IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

ASHLEE JACKSON,

Appellant,

vs.

Case No. 82444-COA

JESUS ZUNIGA,

Respondent.

_____ /

NOTICE TO COURT OF POSSIBLE MOOTNESS

COMES NOW Respondent JESUS ZUNIGA, by and through his counsel, STEVE E. EVENSON, ESQ., and notifies this Court that the issue before the Court may now be moot.

Within the last 30 days, the parties married. The only reason undersigned counsel found out about the marriage was through a social media post. I confirmed

1 the marriage with my client (they had not been married before) and indicated what
2
3 that meant. I then contacted opposing counsel, who contacted his client over the 4
5 weekend and confirmed the nuptials. Opposing counsel and I agreed to notify the 6
7 Court to make sure that valuable time of the court, counsel and other parties are not
8
9 being expended on a possibly moot issue. Both counsel understand that there is no
10
11 statute in place dictating an order be changed, sua sponte, upon marriage. However, 12
13 the reality in this case is the parties are living together, married and not following the 14
15 order that is before this Court.

16
17 It is anticipated that opposing counsel will join in this NOTICE and ask the 18
19 Court to determine if it wants to continue with the appeal and/or oral argument.
