CLEMENT MUNEY,

Defendant.

BEFORE THE HONORABLE NANCY L. ALLF, DISTRICT COURT JUDGE WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 23, 2020

RECORDER'S TRANSCRIPT OF HEARING STATUS CHECK: RECEIVER'S REPORT

Appearing via Video Conference:

For the Plaintiff: ALEXANDER K. CALAWAY, ESQ.

For the Defendant: ROBERT J. KERN, ESQ.

For the Receiver: TRACY M. O'STEEN, ESQ.

RECORDED BY: BRYNN WHITE, COURT RECORDER

3	[Case called at 9:52 a.m.]
4	THE COURT: This takes us to page 13, Arnould versus
5	Muney. Let's have appearances, please from the Plaintiff, and then the
6	Defendant.
7	MR. CALAWAY: Yes, Your Honor. Alex Calaway appearing
8	on behalf of the Plaintiff.
9	MR. KERN: Robert Kern, appearing on behalf of Defendant.
10	Good morning, Your Honor.
11	THE COURT: Good morning, both of you.
12	So, I have this down only for a status. I have read the report,
13	however, of the receiver. And is the receiver appearing, or counsel for
14	the appear the receiver appearing?
15	MR. CALAWAY: I believe he's muted. Larry, Mr. Bertsch.
16	You're muted.
17	THE COURT: Mr. O'Steen. Mr. O'Steen. I'm sorry,
18	Ms. O'Steen, Mr. Bertsch. I think Ms. O'Steen was speaking, but was
19	muted.
20	MS. O'STEEN: I'm trying to speak, Your Honor. Can you
21	hear me?
22	THE COURT: I can now, thank you.
23	MS. O'STEEN: Okay. Tracy O'Steen appearing on behalf of
24	the receiver, Mr. Bertsch.
25	THE COURT: And I did see Mr. Bertsch on the phone earlier is -- Mr. Bertsch, are you there?

I see a waive. Okay. Thank you.

All right. So, I have this down only for status. So, let me hear from Mr. Calaway, Mr. Kern, and then Ms. O'Steen.

MR. CALAWAY: Your Honor, we don't have much to report on, other than we've been waiting for this report and we've received it. I think it -- I'll just defer to Mr. Bertsch if he wants to present his report briefly to you, for the Court's approval.

THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Kern.

MR. KERN: Yes, Your Honor. We're welcome to hearing about the report; we did have some issues with it and would be requesting the opportunity to file a written objection.

THE COURT: I -- I don't think you need my permission to file a written objection. And in the past I've made sure that in the acceptance of the report, it's always subject of the right of the defense at the time of trial to dispute any findings.

So, how would you like to proceed then, Mr. Kern? There's really nothing pending until your jury trial that's set for April that I'm only hopeful can happen.

MR. KERN: Yes, Your Honor. Well, then, we, you know, certainly like to file that. I don't think that will require any delays.

Mr. Calaway and I have discussed a stipulation of pushing back the discovery deadline a bit, but that's not necessarily something we have to deal with today.

THE COURT: Okay. I would suggest that you have until the

The Company has been dissolved and the Receiver has issued his Final Report pursuant to NRS 32.350(1). Since the Receiver has fulfilled his appointed duties as ordered by this Court, the Receiver's Final Report should be approved and the Receiver should be ordered to take the necessary steps to finalize the receivership pursuant to NRS 32.350(2).

II. PROCEDURAL AND FACTUAL BACKGROUND.

- 1. On June 8, 2020, this Court appointed a receiver with limited powers to prepare a report about the viability of Chef Exec Suppliers, LLC (the "Company"). See June 8, 2020 Order, on file herein.
- 2. Shortly thereafter, the Court appointed Larry L. Bertsch, CPA as the receiver over the Company (the "Receiver").
- 3. On August 21, 2020, the Court judicially dissolved the Company with an effective dissolution date of September 30, 2020. See August, 21, 2020 Order, on file herein.
- 4. On December 7, 2020, the Receiver issued his Final Report and Recommendations ("Final Report"), on file herein.
- 5. The Final Report calculated the distribution of the Company assets as of September 30, 2020, calculated the amount each partner would need to contribute, and included a form Tax Return to be filed in 2021 as soon as the tar forms are released by the IRS. See id.
- 6 Due to the Receiver's limited powers, he has not yet closed the Company's bank account and nominal charges are being made.
- 7. If left to continue, the accumulated charges may require a recalculation and/or amendment of the Receiver's Final Report.
- 8. As such, to avoid ongoing professional expenses, Plaintiff respectfully requests an order from the Court that the Receiver close the Company bank account, finalize the receivership, and discharge the receiver on January 29, 2020.

A. THE RECEIVER'S FINAL REPORT SHOULD BE APPROVED.

NRS 32.350 provides:

- 1. On completion of a receiver's duties, the receiver shall file a final report including:
- (a) A description of the activities of the receiver in the conduct of the receivership;
- (b) A list of receivership property at the commencement of the receivership and any receivership property received during the receivership;
- (c) A list of disbursements, including payments to professionals engaged by the receiver;
- (d) A list of dispositions of receivership property;
- (e) A list of distributions made or proposed to be made from the receivership for creditor claims;
- (f) If not filed separately, a request for approval of the payment of fees and expenses of the receiver; and
- (g) Any other information required by the court.
- 2. If the court approves a final report filed under subsection 1 and the receiver distributes all receivership property, the receiver is discharged.

Here, the Receiver has issued a Final Report which included all necessary requirements set forth in NRS 32.350(1)(a)-(g), including the information required by the Court in its Order appointing the Receiver. As such, the Receiver's Final Report should be approved pursuant to NRS 32.350(2).

B. PROFESSIONAL FEES AND EXPENSES RELATED TO OBJECTIONS TO THE RECEIVER'S FINAL REPORT SHOULD BE BORNE BY THE OBJECTOR.

The Court should award the Receiver his reasonable expenses and fees set forth in the Final Report, and any additional fees related to objections by the parties should be borne by the objector. NRS 32.340 provides:

- 1. The court may award a receiver from receivership property the reasonable and necessary fees and expenses of performing the duties of the receiver and exercising the powers of the receiver.
- 2. The court may order one or more of the following to pay the reasonable and necessary fees and expenses of the receivership, including reasonable attorney's fees and costs:
- (a) A person that requested the appointment of the receiver, if the receivership does not produce sufficient funds to pay the fees and expenses; or
- (b) A person whose conduct justified or would have justified the appointment of the receiver under paragraph (a) of subsection 1 of NRS 32.260.

Here, the both Arnould and Muney have borne the expenses and fees related to the Receiver's Receivership over the Company and in performance of his duties as set forth in the Final Report. However, any objection filed by a party after the Final Report might create additional fees and expenses by the Receiver. As such, the objector's conduct would require an extended receivership, and any additional fees and expenses incurred relating to objections raised by the parties should be borne by the objector pursuant to NRS 32.340(2)(b).

C. THE RECEIVERSHIP SHOULD BE FINALIZED AND THE RECEIVER DISCHARGED CONSISTENT WITH THE FINAL REPORT.

Consistent with the Receiver's Final Report, the Court should enter an order for the following:

- 1. That the receivership estate be transferred to Larry L. Bertsch, CPA's client trust account;
 - 2. That the Receiver close the Company's bank account;
- 3. That both partners, Dominque Arnould and Clement Muney, pay the amounts due to the receivership estate pursuant to the Final Order, Exhibit D-2 attached thereto;
- 4. That the Receiver pay all outstanding payables of the Company including the professional fees outstanding in the Receivership Estate;
- 5. That the Receiver file the Company's final 2020 Tax Return when the 2020 tax forms are released by the IRS (see Final Report, at pg. 11:12-15);
- 6. Fees and expenses incurred by the Receiver beyond those already set forth in his Final Report should be borne by the party that prolongs the receivership; and
 - 7. That the Receiver be discharged on January 29, 2020.
- 8. In sum, this will allow the parties to continue with their litigation and the Company will not incur additional Receiver's professional fees.

MARQUIS AURBACH COFFING

IV. CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated herein, Plaintiff's Motion should be granted and an Order entered consistent with Section B stated herein.

COMES NOW, CLEMENT MUNEY and CHEF EXEC SUPPLIERS, LLC, by and through their attorney of record, Robert Kern, Esq., of Kern Law, Ltd., and hereby submits this objection to the Receiver's Final Report and Recommendations.

I. INTRODUCTION

There are unfortunately a significant number of serious and obvious issues with the Receiver's Final Report. The primary issues are: 1) that the report included reimbursement for rents paid on the Las Vegas warehouse, an issue that this Court specifically instructed the Receiver was a legal determination that would be determined later by the Court, rather than an accounting issue that should be part of the Report; 2) That apparently all allegations by Arnould of mis-spending by Muney were accepted without even giving Muney the opportunity to provide documentation justifying or explaining expenses; at the same time, large numbers of mis-spending alleged by Muney is excluded from calculation, without explanation; 3) the Truck is vastly undervalued, and Arnould's practice of billing deliveries by his other companies below cost was not factored in. While Defendants have no wish to continue the receivership any longer than necessary, they do believe that the amount of time paid for justifies a thorough report that either corrects these issues, or at least fully explains the methodology, so that we can determine how and why some elements were included, and some were not.

II. POINTS OF DISPUTE OR CORRECTION

a. Warehouse Rent

1. Las Vegas

The Receiver's Final Report calculates amount owed based on the conclusion that the rent charged by CMJJ to Chef Exec was an illegal overpayment that must be compensated. As this issue is still in dispute, and is a legal issue for determination by the finder of fact, the Receiver does not have authority to make a determination of the issue, and adjust the accounting based on how he believes the issue should be decided. This Court specifically instructed him on this point at the August 12, 2020 hearing.

THE COURT: I understand. No, I understand. You're saying that they overpaid so they're -- the company shouldn't have to pay. They were overpaid because they paid the full amount of the lease --

MR. BERTSCH: I'm amortizing it -- I'm amortizing what was paid at the rate they're paying; that takes me through about November 30th. Then they would need to pay the rent again, if they're paying the minimum amount.

THE COURT: Right. But that issue with regard to the lease is still in dispute in this case, and we have an immediate issue with regard to July and August.

So what I'm going to suggest is that you leave that aside for now, because it's an accounting issue, subject to evening that between the parties at final resolution.

4 aga

(8/12/20 Hearing Transcript p.19). Thus the amount of $54,450.00 that the Receiver debited against Muney for 'overpaid' rent was improper, and must be disregarded.

It is also important to note that the amount of the undisputed rent that the Court ordered paid (at the August 12 hearing) has still not been paid. Further, the Receiver's Report incorrectly stated that the undisputed portion of the Las Vegas warehouse rent (the amount CMJJ actually pays itself for the space) as $5,857.00 (Receivers Report Ex C-1); the actual amount CMJJ pays for the space is $6,169.59 per month (See Exhibit 1). Thus not only is it inappropriate to charge the disputed rent already paid against Muney, it is also inappropriate that the undisputed rent (Unpaid from May-September 2020, total amount due is $30,847.95 {$6,169.59 x 5 months}) has not been paid, despite the Court's order.

2. Los Angeles

The rent owed by Arnould for his other companies' use of the LA warehouse space is not calculated logically. It has not been disputed that the value of warehouse space that Arnould provided to his companies (AAA Foods and Wines of the World) at the chef Exec Los Angeles warehouse should be reimbursed to the Company. This is addressed in the Receiver's Report section 11 and Exhibit C-11. The Receiver indicated he considered a statement from the manager of the warehouse that AAA Foods and Wines of the World were using approximately 35% of the warehouse space (See Arnould000808), as well as a letter from Arnould's counsel stating that his companies used only 8.86% of the warehouse space (Receivers Report p.151). Arnould also apparently supplied an affidavit from the LA warehouse manager, executed the week before the Receiver's Report was filed, that walked back his previous statement of the usage, without giving any indication of what he believed the correct number was. It is notable that this change occurred only after the company split, and the warehouse manager became employed solely by Arnould, rather than employed by both parties. The letter from Arnould was provided unsworn, and by a directly interested party; the later affidavit was provided by an employee whose employment depended on the goodwill of that same interested party, and also does not indicate any actual measurements to replace those he previously provided. The statement by the LA warehouse manager, given when he was employed by both parties equally, is the only statement provided that comes from an effectively disinterested person, who is the person best qualified to estimate the breakdown of that warehouse's usage. The Receiver indicated that his method was to split the difference between what Arnould claimed, and what the warehouse manager claimed; this simply does not make sense, as the warehouse manager is both qualified and neutral, and Arnould is neither. Thus the warehouse manager's estimate should control, which would put the amount owed at $23,787.00 \(^1\). If the Receiver considered the initial statement from the warehouse manager insufficient, then the appropriate method would have been to verify the actual space used when the inventory of the LA warehouse was performed. As it is too late to do such an inventory now, the most neutral estimate must be used.

Even aside from not using the numbers provided by the warehouse manager, the 18 Receiver's method of calculation appears extremely illogical. It appears that he determined the appropriate rent due by averaging 1) the fair rent alleged by Arnould (an interested party), 2) with that of the manager (a neutral party), and also 3) averaging the actual rent received for some reason (which should have no bearing on what the rent should be). Then he subtracted the total rent actually paid from the average, despite the fact that the rent paid was already used to bring down the average number in the first place. Further, Muney has been unable to determine why the Receiver only calculated the amounts for nine (9) months, rather than the 27 months that the documentation shows the companies were using the space.

¹ AAA/WoW warehouse usage at 35% of 3000 square feet = 1050 sq ft. Cost per square foot of $1.42, thus fair monthly rental value is $1,491/month, from June 2018 to September 2020 (See MUN000145, Warehouse rent receipts). $1,491 per month, minus actual rent paid ($610 per month), equals a difference of $881 per month. Multiplied by 27 months (June 2018-Sept 2020), the total owed by Arnould for this is $23,787.

b. Disputed Amounts

The Final Report includes significant amounts of charges alleged to be improper expenditures by Muney, most of which could be justified by simply providing the relevant record, or explanation of where the charge came from. Further, the Report fails to account for a large amount of the improper spending alleged by Muney against Arnould, without giving any mention whatsoever, much less an explanation of how and why the amounts may have been deemed improper. Thus there is no way to know whether the Receiver reviewed and analyzed the items, or simply forgot to include them. Ultimately, if the Receiver is willing to account for all amounts alleged by Arnould, without any examination, then the same standard must be applied to both sides. If each charge is to be examined carefully, then Arnould's allegations must be examined carefully as well. These amounts are listed and explained below.

1. Improper Charges Against Muney (Listed by item # from Receiver's Report, section C-16)

5 – If Muney is to be charged for the discounts given to CMJJ for products sold to them by Chef Exec, than the same must be applied to Arnould's selling of discounted products to his own company, AAA Foods. As shown in the attached spreadsheet, AAA received discounts from Chef Exec in the total amount of $24,894.85 (See Exhibit 2). Arnould must be appropriately charged for these discounts.

6 – The mail charge here was for shipping samples to potential customer Delaware North. The samples successfully generated sales, as reflected in the attached records. (See Exhibit 3).

7 – This lists checks written for a total of $4,165. No other information is given, including the amounts of the individual checks, or when or to whom they were written, so it is impossible to determine what checks are referenced, or what their purposes were. This base level of information is necessary for both the parties and the Court to consider whether the charges were proper or not. There is also no indication of what led the Receiver to conclude that these were improper charges.

8 – Checks to Office Max, Smiths grocery, and a golf course. These were legitimate business expenses. The Office Max charge was for printer ink (and it is curious why a moderate charge to an office supply store would be automatically deemed improper without any other information). The charges to Smith's and the golf course were for courting a business customer, Chef Vincent, who was executive pastry chef at the Cosmopolitan of Las Vegas. The groceries were for hosting a dinner for Chef Vincent at Muney's home, and the golf course charge was for taking Chef Vincent golfing. Muney was never even asked what these charges were for.

2. Improper Charges by Arnould Not Included in Report

1 – Arnould paid for storage separate from Chef Exec's paid-for and existing warehouses, at Northstar, at additional expense to the company. He also paid for inventory to be shipped from the Las Vegas warehouse to the Northstar facility. Arnould has since admitted that he had no immediate need for any of these products, thus his taking of the inventory (over Muney's objection), paying for separate storage when it was already being stored for no additional cost in Las Vegas, and shipping it to Los Angeles, when there was no benefit for the inventory being in Los Angeles rather than Las Vegas, was all wasted Company funds, presumably done as part of Arnould's campaign to force the dissolution of the company. The total cost of the extra storage and shipping was $7,050.93 (See Exhibit 4 – Only one monthly invoice from Northstar provided, but items remained stored there from that date through dissolution).

2 – On February 18, 2020, just after the Parties had reached a settlement agreement where they agreed there would be no unusual purchases or transactions, Arnould purchased a new Iphone for himself for $1,116.06 with Company funds (As shown in Company Books).

3 – The shipping container from Seafrigo that Muney ordered in December/January (2019/2020) with Arnould's knowledge, was delayed by Arnould when Arnould refused to pay for it, after having taken sole control of Company funds. $6,322.90 is still unpaid on that container, and has been left to Muney to pay for solely despite being a company expense from well before dissolution. The only reason for its non-delivery prior to dissolution was Arnould's blocking of payment of the charges, despite having raised no legitimate claim that it was not a company expense. Whereas Arnould purchased a new container of inventory for the Los Angeles branch months later, which was paid for entirely by company funds. The parties must be treated equally, thus company funds should pay for the Seafrigo container, just as it paid for Arnould's container. The total amount still due is $6,322.90, which should be paid for by company funds, or half of it should be debited against Arnould's portion. (See Exhibit 5).

4 – In April of 2018 Arnould took a business trip to China, but used Company funds to pay for his wife to go along as well. The charges for this attributed to Mrs. Arnould total $19,101.80. Arnould's choice to take his wife along is not an expense the Company should have borne (See Exhibit 6).

5 – As stated in the section above, Arnould received discounts totaling $24,894.85 by selling Chef Exec products to his company AAA Foods at a discount. The receiver billing Muney for the same practice with regard to Muney's company makes clear that he believes the party should be billed for such discounts, so that policy must be applied evenly between the parties. (See Exhibit 2).

6 – On August 18, 2020, just a month and a half prior to the dissolution date, Arnould paid a deposit on products from Shanghai ABL Packing of $2,836 for products that would not be ready to ship until after dissolution. This is clearly a purchase for Arnould's new company, rather than for Chef Exec, as it would have been impossible for it to arrive in time to give any benefit to Chef Exec prior to dissolution.

c. The LA Delivery Truck

1. Delivery Fees

The Receiver's decision to waive any underpayment by Arnould for use of the LA delivery truck appears based on the incorrect assumption that the flat delivery fee of $20 per delivery had been agreed upon by both parties. Arnould incorrectly stated what the agreement was; the agreement had been that Chef Exec was previously paying a $20 delivery fee to AAA when AAA had owned the truck, but that was just for the truck, and they also had to pay for the labor time of the driver for loading and unloading the truck, as well as driving time. The $20 was solely for the use of the truck. When Chef Exec purchased the truck from AAA, they initially gave AAA the same deal, but it appears that at some point Arnould, without permission, began charging only the $20, and not the labor costs, which were generally at least half the cost of each delivery. This can be seen in the invoice from 5/1/18 (ARNOULD 000540), which shows where WoW was previously billed for both the $20 delivery fee, plus the time of the driver (Nathan). As it would be extremely difficult to determine how many of Jhohan's billed hours were spent on deliveries if it wasn't tracked at the time, the reasonable solution would be to simply calculate the total cost of truck deliveries during that time period, multiply that by the percentage of use that AAA and WoW made of the truck's deliveries, and then subtract the amounts already paid. This would not give Chef Exec any profit, but would at least cover Chef Exec's bare costs for the deliveries. As shown by the attached spreadsheet, the total cost of truck deliveries for Chef Exec (Starting from when Chef Exec purchased the truck, and for Los Angeles only) was $112,076.59 (See Exhibit 7). By Jhohan's testimony, a total of approximately 35% of the deliveries were performed for AAA and WoW, giving them a share of the truck cost equaling $39,226.81. Subtracting the amount they already paid ($14,901), they are left owing $24,325.81 for their remaining share of the truck delivery costs.

2. Truck Valuation

Considering that Chef Exec has spent over $35,000 on the truck so far, valuing the truck at $4,060.40 is extremely low. However in order to resolve the matter, if Arnould believes this price reflects its value, Muney proposes that he purchase the truck at that price, as its value to him would significantly exceed $4,060.40. If Arnould is not amenable, the appropriate way to determine its value, and who should have the truck, would be to have the parties bid on it – whatever price is reached, we would know that the party not taking the truck considers it worth no more than their maximum bid, and the party to whom the truck held the most value would get the asset.

Subject: storage rates

Dominique

Based on our phone conversation a full truck load rate from Las Vegas to Van Nuys Ca is $700.00

As for the dry storage you mentioned you had approximately 20 pallets, the rate Billy quoted you is $35.00 per pallet per month with no handling fee.

Please let me know if you need any additional information.

Thank you

Donna L.Johnson C.F.O.

Hello Dominique,

As per my email from January 22th to you and Clement, the estimate delivery time was approx begining of March. With the Covid 19 we were closed about 6 weeks in China as you may know. I have emailed Clement who is placing your orders few weeks ago that we are ready to ship your container. I have asked him to arrange payment of the balance of payment so we can send the container.

Thanks

Hello Michael and Eric

We sent a deposit of $9000.00 for an order with your company on January 22 2020.

Your invoice # CE00122, since I have not received any communications or confirmations from your company or you regarding this order even when it was ordered:

Could you please let me know if this order has been manufactured, if the container is ready to be shipped.

And when you will need the balance of your invoice to be paid?

Please let me know as soon as possible

Sincerely
Dominique Arnould
