ELIZABETH A. BROWN
CLERK OF SUPREME COURT
BY  DEPUTY CLERK

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

This is an appeal from a stipulation and district court order issuing a temporary writ of restitution and a minute order denying appellant's request for a temporary restraining order. This court's review of this appeal reveals potential jurisdictional defects.

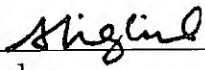

First, it does not appear that any statute or court rule authorizes an appeal from an order granting a temporary writ of restitution. See NRAP 3A(b) (listing orders and judgments from which an appeal may be taken). Second, an appeal may not be taken from a minute order, see Rust v. Clark Cnty. Sch. Dist., 103 Nev. 686, 747 P.2d 1380 (1987), or an order denying a motion for a temporary restraining order, see Sicor, Inc. v. Sacks, 127 Nev. 896, 900, 266 P.3d 618, 620 (2011).

Accordingly, appellants shall have until July 6, 2022, to show cause why this appeal should not be dismissed for lack of jurisdiction. In responding to this order, in addition to points and authorities, appellants should provide a copy of any written, file-stamped district court order formally resolving the motion for a temporary restraining order.

Respondent is likewise directed to file a response to this order on or before July 6, 2022. Given the foregoing potential jurisdictional defects, we defer any action on appellants' emergency motion for stay until further order of this court.

It is so ORDERED.
