unnecessary research and analysis regarding the Five (5) Year Rule when APCO had obtained a court order stating that since trial commenced on October 30, 2012, the five year rule was no longer applicable.

III. ARGUMENTS

A. WHEN APCO ASSIGNED THE SUBCONTRACT AGREEMENT TO GEMSTONE, IT WAIVED AND RELINQUISHED ITS PURPORTED RIGHTS TO SEEK ATTORNEYS' FEES PURSUANT TO SECTION 18.5 OF THE SUBCONTRACT AGREEMENT.

In the FFCL, the Court concluded that (i) the subcontract agreements were assigned by APCO to Gemstone; (ii) each party's behavior was consistent with APCO's assignment of the subcontract agreements; (iii) the prime contract between Gemstone and APCO ("Prime Contract") contained a provision for the assignment of APCO's subcontract agreements upon termination of the Prime Contract; (iv) the Prime Contract was incorporated into the subcontract agreements; (v) once APCO left the Project, the subcontract agreements were assigned to Gemstone pursuant to Gemstone's written notice to APCO; and (vi) once Gemstone had those subcontract agreements, it facilitated the assumption of the subcontract agreements. [See Exh. 1 to APCO's Motion, FFCL at pp. 68-69, Nos. 116-120.]

As a result of the Court's conclusions, APCO voluntarily assigned the Subcontract Agreement to Gemstone. When APCO assigned the Subcontract Agreement to Gemstone in 2008, APCO waived and relinquished any and all rights set forth in the Subcontract Agreement.

NEVADA LAW

In the Motion, APCO cites to 3685 San Fernando Lenders, LLC v. Compass USA SPE, LLC (In re USA Commer. Mortg. Co.), 802 F Supp. 2d 1147, 1162-1163 (D. Nev. 2011) as authority that once Cabinetec assigned all of its rights, title and interest in the Manhattan West claims to National Wood on or about January 22, 2018, National Wood "stepped in CabineTec's shoes for all purposes of CabineTec's claim against APCO." [See APCO's Motion at p.5:3-7.] Here APCO is correct. However, that argument cuts both ways.

1 Once APCO assigned the Subcontract Agreement to Gemstone, Gemstone “stepped into
2 the shoes” of APCO and Gemstone acquired all APCO’s rights under the Subcontract
3 Agreement, including the benefit of the attorneys’ fees provision therein. See Elliot v. Resnick,
4 114 Nev. 25, 33 (1998), citing Estate of Jordan v. Hartford Acc. & Indem., 120 Wash.2d 490,
5 844 P.2d 403, 407 (1993).

6 The Court in 3685 San Fernando Lenders, LLC cited to Enright v. Mintz, 116 Misc.2d
7 1084, 457 N.Y.S.2d 180, 181 (N.Y.Civ.Ct. 1982) to support the authority that an assignee
8 acquires all of the rights in a contract from the assignor. In Enright, the subtenant/assignee of a 9 lease sought to recover attorney’s fees from the prime tenant/assignor after the 10 subtenant/assignee prevailed in a holdover proceeding brought by the prime tenant/assignor.
11 The court first noted that “It is hornbook law that an assignee steps into the shoes of the 12 assignor.” Id. at 1085. However, the court found that the subtenant/assignee was not entitled to 13 attorneys’ fees because the sublease agreement, which was found to be an assignment because 14 there was no reversionary interest in the prime tenant/assignor, was silent as to attorney’s fees
15 between the prime tenant/assignor and subtenant/assignee. Ibid. However, the court noted that,
16 in a proceeding brought by the landlord against the subtenant/assignee, the subtenant/assignee 17 would be in the same position as the prime tenant/assignor and thus, where the lease granted the 18 prevailing party a right to attorney’s fees, the subtenant/assignee would acquire the prime 19 tenant/assignor’s statutory right to attorneys’ fees. Id. at 1085, 1086.

20 CALIFORNIA LAW

21 Under California law, an assignment extinguishes the assignor’s rights under the 22 assigned contract. In McCown v. Spencer, 8 Cal.App.3d 216, 87 Cal.Rptr. 213 (2nd Dist.1970), 23 the intended purchaser of real property, Alvin J. McCown (“McCown”), sued the sellers for 24 breach of an escrow agreement. Id. at 222. After a jury verdict was returned in favor of 25 McCown, the trial court concluded that McCown had assigned his rights as the purchaser under 26 the escrow agreement to a third party named to E. J. Milligan (“Milligan”). Id. at 225. Because 27 the trial court concluded that McCown had assigned his contract to purchase the property, the

28 ///

1 trial court found that he had no right to demand performance under the contract, and granted
2 judgment for the sellers notwithstanding the verdict. Ibid.

3 McCown appealed. The Court of Appeal held that an assignor “may not maintain an 4 action upon a claim after making an absolute assignment of it to another; his right to demand
5 performance is extinguished, the assignee acquiring such right.” Id. at 225.

6 Ultimately, the Court of Appeal reversed the trial court since the evidence was in 7 conflict as to whether McCown had actually assigned his rights to Milligan. Id. at 226.
8 However, in the instant matter there is no dispute that APCO assigned its rights under the 9 Subcontract Agreement to Gemstone. [See FFCL at p. 69, Nos. 116-120⁵, Exh. 1 to APCO’s
10 Motion.] APCO requested and the Court found this was so. Therefore, APCO has no rights to 11 enforce the attorneys’ fees provision under the Subcontract Agreement.

12 What constitutes an “absolute assignment” was defined in Botsford v. Haskins &
13 Sells, 81 Cal.App.3d 780, 784 (1978). In Botsford, the court reviewed an agreement where a 14 trustor assigned “all of its right, title and interest” in certain assets to a trustee. The court held 15 that such contractual language, without a listed remainder or reservation, indicates an absolute
16 assignment. Id. at 783. The court further held that the assignee acquires the right to demand
17 performance, and the assignor’s right is extinguished. (Emphasis added.) Id. at 784.
18 Therefore, all of the assignor’s rights and interests, including causes of actions and rights to sue,
19 were relinquished to the assignee. Id. at 783–84.

20 In the instant matter, the Court concluded that APCO assigned the Subcontract
21 Agreement to Gemstone without a listed remainder or reservation thus resulting in an “absolute 22 assignment.” Therefore, APCO’s rights under the Subcontract Agreement were extinguished
23 in 2008.

26
27 ⁵ / National Wood and Helix have disputed these contentions and respectfully disagree with the Court’s conclusions.
28 Any references made regarding the FFCL in this Opposition should not be interpreted as National Wood’s agreement with these conclusions. Nonetheless, the Court must evaluate the Motion consistent with the Court’s conclusions set forth in the FFCL.

1 LAW OF OTHER STATES

2 Courts in numerous other states have found that an assignor gives up all rights to 3 enforce a contract once it has been assigned. “An assignment vests in the assignee the right to 4 enforce the contract, an assignor retains no rights to enforce the contract after it has been
5 assigned.” (Emphasis added.) Estate of Basile v. Famest, Inc., 718 So.2d 892 (Fla. 4th DCA
6 1998); see also Ryder Truck Rental, Inc. v. Transportation Equipment Co., Inc., 339 N.W.2d
7 283 (Neb., 1983) citing 6A C.J.S. Assignments § 96 (1975) (Generally, an assignor retains only 8 those rights which have not passed to the assignee by the assignment. The assignor loses all 9 right to control or enforce an assigned right against the obligor (emphasis added)); Imel v.
10 Travelers Indem. Co., 281 N.E.2d 919, 921 (Ind.App. 1972) (“assignment is an outright
11 transfer of the claim.”) (Emphasis added.); Allstate Insurance Company v. Medical Lien
12 Management, Inc., 348 P.3d 943, 947 (Colorado 2015) citing Corbin on Contracts, § 50.1, at 13 223 (an assignment “extinguishes a contract right in the assignor and recreates that right in 14 the assignee” (emphasis added)).

15 The rule that the assignor “deprives himself of all interest and control” over the assigned
16 rights applies equally to a judgment for attorney’s fees. See Boarman v. Boarman, 556 S.E.2d 17 800, 804 (W.Va 2001) (a party can assign away its contractual right to receive an award of 18 attorney’s fees but cannot, by assignment, delegate the obligation away).

19 An assignee of a contract “steps into the shoes of the assignor, and has all of the rights
20 of the assignor.” Estate of Jordan v. Hartford Accident & Indem. Co., 120 Wash.2d 490, 495,
21 844 P.2d 403 (1993). This transfer of rights is all-encompassing. In Estate of Jordan, persons
22 whose escrow funds had been embezzled were assigned the escrow agent’s right of action 23 against the insurer that had contracted with the agent to provide the fidelity bond required by 24 statute. The court held that the insurer was liable to the embezzlement victims as the insured’s
25 assignees. Id. at 497-502.

26 APCO’s assignment of the Subcontract Agreement also constituted a waiver of all 27 APCO’s rights under the Subcontract. See Nevada Yellow Cab Corp. v. Eighth Judicial Dist.
28 Court ex rel. Cty. of Clark, 123 Nev. 44, 49, 152 P.3d 737, 740 (2007). A waiver requires the

1 intentional relinquishment of a known right. The waiver of a right may be inferred when a
2 party engages in conduct so inconsistent with an intent to enforce the right as to induce a
3 reasonable belief that the right has been relinquished. Id. at fn. 8, citing Hudson v. Horseshoe
4 Club Operating Co., 112 Nev. 446, 457, 916 P.2d 786, 792 (1996).

5 APCO has expressly waived all rights under the Subcontract Agreement by assigning its 6 rights under the Subcontract Agreement to Gemstone and by its subsequent conduct after the 7 assignment. Indeed, this Court concluded that “Each party’s behavior is consistent with the 8 assignment of the Cabinetec and Helix Subcontracts to Gemstone.” [See FFCL at p. 69, No.
9 116, Exh. 1 to APCO’s Motion]. APCO’s actions in assigning the Subcontract Agreement
10 plainly constitute a voluntary relinquishment of known rights. See Nevada Yellow Cab Corp., 11 supra.

12 Since APCO has assigned, waived and relinquished its rights under the Subcontract
13 Agreement, APCO no longer has any contractual rights to enforce the Subcontract Agreement, 14 including seeking an award of attorneys’ fees under Section 18.5 of the Subcontract Agreement.

16 1. APCO HAS NO CONTRACTUAL RIGHTS TO SEEK AN AWARD OF ATTORNEYS’
17 FEES SINCE THE SUBCONTRACT AGREEMENT WAS ASSIGNED TO GEMSTONE AND 18 CAMCO IN 2008.

19 APCO contends that it is entitled to an award of attorneys’ fees and costs pursuant to 20 Section 18.5 of the Subcontract Agreement. Section 18.5 of the Subcontract Agreement provides, 21 “In the event either party employs an attorney to institute a lawsuit or to demand arbitration for 22 any cause arising out of the Subcontract Work, or any of the Contract Documents, the prevailing 23 party shall be entitled to all costs, attorney’s fees and other reasonable expenses incurred therein.”
24 (Emphasis added.) APCO is wrong since it assigned its right, title and interest in the Subcontract
25 Agreement to Gemstone, without any remainder or reservation, and was no longer a party to the 26 Subcontract Agreement since 2008. As discussed above, Gemstone stepped into the shoes of 27 APCO with regard to the Subcontract Agreement, which was later assumed by CAMCO.

1 Gemstone acquired the contractual rights under the Subcontract Agreement once it was assigned
2 to it by APCO.

3 Under Nevada law, it is well settled that attorney's fees are not recoverable absent a
4 statute, rule or contractual provision to the contrary. Rowland v. Lepire, 99 Nev. 308, 662 P.2d
5 1332 (1983). Pursuant to NRS 18.010(1), "the compensation of an attorney and counselor for his 6 services is governed by agreement, express or implied, which is not restrained by law."

7 In the present case, the Court concluded that APCO is not and has not been a party to the 8 Subcontract Agreement since 2008 since it assigned the Subcontract Agreement to Gemstone.
9 [See FFCL at p. 69, Nos. 116-120⁶, Exh. 1 to APCO's Motion.] As a result, all of the contractual
10 rights in the Subcontract Agreement belong to Gemstone and CAMCO, including the attorneys' 11 fees and costs provision, since 2008.

12 With no contractual rights pursuant to the Subcontract Agreement, which APCO assigned,
13 APCO has no standing to seek an award of attorneys' fees and costs.

15 2. APCO HAS NO STANDING TO SEEK AN AWARD OF ATTORNEYS' FEES PURSUANT 16 TO THE SUBCONTRACT AGREEMENT SINCE IT HAS NOT BEEN A PARTY TO THE 17 SUBCONTRACT AGREEMENT FOR APPROXIMATELY 10 YEARS.

18 The Nevada Supreme Court has held that an assignment of rights "eliminates the standing 19 of the assignor to pursue the litigation, and the assignee acquires standing instead." Manko
20 Holdings Ltd. v. Reno Project Management, LLC, 385 P.3d 43 (Unpublished Decision, Docket
21 No. 70525, September 27, 2016⁷) citing Butwinick v. Hepner, 128 Nev. 718, 721-22, 291 P.3d
22 119, 121 (2012); Applied Medical Technologies, Inc. v. Eames, 44 P.3d 699 (Utah 2002)
23 (granting a defendant judgment creditor's motion to dismiss an appeal, after the defendant 24 purchased at a constable's sale claims asserted against him by the plaintiff judgment debtor).

26 ⁶ / National Wood and Helix have disputed these contentions and respectfully disagree with the Court's conclusions.
27 Any references made regarding the FFCL in this Opposition should not be interpreted as National Wood's agreement
28 with these conclusions. Nonetheless, the Court must evaluate the Motion consistent with the Court's conclusions set forth in the FFCL.

⁷ / Pursuant to NRAP 36(c)(3), a party may cite an unpublished disposition of the Nevada Supreme Court issued on or after January 1, 2016.

1 The inquiry into whether a party is a real party in interest overlaps with the question of
2 standing. Arguello v. Sunset Station, Inc., 127 Nev. 365 (2011) citing Szilagyi v. Testa, 99 Nev.
3 834, 838, 673 P.2d 495, 498 (1983). NRCP 17(a) provides that “[e]very action shall be 4 prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest.” A real party in interest “is one who 5 possesses the right to enforce the claim and has a significant interest in the litigation.” Id. The 6 purpose of the rule, since it was amended in 1971 to conform to the federal rule, “was to make
7 unmistakably clear that ‘the modern function of the [real party in interest] rule in its negative
8 aspect is simply to protect the defendant against a subsequent action by the party actually entitled 9 to recover, and to insure generally that the judgment will have its proper effect as res judicata.’”
10 Easton Bus. Opp. v. Town Executive Suites, 126 Nev. 119 (2010) citing Fed.R.Civ.P. 17(a) 11 advisory committee’s note (1966).

12 It the present case, APCO is seeking to enforce a right, which it lost, to recover an award
13 of attorneys’ fees pursuant to the Subcontract Agreement that it voluntarily assigned over 10
14 years ago to Gemstone and CAMCO. APCO is not entitled to recover an award of attorneys’ fees
15 because it has not been a party to the Subcontract Agreement since 2008. To find otherwise
16 would beget absurd results. For example, had CAMCO prevailed in defending National Wood’s
17 contractual claims arising from the Subcontract Agreement at trial, CAMCO would have asserted
18 a right to an award of attorney’s fees with respect to the assigned Subcontract Agreement.
19 Exposure to liability to both APCO and CAMCO arising out of the same contractual provision is 20 exactly what NRCP 17(a) is designed to prevent. See Eastern Bus. Opp. v. Town Executive

22 Accordingly, since APCO is no longer a real party interest in the Subcontract Agreement
23 as a result of its voluntary assignment to Gemstone and CAMCO, it has no standing to seek 24 recovery of attorneys’ fees pursuant to Section 18.5 of the Subcontract Agreement.

1 B. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO SEEK ATTORNEYS' FEES AGAINST NATIONAL WOOD
2 PURSUANT TO NRS 108.237 BECAUSE CABINETEC DID NOT PURSUE FORECLOSURE OF A
3 MECHANIC'S LIEN AGAINST APCO.

4 APCO's Motion asserts that it is entitled to seek attorneys' fees pursuant to NRS
5 108.237. NRS 108.237 provides in pertinent part: "3. If the lien claim is not upheld, the court 6 may award costs and reasonable attorneys' fees to the owner or other person defending against 7 the lien claim if the court finds that the notice of lien was pursued by the lien claimant without 8 reasonable basis in law or fact."

9 First, Cabinetec pursued foreclosure of a mechanic's lien against Gemstone, not APCO.
10 Since APCO did not defend Cabinetec's lien claim, APCO is not entitled to seek attorneys' fees
11 pursuant to this statute against National Wood.

12 Second, the Court has made no finding that either Cabinetec or National Wood pursued
13 Cabinetec's lien claims "without a reasonable basis in law or fact." Moreover, the facts 14 demonstrate that the lien claims were reasonable.

15 Accordingly, APCO is not entitled to seek attorneys' fees against National Wood.

17 C. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO ATTORNEYS' FEES PURSUANT TO NRCP 68.

18 APCO claims that it is entitled to an award of all of the costs and attorney's fees that it
19 incurred in this matter under NRCP 68 since it served the APCO Offer on November 13, 2017, 20 and National Wood failed to accept it by or before November 23, 2017. However, the trial on the 21 consolidated matters commenced on October 30, 2012, pursuant to the Court's November 29, 22 2012 Order ("November 29, 2012 Court Order"), well over 5 years prior to the service of the 23 APCO Offer. [See November 29, 2012 Court Order attached as Exh. C to the Declaration of S.
24 Judy Hirahara ("Hirahara Decl.") filed concurrently herewith.] Therefore, the APCO Offer was 25 not timely served on National Wood.

26 Even if the Court finds that the APCO Offer was timely, which it clearly is not, APCO's
27 Motion still fails since APCO has failed to present the Court with an analysis of the four Beattie

28 ///

2 the attorneys' fees are reasonable and justified.

4 1. THE APCO OFFER IS INVALID SINCE IT WAS NOT TIMELY SERVED ON NATIONAL 5 WOOD.

6 NRCP 68 provides in pertinent part that, "[a]t any time more than 10 days before trial, any 7 party may serve an offer in writing to allow judgment to be taken in accordance with its terms and 8 conditions. Nev. R. Civ. P. 68. See also Palace Station Hotel & Casino, Inc. v. Jones, 115 Nev.
9 162, 165, 978 P.2d 323, 325 (1999) (express language of NRCP 68 "expressly provides that the 10 offer of judgment must be made 'more than 10 days before the trial begins,' [and] the trial date is 11 the event from which the ten-day period begins to run.").

12 Pursuant to the November 29, 2012 Court Order that was prepared by APCO, the trial on 13 the consolidated matters, including National Wood's matter, commenced on October 30, 2012,
14 well over 5 years ago. The November 29, 2012 Court Order specifically provided that the five 15 year rule set forth in Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 41(e) is no longer applicable. [See Exh. 1 to 16 the Hirahara Decl.]

17 Here, the trial on the consolidated matters commenced on October 30, 2012, and APCO
18 did not serve the APCO Offer until November 13, 2017, over five years later. Accordingly, the 19 APCO Offer is invalid since it was not served more than 10 days before trial.

21 2. AN AWARD OF ATTORNEY'S FEES BASED ON AN OFFER OF JUDGMENT MUST BE 22 WARRANTED BY THE BEATTIE FACTORS; THE BEATTIE FACTORS DO NOT SUPPORT AN 23 AWARD TO APCO.

24 Even if the Court finds that the APCO Offer was timely, which it was not, APCO's Motion
25 still fails since APCO did not provide an analysis of the four Beattie factors to enable the Court to 26 consider and weigh the evidence and make findings based on evidence that the attorneys' fees are

28 ⁸ / APCO should have, but did not, present its analysis of the Beattie Factors in its Motion. National Wood respectfully requests that the Court bar APCO from presenting its analysis of the Beattie Factors in its reply to National Wood's Opposition or, in the alternative, if APCO's Reply contains such analysis, National Wood respectfully requests that the Court not consider it when it rules on the Motion.

1 reasonable and justified. As set forth below, the Beattie factors weigh against an award of 2 attorneys' fees to APCO.

3 "Claims for attorney fees under . . . NRCP 68 are fact intensive." Wynn v. Smith, 16 P.3d
4 424, 428 (2001). Attorney's fees are not merely granted to successful defendants who previously
5 made offers of judgment before prevailing against the plaintiff. Such awards require careful 6 analysis.

7 While trial courts have discretion under NRCP 68(f)(2) to award attorney's fees to a party 8 who obtains a judgment more favorable than a settlement offer, "the purpose of these provisions is 9 to encourage settlement, it is not to force plaintiffs unfairly to forego legitimate claims." Beattie v.
10 Thomas, 99 Nev. 579, 588 (1983) ("Beattie"). Unless the trial court considers the four factors set 11 forth by the Supreme Court of Nevada in Beattie, and makes findings "based on evidence that the 12 attorney's fees sought are reasonable and justified, it is abuse of discretion for the court to award 13 the full amount of fees requested" solely due to an offer of judgment. Id. at 589.

14 Specifically, trial courts must "carefully evaluate the following factors:"

15 (1) whether the plaintiff's claim was brought in good faith; (2) whether the 16 defendants' offer of judgment was reasonable and in good faith in both its timing 17 and amount; (3) whether the plaintiff's decision to reject the offer and proceed to 18 trial was grossly unreasonable or in bad faith; and (4) whether the fees sought by 19 the offeror are reasonable and justified in amount.

20 Id. at 588-89.

21 "After weighing the foregoing factors," the district judge may award attorney's fees only 22 "where warranted." Id. at 589.

23 Of particular importance in this analysis is "whether the offer is an attempt to force a 24 plaintiff to forego legitimate claims." Frazier v. Drake 357 P.3d 365, 372 (Nev. App. 2015).
25 Therefore, "[t]he first three factors all relate to the parties' motives in making or rejecting the offer 26 and continuing the litigation." Id. In evaluating the first three factors, the trial court is required to 27 focus on the good faith of the parties to promote the purpose of NRCP 68. "[I]f the good faith of 28 ///

1 either party in litigating liability and/or damage issues is not taken into account, offers would 2 have the effect of unfairly forcing litigants to forego legitimate claims.” Id.

4 a. NATIONAL WOOD’S CLAIMS WERE BROUGHT IN GOOD FAITH.

5 Nowhere in the Motion does APCO argue, much less provide evidence, for the contention
6 that National Wood made claims against APCO in bad faith. In fact, National Wood asserted
7 contractual and lien claims against APCO, CAMCO and Gemstone. While the Court ultimately 8 concluded that APCO is not liable to National Wood for the unpaid balance of its work on the 9 Manhattan West Project, which National Wood respectfully disputes, National Wood prevailed on 10 its claims against CAMCO and Gemstone. Since APCO does not argue or offer any evidence
11 National Wood proceeded in bad faith in this action, the first of the Beattie factors weighs against 12 any award of attorney’s fees.

14 b. THE APCO OFFER WAS NOT REASONABLE IN AMOUNT OR TIMING.

15 Nowhere in the Motion does APCO argue, much less provide evidence, for the contention
16 that the APCO Offer in the amount of $35,000.00 to settle the action was reasonable in amount or 17 timing. APCO’s offer was not reasonable at the time it was made. National Wood was seeking 18 over $1.1 million dollars; a nominal offer of $35,000.00 is clearly not an offer intended to 19 facilitate settlement. It is merely an offer intended to take advantage of NRCP 68 in the event that 20 APCO eventually prevailed, in complete derogation of the purpose of the Nevada Supreme 21 Court’s guidance in Beattie. Since APCO does not argue or offer any evidence that the APCO
22 Offer was reasonable in amount or timing, the second of the Beattie factors weighs against any 23 award of attorney’s fees.

25 c. NATIONAL WOOD’S DECISION TO REJECT THE OFFER AND PROCEED TO TRIAL
26 WAS REASONABLE AND IN GOOD FAITH.

27 As set forth above, the nominal amount of the offer made by APCO was totally 28 unreasonable given the fact that National Wood was seeking over $1.1 million dollars against

1 APCO. National Wood's decision to reject the APCO Offer and proceed to trial was not
2 unreasonable or in bad faith. As set forth herein, National Wood's claims against APCO,
3 CAMCO and Gemstone were factually intertwined. Furthermore, the Court granted partial 4 summary judgment on the Pay-if-Paid issue, which precluded APCO from asserting it as an 5 affirmative defense, a critical issue in this consolidated matter.⁹ The Nevada Supreme Court has 6 affirmed a trial court's decision to decline to award attorney's fees to a prevailing defendant that
7 offered $2,500.00 where the Plaintiff's rejection "was in good faith and not grossly unreasonable."
8 Ozawa v. Vision Airlines, Inc., 125 Nev. 556, 562 (2009). Therefore, this third Beattie factor
9 weighs against an award of attorneys' fees to APCO.

11 d. WHERE THE FIRST THREE BEATTIE FACTORS DO NOT FAVOR AN ATTORNEY'S 12 FEE AWARD, NO FEES MAY BE AWARDED AS A MATTER OF LAW.

13 Here, the first three Beattie factors do not support an award of attorney's fees; therefore, no
14 attorney's fees should be awarded to APCO. "The reasonableness of the fees requested cannot, by 15 itself, outweigh the other three Beattie factors." Frazier, supra, 357 P.3d at 367. Where the trial 16 court finds that "the three good-faith Beattie factors weigh in favor of the party that rejected the 17 offer of judgment, the reasonableness of the fees requested by the offeror . . . cannot . . . support a
18 decision to award attorney fees to the offeror." Id. at 373. If the reasonableness of the attorney's 19 fees requested "alone support[s] an award of attorney fees" by the trial court, such an award is 20 "arbitrary and capricious and constitute[s] legal error." Id.

22 3. IF THE COURT FINDS THAT THE APCO OFFER WAS TIMELY SERVED, WHICH IT
23 WAS NOT, NRCP 68 DOES NOT PERMIT APCO TO RECOVER ALL OF ITS FEES, ONLY 24 "POST-OFFER" FEES THAT ARE REASONABLE.

25 NRCP 68 does not permit APCO to recover all of its attorney's fees for the defense of this 26 action, but only "reasonable attorney's fees, if any be allowed, actually incurred by the offeror
27

28 ⁹ / In light of the Court's granting of the partial summary judgment on the Pay-If-Paid Issue, which should have precluded APCO from asserting it as an affirmative defense, National Wood respectfully believes that the Court's trial decision is materially inconsistent with its ruling.

1 from the time of the offer.” Nev. R. Civ. P. 68 (emphasis added). The Supreme Court of Nevada
2 has confirmed that under NRCP 68, the trial court may not “award counsel fees for legal services
3 performed prior to the date of the offer of judgment.” Nurenberger Hercules-Werke GMBH v.
4 Virostek, 822 P.2d 1100, 1107 (1991). Where a “trial court base[s] its [attorney’s fee] award
5 [under NRCP 68] on legal services rendered over the entire period of litigation,” rather than solely 6 the post-offer period, it is “clear error.” Id.

7 APCO, however, seeks the sum of $208,259.25 in attorney’s fees, which is the total
8 amount of fees that APCO’s counsel billed in connection with this matter since October 2015.
9 [See Exhs. 7A and 7B to APCO’s Motion, Charts re APCO’s Attorneys’ Fees.] After APCO’s
10 Offer (i.e., November 23, 2017), however, APCO’s itemized billing sets forth that its counsel
11 billed $90,993.77 in fees. [Id.] While even this lesser amount is not reasonable, as discussed
12 below, there is no basis for APCO to recover more than that amount under NRCP 68.

14 D. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO AN AWARD OF ATTORNEYS’ FEES; TO THE 15 EXTENT THE COURT IS INCLINED TO AWARD ATTORNEYS’ FEES TO APCO, THE 16 ATTORNEYS’ FEES MUST BE SIGNIFICANTLY REDUCED SINCE THEY ARE 17 EXCESSIVE AND THEY ARE UNREASONABLE AND UNJUSTIFIED UNDER THE 18 BRUNZELL FACTORS.

19 As set forth above, APCO is not entitled to an award of attorneys’ fees pursuant to 20 Subcontract Agreement (Section A above), NRS 108.237 (Section B above) or NRCP 68 (Section 21 C above) as against National Wood. To the extent the Court decides to award attorneys’ fees to 22 APCO, notwithstanding all of the above reasons and arguments against such an award, the 23 requested fees must be significantly reduced since they are excessive and are unreasonable and 24 unjustified under the Brunzell Factors.

25 ///

26 ///

27 ///

1 1. APCO’S REQUESTED ATTORNEYS’ FEES MUST BE SIGNIFICANTLY REDUCED
2 SINCE THEY ARE NOT SUPPORTED BY SUBSTANTIAL EVIDENCE AND ARE EXCESSIVE AND 3 UNREASONABLE.

4 Whether under NRCP 68 or NRS 18.010(2)(b), an award of attorney’s fees “must be
5 supported by substantial evidence.” Logan v. Abe, 350 P.3d 1139, 1143 (2015). Here, APCO 6 provides nothing more than conclusory assertions and charts referencing billing entries for 7 APCO’s attorneys’ fees totaling $447,809.28 and $55,603.57 in costs as against National Wood
8 and Helix. As against National Wood alone, APCO seeks the sum of $223,904.89 or for “post-9 offer” fees, the sum of $113,622.77.

10 Moreover, the requested attorneys’ fees must be significantly reduced on the grounds that 11 they are excessive in that (a) the fees incurred were not related to the defense of the claims of 12 Cabinetec/National Wood but were related to the mutual pursuit of claims against the property and 13 proceeds of the sale of the property; (b) they are not properly allocated to the subcontractors who 14 filed claims against APCO which it defended, (c) they are unreasonable and unjustified when the 15 work performed did not derive any benefits (i.e., APCO filed unsuccessful motions and APCO 16 filed unsuccessful oppositions to motions filed by subcontractors), and (d) they include
17 unnecessary research and analysis regarding the five year rule when APCO previously obtained a 18 court order, which it requested, stating that since the trial in the consolidated matters commenced 19 on October 30, 2012, the five year rule was no longer applicable.

21 a. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO ATTORNEYS’ FEES PRIOR TO FEBRUARY 2016 SINCE 22 THEY WERE NOT RELATED TO THE DEFENSE OF THE CLAIMS OF CABINETEC/NATIONAL 23 WOOD BUT WERE RELATED TO MUTUAL PURSUIT OF CLAIMS AGAINST THE PROPERTY
24 AND PROCEEDS OF THE SALE OF THE PROPERTY.

25 As more fully set forth in the Hirahara Decl., APCO seeks attorneys’ fees in the sum of 26 $13,277.50 against Helix and National Wood during the period October 2015 through February
27 2016. The attorneys’ fees incurred were not related to the defense of the claims of 28 Cabinetec/National Wood or Helix but were related to the mutual pursuit of claims against the

1 property and proceeds of the sale of the property as confirmed by the entries on APCO's chart
2 referencing the billing entries for this period. [See Exh. 7A to APCO's Motion; Exhs. A and B to 3 the Hirahara Decl.] Accordingly, the Court must reduce the attorneys' fees by $13,277.50 from 4 the total sum sought by APCO for fees incurred by Marquis Auerbach.

6 b. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO ATTORNEYS' FEES THAT HAVE NOT BEEN
7 PROPERLY ALLOCATED TO THE SUBCONTRACTORS WHO FILED CLAIMS AGAINST APCO
8 WHICH IT DEFENDED.

9 As more fully set forth in the Hirahara Decl., APCO seeks attorneys' fees that have not 10 been properly allocated to the subcontractors who filed claims against APCO, which it defended.
11 Specifically, there were as many as 18 lien claimants and no less than 12 lien claimants during 12 different periods of the litigation in this consolidated matter. As reflected on APCO's charts
13 referencing the billing entries [see Exh. 7A to APCO's Motion], APCO allocated some time to 3
14 subcontractors, others to 14 subcontractors and the remaining time to only Helix and National 15 Wood when there were still as many as 12 outstanding lien claims by various subcontractors
16 against APCO. APCO's decision to simply charge the majority of the attorneys' fees to only 17 Helix and National Wood is totally unreasonable and unjustified.

18 As set forth in the Hirahara Decl., the charts generated by APCO's attorneys [see Exhs. 7A
19 and 7B to the APCO's Motion] have been recreated¹⁰ with National Wood's comments explaining 20 why certain fees should be deducted, reduced or re-allocated to the number of subcontractors who 21 had outstanding claims against APCO during this time period. [See Exhs. A and B to the Hirahara
22 Declaration.]

23 As reflected on Exhs. A and B, the total sum of attorneys' fees that have been re-allocated 24 as to National Wood and must be reduced from the total attorneys' fees sought against National 25 Wood is $109,628.09¹¹.

27
28 ¹⁰ / National Wood's counsel requested editable formats of Exhs. 7A and 7B from APCO's attorneys so that National Wood could make comments concerning the attorneys' fees listed. Although APCO's attorneys stated that it should be okay, National Wood's counsel never received them so the charts were recreated.

¹¹ / The reduction of the fees of Marquis Aurbach is $67,117.71 and $42,510.30 of the fees for Spencer Fane.

1 c. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO ATTORNEYS' FEES FOR WORK PERFORMED THAT
2 DID NOT DERIVE ANY BENEFITS

3 APCO is seeking attorneys' fees for work done on a motion for partial summary judgment,
4 oppositions to motions for partial summary judgments regarding the Pay-If-Paid issue, motions for 5 reconsideration of the partial summary judgment and other motions, which were unsuccessful.
6 APCO should not be entitled to these attorneys' fees when the work performed did not derive any 7 benefit to APCO.

8 According to the charts referencing the billing entries, the Court should deny the total sum
9 of $71,081.00 for the unsuccessful work performed by APCO's attorneys.

11 d. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO ATTORNEYS' FEES FOR UNNECESSARY RESEARCH
12 AND ANALYSIS OF THE FIVE YEAR RULE WHEN APCO HAD A COURT ORDER ENTERED 13 NOVEMBER 29, 2012 STATING THAT THE FIVE YEAR RULE IS NO LONGER APPLICABLE.

14 As set forth above, APCO incurred attorneys' fees for research and analysis of the five 15 year rule when the court had previously entered an order on November 29, 2012 confirming that 16 the five year rule was no longer applicable since the trial in this consolidated matter commenced
17 on October 30, 2012. Due to "block billings", it is impossible to determine from the billing
18 information provided by APCO in support of the Motion exactly how much APCO incurred in 19 attorney's fees related to the five year rule. However, the billings reflect that APCO incurred 20 approximately $3,100.00 in attorneys' fees related to the five year rule, which must be denied.

22 2. APCO'S REQUESTED ATTORNEYS' FEES ARE UNREASONABLE UNDER THE 23 BRUNZELL FACTORS.

24 In considering whether to award reasonable attorney's fees, the trial court must consider
25 the following factors, established by the Nevada Supreme Court in Brunzell v. Golden Gate Nat'l
26 Bank, 455 P.2d 31, 33 (1969) (the "Brunzell Factors"):

- 27 (1) the qualities of the advocate: his ability, his training, education, experience,
28 professional standing and skill;

1 (2) the character of the work to be done: its difficulty, its intricacy, its 2 importance, time and skill required, the responsibility imposed and the 3 prominence and character of the parties where they affect the importance of the 4 litigation;

5 (3) the work actually performed by the lawyer: the skill, time and attention given 6 to the work;

7 (4) the result: whether the attorney was successful and what benefits were 8 derived.

9 The Brunzell factors must be analyzed when applying the fourth Beattie factor—whether 10 the fees sought are reasonable and justified in amount—under NRCP 68, or when awarding
11 reasonable attorney’s fees under NRS 18.010(2)(b). See Gunderson v. D.R. Horton, Inc., 319 P.3d
12 606, 615–16 (2014); see also Brunzell, 455 p.2d at 33. “[N]o one element should predominate or 13 be given undue weight.” Brunzell v. Golden Gate Nat. Bank, 455 P.2d 31, 33 (1969). APCO’s 14 post-offer fees incurred, and the total amount of fees requested, are both unreasonable under the 15 Brunzell factors. In particular, the second and fourth Brunzell factors do not warrant the amount 16 of fees that APCO seeks.

18 a. THE SECOND FACTOR DOES NOT WARRANT THE AMOUNT OF FEES APCO SEEKS 19 SINCE NATIONAL WOOD’S CLAIMS¹² (“CLAIMS”) ALLEGED AGAINST APCO WERE 20 STANDARD, NOT PARTICULARLY DIFFICULT AND DID NOT REQUIRE RESEARCH.

21 APCO argues that the second Brunzell factor is satisfied because “Early in this case, this 22 Court deemed this case complex, as it involved ‘complex issues, multiple parties, difficult legal 23 questions, or unusual proof problems. . . .’” [APCO’s Motion at pp. 13:18-14:1.] This case was 24 deemed complex on November 10, 2009. [APCO’S Motion at p. 13, fn. 76.] In addition, APCO
25 claims that “[e]ven the defense of the claims of Helix and Cabinetec was complex, as both had 26 separate and complex factual histories. . . .” [APCO’s Motion at p. 14:5-6.] APCO is wrong.

28 ¹² / National Wood’s claims against APCO were (i) Breach Of Contract, (ii) Breach Of Implied Covenant Of Good Faith and Fair Dealing, (iv) Unjust Enrichment/Quantum Meruit, (v) Violation of NRS 624.606-624.630, (vi) Monies
Due and Owing, and (vii) Account Stated.

1 Cabinetec/National Wood and the Peel Brimley lien claimants only became actively
2 adverse to APCO after the Supreme Court rejected the Joint Petitioner's petition for en banc
3 reconsideration, and the case was remanded to this Court on or about February 19, 2016. In 2016,
4 the claims of Cabinetec/National Wood against APCO could hardly be considered complex since
5 they were standard, straightforward, and not particularly difficult Claims. Moreover, the factual
6 history underlying the Claims of Cabinetec/National Wood was not at all complex.

7 In the Motion, APCO seeks attorneys' fees from October 2, 2015 through April 30, 2018.
8 [See Exhs. 7A and 7B to APCO's Motion, Charts re APCO's Attorneys' Fees.] None of the 9 attorneys' fees requested were incurred during the period when this case was deemed complex. In 10 2015, the attorneys' fees incurred were not related to the defense of the claims of
11 Cabinetec/National Wood but were related to the mutual pursuit of claims against the property and 12 proceeds of the sale of the property. APCO's attorneys' fees totaling $447,809.28 as against both 13 Helix and National Wood were incurred during a period of approximately two years. The amount 14 of the fees requested is totally unreasonable since the claims against APCO were standard, 15 straightforward and not particularly difficult. As to National Wood alone, the Court must deduct a 16 total sum of $109,628.09 in attorneys' fees.

18 b. THE FOURTH FACTOR DOES NOT WARRANT THE AMOUNT OF FEES APCO SEEKS 19 ESPECIALLY WHEN IT FILED UNSUCCESSFUL MOTIONS AND UNSUCCESSFULLY OPPOSED
20 MOTIONS, WHICH DID NOT DERIVE ANY BENEFITS.

21 The fourth factor under Brunzell "whether the attorney was successful and what benefits
22 were derived." APCO seeks to recover approximately $71,081.00 relating to motions it
23 unsuccessfully filed and its unsuccessful defense of motions by National Wood and other 24 subcontractors. For example, APCO seeks recovery for multiple time entries and thousands of 25 dollars relating to its omnibus motions in limine. Due to "block billings", it is impossible to 26 determine exactly how much Spencer Fane and M&A each billed APCO for motions in limine.
27 However, using approximate allocations based on the descriptions contained in the block billing
28 entries, Spencer Fane billed APCO approximately $31,843.50 and M&A billed APCO

1 approximately $3,107.50 relating to APCO's motions in limine, for total attorney's fees of 2 $34,951.00 with respect to motions in limine.

3 Despite these efforts, this Court denied most of those motions. In addition, using
4 approximate allocations based on the descriptions contained in the block billing entries, APCO
5 seeks attorneys' fees in the amount of $9,428.00 billed by Spencer Fane and $10,123.75 billed by 6 M&A for total attorneys' fees of $19,551.75 for unsuccessful motion for partial summary
7 judgment regarding lien foreclosure claims. Using approximate allocations based on the 8 descriptions contained in the block billing entries, APCO also seeks attorneys' fees in the amount 9 of $11,160.75 billed by Spencer Fane and $5,417.50 billed by M&A for total attorneys' fees of 10 $16,578.25 for unsuccessful opposition to motions for partial summary judgment regarding Pay-
11 If-Paid filed by Helix and Zitting Brothers, Inc., wherein National Wood filed its joinder to the 12 motions, as well as other subcontractors, and motions for reconsideration of the order granting 13 partial summary judgment regarding Pay-If-Paid. APCO should not be entitled to seek these 14 attorneys' fees since they did not derive any benefit to APCO.

16 E. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO ALL COSTS SOUGHT SINCE THEY ARE NOT 17 REASONABLE AND APCO HAS NOT DEMONSTRATED HOW ITS CLAIMED COSTS
18 WERE NECESSARY TO AND INCURRED IN THE PRESENT ACTION.

19 The Nevada Supreme Court has held that costs must be reasonable and properly
20 documented to be recoverable. In Cadle Co. v. Woods & Erickson, LLP, 345 P.3d 1049, 1054
21 (Nev. 2015) the Nevada Supreme Court held that requests for costs must include proper, actual 22 documentation of the costs incurred. Citing its decision in Bobby Berosini, Ltd. v. PETA, 114
23 Nev. 1348 (1998), the Nevada Supreme Court explained that a party must "demonstrate how 24 such [claimed costs] were necessary to and incurred in the present action." Id. at 1352-53.
25 Moreover, the Nevada Supreme Court has held that a district court abused its discretion
26 because it granted an award of costs based upon the prevailing party's submission of itemized
27 materials that did not show how the costs "were necessary to and incurred in the present 28 action." Bobby Berosini, Ltd. v. PETA, 114 Nev. 1348, 1352, 971 P.2d 383, 386 (1998).

1 Under Bobby Berosini, Ltd., simply providing a line item list is insufficient. Ibid. Rather,
2 requesting parties must detail why each cost was reasonable and necessary for the action.
3 Ibid. That is, it is not enough to show the cost was helpful, rather it must show that it was 4 necessary. Ibid.

5 Pursuant to NRS 18.110(3), National Wood filed a Motion to Re-Tax Costs, which 6 motion is pending and set for hearing (by stipulation of the parties) for the same date and time
7 as the present motion for fees and costs. National Wood has identified its specific objections to 8 APCO's cost memorandum and incorporates the same (and any reply brief) herein by reference.
9 National Wood has also joined in Helix's Motion to Re-Tax Costs and incorporates Helix's 10 grounds for objections by reference.

12 IV. CONCLUSION

13 Based on the foregoing, National Wood respectfully requests that the Court deny APCO's 14 motion for attorney's fees in its entirety because APCO has no contractual rights under the 15 Subcontract Agreement since APCO assigned it to Gemstone in 2008, and APCO's offer of 16 judgment was not timely served. To the extent the Court is inclined to award any attorneys' fees
17 to APCO against National Wood, the Court should allow no more than $98,631.23.

18 Moreover, National Wood respectfully requests that the Court grant only those costs
19 identified as reasonable and recoverable in National Wood's Motion to Re-Tax Costs.

DECLARATION OF S. JUDY HIRAHARA

I, S. Judy Hirahara, if called as a witness herein, could and would competently testify to the following facts from my own personal knowledge:

1 1. I am one of the attorneys with the law firm of Cadden & Fuller LLP, counsel of 2 record for National Wood Products, Inc. ("National Wood") and associated with Richard L. Tobler
3 of the law offices of Richard L. Tobler, Ltd. National Wood is the plaintiff-in-intervention in the 4 instant case entitled APCO Construction, a Nevada corporation, Plaintiff, vs. Gemstone
5 Development West, Inc., a Nevada corporation; et al., Eighth Judicial District Court Case No.
6 A571228, consolidated with Related Case Nos. A574391, A574792, A577623, A583289, 7 A587168, A580889, A584730, A589195, A595552, A597089, A592826, A589677, A596924,
8 A584960, A608717, A608718, and A590319 (collectively, the "Consolidated Action"). I am
9 familiar with the facts and circumstances of this Action as they relate to this declaration.

11 2. I submit this declaration in support of National Wood's Opposition to APCO
12 Construction, Inc.'s Motion for Attorney's Fees and Costs Against Helix of Nevada, LLC and 13 Plaintiff In Intervention National Wood Products, Inc. (the "Motion").

15 3. On or about May 8, 2018, Cadden & Fuller LLP received APCO's Motion. In 16 support of APCO's Motion, the Declaration of John Randall Jefferies (the "Jefferies Declaration")
17 was attached as Exhibit 7 to the Motion. The Jefferies Declaration identified Exhibit 7A to the 18 Motion as an itemized statement of attorney's fees for legal services provided by Marquis &
19 Aurbach to APCO in this Action. The Jefferies Declaration further identified Exhibit 7B to the 20 Motion as an itemized statement of attorney's fees for legal services provided by Spencer Fane
21 LLP to APCO in this Action.

23 4. On May 14, 2018, I requested my paralegal, Hanh Nguyen, to contact Mary Bacon, 24 one of APCO's attorneys, to request Exhibits 7A and 7B in editable formats so that we could 25 make comments concerning the attorneys' fees incurred by APCO in support of National Wood's 26 Opposition to the Motion. Ms. Bacon stated it should okay but did not send it to us. Despite 27 follows up to Ms. Bacon, we still did not receive them.

28 ///

1 5. Therefore, at my direction, Ms. Nguyen prepared Excel charts to recreate each of 2 the entries reflected on Exhibits 7A and 7B. I also prepared Excel charts to recreate the time
3 entries. In addition, I assessed, analyzed and reviewed the time and entries to confirm that the 4 entries on Exhibits 7A and 7B are identical to the entries on the Excel charts that this firm created.
5 In addition, I added several columns to reflect, among other things, National Wood's comments
6 concerning each of the entries. (Attached hereto as Exhibit "A" and incorporated herein by this
7 reference is a color copy of the Excel chart referencing the attorneys' fees for Marquis Auerbach.
8 Attached hereto as Exhibit "B" and incorporated herein by this reference is a is a color copy of 9 the Excel chart referencing the attorneys' fees for Spencer Fane.)
11

12 6. I reviewed and analyzed the Exhibits A and B, and determined that some of the 13 attorneys' fees sought by APCO must be deducted since they were not related to the defense of the 14 claims of Cabinetec/National Wood or Helix but were related to the mutual pursuit of claims 15 against the property and proceeds of the sale of the property as confirmed by the entries on 16 APCO's chart referencing the billing entries for this period. It was determined that the attorneys'
17 fees in the sum of $13,277.50 against Helix and National Wood during the period October 2015
18 through February 2016, should be deducted.

21 7. Moreover, APCO seeks attorneys' fees that have not been properly allocated to the 22 subcontractors who filed claims against APCO, which it defended. Specifically, there were as 23 many as 18 lien claimants and no less than 12 lien claimants during different periods of the 24 litigation in this consolidated matter. As reflected on APCO's charts referencing the billing 25 entries, APCO allocated some time to 3 subcontractors, others to 14 subcontractors and the 26 remaining time to only Helix and National Wood when there were still as many as 12 outstanding 27 lien claims by various subcontractors against APCO. APCO's decision to simply charge the 28 majority of the attorneys' fees to only Helix and National Wood is totally unreasonable and

1 unjustified. As a result, National Wood included comments explaining why certain fees should be
2 deducted, reduced or re-allocated to the number of subcontractors who had outstanding claims
3 against APCO during this time period. As reflected on Exhs. A and B, it was determined that the 4 total sum of attorneys' fees that must be re-allocated as to National Wood and must be reduced
5 from the total attorneys' fees sought against National Wood is $109,628.09

7 8. On November 29, 2012, this court entered an Order Staying The Case, Except For 8 The Sale Of The Property, Pending Resolution Of The Writ Petition Before The Nevada Supreme 9 Court ("Order"). (Attached hereto as Exhibit "C" and incorporated herein by this reference is a 10 true and correct copy of the Order.)

12 9. As noted in the Order at pg. 2, ¶ 1, "Trial of this consolidated matter commenced
13 on October 30, 2012 upon the trial of the lien amount, lien validity and related claims of Ready 14 Mix, Inc., and therefore, the five-year rule set forth in Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 41(e) is no 15 longer applicable."

17 I declare under penalty of perjury under the laws of the State of Nevada that the foregoing
18 is true and correct, and that this Declaration was executed on June 15, 2018, at Irvine, California.

1 ORDER STAYING THE CASE, EXCEPT FOR THE SALE OF THE PROPERTY,
2 PENDING RESOLUTION OF THE WRIT PETITION
3 BEFORE THE NEVADA SUPREME COURT

4 This matter having come before the Court upon the joint oral motion for a stay of the 5 case, except for any procedures necessary to complete the pending sale of the Property, made by 6 APCO Construction, the Peel Brimley Lien Claimants and Scott Financial, the Court having 7 heard no objections, and other good cause appearing:

8 THE COURT FINDS AS FOLLOWS:

9 1. A stay of the entire case, with the exception of any actions necessary for the sale
10 of the Property as previously ordered by the Court, pending resolution of the Writ Petition 11 currently before the Nevada Supreme Court, is appropriate pursuant to Nevada Rule of Civil 12 Procedure 62 and Nevada Rule of Appellate Procedure 8.

13 2. No bond is necessary as the real parties in interest have jointly moved for the 14 stay.

15 3. Trial of this consolidated matter commenced on October 30, 2012 upon the trial
16 of the lien amount, lien validity and related claims of Ready Mix, Inc., and therefore, the five-
17 year rule set forth in Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 41(e) is no longer applicable.

18 4. To the extent that trial under Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 41(e) has not
19 commenced, the stay pursuant to Nevada Rule of Appellate Procedure 8, tolls the five-year rule
20 of Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 41(e).

21 Based upon the above findings by the Court and other good cause,

22 IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that all causes of action,
23 counterclaims, third-party claims or otherwise are hereby stayed pending resolution of the Writ
24 Petition currently pending before the Nevada Supreme Court, except for any actions necessary
25 for the sale of the Property as previously ordered by this Court, and the establishment of an 26 account for the proceeds of the sale, to which all lien claims shall attach.

1 Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc. ("National Wood"), by and 2 through its counsel of record, the Law Offices of Richard L. Tobler, Ltd. and Cadden & Fuller
3 LLP, hereby respectfully submits its Joinder to Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC ("Helix")'s
4 Opposition to APCO Construction's Motion for Attorney's Fees and Costs.

5 Because APCO Construction seeks recovery of substantially the same attorney's fees
6 and costs from National Wood as from Helix, National Wood joins in Helix's Opposition to 7 APCO Construction's Motion for Attorney's Fees and Costs and adopts the same as its own
8 position in addition to the grounds identified in National Wood's own Opposition to APCO
9 Construction's Motion for Attorney's Fees and Costs previously filed herein.

10 Respectfully submitted this 18th day June, 2018.

APCO CONSTRUCTION, INC.'S
REPLY IN SUPPORT OF ITS MOTION
FOR ATTORNEY'S FEES AND COSTS AGAINST HELIX ELECTRIC OF NEVADA, LLC AND PLAINTIFF IN
PRODUCTS, INC.

Hearing Date: July 19, 2018

Hearing Time: 9:00 a.m.

AND ALL RELATED MATTERS

1 APCO Construction, Inc. ("APCO") hereby submits its reply in support of its
2 motion for attorney's fees and will address each response in this reply. Respectfully, Helix
3 Electric of Nevada's ("Helix") and National Wood Products, Inc.'s ("National Wood")
4 oppositions miss the point. Each cite general assignment law, without citing a single case
5 holding that APCO cannot recover attorney's fees under the subcontracts after Helix and 6 National Wood sued APCO. Each argues that APCO does not have standing to "pursue a
7 claim" after it assigned the subcontracts to Gemstone/Camco. But APCO did not pursue a 8 claim; it successfully defended against Helix and National Wood's wrongful claims.

9 Simply stated, APCO is entitled to fees as a matter of law because: (1) the 10 subcontract's fee provision controls and does not require APCO to be a current party to the 11 agreement, (2) equitable estoppel prohibits Helix and CabineTec from claiming the 12 subcontract does not control when they sued to enforce that very agreement, (3) APCO has 13 standing as the assignor and its fees are reasonable, (4) the offers of judgment were timely 14 and reasonable under the Beattie factors, and (5) fees are permitted against Helix under 15 NRS 108.

16 I. The plain language of the subcontract allows APCO's fees.

17 "It has long been the policy in Nevada that absent some countervailing reason, 18 contracts will be construed from the written language and enforced as written."¹ Even 19 after the subcontracts were assigned, the fee provision still granted APCO the right to fees
20 as the prevailing party because (1) Helix and CabineTec initiated this lawsuit against 21 APCO, and (2) this action arose out of the subcontract work:

22 18.5 In the event either party employs an attorney to institute 23 a lawsuit or to demand arbitration for any cause arising out of 24 the Subcontract Work, or any of the Contract Documents, the prevailing party shall be entitled to all costs, attorney's fees
and other reasonable expenses incurred therein.²

Section 18.5 (emphasis added).

1 Helix's Complaint and CabineTec's Complaint both allege APCO breached the 2 subcontract.³ In fact, Helix and CabineTec even sought fees under the Subcontract's fee
3 provision against APCO when APCO was not a party to the subcontract.⁴ But as noted
4 above, the provision does not require APCO to be a current party to the subcontract in 5 order to prevail. The subcontract could have limited the recovery of attorney's fees to the 6 "other party" to the subcontract or to cases "between the parties," but it did not.⁵ It grants
7 fees generally to the "prevailing party" after one party initiates litigation. The Court
8 cannot impose any other requirements on this language.

28 of any action or proceeding brought by either party against the other under this Lease, the prevailing party shall be entitled to recover for the fees of its attorneys in such action or proceeding ... in such amount as the court may adjudge reasonable."

1 In Blickman Turkus, LP v. MF Downtown Sunnyvale, LLC,⁶ the court analyzed a fee
2 provision that allowed fees “[i]f either party becomes involved in ... litigation arising out
3 of this Contract or the performance of it ... to the party justly entitled to them.”
4 Recognizing the broad language of the attorney’s fees provision, the court found that the 5 language of the provision “could readily be understood to extend to any contract-related 6 litigation in which either party was ‘involved.’”

7 There is nothing in Section 18.5 that requires APCO to be a present party to the 8 subcontract. In fact, the provision references litigation filed by either party and the action
9 arises out of the subcontract. APCO never filed a counterclaim to enforce the subcontract.
10 It merely defended against these contractual claims. It is patently unfair for these 11 subcontractors to sue to enforce the subcontract and then deny APCO the right to fees 12 when it is successful.

13 Notably, neither Helix nor National Wood have cited one case where an assignor was 14 not allowed to recover its fees when it was sued as a defendant to enforce the assigned 15 contract. Instead, they cite two cases to argue APCO is prohibited from recovering fees:
16 (1) Boarman v. Boarman,⁷ and (2) Oral Roberts University v. Anderson.⁸ Boarman is 17 inapplicable because the court found that a former wife in a divorce action could assign to 18 her attorney a judgment that awarded included attorney fees. Boarman did not analyze or 19 discuss whether an attorney’s fees provision is valid after an assignment.

20 Helix then cites Oral Roberts for the proposition that “a party can assign away its 21 contractual right to receive an award of attorneys’ fees but cannot, by assignment, delegate
22 the obligation away.” The citation is puzzling since APCO is not attempting to delegate 23 any duty to pay fees, and the case does not analyze an award of attorneys’ fees after an 24 assignor successfully defends an action brought against it over an assigned contract. In fact, in Oral Roberts, plaintiff Oral Roberts University prevailed in its action seeking a declaratory judgment that an option agreement had expired. It sought fees as the prevailing party under the expired agreement. The district court granted Oral Roberts fees, finding the termination of the option contract did not prevent it from recovering attorney's fees. Similarly, APCO's assignment does not prevent APCO from recovering attorney's fees since Helix and National Wood initiated litigation against APCO.

II. Equitable estoppel prohibits National Wood/ Helix from contesting the fee provision.

The United States Supreme Court has found that "traditional principles of state law allow a contract to be enforced by or against nonparties to the contract through assumption, piercing the corporate veil, alter ego, incorporation by reference, third-party beneficiary theories, waiver and estoppel."⁹ The Nevada Supreme Court has adopted this same principle¹⁰ and held that "[e]quitable estoppel precludes a party from asserting rights 'he otherwise would have had against another' when his own conduct renders assertion of those rights contrary to equity."¹¹ In fact, the Nevada Supreme Court has found that "[u]nder a theory of estoppel, a nonsignatory [to a contract] is estopped from refusing to comply with an arbitration clause when it receives a 'direct benefit' from a contract containing an arbitration clause."¹² That means that a nonsignatory to a contract may recover attorneys' fees when the nonsignatory is sued on the contract as if he or she were a party, and the contract contains an attorneys' fees provision. 6 we find that a prevailing defendant sued for breach of contract containing an attorney's

1 the contract which led to its rescission from recovering the very attorney's fees which were
2 contemplated by that contract.”).

3 This same logic was applied in Ahlers v. Ryland Homes Nevada, LLC,¹⁹ where the 4 Nevada Supreme Court considered the issue of a whether a nonsignatory could enforce an 5 arbitration clause in an option contract. The Nevada Supreme court held: “[t]he equitable 6 estoppel doctrine prevents a plaintiff signatory to a contract that contains an arbitration 7 provision from avoiding the agreement to arbitrate if the plaintiff's claims rely on the 8 contract as the basis for relief. Otherwise, to allow a plaintiff to claim the benefit of the 9 contract and simultaneously avoid its burdens would both disregard equity and contravene
10 the purposes underlying enactment of the Arbitration Act.”²⁰

11 Similarly, in Hard Rock Hotel, Inc. v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court of State in & for 12 Cty. of Clark,²¹ the Nevada Supreme Court articulated the following analytical framework
13 regarding equitable estoppel:

14 [E]quitable estoppel allows a nonsignatory to compel
15 arbitration in two different circumstances. First, equitable 16 estoppel applies when the signatory to a written agreement 17 containing an arbitration clause must “rely on the terms of the 18 written agreement in asserting its claims” against the 19 nonsignatory. When each of a signatory's claims against a 20 nonsignatory “makes reference to” or “presumes the existence of” the written agreement, the signatory's claims “arise out of and relate directly to the written agreement,” and arbitration is appropriate.²²

21 These principles confirm that Helix and National Wood are equitably estopped from 22 denying APCO's right to enforce the fee provision in their respective subcontracts. Their 23 respective claims were entirely dependent upon the subcontract work and their complaints

1 make reference to and incorporate the subcontracts.²³ Since Helix and National Wood
2 alleged the validity of and sought to enforce the subcontracts against APCO, each is 3 equitably estopped from denying APCO the related benefits when APCO certainly would 4 have been so liable had it lost.

5 III. The subcontractors' reliance on standing and real party in interest is 6 misplaced.

7 The question of standing is similar to the issue of real party in interest because it
8 also focuses on the party seeking adjudication rather than on the issues sought to be 9 adjudicated.²⁴ In Szilagyi v. Testa,²⁵ the Nevada Supreme Court cited Harman v. City &
10 *Cty. of San Francisco*²⁶, as authority on standing. Harman confirms what the 11 subcontractors missed: standing focuses on the plaintiff, or the party pursuing claims in an 12 action:

13 The fundamental aspect of standing is that it focuses on the 14 party seeking to get his complaint before a . . . court and not 15 on the issues he wishes to have adjudicated. A party enjoys 16 standing to bring his complaint into court if his stake in the 17 resolution of that complaint assumes the proportions necessary to ensure that he will vigorously present his case. As Professor Jaffe has stated, we must determine standing by a measure of the intensity of the plaintiff's claim to justice.²⁷

18 In Real Prop. Servs. Corp. v. City of Pasadena,²⁸ the City signed a contract with a 19 developer to develop a movie theater. The developer signed a sublease with an operator to 20 operate the movie theater. The operator sued the City to enforce the terms of the City-
21 developer contract. During trial, the City argued the operator did not have standing to 22 enforce the City-developer contract and that the City did not breach the contract. The court
23 granted judgment in favor of the City, but denied the City's corresponding motion for

2 attorney's fee award is dependent upon the reason for the judgment."²⁹ The appellate court
3 rejected the operator's argument, finding the City was entitled to fees "whether the 4 judgment is based upon the merits or lack of standing." Instead, the court found "any lack 5 of standing by [plaintiff] to bring the lawsuit does not alter the fact that [plaintiff] sued the

1 did not assign its rights to the litigation, and APCO did not pursue this litigation. APCO
2 assigned its rights to the subcontracts, and those subcontractors wrongfully pursued
3 litigation against APCO. Standing was the subcontractors' burden as the plaintiff, not 4 APCO's. The equitable estoppel cases cited above confirm APCO's standing and right to 5 fees under the subcontracts that were the basis of the subcontractor actions.

7 Similarly, NRCP 17(a) provides that every action must be "commenced" and 8 "prosecuted" in the name of a real party in interest.³⁸ "The purpose of Rule 17(a) is to 9 assure a defendant that a judgment will be final and that res judicata will protect it from 10 having to twice defend an action, once against an ultimate beneficiary of a right and then 11 against the actual holder of the substantive right."³⁹

12 In this case, APCO was not the plaintiff. It did not pursue, prosecute, or commence 13 any action against the subcontractors. At considerable expense, APCO successfully 14 defended these actions. The subcontractors needed standing and to be the real party in 15 interest to bring actions against APCO; APCO did not need standing or to be a "real party 16 in interest" to defend the actions. Having wrongly sued APCO, the subcontractors cannot 17 now claim that APCO cannot enforce the provisions that they put at issue.

18 IV. APCO's total fees are reasonable.

19 A. Helix

20 Helix cites seven categories of fees it believes are unreasonable: fees before February
21 2016 when the Nevada Supreme Court remanded after upholding the district court's 22 priority determination, fees it incorrectly alleges are unallocated, fees for unsuccessful
23 motions, fees associated with APCO's trial counsel to "get up to speed," travel time, time
24 related to Martin Harris, and APCO's post-trial briefing. Each are addressed in turn below.

26
27 ³⁸ See High Noon at Arlington Ranch Homeowners Ass'n v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court in & for 28 Cty. of Clark,³⁸ ("Under Nevada law, an action must be commenced by the real party in interest...")

1 1. APCO is entitled to fees before February 2016.

2 Helix fails to cite a legal basis to remove $12,500 from APCO's total fees prior to 3 February 2016. APCO spearheaded the efforts to collect for APCO and the subcontractors
4 during that time. The subcontractors benefitted from APCO's efforts.

5 2. APCO properly allocated fees to Helix.

6 Helix's contention that APCO did not segregate fees is without merit. See APCO's
7 Motion for Attorney's Fees at Exhibit 7-8, Declarations of John Randall Jefferies, Esq. and 8 Cody Mounteer, Esq. explaining how each firm segregated its fees. Marquis & Aurbach
9 billed a total of $343,620.00 to APCO.⁴⁰ Spencer Fane came in as trial counsel and has 10 billed a total of $370,363.85.⁴¹ Before apportioning any fee, both MAC and Spencer Fane
11 removed entries that did not relate to either Helix or National Wood. This resulted in an 12 immediate deduction of $136,993.34 in fees from MAC and $129,180.73 in fees from 13 Spencer Fane.

14 Next, MAC apportioned fees equally between Helix and National Wood unless the 15 entries related to a specific subcontractor or multiple subcontractors. In that case, fees were 16 bills directly to that subcontractor, to the time was split between the mentioned
17 subcontractors.⁴² This is why some entries were divided by 8, 4, or 3, and why entries at 18 trial were divided by two. Helix's suggestion that there were 14-35 subcontractors as of 19 January 2018, the month of trial is simply false. Helix knew and understood that there
20 were only two remaining subcontractors with claims against APCO, which was confirmed
21 by the pre-trial conference, pretrial memorandum, pretrial hearings, correspondence
22 between all counsel before trial, and even this Court's correspondence to all parties before 23 trial. Additionally, Helix does not cite a single example of Spencer Fane's time not being

27 ⁴¹ Exhibit 2, Spencer Fane Fees Billed to APCO.

28 ⁴² See Tony Gullo Motors I, L.P. v. Chapa,⁴² ("Requests for standard disclosures, proof of background facts, depositions of the primary actors, discovery motions and hearings, voir dire of the jury, and a host of other services may be necessary whether a claim is filed alone or with others. To the extent such services would have been incurred on a recoverable claim alone, they are not disallowed simply because they do double service."); Jarvis v. Rocanville

1 allocated correctly. And to suggest that Spencer Fane's time should be cut to 1/14 of the
2 alleged time is patently absurd.⁴³ First, Spencer Fane entered the case when less than 8
3 subcontractors were left. Next, Spencer Fane quickly settled with 5 of those 4 subcontractors—leaving only Zitting, Helix, and National Wood in the case. Then, before
5 apportioning fees, Spencer Fane removed all the entries related to the settling
6 subcontractors, and fees associated with Zitting. And then Spencer Fane allocated only 7 those entries related to Helix or National Wood to that subcontractor, and split the 8 remaining entries in half. This allocation of fees was reasonable.

9 3. APCO is entitled to fees for unsuccessful motions.

10 Tellingly, Helix did not allege APCO's unsuccessful motions were unnecessary or that 11 the time spent on the motions was unreasonable. A prevailing party can collect fees for 12 time spent on unsuccessful arguments and claims.⁴⁴ The Nevada Supreme Court has held 13 that "a plaintiff may be considered the prevailing party for attorney's fee purposes if it
14 succeeds on any significant issue in litigation which achieves some of the benefit it sought
15 in bringing the suit."⁴⁵ So the Nevada Supreme Court contemplated that a party would not 16 have to be 100% successful on every motion or claim to be the prevailing party.

17 APCO was awarded a full and complete defense verdict. APCO's pretrial motions
18 raised important issues that the Court wanted to and ultimately did resolve at trial in 19 accordance with the legal briefing. It should also be noted that Helix claimed fees against 20 Camco for motions the Court did not grant.⁴⁶ So this clearly is not a valid basis to dispute
21 APCO's fees.

14 of counsel's hourly rates). Helix admits these fees only total $1600.

15 6. APCO’s fees related to Martin Harris are recoverable.

16 Helix went to work for Martin Harris to complete the project after Gemstone lost the 17 property. APCO’s fees spent investigating Helix’s association with and payments from 18 Martin Harris are recoverable. See Tony Gullo Motors I, L.P. v. Chapa,⁵⁰ (“Requests for

1 to award fees when the fees were supported by sufficient evidence and were “inextricably
2 intertwined”). Helix admits these fees only total $2,300.⁵²

3 7. APCO’s post-trial briefing was necessary.

4 Before trial, APCO had already expended almost a million dollars in attorneys’ fees.
5 The remaining subcontractors were asserting almost $2.0 million in claims and attorneys’
6 fees against APCO. APCO could not predict which issues the Court would find 7 determinative. As such, APCO had to fully brief each issue, which were all intertwined.
8 Further, the post-trial hours were not devoted simply to APCO’s post-trial brief. The hours 9 represent review, analysis, and incorporation of the trial transcripts and exhibits, and 10 preparation of APCO’s post-trial brief, APCO’s proposed FFCL, and oppositions to 11 Helix’s, National Wood’s, and Camco’s post-trial briefs and proposed findings. See Dennis
12 v. Chang,⁵³ (“[A]lthough hindsight might suggest that fewer hours were needed, the time 13 actually spent was reasonable and reflected good legal judgment, particularly because 14 plaintiffs were never assured of early success.”) Further, APCO’s decision to submit such 15 detailed post-trial briefing was an exercise of good judgment. APCO’s FFCL was 72 pages
16 with practically every sentence tied to a portion of the record. The Court’s ultimate FFCL
17 was over 71 pages and essentially incorporated APCO’s extensive work product. See
18 Carpenter v. Colvin,⁵⁴ (“Carpenter’s decision to devote so much detail to the background
19 section of his brief was apparently an exercise in good judgment; the Magistrate Judge’s 20 R&R devoted 28 pages to the case’s facts and procedural history, two more pages than 21 Carpenter.”). So there is no basis to contest APCO’s post-trial fees.

21 B. National Wood

22 National Wood asserts four categories of fees it alleges are not permitted: fees before
23 February 2016, fees it alleges were improperly allocated, fees for unsuccessful motions, 24 and fees for allegedly unnecessary research related to the 5 year rule. Each of these 25 categories is addressed above, with the exception of the 5 year rule research. APCO

1 withdraws its request for these fees of $3,100 in the interest of judicial efficiency.⁵⁵ At the 2 time Spencer Fane performed its research, the undersigned was unaware of the prior
3 Judge's determination.

4 Lastly, National Wood vaguely asserts that APCO utilized block billing. This is simply 5 not true. See Exhibit 7A-B to APCO's Motion for Attorney's Fees showing task-billing by 6 the tenth of an hour.⁵⁶

7 V. APCO's offers of judgment were timely and reasonable under the *Beattie
8 Factors.

9 A. APCO's offers were timely.

10 An offer of judgment may be served on the adverse party at any time "more than 10 11 days" before the trial begins.⁵⁷ In Allianz Ins. Co. v. Gagnon,⁵⁸ the Nevada Supreme Court 12 considered whether the district court erred in finding an offer of judgment before the 13 second phase of a bifurcated trial was untimely. In determining that the district court
14 erred, the Nevada Supreme Court explained:

15 The purpose of NRCP 68 is to encourage settlement of lawsuits
16 before trial. The purpose of the requirement that an offer be 17 made more than ten days prior to trial is to ensure that an 18 offeree have adequate time after service and before trial to 19 consider the offer...there is no reason why avoiding one of two 20 partial trials is undesirable. Furthermore, the ten-day rule and 21 good faith limitations imposed upon offers of judgment should 22 protect an offeree who receives an offer prior to the second 23 phase of a bifurcated trial as effectively as an offeree who 24 receives an offer prior to the commencement of a single trial.
25 The offer of judgment is a useful settlement device which 26 should be made available at every possible juncture where the 27 rules allow. Accordingly, we hold that a party may make an

23 ⁵⁵ National Wood admits these fees are only $3100 at 20:20.

24 ⁵⁶ And contrary to National Wood's unsupported argument, APCO did not waive its rights to 25 pursue attorney's fees. APCO was sued on the subcontracts and then was forced to defend itself at 26 considerable expense. APCO asked for attorney's fees in its answers to Helix's and CabineTec's
27 complaints. See Trial Exhibit 232 APCO's Answer to Helix's Complaint at p. 11, and Trial
28 Exhibit 228, APCO's Answer to CabineTec's Complaint. APCO also served offers of judgment, the only clear reason being to settle the litigation and if not, for an award of attorney's fees. So APCO has not waived its right to attorney's fees is without merit.

⁵⁷ NRCP 68(a); NRS 17.115(1).

1 offer of judgment pursuant to NRCP 68 and NRS 17.115 prior
2 to the second phase of a bifurcated trial...The district court
3 erred in holding that appellants' offers of judgment were 4 untimely.

5 The subcontractors argument that APCO's offer of judgment was untimely is 6 nonsensical. The trial of Ready Mix – five years ago—was obviously bifurcated from the 7 parties' January 2018 trial. The Court's November 30, 2017 Order Setting Civil Non-Jury
8 Trial and Calendar Call set trial on this matter for January 9, 2018. APCO's offers were 9 served on November 13, 2017. So APCO's offers were certainly timely as they were 10 served more than 45 days before trial. If the Court were to adopt the subcontractors'
11 timing arguments it would mean every party's motion in limine, motion for summary
12 judgment, pretrial disclosures, and even oral argument in this matter were more 5 years
13 late. That would not make sense.

14 B. APCO's Offers were reasonable under the Beattie Factors.

15 “[T]he trial court must carefully evaluate the following factors: (1) whether the 16 plaintiff's claim was brought in good faith; (2) whether the defendants' offer of judgment
17 was reasonable and in good faith in both its timing and amount; (3) whether the plaintiff's
18 decision to reject the offer and proceed to trial was grossly unreasonable or in bad faith;
19 and (4) whether the fees sought by the offeror are reasonable and justified in amount.”⁵⁹
20 “After weighing the foregoing factors, the district judge may, where warranted, award up 21 to the full amount of fees requested.”⁶⁰ An award will not be disturbed if the record is 22 clear that the district court considered the factors and the court's award is not arbitrary or 23 capricious.⁶¹ No single factor under Beattie is determinative. The district court has broad 24 discretion to grant the request as long as all appropriate factors are at least considered.⁶²

25 ⁵⁹ Beattie v. Thomas, 99 Nev. 579, 588–89, 668 P.2d 268, 274 (1983)

26 ⁶⁰ Beattie v. Thomas, 99 Nev. 579, 588–89, 668 P.2d 268, 274 (1983)

27 ⁶¹ Uniroyal Goodrich Tire Co. v. Mercer, 111 Nev.

28 318, 324, 890 P.2d 785, 789 (1995), superseded by statute on other grounds as stated in RTTC Commc'ns, LLC v. Saratoga Flier, Inc., 121 Nev. 34, 41–42 & n. 20, 110 P.3d 24, 29 & n. 20 (2005).

⁶² Arnoult, 114 Nev. at 252 n.16, 955 P.2d at 673 n.16.

1 1. The subcontractors claims were not brought in good faith.

2 Any review of the prime contract and termination related correspondence would have
3 confirmed that Gemstone had exercised its right to accept assignment of the subcontracts.
4 And as plaintiffs, Helix and National Wood had the burden of proving they satisfied the 5 express conditions precedent to retention payments. They knew they could not prove 6 payment was due under the agreed upon payment schedules. So there was no good faith
7 basis for continuing to pursue APCO.

8 2. APCO's offers were reasonable and made in good faith.

9 APCO offered Helix $25,000 and offered National Wood $35,000 to settle their claims.
10 Because the offers were made 45 days before trial, Helix and National Wood had the 11 benefit of full factual discovery, full briefing on dispositive motions, and rulings on 12 pertinent motions in limine. Each party had complete information to assess the factual and 13 legal bases of their respective claims and defenses. Helix's Opposition claims it had no
14 reason to accept APCO's offer given that it had to proceed to trial against Camco
15 anyway.⁶³ Helix's cavalier position does not account for the fact that it wrongfully kept 16 APCO in the litigation.

17 Helix then claims that its $25,000 offer was unreasonable in light of its alleged $1.4
18 million claim. But Helix is ignoring that from the time APCO took Helix's PMK
19 deposition and all throughout trial, Helix's alleged claim against APCO was only 20 $505,000.⁶⁴ And now Helix clearly would have been better off to have taken the $25,000
21 and all parties would have saved significant fees and costs. So the reasonableness of the 22 offer should be considered in light of the outcome, not the demand.

23 APCO's offer to National Wood was more than reasonable. As the Court has found, 24 National Wood initially disclosed $19,000 in damages against APCO, and later amended
26

27 _____
28 ⁶³ See Helix's Opposition at 11.

⁶⁴ See FFCL at 34-35.

1 its claim to just over $30,000 in damages prior to the close of discovery.⁶⁵ In fact, the 2 Court granted APCO's motion in limine confirming National Wood's damages were 3 limited to its pretrial disclosures of approximately $30,000. Yet even with the benefit of 4 this ruling, National Wood still elected to proceed to trial against APCO. National Wood's
5 assertion of more than $30,000 was proper and a direct violation of its Rule 16 obligations.
6 So when APCO offered $35,000, National Wood should have accepted it immediately.

7 3. The subcontractor's decision to reject the offers were unreasonable.

8 Since Helix recovered nothing against APCO, the $25,000 offer was more than Helix
9 was entitled to. And National Wood cannot provide any basis for its decision to reject an 10 offer that was the full amount of National Wood's disclosed damages.

11 4. The fees sought by APCO are both reasonable and justified.

12 In the interest of judicial efficiency, APCO incorporates the briefing on its motion for 13 fees, confirming its fees were both reasonable and justified. APCO's requested fees of 14 $239,550.03 against Helix are especially reasonable since Helix pursued claims against 15 APCO and Camco, and is seeking $153,342.10 for just its claims against Camco.⁶⁶

16 For the record, APCO's post-offer fees attributable to Helix total $130,933.73 and 17 APCO's post-offer fees attributable to National Wood total $106,882.23⁶⁷

18 VI. APCO is entitled to fees against Helix under NRS 108.237.

19 If a lien claimant does not prevail under NRS 108.237, the owner is entitled to its 20 attorney's fees and costs if the Court finds that the lien was recorded without a reasonable 21 basis in law or fact.⁶⁸ In this case, the Court made 71 pages of specific findings confirming

24
25 ⁶⁵ See FFCL at 61.

26 ⁶⁶ Lastly, on June 15, 2018, National Wood's counsel filed a declaration explaining that APCO's fees should be 27 reduced to approximately $109,000 and attached a spreadsheet attempting to justify her position. The reasons for the 28 alleged deductions were consistent with National Wood's briefing (i.e. 5 year rule briefing, alleged unapportioned time, etc). As such, APCO incorporates its arguments against her deductions in response to counsel's chart.

⁶⁷ Spencer Fane ($115,360.48 attributable to Helix, and $93,008.48 attributable to National Wood); MAC ($15,573.25 attributable to Helix and $13,873.75 attributable to National Wood).

⁶⁸ NRS 108.237(3).

1 that Helix did not have a reasonable basis to pursue its lien against APCO. Those findings
2 include:

3 34. APCO was not the owner of the Project.

4 35. The Project has already been foreclosed upon and the 5 proceeds were awarded to the lender. The Nevada Supreme 6 Court affirmed the decision of the trial court that the lender
7 was entitled to keep the Project and related proceeds, and the 8 subcontractors (and APCO) were left with nothing. Thus, Helix
9 cannot foreclose upon the property.

10 36. APCO is not legally liable for any deficiency judgment
11 because it is not the party responsible for any deficiency.⁶⁹

12 Given the record, it is clear that Helix did not have a reasonable basis to continue
13 pursuing a mechanic's lien against APCO, who did not own the property and was not 14 awarded the priority sales proceeds. Based on the above, an award of attorneys' fees under 15 NRS 108 is warranted.

16 VII. Conclusion

17 Based on the foregoing, and deducting the $3,100 for research related to the 5 year
18 rule, APCO respectfully requests an award of attorneys' fees and costs against Helix in the 19 amount of $238,950.03 and $206,659.25 against National Wood, and $33,423.31 in costs
20 against Helix and $22,180.36 in costs against Spencer Fane.

RETAX COSTS

21 Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC ("Helix") by and through its counsel of record, the 22 law firm of PEEL BRIMLEY LLP, hereby respectfully submits the following Reply to re:
23 Defendant APCO Construction's ("APCO") Opposition to Helix's¹ Motion to Retax Costs.

24 ///

25 ///

27 ¹ APCO's Opposition jointly opposes Helix's Motion and National Wood Products' ("NWP") Motion to Retax
28 Costs, in which Helix has joined. Helix's Reply therefore applies in equal measure to APCO's Opposition to NWP's Motion.

1 This Reply is made and based on the points and authorities provided below, the papers
2 and pleadings on file herein, and any oral argument to be heard by this Court at the hearing on 3 this matter.

15 REPLY MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

16 I. APCO FAILED TO ALLOCATE ITS COSTS

17 APCO has the burden of demonstrating that its costs were “reasonable, necessary, and 18 actually incurred,” Cadle Co. v. Woods & Erickson, LLP, 131 Nev. Adv. Op. 15, 345 P.3d 1049, 19 1054 (Nev. 2015), citing Bobby Berosini, Ltd. v. PETA, 114 Nev. 1348 (1998). APCO initially 20 did little more than list alleged (and, in many cases, legally unrecoverable) costs and allocate 21 them Helix and NWP on a 50/50 basis. Notwithstanding APCO’s belated effort (by way of its 22 Opposition) to justify and document such costs, Helix respectfully submits that APCO’s
23 Opposition offers little, if any, clarification, justification or explanation of its demand for more 24 than $57,000 in costs from Helix and NWP. APCO’s Opposition also fails to accurately allocate 25 such costs (to the extent they are at all recoverable).

26 As requested in Helix’s Motion and in its (and NWP’s) Opposition to APCO’s Motion
27 for Fees and Costs², this Court should deny or substantially reduce APCO’s request for costs
28 because such costs are not allowed by statute and are not reasonable or necessary. Any costs the Court deems allowable, reasonable and necessary should be further reduced to account for the

² These intertwined motions are all set for hearing on the same date.

1 numerous other subcontractor parties to which some or all of the costs should have been 2 allocated.

3 II. APCO FAILS TO JUSTIFY ITS COSTS.

4 Without agreeing that APCO is entitled to any award of costs, Helix will address APCO's
5 specific attempts to justify its costs in the order presented in APCO's Opposition as follows:

6 A. Categories of Costs Incurred by Spencer Fane (per APCO's Opposition)

7 1. Messenger Services.

8 In seeking messenger fees as costs, APCO fails to demonstrate – and cannot do so – that 9 such expenses are recoverable costs identified in NRS 18.005. APCO also fails to dispute – and 10 cannot do so – that messenger fees should be included in a motion for attorneys' fees, not in a
11 memorandum of costs (see LVMPD v. Yeghiazarian, 312 P.3d 503, 510; 129 Nev. 760, 769
12 (2013)). Even if such costs are recoverable, many of these deliveries relate to matters (as more
13 fully discussed in Helix's Opposition to APCO's Motion for Fees and Costs) that provided no
14 benefit to APCO, including numerous motions that APCO lost. By way of example only, 15 APCO's "supporting documentation" shows on its fact that APCO seeks recovery of (i)
16 messenger fees to deliver its failed motion for reconsideration and reply to the same, (ii) a 17 stipulation and order to dismiss that obviously relates to some other party, (iii) check and 18 invoices for some unknown purpose, and (iv) offers of judgment that were – as demonstrated in 19 Helix's Opposition – made five years late. [See e.g., APCO Ex. B]. In addition, there are 20 multiple messenger fees [see Ex. L] that appear to be related to delivery of documents from 21 APCO's first law firm to its second law firm and then to its third law firm. Helix should not be 22 responsible for such duplication.

23 APCO also provides, as supporting documentation for various types of costs, a 24 spreadsheet purporting to identify the source and reason but without any back-up or invoices.
25 [See e.g., APCO Ex 1-A]. Without such backup documentation, Helix has no way of knowing 26 whether these items are accurately represented and relate in any way to Helix. Because APCO
27 has the burden of segregating related and unrelated (as well as productive and unproductive)
28 costs, it is not incumbent upon Helix to prove the negative. While some of these costs may be

1 appropriate (assuming they are even allowable under NRS 18.005, many of which are not), it is
2 impossible to accurately determine the amount that should be awarded. This failure of specificity
3 alone is ground for rejection of APCO's request for costs.

4 2. Photocopies and Reproductions.

5 While photocopies are allowable costs, APCO's costs are grossly excessive on their face
6 – more than $15,000!! Indeed, a single APCO invoice indicates that more than 33,000 copies 7 were made and the total number of document pages identified in the supporting documents (from 8 Spencer Fane alone) exceeds 70,000 items. While APCO grossly over-listed its trial exhibits
9 (identifying virtually every document it disclosed pursuant to NRCP 16.1), it had no intention of 10 using all or even most of those exhibits at trial and, of course, did not do so. Similarly, Helix and 11 NWP did not disclose anything approaching this number of pages.

12 Helix's trial exhibits (including more than 1,600 pages of deposition transcripts that 13 APCO did not need to reproduce as well as documents pertaining to its claims against Camco)
14 total less than 3,300 pages. The Court admitted far fewer documents than this. Helix cannot 15 fathom how APCO could have required more than 70,000 pages of documents to be printed for 16 this trial. While a reasonable charge is appropriate, APCO's claim is excessive on its face. In 17 addition, APCO seeks recovery for editing videos it showed at trial. However, these videos
18 demonstrated nothing of evidentiary value and appear to have been offered as evidence of a 19 contention it later withdrew (i.e. that Helix's compensation from Martin Harris Construction for 20 its work on a subsequent project somehow compensated Helix for work on the Manhattan West
21 project). As such, no recovery should be had for these items.

22 3. Court Reporters and Transcripts.

23 While APCO is entitled to a reasonable recovery of the costs of transcripts, these 24 amounts should be reduced and further allocated among the parties who participated – i.e., not
25 just Helix and NWP.

26 4. Travel and Lodging.

27 As Helix has argued, travel and lodging for out-of-state counsel is not appropriate here.
28 This was a trial of a Nevada action involving a Nevada construction project and Nevada parties.

1 While APCO was within its rights to hire Mr. Jeffries, who resides in Arizona, as its trial
2 counsel, APCO already had multiple qualified law firms and attorneys on the case with offices
3 and resident counsel in Nevada. The cases APCO relies upon are all California cases,
4 interpreting California rules of practice, and have not been adopted in Nevada. APCO should not 5 recover any of these costs.

6 5. Computerized Legal Research.

7 APCO cannot dispute that the Nevada Supreme Court has deemed computerized legal 8 research expenses to be “more closely related to the attorney’s fee than to the kinds of 9 recoverable costs defined in NRS 18.005.” Gibellini v. Klindt, 110 Nev. 1201, 1204 (1994). As 10 such, these are not recoverable costs. Strangely, as support for recovery of such expenses, APCO
11 relies on Waddell v. L.C.R.V Inc., 122 Nev. 15 (2006). However, that court did not award such 12 costs and apparently did not consider Gibellini.

13 6. Spencer Fane Cost Summary.

14 a. Spencer Fane’s costs cannot be allocated solely to Helix and NWP.

15 APCO argues that whatever costs the Court may deem reasonable as incurred by the 16 Spencer Fane firm should only be allocated to Helix and NWP because its work “focused on 17 defending against” these claims. Yet APCO admits that Spencer Fane participated in “some 18 relatively minor negotiations with other subcontractors,” acknowledging (as it must) that there 19 continued to be other subcontractors involved in this action even until May 2018. Moreover,
20 Spencer Fane’s billing records submitted in support of APCO’s motion for fees and costs belies 21 this attempt to minimize its participation in the defense of all of the parties’ claims against 22 APCO. The Court should reject APCO’s imprecise and self-serving attempt to thrust upon Helix
23 and NWP 100% of the costs of expenses incurred in defending the claims of multiple 24 subcontractor parties.

25 b. *APCO is not entitled to accounting costs.*³

26 APCO claims entitlement to “an additional $10,500 from Helix as a result of a 2010
27 Nevada State Contractor’s Board audit of APCO’s finances, ordered as a result of Helix’s claims

28 ³ As these expenses were incurred in 2009, Helix does not understand why they are included in APCO’s evaluation of Spencer Fane’s costs. Spencer Fane did not appear in this case until September 2017,

1 against APCO in this matter. None of these assertions is accurate, as demonstrated by APCO's
2 own "supporting documentation" and APCO offers no affidavit from anyone with personal
3 knowledge to support its contentions. More fundamentally, there is no basis under Nevada law
4 for APCO to receive such expenses as a litigation cost. As noted Helix's Motion, this is not a
5 cost item identified in NRS 18.005.

6 It appears that, as part of some Nevada State Contractors Board ("NSCB") investigation
7 (this project is not even identified on the NSCB letter) the NSCB required APCO to provide
8 (among other things) "a current financial statement dated within the last six months." The NSCB
9 can do this at any time an investigation is conducted against the licensee. See NRS 624.323(1).
10 APCO provides no proof that it was being investigated as a result of a complaint by Helix and 11 not some other party or entirely unrelated matter. Moreover, the Board did not require APCO to 12 prepare such documents in response to the investigation; rather it required APCO to provide the 13 type of financial documentation that any contractor of APCO's stature would and should already 14 have in its possession. As such, there is no proof (other than a handwritten note by an unknown 15 person apparently attached to the accountant's invoice) to tie the preparation of the financial 16 statement to Helix. Were this cost truly attributable to Helix, APCO would have provided an 17 affidavit from the accountant attesting to that fact, but tellingly it did not do so. Again, and even 18 if the cost is wholly attributable to Helix, APCO offers no legal basis – because there is none - 19 for it to obtain reimbursement of accounting expenses relating to an administrative proceeding as 20 a cost awardable in a District Court action. This "cost" should be denied in its entirety.

21 B. Categories of Costs Incurred by Marquis Aurbach (per APCO's Opposition)

22 1. Filing Fees.

23 In seeking recovery of filing fees, APCO it conveniently neglects to acknowledge that it 24 was a PLAINTIFF in this action, which it commenced against Gemstone (while it was 25 represented by a different law firm). Helix is not responsible for APCO's filing fees as a plaintiff 26 filing affirmative claims against another. APCO also does not identify specific fees it ascribes to 27 Helix. Further, even if APCO were entitled to a recovery of some portion of its filing fees, Helix 28 should be responsible for no more than 1/30th of that cost. APCO's failure to acknowledge these

1 facts demonstrates its approach to costs generally: throw everything at the wall and hope
2 something sticks. This is the opposite of APCO's burden.

3 2. Special Master Fees.

4 Helix does not object to recovery of some portion of APCO's Special Master Fees.
5 However, as the Special Master Orders and Reports demonstrate (see e.g., Helix's Opposition to 6 APCO Motion for Fees and Costs, Ex. 7) there were no less than 14 subcontractor parties (i.e., 7 exclusive of APCO and Camco). Nonetheless, and improperly, APCO seeks recovery of 100% of 8 these costs from Helix and/or NWP. These costs should be reduced to no more than $219.00 (i.e.
9 1/14th of the amount sought).

10 3. Printing services.

11 The reproduction costs billed to Marquis & Aurbach ("M&A") are not from trial but from 12 earlier motions or hearings for which APCO has not provided any basis of recovery. [See APCO
13 Ex. I]. In addition, APCO is apparently seeking recovery for costs of copying done at M&A [see 14 APCO Exs. O, P] at $0.25 per page. Not only is this charge grossly excessive (and appears to be 15 a means of compensating M&A's labor costs), there is no proof that M&A actually charged 16 APCO, and that APCO paid, such grossly exorbitant costs.

17 4. Transcript and Reporter's Fees.

18 As argued above, while APCO is entitled to a reasonable recovery of transcripts, these 19 amounts should be reduced and further allocated among the parties who participated – i.e., not
20 just Helix and NWP.

21 5. "Professional services."

22 APCO is here seeking attorney's fees billed to APCO by a bankruptcy law firm that 23 APCO engaged to advise it during a mediation involving multiple subcontractors (yet allocates 24 the entirety of these fees to Helix and NWP). First, these are attorney's fees and not "costs." As 25 such, they are plainly not recoverable under NRS 18.005. APCO offers no legal support for 26 seeking these costs. The bankruptcy firm did not appear in the case and APCO is not seeking 27 those costs as part of its motion for attorney's fees (nor would they be recoverable as such).
28 Simply stated, these are not "costs" and may not be awarded.

1 6. Long distance calls.

2 This is a de minimis cost and, as such is almost not worth the effort to oppose.
3 Nonetheless, APCO must demonstrate that the calls were specifically related to claims against it
4 by Helix (alone) and/or NWP (alone). Simply listing calls, dates, times and amounts is not 5 enough.

6 7. Flash drives.

7 The words “flash drive” do not appear anywhere in NRS 18.005 as awardable costs.
8 These are (reusable) technological devices that APCO’s attorneys have chosen to use for its 9 convenience. Again, this is a de minimis expense but should nonetheless be denied as a cost.

10 8. Messenger services.

11 Helix reiterates and adopts by reference its arguments above relating to APCO’s request
12 for messenger services incurred by Spencer Fane.

13 9. Parking fees.

14 APCO seeks from Helix recovery of 50% of its parking fees dating back to June 2016 15 (when there were no less than 18 subcontractors involved) and including parking costs for 16 hearings not only relating to multiple subcontractors but, in some cases, different subcontractors.
17 For example, one receipt contains the notation “hearing on Insulpro’s MSJ.” That motion
18 hearing in June 2016, obviously had nothing to do with Helix. Several receipts pertain to parking
19 for the hearing on APCO’s motion for partial summary judgment, which was denied, and to the 20 hearing on motions in limine and the summary judgment regarding Pay-if-Paid, all of which 21 were substantially adverse to APCO. Other receipts have dates smudged or otherwise illegible
22 and it is impossible to know what the matter pertained to and why Helix should be responsible 23 for the same. Another, dated October 5, 2017, pertains to a hearing on Zitting Bros. motion for 24 summary judgment. Why would Helix be responsible for this?

25 While these “costs” are also arguably de minimis, it is troubling that APCO would 26 include and seek compensation as costs for items that have absolutely nothing to do with Helix.
27 Either APCO assumed Helix’s counsel would not actually look at the receipts or it failed to 28 appropriately vet its own claim. Either way, this is a colossal waste of time, results in unnecessary time spent by Helix's counsel and drives up Helix's costs. Not only should APCO not be awarded these costs, any award of costs given to APCO for other items should be offset by a credit to Helix for unnecessary fees it caused Helix to incur in defending against APCO's request for costs.

10. Postage.

It is unclear whether the postage cost of $29.31 actually pertains to Helix or whether APCO could ever actually provide that it is. As this is a de minimis cost, Helix leaves this to the sound discretion of the Court, though any award should be only 1/14th of the amount sought.

11. Westlaw research.

Helix reiterates and adopts by reference its arguments above relating to APCO's request for electronic legal research costs incurred by Spencer Fane. These costs should be denied in their entirety.

12. Copies.

It is unclear whether and to what extent APCO's request for "reproduction costs" (see above) and "copies" overlap. As above, Helix believes that the reproduction costs billed to Marquis & Aurbach ("M&A") are not from trial but from earlier motions, hearings, letters and other communications that may not even involve Helix for which APCO has not provided any basis of recovery. [See APCO Ex. O]. In addition, APCO is apparently seeking recovery for costs of copying done in-house at M&A [see Id.] and charged at $0.25 per page. Not only is this charge grossly excessive (and appears to be a means of compensating M&A's labor costs), there is no proof that M&A actually charged APCO, and that APCO actually paid, such grossly exorbitant costs.

13. Scanning.

Similarly, APCO submits in Exhibit P internal records of Marquis & Aurbach charging their client $0.25 per page to scan "unspecified" items that may or may not pertain to Helix and for which there is no way to evaluate the claim. Simply because such costs may relate to the Manhattan West litigation does mean they relate to Helix, in whole or in part. APCO has the burden of demonstrating that the costs are reasonable and necessary, were actually incurred, and

1 relate to Helix. See Cadle Co. 345 P.3d at 1054 (Nev. 2015). APCO has failed to meet this 2 burden.

3 14. Argument re: splitting costs.

4 APCO argues that the claims of the numerous other parties to the litigation were 5 “inextricably intertwined” with the claims by Helix and NWP. This argument actually supports
6 Helix’s position that APCO’s costs must be allocated among all of the other subcontractor parties
7 (whose claims were “inextricably intertwined” with Helix’s and NWP’s). Further, and while 8 some matters related to multiple claims (and, therefore, justify a reduction and further 9 apportionment of APCO’s costs and fees), some matters relate solely to Helix, NWP or any of 10 the other numerous claimants and should be clearly identified as such. There is no rule that 11 allows APCO to seek from Helix and NWP costs pertaining to APCO’s defense of claims by 12 others simply because Helix and NWP were the last claimants standing. In fact, the opposite is 13 true: APCO must prove that its costs were reasonable, necessary and pertain to Helix. APCO has 14 failed in that burden.

15 CONCLUSION

16 Based on the foregoing, the Court should retax APCO’s memorandum of costs to $0.00
17 or such other reasonable amount the Court may deem appropriate.

1 Plaintiff-in-Intervention, NATIONAL WOOD PRODUCTS, INC (“National Wood”), by
2 and through its counsel of record, the law offices of Richard L. Tobler, Ltd. and Cadden & Fuller
3 LLP, hereby submit its Surreply to APCO CONSTRUCTION’s (“APCO”) Reply to National 4 Wood’s Opposition to Motion for Attorneys’ Fee and Costs (“Reply”).

5 This Surreply is based upon the memorandum of points and authorities set forth herein,
6 the pleadings and papers filed herein and any oral argument requested by counsel.

8 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

10 1. INTRODUCTION

11 APCO wants to have its cake and eat it, too.

12 APCO specifically requested that this Court rule that APCO was not a party to the 13 Subcontract Agreement between APCO and Cabinetec, Inc. (“Subcontract”). The Court agreed 14 and ruled that, because APCO was not a party to the Subcontract, it has no burdens under the 15 Subcontract. Now, however, APCO is requesting the benefits of the Subcontract it went to great 16 pains to disavow. Nevada law does not support this. Instead, if, as APCO claimed and the Court 17 ruled, APCO is not a party to the Subcontract, it cannot be awarded fees pursuant to the 18 Subcontract.

19 Similarly, APCO specifically requested that the Court find that this entire action was a
20 single consolidated action with a single trial. The Court agreed and found that the single trial of 21 this consolidated action commenced on October 30, 2012. Now, APCO wants the Court to 22 disregard its earlier request and find that, instead, this consolidated action consisted of several
23 bifurcated trials. APCO cites to no bifurcation order. Instead, as requested by APCO, this action
24 was consolidated, not bifurcated, and consisted of a single, extended trial. APCO’s Offer of 25 Judgment (“APCO Offer”) was untimely.

26 Finally, even if APCO were entitled to an award of attorneys’ fees, APCO is seeking 27 unreasonable amounts. Furthermore, a substantial portion of the attorneys’ fees requested relate to 28 ///

1 events outside the scope of the attorneys' fee provision. Similarly, the attorneys' fees are not
2 properly allocated between the multiple claimants.

3 Simply stated, APCO is not entitled to be awarded any fees. If it is, the award should be 4 substantially smaller than APCO's request.

6 2. UNDER NEVADA LAW, APCO, WHO IS NOT A PARTY TO THE CONTRACT, HAS NO
7 RIGHT TO SEEK ATTORNEYS' FEES.

8 In its Reply, APCO claims that it is entitled to attorneys' fees since National Wood
9 instituted the lawsuit and this action arose out of the subcontract work pursuant to the attorneys'
10 fees provision in the Subcontract Agreement ("Subcontract"). Moreover, APCO claims that there 11 is nothing in Section 18.5 of the Subcontract that requires APCO to be a present party to the 12 Subcontract. To support its claim (first raised in its Reply), APCO cited two California cases¹ that 13 reviewed the contractual attorneys' fees provisions which limited recovery of attorneys' fees
14 "between the parties" or to the "other party." Based on the limiting language in the California
15 cases, APCO believes that Section 18.5 of the Subcontract "grants fees generally to the 'prevailing 16 party' after one party initiates litigation." [APCO's Reply, p. 3:6-8.] APCO is wrong.

17 Nevada's statutory provision regarding attorney's fees provides in pertinent part that "the 18 compensation of an attorney and counselor for his services is governed by agreement, express or 19 implied, which is not restrained by law." (NRS 18.010(1).) The Nevada Supreme Court has held 20 that "[i]t is settled that attorneys' fees are not recoverable absent a statute, rule or contractual
21 provision to the contrary." Rowland v. Lepire, 99 Nev. 308, 315-316, 662 P.2d 1332, 1336-1337
22 (1983) (citing Locken v. Locken, 98 Nev. 369, 650 P.2d 803 (1982) and Von Lehrensmann v. Lee, 23 98 Nev. 335, 647 P.2d. 377 (1982).) See also Singer v. Chase Manhattan Bank, 111 Nev. 289, 24 293 (1995) ("NRS 18.010(1) has no application to this case because there was no agreement 25 between the parties, express or implied, regarding attorneys' fees (emphasis added).")

26 At APCO's request, this Court determined that APCO is not and, since 2008, has not 27 been a party to the Subcontract because it was assigned to Gemstone and subsequently to 28 ¹ / Blickman Turkus, LP v. MF Downtown Sunnyvale, LLC, 162 Cal.App.4th 858, 900 (2008) and Real Property Serv. Corp. v. City of Pasadena, 25 Cal.App.4th 275, 277-278 (1994).

1 CAMCO as set forth in APCO's findings of fact and conclusions of law ("FFCL").
2 Specifically, the Court determined that (1) "The Subcontracts were assigned to Gemstone." [See 3 FFCL at p. 68]; (2) "Each party's behavior is consistent with the assignment of the Helix and 4 CabineTec Subcontracts to Gemstone" [See Conclusion of Law ("CL") No. 116]; (3) "The 5 [prime] Contract contained a subcontract assignment provisions that assigned Gemstone
6 APCO's subcontracts upon termination of the Contract." [See CL No. 117]; (4) The Contract
7 was incorporated into the subcontracts." [See CL No. 118]; (5) "Once APCO left the Project,
8 the Helix and CabineTec Subcontracts were assigned to Gemstone per Gemstone's written 9 notice to APCO." [See CL No. 119]; and (6) Once Gemstone had those Subcontracts, it 10 facilitated Camco's assumption of those subcontracts." [See CL No. 120].

11 APCO voluntarily assigned all rights of the contractual enforcement, including the 12 attorneys' fee provision. APCO requested the Court to find that APCO has no contractual 13 obligation to National Wood. The Court agreed and made this determination in the FFCL. In 14 light of this finding, the Court must also find that National Wood has no contractual obligation to 15 APCO.

16 Clearly, APCO is required to be a party to the contract in order for it to have any right to 17 seek attorneys' fees pursuant to NRS 18.010(1). Since APCO assigned the Subcontract to 18 Gemstone and subsequently to CAMCO in 2008, APCO ceased being a "party" to the Subcontract
19 as of 2008. Thus, APCO, who is not a party to the contract, has no right to seek attorneys' fees.

21 3. NATIONAL WOOD IS NOT EQUITABLY ESTOPPED FROM CONTESTING APCO'S ATTEMPT 22 TO SEEK ATTORNEYS' FEES PURSUANT TO THE SUBCONTRACT.

23 APCO is attempting to do an end run around NRS 18.010(1), which prohibits APCO from 24 seeking attorneys' fees because it is not a party to the Subcontract, by arguing that it has a right to 25 seek attorneys' fees even if it is not a signatory under an equitable estoppel theory. This argument 26 fails because APCO fails to cite to any Nevada case law that supports this argument. Rather,
27 APCO relies on cases holding that a party may be equitably estopped from complying with or 28 contesting an arbitration provision in a contract. None of these cases hold that a signatory party is

1 equitably estopped from contesting another party's right to seek attorneys' fees when that party is 2 a non-signatory party to a contract.

3 As set forth above, Nevada law is clear that in the absence of a contractual fee provision
4 between the parties, attorneys' fees are not recoverable. (Rowland, supra, 99 Nev. at p. 315-316;
5 Singer, supra, 111 Nev. at p. 293.) Because APCO cannot cite to any Nevada case law, APCO
6 relies on California cases (Reynolds Metals Co. v. Alperson, 25 Cal.3d 124, 128 (1979); Jones v.
7 Drain, 149 Cal.App.3d 484, 489-90 (1983); International Billing Services, Inc. v. Emigh, 84
8 Cal.App.4th 1175, 1179 (2000); California Wholesale Material Supply, Inc. v. Norm Wilson &
9 Sons, Inc., 96 Cal.App.4th 598 (2002)), a Washington case (Yuan v. Chow, 96 Wn.App. 909, 915
10 (1999)), and a Florida case (Katz v. Van Der Noord, 546 So.2d 1047, 1049 (Fla. 1989)). These 11 cases generally hold that a non-signatory party to a contract may recover attorneys' fees if it is 12 sued on the contract as if it was a party and the contract contains an attorneys' fee provision. In 13 these cases, however, the court awarded attorneys' fees because of the particular laws of these 14 states which allow a party, who is the prevailing party, to recover attorneys' fees regardless of 15 whether the party is a signatory to the contract. There is no similar rule in Nevada.

16 Specifically, California Code of Civil Procedure ("CCP") § 1717 provides: "(a) In any 17 action on a contract, where the contract specifically provides that attorney's fees and costs, which 18 are incurred to enforce that contract, shall be awarded either to one of the parties or to the 19 prevailing party, then the party who is determined to be the party prevailing on the contract,
20 whether he or she is the party specified in the contract or not, shall be entitled to reasonable 21 attorney's fees in addition to other costs." (Emphasis added.) (CCP § 1717.) There is no such 22 law in Nevada.

23 Moreover, Revised Code of Washington ("RCW") 4.84.330 provides: "In any action on a
24 contract or lease entered into after September 21, 1977, where such contract or lease specifically 25 provides that attorneys' fees and costs, which are incurred to enforce the provisions of such 26 contract or lease, shall be awarded to one of the parties, the prevailing party, whether he or she 27 is the party specified in the contract or lease or not, shall be entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees

28 ///

1 in addition to costs and necessary disbursements.” (Emphasis added.) (RCW 4.84.330.) There is 2 no such law in Nevada.

3 Further, Florida Statutes § 57.105 provides: “(1) Upon the court’s initiative or motion of 4 any party, the court shall award a reasonable attorney’s fee, including prejudgment interest, to be 5 paid to the prevailing party in equal amounts by the losing party and the losing party’s
6 attorney. . . .” (Florida Statutes § 57.105.) There is no such law in Nevada.

7 Here, Nevada law does not have the mutuality remedy component for attorneys’ fees such 8 as in California, Washington and Florida. These cases are inapplicable to the instant case.
9 Accordingly, since APCO is not a party to the contract, which is required under Nevada law, and 10 has no standing as an assignor, APCO is not entitled to seek or recover attorneys’ fees pursuant to 11 the Subcontract.

13 4. APCO DOES NOT HAVE STANDING AS AN ASSIGNOR TO ENFORCE A RIGHT TO 14 ATTORNEY’ FEES, THAT BY VIRTUE OF THE ASSIGNMENT, BELONGS TO GEMSTONE AND 15 CAMCO.

16 The inquiry into whether a party is a real party in interest overlaps with the question of
17 standing. Arguello v. Sunset Station, Inc., 127 Nev. 365 (2011) citing Szilagyi v. Testa, 99 Nev.
18 834, 838, 673 P.2d 495, 498 (1983). NRCP 17(a) provides that “[e]very action shall be 19 prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest.” A real party in interest “is one who possesses 20 the right to enforce the claim and has a significant interest in the litigation.” Id. The purpose of 21 the rule, since it was amended in 1971 to conform to the federal rule, “was to make unmistakably 22 clear that ‘the modern function of the [real party in interest] rule in its negative aspect is simply to 23 protect the defendant against a subsequent action by the party actually entitled to recover, and to 24 insure generally that the judgment will have its proper effect as res judicata.’” Easton Bus. Opp.
25 v. Town Executive Suites, 126 Nev. 119 (2010) citing Fed.R.Civ.P. 17(a) advisory committee’s 26 note (1966).

27 APCO seeks to enforce a right to attorneys’ fees that belongs to Gemstone and CAMCO
28 pursuant to the assignment of the Subcontract. If CAMCO had prevailed in defending against

1 National Wood's contractual claims, CAMCO would have asserted a right to an award of 2 attorneys' fees with respect to the assigned Subcontract Agreement. Exposure to liability to both
3 APCO and CAMCO arising out of the same contractual provision is exactly what NRCP 17(a)
4 was designed to prevent. See Eastern Bus. Opp. v. Town Executive Suites, supra.

5 APCO relies on Real Property Services Corp. v. City of Pasadena, 25 Cal.App.4th 375, 384
6 (1994), to support its position that it has standing as an assignor to seek attorneys' fees. APCO is 7 wrong because this case does not support this argument. In Real Property Services Corp., the 8 court held that under the reciprocity concept embodied in California Civil Code Section 1717
9 (quoted above), the City, as the prevailing party, was entitled to an award of reasonable attorney 10 fees against the operator, a non-signatory plaintiff, who sued under and to enforce the terms of the 11 contract in which the operator was expressly contemplated as a sublessee. Id.

12 In addition, APCO cites to an unpublished California case, Anaheim Emergency Specialists
13 Medical Group, Inc. v. Anaheim Memorial Medical Center, 2004 WL 2914964 (Cal.App.4th Dist.
14 2004), and an Alabama case, Cartwright v. Maitland, 30 So.3d 405 (Ala. 2009), to support its 15 position that it has standing as a non-signatory to enforce the attorneys' fees provision in the 16 Subcontract. These cases do not support APCO's position. In Anaheim Emergency Specialists
17 Medical Group, supra, the court found that the plaintiff was equitably estopped from asserting that 18 a non-signatory party, a defendant subsidiary's parent company, lacked standing to seek 19 arbitration when the charges against the non-signatory party and defendant subsidiary were based 20 on the same facts and were inherently inseparable and the alleged torts were rooted in the 21 contractual relationship between the parties. (Id. at *6-*7.) In Cartwright, supra, the court found 22 that since the language in the arbitration provision did not limit its reach to signatories, a signatory
23 is equitably estopped from contesting the non-signatory's standing to invoke the arbitration clause.
24 (Id. at p. 411.) Again, arbitration cases from other jurisdictions are not persuasive in the face of 25 direct Nevada authority regarding attorneys' fees.

26 In this matter, the issue before the court is whether APCO is entitled to seek attorneys'
27 fees, which National Wood disputes, and not an arbitration provision. Nevada law is clear with 28 respect to attorneys' fees in that they are only recoverable pursuant to an agreement between the

1 parties. Since 2008, APCO was no longer a party to the Subcontract. It assigned its right, title and 2 interest under the Subcontract to Gemstone and subsequently to CAMCO, including its right to 3 seek attorneys' fees.

5 5. APCO'S OFFER OF JUDGMENT WAS UNTIMELY AND UNREASONABLE.

6 Under Nevada law, an offer of judgment may be made "at any time more than 10 days
7 before trial." NRCP 68. APCO requested and obtained the November 29, 2012 Order ("Order")
8 which specifically provides that: "Trial of this consolidated matter commenced on October 30, 9 2012 upon the trial of the lien amount, lien validity and related claims of Ready Mix, Inc., and 10 therefore, the five-year rule set forth in Nevada Rule of Civil Procedure 41(e) is no longer
11 applicable." [Order at p. 2, ¶ 3, Exhibit "C" to Declaration of S. Judy Hirahara filed in support of 12 National Wood's Opposition to APCO's Motion for Attorneys' Fees and Costs.] Pursuant to the 13 Order, the case was stayed pending the resolution of the Writ Petition. [Order, p. 2, ¶ 1, Exhibit
14 "C" to Declaration of S. Judy Hirahara filed in support of National Wood's Opposition to APCO's
15 Motion for Attorneys' Fees and Costs.] After the Nevada Supreme Court rejected the Joint 16 Petitioner's petition for en banc reconsideration, the case was remanded to the District Court on or 17 about February 19, 2016.

18 Since the date of the Order, this "consolidated matter" was never bifurcated by the Court.
19 There is no order bifurcating the trial. Moreover, no separate trial was ever ordered in this 20 consolidated matter.

21 APCO cites to Allianz Ins. Co. v. Gagnon, 109 Nev. 990 (1993) to support its position that 22 the APCO Offer was timely. The Allianz case is distinguishable from the instant case. In Allianz,
23 the court formally ordered a bifurcated trial. APCO cites to no such formal order in this case
24 bifurcating the case and ordering separate trials. Instead, APCO specifically requested the Order, 25 which confirmed that all parts of this lawsuit were part of the same trial. The court in Allianz was 26 tasked with determining the meaning of "trial" as used in NRCP 68 and NRS 17.115 in the context
27 of a bifurcated trial. In doing so, the court referred to the use of "trial" in NRCP 42(b), the rule 28 that authorizes the bifurcation of trials. In the context of a bifurcated trial, the court held that

1 offers of judgment were not untimely because the appellants made the offers prior to the second
2 “trial” in the case. (Id. at 995.)

3 In the present case, the trial of the consolidated matter commenced on October 30, 2012,
4 pursuant to the Order. It was at APCO’s request that the Court made this order. Since APCO
5 requested the 5 year deference, it cannot now claim that it did not happen. Because the court did
6 not order a bifurcated trial and no separate trial was ever ordered, the APCO Offer was untimely
7 served. Accordingly, the APCO Offer is invalid and APCO is precluded from seeking any post-
8 offer attorneys’ fees or costs.

10 6. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO ATTORNEYS’ FEES PURSUANT TO NRCP 68 SINCE THE 11 OFFER OF JUDGMENT WAS UNTIMELY AND APCO FAILED TO ANALYZE THE BEATTIE
12 FACTORS.

13 APCO failed to present the Court with an analysis of the four Beattie factors in its Motion
14 for Attorneys’ Fees (“Motion”) to enable the Court to consider and weigh the evidence and make 15 findings based on evidence that the attorneys’ fees are reasonable and justified. APCO’s failure to 16 present this analysis in its moving papers should result in the Court’s denial of the Motion based 17 on the APCO Offer, which was untimely served. In its Reply, APCO raises new arguments
18 relating to the Beattie factors, which should have been addressed in its Motion but were not.
19 APCO’s untimely analysis of the Beattie factors should not be considered by the Court because it
20 is prejudicial to National Wood, who did not have any opportunity to respond and present
21 evidence in its opposition to APCO’s Motion.

22 In the event the Court considers APCO’s Reply with respect to the new arguments relating 23 to the Beattie factors, National Wood respectfully requests that the Court consider this Surreply².

25 A. NATIONAL WOOD’S CLAIMS WERE BROUGHT IN GOOD FAITH.

26 Nowhere in the Motion does APCO argue, much less provide evidence, for the contention
27 that National Wood made claims against APCO in bad faith. In its Reply, APCO contends that

28

2 / National Wood is filing an ex parte motion for leave to file this Surreply.

1 National Wood's claims were not brought in good faith because, due to APCO's claim that the 2 Subcontract was assigned to Gemstone, National Wood could not prove payment was due for 3 retention payments and there was no good faith basis to pursue APCO.

4 Based on the review of the prime contract and correspondence, it was not clear that the 5 Subcontract was assigned to Gemstone since there were conditions for assignment that were not
6 satisfied. Moreover, on January 2, 2018, this Court granted partial summary judgment and issued
7 an order precluding APCO and CAMCO from asserting or relying upon any defense to their 8 payment obligations, if any, based on a pay-if-paid agreement. In light of this order, there was a 9 good faith basis for National Wood to pursue its claims against APCO. In particular, based on the 10 partial summary judgment, APCO could not argue that it could avoid liability for the retention
11 merely because it had not received the retention from Gemstone. Similarly, because APCO sued
12 Gemstone for the retention, it seemed that National Wood could reasonably argue that APCO
13 should be obligated to pass that through to National Wood. As such, the first of the Beattie factors 14 weighs against any award of attorney's fees.

16 B. THE APCO OFFER WAS UNREASONABLE IN AMOUNT AND TIMING.

17 Nowhere in the Motion did APCO argue, much less provide evidence, for the contention
18 that the APCO Offer in the amount of $35,000.00 to settle the action was reasonable in amount or 19 timing. In its Reply, APCO contends that its Offer was timely. APCO's timing was not 20 reasonable since the Offer was untimely served as more fully explained in Section 5 above.
21 Moreover, APCO contends that the amount reasonable because the Court had granted APCO's
22 motion in limine confirming National Wood's damages were limited to $30,000.00 ("MIL").
23 Contrary to APCO's contention, when APCO made its Offer, the Court had not yet limited 24 National Wood's damages to $30,000.00. APCO's MIL with regard to National Wood (seeking to 25 strike evidence or argument of damages greater than what the parties listed in their special master 26 questionnaires or official damage disclosures) was only granted to the extent it sought to preclude 27 evidence that should have been, but was not, properly disclosed. It was not until after the trial
28 concluded when the Court limited National Wood's damages. Therefore, at the time the Offer,

1 National Wood's damages were not limited to $30,000.00 since it contended that it had properly
2 disclosed all evidence supporting the damages National Wood was seeking against APCO.

3 Since National Wood was seeking over $1.1 million dollars, APCO's nominal offer of 4 $35,000.00 was clearly unreasonable and was not an offer intended to facilitate settlement.
5 Regardless of the outcome of National Wood's claims against APCO, the APCO Offer was not
6 reasonable or in good faith at the time it was made. Therefore, the second of the Beattie factors
7 weighs against any award of attorney's fees.

9 C. NATIONAL WOOD'S DECISION TO REJECT THE APCO OFFER WAS IN GOOD
10 FAITH AND NOT GROSSLY UNREASONABLE.

11 Nowhere in the Motion did APCO argue, much less provide evidence, for the contention
12 that National Wood's decision to reject the APCO Offer and proceed to trial was unreasonable or 13 in bad faith. In APCO's Reply, APCO claims that National Wood has failed to provide any basis
14 for rejecting the APCO Offer³. As set forth in its Opposition and above, APCO untimely served
15 the APCO Offer which rendered it invalid. Moreover, APCO's nominal offer was unreasonable
16 given the fact that National Wood was seeking over $1.1 million dollars against APCO.
17 Furthermore, since the Court had granted partial summary judgment on the pay-if-paid issue,
18 which precluded APCO from asserting it as an affirmative defense, National Wood had a good 19 faith basis to pursue its claims against APCO. Thus, the third of the Beattie factors weighs against 20 any award of attorney's fees.

22 7. APCO'S ATTORNEY' FEES ARE UNREASONABLE.

23 A. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO FEES BEFORE FEBRUARY 2016 (WHEN CASE WAS 24 REMANDED TO THE DISTRICT COURT).

25 APCO seeks fees prior to February 2016 that relate to priority and entitlement to proceeds
26 of sale of real property that APCO, CAMCO, Helix, National Wood and dozens of other 27 subcontractors liened. As noted above, APCO is not entitled to fees since it is not a party to the

28

³ / It should be noted that APCO bears the burden of proof on this issue.

1 Subcontract Agreement. In the event the Court finds a basis for awarding any fees to APCO, they
2 must be only those fees incurred in the defense of National Wood's claim pursuant to Section 18.5
3 of the Subcontract.

4 Section 18.5 of the Subcontract provides: "In the event either party [National Wood]
5 employs an attorney to institute a lawsuit or to demand arbitration for any cause arising out of the 6 Subcontract Work or any of the Contract Documents, the prevailing party [APCO] shall be 7 entitled to all costs, attorney's fees and other reasonable expenses incurred therein."

8 If the Court awards any fees, the recoverable fees by APCO must be those incurred in 9 connection with National Wood's lawsuit against it. Fees incurred prior to February 2016 by 10 APCO related solely to priority and entitlement to proceeds of sale of real property and did not 11 relate to the claims by National Wood against APCO.

13 B. APCO DID NOT PROPERLY ALLOCATE ITS FEES.

14 APCO primarily allocated its fees to Helix and National Wood. Pursuant to the Court's 15 Order dated September 19, 2017, there were 14 subcontractors remaining. While APCO claims to 16 have settled with several subcontractors prior to trial, there is no record of any settlement or 17 dismissal until May 25, 2018, wherein APCO settled with 3 subcontractors and their claims were 18 dismissed. The fees sought by APCO should not have been primarily allocated to Helix and 19 National Wood only. APCO was defending claims by the remaining subcontractors. Therefore,
20 APCO should have properly allocated the fees among the 14 subcontractors, as more specifically
21 set forth in National Wood's opposition to APCO's motion for attorneys' fees and supporting 22 declaration and exhibit charts.

24 C. APCO IS NOT ENTITLED TO FEES FOR UNSUCCESSFUL MOTIONS.

25 APCO is not entitled to fees for unsuccessful motions or unsuccessfully opposing motions
26 since the fourth factor under Brunzell requires a finding of "whether the attorney was successful 27 and what benefits were derived." Brunzell v. Golden Gate Nat'l Bank, 85 Nev. 345, 349 (1969).
28 APCO filed motion for partial summary judgment regarding lien foreclosure claims, which was

1 unsuccessful. APCO unsuccessfully opposed Peel Brimley's motion for partial summary
2 judgment regarding pay-if-paid. Moreover, APCO unsuccessfully filed a motion for 3 reconsideration of the court's order granting partial summary judgment regarding pay-if-paid. As 4 a result, the attorneys' fees sought by APCO for these unsuccessful motions or for unsuccessfully
5 opposing motions should not be recoverable since APCO did not derive any benefits therefrom.

6 APCO cites to a Nevada Supreme Court case, Sack v. Tomlin, 110 Nev. 204, 214 (1994),
7 where the Court held that a plaintiff may be considered a prevailing party if it succeeds on any 8 significant issue in litigation which achieves some of the benefit it sought in bringing the suit.
9 APCO contends that the Nevada Supreme Court contemplated that a party would not have to be 10 100% successful on every motion or claim to be the prevailing party. This case is not applicable 11 to the present matter since the court analyzed whether the respondent was a prevailing party and 12 entitled to attorneys' fees pursuant to statute - NRS 18.010(2).⁴

13 APCO has failed to show that the fees incurred for some of its motions and oppositions 14 to subcontractors' motions for partial summary judgment were successful and derived some 15 benefits as required by the fourth Brunzell factor.

17 D. APCO AGREED TO REDUCE ITS FEES TOTALING $3,100 RELATED TO THE 5- 18 YEAR RULE RESEARCH.

19 APCO concedes that it is not entitled to attorneys' fees totaling $3,100.00 related to 20 research on the 5-year rule, when the Court already entered an order finding that the 5-year rule is 21 not applicable since the trial on the consolidated matters commenced on October 30, 2012. [See 22 Exhibit "C" to Declaration of S. Judy Hirahara filed in support of National Wood's Opposition to 23

24 ⁴ / In relevant part, NRS 18.010(2) states: "In addition to the cases where an allowance is authorized by specific 25 statute, the court may make an allowance of attorney's fees to a prevailing party: (a) When he has not recovered more
26 than $20,000; or (b) Without regard to the recovery sought, when the court finds that the claim, counterclaim, cross-
27 claim or third-party complaint or defense of the opposing party was brought without reasonable ground or to harass
28 the prevailing party." (Emphasis added.) "Since the 1985 amendments to NRS 18.010, this court has held that a party may recover attorney fees pursuant to NRS 18.010(2)(a) only if that party received a money judgment at trial. Woods
v. Label Investment Corp., 107 Nev. 419, 427, 812 P.2d 1293, 1299 (1991) ("[A] money judgment is a prerequisite to an award of attorney fees under [NRS 18.010(2)(a)]."); Key Bank v. Donnels, 106 Nev. 49, 53, 787 P.2d 382, 385 (1990) ("[B]ecause respondents did not recover a money judgment below," they could not recover attorney fees under NRS 18.010(2)(a).") Smith v. Crown Financial Services of America, 111 Nev. 277, 280 (1995).

1 APCO's Motion for Attorneys' Fees and Costs.] Accordingly, the Court must deduct $3,100.00
2 from the total fees sought by APCO, as well as other fees as the Court deems proper.

5 AMOUNTS OF FEES.

6 In preparing its post-trial brief and findings of facts and conclusions of law ("APCO
7 FFCL"), APCO's attorneys spent 148.8 hours, which amounts to fees of $46,022.99. In addition,
8 in connection with reviewing findings of facts and conclusions of law ("FFCLs") and post-trial
9 briefs of Helix and National Wood, opposing the FFCLs and review and response to CAMCO's
10 trial brief, APCO's attorneys spent 77.7 hours, which amounts to fees of $22,122.73. In total, 11 APCO's attorneys spent 226.5 hours for a total sum of $68,135.72, which is excessive. Moreover,
12 APCO allocated these fees to Helix and National Wood that included fees related to CAMCO, 13 which is unreasonable and should be reduced accordingly.

15 III. CONCLUSION

16 As set forth above, APCO requested that the Court rule that it was not a party to the 17 Subcontract and it has no burdens under the Subcontract, which was granted by the Court. Now,
18 APCO is requesting the benefits of the Subcontract (the right to attorneys' fees) when it is not a 19 party to the Subcontract, which is disallowed by Nevada law.

20 Similarly, APCO specifically requested that the Court find that this entire action was a
21 single consolidated action with a single trial. The Court agreed and found that the single trial of 22 this consolidated action commenced on October 30, 2012. Now, APCO wants the Court to
23 disregard its earlier request and find that, instead, this consolidated action consisted of several
24 bifurcated trials. APCO cites to no bifurcation order. Instead, as requested by APCO, this action
25 was consolidated, not bifurcated, and consisted of a single, extended trial. As a result, the APCO
26 Offer was untimely and invalid.

27 Even if APCO were entitled to an award of attorneys' fees, APCO is seeking unreasonable
28 amounts. Furthermore, a substantial portion of the attorneys' fees requested relate to events

1 outside the scope of the attorneys' fee provision. Similarly, the attorneys' fees are not properly
2 allocated between the multiple claimants.

3 Based on all of the foregoing, National Wood respectfully requests that the Court deny
4 APCO's Motion in its entirety because APCO is not entitled to be awarded any attorneys' fees
5 since it not a party to the Subcontract because APCO assigned it to Gemstone in 2008 and the 6 APCO Offer is invalid. If the Court finds that APCO is entitled to recover an award of attorneys'
7 fees, the award should be substantially smaller than APCO's request.

1 APCO's contention that contractual provisions can support attorney
2 fee awards going back in time to a point long before making of the 3 subject offers of judgment, the Court determines, in the context
4 of this complex case, involving multiple parties and claims and 5 consolidation of cases and periodic party alignments and 6 realignments and contractual reconfigurations, that the best basis
7 for attorney fee awards is NRCP 68. On this point, the Court is 8 persuaded by APCO's contention relative to the applicability of NRCP
9 68, Allianz Ins. Co. v. Gagnon, 109 Nev. 990, 994-95, 860 P.2d 720, 10 724 (1993), and it thus assesses the factors set forth in Beattie
11 v. Thomas, 99 Nev. 579, 668 P.2d 268 (1983) as follows: 12

14 • The claims of Helix and National Wood (CabineTec)
15 were brought and maintained in good faith.

16 • APCO's offers of judgment were reasonable and in 17 good faith in both timing and amount.

18 • The decisions to reject the offers and proceed to 19 trial against APCO were not grossly unreasonable or in bad faith.
20

21 • The fees sought by APCO based upon the offers of 22 judgment are reasonable, Brunzell v. Golden Gate Nat'l Bank, 85 Nev.
23 345, 349, 455 P.2d 31, 33 (1969), but an order that Helix and 24 National Wood pay them in their entirety would not be justified
25 given the balancing of the Beattie factors.
26
28

1 Accordingly, the Motion is GRANTED pursuant to NRCP 68
2 with an award of attorneys' fees against Helix in the sum of 3 $85,000.00, and an award of attorneys' fees against National Wood
4 Products in the sum of $60,000.00.

11 CONCLUSION

12 Counsel for APCO is directed to submit proposed orders
13 consistent with the rulings made hereinabove and with underpinnings
14 of briefing and argument supportive of the same.¹ Such proposed 15 orders should be submitted to opposing counsel for review and 16 signification of approval/disapproval. Instead of seeking to 17 clarify or litigate meaning or any disapproval through 18 correspondence directed to the Court or to counsel with copies to 19 the Court, any such clarification or disapproval should be the 20 subject of appropriate motion practice.

9 AND ALL RELATED MATTERS

10 On July 19, 2018, the Court heard the following motions: (1) APCO Construction Inc.'s
11 Motion for Attorneys Fees and Costs; (2) APCO Construction, Inc.'s Memorandum of Costs
12 [Against Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC and Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, 13 Inc.]; (3) Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc.'s Motion to Retax Costs Re:
14 Defendant APCO Construction, Inc.'s Memorandum of Costs and Disbursements Against 15 Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc. with Joinder by Helix Electric of Nevada,
16 LLC, (4) Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC's Motion to Retax Costs Re: Defendant APCO
17 Construction, Inc.'s Memorandum of Costs and Disbursements with Joinder by Plaintiff in 18 Intervention National Wood Products, Inc., and (5) National Wood Products, Inc.'s Ex Parte
19 Motion for Order Shortening Time to Hear Motion for Order Permitting Leave to File Surreply 20 to APCO Construction's Reply to National Wood Products, Inc.'s Opposition to Motion for 21 Attorneys' Fees and Costs.

22 John Randall Jefferies, Esq. and Mary Bacon, Esq. of the law firm of Spencer Fane
23 appeared on behalf of APCO Construction, Inc. ("APCO"); Eric Zimbleman, Esq. of the law
24 firm of Peel Brimley appeared on behalf of Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC ("Helix"), and John 25 Taylor, Esq. and S. Judy Hirahara, Esq. of the law firm of Cadden Fuller and Richard Tobler, 26 Esq. of the law firm Richard Tobler, Ltd. appeared on behalf of Plaintiff in Intervention National 27 Wood Products, Inc. ("National Wood"), the Court having heard oral argument and examined the 28 records and documents on file in the above-entitled matter and being fully advised on the 29 premises, hereby ORDERS as follows, having rendered its Decision filed on August 8, 2018:

1 1. APCO Construction, Inc.'s Motion for Attorneys Fees and Costs Against
2 Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC and Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc.
3 and APCO Construction, Inc.'s Memorandum of Costs and Disbursements [Against Helix
4 Electric of Nevada, LLC and Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc.].

5 APCO requested attorney's fees from Helix and National Wood pursuant to the
6 subcontracts at issue and pursuant to APCO's November 13, 2018 offers of judgment. APCO
7 also sought an award of attorney's fees against Helix pursuant to NRS 108.237(3). The Court
8 finds that although there are certainly viable bases supporting APCO's contention that 9 contractual provisions in the repesective subcontracts and equitable estoppel can support an
10 award of attorney's fees going back in time to a point long before making of the November 13,
11 2018 offers of judgment, the Court determines, in the context of this complex case, involving 12 multiple parties and claims and consolidation of cases and periodic party alignments and 13 realignments and contractual reconfigurations, that the best basis for attorney fee awards is 14 NRCP 68.

15 NRCP 68 provides in part that at "any time more than 10 days before trial, any party may 16 serve an offer in writing to allow judgment to be taken in accordance with its terms and
17 conditions."¹ "If the offer is not accepted within 10 days after service, it shall be considered
18 rejected by the offeree and deemed withdrawn by the offeror."² And "[i]f the offeree rejects an 19 offer and fails to obtain a more favorable judgment, (1) the offeree cannot recover any costs or 20 attorney's fees and shall not recover interest for the period after the service of the offer and
21 before the judgment; and (2) the offeree shall pay the offeror's post-offer costs, applicable
22 interest on the judgment from the time of the offer to the time of entry of the judgment and
23 reasonable attorney's fees, if any be allowed, actually incurred by the offeror from the time of 24 the offer."³

25 The purpose of NRCP 68 is to promote and encourage settlement and save time and
26 money for the court system, the parties, and the taxpayers.⁴ It rewards a party who makes a

1 reasonable offer to settle a lawsuit and punishes the party who refuses to accept such an offer.⁵
2 “NRCP 68 encourages the settlement of lawsuits by raising the stakes for a litigant who receives
3 an offer of judgment. An offeree must balance the uncertainty of receiving a more favorable
4 judgment against the risk of receiving a less favorable judgment and being forced to pay the
5 offeror's costs and attorney's fees.”⁶ In reviewing an application for an award of attorney's fee
6 pursuant to NRCP 68, “the trial court must carefully evaluate the following factors: (1) whether 7 the plaintiff's claim was brought in good faith; (2) whether the defendants' offer of judgment was
8 reasonable and in good faith in both its timing and amount; (3) whether the plaintiff's decision to 9 reject the offer and proceed to trial was grossly unreasonable or in bad faith; and (4) whether the 10 fees sought by the offeror are reasonable and justified in amount.”⁷ “After weighing the 11 foregoing factors, the district judge may, where warranted, award up to the full amount of fees
12 requested.”⁸ An award will not be disturbed if the record is clear that the district court
13 considered the factors and the court's award is not arbitrary or capricious.⁹ No single factor
14 under Beattie is determinative. The district court has broad discretion to grant the request as long
15 as all appropriate factors are at least considered.¹⁰

16 On November 13, 2018, APCO made an offer of judgment to Helix for $25,000 and an 17 offer of judgment to National Wood for $35,000. Neither party accepted APCO's offer.

18 Preliminarily, APCO's offers were timely.¹¹ Helix and National Wood argued that the 19 November 13, 2018 offers of judgment were untimely because (i) in 2012 the Court (per Judge
20 Susan Scann) issued an Order, which was prepared and submitted by and at the behest of APCO,
21 by and through its then-attorneys, that “[t]rial of this consolidated matter commenced on October
22 30, 2012,” and (ii) this action has never been bifurcated or de-consolidated. However, the Court

¹⁰ Arnoult, 114 Nev. at 252 n.16, 955 P.2d at 673 n.16.

¹¹ Allianz Ins. Co. v. Gagnon, 109 Nev. 990, 994–95, 860 P.2d 720, 724 (1993).

1 is persuaded by APCO's contention that its offers of judgment were timely relative to the
2 applicability of NRCP 68 and Allianz Ins. Co. v. Gagnon, 109 Nev. 990, 994-95, 860 P.2d 720,
3 724 (1993).

4 The Court assesses the Beattie factors as follows:

- 5 • Helix's and National Wood's (CabineTec's) claims were brought in good faith.
- 6 • APCO's offers were reasonable and in good faith in both timing and amount.
- 7 • Helix's and National Wood's decisions to reject the offers and proceed to trial against
8 APCO were not grossly unreasonable or in bad faith.
- 9 • The fees sought by APCO are reasonable,¹² Brunzell v. Golden Gate Nat'l Bank, 85 Nev.
10 345, 349, 455 P.2d 31, 33 (1969), but an order that Helix and National Wood pay them in 11 their entirety would not be justified given the balancing of the Beattie factors.

12 Accordingly, APCO's Motion for Attorney's Fees and Costs is GRANTED pursuant to 13 NRCP 68 with an award of attorneys' fees against Helix in the sum of $85,000.00, and an award
14 of attorneys' fees against National Wood in the sum of $60,000.00.

15 APCO requested $57,228.89 in costs, the Court GRANTS APCO's Motion for Costs and
16 Memorandum for Costs subject to the following deductions: $3,942.38 for travel and lodging,
17 $6,013.42 for photocopies¹³ and $10,500 related to an accounting audit.¹⁴ In total, APCO is 18 awarded a total of $36,615.08 in costs; $18,307.54 due from Helix and $18,307.54 due from 19 National Wood.

20 In total, APCO is awarded a total of $103,307.54 in fees and costs against Helix and a total
21 of $78,307.54 in fees and costs against National Wood.

23
24 ¹² APCO's post-offer fees attributable to Helix total $130,933.73 and APCO's post-offer fees attributable
25 to National Wood total $106,882.23.

26 ¹³ Spencer Fane initially asked for $15,013.42 for photocopies and reproductions for trial. With the $6,013.42
27 deduction, APCO is awarded $9,000 for photocopies and reproductions for trial.

28 ¹⁴ For the sake of judicial efficiency, the Court incorporates APCO's briefing on its costs from its 05/26/2018 APCO
Construction, Inc.'s Supplement to its of its Motion for Attorneys' Fees, APCO Construction, Inc. 06/29/2018 Reply in Support of its Motion for Attorney's Fees and related briefing.

1 2. Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc.'s Motion to Retax
2 Costs Re: Defendant APCO Construction, Inc.'s Memorandum of Costs and
3 Disbursements Against Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc. with Joinder
4 by Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC

5 National Wood asserted various reasons for retaxing certain costs. National Wood's
6 Motion to Retax is granted in part as follows: First, the Court retaxes and reduces $3,942.38 of
7 APCO's expenses related travel and lodging since these amounts were not incurred for
8 depositions. Since only half of the total travel costs were initially allocated to National Wood,
9 the Court retaxes and reduces the $1,971.19 that APCO initially attributed to National Wood to
10 $0.00 (zero dollars). Next, the court retaxes $6,013.42 of the $15,013.42 APCO requested for 11 photocopies and reduces the same to $9,000.00. Again, because APCO only asked for half of the 12 total $15,013.42 in photocopies against National Wood, the Court retaxes and reduces these
13 amounts as to National Wood to $4,500.00

14 In total, APCO is awarded $18,307.54 in costs against National Wood.

15 3. Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC's Motion to Retax Costs Re: Defendant APCO
16 Construction, Inc.'s Memorandum of Costs and Disbursements with Joinder by Plaintiff in 17 Intervention National Wood Products, Inc.

18 Helix's Motion to Retax Costs is also granted in part. First, Helix is entitled to the same
19 deductions awarded to National Wood such that (i) the Court retaxes and reduces the $1,971.19
20 that APCO initially attributed to Helix to $0.00 (zero dollars) and (ii) the court retaxes $6,013.42
21 of the $15,013.42 APCO requested for photocopies and reduces Helix's portion of the same to 22 $4,500.00. In addition, the Court will retax $10,500 of accounting costs.

23 APCO is awarded $18,307.54 in costs against Helix.

4 APCO did not oppose National Wood's Motion for Order Shortening Time to Hear
5 Motion for Order Permitting Leave to File Surreply to APCO Construction's Reply to National 6 Wood Products, Inc.'s Opposition to Motion for Attorneys' Fees and Costs. As such, the Motion 9 multiple claimants with respect to the bond issue.

10 MR. FAUX: Jordan Faux for 12205 for Fidelity & Deposit
11 Company of Maryland.

12 MR. JEFFERIES: Randy Jefferies and Mary Bacon on
13 behalf of APCO.

14 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: I believe Mr. Taylor is here somewhere
15 too.

16 MR. JEFFERIES: Yeah. I just went in the hallway.
17 National Wood's counsel was here earlier, and they stepped outside,
18 and I didn't see them in the hallway just now.

19 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: He was here.

20 MS. BACON: That's true.

21 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Shall I peek out real quick and see?
22 You just did.

23 THE COURT: Yes. Go ahead.

24 MR. JEFFERIES: I just did.

25 THE COURT: Well --

1 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Well, we can try out for --

2 THE COURT: Maybe he heard me say something about
3 the 10 o'clock thing and stepped out.

4 MR. JEFFERIES: We're happy to trail, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Call you back in a few minutes.

6 MR. JEFFERIES: You know, we could -- we could do the --

7 MR. DENNETT: You know, this really is an unopposed --

8 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: The bond issue, which is essentially
9 unopposed. And then the motion by E & E that we join to disburse
10 the funds once the bond is expunged that way. Those parties can be 11 --

12 THE COURT: So he doesn't need to be here for that? He 13 wouldn't need to be here for that?

14 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: No, he does not need to be here for 15 that. He did not --

16 THE COURT: Okay. So what we're talking about there is 17 Fidelity Deposit Company's Motion to Deposit Bond Penal Sum --

18 MR. FAUX: Right.

19 THE COURT: -- with Court, Exoneration of Bond, and 20 Dismissal of Fidelity; correct?

21 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Correct. So essentially it's Mr. Faux on 22 behalf of the surety and myself on behalf of [indiscernible] plaintiffs

24 MR. DENNETT: Mr. Truman [phonetic].

25 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: -- on behalf of E & E.

1 THE COURT: Okay. So we have everybody here for that;
2 right?

3 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Yes.

4 THE COURT: Let's take that one up then.

5 MR. DENNETT: Your Honor, this was E & E's Motion to 6 Distribute the Bond Funds from Fidelity & Deposit Co Of Maryland.
7 Essentially it was a stipulation that allocated the bond funds between 8 the six companies -- E & E Fire companies and the other five 9 claimants. And the breakdown essentially by pro rata representation 10 distributes the $50,000.

11 There's really been no opposition for Maryland -- Fidelity -- 12 Fidelity & Deposit Co Of Maryland. So we would ask that that 13 motion be granted.

14 MR. FAUX: Yeah. I guess before we get there, we need to 15 decided whether we can deposit the bond or not, which was our 16 motion.

17 MR. DENNETT: Which was unopposed.

18 MR. FAUX: Yeah. It's unopposed.

19 THE COURT: Yeah. Okay.

20 MR. FAUX: We don't -- Fidelity --

21 THE COURT: There's a question as to whether it should all 22 go to E & E or be distributed pro rata; right? That was --

23 MR. DENNETT: Right. We --

24 MR. FAUX: Yeah. I think they worked that out.

25 THE COURT: Worked out. Okay.

1 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: We stipulated the numbers, yeah.

2 The only issue that we had was -- I saw Mr. Faux's
3 proposed order yesterday. My only concern was that, you know, I'm 4 not aware of any way to unexpunge a bond. So I just want to be 5 sure that the dismissal and expungement is contingent upon the 6 dispersal or -- or at least the submission of the funds in the court.

7 THE COURT: Oh, yeah. Well, this is sort of analogous to 8 an interpleader; right?

9 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Right.

10 THE COURT: Basically the money's is going to be 11 deposited. And then Fidelity will be dismissed and --

12 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Correct.

13 THE COURT: -- the claimant's will --

14 MR. FAUX: Right.

15 THE COURT: -- claim the proceeds; right?

16 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Correct. But the way the Order's
17 written, it's -- they are essentially independent obligations, and I
18 think they need to be tied together. That's -- it's a subtle distinction, 19 but it's important.

20 MR. FAUX: I mean, I don't think that's the way -- I mean, I 21 draft -- I don't think that's the way it reads. But if they want me to 22 redraft it --

23 THE COURT: All right.

24 MR. FAUX: -- and submit it later, I guess I could do that.

25 THE COURT: All right. So the Motion is granted, but

1 subject to the proper distribution of the proceeds among those.

2 MR. DENNETT: And Your Honor, I have Order setting
3 forth the distribution -- ordering and setting forth the distribution by 4 percentages as agreed between the six claimants. You know,
5 obviously it would be contingent on the deposit of the bond funds.

6 MR. FAUX: Yeah. I guess the only issue is with the order
7 to deposit the funds need to be signed first and then that -- so --

8 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: So I mean, if we could -- maybe you
9 could take your order and just interlienate something. It should be a 10 really simple change. That's what I was just asking --

11 THE COURT: Why don't you guys go work on it and let me
12 call something else.

13 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Yeah.

14 MR. FAUX: Yeah.

15 MR. DENNETT: Thank you.

16 THE COURT: I think we're still waiting for National 17 Woods's counsel; right?

18 Okay. So for the record, the Fidelity & Deposit Company's 19 motion is granted, with the understanding that we've reached here, 20 among the claimants --

21 MR. FAUX: Right.

22 THE COURT: -- the deposit and then the distribution to the 23 claimants; right?

24 MR. FAUX: I'm hoping we can come back in two minutes,
25 and if we can write something in here --

1 THE COURT: Okay.

2 MR. FAUX: -- then we'll -- then that's done.

3 THE COURT: Thank you.

4 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: And then E & E's motion is also

5 granted.

6 THE COURT: So ordered.

7 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Correct?

8 THE COURT: With that -- right -- uh-huh.

9 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Right. Thank you, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Together with all -- any and all joinders to 11 those motions. Right?

12 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: I don't there were any, but yes.

13 [Another matter was heard from 9:44 a.m. to 9:54 a.m.]

14 [Bench conference was had and transcribed as follows:]

15 THE COURT: Okay. This is the order on what?

16 MR. DENNETT: Depositing the bond.

17 THE COURT: Okay. So I'm going to go ahead and do this

18 and then they'll submit the other one [indiscernible].

19 All right. I've signed that order, the order granting motion

20 to deposit bond. Let me make a record here.

21 [Bench conference was concluded.]

22 THE COURT: All right. I've had tendered to me the

23 Proposed Order Granting Motion to Deposit Bond Penal Sum with

24 Court, Exoneration of Bond, and Dismissal. I've signed and dated

25 the order. You can process it in the Clerk's office.

1 Now, I'm having submitted to me the Proposed Order
2 Approving Distribution of Fidelity & Deposit Co Of Maryland's Bond;
3 right?

4 MR. DENNETT: Right.

5 THE COURT: All right. And it needs to be signed by 6 counsel. That's been approved by everybody involved; right?

8 MR. DENNETT: Yeah.

9 THE COURT: And I've signed it. And you can process it in 10 the Clerk's office.

11 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Thank you.

13 [Another matter was heard from 9:44 a.m. to 9:55 a.m.]

14 THE COURT: All right. The APCO matter on page 6 -- 15 beginning on page 6, continuing on to whatever.

16 Appearances, please.

17 MR. JEFFERIES: Randy Jefferies and Mary Bacon on
18 behalf of APCO.

19 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Eric Zimbleman, on behalf of Helix
20 Electric of Nevada.

21 MR. TOBLER: Rich Tobler on behalf of National Wood
22 Products.

23 MR. TAYLOR: John Taylor on behalf -- also on behalf of 24 Nation Wood Products.

25 MS. HIRAHARA: Judy Hirahara on behalf -- also on behalf

1 of National Wood Products.

2 THE COURT: All right. I'll now hear the remaining
3 motions that are before the Court today.

4 I'm going to be taking these under advisement so I can 5 review them further. So they've been well briefed, okay? I've got 6 some -- I'd like to have you emphasize the things you want me to 7 take particular -- give particular attention to.

8 I may have some questions during the argument. But 9 should we start with APCO's Motion For Attorney's Fees? Is that --

10 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Yeah, if I could make a suggestion.

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: I mean, we have a Motion to Retax
13 Cost -- both North -- National Wood Products and Helix did -- to 14 which they responded. But they also have a motion for fees and 15 costs, and ultimately their burden. So I would suggest they go, we 16 go, they go.

17 THE COURT: Okay.

18 MR. JEFFERIES: You mean, the Motion For Cost -- the 19 application of costs, as well?

20 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Correct.

21 MR. JEFFERIES: Okay.

22 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: I mean, it seems to me, it's your 23 burden. And therefore, you know, you're in that position. We might 24 as well keep it simple.

25 MR. JEFFERIES: Understood. In that regard Ms. Bacon

1 will argue the cost. She's more --

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MR. JEFFERIES: -- familiar with the detail.

4 Listening to your calendar this morning, I know Your 5 Honor has reviewed things, so I don't want to repeat things that you
6 already know. We're seeking $238,000 in fees against Helix, and 7 $206,000 in fees against National.

8 As far as the process, I would emphasize for your notes,
9 Exhibits 7A and 7B are counsel's attempts to allocate fees per party.
10 Marquis Aurbach fees are admittedly more cumbersome, given the 11 number of parties and the length of time. They've done their best.
12 And you can see their allocation in Exhibit 7A.

13 Spencer Fane, we came on when there were eight
14 subcontractors. We settled with five. And if you look at Exhibit 7B
15 which is our attempt to allocate our fees, you will see when we first 16 started in the case we cut our fees by one-eighth and allocated them
17 to Helix and National Wood.

18 As we get closer to trial and more focused prep and 19 discovery, where we were able, we allocated per that party and for 20 things -- general trial prep, we allocated 50 percent.

21 There was really no other meaningful way to do it. And I
22 would submit to you that there really hasn't been any meaningful
23 objection to the Spencer Fane allocations.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 MR. JEFFERIES: We've done our best to remove Zitting.

1 Those are gone. There were very significant -- the deductions, from 2 what APCO has spent to what we're asking for, is, like, $267,000. So 3 it's been a meaningful, and we think reasonable, effort on our part to 4 allocate.

5 THE COURT: Okay. There's the contention that there was 6 an assignment and, therefore, the contractual basis for seeking an 7 award of attorney's fees does not apply.

8 MR. JEFFERIES: Yes, sir. We have a few responses to 9 that -- some are factual and some are legal. Factually we did not sue
10 these subcontractors. We didn't even have a counterclaim.

11 We were a defendant. They both sued us to enforce the 12 subcontract, and in both of their complaints they asked for attorney's 13 fees pursuant to 18.5. We successfully defended.

14 I would submit to you that if you read the actual clause it
15 uses the terms either party. If either party files litigation the 16 prevailing party gets their attorney's fees. So if you subscribe to and 17 adopt this fiction that because we have assigned, we're no longer a 18 party, they are the one party that unilaterally filed against us and we 19 prevailed.

20 So I would submit to you that under the terms of 18.5 --
21 and I thought it was interesting -- and by the way for the record, I 22 don't have an objection to the Sur-reply. You need to consider -- 23 they have a motion to --

24 THE COURT: That's --

25 MR. JEFFERIES: National Wood.

1 THE COURT: Right. Okay.

2 MR. JEFFERIES: And I -- we don't object to that.

3 THE COURT: Okay. That's on calendar -- That's the last
4 thing that's on the calendar today. So I'll grant the Motion For Leave
5 to File Sur-reply. Okay? So that's granted.

6 MS. BACON: Thank you.

7 MR. JEFFERIES: Interestingly, if there's a page in there
8 where National Wood actually parses out the text of 18.5 and 9 properly asserts National Wood as the either party suing APCO. And 10 I would submit to you, it supports the argument that both parties
11 don't have to initiate. One party can and then we have the benefit of 12 that contractual provision.

13 I will admit that when I first read the argument, it had 14 some superficial -- appeal may not be the right word, but I thought it
15 was an interesting argument. But there was just something 16 fundamentally that didn't seem right that they could sue us on the 17 subcontract and then I not have the benefit of that.

18 And I would submit to you, we found a lot of cases that 19 said a nonparty can enforce certain provisions if they're sued. Their 20 Sur-reply points out some of those cases have statutes. I respect 21 that.

22 The principle to us is kind of the same. It's one of fairness.
23 They can't sue us and not have the burden -- the related burden of 24 the document they're suing to enforce.

25 And I would submit to you on page 7 of our reply -- and I

1 just want to read this into the record because the closest we could 2 find from the Nevada Supreme Court was the concept of the 3 arbitration where one party to a contract was suing a purported
4 nonparty. And the nonparty was saying, listen, I get the benefit of 5 that clause -- and admittedly it was arbitration, but it -- the Supreme 6 Court clearly dealt with this equitable estoppel doctrine.

7 And in the Ahlers case on page 7, the Supreme Court said,
8 The equitable estoppel doctrine prevents a plaintiff signatory to a 9 contract that contains an arbitration provision from avoiding the 10 agreement to arbitrate if the plaintiff's claims rely on the contract as 11 the basis for relief.

12 Otherwise, to allow a plaintiff to claim the benefit of the 13 contract and simultaneously avoid its burdens would both disregard 14 equity and contravene the purposes underlying enactment of --

15 THE COURT: What's that case?

16 MR. JEFFERIES: Ahlers, A-H-L-E-R-S, 367 P.3d 743.

17 And we also cite the Hard Rock Hotel for the same
18 concept.

19 Admittedly both are talking about an arbitration provision,
20 but it should just strike the conscience of the Court that they can 21 come in and sue us. We didn't countersue.

23 MR. JEFFERIES: We win.

24 THE COURT: All right. The other question I had is 25 relevant to the offer of judgment.

1 MR. JEFFERIES: Yes, sir.

2 THE COURT: The contention is made the -- it was made
3 after trial started. So it wasn't in accordance with Rule 68.

4 MR. JEFFERIES: Five years ago, the record reflects that a
5 subcontractor, I believe to Camco, started a proceeding. And I can 6 be corrected by counsel who was here. But what we've been able to 7 discern is that that's what facilitated or resulted in the priority
8 appeal.

9 I think it is a misuse of the rule. We've cited articulations
10 from the Nevada Supreme Court confirming that Rule 68 -- it should 11 be given as much opportunity -- on page 15 of our reply. And the 12 Supreme Court said, The offer of judgment is a useful settlement
13 device which should be made available at every possible juncture 14 where the rules allow.

15 It appears that case there was a formal bifurcation. I 16 respect the distinction that was made in the pleadings. But I would 17 submit to you, here -- whether it was formally ordered or not, we 18 had a practical bifurcation. And we all knew we were having our first 19 trial before you on these claims -- and I'm losing track of time -- in 20 January of this year. So --

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. JEFFERIES: So unless you have further questions, it
23 really is well briefed on both sides.

24 THE COURT: Yeah.

25 MR. JEFFERIES: And I think we've got a good record and

1 --

2 THE COURT: All right.

3 MR. JEFFERIES: -- we would request you award fees.

4 THE COURT: Okay. And now I'll hear the costs.

5 MR. JEFFERIES: Ms. Bacon will address the costs.

6 MS. BACON: Your Honor, do you mind if I stand here?

7 THE COURT: That's fine.

8 MS. BACON: Excellent. So APCO was seeking a total
9 $57,228.89 in costs. All the reasonable costs incurred are allowed
10 pursuant to 18.5 of the subcontract. Those costs were incurred -- 11 $23,000 approximately at Spencer Fane, an additional $23,000 at 12 Marquis Aurbach; and $10,500 through Howard & Howard.

13 I think the briefing pretty well supports that all of those 14 costs would be allowable as reasonable costs that were necessarily 15 occurred in pursuing that action. They're broken down. And to the 16 extent that it's helpful, I have a web page demonstrative, which I'll 17 be happy to give opposing counsel as well.

18 May I approach?

19 THE COURT: Yes. Uh-huh.

20 MS. BACON: That kind of summarizes these costs that are 21 also in APCO's motion.

22 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

23 MS. BACON: So unless you have any specific questions, 24 all of the costs, at least in my mind, were fairly reasonable and most 25 of them were also requested from Helix and National Wood in their

1 Memorandum of Costs. And obviously we're seeking out of the fees
2 as they relate to this motion.

3 The one point I wanted to point out was there was an audit
4 cost that was requested -- Helix brought APCO to the Nevada State
5 Contractors Board of a result of this action. And that documentation
6 is provided in the Motion For Attorney's Fees. And as a result of that 7 action, APCO is ordered to provide an audit and incurred $10,500 in 8 doing so.

9 THE COURT: Okay.

10 MS. BACON: Do you have any specific questions about 11 any of the other costs?

12 THE COURT: No, not at this point. Thanks.

13 MS. BACON: Thank you, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: So now I've got the Plaintiff's Motions to 15 Retax; right? And responses to what's --

16 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Yeah. I mean, I think they're kind of 17 inextricably intertwined; right?

18 THE COURT: Right.

19 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: I mean, the Code requires us to file that 20 motion within three days of when they submit their cost bill. And I
21 think that kind of triggers this process that we're here about now.

22 THE COURT: Right.

23 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: And so I think it's one and the same in 24 essence.

25 I'd like to address the fees issues first. The -- and briefly,

1 because, of course, we've -- Helix and National Wood, we've done
2 our best to try to address the -- you know, the minutia -- and I'll get 3 to a few points on that -- and obviously brief to these legal issues.

4 But I just want to say couple things: One, the assignment
5 isn't just -- it just didn't inadvertently happen. All right? This was,
6 first of all, their request to you to make this finding. This was their 7 ask. And you made that finding.

8 And it occurred in 2008 when they stopped working on the 9 project that terminated their contract with Gemstone and assigned 10 the contract to Gemstone and it facilitated that assignment further to 11 Camco; okay? That was your finding. That was what they asked you 12 to find.

13 And they, by doing so, have given up all of their rights and 14 remedies afforded by that subcontract. That is the nature of an 15 assignment. And I briefed that extensively. There's plenty of case
16 law that says just that. It's gone.

17 So by what right do they come back today and say, hey, 18 you know, we want to be paid our attorney's fees based on the 19 provision of the contract that we assigned ten years ago?

20 Furthermore -- and it's part and parcel of the same
21 argument -- and an important, I think, distinction -- they are not the 22 real party in interest with perspective to that claim. A real party in 23 interest and standing are -- are again, inextricably intertwined in 24 Nevada law. And the point being, most importantly, that Helix and 25 National Wood are exposed to that same claim, that's same right or

1 remedy, from Camco; right?

2 So we are now exposed to two parties seeking that same
3 remedy. And that's the best -- that's the basis for my position that 4 they are not the real party in interest, that they have no standing to 5 bring that claim, and the assignment is what facilitated that 6 condition.

7 With respect to Rule 68, there has been no bifurcation,
8 simple. Mr. Jefferies is right within -- what did he say? Within the -- 9 where the rules allow. Well, the rules do not allow. The rule
10 required them to issue -- and it may be unfair -- but it's what the rule
11 is, and it's what the Nevada legislature has decided.

12 The rule is you have to give an offer of judgment within 10
13 days prior to commencement of trial. They asked this court -- APCO
14 asked this court to make a finding that trial had commenced in 2012.
15 The court made that decision. It was Judge Scan at the time.

16 Now, that did not, by the way, facilitate the repetition. It
17 had nothing to do with repetition. But it was a finding that they 18 asked for primarily to -- because parties were worried about the 19 5-year rule, and that's reflected in that order.

20 But nonetheless, that's when trial commenced. And this 21 was a consolidated proceeding and it is never been deconsolidated.
22 So even if you feel like, you know, it's not fair that the offer of 23 judgment statute doesn't apply, it still doesn't apply.

24 The final basis that they asserted for entitlement to fees is 25 NRS 108.2373, and I've argued and I stand by this until my dying day

1 that --

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: -- first, the Court did not make a finding 4 that there was no reasonable basis in law or fact for us to pursue our 5 Notice of Lien; and, secondly, that there clearly was a reasonable
6 basis. A finding that we were wrong and they were right is not a 7 finding that there was no reasonable reason to pursue a claim.

8 We lost. We accept that. We disagree with it. But we 9 accept it. But that doesn't mean that we pursued our Notice of Lien
10 without a reasonable basis in law or fact.

11 Furthermore, they pursued their Lien to Judgment. Their 12 lien subsumed our lien. If our lien was pursued without a 13 reasonable basis of law or fact, so was theirs. And I'm sure they 14 don't agree that theirs was.

15 You know -- and I guess the last point on that is this is we 16 were here in I think it was November on APCO's motion asking you
17 to throw out our cause of action for a lien foreclosure. You denied 18 that motion, without prejudice, but you denied that Motion For 19 Summary Judgment.

20 I mean, honestly, if your belief was that our pursuit of the 21 lien claim was without a reasonable basis in law or fact, that 22 would've been the time to make that decision. And you didn't. And I
23 don't want to try to get into your head, but it just doesn't seem to be 24 consistent.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

1 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: With respect to the minutia that -- the 2 excessiveness, the improper allocations -- and as I've pointed out,
3 this is their burden to prove to you, not our burden to sort of pick 4 through what they threw against the wall and say, Well, this isn't 5 right and this isn't right and that's too much and this is too much.

6 They have to come to you and demonstrate to you that 7 these are appropriate amounts, should you choose to order any 8 attorney fees, which we're asking you to give zero. But if you're 9 inclined give -- to award fees, they have to show you that everything
10 they're asking for is fair, is reasonable, was necessary, was incurred
11 because of us. And not because of others.

12 And, you know, their overarching position seems to be 13 that Helix and National Wood are the last parties standing and,
14 therefore, they have to pay for all of our costs and fees. Well, that's 15 not how it works; right? And they've even acknowledged -- and I
16 believe it was in their reply to the -- with respect to the fees and cost 17 motion -- that a lot of the case was inextricably intertwined with 18 other claimants. And they're right about that. And that's a reason to 19 allocate.

20 And I heard Mr. Jefferies say that when they got on board 21 there were 8 claimants against APCO and they had settled with 5 of 22 those before trial. No, they didn't. The only settlements and 23 dismissals I'm aware of were filed in May, after our trial was 24 commenced -- or completed, long after.

25 So those parties are still there and you can't just pretend

1 that they weren't. And clearly, we're reaching back to the time when 2 Marquis Aurbach involved, if you look at their spreadsheets, their 3 lists of costs, sometimes they say, yeah, we're going to have to sign 4 at 1/14th and sometimes they say it's 50/50, and sometimes they 5 says it's a 100 percent to Helix or a 100 percent to National Wood.

6 You know, there may be instances which that's 7 appropriate. But they didn't do a very good job of clearly identifying 8 those instances. And we've done our best to try to show you at least 9 examples and multiple examples where they have not done a very 10 good job -- in fact, they've done a very poor job of allocating and 11 giving fair allocation.

12 THE COURT: Okay. If you'll briefly address the costs.

13 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: I'm sorry.

14 THE COURT: The cost aspect now.

15 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Yeah, the cost aspect. It's the same
16 flaws.

17 THE COURT: It's all briefed.

18 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Right. It's all briefed. But the same
19 flaws exist -- Lack of allocation. Now, I do want to talk about a 20 couple of very specific issues.

21 One, you know, some of these things are incredibly 22 excessive like the $33,000 they're seeking for the photocopies. I
23 mean, these numbers are astounding to me. I mean, I get a 24 reasonable photocopy expense, but come on.

25 But the one that's most irritating, I guess, is this

1 accounting cost that they're asking to have Helix to pay because 2 APCO was asked by the Contractor's Board to submit reviewed
3 financials -- something that APCO should have at it's beck and call.
4 And they claimed that that happened because of something Helix
5 did, but they don't provide any proof.

6 Ms. Bacon told you that it's in her papers. But I've looked 7 through her papers, and the only thing I've seen is this invoice from 8 an accountant and somebody putting a sticky note on it saying Helix.
9 That's not evidence, Your Honor. And they haven't provided
10 anything to show that that's our responsibility. And more
11 fundamentally, it's not a cost. It's just not recognized.

12 THE COURT: Okay.

13 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: I don't know how they can seek that.

14 And they've also tried to seek bankruptcy counsel fees as a
15 way of -- by way of costs. They brought bankruptcy counsel to a 16 mediation. And they haven't allocated that, by the way. But more 17 importantly, more fundamentally, those are attorney fees. And 18 they're not attorneys fees that are relative or relevant to this case.

19 Those parties -- those attorneys weren't of counsel here.
20 They never appeared. They weren't brought in to the arguments to 21 the court about a bankruptcy matter. They were brought in to give a 22 dog and pony show to try to convince my client and others to, you
23 know, go away for a pittance. We didn't ask them to be there. In 24 fact, they specifically asked to talk to us. That was it. That's not a 25 cost, that's not a fee, and it can't be awarded. So other than that, I

1 stand on the briefing. Thank you.

2 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

3 Anybody else want to be heard on the cost issue?

4 MR. TAYLOR: Yes, Your Honor. APCO has made its bed
5 and needs to lie in it. APCO could have tried to defend itself on the 6 bases under the contract, and in fact they did. And then they could 7 have asked the Court to make a finding of fact that there was a 8 contract; however, it wasn't breached. Or there was a contract, but 9 there were no damages.

10 They could've argued that Cabinetec hadn't done all of the 11 work that it claimed to have done. And they made those types of 12 claims, but they also specifically requested in their Findings of Fact 13 that Your Honor determine that they had assigned the contract and 14 everything relating to the contract both to Gemstone and then to 15 Camco. They put that in their proposed conclusions of law, and the 16 Court adopted those.

17 The Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, starting at 18 page 68 and 69, there are a handful of paragraphs there where the 19 Court concluded that APCO is no longer part of the contract.

20 Well, if APCO is no longer part of the contract, then it can't 21 claim rights under that contract it is not a party to. APCO makes the 22 argument that some other states which have mutuality provisions in 23 their statutes would let a party is still claim attorney's fees even if 24 they're not specifically named in the contract. That is not the law
25 here.

1 Here the law is that according to the Roland versus Lepire
2 case: It is settled that attorneys fees are not recoverable absent a
3 statute, rule, or contractual provision to the contrary. That's the rule
4 here.

5 In fact, in the Roland case the argument was made, Hey, 6 look, Judge, even though we're not named in the contract as being 7 entitled to fees, since there is an attorney's fee provision in here, you
8 should extended to us. You should give us mutuality of remedy
9 because we are a party to the contract.

10 The Supreme Court said -- well, the argument -- the trial
11 court found the plaintiffs' are entitled to attorney's fees pursuant to 12 the theory of mutuality of remedy. That's the same argument that's 13 being argued here.

14 Hey, look, judge, if they had proved the contract and 15 proved that we were parties, they would get this benefit against us.
16 Therefore, even though we're not parties to the contract, even 17 though there's no provision that names nonparties as being entitled 18 to attorney's fees, you should stretch it, Judge.

19 Well, the Supreme Court said, We conclude that the trial
20 court erred in basing the fee award on an implied agreement. So 21 they said when you -- when you try to say that look, it should be 22 implied, you should for fairness -- I believe that language of counsel 23 was that it's fundamentally not right, he said.

24 That's a problem that needs to be addressed to the 25 Supreme Court because the Supreme Court has told you -- told the

1 District Courts -- that you can't do it. You can't extend beyond the 2 strict language of the contract. They are not parties to the contract,
3 as found by this Court, therefore they're not entitled to the benefit.

4 In fact, there is even the issue of why National Wood
5 would be responsible for it. National Wood was a creditor of 6 Cabinetec. National Wood is collecting its claim against Cabinetec
7 through this litigation -- obviously at this point only against Camco
8 not against APCO. But I don't know how you stretch it back through 9 to say that National Wood is burdened by the contract in any event.

10 The arbitration cases that they talk about, we have those 11 arbitration cases. When -- since Nevada -- since the Supreme Court 12 here has said that it specifically addressed the issues with regard to 13 attorney's fees, there's no reason to try to extrapolate to arbitration
14 cases, or even California, Florida, or other state cases.

15 The idea that -- about the -- on the offer -- settlement offer, 16 in argument APCO argued that, hey, look somebody did this back in 17 2013. They got this order. That order was submitted by attorneys
18 for APCO Construction. They're the ones that made that bed.
19 They're the ones that said we need to determine, for purposes of this 20 case, that the trial has already commenced. They could have sought 21 a way around the 5-year statute some other way, but they didn't.
22 They specifically put the language in the proposed order that trial of 23 this consolidated matter commenced on October 30, 2012, upon the 24 trial of the lien amount, lien validity, and related claims of Ready 25 Mix.

1 So they specifically said it was a consolidated matter; trial
2 has commenced. They cannot now say, Well, we meant that then,
3 but we meant something different now. They made that bed; they 4 need to lie in it.

5 Also the idea that somehow this turned out to only be a
6 case Helix and National Wood against APCO and, therefore,
7 everything should be divided nearly 50/50 -- not consider the fact
8 that there were multiple other parties who were still in this case -- I
9 believe as recently -- it was May that they finally wound up the case
10 as to some of those other parties.

11 If you'll remember, Your Honor, if APCO was merely a
12 defendant, then APCO would not have gone first in trial. But APCO
13 went first in trial. APCO put on its presentation first because there 14 were many more issues involved.

15 Defendants don't go first, if that's the only reason why
16 they're here. They went first.

17 Ms. Hirahara is going to talk about the specific allocation
18 issues regarding the attorney's fees and the costs.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

20 MS. HIRAHARA: Good morning, Your Honor.

21 Your Honor, with regard to the attorney's fees, we 22 prepared a chart identical to APCO's chart. And I prepared a legend 23 as to what cost we believe -- you know, how that cost should be -- or 24 the fee should be reallocated.

25 First of all, there are costs of over $13,000 which APCO is

1 seeking prior to the case being remanded from the Supreme Court.
2 And it is our position that that should not be charged to National 3 Wood or Helix.

4 I've highlighted some of these costs in lavender, Your 5 Honor, because the description of these entries appeared to be 6 related to all subcontractors. And at a minimum, Your Honor, there
7 are 14 subcontractors, so we divided that among the 14
8 subcontractors and reduced the amount.

9 There are entries in here related to Insulpro that were 10 charged to both Helix and National Wood. And I've highlighted that 11 in this light pink.

12 There were charges related to National Wood. And we 13 did not dispute that -- that's in the light blue, Your Honor.

14 There were charges related to depositions. And APCO
15 divided that amongst Helix and National Wood. That should have 16 been divided amongst the 10 deponents present, and so we 17 reallocated those amounts.

18 There are additional allocations, Your Honor -- that's 19 reflected on this legend.

20 And then at the bottom of each chart we reflected those 21 totals were -- what APCO allocated to Helix, National Wood, and then 22 National Wood's reallocation.

23 And also, Your Honor, in the event the Court awards any 24 fees with respect to -- under NRCP 68, we itemized the amounts after 25 November 23rd, 2017.

1 With regard to the cost, Your Honor, I want to point out a
2 few things.

3 As, Your Honor knows under Cadle Company versus 4 Woods Erickson's, the Court made it clear that the cost must be 5 reasonable and necessary and actually incurred. Just providing 6 receipts and invoices are insufficient. The declarations that were 7 provided failed to state any facts to support these costs. There's no
8 description that supports why these costs were incurred as a result
9 of National Wood.

10 For example, Your Honor, online research -- the charges
11 for Spencer Fein on their internal bill it says online research -- $75 for 12 research. There's no description. It doesn't say why it's -- what that 13 should be allocated to National Wood or Helix.

14 Your Honor, they've attached 103 pages of cost copies -- 15 internal cost copies at 25 cents per page, which is totally 16 unreasonable. But in those you'll see descriptions, cost charged to 17 Interstate Plumbing, Nevada Prefab, and other subcontractors, yet
18 they want to divide almost $7,000 between National and Helix.

19 And so those are the basis for our Motion to Retax
20 because they are not reasonable; they failed to meet the burden to 21 establish that these costs were reasonable and necessary, and 22 actually incurred as a result of the claims made by National Wood.

23 Your Honor, the other -- [] Westlaw research -- the same is 24 true. For Marquis Aurbach, there's no description. There's nothing 25 that ties those -- the research or these costs to National Wood or

1 Helix. Therefore, we request that the Court deny those costs.

2 But if the Court is inclined to award any costs, then these 3 costs should be allocated to the 14 subcontractors. If you take a look 4 at the time period within which they're asking for these costs, there
5 are all these other subcontractors involved. So we request that the 6 Court allocate, in the event that the Court awards any of these costs.

7 Thank you.

8 THE COURT: Thank you.

9 Anything else from that table?

10 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Thank you, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Okay. Briefly.

12 MR. JEFFERIES: Very briefly. I apologize.

13 You won't find one case cited by National or Helix where 14 an assignor was sued on the contract and not allowed to take 15 advantage of the benefits.

16 Helix claims it was exposed to APCO and Camco. That's 17 only because Helix sued both parties.

18 As far as the lien goes, I would submit to you there was no
19 reasonable basis for the continued prosecution of the lien.

20 And I also don't appreciate the statement or the comment
21 that my statement was inaccurate to the Court, that there were 8
22 subcontractors and we have resolved 5 of them.

23 Yes, you will note we only went to trial with 2 -- Zitting got 24 a judgment. The other 5 were resolved, and those stips have come
25 in in due course. But we only went to trial with two subs, and Zitting

1 is in a separate category, so we did result 5. But in fairness to our 2 allocations, I did do one-eighth when all those parties were involved.

3 So unless you have any questions --

4 THE COURT: No. Thank you.

5 Anything else on costs?

6 MS. BACON: And I will keep my comments very brief on 7 costs.

8 Ms. Hirahara has stated that they -- our costs are not
9 reasonable and necessary and actually incurred. We provided 10 invoices that these costs were actually incurred. We provided the 11 affidavits of myself and [indiscernible], and I think one from Mr.
12 Jefferies stating why they were incurred.

13 And if Your Honor flips to APCO's Opposition to the 14 Motion to Retax Costs, you'll see, at least as relating to [] Spencer
15 Fein's fees, exhibit -- that's Exhibit A [indiscernible] that's Exhibit A 16 too.

17 Exhibit A to the affidavits is a description of how each cost
18 was incurred, what it was incurred for, what that Westlaw charge 19 was incurred for.

20 So, yes, on Spencer Fein bills, it just -- does just say $75
21 online research. We provided additional documentation regarding 22 what each expense was for and that's in the exhibits.

23 So unless you have any other questions.

24 THE COURT: The only other question I've got, before we 25 conclude on this case, has to do with the offer of judgment. I mean,

1 putting aside the issue regarding trial and whether it was made
2 timely, I recall there was no discussion of the Beattie factors that 3 pertain to Rule 68.

4 There was discussion with the Brunzell factors, but no
5 discussion of the Beattie factors.

6 MR. JEFFERIES: Well, in the -- and candidly, that's why I
7 didn't object to the Sur-reply, so they had -- I did address the Beattie
8 factors in the reply. So their point was --

9 THE COURT: Okay. Okay.

10 MR. JEFFERIES: Their point was well taken that they 11 didn't -- they needed an opportunity to respond to those. You will 12 see that in the reply and in the Sur-reply.

13 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: And, Your Honor, you will see in my 14 brief that I briefed the Beattie factors.

15 THE COURT: Right.

16 MR. ZIMBLEMAN: And I objected to any attempt to -- for 17 APCO to brief them on reply.

18 THE COURT: Okay. Very well. Matter stands submitted.
19 I'll review it further.

20 MR. TOBLER: We have one matter, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: I don't have a law clerk in this case. You
22 know, my law clerk was disqualified, so --

23 MR. TOBLER: We have the Sur-reply which was attached
24 to Exhibit A to the Motion for Leave. May we will file that in open 25 court or just in the ordinary course?

MR. TOBLER: We have the Sur-reply, which you have as attached as Exhibit A to the Motion for Leave to File.

THE COURT: So I -- no. I think file it in the Clerk's office then.

MR. TOBLER: Okay.

THE COURT: I granted the motion for you to do so.

MR. ZIMBLEMAN: Great. Thank you.

THE COURT: Okay. Do you think they're going to give me a hard time on doing that?

MR. TOBLER: Think they'll probably just do it and let me file it.

THE COURT: Okay. All right. Thank you.

MR. TOBLER: We do have a couple of orders to sign on those motions, though.

THE COURT: All right. You have some orders there now? Okay. Approach.

Have you shown them to counsel and they know what you're submitting to the Court?

DEPUTY CLERK

ORDER DISMISSING APPEAL

This is an appeal from a district court order entering judgment against appellant. Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Mark R. Denton, Judge.

When review of appellant's amended docketing statement revealed that it was incomplete, this court ordered appellant to file and serve an amended docketing statement that contained a complete response to item 23. Appellant filed a second amended docketing statement but that document still did not contain all required information. It was thus unclear whether the district court had entered a final judgment appealable under NRAP 3A(b)(1). See Lee v. GNLV Corp., 116 Nev. 424, 426, 996 P.2d 416, 417 (2000) (defining a final judgment). Accordingly, this court entered an order directing appellant to show cause why this appeal should not be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. The order noted that the underlying case is extraordinarily complex, involving dozens of parties and multiple consolidated cases. Appellant was directed to provide specific information regarding each claim, counterclaim, third-party claim, and complaint in intervention asserted.

Having reviewed appellant's response, as well as the attached exhibits, appellant fails to demonstrate that the district court has entered a final judgment in the constituent case. See Moran v. Bonneville Square Assocs., 117 Nev. 525, 527, 25 P.3d 898, 899 (2001) (stating that the burden of establishing appellate jurisdiction lies with appellant). Appellant states that several claims and counterclaims were abandoned and not expressly resolved in a district court order but asserts that these claims are fully resolved due to the application of claim preclusion. Whether or not the claims may be brought again in future litigation is a separate inquiry from whether all asserted claims have been fully resolved so as to invoke this court's jurisdiction under NRAP 3A(b)(1). As noted in this court's order to show cause, the fact that a party was not inclined to pursue a claim does not operate as a formal dismissal of that claim. KDI Sylvan Pools, Inc. v. Workman, 107 Nev. 340, 342, 810 P.2d 1217, 1219 (1991). Accordingly, it appears that the order challenged in this appeal is not appealable as a final judgment. As no other statute or court rule appears to authorize an appeal from the challenged order, see Brown v. MHC Stagecoach, LLC, 129 Nev. 343, 345, 301 P.3d 850, 851 (2013) (this court "may only consider appeals authorized by statute or court rule"), it appears this court lacks jurisdiction and

ORDERS this appeal DISMISSED.¹

¹Given this dismissal, the motion to consolidate this appeal with Docket No. 77320 is denied as moot. This court will determine its jurisdiction in Docket No. 77320 at a later date.

14 I. INTRODUCTION

15 As the Court will recall, this long-running, consolidated and complex case came to trial
16 in January 2018. Of the various constituent cases and parties tried to this Court, the Court entered
17 a judgment for APCO Construction Co. (“APCO”) and against Helix in which the Court
18 dismissed all of Helix’s claims against APCO.¹ The Court subsequently awarded APCO
19 attorney’s fees and costs by way of a separate Order.² Helix then appealed both of those Orders
20 to the Nevada Supreme Court,³ which for unknown reasons created two separate appeal case
21 numbers: 76276 and 77320.⁴ The Court also entered judgment for Helix and other parties
22 represented by the law firm of Peel Brimley LLP (the “Peel Brimley Lien Claimants”) against 23 Camco Pacific Construction Company, Inc. (“CAMCO”).⁵ The Court also dismissed all of the 24 claims of National Wood Products (“NWP”) against APCO and awarded APCO fees and costs as 25 ¹ See Exhibit 1.

26 ² See Exhibit 2. Collectively, the Orders regarding the claims by and between Helix and APCO are referred to hereinafter as “the Helix/APCO Orders.”

27 ³ See Exhibits 3 and 4.

28 ⁴ Case No. 76276 pertains specifically to the underlying judgment while Case No. 77320 pertains specifically to the award of fees and costs.

⁵ See Exhibits 5A, 5B, 5C, 5D and 5E.

1 against NWP. Although NWP also appealed, that appeal was dismissed following a settlement
2 between those parties.⁶

3 Recently, following an Order to Show Cause,⁷ the Nevada Supreme Court dismissed
4 Helix's appeal of the underlying judgment as premature, concluding that the District Court did
5 not enter a final judgment in the Constituent Case.⁸ Specifically, although several claims and 6 counterclaims involving other parties were abandoned and therefore not expressly resolved at 7 trial, the Nevada Supreme Court concluded that "the fact that a party was not inclined to pursue
8 a claim does not operate as a formal dismissal of that claim"⁹ Accordingly, the Order and 9 judgment for APCO is "not appealable as a final judgment."¹⁰ By way of the present Motion,
10 Helix seeks to remove this jurisdictional hurdle and render the Helix/APCO Orders are final and 11 appealable. Specifically, but without limitation, Helix moves this Court to:

- 12 • Re-open this statistically closed case;
- 13 • Dismiss any and all unresolved claims arising out of the consolidated action or,
14 alternatively, the constituent case from which the Helix/APCO Orders arise; 15 and/or
- 16 • Issue a certification pursuant to Nev. R. Civ. P. 54(b) that there is no just reason 17 for delay to direct entry of a final judgment as to one or more, but fewer than all, 18 claims or parties - specifically as to the claims of, by and between Helix and 19 APCO.

20 II. STATEMENT OF RELEVANT FACTS AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

21 As the Court is aware, this complex and consolidated action arose out of a failed
22 construction project (the Manhattan West Project – hereinafter "Project") that closed, incomplete, 23 in 2008. Numerous contractors, subcontractors and suppliers recorded mechanic's liens against 24 the Project and filed multiple actions to foreclose their liens and (in the case of the subcontractors)
25 recover in contract from the general contractors. On July 2, 2009, a Notice of Entry was filed with 26 ⁶ See Exhibit 6.

27 ⁷ See Exhibit 7.

28 ⁸ See Exhibit 8.

1 respect to the District Court's Order dated June 29, 2009 consolidating the various related
2 actions.¹¹

3 1. The Constituent Case.

4 Because a constituent case can be immediately appealable as a final judgment even where 5 the other constituent case or cases within the consolidated case remain pending,¹² it is also 6 important to identify the constituent case from which the Helix/APCO Orders arose (Case No.
7 A09587168 – the “Constituent Case”). The claims filed in the Constituent Case (or in response
8 thereto), as amended, involve the following parties:

- 9 • Accuracy Glass & Mirror Company, Inc. (Original Plaintiff);
- 10 • Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC (Plaintiff in Intervention);
- 11 • WRG Design, Inc., f.k.a WRG, Inc. (Plaintiff in Intervention);
- 12 • Heinaman Contract Glazing (Plaintiff in Intervention);
- 13 • Bruin Painting Corp. (Plaintiff in Intervention);
- 14 • HD Supply Waterworks, LP (Plaintiff in Intervention);
- 15 • APCO Construction (Defendant, General Contractor)¹³;
- 16 • Gemstone Development, Inc. (Defendant, Project Owner);
- 17 • Scott Financial Corporation (Defendant, Lender)¹⁴;
- 18 • CAMCO Pacific Construction Co., Inc. (Defendant, General Contractor, 19 Counterclaimant) and its contractor's bond surety, Fidelity and Deposit Company 20 of Maryland¹⁵; and
- 21 • Various Does (unknown persons), Roes (unknown entities), Boes (unknown
22 bonding companies, and Loes (unknown lenders).¹⁶

23 ///

24 ¹¹ See Exhibit 9.

25 ¹² Matter of Estate of Sarge, 134 Nev. Adv. Op. 105, 432 P.3d 718, 720 (2018).

26 ¹³ APCO asserted affirmative claims, including lien claims in its own constituent case. APCO asserted no counterclaims relating to the Constituent Case.

27 ¹⁴ As more fully discussed below, Scott Financial Corporation was a defendant only with respect to the lien claimants' claims of priority and was added by way of amended complaints or statements of fact.

28 ¹⁵ CAMCO asserted various counterclaims against those subcontractors who claimed against CAMCO. However, at the time of trial, CAMCO offered no evidence and asserted to right to any affirmative relief.

¹⁶ Except for Scott Financial Corporation, added by way of amended pleadings, no actual persons, entities, bonding companies or lenders were substituted for the Does, Roes, Boes or Loes.

As set forth in Exhibit 10 (with Sub-Exhibits A-QQ), the Constituent Case was commenced on April 7, 2009¹⁷ when Accuracy Glass & Mirror Company, Inc. (“Accuracy”) filed a “Complaint Re Foreclosure” asserting claims against APCO, CAMCO, the Project developer, Gemstone Development West, Inc., CAMCO’s contractor’s bond surety, Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland, and various Does, Roes, Boes and Loes. Accuracy’s Complaint asserted, among other things, claims for Breach of Contract, Breach of Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing, Unjust Enrichment and, most importantly, Foreclosure of Accuracy’s Mechanic’s Lien against the Project as well as a Claim of Priority as against the Loe Lenders. The other lien claimants, including Helix, filed its Statements of Fact containing substantially identical claims.¹⁸

Accuracy amended its Complaint on June 24, 2009¹⁹, which it filed with a caption for the Consolidated Action, even though the Notice of Entry of the Consolidation Order was not filed until July 2, 2009.²⁰ Similar amended pleadings were filed by the other relevant lien claimants.²¹

As discussed more fully below, the parties and claims in the Constituent Case were reduced over time by a series of events and orders, including an Order shortly before trial dismissing all parties in the Consolidated Action that did not file pre-trial disclosures as required by Nev. R. Civ. P. 7(b).

2. The Writ Petition.

Before the Consolidated Action came to this Department, it was the subject of a Writ Petition to the Nevada Supreme Court filed by APCO, Helix and other subcontractors seeking review of the District Court’s summary judgment that the Project lender, Scott Financial Company, had priority over the mechanics lien claimants.²² The Nevada Supreme Court affirmed the District Court (the “Priority Decision”) and the proceeds of the sale of the Project property were eventually disbursed to the lender.

¹⁷ See Exhibit 10H.

¹⁸ NRS 108.239(3) allows (but does not require) other persons holding liens on the same work of improvement to join an existing foreclosure action “by filing a statement of facts in the lien claimant’s action.”

¹⁹ See Exhibit 10I.

²⁰ See Exhibit 10D.

²¹ See Exhibits 10I, 10M, 10S, 10X, 10CC, 10FE.

²² See Exhibit 10E.

1 3. The Consolidated Claims and Parties Were Reduced Pursuant to Nev. R. Civ. P.
2 7(b).

3 In the months and years following the Priority Decision, many of the lien claimants
4 withdrew from the consolidated proceeding, formally or by inaction, while a smaller number
5 continued to press their claims against APCO and the other general contractor, CAMCO. As trial
6 neared, counsel for APCO, CAMCO, Helix and others moved the District Court, pursuant to Nev.
7 R. Civ. P. 7(b), to dismiss, with prejudice, all parties who had not filed their Pre-Trial
8 Disclosures.²³ After notice and a further hearing on September 11, 2017, this Court expressly
9 dismissed certain parties and affirmed the identities of the remaining parties.²⁴ Of the remaining 10 parties, only the following had claims arising from the Constituent Case:

- 11 • Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC (Plaintiff in Intervention);
- 12 • Heinaman Contract Glazing (Plaintiff in Intervention);
- 13 • APCO Construction (Defendant, General Contractor); and
- 14 • CAMCO Pacific Construction Co., Inc. (Defendant, General Contractor, 15 Counterclaimant).²⁵

16 Each of those parties proceeded to trial, which resulted in multiple separate judgments
17 resolving the tried claims. Specifically, with respect to the Constituent Case, claims were 18 presented by and resulted in judgments respecting:

- 19 • Helix, against APCO (claims dismissed, subject of this appeal)²⁶;
- 20 • Helix, against CAMCO (resulting in judgment for Helix against CAMCO);²⁷ and

22
23 ²³ See Exhibit 10G.

24 ²⁴ See Id. Many other parties and claims had by then already been dismissed or resolved. Others, not part of the 25 Constituent Case were resolved through other orders or, as in the case of National Wood Products, Inc., went to trial.
26 However, because finality for purposes of appellate jurisdiction involves only an analysis of the Constituent Case,
27 see Estate of Sarge, supra, these other parties and claims are ignored here for brevity and clarity.

28 ²⁵ As noted above, several other Peel Brimley Lien Claimants obtained judgments against CAMCO. See Exhibits
29 5A, 5B, 5C, 5D and 5E. However, except for Helix and Heinaman, those judgments arose from other constituent 30 cases as follows: (i) Buchele, Inc. (filed in constituent Case No. A583289), (ii) Fast Glass, Inc. (filed in constituent 31 Case No. A584730), (iii) SWPPP Compliance Solutions (filed in the Consolidated Action after consolidation), and 32 (iv) Cactus Rose Construction Co., Inc. (filed in the Consolidated Action prior to consolidation).

33 ²⁶ See Exhibit 10G.

34 ²⁷ See Exhibit 10P.

- Heinaman Contract Glazing, against CAMCO (resulting in judgment for Heinaman Contract Glazing against CAMCO),²⁸

Although not presented at the time of trial, Heinaman's and Helix's pleadings also asserted the following claims:

- Against the Project Owner, Gemstone Development West, Inc. ("Gemstone") for lien foreclosure;
- Against Gemstone's lender, Scott Financial Corporation ("Scott Financial"), asserting lien priority and a claim in quantum meruit; and
- Against CAMCO's surety, Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland ("FDCM") and the contractor's surety bond it issued to CAMCO ("the CAMCO Bond").²⁹

As to FDCM and the CAMCO Bond, Heinaman and Helix (and others) secured an Order from this Court disbursing to Heinaman a pro rata share of the proceeds of the CAMCO Bond, which was then exonerated, thus resolving all claims against them by Heinaman and Helix (and other lien claimants in other constituent cases).³⁰ The Priority Decision resolved all of Helix's and Heinaman's (and other lien claimants') claims against Scott Financial. As to Gemstone, which was defunct by the time of trial, the only claims against it sounded in lien foreclosure and quantum meruit, both of which this Court affirmed in Helix's and Heinaman's judgments as against CAMCO.³¹

Finally, CAMCO asserted, but did not pursue at trial, counterclaims against both Helix and Heinaman (and other lien claimants). Specifically, as against Helix, CAMCO asserted:

- Abuse of Process
- Breach of Contract
- Breach of Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing
- Declaratory Relief
- Attorney's Fees (pursuant to NRS Chapter 30).³²

²⁸ See Exhibit 10AA.

²⁹ See Exhibits 10M and 10Q (Helix) and 10X and 10AA (Heinaman).

³⁰ See Exhibit 11.

³¹ See Exhibits 10 and 10X.

³² See Exhibit 100.

CAMCO also asserted in its pleadings, but did not pursue at trial, the following claims against Heinaman:

- Breach of Contract
- Breach of Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing.³³

Collectively, the claims that were not pursued at trial are referred to hereinafter collectively as the “Unresolved Claims.” It appears to be these Unresolved Claims – or at least those Unresolved Claims arising out of the Constituent Case - that resulted in the Nevada Supreme Court dismissing Helix’s appeal. Because of such Unresolved Claims, this Court’s dismissal of its claims against APCO, and APCO’s award of attorney’s fees and costs against Helix, do not constitute a “final order” that is ripe for appeal. For the reasons discussed below, this Court should finally resolve these Unresolved Claims, either in whole (i.e., for the Consolidated Action) or in part (i.e., for the Constituent Case). Alternatively, or additionally, the Court should issue a Rule 54(b) certification as to the claims of and between Helix and APCO that were resolved at trial such that this Court’s orders and judgments may be appealed.

III. ARGUMENT/AUTHORITY

A. The Court Should Re-Open this Case.

As indicated by the court docket, the Clerk of the Court has administratively closed the Constituent Case.³⁴ In the interests of justice, Helix requests that the Court exercise its inherent authority to re-open the Constituent Case so as to permit a hearing on the substantive matters presented in this Motion.

B. The Court Should Dismiss All Unresolved Claims in the Consolidated Action.

As discussed above, the claims and parties in both the Consolidated Action and the Constituent Case were whittled down through settlements, voluntary dismissals and this Court’s Orders.³⁵ Specifically, but without limitation, on September 20, 2017, on the Motion of APCO, pursuant to Nev. R. Civ. P. 7(b), and after notice to all parties in the Consolidated Action, the Court dismissed three parties (including Accuracy Glass and Mirror Company, that had failed to

³⁴ See Exhibit 10A.

³⁵ See e.g., Exhibit 10G.

1 file Pre-Trial Disclosures. Because “all other parties and claims were previously resolved
2 pursuant to a separate stipulation and order and/or separate settlement,” the Court also identified
3 the only remaining parties as of that date, as follows:

- 4 • Helix Electric of Nevada, Inc.;
- 5 • APCO Construction, Inc.;
- 6 • National Wood Products, Inc. (trial completed, appeal dismissed upon 7 settlement)³⁶;
- 8 • Zitting Brothers Construction, Inc. (summary judgment entered against APCO on 9 January 2, 2018; appeal pending, Case No. 75197);
- 10 • CAMCO Pacific Construction, Co. (trial completed, judgments entered against 11 CAMCO in favor of multiple parties, including Helix and National Wood 12 Products. CAMCO’s appeal deadline has elapsed)³⁷;
- 13 • E&E Fire Protection, LLC (proceeded to trial. Judgment entered against CAMCO.
14 CAMCO’s appeal deadline has elapsed)³⁸;
- 15 • SWPPP Compliance Solutions, LLC (proceeded to trial. Judgment entered against 16 CAMCO. CAMCO’s appeal deadline has elapsed)³⁹;
- 17 • Fast Glass, Inc. (proceeded to trial. Judgment entered against CAMCO. CAMCO’s 18 appeal deadline has elapsed)⁴⁰;
- 19 • Heinaman Contract Glazing, Inc. (proceeded to trial. Judgment entered against 20 CAMCO. CAMCO’s appeal deadline has elapsed)⁴¹;
- 21 • Cactus Rose Construction, Inc. proceeded to trial. Judgment entered against 22 CAMCO. CAMCO’s appeal deadline has elapsed)⁴²;
- 23 • Interstate Plumbing and Air Conditioning, LLC (subsequently dismissed by 24 stipulation)⁴³;

25 ³⁶ See Exhibit 6.

26 ³⁷ See Notices of Entry of Judgment against CAMCO, Exhibits 5A-5F.

27 ³⁸ See Exhibit 5F.

28 ³⁹ See Exhibit 5E.

⁴⁰ See Exhibit 5B.

⁴¹ See Exhibit 5C.

⁴² See Exhibit 5A.

⁴³ See Exhibit 12.

- 1 • Nevada Prefab Engineers, Inc. (subsequently dismissed by stipulation)⁴⁴;
- 2 • Steel Structures, Inc. (subsequently dismissed by stipulation)⁴⁵;
- 3 • Unitah Investments, LLC. (subsequently dismissed by stipulation)⁴⁶; and
- 4 • United Subcontractors dba Sky Line Insulation (motion to enforce settlement 5 pending).⁴⁷

6 At trial, only the following parties appeared and presented claims or defenses: Helix,
7 APCO, CAMCO, National Wood Products, Heinaman Contract Glazing, Inc., SWPPP
8 Compliance Solutions, LLC, Fast Glass, Inc., Cactus Rose Construction, Inc. and E&E Fire
9 Protection, LLC. At the conclusion of trial, as noted above, the Court entered various Judgments
10 encompassing some or all of those parties' respective claims and defenses.⁴⁸

11 To the extent a party or parties did not appear for trial or did not present certain claims or 12 defenses at trial, they have waived or abandoned the same. See Nevada Yellow Cab Corp. v.
13 Eighth Judicial Dist. Court ex rel. Cty. of Clark, 123 Nev. 44, 49, 152 P.3d 737, 740 (2007)
14 (Waiver requires the intentional relinquishment of a known right). The waiver of a right may be 15 inferred when a party engages in conduct so inconsistent with an intent to enforce the right as to 16 induce a reasonable belief that the right has been relinquished. Id. Here, each of the relevant 17 parties knowingly and intentionally appeared (or did not appear) for trial, presented (or, despite 18 the full opportunity to do so, did not present) their various claims and defenses. It is fair and 19 reasonable to conclude that any claim not asserted at trial was waived or abandoned and should 20 be deemed dismissed or otherwise resolved.

21 In addition, and having failed to pursue certain claims at trial, the parties are barred by the 22 doctrine of claim preclusion from asserting such claims in the future. Claim preclusion "embraces 23 all grounds of recovery that were asserted in a suit, as well as those that could have been asserted,
24 and thus has a broader reach" than the issue preclusion doctrine. Five Star Capital Corp. v. Ruby,
25 124 Nev. 1048, 1052, 194 P.3d 709, 711 (2008), citing University of Nevada v. Tarkanian, 110

26 ⁴⁴ See Exhibit 13.

27 ⁴⁵ Id.

28 ⁴⁶ Id. Unitah is the successor in interest to the claims of Gerdau Reinforcing Steel.

⁴⁷ See Exhibit 14. United Subcontractors dba Sky Line Insulation only had claims against CAMCO, not APCO.

⁴⁸ See Exhibits 5A-5F, Exhibit 10R, Exhibit 2.

1 Nev. 581, 599, 879 P.2d 1180, 1191 (1994). The “modern view is that claim preclusion embraces
2 all grounds of recovery that were asserted in a suit, as well as those that could have been asserted,
3 and thus has a broader reach than issue preclusion.” Five Star, 124 Nev at 1052-1053 citing
4 Executive Management v. Ticor Title Insurance Co., 114 Nev. 823, 835, 963 P.2d 465 (1998).

5 Claim preclusion applies if (1) the parties or their privies are the same, (2) the final
6 judgment is valid, and (3) the subsequent action is based on the same claims or any part of them
7 that were or could have been brought in the first case. Five Star, 124 Nev. at 1054-1055. These 8 three factors, in varying language, are used by the majority of state and federal courts. Id. This 9 test maintains the well-established principle that claim preclusion applies to all grounds of 10 recovery that were or could have been brought in the first case. Id.

11 Here, whether “brought,” not brought, or abandoned or not pursued at trial, the claims of 12 which the Court has expressed concern may never be brought again. Further, trial (finally, after 13 nearly 10 years) having occurred, will not again occur except on remand from the Nevada
14 Supreme Court on any judgments appealed from. As such, this Court should not hesitate to 15 conclude that the Unresolved Claims have been abandoned and waived and should therefore be 16 dismissed with prejudice as to all claims and parties in the Consolidated Action.

17 C. The Court Should Dismiss All Unresolved Claims in the Constituent Case.

18 Alternatively, and to the extent that grounds exists to dismiss all Unresolved Claims in the 19 Consolidated Action, the Court should dismiss any Unresolved Claims arising out of the 20 Constituent Case. Of the parties and claims that appeared for and participated at trial, only Helix, 21 APCO, CAMCO, and Heinaman had claims arising from their respective pleadings in the 22 Constituent Case. For the same reasons set forth above (e.g., waiver, abandonment, claim 23 preclusion), the Court should dismiss any and all Unresolved Claims in the Constituent Case.

24 ///

25 ///

1 D. Alternatively, the Court should Issue a Certification Pursuant to Nev. R. Civ.
2 P. 54(b).

3 Nev. R. Civ. P. 54(b) provides:

4 When an action presents more than one claim for relief — whether as a claim,
5 counterclaim, crossclaim, or third-party claim — or when multiple parties are 6 involved, the court may direct entry of a final judgment as to one or more, but fewer 7 than all, claims or parties only if the court expressly determines that there is no just 8 reason for delay. Otherwise, any order or other decision, however designated, that 9 adjudicates fewer than all the claims or the rights and liabilities of fewer than all the 10 parties does not end the action as to any of the claims or parties and may be revised 11 at any time before the entry of a judgment adjudicating all the claims and all the 12 parties' rights and liabilities.

13 As of this date, and while the Court has issued a Rule 54(b) Certification with respect to 14 claims and parties in other Constituent Cases,⁴⁹ the Court has not issued such a certification with 15 respect to the APCO and Helix or the claims between them. Accordingly, and as the Supreme 16 Court ruled, the decisions and judgments of this Court relating to these parties and claims “does 17 not end the action as to any of the claims or parties and may be revised at any time before the 18 entry of a judgment adjudicating all the claims and all the parties' rights and liabilities.”

19 The 2019 Amendments to the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure revised Rule 54(b) to 20 conform to Federal rules practice and restored the rule to its pre-2004 condition. Specifically, the 21 rule was revised to “add the reference to claims back into the rule, restoring the district court's 22 authority to direct entry of final judgment when one or more, but fewer than all, claims are 23 resolved.” See Advisory Committee Notes, 2019 Amendment (emphasis added). Any order for 24 final certification must state that “there is no just reason for delay and upon express direction for 25 the entry of judgment.” Nev. R. Civ. P. 54(b). Here, even if the Court does not dismiss all of the 26 Unresolved Claims there is indeed no just reason for delay for entry of a final judgment as to the 27 claims by and between Helix and APCO. Except for the judgment this Court certified as final 28 between APCO and Zitting Bros. that is currently on appeal,⁵⁰ there are no other active claims or 29 parties in the consolidated action, much less the Constituent Case. A certificate of finality could 30 not prejudice any party. See e.g., Mallin v. Farmers Ins. Exch., 106 Nev. 606, 611, 797 P.2d 978, ⁴⁹ See Exhibit 15 (Rule 54(b) Certification relating to APCO/Zitting Bros. claims).

⁵⁰ See Exhibit 16. Zitting Bros. also recently appealed from this Court's order relating to the potential disqualification of counsel.

981 (1990) reversed on other grounds, Matter of Estate of Sarge, 134 Nev. Adv. Op. 105, 432 P.3d 718, 722 (2018).

Based on the foregoing, and in the alternative, Helix respectfully requests that the Court issue a certification of finality with respect to the Helix/APCO Orders.

IV. CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, this Court should (I) re-open the administratively closed Constituent Case, (II) deem the Unresolved Claims abandoned and dismiss the same; and/or (III) in the alternative, issue a certification pursuant to Nev. R. Civ. P. 54(b) that there is no just reason for delay to direct entry of a final judgment as to one or more, but fewer than all, claims or parties - specifically as to the claims of, by and between Helix and APCO as resolved by the Helix/APCO Orders.

Respectfully submitted this 6th day of August, 2019.

AND ALL RELATED MATTERS

On July 19, 2018, the Court heard the following motions: (1) APCO Construction Inc.'s Motion for Attorneys Fees and Costs; (2) APCO Construction, Inc.'s Memorandum of Costs [Against Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC and Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc.]; (3) Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc.'s Motion to Retax Costs Re: Defendant APCO Construction, Inc.'s Memorandum of Costs and Disbursements Against Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc. with Joinder by Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC, (4) Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC's Motion to Retax Costs Re: Defendant APCO Construction, Inc.'s Memorandum of Costs and Disbursements with Joinder by Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc., and (5) National Wood Products, Inc.'s Ex Parte Motion for Order Shortening Time to Hear Motion for Order Permitting Leave to File Surreply to APCO Construction's Reply to National Wood Products, Inc.'s Opposition to Motion for Attorneys' Fees and Costs.

John Randall Jefferies, Esq. and Mary Bacon, Esq. of the law firm of Spencer Fane appeared on behalf of APCO Construction, Inc. ("APCO"); Eric Zimbleman, Esq. of the law firm of Peel Brimley appeared on behalf of Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC ("Helix"), and John Taylor, Esq. and S. Judy Hirahara, Esq. of the law firm of Cadden Fuller and Richard Tobler, Esq. of the law firm Richard Tobler, Ltd. appeared on behalf of Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc. ("National Wood"), the Court having heard oral argument and examined the records and documents on file in the above-entitled matter and being fully advised on the premises, hereby ORDERS as follows, having rendered its Decision filed on August 8, 2018:

1 1. APCO Construction, Inc.'s Motion for Attorneys Fees and Costs Against
2 Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC and Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc.
3 and APCO Construction, Inc.'s Memorandum of Costs and Disbursements [Against Helix
4 Electric of Nevada, LLC and Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc.].

5 APCO requested attorney's fees from Helix and National Wood pursuant to the
6 subcontracts at issue and pursuant to APCO's November 13, 2018 offers of judgment. APCO
7 also sought an award of attorney's fees against Helix pursuant to NRS 108.237(3). The Court
8 finds that although there are certainly viable bases supporting APCO's contention that 9 contractual provisions in the repesective subcontracts and equitable estoppel can support an
10 award of attorney's fees going back in time to a point long before making of the November 13,
11 2018 offers of judgment, the Court determines, in the context of this complex case, involving 12 multiple parties and claims and consolidation of cases and periodic party alignments and
13 realignments and contractual reconfigurations, that the best basis for attorney fee awards is 14 NRCP 68.

15 NRCP 68 provides in part that at "any time more than 10 days before trial, any party may 16 serve an offer in writing to allow judgment to be taken in accordance with its terms and
17 conditions."¹ "If the offer is not accepted within 10 days after service, it shall be considered
18 rejected by the offeree and deemed withdrawn by the offeror."² And "[i]f the offeree rejects an
19 offer and fails to obtain a more favorable judgment, (1) the offeree cannot recover any costs or 20 attorney's fees and shall not recover interest for the period after the service of the offer and
21 before the judgment; and (2) the offeree shall pay the offeror's post-offer costs, applicable
22 interest on the judgment from the time of the offer to the time of entry of the judgment and
23 reasonable attorney's fees, if any be allowed, actually incurred by the offeror from the time of 24 the offer."³

25 The purpose of NRCP 68 is to promote and encourage settlement and save time and
26 money for the court system, the parties, and the taxpayers.⁴ It rewards a party who makes a

27 ¹ NRCP 68(a).

28 ² NRCP 68(e).

29 ³ NRCP 68(f).

30 ⁴ Muije v. A N. Las Vegas Cab Co., 106 Nev. 664, 667, 799 P.2d 559, 561 (1990).

1 reasonable offer to settle a lawsuit and punishes the party who refuses to accept such an offer.⁵
2 “NRCp 68 encourages the settlement of lawsuits by raising the stakes for a litigant who receives
3 an offer of judgment. An offeree must balance the uncertainty of receiving a more favorable
4 judgment against the risk of receiving a less favorable judgment and being forced to pay the
5 offeror's costs and attorney's fees.”⁶ In reviewing an application for an award of attorney's fee
6 pursuant to NRCp 68, “the trial court must carefully evaluate the following factors: (1) whether
7 the plaintiff's claim was brought in good faith; (2) whether the defendants' offer of judgment was
8 reasonable and in good faith in both its timing and amount; (3) whether the plaintiff's decision to 9 reject the offer and proceed to trial was grossly unreasonable or in bad faith; and (4) whether the
10 fees sought by the offeror are reasonable and justified in amount.”⁷ “After weighing the 11 foregoing factors, the district judge may, where warranted, award up to the full amount of fees
12 requested.”⁸ An award will not be disturbed if the record is clear that the district court
13 considered the factors and the court's award is not arbitrary or capricious.⁹ No single factor
14 under Beattie is determinative. The district court has broad discretion to grant the request as long
15 as all appropriate factors are at least considered.¹⁰

16 On November 13, 2018, APCO made an offer of judgment to Helix for $25,000 and an
17 offer of judgment to National Wood for $35,000. Neither party accepted APCO's offer.

18 Preliminarily, APCO's offers were timely.¹¹ Helix and National Wood argued that the
19 November 13, 2018 offers of judgment were untimely because (i) in 2012 the Court (per Judge
20 Susan Scann) issued an Order, which was prepared and submitted by and at the behest of APCO,
21 by and through its then-attorneys, that “[t]rial of this consolidated matter commenced on October
22 30, 2012,” and (ii) this action has never been bifurcated or de-consolidated. However, the Court

¹⁰ Arnoult, 114 Nev. at 252 n.16, 955 P.2d at 673 n.16.

¹¹ Allianz Ins. Co. v. Gagnon, 109 Nev. 990, 994–95, 860 P.2d 720, 724 (1993).

1 is persuaded by APCO's contention that its offers of judgment were timely relative to the
2 applicability of NRCP 68 and Allianz Ins. Co. v. Gagnon, 109 Nev. 990, 994–95, 860 P.2d 720,
3 724 (1993).

4 The Court assesses the Beattie factors as follows:

- 5 • Helix's and National Wood's (CabineTec's) claims were brought in good faith.
- 6 • APCO's offers were reasonable and in good faith in both timing and amount.
- 7 • Helix's and National Wood's decisions to reject the offers and proceed to trial against
8 APCO were not grossly unreasonable or in bad faith.
- 9 • The fees sought by APCO are reasonable,¹² Brunzell v. Golden Gate Nat'l Bank, 85 Nev.
10 345, 349, 455 P.2d 31, 33 (1969), but an order that Helix and National Wood pay them in 11 their entirety would not be justified given the balancing of the Beattie factors.

12 Accordingly, APCO's Motion for Attorney's Fees and Costs is GRANTED pursuant to 13 NRCP 68 with an award of attorneys' fees against Helix in the sum of $85,000.00, and an award
14 of attorneys' fees against National Wood in the sum of $60,000.00.

15 APCO requested $57,228.89 in costs, the Court GRANTS APCO's Motion for Costs and
16 Memorandum for Costs subject to the following deductions: $3,942.38 for travel and lodging,
17 $6,013.42 for photocopies¹³ and $10,500 related to an accounting audit.¹⁴ In total, APCO is 18 awarded a total of $36,615.08 in costs; $18,307.54 due from Helix and $18,307.54 due from 19 National Wood.

20 In total, APCO is awarded a total of $103,307.54 in fees and costs against Helix and a total
21 of $78,307.54 in fees and costs against National Wood.

23
24 ¹² APCO's post-offer fees attributable to Helix total $130,933.73 and APCO's post-offer fees attributable
25 to National Wood total $106,882.23.

26 ¹³ Spencer Fane initially asked for $15,013.42 for photocopies and reproductions for trial. With the $6,013.42
deduction, APCO is awarded $9,000 for photocopies and reproductions for trial.

27 ¹⁴ For the sake of judicial efficiency, the Court incorporates APCO's briefing on its costs from its 05/26/2018 APCO
28 Construction, Inc.'s Supplement to its of its Motion for Attorneys' Fees, APCO Construction, Inc. 06/29/2018 Reply

1 2. Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc.'s Motion to Retax
2 Costs Re: Defendant APCO Construction, Inc.'s Memorandum of Costs and
3 Disbursements Against Plaintiff in Intervention National Wood Products, Inc. with Joinder
4 by Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC

5 National Wood asserted various reasons for retaxing certain costs. National Wood's
6 Motion to Retax is granted in part as follows: First, the Court retaxes and reduces $3,942.38 of
7 APCO's expenses related travel and lodging since these amounts were not incurred for
8 depositions. Since only half of the total travel costs were initially allocated to National Wood,
9 the Court retaxes and reduces the $1,971.19 that APCO initially attributed to National Wood to
10 $0.00 (zero dollars). Next, the court retaxes $6,013.42 of the $15,013.42 APCO requested for 11 photocopies and reduces the same to $9,000.00. Again, because APCO only asked for half of the 12 total $15,013.42 in photocopies against National Wood, the Court retaxes and reduces these
13 amounts as to National Wood to $4,500.00

14 In total, APCO is awarded $18,307.54 in costs against National Wood.

15 3. Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC's Motion to Retax Costs Re: Defendant APCO
16 Construction, Inc.'s Memorandum of Costs and Disbursements with Joinder by Plaintiff in 17 Intervention National Wood Products, Inc.

18 Helix's Motion to Retax Costs is also granted in part. First, Helix is entitled to the same
19 deductions awarded to National Wood such that (i) the Court retaxes and reduces the $1,971.19
20 that APCO initially attributed to Helix to $0.00 (zero dollars) and (ii) the court retaxes $6,013.42
21 of the $15,013.42 APCO requested for photocopies and reduces Helix's portion of the same to 22 $4,500.00. In addition, the Court will retax $10,500 of accounting costs.

23 APCO is awarded $18,307.54 in costs against Helix.

APCO did not oppose National Wood's Motion for Order Shortening Time to Hear Motion for Order Permitting Leave to File Surreply to APCO Construction's Reply to National Wood Products, Inc.'s Opposition to Motion for Attorneys' Fees and Costs. As such, the Motion is granted.

JUDGMENT

IAS TO THE CLAIMS OF HELIX
ELECTRIC OF NEVADA, LLC AND PLAINTIFF IN INTERVENTION
NATIONAL WOOD PRODUCTS, INC.'S
AGAINST APCO CONSTRUCTION, INC.]

21
22 This matter having come on for a non-jury trial on the merits on January 17-19, 23,
23 24 and February 6, 2018, APCO Construction, Inc. ("APCO"), appearing through Spencer
24 Fane, LLP and Marquis & Aurbach; Camco Construction, Inc., ("Camco") through Grant
25 Morris Dodds; National Wood Products, Inc. ("National Wood" or "CabineTec") through 26 Cadden & Fuller LLP and Richard L. Tobler, Ltd.; United Subcontractors, Inc. through 27 Fabian Vancott; and Helix Electric of Nevada, LLC ("Helix"), SWPP Compliance
28 Solution, Cactus Rose Construction, Inc., Fast Glass, Inc., Heinaman Contract Glazing all

1 through Peel Brimley; and, the Court having heard the testimony of witnesses through
2 examination and cross-examination by the parties' counsel, having reviewed the evidence 3 provided by the parties, having heard the arguments of counsel, and having read and 4 considered the briefs of counsel, the parties' pleadings, and various other filings, and good
5 cause appearing; the Court hereby makes the following:

6 The Court having taken the matter under consideration and advisement;

7 The Court having entered its April 25, 2018 Findings of Fact and Conclusions of 8 Law as to the Claims of Helix Electric and CabineTec against APCO, incorporated
9 herein by this reference ("the APCO FFCL");

10 The Court enters the following Judgment as to the claims of Helix and National 11 Wood against APCO;

12 IT IS ORDERED, ADJUDGED, AND DECREED that, as set forth on the APCO
13 FFCL, judgment is to be entered in favor of APCO and against Helix and National Wood
14 on all of Helix's and National Wood's claims against APCO and that (i) Helix's April 14,
15 2009 Statement of Facts Constituting Notice of Lien and Third-Party Complaint, (ii)
16 Helix's June 24, 2009 Amended Statement of Facts Constituting Notice of Lien and Third-Party
17 Complaint and (iii) CabineTec's February 6, 2009 Statement of Facts Constituting Lien
18 Claim and Complaint in Intervention shall be dismissed with prejudice, but only to the 19 extent they state claims against APCO.

20 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, ADJUDGED, AND DECREED that the Court may 21 issue an amended judgment after the Court has heard and decided APCO's Motion for 22 Attorney's Fees and Costs Against Helix and National Wood and any related motion to
