

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

LUKE HATCH,
Appellant,
vs.
KAYCE HATCH,
Respondent.

No. 83307

FILED

JUN 16 2023

ELIZABETH A. BROWN
CLERK OF SUPREME COURT
BY DEPUTY CLERK

ORDER DENYING MOTION

This is an appeal from a decree of divorce. On May 4, 2022, this court entered an order granting respondent's unopposed motion to remand this matter to the district court, pursuant to NRAP 12A(b), so that the district court could grant respondent's motion to set aside the decree and reopen discovery. The parties were required to promptly notify this court when the district court decided the motion on remand. NRAP 12A(b). On June 8, 2022, because the parties had not communicated with this court, this court entered an order directing appellant, by July 8, 2022, to inform this court, in writing, of the status of the district court proceedings. Appellant failed to comply. On August 8, 2022, this court entered an order directing appellant to inform this court, in writing and by August 15, 2022, of the status of the district court proceedings. This court cautioned that failure to comply could result in the imposition of sanctions, including the dismissal of this appeal. When appellant failed to comply or otherwise communicate with this court, this court dismissed this appeal as abandoned. The dismissal order did not grant appellant leave to file a motion to reinstate the appeal at a later date and appellant did not file a petition for rehearing. The remittitur issued on September 16, 2022.

Appellant has now filed a motion to reinstate this appeal. Appellant fails to acknowledge that the remittitur has issued, let alone move to recall it. And there are no grounds to recall the remittitur in this matter. See Wood v. State, 60 Nev. 139, 104 P.2d 187 (1940) (discussing when a remittitur will be recalled). Neither does appellant demonstrate good cause to reinstate this appeal. This appeal was dismissed after appellant failed to comply with two separate orders entered by this court directing appellant to inform this court of the status of the district court proceedings. The motion is denied.

It is so ORDERED.<sup>1</sup>

                    Stiglin                    , C.J.

cc: Justice Law Center
Mills & Anderson Law Group

---

<sup>1</sup>Nothing in this order prevents appellant from filing a new notice of appeal if the district court enters an appealable order in the future.