IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

KWAME ANIR SAAFIR

Appellant,

vs.

STATE OF NEVADA DEPARTMENT OF
FAMILY SERVICES AND ASHA COLSON
Respondent.

SCCase No.: 81946
DC Case No.: J-18-342106-P2

CASE EXHIBIT ADDENDUM

These exhibits show that the court and the state found that termination of my parental rights isn't in my daughters best interest and while they found that placement with Asha Colson is in her best interest they didn't find that me losing custody is in her best interest because they found that I'm a good dad and that I'm not a danger to my kids and that my daughter is emotionally attached to me and I'm stable and supportive as shown by my appearance to all of my hearings for criminal and district court and to all of my visits and while they found that there were grounds to terminate her mom's parental rights they didn't find the same for me because there aren't any grounds to terminate my parental rights so the remedy for this appeal shouldn't be a remand for a termination trial and it should be a dismissal of the the District Courts case against me and a termination of all of their orders and a reinstatement of my custody with her temporary placement as my choice and as I see fit until I can carry on with my life as normal and leave this state the same way that they ordered it for her mom as seen in the termination order for her case that's exhibited in the docketing statement 2039488.

EXECUTED at the city of Las Vegas 08 day of the month of 12 of the year 2020

JOURNAL ENTRIES

Applicant and Adverse Party sworn and testified.

Applicant confirmed the events that led to Adverse Party's arrest as outlined in her application and requested the Temporary Protection Order (TPO) be extended for one (1) year. Court cautioned Adverse Party as to testifying today since there may be or is a pending criminal action and anything he says can be used against him. Adverse Party stated it is his understanding that if Applicant does not extend the TPO, then Child Protective Services (CPS) will take Kayden away from her. Adverse Party provided paperwork from CPS, IN OPEN COURT, regarding his other child for the Court to review and requested he be allowed contact with Kayden. Adverse Party stated he does not oppose the TPO and represented he CPS placed his other child with him. Matter TRAILED to allow the Court to review the documents Adverse Party provided and the pending J case.

Matter RECALLED with all parties present as before and Reawna McClain also present.

Reawna McClain sworn and testified.

Court noted Reawna McClain signed for the child when he was placed in protective custody as a fictive kin. Reawna McClain testified CPS assigned her to make sure Applicant will follow through with the case plan. Court further noted Adverse Party has a current J case regarding his child from another relationship; pursuant to case number J342106, Adverse Party is not permitted to have contact with that child until approved by CPS. Court called, Shanna, the parties' CPS case worker at 455-7281 and was informed they will close this matter with the implementation of this Order and CPS does want this Court to grant contact between Adverse Party and the minor child, Kayden, as the worker does not believe he is a danger to the child; Shanna suggested Applicant and Adverse Party not have contact with each other or do the child exchange with each other as there is a lot of arguing.

Upon inquiry, Adverse Party stated he is currently staying in a motel, he plans to return to work for People Ready, and he will be renting a "monthly"; he does have money saved and is not currently requesting overnight visits at this time.

Court stated there is cause to extend the TPO based upon the determinations of past domestic violence in case number J342106 and the incident herein. Court encouraged the parties to file a custody action through the District Court.
