Docket 83727 Document 2021-31961

1 Petitioner Corey Johnson is hereby Filing A
2 Notice of Appeal For his Writ For Habeas
3 Corpus Petition that was Denied on November 4 23, 2020. Petitioner Filed Petition For Writ of 5 Habeas Corpus on September 23 2020.

Argument

8 Respondents in An intentional ploy to undermine 9 the Integrity of the Court Admitted Documents 10 issued by the Nevada Dept. of Corrections to 11 stand As Documents presented by the State of 12 Nevada Division of Parole & Probation.

13

14 Petitioner Johnson in his Writ of Habeas
15 Corpus Argued that his Procedural Due Process
16 rights were violated. To substantiate this 17 claim Petitioner Cited NRS 213.1511. This 18 Statute Commands that before A Parolee who has 19 been Arrested And is in Custody For A Violation 20 of his Parole may be returned to the Custody of 21 Nevada Dept. of Corrections for that violation, AN 22 Inquiry MUST be Conducted to determine whether 23 there is Probable Cause to believe that the 24 Parolee has committed Acts that would constitute 25 such A Violation.

26 NRS 213.1511(3) Except in A Case where the 27 Parolee is A fugitive, the inquiry MUST be held AT 28 or Reasonably Near the place of the Alleged

The PEXD is the 'Projected Expiration Date', as such it is a projected date, and should only be considered an approximation of the actual release date. When NDOC staff have determined the actual release date, the offender's release caseworker will be informed. Entries in Blue are future credits that have not been earned yet.

Inmate Johnson,

I have received and reviewed your letters dated July 12, 2020 and July 15, 2020.

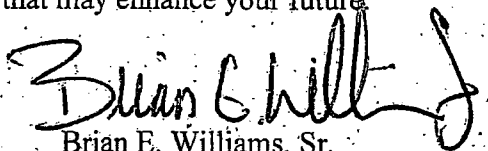

When you were transferred to Casa Grande Transitional Housing (CGTH) on July 31, 2019, you were still an inmate under the custody of Nevada Department of Corrections (NDOC). A review of your parole grant reflects that your parole was reinstated by the Parole Board on June 25, 2019. However, as you are aware, you cannot be released on parole until your housing plan is approved by the Division of Parole and Probation and you sign your parole release documents with an NDOC Release Coordinator. You had not signed such documents at the time of the incident in question.

NRS
213.1218
No Sign
No Parole!

You stated in your letter that while at CGTH, you were out on a job search when you suffered a medical episode and was admitted into UMC for treatment. Page eleven (11) of the CGTH Inmate Handbook states, "On a job search, you must call in to Unit Control if you run into any issues relating to you returning to CGTH by your approved return time. This is extremely important as you are accountable for your whereabouts at all times. Failure to notify CGTH of any and all delays is considered a violation and may lead to placing you on ESCAPE STATUS." If you were at UMC with a medical-related issue, you did not follow protocol and by notifying CGTH officers. NRS 212.095 does apply to you because you were an inmate in the custody of the Nevada Department of Corrections housed at CGTH, and not yet a parolee.

Any request you have associated with the dismissal of the MJ6 Escape charge must go through the disciplinary appeal process as noted in Administrative Regulation (AR) 740: Inmate Grievance Procedure.

While what has happened is an unfortunate series of events, you are responsible for your own actions and the consequences that are associated with such. I suggest you participate in programming such as "Getting It Right" and "Moral Reconciliation Therapy" that are facilitated by Re-entry staff to provide you with tools that may enhance your future.

Re: Multiple letters received from July 7, 2020 to present.

Mr. Johnson,

Your letters requesting a reconsideration of your July 7, 2020, Parole Violation hearing have been reviewed.

Absent a procedural error or evidence being overturned, there is no basis for the Board to reconsider the revocation action. The Board has declined to alter the Certification of Action Parole Violation Order.

The Parole Board found you guilty of conduct: Your conduct shall justify the opportunity granted to you by this community supervision.

You were also found guilty of directives to include: You are to report in person to the Division of Parole and Probation as instructed by the Division or its agent. You are required to submit a written report each month on forms supplied by the Division. This report shall be true and correct in all respects. and directives. You did not return to Casa Grande Transitional Housing as directed nor did you report to the Division of Parole and Probation. You were not released on parole, you were reinstated on parole with a release date of 10-01-2019.

Your argument that the Board should have taken action prior to July 7th, 2020 is groundless. The Board has the discretion to defer consideration until not more than 60 days after your return to NDOC following the resolution of the new criminal charge.

ned,

Darla Foley

5 COREY JOHNSON,

6 Petitioner,

7 vs.

8 STATE OF NEVADA,

9 Respondents.

Case No. A-20-821716-W

Dept. No. XV

10
11 DECISION AND ORDER

12 THIS CAUSE came before the Honorable Joe Hardy on November 20, 2020, for review of Corey
13 Johnson's Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus (Post-Conviction) ("Petition") filed on September 23,
14 2020. Respondents filed a response on November 12, 2020. At the hearing, the Court did not entertain
15 argument. Pursuant to NRS 34.770(2), the Court makes its decision based solely upon the pleadings
16 without the need of an evidentiary hearing.

17 THE COURT FINDS that Petitioner Corey Johnson ("Mr. Johnson") is currently incarcerated at 18 High Desert State Prison and is serving time for criminal acts he committed on or about May 19, 2009
19 (Case No. 10C263976); on or about September 25, 2009 (Case No. 09C260737); and on or between 20 February 1, 2010 and February 24, 2010 (Case No. 10C264344). The Eighth Judicial District Court
21 adjudicated Mr. Johnson guilty of Burglary (Case No. 10C263976), Attempt Theft (Case No.
22 09C260737), and Possession or Sale of Document or Personal Identifying Information (Case No.
23 10C264344), all category B felonies.

24 THE COURT FURTHER FINDS that Mr. Johnson was sentenced to three concurrent terms of 25 twenty years in prison with a minimum parole eligibility of five years.

26 THE COURT FURTHER FINDS that on March 31, 2017, Mr. Johnson was paroled on all three 27 cases with a parole expiration date of November 30, 2019 (Case Nos. 10C263976 and 10C264344) and 28 December 1, 2019 (Case No. 09C260737). After being paroled, Mr. Johnson violated the terms and

1 conditions of his parole by absconding and was arrested on April 14, 2019. During Mr. Johnson's parole
2 revocation hearing, on June 25, 2019, he was reinstated back on parole pending supervised release on 3 October 1, 2019. On August 22, 2019, Mr. Johnson absconded for the second time and was arrested.
4 During Mr. Johnson's second parole revocation hearing, the parole board revoked his parole to expiration 5 with no loss of statutory credit earned prior to the date of his revocation. Mr. Johnson's current expiration
6 dates are October 7, 2022 (Case No. 10C264344), October 9, 2022 (Case No. 09C260737), and October
7 24, 2022 (Case No. 10C263976). Mr. Johnson has now petitioned for writ of habeas corpus challenging
8 his parole revocation.

9 WHEREFORE THE COURT CONCLUDES that an inmate may challenge the revocation of 10 parole in a petition for writ of habeas corpus under NRS 34.360. See also Anaya v. State, 96 Nev. 119
11 (1980), and Hornback v. Warden, 97 Nev. 98, 100 (1981). As a parole revocation proceeding involves 12 the loss of liberty, it requires certain procedural due process protections for the parolee. Anaya at 122.
13 Still, as a parole revocation hearing differs from a criminal prosecution, the full panoply of constitutional
14 protections afforded a criminal defendant does not apply. See Gagnon v. Scarpelli, 411 U.S. 778 (1973);
15 Morrissey v. Brewer, 408 U.S. 471, (1972). The United States Supreme Court, in Gagnon and Morrissey,
16 outlined the minimal procedures necessary to revoke parole. Those procedures include a preliminary 17 inquiry to determine whether there is probable cause to believe the parolee violated the conditions of his 18 parole, notice of the alleged parole violations, a chance to appear and speak on his own behalf and to 19 bring in relevant information, an opportunity to question persons giving adverse information, and written 20 findings by the hearing officer, who must be "someone not directly involved in the case." Morrissey at 21 485-87. If probable cause is found, the parolee is then entitled to a formal revocation hearing at which 22 the same rights attach. Gagnon at 786. The function of the final revocation hearing is two-fold, as the 23 parole board must determine whether the alleged violations occurred, and if "the facts as determined 24 warrant revocation." Morrissey at 480; see also Anaya at 122.

25 WHEREFORE THE COURT FURTHER CONCLUDES that on August 22, 2019, Mr. Johnson
26 absconded from parole supervision and was arrested. Mr. Johnson alleges that his escape was not a parole
27 violation because he never "officially started parole" when he absconded from the Nevada Department
28 of Corrections ("NDOC"). Specifically, Mr. Johnson believes that because he did not sign the parole

1 agreement, prior to his escape, he was technically a prisoner and not a parolee. However, Mr. Johnson
2 was reinstated to parole on June 25, 2019, before he absconded on August 22, 2019. Mr. Johnson was
3 physically housed at NDOC, but he was only there to be supervised while his release was pending. Mr.
4 Johnson argues that he did not violate the conditions of his parole because his charges from his criminal
5 case, stemming from his absconding on August 22, 2019, were dismissed. However, Mr. Johnson's 6 criminal case is not the same as his parole violation hearing because one involves the filing of a criminal 7 complaint for prosecution purposes and the other involves the administrative disciplinary process that 8 determines the reinstatement or revocation of parole. Mr. Johnson was criminally charged by the State of 9 Nevada and received a Notice of Charges from the Division of Parole and Probation for absconding.
10 Even though Mr. Johnson's criminal charges were dismissed, he was still held liable for violating the 11 conditions of parole. Because Mr. Johnson was still under the supervision of the Division of Parole and 12 Probation, after he was reinstated and before he absconded, his right to due process was not violated.

13 WHEREFORE THE COURT FURTHER CONCLUDES that the purpose of a preliminary 14 inquiry is to determine whether there is probable cause to believe a parolee violated the terms of his 15 parole. NRS 213.15105. The United States Supreme Court has held that a parolee is entitled to certain 16 notices, so that he may appear and speak on his own behalf during the inquiry and may also bring in 17 relevant evidence if appropriate. Those mandates are codified at NRS 213.1511 thru 213.1515. In this 18 case, the record shows that procedural due process protections were in place before and during the 19 preliminary inquiry. On May 10, 2020, the hearing officer read the Notice of Charges aloud to Mr.
20 Johnson. Mr. Johnson was charged with Escape and he entered a plea of not guilty. During the 21 preliminary inquiry, Mr. Johnson affirmed that he had received copies of his violation report and 22 indicated that he fully understood the charges and his rights during the violation process. Mr. Johnson
23 stated he wanted to get all the information from his attorney to prove he did not escape so that he could 24 fight his write up effectively. Mr. Johnson also stated that he wanted to call a witness, but his witness
25 was not found. In addition, Mr. Johnson admitted that he was issued a notice of charges at the institutional
26 level for escape. Since Mr. Johnson received notice of the violation, appeared at the preliminary inquiry,
27 received copies of his violation report, indicated that he fully understood his charged and rights, spoke 28 on his own behalf, and was provided the opportunity to bring in relevant evidence and present his defense,

1 his right to procedural due process was not violated. Mr. Johnson claims that his right to procedural due
2 process was also violated because his preliminary inquiry was not held immediately after his arrest.
3 Pursuant to NRS 213.1511 (3), except in cases where the parolee is a fugitive, the inquiry must be held
4 at or reasonably near the place of the alleged violation or the arrest and within 15 working days after the 5 arrest. Mr. Johnson was booked on the warrant that was issued when he absconded and for charges related
6 to his criminal case. After being booked, Mr. Johnson had his preliminary inquiry. Mr. Johnson complains
7 that his preliminary inquiry was held in Las Vegas while he appeared telephonically while in custody in 8 Indian Springs, but this complaint is beyond the scope of a habeas petition and is not cognizable. The 9 parole board is not involved in transporting parolees to and from the district court and the prison. Further,
10 Mr. Johnson has failed to show how he was prejudiced by this transportation issue. Thus, the location in 11 which Mr. Johnson's preliminary inquiry was held did not violate his right to procedural due process.

12 WHEREFORE THE COURT FURTHER CONCLUDES that on July 7, 2020, the Division of 13 Parole and Probation held Mr. Johnson's parole violation hearing. During the hearing, Mr. Johnson
14 acknowledged that he signed the hearing and advisement of rights document and he entered a plea of not 15 guilty. During the hearing, the State and Mr. Johnson's counsel presented evidence and made arguments.
16 Mr. Johnson also admitted to absconding while under supervision. After the parole board deliberated, 17 Mr. Johnson was found guilty of absconding and the board determined that Mr. Johnson qualified for 18 revocation. Mr. Johnson's parole was revoked to expiration and the credits he earned prior to his parole
19 revocation were restored. Since the parole board heard arguments and reviewed evidence prior to 20 deliberation, Mr. Johnson's parole revocation was not illegal and his right to procedural due process was 21 not violated.

22 WHEREFORE THE COURT FURTHER CONCLUDES that the calculation of statutory credit
23 for parolees is governed by NRS 213. 15185. Pursuant to NRS 213.15185, if a parolee absconded, the 24 parole board will then determine the dates that the parolee was an absconder and the parolee will not 25 receive credit for the timeframe he absconded. In this case, the parole board determined that on two 26 separate occasions that Mr. Johnson had absconded from supervision while paroled. Specifically, Mr.
27 Johnson absconded in July 2017 and was arrested in April 2019 and absconded again in August 2019 and 28 was arrested in April 2020. Because Mr. Johnson absconded during those timeframes, he is not entitled

1 to credit for that timeframe regardless if the parole board reinstated him or revoked his parole. As
2 reflected in Johnson's credit history, Mr. Johnson did not receive credit during the period he absconded.
3 Because Mr. Johnson did not receive credit during the period of his absconding, his parole expiration 4 dates correctly reflect the timeframe that his sentence will expire. Mr. Johnson believes that because the 5 parole board did not forfeit the statutory credit, he earned prior to his parole revocation, he is also entitled
6 to credit earned during his absconding period, but he is mistaken. The statutory credit that Mr. Johnson
7 earned prior to his parole revocation reflects credit he earned while he was adhering to the terms and 8 conditions of his parole. Once Mr. Johnson absconded, he was no longer in noncompliance and therefore 9 could not earn credit. Mr. Johnson's credit history also reflects that Mr. Johnson did not lose any statutory 10 credit except for the timeframe he violated the terms and conditions of parole. Since Mr. Johnson only 11 lost statutory credit during his absconding and his expiration date properly reflects the expiration of his 12 sentence, Mr. Johnson's constitutional right to be protected from excessive confinement, cruel and 13 unusual punishment, and his right to due process were not violated. Due to Mr. Johnson violating the 14 terms and conditions of his parole, his preliminary inquiry and parole revocation hearing did not violate
15 his right to due process, his credits were properly forfeited, and he is not entitled to his original parole
16 expiration dates.

17 THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Mr. Johnson's Petition for Writ of Habeas
18 Corpus is DENIED WITHOUT PREJUDICE.

Case No. A-20-821716-W

Dept. No. XV

10
11 DECISION AND ORDER

12 THIS CAUSE came before the Honorable Joe Hardy on November 20, 2020, for review of Corey
13 Johnson's Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus (Post-Conviction) ("Petition") filed on September 23,
14 2020. Respondents filed a response on November 12, 2020. At the hearing, the Court did not entertain
15 argument. Pursuant to NRS 34.770(2), the Court makes its decision based solely upon the pleadings
16 without the need of an evidentiary hearing.

17 THE COURT FINDS that Petitioner Corey Johnson ("Mr. Johnson") is currently incarcerated at 18 High Desert State Prison and is serving time for criminal acts he committed on or about May 19, 2009
19 (Case No. 10C263976); on or about September 25, 2009 (Case No. 09C260737); and on or between 20 February 1, 2010 and February 24, 2010 (Case No. 10C264344). The Eighth Judicial District Court
21 adjudicated Mr. Johnson guilty of Burglary (Case No. 10C263976), Attempt Theft (Case No.
22 09C260737), and Possession or Sale of Document or Personal Identifying Information (Case No.
23 10C264344), all category B felonies.

24 THE COURT FURTHER FINDS that Mr. Johnson was sentenced to three concurrent terms of 25 twenty years in prison with a minimum parole eligibility of five years.

26 THE COURT FURTHER FINDS that on March 31, 2017, Mr. Johnson was paroled on all three 27 cases with a parole expiration date of November 30, 2019 (Case Nos. 10C263976 and 10C264344) and 28 December 1, 2019 (Case No. 09C260737). After being paroled, Mr. Johnson violated the terms and

1 conditions of his parole by absconding and was arrested on April 14, 2019. During Mr. Johnson's parole
2 revocation hearing, on June 25, 2019, he was reinstated back on parole pending supervised release on 3 October 1, 2019. On August 22, 2019, Mr. Johnson absconded for the second time and was arrested.
4 During Mr. Johnson's second parole revocation hearing, the parole board revoked his parole to expiration
5 with no loss of statutory credit earned prior to the date of his revocation. Mr. Johnson's current expiration
6 dates are October 7, 2022 (Case No. 10C264344), October 9, 2022 (Case No. 09C260737), and October
7 24, 2022 (Case No. 10C263976). Mr. Johnson has now petitioned for writ of habeas corpus challenging
8 his parole revocation.

9 WHEREFORE THE COURT CONCLUDES that an inmate may challenge the revocation of 10 parole in a petition for writ of habeas corpus under NRS 34.360. See also Anaya v. State, 96 Nev. 119
11 (1980), and Hornback v. Warden, 97 Nev. 98, 100 (1981). As a parole revocation proceeding involves 12 the loss of liberty, it requires certain procedural due process protections for the parolee. Anaya at 122.
13 Still, as a parole revocation hearing differs from a criminal prosecution, the full panoply of constitutional
14 protections afforded a criminal defendant does not apply. See Gagnon v. Scarpelli, 411 U.S. 778 (1973);
15 Morrissey v. Brewer, 408 U.S. 471, (1972). The United States Supreme Court, in Gagnon and Morrissey,
16 outlined the minimal procedures necessary to revoke parole. Those procedures include a preliminary 17 inquiry to determine whether there is probable cause to believe the parolee violated the conditions of his 18 parole, notice of the alleged parole violations, a chance to appear and speak on his own behalf and to 19 bring in relevant information, an opportunity to question persons giving adverse information, and written 20 findings by the hearing officer, who must be "someone not directly involved in the case." Morrissey at 21 485-87. If probable cause is found, the parolee is then entitled to a formal revocation hearing at which 22 the same rights attach. Gagnon at 786. The function of the final revocation hearing is two-fold, as the 23 parole board must determine whether the alleged violations occurred, and if "the facts as determined 24 warrant revocation." Morrissey at 480; see also Anaya at 122.

25 WHEREFORE THE COURT FURTHER CONCLUDES that on August 22, 2019, Mr. Johnson
26 absconded from parole supervision and was arrested. Mr. Johnson alleges that his escape was not a parole
27 violation because he never "officially started parole" when he absconded from the Nevada Department
28 of Corrections ("NDOC"). Specifically, Mr. Johnson believes that because he did not sign the parole

1 agreement, prior to his escape, he was technically a prisoner and not a parolee. However, Mr. Johnson
2 was reinstated to parole on June 25, 2019, before he absconded on August 22, 2019. Mr. Johnson was
3 physically housed at NDOC, but he was only there to be supervised while his release was pending. Mr.
4 Johnson argues that he did not violate the conditions of his parole because his charges from his criminal
5 case, stemming from his absconding on August 22, 2019, were dismissed. However, Mr. Johnson's 6 criminal case is not the same as his parole violation hearing because one involves the filing of a criminal
7 complaint for prosecution purposes and the other involves the administrative disciplinary process that 8 determines the reinstatement or revocation of parole. Mr. Johnson was criminally charged by the State of 9 Nevada and received a Notice of Charges from the Division of Parole and Probation for absconding.
10 Even though Mr. Johnson's criminal charges were dismissed, he was still held liable for violating the 11 conditions of parole. Because Mr. Johnson was still under the supervision of the Division of Parole and 12 Probation, after he was reinstated and before he absconded, his right to due process was not violated.

13 WHEREFORE THE COURT FURTHER CONCLUDES that the purpose of a preliminary 14 inquiry is to determine whether there is probable cause to believe a parolee violated the terms of his 15 parole. NRS 213.15105. The United States Supreme Court has held that a parolee is entitled to certain 16 notices, so that he may appear and speak on his own behalf during the inquiry and may also bring in 17 relevant evidence if appropriate. Those mandates are codified at NRS 213.1511 thru 213.1515. In this 18 case, the record shows that procedural due process protections were in place before and during the 19 preliminary inquiry. On May 10, 2020, the hearing officer read the Notice of Charges aloud to Mr.
20 Johnson. Mr. Johnson was charged with Escape and he entered a plea of not guilty. During the 21 preliminary inquiry, Mr. Johnson affirmed that he had received copies of his violation report and 22 indicated that he fully understood the charges and his rights during the violation process. Mr. Johnson
23 stated he wanted to get all the information from his attorney to prove he did not escape so that he could 24 fight his write up effectively. Mr. Johnson also stated that he wanted to call a witness, but his witness
25 was not found. In addition, Mr. Johnson admitted that he was issued a notice of charges at the institutional
26 level for escape. Since Mr. Johnson received notice of the violation, appeared at the preliminary inquiry,
27 received copies of his violation report, indicated that he fully understood his charged and rights, spoke 28 on his own behalf, and was provided the opportunity to bring in relevant evidence and present his defense,

1 his right to procedural due process was not violated. Mr. Johnson claims that his right to procedural due
2 process was also violated because his preliminary inquiry was not held immediately after his arrest.
3 Pursuant to NRS 213.1511 (3), except in cases where the parolee is a fugitive, the inquiry must be held
4 at or reasonably near the place of the alleged violation or the arrest and within 15 working days after the
5 arrest. Mr. Johnson was booked on the warrant that was issued when he absconded and for charges related
6 to his criminal case. After being booked, Mr. Johnson had his preliminary inquiry. Mr. Johnson complains
7 that his preliminary inquiry was held in Las Vegas while he appeared telephonically while in custody in 8 Indian Springs, but this complaint is beyond the scope of a habeas petition and is not cognizable. The 9 parole board is not involved in transporting parolees to and from the district court and the prison. Further,
10 Mr. Johnson has failed to show how he was prejudiced by this transportation issue. Thus, the location in 11 which Mr. Johnson's preliminary inquiry was held did not violate his right to procedural due process.

13 Parole and Probation held Mr. Johnson's parole violation hearing. During the hearing, Mr. Johnson
14 acknowledged that he signed the hearing and advisement of rights document and he entered a plea of not 15 guilty. During the hearing, the State and Mr. Johnson's counsel presented evidence and made arguments.
16 Mr. Johnson also admitted to absconding while under supervision. After the parole board deliberated, 17 Mr. Johnson was found guilty of absconding and the board determined that Mr. Johnson qualified for 18 revocation. Mr. Johnson's parole was revoked to expiration and the credits he earned prior to his parole
19 revocation were restored. Since the parole board heard arguments and reviewed evidence prior to 20 deliberation, Mr. Johnson's parole revocation was not illegal and his right to procedural due process was 21 not violated.

22 WHEREFORE THE COURT FURTHER CONCLUDES that the calculation of statutory credit
23 for parolees is governed by NRS 213. 15185. Pursuant to NRS 213.15185, if a parolee absconded, the 24 parole board will then determine the dates that the parolee was an absconder and the parolee will not 25 receive credit for the timeframe he absconded. In this case, the parole board determined that on two 26 separate occasions that Mr. Johnson had absconded from supervision while paroled. Specifically, Mr.
27 Johnson absconded in July 2017 and was arrested in April 2019 and absconded again in August 2019 and 28 was arrested in April 2020. Because Mr. Johnson absconded during those timeframes, he is not entitled

1 to credit for that timeframe regardless if the parole board reinstated him or revoked his parole. As
2 reflected in Johnson's credit history, Mr. Johnson did not receive credit during the period he absconded.
3 Because Mr. Johnson did not receive credit during the period of his absconding, his parole expiration 4 dates correctly reflect the timeframe that his sentence will expire. Mr. Johnson believes that because the
5 parole board did not forfeit the statutory credit, he earned prior to his parole revocation, he is also entitled
6 to credit earned during his absconding period, but he is mistaken. The statutory credit that Mr. Johnson
7 earned prior to his parole revocation reflects credit he earned while he was adhering to the terms and 8 conditions of his parole. Once Mr. Johnson absconded, he was no longer in incompliance and therefore 9 could not earn credit. Mr. Johnson's credit history also reflects that Mr. Johnson did not lose any statutory 10 credit except for the timeframe he violated the terms and conditions of parole. Since Mr. Johnson only 11 lost statutory credit during his absconding and his expiration date properly reflects the expiration of his 12 sentence, Mr. Johnson's constitutional right to be protected from excessive confinement, cruel and 13 unusual punishment, and his right to due process were not violated. Due to Mr. Johnson violating the 14 terms and conditions of his parole, his preliminary inquiry and parole revocation hearing did not violate
15 his right to due process, his credits were properly forfeited, and he is not entitled to his original parole
16 expiration dates.

17 THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Mr. Johnson's Petition for Writ of Habeas
18 Corpus is DENIED WITHOUT PREJUDICE.
