DEPUTY CLERK

ORDER

On June 17, 2022, this court entered an order inviting amicus curiae participation directed at certain interest groups, specifically including the Family Law Section of the State Bar of Nevada. The Family Law Section has filed a notice informing this court that it may be interested in submitting an amicus brief but noting that it cannot fully assess its position until it has read the petition and appendix, which have been filed under seal.

This court concludes that it is appropriate for the Family Law Section to have access to review the petition and appendix. Accordingly, counsel for the Family Law Section is directed to contact the clerk of this court to coordinate a time and date for counsel to review the petition and appendix at the Supreme Court's Las Vegas or Carson City office.¹

It is so ORDERED.

1. J. J. J., A.C.J.

cc: Washoe County District Attorney
Washoe County Alternate Public Defender
Washoe County Public Defender
Washoe Legal Services/Reno
Family Law Section, State Bar of Nevada

¹The answers to the petition and the reply are publicly available on this court's website. The Family Law Section does not ask this court for access to the reply appendix.
