ORDER AFTER HEARING DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO DISMISS

21 Before this Court is a Motion to Dismiss ("Motion") filed on January 22, 2018, by 22 Defendants HG STAFFING, LLC and MEI-GSR HOLDINGS, LLC d/b/a GRAND SIERRA 23 RESORT (collectively, "GSR" unless individually referenced), by and through their counsel,
24 Cohen|Johnson|Parker|Edwards. On February 5, 2018, Plaintiffs EDDY MARTEL (also 25 known as MARTEL-RODRIGUEZ) ("Mr. Martel"), MARY ANNE CAPILLA ("Ms. Capilla"), 26 JANICE JACKSON-WILLIAMS ("Ms. Jackson-Williams"), and WHITNEY VAUGHAN ("Ms.
27 Vaughan") (collectively, "Plaintiffs"), on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated,
28

1 filed Plaintiffs' Opposition to Defendants' Motion to Dismiss ("Opposition"), by and through
2 their counsel, Thierman Buck, LLP. GSR filed its Reply in Support of Motion to Dismiss
3 (Reply) on February 22, 2018, and submitted the matter for decision thereafter. On May 9, 4 2018, this Court entered an Order Setting Hearing and oral arguments were heard on July 5 19, 2018.

7 I. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

8 The parties are well aware of the factual and procedural history of this case and this 9 Court restates them only for the purpose of considering this Motion. This action arises out
10 of an employment dispute between Plaintiffs and GSR regarding wages paid by GSR to 11 Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees. On June 14, 2016, Plaintiffs filed a Class Action
12 Complaint ("Complaint") alleging GSR maintained the following policies, practices, and 13 procedures which required various employees to perform work activities without 14 compensation: (1) GSR's Cash Bank Policy, (2) Dance Class Policy, (3) Room Attendant
15 Pre-Shift Policy, (4) Pre-Shift Meeting Policy, (5) Uniform Policy, and (6) Shift Jamming
16 Policy. Complaint, pp. 4-8. As a result of said policies, Plaintiffs allege four causes of 17 action against GSR: (1) Failure to Pay Wages for All Hours Worked in Violation of NRS
18 608.140 and 608.016, (2) Failure to Pay Minimum Wages in Violation of the Nevada
19 Constitution, (3) Failure to Pay Overtime Wages in Violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.018,
20 and (4) Failure to Timely Pay All Wages Due and Owing Upon Termination Pursuant to NRS
21 608.140 and 608.020-.050. Id., pp. 11-15.

22 On July 25, 2016, Defendants filed a Notice to State Court of Removal of Civil Action
23 to Federal Court ("Notice of Removal"), removing Plaintiffs' Complaint to federal court and 24 suspending this Court's jurisdiction based upon federal question jurisdiction. See Notice of
27
28

1 Removal, Exhibit 1.

2 On December 6, 2016, the United States District Court for the District of Nevada
3 granted Plaintiffs' Motion to Remand to State Court and denied GSR's Motion to Dismiss as 4 moot. See Civil Docket for Case #: 3:16-cv-00440-RCJ-WGC ("Docket") and Order, filed
5 December 7, 2016. In its Order, the federal court found Plaintiffs' Causes of Action could be 6 resolved without interpretation of a Collective Bargaining Agreement ("CBA") and were 7 therefore not preempted by Section 301 of the Labor Management Relations Act of 1947.
8 Order, p. 12. Thus, the case was remanded to this Court.

9 After remand, GSR filed a Motion to Dismiss substantially arguing Plaintiffs' claims
10 failed to state a claim because there is no private right of action for NRS Chapter 608
11 statutory wage claims. See Motion to Dismiss, generally. However, on March 7, 2017, the 12 parties entered into a Stipulation and Order to Stay All Proceedings for 180 Days Pending
13 Decision of the Supreme Court of the State of Nevada on Private Right of Action ("First 14 Stipulation") because the question presented in Neville, Jr. v. Eight Judicial Dist. Ct., which 15 had not yet been decided, would directly impact the issues in the present case. First 16 Stipulation, p. 2. The First Stipulation provided the case would be stayed until July 28, 17 2017. Id.

18 On July 27, 2017, the parties entered into a second Stipulation to Stay All 19 Proceedings Pending Decision of the Supreme Court of the State of Nevada on Neville Jr.
20 v. Eight Judicial District Court (Terrible Herbst, Inc.) ("Second Stipulation"), staying the case
21 until the Nevada Supreme Court issued its decision in Neville. Second Stipulation, p. 2. In 22 response, this Court entered an Order Re Stipulation to Stay All Proceedings ("Order") on 23 August 1, 2017 and provided the parties with fourteen (14) days from the date of the
26
27
28

1 Nevada Supreme Court's decision in Neville to file a status report with the Court.

2 In accordance with the Court's Order, the parties filed a Status Report in Light of the 3 Nevada Supreme Court's Decision in Neville v. Terrible Herbst, Inc., Nevada Supreme 4 Court No. 70696 ("Status Report"), informing the Court the Nevada Supreme Court had 5 issued its decision.<sup>1</sup> In light of said decision, GSR withdrew their Motion to Dismiss. Status
6 Report, p. 2.

8 Thereafter, GSR filed the instant Motion on January 22, 2018. Plaintiffs filed a 9 responsive Opposition and GSR filed its Reply. On May 9, 2018, this Court entered an 10 Order requesting supplemental briefing on the following issues: (1) which statute of 11 limitation the parties contend applies to NRS Chapter 608 wage claims, how any such 12 limitation period affects statutory wage violations that are ongoing, and whether expiration of 13 a limitation period would require dismissal or simply a limitation on damages; (2) the impact 14 of the Sargent court's denial of certification on the issue of preclusion and whether such 15 analysis is affected by the fact that the Sargent court granted summary judgment against 16 Plaintiffs' on their statutory wage claims and thus did not address the merits of certification 17 as to those claims<sup>2</sup>; (3) whether the aforementioned issue of preclusion is impacted by the
20

21 <sup>1</sup> In Neville v. Eighth Judicial District Court in and for County of Clark, 133 Nev. Adv. Op. 95, 406
22 P.3d 499, 504 (2017), the Nevada Supreme Court found, as a matter of first impression, "the 23 Legislature intended to create a private cause of action for unpaid wages pursuant to NRS 608.140."

24 <sup>2</sup> In Sargent, the Court granted summary judgment against Plaintiffs based on its finding that Nevada
25 employees do not have a private right of action to assert Nevada state wage claims, a holding which 26 is now incorrect based upon the Neville opinion. As such, the Court, in its order denying class 27 certification, stated, "[b]ecause summary judgment has been granted on Plaintiffs' fourth, fifth, 28 seventh, and eighth causes of actions, the only ones that remain for certification are the fifth cause of action for Failure to Pay Minimum Wages in Violation of the Nevada Constitution and NRS
608.250 and the Ninth Cause of Action for Age Discrimination..." Sargent v. HG Staffing, LLC, 171 F.Supp.3d 1063, 1073 (D. Nev. 2016). As to Plaintiffs' MWA claim, the Court found "Plaintiffs have simply failed to address their fifth cause of action for Failure to Pay Minimum Wages in Violation of the Nevada Constitution and NRS 608.250 while seeking class certification." Id., at 1074. Because the burden rested on the Plaintiffs, "there is nothing for the Court to perform a rigorous analysis on,

1 Nevada Supreme Court's recent decision in Neville; and (4) how the aforementioned issues
2 might affect a tolling analysis under American Pipe.

3 Both parties filed Supplemental briefs and the matter was set for oral arguments and 4 arguments were heard by this Court on July 19, 2018. The parties' arguments substantially 5 consist of the following:

7 A. GSR's Argument

8 GSR seeks to dismiss the Plaintiffs' Complaint on several grounds. First, GSR
9 maintains all or part of Plaintiffs' claims are subject to a two-year statute of limitation and 10 therefore any claim arising before June 14, 2014 is barred. Motion, p. 5. GSR contends the 11 Nevada Supreme Court found claims made under Nevada's Minimum Wage Amendment 12 ("MWA") are governed by the two-year statute of limitation found in NRS 608.260 for 13 statutory minimum wage claims. Id., citing Perry v. Terrible Herbst, Inc., 132 Nev. Adv. Op.
14 75, 383 P.3d 257, 260-62 (2016). For the same reasons expressed by the Nevada
15 Supreme Court in Perry, GSR argues Plaintiffs' other wage claims brought pursuant to NRS
16 Chapter 608 are similarly subject to a two-year statute of limitation. Id.<sup>3</sup> GSR contends 17 "[t]he two year limitation period is the most analogous because it not only avoids a conflict 18 with the employers' two-year obligation to maintain records under NRS 608.115, but also 19 avoids conflict with the Labor Commissioner's determination that a two-year period is the 20 appropriate term...under NRS Chapter 608." Id., p. 6. As a result, GSR maintains claims 21 by Ms. Vaughan and Ms. Capilla are completely barred, as they last worked for GSR in 22 2013. Id. With respect to the other Plaintiffs,' GSR contends all claims that accrued prior to
25
26
27 and the Plaintiffs have failed to meet their burden to show why the claim should be certified as a 28 class action." Id.

<sup>3</sup> GSR notes with exception to the two-year statute of limitation period found in NRS 608.260, NRS Chapter 608 lacks an express limitation period.

1 June 14, 2014 must be dismissed. Id. GSR maintains these Plaintiffs' claims were not
2 tolled during the pendency of the Sargent action in federal court pursuant to American Pipe
3 & Const. Co. v. Utah, 414 U.S. 538, 554 (1974) because American Pipe does not mandate
4 cross-jurisdictional tolling as a matter of state procedure. Id., p. 7.

6 Second, GSR maintains Plaintiffs lack standing to represent union employees, as 7 they are exclusively represented by their respective unions; and, employees may only 8 pursue grievances over wages individually or in a group if the bargaining representative has 9 been given the opportunity to be present at such adjustment. Id., p. 10. Thus, GSR argues
10 Plaintiff Williams' first, third, and fourth causes of action for wages and overtime based on 11 Williams' failure to exhaust the grievance procedures in her union's collective bargaining
12 agreement should be dismissed. Id.

14 Third, GSR maintains Plaintiffs have failed to state a claim for wages, including 15 minimum wages, because they do not allege facts showing there was a given week in which 16 they were entitled to but were denied minimum wages or overtime wages. Id., pp. 11-12.

18 Fourth, GSR contends Ms. Jackson-Williams' claims for wages and overtime are 19 barred for failing to exhaust the grievance procedures of the CBA. Id., pp. 12-14.
20

21 Fifth, GSR argues Ms. Jackson-Williams is not entitled to overtime pursuant to NRS
22 608.018 because the CBA provides otherwise for overtime. Id., pp. 14-15.

24 Sixth, GSR maintains Plaintiffs' attempt to re-litigate the federal district court's Order
25 denying certification of an identical class action is barred by claim and issue preclusion. Id.
26 Id., pp. 15-17. In addition, GSR contends said attempt should be denied on principles of 27 comity because the claims and parties in Sargent were materially identical to the instant 28 action. Id., pp. 17-19. Further, GSR maintains the Sargent action was filed first, all the

1 Plaintiffs in this action were parties to the Sargent action, or are in privity with them, and all
2 of the claims are identical and are raised on behalf of the same class of employees. Id., pp.
3 19-20. As such, GSR argues the first-to-file rule mandates dismissal. Id.

5 B. Plaintiffs' Arguments.

6 Plaintiffs first maintain the facts alleged in their Complaint plead plausible wages
7 claims under the standards set forth by Landers v. Quality Communications, Inc., 120 Nev.
8 948, 960, 102 P.3d 578, 586 (2004) and other Nevada law. Opposition, p. 6. Plaintiffs 9 contend they clearly allege “they worked over eight hours in a day and more than forty 10 hours in a week during at least one work week (during special events such as concerts, 11 Burning Man, Hot August Nights, and Street Vibrations). . . ” Id., p. 7. Thus, Plaintiffs argue 12 their factual contentions are more than sufficient to state a plausible claim for relief under 13 the Landers standard. Id. In addition, Plaintiffs emphasize Nevada law has a daily overtime
14 requirement as well as a work week overtime requirement under NRS 608.018(1)(b). Id.,
15 pp. 7-8.

18 Second, Plaintiffs maintain their claims are not barred by issue or claim preclusion 19 because the Sargent court never certified the class. Id., pp. 8-9. Plaintiffs argue the 20 Nevada Supreme Court has looked to the Restatement (Second) of Judgments on 21 preclusion issues, and the Restatement limits preclusion of an unnamed member of a class 22 action to situations where the court approves the class action. Id., p. 9. Plaintiffs also 23 argue there is no preclusive effect because class certification is a non-final, interlocutory
24 decision. Id., citing In re Wal-Mart Wage and Hour Employment Practices Litigation, 2008
25 WL 3179315, *7 (D. Nev. 2008); see NRCP 23(c)(1) (indicating a decision on class 26 certification “may be conditional and may be altered or amended before the decision on the

1 merits"). Moreover, Plaintiffs maintain, because the Sargent action was never certified, the
2 precondition for binding Plaintiffs here is not present. Id., pp. 10-13.

3 Third, Plaintiffs argue their wage claims are not barred by any statute of limitation
4 because Mr. Martel and Ms. Jackson-Williams were still employed by GSR within the last 5 two years, and GSR's statutory violations are ongoing. Id., p. 13. Rather, Plaintiffs maintain 6 GSR's argument is actually an affirmative defense that damages should be limited to a two-7 year period. Id. As such, Plaintiffs contend GSR's affirmative defense does not provide 8 grounds for dismissal. Id. Plaintiffs further maintain GSR's contention is incorrect because 9 NRS 11.190(3)(a)'s three-year statute of limitation applies because NRS 608.260 applies 10 only to actions brought under NRS 608.250. Id., p. 14.

13 II. STANDARD OF REVIEW; LAW AND ANALYSIS

14 A complaint should be dismissed under NRCP 12(b)(5) "only if it appears beyond a 15 doubt" that the plaintiff is entitled to no relief under any set of facts that could be proved in 16 support of the claim. Buzz Stew, LLC v. City of North Las Vegas, 124 Nev. 224, 228, 181
17 P.3d 670, 672 (2008); Blackjack Bonding v. City of Las Vegas Mun. Court, 116 Nev. 1213, 18 1217, 14 P.3d 1275, 1278 (2000). When analyzing the merits of a 12(b)(5) motion to 19 dismiss, the court recognizes all of the factual allegations in the plaintiff's complaint as true, 20 and draws all inferences in favor of the non-moving party. Id. Dismissal is appropriate 21 "where the allegations are insufficient to establish the elements of a claim for relief."
22 Stockmeier v. Nevada Dept. of Corr. Psychological Review Panel, 124 Nev. 313, 316, 183
23 P.3d 133, 135 (2008); see also Torres v. Nev. Direct Ins. Co., 131 Nev. Adv. Op. 54, 353
24 P.3d 1203, 1210 (2015) (same). Nevada is a notice-pleading jurisdiction, therefore, "[t]he 25 test for determining whether the allegations of a cause of action are sufficient to assert a
28

1 claim for relief is whether the allegations give fair notice of the nature and basis of the claim
2 and the relief requested." Ravera v. City of Reno, 100 Nev. 68, 70, 675 P.2d 407, 408
3 (1984); W. States Const., Inc. v. Michoff, 108 Nev. 931, 936, 840 P.2d 1220, 1223 (1992);
4 NRCP 8.

6 A "complaint that offers labels and conclusions, a formulaic recitation of the elements
7 of a cause of action, or naked assertions devoid of further factual enhancement will not 8 suffice." Landers v. Quality Commc'ns, Inc., 771 F.3d 638, 641 (9th Cir. 2014), as amended
9 (Jan. 26, 2015), cert. denied, 135 S. Ct. 1845 (2015). In Landers, the Ninth Circuit held that 10 a complaint "failed to state a claim for unpaid minimum wages and overtime wages" when 11 the "complaint did not allege facts showing there was a given week in which he was entitled 12 to, but denied, minimum wages or overtime wages." Landers 771 F.3d at 645. The court 13 reasoned that without any facts "regarding a given work week when" the employee "was not 14 paid overtime for that given workweek and/or was not paid minimum wages," the complaint 15 fails to state a claim. Landers, 771 F.3d at 646.

17 In the instant action, Plaintiff alleges certain classes of plaintiffs were on average 18 uncompensated for an average number of minutes each day. However, Plaintiffs have 19 failed to provide any facts showing any individual plaintiff was underpaid in a given 20 workweek. Plaintiffs do not identify any one week in which any one plaintiff was paid less 21 than the required wage by alleging how many hours that plaintiff worked in that week, the 22 plaintiff's rate of pay, how much that plaintiff was paid, and how much that plaintiff believes 23 he or she is owed for a given week. See Pruell v. Caritas Christi, 678 F.3d 10, 14 (1st Cir.
24 2012) (affirming dismissal of amended complaint where the complaint "does not provide 25 examples (let alone estimates as to the amounts) of such unpaid time for either plaintiff or 26 describe the nature of the work performed during those times"). Instead, Plaintiffs'

1 Complaint provides generalized statements that they were not paid the proper wages during 2 their employment.<sup>4</sup>

3 The only facts given are how many hours a week, generally, certain Plaintiffs were 4 scheduled to work, and they sometimes worked overtime during certain events such as 5 Burning Man and Hot August Nights. However, even during the stated events, Plaintiff dose
6 not allege the hours worked during those events, how long the events lasted, or even dates
7 or years when the events occurred. This is insufficient to state a claim for relief. As 8 Plaintiffs fail to allege sufficient facts showing the actual underpayment of wages for any 9 particular plaintiff, Plaintiffs' remaining wage claims should also be dismissed.

13 I. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

14 This action arises out of an employment dispute between Plaintiffs and GSR
15 regarding wages paid by GSR to Plaintiffs and similarly situated employees. On June 14, 16 2016, Plaintiffs filed a Class Action Complaint ("Complaint") alleging GSR maintained the 17 following policies, practices, and procedures which required various employees to perform
18 work activities without compensation: (1) GSR's Cash Bank Policy, (2) Dance Class Policy,
19 (3) Room Attendant Pre-Shift Policy, (4) Pre-Shift Meeting Policy, (5) Uniform Policy, and (6)
20 Shift Jamming Policy. Complaint, pp. 4-8. As a result of said policies, Plaintiffs allege four 21 causes of action against GSR: (1) Failure to Pay Wages for All Hours Worked in Violation of 22 NRS 608.140 and 608.016, (2) Failure to Pay Minimum Wages in Violation of the Nevada
23 Constitution, (3) Failure to Pay Overtime Wages in Violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.018,
24 and (4) Failure to Timely Pay All Wages Due and Owing Upon Termination Pursuant to NRS
25 608.140 and 608.020-.050. Id., pp. 11-15.
28

1 On October 9, 2018, this Court entered its Order After Hearing Granting Defendants'
2 Motion to Dismiss ("Order"). The Court found Plaintiffs failed to provide sufficient
3 information to support its claims, and therefore granted GSR's Motion to Dismiss. The next 4 day, Plaintiffs' filed the instant Motion requesting the Court reconsider its Order pursuant to 5 NRCF Rule 60(b). Motion, p. 2. Plaintiffs argue the Court erred by applying a federal 6 pleading standard to its consideration of dismissal of the Complaint. Motion, p. 2.
7 Specifically, Plaintiffs assert Nevada has not adopted the "federal plausibility pleading
8 standard" set forth in Landers v. Quality Commc'ns, Inc., 771 F. 3d 638 (9th Cir. 2014)
9 pursuant to the plausibility standard set forth in Ashcroft v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570, 127
10 (S.Ct. 1995). Motion, p. 2. Instead, Plaintiffs argue Nevada requires a complaint "cannot be 11 dismissed for failure to state a claim unless it appears beyond a doubt that the plaintiff could 12 prove no set of facts that, if accepted by the trier of fact, would entitle him to relief." Motion, 13 p. 2; citing Dessani v. Kern & Assocs., Ltd., 134 Nev. Adv. Op. 9, 412 P.3d 56, 64 (2018).
14 Regardless, Plaintiffs maintain they still meet the standard set forth in Landers. In the

19
20 In its Opposition, GSR contends the Motion should be dismissed for three reasons.
21 First, GSR asserts no new issues of law or fact were raised in Plaintiffs' Motion. Opposition, 22 p. 2. As such, GSR argues it is an abuse of discretion for the Court to entertain the Motion.
23 Opposition, p. 2; citing Moore v. City of Las Vegas, 92 Nev. 402, 405, 551 P.2d 244, 246
24 (1976).

25

27

1           Second, GSR maintains the Court employed the proper standard when granting its 2 Motion to Dismiss. Opposition, p. 1. GSR maintains the Court did not apply the plausibility
3 standard. Opposition, p. 3. Instead, the Court employed the “beyond a doubt” standard.
4 Opposition, p. 3; citing Order p. 8. GSR argues that, although the Court cited Landers, it
5 was simply for the proposition that “a complaint that offers labels and conclusions, a 6 formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action, or naked assertions devoid of 7 further factual enhancement will not suffice.” Opposition, pp. 3-4; citing Landers 771 F.3d
8 638, 644. GSR maintains this proposition was adopted by the Nevada Supreme Court in 9 Conway v. Circus Circus Casinos, Inc., 116 Nev. 870, 873-75, 8 P.3d 837, 89-40 when 10 applying the more liberal “beyond a doubt” standard. Opposition, p. 4. In sum, GSR argues 11 under both the federal and Nevada standards, Plaintiffs were required to set forth facts for 12 each individual Plaintiff which established the elements of each specific wage claim.
13 Opposition, p. 4. GSR further contends, because Plaintiffs concede they alleged only that 14 they were not paid daily overtime (see Motion, p. 4), they failed to provide any facts showing 15 any individual plaintiff was underpaid in a given workweek. Opposition, p. 4.

16           Lastly, GSR contends Plaintiffs may not amend the Complaint because it was 17 dismissed with prejudice. Opposition, p. 4. Specifically, GSR points to NRCP Rule 41(b), 18 which provides an order other than a dismissal for lack of jurisdiction, improper venue, or 19 failure to join a party under Rule 19, operates as an adjudication upon the merits unless the 20 court specifies otherwise in its order. Opposition, p. 5. Therefore, GSR argues the Order is 21 final because the Court did not specify otherwise. Opposition, p. 5. Moreover, GSR 22 contends Plaintiff failed to show the facts of this case warrant amendment pursuant to

1 NRCP Rule 7(b)(1) and assert the Motion should also be denied as futile. Opposition, pp. 6-2 7.

4 In their Reply, Plaintiffs argue they have provided sufficient factual basis to meet the 5 pleading standard set forth by the Supreme Court of Nevada. Reply, p. 3; citing Washoe
6 Med. Ctr., Inc. v. Reliance Ins. Co., 112 Nev. 494, 496, 915 P.2d 288, 288-89 (1996).
7 Specifically, that a “complaint cannot be dismissed for failure to state a claim unless it
8 appears beyond a doubt that the plaintiff could prove no set of facts which, if accepted by 9 the trier of fact, would entitle him to relief.” Reply, p. 3; citing Id. Plaintiffs concede the 10 Court cites case law establishing Nevada as a notice pleading jurisdiction; however, Plaintiff
11 asserts the Court improperly considered a factual analysis set forth in a federal First Circuit
12 case. Opposition, pp. 3-4; citing Pruell v. Caritas Christi, 678 F. 3d 10, 14 (1st Cir. 2012).
13 Regardless, Plaintiffs maintain they provided sufficient facts supporting each claim. Reply, 14 pp. 4-11.

17 Plaintiffs assert, despite GSR’s argument to the contrary, a motion to reconsider is 18 proper at this juncture pursuant to NRCP 60(b). Reply, p. 11. Plaintiffs further reiterate the 19 Landers standard has not been adopted in Nevada because Landers is specific to federal 20 FLSA claims only. Reply, p. 14. Lastly, Plaintiffs contend they “must be allowed to amend 21 their complaint in order to prevent Defendant from getting away with wage theft.”<sup>2</sup> Reply, p.
22 16. In support, Plaintiffs maintain leave to amend should be freely given where justice so 23 requires. Reply p. 16; citing NRCP Rule 15.

27
28 <sup>2</sup>The Court discusses whether to grant leave to amend hereinafter. However, the Court disregards the assertion amendment is required “to prevent Defendant from getting away with wage theft,” as a basis.

1 II. LAW AND ANALYSIS

2 A. Reconsideration May be Denied on Procedural Grounds

3 Before filing a motion to reconsider a district court's order, a party must first seek 4 leave of the court. DCR 13(7); see also Arnold v. Kip, 123 Nev. 410, 416, 168 P.3d 1050, 5 1054 (2007), as amended (Nov. 21, 2007) (party should first specifically seek leave of the 6 court prior to filing a motion for reconsideration). Rule 12(8) of the Second Judicial District
7 Court Rules incorporates DCR 13(7) and sets forth deadlines for seeking reconsideration.

9 Here, Plaintiffs failed to request leave pursuant to DCR 13(7) before filing their 10 Motion. Instead, Plaintiffs proceed directly with the substantive basis of their Motion without 11 receiving leave of Court to do so. Therefore, on procedural grounds alone, the Court may 12 deny the Motion. However, the Court exercises its discretion to entertain the instant Motion
13 on its merits. See Arnold v. Kip, 123 Nev. 410, 416, 168 P.3d 1050, 1054 (2007), as 14 amended (Nov. 21, 2007) (where party did not specifically seek leave, district court elected 15 to entertain motion for reconsideration on its merits).

18 B. Plaintiffs Present No New Evidence or Intervening Authority Warranting 19 Reconsideration of this Court's Order.

20 Well-established authority in Nevada governs reconsideration of previously-decided 21 issues. In Masonry & Tile Contractors Ass'n of S. Nevada v. Jolley, Urga & Wirth, Ltd., the 22 Nevada Supreme Court held:

23 A district court may reconsider a previously decided issue if substantially 24 different evidence is subsequently introduced or the decision is clearly 25 erroneous. See Little Earth of United Tribes v. Department of Housing, 807
26 F.2d 1433, 1441 (8th Cir.1986); see also Moore v. City of Las Vegas, 92 Nev.
27 402, 405, 551 P.2d 244, 246 (1976) ("Only in very rare instances in which new 28 issues of fact or law are raised supporting a ruling contrary to the ruling already reached should a motion for rehearing be granted.") (Emphasis added).

1 113 Nev. 737, 741, 941 P.2d 486, 489 (1997) (alterations and citations in original). In 2 Masonry & Tile Contractors Ass'n, the Nevada Supreme Court upheld a district court's 3 reconsideration of a previously decided issue in light of new clarifying case law. Id.
4 Because of new case law, the decision by the prior district judge was properly determined to 5 be "clearly erroneous." Id. When a motion for reconsideration raises "no new issues of law 6 and [makes] reference to no new or additional facts," reconsideration is "superfluous" and 7 constitutes an "abuse of discretion" by the district court to entertain such a motion. Moore v.
8 City of Las Vegas, 92 Nev. 402, 405, 551 P.2d 244, 246 (1976). As such, motions for 9 reconsideration are granted in "rare instances." Id. Further, it is well settled the decision of 10 whether to grant reconsideration is within "the sound discretion of the court." Navajo Nation 11 v. Confederated Tribes & Bands of the Yakama Indian Nation, 331 F.3d 1041, 1046 (9th Cir.
12 2003); see also Riger v. Hometown Mortg., LLC, 104 F. Supp. 3d 1092, 1095 (D. Nev.
13 2015) (district court's decision to grant reconsideration after entry of an order is within its 14 discretion).

17
18 In the instant action, Plaintiffs assert the Court applied the incorrect pleading
19 standard. Plaintiffs maintain the Court should have applied the "beyond a doubt" standard, 20 which provides a "complaint cannot be dismissed for failure to state a claim unless it
21 appears beyond a doubt that the plaintiff could prove no set of facts which, if accepted by 22 the trier of fact, would entitle him to relief." Reply, p. 3. However, when the Order is 23 accurately read, it is evident the Court applied this very standard. Order, p. 8 ("[a] complaint
24 should be dismissed under NRCP 12(b)(5) 'only if it appears beyond a doubt' that the 25 plaintiff is entitled to no relief under any set of facts that could be proved in support of the 26 claim.") The Court goes on to state: "Nevada is a notice-pleading jurisdiction, therefore,

1 "[t]he test for determining whether the allegations of a cause of action are sufficient to assert
2 a claim for relief is whether the allegations give fair notice of the nature and basis of the 3 claim and the relief requested." Order, p. 8; citing Ravera v. City of Reno, 100 Nev. 68, 70, 4 675 P.2d 407, 408 (1984); W. States Const., Inc. v. Michoff, 108 Nev. 931, 936, 840 P.2d

7 Although the Court found portions of the language in Landers relevant, the Court did
8 not apply the federal pleading standard to the facts of this case. As stated, Plaintiffs failed 9 to allege estimates of unpaid time for any single Plaintiff, did not specify unpaid hours for 10 stated events, or even the dates, times, or hours worked for such events. Moreover,
11 Plaintiff did not identify any one Plaintiffs' rate of pay or how much any Plaintiff is owed for 12 any one work day. These omissions cause the claims as stated to be insufficient to give fair 13 notice of the basis of claims and the resulting relief requested.

15 Plaintiffs maintain, regardless of the pleading standard, they provided sufficient facts 16 to assert a claim for relief. In support, Plaintiffs contend they provided specific days and 17 work weeks for which Plaintiffs were not paid. However, the only assertions supporting 18 such a claim are Plaintiff Martel and Plaintiff Vaughn worked shifts over eight hours per shift 19 one or more times a week "on a regular basis" and worked jammed shifts during "special 20 events." Again, these are insufficient allegations to provide adequate notice of the relief

23 24 C. Plaintiffs are Granted Leave to Amend

25 Under NRCP 60(b)(1), on motion, this Court may relieve a party from an order or final 26 judgment on grounds of mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect. NRCP 27 60(b)(1). A party who seeks to set aside an order pursuant to NRCP 60(b)(1) "has the 28

1 burden to prove mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect by a preponderance
2 of the evidence." Polivka v. Kuller, 128 Nev. 926, 381 P.3d 651 (2012) (citations omitted);
3 see also Britz v. Consolidated Casinos Corp., 87 Nev. 441, 446, 488 P.2d 911, 915 (1971)
4 ("[t]he burden of proof on [a motion to set aside under Rule 60(b)] is on the moving party
5 who must establish his position by a preponderance of the evidence.") (quoting Luz v.
6 Lopes, 55 Cal.2d 54, 10 Cal.Rptr. 161, 166, 358 P.2d 289, 294 (1960)).

8 Plaintiffs argue they are entitled to relief pursuant to NRCP 60(b)(1) due to the 9 Court's mistake or inadvertence of failing to indicate whether the motion to dismiss was 10 being granted with or without prejudice. Reply, p. 11. The Court agrees. The Court's Order

NRS 608.050

23
24
25
26
27 COME NOW Plaintiffs EDDY MARTEL (also known as MARTEL-RODRIGUEZ), 28 MARY ANNE CAPILLA, JANICE JACKSON-WILLIAMS, and WHITNEY VAUGHAN

1 (“Plaintiffs”), on behalf of themselves and all others similarly situated, and hereby alleges 2 as follows:

3 All allegations in this Complaint are based upon information and belief except for 4 those allegations that pertain to the Plaintiffs named herein and their counsel. Each
5 allegation in this Complaint either has evidentiary support or is likely to have evidentiary 6 support after a reasonable opportunity for further investigation and discovery.

7 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

8 1. This Court has original jurisdiction over the state law claims alleged herein
9 because the amount in controversy exceeds $15,000 and a party seeking to recover
10 unpaid wages has a private right of action pursuant to the Nevada Constitution, Article
11 15 Section 16, and Nevada Revised Statute (“NRS”) Chapter 608. See Neville v. Eighth 12 Judicial Dist. Court, Terrible Herbst, Inc., 133 Nev. Adv. Op. 95, 406 P.3d 499 (Dec. 7, 13 2017). Plaintiffs made a proper demand for wages due pursuant to NRS 608.140 on 14 March 6, 2016.

15 2. Pursuant to NRS 608.050(2), the Nevada state district court has jurisdiction 16 to foreclose the lien for the wages alleged due herein on the place of employment, as 17 provided in NRS 108.221 to 108.246, inclusive.

18 3. Venue is proper in the Nevada state district court because one or more of 19 the Defendants named herein maintains its principal place of business, or otherwise is 20 found, in that judicial district, and the acts complained of herein occurred in Washoe 21 County, Nevada.

22 PARTIES

23 4. Plaintiff EDDY MARTEL (also known as MARTEL-RODRIGUEZ) is natural 24 person who is and was a resident of the State of Nevada at all times relevant herein and 25 was employed as an attendant in the Bowling Center by Defendants from on or about 26 January 2012 through on or about July 2014. Plaintiff Martel believes his last hourly rate 27 of pay was between $8.25 and $8.57. Defendants are the only Party in possession of 28 Plaintiff’s full schedule, pay, time, and employment records.

1           5.       Plaintiff MARY ANNE CAPILLA is a natural person who is and was a 2 resident of the State of Nevada at all times relevant herein and was employed as a dealer
3 by Defendants from on or about March 2011 to on or about September 2013. Plaintiff
4 Capilla believes her last hourly rate of pay was $7.25. Defendants are the only Party in 5 possession of Plaintiff's full schedule, pay, time, and employment records.

6           6.       Plaintiff JANICE JACKSON-WILLIAMS is natural person who is and was a
7 resident of the State of Nevada at all times relevant herein and was employed as a room
8 attendant by Defendants from on or about April 2014 through on or about December 9 2015. Plaintiff Jackson-Williams believes her last hourly rate of pay was $8.25.
10 Defendants are the only Party in possession of Plaintiff's full schedule, pay, time, and 11 employment records.

12           7.       Plaintiff WHITNEY VAUGHAN is natural person who is and was a resident
13 of the State of Nevada at all times relevant herein and was employed as a dancing dealer
14 (part cards dealer, part go-go dancer) by Defendants from on or about August 2012
15 through on or about June 2013. Plaintiff Vaughan believes her last hourly rate of pay 16 was $8.25. Defendants are the only Party in possession of Plaintiff's schedule, pay,
17 time, and employment records.

18           8.       Defendant HG STAFFING, LLC, is a Nevada Limited Liability Company
19 whose managing member is MEI-GSR HOLDINGS, LLC, located at 2500 East Second 20 Street, Reno, NV 89585.

21           9.       Defendant MEI-GSR HOLDINGS, LLC is a Nevada Limited Liability
22 Company located at 2500 East Second Street, Reno, NV 89585. Defendants MEI-GSR
23 HOLDINGS, LLC is doing business under the fictitious business name of Grand Sierra 24 Resorts, or "GSR", which is located at 200 East Second Street, Reno, NV 89585.

25           10.       Defendants, and each of them, are an employer under the provisions of 26 Nevada Revised Statutes Chapter 608. For labor relations purposes, Defendants are 27 each and together constitute the employer and/or joint employer of Plaintiffs and all 28 Plaintiff class members (hereinafter referred to as "Class Members").

1 11. The identity of DOES 1-50 is unknown at this time and this Complaint will 2 be amended at such time when the identities are known to Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs are 3 informed and believe that each of Defendants sued herein as DOE is responsible in 4 some manner for the acts, omissions, or representations alleged herein and any 5 reference to “Defendant,” “Defendants,” or “GSR” herein shall mean “Defendants and 6 each of them.”

7 FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

8 12. Plaintiffs were employed by Defendants as non-exempt hourly employees.

9 13. Plaintiff Jackson-Williams was scheduled for, and regularly worked, five 10 (5) shifts per week, at least eight (8) hours per shift, and forty (40) hours per workweek 11 and worked split shifts with less than 16-hours in between the end of one shift and the 12 beginning of another shift (“jammed shift”) especially during special events and busy
13 periods such as, but not limited to, concerts, Burning Man, Hot August Nights, and Street
14 Vibrations during the relevant time periods alleged herein. Defendants are the only 15 Party in possession of Plaintiff’s schedule, pay, time, and employment records.

16 14. Plaintiffs Martel, and Vaughan worked shifts over eight (8) hours per shift 17 one or more times a week on a regular basis and worked jammed shifts especially during 18 special events and busy periods such as, but not limited to, concerts Burning Man, Hot 19 August Nights, and Street Vibrations during the relevant time periods alleged herein.
20 Specific to Plaintiff Vaughan, because, dance classes were usually held on Saturday
21 mornings and it was not unusual to be scheduled to work a full shift the Friday night into 22 Saturday, then be required to attend dance class that same morning resulting in a 23 jammed shift. Defendants are the only Party in possession of Plaintiffs’ schedule, pay,
24 time, and employment records.

25 15. At all times relevant herein, Defendants maintained the following policies, 26 practices, and procedures of requiring various employees to perform work activities
27 without compensation. This was achieved by either rounding hours so that employees 28 who were technically “on the clock” did not receive pay for all their recorded hours

1 worked or by having employees perform work without being logged in to the timekeeping
2 system. Indeed, Defendants maintain an unlawful rounding policy whereby it rounds the 3 time recorded and worked by all hourly employees to the nearest 15 minutes for 4 purposes of calculating payment of wages owed. Such rounding favors the employer
5 and deprives the employees of pay for time they actually perform work activities.

6 16. At all times relevant herein, Defendants have been aware that their 7 policies and practices of failing to fully compensate Plaintiffs and all others similarly 8 situated for all hours worked was willful, oppressive, fraudulent, and illegal. Further,
9 Defendants' practice as set forth herein is anti-competitive in that these illegal practices
10 make one of Defendants' largest cost items, labor, lower than as compared to other 11 casino/resort/hotel operators who comply with the labor laws of the State.

12 A. DEFENDANTS' CASH BANK POLICY

13 17. Defendants required employees who handle monetary transactions in the 14 regular course of their employment to use or "carry" a cash bank. For example, the 15 following job positions are some of the job positions that required employees to carry a 16 cash bank: cashiers, bartenders, change persons, slot attendants, retail attendants, 17 arcade attendants, and front desk agents.

18 18. Defendants required all employees who carry a cash bank to retrieve and 19 deposit their respective cash bank both before and after the employees' regularly
20 scheduled shifts without compensation. As an example of this policy, Named Plaintiff
21 Martel was required to collect his bank of money at the dispatch cage prior to proceeding
22 to his workstation and without compensation. Similarly, at the end of his regularly 23 scheduled shifts, Plaintiff Martel was required to reconcile and deposit his cash bank to 24 the same dispatch cage without compensation. Upon information and belief, 25 Defendants required all employees who carry a cash bank in the performance of their 26 work duties to retrieve their cash bank from the same dispatch cage pre- and post-shift 27 without compensation.

1           19.    Named Plaintiff Martel estimates it took him approximately 15 minutes to 2 perform banking activities for which he was not paid the minimum, regular rate, or 3 overtime wages required by law. Upon information and belief, all other GSR employees
4 who carry a cash bank are similarly not compensated for the time in which they spend 5 performing their banking activities.

6           20.    As an example, only, Plaintiff Martel was employed from on or about 7 January 25, 2012 through June 12, 2014 for approximately 443 shifts (3.56 shifts per 8 week X 124.3 weeks = 443 shifts). See Exhibit 1 attached to the Toney Report, and 9 attached as Exhibit 1 to this Complaint. One specific date where Plaintiff Martel
10 conducted banking activities prior to clocking in and after clocking out is on May 28,
11 2013. Id. Although his shift was scheduled to start at 4:00 p.m. he picked up his bank 12 at 3:42 p.m. Id. His shift ended at 12:00 a.m. on May 29, 2013 but did not drop off his 13 bank until 12:03 a.m. Id. Because he conducted banking activities off the clock and 14 without pay, he should have been paid for an additional, approximately 15 minutes of 15 work time. Based on the data currently available to Plaintiffs, the additional 15 minutes
16 of cash banking activities multiplied by 443 shifts equates to 110.8 hours of unpaid
17 wages (15 minutes X 443 shifts = 6,645 minutes divided by 60 = 110.8 total pre-shift
18 hours). Id. Based on a weighted overtime rate of $9.62 (not all pre-shift activities 19 resulted in overtime), Plaintiff Martel is owed $1,065.90 in unpaid wages. Id. Based on 20 a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Martel should have been paid to 21 January 31, 2019, he is owed an additional $496.28 in interest. Because Plaintiff Martel 22 is no longer employed by Defendants, he is also owed waiting time penalties in the 23 amount of $3,598.65 (7.27 hours per day X $8.25 = $59.98 X 60 = $3,598.65). Thus, 24 Plaintiff Martel is owed approximately $5,160.83 for unpaid cash banking activities.

25           21.    Upon information and belief, all other GSR employees who were similarly 26 required to carry a cash bank were not compensated for the time in which they 27 conducted banking activities. Based on a class list provided by Defendants for the

1 period of June 24, 2010 through April 21, 2014<sup>1</sup> (attached as Exhibit 2, hereto), there
2 are approximately 587 class members. Based on the average weekly shift count and
3 pay rates for Plaintiff Martel, extrapolated for the full class period, the putative Cash
4 Bank Class Members are owed approximately $700,927.63 in unpaid wages. Id.
5 Additionally, 379 members of the Cash Bank Class are no longer employed as of April
6 21, 2014. Id. Thus, based on the failure to pay 379 class members all wages due and 7 owing at the time of termination, formerly employed class members are owed an
8 additional $1,363,888.35 in waiting time penalties. Id. If termination rates remain steady
9 for the full class period, it is estimated that the putative Cash Bank Class Members would 10 be owed $3,494,289.15 in waiting time penalties. Id. The total estimated damage
11 amount due for the Cash Bank Class is $4,195,216.78. Id.

12 22. Defendants are legally required to maintain the employment records for 13 Plaintiff Martell and all putative Class Members who carried a cash bank. GSR is 14 therefore in possession (or should be in possession) of the necessary scheduling, gate
15 data (swipe in/out of the GSR property), punch data (clock in/out records), and pay data
16 to demonstrate the exact amount of wages that Plaintiff Martell and all putative Class
17 Members are owed and at the correct rate of pay those wages must be paid. Since 18 Plaintiff was never compensated for the pre- and post-shift activities outlined herein, 19 Plaintiff and all putative Cash Bank Class Members are owed compensation at the 20 applicable hourly rate for each and every day they carried a cash bank.

21 B. DEFENDANTS' DANCE CLASS POLICY

22 23. Defendants required all employees who worked as a servetainer and/or 23 dancing dealer to learn dance routines and attend rehearsals without compensation. If 24 the employee did not attend dance classes, they would be taken off the schedule and 25 written up for misconduct.

26 _____
27 <sup>1</sup> Although the Class List provided spans the time period of June 24, 2019 through 28 April 21, 2014, the Class period is limited to March 30, 2011 to the present, because the current owners, HG STAFFING, LLC, MEI-GSR HOLDINGS LLC purchased the property known as the Grand Sierra Resort ("GSR"), March 31, 2011.

1           24.    When named Plaintiff Vaughan was a dancing dealer, she was required
2 to attend dance classes of an hour or more, two to four times a week for which she was 3 not paid her minimum, regular rate, or overtime wages.  Additionally, dance classes
4 were usually held on Saturday mornings and it was not unusual to be scheduled to work
5 a full shift the Friday night into Saturday, then be required to attend dance class that 6 same morning.

7           25.    As an example, only, Plaintiff Vaughan was employed from on or about 8 August 1, 2012 through June 13, 2013 for 46 weeks.  See Exhibit 2 to the Toney Report.
9 Upon information and belief, one specific date where Plaintiff attended dance classes
10 off the clock occurred when Plaintiff Vaughan worked April 26, 2013 from 8:30 p.m. to 11 April, 27, 2013 at 4:00 a.m. (7.5 hours), was required to attend dance class (2 hours),
12 then worked from 8:15 p.m. on April 27, 2013, to 1:00 a.m. on April 28, 2013 (4.75 13 hours).  See Exhibit 6.  Because she was required to attend dance classes off the clock
14 and without pay, she should have been paid for 2 hours.  Based on the data currently 15 available to Plaintiffs, the two hours per week of unpaid dance classes amounts to 92
16 hours (46 X 2 = 92).  See Exhibit 2 to Toney Report.  Ninety-two hours at Plaintiff
17 Vaughan's straight-time rate of $8.25 amounts to $759.00 of unpaid wages.  Id.  Based 18 on a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Vaughan should have been paid to 19 January 31, 2019, she is owed an additional $428.08 in interest.  Because Ms. Vaughan
20 is no longer employed by Defendants, she is owed waiting time penalties equal to 60 21 days of wages in the amount of $2,623.50 (average of 5.3 hours per shift, multiplied by 22 $8.25 = $43.725 per day X 60 = $2,623.50).  Id.  Thus, Plaintiff Vaughan is owed 23 approximately $3,810.58 for unpaid dance classes.

24           26.    Upon information and belief, all other GSR employees who were similarly
25 required to attend dance classes were not compensated for the required dance class
26 time.  Based on a class list provided by Defendants for the period of June 24, 2010
27 through April 21, 2014, there are approximately 48 class members.  See Exhibit 2.
28 Based on the average weekly shift count and pay rates for Plaintiff Vaughan,

1 extrapolated for the full class period, the putative Dance Class Members are owed
2 approximately $143,081.40 in unpaid wages. See Exhibit 2 attached to the Toney
3 Report. Additionally, 21 members of the Dance Class are no longer employed as of 4 April 21, 2014. Id. Thus, based on the failure to pay 21 class members all wages due 5 and owing at the time of termination, formerly employed class members are owed an
6 additional $55,093.50 in waiting time penalties. Id. If termination rates remain steady
7 for the full class period, it is estimated that the putative Dance Class Members would be 8 owed $139,045.50 in waiting time penalties. Id. The total estimated damage amount 9 due for the Cash Dance Class is $282,126.90. Id.

10 27. Defendants are legally required to maintain the employment records for 11 Plaintiff Vaughan and all putative Class Members who attended dance classes. GSR is 12 therefore in possession (or should be in possession) of the necessary scheduling, gate
13 data (swipe in/out of the GSR property), punch data (clock in/out records), and pay data
14 to demonstrate the exact amount of wages that Plaintiff Vaughan and all putative Dance
15 Class Members are owed and at the correct rate of pay those wages must be paid. Since 16 Plaintiff was never compensated for the dance classes outlined herein, Plaintiff and all 17 putative Dance Class Members are owed compensation at the applicable hourly rate for 18 each and every dance class they attended.

19 C. DEFENDANTS' ROOM ATTENDANT PRE-SHIFT POLICY

20 28. Defendants required all employees who worked as a room
21 attendant/housekeeper to engage in pre-shift work activities off the clock and without 22 compensation. Room attendants were required to arrive 20 minutes or more prior to 23 their regularly scheduled start time to present themselves to their shift supervisors for 24 room/floor assignments, a uniform inspection, and to retrieve tools necessary to 25 complete their work tasks, including but not limited to filling their caddies with room 26 amenities, and their cleaning carts. These tasks were completed off the clock and 27 without compensation.

1           29. As an example, only, Plaintiff Jackson-Williams<sup>2</sup> was employed from on or 2 about April 9, 2014 through December 31, 2015 for approximately 90.3 weeks. See
3 Exhibit 3 attached to the Toney Report. She alleges she worked an average of five 4 shifts per week or 452 shifts ( $90.3 \times 5 = 451.5$ ). She also alleges that each and every 5 shift she worked during her 90.3 weeks of employment, she was required to work
6 approximately twenty (20) minutes each and every shift of unpaid pre-shift time
7 amounting to 150.7 hours ( $452 \times 20 \text{ minutes} = 9,040 \text{ minutes}$ , divided by 60 = 150.7
8 hours). One-hundred fifty point seven hours multiplied by the overtime rate of $12.375
9 ( $$8.25 \times 1.5 = $12.375$ ) equates to $1,864.91 in unpaid wages. Id. Based on a simple 10 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Jackson-Williams should have been paid to 11 January 31, 2019, she is owed an additional $561.34 in interest. Id. Because Ms.
12 Jackson-Williams is no longer employed by Defendants, she is owed waiting time 13 penalties equal to 60 days of wages in the amount of $3,960.00 (average of 8 hours per 14 shift, multiplied by  $$8.25 = $66.00$  per day  $\times 60 = $3,960.00$ ). Id. Thus, Plaintiff 15 Jackson-Williams is owed $6,386.25 for unpaid pre-shift activities. Id.

16           30. Named Plaintiff Jackson-Williams was required to complete these work 17 tasks each and every shift worked and was not paid her minimum, regular rate, or 18 overtime wages. Based on her knowledge and belief all employees who were similarly 19 employed as room attendants/housekeepers followed the same policy and procedure
20 as mandated by Defendants. Upon information and belief, all other GSR employees 21 who were similarly employed as room attendants were not compensated for the required
22 ore-shift time. Based on a class list provided by Defendants for the period of June 24,

24           <sup>2</sup> Plaintiff Jackson-Williams is not in possession, custody or control of any of her 25 schedules, time, or pay data, however she was scheduled to work and did work five 26 shifts per week. Defendants are legally required to maintain the employment records 27 for Plaintiff Jackson-Williams and all putative Room Attendant Class Members. GSR is 28 therefore in possession (or should be in possession) of the necessary scheduling, gate
data (swipe in/out of the GSR property), punch data (clock in/out records), and pay data to demonstrate the exact amount of wages that Plaintiff Jackson-Williams and all putative Room Attendant Class Members are owed and at the correct rate of pay those wages must be paid.

1 2010 through April 21, 2014, there are approximately 217 class members. See Exhibit
2 2. Based on the average weekly shift count and pay rates for Plaintiff Jackson-Williams, 3 extrapolated for the full class period, the putative Room Attendant Class Members who 4 were employed fulltime, are owed approximately $1,109,860.54 in unpaid wages. See
5 Exhibit 3 attached to the Toney Report. Additionally, 83 members of the Room
6 Attendant Class are no longer employed as of April 21, 2014. Id. Thus, based on the 7 failure to pay 83 class members all wages due and owing at the time of termination,
8 formerly employed class members are owed an additional $328,680.00 in waiting time
9 penalties. Id. If termination rates remain steady for the full class period, it is estimated 10 that the putative Room Attendant Class Members would be owed $839,520.00 in waiting
11 time penalties. Id. The total estimated damage amount due for the Room Attendant 12 Class is $1,949,380.54.<sup>3</sup> Id.

14 Plaintiff Jackson-Williams and all putative Room Attendant Class Members. GSR is 15 therefore in possession (or should be in possession) of the necessary scheduling, gate
16 data (swipe in/out of the GSR property), punch data (clock in/out records), and pay data
17 to demonstrate the exact amount of wages that Plaintiff Jackson-Williams and all
18 putative Room Attendant Class Members are owed and at the correct rate of pay those 19 wages must be paid. Since Plaintiff was never compensated for the pre-shift work
20 activities outlined herein, Plaintiff and all putative Room Attendant Class Members are 21 owed compensation at the applicable hourly rate for each and every shift worked.

22 D. DEFENDANTS' PRE-SHIFT MEETING POLICY

23 32. Defendants required all employees who worked as cocktail waitresses, 24 bartenders, dealers, security guards, technicians, construction workers, and retail

26 <sup>3</sup> This figure is limited to full-time employed room attendants and does not take 27 into account the part-time room attendants who were also required to complete work 28 activities off the clock and without compensation. See Exhibit 3. Part-time employees for the period of March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019 have damage ranges from

1 attendants to attend a pre-shift meeting without compensation. The pre-shift meetings
2 were held in order to instruct employees on job duties, special events in the area and at 3 the GSR, occupancy, and other job related information. Pre-shift meetings could take 4 10 minutes or more and were either held off the clock or during the period of time that 5 was improperly rounded off of employees' time cards.

6 33. As an example, only, Plaintiff Capilla was employed from on or about 7 March 23, 2011 through September 9, 2013 for approximately 128.9 weeks. See Exhibit
8 4 attached to the Toney Report. Because she was required to attend pre-shift meeting
9 off the clock and without pay, she should have been paid for an additional 10 minutes
10 of compensable work time in addition to her regular work hours. Based on the data
11 currently available to Plaintiffs, she worked an average of 3.82 shifts per week or 493
12 shifts ( $3.82 \times 128.9 = 493$ ). Id. Ten minutes multiplied by 493 shifts equates to 82.2
13 hours of unpaid pre-shift meeting work ( $10 \times 493 = 4,930$  divided by  $60 = 82.16$  hours).
14 Id. Eighty-two hours multiplied by the weighted rate of $8.47 (not all hours worked were 15 overtime hours) equates to $696.23 in unpaid wages due ( $$8.47 \times 82.2 = $696.23$ ).
16 Based on a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Jackson-Williams should 17 have been paid to January 31, 2019, she is owed an additional $375.96 in interest. Id.
18 Because Ms. Capilla is no longer employed by Defendants, she is owed waiting time 19 penalties equal to 60 days of wages in the amount of $3,001.50 (average of 6.9 hours 20 per shift  $\times $7.25 = $50.03 \times 60 = $3,001.50$ ). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Capilla is owed
21 approximately $4,073.69 for unpaid pre-shift meetings. Id.

22 34. As an example, only, Plaintiff Martel was employed from on or about
23 January 25, 2012 through June 12, 2014 for approximately 124.3 weeks. See Exhibit 4
24 attached to the Toney Report. Because he was required to attend pre-shift meetings off 25 the clock and without pay, he should have been paid for an additional 10 minutes of 26 compensable work time in addition to his regular hours. Based on the data currently 27 available to Plaintiffs, he worked an average of 3.56 shifts per week or 443 shifts ( $3.56$ 28  $\times 124.3 = 443$ ). Ten minutes multiplied by 443 shifts equates to 73.8 hours of unpaid

1 pre-shift meeting work ( $10 \times 443 = 4,430$  divided by  $60 = 73.8$  hours). Id. Seventy-three 2 point 8 hours multiplied by the weighted rate of \$9.62 (not all hours worked were
3 overtime hours) equates to $709.96 in unpaid wages due ( $$9.62 \times 73.8 = $709.96$ ).
4 Based on a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Martel should have been paid
5 to January 31, 2019, he is owed an additional $383.38 in interest. Id. Because Mr.
6 Martel is no longer employed by Defendants, he is owed waiting time penalties equal to
7 60 days of wages in the amount of $3,598.65 (average of 7.27 hours per shift, multiplied
8 by  $$8.25 = $59.98$  per day  $\times 60 = $3,598.65$ ). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Martel is owed
9 approximately $4,691.99 for unpaid pre-shift meetings. Id.

10 35. Named Plaintiffs Capilla and Martel were required to attend these pre-shift 11 meetings without compensation and for which they were not paid their minimum, regular 12 rate, or overtime wages. Based on their knowledge and belief all employees who were 13 similarly employed as dealers, cocktail waitresses, baristas, security guards, bartenders, 14 and retail attendants followed the same policy and procedure as mandated by 15 Defendants. Upon information and belief, all other GSR employees who were similarly 16 required to attend pre-shift meetings were not compensated for the required pre-shift
17 time. Based on a class list provided by Defendants for the period of June 24, 2010
18 through April 21, 2014, there are approximately 609 class members. See Exhibit 2.
19 Based on the average weekly shift count and pay rates for Plaintiff Capilla and Plaintiff
20 Martel, extrapolated out for the entire class period, the putative Pre-Shift Meeting Class 21 Members are owed approximately $571,434.92 in unpaid wages. See Exhibit 4 to the 22 Toney Report. Additionally, 417 members of the Pre-Shift Class are no longer employed
23 as of April 21, 2014. Id. Thus, based on the failure to pay 417 class members all wages
24 due and owing at the time of termination, formerly employed class members are owed
25 an additional $1,371,396.24 in waiting time penalties. Id. If termination rates remain
26 steady for the full class period, it is estimated that the putative Pre-Shift Class Members
27 would be owed $3,512,352.96 in waiting time penalties. Id. The total estimated damage
28 amount due for the Cash Bank Class is $4,083,787.88. Id.

1 36. Defendants are legally required to maintain the employment records for 2 Plaintiffs Capilla and Martel and all putative Pre-Shift Meeting Class Members. GSR is
3 therefore in possession (or should be in possession) of the necessary scheduling, gate
4 data (swipe in/out of the GSR property), punch data (clock in/out records), and pay data
5 to demonstrate the exact amount of wages that Plaintiffs Capilla and Martel and all 6 putative Pre-Shift Meeting Class Members are owed and at the correct rate of pay those
7 wages must be paid. Since Plaintiff was never compensated for the pre-shift work
8 activities outlined herein, Plaintiffs and all putative Pre-Shift Class Members are owed 9 compensation at the applicable hourly rate for each and every shift worked.

10 E DEFENDANTS' UNIFORM POLICY

11 37. Defendants required all employees who worked as dancing dealers,
12 cocktail waitresses, and baristas to change into and out of their uniforms on the GSR 13 premises without compensation.

14 38. Named Plaintiff Vaughan was required to change into and out of her 15 uniform on the GSR premises without compensation and for which she was not paid her 16 minimum, regular rate, or overtime wages. Changing into and out of uniforms could take 17 15 minutes or more and employees either changed off the clock and/or were changing 18 during the period of time that was improperly rounded off of employees' time cards.

19 39. As an example, only, Plaintiff Vaughan was employed from on or about 20 August 1, 2012 through June 13, 2013 for 45.3 weeks or approximately 95 shifts (45.3 21 X 2.1 = 95.13). See Exhibit 5 attached to the Toney Report. Upon information and 22 belief, one specific date where Plaintiff attended dance classes off the clock occurred
23 when Plaintiff Vaughan worked April 26, 2013 from 8:30 p.m. to April, 27, 2013 at 4:00
24 a.m. (7.5 hours), was required to attend dance class (2 hours), then worked from 8:15
25 p.m. on April 27, 2013, to 1:00 a.m. on April 28, 2013 (4.75 hours). See Exhibit 6 to 26 Toney Report. Because she was required to engage in uniform changing on premises 27 and off the clock and without pay, she should have been paid for 15 minutes of additional 28 work time. Fifteen minutes per shift of unpaid uniform changing time per shift amounts

1 to 23.8 hours (95 X 15 = 1,425 divided by 60 = 23.75). See Exhibit 5 attached to the 2 Toney Report. Twenty-three point seven-five hours at Plaintiff Vaughan’s weighted
 3 wage rate of $8.46 (not all hours were overtime hours) amounts to $201.35 of unpaid
 4 wages (23.75 X $8.46 = $201.35). Id. Based on a simple 10% interest rate from the 5 time Plaintiff Martel should have been paid to January 31, 2019, he is owed an additional 6 $113.76 in interest. Id. Because Ms. Vaughan is no longer employed by Defendants,
 7 she is owed waiting time penalties equal to 60 days of wages in the amount of $2,623.50
 8 (average of 5.3 hours per shift, multiplied by $8.25 = $43.725 per day X 60 = $2,623.50).
 9 Id. Thus, Plaintiff Vaughan is owed approximately $2,938.61 for unpaid uniform
 10 changing activities. Id.

11 40. Based on Plaintiff Vaughan’s knowledge and belief all employees who 12 were similarly employed as dancer dealers, cocktail waitresses, and baristas followed 13 the same policy and procedure mandated by Defendants. Upon information and belief, 14 all other GSR employees who were similarly required to change in to and out of uniforms 15 on the GSR premises were similarly not paid. Based on a class list provided by 16 Defendants for the period of June 24, 2010 through April 21, 2014, there are 17 approximately 240 class members. See Exhibit 2. Based on the average weekly shift
 18 count and pay rates for Plaintiff Vaughan, the putative Uniform Class Members are owed 19 approximately $50,970.65 in unpaid wages. See Exhibit 5 to the Toney Report.
 20 Additionally, 157 members of the Uniform Class are no longer employed as of April 21, 21 2014. Id. Thus, based on the failure to pay 157 class members all wages due and 22 owing at the time of termination, formerly employed class members are owed an
 23 additional $411,889.50 in waiting time penalties. Id. If termination rates remain steady
 24 for the full class period, it is estimated that the putative Uniform Class Members would
 25 be owed $1,054,647.00 in waiting time penalties. Id. The total estimated damage
 26 amount due for the Uniform Class is $1,197,561.78. Id.

27 41. Defendants are legally required to maintain the employment records for 28 Plaintiff Vaughan and all putative Uniform Members. GSR is therefore in possession (or

1 should be in possession) of the necessary scheduling, gate data (swipe in/out of the 2 GSR property), punch data (clock in/out records), and pay data to demonstrate the exact
3 amount of wages that Plaintiff Vaughan and all putative Uniform Class Members are 4 owed and at the correct rate of pay those wages must be paid. Since Plaintiff was never 5 compensated for the uniform changing activities outlined herein, Plaintiff and all putative
6 Uniform Class Members are owed compensation at the applicable hourly rate for each 7 and every shift worked.

8 F. DEFENDANTS' SHIFT JAMMING POLICY

9 42. In addition to requiring employees to perform work activities without 10 compensation, Defendants engaged in the unlawful practice known as "shift-jamming."

11 43. Pursuant to NRS 608.018(1), employees who are paid less than one and 12 one half times the minimum wage must be paid daily overtime if they work more than 8
13 hours a day (or 10 hours in a day if they are on a recognized and agreed upon 4-10 14 workweek—four days a week at ten hours a day).

15 44. NRS 608.0126 defines a "Workday" as a period of 24 consecutive hours, 16 which begins when the employee begins work.

17 45. Upon information and belief, Defendants did not offer health insurance to 18 qualify for the lower minimum wage for insured employees.

19 46. Thus, hourly employees paid less than $12.375 who the Defendants
20 required, suffered or permitted to return to work before the expiration of 16 hours 21 between when they last worked for the employer and started their next shift, must be 22 paid at overtime rates until the end of that workday.

23 47. Defendants routinely required employees who were entitled to daily
24 overtime to return to work sooner than 16 hours from when they last worked, whether it 25 to be for their normal job duties or a special event, during high occupancy periods such 26 as for concerts, Burning Man, Hot August Nights, and Street Vibrations, or mandatory 27 meetings, without paying the proper overtime rate.

1           48.     Plaintiffs were scheduled to and did work shifts with less than 16 hours
2 between the end of one shift and the beginning of the next without being paid overtime
3 premium for hours worked over eight in a workday.

4           49.     As an example, only, Plaintiff Martel was employed from on or about 5 January 25, 2012 through June 12, 2014. Where KRONOS (time) data is available, he 6 worked approximately 101 weeks. See Exhibit 6 attached to the Toney Report. For 7 instance, Plaintiff Martel worked from 6:45 p.m. on August 10, 2013 to 4:15 a.m. on 8 August 11, 2013 (8.0 hours). Id. He then worked 4:00 p.m. on August 11, 2013 to 12:30
9 a.m. on August 12, 2013 (8.0 hours). Because he was required to return to work before 10 he received 16 hours off between the end of his first shift and the beginning of the next,
11 he worked a jammed shift. The available KRONOS clock time contains 362 shifts. Id.
12 Of the analyzed shifts, a shift jam was observed in 37 shifts or 10% of the time. Id. Of 13 the jammed shifts, 21 or 6% resulted in unpaid overtime premium due. Id. When an 14 overtime impact existed, the average overtime hour amount was 1.52. Id. The total shift
15 jam hours with overtime premium due is 21 shifts, resulting in an underpayment of 31.9
16 hours (21 shifts X 1.52 hours = 31.9 hours). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Martel is due and 17 additional $138.77 in unpaid overtime premium (31 X $4.13 (half-time rate) = $131.75).
18 Id. Based on a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Martel should have been 19 paid to January 31, 2019, he is owed an additional $67.19 in interest. Id. Because Mr.
20 Martel is no longer employed by Defendants, he is owed waiting time penalties equal to 21 60 days of wages in the amount of $3,598.65 (average of 7.27 hours per shift, multiplied
22 by $8.25 = $59.98 per day X 60 = $3,598.65). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Martel is owed
23 approximately $3,797.59 for jammed shifts. Id.

24           50.     As an example, only, Plaintiff Vaughan was employed from on or about 25 August 1, 2012 through June 13, 2013. Where KRONOS (time) data is available, she 26 worked approximately 45.3 weeks. See Exhibit 6 attached to the Toney Report. Upon 27 information and belief, one specific date where Plaintiff attended dance classes off the 28 clock occurred when Plaintiff Vaughan worked April 26, 2013 from 8:30 p.m. to April 27,

1 2013 at 4:00 a.m. (7.5 hours), was required to attend dance class (2 hours), then worked
2 from 8:15 p.m. on April 27, 2013, to 1:00 a.m. on April 28, 2013 (4.75 hours). Id.
3 Because she was required to change and attend dance classes off the clock and without 4 pay, and did not receive 16 hours off between the end of her first shift and the beginning
5 of the next, she worked a jammed shift. The available KRONOS clock time contains 95
6 shifts. Id. Of the analyzed shifts, a shift jam was observed in 8 shifts or 9% of the time.
7 Id. Of the jammed shifts, 4 resulted in unpaid overtime premium due. Id. When an 8 overtime impact existed, the average overtime hour amount was 1.12. Id. The total shift
9 jam hours with overtime premium due is 8 shifts, resulting in an underpayment of 9.0
10 hours (8 shifts X 1.12 hours = 9.0 hours). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Vaughan is due and 11 additional $37.17 in unpaid overtime premium (9 X $4.13 (half-time rate) = $37.17). Id.
12 Based on a simple 10% interest rate from the time Plaintiff Vaughan should have been 13 paid to January 31, 2019, she is owed an additional $21.00 in interest. Id. Because Ms.
14 Vaughan is no longer employed by Defendants, she is owed waiting time penalties equal 15 to 60 days of wages in the amount of $2,623.50 (average of 5.3 hours per shift, multiplied 16 by $8.25 = $43.725 per day X 60 = $2,623.50). Id. Thus, Plaintiff Vaughan is owed
17 approximately $2,681.67 for jammed shifts. Id.

18 51. Defendants have admitted that they did not pay employees for jammed 19 shifts for the period of time between November 4, 2011 and July 11, 2014 for “certain 20 team members.” See Exhibit 3 attached, hereinafter “Audit Letter.”

21 52. It is not possible for Plaintiff to estimate class damages because 22 Defendants are the sole Party in this action who have access to the relevant schedule,
23 time, and pay data required to conduct further analysis. Defendants are legally required
24 to maintain the employment records for Plaintiffs Martell and Vaughan and all putative 25 Shift Jamming Class Members. GSR is therefore in possession (or should be in 26 possession) of the necessary scheduling, gate data (swipe in/out of the GSR property), 27 punch data (clock in/out records), and pay data to demonstrate whether or not 28 employees were subject to a jammed shift and whether or not these Class Members

1 received proper overtime premium pay. The claim for unpaid overtime wages pursuant 2 to Defendants' shift jamming policy is only brought on behalf of employees who are not 3 covered by a valid and effective collective bargaining agreement.

4 CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

5 53. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by this reference all the paragraphs
6 above in this Complaint as though fully set forth herein.

7 54. Plaintiffs seek to represent the following classes of employees in 8 Defendants' employ during the relevant time period<sup>4</sup>:

9 A. Cash Bank Class: All Nevada residents who were employed by 10 Defendants at the time of filing the original complaint in this action and who were 11 required to carry a cash bank and performed banking activities without 12 compensation, including (but not limited to), cashiers, bartenders, slot attendants, 13 retail attendants, change attendants, and front desk agents, at any time from 14 March 31, 2011 to the present<sup>5</sup>;

15 B. Dance Class: All Nevada residents who were employed by

18 <sup>4</sup> On June 21, 2013 Plaintiffs Tiffany Sargent and Bailey Cryderman filed a 19 proposed class action for failure to pay wages due and owing in the Second Judicial 20 District Court of the State of Nevada in and for the County of Washoe. (See CV13 21 01351.) Defendants removed that action to the United States District Court District of 22 Nevada on August 22, 2013. Plaintiffs' claims asserted in the instant Complaint were 23 dismissed prior to being certified as a class action on January 12, 2016. The Nevada
24 Supreme Court grants equitable tolling for all putative class members. Golden Coin, 25 Ltd., 124 Nev. at 34, 176 P.3d at 275 (“[C]lass actions brought under NRCP 23 toll the 26 statute of limitations on all potential unnamed plaintiffs' claims[.]”); see also Allen v. KB 27 Home Nevada, Inc., 2013 WL 8609775 (Nev. Dist. Ct. July 25, 2013) (It is determined
28 that pursuant to Jane Roe Dancer I-VII v. Golden Coin, Ltd., 124 Nev. 28, 176 P.3d 271
(2008), that based on the complaint filed on December 2, 2008, which alleges class action status as a remedy, the statute of limitations and/or repose is tolled for all putative class members.” (citations omitted)). Accordingly, pursuant to Golden Coin tolling, Plaintiffs and putative class members' wage claims go back to June 21, 2010, three

the property known as the Grand Sierra Resort (“GSR”), March 31, 2011.

1 required to attend dance classes without compensation at any time from March 2 31, 2011 to the present;

3 C. Room Attendant Class: All Nevada residents who were employed
4 by Defendants at the time of filing the original complaint in this action and who
5 were employed as room attendants and were required to perform pre-shift work
6 activities without compensation at any time from March 31, 2011 to the present;

7 D. Pre-shift Meeting Class: All Nevada residents who were 8 employed by Defendants at the time of filing the original complaint in this action
9 and who were required to attend pre-shift meetings without compensation,
10 including (but not limited to), cocktail waitresses, bartenders, dealers, security 11 guards, technicians, construction workers, and retail attendants, at any time from 12 March 31, 2011 to the present.

13 E. Uniform Class: All Nevada residents who were employed by 14 Defendants at the time of filing the original complaint in this action and who were 15 employed as cocktail waitresses and/or baristas and were required to change 16 into and out of their uniforms on property without compensation at any time from 17 March 31, 2011 to the present.

18 F. Shift Jamming Class: All Nevada residents who were employed
19 by Defendants at the time of filing the original complaint in this action and who 20 were employed by Defendants as non-exempt hourly paid employees and were 21 not covered by a valid and effective collective bargaining agreement and who 22 worked subjected to Defendants' shift jamming policy.

23 55. Class treatment is appropriate in this case for the following reasons:

25 Defendants employ, and have employed, at least 587 Cash Bank Class Members;
26 at least 48 Dance Class Members; at least 217 Room Attendant Class Members;

27 <sup>6</sup> Plaintiffs base the approximate class members on number of employees who 28 hold and/or held the positions encompassed by the subclasses, which were provided as part of the Master Class List in the Sargent case attached as Exhibit 2.

1 at least 609 Pre-Shift Meeting Class Members; at least 240 Uniform Class; and 2 approximately 200 Shift Jamming Class Members.

3 B. Plaintiffs' Claims are Typical to Those of Fellow Class Members:
4 Each Class Member is and was subject to the same practices, plans, or policies
5 as Plaintiffs—Defendants required Plaintiffs to work “off the clock” and without 6 compensation; Defendants’ engaged in improper shift jamming; and Defendants
7 failed to pay wages due and owing at the time of separation of employment.

8 C. Common Questions of Law and Fact Exist: Common questions of 9 law and fact exist and predominate as to Plaintiffs and the Class, including,
10 without limitation: Whether the time spent by Plaintiffs and Class Members
11 engaging in the alleged “off-the-clock” work is compensable under Nevada law;
12 whether Defendants’ engaged in improper shift jamming; and whether Defendants
13 failed to pay wages due and owing at the time of separation of employment.

14 D. Plaintiffs are Adequate Representatives of the Class: Plaintiffs will 15 fairly and adequately represent the interests of the Class because Plaintiffs are 16 members of the Classes, they have issues of law and fact in common with all 17 members of the Class, and they do not have interests that are antagonistic to 18 Class Members.

19 E. Predominance/Superiority: Class issues predominate, and a class 20 action is superior to other available means for the fair and efficient adjudication of 21 this controversy, since individual joinder of all members of the Class is impractical.
22 Class action treatment will permit a large number of similarly situated persons to 23 prosecute their common claims in a single forum simultaneously, efficiently, and 24 without unnecessary duplication of effort and expense. Furthermore, the 25 expenses and burden of individualized litigation would make it difficult or 26 impossible for individual members of the Class to redress the wrongs done to 27 them, while an important public interest will be served by addressing the matter 28

1 as a class action. Individualized litigation would also present the potential for 2 inconsistent or contradictory judgments.

3 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

4 Failure to Pay Wages for All Hours Worked in Violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.016
5 (On Behalf of All Plaintiffs and the Cash Bank, Dance, Room Attendant, Pre-shift
6 Meeting, and Uniform Classes Against All Defendants)

7 40. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by this reference all the paragraphs
8 above in this Complaint as though fully set forth herein.

9 41. NRS 608.140 provides that an employee has a private right of action for 10 unpaid wages.

11 42. NRS 608.016 states, “An employer shall pay to the employee wages for 12 each hour the employee works.” Hours worked means anytime the employer exercises 13 “control or custody” over an employee. See NRS 608.011 (defining an “employer” as 14 “every person having control or custody . . . of any employee.”). Pursuant to the Nevada 15 Administrative Code, hours worked includes “all time worked by the employee at the 16 direction of the employer, including time worked by the employee that is outside the 17 scheduled hours of work of the employee.” NAC 608.115(1).

18 43. By failing to compensate Plaintiffs and members of the Cash Bank, Dance, 19 Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting and Uniform Classes for the time spent performing 20 the work activities without compensation identified above, Defendants failed to pay
21 Plaintiffs and members of those classes for all hours worked in violation of NRS 608.140
22 and 608.016.

23 44. Despite demand, Defendants willfully refuse and continue to refuse to pay
24 its employees wages for each hour the employee works.

25 45. Wherefore, Plaintiffs demand for themselves and for all members of the 26 Cash Bank, Dance, Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting and Uniform Classes payment 27 by Defendants at the regular hourly rate of pay for all hours worked during the during 28

1 the relevant time period alleged herein together with attorneys' fees, costs, and interest
2 as provided by law.

3 SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

4 Failure to Pay Minimum Wages in Violation of the Nevada Constitution
5 (On Behalf of All Plaintiffs and the Cash Bank, Dance, Room Attendant, Pre-shift
6 Meeting, and Uniform Classes Against All Defendants)

7 46. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by this reference all the paragraphs
8 above in this Complaint as though fully set forth herein.

9 47. Article 15 Section 16 of the Nevada Constitution sets forth the 10 requirements the minimum wage requirements in the State of Nevada and further 11 provides that "[t]he provisions of this section may not be waived by agreement between 12 an individual employee and an employer. . . . An employee claiming violation of this 13 section may bring an action against his or her employer in the courts of this State to 14 enforce the provisions of this section and shall be entitled to all remedies available under 15 the law or in equity appropriate to remedy any violation of this section, including but not 16 limited to back pay, damages, reinstatement or injunctive relief. An employee who 17 prevails in any action to enforce this section shall be awarded his or her reasonable 18 attorney's fees and costs."

19 48. By failing to compensate Plaintiffs and members of the Cash Bank, Dance,
20 Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting, and Uniform Classes any sort of compensation 21 (zero dollars) for the time spent performing the work activities identified above, 22 Defendants failed to pay Plaintiffs and members of those classes minimum wages for 23 all hours worked in violation of the Nevada Constitution.

24 49. Despite demand, Defendants willfully refuse and continue to refuse to pay 25 its employees minimum wages for each hour the employee works as required by the 26 Nevada Constitution.

27 50. Wherefore, Plaintiffs demand for themselves and for all for all members of 28 the Cash Bank, Dance, Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting, and Uniform Classes

1 payment by Defendants at the minimum wage rate for all hours worked during the 2 relevant time period alleged herein together with attorneys' fees, costs, and interest as 3 provided by law.

4 THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

5 Failure to Pay Overtime Wages in Violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.018
6 (On Behalf of All Plaintiffs and the Cash Bank, Dance, Room Attendant, Pre-shift
7 Meeting, Uniform, and Shift Jamming Classes Against All Defendants)

8 51. Plaintiffs reallege and incorporate by this reference all the paragraphs
9 above in this Complaint as though fully set forth herein.

10 52. NRS 608.140 provides that an employee has a private right of action for 11 unpaid wages.

12 53. NRS 608.018(1) provides as follows:

13 An employer shall pay 1 1/2 times an employee's regular 14 wage rate whenever an employee who receives
15 compensation for employment at a rate less than 1 1/2 times
16 the minimum rate prescribed pursuant to NRS 608.250
17 works: (a) More than 40 hours in any scheduled week of 18 work; or (b) More than 8 hours in any workday unless by mutual agreement the employee works a scheduled 10 hours per day for 4 calendar days within any scheduled week of work.

19 54. NRS 608.018(2) provides as follows:

20 An employer shall pay 1 1/2 times an employee's regular
21 wage rate whenever an employee who receives
22 compensation for employment at a rate not less than 1 1/2
23 times the minimum rate prescribed pursuant to NRS 608.250 works more than 40 hours in any scheduled week of work.

24 55. By failing to compensate Plaintiffs and members of the Cash Bank, Dance,
25 Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting, Uniform, and Shift Jamming Classes for the time
26 spent performing the work activities without compensation identified above, Defendants
27 failed to pay Plaintiffs and those class members overtime premium pay for all hours
28 worked over eight (8) hours in a workday to those Class Members who were paid a

1 regular rate of less than one and one half times the minimum wage premium pay and,
2 failed to pay a weekly premium overtime rate of time and one half their regular rate for 3 all members of the Class who worked in excess of forty (40) hours in a week in violation
4 of NRS 608.140 and 608.018.

5 56. Despite demand, Defendants willfully refuse and continue to refuse to pay
6 its employees 1 ½ times their regular rate of pay for hours worked over forty (40) in a 7 workweek and/or over eight (8) hours in a workday.

8 57. Wherefore, Plaintiffs demand for themselves and for and members of the 9 Cash Bank, Dance, Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting, Uniform, and Shift Jamming
10 Classes that Defendants pay Plaintiffs and those class members one and one half times
11 their “regular rate” of pay for all hours worked in excess of eight (8) hours in a workday 12 and in excess of forty (40) hours a workweek during the relevant time period alleged 13 herein together with attorneys’ fees, costs, and interest as provided by law.

14 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

15 Failure to Timely Pay All Wages Due and Owing Upon Termination Pursuant to NRS
16 608.140 and 608.020-.050

17 (On Behalf of All Plaintiffs and former employees of the Cash Bank, Dance, Room
18 Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting, Uniform, and Shift Jamming Classes Against All 19 Defendants)

21 above in this Complaint as though fully set forth herein.

22 59. NRS 608.140 provides that an employee has a private right of action for 23 unpaid wages.

24 60. NRS 608.020 provides that “[w]henver an employer discharges an 25 employee, the wages and compensation earned and unpaid at the time of such 26 discharge shall become due and payable immediately.”

27 61. NRS 608.040(1)(a-b), in relevant part, imposes a penalty on an employer 28 who fails to pay a discharged or quitting employee: “Within 3 days after the wages or

1 compensation of a discharged employee becomes due; or on the day the wages or 2 compensation is due to an employee who resigns or quits, the wages or compensation
3 of the employee continues at the same rate from the day the employee resigned, quit,
4 or was discharged until paid for 30-days, whichever is less.”

5 62. NRS 608.050 grants an “employee lien” to each discharged or laid-off 6 employee for the purpose of collecting the wages or compensation owed to them “in the 7 sum agreed upon in the contract of employment for each day the employer is in default, 8 until the employee is paid in full, without rendering any service therefor; but the 9 employee shall cease to draw such wages or salary 30 days after such default.”

10 63. By failing to pay Plaintiffs and former employees of the Cash Bank, Dance, 11 Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting, Uniform, and Shift Jamming Classes for all hours
12 worked in violation of the state laws identified herein, Defendants have failed to timely 13 remit all wages due and owing to Plaintiffs and all members of those classes who are 14 former employees.

15 64. Despite demand, Defendants willfully refuse and continue to refuse to pay
16 Plaintiffs and members of the Cash Bank, Dance, Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting, 17 Uniform, and Shift Jamming Classes who are former employees all the wages that were 18 due and owing upon the termination of their employment.

19 65. Wherefore, Plaintiffs demand thirty (30) days wages under NRS 608.140
20 and 608.040, and an additional thirty (30) days wages under NRS 608.140 and 608.050, 21 for all members of the Cash Bank, Dance, Room Attendant, Pre-shift Meeting, Uniform, 22 and Shift Jamming Classes who have terminated employment from Defendants during 23 the relevant time period alleged herein together with attorneys’ fees, costs, and interest
24 as provided by law.

Re: EDDY MARTEL (also known as MARTEL-RODRIGUEZ) vs. HG STAFFING, LLC, MEI-GSR HOLDINGS LLC
d/b/a GRAND SIERRA RESORT
Case No. CV16-01264

Dear Ms. Jones,

Per your request, I have reviewed documentation related to the hours worked in the Grand Sierra Resort or "GSR" matter.

Partial data provided includes: class lists which contained employment dates for each group for the time period March 30, 2011 through April 21, 2014; partial Time Clock Plus and Kronos time records, partial cage dispatch records, and partial related pay rates. The analysis requested included the following three components:

- Calculate unpaid hours tied to required off-the-clock work
- Calculate unpaid premium hours related to required off-the-clock work
- Waiting Time Penalties for terminated employees

Within this report, calculations for both the employment weeks and average shifts worked per week will be provided for specific class members. The Class Member data will be used to extrapolate damages to the full group provided in the class lists.

Per Plaintiff's allegation, additional pay is required for time spent on work activities that were not compensated. The following six groups were impacted by working off-the-clock hours.

- Cash Bank Employees – 15 minutes per shift
- Dance Class – 2 hours per week
- Pre-Shift Housekeeping – 20 minutes
- Pre-Shift Meetings – 10 minutes per shift
- Uniform Donning – 15 minutes per shift
- Shift Jamming

Damages for the class will be calculated for two periods.

- March 30, 2011 – April 21, 2014 – the end date is based on the final employee termination available in the class list data.
- March 30, 2011 – January 31, 2019 – the end date is the end of the current month. Amounts are based on the data observed in the class lists provided.

Background – James R Toney

I am the principal of JTCalcs, a firm located in Little Rock Arkansas that specializes in data analysis and damage exposure in wage and hour matters. I obtained my master's degree in Business Administration from Chapman University in Orange, CA and my BS in Accounting from Long Beach State University in Long Beach, CA.

I have gained extensive payroll experience in both general accounting and payroll responsibilities at: Rockwell International, The Boeing Company, and Capital Group Companies. I have provided data analysis and damage exposure for over 400 cases, in both mediation and trial settings. I have reviewed and analyzed data provided in numerous formats for multiple business types – retail, entertainment, warehouse, construction and transportation.

Documents Reviewed

The following documents were provided by Plaintiff's attorney and were used in preparing the opinions and conclusions within the report. It should be noted that the data is incomplete and does not include full pay data for any of the named parties, potential class members, and nor does it encompass the full class period for time punch data.

1. Class List – Cash Bank
2. Class List – Pre-Shift
3. Class List – Uniform
4. Class List – Housekeeping
5. Class List – Dance Class
6. GSR 3110 KRONOS – 2011-2012
7. GSR 3109 KRONOS –2013
8. GSR 3111 Time Clock Plus – 2011-2012

Calculation of Cash Bank Employee Damages

Cash Bank employees worked 15 minutes per shift before their clock in punch. Based on a review of KRONOS data, E. Martel-Rodriguez worked an average of 3.6 shifts per week over his employment period which spanned 124.3 weeks. Damages and penalties were calculated for Mr. Martel-Rodriguez and for the full class and are provided in Exhibit 1. Below are the total amounts for both Mr. Martel-Rodriguez and the full class.

- E. Martel Rodriguez - $5,160.83
- Full Class for the period March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019 - $4,195,216.78

Calculation of Dance Class Damages

Employees in this group were required to work off-the-clock activities each week. These activities amounted to 2 hours per week. Based on the class provided, W. Vaughn's employment period spanned 46 weeks. Damages and penalties were calculated for Ms. Vaughan and for the full class, they are provided in Exhibit 2. Below are the total amounts for both Ms. Vaughan and the full class.

- W. Vaughan - $3,810.58
- Full Class for the period March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019 - $282,126.90

Calculation of Pre-Shift Activity-Housekeeping Damages

Housekeeping employees worked 20 minutes per shift before their clock in punch. Based on a review of estimates provided, J. Jackson-Williams worked an average of 5.0 shifts per week over her employment period which spanned 90.3 weeks. Damages and penalties were calculated for J. Jackson-Williams and for the full class and are provided in Exhibit 3

Below are the total amounts for both J. Jackson-Williams and the full class. The full class is comprised of both full and part time employees. The full-time employees are assumed to work 5 shifts a week whereas the part time employees work between 1 and 4 shift a week.

- J. Jackson-Williams - $6,386.25
- Full Time Employees for the period March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019 - $1,949,380.54
- Part Time Employees for the period March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019 ranges from $960,347.03 to $1,037,708.10 based on the weekly shift count

Calculation of Pre-Shift Meeting Damages

Employees attended 10 minutes meetings, prior to their clock in, for each shift. Based on a review of KRONOS data, M. Capilla and E. Martel- Rodriguez worked an average of 3.7 shifts per week over their employment periods which spanned 128.9 weeks for Ms. Capilla and 124.3 weeks for Mr. Martel-Rodriguez. Damages and penalties were calculated for Ms. Capilla and Mr. Martel-Rodriguez and for the full class and are provided in Exhibit 4. Below are the total amounts for Ms. Capilla, Mr. Martel-Rodriguez and the full class.

- M. Capilla - $4,073.69
- E. Martel Rodriguez - $4,691.99
- Full Class for the period March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019 - $4,083,787.88

Calculation of Uniform Donning Damages

Employees in this group were required to don uniforms prior to their shift clock in. The donning activity is estimated to be 15 minutes per shift. Uniform donning employees worked 15 minutes per shift before their clock in punch. Based on a review KRONOS data, W. Vaughn worked an average of 2.1 shifts per week over her employment period which spanned 45.3 weeks. Damages and penalties were calculated for Ms. Vaughan and for the full class and are provided in Exhibit 5. Below are the total amounts for both Ms. Vaughan and the full class.

- W. Vaughan - $2,938.61
- Full Class for the period March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019 - $1,197,561.78

Calculation of Shift Jamming Damages

Kronos records were reviewed for E. Martel-Rodriguez and W. Vaughan with a focus on shift jamming. Shift Jamming, that resulted in a need for overtime payments, occurred in 6% of the shifts for Mr. Martel-Rodriguez and in 8% of the shifts for W. Vaughan. The calculation of amounts owed for these shifts are provided in Exhibit 6. No calculation was made for the class as information was not provided to determine the impact on the larger group. When additional time records are provided, they can be analyzed to determine the class size and the extent of damages owed for shift jamming. The below amounts for Ms. Vaughan and Mr. Martel-Rodriguez include Waiting Time penalties.

- E. Martel-Rodriguez - $3,797.59
- W. Vaughan - $2,681.67

Conclusion

It is my understanding that Plaintiff allege that employees were not paid for all hours worked. The specifics of these unpaid hours vary depending on the class assignment. This report captures the monies owed to employees based on their work assignment.

To a reasonable degree of professional certainty, the contents of this report represent my opinion. I alone conducted the analysis contained in this report. I reserve the right to alter my opinion should additional information become available.

Respectfully submitted,

James R. Toney

House Keeping Calculations - PART TIME EMPLOYEES

The calculation methodology is consistent with the "Full Time" employees with the exception of shifts. The Part-Time employee numbers were calculated based on four scenarios with the single variable being the number of shifts worked. Below are the numbers for a weekly shift count between 1 and 4.

The first period for calculation is March 30, 2011 through April 21, 2014

	1 Shift	2 Shifts	3 Shifts	4 Shifts
Employee Ct.	94	94	94	94
Work Week Ct	2,759.70	2,759.70	2,759.70	2,759.70
Weekly Shift Ct	1	2	3	4
Total Shift Ct	2,759.70	5,519.40	8,279.10	11,038.80
Minutes Per Shift	20	20	20	20

- The termination count through April 21, 2014 is 80. The penalty amount is 60 days multiplied by 8 hours, multiplied by $8.25. This calculation (60 * 8 * $8.25) equals $3,960 multiplied by the termination count of 80, yields a total amount of $316,800.00

The second period for calculation is March 30, 2011 through January 31, 2019.

- The "Total Pre-Shift Hours" is determined by multiplying the shift count by the "Pre-Shift Minutes Per Shift" and then dividing by 60. - The "Weighted Average Overtime Rate" takes into account that not all shift worked contain premium hours. The base S.T. Rate utilized was $8.25 - The Waiting Time Penalty is based on a 60 day period with 5.3 hours per day at a rate of $8.25 (60 * 5.3 * $8.25)
							Total		$2,938.61

Extrapolation to Full Class - through April 21, 2014

Class Count	240	- Based on the class list provided for "Status" codes "FULL", "PART" and "TEMP"
Total Employment Weeks	11,475.9	- Based on the class list provided for the period March 30, 2011 through April 21, 2014
Average Shifts Per Week	2.1	- The average weekly shift count is based on data for W. Vaughan
Total Shift Count	24,099.4	- This number is the product of the average shift count multiplied by the employment week count
Pre Shift Minutes Per Shift	15	- The Pre-Shift minutes are based on class representative input
Total Minutes	361,491.0	- The product of the shift count multiplied by the average pre-shift minutes
Total Hours	6,024.9	- The product of the total minutes divided by 60 minutes.
Weighted Average O.T. Rate	$8.46	- This is a weighted average rate based on W. Vaughan data
Sub-Total Damages	$50,970.65
Waiting Time Penalties	$411,889.50	- During the period of March 30, 2011 through April 21, 2014 there were 157 terminations. Penalties are based on the class representative's data which is 60 days at 5.3 hours at a rate of $8.25.
Total	$462,860.15

Extrapolation to Full Class - through January 31, 2019

Class Count	240
Total Employment Weeks	32,177.2
Average Shifts Per Week	2.1
Total Shift Count	67,572.1
Pre Shift Minutes Per Shift	15.0
Total Minutes	1,013,581.5
Total Hours	16,893.0
Weighted Average O.T. Rate	$8.46
Sub-Total Damages	$142,914.78
Waiting Time Penalties	$1,054,647.00
Total	$1,197,561.78

- Based on the class list provided for "Status" codes "FULL", "PART" and "TEMP"
- Based on the class list provided for the period March 30, 2011 extrapolated through January 31, 2019
- The average weekly shift count is based on data for W. Vaughan
- This number is the product of the average shift count multiplied by the employment week count
- The Pre-Shift minutes are based on class representative input
- The product of the shift count multiplied by the average pre-shift minutes
- The product of the total minutes divided by 60 minutes.
- During the period of March 30, 2011 through April 21, 2014 there were 157 terminations. Penalties are based on the class representative's data which is 60 days at 5.3 hours at a rate of $8.25. The estimated termination count is based on the observed terminations in the class list provided and estimated to be 402 through January 31, 2019.

Shift Jamming Calculations

Employee Name	Data Start Date	Date End Date	Kronos Data Weeks	Shift Count	Jammed Shift Count	Count of Shifts with OT Impact	OT Hours Jammed Shifts	Weighted Average Overtime Rate	Damages
Martel-Rodriguez, Eddy	01/25/12	12/31/13	101	362	37	21.0	31.9	$4.13	$131.75

- The Waiting Time Penalty is based on a 60 day period with 7.27 hours per day at a rate of $8.25 (60 * 7.27 * $8.25) Interest through 1/31/19

- The Waiting Time at 60 Days $3,598.65

- Kronos records available for shift jamming analysis were 363. A shift jam was observed in 37 or 10% of the shift records. Total $3,797.59

- A review of the shifts that were jammed, showed that 21 or 6% contained an overtime impact. When an overtime impact existed the average overtime hour amount was 1.52.

- The total shift jam hours with overtime premium due is 21 shifts multiplied by 1.52 hours for a total of 31.9 hours

- Only the overtime premium is due for the shift jam hours. The rate was calculated by taking the S.T. Rate multiplied by 0.5 or $8.25 * 0.5, which yields $4.13.

Employee Name	Data Start Date	Date End Date	Kronos Data Weeks	Shift Count	Jammed Shift Count	Count of Shifts with OT Impact	OT Hours Jammed Shifts	Weighted Average Overtime Rate	Damages
Vaughan, Whitney	08/03/12	06/15/13	45.3	95	9	8	9.0	$4.13	$37.17

- The Waiting Time Penalty is based on a 60 day period with 5.3 hours per day at a rate of $8.25 (60 * 5.3 * $8.25) Interest through 1/31/19

- The Waiting Time at 60 Days $2,623.50

- Kronos records available for shift jamming analysis were 95. A shift jam was observed in 9 or 9% of the shift records. Total $2,681.67

- A review of the shifts that were jammed, showed that 8 or 8% contained an overtime impact. When an overtime impact existed the average overtime hour amount was 1.12.

- The total shift jam hours with overtime premium due is 8 shifts multiplied by 1.12 hours for a total of 9.0 hours

- Only the overtime premium is due for the shift jam hours. The rate was calculated by taking the S.T. Rate multiplied by 0.5 or $8.25 * 0.5, which yields $4.13.

Dear _____,

An audit of our payroll system revealed that overtime was not being paid accurately for certain team members. Nevada law states that if an individual works over 8 hours in a 24 hour period, and does not earn at least 1-1/2 times the minimum wage, overtime must be paid. For example, if an individual worked 8 AM – 4 PM on Monday, and came in at 5 AM on Tuesday – the hours between 5 AM and 8 AM on Tuesday would be considered overtime if the person's base rate is less than 1.5 times minimum wage.

The period of time that the calculation was performed inaccurately was November 4, 2011 to July 11, 2014. Enclosed please find a check which pays you for the overtime you are owed.

If you have any questions, please contact the Human Resources Department.

MOTION TO DISMISS FIRST AMENDED

Defendants HG STAFFING LLC, and MEI-GSR HOLDINGS, LLC d/b/a GRAND
SIERRA RESORT (collectively "GSR"), by and through their counsel of record
Cohen|Johnson|Parker|Edwards, hereby move, pursuant to Nev. R. Civ. P. 12, to dismiss

1 Plaintiffs EDDY MARTEL, MARY ANNE CAPILLA, JANICE JACKSON-WILLIAMS and 2 WHITNEY VAUGHAN’s First Amended Class Action Complaint (the “Complaint”).

3 This motion is brought based on the pleadings and papers on file, the attached exhibits,
4 the following Points and Authorities, and any and all argument which may be permitted on a 5 hearing of this matter.

6 POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

7 I. INTRODUCTION

8 The state law wage claims, alleged in the First Amended Class Action Complaint
9 (“Complaint”) of Plaintiffs Eddy Martel (“Martel”), Mary Anne Capilla (“Capilla”), Janice 10 Jackson-Williams (Williams) and Whitney Vaughan (“Vaughan”) (collectively, “Plaintiffs”), 11 have no more merit than Plaintiffs’ original complaint that was dismissed by this Court.
12 Plaintiffs are still seeking to pursue a class action that was rejected by the federal district court in 13 Sargent v. HG Staffing, LLC, Case No. 3:13-cv-453-LRH-WGC, 171 F. Supp. 3d 1063 (D. Nev.
14 2016), attached as Exhibit 1, and also by the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals in Sargent v. HG
15 Staffing, LLC, Case No. 16-80044 (denying the petition for permission to appeal the district
16 court’s March 22, 2016 order denying class action certification), attached as Exhibit 2. Counsel 17 for Plaintiffs in this case is also counsel for plaintiffs in the Sargent Action. Despite these 18 rejections, counsel for Plaintiffs has simply repackaged these same bogus class-action claims 19 with new named plaintiffs, three (3) of whom were opt-in plaintiffs and therefore parties to the 20 Sargent Action, with the hopes that this Court will swallow what the federal court has rejected.
21 Upon this Court’s rejection of Plaintiffs’ inappropriate attempt to sidestep the federal court’s
22 proper decision to deny class certification, counsel for Plaintiff will likely chase down new 23 plaintiffs so as to pursue these class claims indefinitely. Such blatant forum shopping should not 24 be tolerated, and is nothing more than deliberate harassment.

25 This Court is empowered to stop counsel for Plaintiffs’ scheme of unrelenting litigation
26 under the principles of issue and claim preclusion. Plaintiffs Martel, Capilla, and Vaughan 27 (collectively the “Sargent Parties”), were parties to the Sargent Action. See Exhibit 3, Sargent
28 Action, Docket with Party List. As parties, the Sargent Parties are bound by Judge Hicks’ well-

1 reasoned decision denying class certification of identical claims seeking to represent the same
2 GSR employees. This Court may also dismiss Plaintiffs' class action claims based on principles
3 of comity and the first-to-file rule. Counsel for Plaintiffs is improperly seeking to relitigate the 4 denial of class certification, which decision was reached at the expense of hundreds of thousands 5 of dollars, and the result of extensive motion practice involving hundreds of pages of briefing.
6 See Exhibit 3, Sargent Action, Docket. Relitigating the denial of class certification would 7 misuse this Court's and GSR's resources and would result in hundreds of thousands of dollars of 8 additional and unnecessary expense.

9 Not only should Plaintiffs' class claim be dismissed, Plaintiffs claims are barred, all or in 10 part, by the two-year statute of limitations. Plaintiffs filed their complaint on June 14, 2016.
11 Accordingly, all claims accruing before June 14, 2014 are bared, including all of Vaughan's and 12 Capilla's claims, all but one (1) month of Martel's claims, and all but six (6) months of 13 Williams' claims. Contrary to Plaintiffs' suggestions, the statute of limitation on their claims 14 was not tolled while the Sargent Parties' claims were pending in federal court. While such 15 tolling has been recognized when a previous class action was pending in the same jurisdiction, 16 Courts have repeatedly rejected cross-jurisdictional tolling to avoid the very forum shopping that 17 Plaintiffs' counsel are actively pursuing. Even if Plaintiffs had pursued their claims in federal 18 court, instead of improperly shopping for an alternate forum, tolling would apply only to their 19 individual claims and not to their class claims, so as to avoid the endless rounds of class action
20 litigation by successive named plaintiffs envisioned by Plaintiffs' counsel.

21 Moreover, other than her claim for minimum wage under the Nevada Constitution, 22 Plaintiffs' wage claims are non-justiciable because Plaintiffs failed to exhaust the mandatory
23 statutory administrative remedies provided in NRS Chapter 607, which begin with filing a claim
24 with the Nevada Labor Commissioner. These claims are also barred because Plaintiffs failed to 25 make a good faith attempt to collect her wages without litigation, a prerequisite required by the 26 Labor Commissioner before "an employee may file a claim for wages unpaid when due."

27 Plaintiffs have also failed to plead facts necessary to establish their statutory wage claims.
28 Again, Plaintiffs fail to identify even one week in which Plaintiffs were not paid the proper wage

1 when working for GSR, much less allege the number of hours worked and the amount that 2 Plaintiffs were underpaid, all of which are required facts necessary to state a wage claim. Based 3 on this glaring deficiency, Plaintiffs' entire Complaint should be dismissed.

4 Plaintiff Williams' claims are also bared because, while employed by GSR, she was 5 covered by a collective bargaining agreement and failed to follow the grievance procedures set
6 forth in that agreement. Federal labor law provides that the failure to follow such grievance
7 procedures when pursuing state law wage claims mandates dismissal. Williams' statutory 8 overtime claims are also without merit because, under Nevada law, those statutory overtime 9 provisions do not apply when the collective bargaining agreement provides otherwise for 10 overtime.

11 Finally, Plaintiffs are not entitled to seek class certification on behalf of GSR employees
12 that are represented by a union. Each union employee already has an exclusive representative 13 with respect to wages. Federal law prohibits former employees from using a class action to 14 usurp the Union's role as the exclusive representative for an employee's bargaining unit.
15 Accordingly, as Plaintiffs claims have no merit and are untimely, this Court should grant GSR's
16 motion and dismiss Plaintiffs' Complaint in its entirety.

17 II. ARGUMENT

18 In Johnson v. Travelers Ins. Co., 89 Nev. 467, 472, 515 P.2d 68, 71 (1973) (emphasis 19 added), the Nevada Supreme Court held that, to avoid dismissal, the "complaint must . . . allege 20 facts sufficient to establish all necessary elements of the claim for relief." In performing this 21 analysis, the court "must look at the substance of the claims, not just the labels used in the . . .
22 complaint." Nevada Power Co. v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court of Nevada ex rel. Cty. of Clark, 23 120 Nev. 948, 960, 102 P.3d 578, 586 (2004). A "complaint that offers labels and conclusions, a 24 formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action, or naked assertions devoid of further
25 factual enhancement will not suffice." Landers v. Quality Commc'ns, Inc., 771 F.3d 638, 641
26 (9th Cir. 2014), as amended (Jan. 26, 2015), cert. denied, 135 S. Ct. 1845 (2015). Where the 27 complaint fails to state facts which are "legally sufficient to constitute the elements of the claim 28 asserted," the complaint should be dismissed for "failure to state a claim upon which relief can

1 be granted.” Sanchez ex rel. Sanchez v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., 125 Nev. 818, 823, 829, 221 P.3d 2 1276, 11280 (2009).

3 A. All or Part of Plaintiffs’ Individual Claims Are Barred by the Statute of Limitations.

4 All of Plaintiffs’ claims are subject to a two-year statute of limitation and therefore any 5 claim arising before June 14, 2014, two (2) years before Plaintiffs filed their complaint, is barred.
6 In Perry v. Terrible Herbst, Inc., 132 Nev. Adv. Op. 75, 383 P.3d 257, 260-62 (2016), the 7 Nevada Supreme Court held that claims made under the Minimum Wage Amendment
8 (“MWA”), added to the Nevada Constitution, are governed by the two-year statute of limitation
9 found in NRS 608.260 for statutory minimum wage claims. The Court reasoned that “when a 10 statute lacks an express limitations period, courts look to analogous causes of action for which an 11 express limitations period is available either by statute or by case law,” and found NRS 608.260
12 to be the “most closely analogous” limitation period. Id. The Court rejected imposing the 13 “catch-all four-year limitations period in NRS 11.220” because “NRS 608.115 requires 14 employers to maintain an employee's record of wages for two years” and “[i]f the four-year
15 limitations period in NRS 11.220 applied to MWA claims, an employee could bring a claim after 16 the employer is no longer legally obligated to keep the record of wages for the employee.” Id. at 17 262. The court concluded that “[a]nalogizing [plaintiff’s] MWA claim to one under NRS 18 608.260 and applying NRS 608.260's two-year limitations period avoids conflict between the 19 MWA and existing law. Id. Accordingly, Plaintiffs’ MWA claims are subject to a two-year 20 statute of limitations.

21 For the same reasons expressed in Perry, Plaintiffs’ other wage claims brought under 22 NRS Chapter 608 are likewise subject to a two-year statute of limitations. Other than the two-
23 year limitation period found in NRS 608.260, NRS Chapter 608 lacks an express limitation
24 period. Both NRS 608.260 and NRS 11.290(1)(a), governing wage claims against Nevada
25 Contractors, provide for a two-year limitation period for wage claims. The Nevada Department
26 of Labor Commissioner has also recognized a two-year limitation period is the most analogous 27 for claims under NRS Chapter 608. See NAC 607.105 (“the Commissioner will not accept any 28 claim or complaint based on an act or omission that occurred more than 24 months before the

1 date on which the claim or complaint is filed”); Baldonado v. Wynn Las Vegas, LLC, 124 Nev.
2 951, 963, 194 P.3d 96, 104 (2008) (recognizing Labor Commissioner’s “special expertise” as to 3 NRS Chapter 608); Nevada Comm'n on Ethics v. JMA/Lucchesi, 110 Nev. 1, 5–6, 866 P.2d 297, 4 300 (1994) (holding a district court is “obligated to give deference to the construction afforded”
5 by the “agency charged with the duty of administering an act” because “the agency is impliedly
6 clothed with power to construe it”); State ex rel. Nevada Tax Comm'n v. Saveway Super Serv.
7 Stations, Inc., 99 Nev. 626, 630, 668 P.2d 291, 294 (1983) (holding “[g]reat deference will be
8 afforded to an administrative body's interpretation when it is within the statutory language;
9 moreover, the Legislature's acquiescence in an agency's reasonable interpretation indicates that 10 the interpretation is consistent with legislative intent”).<sup>1</sup> The two year limitation period is the 11 most analogous because it not only avoids a conflict with the employers’ two-year obligation to 12 maintain records under NRS 608.115, but also avoids a conflict with the Labor Commissioner’s
13 determination that a two-year period is the appropriate limitation period for claims under NRS 14 Chapter 608. Accordingly, all of Plaintiffs’ claims are subject to a two-year statute of 15 limitation.

16 As Plaintiffs’ claims are subject to a two-year limitation period, claims by Whitney
17 Vaughan and Mary Ann Capilla are completely barred. Plaintiffs’ original complaint was filed 18 on June 14, 2016. Accordingly, any claim arising before June 14, 2014 is barred. Because 19 Plaintiffs’ complaint acknowledges that Vaughan and Capilla last worked for GSR in 2013 (see 20 Complaint at 3, ¶¶ 5 and 7), they could not possibly assert claims after 2014. Vaughan’s and 21 Capilla’s claims should therefore be entirely dismissed with prejudice.

22 Despite the two-year statute of limitation, Plaintiffs are asserting both individual and 23 class claims from March 2011. See Complaint at 2:23 – 3:17, ¶¶ 4-7; 19:7 – 20:22, ¶ 54. Due to 24 the two-year statute of limitation, however, Plaintiffs may only assert claims after June 14, 2014.
25 This Court should therefore dismiss all of Plaintiffs’ claims that accrued prior to June 14, 2014.

28 <sup>1</sup> NAC 607.105 was passed in 2003. The Legislature, however, has done nothing in the past fifteen (15) years to lengthen this period.

1 Plaintiffs have apparently asserted claims prior to June 14, 2014, based on the mistaken
2 notion that, pursuant to Jane Roe Dancer I-VII v. Golden Coin, Ltd., 124 Nev. 28, 176 P.3d 271
3 (2008), their state law claims were tolled during the pendency of the Sargent action filed in June
4 2013. See Complaint at 19 n.4. Golden Coin, however, only adopted limited tolling with respect
5 to a single class-action, filed in a single state court, and only because the named plaintiff was not 6 an appropriate class representative which required a putative class member to substitute for the 7 named plaintiff. 124 Nev. at 31-34, 176 P.3d at 273-75. In Archon Corp. v. Eighth Judicial
8 Dist. Court in & for Cty. of Clark, 407 P.3d 702 (Nev. 2017), the Nevada Supreme Court 9 declined to adopt cross-jurisdiction during the pendency of a class action in federal court.

10 In Portwood v. Ford Motor Co., 701 N.E.2d 1102, 1105 (Ill. 1998), the Illinois Supreme 11 Court held that a state “statute of limitations is not tolled during the pendency of a class action in 12 federal court.” The court reasoned that such cross-jurisdictional tolling of a “state statute of 13 limitations” would “increase the burden on that state’s court system” because it would expose the 14 state court system to the evils of “forum shopping.” Id. at 1104. The court rejected cross-
15 jurisdictional tolling because Plaintiffs, dissatisfied with class action decisions in federal court or 16 other jurisdictions, would file repeated “incarnations” of the same action until Plaintiffs found a 17 favorable forum, thus prolonging the suit almost indefinitely. Id. at 1104-05. The court further 18 found that because “state courts have no control over the work of the federal judiciary, . . .
19 [s]tate courts should not be required to entertain stale claims simply because the controlling 20 statute of limitations expired while a federal court considered whether to certify a class action.”
21 Id. at 1104.

22 The court in Portwood rejected cross-jurisdictional tolling even though the court had 23 previously “adopted the [tolling] for class actions filed in Illinois state court.” Id. at 1103-05.
24 The court found that while “[t]olling the statute of limitations for purported class members who 25 file individual suits within the same court system after class status is denied . . . serves to reduce 26 the total number of filings within that system,” cross-jurisdictional tolling would only multiply
27 proceedings and encourage forum shopping. Id. at 1104.
28

1           The majority of the states that have considered the issue have likewise rejected cross-
2 jurisdictional tolling. See Ravitch v. Pricewaterhouse, 793 A.2d 939, 944 (Penn. Super 2002)
3 (rejecting cross-jurisdictional tolling based on the persuasive reasoning in the Illinois Supreme 4 Court’s decision in Portwood); Maestas v. Sofamor Danek Grp., Inc., 33 S.W.3d 805, 808–09
5 (Tenn. 2000) (rejecting “the doctrine of cross-jurisdictional tolling in Tennessee” because it 6 would “sanction . . . forum shopping” and would improperly “grant to federal courts the power to 7 decide when Tennessee’s statute of limitations begins to run,” which “outcome is contrary to our 8 legislature’s power to adopt statutes of limitations and the exceptions to those statutes” and 9 therefore would “offend the doctrines of federalism and dual sovereignty”); Casey v. Merck &
10 Co., 722 S.E.2d 842, 845 (Va. 2012)(rejecting the “tolling of a statute of limitations based upon 11 the pendency of a putative class action in another jurisdiction”); Bell v. Showa Denko K.K., 899 12 S.W.2d 749, 757–58 (Tex. App. 1995), writ denied (Oct. 5, 1995) (rejecting argument that “that 13 American Pipe operates to toll our state statute of limitations” because under Erie Railroad Co.
14 v. Tompkins, 304 U.S. 64, 58 S.Ct. 817, 82 L.Ed. 1188 (1938) and its progeny, where a claim is 15 derived from state law, as is appellant’s suit, state law governs the tolling of the statute of 16 limitations”); Clemens v. DaimlerChrysler Corp., 534 F.3d 1017, 1025 (9th Cir. 2008) (holding 17 the “weight of authority and California’s interest in managing its own judicial system counsel us 18 not to import the doctrine of cross-jurisdictional tolling into California law”).

19           This case is a prime example of why this Court should also reject cross-jurisdictional 20 tolling. The federal court already refused to certify an almost identical class action lawsuit.
21 Fearing an identical result, Plaintiffs now have improperly split their federal wage claims from 22 their state law wage claims in order to increase their odds of certifying a class action.<sup>2</sup> As with

23 _____
24 <sup>2</sup> Shortly after filing the instant case, Plaintiffs filed five separate collective actions in federal 25 court based on the same allegations as this case, including: Cathy Benson v. HG Staffing, LLC,
26 et al, Case No. 3:16-cv-00388-LRH-WGC (guest room attendant case); Antonio Ramirez v. HG
27 Staffing, LLC, et al, Case No. 3:16-cv-00318-LRH-WGC (cash bank case); Sarah Reader v. HG
28 Staffing, LLC, et al, Case No. 3:16-cv-00387-LRH-WGC (uniform case); Thomas Reader v. HG
Staffing, LLC, et al, Case No. 3:16-cv-00392-LRH-WGC (pre-shift meeting case); and Shenna
Corral v. HG Staffing, LLC, et al, Case No. 3:16-cv-00387-LRH-WGC (dance class case).
Plaintiff Martel is a plaintiff in the cash bank case, Plaintiff Mary Anne Capilla is a plaintiff in the pre-shift meeting case, and Plaintiff Whitney Vaughan is a plaintiff in the dance class case.

1 the majority of other states, this Court should prohibit such blatant forum shopping by rejecting
2 the notion of cross-jurisdictional tolling of the statute of limitations. Moreover, pursuant to NRS
3 11.500, the Nevada Legislature has determined that a statute of limitations should only be tolled 4 based on an action filed in another jurisdiction when “the court lacked jurisdiction over the 5 subject matter of the action,” (which it did not here), and then limited tolling to “[n]inety days
6 after the action is dismissed.” This Court should not adopt a policy which would permit federal 7 courts to decide when Nevada’s statute of limitations has run, as those considerations are best
8 left to the legislature. As the Nevada Legislature has chosen not to adopt cross-jurisdictional 9 tolling, and the Nevada Supreme Court has not adopted cross-jurisdictional tolling, Plaintiffs’
10 claims have not been tolled during the pendency of the federal action in Sargent and this Court 11 should dismiss all claims which accrued before June 14, 2014, including all claims asserted by 12 Plaintiffs Vaughan and Capilla.

13 B. Class Claims, Accruing Before June 14, 2014, Are Barred by the Two-Year Statute
14 of Limitations.

15 In a unanimous opinion, the United States Supreme Court, in China Agritech, Inc. v.
16 Resh, 138 S. Ct. 1800, 1804 (2018), held that tolling does not apply to class action claims 17 because the tolling in “does not permit the maintenance of a follow-on class action past 18 expiration of the statute of limitation.” The Court reasoned that the “‘efficiency and economy of 19 litigation’ that support tolling of individual claims . . . do not support maintenance of untimely 20 successive class actions” because “any additional class filings should be made early on, soon
21 after the commencement of the first action seeking class certification.” China Agritech, 138
22 S.Ct. at 1806. The Court found that “Rule 23 evinces a preference for preclusion of untimely 23 successive class actions by instructing that class certification should be resolved early on,” and to 24 allow tolling of class action claims “would allow the statute of limitations to be extended time
25 and again; as each class is denied certification, a new named plaintiff could file a class complaint 26 that resuscitates the litigation.” Id. at 1807-08.

27 Pursuant to the Court’s reasoning, which the Nevada Supreme Court follows when 28 interpreting class action requirements of Nev. R. Civ. P. 23, Plaintiffs’ class claims are therefore

1 not tolled. See Beazer Homes Holding Corp. v. Dist. Ct., 128 Nev. 723, 734 n.4, 291 P.3d 128,
2 136 n.4 (2012); McClendon v. Collins, 132 Nev. Adv. Op. 28, 372 P.3d 492, 494 (2016)
3 (“federal cases interpreting the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure are strong persuasive authority,
4 because the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure are based in large part upon their federal 5 counterparts”).

6 Both the Nevada and Federal Rule 23 evince a preference for preclusion of untimely 7 successive class actions. Compare Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(1)(a) (“At an early practicable time after 8 a person sues or is sued as a class representative, the court must determine by order whether to 9 certify the action as a class action”) with Nev. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(1) (“As soon as practicable after 10 the commencement of an action brought as a class action, the court shall determine by order 11 whether it is to be so maintained”). To permit tolling of class action claims, however would 12 subvert this preference and provide for never-ending successive class actions because the statute
13 of limitation would never expire. New named plaintiff could always file a class complaint that 14 would resurrect the litigation.

15 Contrary to Plaintiffs’ claim, the statute of limitations has not been tolled so that they 16 may repeatedly assert one class action after another. The United States District Court in Sargent
17 already declined to certify the identical claims raised in this action as a class action. To allow 18 tolling of class action claims would permit Plaintiffs to repeatedly file new class action claims, 19 based on the same set of facts, as long as another of GSR’s more than 8000 employees is 20 persuaded by Plaintiffs’ attorney to file, thus creating an endless stream of class actions. This 21 Court, just like the unanimous United States Supreme Court, should refuse to permit Plaintiffs to 22 prolong class action litigation further. Accordingly, class action claims are not tolled and 23 therefore this Court should dismiss all of Plaintiffs’ class action claims that accrued prior to June 24 14, 2014, two (2) years before Plaintiffs filed their original complaint.

1 C. Plaintiffs’ First, Third and Fourth Claims for Relief Should Be Dismissed for the 2 Failure to Exhaust Administrative Remedies with the Labor Commissioner as 3 Required by NRS Chapter 607.

4 With the exception of Plaintiffs’ minimum wage claim under the Nevada Constitution,
5 Plaintiffs were required to first file and pursue their state law wage claims with the Nevada
6 Labor Commissioner before seeking relief in this Court. In Allstate Ins. Co. v. Thorpe, 123 Nev.
7 565, 571–72, 170 P.3d 989, 993–94 (2007), the Nevada Supreme Court held that “a person 8 generally must exhaust all available administrative remedies before initiating a lawsuit, and 9 failure to do so renders the controversy nonjusticiable.” The Court reasoned that “the exhaustion 10 doctrine gives administrative agencies an opportunity to correct mistakes and conserves judicial 11 resources, so its purpose is valuable; requiring exhaustion of administrative remedies often 12 resolves disputes without the need for judicial involvement.” Id. at 571–72, 170 P.3d at 993–94.
13 In State Department of Taxation v. Masco Builder, 129 Nev. Adv. Op. 83, 312 P.3d 475, 478
14 (2013), the Nevada Supreme Court held “the exhaustion doctrine applies” when the agency
15 “statutorily maintains original jurisdiction” over the claims asserted. See also Nevada Power Co.
16 v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court of Nevada ex rel. Cty. of Clark, 120 Nev. 948, 959, 102 P.3d 578, 17 586 (2004) (holding the exhaustion doctrine applies “when an administrative agency has original 18 jurisdiction”).

19 Likewise, in Campbell v. Regents of Univ. of California, 106 P.3d 976, 982 (Cal. 2005), 20 the California Supreme Court held that “the rule of exhaustion of administrative remedies” 21 applies “where an administrative remedy is provided by statute, [and therefore] relief must be 22 sought from the administrative body and this remedy exhausted before the courts will act.” The 23 Court continued that the “rule is not a matter of judicial discretion, but is a fundamental rule of 24 procedure binding upon all courts.” Id. The court reasoned that exhaustion is required because 25 “(1) it serves the salutary function of mitigating damages; (2) it recognizes the quasi-judicial 26 tribunal's expertise; and (3) it promotes judicial economy by unearthing the relevant evidence
27 and by providing a record should there be a review of the case.” Id. at 983. The Court 28 concluded when a statute provides an administrative remedy, “the Legislature's silence [as to

1 exhaustion] makes the common law exhaustion rule applicable here and requires employees to 2 exhaust their internal administrative remedies prior to filing a lawsuit.” Id. at 987.

3 The Labor Commissioner clearly has original jurisdiction to resolve Plaintiffs’ claims
4 asserted under NRS 608.016, 608.018, 608.020, 608.040, 608.050 and 608.140. NRS 608.180
5 expressly provides that the “Labor Commissioner or his representative shall cause the provisions
6 of NRS 608.005 to 608.195, inclusive, to be enforced.” In Baldonado v. Wynn Las Vegas, LLC, 7 124 Nev. 951, 961, 194 P.3d 96, 102 (2008), the Nevada Supreme Court held that the 8 “Legislature has entrusted the labor laws’ enforcement to the Labor Commissioner, unless 9 otherwise specified.” The Court continued that “the Labor Commissioner is charged with 10 knowing and enforcing the labor laws” and “these responsibilities acknowledge a special 11 expertise as to those law.” Id. at 963, 194 P.3d at 104. The Court found that “[i]mplicit in the 12 Labor Commissioner’s obligation to know and enforce the labor laws is the duty to hear and 13 resolve labor law complaints” and therefore “the Labor Commissioner’s duty to hear and resolve 14 enforcement complaints is not discretionary,” but provides “access to an adequate administrative 15 enforcement mechanism,” for claims under NRS 608.005 to 608.195. Id. at 963–64, 194 P.3d at 16 104. The Court reasoned by using the Labor Commissioner’s enforcement mechanism, “the 17 Labor Commissioner’s expertise is optimized, and the parties then have an opportunity to petition 18 the district court for judicial review and, ultimately, appeal to this court.” Id. at 964, 194 P.3d at 19 104.

20 NRS Chapter 607’s enforcement mechanism is essential to resolving wage claims under 21 NRS Chapter 608. The Labor Commissioner is charged with the duty to “enforce all labor laws 22 of the State of Nevada” and “[m]ay adopt regulations to carry out” that mandate. See NRS
23 607.160. The Labor Commissioner has a duty to hear and resolve administrative complaints
24 with respect to the enforcement of wage claims under NRS Chapter 608. See NRS 607.160(6), 25 607.205, 607.207; NAC 607.200. In conducting those hearings, the Labor Commissioner can 26 issue subpoenas and take testimony. See NRS 607.210. The Labor Commissioner has adopted 27 comprehensive regulations with respect to the procedures for bringing, hearing, and resolving 28 such wage claims. See NAC 607.075 – 607.525. Pursuant to NRS 607.215, after the Labor

1 Commissioner “issue[s] a written decision, setting forth findings of fact and conclusions of law
2 developed at the hearing,” and “[u]pon a petition for judicial review, the court may order trial de
3 novo.” This “trial de novo” represents the implied “private cause of action for unpaid wages”
4 recognized by the Nevada Supreme Court in Neville v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court in & for Cty.
5 of Clark, 406 P.3d 499, 504 (Nev. 2017), but may only be pursued after the employee exhausts
6 the required administrative remedies.<sup>3</sup>

7 Accordingly, exhaustion is required because: (1) the Labor Commissioner has statutorily
8 mandated original jurisdiction to rule on Plaintiffs’ wage claims which may have been asserted
9 under NRS Chapter 608.005 to 608.195; (2) NRS Chapter 607 has proscribed a specific 10 administrative scheme to remedy those claims, which has been implemented through 11 comprehensive regulations adopted by the Labor Commissioner; (3) the Labor Commissioner’s
12 expertise would undoubtedly aid in resolving such claims; (4) NRS 607.215 mandates 13 exhaustion before the district court may “order a trial de novo;” and (5) exhaustion would 14 conserve judicial resources by resolving disputes without the need for judicial involvement.
15 Plaintiffs, however, do not allege that they have pursued their administrative remedies with the 16 Labor Commissioner. Plaintiffs’ failure to exhaust renders the controversy nonjusticiable, and 17 therefore this Court should dismiss Plaintiffs’ First, Third and Fourth Claims for relief, with 18 prejudice.

19 D. Plaintiffs’ First, Third and Fourth Claims for Relief Should Also Be Dismissed for 20 Failing to Make Good Faith Attempt to Collect Their Wages Before Filing Their Claim 21 for Wages with this Court.

22 Pursuant to NRS 607.160, the Labor Commissioner is charged with the duty to “enforce 23 all labor laws of the State of Nevada” and “[m]ay adopt regulations to carry out” that mandate.

24 <sup>3</sup> The Supreme Court’s recognition in Neville of a private right of action for wage claims under 25 NRS Chapter 608 in no way conflicts with the requirement to exhaust the administrative 26 procedures mandated by NRS Chapter 607 and NAC 607. Exhaustion was not raised, nor 27 addressed in Neville. NRS 607.215, however, clearly provides that a private action may only be 28 ordered after the Labor Commissioner issues his final written decision, and after filing a petition to review that decision. If exhaustion were not mandatory, the entire administrative mechanism provided by NRS Chapter 607 would be mere surplus as claimants could simply proceed to the last step, “trial de novo.”

1 NAC 608.155(1) requires: “Before an employee may file a claim for wages unpaid when due,
2 the employee shall make a good faith attempt to collect any wages due the employee from an 3 employer at the normal place and in the normal method that payment is made to employees of 4 the employer.” See Rite of Passage, ATCS/Silver State Acad. v. State, Dep't of Bus. & Indus.,
5 Office of Labor Com'r, Case No. 66388, 2015 WL 9484735, at *1 (Nev. Dec. 23, 2015) (holding
6 that regulations adopted by the Nevada Labor Commissioner “implement[.]” provisions of NRS
7 Chapter 608). Plaintiffs have not and cannot allege facts showing that they have made any effort
8 to collect wages due before filing their wage claims, much less a good faith effort. Plaintiffs in 9 fact have not even identified a single week when they were underpaid. Accordingly, this Court
10 should dismiss Plaintiffs’ First, Third and Fourth Claims for relief, with prejudice, for failing to 11 meet the mandatory prerequisite found in NAC 608.155(1).

12 E. Plaintiffs Lack Standing to Represent Union Employees, Who Are Exclusively 13 Represented by their Respective Unions.

14 Pursuant to 29 U.S.C. § 159(a) (emphasis added), “[r]epresentatives designated or 15 selected for the purposes of collective bargaining by the majority of the employees in a unit 16 appropriate for such purposes, shall be the exclusive representatives of all the employees in such 17 unit for the purposes of collective bargaining in respect to rates of pay, wages, hours of 18 employment, or other conditions of employment.” While employees may pursue grievances over 19 wages individually or in a group, they may only do so if the “bargaining representative has been 20 given opportunity to be present at such adjustment.” Id. For that reason, in Vaca v. Sipes, 386
21 U.S. 171, 186, (1967), the United States Supreme Court held that individual workers may step 22 into the union's shoes and represent themselves or other employees only when the union, as the 23 exclusive representative, has “breached its duty of fair representation in its handling of the 24 employee's grievance.”

25 Plaintiffs acknowledge that certain GSR employees are represented by a Union and 26 covered by a collective bargaining agreement. See Complaint at 20:20-21. While Plaintiffs 27 exclude such employees from their alleged shift-jamming sub-class, they improperly attempt to 28 represent Union members with respect to their other sub-classes. Plaintiffs, however, may not do

1 so because the employees' respective Unions are the "exclusive" representative for those 2 employees.

3 In Baker v. IBP, Inc., 357 F.3d 685, 690 (7th Cir. 2004), the Seventh Circuit held that 4 where a "suit is at its core about the adequacy of the wages [the employer] pays," individual
5 employees may not represent union workers in a class action when the Union has not breached
6 its duty of fair representation. The court reasoned that union workers "have a representative—
7 one that under the NLRA is supposed to be 'exclusive' with respect to wages" and therefore 8 "Plaintiffs' request to proceed on behalf of a class of all workers shows that they seek to usurp 9 the union's role." Id. at 686, 690.

10 Plaintiffs, likewise, are attempting to usurp the respective unions' roles as the exclusive 11 representatives for their bargaining units by attempting to pursue a class action on behalf of those 12 employees. Plaintiffs therefore lack standing to represent such union employees and their class
13 action claims seeking to do so should be dismissed.<sup>4</sup>

14 F. Plaintiffs Again Have Failed to State a Claim for Wages, Including Minimum Wages.

15 This Court has already held that a complaint fails to state a claim for unpaid wages when 16 "Plaintiffs do not identify any one week in which any one plaintiff was paid less than the 17 required wage by alleging how many hours that plaintiff worked in that week, the plaintiff's rate
18 of pay, how much that plaintiff was paid, and how much that plaintiff believes he or she is owed
19 for a given week." See Order dated 2018-10-09, at 9:19 - 10:13 citing Pruell v. Carita Chirsti, 20 678 f.3d 10, 14 (1st Cir 2012 (affirming dismissal of amended complaint where the complaint
22

23 <sup>4</sup> Union employees included in the sub-classes described in the Complaint) are: (1) baristas,
24 bartenders, cocktail servers, room attendants, servertrainers, and slot attendants, who are covered
25 by the collective bargaining agreement with the Culinary Workers Union Local 226; (2) stage
26 technicians, who are covered by the collective bargaining agreement with the International 27 Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees Local 362; and (3) Engineering Department employees, 28 including but not limited to maintenance engineers, carpenters, and other construction workers, who are covered by the International Union of Operating Engineers Stationary Local No. 39
AFL-CIO. See Complaint, at 19-20, ¶ 54.

1 plaintiff or describe the nature of the work performed during those times.”). Despite adding
2 eleven (11) pages to their original complaint, Plaintiffs still fail to meet this minimal standard.

3 First, Plaintiffs do not allege any facts which would show that any plaintiff was paid less
4 than the minimum wage. Instead, all facts supposedly show only that Plaintiffs were underpaid
5 in relation to the number of hours worked.

6 Second, Plaintiffs do not allege how much they were paid in any week. Plaintiffs have no
7 basis to believe that they were underpaid when they do not know how much they were paid.
8 While Plaintiffs allege when Plaintiffs Martel and Vaughn supposedly began and ended work for 9 ONE day, Plaintiffs do not allege when they clocked in or clocked out for that day which would 10 indicate the amount of hours paid. See Complaint, at 6:6-15, 8:7-13, 14:19-26, 17:4-9, 17:24 –
11 18-5, ¶¶ 20, 25, 39, 49, 50. Instead, Plaintiffs merely allege the time they were scheduled for 12 their shift for that day, and then assume that was the same time when they clocked-in and 13 clocked-out. Id. Plaintiffs Jackson-Williams and Capilla however do not make any claim with 14 respect to how much they worked even in a single day. Without alleging how many hours that 15 each plaintiff worked in a week, and comparing that to the amount actually paid based on each 16 plaintiff’s actual rate of pay, this Court can only speculate as to whether Plaintiffs were 17 underpaid, which is all that Plaintiffs do.

18 Moreover, activities such as changing clothes and collecting equipment or supplies are 19 not deemed to be work and therefore are not compensable under NRS Chapter 608. See 20 Integrity Staffing Sols., Inc. v. Busk, 135 S. Ct. 513, 517-19 (2014)(holding that “preliminary and 21 postliminary” activities are non-compensable work, even though the “employer required [the]
22 particular activity” or “the activity is for the benefit of the employer,” such as “changing 23 clothes” or “checking in and out and waiting in line to do so,” because these activities are not “an 24 intrinsic element of [the employee’s principal] activities” or “one with which the employee
25 cannot dispense if he is to perform those activities”); Balestrieri v. Menlo Park Fire Prot. Dist., 26 800 F.3d 1094, 1001 (9th Cir. 2015) (holding that firefighters that come in early “before the 27 shift, gathering and transporting turnout gear . . . , that activity is ‘preliminary’” and not 28 compensable under the FLSA because “it is not ‘intrinsic’ to the firefighting activity that he is

1 employed to perform”); Terry v. Sapphire Gentlemen's Club, 336 P.3d 951, 955-57 (Nev. 2014)
2 (relying on cases interpreting the FLSA to interpret Nevada wage law because the Legislature
3 has long relied on the federal “wage law to lay a foundation of worker protections that this State
4 could build upon” and because if the FLSA and Nevada wage law “were inharmonious it would 5 increase [employer] operation costs and bring about inefficiency because [employers] would 6 have to keep two sets of books”); Aguilar v. Mgmt. & Training Corp., Case No. CV 16-00050
7 WJ/GJF, 2017 WL 4804361, at *19 - *21 (D.N.M. Oct. 24, 2017) (holding that “Plaintiffs' FLSA
8 claims with regard to pre-and post-shift activities also apply to Plaintiffs' state law claim” even 9 though the state wage act “contains no analog to the federal Portal-to-Portal Act” because courts 10 look to the FLSA when interpreting state law wage statutes). Since these preliminary or 11 postliminary activities are not work as a matter of law, they cannot support a claim for unpaid 12 wages.

13 Plaintiffs have again failed to provide any facts showing that any plaintiff was underpaid 14 in a given workweek required to state a claim for unpaid wages because they are merely 15 speculating that they were not paid the proper wage. As Plaintiffs fail to allege facts showing the 16 underpayment of wages, Plaintiffs' Complaint should again be dismissed.

17 G. Plaintiff Williams' Clams for Wages and Overtime Are Barred for Failing to Exhaust
18 Grievance Procedures of the Collective Bargaining Agreement.

19 In Kostecki v. Dominick's Finer Foods, Inc. of Illinois, 836 N.E.2d 837, 842 (Ill. App.
20 2005), the Illinois Court of Appeals explained that “[f]ederal labor policy provides that when 21 resolution of a state law claim depends on an analysis of the terms of the agreement, the claim 22 must either be arbitrated as required by the collective bargaining agreement or dismissed as 23 preempted under section 301 of the Labor Management Relations Act (29 U.S.C. § 185(a) 24 (2000)), which grants federal district courts exclusive jurisdiction over disputes involving 25 collective bargaining agreements.” See Also Allis-Chalmers Corp. v. Lueck, 471 U.S. 202, 210– 26 20 (1985) (“state-law rights and obligations that do not exist independently of private [labor]
27 agreements, and that as a result can be waived or altered by agreement of private parties, are pre-28 empted by those agreements,” pursuant to Section 301 of the Labor Management Relations Act,

1 and the employee must either “make use of the grievance procedure established in the collective-
2 bargaining agreement” or the employee’s claim must be “dismissed as pre-empted by federal 3 labor-contract law”); MGM Grand Hotel-Reno, Inc. v. Insley, 102 Nev. 513, 517, 728 P.2d 821,
4 824 (1986) (same). The Kostecki Court held that claims made under Illinois statutes requiring 5 the payment of wages and/or overtime “arise from the collective bargaining agreement, as the 6 agreement “provides for how overtime pay is to be calculated” and provides “how employees are 7 to be paid” and therefore “a finder of fact would have to interpret the bargaining agreement to 8 determine whether the defendants’ violated” Illinois wage laws. 836 N.E.2d at 844-45. The 9 court affirmed dismissal of the employees’ state law statutory wage claims “because the 10 bargaining agreement set forth a procedure for arbitrating grievances arising from the 11 agreement” and “plaintiffs were required under federal labor policy to arbitrate their claims 12 before seeking judicial relief.” Id. at 844.

13 Plaintiff Williams is also subject to a collective bargaining agreement which specifies
14 amount, method, and timing of payment of wages and overtime. See Exhibit 4, Montrose Dec., 15 at p. 1, ¶ 2; Exhibit 4A, CBA, at pp. 9, 15. Plaintiff Williams’ statutory claims for wages or 16 overtime therefore are not independent of the collective bargaining agreement, but are expressly 17 dependent upon finding a breach of that agreement to maintain those claims. Any claim for 18 breach, however, may only be pursued by the grievance procedures set forth in the collective 19 bargaining agreement. See Exhibit 4, Montrose Dec., at p. 1, ¶ 2; Exhibit 4A, CBA, at p. 26-27.
20 Williams, however, does not allege that she initiated, much less exhausted, the grievance
21 procedures in the collective bargaining agreement and therefore her first, third, and fourth causes
22 of action should be dismissed. See Union Pac. R. Co. v. Harding, 114 Nev. 545, 550, 958 P.2d 23 87, 90 (1998) (holding complaint was properly dismissed when state law claims were preempted
24 by federal labor law); Barton v. House of Raeford Farms, Inc., 745 F.3d 95, 106-09 (4th Cir.
25 2014) (holding statutory state-law claim for wages for time spent donning and doffing protective 26 gear, etc. preempted because “any entitlement the plaintiffs have in this case to unpaid wages
27 under the [State] Wages Act must stem from the CBA that governed the terms and conditions of 28 their employment, including their wages”); Cavallaro v. UMass Mem’l Healthcare, Inc., 678

1 F.3d 1, 8 (1st Cir. 2012) (holding a statutory state-law wage claim was preempted because it
2 relied on the amount of wages provided in the CBA even if those amounts were altered or 3 enlarged by state law); Mowry v. United Parcel Serv., 415 F.3d 1149 (10th Cir. 2005) (holding a 4 state-law wage claim were preempted because the court would have to resolve issues regulated
5 by the CBA such as what work plaintiff performed and when, whether he was paid or underpaid,
6 and the amount of the shortfall to resolve the complaint); Atchley v. Heritage Cable Vision
7 Associates, 101 F.3d 495,500 (7th Cir. 1996) (holding that statutory state-law wage claim was 8 pre-empted because the court “must look to the CBA, which properly governs the amount, 9 method, and timing of payment” of wages); Clee v. MVM, Inc., 91 F. Supp. 3d 54, 62–64 (D.
10 Mass. 2015) (holding employees’ statutory wage claims for uncompensated work were pre-11 empted by federal labor law because they depended on the interpretation of the collective 12 bargaining agreement as to what constituted compensable work and whether the agreement 13 conflicted with state wage law).

14 H. Plaintiff Williams IS NOT Entitled to Overtime Pursuant to NRS 608.018 Because the 15 CBA Provide Otherwise for Overtime.

16 In their Third Cause of Action, Plaintiffs seek overtime pursuant to NRS 608.018(1) and 17 (2). See Complaint at 24:12- 25:4, ¶ 52 -54. NRS 608.018(3), however, provides that the 18 “provisions of subsections 1 and 2 do not apply to . . . (e) Employees covered by collective 19 bargaining agreements which provide otherwise for overtime. . .” Plaintiff Williams is covered 20 by the CBA, which provides otherwise for overtime. See Exhibit 4, Montrose Dec., at p. 1, ¶ 2; 21 Exhibit 4A, CBA, at p. 15. Article 9.01 of the CBA, entitled “WORK SHIFTS, WORKWEEK, 22 AND OVERTIME,” states:

23 The workweek pay period shall be from Friday through Thursday. For purposes 24 of computing overtime, for an employee scheduled to work five (5) days in one 25 (1) workweek, any hours in excess of eight (8) hours in a day or forty (40) hours
26 in a week shall constitute overtime. For an employee scheduled to work four (4)
27 days in one (1) workweek, any hours worked in excess of ten (10) hours in a day 28 or forty (40) hours in a week shall constitute overtime. . . . Employees absent for personal reasons on one (1) or more of their first five (5) scheduled days of work in their workweek shall work at the Employee’s request on a scheduled day off in the same workweek at straight time.

1 See 5A, CBA, at p. 15, Art. 9.01. The overtime provision of NRS 608.018, therefore, do not
2 apply to Plaintiff Williams and therefore her Third Cause of Action should again be dismissed.
3 See Wuest v. California Healthcare W., Case No. 3:11-CV-00855-LRH, 2012 WL 4194659, at 4 *5 (D. Nev. Sept. 19, 2012) (holding that overtime guarantees of NRS 608.018 are suspended
5 where the CBA “provides otherwise” for overtime payments—that is, when the CBA contains a 6 negotiated provision on the same subject but different from the statutory provision”); Jacobs v.
7 Mandalay Corp., 378 F. App'x 685, 687 (9th Cir. 2010) (ruling that “section 608.018 exempts
8 from coverage those employees ‘covered by collective bargaining agreements which provide 9 otherwise for overtime’”).

10 Similarly, Plaintiffs cannot pursue class actions on behalf of baristas, bartenders, cocktail
11 servers, servertrainers, and slot attendants -- who are included within the alleged Cash Bank
12 Class, Dance Class, Pre-Shift Meeting Class, and Uniform Class (see Complaint, ¶¶ 23, 54) ---,
13 and who are also covered by the collective bargaining agreement with the Culinary Workers
14 Union Local 226, and therefore cannot maintain claims for overtime pursuant to NRS 608.018.
15 Accordingly, Plaintiffs’ proposed class action claims on behalf of these putative class members 16 should also be dismissed.

17 I. Plaintiffs’ Wrongful Attempt to Re-Litigate the Federal District Court’s Order, 18 Denying Certification of an Identical Class Action, Is Barred by Claim and Issue 19 Preclusion.

20 In his well-reasoned order dated March 22, 2016, Judge Hicks already determined that 21 Plaintiffs’ wage claims cannot proceed as a class action. See Exhibit 1, Sargent, 171 F. Supp. 3d
22 at 1073-77. Plaintiffs are barred from their wrongful attempt to relitigate the federal district 23 court’s judgment denying class certification under the principles of claim and issue preclusion.

24 In Five Star Capital Corp. v. Ruby, 124 Nev. 1048, 1054, 194 P.3d 709, 713 (2008), the 25 Nevada Supreme Court, relying upon the same factors “used by the majority of state and federal 26 courts,” held that a plaintiff’s claim is barred when: “(1) the parties or their privies are the same,
27 (2) the final judgment is valid, and (3) the subsequent action is based on the same claims or any 28 part of them that were or could have been brought in the first case.” The Court further held that a claim is bared by issue preclusion when the following factors are met: “(1) the issue decided in

1 the prior litigation must be identical to the issue presented in the current action; (2) the initial 2 ruling must have been on the merits and have become final; (3) the party against whom the 3 judgment is asserted must have been a party or in privity with a party to the prior litigation; and 4 (4) the issue was actually and necessarily litigated.” Id. at 1055, 194 P.3d at 713. Each of these 5 factors is clearly met and therefore Plaintiffs’ class action claims are barred by both claim and 6 issue preclusion.

7 In their Complaint, Plaintiffs seek to certify a class action based on the same wage claims
8 on behalf of GSR employees which are identical to those claims brought in Sargent Action.
9 Compare Complaint at 4:8 – 27:27 with Exhibit 5, Sargent Complaint at 4:14 – 9:21, 12:21 –
10 17:7. The federal district court entered a final judgment on the merits denying class certification.
11 See Exhibit 1, Sargent, 171 F. Supp. 3d at 1073-77, 1084; see also Brown v. Capanna, 105 Nev.
12 665, 668–69, 782 P.2d 1299, 1301–02 (1989) (holding plaintiff’s claim “was resolved on the 13 merits when the court ordered partial summary judgment” which “bars further consideration of 14 the issue based on the principles of res judicata”); Robi v. Five Platters, Inc., 838 F.2d 318, 327 15 (9th Cir. 1988) (holding that interlocutory decisions of a district court were “final for purposes of 16 issue preclusion” because a “final judgment” for purposes of issue preclusion “includes any prior 17 adjudication of an issue in another action that is determined to be sufficiently firm to be accorded 18 conclusive effect”); Greenleaf v. Garlock, Inc., 174 F.3d 352, 360 (3d Cir. 1999) (holding 19 “decisions not final for purposes of appealability may nevertheless be sufficiently final to have 20 issue preclusive effect”); Tripati v. Henman, 857 F.2d 1366, 1367 (9th Cir. 1988) (holding that 21 judgment was final for purposes of claim preclusion even though it was subject to a pending
22 Rule 59(e) motion) cited with approval by Brewer v. State, 125 Nev. 1021, 281 P.3d 1157, 2009
23 WL 1492228 (2009).

24 In fact, Judge Hicks held that Plaintiffs could not establish that their federal wage claims
25 could be pursued as collective action, which is involves a far less stringent standard. See Exhibit
26 1, Sargent, 171 F. Supp. 3d at 1079-84; see also O'Brien v. Ed Donnelly Enterprises, Inc., 575
27 F.3d 567, 584 (6th Cir. 2009) (explain that the “‘similarly situated’ requirement [required to 28 certify a collective action under the FLSA] is less stringent than . . . Rule 23(b)(3)'s requirement

1 that common questions predominate for a 23(b)(3) class to be certified”) abrogated on other
2 grounds by Campbell-Ewald Co. v. Gomez, 136 S. Ct. 663, 193 L. Ed. 2d 571 (2016). The issue
3 of class certification was therefore actually and necessarily decided by the federal district court.

4 Additionally, Plaintiffs who opted in to the Sargent Action were parties to that action.
5 The Sargent Parties became parties to the Sargent Action when they specifically opted-in to the 6 Sargent Action. See Exhibit 1, Sargent Action, Docket with Party List. In Prickett v. DeKalb
7 Cty., 349 F.3d 1294, 1297 (11th Cir. 2003), the Eleven Circuit expressly held that “by referring 8 to them as ‘party plaintiffs,’” in 29 U.S.C. § 216(b), “Congress indicated that opt-in plaintiffs 9 should have the same status in relation to the claims of the lawsuit as do the named plaintiffs.”
10 The court reasoned that “plaintiffs do not opt-in or consent to join an action as to specific claims,
11 but as to the action as a whole” because congress did “not indicate that opt-in plaintiffs have a 12 lesser status than named plaintiffs insofar as additional claims are concerned.” Id.; see also 13 Fengler v. Crouse Health Sys., Inc., 634 F. Supp. 2d 257, 262 (N.D.N.Y. 2009) (holding “once a
15 McElmurry v. U.S. Bank Nat. Ass’n, 495 F.3d 1136, 1139 (9th Cir. 2007) (holding “plaintiffs 16 who expressly join the collective action are bound by its results”). While Williams was not a
17 party to the Sargent action, she is in privity those parties as she has joined the Sargent Parties in 18 this action and is attempting to bring suit on behalf of all those parties that opted-in to the 19 Sargent action. See Nationwide Mut. Fire Ins. Co. v. George V. Hamilton, Inc., 571 F.3d 299, 20 312 (3d Cir. 2009) (holding a nonparty is in privity with a party for purposes of preclusion when 21 the nonparty “attempts to bring suit as the designated representative of someone who was a party 22 in the prior litigation”).

23 As all the requirements of issue and claim preclusion have been met, Plaintiffs are 24 precluded from relitigating Judge Hick’s order which denied certification of the very class that 25 Plaintiffs wrongly now seek to certify. This Court should therefore grant Defendants’ motion to 26 dismiss Plaintiffs’ class action claims.

1       J.       Plaintiffs’ Wrongful Attempt to Re-Litigate the Federal District Court’s Order
2       Denying Certification of an Identical Class Action Should Also Be Denied on 3       Principles of Comity and the First-to-File Rule.

4               In Smith v. Bayer Corp., 564 U.S. 299, 317 (2011), the United States Supreme Court
5       expected that courts should “apply principles of comity to each other's class certification
6       decisions when addressing a common dispute.” The Court explained that “our legal system
7       generally relies on principles of stare decisis and comity among courts to mitigate the sometimes 8       substantial costs of similar litigation brought by different plaintiffs.” Id. In Gonzales-Alpizar v.
9       Griffith, 130 Nev. Adv. Op. 2, 317 P.3d 820, 826 (2014), the Nevada Supreme Court recognized 10      the “doctrine of comity” which “is a principle of courtesy by which “the courts of one 11      jurisdiction may give effect to the laws and judicial decisions of another jurisdiction out of 12      deference and respect.”

13              As already set forth, the statutory state law wage claims alleged in Plaintiffs’ Complaint 14      are identical to those found in Sargent. Counsel for Plaintiffs in this case is also counsel for 15      plaintiffs in the Sargent case. The Sargent Action involved thirty-three (33) months of extensive 16      discovery and motion practice to determine that the same claims, involving the same putative 17      class members, could not appropriately be certified as a class action, at the cost of hundreds of 18      thousands of dollars which resulted in hundreds of pages of briefing. In fact, all but one of the 19      Plaintiffs in this action were parties to the Sargent Action. As a result of that effort, Judge Hicks 20      set forth a detailed order denying class certification, after finding that “class certification [was] 21      not appropriate . . . .” Exhibit 1, Sargent, 171 F. Supp. 3d at 1076. As already set forth, Judge
22      Hicks held that Plaintiffs could not establish that their federal wage claims could be pursued as 23      collective action, which is involves a far less stringent standard. See Exhibit 1, Sargent, 171 F.
24      Supp. 3d at 1079-84; see also O'Brien, 575 F.3d at 584 (explaining that the ““similarly situated’
25      requirement [required to certify a collective action under the FLSA] is less stringent than . . .
26      Rule 23(b)(3)'s requirement that common questions predominate for a 23(b)(3) class to be 27      certified”).

28              Not satisfied with that decision and knowing that any further appeal would be fruitless, Plaintiffs have brought this identical action seeking to start the whole class certification process

1 over again, at the expense of hundreds of thousands of more dollars. Undoubtedly, upon 2 dismissal of the class action claims in this case, counsel for Plaintiffs will most likely simply 3 recruit a new set of Plaintiffs to start a new class action. This blatant forum shopping should not 4 be permitted, as Plaintiffs are only attempting to multiply fees in the wrongful attempt to force a
5 settlement. The United State Supreme Court, however, “expects” that is Court will see through 6 the charade and “mitigate the sometimes substantial costs of similar litigation” through the 7 principles of comity.

8 In Baker v. Home Depot USA, Inc., Case No. 11-C-6768, 2013 WL 271666, at *5 (N.D.
9 Ill. Jan. 24, 2013), the court refuse to consider class claims when class certification in previous 10 cases were “materially identical to the instant action.” The court reasoned that when ruling on 11 “proposed class action litigation that, based upon the principle of comity, courts are required ‘to 12 pay respectful attention to the decision of another judge in a materially identical case.’” Id.

13 Likewise, the Court in Wright v. RBC Capital Markets Corp., Case No. CIV-S-09-3601-
14 FCD-GGH, 2010 WL 2599010, at *7 (E.D. Cal. June 24, 2010), the court dismissed California
15 class action claims, in the “interests of federal comity and the conservation of judicial resources,” 16 under the “first-to-file rule,” because the class claims “have been raised and litigated” in another
17 action where the “court ultimately denied certification of the California class.” The Court found 18 that when applying the “first-to-file rule, courts look to three essential factors: (1) the chronology
19 of the two actions; (2) the similarity of the parties; and (3) the similarity of the issues.” Id. at *5;
20 see also SAES Getters S.p.A. v. Aeronex, Inc., 219 F.Supp.2d 1081, 1089 (S.D.Cal.2002)
21 (explaining “where substantially identical actions are proceeding in different courts, the court of 22 the later-filed action should defer to the jurisdiction of the court of the first-filed action” as a 23 matter of comity) cited with approval in Sherry v. Sherry, Case No. 62895, 2015 WL 1798857, at 24 *1 (Nev. Apr. 16, 2015). The Wright court reasoned that it “would be a misuse of this court’s 25 and the parties’ resources to re-litigate these claims when they involve the same evidence,
26 damages and putative class as in the [prior] action” because that “matter has progressed through 27 extensive discovery and class certification and summary judgment briefing.” 2010 WL 2599010, 28 at *7.

1 Here, the Sargent Action was filed first in 2013, and that the parties fully briefed the 2 issue of class certification, which was denied by the district court. See id. at *5 (finding 3 dismissal of class claims “appropriate” when the issue of class certification “were fully briefed”
4 and the prior “court rendered its decision”). Additionally, as already set forth, all of the 5 Plaintiffs in this action were parties to the Sargent Action, or are in privity with them, and all of 6 the Plaintiffs are seeking class certification of the identical claims raised in the Sargent Action
7 on behalf of the very same class of employees. See Id. at *7 (holding that “courts do not require 8 identical parties or claims to apply the first-to-file rule; rather only substantial similarity is 9 required” which “is easily met” when the prior “action remains pled as a putative . . . class action 10 on behalf of the very same class of . . . employees that plaintiff seeks to represent here on the 11 same core issues at stake in the [prior] action”). Just as in Wright, it would be a misuse of this
12 Court’s and GSR’s resources to permit Plaintiffs and their counsel to relitigate the issues of class
13 certification. This Court should therefore dismiss Plaintiffs’ class action claims based on comity 14 and the first-to-file rule.

15 III. CONCLUSION

16 Pursuant to the foregoing, this Court should grant GSR’s motion and dismiss Plaintiffs’
17 First Amended Class Action Complaint with prejudice.

Synopsis

Background: Employees brought putative collective and class action in state court against employer, alleging that employer violated Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA), Nevada's minimum wage statute, and Nevada's age discrimination statute. Following removal, employees moved for class certification, and employer moved for partial summary judgment and to decertify FLSA collective action.

Holdings: The District Court, Larry R. Hicks, J., held that:

[1] employees' general allegations, that terminated employees who were over the age of 40 suffered from common policy of age discrimination, were insufficient to satisfy commonality requirement for class certification;

[3] FLSA did not allow recovery for employees' overtime gap time claim;

[4] disparate factual and employment settings of individual employees favored finding that employees were not similarly situated with respect to claims based upon FLSA violations;

[5] defenses individual to each employee favored finding that employees were not similarly situated with respect to claims based upon FLSA violations; and

[6] fairness and procedural considerations favored finding that employees were not similarly situated with respect to claims based upon FLSA violations, and thus employees' FLSA claims, which were conditionally certified, would not be allowed to proceed as collective action.

Ordered accordingly.

The district court's broad discretion in determining the similarity between employees at the notice stage in a Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) collective action is constrained, to some extent, by the leniency of the standard for the exercise of that discretion; nonetheless, there must be more than only counsel's unsupported assertions that FLSA violations are widespread and that additional plaintiffs would come from other stores. Under the two-step process utilized in the pretrial phase for Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) collective actions, the second stage is triggered by an employer's motion for decertification; at this point, the district court has a much thicker record than it had at the notice stage, and can therefore make a more informed factual determination of similarity between employees. 29 U.S.C.A. § 216(b).

There are a number of factors that courts should consider at the decertification stage of the two-step process utilized in the pretrial phase for Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) collective actions, such as: (1) disparate factual and employment settings of the individual plaintiffs; (2) the various defenses available to defendants that appear to be individual to each plaintiff; and (3) fairness and procedural considerations. 29 U.S.C.A. § 216(b).

On June 21, 2013, Plaintiffs Tiffany Sargent (“Sargent”) and Bailey Cryderman (“Cryderman”) filed their original collective and class action Complaint against Defendants in the Second Judicial District *1070 Court for the State of Nevada in and for the County of Washoe. Doc. # 1, Ex. A. On August 22, 2013, Defendants filed a Petition for Removal. Doc. # 1. On June 13, 2014, Plaintiffs filed the operative Second Amended Complaint (“SAC”) before the Court. Doc. # 47.

The SAC alleged nine causes of action: (1) Failure to Pay Wages for All Hours Worked in Violation of 29 U.S.C. § 201, et. seq; (2) Failure to Pay Overtime in Violation of 29 U.S.C. § 207; (3) Failure to Pay Overtime at the Correct Rate, 29 U.S.C. § 207; (4) Failure to Compensate for All Hours Worked in Violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.016; (5) Failure to Pay Minimum Wages in Violation of the Nevada Constitution and NRS 608.250; (6) Failure to Pay Overtime in Violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.018; (7) Failure to Timely Pay All Wages Due and Owing in Violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.020-.050; (8) Unlawful Chargebacks in Violation of NRS 608.140 and 608.100; and (9) Age Discrimination Violation of 29 U.S.C. § 621 and NRS 613.330. On May 6, 2014, Plaintiffs' Fair Labor Standards Act (“FLSA”) claims (first, second, and third causes of action) were conditionally certified. Doc. # 40.

On September 3, 2015, Plaintiffs filed a Motion for Class Certification as to their fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth, and ninth causes of action. Doc. # 144. On November 4, 2015, Defendants filed their Response to Plaintiffs' Motion for Class Certification and a Motion to Decertify FLSA Collective Action and for Partial Summary Judgment on Plaintiffs' First Cause of Action. Doc. # 161 and 162. On November 30, 2015, Plaintiffs filed a Reply in support of their Motion for Class Certification and their Response to Defendants' Motion for Decertification and Partial Summary Judgment. Doc. # 167 and 168. On December 17, 2015, Defendants filed a Reply in support of their Motion for Decertification and Partial Summary Judgment. Doc. # 169. On January 12, 2016, Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment was granted as to Plaintiff's fourth, sixth, seventh, and eighth causes of action. Doc. # 172.

II. Legal Standard

A. Class Certification

[1] To qualify for class certification, the class must meet the requirements of Rule 23(a), and at least one requirement of Rule 23(b). Fed. Judicial Center, Manual for Complex Litigation § 21.131 (4th ed. 2004); Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a), (b). The proponents of the class bear the burden of demonstrating that all the prerequisites for class designation are met. See In re No. Dist. of Cal. Dalkon Shield IUD Prods. Liab. Litig., 693 F.2d 847, 854 (9th Cir.1982). “The class determination generally involves considerations that are enmeshed in the factual and legal issues comprising the plaintiff's cause of action.” Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Dukes, 564 U.S. 338, 131 S.Ct. 2541, 2551–52, 180 L.Ed.2d 374 (2011) (quotation marks and citation omitted). Rule 23(a) sets forth four threshold requirements applicable to all class actions: (1) the class is so numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable; (2) there are questions of law or fact common to the class; (3) the claims or defenses of the representative parties are typical of the claims or defenses of the class; and (4) the representative parties will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a).

The Supreme Court refers to these elements as “numerosity,” “commonality,” “typicality,” and “adequacy of representation,” respectively. Amchem Products, Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 613, 117 S.Ct. 2231, 138 L.Ed.2d 689 (1997).

In addition, Plaintiffs must satisfy the requirements under Rule 23(b)(1), (2), or (3) in order to maintain a class action. Under Rule 23(b)(3)—the subsection chosen *1071 by Plaintiffs—certification is appropriate if the court finds that “questions of law or fact common to the class members predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, and that a class action is superior to other available methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the controversy.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3).

B. Summary Judgment

[2] Summary judgment is appropriate only when the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, affidavits or declarations, stipulations, admissions, and other materials in the record show that “there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and the movant is entitled to judgment as a matter of law.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(a). In assessing a motion for summary judgment, the evidence, together with all inferences that can reasonably be drawn therefrom, must be read in the light most favorable to the party opposing the motion. Matsushita Elec. Indus. Co. v. Zenith Radio Corp., 475 U.S. 574, 587, 106 S.Ct. 1348, 89 L.Ed.2d 538 (1986); Cnty. of Tuolumne v. Sonora Cmty. Hosp., 236 F.3d 1148, 1154 (9th Cir.2001). A motion for summary judgment can be complete or partial, and must identify “each claim or defense—or the part of each claim or defense—on which summary judgment is sought.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(a).

[3] [4] [5] The party moving for summary judgment bears the initial burden of informing the court of the basis for its motion, along with evidence showing the absence of any genuine issue of material fact. Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 323, 106 S.Ct. 2548, 91 L.Ed.2d 265 (1986). On those issues for which it bears the burden of proof, the moving party must make a showing that no “reasonable jury could return a verdict for the nonmoving party.” Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 248, 106 S.Ct. 2505, 91 L.Ed.2d 202 (1986). On an issue as to which the nonmoving party has the burden of proof, however, the moving party can prevail merely by demonstrating that there is an absence of evidence to support an essential element of the non-moving party's case. Celotex, 477 U.S. at 323, 106 S.Ct. 2548.

[6] [7] [8] [9] [10] [11] To successfully rebut a motion for summary judgment, the nonmoving party must point to facts supported by the record that demonstrate a genuine issue of material fact. Reese v. Jefferson Sch. Dist. No. 14J, 208 F.3d 736, 738 (9th Cir.2000). A “material fact” is a fact “that might affect the outcome of the suit under the governing law.” Liberty Lobby, 477 U.S. at 248, 106 S.Ct. 2505. Where reasonable minds could differ on the material facts at issue, summary judgment is not appropriate. See v. Durang, 711 F.2d 141, 143 (9th Cir.1983). A dispute regarding a material fact is considered genuine “if the evidence is such that a reasonable jury could return a verdict for the nonmoving party.” Liberty Lobby, 477 U.S. at 248, 106 S.Ct. 2505. The mere existence of a scintilla of evidence in support of the party's position is insufficient to establish a genuine dispute; there must be evidence on which a jury could reasonably find for the party. See id. at 252, 106 S.Ct. 2505. “[S]peculative and conclusory arguments do not constitute the significantly probative evidence required to create a genuine issue of material fact.” Nolan v. Cleland, 686 F.2d 806, 812 (9th Cir.1982).

C. Decertification of a Collective Action

[12] The FLSA authorizes collective actions against employers accused of violating the FLSA. 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). Section 216(b) provides that “[a]n action ... may be maintained against any employer ... by any one or more employees for and in behalf of himself or themselves and other employees similarly situated.” 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). Thus, to maintain a collective *1072 action under the FLSA, plaintiffs must demonstrate that they are similarly situated. See Anderson v. Cagle's, 488 F.3d 945, 952 (11th Cir.2007).

[13] Participants in a § 216(b) collective action must affirmatively opt into the suit. 29 U.S.C. § 216(b) (“No employee shall be a party plaintiff to any such action unless he gives his consent in writing to become such a party and such consent is filed in the court in which such action is brought.”). That is, once a plaintiff files a complaint against an employer, any other similarly situated employees who want to join must affirmatively consent to be a party and file written consent with the court. Albritton v. Cagle's, 508 F.3d 1012, 1017 (11th Cir.2007).

[14] FLSA collective actions utilize a two-step process in the pretrial phase. The first step of whether a collective action should be certified is the notice stage. Anderson, 488 F.3d at 952–53; Hipp v. Liberty Nat. Life Ins. Co., 252 F.3d 1208, 1218 (11th Cir.2001). Here, a court determines whether other similarly situated employees should be notified.

[15] [16] [17] A plaintiff has the burden of showing a “reasonable basis” for his claim that there are other similarly situated employees. See Anderson, 488 F.3d at 952; Grayson v. K Mart Corp., 79 F.3d 1086, 1097 (11th Cir.1996); Haynes v. Singer Co., 696 F.2d 884, 887 (11th Cir.1983). The standard for determining similarity, at this initial stage, is “not particularly stringent.” Hipp, 252 F.3d at 1214. The district court's broad discretion at the notice stage is thus constrained, to some extent, by the leniency of the standard for the exercise of that discretion. Nonetheless, there must be more than “only counsel's unsupported assertions that FLSA violations [are] widespread and that additional plaintiffs would come from other stores.” Haynes, 696 F.2d at 887.

[18] This first step is also referred to as conditional certification since the decision may be reexamined once the case is ready for trial. Albritton, 508 F.3d at 1014 (discussing Hipp's first stage as “conditionally certifying the collective action”); Anderson, 488 F.3d at 952 (stating district court certified collective action, “but only conditionally,” noting the possibility of later decertifying once discovery is substantially over).

[19] [20] The second stage is triggered by an employer's motion for decertification. Anderson, 488 F.3d at 953. At this point, the district court has a much thicker record than it had at the notice stage, and can therefore make a more informed factual determination of similarity. Id. This second stage is less lenient, and the plaintiff bears a heavier burden. Id. (citing Thiessen v. Gen. Elec. Capital Corp., 267 F.3d 1095, 1103 (10th Cir.2001)).

[21] At this stage, as more legally significant differences appear amongst the opt-ins, it becomes less likely that the group of employees is similarly situated. Id. (“Exactly how much less lenient we need not specify, though logically the more material distinctions revealed by the evidence, the more likely the district court is to decertify the collective action.”). In order to overcome the defendant's evidence, a plaintiff must rely on more than just “allegations and affidavits.” Id. Because the second stage usually occurs just before the end of discovery, or at its close, the court likely has a more extensive and detailed factual record. Id.

[22] [23] There are a number of factors that courts should consider at the second stage, such as: “(1) disparate factual and employment settings of the individual plaintiffs; (2) the various defenses available to defendant[s] [that] appear to be individual to each plaintiff; [and] (3) fairness and *1073 procedural considerations[.]” Thiessen, 267 F.3d at 1103. Thus, at the second stage, “although the FLSA does not require potential class members to hold identical positions, the similarities necessary to maintain a collective action under § 216(b) must extend beyond the mere facts of job duties and pay provisions” and encompass the defenses to some extent. Anderson, 488 F.3d at 953 (citation and quotation marks omitted). For example, the court must consider whether the defenses that apply to the opt-in plaintiffs' claims are similar to one another or whether they vary significantly. Id. at 954 n. 8 (noting that all named plaintiffs were unionized but some opt-in plaintiffs were not, making the collective bargaining agreement defense applicable to some but not all plaintiffs). But ultimately, whether a collective action is appropriate depends largely on the factual question of whether the plaintiff employees are similarly situated to one another.

III. Discussion

A. Motion for Class Certification

Plaintiffs are arguing that Rule 23 class certification is appropriate for the “Unpaid Wage” class of all non-exempt hourly workers employed by Defendants at any time from June 21, 2009 until the date of judgment after trial herein. They argue that the facts show that Defendants required, suffered, and/or permitted all the members of the class of hourly employees to perform work off the clock, either by directly requiring them to do work before punching in and/or after punching out each shift, or by inappropriately rounding their time in favor of the employer in violation of NRS 608.016. They also seek to certify three subclasses: the Shift Jamming Subclass consisting of all members of the Nevada Class who earned less than $12.38 an hour, who did not have at least 16 hours between shifts, and who were not paid overtime for all hours worked in excess of 8 hours in a workday; the Waiting Time Subclass consisting of all members of the Nevada Class who are former employees of the Defendants; and the Age Discrimination Subclass consisting of all members of the Nevada Class who are over the age of 40 and have been terminated from employment by the Defendants.

Because summary judgment has been granted on Plaintiff's fourth, fifth, seventh, and eighth causes of actions, the only ones that remain for certification are the fifth cause of action for Failure to Pay Minimum Wages in Violation of the Nevada Constitution and NRS 608.250 and the Ninth Cause of Action for Age Discrimination in Violation of 29 § 621 and NRS 613.330. This also means that the Shift Jamming Subclass (premised on a violation of NRS 608.050) and the Waiting Time Subclass (premised on violation of NRS 608.020-.050) are no longer at issue, and thus certification is denied as to those subclasses.

[24] As the Supreme Court has noted, “Rule 23 does not set forth a mere pleading standard.” Dukes, 564 U.S. 338, 131 S.Ct. 2541, 180 L.Ed.2d 374. “A party seeking class certification must affirmatively demonstrate his compliance with the Rule—that is, he must be prepared to prove that there are in fact sufficiently numerous parties, common questions of law or fact, etc.” Id. The Supreme Court has further noted that “sometimes it may be necessary for the court to probe behind the pleadings before coming to rest on the certification question,” General Telephone Co. of the Southwest v. Falcon, 457 U.S. 147, 102 S.Ct. 2364, 72 L.Ed.2d 740 (1982), and that certification is proper only if “the trial court is satisfied, after a rigorous analysis, that the prerequisites of Rule 23(a) have been satisfied,” id., at 161, 102 S.Ct. 2364; see id., at 160, 102 S.Ct. 2364 *1074 (“[A]ctual, not presumed, conformance with Rule 23(a) remains ... indispensable”). Frequently that “rigorous analysis” will entail some overlap with the merits of the plaintiff’s underlying claim. Dukes, 564 U.S. 338, 131 S.Ct. 2541, 180 L.Ed.2d 374.

[25] Here, Plaintiffs have simply failed to address their fifth cause of action for Failure to Pay Minimum Wages in Violation of the Nevada Constitution and NRS 608.250 while seeking class certification. The Supreme Court has clearly shown that the burden lies on the party seeking class certification and that burden is not a light one. Because Plaintiffs did not address this cause of action, there is nothing for the Court to perform a rigorous analysis on, and the Plaintiffs have failed to meet their burden to show why the claim should be certified as a class action. Therefore, class certification as to Plaintiffs’ fifth cause of action is denied. Additionally, because class certification has been denied as to Plaintiff’s fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth claims, certification of the Unpaid Wages Class is consequently denied.

[26] Plaintiffs also seek certification for the Age Discrimination Subclass for Plaintiffs’ NRS 613.330 age discrimination claims. In response, Defendants argue that the class members have not filed notice of intent to sue, and that in any event, the claims do not meet the requirements for certification under Rule 23.

[27] Under NRS 613.330(1), it is an unlawful employment practice to discharge any individual because of his or her race, color, sex, religion, sexual orientation, age, disability or national origin. Pope v. Motel 6, 121 Nev. 307, 311, 114 P.3d 277, 280 (2005). NRS 613.420 requires an employee alleging employment discrimination to exhaust her administrative remedies by filing a complaint with the Nevada Equal Rights Commission (“NERC”) before filing a district court action. Id. However, the Ninth Circuit has held that “so long as one plaintiff timely files an administrative complaint, a class of similarly-situated plaintiffs may ‘piggyback’ on that complaint, thereby satisfying the exhaustion requirement.” Harris v. Cty. of Orange, 682 F.3d 1126, 1137 (9th Cir.2012); see also Bean v. Crocker Nat’l Bank, 600 F.2d 754, 759 (9th Cir.1979); E.E.O.C. v. Catholic Healthcare W., 530 F.Supp.2d 1096, 1107 (C.D.Cal.2008). Thus, Boggs and Wiederholt’s timely filed discrimination charges with the NERC could be sufficient to establish exhaustion of administrative remedies for all class members.

Still, in order to be certified as a class, the Rule 23 requirements of numerosity, commonality, typicality, and adequacy still must be met, and Plaintiffs have failed to demonstrate the required commonality in this case.

[28] [29] [30] “A party seeking class action certification must demonstrate, under a strict burden of proof, that all of the requirements of 23(a) are clearly met.” Rex v. Owens ex rel. State of Okla., 585 F.2d 432, 435 (10th Cir.1978). With respect to Rule 23(a)(2)’s commonality requirement, a plaintiff must show that class members “have suffered the same injury,” Falcon, 457 U.S. at 157, 102 S.Ct. 2364, and that “the incidents of discrimination complained of ... present a common issue that could be resolved efficiently in a single proceeding,” McReynolds v. Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc., 672 F.3d 482, 488 (7th Cir.2012), cert. denied, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, Inc. v. McReynolds, — U.S. —, 133 S.Ct. 338, 184 L.Ed.2d 157 (2012).

[T]here is more to a showing of commonality than a demonstration that class plaintiffs suffered discrimination on the basis of membership in a particular group.... While in a case alleging intentional discrimination, such as this one, a plaintiff need not isolate the particular *1075 practice and prove that such practice caused the discrimination, plaintiffs must make a significant showing to permit the court to infer that members of the class suffered from a common policy of discrimination that pervaded all of the employer’s challenged employment decisions.

[31] Hartman v. Duffey, 19 F.3d 1459, 1472 (D.C.Cir.1994). Thus, commonality under Rule 23(a) requires a named plaintiff to show (1) discrimination (2) against a particular group (3) of which the plaintiff is a member, plus (4) some additional factor that “permit[s] the court to infer that members of the class suffered from a common policy of discrimination.” Id. Hartman’s “common policy” requirement is consistent with the Supreme Court’s teaching in Falcon, 457 U.S. 147, 102 S.Ct. 2364. There the Court noted:

Conceptually, there is a wide gap between (a) an individual’s claim that he has been [discriminated against], and his otherwise unsupported allegation that the company has a policy of discrimination, and (b) the existence of a class of persons who have suffered the same injury as that individual, such that the individual’s claim and the class claims will share common questions of law or fact .... For respondent to bridge that gap, he must prove much more than the validity of his own claim.

Id. at 157–58, 102 S.Ct. 2364.

Here, the common questions Plaintiffs frame for the Age Discrimination Subclass are “did Defendants institute a policy to discriminate on the basis of age?” and “did subclass members suffer an adverse employment action because of age?” This is not enough. The bald allegation that the declarants and non-declarants alike are unified by a “common policy” of age discrimination is insufficient. Love v. Johanns, 439 F.3d 723, 729 (D.C.Cir.2006).

As the Sixth Circuit noted in a case where plaintiffs claimed to have been the victim of the defendant’s “general policy” of discrimination on the basis of sex, “[i]f this were the test, every plaintiff seeking to certify a class ... would be entitled to that certification.” Reeb v. Ohio Dep’t of Rehab. & Corr., 435 F.3d 639 (6th Cir.2006); see also Bacon v. Honda of Am. Mfg., Inc., 370 F.3d 565, 571 (6th Cir.2004) (“Conclusory allegations and general assertions of discrimination are not sufficient to establish commonality.” (citing Falcon, 457 U.S. at 157, 102 S.Ct. 2364)); Sprague v. Gen. Motors Corp., 133 F.3d 388, 397 (6th Cir.1998) (“It is not every common question that will suffice [to show commonality], however; at a sufficiently abstract level of generalization, almost any set of claims can be said to display commonality. What we are looking for is a common issue the resolution of which will advance the litigation.”).

Here, a vaguely defined general policy is all that Plaintiffs allege. They have not made the significant showing required for the Court to infer that all class members suffered from a common policy of discrimination that suffused all of the employer’s challenged employment decisions. For example, the list of terminated employees Plaintiffs rely on gives no indication as to why those employees were terminated, instead simply listing their name, position, date of hire, date of birth, and date of termination. The fact that Defendants terminated some employees over the age of 60 does not constitute a significant showing of age discrimination, especially when that same list shows that Defendants hired 66 employees over the age of 60 during that same period. Similarly, in the survey, Plaintiffs only asked the respondents if they felt they were “treated unfairly because of age,” and made no attempt to ascertain the age of the respondents or whether the respondent felt they were not *1076 treated respectfully due to being an older employee or a younger employee. This is acknowledged in the survey itself. Even the declarations provided by the Plaintiff point only to the general idea that they were terminated or pressured into quitting because of their age. This is not enough to “bridge the gap.” At heart, Plaintiffs offer nothing more than conclusory allegations and general assertions of discrimination, which is “not sufficient to establish commonality.”

Moreover, resolution of the merits of the instant dispute would require “independent consideration of each plaintiff’s qualifications for his or her position” and “their previous work performance and duties,” a further strike against a finding of commonality. Allen v. City of Chicago, 828 F.Supp. 543, 552 (N.D.Ill.1993). This is especially true, where, as here, the putative class members vary greatly in terms of their departments, supervisors, tenure, and other individual circumstances. Morgan v. Metro. Dist. Comm’n, 222 F.R.D. 220, 230 (D.Conn.2004). Such a wide range of circumstances would elicit highly individualized defenses with respect to each plaintiff. Id. In effect, “[t]he factfinder will have to consider each of the named plaintiffs’ claims on a case-by-case basis along with” any unique defenses Defendants will raise to each plaintiff. Webb v. Merck & Co., Inc., 206 F.R.D. 399, 405–06 (E.D.Pa.2002). Courts have declined to certify classes in similar situations. Morgan, 222 F.R.D. at 230; see also Bacon, 205 F.R.D. at 478–79 (“In light of the number of departments involved, the autonomy of those departments, the number of decisionmakers involved, and the diverse job functions and qualifications of those departments, the plaintiffs have not established that proof of any one class member's claim of disparate treatment will involve a common issue the resolution of which will advance the litigation.”) (citation omitted); Reyes v. Walt Disney World Co., 176 F.R.D. 654, 658 (M.D.Fla.1998) (denying class action brought by employees, in part based on the employees' employment in different departments under individualized circumstances and the attendant failure to show commonality and typicality, and the risk of unmanageability).

Here, the need for individualized defenses would also be great. The putative class in question consists of employees who have held at least 70 different positions in more than 50 different departments, under many different supervisors. Moreover, the complaints by employees differ vastly. In the survey, employees' complaints ranged from the skimpiness of uniforms to being written up for minor offenses. In the declarations, the complaints cover things like new uniforms and being given worse shifts and sections. Additionally, certification would also aggregate possibly non-discriminatory motives with possibly discriminatory ones. For example, both of the named plaintiffs, Boggs and Wiederholt, had a disciplinary history indicating performance problems, which Defendants contend was the basis for their termination. It is apparent, therefore, that if the Court were to certify the Plaintiffs' claims, the Court “would be grouping together many unrelated employment decisions made by many individual supervisors against many individual plaintiffs. An analysis of these unrelated decisions would raise numerous individualized questions that are not amenable to generalized proof.” Reap v. Cont'l Casualty Co., 199 F.R.D. 536, 545 (D.N.J.2001). Class certification is not appropriate in such circumstances. See Pruitt v. City of Chicago, Dep't of Aviation, No. 03C 2877, 2004 WL 1146110, at *9 (N.D.Ill. May 20, 2004) (denying motion for Title VII class certification for failure to establish commonality and typicality due to numerous individual claims involving distinct content, time, and setting); see also *1077 Rhodes v. Cracker Barrel Old Country Store, Inc., 213 F.R.D. 619, 676 (N.D.Ga.2003) (class certification inappropriate because proposed plaintiffs alleged misconduct within each individual's department to which defendant would likely offer a specific defense, and result in highly specific factual inquiries); Wright v. Circuit City Stores, Inc., 201 F.R.D. 526, 541 (N.D.Ala.2001) (“[T]he court is of the opinion that the purported class is comprised of a large group of diverse and differently situated employees whose highly individualized claims of discrimination do not lend themselves to class-wide proof.”); Bostron v. Apfel, 182 F.R.D. 188, 196 (D.Md.1998) (broad conclusory allegations of widespread discrimination along with a “jumble of numbers” were insufficient to satisfy commonality and typicality); Lumpkin v. E.I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., 161 F.R.D. 480, 482 (M.D.Ga.1995) (concluding that the discrete and individualized nature of plaintiffs' claims and evidence—including different departments, different supervisors, and different shifts—were not susceptible to generalized proofs or defenses and, therefore, failed to demonstrate commonality and typicality).

B. Motion for Summary Judgment

[32] Next, Defendants move for summary judgment on Plaintiffs' first cause of action for Failure to Pay Wages for All Hours Worked in Violation of 29 U.S.C. § 201, et. seq. Defendants argue that the FLSA only requires payment of minimum wages and overtime wages, thus as long as an employee is being paid the minimum wage or more, FLSA does not provide recourse for unpaid hours below the 40-hour threshold, even if the employee also works overtime hours the same week. Plaintiffs argue that gap time claims are permitted by the Ninth Circuit and that in any event they still have a viable straight time claim under the FLSA because they were hourly paid employees who received zero dollars for performing work activities off-the-clock.

[33] [34] “Gap time” refers to “uncompensated hours worked that fall between the minimum wage and the overtime provisions of the FLSA.” Adair v. City of Kirkland, 185 F.3d 1055, 1062 (9th Cir.1999). Essentially, gap time “is non-overtime hours worked for which an employee is not compensated.” Davis v. Abington Mem'l Hosp., 765 F.3d 236, 244 (3rd Cir.2014). Some courts have distinguished between two types of gap time—pure gap time and overtime gap time. See, e.g., Monahan v. County of Chesterfield, Va., 95 F.3d 1263, 1280 (4th Cir.1996). As explained below, Plaintiffs are not entitled to recover either pure gap time or overtime gap time.

[35] [36] Regarding the first type of gap time, the prevailing view is that “pure gap time claims—straight time wages for unpaid work during pay periods without overtime—are not cognizable under the FLSA, which requires payment of minimum wages and overtime wages only.” Id. at 244. See also Nakahata v. New York–Presbyterian Healthcare Sys., Inc., 723 F.3d 192, 201–02 (2d Cir.2013) (“the FLSA does not provide a cause of action for unpaid gap time”); Monahan, 95 F.3d at 1280 (“there is no cause of action under the FLSA for pure gap time when there is no evidence of a minimum wage or maximum hour violation by the employer”); Hensley v. MacMillan Bloedel Containers, Inc., 786 F.2d 353, 357 (8th Cir.1986). The FLSA provides that employers must pay employees a minimum wage of at least $7.25 per hour worked during any workweek. 29 U.S.C. § 206(a). A violation of the FLSA occurs only when the total weekly wage paid by the employer, “when averaged across the[ ] total time worked,” falls below the minimum weekly requirement. Adair, 185 F.3d at 1063; see also Monahan, 95 F.3d at 1270–1272 (4th Cir.1996); *1078 Hensley, 786 F.2d at 357; Dove v. Coupe, 759 F.2d 167, 171 (D.C.Cir.1985); United States v. Klinghoffer Bros. Realty Corp., 285 F.2d 487, 490 (2d Cir.1960). The minimum weekly requirement is calculated by multiplying the minimum hourly statutory requirement by the number of hours actually worked in a particular week. See Hensley, 786 F.2d at 357 (citing Klinghoffer, 285 F.2d at 490).

[37] In this case, Plaintiffs allege that Defendants violated Section 206 by failing to pay them “for all hours worked.” Such an allegation fails to understand the standard applicable to minimum wage cases. “If [Plaintiffs] average weekly pay does not fall below $7.25 per hour, then the FLSA does not grant them a remedy for minimum wage violations. This is so regardless of whether they were actually paid for each hour worked.” Sullivan v. Riviera Holdings Corp., No. 2:14-cv-00165-APG, 2014 WL 2960303, at *2 (D.Nev. June 30, 2014); see also Levert v. Trump Ruffin Tower I, LLC, No. 2:14-CV-01009-RCJ, 2015 WL 133792, at *3 (D.Nev. Jan. 9, 2015). Plaintiffs do not provide any information to show that they were, in fact, paid below the minimum wage amount, and in fact do not argue that their weekly pay fell below federal minimum wage because of Defendants' actions. They instead argue that the minimum wage calculation should be on an hourly and not a workweek basis, but this is controverted by the several decisions from this district, id. and with which this Court agrees. Therefore, Plaintiffs have no cognizable pure gap time claim.

[38] The more difficult question is whether the FLSA allows recovery for overtime gap time. The two circuits which have addressed the issue—the Second and the Fourth—reached different conclusions. In Monahan, the Fourth Circuit held that while pure gap time is always precluded under the FLSA, an employee may recover overtime gap time if an employee exceeds the overtime threshold and the employment contract does not expressly or implicitly compensate an employee for non-overtime hours. Monahan, 95 F.3d at 1273.

The Second Circuit, on the other hand, held that an employee may not bring a gap-time claim under the FLSA “even when an employee has worked overtime.” Lundy v. Catholic Health Sys. of Long Island Inc., 711 F.3d 106, 116 (2d Cir.2013). The Second Circuit reasoned, “the text of FLSA requires only payment of minimum wages and overtime wages. It simply does not consider or afford a recovery for gap-time hours.” Id. Lundy expressly rejected Monahan, finding the case unpersuasive because it relied on interpretive and “unreasoned” guidance from the Department of Labor. Id. at 116–17. Specifically, Lundy critiqued 29 C.F.R. § 778.315. Id. In discussing the FLSA pay requirement for time-and-a-half, § 778.315 states that “[t]his extra compensation for the excess hours of overtime under the Act cannot be said to have been paid to an employee unless all the straight time compensation due him for the nonovertime hours under his contract (express or implied) ... has been paid.” 29 C.F.R. § 778.315. Lundy noted that this section “suggests that an employer could violate FLSA by failing to compensate an employee for gap time worked when the employee also works overtime; but the Department of Labor provides no statutory support or reasoned explanation for this interpretation.” Id. at 117. Finding no persuasive support to rule otherwise, and rejecting Monahan, the court in Lundy affirmed the dismissal of the plaintiff's overtime gap time claim. Id.

This Court, and others in the Ninth Circuit, agrees with the Second Circuit's ruling. See, e.g., *1079 Gomley v. Crossmark, Inc., No. 1:13-CV-00420-BLW, 2015 WL 1825481, at *6 (D.Idaho Apr. 22, 2015); Young v. Beard, No. 2:11-CV-02491-KJM-AC, 2015 WL 1021278, at *12 (E.D.Cal. Mar. 9, 2015), appeal dismissed (June 30, 2015); Perez v. Wells Fargo & Co., 75 F.Supp.3d 1184, 1188 (N.D.Cal.2014). The plain language of the FLSA does not encompass gap time pay—whether it be pure gap time or overtime gap time. As such, the Court will grant summary judgment on Plaintiffs' first cause of action and will subsequently decertify the class as to that claim.

C. Motion to Decertify FLSA Collective Action

[39] Section 216(b) of the FLSA provides that an action for violations may be maintained against an employer by “any one or more employees for and in behalf of himself or themselves and other employees similarly situated.” 29 U.S.C. § 216(b). “[T]he fundamental inquiry in determining whether a collective action under § 216(b) is appropriate is whether or not the plaintiffs are ‘similarly situated.’ ” Smith v. Heartland Auto. Servs., Inc., 404 F.Supp.2d 1144, 1149 (D.Minn.2005). Plaintiffs may show that they are similarly situated by either proving that the employer “engaged in a unified policy, plan, or scheme of FLSA violations,” or that “their positions are ‘similar, not identical’ to the positions held by the other class members.” Kautsch v. Premier Commc'ns, No. 06CV04035 NKL, 2008 WL 294271, at *1 (W.D.Mo. Jan. 31, 2008) (internal citation omitted).

[40] [41] [42] At the initial conditional-certification stage, the plaintiffs' burden is not rigorous; they must only show that there is a “colorable basis for their claim” and “that a class of similarly situated plaintiffs exists.” Smith, 404 F.Supp.2d at 1149. At the decertification stage, however, the standard is stricter, and three factors are analyzed: (1) the disparate factual and employment settings of the individual plaintiffs; (2) the various defenses available to defendant that appear to be individual to each plaintiff, and (3) fairness and procedural considerations. Id. at 1149–50 (citing Thiessen, 267 F.3d at 1103). The essential question is “whether the difference among the plaintiffs outweigh the similarities of the practices to which they were allegedly subjected.” White v. Baptist Mem. Health Care Corp., No. 08CV02478 SMH, 2011 WL 1883959, at *4 (W.D.Tenn. May 17, 2011). Additionally, the prevailing view is that plaintiffs bear the burden of proving that collective action treatment is appropriate. Anderson, 488 F.3d at 953; Smith, 404 F.Supp.2d at 1149; Pfohl v. Farmers Ins. Group, Case No. CV–03–3080 DT (RCx), 2004 WL 554834, at *2 (C.D.Cal. Mar. 1, 2004). It is not sufficient for the plaintiffs' evidence to merely “successfully engage” the competing evidence offered by the defendant, rather, it is plaintiffs' burden to provide substantial evidence to demonstrate that they are similarly situated. Castle v. Wells Fargo Fin., Inc., Case No. C–06–4347–SI, 2008 WL 495705, at *2 (N.D.Cal. Feb.20, 2008);

Smith v. Micron Electronics, Inc., Case No. CV–01–244–S–BLW, 2005 WL 5336571, at *2 (D.Idaho Feb.4, 2005).

1. Disparate Factual and Employment Settings

[43] [44] To proceed as a collective action, Plaintiffs must present substantial evidence of a common policy, plan, or scheme of permitting or requiring uncompensated off-the-clock work. “An allegation of an ‘overarching’ policy is generally insufficient; plaintiffs must produce ‘substantial evidence’ of a ‘single decision, policy or plan.’ ” Micron, 2005 WL 5336571, at *2. Here, Plaintiffs do not identify a single decision, policy, or plan, but instead point to Defendants' overarching policy of suffering *1080 or permitting work without compensation. First, Defendants written policies specifically stated that they provide “compensation for all overtime hours worked by non-exempt employees in accordance with state and federal law.” In fact, Defendants' payroll manager, Jennifer Humason, affirmed that payroll records revealed that all but two of the forty-five sample plaintiffs had been paid some amount of overtime during the time period from June 2010 to May 2014. As the Court in Reed noted, this indicates that if the company did have a policy with respect to overtime, the policy was to pay employees for it. Reed v. Cty. of Orange, 266 F.R.D. 446, 458 (C.D.Cal.2010). Second, a blanket statement that Defendants had a policy of suffering or permitting work without compensation is not enough to demonstrate a single policy, as Plaintiffs were employed in many different departments, under many different supervisors, and allege a variety of uncompensated activities, including picking up equipment, attending meetings, changing uniforms, and attending dance classes. If Plaintiffs were denied overtime pay, it occurred in many different ways, by many different managers, at different times, and in different assignments and locations. There was no single, uniform policy not to pay overtime.

While Plaintiffs do point to Defendants' rounding policy, the rounding policy alone is not enough to meet Plaintiffs' burden at the decertification stage, where “the similarities necessary to maintain a collective action under § 216(b) must extend beyond the mere facts of job duties and pay provisions.” Kelly v. Healthcare Servs. Grp., Inc., No. 2:13–CV–00441–JRG, 2015 WL 3464131, at *4 (E.D.Tex. June 1, 2015) (citing Anderson, 488 F.3d at 953 (internal quotation marks omitted); see also Mooney v. Aramco

Servs. Co., 54 F.3d 1207, 1212 (5th Cir.1995) (“[T]he Court has much more information on which to base its decision, and makes a factual determination on the similarly situated question.”), overruled on other grounds by Desert Palace, Inc. v. Costa, 539 U.S. 90, 123 S.Ct. 2148, 156 L.Ed.2d 84 (2003). In other words, while the common rounding policy may have been sufficient at the conditional certification stage, it alone cannot bind the Plaintiffs' claims now. Id. “Otherwise, it is doubtful that § 216(b) would further the interests of judicial economy, and it would undoubtedly present a ready opportunity for abuse.” Anderson, 488 F.3d at 953.

[45] Because Plaintiffs were not subject to a uniform illegal compensation policy, they cannot point to a common violation of law that binds the purported collective action. Absent a unifying illegal policy, Plaintiffs must demonstrate that they are factually similarly situated or that the employer's practice was to systematically disregard its own legal policy. See, e.g., White, 2011 WL 1883959 at *9–10 (“Where an employer's formal policy is to compensate employees for all time worked, courts have generally required a showing that the employer's common or uniform practice was to not follow its formal, written policy.”) Moreover, for those arguments to be pertinent to certification, Plaintiffs must demonstrate that the illegal practices about which they complain are sufficiently uniform and pervasive as to warrant class treatment, i.e., that these violations can be generalized across the opt-in Plaintiffs in this case such that collective treatment would further procedural and fairness considerations. Zivali v. AT & T Mobility, LLC, 784 F.Supp.2d 456, 463 (S.D.N.Y.2011).

[46] Decertification is appropriate where plaintiffs are subject to varying work conditions in different work locations or under different supervisors. Proctor v. Allsup's Convenience Stores, Inc., 250 F.R.D. 278, 282 (N.D.Tex.2008); *1081 Brechler v. Qwest Communications Intl., Case No. CV–06–00940–PHX–ROS, 2009 WL 692329, at *2 (D.Ariz. March 17, 2009); Johnson v. TGF Precision Haircutters, Inc., Case No. CV–H–03–3641, 2005 WL 1994286, at *2–*4 (S.D.Tex. Aug. 17, 2005); Lawrence v. City of Philadelphia, No. 03–CV–4009, 2004 WL 945139 (E.D.Pa. April 29, 2004). Plaintiffs argue that the class is similarly situated because they all worked in one location and were subject to the same policies and procedures. However, the evidence before the Court shows substantial variations among the class members.

Plaintiffs worked in over 50 different departments and sub-departments, including more than 70 different positions. For example, the survey by Plaintiffs' expert describes unpaid work encompassing everything from paperwork to bar preparation to changing to dance classes. That same survey indicates that 75% of respondents indicated that they were not asked to work off-the-clock by a supervisor. These variations are further borne out through deposition testimony. For example, Sargent testified that members of the beverage department were required to work off the clock. However, Plaintiff Auturo Pineda, a member of the beverage department, testified that he had never been asked to work off the clock. Similarly, while Plaintiff Rosie Boggs testified that she had to return work related equipment off-the-clock, Plaintiffs' survey shows that only 25% of respondents reported doing the same thing. Additionally, the most common pre- and post-work activity reported in the survey, changing into and out of the uniform, was only reported by roughly half of the respondents, and further testimony shows that they were allowed to change at home. Similarly, some Plaintiffs state that pre-shift meetings were held on-the-clock, while others state they were held off-the-clock. This marks the case as similar to Lugo, in which the Court decertified the class because while all of the putative class members were hourly employees at the same plant, “the record as a whole [did] not support the conclusion that their particular experiences were shared by all plaintiffs, or reflected a common practice or policy of the defendant” due to substantial variations in individuals, departments, positions, and shifts. Lugo v. Farmer's Pride Inc., 737 F.Supp.2d 291, 316 (E.D.Pa.2010). Thus, this case differs from those where liability can be proven on a classwide basis, and the only material difference among plaintiffs is the amount of damages owed to each of them, which is generally considered insufficient to deny class treatment. Lugo, 737 F.Supp.2d at 303. Indeed, individualized inquiries would also have to be conducted to determine whether any of the class members worked off-the-clock during any given week, and if so, how many hours were worked. Because these issues are central to the question of liability, treatment of plaintiffs' claims on a collective basis is inappropriate. See, e.g., White, 2011 WL 1883959, at *5; Wright v. Pulaski Cty., No. 4:09 CV 00065 SWW, 2010 WL 3328015, at *9–10 (E.D.Ark.2010); Espenscheid

v. DirectSat USA, LLC, No. 09CV625 BBC, 2011 WL 2009967, at *5 (W.D.Wis. May 23, 2011).

2. Individualized Defenses

[47] Another factor courts consider in determining whether to decertify a conditionally-certified FLSA class is the defenses available to the defendant which are individual as to each plaintiff. See Wright, 2010 WL 3328015, at *9 (citing Thiessen, 267 F.3d at 1103); Smith, 404 F.Supp.2d at 1149 (citations omitted). Here, Defendants assert several individualized defenses: that determining whether an employer knew or should have known that the employee worked off-the-clock is by its nature an individual defense, that the majority of employees testified they were not required *1082 to work off-the-clock, that employees were not working when they clocked in early or clocked out late, and that any time was de minimis. Plaintiffs argue that all defenses asserted by the Defendants are class wide defenses. However, the defenses raised by Defendants are similar to those found to be individualized by other courts. See, e.g. Camesi v. University of Pittsburgh Medical Center, 2011 WL 6372873, at *9 (W.D.Pa. Dec. 20, 2011) (decertifying the conditionally-certified FLSA class in light of defendant's individualized defenses which included “whether individual plaintiffs actually worked overtime without compensation.”); Reed, 266 F.R.D. at 460 (concluding that “whether a particular deputy worked overtime; whether and why a particular deputy may have under-reported work time; whether supervisors were aware of alleged off-the-clock work; whether a particular deputy violated Defendants' policies for accurately recording time; whether the particular activities were compensable; and whether the time spent on these activities was de minimis” were individualized defenses).

[48] Two of these defenses merit a closer look. First, Plaintiffs couch their case on the assertion that Defendants suffered or permitted its employees to work without compensation. To establish this, Plaintiffs will need to demonstrate that GSR management either had constructive or actual knowledge that Plaintiffs were working off-the-clock without pay. Reed, 266 F.R.D. at 460; Pfarr v. Food Lion, Inc., 851 F.2d 106, 109 (4th Cir.1988); Maciel v. City of Los Angeles, 569 F.Supp.2d 1038, 1043 (C.D.Cal.2008). “It is not enough for a plaintiff to establish his employer's knowledge of a few incidents of off-the-clock work' for several years' worth of claims.” Reed, 266 F.R.D. at 460 (quoting Pfarr, 851 F.2d at 109). To rebut Plaintiffs' allegations of knowledge, Defendants will have to introduce evidence that is inherently individualized. Hinojos v. Home Depot, Inc., Case No. 2:06-CV-00108, 2006 WL 3712944, at *3 (D.Nev. Dec.1, 2006). Where, as here, there is no uniform policy or practice, “plaintiffs will have to demonstrate that each individual manager had actual or constructive knowledge that plaintiffs were performing off-the-clock work without proper compensation.” Desilva v. N. Shore-Long Island Jewish Health Sys., Inc., 27 F.Supp.3d 313, 325 (E.D.N.Y.2014) (citing Zivali, 784 F.Supp.2d at 468).

[49] Second, there is the de minimis defense. Under the de minimis doctrine, employees are not entitled to compensation for insubstantial periods of time spent working. Anderson v. Mt. Clemens Pottery Co., 328 U.S. 680, 692, 66 S.Ct. 1187, 90 L.Ed. 1515 (1946) (“When the matter in issue concerns only a few seconds or minutes of work beyond the scheduled working hours, such trifles may be disregarded. Split-second absurdities are not justified.... It is only when an employee is required to give up a substantial measure of his time and effort that compensable working time is involved”); Singh v. City of New York, 524 F.3d 361 (2d Cir.2008); Reich v. Monfort, Inc., 144 F.3d 1329 (10th Cir.1998). Since the Court has determined that Plaintiffs' claims are highly individualized, determining whether and when a particular Plaintiff regularly engaged in additional work and calculating the aggregate amount of time worked is an inherently individualized inquiry. Smith v. T-Mobile USA, Inc., 2007 WL 2385131, at *8 (C.D.Cal.2007); Basco v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., No. CIV.A. 00-3184, 2004 WL 1497709, at *8 (E.D.La. July 2, 2004).

Plaintiffs argue that that the difference between when an employee arrived on the property and when they clocked in demonstrates that the off-the-clock time was far more than de minimis, but this argument is flawed. Because of the variety of job duties at issue and tasks performed off the *1083 clock the “extent to which work was de minimis, [ ] will necessarily vary widely according to the particular situation of each individual plaintiff.” Desilva, 27 F.Supp.3d at 326 (quoting Zivali, 784 F.Supp.2d at 468). Similarly, the calculations relied on by the Plaintiffs do not take into account that Plaintiffs may have been doing things other than working in between their arrival at the property and clocking in. Defendants have provided deposition testimony that some Plaintiffs would get coffee before work or have a beer after work, for example. This indicates that there would be genuine need for Defendants to individually address each employee.

Plaintiffs similarly challenge the rounding policy as consistently disfavoring the employee; however, for the Defendants to properly challenge this argument, individualized defenses would be necessary. Without a common policy showing that the opt-in Plaintiffs were required to clock in early or clock out late, this defense is individual to each Plaintiff. See Kelly, 2015 WL 3464131 at *4. In addition, even if Plaintiffs could show, collectively, that the opt-in Plaintiffs always clocked in to work early and clocked out late, to be eligible for an hourly wage during that extra seven minutes, the Plaintiffs must have actually been working during that extra seven minutes. Plaintiffs have presented no evidence that every time a Plaintiff clocked in early that Plaintiff immediately began work. See Alonzo v. Maximus, Inc., 832 F.Supp.2d 1122, 1128 (C.D.Cal.2011) (“[T]he evidentiary record is devoid of evidence that [timesheet records] reflect time actually worked by Plaintiffs, as opposed to time Plaintiffs may have been present on Defendant's premises but not engaged in work activities.”). Defendants should be allowed to present individualized evidence of employee behaviors.

3. Fairness and Procedural Considerations

[50] [51] When ruling upon a decertification motion, coherent management of the trial and avoidance of jury confusion are essential considerations. See Gatewood v. Koch Foods of Mississippi, LLC, 3:07CV00082 KS-MTP, 2009 WL 8642001, at *20 (S.D.Miss. Oct. 20, 2009) (“a collective action is designed to permit the presentation of evidence regarding certain representative plaintiffs that will serve as evidence for the class as a whole. It is oxymoronic to use [the collective action] device in a case where proof regarding each individual plaintiff is required to show liability.”). At first blush, this factor weighs in favor of certifying plaintiffs as a class. In fact, it would seem that conducting one trial for all of the plaintiffs would aid judicial economy. The problem, however, is that due to the disparate facts of each plaintiff and Defendants' individualized defenses, it would be very difficult to appropriately adjudicate the claims of the named plaintiffs and the approximately 480 opt-in plaintiffs collectively. Each plaintiff's case requires consideration of different background facts and different testimony based on each employee's work activities. Representative testimony will not accurately capture each Plaintiff's diverse factual circumstances. This would result in some Plaintiffs being prejudiced by underpayment on their claims as well as prejudice to Defendants, who would overpay some Plaintiffs on their claims. See Reed, 266 F.R.D. at 462-63. Further, failing to decertify the conditionally-certified class will unfairly and prejudicially require Defendants to prepare for and present hundreds of different trials simultaneously. See King v. West Corp., 2006 WL 118577, at *15, 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 3926, at *47 (D.Neb. Jan. 13, 2006) (“Disparate individual defenses heighten the individuality of claims, and requiring the *1084 defendant to raise these arguments in a [collective] action suit undermines its ability to mount a clear and coherent defense to the case.”). All of these reasons dictate against certifying a collective action under § 216(b).

IV. Conclusion

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that Plaintiffs' Motion for Class Certification (Doc. # 144) is DENIED.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Defendants' Motion for Partial Summary Judgment (Doc. # 162) is GRANTED in accordance with this order.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the clerk of court shall enter judgment in favor of Defendants and against Plaintiffs on Plaintiffs' first cause of action.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Defendants' Motion to Decertify FLSA Collective Action (Doc. # 162) is GRANTED.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that Defendants' Motion for Leave to File Excess Pages (Doc. # 164) is GRANTED nunc pro tunc.
