "although the FLSA does not require potential class members to hold identical positions, the similarities necessary to maintain a collective action under § 216(b) must extend beyond the mere facts of job duties and pay provisions" and encompass the defenses to some extent. Anderson, 488 F.3d at 953 (citation and quotation marks omitted). For example, the court must consider whether the defenses that apply to the opt-in plaintiffs' claims are similar to one another or whether they vary significantly. Id. at 954 n. 8 (noting that all named plaintiffs were unionized but some opt-in plaintiffs were not, making the collective bargaining agreement defense applicable to some but not all plaintiffs). But ultimately, whether a collective action is appropriate depends largely on the factual question of whether the plaintiff employees are similarly situated to one another.

III. Discussion

A. Motion for Class Certification

Plaintiffs are arguing that Rule 23 class certification is appropriate for the "Unpaid Wage" class of all nonexempt hourly workers employed by Defendants at any time from June 21, 2009 until the date of judgment after trial herein. They argue that the facts show that Defendants required, suffered, and/or permitted all the members of the class of hourly employees to perform work off the clock, either by directly requiring them to do work before punching in and/or after punching out each shift, or by inappropriately rounding their time in favor of the employer in violation of NRS 608.016. They also seek to certify three subclasses: the Shift Jamming Subclass consisting of all members of the Nevada Class who earned less than $12.38 an hour, who did not have at least 16 hours between shifts, and who were not paid overtime for all hours worked in excess of 8 hours in a workday; the Waiting Time Subclass consisting of all members of the Nevada Class who are former employees of the Defendants; and the Age Discrimination Subclass consisting of all members of the Nevada Class who are over the age of 40 and have been terminated from employment by the Defendants.

Because summary judgment has been granted on Plaintiff's fourth, fifth, seventh, and eighth causes of actions, the only ones that remain for certification are the fifth cause of action for Failure to Pay Minimum Wages in Violation of the Nevada Constitution and NRS 608.250 and the Ninth Cause of Action for Age Discrimination in Violation of 29 § 621 and NRS 613.330. This also means that the Shift Jamming Subclass (premised on a violation of NRS 608.050) and the Waiting Time Subclass (premised on violation of NRS 608.020-.050) are no longer at issue, and thus certification is denied as to those subclasses.

[24] As the Supreme Court has noted, "Rule 23 does not set forth a mere pleading standard." Dukes, 564 U.S. 338, 131 S.Ct. 2541, 180 L.Ed.2d 374. "A party seeking class certification must affirmatively demonstrate his compliance with the Rule—that is, he must be prepared to prove that there are in fact sufficiently numerous parties, common questions of law or fact, etc." Id. The Supreme Court has further noted that "sometimes it may be necessary for the court to probe behind the pleadings before coming to rest on the certification question," General Telephone Co. of the Southwest v. Falcon, 457 U.S. 147, 102 S.Ct. 2364, 72 L.Ed.2d 740 (1982), and that certification is proper only if "the trial court is satisfied, after a rigorous analysis, that the prerequisites of Rule 23(a) have been satisfied," id., at 161, 102 S.Ct. 2364; see id., at 160, 102 S.Ct. 2364 *1074 ("[A]ctual, not presumed, conformance with Rule 23(a) remains ... indispensable"). Frequently that "rigorous analysis" will entail some overlap with the merits of the plaintiff's underlying claim. Dukes, 564 U.S. 338, 131 S.Ct. 2541, 180 L.Ed.2d 374.

[25] Here, Plaintiffs have simply failed to address their fifth cause of action for Failure to Pay Minimum Wages in Violation of the Nevada Constitution and NRS 608.250 while seeking class certification. The Supreme Court has clearly shown that the burden lies on the party seeking class certification and that burden is not a light one. Because Plaintiffs did not address this cause of action, there is nothing for the Court to perform a rigorous analysis on, and the Plaintiffs have failed to meet their burden to show why the claim should be certified as a class action. Therefore, class certification as to Plaintiffs' fifth cause of action is denied. Additionally, because class certification has been denied as to Plaintiff's fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth claims, certification of the Unpaid Wages Class is consequently denied.

[26] Plaintiffs also seek certification for the Age Discrimination Subclass for Plaintiffs' NRS 613.330 age discrimination claims. In response, Defendants argue that the class members have not filed notice of intent to sue, and that in any event, the claims do not meet the requirements for certification under Rule 23.

[27] Under NRS 613.330(1), it is an unlawful employment practice to discharge any individual because of his or her race, color, sex, religion, sexual orientation, age, disability or national origin. Pope v. Motel 6, 121 Nev. 307, 311, 114 P.3d 277, 280 (2005). NRS 613.420 requires an employee alleging employment discrimination to exhaust her administrative remedies by filing a complaint with the Nevada Equal Rights Commission ("NERC") before filing a district court action. Id. However, the Ninth Circuit has held that "so long as one plaintiff timely files an administrative complaint, a class of similarly-situated plaintiffs may 'piggyback' on that complaint, thereby satisfying the exhaustion requirement." Harris v. Cty. of Orange, 682 F.3d 1126, 1137 (9th Cir.2012); see also Bean v. Crocker Nat'l Bank, 600 F.2d 754, 759 (9th Cir.1979); E.E.O.C. v. Catholic Healthcare W., 530 F.Supp.2d 1096, 1107 (C.D.Cal.2008). Thus, Boggs and Wiederholt's timely filed discrimination charges with the NERC could be sufficient to establish exhaustion of administrative remedies for all class members.

Still, in order to be certified as a class, the Rule 23 requirements of numerosity, commonality, typicality, and adequacy still must be met, and Plaintiffs have failed to demonstrate the required commonality in this case.

[28] [29] [30] "A party seeking class action certification must demonstrate, under a strict burden of proof, that all of the requirements of 23(a) are clearly met." Rex v. Owens ex rel. State of Okla., 585 F.2d 432, 435 (10th Cir.1978). With respect to Rule 23(a)(2)'s commonality requirement, a plaintiff must show that class members "have suffered the same injury," Falcon, 457 U.S. at 157, 102 S.Ct. 2364, and that "the incidents of discrimination complained of ... present a common issue that could be resolved efficiently in a single proceeding," McReynolds v. Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc., 672 F.3d 482, 488 (7th Cir.2012), cert. denied, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc. v. McReynolds, — U.S. —, 133 S.Ct. 338, 184 L.Ed.2d 157 (2012).

[T]here is more to a showing of commonality than a demonstration plaintiffs suffered class discrimination on the basis of membership in a particular group.... While in a case alleging intentional discrimination, such as this one, a plaintiff need not isolate the *1075 practice and particular prove that such practice caused the discrimination, plaintiffs must make a significant showing to permit the court to infer that members of the class suffered from a common policy of discrimination that pervaded all of the employer's challenged employment decisions.

[31] Hartman v. Duffey, 19 F.3d 1459, 1472 (D.C.Cir.1994). Thus, commonality under Rule 23(a) requires a named plaintiff to show (1) discrimination (2) against a particular group (3) of which the plaintiff is a member, plus (4) some additional factor that "permit[s] the court to infer that members of the class suffered from a common policy of discrimination." Id. Hartman 's "common policy" requirement is consistent with the Supreme Court's teaching in Falcon, 457 U.S. 147, 102 S.Ct. 2364. There the Court noted:

Conceptually, there is a wide gap between (a) an individual's claim that he has been [discriminated against], and his otherwise unsupported allegation that the company has a policy of discrimination, and (b) the existence of a class of persons who have suffered the same injury as that individual, such that the individual's claim and the class claims will share common questions of law or fact For respondent to bridge that gap, he must prove much more than the validity of his own claim.

Id. at 157-58, 102 S.Ct. 2364.

Here, the common questions Plaintiffs frame for the Age Discrimination Subclass are "did Defendants institute a policy to discriminate on the basis of age?" and "did subclass members suffer an adverse employment action because of age?" This is not enough. The bald allegation that the declarants and non-declarants alike are unified by a "common policy" of age discrimination is insufficient. Love v. Johanns, 439 F.3d 723, 729 (D.C.Cir.2006).

As the Sixth Circuit noted in a case where plaintiffs claimed to have been the victim of the defendant's "general policy" of discrimination on the basis of sex, "[i]f this were the test, every plaintiff seeking to certify a class ... would be entitled to that certification." Reeb v. Ohio Dep't of Rehab. & Corr., 435 F.3d 639 (6th Cir.2006); see also Bacon v. Honda of Am. Mfg., Inc., 370 F.3d 565, 571 (6th Cir.2004) ("Conclusory allegations and general assertions of discrimination are not sufficient to establish commonality." (citing Falcon, 457 U.S. at 157, 102 S.Ct. 2364)); Sprague v. Gen. Motors Corp., 133 F.3d 388, 397 (6th Cir.1998) ("It is not every common question that will suffice [to show commonality], however; at a sufficiently abstract level of generalization, almost any set of claims can be said to display commonality. What we are looking for is a common issue the resolution of which will advance the litigation.").

Here, a vaguely defined general policy is all that Plaintiffs allege. They have not made the significant showing required for the Court to infer that all class members suffered from a common policy of discrimination that suffused all of the employer's challenged employment decisions. For example, the list of terminated employees Plaintiffs rely on gives no indication as to why those employees were terminated, instead simply listing their name, position, date of hire, date of birth, and date of termination. The fact that Defendants terminated some employees over the age of 60 does not constitute a significant showing of age discrimination, especially when that same list shows that Defendants hired 66 employees over the age of 60 during that same period. Similarly, in the survey, Plaintiffs only asked the respondents if they felt they were "treated unfairly because of age," and made no attempt to ascertain the age of the respondents or whether the respondent felt they were not *1076 treated respectfully due to being an older employee or a younger employee. This is acknowledged in the survey itself. Even the declarations provided by the Plaintiff point only to the general idea that they were terminated or pressured into quitting because of their age. This is not enough to "bridge the gap." At heart, Plaintiffs offer nothing more than conclusory allegations and general assertions of discrimination, which is "not sufficient to establish commonality."

Moreover, resolution of the merits of the instant dispute would require "independent consideration of each plaintiff's qualifications for his or her position" and "their previous work performance and duties," a further strike against a finding of commonality. Allen v. City of Chicago, 828 F.Supp. 543, 552 (N.D.III.1993). This is especially true, where, as here, the putative class members vary greatly in terms of their departments, supervisors, tenure, and other individual circumstances. Morgan v. Metro. Dist. Comm'n, 222 F.R.D. 220, 230 (D.Conn.2004). Such a wide range of circumstances would elicit highly individualized defenses with respect to each plaintiff. Id. In effect, "[t]he factfinder will have to consider each of the named plaintiffs' claims on a case-by-case basis along with" any unique defenses Defendants will raise to each plaintiff. Webb v. Merck & Co., Inc., 206 F.R.D. 399, 405–06 (E.D.Pa.2002). Courts have declined to certify classes in similar situations. Morgan, 222 F.R.D. at 230; see also Bacon, 205 F.R.D. at 478-79 ("In light of the number of departments involved, the autonomy of those departments, the number of decisionmakers involved, and the diverse job functions and qualifications of those departments, the plaintiffs have not established that proof of any one class member's claim of disparate treatment will involve a common issue the resolution of which will advance the litigation.") (citation omitted); Reyes v. Walt Disney World Co., 176 F.R.D. 654, 658 (M.D.Fla.1998) (denying class action brought by employees, in part based on the employees' employment in different departments under individualized circumstances and the attendant failure to show commonality and typicality, and the risk of unmanageability).

Here, the need for individualized defenses would also be great. The putative class in question consists of employees who have held at least 70 different positions in more than 50 different departments, under many different supervisors. Moreover, the complaints by employees differ vastly. In the survey, employees' complaints ranged from the skimpiness of uniforms to being written up for minor offenses. In the declarations, the complaints cover things like new uniforms and being given worse shifts and sections. Additionally, certification would also aggregate possibly non-discriminatory motives with possibly discriminatory ones. For example, both of the named plaintiffs, Boggs and Wiederholt, had a disciplinary history indicating performance problems, which Defendants contend was the basis for their termination. It is apparent, therefore, that if the Court were to certify the Plaintiffs' claims, the Court "would be grouping together many unrelated employment decisions made by many individual supervisors against many individual plaintiffs. An analysis of these unrelated decisions would raise numerous individualized questions that are not amenable to generalized proof." Reap v. Cont'l Casualty Co., 199 F.R.D. 536, 545 (D.N.J.2001). Class certification is not appropriate in such circumstances. See Pruitt v. City of Chicago, Dep't of Aviation, No. 03C 2877, 2004 WL 1146110, at *9 (N.D.III. May 20, 2004) (denying motion for Title VII class certification for failure to establish commonality and typicality due to numerous individual claims involving distinct content, time, and setting); see also *1077 Rhodes v. Cracker Barrel Old Country Store, Inc., 213 F.R.D. 619, 676 (N.D.Ga.2003) (class certification inappropriate because proposed plaintiffs alleged misconduct within each individual's department to which defendant would likely offer a specific defense, and result in highly specific factual inquiries); Wright v. Circuit City Stores, Inc., 201 F.R.D. 526, 541 (N.D.Ala.2001) ("[T]he court is of the opinion that the purported class is comprised of a large group of diverse and differently situated employees whose highly individualized claims of discrimination do not lend themselves to class-wide proof."); Bostron v. Apfel, 182 F.R.D. 188, 196 (D.Md.1998) (broad conclusory allegations of widespread discrimination along with a "jumble of numbers" were insufficient to satisfy commonality and typicality); Lumpkin v. E.I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., 161 F.R.D. 480, 482 (M.D.Ga.1995) (concluding that the discrete and individualized nature of plaintiffs' claims and evidence-including different departments, different supervisors, and different shifts were not susceptible to generalized proofs or defenses and, therefore, failed to demonstrate commonality and typicality).

B. Motion for Summary Judgment

[32] Next, Defendants move for summary judgment on Plaintiffs' first cause of action for Failure to Pay Wages for All Hours Worked in Violation of 29 U.S.C. § 201, et. seq. Defendants argue that the FLSA only requires payment of minimum wages and overtime wages, thus as long as an employee is being paid the minimum wage or more, FLSA does not provide recourse for unpaid hours below the 40-hour threshold, even if the employee also works overtime hours the same week. Plaintiffs argue that gap time claims are permitted by the Ninth Circuit and that in any event they still have a viable straight time claim under the FLSA because they were hourly paid employees who received zero dollars for performing work activities off-the-clock.

[33] [34] "Gap time" refers to "uncompensated hours worked that fall between the minimum wage and the overtime provisions of the FLSA." Adair v. City of Kirkland, 185 F.3d 1055, 1062 (9th Cir.1999). Essentially, gap time "is non-overtime hours worked for which an employee is not compensated." Davis v. Abington Mem'l Hosp., 765 F.3d 236, 244 (3rd Cir.2014). Some courts have distinguished between two types of gap time—pure gap time and overtime gap time. See, e.g., Monahan v. County of Chesterfield, Va., 95 F.3d 1263, 1280 (4th Cir.1996). As explained below, Plaintiffs are not entitled to recover either pure gap time or overtime gap time.

[35] [36] Regarding the first type of gap time, the prevailing view is that "pure gap time claims—straight time wages for unpaid work during pay periods without overtime—are not cognizable under the FLSA, which requires payment of minimum wages and overtime wages only." Id. at 244. See also Nakahata v. New York-Presbyterian Healthcare Sys., Inc., 723 F.3d 192, 201-02 (2nd Cir.2013) ("the FLSA does not provide a cause of action for unpaid gap time"); Monahan, 95 F.3d at 1280 ("there is no cause of action under the FLSA for pure gap time when there is no evidence of a minimum wage or maximum hour violation by the employer"); Hensley v. MacMillan Bloedel Containers, Inc., 786 F.2d 353, 357 (8th Cir.1986). The FLSA provides that employers must pay employees a minimum wage of at least $7.25 per hour worked during any workweek. 29 U.S.C. § 206(a). A violation of the FLSA occurs only when the total weekly wage paid by the employer, "when averaged across the] total time worked," falls below the minimum weekly requirement. Adair, 185 F.3d at 1063; see also Monahan, 95 F.3d at 1270-1272 (4th Cir.1996); *1078 Hensley, 786 F.2d at 357; Dove v. Coupe, 759 F.2d 167, 171 (D.C.Cir.1985); United States v. Klinghoffer Bros. Realty Corp., 285 F.2d 487, 490 (2d Cir.1960). The minimum weekly requirement is calculated by multiplying the minimum hourly statutory requirement by the number of hours actually worked in a particular week. See Hensley, 786 F.2d at 357 (citing Klinghoffer, 285 F.2d at 490).

[37] In this case, Plaintiffs allege that Defendants violated Section 206 by failing to pay them "for all hours worked." Such an allegation fails to understand the standard applicable to minimum wage cases. "If [Plaintiffs'] average weekly pay does not fall below $7.25 per hour, then the FLSA does not grant them a remedy for minimum wage violations. This is so regardless of whether they were actually paid for each hour worked." Sullivan v. Riviera Holdings Corp., No. 2:14-cv-00165-APG, 2014 WL 2960303, at *2 (D.Nev. June 30, 2014); see also Levert v. Trump Ruffin Tower I, LLC, No. 2:14-CV-01009-RCJ, 2015 WL 133792, at *3 (D.Nev. Jan. 9, 2015). Plaintiffs do not provide any information to show that they were, in fact, paid below the minimum wage amount, and in fact do not argue that their weekly pay fell below federal minimum wage because of Defendants' actions. They instead argue that the minimum wage calculation should be on an hourly and not a workweek basis, but this is controverted by the several decisions from this district, id. and with which this Court agrees. Therefore, Plaintiffs have no cognizable pure gap time claim.

[38] The more difficult question is whether the FLSA allows recovery for overtime gap time. The two circuits which have addressed the issue—the Second and the Fourth—reached different conclusions. In Monahan, the Fourth Circuit held that while pure gap time is always precluded under the FLSA, an employee may recover overtime gap time if an employee exceeds the overtime threshold and the employment contract does not expressly or implicitly compensate an employee for non-overtime hours. Monahan, 95 F.3d at 1273.

The Second Circuit, on the other hand, held that an employee may not bring a gap-time claim under the FLSA "even when an employee has worked overtime." Lundy v. Catholic Health Sys. of Long Island Inc., 711 F.3d 106, 116 (2nd Cir.2013). The Second Circuit reasoned, "the text of FLSA requires only payment of minimum wages and overtime wages. It simply does not consider or afford a recovery for gap-time hours." Id. Lundy expressly rejected Monahan, finding the case unpersuasive because it relied on interpretive and "unreasoned" guidance from the Department of Labor. Id. at 116–17. Specifically, Lundy critiqued 29 C.F.R. § 778.315. Id. In discussing the FLSA pay requirement for time-and-a-half, § 778.315 states that "[t]his extra compensation for the excess hours of overtime under the Act cannot be said to have been paid to an employee unless all the straight time compensation due him for the nonovertime hours under his contract (express or implied) ... has been paid." 29 C.F.R. § 778.315. Lundy noted that this section "suggests that an employer could violate FLSA by failing to compensate an employee for gap time worked when the employee also works overtime; but the Department of Labor provides no statutory support or reasoned explanation for this interpretation." Id. at 117. Finding no persuasive support to rule otherwise, and rejecting Monahan, the court in Lundy affirmed the dismissal of the plaintiff's overtime gap time claim. Id.

This Court, and others in the Ninth Circuit, agrees with the Second Circuit's ruling. See, e.g., *1079 Gomley v. Crossmark, Inc., No. 1:13–CV–00420–BLW, 2015 WL 1825481, at *6 (D.Idaho Apr. 22, 2015); Young v. Beard, No. 2:11–CV–02491–KJM–AC, 2015 WL 1021278, at *12 (E.D.Cal. Mar. 9, 2015), appeal dismissed (June 30, 2015); Perez v. Wells Fargo & Co., 75 F.Supp.3d 1184, 1188 (N.D.Cal.2014). The plain language of the FLSA does not encompass gap time pay—whether it be pure gap time or overtime gap time. As such, the Court will grant summary judgment on Plaintiffs' first cause of action and will subsequently decertify the class as to that claim.

Smith v. Micron Electronics, Inc., Case No. CV-01-244-S-BLW, 2005 WL 5336571, at *2 (D.Idaho Feb.4, 2005).

C. Motion to Decertify FLSA Collective Action

[39] Section 216(b) of the FLSA provides that an action for violations may be maintained against an employer by "any one or more employees for and in behalf of himself or themselves and other employees similarly situated." 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). "[T]he fundamental inquiry in determining whether a collective action under § 216(b) is appropriate is whether or not the plaintiffs are 'similarly situated.' " Smith v. Heartland Auto. Servs., Inc., 404 F.Supp.2d 1144, 1149 (D.Minn.2005). Plaintiffs may show that they are similarly situated by either proving that the employer "engaged in a unified policy, plan, or scheme of FLSA violations," or that "their positions are 'similar, not identical' to the positions held by the other class members." Kautsch v. Premier Commc'ns, No. 06CV04035 NKL, 2008 WL 294271, at *1 (W.D.Mo. Jan. 31, 2008) (internal citation omitted).

[42] At the initial conditional-certification stage, the plaintiffs' burden is not rigorous; they must only show that there is a "colorable basis for their claim" and "that a class of similarly situated plaintiffs exists." Smith, 404 F.Supp.2d at 1149. At the decertification stage, however, the standard is stricter, and three factors are analyzed: (1) the disparate factual and employment settings of the individual plaintiffs; (2) the various defenses available to defendant that appear to be individual to each plaintiff, and (3) fairness and procedural considerations. Id. at 1149-50 (citing Thiessen, 267 F.3d at 1103). The essential question is "whether the difference among the plaintiffs outweigh the similarities of the practices to which they were allegedly subjected." White v. Baptist Mem. Health Care Corp., No. 08CV02478 SMH, 2011 WL 1883959, at *4 (W.D.Tenn. May 17, 2011). Additionally, the prevailing view is that plaintiffs bear the burden of proving that collective action treatment is appropriate. Anderson, 488 F.3d at 953; Smith, 404 F.Supp.2d at 1149; Pfohl v. Farmers Ins. Group, Case No. CV-03-3080 DT (RCx), 2004 WL 554834, at *2 (C.D.Cal. Mar. 1, 2004). It is not sufficient for the plaintiffs' evidence to merely "successfully engage" the competing evidence offered by the defendant, rather, it is plaintiffs' burden to provide substantial evidence to demonstrate that they are similarly situated. Castle v. Wells Fargo Fin., Inc., Case No. C-06-4347–SI, 2008 WL 495705, at *2 (N.D.Cal. Feb.20, 2008);

1. Disparate Factual and Employment Settings

[44] To proceed as a collective action, Plaintiffs must present substantial evidence of a common policy, plan, or scheme of permitting or requiring uncompensated off-the-clock work. "An allegation of an 'overarching' policy is generally insufficient; plaintiffs must produce 'substantial evidence' of a 'single decision, policy or plan.' " Micron, 2005 WL 5336571, at *2. Here, Plaintiffs do not identify a single decision, policy, or plan, but instead point to Defendants' overarching policy of suffering *1080 or permitting work without compensation. First, Defendants written policies specifically stated that they provide "compensation for all overtime hours worked by nonexempt employees in accordance with state and federal law." In fact, Defendants' payroll manager, Jennifer Humason, affirmed that payroll records revealed that all but two of the forty-five sample plaintiffs had been paid some amount of overtime during the time period from June 2010 to May 2014. As the Court in Reed noted, this indicates that if the company did have a policy with respect to overtime, the policy was to pay employees for it. Reed v. Ctv. of Orange, 266 F.R.D. 446, 458 (C.D.Cal.2010). Second, a blanket statement that Defendants had a policy of suffering or permitting work without compensation is not enough to demonstrate a single policy, as Plaintiffs were employed in many different departments, under many different supervisors, and allege a variety of uncompensated activities, including picking up equipment, attending meetings, changing uniforms, and attending dance classes. If Plaintiffs were denied overtime pay, it occurred in many different ways, by many different managers, at different times, and in different assignments and locations. There was no single, uniform policy not to pay overtime.

While Plaintiffs do point to Defendants' rounding policy, the rounding policy alone is not enough to meet Plaintiffs' burden at the decertification stage, where "the similarities necessary to maintain a collective action under § 216(b) must extend beyond the mere facts of job duties and pay provisions." Kelly v. Healthcare Servs. Grp., Inc., No. 2:13–CV–00441–JRG, 2015 WL 3464131, at *4 (E.D.Tex. June 1, 2015) (citing Anderson, 488 F.3d at 953 (internal quotation marks omitted); see also Mooney v. Aramco Servs. Co., 54 F.3d 1207, 1212 (5th Cir.1995) ("[T]he Court has much more information on which to base its decision, and makes a factual determination on the similarly situated question."), overruled on other grounds by Desert Palace, Inc. v. Costa, 539 U.S. 90, 123 S.Ct. 2148, 156 L.Ed.2d 84 (2003). In other words, while the common rounding policy may have been sufficient at the conditional certification stage, it alone cannot bind the Plaintiffs' claims now. Id. "Otherwise, it is doubtful that § 216(b) would further the interests of judicial economy, and it would undoubtedly present a ready opportunity for abuse." Anderson, 488 F.3d at 953.

[45] Because Plaintiffs were not subject to a uniform illegal compensation policy, they cannot point to a common violation of law that binds the purported collective action. Absent a unifying illegal policy, Plaintiffs must demonstrate that they are factually similarly situated or that the employer's practice was to systematically disregard its own legal policy. See, e.g., White, 2011 WL 1883959 at *9-10 ("Where an employer's formal policy is to compensate employees for all time worked, courts have generally required a showing that the employer's common or uniform practice was to not follow its formal, written policy.") Moreover, for those arguments to be pertinent to certification, Plaintiffs must demonstrate that the illegal practices about which they complain are sufficiently uniform and pervasive as to warrant class treatment, i.e., that these violations can be generalized across the opt-in Plaintiffs in this case such that collective treatment would further procedural and fairness considerations. Zivali v. AT & T Mobility, LLC. 784 F.Supp.2d 456, 463 (S.D.N.Y.2011).

[46] Decertification is appropriate where plaintiffs are subject to varying work conditions in different work locations or under different supervisors. Proctor v. Allsups Convenience Stores, Inc., 250 F.R.D. 278, 282 (N.D.Tex.2008); *1081 Brechler v. Qwest Communications Intl., Case No. CV-06-00940-PHX-ROS, 2009 WL 692329, at *2 (D.Ariz. March 17, 2009); Johnson v. TGF Precision Haircutters, Inc., Case No. CV-H-03-3641, 2005 WL 1994286, at *2-*4 (S.D.Tex. Aug. 17, 2005); Lawrence v. City of Philadelphia, No. 03-CV-4009, 2004 WL 945139 (E.D.Pa. April 29, 2004). Plaintiffs argue that the class is similarly situated because they all worked in one location and were subject to the same policies and procedures. However, the evidence before the Court shows substantial variations among the class members.

Plaintiffs worked in over 50 different departments and sub-departments, including more than 70 different positions. For example, the survey by Plaintiffs' expert describes unpaid work encompassing everything from paperwork to bar preparation to changing to dance classes. That same survey indicates that 75% of respondents indicated that they were not asked to work off-the-clock by a supervisor. These variations are further borne out through deposition testimony. For example, Sargent testified that members of the beverage department were required to work off the clock. However, Plaintiff Auturo Pineda, a member of the beverage department, testified that he had never been asked to work off the clock. Similarly, while Plaintiff Rosie Boggs testified that she had to return work related equipment offthe-clock, Plaintiffs' survey shows that only 25% of respondents reported doing the same thing. Additionally, the most common pre- and post-work activity reported in the survey, changing into and out of the uniform, was only reported by roughly half of the respondents, and further testimony shows that they were allowed to change at home. Similarly, some Plaintiffs state that pre-shift meetings were held on-the-clock, while others state they were held off-the-clock. This marks the case as similar to Lugo, in which the Court decertified the class because while all of the putative class members were hourly employees at the same plant, "the record as a whole [did] not support the conclusion that their particular experiences were shared by all plaintiffs, or reflected a common practice or policy of the defendant" due to substantial variations in individuals, departments, positions, and shifts. Lugo v. Farmer's Pride Inc., 737 F.Supp.2d 291, 316 (E.D.Pa.2010). Thus, this case differs from those where liability can be proven on a classwide basis, and the only material difference among plaintiffs is the amount of damages owed to each of them, which is generally considered insufficient to deny class treatment. Lugo, 737 F.Supp.2d at 303. Indeed, individualized inquiries would also have to be conducted to determine whether any of the class members worked off-the-clock during any given week, and if so, how many hours were worked. Because these issues are central to the question of liability, treatment of plaintiffs' claims on a collective basis is inappropriate. See, e.g., White, 2011 WL 1883959, at *5; Wright v. Pulaski Cty., No. 4:09 CV 00065 SWW, 2010 WL 3328015, at *9-10 (E.D.Ark.2010); Espenscheid

v. DirectSat USA, LLC, No. 09CV625 BBC, 2011 WL 2009967, at *5 (W.D.Wis. May 23, 2011).

2. Individualized Defenses

[47] Another factor courts consider in determining whether to decertify a conditionally-certified FLSA class is the defenses available to the defendant which are individual as to each plaintiff. See Wright, 2010 WL 3328015, at *9 (citing Thiessen, 267 F.3d at 1103); Smith, 404 F.Supp.2d at 1149 (citations omitted). Here, Defendants assert several individualized defenses: that determining whether an employer knew or should have known that the employee worked off-the-clock is by its nature an individual defense, that the majority of employees testified they were not required *1082 to work off-the-clock, that employees were not working when they clocked in early or clocked out late, and that any time was de minimis. Plaintiffs argue that all defenses asserted by the Defendants are class wide defenses. However, the defenses raised by Defendants are similar to those found to be individualized by other courts. See, e.g. Camesi v. University of Pittsburgh Medical Center, 2011 WL 6372873, at *9 (W.D.Pa. Dec. 20, 2011) (decertifying the conditionally-certified FLSA class in light of defendant's individualized defenses which included "whether individual plaintiffs actually worked overtime without compensation."); Reed, 266 F.R.D. at 460 (concluding that "whether a particular deputy worked overtime; whether and why a particular deputy may have under-reported work time; whether supervisors were aware of alleged off-the-clock work; whether a particular deputy violated Defendants' policies for accurately recording time; whether the particular activities were compensable; and whether the time spent on these activities was de minimis" were individualized defenses).

[48] Two of these defenses merit a closer look. First, Plaintiffs couch their case on the assertion that Defendants suffered or permitted its employees to work without compensation. To establish this, Plaintiffs will need to demonstrate that GSR management either had constructive or actual knowledge that Plaintiffs were working off-the-clock without pay. Reed, 266 F.R.D. at 460; Pforr v. Food Lion, Inc., 851 F.2d 106, 109 (4th Cir.1988); Maciel v. City of Los Angeles, 569 F.Supp.2d 1038, 1043 (C.D.Cal.2008). "It is not enough for a plaintiff to establish his employer's knowledge of a few incidents of off-the-clock work' for several years' worth of claims." Reed, 266 F.R.D. at 460 (quoting Pforr, 851 F.2d at 109). To rebut Plaintiffs' allegations of knowledge, Defendants will have to introduce evidence that is inherently individualized. Hinojos v. Home Depot, Inc., Case No. 2:06–CV–00108, 2006 WL 3712944, at *3 (D.Nev. Dec.1, 2006). Where, as here, there is no uniform policy or practice, "plaintiffs will have to demonstrate that each individual manager had actual or constructive knowledge that plaintiffs were performing off-the-clock work without proper compensation." Desilva v. N. Shore–Long Island Jewish Health Sys., Inc., 27 F.Supp.3d 313, 325 (E.D.N.Y.2014) (citing Zivali, 784 F.Supp.2d at 468).

[49] Second, there is the de minimis defense. Under the de minimis doctrine, employees are not entitled to compensation for insubstantial periods of time spent working. Anderson v. Mt. Clemens Pottery Co., 328 U.S. 680, 692, 66 S.Ct. 1187, 90 L.Ed. 1515 (1946) ("When the matter in issue concerns only a few seconds or minutes of work beyond the scheduled working hours, such trifles may be disregarded. Split-second absurdities are not justified.... It is only when an employee is required to give up a substantial measure of his time and effort that compensable working time is involved"); Singh v. City of New York, 524 F.3d 361 (2d Cir.2008); Reich v. Monfort, Inc., 144 F.3d 1329 (10th Cir.1998). Since the Court has determined that Plaintiffs' claims are highly individualized, determining whether and when a particular Plaintiff regularly engaged in additional work and calculating the aggregate amount of time worked is an inherently individualized inquiry. Smith v. T-Mobile USA, Inc., 2007 WL 2385131, at *8 (C.D.Cal.2007); Basco v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., No. CIV.A. 00-3184, 2004 WL 1497709, at *8 (E.D.La. July 2, 2004).

Plaintiffs argue that that the difference between when an employee arrived on the property and when they clocked in demonstrates that the off-the-clock time was far more than de minimis, but this argument is flawed. Because of the variety of job duties at issue and tasks performed off the *1083 clock the "extent to which work was de minimis, [] will necessarily vary widely according to the particular situation of each individual plaintiff." Desilva, 27 F.Supp.3d at 326 (quoting Zivali, 784 F.Supp.2d at 468). Similarly, the calculations relied on by the Plaintiffs do not take into account that Plaintiffs may have been doing things other than working in between their arrival at the property and clocking in. Defendants have provided deposition testimony that some Plaintiffs would get coffee before work or have a beer after work, for example. This indicates that there would be genuine need for Defendants to individually address each employee.

Plaintiffs similarly challenge the rounding policy as consistently disfavoring the employee; however, for the Defendants to properly challenge this argument, individualized defenses would be necessary. Without a common policy showing that the opt-in Plaintiffs were required to clock in early or clock out late, this defense is individual to each Plaintiff. See Kelly, 2015 WL 3464131 at *4. In addition, even if Plaintiffs could show, collectively, that the opt-in Plaintiffs always clocked in to work early and clocked out late, to be eligible for an hourly wage during that extra seven minutes, the Plaintiffs must have actually been working during that extra seven minutes. Plaintiffs have presented no evidence that every time a Plaintiff clocked in early that Plaintiff immediately began work. See Alonzo v. Maximus, Inc., 832 F.Supp.2d 1122, 1128 (C.D.Cal.2011) ("[T]he evidentiary record is devoid of evidence that [timesheet records] reflect time actually worked by Plaintiffs, as opposed to time Plaintiffs may have been present on Defendant's premises but not engaged in work activities."). Defendants should be allowed to present individualized evidence of employee behaviors.

3. Fairness and Procedural Considerations

[50] [51] When ruling upon a decertification motion, coherent management of the trial and avoidance of jury confusion are essential considerations. See Gatewood v. Koch Foods of Mississippi, LLC, 3:07CV00082 KS-MTP, 2009 WL 8642001, at *20 (S.D.Miss. Oct. 20, 2009) ("a collective action is designed to permit the presentation of evidence regarding certain representative plaintiffs that will serve as evidence for the class as a whole. It is oxymoronic to use [the collective action] device in a case where proof regarding each individual plaintiff is required to show liability."). At first blush, this factor weighs in favor of certifying plaintiffs as a class. In fact, it would seem that conducting one trial for all of the plaintiffs would aid judicial economy. The problem, however, is that due to the disparate facts of each plaintiff and Defendants' individualized defenses, it would be very difficult to appropriately adjudicate the claims of the named plaintiffs and the approximately 480 opt-in plaintiffs collectively. Each plaintiff's case requires consideration of different background facts and different testimony based on each employee's work activities. Representative testimony will not accurately capture each Plaintiff's diverse factual circumstances. This would result in some Plaintiffs being prejudiced by underpayment on their claims as well as prejudice to Defendants, who would overpay some Plaintiffs on their claims. See Reed, 266 F.R.D. at 462-63. Further, failing to decertify the conditionally-certified class will unfairly and prejudicially require Defendants to prepare for and present hundreds of different trials simultaneously. See King v. West Corp., 2006 WL 118577, at *15, 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 3926, at *47 (D.Neb. Jan. 13, 2006) ("Disparate individual defenses heighten the individuality of claims, and requiring the *1084 defendant to raise these arguments in a [collective] action suit undermines its ability to mount a clear and coherent defense to the case."). All of these reasons dictate against certifying a collective action under § 216(b).
