Jury Trial Demanded

Exempt from Arbitration: Declaratory Relief, Significant Public Policy and Amount in Excess Of $40,000

Plaintiff, Gilbert P. Hyatt, complains against defendants, and each of them, as follows:

PARTIES

- 1. Plaintiff resides in Clark County, Nevada and has done so since September 26, 1991.
- 2. Defendant Franchise Tax Board of the State of California (hereinafter FTB) is a governmental agency of the State of California with its principal office located in Sacramento. California, and a district office located in Los Angeles, California. The FTB*s function is to ensure the collection of state income taxes from California residents and from income earned in California by non-residents.
- 3. The identity and capacities of the defendants designated as Does 1 through 100 are so designated by plaintiff because of his intent by this complaint to include as named defendants every individual or entity who, in concert with the FTB as an employee, representative, agent or independent contractor, committed the tortious acts described in this complaint. The true names tortious acts in Nevada with the assistance of said Doc defendants who are designated by fictitious names only until plaintiff is able, through discovery, to obtain their true identities and capacities: upon ascertaining the true names and capacities of these Doe defendants, plaintiff shall promptly amend this complaint to properly name them by their actual identities and capacities. For pleading purposes, whenever this complaint refers to "defendants," it shall refer to these Doe defendants, whether individuals, corporations or other forms of associations or entities, until their true names are added by amendment along with particularized facts concerning their conduct in the commission of the tortious acts alleged herein.

- 4. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and on that basis alleges, that defendants, in acting or omitting to act as alleged, acted or omitted to act within the course and scope of their employment or agency, and in furtherance of their employer's or principal's business, whether the employer or principal be FTB or some other governmental agency or employer or principal whose identity is not yet known; and that FTB and defendants were otherwise responsible and liable for the acts and omissions alleged herein.
- This action is exempt from the court-annexed arbitration program, pursuant to Rule 3, because: (1) this is an action for, inter alia, declaratory relief; (2) substantial issues of public policy are implicated concerning the sovereignty of the State of Nevada and the integrity of its territorial boundaries as opposed to governmental agencies of another state who enter Nevada in an effort to extraterritorially, arbitrarily and deceptively enforce their policies, rules and regulations on residents of Nevada in general, and plaintiff Gilbert P. Hyatt in particular; and (3) the sums of money and damages involved herein far exceed the $40,000.00 jurisdictional limit of the arbitration program.
- 6. Plaintiff hereby requests a jury trial for his Second, Third, Fourth, and Fifth Causes of Action.

SUMMARY OF CLAIMS

7. Plaintiff, by this action, seeks: (1) declaratory relief under NRS 30.010 ct see. to confirm plaintiff's status as a Nevada resident effective as of September 26, 1991 and continuing to the present and, correspondingly, his non-residency during said period in California; (2) recovery of compensatory and punitive damages against the FTB and the defendants for invasion of plaintiff's right of privacy resulting from their investigation in Nevada of plaintiff's residency, domicile and place of abode and causing (a) an unreasonable intrusion upon plaintiff's seclusion, (b) an unreasonable publicity given to private facts, and (c) casting plaintiff in a false light; and (3) recovery of compensatory and punitive damages against the FTB and the defendants for their outrageous conduct in regard to their investigation in Nevada of plaintiff's residency, domicile and place of abode. The claims specified in this paragraph constitute five separate causes of action as hereinafter set forth in this complaint.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

Plaintiff's Residency in Nevada

- 8. Plaintiff moved to the State of Nevada, County of Clark, and established full-time residency here on September 26, 1991 and has remained a full-time, permanent resident since that time. Prior to his relocation to Nevada, plaintiff resided in Southern California. Plaintiff is a highly successful inventor. Specifically, plaintiff has been granted numerous important patents for a wide range of inventions relating to computer technology. Plaintiff primarily works alone in the creation and development of his inventions and greatly values his privacy both in his personal life and business affairs. After certain of his important inventions were granted patents in 1990, plaintiff began receiving a great deal of unwanted and unsolicited publicity, notoriety and attention. To greater protect his privacy, to enjoy the social, recreational, and financial advantages Nevada has to offer, and to generally enhance the quality of his life and environment, plaintiff relocated to Nevada on September 26, 1991. This move took place after much consideration and almost an entire year of planning.
- 9. The following events are indicative of the fact that on September 26, 1991, plaintiff commenced both his residency and intent to remain in Nevada, and a continuation of both down to the present: (1) the sale of plaintiff's California home in October 1991; (2) his renting and residing at an apartment in Las Vegas commencing in October 1991 and continuing until April 1992 when plaintiff closed the purchase of a home in Las Vegas; (3) in November 1991, plaintiff registered to vote in Nevada, obtained a Nevada driver's license, and joined a religious organization in Las Vegas; (4) plaintiffs' extensive search, commencing in December 1991, for a new home in Las Vegas, and in the process utilizing the services of various real estate brokers; (5) during the process of finding a home to purchase, plaintiff made numerous offers to buy; (6) plaintiff's purchase of a new home in Las Vegas on April 3, 1992; (7) plaintiff maintained and expanded his business interests from Las Vegas; and (B) plaintiff has, through the years from September 26, 1991 and down to the present, contacted persons in high political office, in the professions, and other walks of life, as a true Nevada resident of some renown would, not concealing the fact of his Nevada residency. In sum, plaintiff has substantial evidence, both testimonial and documentary, in support of the fact of his full-time residency, domicile and place of abode in Nevada commencing on September 26, 1991 and continuing to the present

The FTB and Defendants' Investigation of Plaintiff io Nevada

- 10. Because plaintiff was a resident of California for part of 1991, plaintiff filed a Part-Year state income tax return with the State of California for 1991 (the "1991 Return"). Said return reflects plaintiff's payment of state income taxes to California for income earned during the period of January 1 through September 26, 1991.
- 11. In or about June of 1993 21 months after plaintiff moved to Nevada for reasons that have never been specified, but are otherwise apparent, the FTB began an audit of the 1991 Return. In or about July of 1993, as part of its audit, the FTB began to investigate plaintiff by making or causing to be made numerous and continuous contacts directed at Nevada. Initially, the FTB sent requests to Nevada government agencies for information concerning plaintiff - a paper foray that continued for the next several years.
- 12. In or about January of 1995, FTB auditors began planning a trip to Las Vegas, the purpose of which was to enhance and expand the scope of their investigation of plaintiff. In March of 1995, the FTB and defendants commenced a "hands on" investigation of plaintiff that included unannounced confrontations and questioning about private details of plaintiff's life. These intrusive activities were directed at numerous residents of Nevada, including plaintiff's current and former neighbors, employees of businesses and stores frequented by plaintiff, and alas, even his

13. Both prior and subsequent to the intrusive, "hands on" investigations described in paragraph 12, above, the FTB propounded to numerous Nevada business and professional entities and individual residents of Nevada "quasi-subpoenas" entitled "Demand to Furnish Information" which cited the FTB's authority under California law to issue subpoenas and demanded that the recipients thereof produce the requested information concerning plaintiff. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and therefore alleges, that the FTB never sought permission from a Nevada court or any Nevada government agency to send such "quasi-subpoenas" into Nevada where, induced by the authoritative appearance of the inquisitions, many Nevada residents and business entities did respond with answers and information concerning plaintiff.

14. Subsequent to the documentary and "hands on" forays into Nevada by the FTB and defendants, the FTB also sent correspondence, rather than "quasi-subpoenas," to Nevada Governor Bob Miller, Nevada Senator Richard Bryan and other government officials and agencies seeking information regarding plaintiff and his residency in Nevada. Plaintiff is further informed and believes, and therefore alleges, that the FTB intentionally sent unauthorized "quasi-subpoenas" (i.e., "Demand to Furnish Information") to private individuals and businesses in a successful attempt to coerce their cooperation through deception and the pretense of an authoritative demand, while on the other hand, sending respectful letter requests for information to Nevada governmental agencies and officials who undoubtedly would have recoiled at the attempt by the FTB to exercise extraterritorial authority in Nevada through the outrageous means of the bogus subpoenss.

15. Plaintiff neither authorized the FTB's aforementioned documentary and pretentious forays into Nevada, nor was plaintiff over aware that such information was being sought in such a manner until well after the "quasi-subpoenss" had been issued and the responses received. Similarly, plaintiff had no knowledge of the FTB and defendants' excursions to Las Vegas to investigate plaintiff or the FTB's correspondence with Nevada government agencies and officials until well after such contacts had taken place. Upon information and belief, plaintiff elleges that all of the above-described activities were calculated to enable the FTB to develop a colorable basis for assessing a huge tax against plaintiff despite the obvious fact that the FTB was proceeding

HUTCHISON A STEFFEN

16. On April 23, 1996, after the FTB had completed its audit and investigation of the 1991 Return, the FTB sent a Notice of Proposed Assessment (i.e., a formal notice that taxes are owed) to plaintiff in which the FTB claimed plaintiff was a resident of California - not Nevada - until April 3, 1992. The FTB therefore assessed plaintiff California state income tax for the period of September 26 through December 31 of 1991 in a substantial amount. Moreover, the FTB also assessed a penalty against plaintiff in an amount almost equal to the assessed tax after summarily concluding that plaintiff's non-payment of the assessed tax, based upon his asserted residency in Nevada and non-residency in California, was fraudulent.

17. Plaintiff, who demonstrably is and was at all times pertinent hereto, a bona fide resident of Nevada should not be forced into a California forum to seek relief from the unjust and tortious attempts by the FTB to extort unlawful taxes from this Nevada resident. Plaimiff avers that the manufactured issue of his residency in Nevada for the period of September 26 through December 31 of 1991 should be determined in Nevada, the state of plaintiff's residence. The FTB is in effect attempting to impose an "exit tax" on plaintiff by coercing him into administrative procedures and possible future court action in California. The FTB has arbitrarily, maliciously and without support in law or fact, asserted that plaintiff remained a California resident until he purchased and closed escrow on a new home in Las Vegas on April 3, 1992. In a word, the FTB's prolonged and monumental efforts to find a way - any way - to effectively assess additional income taxes against plaintiff after he changed his residency from California to Nevada is based upon governmental greed arising from the FTB's eventual awareness of the financial success plaintiff has realized since leaving California and becoming a bona fide resident of the State of Nevada. The aforesaid date of Nevada residency accepted by the FTB with respect to the 1991 Report is over six months after plaintiff moved to Nevada with the intent to stay and began, he thought, to enjoy all the privileges and advantages of residency in his new state.

The FTB's Continuing Pursuit of Plaintiff in Nevada

HUTCHISON D STEFFEN D30 3. PRUBOM STREET LAB STOCK AV 98 101 (708) SBRAGEO PAX 1703) 365-3650 commenced an investigation into the 1992 tax year and that its tentative determination was that plaintiff would also be assessed California state income taxes for the period of January 1 through April 3 of 1992.

- 19. On or about April 10, 1997 and May 12, 1997 respectively, plaintiff received notices from the FTB that it would be issuing a formal "Notice of Proposed Assessment" in regard to the 1992 tax year in which it will seek back taxes from plaintiff for income earned during the period of January 1 through April 2, 1992 and in addition would seek penalties for plaintiff's failure to file a state income tax return for 1992.
- 20. Prior to the FTB sending the formal Notice of Proposed Assessment for the 1992 tax year, a representative of the FTB stated to one of plaintiff's representatives that disputes over such assessments by the FTB always settle at this stage as taxpayers do not want to risk their personal financial information being made public. Plaintiff understood this statement to be a strong suggestion by the FTB that he settle the dispute by payment of some portion of the assessed taxes and penalties. Plaintiff refused, and continues to refuse to do so, as he has not been a resident of California since his move to Nevada on September 26, 1991, and it remains clear to him that the FTB is engaging in its highhanded tactics to extort "taxes and penalties" from him that he does not legally or morally owe.
- 21. On or about August 14, 1997, plaintiff received a formal Notice of Proposed Assessment for 1992. Despite the FTB's earlier written statements and findings that plaintiff became a Novada resident at least as of April 3, 1992 and its statement in such Notice of Proposed Assessment that "We [the FTB] consider you to be a resident of this state [California] through April 2, 1992," such notice proceeded to assess California state income taxes on plaintiff's income for the entire year of 1992. Specifically, the FTB assessed plaintiff state income taxes for 1992 in an amount five times greater than that for 1991, assessed plaintiff a penalty almost as great as the assessed tax for alleged fraud in claiming he was a Nevada resident during 1992, and stated that interest accrued through August 14, 1997 (roughly the equivalent of the penalty) was also owed on the assessed tax and penalty. In short, the State of California, through the FTB, sent plaintiff a bill for the entire 1992 tax year, which was fourteen times the amount of tax it initially assessed for 1991, and in so doing asserted that plaintiff was "a California resident for the entire year." Without explanation the FTB ignored its earlier finding and written acknowledgment that plaintiff was a Nevada resident at least as of April 3, 1992. This outrage is a transparent effort to extore substantial sums of money from a Nevada resident.

- 22. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and therefore alleges, that the FTB intends to engage in a repeat of the "hands on," extraterritorial investigations directed at plaintiff within the State of Nevada in an effort to conjure up a colorable basis for justifying its frivolous, extortionate Noticed of Proposed Assessment for the 1992 tax year.
- 23. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and therefore alleges, that the PTB may continue to assess plaintiff California state income taxes for the years 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996 and beyond since the FTB has now disregarded its own conclusion regarding plaintiff's residency in Nevada as of April 3, 1992, and is bent on charging him with a staggering amount of taxes, penalties and interest irrespective of his status as a bone fide resident of Nevada. It appears from its actions concerning plaintiff, that the FTB has embraced a new theory of liability that in effect declares "once a California resident always a California resident" as long as the victim continues to generate significant amounts of income. Thus, the FTB has raised an invisible equivalent of the iron curtain that prohibits such residents from ever leaving the taxing jurisdiction of the FTB.

The FTB's Motive

- 24. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and therefore alleges, that the FTB has no credible. admissible evidence that plaintiff was a California resident at anytime after September of 1991, despite the FTB's exhaustive extraterritorial investigations in Nevada. The FTB has acknowledged in its own reports that plaintiff sold his California home on October 1, 1991, that plaintiff rented an apartment in Las Vegas from November 1991 until April 1992 and that plaintiff purchased a home in Las Vegas in April 1992.
- 25. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and therefore alleges, that the assessments by the FTB against plaintiff for 1991 and 1992 result from the fact that almost two years after plaintiff moved from California to Nevada en FTB investigator read a magazine article about plaintiff's wealth and the FTB thereafter launched its investigation in the hope of extracting a significant settlement from plaintiff. Plaintiff is further informed and believes, and therefore alleges, that the FTB has assessed a fraud penalty against plaintiff for the 1991 tax year and issued a Notice of Proposed Assessment assessing plaintiff for the entire 1992 tax year and a fraud penalty for the same year to intimidate plaintiff and coerce him into paying some significant amount of tax for income earned after September 26, 1991, despite its awareness that plaintiff actually became a Nevada resident at that time. Plaintiff alleges that the FTB's efforts to coerce plaintiff into sharing his hard-earned wealth despite having no lawful basis for doing so, constitutes malice and oppression.

Jurisdiction

- 26. This Court has personal jurisdiction over the FTB pursuant to Nevada's "long-arm" statute, NRS 14.065 et aeq., because of the PTB's tortious extraterritorial contacts and investigatory conduct within the State of Nevada ostensibly as part of its auditing efforts to undermine plaintiff's status as a Nevada resident, but in reality to create a colorable basis for maintaining that plaintiff continued his residency in California during the period September 26, 1991 to December 31, 1991 and beyond.
- 27. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and therefore alleges, that the FIB has a pattern and practice of entering into Nevada to investigate Nevada residents who were formerly residents of California, and then assessing such residents California state income taxes for time periods subsequent to the date when such individuals moved to and established residency in Nevada.

determining an individual's domicile and/or whether the individual's presence in California (or outside of California) was more than temporary or transitory.

Domicile. (a)

Domicile is determined by the individual's physical presence in California with intent to stay or if absent temporarily from California an intent to return. Such intent is determined by the acts and conduct of the individual such as: (1) where the individual is registered to vote and votes; (2) location of the individual's permanent home; (3) comparative size of homes maintained by the individual in different states; (4) where the individual files federal income tax returns; (5) comparative time spent by the individual in different states; (6) cancellation of the individual's California homeowner's property tax exemption; (7) obtaining a driver's license from another state; (8) registering a car in another state; (9) joining religious, business and/or social organizations in another state; and (10) establishment of a successful business in another state by an individual who is self employed.

Temporary or Transitory Purpose. (b)

The following contacts which are similar although not identical to those used to determine domicile are important in determining whether an individual was in California (or left California) for a temporary or transitory purpose: (1) physical presence of the individual in California in comparison to the other state or states; (2) establishment of a successful business in another state by an individual who is self employed; (3) extensive business interest outside of California and active participation in such business by the individual; (4) banking activity in California by the individual is given some, although not a great deal of, weight; (5) rental of property in another state by the individual; (6) cancellation of the individual's California homeowner's property tax exemption; (7) hiring professionals by the individual located in another state; (8) obtaining a driver's license from another state; (9) registering a car in another state; (10) joining religious, business and/or social organizations in another state; and (11) where the individual is registered to vote and voles.

HUTCHISON 1993: 383-1860

30. The FTB's assessment of taxes and a penalty for 1991 is based upon the FTB's conclusion in the first instance that plaintiff did not become a resident of Nevada until April 3, 1992, the date on which plaintiff closed escrow on a new home in Las Vegas. In coming to such a conclusion, the FTB discounted or refused to consider a multitude of evidentiary facts which contradicted the FTB's conclusion, and were the type of facts the FTB's own regulations and precedents require it to consider. Such facts include, but are not limited to, the following: (1) plaintiff sold his California home on October 1, 1991; (2) plaintiff rented and resided at an apartment in Las Vegas from October I, 1991 until April of 1992; (3) plaintiff registered to vote, obtained a Nevada's driver's license (thereby relinquishing his California driver's license), and joined a Las Vegas religious organization in November of 1991; (4) plaintiff terminated his California home owner's exemption effective October 1, 1991; (5) plaintiff began actively searching for a house to buy in Las Vegas, and submitted numerous offers on houses in Las Vegas commencing in December of 1991; (6) plaintiff's offer to purchase a home in Las Vegas was accepted in March of 1992 and escrow closed on such purchase on April 3, 1992; and (7) plaintiff new home in Las Vegas was substantially larger than the home in Southern California, which he sold in October of 1991.

31. An actual controversy exists as to whether plaintiff was a full-time resident of Nevada - not California - commencing on September 26, 1991 through December 31, 1991 and continuing thereafter through the year 1992 and beyond. Plaintiff contends that under either Nevada or California law, or both, he was a full-time, bona fide resident of Nevada throughout the referenced periods and down to the present, and that the FTB ignored its own regulations and precedents in finding to the contrary, and that the FTB has no jurisdiction to impose a tax obligation on plaintiff during the contested periods. Plaintiff also contends that the FTB had no authority to conduct an extraterritorial investigation of plaintiff in Nevada and no authority to propound "quasi-subpoenas" to Nevada residents and businesses, thereby seeking to coerce the cooperation of said Nevada residents and businesses through an unlawful and tortious deception, to reveal information about plaintiff. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and therefore alleges, that the FTB contends in all respects to the contrary.

Plaintiff therefore requests judgment of this Court declaring and confirming plaintiff s status as a full-time, bona fide resident of the State of Nevada effective from September 26, 1991 to the present; and for judgment declaring the FTB's extraterritorial investigatory excursions into Nevada, and the submission of "quasi-subpoenas" to Nevada residents without approval from a Nevada court or governmental agency, as alleged above, to be without authority and violative of Nevada's sovereignty and territorial integrity.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(For Invasion of Privacy - Unreasonable Intrusion Upon The Seclusion of Another)

- 33. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates herein by reference each and every allegation contained in paragraphs 1 through 27, and 29 through 31, above, as though set forth herein verbatim.
- 34. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and therefore alleges, that neighbors, businesses, government officials and others within Nevada with whom plaintiff has had and would reasonably expect in the future to have social or business interactions, were approached and questioned by the FTB and defendants who disclosed or implied that plaintiff was under investigation in California, and otherwise acted in such a manner as to cause doubts to arise concerning plaintiff's integrity and moral character. Moreover, as part of the audit/investigation in regard to the 1991 Return, plaintiff turned over to the FTB highly personal and confidential information with the understanding that it would remain confidential. The FTB even noted in its own internal documentation that plaintiff had a significant concern in regard to the protection of his privacy in furning over such information. At the time this occurred, plaintiff was still hopeful that the FTB was actually operating in good faith, a proposition that, as noted throughout this complaint, proved to be uttorly false.
- 35. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and therefore alleges, that the FTB and defendants nevertheless violated plaintiff's right to privacy in regard to such information by revealing it to third parties and otherwise conducting an investigation in Nevada through which the FTB and defendants revealed to third parties personal and confidential information, which plaintiff had every right to expect would not be revealed to such parties.

Such conduct by the FTB and defendants did in fact harass, annoy, vex and embarrass Hyatt, and syphon his time and energies from the productive work in which he is engaged.

- 37. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and therefore alleges, that the FTB and defendants through their investigative actions, and in particular the manner in which they were carried out in Nevada, intentionally intruded into the solitude and seclusion which plaintiff had specifically sought by moving to Nevada. The intrusion by the FTB and defendants was such that any reasonable person, including plaintiff, would find highly offensive.

Plaintiff had a reasonable expectation that said information would be kept confidential and not revealed to third parties and the FTB and defendants knew and understood that said information was to be kept confidential and not revealed to third parties.

MUTCHISCH & RTEFFEN 130 6. POLIET BYREET 1702] JSD-2560 FOR (FOR. PARTISCED April of 1992, was, and continues to be, extreme, oppressive and outrageous conduct. The FTB has, in every sense, sought to hold plaintiff hostage in California, disdaining and abandoning all reason in its reprehensible, all-out effort to extort significant amounts of plaintiff's income without a basis in law or fact. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and therefore alleges, that the FTB and defendants carried out their investigation in Nevada for the ostensible purpose of seaking fruth concerning his place of residency, but the true purpose of which was to so harass, annoy, embatrass, and intimidate plaintiff, and to cause him such severe emotional distress and worry as to coerce him into paying significant sums to the FTB irrespective of his demonstrably bona fide residence in Nevada throughout the disputed periods. As a result of such extremely outrageous and oppressive conduct on the part of the FTB and defendants, plaintiff has indeed suffered fear, grief, humiliation, embarrassment, anger, and a strong sense of outrage that any honest and reasonably sensitive person would feel if subjected to equivalent unrelenting, outrageous personal threats and insults by such powerful and determined adversaries.

- 52. As a direct, proximate, and foreseeable result of the FTB and defendants' aforementioned extreme, unrelenting, and outrageous conduct, plaintiff has suffered actual and consequential damages in a total amount in excess of $10,000.

Plaintiff is therefore entitled to an award of exemplary or punitive damages in an amount sufficient to satisfy the purposes for which such damages are awarded.

WHEREFORE, plaintiff respectfully prays for judgment against the FTB and defendants as follows:

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

- 1. For judgment declaring and confirming that plaintiff is a bona fide resident of the State of Nevada effective as of September 26, 1991 to the present;
- For judgment declaring that the FTB has no lawful basis for continuing to investigate plaintiff in Nevada concerning his residency between September 26, 1991 through December 31.

FRANCHISE TAX BOARD OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, and DOES 1-100, inclusive

FTB'S OFFER OF JUDGMENT

Defendants.

Hearing Date: Hearing Time:

TO: Plaintiff Gilbert P. Hyatt and his attorneys of record:

Pursuant to Rule 68 of the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure and Nevada Revised Statute 17.115, defendant Franchise Tax Board of the State of California ("FTB") offers to allow judgment to be taken against it and in favor of plaintiff Gilbert P. Hyatt ("Hyatt") in the amount of One Hundred Ten Thousand Dollars ($110,000) inclusive of all pre-offer, prejudgment interest, taxable costs and attorneys fees. This Offer of Judgment is for the amount of One Hundred Ten Thousand Dollars ($110,000) only. No amount in excess of this One Hundred Ten Thousand Dollars ($110,000) is being offered. This inclusive amount is expressly intended to preclude a separate award of costs, fees, interest or any other form of compensation. This Offer of Judgment shall apply to all claims asserted by Hyatt against FTB in the above referenced action and if accepted, shall completely resolve this matter.

This Offer of Judgment is made for the purposes specified in NRCP 68 and Nevada Revised Statute 17.115, is expressly designated a compromise settlement, and it is not to be construed as an admission of any kind whatsoever in any administrative proceeding or court of law in any forum or jurisdiction, including Nevada and California. If this Offer of Judgment is acceptable, Hyatt should send the original of his written acceptance to FTB attorneys at the address listed below. If this Offer of Judgment is accepted, FTB intends to pay the amount of the offer within a reasonable time and exercise its option to obtain a dismissal of this action rather than a judgment. See NRCP 68(d) and NRS 17.115(2)(a)((1).

Case No.: 98A382999

Dept. No.: Χ

DECLARATION OF PAT LUNDVALL IN SUPPORT OF FTB's MOTION FOR ATTORNEY'S FEES PURSUANT TO NRCP 68

I, Pat Lundvall, state as follows:

Defendants.

- 1. I am an attorney in the law firm of McDonald Carano LLP ("McDonald Carano"), counsel of record for Defendant Franchise Tax Board of the State of California ("FTB") in Case No. 98A382999 against Plaintiff Gilbert Hyatt ("Hyatt"). I've had ownership interest in McDonald Carano since 1996.
- 2. I am over the age of 18 years. I submit this declaration in compliance with NRCP 54(d) and in support of FTB's Motion for Attorney's Fees. The declaration is based upon my own person knowledge unless otherwise stated. The information contained within and in any subsequent disclosure of invoices that McDonald Carano sent to FTB for payment in this case are not intended to waive the attorney-client or work product privileges, nor should they be construed to waive those privileges.
- At trial in this matter, FTB was defended by James Bradshaw, myself, and Carla Higginbotham.

I have been practicing law in Nevada since 1989. I have been an attorney

- 5. James Bradshaw joined McDonald Carano in 1982, and he was admitted to the State Bars of Nevada and California during work on this case. Bradshaw is a fifth-generation Nevadan and served for more than 24 years in the United States Air Force and the Nevada Air National Guard. He served a judicial clerkship in Nevada state court, served on the Nevada State Bar Board of Governors for two decades, and founded McDonald Carano's Las Vegas office, where he was managing partner until 1992. Bradshaw represented business clients in Nevada and California's state and federal courts and in front of their government agencies. A copy of his professional biography is attached as Exhibit 2.
- 6. Higginbotham is currently a United States Magistrate Judge for the United States District Court of Nevada. She joined the Nevada Bar in 2003 and worked as a judicial law clerk for The Honorable Procter R. Hug, Jr. in the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. After her clerkship ended, McDonald Carano hired Higginbotham in 2005 as an associate attorney. In this position, Higginbotham was assigned to help defend FTB at trial and in the appellate process thereafter. She left McDonald Carano in 2010 to become an Assistant United States Attorney before being appointed as a Federal Magistrate Judge in 2018. During this time, Higginbotham had experience in all levels of federal and Nevada courts. She was also rated by the Nevada Business Journal and Super Lawyers. A copy of her professional biography is attached as Exhibit 3.
- 7. After trial, along with myself and Bradshaw, FTB was also defended by additional attorneys with dedicated experience in appellate matters. In the Nevada Supreme Court, FTB was represented by Robert Eisenberg of Lemons, Grundy, &

Eisenberg and Debbie Leonard of McDonald Carano.

- 8. The biographies of Eisenberg and Leonard are attached as Exhibits 4 and 5.
- 9. Eisenberg joined the Nevada Bar in 1979 when he began working for the Nevada Supreme Court's central legal staff. In 1985, he joined his present firm and now practices entirely in Nevada civil appeals. During this time, Eisenberg has served as a Nevada Supreme Court settlement judge and on several professional committees, including the Nevada Supreme Court bench bar committee and the Nevada Appellate Advocacy Handbook committee.
- 10. Leonard was a partner at McDonald Carano with substantial experience in appellate matters who also served as a Nevada Supreme Court settlement judge. Leonard joined the Nevada Bar in 2002 and the California Bar in 2003 and she was rated by Martindale Hubbell, Nevada Business Magazine, and Super Lawyers.
- 11. In front of the Supreme Court of the United States, FTB was defended by the above individuals and national counsel, including Paul Clement and Seth Waxman.
 - 12. The biographies of Clement and Waxman are attached as Exhibits 6 and 7.
- 13. Clement was the 43rd Solicitor General of the United States from June 2005 to June 2008 and has argued over 100 cases in front of the Supreme Court of the United States. His practice focuses on high stakes cases in appellate matters, constitutional litigation, and strategic counseling regarding all levels of federal appeals courts. Clement clerked for the late Antonin Scalia in the Supreme Court of the United States before becoming chief counsel of the United States Senate Subcommittee on the Constitution, Federalism, and Property Rights.
- 14. Waxman was the 41st Solicitor General of the United States from November 1997 to January 2001. He has argued over 85 cases in the Supreme Court of the United States and has substantial experience in other federal and state trial and appellate courts. In 2014, Super Lawyers named him the number one lawyer in Washington, D.C., and in 2016, the American Lawyer named him Litigator of the Year.

15.	In addition, at both the trial and appellate level, FTB was defended by various attorneys as	ssisting Bradshaw, Lundvall, Higginbotham, Eisenberg, Leonard, Clement, and Waxman in	support capacities. These attorneys are too numerous to address individually in this declar	ration, but each had substantial experience and credentials in complex litigation matters. Th	is experience is why the lead attorneys assigned these attorneys tasks on this case.

- 16. In the Motion, FTB advocates for a bifurcated approach where the Court first determines Hyatt's liability to pay FTB's attorney's fees and costs (if necessary) under NRCP 68, before then conducting analysis under Brunzell v. Golden Gate National Bank to determine the amount of fees that FTB should be awarded.
- 17. Accordingly, I will provide billing invoices and supporting documentation during this second phase or at such time as the Court requests them. Nevertheless, in an abundance of caution, the Motion also discusses several of the Brunzell factors for the Court's edification.
- 18. As such, I will discuss my firm's general staffing and billing practices during this case.
- 19. I am generally familiar with the billing rates for attorneys in the Las Vegas legal market. I believe the hourly rates charged to FTB in this matter are fair and reasonable for professional services by litigation attorneys with similar levels of experience and expertise within the Las Vegas market.
- 20. Additionally, I am generally familiar with the billing rates for attorneys that practice in front of the Supreme Court of the United States. I believe the hourly rates charged to FTB in this matter are fair and reasonable for professional services by appellate attorneys with similar levels of experience and expertise within that highly specialized market.
- 21. All the work performed in this case was necessary to obtain the result reflected in this Court's Judgment dated February 21, 2020. This was a heavily litigated case through trial and multiple appeals. Hyatt litigated every issue and left no stone unturned during discovery. FTB's counsel performed research, factual investigation, and drafted the necessary briefs on FTB's behalf. All the work done was consistent with civil litigation practice in Las Vegas, Nevada in similar cases.

- 22. The case was complex, involving a substantial number of witnesses, a multimonth trial, robust dispositive motion practice, several appeals in state and federal courts, and two decades of litigation.
 - 23. The trial included 58 witnesses and over 2789 exhibits.
- 24. Additionally, as correctly described by the Supreme Court of the United States, the case had far reaching implications for the constitutional sovereignty of States. If FTB lost, it would have been haled into Nevada courts by other taxpayers and indeed into courts of other states as well. This is one reason why multiple amici briefs were filed in the Supreme Court of the United States, including one by 45 states (including Nevada) supporting FTB and the Multistate Tax Commission.
- 25. Regarding the foregoing work, each timekeeper's work was billed on an hourly basis and reflected on each attorney's time sheets, which were required to be made at or around the time of the activity reflected thereon, and to accurately reflect the amount of time expended on the activities done on FTB's behalf. The individual time sheets were entered into a billing program in McDonald Carano's computer system. Those entries were then prepared in a format that constituted a draft of the monthly bill, with time converted to dollar amounts. Each attorney and I reviewed the draft bills for accuracy.
- 26. I am the billing attorney for this case and would review a draft bill before it was sent to the client, but after each timekeeper had already reviewed a draft of their own time spent. If I, as the billing attorney, believed that a write down was appropriate, then the client was given a discount which was never reflected on their invoice. I made such write downs to my time and other billing professionals throughout the litigation. This procedure has proven trustworthy and to render accurate and timely billing statements.
- 27. There was no contingency associated with this firm's retention in this case. FTB did not impose any specific time limits, but in accord with all work by this firm for FTB

 - 32. Hyatt rejected this Offer and chose to proceed to trial.
- 33. Attached as Exhibit E to the Motion is a true and correct copy of a Pacer Case Locator Report reflecting the various lawsuits that Hyatt has filed in federal courts.
- 34. Attached as Exhibit F to the Motion is a true and correct copy of a Pacer Appellate Locator Report reflecting the various appeals that Hyatt has litigated in federal appellate courts.
- 35. Attached as Exhibit G to the Motion is a true and correct copy of the Supreme Court docket in one such case that Hyatt litigated to the Supreme Court of the United States.
- 36. Attached as Exhibit H to the Motion is a true and correct copy of a brief that FTB filed with the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals detailing Hyatt's lengthy tax proceedings in California. Hyatt maintained these proceedings parallel to the current case. FTB does not seek recovery of any attorney's fees associated with Hyatt's tax proceedings or the federal court litigation.
- 37. Instead, FTB only seeks recovery of its attorney's fees and/or costs incurred in the case pending before this Court.
- 38. After trial and several appeals in this case, the Court entered Judgment in FTB's favor against Hyatt dismissing all claims.
 - Consequently, Hyatt did not obtain a judgment more favorable than FTB's 39.

Offer.

- 40. Accordingly, FTB submits the Motion pursuant to NRCP 54 and seeks recovery of its attorney's fees under NRCP 68 based on Hyatt's failure to beat FTB's Offer.
 - 41. I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed this 13th day of March, 2020.

Paul Clement is a partner in the Washington, D.C., office of Kirkland & Ellis LLP. Paul served as the 43rd Solicitor General of the United States from June 2005 until June 2008. Before his confirmation as Solicitor General, he served as Acting Solicitor General for nearly a year and as Principal Deputy Solicitor General for over three years.

He has argued over 100 cases before the United States Supreme Court, including McConnell v. FEC, Tennessee v. Lane, United States v. Booker, MGM v. Grokster, ABC v. Aereo, Hobby Lobby v. Burwell, Epic Systems Corp. v. Lewis, and Rucho v. Common Cause. Paul has argued more Supreme Court cases since 2000 than any lawyer in or out of government. He has also argued many important cases in the lower courts, including Walker v. Cheney, United States v. Moussaoui, and NFL v. Brady.

Paul's practice focuses on appellate matters, constitutional litigation, and strategic counseling. He represents a broad array of clients in the Supreme Court and in federal and state appellate courts. Last year, for example, he successfully argued Supreme Court cases involving significant issues of energy regulation, religious liberty, state sovereign immunity and labor law, and successfully argued an arbitration appeal to the Second Circuit, a preemption appeal to the Eighth Circuit, a constitutional appeal before the en banc Third Circuit, and secured the reversal of an adverse jury verdict in the Eleventh Circuit.

- United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit
- United States Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit
- United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit
- United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit

- United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit
- United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit
- United States Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit
- United States District Court for the District of Columbia
- United States District Court for the Northern District of Florida

Paul focuses on high-stakes appeals. In recent years, he successfully defended a $1.2 billion jury verdict for clients in a Tenth Circuit case, while securing the reversal of an over $2 billion jury verdict for another client in the Seventh Circuit and the approval of a nearly billion dollar class action settlement in the Third Circuit. He has initiated major administrative law challenges and constitutional litigation against the federal government, such as the airlines' challenge to fee increases and the First Amendment challenge in Allergan v. United States. He also counsels clients on a variety of strategic legal questions, whether arising from pending legislation, government inquiries or ongoing litigation.

He has undertaken substantial pro bono engagements in the Supreme Court, such as twice successfully representing the defendant in Bond v. United States and successfully representing the Omaha Tribe in Nebraska v. Parker, the guardian ad litem in Adoptive Couple v. Baby Girl, and the defendant in Sekhar v. United States.

Following law school, Paul clerked for Judge Laurence H. Silberman of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit and for Associate Justice Antonin Scalia of the U.S. Supreme Court. After his clerkships, he went on to serve as Chief Counsel of the U.S. Senate Subcommittee on the Constitution, Federalism and Property Rights.

Paul is a Distinguished Lecturer in Law at the Georgetown University Law Center, where he has taught in various capacities since 1998. He also serves as a Senior Fellow of the Law Center's Supreme Court Institute.

I. Introduction

On February 24, 2017, the Court "invited [the state parties] to move for judicial notice of documents that may shed light on the administrative and judicial proceedings that have taken place, and the possible reasons for delay, since the time Plaintiff-Appellant Hyatt first contested the California income tax liability at issue in this case." ECF No. 56. In response to that order, Appellees Betty T. Yee, Diane L. Harkey, and Michael Cohen, in their official capacities as members of the California Franchise Tax Board ("FTB"), respectfully request that the Court take judicial notice of the attached documents. This motion is supported in part by the declarations of Robert W. Dunn (found in the record at SER 1-70) and Scott W. DePeel (attached as Exhibit 1).

In submitting these materials, FTB does not intend to suggest that they are necessary for the Court to affirm the judgment below. The basis on which the district court dismissed this action, and the basis on which FTB urges this Court to affirm the dismissal, is that Hyatt's claim is facially barred by the Tax Injunction Act because California has at all times offered him a "plain, speedy, and efficient" remedy for his tax challenges. That remedy is the State's pay-then-protest procedure, Cal. Rev. & Tax Code § 19382, under which Hyatt would be permitted to challenge his tax assessment in state court no more than six months after paying the amount due and submitting a refund claim to the FTB, id. § 19385.

The judicially noticeable materials attached to this motion relate, rather, to the FTB's distinct factual challenge to jurisdiction. As the FTB argued before the district court, the § 19381 remedy that Hyatt pursued would have been "plain, speedy, and efficient" had Hyatt not caused years' worth of delays. See FTB Br. 10 n.4. The district court did not rule on that challenge, as it resolved this case on the distinct basis that the § 19382 procedure available to Hyatt was, and remains, a plain, speedy, and efficient remedy. Given the district court's disposition of this case, FTB has not relied in this Court on the § 19381 process, but FTB presented that argument below and files this request for judicial notice to further elaborate on the delays for which Hyatt bears substantial responsibility. FTB notes that after many delays at Hyatt's request, Hyatt's appeal hearing before the California Board of Equalization ("SBE") is currently scheduled for May 23-25, 2017. Ex. 1, DePeel Decl. ¶6; 12RJN2301-2304.

II. Argument

A. Legal Standard

The Court "may judicially notice a fact that is not subject to reasonable dispute because it ... can be accurately and readily determined from sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned." Fed. R. Evid. 201(b). Judicial notice may be taken at any stage of the proceeding, Fed. R. Evid. 201(d), including by an appellate court during the pendency of an appeal, e.g., In re Icenhower, 755 F.3d 1130, 1142 (9th Cir. 2014). Judicial notice may be taken of matters of record in administrative agencies or court proceedings. E.g., Small v. Avanti Health Sys., LLC, 661 F.3d 1180, 1186 (9th Cir. 2011); Transmission Agency of N. Calif. v. Sierra Pac. Power Co., 295 F.3d 918, 924 n.3 (9th Cir. 2002).

B. Numerous Judicially Noticeable Documents Show That Hyatt Bears A Substantial Share Of Responsibility For Delays

Attached to this motion are court and administrative filings that support FTB's assertions in its brief and at oral argument that Hyatt bears a substantial share of responsibility for delays in the administrative proceedings. Further evidence to that effect, and a brief narrative description of those proceedings, may be found in the declaration of Robert W. Dunn and the exhibits attached thereto. (SER 1-70).

As documents that were submitted in proceedings before the SBE; the courts of Nevada, California, and New York; and the United States Supreme Court, the exhibits to the Dunn Declaration and the other documents referenced in that declaration and attached to this motion are judicially noticeable matters of public record. The documents that are not court or administrative filings were submitted as evidence in either the Nevada jury trial or the SBE proceedings. Ex. 1, DePeel Decl. ¶5. Additionally, several judicial decisions address Hyatt's attempts to resist the FTB's statutorily mandated investigation during the protest proceedings. E.g., Hyatt v. State Franchise Tax Bd., 105 A.D.3d 186, 206 (N.Y. App. Div. 2013), aff'g 33 Misc. 3d 500 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 2011); State Franchise Tax Bd. v. Hyatt, No. C043627, 2003 WL 23100266 (Cal. Ct. App. Dec. 31, 2003)). 3RJN476-500; 7RJN1234-1246; 8RJN1491-1507. Tables that identify each of the proceedings follow below.

FTB has attempted to cull judicially noticeable documents that specifically shed light on the issue of delay from more than 20 years of administrative and judicial proceedings. Many of these documents were filed in multiple proceedings. Ex. 1, DePeel Decl. ¶5. Where possible, FTB has omitted voluminous exhibits to certain documents but can provide those to the Court if requested. Ex. 1, DePeel Decl. ¶5. Because of the complex procedural history of Hyatt's challenges to FTB's investigation and tax assessments, in multiple forums, FTB's description of these proceedings is not intended to be comprehensive. Rather, FTB simply seeks to inform the Court of the nature of each proceeding to guide its review of the judicially noticeable documents.

FTB has organized the attached documents into the following categories and has included a chronological index that identifies the paragraph of the Dunn declaration that references the document and, through reference to one or more category numbers, the proceeding or proceedings in which each document was filed or submitted.

Category 1: FTB's Tax Audit Of Hyatt

In June 1993, FTB began an audit of Hyatt's 1989, 1990 and 1991 tax returns. Dunn Decl. ¶10, SER 3; 1RJN1-5. Through the 24 months that followed, FTB's auditors corresponded with Hyatt's representatives and conducted their audit investigation. Dunn Decl. ¶¶10-11, SER 3-4; 1RJN6-48. FTB issued a detailed tentative determination letter in July 1995, concluding that Hyatt remained a California resident through April 2, 1992 and that his 1991 California return was fraudulent. Dunn Decl. ¶12, SER 4; 1RJN21-62.

FTB gave Hyatt the opportunity to respond to the tentative audit conclusions, answer unanswered questions, and provide documents to support his position. Dunn Decl. ¶12, SER 4; 1RJN48. After Hyatt's representatives and FTB corresponded through 1995 and into 1996 regarding the tentative audit conclusions, on April 23, 1996, FTB issued a Notice of Proposed Assessment ("NPA") for the 1991 tax year. Dunn Decl. ¶12, SER 4; 1RJN63-74. FTB issued an NPA for the 1992 tax year on August 14, 1997. Dunn Decl. ¶13, SER 4; 1RJN137-141.

Category 2: Hyatt's Protest Proceedings Before FTB

Hyatt protested the 1991 NPA in June 1996 and the 1992 NPA in October 1997. Dunn Decl. ¶14, SER 4; 1RJN75-136, 142-144. When Hyatt filed suit in Nevada (described below), the FTB lawyer designated as the protest hearing officer assigned to review Hyatt's protest was assigned to the Nevada litigation. Dunn Decl. ¶14, SER 4; 1RJN145-166. Hyatt sought numerous extensions to respond to FTB's comprehensive Information and Document Request ("IDR") and failed to voluntarily provide FTB with documents that FTB requested, even where Hyatt used those documents to benefit his Nevada litigation. Dunn Decl. ¶¶14-17, SER 4-5; 2RJN258-262, 275-305, 320-322; 3RJN325-425; 4RJN518-521.

During the course of the protest, the Nevada district court issued a protective order that placed limitations on FTB's administrative subpoena process. Dunn Decl. ¶¶16-18, SER 5-6; 2RJN263-274, 316-319. Hyatt designated as "confidential" documents that were relevant to the protest proceedings in order to keep them within the scope of the Nevada protective order. Dunn Decl. ¶¶16-18, SER 5-6; 2RJN263-274, 316-319; 3RJN465-466. Through writ petitions and appeals to the Nevada Supreme Court, FTB challenged the Nevada district court's jurisdiction over FTB and its authority to issue the protective order. Dunn Decl. ¶¶17, 20, SER 5-6; 2RJN306-315, 323-324; 3RJN426-434, 438-464. In mid-2002 the Nevada Supreme Court let the protective order stand. Dunn Decl. ¶¶7, SER 5; 3RJN448-450. FTB followed the procedures set forth in the protective order and asked Hyatt to release to the protest hearing officer the information he designated as "confidential" for consideration in the California tax matter. Hyatt refused. Dunn Decl. ¶17-18, SER 5-6; 2RJN266-267; 3RJN465-466.

FTB issued an administrative subpoena for the information Hyatt had refused to release. Dunn Decl. ¶17, SER 5; 3RJN467-470. Hyatt moved to quash the subpoena in California Superior Court, lost, and appealed. Dunn Decl. ¶17, SER 5; 3RJN471-500. Hyatt lost the appeal, and FTB's protest hearing officer received the documents in early 2004. Dunn Decl. ¶17, SER 5; 3RJN476-500. The California appellate court held that there was no reason why FTB personnel working on the protest should not have access to evidence produced by Hyatt in his Nevada litigation. Dunn Decl. ¶17, SER 5; 3RJN490-491.

Throughout 2005 and 2006, Hyatt continued to designate documents he produced in the Nevada litigation as "confidential" and subject to the Nevada protective order, so that FTB was forced to engage in the administrative subpoena process. Dunn Decl. ¶¶17-18, SER 5-6; 4RJN605-638. Finally, in mid-2007, the protest hearing officer had received enough information to conclude the protest. Dunn Decl. ¶18, SER 6. In November 2007, FTB issued notices of assessment that upheld the audit assessments and fraud penalties. Dunn Decl. ¶18, SER 6; 4RJN641-690. Hyatt sought a six-month extension to respond. Dunn Decl. ¶19, SER 6, 13; 4RJN691.

Category 3: Nevada Court Proceedings

In January 1998, shortly after filing his administrative protests with FTB, Hyatt filed suit in Nevada state court, alleging that FTB's audit was tortious and seeking a declaratory judgment that, under California law, Hyatt was a Nevada resident during the pertinent time period. Dunn Decl. ¶14, SER 4; 1RJN145-166; 2RJN167-257. FTB filed multiple petitions for writ of mandamus and prohibition and appeals to the Nevada Supreme Court that challenged the Nevada court's jurisdiction over FTB; the protective order issued by the district court that placed limitations on FTB's protest and administrative subpoena process; and, ultimately, the jury verdict. Dunn Decl. ¶17-18, SER 5-6; 2RJN306-315, 323-324; 3RJN426-434, 438-464; 4RJN727-730.

Category 4: United States Supreme Court Proceedings

Twice, FTB sought review by the United States Supreme Court, arguing that the Nevada courts could not interfere with California's sovereign tax-collecting function. FTB contended that a Nevada court had no jurisdiction to hear Hyatt's challenge to FTB's tax assessment, could not issue a protective order that altered FTB's investigative and administrative subpoena powers, and had to afford FTB the same protections that the Nevada courts would grant Nevada's administrative agencies. Twice, the Supreme Court granted the petitions. Franchise Tax Bd. of Calif. v. Hyatt (Hyatt I), 538 U.S. 488 (2003); Franchise Tax Bd. of Calif. v. Hyatt (Hyatt II), 136 S.Ct. 1277 (2016).

Category 5: California State Court Proceedings

Because of the Nevada protective order, FTB's litigation counsel possessed documents that were relevant to Hyatt's protest but that FTB's litigation counsel could not provide to FTB's protest hearing officer. Dunn Decl. ¶16-18, SER 5-6; 2RJN266-267, 316-319. The documents were housed in FTB's Sacramento office down the hall from the protest hearing officer, but the Nevada protective order barred FTB's protest hearing officer from reviewing them unless Hyatt consented or, in the absence of such consent, FTB issued an administrative subpoena. Dunn Decl. ¶16-18, SER 5-6; 2RJN266-267, 316-319; 3RJN465; 4RJN607. After Hyatt would not allow FTB's Nevada litigation counsel to provide the protest hearing officer with documents that Hyatt produced in discovery but stamped "confidential" and subject to the protective order, FTB issued an administrative subpoena for the documents. Dunn Decl. ¶16-18, SER 5-6; 3RJN465-470.

Hyatt challenged the subpoena in California Superior Court. Dunn Decl. ¶17, SER 5; 3RJN471-475. The Superior Court ordered Hyatt to comply with five of six requests. California Franchise Tax Bd. v. Hyatt, Case No. 02CS01582, California Superior Court, County of Sacramento. 3RJN471-472. Hyatt appealed, and the California Court of Appeal affirmed. State Franchise Tax Board v. Gilbert P. Hyatt, Case No. C043627 (Cal. Ct. App. December 31, 2003). Dunn Decl. ¶17, SER 5; 3RJN476-500. FTB subsequently had to issue another administrative subpoena to Hyatt, in 2006, to obtain all the documents necessary for the protest hearing officer to conduct her statutorily mandated review. Dunn Decl. ¶¶17-18, SER 5-6; 4RJN605-640.

Category 6: Hyatt's State Board of Equalization Appeal

Hyatt appealed FTB's notices of assessment to SBE in January 2008. Dunn Decl. ¶22, SER 7; 4RJN699-724. Hyatt filed voluminous briefs and supplemental briefs, and added over two hundred new affidavits and declarations that he had not submitted to FTB during its investigation. Dunn Decl. ¶23-25, SER 7-8; 5RJN730-924; 7RJN1181-1403; 8RJN1466-1570; 9RJN1571-1683; 11RJN2019-2236; 12RJN2237-2278. FTB sought depositions and documents from some of Hyatt's new witnesses; Hyatt responded by seeking to quash FTB's subpoenas in the courts of California, Nevada and New York. Dunn Decl. ¶26-29, SER 8-9; 5RJN929-953; 6RJN954-975; 7RJN1404-1413; 8RJN1427-1570; 9RJN1571-1687, 1689-1705, 1727-1758, 10RJN1850-2000, 2004-2016. Hyatt sought numerous extensions of briefing deadlines and the hearing. Dunn Decl. ¶30, SER 9; 4RJN725-729; 6RJN1162-1180; 9RJN1762-1775, 1779-1780; 10RJN1781-1782, 1848-49, 2001-2003, 2017-2018; 12RJN2279-2282, 2298-2300. Hyatt's appeal hearing before SBE is currently scheduled for May 23, 2017. 12RJN2301-2304.

Category 7: New York State Court Proceedings

Because Hyatt appended multiple new affidavits to his voluminous briefing before SBE, in 2011, FTB issued administrative subpoenas to obtain documents from and depose certain witnesses in New York who were identified in some of Hyatt's new affidavits. Dunn Decl. ¶26, SER 9; 8RJN1427-1429. Hyatt filed a motion to quash the subpoenas in the Supreme Court of New York, Westchester County (Case No. 52961/2011) and then appealed the trial court's decision to the Appellate Division. Dunn Decl. ¶26-29, SER 7-9; 8RJN1427-1465; 9RJN1689-1705, 1731-1758; 10RJN1850-2000, 2004-2016. The New York proceedings lasted until September 2015. Dunn Decl. ¶28, SER 9; 10RJN2004-2016.

III. Conclusion

As stated at the outset, the key issue on appeal is whether California's paythen-protest procedure, Cal. Rev. & Tax Code § 19382, affords Hyatt a plain, speedy, and efficient remedy for his claims. The materials attached to this motion relate not to that issue, but to whether § 19381 has afforded Hyatt a plain, speedy, and efficient remedy—an issue the district court did not find it necessary to reach. For the assistance of the Court, however, Appellees respectfully submit that the Court may take judicial notice of the attached documents.

Respectfully submitted,

I. Introduction

In his opposition to FTB's Motion for Judicial Notice, Hyatt does not dispute that the judicially noticeable documents submitted by FTB show that Hyatt sought delay during the administrative proceedings before FTB and SBE. Nor does Hyatt dispute that the documents submitted by FTB are true and accurate copies of documents in the public record. Instead, Hyatt asks the Court to take judicial notice of trial testimony and other documents because, according to Hyatt, there is a "disputed factual question of delay." ECF #64 at 2.

Hyatt misses the point. FTB's judicially noticeable documents depict Hyatt's activities in multiple administrative and judicial proceedings to obstruct or delay the proceedings. While Hyatt might contend that FTB and SBE also contributed to delay, he does not dispute his own contributions, which as a matter of law, cause his constitutional claims to fail even under FTB's factual challenge to jurisdiction, which the district court did not resolve and which is not before this Court. At any rate, any factual dispute as to who was responsible for delays in the administrative proceedings is irrelevant to FTB's facial challenge to jurisdiction, which was the basis for the district court's dismissal of this action and which should be the basis for this Court's affirmance.

II. Argument

A. Hyatt's Opposition Underscores That The District Court's Dismissal Under The Tax Injunction Act Should Be Affirmed

Contrary to Hyatt's contention (ECF #65 at 1), the issue of delay is not "inextricably intertwined" with the Tax Injunction Act analysis because, at all times, Hyatt could have availed himself of California's pay-then-sue method afforded by Revenue and Tax Code section 19382. Under section 19385, that process would have afforded Hyatt an absolute right to proceed to court no later than six months after filing a refund claim with FTB. "It has consistently been held, without a single instance of deviation, that the refund action provided by California Personal Income Tax Law is a 'plain, speedy and efficient remedy' such as to invoke the restraints of 28 U.S.C. § 1341." Aronoff v. Franchise Tax Bd. of Cal., 348 F.2d 9, 11 (9th Cir. 1965); see also Franchise Tax Bd. of Cal. v. Alcan Aluminum Ltd., 493 U.S. 331, 338-39 (1990) ("California's refund procedures constitute a plain, speedy, and efficient remedy."); Jerron West, Inc. v. State Bd. of Equalization, 129 F.3d 1334, 1339 (9th Cir. 1997) ("[b]ased on a plain reading of the [TIA], the district court does not have jurisdiction over the Taxpayers' action if it seeks district court interference with California's tax assessment and collection process.").

For that reason, while the judicially noticeable documents shed light on Hyatt's substantial role in causing the delay in his administrative proceedings—and thus on FTB's factual challenge to jurisdiction— the availability of the plain, speedy and efficient remedy that section 19382 affords renders the question of delay irrelevant to FTB's facial challenge to jurisdiction, which is the one before this Court. At any time, Hyatt could have paid the tax and been able to access California state court to challenge the tax within six months. The fact that Hyatt chose not to pay the assessed taxes (and thereby, in the interim, invest or otherwise benefit from his use of the money he owed to California) does not give him the right to access the federal courts to challenge the state's tax collecting function. Whether or not the Court takes judicial notice of the documents that show Hyatt's role in the delay, therefore, it should affirm the district court's dismissal on jurisdictional grounds.

B. Hyatt Does Not Dispute That Numerous Judicially Noticeable Documents Show That Hyatt Bears A Substantial Share Of Responsibility For Delays

Whether or not Hyatt is correct that the overall cause of delay in the FTB proceedings could reasonably be disputed (ECF #65 at 2), Hyatt does not actually dispute that the documents of which FTB seeks judicial notice satisfy the standard set forth in Fed. R. Evid. 201(b). For example, Hyatt does not contest that:

1. Hyatt designated as "confidential" and subject to the Nevada Protective Order documents he produced in the Nevada litigation such that, absent Hyatt's consent, FTB's protest hearing officer had to go through the administrative subpoena process in order to get those documents. Hyatt did not voluntarily produce these documents to FTB's protest hearing officer, even though those documents had already been gathered in the Nevada litigation. 2RJN263-274; 3RJN465-500; 4RJN605-618.

- 2. Hyatt's attorney admitted there were "no 'pure' tax reasons" to move to quash FTB's administrative subpoenas issued during the protest but "there may be tactical reasons to do so (such as making the FTB work for its requests for now on or taking this opportunity to file the motion in the Nevada courts or otherwise)." 2RJN258.
- 3. Hyatt mounted unsuccessful legal challenges to FTB's administrative subpoenas and then ultimately Hyatt and third parties whom Hyatt sought to prevent from producing documents were compelled by court order to produce the documents sought by FTB. 3RJN465-500; 7RJN1411-1413; 8RJN1427-1465; 9RJN1684-1687, 1689-1705, 1727-1758; 10RJN2004-2016.
- 4. Hyatt sought numerous extensions of time in the administrative proceedings to respond to document requests and submit briefs. 4RJN725-729; 6RJN1161-1180; 9RJN1768-1780; 10RJN2001-2003; 11RJN2001-2003, 2017-2018.

 The hearing on Hyatt's appeals to SBE is scheduled for May 23-25, 2017 after Hyatt requested a continuance from the March 2017 hearing date originally set. 12RJN2300-2304.

Given that Hyatt's opposition presented no "reasonable dispute" as to these facts, they are appropriate for judicial notice. See Fed. R. Evid. 201(b). And because Hyatt does not dispute these facts, the Court is not taking on the role of "fact finder" by exercising its power of judicial notice. Rather, it may simply take judicial notice of the documents that show Hyatt's role in causing the delay.¹

C. Hyatt Has No Right To Proceed Beyond The Pleadings Stage Where The Judicially Noticeable Documents Contradict His Allegations

Unable to dispute the documents in the public record, Hyatt falls back on the allegations in his complaint to argue that a remand is warranted for judicial fact finding. (ECF #65 at 6). However, a court need not accept as true allegations in a complaint that are contradicted by facts that may be judicially noticed. See Von Saher v. Norton Simon Museum of Art at Pasedena, 592 F.3d 954, 960 (9th Cir. 2010) (taking judicial notice in the context of reviewing order granting Fed. R.

Hyatt's contention that a factual dispute exists regarding delay simply regurgitates what he argued in his answering brief to the Nevada Supreme Court. See Hyatt Ex. 2. To the extent the Court would like to review FTB's counter position, FTB supplements its motion for judicial notice to include the opening and reply briefs that FTB filed in the Nevada appeal. 13RJN2305-2448; 14RJN2449-2634.

Civ. P. 12(b)(6) motion). "A court may take judicial notice of matters of public record without converting a motion to dismiss into a motion for summary judgment, as long as the facts noticed are not subject to reasonable dispute." Intri-Plex Techs., Inc. v. Crest Grp., Inc., 499 F.3d 1048, 1052 (9th Cir. 2007) (internal quotations omitted). Because the judicially noticeable documents submitted by FTB contradict the allegations in Hyatt's complaint, Hyatt has no right to proceed past the pleadings.

D. Hyatt's Role In Causing Delay Bars His Due Process Claims

Hyatt admits that the documents of which he separately seeks judicial notice, at a minimum, lay some responsibility for delay at his feet. ECF #65 at 9. Where a person who claims a due process violation as a result of delay in an administrative proceeding is partially responsible for the delay or fails to avail himself of procedural remedies that could have expedited the process, no due process claim can lie. See Sullivan v. Houston Indep. Sch. Dist., 475 F.2d 1071, 1078 (5th Cir. 1973) (in the context of a due process challenge to a delay in holding a post-deprivation hearing, declining to find due process violation "considering [the plaintiff's] part in the delay"); Irish v. Sec. & Exch. Comm'n, 367 F.2d 637, 639 (9th Cir. 1966) (finding no due process violation for delay in administrative proceedings where petitioner failed to avail himself of remedies that could have expedited review); Badgett v. District of Columbia, 925 F.Supp.2d 23, 32 (D.C.

2013) (granting a motion to dismiss a procedural due process claim because "no ... constitutional violation occurs" where a "plaintiff fails to take advantage of" "procedural safeguards that exist to obviate prejudice from delay" in an administrative proceeding). In light of these authorities, Hyatt's admission that he played a part in the delay bars his claims.

E. Witness Testimony Is Not A Proper Subject Of Judicial Notice

Without disputing the facts in FTB's judicially noticeable documents that show his role in the delay, Hyatt asks the Court to separately take judicial notice of witness testimony from the Nevada litigation that, according to Hyatt, shows delay by FTB. A court cannot take judicial notice of testimony from a previous judicial proceeding if it "constitutes 'adjudicative facts'" that "are in 'reasonable dispute." United States v. Decker, 600 F.2d 733, 738 n.9 (9th Cir. 1979) (quoting Fed. R. Evid. 201). Because the testimony of which Hyatt seeks judicial notice consists of opinions that are "not 'generally known' or 'capable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned," judicial notice is prohibited. Id., quoting Fed. R. Evid. 201. As a result, the Court should decline to take judicial notice of the trial testimony offered by Hyatt.

F. Having Been Vacated By The Supreme Court, The Nevada Judgment Has No Preclusive Effect

Finally, faced with the voluminous documents that show his efforts to obstruct and delay the administrative proceedings, Hyatt resorts to a baseless contention that the now-vacated Nevada Supreme Court opinion has preclusive effect on this proceeding as to the issue of delay. ECF #65 at 6 n.2, 8-9. Hyatt is wrong. The Nevada Supreme Court opinion to which Hyatt points, Franchise Tax Bd. of Calif. v. Hyatt, 335 P.3d 125 (Nev. 2014) ("2014 Opinion"), has been vacated as unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States because it was based on "a special rule of Nevada law that is hostile to its sister States." Franchise Tax Bd. of Calif. v. Hyatt ("Hyatt II"), 136 S.Ct. 1277, 1283 (2016). The law is clear that the Supreme Court's vacatur of a lower court's judgment "deprives that court's opinion of precedential effect, leaving th[e Supreme] Court's opinion and judgment as the sole law of the case." O'Connor v. Donaldson, 422 U.S. 563, 577 n.12 (1975); see also Durning v. Citibank, N.A., 950 F.2d 1419, 1424 n.2 (9th Cir. 1991) (citing O'Connor for the proposition that "[a] decision may be reversed on other grounds, but a decision that has been vacated has no precedential authority whatsoever" (emphasis in the original)). Contrary to Hyatt's misrepresentation, the Supreme Court vacated (not reversed) the 2014 Opinion. Hyatt II, 136 S.Ct. at 1283. As a result, Hyatt cannot rely on the now-vacated 2014 Opinion to assert preclusive effect regarding the issue of delay.²

Even were this Court to take everything in the Nevada Supreme Court's vacated opinion at face value (which FTB posits it may not do), there is no collateral estoppel effect on this proceeding because the Nevada jury did not render a special verdict that the FTB caused the protest to take as long as it did. Rather, the jury simply found in Hyatt's favor on various claims, and in determining that the evidence was sufficient to support those verdicts, the Nevada Supreme Court pointed out that the eleven-year delay was among the grounds on which the jury could have found FTB liable. 2014 Opinion, 335 P.3d at 148. Delay was not the only potential ground the Nevada Supreme Court listed, so no one actually knows what facts the jury found in support of its ultimate verdict. See id. For this reason as well, Hyatt's collateral estoppel argument must be rejected.

III. Conclusion

Nothing presented in Hyatt's opposition disputes the facts shown in the judicially noticeable documents that Hyatt is substantially responsible for the delay in his administrative proceedings. Hyatt admits he bears some responsibility. Moreover, because Hyatt could at any time have availed himself of California's pay-then-sue procedure, he has at all times had a plain, speedy and efficient remedy to challenge FTB's tax assessment regardless of who bears what proportion of responsibility for the duration of the FTB proceedings. As a result, whether or not the Court takes judicial notice of these documents, FTB respectfully submits that the district court's dismissal order should be affirmed.

Respectfully submitted,
