9	CLEMENT MUNEY; CHEF EXEC SUPPLIERS, LLC,) Case Number: 83641)
10	Appellants,))
11	VS.) MOTION FOR EXTENSION OF TIME
12	DOMINIQUE ARNOULD,) TO FILE OPENING BRIEF
13	Respondent.))
15	Appellants Clement Muney and Chef Exec Suppliers, LLC (hereinafter collectively,
16	"Muney") hereby move this court for an extension of time to file their response to this
17	Court's Order to Show Cause, until the Court makes a determination on Appellants' motion
18	to consolidate, plus fourteen (14) days.
19	There is good cause for the extension; as the already-filed motion to consolidate
20	would significantly change the contents of the Opening Brief, Appellants can not fully draft
21	the Opening Brief until they know whether or not the appeals will be consolidated. Thus
22	Appellants would need to wait until there is a determination made on that motion, and
23	would also need time to adjust the Opening Brief, depending upon what the Court decides
24	regarding the motion to consolidate. If the Court grant's that motion in full (including the
25	request to set the briefing schedule to that of Appeal # 83869), then no further extension
26	would be needed, as long as appellants have notice of that decision at least fourteen (14)
27	days prior to the current deadline to submit the Opening Brief in that appeal (currently April

This extension would not cause undue delay.

28

No previous requests for extension of time for briefing have been granted, requested, or denied. The current due date of the Opening Brief is March 3, 2022. If this motion is granted the new deadline would be either fourteen days after the Court rules on the motion to consolidate, or April 14, 2022, if the motion to consolidate is granted in full. Appellants certify that this request is for good cause, is not for delay, nor any other improper purpose.

DATED this 1st day of March, 2022.
