Glenn Welt, Rhoda Welt, Lynn Welt &
Michele Welt's Motion to Dismiss Certain Causes of Action

Hearing Requested

Defendants Glenn Welt, Rhoda Welt, Lynn Welt and Michele Welt have moved to dismiss the complaint entirely per NRS 41.660. Should that motion be denied, there are still individual causes of action within the complaint that do not plead a claim for relief. Those causes of action should be dismissed with prejudice.

Appellant's Exhibits 001

1 Memorandum of Points & Authorities

2 I. The complaint contains causes of action that fail to state a claim for relief.

3 The complaint was filed on September 4, 2014 and lists six causes of action. 1)
4 Defamation per se; 2) Defamation; 3) Extortion; 4) Civil Conspiracy; 5) Fraud; and 6) Punitive
5 Damages. This motion concerns the extortion, fraud, and punitive damages causes of action, as 6 well as all claims asserted by Jenna Shapiro.

7 a. Extortion is not recognized as a civil cause of action.

8 The complaint alleges the Welts attempted to extort Howard by threatening to publish
9 information on the website.¹ This allegation apparently relies upon NRS 200.560, however the 10 statute does not authorize or create a civil cause of action. “Long ago the courts of these United 11 States established that criminal statutes cannot be enforced by civil actions.”²

12 There is a limited exception for narrowly drawn criminal statutes, however the exception
13 does not apply to NRS 200.560. For example, in Collins v. Palczewski the plaintiff sued based 14 upon NRS 197.200, “a criminal statute which prohibits oppression under color of office.”³ The 15 court refused to apply the exception rule to this statute. NRS 197.200 “provides protection to the 16 general population of Nevada against the oppressive, injurious or confiscatory actions of state
17 officers.... Section 197.200 does not mention any particular class of citizen. Thus, § 197.200 is 18 strictly criminal in nature and possess no civil implications.”⁴

19 NRS 200.560 is general in nature. It does not specify or mention any particular class of 20 citizen. Howard may not rely upon it to create a civil cause of action.

21 Other jurisdictions have also refused to recognize a civil cause of action for “extortion.”
22 Instead extortion is recognized, in almost all jurisdictions, as a crime, not a civil cause of action.⁵

1 For example, courts in Colorado,⁶ Delaware,⁷ Florida,⁸ Hawaii,⁹ New Jersey,¹⁰ Pennsylvania,¹¹
2 and Texas¹² have refused to recognize such a claim. The Pennsylvania court elegantly
3 summarized the status of the case law. “[N]either the Restatement nor Prosser on Torts delineates
4 a cause of action for civil extortion. Although there are a ‘handful’ of reported cases which
5 consider the existence of the tort, none stand for the proposition that it exists at common law.”¹³

6 Nevada does not recognize “extortion” as a civil case of action. It should be dismissed with 7 prejudice.

8 b. Plaintiffs do not allege specific facts supporting a “fraud” cause of action.

9 The complaint also alleges a cause of action labeled “fraud.” It alleges “Defendants
10 intended to induce Plaintiff to pay money or turn over property...” and then “the public justifiably
11 relied upon those representations to formulate an opinion of Plaintiff, putting pressure upon 12 Plaintiff to cooperate with Defendants.”¹⁴

13 These allegations indicate Howard is pleading fraudulent inducement. The elements of 14 fraudulent inducement must be proven by clear and convincing evidence: (1) a false
15 representation made by the defendant; (2) defendant’s knowledge or belief that the representation
16 is false (or insufficient basis for making the representation); (3) defendant’s intention to induce the
17 plaintiff to act or to refrain from acting in reliance upon the misrepresentation; (4) plaintiff’s
18 justifiable reliance upon the misrepresentation; and (5) damage to the plaintiff resulting from such

1 reliance.¹⁵ Nevada has also “recognized that fraud is never presumed; it must be clearly and
2 satisfactorily proved.”¹⁶

3 The complaint fails to adequately plead a fraudulent inducement cause of action. “In all
4 averments of fraud or mistake, the circumstances constituting fraud or mistake shall be stated with
5 particularity. Malice, intent, knowledge, and other condition of mind of a person may be averred
6 generally.”¹⁷ “In actions involving fraud, the circumstances of the fraud are required by NRCP
7 9(b) to be stated with particularity. The circumstances that must be detailed include averments to 8 the time, the place, the identity of the parties involved, and the nature of the fraud or mistake.”¹⁸
9 Swartz v. KPMG LLP discussed the federal counterpart to NRCP 9(b) and concluded “Rule 9(b)
10 does not allow a complaint to merely lump multiple defendants together but ‘require[s] plaintiffs
11 to differentiate their allegations when suing more than one defendant . . . and inform each
12 defendant separately of the allegations surrounding his alleged participation in the fraud.’”¹⁹

13 The complaint does not specifically identify or allege any particular conduct by the Welts.
14 The complaint instead impermissibly lumps all four together and does not state the time, place, 15 manner or nature of the fraud he individually asserts against each individual defendant.

16 Second, even if the facts in the complaint were true, Plaintiffs have not pled a fraudulent
17 inducement claim. To allege a claim, Plaintiffs must demonstrate they justifiably relied upon a 18 fraudulent representation. Yet the complaint does not allege Plaintiffs relied upon anything said
19 on the Welts’ website. It instead alleges unidentified members of the public may have relied upon 20 an unspecified statement on that website. If so, then these unidentified members of the public may 21 have standing, but Plaintiffs do not.

Glenn Welt, Rhoda Welt, Lynn Welt &
Michele Welt's Motion to Dismiss re
NRS 41.660

Hearing Requested

The district court has dismissed this case twice as barred by NRS 41.660. The Supreme Court reversed once, developing the law further in this area and remanding for further consideration. The Supreme Court reversed the second time, directing further analysis of whether the Welts have satisfied NRS 41.660. Defendants provide that analysis in this renewed motion and request dismissal with prejudice. The complaint still arises from statements made in direct connection to a New Jersey conservatorship proceeding involving the parties. The complaint's goal was to silence the Shapiros' critics in the New Jersey case, a result expressly barred by Nevada's anti-SLAPP statutes.

12 Memorandum of Points & Authorities

13 I. This case concerns an intra-familial dispute in New Jersey.

14 This matter stems from comments made on a website regarding a conservatorship case
15 litigated in New Jersey. Walter Shapiro is the father of plaintiff Howard Shapiro.¹ On August 5, 16 2014 Howard petitioned a New Jersey court to appoint him as Walter's conservator.² The petition
17 alleged Walter was allegedly no longer mentally fit to care for himself. The Welts are relatives of 18 Walter and opposed Howard's petition.³ Allen Shapiro, Walter's brother, also vehemently 19 opposed Howard's petition.⁴ It appears even Walter opposed the petition based upon his 20 statements to his court appointed attorney requesting that Michele Welt be appointed as 21 conservator of his property.⁵ Although not stated in the petition, Glenn Welt is Walter's nephew.

22 The Nevada complaint alleges defamation arising from a website that concerned the New 23 Jersey petition, www.howardshapirovictims.com. The complaint lists Glenn Welt as the 24 webmaster for this website.⁶ The complaint attaches an email and letter from Glenn Welt stating 25 he would post the website for public viewing.⁷ Glenn's stated goal was to invite Howard
26 Shapiro's "known victims to appear in court along with other caretakers, neighbors, acquaintances 27 and relatives you've threatened."

28 ¹ To avoid confusion due to identical last names, the parties are referenced by their first names.

² Petition attached as Exhibit A.

³ Answer attached as Exhibit B.

⁴ Statement attached as Exhibit C.

⁵ December 11, 2014 letter from Benjamin H. Mabie, attached as Exhibit D.

⁷ Id. at Exhibits 3, 4.

1 II. Nevada's anti-SLAPP statutes protect the Welts' free speech rights to participate in 2 public discourse by prohibiting lawsuits such as Plaintiffs have filed.

3 The Shapiros' complaint sought to silence their critics to gain an advantage in their New 4 Jersey litigation. Nevada law does not permit this type of intimidation.

5 a. Nevada's anti-SLAPP statutes protect free speech rights.

6 "A SLAPP suit is a meritless lawsuit that a party initiates primarily to chill a defendant's
7 exercise of his or her First Amendment free speech rights."⁸ "The hallmark of a SLAPP lawsuit is 8 that it is filed to obtain a financial advantage over one's adversary by increasing litigation costs
9 until the adversary's case is weakened or abandoned."⁹ "When a plaintiff files a SLAPP suit 10 against a defendant, Nevada's anti-SLAPP statute allows the defendant to file a special motion to 11 dismiss in response to the action."¹⁰

12 When this complaint was filed in 2014, the Nevada Legislature's most recent amendments
13 to the anti-SLAPP statutes were enacted in 2013.¹¹ "A person who engages in a good faith
14 communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct
15 connection with an issue of public concern is immune from any civil action for claims based upon 16 the communication."¹² This statute was designed to protect the free speech rights of citizens who 17 wish to participate in the marketplace of ideas.

18 Anti-SLAPP statutes are invoked when "an action is brought against a person based upon a 19 good faith communication in furtherance of ... the right to free speech in direct connection with an 20 issue of public concern"¹³ NRS 41.637 defines "[g]ood faith communication in furtherance of the 21 right ... to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern." This term includes a 22 "[w]ritten or oral statement made in direct connection with an issue under consideration by a 23 legislative, executive or judicial body, or any other official proceeding authorized by law."¹⁴ It

¹⁴ NRS 41.637(3).

1 also includes “[c]ommunication made in direct connection with an issue of public interest in a
2 place open to the public or in a public forum.”¹⁵ These protections extend to any communication
3 “which is truthful or is made without knowledge of its falsehood.”¹⁶

4 b. The Legislature specified the standard of review for anti-SLAPP motions.

5 Substantively, when resolving this motion the district court shall “[c]onsider such 6 evidence, written or oral, by witnesses or affidavits, as may be material in making a determination
7 pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b).”¹⁷ After the 2013 amendments, when a special motion to 8 dismiss is filed, the district court must first “[d]etermine whether the moving party has 9 established, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the claim is based upon a good faith
10 communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct
11 connection with an issue of public concern.”¹⁸ If the moving party meets its burden, the court then 12 determines “whether the plaintiff has established by clear and convincing evidence a probability 13 of prevailing on the claim.”¹⁹ This standard is quite stringent.

14 [C]lear and convincing evidence must produce “satisfactory” proof that is so strong 15 and cogent as to satisfy the mind and conscience of a common man, and so to 16 convince him that he would venture to act upon that conviction in matters of the 17 highest concern and importance to his own interest. It need not possess such a degree 18 of force as to be irresistible, but there must be evidence of tangible facts from which a legitimate inference ... may be drawn. ... [T]he evidence must eliminate any serious or substantial doubt about the correctness of the conclusions to be drawn from the evidence.²⁰

19 The opposing party must provide actual, admissible evidence, not merely a narrative
20 disagreement with the moving party.²¹ This clear and convincing evidence must demonstrate the 21 communications were not a matter of reasonable concern to the moving party.²² For comparison,
22 in John, a school district’s communications were part of an investigation of a school security

2 issue “were of reasonable concern to the district because they addressed the school environment as
3 it applied to staff and students and they impacted the school district's potential legal liability.”²⁴
4 The opposing party failed to show that “the communications were not matters of reasonable 5 concern to the school district.”²⁵ The special motion to dismiss was appropriately granted.

6 a. The Shapiros’ complaint is based upon protected speech.

7 To qualify for dismissal, the Welts must demonstrate the Shapiros’ complaint is “based 8 upon a good faith communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech 9 in direct connection with an issue of public concern.”²⁶ In the absence of Nevada authority, it is 10 appropriate to consider California authority. “Nevada’s anti-SLAPP statute was enacted in 1993, 11 shortly after California adopted its statute, and both statutes are similar in purpose and 12 language.”²⁷ Shapiro reaffirmed this link. “Because this court has recognized that California’s
13 and Nevada’s anti-SLAPP statutes are similar in purpose and language, we look to California law
14 for guidance on this issue.”²⁸ By borrowing from California, Nevada implicitly adopted
15 California case law interpreting that statute.²⁹

16 NRS 41.660(1)’s “based upon” requirement is substantively identical to California’s “arise
17 from” requirement. In California, it “means simply that the defendant’s act underlying the 18 plaintiff’s cause of action must itself have been an act in furtherance of the right of petition or free
19 speech.”³⁰ “[T]he critical point is whether the plaintiff’s cause of action itself was based on an act
20 in furtherance of the defendant’s right of petition or free speech.”³¹ The focus “is not the form of

3 The motive for the speech is irrelevant. “[C]auses of action do not arise from motives;
4 they arise from acts.”³³ “[T]he defendant’s purported motive in undertaking speech and 5 petitioning activities is irrelevant in determining whether the plaintiff’s cause of action is based on 6 those activities.”³⁴ California’s anti-SLAPP statute “applies to claims ‘based on’ or ‘arising from’
7 statements or writings made in connection with protected speech or petitioning activities,
8 regardless of any motive the defendant may have had in undertaking its activities, or the motive
9 the plaintiff may be ascribing to the defendant’s activities.”³⁵

10 The Shaprios are suing based upon the Welts’ website. If the speech on that website is 11 protected, then the Welts are immune from suit.³⁶

12 III. NRS 41.637(3) protects the speech on the Welts’ website because it was in direct

3 a. The Welts’ satisfy NRS 41.637(3)’s direct connection requirement.

4 Shapiro II concluded the dismissal order made findings only as to the first question,
5 whether the communication related to the substantive issues in the litigation. Shapiro II did not 6 address the merits of those findings. As the findings on the first prong were not reversed, they are 7 not at issue in this motion.

8 b. The Welts’ speech was directed to people having some interest in the litigation.

9 The Supreme Court reversed because “[a]lthough [the Welts] directed their speech on the 10 website to unidentified victims and potential witnesses, it is unclear how these persons have an 11 interest in the conservatorship proceeding.”⁴² The sole question upon remand as to NRS 12 41.637(3) is what interest do these people have in the conservatorship proceeding?

13 The website stated:

14 All persons with knowledge of Howard A. Shapiro’s actions against Walter Shapiro
15 or other illegal acts committed by Howard Shapiro are encouraged to appear in court.
16 You may also submit information via email. Information is being forwarded to at least 4 attorneys representing injured parties, news media, government agencies and law enforcement as of 8/27/2014.⁴³

17 Glenn Welt created the website. The website’s intent was also to locate potential witnesses
18 and evidence relevant to the question qualification and suitability question before the New Jersey 19 court. Mr. Welt’s declaration explains that the website was designed with key words that would 20 specifically target people with knowledge about the way Howard Shapiro treated Walter Shapiro,
21 such as neighbors, friends, medical assistants, and others.⁴⁴

22 These individuals may not necessarily have possessed a legal interest that would have 23 made them a party to the conservatorship proceeding. However, each had an interest in the 24 proceeding’s outcome as, from the Welts’ perspective, if Howard was appointed Walter’s
25 conservator elder abuse could continue. Ruling that anti-SLAPP protections narrowly extend only

3 being harassed subsequently by derivative tort actions.”⁴⁵

4 II. NRS 41.637(4) also protects the Welts’ speech because it was made in direct
5 connection with an issue of public interest, in a public forum.

6 NRS 41.637(4) protects any “[c]ommunication made in direct connection with an issue of 7 public interest in a place open to the public or in a public forum,”⁴⁶ but only if that communication
8 “is truthful or is made without knowledge of its falsehood.”⁴⁷ Shapiro I did not determine whether 9 the Welts’ website was within NRS 41.637(4). It instead adopted a framework to determine what 10 is “an issue of public interest.” It noted “California ‘courts have established guiding principles for 11 what distinguishes a public interest from a private one.’”⁴⁸ In California

- 12 (1) “public interest” does not equate with mere curiosity;
13 (2) a matter of public interest should be something of concern to a substantial number 14 of people; a matter of concern to a speaker and a relatively small specific audience is 15 not a matter of public interest;
16 (3) there should be some degree of closeness between the challenged statements and 17 the asserted public interest—the assertion of a broad and amorphous public interest is 18 not sufficient;
19 (4) the focus of the speaker’s conduct should be the public interest rather than a mere 20 effort to gather ammunition for another round of private controversy; and 21 (5) a person cannot turn otherwise private information into a matter of public interest
22 simply by communicating it to a large number of people.⁴⁹

24 Shapiro I adopted these “California’s guiding principles ... for determining whether an issue is of 25 public interest under NRS 41.637(4).”⁵⁰ “On remand, we instruct the district court to apply

1 On remand the district court's order noted California case law conflicted as to what these 2 principles meant and how they are applied. Shapiro II reversed and instructed the district court to 3 apply Piping Rock, but did not address the conflicts noted in the district court's order. The 4 Supreme Court did not disturb the district court's finding that the Welts' website constituted 1) a 5 communication 2) made in a place open to the public or in a public forum. It did not disturb the 6 district court's finding that the speech on the website was in direct connection with a given issue.
7 The sole question on remand as to NRS 41.637(4) is whether that issue is one of public interest.

8 a. Preventing elder abuse is a public interest.

9 "Following California's lead, we too define an issue of public interest broadly."⁵² In 10 California, "'an issue of public interest' within the meaning of [§ 425.16(e)(3)] is any issue in 11 which the public is interested."⁵³ "[T]he issue need not be 'significant' to be protected by the anti-
12 SLAPP statute—it is enough that it is one in which the public takes an interest."⁵⁴

13 Applied in this case, the Welts initially argued that applying for court approval to invoke a 14 state's sovereign power to involuntarily take control of another person's life was a public interest.
15 Shapiro II disagreed, concluding "it does not follow that petitioning a court to be appointed as 16 conservator for one's father renders the qualifications and suitability of the petitioner a matter of 17 public interest."⁵⁵

18 However, even if applying to be a conservator in that circumstance is not a public interest, 19 preventing elder abuse is. New Jersey has expressed the public's interest in preventing the type of 20 abuse that the Welts' were concerned could occur should Howard be appointed as conservator.
21 N.J. Stat. § 2C:24-8(a) creates a criminal offense if a person having a duty to care for an elderly or 22 disabled adult then neglects their duties. N.J. Stat. § 30:1A-3 imposes a mandatory reporting
23 requirement upon "[a]ny person who has reasonable cause to suspect that a resident of a 24 residential health care facility, rooming house or boarding house is suffering or has suffered abuse 25 or exploitation...."

1 These statutes evidence an intent in New Jersey to identify and prevent potential elder
2 abuse. The Welts' website expressed concerns about actions taken, or that might be taken, that
3 could be abusive to Walter.⁵⁶ These concerns were at least part of their objection to Howard's
4 request to be appointed Walter's conservator and were an interest of public concern.

5 b. Preventing elder abuse is a concern to a substantial number of people.

6 "A matter of public interest should be something of concern to a substantial number of 7 people; a matter of concern to a speaker and a relatively small specific audience is not a matter of 8 public interest." New Jersey has enacted statutes that evidence the public's interest in preventing 9 and identifying potential mistreatment of people like Walter. If the public is not interested in the 10 qualifications of conservators, it is interested to know if abuse has occurred. If the public's 11 interest is in preventing and identifying potential mistreatment, then the statements contained on 12 the Welts' website were closely related to that purpose.

13 c. Blended speech is protected.

14 As to the focus of the speech, the Welts' website had dual purposes. It both highlighted 15 concerns about Walter's potential treatment, but also sought information that could be used to 16 challenge Howard's qualifications to be a conservator. If appointed, the Welts were concerned 17 about whether the treatment may continue.

18 This means the Welts' engaged in blended speech that both addressed a public interest, but 19 also a private controversy. However, the public interest in preventing elder abuse is inseparable 20 from the Welts' interest in preventing potential elder abuse against Walter. The mere fact that 21 speech is about public and private matters does not disqualify it from protection.⁵⁷

22 III. Plaintiffs lack clear and convincing evidence that they can prevail.

23 The Welts have met their burden to demonstrate "by a preponderance of the evidence, that 24 the claim is based upon a good faith communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the 25 right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern."⁵⁸ The burden of proof

26 ⁵⁶ Exhibit 1 to complaint at 1-2.

27 ⁵⁷ The final Piping Rock factor is inapplicable. The Welts argue Howard's alleged treatment of 28 Walter is a matter of public interest, not that his treatment has become a public interest because of a website.

⁵⁸ NRS 41.660(3)(a).

1 now shifts to the Shapiros. The court must determine “whether the plaintiff has established by 2 clear and convincing evidence a probability of prevailing on the claim.”⁵⁹ “[A] plaintiff opposing 3 an anti-SLAPP motion cannot rely on allegations in the complaint, but must set forth evidence that 4 would be admissible at trial.”⁶⁰ The Shapiros lack the clear and convincing evidence required to 5 demonstrate a probability of prevailing upon any of their claims.

6 a. Jenna alleges no claims against the Welts.

7 The only statement on the Welts’ website concerning Jenna Shapiro was that she is 8 married to Howard. The complaint does not allege this factual statement is inaccurate. As the 9 website does not otherwise concern Jenna at all, she has failed to assert a claim for relief. This is 10 not clear and convincing evidence that would meet her burden to avoid dismissal.

11 b. Howard’s defamation and defamation per se fail for multiple reasons.

12 The complaint alleges both defamation and defamation per se. These causes of action are 13 allegedly separates but the analysis of both is combined because they fail for identical reasons.

14 i. The Welts’ speech was absolutely privileged.

15 Nevada has adopted and applied the litigation privilege.

16 A party to a private litigation ... is absolutely privileged to publish defamatory matter
17 concerning another in communications preliminary to a proposed judicial proceeding, 18 or in the institution of or during the course and as a part of, a judicial proceeding in which he participates, if the matter has some relation to the proceeding.⁶¹

19 “We conclude that the absolute privilege affords parties to litigation the same protection from 20 liability that exists for an attorney for defamatory statements made during, or in anticipation of,
21 judicial proceedings.”⁶² Shapiro II reversed the prior order concluding the Shapiros’ complaint 22 was barred by the litigation privilege because it “remains unclear how any of the victims or 23 potential witnesses that respondents’ website encouraged to appear in court actually have a 24 relevant interest in the outcome of Howard’s appointment as his father’s conservator.”⁶³

⁶³ Shapiro II at 8.

1 As stated before, the relevant interest is in preventing potential elder abuse against Walter.
2 This interest is sufficient as there is no requirement that the potential recipients have a direct legal
3 interest in the litigation.

4 If attorneys in the New Jersey matter had posted a website identifying Howard and asking
5 potential witnesses to come forward, it would be absolutely privileged. In modern times, posting
6 a website is indistinguishable from mailing letters to Howard's known associates, identifying him 7 and asking these individuals if they have any information relevant to his qualifications and 8 suitability. The Supreme Court of Nevada has previously concluded if the statement would be 9 privileged if issued by a lawyer, it is privileged if issued by a party.⁶⁴ "[T]here is no good reason 10 to distinguish between communications between lawyers and nonlawyers."⁶⁵

11 ii. Howard is a limited-purpose public figure who lacks clear and 12 convincing evidence of actual malice.

13 Shapiro II implicitly concluded Howard was not a public official by applying to be a 14 conservator.⁶⁶ Shapiro II did not address the alternative argument that, by applying to be a
15 conservator, Howard is a limited-purpose public figure as to the New Jersey conservatorship 16 proceedings. "A limited-purpose public figure is a person who voluntarily injects himself or is 17 thrust into a particular public controversy or public concern, and thereby becomes a public figure 18 for a limited range of issues. The test for determining whether someone is a limited public figure 19 includes examining whether a person's role in a matter of public concern is voluntary and 20 prominent."⁶⁷

21 "Once the plaintiff is deemed a limited-purpose public figure, the plaintiff bears the burden
22 of proving that the defamatory statement was made with actual malice, rather than mere
23 negligence. This is to ensure that speech that involves matters of public concern enjoys

1 appropriate constitutional protection.”⁶⁸ “Whether a plaintiff is a limited-purpose public figure is
2 a question of law....”⁶⁹

3 Applied here, Howard voluntarily petitioned a New Jersey court to appoint him as Walter’s
4 conservator. This put his qualifications and suitability for that position at issue. The statements
5 on the website were expressly designed to discuss potential elder abuse while also seeking 6 information that support the Welts’ position that Howard was not qualified or suitable to be a 7 conservator because of potential abuse.

8 As a limited-purpose public figure, Howard must show the statements on the Welts’
9 website were made with actual malice.

10 Actual malice is proven when a statement is published with knowledge that it was 11 false or with reckless disregard for its veracity. Reckless disregard for the truth may 12 be found when the defendant entertained serious doubts as to the truth of the 13 statement, but published it anyway. This test is a subjective one, relying as it does on what the defendant believed and intended to convey, and not what a reasonable person would have understood the message to be. Recklessness or actual malice may be established through cumulative evidence of negligence, motive, and intent.⁷⁰

14 To succeed, Howard must provide actual, clear and convincing evidence that the Welts
15 knew their statements on the website were false or had serious doubts about the statements’
16 veracity and published them anyway. He cannot meet this standard.

17 The defamation cause of action arises solely from the website’s statements.⁷¹ The 18 complaint specifically lists the factual statements Howard believes were defamatory⁷² and 19 included a printout of the website as Exhibit 1. The website lists Howard’s contact information.
20 The complaint does not allege these statements of fact are false. The website then states a 21 background check of Howard Shapiro revealed certain information. The background check upon 22 which this statement relied is attached to this motion.⁷³ The website accurately stated the 23 information contained in the background check. The website also accurately noted the foreclosure
24 status of Howard’s home.⁷⁴

1 The website then stated Walter loaned $100,000 to Howard and executed a power of
2 attorney in his favor. The complaint does not deny the loan and the power of attorney is attached
3 to the New Jersey petition. The website also listed acts that were reasonably believed to be taken
4 by Howard concerning Walter that would be inconsistent with the acts of a conservator. As the 5 website noted, these statements arose from conversations with two witnesses.

6 Howard lacks clear and convincing evidence of actual malice. All of his defamation
7 claims fail as a matter of law.

8 c. Extortion is not recognized as a civil cause of action.

9 The complaint alleges the Welts attempted to extort Howard by threatening to publish
10 information on the website.⁷⁵ This allegation apparently relies upon NRS 200.560, however the 11 statute does not authorize or create a civil cause of action. “Long ago the courts of these United 12 States established that criminal statutes cannot be enforced by civil actions.”⁷⁶

13 There is a limited exception for narrowly drawn criminal statutes, however the exception
14 does not apply to NRS 200.560. For example, in Collins v. Palczewski the plaintiff sued based 15 upon NRS 197.200, “a criminal statute which prohibits oppression under color of office.”⁷⁷ The 16 court refused to apply the exception rule to this statute. NRS 197.200 “provides protection to the
17 general population of Nevada against the oppressive, injurious or confiscatory actions of state
18 officers.... Section 197.200 does not mention any particular class of citizen. Thus, § 197.200 is 19 strictly criminal in nature and possess no civil implications.”⁷⁸

20 NRS 200.560 is general in nature. It does not specify or mention any particular class of 21 citizen. Howard may not rely upon it to create a civil cause of action.

22 Other jurisdictions have also refused to recognize a civil cause of action for “extortion.”
23 Instead extortion is recognized, in almost all jurisdictions, as a crime, not a civil cause of action.⁷⁹

1 For example, courts in Colorado,⁸⁰ Delaware,⁸¹ Florida,⁸² Hawaii,⁸³ New Jersey,⁸⁴ Pennsylvania,⁸⁵
2 and Texas⁸⁶ have refused to recognize such a claim. The Pennsylvania court elegantly
3 summarized the status of the case law. “[N]either the Restatement nor Prosser on Torts delineates
4 a cause of action for civil extortion. Although there are a ‘handful’ of reported cases which
5 consider the existence of the tort, none stand for the proposition that it exists at common law.”⁸⁷

6 Nevada does not recognize “extortion” as a civil case of action. The fourth cause of action
7 alleging extortion is not exempt from Nevada’s anti-SLAPP statutes.

8 d. Civil Conspiracy

9 The fourth cause of action claims the four defendants engaged in a civil conspiracy. It
10 claims “Defendants conspired amongst themselves to unlawfully harm Plaintiff by constructing 11 and posting www.howardshapirovictims.com.”⁸⁸ It also asserts “Defendants defrauded the public
12 in furtherance of their scheme to extort Plaintiff ... by knowingly lying about Plaintiff in a public
13 forum, namely www.howardshapirovictims.com.”⁸⁹

14 Under Nevada law, an actionable civil conspiracy “consists of a combination of two or 15 more persons who, by some concerted action, intend to accomplish an unlawful objective for the 16 purpose of harming another, and damages results from the act or acts.”⁹⁰ To prevail in a civil
17 conspiracy action, a plaintiff must prove an explicit or tacit agreement between the tortfeasors.⁹¹

19 accomplish an unlawful objective to harm another: they were designed to accomplish a lawful

2 judicial proceeding in New Jersey. As such, they are protected and the civil conspiracy claim 3 fails.

4 Second, civil conspiracy is a derivative claim. It exists only if other claims remain viable.
5 Here, as all of Howard's other substantive causes of action fail, so too must the civil conspiracy
6 claim fail as a matter of law. In *Sahara Gaming Corp. v. Culinary Workers Union Local 226*⁹²
7 Sahara alleged certain defamatory statements. It acknowledged, however, the civil conspiracy
8 claim was derivative of the defamation claim. If the defamatory statements were privileged, the 9 civil conspiracy claim necessarily failed. The Court adopted this position in affirming summary
10 judgment regarding the privileged nature of the statements. The result that a civil conspiracy
11 claim is derivative and fails if the root cause of action fails is consistent with opinions of other
12 jurisdictions. This ruling was consistent with the majority of jurisdictions.⁹³

13 e. The complaint does not allege facts supporting a "fraud" cause of action.

14 The complaint's final substantive cause of action is labeled "fraud." It alleges "Defendants

17 Plaintiff to cooperate with Defendants."⁹⁴

⁹⁴ Complaint at ¶¶ 47-48.

1 These allegations indicate Howard is pleading fraudulent inducement. The elements of
2 fraudulent inducement must be proven by clear and convincing evidence: (1) a false
3 representation made by the defendant; (2) defendant's knowledge or belief that the representation
4 is false (or insufficient basis for making the representation); (3) defendant's intention to induce the
5 plaintiff to act or to refrain from acting in reliance upon the misrepresentation; (4) plaintiff's
6 justifiable reliance upon the misrepresentation; and (5) damage to the plaintiff resulting from such 7 reliance.⁹⁵ Nevada has also "recognized that fraud is never presumed; it must be clearly and 8 satisfactorily proved."⁹⁶

9 The complaint fails to adequately plead a fraudulent inducement cause of action. "In all
10 averments of fraud or mistake, the circumstances constituting fraud or mistake shall be stated with
11 particularity. Malice, intent, knowledge, and other condition of mind of a person may be averred
12 generally."⁹⁷ "In actions involving fraud, the circumstances of the fraud are required by NRCP
13 9(b) to be stated with particularity. The circumstances that must be detailed include averments to 14 the time, the place, the identity of the parties involved, and the nature of the fraud or mistake."⁹⁸
15 Swartz v. KPMG LLP discussed the federal counterpart to NRCP 9(b) and concluded "Rule 9(b)
16 does not allow a complaint to merely lump multiple defendants together but 'require[s] plaintiffs
17 to differentiate their allegations when suing more than one defendant . . . and inform each
18 defendant separately of the allegations surrounding his alleged participation in the fraud.'"⁹⁹

19 Howard's complaint does not specifically identify or allege any particular conduct by the 20 Welts. The complaint instead impermissibly lumps all four together and does not state the time, 21 place, manner or nature of the fraud he individually asserts against each individual defendant.

22 Second, even if the facts in the complaint were true, Plaintiffs have not pled a fraudulent
23 inducement claim. To allege a claim, Howard must demonstrate he justifiably relied upon a 24 fraudulent representation. Yet Howard's complaint does not allege he relied upon anything said

4 f. Punitive damages are not a cause of action.

5 The final cause of action listed in the complaint is entitled "punitive damages." Punitive
6 damages are not a substantive cause of action in Nevada, they are merely a remedy.¹⁰⁰ To even 7 qualify for punitive damages, there must first be a viable underlying cause of action.¹⁰¹ Howard 8 cannot demonstrate a probability of prevailing on a claim that does not exist.

9 IV. The Welts should be reimbursed their attorneys' fees and costs for this case.

10 If an anti-SLAPP special motion to dismiss is granted, the court "shall award reasonable
11 costs and attorney's fees to the person against whom the action was brought...."¹⁰² The Welts 12 should also receive further relief. "The court may award, in addition to reasonable costs and 13 attorney's fees awarded pursuant to paragraph (a), an amount of up to $10,000 to the person
14 against whom the action was brought."¹⁰³ Texas has a similar statute. There, the purpose and 15 amount of this discretionary award should be "sufficient to deter the party who brought the legal 16 action from bringing similar actions described in this chapter."¹⁰⁴

17 The Welts should each receive $10,000 from Howard Shapiro and a separate $10,000 each 18 from Jenna Shapiro. The statute permits an award "to the person against whom the action was 19 brought."¹⁰⁵ Howard Shapiro brought this action against all four Welts and Jenna Shapiro also 20 brought her own causes of action against all four. This permits the Welts to obtain $10,000 each 21 from each Shapiro.

These awards are merited by the disturbing facts of this case. The Welts came to the assistance of an elderly family member who may be suffering from mental decline and who may be vulnerable to exploitation. Their act of kindness was met only with litigation both in New Jersey and Nevada. Family members with greater financial resources have effectively attempted to use litigation to intimidate the Welts into silence. This action is precisely what the Nevada Legislature sought to prevent via its anti-SLAPP statutes.

V. Plaintiffs' complaint must be dismissed with prejudice, the Welts awarded their attorneys' fees and costs, and an appropriate deterrent award entered.

The Shapiros filed this lawsuit in an attempt to silence their opposition in a New Jersey conservatorship dispute over a potentially vulnerable family member. This type of litigation is precisely what Nevada's current anti-SLAPP statute was designed to prevent. The motion should be granted and the Welts provided the relief the anti-SLAPP statutes provides them.

Competency Evaluation

Client's Name Walter Shapiro
Date of Birth: 1/26/32
Address: 159 St. Nicholas Avenue
 Lakewood, NJ

Date of Evaluation: 6/27/14

Reason for Referral:

Mr. Walter Shapiro was referred for a competency evaluation by Mr. David Semanchik, Attorney, who has been retained by his son, Howard Shapiro, in a guardianship matter. Howard Shapiro reported that his father, Walter Shapiro, had recently been admitted to a psychiatric facility in Long Island as a result of paranoid delusions. Walter Shapiro was discharged after 8 days, and he was prescribed Aricept and Seroquil. Howard Shapiro indicated that his father presently has a health care worker with him 24 hours a day. Howard Shapiro had attempted to place his father in an assistive living facility; however, his father became paranoid and the police had to intervene. The purpose of this evaluation was to determine Mr. Shapiro's mental competency and his ability to manage his affairs.

Clinical Observations & Interview:

Mr. Walter Shapiro was evaluated by the examiner in the living room of his home at 159 St. Nicholas Avenue in Lakewood, New Jersey. Mr. Shapiro greeted the examiner upon her arrival for the scheduled appointment, and he readily agreed to participate with the interview and assessment. Mr. Shapiro presented in a cordial manner and was cooperative. He appeared relaxed and comfortable in the examiner's company.

Mr. Shapiro is an 82 year old Caucasian male with balding grey hair, a mustache and hazel eyes. Mr. Shapiro was casually dressed for the assessment wearing jeans, a blue shirt, and sneakers. Mr. Shapiro has difficulty hearing so it was necessary for the examiner to speak loudly and to face him. His hygiene was good. Mr. Shapiro is an average built man weighing approximately 195 pounds, and he is 5' 5" feet tall. Mr. Shapiro is ambulatory, and he is able to care for his personal hygiene.

Mr. Shapiro spoke in moderate volume and at an even pace, and he frequently smiled during the testing session. He maintained good eye contact with the examiner, and his speech was clear and understandable with no articulation problems evident. Mr. Shapiro displayed poor concentration and an adequate attention span. Mr. Shapiro's mood was positive and his affect was full.

Mr. Shapiro indicated that he has lived in his present home for the past 42 years. He reported that his wife, Bertha, passed away 9 years ago. Mr. Shapiro told the examiner that his son recently set up a health care worker to stay with him 24 hours daily. Mr. Shapiro indicated that he has two sons; Adam and Howard.

Mr. Shapiro reported that he attended Tildon High School in Brooklyn, and he graduated in 1951. He then attended a trade school. Mr. Shapiro indicated that he worked as a compositor for the New York Times. He indicated that he worked evenings at the New York Times for 42 years until his retirement in 1998.

Mr. Shapiro indicated that he receives approximately $40,000 year in combined income from social security, pension income, and union pension. He indicated that he pays his own bills each month, and he is able save money each month.

When asked about his medical history and medical concerns, Mr. Shapiro indicated that he had recently been hospitalized at a "Jewish Hospital in Long Island" and he was then transferred to South Oaks Psychiatric Facility. Mr. Shapiro indicated that he was told that he was "incompetent." Mr. Shapiro could not recall the medication that was prescribed to him upon his discharge. He told the examiner that he takes medication for his high blood pressure, "a pill for dementia," and a sleeping pill. Mr. Shapiro's health care worker provided the examiner with his medication information. Mr. Shapiro is prescribed: quetiapine fumarate (25 mg), donepezil HCL (5 mg), amlodipine besylate (10 mg), pravastatin sodium (20 mg), and enalapril maleate (10 mg).

When asked how he spends his time, Mr. Shapiro indicated that he spends his days shopping, watching sporting events on television, and getting out for lunch. Mr. Shapiro also enjoys sitting outside every day and enjoying the outdoors. Mr. Shapiro does not have a valid N.J. driver's license. He reported that he has a good appetite, and he has been sleeping well at night since he has been prescribed sleeping medication. Mr. Shapiro described his moods as irritable at times. He did not verbalize or exhibit any symptoms of anxiety. At the time of the evaluation, no hallucinations, delusions or paranoid thinking were indicated.

Folstein Mini-Mental Status Exam

Mr. Shapiro was cooperative during the assessment, and he appeared well motivated to do his best on the tasks presented. He exhibited an adequate attention span and poor concentration. Mr. Shapiro knows the day, date, month, year and season. He knows the place, address, city, county and state. He could register three words after one trial, and he was able to recall two of the three words after distraction. He can count backwards from 100 by serial 7's for one problem. He is unable to repeat a sentence presented aloud. He could name simple objects such as pencil and watch. He could follow a three-step command. He is unable to follow a written command. He is able to write a complete sentence; however, he cannot adequately copy a design of two intersecting pentagons. Mr. Shapiro's Folstein Mental State Examination Score is 22/30 consistent with mild cognitive impairment.

Controlled Oral Word Association Test (COWAT)

Mr. Walter Shapiro was administered the Controlled Oral Word Association Test (COWAT). He responded in a slow, deliberate manner and was persistent in his efforts. He is able to name 12 words beginning with the letter "F", 5 words beginning with the letter "A", and 10 words beginning with the letter "S." He has five repetitions. Mr. Shapiro obtained a score of 27 indicating impaired executive functioning. Impaired executive functioning impacts the ability to think abstractly, order actions towards a goal, and adapt to the unexpected resulting in an inability to carry out activities of daily living as well as independent activities. Impaired executive functioning may impact activities such as the capacity to execute health care decisions, the ability to exercise self-control and the ability to manage finances and bills.

Clock Drawing Test

Mr. Shapiro was administered the Clock Drawing Test, a screening for cognitive impairment and dementia. Errors on his drawing were as follows: omission of numbers, drawing numbers outside of the circle, hands of the clock the same size, and unable to make any denotation of time. Mr. Shapiro's drawing was reflective of moderate visuospatial disorganization, and his results are indicative of moderate cognitive impairment.

Summary and Recommendations:

Mr. Walter Shapiro is an 82 year old Caucasian male who presently resides in his own home in Lakewood, New Jersey. Mr. Shapiro was recently diagnosed with dementia, and he has a health care worker with him 24 hours daily. Mr. Shapiro was cooperative and motivated to do his best on the assessment. He exhibited an adequate attention span and poor concentration. Mr. Shapiro reported having a good appetite and good sleeping habits. He does not present symptoms of anxiety. No hallucinations, delusions or paranoid thinking were indicated.

On the Folstein Mini-Mental Status Exam, Mr. Shapiro receives a score of 22/30 consistent with mild cognitive dysfunction. On the Controlled Oral Word Association Test (COWAT), he obtained a score of 27 indicating impaired executive functioning. Impaired executive functioning may impact activities such as the capacity to execute health care decisions, the ability to exercise self-control and the ability to manage finances and bills. Results of the Clock Drawing Test are reflective of moderate visuospatial disorganization and are indicative of moderate cognitive impairment.

In conclusion, Mr. Shapiro is unable to make rational decisions about his well being. He is unable to make simple and complicated medical decisions that require informed consent. He does not have an understanding of his financial resources and needs. Based on this evaluation, Mr. Walter Shapiro is mentally incompetent. He is capable of attending a guardianship hearing; however, he would be unable to fully participate and comprehend such a proceeding.

MENTAL CAPACITY REPORT OF WALTER SHAPIRO
ALLEGED INCAPACITATED PERSON

IDENTIFYING DATA AND REASON FOR EVALUATION

Walter Shapiro is an 82 year-old-gentleman who was referred by the Ocean County Adult Protective Services' social worker Ms. Tiffany Tamasco. Mr. Shapiro was recently hospitalized in a psychiatric hospital in New York for eight days and diagnosed with dementia with Lewy bodies. He was examined in his home in Lakewood, New Jersey.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION

The following information was obtained during my telephone conversation with Mr. Shapiro's son Walter. Mr. Shapiro was fully independent and resided alone until being hospitalized at South Oaks Hospital in Amityville, New York. His wife died eight years ago. A precipitous decline in his condition became apparent when he recently drove to visit his girlfriend in Queens, New York. She reported that his paranoia had escalated to the point that he began sleeping with a knife and destroyed all the mirrors in his car with a hammer. When Walter took his father to the local emergency room in Queens, a psychiatric consultant deemed him not to be of immediate danger to himself or others. When Walter disagreed with their assessment of his father, he was referred for an outpatient geriatric psychiatry evaluation at South Oaks Hospital. After their evaluation, he was immediately admitted and underwent testing. Mr. Shapiro was diagnosed with Lewy body dementia. He was advised to stop driving and to have twenty-four hour supervision. Walter has noted a decline in his father's short-term memory, although his remote memory remains intact. In April of this year he had delusions of objects moving around in his house. His father's girlfriend reported him acting out his nightmares. He had been flailing his arms during his sleep. On one occasion he stood up over her holding a flashlight in the middle of the night saying that the television evangelists were telling her what to do. Mr. Shapiro has not been bathing or changing his clothes regularly. Over the past year he has exhibited a shuffling type gait, which he attributed to his "bad knees". He fell once about a month ago when he was dizzy. On a referral from his primary care physician Dr. Axelrod, Walter had previously taken him to see a neurologist. He had underwent cognitive testing, an MRI and an EEG, but was not given a diagnosis. Mr. Shapiro also has hypertension and hypercholesterolemia. Walter reported his current medications as Aricept, Seroquel, Vasotec, and Pravachol. Although Mr. Shapiro's sister in Georgia has been attempting to get him to move near her, Walter wants him to move into an assisted living facility near him in Lake Hopatcong, New Jersey. Since his hospitalization, Mr. Shapiro has resided in his home with a twenty-four hour aide. He has continued to exhibit significant paranoid delusions. He believed that Walter was coming to kill him and his girlfriend. He also accused Walter of stealing jewelry from his house. Walter had informed him that he removed the jewelry for security when he was hospitalized. He also had been observed sitting outside all day because he was "scared to be in the house". When he recently became extremely agitated, he ran out and took refuge in a neighbor's house. He also had withdrawn over $7,500 from his bank account and given it to his niece for no apparent reason. After the niece was confronted about it, she eventually returned the money.

INTERVIEW AND MENTAL STATUS EXAMINATION

Mr. Walter Shapiro reported taking medications for hypertension, hypercholesterolemia and insomnia. He also uses a hearing aid in his ear. He did not know the names of his medications, but his aide showed me his medication containers, which listed generic formulations of Aricept, Seroquel, Vasotec, Norvasc, and Pravachol. Mr. Shapiro believed that Seroquel was for his sleep and reported to me that he had taken one shortly before my evaluation at 11:30 AM. He reported having "two people around the clock, twenty-four hours a day". He said, "I started to get a little weaker". He added that he "lost the privilege of driving. Without driving I need help to carry groceries". He reported that he manages his own finances and denied needing any assistance in doing so. When I inquired about his memory he said "very good long-term, better than short-term". He added, "I took a test a couple of weeks ago by a memory doctor and I was told that I did quite well". He retired in 1998 after working forty-two years as a composer for the New York Times. He showed me a picture of him and his girlfriend who resides in Queens. He stated his wife died nine years ago and her husband died ten years ago. He has two sons, ages 47 and 54 in Lake Hopatcong, New Jersey and Kissimmee, Florida respectively.

On examination he appeared alert and oriented to his street address, the town, county, state, month, season and year. He reported the date as the third and the day Thursday. He performed serial seven's as "100 - 93 - 85 - 78 - 71 - 68". He was unable to recall any of three objects after a several minute delay. He named two simple objects, repeated a given phrase and followed a three-step verbal and a written command. He was unable to copy a diagram of two intersecting pentagons but wrote a simple sentence. He scored 22/30 on the Folstein Mini-Mental State Exam. He named the current President and Vice President of the United States. He named the previous President but not the Vice President. He stated there were thirty-five nickels in $1.35 of all nickels but correctly stated the number of nickels, dimes and quarters in one dollar respectively. When I asked him to tell me about any recent major news events he said, "Obama talked about the three kids that were abducted and killed in California". He added, "they want to send arms to the Syrian rebels". When I asked him to tell me about any major news events that occurred in New York City over the past fifteen years he said, "9-11, two planes crashed into the North and South Towers of the World Trade Center". When I inquired how it occurred he said, "the planes were hijacked and forced them to fly into it". He stated al-Qaeda was believed responsible. When I asked if they apprehended those believed to be responsible he said, "they caught a few, they caught the master mind, I believe he was killed by one of the drone planes, they bombed it". In addition, the Saint Louis University Mental Status Examination for Detecting Mild Cognitive Impairment and Dementia was performed. He scored 15/30 on this examination. During this exam he solved a problem requiring him to total two objects being purchased and give the correct change from one hundred dollars. He recalled two of five objects after a several minute delay. He named twelve animals one minute. He did not perform a digit span of three or four backwards. He was unable to place the hour markers or hands correctly on a clock face. After being read a brief story, he answered two of four questions correctly regarding it.

BRIEF NEUROLOGICAL EXAMINATION

His cranial nerves (II - VII) appeared essentially intact except for decreased hearing. His strength appeared good in both his arms and legs. His sensation was intact to pinprick and vibration in both his arms and legs. His deep tendon reflexes were symmetrically active in both his arms and legs except absent at both ankles. His gait was slightly small-stepped, although fairly steady.

DIAGNOSIS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

Walter Shapiro has evidence of mild cognitive deficits with a history of recent severe recurrent paranoid delusions. His scores of 22/30 on the Folstein Mini-Mental State Exam and 15/30 on the Saint Louis University Mental Status Examination were both within the range of a dementia. He exhibited significant short-term memory loss, impaired calculations, an impaired general fund of knowledge, constructional apraxia, and a diminished word fluency (naming twelve animals in one minute). According to his son Walter Shapiro, he had undergone prior cognitive testing, an MRI of the brain and EEG. Although it's a clinical diagnosis and not demonstrated on testing, I concur that he likely has dementia with Lewy bodies. The differential diagnosis includes a vascular dementia, Alzheimer's disease, Vitamin B12 deficiency, and hypothyroidism, although the latter two may have been excluded during his prior testing. Based on my evaluation and available clinical information, it is my medical opinion that Walter Shapiro should be adjudicated incompetent for medical, legal and financial decisions and should have a responsible legal guardian appointed to provide for his needs.

1. In the event that Howard Andrew Shapiro is unable, unwilling, or unavailable to act as my lawful attorney-in-fact, then I nominate, constitute and appoint, Adam Roy Shapiro, to act as my attorney-in-fact with the same powers.

2. To enter into, on my behalf, any kind or type of agreement or contract, written or oral, and perform the same which in my said attorney-in-fact's absolute judgment is deemed in my interest.

3. To buy and sell any and/or all securities of any kind or type now or hereafter belonging to me, including, without being by way of limitation, stocks, bonds, debentures, etc., and to effect such sale or purchase to make, execute and/or deliver any assignments, bills of sale or otherwise that may be necessary.

4. To deposit or withdraw any and all monies in any financial institution of any kind or type which shall come into my attorney-in-fact's hands.

My attorney-in-fact is specifically authorized "to conduct banking transactions" as set forth in section 2 of P.L. 1991-95 (C.46:2B-11) in accordance with the full authority conferred by that statute.

6. To borrow, from time to time, such sums of money at such rate or rates of interest, for such period or periods, and on such terms as my attorney-in-fact may deem proper in his, her or their absolute discretion, and, in connection therewith, to subject, to mortgage, liens, pledge or hypothecation, either my real property or my personal property, all or any part thereof, and, in connection therewith, execute in my name, acknowledge and deliver all necessary documents including, without being by way of limitation, mortgages, notes, deeds of trust, etc., containing such conditions, terms, conveyances, provisions, and warranties as my attorney-in-fact may deem proper to evidence and secure the loans so procured.

9. In addition to the foregoing powers and in expansion of same, my attorney-in-fact is specifically further authorized to purchase and/or mortgage any real estate on my behalf, and execute in my name all documents of every kind and type necessary to effect said purchase or mortgage transaction or refinancing, including Deed, Affidavit of Title, Survey Affidavit, etc., Change, Closing Statements, mortgage, mortgage bonds and notes, and any and all other necessary documents.

10. To conduct, engage in, and transact any and all lawful business of whatever name or kind for me, on my behalf, and in my name.

I specifically authorize my attorney-in-fact to manually sign my signature in connection with the exercise of this Power of Attorney without the addition of any notations indicating that the signature was other than my own. I specifically make this authorization because I recognize the difficulty that sometimes attends the use of the Power of Attorney and I wish to minimize such difficulty to the greatest extent possible.

The power to exercise the authority herein conferred shall not be affected by my disability as Principal as defined in N.J.S.A. 46:2B-8b, or any similar Statute which applies in this or any other jurisdiction.

11. In further addition to the foregoing powers and in expansion of same, my attorney-in-fact is specifically authorized to consult with my physicians as to my condition and treatment and to consent, on my behalf, to the performance of any medical procedures which he or she may reasonably feel appropriate in the circumstances including my personal care, medical treatment, hospitalization and health care, and to withhold or withdraw any type of medical procedure even though my death will ensue.

My attorney-in-fact shall also have full power to make a disposition of any part or of all of my body for medical purposes and/or to authorize an autopsy and direct the disposition of my remains.

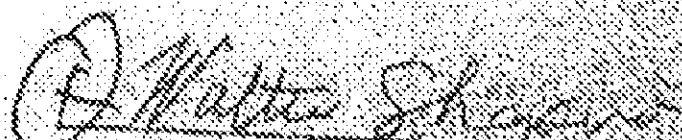

These powers in paragraph 11, shall be used to effect my wishes as set forth in the following Intervivos Direction to family and physicians: I do not want my life to be prolonged, nor do I want life sustaining treatment, including hydration and nutrition, to be provided or continued if my agent believes the burdens of treatment outweigh the expected benefits. I want my attorney-in-fact to consider the relief of suffering, the expense involved, and quality, as well as the possible extension of my life in making these decisions concerning life sustaining treatment. I specifically authorize the use of pain relieving drugs even if it may hasten my death.

If a Guardian needs to be appointed, I nominate the following to serve as Guardian: Howard Andrew Shapiro if available and if not, then I nominate Adam Roy Shapiro.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and seal this 28th day of April, 2011.

4. Upon information and belief, Howard Andrew Shapiro used Walter Shapiro's money to purchase a BMW for himself within the last three months.

5. Upon information and belief, Howard Andrew Shapiro's mortgage encumbering his house located at 623 Skyline Drive, Lake Hopatcong, New Jersey, 07849, is subject to a pending foreclosure action and the Respondents are concerned that he will use or has used Walter's money for himself and to pay his own debts. WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs demand judgment:

A. Requiring Howard Andrew Shapiro to account to the Plaintiffs and the Court for all acts, expenditures, and financial transactions that he has taken in regard to Walter Shapiro's assets since April 28, 2011, including, but not limited to, his bank accounts, jewelry, his automobile, the proceeds from the sale of 159 St. Nicholas Avenue, Lakewood, Ocean County, New Jersey, 08701, and the sale of the contents of the house;

Re: Guardianship of Walter Shapiro
From: Allan E. Shapiro, Brother of Walter

In my assessment of Walter Shapiro's needs, I find the following persons unsuitable to manage the welfare and financial affairs of Walter Shapiro.

Said persons:

Howard Shapiro, Walter's son

Adam Shapiro, Walter's son

Jenna Shapiro, Howard's spouse

Maryann Shapiro, Adam's spouse

I strongly recommend an independent senior advocate case manager who is close to wherever Walter resides.

The past behaviors and history of their interactions with Walter and their financial instabilities attest to my recommendations.

Maryann and Jenna Shapiro willfully discouraged Walter from visiting their homes or having any contact with his grandchildren. Howard rarely contacted his father but only through emails via Walter's friend, Alice Walker, in order to conceal this. Adam would secretly call Walter on his cell phone while driving so as his wife would not be aware.

However, all of the above mentioned persons and their children were not adverse to receiving monies and gifts from Walter. I find these hypocritical behaviors deceitful, perverse and lacking in moral character.

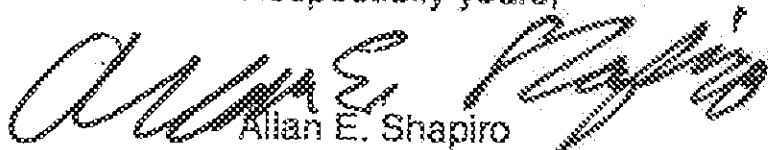

Further investigation revealed that the listed persons have a poor history of attending to financial obligations in a responsible manner.

When I was made aware of Howard Shapiro willfully abusing the joint checking account funded by Walter's Social Security and pension deposits, I notified Social Services and Adult Protective Services in Toms River, New Jersey, to the dismay of Jenna Shapiro. Another suspicious behavior by Howard Shapiro was the coercion of Walter to purchase a new expensive BMW SUV which Adam agreed was probably for the future benefit of Howard. It seemed inappropriate for an 81 year old person and is likely presently in Howard's possession.

Howard also possesses the only keys to Walter's home which was recently rifled through by the above persons and their children to secure items they may have desired. Walter had first been abducted from his home in order to do this.

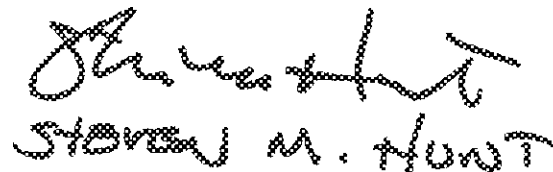

In view of my impressions, I strongly object to Walter's sons, their spouses, or children to be appointed by the court to any form of guardianship for Walter Shapiro.

RE: IMO Walter Shapiro
Docket No. #206637

Dear Judge Peterson:

This office serves as the Court Appointed Attorney as it relates to the above referenced matter. Please accept this letter as a Supplemental Report to our report forwarded to the Court on November 5, 2014.

Pursuant to ongoing discussions between all the parties, on November 17, 2014 Mr. Walter Shapiro was examined by Dr. Dennis Coffey, Psy. D. from South Jersey Psychology. In his report Dr. Coffey states that Mr. Shapiro was seen in a nursing facility in Roseland, New Jersey where he has been since July 2014. Mr. Shapiro gave Dr. Coffey a tour of the facility as soon as he arrived and stated that he loves it there. According to Dr. Coffey, Mr. Shapiro did not have any problem following the topic of conversation or participating in the interview, his mood was normal and affect appropriate according to the report. Mr. Shapiro indicated that he had "bad hallucinations" and was told that "he needed help and he got help". Mr. Shapiro stated that his son took him to Solana at Roseland and he did not want to be there but after a 10 day trial he loved it. According to Dr. Coffey, Mr. Shapiro stated that Howard sold his home without his knowledge and "never let him do back to the house", and believes that Howard took $30,000.00 in cash from his bank account. It is the medical opinion of Dr. Coffey that Walter Shapiro would benefit from the appointment of a Conservatorship of his choosing to assist him in the management of his affairs. Dr. Coffey states that there is no need for a guardian to be appointed at this time.

As previously stated in this office's aforementioned Court Appointed Attorney report and based on the foregoing, as Mr. Walter Shapiro's Court Appointed Counsel, we oppose the declaration of incapacity of Walter Shapiro. However, Mr. Shapiro has no objection to the appointment of a Conservator of his property. At this time of this report Mr. Shapiro's niece, Ms. Michele Welt is Mr. Shapiro's choice to serve as his Conservator.

If the Court requires any additional information, I will provide the same at the final hearing. As always, if you have any questions with regards to this or any other matter, please do not hesitate to contact me at your convenience at (732) 606-9100.

By copy of this letter all interested parties below will be receiving copies of the same.

Judgments + Liens

A court-ordered lien is a legal claim issued to secure payment when someone fails to pay state and/or federal taxes. Depending on the jurisdiction, judgments are generally found within the lower courts often referred to as Small Claims and Municipal Courts. Please note that these records cannot be used to determine an individual's eligibility for credit, insurance, employment or other purposes under the Fair Credit Report Act (FCRA). Memorandum of Points and Authorities

I. INTRODUCTION

Defendants have filed their third motion to dismiss pursuant to Nevada's anti-SLAPP statute (NRS 41.660). In their first motion to dismiss, Plaintiff's argued that the public has an interest in private guardianship disputes and that the litigation privilege rendered the challenged speech protected. The Nevada Supreme Court disagreed. The second time around, Defendants, again, argued that the litigation privilege shielded the Defendants, particularly Glen Welt, and that because Howard sought appointment as conservator over his father, that fact made him a public figure whose conduct is a per se interest to the public. Again, the Nevada Supreme Court disagreed. Now, for their third try Defendants, AGAIN, argue that the litigation privilege in this context renders the challenged speech protected and, for a novel twist on the same argument advanced for the past five (5) years, the challenged statements are protected because they addressed elder abuse, which the citizens of New Jersey are surely interested in (and, again, as before, claim Howard is a limited-purpose public figure which must demonstrate malice to prevail on his defamation claim).

II. SUMMARY OF FACTS

The facts of this case have been discussed in great detail. To avoid rehashing the same facts ad nauseum, Plaintiffs rely on those facts stated in the complaint on file in this case, on each and every opening brief filed in the various appellate matters, and each and every opposition and counter-motion filed by Plaintiffs addressing Defendants various motions to dismiss, and those facts are incorporated here by reference pursuant to NRCPC 10(c) .

1 III. LEGAL ANALYSIS

2 A. Defendants third motion to dismiss is untimely and should be time-barred

3 NRS 41.660 allows for a special motion to dismiss to be filed no later than 60
4 days from service of the complaint. The complaint in this matter was filed September 4, 5 2014. All parties were served by September 11, 2019. On October 13, 2014 Mr. Lowry
6 made an appearance on behalf of Glen Welt and accepted service of the complaint on 7 behalf of all parties. On December 15, 2014 the first motion to dismiss pursuant to NRS
8 41.660 was filed. Judging either by the date Rhoda, Michelle, or Lynn Welt were served
9 (September 11, 2014) or when Mr. Lowry made his first appearance and accepted service
10 of the complaint on behalf of the remaining Defendant, Glen Welt (October 13, 2014),
11 the first motion to dismiss pursuant to NRS 41.660 was already untimely. Nevertheless, it
12 was heard and granted. That decision was appealed and the Nevada Supreme Court 13 reversed this court's order dismissing Plaintiffs' claims and remanded the matter to this 14 court for further consideration.

16 On May 4, 2017 notice of remittitur was filed with this court and the case was 17 reopened. The second motion to dismiss was filed May 26, 2017, 22 days after the case
18 was reopened. Again, this court granted Defendants renewed motion to dismiss. Again, 19 that decision was challenged. Remittitur issued the second time around on January 29,
20 2019. The instant, renewed motion to dismiss, was not filed until May 2, 2019 – 93 days
21 after the case was reopened. This last motion to dismiss, therefore, which was filed 93
22 days after the district court case was reopened, is untimely. In other words, by any 23 reasonable measure, far more than 60 days have elapsed from service of the complaint 24 and filing this last motion to dismiss, rendering the motion untimely.
27
28

1 It should be noted that this case is now almost five (5) years old. Each time this
2 court's order was reversed (twice) the Defendants filed a motion to dismiss pursuant to 3 NRS 41.660. Each motion to dismiss pursuant to NRS 41.660 filed by Defendants has 4 advanced a new theory why Defendants challenged statements are protected speech.
5 Thus, Defendants have now taken three (3) bites at the apple without any regard to how 6 much time has actually elapsed since service of the complaint or any indication that there
7 is a limit to how many different motions to dismiss may be filed in this matter. At this
8 rate, the case will never close. As such, Plaintiffs ask this court to deny Defendants 9 newest motion to dismiss because it is untimely pursuant to NRS 41.660(2).

11 B. The speech contained in Glen Welt's abhorrent website is of no public interest

12 As has become their custom, Defendants begin their discussion of whether the 13 challenged statements were made in the public interest by 1) citing California case law 14 when there is Nevada case law on point, and 2) mischaracterizing the cited law. Here, 15 Defendants' state that Nevada follows California's lead in that it too defines an issue of 16 public interest broadly.¹ Then, Defendants' claim that in California "an issue of public 17 interest within the meaning of [California law] is any issue in which the public is 18 interested."² Furthermore, the Defendants claim that "the issue need not be 'significant'
19 to be protected by the anti-SLAPP statute – it is enough that it is one in which the public
20 takes an interest."³

22 Defendants clearly believe that the "public interest" prong of the analysis should 23 be as broad and amorphous as possible, that a mere curiosity qualifies, so along as the 24 "public" is interested in that curiosity, that even if the challenged statements have no

² Citing Nygard, Inc. v. Uusi-Kettula, 159 Cal. App. 4th 1027, 1042 (2008).

1 relation to the asserted public interest those statements may not be challenged, and that
2 even if the focus of the speaker is actually on gathering ammunition for a private
3 controversy, so long as those statements tangentially advance or support some amorphous 4 public interest and that the communication is made to an equally amorphous and 5 undefined public, the statements, no matter how egregious and offensive, cannot be 6 challenged.

8 Such a contention absolutely flies in the face of the holding in Shapiro v. Welt, 9 389 P.3d 262 (Nev. 2017), which establishes the guiding principles district courts in this 10 State must utilize to distinguish a public interest from a private one. It must be noted, 11 given how many times this case has been remanded for further consideration, that 12 Shapiro v. Welt is not only the law in Nevada, it is the law of this case and must be 13 adhered to without regard to California law to the contrary. The guiding principles 14 mentioned above are as follows:

- 16 1. "public interest" does not equate with mere curiosity;
- 17 2. a matter of public interest should be something of concern to a substantial number 18 of people; a matter of concern to a speaker and a relatively small specific 19 audience is not a matter of public interest;
- 20 3. there should be some degree of closeness between the challenged statements and 21 the asserted public interest—the assertion of a broad and amorphous public 22 interest is not sufficient;
- 23 4. the focus of the speaker's conduct should be the public interest rather than a mere 24 effort to gather ammunition for another round of private controversy; and
- 25 5. a person cannot turn otherwise private information into a matter of public interest
26 simply by communicating it to a large number of people.

27 Shapiro v. Welt, 389 P.3d 262, 268 (Nev. 2017). Here, the asserted public interest is the 28 public's interest in elder abuse. That is the new party line – that Mr. Welt was merely informing the public of what he believed to be was an abuser of the elderly. In this regard, Mr. Welt's counsel now advances this novel theory:

1 [E]ven if applying to be a conservator in that circumstance is not a public
2 interest, preventing elder abuse is...[t]he Welts' website expressed
3 concerns about actions taken, or that might be taken, that could be abusive
4 to Walter. These concerns were at least part of their objection to Howard's
5 request to be appointed Walter's conservator and were an interest of public
6 concern.

7 But, Mr. Welt's affidavit suggests that informing the public was the last thing on his 8 mind. That affidavit states:

9 I created a website with key words to specifically target people with 10 knowledge of Walter Shapiro such as neighbors, friends or medical 11 assistants who witnessed elder abuse of Walter by Howard. I also hoped to 12 attract anyone with knowledge of Howard Shapiro's prior ill deeds that 13 would make him unsuitable as a conservator.

14 So, according to Glen Welt, the website's stated purpose was to locate witnesses
15 willing to testify that Howard Shapiro is unfit to be a conservator, not to alert the public 16 to elder abuse.

17 According to Shapiro v. Welt, this does not qualify as an issue of public concern.
18 According to Shapiro's guiding principles, a matter of concern should be something of 19 concern to a substantial number of people; a matter of concern to a speaker and a 20 relatively small specific audience is not a matter of public interest. Here, Mr. Welt is 21 targeting, at best, a handful of people – people who witnessed alleged elder abuse
22 committed by Howard upon Walter and others with personal knowledge of any other "ill 23 deeds."

24 Furthermore, the focus of the speaker's conduct should be the public interest 25 rather than a mere effort to gather ammunition for another round of private controversy.
26 In this case, Mr. Welt's affidavit makes abundantly clear that the purpose of the website 27 and the conduct at issue, i.e., the defamatory statements posted on that website, was to 28 recruit witnesses to be utilized in the ongoing conservatorship litigation in New Jersey –

1 i.e., Mr. Welt's conduct is a mere effort to gather ammunition for another round of 2 private controversy.

3 Moreover, there should be some degree of closeness between the challenged
4 statements and the asserted public interest—the assertion of a broad and amorphous
5 public interest is not sufficient. Here, the Welts' acknowledge that their new theory
6 concerning the public interest at issue (elder abuse) is broad and amorphous. That being 7 said, rather than acknowledge that settled law in this State and the law of the case
8 prohibits such a theory from being advanced, the Welts, through their counsel, who 9 should know better, attempt to cobble cases from California together that would allow 10 such a theory to be utilized. Again, and again and again and again, there is Nevada case
11 law on point, and that case is the law of this case, rendering a search for California case 12 law unnecessary and inappropriate.

13 For all these reasons, the challenged statements do not address matters of public
14 concern.

15 C. The litigation privilege does not shield the Welts from liability for the 16 defamatory statements

17 Here, Defendants, and their counsel, all but acknowledge that for the litigation 18 privilege to apply, those people targeted by the challenged statements must have a legal 19 interest in the outcome of the litigation. However, in a determined effort to fit a round
20 peg in a square hole, Defendants and their counsel resort to a public policy argument, 21 stating:

22 These individuals may not necessarily have possessed a legal interest that 23 would have made them a party to the conservatorship proceeding. However,
24 each had an interest in the proceedings outcome as, from the Welts'
25 perspective, if Howard was appointed Walter's conservator elder abuse
26 could continue. Ruling that anti-SLAPP protections narrowly extend only

1 to those with a legal interest in the proceeding is contrary to “the anti-
2 SLAPP statute’s purpose of protecting the right of litigants to the utmost
3 freedom of access to the courts without the fear of being harassed
4 subsequently by derivative tort actions.”

5 That is not the law in Nevada, or the law of this case. As the Nevada Supreme 6 Court held in Shapiro II, for a statement to fall within the scope of NRS 41.637(3) as a 7 statement “made in direct connection with an issue under consideration by a...judicial 8 body,” it must (1) relate to the substantive issues in the litigation and (2) be directed to 9 persons having some interest in the litigation.

10 Here, the second prong of that analysis is pertinent. For the litigation privilege to 11 apply, the statements must be made “to persons having some interest in the litigation. In 12 Jacobs v. Adelson, the Nevada Supreme Court clarified that such “communications are 13 not sufficiently related to judicial proceedings when they are made to someone without 14 an interest in the outcome.” Jacobs v. Adelson, No. 58740, at *6 (Nev. May. 30, 2014).
15 Hence, those persons targeted by Mr. Welt must have an interest in the outcome of the 16 litigation; i.e., a legal interest. The rationale behind the ruling is of importance:

18 Based on the policy considerations underlying the absolute privilege, we 19 adopt the majority view that statements made to the media are not subject
20 to absolute privilege. Extension of the absolute privilege to cover statements 21 to the media, when the media are not a party to the lawsuit or inextricably
22 intertwined with the lawsuit, would not further the policy underlying the 23 absolute privilege. This position is also in line with our previous caselaw
24 acknowledging that the privilege was created in part because the public
25 interest in free speech during litigation outweighs the possibility of abuse
26 of the privilege through the making of false and malicious statements. See 27 Cucinotta, 129 Nev. at ___, 302 P.3d at 1101; Circus Circus Hotels, 99 Nev.
28 at 61, 657 P.2d at 104. However, protecting speech made during a judicial proceeding does not warrant allowing the dissemination of defamatory communications outside of the judicial proceedings. See Kelley, 606 A.2d

1 Jacobs v. Adelson, No. 58740, at *8-9 (Nev. May. 30, 2014). That is, statements made to 2 disinterested third parties “not a party to the lawsuit or inextricably intertwined with the 3 lawsuit” are not protected by the litigation privilege.

4 In Shapiro II, the Nevada Supreme Court noted that “[a]lthough respondents 5 directed their speech on the website to unidentified victims and potential witnesses, it is 6 unclear how these persons have an interest in the conservatorship proceeding.” In the 7 Welts third go at a motion to dismiss, they have still failed, within the body of their 8 motion or by affidavit, to make such a showing – because they cannot: simply stated, 9 potential witnesses do not have a dog in the hunt (i.e., they have no legal interest in the 10 outcome of the proceedings). Therefore, the litigation privilege does not apply in this 11 matter.

14 D. The Welts have failed to demonstrate that the challenged statements were 15 truthful or made without knowledge of its falsehood

16 In Shapiro v. Welt the Nevada Supreme Court clarified that “no communication 17 falls within the purview of NRS 41.660 unless it is ‘truthful or is made without 18 knowledge of its falsehood.’” 133 Nev. at 40, 389 P.3d at 268 (quoting NRS 41.637). In 19 Coker v. Sassone, the Court held that the appellant in that matter “would need to provide 20 evidence persuading this court that at the time he advertised and sold the lithographs
21 online, he believed that they were original and, thus, advertised them as such.” 135 Nev.,
22 Advance Opinion 2, at *10 (Nev. Jan. 3, 2019). No such evidence has been submitted
23 here (i.e., no evidence concerning the truth or ignorance as to the truth of the matter 24 concerning the challenged statements has been advanced by the Welts). Therefore, the 25 Welts have failed to demonstrate that this requirement has been met.

1 E. Howard Shapiro can prevail on his claims

2 It should be noted that Plaintiff's intend to amend their complaint to remove 3 Jenna Shapiro as a party. Also, the only claims Howard intends to move forward on are 4 1) defamation per se, and 2) civil conspiracy. The following addresses those claims.

5 Defendants argue that Howard is a limited purpose public figure because he 6 voluntarily injected himself into a public controversy. However, it has already been 7 demonstrated that the instant controversy is not one of any concern to the public.
8 Therefore, Howard cannot be a limited purpose public figure and he need not prove 9 actual malice to prevail on his claim.

11 F. Defamation

12 Defamation is a publication of a false statement of fact.⁴ In Nevada, the elements
13 of a defamation claim are: (1) a false and defamatory statement by a defendant 14 concerning the plaintiff; (2) an unprivileged publication of this statement to a third 15 person; (3) fault of the Defendant, amounting to at least negligence; and (4) actual or 16 presumed damages.⁵ Here, the following false statements of fact were uttered:

- 18 1. That Howard abducted his father and held him against his will;
- 19 2. That Howard sold his father's home for $230,000.00 and kept the proceeds for
- 20 himself;
- 21 3. That Howard stole tangible and intangible goods from his father, including cash
- 22 and furniture;
- 23 4. That Howard diverted his father's retirement payments to himself;
- 24 5. That Howard isolated his father from other relatives;
- 25 6. That Howard left his father destitute;
- 26 7. That Howard starved his father;
- 27 8. That Howard threatened his father's life;
- 28 9. That Howard stole his father's money and bragged about traveling with that
- money;

⁴ Pegasus v. Reno Newspapers, Inc., 118 Nev. 706, 57 P.3d 82, 87 (Nev., 2002); citing Posadas v. City of Reno, 109 Nev. 448, 851 P.2d 438, 442 (1993).

⁵ Pegasus v. Reno Newspaper, Inc., 118 Nev. 706, 718 (2003).

10. That Howard is armed and dangerous;
11. That Howard is a liar;
12. That Howard has a criminal record;
13. That Howard stole almost a million dollars from his father...

Among other things. These statements are false, each and every one of them. The statements were posted online, they were made deliberately without actual knowledge of their truth or falsity, and the statements were unprivileged. Therefore, no matter the burden, Howard can and will prevail on his claims.

It must be noted that certain classes of defamatory statements are considered so likely to cause serious injury to reputation and pecuniary loss that these statements are actionable without proof of damages.⁶ The four types of slander historically designated as defamatory per se are false statements made involving: (1) the imputation of a crime; (2) the imputation of having a loathsome disease; (3) imputing the person's lack of fitness for trade, business, or profession; and (4) imputing serious sexual misconduct.⁷ No proof of any actual harm to reputation or any other damage is required for the recovery of damages for these four kinds of slander.⁸ Here, the statements made above impute various and sundry crimes and impute dishonesty, or the lack of fitness for trade, business or profession. Therefore, they are defamatory per se.

⁶ K-Mart Corp. v. Washington, 866 P.2d 274, 282, 109 Nev. 1180 (Nev., 1993). See also Gertz v. Robert Welch, Inc., 418 U.S. 323, 349, 94 S.Ct. 2997, 3011-3012, 41 L.Ed.2d 789 (1974) ("the doctrine of presumed damages in the common law of defamation per se" is an oddity of tort law, for it allows recovery of purportedly compensatory damages without evidence of actual loss." The doctrine has been defended on the grounds that those forms of defamation that are actionable per se are virtually certain to cause serious injury to reputation, and that this kind of injury is extremely difficult to prove.

⁷ See Carey v. Piphus, 435 U.S. 247, 262 n. 18, 98 S.Ct. 1042, 1052 n. 18, 55 L.Ed.2d 252 (1978); Branda v. Sanford, 97 Nev. 643, 646, 637 P.2d 1223, 1225 (1981). F. Harper & F. James, Law of Torts §§ 5.9-5.13 (1956); Restatement (Second) of Torts §§ 558, 559, 569-574 (1977); W. Prosser, Law of Torts § 112 (4th ed. 1971).

1 This court should not ignore the obvious – these statements, on their face, are
2 egregious. There is no dispute that Mr. Welt made those statements. There is also no 3 dispute that he cannot say with any degree of certainty that he has personal knowledge of 4 these “facts” – if he did, he would not have been seeking witnesses or information that fit
5 his narrative. As such, it is almost impossible to imagine a situation were Howard does 6 not prevail on the merits, no matter the evidentiary burden imposed on him.

8 G. Civil conspiracy

9 The elements of a cause of action for civil conspiracy are: (1) Defendants, by acting in 10 concert, intended to accomplish an unlawful⁹ objective for the purpose of harming
11 plaintiff; and (2) Plaintiff sustained damage resulting from defendants’ act or acts.¹⁰
12 Here, damages are presumed, satisfying the second prong of the analysis. As to the first 13 prong, discovery would have to be conducted in order to determine if any of the other 14 Defendants in this matter acted in concert with Mr. Glen Welt. Though the website 15 suggests as much, and that fact has never been disputed in this matter, only some 16 discovery could clarify the issue.

26 ⁹ To understand the meaning of the word unlawful, it is instructive to refer to its synonyms: illegal, illicit,
27 illegitimate, against the law, criminal, felonious, prohibited, banned, outlawed, proscribed, forbidden. In other
28 words, unlawful means criminal. That being said, even if construed liberally, i.e., that conspiring to defame
Patty and cast her in a bad light is unlawful, the claim fails because Christine did not defame Patty or cast her in a bad light.

Michele Welt's Reply re Motion to Dismiss re NRS 41.660

Howard's opposition agreed to certain facts that in turn indicate the speech on the Welt's website was protected. Howard then had the burden to provide clear and convincing evidence of a probability he would prevail on his claims. Nearly five years after this dispute started, he still has presented none. Howard's factual concessions and inability after nearly five years to provide the clear and convincing evidence required to support his remaining causes of action confirms what the Welts have argued from the beginning: this lawsuit was filed for the sole purpose of silencing Howard's critics. Nevada does not allow its courts to be used for that purpose. The motion should be granted.

12 Memorandum of Points & Authorities

13 I. The Welts' motion was timely.

14 The Shapiros complain, for the first time, that the Welts' motions to dismiss have been 15 untimely. This argument relies entirely upon NRS 41.660(2). "A special motion to dismiss must 16 be filed within 60 days after service of the complaint, which period may be extended by the court
17 for good cause shown." As to the first two motions, if the motions were untimely, the Shapiros
18 waived this argument years ago by failing to raise it.¹

19 As to the pending motion, NRS 41.660(2) simply does not apply. Its plain text applies 20 only to the initial motion brought after the complaint is served. The pending motion is not 21 brought in those circumstances. Instead, this motion was brought after two prior motions to 22 dismiss were granted and the Supreme Court reversed for further consideration in this developing 23 area of law. NRS 41.660(2) does not create a deadline for renewed motions after appellate 24 decisions. As it does not apply, the motion is timely.

25 II. NRS 41.637(3) protects the speech on the Welts' website because it was in direct 26 connection with an issue under consideration by a judicial body.

27 The Welts argue NRS 41.637(3) protects the speech on their website. The statute protects 28 a "[w]ritten or oral statement made in direct connection with an issue under consideration by a ... judicial body."² To qualify for NRS 41.637(3)'s protection, the communication at issue must "(1)

² NRS 41.637(3).

1 relate to the substantive issues in the litigation and (2) be directed to persons having some interest
2 in the litigation.”³ The statute’s purpose is “protecting the right of litigants to the utmost freedom
3 of access to the courts without the fear of being harassed subsequently by derivative tort actions.”⁴

4 The Shapiros do not dispute that the Welts’ speech related to the substantive issues in the 5 New Jersey conservatorship proceeding. The dispute is instead whether the speech was directed
6 to persons having some interest in the litigation. This is why the Supreme Court in Shapiro II
7 reversed for further factual development. “Although [the Welts] directed their speech on the 8 website to unidentified victims and potential witnesses, it is unclear how these persons have an 9 interest in the conservatorship proceeding.”⁵

10 The Welts’ responded to the Supreme Court’s order by providing further factual 11 information about how the website was developed, the types of people it targeted, and why these 12 people would have an interest in the conservatorship proceeding. The Shapiros’ response 13 acknowledges the website “is targeting, at best, a handful of people – people who witnessed 14 alleged elder abuse committed by Howard upon Walter and others with personal knowledge of 15 any other ‘ill deeds’”⁶ In acknowledging this, the Shapiros concede the website’s speech was 16 targeted at a narrowly drawn group of people who had an interest based upon the alleged abuse
17 they witnessed and other ‘ill deeds’ concerning Walter.

18 Perhaps recognizing this, the Shapiros then argue within the context of their litigation 19 privilege discussion, that those “targeted by the challenged statements must have a legal interest in 20 the outcome of the litigation.”⁷ If the Shapiros also intended this argument to apply to NRS
21 41.637(3), it lacks any citation to authority. The Supreme Court required in 2018 that the speech
22 “be directed to persons having some interest in the litigation.”⁸ It did not state the speech would 23 be protected only if directed to those with legal standing to appear or intervene in the case. If 24 construed as the Shapiros propose, the statute’s protection would be very, very narrow. Again,

1 this would be inconsistent with the statute’s purpose of “protecting the right of litigants to the 2 utmost freedom of access to the courts without the fear of being harassed subsequently by 3 derivative tort actions.”⁹

4 Further, a legal standing requirement would conflict with persuasive California law. In 5 Healy v. Tuscan Hills Landscape & Recreation Corp. an HOA filed suit against one of its unit
6 owners and sent a letter to its membership about the topic of the lawsuit.¹⁰ The unit owner’s
7 counterclaim for defamation arising from the letter was dismissed. “Because one purpose of the 8 letter was to inform members of the association of pending litigation involving the association, the 9 letter is unquestionably in connection with judicial proceedings and bears some relation to judicial 10 proceedings.”¹¹ If the Shapiros’ interpretation applied, the letter would not be protected because 11 the recipients (association members) lacked legal standing to appear or intervene in the ongoing 12 dispute between the HOA and an individual member.

13 Contemporary Services Corp. v. Staff Pro Inc. concluded an email update to a group of 14 customers concerning court rulings and favorable imposition of sanctions in litigation against the 15 company’s competitor was protected activity because it was in connection with an issue under 16 consideration or review by a judicial body.¹² Again, if the Shapiros’ interpretation applied, the 17 email would not have been protected because the customers had no standing to appear in the 18 lawsuit.

19 III. NRS 41.637(4) also protects the Welts’ speech because it was made in direct
20 connection with an issue of public interest, in a public forum.

21 NRS 41.637(4) protects any “[c]ommunication made in direct connection with an issue of 22 public interest in a place open to the public or in a public forum,”¹³ but only if that communication
23 “is truthful or is made without knowledge of its falsehood.”¹⁴ Shapiro I adopted “California’s

2 analyzing whether the Welts’ statements were made in direct connection with an issue of public
3 interest under NRS 41.637(4).”¹⁶ Shapiro II reversed and instructed the district court to apply
4 Piping Rock, but did not disturb the district court’s finding that the Welts’ website constituted 1) a 5 communication 2) made in a place open to the public or in a public forum; and 3) was in direct
6 connection with a given issue. The sole question now is whether that issue is one of public
7 interest.

8 What is a public interest?

9 “Following California’s lead, we too define an issue of public interest broadly.”¹⁷ In 10 California, “‘an issue of public interest’ within the meaning of [§ 425.16(e)(3)] is any issue in 11 which the public is interested.”¹⁸ “[T]he issue need not be ‘significant’ to be protected by the anti-
12 SLAPP statute—it is enough that it is one in which the public takes an interest.”¹⁹

13 a. Elder abuse is a public interest.

14 The Welts note various New Jersey statutes addressing potential elder abuse and making 15 efforts to prevent it. Howard does not deny elder abuse is a public interest. He instead argues his 16 specific, potential abuse of Walter is not an issue of public interest.

17 b. Preventing elder abuse is a concern to a substantial number of people.

18 The Welts note that New Jersey’s statutes that specifically address elder abuse are 19 evidence that identifying or preventing elder abuse is a concern to a substantial number of people, 20 or at least majorities in New Jersey’s legislature. Howard argues if he abused Walter that was 21 merely a private matter between them. This cannot be. Those who are prone to abuse are often 22 those least capable of defending themselves.

23 c. The speech was related to the asserted public interest.

24 If the public’s interest is in preventing and identifying potential elder abuse, then there is 25 “some degree of closeness” between the website’s statements and the asserted public interest.

¹⁹ Id.

Howard responds that New Jersey's interest in preventing and identifying potential elder abuse is broad, amorphous, and could not have any specific interest in his potential abuse of Walter. Howard's argument simply ignores New Jersey's specific statutes on this point.

d. Blended speech is protected.

Finally, the speaker's conduct should focus on "the public interest rather than a mere effort to gather ammunition for another round of private controversy."²⁰ The Welts concede the website's speech blended in that it addressed both a public interest (elder abuse), but also a private controversy (Howard's qualifications and suitability to be Walter's conservator). However, the public interest in preventing elder abuse is inseparable from the Welts' interest in preventing potential elder abuse against Walter through a court appointed conservator. Howard cites no authority holding that speech is protected if it exclusively addresses some public interest.

IV. Plaintiffs lack clear and convincing evidence that they can prevail.

The Welts met their burden to demonstrate "by a preponderance of the evidence, that the claim is based upon a good faith communication in furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern."²¹ Consequently Howard now has the burden of proof to demonstrate "by clear and convincing evidence a probability of prevailing on the claim."²² "[A] plaintiff opposing an anti-SLAPP motion cannot rely on allegations in the complaint, but must set forth evidence that would be admissible at trial."²³

Plaintiffs concede Jenna Shapiro cannot meet this burden.²⁴ Howard asserts he can meet this burden only as to the defamation per se and civil conspiracy causes of action.²⁵ The other causes of action fail by his admission. The Welts' motion should be granted on at least these points.

²⁴ Opposition at 10:2-3.

²⁵ Id. at 10:3-4.

1 a. Howard’s defamation per se cause of action fails for multiple reasons.

2 “A defamation claim requires demonstrating (1) a false and defamatory statement of fact
3 by the defendant concerning the plaintiff; (2) an unprivileged publication to a third person; (3)
4 fault, amounting to at least negligence; and (4) actual or presumed damages.”²⁶

5 i. Howard lacks clear and convincing evidence of a false factual
6 statement.

7 Howard’s first step to proving defamation requires clear and convincing evidence of “a 8 false and defamatory statement of fact by the defendant concerning the plaintiff.”

9 [C]lear and convincing evidence must produce “satisfactory” proof that is so strong
10 and cogent as to satisfy the mind and conscience of a common man, and so to 11 convince him that he would venture to act upon that conviction in matters of the 12 highest concern and importance to his own interest. It need not possess such a degree
13 of force as to be irresistible, but there must be evidence of tangible facts from which a legitimate inference ... may be drawn. ... [T]he evidence must eliminate any serious or substantial doubt about the correctness of the conclusions to be drawn from the evidence.²⁷

14 Howard attempts to meet his burden by listing 13 statements he believes were 1) on the 15 website; 2) are factual; and 3) inaccurate.²⁸ He then declares “[t]hese statements are false, each 16 and every one of them.”²⁹ However, he provides no evidence, let alone the required clear and 17 convincing evidence, to support his conclusion. “[A] plaintiff opposing an anti-SLAPP motion
18 cannot rely on allegations in the complaint, but must set forth evidence that would be admissible
19 at trial.”³⁰ The result is Howard fails to establish the very first element of defamation, meaning he 20 cannot overcome an anti-SLAPP motion to dismiss.

21 ii. The publication was privileged.

22 If Howard could satisfy the first element of defamation, he must then demonstrate an 23 unprivileged publication to a third person. Assuming without conceding that merely creating a 24 website is a publication to a third person, was the website’s speech privileged?

1. The litigation privilege applied.

The Welts assert the website was within the litigation privilege. Shapiro II reversed the prior order applying this privilege because it “remains unclear how any of the victims or potential witnesses that respondents’ website encouraged to appear in court actually have a relevant interest in the outcome of Howard’s appointment as his father’s conservator.”³¹

As discussed before, the website’s speech was blended in that it concerned both a public interest (elder abuse) and the ongoing controversy between the parties (Howard’s qualifications and suitability to be Walter’s conservator). Again, the Shapiros’ response acknowledges the website “is targeting, at best, a handful of people – people who witnessed alleged elder abuse committed by Howard upon Walter and others with personal knowledge of any other ‘ill deeds’”³² This concession resolves the Supreme Court’s concern in Shapiro II as the relevant interest has been identified and conceded. Thus the litigation privilege applies to the website’s speech and Howard cannot demonstrate a probability of prevailing on his cause of action.

2. Howard is a limited-purpose public figure who lacks clear and convincing evidence of actual malice.

“A limited-purpose public figure is a person who voluntarily injects himself or is thrust into a particular public controversy or public concern, and thereby becomes a public figure for a limited range of issues. The test for determining whether someone is a limited public figure includes examining whether a person’s role in a matter of public concern is voluntary and prominent.”³³ “Whether a plaintiff is a limited-purpose public figure is a question of law....”³⁴

Here, the Welts argue the matter of public concern is identifying and preventing elder abuse and, second, whether Howard was qualified and suitable to be Walter’s conservator. The two issues are inseparably intertwined. Howard’s role in the matter was voluntary in that he petitioned a New Jersey court to be appointed. His role in that issue of concern was also prominent in that the Welts believed Howard may have perpetrated elder abuse against Walter and

1 could perpetrate further abuse if appointed as conservator. These factors combine to make
2 Howard a limited-purpose public figure as to the potential elder abuse discussed on the Welts'
3 website.

4 "Once the plaintiff is deemed a limited-purpose public figure, the plaintiff bears the burden
5 of proving that the defamatory statement was made with actual malice, rather than mere
6 negligence. This is to ensure that speech that involves matters of public concern enjoys
7 appropriate constitutional protection."³⁵ Howard offers no evidence of actual malice to meet his 8 burden opposing this motion. The Welts have provided the information upon which they relied.
9 Howard offers nothing to demonstrate that the Welts knew that information was false or they 10 recklessly disregarded whether that information was accurate.

11 iii. Howard has not demonstrated fault at least amounting to negligence.

12 If a false statement of fact was published to a third person, Howard must still demonstrate 13 that publication was the result of fault at least amounting to negligence. The Welts have provided
14 the bases upon which they relied for the factual statements on the website. Howard provides no 15 clear and convincing evidence indicating the facts were mistakenly published or that it was 16 negligent for the Welts to rely upon these sources. Howard fails this element of defamation too.

17 iv. Howard has not demonstrated damages.

18 The final required element for defamation is demonstrating damages. Howard's complaint
19 alleges he was damaged, but opposing an anti-SLAPP motion requires admissible evidence.
20 Howard presents no evidence indicating how, or even if, the website damaged him.

21 1. Defamation per se doesn't apply.

22 Nevada has recognized "[c]ertain classes of defamatory statements are, however, 23 considered defamatory per se and actionable without proof of damages."³⁶ Those recognized thus 24 far "are false statements made involving: (1) the imputation of a crime; (2) the imputation of 25 having a loathsome disease; (3) imputing the person's lack of fitness for trade, business, or 26 profession; and (4) imputing serious sexual misconduct."³⁷ Howard does not allege the loathsome

1 disease and serious sexual misconduct classifications apply. He instead argues they “impute
2 various and sundry crimes and impute dishonesty, or the lack of fitness for trade, business, or 3 profession.”³⁸

4 The fitness for trade, business, or profession except does not apply. The Welts’ website’s
5 speech on whole is directed at whether Howard was qualified and suitable to be Walter’s
6 conservator. Howard does not argue being a conservator is his trade, business, or profession.
7 Even if the website could be read as imputing a crime at some point as opposed to boorish
8 behavior, then Howard still needed to prove every other element of defamation with clear and 9 convincing evidence. He didn’t.

10 b. Howard doesn’t offer admissible evidence to demonstrate civil conspiracy

11 Civil conspiracy is Howard’s only other cause of action. He does not dispute that civil 12 conspiracy is derivative, meaning if his defamation cause of action fails the civil conspiracy cause 13 of action also fails.

14 Under Nevada law, an actionable civil conspiracy “consists of a combination of two or 15 more persons who, by some concerted action, intend to accomplish an unlawful objective for the 16 purpose of harming another, and damages results from the act or acts.”³⁹ To prevail in a civil
17 conspiracy action, a plaintiff must prove an explicit or tacit agreement between the tortfeasors.⁴⁰

18 Howard specifically defines “unlawful objective.” “In other words, unlawful means 19 criminal.”⁴¹ Howard cites no New Jersey or Nevada law under which the Welts’ website would 20 be criminal. Using his own definition, Howard cannot prove his civil conspiracy claim with clear
21 and convincing evidence.

22 As to the remaining elements, Howard offers no clear and convincing evidence about 23 them. He instead requests what amounts to NRCP 56(d) relief.⁴² However, this is not a summary 24 judgment motion per NRCP 56. It is a special motion to dismiss per NRS 41.660(1)(a). The of the other Defendants in this matter acted in concert with Mr. Glen [sic] Welt.”

1 statute contains no equivalent to NRCp 56(d). Further, allowing discovery would defeat NRS
2 41.660(1)(a)'s purpose. "The hallmark of a SLAPP lawsuit is that it is filed to obtain a financial
3 advantage over one's adversary by increasing litigation costs until the adversary's case is 4 weakened or abandoned."⁴³ Applied here, allowing Howard to proceed with discovery would 5 subject the Welts to the exact type of harassment Nevada sought to eliminate by enacting its anti-
6 SLAPP statutes.⁴⁴

7 V. Howard's complaint should be dismissed with prejudice.

8 This case has a long history already. The Supreme Court used the first dismissal to 9 develop Nevada law. It used the second to require further factual development. The factual
10 development it wanted has been provided and, in some instances, Howard agrees to the operative
11 facts. These facts indicate the speech on the Welts' website was protected, even if it was a blunt 12 rather than finely tuned instrument. This means Howard had the burden, nearly five years after 13 the complaint was filed, to provide clear and convincing evidence that he could prevail on his 14 causes of action. The fact that he couldn't, for the third time, only cements the perception that the 15 point of this lawsuit was to silence his critics. That goal is precisely what the Legislature sought 16 to bar in creating the anti-SLAPP statutes and it means the Welts' motion should be granted.

Case No.: A-14-706566-C
Dept. No.: 27

Order re Glenn Welt, Rhoda Welt,
Lynn Welt & Michelle Welt's 1)
Motion to Dismiss re NRS 41.660, & 2)
Motion to Dismiss Certain Causes of Action

On May 2, 2019 Glenn Welt, Rhoda Welt, Lynn Welt & Michelle Welt (collectively "the Welts") filed two motions. The first sought global dismissal per NRS 41.660. The second sought dismissal of certain causes of action and all claims filed by Jenna Shapiro. Howard Shapiro and Jenna Shapiro ("the Shapiros") opposed on July 9, 2019. The Welts replied on July 12, 2019. The Shapiros filed an additional exhibit on July 16, 2019. The motions were heard on July 17, 2019. Alex Ghibaudo appeared at the hearing for the Shapiros, Michael Lowry appeared for the Welts.

At the hearing, the Welts first orally moved to strike the additional exhibit the Shapiros filed on July 16 at 4:38 p.m. The Welts argued this motion had been pending for two months and this supplemental exhibit at the close of business the day before the hearing was improper. The Shapiros responded the exhibit merely discussed the facts Howard Shapiro believed were stated about him and are false. The court agrees with the Welts and orders the exhibit struck. The exhibit was not considered in ruling upon the motions.

1 Second, the Shapiros' opposition conceded Jenna Shapiro cannot meet her burden of proof
2 as to NRS 41.660.¹ Howard Shapiro conceded he could not meet the burden as to four of the six
3 causes of action alleged in the complaint. Those that he did argue are the defamation per se and 4 civil conspiracy causes of action.² This was confirmed in open court on July 17. The Welts'
5 motion to dismiss as to Jenna Shapiro is granted. It is also granted as to all causes of action except 6 defamation per se and civil conspiracy.

7 I. Motion to Dismiss per NRS 41.660

8 The Welts argue NRS 41.637(3) and (4) protect the speech on their website. They move to 9 dismiss per NRS 41.660(1)(a). This action was filed in 2014. At that time, when resolving this 10 motion the district court shall "[c]onsider such evidence, written or oral, by witnesses or 11 affidavits, as may be material in making a determination pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b)."³ The 12 district court must first "[d]etermine whether the moving party has established, by a 13 preponderance of the evidence, that the claim is based upon a good faith communication in 14 furtherance of the right to petition or the right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of 15 public concern."⁴ If the moving party meets its burden, the district court then determines 16 "whether the plaintiff has established by clear and convincing evidence a probability of prevailing 17 on the claim."⁵

18 a. NRS 41.637(3) does not apply.

19 NRS 41.637(3) protects a "[w]ritten or oral statement made in direct connection with an 20 issue under consideration by a ... judicial body."⁶ To qualify for NRS 41.637(3)'s protection, the 21 communication at issue must "(1) relate to the substantive issues in the litigation and (2) be 22 directed to persons having some interest in the litigation."⁷ The statute's purpose is "protecting

1 the right of litigants to the utmost freedom of access to the courts without the fear of being
2 harassed subsequently by derivative tort actions.”⁸

3 The court twice previously concluded this statute applied. But the Supreme Court reversed
4 in Shapiro II for further factual development. “Although [the Welts] directed their speech on the
5 website to unidentified victims and potential witnesses, it is unclear how these persons have an
6 interest in the conservatorship proceeding.”⁹ The Welts’ motion provides further factual
7 information. The Shapiros states the website “is targeting, at best, a handful of people – people
8 who witnessed alleged elder abuse committed by Howard upon Walter and others with personal 9 knowledge of any other ‘ill deeds.’”¹⁰

10 The parties do not dispute that the Welts’ website constitutes a written statement. The 11 parties agree that when the website was published, there was a conservatorship proceeding
12 pending before a New Jersey court where Howard Shapiro sought appointment as Walter 13 Shapiro’s conservator. The question remaining is whether the website’s speech was “made in 14 direct connection with an issue under consideration” in that proceeding.

15 The Shapiros argue the website’s speech did not relate to the substantive issues in the 16 litigation, nor was it be directed to persons having some interest in the litigation.”¹¹ The court
17 agrees. The issue before the New Jersey court was whether Howard Shapiro was qualified and 18 suitable to be Walter’s conservator. It did not concern whether Howard may have previously
19 abused Walter, or whether he may do so in the future. Further, as the Shapiros argue, the people 20 targeted by the website’s speech did not have a legal interest in the conservatorship’s outcome.
21 Stated another way, NRS 41.637(3) protects statements only to those with a legal interest in the 22 litigation’s outcome. The Shapiros’ analogy to the litigation privilege is appropriate in that NRS 23 41.637(3)’s protection does not extend to statements made to someone who is not 1) a party to the 24 lawsuit, or 2) inextricably intertwined with the lawsuit.

27 ⁸ Id. at 1252.

28 ⁹ Shapiro II at 7.

¹⁰ Opposition at 6:18-22.

¹¹ Patin, 429 P.3d at 1249.

1 As the website did not relate to the substantive issues in the New Jersey conservatorship,
2 nor was it directed to persons with a legal interest in the conservatorship's outcome, NRS
3 41.637(3)'s protection does not apply to the Welts' website.

4 b. NRS 41.637(4) does not apply.

5 NRS 41.637(4) protects any "[c]ommunication made in direct connection with an issue of 6 public interest in a place open to the public or in a public forum,"¹² but only if that communication
7 "is truthful or is made without knowledge of its falsehood."¹³ Prior orders in this case determined
8 the Welts' website constituted 1) a communication; 2) made in a place open to the public or in a 9 public forum; and 3) the communication was in direct connection with a given issue. The 10 question now is whether that issue is one of public interest.

11 Nevada uses five guiding principles for distinguishing a public interest from a private one.

- 12 (1) "public interest" does not equate with mere curiosity;
13 (2) a matter of public interest should be something of concern to a substantial number
14 of people; a matter of concern to a speaker and a relatively small specific audience is 15 not a matter of public interest;
16 (3) there should be some degree of closeness between the challenged statements and 17 the asserted public interest—the assertion of a broad and amorphous public interest is 18 not sufficient;
19 (4) the focus of the speaker's conduct should be the public interest rather than a mere 20 effort to gather ammunition for another round of private controversy; and
21 (5) a person cannot turn otherwise private information into a matter of public interest
22 simply by communicating it to a large number of people.¹⁴

23 The Welts argue whether Howard had previously committed elder abuse against Walter was 24 a matter of public interest in the context of the conservatorship proceeding. They note that 25 blended speech, addressing both a public interest but also a private concern, should be protected.
26 But the Shapiros correctly note the website's stated purpose was to locate witnesses willing to 27 testify that Howard Shapiro is unfit to be a conservator, not to alert the public to elder abuse. Mr.
28 Welt's affidavit makes abundantly clear the website's purpose was to recruit witnesses to be utilized in the ongoing conservatorship litigation in New Jersey, which was a private controversy.

Further, the Shapiros also correctly note there must be some degree of closeness between the challenged statements and the asserted public interest; an assertion of a broad and amorphous

¹⁴ Shapiro v. Welt, 133 Nev. Adv. Op. 6, 389 P.3d 262, 268 (2017) (quotation omitted).

1 public interest is not sufficient. The Welts' concern about potential elder abuse is broad,
2 amorphous, and does not qualify for NRS 41.637(4)'s protection.

3 c. Even if NRS 41.637(3) or (4) applied, Howard presented clear and convincing
4 evidence of a probability of prevailing on his two remaining claims.

5 The Welts did not meet their burden to demonstrate "by a preponderance of the evidence,
6 that the claim is based upon a good faith communication in furtherance of the right to petition or 7 the right to free speech in direct connection with an issue of public concern."¹⁵ If they had, the 8 district court would then need to determine "whether the plaintiff has established by clear and 9 convincing evidence a probability of prevailing on the claim."¹⁶ "[A] plaintiff opposing an anti-10 SLAPP motion cannot rely on allegations in the complaint, but must set forth evidence that would 11 be admissible at trial."¹⁷

12 The Welts first argue the website's speech was protected by the litigation privilege.
13 However, that privilege does not apply because the protection extends to only statements made to 14 someone who is not 1) a party to the lawsuit, or 2) inextricably intertwined with the lawsuit. As 15 previously discussed, that is not whom the Welts' website targeted.

16 The Welts then argue the website's speech was protected because by applying for court
17 appointment as a conservator, Howard made himself a limited purpose public figure. "A limited-
18 purpose public figure is a person who voluntarily injects himself or is thrust into a particular 19 public controversy or public concern, and thereby becomes a public figure for a limited range of 20 issues. The test for determining whether someone is a limited public figure includes examining 21 whether a person's role in a matter of public concern is voluntary and prominent."¹⁸ But the 22 controversy or concern at issue here was whether Howard was qualified or suitable to be Walter's
23 conservator. That was a private controversy or concern, not a public one. Consequently, Howard 24 was not a limited purpose public figure.

1 i. There is clear and convincing evidence of defamation.

2 Howard's two remaining causes of action are for 1) defamation; and 2) civil conspiracy.
3 "A defamation claim requires demonstrating (1) a false and defamatory statement of fact by the 4 defendant concerning the plaintiff; (2) an unprivileged publication to a third person; (3) fault,
5 amounting to at least negligence; and (4) actual or presumed damages."¹⁹ As to the first element,
6 although "a plaintiff opposing an anti-SLAPP motion cannot rely on allegations in the complaint,
7 but must set forth evidence that would be admissible at trial,"²⁰ here Howard has provided his own
8 denial of the facts stated about him on the Welts' website. This is sufficiently clear and 9 convincing evidence for the first element of defamation. The second element is met because it is 10 undisputed the statements were published on a website and this court has already concluded they 11 were not privileged.

12 The third element is also met. In Coker v. Sassone a district court denied a motion to 13 dismiss per NRS 41.660(3). The defendant appealed, but the denial was affirmed because "Coker
14 failed to demonstrate that his conduct was 'truthful or made without knowledge of its falsehood.'
15 We agree, and further conclude that Coker failed to sufficiently prove that his communication was 16 made in direct connection with an issue of public interest."²¹ Similarly here, the Welts did not 17 meet their preponderance of the evidence burden. Even had they, there is clear and convincing 18 evidence of fault, amounting to at least negligence.

19 Finally, Howard is not required to present clear and convincing evidence of actual or 20 presumed damages because he relies upon the damages exception provided for statements that are 21 defamatory per se. Nevada has recognized "[c]ertain classes of defamatory statements are,
22 however, considered defamatory per se and actionable without proof of damages."²² Howard 23 relies upon two specific exceptions: (1) the imputation of a crime; and (2) imputing the person's 24 lack of fitness for trade, business, or profession.²³ The statements on the website could certainly

1 be construed as being within these two exceptions, which is sufficient to demonstrate a probability 2 of prevailing on the claim.

3 ii. There is clear and convincing evidence of civil conspiracy.

4 An actionable civil conspiracy “consists of a combination of two or more persons who, by 5 some concerted action, intend to accomplish an unlawful objective for the purpose of harming
6 another, and damages results from the act or acts.”²⁴ To prevail in a civil conspiracy action, a
7 plaintiff must prove an explicit or tacit agreement between the tortfeasors.²⁵ The Shapiros
8 correctly define “unlawful objective” to mean criminal conduct. The conduct alleged in this 9 matter is sufficient to infer the Welts intended to accomplish criminal conduct.

10 Howard also requested an opportunity to conduct discovery to allow him to present further 11 evidence on this point. However, this request is denied as moot given the ruling on this topic.

12 II. Motion to Dismiss Certain Causes of Action

13 This motion is granted in part as to Jenna Shapiro and all causes of action except 14 defamation and civil conspiracy, as previously described. The Welts are to file an answer no later

Plaintiff(s),

GLEN WELT,
Defendant(s).

Case No. A-14-706566-C
DEPT. XXVII

BEFORE THE HONORABLE NANCY ALLF, DISTRICT COURT JUDGE

WEDNESDAY, JULY 17, 2019

TRANSCRIPT OF PROCEEDINGS RE:
ALL PENDING MOTIONS TO DISMISS

For the Plaintiff(s): ALEX GHIBAUDO, ESQ.

For the Defendant(s): MICHAEL P. LOWRY, ESQ.

RECORDED BY: BRYNN WHITE, COURT RECORDER

1 LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, WEDNESDAY, JULY 17, 2019

2 [Proceeding commenced at 10:46 a.m.]

4 THE COURT: Appearances, please. Left to your -- my -- 5 your right to left.

6 MR. GHIBAUDO: Good morning, Your Honor. Alex
7 Ghibaudo for the Shapiros.

8 MR. LOWRY: Michael Lowry on behalf of the Welts.

9 THE COURT: Thank you.

10 I've reviewed everything and I thank you for your 11 professional courtesy in making that donation, Mr. Ghibaudo.

12 MR. GHIBAUDO: And I appreciate you allowing the 13 continuance, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Good enough.

15 So we have the defendant's Motion to Dismiss?

16 MR. LOWRY: Yes. We also have another issue. The 17 plaintiff, last night at 4:38, filed a supplementary exhibit. At this 18 point --

19 THE COURT: 4:38?

20 MR. GHIBAUDO: It's just an affidavit for my client,
21 denying the allegations.

22 MR. LOWRY: And my clients are going to move to strike
23 that orally here in court. This is getting ridiculous. The motion was 24 filed two months ago. The opposition was filed hours before the 25 last hearing. Now I'm getting a supplemental affidavit from

1 Mr. Shapiro less than 12 hours or so before the hearing. I prefer to 2 have that struck from the record. And we can proceed on the 3 pleadings that are -- or the briefing that's already been submitted.

4 MR. GHIBAUDO: It's a one-page --

5 THE COURT: And your response, please.

6 MR. GHIBAUDO: It's a one-page document, Your Honor,
7 that confirms what was said in the body of the motion. It's no
8 surprise to anybody that my client denies all the allegations that 9 were made in the website. I -- it's up to the Court what it wants to 10 do with it.

11 THE COURT: Your response -- your reply, please.

12 MR. LOWRY: The affidavit -- well, this file has been 13 ongoing for five years. I have no idea why it is Mr. Shapiro was 14 unable to provide an affidavit that he wanted to attach to his motion
15 until after -- looks like -- well, until July 9 is when it's dated. I
16 don't -- the signature is not dated, the notary stamp is not dated. I 17 have no idea why it wasn't filed until last night at 4:38. If it was that 18 important to them, perhaps they should have attached that to the 19 opposition.

20 So again, we move to strike it.

21 THE COURT: The oral Motion to Strike will be granted
22 and the exhibits filed on or about July 16, 2019, will be stricken 23 from the record. I have not read it, I just looked at it. It contains 24 nothing new.

25 MR. GHIBAUDO: That's right, Your Honor.

1 MR. LOWRY: Thank you, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: So let's argue the Motion to Dismiss.

3 MR. LOWRY: As to the Motion to Dismiss, we've been 4 here a few times, and I know that the Court has already reviewed
5 things. And rather than sitting here and going through a laundry
6 list of the items about why the motion should be granted, I would 7 rather focus the argument upon any questions that you may have 8 or have highlighted in your review. It seems like a better use of our 9 time and everyone in this courtroom.

10 THE COURT: I didn't really have any questions.

11 MR. LOWRY: Okay.

12 THE COURT: So if you'll --

13 MR. LOWRY: So I will just hit the highlights, then.

14 Based upon the briefing, it really comes down -- as far as 15 NRS 41.6373, that's the statement concerning an issue before a 16 judicial body. The question really is whether the -- what the 17 Shapiros categorize as comments on the website targeting, at best,
18 the handful of people, people who witnessed the alleged elder
19 abuse committed by Howard upon Walter, whether that qualifies.
20 It's a very -- at this point, it becomes a very narrow question of law,
21 as best I can tell. So that's, again, up to you.

22 And based upon what the Supreme Court has told us
23 twice now, I believe this addresses the factual questions that it had 24 on that second ruling about why the people that were targeted for 25 the speech would qualify within the statute. So that factual

1 development is now there.

2 The plaintiff -- I'm sorry, the Shapiros respond that, well,
3 the people should have to have some legal interest in the litigation,
4 but we don't have a statute requiring that. There's a difference
5 between having some interest in the litigation and having legal 6 standing. And it appears the Shapiros want to interpret the statute
7 as requiring that legal standing to be protected under the statute.
8 But that conflicts with the case law that we've discussed in prior 9 motions, that the Supreme Court has discussed in other cases on 10 this statute. So it can't be that narrow, but it does have to have 11 some relation.

12 And so we've tried to strike that balance with the factual
13 development about who these people necessarily were.

14 As far as the public interest, I can see that's a little bit 15 more difficult to discuss. But it really comes down to, at the end, is 16 blended speech going to be protected?

17 It's -- if the Shapiros' argument is that it must be either
18 public interest or private interest, it cannot be both, then it becomes 19 very difficult for us to identify what is a public interest.

20 If we're talking about abstract public interest, pure
21 abstract public interest, then the person making the speech cannot 22 have any private interest in it at all. And I was trying to come up
23 with an example of one where someone would have a public
24 interest that they're advocating in which they have no investment
25 whatsoever. And I couldn't, because why would you be talking

1 about an issue in public that doesn't somehow affect you? Doesn't
2 somehow relate back to an issue that you have in your personal life.

3 So they have this blended speech; it does address an 4 issue of public interest, as evidenced by the New Jersey statutes;
5 and does it relate to a private matter as well? Yes. But we don't 6 have anything saying it must be pure public interest speech, that it
7 cannot be both.

8 At that point, that's really it, other than the conversation
9 about the defamation and whether they can prove that or not. But 10 that's kind of second.

11 I know that the Shapiros have conceded that Jenna
12 Shapiro has no causes of action at this point, and that the -- four of 13 the six causes of action will not be pursued, so I'm not going to 14 address those with you or waste time.

15 THE COURT: Thank you.

16 And the opposition, please?

17 MR. GHIBAUDO: Thank you, Your Honor.

18 I do want to highlight some points. And because of my 19 side, I'm going to be standing here so I'm closer to my documents.

20 So there's two things here. The defendants are asserting
21 a defense that first these statements were made during the course
22 of judicial proceedings. I think that's subsection 3 of the statute, and 23 that the statements are a matter of public interest. And for those 24 reasons, they're protected speech. So the opposition addresses
25 both those points.

1 The first point, the public interest point, this is the same
2 argument that was made before, different species of the same
3 argument. Initially, the claim was that the public has an interest in 4 the operation of the courts. That's a broad and amorphous public
5 interest that the Supreme Court rejected in the first instance. This is 6 the same kind of argument.

7 Now the argument is the public has an interest in 8 generally in elder abuse. Again, that's bottom and amorphous. It's 9 not difficult to figure out what's in the public interest. The Shapiro 10 case outlines and sets forth guiding principles to determine what is 11 in the public interest and what is not.

12 So the first public interest does not equate with mere 13 curiosity. What they're alleging here is that if the public is curious, 14 if they have an interest, it's enough. That's not what Shapiro says.
15 A mere curiosity or an interest in some issue doesn't equate to a 16 public interest.

17 A matter of public interest should be something of 18 concern to a substantial number of people. Second clause of that is 19 a matter of interest, of concern to a speaker, and a relatively small, 20 specific audience is not a matter of public interest.

21 That is exactly what this is. In their motion, they attach an 22 affidavit for Mr. Welt. And Mr. Welt states specifically that:

23 I created a website with key words to specifically target
24 people with knowledge of Walter Shapiro, such as neighbors,
25 friends, or medical assistants, who witnessed elder abuse. I

1 also, to attract anyone with knowledge of Howard Shapiro's
2 prior LDs.

3 That is, by definition, a small, specific audience, which the 4 Supreme Court in this case -- and one of the two times that we've 5 been up to the Supreme Court -- said is not a matter of public
6 interest.

7 So what they are alleging now, specifically, what Mr. Welt
8 is saying was a purpose of this website, is not a matter of public 9 interest. In fact, what it is, is a mere effort to gather ammunition for 10 another round of private controversy, which subsection 4 of the 11 guiding principles again says it's not a matter of public interest.
12 That's what we have here.

13 So this controversy, this -- these -- because also keep in 14 mind, the Supreme Court said the -- what the Welts have to show is 15 how the public is interested in these -- in this conservatorship
16 proceedings. They haven't demonstrated that yet. They're saying 17 the elder abuse before was the operation of the courts, broad and 18 amorphous. It's not enough.

19 With respect to the second issue, which is the litigation.
20 This subsection 3, basically, what it says is that if there are judicial 21 proceedings, statements made during the course of judicial 22 proceedings are protected. Now, that, essentially, is a litigation
23 privilege.

24 What the Nevada Supreme Court has stated in this case
25 and in previous cases is that those that you are targeting, your

1 audience, has to have an interest in the outcome of the litigation.

2 And it's, specifically, in the case of Jacobson v. Adelson, the 3 Supreme Court defines that, in this context the media, it says:

4 When the media are not a party to the lawsuit or are 5 inextricably intertwined with the lawsuit, they don't have an
6 interest in the litigation.

7 None of the people that Mr. Welt identified as having -- as 8 specifically being his targets are either inextricably intertwined with 9 the litigation, nor do they have what it says here, or are a party to 10 the lawsuit. There's just nothing there.

11 It's instructed to note the cases that they cite in the reply.
12 One is an HOA case and one is a case where corporations were 13 suing each other. In the HOA case, a letter was sent out to 14 members of the HOA. Arguably, they have an interest in the 15 outcome of the litigation, because what happens to the HOA is 16 going to arguably affect them somehow in terms of how the rules
17 in the HOA change or whether their fees are increased or whatever.

18 With respect to the corporation, this feud between the 19 corporations, the customers had an interest, because they would be 20 affected by the outcome of that litigation in some way. You don't 21 have to necessarily have an interest in the litigation, but it has to 22 affect you in some way.

23 These people that he was targeting, witnesses, neighbors,
24 no interest whatsoever. Zero. So the litigation privilege at 25 subsection 3 doesn't apply.

1 Now, with respect to whether the burden shifts to Mr. --
2 that the Shapiros demonstrate that they have a clear and 3 convincing -- or they can show a clear and convincing evidence to 4 prevail. On this defamation claim, this is about as egregious a set
5 of statements that were made as you can find in any defamation
6 case.

7 They're alleging elder abuse, theft of the father, beating
8 him up. It's outlined right there. It's all stated explicitly stating that 9 this -- that my client is an egregious -- has committed egregious 10 acts that are felonious, that are in the nature of fraud and theft, that 11 imputes his ability -- or his ability to carry on a business, and it 12 imputes felonious conduct. That's defamation.

13 Now, is it true? My client says no. Obviously, he's going 14 to say no. What else do you have that would suggest that it's not 15 true? Well, since then, Your Honor, in actuality, my client is now 16 guardianship over his father. He has guardianship over him. If 17 those things were true, that would have never have happened.

18 Now, if the Court needs more -- if I have to prove now by 19 clear and convincing evidence we could prevail, we need to go
20 through discovery. And the statute provides an opportunity to do
21 that. And so if the Court is inclined to say that this was a good-faith
22 communication made and furthers the right to speech, yadda, 23 yadda, then give me the opportunity to conduct some discovery to 24 show that we have enough to prove by clear and convincing
25 evidence, could prevail on defamation claim.

1 That's all I have, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: So you did concede that some of the causes
3 of action could be dismissed?

4 MR. GHIBAUDO: Yeah, there was extortion, some of 5 those other causes of action, I --

6 THE COURT: Civil conspiracy?

7 MR. GHIBAUDO: They're not causes of action in -- the 8 only one that survives defamation per se in civil conspiracy.

9 THE COURT: Not the defamation?

10 MR. GHIBAUDO: Well, defamation, yeah. Defamation per 11 se.

12 THE COURT: And defamation per se?

13 MR. GHIBAUDO: Right. Those two. Defamation,
14 defamation per se, civil conspiracy.

15 THE COURT: Thank you.

16 And the reply, please.

17 MR. LOWRY: What the argument is -- you're hearing is an 18 attempt to blend various parts of the law that applies to the various 19 parts of this case into one argument.

20 The comments about an issue before -- under 21 consideration for judicial bodies under subsection 3, the litigation
22 privilege does not factor in to subsection 3. What it factors into is 23 the later conversation about whether the Shapiros, whether 24 Howard, at this point, is able to meet his burden of proof with clear
25 and convincing evidence.

1 So they're discreet. You can -- the Welts can satisfy their
2 burden to qualify for relief under subsection 3 without the litigation
3 privilege. The litigation privilege, again, just is a subset of one of 4 the arguments about the defamation claim and whether that can 5 apply.

6 Other than that, you've heard this case several times
7 before. Unless you have some specific questions, we can submit.

8 THE COURT: I don't.

9 The motion will be granted in part for those causes of 10 action the plaintiff does not intend to pursue.

11 The Motion to Dismiss will be granted. Jenna will be 12 dismissed.

13 I consider that punitive damages request is a remedy.
14 And so the motion will be granted in part, denied in the balance.
15 And the answer will be due on or about August 9, 2019.

16 Mr. Lowry, since you are successful in obtaining a partial 17 dismissal, you'll prepare the order.

18 Mr. Ghibaud, you wish to sign off on the form that 19 order?

20 MR. GHIBAUDO: Yes, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Present an order that's agreed as to form.
22 Is there a question?

23 MR. LOWRY: I have an administrative question about the 24 order. The statute does create an immediate right of appeal on one
25 of these motions when they're denied. And we've been up before

1 on -- and the Supreme Court has asked --

2 THE COURT: I take no offense.

3 MR. LOWRY: I'm sorry?

4 THE COURT: I take no offense.

5 MR. LOWRY: No, no, no. No, and I understand the 6 motions denied. What I'm asking is --

7 MR. GHIBAUDO: Been there before.

8 MR. LOWRY: -- I think they're going to ask us for 9 clarification as to why it's not -- because right now I'm not sure
10 what argument I'm going to make. So --

11 THE COURT: I have adopted all of the arguments of the 12 opposition.

13 MR. LOWRY: That's what I needed.

14 MR. GHIBAUDO: I can prepare the order, if you want,
15 Your Honor.

16 MR. LOWRY: No, with that clarification, I can make it
17 work.

18 THE COURT: Let's agree as other form. Technically, he -- 19 one, since part of the motion is granted. And so, present -- if you
20 have any problems in formulating the order, let me know --

Defendants.

If an anti-SLAPP special motion to dismiss is granted, the court "shall award reasonable costs and attorney's fees to the person against whom the action was brought..."¹ The Welts' filed such a motion to dismiss. Jenna Shapiro did not oppose it. Howard Shapiro did not oppose it as to four of his six causes of action. The motion was granted on those points and denied as to the remainder. The Welts now request attorneys' fees on those parts that were granted.

The Welts also request a discretionary award against both Jenna and Howard. They did not oppose the motion to dismiss on areas noted above. The Welts spent nearly five years litigating those points, advancing the same position consistently throughout. The Shapiros spent almost five years pursuing claims they couldn't support. That is exactly the type of conduct NRS 41.660 is intended to deter.

10 DECLARATION OF MICHAEL LOWRY

11 Exhibits 1-5 are billing and cost records concerning this lawsuit. The statements were 12 prepared at my direction, I have reviewed them, and they accurately reflect all fees and costs the 13 Welts have incurred through this motion. These fees reflect a reasonable charge for the services
14 provided and were necessarily incurred. The statements have been partially redacted to protect 15 attorney-client and attorney work product privileges.

16 I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct, per NRS

1 Memorandum of Points & Authorities

2 I. NRS 41.670(1)(a) is unambiguous and requires an award of all reasonable fees.

3 “If the court grants a special motion to dismiss filed pursuant to NRS 41.660: (a) The
4 court shall award reasonable costs and attorney’s fees to the person against whom the action was 5 brought....”² Here, the Welts filed a special motion to dismiss. That motion was granted in full
6 as to Jenna Shapiro. It was granted as to four of Howard’s six causes of action. As a result, an
7 award of reasonable costs and fees is mandated on those parts that were granted.

8 In the past, the Shapiros have argued only certain fees are recoverable. The court has 9 previously rejected that argument because NRS 41.670(1)(a) contains no language limiting the 10 award of attorney’s fees to those within certain categories. For instance, if the Legislature had 11 wished to limit the categories of recoverable fees, NRS 41.670(1)(a) could have mirrored 12 Guam’s anti-SLAPP statute. If a Guam court grants an anti-SLAPP motion to dismiss, it shall 13 award the “costs of litigation, including reasonable attorney and expert witness fees, incurred in 14 connection with the motion....”³ NRS 41.670(1)(a) contains no similar restriction. Even had it, 15 Guam’s limiting language is broadly interpreted to include far more than merely drafting and 16 arguing the motion itself.⁴

17 a. If NRS 41.670 is ambiguous, Legislative intent requires an award of all 18 reasonable attorneys’ fees.

19 “If the statutory language fails to address the issue, this court construes the statute
20 according to that which reason and public policy would indicate the legislature intended.”⁵ “The 21 Legislature’s intent is the primary consideration when interpreting an ambiguous statute.”⁶ 22 “When construing an ambiguous statutory provision, this court determines the meaning of the 23 ² NRS 41.670(1)(a).

24 ³ 7 Guam Code § 17106(g)(1) (2014).

25 ⁴ Enriquez v. Smith, 2015 Guam 29, ¶ 34 (“Smith’s initial appeal arguing that the trial court be
26 compelled to address her anti-SLAPP motion on the merits, as well as her defense of the appeal 27 in the present case are certainly covered by the statutory mandate. Additionally, because the 28 award of attorney’s fees and sanctions are a mandatory result of success on a CPGA motion, Smith’s counterclaims regarding these issues are also sufficiently connected to her motion to warrant compensation for preparation of these arguments.”).

1 words used in a statute by examining the context and the spirit of the law or the causes which
2 induced the legislature to enact it.”⁷

3 The Supreme Court has previously discussed the Legislature’s intent in enacting
4 Nevada’s anti-SLAPP statutes. The Court concluded “[a] SLAPP suit is a meritless lawsuit that 5 a party initiates primarily to chill a defendant’s exercise of his or her First Amendment free
6 speech rights.”⁸ “The hallmark of a SLAPP lawsuit is that it is filed to obtain a financial 7 advantage over one’s adversary by increasing litigation costs until the adversary’s case is 8 weakened or abandoned.”⁹ “When amending Nevada’s anti-SLAPP statute in 1997, the 9 Legislature explained that SLAPP lawsuits abuse the judicial process by chilling, intimidating,
10 and punishing individuals for their involvement in public affairs.”¹⁰ “The Legislature further 11 reasoned that the number of SLAPP lawsuits in Nevada had increased, and therefore,
12 implementation of an anti-SLAPP statute was essential to protect citizens’ constitutional 13 rights.”¹¹

14 “The hallmark of a SLAPP lawsuit is that it is filed to obtain a financial advantage over 15 one’s adversary by increasing litigation costs until the adversary’s case is weakened or 16 abandoned.”¹² If NRS 41.670(1)(a) is interpreted to restrict a successful defendant to recovering
17 only those attorney’s fees in specific categories of work, a financial motivation would still exist
18 to file the SLAPP lawsuit to gain a financial advantage. The defendants, who should never have 19 been sued, would still be forced to spend money on attorney’s fees defending themselves from a 20 non-meritorious lawsuit but only a fraction of those fees are recoverable. This is precisely what 21 occurred here as to Jenna Shapiro and four of Howard’s six causes of action. Reading a 22 limitation into what fees are recoverable is contrary to the Legislature’s stated intent of 23 protecting its citizens’ ability to participate in public affairs.

1 b. The Welts may also recover their reasonable attorneys' fees and costs
2 incurred on the appeals.

3 The Welts' also request their attorneys' fees and costs incurred on the prior appeals in 4 this case. Multiple courts construing anti-SLAPP fee shifting statutes have concluded the 5 prevailing defendants may also recover their reasonable attorney's fees and costs incurred
6 appealing a ruling on an anti-SLAPP motion. In Guam, "the trial court erred in denying Smith's
7 request for attorney's fees associated with the appeal...."¹³ Multiple state and federal courts
8 interpreting California's anti-SLAPP statute have reached the same conclusion.¹⁴ Washington¹⁵
9 and Oregon¹⁶ have also ruled this way.

10 These conclusions are consistent with NRS 41.670(1)(a), as it contains no language
11 excluding reasonable costs and attorneys' fees on appeal from the award.

12 II. The Welts request $32,156.61 from Jenna and $21,435.60 from Howard.

13 Applied here, the Welts have incurred total fees of $62,906, and total costs of $1,407.22.
14 There were two plaintiffs, so the Welts divide those totals in half. As the motion was granted in 15 full as to Jenna Shapiro, the Welts request the court award a judgment against her totaling 16 $32,156.61, which is her 50% share of the fees and costs incurred.

17 As to Howard Shapiro, he did not oppose the motion as to four of his six causes of action.
18 The Welts thus request the court award them $\frac{2}{3}$ of Howard's 50%. Howard's 50% is also 19 \$32,156.61, $\frac{2}{3}$ of that is \$21,435.60.

20 a. The total fees and costs incurred.

21 Michael Lowry has been the Welts' lead counsel since the case started. When it started, 22 Mr. Lowry was an attorney with Thorndal Armstrong Delk Balkenbush & Eisinger. While Mr.
23 Lowry was there, the Welts incurred 121.9 hours of time, at an hourly rate of $250.00, for a total

1 fee of 30,475.00.¹⁷ The Welts were also assessed $1,101.90 for both district and appellate court
2 filing fees.¹⁸ All of the costs listed are for actual filings that can be verified against both court
3 systems' dockets.

4 In July, 2016, Mr. Lowry joined the Wilson Elser Moskowitz Edelman & Dicker law
5 firm. Mr. Lowry's hourly rate remained $250 per hour through December 31, 2017, then
6 changing to $265 per hour on January 1, 2018. Since then and through this motion he has spent 7 115.3 hours on the case, for a total charge of $29,441.50.¹⁹ Mr. Lowry has also been assisted by 8 associate Amanda A. Ebert. Ms. Ebert has spent 13.2 hours working on this matter and her rate
9 adjusted from $225 an hour to $240 an hour on January 1, 2018. The combined fee for her time 10 totals $2,989.50.

11 The Welts have incurred court filing costs of $301.82, through August 15, 2019.²⁰
12 Missing from the cost report is the $3.50 e-filing charge for this motion, increasing the total to 13 $305.32.

14 b. The Welts satisfy the Brunzell factors.

15 NRS 41.670(1)(a) permits an award of only "reasonable" attorney's fees. Brunzell v.
16 Golden Gate Nat. Bank provides the analysis by which to evaluate if the attorneys' fees were 17 reasonable. Brunzell requires district courts to consider at least four factors.

- 18 (1) the qualities of the advocate: his ability, his training, education, experience,
19 professional standing and skill;
20 (2) the character of the work to be done: its difficulty, its intricacy, its importance, 21 time and skill required, the responsibility imposed and the prominence and 22 character of the parties where they affect the importance of the litigation;
23 (3) the work actually performed by the lawyer: the skill, time and attention given 24 to the work;
25 (4) the result: whether the attorney was successful and what benefits were 26 derived.²¹

27 Brunzell provides the district court with a method to evaluate whether the attorney's fees
28 requested are appropriate for the facts and circumstances of the individual case. They are ²¹ Brunzell v. Golden Gate Nat. Bank, 85 Nev. 345, 349, 455 P.2d 31, 33 (1969).

1 designed to protect opposing parties from exorbitant rates from less qualified lawyers, dubious
2 billing activities, or poor quality work. The court previously addressed these factors in its two 3 prior orders granting attorneys' fees to the Welts. The analysis remains largely the same.

4 The Welts' lead counsel, Michael Lowry, is a licensed attorney practicing in Nevada
5 since 2007 and has represented the Welts since this case was filed. His rate for this matter
6 started at $250 rate in 2014, and increased to $265 on January 1, 2018. Associate Amanda Ebert
7 has practiced in Nevada since 2012 and billed at $225 an hour until the rate changed to $240 an 8 hour on January 1, 2018. This rate reflects their differing experience levels.

9 As the court found in its February 20, 2015 order, "[t]he character of the work done was 10 intricate, and required research into a developing area of law."²² This analysis still applies. This 11 case has been appealed twice. During those appeals, the law in this area changed repeatedly.
12 This analysis also satisfies the third Brunzell factor as the work actually performed reflects a 13 level of skill, time, and attention that matches the intricate nature the analysis that was required.

14 Finally, the fourth factor is also satisfied. The Welts' position was successful as to all but 15 two causes of action. The decision benefitted the Welts by terminating Jenna's claims against 16 them and narrowing the scope of Howard's.

17 a. Filing costs are expressly recoverable.

18 The $1,407.22 for court filing fees that have been incurred are expressly recoverable.
19 NRS 18.005(1) defines the term "costs" to include clerks' fees.

20 III. A discretionary award is also merited.

21 The relief available when a special motion to dismiss is granted is not limited to 22 attorneys' fees and costs. "The court may award, in addition to reasonable costs and attorney's 23 fees awarded pursuant to paragraph (a), an amount of up to $10,000 to the person against whom 24 the action was brought."²³ Texas has a similar statute. There, the purpose and amount of this 25 discretionary award should be "sufficient to deter the party who brought the legal action from 26 bringing similar actions described in this chapter."²⁴ An award is merited here.

27 ²² Order at 2:1-2.

28 ²³ NRS 41.660(1)(b).

²⁴ Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code § 27.009(a)(2).

1 a. Jenna Shapiro sued the Welts for a factual statement she agrees is accurate.

2 As to Jenna Shapiro, the Welts have argued since December, 2014 that her claims should 3 be dismissed because that the only factual statement about her on the disputed website was that
4 she was married to Howard.²⁵ Jenna never argued that fact was wrong, nor did the Welts’
5 position ever change. Despite that, she pursued her claims against the Welts for years before
6 finally not opposing the third motion to dismiss.²⁶

7 She sued the Welts for accurately stating the fact she is married to Howard. She then 8 pursued that claim for almost five years before simply giving it up. That type of conduct is 9 exactly what NRS 41.660 is intended to deter. It merits a discretionary award of $10,000 to each 10 of the Welts.

11 b. Howard dropped four of his causes of action for reasons the Welts have 12 argued since December, 2014.

13 Howard’s complaint alleged four causes of action: 1) defamation per se; 2) defamation; 14 3) extortion; 4) civil conspiracy; 5) fraud; and 6) punitive damages. After the Welts filed their 15 third motion to dismiss, Howard conceded all causes of action except defamation per se and civil 16 conspiracy.²⁷

17 The Welts have argued since December, 2014 that all of these claims failed for multiple 18 reasons. They have argued defamation could not survive for multiple factual reasons.²⁸ They 19 have long noted extortion is not a civil cause of action.²⁹ They always objected that the 20 complaint failed to properly plead a “fraud” cause of action.³⁰ Finally, they have always noted
21 that “punitive damages” is not an independent cause of action.³¹

22 Howard never conceded any of these points for nearly five years. His refusal to concede
23 them led to nearly five years of litigation and two appeals. This unnecessarily increased the fees
24

27 ²⁷ July 9, 2019 opposition at 10:3-4.

1 and costs related to this litigation for claims Howard had no basis to bring. It too It merits a 2 discretionary award of $10,000 to each of the Welts.

3 IV. Judgments against the Shapiros are merited.

4 This case has a long procedural history already that supports the fees and costs incurred.
5 A total judgment should be entered as follows:

- 6 • Jenna Shapiro, individually: $32,156.61 (Fees & Costs)
- 7 • Jenna Shapiro, individually: $10,000 to Glenn Welt, Rhoda Welt, Lynn Welt, and

EIGHTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT
CLARK COUNTY, NEVADA

HOWARD SHAPIRO et al.,

Plaintiff,

vs.

GLEN WELT et al.,

Defendants.

Case No.: A-14-706566-C

Dist. Ct. Dept. No.: 27

OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANTS' MOTION

Plaintiff Howard Shapiro ("Howard"), through his counsel Alex B. Ghibauda, Esq. of the law firm Alex B. Ghibauda, PC, hereby opposes Defendants' motion for attorney's fees, costs and discretionary relief. This motion is based on the following Memorandum of Points and Authorities, the papers and pleadings already on file herein, the attached affidavits, if any, and any oral argument the court may permit at the hearing of this Motion.

Dated this 2nd day of October, 2019.

/s/ Alex Ghibauda

Alex B. Ghibauda, Nevada State Bar No. 10592
ALEX B. GHIBAUDO, PC
Attorney for Plaintiff Howard Shapiro

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

Defendants have filed a motion for attorney’s fees and costs pursuant to NRS 41.670(1)(a) alleging that they are entitled to attorney’s fees and costs because Defendants’ motion to dismiss was granted in part as to Jenna Shapiro. However, Mrs. Shapiro was not dismissed on the merits. Rather, after 5 years of litigation, she opted to end any further participation in this case. Mr. Lowry was informed of that even prior to the time that the latest motion to dismiss was filed on Defendants behalf. Indeed, the minutes to the August 1, 2019 hearing reflect as much when those minutes state that the “Motion to Dismiss re NRS 41.660 GRANTED IN PART for those causes of action the Plaintiff does not intend to pursue, Jenna Shapiro will be dismissed...” (emphasis added).

To be clear, it was undersigned counsel’s intent to communicate to the court that Mrs. Shapiro simply voluntarily dismissed the action as to her, pursuant to NRCP 41, not that she concedes that Defendants’ motion had any merit at all because it did not, as the Nevada Supreme Court affirmed on two occasions.

Furthermore, the causes of action that Howard Shapiro dismissed (extortion, fraud, punitive damages) were not related to Defendants’ good faith communication in furtherance of their right to petition or speech. Therefore, the dismissal of those causes of action do not fall under the purview of NRS 41.660.

CONCLUSION

Defendants' instant motion should be denied because: (1) Defendants' motion to dismiss was not granted on the merits; and (2) the causes of action Howard Shapiro dismissed had nothing to do with free speech rendering NRS 41.660 inapplicable.

Respectfully submitted this 2nd day of October, 2019.

Plaintiffs' opposition ignores reality in an attempt to escape responsibility for their choices. Plaintiffs' filed this suit. They decided what facts to allege and what causes of action to bring. They decided to pursue it for five years despite the Welts' consistent arguments that Jenna had no claims for relief and that at least four of Howard's six causes of action were not viable. They then decided to not oppose the third motion to dismiss on these grounds. Each of these decisions comes with risks, rewards, and consequences. The Shapiros are now just trying to escape the consequences of pursuing meritless claims for five years.

The Welts' motion is well supported in fact and law. It should be granted.

13 Memorandum of Points & Authorities

14 I. NRS 41.670(1)(a) is unambiguous and requires an award of all reasonable fees.

15 “If the court grants a special motion to dismiss filed pursuant to NRS 41.660: (a) The 16 court shall award reasonable costs and attorney’s fees to the person against whom the action was 17 brought....”¹ Here, the Welts filed a special motion to dismiss. That motion was granted in full 18 as to Jenna Shapiro. It was granted as to four of Howard’s six causes of action. As a result, an 19 award of reasonable costs and fees is mandated on those parts that were granted.

20 a. Jenna chose not to oppose a valid motion.

21 Jenna Shapiro opposes with two arguments. She first argues that she “was not dismissed
22 on the merits. Rather, after 5 years of litigation, she opted to end any further participation in this 23 case.”² She relies upon court minutes rather than the court’s written order. However, the 24 Supreme Court of Nevada has expressly determined a ““court’s oral pronouncement from the 25 bench, the clerk’s minute order, and even an unfiled written order are ineffective for any 26 purpose.””³

27 Once the opposing party enters an appearance, there are only two ways out of a lawsuit:
28 1) a stipulation to dismiss; or 2) dismissal via motion. Jenna Shapiro got neither. Instead, she

² Opposition at 2:6-7.

³ Div. of Child & Family Servs. v. Dist. Ct., 120 Nev. 445, 451, 92 P.3d 1239, 1243 (2004)
(quoting Rust v. Clark Cty. School District, 103 Nev. 686, 689, 747 P.2d 1380, 1382 (1987)).

1 received the Welts motion to dismiss and decided not to oppose it. That was her choice and she
2 gets to live with the consequences of her choice. Perhaps had she actually proposed a stipulation
3 to dismiss, the Welts might have considered it.

4 Jenna's argument also ignores the fact that she sued the Welts for accurately stating the 5 fact she is married to Howard. The Welts have presented that argument since December, 2014.
6 Yet Jenna still pursued the Welts for five years before finally not opposing the third motion to 7 dismiss.⁴ That conduct is exactly what NRS 41.660 is intended to deter. "A SLAPP suit is a
8 meritless lawsuit that a party initiates primarily to chill a defendant's exercise of his or her First
9 Amendment free speech rights."⁵ "The hallmark of a SLAPP lawsuit is that it is filed to obtain a 10 financial advantage over one's adversary by increasing litigation costs until the adversary's case 11 is weakened or abandoned."⁶ She sued the Welts for five years because they told the truth. The 12 fact that she finally decided to stop does not save her from the consequences of that choice.

13 Ruling as Jenna proposes would gut the remedy NRS 41.660 was designed to provide as 14 the plaintiff filing a SLAPP lawsuit could avoid the statute's deterrent effects by unilaterally 15 abandoning the case.

16 b. Jenna could not voluntarily dismiss.

17 Her second argument is that she planned to dismiss per Rule 41. She seems to argue that 18 she could unilaterally dismiss herself from the lawsuit at any time. However, the procedural 19 posture of the case did not allow a unilateral, voluntary dismissal per Rule 41(a)(1)(A). Again, 20 the only way out for her was either via a stipulation or motion. She pursued neither.

21 c. Howard's dismissed causes of action all related to protected activity.

22 Howard pled six causes of action. He chose not to oppose the Welts motion to dismiss as 23 to four of those six causes of action. He now argues that three of those he conceded, "(extortion, 24 fraud, punitive damages) were not related to Defendants' good faith communication in 25 furtherance of their right to petition or speech,"⁷ so the Welts are ineligible for an award of fees 26

27 ⁴ July 9, 2019 opposition at 10:2-3.

28 ⁵ Stubbs v. Strickland, 129 Nev. Adv. Op. 15, 297 P.3d 326, 329 (2013) (citations omitted).

⁶ John v. Douglas Cnty. Sch. Dist., 125 Nev. 746, 752, 219 P.3d 1276, 1280 (2009).

⁷ Opposition at 2:17-19.

1 and costs. In so arguing, Howard implicitly concedes at least the defamation cause of action was 2 related. Howard's 50% share of the fees and costs is $32,156.61, one sixth of that is $5,359.44.
3 That much should be summarily awarded.

4 However, Howard's arguments as to the extortion, fraud, and punitive damages causes of 5 action directly conflict with the allegations he pursued for five years. Paragraphs 7 through 23 in 6 the complaint he filed on September 4, 2014 pled a single common fact pattern that related
7 entirely to the website that is at the center of this case. Each cause of action then incorporated
8 those facts as pled without adding anything new. Howard cannot stick his head in the sand five 9 years later and pretend something else happened so he can avoid responsibility for $21,435.60 in 10 fees and costs his complaint caused.

11 d. The Welts request the award be increased $106.

12 This motion was filed on August 16, 2019, and noticed that same day for hearing on 13 September 19, 2019. On September 11, 2019 the parties emailed with the court and agreed to 14 move the hearing to October 3 at 9:30 a.m., at the Shapiros' request. Yet Plaintiffs did not 15 oppose this motion until October 3 at 3:01 a.m. Plaintiffs' counsel did not appear for the 16 hearing, instead emailing the Welts' counsel indicating he had a conflicting hearing in North Las 17 Vegas. The court elected to continue the hearing to October 10, over the Welts' objections.

18 The Welts were billed 0.4 for attending this hearing that ultimately served no purpose.
19 The hearing had no purpose because of the Shapiros' actions. The award should be increased by 20 $106.00 ($265 x 0.4) to offset this waste of time.

21 II. The Welts' motion should be granted.

22 The Shapiros do not oppose any other aspect of the motion. They concede the fees and 23 costs are reasonable. They concede the statute's language is mandatory. They do not dispute the 24 method by which the Welts apportioned the fees or costs. Their objections are unpersuasive.

25 The court should enter a judgment in the Welts' favor as below:

- 26 • Jenna Shapiro, individually: $32,209.61 (Fees & Costs)
- 27 • Jenna Shapiro, individually: $10,000 to Glenn Welt, Rhoda Welt, Lynn Welt, and
- 28 Michele Welt, each, per NRS 41.660(1)(b).

- Howard Shapiro, individually: $21,488.60 (Fees & Costs)
- Howard Shapiro, individually: $10,000 to Glenn Welt, Rhoda Welt, Lynn Welt, and Michele Welt, each, per NRS 41.660(1)(b).
