COMPLAINT

(Arbitration Exemption: Declaratory and Injunctive Relief Sought)

Plaintiffs, by and through their attorneys, ALLISON MacKENZIE, LTD., allege and complain against the above-named Defendants as follows:

PARTIES, JURISDICTION AND VENUE

- 1. Plaintiffs, Senators JAMES SETTELMEYER, JOE HARDY, HEIDI GANSERT. SCOTT HAMMOND, PETE GOICOECHEA, BEN KIECKHEFER, IRA HANSEN, and KEITH PICKARD are and were at all times relevant hereto duly elected members of the Senate of the 80th (2019) Session of the Nevada Legislature performing their duties in accordance with Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution, including Article 4, Section 1 and Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution.
- In the 80th (2019) Session of the Nevada Legislature, each of the Plaintiff Senators 2. voted against Senate Bill 542 ("SB 542") and voted against Senate Bill 551 ("SB 551") and all amendments thereto.
- Each of the Plaintiff Senators identified in Paragraph 1 above is a member of the 3. NEVADA SENATE REPUBLICAN CAUCUS. Collectively, Plaintiff Senators constitute the entire membership of the NEVADA SENATE REPUBLICAN CAUCUS and at all times relevant hereto held enough votes to defeat SB 542 and SB 551 which required a two-thirds vote of the members elected to the Senate to pass pursuant to Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution.
- 4. As a result of the actions alleged in this Complaint, Plaintiff Senators and each of them have been injured in fact because the Defendants (except Defendants, NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION and NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES) acted improperly to nullify Plaintiff Senators' votes against SB 542 and SB 551 and infringe upon and deprive Plaintiff Senators of their power to act. Plaintiff Senators' votes have been adversely affected by said Defendants' actions which directly and materially altered how the votes of individual Senators in the 80th Session of the Nevada Legislature effectively determined legislative action.
- 5. Plaintiff, GREAT BASIN ENGINEERING CONTRACTORS, LLC, is a Nevada limited liability company, duly formed under and qualified to do business pursuant to the laws of the State of Nevada and does conduct its business within the State of Nevada such that it is subject to and does, in fact, pay the Modified Business Tax ("MBT" or "payroll tax"), which is imposed and collected by Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION pursuant to NRS Chapter 363B. Plaintiff GREAT BASIN ENGINEERING CONTRACTORS, LLC is a construction contractor of primarily civil projects.

- 6. Plaintiff, GOODFELLOW CORPORATION, is a Utah corporation duly qualified and authorized to do business in the State of Nevada and does conduct its business within the State of Nevada such that it is subject to and does, in fact, pay the Modified Business Tax ("MBT" or "payroll tax"), which is imposed and collected by Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION pursuant to NRS Chapter 363B. Plaintiff GOODFELLOW CORPORATION distributes and sells rock crushing, construction and mining machinery and related equipment throughout the world and provides all in-house industry services including custom work, fabrication, parts and electrical services.
- 7. Plaintiff, KIMMIE CANDY COMPANY, is a Nevada corporation, duly formed under and qualified to do business pursuant to the laws of the State of Nevada and does conduct its business within the State of Nevada such that it is subject to and does, in fact, pay the Modified Business Tax ("MBT" or "payroll tax"), which is imposed and collected by Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION pursuant to NRS Chapter 363B. Plaintiff Kimmie Candy Company is a state of the art candy making manufacturer located in Reno, Nevada.
- 8. All individually named Plaintiffs are citizens, residents and taxpayers of the State of Nevada and are subject to and do pay the technology fee that is imposed and collected by Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES pursuant to NRS 481.064.
- 9. Defendant, NICOLE CANNIZZARO, is named herein in her official capacity and is and was at all times relevant hereto a duly elected member of the Senate of the 80th (2019) Session of the Nevada Legislature and the Senate Majority Leader during the 80th Session of the Nevada Legislature, whose official duties include signing bills that have been passed by the Senate in conformity with the Nevada Constitution. Defendant, NICOLE CANNIZZARO, was the sponsor of SB 551, and allowed a vote of less than two-thirds of the Senate to approve both SB 542 and SB 551.

- 10. Defendant, KATE MARSHALL, is named in her official capacity and is and was at all time relevant hereto the duly elected Lieutenant Governor of the State of Nevada acting as President of the Senate during the 80th Session of the Nevada Legislature whose official duties include signing bills that have been passed by the Senate in conformity with the Nevada Constitution. Defendant, KATE MARSHALL, deemed SB 542 and SB 551 constitutionally passed with less than a vote of twothirds of the Senate necessary to approve both SB 542 and SB 551 under the Nevada Constitution.
- 11. Defendant, CLAIRE J. CLIFT, is named in her official capacity and is and was at all times relevant hereto the Secretary of the Senate during the 80th Session of the Nevada Legislature whose official responsibilities include transmitting to the Legal Division for enrollment bills passed by the Senate in conformity with the Nevada Constitution. Defendant, CLAIRE J. CLIFT, deemed SB 542 and SB 551 constitutionally passed with less than a vote of two-thirds of the Senate necessary to approve both SB 542 and SB 551 under the Nevada Constitution.
- 12. Defendant, STEVE SISOLAK, is named in his official capacity and is and was at all times relevant hereto the duly elected Governor of the State of Nevada whose official responsibilities include approving and signing bills passed by the Legislature in conformity with the Nevada Constitution and to see that the laws of the State of Nevada are faithfully executed. Defendant, STEVE SISOLAK, approved and signed SB 542 and SB 551 with a vote of less than two-thirds of the Senate into law.
- 13. Defendant, NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION, administers the duly enacted tax statutes of the State of Nevada and collects the payroll tax.
- 14. Defendant, NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES, administers the duly enacted statutes involving the technology fee and collects the technology fee.
- 15. Defendants DOES I-X, inclusive, are not known at this time and are therefore identified by the fictitious designation of DOES I-X. Once the true identities and capacities, whether individual, corporate, associate or otherwise, of Defendants named herein as DOES I-X, inclusive, are known, Plaintiffs will seek leave of this Court to amend this Complaint to insert the true names and capacities of DOES I-X and join said Defendants in this action. Plaintiffs are informed and believe, and thereon allege, that each of the Defendants designated herein as DOE is responsible in some manner for the events and happenings referred to herein.

- 16. This is an action to challenge the substantive constitutionality of SB 542 and SB 551 as well as the constitutionality of the manner in which each such bill was deemed passed into law.
- 17. This action involves an issue of significant public and statewide importance as it seeks to uphold and protect the constitutional amendment proposed by citizen ballot initiative adopted and overwhelmingly approved by Nevada voters in 1994 and 1996. As provided in Article 1, Section 2 of the Nevada Constitution, political power is inherent in the people. Government only has power from the consent of the governed, and the residents and citizens of the State of Nevada twice voted strongly in favor of amending the Nevada Constitution to add the two-thirds requirement, and the two-thirds requirement has, at least prior to 2019, been applied consistently to legislative bills extending sunsets by the Nevada Legislature.
- 18. Each of the Plaintiff Senators are the appropriate parties to bring this action as there is no one else in a better position or who can bring an action to vindicate their votes individually and collectively against SB 542 and SB 551, which votes were sufficient in number to defeat said bills. The Plaintiff Senators are capable of fully advocating their position in Court.
- 19. The Plaintiff business taxpayers paying the payroll tax and the individual Plaintiff citizens, residents and taxpayers paying the technology fee are appropriate parties to litigate this action. Said Plaintiff businesses, citizens, residents, taxpayers and fee payers may have no other means of redress to raise the constitutional challenges to SB 542 and SB 551, said constitutional challenges may not be otherwise raised without their claims for relief set forth in this Complaint, the potential economic impact from SB 551 alone is approximately $98.2 million over the biennium and the economic impact from SB 542 is approximately $7 million per year, and said Plaintiffs can assist the Court in developing and reviewing all relevant legal and factual questions.
- 20. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution which vests the judicial power of the State in a court system including the district courts of the State of Nevada.

- 21. The Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendants pursuant to Nev. Rev. Stat. ("NRS") 14.065 because Defendants are residents of the State of Nevada.
- SB 542 and SB 551 were presented, debated, voted on, signed, and enrolled in Carson City, Nevada. The payroll taxes enacted by SB 551 are collected and remitted to Carson City, Nevada and the technology fees enacted by SB 542 are collected and remitted to Carson City, Nevada.
- The Governor, Lieutenant Governor, members of the Nevada Senate, Secretary of the Senate, Nevada Department of Nevada Taxation and Department of Motor Vehicles have offices in Carson City, Nevada.
- 24. Venue for this action is proper in the First Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada in and for Carson City, Nevada pursuant to NRS 13.020. The present cause of action arises in Carson City and Defendants are public officers or departments whose respective offices are required to be kept in Carson City, Nevada.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

- 25. Plaintiffs repeat and incorporate each of the foregoing paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.
 - 26. The Nevada Constitution, at Article 4, Section 18(2) provides, in pertinent part: [A]n affirmative vote of not fewer than two-thirds of the members elected to each House is necessary to pass a bill or joint resolution which creates, generates, or increases any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates.
 - During the 80th Session of the Nevada Legislature there were seated 21 Senators. 27.
- In order to pass during the 80th Session of the Nevada Legislature, any bill that creates, 28. generates, or increases any public revenue in any form, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates, the vote of at least fourteen Senators was required.
- 29. SB 542 is a bill to extend the imposition of a technology fee on certain transactions by the NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES set to expire on June 30, 2020.
 - 30. SB 542 was introduced in the Senate on May 10, 2019.
- 31. The Senate voted on SB 542 on May 27, 2019 and the vote was 13 in favor and 8 opposed. SB 542 became effective upon passage and approval.

- 32. Less than two-thirds of the Senate voted to pass SB 542.
- 33. SB 542 specifically extended the expiration, or sunset, of NRS 481.064 from June 30, 2020 to June 30, 2022.
- NRS 481.064 provides Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR 34. VEHICLES "shall add a nonrefundable technology fee of $1 to the existing fee for any transaction performed by the Department for which a fee is charged."
- 35. The effect of SB 542, therefore, is to create, generate, and increase public revenue from July 1, 2020 through June 30, 2022.
- 36. SB 551 is a bill to eliminate the procedure used by Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION to reduce the rate of payroll taxes and to extend indefinitely the then current rates of said taxes.
- 37. SB 551 was introduced in the Senate by Defendant, NICOLE CANNIZZARO, as an Emergency Request on May 27, 2019.
- 38. The Senate voted on SB 551 on June 3, 2019 and the vote was 13 in favor and 8 opposed. Sections 2, 3, 37 and 39 of SB 551 were effective immediately upon passage and approval.
 - 39. Less than two-thirds of the Senate voted to pass SB 551.
- 40. SB 551 specifically impacted the provisions of NRS 363A.110, NRS 363B.130, and NRS 360.203 in that it eliminated the computation bases for reducing the payroll tax rates set forth therein and extended indefinitely the then current payroll tax rates.
- 41. NRS 360.203, prior to passage and enrollment of SB 551, provided that Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION should, before September 30 of each even-numbered year, perform a computation, the result of which would dictate whether the rates set forth in NRS 363A.110 and NRS 363B.130 should be reduced.
- 42. Prior to September 30, 2018, Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION performed the computation required by NRS 360.203 and determined that the rates set forth in NRS 363A.110 and NRS 363B.130 would be reduced.

- 43. On October 11, 2018, Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION announced that rates under NRS 363A.110 and NRS 363B.130 would be reduced effective July 1, 2019.
- 44. SB 551 repealed NRS 360.203 and permanently fixed the rates set forth in NRS 363A.110 and NRS 363B.130. SB 551 retroactively nullified the payroll tax rate reduction computed by Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION required by NRS 360.203 for any fiscal year beginning on or after July 1, 2015.
- 45. The effect of SB 551, therefore, is to create, generate, and increase public revenue as a result of the elimination of scheduled reductions in payroll tax rates and the elimination of the computation bases for future reductions thereof.
- 46. Because of Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION's determination and announcement that payroll tax rates would be reduced effective July 1, 2019, SB 551's permanent fixing of the rates at higher rates is a change in the computation base of the MBT.
- 47. Where NRS 360,203, prior to enrollment of SB 551, allowed for reductions in the rate of payroll tax under the MBT, the repeal thereof constitutes a change in the computation base of said payroll tax.
- 48. Notwithstanding an opinion from the Legislative Counsel Bureau ("LCB") on or about May 8, 2019, at various stages of the Senate's consideration of SB 551 and amendments thereto after May 8, 2019, LCB's bill documentation showed that two-thirds of the Senate, or 14 Senators, would have to vote to approve the bill, and at other stages of the Senate's consideration of SB 551, the twothirds requirement was removed from LCB's bill documentation for SB 551.
- 49. Defendant, NICOLE CANNIZZARO's actions on the Senate floor on June 3, 2019 show that if SB 551 did not have support from two-thirds of the Senate, the majority party, of which she was leader, would pass the bill by simple majority.
- 50. Neither House by majority referred the SB 542 or SB 551 measures to the people of the State at the next general election per Article 4, Section 18(3) of the Nevada Constitution.

- 51. In previous legislative sessions, the Nevada Legislature, including the Senate, has required a vote of not fewer than two-thirds of the members elected to the Legislature, including the Senate, to extend the prospective expiration of certain taxes and fees.
- At all times relevant hereto, the 80th (2019) Session of the Nevada Legislature had enough money to fund the State's budget without the public revenues created, generated or increased as a result of the changes to the payroll tax adopted by SB 551.
- 53. The payroll tax rate extended by SB 551 commenced to be imposed by the NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION on Nevada taxpayer employers on July 1, 2019. Nevada taxpayer employers will start filing returns and paying the extended payroll tax rate on or before the last day of the month immediately following each calendar quarter. The first calendar quarter for which the payroll tax rate extended by SB 551 will be imposed ends on September 30, 2019 and Nevada taxpayer employers will commence to file returns and remit the payroll taxes due to the NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION based on the extended payroll tax rate on or after October 1, 2019.
- 54. The technology fee extended by SB 542 will be unlawfully collected by the NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES commencing July 1, 2020.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

- 55. Plaintiffs repeat and incorporate each of the foregoing paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.
- 56. Pursuant to Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution, an affirmative vote of not fewer that two-thirds of the members elected to each House is necessary to pass every bill which creates, generates, or increases any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or in changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates.
- 57. The Defendants failed to require a two-thirds majority vote for passage of SB 542 and SB 551 as required by the Nevada Constitution. Such failure to require the passage of these bills without the required constitutional majority has resulted in the dilution of each of the Plaintiff Senator's votes and the nullification of each of their votes.
- 58. Plaintiff Senators have been denied their rights to cast an effective vote on SB 542 and SB 551.

- 59. The dilution and nullification of each Plaintiff Senator's vote and the denial of their rights to cast an effective vote violate each Plaintiff Senator's equal protection and due process rights under the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution and Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution.
- 60. Plaintiffs have been required to engage the services of counsel to pursue their rights and are entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

- 61. Plaintiffs repeat and incorporate each of the foregoing paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.
- 62. Plaintiff business taxpayers will not receive the reduction of payroll tax rates as was previously properly enacted by the constitutional two-thirds majority required by Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution. Revenue of approximately $98.2 million over the biennium in additional payroll taxes will be generated as a result of the extension of the payroll taxes and change in the computation bases enacted by SB 551 commencing July 1, 2019. The tax as it is imposed upon Plaintiff business taxpayers will deprive Plaintiff business taxpayers of their property without due process of law in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution and Article 1, Section 8(5) of the Nevada Constitution.
- 63. SB 542 eliminated the sunset provision in NRS 461.064 effective July 1, 2020 and individual Plaintiff taxpayers and fee payers will continue to be charged the technology fee unlawfully extended by SB 542 in violation of the two-thirds majority required by the Nevada Constitution. Revenue of approximately $7 million per year will continue to be generated and collected by Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES. The technology fee as will be imposed upon the individual Plaintiff citizens, residents and taxpayers will deprive said Plaintiffs of their property without due process of law in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution and Article 1, Section 8(5) of the Nevada Constitution.
- 64. Plaintiffs have been required to engage the services of counsel to pursue their rights and are entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

- 65. Plaintiffs repeat and incorporate each of the foregoing paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.
- 66. Plaintiffs' rights, status or other legal relations are affected by SB 542 and SB 551 and Plaintiffs seek a declaration of their rights, status or other relations. Declaratory relief pursuant to NRS Chapter 30 is appropriate because it will effectively adjudicate the rights, status or other legal relations of the parties.
- 67. There exists an actual justiciable controversy between Plaintiffs and Defendants concerning the applicability of Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution to the voting on and passage of SB 542 and SB 551.
- 68. Plaintiffs and Defendants have adverse interests, and an actual justiciable controversy exists between them within the jurisdiction of this Court.
- 69. Plaintiffs have a legally protectable interest in this controversy by virtue of their votes against SB 542 and SB 551 and/or their payment of the extended payroll tax and technology fee deemed enacted without the required two-thirds vote of the Nevada Senate required by the Nevada Constitution.
- 70. The controversy before this Court is ripe for judicial determination because relevant portions of SB 551 were effective upon passage and approval and imposition of the extended payroll tax rate went into effect on July 1, 2019. Taxpayer employers will be required to report and remit the extended payroll tax to the NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION that went into effect July 1, 2019 commencing on October 1, 2019. SB 542 was effective upon passage and approval and the technology fee was extended from July 1, 2020, which occurs before the next legislative session, to June 30, 2022. Plaintiffs seek a declaration from this Court prior to the State of Nevada's collection of the payroll tax and technology fee from taxpayers and fee payers to avoid such taxpayers and fee payers having to seek refunds from the State of Nevada and the State of Nevada having to issue refunds of payroll taxes and technology fees unlawfully collected.
- Plaintiffs request declarations that (a) SB 542 and SB 551 are bills which create, generate, and/or increase public revenues or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments or rates; (b) Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution required that two-thirds of the Senate vote to pass both SB 542 and SB 551; (c) the votes of the eight Plaintiff Senators should be given effect; and (d) the passage, signing, and enrollment of SB 542 and SB 551 must be invalidated for lack of supporting votes of two-thirds of the Senate as required by Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution.

72. Plaintiffs have been required to engage the services of counsel to pursue their rights and are entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

- 73. Plaintiffs repeat and incorporate each of the foregoing paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.
- 74. On or after September 30, 2019, the Court must enjoin the enforcement of SB 551 and prior to July 1, 2020, the Court must enjoin the enforcement of SB 542, and the Court must also enjoin the NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION and NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES, respectively, from collecting any revenues pursuant to the subject revenue provisions of SB 551 and SB 542 complained of herein.
- 75. If such injunctions are not entered, the Plaintiff Senators will suffer immediate, irreparable harm in that the votes of said Senators will not be given effect as intended and as required by Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution.
- 76. If such injunctions are not entered, Plaintiff taxpayers and fee payers, and all similarly situated taxpayers and fee payers throughout the State of Nevada, will suffer immediate, irreparable harm in that (a) they will be deprived of funds through the payment of unlawfully enacted revenueraising measures and (b) the Constitutional protections against tax or fee public revenue measures without the support of two-thirds of both legislative houses will effectively be eliminated.
- 77. Plaintiffs are likely to succeed on the merits of their claims made herein because both SB 542 and SB 551 are revenue-generating bills and, therefore, clearly require at least the votes of two-thirds of the Senate for passage.

- Plaintiffs have been required to engage the services of counsel to pursue their rights under the Nevada Constitution and are entitled to recovery of reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit.

- Defendant, CLAIRE J. - 24. As provided in Article 1, Section 2 of the Nevada Constitution, political power is inherent in the people. Government only has power from the consent of the governed, and the residents and citizens of the State of Nevada twice voted strongly in favor of amending the Nevada Constitution to add the two-thirds requirement, and the two-thirds requirement has, at least prior to 2019, been applied consistently to legislative bills extending sunsets by the Nevada Legislature.
- Each of the Plaintiff Senators are the appropriate parties to bring this action as there is 25. no one else in a better position or who can bring an action to vindicate their votes individually and collectively against SB 542 and SB 551, which votes were sufficient in number to defeat said bills. The Plaintiff Senators are capable of fully advocating their position in Court.
- 26. The Plaintiff business taxpayers paying the payroll tax, the individual Plaintiff citizens, residents and taxpayers paying the technology fee and the Plaintiff organizations are appropriate parties to litigate this action. Said Plaintiff businesses, citizens, residents, taxpayers, fee payers and organizations may have no other means of redress to raise the constitutional challenges to SB 542 and SB 551, said constitutional challenges may not be otherwise raised without their claims for relief set forth in this First Amended Complaint, the potential economic impact from SB 551 alone is approximately $98.2 million over the biennium and the economic impact from SB 542 is approximately $7 million per year, and said Plaintiffs can assist the Court in developing and reviewing all relevant legal and factual questions.
- 27. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to Article 6 of the Nevada Constitution which vests the judicial power of the State in a court system including the district courts of the State of Nevada.
- 28. The Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendants pursuant to Nev. Rev. Stat. ("NRS") 14.065 because Defendants are residents of the State of Nevada.

- 45. The Senate voted on SB 551 on June 3, 2019 and the vote was 13 in favor and 8 opposed. Sections 2, 3, 37 and 39 of SB 551 were effective immediately upon passage and approval.
 - 46. Less than two-thirds of the Senate voted to pass SB 551.
- 47. SB 551 specifically impacted the provisions of NRS 363A.110, NRS 363B.130, and NRS 360.203 in that it eliminated the computation bases for reducing the payroll tax rates set forth therein and extended indefinitely the then current payroll tax rates.
- 48. NRS 360.203, prior to passage and enrollment of SB 551, provided that Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION should, before September 30 of each even-numbered year, perform a computation, the result of which would dictate whether the rates set forth in NRS 363A.110 and NRS 363B.130 should be reduced.
- Prior to September 30, 2018, Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION performed the computation required by NRS 360.203 and determined that the rates set forth in NRS 363A.110 and NRS 363B.130 would be reduced.
- 50. On October 11, 2018, Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION announced that rates under NRS 363A.110 and NRS 363B.130 would be reduced effective July 1, 2019.

- SB 551 repealed NRS 360.203 and permanently fixed the rates set forth in NRS 51. 363A.110 and NRS 363B.130. SB 551 retroactively nullified the payroll tax rate reduction computed by Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION required by NRS 360.203 for any fiscal year beginning on or after July 1, 2015.
- The effect of SB 551, therefore, is to create, generate, and increase public revenue as a *5*2. result of the elimination of scheduled reductions in payroll tax rates and the elimination of the computation bases for future reductions thereof.
- 53. Because of Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION's determination and announcement that payroll tax rates would be reduced effective July 1, 2019, SB 551's permanent fixing of the rates at higher rates is a change in the computation base of the MBT.
- 54. Where NRS 360.203, prior to adoption of SB 551, allowed for reductions in the rate of payroll tax under the MBT, the repeal thereof constitutes a change in the computation base of said payroll tax.
- 55. Notwithstanding an opinion from the Legislative Counsel Bureau ("LCB") on or about May 8, 2019, at various stages of the Senate's consideration of SB 551 and amendments thereto after May 8, 2019, LCB's bill documentation showed that two-thirds of the Senate, or 14 Senators, would have to vote to approve the bill, and at other stages of the Senate's consideration of SB 551, the twothirds requirement was removed from LCB's bill documentation for SB 551.
- Defendant, NICOLE CANNIZZARO's actions on the Senate floor on June 3, 2019 56. show that if SB 551 did not have support from two-thirds of the Senate, the majority party, of which she was leader, would pass the bill by simple majority.
- 57. Neither House by majority referred the SB 542 or SB 551 measures to the people of the State at the next general election per Article 4, Section 18(3) of the Nevada Constitution.
- In previous legislative sessions, the Nevada Legislature, including the Senate, has 58. required a vote of not fewer than two-thirds of the members elected to the Legislature, including the Senate, to extend the prospective expiration of certain taxes and fees.

At all times relevant hereto, the 80th (2019) Session of the Nevada Legislature had 59. enough money to fund the State's budget without the public revenues created, generated or increased as a result of the changes to the payroll tax adopted by SB 551.

- The payroll tax rate extended by SB 551 commenced to be imposed by the NEVADA 60. DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION on Nevada taxpayer employers on July 1, 2019. Nevada taxpayer employers will start filing returns and paying the extended payroll tax rate on or before the last day of the month immediately following each calendar quarter. The first calendar quarter for which the payroll tax rate extended by SB 551 will be imposed ends on September 30, 2019 and Nevada taxpayer employers will commence to file returns and remit the payroll taxes due to the NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION based on the extended payroll tax rate on or after October 1, 2019.
- The technology fee extended by SB 542 will be unlawfully collected by the NEVADA 61. DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES commencing July 1, 2020.

FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF

- 62. Plaintiffs repeat and incorporate each of the foregoing paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.
- 63. Pursuant to Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution, an affirmative vote of not fewer that two-thirds of the members elected to each House is necessary to pass every bill which creates, generates, or increases any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or in changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates.
- 64. The Defendants failed to require a two-thirds majority vote for passage of SB 542 and SB 551 as required by the Nevada Constitution. Such failure to require the passage of these bills without the required constitutional majority has resulted in the dilution of each of the Plaintiff Senator's votes and the nullification of each of their votes.
- 65. Plaintiff Senators have been denied their rights to cast an effective vote on SB 542 and SB 551.
- The dilution and nullification of each Plaintiff Senator's vote and the denial of their rights to cast an effective vote violate each Plaintiff Senator's equal protection and due process rights under the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution and Article 4 of the Nevada Constitution.

67. Plaintiffs have been required to engage the services of counsel to pursue their rights and are entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit.

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF

- Plaintiffs repeat and incorporate each of the foregoing paragraphs as though fully set 68. forth herein.
- 69. Plaintiff business taxpayers and members of Plaintiff organizations will not receive the reduction of payroll tax rates as was previously properly enacted by the constitutional two-thirds majority required by Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution. Revenue of approximately $98.2 million over the biennium in additional payroll taxes will be generated as a result of the extension of the payroll taxes and change in the computation bases enacted by SB 551 commencing July 1, 2019. The tax as it is imposed upon Plaintiff business taxpayers and members of Plaintiff organizations will deprive Plaintiff business taxpayers and members of Plaintiff organizations of their property without due process of law in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution and Article 1, Section 8(5) of the Nevada Constitution.
- 70. SB 542 eliminated the sunset provision in NRS 461.064 effective July 1, 2020 and individual Plaintiff taxpayers and fee payers and members of Plaintiff organizations will continue to be charged the technology fee unlawfully extended by SB 542 in violation of the two-thirds majority required by the Nevada Constitution. Revenue of approximately $7 million per year will continue to be generated and collected by Defendant NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES. The technology fee as will be imposed upon the individual Plaintiff citizens, residents and taxpayers and members of Plaintiff organizations will deprive said Plaintiffs of their property without due process of law in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution and Article 1, Section 8(5) of the Nevada Constitution.
- 71. Plaintiffs have been required to engage the services of counsel to pursue their rights and are entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF

- 72. Plaintiffs repeat and incorporate each of the foregoing paragraphs as though fully set forth herein.
- Plaintiffs' rights, status or other legal relations are affected by SB 542 and SB 551 and 73. Plaintiffs seek a declaration of their rights, status or other relations. Declaratory relief pursuant to NRS Chapter 30 is appropriate because it will effectively adjudicate the rights, status or other legal relations of the parties.
- 74. There exists an actual justiciable controversy between Plaintiffs and Defendants concerning the applicability of Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution to the voting on and passage of SB 542 and SB 551.
- Plaintiffs and Defendants have adverse interests, and an actual justiciable controversy 75. exists between them within the jurisdiction of this Court.
- 76. Plaintiffs have a legally protectable interest in this controversy by virtue of their votes against SB 542 and SB 551 and/or the payment of the extended payroll tax and technology fee deemed enacted without the required two-thirds vote of the Nevada Senate required by the Nevada Constitution.
- 77. The controversy before this Court is ripe for judicial determination because relevant portions of SB 551 were effective upon passage and approval and imposition of the extended payroll tax rate went into effect on July 1, 2019. Taxpayer employers will be required to report and remit the extended payroll tax to the NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION that went into effect July 1, 2019 commencing on October 1, 2019. SB 542 was effective upon passage and approval and the technology fee was extended from July 1, 2020, which occurs before the next legislative session, to June 30, 2022. Plaintiffs seek a declaration from this Court prior to the State of Nevada's collection of the payroll tax and technology fee from taxpayers and fee payers to avoid such taxpayers and fee payers having to seek refunds from the State of Nevada and the State of Nevada having to issue refunds of payroll taxes and technology fees unlawfully collected.
- 78. Plaintiffs request declarations that (a) SB 542 and SB 551 are bills which create, generate, and/or increase public revenues or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments or rates; (b) Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution required that two-thirds of the Senate vote to pass both SB 542 and SB 551; (c) the votes of the eight Plaintiff Senators should be given effect; and (d) SB 542 and SB 551 must be invalidated for lack of supporting votes of twothirds of the Senate as required by Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution.

Plaintiffs have been required to engage the services of counsel to pursue their rights 79. and are entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF

- Plaintiffs repeat and incorporate each of the foregoing paragraphs as though fully set 80. forth herein.
- On or after September 30, 2019, the Court must enjoin the enforcement of SB 551 and 81. prior to July 1, 2020, the Court must enjoin the enforcement of SB 542, and the Court must also enjoin the NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF TAXATION and NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF MOTOR VEHICLES, respectively, from collecting any revenues pursuant to the subject revenue provisions of SB 551 and SB 542 complained of herein.
- 82. If such injunctions are not entered, the Plaintiff Senators will suffer immediate. irreparable harm in that the votes of said Senators will not be given effect as intended and as required by Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution.
- 83. If such injunctions are not entered, Plaintiff taxpayers and fee payers, members of Plaintiff organizations and all similarly situated taxpayers and fee payers throughout the State of Nevada, will suffer immediate, irreparable harm in that (a) they will be deprived of funds through the payment of unlawfully enacted revenue-raising measures and (b) the Constitutional protections against tax or fee public revenue measures without the support of two-thirds of both legislative houses will effectively be eliminated.
- 84. Plaintiffs are likely to succeed on the merits of their claims made herein because both SB 542 and SB 551 are revenue-generating bills and, therefore, clearly require at least the votes of two-thirds of the Senate for passage.

- Public interest weighs in favor of strict application of the Constitutional two-thirds 85. requirement for enacting revenue-raising measures, which was added to the Nevada Constitution by the affirmative vote of the Nevada public in 1994 and 1996.
- 86. Defendants cannot be said to suffer any harm through strict adherence to the Nevada Constitution while Plaintiffs and the constituents and members they represent will suffer severe and irreparable harm if they are deprived of their rights under Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution.
- 87. Plaintiffs have been required to engage the services of counsel to pursue their rights under the Nevada Constitution and are entitled to recovery of reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of suit.

The undersigned hereby affirm that the foregoing document submitted for filing DOES NOT contain the social security number of any person.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for relief as follows:

- 1. For declarations that:
 - SB 542 and SB 551 are bills that create, generate, and/or increase public revenue or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments or rates;
 - b. Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution required that twothirds of the Senate vote to pass both SB 542 and SB 551;
 - C. The votes of the eight Plaintiff Senators should be given effect; and
 - d. SB 542 and SB 551 must be invalidated for lack of supporting votes of two-thirds of the Senate.
- 2. For a temporary restraining order or a preliminary injunction if necessary, upon application or motion, effective on or about September 30, 2019 for SB 551 and effective on or about July 1, 2020 for SB 542 and a permanent injunction against the enforcement of SB 542 and SB 551.
 - 3. For an award of attorneys' fees and costs of suit.
 - 4. For such other and further relief as this Court may deem just and proper.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. INTRODUCTION AND FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The 2019 Legislature passed two bills that maintained existing taxes and fees at existing rates from the prior fiscal year to future fiscal years. Because neither bill "creates, generates, or increases" "taxes, fees, assessments and rates," each bill is constitutional. To the extent there is any ambiguity requiring interpretation, this Court should interpret the supermajority provision narrowly with the intent that it apply only to new or increased taxes, not to the continuation of existing taxes at existing rates from one year to the next.

This interpretation is consistent with the history, public policy, and reason for the supermajority provision, which arose from the following, infamous political promise:

Read my lips: no new taxes!

Vice President George H.W. Bush, at his August 18, 1988 speech accepting the Republican nomination for President.

When President Bush broke this promise, it provoked backlash throughout the United States. In response, governments attempted amending constitutions to require supermajority votes for new taxes. Nevada's supermajority provision for new taxes that arose from this backlash is the subject of this lawsuit.

Former Governor (then-Assemblyman) Jim Gibbons spearheaded the effort to adopt the supermajority provision, modeling it on similar provisions from other states, including Oklahoma. The former Governor first tried to add a supermajority provision to the Nevada Constitution as an Assemblyman in the 1993 Legislature, but failed. At that time, he conveyed that it "would not impair any existing revenues." See AJR 21 Legislative History (1993) at 747, attached hereto as Exhibit A (emphasis added). As part of the bill explanation, the provision was limited to efforts "to impose or increase" certain taxes. Id. at 760.

Subsequently, the former Governor successfully led the effort to pass the supermajority provision by initiative in the 1994 election (when he first ran unsuccessfully for Governor) and the 1996 election (when he successfully ran for Congress). The initiative materials provided to Nevada voters show that the provision was intended for "raising" or "increasing taxes," particularly from "new sources of revenue." See Nevada Ballot Questions 1994 at Question No. 11; State of Nevada Ballot Questions 1996 at Question No. 11, collectively attached hereto as Exhibit B.

As passed, the supermajority provision added to the Nevada Constitution reads as follows:

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, an affirmative vote of not fewer than two-thirds of the members elected to each House is necessary to pass a bill or joint resolution which creates, generates, or increases any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates.

NEV. CONST. art. 4, § 18(1).

Under significantly different circumstances, the Nevada Supreme Court had the opportunity to review the supermajority provision. There, the Nevada Supreme Court recognized that the supermajority provision "was intended to make it more difficult for the Legislature to pass new taxes" or to turn "to new sources of revenue." Guinn v. Legislature, 119 Nev. 460, 471 (2003) (emphasis added); see Exhibit B.

Here, this Court does not face new or increased taxes, much less a constitutional crisis threatening the education of Nevada's children. Instead, the Legislature passed two bills to maintain existing taxes and fees at existing rates into the next fiscal year. Each ¹The Nevada Supreme Court previously considered the supermajority provision in the 2003 Guinn v. Legislature cases, specifically its relationship to constitutional provisions prioritizing public education where the executive and legislative branches were gridlocked as they related to funding almost immediately prior to the start of the school year. Guinn v. Legislature, 119 Nev. 277 (2003) (overturned as to "procedural" and "substantive" requirements analysis by Nevadans for Nevada v. Beers, 122 Nev. 930, 944 (2006)); Guinn v. Legislature, 119 Nev. 460 (2003). This case is not the expedited one faced by the Supreme Court in Guinn, both as to emergency timing or as a constitutional conflict between coequal branches of government.

Here, Plaintiffs have done nothing to expedite consideration of their alleged "irreparable harm" associated with paying existing taxes at existing rates on or after September 30, 2019 or with the dispute amongst different State Senators, notwithstanding longstanding threats to file this lawsuit.

bill is plainly constitutional because neither "creates, generates, or increases" "taxes, fees, assessments and rates."

To the extent there is any ambiguity requiring interpretation, this Court should interpret the supermajority provision narrowly in conjunction with the intent that it apply only to new or increased taxes relative to the prior fiscal year. This is consistent with how other states, including Oklahoma and Oregon, interpret their equivalent supermajority provisions. The Legislature's interpretation under these circumstances, upon the advice of its counsel, is reasonable and entitled to deference from this Court as the most responsive branch to the People.²

Under such circumstances, Defendants seek dismissal of the case.

LEGAL ANALYSIS II.

Standard of Review Α.

Rule 12(b) governs motions to dismiss, including this one premised on legal interpretation of the Nevada Constitution. When reviewing a Rule 12(b)(5) motion, a court reviews all legal conclusions de novo, even while recognizing all factual allegations in the complaint as true and drawing all inferences in the plaintiffs' favor. Buzz Stew, LLC v. City of N. Las Vegas, 124 Nev. 224, 227-28, 181 P.3d 670, 672 (2008)(emphasis added). "A complaint should only be dismissed for failure to state a claim if it appears beyond a doubt that it could prove no set of facts, which, if true, would entitle it to relief." Szymborski v. Spring Mountain Treatment Ctr., 133 Nev. 638, 641, 403 P.3d 1280, 1283 (2017) (emphasis added). While generally a court may not consider matters outside the pleading for a Rule 12(b)(5) motion, it may take into account matters of public record, orders, items present in the record of the case, and any exhibits attached to the complaint when ruling on a motion to dismiss. Breliant v. Preferred Equities Corp., 109 Nev. 842, 847, 858 P.2d 1258, 1261 (1993).

² A true and correct copy of the Legislative Counsel Bureau's May 8, 2019 memorandum is attached hereto as Exhibit C.

In Nevada, the constitutionality of a statute is a question of law. Cornella v. Justice Court, 132 Nev. ——, 377 P.3d 97, 100 (2016) (internal quotation marks omitted). "Statutes are presumed to be valid, and the burden is on the challenging party to demonstrate that a statute is unconstitutional." Id. (internal quotation marks omitted). In interpreting an amendment to our Constitution, courts look to rules of statutory interpretation to determine the intent of both the drafters and the electorate that approved it. Landreth v. Malik, 127 Nev. 175, 180, 251 P.3d 163, 166 (2011); Halverson v. Sec'y of State, 124 Nev. 484, 488, 186 P.3d 893, 897 (2008). Nevada courts first examine the provision's language. Landreth, 127 Nev. at 180, 251 P.3d at 166. If plain, a Nevada court looks no further, but if not, "we look to the history, public policy, and reason for the provision." Id.

Moreover, Nevada courts construe statutes, if reasonably possible, so as to be in harmony with the constitution." Cornella, 377 P.3d at 100 (2016) (internal quotation marks omitted). Stated differently, Nevada courts "adhere to the precedent that every reasonable construction must be resorted to, in order to save a statute from unconstitutionality." State v. Castaneda, 126 Nev. 478, 481, 245 P.3d 550, 552 (2010) (internal quotation marks omitted). "[W]hen a statute is derived from a sister state, it is presumably adopted with the construction given it by the highest court of the sister state." Clark v. Lubritz, 113 Nev. 1089, 1096–97 n. 6, 944 P.2d 861, 865 n. 6 (1997) (citing Craigo v. Circus-Circus Enterprises, 106 Nev. 1, 3, 786 P.2d 22, 23 (1990)).

Here, neither statute violates the plain terms of the supermajority provision because neither "creates, generates, or increases" any public revenue from one fiscal year to the next. Instead, by distinct methods, the statutes maintain existing public revenue at the same level for taxpayers and Nevada state government between fiscal years. In short, the statutes comply with the supermajority provision.

To the extent Plaintiffs have a different interpretation, this Court should look to "the history, public policy, and reason" for the supermajority provision. When reviewing this, back to its origins from former President Bush's lips, there is no reasonable doubt that the supermajority provision is intended to apply to new taxes relative to prior years, rather than continuing existing taxes at existing rates as the 2019 Legislature did. Other states with similar supermajority provisions have interpreted them the exact same way.

Under such circumstances, this Court should defer to the Legislature's interpretation, which is consistent with the general legislative power and with how other states have similarly interpreted these provisions. Ultimately, the Legislature is accountable for its interpretation to the true sovereign, the People of Nevada, who will decide whether this interpretation is best for future Legislatures.

B. The Statutes Comply with the Plain Language of the Nevada Constitution

1. Senate Bill 551 Does not Create, Generate, or Increase Public Revenue

In relevant part, Senate Bill 551 repeals NRS 360.203. A true and correct copy of Senate Bill 551 as enrolled is attached hereto as Exhibit D. When passed by the 2015 Legislature, there was no specific contemporaneous commentary at committee or during floor session on what was NRS 360.203.⁴ Instead, it was part of the overall 2015 Legislature's efforts to provide greater fiscal stability for Nevada state government, specifically including public education.

As passed, NRS 360.203 required Taxation to calculate combined Commerce Tax, Modified Business Tax, and Bank Branch Excise Tax revenues. NRS 360.203(1). The repealed statute next required an apples-to-apples comparison between those revenues and what the Economic Forum had previously estimated for the same fiscal year. 360.203(2). If the Economic Forum overestimated revenues compared to what was actually collected, nothing happened under the repealed statute.⁵ Stated differently, had the Economic Forum overestimated revenues for Fiscal Year 2018, the repealed statute would be inapplicable by its terms.⁶ If the Economic Forum underestimated revenues relative to collections by more than 4 percent, the repealed statute provided a mechanism for the future recalculation of MBT tax rates, such that the underestimated revenue would result in a potential future decrease for the next fiscal year. NRS 360.203(2).

Below is a chart comparing actual versus projected revenue for the three taxes:⁷

	FY 2017 Economic Forum Projection	FY 2017 Actual	FY 2018 Economic Forum Projection	FY 2018 Actual
Commerce Tax	$203,411.000	$197,827,208	$186,046,000	$201,926,513
MBT (After Tax Credits	$526,971,540	$575,232,919	$525,615,000	$581,843,729
Bank Branch Excise Tax	$2,772,000	$2,785,199	$2,789,000	$2,745,343
TOTAL	$733,154,540	$775,845,326	$714,450,000	$786,515,585

The Economic Forum presumed a downturn in revenue from these three taxes between FY 2017 and FY 2018. Instead, the Modified Business Tax significantly exceeded projections in both fiscal years. Had the projections been more accurate, NRS 360.203 would have remained dormant.

Senate Bill 551 repeals NRS 360.203. See Ex. D at § 39. As argued by Plaintiffs, repeal of NRS 360.203 required a supermajority vote because it eliminates a potential future decrease in the MBT tax rates. See First Amended Complaint (7/30/2019) at ¶ 43.

The actual information was derived from General Fund Revenues – Economic Forum May 1, 2019, Forecast, Actual: FY 2016 through FY 2018 and Forecast: FY 2019 through FY 2021, Economic Forum's Forecast for FY 2019, FY 2020, and FY 2021 Approved at the May 1, 2019 Meeting (80th Session), available at:

In short, Plaintiffs' constitutional claim relies on the Economic Forum's conservative underestimate of combined tax revenues from the last biennium.

In this context, Plaintiffs' claim does not make sense. Repealed NRS 360.203(2)'s potential tax rate reduction would not have been in effect until July 1, 2019 at the earliest. NRS 360.203(3). Accordingly, as set forth by the Legislature's counsel in its May 8, 2019 memorandum, Senate Bill 551 maintains the existing tax rate and revenue structure because any potential tax rate reduction was never effective as a matter of statute. Ex. C at 13.

Under these circumstances, Senate Bill 551 does not change existing tax rates for the Business Plaintiffs. Specifically, Section 37 of Senate Bill 551 makes it clear that the purpose and intent was "to maintain and continue the existing legally operative rates of the taxes." Ex. D. Great Basin Engineering Contractors, LLC, Goodfellow Corporation, Kimmie Candy Company, and Keystone Corp. will pay the same MBT tax rate as the last four fiscal years premised on the same employee wages. Because this does not create, generate, or increase any public revenue in any form relative to the prior fiscal year, the Legislature's passage of Senate Bill 551 complies with the plain language of the Nevada Constitution. The Court should enter judgment in Defendants' favor.

2. SB 542 Does not Create, Generate, or Increase Public Revenue

Senate Bill 542 amends a June 30, 2020 sunset provision for an existing DMV technology fee, extending it until June 30, 2022. A true and correct copy of Senate Bill 542 as enrolled is attached hereto as Exhibit G. Nothing within Senate Bill 542 creates a new tax. Businesses such as the Business Defendants who have the same number of DMV transactions will owe the same amount of DMV technology fee as the last biennium, as well as the first year of this biennium (unaffected by this statute). At most, Senate Bill 542 eliminates a proposed, future end to the DMV technology fee almost one year from today. Because this does not create, generate, or increase any public revenue in any form relative to the prior fiscal year, the Legislature's passage of Senate Bill 542 complies with the plain language of the Nevada Constitution. The Court should enter judgment in Defendants' favor.

Arguably, Plaintiffs' harm associated with SB 542 is not yet ripe until summer 2020, when the eliminated sunset provision would have previously taken effect.

- C. To the Extent Plaintiffs Argue Differently, the Supermajority Provision should be Interpreted Narrowly to Apply to "New Taxes" Relative to Prior Fiscal Years, Consistent with its History, Public Policy, and Reason for Adoption
 - 1. The History, Public Policy and Reason behind the Supermajority Provision is No New Taxes

As set forth above, the supermajority provision arose from anti-tax fervor associated with President Bush's broken promise of "no new taxes." Former Governor Gibbons led the Nevada charge for the supermajority provision, emphasizing its effect on new or additional taxes, noting it did not apply to existing taxes. See Ex. A at 747, 760. The initiative information provided to Nevada voters similarly made it clear that they intended the provision for "raising" or "increasing taxes," particularly from "new sources of revenue." Ex. B. The clear purpose and public policy behind the supermajority provision was to prevent "new taxes."

Prior implementation of Nevada Economic Forum projections is consistent with the clear intent for the supermajority provision to prevent "new taxes" rather than increased revenues from existing provisions. Specifically, prior Economic Forum projections relied upon by the Legislature for budgeting show significant increases in revenue from existing taxes, including the Commerce Tax and the Branch Bank Excise Tax, presumably based on Nevada's growing economy. See Ex. E & F. These projections has never required supermajority approval because none creates a "new tax." To the extent this Court believes it needs to look beyond the plain language of the supermajority provision, it should interpret the provision relative to fiscal years, such that it can be easily determined whether a tax "creates, generates, or increases" revenue.9

⁹ Defendants note that there is a second supermajority provision challenge pending before the Eighth Judicial District Court. Morency et al. v. State of Nevada ex rel. Dept. of Education et al., Case No. A-19-800267-C (Nev. 8th Jud. Dist. Ct., August 15, 2019). There, Defendants contend that elimination of certain tax expenditures for a private school

Nevada is not alone when attempting to interpret similar supermajority provisions. For instance, in South Dakota, the supermajority provision applies to the passage of certain appropriations. S.D. Const. art. XII, § 2. However, the South Dakota Supreme Court rejected challenges arguing that reappropriations require a supermajority vote, noting that the constitutional provision only governs passage of the appropriation, not repeal or amendment of an existing appropriation. Apa v. Butler, 638 N.W. 2d 57, 69-70 (S.D. 2001). Nevada's supermajority provision similarly applies only to passage of a bill, with no reference to repeal or amendment of a previously approved revenue generator. Nev. Const. art. IV, § 18(2).

In Oklahoma, the supermajority provision applies to the passage of revenue bills by a three-fourths vote. OKLA. CONST. art. V, § 33. However, the Oklahoma Supreme Court rejected the applicability of its supermajority provision to a bill including provisions deleting the "expiration date of specified tax rate levy." Fent v. Fallin, 345 P.3d 1113, 1114-17 n.6 (Okla. 2014). This is consistent with that Court's limitation of the Oklahoma supermajority provision to bills whose principal object is to raise new revenue and which levy a new tax in the strict sense of the word. Okla. Auto Dealers Ass'n, 401 P.3d 1152, 1153 (Okla. 2017).

In Oregon, the supermajority provision applies to the passage of bills for raising revenue by a three-fifths vote. OR. CONST. art. IV, § 25(2). However, the Oregon Supreme Court rejected the applicability of eliminating a tax exemption for out-of-state electric utility facilities was not subject to its constitutional supermajority provision. City of Seattle v. Or. Dep't of Revenue, 357 P.3d 979, 980 (Or. 2015).

voucher program required a supermajority vote, even though the Legislature ultimately increased the tax expenditures for the upcoming two fiscal years, resulting in decreased state revenue. Defendants submit that the outcome of that case would have no effect on this case for addressing the constitutionality of the Legislature's interpretation of the supermajority provision.

None of these other states would apply supermajority provision onto the continuation of existing taxes and fees through the elimination of a potential future recalculation clause or the elimination of a not-yet applicable sunset provision. This Court should similarly interpret Nevada's provision as being inapplicable to these statutes.

3. The Legislature is Entitled to Deference as the Branch Most Accountable to the People

Nevada courts construe statutes, if reasonably possible, so as to be in harmony with the constitution." Cornella v. Justice Court, 132 Nev. —, 377 P.3d 97, 100 (2016) (internal quotation marks omitted). Stated differently, Nevada courts "adhere to the precedent that every reasonable construction must be resorted to, in order to save a statute from unconstitutionality." State v. Castaneda, 126 Nev. 478, 481, 245 P.3d 550, 552 (2010) (internal quotation marks omitted). The Nevada Constitution "must be strictly construed in favor of the power of the legislature to enact the legislation under it." In re Platz, 60 Nev. 296, 308 (1940). This is particularly true where the Legislature acts upon the opinion of its Legislative Counsel. Nev. Mining Ass'n v. Erdoes, 117 Nev. 531, 540 (2001).

Nevada courts do this because of the significant power vested in the Legislature under the Nevada Constitution, consistent with constitutional requirements for republican forms of government and majoritarian rule. Specifically, the United States Constitution guarantees that each State shall have "a Republican Form of Government." U.S. CONST. art. IV, § 4. Nevada generally requires that "a majority of all of the members elected to each house is necessary to pass every bill or joint resolution." NEV. CONST. art. 4, § 18(1). Prior to the 1990s, all bills required majority support.

As noted by James Madison in the Federalist Papers:

In all cases where justice or the general good might require new laws to be passed, or active measures to be pursued, the fundamental principle of free government would be reversed, It would be no longer the majority that would rule; the power would be transferred to the minority. Were the defensive privilege limited to particular cases, an interested minority might take advantage of it to screen themselves from equitable sacrifices to the general weal, or in particular circumstances to extort unreasonable indulgences.

THE FEDERALIST No. 58, at 397 (James Madison).

Here, the People's elected representatives in the State Senate disagree on how to interpret Nevada's Constitution. Where both interpretations are reasonable and the majority Legislature relied upon the specific advice of its counsel, this Court should defer to the Legislature's interpretation. Even if it would not necessarily be this Court's preferred interpretation, deferring to the Legislature will allow Nevada's true sovereign, the People, to ultimately decide the wisdom of the 2019 Legislature's decisions.

III. CONCLUSION

This Court should dismiss Plaintiffs' case with prejudice or, in the alternative, award Defendants summary judgment because the passage of Senate Bill 542 and Senate Bill 551 comply with Article IV, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution.

ASSEMBLY BILL 331 - Requires annual prepayment of tax on insurance premiums. (BDR 57-1714)

Brian C. Harris, Governor Miller's Office, spoke in support of AB 331. Mr. Harris indicated he had been working with representatives of the industry hopefully to clear up some of the problems with AB 331. Mr. Harris provided committee members with a copy of a proposed amendment to AB 331 attached hereto marked Exhibit C.

Mr. Harris pointed out Commissioner Rankin informed him on page 1 of the proposed amendment (Exhibit C) subsection 2, which had been deleted, needed to be included.

Mr. Harris iterated the new subsection 2 listed in italics provided for the prepayment of the tax to be paid in two portions on March 1st and June 15th of each year. Mr. Harris walk the committee through the amendment section by section.

Michael J. Griffin, CPA, Deputy Commissioner, Nevada Department of Insurance, responded to a question explaining subsection 6 of the proposed amendment (Exhibit C). He conveyed if an insurer was one day late, the interest would be one-thirtieth of the 1.5 percent.

Mr. Spitler asked for clarification with regard to an overpayment. Mr. Griffin articulated if an insurer made an overpayment, the overpayment would be a direct credit against the estimated tax liability the next calendar year. Mr. Griffin responded to another question stating the business did not have the option of having the overpayment returned, it had to be applied against future tax liability. He expanded stating if

ASSEMBLY JOINT RESOLUTION 21 -

Proposes to amend Nevada constitution to require twothirds majority of each house of legislature to increase certain existing taxes or impose certain new taxes. (BDR C-166)

Ted Zuend, Deputy Fiscal Analyst, Legislative Counsel Bureau, provided committee members with a Bill Explanation for AJR 21 attached hereto marked Exhibit D.

James A. Gibbons, Assembly District 25, spoke as the prime sponsor of AJR 21 which proposed to amend the Nevada Constitution to require a two-thirds majority vote in each house of the legislature to increase certain existing taxes or to impose certain new taxes.

Mr. Gibbons commented AJR 21 was introduced with the idea of public confidence in mind. He stated the public confidence in the legislature and the legislative process was at an all-time low. Elected officials were at the bottom of the wrung on the ladder of public confidence. Mr. Gibbons believed the answer to the problem of public confidence was that the legislature needed to focus on the actual needs of the public rather than the wants of the public. That would require a transformation of the thought process and a transformation that would make the legislature focus more on the responsible utilization of the taxpayer's money.

Mr. Gibbons said it was clear to him that the government did not have a funding problem, but a spending problem. Nevadans wanted public service but did not want to pay for wasteful government. The issue was one of perception and confidence, perception the legislators wastefully spend the public's money. The public lacked the confidence and believed the legislators would raise taxes to cover the sins.

Mr. Gibbons iterated the concepts of economics said taxes always reduced the amount of money that would have been used by the private sector to increase production and thus employment, consequently yielding or fueling the gross national product and increasing overall standards of living. Governments wasted money through inefficiency. The problem would not be solved by better people, by better management, by better systems or by more money because the problem was a structural problem in government and the incentives in government were skewed against the public interest.

Mr. Gibbons asserted there were two alternative approaches to balancing government budgets when spending exceeded taxation. The conventional wisdom was first to reduce services or increase taxes; however, Mr. Gibbons suggested there was a third way and that was use government money more wisely and more efficiently. It was a simple household and business concept and strategy; when the income was not there, the expenses should be decreased.

Mr. Gibbons stressed AJR 21 amended the Nevada Constitution to require bills providing for a general tax increase be passed by a two-thirds majority of both houses of the legislature. The resolution would apply to property taxes, sales and use taxes, business taxes based on income, receipts, assets, capital stock or number of employees, taxes on the net proceeds of mines and taxes on liquor and cigarettes.

Mr. Gibbons explained AJR 21 was modelled on constitutional provisions which were in effect in a number of other states. Some of the provisions were adopted recently in response to a growing concern among voters about increasing tax burdens and some of the other provisions dated back to earlier times.

Mr. Gibbons described the provisions in the other states. Arizona any bill that provided for a net increase in revenues had to be passed by a two-third majority vote of each house. A veto of a tax bill could be overridden by three-fourths In Arkansas any bill to increase property, excise majority. privilege or personal income taxes had to be passed by a threefourths majority vote. Mr. Gibbons continued illustrating an amendment recently been enacted to the had California Constitution requiring a two-thirds majority vote in each house for new taxes and tax increases and prohibited new taxes on property, sales or transactions involving real property. Gibbons iterated in Colorado the legislature could, in an emergency, increase taxes by a two-thirds vote in each house. The tax increases had to be submitted to the people for approval at the next election. The same provisions also imposed strict spending limits on state government. Mr. Gibbons revealed in Delaware an increase in a tax or fee had to be approved by a three-fifths majority of each house. Mr. Gibbons said the Florida Constitution required bills that increased the income tax to more than 5 percent of net income had to be approved by a three-fifths majority of each house. In Louisiana a twothirds majority was required. In Mississippi bills for the assessment of real property had to receive a three-fifths majority in each house. In Oklahoma the constitution required revenue bills had to be approved by three-fourths of the members of each house. South Dakota required a two-thirds majority for bills increasing income sales and property taxes. Mr. Gibbons said in Delaware in order to secure the confidence of many companies residing there, a two-thirds majority was required in each house to amend its incorporation law. Illinois required a three-fifths majority to pass a law affecting cities with home-rule.

Mr. Gibbons believed a provision requiring an extraordinary majority was a device used to hedge or protect certain laws which he believed should not be lightly changed. AJR 21 would ensure greater stability and preserve certain statutes from the constant tinkering of transient majorities.

Mr. Gibbons addressed some of the anticipated objections. Some will claim AJR 21 would deprive the state of revenues necessary to provide essential state services. Mr. Gibbons conveyed that was not the case. AJR 21 would not impair any existing revenues. It was not a tax rollback and did not impose rigid caps on taxes or spending. Mr. Gibbons thought it would not be difficult to obtain a two-thirds majority if the need for new revenues was clear and convincing. AJR 21 would not hamstring state government or prevent state government from responding to legitimate fiscal emergencies.

Mr. Gibbons examined the voting record for every new tax and increase which would have been affected by AJR 21 for the last three decades. Mr. Gibbons found in most instances the bills obtained a two-thirds majority vote even though a simple majority was required. He referred to an example of research performed illustrating the voting record on bills, a copy of which is attached hereto marked Exhibit E. Exhibit E illustrated in all but a few instances the tax increases were passed with more than the two-thirds requirement.

Mr. Gibbons concluded by saying the measure did not propose government do less, but actually AJR 21 could permit government to do more. AJR 21 was a simple moderate measure that would bring greater stability to Nevada's tax systems, while still allowing the flexibility to meet real fiscal needs. Mr. Gibbons urged the committee's approval of AJR 21.

Mr. Spitler asked Mr. Gibbons in his research if the other states required similar legislation for approval of a state budget, or if the state remained with a simple majority to approve a budget and the two-thirds or three-fourths majority to approve the funding mechanism. Mr. Gibbons said his research did not focus on the approval process of the budget. Mr. Gibbons said he would have it researched and produce the information for Mr. Spitler.

Mr. Spitler articulated if one looked at empowerment and on one hand a simple majority declared what the budget should be and on the other hand a super majority declared the funding mechanism, it was actually empowering a smaller group of people not to fund the budget. Mr. Gibbons communicated he would have to do some more research before he could give an informed answer. Mr. Gibbons believed the two should go hand in hand.

Mr. Spitler asked if the other states actually spent less since the imposed legislation. Mr. Gibbons articulated with the depth of research required to answer the question, Mr. Gibbons did not possess that sort of detail.

Mrs. Williams asked Mr. Gibbons if the states he cited had an income tax. Mr. Gibbons said South Dakota and Florida did not have an income tax. Mrs. Williams conveyed when there was an income tax it changed the considerations considerably.

Mrs. Williams was compelled to point out the Ways and Means Committee constantly heard about the waste in government. suggested the Ways and Means Committee was not looking at waste or wants, but looking at the needs driven by extraordinary growth that far exceeded any other place in the country. There were structural problems other states were not faced with. She pointed out many of the other states mentioned had decreasing populations and did not have the same demands. Mrs. Williams would like to see the waste identified. Mrs. Williams said it was incumbent upon people who thought there was waste to sit in the hearings, listen to the testimony, understand the budgets and what the numbers meant and then make a determination on whether it was waste or want and not need. Mrs. Williams agreed with Mr. Gibbons in that Nevada needed major structural and policy changes.

Mrs. Williams asked Mr. Gibbons if he thought AJR 21 could possibly inhibit structural change by requiring a super majority. Mr. Gibbons respectfully disagreed and said structural change to him meant incentives built into the government structure. AJR 21 did just the opposite and forced the legislature in the decision process to make the structural changes in government itself. Mrs. Williams pointed out the flip side of the coin revealed a minority of people could make sure progress would not occur and change would not occur. Mrs.

Williams said there were always people who were resistent to change. The fact needed to be considered a small minority of people could blockade the ability to move forward and change policy. Mr. Gibbons surmised that was the one avenue that raised a flag in the issue, whether or not one addressed it from the minority standpoint of being able to say no versus the super majority required to say yes on a tax bill.

Mr. Neighbors only had a problem with the concept that the minority might be able to tell the majority exactly what to do. He added none of the other states Mr. Gibbons listed had the growth problems Nevada had. Mr. Neighbors saw one of the problems as telling everyone "we need to diversify" and invite people into the state and then turn around to local government and say "now you provide the service."

Mr. Gibbons again addressed the issue a two-thirds majority allowed for a minority. Mr. Gibbons stressed the purpose of AJR 21 was to identify true tax needs. He referred to Exhibit E stating it was a very rare instance that only less than twothirds majority vote in both houses was accomplished. legislators required the to find the broad support identifying the need for the tax. The vote in Exhibit E showed 90 to 100 percent of the legislators, in a majority of the times, felt compelled to raise taxes. Mr. Gibbons stressed to Mr. Neighbors Florida was indeed a growing state. The demands in Florida, in terms of growth in senior citizens which drove Florida's budget, probably exceeded the state of Nevada in terms of dollar requirements.

Mrs. Williams pointed out Florida probably collected more in taxes to start with. Florida's tax rates were higher, the property taxes were higher generating more revenue. Mr. Gibbons said Florida also did not have 87 percent of the state owned by the federal government, so Florida's property taxes brought in a lot more revenue. Mr. Gibbons said Nevada based its property tax on 13 percent of the state and expected that to run the whole state.

Mr. Marvel referred to Exhibit E stating last session was the only time the two-thirds majority would have made a difference, and it was somewhat fictitious because of the fair share issue. Mr. Gibbons said that was exactly right, and additionally there was one measure that would have required only one more vote to make it two-thirds in the Assembly. Mr. Marvel said in speaking in terms of reality many of the Washoe County people voted against any tax because of the fair share issue.

Steve Stucker, Laughlin Associates, Inc., spoke in favor of AJR 21. He iterated Laughlin Associates, Inc., was resident agent for some 5,000 corporations in Nevada. Part of Laughlin Associates' business involved the selling of Nevada to businesses in other states. He said many of the businesses did contribute to the tax base in Nevada, many of which did not impact the infrastructure or services provided by Nevada.

Mr. Stucker said many of the businessmen he spoke with were concerned about the stability of the tax structure in Nevada and the appeasement of special interests. He realized some taxes were necessary to provide governmental services, but those which were good for Nevada as a whole ought to be the ones that were considered and not those benefitting the larger special interests.

Mr. Stucker felt the passage of AJR 21 would ensure that a tax was not only necessary, but also would benefit what was perceived to be the vast majority of Nevadans if a two-thirds majority was required. It would also minimize fluctuations in the tax structure.

Mr. Stucker expressed the concern of the businesses was the stability to the tax picture in Nevada. It would allow the businesses to make a little more informed judgments as to whether to move to Nevada as opposed to somewhere else. It had been mentioned the general perception among citizens, as well as those businesses, bureaucracy did not live within its means and the easiest thing to do was to increase taxes rather than to curb spending. He thought AJR 21 would give that message. Laughlin Associates urged the committee's support of AJR 21.

In response to a question from Mr. Spitler, Mr. Stucker said it was not just perception that drew the businesses to Nevada, but whether the tax base was stable without constant fluctuations. Mr. Stucker iterated for Mr. Spitler that Laughlin had a board of directors and was incorporated. Mr. Stucker did not know if Laughlin required a two-thirds vote on authorizing expenditures. Mr. Stucker advised Mr. Spitler when Laughlin's board voted it was spending Laughlin's own money. Mr. Spitler countered stating when he voted he did not believe he was spending someone else's money, but indeed his own as well. Mrs. Williams clarified all of the legislators were taxpayers as well and were subject to the same unhappy circumstances as everyone else.

Lewis Laughlin testified on behalf of the Nevada Association of Independent Businesses (NAIB) in support of AJR 21. NAIB was 765 small independent businesses employing in excess of 10,000 employees in Nevada. Those businesses and the people that worked for the businesses overwhelmingly supported the proposition that taking money out of their pockets through increased taxes or new taxes should not be easy and only done when it was absolutely clearly and convincingly necessary for the good of all of the people of Nevada and not just some particular powerful special interest or bureaucracy.

Mr. Laughlin conveyed the perception existed on the part of independent business people and on the part of the taxpayers at large that sometimes their money was not taken seriously enough by the government. By passing AJR 21, whether or not it was a perceived problem or the real problem, government would be responding to the needs and the desires of the people to take their money seriously. NATB supported the proposition there should be some form of tax stability. There had been many changes in Nevada's tax policy. Nevada had not had a tax policy and hopefully passing AJR 21 before new taxes were implemented might force the issue of implementing something stable for tax policy.

Mr. Laughlin said if AJR 21 was passed the prospect of taking more money out of Nevadans' pockets would be less easy and less tempting to those who would benefit by doing so. He stated Nevada would actually need "need" for the money as opposed to "greed" that was contained in certain budgets. Mrs. Williams interjected since there were so many members of the money committee that served on the Taxation Committee, she asked Mr. Laughlin to provide a list of the budgets that contained "greed" and not "need." Mr. Laughlin said he would be happy to send a list as well as suggestions on how to save money in the state budget process. Mr. Laughlin suggested common sense indicated there was some waste in government.

Mr. Laughlin iterated in a ten year period from 1980 to 1990 tax revenues in Nevada increased by 190 percent while revenue increased by only 50.1 percent. Tax revenue exceeded Nevada's growth by 397 percent. Mr. Laughlin urged the committee's support for AJR 21.

Mr. Zuend responded to Vice Chairman Williams stating a study was performed for the Nevada Resort Association by Grant Thornton that cited something to the effect (with regard to sales and property taxes only) each new resident generated approximately $6,000 in new services, but initially only paid $900 or $1,000 in taxes. Mr. Laughlin said it was important to note that the study did not include many fees paid that went into the general revenue. Vice Chairman Williams stated if the new residents generated the revenue commensurate with moving in, Nevada would not have to be passing bond issues.

Mr. Laughlin informed committee members that a two-thirds vote was not necessary for expenditures of funds within Laughlin Associates. Mr. Laughlin said within the framework of Laughlin Associates the Board of Directors set the general policy and framework for the officers. Laughlin focused on bottom-line results. If the bottom-line results came in, the money would be spent, but if the bottom-line results did not come in, then the money would not be spent.

Don Merritt, a Nevada citizen, testified in support of AJR 21. Mr. Merritt said the committee had a wonderful opportunity to demonstrate to the people of Nevada the committee's concern for money. He iterated knowing two-thirds majority was required in both houses to increase taxes, true need would be addressed. Mr. Merritt indicated he would not oppose a tax increase if it was absolutely necessary and would be willing to pay his share. He stated there were times when temporary taxes were put in place and he believed the temporary taxes were still in place and yet there were current budgetary problems. Mr. Merritt urged the committee to vote in favor of AJR 21.

Jim Fontano, a Carson City resident, voiced concern with regard to taxation and the perception of the citizens with the government. Mr. Fontano testified in support of AJR 21. Mr. Fontano believed passing AJR 21 would assist with the perception of the government the citizens had. He believed the passing of AJR 21 would show some of the citizens the government was concerned.

Mr. Fontano echoed some of the testimony previously heard and added most citizens would agree to go along with a tax increase if there was a real need. Mr. Fontano offered his support for AJR 21.

Carole Vilardo, Nevada Taxpayers Association (NTA), testified in support of AJR 21. She echoed most of the testimony already presented to the committee. The NTA supported the bill because since 1988 there had been the need to accomplish structural fiscal reform, both tax-side and budget-side and AJR 21 was just one element in creating tax structural fiscal reform.

Bonnie James, representing the Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce, voiced the Chamber's support for AJR 21. She said most of the citizens did not realize most of the taxes passed out of committee had in fact passed with a two-thirds majority vote.

Ned Air, a Nevada citizen, strongly supported AJR 21. Mr. Air said he would like to use AJR 21 as a tool to entice businesses.

Ms. Air addressed Mrs. Williams comments with regard to waste and agreed there were many problems that needed to be met and he sympathized, however, when he drove down a street and saw three guys sitting around a hole talking while one guy was in the hole digging, he perceived that as waste. Mr. Air relayed a story that he believed demonstrated waste. Mr. Air encouraged the committee to do what was needed to gain a better perception from the public. Mr. Neighbors said it was Mr. Air's perception when he drove pass a manhole the employees were wasting time, but OSHA requirements might state there had to be a person standing above the manhole. He pointed out it could also be perception on the part of the citizen.

Vice Chairman Williams closed the hearing on AJR 21.

There being no further business to come before committee, the meeting was adjourned at 3:30 p.m.

Mr. Spitler was concerned with AB 331 because the proponents of the bill could not explain what would happen in the next biennium. AB 331 created another "fiscal responsibility that was a vacuum."

Mr. Neighbors added AB 331 would be passed along to the consumer.

Mr. Bennett recalled the hearing on AB 331 and commented he did not think a case was made at the hearing where there was any precedence for AB 331. He agreed with Mr. Spitler about the problem remaining in the next budget span. It was just bad policy. Mr. Bennett would not support AB 331.

BALLOT QUESTIONS

A compilation of ballot questions which will appear on the November 8, 1994, Nevada general election ballot

Issued by CHERYL A. LAU Secretary of State

LEGISLATIVE ENACTMENTS

The joint resolutions on the following pages are measures passed by the Nevada Legislature which placed Questions 1, 2,3,5 and 6 on the 1994 general election ballot. Material within the text in italics would if approved by the voters, be new language added to the constitution. Material in brackets would, if approved by the voters, be deleted. The term "66th session" refers to the 1991 Nevada Legislature, where the questions originated. Each of the ballot questions were approved by the 1991 and 1993 Legislature. If the measures are approved by the people, the amendments become part of the Nevada Constitution. The condensation, explanation, arguments and fiscal note of the measure have been prepared by the Legislative members or legislative staff.

Questions 4 and 7 are measures passed by the 1993 Nevada Legislature to amend the Sales and Use Tax Act of 1955. If approved by the voters it will amend the Sales and Use Tax Act.

INITIATIVE MEASURES

The Initiative measures, questions 8, 9, 10 and 11, are to amend the Nevada Constitution. If approved by the voters at the 1994 General Election, the Secretary of State shall resubmit the proposals to the voters at the 1996 General Election. If approved in 1996, the amendments would become part of the Nevada Constitution. The condensation, explanation, arguments and fiscal note of the measure have been prepared by the Secretary of State, upon consultation with the Attorney General.

NOTES TO VOTERS

NOTE NO. 1-

Ballot Questions 4 and 7 relate to Nevada's sales tax. It is important that you understand this tax and the process by which it may be changed. As noted below, only a portion of this tax may be changed by you, the voter.

Nevada's sales tax consists of three separate taxes levied at different rates on the sale and use of personal property in the state. The current total rate is 6.50 percent.

The tax includes:

Tax

1.	The Sales and Use Tax Percen	ıŁ
2.	The Local School Support Tax	Ĭ
3.	The City-County Relief Tax	ŧ
	Total	ŧ

Rate

The Sales and Use Tax may be amended or repealed only with the approval of the voters. The Local School Support Tax and the City-County Relief Tax may be amended or repealed by the legislature without the approval of the voters. For the questions on this ballot, however, the legislature has provided that the Local School Support Tax and the City-County Relief Tax will not be amended unless you approve the corresponding amendment to the Sales and Use Tax.

Depending on its population, each county is also authorized to impose an additional tax at a rate of up to 1 percent, subject to the approval of the voters or governing body in that county. These Additional taxes have, in some counties increased the rate of the sales tax above the rate imposed statewide.

NOTE NO. 2-

Bach ballot question includes a FISCAL NOTE that explains only the adverse effect on state and local governments (increased expenses or decreased revenues).

QUESTION NO. 11

An Initiative Relating to Tax Restraint

CONDENSATION (ballot question)

Shall the Nevada Constitution be amended to establish a requirement that at least a two-thirds vote of both houses of the legislature be necessary to pass a measure which generates or increases a tax, fee, assessment, rate or any other form of public revenue?

EXPLANATION

A two-thirds majority vote of both houses of the legislature would be required for the passage of any bill or joint resolution which would increase public revenue in any form. The legislature could, by a simple majority vote, refer any such proposal to a vote of the people at the next general election.

ARGUMENTS FOR PASSAGE

Proponents argue that one way to control the raising of taxes is to require more votes in the legislature before a measure increasing taxes could be passed; therefore, a smaller number of legislators could prevent the raising of taxes. This could limit increases in taxes, fees, assessments and assessment rates. A broad consensus of support from the entire state would be needed to pass these increases. It may be more difficult for special interest groups to get increases they favor. It may require state government to prioritize its spending and economize rather than turning to new sources of revenue. The legislature, by simple majority vote, could ask for the people to vote on any increase.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST PASSAGE

Opponents argue that a special interest group would only need a small minority of legislators to defeat any proposed revenue measure. Also a minority of legislators could band together to defeat a tax increase in return for a favorable vote on other legislation. Legislators act responsibly regarding increases in taxes since they are accountable to the public to get re-elected. If this amendment is approved, the state could impose unfunded mandates upon local governments. As a tourism based economy with a tremendous population growth, Nevada must remain flexible to change the tax base, if needed. Nevada should continue to operate by majority rule as the Nevada Constitution now provides.

FISCAL NOTE

Fiscal Impact-No. The proposal to amend the Nevada Constitution to require two-thirds vote to pass a bill or joint resolution which creates, generates or increases any public revenue in any form. The proposal would have no adverse fiscal impact to the State.

State of Nevada Ballot Questions 1996

A compilation of ballot questions which will appear on the November 5, 1996, General Election Ballot

Issued by

Dean Heller

Secretary of State

NOTES TO VOTERS

Note No. 1

Ballot Questions 13, 14, and 15 relate to Nevada's sales tax. It is important that you understand this tax and the process by which it may be changed. As noted below, only a portion of this tax may be changed by you, the voter, pursuant to the attached ballot questions.

Nevada's statewide sales tax consists of three separate parts levied at different rates on the sale and use of tangible personal property in the state. The current statewide combined rate is 6.50 percent. In addition to these three parts, each county also may impose additional taxes up to a combined rate of 1 percent, subject to the approval of the voters or governing body in that county. These additional taxes have, in seven counties, increased the rate of the sales tax above the 6.5 percent rate imposed statewide.

The tax includes:

	TAX	RATE
1.	The state Sales and Use Tax	2.00 Percent
2.	The Local School Support Tax (LSST)	2.25 Percent
3,	The City-County Relief Tax (CCRT)	2.25 Percent
4.	Optional local taxes - not more than	1.00 Percent

The state Sales and Use Tax may be amended or repealed only with the approval of the voters. The Local School Support Tax (LSST) and the City-County Relief Tax (CCRT) may be amended or repealed by the Legislature without the approval of the voters. For Questions 13 and 14 on this ballot, however, the Legislature has provided that the LSST and the CCRT will not be amended unless you approve the ballot question. Approval of Question 13 or Question 14 will also add an exemption to the optional local taxes. Question 15 addresses the state Sales and Use Tax only; an exemption from the LSST, CCRT, and optional taxes was previously approved in Senate Bill 311 of the 1995 Legislative Session.

Note No. 2

Each ballot question includes a Fiscal Note that explains only the adverse effect on state and local governments (increased expenses or decreased revenues). Ballot Questions 6 and 12 pertain to the state issuing bonds (borrowing money) that are repaid by state-imposed property tax revenues. It is estimated that current property tax revenues are sufficient to repay the bonds proposed in Questions 6 and 12.

Approved by the Legislative Commission March 27, 1996

CONDENSATION (ballot question)

FISCAL NOTE

Fiscal Impact-No. The proposal to amend the Nevada Constitution to require two-thirds vote to pass a bill or joint resolution which creates, generates or increases any public revenue in any form. The proposal would have no adverse fiscal impact to the State.

Legislative Leadership Legislative Building 401 S. Carson Street Carson City, NV 89701

Dear Legislative Leadership:

You have asked this office several legal questions relating to the two-thirds majority requirement in Article 4, Section 18(2) of the Nevada Constitution, which provides in relevant part that:

[A]n affirmative vote of not fewer than two-thirds of the members elected to each House is necessary to pass a bill or joint resolution which creates, generates, or increases any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates.

Nev. Const. art. 4, § 18(2).1

First, you have asked whether the two-thirds majority requirement applies to a bill which extends until a later date—or revises or eliminates—a future decrease in or future expiration of existing state taxes when that future decrease or expiration is not legally operative and binding yet. Second, you have asked whether the two-thirds majority requirement applies to a bill which reduces or eliminates available tax exemptions or tax credits applicable to existing state taxes.

Article 4, Section 18(2) uses the inclusive phrase "taxes, fees, assessments and rates." However, for ease of discussion in this letter, we will use the term "state taxes" to serve in the place of the inclusive phrase "taxes, fees, assessments and rates."

In response to your questions, we first provide pertinent background information regarding Nevada's constitutional requirements for the final passage of bills by the Legislature. Following that, we provide a detailed and comprehensive legal discussion of the relevant authorities that support our legal opinions regarding the application of Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement to your specific legal questions. Finally, we note that the legal opinions expressed in this letter are limited solely to the application of Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement to the specific types of bills directly discussed in this letter. We do not express any other legal opinions in this letter concerning the application of Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement to any other types of bills that are not directly discussed in this letter.

BACKGROUND

1. Purpose and intent of Nevada's original constitutional majority requirement for the final passage of bills.

When the Nevada Constitution was framed in 1864, the Framers debated whether the Legislature should be authorized to pass bills by a simple majority of a quorum under the traditional parliamentary rule or whether the Legislature should be required to meet a greater threshold for the final passage of bills. See Andrew J. Marsh, Official Report of the Debates and Proceedings of the Nevada State Constitutional Convention of 1864, at 143-45 (1866).

Under the traditional parliamentary rule, if a quorum of members is present in a legislative house, a simple majority of the quorum is sufficient for the final passage of bills by the house, unless a constitutional provision establishes a different requirement. See Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure § 510 (2010). This traditional parliamentary rule is followed by each House of Congress, which may pass bills by a simple majority of a quorum. United States v. Ballin, 144 U.S. 1, 6 (1892) ("[A]t the time this bill passed the house there was present a majority, a quorum, and the house was authorized to transact any and all business. It was in a condition to act on the bill if it desired."); 1 Thomas M. Cooley, Constitutional Limitations 291 (8th ed. 1927).

The Framers of the Nevada Constitution rejected the traditional parliamentary rule by providing in Article 4, Section 18 that "a majority of all the members elected to each House shall be necessary to pass every bill or joint resolution." Nev. Const. art. 4, § 18 (1864) (emphasis added). The purpose and intent of the Framers in adopting this constitutional majority requirement was to ensure that the Senate and Assembly could not pass bills by a simple majority of a quorum. See Andrew J. Marsh, Official Report of the Debates and Proceedings of the Nevada State Constitutional Convention of 1864, at 143-45 (1866); see also Andrew J. Marsh & Samuel L. Clemens, Reports of the 1863 Constitutional Convention of the Territory of Nevada, at 208 (1972).

The constitutional majority requirement for the final passage of bills is now codified in Article 4, Section 18(1), and it provides that "a majority of all the members elected to each House is necessary to pass every bill," unless the bill is subject to the two-thirds majority requirement in Article 4, Section 18(2). Under the constitutional majority requirement in Article 4, Section 18(1), the Senate and Assembly may pass a bill only if a majority of the entire membership authorized by law to be elected to each House votes in favor of the bill. See Marionneaux v. Hines, 902 So. 2d 373, 377-79 (La. 2005) (holding that in constitutional provisions requiring a majority or super-majority of members elected to each house to pass a legislative measure or constitute a quorum, the terms "members elected" and "elected members" mean the entire membership authorized by law to be elected to each house); State ex rel. Garland v. Guillory, 166 So. 94, 101-02 (La. 1935); In re Majority of Legislature, 8 Haw, 595, 595-98 (1892).

Thus, under the current membership authorized by law to be elected to the Senate and Assembly, if a bill requires a constitutional majority for final passage under Article 4, Section 18(1), the Senate may pass the bill only with an affirmative vote of at least 11 of its 21 members, and the Assembly may pass the bill only with an affirmative vote of at least 22 of its 42 members. See Nev. Const. art. 4, § 5, art. 15, § 6 & art. 17, § 6 (directing the Legislature to establish by law the number of members of the Senate and Assembly); NRS Chapter 218B (establishing by law 21 members of the Senate and 42 members of the Assembly).

2. Purpose and intent of Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement for the final passage of bills which create, generate or increase any public revenue in any form.

At the general elections in 1994 and 1996, Nevada's voters approved constitutional amendments to Article 4, Section 18 that were proposed by a ballot initiative pursuant to Article 19, Section 2 of the Nevada Constitution. The amendments provide that:

Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3, an affirmative vote of not fewer than two-thirds of the members elected to each House is necessary to pass a bill or joint resolution which creates, generates, or increases any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates.

Nev. Const. art. 4, § 18(2) (emphasis added). The amendments also include an exception in subsection 3, which provides that "[a] majority of all of the members elected to each House may refer any measure which creates, generates, or increases any revenue in any form to the people of the State at the next general election." Nev. Const. art. 4, § 18(3) (emphasis added).

Under the two-thirds majority requirement, if a bill "creates, generates, or increases any public revenue in any form," the Senate may pass the bill only with an affirmative vote of at least 14 of its 21 members, and the Assembly may pass the bill only with an affirmative vote of at least 28 of its 42 members. However, if the two-thirds majority requirement does not apply to the bill, the Senate and Assembly may pass the bill by a constitutional majority in each House.

When the ballot initiative adding the two-thirds majority requirement to the Nevada Constitution was presented to the voters in 1994 and 1996, one of the primary sponsors of the initiative was former Assemblyman Jim Gibbons. See Guinn v. Legislature (Guinn II), 119 Nev. 460, 471-72 (2003) (discussing the two-thirds majority requirement and describing Assemblyman Gibbons as "the initiative's prime sponsor"). During the 1993 Legislative Session, Assemblyman Gibbons sponsored Assembly Joint Resolution No. 21 (A.J.R. 21), which proposed adding a two-thirds majority requirement to Article 4, Section 18(2), but Assemblyman Gibbons was not successful in obtaining its passage, See Legislative History of A.J.R. 21, 67th Leg. (Nev. LCB Research Library 1993). Nevertheless, because Assemblyman Gibbons' legislative testimony on A.J.R. 21 in 1993 provides some contemporaneous extrinsic evidence of the purpose and intent of the two-thirds majority requirement, the Nevada Supreme Court has reviewed and considered that testimony when discussing the two-thirds majority requirement that was ultimately approved by the voters in 1994 and 1996. Guinn II, 119 Nev. at 472.

In his legislative testimony on A.J.R. 21 in 1993, Assemblyman Gibbons stated that the two-thirds majority requirement was modeled on similar constitutional provisions in other states, including Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma and South Dakota. Legislative History of A.J.R. 21, supra (Hearing on A.J.R. 21 Before Assembly Comm. on Taxation, 67th Leg., at 11-13 (Nev. May 4, 1993)). Assemblyman Gibbons testified that the two-thirds majority requirement would "require a two-thirds majority vote in each house of the legislature to increase certain existing taxes or to impose certain new taxes." Id. However, Assemblyman Gibbons also stated that the two-thirds majority requirement "would not impair any existing revenues." Id. Instead, Assemblyman Gibbons indicated that the two-thirds majority requirement "would bring greater stability to Nevada's tax systems, while still allowing the flexibility to meet real fiscal needs" because "Mr. Gibbons thought it would not be difficult to obtain a two-thirds majority if the need for new revenues was clear and convincing." Id. (emphasis added). In particular, Assemblyman Gibbons testified as follows:

In Guinn v. Legislature, the Nevada Supreme Court issued two reported opinions—Guinn I and Guinn II—that discussed the two-thirds majority requirement, Guinn v. Legislature (Guinn II), 119 Nev. 277 (2003), opinion clarified on denial of reh'g, Guinn v. Legislature (Guinn II), 119 Nev. 460 (2003). In 2006, the court overruled certain portions of its Guinn I opinion. Nevadans for Nev. v. Beers, 122 Nev. 930, 944 (2006). However, even though the court overruled certain portions of its Guinn I opinion, the court has not overruled any portion of its Guinn II opinion, which remains good law.

James A. Gibbons, Assembly District 25, spoke as the prime sponsor of A.J.R. 21 which proposed to amend the Nevada Constitution to require a two-thirds majority vote in each house of the legislature to increase certain existing taxes or to impose certain new taxes.

Mr. Gibbons stressed A.J.R. 21 amended the Nevada Constitution to require bills providing for a general tax increase be passed by a two-thirds majority of both houses of the legislature. The resolution would apply to property taxes, sales and use taxes, business taxes based on income, receipts, assets, capital stock or number of employees, taxes on net proceeds of mines and taxes on liquor and cigarettes.

Mr. Gibbons explained A.J.R. 21 was modeled on constitutional provisions which were in effect in a number of other states. Some of the provisions were adopted recently in response to a growing concern among voters about increasing tax burdens and some of the other provisions dated back to earlier times.

Mr. Gibbons believed a provision requiring an extraordinary majority was a device used to hedge or protect certain laws which he believed should not be lightly changed. A.J.R. 21 would ensure greater stability and preserve certain statutes from the constant tinkering of transient majorities.

Mr. Gibbons addressed some of the anticipated objections. Some will claim A.J.R. 21 would deprive the state of revenues necessary to provide essential state services. Mr. Gibbons conveyed that was not the case. A.J.R. 21 would not impair any existing revenues. It was not a tax rollback and did not impose rigid caps on taxes or spending. Mr. Gibbons thought it would not be difficult to obtain a two-thirds majority if the need for new revenues was clear and convincing. A.J.R. 21 would not hamstring state government or prevent state government from responding to legitimate fiscal emergencies.

Mr. Gibbons concluded by saying the measure did not propose government do less, but actually A.J.R. 21 could permit government to do more. A.J.R. 21 was a simple moderate measure that would bring greater stability to Nevada's tax systems, while still allowing the flexibility to meet real fiscal needs. Mr. Gibbons urged the committee's approval of A.J.R. 21.

Legislative History of A.J.R. 21, supra (Hearing on A.J.R. 21 Before Assembly Comm. on Taxation, 67th Leg., at 11-13 (Nev. May 4, 1993) (emphasis added)).

In addition to Assemblyman Gibbons' legislative testimony on A.J.R. 21 in 1993, the ballot materials presented to the voters in 1994 and 1996 also provide some contemporaneous extrinsic evidence of the purpose and intent of the two-thirds majority requirement. Guinn, 119 Nev. at 471-72. The ballot materials informed the voters that the two-thirds majority requirement would make it more difficult for the Legislature to enact bills "raising" or "increasing" taxes and that "[1]t may require state government to prioritize its spending and economize rather than turning to new sources of revenue." Nev. Ballot Questions 1994. Question No. 11, at 1 (Nev. Sec'y of State 1994) (emphasis added). In particular, the ballot materials stated as follows:

ARGUMENTS FOR PASSAGE

Proponents argue that one way to control the raising of taxes is to require more votes in the legislature before a measure increasing taxes could be passed; therefore, a smaller number of legislators could prevent the raising of taxes. This could limit increases in taxes, fees, assessments and assessment rates. A broad consensus of support from the entire state would be needed to pass these increases. It may be more difficult for special interest groups to get increases they favor. It may require state government to prioritize its spending and economize rather than turning to new sources of revenue. The legislature, by simple majority vote, could ask for the people to vote on any increase.

ARGUMENTS AGAINST PASSAGE

Opponents argue that a special interest group would only need a small minority of legislators to defeat any proposed revenue measure. Also a minority of legislators could band together to defeat a tax increase in return for a favorable vote on other legislation. Legislators act responsibly regarding increases in taxes since they are accountable to the public to get re-elected. If this amendment is approved, the state could impose unfunded mandates upon local governments. As a tourism based economy with a tremendous population growth, Nevada must remain flexible to change the tax base, if needed. Nevada should continue to operate by majority rule as the Nevada Constitution now provides.

Nev. Ballot Questions 1994, Question No. 11, at 1 (Nev. Sec'y of State 1994) (emphasis added).

Finally, based on Assemblyman Gibbons' legislative testimony on A.J.R. 21 in 1993 and the ballot materials presented to the voters in 1994 and 1996, the Nevada Supreme Court has described the purpose and intent of the two-thirds majority requirement as follows:

The supermajority requirement was intended to make it more difficult for the Legislature to pass new taxes, hopefully encouraging efficiency and effectiveness in government. Its proponents argued that the tax restriction might also encourage state government to prioritize its spending and economize rather than explore new sources of revenue.

Guinn II, 119 Nev. at 471 (emphasis added).

With this background information in mind, we turn next to discussing your specific legal questions.

DISCUSSION

You have asked several legal questions relating to the two-thirds majority requirement in Article 4, Section 18(2). First, you have asked whether the two-thirds majority requirement applies to a bill which extends until a later date—or revises or eliminates—a future decrease in or future expiration of existing state taxes when that future decrease or expiration is not legally operative and binding yet. Second, you have asked whether the two-thirds majority requirement applies to a bill which reduces or eliminates available tax exemptions or tax credits applicable to existing state taxes.

To date, there are no reported cases from Nevada's appellate courts addressing these legal questions. In the absence of any controlling Nevada case law, we must address these legal questions by: (1) applying several well-established rules of construction followed by Nevada's appellate courts; (2) examining contemporaneous extrinsic evidence of the purpose and intent of the two-thirds majority requirement when it was considered by the Legislature in 1993 and presented to the voters in 1994 and 1996; and (3) considering case law interpreting similar constitutional provisions from other jurisdictions for guidance in this area of the law.

We begin by discussing the rules of construction for constitutional provisions approved by the voters through a ballot initiative. Following that discussion, we answer each of your specific legal questions.

1. Rules of construction for constitutional provisions approved by the voters through a ballot initiative.

The Nevada Supreme Court has long held that the rules of statutory construction also govern the interpretation of constitutional provisions, including provisions approved by the voters through a ballot initiative. See Lorton v. Jones, 130 Nev. 51, 56-57 (2014) (applying the rules of statutory construction to the constitutional term-limit provisions approved by the voters through a ballot initiative). As stated by the court:

In construing constitutions and statutes, the first and last duty of courts is to ascertain the intention of the convention and legislature; and in doing this they must be governed by well-settled rules, applicable alike to the construction of constitutions and statutes.

State ex rel. Wright v. Dovey, 19 Nev. 396, 399 (1887). Thus, when applying the rules of construction to constitutional provisions approved by the voters through a ballot initiative, the primary task of the court is to ascertain the intent of the drafters and the voters and to adopt an interpretation that best captures their objective. Nev. Mining Ass'n v. Erdoes, 117 Nev. 531, 538 (2001).

To ascertain the intent of the drafters and the voters, the court will first examine the language of the constitutional provision to determine whether it has a plain and ordinary meaning. Miller v. Burk, 124 Nev. 579, 590 (2008). If the constitutional language is clear on its face and is not susceptible to any ambiguity, uncertainty or doubt, the court will generally give the constitutional language its plain and ordinary meaning, unless doing so would violate the spirit of the provision or would lead to an absurd or unreasonable result. Miller, 124 Nev. at 590-91; Nev. Mining Ass'n, 117 Nev. at 542 & n,29.

However, if the constitutional language is capable of "two or more reasonable but inconsistent interpretations," making it susceptible to ambiguity, uncertainty or doubt, the court will interpret the constitutional provision according to what history, reason and public policy would indicate the drafters and the voters intended. Miller, 124 Nev. at 590 (quoting Gallagher v. City of Las Vegas, 114 Nev. 595, 599 (1998)). Under such circumstances, the court will look "beyond the language to adopt a construction that best reflects the intent behind the provision." Sparks Nugget, Inc. v. State, Dep't of Tax'n, 124 Nev. 159, 163 (2008). Thus, if there is any ambiguity, uncertainty or doubt as to the meaning of a constitutional provision, "[t]he intention of those who framed the instrument must govern, and that intention may be gathered from the subject-matter, the effects and consequences, or from the reason and spirit of the law." State ex rel. Cardwell v. Glenn, 18 Nev. 34, 42 (1883).

Furthermore, even when there is some ambiguity, uncertainty or doubt as to the meaning of a constitutional provision, that ambiguity, uncertainty or doubt must be resolved in favor of the Legislature and its general power to enact legislation. When the Nevada Constitution imposes limitations upon the Legislature's power, those limitations "are to be strictly construed, and are not to be given effect as against the general power of the legislature, unless such limitations clearly inhibit the act in question." In re Platz, 60 Nev. 296, 308 (1940) (quoting Baldwin v. State, 3 S.W. 109, 111 (Tex. Ct. App. 1886)). As a result, the language of the Nevada Constitution "must be strictly construed in favor of the power of the legislature to enact the legislation under it." Id. Therefore, even when a constitutional provision imposes restrictions and limitations upon the Legislature's power, those "[r]estrictions and limitations are not extended to include matters not covered." City of Los Angeles v. Post War Pub. Works Rev. Bd., 156 P.2d 746, 754 (Cal. 1945).

For example, under the South Dakota Constitution, the South Dakota Legislature may pass its general appropriations bill to fund the operating expenses of state government by a majority of all the members elected to each House, but the final passage of any special appropriations bills to authorize funding for other purposes requires "a two-thirds vote of all the members of each branch of the Legislature." S.D. Const. art. III, § 18, art. XII, § 2. In interpreting this two-thirds majority requirement, the South Dakota Supreme Court has determined that the requirement must not be extended by construction or inference to include situations not clearly within its terms. Apa v. Butler, 638 N.W.2d 57, 69-70 (S.D. 2001). As further explained by the court:

[P]etitioners strongly urged during oral argument that the challenged appropriations from the [special funds] must be special appropriations because it took a two-thirds majority vote of each House of the legislature to create the two special funds in the first instance. Petitioners correctly pointed out that allowing money from the two funds to be reappropriated in the general appropriations bill would allow the legislature to undo by a simple majority vote what it took a two-thirds majority to create. On that basis, petitioners invite this Court to read a two-thirds vote requirement into the Constitution for the amendment or repeal of any special continuing appropriations measure. This we cannot do.

Our Constitution must be construed by its plain meaning: "If the words and language of the provision are unambiguous, 'the language in the constitution must be applied as it reads." Cid v. S.D. Dep't of Social Servs., 598 N.W.2d 887, 890 (S.D. 1999). Here, the constitutional two-thirds voting requirement for appropriations measures is only imposed on the passage of a special appropriation. See S.D. Const. art. XII, § 2. There is no constitutional requirement for a two-thirds vote on the repeal or amendment of an existing special appropriation, not to mention a continuing special appropriation. Generally: [s]pecial provisions in the constitution as to the number of votes required for the passage of acts of a particular nature... are not extended by construction or inference to include situations not clearly within their terms. Accordingly, a special provision regulating the number of votes necessary for the passage of bills of a certain character does not apply to the repeal of laws of this character, or to an act which only amends them.

Apa, 638 N.W.2d at 69-70 (quoting 82 C.J.S. Statutes § 39 (1999) (republished as 82 C.J.S. Statutes § 52 (Westlaw 2019)).

Lastly, in matters involving state constitutional law, the Nevada Supreme Court is the final arbiter or interpreter of the meaning of the Nevada Constitution. Nevadans for Nev. v. Beers, 122 Nev. 930, 943 n.20 (2006) ("A well-established tenet of our legal system is that the judiciary is endowed with the duty of constitutional interpretation."); Guinn II, 119 Nev. at 471 (describing the Nevada Supreme Court and its justices "as the ultimate custodians of constitutional meaning."). Nevertheless, even though the final power to decide the meaning of the Nevada Constitution ultimately rests with the judiciary, "[i]n the performance of assigned constitutional duties each branch of the Government must initially interpret the Constitution, and the interpretation of its powers by any branch is due great respect from the others." United States v. Nixon, 418 U.S. 683, 703 (1974).

Accordingly, the Nevada Supreme Court has recognized that a reasonable construction of a constitutional provision by the Legislature should be given great weight. State ex rel. Coffin v. Howell, 26 Nev. 93, 104-05 (1901); State ex rel. Cardwell v. Glenn, 18 Nev. 34, 43-46 (1883). This is particularly true when a constitutional provision concerns the passage of legislation. Id. Thus, when construing a constitutional provision, "although the action of the legislature is not final, its decision upon this point is to be treated by the courts with the consideration which is due to a co-ordinate department of the state government, and in case of a reasonable doubt as to the meaning of the words, the construction given to them by the legislature ought to prevail." Dayton Gold & Silver Mining Co. v. Seawell, 11 Nev. 394, 399-400 (1876).

The weight given to the Legislature's construction of a constitutional provision involving legislative procedure is of particular force when the meaning of the constitutional provision is subject to any uncertainty, ambiguity or doubt. Nev. Mining Ass'n, 117 Nev. at 539-40. Under such circumstances, the Legislature may rely on an opinion of the Legislative Counsel which interprets the constitutional provision, and "the Legislature is entitled to deference in its counseled selection of this interpretation." Id. at 540. For example, when the meaning of the term "midnight Pacific standard time," as formerly used in the constitutional provision limiting legislative sessions to 120 days, was subject to uncertainty, ambiguity and doubt following the 2001 Legislative Session, the Nevada Supreme Court explained that the Legislature's interpretation of the constitutional provision was entitled to deference because "[i]n choosing this interpretation, the Legislature acted on Legislative Counsel's opinion that this is a reasonable construction of the provision. We agree that it is, and the Legislature is entitled to deference in its counseled selection of this interpretation." Id.

Consequently, in determining whether the two-thirds majority requirement applies to a particular bill, the Legislature has the power to interpret Article 4, Section 18(2), in the first instance, as a reasonable and necessary corollary power to the exercise of its expressly granted and exclusive constitutional power to enact laws by the passage of bills. See Nev. Const. art. 4, § 23 (providing that "no law shall be enacted except by bill."); State ex rel. Torreyson v. Grey, 21 Nev. 378, 380-84 (1893) (discussing the power of the Legislature to interpret constitutional provisions governing legislative procedure). Moreover, because Article 4, Section 18(2) involves the exercise of the Legislature's lawmaking power, any uncertainty, ambiguity or doubt regarding the application of the two-thirds majority requirement must be resolved in favor of the Legislature's lawmaking power and against restrictions on that power. See Platz, 60 Nev. at 308 (stating that the language of the Nevada Constitution "must be strictly construed in favor of the power of the legislature to enact the legislation under it."). As further explained by the Nevada Supreme Court:

Briefly stated, legislative power is the power of law-making representative bodies to frame and enact laws, and to amend or repeal them. This power is indeed very broad, and, except where limited by Federal or State Constitutional provisions, that power is practically absolute. Unless there are specific constitutional limitations to the contrary, statutes are to be construed in favor of the legislative power.

Galloway v. Truesdell, 83 Nev. 13, 20 (1967).

Finally, when the Legislature exercises its power to interpret Article 4, Section 18(2) in the first instance, the Legislature may resolve any uncertainty, ambiguity or doubt regarding the application of the two-thirds majority requirement by following an opinion of the Legislative Counsel which interprets the constitutional provision, and the judiciary will typically afford the Legislature deference in its counseled selection of that interpretation. With these rules of construction as our guide, we must apply them in the same manner as Nevada's appellate courts to answer each of your specific legal questions.

2. Does the two-thirds majority requirement apply to a bill which extends until a later date—or revises or eliminates—a future decrease in or future expiration of existing state taxes when that future decrease or expiration is not legally operative and binding yet?

Under the rules of construction, we must start by examining the plain language of the two-thirds majority requirement in Article 4, Section 18(2), which provides in relevant part that:

[A]n affirmative vote of not fewer than two-thirds of the members elected to each House is necessary to pass a bill or joint resolution which creates, generates, or increases any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates.

Nev. Const. art. 4, § 18(2) (emphasis added).

Based on its plain language, the two-thirds majority requirement applies to a bill which "creates, generates, or increases any public revenue in any form." The two-thirds majority requirement, however, does not provide any definitions to assist the reader in applying the terms "creates, generates, or increases." Therefore, in the absence of any constitutional definitions, we must give those terms their ordinary and commonly understood meanings.

As explained by the Nevada Supreme Court, "[w]hen a word is used in a statute or constitution, it is supposed it is used in its ordinary sense, unless the contrary is indicated." Ex parte Ming, 42 Nev. 472, 492 (1919); Seaborn v. Wingfield, 56 Nev. 260, 267 (1935) (stating that a word or term "appearing in the constitution must be taken in its general or usual sense."). To arrive at the ordinary and commonly understood meaning of the constitutional language, the court will usually rely upon dictionary definitions because those definitions reflect the ordinary meanings that are commonly ascribed to words and terms. See Rogers v. Heller, 117 Nev. 169, 173 & n.8 (2001); Cunningham v. State, 109 Nev. 569, 571 (1993). Therefore, unless it is clear that the drafters of a constitutional provision intended for a term to be given a technical meaning, the court has emphasized that "[t]he Constitution was written to be understood by the voters; its words and phrases were used in their normal and ordinary as distinguished from technical meaning." Strickland v. Waymire, 126 Nev. 230, 234 (2010) (quoting Dist. of Columbia v. Heller, 554 U.S. 570, 576 (2008)).

Accordingly, in interpreting the two-thirds majority requirement, we must review the normal and ordinary meanings commonly ascribed to the terms "creates, generates, or increases" in Article 4, Section 18(2). The common dictionary meaning of the term "create" is to "bring into existence" or "produce." Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary 304 (9th ed. 1991). The common dictionary meaning of the term "generate" is also to "bring into existence" or "produce." Id. at 510. Finally, the common dictionary meaning of the term "increase" is to "make greater" or "enlarge." Id. at 611.

Based on the normal and ordinary meanings of the terms "creates, generates, or increases" as used in Article 4, Section 18(2), we believe that the two-thirds majority requirement applies to a bill which directly brings into existence, produces or enlarges public revenue in the first instance by imposing new or increased state taxes. However, when a bill does not impose new or increased state taxes but simply maintains the existing "computation bases" currently in effect for existing state taxes, we do not believe that the two-thirds majority requirement applies to the bill.

Given the plain language in Article 4, Section 18(2), the two-thirds majority requirement applies to a bill which makes "changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates." Nev. Const. art. 4, § 18(2) (emphasis added). Based on its normal and ordinary meaning, a "computation base" is a formula that consists of "a number that is multiplied by a rate or [from] which a percentage or fraction is calculated." Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary 133 & 271 (9th ed. 1991) (defining the terms "computation" and "base"). In other words, a "computation base" is a formula which consists of a base number, such as an amount of money, and a number serving as a multiplier, such as a percentage or fraction, that is used to calculate the product of those two numbers.

By applying the normal and ordinary meaning of the term "computation base," we believe that the two-thirds majority requirement applies to a bill which directly changes the statutory computation bases—that is, the statutory formulas—used for calculating existing state taxes, so that the revised statutory formulas directly bring into existence, produce or enlarge public revenue in the first instance because the existing statutory base numbers or the existing statutory multipliers are changed by the bill in a manner that "creates, generates, or increases any public revenue." Nev. Const. art. 4, § 18(2). However, when a bill does not change—but maintains—the existing statutory base numbers and the existing statutory multipliers currently in effect for the existing statutory formulas, we do not believe that the bill "creates, generates, or increases any public revenue" within the meaning, purpose and intent of the two-thirds majority requirement because the existing "computation bases" currently in effect are not changed by the bill. Id.

Accordingly, to answer your first question, we must determine whether a bill which extends until a later date—or revises or eliminates—a future decrease in or future expiration of existing state taxes would be considered a bill which changes or one which maintains the existing computation bases currently in effect for the existing state taxes. In order to make this determination, we must consider several well-established rules of construction governing statutes that are not legally operative and binding yet.

It is well established that "[t]he existence of a law, and the time when it shall take effect, are two separate and distinct things. The law exists from the date of approval, but its operation [may be] postponed to a future day." People ex rel. Graham v. Inglis, 43 N.E. 1103, 1104 (III. 1896). Thus, because the Legislature has the power to postpone the operation of a statute until a later time, it may enact a statute that has both an effective date and a later operative date. 82 C.J.S. Statutes § 549 (Westlaw 2019). Under such circumstances, the effective date is the date upon which the statute becomes an existing law, but the later operative date is the date upon which the requirements of the statute will actually become legally binding. 82 C.J.S. Statutes § 549 (Westlaw 2019); Preston v. State Bd. of Equal., 19 P.3d 1148, 1167 (Cal. 2001). When a statute has both an effective date and a later operative date, the statute must be understood as speaking from its later operative date when it actually becomes legally binding and not from its earlier effective date when it becomes an existing law but does not have any legally binding requirements yet. 82 C.J.S. Statutes § 549 (Westlaw 2019); Longview Co. v. Lynn, 108 P.2d 365, 373 (Wash. 1940). Consequently, until the statute reaches its later operative date, the statute is not legally operative and binding yet, and the statute does not confer any presently existing and enforceable legal rights or benefits under its provisions. Id.; Levinson v. City of Kansas City, 43 S.W.3d 312, 316-18 (Mo. Ct. App. 2001).

Consequently, if an existing statute provides for a future decrease in or future expiration of existing state taxes, that future decrease or expiration is not legally operative and binding yet, and the statute does not confer any presently existing and enforceable legal rights or benefits under its provisions to that future decrease or expiration. Because such a future decrease or expiration is not legally operative and binding yet, we believe that the two-thirds majority requirement does not apply to a bill which extends until a later date—or revises or eliminates—the future decrease or expiration because such a bill does not change—but maintains—the existing computation bases currently in effect for the existing state taxes.

We find support for our interpretation of the plain language in Article 4, Section 18(2) from the contemporaneous extrinsic evidence of the purpose and intent of the two-thirds majority requirement when it was considered by the Legislature in 1993 and presented to the voters in 1994 and 1996.

When interpreting constitutional provisions approved by the voters through a ballot initiative, the court may consider contemporaneous extrinsic evidence of the purpose and intent of the constitutional provisions that was available when the initiative was presented to the voters for approval. See 42 Am. Jur. 2d Initiative & Referendum § 49 (Westlaw 2019) ("To the extent possible, when interpreting a ballot initiative, courts attempt to place themselves in the position of the voters at the time the initiative was placed on the ballot and try to interpret the initiative using the tools available to citizens at that time."). However, even though the court may consider contemporaneous extrinsic evidence of intent, the court will not consider post-enactment statements, affidavits or testimony from sponsors regarding their intent. See A-NLV Cab Co. v. State Taxicab Auth., 108 Nev. 92, 95-96 (1992) (holding that the court will not consider post-enactment statements, affidavits or testimony from legislators as a means of establishing their legislative intent, and any such materials are inadmissible in evidence as a matter of law); Alaskans for a Common Language, Inc. v. Kritz, 170 P.3d 183, 193 (Alaska 2007) ("Because we must construe an initiative by looking to the materials considered by the voters themselves, we cannot rely on affidavits of the sponsors' intent."); 42 Am. Jur. 2d Initiative & Referendum § 49 (Westlaw 2019).

The court may find contemporaneous extrinsic evidence of intent from the legislative history surrounding the proposal and approval of the ballot measure. See Ramsey v. City of N. Las Vegas, 133 Nev. Adv. Op. 16, 392 P.3d 614, 617-19 (2017). The court also may find contemporaneous extrinsic evidence of intent from statements made by proponents and opponents of the ballot measure. See Guinn II, 119 Nev. at 471-72. Finally, the court may find contemporaneous extrinsic evidence of intent from the ballot materials provided to the voters, such as the question, explanation and arguments for and against passage included in the sample ballots sent to the voters. See Nev. Mining Ass'n, 117 Nev. at 539; Pellegrini v. State, 117 Nev. 860, 876-77 (2001).

As discussed previously, based on the legislative testimony surrounding A.J.R. 21 in 1993 and the ballot materials presented to the voters in 1994 and 1996, there is contemporaneous extrinsic evidence that the two-thirds majority requirement was intended to apply to a bill which directly brings into existence, produces or enlarges public revenue in the first instance by raising "new taxes" or "new revenues" or by increasing "existing taxes." Legislative History of A.J.R. 21, supra (Hearing on A.J.R. 21 Before Assembly Comm. on Taxation, 67th Leg., at 11-13 (Nev. May 4, 1993)); Nev. Ballot Questions 1994, Question No. 11, at 1 (Nev. Sec'y of State 1994). However, the contemporaneous extrinsic evidence also indicates that the two-thirds majority requirement was not intended to "impair any existing revenues." Id.

Furthermore, there is nothing in the contemporaneous extrinsic evidence to indicate that the two-thirds majority requirement was intended to apply to a bill which does not change—but maintains—the existing computation bases currently in effect for existing state taxes. We believe that the absence of such contemporaneous extrinsic evidence is consistent with the fact that: (1) such a bill does not raise new state taxes and revenues because it maintains the existing state taxes and revenues currently in effect; and (2) such a bill does not increase the existing state taxes and revenues currently in effect—but maintains them in their current state under the law—because the existing computation bases currently in effect are not changed by the bill.

Finally, we find support for our interpretation of the plain language in Article 4, Section 18(2) based on the case law interpreting similar constitutional provisions from other jurisdictions. As discussed previously, the two-thirds majority requirement in the Nevada Constitution was modeled on constitutional provisions from other states. Legislative History of A.J.R. 21, supra (Hearing on A.J.R. 21 Before Assembly Comm. on Taxation, 67th Leg., at 12-13 (Nev. May 4, 1993)). As confirmed by Assemblyman Gibbons:

Mr. Gibbons explained A.J.R. 21 was modeled on constitutional provisions which were in effect in a number of other states. Some of the provisions were adopted recently in response to a growing concern among voters about increasing tax burdens and some of the other provisions dated back to earlier times.

Id. at 12.

Under the rules of construction, "[w]hen Nevada legislation is patterned after a federal statute or the law of another state, it is understood that 'the courts of the adopting state usually follow the construction placed on the statute in the jurisdiction of its inception." Advanced Sports Info. v. Novotnak, 114 Nev. 336, 340 (1998) (quoting Sec. Inv. Co. v. Donnelley, 89 Nev. 341, 347 n.6 (1973)). Thus, if a provision in the Nevada Constitution is modeled on a similar constitutional provision "from a sister state, it is presumably adopted with the construction given it by the highest court of the sister state." State ex rel. Harvey v. Second Jud. Dist. Ct., 117 Nev. 754, 763 (2001) ("[S]ince Nevada relied upon the California Constitution as a basis for developing the Nevada Constitution, it is appropriate for us to look to the California Supreme Court's interpretation of the [similar] language in the California Constitution.").

Consequently, in interpreting and applying Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement, it is appropriate to consider case law from the other states where courts have interpreted the similar supermajority requirements that served as the model for Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement. Furthermore, in considering that case law, we must presume that the drafters and voters intended for Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement to be interpreted in a manner that adopts and follows the judicial interpretations placed on the similar supermajority requirements by the courts from those other states.

In 1992, the voters of Oklahoma approved a state constitutional provision imposing a three-fourths supermajority requirement on the Oklahoma Legislature that applies to "[a]ll bills for raising revenue" or "[a]ny revenue bill." Okla. Const. art. V, § 33. In addition, Oklahoma has a state constitutional provision, known as an "Origination Clause," which provides that "[a]ll bills for raising revenue" must originate in the lower house of the Oklahoma Legislature. Id. The Oklahoma Supreme Court has adopted the same interpretation for the term "bills for raising revenue" with regard to both state constitutional provisions. Okla. Auto. Dealers Ass'n v. State ex rel. Okla. Tax Comm'n, 401 P.3d 1152, 1158 n.35 (Okla. 2017). In relevant part, Oklahoma's constitutional provisions state:

A. All bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives. The Senate may propose amendments to revenue bills.

D. Any revenue bill originating in the House of Representatives may become law without being submitted to a vote of the people of the state if such bill receives the approval of three-fourths (3/4) of the membership of the House of Representatives and three-fourths (3/4) of the membership of the Senate and is submitted to the Governor for appropriate action. * * *

Okla, Const. art. V, § 33 (emphasis added).

In Fent v. Fallin, 345 P.3d 1113, 1114-15 (Okla. 2014), the petitioner claimed that Oklahoma's supermajority requirement applied to a bill which modified Oklahoma's income tax rates even though the effect of the modifications did not increase revenue. The bill included provisions "deleting expiration date of specified tax rate levy." Id. at 1116 n.6. The Oklahoma Supreme Court held that the supermajority requirement did not apply to the bill. Id. at 1115-18. In discussing the purpose and intent of Oklahoma's supermajority requirement for "bills for raising revenue," the court found that:

[T]he ballot title reveals that the measure was aimed only at bills "intended to raise revenue" and "revenue raising bills." The plain, popular, obvious and natural meaning of "raise" in this context is "increase," This plain and popular meaning was expressed in the public theme and message of the proponents of this amendment: "No New Taxes Without a Vote of the People."

Reading the ballot title and text of the provision together reveals the 1992 amendment had two primary purposes. First, the amendment has the effect of limiting the generation of State revenue to existing revenue measures. Second, the amendment requires future bills "intended to raise revenue" to be approved by either a vote of the people or a three-fourths majority in both houses of the Legislature.

Id. at 1117.

Based on the purpose and intent of Oklahoma's supermajority requirement for "bills for raising revenue," the court determined that "[n]othing in the ballot title or text of the provision reveals any intent to bar or restrict the Legislature from amending the existing revenue measures, so long as such statutory amendments do not 'raise' or increase the tax burden." Id. at 1117-18. Given that the bill at issue in Fent included provisions "deleting expiration date of specified tax rate levy," we must presume the court concluded that those provisions of the bill did not result in an increase in the tax burden that triggered the supermajority requirement even though those provisions of the bill eliminated the future expiration of existing state taxes.

In Naifeh v. State ex rel. Okla. Tax Comm'n, 400 P.3d 759, 761 (Okla. 2017), the petitioners claimed that Oklahoma's supermajority requirement applied to a bill which was intended to "generate approximately $225 million per year in new revenue for the State through a new $1.50 assessment on each pack of cigarettes." The state argued that the supermajority requirement did not apply to the cigarette-assessment bill because it was a regulatory measure, not a revenue measure. Id. at 766. In particular, the state contended that: (1) the primary purposes of the bill were to reduce the incidence of smoking and compensate the state for the harms caused by smoking; (2) any raising of revenue by the bill was merely incidental to those purposes; and (3) the bill did not levy a tax, but rather assessed a regulatory fee whose proceeds would be used to offset the costs of State-provided healthcare for those who smoke, even though most of the revenue generated by the bill was not earmarked for that purpose. Id. at 766-68.

The Oklahoma Supreme Court held that the supermajority requirement applied to the cigarette-assessment bill because the text of the bill "conclusively demonstrate[d] that the primary operation and effect of the measure [was] to raise new revenue to support state government." Id. at 766 (emphasis added). In reaching its holding, the court reiterated the two-part test that it uses to determine whether a bill is subject to Oklahoma's supermajority requirement for "bills for raising revenue." Id. at 765. Under the two-part test, a bill is subject to the supermajority requirement if: (1) the principal object of the bill is to raise new revenue for the support of state government, as opposed to a bill under which revenue may incidentally arise; and (2) the bill levies a new tax in the strict sense of the word. Id. In a companion case, the court stated that it invalidated the cigarette-assessment bill because:

[T]he cigarette measure fit squarely within our century-old test for "revenue bills," in that it both had the primary purpose of raising revenue for the support of state government and it levied a new tax in the strict sense of the word.

Okla. Auto. Dealers Ass'n, 401 P.3d at 1153 (emphasis added); accord Sierra Club v. State ex rel. Okla. Tax Comm'n, 405 P.3d 691, 694-95 (Okla. 2017).

In 1996, the voters of Oregon approved a state constitutional provision imposing a three-fifths supermajority requirement on the Oregon Legislature, which provides that "[t]hree-fifths of all members elected to each House shall be necessary to pass bills for raising revenue." Or. Const. art. IV, § 25 (emphasis added). In addition, Oregon has a state constitutional provision, known as an "Origination Clause," which provides that "bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives." Or. Const. art. IV, § 18 (emphasis added). The Oregon Supreme Court has adopted the same interpretation for the term "bills for raising revenue" with regard to both state constitutional provisions. Bobo v. Kulongoski, 107 P.3d 18, 24 (Or. 2005).

In determining the scope of Oregon's constitutional provisions for "bills for raising revenue," the Oregon Supreme Court has adopted a two-part test that is similar to the two-part test followed by the Oklahoma Supreme Court. Bobo, 107 P.3d at 24. In particular, the Oregon Supreme Court has stated:

Considering the wording of [each constitutional provision], its history, and the case law surrounding it, we conclude that the question whether a bill is a "bill for raising revenue" entails two issues. The first is whether the bill collects or brings money into the treasury. If it does not, that is the end of the inquiry. If a bill does bring money into the treasury, the remaining question is whether the bill possesses the essential features of a bill levying a tax.

Id. (emphasis added).

In applying its two-part test in Bobo, the court observed that "not every statute that brought money into the treasury was a 'bill for raising revenue' within the meaning of [the constitutional provisions]." Bobo, 107 P.3d at 24. Instead, the court found that the constitutional provisions applied only to the specific types of bills that the framers had in mind—"bills to levy taxes and similar exactions." Id. at 23. Based on the normal and ordinary meanings commonly ascribed to the terms "raise" and "revenue" in the constitutional provisions, the court reached the following conclusions:

We draw two tentative conclusions from those terms. First, a bill will "raise" revenue only if it "collects" or "brings in" money to the treasury. Second, not every bill that collects or brings in money to the treasury is a "bil[I] for raising revenue." Rather, the definition of "revenue" suggests that the framers had a specific type of bill in mind—bills to levy taxes and similar exactions.

Id. (emphasis added).

After considering the case law from Oklahoma and Oregon, we believe it is reasonable to interpret Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement in a manner that adopts and follows the judicial interpretations placed on the similar supermajority requirements by the courts from those states. Under those judicial interpretations, we believe that Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement does not apply to a bill unless it levies new or increased state taxes in the strict sense of the word or possesses the essential features of a bill that levies new or increased state taxes or similar exactions, "including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates." Nev. Const. art. 4, § 18(2).

Consequently, we believe that Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement does not apply to a bill which extends until a later date—or revises or eliminates—a future decrease in or future expiration of existing state taxes when that future decrease or expiration is not legally operative and binding yet, because such a bill does not levy new or increased state taxes as described in the cases from Oklahoma and Oregon. Instead, because such a bill maintains the existing computation bases currently in effect for the existing state taxes, it is the opinion of this office that such a bill does not create, generate or increase any public revenue within the meaning, purpose and intent of Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement because the existing computation bases currently in effect are not changed by the bill.

3. Does the two-thirds majority requirement apply to a bill which reduces or eliminates available tax exemptions or tax credits applicable to existing state taxes?

As discussed previously, Article 4, Section 18(2) provides that the two-thirds majority requirement applies to a bill which "creates, generates, or increases any public revenue in any form, including but not limited to taxes, fees, assessments and rates, or changes in the computation bases for taxes, fees, assessments and rates." Nev. Const. art. 4, § 18(2) (emphasis added). Based on the plain language in Article 4, Section 18(2), we do not believe that the two-thirds majority requirement applies to a bill which reduces or eliminates available tax exemptions or tax credits applicable to existing state taxes because such a reduction or elimination does not change the existing computation bases or statutory formulas used to calculate the underlying taxes to which the exemptions or credits are applicable.

The plain language in Article 4, Section 18(2) expressly states that the two-thirds majority requirement applies to changes in "computation bases," but it is silent with regard to changes in tax exemptions or tax credits. Nev. Const. art. 4, § 18(2). Nevertheless, under long-standing legal principles, it is well established that tax exemptions or tax credits are not part of the computation bases or statutory formulas used to calculate the underlying taxes to which the exemptions or credits are applicable. Instead, tax exemptions or tax credits apply only after the underlying taxes have been calculated using the computation bases or statutory formulas and the taxpayer properly and timely claims the tax exemptions or tax credits as a statutory exception to liability for the amount of the taxes. See City of Largo v. AHF-Bay Fund, LLC, 215 So.3d 10, 14-15 (Fla. 2017); State v. Allred, 195 P.2d 163, 167-170 (Ariz. 1948); Rutgers Ch. of Delta Upsilon Frat. v. City of New Brunswick, 28 A.2d 759, 760-61 (N.J. 1942); Chesney v. Byram, 101 P.2d 1106, 1110-12 (Cal. 1940). As explained by the Missouri Supreme Court:

The burden is on the taxpayer to establish that property is entitled to be exempt. An exemption from taxation can be waived. Until the exempt status is established the property is subject to taxation even though the facts would have justified the exempt status if they had been presented for a determination of that issue.

State ex rel. Council Apts., Inc. v. Leachman, 603 S.W.2d 930, 931 (Mo. 1980) (citations omitted). As a result, if the taxpayer fails to properly and timely claim the tax exemptions or tax credits, the taxpayer is liable for the amount of the taxes. See State Tax Comm'n v. Am. Home Shield of Nev., Inc., 127 Nev. 382, 386-87 (2011) (holding that a taxpayer that erroneously made tax payments on "exempt services" was not entitled to claim a refund after the 1-year statute of limitations on refund claims expired).

Accordingly, based on the plain language in Article 4, Section 18(2), we do not believe that a bill which reduces or eliminates available tax exemptions or tax credits changes the computation bases used to calculate the underlying state taxes within the meaning, purpose and intent of the two-thirds majority requirement because the existing computation bases currently in effect are not changed by the bill. Furthermore, based on the legislative testimony surrounding A.J.R. 21 in 1993 and the ballot materials presented to the voters in 1994 and 1996, there is nothing in the contemporaneous extrinsic evidence to indicate that the two-thirds majority requirement was intended to apply to a bill which reduces or eliminates available tax exemptions or tax credits. Finally, based on the case law interpreting similar constitutional provisions from other jurisdictions, courts have consistently held that similar supermajority requirements do not apply to bills which reduce or eliminate available tax exemptions or tax credits.

Unlike the supermajority requirements in other state constitutions, the Louisiana Constitution expressly provides that its supermajority requirement applies to "a repeal of an existing tax exemption." La. Const. art. VII, § 2. Specifically, the Louisiana Constitution states:

The levy of a new tax, an increase in an existing tax, or a repeal of an existing tax exemption shall require the enactment of a law by two-thirds of the elected members of each house of the legislature.

La. Const. art. VII, § 2.

In determining the scope of Louisiana's supermajority requirement, the Louisiana Court of Appeals explained that the supermajority requirement did not apply to legislation which suspended a tax exemption—but did not repeal the exemption—because "[a] suspension (which is time-limited) of an exemption is not the same thing as a permanent repeal." La. Chem. Ass'n v. State ex rel. La. Dep't of Revenue, 217 So.3d 455, 462-63 (La. Ct. App. 2017), writ of review denied, 227 So.3d 826 (La. 2017). Furthermore, the court rejected the argument that because the supermajority requirement applied to the prior legislation that enacted the underlying tax levy for which the exemption was granted, the supermajority requirement by necessary implication also had to be applied to any subsequent legislation that suspended the tax exemption. Id. In rejecting that argument, the court stated:

The levy of the initial tax, preceding the decision to grant an exemption, is the manner in which the Legislature raises revenue. Since the tax levy raises the revenues and since the granting of the exemption does not change the underlying tax levy, we find that suspending an exemption is not a revenue raising measure.

Id. at 463.

As discussed previously, Oklahoma's supermajority requirement applies to "[a]Il bills for raising revenue" or "[a]ny revenue bill." Okla. Const. art. V, § 33. In Okla. Auto. Dealers Ass'n v. State ex rel. Okla. Tax Comm'n, 401 P.3d 1152, 1153 (Okla. 2017), the Oklahoma Supreme Court was presented with the "question of whether a measure revoking an exemption from an already levied tax is a 'revenue bill' subject to Article V, Section 33's requirements." The court held that the bill was not a bill for raising revenue that was subject to Oklahoma's supermajority requirement because: (1) the bill did not "levy a tax in the strict sense of the word"; and (2) the "removal of an exemption from an already levied tax is different from levying a tax in the first instance." Id. at 1153-54.

At issue in the Oklahoma case was House Bill 2433 of the 2017 legislative session, which removed a long-standing exemption from the state's sales tax for automobiles that were otherwise subject to the state's excise tax. The Oklahoma Supreme Court explained the effect of H.B. 2433 as follows:

In 1933, the Legislature levied a sales tax on all tangible personal property—including automobiles—and that sales tax has remained part of our tax code ever since. In 1935, however, the Legislature added an exemption for automobile sales in the sales-tax provisions, so that automobiles were subject to only an automobile excise tax from that point forward. H.B. 2433 revokes part of that sales tax exemption so that sales of automobiles are once again subject to the sales tax, but only a 1.25% sales tax. Sales of automobiles remain exempt from the remainder of the sales tax levy. H.B. 2433 does not, however, levy any new sales or excise tax, as the text of the measure and related provisions demonstrate.

For example, the sales tax levy can be found in 68 Okla. Stat. § 1354, imposing a tax upon "the gross receipts or gross proceeds of each sale" of tangible personal property and other specifically enumerated items. The last amendment increasing the sales tax levy was in 1989, when the rate was raised to 4.5%. Nothing in H.B. 2433 amends the sales tax levy contained in section 1354; the rate remains 4.5%. Likewise, the levy of the motor vehicle excise tax is found in 68 Okla. Stat. § 2103. That levy has not been increased since 1985, and nothing in H.B. 2433 amends the levy contained in section 2103. Both before and after the enactment of H.B. 2433, the levy remains the same: every new vehicle is subject to an excise tax at 3.25% of its value, and every used vehicle is subject to an excise tax of $20.00 on the first $1,500.00 or less of its value plus 3.25% of its remaining value, if any.

Okla. Auto. Dealers Ass'n, 401 P.3d at 1154-55 (emphasis added and footnotes omitted).

In determining that H.B. 2433 was not a bill for raising revenue that was subject to Oklahoma's supermajority requirement, the Oklahoma Supreme Court stated that:

At bottom, Petitioners' argument is that H.B. 2433 must be a revenue bill because it causes people to have to pay more taxes. But to say that removal of an exemption from taxation causes those previously exempt from the tax to pay more taxes is merely to state the effect of removing an exemption. It does not, however, transform the removal of the exemption into the levy of a tax, and it begs the dispositive question of whether removal of an exemption is the "levy of a tax in the strict sense." . . . Yet, despite their common effect (causing someone to have to pay a tax they previously didn't have to pay), removing an exemption and levying a new tax are distinct as a matter of fact and law. Our Constitution's restrictions on the enactment of revenue bills are aimed only at those bills that actually levy a tax. The policy underlying those restrictions is not undercut in an instance such as this, because the original levies of the sales tax on automobile sales were subject to Article V, Section 33's restrictions.

Okla, Auto. Dealers Ass'n, 401 P.3d at 1158 (emphasis added).

As discussed previously, the Oregon Supreme Court has adopted the same interpretation for the term "bills for raising revenue" with regard to Oregon's supermajority requirement and its Origination Clause. Bobo v. Kulongoski, 107 P.3d 18, 24 (Or. 2005). In City of Seattle v. Or. Dep't of Revenue, 357 P.3d 979, 980 (Or. 2015), the plaintiff claimed that the Oregon Legislature's passage of Senate Bill 495, which eliminated a tax exemption benefitting out-of-state municipalities that had certain electric utility facilities in Oregon, violated Oregon's Origination Clause because S.B. 495 was a bill for raising revenue that did not originate in the Oregon House of Representatives. However, the Oregon Supreme Court held that S.B. 495's elimination of the tax exemption did not make it a "bill for raising revenue" that was subject to Oregon's Origination Clause. Id. at 985-88.

After applying its two-part test from Bobo, the Oregon Supreme Court determined that S.B. 495 was not a bill for raising revenue because by "declaring that a property interest held by taxpayers previously exempt from taxation is now subject to taxation, the legislature did not levy a tax." City of Seattle, 357 P.3d at 987. The court rejected the taxpayers' argument that S.B. 495 was a bill for raising revenue because "the burden of increased taxes falls solely on the newly-taxed entities." Id. at 988. Instead, the court found that:

We think, however, taxpayers' argument misses the mark because it focuses exclusively on the revenue effect of S.B. 495. As we stated in Bobo, the revenue effect of a bill, in and of itself, does not determine if the bill is a "bill[] for raising revenue." 107 P.3d at 24 ("If a bill does bring money into the treasury, the remaining question is whether the bill possesses the essential features of a bill levying a tax."). As we have explained, S.B. 495 repeals taxpayers' tax exemption as out-of-state municipal corporations and places taxpayers on the same footing as domestic electric cooperatives. The bill does not directly levy a tax on taxpayers.

Id. (footnotes omitted).

After considering the case law from Oklahoma and Oregon, we believe it is reasonable to interpret Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement in a manner that adopts and follows the judicial interpretations placed on the similar supermajority requirements by the courts from those states. Under those judicial interpretations, we believe that Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement does not apply to a bill which reduces or eliminates available tax exemptions or tax credits because such a reduction or elimination does not change the existing computation bases or statutory formulas used to calculate the underlying state taxes to which the exemptions or credits are applicable. Consequently, it is the opinion of this office that Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement does not apply to a bill which reduces or eliminates available tax exemptions or tax credits applicable to existing state taxes.

CONCLUSION

It is the opinion of this office that Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement does not apply to a bill which extends until a later date—or revises or eliminates—a future decrease in or future expiration of existing state taxes when that future decrease or expiration is not legally operative and binding yet, because such a bill does not change—but maintains—the existing computation bases currently in effect for the existing state taxes.

It also is the opinion of this office that Nevada's two-thirds majority requirement does not apply to a bill which reduces or eliminates available tax exemptions or tax credits applicable to existing state taxes, because such a reduction or elimination does not change the existing computation bases used to calculate the underlying state taxes to which the exemptions or credits are applicable.

EXHIBIT D

EMERGENCY REQUEST of Senate Majority Leader

Senate Bill No. 551-Senator Cannizzaro

CHAPTER.....

AN ACT relating to state financial administration; eliminating certain duties of the Department of Taxation relating to the commerce tax and the payroll taxes imposed on certain businesses; continuing the existing legally operative rates of the payroll taxes imposed on certain businesses; revising provisions governing the credits against the payroll taxes imposed on certain businesses for taxpayers who donate money to a scholarship organization; eliminating the education savings accounts program; making appropriations for certain purposes relating to school safety and to provide supplemental support of the operation of the school districts; and providing other matters properly relating thereto.

Legislative Counsel's Digest:

Existing law imposes an annual commerce tax on each business entity whose Nevada gross revenue in a fiscal year exceeds $4,000,000, with the rate of the commerce tax based on the industry in which the business entity is primarily engaged. (NRS 363C.200, 363C.300-363C.560) Existing law also imposes: (1) a payroll tax on financial institutions and on mining companies subject to the tax on the net proceeds of minerals, with the rate of the payroll tax set at 2 percent of the amount of the wages, as defined under existing law, paid by the financial institution or mining company during each calendar quarter in connection with its business activities; and (2) a payroll tax on other business entities, with the rate of the payroll tax set at 1.475 percent of the amount of the wages, as defined under existing law but excluding the first $50,000 thereof, paid by the business entity during each calendar quarter in connection with its business activities. (NRS 363A.130, 363B.110, 612.190) However, a business entity that pays both the payroll tax and the commerce tax is entitled to a credit against the payroll tax of a certain amount of the commerce tax paid by the business entity. (NRS 363A.130, 363B.110)

Existing law further establishes a rate adjustment procedure that is used by the Department of Taxation to determine whether the rates of the payroll taxes should be reduced in future fiscal years under certain circumstances. Under the rate adjustment procedure, on or before September 30 of each even-numbered year, the Department must determine the combined revenue from the commerce tax and the payroll taxes for the preceding fiscal year. If that combined revenue exceeds a certain threshold amount, the Department must make additional calculations to determine future reduced rates for the payroll taxes. However, any future reduced rates for the payroll taxes do not go into effect and become legally operative until July 1 of the following odd-numbered year. (NRS 360.203) This rate adjustment procedure was enacted by the Legislature during the 2015 Legislative Session and became effective on July 1, 2015. (Sections 62 and 114 of chapter 487, Statutes of Nevada 2015, pp. 2896, 2955) Since July 1, 2015, no future reduced rates for the payroll taxes have gone into effect and become legally operative based on the rate adjustment procedure. As a result, the existing legally operative rates of the payroll taxes are still 2 percent and 1.475 percent, respectively. (NRS 363A.130, 363B.110)

Section 39 of this bill eliminates the rate adjustment procedure used by the Department of Taxation to determine whether the rates of the payroll taxes should be reduced in any fiscal year. Section 37 of this bill maintains and continues the existing legally operative rates of the payroll taxes at 2 percent and 1.475 percent, respectively, without any changes or reductions in the rates of those taxes pursuant to the rate adjustment procedure for any fiscal year. Section 37 also provides that the Department must not apply or use the rate adjustment procedure to determine any future reduced rates for the payroll taxes for any fiscal year. Sections 2 and 3 of this bill make conforming changes.

Existing law establishes a credit against the payroll tax paid by certain businesses equal to an amount which is approved by the Department and which must not exceed the amount of any donation of money which is made by a taxpayer to a scholarship organization that provides grants on behalf of pupils who are members of a household with a household income which is not more than 300 percent of the federally designated level signifying poverty to attend schools in this State, including private schools, chosen by the parents or legal guardians of those pupils (NRS 363A.130, 363B.110) Under existing law, the Department: (1) is required to approve or deny applications for the tax credit in the order in which the applications are received by the Department; and (2) is authorized to approve applications for each fiscal year until the amount of tax credits approved for the fiscal year is the amount authorized by statute for that fiscal year. Assembly Bill No. 458 of this legislative session establishes that for Fiscal Years 2019-2020 and 2020-2021, the amount authorized is $6,655,000 for each fiscal year. Sections 2.5 and 3.5 of this bill authorize the Department to approve, in addition to the amount of credits authorized for Fiscal Years 2019-2020 and 2020-2021, an amount of tax credits equal to $4,745,000 for each of those fiscal years. Section 30.75 of this bill: (1) prohibits a scholarship organization from using a donation for which the donor received a tax credit to provide a grant on behalf of a pupil unless the scholarship organization used a donation for which the donor received a tax credit to provide a grant on behalf of the pupil for the immediately preceding scholarship year or reasonably expects to provide a grant of the same amount on behalf of the pupil for each school year until the pupil graduates from high school; and (2) requires a scholarship organization to repay the amount of any tax credit approved by the Department if the scholarship organization violates this provision.

Senate Bill No. 302 (S.B. 302) of the 78th Session of the Nevada Legislature established the education savings accounts program, pursuant to which grants of money are made to certain parents on behalf of their children to defray the cost of instruction outside the public school system. (Chapter 332, Statutes of Nevada 2015, p. 1824; NRS 353B.700-353B.930) Following a legal challenge of S.B. 302, the Nevada Supreme Court held in Schwartz v. Lopez, 132 Nev. 732 (2016), that the legislation was valid under Section 2 of Article 11 of the Nevada Constitution, which requires a uniform system of common schools, and under Section 10 of Article 11 of the Nevada Constitution, which prohibits the use of public money for a sectarian purpose. However, the Nevada Supreme Court found that the Legislature did not make an appropriation for the support of the education savings accounts program and held that the use of any money appropriated for K-12 public education for the education savings accounts program would violate Sections 2 and 6 of Article 11 of the Nevada Constitution. The Court enjoined enforcement of section 16 of S.B. 302, which amended NRS 387.124 to require that all money deposited in education savings accounts be subtracted from each school district's quarterly apportionments from the State Distributive School Account. Because the Court has enjoined this provision of law and the Legislature has not made an appropriation for the support of the education savings accounts program, the education savings accounts program is not operating. Section 39.5 of this bill eliminates the education savings accounts program. Sections 30.1-30.7 and 30.8-30.95 of this bill make conforming changes related to the elimination of the education savings accounts program.

Section 31 of this bill makes an appropriation for the costs of school safety facility improvements. Section 36.5 of this bill makes an appropriation to provide supplemental support to the operations of the school districts of this State, distributed in amounts based on the 2018 enrollment of the school districts of this State.
