9:00 a.m. – Court convened with the Court, counsel for the State, and Defendant's prior counsel, Doug Nicholson, Esq., present.

The Court addressed and outlined the procedural history of this case. Further, the Court inquired of counsel Nicholson as to why he did not appear at the July 24, 2019 Motion to Confirm Trial.

Counsel Nicholson addressed the Court on his own behalf and responded he "miscalendared" the date, and contacted Department Seven's chambers via personal appearance the next day. Further, counsel apologized to the Court and advised he is "moving forward". The Court inquired as to the previous contempt sanction imposed against counsel Nicholson for his prior failure to appear.

COURT ORDERED: Counsel Nicholson is ordered to provide the $1,000.00 sanction check to the Court's Bailiff, who will provide the same to Chief Deputy District Attorney Lee, who is seated in the Court's gallery. Further, the Court noted that counsel Nicholson's payment was past due the Thirty (30) days as previously ordered. Counsel Nicholson provided the check to the Court's Bailiff, and responded he has no explanation for providing the late payment, other than he had planned to provide the check to counsel for the State at the next Court hearing.

The Court inquired of counsel Nicholson as to his handling of the Defendant's case.

Counsel Nicholson responded he reached out to Department Seven twice in an effort to meet directly with the Court in Chambers.

The Court recited the history of this case and the several continuances which have occurred. The Court was not inclined to continue trial due to the injustice to the Defendant since he was Further, the Court stated it has read Dr. Danielson's expert report. Counsel Lee stated an opposition to the motion was filed last year. In May 2019, a separate objection regarding the sufficiency of the notice was filed. Further, Counsel Lee stated the motion based on insufficient notice is no longer of consequence.

COURT ORDERED: Motion to Preclude Testimony of Defense Expert Witness Phillip B. Danielson, Ph.D. is MOOT relating ONLY to the insufficient notice.

Counsel Lee argued in opposition to the testimony of Dr. Danielson and as to relevancy.

Counsel Fuss argued in support of Dr. Danielson's testimony, and the importance of having the expert available at trial. Further, counsel Fuss argued the Defendant would be at a disadvantage if he did not have an expert to testify on his behalf and the Plaintiff did have an expert present.

The Court made statements relating to the issues with another continuance in this matter and requested counsel for the Defendant to provide a piece of evidence that cannot be produced through an available witness.

Counsel Fuss replied that the expertise of Dr. Danielson relating to the transference of DNA is imperative and argued in support of the motion to continue trial.

Counsel Lee argued in opposition to the motion to continue trial.

The Court inquired when Dr. Danielson would be available for trial.

Counsel Fuss stated Dr. Danielson is available Friday, February 14, 2020. Further, counsel Fuss stated Dr. Danielson was present for the DNA testing conducted in this matter.

The Court informed respective counsel that a hearing will need to occur regarding to the testimony of Dr. Danielson. Further, the Court requested the phone number for Dr. Danielson so the Court can call Dr. Danielson to inquire as to his availability for trial.

Counsel Fuss stated he does have a phone number, but was unaware of his current availability since he is a professor and teaches during the week.

The Court directed counsel Fuss to call Dr. Danielson and check as to his availability.

COURT ORDERED: Respective counsel are to meet and confer with regard to the testimony of Dr. Danielson and if there are portions, if not in its entirety, of the report, that can be stipulated into evidence for rebuttal.

The Court addressed three issues to be heard in Court today, to include the Defendant's Objection to Notice of Rebuttal Expert Witnesses, filed today by the State.

(Reporter)

Counsel Bertschy, on behalf of the Defendant, addressed the Court and inquired as to what exactly the previous victim can testify to in this case.

Counsel for the State addressed the Court and responded he's not so concerned the victim testify as to the previous jury trial, however, the victim will be present to testify in the State's case-in-chief, and the State will be seeking to include the Defendant's prior conviction. COURT ORDERED: If the previous victim testifies, she can testify as to the facts of the prior conviction, including date and location.

Counsel for the State responded he will more than likely offer the Judgment of Conviction, to which the Court responded language is contained within the Judgment of Conviction that the Defendant was found Guilty by a Jury.

Counsel Bertschy replied and argued in opposition to the Jury knowing the Defendant was previously found Guilty by a Jury, to which the Court responded a limiting instruction can be provided to the Jury.

Counsel Fuss addressed the Court and sought clarification as to objections, which was provided by the Court.

Counsel for the State responded he will work with opposing counsel with regard to redacting the original Judgment of Conviction as to the jury verdict language.

The Court and counsel discussed reference to the Defendant's prior case in opening statements.

The Court next addressed the Motion in Limine as to the Prior Sexual Conduct of the Victim in this case.

Counsel Bertschy responded she expects this testimony to come out through witness Robison, to include sexual conduct by the victim seven days prior to this incident. Further, counsel argued this testimony should be allowed into evidence by the Court, as the SART exam expert will testify injury can occur.

COURT ORDERED: The Court finds there is no relevance with this line of questioning as to the DNA.

Counsel Fuss replied as to the sexual conduct and potential for injury.

COURT ORDERED: Counsel are not to inquire of the victim as to her sexual history, as it is not admissible by statute, however, if it does become admissible, the issue can be revisited.

Counsel Fuss responded as to the other four DNA samples.

COURT ORDERED: The Court finds at this time that the DNA is not related to this case.

Counsel for the State replied he will be meeting with his DNA expert and would like to revisit this topic, if necessary, and further argued the DNA "is what it is", he has no legal objection at this time unless it traverses the rape shield law.

COURT ORDERED: The Court finds other DNA being located is of little probative value.

Counsel Bertschy responded if this becomes an issue, she will request a sidebar.

COURT ORDERED: The parties will be expected to bring up issues in advance, and evidence not addressed by 5:00 p.m. today will be excluded.

Counsel Bertschy responded Debra Robison is present in Court today, should the Court have any questions.

Counsel Fuss addressed the Objection to Notice of Rebuttal Expert Witness, in that, the State did not timely disclosure David Jackson.

Counsel for the State responded and argued he is uncertain as to what Phillip Danielson will say, and Stephen Gresko is unavailable to testify on Friday in rebuttal if necessary.

COURT ORDERED: The Court is troubled by the late disclosure of rebuttal expert David Jackson, as Dr. Gresko should testify.

Counsel for the State responded he will make Dr. Gresko available to testify in rebuttal.

Counsel Bertschy addressed the Court's preference as to jury selection, to include the possibility of speaking privately with potential jurors.

Counsel for the State responded a "case-by-case" method would be preferable.

COURT ORDERED: The Court will revisit this issue next week.

Counsel Fuss inquired as other methods of transcription, including JAVS, or tape-recording testimony.

COURT ORDERED: Tape-recording testimony would set a precedent, and will not be allowed. Further, Department Seven's Courtroom does not have JAVS, and defense counsel is instructed to discuss the transcript process with Department Seven's Court Reporter, and/or have their expert listen to the testimony.

Counsel Bertschy responded she has not received power point presentations from expert(s), to which counsel for the State replied he does not have any.

General trial procedure was discussed between the Court and counsel.

The Court inquired of the Defendant as to process, with the Defendant responding he has no questions.

4:03 p.m. – Court stood in recess.

The Defendant is remanded to the custody of the Sheriff.

The Court responded the Defendant did have contact with the victim and video footage exists proving such fact. Further, the Court stated DNA not collected is of no meaning to the Jury.

Counsel Fuss responded there are four low level sources and likely they are from transfer DNA, which can occur easily.

The Court responded defense counsel will have the opportunity to present evidence through their expert.

Counsel Fuss inquired of the Court if defense can argue the DNA of four men was located on the tights.

Counsel Lee responded there will be testimony a mix of four men's DNA was found on the tights.
