ERRATA TO MOTION TO EXCEED WORD LIMIT FOR ANSWERING BRIEF

Real Party in Interest Jason George Landess a.k.a. Kay George Landess requests leave under NRAP 32(a)(7)(D) to file an answering brief that exceeds the 7,000 word limit in NRAP 21(d).

By way of their Petition for Writ of Mandamus, Petitioners seek to overturn an award of costs entered against them following their injection of race into a civil jury trial that resulted in a mistrial. Petitioners also seek to void the mistrial order itself on procedural grounds without addressing the actual merits of the mistrial in their Petition. In doing so, Petitioners were able to comply with the 7,000-word limit in NRAP 21(d). Real Party in Interest has no such luxury and must address the merits of the District Court's mistrial order, along with a laches argument for Petitioners' nearly one year delay in bringing this Petition.

Petitioners' injection of race into the trial was plain error. Following Judge Rob Bare's declaration of a mistrial, Petitioners sought and successfully obtained his disqualification as trial judge. Even assuming as Petitioners suggest that Judge Bare could not sign the mistrial order following the filing of Petitioners' motion to disqualify, any successor judge appointed to the case following Judge Bare's disqualification had to grant a mistrial. Petitioners' actions resulted in plain error and a mistrial which led to the award of costs against them that they now seek to overturn.

In answering Petitioners' Writ, Real Party in Interest must address the merits of the mistrial that led to the award of costs, along with a laches argument for Petitioners' nearly one year delay in bringing this Petition, since Petitioner's did not do so in their opening brief, thereby necessitating the filing of the instant motion seeking authorization to exceed the word limit found in NRAP 21(d).

DECLARATION OF MARTIN A. LITTLE IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO EXCEED WORD LIMIT FOR ANSWERING BRIEF

STATE OF NEVADA)
COUNTY OF CLARK)

1. I, Martin A. Little, under penalty of perjury, declare that I am a Nevada licensed lawyer with Howard & Howard Attorneys PLLC and that I am counsel for Real Party in Interest Jason George Landess a.k.a. Kay George Landess.

2. Jason George Landess requests leave under NRAP 32(a)(7)(D) to file an answering brief that exceeds the 7,000-word limit in NRAP 21(d).

3. Real Party in Interest's brief contains 13,825 words, responding to a 6,971-word opening brief.

4. By way of their Petition for Writ of Mandamus, Petitioners seek to overturn an award of costs entered against them following their injection of race into a civil jury trial that resulted in a mistrial. Petitioners also seek to void the mistrial order itself on procedural grounds without addressing the actual merits of the mistrial in their Petition. In doing so, Petitioners were able to comply with the 7,000-word limit in NRAP 21(d). Real Party in Interest has no such luxury and must address the merits of the District Court's mistrial order, along with a laches argument for Petitioners' nearly one year delay in bringing this Petition.

5. Petitioners' injection of race into the trial was plain error. Following Judge Rob Bare's declaration of a mistrial, Petitioners sought and successfully obtained his disqualification as trial judge. Even assuming as Petitioners suggest that Judge Bare could not sign the mistrial order following the filing of Petitioners' motion to disqualify, any successor judge appointed to the case following Judge Bare's disqualification had to grant a mistrial. Petitioners' actions resulted in plain error and a mistrial which led to the award of costs against them that they now seek to overturn.

6. In answering Petitioners' Writ, Real Party in Interest must address the merits of the mistrial that led to the award of costs, along with a laches argument for Petitioners' nearly one year delay in bringing this Petition, since Petitioners did not do so in their opening brief.

7. Real Party in Interest exercised diligence and made every effort to address the merits of the mistrial within the limitations of NRAP 21(d). However, the complexity of the issues and the long history of this case provide good cause for, and necessitate the filing of, the instant motion seeking authorization to exceed the 7,000-word limit found in NRAP 21(d).
