IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

UNITE HERE HEALTH; AND
NEVADA HEALTH SOLUTIONS,
LLC,

Petitioners,

vs.

EIGHTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE OF
NEVADA, IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF CLARK, THE HONORABLE TIMOTHY C.
WILLIAMS, DISTRICT COURT
JUDGE,

Supreme Court No. 83135
District Court No. A-17-760558-B

PETITIONERS' REPLY IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO CONSOLIDATE

Respondent,

and

STATE OF NEVADA EX REL.
COMMISSIONER OF INSURANCE,
BARBARA D. RICHARDSON, IN HER OFFICIAL CAPACITY AS
RECEIVER FOR NEVADA HEALTH
CO-OP,

Real Party in Interest.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

Petitioners' Impleader Writ Petition stems from the same core issue as the Conflicts Appeal<sup>1</sup>: Greenberg's conflict of interest. While representing the Receiver in the Receivership and Asset Recovery Actions, Greenberg concurrently represented Xerox in three related matters, whose actions detrimentally impacted the launch of Nevada Health Link – the online marketplace where the CO-OP sold its insurance policies – and contributed in whole, or in large part, to the demise of the CO-OP. The repercussions of Greenberg's conflict continue to reverberate through the Receivership and the Asset Recovery Actions, impacting Petitioners and the other defendants in the Asset Recovery Actions as well as the policyholders and creditors of the receivership estate.

Because the Proceedings stem from the same conflict of interest, concurrent review of these matters will preserve judicial resources. Neither party will be prejudiced as the briefing schedule currently in place will be unaffected.

Therefore, Petitioners respectfully request that the Court grant this Motion.

1. The Issues in the Proceedings Stem from the Same Conflict of Interest.

Respondents suggest that Judge Williams did not mean what he said: that his primary basis for denying the Motions for Leave/Consolidation was Greenberg's conflict of interest. Contrary to Respondents' assertions, impleader was not denied because Petitioners filed an untimely motion. (Opp'n at 3.) Judge Williams expressly found the Motion for Leave to be "timely and not the result of dilatory factors." (Ex. A to Mot. at ¶ 1.) The only "complication" that Judge Williams foresaw was Greenberg's conflict of interest — specifically, his only concern was that impleader would "inject[] tangential issues such as potential conflicts resulting in the disqualification of Plaintiff's counsel." (Id. at ¶ 4. (emphasis added).)<sup>2</sup> However, Petitioners did not "create"<sup>3</sup> a conflict of interest where none existed; as set forth in the Conflicts Appeal, Greenberg created a conflict the

<sup>2</sup> While Judge Williams noted that trial protocol issues were a consideration in the denial of the Motion to Consolidate, it is clear from the express terms of his order, that his primary basis for denying this Motion was also Greenberg's conflict of interest. (Ex. A to Mot. at ¶ 8.)

instant that it accepted representation of the Receiver.<sup>4</sup> Thus, this conflict of interest forms the basis for both of the Proceedings.

Although Respondents claim that district court proceedings are distinct and unrelated, (Opp’n at 2), this analysis ignores the substantial links between the cases. First, the Receiver instituted the Asset Recovery Actions to fund the receivership estate and satisfy the creditors’ claims. Second, as set forth in detail in the Conflicts Appeal, Greenberg’s conflict not only affects the creditors in the Receivership Action, but has also severely impacted the Receiver’s choice of parties sued and claims alleged in the Asset Recovery Actions. See Matter of Bohack Corp., 607 F.2d 258, 263 (2d Cir. 1979) (“The conflict . . . affects not merely a determination of the proper defendants in the action but whether it should have been commenced in the first place.”). Despite the abundance of evidence that Xerox—not Petitioners—was responsible for the CO-OP’s demise, Greenberg’s prior representation of Xerox continues to insulate Xerox from suit. Greenberg seeks to keep the Proceedings separate—not to promote judicial economy—but to keep the consequences of its conflict an amorphous hypothetical. However, the Impleader Writ Petition demonstrates that Petitioners; the other defendants in the Asset Recovery Actions; and the policyholders and creditors of the receivership estate will be severely prejudiced by Greenberg's conflict so long as Greenberg remains counsel for the Receiver.

Finally, while consolidation of the Proceedings would require the Court to consider various issues of law, (Opp'n at 5), such is the nature of any appeal. Here, at least the issues raised in both Proceedings require the application of the same standard of review (i.e., abuse of discretion).

2. Consolidation Would Not Affect the Briefing Schedule.

Respondents disingenuously assert that Petitioners' timing in filing the Impleader Writ Petition will affect the briefing schedule in the Conflicts Appeal and impact Greenberg's answering brief due on July 28, 2021. Not so.

Should the Court take up the Impleader Writ Petition for review and consolidate the Proceedings, it "may order the respondent or real party in interest to answer within a fixed time." NRAP (b)(1). Therefore, it is expected that Respondents will respond to the Impleader Writ Petition in a separate brief regardless of consolidation of the Proceedings, and consolidation will not impact or delay Respondents' answering brief in the Conflicts Appeal in any way.

3. Consolidation of the Appellate Proceedings Promotes Judicial Economy, Not Gamesmanship.

Finally, Petitioners seek consolidation of the Proceedings in the interest of judicial economy and efficiency, not gamesmanship or "tactical maneuvering."

(Opp’n at 7.) Respondents’ argument is premised on the basis that Petitioners created a conflict of interest where none previously existed. (Id.) However, as this Court will address in the Conflicts Appeal, Greenberg created the conflict, Petitioners merely exposed it. Judge Williams correctly recognized this conflict, but incorrectly determined that Petitioners, rather than the Receiver, should be prejudiced by Greenberg’s actions.

This decision was an abuse of discretion, and this Court’s decision in the Conflicts Appeal will directly impact the Impleader Writ Petition. Thus, consideration of the two matters at the same time will conserve judicial resources.<sup>5</sup>

<sup>5</sup> Respondents also assert that Petitioners improperly included documents in its Appendix that were not part of the record in the action from which the Conflicts Appeal was taken. Respondents have failed to properly raise this issue in a motion or bring a counter-motion in their Opposition; therefore, this discussion is improper here. However, to the extent that judicial notice is required, Petitioners will address this issue when it is proper to do so.
