

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

ERICH M. MARTIN,
Appellant,
vs.
RAINA L. MARTIN,
Respondent.

ERICH M. MARTIN,
Appellant,
vs.
RAINA L. MARTIN,
Respondent.

No. 81810 FILED

MAR 31 2022

ELIZABETH A. BROWN
CLERK OF SUPREME COURT
S. Young
DEPUTY CLERK

No. 825 ~~PT~~

ORDER

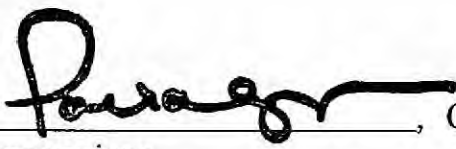

On December 3, 2021, respondent filed a petition for review of the dispositional order entered by the Court of Appeals. See NRAP 40B. This court's review of an appeal, upon granting a petition for review, is de novo. NRAP 40B(g) provides that on grant of a petition for review this court shall review the matter based upon the record and briefs previously filed but permits this court to direct supplemental briefing on any or all issues for review. On February 14, 2022, this court granted respondent's petition for review, directed supplemental briefing on all issues in the appeal, and invited amicus curiae to participate in this matter. On March 21, 2022, appellant filed a brief in which counsel indicated an intent to submit this matter on the opening brief and record previously filed.

The Family Law Section of the State Bar of Nevada and Trinity Advocates have filed motions for an extension of time to file amicus curiae briefs. Cause appearing, the motions are granted in part. Any amicus brief shall be filed within 30 days from the date of this order.

On March 29, 2022, respondent filed a motion requesting permission to file the supplemental answering brief after the amicus curiae briefs have been filed. The motion is granted in part. Respondent shall have 44 days from the date of this order to file the supplemental answering brief. Because appellant did not file a supplemental opening brief, no reply brief is permitted.

It is so ORDERED.

_____, C.J.
Parraguirre

cc: Marquis Aurbach Coffing
Willick Law Group