RESPONDENTS' OPPOSITION TO MOTION TO STRIKE PORTIONS OF RESPONDENTS' APPENDIX

I. INTRODUCTION

Although LACSN failed to confer with counsel for Respondents regarding the possible preparation of a joint appendix, as required by NRAP 30(a), LACSN now urges this Court to strike certain portions of Respondents' appendix. Yet, LACSN's opening brief calls into question the very documents that it now seeks to strike. Or, the challenged documents are otherwise relevant to the arguments presented in Respondents' answering brief. Therefore, the Court should deny LACSN's motion, particularly because the Court would be required to weigh into the merits of Respondents' arguments in a summary proceeding, which is improper. Cf. Taylor v. Barringer, 75 Nev. 409, 410, 344 P.2d 676, 676 (1959) (argument relating to the merits of an appeal is not a proper ground for the dismissal of an appeal). Although LACSN does not attempt to strike documents that pre-date its challenges to the District Court’s December 6, 2021 order (5 AA 1079–1128, 1129–1131), LACSN, nevertheless, complains that such documents are of limited utility, even though these additional documents included in Respondents’ appendix provide the Court with a more complete picture of the proceedings of this protracted litigation that lead up to the evidentiary hearing.¹ Thus, the Court should deny LACSN’s additional requested relief of ignoring relevant portions of the record in deciding the merits of this case.

¹ Respondents realize that the Court of Appeals previously decided Case No. 81799-COA by published opinion. However, the Judges of the Court of Appeals will change beginning in 2023 since Judge Tao chose not to run for re-election. And, it is unclear if the Supreme Court will retain this appeal. Thus, the additional documents that describe the history of this case are relevant for either the Supreme Court or the Court of Appeals to decide this case. See Exhibit 1 (Index to Respondents’ Appendix).

II. LEGAL ARGUMENT

A. LACSN'S CITED CASE LAW ON WHAT PORTIONS OF THE RECORD MAY BE CONSIDERED BY THE APPELLATE COURTS IS NOT ABSOLUTE.

In its motion, LACSN suggests that this Court may never look at any parts of the record that post-date the appealed orders. However, LACSN's cited case law is not absolute. For example, this Court has recognized an exception to the general rule in Carson Ready Mix v. First National Bank, 97 Nev. 474, 635 P.2d 276 (1981): "While Carson Ready Mix recites the general rule, it is not without exception. In particular, we may consider relevant facts outside the record in determining whether appellants have waived their appeal." Nev. Gold & Casinos, Inc. v. Am. Heritage, Inc., 121 Nev. 84, 89, 110 P.3d 481, 484 (2005) (citations omitted). Indeed, many of the challenged documents presented in Respondents' appendix demonstrate that Kimberly no longer wants to be a guardian for Kathleen June Jones ("Ms. Jones"), which is the very issue that LACSN advocates in this Court. An additional point of waiver is that LACSN moved the District Court for a stay pending appeal, which was denied, but then chose not to seek a stay from this Court. 19 RA 3191–3219. Thus, Nev. Gold supports Respondents' decision to include these additional documents.

B. LACSN IGNORES THE POTENTIAL MOOTNESS OF THIS ENTIRE APPEAL.

LACSN's motion scoffs at the fact that the District Court is currently considering whether to remove LACSN from this entire litigation. As of the date of the filing of this opposition (November 21, 2022), the District Court has not yet made a decision on this pending motion. Yet, Respondents cited to the relevant case law in their opening brief: "Cases presenting real controversies at the time of their institution may become moot by the happening of subsequent events." National Collegiate Athletic Ass'n v. University of Nevada, 97 Nev. 56, 58, 624 P.2d 10, 11 (1981) (citation omitted). AOB at 27–28. Obviously, if the District Court makes a finding that Ms. Jones did not have the capacity to direct LACSN to unnecessarily multiply the filings in this litigation, including the numerous appellate filings, this appeal would be dismissed. Obviously, if litigation cases can become moot "by the happening of subsequent events," the subsequent events must be documented. This is exactly what Respondents included in their appendix to inform this Court that this appeal may become moot. Therefore, the Court should reject LACSN's contrary arguments.

C. LACSN PLACED THE SUBSEQUENT EVENTS AT ISSUE THROUGH ITS OPENING BRIEF.

On the one hand, LACSN argues that this Court should not consider any documents filed after the District Court's appealed December 6, 2021 order. Yet, LACSN's opening brief makes sweeping assertions that call into question subsequent proceedings. For example, LACSN argues: (1) "The district court never held a separate hearing regarding removal of Kimberly as guardian and appointment of Robyn as successor guardian at any time following the evidentiary hearing." AOB at 3; (2) "Since being removed as temporary guardians over two years ago, neither Robyn nor Donna ever requested that the district court appoint them as successor guardian." AOB at 4; and (3) "Robyn never provided the district court with information regarding her suitability and qualification to serve as guardian as required by NRS 159.044 and NRS 159.0613, and the district court never made any findings regarding Robyn's suitability and qualification to serve as guardian." AOB at 15. Thus, the at-issue doctrine prohibits LACSN from taking these positions in its briefing that calls into question subsequent documents, while now arguing that the Court should not consider the documents. Cf. Wardleigh v. Second Judicial Dist. Court, 111 Nev. 345, 355, 891 P.2d 1180, 1186 (1995) (examining otherwise attorney-client privileged privileged that is placed at issue and holding that “where a party injects part of a communication as evidence, fairness demands that the opposing party be allowed to examine the whole picture”) (citation and internal quotation marks omitted). Moreover, Respondents have an obligation under NRAP 28(c) to respond to LACSN’s arguments raised in their opening brief. NRAP 31(d)(2); Polk v. State, 126 Nev. 180, 185–186, 233 P.3d 357, 360–361 (2010); Bates v. Chronister, 100 Nev. 675, 681–682, 691 P.2d 865, 870 (1984). Of course, if LACSN insists that the subsequent documents be ignored, the Court should, as a matter of fairness, ignore LACSN’s multiple arguments that call into question the subsequent proceedings.

D. LACSN INCORRECTLY PRESUMES THE FILING DATES OF THE SEALED DOCUMENTS.

LACSN presumes that the documents in the sealed portion of Respondents’ appendix were filed after the District Court’s December 6, 2021 order from which LACSN appeals. However, the index to the sealed appendix volumes demonstrates that LACSN’s presumption is incorrect. See Exhibit 2 (Index to Respondents' Sealed Appendix). The handful of documents that were filed after December, 2021 are included for the other reasons presented in this opposition. In any event, NRS 47.130(2)(b) allows this Court to take judicial notice of matters of fact. Notably, this statute does not prohibit appellate courts from taking judicial notice of matters of fact. Mack v. Estate of Mack, 125 Nev. 80, 91, 206 P.3d 98, 106 (2009) (“[W]e may take judicial notice of facts that are ‘[c]apable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned, so that the fact is not subject to reasonable dispute.’”). All of the documents in Respondents’ appendix are public records under NRS 52.085.

III. CONCLUSION

For the several reasons presented in this opposition, the Court should deny LACSN's motion to strike portions of Respondents' appendix.
