20 VERIFIED COMPLAINT IN EMINENT DOMAIN

21 Plaintiff, the Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”), 22 through its counsel, Woodburn and Wedge, alleges as follows:

23 1. RTC is a special purpose unit of government, duly organized and existing 24 under the laws of the State of Nevada. RTC’s principal offices are located at 1105 Terminal 25 Way, Reno, Nevada. The RTC is charged with providing regional transportation services 26 which are of a quality and standard necessary to satisfactorily meet the needs of the traveling 27 public.
28 . . .

1 2. Pursuant to Chapters 37, 241 and 277A of the Nevada Revised Statutes, RTC
2 has the power to exercise the right of eminent domain to acquire property for public purposes 3 within the jurisdictional limits of local government if authority for the acquisition of the 4 property has been approved by said government and notice of the condemning agency's intent 5 to condemn has been given as required by law.

6 3. Pursuant to an Interlocal Cooperative Agreement, a copy of which is attached 7 hereto as Exhibit 1 and incorporated herein by reference, the County of Washoe and the 8 Cities of Reno and Sparks authorized the RTC to initiate condemnation proceedings, as 9 necessary, to acquire property needed for the construction of the 4th Street/Prater Way 10 Complete Street and BRT Project, which will be referred to herein as "the Project."

11 4. The property RTC seeks to acquire by its power of eminent domain consists of 12 a permanent easement, a public utility easement and a temporary construction easement 13 located upon Washoe County Assessor Parcel Number ("APN") 008-244-15, metes and 14 bounds descriptions and depictions of which are set forth in Exhibit 2 attached hereto and 15 incorporated herein by this reference. This APN is more commonly known as 642 E. 4th 16 Street, Reno, NV, 89501, The permanent easement, public utility easement and temporary 17 construction easement are collectively referred to herein as the "Property."

18 5. Based upon a preliminary title report dated January 28, 2016, the names of all 19 owners, occupants and claimants of the Property insofar as known to RTC are as follows:

20 a. Defendants John Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu, Trustees of the John 21 Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu 1992 Family Trust ("Iliescu");

22 6. The true names and capacities defendant DOES 1 through 20, are unknown to 23 RTC at this time. RTC is informed and believes and thereupon alleges that each DOE 24 Defendant may claim an interest in the Property. RTC will seek leave to amend this 25 complaint to insert their true names when the same can be ascertained. RTC seeks to 26 condemn their interests in the manner and for the purposes described herein.

27 7. On July 20, 2016, RTC caused a "Notice Letter Pursuant To NRS 241.034" to 28 be sent by certified mail to the owner of the Property, Iliescu, advising that the RTC Board

1 would meet on August 19, 2016 to consider acquisition of the Property by the exercise of 2 eminent domain. A true and correct copy of that Notice Letter is attached hereto as Exhibit 3 3 and incorporated herein by reference.

4 8. On August 19, 2016, at a properly noticed public meeting, RTC adopted a 5 “Resolution of Condemnation” authorizing its counsel to proceed, if necessary, to acquire the 6 Property by the institution of eminent domain proceedings, and to apply for an order 7 permitting RTC to take immediate possession of the Property as may be necessary for the 8 construction of the Project. Pursuant to the “Resolution of Condemnation,” RTC determined 9 that the acquisition of the Property is to be applied to a public use, to wit, the Project. A true 10 and correct copy of the “Resolution of Condemnation” is attached hereto as Exhibit 4 and is 11 incorporated herein by reference.

12 9. The Property RTC seeks to acquire and/or temporarily occupy is to be applied 13 for the specific purpose of constructing the Project, which is within RTC’s purpose of 14 providing quality transportation facilities, a public use authorized by law. This public use will 15 improve traffic flow along 4th Street and Prater Way.

16 10. If there are two (2) or more estates or divided interests in the Property, then 17 NRS 37.115 entitles RTC to have the amount of the award for the property first determined as 18 between RTC and all of the Defendants claiming any interest therein. The respective rights of 19 each Defendant in and to the award are to be determined subsequently at a separate hearing in 20 the same proceeding.

21 11. Pursuant to NRS 37.055, all proceedings related to this matter take precedence 22 over all other causes and actions not involving the public interest so that all such proceedings 23 may be heard and determined in a timely manner.

24 WHEREFORE, RTC prays for the following relief:

- 25 1. That the Court decree that the taking of the Property as described herein for 26 use in the Project is a public use authorized by law;
- 27 2. That the Court decree that the taking of the Property and property rights as 28 described herein by RTC are necessary for public use;

- 1 3. That the Court decree that RTC be allowed immediate occupancy of the
- 2 Property upon application and compliance with the requirements of law;
- 3 4. That the Court ascertain and assess as between RTC and all Defendants the
- 4 value of the Property and property rights sought to be condemned and the
- 5 amount of any severance damages and/or special benefits;
- 6 5. That the Court ensure that any taxes or liens owing or due Washoe County or
- 7 any other public agency on the Property sought to be acquired by this action be
- 8 paid prior to the entry of any order authorizing withdrawal of any funds
- 9 deposited by RTC pursuant to NRS 37.100 or NRS 37.150;
- 10 6. That the Court enter judgment granting RTC the permanent easement, public
- 11 utility easement, the temporary construction easement, and such other interest
- 12 being sought by RTC upon compliance with the terms of any judgment.
- 13 7. That the Court enter a Final Order of Condemnation pursuant to NRS 37.160;
- 14 8. For an order of fees and costs as allowed by law; and
- 15 9. Any other and further relief as the Court deems just and property under the
- 16 circumstances.

WHEREAS, the Projects will require pavement maintenance, rehabilitation, reconstruction, new construction or engineering and environmental analysis, and may require the acquisition of real property through consensual agreements with the owners or through eminent domain proceedings; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the requirements of NRS 373.140, NRS 377A.080 and the Regional Road Impact Fee (RRIF) Program, the County, Reno, Sparks, and RTC desire by this Agreement to authorize the Projects and to set forth each entity's respective responsibilities with respect to the Projects.

B. Reno, the County and Sparks hereby authorize the RTC to adopt an appropriate resolution of condemnation and initiate and prosecute to judgment such eminent domain proceedings as may be necessary for the acquisition of such property within their respective jurisdictions as the RTC deems necessary for the construction and/or maintenance of any Project and, if prudent, future expansions of each Project identified by the Regional Transportation Plan.

Obtain appraisal reports for any property being considered as necessary for the implementation of any Project and, if prudent, future expansions of the Project identified within the Regional Transportation Plan, conduct preliminary negotiations with the owners in an effort to arrive at a mutually agreeable purchase price and negotiate, execute and close contracts to purchase the property;

C. Offer not less than the appraisal value for the property and property rights deemed necessary for a Project and, where the prospect of reaching a mutually agreeable purchase price appears unlikely following reasonable negotiations, cause the RTC Board of Commissioners to adopt a "Resolution of Condemnation" finding that particular properties are necessary to the success of a Project and authorize legal counsel to seek acquisition through eminent domain proceedings;

D. Coordinate all activities related to a Project including, but not limited to, advertising, receipt and review of construction bids, and execution of a contract with the contractor submitting the lowest responsive and responsible bid;

E. Maintain necessary files on each Project;

F. Pay all authorized Project costs from the Fuel Tax Fund, the RRIF Fund or the Sales Tax Fund. Payments for construction or engineering services will be paid to the contractor or consultant upon receipt of a claim or claims which have been certified as a true and correct account of the expenses incurred as a result of or in conjunction with the provisions of a contract entered into as a result of this Agreement. All submitted claims will have supporting documents attached which substantiate the basis of the claim. Such claim or claims shall be reviewed and approved in accordance with the policies and procedures of the RTC; and

G. Not permit the payment of non-reimbursable or non-payable items established by the policies and procedures of the RTC.

III. COUNTY'S, RENO'S AND SPARK'S DUTIES

The County, Reno and Sparks shall do the following:

A. Cooperate with RTC and its consultants in all phases of each Project located within their respective jurisdictions;

B. Assist the RTC in communicating with the public regarding the Project(s) located within their respective jurisdictions;

C. Accept ownership of and maintain each Project located wholly or partially within their respective jurisdictions upon completion of construction;

D. Upon notification from the RTC, require utilities having franchise agreements that require relocation to relocate their facilities prior to award of the Project in accordance with the franchise agreement; for utilities that do not address the issue of relocation in the franchise agreement, require relocation of the subject facilities prior to the award of the Project if state law provides authority to do so; and

E. Coordinate development and administration of the Project with the RTC

This Agreement is effective from and after the date first above written.

RESOLUTION OF CONDEMNATION

WHEREAS, it is necessary for the Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County, hereinafter referred to as "RTC," to provide regional transportation facilities which are of a quality and standard necessary to satisfactorily meet the needs of the traveling public; and

WHEREAS, in recognition of such needs, the RTC approved the 4th Street & Prater Way Bus Rapid Transit Project from Evans Avenue to Pyramid Way, hereinafter referred to as "Project," as part of an Interlocal Cooperative Agreement ("ICA") dated October 22, 2014; and

WHEREAS, in the ICA dated October 22, 2014, the City of Reno authorized the RTC to initiate eminent domain proceedings on behalf of the City, if required, for the acquisition of right-of-way for the Project; and

WHEREAS, Chapter 277A of Nevada Revised Statutes provides that the RTC may exercise the power of eminent domain, if the city or county which has jurisdiction over the property approves; and

WHEREAS, the current owner of record of the property interests to be acquired, insofar as is known to the RTC, is John Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu, Trustees of the John Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu 1992 Family Trust, Agreement dated January 24, 1992.

NOW, THEREFORE, the members of the Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County do hereby find:

1. That proper notice of the RTC's intent to consider eminent domain action to acquire the relevant property interests of the above referenced owner(s) has been given as required by NRS 241.034.
2. That RTC staff first contacted the landowner about the property interests described in Exhibit "A" and depicted on Exhibit "B," attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference, on or about May 12, 2016. While there have been discussions, proposals and offers made, all efforts to reach a mutually acceptable agreement for the acquisition of the property interests through purchase have been unsuccessful to date.
3. That the property interests to be acquired in conjunction with the above referenced Project are to be applied to a public use, to wit, the 4th Street & Prater Way Bus Rapid Transit Project from Evans Avenue to Pyramid Way.

4. That the property interests described herein are necessary to such public use.

Based on the aforementioned findings of fact, the RTC does hereby direct:

1. That RTC's legal counsel initiate, if needed, eminent domain proceedings on behalf of the RTC in accordance with provisions of Chapters 37 and 277A of Nevada Revised Statutes to acquire the property interests described in Exhibit "A" and depicted on Exhibit "B".

2. That said legal counsel shall commence and prosecute in the name of the RTC, eminent domain proceedings in the court having jurisdiction of the property interests described in Exhibit "A" and depicted on Exhibit "B."

3. That said legal counsel is authorized to pursue all actions deemed appropriate for the successful prosecution of this case, including but not limited to, an application to the court for an order permitting the RTC to take immediate possession of said property interests for the construction of the Project, upon complying with conditions imposed by law.

Upon motion of Commissioner McKenzie, seconded by Commissioner Bybee, the foregoing Resolution was passed and adopted this 19th day of August, 2016, by the following vote of the Regional Transportation Commission:

AYES: 4 Board of Commissioners
NAYS: 0
ABSTAIN: 0

Approved this 19th day of August, 2016.

23 inclusive;

24 Defendants.

25 AFFIDAVIT OF JEFF HALE

26 JEFF HALE, hereby deposes and states under oath that the following is true and 27 correct, based on personal knowledge:

- 28 1. I am an adult over the age of 18 years and I am of sound mind.
2. I have a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering, and I am a registered Professional Engineer in the State of Nevada.
3. I have been employed with the Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County ("RTC") since September 2010, and during that entire period of time I have been the Director of Engineering for RTC. I make this affidavit in support of RTC's Motion

1 For Immediate Occupancy Pending Final Judgment filed concurrently.

2 4. The RTC is a public agency created under the laws of the State of Nevada, and 3 is empowered to spend countywide motor fuel taxes on regional roadways consistent with the 4 Regional Transportation Plan ("RTP"), in addition to countywide sales tax revenue for both 5 roadway and public transit services.

6 5. Consistent with the RTP, RTC is in the process of constructing a project 7 known as the 4th Street/Prater Way Complete Street and BRT Project ("the Project") in 8 Washoe County, Nevada. The Project includes improvements along 4th Street and Prater Way 9 from Evans Avenue to Pyramid Way in Reno and Sparks, Nevada. The proposed 10 improvements for this project include undergrounding of existing overhead utilities within the 11 Project area, construction of curbs, gutters, pedestrian ramps and sidewalks, and installation 12 of new lighting fixtures and landscaping within the Project limits.

13 6. As part of the Project, the RTC has acquired property along 4th Street and 14 Prater Way.

15 7. Property owned by John Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu, Trustees of the John 16 Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu 1992 Family Trust ("Iliescu") abuts the Project. By this 17 lawsuit, RTC seeks to acquire a permanent easement, a public utility easement and a 18 temporary construction easement on portions of Washoe County Assessor Parcel Number 19 ("APN") 008-244-15, metes and bounds descriptions and depictions of which are set forth in 20 Exhibit 3 to RTC's Verified Complaint in Eminent Domain ("the Property"). These 21 easements are necessary to underground utilities and to construct a pedestrian ramp and 22 sidewalk improvements. Utility relocations are the first order of work on the Project. The 23 temporary construction easement is needed to perform the work that will occur within the 24 permanent easement area, including pedestrian ramps and sidewalk improvements.

25 8. The Property is one of the few remaining acquisitions necessary for RTC to 26 complete the Project.

27 9. A public need and necessity exists for the construction of the Project. The 28 Project will connect downtown Reno and downtown Sparks with enhanced bus rapid transit

1 (RTC RAPID) service, accessible sidewalks and bike lanes. RTC must acquire occupancy of 2 the Property as soon as possible to comply with the Project schedule deadline.

3 10. If RTC is not given full and immediate access to the Property, there is 4 significant potential for RTC to incur substantial costs due to construction delays.

5 11. RTC has obtained an appraisal on the Property from a qualified professional 6 appraiser, Reese Perkins, MAI, of Johnson-Perkins & Associates, Inc., for the purpose of 7 assessing the value of the Property and other compensation as required by statute. It is my 8 understanding that Mr. Perkins' affidavit and appraisal will be submitted in support of RTC's 9 Motion For Immediate Occupancy Pending Final Judgment. RTC has given the owner of the 10 Property, Iliescu, a copy of all appraisals of the Property obtained by RTC.

11 12. To the best of my knowledge, the entry of an order of immediate occupancy 12 will not negatively impact the interests of any other parties that may claim an interest in the 13 Property, including any utilities or utility easements associated with the Property.

14 FURTHER AFFIANT SAYETH NOT.

15 Affirmation pursuant to NRS 239B.030

16 The undersigned does hereby affirm that the preceding document does not contain the 17 social security number of any person.

25 MOTION FOR IMMEDIATE OCCUPANCY PENDING FINAL JUDGMENT

26 Plaintiff The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”), 27 through its counsel, Woodburn and Wedge, moves this Court pursuant to NRS 37.100 for 28 an order:

1. Finding that the use to which the Property sought to be taken in this litigation, a permanent easement, a public utility easement and a temporary construction easement (“the Property”) as defined in the Verified Complaint In Eminent Domain (“Complaint”) and further below, is to be applied to a public use and that RTC has complied with all statutory conditions precedent to instituting this action.

1 2. Finding that RTC has given the owner of the Property a copy of all 2 appraisals of the Property obtained by RTC.

3 3. Permitting RTC to enter upon and occupy the Property, and permitting 4 RTC to perform any and all work necessary to construct and complete the 4th Street/Prater 5 Way Complete Street and BRT Project (“the Project”) in Washoe County, Nevada as 6 described in the Complaint and other papers on file herein, pending entry of a final 7 judgment in this matter.

8 4. Restraining Defendants from hindering or interfering with RTC’s 9 occupation of the Property in performing the work required to construct and complete the 10 Project.

11 This motion is made pursuant to NRS 37.100 and is based upon the grounds that 12 the use for which the Property is sought to be condemned is a public use authorized by 13 law; that the taking thereof is necessary for such use; and that immediate entry upon and 14 possession of the Property sought to be condemned are required so that the Project may 15 proceed in an orderly manner without delay or loss in utilization of construction time 16 and/or without unnecessary cost and expense to the RTC.

17 This motion is based upon the following memorandum of points and authorities, 18 the Complaint and exhibits attached thereto, the Affidavit of Jeff Hale filed concurrently 19 (“Hale Affidavit”) filed concurrently, the Affidavit of Reese Perkins (“Perkins Affidavit”) 20 expected to be filed prior to the hearing of this matter, the other pleadings and papers on 21 file herein, and any additional evidence and argument the Court may wish to hear on the 22 matter.

23 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

24 This case involves the RTC’s exercise of its power of eminent domain for the 25 purpose of acquiring a permanent easement, a public utility easement and a temporary 26 construction easement related to RTC’s construction of the Project. The Project involves 27 improvements along 4th Street and Prater Way from Evans Avenue to Pyramid Way in 28 Reno and Sparks, Nevada. See Hale Affidavit, ¶ 5. The Project requires the RTC’s

1 acquisition of the easements at issue in this case and, for the reasons set forth in this 2 motion, RTC seeks this Court's order permitting it to enter upon and occupy the Property 3 pending entry of judgment and to commence construction of the portion of the Project on 4 the Property.

5 The Property that RTC seeks to acquire by its power of eminent domain consists of 6 a permanent easement, a public utility easement and a temporary construction easements 7 affecting Washoe County Assessor Parcel Number ("APN") 008-244-15, metes and 8 bounds descriptions and depictions of which are set forth in Exhibit 2 to the Complaint.
9 The easements are referred to in the Complaint and herein as the "Property." According 10 to title reports on public records, the Property is located on parcels currently owned by 11 John Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu, Trustees of the John Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu 1992 12 Family Trust ("Iliescu"). These easements are necessary to underground utilities and to 13 construct a pedestrian ramp and sidewalk improvements for the Project. See Hale 14 Affidavit, ¶ 7. Immediate occupancy is needed to meet the Project schedule deadline.
15 Utility relocations are the first order of work on the Project. Id., ¶¶ 7, 9 and 10.

16 NRS 37.100(2) provides that a plaintiff in an eminent domain action may, at any 17 time after the commencement of a lawsuit, move the court for an order permitting the 18 plaintiff to occupy the premises sought to be condemned pending entry of judgment, and 19 to do such work thereon as may be required for the easement, fee or property rights 20 sought, according to its nature. NRS 37.100(3) requires the Court to make a separate and 21 distinct determination as to whether the property is being taken for a public use pursuant 22 to NRS 37.010, if the defendant requests such a determination. NRS 37.100(4) provides 23 that, if the defendant does not make this that request, or if the court determines that the 24 property is being taken for a public use pursuant to NRS 37.010, the court shall take proof 25 of the value of the premises sought to be condemned, the damages which will accrue from 26 the condemnation and the reasons for requiring a speedy condemnation, and shall grant or 27 refuse the motion according to the equity of the case and the relative damages which may 28 accrue to the parties.

1 Here, the evidence set forth in the Complaint, the Hale Affidavit and the Perkins 2 Affidavit establishes the statutory requirements for immediate occupation: (1) RTC has 3 provided the owner of the Property with a copy of all appraisals on the Property obtained 4 by RTC. See Hale Affidavit, ¶ 12; (2) RTC's taking of the Property is for a public use 5 and the necessity of that use, specifically, completing the construction of the Project 6 which will provide a beneficial public roadway. See Hale Affidavit, ¶¶ 5, 7 and 9; (3) the 7 value of the Property plus any damages as determined by the RTC's appraisal. See 8 Perkins Affidavit, expected to be submitted prior to the hearing on this matter; and (4) 9 immediate occupancy is required meet Project deadlines and avoid unnecessary and costly 10 construction delays. See Hale Affidavit, ¶¶ 7, 10.

11 More specifically, the Project will connect downtown Reno and downtown Sparks 12 with enhanced bus rapid transit (RTC RAPID) service, accessible sidewalks and bike 13 lanes. Hale Affidavit, ¶ 5, 9. If RTC is not given full and immediate access, significant 14 project delays will occur and there is a significant potential that the RTC will incur 15 substantial costs due to construction delays. Id.

16 As determined by RTC's appraisal dated April 26, 2016, the value of the Property 17 and just compensation for the easements as of April 26, 2016, was $2,030.00. See Perkins 18 Affidavit.¹ RTC is in the process of obtaining an update as of the date of service, as 19 required by statute, and will submit that valuation prior to the hearing.

20 Based on the evidence before the Court, RTC requests the Court enter an order as 21 requested above that, upon RTC's deposit of $2,030.00 with the clerk of the Court 22 pursuant to NRS 37.100(6), RTC shall have immediate occupancy of the Property such 23 that it may enter upon the Property and perform such work on the Property as may be 24 necessary to construct and complete the Project.

14 IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

15 IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF WASHOE

16 THE REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION
17 COMMISSION OF WASHOE COUNTY, a 18 special purpose unit of the government,

Case No.: CV16-02182

Dept. No.: 3

19 Plaintiff,
20 v.

21 JOHN ILIESCU, JR. and SONNIA ILIESCU,
22 Trustees of The John Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia 23 Iliescu 1992 Family Trust; and DOES 1 – 20, 24 inclusive;

25 Defendants.

26 STIPULATION FOR THE ENTRY OF AN ORDER FOR IMMEDIATE 27 OCCUPANCY PENDING ENTRY OF JUDGMENT

28 Plaintiff The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”) and Defendants John Iliescu, Jr., and Sonnia Iliescu, Trustees of The John Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu 1992 Family Trust (“Real Parties in Interest”), through their respective counsel of record, stipulate and agree as follows for the entry of this Court’s order pursuant to NRS 37.090 and 37.100:

1. Real Parties in Interest are the current fee simple owners of real property at issue in this litigation and, as such, have the authority to enter into this stipulation with RTC.

1 2. This case involves RTC's exercise of its power of eminent domain for the 2 purpose of acquiring a permanent easement, a public utility easement and a temporary 3 construction easement related to RTC's construction of the 4th Street/Prater Way Complete 4 Street and BRT Project ("the Project"). The Project includes undergrounding of existing 5 utilities within the Project area, construction of a pedestrian ramp and sidewalk 6 improvements.

7 3. The property RTC seeks to acquire by its power of eminent domain consists of 8 a permanent easement, a public utility easement and a temporary construction easement
9 located upon portions of Washoe County Assessor Parcel Number ("APN") 008-244-15, 10 metes and bounds descriptions and depictions of which are set forth in Exhibit 1 attached 11 hereto and incorporated herein by this reference. The permanent easement, public utility 12 easement and temporary construction shall be referred to herein as "the Property."

13 4. On October 24, 2016, RTC filed a Motion for Immediate Occupancy Pending 14 Final Judgment on the grounds that the use for which the Property is sought to be condemned 15 is a public use authorized by law and that the taking thereof is necessary for such use.

16 5. RTC contends that immediate entry upon and possession of the Property are 17 required so that the construction of the Project may proceed in an orderly manner without 18 delay or loss in utilization of construction time and/or without unnecessary cost to RTC. Real 19 Parties in Interest do not object at this time.

20 6. NRS 37.100 provides that a plaintiff in an eminent domain action may, at any 21 time after the commencement of a lawsuit, move the court for an order permitting the plaintiff 22 to occupy the premises sought to be condemned pending entry of judgment, and to do such 23 work thereon as may be required for the easement, fee or property rights sought, according to 24 its nature. RTC has filed and served its Motion for Immediate Occupancy pursuant to NRS 25 37.100. In the interests of expediency and judicial economy, RTC and Real Parties in Interest 26 stipulate to the entry of an order for immediate occupancy as provided for herein.

27 7. RTC has provided Real Parties in Interest with a copy of all appraisals of the 28 Property obtained by RTC.

1 8. For purposes of this stipulation only, the parties agree that the value of the 2 property plus damages, as appraised by RTC, is $2,030.00. NRS 37.100 requires that the 3 plaintiff deposit with the clerk of the court the sum equal to the value of the premises plus 4 damages, as appraised by the plaintiff. Defendants claim that the appraisal report by Reese
5 Perkins on behalf of RTC is not a fair and impartial appraisal. Accordingly, pursuant to NRS 6 37.100, the parties will litigate the ultimate issue of just compensation due Defendants at the 7 trial of this matter.

8 9. This stipulation shall not be construed as an admission by Real Parties in 9 Interest of any valuation amounts or just compensation for purposes of final hearing.

10 10. Pursuant to NRS 37.100(7), the amount of any deposit required by the Court 11 pursuant to NRS 37.100(6) is for the purpose of this stipulation only and it not admissible in 12 evidence on final hearing.

13 11. During construction of the Project, RTC and Real Parties in Interest agree to 14 cooperate so as to minimize interference between construction of the Project and Real Parties 15 in Interests' use of and access to the remaining land on APN 008-244-15.

16 Based on the foregoing, the parties hereto stipulate to the entry of the Court's order:

17 1. Finding that the use to which the Property sought to be taken in this litigation 18 is to be applied to a public use and that RTC has complied with all statutory conditions 19 precedent to instituting this action and seeking an order of immediate occupancy.

20 2. Directing RTC and Real Parties in Interest and their agents to cooperate so as 21 to minimize interference between use of the Property in the construction of the Project and 22 Real Parties in Interests' use of and access to the remaining portions of APN 008-244-15.

23 3. Directing RTC to deposit with the Clerk of this Court cash in the sum of 24 $2,030.00 pursuant to NRS 37.100(6).

25 4. Providing that upon making the cash deposit, RTC may immediately enter 26 upon and occupy the Property and perform such work thereon as may be necessary to 27 construct and complete the Project.

1 5. Requiring Real Parties in Interest to serve a notice on the parties in this action
2 of the Application of Real Parties in Interest to withdraw the cash deposit, giving each party a 3 period of time after service of such notice in which to file and serve objections to such 4 withdrawal, if any, and further notifying each party of the date, time and place the Court fixes 5 to hear any such objections.

6 Affirmation pursuant to N.R.S. 239B.030

27 The Court, having reviewed the Stipulation For The Entry Of An Order For 28 Immediate Occupancy Pending Entry Of Judgment (“the Stipulation”), filed by plaintiff
The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”) and Defendants

1 1. Real Parties in Interest are the current fee simple owners of real property at 2 issue in this litigation and, as such, have the authority to enter into the aforementioned
3 stipulation with RTC through their attorney, C. Nicholas Pereos, Esq.

4 2. This case involves the RTC's exercise of its power of eminent domain for 5 the purpose of acquiring the permanent easement, the public utility easement and the 6 temporary construction easement defined as "the Property" in the Stipulation and described 7 in detail in Exhibit 1 to the Stipulation, related to RTC's construction of the 4th

18 4. NRS 37.090 and 37.100 provide this Court with authority to enter an order 19 allowing RTC access to the Property sought to be condemned at any time after the 20 commencement of suit and pending entry of judgment, to do such work thereon as may be 21 required for the Project according to its nature.

22 5. For purposes of this Order only, and subject to the terms of the Stipulation 23 concerning Defendants' objection to Reese Perkins' appraisal, the Court finds that, 24 pursuant to NRS 37.100(4), the value of the Property sought to be obtained and/or 25 temporary utilized during construction plus damages is $2,030.00.

26 ...
27 ...

1 Based on the foregoing, and with good cause appearing, IT IS HEREBY 2 ORDERED:

3 1. RTC may have immediate possession and occupancy of the Property, as 4 described in Exhibit 1 attached hereto, by depositing with the Clerk of this Court the sum
5 of $2,030.00 (the "Cash Deposit").

6 2. The Clerk of the Court shall deposit the Cash Deposit into an interest
7 bearing account for the benefit of Real Parties in Interest and/or any other party 8 determined to be entitled to those amounts.

9 3. Upon making the Cash Deposit, RTC may immediately enter upon and 10 occupy the Property and perform such work thereon as may be necessary to construct and 11 complete the Project;

12 4. RTC and Real Parties in Interest and their respective agents shall cooperate 13 so as to minimize interference between construction of the Project and Real Parties in 14 Interest's use of the remaining land of Real Parties in Interest on APN 008-244-15;

15 5. If Real Parties in Interest apply to withdraw the Cash Deposit, they shall 16 serve a notice on the parties in this action of the Application, giving each party 5 days 17 after service of such notice in which to file and serve objections to such withdrawal, if 18 any;

19 6. If any such objections to the Application are filed, the Court will set a date 20 and time for a hearing thereon.

18 Defendants.

19 STIPULATION FOR THE ENTRY OF A FINAL ORDER OF 20 CONDEMNATION AND JUDGMENT

21 This Stipulation For The Entry Of A Final Order Of Condemnation And Judgment is 22 entered into by and between Plaintiff The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe 23 County (“RTC”) and Defendants John Iliescu, Jr., and Sonnia Iliescu, Trustees of The John 24 Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu 1992 Family Trust (“Iliescu”). RTC and Iliescu stipulate to the 25 Court’s entry of a Final Order of Condemnation and Judgment pursuant to NRS 37.160 based 26 upon the following:

27 ///

28 ///

1 1. RTC is a special purpose unit of government, duly organized and existing 2 under the laws of the State of Nevada.

3 2. Pursuant to Chapters 37, 241 and 277A of the Nevada Revised Statutes, RTC
4 has the power to exercise the right of eminent domain to acquire property for public purposes 5 within the jurisdictional limits of local government if authority for the acquisition of the 6 property has been approved by said local government and notice of the condemning agency's 7 intent to condemn has been given as required by law.

8 3. Pursuant to an Interlocal Cooperative Agreement, a copy of which is attached 9 hereto as Exhibit 1 and incorporated herein by reference, the County of Washoe and the 10 Cities of Reno and Sparks authorized the RTC to initiate condemnation proceedings, as 11 necessary, to acquire property needed for the construction of the 4th Street/Prater Way 12 Complete Street and BRT Project ("the Project").

13 4. The property RTC seeks to acquire by its power of eminent domain consists of 14 a permanent easement, a public utility easement and a temporary construction easement
15 located upon portions of Washoe County Assessor Parcel Number ("APN") 008-244-15, 16 metes and bounds descriptions and depictions of which are set forth in Exhibit 2 attached
17 hereto and incorporated herein by this reference. The permanent and public utility easements 18 sought are perpetual easements for a pedestrian ramp and sidewalk improvements, for the 19 location, construction, access, and maintenance of public utilities and communications, 20 together with any and all appurtenances appertaining thereto, over, under and across the real 21 property described in Exhibit 2. Said right includes the trimming by public utility of any trees 22 or foliage along said right of way whenever considered necessary for the complete enjoyment 23 thereof and the right of ingress and egress from said right of way for the purpose of exercising 24 and performing all rights and privileges granted therein, together with all other tenements, 25 hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging, or in anywise appertaining, and 26 the reversion and reversions, remainder and remainders, rents, issues and profits 27 thereof. The temporary construction easement was sought to facilitate work on the 28

1 Project that is now complete. The permanent easement, public utility easement, temporary 2 construction easement and all related rights described herein are referred to as “the Property.”

3 5. According to the Washoe County Assessor, Iliescu is the record owner of APN 4 008-244-15.

5 6. On December 1, 2016, based on the stipulation of the parties, the Court entered 6 an Order For Immediate Occupancy Pending Entry Of Judgment. Among other things, the 7 Court found that the use for which the Property was to be applied was a public use authorized 8 by law, and that the taking was necessary for such use. Pursuant to that Order, RTC deposited 9 $2,030 with the Court. The issue of just compensation was reserved for later determination.

10 7. RTC and Iliescu have reached a settlement agreement on the total amount of 11 compensation to be paid Iliescu for the taking of the Property.

12 8. Pursuant to that agreement, RTC shall pay Iliescu the total amount of $11,065 13 in compensation for the acquisition of the Property, which includes the $2,030 already 14 deposited by RTC, such that RTC owes a balance of $9,035. Iliescu acknowledges that 15 amount is just compensation for any amounts Iliescu may have recovered in this case. .

16 9. Iliescu represents and warrants that all taxes due to Washoe County or any 17 other public agency on the Property and APN 008-244-15 have, at this time, been paid.

18 10. RTC and Iliescu stipulate that the Court may enter a final order of 19 condemnation and judgment granting RTC the Property as defined herein upon RTC’s deposit 20 of $9,035 with the Clerk of the Court, which will bring the total deposit to $11,065.

21 11. Each party shall bear its own attorney’s fees and costs incurred related to this 22 matter, including all expert and consulting fees.

INTERLOCAL COOPERATIVE AGREEMENT APPROVING RTC PROGRAM OF PROJECTS

This Agreement is made and executed this 19th day of September, 2014, by and between the Board of Commissioners of Washoe County, Nevada, hereinafter referred to as "County", the City Council of Reno, Nevada, hereinafter referred to as "Reno", the City Council of Sparks, Nevada, hereinafter referred to as "Sparks", and the Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County, hereinafter referred to as "RTC".

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, on September 19, 2014, the RTC approved the FY 2016 Program of Projects listed on Exhibit A attached to this Agreement. Each project on Exhibit A is referred to herein as a "Project" and all of such Projects are collectively referred to herein as the "Projects".

WHEREAS, the Projects will require pavement maintenance, rehabilitation, reconstruction, new construction or engineering and environmental analysis, and may require the acquisition of real property through consensual agreements with the owners or through eminent domain proceedings; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to the requirements of NRS 373.140, NRS 377A.080 and the Regional Road Impact Fee (RRIF) Program, the County, Reno, Sparks, and RTC desire by this Agreement to authorize the Projects and to set forth each entity's respective responsibilities with respect to the Projects.

NOW, THEREFORE, pursuant to the provisions of NRS 373.140, NRS 377A.080, NRS Chapter 277A, and the RRIF Ordinances/Manuals, and in consideration of the mutual promises contained herein and for other good and valuable consideration, it is hereby agreed by and between the parties hereto as follows:

I. APPROVAL OF PROJECTS

A. Reno, the County and Sparks hereby approve each and every Project and authorize the RTC to design, survey, engineer, acquire through purchase or eminent domain real property for, and construct, each of the Projects. Approval for any Project for any fiscal year shall be approval for all continued work by or on behalf of the RTC on that Project for any later fiscal year. The RTC may expend money from one or more than one of the Regional Street and Highway Fund (the "Fuel Tax Fund"), the Transportation Sales Tax Fund (the "Sales Tax Fund") or the Regional Road Impact Fee Fund (the "RRIF Fund") on each Project as listed on the column next to the Project on Exhibit A. The cost of each Project is estimated by the RTC as shown on Exhibit A. These costs are only estimates and the RTC may expend additional monies from any one or more of the Fuel Tax Fund, the Sales Tax Fund or the RRIF Fund on each Project as such additional expenditures are reviewed and approved by the RTC Staff and/or the RTC Board of Commissioners pursuant to the RTC's policies and procedures.

B. Reno, the County and Sparks hereby authorize the RTC to adopt an appropriate resolution of condemnation and initiate and prosecute to judgment such eminent domain proceedings as may be necessary for the acquisition of such property within their respective jurisdictions as the RTC deems necessary for the construction and/or maintenance of any Project and, if prudent, future expansions of each Project identified by the Regional Transportation Plan.

II. RTC DUTIES

RTC agrees to perform the followings tasks and the County, Reno and Sparks hereby authorize the RTC to do so:

A. Provide all required services, including but not limited to design, environmental assessments and studies, surveying, construction engineering, construction management and quality assurance inspection, utilizing RTC staff and/or qualified consultants;

B. Obtain appraisal reports for any property being considered as necessary for the implementation of any Project and, if prudent, future expansions of the Project identified within the Regional Transportation Plan, conduct preliminary negotiations with the owners in an effort to arrive at a mutually agreeable purchase price and negotiate, execute and close contracts to purchase the property;

C. Offer not less than the appraisal value for the property and property rights deemed necessary for a Project and, where the prospect of reaching a mutually agreeable purchase price appears unlikely following reasonable negotiations, cause the RTC Board of Commissioners to adopt a "Resolution of Condemnation" finding that particular properties are necessary to the success of a Project and authorize legal counsel to seek acquisition through eminent domain proceedings;

D. Coordinate all activities related to a Project including, but not limited to, advertising, receipt and review of construction bids, and execution of a contract with the contractor submitting the lowest responsive and responsible bid;

E. Maintain necessary files on each Project;

F. Pay all authorized Project costs from the Fuel Tax Fund, the RRIF Fund or the Sales Tax Fund. Payments for construction or engineering services will be paid to the contractor or consultant upon receipt of a claim or claims which have been certified as a true and correct account of the expenses incurred as a result of or in conjunction with the provisions of a contract entered into as a result of this Agreement. All submitted claims will have supporting documents attached which substantiate the basis of the claim. Such claim or claims shall be reviewed and approved in accordance with the policies and procedures of the RTC; and

G. Not permit the payment of non-reimbursable or non-payable items established by the policies and procedures of the RTC.

III. COUNTY'S, RENO'S AND SPARK'S DUTIES

The County, Reno and Sparks shall do the following:

A. Cooperate with RTC and its consultants in all phases of each Project located within their respective jurisdictions;

B. Assist the RTC in communicating with the public regarding the Project(s) located within their respective jurisdictions;

C. Accept ownership of and maintain each Project located wholly or partially within their respective jurisdictions upon completion of construction;

D. Upon notification from the RTC, require utilities having franchise agreements that require relocation to relocate their facilities prior to award of the Project in accordance with the franchise agreement; for utilities that do not address the issue of relocation in the franchise

agreement, require relocation of the subject facilities prior to the award of the Project if state law provides authority to do so; and

E. Coordinate development and administration of the Project with the RTC.

This Agreement is effective from and after the date first above written.

15 Defendants.

16 FINAL ORDER OF CONDEMNATION AND JUDGMENT

17 The Court, having reviewed the Stipulation For The Entry Of A Final Order Of 18 Condemnation And Judgment (“the Stipulation”) filed by plaintiff The Regional 19 Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”) and Defendants John Iliescu, Jr., 20 and Sonnia Iliescu, Trustees of The John Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu 1992 Family Trust 21 (“Iliescu”), and having reviewed the entire file, finds, concludes and orders as follows:

22 1. RTC is a special purpose unit of government, duly organized and existing 23 under the laws of the State of Nevada.

24 2. Pursuant to Chapters 37, 241 and 277A of the Nevada Revised Statutes, 25 RTC has the power to exercise the right of eminent domain to acquire property for public 26 purposes within the jurisdictional limits of local government if authority for the 27 acquisition of the property has been approved by said local government and notice of the 28 condemning agency’s intent to condemn has been given as required by law.

1 3. Pursuant to an Interlocal Cooperative Agreement, the County of Washoe 2 and the Cities of Reno and Sparks authorized the RTC to initiate condemnation 3 proceedings, as necessary, to acquire property needed for the construction of the 4th 4 Street/Prater Way Complete Street and BRT Project (“the Project”).

5 4. The property RTC seeks to acquire by its power of eminent domain consists 6 of a permanent easement, a public utility easement and a temporary construction easement
7 located upon portions of Washoe County Assessor Parcel Number (“APN”) 008-244-15,
8 metes and bounds descriptions and depictions of which are set forth in Exhibit 1 attached 9 hereto and incorporated herein by this reference. The permanent and public utility 10 easements sought are perpetual easements for a pedestrian ramp and sidewalk 11 improvements, for the location, construction, access, and maintenance of public utilities 12 and communications, together with any and all appurtenances appertaining thereto, over, 13 under and across the real property described in Exhibit 2. Said right includes the 14 trimming by public utility of any trees or foliage along said right of way whenever 15 considered necessary for the complete enjoyment thereof and the right of ingress and 16 egress from said right of way for the purpose of exercising and performing all rights and 17 privileges granted therein, together with all other tenements, hereditaments and 18 appurtenances thereunto belonging, or in anywise appertaining, and the reversion 19 and reversions, remainder and remainders, rents, issues and profits thereof. The 20 temporary construction easement was sought to facilitate work on the Project that is 21 now complete. The permanent easement, public utility easement, temporary construction 22 easement and all related rights described herein are referred to as “the Property.”

23 5. According to the Washoe County Assessor, Iliescu is the record owner of 24 APN 008-244-15.

25 6. The Property sought to be acquired by RTC is to be used in the Project, 26 which is a public use authorized by law.

27 7. The taking of the Property is necessary for that public use.
28

1 8. The total compensation due Iliescu as a result of RTC's acquisition of the 2 Property was agreed upon in settlement as $ a settlement conference between RTC and 3 Iliescu as $11,065, which includes the amount of $2,030 already deposited with the Clerk of 4 the Court by RTC, leaving a balance of $9,035 to be deposited by RTC. Iliescu acknowledges 5 that the total sum of $11,065 is just compensation for any amounts Iliescu may have 6 recovered in this case.

7 9. Based on Iliescu's representations to the Court, all taxes due to Washoe 8 County or any other public agency on the Property and APN 008-244-15 have, at this time, 9 been paid.

10 Based on the foregoing and with good cause appearing,

11 IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED:

12 (1) That the Property as defined herein is hereby condemned in favor of RTC and 13 that the purpose of such condemnation is for RTC's use in the Project described above;

14 (2) That RTC is granted the permanent easement, public utility easement and 15 temporary construction easement affecting APNs 008-244-15, as described in the attached 16 Exhibit 1, and is vested with all right title and interest in the Property as defined herein;

17 (3) That Iliescu is entitled to the total amount of $11,065 as compensation 18 pursuant to NRS Chapter 37, which amount includes the $2,030 already deposited by RTC.
19 RTC shall deposit the additional sum of $9,035 with the Clerk of this Court, at which time 20 this order and judgment shall be effective;

21 (4) That, after RTC's deposit of $9,035 with the Clerk of this Court, Iliescu may 22 apply to the Court for the release of said funds.

23 (5) That Iliescu is not entitled to recover any amounts from RTC beyond the 24 $11,065 referenced above.

RELIEF SOUGHT AND

24 COME NOW JOHN ILIESCU, JR., AND SONNIA ILIESCU, TRUSTEES OF 25 THE JOHN ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA ILIESCU 1992 FAMILY TRUST 26 (“Trust”); JOHN ILIESCU, JR., an Individual (“John”); and SONNIA ILIESCU, an 27 Individual (“Sonnia”), together sometimes referred to as “Plaintiffs”, and as and for a 28 Complaint against Defendants, and each of them, jointly and severally, allege as

1 follows:

2 PARTIES, JURISDICTION AND VENUE

3 1. Plaintiff Trust is the owner of the real property and improvements thereon
4 located at 642 E. 4th St., Reno, NV 89501, Washoe County assessor parcel number 008
5 – 244 – 15 (“Property”). Plaintiffs John and Sonnia are the sole Trustees of the Trust
6 and, as Individual Plaintiffs, are domiciled in and residents of, Washoe County, NV, 7 and conduct business therein.

8 2. Defendant RTC is a special purpose unit of government, duly organized 9 and existing under the laws of the state of Nevada. RTC’s principal offices are located 10 at 1105 Terminal Way, Reno, NV. The RTC is charged with providing regional 11 transportation services. All Defendants are residents of and conduct business in Washoe 12 County, NV.

13 Based on the facts set forth in paragraphs 1 and 2, above, Jurisdiction and 14 Venue are proper in this Court and County.

15 3. In furtherance of its power to exercise the right of eminent domain to 16 acquire a portion of Plaintiff’s Property for public purposes, RTC initiated 17 condemnation proceedings against the Property, allegedly needed for the construction 18 of the Fourth Street/Prater Way RTC project, referred to herein as “the Project”.

19 4. Plaintiff does not know the true names or capacities of the Defendants 20 sued as DOES 1-40 and ROE CORPORATIONS 1-20, and therefore sues those 21 Defendants by fictitious names. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and therefore 22 alleges, that each of those Defendants is legally responsible for the claims for relief and 23 the events and happenings referred to herein and caused damage to the Plaintiff and 24 their Property. Plaintiff will seek leave of the Court to amend this Complaint to show 25 their true names and capacities when the true identities of the fictitious Defendants have 26 been determined.

27 5. At all relevant times, certain Defendants were the agents and/or 28

1 employees of certain co-Defendants and were acting within the course and scope of 2 such agency and/or employment and with the permission and consent of such co-
3 Defendants.

4 6. At all relevant times, the Defendants were working in concert with each
5 other to engage in the conduct alleged in this Complaint, all in furtherance of the RTC's 6 condemnation of the Property and conduct related to and directly impacting the 7 Property and Project.

8 FACTUAL OVERVIEW

9 7. This action seeks damages and injunctive and declaratory relief against 10 Defendants, and each of them, jointly and severally, for their respective willful, 11 malicious and destructive trespass on and over, and damages to the Property, both 12 before, during and after the work done on that portion of the Property not subject to the 13 condemnation, and not involved in whatsoever nature in the Project, which, for 14 purposes herein, shall be referred to as the "Remaining Property". For purposes of this 15 action, and as referenced herein, the Remaining Property does not include the building
16 and related improvements on the Property, but specifically does include all paved 17 parking areas located on and constituting part of the Property.

18 8. To the extent that RTC and/or other Defendants had a limited form of 19 temporary easement over the Remaining Property, RTC and/or the other Defendants, 20 and each of them, surcharged, abused and far exceeded any reasonable use of any 21 temporary easement, and were negligent in their respective conduct related to the 22 Remaining Property.

23 9. Defendants RTC, ROE CORPORATIONS 1-20 and DOES 1-40, acting 24 jointly and severally, intentionally and without the permission of plaintiff, on virtually 25 every workday during the term of the Project, drove over and parked their respective 26 vehicles, including personal vehicles, ranging from approximately 20-ton trucks, down 27 to pick-up trucks, SUV's and automobiles, on the Remaining Property, sometimes 28

1 precluding Plaintiffs from using any portion of the Remaining Property. This conduct
2 occurred without the consent of Plaintiff, and in fact, in total disregard of Plaintiffs'
3 respective frequent objections to such unauthorized and illegal use of the Remaining 4 Property. Plaintiff requested on many occasions that Defendants cease and desist in 5 their respective use, abuse and damaging conduct on the Remaining Property, but 6 Defendants ignored Plaintiff's requests.

7 Attached hereto as Exhibit "1" are photos of the many heavy vehicles which 8 Defendants, and each of them, intentionally and maliciously caused to be placed on the 9 Property and the Remaining Property on each and every work day throughout the term 10 of the condemnation activities, and thereafter. Defendants continued to use the Property 11 and Remaining Property as their personal parking area, all in an abusive disregard for 12 the rights of Plaintiffs.

13 10. The constant use, weights of the vehicles and lengthy periods of parking 14 by RTC and/or Defendants caused permanent damage to the Remaining Property, and 15 precluded use of sections of the Remaining Property, all proximately caused by the 16 willful and unauthorized use of the Remaining Property by RTC and/or the Defendants.

17 11. This conduct was the proximate cause of significant reparable and 18 irreparable damages to the Remaining Property and to each of the respective Plaintiffs, 19 including, but not limited to:

- 20 a) Loss of market value of the Remaining Property;
 - 21 b) Discomfort and annoyance to Plaintiffs, and each of them;
 - 22 c) Emotional distress (suffered by both John and Sonnia);
 - 23 d) Loss of use of the Remaining Property by Plaintiffs, and each of 24 them;
 - 25 e) Costs of Property restoration; and
 - 26 f) Physical damage to and destruction of the Property.
- 27

2 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
3 (Injunctive Relief)

4 12. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in
5 paragraphs 1-11 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

6 13. Plaintiffs have a reasonable probability of success on the merits on each 7 and all of the causes of action asserted in this Complaint.

8 14. As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' conduct, jointly and 9 severally, Plaintiffs are each, separately, suffering irreparable harm to their rights, titles 10 and property interests, as well as their respective abilities to exercise their rights in and 11 to the Property, including, but not limited to their respective rights:

- 12 a. to have full and exclusive control, use and possession of the 13 Property, which were unlawfully violated and damaged by the 14 Defendants, jointly and severally, including, but not limited to 15 Defendants' breach of contract, breach of fiduciary duties/trust, 16 misrepresentation, fraud, elder abuse, negligence, conversion for 17 their own respective personal use and benefit, trespass, and 18 conspiracy to engage in such conduct; and
- 19 b. to exercise their respective rights and derive all of the benefits 20 associated with their ownership of and rights in and to the 21 Property, which were unlawfully damaged by the Defendants'
22 joint and several breach of contract, breach of fiduciary 23 duties/trust, misrepresentation, fraud, elder abuse, negligence, 24 conversion for their own respective personal use and benefit, 25 trespass, and conspiracy to engage in such conduct.

26 15. Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law to terminate, correct or rectify 27 the Defendants' unlawful conduct without judicial equitable relief, and such conduct is 28 causing the Plaintiffs irreparable damage, none of which damage is able to be

1 adequately compensated by financial awards or damages. Compensatory damages are 2 simply inadequate.

3 16. Plaintiffs are entitled to an immediate temporary and permanent 4 injunction enjoining Defendants, and each of them, jointly and severally, and ordering 5 them, jointly and severally, and their respective officers, directors, agents, managers, 6 members, employees, agents, representatives, attorneys, successors and assigns, and 7 those acting in concert with them, and all persons acting on their behalf, directly or 8 indirectly, or acting for or in concert with them, to immediately cease and desist any 9 and all conduct and actions to enter upon, use or otherwise pass over, on or through the 10 Property.

11 17. The public's interest in seeing the harm and conduct stopped, as well as 12 the relative hardships of the parties should the Court take or refuse to grant relief 13 herein, weigh in favor of Plaintiffs, the owners of all rights, titles and interests in and to 14 the Property, and their right to injunctive relief. Indeed, the purpose of the requested 15 injunctive relief sought herein is to preserve the status quo and/or preserve a property 16 interest, and the only parties to this action who have an undisputed and undeniable right 17 to use the Property are the Plaintiffs.

18 18. Plaintiffs were each required to retain the services of an attorney to 19 prosecute this action and are, therefore, each entitled to an award of legal fees, costs 20 and expenses incurred herein.

21 19. Plaintiffs respectfully request that the bond required by NRCP 65(c) be 22 for a de minimis amount, as Defendants have no basis or right in law or fact to ever use 23 the Property. That right belongs solely to Plaintiffs.

24 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs each pray for judgment as more particularly set forth 25 herein.

26 SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
27 (Breach of Contract)

28 20. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in

1 paragraphs 1-19 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

2 21. The Trust and RTC entered into valid agreement by which RTC was 3 entitled to condemn and install utilities on a small portion of the Trust's Property, and

6 forth in this Complaint, constitutes a breach of the terms and conditions of the Trust-

19 26 Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in 20 paragraphs 1-25 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

21 27. RTC and the other Defendants entered into valid agreements with 22 Plaintiffs by which they exercised their respective condemnation activities.

23 28. Implied into each of those agreements is the covenant of good faith and 24 fair dealing, all consistent with Nevada laws. Defendants were legally obligated to act 25 in good faith in the performance of the agreements.

26 29. Plaintiffs each had justifiable expectations and relied on the fact that RTC 27 and the other Defendants would act in good faith and deal fairly with the Plaintiffs and 28 the Property, including but not limited to, conducting their activities and exercising

1 their condemnation rights and duties using due care, good faith and being respectful of 2 any use of the Remaining Property. Plaintiffs and Defendants, and each of them, had a 3 special relationship of trust between each Plaintiff and each Defendant. Each of the 4 Plaintiffs also had a reasonable and justifiable expectation that they would each receive 5 certain benefits consistent with the spirit and intent of the agreements.

6 30. By reason of the Defendants' aforementioned deliberate acts and conduct, 7 the Defendants have acted in a manner that was in violation of and/or unfaithful to the 8 purpose of the condemnation-related activities and agreement(s) and breached the 9 covenant of good faith and fair dealing in violation of Nevada Law.

10 31. As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' joint and several 11 conduct, Plaintiffs have each incurred (a) general damages; (b) special damages; and (c)

16 forth.

19 33. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in 20 paragraphs 1 to 32 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

21 34. In connection with their respective exercise of condemnation rights and 22 duties, Defendants, jointly and severally, had fiduciary duties they owed to the 23 Plaintiffs, and each of them.

24 35. RTC and the other Defendants facilitated, participated in and encouraged 25 the conduct by Defendants, as set forth herein, which was in breach of trust and breach 26 of fiduciary duties owed to each of the Plaintiffs by each of the Defendants.

27 36. Each of the Defendants knowingly assisted, facilitated and encouraged 28 each of the other Defendants, together with the agents thereof, to engage in the conduct

1 described herein.

2 37. The Defendants, and each of them, were at all material times aware of the 3 fiduciary duties owed by each of the Defendants to each of the Plaintiffs.

4 38. The Defendant RTC, as well as the other Defendants, knew, or should 5 have known by exercising reasonable diligence and inquiry, that their respective 6 conduct relating to the Remaining Property, was encouraging, facilitating and enabling 7 in a breach of the fiduciary duty and trust each of the Defendants jointly and severally
8 owed to each of the Plaintiffs in relation to their conduct relating to the Remaining 9 Property.

10 39. The failure and refusal of the Defendants to honor and abide in 11 accordance with the terms of the RTC-Trust agreement as and when demanded by 12 Plaintiffs, and each of them, constitutes a breach of trust and breach of fiduciary duty
13 by the Defendants, jointly and severally.

14 40. The breach of trust and breach of fiduciary duties owed by each of the 15 Defendants to each of the Plaintiffs was motivated by self-interest, greed, and profit,

7 any right to pass on, over or through, or take any action of whatsoever nature relating to 8 the Property owned solely and exclusively by Plaintiffs.

9 47. The Defendants' respective use of the Property and the Remaining 10 Property caused irreparable damage to the Plaintiffs and their Property.

26 wrongfully and knowingly parked their respective vehicles on the 27 Remaining Property, causing extensive and, potentially irreparable 28

1 damage to the Property.

2 WHEREFORE, the Plaintiffs pray for judgment as more particularly set forth 3 herein.

22 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for judgment as more particularly hereinafter set
23 forth.

24 SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION
25 (Conversion)

26 55. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in 27 paragraphs 1-54 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

2 ELEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION
3 (Elder Abuse)

4 79. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in
5 paragraphs 1-78 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

6 80.. Plaintiffs John and Sonnia are each over 60 years of age; in fact, John is 7 92 years old. John and Sonnia are each in the class of persons afforded protection 8 under the Nevada “Elder Abuse, Neglect, Exploitation & Isolation” Laws, codified in 9 NRS 200.5091, et seq.

10 81. Elder abuse in Nevada is defined as the willful and unjustified infliction 11 of pain, injury, or mental anguish, or the deprivation of food, shelter, clothing, or 12 services which are necessary to maintain physical or mental health. Therefore, it is a 13 broad offense which encompasses any behavior that can cause physical or mental harm 14 to a person aged 60 or older. NRS 200.5092.

15 And very significantly and specifically in this case, NRS 200.5092(c) provides:

17 (c) Infliction of psychological or emotional anguish, pain or distress on an older 18 person or a vulnerable person through any act, including, without limitation:

19 (1) Threatening, controlling or socially isolating the older person or vulnerable 20 person;

21 (2) Disregarding the needs of the older person or vulnerable person; or 22 (3) Harming, damaging or destroying any property of the older person or 23 vulnerable person, including, without limitation, pets.

24 82. The acts and conduct of Defendants, and each of them, acting jointly and 25 severally, intentionally and/or negligently and recklessly caused “HARM, DAMAGE 26 AND DESTRUCTION TO THE PROPERTY OF AN OLDER PERSON”, namely, 27 Plaintiff John and Plaintiff Sonnia, who each, separately, suffered, and continue to 28 suffer, severe psychological and emotional anguish, pain and distress, with physical manifestations, as a result of the conduct of Defendants, and each of them, all as 1 described herein. Plaintiffs John and Sonnia each sought medical attention for his/her 2 respective injuries as of a direct and proximate result of the conduct of Defendants, and 3 each of them, and continued for some time to require medical care and treatment, even 4 through the date of this Complaint.

5 83. Defendants, and each of them, jointly and severally, conspired and agreed 6 to engage in the abuse and abusive conduct described herein, all in violation of NRS 7 200.50995.

8 84. As a continuing direct and proximate result of such conduct, Plaintiffs 9 John and Sonnia each sustained injuries to his/her body and mind, and suffered, and 10 continues to suffer anxiety, depression, loss of sleep, loss of appetite, mental distress 11 and emotional distress.

12 85. As a further direct and proximate result of such conduct, Plaintiffs John 13 and Sonnia have each incurred general damages in a sum in excess of $15,000.

14 86. As a further direct and proximate result of said conduct, Plaintiffs John 15 and Sonnia have each incurred special damages, the full nature and extent of which 16 have not yet been determined. Plaintiffs will amend this Complaint to conform to proof 17 at the time of trial.

18 87. The conduct of Defendants, and each of them, was willful, wanton and 19 reckless and Plaintiff John and Plaintiff Sonnia are each, separately, thereby entitled to 20 an award of punitive damages in a sum in excess of $15,000.

21 88. Plaintiffs John and Sonnia were each required to retain the services of an 22 attorney to prosecute this action and are, therefore, each entitled to an award of legal 23 fees, costs and expenses incurred herein.

24 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs John and Sonnia pray for judgment as more 25 particularly hereinafter set forth.

(Intentional and/or Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress; Tort of Outrage)

3 89. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in
4 paragraphs 1-88 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

5 90. Plaintiffs John and Sonnia are each over 60 years of age; in fact, John is 6 92 years old. Upon information and belief, Defendants each knew, or should have 7 known that John and Sonnia were elderly, suffered illness and disabilities.

8 91. As a direct and proximate cause of the egregious and mean-spirited acts 9 and conduct of Defendants, and each of them, acting jointly and severally, 10 intentionally and/or negligently and recklessly, in an extreme and outrageous manner, 11 with either the intention of, or reckless disregard for causing John and Sonnia to each 12 suffer debilitating, severe and extreme emotional distress. Plaintiff John and Plaintiff 13 Sonnia, each, separately, suffered, and continue to suffer, severe psychological and 14 emotional anguish, pain and distress, with physical manifestations, as a result of the 15 conduct of Defendants, and each of them, all as described herein. Plaintiffs John and 16 Sonnia each sought medical attention for his/her respective injuries as of a direct and 17 proximate result of the conduct of Defendants, and each of them, and continued for 18 some time to require medical care and treatment, even through the date of this 19 Complaint.

20 92. As a continuing direct and proximate result of such conduct, Plaintiffs 21 John and Sonnia each sustained injuries to his/her body and mind, and suffered, and 22 continues to suffer anxiety, depression, loss of sleep, loss of appetite, mental distress 23 and emotional distress.

24 93. As a further direct and proximate result of such conduct, Plaintiffs John 25 and Sonnia have each incurred general damages in a sum in excess of $15,000.

26 94. As a further direct and proximate result of said conduct, Plaintiffs John 27 and Sonnia have each incurred special damages, the full nature and extent of which 28 have not yet been determined. Plaintiffs will amend this Complaint to conform to 1 proof at the time of trial.

2 95. The conduct of Defendants, and each of them, was willful, wanton and 3 reckless and Plaintiff John and Plaintiff Sonnia are each, separately, thereby entitled to 4 an award of punitive damages in a sum in excess of $15,000.

5 96. Plaintiffs John and Sonnia were each required to retain the services of an 6 attorney to prosecute this action and are, therefore, each entitled to an award of legal 7 fees, costs and expenses incurred herein.

8 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs John and Sonnia pray for judgment as more 9 particularly hereinafter set forth.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

The complaint in this case was filed on February 27, 2019. NRCP 4(e) provides in part:

- (1) In General. The summons and complaint must be served upon a defendant no later than 120 days after the complaint is filed, unless the court grants an extension of time under this rule.
- (2) Dismissal. If service of the summons and complaint is not made upon a defendant before the 120-day service period – or any extension thereof – expires, the court must dismiss the action, without prejudice, as to that defendant upon motion or upon the court’s own order to show cause.

25 JOHN ILIESCU, JR., an Individual (“John”); and SONNIA ILIESCU, an Individual 26 (“Sonnia”), together sometimes referred to as “Plaintiffs”, and respectfully submit this 27 Motion for Extension of Time (“Motion”) pursuant to the Order to Show Cause entered 28 by this Court on July 1, 2019, based on the following:

1 POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 NRCP 4 (e)(4) provides, in pertinent part, the court must first determine (1) 3 whether good cause exists for the plaintiffs’ failure to timely file the motion for an 4 extension before the court considers (2) whether good cause exists for granting an 5 extension of the service period. Very significantly, the determination of “good cause” is 6 within the district court's discretion. See Lacey v. Wen-Neva, Inc., 109 Nev. 341, 849
7 P.2d 260 (1993).

8 Good cause exists for the plaintiffs’ failure to timely file the motion – NRCP 4 9 (e)(3)and (4)

10 In Scrimmer v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court, 116 Nev. 507, 998 P.2d 1190 (2000), 11 the Nevada Supreme Court addressed considerations governing guidelines applicable to 12 the analysis of whether good cause exists for a district court to grant an extension of 13 time to file a motion within the 120-day period.

14 In making such analysis, the Court held that the district court should analyze the 15 following considerations, with no single consideration controlling the outcome:

- 16 (1) difficulties in locating the defendant; (2) the defendant's efforts at evading 17 service or concealing improper service until after the 120-day period has lapsed; 18 (3) the plaintiff's diligence in attempting to serve the defendant; (4) difficulties 19 encountered by counsel; (5) the running of the applicable statute of limitations; 20 (6) the parties' good faith attempts to settle the litigation during the 120-day 21 period; (7) the lapse of time between the end of the 120-day period and the 22 actual service of process on the defendant; (8) the prejudice to the defendant 23 caused by the plaintiff's delay in serving the defendant; (9) the defendant's 24 knowledge of the existence of the lawsuit; and (10) any extensions of time for 25 service granted by the district court. Underlying these considerations is the 26 policy behind N.R.C.P. 4(i) [now replaced by NRCP 4(e)(4)] to encourage the 27 diligent prosecution of complaints; however, the rule was not adopted to become 28 an automatic sanction when a plaintiff fails to serve a complaint within 120 days after filing. Scrimmer v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court, 116 Nev. 507, 998 P.2d 1190 (2000), cited, Civil Serv. Comm'n v. Second Judicial Dist. Court, 118 Nev. 186, at 190, 42 P.3d 268 (2002), cited, Civil Serv. Comm'n v. Second Judicial Dist. Court, 118 Nev. 186, at 190, 42 P.3d 268 (2002).

Id., at 511 and 516.

1 Plaintiffs respectfully advise that, of the ten (10) factors articulated by the Court, 2 only numbers 4, 5, 7 and 8 are relevant for purposes of this Motion.

3 Factor #4 - Difficulties encountered by counsel

4 The undersigned counsel for Plaintiffs respectfully advises the Court that the 5 difficulties attendant with his personal health issues has been the principal source of the 6 delay occasioned herein. See, e.g., Domino v. Gaughan, 103 Nev. 582, 747 P.2d 236 7 (1987)

8 Shortly after filing this case, counsel suffered significant neurological and spinal 9 injuries and has been undergoing care, testing, treatment and rehabilitation at the V. A.
10 Hospital, as well as at numerous medical clinics and medical treatment facilities in the 11 Reno area. This has negatively affected counsel's ability to work.

12 Factor #5 - The running of the applicable statute of limitations

13 In the event that this Court dismisses this case, pursuant to NRCP 4, some of the 14 claims asserted herein may be barred by the applicable statute of limitations, dependent 15 on the facts and circumstances relating to each claim, and thus, when the claim arose.

16 If that occurs, Plaintiffs will be forever denied an opportunity to have their day 17 in court on such claims. See, e.g., Id. at 584, 747 P.2d at 237. The court there noted that 18 the District Court may consider "if the applicable statute of limitations would bar the 19 refiled action..." Id. Which it may in Plaintiffs' case.

20 Factor #7- The lapse of time between the end of the 120-day period and the 21 actual service of process on the defendant

22 A total of 24 calendar days have elapsed since the end of the 120-day period, 23 and counsel represents to the Court that, if granted an extension hereunder, plaintiffs 24 will effect service within 10 calendar days after entry of the order of extension.

25 Factor #8 - The prejudice to the Defendant caused by the Plaintiffs' delay in 26 serving the Defendant

27 Plaintiffs respectfully submit that Defendant has not been prejudiced in any 28 respect by the delay in service. Indeed, the condemned property related to the claims has been in the sole and exclusive possession and control of the RTC for

1 nearly 2 years now, and nothing raised by the claims herein seek to or will affect the 2 condemned property. All improvements on such property have been completed and are 3 currently being used by the RTC.

4 Moreover, since the complaint and summons herein have not been served on the 5 RTC, it was unaware of the case and the claims herein, and have continued to use the 6 condemned property for its intents and purposes without any demonstrable effect by 7 this case being filed, but unserved.

8 Based on the discussion set forth above, Plaintiffs respectfully submit that the 9 forgoing facts and circumstances support a showing of “good cause” for Plaintiffs’ 10 failure to file a motion for extension within the statutory 120-day period.

11 Good cause exists for granting an extension of the service period - NRCP 4

14 Plaintiffs hereby incorporate by reference the analysis contained on pages 2 and 15 3, supra.

16 At this point, it should be noted that the Court in Scrimmer concluded that there is 17 no automatic sanction for failure to serve within 120 days. Id.

18 Rather, the Court concluded that the district court should use a “balanced and 19 multifaceted analysis” to determine whether good cause exists pursuant to N.R.C.P. 4(i) 20 [now replaced by NRCP 4(e)(4)] to make such determination. Id.

21 Applying this “balanced and multifaceted analysis” standard pronounced by the 22 Scrimmer Court, Plaintiffs respectfully submit that the foregoing facts and circumstances, 23 together with the legal authorities set forth above, support a finding herein that “good 24 cause” exists for granting an extension of the service period.

25 Finally, when making a determination under NRCP 4(i) [now replaced by 26 NRCP 4(e)(4)], the district court should recognize that "good public policy dictates that 27 cases be adjudicated on their merits." Kahn v. Orme, 108 Nev. 510, 516, 835 P.2d 790,

1 794 (1992) (citing Hotel Last Frontier v. Frontier Prop., 79 Nev. 150, 155-56, 380 P.2d 2 293, 295 (1963)).

6 plaintiff files a motion for an extension of time after the 120-day 7 service period – or any extension thereof – expires, the court must 8 first determine whether good cause exists for the plaintiff’s failure to 9 timely file the motion for an extension before the court considers 10 whether good cause exists for granting an extension of the service 11 period. If the plaintiff shows that good cause exists for the plaintiff’s 12 failure to timely file the motion and for granting an extension of the 13 service period, the court must extend the time for service and set a 14 reasonable date by which service should be made.

15 “The determination of good cause is within the district court’s discretion.” Scrimmer 16 v. District Court, 116 Nev. 507, 513, 998 P.2d 1190, 1193-94 (2000). When making a 17 determination under NRCP 4(e), this Court exercises its discretion in consideration of the 18 policy behind NRCP 4(e) – to encourage the diligent prosecution of complaints and 19 adjudication on their merits. Scrimmer, 116 Nev. at 516-17. Service of process springs from 20 the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment, which mandates litigants have adequate 21 notice of proceedings against them. RDP Technologies, Inc. v. Cambi AS, 800 F. Supp. 2d 22 127 (D.D.C. 2011). The primary goal behind NRCP 4 is to ensure defendants receive actual 23 notice of an action brought against them and adjudication of said action on the merits.

24 On July 1, 2019, this Court entered an order to show proof of service or show good 25 cause to extend the time to effect service of process, noting the 120-day deadline to effect 26 service pursuant to NRCP 4(e)(1) expired June 28, 2019. While Plaintiffs failed to timely 27 request an extension, Counsel described personal health issues as a primary cause for the 28 delay. Counsel also noted Plaintiffs would suffer extreme prejudice should this case be dismissed and Defendants would suffer no prejudice should the extension be granted.
This Court finds good cause exists to grant Plaintiffs’ request and extend the time to effect service of process.

This Court notes that while good cause exists to extend the time for service, Defendant RTC, as a government entity, is an easy defendant to serve. Therefore,

1 Plaintiffs will be strictly limited to the additional ten days sought to effect service of 2 process. Accordingly, Plaintiffs shall have ten (10) calendar days from the date of this 3 order to effect service of process. Proof of service shall be filed on or before the expiration 4 of that ten (10) day period. If the tenth day falls on a weekend or court holiday, Plaintiffs 5 will have until 5:00 p.m. on the following court day to file the proof as required. Should 6 Plaintiffs fail to file the proof of service as required, this case will be dismissed pursuant to 7 NRCP 4(e)(2) without further notice from this Court.

8 IT IS SO ORDERED.

21 MOTION TO DISMISS

22 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”), 23 moves this Court pursuant to NRCPC 12 for an order dismissing certain of Plaintiffs’ 24 claims. This motion is based on the following points and authorities and the pleadings on file.

25 ///

26 ///

27 ///

28 ///

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 This lawsuit arises from alleged damage to Plaintiffs' parking lot on their property 3 located at 642 E. 4th Street in Reno. Complaint at ¶¶ 1, 7. Plaintiffs allege that RTC and 4 its agents "drove over and parked their respective vehicles" in the parking lot without 5 Plaintiffs' permission, thereby damaging the parking lot. Id. at ¶ 9. Plaintiffs allege 6 permanent damage to the property, as well as emotional distress and other personal 7 damages. Id. at ¶¶ 10-11.

8 Based on these general allegations, Plaintiffs' assert twelve (12) causes of action: 9 (1) Injunctive Relief; (2) Breach of Contract; (3) Breach of the Covenant of Good Faith 10 and Fair Dealing; (4) Breach of Fiduciary Duty/Breach of Trust; (5) Declaratory Relief; 11 (6) Waste; (7) Conversion; (8) Trespass; (9) Civil Conspiracy; (10) Negligence; (11) Elder 12 Abuse; (12) Intentional and/or Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress; Tort of 13 Outrage.

14 Plaintiff seeks dismissal of Plaintiffs' first, third, fourth, sixth, seventh, ninth, 15 eleventh and twelfth causes of action, as the allegations of the complaint fail to establish 16 the elements of these claims or otherwise fail as a matter of law.

17 II. LEGAL STANDARD

18 A complaint should be dismissed only if it appears beyond a doubt that it could 19 prove no set of facts, which, if true, would entitle it to relief. Buzz Stew, LLC v. City of N.
20 Las Vegas, 124 Nev. 224, 228, 181 P.3d 670, 672 (2008). In considering a motion to 21 dismiss under NRCP 12(b)(5), courts must recognize all factual allegations of the 22 complaint as true and draw all inferences in favor of the plaintiff. Id. "Dismissal is 23 proper where the allegations are insufficient to establish the elements of a claim for 24 relief." Stockmeier v. Nevada Dep't of Corr. Psychological Review Panel, 124 Nev. 313, 25 316, 183 P.3d 133, 135 (2008)

26 Here, Plaintiffs claims for: (1) Injunctive Relief; (3) Breach of the Covenant of 27 Good Faith and Fair Dealing; (4) Breach of Fiduciary Duty/Breach of Trust; (6) Waste; 28 (7) Conversion; (9) Civil Conspiracy; (11) Elder Abuse; and (12) Intentional and/or

1 Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress/Tort of Outrage should all be dismissed 2 pursuant to NRCP 12(b)(5). Each claim is discussed in order below.

3 III. PLAINTIFFS' CLAIMS SHOULD BE DISMISSED PURSUANT TO NRCP
4 12(b)(5).

5 1. Injunctive Relief—First Cause of Action

6 Plaintiffs seek injunctive relief preventing RTC from entering upon and/or using 7 their property. Complaint at ¶ 16. The alleged purpose of the requested injunctive relief 8 is to preserve the status quo. Id. at ¶ 17. However, Plaintiffs' complaint contains no 9 allegations that RTC or anyone else is currently attempting to enter upon or otherwise use 10 the property. There are no factual allegations that the status quo is threatened in any way.
11 The complaint contains only conclusory allegations of irreparable harm, but no factual 12 predicate to support that conclusion.

13 Therefore, Plaintiffs' cause of action for injunctive relief should be dismissed.

14 2. Breach of Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing—Third Cause of 15 Action

16 It appears Plaintiffs are alleging a tortious breach of the implied covenant of good 17 faith and fair dealing. This claim, as opposed to a claim for contractual breach of the 18 implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, requires a special element of reliance or 19 fiduciary duty exist between the plaintiff and defendant, such that the defendant is in a 20 superior or entrusted position. Great Amer. Ins. Co. v. Gen. Builders, Inc., 113 Nev. 346, 21 354-355, 934 P.2d 257, 263 (1997). The tort action for breach of the implied covenant of 22 good faith and fair dealing is "limited to rare and exceptional cases." Id. The Nevada 23 Supreme Court has recognized this type of reliance in relationships formed by 24 employment, bailment, insurance, partnership and franchise agreements.

25 There are no factual allegations as to why RTC allegedly was in a superior or 26 entrusted position with respect to the alleged contract. The only allegation is that RTC is 27 a government agency. As discussed below, RTC's status as a government agency does 28 not, alone, create a fiduciary duty. There are no allegations from which it can be inferred

1 that the alleged contract was anything other than arms-length. Therefore, Plaintiffs' tort 2 cause of action for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing should be 3 dismissed.

4 3. Breach of Fiduciary Duty/Breach of Trust—Fourth Cause of Action

5 Plaintiffs allege that RTC owed them a fiduciary duty in connection with RTC's 6 exercise of its right of condemnation. Complaint at ¶ 34. Under the Restatement (Second) of 7 Torts, a "fiduciary relation exists between two persons when one of them is under a duty to 8 act for or to give advice for the benefit of another upon matters within the scope of the 9 relation." Restatement (Second) of Torts, § 874 cmt. a (1979).

10 Here, there are no allegations that RTC was acting for the benefit of Plaintiffs or 11 giving them advice. The only factual allegations are that RTC and Plaintiffs had a contract 12 regarding RTC's use of and construction upon Plaintiffs' property. Contractual relationships 13 do not typically give rise to fiduciary duties among the parties to the contract. Schlumberger
14 Tech. Corp. v. Swanson, 959 S.W.2d 171, 177 (Tex. 1997). A fiduciary or confidential 15 relationship may arise from the circumstances of a particular case; however, to impose such a 16 relationship in a business transaction, the relationship must exist prior to, and apart from, the 17 agreement made the basis of the suit. Id. There are no such allegations here.

18 Further, as a general rule in Nevada, state officials have a duty to exercise only 19 ordinary care in performing their duties. Butler ex rel. Biller v. Bayer, 123 Nev. 450, 464, 20 168 P.3d 1055, 1065 (2007). And, other states have held: "An actionable confidential or 21 special relationship cannot exist between a government agency and a private citizen, as a
22 matter of law." See, e.g., Johnson v. Sawyer, 760 F.Supp. 1216, 1233 (S.D. Tex. 1991).

23 Accepting Plaintiffs' allegations as true, the mere existence of a contract between 24 Plaintiffs and RTC for construction upon and temporary use of Plaintiffs' property does not 25 by itself establish a fiduciary duty.

26 Therefore, Therefore, Plaintiffs' cause of action for breach of fiduciary duty/breach 27 of trust should be dismissed.

28 ///

1 4. Waste—Sixth Cause of Action

2 Plaintiffs assert an action for waste under NRS 40.150 and claim treble damages.
3 Id. at ¶ 50. That statute provides: “If a guardian, tenant for life or years, joint tenant or 4 tenant in common of real property commit waste thereon, any person aggrieved by the 5 waste may bring an action against the guardian or tenant who committed the waste, in 6 which action there may be judgment for treble damages.” However, there are no 7 allegations in the complaint that RTC is a guardian, tenant for life or years, joint tenant, or 8 tenant in common of the real property. In fact, Plaintiffs specifically allege that RTC did 9 not have permission to use the “Remaining Property.” Id. at ¶ 9.

10 Therefore, this claim fails as a matter of law based on the allegations of the 11 complaint.

12 5. Conversion—Seventh Cause of Action

13 Conversion is “a distinct act of dominion wrongfully exerted over another’s 14 personal property in denial of, or inconsistent with his title or rights therein or in 15 derogation, exclusion, or defiance of such title or rights.” Evans v. Dean Witter Reynolds, 16 Inc., 116 Nev. 598, 606, 5 P.3d 1043, 1048 (2000) (emphasis added). Plaintiffs’ 17 complaint contains no allegations regarding personal property. The allegations arise from 18 damage to real property, specifically their parking lot. Complaint at ¶ 7. As such, the tort 19 of conversion is not supported by the allegations and should be dismissed.

20 6. Civil Conspiracy—Ninth Cause of Action

21 A civil conspiracy claim exists when “a combination of two or more persons 22 who, by some concerted action, intend to accomplish some unlawful objective for the 23 purpose of harming another which results in damage.” Collins v. Union Fed. Sav. & 24 Loan Ass’n, 99 Nev. 284, 303, 662 P.2d 610, 622 (1983). To succeed on a civil 25 conspiracy claim, a plaintiff must prove both an agreement, and that the conduct of 26 each tortfeasor is tortious. GES, Inc. v. Corbitt, 117 Nev. 265, 271, 21 P.3d 11, 15
27 (2001) (quoting Dow Chemical Co. v. Mahlum, 114 Nev. 1468, 1488-89, 970 P.2d 98, 28 111-12 (1998)).

1 Plaintiffs' complaint fails to allege the identity of the other "person" besides 2 RTC that was part of the conspiracy. Plaintiff also fails to allege the existence of an 3 "agreement" and the unlawful object of the agreement. Even under Nevada's liberal 4 notice pleading standard, Plaintiffs fail to state a claim for civil conspiracy and 5 therefore this cause of action should be dismissed.

6 7. Elder Abuse—Eleventh Cause of Action

7 Plaintiffs cite NRS 200.5091, et seq., as the basis for their claim of elder abuse.
8 Chapter 200 of the Nevada Revised Statutes is entitled "Crimes Against The Person" and 9 includes murder, manslaughter, sexual assault and robbery amongst many other criminal 10 offenses. NRS 200.5091, et seq., and specifically NRS 200.5099, involves the crime of 11 elder abuse, and defines such criminal activity as a felony or gross misdemeanor 12 depending on the circumstances.

13 There is nothing in NRS 200.5091, et seq. that appears to create a civil cause of 14 action for elder abuse. Therefore, this claim should be dismissed.

15 8. Intentional and/or Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress; Tort of 16 Outrage—Twelfth Cause of Action

17 The "tort of outrage" and the tort of intentional infliction of emotional distress are 18 synonymous torts. Conway v. Circus Circus Casinos, 116 Nev. 870, 8 P.3d 837 (2000).
19 Generally, the elements of this cause of action are (1) extreme and outrageous conduct 20 with either the intention of, or reckless disregard for, causing emotional distress, (2) the 21 plaintiff's having suffered severe or extreme emotional distress and (3) actual or proximate 22 causation. Star v. Rabello, 97 Nev. 124, 125, 625 P.2d 90, 91–92 (1981)

23 Plaintiffs fail to allege facts that support a claim for intentional infliction of 24 emotional distress. Extreme and outrageous conduct is that which is outside all possible 25 bounds of decency and is utterly intolerable in a civilized society; persons must 26 necessarily be expected and required to be hardened to occasional acts that are definitely 27 inconsiderate and unkind. Maduik v. Agency Rent-A-Car, 114 Nev. 1, 953 P.2d 24 28 (1998). Plaintiffs' complaint alleges that RTC "drove over and parked" on Plaintiffs'

1 property without Plaintiffs' permission. While perhaps such alleged conduct may be 2 inconsiderate, it does not rise to the level of "outside all possible bounds of decency" as 3 required by the Nevada Supreme Court.

4 A fair reading of Plaintiffs' complaint is that the conduct complained of is a simple 5 trespass on their property. This is not the kind of conduct that can sustain a claim for 6 intentional infliction of emotional distress.

7 Plaintiffs' claim for negligent infliction of emotional distress also is unsupported 8 by sufficient factual allegations. In cases where emotional distress damages are not 9 secondary to physical injuries, but rather, precipitate physical symptoms, either a physical 10 impact must have occurred or, in the absence of physical impact, proof of "serious 11 emotional distress" causing physical injury or illness must be presented. Barmettler v.
12 Reno Air, Inc., 114 Nev. 441, 448, 956 P.2d 1382, 1387 (1998). Here, there is no 13 allegation of physical impact to Plaintiffs, only to their real property. Thus, they must 14 allege facts showing that a physical impact occurred (they have not) or facts that they 15 suffered "serious emotional distress." Plaintiffs' complaint makes conclusory allegations 16 that parrot the language of the elements, but does not allege any facts that support those 17 elements. Therefore, their claim for negligent infliction of emotional distress should be 18 dismissed as well.

19 V. CONCLUSION

20 Plaintiffs causes of action for injunctive relief, tortious breach of the covenant of 21 good faith and fair dealing, breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust, waste, conversion, 22 civil conspiracy, elder abuse, and intentional and/or negligent infliction of emotional 23 distress all fail as matter of law based on the allegations of the complaint. RTC requests 24 that the Court enter an order dismissing these causes of action from this lawsuit.

PLAINTIFFS’
OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT’S PARTIAL MOTION TO DISMISS PLAINTIFF’S COMPLAINT

16 vs.

17 THE REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION
18 COMMISSION OF WASHOE COUNTY; ROE
19 CORPORATIONS 1-20; and DOES 1-40,
20 Defendants.

21 I. INTRODUCTION

22 Plaintiffs, by and through their attorney of record, Michael J. Morrison, Esq., hereby 23 opposes Defendant’s Partial Motion to Dismiss Plaintiffs’ Complaint (the 24 “Motion”).

25 It is well-established that a complaint should be dismissed only if it appears beyond a doubt that Plaintiffs could prove no set of facts, which, if true, would entitle Plaintiffs to relief.
Buzz Stew, LLC v. City of NLas Vegas, 124 Nev. 224, 228, 181 P.3d 670, 672 (2008). In

1 considering a motion to dismiss under NRCP 12(b)(5), courts must recognize all factual 2 allegations of the complaint as true and 3 draw all inferences in favor of the plaintiff. Id. See also, Adams v. U.S. Forest Srv., 671 F.3d 4 1138, 1142-43 (9th Cir. 2012)

5 Accordingly, in order for Plaintiffs “[t]o survive a motion to dismiss, a complaint must 6 contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to ‘state a claim to relief that is plausible on 7 its face.’” (Emphasis added.) Zixiang Li v. Kerry, 710 F.3d 995, 999 (9th Cir. 2013) (quoting 8 Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009)). It is well-established that “[a] claim is facially 9 plausible ‘when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable 10 inference that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.’” (Emphasis added.) Id.
11 (quoting Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678). Thus, “[a]sking for plausible grounds . . . does not impose a 12 probability requirement at the pleading stage; it simply calls for enough fact to raise a reasonable 13 expectation that discovery will reveal evidence of [the conduct alleged].” Bell Atl. Corp. v.
14 Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 556 (2007).

15 II. ARGUMENT

16A. Plaintiffs have Adequately Alleged a Claim for Injunctive Relief

17 Under Nevada law, the elements which must be proven by the party seeking 18 the injunction are: (1) it has no adequate remedy other than an injunction (such as had set forth 19 money damages); (2) truly irreparable harm will occur in the absence of an injunction; (3) it is 20 more likely than not that the moving party will prevail on the underlying merits when the matter 21 ultimately goes to trial; (4) the benefit to the party seeking the injunction outweighs the burden 22 of the party opposed to the injunction; and (5) the moving party’s right to the relief sought is 23 clear.

1 Finally, contrary to Defendant’s argument, Plaintiff’s claim is sufficiently plausible to 2 withstand Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss. As noted above, “[a] claim has facial plausibility 3 when the plaintiff pleads factual content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference 4 that the defendant is liable for the misconduct alleged.” Ashcroft, 556 U.S. at 678 (quoting 5 Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570). Here, Plaintiffs have alleged that, even after defendant and their 6 affiliates, agents and related parties (“Trespassers”) had completed their work, and no longer had 7 an easement, continued to trespass upon and destroy the parking lot owned by Plaintiffs. (See 8 Complaint, Paras. 9-11, with focus on Para.9, pg. 4, lines 7-12).

9 As set forth in Paras. 13-19, Plaintiffs have stated the facts supporting the elements to 10 establish their right to an injunction herein. It is especially compelling to note that all Plaintiffs 11 want is to prohibit Defendants and the other Trespassers from continuing to unlawfully use 12 Plaintiffs’ property as their personal and private parking lot whenever they happen to be 13 downtown and cannot find parking for their incredibly large, heavy and damage-causing 14 vehicles, all as alleged in the first cause of action Trespassers.

15 As noted above, at this stage the Court must draw all reasonable inferences in the light most 16 favorable to Plaintiffs. See Adams, 671 F.3d at 1142-43 (9th Cir. 2012) (“In evaluating a Rule 17 12(b)(5) motion, the court accepts the complaint's well-pleaded factual allegations as true and 18 draws all reasonable inferences in the light most favorable to the plaintiff.”). Moreover, courts 19 have held that “[t]he plaintiff's allegations must be accepted as true, the complaint must be read 20 ‘as a whole,’ and all reasonable inferences must be drawn in the plaintiff's favor.” Matrixx 21 Initiatives, Inc., v. Siracusano, 131 S. Ct. 1309, 1323, (2011) (emphasis added). Keeping this 22 standard in mind, it is more than plausible that 23 Moreover, where, as here, “a complaint adequately states a claim, it may not be dismissed 24 based on a district court's assessment that the plaintiff will fail to find evidentiary support for

1 [their] allegations or prove [their] claim to the satisfaction of the factfinder.” Twombly, 550 U.S.
2 at 563. In essence, in its Motion, RTC is asking this Court to prejudge the evidence even before 3 discovery, and thereby dismiss Plaintiff’s claims. Plaintiffs respectfully submit that this request 4 by RTC should be rejected.

5 In the event the Court finds that this claim is inadequately pled, Plaintiffs respectfully 6 requests the Court to grant her leave to amend the Complaint. The Ninth Circuit “ha[s] held that 7 in dismissing for failure to state a claim under Rule 12(b)(6), ‘a district court should grant leave 8 to amend even if no request to amend the pleading was made, unless it determines that the 9 pleading could not possibly be cured by the allegation of other facts.’” Lopez v. Smith, 203 F.3d 10 1122, 1127 (9th Cir. 2000) (quoting Doe v. United States, 58 F.3d 494, 497 (9th Cir. 1995)).
11 Here, to the extent the Court deems it necessary, Plaintiff would be able to provide more detail 12 regarding the factual basis of her fraud claim if granted leave to amend.

13 B. Plaintiffs Have Adequately Alleged a Claim for Breach of the Covenant of Good

14 Faith and Fair Dealing

15 Under Nevada law, an implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing exists in every 16 contract. Pemberton v. Farmers Ins. Exch., 109 Nev. 789, 858 P.2d 380, 382 (Nev.1993). The 17 Nevada Supreme Court has explained that “when one party performs a contract in a manner that 18 is unfaithful to the purpose of the contract and the justified expectations of the other party are 19 thus denied, damages may be awarded against the party who does not act in good faith.” Hilton 20 Hotels v. Butch Lewis Prod., 107 Nev. 226, 234, 808 P.2d 919, 923 (Nev. 1991). Reasonable 21 expectations are to be “determined by the various factors and special circumstances that shape 22 these expectations.” Id. at 924.

23 In the Motion to Dismiss, Defendant argues that it did not breach a contractual duty to 24 Plaintiff and did not act in a manner that was unfaithful to the purpose of the contract. (Mot.

1 Dismiss, p. 3, ln. 14-28 & p.4, ln. 1-3). Quite curiously, RTC argues that, notwithstanding 2 Plaintiffs' reliance on Pemberton and Hilton Hotels in support of their assertion that there was a 3 breach of the contractual covenant, RTC instead deems Plaintiffs' claim to be a tort claim, and 4 not a contract claim. (Motion, p.3, ln. 16-20, and p. 3, ln. 25 - 26). Setting aside the distinction 5 drawn by RTC between tort and contract, the fundamental issue is whether Plaintiffs had 6 justified expectations that defendant and the Trespassers would act in good faith with respect 7 the fact that Plaintiffs were the owners of the land upon which defendant and the Trespassers had 8 been illegally trespassing and Plaintiffs had a reasonable and justifiable expectation that 9 defendant and the Trespassers would respect their land and ownership rights and not continue to 10 trespass on the subject property after the contract was concluded. (This analysis appertains 11 whether the issue of good faith and fair dealing arise by contract or tort.)

12 Instead, Defendants and the Trespassers ostensibly believe that, during the term of the 13 contract, they were entitled to trespass, and after the contract had terminated, they were still 14 entitled to trespass. So, the solemnity of the contractual provisions were not respected in any 15 manner by Defendants and/or the Trespassers, either during or after the termination of the 16 contract.

17 C. Plaintiffs Have Adequately Alleged a Claim for Breach of Fiduciary Duty/Breach 18 of Trust.

19 As regards Defendants tortious breach of the duty of good faith and fair dealing, their 20 fiduciary duties and trust, based on Plaintiffs' reasonable expectations and understanding of the 21 fact that the contract had terminated, and there was no other basis upon which defendant and/or 22 the Trespassers were entitled, under any legal theory, to use Plaintiffs' property, and Plaintiffs 23 were shocked that defendant and the Trespassers continued to do so. This caused John Iliescu 24 and Sonja Iliescu, as set forth in their Complaint, to suffer constant, continuous and continuing

1 anxiety and emotional distress. As alleged by Plaintiffs, this was a breach of duty by both 2 defendant and the Trespassers, as they were bullies, refused to honor Plaintiffs' innumerable 3 requests that they not use the property, and parlayed their respective positions of superiority, de 4 facto control over and mean-spirited disrespect of Plaintiffs, one of whom is 93, and the other is 5 75; both are elders and protected from abuse by Defendants and the Trespassers.

6 In this regard the defendant and Trespassers were acting in concert and in furtherance of 7 their agreement to use Plaintiffs' property for parking, storage and overnight stays, as well as 8 inflicting abuse and damage on the property. This conduct was in furtherance of their conspiracy, 9 as alleged in the complaint.

10 In the event the Court determines that Plaintiffs have failed to state a claim for breach of 11 the covenant and/or duty of good faith and fair dealing, Plaintiffs respectfully request the court to 12 grant Plaintiffs leave to amend.

13 D. Plaintiffs Have Adequately Alleged a Claim for Waste.

14 Pursuant to the terms of the condemnation, take-over and total control exerted over all 15 aspects of the property, defendant was acting in the capacity of a pseudo-trustee or guardian of 16 the property and committed waste to the property including the personal property rights enjoyed 17 by Plaintiffs in the form of parking privileges and similar related uses.

18 Therefore, Plaintiffs respectfully submit that they are a party contemplated by the subject 19 statute and, accordingly, are entitled to its protection and the relief afforded.

20 E. Plaintiffs Have Adequately Alleged a Claim for Conversion.

21 As stated in the complaint, on pages 10-11, defendant and their affiliated Trespassers 22 were alleged in the complaint, at pages 11-12, to have exercised acts of dominion and 23 control over portions of the property excluding and denying Plaintiffs there right to such

1 property. Accordingly, such conduct falls within the scope of conversion under Nevada law.
2 Therefore, Plaintiffs are entitled to seek relief for defendant's conversion of their properties.

3 F. Plaintiffs Have Adequately Alleged a Claim for Civil Conspiracy.

4 As stated herein above, defendant and the Trespassers, along with friends, associates and 5 other parties (together, constituting the other "person(s)" with whom Defendants were engaged 6 in business, whether working on the RTC project, working on activities related to the RTC 7 project, and/or working in the surrounding areas near the property with whom Defendants had 8 discussed and agreed that they would all be entitled to use Plaintiffs' properties on which to 9 conduct their business, both commercial and personal, and to occupy, to the exclusion of 10 Plaintiffs, and use all areas of Plaintiffs' property as a parking place, storage area, outside 11 workshop and engage in related abusive and destructive activities on the property.

12 G. Plaintiffs Have Adequately Alleged a Claim for Elder Abuse.

13 In spite of the allegations of abuse made by Plaintiffs in Paras. 81-87 of the 14 complaint, RTC baldly asserts that there is no civil cause of action available to the 15 Defendants for the type of egregious harm and abuse proscribed in NRS 200. Plaintiffs 16 respectfully submit to the court that the conduct of Defendants herein, constitutes tortious 17 conduct for which a civil claim can, herein, be stated. In such event, Plaintiffs respectfully 18 request that they be allowed to amend the pleadings to include claims related to the conduct 19 constituting elder abuse.

20 H. Plaintiffs Have Adequately Alleged a Claim for Intentional and/or Negligent 21 Infliction of Emotional Distress; Tort of Outrage.

22 Contrary to RTC's assertion that Plaintiffs have failed to allege facts that support the 23 instant claim, Plaintiffs respectfully direct the court to the allegations set forth on pages 17 and 24 18 of the complaint, wherein Plaintiffs very cogently and compellingly describe the egregious

1 and mean-spirited acts and conduct of Defendants that proximately caused their respective severe 2 psychological and emotional anguish, pain and distress, physical manifestations as a result of the 3 conduct of Defendants. (See, paragraph 91 of the complaint on page 17).

4 IV. CONCLUSION

5 For the reasons set forth above, Plaintiffs respectfully submit that the Motion to 6 Dismiss should be denied, as to all claims subject thereof. Plaintiffs also respectfully and 7 sincerely submit that they have, contrary to the summary assertions by Defendants, adequately 8 stated, consistent with and pursuant to, Nevada’s notice pleading rules, legally valid and 9 cognizable cclaims for (1) Injunctive Relief; (3) Breach of the Covenant of Good Faith
10 and Fair Dealing; (4) Breach of Fiduciary Duty/Breach of Trust; (6) Waste; (7) 11 Conversion; (9) Civil Conspiracy; (11) Elder Abuse; and (12) Intentional and/or 12 negligent infliction of emotional distress/tort of outrage .

14 To the extent that the Court finds that Plaintiffs have failed to state any claim, Plaintiffs 15 respectfully request the Court to grant them leave to amend.

Case No.: CV19-00459

Dept. No.: 15

21 REPLY IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO DISMISS

22 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”) 23 submits the following reply brief in support of its motion to dismiss, and in response to 24 the opposition brief filed by plaintiffs John Iliescu Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu (collectively 25 “Plaintiffs”) on November 7, 2019. Plaintiffs’ opposition fails to demonstrate that the 26 allegations of their Complaint are sufficient to establish the elements of the claims for 27 relief RTC seeks to have dismissed. See Stockmeier v. Nevada Dep’t of Corr.
28 Psychological Review Panel, 124 Nev. 313, 316, 183 P.3d 133, 135 (“Dismissal is proper 1 where the allegations are insufficient to establish the elements of a claim for relief.”).

2 Each of the claims RTC seeks to have dismissed are addressed in turn.

3 Injunctive Relief (First Cause of Action)

4 Plaintiffs acknowledge that two of the essential elements of a claim for injunctive 5 relief are: (1) the threat of truly irreparable harm in the absence of injunctive relief; and 6 (2) the absence of an adequate legal remedy. Opposition at 2:17-23. However, Plaintiffs 7 fail to demonstrate that their Complaint contains allegations supporting these elements.
8 Plaintiffs point to their allegation that, even after defendants completed work and no 9 longer had an easement on Plaintiffs’ property, defendants “continued to trespass and 10 destroy the parking lot owned by Plaintiffs.” Opposition at 3:5-8. However, that 11 allegation involves past conduct. As pointed out in RTC’s motion, there are no 12 allegations that RTC or anyone else currently is attempting to enter upon or use Plaintiffs’ 13 property. There are no allegations in the Complaint supporting an inference that the status 14 quo is threatened in any way, nor do Plaintiffs make such an assertion in their request for 15 leave to amend. Opposition at 4:5-12.

16 Contrary to Plaintiffs’ contention, they have failed to allege factual allegations that 17 satisfy the above-referenced elements of injunctive relief. Plaintiffs refer the Court to 18 paragraphs 13-19 of their Complaint. Opposition at 3:9-10. However, those paragraphs 19 also contain no allegations of current or ongoing wrongdoing by RTC (or any other 20 person) from which an inference can be drawn that the status quo is threatened or that 21 money damages for the alleged past conduct would be inadequate.

22 Plaintiffs’ claim for injunctive relief should be dismissed.

23 Breach of Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing (Third Cause of Action)

24 Plaintiffs appear to suggest that RTC has misunderstood their claim for breach of 25 the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing as one based in tort rather than in 26 contract. Opposition at 5:1-4. In Nevada, a wrongful act committed during the course of 27 a contractual relationship may give rise to both tort and contractual remedies. Hilton 28 Hotels Corp. v. Butch Lewis Prod., Inc., 109 Nev. 1043, 1046, 862 P.2d 1207, 1209

1 (1993). If Plaintiffs' claim is limited to contractual breach of the implied covenant of 2 good faith and fair dealing, RTC does not seek to dismiss that claim at this time (just as it 3 did not seek to dismiss Plaintiffs' second cause of action for breach of contract).

4 However, Plaintiffs' Complaint includes the allegation that "there was a special 5 relationship of trust between Plaintiff [sic] and each Defendant." Complaint at ¶ 29, 8:2-6 3. This, of course, is an element of the claim for tortious breach of the implied covenant 7 of good faith and fair dealing. Great Amer. Ins. Co. v. Gen. Builders, Inc., 113 Nev. 346, 8 354-355, 934 P.2d 257, 263 (1997) ("The tort action for breach of the implied covenant of 9 good faith and fair dealing requires a special element of reliance or fiduciary duty." 10 (emphasis in original)). It is unclear whether Plaintiffs are conceding that their Third 11 Cause of Action is not a tort claim for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and 12 fair dealing. Their response to RTC's motion to dismiss their claim for breach of 13 fiduciary duty would suggest that Plaintiffs are, in fact, asserting this tort claim.
14 Opposition at 5:19-23.

15 In that event, Plaintiffs have failed to allege facts sufficient to support this claim.
16 Plaintiffs do not dispute the authorities cited by RTC, specifically that this claim is 17 "limited to rare and exceptional cases" and that, in Nevada, government agencies must 18 exercise only ordinary care. See, respectively, Great Amer. Ins. Co., supra, 113 Nev. at 19 354-355, 934 P.2d at 263 and Butler ex rel. Biller v. Bayer, 123 Nev. 450, 464, 168 P.2d 20 1055, 1065 (2007).

21 There are no factual allegations supporting a claim for the tort of breach of the 22 implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. To the extent is a claim Plaintiffs are 23 asserting, it should be dismissed.

24 Breach of Fiduciary Duty (Fourth Cause of Action)

25 For similar reasons, Plaintiffs claim for breach of fiduciary duty also should be 26 dismissed. There are no factual allegations in the Complaint from which the Court can 27 infer that a fiduciary duty existed between RTC and Plaintiffs. The only factual 28 allegations are that RTC and Plaintiffs had a contract regarding RTC's use of and 1 construction upon Plaintiffs' property. Plaintiffs' opposition fails to explain how this 2 contract gives creates a fiduciary duty between RTC and Plaintiffs. As set forth in RTC's 3 motion, a "fiduciary relation exists between two persons when one of them is under a duty to 4 act for or to give advice for the benefit of another upon matters within the scope of the 5 relation." Restatement (Second) of Torts, § 874 cmt. a (1979).

6 There are no allegations in the Complaint that RTC was acting for the benefit of 7 Plaintiffs or giving them advice. There are no allegations to suggest that their relationship 8 was anything other than an arm's length contract by which Plaintiffs agreed to let RTC use 9 their property. Such contractual relationships do not typically give rise to fiduciary duties 10 among the parties to the contract. Schlumberger Tech. Corp. v. Swanson, 959 S.W.2d 171, 11 177 (Tex. 1997). Further, cases from other jurisdictions suggest that government agencies do 12 not owe actionable fiduciary duties to private citizens. Johnson v. Sawyer, 760 F.Supp. 1216, 13 1233 (S.D. Tex. 1991). In fact, Nevada case law provides that government agencies generally 14 owe only a duty of ordinary care. See Butler ex rel. Biller v. Bayer, supra.

15 Plaintiffs cite no contradicting authorities. Instead, they appear to summarize their 16 other claims and ignore RTC's argument that it does not owe Plaintiffs a fiduciary duty.
17 Opposition at 5:19-6:12. This omission is telling. The existence of a fiduciary duty 18 obviously is an essential element of a claim for breach of fiduciary duty. Plaintiffs have failed 19 to allege facts supporting an inference that RTC owed them a fiduciary duty. Plaintiffs' claim 20 for breach of fiduciary duty should be dismissed.

21 Waste (Sixth Cause of Action)

22 A claim for waste under NRS 40.150 provides: "If a guardian, tenant for life or 23 years, joint tenant or tenant in common of real property commit waste thereon, any person 24 aggrieved by the waste may bring an action against the guardian or tenant who committed 25 the waste, in which action there may be judgment for treble damages." In its motion, 26 RTC pointed out that the Complaint contains no allegations that RTC is a guardian, tenant 27 for life or years, joint tenant, or tenant in common of the real property.

28 ///

1 In their opposition, Plaintiffs argue that RTC “was acting in the capacity of a 2 pseudo-trustee or guardian of the property....” Opposition at 6:14-17. Plaintiffs cite no 3 authority to support this argument. There is no allegation that RTC was a court-appointed 4 guardian that obtained legal rights to the property by “stepping into the shoes” of 5 Plaintiffs or any other person that had legal ownership of the property. The only 6 allegation is that RTC obtained the right to access the property through a contractual 7 easement. This does not make a party a “guardian” or “pseudo-trustee.” Plaintiffs 8 specifically allege that RTC did not have the right to use the remainder property, and 9 therefore could not be a guardian or tenant under NRS 40.150.

10 There are no allegations in the Complaint from which the Court can infer that RTC 11 was a guardian, tenant for life or years, joint tenant or tenant in common of the remainder 12 property that is the subject of Plaintiffs’ claims. Therefore, Plaintiffs claim for waste 13 should be dismissed.

14 Conversion (Seventh Cause of Action)

15 Plaintiffs’ Complaint alleges damages to their real property. As pointed out in 16 RTC’s motion, conversion is a tort involving wrongful use of another’s personal property.
17 There are no allegations in the Complaint regarding any wrongful activity involving 18 Plaintiffs’ personal property. The tort of conversion is not supported by any allegations in 19 the Complaint and should be dismissed.

20 Civil Conspiracy (Ninth Cause of Action)

21 A civil conspiracy claim exists when “a combination of two or more persons who, 22 by some concerted action, intend to accomplish some unlawful objective for the purpose 23 of harming another which results in damage.” Collins v. Union Fed. Sav. & Loan Ass'n, 24 99 Nev. 284, 303, 662 P.2d 610, 622 (1983). To succeed on a civil conspiracy claim, a 25 plaintiff must prove both an agreement, and that the conduct of each tortfeasor is tortious.
26 GES, Inc. v. Corbitt, 117 Nev. 265, 271, 21 P.3d 11, 15 (2001) (quoting Dow Chemical 27 Co. v. Mahlum, 114 Nev. 1468, 1488-89, 970 P.2d 98, 111-12 (1998)).

28 ///

1 Plaintiffs opposition fails to explain the critical deficiency in their Complaint, that 2 they fail to allege the identify of the other “person” with whom RTC supposedly agreed to 3 accomplish the unlawful objective of parking on Plaintiffs’ property. This is a critical 4 failure because a claim for civil conspiracy requires two or more persons, and Plaintiffs 5 have identified only one. Therefore, this claim should be dismissed.

6 Elder Abuse (Eleventh Cause of Action)

7 Plaintiffs specifically rely on NRS 200.5091, et seq., as the basis for their claim of 8 elder abuse. As pointed out in RTC’s motion, those statutory provisions are clearly 9 criminal in nature and do not provide for a civil remedy. Plaintiffs nevertheless argue in 10 their opposition that NRS Chapter 200 somehow provides them with a civil claim for 11 relief against RTC but fail to cite to any particular statutory section affording that relief.
12 When a statute does not expressly provide for a private cause of action, the absence of 13 such a provision suggests that the Legislature did not intend for the statute to be enforced 14 through a private right of action. Richardson Const., Inc. v. Clark County School Dist., 15 123 Nev. 61, 65, 156 P.3d 21, 24 (2007). Therefore, this claim should be dismissed.

16 Intentional and/or Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress; Tort of Outrage
17 (Twelfth Cause of Action)

18 Plaintiffs point to pages 17-18 of their Complaint, with emphasis on paragraph 91, 19 in arguing that they have sufficiently alleged a claim for intentional and/or infliction of 20 emotional distress. Plaintiffs claim these pages “very cogently and compellingly describe 21 the egregious and mean-spirited acts and conduct of Defendants....” Opposition at 7:24-22 8:1. However, a review of those pages reveals no factual allegations about RTC’s alleged 23 conduct, only conclusory allegations that appear to rely on earlier allegations in the 24 Complaint. See Complaint, ¶¶ 89-95. As pointed out in RTC’s motion, those earlier 25 allegations are that RTC “drove over and parked” on Plaintiffs’ property without 26 Plaintiffs’ permission. Id. at ¶ 9.

27 In its motion, RTC pointed out that the “extreme and outrageous conduct” 28 necessary to support this tort must be conduct that is outside all possible bounds of 1 decency and is utterly intolerable in a civilized society, as opposed to that which is merely 2 inconsiderate and unkind. Maduike v. Agency Rent-A-Car, 114 Nev. 1, 953 P.2d 24 3 (1998). Plaintiffs' Complaint fails to include factual allegations of extreme and 4 outrageous conduct by RTC. At best, the allegations if proven would demonstrate an 5 inconsiderate trespass on Plaintiffs' property. Therefore, Plaintiffs' claim for intentional 6 infliction of emotional distress should be dismissed.

7 Plaintiffs fail to specifically address RTC's motion to dismiss their claim for 8 negligent infliction of emotional distress. In the case of Smith v. Clough, 106 Nev. 568, 9 569-570, 796 P.2d 592, 593-594 (1990), the Nevada Supreme Court clearly held that 10 recovery is not allowed for emotional distress arising from property damage. That is 11 exactly the essence of Plaintiffs' complaint here. They claim emotional distress arising 12 from RTC's alleged misuse of their real property. Therefore, Plaintiffs have failed to 13 allege an actionable claim for negligent infliction of emotional distress under Nevada law.
14 This claim should be dismissed.

15 Conclusion

16 Plaintiffs causes of action for injunctive relief, tortious breach of the covenant of 17 good faith and fair dealing, breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust, waste, conversion, 18 civil conspiracy, elder abuse, and intentional and negligent infliction of emotional distress 19 all fail as matter of law based on the allegations of the complaint. RTC requests that the 20 Court enter an order dismissing these causes of action from this lawsuit.

25 entry of the Court's order as follows:

- 26 1. Plaintiffs no longer wish to pursue any damages for emotional distress or 27 personal injury, and instead have decided to limit their compensatory damages 28

1 claims in this case solely to the property damage to their parking lot as alleged 2 in their Complaint.

3 2. In entering this Stipulation, Plaintiffs are advised by legal counsel and fully 4 understand that they are voluntarily agreeing to waive any damages for 5 emotional distress or personal injury with prejudice, such that they can never

ORDER ADDRESSING MOTION TO DISMISS

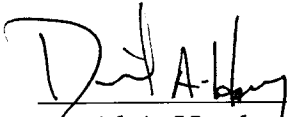

Before this Court is the Regional Transportation Commission's (RTC) motion to dismiss. After the matter was submitted, the parties stipulated to dismiss certain claims for relief. The stipulation and order contemplates the 12th claim for "intentional and/or negligent infliction of emotional distress aka tort of outrage" and all other claims for damages other than compensatory damages will be dismissed. The apparent purpose of the stipulation was to prevent discovery relating to Plaintiffs' medical records and treating physicians.

Cause appearing, it is appropriate for Plaintiffs to file an amended complaint in which they set forth their extant claims. This will assist this Court and the finder of fact. FIRST AMENDED

$50,000)

21 COME NOW JOHN ILIESCU, JR., AND SONNIA ILIESCU, TRUSTEES OF THE 22 JOHN ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA ILIESCU 1992 FAMILY TRUST (“Trust”); JOHN 23 ILIESCU, JR., an individual (“John”); and SONNIA ILIESCUE, an individual (“Sonnia”), 24 together sometimes referred to “Plaintiffs”, and as and for their amended complaint against the 25 Defendants, and each of them, jointly and severally, allege as follows: 26
28

1 PARTIES, JURISDICTION AND VENUE

2 1. Plaintiff Trust is the owner of the real property and improvements thereon
3 located at 642 E. 4th St., Reno, NV 89501, Washoe County assessor parcel number 008
4 – 244 – 15 (“Property”). Plaintiffs John and Sonnia are the sole Trustees of the Trust
5 and, as Individual Plaintiffs, are domiciled in and residents of, Washoe County, NV, 6 and conduct business therein.

7 2. Defendant RTC is a special purpose unit of government, duly organized
8 and existing under the laws of the state of Nevada. RTC’s principal offices are located 9 at 1105 Terminal Way, Reno, NV. The RTC is charged with providing regional 10 transportation services. All Defendants are residents of and conduct business in 11 Washoe County, NV.

12 3. Based on the facts set forth in paragraphs 1 and 2, above, Jurisdiction and 13 Venue are proper in this Court and County.

14 4. In furtherance of its power to exercise the right of eminent domain to 15 acquire a portion of ileus skews Property for public purposes, RTC initiated 16 condemnation proceedings against the Property, allegedly needed for the construction 17 of the Fourth Street/Prater TRC project, referred to herein as “the Project.”

18 5. Plaintiff does not know the true names or capacities of the Defendants 19 sued as DOES 1-40 and ROE CORPORATIONS 1-20, and therefore sues those 20 Defendants by fictitious names. Plaintiff is informed and believes, and therefore 21 alleges, that each of those Defendants is legally responsible for the claims for relief and 22 the events and happenings referred to herein and caused damage to the Plaintiff and 23 their Property. Plaintiff will seek leave of the Court to amend this Complaint to show 24 their true names and capacities when the true identities of the fictitious Defendants have 25 been determined.

26 6. At all relevant times, certain Defendants were the agents and/or 27 employees of certain co-Defendants and were acting within the course and scope of 28

1 such agency and/or employment and with the permission and consent of such co-
2 Defendants.

3 7. At all relevant times, the Defendants were working in concert with each
4 other to engage in the conduct alleged in this Complaint, all in furtherance of the RTC's 5 condemnation of the Property and conduct related to and directly impacting the 6 Property and Project.

7 FACTUAL OVERVIEW

8 8. This action seeks damages and injunctive and declaratory relief against 9 Defendants, and each of them, jointly and severally, for their respective willful,
10 malicious and destructive trespass on and over, and damages to the Property, both 11 before, during and after the work done on that portion of the Property not subject to the 12 condemnation, and not involved in whatsoever nature in the Project, which, for 13 purposes herein, shall be referred to as the "Remaining Property". For purposes of this 14 action, and as referenced herein, the Remaining Property does not include the building
15 and related improvements on the Property, but specifically does include all paved 16 parking areas located on and constituting part of the Property.

17 9. To the extent that RTC and/or other Defendants had a limited form of 18 temporary easement over the Remaining Property, RTC and/or the other Defendants, 19 and each of them, surcharged, abused and far exceeded any reasonable use of any 20 temporary easement, and were negligent in their respective conduct related to the 21 Remaining Property.

22 10. Defendants RTC, ROE CORPORATIONS 1-20 and DOES 1-40, acting
23 jointly and severally, intentionally and without the permission of plaintiff, on virtually 24 every workday during the term of the Project, drove over and parked their respective 25 vehicles, including personal vehicles, ranging from approximately 20-ton trucks, down
26 to pick-up trucks, SUV's and automobiles, on the Remaining Property, sometimes 27 precluding Plaintiffs from using any portion of the Remaining Property. This conduct 28

1 occurred without the consent of Plaintiff, and in fact, in total disregard of Plaintiffs'
2 respective frequent objections to such unauthorized and illegal use of the Remaining 3 Property. Plaintiff requested on many occasions that Defendants cease and desist in 4 their respective use, abuse and damaging conduct on the Remaining Property, but 5 Defendants ignored Plaintiff's requests.

6 Plaintiffs will provide photos (during the discovery phase) of the many heavy 7 vehicles which Defendants, and each of them, intentionally and maliciously caused to 8 be placed on the Property and the Remaining Property on each and every work day 9 throughout the term of the condemnation activities, and thereafter. Defendants 10 continued to use the Property and Remaining Property as their personal parking area, 11 all in an abusive disregard for the rights of Plaintiffs.

12 11. The constant use, weights of the vehicles and lengthy periods of parking 13 by RTC and/or Defendants caused permanent damage to the Remaining Property, and 14 precluded use of sections of the Remaining Property, all proximately caused by the 15 willful and unauthorized use of the Remaining Property by RTC and/or the Defendants.

16 12. This conduct was the proximate cause of significant reparable and 17 irreparable damages to the Remaining Property and to each of the respective Plaintiffs, 18 including, but not limited to:

- 19 a. Loss of market value of the Remaining Property;
- 20 b. Loss of use of the Remaining Property by Plaintiffs, and each of 21 them;
- 22 c. Costs of Property restoration; and
- 23 d. Physical damage to and destruction of the Property.

25 FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
(Injunctive Relief)

26 13. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in 27 paragraphs 1-12 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

1 14. Plaintiffs have a reasonable probability of success on the merits on each
2 and all of the causes of action asserted in this Complaint.

3 15. As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' conduct, jointly and 4 severally, Plaintiffs are each, separately, suffering irreparable harm to their rights, titles 5 and property interests, as well as their respective abilities to exercise their rights in and 6 to the Property, including, but not limited to their respective rights:

7 a. to have full and exclusive control, use and possession of the 8 Property, which were unlawfully violated and damaged by the 9 Defendants, jointly and severally, including, but not limited to 10 Defendants' breach of contract, breach of fiduciary duties/trust, 11 misrepresentation, fraud, negligence, conversion for their own 12 respective personal use and benefit, trespass, and conspiracy to 13 engage in such conduct; and

14 b. to exercise their respective rights and derive all of the benefits 15 associated with their ownership of and rights in and to the 16 Property, which were unlawfully damaged by the Defendants'
17 joint and several breach of contract, breach of fiduciary 18 duties/trust, misrepresentation, fraud, negligence, conversion for 19 their own respective personal use and benefit, trespass, and 20 conspiracy to engage in such conduct.

21 16. Plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law to terminate, correct or rectify 22 the Defendants' unlawful conduct without judicial equitable relief, and such conduct is 23 causing the Plaintiffs irreparable damage, none of which damage is able to be 24 adequately compensated by financial awards or damages. Compensatory damages are 25 simply inadequate.

26 17. Plaintiffs are entitled to an immediate temporary and permanent 27 injunction enjoining Defendants, and each of them, jointly and severally, and ordering 28

1 them, jointly and severally, and their respective officers, directors, agents, managers, 2 members, employees, agents, representatives, attorneys, successors and assigns, and 3 those acting in concert with them, and all persons acting on their behalf, directly or 4 indirectly, or acting for or in concert with them, to immediately cease and desist any 5 and all conduct and actions to enter upon, use or otherwise pass over, on or through the 6 Property.

7 18. The public's interest in seeing the harm and conduct stopped, as well as 8 the relative hardships of the parties should the Court take or refuse to grant relief 9 herein, weigh in favor of Plaintiffs, the owners of all rights, titles and interests in and to 10 the Property, and their right to injunctive relief. Indeed, the purpose of the requested 11 injunctive relief sought herein is to preserve the status quo and/or preserve a property 12 interest, and the only parties to this action who have an undisputed and undeniable right 13 to use the Property are the Plaintiffs.

14 19. Plaintiffs were each required to retain the services of an attorney to 15 prosecute this action and are, therefore, each entitled to an award of legal fees, costs 16 and expenses incurred herein.

17 20. Plaintiffs respectfully request that the bond required by NRCP 65(c) be 18 for a de minimis amount, as Defendants have no basis or right in law or fact to ever use 19 the Property. That right belongs solely to Plaintiffs.

21 herein.

23 SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of Contract)

24 21. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in 25 paragraphs 1-20 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here. The Trust and RTC 26 entered into valid agreement by which RTC was entitled to condemn and install utilities
28

1 on a very small portion of the Trust's Property, and the Trust received consideration for 2 such right.

3 22. Defendants' respective conduct, as alleged in the causes for action set 4 forth in this Complaint, constitutes a breach of the terms and conditions of the Trust-5 RTC agreement.

6 23. Defendants' conduct was motivated and evidenced by self-interest, greed, 7 and profit, and was willful and malicious.

8 24. As a direct and proximate result of each Defendants' conduct, the Trust 9 and other Plaintiffs have each incurred general and special damages, each class of 10 damages in excess of $15,000.00.

11 25. Plaintiffs are each entitled to an award of costs, attorney's fees and 12 expenses incurred herein.

13 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for judgment as more particularly hereinafter set 14 forth.

16 THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of the Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing – Contract Claim)

17 26. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in 18 paragraphs 1-26 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

19 27. RTC and the other Defendants entered into valid agreements with 20 Plaintiffs by which they exercised their respective condemnation activities.

21 28. Consistent with Nevada laws and case authorities, every 22 contract/agreement, specifically including the agreements at issue herein, contains an 23 implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing which prohibits any contracting party 24 from injuring another party's right to receive the benefits of the agreement. Breach of 25 this implied covenant creates a cause of action in contract. Accordingly, Defendants 26 were legally obligated to act in good faith and deal fairly with Plaintiffs in the 27 performance of the agreements.
28

1 29. Plaintiffs each had justifiable expectations and relied on the fact that RTC
2 and the other Defendants would honor the terms and conditions of the agreements and 3 act in good faith and deal fairly with the Plaintiffs and the Property, as well as the 4 Remaining Property, including but not limited to, conducting their activities and 5 exercising their respective condemnation rights and duties using due care, good faith 6 and fair dealing, and giving deference and respect to the Remaining Property, which 7 Defendants had no right to use. Each of the Plaintiffs also had a reasonable and 8 justifiable expectation that they would each receive certain benefits consistent with the 9 terms, conditions, spirit and intent of the agreements.

10 30. By reason of the Defendants' aforementioned deliberate acts and conduct, 11 the Defendants have acted in a manner that was in violation of and/or unfaithful to the 12 purpose of the condemnation-related activities and agreement(s) and breached the 13 covenant of good faith and fair dealing in violation of Nevada Law.

14 31. As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants' joint and several 15 conduct, Plaintiffs have each incurred general and special damages, each class of such 16 damages in excess of $15,000.00.

17 32. The conduct of Defendants, and each of them, acting jointly and 18 severally, was willful, wanton and reckless and, therefor, Plaintiffs respectfully request 19 such other and further relief as this Court deems just and equitable.

20 33. Plaintiffs are each entitled to an award of costs, attorney's fees and 21 expenses incurred herein.

22 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for judgment as more particularly hereinafter set 23 forth.

25 FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION
26 (Breach of Fiduciary Duty/Breach of Trust)

27 34. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in 28 paragraphs 1 to 34 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

1 35. In connection with their respective exercise of condemnation rights and 2 duties, Defendants, jointly and severally, had fiduciary duties they owed to the 3 Plaintiffs, and each of them.

4 36. RTC and the other Defendants facilitated, participated in and encouraged
5 the conduct by Defendants, as set forth herein, which was in breach of trust and breach 6 of fiduciary duties owed to each of the Plaintiffs by each of the Defendants.

7 37. Each of the Defendants knowingly assisted, facilitated and encouraged 8 each of the other Defendants, together with the agents thereof, to engage in the conduct 9 described herein.

10 38. The Defendants, and each of them, were at all material times aware of, or 11 should have been aware of, the fiduciary duties owed by each of the Defendants to each 12 of the Plaintiffs.

13 39. The Defendant RTC, as well as the other Defendants, knew, or should 14 have known by exercising reasonable diligence and inquiry, that their respective 15 conduct relating to the Remaining Property, was encouraging, facilitating and enabling 16 in a breach of the fiduciary duty and trust each of the Defendants jointly and severally
17 owed to each of the Plaintiffs in relation to their conduct relating to the Remaining 18 Property.

19 40. The failure and refusal of the Defendants to honor and abide in 20 accordance with the terms of the RTC-Trust agreement as and when demanded by 21 Plaintiffs, and each of them, constitutes a breach of trust and breach of fiduciary duty
22 by the Defendants, jointly and severally.

23 41. The breach of trust and breach of fiduciary duties owed by each of the 24 Defendants to each of the Plaintiffs was motivated by self-interest, greed, and profit, 25 and was willful and malicious.

26 42. As a direct and proximate result of each of the Defendants' respective 27 conduct, each of the Plaintiffs have incurred general and special damages, each class of 28

1 damages in excess of $15,000.00.

2 43. The Plaintiffs are each entitled to an award of costs, attorney's fees and 3 expenses incurred herein from Defendants, jointly and severally.

4 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for judgment as more particularly hereinafter set 5 forth.

6 FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION
7 (Declaratory Relief)

8 44. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in 9 paragraphs 1-44 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

10 45. Plaintiffs bring this claim pursuant to NRS Chapter 30, the Declaratory 11 Judgment Act and NRCP 57.

12 46. A case of actual controversy exists between Plaintiffs and Defendants.

13 47. There is no basis in law or fact on which the Defendants can be found to 14 have performed, or were excused from performance, under the RTC-Trust agreement, 15 and said Defendants were not entitled or allowed, nor should they ever be entitled or 16 allowed to have (a) custody or control of, or (b) any right to pass on, over or through, or 17 take any action of whatsoever nature relating to the Property owned solely and 18 exclusively by Plaintiffs.

19 48. The Defendants' respective use of the Property and the Remaining 20 Property caused irreparable damage to the Plaintiffs and their Property.

21 49. Plaintiffs are entitled to an order from this Court declaring the rights and 22 relationships between and among the Plaintiffs and Defendants, and declaring that:

23 a. Defendant RTC totally failed and refused to properly and fully 24 perform all terms and conditions of the RTC-Trust agreement or 25 faithfully perform its condemnation activities.

26 b. The Trust and Plaintiffs John and Sonnia are the sole and exclusive 27 legal and beneficial owners of the Property, and all rights, titles 28 and interests thereto.

- 1 c. The Defendants never had and never will have any right, title or 2 interest in or to the Property, nor any right to pass over or through, 3 or park on, or use the Property;
- 4 d. Defendants knowingly and wrongfully used the Remaining 5 Property for their respective personal purpose, including use 6 thereof for parking their respective vehicles, including vehicles of 7 their respective employees, as well as third parties, and did so 8 without right, permission or paying compensation to Plaintiffs.
- 9 e. Defendants, and each of them, acting jointly and severally, 10 wrongfully and knowingly parked their respective vehicles on the 11 Remaining Property, causing extensive and, potentially irreparable 12 damage to the Property, all with a callous and indifferent disregard 13 of the law and each respective Plaintiff's undeniable, sole and 14 exclusive right to use the Remaining Property.

16 herein.

18 SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Waste)

19 50. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in 20 paragraphs 1-50 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

21 51. The conduct of Defendants, and their respective agents and associates, 22 constitutes acts of waste to the Property. Accordingly, pursuant to NRS 40.150, each 23 Plaintiff is entitled to treble (3X) damages.

24 52. Defendants' acts caused permanent damage and lasting injury to the 25 Property, to the prejudice of and harm to each Plaintiff, as each Plaintiff has a legally 26 cognizable interest in the Property.

1 53. As a direct and proximate result of each Defendant’s conduct, Plaintiffs 2 have each incurred general and special damages, each class of damages in excess of 3 $15,000.00.

4 54. The conduct of Defendants, and each of them, acting jointly and 5 severally, was willful, wanton and reckless and, therefor, Plaintiffs respectfully 6 request such other and further relief as this Court deems just and equitable.

7 55. The Plaintiffs are each entitled to an award of costs, attorney’s fees and 8 expenses incurred herein.

9 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for judgment as more particularly hereinafter set 10 forth.

12 SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION
 (Conversion)

13 56. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in 14 paragraphs 1-56 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

15 57. The Defendants have each, motivated by self-interest, greed, and profit, 16 and based upon their respective conduct, as alleged in this Complaint, distinctly, 17 intentionally and wrongfully engaged in innumerable acts of dominion and control over 18 portions of the Property for their own use and benefit, and to the exclusion and denial 19 of, and inconsistent with the rights of Plaintiffs to use and enjoy the Property.

20 58. Such conduct, as described herein, was committed in derogation, 21 exclusion and defiance of each Plaintiff’s rights, titles and interests in and to the 22 Property, together with John’s and Sonnia’s respective rights and interests in the Trust.

23 59. As a direct and proximate result of the Defendants’ joint and several 24 conduct, the Plaintiffs have each incurred general and special damages, each class of 25 damages in excess of $15,000.00.

1 60. The conduct of Defendants, and each of them, acting jointly and 2 severally, was willful, wanton and reckless and, therefor, Plaintiffs respectfully
3 request such other and further relief as this Court deems just and equitable.

4 61. The Plaintiffs are each entitled to an award of costs, attorney's fees and 5 expenses incurred herein.

6 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for judgment as more particularly hereinafter set 7 forth.

9 EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION
 (Trespass)

10 62. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in 11 paragraphs 1-62 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

12 63. Defendants jointly and severally conducted an invasion of the Property, 13 including the Remaining Property, all owned of record and belonging solely and 14 exclusively to the Trust, of which John and Sonnia are the sole Trustees and 15 Beneficiaries.

16 64. The intrusion by Defendants, and each of them, was done intentionally 17 and maliciously, with total disregard of the rights, titles and interests of Plaintiffs.

18 65. As a direct and proximate result of the conduct of Defendants, and each 19 of them, Plaintiffs have each incurred general and special damages, each class of 20 damages in excess of $15,000.00.

21 66. The conduct of Defendants, and each of them, acting jointly and 22 severally, was willful, wanton and reckless and, therefor, Plaintiffs respectfully request
23 such other and further relief as this Court deems just and equitable.

24 67. The Plaintiffs are each entitled to an award of costs, attorney's fees and 25 expenses incurred herein.

26 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for judgment as more particularly hereinafter set 27 forth.

1 75. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in
2 paragraphs 1-73 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

3 76. The conduct of Defendants, and each of them, as described in each and 4 all of the causes of action set forth in this Complaint, constitutes a breach of duty and 5 negligence towards Plaintiffs, and each of them.

6 77. As a direct and proximate result of the conduct of Defendants, and each 7 of them, the Plaintiffs have each incurred general and special damages, each class of 8 damages in excess of $15,000.00.

9 78. The conduct of Defendants, and each of them, acting jointly and 10 severally, was willful, wanton and reckless and, therefor, Plaintiffs respectfully request
11 such other and further relief as this Court deems just and equitable.

12 79. Plaintiffs were required to retain the services of an attorney to prosecute 13 this action and are, therefore, entitled to an award of legal fees, costs and expenses 14 incurred herein.

16 forth.

18 ELEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of the Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing – Tort Claim)

19 79. Plaintiffs re-allege and incorporate by reference the allegations stated in 20 paragraphs 1-78 of this Complaint, as though fully stated here.

21 80. RTC and the other Defendants entered into valid agreements with 22 Plaintiffs by which they exercised their respective condemnation activities.

23 81. Consistent with Nevada laws and case authorities, every 24 contract/agreement, specifically including the agreements at issue herein, contains an 25 implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing which prohibits any contracting party 26 from injuring another party's right to receive the benefits of the agreement. Breach of 27 this implied covenant creates a cause of action in tort. Accordingly, Defendants were 28

1 legally obligated/had a duty to act in good faith and deal fairly with Plaintiffs in the 2 performance of the agreements.

3 82. A tort cause of action is based, in part, on the existence of a "special 4 relationship" between the contracting parties, which justifies imposing the duty as a 5 matter of law, independent of the underlying agreements. This "special relationship" 6 and the vulnerability of the Plaintiffs are the public policy bases warranting tort 7 remedies for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing in 8 commercial cases. Factors that support the tort claim, and facts of this case addressing 9 such factors, are as follows:

10 a) whether the relationship of Plaintiffs and Defendants is inherently 11 unbalanced;

12 i) Plaintiffs are mere private citizens and Defendants, and specifically, 13 RTC, is a significantly large and controlling entity, vested with expansive and plenary 14 governmental-like powers, specifically enabled and sanctioned by the government to 15 manage and control the transportation industry in this region. The relationship between 16 the parties is a classic individual citizen vs. Big Government, which "is" inherently 17 unbalanced".

18 b) whether the agreement between Plaintiffs and Defendants is adhesive in 19 nature;

20 i) The decision to "take" Plaintiffs' Property was made unilaterally and 21 exclusively by collaboration between Big Government and Defendant RTC. Moreover, 22 the terms and conditions of the agreement between the Plaintiffs and Defendant RTC, 23 "taking" Plaintiffs' private property, are mandated/dictated solely by the RTC, using 24 government-sanctioned, government-controlled, and government-enforced laws, rules 25 and regulations, all without any involvement, participation or negotiations with 26 Plaintiffs. Manifestly, when the RTC and Big Government presented Plaintiffs with a 27 fully-completed agreement (save and except for Plaintiff's' signature), which they 28

1 unilaterally wrote (with no involvement by Plaintiffs), and presented that agreement to 2 Plaintiffs, with a take-it-or-leave-it attitude, it falls squarely within the text-book 3 definition of “adhesive”.

4 c) whether Plaintiffs are seeking a commercial advantage over Defendants, as 5 opposed to mere protection, peace of mind and security by entering into the 6 agreements;

7 i) By virtue of the above-referenced process and protocols employed 8 by Defendants in the “taking” of Plaintiffs’ private property, Plaintiffs had no desire, 9 inclination or thoughts about seeking a commercial advantage over Defendants, but 10 instead, simply wanted to have protection, peace of mind and security by entering into 11 the subject agreements.

12 d) whether Defendants are involved or engaged in "quasi-public" activities, and 13 if so, the obligation of good faith and fair dealing requires qualities of decency and 14 humanity inherent in the responsibilities of a fiduciary.

15 i) By virtue of the above-referenced process and protocols employed by 16 Defendants in the “taking” of Plaintiffs’ private property, Defendants were, and are 17 involved and engaged in "quasi-public" activities.

18 83. Based on the “special relationship” between Plaintiffs and Defendants, as 19 discussed and established above, the conduct of Defendants, jointly and severally, 20 breaches the tort duty of good faith and fair dealing.

21 84. As a direct and proximate result of the conduct of Defendants, and each 22 of them, the Plaintiffs have each incurred general and special damages, each class of 23 damages in excess of $15,000.00.

24 85. The conduct of Defendants, and each of them, acting jointly and 25 severally, was willful, wanton and reckless and, therefor, Plaintiffs respectfully request
26 such other and further relief as this Court deems just and equitable.

1 86. Plaintiffs were required to retain the services of an attorney to prosecute 2 this action and are, therefore, entitled to an award of legal fees, costs and expenses
3 incurred herein.

4 WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for judgment as more particularly hereinafter set 5 forth.

7 REQUEST FOR JUDGMENT/PRAAYER FOR RELIEF

8 Plaintiffs request a judgment in favor of each of the Plaintiffs, separately, and 9 against each of the Defendants, jointly and severally, as follows:

- 10 1. An Ex Parte Temporary Restraining Order and Order setting an 11 immediate hearing on a preliminary injunction, as set forth in the FIRST 12 CAUSE OF ACTION;
- 13 2. For judgment in favor of each Plaintiff and against each Defendant, 14 jointly and severally, on all causes of action set forth herein.
- 15 3. An Order consolidating the preliminary injunction hearing with a trial on 16 the merits;
- 17 4. An injunction consistent with the FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION;
- 18 5. An Order granting declaratory relief, consistent with the FIFTH CAUSE 19 OF ACTION;
- 20 6. General damages in excess of $15,000.00 in favor of each of the Plaintiffs 21 and against each of the Defendants, jointly and severally;
- 22 7. Special damages in excess of $15,000.00 in favor of each of the Plaintiffs 23 and against each of the Defendants, jointly and severally;
- 24 8. Reasonable attorney’s fees and costs incurred in this action in favor of the 25 Plaintiffs and against the Defendants, jointly and severally;
- 26 9. For a jury trial on all issues raised herein; and
- 27 10. Such other and further relief as this Court deems just and equitable.

Case No.: CV19-00459

Dept. No.: 15

27 SUPPLEMENTAL MOTION TO DISMISS

28 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”), moves this Court pursuant to NRCPC 12 and the Court’s order of January 7, 2020, for an order dismissing certain of Plaintiffs’ claims. This supplemental motion is based on the following points and authorities and the pleadings on file, including the prior briefing on RTC’s original motions to dismiss.

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 This supplemental motion follows the briefing and submission of RTC's motion to 3 dismiss filed on September 25, 2019. After that motion was submitted, Plaintiffs agreed 4 to the dismissal of their claims for emotional distress and to waive any damages for 5 emotional distress or personal injury. See Stipulation For Entry Of Order Dismissing 6 Certain Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief And Damages With Prejudice, filed on December 6, 7 2019. Plaintiffs agreed to limit their compensatory damages claim to the alleged property 8 damage to their parking lot. Id.

9 On January 7, 2020, the Court entered an Order Addressing Motion To Dismiss, in 10 which it directed Plaintiffs to file an amended complaint consistent setting forth their 11 extant claims. Plaintiffs filed their First Amended Complaint on January 21, 2020 12 ("FAC"). The FAC seeks damages and equitable relief arising from Defendants alleged 13 trespass on Plaintiffs' parking lot located at 642 E. 4th Street in Reno. FAC at ¶ 8.
14 Plaintiffs allege that RTC and its agents "drove over and parked their respective vehicles" 15 in the parking lot without Plaintiffs' consent, thereby damaging the parking lot. Id. at ¶ 16 10. Plaintiffs allege permanent damage to the property, including: (1) loss of market 17 value; (2) loss of use; (3) cost of restoration; and (4) physical damage to and destruction 18 of the property. Id. at ¶ 12.

19 Based on these general allegations, Plaintiffs' FAC asserts eleven causes of action: 20 (1) Injunctive Relief; (2) Breach of Contract; (3) Contractual Breach of the Covenant of 21 Good Faith and Fair Dealing; (4) Breach of Fiduciary Duty/Breach of Trust; (5)
22 Declaratory Relief; (6) Waste; (7) Conversion; (8) Trespass; (9) Civil Conspiracy; (10)
23 Negligence; (11) Tortious Breach of the Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing;

24 RTC seeks dismissal of Plaintiffs' first, fourth, sixth, seventh, ninth and eleventh 25 causes of action, as the allegations of the FAC fail to establish the elements of these 26 claims or otherwise fail as a matter of law. In the interest of brevity, RTC incorporates by 27 reference the legal standard set forth in its original motion.

28 ///

1 III. THE FOLLOWING CLAIMS SHOULD BE DISMISSED PURSUANT TO 2 NRC 12(b)(5).

3 1. Injunctive Relief—First Cause of Action

4 Plaintiffs seek injunctive relief preventing RTC from entering upon and/or using 5 their property. FAC at ¶ 17. The alleged purpose of the requested injunctive relief is to 6 preserve the status quo. Id. at ¶ 18. However, like their original complaint filed on 7 February 27, 2019, Plaintiffs’ FAC contains no allegations that RTC or anyone else is 8 currently attempting to enter upon or otherwise use the property. There are no factual 9 allegations that the status quo is threatened in any way. The FAC contains only 10 conclusory allegations of irreparable harm, but no factual predicate to support that 11 conclusion. In fact, Plaintiffs’ allegation is that the alleged conduct occurred “on virtually 12 every workday during the term of the Project,” which concluded in 2018. Further, despite 13 the assertion of this cause of action and the fact that this case has been pending for almost 14 a year now, Plaintiffs have never filed a motion for injunctive relief to address the alleged 15 “irreparable harm.”

16 Therefore, Plaintiffs’ cause of action for injunctive relief should be dismissed.

17 2. Breach of Fiduciary Duty/Breach of Trust—Fourth Cause of Action

18 Plaintiffs allege that RTC owed them a fiduciary duty in connection with RTC’s 19 exercise of its right of condemnation. FAC at ¶ 35. Under the Restatement (Second) of Torts, 20 a “fiduciary relation exists between two persons when one of them is under a duty to act for or 21 to give advice for the benefit of another upon matters within the scope of the relation.”
22 Restatement (Second) of Torts, § 874 cmt. a (1979).

23 Here, there are no allegations that RTC was acting for the benefit of Plaintiffs or 24 giving them advice. The only factual allegations are that RTC and Plaintiffs had a contract 25 regarding RTC’s use of and construction upon Plaintiffs’ property and breached that contract.
26 FAC at ¶ 40. Contractual relationships do not typically give rise to fiduciary duties among 27 the parties to the contract. Schlumberger Tech. Corp. v. Swanson, 959 S.W.2d 171, 177 (Tex.
28 1997). A fiduciary or confidential relationship may arise from the circumstances of a

1 particular case; however, to impose such a relationship in a business transaction, the 2 relationship must exist prior to, and apart from, the agreement made the basis of the suit. Id.
3 There are no such factual allegations in the FAC.

4 Further, as a general rule in Nevada, state officials have a duty to exercise only
5 ordinary care in performing their duties. Butler ex rel. Biller v. Bayer, 123 Nev. 450, 464, 6 168 P.3d 1055, 1065 (2007). And, other states have held: “An actionable confidential or 7 special relationship cannot exist between a government agency and a private citizen, as a
8 matter of law.” See, e.g., Johnson v. Sawyer, 760 F.Supp. 1216, 1233 (S.D. Tex. 1991).

9 Accepting Plaintiffs’ allegations as true, the mere existence of a contract between 10 Plaintiffs and RTC for construction upon and temporary use of Plaintiffs’ property does not 11 by itself establish a fiduciary duty. Therefore, Plaintiffs’ cause of action for 12 breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust should be dismissed.

13 3. Waste—Sixth Cause of Action

14 Plaintiffs assert an action for waste under NRS 40.150 and claim treble damages.
15 FAC at ¶ 51. That statute provides: “If a guardian, tenant for life or years, joint tenant or 16 tenant in common of real property commit waste thereon, any person aggrieved by the 17 waste may bring an action against the guardian or tenant who committed the waste, in 18 which action there may be judgment for treble damages.” However, there are no 19 allegations in the complaint that RTC is a guardian, tenant for life or years, joint tenant, or 20 tenant in common of the real property. In fact, Plaintiffs specifically allege that RTC did 21 not have permission to use the “Remaining Property.” Id. at ¶ 10. Therefore, this claim 22 fails as a matter of law based on the allegations of the FAC.

23 4. Conversion—Seventh Cause of Action

24 Conversion is “a distinct act of dominion wrongfully exerted over another’s 25 personal property in denial of, or inconsistent with his title or rights therein or in 26 derogation, exclusion, or defiance of such title or rights.” Evans v. Dean Witter Reynolds, 27 Inc., 116 Nev. 598, 606, 5 P.3d 1043, 1048 (2000) (emphasis added). Plaintiffs’ FAC 28 contains no allegations regarding personal property. The allegations arise from damage to 1 real property, specifically their parking lot. FAC at ¶¶ 8, 10. As such, the tort of 2 conversion is not supported by the allegations and should be dismissed.

3 5. Civil Conspiracy—Ninth Cause of Action

4 A civil conspiracy claim exists when “a combination of two or more persons 5 who, by some concerted action, intend to accomplish some unlawful objective for the 6 purpose of harming another which results in damage.” Collins v. Union Fed. Sav. &
7 Loan Ass'n, 99 Nev. 284, 303, 662 P.2d 610, 622 (1983). To succeed on a civil 8 conspiracy claim, a plaintiff must prove both an agreement, and that the conduct of 9 each tortfeasor is tortious. GES, Inc. v. Corbitt, 117 Nev. 265, 271, 21 P.3d 11, 15
10 (2001) (quoting Dow Chemical Co. v. Mahlum, 114 Nev. 1468, 1488-89, 970 P.2d 98, 11 111-12 (1998)).

12 Plaintiffs’ complaint fails to allege the identity of the other “person” besides 13 RTC that was part of the conspiracy. Plaintiffs have had nearly a year since filing their 14 initial complaint in which to discover the identity of the alleged co-conspirators and 15 name them as defendants but have failed to do so. This cause of action should be 16 dismissed.

17 6. Tortious Breach of Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing— 18 Eleventh Cause of Action

19 This claim, as opposed to a claim for contractual breach of the implied covenant of 20 good faith and fair dealing, requires a special element of reliance or fiduciary duty exist 21 between the plaintiff and defendant, such that the defendant is in a superior or entrusted 22 position. Great Amer. Ins. Co. v. Gen. Builders, Inc., 113 Nev. 346, 354-355, 934 P.2d 23 257, 263 (1997). The tort action for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair 24 dealing is “limited to rare and exceptional cases.” Id. The Nevada Supreme Court has 25 recognized this type of reliance in relationships formed by employment, bailment, 26 insurance, partnership and franchise agreements.

27 Again, Plaintiffs’ allegations in the FAC boil down to the argument that RTC is 28 “big government” and Plaintiffs are private citizens. FAC at ¶ 82(a), (b). As discussed

1 above, RTC's status as a government agency does not, alone, create a fiduciary duty or 2 special relationship. Therefore, Plaintiffs' cause of action for tortious breach of the 3 implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing should be dismissed.

4 IV. CONCLUSION

5 Plaintiffs causes of action for injunctive relief, breach of fiduciary duty/breach of 6 trust, waste, conversion, civil conspiracy and tortious breach of the covenant of good faith 7 and fair dealing all fail as matter of law based on the allegations of the FAC. RTC 8 requests that the Court enter an order dismissing these causes of action from this lawsuit.

27 RTC") supplemental motion to dismiss. This Opposition is made and based upon, and 28 supported by, the following points and authorities, as follows:

1 POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. OVERVIEW

3 On January 21, 2020, the Iliescu plaintiffs filed their first amended complaint in 4 this case to conform to the parties’ December 6, 2019, stipulation related to the Iliescu 5 plaintiffs’ agreement to dismiss claims for damages other than compensatory damage 6 claims. The Iliescu plaintiffs’ first amended complaint asserts eleven causes of action 7 against the RTC for injunctive relief and various contract- and tort-based claims as it 8 concerns the RTC’s trespass over, damage to, and destruction of the Iliescu plaintiffs’ 9 property located at 642 E. 4th Street in Reno – property over which the RTC had 10 exercised and blatantly abused its eminent domain powers. In response to the Iliescu’s 11 first amended complaint, the RTC seeks to dismiss the Iliescu plaintiffs’ first 12 (injunctive relief), fourth (breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust), sixth (waste), 13 seventh (conversion), ninth (civil conspiracy), and eleventh (tortious breach of the 14 covenant of good faith and fair dealing) claims for relief, generally asserting that the 15 Iliescu plaintiffs fail to establish their claims or that they otherwise fail as a matter of 16 law. RTC’s assertions, however, are without merit and do not warrant an order 17 dismissing any of the Iliescu plaintiffs’ claims.

18 II. ARGUMENT

19 A claim should not be dismissed pursuant to NRCP 12(b)(5) unless it appears to 20 a certainty that the plaintiff could prove no set of facts that would entitle him to relief.
21 Holcomb Condo. Homeowners' Ass'n, Inc. v. Stewart Venture, LLC, 129 Nev. 181, 300
22 P.3d 124, 128 (2013), citing Cohen v. Mirage Resorts, Inc., 119 Nev. 1, 22, 62 P.3d 23 720, 732 (2003). This is a rigorous standard, as the reviewing court accepts all factual 24 recitations in the complaint as true and construes the pleading liberally, drawing 25 every inference in favor of the nonmoving party. Holcomb Condo. Homeowners’
26 Ass’n, supra, citing Citizens for Cold Springs v. City of Reno, 125 Nev. 625, 629, 218
27 P.3d 847, 850 (2009); see also Lubin v. Kunin, 117 Nev. 107, n. 1, 17 P.3d 422, n. 1

1 (2001) (reciting the well-recognized standard for considering motions to dismiss), 2 citing Vacation Village v. Hitachi America, 110 Nev. 481, 484, 874 P.2d 744 (1994).
3 To that end, dismissal for failure to state a claim is appropriate only if it appears beyond 4 doubt that the nonmoving party could prove no set of facts that, if true, would entitle it 5 to relief. Buzz Stew, LLC v. City of North Las Vegas, 124 Nev. 224, 228, 181 P.3d 670, 6 672 (2008). That standard is not one of “reasonable doubt” – it requires a showing 7 beyond a doubt. Id. at 228, n. 6, 181 P.3d at 672, n. 6. In this case, accepting the 8 Iliescu plaintiffs’ factual allegations as true, considering those allegations in the context 9 in which they are made, and drawing every permissible inference in the Iliescu 10 plaintiffs’ favor, dismissal as requested by the RTC is not warranted or appropriate.
11 The Iliescu plaintiffs have adequately alleged a valid claim for injunctive relief, and 12 have stated a valid claim for relief for the RTC’s breach of trust/breach of fiduciary 13 duties. Moreover, the factual allegations that support the Iliescu plaintiffs’ cause of 14 action for waste necessarily contemplate the statutory authority on which it is based, 15 and their claim for conversion has been adequately pleaded. Because the Iliescu 16 plaintiffs’ First Amended Complaint alleges the RTC’s conspiracy with others not yet 17 known to the Iliescu plaintiffs and because the discovery process has not yet been 18 triggered in this case, an order dismissing the Iliescu plaintiffs’ civil conspiracy claim is 19 not appropriate or warranted. Finally, the Iliescu plaintiffs have sufficiently alleged a 20 valid cause of action for the RTC’s tortious breach of the covenant of good faith and 21 fair dealing. Thus, because the RTC has failed to show that it is beyond doubt that the 22 Iliescu plaintiffs could prove no set of facts that, if true, would entitle them to relief, it 23 has failed to meet the rigorous standard imposed on it in bringing its motion to dismiss 24 pursuant to NRCPC 12(b)(5).

25 A. The Iliescu plaintiffs have adequately pled a claim for injunctive relief.

26 The RTC requests that this Court dismiss the Iliescu plaintiffs’ first cause of 27 action for injunctive relief because there is no factual predicate within that claim to 28

1 support an injunction. Specifically, RTC asserts that there are no allegations that the 2 RTC or anyone else is currently entering on or using the Iliescu plaintiffs' property, and 3 that the RTC project that gave rise to the Iliescu plaintiffs' claims in this case 4 concluded in 2018. Notwithstanding that the RTC offers nothing to substantiate its 5 assertions, it ignores the allegations in the Iliescu plaintiffs' First Amended Complaint.

6 In Nevada, an injunction is issued to protect a plaintiff from irreparable injury 7 and to preserve the court's power to render a meaningful decision after a trial on the 8 merits by preserving the status quo. Ottenheimer v. Real Estate Division, 91 Nev. 338, 9 535 P.2d 1284 (1975); NRS 33.010(3) (when it shall appear, during the litigation, that 10 the defendant is doing or threatens, or is about to do, or is procuring or suffering to be 11 done, some act in violation of the plaintiff's rights respecting the subject of the action, 12 and tending to render the judgment ineffectual). The standards for granting a 13 preliminary injunction requiring a showing that, without granting the relief requested, 14 the requesting party will suffer irreparable harm, that there is an inadequate remedy at 15 law, and that the requesting party has a reasonable likelihood of prevailing on the 16 merits of the case. Dixon v. Thatcher, 103 Nev. 414, 742 P.2d 1029 (1987). In this 17 case, the Iliescu plaintiffs' injunctive relief claim is not only based on the allegations 18 supporting that claim (First Amended Complaint at 5-6, ¶¶14-20), it incorporates by 19 reference the factual allegations that precede the claim (Id. at 4, ¶ 13, incorporating into 20 the injunctive relief claim the allegations stated in paragraphs 1-12 of the First 21 Amended Complaint). Included in those paragraphs are factual allegations that the 22 RTC's continued to trespass and damage the Iliescu plaintiffs' property even after they 23 completed their work and no longer had an easement. First Amended Complaint at 3, 24 ¶¶8-12. To that end, accepting the Iliescu plaintiffs' allegations as true and drawing all 25 reasonable inferences in their favor (Holcomb Condo. Homeowners' Ass'n, supra), and 26 considering that the RTC has a history of helping itself to the Iliescu plaintiffs' property 27 beyond any right to do so, the Iliescu plaintiffs seek to prohibit the RTC from 28

1 continuing to exercise any right it no longer has by, i.e., continuing to unlawfully use 2 the Iliescu plaintiffs' property as its own parking lot when they are downtown and 3 unable to find parking for their vehicles that caused have extensive damage to the 4 Iliescu plaintiffs' property. Thus, because the Iliescu plaintiffs have adequately pleaded 5 a cause of action against the RTC for injunctive relief, the RTC is not entitled to an 6 order dismissing that claim.

8 B. The Iliescu plaintiffs have stated a valid claim for relief for the RTC's breach of trust/breach of fiduciary duties.

9 The RTC goes on to challenge the Iliescu plaintiffs' claim alleging the RTC's 10 breach of fiduciary duty and breach of trust because the parties' relationship to each 11 other was a contractual relationship that does not give rise to a fiduciary relationship, 12 and the Iliescu plaintiffs do not allege what is required to establish any special duty 13 owed by the RTC to them. The Iliescu plaintiffs' First Amended Complaint, however, 14 says otherwise.

15 Indeed, the project that gives rise to the Iliescu plaintiffs' claims in this case was 16 a result of the RTC's exercise of eminent domain and its condemnation proceedings 17 against the Iliescu plaintiffs' property, and then its reprehensible conduct toward and 18 the damage it caused to the Iliescu plaintiffs and their property after the RTC no longer 19 had any legal right to trespass on and use the Iliescu plaintiffs' property. First 20 Amended Complaint at 2, ¶¶2, 4; 3, ¶ 7; 8-9, ¶¶ 34-41. Indeed, the nature of the 21 genesis of the parties' relationship and the RTC's unilateral actions by which it 22 subsequently and improperly exercised its position of superiority and, by imposing 23 itself on the Iliescu plaintiffs and taking control of their property, necessarily created an 24 obligation on the RTC to act in good faith and with due regard toward the interests of 25 the Iliescu plaintiffs, who had been required to repose special confidence in the RTC.
26 Id.; accord, Long v. Towne, 98 Nev. 11, 639 P.2d 529, 530 (Nev. 1982) (defining a 27 fiduciary relationship as requiring one in whom another party has reposed a special 28

1 confidence to act in good faith and with due regard to that party's interests). Thus, 2 based on the face of the First Amended Complaint – accepting all of its allegations as 3 true and drawing all reasonable inferences in favor of the Iliescu plaintiffs (see, supra) 4 – the Iliescu plaintiffs have stated a valid cause of action for the RTC's breach of 5 fiduciary duties/ breach of trust.

6 C. The factual allegations that support the Iliescu plaintiffs' cause of 7 action for waste necessarily contemplates the statutory authority on 8 which that claim is based.

9 In its challenge to the Iliescu plaintiffs' cause of action for waste pursuant to 10 NRS 40.150, the RTC asserts that the First Amended Complaint does not allege what 11 the statute for that claim requires. Accepting the Iliescu plaintiffs' allegations as true 12 and drawing all reasonable inferences in their favor, however, that contention is 13 contrary to the First Amended Complaint.

14 In relevant part, NRS 40.150, to which the First Amended Complaint 15 specifically cites in its Sixth Cause of Action for Waste (First Amended Complaint at 16 11, ¶ 51), states that if a guardian or tenant of real property commits waste on the 17 property, the party aggrieved by the waste may bring an action against the guardian or 18 tenant who committed the waste. As addressed above, the RTC had access to and use 19 of the Iliescu plaintiffs' property by way of its eminent domain and condemnation 20 powers that resulted in an easement over the Iliescu plaintiffs' property. First Amended 21 Complaint at 3-4, ¶¶ 8-10, incorporated by reference into the Sixth Cause of Action at 22 11, ¶ 50. By imposing itself onto and taking control of the Iliescu plaintiffs' property, 23 both for purposes of undertaking the project at issue and continuing occupy and 24 exercise control over the Iliescu plaintiffs' property beyond their right to do so, the 25 RTC necessarily became the guardian and/or tenant of the portion of the Iliescu 26 property over which it had control and used for purposes of the requirements of NRS 27 40.150. Thus, the Iliescu plaintiffs' First Amended Complaint states a valid cause of 28 action against the RTC for waste pursuant to NRS 40.150.

1 D. The Iliescu plaintiffs have adequately alleged a conversion claim.

2 The RTC requests that the Iliescu plaintiffs’ conversion claim be dismissed 3 based upon the nature of the property at issue in this case. On the face of the 4 complaint, however, the Iliescu plaintiffs generally allege the RTC’s acts of dominion 5 and control over the Iliescu plaintiffs’ property, the damage to and destruction of that 6 property, and the denial by the RTC of the Iliescu plaintiffs’ rights to their property.
7 See First Amended Complaint at 2, ¶ 5; 3-4, ¶¶ 8-12; 11-13, ¶¶50-60. While the Iliescu 8 plaintiffs’ First Amended Complaint generally describes the real property that has been 9 affected by the RTC’s conduct, the extent to which the nature of all of the property at 10 issue over which the RTC took control and destroyed and whether personal property 11 belonging to the Iliescu plaintiffs was included is factual information that will be more 12 fully addressed through the discovery process in this case. Thus, because the RTC’s 13 course of conduct as alleged in this case is within the scope of a conversion claim and 14 because discovery has not yet been conducted, there is no basis on which the Iliescu 15 plaintiffs’ conversion claim should be dismissed.

16 E. Because the Iliescu plaintiffs’ First Amended Complaint alleges the 17 RTC’s conspiracy with others not yet known to the Iliescu plaintiffs and 18 because the discovery process has not yet been triggered in this case, an 19 order dismissing the Iliescu plaintiffs’ civil conspiracy claim is not 20 appropriate or warranted.

21 In response to the Iliescu plaintiffs’ civil conspiracy claim, the RTC contends 22 that the complaint does not identify the party or parties with whom the RTC has 23 conspired for the purpose of harming the Iliescu plaintiffs (*citing, Collins v. Union Fed.
24 Sav. & Loan Ass’n, 99 Nev. 284, 662 P.2d 610 (1983) (defining actionable civil 25 conspiracy))* and noting the passage of time since the Iliescu plaintiffs filed their initial 26 complaint in this case in relation to the Iliescu plaintiffs ability to “discover” any other 27 responsible parties. That contention, however, ignores the Iliescu plaintiffs’ allegations 28 and the fact that this case is still in its pleading phase.

1 Initially, the Iliescu plaintiffs’ clearly alleged that the RTC and other Defendants 2 not yet known to the Iliescu plaintiffs – such as including friends, associates, and 3 another parties (together, constituting other parties) with whom the RTC was engaged 4 in business, whether working on the RTC project, working on activities related to the 5 RTC project, and/or working in the surrounding areas near the property – with whom 6 the RTC had discussed and agreed that they would all be entitled to use Plaintiffs’ 7 properties on which to conduct their business, both commercial and personal, and to 8 occupy, to the exclusion of Plaintiffs, and use all areas of Plaintiffs’ property as a 9 parking place, storage area, outside workshop and engage in related abusive and 10 destructive activities on the property. See First Amended Complaint at 2, ¶ 5; 3-4, ¶¶ 7-11 12; 14, ¶¶ 68-74. Because the RTC has not yet answered the Iliescu plaintiffs’ 12 complaint (this case still being in the pleading phase), discovery in this case has not yet 13 begun. Indeed, once discovery begins, the Iliescu plaintiffs can engage in the process 14 of obtaining documents and information related to this case that would reveal the 15 identify of the defendants who are currently alleged as the DOE and ROE 16 CORPORATION defendants who conspired with the RTC. Id. at 2, ¶ 5; 3-4, ¶ 10; 14, 17 ¶¶ 68-74. Until then, an order dismissing the Iliescu plaintiffs’ civil conspiracy claim is 18 not appropriate or warranted.

19 F. The Iliescu plaintiffs have sufficiently alleged a valid cause of action 20 for the RTC’s tortious breach of the covenant of good faith and fair 21 dealing.

22 Finally, the RTC requests that the Iliescu plaintiffs’ eleventh claim for relief for 23 the tortious breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing be dismissed because, 24 for the same reasons stated in its challenge to the Iliescu plaintiffs’ breach of 25 trust/breach of fiduciary duty claim, the Iliescu plaintiffs do not allege what is required 26 to establish any special duty owed by the RTC to them. For the same reasons addressed 27 above, the RTC’s assertion is without merit.

1 As explained in reference to the Iliescu plaintiffs’ breach of trust/breach of 2 fiduciary duties claim, the project that gives rise to the Iliescu plaintiffs’ claims in this 3 case was a result of the RTC’s exercise of eminent domain and its condemnation 4 proceedings against the Iliescu plaintiffs’ property, and then its reprehensible conduct 5 toward and the damages it caused to the Iliescu plaintiffs and their property after the 6 RTC no longer had any legal right to access and use the Iliescu plaintiffs’ property.
7 First Amended Complaint at 2, ¶¶2, 4; 3, ¶ 7; 8-9, ¶¶ 79-86. In fact, the Iliescu 8 plaintiffs alleged, in detail, the basis for the “special relationship” element of their 9 tortious breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing claim. Id. at 16-17, ¶ 82 10 (alleging, among other things, the unbalanced nature of the parties’ relationship, and the 11 duty imposed on the RTC to act in good faith and with due regard toward the Iliescu 12 plaintiffs’ interests based upon the RTC’s superior position); accord, Long v. Town, 13 supra. Thus, based on the face of the First Amended Complaint – accepting all of its 14 allegations as true and drawing all reasonable inferences in favor of the Iliescu 15 plaintiffs (see, supra) – the Iliescu plaintiffs have stated a valid cause of action for the 16 RTC’s tortious breach of the covenant of good faith and fair dealing.

17 III. CONCLUSION

18 Based on the foregoing, the Iliescu plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court 19 deny the RTC’s motion to dismiss.

Case No.: CV19-00459

Dept. No.: 15

21 REPLY IN SUPPORT OF SUPPLEMENTAL MOTION TO DISMISS

22 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”) 23 submits the following reply brief in support of its supplemental motion to dismiss, and in 24 response to the opposition brief filed by plaintiffs John Iliescu Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu 25 (collectively “Plaintiffs”) on February 10, 2019. Plaintiffs’ opposition fails to 26 demonstrate that the allegations of their First Amended Complaint are sufficient to 27 establish the elements of the claims for relief RTC seeks to have dismissed. See 28 Stockmeier v. Nevada Dep’t of Corr. Psychological Review Panel, 124 Nev. 313, 316, 183
P.3d 133, 135 (“Dismissal is proper where the allegations are insufficient to establish the 1 elements of a claim for relief.”). Each of the claims RTC seeks to have dismissed are 2 addressed in turn.

3 1. Injunctive Relief (First Cause of Action)

4 Plaintiffs acknowledge that the basis of their claim for injunctive relief is that RTC 5 “continued to trespass and damage the Iliescu plaintiffs’ proper even after they completed 6 their work and no longer had an easement.” Opposition at 4:21-24, citing First Amended 7 Complaint ¶¶ 8-12 (emphasis in original). This is not an allegation of a current threat of 8 irreparable harm. It is an allegation of past conduct allegedly giving rise to damages. The 9 project that is the basis of Plaintiffs’ claims was completed in 2018. Plaintiffs appear to 10 suggest injunctive relief is appropriate on the off chance RTC might, at some point in the 11 future, park a vehicle on Plaintiffs’ property. Opposition at 4:24-5:4. The purpose of 12 injunctive relief is to preserve the status quo, and there are no factual allegations in the 13 First Amended Complaint that the status quo is threatened. Plaintiffs’ claim for injunctive 14 relief based on some remote possibility in the future must be dismissed.

15 2. Breach of Fiduciary Duty/Breach of Trust (Fourth Cause of Action)

16 Plaintiffs cite to paragraphs 2, 4, 7 and 34-41 in support of their assertion that the First 17 Amended Complaint adequately states a claim for breach of fiduciary duty. Opposition at 18 5:20. A review of these paragraphs reveals no factual basis that would establish the existence 19 of a fiduciary duty owed by RTC to Plaintiffs. Paragraph 2 alleges that RTC is a government 20 agency that provides transportation services, and that Plaintiffs live in Washoe County.
21 Paragraph 4 alleges that RTC initiated condemnation proceedings against the subject 22 property. Paragraphs 34-41 allege that RTC owed Plaintiffs a fiduciary duty “in connection 23 with” the exercise of condemnation rights and by breaching the alleged “RTC-Trust 24 agreement.” See First Amended Complaint at ¶¶ 35, 40.

25 Plaintiff cite no authority to support their contention that the exercise of eminent 26 domain/condemnation creates a fiduciary duty between the condemning agency and the 27 property owner, nor do they cite any authority that the mere existence of a contract to use 28 another’s real property creates a fiduciary duty. On the other hand, RTC did cite authorities

1 in its Supplemental Motion supporting the conclusion that no fiduciary duty existed under the 2 factual allegations contained in the First Amended Complaint. Therefore, Plaintiffs' cause 3 of action for breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust should be dismissed.

4 3. Waste (Sixth Cause of Action)

5 Plaintiffs cite to paragraphs 8-10 and 50-51 of their First Amended Complaint in 6 arguing that they have stated a claim for waste under NRS 40.150. That statute provides: 7 "If a guardian, tenant for life or years, joint tenant or tenant in common of real property 8 commit waste thereon, any person aggrieved by the waste may bring an action against the 9 guardian or tenant who committed the waste, in which action there may be judgment for 10 treble damages." All of those capacities have one thing in common—the express 11 permission to use the real property at issue in which others have a legal interest.

12 In this case, Plaintiffs seek damages and other relief arising from RTC's alleged 13 trespass "on that portion of the Property not subject to the condemnation, and not involved 14 in whatsoever nature in the Project...." See First Amended Complaint at ¶ 8. Plaintiffs 15 refer to this as the "Remaining Property." Id. Plaintiffs allege that RTC drove over and 16 parked its vehicles on the Remaining Property "without the permission of [Plaintiffs]," 17 and "in total disregard of Plaintiffs' respective frequent objections to such unauthorized 18 and illegal use of the Remaining Property." Id. at ¶ 10 (emphasis added).

19 Plaintiffs have clearly alleged that RTC did not have permission to use the 20 Remaining Property. The allegations of the First Amended Complaint are entirely 21 inconsistent with Plaintiffs argument in their opposition brief that RTC was a guardian or 22 tenant of the Remaining Property. Opposition at 6:24. Therefore, Plaintiffs' claim for 23 waste should be dismissed.

24 4. Conversion (Seventh Cause of Action)

25 RTC sought the dismissal of this claim in its original motion to dismiss filed on 26 September 25, 2019, arguing that Plaintiffs' original complaint lacked any allegations 27 regarding personal property, and that the only damage alleged related to Plaintiffs' real 28 property—specifically their parking lot. On December 6, 2019, RTC and Plaintiffs filed a

1 Stipulation For Entry Of Order Dismissing Certain Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief And 2 Damages With Prejudice, in which Plaintiffs agreed to dismiss with prejudice “any claims 3 for damages other than compensatory damages specifically related to their parking lot...” 4 See Stipulation at ¶ 3 (also at ¶ 1, in which Plaintiffs expressed their desire to limit their 5 claims in this case “solely to the property damages to their parking lot....”).

6 Despite expressly waiving any claim for conversion of personal property, Plaintiffs 7 First Amended Complaint asserts this claim. Plaintiffs' opposition acknowledges that the 8 First Amended Complaint, like its predecessor, is devoid of allegations regarding personal 9 property but expresses a hope that some factual basis might be revealed in discovery.
10 Opposition at 7:7-12. However, that is not how Rule 11 works—parties cannot assert 11 claims on the mere hope that discovery might reveal evidence to support those claims.
12 Further, they cannot assert claims for relief that they have expressly waived.

13 Plaintiffs' claim for conversion should be dismissed.

14 5. Civil Conspiracy (Ninth Cause of Action)

15 Plaintiffs argue they have been unable to identify the other party or parties to the 16 alleged civil conspiracy because “discovery in this case has not yet begun.” Opposition at 17 12-16. That statement is inaccurate. On October 30, 2019, the parties filed a Stipulation 18 to Conduct Discovery Prior to Holding the NRCP 16.1 Conference and Prior to Filing the 19 Joint Case Conference, in which they requested that the Court enter an order providing 20 “that the parties may conduct discovery prior to holding the NRCP 16.1 Conference and 21 prior to filing the Joint Case Conference Report.” The Court entered its Order granting 22 that stipulation on November 18, 2019. While RTC has served discovery pursuant to that 23 stipulation and order, Plaintiffs have served no discovery requests.

24 To succeed on a civil conspiracy claim, a plaintiff must prove both an agreement, 25 and that the conduct of each tortfeasor is tortious. GES, Inc. v. Corbitt, 117 Nev. 265, 271, 26 21 P.3d 11, 15 (2001) (quoting Dow Chemical Co. v. Mahlum, 114 Nev. 1468, 1488-89, 27 970 P.2d 98, 111-12 (1998)). This action has been pending for a year. Plaintiffs have 28 served no discovery in an effort to determine the identity of any alleged co-conspirator,

1 the existence of any agreement, or the presence of any tortious conduct. This cause of 2 action should be dismissed.

3 6. Tortious Breach of Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing (Eleventh 4 Cause of Action)

5 As stated in RTC's Supplemental Motion, this claim requires a special element of 6 reliance or fiduciary duty exist between the plaintiff and defendant, such that the 7 defendant is in a superior or entrusted position. Great Amer. Ins. Co. v. Gen. Builders, 8 Inc., 113 Nev. 346, 354-355, 934 P.2d 257, 263 (1997). The tort action for breach of the 9 implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing is "limited to rare and exceptional cases." 10 Id. In arguing that they have adequately alleged the existence of a fiduciary duty owed by 11 RTC, Plaintiffs cite to paragraphs 2, 4, 7 and 34-41 of the First Amended Complaint.
12 Paragraph 2 alleges that RTC is a government entity providing transportation services.
13 Paragraph 4 alleges that RTC acquired a portion of Plaintiffs' property under eminent 14 domain/condemnation for the construction of the Fourth Street/Prater Way Project.
15 Paragraphs 34-41 are largely legal conclusions. Paragraph 30 alleges that RTC owed 16 Plaintiffs a fiduciary duty "in connection with" the exercise of RTC's condemnation 17 rights. Paragraph 40 alleges that RTC's breach of the alleged "RTC-Trust agreement" 18 constituted a breach of fiduciary duty.

19 Plaintiffs cite Long v. Towne, 98 Nev. 11, 639 P.2d 529, 530 (1982) in support of 20 their argument that RTC owed Plaintiffs a fiduciary duty. However, in that case the 21 Nevada Supreme Court found that no fiduciary duty or special relationship existed. As 22 with their breach of fiduciary duty claim, Plaintiffs offer no authority supporting the 23 proposition that the RTC's exercise of its power of eminent domain/condemnation creates 24 a fiduciary duty owed to property owners.

25 On the contrary, RTC cites authority that, in Nevada, state officials have a duty to 26 exercise only ordinary care in performing their duties. Butler ex rel. Biller v. Bayer, 123 27 Nev. 450, 464, 168 P.3d 1055, 1065 (2007). Other states have held: "An actionable 28 confidential or special relationship cannot exist between a government agency and a private

1 citizen, as a matter of law.” See, e.g., Johnson v. Sawyer, 760 F.Supp. 1216, 1233 (S.D. Tex.
2 1991). Further, contractual relationships do not typically give rise to fiduciary duties among 3 the parties to the contract. Schlumberger Tech. Corp. v. Swanson, 959 S.W.2d 171, 177 (Tex.
4 1997).

5 Plaintiffs have not established that the allegations of their First Amended 6 Complaint rise to the lofty standard of a “rare and exceptional case” to which this tort is 7 limited. Plaintiffs cause of action for tortious breach of the implied covenant of good faith 8 and fair dealing should be dismissed.

9 Conclusion

10 Plaintiffs’ First Amended Complaint assert eleven causes of action, attempting to 11 convert a simple breach of contract and trespass case into the crime of the century. But 12 their factual allegations are insufficient to support most of their asserted claims.
13 Plaintiffs’ causes of action for injunctive relief, breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust, 14 waste, conversion, civil conspiracy and tortious breach of the covenant of good faith and 15 fair dealing all fail as matter of law based on the allegations of the FAC. RTC requests 16 that the Court enter an order dismissing these causes of action from this lawsuit.

27 MOTION TO COMPEL

28 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”), moves this Court pursuant to NRCP 37 for an order compelling Plaintiffs John Iliescu, Jr.
and Sonnia Iliescu, individually and as Trustees of the John Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu 1992 Family Trust (“Plaintiffs”) to respond to discovery requests property served by RTC and to which Plaintiffs have provided no response whatsoever. RTC further requests, pursuant to NRCP 37(a)(5), an award of reasonable attorney fees and expenses incurred in connection with making this motion. This motion is based on the following points and authorities and the entire file in this matter.

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Plaintiffs filed this suit accusing RTC of numerous atrocities arising from RTC's 3 alleged unauthorized use of Plaintiffs' parking lot on 4th Street. Although this action was 4 filed on February 27, 2019, Plaintiffs did not bother to serve RTC until August 8, 2019 in 5 response to this Court's July 1, 2019 Order to Show Cause. RTC filed a motion to 6 dismiss and, considering Plaintiffs' ages, promptly sought and obtained permission to 7 conduct early discovery. See Stipulation To Conduct Discovery Prior To Holding The 8 NRCP 16.1 Conference And Prior To Filing The Joint Case Conference Report filed on 9 October 30, 2019, and the Court's November 18, 2019 Order granting same.

10 Pursuant to the parties' agreement, RTC served separate requests for production 11 pursuant to NRCP 34 on both John Iliescu, Jr., and Sonnia Iliescu. See Exhibits 1 and 2, 12 attached. The requests were served on November 8, 2019. Pursuant to NRCP 34, 13 Plaintiffs were required to serve responses on or before December 9, 2019. Plaintiffs 14 failed to timely serve any response, thereby waiving any objections to RTC's discovery 15 requests. Having received no response from Plaintiffs, RTC's counsel sent Plaintiffs' 16 counsel an email on December 16, 2019, requesting complete responses no later than 17 December 23, 2019. See Exhibit 3, attached. Following the holidays and a busy January, 18 and still having received no response from Plaintiffs or their counsel, RTC's counsel sent 19 another email on January 27, 2020 noting the lack of response and requesting complete 20 responses (without any objections) no later than February 3, 2020. See Exhibit 4, 21 attached.¹ Plaintiffs' counsel called the undersigned's office on January 30, 2020, 22 acknowledging Plaintiffs' failure to respond to the requests for production, but not 23 indicating when responses would be provided.

24 Now, nearly three weeks later, Plaintiffs still have not provided any responses 25 whatsoever to the requests for production served on November 8, 2019, including the 26 alleged contract that forms the basis of many of Plaintiffs claims. RTC seeks the Court's ¹This email also discusses Plaintiffs' refusal to reasonably cooperate in having their depositions taken. RTC will seek appropriate relief related to this issue by way of a separate motion.

28

1 order compelling Plaintiffs to provided complete responses, without any objections. RTC 2 also seeks an award of reasonable attorney fees and expenses for having to bring this 3 motion. RTC will submit a declaration supporting such fees and expenses upon the 4 completion of briefing.

5 II. LAW AND ARGUMENT

6 NRCP 37(a)(1) provides that a party may move for an order compelling discovery.
7 NRCP 37(a)(5)(A) provides that, if the motion to compel is granted or if the discovery is 8 provided after the motion is filed, the court must, after giving an opportunity to be heard, 9 require the party whose conduct necessitated the motion to pay the movant's reasonable 10 expenses incurred in making the motion, including reasonable attorney fees.

11 Here the parties agreed to conduct early discovery based on the circumstances of 12 this case. RTC served requests for production pursuant to NRCP 34. Plaintiffs have 13 acknowledged their obligation to respond but have failed to do so. RTC's counsel has, on 14 several occasions, tried to resolve this matter without the Court's involvement, but 15 Plaintiffs have failed to cooperate. An order compelling production and awarding fees is 16 appropriate under NRCP 37.

17 III. CERTIFICATON OF COUNSEL

18 The undersigned certifies that, on behalf of RTC, he has in good faith conferred or 19 attempted to confer with Plaintiffs' counsel in an effort to obtain the subject discovery 20 without the Court's intervention.

21 IV. CONCLUSION

22 RTC requests the Court enter an order compelling Plaintiffs to response to RTC's 23 discovery requests and awarding RTC reasonable attorney fees and expenses incurred in 24 bringing this motion.

Dear Dr Moore,

I want to give you a progress report as to what has happened since our visit in your office on March 3, 2020. At that time, my MRI showed a compression fracture to L2 that must have contributed to the severe pain I have experienced getting up and down to sit, getting in and out of bed, going to the bathroom, etc. It was agreed upon that we would try anti-inflammatory medicine as well as narcotics to relieve this pain. (You probably know from your practice with other patients that this type of pain can take your breath away with any motion.) What I did not share with you is that I have had a persistent productive bronchial cough for over four months that will not clear up. The forceful coughing to get the tenacious phlegm up exacerbates the back pain. I am being treated for it by Stephen Baez MD, a pulmonologist with Renown Pulmonary Medicine. Please consult with Dr. Baez office.

Most recently, on March 6, I was scheduled for a deposition regarding a dispute with RTC. My attorney communicated with RTC's attorney to delay the deposition until such a time as I would be able to give the deposition without a lot of physical discomfort. For whatever reason, RTC's attorney told my attorney that the medical report submitted by your office was not sufficient enough to cancel the deposition, and it is now my understanding that I appear to be in defiance of the court. Let me assure you that at 93 years of age I just want to be well and to get all of this behind me. If need be I would like to set up another appointment with you prior to the return visit scheduled for March 31.

We are also scheduled to see Dr. Zollinger at Sweetwater Spine and Pain Clinic on Monday, March 9. Without sounding bitter, I would not like anyone to experience what I have gone through since the two falls, considering my age and other health concerns that I live with. I would hope that we can find a common ground here to resolve these issues.

Sincerely

John Iliescu

Dear Steve,

This persistent deep chronic cough plus a recent lumbar fracture is very hard to cope with. The tenacious phlegm does not want to come up and I often feel like I cannot breathe in light of the fact that I am using the nebulizer and treatments regularly. The worst part of it is that following the two falls that you know about, I had an MRI recently because of the severe pain in my lower back that showed I had sustained a compression fracture on L2. (See the enclosed report.) The combination of both the intense chronic bronchial cough and the severe pain in the lumbar region makes it hard to find a position of comfort without heavy sedation and its consequences. The persistent cough wears me out since it lodges in my bronchials and I can't cough it up.

On Friday March 6, I was scheduled for a deposition for a dispute with RTC and was forced to postpone it as there was no way I could sit there for any length of time with this cough and back pain. I so informed my attorney who informed RTC's attorney who apparently felt that there was no justifiable reason for me not to appear based on the neurologist's report regarding my lumbar injury. (There was no mention of my chronic bronchial condition.) Apparently now I am in contempt of the court since I did not appear at the deposition. I find it hard to believe that everyone would not work together if they knew the facts. I share this with you at this time because you know my bronchial condition and understand the problems when combined with a painful back injury. I am sorry to be a problem to you, but this is just becoming out of hand. Thank you for the support you have given me.

Sincerely,

John Iliescu

Assessment and Plan

Lumbar MRI from 2/26/2020 demonstrates significant degenerative disc disease at the L1-4 level and then from L5-S1 with a small anterior listhesis of L5 on S1 of approximately 20% he also has significant redundancy of the ligamentum flavum and facet hypertrophy causing severe or critical central canal stenosis at the L4-5 level and moderate to severe lateral recess and foraminal stenosis L2-L3 and L3-L4. T2 sagittal fat-saturated imaging demonstrates some edema in the L2 vertebral body consistent with likely small amount of compression fracture no significant height loss at this level no severe increase in deformity.

Assessment and plan

is a 93-year-old gentleman who presents to neurosurgery clinic 2 weeks after having a ground-level fall giving himself a L2 compression fracture with minimal height loss. The patient has no other acute issues. He has an MRI which demonstrates vasogenic edema in the L2 bone marrow consistent with a mild compression fracture he does not show any deformity across this he has degenerative disc disease at multiple levels that are chronic. At this time we have told him that we would treat him conservatively and agree with Tylenol we have told him to try to limit his anti-inflammatories given that this can impede fusion however he is not a good candidate for opioid use and he did not want any today on his visit given his pulmonary issues and we have therefore told him that we would max out his Tylenol dosing prior to using an NSAID that if he required additional pain medication it would be acceptable for him to use some NSAIDs. We have also told him that we would monitor him for progressive collapse at the L2 level given that he has some degree of osteoporosis and we will get a scan with plain film x-ray AP lateral oblique in 4 weeks from today to monitor him for progressive collapse. If he is doing well with no sign of collapse we would get a 6-month scan to ensure that he is not showing any further collapse and that he is doing well if he is progressing as expected then he will be continued to be treated conservatively. For any reason if he has additional trauma or has significant collapse across the level he potentially could be a candidate for kyphoplasty given his advanced age and the need to do something extremely conservative to maintain the patient's mobility. However at this time he is mobilizing very well with a cane we have told him restricted the level of weight that he carries in his arms and to refrain from any activity that could lead to additional trauma to his back.

A total of 30 minutes was spent with the patient discussing his imaging and our further evaluation.

HISTORY/REASON FOR EXAM: Back pain or radiculopathy, < 6 wks, uncomplicated.

TECHNIQUE/EXAM DESCRIPTION:
MRI of the lumbar spine without contrast.

The study was performed on a G.E. Signa 1.5 Tesla MRI scanner. T1 sagittal, T2 fast spin-echo sagittal, T2 fat-suppressed sagittal, and T2 axial images were obtained of the lumbar spine.

COMPARISON: None.

FINDINGS:

There is mild compression of superior endplate of the L2 vertebral body. There is a elliptical region of decreased T1 and increased T2 signal intensity adjacent to the superior endplate of the L2 vertebral body. There is a mild dextroscoliosis of the mid lumbar spine.

There is 3 mm of anterolisthesis at the L5-S1 level.. There are there are mild to moderate marginal osteophytic changes. The prevertebral and paraspinous soft tissues are unremarkable.

ORDER GRANTING MOTION TO DISMISS

Before this Court is the Regional Transportation Commission's supplemental motion to dismiss. This Court has re-read the initial moving papers and First Amended Complaint, filed January 21, 2020. The parties are familiar with the standards of dismissal under NRCPC 12 and its decisional authority. This Court understands the operative facts, as alleged, and notes it must look to the substance of the claims, not just the labels used in the complaint. Nevada Power Co. v. District Court, 120 Nev. 948, 960, 102 P.3d 578, 586 (2004). Cause appearing, the following claims for relief are dismissed:

1. Injunctive Relief.
2. Breach of Fiduciary Duty/Breach of Trust.

This Court denies the motion to dismiss claim 9: Civil Conspiracy. Under the standards for dismissal, the First Amended Complaint sets forth a claim for relief that may be granted. The pre-trial resolution of civil conspiracy, if any, can only be considered through a motion for summary judgment after appropriate discovery is conducted.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

ANSWER TO FIRST AMENDED COMPLAINT

Mike,

I have not heard back from you regarding the depositions of your clients. I have attempted on several prior occasions to schedule them, only for you to cancel at the last minute based on your clients' unavailability. If we cannot agree on a mutually convenient date by close of business on Wednesday, January 29, I will notice a date that works for my schedule and will not agree to reschedule. I don't normally take a hard line stance, but feel I've been more than accommodating. We agreed to early discovery based on your clients' age and health but so far I have received nothing.

Which brings me to the next issue. I have not received any responses to the request for production I sent out on November 8, 2019 (see attached), which contained 16 separate requests. I realize that Request Nos. 7, 8, 14 are moot in light of your clients' agreement to withdraw claims for emotional distress and personal injury damages, but all other requests remained valid and were not timely answered. As such, any objections have been waived. I must request that your clients provide complete responses (without any objections) to the remaining requests, as well as production of all responsive documents, within seven (7) days of the date of this email, or February 3, 2020. Otherwise, I will have to proceed with a motion to compel.

In addition to formal discovery, I informally requested a copy of the contract alleged in the complaint. You indicated on September 18, 2019 that you would provide it (see attached), but I have not seen it.

Our trial date is set to commence July 20. That may seem like a lot of time, but it will go faster than both of us think. We need to get moving on discovery, so please get back to me asap. I would prefer to resolve these issues between us, but that has proven frustrating so far.

Mike,

Following up, I am wondering whether it would be possible to schedule the Iliescu depositions that you requested be vacated back in November. Please advise. I have good availability next week as I was supposed to have a trial but it settled.

19 Defendants.

20 21 DECLARATION OF DANE W. ANDERSON IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR 22 DISCOVERY SANCTIONS

23 1. I am an attorney licensed to practice in the State of Nevada. I am over the 24 age of 18 and make this declaration of my own personal knowledge in support of the Motion for Discovery Sanctions filed concurrently.

25 2. I am a shareholder with the law firm of Woodburn and Wedge
26 (“Woodburn”). Woodburn is counsel for defendant The Regional Transportation 27 Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”) in this matter.
28

1 3. I have represented RTC in this matter since the date my firm accepted 2 service of process on RTC's behalf.

3 4. Based on the allegations of the complaint, which included Plaintiffs' elderly 4 status and alleged health issues, and having met Plaintiffs personally on another case, I 5 decided early on in this case that it may be important to conduct written discovery and 6 Plaintiffs' depositions as soon as possible. Therefore, I sought and obtained an agreement 7 from Plaintiffs' counsel to conduct discovery prior to conducting the early case 8 conference and filing the joint case conference report. This was particularly important in 9 my mind because RTC had filed a motion to dismiss that would delay the early case 10 conference—and therefore the commencement of discovery pursuant to NRC 16.1 and 11 26—for an unknown period of time.

12 5. On October 1, 2019, I sent an email to Plaintiffs' counsel confirming our 13 telephone conversation in which he agreed to make his clients available for deposition in 14 October 2019. A true and correct copy of that email is attached as Exhibit 1. Plaintiffs' 15 counsel replied "No drama," which I took to mean he agreed with my summary of our 16 phone conversation and would work to secure his clients' attendance for a deposition in 17 October 2019. A true and copy of that email is attached as Exhibit 2.

18 6. Over a week later, not having heard from Plaintiffs' counsel with proposed 19 dates for his clients' depositions, I noticed Plaintiffs' depositions for October 29 and 30, 20 2019. True and correct copies of those notices are attached as Exhibits 3 and 4.

21 7. I heard nothing from Plaintiffs' counsel in response to the notices of 22 deposition, so I proceeded with the understanding that the dates I had selected were 23 acceptable to Plaintiffs and their counsel. On October 28, 2019, one day prior to the 24 scheduled deposition, my office was contacted by Litigation Services to confirm the 25 scheduled video depositions. In turn, I contacted Plaintiffs' counsel to verify Plaintiffs 26 would be attending. A true and correct copy of that email is attached as Exhibit 5. In 27 response, Plaintiffs' counsel called me that same day and said that he did not have the 28 depositions on calendar due to an error on his part. I asked him to let me know when his

1 clients would be available, because time may be important. He agreed to let me know.
2 This conversation was summarized in my email of October 28, 2019 to Plaintiffs' counsel, 3 a true and correct copy of which is attached as Exhibit 6. Plaintiffs' counsel responded 4 "Thanks for your courtesies." I understood this to mean he would comply in good faith 5 with my request to promptly take Plaintiffs' depositions. See Exhibit 7, attached.

6 8. On or about November 4, 2019, Plaintiffs' counsel contacted my office and 7 advised that his clients would be available for deposition on December 11 and 12, 2019.
8 In response, I sent him an email asking if that was really the earliest Plaintiffs could be 9 available for deposition. A true and correct copy of that email is attached as Exhibit 8. I 10 was frustrated because we had previously agreed to conduct the depositions in October.
11 However, having received no response to my email, on November 6, 2019, I noticed 12 Plaintiffs' depositions (again) for the dates Plaintiffs' counsel provided, December 11 and 13 12, 2019. See Exhibits 9 and 10, attached.

14 9. The next day, November 7, 2019, Plaintiffs' counsel left me a non-specific 15 voicemail. In response that afternoon, I sent him an email, a true and correct copy of 16 which is attached as Exhibit 11. In the email, I asked whether it would be possible to take 17 the depositions earlier than December 11 and 12, as I remained concerned about the 18 passage of time. Plaintiffs' counsel responded the same day that the "depos are as set—no 19 changes." A true and correct copy of that email is attached as Exhibit 12. I took his 20 response to mean that the depositions would not happen earlier, but would happen on 21 December 11 and 12, 2019.

22 10. On November 8, 2019, I caused to be served on Plaintiffs' counsel RTC's 23 first set of requests for production of documents, generally seeking documents that may 24 support the allegations of Plaintiffs' complaint. See Exhibits 13 and 14, attached.

25 11. On November 19, 2019, I sent Plaintiffs' counsel an email regarding certain 26 documents requested and Plaintiffs' depositions set for December 11 and 12, a true and 27 correct copy of which is attached as Exhibit 15. Plaintiffs' counsel responded on 28 November 20, 2019, that Dr. Iliescu had some health issues but that counsel would "bird

1 dog” the issue with Mrs. Iliescu. A true and correct copy of that email is attached as 2 Exhibit 16.

3 12. Over a week later, on November 25, 2019, not having heard anything from 4 Plaintiffs’ counsel, I sent a follow up email, a true and correct copy of which is attached 5 as Exhibit 17. I received no response to this email.

6 13. Having heard nothing from Plaintiffs’ counsel, on December 10, 2019 I sent 7 an email to him inquiring whether his clients would be attending the long-noticed 8 depositions on December 11 and 12, 2019. A true and correct copy of that email is 9 attached as Exhibit 18. Plaintiffs’ counsel called in response and advised that his clients 10 would not be attending their depositions due to health issues. This was the second last-11 minute cancellation. In both cases, I likely would not have been made aware of their 12 intent not to appear had I not inquired.

13 14. Given the approaching holidays and school break, which included an 14 overseas vacation for me, I waited until after the new year to contact Plaintiffs’ counsel 15 regarding rescheduling the twice-vacated depositions of Plaintiffs. At no time did 16 Plaintiffs’ counsel contact me to offer any dates for his clients’ depositions. So, on 17 January 21, 2020, I emailed Plaintiffs’ counsel asking to reschedule the depositions for the 18 following week. A true and correct copy of that email is attached as Exhibit 19. In 19 response that same day, Plaintiffs’ counsel stated “I’ll check now.” A true and correct 20 copy of that email is attached as Exhibit 20.

21 15. After receiving no further response, on January 27, 2020 I sent Plaintiffs’ 22 counsel a long email expressing my frustration regarding Plaintiffs’ lack of cooperation in 23 scheduling—and attending—depositions, as well as their failure to respond to RTC’s 24 written discovery requests and other issues. A true and correct copy of that email is 25 attached as Exhibit 21.

26 16. On January 30, 2020, Plaintiffs’ counsel called my office and provided his 27 explanation for his failure to respond. See Exhibit 22, attached. He indicated he knew 28

1 the depositions had to be taken and that he owed responses to written discovery as well.
2 Id.

3 17. Three weeks later, after receiving no further response whatsoever from 4 Plaintiffs' counsel, I filed a motion to compel production of documents on February 20, 5 2020. Plaintiffs failed to file a timely response (and still have neither responded nor 6 produced any documents whatsoever), so I submitted the motion to compel for decision 7 on March 6, 2020. That motion remains pending.

8 18. On February 20, 2020, having received no response from Plaintiffs' counsel 9 regarding depositions, I again served notices of Plaintiffs' depositions, this time for March 10 5 and 6, 2020. See Exhibits 23 and 24, attached. These notices were hand-delivered to 11 Plaintiffs' counsel on February 20, 2020.

12 19. Plaintiffs' counsel did not contact me in response to the notices of 13 deposition, so I assumed the dates worked for him and for Plaintiffs. On March 2, 2020, I 14 sent Plaintiffs' counsel an email asking him to confirm that he and his clients would be 15 attending the depositions noticed for March 5 and 6. A true and correct copy of that email 16 is attached as Exhibit 25. Plaintiff's counsel responded that same day (in reply to an 17 email on a different case) that he will check "manana" and let me know. A true and 18 correct copy of that email is attached as Exhibit 26. I replied to that email asking him to 19 let me know as soon as possible so I could avoid canceling on the court reporter at the last 20 minute again. A true and correct copy of that email is attached as Exhibit 27. Plaintiffs' 21 counsel replied that he understood. A true and correct copy of that email is attached as 22 Exhibit 28.

23 20. Having heard nothing by late the following day, I sent Plaintiffs' counsel a 24 follow up email asking whether the depositions were going forward. A true and correct 25 copy of that email is attached as Exhibit 29.

26 21. Plaintiffs' counsel did not respond, so I prepared for the depositions 27 believing Plaintiffs would attend as required by the properly served notices of deposition.
28

1 My office also confirmed with the court reporter that the depositions would be going 2 forward.

3 22. On March 4, 2020, the night before Dr. Iliescu's deposition, I left the office 4 at approximately 4:00 p.m. to attend to other matters.

5 23. On March 5, 2020, I went straight from home to the deposition at Litigation 6 Services. Neither Dr. Iliescu nor his counsel appeared at the scheduled time of 10 a.m. I 7 called my office and checked my voicemail. Plaintiffs' counsel had left me a voicemail at 8 approximately 4:40 p.m. on March 4, 2020 indicating that Dr. Iliescu would not be 9 appearing at his deposition the following morning. He did not send an email to this effect 10 and he did not contact my assistant to let her know they would not be appearing the next 11 day. I made a record of Dr. Iliescu's non-appearance, a true and correct copy of which is 12 attached as Exhibit 30. I returned to the office and sent Plaintiffs' counsel an email 13 expressing my frustration and inquiring whether Mrs. Iliescu would be attending her 14 deposition the following day. A true and correct copy of that email is attached as Exhibit 15 31. Plaintiffs' counsel advised that she would not be appearing for her deposition. A true 16 and correct copy of that email is attached as Exhibit 32.

17 24. On March 6, 2020, my colleague, Bronagh Kelly, attended Mrs. Iliescu's 18 scheduled deposition at Litigation Services and, when Mrs. Iliescu did not appear, she 19 made a record of nonappearance, a true and correct copy of which is attached as Exhibit 20 33.

21 25. Plaintiffs' counsel has not contacted me since his email of March 5.
22 However, on March 9, 2020 at approximately 1:00 a.m., my office received a fax directly 23 from Dr. Iliescu. The fax contained two detailed letters written by Dr. Iliescu to his 24 physicians dated March 7, 2020. The fax was copied to Plaintiffs' attorneys (Mr.
25 Morrison and Brett Maupin) as well as the Court, other physicians and me. The letter 26 suggested that I was being unreasonable and that I had been provided certain medical 27 information about the Iliescus that I had not been provided. These letters contained 28 defamatory statements about me and, although they were not considered by the Court, the 1 undersigned will provide them under seal should the Court wish to review them, as they 2 contain protected medical information concerning Plaintiffs.

3 26. I have received no communication from Plaintiffs or their counsel since.
4 This matter is languishing and my reasonable and persistent efforts at discovery on behalf 5 of RTC have been frustrated at every turn.

6 27. Plaintiffs have provided no documents and have repeatedly failed to appear 7 at their depositions by cancelling at the last minute.

8 28. I understand dismissal is an extreme sanction, but Plaintiffs have asserted 9 extreme allegations against my client (intentional, malicious and conspiratorial 10 misconduct) and are seeking punitive damages. I believe dismissal is an appropriate 11 sanction under the circumstances I have detailed in this declaration.

12 29. Additionally, RTC has incurred substantial attorney fees and costs as a 13 result of Plaintiffs' refusal to participate in discovery. I am in the process of gathering 14 those attorney billing records and the documentation supporting RTC's claim for costs.
15 Should the Court award RTC fees and costs as requested, I will submit a declaration with 16 appropriate documentation supporting an award of reasonable fees and costs.

17 I declare under penalty of perjury under the law of the State of Nevada that the 18 foregoing is true and correct.

19 Affirmation pursuant to NRS 239B.030

20 The undersigned does hereby affirm that the above-entitled document filed in this 21 matter does not contain the social security number of any person.

22 Dated this 1st day of April, 2019.

Mike,

This will confirm that I have given you an extension until October 21 to file your opposition to summary judgment. You also agreed to inquire with your clients for deposition dates in October (I am not available October 7-11) and whether they will provide a release for medical records at whatever providers they visited related to the allegations in the complaint. Please let me know as soon as possible, as I would like to start gathering those records and getting the depositions scheduled. Thank you.

Mike,

This email follows our conversation this morning, in which you indicated that you did not have the depositions of your clients on calendar due to an error on your part. Please advise when your clients will be available, as time may be important. Please also provide, as soon as possible, the releases for the medical providers that I have previously requested—those that will support your client's allegations in the complaint, and any others that may have information bearing on your clients' conditions. I've attached a proposed stipulation allowing early discovery, so we can formalize the agreement we've already reached. Please sign the stipulation and return to my office.

As to your request for an additional extension to file plaintiffs' response to RTC's motion to dismiss, I can agree to an up to and including November 6 2019. That will be the last extension I can agree to absent an extraordinary circumstance. My client wants to move this case forward to disposition.

Mike,

Is December 11 and 12 really the earliest your clients are available for deposition? They were supposed to be deposed at the end of October. Please advise.

Also, we have not received the medical releases you indicated the Iliescus would provide, along with the names of the relevant medical providers.

Mike,

I received your voicemail this afternoon regarding the Iliescus' depositions. I just tried to call you back on your cell phone, which indicated that your voicemail is full and cannot accept additional messages. I presume you are calling response to our notices of deposition for Dr. and Mrs. Iliescu on December 11 and 12. It is my understanding you provided those dates to my assistant. Please advise if there is a problem. If it is possible, I would like to conduct them earlier.

Also, please provide the medical releases we sent you along with the names of the Iliescus medical providers, as I would like to gather their records prior to deposition. We have requested this several times and you indicated it would not be a problem. I'm not trying to be difficult, but given the allegations of the complaint and the opposition brief you filed today, I would like to get these records ASAP.

Subject: RE: Iliescu

Mike,

I have not heard back from you regarding the depositions of your clients. I have attempted on several prior occasions to schedule them, only for you to cancel at the last minute based on your clients' unavailability. If we cannot agree on a mutually convenient date by close of business on Wednesday, January 29, I will notice a date that works for my schedule and will not agree to reschedule. I don't normally take a hard line stance, but feel I've been more than accommodating. We agreed to early discovery based on your clients' age and health but so far I have received nothing.

Which brings me to the next issue. I have not received any responses to the request for production I sent out on November 8, 2019 (see attached), which contained 16 separate requests. I realize that Request Nos. 7, 8, 14 are moot in light of your clients' agreement to withdraw claims for emotional distress and personal injury damages, but all other requests remained valid and were not timely answered. As such, any objections have been waived. I must request that your clients provide complete responses (without any objections) to the remaining requests, as well as production of all responsive documents, within seven (7) days of the date of this email, or February 3, 2020. Otherwise, I will have to proceed with a motion to compel.

In addition to formal discovery, I informally requested a copy of the contract alleged in the complaint. You indicated on September 18, 2019 that you would provide it (see attached), but I have not seen it.

Our trial date is set to commence July 20. That may seem like a lot of time, but it will go faster than both of us think. We need to get moving on discovery, so please get back to me asap. I would prefer to resolve these issues between us, but that has proven frustrating so far.

Dane,

Mr. Morrison called to advise me that he has not been intentionally avoiding you. John Iliescu's sister (last one) died and her burial was yesterday. Mr. Iliescu is having breathing problems and is currently at the V.A. Hospital seeking treatment. Sonnia will call Mr. Morrison as soon as he is released from the V.A. and at home to discuss the depositions. Sonnia knows the depositions need to be taken and has no objections. Mr. Morrison also mentioned he owes you responses to requests for production.

Importance: High

Mike,

As Dr. Iliescu did not appear at his deposition scheduled for this morning, and after listening to the voicemail you left me at 4:40 p.m. yesterday afternoon (after I had left the office) I made a record of his non-appearance. My email of Monday, March 2, specifically requested that you notify me ASAP whether Dr. Iliescu would be attending his deposition, so I could avoid any last minute cancellations with the court reporter and videographer (as has been the case on at least two prior efforts to take his deposition), not to mention avoiding preparing for a deposition that will not happen. It is my intent to seek appropriate relief from the court, both monetary and otherwise.

Am I correct that Sonnia Iliescu also will not be attending her deposition scheduled for tomorrow morning? Please advise immediately. I don't know if we can avoid any charges imposed by the court reporter, but RTC will attempt to mitigate such expenses while reserving the right to seek full reimbursement from your clients.

This is beyond frustrating.

Mike,

As Dr. Iliescu did not appear at his deposition scheduled for this morning, and after listening to the voicemail you left me at 4:40 p.m. yesterday afternoon (after I had left the office) I made a record of his non-appearance. My email of Monday, March 2, specifically requested that you notify me ASAP whether Dr. Iliescu would be attending his deposition, so I could avoid any last minute cancellations with the court reporter and videographer (as has been the case on at least two prior efforts to take his deposition), not to mention avoiding preparing for a deposition that will not happen. It is my intent to seek appropriate relief from the court, both monetary and otherwise.

Am I correct that Sonnia Iliescu also will not be attending her deposition scheduled for tomorrow morning? Please advise immediately. I don't know if we can avoid any charges imposed by the court reporter, but RTC will attempt to mitigate such expenses while reserving the right to seek full reimbursement from your clients.

This is beyond frustrating.

20 MOTION FOR DISCOVERY SANCTIONS

21 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”)
22 moves the Court pursuant to NRCP 37 for an order imposing sanctions against Plaintiffs 23 as a result of their failure to appear at their properly noticed depositions and other failures 24 to participate in discovery in good faith. This motion is based on the following points and 25 authorities, the Declaration of Dane W. Anderson filed concurrently, and the entire file in 26 this matter.

27 ///

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 This case is over a year old and yet Plaintiffs have provided not one shred of 3 evidence to support their claims. This is a serious case—Plaintiffs accuse RTC and others 4 of conspiring to intentionally damage Plaintiffs’ property and maliciously ignoring 5 Plaintiffs’ requests to cease and desist. Plaintiffs seek punitive damages against RTC and 6 its “co-conspirators.”

7 Plaintiffs are elderly. Their original complaint emphasized their advanced ages, 8 accused RTC of elder abuse and alleged medical issues arising from RTC’s alleged 9 intentional misconduct, including severe emotional distress. Therefore, RTC’s counsel 10 felt it important to take their depositions and seek written discovery early on in the case.
11 Thus, despite filing a motion to dismiss that would delay discovery for some time, RTC 12 sought and obtained an order to conduct discovery prior to conducting the early case 13 conference and filing a joint case conference report.

14 As set forth in the Declaration of Dane W. Anderson filed concurrently, although 15 Plaintiffs stipulated to allow RTC to conduct early discovery, they have since failed and 16 refused to participate in good faith. They did not respond to requests for production and 17 have provided no documents whatsoever, despite acknowledging their obligation to do so.
18 They failed to respond to RTC’s motion to compel production. They have repeatedly 19 attempted to cancel depositions at the last minute. To date, RTC has been unable to 20 depose Plaintiffs despite numerous efforts since early October 2019. Plaintiffs have made 21 very serious allegations against RTC but have utterly refused to allow RTC to explore the 22 evidentiary basis for those allegations.

23 Plaintiffs’ conduct warrants the extreme sanction of dismissal of this action.
24 Plaintiffs’ refusal to participate in discovery has prejudiced RTC and caused RTC to incur 25 substantial attorney fees and costs as a result. RTC requests both dismissal and an award 26 of reasonable fees and costs. Should the Court grant the latter, RTC will submit a 27 declaration and supporting documentation for an award of fees and costs.

28 ///

1 II. LAW AND ARGUMENT

2 Under NRCP 37(d)(1)(A), the Court may order sanctions if a party fails to appear 3 for deposition after being served with proper notice and/or fails to serve a proper response 4 to written discovery under NRCP 34.

5 Both apply here. The details of Plaintiffs' failure to serve a proper response to 6 RTC's requests for production are set forth in RTC's Motion to Compel filed on February 7 20, 2020. Plaintiffs did not oppose that motion and RTC submitted it for decision on 8 March 6, 2020. RTC seeks sanctions pursuant to NRCP 37 for this failure and for 9 Plaintiffs' refusal to comply with Nevada's discovery rules.

10 And, as detailed above and in the Declaration of Dane W. Anderson filed 11 concurrently, Plaintiffs also recently failed to appear for their depositions after being 12 served with proper notice. RTC had been attempting to take their depositions since 13 October 2019, to no avail. As discussed above, the primary purpose of seeking early 14 discovery was to obtain Plaintiffs' testimony due to their elder status and alleged medical 15 condition. RTC has been frustrated at every turn, including an incredibly late and 16 inadequate attempt to cancel Plaintiffs' depositions scheduled for March 5 and 6, 2020.

17 The complete failure of Plaintiffs to provide any information supporting their 18 claims despite proper discovery requests and deposition notices warrants the imposition of 19 sanctions.

20 NRCP 37(d)(3) sets for the available sanctions, which include the sanctions 21 available under NRCP 37(b)(1). The sanctions available under NRCP 37(b)(1) include 22 dismissing the action in whole or in part. NRCP 37(b)(1)(E). NRCP 37(d)(3) also allows 23 the Court to award the moving party reasonable expenses, including attorney fees, caused 24 by the disobedient party's failure to comply.

25 Sanctions may be imposed where there has been willful noncompliance with a 26 court order or where the adversary process has been halted by the actions of the 27 unresponsive party. GNLV Corp. v. Serv. Control Corp., 111 Nev. 866, 869, 900 P.2d 28 323, 325 (1995). Courts have inherent equitable powers to dismiss actions for litigation

1 abuses, whether proscribed by statute or not. Young v. Johnny Ribeiro Bldg., Inc., 106
2 Nev. 88, 92, 787 P.2d 777, 779 (1990). Selection of a particular sanction for discovery 3 abuses under NRCP 37 is generally a matter committed to the sound discretion of the 4 district court. Stubli v. Big D Int'l Trucks, Inc., 107 Nev. 309, 312, 810 P.2d 785, 787 5 (1991). While a “somewhat heightened standard of review applies” where the sanction is 6 one of dismissal with prejudice, RTC believes that sanction is appropriate here. Stubli v.
7 Big D Int'l Trucks, Inc., 107 Nev. 309, 313, 810 P.2d 785, 787 (1991). Although 8 dismissal should only be imposed after thoughtful consideration of all the factors involved 9 in a particular case, it need not be preceded by other less severe sanctions. GNLV Corp.
10 v. Serv. Control Corp., 111 Nev. 866, 870, 900 P.2d 323, 325 (1995).

11 Here, Plaintiffs have both willfully refused to comply with the Court’s order 12 allowing early discovery and they have halted the adversary process by refusing to 13 comply with proper discovery requests and deposition notices. NRCP 1 provides that the 14 rules of procedure should be “construed, administered, and employed by the court and the 15 parties to secure the just, speedy and inexpensive determination of every action and 16 proceeding.” Plaintiffs stipulated to this Court’s order allowing early discovery based on 17 the concern over Plaintiffs’ ages and health conditions. By refusing to make themselves 18 available for deposition for nearly 5 months, and by cancelling properly noticed 19 depositions at least 3 times at the last minute, they have halted the adversary process and 20 contravened the purpose of NRCP 1.

21 RTC requests that the Court dismiss Plaintiffs’ claims with prejudice and order that 22 RTC submit a declaration of its reasonable fees and costs for award by the Court.

23 III. CERTIFICATION OF COUNSEL

24 The undersigned certifies that he has in good faith conferred or attempted to 25 conferred with Plaintiffs’ counsel in an effort to obtain the discovery without court action.
26 Those efforts are set forth in detail in the Declaration of Dane W. Anderson filed 27 concurrently.

IV. CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, RTC requests that the Court dismiss this action and award RTC reasonable attorney fees and costs incurred because of Plaintiffs' failure to participate in discovery in this matter. RTC requests that the Court order RTC to submit a declaration of the claimed attorney fees and costs, with supporting documentation.

Presently before the Court is a Motion to Compel filed by Defendant The Regional 18

Transportation Commission of Washoe County on February 20, 2020. Defendant states that it served Plaintiffs John Iliescu, Jr., and Sonnia Iliescu, individually and as Trustees of the John 20

19

Iliescu, Jr. and Sonnia Iliescu 1992 Family Trust, with separate requests for production on 21

November 8, 2019. It asserts that Plaintiffs have not produced responsive documents or provided any written responses despite its counsel's communications with Plaintiffs' counsel. Defendant therefore seeks an order compelling Plaintiffs to respond to the requests for production, and an order directing them to reimburse it for the reasonable expenses incurred in making this motion. This motion was served on Plaintiffs' counsel via the Court's electronic filing system; however, Plaintiffs have not filed an opposition or other response. This motion was submitted on March 6, 2020.

22

23

24

25

26

1 Failure of an opposing party to serve and file a written opposition to a motion may be 2 construed as an admission that the motion is meritorious and a consent to granting the same. See 3 DCR 13(3). Since Plaintiffs did not file any opposition, the Court may properly assume that the 4 statements in Defendant's motion are true and correct. Significantly, NRCP 34(b)(2) requires 5 service of a written response within thirty days after being served with the request, and a failure to 6 assert objections in a timely response generally results in a waiver of any objections. See, e.g., 7 Lopez v. Cardenas Mkts., Inc., No. 2:11-cv-00323-ECR-CWH, 2011 WL 4738111, at *2 (D. Nev.
8 Oct. 5, 2011) (quoting Senat v. City of N.Y., 255 F.R.D. 338, 339 (E.D.N.Y. 2009)) ("there is 9 consistent authority that a failure to serve timely responses to interrogatories and document 10 requests serves as a waiver of objections"); Colony Ins. Co. v. Kuehn, No. 2:10-cv-01943-KJD-11 GWF, 2011 WL 4402738, at *6 (D. Nev. Sept. 20, 2011) ("Defendants failed to timely serve 12 responses to the requests for production or to respond to the Plaintiff's first motion to compel, 13 thereby waiving their right to object"). Therefore, Defendant is entitled to an order compelling 14 Plaintiffs to produce all documents within their possession, custody, or control that are responsive to 15 the categories of the outstanding requests for production.

16 Defendant also seeks sanctions against Plaintiffs, in the form of an award of reasonable 17 expenses, including attorney fees, incurred in making this motion. In that regard, NRCP 37(d)(1)(A)(ii) 18 provides for sanctions if "a party, after being properly served with . . . a request for inspection under 19 Rule 34, fails to serve its answers, objections, or written response." Sanctions may include any of the 20 orders listed in NRCP 37(b)(1). Instead of or in addition to those sanctions, "the court must require 21 the party failing to act, the attorney advising that party, or both to pay the reasonable expenses, 22 including attorney fees, caused by the failure, unless the failure was substantially justified or other 23 circumstances make an award of expenses unjust." See NRCP 37(d)(3).

24 Absent any opposition by Plaintiffs, the Court cannot find that their failure to serve written 25 responses or produce all responsive documents was substantially justified, and it is aware of no 26 circumstances that would make an award of expenses unjust. NRCP 37(d)(1)(B) further requires

1 that a motion for sanctions for failing to answer or respond to an NRCP 34 request "must include a 2 certification that the movant has in good faith conferred or attempted to confer with the party failing 3 to act in an effort to obtain the answer or response without court action." That certification is 4 included in Defendant's motion, and the motion also includes attached exhibits reflecting the 5 communications from Defendant's counsel to Plaintiffs' counsel regarding the outstanding 6 responses. The Court therefore finds that Defendant is entitled to an award of the reasonable 7 expenses incurred in connection with this motion.¹

8 ACCORDINGLY, Defendant's Motion to Compel should be GRANTED.

9 IT SHOULD, THEREFORE, BE ORDERED that Plaintiffs produce for inspection and copying 10 by Defendant, without objections and no later than April 17, 2020, all documents within their 11 possession, custody, or control that fall within the descriptions set forth in the NRCP 34 requests 12 served upon them by Defendant on November 8, 2019.

13 IT SHOULD FURTHER BE ORDERED that with respect to any category of the NRCP 34 14 requests, if Plaintiffs maintain that one or more responsive documents never existed, no longer exist, 15 or are only within the possession, custody, or control of some other person or entity, then they must 16 serve upon Defendant, without objections and no later than April 17, 2020, a written response, under 17 oath, in which the responding Plaintiff provides this information to Defendant (including, as 18 appropriate, an explanation as to why they no longer exist, or an identification of the other person or 19 entity who has possession, custody, or control of the requested documents).

20 IT SHOULD FURTHER BE ORDERED that Plaintiffs, collectively, pay to Defendant the sum 21 of $1,000.00, as and for a sanction for their unexcused failures to respond to Defendant's requests.

22 DATED: This 3rd day of April, 2020.

Dept. No.: 15

20 MOTION FOR SANCTIONS PURSUANT TO NRCP 37(b)(1)

21 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”) 22 moves the Court pursuant to NRCP 37(b) for an order imposing sanctions against 23 Plaintiffs for their failure to comply with this Court’s order regarding discovery. This 24 motion is based on the following points and authorities and the entire file in this matter.

25 I. INTRODUCTION

26 On April 3, 2020, the Discovery Commissioner entered a Recommendation for 27 Order that Plaintiffs be required to produce, “without objections and no later than April 28 17, 2020,” all documents requested by RTC in its NRCP 34 requests for production served

1 on November 8, 2019. The Discovery Commissioner also recommended that Plaintiffs 2 provide a written response (again, no later than April 17, 2020) with respect to certain 3 categories of documents and that Plaintiffs' pay RTC $1,000 as a sanction for their 4 discovery failures.

5 On April 20, 2020, this Court entered its Confirming Order adopting the Discovery 6 Commissioner's recommendations and noting that no objection to those recommendations 7 had been filed pursuant to NRCP 16.1(c)(3)(2). Plaintiffs provided RTC no documents or 8 other written response by April 17, 2020 and therefore have failed to comply with this 9 Court's order. Therefore, RTC seeks appropriate sanctions pursuant to NRCP 37(b), 10 specifically either default judgment against Plaintiffs or dismissal of this action with 11 prejudice and an award of all reasonable attorney fees and costs caused by Plaintiffs' 12 failure to comply.

13 RTC notes that this motion is its second seeking discovery sanctions against 14 Plaintiffs. RTC filed a Motion for Discovery Sanctions on April 1, 2020, seeking both 15 dismissal and an award of attorney fees and costs. The deadline for Plaintiffs to oppose 16 that motion was April 15, 2020. Plaintiffs filed no response so, on April 20, 2020, RTC 17 submitted that motion for decision. If the Court grants dismissal pursuant to that motion, 18 this motion may be rendered moot, except for any attorney fees and costs that may be 19 awarded for Plaintiffs' failure to comply with this Court's discovery order. As requested 20 in RTC's prior motion for sanctions, if the Court grants RTC relief pursuant to NRCP 21 37(b), RTC's counsel will submit a declaration and supporting documentation to support 22 an award of attorney fees and costs. Plaintiffs may then object, if they wish, and the Court 23 can determine the appropriate award.

24 II. LAW AND ARGUMENT

25 NRCP 37(b)(1) provides that sanctions may be imposed against a party for its 26 failure to provide discovery as required by a court's order. In the event of such failure, 27 courts may impose an array of sanctions, including dismissal, striking of pleadings, or 28 entry of default judgment against the disobedient party.

1 The facts giving rise to RTC's two motions for sanctions are detailed in its prior 2 filings, which are incorporated by reference. Plaintiffs' failure to comply with this Court's 3 order requiring that documents and other written responses be produced no later than 4 April 17, 2020 is just the latest in a long line of failures that have frustrated the discovery 5 process, prejudiced RTC's ability to defend this case and contravened the letter and spirit 6 of NRCP 1. RTC acknowledges Nevada's strong policy of deciding cases on their merits.
7 However, the right to have a case determined on its merits is inextricably intertwined with 8 the obligation to comply with the rules of civil procedure. Plaintiffs' failure to do so is 9 beyond dispute.

10 Therefore, RTC requests that the Court impose appropriate sanctions against 11 Plaintiffs. The circumstances of this case warrant case-terminating sanctions. The most 12 appropriate sanction may be a default judgment against Plaintiffs or a dismissal of this 13 action with prejudice, such that this matter is concluded and Plaintiffs cannot re-file. In 14 either instance, RTC should be awarded all of its reasonable costs and attorney fees in 15 having to defend this action.

16 III. CERTIFICATION OF COUNSEL

17 The undersigned certifies that he has in good faith conferred or attempted to confer 18 with Plaintiffs' counsel in an effort to obtain the discovery without court action. The 19 undersigned was forced to file a motion to compel which the Court granted. Plaintiffs then 20 failed to comply with that order, necessitating this motion.

21 IV. CONCLUSION

22 Based on the foregoing, RTC requests that the Court impose sanctions against 23 Plaintiffs pursuant to NRCP 37(b). RTC requests that the Court either enter default 24 judgment against Plaintiffs or dismiss this action with prejudice and, in either instance, 25 award RTC all reasonable costs and attorney fees incurred as a result of Plaintiffs' 26 conduct. RTC requests that the Court's order imposing sanctions direct RTC's counsel to 27 submit a declaration, with supporting documentation, to support an award of costs and 28 attorney fees, and allowing Plaintiffs' to file a response if they wish.

Dept. No. 15

Plaintiff,

vs.

THE REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION
COMMISSION OF WASHOE COUNTY; ROE
CORPORATIONS 1-20; and DOES 1-40,

Defendants.

PRETRIAL ORDER

The procedures described in this pretrial order are designed to secure a just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of this case. If any party believes a procedure required by this order will not achieve these ends, that party should seek an immediate conference among all parties and this Court so an alternative order may be discussed. Otherwise, failure to comply with the provisions in this order may result in the imposition of sanctions, which may include, but are not limited to, dismissal of the action or entry of a default. All references to "counsel" include self-represented litigants.

I. TRIAL SETTING

1 Unless the parties have already done so, counsel for the parties shall set trial no 2 later than 20 days after entry of this order. Please contact the Department 15 Judicial 3 Assistant at 775-328-3880 or shannon.parke@washocourts.us to schedule a setting 4 appointment. Plaintiff's counsel shall file a notice to set and prepare the Application for 5 Setting form. The sections regarding juries only apply if a jury trial is requested.

6 II. PRETRIAL CONFERENCES

7 A. Early Pretrial and Scheduling Conference. Simultaneously with the trial 8 setting appointment if the trial has not already been set, counsel for the parties shall set a 9 pretrial scheduling conference, to be held within 60 days.

10 1. Purpose. The pretrial scheduling conference provides the parties with 11 an opportunity to meet directly with the Court in an effort to facilitate the purposes 12 identified at NRCP 16(a), present suggestions regarding the matters identified at NRCP 13 16(c), and address disputes or problems arising out of the early case conference.

14 2. Required Attendance. Lead trial counsel for all parties, as well as all 15 unrepresented parties, must attend the pretrial scheduling conference.

16 3. Stipulation to Vacate Conference. The parties may stipulate to vacate 17 the pretrial scheduling conference and the Court will order the same if the Court is 18 provided with a written stipulation stating the agreement of all parties that an early 19 pretrial scheduling conference is not warranted, and including a stipulated scheduling 20 order for entry in this case. The stipulated scheduling order must specify deadlines, using 21 calendar dates, that comply with the provisions of NRCP 16.1(a) and (c) for:

- 22 (a) filing motions to amend the pleadings or to add
- 23 parties;
- 24 (b) making initial expert disclosures;
- 25 (c) making rebuttal expert disclosures;
- 26 (d) completing discovery proceedings; and
- 27 (e) filing dispositive motions.

28 The stipulated scheduling order also must specify a calendar date by which all pretrial

1 motions, including dispositive motions and motions limiting or excluding an expert's 2 testimony, must be submitted for decision, said submission date must be no later than 30 3 calendar days before trial.

4 B. Interim Pretrial Conferences. This Court is available to meet with the 5 parties whenever the parties agree a meeting would be beneficial. This Court may also 6 order one or more pretrial conferences sua sponte or upon motion by any party.

7 C. Final Pretrial Conference. At the same time trial is scheduled, the parties 8 must also schedule the date for a final pretrial conference, to be held no later than 30 days¹ 9 prior to trial.

10 1. Purpose. The conference is intended to develop a plan for trial, 11 including a protocol for facilitating the admission of evidence and to address any trial-12 related disputes, needs, or requests.

13 2. Required Attendance. This conference must be attended by:

14 (a) the attorneys who will try the case (the parties, 15 which includes an authorized representative of 16 any party that is an entity, may be required to 17 attend); and 18 (b) any unrepresented parties.

19 3. Use of Equipment at Trial. At the final pretrial conference, counsel 20 must advise the Court fully with respect to the following matters:

21 (a) the equipment to be used during trial, including 22 any request to use the Court's equipment;

23 (b) the presentation software to be used during trial, 24 and whether each party is able to receive and use 25 digital files of presentation materials prepared by 26 another;

27

- (c) any expected use of videoconferencing; and
- (d) the reliability and positioning for any equipment to be brought to the courtroom.

D. Personal Appearance Required at all conferences. Counsel’s personal appearance is required at all conferences, except upon prior approval of the Court.

III. DISCOVERY

A. Consultation Before Discovery Motion Practice. Prior to filing any discovery motion, the attorney for the moving party must consult with opposing counsel about the disputed issues. Counsel for each side must present to each other the merits of their respective positions with the same candor, specificity, and supporting material as would be used in connection with a discovery motion. The Parties are reminded that the Discovery Commissioner is available to address some disputes telephonically.

B. Discovery Hearings. Discovery motions typically are resolved without the need for oral argument. However, if both sides desire a dispute resolution conference pursuant to NRCP 16.1(d), counsel must contact the Discovery Commissioner’s office at (775) 328-3293 to obtain a convenient date and time for the conference. If the parties cannot agree upon the need for a conference, the party seeking the conference must file and submit a motion in that regard.

C. Effect of Trial Continuance. A continuance of trial does not extend the deadline for completing discovery. A request for an extension of the discovery deadline, if needed, must be made separately or included as part of any motion for continuance of trial. The parties may include an agreement to extend discovery in a stipulation to continue trial presented for court order.

D. Computer Animations. If any party intends to offer a computer-generated animation either as an evidentiary exhibit or an illustrative aid, that party must disclose that intention when expert disclosures are made pursuant to NRCP 16.1(a)(2). A copy of the animation must be furnished to all other parties and the Court no later than thirty days

1 prior to trial. Disclosure of the animation includes copies of the underlying digital files as 2 well as of the completed animation.

3 IV. SETTLEMENT AND ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION

4 A. Notice of Settlement. In the event that this case is settled prior to trial, the 5 parties must promptly notify the department Judicial Assistant.

6 B. Settlement Conference or Alternative Dispute Resolution. This Court may 7 order, upon a party's request or sua sponte, that the parties and their attorneys 1) meet in 8 person with a judge other than the presiding judge in this case and attempt to settle the 9 case, or 2) participate in mediation or some other appropriate form of alternative dispute 10 resolution in an effort to resolve this case prior to trial.

11 V. TRIAL-RELATED PROCEDURES

12 A. Motions in Limine. All motions in limine, except motions in limine to 13 exclude an expert's testimony, must be submitted for decision no later than 15 calendar 14 days before trial.

15 B. All Other Motions. All motions, except motions in limine as defined above, 16 must be submitted for decision no later than 30 calendar days before trial.

17 C. Exhibits. Trial counsel for the parties shall contact the Courtroom Clerk, 18 Amanda Dick, no later than ten judicial days before trial, to arrange a date and time to 19 mark trial exhibits. In no event shall the marking of exhibits take place later than the 20 Monday before trial, without leave of the Court. All trial exhibits must be reviewed by 21 both sides prior to the day of delivery.

22 1. Marking and Objections. All exhibits shall be marked in one 23 numbered series (Exhibit 1, 2, 3, etc.) and placed in one or more binders with 24 corresponding tabs provided by counsel, unless the Court permits a different procedure.
25 Plaintiff exhibits begin with number 1 and continue until completion. Defense shall begin 26 marking their exhibits with the next sequential number. When marking the exhibits with 27 the clerk, counsel shall advise the clerk of all exhibits which may be admitted without 28 objection, and those that may be admissible subject to objections. Any exhibits not timely

1 submitted to opposing counsel and the clerk may not be offered or referenced during the 2 trial, without leave of the Court. If additional exhibits are marked during the trial, counsel 3 must provide the clerk with those number tabs.

4 2. Copies. Counsel must cooperate to insure that the official exhibits and 5 copies are provided to the Court. Three copies shall be delivered to the clerk. One set of 6 originals, one copy for opposing counsel, and one copy for the court to review during 7 testimony. The Court’s copy shall also be in a binder with tabs.

8 3. Custody of Exhibits. After marking trial Exhibits by the clerk, the 9 exhibits will remain in the custody of the clerk, until an order is issued directing the 10 disposition or return to counsel.

11 4. Demonstrative Exhibits. Demonstrative Exhibits must be disclosed to 12 counsel and the Court within a reasonable period before their anticipated use to permit 13 appropriate objections, if any.

14 D. Trial Statements. Trial Statements must conform to WDCR 5. Trial 15 Statements must be filed and served no later than 5:00 p.m. five calendar days before trial, 16 unless otherwise ordered by the Court. They must be served upon other parties by e-17 filing, personal delivery, fax, or email.

18 E. Jury Instructions and Verdict Forms. All proposed jury instructions and 19 verdict forms must be submitted to the Court no later than 5:00 p.m. on the Wednesday 20 before trial, unless otherwise ordered by the court.²

21 1. Format. All original jury instructions must be accompanied by a 22 separate copy of each instruction containing a citation to the form instruction or to the 23 authority supporting that instruction. All modifications made to instructions taken from 24 statutory authority must be separately underscored on the citation page.

25
26 27 28

² See WDCR 7(8).

1 2. Exchange. The parties must exchange all proposed jury instructions 2 and verdict forms no later than seven calendar days before trial, unless otherwise ordered 3 by the Court.

4 3. Agreement and Submission. The parties must confer regarding the 5 proposed jury instructions and verdict forms before they are submitted to the Court and 6 shall use their best efforts to stipulate to uncontested instructions. All undisputed 7 instructions and verdict forms must be submitted jointly to the Court; the parties must 8 separately submit any disputed instructions and verdict forms.

9 4. Disputes and Additional Instructions. After commencement of the 10 trial, the Court will meet with counsel to determine the jury instructions and verdict forms 11 that will be used. At that time, the Court will resolve all disputes over instructions and 12 verdict forms, and consider the need for any additional instructions which were not 13 foreseen prior to trial.

14 F. Juror Notes and Questions. Jurors will be permitted to take notes during 15 trial. Jurors will be permitted to submit questions in writing during trial; however, juror 16 questions will be asked only after the questions are reviewed by counsel and approved by 17 the Court.

18 G. Use of Electronically Recorded Depositions. No depositions recorded by 19 other than stenographic means may be edited until the Court rules on objections. If such a 20 recording is to be used at trial, it must be edited to eliminate cumulative testimony and to 21 present only matters that are relevant and material.

22 H. Evidentiary Rulings. Every witness that counsel intends to call at trial must 23 be informed by counsel about any rulings that restrict or limit testimony or evidence (e.g., 24 rulings on motions in limine) to inform them that they may not offer or mention any 25 evidence that is subject to that ruling.

26 I. Examination Limits. Absent extraordinary circumstances, counsel will be 27 given the opportunity for one re-direct and one re-cross examination.

VI. MISCELLANEOUS

A. Civility. The use of language which characterizes the conduct, arguments or ethics of another is to be avoided unless relevant to a motion or proceeding before the Court. In the appropriate case, the Court will upon motion or sua sponte, consider sanctions, including monetary penalties and/or striking the pleading or document in which such improprieties appear, and may order any other suitable measure the Court deems to be justified. This section of this Order includes, but is not limited to, written material exchanged between counsel, briefs or other written materials submitted to the Court, and conduct at depositions, hearings, trial or meetings with the Court.

B. Communication with Department. In addition to communication by telephone, letter, or fax, counsel may communicate with Department 15 by e-mailing the Judicial Assistant, shannon.parke@washoecourts.us, or the Court Clerk, Amanda.dick@washoecourts.us. All written communications must be copied to all opposing counsel and unrepresented litigants.

C. Page Limits. All pleadings including accompanying legal memoranda submitted in support of any motion may not exceed 20 pages in length; opposition pleadings may not exceed 20 pages in length; and reply pleadings may not exceed 10 pages in length. These limitations are exclusive of exhibits. A party may file a pleading that exceeds these limits by five pages, so long as it is filed with a certification of counsel that good cause existed to exceed the standard page limits and the reasons therefore. Briefs in excess of five pages over these limits may only be filed with prior leave of the Court, upon a showing of good cause.

D. Request for Accommodation or Interpreter. Counsel must notify the Court no later than 30 days before trial of any reasonable accommodation needed because of a disability, or immediately upon learning of the need if not known in advance. Counsel is also responsible for acquiring interpreter services and coordinating all scheduling needs related thereto.

DEPT. NO. 15

PLAINTIFFS' OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT'S MOTION FOR SANCTIONS

23 THE JOHN ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA ILIESCU 1992 FAMILY TRUST; JOHN 24 ILIESCU, JR., individually; and SONNIA ILIESCUE, individually (collectively, "the 25 Iliescu plaintiffs"), by and through their attorney, Michael J. Morrison, Esq., and 26 oppose Defendant Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County's ("the 27 RTC") motion to for sanctions.
28

SUPPORTING POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 The RTC has moved this Court for sanctions against the Iliescu plaintiffs, citing 3 to the Iliescu plaintiffs having not provided documents and discovery responses as 4 required by this Court's Order. As the sanction requested, the RTC seeks a default 5 judgment in its favor or an order dismissing this action with prejudice and, in either 6 case, an award to the RTC of its costs and attorney's fees.

7 As previously explained to this Court, the undersigned's participation in this 8 case was adversely affected by the serious neurological and spinal injuries he sustained 9 soon after this case was filed, and for which he has been undergoing extensive care, 10 testing, treatment, and rehabilitation. The undersigned's recovery efforts have now 11 been further compromised by the current COVID-19 crisis. Due both to his age and his 12 current and underlying medical conditions, and because there has been an incident of 13 COVID-19 in the building in which his office is located and that directly impacted his 14 office, the undersigned has been under strict medical orders to stay home. Having been 15 advised by his medical providers that he is at very high risk if he contracts the novel 16 coronavirus, the undersigned has been confined at home for nearly eight (8) weeks and, 17 during that time, has not been able to go to or work at his office, which is where his 18 work computer is located and where he would be far better equipped to work, at such 19 time as his health permits. To that end, the undersigned's receipt of documents and 20 information related to, among others, this case has been significantly hindered. And, 21 because of the incident of COVID-19 in the building in which the undersigned's office 22 is located and that it directly affected his office, the undersigned's office needs to be 23 sanitized before he can return, once he is released to do so. Moreover, and quite 24 unfortunately, the undersigned's office building has five (5) medical offices in a two-25 story building housing twelve (12) offices, and the patient traffic going past his office is 26 substantial, and is continuous throughout the day. One of the medical offices, which 27 gets the bulk of the patients coming to the building, is situated right next door to the 28

1 undersigned's office. This situation is what directly resulted in the contamination of the 2 undersigned's office.

3 The undersigned's ability to address the discovery requests and requirements in 4 this case has been, and continues to be further complicated and severely 5 hindered/frustrated by the fact that the Iliescu plaintiffs are elderly (Dr. Iliescu is 94 6 years old) and medically compromised and, therefore, are also at extremely high risk if 7 they contract the novel coronavirus. To that end, and based upon his own current 8 limitations, the undersigned does not have, and for at least the eight weeks that he has 9 been medically confined to his home, has not had the ability to meaningfully meet 10 and/or communicate with his clients in regard to the discovery process and this Court's 11 Order as they relate to the RTC's discovery requests.

12 Indeed, the seriousness of the current COVID-19 crisis and the State of 13 Nevada's response to it has resulted in numerous Administrative Orders by this Court 14 addressing changes in how this Court is currently operating. See Administrative Orders 15 2020-02 – 2020-07. Those changes include a provision of good cause "...in any case 16 type where good cause must be found to extend a deadline or for a continuance...." 17 Administrative Order 2020-02 at 3:13-14; see also Administrative Order 2020-02(A), 18 extending any time periods identified in Administrative Order 2020-02.

19 While the Iliescu plaintiffs do not dispute that NRC 37 generally provides for 20 the imposition of sanctions for a party's failure to comply with a discovery order, the 21 Iliescu plaintiffs respectfully submit to this Court that the sanctions that the RTC seeks 22 – a default judgment or an order dismissing this case with prejudice plus an award of 23 attorney's fees and costs – are exceedingly disproportionate to and inappropriate under 24 the current extraordinary circumstances that have prevented the undersigned and the 25 Iliescu plaintiffs from being able to produce the discovery identified in this Court's 26 order. That is especially true in light of this Court's discretionary option to stay these 27 proceedings pending the Iliescu plaintiffs' ability to comply with such Order and the 28

1 discovery rules. Accord NRC 37(b)(1)(D). Thus, based upon the blanket “good 2 cause” that this Court’s Administrative Order 2020-02 provides and the prohibitions 3 and complications that the current, and historically unprecedented COVID-19 crisis has 4 created and imposed on the undersigned’s and the Iliescu plaintiffs’ ability to 5 meaningfully and fully address the discovery disclosures required by this Court’s 6 Order, the Iliescu plaintiffs respectfully request that that this Court deny the RTC’s 7 motion.

8 The Iliescu plaintiffs further respectfully request that this Court stay these 9 proceedings and/or extend the time in which they are required to comply with the 10 Court’s Order, and that any such deadline imposed under either scenario take into 11 account: (1) a time after which the novel coronavirus is no longer an extreme threat to 12 Iliescu plaintiffs’ and the undersigned’s respective health and safety; (2) the 13 undersigned is able to safely return to his office and work activities; and (3) the Iliescu 14 plaintiffs and the undersigned are able to meaningfully address this Court’s Order with 15 the undersigned without the crippling limitations the COVID-19 crisis has had on them, 16 respectively.

17 The undersigned and Iliescu plaintiffs are certainly mindful of and understand 18 that the delays occasioned by the above-described unfortunate and largely 19 unprecedented facts and events have occasioned unforeseen delays in the prosecution 20 and pace of this case.

21 Accordingly, the undersigned and the Iliescu plaintiffs hereby respectfully 22 request that the Court, in exercise of its wide-ranging discretion, and giving due 23 deference to the ever-changing and unimaginably profound impact of the COVID-19 24 crisis, structure an equitable remedy herein that will ensure that the Iliescu plaintiffs 25 have the opportunity to present their evidence and have their “day in court”, while 26 concurrently giving Defendants a firm timeline within which this case will be 27 concluded. Therefore, the Iliescu plaintiffs request that this Court afford them 60 28

1 calendar days within which to comply with the Court’s Discovery Order, regardless of 2 whether the undersigned’s health issues allow him to participate, or whether other 3 counsel has be engaged to represent the Iliescu plaintiffs herein.

4 The undersigned and the Iliescu plaintiffs respectfully submit this Opposition in 5 good faith and for no purpose of unreasonable delays.

20 REPLY IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR SANCTIONS PURSUANT 21 TO NRCP 37(b)(1)

22 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”) 23 replies to Plaintiffs’ Opposition To Defendant’s Motion For Sanctions (“Opposition”) as 24 follows:

25 It is important to remember, at the outset, that Plaintiffs have only opposed RTC’s 26 motion for sanctions that was filed on April 20, 2020. RTC previously filed a Motion for 27 Discovery Sanctions on April 1, 2020, which Plaintiffs did not oppose. That motion was 28 submitted for decision on April 20, 2020, the same day the instant motion was filed, and is

1 pending. Plaintiffs oppose the instant motion on two grounds: (1) their counsel's ongoing 2 medical issues and (2) the logistical challenges presented by the COVID pandemic.
3 While RTC and its counsel are sympathetic to the former and empathetic to the latter, 4 neither justifies denying RTC the relief it seeks in the instant motion.

5 Plaintiffs' counsel first raised his medical issues in Plaintiffs' July 22, 2019 6 Motion for Extension of Time, in which Plaintiffs sought an extension of time to serve 7 process on RTC in response to this Court's Order to Show Cause filed July 1, 2019. Thus, 8 Plaintiffs' counsel's medical issues are not a recent development in which counsel was 9 unexpectedly rendered unable to work. With all due respect to Plaintiffs' counsel, if his 10 medical condition is—and has been for 10 months or more—such that he is unable to 11 comply with the rules of civil procedure and this Court's orders, perhaps the case should 12 have been handled by other counsel. However, Plaintiffs' counsel has been able to 13 respond to two motions to dismiss, file an amended complaint and participate in several 14 stipulations—including one allowing for early discovery. Further, Plaintiffs' counsel 15 acknowledged on January 30, 2020, that his clients were obligated to respond to requests 16 for production. See Exhibit 22 to Declaration of Dane W. Anderson in Support of Motion 17 for Discovery Sanctions filed on April 1, 2020. With all due sympathy to Plaintiffs' 18 counsel, any continuing medical issues are not an excuse for Plaintiffs' failure to comply 19 with the Court's order.

20 Regarding the pandemic, it indeed has caused logistical challenges for attorneys 21 and the Court alike. However, the undersigned has been working from home for more 22 than eight weeks and does not believe that is an excuse for failing to comply with 23 discovery, failing to respond to motions, failing to object to Discovery Commissioner's 24 recommendations and failing to obey this Court's orders. Plaintiffs' counsel obviously 25 can file electronically, suggesting he received the Discovery Commissioner's 26 recommendation for order on April 3, 2020 and could have filed an objection to the time 27 frame in which Plaintiff's were required to comply, but did not do so. Nor did he reach 28 out to RTC's counsel to seek an extension of that deadline. Plaintiffs' counsel does not 1 state that he cannot work from home. Given the circumstances described in the 2 Opposition, he presumably filed that document from home. The pandemic is not an 3 excuse for Plaintiffs' failure to comply with the Court's order.

4 Nor is Plaintiffs' elderly status an excuse. That was the entire point of seeking 5 early discovery. Starting in October 2019, RTC attempted to secure Plaintiffs' 6 depositions, only to be met with last-minute cancellations on 3 occasions and no effort by 7 Plaintiffs to make themselves available at any point in time. The requests for production 8 that were the subject of the motion to compel were served in early November 2019, and as 9 of today's date RTC has been provided not one shred of paper from Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs' 10 elderly status is not an excuse for their pervasive failure to provide any documents or 11 testimony supporting their claims.

12 Plaintiffs' request for a 60-day "extension" should not be entertained. They failed 13 to object to the Discovery Commissioner's recommendation for order with 14 days as 14 required by NRCPC 16.3(c)(2). Indeed, Plaintiffs did not even oppose RTC's Motion to 15 Compel resulting in the Discovery Commissioner's recommendation and this Court's 16 order. Plaintiffs' citation to this Court's Administrative Orders do not justify an 17 "extension" nor do they excuse Plaintiffs' failure to comply with the Court's order.

18 The provision upon which Plaintiffs rely in Administrative Order 2020-02 19 provides: "In addition, in any case type where good cause must be found to extend a 20 deadline or for a continuance to be granted, this order shall establish good cause." That 21 Administrative Order was entered on March 16, 2020. Plaintiffs could have cited that order 22 in a timely objection to the Discovery Commissioner's recommendation for order and a 23 corresponding request for an extension (or even in a courtesy call to counsel) but did not 24 do so. Therefore, they have waived the ability to demonstrate "good cause" for an 25 extension of the deadline in this Court's order. Further, they request a 60-day extension 26 but offer no explanation of how they will now, after all this time, be able to produce those 27 documents. Why did they not just produce the documents that were requested 6 months 28 ago? Plaintiffs offer no explanation for their failure to do so. Plaintiffs failed to timely

1 seek proper relief. Their Opposition is not a proper vehicle to seek an extension of time to 2 comply with the Court's order. That time has come and gone.

3 Plaintiffs failed to comply with the Court's order, which was issued after they 4 failed to oppose the motion to compel and failed to object to the Discovery 5 Commissioner's recommendation. The Court should take into consideration the other 6 circumstances of this case, which involved Plaintiffs repeatedly failing to appear for 7 properly noticed depositions and failing to oppose RTC's motion for sanctions related to 8 that failure. Plaintiffs filed this case accusing RTC of serious wrongdoing but have done 9 absolutely nothing to move the case forward. While RTC recognizes that parties 10 generally have a right to "their day in court," that right is contingent upon compliance 11 with rules and orders. Plaintiffs have repeatedly failed to comply with both.

12 As a result, this Court should either enter default judgment against Plaintiffs or 13 dismiss this action with prejudice and, in either instance, should award RTC all reasonable 14 costs and attorney fees incurred as a result of Plaintiffs' conduct. RTC requests that the 15 Court's order imposing sanctions direct RTC's counsel to submit a declaration, with 16 supporting documentation, to support an award of costs and attorney fees, and allowing 17 Plaintiffs' to file a response if they wish.

18 Affirmation pursuant to NRS 239B.030

19 The undersigned does hereby affirm that the preceding document does not contain

16 RECOMMENDATION FOR ORDER

17 Presently before the Court are two discovery-related motions.¹ On April 1, 2020, Defendant 18 filed a Motion for Discovery Sanctions. Plaintiffs did not file a written opposition to that motion, and it 19 was submitted for decision on April 20, 2020. In addition, on April 20, 2020, Defendant filed a 20 Motion for Sanctions Pursuant to NRCP 37(b)(1). On May 14, 2020, Plaintiffs filed Plaintiffs' 21 Opposition to Defendant's Motion for Sanctions. On May 18, 2020, Defendant filed its Reply in 22 Support of Motion for Sanctions Pursuant to NRCP 37(b)(1), and the motion was submitted for 23 decision on that same date.²

24 _____
25 ¹ The background of this action is set forth in greater detail in previous Court decisions.

26 ² The failure of Plaintiffs to file an opposition to Defendant's Motion for Discovery Sanctions, could be construed as an admission that the motion is meritorious and a consent to granting the same. See DCR 13(3). However, under the circumstances, the Court will consider the assertions and arguments raised by Plaintiffs in connection with Defendant's Motion for Sanctions Pursuant to NRCP 37(b)(1) as intended by Plaintiffs to apply to both of the pending motions.

1 Under NRCP 37(b)(1), the Court may impose sanctions through any “just orders” against any 2 party who “fails to obey an order to provide or permit discovery.” The rule describes several different 3 kinds of sanctions, and expressly includes an order “dismissing the action or proceeding in whole or 4 in part.” See NRCP 37(b)(1)(E). Under NRCP 37(d)(1)(A), the Court may impose sanctions against 5 a party who (a) “fails, after being served with proper notice, to appear for that person’s deposition,” 6 or (b) “after being properly served with . . . a request for inspection under Rule 34, fails to serve its 7 answers, objections, or written response.” Sanctions may include any of the orders listed in NRCP 8 37(b)(1). Any failure under NRCP 37(d)(1)(A) is not excused on the ground that the discovery 9 sought was objectionable, unless the party failing to act has a pending motion for a protective order.
10 See id. 37(d)(2). Both rules require that the offending party, its counsel, or both, pay the moving 11 party’s reasonable expenses, including attorney fees, caused by its failures, unless the failures were 12 substantially justified or other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

13 In a Declaration of Dane W. Anderson in Support of Motion for Discovery Sanctions filed on 14 April 1, 2020, Defendant’s counsel describes Plaintiffs’ discovery failures to date. He notes that the 15 parties agreed to permit discovery prior to complying with the requirements of NRCP 16.1 (a 16 stipulation that ultimately was approved in an order entered on November 18, 2019). To that end, 17 Defendant’s counsel sent an email to Plaintiffs’ counsel on October 1, 2019, reminding him that he 18 had agreed to confer with Plaintiffs about available dates in October for their depositions. Dates 19 were not provided, however, so on October 9, 2019, Defendant served Plaintiffs with NRCP 30(b)(1) 20 notices informing them that their depositions would proceed on October 29 and 30, 2019.

21 In an email sent on October 28, 2019, Defendant’s counsel asked Plaintiffs’ counsel to 22 confirm that the depositions would proceed as scheduled. Plaintiffs’ counsel then telephoned 23 Defendant’s counsel and explained that the depositions were not on his calendar, so those 24 depositions did not go forward. In a separate email sent on that date, Defendant’s counsel asked 25 Plaintiffs’ counsel to “[p]lease advise when your clients will be available, as time may be important.” 26 On or about November 4, 2019, Plaintiffs’ counsel advised Defendant’s counsel that Plaintiffs would

1 be available for their depositions on December 11 and 12, 2019. On November 6, 2019, Defendant 2 served Plaintiffs with NRCP 30(b)(1) notices scheduling their depositions for the dates provided by 3 their counsel. Plaintiffs' counsel confirmed the deposition dates in an email to Defendant's counsel 4 sent on November 7, 2019.

5 On November 8, 2019, Defendant served Plaintiffs with an NRCP 34 request for production 6 of documents. On November 20, 2019, in response to a request by Defendant's counsel that certain 7 authorizations and related information be provided prior to Plaintiffs' depositions, Plaintiffs' counsel 8 mentioned that "John's been beset by health issues, tests and hospital visits" and agreed to follow 9 up on Defendant's requests. In an email sent on November 25, 2019, Defendant's counsel sought 10 an update on his earlier request; however, Plaintiffs' counsel did not respond to that email. In 11 addition, Plaintiffs did not serve a written response to Defendant's request for production, or 12 otherwise produce the requested documents.

13 In an email sent on December 10, 2019, Defendant's counsel asked Plaintiffs' counsel to 14 confirm that the depositions would proceed as scheduled. Plaintiffs' counsel called in response and 15 advised that his clients would not be attending their depositions due to health issues. In an email 16 sent to Plaintiffs' counsel on January 21, 2020, Defendant's counsel stated that "I am wondering 17 whether it would be possible to schedule the Iliescu depositions." Plaintiffs' counsel immediately 18 responded with an email stating, "I'll check now." However, Defendant's counsel did not receive a 19 further response.

20 In an email sent to Plaintiffs' counsel on January 27, 2020, Defendant's counsel expressed 21 his frustration in trying to obtain dates for Plaintiffs' depositions, and observed that Plaintiffs had not 22 responded to Defendant's NRCP 34 request. In an email to Defendant's counsel dated January 30, 23 2020, Plaintiffs' counsel's legal assistant stated as follows:

24 Mr. Morrison called to advise me that he has not been intentionally avoiding you.
25 John Iliescu's sister (last one) died and her burial was yesterday. Mr. Iliescu is having 26 breathing problems and is currently at the V.A. Hospital seeking treatment. Sonia will call Mr. Morrison as soon as he is released from the V.A. and at home to discuss the depositions. Sonia knows the depositions need to be taken and has no objections.
Mr. Morrison also mentioned he owes you responses to requests for production.

1 Defendant's counsel did not receive any additional communications on these matters during the next 2 three weeks. So, on February 20, 2020, Defendant again served Plaintiff with NRCP 30(b)(1) 3 notices informing Plaintiffs that their depositions were scheduled for March 5 and 6, 2020. On that 4 same date, Defendant also filed a motion to compel concerning Plaintiffs' overdue response to its 5 NRCP 34 request.

6 In an email sent on March 2, 2020, Defendant's counsel asked Plaintiffs' counsel to confirm 7 that the depositions would proceed as scheduled. In a response email of that same date, Plaintiffs' 8 counsel stated, in pertinent part, as follows:

9 As for the noticed depositions, I'll check tomorrow and let you know. When I spoke to Sonnia, I 10 was unable to speak with John because he was bed-ridden with severe back pain, and had been for over a week.

11 Defendants' counsel replied with a request that Plaintiffs' counsel let him know as soon as possible.
12 In an email sent on March 3, 2020, he again asked Plaintiffs' counsel if he had "any word" regarding 13 the depositions. Ultimately, on March 4, 2020, at approximately 4:40 p.m.—after Defendant's 14 counsel had left the office—Plaintiffs' counsel left a voicemail message stating that Mr. Iliescu would 15 not be appearing for his deposition the following morning. Unaware of that message, Defendant's 16 counsel appeared for Mr. Iliescu's scheduled deposition and noted his non-appearance on the 17 record. In an email to Plaintiffs' counsel sent on March 5, 2020, Defendant's counsel recounted the 18 events of that morning and stated that he would be seeking appropriate relief. He also asked 19 whether Ms. Iliescu would be appearing for her deposition scheduled for the following day. In an 20 email sent on that same date, Plaintiffs' counsel stated that she "will be unable to appear tomorrow"; 21 however, no reason was given. At the time set for her deposition to begin on March 6, 2020, Ms.
22 Iliescu's non-appearance was noted on the record.

23 Plaintiffs did not file any opposition to Defendant's motion to compel their response to its 24 NRCP 34 request. In a Recommendation for Order entered on April 3, 2020, the Discovery 25 Commissioner determined that Plaintiffs should be ordered to produce the documents requested by 26 Defendant, and to pay sanctions in the amount of $1,000. Plaintiffs did not object to that 1 recommendation, and the Court adopted that decision in an order entered on April 20, 2020.

2 Notwithstanding that order, Plaintiffs have not complied with the Court's directives. Plaintiffs' failures
3 to produce the documents sought in Defendant's NRCP 34 request and to appear for their properly 4 scheduled depositions form the basis for Defendant's Motion for Discovery Sanctions. Defendant's 5 Motion for Sanctions Pursuant to NRCP 37(b)(1) is based on Plaintiffs' failure to comply with the 6 Court's discovery order.

7 In their opposition, Plaintiffs state as follows: "As previously explained to this Court, the 8 undersigned's [i.e., Plaintiffs' counsel's] participation in this case was adversely affected by the 9 serious neurological and spinal injuries he sustained soon after this case was filed, and for which he 10 has been undergoing extensive care, testing, treatment, and rehabilitation."³ This explanation is 11 problematic for a few reasons. First, no evidence has been submitted to support it. While various 12 assertions of fact are made in Plaintiffs' opposition, assertions made in briefs do not constitute 13 evidence.⁴ See, e.g., Ladner v. Litespeed Mfg. Co., 537 F. Supp. 2d 1206, 1217 (N.D. Ala. 2008)
14 (statements by counsel in briefs do not constitute evidence); see also Jain v. McFarland, 109 Nev.
15 465, 475-76, 851 P.2d 450, 457 (1993) ("[a]rguments of counsel are not evidence and do not 16 establish the facts of the case"); Phillips v. State, 105 Nev. 631, 634, 782 P.2d 381, 383 (1989)
17 ("[f]acts or allegations contained in a brief are not evidence and are not part of the record"). Second, 18 the Court has reviewed the exhibits provided in connection with this motion, and none of the written 19 communications from Plaintiffs' counsel when those failures occurred offered his medical condition

20 _____
21 ³ On July 1, 2019, the Court entered an Order to Show Cause allowing Plaintiff twenty days in which to provide 22 proof that Defendants had been served with process in this action. In a Motion for Extension of Time filed on July 22, 23 2019, Plaintiffs stated that their delay was primarily due to their counsel's "personal health issues" and "difficulties 24 attendant" thereto. They offered the following brief explanation:

No evidence was submitted in support of these statements. However, the motion was not opposed, and the Court granted the requested extension.

⁴ The Court appreciates that Plaintiffs' counsel is an officer of the Court, and it does not mean to impugn his integrity in any way. However, Plaintiffs cannot successfully oppose a motion for case-terminating sanctions—a motion for which evidentiary support has been provided—by resting on a relatively brief and unsupported explanation about their counsel's health.

1 as the reason why Plaintiffs failed to comply with their discovery obligations. For the depositions, 2 the reasons provided were an error in calendaring and Plaintiffs' health conditions. No explanation
3 was ever provided for their failure to respond to the NRCP 34 request, and nearly seven months 4 have passed since that request was served upon Plaintiffs. Third, counsel's condition did not 5 apparently impair his ability to oppose two motions to dismiss, file an amended complaint, and 6 participate in several stipulations.

7 Plaintiffs also maintain that their counsel's "recovery efforts have now been further 8 compromised by the current COVID-19 crisis." Specifically, they rely on the following 9 circumstances:

- 10 • Counsel's age and his "current and underlying medical conditions"
- 11 • "[T]here has been an incident of COVID-19 in the building in which his office is located and 12 that directly impacted his office"⁵
- 13 • Counsel "has been under strict medical orders to stay home" because "he is at very high 14 risk if he contracts the novel coronavirus"
- 15 • During his extended home confinement, counsel "has not been able to go to or work at his 16 office, which is where his work computer is located and where he would be far better equipped to 17 work, at such time as his health permits," and his "receipt of documents and information related to, 18 among others, this case has been significantly hindered"
- 19 • Counsel's office "needs to be sanitized before he can return, once he is released to do so"

20 Again, a significant problem with this explanation is that it lacks any evidentiary support. Some kind 21 of evidence along these lines is necessary because so many attorneys are finding ways to perform 22 their work in a reasonably timely manner notwithstanding the COVID-19 pandemic. Yet Plaintiffs 23 have not offered any affidavit or declaration from Plaintiffs' counsel's physician, or provided other 24 supporting evidence (e.g., medical records) to support their assertions about his medical conditions,

25 _____
26 ⁵ Plaintiffs state that nearly half of the offices in his office building are medical offices, "and the patient traffic going past his office is substantial, and is continuous throughout the day." They further state that the medical office receiving the most patients is situated next to their counsel's office, and that "[t]his situation is what directly resulted in the contamination of the undersigned's [i.e., Plaintiffs' counsel's] office."

1 the risk presented by those conditions and his age, the medical directive that he remain at home, or 2 the requirement that his office be sanitized.

3 Even if the risks presented by SARS-CoV-2 were facts of which judicial notice could be 4 taken, other attorneys involved in civil litigation—many of whom have their own health conditions or 5 are similar in age to Plaintiffs' counsel—are finding ways to accomplish their work notwithstanding 6 the difficulties created by the COVID-19 pandemic. Plaintiffs have not provided any explanation of 7 the efforts their counsel is taking to comply with the requirements imposed on him and his clients by 8 our rules of civil procedure (including our discovery rules) and other authorities. For example, 9 counsel could arrange for someone to retrieve his work computer and accessories (or at least its 10 central processing unit) and bring them to his home,⁶ and he could arrange to have his work emails 11 forwarded to his home email address. Various other means—technical or non-technical—12 presumably exist to enable Plaintiffs' counsel to continue his work as Plaintiffs' legal representative 13 in this action.

14 Concerns about COVID-19 are unavailing for another reason. Plaintiffs failed to attend their 15 scheduled depositions in October and December prior to any widely recognized concerns about the 16 risks posed by that illness. Further, as noted above, concerns about COVID-19 were not raised by 17 Plaintiffs' counsel in his communications regarding the vacating of those examinations. Similarly, 18 Plaintiffs were required to serve a written response to Defendant's NRCP 34 request, or to produce 19 the requested documents, on or before December 9, 2019. The COVID-19 pandemic that has 20 arisen in 2020 does not provide justification for Plaintiffs' failures to participate in discovery 21 proceedings in 2019.

22 Plaintiffs also assert that their participation in discovery proceedings "has been, and 23 continues to be further complicated and severely hindered/frustrated by the fact that the Iliescu 24 plaintiffs are elderly (Dr. Iliescu is 94 years old) and medically compromised and, therefore, are also 25 at extremely high risk if they contract the novel coronavirus." Again, no evidence has been

26 ⁶ The Court appreciates that Plaintiffs' counsel would want whatever is brought from his office to be sanitized before it enters his home, but he has not suggested that sanitization of that equipment is not practicable.

1 presented to support a finding that Plaintiffs are unable to answer questions in a deposition and 2 cannot locate and provide documents—either alone or with someone’s assistance (e.g., to lift and 3 move boxes)—that have been properly requested by Defendant.⁷ In any event, if Plaintiffs’ age and 4 medical condition are such that they preclude Plaintiffs’ participation in discovery proceedings, then 5 Plaintiffs need to take some kind of affirmative measures to address this problem, such as moving 6 for a protective order or requesting a pretrial conference to discuss how this case can proceed (e.g., 7 teleconferenced depositions). But they are not permitted to unilaterally vacate scheduled 8 depositions or indefinitely delay their response to a written discovery request.

9 This same analysis applies to Plaintiffs’ failure to comply with the Court’s discovery order.
10 Defendant was forced to file a motion to compel, which Plaintiffs failed to oppose. They also did not 11 oppose the recommendation that the motion to compel be granted. Accordingly, the Court entered 12 an order adopting the recommendation. But instead of filing an appropriate motion to obtain relief 13 from that order, or seeking a conference with the Court, Plaintiffs simply failed to comply with it.
14 That order was properly served under NRCP 5(b), and no evidence has been presented to show 15 that Plaintiffs were unaware of the Court’s order.

16 Under these circumstances, Defendant has shown that sanctions may properly be imposed 17 under NRCP 37(b)(1) and NRCP 37(d)(1). The particular sanction to be imposed under these 18 rules—or for any discovery abuse, whether under our discovery rules or under the Court’s inherent 19 authority—is a matter within the district court’s discretion. See Bahena v. Goodyear Tire & Rubber 20 Co., 126 Nev. 243, 252-55, 235 P.3d 592, 598-600 (2010); GNLV Corp. v. Serv. Control Corp., 111
21 Nev. 866, 869, 900 P.2d 323, 325 (1995); Nev. Power Co. v. Fluor Ill., 108 Nev. 638, 644, 837 P.2d 22 1354, 1358-59 (1992); Young v. Johnny Ribeiro Bldg., 106 Nev. 88, 92, 787 P.2d 777, 779 (1990).
23 In that regard, case-concluding sanctions “will be upheld where the normal adversary process has 24 been halted due to an unresponsive party, because diligent parties are entitled to be protected 25 against interminable delay and uncertainty as to their legal rights.” See Skeen v. Valley Bank, 89

26 ⁷ On March 11, 2020, Plaintiff John Iliescu, Jr., faxed an improper ex parte communication to the Court, consisting of letters that he sent to two physicians and what appear to be three pages of his medical records. None of these documents are authenticated and they will not be considered in connection with this motion.

1 Nev. 301, 303, 511 P.2d 1053, 1054 (1973); see also Bahena, 126 Nev. at 253, 235 P.3d at 599
2 (quoting Foster v. Dingwall, 126 Nev. 56, 65, 227 P.3d 1042, 1048 (2010)) (“entries of complete 3 default are proper where ‘litigants are unresponsive and engaged in abusive litigation practices that 4 cause interminable delays”). However, since case-concluding sanctions are drastic remedies that 5 should be used only in extreme situations, see Nev. Power, 108 Nev. at 645, 837 P.2d at 1359, they 6 are subject to a somewhat heightened standard of review, see MEI-GSR Holdings, LLC v.
7 Peppermill Casinos, Inc., 134 Nev. 235, 242, 416 P.3d 249, 256 (2018); Foster, 126 Nev. at 65, 227
8 P.3d at 1048; Young, 106 Nev. at 92, 787 P.2d at 779.

9 The imposition of case-concluding sanctions must be just and must relate to the claims, 10 denials, or defenses implicated in the discovery order that was violated or the prejudice caused by 11 the discovery abuse at issue. See, e.g., Blanco v. Blanco, 129 Nev. 723, 729-30, 311 P.3d 1170, 12 1174 (2013) (“[p]rocedural due process considerations require that such case-concluding discovery 13 sanctions be just and that they relate to the claims at issue in the violated discovery order”); Foster, 14 126 Nev. at 65, 227 P.3d at 1048 (“the district court abuses its discretion if the sanctions are not just 15 and do not relate to the claims at issue in the discovery order that was violated”). Case-concluding 16 sanctions need not be preceded by other, less severe sanctions, but they should only be imposed 17 after thoughtful consideration of all the factors involved in a particular case. See, e.g., Young, 106 18 Nev. at 92, 787 P.2d at 780. Those factors include considerations such as 19 the degree of willfulness of the offending party, the extent to which the non-offending 20 party would be prejudiced by a lesser sanction, the severity of the sanction of 21 dismissal relative to the severity of the discovery abuse, whether any evidence has 22 been irreparably lost, the feasibility and fairness of alternative, less severe sanctions, the policy favoring adjudication on the merits, whether sanctions unfairly operate to penalize a party for the misconduct of his or her attorney, and the need to deter both the parties and future litigants from similar discovery abuses.

23 Id. at 93, 787 P.2d at 780. The decision to impose case-concluding sanctions must be supported by 24 “an express, careful and preferably written explanation of the court’s analysis of the pertinent 25 factors.” See Bahena, 126 Nev. at 252, 235 P.3d at 598 (quoting Young, 106 Nev. at 93, 787 P.2d 26 at 780). Prior to imposing case-concluding sanctions, the district court must conduct an evidentiary

1 hearing if the party against whom sanctions may be imposed raises a question of fact as to any of 2 these factors. See Nev. Power, 108 Nev. at 645, 837 P.2d at 1359. If ultimate sanctions are not 3 imposed, an evidentiary hearing is not required; rather, the district court “should, at its discretion, 4 hold such hearing as it reasonably deems necessary to consider matters that are pertinent to the 5 imposition of appropriate sanctions.” See Bahena, 126 Nev. at 256, 235 P.3d at 600-01.

6 The concept of willfulness “suggests a stubborn persistence in doing what one wishes, esp.
7 in opposition to those whose wishes or commands ought to be respected or obeyed.” See Random 8 House Dictionary of the English Language 2175 (unabr. 2d ed. 1987) (definition of willful). Plaintiffs 9 are essentially asserting that their discovery failures were the result of an inability to comply, rather 10 than willfulness. They maintain that the first scheduled depositions were vacated due to a 11 calendaring error, and the other depositions were vacated ostensibly due to Plaintiffs’ health 12 conditions. They likewise cite those health conditions as at least part of the reason why they have 13 not produced documents (although the failure to serve a written response is harder to justify).
14 Significantly, Plaintiffs do not dispute that Defendant is entitled to take their depositions, or that they 15 are obligated to produce requested documents. The lack of supporting evidence is an issue, as 16 noted above; but Plaintiffs’ failures do not appear to be rooted in some dispute with Defendant, 17 disagreement with the Court, or intentional effort to deprive Defendant of evidence.

18 The Court appreciates that alternative or lesser sanctions would be problematic against a 19 plaintiff who refuses to appear for deposition or to produce documents supporting that party’s claims.
20 Moreover, dismissal of an action is not too severe in those circumstances. See Bahena, 126 Nev. at 21 255, 235 P.3d at 600 (“[a]mong the sanctions that are authorized by this rule [i.e., NRCP 37(d)] are 22 for the court to enter an order striking a pleading or parts thereof”); Skeen, 89 Nev. at 303, 511 P.2d 23 at 1054 (affirming order striking defendant’s answer based on failure to appear for deposition). This 24 sanction likewise may be imposed for a party’s failure to comply with a discovery order. See Nev.
25 Power, 108 Nev. at 644, 837 P.2d at 1359 (“[u]nder NRCP 37(b)(2), a party’s suit may be dismissed 26 if the party ‘fails to obey an order to provide or permit discovery’”); Kerley v. Aetna Cas. & Sur. Co.,

1 94 Nev. 710, 711, 585 P.2d 1339, 1340 (1978) (affirming dismissal of complaint under NRCP 37(b) 2 for failure to comply with discovery order). But Defendant has not demonstrated that any evidence 3 has been irreparably lost. Given the fact that this case has not yet been set for trial—indeed, the 4 parties have not even participated in an early case conference—the policy favoring adjudication on 5 the merits tips in favor of Plaintiffs. The Court also notes that in their opposition, Plaintiffs have 6 emphasized the health issues of their counsel even more than their own, and Plaintiffs were not 7 responsible for the failure to properly calendar their first depositions. The Court is mindful of the 8 need to deter Plaintiffs and future litigants from failing to comply with their discovery obligations. But 9 that factor is entitled to less weight under these circumstances, in which evidence of willfulness is 10 lacking and the parties have not yet participated in an early case conference or made initial 11 disclosures under NRCP 16.1. After reviewing the factors identified above, the Court is not 12 persuaded that case-terminating sanctions are warranted at this time.

13 Instead, the Court will impose a monetary sanction on Plaintiffs. When Plaintiffs failed to 14 appear for their depositions, Defendant was forced to file a motion to address that failure. The same 15 is true when Plaintiffs failed to comply with the Court's discovery order. In that regard, no evidence 16 has been presented to support a finding that Plaintiffs' failures were substantially justified, or that 17 other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.⁸ Defendant is therefore entitled to 18 monetary sanctions to compensate them for the expense incurred in connection with those matters.

19 But simply imposing monetary sanctions will not address the underlying problem—20 Defendant's need to obtain discovery from Plaintiffs, including their deposition testimony and the 21 documents requested by Defendant. In that regard, Plaintiffs have requested the following relief:

22 _____
23 ⁸ The Court does not disagree with Plaintiffs' argument that the COVID-19 pandemic is an extraordinary event 24 that is impacting the ability of attorneys to perform certain legal work, or the manner in which they accomplish some legal 25 work. While it appreciates the difficulties and concerns raised by this situation, it again emphasizes that other attorneys 26 are continuing to move forward with their civil actions, albeit in ways that may differ from procedures that ordinarily would be followed prior to the pandemic. Thus, Plaintiffs and their counsel are expected to find ways to continue meeting the obligations imposed on them by our rules and other authorities (which may include the association or substitution of counsel, if Plaintiffs' current counsel is medically unable to perform the work that is required in connection with this action).
Alternatively, they may proactively seek accommodations or other relief, but they have not done so thus far, and their failure to do so has resulted in expenses incurred by Defendant. Further, the pandemic cannot be used as justification for their failures to respond to Defendant's motions.

1 The Iliescu plaintiffs further respectfully request that this Court stay these proceedings 2 and/or extend the time in which they are required to comply with the Court's Order, 3 and that any such deadline imposed under either scenario take into account: (1) a 4 time after which the novel coronavirus is no longer an extreme threat to Iliescu 5 plaintiffs' and the undersigned's respective health and safety; (2) the undersigned is able to safely return to his office and work activities; and (3) the Iliescu plaintiffs and the undersigned are able to meaningfully address this Court's Order with the undersigned without the crippling limitations the COVID-19 crisis has had on them, respectively.

6 Plaintiffs believe that the Court should "afford them 60 calendar days within which to comply with the 7 Court's Discovery Order, regardless of whether the undersigned's health issues allow him to 8 participate, or whether other counsel has be engaged to represent the Iliescu plaintiffs herein."

9 Under WDCR 10(3)(a), "[a]ny motion, opposition, reply, etc., must be filed as a separate 10 document unless it is pleaded in the alternative." In this case, Plaintiffs oppose Defendant's request 11 for sanctions, and their request for a stay or delay of the proceedings is not offered as an alternative 12 to that opposition—it is an additional, separate request. Moreover, no evidence has been submitted 13 with the opposition to support this request. Under our local rule, that request must be presented in a 14 separate motion. Therefore, the Court will direct that Plaintiffs (a) submit to depositions by the end 15 of June 2020, and (b) produce the documents identified in Defendant's NRCP 34 request by the end 16 of June 2020.

17 ACCORDINGLY, Defendant's Motion for Discovery Sanctions should be GRANTED in part, 18 and DENIED in part.

19 FURTHER, Defendant's Motion for Sanctions Pursuant to NRCP 37(b)(1) should be 20 GRANTED in part, and DENIED in part.

21 IT SHOULD, THEREFORE, BE ORDERED that Plaintiffs appear for their depositions at a 22 date and time that is convenient to both sides, but in any event no later than June 30, 2020.

23 IT SHOULD, THEREFORE, BE ORDERED that Plaintiffs produce to Defendant no later than 24 June 30, 2020, the originals or copies of all documents described in Defendant's NRCP 34 request 25 previously served upon Plaintiffs on or about November 8, 2019.

26 ///

1 IT SHOULD FURTHER BE ORDERED that the documents produced by Plaintiffs must be 2 organized and labeled to correspond to the categories in Defendant's NRCP 34 request.

3 IT SHOULD FURTHER BE ORDERED that with respect to each category of Defendant's 4 NRCP 34 request, if Plaintiffs maintain that one or more responsive documents never existed, no 5 longer exist, or are only within the possession, custody, or control of some other person or entity, 6 then they must serve upon Defendant, without objections and no later than June 30, 2020, a written 7 response, under oath, in which they provide this information to Defendant (including, as appropriate, 8 an explanation as to why they no longer exist, or an identification of the other person or entity who 9 has possession, custody, or control of the requested documents).

10 IT SHOULD FURTHER BE ORDERED that Plaintiffs reimburse Defendant for the 11 reasonable expenses incurred in connection with its Motion for Discovery Sanctions and its Motion
12 for Sanctions Pursuant to NRCP 37(b)(1), as and for a sanction under NRCP 37(b)(1) and NRCP 13 37(d); Defendant must submit a declaration, with supporting documentation, showing the reasonable 14 expenses incurred in connection with these two motions, to which Plaintiffs may file a response, if 15 they wish to do so.

Case No.: CV19-00459

Dept. No.: 15

21 DECLARATION OF DANE W. ANDERSON REGARDING EXPENSES TO BE 22 REIMBURSED BY DEFENDANTS

23 1. I am an attorney licensed to practice in the State of Nevada. I am over the 24 age of 18 and make this declaration of my own personal knowledge.

25 2. I am a shareholder with the law firm of Woodburn and Wedge
26 (“Woodburn”). Woodburn is counsel for defendant The Regional Transportation
27 Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”) in this matter. I have represented RTC in this 28 matter since the date my firm accepted service of process on RTC’s behalf.

1 3. I make this declaration pursuant to the Court’s Recommendation For Order 2 filed on June 10, 2020. Specifically, the Court ordered that Plaintiffs shall reimburse RTC 3 “for reasonable expenses incurred in connection with RTC’s Motion for Discovery 4 Sanctions and its Motion for Sanctions Pursuant to NRC P 37(b)(1)” and directed that 5 RTC submit a declaration with supporting documentation showing these expenses.

6 4. Attached as Exhibit 1 is a true and correct Statement of Account for this 7 matter. This document was generated by my firm’s accounting department from our 8 electronic billing system. It contains accurate entries for both attorney fees and costs 9 incurred in this matter. My office has redacted entries for fees and costs that were not 10 incurred “in connection with” RTC’s motions for sanctions. I have also redacted relevant 11 entries for information protected by the attorney client privilege and work product 12 doctrine.

13 5. The attorney fees incurred “in connection with” RTC’s motion—which I 14 interpret as the fees incurred in the events giving rise to the motions, the motions 15 themselves, and the work done to prepare this declaration—total $17,810 through May 31, 16 2020. I have done additional work for the month of June for which billing records are not 17 yet available. I will file a supplemental declaration along with the supporting 18 documentation when those records become available.

19 6. The costs incurred in connection with RTC’s motions at issue are $739.90.
20 Additional supporting documentation for these costs is included with Exhibit 2. Those 21 costs are comprised of invoices from Sunshine Reporting & Litigation Services related to 22 Plaintiffs’ failure to appear at their depositions in March 2020.

23 7. These attorney fees and costs were reasonably incurred as part of RTC’s 24 reasonable and diligent efforts to discover the factual basis of Plaintiffs’ claims, which 25 efforts have been totally frustrated by Plaintiffs’ refusal to participate in discovery. I 26 believe an award of the entire amount is appropriate and supported by the record.

27 I declare under penalty of perjury under the law of the State of Nevada that the 28 foregoing is true and correct.

PLAINTIFFS' NOTICE ON INTENT TO FILE OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT'S STATEMENT OF CLAIMED COSTS AND FEES

22 COME NOW JOHN ILIESCU, JR., AND SONNIA ILIESCU, TRUSTEES OF
23 THE JOHN ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA ILIESCU 1992 FAMILY TRUST; JOHN 24 ILIESCU, JR., individually; and SONNIA ILIESCUE, individually (collectively, "the 25 "Plaintiffs"), by and through their attorney, Michael J. Morrison, Esq., and oppose 26 Defendant Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County's ("the RTC") 2 27 Motions for Sanctions. This Opposition is made and based upon, and supported by, the 28 following points and authorities, as follows:

1 POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. OVERVIEW

3 On June 10, 2020, the Discovery Commissioner made his Recommendation for 4 Order (“Order”), specifically directing RTC to submit a declaration with supporting 5 documentation showing the reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the 2 6 Motions. Order, p. 13, lines 13-14. No time for filing the RTC declaration was provided 7 by the Commissioner.

8 RTC did not file its declaration until June 22, 2020 - 12 days after the date of the 9 Commissioner’s Order. It was at that time that Plaintiffs first had knowledge of the 10 claimed “reasonable expenses” RTC alleged it was entitled to.

11 Plaintiffs then started reviewing the declaration and preparing their response to 12 the RTC declaration, as specifically authorized by the Commissioner in his Order, at 13 p.13, lines 14-15. No time for filing the Plaintiffs’ response was provided by the 14 Commissioner. At this time, Plaintiffs have been engaging in good-faith efforts to 15 prepare their response and, most significantly, are well into the briefing process for 16 their response and anticipate filing their response no later than July 2, 2020.

17 Accordingly, Plaintiffs respectfully submit to this Court that the NRC 16.3 18 standards should not be the basis/time for declaring the Order unopposed, since the 19 Order had set different time standards.

20 II. CONCLUSION

21 Based on the foregoing, the Iliescu Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court 22 withdraw its Order of this date and allow Plaintiffs to have the matter decided on its 23 merits.

DEPT. NO. 15

PLAINTIFFS' RESPONSE TO DECLARATION OF DANE W.
ANDERSON REGARDING EXPENSES TO BE REIMBURSED
BY DEFENDANTS

22 COME NOW JOHN ILIESCU, JR., AND SONNIA ILIESCU, TRUSTEES OF
23 THE JOHN ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA ILIESCU 1992 FAMILY TRUST; JOHN 24 ILIESCU, JR., individually; and SONNIA ILIESCUE, individually (collectively, "the 25 Iliescu Plaintiffs"), by and through their attorney, Michael J. Morrison, Esq., and 26 pursuant to the June 10, 2020, Recommendation for Order, respond to the Declaration 27 of Dane W. Anderson regarding expenses to be reimbursed by the Defendants (sic.), as 28 follows:

1 SUPPORTING POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. OVERVIEW

3 Pursuant to the June 10, 2020, Recommendation for Order in this case, the 4 Iliescu Plaintiffs are ordered to reimburse Defendant (“the RTC”) for the 5 “...reasonable expenses incurred in connection with [the Defendant’s] Motion for 6 Discovery Sanctions and its Motion for Sanctions pursuant to NRCPP 37(b)(1)....” 7 (emphasis added). To that end, the RTC has been required to “...submit a declaration, 8 with supporting documentation, showing the reasonable expenses incurred in 9 connection with these two motions, to which the Plaintiffs may file a response....” Id.
10 (emphasis added).

11 In response to the June 10, 2020, Recommendation for Order, counsel for 12 Defendant submitted a declaration and supporting documents for his request that the 13 Iliescu Plaintiffs pay, as sanctions, $17,810.00, purportedly representing the fees 14 incurred “in connection with” the RTC’s two motions for sanctions. In so doing, 15 counsel for the RTC has interpreted the phrase “in connection with” to include not only 16 months of work that preceded the point in time that RTC counsel first considered a 17 motion for sanctions, but also work on discovery issues that had to be done in the case 18 in any event in order to be prepared for discovery activities. Plaintiffs respectfully 19 submit that the amount RTC counsel seeks for fees “in connection with” sanctions, 20 however, is not only unreasonable, it is grossly excessive.

21 II. ARGUMENT

22 While it is generally within this Court’s discretion to determine a reasonable 23 amount of attorney fee under a statute or rule, it must evaluate those fees under the 24 factors stated in Brunzell v. Golden Gate Nat’l Bank, 85 Nev. 345, 349, 455 P.2d 31, 33
25 (1969). See Miller v. Wilfong, 121 Nev. 619, 623, 119 P.3d 727, 730 (Nev. 2005).
26 Those factors include the qualities of the advocate, the character and difficulty of the 27 work performed, the work actually performed by the attorney, and the result obtained.
28

1 Brunzell, supra. While there is no dispute that counsel for the RTC is a reputable and 2 experienced attorney and that he prevailed on his motions for sanctions, the nature and 3 scope of the non-duplicated, original work he performed “in connection” with the two 4 motions for sanctions do not justify an award of fees of nearly $18,000.00.

5 Initially, and as noted above, the Iliescu Plaintiffs take issue with RTC’s 6 counsel’s interpretation of fees incurred “in connection with” the two motions for 7 sanctions as including months of fees incurred for work that preceded the date when he 8 considered a motion for sanctions. Based upon the unredacted information attached as 9 Exhibit 1 to RTC’s counsel’s declaration, from October 18, 2019 to March 4, 2020, 10 RTC incurred nearly $7,300.00 in fees for preparing for and discussing depositions, 11 and preparing other discovery requests and disclosures. See Exhibit 1 to RTC’s 12 counsel’s declaration at 2-3 (billing entries from October 18, 2019 through March 4, 13 2020). RTC’s counsel’s billing for discovery-related work, as opposed to sanction- 14 related work, however, is not work that is “in connection with” his two motions for 15 sanctions, which is the clear and unequivocal scope of the Commissioner’s 16 Recommendation for Order and this Court’s Confirming Order. Not only does counsel 17 include, e.g., billings for preparing discovery disclosures that he is required, under the 18 discovery Rules, to provide on behalf of his clients (Id. at 2 – 11/8/2019 entry), counsel 19 is also including in his fees calculation the fees incurred to prepare for depositions that 20 the June 10, 2020, Recommendation for Order requires to occur and for preparing 21 discovery requests for which the June 10, 2020, Recommendation for Order requires 22 responses. See June 10, 2020, Recommendation for Order at 12-13. Indeed, it is all 23 work that occurs in the general course of discovery in civil cases and, therefore, is not 24 “in connection with” RTC’s counsel’s two motions for sanctions for which this Court 25 has permitted RTC to recover its fees. Thus, the Iliescu Plaintiffs respectfully submit 26 that the nearly $7,300.00 for RTC’s counsel’s fee entries from October 18, 2019 27 through March 4, 2020, should not be included in the calculation of the attorney’s fees 28

1 RTC is being awarded for fees based solely and exclusively on the time expended “in 2 connection with” the two motions, as clearly and unequivocally articulated in the 3 Commissioner’s June 10, 2020, Recommendation for Order.

4 Moreover, the amount that RTC’s counsel seeks for fees that he suggests are “in 5 connection with” his two motions for sanctions is blatantly unreasonable and grossly 6 excessive. Indeed, the substantive portion of RTC’s April 1, 2020, Motion for 7 Discovery Sanctions is essentially three (3) pages that consist of a conclusory overview 8 and a “Law and Argument” section that cites to the well-known rule and case law that 9 generally governs discovery sanctions and is oft-cited in support thereof. In his 10 supporting declaration to that motion, RTC’s counsel devotes six pages to outlining, 11 with exhibits, the dialog he and counsel for the Ilescu Plaintiffs had regarding the 12 depositions RTC’s counsel sought to take of the Ilescu Plaintiffs. While RTC’s 13 counsel attached numerous exhibits, most of which were brief email exchanges, none of 14 them were voluminous or complex. Yet, after March 4, 2020, when RTC’s counsel 15 apparently first “consider[ed] motion for sanctions” (Exhibit 1 to RTC’s counsel’s 16 declaration in support of fees at 4), RTC’s counsel billed approximately 25 hours and 17 nearly $8,00.00 in fees to that effort and “review” of the resulting Recommendation for 18 Order. See Exhibit 1 to RTC’s counsel’s declaration at 3-4 (billing entries from March 19 19, 2020 through April 6, 2020).¹ For an attorney as experienced, seasoned and 20 reputable as counsel for the RTC, and because his motion and request are not complex 21 and are based upon well-known and often-cited authority, the time spent and fees 22 charged for the first motion for sanctions is wholly excessive and unreasonable.

23 The time spent and fees charged for RTC’s second motion for sanctions is also 24 excessive and unreasonable. That effort consisted of RTC’s counsel’s two (2)-page

25 ¹ Included in this calculation is the first billing entry on page 4 of Exhibit 1, 26 most of which (including the date, the initials of the person doing the work, the time billed, 27 and the hourly rate) is redacted, but indicates $1,300.00 billed for “Continue work on 28 motion for sanctions, including researching applicable authority.” Because attorney time for RTC appears to be primarily billed at $325/hour, the calculation for this entry was for 4 hours.

1 motion and three (3)-page reply, most of which relies on and/or recites to what had 2 previously been filed and otherwise summarily, and with virtually no authority, argues 3 with the basis on which the Iliescu Plaintiffs opposed the second motion for sanctions.
4 Nevertheless, RTC's counsel spent more than ten (10) hours and billed nearly 5 $3,300.00 for their work "in connection with" the second motion for sanctions – time 6 and charges Plaintiff's counsel respectfully and in good faith submits are wholly 7 inconsistent and excessive, given (1) the amount, scope and simplicity of the work 8 performed, combined with (2) the manifest experience of RTC's counsel in undeniably 9 similar condemnation cases, as well as the vast number of civil litigation cases handled 10 by Woodburn Wedge, RTC's instant counsel, in the Reno area, as well as (3) the 11 undeniably vast databank of research, forms and similar pleadings the firm – and, 12 specifically, RTC's counsel – has at his easy access, especially given the number of 13 decades the firm has represented the RTC in similar, if not identical condemnation 14 cases. Plaintiff's counsel respectfully submits that it is common knowledge among 15 lawyers practicing condemnation law, as well as the Courts that try such cases, that 16 there are only a small number of issues and arguments that can be asserted in 17 condemnation cases, and especially in this case, as the statutory provisions are very 18 narrow and limited in that regard. See generally, NRS 271.275 - 271.285 (inclusive).

19 Finally, the RTC requests that this Court award it $739.90 in costs invoices from 20 Sunshine Reporting & Litigation Services related to the Iliescu Plaintiffs' "failure to 21 appear at their depositions in March 2020." By RTC's counsel's own statements in this 22 case, however, those costs – and in particular, the costs associated with the certificates 23 of non-appearance – were unnecessarily incurred. According to RTC's counsel, the 24 Iliescu Plaintiffs' counsel made efforts to advise RTC's counsel, during regular 25 business hours and prior to the scheduled depositions of the Iliescu Plaintiffs, that the 26 Iliescu Plaintiffs were not able to attend their depositions. See RTC's counsel's April 27 1, 2020, declaration in support of motion for discovery sanctions (on file in this case) at 28

1 6 (¶ 23), which states: (1) Plaintiffs’ counsel left a voicemail for RTC’s counsel the 2 evening before the deposition scheduled for Plaintiff John Iliescu, Jr. letting him know 3 that Dr. Iliescu would not be at the deposition the following day, but counsel for RTC
4 did not receive the message because he left early from the office that day (Id. at ¶ 22) 5 and did not return to the office in the morning before the 10:00 a.m. deposition; and (2) 6 that, the day before Sonnia Iliescu’s scheduled deposition, counsel for the Iliescu 7 Plaintiffs advised RTC’s counsel that she was not able to attend the deposition. To that 8 end, the charges associated with the notices of non-appearance were not necessary and, 9 therefore, should not be attributable to the Iliescu Plaintiffs.

10 III. CONCLUSION

11 Based on the foregoing, the Iliescu Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court 12 deny RTC’s request for $17,810.00 in attorney’s fees and $739.90 in costs for their 13 counsel’s work “in connection with” RTC’s two motions for sanctions as unreasonable 14 and excessive, and impose any monetary sanction related to the attorney’s fees and 15 costs that RTC incurred “in connection with” its two motions for sanctions in a manner 16 consistent with that which is “reasonable” in light of the nature, simplicity and scope of 17 the motions in the context and under the circumstances of this case.

26 RTC'S REPLY TO PLAINTIFFS' RESPONSE TO 27 DECLARATION OF DANE W. ANDERSON REGARDING 28 EXPENSES TO BE REIMBURSED BY DEFENDANTS

Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County ("RTC")
replies to Plaintiffs' Response To Declaration Of Dane W. Anderson Regarding Expenses
To Be Reimbursed By Defendants as follows¹:

¹ To the extent Plaintiffs' "Notice On [sic] Intent To File Opposition To Defendant's Statement Of Claimed Costs And Fees filed on June 30, 2020 contains anything of substance, this reply responds to that as well.

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Plaintiffs' objection to RTC's claimed fees is based on an exceedingly narrow 3 interpretation of "in connection with" as well as a fundamental lack of understanding of 4 their own case. They argue that the Court should not award the $17,810 in attorney fees 5 and $739.90 in costs that RTC has requested. However, Plaintiffs fail to make any 6 suggestion as to what they believe is a reasonable award for the expenses incurred in 7 connection with their repeated and unexcused failures to comply with legitimate discovery 8 requests causing RTC to incur substantial expenses "in connection with" those failures.

9 It appears Plaintiffs are suggesting RTC should be awarded almost nothing for fees 10 incurred "in connection with" Plaintiffs repeated discovery abuses. RTC did not file this 11 action. Plaintiffs filed this lawsuit over a year and a half ago and have done nothing to 12 move it forward; instead, they have thwarted RTC's reasonable discovery efforts at every 13 turn. They have failed and refused to appear for their depositions multiple times, after 14 RTC's counsel had prepared on each occasion for those depositions. They have only 15 recently produced documents in response to long overdue requests for production and this 16 Court's order upon a motion to compel, none of which documents support their allegations 17 of serious wrongdoing against RTC.

18 Plaintiffs' response is a "good cop-bad cop" attack on RTC's counsel, heaping praise 19 on RTC's counsel while at the same time accusing him of requesting unreasonable and 20 excessive fees. Plaintiffs ignore their own culpability in filing this action, agreeing to early 21 discovery, agreeing to multiple deposition dates, refusing to appear at the same, and causing 22 RTC to incur substantial expense in the process. It is also worth noting that Plaintiffs have 23 failed to pay RTC the $1,000 sanction previously awarded for their discovery abuses.

24 Plaintiffs were ordered to pay RTC "reasonable expenses incurred in connection 25 with" RTC's two discovery motions. "In connection with" is a broad phrase which, in the 26 context of this case, involves not only the drafting of the two discovery motions but the 27 frustrated discovery expenses incurred "in connection with" those motions, which will 28 largely have to be repeated if and when Plaintiffs ever appear for their depositions.

1 Merriam-Webster broadly defines “in connection with” as “in relation to (something); for 2 reasons that relate to (something).”

3 All the discovery RTC has attempted to do in this case was done “for reasons that 4 related to” the two motions discovery motions. RTC’s counsel has prepared for Plaintiffs 5 depositions in October, December, and March, only to have Plaintiffs cancel at the last 6 minute every time. If they decide to appear for a future deposition, those efforts will have 7 to be repeated again. This is no “ordinary course of discovery” work. Having to repeat 8 work because of Plaintiffs’ dilatory conduct is not ordinary discovery work. RTC should 9 be awarded all of its claimed expenses.

10 II. PLAINTIFFS’ OBJECTION TO RTC’S CLAIMED DEPOSITION COSTS IS 11 ABSURD.

12 Despite failing to appear for the third time at a scheduled deposition, Plaintiffs’ 13 object to RTC’s claim for $739.90 in deposition costs. Plaintiffs’ counsel suggested these 14 costs were unnecessarily incurred because he left a voicemail at 4:40 p.m. the night before 15 the scheduled video deposition of his clients were scheduled to occur. This voicemail left 16 “during regular business hours” came after several requests by RTC’s counsel for 17 confirmation. Even if RTC’s counsel had been in the office to receive this exceedingly late 18 cancellation, RTC could not have avoided the charge imposed by the reporter. After 19 Plaintiffs’ repeated refusals to comply with discovery, it was not unreasonable for RTC to 20 also notice the nonappearance of Mrs. Iliescu the following day. Plaintiffs have done 21 nothing to comply with discovery and should be subject to substantial sanctions.

22 III. THIS IS NOT A CONDEMNATION ACTION

23 Plaintiffs are confused about the nature of their own case. Plaintiffs repeatedly 24 suggest this is a simple “condemnation” case in an attempt to challenge the reasonableness 25 of the fees RTC’s to recover. Opposition at 5:4-17. This is not a condemnation action.
26 RTC does not seek to acquire any property from Plaintiffs through the exercise of eminent 27 domain.

1 Rather, Plaintiffs filed this action accusing RTC (and a number of other unidentified 2 defendants) of numerous atrocities related to alleged trespasses by RTC on their property.
3 This case has been far from simple. Plaintiffs initially asserted twelve claims for relief for 4 a variety of alleged damages ranging from personal injury to real property destruction to 5 punitive damages—with claims alleging elder abuse, civil conspiracy and conversion, 6 among others. Through several motions to dismiss and Plaintiffs’ voluntary dismissal of 7 certain claims to avoid discovery into their medical conditions, the number of claims was 8 reduced but the underlying allegations are no less simple.

9 Contrary to Plaintiffs’ suggestion, there is no roadmap for a case like this one. The 10 undersigned does not have “manifest experience” with this type of case nor is there a “vast 11 databank of research” to Plaintiffs’ claims. Plaintiffs’ suggestion that this is a run-of-the-12 mill case is belied by their own pleadings. Plaintiffs’ complaint gave rise to RTC’s request 13 for early discovery and their blatant failure to comply with the rules of discovery and this 14 Court’s orders gave rise to significant expenses “incurred in connection with” RTC’s two 15 sanctions motions.

16 IV. CONCLUSION

17 “In connection with” is a broad term that should be construed accordingly. RTC did 18 not ask for this case to be filed. Plaintiffs decided to file this lawsuit. RTC has acted 19 reasonably by engaging in discovery efforts to discover the factual basis of Plaintiffs’ claims 20 but have been frustrated at every turn. RTC is entitled to a substantial award of fees and 21 costs incurred “in connection with” with the discovery motions they filed. This includes its 22 efforts related to the discovery giving rise to those motions, with which Plaintiffs have flat 23 out refused to comply.

Dept. No.: 15

21 SUPPLEMENTAL DECLARATION OF DANE W. ANDERSON REGARDING 22 EXPENSES TO BE REIMBURSED BY PLAINTIFFS

23 1. This supplemental declaration provides additional information for June 24 2020 and July 2020 that was not available at the time of my declaration of June 22, 2020.
25 This supplemental declaration is submitted to support RTC's claim for reimbursement of 26 expenses pursuant to the Discovery Commissioner's Recommendation For Order filed on 27 June 10, 2020, which has since been affirmed by this Court.
28

1 2. Attached as Exhibit 1 is a true and correct Statement of Account for this 2 matter for the months of June 2020 and July 2020. This document was generated by my 3 firm’s accounting department from our electronic billing system. It contains accurate 4 entries for attorney fees and costs incurred in this matter. My office has redacted entries 5 for fees and costs that were not incurred “in connection with” RTC’s motions for 6 sanctions. I have also redacted, if necessary, any relevant entries for information 7 protected by the attorney client privilege and work product doctrine.

8 5. My prior declaration provided support for the attorney fees incurred “in 9 connection with” RTC’s motions—which I interpret as the fees incurred in the events 10 giving rise to the motions, the motions themselves, and the work done to prepare this 11 declaration—total $17,810 through May 31, 2020. The costs incurred in connection with 12 RTC’s motions were $739.90, for a requested award of reimburse of fees and costs 13 through May 31, 2020 of $18,549.90.

14 6. The additional work I have performed in June 2020 and July 2020 “in 15 connection” with RTC’s motions for sanctions is described in the attached Exhibit 1. This 16 work generally includes reviewing the Discovery Commissioner’s recommendation, 17 preparing my declaration of June 22, 2020, reviewing Plaintiffs’ “notice of intent” to file 18 an opposition, reviewing their actual opposition and then preparing a reply along with this 19 supplemental declaration. These additional fees total $4,647.50.

20 7. RTC requests that these fees also be awarded in addition to those previously 21 requested, for a total award of reimbursement of $23,197.40.

22 8. All of fees and costs were reasonably incurred “in connection” with RTC’s 23 motions for sanctions, as they all derive from Plaintiffs’ failure to participate in discovery.
24 Discovery disputes are expensive. Had Plaintiffs simply cooperated from the start, in a 25 case they filed, RTC would not have incurred all these fees in connection with seeking 26 sanctions against Plaintiffs. A substantial award is necessary not only to give RTC some 27 measure of relief, but also to punish and deter Plaintiffs from further engaging in dilatory 28 behavior as this case proceeds to trial.

1 I declare under penalty of perjury under the law of the State of Nevada that the 2 foregoing is true and correct.

3 Affirmation pursuant to NRS 239B.030

4 The undersigned does hereby affirm that the above-entitled document filed in this 5 matter does not contain the social security number of any person.

6 Dated this 21st day of July, 2020.

Dept. No.: 15

27 MOTION IN LIMINE TO PRECLUDE PLAINTIFFS FROM OFFERING
28 DOCUMENTS NOT PRODUCED TO RTC ON OR BEFORE JUNE 30, 2020

Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County ("RTC") moves this Court for an order precluding Plaintiffs from offering at trial any documents not produced to RTC on or before June 30, 2020. This motion is based on the Court's Confirming Order of June 30, 2020 which approved and adopted the Discovery Commissioner's Recommendation For Order of June 10, 2020, the following points and authorities and the entire file in this matter.

2 The Court is familiar with the procedural history of this matter and RTC will not 3 repeat it here except as necessary to address recent events. On June 30, 2020, this Court 4 entered its Confirming Order, approving and adopting the Discovery Commissioner's 5 Recommendation For Order filed on June 10, 2020. In its Confirming Order, the Court 6 noted that none of the parties had filed an objection regarding the Discovery 7 Commissioner's recommendations.

8 Among other things, the Discovery Commissioner recommended—and this Court 9 ordered—that Plaintiffs produce to RTC “no later than June 30, 2020, the originals or 10 copies of all documents described in Defendant’s NRC 34 request previously served on 11 Plaintiffs on or about November 8, 2019.” On the evening of June 30, 2020, Plaintiffs’ 12 counsel emailed the attached Exhibits 1 and 2 to RTC’s counsel in purported compliance 13 with the Court’s order. The documents Plaintiffs produced on June 30 are not voluminous 14 and are included in the attached exhibits. However, Plaintiffs included the following 15 statement in their responses:

16 Pursuant to NRCP 34(a)(1), (b)(2)(B), (b)(2)(E) and (d), Plaintiff 17 respectfully advises that there are additional responsive documents and 18 Defendant is permitted and invited to inspect and copy additional requested 19 documents, which are voluminous and burdensome to produce. Such 20 inspection and copying will be permitted as soon as possible, with due 21 deference accorded the respective schedules of counsel for the respective 22 parties. Plaintiff further represents that many of the responsive documents 23 are contained in this Court’s e-Flex filing system for Case No. CV16-24 02182, styled ‘RTC v. Iliescu Family Trust.’

25 This response is problematic for several reasons. First and foremost, Plaintiffs 26 failed to object to the Discovery Commissioner’s recommendation “that Plaintiffs produce 27 to Defendant no later than June 30, 2020, the originals or copies of all documents 28 described in Defendant’s NRCP 34 request....” (emphasis added). This requirement was approved by the Court in its Confirming Order of June 30, 2020, which modified the Court’s prior order that “Plaintiffs produce for inspection and copying by Defendant, without objections and no later than April 17, 2020, all documents within their possession,

1 custody, or control that fall within the descriptions set forth in the NRCP 34 requests
2 served upon them by Defendant on November 8, 2019.” See Recommendation For Order 3 dated April 3, 2020 and Confirming Order of April 20, 2020.

4 Thus, Plaintiffs lost the option to comply with the Court’s order and NRCP 34 by 5 allowing inspection and copying. Rather, they were required to “produce to Defendant” 6 all responsive documents. The Court’s prior requirement that Plaintiffs do so “without 7 objections” precludes Plaintiffs from now objecting that the alleged documents are 8 voluminous or that production would be burdensome. Those objections were waived long 9 ago and, in any event, Plaintiffs’ unsupported and vague allegation regarding the 10 burdensome nature of production is insufficient. In his March 1995 “Notes on Discovery 11 and Arbitration.” Discovery Commissioner Ayres addressed this tactic:

12 First, when objecting to an interrogatory or a document request, the reasons 13 for the objection must be stated. See NRCP 33(a), 34(b). But merely 14 asserting the ground for the objection (e.g., "irrelevant," "over broad," 15 "vague," etc.) is not sufficient to sustain an objection to a discovery request.
16 See McLeod, Alexander, Powel & Appfel, P.C. v. Quarles, 894 F.2d 1482, 17 1484-85 (5th Cir. 1990); Panola Land Buyers Ass'n v. Shuman, 762 F.2d 18 1550, 1559 (11th Cir. 1985); Josephs v. Harris Corp., 677 F.2d 985, 991-92
19 (3rd Cir. 1982); Wauchop v. Domino's Pizza, Inc., 138 F.R.D. 539, 544
20 (N.D.Ind. 1991); Roesberg v. Johns-Manville Corp., 85 F.R.D. 292, 296-97 21 (E.D.Pa. 1980). The party objecting to the discovery request must 22 specifically detail the reasons that support its objection, including, if 23 appropriate, affidavits or other evidentiary support. See Schaap v. Executive 24 Indus., Inc., 130 F.R.D. 384, 387 (N.D.Ill. 1990). If the objection is that a 25 request is unduly burdensome, the objecting party must explain why the 26 request is unduly burdensome, and any factual assertions must be supported 27 by affidavit/declaration, or other evidentiary support. If the objection is that 28 a request is vague, ambiguous, or overly broad, the responding party must explain precisely how the interrogatory is vague, ambiguous, or overly broad. Moreover, the failure to properly support an objection generally results in a waiver of that, and any other, objection. See Roesberg, 85
F.R.D. at 297.

This analysis should not be viewed as a desire to promote form over substance. Our system of pretrial discovery depends in large part upon the parties resolving their discovery disputes without Court involvement.
Litigants should seek Court involvement in resolving discovery disputes only as a last resort. This attitude is reflected in Rule 37(a), which mandates that the prevailing party in a discovery dispute be permitted to recover from the losing party the expenses of bringing or opposing a motion to compel

1 discovery, "unless the court finds that the opposition to the motion was 2 substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of 3 expenses unjust." By requiring a party objecting to a discovery request to 4 explain in detail the reasons supporting an objection, and to include 5 evidentiary support for any factual assertions in the objecting party's 6 responses, our discovery rules increase the chances that the litigants will be 7 able to resolve their discovery disputes without Court participation. The 8 result in a more efficient, and less expensive, litigation process.

9 Plaintiffs fail to provide any detail regarding their allegation that compliance with 10 the Court's June 30 order would have been burdensome, and their overall response to 11 reasonable discovery has been the antithesis of what the Discovery Commissioner Ayres 12 emphasized is required of parties. Moreover, their reference to documents on file in 13 prior cases is also inappropriate. See Davidson v. Goord, 215 F.R.D. 73, 77 (W.D.N.Y.
14 2003) (a party may not refuse to respond to a discovery request on the ground that the 15 information sought is already available to the requesting party).

16 For all of these reasons, Plaintiffs should be precluded from offering at trial any 17 documents responsive to RTC's NRCP 34 requests for production that were not produced 18 to RTC on or before June 30, 2020.

John and Sonnia,

Thank you for your call today. It was a pleasure speaking with you. I have attached four maps to show you what we are proposing regarding your property.

The first attachment is labeled "PE" which is the permanent easement on the corner of 4th Street and Parker. It is 68 SF.

The second attachment is labeled "PUE" which is the utility easement on the southeast corner of your property. It is 584 SF but only 5 +/- feet wide at the widest point.

The third attachment is labeled "TCE" which is the temporary easement.

Lastly, I didn't mention it on the phone but I believe we are going to request access to the main parking area of the property. This is solely for your benefit to tie the driveway into 4th street, address grade issues, upgrade asphalt/curbing, etc. This last map labeled "full ROW map" shows this area in purple and will be completely voluntary and temporary on your part as the RTC will not compel you to allow us access. I will get you more information on this so you better understand the benefits to you will be.

Please feel free to contact me at any time should you have additional questions.

Thank you.

21 required for the Project according to its nature.

22 5. For purposes of this Order only, and subject to the terms of the Stipulation
23 concerning Defendants' objection to Reese Perkins' appraisal, the Court finds that,

13 so as to minimize interference between construction of the Project and Real Parties in 14 Interest's use of the remaining land of Real Parties in Interest on APN 008-244-15;

15 5. If Real Parties in Interest apply to withdraw the Cash Deposit, they shall 16 serve a notice on the parties in this action of the Application, giving each party 5 days 17 after service of such notice in which to file and serve objections to such withdrawal, if 18 any;

19 6. If any such objections to the Application are filed, the Court will set a date 20 and time for a hearing thereon.

John and Sonnia,

Thank you for your call today. It was a pleasure speaking with you. I have attached four maps to show you what we are proposing regarding your property.

The first attachment is labeled "PE" which is the permanent easement on the corner of 4th Street and Parker. It is 68 SF.

The second attachment is labeled "PUE" which is the utility easement on the southeast corner of your property. It is 584 SF but only 5 +/- feet wide at the widest point.

The third attachment is labeled "TCE" which is the temporary easement.

Lastly, I didn't mention it on the phone but I believe we are going to request access to the main parking area of the property. This is solely for your benefit to tie the driveway into 4th street, address grade issues, upgrade asphalt/curbing, etc. This last map labeled "full ROW map" shows this area in purple and will be completely voluntary and temporary on your part as the RTC will not compel you to allow us access. I will get you more information on this so you better understand the benefits to you will be.

Please feel free to contact me at any time should you have additional questions.

Thank you.

EXHIBIT "4"

EXHIBIT "4"

1 1. Real Parties in Interest are the current fee simple owners of real property at 2 issue in this litigation and, as such, have the authority to enter into the aforementioned
3 stipulation with RTC through their attorney, C. Nicholas Pereos, Esq.

4 2. This case involves the RTC's exercise of its power of eminent domain for 5 the purpose of acquiring the permanent easement, the public utility easement and the 6 temporary construction easement defined as "the Property" in the Stipulation and described 7 in detail in Exhibit 1 to the Stipulation, related to RTC's construction of the 4th
8 Street/Prater Way Complete Street and BRT Project, or "the Project." The Court 9 incorporates the definitions and descriptions of the Project set forth in the Stipulation by 10 reference in this order.

11 3. The use for which the Property sought to be condemned is a public use
12 authorized by law, and the taking thereof is necessary for such use. RTC has complied 13 with all statutory conditions precedent to instituting this action and seeking immediate 14 occupancy pending judgment. Immediate entry upon and possession of the Property 15 sought to be condemned are required so that the construction of the Project may proceed 16 in an orderly manner without delay or loss in utilization of construction time and/or 17 without unnecessary cost and expense to the condemning agency.

18 4. NRS 37.090 and 37.100 provide this Court with authority to enter an order 19 allowing RTC access to the Property sought to be condemned at any time after the 20 commencement of suit and pending entry of judgment, to do such work thereon as may be 21 required for the Project according to its nature.

22 5. For purposes of this Order only, and subject to the terms of the Stipulation
23 concerning Defendants' objection to Reese Perkins' appraisal, the Court finds that, 24 pursuant to NRS 37.100(4), the value of the Property sought to be obtained and/or 25 temporary utilized during construction plus damages is $2,030.00.

26 ...
27 ...
28

1 Based on the foregoing, and with good cause appearing, IT IS HEREBY 2 ORDERED:

3 1. RTC may have immediate possession and occupancy of the Property, as 4 described in Exhibit 1 attached hereto, by depositing with the Clerk of this Court the sum
5 of $2,030.00 (the "Cash Deposit").

6 2. The Clerk of the Court shall deposit the Cash Deposit into an interest
7 bearing account for the benefit of Real Parties in Interest and/or any other party 8 determined to be entitled to those amounts.

9 3. Upon making the Cash Deposit, RTC may immediately enter upon and 10 occupy the Property and perform such work thereon as may be necessary to construct and 11 complete the Project;

12 4. RTC and Real Parties in Interest and their respective agents shall cooperate 13 so as to minimize interference between construction of the Project and Real Parties in 14 Interest's use of the remaining land of Real Parties in Interest on APN 008-244-15;

15 5. If Real Parties in Interest apply to withdraw the Cash Deposit, they shall 16 serve a notice on the parties in this action of the Application, giving each party 5 days 17 after service of such notice in which to file and serve objections to such withdrawal, if 18 any;

19 6. If any such objections to the Application are filed, the Court will set a date
20 and time for a hearing thereon.

21 IT IS HEREBY FURTHER ORDERED that this order shall become effective
22 upon RTC's deposit of the Cash Deposit with the Clerk of this Court.

23 Dated this 30th day of November, 2016.

27 RTC'S REPLY TO PLAINTIFFS' RESPONSE TO THE SUPPLEMENTAL 28 DECLARATION OF DANE W. ANDERSON REGARDING EXPENSES TO BE 29 REIMBURSED BY DEFENDANTS

30 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County ("RTC")
31 replies to Plaintiffs' Response To The Supplemental Declaration Of Dane W. Anderson 32 Regarding Expenses To Be Reimbursed By Defendants as follows:

33 ///

34 ///

1 Initially, RTC’s counsel must clarify a clerical error in the Supplemental 2 Declaration of its counsel. It was the intent of the undersigned that the yellow highlighted 3 billing items be redacted from the filing, as they are not fees that RTC claims were 4 incurred “in connection with” its motions for sanctions. The fees that are highlighted 5 were for items not “connected with” the motions for sanctions or reflect associate time 6 spent on such items but for which RTC is not requesting sanctions. Everything not 7 highlighted are fees incurred in connection with RTC’s motions for sanctions and total the 8 additional sum RTC requests be reimbursed by Plaintiffs as part of the fees RTC has 9 incurred “in connection with” its motions for sanctions arising from Plaintiffs’ repeated 10 and numerous failures and refusals to comply with discovery rules and this Court’s orders.

11 Once again, Plaintiffs’ objection to RTC’s claimed fees is based on an exceedingly 12 narrow interpretation of the phrase “in connection with” included in the Discovery 13 Commissioner’s recommendation that RTC be reimbursed for “reasonable expenses 14 incurred “in connection with” its two motions for discovery sanctions against Plaintiffs.
15 As pointed out previously, Merriam-Webster broadly defines “in connection with” as “in 16 relation to (something); for reasons that relate to (something).” There can be no dispute 17 that all of the claimed fees “relate to” RTC’s two motions for discovery sanctions, 18 including the events giving rise to the motions, the motions themselves and the briefing 19 subsequent to the motions. Plaintiffs offer no alternative definition as to what “in 20 connection with” should mean. It is unreasonable to suggest that RTC’s reply to an 21 objection “exceeds” what is contemplated. RTC is entitled to due process, just the same 22 as Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs’ objection is essentially a motion to retax, to which a responsible 23 is reasonably required.

24 Plaintiffs claim that RTC expenses are excessive and unreasonable but make no 25 effort whatsoever to demonstrate to the Court the amount they believe is reasonable. That 26 is tantamount to a failure to oppose under DCR 13(3). It must be kept in mind that the 27 only reason these filings are necessary is because Plaintiffs have repeatedly failed to 28

1 participate in discovery. RTC's repeated and reasonable efforts have been thwarted at 2 every turn, and RTC should be reimbursed accordingly.

DEPT. NO. 15

PLAINTIFFS' RESPONSE TO THE SUPPLEMENTAL DECLARATION OF DANE W. ANDERSON
REGARDING EXPENSES TO BE REIMBURSED BY PLAINTIFFS

22 COME NOW JOHN ILIESCU, JR., AND SONNIA ILIESCU, TRUSTEES OF
23 THE JOHN ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA ILIESCU 1992 FAMILY TRUST; JOHN 24 ILIESCU, JR., individually; and SONNIA ILIESCUE, individually (collectively, "the 25 Iliescu Plaintiffs"), by and through their attorney, Michael J. Morrison, Esq., and 26 pursuant to the June 10, 2020, Recommendation for Order, respond to the Supplemental 27 Declaration of Dane W. Anderson regarding expenses to be reimbursed by the 28 Plaintiffs, as follows:

1 SUPPORTING POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. OVERVIEW

3 Counsel for Defendant (“the RTC”) has submitted a Supplemental Declaration 4 regarding the expenses for which the RTC seeks reimbursement, seeking $4,647.50 in 5 fees in addition to the more than $18,500.00 in fees and costs addressed in his initial 6 Declaration. The RTC’s additional request is based upon billing statements from June 7 and July that purport to represent fees the RTC incurred “in connection with” its two 8 motions for sanctions (as counsel for the RTC interprets that term). A review of the 9 RTC’s supplemental declaration, however, reveals some of the same issues the Iliescu 10 Plaintiff raised in response to the RTC’s initial declaration. Not only are they excessive 11 and unreasonable, they are not contemplated by the June 10, 2020, Recommendation 12 for Order. Thus, the Iliescu Plaintiffs request that this Court deny the RTC the 13 additional amount of fees and costs it seeks in connection with its two motions for 14 sanctions.

15 II. ARGUMENT

16 As the Iliescu Plaintiffs noted in their response to the RTC’s first declaration in 17 support of its request for fees, the June 10, 2020, Recommendation for Order 18 (confirmed by this Court on June 30, 2020) states that the Iliescu Plaintiffs were 19 obligated to reimburse the RTC for the “...reasonable expenses incurred in connection 20 with [the Defendant’s] Motion for Discovery Sanctions and its Motion for Sanctions 21 pursuant to NRCPP 37(b)(1)...” See June 10, 2020, Recommendation for Order (on file 22 in this case) at 13:10-13 (emphasis added). To that end, Discovery Commissioner 23 Ayres: (1) directed the RTC to submit a declaration with supporting documentation; 24 and (2) permitted the Iliescu Plaintiffs to file a response to that declaration. Id. at 25 13:13-15.

26 It appears from the supporting billing information that is Exhibit 1 to the RTC’s 27 supplemental declaration that the yellow highlighted billing items were not included in 28

1 the calculation of the additional fees sought. To that end, of the 17.5 hours billed in 2 June and July 2020, only 3.2 of those hours were not included in what the RTC seeks to 3 recover from the Iliescu Plaintiffs. The fees for legal work for which the RTC seeks to 4 be reimbursed appear primarily to be for 14.3 hours spent preparing the two 5 declarations it has filed in support of the amount of fees it requests (the substantive 6 portion of each declaration being about one page) and its three page reply to the 7 response the Discovery Commissioner permitted the Iliescu Plaintiffs to file. That 8 work, however, exceeds what the Recommendation for Order intends in reference to its 9 fee reimbursement provision.

10 As the Iliescu Plaintiffs previously asserted and as stated above, the 11 Recommendation for Order limits what the RTC can recover to the reasonable 12 expenses it incurred “in connection with” its two motions for sanctions. That is, the 13 fees the RTC incurred only in reference to the legal work undertaken for its two 14 motions for sanctions. In directing the RTC to submit a declaration in support of its 15 request for fees, Discovery Commissioner Ayres said nothing about the RTC being able 16 to request and recover the fees incurred in preparing that supporting document. And, in 17 permitting the Iliescu Plaintiffs to file a response to the RTC’s supporting declaration, 18 Discovery Commissioner Ayers said nothing about: (1) the RTC filing a response to the 19 Iliescu Plaintiffs’ response; or (2) imposing on the Iliescu Plaintiffs the fees the RTC 20 incurred in reviewing the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ response or in choosing to prepare and file a 21 reply. Thus, none of the additional fees the RTC seeks to recover from the Iliescu 22 Plaintiffs are contemplated by the Recommendation for Order on which the RTC bases 23 its fee reimbursement efforts and, therefore, should be denied.

24 Should this Court nevertheless decide to award any fees to the RTC based upon 25 its supplemental declaration, it is the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ position that the 14.3 hours 26 billed for the work that was undertaken is excessive and unreasonable. As noted above, 27 the substantive portions of the RTC’s supporting declarations and its unauthorized reply 28

1 to the Ilescu Plaintiffs’ response amounted to a total of 5 pages. Given the relatively 2 simple and straightforward content of the work product identified in the supplemental 3 declaration, it is inconceivable that each page was the result of nearly three hours of 4 review, research, and drafting. Thus, should this Court consider the additional fees the 5 RTC seeks in its supplemental declaration, it should determine what is reasonable 6 based upon the nature and scope of what was intended by the Recommendation for 7 Order and the work undertaken, and should make that determination pursuant to the 8 factors stated in Brunzell v. Golden Gate Nat’l Bank, 85 Nev. 345, 349, 455 P.2d 31, 33 9 (1969).

10 III. CONCLUSION

11 Based on the foregoing, the Ilescu Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court 12 deny RTC’s request for an additional $4,647.50 in legal fees for its counsel’s work “in 13 connection with” RTC’s two motions for sanctions as unreasonable and excessive, and 14 as unauthorized by the June 10, 2020, Recommendation and Order. Alternatively, the 15 Ilescu Plaintiffs request that any amount this Court awards to the RTC be reduced to an 16 amount that it determines to be reasonable based upon the intent of the 17 Recommendation and Order and pursuant to Brunzell, supra.

ORDER REGARDING DECLARATIONS OF EXPENSES

Before this Court is the opposed declaration of Dane W. Anderson regarding expenses to be reimbursed by Plaintiffs and opposed supplemental declaration. This Court has reviewed the declarations and other papers and pleadings on file, and now finds and orders as follows.

On June 10, 2020, Discovery Commissioner Ayres entered a Recommendation for Order recommending in part that Plaintiffs be ordered to "reimburse Defendant for the reasonable expenses incurred in connection with its Motion for Discovery Sanctions and its Motion for Sanctions Pursuant to NRCP 37(b)(1), as and for a sanction under NRCP 37(b)(1) and NRCP 37(d)." Further, the Recommendation directed Defendant to submit a

1 declaration, with supporting documentation, showing the reasonable expenses incurred in 2 connection with these two motions. This recommendation was confirmed by order 3 entered June 30, 2020.

4 On June 22, 2020 Dane W. Anderson filed his first declaration stating he interpreted 5 the fees incurred "in connection with" RTC's motions "as the fees incurred in the events 6 giving rise to the motions, the motions themselves, and the work done to prepare this 7 declaration" noting he would file a supplemental declaration for work done in June and 8 July related to his declaration. See Decl. 2:13-16. This Declaration sought $17,810.00 in 9 attorney's fees and $739.90 cents in costs. Plaintiffs responded to this declaration on July 6, 10 2020 arguing the fees sought are unreasonable, "grossly excessive," and not contemplated 11 by the Recommendation. See Response 2:18-20, 3:13-15. Mr. Anderson argues his 12 interpretation is reasonable as "in connection with" is a broad term and the motions 13 would not have been necessary had it not been for Plaintiffs' dilatory conduct requiring 14 RTC to repeat its discovery requests multiple times.

15 The Supplemental Declaration seeks an additional $4,647.50 in attorney's fees 16 related to work performed relating to the declarations. RTC seeks reimbursement of 17 $22,457.50 for fees and $739.90 in costs, totaling $23,197.40.

18 While Defendant supported its broad interpretation of the sanctions language this 19 Court interprets that language more narrowly.¹ Plaintiffs are required to reimburse 20 Defendant for the expenses incurred in connection with the two referenced motions, and 21 the costs incurred when they failed to appear at their scheduled depositions. As noted in 22 the Recommendation, Plaintiffs are not permitted to unilaterally vacate scheduled 23 depositions. See Recommendation 8:7-8. This is especially true when this happens via 24
25

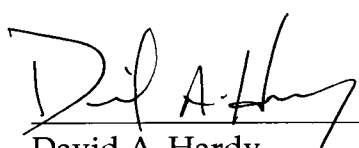

26 ¹ This Court could have referred this to the discovery commissioner whose recommendation is susceptible to 27 multiple interpretations. Instead, it consulted with Discovery Commissioner Ayres as contemplated by the 28 Code of Judicial Conduct. See NCJC Rule 2.9(3) (A judge may consult with court staff and court officials whose functions are to aid the judge in carrying out the judge's adjudicative responsibilities, or with other judges, provided the judge makes reasonable efforts to avoid receiving factual information that is not part of the record, and does not abrogate the responsibility personally to decide the matter.)

1 voicemail left at 4:40 p.m. on the business day immediately preceding the depositions. See 2 RTC's July 13, 2020 Reply 3:13-15.

3 When this Court reviewed the exhibits Defendant provided, it found the expenses 4 incurred with the first motion for sanctions were $7,312.50, and those incurred with the 5 second motion for sanctions were $2,632.50. Accordingly, Plaintiff's shall pay sanctions of 6 $10,684.90 to RTC in compliance with Discovery Commissioner Ayres' confirmed 7 Recommendation for Order.

ORDER REGARDING DECLARATIONS OF EXPENSES

Before this Court is the opposed declaration of Dane W. Anderson regarding expenses to be reimbursed by Plaintiffs and opposed supplemental declaration. This Court has reviewed the declarations and other papers and pleadings on file, and now finds and orders as follows.

On June 10, 2020, Discovery Commissioner Ayres entered a Recommendation for Order recommending in part that Plaintiffs be ordered to "reimburse Defendant for the reasonable expenses incurred in connection with its Motion for Discovery Sanctions and its Motion for Sanctions Pursuant to NRCP 37(b)(1), as and for a sanction under NRCP 37(b)(1) and NRCP 37(d)." Further, the Recommendation directed Defendant to submit a

3 entered June 30, 2020.

4 On June 22, 2020 Dane W. Anderson filed his first declaration stating he interpreted

10 2020 arguing the fees sought are unreasonable, "grossly excessive," and not contemplated

12 interpretation is reasonable as "in connection with" is a broad term and the motions

14 RTC to repeat its discovery requests multiple times.

15 The Supplemental Declaration seeks an additional $4,647.50 in attorney's fees

9/29/20 HONORABLE DAVID A. HARDY Dept. No. 15 A. Dick (Clerk) L. Shaw (Reporter) ZOOM WEBINAR	CASE MANAGEMENT CONFERENCE Michael Morrison, Esq. represented Plaintiffs John Iliescu and Sonnia Iliescu who were not present. Dane Anderson, Esq. represented Defendant Regional Transportation Commission and a representative was not present. Pursuant to the national and local COVID-19 emergency response that caused temporary closure of the courthouse located at 75 Court Street in Reno, Washoe County, NV, this hearing was conducted remotely. This Court and all participants appeared electronically via Zoom Webinar. This Court was physically located in Washoe County, NV.	July 9, 2021 10:00 a.m. Pretrial Conference Aug. 9, 2021 1:00 p.m. Jury Trial (5 days)

4:35 p.m. – Court convened, via Zoom Webinar, with counsel present.

ATTY Anderson addressed and advised CT Defendant agreed to take Plaintiffs' depositions via Zoom and also agreed to extend the deposition date(s) approximately 2 months. Counsel further advised last week opposing counsel provided a proposed scheduling order for review; however, there is a dispute requiring this Court's assistance between the parties regarding 16.1 disclosures before entering a scheduling order in this case.

ATTY Morrison addressed CT referenced this Court's order granting Defendant's MIL precluding Plaintiffs from offering documents not produced to RTC prior to 6/30/20.

COURT stated it would expect Plaintiffs to seek leave if deemed appropriate; further, it was its intention for a 16.1 conference to commence and other discovery to commence.

ATTY Anderson indicated discovery should be properly conducted, the problem being there has not been a 16.1 conference, and it is the Plaintiffs' obligation to move this case forward. Counsel further indicated Plaintiffs should submit a proposed scheduling order to D15 staff.

ATTY Morrison indicated D15's JA previously provided a proposed scheduling order template for counsels' use and did not object to providing said order to D15 staff. Counsel further indicated parties are open to settlement discussions.

COURT ORDERED: No later than Tuesday, 10/6, counsel Anderson shall respond to counsel Morrison regarding the previously provided proposed scheduling order. Further, no later than Thursday, 10/8, counsel Morrison shall submit to D15 staff said proposed order.

COURT stated at counsel Anderson's discretion he may include reservation language in the proposed scheduling order regarding this Court's Order Granting Defendant's MIL entered 8/19/20.

COURT ORDERED: Matter continued for pretrial conference and trial by jury.

Court stood in recess.

04:30PM 4
04:39PM 5 THE COURT: We can go on the record in CV19-00459. It 04:39PM 6 is the Iliescu versus RTC case. I preside over this hearing 04:39PM 7 with audio visual means. We are all responding to the COVID 04:39PM 8 pandemic, and I am available to the attorneys through the Zoom 04:39PM 9 program, which allows remote participation.

04:39PM 10 Mr. Morrison, Michael Morrison, is present on behalf 04:39PM 11 of the plaintiffs. Mr. Anderson is present on behalf of the 04:39PM 12 defendant.

04:39PM 13 This time is set for an early case conference.
04:39PM 14 Counsel, in a moment I'm going to allow you to tell me what's 04:39PM 15 going on. I will share with you in advance about 90 percent of 04:39PM 16 these early case conferences go off calendar, because the 04:39PM 17 attorneys are able to work out a scheduling order between 04:40PM 18 themselves.

04:40PM 19 So at the end of the hearing today, I will order some 04:40PM 20 protocols for getting a scheduling order presented, but there 04:40PM 21 has been some discovery history in this case and there's been 04:40PM 22 some judicial intervention, and I thought it was appropriate 04:40PM 23 that I hear from everybody.

04:40PM 24 I'll tell you that I've reviewed the file to include 04:40PM 25 the most recent filings, which was a jury demand by the 04:42PM 1 So my concern with including language about allowing 04:42PM 2 disclosures under 16.1, is that it might somehow be construed 04:42PM 3 somehow as a waiver of RTC's right under that order.

04:42PM 4 And Mr. Morrison and I did talk about this right 04:42PM 5 before we met with the Court. And I don't know that we have 04:42PM 6 reached an agreement. We might need the court's assistance in 04:42PM 7 that regard.

04:42PM 8 That's basically really the only issue that precluded 04:42PM 9 us from entering a stipulated scheduling order.

04:42PM 10 THE COURT: Mr. Morrison.

04:42PM 11 MR. MORRISON: Yes, Your Honor.

04:42PM 12 THE COURT: Anything from you, sir?

04:42PM 13 MR. MORRISON: Yes, sir. In regard to the order that 04:42PM 14 the Court entered, it was based upon a stipulation that 04:42PM 15 Mr. Anderson and I had entered into at his request.

04:42PM 16 He wanted to take the depositions of Dr. And 04:43PM 17 Mrs. Iliescu, as soon as possible, because of their health, 04:43PM 18 which I stipulated to.

04:43PM 19 And in the stipulation there was language that the 04:43PM 20 parties agree that they may conduct discovery prior to holding 04:43PM 21 the 16.1, and prior to filing a joint case conference report.
04:43PM 22 And that's the order that they requested, based upon the age of 04:43PM 23 the parties, and my stipulation.

04:43PM 24 So -- the sequence of events was such that that 04:43PM 25 discovery in the litigation that happened during the time I've 04:43PM 1 been ill only dressed the production of the documents that were 04:44PM 2 requested in discovery requests in writing, and the deposition 04:44PM 3 took place based on that.

04:44PM 4 So as a practical matter, Mr. Anderson and I had 04:44PM 5 stipulated that we hadn't done the 16.1, but we were going to 04:44PM 6 allow RTC to take those depositions, which happened. And then 04:44PM 7 the order for a motion in limine provided that it would be 04:44PM 8 applicable to documents that weren't produced by the Iliescus 04:44PM 9 during that period.

04:44PM 10 But now we've got to hold the 16.1 conference, and my 04:44PM 11 concern is that the order that would come out in regard to this 04:45PM 12 matter would -- potentially could result in my not being able 04:45PM 13 to do the 16.1, get witnesses, talk to RTC at depositions and 04:45PM 14 discovery. And through that I anticipate that I'll accumulate 04:45PM 15 additional information and documents from witnesses and the RTC 04:45PM 16 themselves.

04:45PM 17 And my concern is that anything that is fruitful out 04:45PM 18 of the discovery under the 16.1, would be admissible and not 04:45PM 19 subject to the motion in limine. That the motion in limine 04:45PM 20 just addressed the documents that were requested, and those 04:46PM 21 were only from the Iliescus themselves.

04:46PM 22 That concludes my input, Your Honor, and thank you.

04:46PM 23 THE COURT: I'm just thinking, if you will allow me to 04:46PM 24 pause, please.

04:46PM 25 I really appreciated the footnote Commissioner Ayres

04:46PM 1 included in one of his recommendations. His footnote for -- 04:46PM 2 Commissioner Ayres is such a gentleman and has, in my opinion, 04:46PM 3 perfect judicial temperament, and demeanor. And here is a 04:47PM 4 footnote for -- to the June 10th, 2020 recommendation for 04:47PM 5 order.

04:47PM 6 In which Commissioner Ayres wrote: The court 04:47PM 7 appreciates that plaintiffs' counsel is an officer of the court 04:47PM 8 and it does not mean to impune his integrity in any way.

04:47PM 9 I share those sentiments. I believe that Mr. Morrison 04:47PM 10 and I have met over the years. I hold fondness for him as a 04:47PM 11 member of the bar. I don't have any personal animus.

04:47PM 12 I'm saying all this because the context of this case 04:47PM 13 is difficult, because of some of the discovery events. And 04:47PM 14 so -- and so I have this motion in limine that's presented to 04:47PM 15 the court, and there is no opposition filed. And that comes on 04:47PM 16 the heels of some other nonresponsiveness, so I granted the 04:48PM 17 motion in limine pursuant to District Court Rule 13.

04:48PM 18 If Mr. Morrison thinks that leave or relief should be 04:48PM 19 given from that order, there's an appropriate mechanism to seek 04:48PM 20 that relief. It's also my expectation that I would narrowly 04:48PM 21 construe the order to be on all fours with the motion 04:48PM 22 underlying it.

04:48PM 23 And as I remember that motion, there were specific 04:48PM 24 requests made, those requests were not completed, and now I 04:48PM 25 have barred the plaintiffs from presenting evidence relating to those requests.

I don't believe it was my intention to stop all discovery and determine what fruitful avenues may exist elsewhere for the plaintiffs. And so I'm hearing 2 things from opposing counsel, and I agree with both of them.

Mr. Anderson, I don't intend to dilute the order that I've entered, but I intend to specifically construe it. It's like granting default. The defaults I grant are always strictly construed in light of the pleading that underlies it.

So I believe there should be 16.1 conference and other discovery, while not retreating from the order that's been entered.

So having said that long speech, counsel, let me have you both respond to me, because that's where I am right now. Mr. Anderson.

MR. ANDERSON: Thank you, Your Honor. I don't disagree that discovery should be properly conducted and he can explore anything that may lead to the admissible -- likelihood of admissibility of evidence.

The problem I have I guess is we've been in this case now over a year. I have been finally able to depose his clients. There hasn't been a 16.1, and I don't know why. As the defendants' counsel it's not my obligation to move the case forward. It's the plaintiffs' counsel, their obligation to move the case forward.

04:50PM 1 So I guess I'm frustrated by that, but I understand 04:50PM 2 that the order was limited to the specific requests for 04:50PM 3 production that were served in November and not responded to.
04:50PM 4 And the documents that were produced were limited, but the 04:50PM 5 requests -- I think were fairly broad, so I just wanted to be 04:50PM 6 careful from the RTC standpoint not to waive a strategic 04:50PM 7 advantage by stipulating the documents could be produced in 04:50PM 8 16.1` would somehow cure this problem.

04:50PM 9 THE COURT: I don't mind if you include some 04:50PM 10 placeholder language that contains what you just said, because 04:51PM 11 you want to preserve your right to argue the meaning and 04:51PM 12 efficacy of the order that's been entered. But I think you 04:51PM 13 guys ought to do discovery, otherwise.

04:51PM 14 MR. ANDERSON: I don't disagree, Your Honor, he can 04:51PM 15 take depositions. Assuming the 16.1 does happen or a joint 04:51PM 16 case conference or individual case conference report is filed, 04:51PM 17 then I don't have a problem with him conducting whatever 04:51PM 18 discovery he wants to conduct in terms of my client.

04:51PM 19 Although, I do object to any disclosures on behalf of 04:51PM 20 the Iliescus that involve documents -- I'm sorry, Your Honor, I 04:51PM 21 got phone call in the middle of that -- the documents that were 04:51PM 22 within their possession, custody and control that weren't 04:51PM 23 produced -- that were responsive to the document request. I do 04:51PM 24 object to those.

04:51PM 25 Beyond that, I agree with the Court he should be able 04:51PM 1 to conduct any discovery that he thinks is reasonable under the 04:52PM 2 circumstances.

04:52PM 3 THE COURT: Mr. Anderson, before that I turn to 04:52PM 4 Mr. Morrison. Who should I order to submit the stipulated 04:52PM 5 scheduling order?

04:52PM 6 MR. ANDERSON: Your Honor, I would believe the 04:52PM 7 plaintiff should be obligated to do that as the prosecutor of 04:52PM 8 this case. Mr. Morrison did send me a proposed form, I believe 04:52PM 9 it was Thursday evening. And I didn't disagree with a 04:52PM 10 substantial portion of it. Just the portion regarding the 16.1 04:52PM 11 disclosures.

04:52PM 12 I think the work is almost all done. On behalf of 04:52PM 13 RTC, the defendant, I would request the court order the 04:52PM 14 plaintiff to submit it.

04:52PM 15 THE COURT: Thank you. Mr. Morrison, do you have 04:52PM 16 anything to add.

04:52PM 17 MR. MORRISON: Just a couple of things, Your Honor, 04:52PM 18 and thank you for hearing this today.

04:52PM 19 I just want to make note that I have whole hearted 04:52PM 20 understanding and appreciation, as you do, for Commissioner 04:53PM 21 Ayres. He's just done a spectacular and thoroughly 04:53PM 22 professional job in his duties. And so I -- I would like to 04:53PM 23 applaud him, because he deserves it, and I know he doesn't get 04:53PM 24 it very much.

04:53PM 25 On the substantive note, Your Honor, as far as what 04:53PM 1 Mr. Anderson has stated, I'm not in disagreement. In fact, to 04:53PM 2 apprise the court of where the parties are at this juncture, 04:53PM 3 Mr. Anderson and I before this hearing discussed the 04:53PM 4 possibility of settlement, and he was kindly the one who 04:53PM 5 broached that.

04:53PM 6 And so we had some discussions. I think that it's 04:53PM 7 going to be fruitful, but to the point, I have no problem 04:53PM 8 preparing the stip -- the order, because as Mr. Anderson 04:54PM 9 stated, I did provide one to him earlier. And the only issue 04:54PM 10 that we had -- he had with it was as to the matters that he's 04:54PM 11 already stated.

04:54PM 12 And so I'll prepare the order, have Mr. Anderson take 04:54PM 13 a look at it, and we'll get that over to you, Judge.

04:54PM 14 THE COURT: So Ms. Court Clerk, have we sent to 04:54PM 15 counsel our template scheduling order? I know Shannon often 04:54PM 16 does that, but she's off this week.

04:54PM 17 THE CLERK: Counsel, did you receive a standard order 04:54PM 18 from Miss Park?

04:54PM 19 MR. MORRISON: Yes.

04:54PM 20 THE COURT: So I'm going to pull up my calendar real 04:54PM 21 quick. Mr. Anderson, when do you return to the office?

04:55PM 22 MR. ANDERSON: I will be back in the office on 04:55PM 23 Thursday.

04:55PM 24 THE COURT: Sorry to be looking away, I've got 04:55PM 25 multiple screens here, and I've got a big screen just out of my 5 looking at Zoom.

6 THE COURT: So, Ms. Court Clerk, if you will take a 7 minute order that reflects the following.

8 Mr. Anderson will respond to Mr. Morrison no later 9 than close of business on Tuesday, November 6th, is it --

10 THE CLERK: October.

11 THE COURT: October I mean, yeah.

12 And his response with a sentence, if he wishes, that 14 will submit the proposed scheduling order by Thursday, and I

17 Mr. Morrison. My scheduling order beginning on Friday. I may 19 Let's get this in place, so you can go about your discovery

21 MR. ANDERSON: Thank you, Your Honor.

Dept. No.: 15

29 MOTION FOR SANCTIONS PURSUANT TO NRCP 16.1(e)

30 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”)
31 moves the Court pursuant to NRCP 16.1(e) for an order dismissing this case. Plaintiffs 32 have neither conducted an NRCP 16.1 conference nor filed a case conference report in the 33 frames set forth in that rule. This motion is based on the following points and authorities 34 and the entire file in this matter.

35 ///

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Plaintiffs filed this case in February 2019 and, since that time, have done nothing 3 to move it forward. Plaintiffs initially asserted twelve claims for relief against RTC but, 4 after two motions to dismiss, only six claims remain. RTC served its Answer to First 5 Amended Complaint on March 23, 2020. Pursuant to NRCP 16.1(b)(2)(A), the early case
6 conference should have been held no later than April 22, 2020. Although NRCP 7 16.1(b)(2)(B) provides that the parties may agree to continue the time to hold the early 8 case conference for an additional period of 90 days, in this case July 21, 2020, Plaintiffs 9 did not request such a continuance nor did RTC agree to such a continuance. NRCP 10 16.1(b)(2)(B) further provides that, absent extraordinary and compelling circumstances 11 neither the court nor the parties may extend the time for the early case conference beyond 12 180 days after service of an answer by the defendant.

13 NRCP 16.1(b)(3) allows parties to conduct early case conferences by phone, Zoom 14 or other audiovisual methods. NRCP 16.1(b)(4)(A) provides that plaintiff is responsible 15 for designating the time and place of each conference. There is no excuse for Plaintiffs' 16 failure to hold a case conference. The deadline for Plaintiffs to file a case conference 17 report was November 18, 2020. Since no case conference was held, no case conference 18 report has been filed. Plaintiffs have failed to move this case forward and it should be 19 dismissed.

20 II. LAW AND ARGUMENT

21 NRCP 16.1(e) provides for sanctions in the event of an untimely case conference 22 or an untimely case conference report, both of which are issues in this case. NRCP 23 16.1(e)(1) provides that the Court may dismiss the case without prejudice if an NRCP 24 16.1(b) conference is not held within 180 days after service of an answer by a defendant, 25 unless there are compelling and extraordinary circumstances for a continuance beyond 26 this period.

27 Similarly, NRCP 16.1(e)(2) provides that the Court may dismiss the case without 28 prejudice if the plaintiff does not file a case conference report within 240 days after

1 service of answer by a defendant. NRCPC 16.1(e)(2) does not contain the same exception 2 for “compelling and extraordinary circumstances.”

3 RTC served its Answer To First Amended Complaint on March 23, 2020.
4 Therefore, the 180-day deadline to hold the NRCPC 16.1(b) conference was September 21, 5 2020 and the 240-day deadline to file a case conference report was November 18, 2020.
6 Despite participating in the Case Management Conference on September 29, 2020 and 7 filing a Stipulation For Entry Of Scheduling Order on October 8, 2020, Plaintiffs have 8 failed to make any effort to schedule the NRCPC 16.1(b) conference.

9 This Court has broad discretion to impose discovery sanctions. Hamlett v.
10 Reynolds, 114 Nev. 863, 865, 963 P.2d 457, 458 (1998). In Arnold v. Kip, the Nevada 11 Supreme Court held that the party moving for dismissal under NRCPC 16.1(e) is not 12 required to demonstrate prejudice and the district court is not required to consider whether 13 the defendant has suffered prejudice because of the delay in complying with that rule. 123
14 Nev. 410, 415, 168 P.3d 1050, 1053 (2007). The Arnold Court noted that NRCPC 16.1(e) 15 was adopted to promote prosecution of litigation within adequate timelines, and that rule 16 permits sanctions to ensure compliance with specific guidelines. Id. A nonexhaustive list 17 of factors to consider includes: (1) the length of the delay; (2) whether the defendant 18 induced or caused the delay; (3) whether the delay has impeded the timely prosecution of 19 the case; (4) general considerations of case management such as compliance with any case 20 scheduling order or the existence or postponement of any trial date; or (5) whether the 21 plaintiff has provided good cause for the delay. Arnold, 123 Nev. at 1053-1054, 168 P.3d 22 at 415-416.

23 The length of the delay for holding the early case conference is 9 months. RTC 24 filed its answer on March 23, 2020, so Plaintiffs were required to hold the early case 25 conference by April 22, 2020. Even if the parties had agreed to extend the time to hold 26 the early case conference, which they did not, the latest date on which the parties could 27 agree to hold the conference was July 21, 2020. The case conference report must be filed 28 within 30 days after the early case conference. Because Plaintiffs never scheduled the 1 early case conference, it obviously follows that no case conference report has ever been 2 filed. The delay is inexcusable, especially considering the ease with which it can be 3 conducted by phone or Zoom.

4 RTC has not induced or caused this delay. And while Covid-19 certainly impacted 5 the ability (or at least the wisdom) of conducting early case conferences in person, NRCP 6 16.1(b)(3) clearly allows parties to conduct early case conferences by phone, Zoom or 7 other audiovisual methods that do not require interpersonal contact. The delay in 8 conducting the early case conference and the consequent failure to file a case conference 9 report is entirely on Plaintiffs' shoulders. RTC does not know what excuse Plaintiffs will 10 offer up in response, but believes it is unlikely they can show good cause for the delay.

11 Plaintiffs' delay has impeded the timely prosecution of the case. They have 12 produced almost no documents and identified no witnesses with any real knowledge of the 13 factual allegations underlying their claims. Expert disclosures are due in a month and 14 Plaintiffs have provided no information from which RTC can evaluate what experts may 15 be needed and what opinions may be required. Even if they provided any such 16 information now—assuming any such information exists—it would likely require 17 extending current deadlines under the existing scheduling order and the postponement of 18 the current trial date. Further, Plaintiffs have not provided a computation of damages that 19 ordinarily would be included in a party's initial disclosures. RTC has no idea what 20 amount of damages Plaintiffs are seeking in this case.

21 Plaintiffs' delay in holding the early case conference report and consequent failure 22 to file a case conference report is simply inexcusable. This case has been pending a long 23 time and Plaintiffs have done nothing to move it forward. “[I]t is incumbent upon the 24 plaintiff to act diligently and ‘carefully track the crucial procedural dates and to actively 25 advance the case at all stages.’” Monroe v. Columbia Sunrise Hosp. and Med. Ctr., 123 26 Nev. 96, 100, 158 P.3d 1008, 1010 (2007) (quoting Allyn v. McDonald, 117 Nev. 907, 27 912, 34 P.3d 584, 587 (2001). Plaintiffs in this case have not done so, and this case 28 should be dismissed.

1 III. CONCLUSION

2 This case should be dismissed pursuant to NRCP 16.1(e). Plaintiffs have failed to 3 hold an early case conference within 180 days after RTC's answer and also have failed to 4 file a case conference report within 240 days after RTC's answer.

21 Defendants.

22 OPPOSITION TO MOTION FOR SANCTIONS

23 COMES NOW Michael J. Morrison, Esq., and as attorney for JOHN ILIESCU, JR., 24 AND SONNIA ILIESCU, TRUSTEES OF THE JOHN ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA 25 ILIESCU 1992 FAMILY TRUST (“Trust”), hereby respectfully submits this Opposition to 26 Defendants’ Motion for Sanctions.

1 Plaintiffs, seeks to vigorously enforce each and all of the formal aspects of Rule 16.1 2 against Plaintiffs, specifically including the ultimate sanction of dismissal of Plaintiffs’ 3 entire case, thereby denying them their day in Court.

4 Finally, when the undersigned received the instant Motion from RTC, he called 5 RTC’s counsel and requested that the parties schedule the Rule 16.1 conference, but 6 counsel refused, stating, “This case is over.”

7 LEGAL ISSUES

8 In support of its request for sanctions, RTC points to NRCP 16.1(e), provides that the 9 imposition of sanctions lies within the broad and sole discretion of this Court. Hamlett v.
10 Reynolds, 114 Nev. 863, 865, 963 P.2d 457, 458 (1998). As guidelines in exercise of the 11 Court’s discretion, the Supreme Court provided a nonexhaustive list of factors which this 12 Court may consider. Arnold v. Kip, 123 Nev. 410, 415, 168 P.3d 1050, 1053 (2007). This list 13 includes: (1) the length of the delay; (2) whether the defendant induced or caused the delay; (3) 14 whether the delay has impeded the timely prosecution of the case; (4) general considerations of 15 case management such as compliance with any case scheduling order or the existence or 16 postponement of any trial date; or (5) whether the plaintiff has provided good cause for the 17 delay. Arnold, 123 Nev. at 1053-1054, 168 P.3d at 415-416.

18 Plaintiffs respectfully suggest to the Court that an analysis of these factors, in light of 19 the facts and circumstances existing herein, are both telling in compelling.

20 Indeed, with respect to the length of the delay, the date at issue is November 18, 2020.
21 Any delay herein, if any, was induced and/or caused by the unilateral discovery protocols 22 “urgently” required and utilized by RTC, which protocols significantly interfered with and 23 undeniably wreaked havoc on any and all Rule-provided dates now sought to be enforced by 24 RTC. Moreover, for the many months during which RTC was solely and exclusively 25 conducting non-compliant protocols, Plaintiffs were being prejudiced.

26 As regards additional “good cause” for any delays, Plaintiffs respectfully advise the 27 Court that any delays attendant to this process were directly related to the undersigned’s health 28 problems, which were present for some time during the period at issue herein, were exacerbated in late October 2020, treated for several weeks, and resulted in a surgery on

Commented [MM1]:

1 November 12-13, 2020, at the Reno VA Hospital, with the attendant on-going months of 2 recovery, bed rest and rehab, during which he contracted and has been (and still is), trying to 3 recover from a seriously disabling bout of COVID-19, including the unpredictable and as-yet-not-fully-known impact on his neurological system and organs.

4 In the past, when the undersigned needed assistance with his legal tasks, he could turn 5 to two (2) very long-time and highly experienced local lawyers, who would kindly, and 6 graciously, provide reliable assistance to him. However, in the past few months, they have both 7 retired, leaving a vacuum that has not yet been filled, but the undersigned is exercising good 8 faith and due diligence, as time and health permit, to locate lawyers to provide assistance, as 9 and when required, to help avoid/eliminate future delays.

10 Based on the foregoing facts and circumstances, the undersigned respectfully, and very 11 earnestly, submits that counsel's health issues have occasioned any unforeseen and 12 unavoidable delays, if any, in Plaintiffs' prosecution of this case. In this regard, Plaintiffs 13 respectfully submit that, in addition to the delays occasioned by RTC herein, counsel's health 14 issues constitute the statutory requisite of "good cause" to deny any sanctions herein. NRCP 15 16.1(e).

16 Furthermore, Plaintiffs also respectfully assert there is no prejudice to Defendants 17 herein as a result of any alleged delay, but the sanction of dismissal constitutes, and will result 18 in severe, indeed, fatal prejudice to Plaintiffs, as the statute of limitations may have expired on 19 Plaintiffs' claims, and they may be barred from ever pursuing their valid and legally 20 cognizable claims.

21 CONCLUSION

22 Based on the forgoing facts and argument, Plaintiffs respectfully request the Court deny 23 the instant Motion.

29 RTC'S REPLY IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR SANCTIONS PURSUANT TO

30 NRCP 16.1(e)

31 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County ("RTC")
32 submits the following reply in support of its Motion For Sanctions Pursuant To NRCP 33 16.1(e) and in response to Plaintiffs' opposition brief filed on February 18, 2021 34 ("Opposition").

35 ///

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Plaintiffs offer two excuses for their failure to timely hold an early case conference 3 and corresponding failure to file a case conference report: (1) their delay in holding the 4 early case conference (and filing a case conference report) was somehow induced by 5 RTC's request to conduct early discovery; and (2) the ongoing health issues of their 6 counsel prevented Plaintiffs' compliance with NRCP 16.1.

7 As discussed below, neither excuse has merit. Plaintiffs' opposition lacks any 8 evidentiary support and contains numerous misstatements of fact—including that 9 "Plaintiffs were precluded from conducting any statutory discovery." Opposition at 2:7.
10 As discussed below, the stipulation for early discovery was reciprocal—both parties were 11 entitled to conduct early discovery. Nothing in that stipulation excused Plaintiffs from 12 holding an early case conference and filing a case conference report, and Plaintiffs never 13 asked the Court for such relief. In fact, at the Case Management Conference on 14 September 29, 2020, the Court advised Plaintiffs that it expected a 16.1 conference to be 15 held. See Minutes filed on September 30, 2020. Further, the Scheduling Order entered on 16 October 12, 2020 stated that the early case conference had not yet been held and that 17 initial disclosures pursuant to NRCP 16.1 would be made within 14 days after the case 18 conference, subject to the Court's prior order in limine. There is no evidence whatsoever 19 that RTC induced Plaintiffs to "ignore, disregard, circumvent and abandon" the 20 requirements of NRCP 16.1. Opposition at 2:26.

21 Plaintiffs incorrectly assert that the date for measuring their delay is November 18, 22 2020. Opposition at 3:19. RTC served its answer on March 23, 2020, and therefore the 23 case conference should have been held no later than April 22, 2020. The absolute 24 deadline to hold the case conference, absent "extraordinary and compelling 25 circumstances," was September 21, 2020. Plaintiffs missed that deadline by 4 months at 26 the time this motion was filed. The absolute deadline to file the joint case conference 27 report was November 18, 2020, but since a case conference was never held Plaintiffs 28 cannot file a case conference report.

1 The reality is that Plaintiffs have failed to comply with NRCP 16.1. They have 2 provided almost no documents and have provided no witness lists and no damages 3 disclosures. They have done almost nothing to move this case forward in the two years it 4 has been pending. “[I]t is incumbent upon the plaintiff to diligently and ‘carefully track 5 the crucial procedural dates and to actively advance the case at all stages.’” Monroe v.
6 Columbia Sunrise Hosp. and Med. Ctr., 123 Nev. 96, 100, 158 P.3d 1008, 1010 (2007)
7 (quoting Allyn v. McDonald, 117 Nev. 907, 912, 34 P.3d 584, 587 (2001)).¹

8 Plaintiffs’ dilatory conduct justifies the dismissal of their lawsuit. RTC should 9 also be awarded its attorney fees incurred in this lawsuit, including the expenses 10 associated with this motion.

11 II. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

12 While the Court may be familiar with this case through prior briefing (including 13 multiple prior sanctions against Plaintiffs), Plaintiffs’ accusations against RTC regarding 14 its request for early discovery and their most recent attempt to blame their failure to 15 prosecute this case on the health problems of their attorney require a little trip down 16 memory lane to set the record straight.

17 Plaintiffs filed this action on February 27, 2019, asserting twelve causes of action 18 (including a claim for “elder abuse”) and accusing RTC of willful and malicious atrocities 19 causing damage to Plaintiffs’ property and causing Plaintiffs to sustain personal injuries 20 and emotional distress. Plaintiffs sought specific and general damages for these injuries, 21 as well as punitive damages. Plaintiff specifically alleged their elderly status and 22 vulnerable health, including that Dr. Iliescu was (at that time) 92 years old. Complaint at 23 ¶¶ 80, 92.

24 Plaintiffs failed to serve the complaint within 120 days as required by NRCP 4(e), 25 prompting the Court enter an Order To Show Cause on July 1, 2019, requiring Plaintiffs 26 to file proof of service or show cause for their failure within 20 days. In response to that

27 _____
28 ¹ Plaintiffs complain that RTC did not contact them prior to filing the instant motion. Opposition at 2:28. RTC’s counsel has extended numerous courtesies throughout this case, including granting Plaintiffs’ counsel several extensions of time to respond to RTC’s instant motion. However, professional courtesies have their limits and cannot be elevated over acting in a client’s best interest.

1 order, Plaintiffs filed a Motion for Extension of Time on July 22, 2019, asserting that their 2 counsel's health issues had negatively impacted his ability to work and that dismissal 3 would cause some of their claims to be barred by the applicable statutes of limitations.
4 On July 30, 2019, the Court entered an Order Enlarging Time For Service, granting 5 Plaintiffs ten calendar days from the date of the order to effect service of process. The 6 Court noted that failure to serve RTC within that time frame would result in dismissal of 7 the lawsuit, even though dismissal would result in an expiration of the statute of 8 limitations.

9 RTC's counsel accepted service on August 8, 2019 and, on September 25, 2019, 10 filed a Motion to Dismiss seeking to dismiss most of Plaintiffs' claims for relief. On 11 October 1, 2019, Plaintiffs' counsel called the undersigned to request an extension of time 12 to oppose the motion to dismiss. During that call, the undersigned expressed concern 13 about preserving Plaintiffs' testimony in light of the allegations of the Complaint, 14 including their age and health condition. This discussion is reflected in the email attached 15 as Exhibit 1.

16 On October 30, 2019, the parties filed a Stipulation To Conduct Discovery Prior 17 To Holding The NRCP 16.1 Conference And Prior To Filing the Joint Case Conference 18 Report, which the Court granted on November 18, 2019. While Plaintiffs' ages and health 19 were cited as the basis for the stipulation, the agreement was that "the parties may conduct 20 discovery prior to holding the NRCP 16.1 Conference and Prior to filing the Joint Case 21 Conference Report" The stipulation did not restrict Plaintiffs in any way.

22 On December 6, 2019, in order to avoid discovery into their medical records and 23 treatment, Plaintiffs stipulated to the dismissal of all claims for personal injury and 24 emotional distress. The Court granted that stipulation on December 10, 2019. On January 25 7, 2020, the Court directed Plaintiffs to file an amended complaint setting forth their 26 extant claims. Plaintiffs filed their Amended Complaint on January 21, 2020, and RTC 27 filed a Supplemental Motion to Dismiss on January 30, 2020. After briefing, the Court 28

1 entered an Order Granting Motion to Dismiss on March 20, 2020, dismissing five of 2 Plaintiffs' claims.

3 RTC filed its Answer To Amended Complaint on March 23, 2020, triggering 4 Plaintiffs' obligation to comply NRCP 16.1 by holding a case conference within 30 days
5 after RTC's answer, by making their initial disclosures with 14 days following the case 6 conference, and by filing a case conference report within 30 days following the case 7 conference. None of those requirements were met, despite the Court reminding Plaintiffs 8 at the Case Management Conference in September 2020 that they must occur.

9 Instead, Plaintiffs did nothing. Their counsel did not attempt to schedule the case 10 conference until approximately a week after RTC filed the instant motion. In response, 11 the undersigned sent an email to Plaintiffs' counsel on January 26, 2021, attached as 12 Exhibit 2. The undersigned did not say "This case is over." Opposition at 3:5. RTC's 13 counsel simply informed Plaintiffs' counsel that his attempt to schedule the early case 14 conference was "too late." Exhibit 2.

15 Yet Plaintiffs seek to be excused from their failures by blaming the parties' 16 stipulation for early discovery and their counsel's health problems, which has been an 17 issue since this case was commenced. While RTC has sympathy for Plaintiffs' counsel, 18 neither excuse is sufficient to avoid the dismissal of this case and other appropriate 19 sanctions, including attorney fees for having to bring this motion.

20 II. LAW AND ARGUMENT

21 A. The parties' agreement to conduct early discovery does not excuse 22 Plaintiffs' failure to comply with NRCP 16.1.

23 Plaintiffs spend the bulk of their brief blaming their failure to hold an NRCP 16.1 24 case conference (and consequent failure to file a case conference report) on the parties' 25 agreement to conduct early discovery. Plaintiffs inaccurately assert that the agreement:
26 (1) precluded them from conducting statutory discovery (Opposition at 2:7); (2) 27 "circumvented and emasculated the statutory provisions of Rule 16.1 and related pre-trial 28 protocols" (Id. at 2:13-15); (3) provided RTC all the benefits of the 16.1 conference,

1 disclosures and case conference report (Id. at 2:16-24); (4) “significantly interfered with 2 and undeniably wreaked havoc on any and all Rule-provided dates now sought to be 3 enforced by RTC.” (Id. at 3:21-23); and (5) caused Plaintiffs prejudice for “many months” 4 because “RTC was solely and exclusively conducting non-compliant protocols.”
5 (Opposition at 3:23-24).

6 Plaintiffs’ proffered excuse is absurd. First, NRCP 26(a) states that the Court may 7 permit discovery at a time other than after the filing of a case conference report. In this 8 case, based on Plaintiffs’ complaint, RTC had legitimate concerns about their ages and 9 health status. Given the fact that RTC filed successive motions to dismiss, early discovery 10 was appropriate because the NRCP 16.1 conference and case conference report would be 11 delayed by those motions. Second, there is no evidence that the right to conduct early 12 discovery was unilateral—in fact, the stipulation for early discovery filed on October 30, 13 2019 provides that “the parties may conduct discovery prior to holding the NRCP 16.1 14 Conference...” (emphasis added). The stipulation, granted by the Court, was expressly 15 agreed to by Plaintiffs and allowed them to also conduct discovery.

16 Third, RTC did not receive the benefits of NRCP 16.1. There were no witness 17 disclosures, extremely minimal documents produced and, significantly, no damages 18 computation. RTC still has no idea what damages Plaintiffs claim in this case. Fourth, 19 there is no evidence that the stipulation for early discovery “wreaked havoc” on the 20 requirements of NRCP 16.1. Upon RTC filing its answer, Plaintiffs could have scheduled 21 the early case conference but never did—even after the Court essentially directed them to 22 do so at the Case Management Conference—despite the ease with which such conferences 23 can be conducted (via phone, Zoom, etc.). Fifth, there is no evidence of prejudice to 24 Plaintiffs. Even if there were, any such prejudice is of their own doing.

25 This case should be dismissed and RTC should be awarded expenses. Plaintiffs’ 26 attempt to blame their delay on the agreement for early mutual discovery is simply 27 unpersuasive.

28 ///

1 B. Counsel's health issues do not excuse Plaintiffs' failure to comply with 2 NRCP 16.1.

3 As a backup excuse, Plaintiffs again cite to the health issues of their counsel. As 4 discussed above, RTC and its counsel certainly wish Plaintiffs' counsel good health and 5 sympathize with his ongoing problems. However, as stated in Plaintiffs' Motion For 6 Extension Of Time filed on July 22, 2019, these health problems have been ongoing since 7 the case was filed. Plaintiffs offered this same excuse in response their Opposition to 8 Defendant's Motion for Sanctions filed on May 14, 2020. Most recently, they offer this 9 excuse in opposition to the instant motion. Yet despite these health issues, counsel was 10 able to oppose RTC's two motions to dismiss, file an amended complaint, oppose RTC's 11 motions for sanctions and claimed expenses, defend Plaintiffs' depositions taken on July 12 30, 2020, participate in a trial setting and Case Management Conference in September 13 2020, and negotiate a stipulated Scheduling Order in October 2020.

14 However, between October 8, 2020 and the filing of the instant motion, the 15 undersigned received no communication whatsoever from Plaintiffs' counsel, not even to 16 advise of the alleged facts set forth in the opposition brief. Even after RTC's motion was 17 filed, Plaintiffs' counsel simply called and asked to schedule the 16.1 conference, without 18 offering any detail about his health issues. As discussed above, the undersigned explained 19 that it was "too late," not that "This case is over." See Exhibit 2; Opposition at 3:5.

20 At some point, if his health issues were truly debilitating, counsel should have 21 assigned this case to another attorney. There are more than two qualified attorneys in 22 Reno. RTC has the right to have the rules of procedure enforced so as to secure the 23 speedy and inexpensive determination of this lawsuit. NRCP 1. Due to Plaintiffs' 24 conduct, this lawsuit has been neither inexpensive nor has it resolved quickly or 25 efficiently. While certain delays are understandable, the health issues of Plaintiffs' 26 counsel cannot continually be used as a reason to delay the resolution of this lawsuit to 27 RTC's detriment.

28 ///

1 C. RTC has been severely prejudiced by Plaintiffs' failure to comply with
2 NRCP 16.1.

3 Plaintiffs assert “there is no prejudice to [RTC]” as a result of any delay but that 4 they will suffer great prejudice if this case is dismissed because the statute of limitations 5 may have expired on their claims. However, Plaintiffs knew of this risk back in July 6 2019, when they asked the Court for more time to serve RTC under NRCP 4. Plaintiffs 7 cannot continue to ignore deadlines and avoid dismissal solely because their claims may 8 be time barred.

9 As for prejudice to RTC, the Nevada Supreme Court has held that the party 10 seeking dismissal under NRCP 16.1(e) is not required to demonstrate prejudice. Arnold v.
11 Kip, 123 Nev. 410, 415, 168 P.3d 1050, 1053 (2007). Nevertheless, contrary to Plaintiffs’ 12 assertion, RTC is significantly prejudiced by their failure to comply with NRCP 16.1. As 13 discussed in RTC’s Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From Offering Documents 14 Not Produced To RTC On Or Before June 30, 2020 filed on July 21, 2020 (and which was 15 granted on August 19, 2020), Plaintiffs have produced only about 15 pages of documents 16 in this case, none of which shed any light on their claims in this case and, in particular, 17 their claimed damages. See Exhibits 1 and 2 to RTC’s motion in limine. Plaintiffs have 18 never provided a computation of damages and, therefore, RTC has been unable to 19 evaluate their claims or have an expert analyze their claims. They have never provided a 20 list of witnesses so that RTC can inquire of individuals that may have information.

21 The expert deadline is tomorrow, and RTC has almost no information to provide 22 an expert to evaluate Plaintiffs’ claims and damages. There is significant prejudice to 23 RTC and RTC requests that this case be dismissed and that appropriate monetary 24 sanctions imposed to compensate RTC.

25 III. CONCLUSION

26 This case should be dismissed pursuant to NRCP 16.1(e). Plaintiffs have failed to 27 hold an early case conference within 180 days after RTC’s answer and also have failed to 28 file a case conference report within 240 days after RTC’s answer. Plaintiffs’ opposition

1 lacks merit and evidentiary support. RTC should also be awarded monetary sanctions in 2 having to bring this motion.

3 Affirmation pursuant to NRS 239B.030

4 The undersigned does hereby affirm that the preceding document does not contain

1 the heavy equipment being put on there, multiple vehicles,
2 occurred after the condemnation took place?

3 A Yes, primarily, yeah. Different attitude
4 altogether.

5 Q I'm sorry?

6 A Different attitude of all these other of everyone
7 concerned.

8 Q Okay. But it sounds like the, the trespass that 9 you are really complaining about in this case began after 10 RTC condemned the portion of the property for the easements; 11 is that right?

12 A That's primarily right. Of course I mentioned the 13 other factors, but that's primary, yes.

14 Q Okay. And you mentioned that there were multiple 15 big trucks, multiple attempts to ask them why they were on 16 the property. You tried to get ahold of Lee Gibson and that 17 you believe that the heavy equipment should have been placed 18 on Park Street. Is that kind of a fair summary?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. Whose trucks were parked on your property
21 during, during that time?

22 A I'm going to assume it's somebody associated with 23 you. They were not associated with me.

24 Q You mean associated with RTC?

25 A That's correct. They were doing RTC work.

1 Q Okay. Did you see any indications on the trucks
2 as to who they belonged to?

3 A Why would I do that? No.

4 Q I'm just asking you if you saw them?

5 A No. I apologize, no.

6 Q Okay. And do you know who you spoke with 7 regarding your request to ask them why they are on the 8 property?

9 A No. You couldn't get a straight answer from 10 anybody. I'm not about to ask a name who wouldn't give me a 11 straight answer as to what is going on.

12 Q Okay. So you don't know --

13 A Excuse me, I have got a bad cold.

14 Q Are you ready?

15 A Yes. Thank you.

16 Q Okay. You don't know whose trucks they were 17 necessarily or which employees you spoke with of any 18 particular entity?

19 A I was hoping you knew that. I certainly didn't.

20 Q Well, unfortunately, I wasn't, I wasn't there at 21 the time.

22 A You know, as a guy to another guy, this is -- I 23 certainly wouldn't know and this is your company or your 24 representation. I don't know.

25 Q Okay. Well, you understood that, that while RTC

1 record.

2 A Okay.

3 Q "The Trust and RTC entered into a valid agreement
4 by which RTC was entitled to condemn and install utilities
5 on a very small portion of the Trust property and the Trust 6 received consideration for such right."

7 Is that the, the condemnation action that you were 8 talking about from a couple years ago?

9 A It's the condemnation which happened in Judge 10 Polaha's court condemned --

11 Q Okay.

12 A -- the property on the corner of Fourth and Park.

13 Q Okay. And so that was the, the lawsuit that was 14 in front of Judge Polaha that was ultimately resolved. And 15 are you alleging that there are any other contracts between 16 RTC and the Trust?

17 MR. MORRISON: I'm going to object. It calls for 18 a legal conclusion.

19 BY MR. ANDERSON:

20 Q You can answer.

21 A I don't understand the question.

22 Q Okay. Other than the condemnation action before
23 Judge Polaha, which you just talked about, are there any 24 other contracts between RTC and yourself as trustee of the 25 Trust?

1 A We got to go back this way, Honey. Page 14.

2 Okay. Mr. Anderson, I have it.

3 Q Thank you. This is a cause of action for civil 4 conspiracy, and I'm not going to ask you about the 5 legalities of it, but I will represent to you that paragraph 6 69 suggests that RTC entered into an agreement with other 7 parties to carry out the unlawful purpose of damaging your 8 property. Do you have an understanding that that's what 9 that means?

10 A To me that means that RTC executives didn't come
11 out and do the work. They engaged somebody else to do it.
12 And they, when they engaged them, they were responsible for 13 the people they retained.

14 Q Okay. Do you have any information that RTC
15 entered into an agreement with third parties to cause damage
16 to your property?

17 A No. I know RTC condemned me.

18 Q Okay. So you don't have that information then?

19 A No, but the final word was that you condemned me
20 and were responsible for what you condemned.

21 Q Other than -- I just want to make sure we've 22 talked about everything, because I'm almost done and I don't 23 want to make, I don't want to have missed anything. We 24 talked about the efforts you made to speak with employees or

1 that they were waiting for and requiring for what they were 2 doing.

3 So I did not approach people. I was not
4 comfortable with that. These people were working at a job
5 and it was not, it was not something that was comfortable
6 for me to do.

7 Q Okay. When you say these people and these trucks,
8 whom are you referring to?

9 A I'm not sure I understand your question. These 10 were construction people working on the RTC project. There 11 was a great deal of equipment that was required apparently 12 and they had this, these pieces of equipment on our property
13 and in the street.

14 Q And those pieces of machinery or trucks, did they 15 have any specific markings that would indicate ownership of 16 those trucks?

17 A I would assume they did.

18 Q Well, did you see specifically any markings or 19 colors or names that would indicate who those construction 20 workers were?

21 A I was not looking for that.

22 Q So the trucks you can't conclusively say were RTC
23 trucks, for example?

24 A They were working on the RTC project, that's all I 25 can tell you. They were working for RTC in some capacity.

1 physical impediment?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q And that physical impediment was a construction
4 truck, a truck or some other --

5 A An obstacle, yes, an obstacle.

6 Q And you cannot recall any markings or names on 7 those trucks that would indicate ownership?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q And of the construction workers, is there anything 10 that you can recall distinctive about their uniform or 11 colors that may indicate --

12 A No.

13 Q -- by whom they were employed?

14 A No, no, I don't have any recollection of that.

15 Q And I believe you testified that the only access 16 to the property at 4 -- sorry.

17 A 642.

18 Q 642 is off Park Street; is that correct?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q I'm going to ask you to turn to paragraph 21 of 21 Exhibit 3. It's on page 6. And the second sentence says, 22 "The Trust and RTC entered into a valid agreement."

23 Do you see that?

24 A Yes, I see that.

25 Q What is your understanding of what that valid

1 A Absolutely not.

2 Q Are you aware of any agreement between RTC and any 3 third party, not the trust or yourselves or any member of 4 the Iliescu family, but an agreement between RTC and any 5 other third party to use your property on Fourth Street?

6 A I'm not aware of anything.

18 THE REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION
19 COMMISSION OF WASHOE COUNTY;
20 ROE CORPORATIONS 1-20; and DOES 1 – 40, inclusive,

21 Defendants.

22 MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

23 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”)
24 moves the Court for summary judgment pursuant to NRCPC 56 on the grounds that there 25 are no genuine issues of material fact and that RTC is entitled to judgment as a matter of 26 law. This motion is based on the following points and authorities, excerpts of the 27 depositions of John Iliescu and Sonnia Iliescu attached as Exhibits 1 and 2, and the entire 28 file in this matter.

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Plaintiffs filed this action seeking damages and other relief arising from RTC's 3 alleged "willful, malicious and destructive trespass" on Plaintiffs' property at 642 E. 4th 4 Street in Reno. See First Amended Complaint, ¶¶ 1, 9. Plaintiffs initially filed twelve 5 (12) claims for relief but, after RTC filed successive motions to dismiss, only six claims 6 remain: (1) breach of contract; (2) contractual breach of the implied covenant of good 7 faith and fair dealing; (3) declaratory relief; (4) trespass; (5) civil conspiracy; (6) 8 negligence. Plaintiffs also stipulated to the dismissal of any claim for damages other than 9 compensatory damages specifically related to their parking lot and punitive damages. See 10 Order Granting Stipulation For Entry Of Order Dismissing Certain Of Plaintiffs' Claims 11 For Relief And Damages With Prejudice filed on December 10, 2019.

12 At its core, Plaintiffs' claim is for damages to their parking lot arising from RTC's 13 alleged unauthorized use of the property. However, Defendants have produced no 14 evidence of those claimed damages and failed to timely serve an expert report establishing 15 the same.

16 II. STATEMENT OF FACTS NOT GENUINELY AT ISSUE

17 1. Plaintiffs have produced no computation of damages pursuant to NRCF 18 16.1(a)(1)(A)(iv).

19 2. Plaintiffs have produced no documents or other evidentiary material to 20 establish the amount of damages they seek.

21 3. Plaintiffs failed to timely disclose an expert witness by the deadline to 22 disclose initial experts (and reports), February 29, 2021.

23 4. Plaintiffs do not know whose trucks were parked on their property.
24 Deposition of John Iliescu, 34:20-35:3; Deposition of Sonnia Iliescu at 19:14-25; 30:6-14.

25 5. The "RTC-Trust agreement" upon which Plaintiffs base their claims for 26 breach of contract and breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing is not 27 a contract, but rather the judgment of condemnation entered by the Court in a separate 28

1 lawsuit RTC filed in 2016 to obtain certain limited easements on Plaintiffs' property.
2 Deposition of John Iliescu at 63:3-12.

3 6. There is no agreement between RTC and any third party to cause damage to 4 Plaintiffs' property. Deposition of John Iliescu at 69:14-17; Deposition of Sonnia Iliescu 5 at 39:2-6.

6 III. LAW AND ARGUMENT

7 A. Legal standard

8 Summary judgment is appropriate and "shall be rendered forthwith" when the 9 pleadings and other evidence on file demonstrate that no "genuine issue as to any material 10 fact [remains] and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law." 11 Wood v. Safeway, Inc., 121 Nev. 724, 729, 121 P.3d 1026, 1029 (2005). "A factual 12 dispute is genuine when the evidence is such that a rational trier of fact could return a 13 verdict for the nonmoving party." Id. The nonmoving party must, by affidavit or 14 otherwise, set forth specific facts demonstrating the existence of a genuine issue for trial 15 or have summary judgment entered against them—they are not entitled to build a case on 16 speculation and conjecture. Id., 121 Nev. at 732, 121 P.3d at 1031.

17 B. There is no evidence of Plaintiffs' damages.

18 As set forth in prior briefing, Plaintiffs never provided a computation of damages 19 pursuant to NRCP 16.1(a)(1)(A)(iv), nor did they produce any documents evidencing their 20 claimed damages. Plaintiffs also did not timely disclose an expert witness—the deadline 21 for doing so was February 26, 2021. See Order Granting Stipulated Scheduling Order 22 filed on October 12, 2020. The only documents Plaintiffs have produced are attached to 23 RTC's Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From Offering Documents Not Produced 24 To RTC On Or Before June 30, 2020, which was filed on July 21, 2020 and granted on 25 August 19, 2020. None of those documents create a genuine issue of material fact as to 26 Plaintiffs' claimed damages in this case.

27 Because there is no admissible evidence of Plaintiffs' claimed damages, RTC is 28 entitled to summary judgment on all of Plaintiffs' claims.

1 C. Plaintiffs' contract-based claims fail.

2 Plaintiffs assert claims for breach of contract and breach of the implied covenant of 3 good faith and fair dealing. Both claims are based on an alleged contract Plaintiffs refer 4 to as “the RTC-Trust agreement.” See First Amended Complaint at ¶¶ 21, 47. Plaintiffs 5 allege that, pursuant to this contract, “RTC was entitled to condemn and install utilities on 6 a very small portion of the Trust’s Property, and the Trust received consideration for such 7 right.” Id., at ¶ 21. When deposed, Dr. Iliescu testified that the “RTC-Trust agreement” 8 that is the basis of these claims is the Court’s judgment in the condemnation action 9 previously litigated between RTC and Plaintiffs in 2016-2018. See Deposition of John 10 Iliescu at 63:3-12.

11 That action, Case No. CV16-02182 in Department 3 of this Court (“the 12 Condemnation Action”), involved RTC exercising its power of eminent domain to acquire 13 a permanent easement, public utility easement and temporary construction easement at the 14 northeast corner of Plaintiffs’ property. On April 26, 2018, the Court entered a Final 15 Order of Condemnation And Judgment pursuant to the stipulation of the parties, 16 condemning the limited easements in favor of RTC in exchange for RTC’s payment of 17 $11,065 in just compensation to the Iliescus.

18 Thus, neither the parties’ stipulation for judgment nor the judgment itself in the 19 Condemnation Action address what Plaintiffs call “the Remainder Property” that is the 20 subject of their alleged damages in this case. “Basic contract principles require, for an 21 enforceable contract, an offer and acceptance, meeting of the minds and consideration.”
22 Certified Fire Prot. Inc. v. Precision Construction, Inc., 128 Nev. 371, 378, 283 P.3d 250, 23 255 (2012). “A meeting of the minds exists when the parties have agreed upon the 24 contract’s essential terms.” Id.

25 Here, there is no evidence of an offer and acceptance between RTC and Plaintiffs 26 with respect to the Remainder Property, nor is there any evidence of a “meeting of the 27 minds” as to the Remainder Property. The Court’s judgment in the Condemnation Action 28

1 is not a contract between the parties with respect to the Remainder Property. It dealt only 2 with RTC's acquisition of the limited easements described above.

3 There was no contract formed between RTC and Plaintiffs with respect to the 4 Remainder Property and therefore Plaintiffs cannot, as a matter of law, assert a claim for 5 breach of contract or breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.
6 Further, even if a contract did exist, a plaintiff asserting a claim for breach of contract 7 (and breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing) must prove damages as 8 a result of the breach. As discussed above, there is no admissible evidence of Plaintiffs' 9 alleged damages.

10 There are no genuine issues of material fact as to Plaintiffs' claims for breach of 11 contract and breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, and RTC is 12 entitled to judgment as a matter of law on these claims.

13 D. Plaintiffs' trespass claim fails.

14 To prove trespass, the claimant must show that the defendant invaded the 15 claimant's real property. Lied v. County of Clark, 94 Nev. 275, 279, 579 P.2d 171, 173-
16 174 (1978). The invasion must result in damages. Wallace v. Lewis County, 134 17 Wash.App. 1, 137 P.3d 101, 108 (Wash. Ct. App. 2006). As discussed above, there is no 18 evidence of Plaintiffs' damages arising from the alleged trespass, so Plaintiffs' claim fails 19 on that basis alone.

20 Further, there is no evidence that RTC "invaded" Plaintiffs' property or that RTC 21 directed any other party to do so. Plaintiffs admit they do not know whose trucks were on 22 their property. See Deposition of John Iliescu at 35:1-19; Deposition of Sonnia Iliescu at 23 19:14-25; 30:6-14. Plaintiffs have failed to name any third parties as defendants despite 24 having more than enough time to conduct discovery on this issue. Therefore, RTC is 25 entitled to judgment as a matter of law on Plaintiffs' trespass claim.

26 E. Plaintiffs' civil conspiracy claim fails.

27 The Court previously denied RTC's motion to dismiss Plaintiffs' claim for civil 28 conspiracy, stating that the pre-trial resolution of this claim can only be considered

1 through a motion for summary judgment after appropriate discovery is conducted. See 2 Order Granting Motion To Dismiss filed March 20, 2021 at 2:4-7.

3 A civil conspiracy claim exists when a combination of two or more persons who,
4 by some concerted action, intend to accomplish some unlawful objective for the purpose
5 of harming another and resulting in damages. Collins v. United Fed. Sav. & Loan Ass'n, 6 99 Nev. 284, 303, 662 P.2d 610, 622 (1983). As discussed above, there is no evidence of 7 Plaintiffs' alleged damages and Plaintiffs failed to timely serve an expert report to 8 establish the damages to their parking lot. Plaintiffs' civil conspiracy claim fails for other 9 reasons as well.

10 To succeed on a civil conspiracy claim, a plaintiff must prove both an agreement 11 between tortfeasors and that the conduct of each defendant is tortious. GES, Inc. v.
12 Corbitt, 117 Nev. 265, 271, 21 P.3d 11, 15 (2001). Plaintiffs admit they have no evidence 13 that RTC entered into an agreement with third parties to cause damage to their property.
14 See Deposition of John Iliescu at 69:3-12; Deposition of Sonnia Iliescu at 39:2-6. In 15 addition to the absence of evidence of any agreement, there is no evidence that RTC 16 engaged in any tortious conduct. Plaintiffs admit they do not know whose trucks were on 17 their property. See Deposition of John Iliescu at 35:1-19; Deposition of Sonnia Iliescu at 18 19:14-25; 30:6-14.

19 Plaintiffs have no evidence of an agreement, no identification of any third-party 20 co-conspirator, no evidence of tortious conduct by RTC and no evidence of any damages.
21 As such, RTC is entitled to summary judgment on Plaintiffs' claim for civil conspiracy.

22 F. Plaintiffs' negligence claim fails.

23 To establish a negligence claim, a plaintiff must demonstrate: (1) that defendant 24 owed plaintiff a duty of care; (2) that defendant breached that duty; (3) the breach was the 25 legal cause of plaintiff's injuries; and (4) plaintiff sustained damages. Scialabba v.
26 Brandise Construction Co., 112 Nev. 965, 921 P.2d 928 (1996). Here, there is no duty 27 that RTC breached any duty of care to Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs admit they do not know whose 28 trucks were on their property. See Deposition of John Iliescu at 35:1-19; Deposition of 1 Sonnia Iliescu at 19:14-25; 30:6-14. There is no evidence that RTC directed or allowed 2 any trucks to park on Plaintiffs' property, and therefore no evidence that RTC breached 3 any duty it owed to Plaintiffs.

4 Further, as discussed above, there is no evidence of Plaintiffs' damages. "The 5 plaintiff has the burden to prove the amount of damages it is seeking. Clark County 6 School Dist. v. Richardson Const., 123 Nev. 382, 397, 168 P.3d 87, 97 (2007). "Although 7 the amount of damages need not be proven with mathematical certainty, testimony on the 8 amount may not be speculative." Id. Here, Plaintiffs have provided no damages 9 computation and no evidence whatsoever of the amount of damages they are seeking. It is 10 too late for them to designate an expert to provide evidence of the amount of damages, 11 and therefore RTC is entitled to judgment as a matter of law on Plaintiffs' negligence 12 claims.

13 G. Plaintiffs' declaratory relief claim fails.

14 Plaintiffs seek a declaration that (1) RTC failed to perform under the "RTC-Trust 15 agreement" or its "condemnation activities"; (2) Plaintiffs are the sole and exclusive 16 owners of their "Property" at 642 E. 4th St. in Reno; (3) RTC has no right, title or interest 17 in the Property and no right to use the Property; (4) RTC "knowingly and wrongfully used 18 the Remaining Property" without paying compensation to Plaintiffs; and (5) RTC 19 wrongfully parked its vehicles on the Remaining Property, causing extensive damage in 20 callous disregard of the law. See First Amended Complaint, ¶ 49(a)-(e).

21 First, there is no "RTC-Trust agreement" or any other contract between RTC and 22 Plaintiffs and any issue involving RTC's "condemnation activities" has already been 23 adjudicated in the Condemnation Action. Second, while Plaintiffs own "the Property," 24 they own it subject to RTC's valid and existing easements as established by way of the 25 Condemnation Action. Third, RTC has the rights, title and interest in the easements on 26 the Property acquired by way of the Condemnation Action and for which Plaintiffs 27 received just compensation. Fourth, there is no evidence that RTC used the Remaining 28 Property, as Plaintiffs admit they do not know whose trucks were on the Remaining

1 Property. Finally, there is no evidence of Plaintiffs' damages and no evidence that RTC 2 "callously disregarded" the law.

3 There is no evidence to support Plaintiffs' claim for declaratory relief. RTC is 4 entitled to judgment as a matter of law.

5 IV. CONCLUSION

6 There are no genuine issues of material fact as to any of Plaintiffs' claims, and 7 RTC is entitled to judgment as a matter of law on all claims.

8 Affirmation pursuant to NRS 239B.030

1 the heavy equipment being put on there, multiple vehicles,
2 occurred after the condemnation took place?

3 A Yes, primarily, yeah. Different attitude
4 altogether.

5 Q I'm sorry?

6 A Different attitude of all these other of everyone
7 concerned.

8 Q Okay. But it sounds like the, the trespass that 9 you are really complaining about in this case began after 10 RTC condemned the portion of the property for the easements; 11 is that right?

12 A That's primarily right. Of course I mentioned the 13 other factors, but that's primary, yes.

14 Q Okay. And you mentioned that there were multiple 15 big trucks, multiple attempts to ask them why they were on 16 the property. You tried to get ahold of Lee Gibson and that 17 you believe that the heavy equipment should have been placed 18 on Park Street. Is that kind of a fair summary?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. Whose trucks were parked on your property
21 during, during that time?

22 A I'm going to assume it's somebody associated with 23 you. They were not associated with me.

24 Q You mean associated with RTC?

25 A That's correct. They were doing RTC work.

1 Q Okay. Did you see any indications on the trucks
2 as to who they belonged to?

3 A Why would I do that? No.

4 Q I'm just asking you if you saw them?

5 A No. I apologize, no.

6 Q Okay. And do you know who you spoke with 7 regarding your request to ask them why they are on the 8 property?

9 A No. You couldn't get a straight answer from 10 anybody. I'm not about to ask a name who wouldn't give me a 11 straight answer as to what is going on.

12 Q Okay. So you don't know --

13 A Excuse me, I have got a bad cold.

14 Q Are you ready?

15 A Yes. Thank you.

16 Q Okay. You don't know whose trucks they were 17 necessarily or which employees you spoke with of any 18 particular entity?

19 A I was hoping you knew that. I certainly didn't.

20 Q Well, unfortunately, I wasn't, I wasn't there at 21 the time.

22 A You know, as a guy to another guy, this is -- I 23 certainly wouldn't know and this is your company or your 24 representation. I don't know.

25 Q Okay. Well, you understood that, that while RTC

1 record.

2 A Okay.

3 Q "The Trust and RTC entered into a valid agreement
4 by which RTC was entitled to condemn and install utilities
5 on a very small portion of the Trust property and the Trust
6 received consideration for such right."

7 Is that the, the condemnation action that you were 8 talking about from a couple years ago?

9 A It's the condemnation which happened in Judge 10 Polaha's court condemned --

11 Q Okay.

12 A -- the property on the corner of Fourth and Park.

13 Q Okay. And so that was the, the lawsuit that was 14 in front of Judge Polaha that was ultimately resolved. And 15 are you alleging that there are any other contracts between 16 RTC and the Trust?

17 MR. MORRISON: I'm going to object. It calls for 18 a legal conclusion.

19 BY MR. ANDERSON:

20 Q You can answer.

21 A I don't understand the question.

22 Q Okay. Other than the condemnation action before
23 Judge Polaha, which you just talked about, are there any 24 other contracts between RTC and yourself as trustee of the 25 Trust?

1 A We got to go back this way, Honey. Page 14.

2 Okay. Mr. Anderson, I have it.

3 Q Thank you. This is a cause of action for civil 4 conspiracy, and I'm not going to ask you about the 5 legalities of it, but I will represent to you that paragraph 6 69 suggests that RTC entered into an agreement with other 7 parties to carry out the unlawful purpose of damaging your 8 property. Do you have an understanding that that's what 9 that means?

10 A To me that means that RTC executives didn't come
11 out and do the work. They engaged somebody else to do it.
12 And they, when they engaged them, they were responsible for 13 the people they retained.

14 Q Okay. Do you have any information that RTC
15 entered into an agreement with third parties to cause damage
16 to your property?

17 A No. I know RTC condemned me.

18 Q Okay. So you don't have that information then?

19 A No, but the final word was that you condemned me
20 and were responsible for what you condemned.

21 Q Other than -- I just want to make sure we've 22 talked about everything, because I'm almost done and I don't 23 want to make, I don't want to have missed anything. We 24 talked about the efforts you made to speak with employees or

2 doing.

3 So I did not approach people. I was not
4 comfortable with that. These people were working at a job
5 and it was not, it was not something that was comfortable
6 for me to do.

7 Q Okay. When you say these people and these trucks,
8 whom are you referring to?

9 A I'm not sure I understand your question. These 10 were construction people working on the RTC project. There 11 was a great deal of equipment that was required apparently 12 and they had this, these pieces of equipment on our property
13 and in the street.

14 Q And those pieces of machinery or trucks, did they 15 have any specific markings that would indicate ownership of 16 those trucks?

17 A I would assume they did.

18 Q Well, did you see specifically any markings or 19 colors or names that would indicate who those construction 20 workers were?

21 A I was not looking for that.

22 Q So the trucks you can't conclusively say were RTC
23 trucks, for example?

24 A They were working on the RTC project, that's all I
25 can tell you. They were working for RTC in some capacity.

1 physical impediment?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q And that physical impediment was a construction
4 truck, a truck or some other --

5 A An obstacle, yes, an obstacle.

6 Q And you cannot recall any markings or names on 7 those trucks that would indicate ownership?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q And of the construction workers, is there anything 10 that you can recall distinctive about their uniform or 11 colors that may indicate --

12 A No.

13 Q -- by whom they were employed?

14 A No, no, I don't have any recollection of that.

15 Q And I believe you testified that the only access 16 to the property at 4 -- sorry.

17 A 642.

18 Q 642 is off Park Street; is that correct?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q I'm going to ask you to turn to paragraph 21 of 21 Exhibit 3. It's on page 6. And the second sentence says, 22 "The Trust and RTC entered into a valid agreement."

23 Do you see that?

24 A Yes, I see that.

25 Q What is your understanding of what that valid

22 MOTION IN LIMINE TO PRECLUDE PLAINTIFFS FROM PRESENTING 23 EVIDENCE PURSUANT TO NRS 50.275, 50.285 AND 50.305

24 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”)
25 moves this Court pursuant to the authorities cited herein for an order precluding Plaintiffs 26 from offering evidence at trial pursuant to NRS 50.275, 50.285 and 50.305. This motion is 27 supported by the following memorandum of points and authorities and all other pleadings and 28 papers on file in this matter.

1 This action involves an alleged trespass on Plaintiffs' property at 642 E. 4th Street
2 in Reno. Plaintiffs claim their parking lot has been damaged by the alleged trespass but 3 have provided no evidence of the amount of damages they claim, including failing to 4 timely disclose an expert witness to opine as to the cost to repair the alleged damage.

5 NRCP 16.1(a)(2) is clear. Witnesses who will give testimony pursuant to NRS
6 50.275, 50.285 and 50.305 must be timely disclosed. The Scheduling Order imposed a 7 deadline of February 29, 2021 for the parties to disclose initial experts. Plaintiffs bear the 8 burden of proof in this case but failed to timely disclose an expert witness. Therefore, 9 Plaintiffs should be precluded from offering any evidence pursuant to NRS 50.275, 10 50.285 and 50.385 in this case.

11 The purpose of a motion in limine is to determine the admissibility of evidence at 12 the outset of trial. Luce v. United States, 469 U.S. 38, 40 n. 2, 105 S. Ct. 460, 462 n.2 13 (1984); see also Born v. Eisenman, 114 Nev. 854, 962 P.2d 1227 (1998). Motions in 14 limine are a simple and useful tool available to attorneys for the protection of their trial
15 evidence. Bridges v. City of Richardson, 354 S.W. 2d 366 (1962). Furthermore, pretrial 16 motions are useful tools to resolve issues which would otherwise "clutter up" the trial..."
17 Palmerin v. City of Riverside, 794 F.2d 1409, 1413 (9th Cir. 1986).

18 Such motions are brought to suppress evidence which is either not competent or is 19 improper. In Nevada, it has been held that the "trial court is vested with broad discretion 20 in determining the admissibility of evidence." State ex rel. Dept. of Highways v. Nevada
21 Aggregates & Asphalt Co., 92 Nev. 370, 376, 551 P.2d 1095, 1098 (1976). "The exercise 22 of such discretion will not be interfered with on appeal in the absence of a showing of 23 palpable abuse." Id.

24 Here, Plaintiffs failed to timely disclose an expert witness. Therefore, Plaintiffs 25 should be precluded from offering any evidence pursuant to NRS 50.275, 50.285 and 26 50.385 in this case.

13 (1984); see also Born v. Eisenman, 114 Nev. 854, 962 P.2d 1227 (1998). Motions in 14 limine are a simple and useful tool available to attorneys for the protection of their trial
15 evidence. Bridges v. City of Richardson, 354 S.W. 2d 366 (1962). Furthermore, pretrial 16 motions are useful tools to resolve issues which would otherwise "clutter up" the trial..."
17 Palmerin v. City of Riverside, 794 F.2d 1409, 1413 (9th Cir. 1986).

18 Such motions are brought to suppress evidence which is either not competent or is 19 improper. In Nevada, it has been held that the "trial court is vested with broad discretion 20 in determining the admissibility of evidence." State ex rel. Dept. of Highways v. Nevada
21 Aggregates & Asphalt Co., 92 Nev. 370, 376, 551 P.2d 1095, 1098 (1976). "The exercise 22 of such discretion will not be interfered with on appeal in the absence of a showing of 23 palpable abuse." Id.

24 Here, Plaintiffs failed to timely disclose an expert witness. Therefore, Plaintiffs 25 should be precluded from offering any evidence pursuant to NRS 50.275, 50.285 and 26 50.385 in this case.

Hi Shannon,

I am available on May 26 at 3:00 p.m. for a status hearing, which I assume will take no more than an hour. I have a 4:00 p.m. status hearing on another matter (I believe that is also in D15).

ORDER DENYING MOTION FOR SANCTIONS

Before this Court is Defendant RTC's opposed motion for sanctions pursuant to NRCP 16.1(e), for failure to participate in pretrial procedures. This Court may dismiss a case without prejudice if the 16.1(b) conference is not conducted within 180 days of the filing of the first answer or if a case conference report is not filed within 240 days of the answer. NRCP 16.1(e)(1)-(2); see also Arnold v. Kip, 123 Nev. 410, 168 P.3d 1050 (2007).

Here, Plaintiffs failed to conduct a NRCP 16(b) conference and failed to file a case conference report within the time prescribed by NRCP 16.1. While dismissal for

1 noncompliance is discretionary, Plaintiffs' failure should be contextualized with the 2 parties' stipulated start to discovery, the Covid-19 pandemic, and the health problems of 3 Plaintiffs' counsel. Thus, this Court denies dismissal as a sanction at this time. However, 4 no further failures to prosecute will be excused. Since this case was initiated in February 5 2019, Plaintiffs have repeatedly failed to prosecute their case, notwithstanding oppositions 6 to RTC's motion practice. It is time to return to procedural normalcy and move this case 7 forward.

8 Plaintiffs must conduct a Rule 16(b) conference within 30 days of this order, 9 consisting of meaningful exchanges of information. The parties shall appear before this 10 Court on April 27, 2021, at 2:00 p.m. via Zoom Webinar to show Plaintiffs' compliance 11 with this order or possible substitution of Plaintiffs' counsel.¹

DEPT. NO. 15

PLAINTIFFS' OPPOSITION TO
DEFENDANT'S MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

22 COME NOW JOHN ILIESCU, JR., AND SONNIA ILIESCU, TRUSTEES OF
23 THE JOHN ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA ILIESCU 1992 FAMILY TRUST; JOHN 24 ILIESCU, JR., individually; and SONNIA ILIESCUE, individually (collectively, "the 25 Iliescu Plaintiffs"), by and through their attorney, Michael J. Morrison, Esq., and 26 pursuant to NRCP 56(b), opposes the Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment, as 27 follows:
28

1 SUPPORTING POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. OVERVIEW

3 The Iliescu Plaintiffs have sued Defendant The Regional Transportation 4 Commission of Washoe County (“the RTC”) for, among other injuries, the damage the 5 RTC caused to the Iliescu’s property. See January 21, 2021, First Amended Complaint.
6 The Iliescu Plaintiffs own real property over which the RTC exercised eminent domain 7 for the construction of the Fourth Street/Prater RTC project (“the Project”). Id. at 2.
8 During construction on the Project, the RTC damaged the portion of the Iliescu’s 9 property over which the RTC did not exercise eminent domain, and specifically the 10 paved parking areas of the property that the RTC was not authorized to use. Id. at 3-4.
11 To that end, the RTC’s construction crew drove over and parked their vehicles, 12 including personal vehicles, ranging from approximately 20-ton trucks to pick-up 13 trucks, SUV’s and automobiles, on the Iliescu property, sometimes precluding Iliescu 14 Plaintiffs from using any portion of their property. Id. As a consequence, the Iliescu 15 Plaintiffs have asserted causes of action against the RTC for breach of contract, 16 contractual breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, declaratory 17 relief, trespass, civil conspiracy, and negligence. Id. They seek damages for the 18 damage to the property, the costs to restore the property, the loss of the property’s 19 market value, their loss of use of the property, and other related damages. Id. at 4-18.

20 The RTC has moved this Court for summary judgment in its favor, asserting that 21 there is no evidence of the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ damages, and that the Iliescu Plaintiffs 22 cannot maintain their contract, trespass, civil conspiracy, negligence, and declaratory 23 relief claims. The RTC generally asserts that there is insufficient evidence to support 24 the Iliescu Plaintiffs and each of their claims. The RTC’s motion, however, ignores 25 that discovery in this case has not yet closed, and is otherwise without merit.

1 II. SUMMARY JUDGMENT STANDARD

2 Rule 56(b) provides that “a party against whom a claim... is asserted may, at any 3 time, move with or without supporting affidavits for a summary judgment in his favor 4 as to all or any part thereof.” Summary judgment, however, may only be granted where 5 there are no genuine issues of disputed material fact and judgment can be rendered as a 6 matter of law. NRCP 56; Great Amer. Ins. Co. v. General Builders, Inc., 113 Nev. 346, 7 943 P.2d 257 (1997), citing, Butler v. Bogdanovich, 101 Nev. 449, 451, 705 P.2d 662, 8 663 (1985); Posadas v. City of Reno, 109 Nev. 448, 452, 851 P.2d 438, 441-42 (1993).
9 In considering a motion for summary judgment, this Court must accept all of the 10 nonmovant’s statements as true (Great Amer. Ins. Co., supra, citing Sawyer v.
11 Sugarless Shops, 106 Nev. 265, 267, 792 P.2d 14, 15 (1990)), and must accept all 12 reasonable inferences in favor of the nonmoving party (State, University and 13 Community College System v. Sutton, 120 Nev. 972, 103 P.3d 8, 13 (2004)).

14 Because the purpose of summary judgment is not to cut litigants off from their 15 right of trial where there are genuine issues to try (Short v. Hotel Riviera, 79 Nev. 94, 16 103, 378 P.2d 979 (1963)), summary judgment may not be used as a shortcut to resolve 17 disputes over material facts (Parman v. Petriccianni, 70 Nev. 427, 437, 272 P.2d 492 18 (1954)). Indeed, great caution must be exercised in granting summary judgment, which 19 is improper if there is any disputed issue as to the operative facts. Posadas v. City of 20 Reno, 109 Nev. 448, 452, 851 P.2d 438 (1993). In this case, the RTC’s motion for 21 summary judgment is not appropriate. Notwithstanding the deference to be afforded to 22 the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ assertions and evidence it has provided in this case in the context 23 of summary judgment, the May 28, 2021, discovery deadline stated in this Court’s 24 October 12, 2020, Order granting the parties’ stipulated scheduling order has not yet 25 lapsed. Moreover, this Court’s March 25, 2021, Order requiring counsel for the parties 26 to meet and engage in a meaningful exchange of information obviates the RTC’s 27 motion. Thus, there is no basis on which the RTC is entitled to summary judgment.

1 III. ARGUMENT AND DISCUSSION

2 The Iliescu Plaintiffs have produced evidence of their damages in this case, and 3 are entitled to further address their damages during discovery, which is ongoing, and 4 the meaningful exchange of information required by this Court. Because discovery is 5 ongoing and this Court has required an exchange of meaningful information in this 6 case, RTC is not entitled to summary judgment on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ contract-based 7 claims. The bases on which RTC seeks summary judgment on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ 8 trespass claim are misleading and ignore that the discovery process is still open. The 9 Iliescu Plaintiffs’ testimony regarding the vehicles that were parked on their property 10 and the evidence of the damage to the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ property by those vehicles 11 precludes summary judgment on their negligence claim. Finally, because the Iliescu 12 Plaintiffs’ testimony and the documents they have produced in this case raise questions 13 of material fact as to whether there is a justiciable controversy between the RTC and 14 the Iliescu Plaintiffs that is ripe for judicial determination, the RTC is not entitled to 15 summary judgment on their declaratory judgment claim. Thus, the RTC is not entitled 16 to summary judgment on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ claims.

17 18 A. The Iliescu Plaintiffs have provided evidence of their damages in this case, 19 and are entitled to further address their damages during discovery, which 20 is ongoing, and the meaningful exchange of information required by this 21 Court.

22 The RTC requests summary judgment on all of the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ claims 23 because the Iliescu Plaintiffs do not have evidence of the damages for which they seek 24 to be compensated in this case. The RTC asserts that the Iliescu Plaintiffs did not 25 provide a computation of damages or timely disclose an expert witness, and that the 26 documents they have produced in this case do not create a genuine issue of fact based 27 upon the RTC’s June 30, 2020, motion in limine and this Court’s August 19, 2020, 28 order on that motion. The RTC’s assertion, however, does not account for: (1) this Court’s October 12, 2020, Order granting the parties’ stipulated scheduling order,

1 which followed and, by its content, overrode the June and August 2020 motion and 2 order in limine; or (2) this Court’s March 25, 2021, Order, the spirit and intent of which 3 is for this case to meaningfully move forward in light of the stipulated scheduling order 4 and the context in which the Iliescu Plaintiffs and their counsel have struggled through 5 the Covid-19 pandemic.

6 Indeed, by its reference to the documents that the Iliescu Plaintiffs have 7 produced in this case, the RTC acknowledges that the Iliescu Plaintiffs have evidence 8 of their damages. That evidence was forwarded to counsel for the RTC on June 30, 9 2020. See June 20, 2020, emails from the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ counsel to counsel for the 10 RTC and the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ responses to the RTC’s request for production of 11 documents, Exhibit 1. The Iliescu Plaintiffs are also able to testify as to the damages 12 the RTC caused to their property. Discovery in this case does not close until May 28, 13 2021, and, as just noted, this Court has required the parties to meet and engage in “...
14 meaningful exchanges of information.” See March 25, 2021, Order Denying Motion 15 for Sanctions at 2:8-9. That directive, considered on its face and in the context of the 16 Order granting the parties’ stipulated scheduling order, is for the meaningful exchange 17 of evidence that will permit this case to move forward. Thus, the RTC is not entitled to 18 summary judgment on all of the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ claims in relation to the Iliescu 19 Plaintiffs’ evidence of their damages.

20 B. Because discovery is ongoing and this Court has required an exchange of 21 meaningful information in this case, RTC is not entitled to summary 22 judgment on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ contract-based claims.

23 In seeking summary judgment on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ contract-based claims, 24 the RTC asserts that there is no evidence of a contract on which they can base their 25 claims and, even if a valid contract between the parties existed, the Iliescu Plaintiffs 26 cannot establish any damages. The RTC challenges Plaintiff John Iliescu’s (“Dr.
27 Iliescu”) deposition testimony regarding the basis on which the Iliescu Plaintiffs 28 asserted their contract-based claims, and incorporates its challenge to the Iliescu

1 Plaintiffs' damages claim. It is a challenge, however, that does not justify summary 2 judgment.

3 In citing to Dr. Iliescu's deposition testimony as supporting its request, the RTC 4 relies on an incomplete dialog. In the portion of Dr. Iliescu's deposition it included 5 with its motion, the RTC provided one page that addressed the basis for the Iliescu 6 Plaintiffs' contract-based claims. See Exhibit 1 to RTC's motion for summary 7 judgment at 63. On that page, Dr. Iliescu referenced the condemnation action, but 8 when RTC's counsel inquired about whether there were any other contracts, counsel for 9 the Iliescu Plaintiffs objected because the question called for a legal conclusion. Id.
10 While counsel for the RTC asked the question again (Id.), any answer Dr. Iliescu may 11 have provided was not included as part of RTC's supporting evidence. To that end, the 12 incomplete dialog is insufficient to justify summary judgment, especially considering 13 the summary judgment standard of accepting the Iliescu Plaintiffs' assertions as true 14 and affording all reasonable inferences in their favor, and because the discovery process 15 is still open. See October 12, 2020, Order granting the parties' stipulated scheduling 16 order. Moreover, for the reasons asserted above, the RTC's challenge to the Iliescu 17 Plaintiffs' contract-based claims: (1) ignores that, by order granting the parties' 18 stipulation, the discovery process does not close in this case until May 28, 2021; and 19 (2) is contrary to this Court's March 25, 2021, Order requiring that counsel for the 20 parties meet and engage in a meaningful exchange of information for the purpose of 21 moving this case forward on its merits. Thus, accepting the Iliescu assertions as true 22 and making all reasonable inferences in their favor, and in light of this Court's October 23 12, 2020, and March 25, 2021, Orders, the RTC is not entitled to summary judgment on 24 the Iliescu Plaintiffs' contract-based claims.

26 ///

27

28

1 C. The bases on which RTC seeks summary judgment on the Iliescu
2 Plaintiffs’ trespass claim are misleading and ignore that the discovery 3 process is still open.

4 The RTC seeks summary judgment on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ trespass claim 5 because there is no evidence that the RTC invaded the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ property or 6 that the Iliescu Plaintiffs suffered damages. The RTC cites to Dr. Iliescu’s deposition 7 testimony that he did not know whose vehicles were on their property, and incorporates 8 its challenge to the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ damages claim. The bases on which RTC seeks 9 summary judgment on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ trespass claim, however, are misleading.

10 Initially, RTC misstates Dr. Iliescu’s deposition testimony. While Dr. Iliescu 11 may not have known the identity of the individuals or RTC employees who drove the 12 vehicles or to whom the vehicles belonged, Dr. Iliescu testified that the vehicles were 13 associated with RTC, as those who drove them were doing RTC work. Exhibit 1 to 14 RTC’s motion for summary judgment at 34:14-25. Plaintiff Sonia Iliescu (“Mrs.
15 Iliescu”) echoed that understanding. See Exhibit 2 to RTC’s motion for summary 16 judgment at 19:9-13 (stating that the people who parked vehicles on the Iliescu’s 17 property “were construction people working on the RTC project... they had [] these 18 pieces of equipment on our property...”). Accepting the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ testimony 19 as true and affording them all reasonable inferences, there is at least a question of fact 20 as to who drove and/or owned the vehicles that trespassed on their property, and 21 whether they were associated with and/or worked for RTC. In any event, the discovery 22 process is still open, and on March 25, 2021, this Court entered its order requiring that 23 counsel for the parties meet and engage in an exchange of meaningful information that 24 will move this case forward. Thus, RTC is not entitled to summary judgment on the 25 Iliescu Plaintiffs’ trespass claims.

26 ///

2 D. The RTC's request for summary judgment on the Iliescu Plaintiffs' Civil 3 Conspiracy claim is precluded by this Court's March 20, 2021, Order in the 4 context of its March 25, 2021, Order, and mischaracterizes the evidence on 5 which it is based.

6 RTC's request for summary judgment on the Iliescu Plaintiffs' civil conspiracy 7 claim relies on its repeated challenge to the Iliescu Plaintiffs' damages claim and its 8 contention that, based on Dr. Iliescu's testimony, there is no evidence that the RTC 9 agreed with others to cause damage to the Iliescu Plaintiffs' property. Notwithstanding 10 its mischaracterization of the portion of Dr. Iliescu's deposition testimony it provides 11 with its motion, RTC states the very basis for why its request should be denied.

12 RTC introduced its challenge to the Iliescu Plaintiffs' civil conspiracy claim by 13 stating that this "...Court previously denied RTC's motion to dismiss Plaintiffs' claim 14 for civil conspiracy, stating that the pre-trial resolution of this claim can only be 15 considered through a motion for summary judgment after appropriate discovery is 16 conducted." Motion at 5:27-6:2 (emphasis added), citing this Court's March 20, 2021, 17 Order Granting Motion to Dismiss. As repeatedly stated above, the parties stipulated to 18 May 28, 2021, as the close of discovery in this case. At this writing, that discovery 19 deadline is two (2) months away. Thus, discovery is still open, and based upon this 20 Court's March 25, 2021, Order requiring that counsel for the parties meet and engage in 21 a meaningful exchange of information to move this case forward, consideration of the 22 Iliescu Plaintiffs' civil conspiracy claim on RTC's motion for summary judgment is not 23 appropriate.

24 Be that as it may, the RTC's assertion that the Iliescu Plaintiffs do not have 25 evidence of their damages and that they admit that they have no evidence that the RTC 26 entered into an agreement with others to damage their property is disingenuous and 27 misleading. For the reasons stated above, the RTC's request for summary judgment 28 based upon the lack evidence of the Iliescu Plaintiffs' damages is belied by the RTC's own argument and overrode by this Court's March 25, 2021, Order. As to the Iliescu

1 Plaintiffs’ testimony related to their civil conspiracy claim, Dr. Iliescu’s testimony was 2 in the context of RTC’s counsel inquiring of Dr. Iliescu’s understanding of the legal 3 requirements for a conspiracy claim, and Dr. Iliescu explaining that RTC engaged 4 others to work on the project and RTC is responsible for those they retained (Exhibit 1 5 to RTC’s motion at 69). The RTC did not include the portion of Mrs. Iliescu’s 6 deposition that would have provided the context for her testimony and, therefore, 7 conveniently cites to an incomplete dialog as a basis for its summary judgment request 8 (Exhibit 2 to RTC’s motion at 39). And, contrary to the RTC’s assertion, neither of the 9 Iliescu Plaintiffs “admitted” they did not have evidence to support their civil conspiracy 10 claim. Thus, accepting the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ allegations and statements as true, and 11 affording all reasonable inferences in their favor, summary judgment on their civil 12 conspiracy claim is not warranted.

13 14 E. The Iliescu Plaintiffs’ testimony regarding the vehicles that were parked on 15 their property and the evidence of the damage to the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ 16 property by those vehicles precludes summary judgment on their 17 negligence claim.

18 The RTC seeks summary judgment on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ negligence claim 19 based on its contentions: (1) that the Iliescu Plaintiffs do not know whose trucks were 20 on their property or that RTC directed or allowed any trucks to park on their property, 21 and therefore, do not have evidence that RTC breached any duty to them; and (2) the 22 Iliescu Plaintiffs do not have evidence of their damages. For the reasons explained 23 above and incorporated here, however, those contentions do not constitute a basis for 24 summary judgment. The RTC misstate and mischaracterize the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ 25 testimony, and evidence of the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ damages have been produced in this 26 case and are subject to this Court’s requirement that the parties engage in a meaningful 27 exchange of information to move this case forward. Thus, the RTC is not entitled to 28 summary judgment on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ negligence claim.

1 F. Because the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ testimony and the documents they have 2 produced in this case raise questions of material fact as to whether there is 3 a justiciable controversy between the RTC and the Iliescu Plaintiffs that is ripe for judicial determination, the RTC is not entitled to summary judgment on their declaratory judgment claim.

4 In culminating all of the bases on which it seeks summary judgment, the RTC 5 requests that this Court grant summary judgment in its favor on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ 6 declaratory relief claim. The RTC asserts there is no contract in reference to the Iliescu 7 Plaintiffs’ property, the RTC has valid and existing easements over the Iliescu 8 Plaintiffs’ property, the Iliescu Plaintiffs received just compensation for the RTC’s 9 condemnation of the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ property, and there is no evidence that the RTC 10 parked vehicles and equipment on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ property or that the Iliescu 11 Plaintiffs suffered damages. As more fully addressed above, the testimony on which 12 the RTC relies in support of some of its assertions is misstated and/or misleading, 13 incomplete, and without sufficient context. See, supra. Based upon the Iliescu 14 Plaintiffs’ testimony regarding the vehicles and equipment that were parked on and 15 damaged their property, and that those vehicles and equipment were driven by and/or 16 belonged to those who were working on the RTC project on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ 17 condemned property (Exhibits 1 and 2 to RTC’s motion for summary judgment at 18 34:14-25 and 19:9-13, respectively). Moreover, and as also addressed above, there 19 remain issues to be resolved in reference to the testimony and documents related to the 20 Iliescu Plaintiffs’ contract-based and damages claims. Because this Court has ordered 21 the parties to engage in a meaningful exchange of information in this case – information 22 that will go to the salient issues and claims and move this case forward – there remain 23 questions of fact as to whether there is a justiciable controversy between the RTC and 24 the Iliescu Plaintiffs that is ripe for judicial determination. Accord, Kress v. Corey, 65 25 Nev. 1, 25-26, 189 P.2d 352, 364 (1948) (stating the elements for declaratory relief).
26 Thus, there is no basis on which this Court can grant summary judgment in RTC’s 27 favor on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ declaratory relief claim.

1 IV. CONCLUSION

2 Based on the foregoing, the Iliescu Plaintiffs request that this Court deny RTC's 3 Motion for Summary Judgment.

John and Sonnia,

Thank you for your call today. It was a pleasure speaking with you. I have attached four maps to show you what we are proposing regarding your property.

The first attachment is labeled "PE" which is the permanent easement on the corner of 4th Street and Parker. It is 68 SF.

The second attachment is labeled "PUE" which is the utility easement on the southeast corner of your property. It is 584 SF but only 5 +/- feet wide at the widest point.

The third attachment is labeled "TCE" which is the temporary easement.

Lastly, I didn't mention it on the phone but I believe we are going to request access to the main parking area of the property. This is solely for your benefit to tie the driveway into 4th street, address grade issues, upgrade asphalt/curbing, etc. This last map labeled "full ROW map" shows this area in purple and will be completely voluntary and temporary on your part as the RTC will not compel you to allow us access. I will get you more information on this so you better understand the benefits to you will be.

Please feel free to contact me at any time should you have additional questions.

Thank you.

2 issue in this litigation and, as such, have the authority to enter into the aforementioned
3 stipulation with RTC through their attorney, C. Nicholas Pereos, Esq.
- 4 2. This case involves the RTC's exercise of its power of eminent domain for 5 the purpose of acquiring the permanent easement, the public utility easement and the 6 temporary construction easement defined as "the Property" in the Stipulation and described 7 in detail in Exhibit 1 to the Stipulation, related to RTC's construction of the 4th

9 incorporates the definitions and descriptions of the Project set forth in the Stipulation by 10 reference in this order.
- 11 3. The use for which the Property sought to be condemned is a public use
12 authorized by law, and the taking thereof is necessary for such use. RTC has complied 13 with all statutory conditions precedent to instituting this action and seeking immediate

15 sought to be condemned are required so that the construction of the Project may proceed 16 in an orderly manner without delay or loss in utilization of construction time and/or 17 without unnecessary cost and expense to the condemning agency.
- 18 4. NRS 37.090 and 37.100 provide this Court with authority to enter an order 19 allowing RTC access to the Property sought to be condemned at any time after the 20 commencement of suit and pending entry of judgment, to do such work thereon as may be 21 required for the Project according to its nature.
- 22 5. For purposes of this Order only, and subject to the terms of the Stipulation
23 concerning Defendants' objection to Reese Perkins' appraisal, the Court finds that, 24 pursuant to NRS 37.100(4), the value of the Property sought to be obtained and/or 25 temporary utilized during construction plus damages is $2,030.00.

27 ...
28 ...

1 Based on the foregoing, and with good cause appearing, IT IS HEREBY 2 ORDERED:

3 1. RTC may have immediate possession and occupancy of the Property, as 4 described in Exhibit 1 attached hereto, by depositing with the Clerk of this Court the sum
5 of $2,030.00 (the "Cash Deposit").

6 2. The Clerk of the Court shall deposit the Cash Deposit into an interest
7 bearing account for the benefit of Real Parties in Interest and/or any other party 8 determined to be entitled to those amounts.

9 3. Upon making the Cash Deposit, RTC may immediately enter upon and 10 occupy the Property and perform such work thereon as may be necessary to construct and 11 complete the Project;

12 4. RTC and Real Parties in Interest and their respective agents shall cooperate 13 so as to minimize interference between construction of the Project and Real Parties in 14 Interest's use of the remaining land of Real Parties in Interest on APN 008-244-15;

15 5. If Real Parties in Interest apply to withdraw the Cash Deposit, they shall 16 serve a notice on the parties in this action of the Application, giving each party 5 days 17 after service of such notice in which to file and serve objections to such withdrawal, if 18 any;

19 6. If any such objections to the Application are filed, the Court will set a date 20 and time for a hearing thereon.

RTC Project No. 242013
642 East 4th Street, Reno, NV (A.P.N. 008-244-15)

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Iliescu:

The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (RTC) has approved and accepted a plan for the 4th Street/Prater Way BRT (Bus Rapid Transit) improvement project to be constructed in the vicinity of the property that you now own and or occupy. The project is intended to better facilitate travel between Reno and downtown Sparks. Your property will be affected by this project, and as a result, it will be necessary for the RTC to have it appraised.

John and Sonnia,

Thank you for your call today. It was a pleasure speaking with you. I have attached four maps to show you what we are proposing regarding your property.

The first attachment is labeled "PE" which is the permanent easement on the corner of 4th Street and Parker. It is 68 SF.

The second attachment is labeled "PUE" which is the utility easement on the southeast corner of your property. It is 584 SF but only 5 +/- feet wide at the widest point.

The third attachment is labeled "TCE" which is the temporary easement.

Lastly, I didn't mention it on the phone but I believe we are going to request access to the main parking area of the property. This is solely for your benefit to tie the driveway into 4th street, address grade issues, upgrade asphalt/curbing, etc. This last map labeled "full ROW map" shows this area in purple and will be completely voluntary and temporary on your part as the RTC will not compel you to allow us access. I will get you more information on this so you better understand the benefits to you will be.

Please feel free to contact me at any time should you have additional questions.

Thank you.

CASE NO. CV19-00459

DEPT. NO. 15

PLAINTIFFS' OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT'S MOTION IN LIMINE TO EXCLUDE EVIDENCE OF DAMAGES

22 COME NOW JOHN ILIESCU, JR., AND SONNIA ILIESCU, TRUSTEES OF
23 THE JOHN ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA ILIESCU 1992 FAMILY TRUST; JOHN 24 ILIESCU, JR., individually; and SONNIA ILIESCUE, individually (collectively, "the 25 Iliescu Plaintiffs"), by and through their attorney, Michael J. Morrison, Esq., and 26 opposes the Defendant's motion in limine to exclude evidence of damages, as follows:

27 As more fully explained in the Iliescu Plaintiffs' April 2, 2021, Opposition to 28 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County's ("The RTC") motion for summary judgment, which is incorporated here by reference, the

1 Iliescu Plaintiffs have sued the RTC for, among other injuries, the damage the RTC 2 caused to the Iliescu's property with the vehicles and equipment its employees and/or 3 agents parked on the Iliescu Plaintiffs' property while undertaking a construction 4 project on a different portion of the Iliescu Plaintiffs' property over which the RTC had 5 exercised eminent domain. The Iliescu Plaintiffs seek to recover for the damage to 6 their property, the costs to restore the property, the loss of the property's market value,
7 their loss of use of their property, and other related damages. Id. at 4-18.

8 The RTC has moved this Court for an order in limine to exclude any evidence of 9 the Iliescu Plaintiffs' damages. The RTC asserts that the Iliescu Plaintiffs have not 10 provided a computation of their damages or documents from which a computation can 11 be ascertained, and have not designated an expert witness in reference to their damages.
12 After the RTC filed its motion, this Court entered its March 25, 2021, Order requiring 13 that the parties comply with the case conference and discovery requirements of NRC 14 16 and 16.1 and to meet and engage in "...meaningful exchanges of information." See 15 March 25, 2021, Order Denying Motion for Sanctions at 2:8-9. As a consequence, the 16 RTC's motion in limine does not account for this Court's March 25, 2021, Order, or the 17 fact that discovery in this case is still open.

18 Indeed, the basis on which RTC seeks an order in limine excluding the Iliescu 19 Plaintiffs' damages is the same as the basis it has sought summary judgment on the 20 Iliescu Plaintiffs' damages claim. For the same reasons the Iliescu Plaintiffs have 21 opposed the RTC's motion for summary judgment, they oppose the RTC's motion in 22 limine to exclude evidence of their damages. As acknowledged by the RTC in its 23 motion for summary judgment, the Iliescu Plaintiffs have provided evidence of their 24 damages in this case, and are able to testify as to the damages the RTC caused to their 25 property. Because discovery in this case is still open, and because this Court has 26 required the parties to meet and engage in "...meaningful exchanges of information..." 27 pursuant to the pretrial conference and discovery requirements (see, supra), this Court 28

1 intends for this case to meaningfully move forward, especially in the context in which 2 the Iliescu Plaintiffs and their counsel have struggled through, among other things, the 3 Covid-19 pandemic. To that end, this Court’s directive is for the meaningful exchange 4 of evidence that will permit this case to move forward. Thus, the RTC is not entitled to 5 an order in limine excluding the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ damages. As a consequence, the 6 Iliescu Plaintiffs request that this Court deny the RTC’s motion in limine to exclude 7 evidence of damages.

AND 50.305

22 COME NOW JOHN ILIESCU, JR., AND SONNIA ILIESCU, TRUSTEES OF
23 THE JOHN ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA ILIESCU 1992 FAMILY TRUST; JOHN 24 ILIESCU, JR., individually; and SONNIA ILIESCUE, individually (collectively, "the 25 Iliescu Plaintiffs"), by and through their attorney, Michael J. Morrison, Esq., and 26 opposes the Defendant's motion in limine to exclude evidence pursuant to NRS 50.275, 27 50.285, and 50.305, as follows:

28 As more fully explained in the Iliescu Plaintiffs' April 2, 2021, Opposition to Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County's ("The

1 RTC”) motion for summary judgment, which is incorporated here by reference, the 2 Ilescu Plaintiffs have sued the RTC for, among other injuries, the damage the RTC 3 caused to the Ilescu’s property with the vehicles and equipment its employees and/or 4 agents parked on the Ilescu Plaintiffs’ property while undertaking a construction 5 project on a different portion of the Ilescu Plaintiffs’ property over which the RTC had 6 exercised eminent domain. The Ilescu Plaintiffs seek to recover for the damage to 7 their property, the costs to restore the property, the loss of the property’s market value,
8 their loss of use of their property, and other related damages. Id. at 4-18.

9 The RTC has moved this Court for an order in limine to exclude any evidence of 10 the Ilescu Plaintiffs’ damages. The RTC asserts that the Ilescu Plaintiffs should be 11 precluded from offering any expert witness evidence pursuant to NRS 50.275, 50.285, 12 and 50.305 because the Ilescu Plaintiffs did not timely disclose an expert witness.
13 After the RTC filed its motion, this Court entered its March 25, 2021, Order requiring 14 that the parties comply with the case conference and discovery requirements of NRC 15 16 and 16.1 and to meet and engage in “...meaningful exchanges of information.” See 16 March 25, 2021, Order Denying Motion for Sanctions at 2:8-9. As a consequence, the 17 RTC’s motion in limine does not account for this Court’s March 25, 2021, Order, the 18 spirit and intent of which is for the parties to exchange information that will 19 meaningfully move this case forward pursuant to the pretrial conference and discovery 20 requirements of NRC 16 and 16.1.

21 As acknowledged by this Court in its Order, the Ilescu Plaintiffs and their 22 counsel have significantly struggled through, among other things, the Covid-19 23 pandemic. Those struggles and their causes have thus far prevented a meaningful 24 exchange of information as required by the applicable procedural rules – information 25 that would reveal the extent to which there are issues that require expert analysis and 26 testimony. Thus, because discovery in this case is still open, and because it is this 27 Court’s intent for this case to meaningfully move forward in the wake of the worst of 28

1 the Covid-19 pandemic, the Iliescu Plaintiffs request that this Court deny the RTC's 2 motion to preclude expert witness evidence.

29 REPLY IN SUPPORT OF MOTION IN LIMINE TO PRECLUDE PLAINTIFFS 30 FROM PRESENTING EVIDENCE PURSUANT TO NRS 50.275, 50.285 AND 31 50.305

32 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”)
33 submits the following reply in support of its Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs 34 From Presenting Evidence Pursuant To NRS 50.275, 50.285 And 50.305 (“Motion To 35 Exclude Experts”), and in response to Plaintiffs’ opposition brief filed on April 2, 2021.

1 There is no dispute that Plaintiffs failed to timely disclose an expert witness in this 2 case. Pursuant to the Court’s Scheduling Order, Plaintiffs were required to properly 3 disclose experts no later than February 26, 2021. Based on that failure, RTC filed its 4 Motion To Exclude Experts. Based on Plaintiffs’ opposition brief, they appear to believe 5 that the Court’s March 25, 2021 Order Denying Motion For Sanctions somehow relieves 6 them of this failure. Plaintiffs’ counsel stated at the status hearing on April 27, 2021 that 7 he believed the Court’s March 25 order was “a reset to the starting blocks.”

8 That is not the case. The Court’s March 25 order dealt with a request for sanctions 9 related to Plaintiffs’ procedural failure to hold the NRCP 16.1 conference. Plaintiffs 10 never sought a continuance of the expert deadline prior to its expiration, nor did this Court 11 ever grant any such extension. The only monetary issue in this case is the cost to repair 12 Plaintiffs’ parking lot. Plaintiffs have been aware of this issue for years, yet never 13 disclosed any expert report meeting the requirements of NRCP 16.1(a)(2)(B). There is no 14 reason Plaintiffs could not have retained an expert to evaluate their parking lot and 15 provide an opinion as to the cost of repair or impact on market value.

16 Contrary to the suggestion of Plaintiffs’ counsel, RTC did nothing to hinder 17 Plaintiffs’ ability to conduct discovery. The stipulation for early discovery entered into on 18 October 30, 2019, allowed both parties to conduct discovery prior to the filing of a joint 19 case conference report. Further, RTC filed its answer to the complaint on March 23, 20 2020, after which Plaintiff was free to schedule the 16.1 conference and move the case 21 forward. Plaintiff failed to do anything to move its case forward.

22 While Plaintiffs are correct that discovery is still open for one more month, that 23 remaining discovery period does not include the right to disclose experts or expert reports.
24 That February 26, 2021 deadline, to which Plaintiffs stipulated, has come and gone.
25 Plaintiffs’ health issues and those of their counsel, while unfortunate, cannot plausibly be 26 blamed for their failure to disclose an expert. Plaintiffs and their counsel participated in 27 depositions, responded to written discovery, and participated in other proceedings.
28 Contacting an asphalt repair contractor to opine on the cost to repair the parking lot or

1 finding an appraiser to provide an opinion on market value would have required minimal 2 effort. Plaintiffs cannot legitimately blame RTC for their failure to timely disclose such 3 an expert.

4 Plaintiffs should be precluded from offering any evidence pursuant to NRS 50.275, 5 50.285 and 50.385 in this case.

6 Affirmation pursuant to NRS 239B.030

7 The undersigned does hereby affirm that the preceding document does not contain

29 REPLY IN SUPPORT OF MOTION IN LIMINE TO EXCLUDE EVIDENCE OF 30 DAMAGES

31 Plaintiff The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”) submits the following reply in support of its Motion In Limine To Exclude Evidence Of Damages and in response to Plaintiffs’ opposition brief filed on April 2, 2021. This motion is supported by the following memorandum of points and authorities and all other pleadings and papers on file in this matter.

1 This action involves an alleged trespass on Plaintiffs' property at 642 E. 4th Street
2 in Reno. Plaintiffs claim their parking lot has been damaged by the alleged trespass but 3 have provided no evidence of the amount of damages they claim, including failing to 4 provide a computation of damages with supporting documentation as required by NRCP 5 16.1(a)(1)(A)(iv). The expert deadline has passed without Plaintiffs disclosing a witness 6 with specialized knowledge to opine upon the damage to Plaintiffs' parking lot or any 7 other claimed damages in this case.

8 Only Plaintiffs know what damages they claim in this case, yet they have provided 9 no information to RTC. Yet they have provided nothing, even in response to specific 10 written discovery on that issue. See Exhibit 1, attached.¹ The only documents produced 11 in this case are attached as Exhibit 2.² There is nothing in those documents that gives any 12 inkling as to the amount or computation of Plaintiffs' damages.

13 Contrary to the suggestion of Plaintiffs' counsel, RTC did nothing to hinder 14 Plaintiffs' ability to conduct discovery. Information regarding Plaintiffs' damages is 15 completely within their control.

16 While Plaintiffs are correct that discovery is still open for one more month, any 17 disclosure of damages information at this point would be prejudicial to RTC, as there is 18 insufficient time to conduct any meaningful follow up discovery.

19 Here, Plaintiffs have provided no computation of damages and have provided no 20 documents from which that computation can be ascertained, nor have they designated an

John and Sonnia,

Thank you for your call today. It was a pleasure speaking with you. I have attached four maps to show you what we are proposing regarding your property.

The first attachment is labeled "PE" which is the permanent easement on the corner of 4th Street and Parker. It is 68 SF.

The second attachment is labeled "PUE" which is the utility easement on the southeast corner of your property. It is 584 SF but only 5 +/- feet wide at the widest point.

The third attachment is labeled "TCE" which is the temporary easement.

Lastly, I didn't mention it on the phone but I believe we are going to request access to the main parking area of the property. This is solely for your benefit to tie the driveway into 4th street, address grade issues, upgrade asphalt/curbing, etc. This last map labeled "full ROW map" shows this area in purple and will be completely voluntary and temporary on your part as the RTC will not compel you to allow us access. I will get you more information on this so you better understand the benefits to you will be.

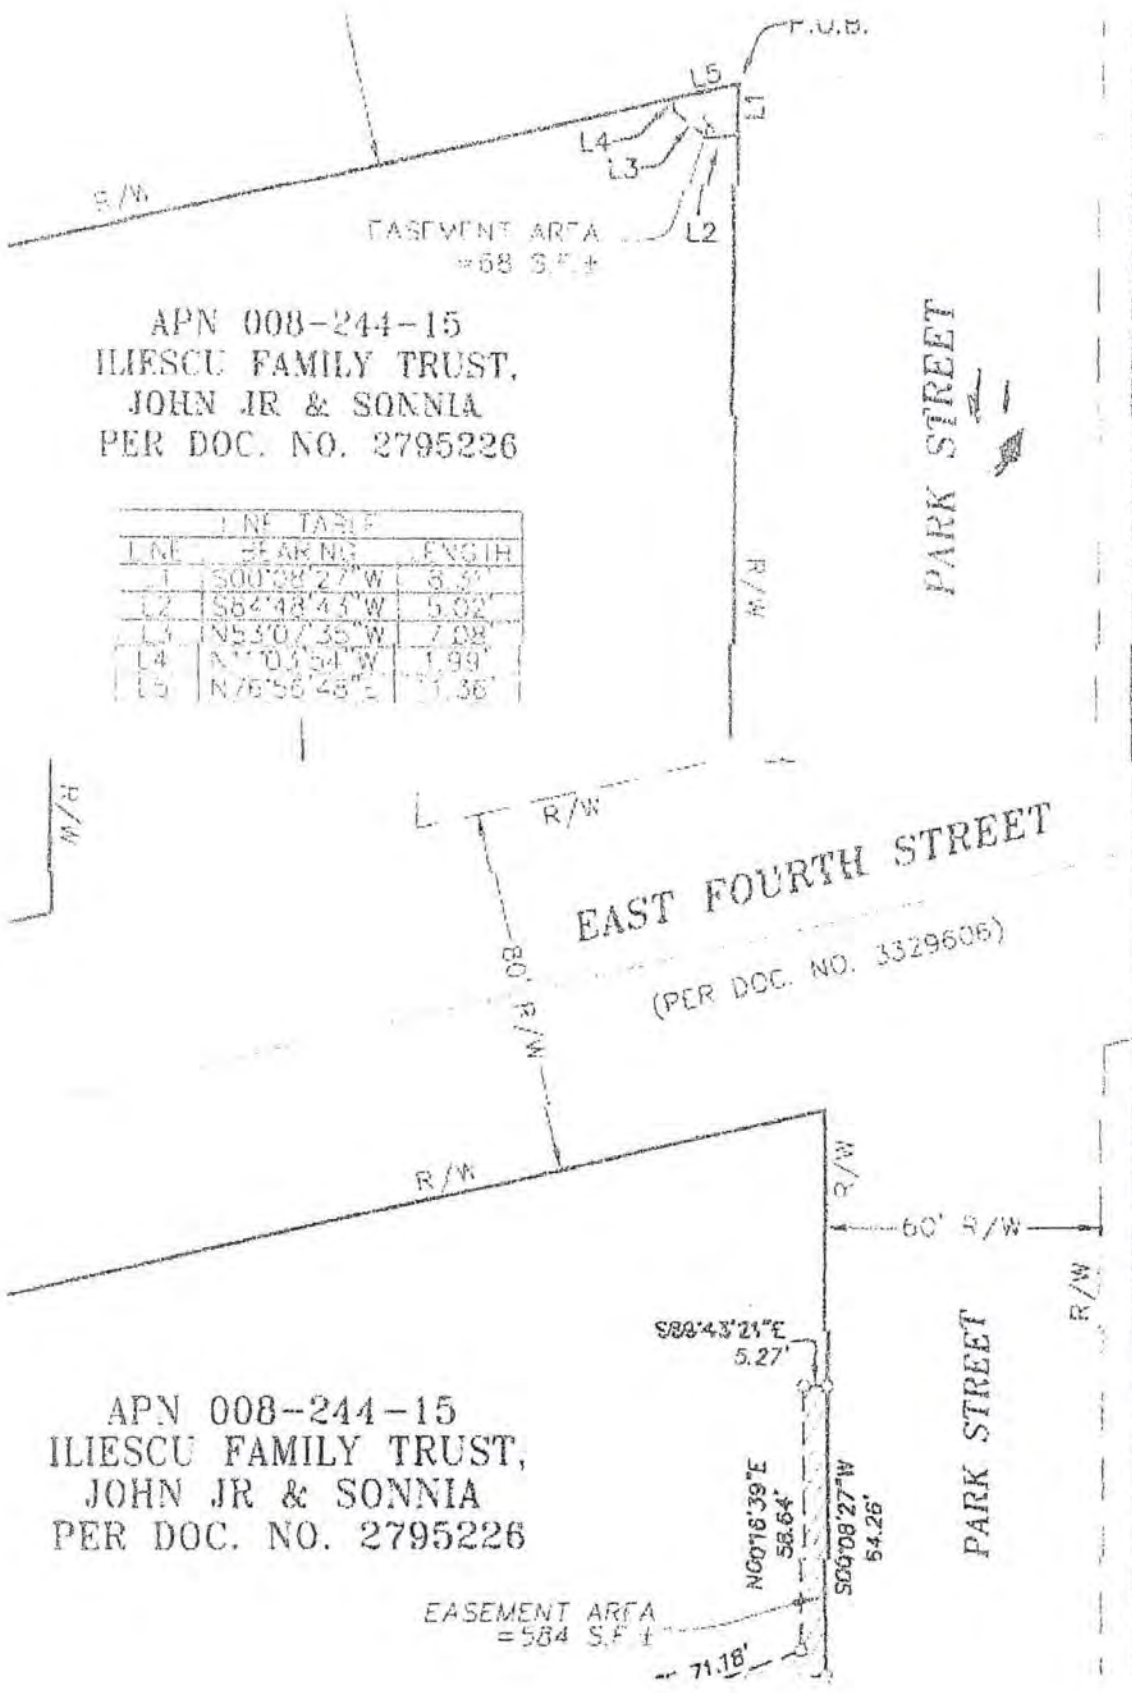

Please feel free to contact me at any time should you have additional questions.

Thank you.

1 1. Real Parties in Interest are the current fee simple owners of real property at 2 issue in this litigation and, as such, have the authority to enter into the aforementioned
3 stipulation with RTC through their attorney, C. Nicholas Pereos, Esq.

4 2. This case involves the RTC's exercise of its power of eminent domain for 5 the purpose of acquiring the permanent easement, the public utility easement and the 6 temporary construction easement defined as "the Property" in the Stipulation and described 7 in detail in Exhibit 1 to the Stipulation, related to RTC's construction of the 4th
8 Street/Prater Way Complete Street and BRT Project, or "the Project." The Court 9 incorporates the definitions and descriptions of the Project set forth in the Stipulation by 10 reference in this order.

11 3. The use for which the Property sought to be condemned is a public use
12 authorized by law, and the taking thereof is necessary for such use. RTC has complied 13 with all statutory conditions precedent to instituting this action and seeking immediate 14 occupancy pending judgment. Immediate entry upon and possession of the Property
15 sought to be condemned are required so that the construction of the Project may proceed 16 in an orderly manner without delay or loss in utilization of construction time and/or 17 without unnecessary cost and expense to the condemning agency.

18 4. NRS 37.090 and 37.100 provide this Court with authority to enter an order 19 allowing RTC access to the Property sought to be condemned at any time after the 20 commencement of suit and pending entry of judgment, to do such work thereon as may be 21 required for the Project according to its nature.

22 5. For purposes of this Order only, and subject to the terms of the Stipulation
23 concerning Defendants' objection to Reese Perkins' appraisal, the Court finds that, 24 pursuant to NRS 37.100(4), the value of the Property sought to be obtained and/or 25 temporary utilized during construction plus damages is $2,030.00.

26 ...
27 ...
28

1 Based on the foregoing, and with good cause appearing, IT IS HEREBY 2 ORDERED:

3 1. RTC may have immediate possession and occupancy of the Property, as 4 described in Exhibit 1 attached hereto, by depositing with the Clerk of this Court the sum
5 of $2,030.00 (the "Cash Deposit").

6 2. The Clerk of the Court shall deposit the Cash Deposit into an interest
7 bearing account for the benefit of Real Parties in Interest and/or any other party 8 determined to be entitled to those amounts.

9 3. Upon making the Cash Deposit, RTC may immediately enter upon and 10 occupy the Property and perform such work thereon as may be necessary to construct and 11 complete the Project;

12 4. RTC and Real Parties in Interest and their respective agents shall cooperate 13 so as to minimize interference between construction of the Project and Real Parties in 14 Interest's use of the remaining land of Real Parties in Interest on APN 008-244-15;

15 5. If Real Parties in Interest apply to withdraw the Cash Deposit, they shall 16 serve a notice on the parties in this action of the Application, giving each party 5 days 17 after service of such notice in which to file and serve objections to such withdrawal, if 18 any;

19 6. If any such objections to the Application are filed, the Court will set a date
20 and time for a hearing thereon.

21 IT IS HEREBY FURTHER ORDERED that this order shall become effective 22 upon RTC's deposit of the Cash Deposit with the Clerk of this Court.

Dept. No.: 15

29 REPLY IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

30 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”) 31 submits the following reply in support of its Motion For Summary Judgment and in 32 response to Plaintiffs’ opposition brief filed on April 2, 2021.

33 I. INTRODUCTION

34 Plaintiffs’ opposition brief is woefully inadequate to survive summary judgment.
35 They provide no admissible evidence to demonstrate the existence of any genuine issue of 1 material fact. While Plaintiffs vaguely reference alleged deposition testimony and other 2 documents supposedly produced in this case as evidence that would defeat summary 3 judgment, they provide the Court with no such evidence. Additionally, Plaintiffs rely on 4 flawed analyses and ignore applicable standards governing summary judgment, such that 5 they give this Court no legitimate basis upon which to deny RTC summary judgment on 6 all of Plaintiffs' claims.

7 Below, RTC will first address the shortcomings applicable to all of Plaintiffs' 8 claims, then will address the arguments applicable to each specific claim. It is clear there 9 are no genuine issues of material fact and that RTC is entitled to judgment as a matter of 10 law. It is time for this case to reach its conclusion.

11 II. LEGAL STANDARD

12 In opposing summary judgment, the nonmoving party "must, by affidavit or 13 otherwise, set forth specific facts demonstrating the existence of a genuine issue for trial 14 or have summary judgment entered against him." Wood v. Safeway, Inc., 121 Nev. 724, 15 732, 121 P.3d 1026, 1031 (2005). "Evidence introduced in...opposition to a motion for 16 summary judgment must be admissible evidence." Collins v. Union Fed. Savings & Loan, 99 17 Nev. 284, 302, 662 P.2d 610, 621 (1983), citing NRCP 56(e).

18 Plaintiffs provide no affidavits or any other admissible evidence demonstrating the 19 existence of a genuine issue of material fact. While they claim such evidence exists in the 20 record (it does not), this Court is not obligated to search the record for facts that might support 21 Plaintiffs' claims. Schuck v. Signature Flight Support of Nevada, Inc., 126 Nev. 434, 438, 22 245 P.3d 542, 545 (2010). Plaintiffs rely almost exclusively on their January 21, 2021 23 Amended Complaint to support the "facts" in their opposition brief. Opposition at 2: 3-19.
24 However, the Amended Complaint is not verified and does not constitute evidence.

25 As discussed below, Plaintiffs' failure to provide any admissible evidence in 26 opposition to summary judgment is fatal to their case. There are no genuine issues of material 27 fact and RTC is entitled to judgment as a matter of law.

28

1 III. PLAINTIFFS HAVE NOT SOUGHT NRCP 56(d) RELIEF

2 Plaintiffs spend much of their brief repeating that the discovery deadline has not yet 3 lapsed, as if that fact alone defeats summary judgment. Opposition at 3:23-25, 4:3-4, 6:17-18, 4 7:20-21, 8:15-17. NRCP 56(d) provides a specific remedy that may be used in instances 5 where the nonmovant demonstrates by affidavit that, for specified reasons, it cannot present 6 facts essential to justify its opposition. If such a showing is made, the court may defer 7 considering the motion for summary judgment or deny it, or the court may allow the 8 nonmovant time to obtain affidavits or declarations or take discovery. Id. However, the 9 nonmovant must explain in the affidavit why he or she is currently unable to present evidence 10 sufficient to oppose the summary judgment motion and must also articulate the facts he or she 11 seeks to obtain that will defeat summary judgment. Eli Applebaum IRA v. Arizona Acreage, 12 LLC, 128 Nev. 894, 381 P.3d 609 (2012).

13 Here, it is not sufficient that Plaintiffs vaguely state that discovery is still open and to 14 suggest that somehow, in the next month, they will find something that would demonstrate 15 summary judgment is improper. Therefore, that discovery is still open does not bar this Court 16 from granting summary judgment in favor of RTC.

17 IV. THE MARCH 25, 2021 ORDER DOES NOT “RESET” THIS CASE

18 Plaintiffs also base their opposition to summary judgment in significant part on their 19 belief that this Court’s March 25, 2021 Order Denying Motion For Sanctions somehow was a 20 “reset to the starting blocks” of this case. Opposition at 3:25-27, 4:4-6, 5:2-5, 6:19-21, 7:21-21 23, 8:25-27, 10:20-24. That belief is extremely misplaced. The Court’s March 25 order was 22 specific to RTC’s request for case-terminating sanctions based on Plaintiffs’ failure to hold an 23 early case conference. Nothing in that order reset any of the other deadlines in this case, 24 including but not limited to the deadline to disclose expert witnesses. The Court’s March 25, 25 2021 order is not a legitimate basis for denying RTC summary judgment.

26 Plaintiffs also half-heartedly argue that the Court’s October 12, 2020 Scheduling 27 Order “followed and, by its content, overrode” the Court’s August 19, 2020 Order Granting 28 Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From Offering Documents Not Produced To RTC

1 On or Before June 30, 2020. Opposition at 4:26-5:2. This argument is desperate, absurd and 2 frivolous—the Scheduling Order specifically provides: “Nothing in this scheduling order shall 3 be construed as a waiver of RTC’s rights under that order in limine or otherwise under 4 applicable law.”

5 V. THERE IS NO EVIDENCE OF PLAINTIFFS’ DAMAGES

6 Plaintiffs assert that they have produced evidence of their damages in this case.
7 Opposition at 4:2, 5:7-8. They also claim they are “able to testify as to the damages the RTC 8 caused to their property,” yet they provide no affidavits or declarations with such testimony.
9 Opposition at 5:11-12. It is undisputed that Plaintiffs have failed to timely disclose an expert 10 to opine on either cost of repair or loss of market value, and Plaintiffs are not qualified to 11 provide such testimony on either topic (and in any event were not themselves disclosed as 12 experts).

13 The only documents Plaintiffs have produced in this case are attached as Exhibit 1, 14 none of which remotely demonstrate the cost of repair or loss of market value for the alleged 15 damage to the “Remainder Property.” While Plaintiffs will testify that RTC physically 16 damaged their parking lot by allowing heavy equipment to park on those lots, they have done 17 nothing to put a number to that alleged physical damage. There is no evidence before the 18 Court that would demonstrate the existence of a genuine issue of material facts as to 19 Plaintiffs’ claimed damages.

20 VI. RTC IS ENTITLED TO SUMMARY JUDGMENT ON EACH OF 21 PLAINTIFFS’ CLAIMS

22 1. Contract claims

23 Plaintiffs assert claims for breach of contract and breach of the implied covenant of 24 good faith and fair dealing. In its motion, RTC provided evidence that “the RTC-Trust 25 agreement” upon which those claims are based is actually this Court’s judgment in a prior 26 condemnation action litigated between RTC and Plaintiffs in 2016-2018. See Deposition of 27 John Iliescu at 63:3-12.
28

1 Plaintiffs complain that the cited evidence is an “incomplete dialog” but fail to present 2 any additional pages of Dr. Iliescu’s deposition that would demonstrate the existence of any 3 contract giving rise to any valid legal claims. Opposition at 6:7-15. Nor do Plaintiffs provide 4 any evidence whatsoever of the existence of a valid and existing contract between RTC and 5 Plaintiffs pertaining to the “Remainder Property” that would give rise to the damages they 6 seek in this case. As RTC argued in its motion, there is no evidence of an offer, acceptance, 7 meeting of the minds or consideration between RTC and Plaintiffs. The Court’s judgment in 8 the prior condemnation action is not a contract between the parties with respect to the 9 “Remainder Property.”

10 There are no genuine issues of material fact as to Plaintiffs’ claims for breach of 11 contract and breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing, and RTC is entitled 12 to judgment as a matter of law on these claims.

13 2. Trespass

14 To prove trespass, the claimant must show that the defendant invaded the claimant’s 15 real property. Lied v. County of Clark, 94 Nev. 275, 279, 579 P.2d 171, 173-174 (1978). The 16 invasion must result in damages. Wallace v. Lewis County, 134 Wash.App. 1, 137 P.3d 101, 17 108 (Wash. Ct. App. 2006). As discussed above, there is no evidence of Plaintiffs’ damages 18 arising from the alleged trespass, so Plaintiffs’ claim fails on that basis alone.

19 With respect to the first element of trespass, Plaintiffs have failed to provide 20 admissible evidence that RTC “invaded” their real property. With respect to the trucks parked 21 on his property, Dr. Iliescu testified: “I’m going to assume it was somebody associated with 22 [RTC].” Deposition of John Iliescu at 35:1-19. Assumptions are not evidence. Therefore, 23 RTC is entitled to judgment as a matter of law on Plaintiffs’ trespass claim.

24 3. Civil conspiracy

25 A civil conspiracy claim exists when a combination of two or more persons who, by 26 some concerted action, intend to accomplish some unlawful objective for the purpose of 27 harming another and resulting in damages. Collins v. United Fed. Sav. & Loan Ass’n, 99 28 Nev. 284, 303, 662 P.2d 610, 622 (1983). To succeed on a civil conspiracy claim, a plaintiff

1 must prove both an agreement between tortfeasors and that the conduct of each defendant is 2 tortious. GES, Inc. v. Corbitt, 117 Nev. 265, 271, 21 P.3d 11, 15 (2001).

3 Plaintiffs admit they have no evidence that RTC entered into an agreement with third 4 parties to cause damage to their property. See Deposition of John Iliescu at 69:3-12; 5 Deposition of Sonnia Iliescu at 39:2-6. Moreover, there is no admissible evidence that RTC 6 engaged in any tortious conduct.

7 Plaintiffs assert that RTC is “disingenuous and misleading” in arguing that Plaintiffs 8 have no evidence of an agreement between RTC and a third party to cause damage to 9 Plaintiffs’ property. Opposition at 8:22-25. They claim that RTC has mischaracterized their 10 deposition testimony yet offer no additional testimony or other evidence to support these 11 accusations. The simple truth is that Plaintiffs have offered this Court no evidence 12 whatsoever to demonstrate the existence of a genuine issue of material fact on this claim.

13 RTC is entitled to summary judgment on Plaintiffs’ claim for civil conspiracy.

14 4. Negligence

15 To establish a negligence claim, a plaintiff must demonstrate: (1) that defendant owed 16 plaintiff a duty of care; (2) that defendant breached that duty; (3) the breach was the legal 17 cause of plaintiff’s injuries; and (4) plaintiff sustained damages. Scialabba v. Brandise 18 Construction Co., 112 Nev. 965, 921 P.2d 928 (1996).

19 Plaintiffs offer no evidence as to what duty RTC owed them and whether that duty 20 was breached. As discussed above Plaintiffs “assume” there were RTC vehicles on their 21 property but offer no evidence to prove this as fact. Again, assumptions are not evidence.

22 RTC is entitled to judgment as a matter of law on Plaintiffs’ negligence claim.

23 5. Declaratory relief

24 Plaintiffs’ response to RTC’s motion for summary judgment on their declaratory relief 25 claim is nothing more than a regurgitation of the meritless arguments they assert throughout 26 their brief. They provide no evidence to support their various requests for declaratory relief.

27 RTC is entitled to judgment as a matter of law.

28 ///

1 VII. CONCLUSION

2 Plaintiffs have presented no evidence to demonstrate the existence of a genuine issue 3 of material fact on any of their claims. RTC is entitled to judgment as a matter of law on all 4 claims.

John and Sonnia,

Thank you for your call today. It was a pleasure speaking with you. I have attached four maps to show you what we are proposing regarding your property.

The first attachment is labeled "PE" which is the permanent easement on the corner of 4th Street and Parker. It is 68 SF.

The second attachment is labeled "PUE" which is the utility easement on the southeast corner of your property. It is 584 SF but only 5 +/- feet wide at the widest point.

The third attachment is labeled "TCE" which is the temporary easement.

Lastly, I didn't mention it on the phone but I believe we are going to request access to the main parking area of the property. This is solely for your benefit to tie the driveway into 4th street, address grade issues, upgrade asphalt/curbing, etc. This last map labeled "full ROW map" shows this area in purple and will be completely voluntary and temporary on your part as the RTC will not compel you to allow us access. I will get you more information on this so you better understand the benefits to you will be.

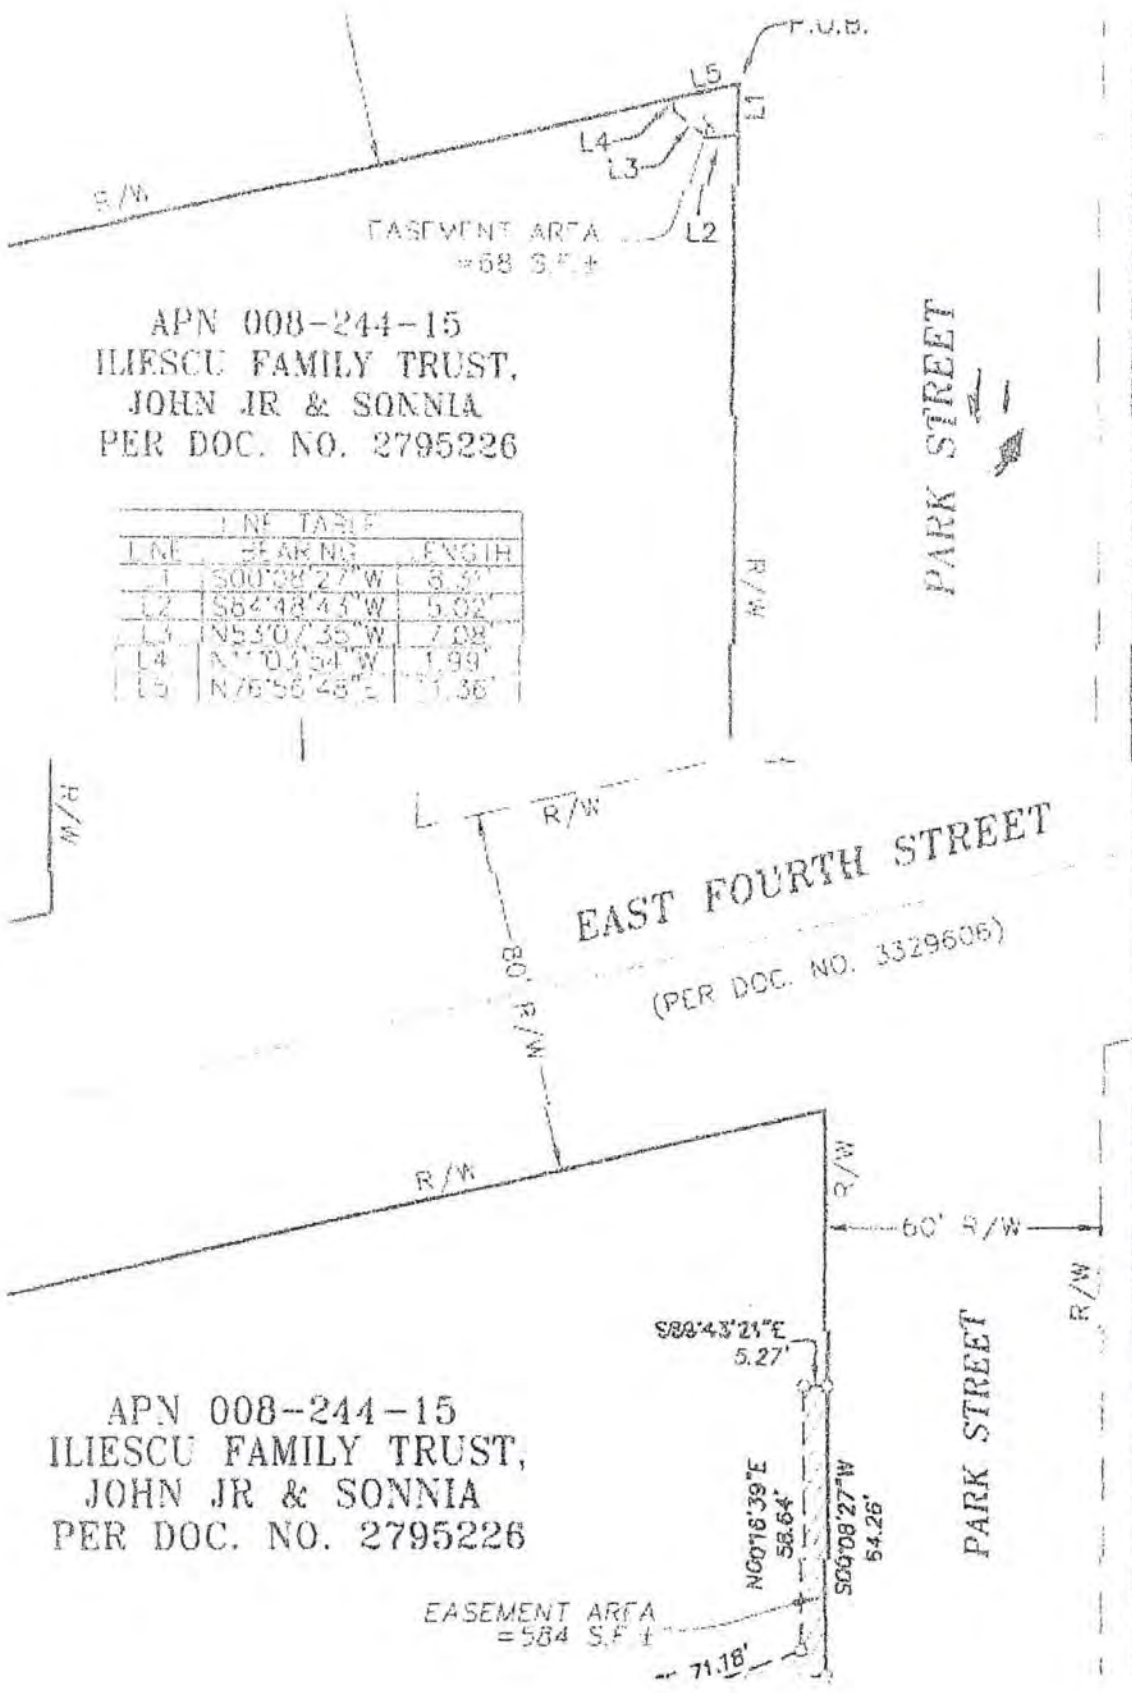

Please feel free to contact me at any time should you have additional questions.

Thank you.

1 1. Real Parties in Interest are the current fee simple owners of real property at 2 issue in this litigation and, as such, have the authority to enter into the aforementioned
3 stipulation with RTC through their attorney, C. Nicholas Pereos, Esq.

4 2. This case involves the RTC's exercise of its power of eminent domain for 5 the purpose of acquiring the permanent easement, the public utility easement and the 6 temporary construction easement defined as "the Property" in the Stipulation and described 7 in detail in Exhibit 1 to the Stipulation, related to RTC's construction of the 4th
8 Street/Prater Way Complete Street and BRT Project, or "the Project." The Court 9 incorporates the definitions and descriptions of the Project set forth in the Stipulation by 10 reference in this order.

11 3. The use for which the Property sought to be condemned is a public use
12 authorized by law, and the taking thereof is necessary for such use. RTC has complied 13 with all statutory conditions precedent to instituting this action and seeking immediate 14 occupancy pending judgment. Immediate entry upon and possession of the Property
15 sought to be condemned are required so that the construction of the Project may proceed 16 in an orderly manner without delay or loss in utilization of construction time and/or 17 without unnecessary cost and expense to the condemning agency.

18 4. NRS 37.090 and 37.100 provide this Court with authority to enter an order 19 allowing RTC access to the Property sought to be condemned at any time after the 20 commencement of suit and pending entry of judgment, to do such work thereon as may be 21 required for the Project according to its nature.

22 5. For purposes of this Order only, and subject to the terms of the Stipulation
23 concerning Defendants' objection to Reese Perkins' appraisal, the Court finds that, 24 pursuant to NRS 37.100(4), the value of the Property sought to be obtained and/or 25 temporary utilized during construction plus damages is $2,030.00.

26 ...

28

1 Based on the foregoing, and with good cause appearing, IT IS HEREBY 2 ORDERED:

3 1. RTC may have immediate possession and occupancy of the Property, as 4 described in Exhibit 1 attached hereto, by depositing with the Clerk of this Court the sum
5 of $2,030.00 (the "Cash Deposit").

6 2. The Clerk of the Court shall deposit the Cash Deposit into an interest
7 bearing account for the benefit of Real Parties in Interest and/or any other party 8 determined to be entitled to those amounts.

9 3. Upon making the Cash Deposit, RTC may immediately enter upon and 10 occupy the Property and perform such work thereon as may be necessary to construct and 11 complete the Project;

12 4. RTC and Real Parties in Interest and their respective agents shall cooperate 13 so as to minimize interference between construction of the Project and Real Parties in 14 Interest's use of the remaining land of Real Parties in Interest on APN 008-244-15;

15 5. If Real Parties in Interest apply to withdraw the Cash Deposit, they shall 16 serve a notice on the parties in this action of the Application, giving each party 5 days 17 after service of such notice in which to file and serve objections to such withdrawal, if 18 any;

19 6. If any such objections to the Application are filed, the Court will set a date
20 and time for a hearing thereon.

21 IT IS HEREBY FURTHER ORDERED that this order shall become effective 22 upon RTC's deposit of the Cash Deposit with the Clerk of this Court.

STATUS HEARING

2:00 p.m. – Court convened via Zoom.

Michael Morrison, Esq., was present on behalf of Plaintiffs John & Sonnia Iliescu.
Dane Anderson, Esq., was present on behalf of Defendant RTC Washoe County.

Pursuant to the national and local COVID-19 emergency response that caused temporary closure of the courthouse located at 75 Court Street in Reno, Washoe County, Nevada, this hearing was conducted remotely. This Court and all participants appeared electronically via Zoom Webinar. This Court was physically located in Washoe County, Nevada.

COURT reviewed the procedural history of the case; the pending motions and issues in the case; and the Order Denying Motion for Sanctions filed on March 25, 2021. Counsel Morrison responded to the Court regarding the March 25th Order, noting that they have held a 16.1 conference and discussed some of the issues raised by the Court. Counsel Morrison further gave the Court information regarding the case, discovery issues, and lack of cooperation from counsel Anderson, noting that he is at a bit of a loss and of course the Defendants are ready for trial because they were allowed to get everything they needed and he has been foreclosed on getting what he needs; and he further indicated that he believes the March 25th Order got the case back on track, and he requested that the Court give the Plaintiffs consideration in this unusual situation where the Defendants were permitted to get everything they needed, and he has been foreclosed from doing anything.

COURT questioned counsel Morrison regarding the damage to the property. Counsel Morrison indicated that there is damage to the surface of the asphalt due to RTC's heavy trucks being parked there, and the Plaintiffs have asked RTC to move them. Counsel Morrison further advised the Court that Mr. Iliescu has consulted repair specialists and had people out to look at the damage, however the damage continues today; and he further indicated that Mr. Iliescu has determined that the repairs could be done and would be expensive, however stating that number today would be inappropriate.

COURT questioned counsel Morrison regarding how he has disclosed to the Defendants his method for calculating market value loss. Counsel Morrison indicated that expert opinions have been provided to the Defendants, but it was not timely, and that is why the Defendants are trying to keep that evidence out. Counsel Morrison further indicated that it is not that the Defendants did not know about the expert opinion, however RTC does not think the damage is their problem, and there will be evidence that RTC parked their vehicles and all other trucks from surrounding properties on Mr. Iliescu's property, noting that Mr. Iliescu has photos of the lot when it was clean and unmarked prior to RTC using it.

COURT advised respective counsel that he paused when he heard that counsel Morrison did not want to disclose the cost of the repairs, noting that the purpose of discovery and pretrial disclosures is to tell the Defendants what the cost would be to repair the property.

APPEARANCES-HEARING

4/27/2021

HONORABLE

Counsel Morrison advised the Court that he did have a conversation with counsel Anderson today regarding the bids, noting that they range from $40k to $70k just to restore the property.

DAVID A.

Upon questioning by the Court regarding the how the Plaintiffs are doing, counsel Morrison indicated that they are feeling better, however they are still not doing very good.

HARDY

At this point in the hearing, the Court took a very brief recess.

DEPT. NO. 15

Counsel Anderson responded to counsel Morrison, noting that first and foremost he wishes the Iliescu's the best, and he is sorry to hear they have had health problems.

M. Merkouris
(Clerk)

Counsel Anderson further indicated that if the parking lot can be repaired, there is no loss of value; he believes Apex gave an estimate for repairs, but it has not been disclosed yet; and he has received no appraisals other than what is in the file.

N. Alexander

Upon questioning by the Court, counsel Anderson indicated that his clients do not acknowledge that they damaged the lot, and they would testify at trial that the parking lot was damaged before they started using it.

(Reporter)

Counsel Anderson further advised the Court that this is a cost of repair to a parking lot case, but this not how it was pled, and the Complaint contains scorched earth claims; he agrees with counsel Morrison that the Plaintiffs should be leading this case; he became concerned that the Plaintiffs may not be able to testify at trial and that is why he requested early discovery; and he further gave the Court information regarding delays in the case, noting that stipulation went both ways and he never stopped counsel Morrison from obtaining discovery. Counsel Anderson further indicated that he resents the accusation that he has somehow hamstrung the Plaintiffs from getting the discovery they need, and he is at a loss as to why they would accuse him of perpetuating some scheme to stop them from obtaining discovery, noting that they have access to the lot and people who can evaluate the damage; he has filed a procedurally appropriate motion regarding the Plaintiffs' failure to comply with discovery deadlines and he would welcome oral arguments on the Motion for Summary Judgment.

Zoom

Upon questioning by the Court, counsel Anderson gave the Court information regarding the 16.1 conference and he summarized the discovery that has occurred to date, noting the Plaintiffs have not disclosed their damages or provided an expert report, and he is not obligated to prove their case for them.

Webinar

COURT questioned counsel Morrison regarding his argument that discovery still needs to be conducted, and that the Motion for Summary Judgment is premature.

Counsel Morrison gave the Court information regarding what discovery is still needed, and he replied to counsel Anderson.

Counsel Anderson further responded.

COURT advised respective counsel that oral arguments should be set, and discussion ensued regarding an acceptable date and time.

RENO, NEVADA; TUESDAY, APRIL 27, 2021, 2:00 P.M.
-o0o-

THE COURT: Hello. This is CV19-00459. This is the time set for really a status conference in the Iliescu versus Regional Transportation Commission dispute.

I want to talk for a moment, and then I'll invite counsel to bring to my attention anything they believe is important. I have read the file, including the motion for summary judgment, which was filed on March 9th, the two motions in limine, filed on March 9th regarding calculation of damages, computation of damages, and another motion in limine regarding expert witnesses. I have read the oppositions to the two motions in limine and the motion for summary judgment. None are submitted. None are ripe. There may be replies filed, but I want to know that I've read those.

I recently resolved a motion for what I considered case-ending sanctions, and that motion was analytically connected to rule compliance. And I thought then and I continue to think now that this case, if it is adjudicated before trial, should be reviewed in a more mainstream broader sense. So I anticipated that there

1 would be some motion for summary judgment, which there 2 is.

3 By my words, I'm not inviting that motion. I 4 just anticipate it, having seen this file for a while.
5 I'm aware of my August 19th order which prevents the 6 production of evidence not disclosed by June 30th.

7 I'm somewhat troubled when I read the 8 opposition to the motion for summary judgment and motions 9 in limine because there is this recurring theme that the 10 March 25th order -- this is my inference, this is not 11 expressly argued -- but my inference is that my March 12 25th order somehow dilutes rule compliance and instead 13 reauthorizes a meaningful disclosure.

14 It was not my intent to, for example, extend 15 a deadline for expert witnesses. It was not my intent to 16 enlarge rights which may have been extinguished by rule.
17 I just want there to be a fair and full opportunity to 18 present all issues before I consider whether the 19 plaintiff's failure to prosecute emasculates the 20 plaintiff's case essentially.

21 For example, there is the allegation that 22 there are costs to restore the property. I imagine those 23 are susceptible to an expert or some computation.
24 There's an allegation of loss of market value. That's 1 susceptible to expert and a computation of damages.

2 There's an allegation of loss of use, which I again 3 believe is susceptible to either expert or some 4 computation.

5 So this will be the last thing I say and then 6 I'll invite counsel to speak. I don't intend to relieve 7 the plaintiff of the consequences created by the 8 plaintiffs' delays. Whatever those consequences are, 9 I'll address in the motion. I just didn't want to simply 10 offer a case-ending sanction because of the Rule 16 11 issue.

12 I don't know what's going to be produced
13 between now and the close of discovery in a few weeks. I 14 don't know what has been produced since my March 25th 15 order. And so my thought is to hear from you today, and 16 then if you intend to follow a reply to these documents, 17 I would probably set oral arguments on the motion for 18 summary judgment. And within a week or two after they're 19 all submitted to me, I'll give the attorneys their very 20 best opportunity to persuade me. With that, that's 21 everything I want to say, I believe.

22 On behalf of the plaintiff, Mr. Morrison?

23 MR. MORRISON: Yes, sir. If I may, Your 24 Honor.

1 THE COURT: Yes.

2 MR. MORRISON: With respect to the Court's 3 order to appear and show compliance with that order, 4 Mr. Anderson and I have held a 16.1 conference and 5 discussed some of the same issues that you've raised, 6 Your Honor. But I did read your order not to emasculate 7 the protocols and procedures in the case but rather to 8 give the plaintiff an opportunity to be heard in light of 9 the fact that this was a very unusual case and one I've 10 never had in my whole time of practicing, Your Honor.

11 The case interrupted the flow of the 16.1 and 12 discovery by accommodating the defendant in a very 13 unusual way, but I wanted to show cooperation and good 14 faith in respect to what Mr. Anderson felt were exigent 15 circumstances, that being the health of Dr. Iliescu and 16 his wife and allow him to cut in line, so to speak, to in 17 essence do all of the discovery that he wanted and hold 18 up on all of the discovery that I wanted to do. That's 19 the way it was set up and that's the way it went forward, 20 Your Honor.

21 So at this juncture, Mr. Anderson, he may 22 have more discovery he wants to do. But the entire 23 thrust of his defense case has already been subjected to 24 the discovery process.

1 So he's sitting in what I would view 2 respectfully, Your Honor, as the cat perch seat because 3 he's got everything he wants or needs for this case and 4 has in essence said so in his pleadings, yet he's done
5 everything he can to insure that I can't move forward 6 with my case and give me some accommodation in respect to 7 what he has already done.

8 Now it's my turn to do those things, and 9 there's nothing but a lack of cooperation, quite 10 candidly, and an effort to try to foreclose the plaintiff 11 from doing its discovery in light of what's already 12 transpired.

13 So I'm at a bit of a loss from the standpoint 14 of what I view the defendant's case to be. Of course 15 they're set to go to trial. They were allowed free reign 16 to get everything they wanted from the plaintiff over the 17 course of months including hold depositions all the while 18 having me foreclosed from doing that because the 19 arrangement was that he would be allowed to do all of his 20 discovery but then we'd get back on a normal track which 21 hasn't until very recently and quite frankly, it was your 22 order, Your Honor, that I think put this case back on 23 track to allow the plaintiff to step in and take action 24 and conduct activities.

1 If defendant thinks there's more discovery to 2 be done, there's been no approach to it. And in fact, 3 there's been no mention of it. And the obvious reason is 4 because they've already got everything they want through 5 this unusual protocol of allowing the defendant to do all 6 of their discovery while the plaintiff was held in 7 abeyance in doing anything.

8 And so I read your order not to emasculate 9 the protocols and rules, Your Honor, but rather to reset 10 the parties in conjunction with those rules and the 11 highly unusual circumstance and protocol that has been 12 conducted heretofore in the discovery.

13 And so I think that I read those orders to 14 mean that the Court had recognized that there was an 15 imbalance and wanted to put it back on track from the 16 standpoint of telling the parties okay. Now we're going 17 to go forward with this, and you, plaintiff, hold a 16.1.

18 That conveyed to me, Your Honor, very 19 respectfully, that you were going to put this back on 20 track and we were going back to the start of what should 21 have been done and conducting it that way so that in 22 essence, this case really didn't come into focus for both 23 parties until your order came out addressing the issue 24 about what had happened in the past and paying deference

1 to the myriad health issues that arose between 2 Dr. Iliescu, his wife and myself.

3 And so I don't view this as a case where it's 4 now time to take the only evidence that's been produced 5 and make a decision on it. I think, Your Honor, that 6 that would serve to emasculate the plaintiffs' rights 7 because if nothing can be done by the plaintiff other 8 than sit back and stand in a corner and take the hits, 9 then that of course would impact the due process rights 10 and opportunity to be heard.

11 The only way there's an opportunity to be 12 heard in my view, Your Honor, is for your order to 13 represent a reset of the protocols and rules such that 14 they start out with everybody on the same starting box 15 and move forward.

16 Now, the defendant's already had a lap around 17 the track while I was standing at the blocks. And in my 18 opinion, Your Honor, I think that Your Honor did the 19 perfect thing. I viewed it as very creative to say okay.
20 I've seen all of the things that have gone on, but this 21 thing, this case has to follow the rules and the 22 procedures. And so there's going to be a reset on the 23 16.1 and necessarily, we would move forward just as 16.1 24 Rules provide, albeit on a shortened course because the 1 plaintiff is really the one who should be leading this 2 charge but deferred out of courtesy to the defendant to 3 run helter-skelter through the entire case and getting 4 anything and everything they wanted.

5 There seriously cannot be anything that they 6 wanted that they haven't gotten from the plaintiff during 7 their long-leash availability of doing discovery and 8 finding anything and everything that the Iliescus had.
9 And I respectfully would request the Court to give 10 consideration to that circumstance, as highly unusual and 11 bizarre as it may be where the defendant gets to lead the 12 case and then make some efforts to foreclose the 13 plaintiff from doing anything.

14 The truth is that those documents that were 15 subject of a motion in limine were actually previously 16 produced to the defendants. During the time when the 17 defendants were seeking to put an emphasis on their 18 taking over the discovery lead on the basis that 19 Dr. Iliescu was ill and so was Sonja, so they wanted to 20 get those in right away.

21 But after that was done, there was no 22 consideration or cooperation with respect to the 23 plaintiffs' rights which had been, in my view, 24 emasculated; certainly thrown off track by protocol that

1 was followed, and it's a courtesy that was granted by me 2 to the defense team because I understood what they were 3 saying and wanted to allow them to do what they thought 4 they needed to do which I think is now being used as a 5 sword against the Iliescus.

6 And I look back on it and say gees. Maybe 7 that wasn't such a smart thing to do as courteous as it 8 might have been because now, there's been a turn of 9 events, and I'm in essence on defense with the plaintiff 10 -- excuse me -- the defendant armed with all of the 11 necessary weapons, and now I'm going to be punished for 12 what I've done. And I just think that your order gave a 13 perfect deference to the parties and say okay. We're 14 going to get this case back on track, and we're going to 15 do it through plaintiff doing a 16.1.

16 And I'll rest and reserve any time the Court 17 would afford me at this point, Your Honor. Thank you 18 very much.

19 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Morrison. I have 20 a question for you, if I might. A few questions. In 21 Nevada, we have notice pleading, and plaintiffs can 22 allege whatever they have is a good-cause basis to 23 allege, and then we proceed to some type of discovery.
24 Whatever coherent or inherent way it unfolds, there's 1 discovery which produces the evidence underlying the 2 claims.

3 I'm going to ask you just by way of proffer 4 not to argue the evidence, but identify the evidence for 5 me. I acknowledge that the attached depositions were 6 excerpts, so I didn't read the depositions of the 7 plaintiffs in their entirety just the excerpted pages.

8 You have alleged -- your clients have alleged 9 that there is physical damage to the property that is the 10 non-easement portion of the property. Is that correct?

11 MR. MORRISON: That's exactly the case, Your 12 Honor.

13 THE COURT: What is that injury to the 14 property? I know that's separate from loss of use or 15 nuisance, but what specific injury will the evidence show 16 exists on this property?

17 MR. MORRISON: Well, it will undeniably show 18 the damage to the surface of the asphalt with all of the 19 trucks from the RTC placed on there.

20 Now, what's not clear but would come out in 21 evidence, Your Honor, is that Dr. Iliescu asked the RTC 22 to move those trucks. There are many pictures that show 23 massive construction trucks. And the only thing the RTC 24 was given the right to do was take an eight-foot

1 easement.

2 THE COURT: Hold on, Mr. Morrison. You're 3 arguing it for me, and I'm trying to keep this very 4 confined.

5 MR. MORRISON: Okay. I'm sorry.

6 THE COURT: No, you're a skilled advocate, 7 and I don't want you to argue it just yet because there 8 is trespass as an allegation, and I'm not focusing on 9 that. There's loss of use. Maybe the Iliescus were 10 barred from entering their property because there were 11 obstructions. I'm not focusing on that.

12 I'm focusing on the actual injury to the 13 property. And now you've said there's injury because of 14 the big RTC trucks. Is there gouging in the pavement?
15 Is there discoloration? Are there oil spills? What 16 specific injury exists on this property?

17 MR. MORRISON: There's very clear and obvious 18 damage to the surface of the asphalt because the weight 19 of these trucks, many tons and many trucks weighing many 20 tons sat on the asphalt, and RTC used it as a convenient 21 parking spot for all of their construction --

22 THE COURT: Okay.

23 MR. MORRISON: -- work around it, and so it's 24 caved in.

1 THE COURT: All right. So we have 2 undulation. We have uneven rolling of the pavement 3 caused by these heavy trucks.

4 MR. MORRISON: Correct.

5 THE COURT: And how have you valued the costs 6 to repair that property?

7 MR. MORRISON: Well, Dr. Iliescu's talked to 8 some repair specialists on that issue, and I don't 9 remember frankly at this point if Mr. Anderson inquired 10 into that during his deposition, but --

11 THE COURT: Well, just stay with me for a 12 moment. I'm trying to do this sequentially. Because 13 Dr. Iliescu can testify as to what he observes and 14 certainly what he experienced on some of the other 15 issues, but he will not be -- that I can imagine -- he 16 will not be an expert witness as to the cause of the 17 damage and the restoration costs of the damage.

18 Have you disclosed who will be sitting on 19 this witness stand to provide that testimony about the 20 cause and the costs of repair?

21 MR. MORRISON: I frankly don't remember
22 whether Dr. Iliescu disclosed that in his deposition. I 23 know that he had some numbers that he'd discussed at 24 least with me and that he had had professionals out there

1 to look at those to look at those repairs, but even when 2 he did that, there was still damage that continued to 3 occur as a result of their being these broken sections 4 where the supporting ground was exposed and being washed 5 out. And so it continues. It continues today to get 6 worse, and that's just the nature of that kind of injury 7 to asphalt and ground.

8 But yes, he has looked into that and he has 9 made a determination that it could be done and it was not 10 inexpensive, and I don't think it would be appropriate 11 for me to throw out a number to the Court at this point, 12 but those were determined by Dr. Iliescu. And like I 13 said, I don't know if he testified to that in his 14 deposition or whether that was a conversation that he had 15 with myself and his wife.

16 THE COURT: Let me turn the same questioning 17 to loss of market value. When I see value decreases, for 18 example, the reduction in value of the property as a 19 whole or the value of construction, temporary 20 construction easements, they're always third-party expert 21 appraisers who establish values.

22 How have you disclosed to the defendant your 23 method and calculation of market value loss?

24 MR. MORRISON: Well, we've provided the

1 defendant with an expert appraisal, an expert opinion on 2 it. It just didn't get to the defendants on a timely 3 basis, and that's why the defense respectfully was 4 working very hard to make sure that evidence didn't get 5 in. And that's what occurred in the motion in limine.

6 THE COURT: Thank you for --

7 MR. MORRISON: I'm sorry, Your Honor. But 8 I'd be remiss if I didn't clarify what I think I misspoke 9 about. It wasn't that the defendants didn't know about 10 it at all. They knew about all of the damage because 11 there were a wide and varied number of people, RTC 12 employees and other people, who had been out there and 13 seen what had taken place. It's just that the RTC felt 14 like it was not their problem.

15 And so it's not that there aren't witnesses 16 to it, and those people are disclosed because when 17 Mr. Anderson asked Dr. Iliescu if he ever complained to 18 these RTC employees, he described it and it was a very 19 callous atmosphere that was presented by the RTC with 20 respect to where they were going to put their trucks and 21 so forth because there will be evidence -- if there's a 22 trial in the matter -- that the RTC parked not only the 23 vehicles that were being used for the construction of 24 just one on this one eight-foot easement that was on the 1 curb, by the way. It wasn't at the parking area. But 2 there will be testimony that says that the RTC parked not 3 only the vehicles that were being used which were minimal 4 at the Iliescu property, but they parked their trucks for 5 all surrounding projects that they were working on and 6 used it as like a storage yard. And we've got photos for 7 that.

8 Now, those photos have been timely produced, 9 and those photos show damage to the property.
10 Dr. Iliescu recently found or it was provided to him 11 photos that showed the properties being absolutely 12 unmarked, absolutely levelled and clean before the RTC 13 went in. And that was done in connection with another 14 project that Dr. Iliescu was working on, but there's no 15 doubt about the evidence and the testimony and the people 16 who have been disclosed in the deposition who would come 17 in and say what happened to that.

18 THE COURT: So, Mr. Morrison, I want to go 19 back to one of your previous answers. I must admit that 20 I caught my breath a little bit when you said that you 21 didn't want to disclose the costs of repair at this point 22 in the presence of Mr. Anderson. Those weren't your 23 exact words, but you essentially said Dr. Iliescu had 24 conversations about the cost, but it would be

1 inappropriate for me to disclose to the Court at this 2 time.

3 And as soon as you said that, I thought well, 4 the purpose of pretrial discovery and production is to 5 set forth the details underlying the claimed amount.
6 When did you anticipate telling the defendant about the 7 costs to restore the property?

8 MR. MORRISON: I actually had a discussion 9 with Mr. Anderson today about it. He was discussing with 10 me well -- and these were all in the nature of settlement 11 discussions that would be inadmissible, but I told 12 Mr. Anderson that Dr. Iliescu had gotten appraisals for 13 it, and Mr. Anderson asked if I could get him those 14 written amounts because he thought he could take that to 15 his client to discuss a settlement of the case and the 16 settlement being only what it cost to repair. And so 17 that's how the topic came up.

18 And I told him that Dr. Iliescu had gotten 19 some bids and that they ran somewhere -- and I can't 20 remember the numbers, but that it was in the neighborhood 21 of $40, $70, in that range of dollars, and that would be 22 what the RTC would have to come up with because 23 Dr. Iliescu frankly just wants the repairs done.

24 THE COURT: How is Dr. Iliescu and his wife

1 regarding their health?

2 MR. MORRISON: Not good.

3 THE COURT: Okay.

4 MR. MORRISON: Better. They're better than 5 they were during the last many months, but he's going on 6 95. He's losing vision in one of his eyes now, and he's 7 had a lot of surgeries.

8 And as tough the as that guy is, I mean, he's 9 a World War II frogman, the pre before that's what the 10 SEALS became in the Navy. And he grew up on the south 11 side of Chicago. He's a tough guy and he fights for the 12 everything including especially his life and the health 13 of his wife, and so he's very resolute in his intentions 14 to keep living and to enjoy his life with his wife. He's 15 got a very large family as well.

16 And so I see his health going down, but I 17 don't see it going out because of the way that he fights 18 back. He's been down and out and people have had him 19 counted out -- I can't count the times. But that's his 20 posture.

21 He is willing to do whatever he's supposed to 22 do, health permitting, to appear at the case and testify, 23 and of course he's aware that his deposition can be used 24 in his absence. But he has come across some other people

1 and other photos that don't replace or do anything but 2 enhance the descriptions that he gave about the damage to 3 the property.

4 THE COURT: Okay. So I'm going to give an 5 equal amount of time to Mr. Anderson. The first part 6 will be uninterrupted, and then I might have questions.

7 Mr. Anderson, I just ask you to pause for 8 about 60 seconds while the reporter takes a minute and 9 please be mindful of your pace. In fact, I'm going to 10 get up and refill my cup of water which will take about 11 sixty seconds, and I think that will be a great duration 12 of our break.

13 MR. ANDERSON: I'll do the same.

14 THE COURT: Mr. Anderson, you may begin.

15 MR. ANDERSON: Thank you, Your Honor.

16 Mr. Morrison had quite a lot to say, and I'm not sure if 17 there's any particular order in which the Court wants me 18 to address it. I may jump around a little bit, but I 19 want to try to address everything.

20 First and foremost, I wish the Iliescus the 21 best of health and sorry to hear that they and 22 Mr. Morrison had problems. The issue of costs to repair 23 and loss of market value were addressed in their 24 depositions.

1 Both of them agreed that if the parking lot 2 can be repaired then there really is no loss of value 3 because it will be restored to whatever value it may or 4 may not have had prior to those repairs.

5 With respect to the costs of repair, I can't 6 remember if it was Dr. Iliescu or Mrs. Iliescu testified 7 that they had gotten an estimate from I think it was Apex 8 Concrete or something of that nature, and that that would 9 be provided. I've not seen a copy of it. Certainly, it 10 wasn't disclosed as part of an expert disclosure in this 11 case.

12 So with respect to, I guess, Mr. Morrison's 13 comment that I've received a copy of some sort of expert 14 estimate, that's just not accurate. There was maybe one 15 page or a cover page of an appraisal that was included 16 with the documents that are before the Court or that are 17 in the Court file. Those are the only documents I've 18 seen in this case. So whatever is in the court file, I 19 think it was attached to my motion to preclude them from 20 offering documents that were not disclosed prior to June 21 30th of 2020. That's all I have from them.

22 THE COURT: Mr. Anderson, did your clients 23 acknowledge there is some injury to the property that is 24 the cause for repair?

1 MR. ANDERSON: No, Your Honor. My client
2 would testify as to their observation that the parking 3 lot had damage to it before they even started work. And 4 Dr. Iliescu testified that he acquired the property, I 5 think, 20 years ago roughly, and that someone owned it 6 before that. And to his knowledge, the property has 7 never been resurfaced since its construction. I believe 8 that's his testimony. Don't hold me to it, but 9 basically, it's never been resurfaced or repaired or 10 maintained to his knowledge.

11 So I kind of want to back up a little bit 12 because I think really this case, at its essence, is a 13 cost of repair to the parking lot type case, but that's 14 now how it was pleaded. The original complaint 15 contained, I think, 15 claims for relief or 12 claims for 16 relief ranging from conspiracy to intentional infliction 17 of distress. The Iliescus were asking for, I believe, 18 intentional infliction damages, medical damages, you 19 know, all kinds of really scorch-the-earth type claims.

20 And I agree with Mr. Morrison on one point, 21 which is the plaintiff should be leading a charge in this 22 case. It's the plaintiff's burden to move a case 23 forward. And he filed this complaint, I think, in 24 January or February of 2019 and didn't serve RTC

1 initially in the required period, asked the Court for an 2 extension, which was granted, and RTC eventually 3 appeared.

4 And while we were doing these successive 5 motions to dismiss to sort of whittle this case down to 6 its essence, I became concerned that the Iliescus might 7 not be around to testify as to what they observed, and I 8 asked Mr. Morrison to conduct early discovery.

9 He somehow is suggesting that in doing that, 10 I was sort of perpetrating some scheme to preclude the 11 plaintiffs from obtaining discovery or from obtaining the 12 information that we need but not what he needs. And I 13 want to read the Court the language from the stipulation 14 to conduct discovery that was filed on October 30th of 15 2019.

16 And basically, the parties agreed that "the 17 parties" -- and I put that in quotes -- "may conduct 18 discovery prior to holding the 16.1 conference." It was 19 not a unilateral stipulation that the Court approved. It 20 was bilateral. It goes both ways. I never told 21 Mr. Morrison not to conduct discovery. He could have 22 done it by way of the stipulation. They filed their 23 answer a few months later, and we could have held the 24 16.1 conference in the ordinary course and we did not.

1 It's not defendant's burden to do that. And 2 so I guess I resent, frankly, a little bit, the 3 accusation that I've somehow hamstrung them from moving 4 their case forward or obtaining the discovery that they 5 need. And quite frankly, I would say that most of what 6 they need to prove their case is within their control.
7 They have access to the parking lot. They have access to 8 people who can evaluate the cost of repair, and we simply 9 haven't received that.

10 And so while it's unusual, yes, to do
11 discovery prior to holding the 16.1, there was never a 12 discussion that he couldn't proceed with the ordinary 13 course once the defendant -- once RTC filed its answer 14 after the two motions to dismiss were considered and 15 decided.

16 And so I guess I'm at a loss of being accused 17 of sort of perpetrating a scheme to I think he said put 18 them in a corner and get all of the discovery that the 19 RTC needs because that just wasn't the case. I don't 20 think there's any evidence to prove that. And if this is 21 the basis of what's going to be it sounds like a motion 22 for a continuance, then I would really appreciate 23 obtaining a copy of the transcript from today because I 24 wasn't quite frankly ready to address all of those issues

1 at this time.

2 I disagree with Mr. Morrison's belief that 3 the Court's order denying 16.1 sanctions somehow equates 4 to going back to the starting blocks.

5 I appreciate the fact that he and his clients 6 have had health issues during the pandemic. It's been 7 difficult for everyone for a myriad of reasons, but I 8 have a client to represent too. And although it's a 9 public entity, it may not be as sympathetic and Dr. and 10 Mrs. Iliescu, it doesn't change my duty to represent them 11 to the best of my ability. And so I've been pursuing 12 what I believe to be procedurally appropriate motions 13 based on failure to comply with discovery deadlines.

14 And it's not like these deadlines were a 15 secret. We stipulated to them, and the Court put it in 16 its scheduling order. So the failure to provide an 17 expert report by February 29th, in my mind, is fatal to 18 their case and in my mind has nothing to do with my 19 attempting to obtain discovery prior to 16.1 conference.

20 So bear with me, Your Honor. So with respect 21 to the pending motions and yes, I'm going to be filing 22 reply briefs by the end of this week, basically, that's 23 the essence of my reply is that that order, the March 24 25th order, does not reset the clock. It does not

1 relieve them of prior procedural failures, and we'll be 2 submitting those this week, and I would welcome oral 3 argument on the motion for summary judgment as well, I 4 guess, as an opportunity to present a more organized 5 thoughtful response to some of the things Mr. Morrison 6 has said today.

7 THE COURT: So, Mr. Anderson, I ordered that 8 plaintiffs must conduct a Rule 16B conference within 30 9 days of March 25th and that the 16B conference include 10 the meaningful exchange of information. Did that occur?

11 MR. ANDERSON: Like Mr. Morrison said, we had 12 a good discussion about the prospect of settlement, which 13 is one of the requirements of a 16.1 conference. I told 14 him my view is that this case is at a procedural place 15 where it would make it difficult for me to recommend to 16 my client that RTC pay an extraordinary amount to settle 17 it, but please get me whatever information you can so I 18 can get it to them to evaluate.

19 As it was a settlement discussion, in my 20 mind, it doesn't waive RTC's right to pursue the motions 21 it's pursuing. I did mention to Mr. Morrison from the 22 outset that I don't think that where we are procedurally 23 means that we're going to start exchanging witness lists 24 and the other things that are required by 16.1 because 1 we're essentially two or three months from trial and the 2 discovery deadline is a month away.

3 And so yes, a discussion did take place about 4 that. And I'm not sure we reached any -- well, I know we 5 didn't reach an agreement as to how that would take place 6 and obviously the Court can see that if we have a 7 different viewpoint on that issue.

8 THE COURT: Did the defendant disclose along 9 the way documents that would otherwise be required for 10 disclosure at a 16 conference?

11 MR. ANDERSON: Your Honor, we did not do any 12 formal disclosures because we never had the 16.1 13 conference and because I never received any sort of 14 discovery request from Mr. Morrison. He didn't serve any 15 requests for production of documents. He didn't serve 16 any interrogatories. So no, we haven't responded to any 17 discovery requests.

18 THE COURT: Did you summarize the discovery 19 that's occurred to date? I know that there are 20 depositions of Mr. and Ms. Iliescu. What other discovery 21 has occurred?

22 MR. ANDERSON: Pursuant to the stipulation,
23 Your Honor, I served request for production of documents 24 on the plaintiffs, and I believe interrogatories on the 1 plaintiffs gosh, I want to say it was back in 2019, maybe 2 early 2020. And what was produced was the documents that 3 are included in my motion to exclude evidence other than 4 what was produced prior to June 20th of 2020.

5 So basically, we received, I think, maybe 19 6 or 20 pages of documents from the plaintiffs in response 7 to that request for production none of which really set 8 forth any kind of computation of damages.

9 And so I guess it kind of gets back to this 10 whole point of being accused of kind of running 11 helter-skelter and doing all of this discovery. RTC 12 really hasn't done that much discovery. I think it was 13 just a request for production and took a couple of 14 depositions.

15 And the way I viewed it, you know, if they 16 can establish liability, what are the damages in this 17 case? And RTC doesn't have any burden to prove damages.
18 It doesn't have any burden to prove liability. It would 19 contest liability. But until they tell us what their 20 damages are and provide an expert report that we can 21 provide, I don't think we have any obligation to do 22 anything in terms of proving their case for them.

23 So, Your Honor, and I think I've addressed
24 most of what I want to do in terms of Mr. Morrison's

1 comments to the Court. And if the Court has any further 2 questions, I'm happy to address them.

3 THE COURT: Let me pause, please. I've 4 become a slow thinker, and I just want to reflect upon 5 what I've heard so far.

6 Mr. Morrison, you said -- and I know that the 7 motion for summary judgment is not set for arguments 8 today, so don't feel bad if I ask a question beyond the 9 scope.

10 MR. MORRISON: Certainly.

11 THE COURT: But one of the recurring themes 12 in your opposition is that there's still discovery to be 13 conducted, that the motion is premature. What discovery 14 do you anticipate conducting between now and the close of 15 discovery?

16 MR. MORRISON: Well, Your Honor, first of 17 all, I think that the rules for discovery, the spirit and 18 intent of the rules contemplates that at a 16.1 to 19 provide meaningful disclosure doesn't bring into focus a 20 determination as to whether that's relevant or whether 21 the RTC has a duty to provide any documents. They do.

22 They're supposed to provide, at the 16.1, 23 some level of production of information that would let me 24 know what they have and let me see what their case is

1 about. And that's what Mr. Anderson said that the RTC 2 didn't feel they had any obligation to produce anything 3 at the 16.1. And I just think that that is an example of 4 the way the RTC views this case and views the Iliescus.
5 They ran roughshod over them before, and now it's 6 perpetuated by RTC's refusal to give up any discovery at 7 the time of the 16.1.

8 Now the stuff that I think -- Let me back up 9 and get my thoughts, Your Honor, if you would give me a 10 chance.

11 THE COURT: Yes.

12 MR. MORRISON: I apologize to the Court.
13 Just losing my focus here. Oh. The way that I've always 14 viewed 16.1, and most lawyers I know seem to dovetail in 15 there without discussing it with anyone, is just the fact 16 that when there's a 16.1, the whole idea is that each 17 side gives up as much as they have to the other side, 18 good, bad or ugly.

19 And one of the things that I was hoping to 20 get out of the 16.1, a fundamental thing, Your Honor, was 21 a disclosure of what it is that RTC has that they're 22 going to present in the case if they have stuff to 23 support their defenses or against the plaintiffs' 24 evidence which was all produced, as Mr. Anderson

1 correctly noted, then at the 16.1 or before, I would have 2 an idea of what those documents were, and that would form 3 in my way of looking at it, Judge, I would take that 4 information from the 16.1 and extrapolate on that to find 5 out who said what and who was a witness to what, and 6 that's the exact position that I'm in at this point 7 because Dr. Iliescu and Sonja Iliescu testified that 8 there were people that they talked to and they could 9 describe what they looked like. They didn't know their 10 names. I think they did know one person's name. But 11 that would be the kind of thing that I'd expect to come 12 if not a 16.1, through some discovery.

13 And so one of the things that I'd like to do 14 is take the deposition of whoever from the RTC was tasked 15 with being in charge of that operation.

16 THE COURT: Have you asked the RTC to 17 disclose who was in charge of that project?

18 MR. MORRISON: No, I haven't asked them that, 19 Your Honor. I was going to wait until after the 16.1 to 20 see what was produced so that I could limit what those 21 depositions were and what the discovery was because the 22 discovery really needs to focus on what they were doing 23 out there and why they were there and how long they were 24 there and take a look at that versus the ability that

1 they have to produce -- to conduct their work on the 2 easements that they acquired from the Iliescus.

3 I mean, they paid $2,000 to get an easement
4 on the property there on 4th Street. And the doctor 5 didn't try to fight them on that issue. It was what was 6 determined to be paid on that work, and the doctor didn't 7 feel like disputing that because it was a worthwhile 8 improvement that the RTC felt they needed to make to 9 further their performance.

10 And so that eight-foot easement is something 11 that I'd like to talk to someone in charge about and what 12 kind of equipment was required to support that. And very 13 significantly, what other projects was Dr. Iliescu's 14 property supporting from the standpoint of trucks and 15 cars and the employees of the RTC themselves were using 16 it as their parking lot for this project.

17 And there's a good reason for that because in 18 that area of 4th Street, there is no parking, and so it 19 would be an inconvenience for them to park blocks away or 20 whatever it would take -- I have no idea. But certainly, 21 that kind of information will come out of a deposition of 22 person most knowledgeable or the person who is designated 23 as the chief out there. And I think that the disclosure 24 of something by the RTC would, I mean, I expect it. I'm 1 just postulating that it's something that anyone in a 2 similar position to me would look for and expect at the 3 16.1.

4 And so without having that disclosure from 5 the RTC, it makes the plaintiffs' job more difficult -- 6 not impossible certainly, because I can go other 7 directions to get that information, I think and hope, but 8 in any event, I'm in the same position that I was in back 9 many months ago before the depositions of the Iliescus 10 started.

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 MR. MORRISON: And I thought that the 16.1 13 would serve as a discovery platform for both sides. And 14 so when the plaintiffs had those depositions and the 15 documents were produced and there were actually 16 additional documents produced because it's my 17 understanding that Ms. Iliescu dropped some documents off 18 at RTC, and she didn't talk to me about it. She didn't 19 catalog anything. It was just documents that she found 20 and took them over there.

21 And the Iliescus have been an open book on 22 this. There's been no kind of hesitation or reluctance 23 to produce anything that they have. And they've been 24 looking to dig out photos, and they've found some 1 additional photos in Dr. Iliescu's files which they're 2 not that organized.

3 He hasn't practiced medicine for a while, and 4 he's got them spread out in a couple of buildings that he 5 has. For a long time, they were in the Nixon house, and 6 I don't need to go into that, but there were documents 7 that were stored in many places due to the Iliescus, 8 their habits and business operations. So there's nothing 9 been withheld. And if there's something else, it will be 10 provided.

11 And certainly, this issue of the -- and I 12 didn't remember it as I represented to the Court, but 13 there was some discussion about the value of that, and I 14 also agree with what Mr. Anderson said that it was Apex.
15 I think that's accurate.

16 THE COURT: Okay. All right. I hope 17 everybody's had an opportunity to be heard.

18 MR. ANDERSON: Your Honor, may I briefly just 19 address some of the things Mr. Morrison said regarding 20 the disclosure issue?

21 THE COURT: Yes.

22 MR. ANDERSON: Thank you. My anticipation 23 was we were going to hold the 16.1, which we did this 24 morning. We talked about the issues I discussed. I'm 1 happy to provide, you know, he didn't really identify 2 what disclosures he wants. I can check with my client, 3 but I can tell you one thing I know they don't have is an 4 estimate of the cost of repairing the parking lot which 5 goes to the damages component of plaintiffs' claim.

6 My clients do not have that. They haven't 7 done a cost of repair analysis on a retail value like 8 they're going to need for this case, and so whatever I 9 can provide to Mr. Morrison regarding trucks being parked 10 on the parking lot, I will. But he's not going to get an 11 estimate of the cost of repair from us. That's on the 12 plaintiff to provide.

13 They've had the ability since RTC filed its 14 answer back in March of last year to conduct the 16.1, to 15 do whatever discovery. In fact, they could have done 16 discovery as far back as December of '19, and they 17 haven't done it. And so their damages component depends 18 on expert analysis of the cost of repair. They haven't 19 timely disclosed that.

20 And so in my mind, whatever information I 21 provide from the RTC side regarding trucks parking on 22 their parking lot is not going to cure that defect in 23 their case. And that's not on me. That's on them. And 24 that's all I have to say, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Okay. I hope everyone had an 2 opportunity to be heard.

3 Mr. Anderson, you indicated you would be 4 filing replies to your motions sometime later this week.

5 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: I would like to set oral 7 arguments on those motions so that counsel have an 8 opportunity to specifically prepare their arguments, both 9 for and in opposition to the motion. I am looking at 10 oral arguments either Tuesday or Friday of next week.

11 MR. ANDERSON: I was going to say Tuesday, 12 the 4th would be preferable for me.

13 MR. MORRISON: On Tuesday, I have two 14 separate tests that are going to be run on me at the VA 15 that will start -- they start at 8:00 o'clock, and 16 they'll go for, they think, 11:00 or 12:00.

17 THE COURT: Can you be prepared to argue on 18 Wednesday if you have those personal appointments on 19 Tuesday?

20 MR. MORRISON: I certainly have the time, 21 Your Honor. Frankly, I do. I don't know what the effect 22 of those tests are going to be. Sometimes I feel like 23 I've been ripped and zipped after them, and these are 24 going to be active tests for various things. And I don't

1 know what it will be like, but maybe --

2 THE COURT: I can give you two hours
3 Wednesday early afternoon. I can give you -- I actually 4 want to give you two hours Thursday morning. Would you 5 be more comfortable with Thursday, Mr. Morrison?

6 MR. MORRISON: I sure would, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Mr. Anderson, how do you look for 8 9:30 Thursday? Excuse me. 9:30 on Thursday, May 6th?

9 MR. ANDERSON: And that will work, fine.

10 THE COURT: It has to be two hours because I 11 have a noon CLE that I have to prepare for and then 12 attend, so 9:30 to 11:30. I would start with the moving 13 party. I would ask you to focus specifically on the 14 standards under Rule 56 and your very best arguments to 15 include a foreshadowing of the evidence that exists in 16 this file.

17 I want to know if there's a genuine issue of 18 fact. I think there are some issues about a contract, 19 existence of a contract, a violation of the implied 20 covenant within a contract. There are some things to 21 argue about.

22 So, Mr. Morrison, will your schedule allow 23 you to begin arguments at 9:30 on Thursday morning?

24 MR. MORRISON: Yes, Your Honor. Thank you.

1 THE COURT: Mr. Anderson, make sure
2 everything is filed by Friday, by close of business close 3 of business on Friday.

4 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, Your Honor. It will be.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you, Counsel. Good 6 to hear from you and see you next week.

ORAL ARGUMENTS

2:03 p.m. – Court convened via Zoom.

Plaintiffs' counsel, Michael Morrison, Esq., was not present.

Dane Anderson, Esq., and Bronagh Kelly, Esq., were present on behalf of Defendant RTC Washoe County.

Pursuant to the national and local COVID-19 emergency response that caused temporary closure of the courthouse located at 75 Court Street in Reno, Washoe County, Nevada, this hearing was conducted remotely. This Court and all participants appeared electronically via Zoom Webinar. This Court was physically located in Washoe County, Nevada.

COURT noted that this is the time set to address the Motion for Summary Judgment, filed March 9, 2021, and counsel Morrison is not present.

COURT reviewed the case and Motion for Summary Judgment, giving counsel Anderson some of his preliminary thoughts on the matter.

Counsel Anderson advised the Court that even though counsel Morrison is not present, he will not argue that the claims have been abandoned and he would like to proceed on the merits of the Motion for Summary Judgment.

Counsel Anderson presented argument in support of the Motion for Summary Judgment. Counsel Anderson further gave the Court information regarding the early discovery conducted in this case, noting it was bilateral, and he in no way prevented counsel Morrison from conducting discovery or proving his case; and he further argued that RTC is entitled to summary judgment on all claims.

Discussion ensued between the Court and counsel Anderson regarding the Motion for Summary Judgment and the stipulation regarding discovery and abandonment of some of the claims.

COURT set forth findings of facts and conclusions of law.

COURT GRANTED the Motion for Summary Judgment, filed March 9, 2021; counsel Anderson shall prepare the order.

Counsel Anderson inquired about the two pending Motions in Limine.

COURT DENIED the two pending Motions in Limine as moot.

3:05 p.m. – Court adjourned.

3 THE COURT: Let the record reflect this 4 session of the court is taking place on Wednesday, 5 May 12th, 2021, and is being held remotely because 6 of the closure of the courthouse at 75 Court Street 7 in Reno, Washoe County, Nevada, due to the national 8 and local emergency caused by COVID-19. The court 9 and all the participants are appearing through 10 simultaneous audio-visual transmission. I'm 11 physically located in Reno, Washoe County, Nevada, 12 which is the site of today's court session.

14 THE COURT: We're going on the record in 15 CV19-00459. Mr. Morrison is not here. This is the 16 time set for arguments on the motion for summary 17 judgment. I'm going to begin with some of my 18 thoughts, Mr. Anderson, and let you just complete 19 our record.

20 As I read the complaint and moving papers, 21 I'm unaware of what contract has been breached, and 22 inseparable from the existence or identification of 23 that contract, the claim breach of the Implied 24 Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing appears to 1 be -- it will rise or fall according to the 2 existence of that contract. I'm unaware of any 3 party or person or entity that is part of this civil 4 conspiracy. I'm unaware of any duty that is owed 5 under a negligence theory. That duty's not been 6 identified, so there appears to be some traction in 7 the motion for summary judgment.

8 I'm aware of, and review in almost every 9 case, concerns about computation of damages. I 10 really didn't understand the relevance or the role 11 of the broker's price opinion that is referenced in 12 the discovery -- the plaintiffs' discovery responses 13 and attached as Exhibit 1 to the opposition, so the 14 role of that broker's price opinion is intriguing to 15 the court.

16 You have cited a 2006 decision from a court 17 of appeals in the state of Washington alleging that 18 there must be damages as an element of trespass.
19 I've been unable to find any similar support in the 20 state of Nevada. In fact, Nevada has acknowledged 21 there is no civil trespass statute and the mere fact 22 of trespass may or may not be viable without 23 damages, so I'm uncertain about that.

24 Declaratory relief will rise or fall, I

1 believe, based upon the arguments in evidence before 2 the court.

3 I'm struggling with the absence of genuine 4 cost of repair or loss-of-value expert.
5 Preliminarily it appears that the trespass claim may 6 survive and I'm not certain about the -- and the dec 7 relief may survive. The others may not.

8 Those are my thoughts as I take the bench
9 and I intended to ask Mr. Morrison and you, Mr.
10 Anderson, what specific discovery has Plaintiff 11 initiated and pursued and completed since the 12 parties reached a stipulation to conduct discovery 13 in advance of the joint case conference?

14 With that, you can respond any way you 15 want. I know that Mr. Morrison's not here. You 16 could argue that's an abandonment of his opposition 17 and so forth, but I do want a record.

18 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, your Honor. I 19 appreciate that. I would rather rely on merits than 20 abandonments. I have an outline prepared. As the 21 Court might imagine, it pretty much tracks the 22 briefing I've already done. I understand the 23 Court's questions. Do you want me to make a record 24 with the argument I've already prepared?

1 THE COURT: I do. I want you to pause and 2 emphasize where my questions might intercept with 3 your prepared outline.

4 MR. ANDERSON: I'll do that and try to 5 weave in your questions, and then when I finish my 6 argument, if I've not addressed any of those as part 7 of my argument, I'll address those at the tail end.

8 THE COURT: Because it will only be you, 9 would you be mindful of your pace, the cadence of 10 your speech, please.

11 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, your Honor.

12 THE CLERK: Judge, I'll let everyone know 13 that Shannon got ahold of Mr. Morrison and he's 14 having technical difficulties.

15 THE COURT: Okay. You may continue, Mr.
16 Anderson.

17 MR. ANDERSON: Thank you, your Honor.

18 Your Honor, at the status hearing that was 19 held on April 27th you asked counsel to address in 20 oral argument and to focus specifically on the 21 standards under Rule 56 and our best arguments 22 regarding the evidence that is part of the file.
23 And I'll just briefly address that legal standard, 24 even though I know the Court is well aware of the 1 Wood v. Safeway decision and that, basically, 2 summary judgment is appropriate in the absence of 3 any genuine issue of material fact and a 4 demonstration that the moving party is entitled to 5 judgment as a matter of law, and that's Wood v.

6 Safeway 121 Nevada 724, a2005 decision. And that's 7 the basic standard.

8 And then in our reply brief we also cited 9 some cases regarding the obligation of the nonmoving 10 party in responding to a motion for summary 11 judgment. And the nonmoving party must, by 12 affidavit or otherwise, set forth specific facts 13 demonstrating the existence of a genuine issue for 14 trial or have summary judgment entered against him.
15 Again, that's Wood v. Safeway. And then we cited 16 another case, Collins v. Union Federal Savings and 17 Loan. That's a 99 Nevada 284, 1983 case. And what 18 that case held was that, basically, a party has to 19 come forth with admissible evidence in order to 20 avoid summary judgment or some other excuse as to 21 why they haven't been able to obtain that evidence.
22 Just briefly I'll point out that Plaintiffs have not 23 presented any admissible evidence to this court.

24 There are documents that they provided in

1 attachment to their opposition and, again, I'd point 2 out those are the only documents that we've received 3 in this case from them as part of formal 4 disclosures. And those documents don't provide any 5 sort of affidavit, provide a foundation for their 6 admissibility. I believe most of them are hearsay.
7 I know the Court expressed intrigue as to the 8 broker's price opinion that's included within there.
9 I think that document is a cover page to an 10 appraisal and possibly some tables regarding value.
11 Those were not disclosed as part of any expert 12 disclosure. There's been no expert disclosure in 13 this case and so I'm not sure exactly what that 14 might show.

15 I believe it to be a document that was 16 included as part of the initial appraisal of the 17 property for purposes of the condemnation action 18 that took place, I think, in 2015 or 2016, several 19 years ago. And so I don't believe that that's 20 evidence in support of a loss of value as related to 21 the alleged damage to the real property. I think 22 that was just an appraisal of the value of the 23 property five years ago for the purpose of 24 determining what the value of the easements were

1 that the RTC was taking in that case.

2 So, hopefully, I'm answering the Court's
3 question regarding that document. I don't believe 4 that's at all evidentiary support for any sort of 5 loss of value or cost of repair in this case.

6 And just quickly to answer the Court's
7 question about what discovery has the plaintiff
8 done, the answer is none. There's been no written 9 discovery at any point in time served by Mr.
10 Morrison's office or anyone else acting for the 11 plaintiffs seeking discovery from the RTC. They've 12 attempted no depositions. They've, again, produced
13 no expert reports and so, really, they haven't done
14 any discovery and made no effort to obtain
15 information in this case.

16 THE COURT: Has any discovery been
17 propounded since my March 25th order reserving the 18 effect of that order? I know there are different 19 arguments related to whether that resets, but since 20 that March 25th order, as I understand discovery
21 closes on May 28th or thereabouts, has there been 22 any renewed energy towards discovery by the 23 plaintiffs?

24 MR. ANDERSON: Your Honor, there's been no

1 specific discovery requests served on RTC at any 2 time, including since this court's March 25th
3 order or including since the April 27th status
4 hearing. Last night at about 5:00 I did receive an 5 email from Mr. Morrison with the email -- and I had 6 copies thinking for some reason I'd be going to 7 court today, which obviously, I'm not. But I'll 8 represent to the Court the email says, "Hey, Dane.
9 Please see attached. Regards, Mike." It was sent 10 to me at 4:58 p.m. yesterday evening. It's a 11 supplemental response to their prior responses to 12 requests for production. And attached to this 13 document is what looks to be a bid estimate to have 14 the parking lot repaired. I can't quite read the 15 name of the company on the top because the 16 transmission was not good. It is -- has an 17 electronic signature of whoever, apparently, is 18 responsible for the company and it has a damage 19 estimate of roughly -- or a repair estimate of 20 roughly $98,000.

21 So, I received that last night and that's 22 the only activity I've seen since the case began,
23 really, other than the other disclosures.

24 THE COURT: You told me you received it

1 yesterday, but what is the date of the estimate of 2 repair?

3 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, your Honor. The date
4 of the proposal is dated May 9th, 2021, and so I 5 guess that was Sunday I believe that that was 6 prepared. And Mr. Morrison provided it to me, as I 7 said, yesterday evening. I hope that answers your 8 Honor's question. That's the only activity I've 9 seen since both the March 25th order and the 10 April 27th status conference.

11 So, going back to the standards on summary
12 judgment, there's just no admissible evidence -- and 13 I'd have the same objection to this document that we 14 received last night. It clearly is in the nature of 15 what's purporting to be an expert opinion. It did
16 not exist until three days ago. It's attempting, I 17 think, to cover for the prior failure to disclose by 18 February 26th an expert to provide a cost of repair.
19 And so at the current time it's not part of the 20 Court's file, and in any event at this point it's 21 also inadmissible hearsay.

22 As to whether there's any other evidence in 23 the record that might support their claims, I think 24 they were obligated on opposition to summary

1 judgment to cite to that evidence. It's not the 2 Court's job to search through the record itself and 3 try to find something that will assist the plaintiff 4 in opposing summary judgment. Their opposition 5 talked about the fact that there is evidence that 6 the plaintiffs can testify to things, and, again, 7 their time to do that was in the opposition. The 8 time for Dr. Iliescu and Mrs. Iliescu to put forth 9 whatever evidence they had was in opposition to 10 summary judgment, and they simply didn't do that and 11 I think that the lack of that admissible evidence is 12 failed to their case.

13 Moving on to the flaw, I think, in their 14 case that's really applicable to all claims is the 15 lack of evidence of damages. And notwithstanding 16 what was provided to me last night, they simply 17 haven't provided any computation of damages pursuant 18 to NRCP 16.1. They failed to timely disclose an 19 expert witness by February 26th, 2021. They don't 20 have anyone who can provide admissible evidence on 21 the cost of repair or on the loss of value that 22 they've claimed.

23 In fact, Dr. Iliescu and Mrs. Iliescu
24 admitted in their depositions that, if the property

1 can be repaired, then there's no loss of value 2 because, basically, it's restored back to whatever 3 condition or better condition than it existed prior 4 to the alleged damage. And so I think, your Honor, 5 that really, in my mind, entitles the RTC to summary 6 judgment on all their claims.

7 Now, I know the Court addressed trespass in 8 particular and the fact that I'd cited a Washington 9 Appellate Court case that damages is a necessary 10 component to that. Off the top of my head, I don't 11 have a Nevada Supreme Court case or a published 12 Nevada Appellate Court case, holding that damages
13 are a necessary element but, practically speaking, I 14 guess I'm not sure what the Iliescus would stand to 15 gain by a simple declaration that the RTC
16 trespassed. So, I believe that damages are a 17 necessary component to that claim and that the 18 absence of admissible evidence to that effect is 19 fatal to all of the plaintiffs' claims.

20 THE COURT: Let me chase that for a minute, 21 Mr. Anderson.

22 I agree that I have been unable -- I agree 23 with you that Nevada law so far has not revealed 24 itself on the requirement for damages and trespass.

1 And if I'm to give every benefit to the nonmoving
2 party, even from the deposition excerpts -- and I 3 have not read and it's not my job to read through 4 all of the deposition transcripts to find that 5 genuine issue of material fact.

6 But from the excerpts attached, it appears 7 the general theme of the case is that RTC had the 8 right to temporarily occupy the Iliescu property for 9 purposes of construction. That was a temporary 10 construction easement identified and compensated.
11 And that during construction there were lots of 12 trucks, heavy trucks, personal vehicles, a lot of 13 vehicles that went onto the Iliescu property.

14 If that's accurate, giving benefit to the 15 plaintiff, that could constitute a trespass. I see 16 trespass in the same way I see defamation. Did it 17 occur or did it not occur? And then a second, more 18 difficult, problem is how do you compensate for the 19 defamation? That's why we see throughout the 20 country $1 in damages, you know, some type of 21 declaration, some puric conviction that you 22 trespassed and you shouldn't have. I'm not sure why 23 the plaintiffs don't have the right to prove 24 trespass and then argue their perception of damage

1 without the need for an expert. I'm just struggling 2 with that.

3 Anything you could say in response would be 4 helpful.

5 MR. ANDERSON: I understand, your Honor, 6 and if you could bear with me one moment, I have my 7 handy book of The Elements of Nevada Legal Theories.
8 I'm sure whatever citation I put in there was from 9 this book and it's not published Nevada Supreme 10 Court legal authority, so I'll offer it with a grain 11 of salt, if I can find the claim.

12 And I apologize, your Honor. I think -- I 13 can't find it right now, but I think in those cases 14 you talked about where it's this puric victory and 15 oftentimes it involves justifying an award of 16 attorney's fees or the plaintiffs proved their case 17 and they're entitled to $1, and if they're the 18 prevailing party, they're entitled to an award of 19 attorney's fees.

20 So, right now I don't have a good answer 21 for the Court in terms of whether damages are 22 required. I guess I don't see why that claim would 23 exist but for the opportunity to recover damages, 24 because I'm not aware of any basis on which they'd

1 be entitled to an award of attorney's fees or any 2 relief, really, stemming from that one claim, 3 especially if the RTC were to prevail on the 11 4 other claims that were asserted in the complaint.

5 So, I'm happy to address that in subsequent 6 briefing for the Court. I just don't have an answer 7 for your Honor right now because, frankly, I believe 8 that what this case was all about was the 9 plaintiffs' attempt to recover money damages from 10 the RTC.

11 THE COURT: I'm sure that's how the case
12 began, is they believe that the RTC vehicles damaged 13 their property. Seems like that's the genesis of 14 the complaint. And I agree that in the file 15 materials at the moment there doesn't appear to be 16 admissible evidence of the existence of damages, the 17 -- existence of injury to the property, the 18 causation of the injury to RTC, although I think 19 that could be circumstantial and proven. In fact, I 20 think there are photographs associated with it, at 21 least attached as Exhibit 1, but then the big 22 question is, How do you value that injury to the 23 property?

24 MR. ANDERSON: Correct, your Honor. And I

1 don't know that the plaintiffs are qualified to do 2 that. You know, the fact they went out and got an 3 appraisal -- or, actually, a bid to repair the 4 property tells me that neither Dr. Iliescu nor Mrs.
5 Iliescu is qualified to provide testimony on the 6 cost to, you know, tear up and repave the parking 7 lot.

8 Your Honor brings up an interesting
9 question, though, regarding causation, and I 10 understand and appreciate what you're saying in 11 terms of the big trucks may be associated with the 12 construction of the project and they're entitled to 13 inference. But there's also evidence from Dr.
14 Iliescu that the property's never been repaired or 15 maintained, really, in the 30 or 40 years since the 16 property was constructed.

17 So, I'm not sure that there's been a 18 causation or that there's any evidence of causation 19 in the record showing that those trucks actually 20 caused that damage, unless it's in the plaintiffs' 21 excerpts. But I think that's probably too close of 22 a call to make it a focal point of my argument, your 23 Honor. I'm focused in on the damages issue in 24 particular.

1 So, maybe we could come back at your 2 Honor's preference to revisit the trespass issue, 3 but all the other claims, with the exception of 4 declaratory relief that are remaining in the case 5 require an element of damages. That includes the 6 breach of contract claim and the breach of the 7 Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing 8 claim.

9 And your Honor asked about the existence or 10 lack thereof of a contract in this case and, 11 obviously, there's been no written contract produced 12 by the plaintiffs or anyone else. There's been no 13 affidavit testimony from Dr. Iliescu as to the 14 existence of any contract. In fact, Dr. Iliescu 15 testified in his deposition that the contract they 16 referred to in the complaint is actually the Second 17 Judicial District Court's judgment in the prior 18 condemnation action.

19 And I set forth my arguments and briefing 20 as to why that's not a contract, it's not evidence 21 of an offer except in consideration, meeting of the 22 minds. None of those elements are met by that 23 judgment. And early on in the case -- it was 24 September of 2019 -- I emailed Mr. Morrison and I

1 said, Hey, can you send me the RTC trust agreement 2 that's referred to in the complaint, and he 3 responded that he would get it over to me. I never 4 saw it. We reserved requests for productions that 5 would call for the production of that contract, and 6 it was simply never produced.

7 So, in addition to the fact that there's no 8 admissible evidence of damages, there's simply no 9 evidence of the existence of the so-called RTC trust 10 agreement that they refer to as it relates to the 11 damage to the remainder property. So, with that 12 specific claim, your Honor, I think RTC is 13 definitely entitled to summary judgment on that one 14 just because there's no genuine issue of material 15 fact as to the existence of a contract.

16 As your Honor pointed out, if there's no
17 contract, there's no Implied Covenant of Good Faith 18 and Fair Dealing, so both of those claims go hand in 19 hand and would fail on the same grounds.

20 With respect to the conspiracy claim, your 21 Honor pointed out at the beginning that you're 22 unaware of any conspiracy, and I would agree.
23 There's no evidence of any agreement between RTC and 24 any third party, nor any identification of any third

1 party that entered into an agreement for the 2 purposes of harming the plaintiffs, and those are 3 part of the elements of the claim.

4 And so I asked Dr. Iliescu in his 5 deposition whether he was aware of the existence of 6 any agreement and he said no, and I believe Mrs.
7 Iliescu did as well. And so there's simply no 8 evidence to support that claim, but both from a 9 damages standpoint as well as a liability 10 standpoint.

11 With respect to the negligence claim, your 12 Honor also pointed out at the beginning you're not 13 aware of any duty that would be specifically 14 applicable in this case on behalf of the RTC, and I 15 agree with that. There's no evidence of what duty 16 is owed and, you know, in this case whether there 17 was any injury to the plaintiffs. That goes back to 18 the damages component of it.

19 So, I believe the negligence claim fails 20 along with the other two I already mentioned. The 21 declaratory relief claim is interesting because, if 22 you look at their complaint, it specifically 23 mentions certain things and I'd like to just quickly 24 go to those. Plaintiffs' amended complaint seeks a

1 declaration that, one, "RTC failed to perform under 2 the RTC trust agreement or its condemnation
3 activities." I think I already addressed that one.
4 There's no evidence of an RTC trust agreement.

5 No. 2, they asked that the court declare 6 that plaintiffs are the sole and exclusive owners of 7 their property at East Fourth Street. In my 8 briefing I pointed out that there's really no 9 dispute that they are the title owners of that 10 parcel, but it's subject to RTC's rights under the 11 easement -- the condemnation judgment allowing for 12 the use of those easements that are permanent in 13 nature and will always be on their property. So, I 14 don't think there's really a justiciable controversy 15 that requires a declaration in that regard. It's 16 clear that they own the property subject to RTC's 17 easement rights.

18 The third request was that RTC has no
19 right, title, or interest in the property and no 20 right to use the property. Again, that dovetails 21 off what I just said. RTC has the rights to those 22 easements.

23 Fourth, RTC knowingly and wrongfully used 24 the remainder property without paying compensation

1 to Plaintiffs. That kinda goes to the trespass 2 issue. I don't know that there's any evidence that 3 RTC knowingly or wrongfully or willfully did that, 4 you know. The evidence is that maybe there were 5 some trucks parked there, but there's no evidence 6 that it was sort of an intentional wrongdoing, which 7 is what I think this request seeks.

8 And, five, RTC parked its vehicles on the 9 remaining property causing extensive damage in 10 callous disregard of the law. Again, I don't think 11 there's any evidence it was done callously or 12 willfully to harm them, and there's no evidence of 13 the damages that were caused, other than maybe the 14 parking lot looks different than it did prior to 15 construction. But, you know, they're asking for a 16 declaration that it's caused damage and I think that 17 ties to a number that simply hasn't been provided.

18 The declaratory relief claim is based, in 19 large part, on most of the other claims, and in the 20 absence of damages I simply don't view it as a 21 viable claim in this particular case, because most 22 of the declarations they seek really aren't in 23 dispute. And if they are in dispute, there's no 24 evidence of damages.

1 Getting back to the March 25th order,
2 that was really heavily emphasized in their briefing
3 and they kind of characterized your Honor's order 4 denying our request for sanctions under 16.1 as a 5 reset of the entire case and that somehow that was 6 going to send us all back to the starting blocks. I 7 think your Honor in the April 27th status
8 conference indicated that that wasn't the Court's 9 intent. I don't think it makes sense. I don't 10 think it makes sense from a judicial economy 11 standpoint to relieve the plaintiffs of failures to 12 provide expert reports in a timely manner, to 13 conduct discovery, to basically prove their case.
14 It's their burden to move the case further and I 15 don't think it was the Court's intent by way of the 16 March 25th order to send everybody back to the 17 beginning, ignore what's happened or has not 18 happened in the last two years, and basically reset 19 the batteries.

20 The other argument that the plaintiffs made 21 was that somehow the Court's October 12th, 2020, 22 scheduling order overrode the prior order in limine 23 August 19th, 2020, that precluded the plaintiffs 24 from offering documents that were not produced

1 pursuant to the prior requests for production. And 2 I think I pointed out in my reply brief --

3 THE COURT: Would that August 19th, 2020, 4 order preclude the admission of the document you 5 received yesterday by email?

6 MR. ANDERSON: Your Honor, I don't believe 7 it would by its express language preclude that. I 8 think the order was limited to documents that were 9 in the possession or control of the plaintiffs as of 10 the time that they were obligated to respond. So, 11 it would preclude documents that existed prior to 12 June 30th of 2020 and not preclude the document 13 that was disclosed last night. I think it would be 14 prohibited on other grounds but not by way of that 15 specific order.

16 And just to finish that thought, the 17 October 12th, 2020, scheduling order specifically 18 said that nothing in the scheduling order shall be 19 construed as a waiver of RTC's rights under that 20 order in limine or otherwise under applicable law.
21 So, I think the express language of the scheduling 22 order defeats the argument that it somehow overrode 23 the prior order in limine and gave Plaintiffs an 24 opportunity to just start fresh and produce

1 everything that they've got.

2 And lastly, your Honor, I want to address
3 what Mr. Morrison brought up in the status hearing 4 on April 27th. I was somewhat taken aback by some 5 of the accusations he made against me that I've 6 somehow prevented him from conducting discovery, 7 that I've refused to cooperate and attempted to 8 foreclose Plaintiff from conducting discovery, that 9 RTC has run helter-skelter in getting everything 10 they wanted to do in this case while hamstringing 11 the plaintiffs. It's just simply not true and I 12 indicated already that I resented that accusation.

13 The Court's order -- well, the stipulation 14 that we entered into to do early discovery in this 15 case, I think I pointed out, allowed both parties to 16 conduct discovery. And, yes, it was at my request 17 but the order that granted that and the stipulation 18 was bilateral. He could have conducted discovery 19 just the same as I did, and I really didn't do that 20 much. I served one request for production that had 21 eight or nine requests and I conducted two 22 depositions. I never asked him not to conduct 23 discovery. I never precluded him from taking 24 depositions. It's just simply not true.

1 And so I don't know if that was going to be 2 the basis for one of his arguments today. I realize 3 it's unusual to conduct early discovery in cases but 4 it's not as if this was some complex thing that 5 threw the whole case off schedule. The agreement 6 was to conduct early discovery. After the motions 7 to dismiss were decided, RTC filed its answer. And 8 anytime a party files an answer and it's the first 9 answer, you conduct the 16.1 conference. And I was 10 waiting for Mr. Morrison to do that and it just 11 never happened.

12 But that wouldn't stop him from doing 13 discovery or from doing anything else he wanted to 14 do to prove his case. In fact, I think most of the 15 information that they needed to prove their damages 16 was within their control. They've got the parking 17 lot. They have access to the parking lot. They 18 could have hired this contractor that they sent me 19 last night and had him do that bid a year and a half 20 ago and disclosed it as a properly prepared expert 21 report. But that didn't happen and now the expert 22 deadline is nearly three months expired. We have a 23 trial stack coming up.

24 There's just no evidence to support their

1 case, your Honor, so I think RTC's entitled to 2 summary judgment on all claims. Recognizing that 3 the Court has concerns about the trespass claim, you 4 know, we'd be happy to address that in supplemental 5 briefing and I'd like the Court to give Mr. Morrison 6 an opportunity to have his say on that issue as 7 well. I just kinda look at it as what is the effect 8 of a trespass claim where you can't get damages.
9 I'm not sure of that. I haven't thought that 10 through, your Honor.

11 Let me just take a look at my notes to see 12 if I've addressed all your questions.

13 I believe, your Honor, I've addressed all 14 your specific questions, or at least acknowledged 15 that I don't have an answer for at least one of 16 them. If you have further questions, I'm happy to 17 discuss those at this time.

18 THE COURT: I'm still thinking about that 19 analogous defamation claim and whether there must be 20 an expert who testifies -- who quantifies the value 21 of the assault upon the plaintiff's character or 22 whether the plaintiff can simply allege, You have 23 defamed me.

24 I've never had a defamation trial. I don't

1 know how damages are calculated. But it seems to me 2 that the absence of an expert in a defamation case 3 doesn't -- is not fatal to the defamation case, and 4 I guess I'm seeing the trespass similarly. I'm 5 thinking out loud here.

6 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, your Honor. I haven't 7 had a lot of defamation cases. My recollection is 8 that there's sort of a difference between defamation 9 and defamation per se or liable per quad, or things 10 of that nature where you defame someone's specific 11 aspects that are entitling a party to presumed 12 damages, and I don't know if that's what your Honor 13 is thinking. I know that impugning somebody's -- or 14 defaming someone's reputation in their profession is 15 an instance where it gives rise to sort of presumed 16 damages. I just don't know -- I guess I don't know 17 specifically what that rule is and whether an 18 expert's required.

19 I think it's a little bit different in this 20 case because we're not really talking about 21 someone's reputation or injury to their goodwill in 22 the community. We're talking about a piece of real 23 property that's been damaged and there are specific 24 people who can tell you how much it's gonna cost to 1 repair that property. I think only those specific 2 people with specialized knowledge can tell you what 3 it's going to cost.

4 I don't know how the Iliescus would come in 5 and say, We think it'll cost X or, We're entitled to 6 X, without pointing to these experts that they've 7 been speaking with, and in particular this one that 8 was provided to me last night. So, I think it's a 9 little bit different than just talking about general 10 damages for damage to someone's reputation as 11 opposed to a construction -- a piece of construction 12 that has specific requirements including demolition, 13 materials, cost of repair, you know, and then 14 overhead and profit for the contractor, all of which 15 will be paid by somebody.

16 THE COURT: I'm thinking. Let me just sit 17 with what you've said for a moment.

18 I agree there cannot be a quantification of 19 damage to the property without a pretrial 20 computation and disclosure. I agree with that. And 21 the way we would typically see computation is 22 through the disclosure of an expert witness and 23 analysis set forth in a report.

24 But in a larger sense, Mr. Anderson, I

1 continue to receive defensive arguments about the 2 computation of damages. And it says, if it prevents 3 even the assertion of harm, not quantifiable
4 formulaic cost of repair. In fact, Mr. Anderson, 5 I'm thinking about a case you had in this department 6 where you alleged that the -- in a counterclaim you 7 alleged that the original plaintiff had injured your 8 client. You didn't have an expert report. You just 9 asked that the plaintiff be punished. You requested 10 and received a million dollars. There's no expert 11 report.

12 And it seems like this recurring and 13 growing computation of damages argument based upon 14 Rule 16 somehow precludes the argument to a jury 15 that Defendant did this and it harmed me. Tell me 16 the value of my harm, which is separate than cost of 17 repair. Plaintiff doesn't get into cost of repair 18 because Plaintiff hasn't produced cost of repair 19 analysis. But the mere fact that there has been a 20 harm and it is tendered to the jury to value that 21 harm is kind of a time-honored tradition within our 22 jurisprudence, and that's what I'm struggling with 23 here.

24 MR. ANDERSON: I remember that case very

1 well. That was an abuse of process counterclaim 2 against, in my opinion, a vexatious type of 3 litigant. There was a proof of damages. The 4 monetary damages that were recovered were, I 5 believe, roughly $170,000 in attorney's fees that 6 were the base damages. And then under abuse of 7 process jurisprudence, the plaintiff was allowed to 8 recover general damages for sort of the pain and 9 suffering, for lack of a better word, that comes 10 along with being subject to an abuse of process.

11 And I agree with your Honor, there wasn't 12 an expert but I believe the law allowed the jury to 13 award general damages based on the events that she 14 went through and the fact that there was $180,000 in 15 attorney's fees she incurred to sort of get to that 16 point. And then there was a punitive damages, of 17 course, as the Court pointed out -- award on top of 18 that for what the jury found to be fraudulent, 19 vexatious, oppressive conduct. And so I think in 20 the specific confines of that claim, the abuse of 21 process claim, the jury was allowed to award her 22 general damages based on what she'd been through.

23 In this particular case, your Honor, I 24 don't think that the jury would be allowed to award

1 damages for repair of a parking lot in the absence 2 of any evidence of what that cost is. I think that 3 would be based on their speculation.

4 THE COURT: I agree with that. I kind of 5 regret using your case as an example because you, 6 obviously, have added more insight into the case.

7 I'm thinking more generally. A plaintiff
8 looks at the jury and says, This person harmed me.
9 Oh, really? What's the harm? Well, you know, I 10 wasn't able to sleep or it affected my enjoyment of 11 life, or it caused me stress and I had to look at my 12 property every day to see what else had been 13 happening. There's an effect upon the person that 14 is distinct from the injury to the property.

15 MR. ANDERSON: I understand, your Honor.
16 And I think -- I'm trying to pull up the docket in 17 this case because I think early on, as your Honor 18 may recall, they filed their initial complaint and 19 it was subject to the RTC's motion to dismiss. It 20 was during that time I asked to do early discovery 21 in light of the plaintiff's health condition.

22 I asked for medical records, and when they 23 -- basically, Mr. Morrison indicated to me that they 24 didn't want to produce their medical records, he

1 agreed to drop those types of claims. And I believe 2 -- I'll have to look at the stipulation. I believe 3 he specifically agreed to limit the damages to the 4 parking lot as well --

5 THE COURT: I'm familiar with the claim 6 that was dismissed based upon infliction of 7 emotional distress whether negligent or intentional.
8 Pull up the stipulation. I'd be very interested to 9 see if he waived in writing any of those general 10 pain and suffering-type claims.

11 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, your Honor. Bear with 12 me one moment. Your Honor, I believe it's the 13 December 6th, 2019 -- at least that's the 14 stipulation -- and the order was entered on December 15 10, 2019. The second paragraph of your order is 16 that "With respect to Plaintiffs' remaining claims 17 for relief, any claims Plaintiffs may have had for 18 damages other than compensatory damages specifically
19 related to their parking lot and punitive damages 20 based on the facts and events alleged in the 21 complaint, are also dismissed with prejudice."

22 So, by doing that, your Honor, I believe 23 that they knowingly waived any claim for the type of 24 damages your Honor is talking about, where they

1 couldn't sleep, they couldn't eat, they had anxiety, 2 they had medical treatment. Those allegations were 3 in the complaint and I was prepared to conduct 4 discovery on that and dig through their medical 5 records. And it was represented to me by Mr.
6 Morrison they didn't want that to happen and they 7 were willing to let those claims go.

8 So, I don't believe there's any remaining 9 basis on which they can claim those kind of general 10 damages for anxiety or stress or medical treatment 11 related to that issue. In any event, they'd still 12 have to prove what those damages were, I think.
13 They'd have to prove their medical treatment and 14 then they might be entitled to an award of emotional 15 distress or damages on top of that, had they kept 16 those claims in there. But in the absence of those 17 claims, we're just talking about either cost of 18 repair to the parking lot or loss of value, neither 19 of which there's any evidence of.

20 So, I understand what your Honor's saying.
21 I just don't think, in light of the posture of this 22 case and the stipulation and order dismissing those 23 types of damages, that they'd be entitled to recover 24 those at trial.

1 THE COURT: I hope this record reflects my 2 wrestle with the legal standard presented, which is 3 to resolve every doubt in favor of the nonmoving 4 party.

5 MR. ANDERSON: I understand, your Honor.

6 THE COURT: I was aware of that 7 stipulation, I was aware of the dismissal of claims, 8 but I was unaware or unable to recollect from memory 9 that there was a voluntary foreclosure of certain 10 types of damages. And the identification of the 11 only extent damages that were at issue, so this last 12 bit has been very helpful to the court.

13 All right. Mr. Anderson, I'll invite you 14 to prepare a proposed order. There will be 15 different parts to this proposed order.

16 One is your -- one is the way you blend 17 your duties to your client with candor to the court 18 with civility and professionalism when possible, 19 because the order has to reflect the holistic 20 experience of this case, specifically the de minimus 21 prosecution of the claims, the serial violations of 22 procedural rules. But I want you to do so in a way 23 that is civil and respectful to Mr. Morrison, to the 24 extent you can be. We should never be afraid of the

1 truth but the words we use to describe the truth are 2 very important. This case has not been prosecuted
3 but neither the defendant nor the court have created 4 that fact.

5 And I think that any review of my order
6 should include at least a reference, an invitation 7 to review the case as a larger whole and you'll have 8 to summarize some of the events of this case that 9 lead us to today.

10 The order should also formally state that 11 this court's March 25th order was not a reset of 12 the entire case but, instead, was the court's 13 attempt to offer a lifeline in lieu of a technical 14 non-merit-based dismissal. Your holistic and 15 longitudinal description of this case must include
16 the order in limine that was entered on August 19th, 17 because it reflects the type of problems that have 18 been in this case.

19 I don't know the extent to which Mr.
20 Morrison has been personally ill. There is some 21 signal to that, and overshadowing this entire case
22 has been COVID. But the fact is COVID has not 23 stopped the prosecution and defense of cases. It's 24 made the prosecution and defense more complicated

1 but litigation can continue and in this case it did
2 not.

3 I think that the order should make specific 4 reference to the stipulation and the types of 5 damages that the plaintiffs waived when they 6 specifically identified damage to the parking lot,
7 which can only come in one of two ways, cost of 8 repair or loss of value. The order should reflect 9 some of your concerns, and in this I ask you to not 10 be a zealous advocate but just simply be true to the 11 file, and that is that nothing prohibited Plaintiffs 12 from pursuing discovery because there was an early 13 start to discovery. I agree with you that the 14 discovery right was mutual. The order should 15 reflect the de minimus or nonexistent discovery
16 efforts that Plaintiffs have made and all of that as 17 the predicate to the substantive order, which is as 18 follows:

19 The nonmoving party when confronted with a 20 motion for summary judgment has a rule-based duty to 21 offer declarations or admissible evidence in 22 opposition to the motion for summary judgment, and 23 there is no such declaration or admissible evidence
24 tendered in this case.

1 I've carefully reviewed Exhibit 1 and there
2 are some photographs and there's a pre-trespass -- 3 I'm using that word to describe a preconstruction 4 broker's price opinion that does not appear to be 5 created in response to the events that are alleged 6 in this complaint. That's the only evidence I can 7 glean from the opposition, but that evidence itself 8 is precluded because Plaintiffs have failed to 9 comply with the expert witness designation and rule 10 requirement.

11 So, understanding that Rule 56 there's a 12 recent supreme court decision within the last two or 13 three years that says essentially -- my paraphrase 14 -- District Judges, don't be afraid of summary 15 judgment, grant it when appropriate. It's there.
16 Those are not the words the supreme court used but 17 that was the clear message.

18 So, after establishing the standard for 19 summary judgment, I then turn to specific claims for 20 relief. I'm unaware of any contract that is alleged 21 to be breached. There's been no identification of 22 that contract. I'm familiar with Judge Polaha, 23 Department 3's case in which there was value awarded 24 for temporary construction easements and then a

1 permanent utility easement, but that judgment itself 2 is not a contract.

3 And I'm unaware of any other contract that 4 the parties reached with the elements that you set 5 forth in your motion that is now breached.

6 Plaintiffs have simply not identified what that 7 contract is. Because there can be no breach of 8 contract claim, there can be no breach of the 9 Implied Covenant of Good Faith and Fair Dealing.

10 It seems to me that Mr. Iliescu in his 11 deposition -- and, again, I've only read the 12 excerpts -- identified as "conspirators," the 13 vendors the RTC hired, but there's been no effort to 14 identify them or to put them with any type of -- 15 within any dispute context and just simply said, 16 Well, there must have been other people because 17 there are other trucks, but he didn't identify whose 18 trucks they were. This all creates a burden upon 19 the plaintiff to discover their case and they 20 didn't. So, there is no admissible evidence.
21 There's no genuine issue of material fact regarding 22 the existence or the identity of conspirators. The 23 civil conspiracy must fail.

24 There's been no identified duty and breach

1 underlying negligence and the overarching theme is 2 there's no proof of damages. There is a rule which 3 requires a computation of damages. Again, I've 4 wrestled with that. I'm not sure the extent to 5 which that rule is satisfied or not satisfied. I 6 don't know where the middle ground is, but I know 7 here it has not been. There is no witness and there 8 is no evidence that describes the injury to the 9 property, the causation between Plaintiffs' conduct 10 and the injury, and the value of the injury.

11 And I've decided that I'm going to include 12 trespass as a claim that I summarily adjudicate in 13 Defendant's favor. I took the bench not intending 14 to do that. You've heard me wrestle with this idea 15 of proving trespass as a matter of fact and letting 16 the plaintiff argue what the value of that proven 17 fact is. There can be and should be just a 18 statement of general damages that are 19 nonquantifiable, but here I don't believe those 20 damages can be made because of the stipulation.

21 Plaintiffs chose to withhold their medical 22 records, they chose not to disclose any type of 23 personal effect upon themselves. And I think that 24 any damages associated with the trespass cannot

1 include a general statement of harm but, instead, 2 must be a quantified expert valuation of harm.

3 I'm holding true to that stipulation,
4 because it was that stipulation that benefited
5 Plaintiffs and it is both a sword and a shield. I 6 don't believe that they can prove any damages 7 associated with trespass other than the damages 8 identified in the stipulation, and for that reason 9 I'll also summarily adjudicate the trespass.

10 So put an order together. I understand 11 that Mr. Morrison -- I just heard through staff on 12 our record he had some technology problems. If he 13 files a motion explaining what happened, with leave 14 of court I may reconvene but the burden is upon Mr.
15 Morrison to initiate some type of leave from his 16 absence. We were all here and he's previously 17 appeared by Zoom, and I don't know what the problem 18 has been, but his absence today is kind of 19 indicative of the entire case.

20 I wish to be very respectful to Mr.
21 Morrison. At this point in my career and as we all 22 age into some higher level of civility and maturity, 23 there's no reason to be gratuitously mean about it, 24 but he hasn't participated -- through him his

1 clients have not participated in this case and it's 2 just is what it is.

3 MR. ANDERSON: Your Honor, with respect to 4 the specific claims, is there a court ruling on the 5 declaratory relief claim?

6 THE COURT: I'll just follow your analysis
7 as you set forth the five prongs that were included.
8 I was gonna keep the declaratory relief open if I 9 kept the trespass open, but I'm also going to 10 summarily adjudicate the declaratory relief. Please 11 submit that order to chambers.

12 MR. ANDERSON: I will. And, just briefly, 13 there are two pending motions in limine. Does the 14 Court wish to grant those as part of this order or 15 deny them as moot?

16 THE COURT: I'd like to deny them as moot.

17 MR. ANDERSON: I will prepare the order as 18 quickly as possible, your Honor, and submit it.

19 THE COURT: All right. Thank you. Nice to 20 see you both.

21 MR. ANDERSON: Thank you, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: We'll be in recess.

29 RESPONSE TO NOTICE OF INTENT TO FILE MOTION

30 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”)
31 submits this response to the Notice Of Intent To File Motion filed by Plaintiffs on May 32 13, 2021. While the title of the document suggested an actual motion would be filed, 33 Plaintiffs have not yet done so. Further, the document itself appears to request a 34 “rehearing” of RTC’s motion for summary judgment because Plaintiffs were denied due 35 process as a result of their counsel’s alleged inability to access the scheduled oral

1 argument on Zoom. RTC submits this brief response out of an abundance of caution in 2 the event Plaintiffs' Notice Of Intent To File Motion is actually their motion.

3 Plaintiffs were not denied due process. Procedural due process requires only that 4 parties receive "notice and an opportunity to be heard." Eureka Cty. v. Seventh Jud. Dist.
5 Ct. in & for Cty. of Eureka, 134 Nev. 275, 279, 417 P.3d 1121, 1124 (2018). Plaintiffs 6 were given notice that summary judgment may be entered against them by way of RTC's 7 written Motion For Summary Judgment. They had an opportunity to be heard, and were 8 heard, by way of their written opposition brief. They were given notice that the Court 9 would hear oral argument (not an evidentiary hearing) on May 12, 2021 at 2:00 p.m. via 10 Zoom and the Court provided the information to access that hearing. RTC's counsel was 11 able to access the Zoom link without difficulty and fully participated in the oral argument.
12 Plaintiffs' failure to participate at oral argument is reflective of their failure to participate 13 and prosecute their case throughout this litigation.

14 Moreover, Plaintiffs fail to demonstrate how the participation of their counsel 15 would have yielded a different result. There still is no evidence in the record to support 16 any of their claims or their alleged damages. Nothing at oral argument would change the 17 fact that Plaintiffs expressly waived any compensatory damages except those related to 18 the alleged physical damages to their parking lot, and that they failed to timely disclose an 19 expert witness on any subject. Nothing at oral argument would change this Court's order 20 in limine precluding Plaintiffs from offering documents not disclosed to RTC prior to 21 June 30, 2020 or that those documents were useless to Plaintiffs' case. Therefore, 22 Plaintiffs' failure to participate in the May 12 oral argument was harmless.

23 Plaintiffs' Notice Of Intent To File Motion, to the extent that document constitutes 24 a motion for rehearing, should be denied.

13 ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA ILIESCU 1992 DEPT. NO. 15 14 FAMILY TRUST; JOHN ILIESCU, JR., an 15 Individual; and SONNIA ILIESCU, an 16 Individual,

17 Plaintiffs,

18 vs.

19 THE REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION
20 COMMISSION OF WASHOE COUNTY;

22 Defendants.

PLAINTIFFS' MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION AND REHEARING OF, OR, IN THE ALTERNATIVE, MOTION TO SET ASIDE THIS COURT'S ORDER
PURSUANT TO NRCP 60(b)(1) and (6)

23 COME NOW JOHN ILIESCU, JR., AND SONNIA ILIESCU, TRUSTEES OF 24 THE JOHN ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA ILIESCU 1992 FAMILY TRUST(“Trust”); 25 JOHN ILIESCU, JR., an Individual (“John”); and SONNIA ILIESCU, an Individual 26 (“Sonnia”), together sometimes referred to as “Plaintiffs”, and, pursuant to D.C.R. 13 27 (7), and WDCR 12(8), respectfully submit this request for: 28

1 (1) a reconsideration and rehearing of this Honorable Court’s Order, 2 entered by the Court on May12, 2021 (“Order”), granting Defendants’ 3 Motion for Summary Judgement (“MSJ”), and/or

4 (2) the setting aside of such Order based upon, among other reasons, (A) 5 mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect (NRC 60(b)(1)), or 6 (B) any other reason that justifies relief (NRC 60(b)(6)).

7 Fundamentally, Plaintiffs were denied, inter alia, their Constitutional right to 8 appear and be heard by the Court because of a technical error, equipment malfunction,
9 oversight, mistake and/or inadvertance relating directly and/or indirectly, to the Zoom
10 teleconference platform and its operation (“Zoom Call”).

11 Plaintiffs expressly do not attribute the situation or events to any of the parties, 12 their counsel or this Honorable Court and its professional staff.

13 I. ARGUMENT

14 Rule 12(8) of the Second Judicial District Court rules permit a party to seek 15 reconsideration of a ruling by this Court within ten (10) days after service of written notice of 16 entry of the order or judgment and in conformity with DCR 13(7) (a matter once heard and 17 disposed of may be reheard upon leave of court granted upon a motion therefor). If a motion 18 for rehearing is granted, the court may restore the matter to the calendar for re-argument or 19 resubmission, or may make such other orders as are deemed appropriate under the 20 circumstances. WDCR 12(9).

21 Rule 60(b) of the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure permits this Court to set aside an 22 order based upon, among other reasons, mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect 23 (NRC 60(b)(1)), and for fraud, misrepresentation, or other misconduct of the adverse party 24 (NRC 60(b)(6)). Motions made pursuant to NRC 60(b)(1) and (6) must be made within a 25 reasonable time, and not more than 6 months after the date that written notice of entry of the 26 order was served. NRC 60(b).

27 It is well established that N.R.C.P. 60 providing for relief from judgments on the 28

1 ground of mistake, inadvertence, surprise or excusable neglect is a remedial statute and should 2 be liberally construed to carry out its purpose. See La-Tex Partnership v. Deters, 111 Nev. 471,
3 at 476, 893 P.2d 361 (1995), Sherman v. Southern Pac. Co., 31 Nev. 285, 102 Pac. 257 (1909),
4 cited, Whise v. Whise, 36 Nev. 16, at 20, 131 Pac. 967 (1913), Markwell v. Gray, 50 Nev. 427,

8 582 P.2d 359 (1978).

9 And Plaintiff is pursuing this motion promptly, in good faith, for good cause and with 10 no intent to delay the proceedings. See Passarelli v. J-Mar Dev., Inc., 102 Nev. 283, at 285, 11 720 P.2d 1221 (1986), Still v. Huntley, 102 Nev. 584, at 585, 729 P.2d 489 (1986), Kahn v.

14 P.2d 121 (1993), Milender v. Marcum, 110 Nev. 972, at 979, 879 P.2d 748 (1994).

15 In this case, reconsideration, or in the alternative, issuance of an order setting aside this 16 Court's Order is appropriate and warranted based upon the the fact that the undersigned was 17 prepared, willing and able to fully participate the the Hearing(s) calendared for the three (3)
18 separate motions filed by Plaintiff herein. See Exhibit "1" (Affidavit of Michael J. Morrison, 19 Esq. ("MJM")), but was unable to do so based solely on a technical problem with the Zoom 20 Call. Id. Moreover, Plaintiffs have cogent and compelling disputed facts to present in 21 opposition to the three (3) subject motions. Id.

22 Indeed, MJM worked for many hours reading and re-reading the files, documents, 23 discovery requests and pleadings in this case (on both sides). In addition, as ordered by this 24 Court, MJM consulted with the Plaintiffs and Plaintiffs obtained a new written bid from Desert
25 Engineering, dated May 9, 2021, estimating costs and services necessary to repair the parking 26 lot damaged by the trucks and other vehicles used by agents of Defendant during the 27 condemnation and construction period, Id., which was in the amount of $84,550.00. See

1 Exhibit “2”. Very significantly, this estimate was provided to Defendant by Plaintiffs’ 2 supplement to Responses to Defendant’s Request for Production of Documents (Set 1), sent to 3 Defendant via e-mail on May 11, 2021. This new and current estimate/bid was in addition to 4 the estimate/bid for repairs to the subject parking lot previously provided to Defendant by 5 Plaintiffs on Apex Grading & Paving, Inc., in the amount of $$73,000.00. See Exhibit “3”.

6 By way of context, Exhibits 2 & 3 contain some of the material that this Court advised 7 (at the April 27, 2021 hearing) it wanted to see at the time of the May 12, 2021 hearing.
8 Manifestly, such material from Plaintiffs, compared to the material already provided by 9 Defendant, would clearly and unequivocally constitute highly material, indeed, potentially 10 dispositive “disputed facts” that a jury is entitled to hear, thus precluding summary judgement
11 herein. NRCP 56.

12 He tried on several occasions, through several telephone numbers, to contact the 13 personnel in Department 10 shortly before 2:00 PM on the hearing date to confirm the link to 14 the zoom call. Having been unsuccessful in reaching anyone by telephone, he sent an email to 15 Department 10 requesting information on how to join the zoom call. Court staff were very 16 helpful and courteous, and sent him the standard link for the zoom call. When he pressed the 17 link, he was taken to a site awaiting his turn to be joined in. The court had previously advised 18 that it was allocating 2 hours to the hearing.

19 Accordingly, when he was on the zoom site awaiting to be joined into the call by the 20 court, he patiently waited, assuming the Court was attending to other matters and would get to 21 him as soon as possible, after the court was ready.

22 He was placed on the zoom call at approximately 2:08, and waited, without interruption 23 or leaving the site, until approximately 4:08, when he became aware of an email from the court 24 advising it had entered an order granting defendant's motion for summary judgment, based on 25 the fact that he had not appeared at the hearing.

26 After the order was entered, at approximately 4:10, he contacted the Department 10 27 staff to advise what had happened and was informed that, indeed, the court had entered an 28

1 order based upon my failure to attend.

2 A copy of his correspondence with Department 10 is attached hereto as 3 Schedule A.

5 Finally, in keeping with this Court's comments at the last hearing regarding costs of 6 repair, MJM felt very well-prepared for the May 12, 2021 Zoom Call at 2:00 p.m., and hereby 7 respectfully submits that Plaintiffs should be allowed to present the materials which the Court 8 wanted to see (as well as other cogent, compelling, admissable and patently disputed facts) 9 Exhibit 1, and then, in the Court's discretion, allow arguments of the parties on the case-10 dispositive facts, issues and motion(s).

11 II. CONCLUSION

12 Based on the foregoing, Plaintiff respectfully prays for an order, pursuant to WDCR 12 13 (8), granting leave for reconsideration of this Court's May __, 2021, Order, or, in the 14 alternative, respectfully submits that setting aside its May __, 2021, Order pursuant to NRC 15 60(b)(1) and (6) is warranted based hereon.

18 The undersigned does hereby affirm that the document to which this Affirmation 19 is attached does not contain the social security number of any person.

PURSUANT TO NRCP 60(b)(1) and (6)

23 COME NOW JOHN ILIESCU, JR., AND SONNIA ILIESCU, TRUSTEES OF 24 THE JOHN ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA ILIESCU 1992 FAMILY TRUST(“Trust”); 25 JOHN ILIESCU, JR., an Individual (“John”); and SONNIA ILIESCU, an Individual
26 (“Sonnia”), together sometimes referred to as “Plaintiffs”, and, pursuant to D.C.R. 13
27 (7), and WDCR 12(8), respectfully submit this request for:

1 (1) a reconsideration and rehearing of this Honorable Court’s Order,
2 entered by the Court on May12, 2021 (“Order”), granting Defendants’ 3 Motion for Summary Judgement (“MSJ”), and/or

4 (2) the setting aside of such Order based upon, among other reasons, (A) 5 mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect (NRCP 60(b)(1)), or 6 (B) any other reason that justifies relief (NRCP 60(b)(6)).

7 Fundamentally, Plaintiffs were denied, inter alia, their Constitutional right to 8 appear and be heard by the Court because of a technical error, equipment malfunction,
9 oversight, mistake and/or inadvertance relating directly and/or indirectly, to the Zoom
10 teleconference platform and its operation (“Zoom Call”).

11 Plaintiffs expressly do not attribute the situation or events to any of the parties, 12 their counsel or this Honorable Court and its professional staff.

13 I. ARGUMENT

14 Rule 12(8) of the Second Judicial District Court rules permit a party to seek 15 reconsideration of a ruling by this Court within ten (10) days after service of written notice of 16 entry of the order or judgment and in conformity with DCR 13(7) (a matter once heard and 17 disposed of may be reheard upon leave of court granted upon a motion therefor). If a motion 18 for rehearing is granted, the court may restore the matter to the calendar for re-argument or 19 resubmission, or may make such other orders as are deemed appropriate under the 20 circumstances. WDCR 12(9).

21 Rule 60(b) of the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure permits this Court to set aside an 22 order based upon, among other reasons, mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect 23 (NRCP 60(b)(1)), and for fraud, misrepresentation, or other misconduct of the adverse party 24 (NRCP 60(b)(6)). Motions made pursuant to NRCP 60(b)(1) and (6) must be made within a 25 reasonable time, and not more than 6 months after the date that written notice of entry of the 26 order was served. NRCP 60(b).

27 It is well established that N.R.C.P. 60 providing for relief from judgments on the 28 ground of mistake, inadvertence, surprise or excusable neglect is a remedial statute and should

1 be liberally construed to carry out its purpose. See La-Tex Partnership v. Deters, 111 Nev. 471, 2 at 476, 893 P.2d 361 (1995), Sherman v. Southern Pac. Co., 31 Nev. 285, 102 Pac. 257 (1909),
3 cited, Whise v. Whise, 36 Nev. 16, at 20, 131 Pac. 967 (1913), Markwell v. Gray, 50 Nev. 427,

5 See also, Abel v. Lowry, 68 Nev. 284, 231 P.2d 191 (1951), cited, In re Estate of Ray, 68 Nev.

7 582 P.2d 359 (1978).

8 And Plaintiff is pursuing this motion promptly, in good faith, for good cause and with 9 no intent to delay the proceedings. See Passarelli v. J-Mar Dev., Inc., 102 Nev. 283, at 285, 10 720 P.2d 1221 (1986), Still v. Huntley, 102 Nev. 584, at 585, 729 P.2d 489 (1986), Kahn v.

13 P.2d 121 (1993), Milender v. Marcum, 110 Nev. 972, at 979, 879 P.2d 748 (1994).

14 In this case, reconsideration, or in the alternative, issuance of an order setting aside this 15 Court's Order is appropriate and warranted based upon the the fact that the undersigned was 16 prepared, willing and able to fully participate the the Hearing(s) calendared for the three (3)
17 separate motions filed by Plaintiff herein. See Exhibit "1" (Affidavit of Michael J. Morrison, 18 Esq. ("MJM")), but was unable to do so based solely on a technical problem with the Zoom 19 Call. Id. Moreover, Plaintiffs have cogent and compelling disputed facts to present in 20 opposition to the three (3) subject motions. Id.

21 Indeed, MJM worked for many hours reading and re-reading the files, documents, 22 discovery requests and pleadings in this case (on both sides). In addition, as requested by this 23 Court, MJM consulted with the Plaintiffs and Plaintiffs obtained a new written bid from Desert
24 Engineering, dated May 9, 2021, estimating costs and services necessary to repair the parking 25 lot damaged by the trucks and other vehicles used by agents of Defendant during the 26 condemnation and construction period, Id., which was in the amount of $84,550.00. See 27 Exhibit "2". Very significantly, this estimate was provided to Defendant in Plaintiffs' 28

1 Supplement to Responses to Defendant's Request for Production of Documents, sent to 2 Defendant via e-mail on May 11, 2021. This new and current estimate/bid was in addition to 3 the estimate/bid for repairs to the subject parking lot submitted by Apex Grading & Paving, 4 Inc., on or about August 26, 2020, in the approximate amount of $$73,000.00. This was 5 previously provided to Defendant by Plaintiffs on or about August 26, 2020

6 By way of context, Exhibit 2 contains some of the material that this Court advised (at 7 the April 27, 2021 hearing) it wanted to see at the time of the May 12, 2021 hearing.
8 Manifestly, such material from Plaintiffs, compared to the material already provided by 9 Defendant, would clearly and unequivocally constitute highly material, indeed, potentially 10 dispositive "disputed facts" that a jury is entitled to hear, thus precluding summary judgement
11 herein. NRCP 56.

12 As regards MJM's non-participation in the Zoom Call, prior to the 2:00 p.m. hearing, 13 MJM tried on several occasions, through several telephone numbers, to contact the personnel 14 in Department 10 shortly before 2:00 PM on the hearing date to confirm the link to the Zoom 15 Call. Having been unsuccessful in reaching anyone by telephone, he sent an email to 16 Department 10 requesting information on how to join the Zoom Call. Court staff were very 17 helpful and courteous, and sent him the standard link for the Zoom Call. When he pressed the 18 link, he was taken to a Zoom site awaiting his turn to be joined in. The court had previously 19 advised the parties that it was allocating 2 hours to the hearing.

20 Accordingly, when he was on the zoom site awaiting to be joined into the Zoom Call 21 by the court, he patiently waited, assuming the Court was attending to other matters and would 22 get to the Hearing as soon as possible, after the court was ready.

23 He clicked on the link kindly and promptly provided by the Court was placed on a 24 Zoom site at approximately 2:08, and waited, without interruption or leaving the site, until 25 approximately 4:08, when he became aware of an eFile notice from the court advising it had 26 entered an order granting defendant's motion for summary judgment, based on the fact that he, 27 as Plaintiffs' counsel, had not appeared at the hearing.

1 After the order was entered, at approximately 4:10, MJM contacted the Department 10 2 staff to advise what had happened and was informed that, indeed, the Court had entered an 3 order based upon my failure to attend.

4 A copy of his correspondence with Department 10 is attached to Exhibit 1 as Schedule 5 A.

6 Having focused his attention on this Court's comments at the last hearing regarding 7 Plaintiffs providing costs of repair, MJM felt very well-prepared for the May 12, 2021, Zoom 8 Call at 2:00 p.m., Id., and hereby respectfully submits that Plaintiffs should be allowed to 9 present the materials which the Court wanted to see (as well as other cogent, compelling, 10 admissible and patently disputed facts), and thereafter, in the Court's discretion, allow 11 arguments of the parties on the case-dispositive facts, issues and motion(s).

12 II. CONCLUSION

13 Based on the foregoing, Plaintiff respectfully prays for an order, pursuant to WDCR 12
14 (8), granting leave for reconsideration of this Court's May 12, 2021 Order, or in the alternative, 15 respectfully submits that setting aside its May 12, 2021 Order, pursuant to NRCPC 60(b)(1) and 16 (6), is warranted herein.

17 On the other hand, if summary judgement is sustained based on a technical glitch of the 18 communication system used to administer justice and/or a mistake, inadvertance, oversight 19 and/or excusable neglect of counsel in using the communication system, a citizen's rights of 20 due process may soon be at risk of partial or total confusion and emasculation, in a way 21 certainly not intended by the signatories of our Constitution.

22 AFFIRMATION
23 Pursuant to NRS 239B.030

24 The undersigned does hereby affirm that the document to which this Affirmation 25 is attached does not contain the social security number of any person.

Hi, Shannon-

When you kindly sent me the link and told me to click on it and the Judge would come on when he's ready, I clicked on the link and Zoom came up, I "joined" and was put into the waiting room and waited for the Judge to join me in.

And I waited for the Judge from approximately 2:08, until 4:08, when saw your Order e-mailed to me that the Court concluded I chose not to attend and granted relief to RTC.

If the Court does not have a protocol for addressing a system error / mistake like this, I would greatly appreciate it if you would so notify me in order that I may have an opportunity to file for some relief with the Court. Thank you very much for your kind assistance.

Best,
Mike

Mr. Morrison,

I reviewed the zoom link I sent to verify it was correct. It was. There is no waiting room on webinars. I provided no instruction about waiting for the Judge to join. I did not e-mail you any order. Finally, as far as I know no order exists yet.

Please file any request for relief you deem appropriate.

Hey, Shannon - I certainly apologize for my use of incorrect "terms" when it comes to the Zoom system and operation. But I did click "join"; it told me I was "joined"; and it told me something to the effect that I'd be joined in when the person in control did so. And I have a memory that you instructed me to wait for the Judge to join me. That said, I in no way mean to, or would ever, try to misstate what you said. I am stating what my COVID Brain heard. I am sorry for my misunderstanding that caused you concern. For that, I sincerely apologize.

And this is what I was referencing when I said I received an Order from "you" (meaning the Court):

No problem. I am sorry if I came off harsh. By way of clarification – the minutes are not an order, but do reflect what transpired in the hearing. I had no idea they had been entered so quickly. I am sorry for the confusion regarding zoom. I know Judge Hardy already had the zoom webinar running when I sent you the link so I don't know how you were waiting to join. All I can say now is to file any objections or statements for Judge Hardy to review.

I hope zoom works better for you in the future, but more I hope we can get back into court and stop using zoom.

29 OPPOSITION TO MOTION FOR RECONSIDERATION AND REHEARING OF, 30 OR IN THE ALTERNATIVE, MOTION TO SET ASIDE THIS COURT'S ORDER 31 PURSUANT TO NRCP 60(b)(1) and (6) [INCLUDING THE "FIRST" AND ANY 32 OTHER "ERRATAS" THAT MAY BE FILED]

33 Defendant The Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County ("RTC") 34 submits its opposition to Plaintiffs' Motion For Reconsideration And Rehearing Of, Or In 35 The Alternative, Motion to Set Aside This Court's Order Pursuant To NRCP 60(b)(1) and 36 (6) filed on June 1, 2021 (referred to hereafter as "MFR"), including the "First Errata"

1 filed the same day and any subsequent “Errata” Plaintiffs may file. This opposition is 2 based on the following points and authorities, the documents on file with the Court, all 3 transcripts of hearings before the Court in this matter, and any further argument at the 4 hearing scheduled for June 8, 2021.

5 I. INTRODUCTION

6 Plaintiffs ask the Court to (1) reconsider its decision to grant RTC’s motion for 7 summary judgment and to “rehear” that motion and/or (2) set aside its order pursuant to 8 NRCP 60(b) and, presumably, permit this case to proceed to trial. As discussed below, 9 Plaintiffs have failed to demonstrate that either remedy is appropriate in this case.

10 Plaintiffs assert they were denied due process because their attorney did not appear 11 at the May 12, 2021, oral argument on RTC’s motion for summary judgment, which was 12 held via a Zoom webinar conference. Plaintiffs blame “a technical error, equipment 13 malfunction, oversight, mistake and/or inadvertence” for their attorney’s failure to appear.
14 MFR at 2:7-10. Plaintiffs claim their attorney waited in the “Zoom waiting site” for two 15 hours before he was notified that the hearing was concluded and the Court had granted 16 RTC’s motion for summary judgment.¹ See MFR at 3:19-20; Declaration of Michael J.
17 Morrison, attached to the First Errata as Exhibit 1, ¶¶ 6-9.

18 Plaintiffs suggest that, had their attorney attended the oral argument on May 12, 19 Plaintiffs would have demonstrated that summary judgment should not have been granted.
20 Plaintiffs state that they have “cogent and compelling disputed facts to present” in 21 opposition to summary judgment. Id. at ¶ 3 (emphasis in original). It appears from 22 Plaintiffs’ MFR and First Errata that these “facts” consist of solely of a one-page bid from 23 Desert Engineering dated May 9, 2021, containing an estimate of $84,500 to remove and 24 replace the asphalt parking lot. See Exhibit 2 to First Errata. This was emailed to RTC’s 25 counsel at 5:00 p.m. on May 11, 2021, the night before oral argument, 74 days after the 26 expert witness disclosure deadline, and over two months after RTC had filed its motion in 27 limine to exclude experts.

1 Plaintiffs assert that the Court “ordered” them to obtain this new bid. MFR at 2 3:22-27; Declaration of Michael J. Morrison at ¶ 4. RTC’s counsel reviewed the 3 transcript for the April 27, 2021, status hearing as well as the entire file in this matter and 4 found no such order or request. Plaintiffs further claim there was a bid from Apex 5 Grading & Paving in the amount of $73,000 that was “previously provided to Defendant 6 by Plaintiffs on or about August 26, 2020. See MFR at 4:3-5; First Errata at 4:2-4. This is 7 false. RTC’s counsel has searched his records and found no such disclosure. Further, 8 Plaintiffs fail to attach any such bid to their briefs, despite citing that bid as Exhibit 3 to 9 the MFR. Moreover, even if Plaintiffs had provided the alleged Apex bid when they 10 claim they did, they still failed to timely disclose any experts in this case.

11 In short, there is no admissible evidence before the Court that would defeat 12 summary judgment. There is no admissible evidence of the cost to repair the parking lot, 13 and no admissible evidence of reduction in property value as a result of the alleged 14 damage to the parking lot. Plaintiffs waived any other compensatory damages by virtue 15 of the parties’ December 6, 2019, stipulation. Thus, there is no basis on which to 16 reconsider or set aside the order granting summary judgment.

17 II. LAW AND ARGUMENT

18 A. Plaintiffs fail to demonstrate that reconsideration is warranted.

19 Reconsideration is appropriate only when “substantially different evidence is 20 subsequently introduced or the decision is clearly erroneous.” Masonry & Tile
21 Contractors Ass’n of S. Nev. v. Jolley, Urga & Wirth, Ltd., 113 Nev. 737, 741, 941 P.2d 22 486, 489 (1997). Motions for reconsideration are not the proper vehicles for rehashing old 23 arguments or advancing theories that could have been presented earlier but were not.
24 Resolution Trust Corp. v. Holmes, 846 F.Supp. 1310, 1316 (S.D. Tex. 1994). Nor are 25 motions for reconsideration “intended to give an unhappy litigant one additional chance to 26 sway the judge.” Durkin v. Taylor, 444 F.Supp. 879, 889 (E.D. Va. 1977).

27
28 ¹ RTC has no information to challenge Plaintiffs’ version of events, but it is hard to believe an attorney prepared to argue a dispositive motion would simply wait for hours without doing anything.

1 Plaintiffs have presented no “substantially different evidence.” While they attach 2 the Desert Engineering bid to the First Errata, RTC previously brought that bid to the 3 Court’s attention at the May 12 oral argument prior to the Court’s ruling. See Transcript 4 of Proceedings, Oral Arguments on MSJ, excerpts of which are attached hereto as Exhibit
5 1, 8:16-10:10. Despite being made aware of the Desert Engineering bid, the Court entered 6 summary judgment anyway. Thus, there is nothing new or different about that bid.
7 Additionally, it remains inadmissible hearsay and an improper attempt to belatedly 8 introduce expert opinion.

9 There is nothing clearly erroneous about the Court’s ruling on summary judgment.
10 The result would have been the same had Plaintiffs’ counsel appeared for the oral 11 argument because there is simply a complete lack of evidence supporting Plaintiffs’ 12 claims. Therefore, Plaintiffs’ motion for reconsideration should be denied.

13 B. Relief under NRCP 60(b) is not warranted.

14 Plaintiffs claim they were denied due process because their Counsel failed to 15 appear at the May 12 oral argument due to excusable neglect.² Plaintiffs ask the Court to 16 set aside its order granting summary judgment pursuant to NRCP 60(b), the purpose of 17 which is to “redress any injustices that may have resulted because of excusable neglect or 18 the wrongs of the opposing party.” Rodriguez v. Fiesta Palms, LLC, 134 Nev. 654, 656, 19 428 P.3d 255, 257 (2018) (emphasis added). Put another way, the perceived injustice—in 20 this case the entry of summary judgment—must be the result of the alleged excusable 21 neglect—in this case counsel’s failure to participate in oral argument.

22 That is not the case here. Summary judgment was not entered because Plaintiffs’ 23 counsel did not appear at oral argument. Summary judgment was entered because there is 24 no evidence supporting Plaintiffs’ claims. No argument would have changed that. The 25 May 12 oral argument was not an evidentiary hearing at which Plaintiffs would have been 26 permitted to introduce new evidence or to disclose an expert report that should have been 27

28 _____
² RTC incorporates by reference and does not repeat here the arguments set forth in its Response To Notice Of Intent To File Motion filed on May 24, 2021.

1 disclosed months earlier. The purpose of NRCP 60(b) would not be served by setting 2 aside summary judgment.

3 RTC does not know why Plaintiffs' counsel failed to participate in the hearing.
4 RTC does question whether Plaintiffs' motion is brought in good faith and without intent 5 to delay the proceedings. This case has been pending for years without any effort from 6 Plaintiffs to prosecute their claims. Clearly Plaintiffs' counsel is aware of the Court's 7 procedural requirements, one of which is to attend scheduled hearings. The offered 8 excuse for his failure to appear is questionable.

9 Plaintiffs' Rule 60(b) request should be denied, as it flies in the fact of NRCP 1, 10 which provides that the rules of procedure be construed and administered to secure the 11 just, speedy and inexpensive determination of every action.

12 III. CONCLUSION

13 Plaintiffs have failed to demonstrate that reconsideration and/or Rule 60(b) relief 14 are warranted. Their motion should be denied.

ORAL ARGUMENTS ON MSJ

May 12, 2021

Job Number: 758613

1 that the RTC was taking in that case.

2 So, hopefully, I'm answering the Court's
3 question regarding that document. I don't believe 4 that's at all evidentiary support for any sort of 5 loss of value or cost of repair in this case.

6 And just quickly to answer the Court's
7 question about what discovery has the plaintiff
8 done, the answer is none. There's been no written
9 discovery at any point in time served by Mr.
10 Morrison's office or anyone else acting for the 11 plaintiffs seeking discovery from the RTC. They've 12 attempted no depositions. They've, again, produced
13 no expert reports and so, really, they haven't done
14 any discovery and made no effort to obtain
15 information in this case.

16 THE COURT: Has any discovery been
17 propounded since my March 25th order reserving the 18 effect of that order? I know there are different
19 arguments related to whether that resets, but since
20 that March 25th order, as I understand discovery
21 closes on May 28th or thereabouts, has there been 22 any renewed energy towards discovery by the 23 plaintiffs?

24 MR. ANDERSON: Your Honor, there's been no

1 specific discovery requests served on RTC at any
2 time, including since this court's March 25th
3 order or including since the April 27th status
4 hearing. Last night at about 5:00 I did receive an 5 email from Mr. Morrison with the email -- and I had 6 copies thinking for some reason I'd be going to 7 court today, which obviously, I'm not. But I'll 8 represent to the Court the email says, "Hey, Dane.
9 Please see attached. Regards, Mike." It was sent 10 to me at 4:58 p.m. yesterday evening. It's a 11 supplemental response to their prior responses to 12 requests for production. And attached to this 13 document is what looks to be a bid estimate to have 14 the parking lot repaired. I can't quite read the 15 name of the company on the top because the 16 transmission was not good. It is -- has an 17 electronic signature of whoever, apparently, is 18 responsible for the company and it has a damage 19 estimate of roughly -- or a repair estimate of 20 roughly $98,000.

21 So, I received that last night and that's 22 the only activity I've seen since the case began,
23 really, other than the other disclosures.

24 THE COURT: You told me you received it

1 yesterday, but what is the date of the estimate of 2 repair?

3 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, your Honor. The date
4 of the proposal is dated May 9th, 2021, and so I
5 guess that was Sunday I believe that that was 6 prepared. And Mr. Morrison provided it to me, as I 7 said, yesterday evening. I hope that answers your 8 Honor's question. That's the only activity I've 9 seen since both the March 25th order and the 10 April 27th status conference.

11 So, going back to the standards on summary
12 judgment, there's just no admissible evidence -- and 13 I'd have the same objection to this document that we 14 received last night. It clearly is in the nature of 15 what's purporting to be an expert opinion. It did
16 not exist until three days ago. It's attempting, I 17 think, to cover for the prior failure to disclose by 18 February 26th an expert to provide a cost of repair.
19 And so at the current time it's not part of the 20 Court's file, and in any event at this point it's 21 also inadmissible hearsay.

22 As to whether there's any other evidence in 23 the record that might support their claims, I think 24 they were obligated on opposition to summary

10:05 a.m. – Court convened via Zoom.

Michael Morrison, Esq., was present on behalf of Plaintiffs John & Sonnia Iliescu. Dane Anderson, Esq., and Bronagh Kelly, Esq., were present on behalf of Defendant RTC Washoe County.

Pursuant to the national and local COVID-19 emergency response that caused temporary closure of the courthouse located at 75 Court Street in Reno, Washoe County, Nevada, this hearing was conducted remotely. This Court and all participants appeared electronically via Zoom Webinar. This Court was physically located in Washoe County, Nevada.

COURT noted that this is the time set to address the Plaintiffs' Motion for Reconsideration and Rehearing of, or, in the Alternative, Motion to Set Aside This Court's Order Pursuant to NRCPC 60(b)(1) and (6), filed June 1, 2021, however if counsel Morrison was unable to join the Zoom Webinar on May 12, 2021, this Court will accept that representation and will allow him to present argument in opposition of the Motion for Summary Judgment.

Counsel Anderson indicated that he has no reason to doubt counsel Morrison's representation that he unsuccessfully attempted to join the Zoom Webinar on May 12, 2021 and has no objection to the Court allowing him to present argument on the Motion for Summary Judgment.

COURT ORDERED: Counsel Morrison's Motion for Reconsideration is GRANTED, and he may present argument on the Motion for Summary Judgment.

Counsel Morrison advised the Court that he was prepared to argue the Motion for Reconsideration this morning, and he would request a brief recess to allow him to gather his documents on the Motion for Summary Judgment.

10:10 a.m. – Court stood in recess.

10:15 a.m. – Court reconvened.

Counsel Morrison presented argument in opposition of the Motion for Summary Judgment, filed March 9, 2021.

Counsel Anderson lodged a continuing objection to counsel Morrison arguing and testifying to facts not in evidence.

COURT noted counsel Anderson's objection, and allowed counsel Morrison to continue. Counsel Morrison further presented argument in opposition of the Motion for Summary Judgment.

Counsel Anderson responded; and he further argued in support of the Motion for Summary Judgment.

Counsel Morrison replied; and he presented further argument in opposition of the Motion for Summary Judgment.

4 THE COURT: This is CV19-00459. It is captioned
5 Iliescu versus the Regional Transportation Commission. I see 6 Mr. Anderson and Mr. Morrison.

7 MR. MORRISON: Good morning, your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Good morning to both of you. Let me 9 dispel some arguments and attempt to focus on what is most 10 important for me.

11 MR. MORRISON: Okay.

12 THE COURT: If Mr. Morrison tells me that he 13 attempted to join us by Zoom, that is good enough for me. I 14 think that alone compels this hearing. We have pledged grace 15 and accommodation through this electronic environment.

16 So I don't need to see emails with Zoom and I 17 don't need, Mr. Morrison, I don't need you to prove that 18 attempted to participate. I accept that as true.

19 MR. MORRISON: Thank you, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: I think the biggest question for me is 21 whether there is a genuine issue of material fact created by 22 admissible evidence. And the RTC's position has been that 23 there was a failure of evidence such that there cannot be a 24 genuine issue of material fact and it really comes down to 1 whether the first and now the second cost of repairs qualify 2 through the filter of expert reports and causation, damages 3 to costs -- excuse me -- damage to property, to costs of 4 repair and so forth.

5 And so I kind of want to reset and allow 6 Mr. Morrison to make whatever arguments he would have made if 7 he was able to join us by Zoom so that there's a full 8 opportunity to be heard. And so, counsel, do either of you 9 want to respond to what I've said so far?

10 MR. MORRISON: No, your Honor. I understand and 11 appreciate the rules of engagement here.

12 MR. ANDERSON: No, your Honor. I accept the 13 Court's acceptance of Mr. Morrison's attempts. I have no 14 reason to doubt them.

15 I do want to quickly introduce my associate, 16 Bronagh Kelly, who is also joining us from Woodburn and Wedge 17 on behalf of RTC in this hearing.

18 THE COURT: Thank you. Good morning to you.

19 MS. KELLY: Good morning.

20 THE COURT: I don't know how to do a do-over. I 21 don't know if I invite Mr. Anderson to argue his points and 22 authorities as the moving party or whether I should have 23 Mr. Morrison begin with what he hoped to present to the Court 24 last time.

1 MR. MORRISON: Your Honor, respectfully, I had 2 understood and prepared for the motion for reconsideration 3 versus the summary judgment. And so if the Court is going to 4 want to hear the motion for summary judgment, I respectfully 5 ask for a couple of minutes to find the documents and files 6 that I had for that prior hearing on the 12th.

7 I have my motion for reconsideration stuff before 8 me and I can very quickly move into the other arena. I'm 9 mindful of what Mr. Anderson has filed in respect to the fact 10 that there's no factual evidence and that there hasn't been 11 any production of documents. I recognize that and I had 12 prepared for that in the May 12th hearing.

13 So since the Court's desire is to move to the 14 issue of the facts that would support some damages, I'll 15 change lanes here.

16 THE COURT: I want to give you a full opportunity 17 to be heard on anything you believe is relevant to my 18 decision on summary judgment. That's what I would most 19 benefit from.

20 MR. MORRISON: Okay. Very well. If the Court
21 would indulge me for just a minute, I'll get my other pad.

22 THE COURT: Sure. So I'm going to mute myself and 23 deactivate my video for five minutes. Is that long enough?

24 MR. MORRISON: Yes, your Honor, that should be

1 more than enough. Thank you.

2 THE COURT: It's 10:10. I'll see you at 10:15.

3 MR. MORRISON: Appreciate it.

4 (A short break was taken.)

5 THE COURT: And to Mr. Morrison, you may begin.

6 MR. MORRISON: Thank you, your Honor. Turning 7 first to the issue of no documents served, no evidence to 8 support the damages, I'd respectfully submit, your Honor, 9 that there was sufficient and substantive disclosure to 10 enable RTC to understand what the nature and extent of the 11 damages were and then there were two estimates of the cost to 12 repair the damages.

13 There's been some reference to the fact that there 14 had never previously been disclosure of the Apex document, 15 but that was disclosed in the opposition to summary judgment 16 dated 30 June 2020 consisted of responses to RTC's request 17 for production by both John and Sonnia Iliescu wherein they 18 stated that these damages had been incurred to the pavement.

19 There's been great weight about the fact that 20 there's nobody who has been identified or the trucks haven't 21 been identified. And I think that is slightly confusing in 22 the way that it's asserted, your Honor, because in truth and 23 fact, what happened was that the RTC had itself, along with 24 its agent, the contracting party, stated to Mr. Iliescu and 1 to the city council when they went for approval that there 2 was going to be trucks parked on the pavement in furtherance 3 of the job.

4 I think it's important to keep in mind the scope 5 of this job. There was only about 60 to 80 square feet, 6 approximately, that was taken. It was just along the street 7 and at the curb and both the RTC and the contractor who was 8 doing the work acknowledged. And in order to approve the 9 condemnation, the commission required disclosure of what the 10 scope of the work and scope of the project was and they 11 highlighted the fact that there were de minimis amounts of 12 property that were really needed and they all were adjacent 13 to the street. One small part to put an item at the corner 14 where the street came off Fourth Street and then a little bit 15 further into the street -- or down the street was the 16 installation of some type of electrical box.

17 And indeed they had a truck out there working and 18 there are photos of that working. Sorry. I don't know what 19 happened.

20 THE COURT: That's okay.

21 MR. MORRISON: And in connection with the scope of 22 that work, there was a portion of Judge Polaha's order, which 23 is Exhibit 4 to that opposition, Judge Polaha stated in 24 paragraph four that the parties shall cooperate so as to 1 minimize interference between construction of the project and 2 real parties' use of the remaining land on the parcel.

3 And so there's been a forceful and determined 4 approach to make sure that there was no contract identified 5 by the parties, but the plaintiffs testified that they 6 thought it was a contract. And I respectfully suggest 7 that Judge Polaha's order says very clearly the parties shall 8 cooperate to minimize interference between construction and 9 the use of the property.

10 And that to me is telling the parties that they 11 have to come to some type of an agreement, and without that 12 agreement, the project couldn't go forward.

13 And in paragraph two of Judge Polaha's order, it 14 says that the property was defined as the three easements.
15 And those easements are talking about areas next to the road.
16 There was no need other than for one truck to be used in that 17 project. And so the RTC has argued strongly that the project 18 used the parking lot for furtherance of their exercise of 19 their condemnation and the improvements that were being done.

20 Well, there were anywhere between five to six of 21 those gigantic white trucks with big booms on them and they 22 did use one at the site, certainly. And even if you say 23 that -- because I wasn't out there all the time, there were 24 two working on there, there were at least that many, if not

1 more, two, three, four other trucks parked on the lot as well 2 as all the trucks for the construction workers that were 3 hired and used by the subcontractors. And those are all 4 agents of the RTC.

5 And the fact that John and Sonnia Iliescu don't 6 know the names of them is really of no moment, because the 7 RTC and most significantly the contractor engineering firm 8 had stated that they would be using that area.

9 So I don't think there's really a legally 10 cognizable doubt about the fact that the trucks belonged to 11 the construction company. And I'm just looking here.

12 MR. ANDERSON: Your Honor, I hate to interrupt 13 Mr. Morrison's argument, but I do need to state for the 14 record, I think he's testifying, essentially, to a lot of 15 facts that are not in evidence. I don't want my silence to 16 be construed as a waiver of that objection. If I can have an 17 ongoing objection that he's arguing facts not in the record 18 and/or testifying as to matters that he may be a witness 19 himself.

20 THE COURT: I understand. And you've lodged a 21 contemporaneous objection, which shall be continuous. I do 22 want Mr. Morrison to be heard in his entirety with the caveat 23 that you just created. Go ahead, please, Mr. Morrison.

24 MR. MORRISON: Yes, your Honor. I'm just -- I'm

1 on the site looking for that document that will be more 2 responsive to Mr. Anderson's comments. Forgive me, your 3 Honor, and Mr. Anderson.

4 THE COURT: That's all right. Take your time.

5 MR. MORRISON: In respect to, back on target here, 6 your Honor, as regards the cognizable evidence, admissible 7 evidence, in Exhibit 5 to the opposition to summary judgment, 8 there's a photo contained in Exhibit 5 that shows the 9 condition of the pavement before condemnation. And that 10 photo is included with the appraisal report and that was the 11 Apex appraisal report.

12 There was also a letter from Mr. Johnson 13 concerning the appraisal on 5 August 2015, and so there is in 14 the record as Exhibit 4 to the opposition documents. There's 15 a letter from the RTC and one from Mr. Johnson concerning the 16 appraisal. The letter from RTC was included because the 17 description of the size of the easement and the use therefor.

18 Then in Exhibit 3, the Johnson appraisal, had the 19 photos of the parking area before construction started that 20 were very clear and unequivocal about that.

21 As far as testimony from the deposition of Dr.
22 Iliescu, at page 34, lines 22 to 25, and 69, lines 10 to 13, 23 there's reference to the fact of the ownership of the trucks.
24 And the fact that they don't know who the owner is, the other

1 parties who are agents to the RTC did identify who those 2 trucks belonged to, because the engineering company sent a 3 letter to Dr. Iliescu telling him. And this was produced in 4 the request for production of documents. The president, I 5 believe, that was the president was certainly a duly 6 authorized officer, who had stated in his letter that their 7 trucks, the energy company's trucks, so the owner of the 8 trucks are already included in the record before any 9 depositions or discovery were taken, because this was back 10 when the condemnation was going through and the order to 11 allow construction was issued.

12 Similarly, in Sonnia Iliescu's deposition, at page 13 19, pages 9 through 13, and 22 through 25, also indicate that 14 same ownership issue. That these trucks that Mr. Anderson 15 says there's no evidence of ownership of the trucks and no 16 evidence of who the people were driving them, but that flies 17 in the face of the statement by RTC's contracted agent to 18 perform the work, the engineering company, telling Dr.
19 Iliescu and his wife in writing that those trucks, that they 20 were going to have their trucks. The only interpretation of 21 that is that those trucks did belong. It's an admission and 22 it's an admission against their principal, the RTC, as far as 23 ownership goes.

24 The people who were driving the trucks, there was

1 attention paid to the fact that we didn't -- that the 2 Iliescus didn't know who was driving the trucks. Well, they 3 were the people who the engineering company had authorized to 4 drive the trucks, because it told Dr. Iliescu and his wife 5 that they were going to be their trucks being used in this 6 project.

7 So the ownership of the truck issue that we can't 8 identify anything so there can't be any evidence, I think, 9 falls far from the mark respectfully, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Mr. Morrison, let me ask a question 11 about that, if I might.

12 MR. MORRISON: Please.

13 THE COURT: The claims have different elements and 14 if this sole element before me was whether RTC or its agents 15 entered upon the Iliescu property, that would be a fact 16 question that I would not summarily adjudicate. And by enter 17 the property, park their trucks, drive their trucks.

18 I don't believe that the Iliescus' failure to 19 identify by name who was on their property is fatal. I would 20 allow that go to a jury as a fact to be resolved. And I 21 think the Iliescu testimony would create a fact question and 22 then the RTC would respond to that fact question.

23 But as I understand the argument, it's not whether 24 RTC or its agents were on the property. The argument that I

1 understand from RTC is that even if true, there is no 2 evidence of what damage was caused by that presence on the 3 Iliescu property.

4 I've previously heard that the parking lot maybe 5 for 40 years had not been maintained or I can't remember, 6 maybe it was 20 years, hasn't been maintained. So there was 7 a condition of the property before RTC and the condition of 8 the property after RTC. And the Iliescus have failed to 9 identify any person or fact that would demonstrate the injury 10 to the property caused by RTC or its agents' presence.

11 What evidence do you have that will show the 12 impact -- it's kind of -- if there's injury to a 40-year-old 13 property, you don't get a brand-new property to restore the 14 40 years. You only get damages associated with that event.
15 And I'm looking for any evidence of any type that would show 16 this is the result of these unknown actors' presence on the 17 property.

18 MR. MORRISON: Okay, your Honor, I appreciate that 19 comment on focus and I'll address that in a focused way as 20 well.

21 Both Dr. Iliescu and Mrs. Iliescu have testified 22 that the trucks caused the damage. They said that the 23 property wasn't damaged to the extent of the craters and 24 cracks and cave-ins before the fact.

1 Now, the Johnson appraisal, as well as numerous 2 other appraisals or photos that have been produced in 3 connection with the request for production of documents, 4 there's over 20 of them that show the trucks, shows the 5 damage, shows the caved-in area that the Iliescus have 6 described verbally. And then in contrast, before the RTC 7 went in to work on it, there was an appraisal done.

8 And that appraisal has photos taken by the 9 appraising party's firm that show unconditionally without any 10 doubt that that was a flat area that did not have craters and 11 damages to the pavement.

12 The Iliescus said that that occurred only when the 13 trucks started coming in and they tried to complain to the 14 drivers and the drivers, as Ms. Iliescu said in her 15 deposition, they could care less. They didn't want to talk 16 to them about anything.

17 So we're left with the Iliescus' testimony and the 18 pictures by third parties that there was no damage before the 19 condemnation, but after construction started and throughout 20 the construction, including afterwards, there are photos to 21 show those huge craters in the pavement.

22 THE COURT: May I interrupt to summarize what I 23 believe I've just heard? I'm aware of this appraisal, which 24 was prepared as part of the condemnation action, not the 1 action we're in now.

2 MR. MORRISON: Right.

3 THE COURT: So the value assessment of that 4 appraisal is of highly questionable relevance. But you're 5 telling me that that appraisal is not relevant to establish 6 property value, that appraisal is relevant, because there are 7 photographs attached, which established the pre-condemnation 8 condition of the property, and now we have additional 9 photographs that establish the post-condemnation condition of 10 the property, therefore, any degradation in condition must 11 have occurred during the condemnation work. Is that what you 12 said?

13 MR. MORRISON: Yes, your Honor. That the Iliescus 14 have so testified that the condition of the property was as 15 depicted in the aerial photographs of which there's numerous 16 in the record. They've been produced for Mr. Anderson and 17 they were used by professionals in connection with documents 18 that they were preparing for another purpose.

19 And I would acknowledge, your Honor, that the 20 appraisal per se, the amount of money that the property was 21 valued at is not at issue here, your Honor, at all. The 22 Iliescus, just to show the scope of the project, the Iliescus 23 received approximately $2,000 for the easements that were 24 granted by Judge Polaha and the construction commenced

1 thereafter. And when that construction commenced, at the 2 start of it, there are photos, value notwithstanding, the 3 Iliescus got $2,000 for the value of what was taken.

4 But this case concerns not the appraisal per se 5 and not the valuation contained in that, but the fact that 6 RTC itself submitted this document with these photos and now 7 deny that damage was caused by their trucks. But the 8 testimony of John and Sonnia Iliescu is very solid in that 9 respect.

10 THE COURT: How do you value the damage that was 11 created? I understand that there are these two estimates, 12 but walk me through your legal, admissible evidence analysis 13 of how you then establish the damages of the injury to the 14 property that you believe there is a genuine issue of 15 material fact. What witness and what document do you intend 16 to introduce to the jury that establishes those damages?

17 MR. MORRISON: Okay. First of all, your Honor, 18 I'm very glad that you framed the question in that manner, 19 because I'm, as you can tell, struggling with my speech and 20 so forth. So I appreciate it.

21 To that point, your Honor, John Iliescu testified 22 and Sonnia Iliescu testified that there was nothing wrong 23 with the pavement and that the photos taken by the RTC and 24 their engineering specialist depict a level, uncratered,

1 undamaged parking lot.

2 Now, in the spirit of full disclosure in this 3 context, those photos do show two long lines that go across 4 the pavement. But what's significant about that, your Honor, 5 is those two long lines stayed there. But the other areas 6 that were divorced, geographically divorced from those lines 7 is what caved in and Iliescu testified that it wasn't caved 8 in, it was a perfectly good parking lot.

9 So the measure of those damages has been estimated 10 by two separate firms, Apex and Desert, and, yes, they have 11 different numbers, but what they talk about repairing is the 12 part that is damaged.

13 Now, the damage part has been testified to and so 14 there's been no controverting testimony or other evidence to 15 indicate that the amount that was damaged is different from 16 what the estimated repair scope and area is. Both of those 17 from Apex and Desert have been provided to the RTC long ago 18 and well before any kind of discovery date ever came up.

19 So I think that Dr. Iliescu's ownership and his 20 status as a real estate developer and real estate rebuilder, 21 because there's plenty of evidence that he has owned many 22 properties and done repairs and rebuilding and rehabing and 23 remodeling of those buildings, he has a wealth of experience 24 over his 94 or 95 years and especially here in Reno. And he

1 said that this is what was damaged and that's what needs to 2 be repaired.

3 So the two experts in paving, they come out and 4 say, oh, we got -- that's their job. That's what their 5 business is. They're specialists in it.

6 THE COURT: Were these two experts disclosed and 7 did they file expert reports?

8 MR. MORRISON: They were disclosed, but the only 9 reports were the estimates that they prepared. Their 10 expertise is more in the nature of and limited to what's it 11 take to install pavement and what's it take to repair 12 pavement. That's all they do.

13 And so they prepared these estimates unaffected by 14 Dr. and Mrs. Iliescu. They didn't go out there to do 15 anything in connection with any of it. They just said, we 16 need this repaired, how much is it going to cost? And they 17 gave them the scope of what the repairs needed to be and then 18 the estimates of repair came in and those were what was 19 provided to the RTC.

20 And the first one was way in advance of any kind 21 of discovery cutoff, as was the second one. The second one 22 was timely within the scope of the new discovery period, your 23 Honor. And so to say that the plaintiffs did no discovery, 24 certainly, they cooperated in producing discovery, but the 1 discovery that they needed in this case had previously been 2 acquired by them and disclosed to the RTC, as well as the 3 fact that the RTC had prepared their own documents and made 4 those as a 16.1 disclosure to the plaintiffs. And so the 5 plaintiffs feel that in this moment that there's no further 6 discovery that they needed to do.

7 Now, I will point out one thing, because I just 8 remembered it, and that was that -- sorry, your Honor. Well, 9 I lost that thought, your Honor. But from the standpoint of 10 the discovery that had been produced by defendant to the 11 plaintiffs combined with what the plaintiffs already had and 12 during the time of the discovery period -- oh, forgive me, 13 your Honor, for skipping around. I just remembered what my 14 comment was before.

15 There was a disclosure by the doctor of the 16 documents and photos that they had and the RTC had disclosed 17 their documents and photos to the plaintiffs. And at that 18 time, the plaintiffs determined that they had the information 19 that they needed from the RTC, save and except for one thing.
20 And that was when the deposition situation with Dr. Iliescu 21 and his health and so forth was going on, there had been 22 telephone calls between myself and Mr. Anderson to the effect 23 that, oh, look, we've already got some court reporters, let's 24 just let the plaintiffs take the person most knowledgeable

1 about this project, their deposition.

2 And Mr. Anderson, and I accepted it as a fellow 3 lawyer, he said, well, I gave notice for the deposition of 4 Dr. Iliescu months ago and I'm entitled to take his 5 deposition. And nothing is going to be done and that's hence 6 the -- my belief and understanding that there wasn't going to 7 be any other discovery done by plaintiff. Nobody is going to 8 take a deposition until I've had Dr. Iliescu's deposition, 9 because I've noticed it many times, which is true, and I've 10 never had an opportunity to take it. So I am going to have 11 the deposition of Dr. Iliescu done before we do anything 12 else. I acknowledged that and I tried very diligently to 13 respect that and I did in all respects.

14 But during that time period, Dr. Iliescu had, as 15 he's prone to do, as well as his wife Sonnia, to talk to 16 people and dig around and look for stuff and talk to people 17 about information or their knowledge. And as a result of 18 that, Dr. Iliescu was reminded of things that he already had 19 and together with the documents that he had received several 20 years -- it's probably two or three years ago, he had 21 information from Johnson that spelled out in pretty clear 22 detail what the parking lot looked like.

23 And as a result of that, he told me, John Iliescu 24 told me, and his wife is virtually always present when he's

1 speaking to someone just to help him along, owing to his age
2 and health issues, so both of them were there when John said, 3 you know, I don't know if we need anything else. Don't we 4 have everything? It's pretty open and simple.

5 They had 80 or 90 feet of condemnation land that 6 they built on and they used mine to support all of their 7 construction along Fourth Street because there was no parking 8 anywhere else so it was -- they just used it. And so as a 9 result, John Iliescu felt that this was a pretty forward 10 issue that involved only the construction and repair of that.

11 He, I know I don't need to remind the judge, but I 12 kind of remind myself, that Dr. Iliescu had voluntarily 13 dismissed all of his claims that related to any kind of 14 medical or damages that had to do with anything, except for 15 one thing, the damage.

16 And so that's why there was a change in the RTC's 17 approach, because they now realized that they weren't 18 defending damages to a 94-year-old doctor, but rather were 19 solely limited to the cost to repair.

20 And I had that conversation on a couple of 21 occasions with Mr. Anderson and he suggested and I agreed 22 that this was a case about the damages to the pavement. That 23 was it. Not the Johnson document at all.

24 So this case is narrowed down to one issue and 1 John felt all along once he got rid of his -- once he 2 surrendered his medical claims, related claims, that this was 3 a very simple case. There was only one thing left. Dr. John 4 felt that way as well as Sonnia, so they thought it was 5 now -- and this was a couple of years ago when Dr. John 6 surrendered his medical related claims.

7 So for a couple of years, they've had in their 8 mind that this was just one issue and then that's why after 9 their deposition they queried me about why the -- why were 10 all these questions coming out about stuff?

11 And they recognized that the RTC was entitled to 12 ask whatever they wanted to. The relevance of some of it I 13 explained to them was going to be dealt with later. But that 14 the RTC was entitled to ask anything they want.

15 So in light of that, Dr. Iliescu, he called me one 16 day and he was -- I can tell when he's really excited. He 17 said, you know, Mike, this is just a one issue case. Get 18 that parking lot done and we're gone. He says, see if 19 they'll -- if they'll pay some money for that.

20 And I said, well, I have talked with Mr. Anderson 21 about that, but he said that he wanted to see some numbers.
22 And so the Johnson appraisal did provide numbers, but they 23 provided context for what the scope of those damages were.

24 And the Apex estimate of repairs was in the RTC's

1 hand long before there was any contention about the issues of 2 valuation. And that's when I know that this evidence isn't 3 admissible, but I did have conversations with Mr. Anderson 4 about seeing whether we could come to terms and he said, 5 what's some numbers? I said, well, you got the Apex.

6 So at that time, since the economy was changing, I 7 decided to ask Dr. Iliescu to get another estimate of what it 8 was going to be to repair it and he got Desert and that was 9 due on a date certain. I think it was due by May 12th. And 10 I think that Mr. Anderson had it sent over by me the evening 11 before that so that he had it before the 12th. So I suggest, 12 respectfully, judge, that these numbers aren't foreign and 13 unknown and some kind of a mystery to the RTC.

14 Now, I guess there's enough been said about that 15 issue of the specific amount to repair it, but the repairs 16 are what they are. Both repair people had the same scope of 17 the repairs. The difference in the price is left for a jury 18 to decide if there's a number that should be different than 19 what was in those reports.

20 But I feel, your Honor, that there has been over 21 the course of this case the type of meaningful disclosure 22 that is contemplated by the law from the standpoint of 23 allowing people to be heard and any kind of dispute could be 24 resolved with factual information that would come from a

1 variety of sources.

2 But the source of those numbers is from the people
3 who were going to repair them and that's what they do for a 4 living. They're repairmen of note and good standing in the 5 industry.

6 THE COURT: All right.

7 MR. MORRISON: As to those numbers, I note that 8 I've been trying to get to the Court the information that it 9 requested, but if there's something that your Honor had 10 contemplated that you wanted beyond what that discussion is 11 about the costs of repairs, I'll certainly address those,
12 your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Morrison. I think it's 14 appropriate that I turn to Mr. Anderson.

15 MR. ANDERSON: Thank you, your Honor. And your 16 Honor asked the one question, the most important question, I 17 think, that wasn't really answered and that is, were any 18 expert disclosures ever made? The deadline was February 26th 19 of this year to disclose expert reports. And the Desert 20 Engineering report clearly was generated three months later.
21 I call it a report. It's actually just a bid or an estimate 22 to repair -- I'm sorry -- to remove and replace the parking 23 lot.

24 So that estimate despite being quite old or quite

1 well past the deadline also fails in respect, because it 2 doesn't -- it doesn't talk about returning the parking lot to 3 the condition that it was in prior to the alleged damage, but 4 to provide an entirely new parking lot where previously there 5 was a 40-year-old, unrepaired, unmaintained parking lot that 6 existed.

7 I think the Summit Engineering document not only 8 is hearsay, lacks foundation, et cetera, but is not a valid 9 expert report, not timely disclosed and can't be considered 10 by the Court even though it is in the Court's record at the 11 moment.

12 The Apex report that Mr. Morrison keeps referring 13 to as having been previously disclosed to RTC, I can't find 14 any record of that. The documents that were disclosed, all 15 the documents that the Iliescus disclosed in this case are 16 before the Court by virtue of the prior pleadings, summary 17 judgment motions and oppositions and the Apex document is not 18 from what I can find anywhere in this record.

19 It was mentioned by the Iliescus at their 20 deposition last July that they had consulted with Apex. I 21 did request a copy at that time from Mr. Morrison on the 22 record in the deposition, I believe, and that was never 23 provided. The document that they filed recently said that 24 that report was provided to RTC on August 26th of 2020 and I

1 can't find any disclosures, any formal disclosure documents 2 or anywhere else in my email where this document was 3 supposedly provided. So I don't have any Apex estimate. And 4 in any event, it was not disclosed as an expert report 5 either.

6 If you look at NRCP 16.1 in terms of expert 7 disclosures, and I apologize, your Honor, I'm looking at my 8 computer screen while I'm doing this, unless otherwise 9 excused by the Court, they have to provide a written report.
10 And the written report isn't just the estimate that is 11 provided. It has to contain the facts that are considered by 12 the witness, any exhibits used to summarize particular items, 13 the witness' qualifications, including a list of 14 publications, et cetera, a list of other cases in which 15 they've testified and a statement of the compensation to be 16 paid for the study and the testimony in the case and none of 17 that information has been provided.

18 The Summit Engineering report -- I'm sorry is -- I 19 think I was calling it Summit Engineering -- Desert 20 Engineering. I apologize, your Honor. So there's just no 21 evidence of damages. Mr. Morrison testified, essentially, at 22 length as to what the Iliescus may or may not say, what the 23 RTC may or may not say, but he didn't provide any affidavits 24 in opposition to summary judgment.

1 The materials he did provide and he referenced it
2 as exhibits to the summary judgment, the appraisal report, I 3 think he mentioned it's Exhibit 5 to their opposition to 4 summary judgment, is not a document that was generated by 5 Apex or Desert Engineering. It's part of an appraisal 6 prepared by Joseph Campbell and it contains an aerial 7 photograph from I don't know how far above the property it 8 is, but it's impossible to tell what the before condition 9 was, whether there's any depressions in the parking lot.

10 I think my client would contest that the nature of 11 the -- or the condition of the parking lot prior to 12 construction was essentially the same as it is now.

13 THE COURT: Before you go there, I don't want you 14 to leave this -- the expert reports, because I find myself 15 still thinking about that where you've pivot to photographs.
16 Let me just pause for a moment.

17 Mr. Morrison's arguing that -- I believe he's 18 arguing that the Rule 16 role of an expert is different than 19 the mere repair costs that are set forth in the estimate.
20 Why do you believe the Desert estimate and the Apex estimate, 21 why do you believe they need to be embedded in an expert 22 report? What information would you glean from the expert's 23 report? What areas would you cross examine or depose? Help 24 me understand why it's an expert as opposed to this is just

1 the cost to repair our parking lot?

2 One more thing, I don't need a copy of other books
3 that this expert has written. I don't need to know that a 4 licensed contractor is qualified. You know, some of those 16 5 standards don't really apply here. So tease out the 6 distinction between the expert that you seek and the mere 7 cost of repair estimate that Mr. Morrison asserts.

8 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, your Honor. Well, in any 9 trial, there's two types of evidence. There's witnesses who 10 have personal knowledge of things that have happened, events 11 that have happened that are relevant to the case, and then 12 you have expert witnesses who have specialized knowledge, 13 education, training, experience that look at a situation in 14 which they weren't personally involved and come up with an 15 opinion or testimony to help the jury understand the issues.

16 In this case, there's, I think, a debate over 17 causation. You know, if there is damage, how was it caused?
18 And, number two, how do you compensate the Iliescus if indeed 19 the RTC did cause that damage?

20 So I can't go look at the property and say, I 21 think the Iliescus are entitled to a hundred thousand 22 dollars, because I have no training or education in parking 23 lot repair or construction.

24 That's why they need an expert to opine not only

1 on the issue of causation, but what does it cost to repair 2 and how does that person who is going to testify as to that 3 cost know that. What's their background? How many projects 4 have they done of this type? And they also need to say, what 5 would it cost to get it back to the condition it was in prior 6 to the construction being done, not to a brand-new parking 7 lot. That's not what they're entitled to in this case.

8 Dr. Iliescu testified in his deposition that this 9 thing hadn't been maintained in 40 years, roughly. That's 10 what you need, your Honor, you need that type of witness with 11 specialized knowledge to look at all those things and then 12 provide an expert report in a timely fashion so that the 13 opposing party can get a rebuttal expert, if necessary, and 14 challenge that testimony. And so that's what they're missing 15 in this case.

16 I know Mr. Morrison had discussed that Dr. Iliescu 17 is capable of that, but NRCP 16.1 still does not relieve them 18 of the obligation to make the appropriate disclosure, even if 19 it's a witness like Dr. Iliescu, and that just hasn't 20 happened in this case.

21 And I think, if I recall correctly, Dr. Iliescu 22 testified in his deposition that he's not, I don't know, 23 qualified to provide the numbers, that he would defer to the 24 experts on that.

1 So I think that's what they're missing in this 2 case, your Honor, and I think, quite frankly, it's fatal to 3 all of their claims for the exact reasons that Mr. Morrison 4 mentioned a few minutes ago and which are the same reasons 5 you and I discussed at the prior hearing on May 12th, which 6 is the Iliescus have waived all damages with the exception of 7 the cost to repair the parking lot or the loss of value, you 8 know, physical issues with the parking lot and punitive 9 damages.

10 And so this discussion about them waiving their 11 health claims is really what takes this case out of the realm 12 of the nominal damages that your Honor was concerned about at 13 the last hearing. And then the pain and suffering damages 14 that they can get as a result of those nominal damages.

15 So in the absence of any evidence of any cost to 16 repair and the causation issues on the physical parking lot, 17 none of their claims survive. Does that answer your Honor's 18 question?

19 THE COURT: I appreciate your response. Anything 20 else, Mr. Anderson? I interrupted you. You were just moving 21 to the comparison of the photographs.

22 MR. ANDERSON: Yes, your Honor, and I might jump 23 around a little bit. I'm trying to track my notes from 24 Mr. Morrison's discussion.

1 There was some discussion about the deposition of 2 RTC's person most knowledgeable between Mr. Morrison and 3 myself. I quite frankly don't recall that. If he had sent a 4 notice for a deposition of RTC or asked to schedule it, I 5 would agree to schedule it.

6 I think I pointed out previously, I never told Mr.
7 Morrison not to conduct any discovery he wanted to conduct.
8 He had every opportunity to do that. If he wanted to depose 9 somebody from the RTC, serve a request for production, serve 10 an interrogatory or request for admission, then he certainly 11 could have done that and the RTC would have responded 12 pursuant to the rules and that just didn't happen.

13 There was a lot of discussion about the trucks 14 being parked and whose trucks were they. I think the 15 Court -- I understand what the Court is saying that if it 16 were just an issue of whether those trucks were agents of the 17 RTC for purposes of vicarious viability, that's one thing.
18 But when you're talking about a claim for conspiracy, which I 19 think was the important point of being able to identify these 20 other parties, because the Iliescus did assert a conspiracy 21 claim and that requires, I can't remember all the elements 22 off the top of my head, but they're in my brief and the 23 proposed order I submitted, it requires an agreement between 24 the defendant and a third party. And they just haven't

1 identified who those third parties are.

2 And so that's the reason that the identification 3 of the trucks is important is for that element of that 4 conspiracy claim. So I think that claim fails for reasons 5 other than just the lack of damages.

6 Bear with me, your Honor, please. Regarding the 7 breach of contract claim, Mr. Morrison, I think, essentially 8 reargued what they had already argued previously regarding a 9 contract. The basis of their claim for breach of contract 10 being Judge Polaha's ruling in the condemnation case. And I 11 think I argued this in prior briefing, but if I didn't, I'll 12 state, again, that Judge Polaha's order is in that particular 13 case.

14 And if for some reasons the Iliescus felt that the 15 RTC was not abiding by that directive that they cooperate 16 regarding access and similar issues, their remedy was to go 17 seek enforcement of that order in that case and not to file a 18 new action for a breach of contract where none of the 19 elements for a contract were actually met, including damages.
20 And so, again, that's not a basis for a breach of contract
21 claim.

22 I apologize, your Honor. Your Honor, I don't 23 believe I have any more comments as to the remarks that 24 Mr. Morrison made other than the general observation that I

1 think he was introducing a lot of what he believes would be 2 evidence that could have been obtained, but was not.

3 The evidence that the Court has to operate from is 4 what's in the record before it currently. The Iliescus had 5 an obligation in their opposition to summary judgment to come 6 forth with admissible evidence demonstrating the existence of 7 a genuine issue of material fact and they just haven't done 8 that. So whatever Mr. Morrison thinks may or may not have 9 been presented at trial is irrelevant at this point, because 10 it's not before the Court.

11 I think summary judgment is appropriate. I don't 12 know procedurally where we are at this point in terms of the 13 Court's consideration of their motion for reconsideration, 14 because the order on summary judgment hasn't actually been 15 entered. And so I'll just argue this like I'm still arguing 16 the summary judgment that they haven't met the elements of 17 their claims, most importantly regarding damages, and that 18 RTC is entitled to summary judgment on the remaining claims 19 in this case.

20 THE COURT: Any concluding remarks, Mr. Morrison, 21 based upon anything about Mr. Anderson said?

22 MR. MORRISON: Yes, thank you, your Honor. As 23 regards the conspiracy, I mentioned once before a contract 24 that was implied by Judge Polaha, but also in the exhibits to 1 the responses for request for production that were, of 2 course, disclosed and had by all. The exhibits in that 3 consist of numerous pictures, maybe six or eight pictures of 4 the trucks on the ground showing that there was no caving-in.

5 And very significantly, also produced in that was 6 a letter from Todd Keizer project manager of Paragon 7 Partners, who I'll represent as he did, they were working on 8 the project and were responsible for it and parking lot. Mr.
9 Keizer told Dr. Iliescu, lastly, I didn't mention it on the 10 phone, but I believe we are going to request access to the 11 main parking area of the property. This is solely for your 12 benefit to tie the driveway into Fourth Street, address grade 13 issues, upgrade asphalt, curbing, et cetera.

14 This last map shows it in purple and will be 15 completely voluntary and temporary on your part as the RTC 16 will not compel you to allow us access. And Sonnia -- I'll 17 represent to you that the document has handwriting from 18 Sonnia. And it was a note that says, JI spoke with Todd and 19 explained his position and he does not want on the 20 property -- property on the pavement.

21 And so in essence what Mr. Keizer says is that he 22 is going to enter into some activities that solely for your, 23 Iliescu's, benefit to do grading, asphaltting and so forth, 24 but it's voluntary. And have to be examination of these

1 facts with the parties, but Dr. Iliescu says that he didn't 2 grant that approval, but it was taken anyway.

3 And, respectfully, a trespass is pretty well -- or 4 this statement and conduct is pretty much the legal elements 5 of the trespass, because when Keizer, who is an agent of the 6 RTC, through a daisy chain with the other contracting 7 parties, when they told Iliescu that it was voluntary and 8 temporary, there's only one way to interpret that in my mind, 9 your Honor.

10 And also I think that also, that letter and 11 conduct, constitutes a contract between, if nobody else, 12 Keizer, who is an agent of RTC, and the Iliescus that they're 13 going to benefit his property, fix grade issues, asphalt and 14 so forth, but it was all temporary. And that has in essence 15 the elements of a contract that Iliescu allowed Keizer to 16 proceed under.

17 No, he doesn't have that in a written contract 18 formal form, but certainly these contemporaneous documents 19 and statements should provide and be admissible as evidence 20 as to what the agreement was among the parties. And that 21 also would dovetail into the conspiracy, your Honor, which 22 is -- that was Exhibit 2 that I was reading from, your Honor.
23 And Exhibit 3 is the Johnson report prepared August 18th, 24 2016.

1 And it's pretty clear from all of those pictures
2 that the parking lot was -- except the two cracks I 3 discussed, was the same as it was when -- in Exhibit 1.
4 The Exhibit 1 photos were taken after the RTC had taken over 5 the property and those pictures reflect exactly what the 6 aerial photograph from Johnson in 2016 reflect and that is 7 that there's lots of trucks there and the area that is now 8 caved-in was not caved-in.

9 And so I think that, yeah, there might have 10 been -- there might have been those two cracks, but there 11 wasn't the kind of damage that exists there today that Dr.
12 Iliescu is complaining about in this arena. And as I said, 13 it's Exhibit 1 and 3 that are so contrasting and evident of 14 what the condition of the property is and it -- the causation 15 was taking place throughout the series of these pictures. So 16 I don't think there's a serious argument that those were 17 preexisting.

18 And, again, I think I said this, judge, and excuse 19 me if I repeat this, but item paragraph four in the order 20 from Judge Polaha on the 30th of November 2016 says that the 21 RTC and real parties in interest and their respected agents 22 shall cooperate so as to minimize the interference with 23 construction of the project and real parties in interest use 24 of the remaining land. And that's exactly the target of this 1 lawsuit is they -- nobody cooperated. That was an order, but 2 it also sanctioned a contract -- excuse me -- from the 3 standpoint that the RTC and their real parties shall 4 cooperate so as to minimize the interference in the real 5 parties in interest use of the remaining land.

6 Maybe you'd need someone to testify as to what the 7 pictures show, if someone couldn't see them, but the pictures 8 are pretty clear on that.

9 THE COURT: Mr. Morrison, how do you respond to 10 Mr. Anderson's argument that your client owns a parking lot 11 that is 40 years old and he's seeking to have the entire 12 parking lot resurfaced or repaired because of craters, cracks 13 and cave-ins that -- Mr. Anderson is not saying this, I'm 14 saying this now at this point. If I have a 40-year-old 15 parking lot that has not been maintained and then there's 16 some activity that creates craters, cracks and cave-ins, why 17 does your client get the entire parking lot new again when it 18 had already expired its depreciable life?

19 Parking lots should be repaired within four years.
20 I don't know what the tables are for parking lot, because I'm 21 not an expert, but we have depreciation schedules and at some 22 point the value for that parking lot is zero after 40 years.
23 Why does your client deserve a new parking lot to remedy that 24 40-year age?

1 MR. MORRISON: That's a very poignant comment,
2 your Honor, and my information is that you can't -- and I 3 believe this, because I've witnessed it over 75 years, you 4 can't just patch one tiny part of a large asphalt area and 5 not expect that tiny part to in essence have some 6 ramification on the rest of the parking lot. And it doesn't 7 take very long for that one spot that was repaired to need 8 repair again.

9 I know there's a lot of jokes made about the 10 city's road repair, but they need to repair a whole area to 11 give integrity to the one part that they need to repair so 12 that if they -- if they did the spot patching and repair, and 13 I know that on my own drive area, there's not going to be a 14 solution that is acceptable to anyone who owns that parking 15 lot.

16 THE COURT: Who is going to provide that 17 testimony?

18 MR. MORRISON: So to make that parking lot repair 19 have some structural integrity, they need to pave the whole 20 area around that damaged area to have that structural 21 integrity, otherwise they're just creating more work for 22 everyone and more loss for --

23 THE COURT: Who is going to provide that testimony 24 to the jury? You just answered my question and I thank you

1 for that. But you just provided a technical answer about the 2 inability to spot repair, who provides that testimony to the 3 jury?

4 MR. MORRISON: The people who submitted the bids.
5 That's the business they're in and they're defending their 6 proposal from the standpoint of what they feel needs to be 7 done to effect the repairs that they have on their proposal 8 for the price that has been bid.

9 So the concept of having a 40-year-old parking lot 10 repaired just because there's one section that is caved-in 11 and damaged is a good argument in one respect, but it doesn't 12 give deference to what people who repair parking lots have 13 uniformly resoundingly been talking about. We got to do the 14 whole thing.

15 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

16 MR. MORRISON: Or else we don't get the benefit of 17 the repair and know that there's -- I think that -- I think 18 that it's in my mind a little shortsighted to allow the RTC 19 to say, oh, no, we're only going to repair the part where it 20 caved in, when, in fact, they're the ones who caused the need 21 for anything to be done to the parking lot.

22 Now, they want to limit what their damages are 23 just based upon the fact that, oh, you're covering too big an 24 area. And I think that is turning a blind eye towards the 1 realities of a parking lot and the right that Dr. Iliescu and 2 his wife have to do what they want with the parking lot. The 3 parking lot was serving them just fine until the RTC got a 4 contract.

5 Now, the RTC wants to say, oh, but we shouldn't 6 have to make sure that the repair is not required in the next 7 year or so, we only need to pay for what the hole is. And I 8 don't think that is -- I think it ignores the reality of the 9 fact that these workers, contractors had a duty as set forth 10 in these exhibits to the request for production.

11 And now they want to turn tail and say, no, we 12 don't really have a duty to repair your parking lot when in a 13 number of places the commission and Johnson Perkins and RTC 14 acknowledge that they're going to go in there to cause no 15 interference with -- so Johnson Perkins in Exhibit 4 16 acknowledged that they have -- in paragraph one, that the 17 Iliescus' property will be affected by the project, so 18 there's something going to happen.

19 And he acknowledges, that's Reese Perkins,
20 well-known figure in the industry, and he says -- 21 acknowledges that there's going to be an affect to the 22 project and then --

23 MR. ANDERSON: I apologize, your Honor. Which 24 exhibit is Mr. Morrison looking at?

1 THE COURT: I'm not sure, but I think the Court is 2 fully informed at this point.

3 MR. MORRISON: Okay, your Honor.

4 THE COURT: At some point, I have enough argument 5 that demonstrates Mr. Morrison's position on behalf of his 6 clients regarding genuine issues of material fact and I've 7 reviewed the moving papers and exhibits and so forth. I 8 appreciate that we've had a chance to be together again, 9 because I very much wanted to hear from Mr. Morrison and I 10 was disappointed he didn't appear. I accept his explanation 11 it was through no fault of his own. I just thought it was 12 appropriate that he had an opportunity to be heard.

13 But at this point, I'm going to thank you both and 14 take it under advisement and I'll issue a written order.
15 Good day to both of you. Court will be in recess.

16 MR. MORRISON: Thank you, judge, and I want to 17 thank you and Mr. Anderson for indulging my delays.

18 THE COURT: Thank you.

22 ORDER GRANTING SUMMARY JUDGMENT AFTER
23 SUPPLEMENTAL ARGUMENTS

24 Before the Court is RTC's Motion for Summary Judgment. RTC filed the motion on 25 March 29, 2021. Plaintiffs filed their opposition brief on April 2, 2021. RTC filed its reply
26 brief on April 29, 2021, and the matter was submitted for the Court's decision. The Court 27 scheduled oral argument for May 12, 2020, at which it heard argument from RTC's counsel.
28 Plaintiffs' counsel did not appear at oral argument. At the conclusion of oral arguments this Court orally pronounced that it would grant summary judgment and deny the pending motions in limine as moot; it directed RTC's Counsel, Dane Anderson Esq., to prepare and submit the

1 order.

2 On May 13, 2021 Plaintiffs filed a notice of intent to file motion to request a rehearing
3 on RTC's Motion for Summary Judgment because "Plaintiffs were denied, inter alia, their 4 Constitutional right to appear and be heard" due to "a technical error, oversight, mistake
5 and/or inadvertence relating. . . to the Zoom platform and its operation." See May 13, 2021 6 Notice. RTC filed a response on May 24, 2021, arguing a rehearing is not proper and 7 plaintiffs were provided proper notice and an opportunity to be heard and further fail to 8 demonstrate how their participation would have yielded different results. Thereafter, 9 Plaintiffs filed a motion for reconsideration and hearing or alternative motion to set aside
10 order, to which the RTC filed an opposition on June 7, 2021. This Court allowed 11 supplemental arguments on June 8, 2021, and the parties have been fully heard. This Court 12 now orders as follows:
13 14

15 PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

16 1. Plaintiffs filed this action on February 27, 2019. Their complaint asserted 17 twelve claims for relief: (1) injunctive relief; (2) breach of contract; (3) breach of the implied
18 covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (4) breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust; (5)
19 declaratory relief; (6) waste; (7) conversion; (8) trespass; (9) civil conspiracy; (10) 20 negligence; (11) elder abuse; and (12) intentional and/or negligent infliction of emotional 21 distress/tort of outrage. Plaintiffs' claims were all based on the RTC's alleged improper use 22 of the parking lot on Plaintiffs' property at 642 E. 4th Street in Reno. Plaintiffs alleged 23 damages to the parking lot, personal injuries (including emotional distress, anxiety and 24 depression) and also sought punitive damages against RTC.
25

26 2. Plaintiffs failed to timely serve process pursuant to NRCP 4(d), causing this 27 Court to enter an Order To Show Cause on July 1, 2019. In response, Plaintiffs filed a Motion 28

1 For Extension Of Time in which Plaintiffs' counsel cited certain health issues as the reason
2 service had not been timely accomplished. This became a recurring explanation for Plaintiffs'
3 procedural failures throughout the case. The Court granted Plaintiffs' motion but also noted 4 that RTC, as a government entity, is easy to serve and gave Plaintiffs ten days to do so.

6 3. After being served, RTC file a motion to dismiss certain claims. While that 7 motion was pending, the parties filed a Stipulation To Conduct Discovery Prior To Holding 8 The NRC 16.1 Conference And Prior To Filing The Joint Case Conference Report. The 9 stipulation was based on Plaintiffs' ages and allegations in the complaint regarding Plaintiffs'
10 medical issues. Significantly, the stipulation allowed both parties to conduct early discovery.
11 The Court granted the stipulation on November 18, 2019.
12

13 4. Pursuant to the stipulation and order for early discovery, RTC served written 14 requests for production on Plaintiffs, including requests seeking information regarding 15 Plaintiffs' alleged damages—both damages to the parking lot as well as alleged personal 16 injury and emotional distress damages. In response to these requests, Plaintiffs indicated they 17 did not wish to disclose their medical records. Therefore, on December 6, 2019, the parties
18 entered into a Stipulation For Entry Of Order Dismissing Certain Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief
19 And Damages With Prejudice. By way of that stipulation, Plaintiffs expressly stated they no 20 longer wished to pursue any damages for emotional distress or personal injury and had 21 decided to limit their compensatory damages solely to the property damage to their parking
22 lot. Plaintiffs agreed to dismiss with prejudice their claim for intentional and/or negligent 23 infliction of emotional distress as well as any claims for damages other than those specifically 24 related to their parking lot and punitive damages. Plaintiffs acknowledged that RTC was 25 relying on that agreement by withdrawing its discovery requests relating to Plaintiffs' medical 26 records and treating physicians.
27
28

1 5. On December 10, 2019, the Court entered its Order Granting Stipulation For 2 Entry Of Order Dismissing Certain Of Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief And Damages With
3 Prejudice. That order specifically adopted the parties' agreement that Plaintiffs' 4 compensatory damages would be limited to alleged damage to the parking lot, and that any 5 damages for emotional distress or personal injury were dismissed with prejudice.

7 6. Shortly thereafter, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to file an amended complaint
8 consistent with the parties' stipulation. Plaintiffs filed their Amended Complaint on January 9 21, 2020, asserting eleven claims for relief: (1) injunctive relief; (2) breach of contract; (3) 10 contractual breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (4) breach of 11 fiduciary duty/breach of trust; (5) declaratory relief; (6) waste; (7) conversion; (8) trespass;
12 (9) civil conspiracy; (10) negligence; (11) tortious breach of the implied covenant of good 13 faith and fair dealing.
14

15 7. On January 30, 2020, RTC filed a Supplemental Motion To Dismiss. After 16 briefing, the Court entered an Order Granting Motion To Dismiss on March 20, 2020,
17 dismissing Plaintiffs' claims for injunctive relief, breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust, 18 waste, conversion and tortious breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.
19 The Court denied RTC's motion to dismiss the civil conspiracy claim, noting the pre-trial 20 resolution of that claim, if any, could only be considered through a motion for summary
21 judgment after appropriate discovery is conducted. Thus, the case proceeded on Plaintiffs' 22 claims for breach of contract, contractual breach of the implied covenant of good faith and 23 fair dealing, declaratory relief, trespass, civil conspiracy, and negligence.
24

25 8. On January 20, 2020, RTC filed a Motion To Compel because Plaintiffs had 26 failed to serve responses to RTC's requests for production of documents pursuant to NRCP 34 27 and the parties' stipulation for early discovery. Plaintiffs did not respond to that motion and, 28

1 on April 20, 2020, the Court entered a Confirming Order approving the Master's 2 Recommendation For Order that Plaintiffs produce responses, including responsive 3 documents within their possession, custody or control, no later than April 17, 2020 and that 4 Plaintiffs pay RTC $1,000 as a sanction for their discovery failures.

6 9. On March 23, 2020, RTC filed its Answer to First Amended Complaint.
7 Thereafter, Plaintiffs failed to schedule an early case conference and failed to file a case
8 conference report. This failure will be addressed further below.

9 10. On April 1, 2020, RTC filed a Motion For Discovery Sanctions based on 10 Plaintiffs' failure to appear at their properly noticed depositions and other discovery failures.
11 On April 20, 2020, RTC filed a Motion For Sanctions Pursuant To NRCP 37(b)(1) based on 12 Plaintiffs failure to comply with the Court's April 20, 2020 Confirming Order. Among other 13 things, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to produce documents responsive to RTC's requests for 14 production no later than June 30, 2020. The Court further ordered RTC to submit a 15 declaration setting forth RTC's reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the discovery
16 motions. After briefing, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to pay $10,684.90 to RTC in sanctions 17 for their discovery failures.
18

19 11. On July 21, 2020, RTC filed a Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From 20 Offering Documents Not Produced To RTC On Or Before June 30, 2020. Plaintiffs did not 21 oppose this motion and, on August 19, 2020, the Court entered an order granting it.
22

23 12. On October 12, 2020, the Court entered an Order Granting Stipulated
24 Scheduling Order. Among other deadlines, the Court ordered that the deadline to make expert 25 disclosures was February 26, 2021, and the deadline to disclose rebuttal experts was March 26 29, 2021. The Court noted the NRCP 16.1 case conference had not been held and nothing in 27 the scheduling order should be construed as a waiver of RTC's rights under the August 19, 28

1 2020 Order granting RTC's motion in limine.

2 13. On January 19, 2021, RTC filed a Motion For Sanctions Pursuant To NRCP
3 16.1(e), seeking dismissal of this case due to Plaintiffs' failure to hold an early case
4 conference pursuant to NRCP 16.1 and consequent failure to file a case conference report.
5 Following briefing, the Court entered an Order Denying Motion For Sanctions on March 25, 6 2021. The Court denied the requested sanction of dismissal because it wanted to decide the 7 case on its merits, but it noted Plaintiffs' repeated failure to prosecute their case. The Court
8 ordered the parties to conduct an NRCP 16(b) conference and also ordered the parties to 9 appear before the Court for a status hearing on April 27, 2020.

11 14. On March 9, 2021, RTC filed its Motion For Summary Judgment, along with 12 two motions in limine: (1) Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From Presenting 13 Evidence Pursuant To NRS 50.275, 50.285 and 50.305 ("Motion In Limine Re Experts"); and 14 (2) Motion In Limine To Exclude Evidence Of Damages. The Motion In Limine Re Experts 15 was based on Plaintiffs' failure to timely disclose any expert witnesses. The Motion In 16 Limine To Exclude Evidence Of Damages was based on Plaintiffs' failure to provide a 17 computation of damages pursuant to NRCP 16.1(a)(1) and their failure to provide any 18 documentation to support their damages claim. Those motions in limine are pending and will 19 be denied as moot in light of the Court's ruling on the Motion for Summary Judgment.

21 15. Plaintiffs filed their opposition briefs on April 2, 2021. The primary theme of 22 these oppositions was that the Court's March 25, 2021 Order Denying Motion For Sanctions
23 was a "reset" of this case excusing Plaintiffs from their repeated procedural failures.

25 16. On April 27, 2021, the Court held a status conference, at which Plaintiffs'
26 counsel asserted the parties' stipulation for early discovery somehow restricted Plaintiffs from 27 conducting discovery in this case. As discussed below, the Court finds this assertion to be 28

1 unsupported by the documents of record. Following the hearing, the Court set oral arguments
2 on RTC's Motion For Summary Judgment for May 12, 2021 at 2:00 p.m.

3 FINDINGS OF FACT

4 17. In entering the December 6, 2019, Stipulation For Entry Of Order Dismissing
5 Certain Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief And Damages With Prejudice, which the Court granted 6 by its Order of December 10, 2019, Plaintiffs expressly waived, with prejudice, any claim for 7 compensatory damages other than compensation for physical damage to the parking lot.
8

9 18. Plaintiffs failed to timely disclose an expert witness on any subject, including 10 Plaintiffs' alleged damages. This Court concludes expert evidence is necessary to determine 11 causation, scope of repair, diminishment in value, and damages. As a result, Plaintiffs have 12 no expert evidence as to the cost to repair the parking lot or the loss of value to the property 13 based on the alleged damage to the parking lot. Plaintiffs are not qualified to provide such 14 evidence and were not designated to provide such testimony.
15

16 19. Plaintiffs have not conducted discovery necessary to prosecute their case.

17 20. The October 30, 2019 Stipulation To Conduct Discovery Prior To Holding The 18 NRCP 16.1 Conference And Prior To Filing The Joint Case Conference Report expressly 19 allowed both parties to conduct discovery. Nothing in that Stipulation or the November 18, 20 2019 Order granting the Stipulation, restricted Plaintiffs' right or ability to conduct discovery.
21 The Court does not find that RTC or its counsel in any way precluded Plaintiffs from 22 prosecuting their case.
23

24 21. In opposing summary judgment, Plaintiffs presented no declarations or any 25 other admissible evidence to support their claims. The documents Plaintiffs submitted to the 26 Court suffer from several evidentiary infirmities.

27 22. There is no admissible evidence supporting each of the elements of Plaintiffs' 28

1 claims.

2 23. There is no admissible evidence of Plaintiffs' alleged damages.

3 24. The Court's March 25, 2021 Order Denying Motion For Sanctions was not a
4 "reset" of the entire case. The Court simply wished to avoid imposing case ending sanctions
5 based solely on Plaintiffs' failure to hold an early case conference. That Order was not 6 intended to, and did not, relieve Plaintiffs of any other procedural failures in this case.
7 Contrary to Plaintiffs' suggestion, the March 25, 2021 order did not override or supersede the 8 Court's August 19, 2020 Order Granting Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From 9 Offering Documents Not Produced To RTC On Or Before June 30, 2020.
10

11 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

12 25. Summary judgment is appropriate and "shall be rendered forthwith" when the 13 pleadings and other evidence on file demonstrate that no "genuine issue as to any material fact 14 [remains] and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law." Wood v.
15 Safeway, Inc., 121 Nev. 724, 729, 121 P.3d 1026, 1029 (2005).
16

17 26. In opposing summary judgment, the nonmoving party "must, by affidavit or 18 otherwise, set forth specific facts demonstrating the existence of a genuine issue for trial or 19 have summary judgment entered against him." Id., 121 Nev. at 732, 121 P.3d at 1031.
20 "Evidence introduced in...opposition to a motion for summary judgment must be admissible 21 evidence." Collins v. Union Fed. Savings & Loan, 99 Nev. 284, 302, 662 P.2d 610, 621 22 (1983), citing NRCP 56(e).
23

24 27. Summary judgment serves an important role in promoting sound judicial 25 economy. Courts should not hesitate to discourage litigation in instances where claims are 26 deficient of evidentiary support and are based on little more than the complainants'
27 conclusory allegations and accusations. Boesiger v. Desert Appraisals, LLC, 135 Nev. 192, 28

1 193, 444 P.3d 436, 438 (2019). In doing so, courts avoid the unwarranted consumption of 2 public and private resources. Id., 135 Nev. at 194, 444 P.3d at 438.

3 28. Here, the Court concludes that RTC is entitled to summary judgment on all of 4 Plaintiffs' remaining claims: (1) breach of contract; (2) contractual breach of the implied 5 covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (3) civil conspiracy; (4) trespass; (5) negligence; and 6 (6) declaratory relief. Each is addressed in turn.

8 29. "Basic contract principles require, for an enforceable contract, an offer and 9 acceptance, meeting of the minds and consideration." Certified Fire Prot. Inc. v. Precision
10 Construction, Inc., 128 Nev. 371, 378, 283 P.3d 250, 255 (2012). "A meeting of the minds 11 exists when the parties have agreed upon the contract's essential terms." Id. There is no 12 evidence supporting any of these elements, nor is there any evidence of Plaintiffs' alleged 13 damages. Plaintiffs' breach of contract claim fails.
14

15 30. A claim for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing 16 requires the plaintiff to prove the existence of a contract. Perry v. Jordan, 111 Nev. 943, 900
17 P.2d 335 (1995). Plaintiffs have failed to prove the existence of a contract with RTC and 18 have provided no evidence of damages. Therefore, Plaintiffs' claim for breach of the implied 19 covenant of good faith and fair dealing fails.
20

21 31. A civil conspiracy claim exists when a combination of two or more persons 22 who, by some concerted action, intend to accomplish some unlawful objective for the purpose
23 of harming another and resulting in damages. Collins, supra, 99 Nev. at 303, 662 P.2d at 622.
24 To succeed on a civil conspiracy claim, a plaintiff must prove both an agreement between 25 tortfeasors and that the conduct of each defendant is tortious. GES, Inc. v. Corbitt, 117 Nev.
26 265, 271, 21 P.3d 11, 15 (2001). Here, there is no evidence of the existence or identity of any 27 alleged co-conspirator, no evidence of any agreement between RTC and anyone else, and no 28

1 evidence of Plaintiffs' alleged damages. As noted above, there is no evidence of the cost of 2 repair or loss of value based on the alleged damage to the parking lot and Plaintiffs have 3 waived all other damages by way of the December 6, 2019 stipulation. Plaintiffs' civil 4 conspiracy claim fails.

6 32. To prove trespass, the claimant must show that the defendant invaded the 7 claimant's real property. Lied v. County of Clark, 94 Nev. 275, 279, 579 P.2d 171, 173-174
8 (1978). A plaintiff may recover compensatory, nominal, and/or punitive damages under a
9 trespass claim. See True v. Bosch, 73 Nev. 270, 317 P.2d 1089 (1957) (compensatory 10 damages to property); Land Baron Invs., Inc. v. Bonnie Springs Family Ltd. P'ship, 131 Nev.
11 686, 700, 356 P.3d 511, 521 (2015) (plaintiff asserting a trespass claim may recover damages 12 for annoyance and discomfort). Here, Plaintiffs waived any damages other than 13 compensatory damages for the physical damage to the parking lot and punitive damages.
14 Therefore, they cannot recover nominal damages or general damages for annoyance, 15 discomfort, emotional distress, anxiety or depression. There is no evidence of cost of repair 16 or loss of value based on the alleged physical damage. There is also no evidence that would 17 support an award of punitive damages.

18 19 33. To establish a negligence claim, a plaintiff must demonstrate: (1) that 20 defendant owed plaintiff a duty of care; (2) that defendant breached that duty; (3) the breach 21 was the legal cause of plaintiff's injuries; and (4) plaintiff sustained damages. Scialabba v.
22 Brandise Construction Co., 112 Nev. 965, 921 P.2d 928 (1996). Here, Plaintiffs have failed 23 to present any evidence identifying the duty RTC allegedly owed them, nor have they 24 presented any evidence of damages. Plaintiffs' negligence claim fails.

25
26 34. Plaintiffs' declaratory relief claim also fails. Plaintiffs sought a declaration 27 that (1) RTC failed to perform under the "RTC-Trust agreement" or its "condemnation 28

1 activities”; (2) Plaintiffs are the sole and exclusive owners of their “Property” at 642 E. 4th St.
2 in Reno; (3) RTC has no right, title or interest in the Property and no right to use the Property;
3 (4) RTC “knowingly and wrongfully used the Remaining Property” without paying 4 compensation to Plaintiffs; and (5) RTC wrongfully parked its vehicles on the Remaining
5 Property, causing extensive damage in callous disregard of the law. First, there is no evidence
6 of any contract between RTC and Plaintiffs and any issue involving RTC’s “condemnation 7 activities” was already adjudicated in the previous condemnation action between the parties.
8 Second, while Plaintiffs own “the Property,” they own it subject to RTC’s valid and existing 9 easements established by way of the prior condemnation action between the parties. Third,
10 RTC has the rights, title and interest in the easements on the Property acquired by way of that 11 condemnation action and for which Plaintiffs received just compensation. Finally, there is no
12 evidence of Plaintiffs’ damages and no evidence RTC “callously disregarded” the law.
13 Plaintiffs’ claim for declaratory relief fails.
15

16 36. In sum, there is no admissible evidence to support Plaintiffs’ claims. All of 17 Plaintiffs’ remaining claims are dismissed. No genuine issues remain as to any material facts.
18 RTC is entitled to judgment as a matter of law on all of Plaintiffs’ claims.

19 Based on the foregoing and with good cause appearing,

22 ORDER GRANTING SUMMARY JUDGMENT AFTER
23 SUPPLEMENTAL ARGUMENTS

24 Before the Court is RTC's Motion for Summary Judgment. RTC filed the motion on 25 March 29, 2021. Plaintiffs filed their opposition brief on April 2, 2021. RTC filed its reply
26 brief on April 29, 2021, and the matter was submitted for the Court's decision. The Court
27 scheduled oral argument for May 12, 2020, at which it heard argument from RTC's counsel.
28 Plaintiffs' counsel did not appear at oral argument. At the conclusion of oral arguments this Court orally pronounced that it would grant summary judgment and deny the pending motions in limine as moot; it directed RTC's Counsel, Dane Anderson Esq., to prepare and submit the

1 order.

2 On May 13, 2021 Plaintiffs filed a notice of intent to file motion to request a rehearing
3 on RTC's Motion for Summary Judgment because "Plaintiffs were denied, inter alia, their 4 Constitutional right to appear and be heard" due to "a technical error, oversight, mistake
5 and/or inadvertence relating. . . to the Zoom platform and its operation." See May 13, 2021
6 Notice. RTC filed a response on May 24, 2021, arguing a rehearing is not proper and 7 plaintiffs were provided proper notice and an opportunity to be heard and further fail to 8 demonstrate how their participation would have yielded different results. Thereafter, 9 Plaintiffs filed a motion for reconsideration and hearing or alternative motion to set aside
10 order, to which the RTC filed an opposition on June 7, 2021. This Court allowed 11 supplemental arguments on June 8, 2021, and the parties have been fully heard. This Court 12 now orders as follows:
13 14

15 PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

16 1. Plaintiffs filed this action on February 27, 2019. Their complaint asserted 17 twelve claims for relief: (1) injunctive relief; (2) breach of contract; (3) breach of the implied
18 covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (4) breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust; (5)
19 declaratory relief; (6) waste; (7) conversion; (8) trespass; (9) civil conspiracy; (10) 20 negligence; (11) elder abuse; and (12) intentional and/or negligent infliction of emotional
21 distress/tort of outrage. Plaintiffs' claims were all based on the RTC's alleged improper use 22 of the parking lot on Plaintiffs' property at 642 E. 4th Street in Reno. Plaintiffs alleged 23 damages to the parking lot, personal injuries (including emotional distress, anxiety and 24 depression) and also sought punitive damages against RTC.
25

26 2. Plaintiffs failed to timely serve process pursuant to NRCP 4(d), causing this 27 Court to enter an Order To Show Cause on July 1, 2019. In response, Plaintiffs filed a Motion 28

1 For Extension Of Time in which Plaintiffs' counsel cited certain health issues as the reason
2 service had not been timely accomplished. This became a recurring explanation for Plaintiffs'
3 procedural failures throughout the case. The Court granted Plaintiffs' motion but also noted 4 that RTC, as a government entity, is easy to serve and gave Plaintiffs ten days to do so.

6 3. After being served, RTC file a motion to dismiss certain claims. While that 7 motion was pending, the parties filed a Stipulation To Conduct Discovery Prior To Holding 8 The NRC 16.1 Conference And Prior To Filing The Joint Case Conference Report. The 9 stipulation was based on Plaintiffs' ages and allegations in the complaint regarding Plaintiffs'
10 medical issues. Significantly, the stipulation allowed both parties to conduct early discovery.
11 The Court granted the stipulation on November 18, 2019.

13 4. Pursuant to the stipulation and order for early discovery, RTC served written 14 requests for production on Plaintiffs, including requests seeking information regarding 15 Plaintiffs' alleged damages—both damages to the parking lot as well as alleged personal 16 injury and emotional distress damages. In response to these requests, Plaintiffs indicated they 17 did not wish to disclose their medical records. Therefore, on December 6, 2019, the parties
18 entered into a Stipulation For Entry Of Order Dismissing Certain Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief
19 And Damages With Prejudice. By way of that stipulation, Plaintiffs expressly stated they no 20 longer wished to pursue any damages for emotional distress or personal injury and had 21 decided to limit their compensatory damages solely to the property damage to their parking
22 lot. Plaintiffs agreed to dismiss with prejudice their claim for intentional and/or negligent 23 infliction of emotional distress as well as any claims for damages other than those specifically 24 related to their parking lot and punitive damages. Plaintiffs acknowledged that RTC was 25 relying on that agreement by withdrawing its discovery requests relating to Plaintiffs' medical 26 records and treating physicians.
27
28

1 5. On December 10, 2019, the Court entered its Order Granting Stipulation For 2 Entry Of Order Dismissing Certain Of Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief And Damages With
3 Prejudice. That order specifically adopted the parties' agreement that Plaintiffs'
4 compensatory damages would be limited to alleged damage to the parking lot, and that any 5 damages for emotional distress or personal injury were dismissed with prejudice.

7 6. Shortly thereafter, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to file an amended complaint
8 consistent with the parties' stipulation. Plaintiffs filed their Amended Complaint on January 9 21, 2020, asserting eleven claims for relief: (1) injunctive relief; (2) breach of contract; (3) 10 contractual breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (4) breach of 11 fiduciary duty/breach of trust; (5) declaratory relief; (6) waste; (7) conversion; (8) trespass;
12 (9) civil conspiracy; (10) negligence; (11) tortious breach of the implied covenant of good 13 faith and fair dealing.
14

15 7. On January 30, 2020, RTC filed a Supplemental Motion To Dismiss. After 16 briefing, the Court entered an Order Granting Motion To Dismiss on March 20, 2020,
17 dismissing Plaintiffs' claims for injunctive relief, breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust, 18 waste, conversion and tortious breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.
19 The Court denied RTC's motion to dismiss the civil conspiracy claim, noting the pre-trial 20 resolution of that claim, if any, could only be considered through a motion for summary
21 judgment after appropriate discovery is conducted. Thus, the case proceeded on Plaintiffs' 22 claims for breach of contract, contractual breach of the implied covenant of good faith and 23 fair dealing, declaratory relief, trespass, civil conspiracy, and negligence.
24

25 8. On January 20, 2020, RTC filed a Motion To Compel because Plaintiffs had 26 failed to serve responses to RTC's requests for production of documents pursuant to NRCP 34 27 and the parties' stipulation for early discovery. Plaintiffs did not respond to that motion and,
28

1 on April 20, 2020, the Court entered a Confirming Order approving the Master's 2 Recommendation For Order that Plaintiffs produce responses, including responsive
3 documents within their possession, custody or control, no later than April 17, 2020 and that 4 Plaintiffs pay RTC $1,000 as a sanction for their discovery failures.

6 9. On March 23, 2020, RTC filed its Answer to First Amended Complaint.
7 Thereafter, Plaintiffs failed to schedule an early case conference and failed to file a case
8 conference report. This failure will be addressed further below.

9 10. On April 1, 2020, RTC filed a Motion For Discovery Sanctions based on 10 Plaintiffs' failure to appear at their properly noticed depositions and other discovery failures.
11 On April 20, 2020, RTC filed a Motion For Sanctions Pursuant To NRCP 37(b)(1) based on 12 Plaintiffs failure to comply with the Court's April 20, 2020 Confirming Order. Among other 13 things, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to produce documents responsive to RTC's requests for 14 production no later than June 30, 2020. The Court further ordered RTC to submit a 15 declaration setting forth RTC's reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the discovery
16 motions. After briefing, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to pay $10,684.90 to RTC in sanctions 17 for their discovery failures.
18

19 11. On July 21, 2020, RTC filed a Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From 20 Offering Documents Not Produced To RTC On Or Before June 30, 2020. Plaintiffs did not 21 oppose this motion and, on August 19, 2020, the Court entered an order granting it.
22

23 12. On October 12, 2020, the Court entered an Order Granting Stipulated
24 Scheduling Order. Among other deadlines, the Court ordered that the deadline to make expert
25 disclosures was February 26, 2021, and the deadline to disclose rebuttal experts was March 26 29, 2021. The Court noted the NRCP 16.1 case conference had not been held and nothing in 27 the scheduling order should be construed as a waiver of RTC's rights under the August 19, 28

1 2020 Order granting RTC's motion in limine.

2 13. On January 19, 2021, RTC filed a Motion For Sanctions Pursuant To NRCP
3 16.1(e), seeking dismissal of this case due to Plaintiffs' failure to hold an early case
4 conference pursuant to NRCP 16.1 and consequent failure to file a case conference report.
5 Following briefing, the Court entered an Order Denying Motion For Sanctions on March 25, 6 2021. The Court denied the requested sanction of dismissal because it wanted to decide the 7 case on its merits, but it noted Plaintiffs' repeated failure to prosecute their case. The Court
8 ordered the parties to conduct an NRCP 16(b) conference and also ordered the parties to 9 appear before the Court for a status hearing on April 27, 2020.

11 14. On March 9, 2021, RTC filed its Motion For Summary Judgment, along with 12 two motions in limine: (1) Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From Presenting 13 Evidence Pursuant To NRS 50.275, 50.285 and 50.305 ("Motion In Limine Re Experts"); and 14 (2) Motion In Limine To Exclude Evidence Of Damages. The Motion In Limine Re Experts
15 was based on Plaintiffs' failure to timely disclose any expert witnesses. The Motion In 16 Limine To Exclude Evidence Of Damages was based on Plaintiffs' failure to provide a 17 computation of damages pursuant to NRCP 16.1(a)(1) and their failure to provide any 18 documentation to support their damages claim. Those motions in limine are pending and will 19 be denied as moot in light of the Court's ruling on the Motion for Summary Judgment.

21 15. Plaintiffs filed their opposition briefs on April 2, 2021. The primary theme of 22 these oppositions was that the Court's March 25, 2021 Order Denying Motion For Sanctions
23 was a "reset" of this case excusing Plaintiffs from their repeated procedural failures.

25 16. On April 27, 2021, the Court held a status conference, at which Plaintiffs'
26 counsel asserted the parties' stipulation for early discovery somehow restricted Plaintiffs from 27 conducting discovery in this case. As discussed below, the Court finds this assertion to be 28

1 unsupported by the documents of record. Following the hearing, the Court set oral arguments
2 on RTC's Motion For Summary Judgment for May 12, 2021 at 2:00 p.m.

3 FINDINGS OF FACT

4 17. In entering the December 6, 2019, Stipulation For Entry Of Order Dismissing
5 Certain Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief And Damages With Prejudice, which the Court granted
6 by its Order of December 10, 2019, Plaintiffs expressly waived, with prejudice, any claim for 7 compensatory damages other than compensation for physical damage to the parking lot.
8

9 18. Plaintiffs failed to timely disclose an expert witness on any subject, including 10 Plaintiffs' alleged damages. This Court concludes expert evidence is necessary to determine 11 causation, scope of repair, diminishment in value, and damages. As a result, Plaintiffs have 12 no expert evidence as to the cost to repair the parking lot or the loss of value to the property 13 based on the alleged damage to the parking lot. Plaintiffs are not qualified to provide such 14 evidence and were not designated to provide such testimony.
15

16 19. Plaintiffs have not conducted discovery necessary to prosecute their case.

17 20. The October 30, 2019 Stipulation To Conduct Discovery Prior To Holding The 18 NRCP 16.1 Conference And Prior To Filing The Joint Case Conference Report expressly 19 allowed both parties to conduct discovery. Nothing in that Stipulation or the November 18, 20 2019 Order granting the Stipulation, restricted Plaintiffs' right or ability to conduct discovery.
21 The Court does not find that RTC or its counsel in any way precluded Plaintiffs from 22 prosecuting their case.
23

24 21. In opposing summary judgment, Plaintiffs presented no declarations or any 25 other admissible evidence to support their claims. The documents Plaintiffs submitted to the 26 Court suffer from several evidentiary infirmities.

27 22. There is no admissible evidence supporting each of the elements of Plaintiffs' 28

1 claims.

2 23. There is no admissible evidence of Plaintiffs' alleged damages.

3 24. The Court's March 25, 2021 Order Denying Motion For Sanctions was not a
4 "reset" of the entire case. The Court simply wished to avoid imposing case ending sanctions
5 based solely on Plaintiffs' failure to hold an early case conference. That Order was not 6 intended to, and did not, relieve Plaintiffs of any other procedural failures in this case.
7 Contrary to Plaintiffs' suggestion, the March 25, 2021 order did not override or supersede the 8 Court's August 19, 2020 Order Granting Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From 9 Offering Documents Not Produced To RTC On Or Before June 30, 2020.
10

11 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

12 25. Summary judgment is appropriate and "shall be rendered forthwith" when the 13 pleadings and other evidence on file demonstrate that no "genuine issue as to any material fact 14 [remains] and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law." Wood v.
15 Safeway, Inc., 121 Nev. 724, 729, 121 P.3d 1026, 1029 (2005).
16

17 26. In opposing summary judgment, the nonmoving party "must, by affidavit or 18 otherwise, set forth specific facts demonstrating the existence of a genuine issue for trial or 19 have summary judgment entered against him." Id., 121 Nev. at 732, 121 P.3d at 1031.
20 "Evidence introduced in...opposition to a motion for summary judgment must be admissible 21 evidence." Collins v. Union Fed. Savings & Loan, 99 Nev. 284, 302, 662 P.2d 610, 621 22 (1983), citing NRCP 56(e).
23

24 27. Summary judgment serves an important role in promoting sound judicial 25 economy. Courts should not hesitate to discourage litigation in instances where claims are 26 deficient of evidentiary support and are based on little more than the complainants'
27 conclusory allegations and accusations. Boesiger v. Desert Appraisals, LLC, 135 Nev. 192, 28

1 193, 444 P.3d 436, 438 (2019). In doing so, courts avoid the unwarranted consumption of 2 public and private resources. Id., 135 Nev. at 194, 444 P.3d at 438.

3 28. Here, the Court concludes that RTC is entitled to summary judgment on all of 4 Plaintiffs' remaining claims: (1) breach of contract; (2) contractual breach of the implied 5 covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (3) civil conspiracy; (4) trespass; (5) negligence; and 6 (6) declaratory relief. Each is addressed in turn.

8 29. "Basic contract principles require, for an enforceable contract, an offer and 9 acceptance, meeting of the minds and consideration." Certified Fire Prot. Inc. v. Precision
10 Construction, Inc., 128 Nev. 371, 378, 283 P.3d 250, 255 (2012). "A meeting of the minds 11 exists when the parties have agreed upon the contract's essential terms." Id. There is no 12 evidence supporting any of these elements, nor is there any evidence of Plaintiffs' alleged 13 damages. Plaintiffs' breach of contract claim fails.
14

15 30. A claim for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing 16 requires the plaintiff to prove the existence of a contract. Perry v. Jordan, 111 Nev. 943, 900
17 P.2d 335 (1995). Plaintiffs have failed to prove the existence of a contract with RTC and 18 have provided no evidence of damages. Therefore, Plaintiffs' claim for breach of the implied 19 covenant of good faith and fair dealing fails.
20

21 31. A civil conspiracy claim exists when a combination of two or more persons 22 who, by some concerted action, intend to accomplish some unlawful objective for the purpose
23 of harming another and resulting in damages. Collins, supra, 99 Nev. at 303, 662 P.2d at 622.
24 To succeed on a civil conspiracy claim, a plaintiff must prove both an agreement between 25 tortfeasors and that the conduct of each defendant is tortious. GES, Inc. v. Corbitt, 117 Nev.
26 265, 271, 21 P.3d 11, 15 (2001). Here, there is no evidence of the existence or identity of any 27 alleged co-conspirator, no evidence of any agreement between RTC and anyone else, and no 28

1 evidence of Plaintiffs' alleged damages. As noted above, there is no evidence of the cost of 2 repair or loss of value based on the alleged damage to the parking lot and Plaintiffs have 3 waived all other damages by way of the December 6, 2019 stipulation. Plaintiffs' civil 4 conspiracy claim fails.

6 32. To prove trespass, the claimant must show that the defendant invaded the 7 claimant's real property. Lied v. County of Clark, 94 Nev. 275, 279, 579 P.2d 171, 173-174
8 (1978). A plaintiff may recover compensatory, nominal, and/or punitive damages under a
9 trespass claim. See True v. Bosch, 73 Nev. 270, 317 P.2d 1089 (1957) (compensatory 10 damages to property); Land Baron Invs., Inc. v. Bonnie Springs Family Ltd. P'ship, 131 Nev.
11 686, 700, 356 P.3d 511, 521 (2015) (plaintiff asserting a trespass claim may recover damages 12 for annoyance and discomfort). Here, Plaintiffs waived any damages other than 13 compensatory damages for the physical damage to the parking lot and punitive damages.
14 Therefore, they cannot recover nominal damages or general damages for annoyance,
15 discomfort, emotional distress, anxiety or depression. There is no evidence of cost of repair 16 or loss of value based on the alleged physical damage. There is also no evidence that would 17 support an award of punitive damages.

18 19 33. To establish a negligence claim, a plaintiff must demonstrate: (1) that 20 defendant owed plaintiff a duty of care; (2) that defendant breached that duty; (3) the breach 21 was the legal cause of plaintiff's injuries; and (4) plaintiff sustained damages. Scialabba v.
22 Brandise Construction Co., 112 Nev. 965, 921 P.2d 928 (1996). Here, Plaintiffs have failed 23 to present any evidence identifying the duty RTC allegedly owed them, nor have they 24 presented any evidence of damages. Plaintiffs' negligence claim fails.

25
26 34. Plaintiffs' declaratory relief claim also fails. Plaintiffs sought a declaration 27 that (1) RTC failed to perform under the "RTC-Trust agreement" or its "condemnation 28

1 activities”; (2) Plaintiffs are the sole and exclusive owners of their “Property” at 642 E. 4th St.
2 in Reno; (3) RTC has no right, title or interest in the Property and no right to use the Property;
3 (4) RTC “knowingly and wrongfully used the Remaining Property” without paying 4 compensation to Plaintiffs; and (5) RTC wrongfully parked its vehicles on the Remaining
5 Property, causing extensive damage in callous disregard of the law. First, there is no evidence
6 of any contract between RTC and Plaintiffs and any issue involving RTC’s “condemnation 7 activities” was already adjudicated in the previous condemnation action between the parties.
8 Second, while Plaintiffs own “the Property,” they own it subject to RTC’s valid and existing 9 easements established by way of the prior condemnation action between the parties. Third,
10 RTC has the rights, title and interest in the easements on the Property acquired by way of that 11 condemnation action and for which Plaintiffs received just compensation. Finally, there is no
12 evidence of Plaintiffs’ damages and no evidence RTC “callously disregarded” the law.
13 Plaintiffs’ claim for declaratory relief fails.
15

16 36. In sum, there is no admissible evidence to support Plaintiffs’ claims. All of 17 Plaintiffs’ remaining claims are dismissed. No genuine issues remain as to any material facts.
18 RTC is entitled to judgment as a matter of law on all of Plaintiffs’ claims.

19 Based on the foregoing and with good cause appearing,

29 DECLARATION OF DANE W. ANDERSON
30 IN SUPPORT OF MEMORANDUM OF COSTS

31 1. I am an attorney licensed to practice in the State of Nevada. I am over the 32 age of 18 and make this declaration of my own personal knowledge.

33 2. I am a shareholder with the law firm of Woodburn and Wedge
34 (“Woodburn”). Woodburn is counsel for defendant The Regional Transportation

1 Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”) in this matter. I have represented RTC in this 2 matter since the date my firm accepted service of process on RTC’s behalf.

3 3. I make this declaration in support of RTC’s Verified Memorandum of Costs 4 filed concurrently and to provide additional detail regarding certain claimed items of 5 costs.

6 4. To the best of my knowledge, the documentation attached to the Verified 7 Memorandum of Costs are accurate copies of invoices and/or accurately reflect the 8 computerized data justifying these costs.

9 5. Regarding computerized legal research, Woodburn has submitted the 10 available documentation from its computerized records. Unfortunately, those records do 11 not contain a description of the purpose of the research. Therefore, I reviewed those 12 records in conjunction with my firm’s attorney fee transaction listing to connect the 13 Westlaw charges with the work that was performed. The Westlaw computerized records 14 reflect that research was performed on September 20 and 23 of 2019. In reviewing the 15 time entries for those days on this matter, I located entries by my associate, Bronagh 16 Kelly, for those days. Both time entries involve the issue of whether a government entity 17 (such as RTC) owes a fiduciary duty to private citizens. This research was done as part of 18 RTC’s motion to dismiss certain claims. RTC was successful in obtaining dismissal of 19 Plaintiffs’ claim for breach of fiduciary duty. I believe these Westlaw charges were 20 reasonably and necessarily incurred and that RTC should be reimbursed for these 21 expenses.

22 6. Regarding photocopies, I believe the charges are reasonable for a case that 23 was pending for over two years, and that the charges were necessarily incurred. The 24 charge for $37.30 related to making copies for Plaintiffs’ depositions. I believe the 25 messenger fees mainly related to delivering items to Mr. Morrison.

Case No.: CV19-00459

Dept. No.: 15

29 MOTION FOR ATTORNEY FEES AND FOR ENTRY OF JUDGMENT FOR 30 ATTORNEY FEES AND COSTS

31 Defendant THE REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION OF WASHOE
32 COUNTY (“RTC”), moves this Court for an order awarding attorney fees pursuant to NRS 33 18.010(2)(b). RTC also asks that the Court enter judgment: (1) for attorney fees awarded; and 34 (2) for RTC’s costs incurred in this matter as set forth in RTC’s Verified Memorandum of 1 Costs filed on June 15, 2021, in response to which Plaintiffs did not timely file a motion to 2 retax and settle costs pursuant to NRS 18.110(4). This motion is based on the following 3 points and authorities and the record in this case, including the Declaration of Dane W.

4 Anderson filed concurrently (“Anderson Declaration”) which includes a billing summary of 5 all attorney fees incurred in this matter through the last available billing date.

6 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

7 I. INTRODUCTION

8 The Court is familiar with this case by way of prior motion practice and multiple 9 hearings. This has been an expensive case for RTC. Plaintiffs chose to bring a lawsuit 10 accusing RTC of numerous atrocities arising from RTC’s alleged trespass on Plaintiffs’ 11 parking lot, but never provided any credible evidence—or any admissible evidence at all—to 12 support their claims. Plaintiffs failed to prosecute their claims. RTC successfully sought 13 dismissal of many of Plaintiffs’ claims and, ultimately, summary judgment on the remaining 14 claims.

15 RTC seeks an award of fees against Plaintiffs pursuant to NRS 18.010(2)(b). That 16 statute contains language mandating that courts “liberally construe” its provisions in favor of 17 awarding attorneys’ fees “in all appropriate situations” to accomplish the Legislature’s intent 18 to both punish for and deter litigants from asserting claims not supported by credible 19 evidence, which is the situation presented here—Plaintiffs never offered any admissible, 20 credible evidence to support their claims.

21 At the end of the day, RTC prevailed on every front. However, it has incurred more 22 than $100,000 in attorneys’ fees and costs because of Plaintiffs’ frivolous and unreasonable 23 conduct. RTC is entitled to a substantial attorney fee award against Plaintiffs pursuant to 24 NRS 18.010(2)(b). As discussed below, this Court is vested with great discretion to award 25 attorney fees. RTC requests that the Court exercise that discretion and award RTC its 26 reasonable attorney fees incurred in this case. RTC also asks the Court to enter judgment 27 upon its award of attorney fees as well as RTC’s Verified Memorandum of Costs that 28 Plaintiffs did not timely challenge.

1 II. RELEVANT BACKGROUND

2 Plaintiffs filed this action on February 27, 2019. Their complaint asserted twelve (12) 3 claims for relief: (1) injunctive relief; (2) breach of contract; (3) breach of the implied
4 covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (4) breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust; (5)
5 declaratory relief; (6) waste; (7) conversion; (8) trespass; (9) civil conspiracy; (10)
6 negligence; (11) elder abuse; and (12) intentional and/or negligent infliction of emotional 7 distress/tort of outrage. Plaintiffs' claims were all based on RTC's alleged improper use of 8 the parking lot on Plaintiffs' property at 642 E. 4th Street in Reno. Plaintiffs' complaint 9 alleged damage to the parking lot, reduction in value, personal injuries (including emotional 10 distress, anxiety and depression) and also sought punitive damages against RTC.

11 After being served, RTC file a motion to dismiss certain of Plaintiffs' claims. While 12 that motion was pending, the parties filed a Stipulation To Conduct Discovery Prior To 13 Holding The NRCP 16.1 Conference And Prior To Filing The Joint Case Conference Report 14 on October 30, 2019. The stipulation was based on Plaintiffs' ages and allegations in the 15 complaint regarding Plaintiffs' medical issues. Significantly, the stipulation allowed both 16 parties to conduct early discovery.

17 Pursuant to the stipulation and order for early discovery, RTC served written requests 18 for production on Plaintiffs, including requests seeking information regarding Plaintiffs' 19 alleged damages—both damages to the parking lot as well as alleged personal injury and 20 emotional distress damages. In response to these requests, Plaintiffs indicated they did not 21 wish to disclose their medical records. Therefore, on December 6, 2019, the parties entered 22 into a Stipulation For Entry Of Order Dismissing Certain Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief And 23 Damages With Prejudice. By way of that stipulation, Plaintiffs expressly stated that they no 24 longer wished to pursue any damages for emotional distress or personal injury and had 25 decided to limit their compensatory damages solely to the property damage to their parking
26 lot. Plaintiffs agreed to dismiss with prejudice their claim for intentional and/or negligent 27 infliction of emotional distress as well as any claims for damages other than those specifically 28 related to their parking lot and punitive damages.

1 Shortly thereafter, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to file an amended complaint consistent 2 with the parties' stipulation. Plaintiffs filed their Amended Complaint on January 21, 2020, 3 asserting eleven (11) claims for relief: (1) injunctive relief; (2) breach of contract; (3) 4 contractual breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (4) breach of 5 fiduciary duty/breach of trust; (5) declaratory relief; (6) waste; (7) conversion; (8) trespass;
6 (9) civil conspiracy; (10) negligence; (11) tortious breach of the implied covenant of good 7 faith and fair dealing.

8 On January 30, 2020, RTC filed a Supplemental Motion To Dismiss. After briefing, 9 the Court entered an Order Granting Motion To Dismiss on March 20, 2020, dismissing 10 Plaintiffs' claims for injunctive relief, breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust, waste, 11 conversion and tortious breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing. The 12 Court denied RTC's motion to dismiss as to the civil conspiracy claim, noting that the pre-13 trial resolution of that claim, if any, can only be considered through a motion for summary
14 judgment after appropriate discovery is conducted. Thus, the case proceeded on Plaintiffs' 15 claims for breach of contract, contractual breach of the implied covenant of good faith and 16 fair dealing, declaratory relief, trespass, civil conspiracy and negligence.

17 On January 20, 2020, RTC filed a Motion To Compel because Plaintiffs had failed to 18 serve responses to RTC's requests for production of documents pursuant to NRCP 34 and the 19 parties' stipulation for early discovery. Plaintiffs did not respond to that motion and, on April 20 20, 2020, the Court entered a Confirming Order approving the Master's Recommendation For 21 Order that Plaintiffs produce responses, including responsive documents within their 22 possession, custody or control, no later than April 17, 2020 and that Plaintiffs pay RTC 23 $1,000 as a sanction for their discovery failures.

24 On March 23, 2020, RTC filed its Answer to First Amended Complaint. Thereafter, 25 Plaintiffs failed to schedule an early case conference and failed to file a case conference 26 report.

27 On April 1, 2020, RTC filed a Motion For Discovery Sanctions based on Plaintiffs' 28 repeated failure to appear at their properly noticed depositions and other discovery failures.

1 On April 20, 2020, RTC filed a Motion For Sanctions Pursuant To NRCPP 37(b)(1) based on
2 Plaintiffs failure to comply with the Court's April 20, 2020 Confirming Order. Among other
3 things, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to produce documents responsive to RTC's requests for 4 production no later than June 30, 2020. The Court further ordered RTC to submit a
5 declaration setting forth RTC's reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the discovery 6 motions. After briefing, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to pay RTC $11,684.90 in sanctions for 7 their discovery failures.

8 On July 21, 2020, RTC filed a Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From Offering 9 Documents Not Produced To RTC On Or Before June 30, 2020. Plaintiffs did not oppose this 10 motion and, on August 19, 2020, the Court entered an order granting it. As discussed below, 11 the documents Plaintiffs produced on or before June 30, 2020 are not admissible evidence 12 establishing Plaintiffs' claims.

13 On October 12, 2020, the Court entered an Order Granting Stipulated Scheduling 14 Order. Among other deadlines, the Court ordered that the deadline to make expert disclosures 15 was February 26, 2021, and the deadline to disclose rebuttal experts was March 29, 2021.
16 The Court noted that the NRCPP 16.1 case conference had not been held and also that nothing 17 in the scheduling order should be construed as a waiver of RTC's rights under the August 19, 18 2020 Order granting RTC's motion in limine.

19 On January 19, 2021, RTC filed a Motion For Sanctions Pursuant To NRCPP 16.1(e), 20 seeking dismissal of this case due to Plaintiffs' failure to hold an early case conference 21 pursuant to NRCPP 16.1 and consequent failure to file a case conference report. Following 22 briefing, the Court entered an Order Denying Motion For Sanctions on March 25, 2021. The 23 Court denied the requested sanction of dismissal because it wanted to decide the case on its 24 merits but noted Plaintiffs' repeated failure to prosecute their case.

25 On March 9, 2021, RTC filed its Motion For Summary Judgment, along with two 26 motions in limine: (1) Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From Presenting Evidence 27 Pursuant To NRS 50.275, 50.285 and 50.305 ("Motion In Limine Re Experts"); and (2) 28 Motion In Limine To Exclude Evidence Of Damages. The Motion In Limine Re Experts was

1 based on Plaintiffs' failure to timely disclose any expert witnesses. The Motion In Limine To 2 Exclude Evidence Of Damages was based on Plaintiffs' failure to provide a computation of 3 damages pursuant to NRCP 16.1(a)(1) and their failure to provide any documentation to 4 support their damages claim.

5 Plaintiffs filed their opposition briefs on April 2, 2021. The primary thrust of these 6 oppositions was that the Court's March 25, 2021 Order Denying Motion For Sanctions was a 7 "reset" of this case excusing Plaintiffs from their repeated procedural failures. Plaintiffs 8 apparently believed the March 25, 2021 Order relieved them of their numerous procedural 9 failures.

10 On April 27, 2021, the Court held a status conference, at which Plaintiffs' counsel 11 asserted that the parties' stipulation for early discovery somehow restricted Plaintiffs from 12 conducting discovery in this case. That assertion was without merit, as the order permitting 13 early discovery allowed both parties to conduct discovery. Plaintiffs never did so. As 14 discussed below, the Court finds this assertion to be meritless. Following the hearing, the 15 Court set oral arguments on RTC's Motion For Summary Judgment for May 12, 2021 at 2:00 16 p.m.

17 The oral argument hearing on RTC's Motion For Summary Judgment proceeded as 18 scheduled on May 12, 2021 at 2:00 p.m. via Zoom. Plaintiffs' counsel did not appear on time 19 and cited technical difficulties. RTC's counsel proceed to argue the motion and the Court 20 pronounced from the bench its findings and conclusions. Following that hearing, Plaintiffs 21 filed several documents requesting reconsideration on the grounds that Plaintiffs' counsel had 22 technical difficulties with Zoom that prevented his participation in the oral argument. The 23 Court permitted a subsequent oral argument on June 7, 2021. RTC's counsel again prepared 24 for oral argument on the motion for summary judgment. The Court granted RTC's motion on 25 June 9, 2021 and entered summary judgment in RTC's favor on all of Plaintiffs' remaining 26 claims, finding there was no admissible evidence supporting those claims.

27 RTC has incurred substantial fees in this case. Plaintiffs failed to present any evidence 28 to support their claims in over 2 years of litigation. RTC should be awarded its reasonable 1 attorney fees incurred in having to deal with this frivolous lawsuit.

2 III. LAW AND ARGUMENT

3 NRS 18.010(2)(b) provides:

4 In addition to the cases where an allowance is authorized by specific statute, 5 the court may make an allowance of attorney's fees to a prevailing party:

6 (b) Without regard to the recovery sought, when the court finds that the claim, 7 counterclaim, cross-claim or third-party complaint or defense of the opposing 8 party was brought or maintained without reasonable ground or to harass the 9 prevailing party. The court shall liberally construe the provisions of this 10 paragraph in favor of awarding attorney's fees in all appropriate situations. It is 11 the intent of the Legislature that the court award attorney's fees pursuant to this 12 paragraph and impose sanctions pursuant to Rule 11 of the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure in all appropriate situations to punish for and deter frivolous or vexatious claims and defenses because such claims and defenses overburden limited judicial resources, hinder the timely resolution of meritorious claims and increase the costs of engaging in business and providing professional services to the public.

13 A claim or defense is groundless if the allegations upon which they are based are not 14 supported by any credible evidence at trial. Semenza v. Caughlin Crafted Homes, 111 Nev.
15 1089, 1095, 901 P.2d 684, 688 (1995). While this matter did not reach trial, it was because 16 Plaintiffs' claims were not supported by any credible evidence and the Court entered 17 summary judgment in favor of RTC. Many of Plaintiffs' claims were dismissed as meritless 18 prior to summary judgment. The remaining claims were dismissed on summary judgment 19 because Plaintiffs presented no evidence to support them. This case has been pending since 20 February 2019. Plaintiffs conducted no discovery, failed to respond to RTC's written 21 discovery requests and repeatedly failed to appear at their properly scheduled depositions.
22 Plaintiffs were sanctioned a total of $11,684.90 for their conduct. That conduct exemplifies 23 this entire case. Plaintiffs dragged RTC into this litigation and then did nothing to try to 24 prove their case.

25 In Nevada, "district courts have great discretion to award attorney fees, and this 26 discretion is tempered only by reason and fairness." Haley v. Dist. Ct., 128 Nev. 171, 178, 27 273 P.3d 855, 860 (Nev. 2012). In determining the amount of fees to award, the court is not 28 limited to one specific approach; its analysis may begin with any method rationally designed

1 to calculate a reasonable amount. Shuette v. Bezer Homes Holdings Corp., 121 Nev. 837, 2 864, 124 P.3d 530, 549 (2005). The “Brunzell factors” to determine the reasonableness of 3 attorneys’ fees are: (1) the qualities of the attorney, (2) the character of the work to be done, 4 (3) the actual work performed by the attorney, and (4) the case’s result. Id.

5 This case was an overwhelming success for RTC, but at significant cost to RTC and 6 its constituent taxpayers because Plaintiffs asserted claims without reasonable grounds and 7 engaged in vexatious conduct throughout the case. The Court granted summary judgment in 8 favor of RTC on all of Plaintiffs’ remaining claims. Plaintiffs’ other claims, as asserted in 9 their pleadings, were either abandoned by Plaintiffs after RTC’s legitimate discovery requests 10 or dismissed by the Court pursuant to NRCP 12. The work was complicated by Plaintiffs’ 11 numerous and varied claims. Instead of asserting a simple trespass claim—which is really 12 what this case is all about—they proceeded in a “scorched earth” manner, asserting a variety 13 of contract, tort and equitable claims that had no merit. The work was further complicated by 14 Plaintiffs refusal to participate in discovery. The actual work performed by RTC’s counsel 15 was reasonable to try to resolve this case based on both substantive and procedural grounds.

16 RTC is entitled to a substantial award of attorney fees against Plaintiffs. Considering 17 Plaintiffs’ failure to produce any evidence to support their claims, and their frivolous and 18 unreasonable conduct throughout this case, RTC respectfully submits that an attorney fee 19 award against Plaintiffs, jointly and severally, of $101,420 through May 2021 plus additional 20 fees incurred subsequently (which documentation is not yet available would be reasonable 21 and justified under the Brunzell factors), less the $11,684.90 already awarded to RTC as 22 sanctions in this case..

23 IV. CONCLUSION

24 RTC should be awarded attorney fees. The amount incurred through May is 25 $101,420. RTC should be awarded that amount and fees incurred in June, for which records 26 are not yet available, less the $11,684.90 already awarded to RTC as sanctions. RTC requests 27
28

1 that the fee award, along with an award of costs in the amount of $3,647.35¹ (which Plaintiffs 2 did not timely dispute), be reduced to a judgment against Plaintiffs.

21 DECLARATION OF DANE ANDERSON IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR 22 ATTORNEY FEES AND FOR ENTRY OF JUDGMENT FOR 23 ATTORNEY FEES AND COSTS

24 1. I am an attorney licensed to practice in the State of Nevada. I am over the age of 18 and make this declaration of my own personal knowledge.

25 2. I am a shareholder with the law firm of Woodburn and Wedge
26 (“Woodburn”). Woodburn is counsel for defendant The Regional Transportation
27 Commission of Washoe County (“RTC”) in this matter. I have represented RTC in this 28 matter since the date my firm accepted service of process on RTC’s behalf.

1 3. I make this declaration in support of RTC's motion for attorney fees filed 2 concurrent.

3 4. Attached as Exhibit 1 are true and correct copies of invoices for this matter 4 through May 2021. These documents were generated by my firm's accounting 5 department from our billing system. It contains accurate entries for attorney fees incurred 6 in this matter.

7 5. I have done additional work for the month of June 2021 for which billing 8 records are not yet available. I will file a supplemental declaration along with the 9 supporting documentation when those records become available.

10 6. For the reasons set forth in RTC's motion for attorney fees, I believe the 11 fees incurred to date and that continue to be incurred are reasonable and were necessary to 12 successfully defend this case. I believe the entire amount incurred, $101,420 plus the 13 additional fees incurred subsequently should be awarded as a result of Plaintiffs' pursuit 14 of claims without reasonable grounds and without any evidence. I found the work to be 15 difficult and complicated because Plaintiffs pursued numerous and varied contract, tort 16 and equitable claims, including a request for punitive damages, for what appeared to be a 17 simple trespass claim. This required filing two successful motions to dismiss and, 18 ultimately, a motion for summary judgment. My efforts at discovery were repeatedly 19 frustrated, resulting in two sanction awards against Plaintiffs. I had to prepare for two 20 summary judgment oral arguments and prepared two motions in limine in preparation of 21 trial.

22 7. I recognize that Plaintiff paid the sanction award in the amount of 23 $11,684.90 and that RTC should not be paid twice for these fees. However, I believe that 24 RTC should be paid for the remainder of its fees incurred in defending a case that 25 Plaintiffs failed to prosecute and failed to support with any admissible evidence.
26 Therefore, RTC should be awarded a minimum amount of $89,735.10 pursuant to this 27 Motion.

22 ORDER GRANTING SUMMARY JUDGMENT AFTER
23 SUPPLEMENTAL ARGUMENTS

24 Before the Court is RTC's Motion for Summary Judgment. RTC filed the motion on 25 March 29, 2021. Plaintiffs filed their opposition brief on April 2, 2021. RTC filed its reply
26 brief on April 29, 2021, and the matter was submitted for the Court's decision. The Court
27 scheduled oral argument for May 12, 2020, at which it heard argument from RTC's counsel.
28 Plaintiffs' counsel did not appear at oral argument. At the conclusion of oral arguments this Court orally pronounced that it would grant summary judgment and deny the pending motions in limine as moot; it directed RTC's Counsel, Dane Anderson Esq., to prepare and submit the

1 order.

2 On May 13, 2021 Plaintiffs filed a notice of intent to file motion to request a rehearing
3 on RTC's Motion for Summary Judgment because "Plaintiffs were denied, inter alia, their 4 Constitutional right to appear and be heard" due to "a technical error, oversight, mistake
5 and/or inadvertence relating. . . to the Zoom platform and its operation." See May 13, 2021
6 Notice. RTC filed a response on May 24, 2021, arguing a rehearing is not proper and 7 plaintiffs were provided proper notice and an opportunity to be heard and further fail to 8 demonstrate how their participation would have yielded different results. Thereafter, 9 Plaintiffs filed a motion for reconsideration and hearing or alternative motion to set aside
10 order, to which the RTC filed an opposition on June 7, 2021. This Court allowed 11 supplemental arguments on June 8, 2021, and the parties have been fully heard. This Court 12 now orders as follows:
13 14

15 PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

16 1. Plaintiffs filed this action on February 27, 2019. Their complaint asserted 17 twelve claims for relief: (1) injunctive relief; (2) breach of contract; (3) breach of the implied
18 covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (4) breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust; (5)
19 declaratory relief; (6) waste; (7) conversion; (8) trespass; (9) civil conspiracy; (10) 20 negligence; (11) elder abuse; and (12) intentional and/or negligent infliction of emotional
21 distress/tort of outrage. Plaintiffs' claims were all based on the RTC's alleged improper use 22 of the parking lot on Plaintiffs' property at 642 E. 4th Street in Reno. Plaintiffs alleged 23 damages to the parking lot, personal injuries (including emotional distress, anxiety and 24 depression) and also sought punitive damages against RTC.
25

26 2. Plaintiffs failed to timely serve process pursuant to NRCP 4(d), causing this 27 Court to enter an Order To Show Cause on July 1, 2019. In response, Plaintiffs filed a Motion 28

1 For Extension Of Time in which Plaintiffs' counsel cited certain health issues as the reason
2 service had not been timely accomplished. This became a recurring explanation for Plaintiffs'
3 procedural failures throughout the case. The Court granted Plaintiffs' motion but also noted 4 that RTC, as a government entity, is easy to serve and gave Plaintiffs ten days to do so.

6 3. After being served, RTC file a motion to dismiss certain claims. While that 7 motion was pending, the parties filed a Stipulation To Conduct Discovery Prior To Holding 8 The NRCF 16.1 Conference And Prior To Filing The Joint Case Conference Report. The 9 stipulation was based on Plaintiffs' ages and allegations in the complaint regarding Plaintiffs'
10 medical issues. Significantly, the stipulation allowed both parties to conduct early discovery.
11 The Court granted the stipulation on November 18, 2019.

13 4. Pursuant to the stipulation and order for early discovery, RTC served written 14 requests for production on Plaintiffs, including requests seeking information regarding 15 Plaintiffs' alleged damages—both damages to the parking lot as well as alleged personal 16 injury and emotional distress damages. In response to these requests, Plaintiffs indicated they 17 did not wish to disclose their medical records. Therefore, on December 6, 2019, the parties
18 entered into a Stipulation For Entry Of Order Dismissing Certain Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief
19 And Damages With Prejudice. By way of that stipulation, Plaintiffs expressly stated they no 20 longer wished to pursue any damages for emotional distress or personal injury and had 21 decided to limit their compensatory damages solely to the property damage to their parking
22 lot. Plaintiffs agreed to dismiss with prejudice their claim for intentional and/or negligent 23 infliction of emotional distress as well as any claims for damages other than those specifically 24 related to their parking lot and punitive damages. Plaintiffs acknowledged that RTC was 25 relying on that agreement by withdrawing its discovery requests relating to Plaintiffs' medical 26 records and treating physicians.
27
28

1 5. On December 10, 2019, the Court entered its Order Granting Stipulation For 2 Entry Of Order Dismissing Certain Of Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief And Damages With
3 Prejudice. That order specifically adopted the parties' agreement that Plaintiffs'
4 compensatory damages would be limited to alleged damage to the parking lot, and that any 5 damages for emotional distress or personal injury were dismissed with prejudice.

7 6. Shortly thereafter, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to file an amended complaint
8 consistent with the parties' stipulation. Plaintiffs filed their Amended Complaint on January 9 21, 2020, asserting eleven claims for relief: (1) injunctive relief; (2) breach of contract; (3) 10 contractual breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (4) breach of 11 fiduciary duty/breach of trust; (5) declaratory relief; (6) waste; (7) conversion; (8) trespass;
12 (9) civil conspiracy; (10) negligence; (11) tortious breach of the implied covenant of good 13 faith and fair dealing.
14

15 7. On January 30, 2020, RTC filed a Supplemental Motion To Dismiss. After 16 briefing, the Court entered an Order Granting Motion To Dismiss on March 20, 2020,
17 dismissing Plaintiffs' claims for injunctive relief, breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust, 18 waste, conversion and tortious breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.
19 The Court denied RTC's motion to dismiss the civil conspiracy claim, noting the pre-trial 20 resolution of that claim, if any, could only be considered through a motion for summary
21 judgment after appropriate discovery is conducted. Thus, the case proceeded on Plaintiffs' 22 claims for breach of contract, contractual breach of the implied covenant of good faith and 23 fair dealing, declaratory relief, trespass, civil conspiracy, and negligence.
24

25 8. On January 20, 2020, RTC filed a Motion To Compel because Plaintiffs had 26 failed to serve responses to RTC's requests for production of documents pursuant to NRCP 34 27 and the parties' stipulation for early discovery. Plaintiffs did not respond to that motion and,
28

1 on April 20, 2020, the Court entered a Confirming Order approving the Master's 2 Recommendation For Order that Plaintiffs produce responses, including responsive
3 documents within their possession, custody or control, no later than April 17, 2020 and that 4 Plaintiffs pay RTC $1,000 as a sanction for their discovery failures.

6 9. On March 23, 2020, RTC filed its Answer to First Amended Complaint.
7 Thereafter, Plaintiffs failed to schedule an early case conference and failed to file a case
8 conference report. This failure will be addressed further below.

9 10. On April 1, 2020, RTC filed a Motion For Discovery Sanctions based on 10 Plaintiffs' failure to appear at their properly noticed depositions and other discovery failures.
11 On April 20, 2020, RTC filed a Motion For Sanctions Pursuant To NRCP 37(b)(1) based on 12 Plaintiffs failure to comply with the Court's April 20, 2020 Confirming Order. Among other 13 things, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to produce documents responsive to RTC's requests for 14 production no later than June 30, 2020. The Court further ordered RTC to submit a 15 declaration setting forth RTC's reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the discovery
16 motions. After briefing, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to pay $10,684.90 to RTC in sanctions 17 for their discovery failures.
18

19 11. On July 21, 2020, RTC filed a Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From 20 Offering Documents Not Produced To RTC On Or Before June 30, 2020. Plaintiffs did not 21 oppose this motion and, on August 19, 2020, the Court entered an order granting it.
22

23 12. On October 12, 2020, the Court entered an Order Granting Stipulated
24 Scheduling Order. Among other deadlines, the Court ordered that the deadline to make expert
25 disclosures was February 26, 2021, and the deadline to disclose rebuttal experts was March 26 29, 2021. The Court noted the NRCP 16.1 case conference had not been held and nothing in 27 the scheduling order should be construed as a waiver of RTC's rights under the August 19, 28

1 2020 Order granting RTC's motion in limine.

2 13. On January 19, 2021, RTC filed a Motion For Sanctions Pursuant To NRCP
3 16.1(e), seeking dismissal of this case due to Plaintiffs' failure to hold an early case
4 conference pursuant to NRCP 16.1 and consequent failure to file a case conference report.
5 Following briefing, the Court entered an Order Denying Motion For Sanctions on March 25, 6 2021. The Court denied the requested sanction of dismissal because it wanted to decide the 7 case on its merits, but it noted Plaintiffs' repeated failure to prosecute their case. The Court
8 ordered the parties to conduct an NRCP 16(b) conference and also ordered the parties to 9 appear before the Court for a status hearing on April 27, 2020.

11 14. On March 9, 2021, RTC filed its Motion For Summary Judgment, along with 12 two motions in limine: (1) Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From Presenting 13 Evidence Pursuant To NRS 50.275, 50.285 and 50.305 ("Motion In Limine Re Experts"); and 14 (2) Motion In Limine To Exclude Evidence Of Damages. The Motion In Limine Re Experts
15 was based on Plaintiffs' failure to timely disclose any expert witnesses. The Motion In 16 Limine To Exclude Evidence Of Damages was based on Plaintiffs' failure to provide a 17 computation of damages pursuant to NRCP 16.1(a)(1) and their failure to provide any 18 documentation to support their damages claim. Those motions in limine are pending and will 19 be denied as moot in light of the Court's ruling on the Motion for Summary Judgment.

21 15. Plaintiffs filed their opposition briefs on April 2, 2021. The primary theme of 22 these oppositions was that the Court's March 25, 2021 Order Denying Motion For Sanctions
23 was a "reset" of this case excusing Plaintiffs from their repeated procedural failures.

25 16. On April 27, 2021, the Court held a status conference, at which Plaintiffs'
26 counsel asserted the parties' stipulation for early discovery somehow restricted Plaintiffs from 27 conducting discovery in this case. As discussed below, the Court finds this assertion to be 28

1 unsupported by the documents of record. Following the hearing, the Court set oral arguments
2 on RTC's Motion For Summary Judgment for May 12, 2021 at 2:00 p.m.

3 FINDINGS OF FACT

4 17. In entering the December 6, 2019, Stipulation For Entry Of Order Dismissing
5 Certain Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief And Damages With Prejudice, which the Court granted
6 by its Order of December 10, 2019, Plaintiffs expressly waived, with prejudice, any claim for 7 compensatory damages other than compensation for physical damage to the parking lot.
8

9 18. Plaintiffs failed to timely disclose an expert witness on any subject, including 10 Plaintiffs' alleged damages. This Court concludes expert evidence is necessary to determine 11 causation, scope of repair, diminishment in value, and damages. As a result, Plaintiffs have 12 no expert evidence as to the cost to repair the parking lot or the loss of value to the property 13 based on the alleged damage to the parking lot. Plaintiffs are not qualified to provide such 14 evidence and were not designated to provide such testimony.
15

16 19. Plaintiffs have not conducted discovery necessary to prosecute their case.

17 20. The October 30, 2019 Stipulation To Conduct Discovery Prior To Holding The 18 NRCP 16.1 Conference And Prior To Filing The Joint Case Conference Report expressly 19 allowed both parties to conduct discovery. Nothing in that Stipulation or the November 18, 20 2019 Order granting the Stipulation, restricted Plaintiffs' right or ability to conduct discovery.
21 The Court does not find that RTC or its counsel in any way precluded Plaintiffs from 22 prosecuting their case.
23

24 21. In opposing summary judgment, Plaintiffs presented no declarations or any 25 other admissible evidence to support their claims. The documents Plaintiffs submitted to the 26 Court suffer from several evidentiary infirmities.

27 22. There is no admissible evidence supporting each of the elements of Plaintiffs' 28

1 claims.

2 23. There is no admissible evidence of Plaintiffs' alleged damages.

3 24. The Court's March 25, 2021 Order Denying Motion For Sanctions was not a
4 "reset" of the entire case. The Court simply wished to avoid imposing case ending sanctions
5 based solely on Plaintiffs' failure to hold an early case conference. That Order was not 6 intended to, and did not, relieve Plaintiffs of any other procedural failures in this case.
7 Contrary to Plaintiffs' suggestion, the March 25, 2021 order did not override or supersede the 8 Court's August 19, 2020 Order Granting Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From 9 Offering Documents Not Produced To RTC On Or Before June 30, 2020.
10

11 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

12 25. Summary judgment is appropriate and "shall be rendered forthwith" when the 13 pleadings and other evidence on file demonstrate that no "genuine issue as to any material fact 14 [remains] and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law." Wood v.
15 Safeway, Inc., 121 Nev. 724, 729, 121 P.3d 1026, 1029 (2005).
16

17 26. In opposing summary judgment, the nonmoving party "must, by affidavit or 18 otherwise, set forth specific facts demonstrating the existence of a genuine issue for trial or 19 have summary judgment entered against him." Id., 121 Nev. at 732, 121 P.3d at 1031.
20 "Evidence introduced in...opposition to a motion for summary judgment must be admissible 21 evidence." Collins v. Union Fed. Savings & Loan, 99 Nev. 284, 302, 662 P.2d 610, 621 22 (1983), citing NRCP 56(e).
23

24 27. Summary judgment serves an important role in promoting sound judicial 25 economy. Courts should not hesitate to discourage litigation in instances where claims are 26 deficient of evidentiary support and are based on little more than the complainants'
27 conclusory allegations and accusations. Boesiger v. Desert Appraisals, LLC, 135 Nev. 192, 28

1 193, 444 P.3d 436, 438 (2019). In doing so, courts avoid the unwarranted consumption of 2 public and private resources. Id., 135 Nev. at 194, 444 P.3d at 438.

3 28. Here, the Court concludes that RTC is entitled to summary judgment on all of 4 Plaintiffs' remaining claims: (1) breach of contract; (2) contractual breach of the implied 5 covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (3) civil conspiracy; (4) trespass; (5) negligence; and 6 (6) declaratory relief. Each is addressed in turn.

8 29. "Basic contract principles require, for an enforceable contract, an offer and 9 acceptance, meeting of the minds and consideration." Certified Fire Prot. Inc. v. Precision
10 Construction, Inc., 128 Nev. 371, 378, 283 P.3d 250, 255 (2012). "A meeting of the minds 11 exists when the parties have agreed upon the contract's essential terms." Id. There is no 12 evidence supporting any of these elements, nor is there any evidence of Plaintiffs' alleged 13 damages. Plaintiffs' breach of contract claim fails.
14

15 30. A claim for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing 16 requires the plaintiff to prove the existence of a contract. Perry v. Jordan, 111 Nev. 943, 900
17 P.2d 335 (1995). Plaintiffs have failed to prove the existence of a contract with RTC and 18 have provided no evidence of damages. Therefore, Plaintiffs' claim for breach of the implied 19 covenant of good faith and fair dealing fails.
20

21 31. A civil conspiracy claim exists when a combination of two or more persons 22 who, by some concerted action, intend to accomplish some unlawful objective for the purpose
23 of harming another and resulting in damages. Collins, supra, 99 Nev. at 303, 662 P.2d at 622.
24 To succeed on a civil conspiracy claim, a plaintiff must prove both an agreement between 25 tortfeasors and that the conduct of each defendant is tortious. GES, Inc. v. Corbitt, 117 Nev.
26 265, 271, 21 P.3d 11, 15 (2001). Here, there is no evidence of the existence or identity of any 27 alleged co-conspirator, no evidence of any agreement between RTC and anyone else, and no 28

1 evidence of Plaintiffs' alleged damages. As noted above, there is no evidence of the cost of 2 repair or loss of value based on the alleged damage to the parking lot and Plaintiffs have 3 waived all other damages by way of the December 6, 2019 stipulation. Plaintiffs' civil 4 conspiracy claim fails.

6 32. To prove trespass, the claimant must show that the defendant invaded the 7 claimant's real property. Lied v. County of Clark, 94 Nev. 275, 279, 579 P.2d 171, 173-174
8 (1978). A plaintiff may recover compensatory, nominal, and/or punitive damages under a
9 trespass claim. See True v. Bosch, 73 Nev. 270, 317 P.2d 1089 (1957) (compensatory 10 damages to property); Land Baron Invs., Inc. v. Bonnie Springs Family Ltd. P'ship, 131 Nev.
11 686, 700, 356 P.3d 511, 521 (2015) (plaintiff asserting a trespass claim may recover damages 12 for annoyance and discomfort). Here, Plaintiffs waived any damages other than 13 compensatory damages for the physical damage to the parking lot and punitive damages.
14 Therefore, they cannot recover nominal damages or general damages for annoyance,
15 discomfort, emotional distress, anxiety or depression. There is no evidence of cost of repair 16 or loss of value based on the alleged physical damage. There is also no evidence that would 17 support an award of punitive damages.

18 19 33. To establish a negligence claim, a plaintiff must demonstrate: (1) that 20 defendant owed plaintiff a duty of care; (2) that defendant breached that duty; (3) the breach 21 was the legal cause of plaintiff's injuries; and (4) plaintiff sustained damages. Scialabba v.
22 Brandise Construction Co., 112 Nev. 965, 921 P.2d 928 (1996). Here, Plaintiffs have failed 23 to present any evidence identifying the duty RTC allegedly owed them, nor have they 24 presented any evidence of damages. Plaintiffs' negligence claim fails.

25
26 34. Plaintiffs' declaratory relief claim also fails. Plaintiffs sought a declaration 27 that (1) RTC failed to perform under the "RTC-Trust agreement" or its "condemnation 28

1 activities”; (2) Plaintiffs are the sole and exclusive owners of their “Property” at 642 E. 4th St.
2 in Reno; (3) RTC has no right, title or interest in the Property and no right to use the Property;
3 (4) RTC “knowingly and wrongfully used the Remaining Property” without paying 4 compensation to Plaintiffs; and (5) RTC wrongfully parked its vehicles on the Remaining
5 Property, causing extensive damage in callous disregard of the law. First, there is no evidence
6 of any contract between RTC and Plaintiffs and any issue involving RTC’s “condemnation 7 activities” was already adjudicated in the previous condemnation action between the parties.
8 Second, while Plaintiffs own “the Property,” they own it subject to RTC’s valid and existing 9 easements established by way of the prior condemnation action between the parties. Third,
10 RTC has the rights, title and interest in the easements on the Property acquired by way of that 11 condemnation action and for which Plaintiffs received just compensation. Finally, there is no
12 evidence of Plaintiffs’ damages and no evidence RTC “callously disregarded” the law.
13 Plaintiffs’ claim for declaratory relief fails.
15

16 36. In sum, there is no admissible evidence to support Plaintiffs’ claims. All of 17 Plaintiffs’ remaining claims are dismissed. No genuine issues remain as to any material facts.
18 RTC is entitled to judgment as a matter of law on all of Plaintiffs’ claims.

19 Based on the foregoing and with good cause appearing,

22 ORDER GRANTING SUMMARY JUDGMENT AFTER
23 SUPPLEMENTAL ARGUMENTS

24 Before the Court is RTC's Motion for Summary Judgment. RTC filed the motion on 25 March 29, 2021. Plaintiffs filed their opposition brief on April 2, 2021. RTC filed its reply
26 brief on April 29, 2021, and the matter was submitted for the Court's decision. The Court
27 scheduled oral argument for May 12, 2020, at which it heard argument from RTC's counsel.
28 Plaintiffs' counsel did not appear at oral argument. At the conclusion of oral arguments this Court orally pronounced that it would grant summary judgment and deny the pending motions in limine as moot; it directed RTC's Counsel, Dane Anderson Esq., to prepare and submit the

1 order.

2 On May 13, 2021 Plaintiffs filed a notice of intent to file motion to request a rehearing
3 on RTC's Motion for Summary Judgment because "Plaintiffs were denied, inter alia, their 4 Constitutional right to appear and be heard" due to "a technical error, oversight, mistake
5 and/or inadvertence relating. . . to the Zoom platform and its operation." See May 13, 2021
6 Notice. RTC filed a response on May 24, 2021, arguing a rehearing is not proper and 7 plaintiffs were provided proper notice and an opportunity to be heard and further fail to 8 demonstrate how their participation would have yielded different results. Thereafter, 9 Plaintiffs filed a motion for reconsideration and hearing or alternative motion to set aside
10 order, to which the RTC filed an opposition on June 7, 2021. This Court allowed 11 supplemental arguments on June 8, 2021, and the parties have been fully heard. This Court 12 now orders as follows:
13 14

15 PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

16 1. Plaintiffs filed this action on February 27, 2019. Their complaint asserted 17 twelve claims for relief: (1) injunctive relief; (2) breach of contract; (3) breach of the implied
18 covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (4) breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust; (5)
19 declaratory relief; (6) waste; (7) conversion; (8) trespass; (9) civil conspiracy; (10) 20 negligence; (11) elder abuse; and (12) intentional and/or negligent infliction of emotional
21 distress/tort of outrage. Plaintiffs' claims were all based on the RTC's alleged improper use 22 of the parking lot on Plaintiffs' property at 642 E. 4th Street in Reno. Plaintiffs alleged 23 damages to the parking lot, personal injuries (including emotional distress, anxiety and 24 depression) and also sought punitive damages against RTC.
25

26 2. Plaintiffs failed to timely serve process pursuant to NRCP 4(d), causing this 27 Court to enter an Order To Show Cause on July 1, 2019. In response, Plaintiffs filed a Motion 28

1 For Extension Of Time in which Plaintiffs' counsel cited certain health issues as the reason
2 service had not been timely accomplished. This became a recurring explanation for Plaintiffs'
3 procedural failures throughout the case. The Court granted Plaintiffs' motion but also noted 4 that RTC, as a government entity, is easy to serve and gave Plaintiffs ten days to do so.

6 3. After being served, RTC file a motion to dismiss certain claims. While that 7 motion was pending, the parties filed a Stipulation To Conduct Discovery Prior To Holding 8 The NRC 16.1 Conference And Prior To Filing The Joint Case Conference Report. The 9 stipulation was based on Plaintiffs' ages and allegations in the complaint regarding Plaintiffs'
10 medical issues. Significantly, the stipulation allowed both parties to conduct early discovery.
11 The Court granted the stipulation on November 18, 2019.

13 4. Pursuant to the stipulation and order for early discovery, RTC served written 14 requests for production on Plaintiffs, including requests seeking information regarding 15 Plaintiffs' alleged damages—both damages to the parking lot as well as alleged personal 16 injury and emotional distress damages. In response to these requests, Plaintiffs indicated they 17 did not wish to disclose their medical records. Therefore, on December 6, 2019, the parties
18 entered into a Stipulation For Entry Of Order Dismissing Certain Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief
19 And Damages With Prejudice. By way of that stipulation, Plaintiffs expressly stated they no 20 longer wished to pursue any damages for emotional distress or personal injury and had 21 decided to limit their compensatory damages solely to the property damage to their parking
22 lot. Plaintiffs agreed to dismiss with prejudice their claim for intentional and/or negligent 23 infliction of emotional distress as well as any claims for damages other than those specifically 24 related to their parking lot and punitive damages. Plaintiffs acknowledged that RTC was 25 relying on that agreement by withdrawing its discovery requests relating to Plaintiffs' medical 26 records and treating physicians.
27
28

1 5. On December 10, 2019, the Court entered its Order Granting Stipulation For 2 Entry Of Order Dismissing Certain Of Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief And Damages With
3 Prejudice. That order specifically adopted the parties' agreement that Plaintiffs'
4 compensatory damages would be limited to alleged damage to the parking lot, and that any 5 damages for emotional distress or personal injury were dismissed with prejudice.

7 6. Shortly thereafter, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to file an amended complaint
8 consistent with the parties' stipulation. Plaintiffs filed their Amended Complaint on January 9 21, 2020, asserting eleven claims for relief: (1) injunctive relief; (2) breach of contract; (3) 10 contractual breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (4) breach of 11 fiduciary duty/breach of trust; (5) declaratory relief; (6) waste; (7) conversion; (8) trespass;
12 (9) civil conspiracy; (10) negligence; (11) tortious breach of the implied covenant of good 13 faith and fair dealing.
14

15 7. On January 30, 2020, RTC filed a Supplemental Motion To Dismiss. After 16 briefing, the Court entered an Order Granting Motion To Dismiss on March 20, 2020,
17 dismissing Plaintiffs' claims for injunctive relief, breach of fiduciary duty/breach of trust, 18 waste, conversion and tortious breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing.
19 The Court denied RTC's motion to dismiss the civil conspiracy claim, noting the pre-trial 20 resolution of that claim, if any, could only be considered through a motion for summary
21 judgment after appropriate discovery is conducted. Thus, the case proceeded on Plaintiffs' 22 claims for breach of contract, contractual breach of the implied covenant of good faith and 23 fair dealing, declaratory relief, trespass, civil conspiracy, and negligence.
24

25 8. On January 20, 2020, RTC filed a Motion To Compel because Plaintiffs had 26 failed to serve responses to RTC's requests for production of documents pursuant to NRCP 34 27 and the parties' stipulation for early discovery. Plaintiffs did not respond to that motion and,
28

1 on April 20, 2020, the Court entered a Confirming Order approving the Master's 2 Recommendation For Order that Plaintiffs produce responses, including responsive
3 documents within their possession, custody or control, no later than April 17, 2020 and that 4 Plaintiffs pay RTC $1,000 as a sanction for their discovery failures.

6 9. On March 23, 2020, RTC filed its Answer to First Amended Complaint.
7 Thereafter, Plaintiffs failed to schedule an early case conference and failed to file a case
8 conference report. This failure will be addressed further below.

9 10. On April 1, 2020, RTC filed a Motion For Discovery Sanctions based on 10 Plaintiffs' failure to appear at their properly noticed depositions and other discovery failures.
11 On April 20, 2020, RTC filed a Motion For Sanctions Pursuant To NRCP 37(b)(1) based on 12 Plaintiffs failure to comply with the Court's April 20, 2020 Confirming Order. Among other 13 things, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to produce documents responsive to RTC's requests for 14 production no later than June 30, 2020. The Court further ordered RTC to submit a 15 declaration setting forth RTC's reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the discovery
16 motions. After briefing, the Court ordered Plaintiffs to pay $10,684.90 to RTC in sanctions 17 for their discovery failures.
18

19 11. On July 21, 2020, RTC filed a Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From 20 Offering Documents Not Produced To RTC On Or Before June 30, 2020. Plaintiffs did not 21 oppose this motion and, on August 19, 2020, the Court entered an order granting it.
22

23 12. On October 12, 2020, the Court entered an Order Granting Stipulated
24 Scheduling Order. Among other deadlines, the Court ordered that the deadline to make expert
25 disclosures was February 26, 2021, and the deadline to disclose rebuttal experts was March 26 29, 2021. The Court noted the NRCP 16.1 case conference had not been held and nothing in 27 the scheduling order should be construed as a waiver of RTC's rights under the August 19, 28

1 2020 Order granting RTC's motion in limine.

2 13. On January 19, 2021, RTC filed a Motion For Sanctions Pursuant To NRCP
3 16.1(e), seeking dismissal of this case due to Plaintiffs' failure to hold an early case
4 conference pursuant to NRCP 16.1 and consequent failure to file a case conference report.
5 Following briefing, the Court entered an Order Denying Motion For Sanctions on March 25, 6 2021. The Court denied the requested sanction of dismissal because it wanted to decide the 7 case on its merits, but it noted Plaintiffs' repeated failure to prosecute their case. The Court
8 ordered the parties to conduct an NRCP 16(b) conference and also ordered the parties to 9 appear before the Court for a status hearing on April 27, 2020.

11 14. On March 9, 2021, RTC filed its Motion For Summary Judgment, along with 12 two motions in limine: (1) Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From Presenting 13 Evidence Pursuant To NRS 50.275, 50.285 and 50.305 ("Motion In Limine Re Experts"); and 14 (2) Motion In Limine To Exclude Evidence Of Damages. The Motion In Limine Re Experts
15 was based on Plaintiffs' failure to timely disclose any expert witnesses. The Motion In 16 Limine To Exclude Evidence Of Damages was based on Plaintiffs' failure to provide a 17 computation of damages pursuant to NRCP 16.1(a)(1) and their failure to provide any 18 documentation to support their damages claim. Those motions in limine are pending and will 19 be denied as moot in light of the Court's ruling on the Motion for Summary Judgment.

22 15. Plaintiffs filed their opposition briefs on April 2, 2021. The primary theme of 23 these oppositions was that the Court's March 25, 2021 Order Denying Motion For Sanctions
24 was a "reset" of this case excusing Plaintiffs from their repeated procedural failures.

26 16. On April 27, 2021, the Court held a status conference, at which Plaintiffs'
27 counsel asserted the parties' stipulation for early discovery somehow restricted Plaintiffs from 28 conducting discovery in this case. As discussed below, the Court finds this assertion to be

1 unsupported by the documents of record. Following the hearing, the Court set oral arguments
2 on RTC's Motion For Summary Judgment for May 12, 2021 at 2:00 p.m.

3 FINDINGS OF FACT

4 17. In entering the December 6, 2019, Stipulation For Entry Of Order Dismissing
5 Certain Plaintiffs' Claims For Relief And Damages With Prejudice, which the Court granted
6 by its Order of December 10, 2019, Plaintiffs expressly waived, with prejudice, any claim for 7 compensatory damages other than compensation for physical damage to the parking lot.
8

9 18. Plaintiffs failed to timely disclose an expert witness on any subject, including 10 Plaintiffs' alleged damages. This Court concludes expert evidence is necessary to determine 11 causation, scope of repair, diminishment in value, and damages. As a result, Plaintiffs have 12 no expert evidence as to the cost to repair the parking lot or the loss of value to the property 13 based on the alleged damage to the parking lot. Plaintiffs are not qualified to provide such 14 evidence and were not designated to provide such testimony.
15

16 19. Plaintiffs have not conducted discovery necessary to prosecute their case.

17 20. The October 30, 2019 Stipulation To Conduct Discovery Prior To Holding The 18 NRCP 16.1 Conference And Prior To Filing The Joint Case Conference Report expressly 19 allowed both parties to conduct discovery. Nothing in that Stipulation or the November 18, 20 2019 Order granting the Stipulation, restricted Plaintiffs' right or ability to conduct discovery.
21 The Court does not find that RTC or its counsel in any way precluded Plaintiffs from 22 prosecuting their case.
23

24 21. In opposing summary judgment, Plaintiffs presented no declarations or any 25 other admissible evidence to support their claims. The documents Plaintiffs submitted to the 26 Court suffer from several evidentiary infirmities.

27 22. There is no admissible evidence supporting each of the elements of Plaintiffs' 28

1 claims.

2 23. There is no admissible evidence of Plaintiffs' alleged damages.

3 24. The Court's March 25, 2021 Order Denying Motion For Sanctions was not a
4 "reset" of the entire case. The Court simply wished to avoid imposing case ending sanctions
5 based solely on Plaintiffs' failure to hold an early case conference. That Order was not 6 intended to, and did not, relieve Plaintiffs of any other procedural failures in this case.
7 Contrary to Plaintiffs' suggestion, the March 25, 2021 order did not override or supersede the 8 Court's August 19, 2020 Order Granting Motion In Limine To Preclude Plaintiffs From 9 Offering Documents Not Produced To RTC On Or Before June 30, 2020.
10

11 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

12 25. Summary judgment is appropriate and "shall be rendered forthwith" when the 13 pleadings and other evidence on file demonstrate that no "genuine issue as to any material fact 14 [remains] and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law." Wood v.
15 Safeway, Inc., 121 Nev. 724, 729, 121 P.3d 1026, 1029 (2005).
16

17 26. In opposing summary judgment, the nonmoving party "must, by affidavit or 18 otherwise, set forth specific facts demonstrating the existence of a genuine issue for trial or 19 have summary judgment entered against him." Id., 121 Nev. at 732, 121 P.3d at 1031.
20 "Evidence introduced in...opposition to a motion for summary judgment must be admissible 21 evidence." Collins v. Union Fed. Savings & Loan, 99 Nev. 284, 302, 662 P.2d 610, 621 22 (1983), citing NRCP 56(e).
23

24 27. Summary judgment serves an important role in promoting sound judicial 25 economy. Courts should not hesitate to discourage litigation in instances where claims are 26 deficient of evidentiary support and are based on little more than the complainants'
27 conclusory allegations and accusations. Boesiger v. Desert Appraisals, LLC, 135 Nev. 192, 28

1 193, 444 P.3d 436, 438 (2019). In doing so, courts avoid the unwarranted consumption of 2 public and private resources. Id., 135 Nev. at 194, 444 P.3d at 438.

3 28. Here, the Court concludes that RTC is entitled to summary judgment on all of 4 Plaintiffs' remaining claims: (1) breach of contract; (2) contractual breach of the implied 5 covenant of good faith and fair dealing; (3) civil conspiracy; (4) trespass; (5) negligence; and 6 (6) declaratory relief. Each is addressed in turn.

8 29. "Basic contract principles require, for an enforceable contract, an offer and 9 acceptance, meeting of the minds and consideration." Certified Fire Prot. Inc. v. Precision
10 Construction, Inc., 128 Nev. 371, 378, 283 P.3d 250, 255 (2012). "A meeting of the minds 11 exists when the parties have agreed upon the contract's essential terms." Id. There is no 12 evidence supporting any of these elements, nor is there any evidence of Plaintiffs' alleged 13 damages. Plaintiffs' breach of contract claim fails.
14

15 30. A claim for breach of the implied covenant of good faith and fair dealing 16 requires the plaintiff to prove the existence of a contract. Perry v. Jordan, 111 Nev. 943, 900
17 P.2d 335 (1995). Plaintiffs have failed to prove the existence of a contract with RTC and 18 have provided no evidence of damages. Therefore, Plaintiffs' claim for breach of the implied 19 covenant of good faith and fair dealing fails.
20

21 31. A civil conspiracy claim exists when a combination of two or more persons 22 who, by some concerted action, intend to accomplish some unlawful objective for the purpose
23 of harming another and resulting in damages. Collins, supra, 99 Nev. at 303, 662 P.2d at 622.
24 To succeed on a civil conspiracy claim, a plaintiff must prove both an agreement between 25 tortfeasors and that the conduct of each defendant is tortious. GES, Inc. v. Corbitt, 117 Nev.
26 265, 271, 21 P.3d 11, 15 (2001). Here, there is no evidence of the existence or identity of any 27 alleged co-conspirator, no evidence of any agreement between RTC and anyone else, and no 28

1 evidence of Plaintiffs' alleged damages. As noted above, there is no evidence of the cost of 2 repair or loss of value based on the alleged damage to the parking lot and Plaintiffs have 3 waived all other damages by way of the December 6, 2019 stipulation. Plaintiffs' civil 4 conspiracy claim fails.

6 32. To prove trespass, the claimant must show that the defendant invaded the 7 claimant's real property. Lied v. County of Clark, 94 Nev. 275, 279, 579 P.2d 171, 173-174
8 (1978). A plaintiff may recover compensatory, nominal, and/or punitive damages under a
9 trespass claim. See True v. Bosch, 73 Nev. 270, 317 P.2d 1089 (1957) (compensatory 10 damages to property); Land Baron Invs., Inc. v. Bonnie Springs Family Ltd. P'ship, 131 Nev.
11 686, 700, 356 P.3d 511, 521 (2015) (plaintiff asserting a trespass claim may recover damages 12 for annoyance and discomfort). Here, Plaintiffs waived any damages other than 13 compensatory damages for the physical damage to the parking lot and punitive damages.
14 Therefore, they cannot recover nominal damages or general damages for annoyance,
15 discomfort, emotional distress, anxiety or depression. There is no evidence of cost of repair 16 or loss of value based on the alleged physical damage. There is also no evidence that would 17 support an award of punitive damages.

18 19 33. To establish a negligence claim, a plaintiff must demonstrate: (1) that 20 defendant owed plaintiff a duty of care; (2) that defendant breached that duty; (3) the breach 21 was the legal cause of plaintiff's injuries; and (4) plaintiff sustained damages. Scialabba v.
22 Brandise Construction Co., 112 Nev. 965, 921 P.2d 928 (1996). Here, Plaintiffs have failed 23 to present any evidence identifying the duty RTC allegedly owed them, nor have they 24 presented any evidence of damages. Plaintiffs' negligence claim fails.

25
26 34. Plaintiffs' declaratory relief claim also fails. Plaintiffs sought a declaration 27 that (1) RTC failed to perform under the "RTC-Trust agreement" or its "condemnation 28

1 activities”; (2) Plaintiffs are the sole and exclusive owners of their “Property” at 642 E. 4th St.
2 in Reno; (3) RTC has no right, title or interest in the Property and no right to use the Property;
3 (4) RTC “knowingly and wrongfully used the Remaining Property” without paying 4 compensation to Plaintiffs; and (5) RTC wrongfully parked its vehicles on the Remaining
5 Property, causing extensive damage in callous disregard of the law. First, there is no evidence
6 of any contract between RTC and Plaintiffs and any issue involving RTC’s “condemnation 7 activities” was already adjudicated in the previous condemnation action between the parties.
8 Second, while Plaintiffs own “the Property,” they own it subject to RTC’s valid and existing 9 easements established by way of the prior condemnation action between the parties. Third,
10 RTC has the rights, title and interest in the easements on the Property acquired by way of that 11 condemnation action and for which Plaintiffs received just compensation. Finally, there is no
12 evidence of Plaintiffs’ damages and no evidence RTC “callously disregarded” the law.
13 Plaintiffs’ claim for declaratory relief fails.
15

16 36. In sum, there is no admissible evidence to support Plaintiffs’ claims. All of 17 Plaintiffs’ remaining claims are dismissed. No genuine issues remain as to any material facts.
18 RTC is entitled to judgment as a matter of law on all of Plaintiffs’ claims.

19 Based on the foregoing and with good cause appearing,

ATTY Anderson addressed and advised CT Defendant agreed to take Plaintiffs' depositions via Zoom and also agreed to extend the deposition date(s) approximately 2 months. Counsel further advised last week opposing counsel provided a proposed scheduling order for review; however, there is a dispute requiring this Court's assistance between the parties regarding 16.1 disclosures before entering a scheduling order in this case.

ATTY Morrison addressed CT referenced this Court's order granting Defendant's MIL precluding Plaintiffs from offering documents not produced to RTC prior to 6/30/20.

COURT stated it would expect Plaintiffs to seek leave if deemed appropriate; further, it was its intention for a 16.1 conference to commence and other discovery to commence.

ATTY Anderson indicated discovery should be properly conducted, the problem being there has not been a 16.1 conference, and it is the Plaintiffs' obligation to move this case forward. Counsel further indicated Plaintiffs should submit a proposed scheduling order to D15 staff.

ATTY Morrison indicated D15's JA previously provided a proposed scheduling order template for counsels' use and did not object to providing said order to D15 staff. Counsel further indicated parties are open to settlement discussions.

COURT ORDERED: No later than Tuesday, 10/6, counsel Anderson shall respond to counsel Morrison regarding the previously provided proposed scheduling order. Further, no later than Thursday, 10/8, counsel Morrison shall submit to D15 staff said proposed order.

STATUS HEARING

2:00 p.m. – Court convened via Zoom.

Michael Morrison, Esq., was present on behalf of Plaintiffs John & Sonnia Iliescu.
Dane Anderson, Esq., was present on behalf of Defendant RTC Washoe County.

Pursuant to the national and local COVID-19 emergency response that caused temporary closure of the courthouse located at 75 Court Street in Reno, Washoe County, Nevada, this hearing was conducted remotely. This Court and all participants appeared electronically via Zoom Webinar. This Court was physically located in Washoe County, Nevada.

COURT reviewed the procedural history of the case; the pending motions and issues in the case; and the Order Denying Motion for Sanctions filed on March 25, 2021. Counsel Morrison responded to the Court regarding the March 25th Order, noting that they have held a 16.1 conference and discussed some of the issues raised by the Court. Counsel Morrison further gave the Court information regarding the case, discovery issues, and lack of cooperation from counsel Anderson, noting that he is at a bit of a loss and of course the Defendants are ready for trial because they were allowed to get everything they needed and he has been foreclosed on getting what he needs; and he further indicated that he believes the March 25th Order got the case back on track, and he requested that the Court give the Plaintiffs consideration in this unusual situation where the Defendants were permitted to get everything they needed, and he has been foreclosed from doing anything.

COURT questioned counsel Morrison regarding the damage to the property. Counsel Morrison indicated that there is damage to the surface of the asphalt due to RTC's heavy trucks being parked there, and the Plaintiffs have asked RTC to move them. Counsel Morrison further advised the Court that Mr. Iliescu has consulted repair specialists and had people out to look at the damage, however the damage continues today; and he further indicated that Mr. Iliescu has determined that the repairs could be done and would be expensive, however stating that number today would be inappropriate.

COURT questioned counsel Morrison regarding how he has disclosed to the Defendants his method for calculating market value loss. Counsel Morrison indicated that expert opinions have been provided to the Defendants, but it was not timely, and that is why the Defendants are trying to keep that evidence out. Counsel Morrison further indicated that it is not that the Defendants did not know about the expert opinion, however RTC does not think the damage is their problem, and there will be evidence that RTC parked their vehicles and all other trucks from surrounding properties on Mr. Iliescu's property, noting that Mr. Iliescu has photos of the lot when it was clean and unmarked prior to RTC using it.

COURT advised respective counsel that he paused when he heard that counsel Morrison did not want to disclose the cost of the repairs, noting that the purpose of discovery and pretrial disclosures is to tell the Defendants what the cost would be to repair the property.

Counsel Anderson responded to counsel Morrison, noting that first and foremost he wishes the Iliescu's the best, and he is sorry to hear they have had health problems.

Zoom

Counsel Anderson further indicated that if the parking lot can be repaired, there is no loss of value; he believes Apex gave an estimate for repairs, but it has not been disclosed yet; and he has received no appraisals other than what is in the file.

Webinar

Upon questioning by the Court, counsel Anderson indicated that his clients do not acknowledge that they damaged the lot, and they would testify at trial that the parking lot was damaged before they started using it.

Counsel Anderson further advised the Court that this is a cost of repair to a parking lot case, but this not how it was pled, and the Complaint contains scorched earth claims; he agrees with counsel Morrison that the Plaintiffs should be leading this case; he became concerned that the Plaintiffs may not be able to testify at trial and that is why he requested early discovery; and he further gave the Court information regarding delays in the case, noting that stipulation went both ways and he never stopped counsel Morrison from obtaining discovery. Counsel Anderson further indicated that he resents the accusation that he has somehow hamstrung the Plaintiffs from getting the discovery they need, and he is at a loss as to why they would accuse him of perpetuating some scheme to stop them from obtaining discovery, noting that they have access to the lot and people who can evaluate the damage; he has filed a procedurally appropriate motion regarding the Plaintiffs' failure to comply with discovery deadlines and he would welcome oral arguments on the Motion for Summary Judgment.

Upon questioning by the Court, counsel Anderson gave the Court information regarding the 16.1 conference and he summarized the discovery that has occurred to date, noting the Plaintiffs have not disclosed their damages or provided an expert report, and he is not obligated to prove their case for them.

COURT questioned counsel Morrison regarding his argument that discovery still needs to be conducted, and that the Motion for Summary Judgment is premature.

Counsel Morrison gave the Court information regarding what discovery is still needed, and he replied to counsel Anderson.

Counsel Anderson further responded.

COURT advised respective counsel that oral arguments should be set, and discussion ensued regarding an acceptable date and time.

10:05 a.m. – Court convened via Zoom.

Michael Morrison, Esq., was present on behalf of Plaintiffs John & Sonnia Iliescu. Dane Anderson, Esq., and Bronagh Kelly, Esq., were present on behalf of Defendant RTC Washoe County.

1 SUPPORTING POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. OVERVIEW

3 In February 2019, the Iliescu Plaintiffs sued Defendant The Regional 4 Transportation Commission of Washoe County (“the RTC”) for, among other injuries, 5 the damage the RTC caused to the Iliescu’s property. See February 27, 2019, 6 Complaint; see also, January 21, 2020, First Amended Complaint (excluding some 7 claims raised in the initial complaint).¹ The Iliescu Plaintiffs own real property over 8 which the RTC exercised eminent domain for the construction of the Fourth 9 Street/Prater RTC project (“the Project”) and damaged the Iliescu’s property during 10 construction on the Project. First Amended Complaint at 2-4. The Iliescu Plaintiffs 11 sought to recover for the damage to the property, the costs to restore the property, the 12 loss of the property’s market value, their loss of use of the property, and other related 13 damages. Id. at 4-18. On March 20, 2020, this Court dismissed additional claims the 14 Iliescu Plaintiffs’ asserted in their First Amended Complaint, but permitted this case to 15 proceed on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ contract-based, declaratory relief, trespass, civil 16 conspiracy, and negligence claims.

17 Following the resolution of discovery disputes taken up by the RTC and the 18 Iliescu’s frustrated efforts to pursue their case in the midst of the COVID-19 19 pandemic², the RTC moved this Court for summary judgment on the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ 20 remaining claims. On June 9, 2021, this Court granted the RTC’s motion and vacated 21 the trial in this matter. The RTC now moves this Court for an order awarding it the 22 attorney’s fees it incurred in this case in the amount of more than $101,000 (minus the 23

24 ¹ The Iliescu Plaintiffs’ First Amended Complaint was a result of this Court’s 25 December 2019 Order on the Parties’ stipulation to dismiss certain claims asserted in the 26 initial complaint.

27 ² The substantial difficulties and unprecedented obstacles that the Iliescu Plaintiffs 28 and their counsel faced in pursuing the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ claims against the RTC in the midst of the COVID-19 pandemic are well documented in this case.

1 nearly $12,000 sanction previously imposed on the Iliescu Plaintiffs). The basis on 2 which this Court granted RTC's motion for summary judgment, however, does not 3 warrant the award to RTC of its attorney's fees. Even if it did, the RTC's request is for 4 an amount that is unreasonable and excessive. Therefore, the RTC's request should be 5 denied.

6 II. ARGUMENT

7 NRS 18.010(2), the basis on which the RTC seeks to recover its attorney's fees, 8 states that this Court may allow the prevailing party to recover its attorney's fees when, 9 without regard to the recovery sought, "...the court finds that the claim...of the 10 opposing party was brought or maintained without reasonable ground or to harass 11 the prevailing party." While it is generally within this Court's discretion to determine 12 a reasonable amount of attorney fee under a statute or rule, it must evaluate those fees 13 under the factors stated in Brunzell v. Golden Gate Nat'l Bank, 85 Nev. 345, 349, 455
14 P.2d 31, 33 (1969) ("the Brunzell factors"). See Miller v. Wilfong, 121 Nev. 619, 623, 15 119 P.3d 727, 730 (Nev. 2005). Those factors include the qualities of the advocate, the 16 character and difficulty of the work performed, the work actually performed by the 17 attorney, and the result obtained. Brunzell, supra. While there is no dispute that 18 counsel for the RTC is a reputable and experienced attorney and that he prevailed on 19 summary judgment on behalf of the RTC in this case, there has been no finding that the 20 Iliescu Plaintiffs brought or maintained this case without reasonable ground or to harass 21 RTC. Thus, there is no legal basis on which this Court can award RTC the attorney's 22 fees it incurred in this case. Be that as it may, the amount that the RTC seeks to recover 23 for its attorney's fees is unreasonable and excessive given the nature and scope of the 24 work RTC's counsel actually undertook in this case. There was nothing extraordinary, 25 novel, or difficult about either the claims that the Iliescu Plaintiffs asserted or the bases 26 on which RTC defended against them that would justify the amount of time and fees 27 that RTC's counsel charged. Thus, the RTC is not entitled to recover the attorney's 28

1 fees it incurred in this case. To the extent that it is, it should be in an amount that is 2 reasonable and commensurate with the work that was actually done.

3 A. The basis on which this Court granted Summary Judgment in RTC's favor 4 does not warrant an award to RTC of the attorney's fees it incurred in this 5 case.

6 When the Iliescu Plaintiffs filed their complaint in this case, the existence of the 7 corona virus was unknown. Just after they filed their first amended complaint that 8 reflected the parties' stipulation to dismiss certain claims and stated the claims on 9 which the Iliescu Plaintiffs would proceed, and at a time when this case was in its 10 procedural infancy, the COVID-19 pandemic was about to impact the entire world and 11 bring it to a halt. Indeed, the Iliescu Plaintiffs could not have anticipated impact the 12 pandemic would have on their case. As was fully explained in responding to RTC's 13 discovery motions, and incorporated here by reference, the Iliescu Plaintiffs and their 14 counsel were among those who were at high risk for and especially susceptible to 15 serious illness or death if infected with the corona virus. The Iliescu Plaintiffs are 16 elderly and infirm, and counsel for the Iliescu Plaintiffs was, and continues to be, 17 medically compromised from significant injuries he suffered soon after this case was 18 filed. To that end, and as a result of the COVID-19 "lock down," the Iliescu Plaintiffs 19 and their counsel were not unable to meet in person to meaningfully discuss and review 20 documents and information pertinent to this case, counsel for the Iliescu Plaintiffs was 21 unable to access his office and his computer and case files for a significant period of 22 time, and the Iliescu Plaintiffs struggled to be able to appear to be deposed. Indeed, the 23 COVID-19 crises significantly impacted this case and the Iliescu Plaintiffs efforts to 24 prosecute it. While the Iliescu Plaintiffs timely responded to RTC's request for 25 production of documents with some of their supporting evidence in this case and 26 indicated they would follow with additional documents and information to support their 27 claims (see Exhibits 1 and 2 to RTC's July 21, 2020, Motion in Limine), what 28 ultimately resulted was RTC's successful request that the Iliescu Plaintiffs be precluded

1 from producing any evidence: (1) that was not provided on or before June 30, 2020 (see 2 RTC’s July 21, 2020, Motion in Limine); and (2) of the amount of their damages (see 3 RTC’s March 9, 2021, Motions in Limine re damages and expert witness testimony).
4 Indeed, those motions addressed only timing issues related to discovery deadlines.

5 On its face, NRS 18.010(2) only permits this Court, in its discretion, to award 6 RTC its attorney’s fees if it finds that the Iliescu Plaintiffs brought or maintained their 7 case without reasonable grounds or to harass RTC. A claim is without reasonable 8 ground if there is no credible evidence to support it. Capanna v. Orth, 134 Nev. 888, 9 895, 432 P.3d 726, 734 (2018) (addressing NRS 18.010(2)(b)); see also Rodriguez v.
10 Primadonna Co., 125 Nev. 578, 588, 216 P.3d 793, 800 (2009) (equating a groundless 11 claim with one that is frivolous). To that end, whether a party acted on reasonable 12 grounds depends on the actual circumstances of the case. Bergmann v. Boyce, 109 13 Nev. 670, 675, 856 P.2d 560, 563 (1993), superseded by statute on other grounds as 14 stated in In re DISH Network Derivative Litig., 133 Nev. 438, 451 n.6, 401 P.3d. 1081, 15 1093 n.6 (2017). In this case, RTC never asserted, and this Court did not find, that the 16 Iliescu Plaintiffs brought or maintained their claims without reasonable grounds, or that 17 their claims were frivolous and/or not supported by credible evidence – evidence that is 18 worthy of belief (see Black’s Law Dictionary (5th ed. 1979)). Rather, the basis on 19 which RTC sought, and this Court granted, summary judgment is because there was not 20 admissible evidence – evidence that is allowed to be admitted at trial (Id.) – to support 21 the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ claims.³ As stated above, that admissibility went to timing issues 22 related to discovery deadlines, not to the credibility of the evidence the Iliescu Plaintiffs 23 produced and intended to produce. Rather, it was the actual and extraordinary 24 circumstances of this case – both external (global pandemic and medically 25 compromised plaintiffs and counsel) and internal (technical) case-driven – that 26 substantially hindered the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ ability to present the full extent of their 27 ³ By reciting the basis on which the RTC based, and this Court granted, summary judgment, 28 the Iliescu Plaintiffs do not concede that basis or their objection to it.

1 evidence supporting their claims against the RTC. Thus, because this Court did not 2 make the requisite finding to determine whether, in its discretion, it would award RTC 3 the attorney’s fees it incurred in this case, there is no basis on which the RTC is entitled 4 to recover its attorney’s fees.

6 B. Even if NRS 18.010(2) permitted the RTC to recover its attorney’s fees, the amount that the RTC seeks is unreasonable and excessive.

7 In support of the RTC’s request for attorney’s fees of more than $101,000 (less 8 the nearly $12,000 sanction the Iliescu Plaintiffs paid), counsel for the RTC (Dane W.
9 Anderson) – a very experienced and able trial attorney – characterized the work for 10 which those fees were billed to be “difficult and complicated” due to the Iliescu 11 Plaintiffs’ varied contract, tort, and equitable claims and what was required to respond 12 to them. See June 29, 2021, Declaration of Dane W. Anderson at 2, ¶ 6. Mr. Anderson, 13 however, substantially overstates nature and complexity of this case and the work that 14 was required and undertaken for it. The handful of motion dialogs initiated by the RTC 15 in this case clearly illustrate the extent to which RTC’s attorney’s fees request far 16 exceeds what it reasonable, as follows:

17 In response to the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ initial complaint, the RTC filed an eight (8) 18 page motion to dismiss, the substance of which was six (6) pages. See RTC’s 19 September 25, 2019, Motion to Dismiss. In those six substantive pages, the RTC 20 briefly cited to the well-known standard that governs motions to dismiss, and generally 21 made a brief and mostly conclusory challenges to each claim. For those six substantive 22 pages that represented a very standard response to a complaint, there are thirty five 23 hours of billing entries over nearly two full months related and/or attributable to that 24 motion, as follows:

- 25 - 8/9/2019 – 1.2 hrs: Counsel for the RTC, among other things⁴, reviewed 26 the rules related to the time line for a response to the complaint and defensive motions.

27
28 ⁴ For many the billing entries provided in Exhibit 1 to Dane W. Anderson’s June 29, 2021, Declaration in support of RTC’s request for attorney’s fees, it is difficult to ascertain

- 1 - 8/10/2019 – 2.5 hrs: In addition to reviewing a prior Iliescu file regarding 2 claims (presumably in the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ 3 complaint), counsel for the RTC continued the review 4 of claims and research regarding possible motion for 5 relief.
- 6 - 8/12/2019 – .3 hrs: In addition to drafting a letter to counsel for the Iliescu
7 Plaintiffs, counsel for the RTC again reviewed the rule 8 regarding the due date for the response to the motion.
- 9 - 8/20/2019 – 1.4 hrs: Counsel for the RTC continued his analysis of the 10 complaint and possible response.
- 11 - 8/30/2019 – 1.8 hrs: Counsel for the RTC continued work on the response 12 to the complaint.
- 13 - 9/10/2019 – .9 hrs: Counsel for the RTC conferenced about and continued 14 work on the response to the complaint.
- 15 - 9/12/2019 – 3.4 hrs: Counsel for the RTC researched issues related to and 16 worked on the motion to dismiss.
- 17 - 9/16/2019 – 2 hrs: Counsel for the RTC researched issues related to and 18 worked on the motion to dismiss.
- 19 - 9/17/2019 – 5.2 hrs: Counsel for the RTC researched issues related to and 20 worked on the motion to dismiss.
- 21 - 9/18/2019 – 3.8 hrs: Counsel for the RTC continued working on the motion 22 to dismiss and met with his clients regarding the same.
- 23 - 9/19/2019 – 4.5 hrs: Counsel for the RTC continued to work on the motion 24 to dismiss, along with reviewing documents and other 25 materials from client regarding the case and 26 conferenced with an associate regarding research 27 issues.
- 28 - 9/20/2019 – .7 hrs: Counsel for the RTC continued work on the motion to dismiss and legal authority it cites.
- 9/24/2019 – 2.5 hrs: Counsel for the RTC finished drafting the motion to dismiss and sent emails to clients regarding the same.
- 9/24/2019 – 2.5 hrs: Another attorney in the office of counsel for the RTC reviewed the motion to dismiss and its legal authority.

how much time was devoted to a particular task, as counsel for the RTC tends to combine numerous different and often unrelated tasks into one billing entry and assigns a single amount of time to all of the tasks.

- 1 - 9/25/2019 – 2.2 hrs Among other things (related to discovery), counsel for 2 the RTC revised the motion to dismiss, did a final review and filed.

3 Counsel for the RTC billed more than 13.5 hours for RTC’s seven (7) page 4 November 12, 2019, reply in support of its motion to dismiss, the substance of which 5 was five pages that cited to and relied on established and very well known authority:

- 6 - 11/7/2019 – .7 hrs: Another attorney in RTC’s counsel’s office reviewed 7 the Iliescu Plaintiffs’ opposition to the motion to dismiss.
8 - 11/7/2019 – 3.2 hrs: Counsel for the RTC reviewed the opposition to the 9 motion to dismiss, researched issues raised in the opposition, and began working on the reply.
10 - 11/11/2019 – 7.5 hrs: Counsel for the RTC finished drafting the reply in 11 support of RTC’s motion to dismiss and research issues regarding the same.
12 - 11/12/2019 – 1.3 hrs: Another attorney in RTC’s counsel’s office reviewed 13 the reply and the legal authority it cited.
14 - 11/12/2019 -- .6 hrs: Counsel for the RTC conducted additional research, 15 revised the reply in support of the motion to dismiss, made a final review and edited.

16 The billing for some of the RTC motions that followed (those that do not include 17 what has previously been addressed in reference to RTC’s motion for sanctions and 18 supporting declaration) are similarly unreasonable and excessive:

- 19 - Counsel for the RTC billed a total of about 14 hours related to RTC’s 20 supplemental motion to dismiss:
21 ○ Nearly 8 hours were related or attributable to RTC’s January 30, 2020, Supplemental Motion to Dismiss, the substance of which was just 22 over 4 pages and repeated the same arguments that were raised in RTC’s initial motion to dismiss. See Exhibit 1 to Dane W.
Anderson’s Declaration in Support of RTC’s motion for attorney’s 23 fees, billing entries for 1/27/2020 (4.8 hrs, which included an email to counsel for the Iliescu Plaintiffs – see, footnote 4, supra) and 24 1/28/2020 (2.8 hours for another attorney in RTC’s counsel’s office to review the supplemental motion to dismiss).
25 ○ More than 6 hours were related or attributable to RTC’s February 13, 2020, reply in support of its supplemental motion to dismiss, which is 26 also comprised of 4 substantive pages that are based on and/or repeat 27 some of what was raised in their November 12, 2019, Reply. Id., 28 billing entries for 2/10/2020 (1.5 hrs), 2/11/2020 (2/3 hrs), 2/12/2020

1 (2 hrs for another attorney in RTC's counsel's office to review the 2 reply), and 2/13/2020 (.5 hrs).

- 3 - Counsel for the RTC billed about 6 hours related or attributable to RTC's 4 February 20, 2020, Motion to Compel, which was less than two substantive 5 pages and four exhibits of existing materials. Id., billing entries for 2/3/2020 6 (1.5 hrs), 2/5/2020 (.5 hrs), 2/6/2020 (.5 hrs), and 2/20/2020 (3.4 hours, 7 among other discovery tasks – see, footnote 4, supra).
- 8 - In January 2021, counsel for the RTC billed a total of about 21 hours related 9 to its January 19, 2021, motion for sanctions:
- 10 ○ Nearly 10 hours were billed for the motion for sanctions (identified in 11 the billing as a motion to dismiss for failure to prosecute), the 12 substantive portion of which was three (3) pages. Id., billing entries 13 for 1/13/2021 (2.3 hrs), 1/14/2021 (2.2 hrs) and 1/15/2021 (5.2 hrs).
 - 14 ○ More than 11 hours were billed for the reply in support of the motion 15 for sanctions, the substantive portion of which was 7 pages. Id., 16 billing entries for 2/23/2021 (3.3 hrs), 2/24/2021 (4.3 hrs), 2/25/2021 17 (1.2 hrs), and 2/25/2021 (2.4 hrs).
- 18 - The billing for RTC's March 9, 2021, two motions in limine (regarding 19 damages and expert witnesses), each of which was essentially one (1) page, 20 are inextricably intertwined with RTC's counsel's billing for RTC's motion 21 for summary judgment (see footnote 4, supra). Id., at billing entries for 22 3/7/2021 (2.4 hrs), 3/8/2021 (4.4 hrs), and 3/9/2021 (2.9 hrs). Those entries 23 will be addressed in the Iliescu Plaintiffs' challenge to RTC's counsel's 24 billing for the motion for summary judgment, infra.

25 Finally, and subject to the potential overlap caused by RTC's counsel's billing 26 entry practices as identified in footnote 4, supra, counsel for the RTC billed about 70 27 hours that are related and/or attributable to RTC's motion for summary judgment (the 28 substantive portion of which is seven (7) pages and repeats argument and authority that was raised in the two motions to dismiss discussed above) and the reply (the substantive portion of which is five (5) pages, and revisits previously-asserted arguments and authority), as follows:

- 23 - 1/13/2021 – 2.3 hrs: Among other tasks (see footnote 4, supra), counsel for 24 the RTC conducted research for a possible Motion for Summary Judgment.
- 25 - 1/26/2021 – 3 hrs: Counsel for the RTC continued working on the MSJ
- 26 - 1/27/2021 – 2.3 hrs: Counsel for the RTC continued working on the MSJ
- 27 - 1/28/2021 – 3.5 hrs: Among other tasks (see footnote 4, supra), counsel for 28 the RTC continued to work on the MSJ

- 1 - 2/1/2021 – 1.5 hrs: Among other tasks (see footnote 4, supra), counsel for the RTC worked on the MSJ
- 2 - 2/5/2021 – 1.2 hrs: Counsel for the RTC worked on the MSJ
- 3 - 2/8/2021 – 2.7 hrs: Among other tasks (see footnote 4, supra), counsel for 4 the RTC continued to work on the MSJ.
- 5 - 2/25/2021 – 2.4 hrs: Among other tasks (see footnote 4, supra), counsel for the RTC continued to work on the MSJ.
- 6 - 3/7/2021 – 2.4 hrs: Counsel for the RTC worked on the MSJ
- 7 - 3/8/2021 – 4.4 hrs: Among other tasks (see footnote 4, supra), counsel for 8 the RTC finished drafting the MSJ
- 9 - 3/8/2021 – 2.5 hrs: Another attorney in RTC’s counsel’s office reviewed
the MSJ
- 10 - 3/9/2021 – 2.9 hrs: Among other tasks (see footnote 4, supra), counsel for 11 the RTC conferenced with RTC regarding the MSJ and then revised and finalized it.
- 12 - 4/20/2021 – 3 hrs: Counsel for the RTC reviewed the oppositions to the 13 MSJ and motions in limine and begin reply brief.
- 14 - 4/8/2021 – 2.5 hrs: Among other tasks (see, footnote 4, supra), counsel for 15 the RTC worked on RTC’s replies to the MSJ and motions in limine.
- 16 - 4/27/2021 – 3.5 hrs: Among other tasks (see, footnote 4, supra), counsel for 17 the RTC worked on finishing RTC’s replies to the MSJ and motions in limine.
- 18 - 4/28/2021 – 4 hrs: Counsel for the RTC finished drafting the reply in support of the MSJ
- 19 - 4/29/2021 – 1 hr: Counsel for the RTC revised and finalized the reply in 20 support of RTC’s MSJ.
- 21 - 5/10/2021 – 2.3 hrs: Counsel for the RTC reviewed the file in preparation for the summary judgment hearing.
- 22 - 5/11/2021 – 3.8 hrs: Counsel for the RTC finished review of the file and 23 began preparing for the summary judgment hearing.
- 24 - 5/12/2021 – 3.5 hrs: Counsel for the RTC finished preparing for and attended the summary judgment hearing.
- 25 - 5/12/2021 – 2.1 hrs: Another attorney in RTC’s counsel’s office conducted 26 research related to summary judgment and appeared at oral argument (two billing entries, .7 hrs and 1.4 hrs, 27 respectively)
- 28

- 1 - 5/18/2021 – 2.8 hrs: Counsel for the RTC worked on the proposed order granting summary judgment.
- 2 - 5/19/2021 – 3.3 hrs: Counsel for the RTC continued work on the summary 3 judgment order.
- 4 - 5/19/2021 - .8 hrs: Another attorney in RTC’s counsel’s office billed for research related to summary judgment.
- 5 - 5/20/2021 – 2.3 hrs: Another attorney in RTC’s counsel’s office reviewed 6 the transcript from oral argument at summary 7 judgment hearing and reviewed/revised summary
8 judgment order.
- 9 - 5/20/2021 – 3.5 hrs: Counsel for the RTC finished drafting proposed order granting summary judgment.

10 Indeed, that for which counsel for the RTC has billed just for tasks that have 11 yielded a tangible product⁵ illustrate time and charges that are far in excess for what is 12 reasonable in reference to this case based upon the relatively simple nature, content, 13 and length of the documents to which those billing entries pertain, and especially 14 considering: (1) the generally repetitive nature of the legal and factual arguments that 15 are throughout the RTC’s motion practice in this case; and (2) RTC’s counsel’s vast 16 and lengthy experience as a trial attorney with Woodburn and Wedge, a well-17 established and respected local law firm. Pursuant to Brunzell, supra, under no 18 circumstances should RTC be awarded an amount for attorney’s fees that is based on 19 billing and charges that are excessive, unreasonable, and so far out of proportion to the 20 relatively small amount of work that was actually done in this litigated case.

21 _____

22 ⁵ There are a number of other billing entries that call may call their reasonableness 23 or validity into question, but that do not necessarily have a tangible product by which to 24 measure the time attributed to them. For instance, the billing entries for 7/21/2020 (3.5 hrs) 25 and 8/26/2020 (2 hrs) highlight what is addressed in footnote 4, supra – multiple tasks that 26 are assigned a single amount of time. The billing entry for 2/20/2020 is for 1.2 hours to 27 review a motion for summary judgment despite that there is no reference to a motion for 28 summary judgment having been drafted prior to that billing entry. The two entries on 3/20/2020 for counsel for the RTC and another attorney in RTC’s counsel’s office for a total of 5.3 hours (subject to what is addressed in footnote 4, supra) appear to be duplicative.
And, there appear to be duplicate entries on 4/21/2020 and 4/22/2020 for “reviewing exemption from arbitration.”

1 III. CONCLUSION

2 Based on the foregoing, the Iliescu Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court
3 deny RTC's request for more than $101,000 in attorney's fees (less the nearly $12,000 4 in sanctions assessed against the Iliescu Plaintiffs) and for the entry of a judgment for 5 attorney's fees as not permitted by NRS 18.010(2) under the circumstances of this case, 6 and otherwise as unreasonable and excessive. Should this Court determine that an 7 award of attorney's fees is permitted under NRS 18.010(2) and exercises its discretion 8 to enter an award of attorney's fees in RTC's favor, the Iliescu Plaintiffs request that 9 any such amount be reasonable under the circumstances of and the actual nature of the 10 work undertaken in this case, consistent with Brunzell, supra.

29 REPLY IN SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR ATTORNEY FEES AND FOR ENTRY OF 30 JUDGMENT FOR ATTORNEY FEES AND COSTS

31 Defendant THE REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION OF WASHOE
32 COUNTY (“RTC”) submits the following reply in support of its Motion For Attorney Fees

1 And For Entry Of Judgment For Attorney Fees And Costs filed on June 29, 2021, and in 2 response to Plaintiffs' opposition brief filed on August 14, 2021.¹

3 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

4 I. INTRODUCTION

5 In opposing RTC's motion for attorney fees,² Plaintiffs argue that (1) the Court has 6 not found that Plaintiffs' claims were not supported by credible evidence and (2) even if the 7 Court makes such a finding, the amount RTC seeks is unreasonable. Each is addressed in turn 8 as follows.

9 II. THERE IS NO CREDIBLE EVIDENCE SUPPORTING PLAINTIFFS'
10 CLAIMS.

11 RTC acknowledges that the Court has not yet made a specific finding that Plaintiffs 12 presented no credible evidence in support of their claims. Courts are prohibited from 13 determining the credibility of evidence in deciding a summary judgment motion. Pegasus v.
14 Reno Newspapers, Inc., 118 Nev. 706, 714, 57 P.3d 82, 87 (2002). Thus, there has not yet 15 been an opportunity for the Court to make such a finding. By way of its motion, that is one of 16 the findings RTC asks the Court to make in awarding RTC attorney fees.

17 The Nevada Supreme Court has held that, "[f]or purposes of NRS 18.010(2)(b), a 18 claim is frivolous or groundless if there is no credible evidence to support it." Rodriguez v.
19 Primadonna Co., 125 Nev. 578, 588, 216 P.3d 793, 800 (2009). In other words, the issue of 20 credibility for purposes of NRS 18.010(2)(b) does not arise until a motion seeking fees under 21 that statute is filed. Capanna v. Orth, 134 Nev. 888, 895, 432 P.3d 726, 734 (2018).
22 Therefore, the absence of a prior specific finding regarding credibility does not preclude an 23 award of fees under NRS 18.010(2)(b). The Court can make that finding in an order granting 24 RTC's motion.

25
26 _____
27 ¹ RTC granted Plaintiffs several courtesy extensions of time to respond to the motion. Plaintiffs had roughly 6 weeks to oppose RTC's motion.

28 ² Plaintiffs do not oppose RTC's request for entry of judgment awarding costs in the amount of $3,647.35 and did not file a motion to retax costs in response to RTC's Verified Memorandum of Costs. This amount, along with an award of reasonable attorney fees, should be reduced to judgment in favor of RTC.

1 In granting RTC summary judgment, the Court concluded there was no admissible 2 evidence to support Plaintiffs’ claims. See Order Granting Summary Judgment After 3 Supplementary Proceedings, filed June 9, 2021, ¶ 36. In reaching that conclusion, the Court 4 made several other findings regarding the utter lack of evidence supporting Plaintiffs’ claims.
5 With respect to Plaintiffs’ contract-based claims, the Court found “[t]here is no evidence 6 supporting any of these elements, nor is there any evidence of Plaintiffs’ alleged damages.”
7 Id., ¶ 29-30 (emphasis added). With respect to Plaintiffs’ civil conspiracy claim, the Court 8 found “[t]here is no evidence of the existence or identity of any alleged co-conspirator, no 9 evidence of any agreement between RTC and anyone else, and no evidence of Plaintiffs’ 10 alleged damages.” Id., ¶ 31 (emphasis added). With respect to Plaintiffs’ claim of trespass, 11 the Court found “[t]here is no evidence of cost of repair or loss of value based on the alleged 12 physical damage” to the parking lot” and “no evidence that would support an award of 13 punitive damages.” Id., ¶ 32 (emphasis added). With respect to Plaintiffs’ negligence claim, 14 the Court found that “Plaintiffs have failed to present any evidence identifying the duty RTC 15 allegedly owed them, nor have they presented any evidence of damages. Id., ¶ 33 (emphasis 16 added). The Court likewise found there is no evidence supporting Plaintiffs’ declaratory 17 relief claim. Id., ¶ 34.

18 Inherent in the Court’s repeated findings that Plaintiffs presented no evidence to 19 support their claims is the fact that there is no credible evidence. In their opposition, 20 Plaintiffs make no effort to identify any credible evidence that supported their claims—that’s 21 because there is no such evidence. Instead, Plaintiffs argue—again without offering the Court 22 any evidence—that the COVID pandemic prevented them from prosecuting their lawsuit.
23 Opposition at 4:5-23. This Court has already rejected this excuse, noting that while COVID 24 made litigating cases more complicated, it did not prevent parties from prosecuting and 25 defending cases. See Transcript of Proceedings, Oral Arguments on MSJ, May 12, 2021 at 26 35:19-36:2. See Exhibit 1, attached. COVID is simply not a valid excuse for Plaintiffs’ 27 failure to submit any credible evidence of their claims, especially when Plaintiffs argue that 28 RTC has overstated the nature and complexity of the case. Opposition at 6:12-14. If this

1 were such a simple case, Plaintiffs should have had little difficulty providing evidence to 2 support their claims.

3 Plaintiffs chose to file this lawsuit and, in over two years of litigation, failed to 4 produce any credible evidence supporting their numerous claims. The Nevada Supreme Court 5 has held that a claim is brought or maintained without reasonable grounds if there is no 6 credible evidence to support it. While an award of fees under NRS 18.010(2)(b) is 7 discretionary, that statute requires courts to “liberally construe” its provisions “in favor of 8 awarding attorney’s fees in all appropriate situations.” The statute expressly states the 9 Legislature’s intent to punish for and deter frivolous claims because of the negative impact 10 such claims have on the judiciary, the public and the parties themselves. Plaintiffs’ claims in 11 this case are the very type of claims the Legislature had in mind in enacting NRS 12 18.010(2)(b). RTC requests that the Court follow the statutory mandate and liberally construe 13 the provisions of NRS 18.010(2)(b) to award RTC its reasonable attorney fees incurred in 14 defending against this frivolous lawsuit. As discussed below, the fees RTC incurred and 15 which RTC asks the Court to award are reasonable considering the work actually performed 16 to respond to Plaintiffs’ numerous claims and which was necessary to achieve a complete 17 victory in this case.

18 III. THE FEES RTC SEEKS ARE REASONABLE.

19 Plaintiffs argue that any award of fees should be in a reasonable amount under the 20 circumstances of this case. Opposition at 12:8-10. RTC agrees with Plaintiffs—that is the 21 law. This Court has wide discretion to award attorney fees, tempered only by reason and 22 fairness. Haley v. Dist. Ct., 128 Nev. 171, 178, 273 P.3d 855, 860 (Nev. 2012). In 23 determining the amount of fees to award, the court is not limited to one specific approach; its 24 analysis may begin with any method rationally designed to calculate a reasonable amount, 25 including those based on a “lodestar” amount, so long as the requested amount is reviewed in 26 light of the factors set forth in Brunzell v. Golden Gate National Bank.” Id.; Shuette v. Bezer 27 Homes Holdings Corp., 121 Nev. 837, 864, 124 P.3d 530, 549 (2005). The “Brunzell factors” 28 to determine the reasonableness of attorneys’ fees are: (1) the qualities of the attorney, (2) the 1 character of the work to be done, (3) the actual work performed by the attorney, and (4) the 2 case's result. Id.

3 Plaintiffs do not (and cannot) dispute the result RTC obtained and graciously laud the 4 qualities of RTC's counsel. Opposition at 3:3, 6:9. However, Plaintiffs argue that the amount 5 of fees RTC seeks to recover is "unreasonable and excessive given the nature and scope of the 6 work RTC's counsel actually undertook in this case." Opposition 3:23-24. Plaintiffs argue 7 that RTC's fee request "far exceeds what is reasonable" and dispute RTC's characterization as 8 difficult and complicated. Id. at 6:8-14.

9 However, Plaintiffs fail to suggest to the Court what amount would be reasonable 10 under the circumstances of this case. They criticize the undersigned's billing practices but 11 offer the Court no suggestion as to what amount of time would have been reasonable to bill 12 for various tasks. They suggest that this case was "relatively simple" (even though they failed 13 to produce any evidence to support their claims) and focus their attention on a handful of 14 documents RTC prepared and filed but ignore the amount of work that went into this case 15 because of their frivolous claims and dilatory tactics.

16 Plaintiffs chose to file this suit and to assert very serious allegations against RTC, 17 including accusations of intentional tortious wrongdoing resulting in personal injuries for 18 which Plaintiffs sought punitive damages against RTC. Plaintiffs asserted a truckload of 19 claims against RTC, many of which were dismissed only after successive motions to dismiss.
20 Plaintiffs repeatedly failed to appear at deposition, cancelling at the last minute after the 21 undersigned had prepared for them. They failed to comply with other discovery requests, 22 necessitating motions to compel and motions for sanctions. They failed to appear at 23 scheduled hearings, requiring RTC's counsel to prepare twice for what should have been only 24 one hearing. Plaintiffs filed a motion for reconsideration, requiring RTC to prepare additional 25 briefing. The record is replete with work RTC had to do in responding to Plaintiff's frivolous 26 lawsuit.

27 Plaintiffs do not argue that the work RTC's counsel performed was unnecessary.
28 They simply make the conclusory allegation that it took RTC's counsel too long to complete

1 those necessary tasks. Yet they offer the Court no suggestion as to what amount they believe 2 to be reasonable. RTC won the case, and much work was obviously done to achieve that 3 result. RTC maintains that the amount sought is reasonable, but this Court has the discretion 4 to award whatever amount it deems appropriate under the circumstances of this case.

5 IV. UPDATED CALCULATION OF FEES

6 At the time RTC's motion was filed, the invoices for June and July time were 7 unavailable. Attached hereto as Exhibit 2 are the invoices for those months and are offered 8 as a supplement to the undersigned's previously filed declaration. The total additional 9 amount incurred through July 2021 is $12,026.66. As the Court will see, most of the time 10 was spent responding to Plaintiffs' motion for reconsideration, which was prompted by 11 Plaintiffs' failure to appear at the initial oral argument on summary judgment. RTC then had 12 to prepare (again) for another oral argument on summary judgment to accommodate 13 Plaintiffs' failure to appear at the initial hearing. RTC then prepared its memorandum of 14 costs and its motion for attorney fees. Most of the time incurred in July was related to 15 Plaintiffs' requests for extensions of time to oppose RTC's motion for attorney fees as well as 16 issues involving Plaintiffs' appeal.

17 Therefore, RTC should be awarded a total amount of $113,446.68, less the $11,684.90
18 already imposed against Plaintiffs as sanctions, for a total net award of $101,761.78.

19 V. CONCLUSION

20 RTC should be awarded its reasonable attorney fees. The amount incurred through 21 July is $113,446.68. RTC should be awarded that amount, less the $11,684.90 already 22 awarded to RTC as sanctions. RTC requests that the net fee award of $101,761.78 along with 23 an award of costs in the amount of $3,647.35 (which Plaintiffs did not timely dispute), be 24 reduced to a judgment against Plaintiffs.

1 And For Entry Of Judgment For Attorney Fees And Costs filed on June 29, 2021, and in
2 response to Plaintiffs' opposition brief filed on August 14, 2021.¹

3 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

4 I. INTRODUCTION

5 In opposing RTC's motion for attorney fees,² Plaintiffs argue that (1) the Court has

7 Court makes such a finding, the amount RTC seeks is unreasonable. Each is addressed in turn

9 II. THERE IS NO CREDIBLE EVIDENCE SUPPORTING PLAINTIFFS'
10 CLAIMS.

11 RTC acknowledges that the Court has not yet made a specific finding that Plaintiffs 12 presented no credible evidence in support of their claims. Courts are prohibited from 13 determining the credibility of evidence in deciding a summary judgment motion. Pegasus v.
14 Reno Newspapers, Inc., 118 Nev. 706, 714, 57 P.3d 82, 87 (2002). Thus, there has not yet 15 been an opportunity for the Court to make such a finding. By way of its motion, that is one of 16 the findings RTC asks the Court to make in awarding RTC attorney fees.

17 The Nevada Supreme Court has held that, "[f]or purposes of NRS 18.010(2)(b), a

22 Therefore, the absence of a prior specific finding regarding credibility does not preclude an 23 award of fees under NRS 18.010(2)(b). The Court can make that finding in an order granting 24 RTC's motion.

10 alleged damages.” Id., ¶ 31 (emphasis added). With respect to Plaintiffs’ claim of trespass, 11 the Court found “[t]here is no evidence of cost of repair or loss of value based on the alleged 12 physical damage” to the parking lot” and “no evidence that would support an award of 13 punitive damages.” Id., ¶ 32 (emphasis added). With respect to Plaintiffs’ negligence claim, 14 the Court found that “Plaintiffs have failed to present any evidence identifying the duty RTC
15 allegedly owed them, nor have they presented any evidence of damages. Id., ¶ 33 (emphasis 16 added). The Court likewise found there is no evidence supporting Plaintiffs’ declaratory 17 relief claim. Id., ¶ 34.

18 Inherent in the Court’s repeated findings that Plaintiffs presented no evidence to

23 determining the amount of fees to award, the court is not limited to one specific approach; its 24 analysis may begin with any method rationally designed to calculate a reasonable amount, 25 including those based on a “lodestar” amount, so long as the requested amount is reviewed in

3 Plaintiffs do not (and cannot) dispute the result RTC obtained and graciously laud the 4 qualities of RTC's counsel. Opposition at 3:3, 6:9. However, Plaintiffs argue that the amount 5 of fees RTC seeks to recover is "unreasonable and excessive given the nature and scope of the 6 work RTC's counsel actually undertook in this case." Opposition 3:23-24. Plaintiffs argue 7 that RTC's fee request "far exceeds what is reasonable" and dispute RTC's characterization as 8 difficult and complicated. Id. at 6:8-14.

9 However, Plaintiffs fail to suggest to the Court what amount would be reasonable 10 under the circumstances of this case. They criticize the undersigned's billing practices but 11 offer the Court no suggestion as to what amount of time would have been reasonable to bill
12 for various tasks. They suggest that this case was "relatively simple" (even though they failed 13 to produce any evidence to support their claims) and focus their attention on a handful of 14 documents RTC prepared and filed but ignore the amount of work that went into this case 15 because of their frivolous claims and dilatory tactics.

16 Plaintiffs chose to file this suit and to assert very serious allegations against RTC, 17 including accusations of intentional tortious wrongdoing resulting in personal injuries for 18 which Plaintiffs sought punitive damages against RTC. Plaintiffs asserted a truckload of 19 claims against RTC, many of which were dismissed only after successive motions to dismiss.
20 Plaintiffs repeatedly failed to appear at deposition, cancelling at the last minute after the 21 undersigned had prepared for them. They failed to comply with other discovery requests, 22 necessitating motions to compel and motions for sanctions. They failed to appear at 23 scheduled hearings, requiring RTC's counsel to prepare twice for what should have been only 24 one hearing. Plaintiffs filed a motion for reconsideration, requiring RTC to prepare additional 25 briefing. The record is replete with work RTC had to do in responding to Plaintiff's frivolous 26 lawsuit.

27 Plaintiffs do not argue that the work RTC's counsel performed was unnecessary.
28 They simply make the conclusory allegation that it took RTC's counsel too long to complete

1 those necessary tasks. Yet they offer the Court no suggestion as to what amount they believe 2 to be reasonable. RTC won the case, and much work was obviously done to achieve that 3 result. RTC maintains that the amount sought is reasonable, but this Court has the discretion 4 to award whatever amount it deems appropriate under the circumstances of this case.

5 IV. UPDATED CALCULATION OF FEES

6 At the time RTC's motion was filed, the invoices for June and July time were 7 unavailable. Attached hereto as Exhibit 2 are the invoices for those months and are offered 8 as a supplement to the undersigned's previously filed declaration. The total additional 9 amount incurred through July 2021 is $12,026.66. As the Court will see, most of the time 10 was spent responding to Plaintiffs' motion for reconsideration, which was prompted by 11 Plaintiffs' failure to appear at the initial oral argument on summary judgment. RTC then had 12 to prepare (again) for another oral argument on summary judgment to accommodate 13 Plaintiffs' failure to appear at the initial hearing. RTC then prepared its memorandum of 14 costs and its motion for attorney fees. Most of the time incurred in July was related to 15 Plaintiffs' requests for extensions of time to oppose RTC's motion for attorney fees as well as 16 issues involving Plaintiffs' appeal.

17 Therefore, RTC should be awarded a total amount of $113,446.68, less the $11,684.90
18 already imposed against Plaintiffs as sanctions, for a total net award of $101,761.78.

19 V. CONCLUSION

20 RTC should be awarded its reasonable attorney fees. The amount incurred through 21 July is $113,446.68. RTC should be awarded that amount, less the $11,684.90 already 22 awarded to RTC as sanctions. RTC requests that the net fee award of $101,761.78 along with 23 an award of costs in the amount of $3,647.35 (which Plaintiffs did not timely dispute), be 24 reduced to a judgment against Plaintiffs.

1 truth but the words we use to describe the truth are 2 very important. This case has not been prosecuted
3 but neither the defendant nor the court have created 4 that fact.

5 And I think that any review of my order
6 should include at least a reference, an invitation 7 to review the case as a larger whole and you'll have 8 to summarize some of the events of this case that 9 lead us to today.

10 The order should also formally state that 11 this court's March 25th order was not a reset of 12 the entire case but, instead, was the court's 13 attempt to offer a lifeline in lieu of a technical 14 non-merit-based dismissal. Your holistic and 15 longitudinal description of this case must include
16 the order in limine that was entered on August 19th, 17 because it reflects the type of problems that have 18 been in this case.

19 I don't know the extent to which Mr.
20 Morrison has been personally ill. There is some 21 signal to that, and overshadowing this entire case
22 has been COVID. But the fact is COVID has not 23 stopped the prosecution and defense of cases. It's 24 made the prosecution and defense more complicated

1 but litigation can continue and in this case it did
2 not.

3 I think that the order should make specific 4 reference to the stipulation and the types of 5 damages that the plaintiffs waived when they 6 specifically identified damage to the parking lot,
7 which can only come in one of two ways, cost of 8 repair or loss of value. The order should reflect 9 some of your concerns, and in this I ask you to not 10 be a zealous advocate but just simply be true to the 11 file, and that is that nothing prohibited Plaintiffs 12 from pursuing discovery because there was an early 13 start to discovery. I agree with you that the 14 discovery right was mutual. The order should 15 reflect the de minimus or nonexistent discovery
16 efforts that Plaintiffs have made and all of that as 17 the predicate to the substantive order, which is as 18 follows:

19 The nonmoving party when confronted with a 20 motion for summary judgment has a rule-based duty to 21 offer declarations or admissible evidence in 22 opposition to the motion for summary judgment, and 23 there is no such declaration or admissible evidence
24 tendered in this case.

IN THE SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA
IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF WASHOE

JOHN ILIESCU, JR., AND SONNIA ILIESCU,
TRUSTEES OF THE JOHN ILIESCU, JR. AND SONNIA ILIESCU 1992 FAMILY TRUST,

Case No. CV19-00459
Dept. No. 15

Plaintiff,

vs.

THE REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION
COMMISSION OF WASHOE COUNTY; ROE
CORPORATIONS 1-20; AND DOES 1-40,

Defendants.

ORDER GRANTING ATTORNEY'S FEES AND ENTRY OF JUDGMENT

Before this Court is Defendant Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County's (RTC) opposed Motion for Attorney Fees and for Entry of Judgment for Attorney Fees and Costs. This Court has reviewed the moving papers, record, and relevant authorities.

The procedural history of this case is well-documented. Throughout the proceedings, this Court responded to Plaintiffs' procedural failures through various orders, including sanctions and summary judgment because Plaintiffs provided insufficient admissible evidence during pre-trial discovery. RTC now requests an award of attorney's fees under NRS 18.010(2)(b), arguing the action was groundless and frivolous

1 due to Plaintiffs' number and nature of claims, actions causing delay, and failure to 2 produce evidence. RTC also requests an award of costs.

3 Upon review of the relevant papers, this Court must determine 1) the propriety of 4 an award under NRS chapter 18, 2) the reasonable and just amount to award, and 3) 5 whether costs should be awarded.

6 From this Court's experience with this case, it appears Plaintiffs sincerely believe 7 they were harmed by RTC during the time RTC enjoyed a temporary construction 8 easement over their property. But upon filing this complaint, they had a burden to prove 9 the condition of the parking lot before RTC's arrival, the condition after RTC's departure, 10 the scope of the harm allegedly caused by RTC, and the value of any damages. Plaintiffs 11 failed to provide any expert witness or other evidence other than their own anecdotal 12 observations to support these necessary elements. Thus, this Court finds an award of 13 attorney's fees is warranted for all claims. However, under its broad discretion in 14 determining the amount of fees to award, this Court finds a lesser amount than requested 15 is reasonable and just under the circumstances. Finally, this Court finds an award of full 16 costs is appropriate.

17 RTC asserts an award of attorney's fees for all work in this matter is appropriate 18 under NRS 18.010(2)(b), which allows a court to grant an award where it finds a claim:

19 [W]as brought or maintained without reasonable ground or 20 to harass the prevailing party. The court shall liberally 21 construe the provisions of this paragraph in favor of 22 awarding attorney's fees in all appropriate situations. It is 23 the intent of the Legislature that the court award attorney's 24 fees pursuant to this paragraph and impose sanctions
25 pursuant to Rule 11 of the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure
26 in all appropriate situations to punish for and deter frivolous 27 or vexatious claims and defenses because such claims and 28 defenses overburden limited judicial resources, hinder the timely resolution of meritorious claims and increase the costs of engaging in business and providing professional services to the public.

NRS 18.010(2)(b).

1 This statute is an exception to the general rule that a prevailing party is not entitled
2 to attorney's fees. See Smith v. Crown Financial Services, 111 Nev. 277, 890 P.2d 769 (1995)
3 (analyzing the American and English rules regarding attorney's fees and their intersection
4 with Nevada Law). While this Court will "liberally construe" the statute to grant fees 5 when appropriate, the statute does not provide mandatory attorney's fees as fully 6 requested, leaving the amount of fees to the court's discretion. Schmidt v. Washoe Cty., 7 124 Nev. 1506, 238 P.3d 852 (2008).

8 The ultimate inquiry is whether the proceedings were initiated or defended with 9 "improper motives or without reasonable grounds." Bobby Berosini, Ltd. v. People for the 10 Ethical Treatment of Animals, 114 Nev. 1348, 1354, 971 P.2d 383, 387 (1998). "A claim is 11 frivolous or groundless if there is no credible evidence to support it." Rodriguez v.
12 Primadonna Co., LLC, 125 Nev. 578, 588, 216 P.3d 793, 800 (2009).

13 The analysis for awarding fees under the statute after its 2003 amendment adding a 14 ban on "maintaining" groundless claims is not limited to evidence presented at trial or 15 whether a claim was frivolous at the time it was raised. S. Nevada Chinese Wkly. v.
16 Chinese Am. Chamber of Com. of Nevada, 126 Nev. 757, 367 P.3d 821 (2010). The statute's 17 current form also encourages a fee award when a party brings a large number of claims 18 "hoping one would stick." Id.

19 The statute contemplates specific claims. Thus, courts may separate claims 20 maintained without credible evidence from other viable claims when analyzing a request 21 for attorney's fees. See Capanna v. Orth, 134 Nev. 888, 896, 432 P.3d 726, 734 (2018); see 22 also Bergmann v. Boyce, 109 Nev. 670, 675-76, 856 P.2d 560, 563 (1993), superseded by 23 statute on other grounds as stated in In re DISH Network Derivative Litig., 401 P.3d 1081, 24 1093 n.6 (Nev. 2017).

25 Here, RTC is the prevailing party on all claims through dismissal or summary
26 judgment. See 145 E. Harmon II Tr. v. Residences at MGM Grand - Tower A Owners'
27 Ass'n, 136 Nev. 115, 120, 460 P.3d 455, 459 (2020) (explaining prevailing party status, 28 including that voluntary dismissal with prejudice generally means a defendant

1 “prevailed” for purposes of fees, but courts should consider the circumstances of 2 dismissal).

3 As this Court did not make direct findings of fact that any claims were frivolous or 4 unreasonably maintained, Plaintiffs’ failure to present evidence at the summary judgment
5 stage is not a de facto determination that fees are warranted. Rivero v. Rivero, 125 Nev.
6 410, 441, 216 P.3d 213, 234 (2009); see also Schmidt, 124 Nev. 1506. However, Plaintiffs’
7 failure would justify this Court in making such a finding of fact and awarding attorney’s 8 fees. TMX, Inc. v. Volk, 448 P.3d 574 (Nev. 2019).

9 This Court granted summary judgment only after a prolonged discovery period
10 where this Court intervened on several occasions, reminded Plaintiffs to produce 11 discovery, ordered a discovery schedule, imposed sanctions for delays and failures to meet
12 deadlines, and held hearings. Despite ample time and opportunity to either produce 13 evidence or suffer summary adjudication, Plaintiffs failed to provide support for the 14 remaining claims’ essential facts, some of which were central to the entire original 15 complaint.

16 Plaintiffs filed a complaint with twelve claims involving RTC harming their parking 17 lot, and then failed to provide evidence of the condition of the parking lot before or after 18 the alleged misconduct, any action RTC took to cause the alleged damages, or evidence of 19 costs of repair or loss of value. Plaintiffs filed a complaint involving a contract, and then 20 failed to provide evidence of its terms. As this Court explained when granting summary
21 judgment, Plaintiffs claimed damages and then did not provide a single expert witness 22 necessary to explain liability or analyze damages. Though Plaintiffs no longer had the 23 burden to support dismissed claims at the summary judgment stage, they had both the 24 opportunity and burden to provide evidence for their remaining claims that would have 25 also been essential to the original claims. Thus, Plaintiffs’ entire complaint may be 26 “groundless” under the evidence analysis.

27 Plaintiffs’ delays and procedural behavior in this matter further justify an award
28 under the statute’s liberal application. Plaintiffs brought twelve claims, including claims

1 their alleged facts did not support. Despite not wishing to disclose their own medical 2 records, Plaintiffs brought claims relating to their mental health that required such 3 disclosures. Under their own explanations of external hardships causing delays and 4 procedural failures, Plaintiffs at some point should have known they could not adequately 5 prosecute their case. Instead, they repeatedly missed deadlines and only participated in 6 proceedings primarily when objecting to RTC's motions or requesting more time to 7 perform. Thus, RTC incurred extra fees while Plaintiffs extended and delayed 8 proceedings, doing enough to maintain their claims without the apparent ability to 9 produce evidence for them. The length of time and number of delays and failures are 10 especially egregious. Thus, Plaintiffs maintained their claims with at least a level of 11 unreasonableness. Under the statute and in the interest of fairness, the circumstances 12 warrant awarding attorney's fees to RTC.

13 However, this Court has broad discretion to determine the amount of attorney's 14 fees, to be "'tempered only by reason and fairness.'" Albios v. Horizon Communities, Inc., 15 122 Nev. 409, 427, 132 P.3d 1022, 1034 (2006). This Court's approach in setting the amount 16 of fees considers what is reasonable and fair, the language and purpose of the statute, and 17 RTC's counsel's memoranda "in light of the Brunzell" factors. Id.; see also Logan v. Abe, 18 131 Nev. 260, 266, 350 P.3d 1139, 1143 (2015).

19 As explained above, NRS 18.010(2)(b) is the exception to the general rule that 20 parties pay their own fees. Fees are justified under that statute. However, this Court also 21 finds some aspects of this case do not fully conform to the purposes underlying the statute.
22 Thus, this Court considers what amount of fees most reasonably provides an exception to 23 the general rule. This Court concludes that requiring Plaintiffs to pay attorney's fees for 24 all work performed would be unreasonable insofar as Plaintiffs did not act with the type
25 of frivolous or vexatious intent the award is meant to "punish for and deter." NRS 26 18.010(2)(b).

27 Plaintiffs did not appear to maintain the action for the purpose of harassing RTC.
28 This statutory language implies a mens rea, i.e., a knowing course of conduct in which

1 litigation is the tool to effect harassment of an opposing party. There is a distinction, both 2 theoretical and actual, between intentionally harassing an opposing party and engaging in 3 harassing conduct during litigation. Plaintiffs unduly subjected RTC to hardship because 4 of repeated delays, but the record does not suggest any intentional harassment.

5 For instance, though Plaintiffs stipulated to dismiss tort claims rather than provide 6 their medical records, they did so only four months after service, less than a month after 7 the start of discovery, and prior to any papers or hearings on those claims. See Arellano v.
8 Iglesias, 468 P.3d 375 (Nev. 2020); see also In re 12067 Oakland Hills, Las Vegas, Nevada
9 89141, 134 Nev. 799, 803, 435 P.3d 672, 676 (Nev. App. 2018). Plaintiffs appear to have 10 dismissed the claims in good faith rather than attempt to frivolously maintain them. See 11 In re 12067 Oakland Hills, 134 Nev. 799 at 804.

12 Ultimately, the record suggests Plaintiffs believe they were damaged by RTC.
13 Plaintiffs brought and maintained their case with the apparent hopes of obtaining relief, 14 but ultimately failed to meet pre-trial procedural requirements. Plaintiffs repeatedly 15 blame medical complications and the Covid pandemic for these failures. This Court 16 acknowledges these hardships and notes they exacerbated communication challenges 17 between Plaintiffs and their attorney. But this Court has previously made substantial 18 accommodations because of the pandemic. While Plaintiffs ultimately failed to provide 19 the evidence required, and therefore will pay attorney's fees under the statute, this Court
20 is not persuaded that no evidence exists to support the Plaintiffs' perception of viable 21 claims. The lack of sufficient evidence is a justifying factor for granting fees but not 22 mandatory under the statute and within the context of the entire record.

23 Thus, Plaintiffs appear to have a good faith bases for their claims, but their counsel 24 failed to produce discovery or dismiss the action if discovery would be impossible due to 25 hardship. A "civil litigant is bound by the acts or omissions of its voluntarily chosen 26 attorney." Huckabay Props. v. NC Auto Parts, 130 Nev. 196, 198, 322 P.3d 429, 430 (2014).
27 Plaintiffs are responsible for counsel's actions or omissions as their own actions or 28 omissions by imputation. Lange v. Hickman, 92 Nev. 41, 43, 544 P.2d 1208, 1209 (1976);

1 Id. at 204; Pioneer Inv. Servs. Co. v. Brunswick Assocs. Ltd. P'ship, 507 U.S. 380, 396, 113
2 S. Ct. 1489, 1499, 123 L. Ed. 2d 74 (1993). Plaintiffs are responsible for delays and failure to 3 produce discovery, whether or not through the fault of counsel.¹ Though these hardships
4 do not relieve Plaintiffs' responsibility for fees, they are a feature of Plaintiffs' procedural 5 failures that, as opposed to bad faith, resulted in dismissal and summary judgment.

6 The last mitigating factor is that this Court has already ordered sanctions and a
7 case-ending order to punish the exact failures at issue in this analysis. This Court agrees 8 with RTC that the award should be reduced by the amount of sanctions already awarded.
9 This Court also considers to what extent its orders in this matter have already punished
10 Plaintiffs for their delays and failure to provide evidence.

11 Finally, this Court weighs these considerations with the four Brunzell factors: "(1) 12 the qualities of the advocate . . . (2) the character of the work to be done . . . (3) the work 13 actually performed by the lawyer: . . . [and] (4) the result." Brunzell v. Golden Gate Nat.
14 Bank, 85 Nev. 345, 349, 455 P.2d 31, 33 (1969).

15 For the first factor, Plaintiffs concede RTC's counsel are well-respected, highly 16 skilled, and experienced attorneys. Indeed, this Court notes the reduction of fees is in no 17 way related to the exemplary work of RTC's counsel or the outcomes they obtained in this 18 matter.

19 Second, the character of the work was fairly complicated given the circumstances.
20 The claims themselves may not have been complicated, but the number of claims 21 complicated counsel's work.

22 Third, counsel provided memoranda adequately detailing the hourly work
23 performed. While Plaintiffs argue the reported hours for some tasks are disproportionate 24 to the papers produced and the complexity of the claims, this Court finds the hours to be 25 reasonable given the number of claims, allegations, hearings, motions, and possible 26 defenses involved. This Court is also unpersuaded that the number of pages produced is 27 disproportionate to the time reported given the subject matter. The quality of the pages is

28 _____
¹ This Court does not intend to make any statements, and no inferences should be made, regarding any future disagreements between Plaintiffs and their attorney.

1 of more importance than the quantity. RTC wrote successful motions to dismiss, motions
2 for summary judgment, and other filings. This was consistently high-quality work despite 3 the ambiguities and uncertainties arising from Plaintiffs' sporadic participation and 4 communications.

5 Fourth, RTC's counsel prevailed against all claims through three different avenues:
6 stipulation to voluntary dismissal with prejudice, involuntary dismissal, and summary 7 judgment.

8 This Court concludes an award of $61,057.07 for attorney's fees is justified upon 9 review of the memorandum and Brunzell factors. This calculation reflects a 40% reduction 10 of requested fees as reasonable and fair under the facts of this case. See Logan, 131 Nev.
11 260 at 266; Haley v. Dist. Ct., 128 Nev. 171, 178, 273 P.3d 855, 860 (2012).

12 This Court concludes RTC's memorandum of costs to be adequate to show costs are 13 reasonable, necessary, and actually incurred under NRS 18.110. Katz v. Incline Vill. Gen.
14 Improvement Dist., 452 P.3d 411 (Nev. 2019), cert. denied, 141 S. Ct. 253, 208 L. Ed. 2d 26
15 (2020). Costs are awarded in this case under NRS 18.020(3).

16 IT IS HEREBY ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that judgment shall be entered in 17 favor of RTC and against Plaintiffs in the amount of $3,647.35 as costs, with interest 18 accruing thereon at the statutory rate, and $61,057.07 in attorney's fees.

ORDER GRANTING ATTORNEY'S FEES AND ENTRY OF JUDGMENT

Before this Court is Defendant Regional Transportation Commission of Washoe County's (RTC) opposed Motion for Attorney Fees and for Entry of Judgment for Attorney Fees and Costs. This Court has reviewed the moving papers, record, and relevant authorities.

The procedural history of this case is well-documented. Throughout the proceedings, this Court responded to Plaintiffs' procedural failures through various orders, including sanctions and summary judgment because Plaintiffs provided insufficient admissible evidence during pre-trial discovery. RTC now requests an award of attorney's fees under NRS 18.010(2)(b), arguing the action was groundless and frivolous

1 due to Plaintiffs' number and nature of claims, actions causing delay, and failure to 2 produce evidence. RTC also requests an award of costs.

3 Upon review of the relevant papers, this Court must determine 1) the propriety of 4 an award under NRS chapter 18, 2) the reasonable and just amount to award, and 3) 5 whether costs should be awarded.

6 From this Court's experience with this case, it appears Plaintiffs sincerely believe
7 they were harmed by RTC during the time RTC enjoyed a temporary construction 8 easement over their property. But upon filing this complaint, they had a burden to prove 9 the condition of the parking lot before RTC's arrival, the condition after RTC's departure,
10 the scope of the harm allegedly caused by RTC, and the value of any damages. Plaintiffs 11 failed to provide any expert witness or other evidence other than their own anecdotal 12 observations to support these necessary elements. Thus, this Court finds an award of 13 attorney's fees is warranted for all claims. However, under its broad discretion in 14 determining the amount of fees to award, this Court finds a lesser amount than requested 15 is reasonable and just under the circumstances. Finally, this Court finds an award of full 16 costs is appropriate.

17 RTC asserts an award of attorney's fees for all work in this matter is appropriate 18 under NRS 18.010(2)(b), which allows a court to grant an award where it finds a claim:

19 [W]as brought or maintained without reasonable ground or 20 to harass the prevailing party. The court shall liberally 21 construe the provisions of this paragraph in favor of 22 awarding attorney's fees in all appropriate situations. It is 23 the intent of the Legislature that the court award attorney's 24 fees pursuant to this paragraph and impose sanctions
25 pursuant to Rule 11 of the Nevada Rules of Civil Procedure
26 in all appropriate situations to punish for and deter frivolous 27 or vexatious claims and defenses because such claims and 28 defenses overburden limited judicial resources, hinder the timely resolution of meritorious claims and increase the costs of engaging in business and providing professional services to the public.

NRS 18.010(2)(b).

1 This statute is an exception to the general rule that a prevailing party is not entitled
2 to attorney's fees. See Smith v. Crown Financial Services, 111 Nev. 277, 890 P.2d 769 (1995)
3 (analyzing the American and English rules regarding attorney's fees and their intersection
4 with Nevada Law). While this Court will "liberally construe" the statute to grant fees 5 when appropriate, the statute does not provide mandatory attorney's fees as fully 6 requested, leaving the amount of fees to the court's discretion. Schmidt v. Washoe Cty., 7 124 Nev. 1506, 238 P.3d 852 (2008).

8 The ultimate inquiry is whether the proceedings were initiated or defended with 9 "improper motives or without reasonable grounds." Bobby Berosini, Ltd. v. People for the 10 Ethical Treatment of Animals, 114 Nev. 1348, 1354, 971 P.2d 383, 387 (1998). "A claim is 11 frivolous or groundless if there is no credible evidence to support it." Rodriguez v.
12 Primadonna Co., LLC, 125 Nev. 578, 588, 216 P.3d 793, 800 (2009).

13 The analysis for awarding fees under the statute after its 2003 amendment adding a 14 ban on "maintaining" groundless claims is not limited to evidence presented at trial or 15 whether a claim was frivolous at the time it was raised. S. Nevada Chinese Wkly. v.
16 Chinese Am. Chamber of Com. of Nevada, 126 Nev. 757, 367 P.3d 821 (2010). The statute's 17 current form also encourages a fee award when a party brings a large number of claims 18 "hoping one would stick." Id.

19 The statute contemplates specific claims. Thus, courts may separate claims 20 maintained without credible evidence from other viable claims when analyzing a request
21 for attorney's fees. See Capanna v. Orth, 134 Nev. 888, 896, 432 P.3d 726, 734 (2018); see 22 also Bergmann v. Boyce, 109 Nev. 670, 675-76, 856 P.2d 560, 563 (1993), superseded by 23 statute on other grounds as stated in In re DISH Network Derivative Litig., 401 P.3d 1081,
24 1093 n.6 (Nev. 2017).

25 Here, RTC is the prevailing party on all claims through dismissal or summary
26 judgment. See 145 E. Harmon II Tr. v. Residences at MGM Grand - Tower A Owners'
27 Ass'n, 136 Nev. 115, 120, 460 P.3d 455, 459 (2020) (explaining prevailing party status, 28 including that voluntary dismissal with prejudice generally means a defendant

1 “prevailed” for purposes of fees, but courts should consider the circumstances of 2 dismissal).

3 As this Court did not make direct findings of fact that any claims were frivolous or 4 unreasonably maintained, Plaintiffs’ failure to present evidence at the summary judgment
5 stage is not a de facto determination that fees are warranted. Rivero v. Rivero, 125 Nev.
6 410, 441, 216 P.3d 213, 234 (2009); see also Schmidt, 124 Nev. 1506. However, Plaintiffs’
7 failure would justify this Court in making such a finding of fact and awarding attorney’s 8 fees. TMX, Inc. v. Volk, 448 P.3d 574 (Nev. 2019).

9 This Court granted summary judgment only after a prolonged discovery period
10 where this Court intervened on several occasions, reminded Plaintiffs to produce 11 discovery, ordered a discovery schedule, imposed sanctions for delays and failures to meet
12 deadlines, and held hearings. Despite ample time and opportunity to either produce 13 evidence or suffer summary adjudication, Plaintiffs failed to provide support for the 14 remaining claims’ essential facts, some of which were central to the entire original 15 complaint.

16 Plaintiffs filed a complaint with twelve claims involving RTC harming their parking 17 lot, and then failed to provide evidence of the condition of the parking lot before or after 18 the alleged misconduct, any action RTC took to cause the alleged damages, or evidence of 19 costs of repair or loss of value. Plaintiffs filed a complaint involving a contract, and then 20 failed to provide evidence of its terms. As this Court explained when granting summary
21 judgment, Plaintiffs claimed damages and then did not provide a single expert witness 22 necessary to explain liability or analyze damages. Though Plaintiffs no longer had the 23 burden to support dismissed claims at the summary judgment stage, they had both the 24 opportunity and burden to provide evidence for their remaining claims that would have 25 also been essential to the original claims. Thus, Plaintiffs’ entire complaint may be 26 “groundless” under the evidence analysis.

27 Plaintiffs’ delays and procedural behavior in this matter further justify an award
28 under the statute’s liberal application. Plaintiffs brought twelve claims, including claims

1 their alleged facts did not support. Despite not wishing to disclose their own medical 2 records, Plaintiffs brought claims relating to their mental health that required such 3 disclosures. Under their own explanations of external hardships causing delays and 4 procedural failures, Plaintiffs at some point should have known they could not adequately
5 prosecute their case. Instead, they repeatedly missed deadlines and only participated in 6 proceedings primarily when objecting to RTC's motions or requesting more time to 7 perform. Thus, RTC incurred extra fees while Plaintiffs extended and delayed 8 proceedings, doing enough to maintain their claims without the apparent ability to 9 produce evidence for them. The length of time and number of delays and failures are 10 especially egregious. Thus, Plaintiffs maintained their claims with at least a level of 11 unreasonableness. Under the statute and in the interest of fairness, the circumstances 12 warrant awarding attorney's fees to RTC.

13 However, this Court has broad discretion to determine the amount of attorney's 14 fees, to be "'tempered only by reason and fairness.'" Albios v. Horizon Communities, Inc., 15 122 Nev. 409, 427, 132 P.3d 1022, 1034 (2006). This Court's approach in setting the amount 16 of fees considers what is reasonable and fair, the language and purpose of the statute, and 17 RTC's counsel's memoranda "in light of the Brunzell" factors. Id.; see also Logan v. Abe, 18 131 Nev. 260, 266, 350 P.3d 1139, 1143 (2015).

19 As explained above, NRS 18.010(2)(b) is the exception to the general rule that 20 parties pay their own fees. Fees are justified under that statute. However, this Court also 21 finds some aspects of this case do not fully conform to the purposes underlying the statute.
22 Thus, this Court considers what amount of fees most reasonably provides an exception to 23 the general rule. This Court concludes that requiring Plaintiffs to pay attorney's fees for 24 all work performed would be unreasonable insofar as Plaintiffs did not act with the type
25 of frivolous or vexatious intent the award is meant to "punish for and deter." NRS 26 18.010(2)(b).

27 Plaintiffs did not appear to maintain the action for the purpose of harassing RTC.
28 This statutory language implies a mens rea, i.e., a knowing course of conduct in which

1 litigation is the tool to effect harassment of an opposing party. There is a distinction, both 2 theoretical and actual, between intentionally harassing an opposing party and engaging in 3 harassing conduct during litigation. Plaintiffs unduly subjected RTC to hardship because 4 of repeated delays, but the record does not suggest any intentional harassment.

5 For instance, though Plaintiffs stipulated to dismiss tort claims rather than provide 6 their medical records, they did so only four months after service, less than a month after 7 the start of discovery, and prior to any papers or hearings on those claims. See Arellano v.
8 Iglesias, 468 P.3d 375 (Nev. 2020); see also In re 12067 Oakland Hills, Las Vegas, Nevada
9 89141, 134 Nev. 799, 803, 435 P.3d 672, 676 (Nev. App. 2018). Plaintiffs appear to have 10 dismissed the claims in good faith rather than attempt to frivolously maintain them. See 11 In re 12067 Oakland Hills, 134 Nev. 799 at 804.

12 Ultimately, the record suggests Plaintiffs believe they were damaged by RTC.
13 Plaintiffs brought and maintained their case with the apparent hopes of obtaining relief, 14 but ultimately failed to meet pre-trial procedural requirements. Plaintiffs repeatedly 15 blame medical complications and the Covid pandemic for these failures. This Court 16 acknowledges these hardships and notes they exacerbated communication challenges
17 between Plaintiffs and their attorney. But this Court has previously made substantial 18 accommodations because of the pandemic. While Plaintiffs ultimately failed to provide 19 the evidence required, and therefore will pay attorney's fees under the statute, this Court
20 is not persuaded that no evidence exists to support the Plaintiffs' perception of viable
21 claims. The lack of sufficient evidence is a justifying factor for granting fees but not 22 mandatory under the statute and within the context of the entire record.

23 Thus, Plaintiffs appear to have a good faith bases for their claims, but their counsel 24 failed to produce discovery or dismiss the action if discovery would be impossible due to 25 hardship. A "civil litigant is bound by the acts or omissions of its voluntarily chosen 26 attorney." Huckabay Props. v. NC Auto Parts, 130 Nev. 196, 198, 322 P.3d 429, 430 (2014).
27 Plaintiffs are responsible for counsel's actions or omissions as their own actions or 28 omissions by imputation. Lange v. Hickman, 92 Nev. 41, 43, 544 P.2d 1208, 1209 (1976);

1 Id. at 204; Pioneer Inv. Servs. Co. v. Brunswick Assocs. Ltd. P'ship, 507 U.S. 380, 396, 113
2 S. Ct. 1489, 1499, 123 L. Ed. 2d 74 (1993). Plaintiffs are responsible for delays and failure to 3 produce discovery, whether or not through the fault of counsel.¹ Though these hardships
4 do not relieve Plaintiffs' responsibility for fees, they are a feature of Plaintiffs' procedural 5 failures that, as opposed to bad faith, resulted in dismissal and summary judgment.

6 The last mitigating factor is that this Court has already ordered sanctions and a
7 case-ending order to punish the exact failures at issue in this analysis. This Court agrees
8 with RTC that the award should be reduced by the amount of sanctions already awarded.
9 This Court also considers to what extent its orders in this matter have already punished
10 Plaintiffs for their delays and failure to provide evidence.

11 Finally, this Court weighs these considerations with the four Brunzell factors: "(1) 12 the qualities of the advocate . . . (2) the character of the work to be done . . . (3) the work
13 actually performed by the lawyer: . . . [and] (4) the result." Brunzell v. Golden Gate Nat.
14 Bank, 85 Nev. 345, 349, 455 P.2d 31, 33 (1969).

15 For the first factor, Plaintiffs concede RTC's counsel are well-respected, highly 16 skilled, and experienced attorneys. Indeed, this Court notes the reduction of fees is in no 17 way related to the exemplary work of RTC's counsel or the outcomes they obtained in this 18 matter.

19 Second, the character of the work was fairly complicated given the circumstances.
20 The claims themselves may not have been complicated, but the number of claims 21 complicated counsel's work.

22 Third, counsel provided memoranda adequately detailing the hourly work
23 performed. While Plaintiffs argue the reported hours for some tasks are disproportionate 24 to the papers produced and the complexity of the claims, this Court finds the hours to be 25 reasonable given the number of claims, allegations, hearings, motions, and possible 26 defenses involved. This Court is also unpersuaded that the number of pages produced is 27 disproportionate to the time reported given the subject matter. The quality of the pages is

28 _____
¹ This Court does not intend to make any statements, and no inferences should be made, regarding any future disagreements between Plaintiffs and their attorney.

1 of more importance than the quantity. RTC wrote successful motions to dismiss, motions
2 for summary judgment, and other filings. This was consistently high-quality work despite 3 the ambiguities and uncertainties arising from Plaintiffs' sporadic participation and 4 communications.

5 Fourth, RTC's counsel prevailed against all claims through three different avenues:
6 stipulation to voluntary dismissal with prejudice, involuntary dismissal, and summary 7 judgment.

8 This Court concludes an award of $61,057.07 for attorney's fees is justified upon 9 review of the memorandum and Brunzell factors. This calculation reflects a 40% reduction 10 of requested fees as reasonable and fair under the facts of this case. See Logan, 131 Nev.
11 260 at 266; Haley v. Dist. Ct., 128 Nev. 171, 178, 273 P.3d 855, 860 (2012).

12 This Court concludes RTC's memorandum of costs to be adequate to show costs are 13 reasonable, necessary, and actually incurred under NRS 18.110. Katz v. Incline Vill. Gen.
14 Improvement Dist., 452 P.3d 411 (Nev. 2019), cert. denied, 141 S. Ct. 253, 208 L. Ed. 2d 26
15 (2020). Costs are awarded in this case under NRS 18.020(3).

16 IT IS HEREBY ORDERED AND ADJUDGED that judgment shall be entered in 17 favor of RTC and against Plaintiffs in the amount of $3,647.35 as costs, with interest 18 accruing thereon at the statutory rate, and $61,057.07 in attorney's fees.
