POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

Traditionally, in this State, any defendant convicted of a crime and sentenced to a term of imprisonment is entitled credit against such term and sentence. Slack v. State, 90 Nev. 373, 528 p.2d 703 (1974).

The common law rule, although discretionary in nature, has been held applicable regardless of the sentence imposed be it maximum, minimum, or whatever. Anglin V. State, 90 Nev. 287, 525 P.2d 34 (1979). In addition to all classes of defendants, more so, to the indigent defendant who is unable to post bail, in which case the awarding of pre-sentence credits become mandatory. Id

Along the same lines, the Legislature has implemented statutory laws giving the courts power to allow pre-sentence credit to those convicted of crime. In this regard, NRS 176.055, sets forth the following:

(W)henever a sentence of imprisonment in the ...state prison is imposed, the court may order that credit be allowed against the duration of the sentence, including any minimum term there prescribed by law, for the amount of time which the defendant has actually spent in confinement before conviction... NRS 176.055.

Nevada Revised Statutes allow that a “court may order that credit be allowed against the duration of the sentence... for the amount of time which the defendant has actually spent in confinement before conviction, unless his confinement was pursuant to a judgment of conviction for another offense.” NRS 176.055 (2005). Although the language seems to indicate that such an order is discretionary, the Nevada Supreme Court has held that despite its discretionary language, the purpose of statute governing sentence credit for time spent in confinement before conviction “is to ensure that all time served is credited towards a defendant’s ultimate sentence.” Kuykendall v. State, 112 Nev. 1285, 926 P.2d 781 (1996). In Kuykendall the Nevada Supreme Court concluded that it was error for the district court to deny a motion for jail time credit for presentence confinement.

Additionally, Nevada Revised Statute requires that a “judgment of conviction must set forth... (t)he exact amount of credit granted for time spent in confinement before conviction, if any.” NRS 176.105 (2005)

FACTS

Defendant/Petitioner was confined in the county jail for four (4) years, one-hundred-sixty (160) days prior to sentencing, from June 23, 1995 to December 19, 1999.

However, neither the common law nor statutory rule awarding pre-sentence credits is being applied to Defendant/Petitioner's case. In essence, an indigent person, is being denied equal protection of law in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution and Art. 4, Section 21 of the Nevada Constitution.

By N.D.O.C.'s own factoring the Defendant-Petitioner is now serving sentences #1 and #2. These two sentences were run concurrently by this Court. Sentence #1, is murder in the first-degree, and Sentence #2 is Attempt murder. Although the jail credits were awarded by this Court, the N.D.O.C. though has not applied same to both sentences #1, and #2 which are concurrent and are being served presently by Defendant/Petitioner see Exhibit A; Exhibit B.

Furthermore, since the N.D.O.C. uses a method of calculation whereby they back date the sentencing date by the total amount of jail time credit an inmate receives, denying Defendant/Petitioner. Credit directly affects the amount of time the Defendant/Petitioner must remain in custody.

Relief Sought

For the above-stated reasons, the Defendant/Petitioner requests that this Honorable Court issue an order granting his Petition for a total of four (4) years one hundred - sixty (160) days against the term of imprisonment for Sentence # 1 and Sentence # 2.

Defendant/Petitioner also requests that this Honorable Court direct the clerk to serve upon the Nevada Department of Corrections, as well as the Defendant-Petitioner, certified copies of the order.

Dated this 25th day of July, 2021.

PARTIAL RESPONSE AND REQUEST TO TRANSFER
PETITION FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS

Respondent opposes Petitioner Kevin Holmes' Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus filed on August 10, 2021, and requests this Court transfer the petition to Carson City in the First Judicial District Court, as Holmes is housed at Warm Springs Correctional Center. This response is based on the following points and authorities, together with all other pleadings, documents and exhibits on file herein.

DATED September 14, 2021.

AARON D. FORD
Attorney General

By: /s/ Trisha Chapman

Nevada Bar No. 12716
Deputy Attorney General

1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 Petitioner Kevin Holmes (Holmes) is currently incarcerated at Warm Springs Correctional Center
3 (WSCC) in Carson City, Nevada, where he has been housed since July 19, 2017. Exhibit 1 – NDOC
4 Inmate Search; see also Exhibit 2 – External Movement History¹. At the time Holmes filed his petition
5 on August 10, 2021, to the present he has been housed at WSCC which is in Carson City in the First 6 Judicial District.

7 NRS 34.738(1) requires a petition which challenges anything other than the validity of a 8 conviction or sentence to be filed in the county where the petitioner is incarcerated. NRS 34.738 provides:

- 9 1. A petition that challenges the validity of a conviction or sentence must 10 be filed with the clerk of the district court for the county in which the 11 conviction occurred. Any other petition must be filed with the clerk of 12 the district court for the county in which the petitioner is incarcerated.
13 2. A petition that is not filed in the district court for the appropriate county:
14 a. Shall be deemed to be filed on the date it is received by the clerk of the 15 district court in which the petition is initially lodged; and 16 b. Must be transferred by the clerk of that court to the clerk of the 17 district court for the appropriate county.
18 3. A petition must not challenge both the validity of a judgment of 19 conviction or sentence and the computation of time that the petitioner has 20 served pursuant to that judgment. If a petition improperly challenges both 21 the validity of a judgment of conviction or sentence and the computation
22 of time that the petitioner has served pursuant to that judgment, the district
23 court for the appropriate county shall resolve that portion of the petition 24 that challenges the validity of the judgment of conviction or sentence and 25 dismiss the remainder of the petition without prejudice.

26 (Emphasis added.)

27 In Griffin v. State, 122 Nev. 737, 741, 137 P.3d 1165, 1167 (2006), the Nevada Supreme Court 28 found that petitions that challenge anything other than the validity of a conviction or sentence, including petitions which challenge the Nevada Department of Corrections (NDOC) computation of time served, must be filed in a separate action in the county where the inmate is incarcerated:

Under NRS 34.730(3), a petition that challenges the validity of the judgment of conviction or sentence must also be filed with the record of the original proceeding to which it relates and be assigned to the original judge or court, whenever possible. In contrast, any other petition, including a petition that challenges the computation of time served,

CLCCRT – Clark County Court; CCDC – Clark County Detention Center; ECC – Ely Conservation
Camp; ESP – Ely State Prison; HDSP – High Desert State Prison; LCC – Lovelock Correctional Center;
NNCC – Northern Nevada Correctional Center; NVB – Nevada Boarder; SDCC – Southern Desert
Correctional Center; SCC – Steward Conservation Camp; TCC – Tonopah Conservation Camp; WCC – Wells Conservation Camp.

must be filed as a separate action “with the clerk of the district court for the county in which the petitioner is incarcerated.”

(Emphasis added.)

Holmes alleges NDOC did not appropriately apply presentence credits to his sentences. Therefore, pursuant to NRS 34.738, his petition must be filed in the county of incarceration, namely in Carson City and the First Judicial District Court. Pursuant to NRS 34.738(2)(b), Respondent requests this Court order the Clerk of the Eighth Judicial District Court to transfer Holmes' petition to the Clerk of the District Court of the First Judicial District in Carson City.

CONCLUSION

This Court should transfer Holmes' Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus to the county where he is incarcerated for disposition.

DATED September 14, 2021.

IN THE FIRST JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA
IN AND FOR CARSON CITY

KEVIN HOLMES,

Petitioner,

vs.

WARDEN W.S.C.C.,

Respondent.

ORDER TO PROCEED IN FORMA PAUPERIS

ORDER DENYING REQUEST FOR ATTORNEY

ORDER FOR THE OFFICE OF THE NEVADA ATTORNEY GENERAL TO RESPOND

This matter comes before the Court pursuant to a Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus, Motion for Leave to Proceed in Forma Pauperis, and Affidavit in Support of Request to Proceed in Forma Pauperis, filed by Petitioner on August 10, 2021, in the Eighth Judicial District Court of the State of Nevada. On October 19, 2021, an Order was issued by the Eighth Judicial District Court transferring the instant matter to the First Judicial District Court. The Affidavit in Support of Request to Proceed in Forma Pauperis includes averments regarding the Petitioner's income, property and resources. This Court, deeming itself fully advised of the matter, hereby enters its Judgment as follows:

NRS 34.750(2) provides that if the Court determines that the Petitioner is unable to pay all necessary costs and expenses, the costs must be paid from money appropriated to the Office of the State Public Defender for that payment. Here, it is apparent from the Affidavit in Support of Request to Proceed in Forma Pauperis that Petitioner has no monies.

In his Affidavit in Support of Request to Proceed in Forma Pauperis, Petitioner requested that this Court appoint him an attorney to represent him. NRS 34.750(1) gives this Court

1 discretion to deny or appoint counsel to an indigent in post-conviction proceedings. The Court is
2 required to consider the severity of the consequences facing the Petitioner, the difficulty of issues
3 presented, the ability of the Petitioner to comprehend the proceedings, and the necessity of 4 counsel to proceed with discovery. The issues presented are not difficult and it appears from his 5 pleadings that Petitioner is able to comprehend the proceedings. Only limited discovery is 6 necessary.

7 Lastly, in reviewing the Petitioner's Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus, the Court has 8 concluded that a response would assist this Court.

9 Therefore, good cause appearing,

10 IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the Petitioner's Motion for Leave to Proceed in Forma
11 Pauperis is GRANTED.

12 IT IS HEREBY FURTHER ORDERED that the Petitioner's Motion for Appointment
13 of Counsel Pursuant to NRS 34.750 is DENIED.

14 IT IS HEREBY FURTHER ORDERED that the Office of the Nevada Attorney
15 General shall, within thirty (30) days after the date of this order, answer or otherwise respond to 16 the petition and file a response in accordance with the provisions of NRS 34.150 to 34.310, 17 inclusive.

18 IT IS HEREBY FURTHER ORDERED that the District Court Clerk shall provide a 19 copy of the Petition Writ of Habeas Corpus to the Office of the Nevada Attorney General.

20 IT IS HEREBY FURTHER ORDERED that upon filing said response, Respondent
21 shall file a request for submission with the Clerk to ensure the matter is brought to the attention
22 of the undersigned Judge.

-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------

15
16 WARDEN KYLE OLSEN'S ANSWER

17 Respondent Kyle Olsen (Warden Olsen) answers Kevin Ray Holmes' (Holmes) most recent 18 petition for a writ of habeas corpus. This response is based on the following points and authorities, 19 together with all other pleadings, papers, and exhibits attached hereto and on file herein.

20 POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

21 STATEMENT OF THE CASE

22 Holmes is an inmate in the lawful custody of the Nevada Department of Corrections (NDOC)
23 pursuant to a judgment of conviction entered by the Eighth Judicial District Court in Case Number
24 C129708. See, 12/07/1999 Judgment of Conviction (Exhibit 1).

25 On December 7, 1999, the Eighth Judicial District Court adjudged Holmes guilty of Count I,
26 Murder of the First Degree With Use of a Deadly Weapon, and Count II, Attempted Murder With Use of 27 a Deadly Weapon, crimes which he committed on June 12, 1995. Id. The court sentenced him on Count I
28 to life with the possibility of parole, plus an equal and consecutive term of life with the possibility of

1 parole for the deadly weapon enhancement; and on Count II to 20 years, plus an equal and consecutive
2 term of 20 years for the use of a deadly weapon enhancement, concurrent to Count I. Id.

3 Originally, the Nevada Department of Corrections (NDOC) ran Holmes' two deadly weapon
4 enhancement sentences concurrently, but following a July 28, 2020, ruling by the Nevada Court of 5 Appeals holding that Holmes was entitled to begin serving his deadly weapon enhancement sentence for 6 the attempt murder immediately after he expired the underlying sentence, NDOC adjusted Holmes'
7 sentences. See Status Report filed on 09/14/2020 in Case No. 19 EW 00015 1B (Exhibit 2). Holmes'
8 sentence structure following amendment is as follows:

- 9 • He discharged his underlying sentence for attempt murder, Count II, to his 10 consecutive sentence, use of deadly weapon enhancement, on 6/20/2008. See, 11 Declaration of Kristy Rodriguez attached to Exhibit 2.
- 12 • His parole eligibility date (PED) on the Use of Deadly Weapon Enhancement 13 for Count II, Attempt Murder, is 07/24/2012.¹ Id.
- 14 • He paroled his underlying sentence for murder, Count I, to his consecutive 15 sentence, use of deadly weapon enhancement, on 06/01/2012. Id.
- 16 • He is currently serving his two concurrent deadly weapon enhancement
17 sentences, and his PED for those final two sentences is June 1, 2022.

18 On August 10, 2021, Holmes filed a petition for writ of habeas corpus with the Eighth Judicial 19 District Court, which was transferred to this Court by order dated October 19, 2021. This Court entered an 20 order on October 27, 2021, directing Warden Olsen to file a response within thirty (30) days.

21 Holmes' single claim in this current petition alleges that:

22 At sentencing Mr. Holmes was awarded four (4) years one-hundred sixty (160)
23 days for time served in presentence confinement. Mr. Holmes according to the 24 N.D.O.C.'s credit history report is now serving sentences #1 and #2, murder and 25 attempt murder, for count I and count II. The credit history report does not show 26 that Mr. Holmes has been awarded the pre sentence credit of 4 years, 160 days to 27 these sentences, which is required by the 14th amendment.

28 Petition at 4.

¹ Because the judgment of conviction ordered the two concurrent deadly weapon enhancement sentences to be served concurrently, eligibility for parole is governed by the longer sentence, which is for Count I. NRS 213.1213(1) (Whenever an inmate serves concurrent sentences, "eligibility for parole from any of the concurrent sentences must be based on the sentence which requires the longest period before the prisoner is eligible for parole.")

1 Attached to the Points and Authorities in Support of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus
2 (Points and Authorities), Holmes attaches as Exhibits A and B Credit History Reports, both dated
3 May 2, 2019, for Sentence 1, Count 1 (murder), and Sentence 2, Count 2 (use of a deadly 4 weapon enhancement), respectively.

5 Warden Olsen now answers Holmes' petition.

6 ARGUMENT

7 Holmes appears to have misapprehended his sentence calculations and failed to attach the 8 relevant Credit History Report to his Points and Authorities.

9 First, contrary to the allegations in the petition, Holmes is not currently "serving 10 sentences #1 and #2, murder and attempt murder, for count I and count II". Petition at 4. Rather,
11 Holmes has discharged his underlying sentence for attempt murder, Count II, to his consecutive 12 sentence for use of deadly weapon enhancement and paroled his underlying sentence for murder, 13 Count I, to his consecutive sentence for use of deadly weapon enhancement. See, Declaration of 14 Kristy Rodriguez attached to Exhibit 2.

15 Holmes is currently serving his final two deadly weapon enhancement sentences, 16 concurrently, as ordered in the judgment of conviction. Id.

17 Second, another Credit Report History for Sentence 4, Count: 2, dated May 2, 2019, and 18 attached as an exhibit to the answer filed 05/14/2019 in Case No. 19 EW 00015 1B, which 19 Holmes did not attach to his Points and Authorities, clearly shows that he began receiving credits
20 on "06/23/1995", exactly 4 years and 160 days prior to his sentence date of "11/30/1999". See,
21 Answer filed on 05/14/2019 in Case No. 19 EW 00015 1B (Exhibit 3).

22 Finally, as shown on the one-page "Offender Legal Order" report attached as Exhibit A
23 to the Declaration of Kristy Rodriguez, NDOC properly credited Holmes with 4 years and 160
24 days of pre-sentence credit against his first sentence - attempt murder - as shown by the 25 "Sentence Date" being "11/30/1999" but the "Retro Date" being "06/24/1995". See, Exhibit 2 at

1 CONCLUSION

2 Because the NDOC clearly credited Holmes with 4 years and 160 days of pre-sentence
3 credit as set forth in the judgment of conviction against his first discharged sentence, attempt
4 murder, this Court should deny Holmes's petition for writ of habeas corpus.

13 OFFENDER MANAGEMENT DIVISION,

15 Respondents.

Case No. 19 EW 00015 1B

Dept. No. 1

16 OFFENDER MANAGEMENT DIVISION, N.D.O.C.,
17 STATE OF NEVADA'S, STATUS REPORT

18 Respondent respectfully files this Status Report following receipt and review of the July 28,
19 2020 Order from the Nevada Court of Appeals affirming in part, reversing in part and remanding Kevin Ray Holmes' (Holmes) appeal from the order denying his petition for a writ of habeas corpus.

20 POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

21 Holmes is an inmate in the lawful custody of the Nevada Department of Corrections (NDOC)
22 pursuant to a judgment of conviction entered by the Eighth Judicial District Court in Case Number
23 C129708. Exhibit 1.

24 On December 7, 1999, the Eighth Judicial District Court adjudged Holmes guilty of Count I,
25 Murder of the First Degree With Use of a Deadly Weapon, and Count II, Attempted Murder With Use
26 of a Deadly Weapon, which he committed on June 12, 1995. Id. The court sentenced him on Count I to 27 life with the possibility of parole, plus an equal and consecutive term of life with the possibility of 28 ///

1 parole for the deadly weapon enhancement; and on Count II to 20 years, plus an equal and consecutive
2 term of 20 years for the use of a deadly weapon enhancement, concurrent to Count I. Id.

3 The NDOC originally calculated Holmes' underlying sentences to run consecutively, with the 4 two weapons' enhancements to run consecutively afterwards. Exhibit 2. Thus, because he was not
5 granted parole from the murder in the first-degree sentence until 2012, NDOC did not begin crediting
6 him with service on the two concurrent weapon enhancements sentences until 2012. Exhibit 4. Holmes'
7 projected parole eligibility date on his murder in the first-degree weapon enhancement sentence Petition
8 is June 1, 2022.¹ Id.

9 On April 2, 2019, Holmes filed a petition entitled "Good and Work Time, Meritorious Award
10 Calculations" in which he alleged that the NDOC had not been properly crediting him for statutory 11 good and work time, and/or meritorious award credits. He alleged that, as a result, "he is entitled to a 12 total deduction of 4,560 days, which amount would give him an expiration date of September, 2016."
13 Petition at 2.

14 Holmes also alleged, in a separate section, that he had "discharged the twenty (20) year sentence
15 for count II attempt murder in 2008 and the consecutive enhancement for the use of a deadly weapon in 16 the commission of count II in 2016."

17 Respondent answered Holmes's petition, arguing that claims regarding discharged or paroled
18 sentences are moot. See Johnson v. Dir., Nev. Dep't of Prisons, 105 Nev. 314, 316, 774 P.2d 1047, 1049
19 (1989) (expiration of a defendant's sentence renders any issue concerning computation of the sentence 20 moot). Respondents also argued that Holmes was not entitled to have statutory credits applied against 21 his minimum parole eligibility because he was sentenced under "parole eligibility" statutes; that is, both
22 attempt murder and murder in the first degree required him to serve a minimum sentence before 23 becoming eligible for parole.

24 Respondent also submitted evidence from the NDOC showing that the statutory, work, program
25 and/or meritorious credits which Holmes listed had, in fact, been properly applied against his maximum

26 ///

27 ¹ Whenever an inmate serves concurrent sentences, "eligibility for parole from any of the 28 concurrent sentences must be based on the sentence which requires the longest period before the prisoner is eligible for parole." NRS 213.1213(1).

1 sentences. Accordingly, on May 15, 2019, this Court entered findings of fact, conclusions of law and an
2 order denying the petition.

3 Holmes appealed and on July 28, 2020, the Nevada Court of Appeals issued an order affirming
4 the denial of statutory credits applied to his minimum term. It held "because the controlling sentencing
5 statute required Holmes to serve a minimum term before parole eligibility, see 1991 Nev. Stat., ch. 631,
6 § 1, at 1451, pursuant to NRS 209.446(6)(b), he is not entitled to have credit applied to his minimum
7 term for that sentence." Order at 2.

8 As to the second issue, the Nevada Court of Appeals stated:

10 Holmes also argues the district court erred by denying his claim
11 that NDOC erred by not running the attempted murder DWE from the 12 date he expired his attempted murder sentence. Holmes claimed he 13 expired his attempted murder sentence in 2008, but NDOC did not begin
14 running his consecutive DWE sentence until 2012, when he was paroled
15 from his first degree murder sentence to his first-degree murder DWE
16 sentence.

17 As stated above, we agree with the State with regard to credit
18 toward Holmes parole eligibility. However, Holmes' claim did not relate 19 to parole eligibility but rather to the fact that Holmes expired his 20 attempted murder sentence and should have begun serving the attendant 21 DWE term. While Holmes could not be paroled on the DWE portion of 22 his attempted murder sentence before he was eligible for parole for the 23 DWE portion of his first degree murder sentence, he was entitled to begin 24 serving the DWE portion of his sentence for the attempted murder and 25 earn credit toward his maximum term. Therefore, we conclude the district
26 court erred by denying this claim.

27 Accordingly, we reverse and remand this claim to the district
28 court to hold an evidentiary hearing to determine the correct start date for Holmes' sentence for the attempted murder DWE and to determine the correct amount of credit that should apply to the maximum portion of that sentence.

Order at 2-3.

23 Filed herewith is a Declaration by Kristy Rodriguez, Correctional Case Records Manager for 24 Sentence Management, Program Officer II with the Nevada Department of Corrections. Exhibit 11. It
25 shows that the NDOC has revised Holmes' sentence structure to reflect that Holmes discharged his 26 sentence on Count 2, Attempt Murder, to his consecutive sentence on Count 2, Use of Deadly Weapon
27 Enhancement, on 6/20/2008. See, Exhibit 11. Ms. Rodriguez also revised his records to reflect that 28 Holmes began serving his sentence on the Use of Deadly Weapon Enhancement for Count 2, Attempt

1 Murder, on 6/21/2008. She also changed his parole eligibility date (PED) on the Use of Deadly Weapon
2 Enhancement for Count 2, Attempt Murder, to 07/24/2012 in accordance with footnote 1 on page 1 of 3 the July 28, 2020 Order from the Nevada Court of Appeals.

4 No changes were made to Holmes' sentences on Count 1, Murder in the First Degree. Because
5 Holmes is currently serving his final two concurrent deadly weapon enhancement sentences, eligibility
6 for parole is governed by the longer sentence, which is for Count 1. See, NRS 213.1213(1). Thus,
7 Holmes' next available parole eligibility date remains 06/01/2022.

8 CONCLUSION

9 Respondents have worked with NDOC to comply with the July 28, 2020 Order from the Nevada
10 Court of Appeals affirming in part, reversing in part and remanding Holmes' appeal in this case. The 11 declaration submitted complies with all provisions in that Order. Ms. Rodriguez will be present at the 12 September 24, 2020 evidentiary hearing which the Court has scheduled on this matter to answer any 13 further questions.

14 RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED this 14th day of September, 2020.

10 KEVIN RAY HOLMES,

11 Petitioner,

12 vs.

13 OFFENDER MANAGEMENT DIVISION
14 N.D.O.C. STATE OF NEVADA,

15 Respondent.

Case No. 19 EW 00015 1B

Dept. No. 1

16 ANSWER

17 Respondent answers Kevin Ray Holmes' (Holmes) petition for a writ of habeas corpus. This 18 response is based on the following points and authorities, together with all other pleadings, papers, and 19 exhibits attached hereto and on file herein.

20 POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

21 STATEMENT OF THE CASE

22 Holmes is an inmate in the lawful custody of the Nevada Department of Corrections (NDOC)
23 pursuant to a judgment of conviction entered by the Eighth Judicial District Court in Case Number
24 C129708. Exhibit 1.

25 On December 7, 1999, the Eighth Judicial District Court adjudged Holmes guilty of Count I,
26 Murder of the First Degree With Use of a Deadly Weapon, and Count II, Attempted Murder With Use
27 of a Deadly Weapon, which he committed on June 12, 1995. Exhibit 1. The court sentenced him on 28 Count I to life with the possibility of parole, plus an equal and consecutive term of life with the

1 possibility of parole for the deadly weapon enhancement; and on Count II to 20 years, plus an equal and
2 consecutive term of 20 years for the use of a deadly weapon enhancement, concurrent to Count I. Id.

3 Holmes previously discharged his underlying sentence for Count II. Exhibit 2. He was granted
4 parole on the underlying sentence for Count I in 2012, and began serving the two concurrent weapon
5 enhancements. Exhibit 4. Holmes' projected parole eligibility date on his final sentences is June 1,
6 2022.¹ Id. He has a parole expiration date on the deadly weapon enhancement for Count II of June 10,
7 2026. Exhibit 2. As the weapon enhancement on Count I is a life sentence, there is no projected 8 expiration date. Id.

9 On April 2, 2019, Holmes filed a petition in which he alleges that the NDOC has not been
10 properly crediting Holmes for statutory good and work time, and/or meritorious award credits. Petition 11 at 1. He alleges that, as a result, "he is entitled to a total deduction of 4,560 days, which amount would 12 give him an expiration date of September, 2016." Id. at 2.

13 Respondent answers Holmes's petition.

14 I. Holmes's Claims Regarding His Discharged or Paroled Sentences are Moot.

15 Holmes has already discharged his underlying sentence on Count II and paroled from his 16 underlying sentence on Count I. Exhibit 2. Therefore, any allegations regarding the calculation or 17 application of statutory credits on those underlying sentences are moot. See Johnson v. Dir., Nev. Dep't
18 of Prisons, 105 Nev. 314, 316, 774 P.2d 1047, 1049 (1989) (expiration of a defendant's sentence renders 19 any issue concerning computation of the sentence moot).

20 As explained in Williams v. State, 133 Nev. ___, 402 P.3d 1260, 1265 fn. 7 (2017):

21 Because the application of credits under NRS 209.4465(7)(b) only serves 22 to make an offender eligible for parole earlier, no relief can be afforded 23 where the offender has already expired the sentence, see Johnson v.
24 Dir., Nev. Dep't of Prisons, 105 Nev. 314, 316, 774 P.2d 1047, 1049
25 (1989) (providing that "any question as to the method of computing" a 26 sentence is rendered moot when the sentence is expired), or appeared
27 before the parole board on the sentence, see Niergarth v. Warden, 105 28 Nev. 26, 29, 768 P.2d 882, 883-84 (1989) (recognizing no statutory authority or caselaw allowing for retroactive grant of parole).

¹ Whenever an inmate serves concurrent sentences, "eligibility for parole from any of the concurrent sentences must be based on the sentence which requires the longest period before the prisoner is eligible for parole." NRS 213.1213(1).

(Emphasis added.) Any challenges to the application of credits to Holmes's discharged sentence on Claim I or paroled sentence on Claim II are therefore moot.

II. With Regard to his Active Sentences, Holmes is Not Entitled to Have Statutory Credits Applied Against His Minimum Parole Eligibility.

Because Holmes committed his offenses on June 12, 1995, calculation of his parole eligibility is controlled by NRS 209.446 and NRS 213.120(2) as they existed at that time. See, State v. Second Judicial Dist. Court ex rel. County of Washoe, 124 Nev. 564, 566, 188 P.3d 1079, 1081 (2008) ("Nevada law requires the application of the law in effect at the time of the commission of a crime.")

In 1995, NRS 209.446(6) permitted application of time-credits "to eligibility for parole unless the offender was sentenced pursuant to a statute which specifies a minimum sentence that must be served before a person becomes eligible for parole." 1993 Nev. Stat., ch. 83, §3, at 136 (emphasis added).

Holmes' weapons enhancement sentence on his first-degree murder charge is his controlling sentence. See supra footnote 1. In 1995, NRS 193.165 provided that use of a firearm in the commission of a crime "shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a term equal to and in addition to the term of imprisonment prescribed by statute for such crime. The sentence prescribed by this section shall run consecutively with the sentence prescribed by statute for such crime." 1991 Nev. Stat., ch. 403, §6, at 1059. On June 12, 1995, NRS 200.030(4)(b) provided that a person convicted of first-degree murder could be punished:

. . . by imprisonment in the state prison for life with or without possibility of parole. If the penalty is fixed at life imprisonment with possibility of parole, eligibility for parole begins when a minimum of 10 years has been served.

1989 Nev. Stat., ch. 631, §1, at 1451 (emphasis added).²

As the Nevada Supreme Court recently affirmed, when an inmate has been sentenced to an equal and consecutive deadly weapon enhancement on a murder charge, "NRS 193.165(1) expressly relied on the sentencing statute for the primary offense to set the sentence for the weapon enhancement.” Perez v. Williams, 2019 WL 1253397, 435 P.3d 1226 (Nev. Mar. 15, 2019)(unpublished) (Exhibit 9). Thus, where life with parole after a minimum sentence must be served has been imposed, the inmate has been sentenced “pursuant to a statute that specified a minimum sentence”. Id.

² See also Howard v. Sandie, 2017 WL 6547856, 408 P.3d 555 (Nev. Dec. 14, 2017)(unpublished) (Exhibit 8) (applying credits pursuant to Williams to inmates whose sentences fall within the calculation of NRS 209.446(6)(b)).

Because Holmes was sentenced under NRS 200.030(4)(b)(2), which required him to serve a minimum sentence of 10 years before becoming eligible for parole, Holmes’s deadly weapon enhancement falls squarely within the meaning of NRS 209.446(6) as it is was made under a “parole-eligibility” statute. He is unequivocally prohibited from having any statutory credits earned applied to his minimum terms.

III. The NDOC Has Properly Applied All Statutory, Work, Program And/Or Meritorious Credits To Which Holmes Is Entitled Against His Maximum Sentences.

In the petition, Holmes alleges that, due to the NDOC’s calculation errors, he is entitled to:

... ten (10) days for each month he serves, in accordance with the stipulation of NRS 209.446(1)(a) which total 2,280 days, and an additional ten (10) days per month for diligence in labor and/or study pursuant to subsection 2, which in petitioner’s case amounts to 2,280 days; since petitioner has made every effort to diligently labor and/or study during the following period of time the year 2000, to the year 2019. Therefore this petitioner believes that he is entitled to a total deduction of 4,560 days, which amount would give him an expiration date of September, 2016. Petitioner is entitled to deductions in the amount of 111 days for meritorious award credits for the completion of the following merit credit programs High-school diplomas; College certificate of Achievement; Commitment to change I; Commitment to change II; Commitment to change III, thus giving petitioner an expiration date of September, 2016.

Petition 1-2. Although Holmes is incorrect that application of statutory credits would “give him an expiration date of September, 2016” because they are only applied against his maximum sentences, he is entitled to have all such credits properly recorded.

Attached as Exhibits 4, 5, 6 and 7 are current Credit History Reports for each of Holmes’s sentences, showing that the NDOC has properly credited Holmes’ maximum sentences with all appropriate credits, including the specific educational credits listed. Holmes therefore fails to establish that he is entitled to any relief.

1 A. Holmes Received 10 Hours Of Statutory “Good Time” Credits For Every Month He
2 Was Incarcerated, Applied Against His Maximum Sentences.

3 Holmes commenced serving his concurrent sentences for both Counts I and Count II on June 23,
4 1995. Exhibits 4, 5. The Credit Histories show that the NDOC began subtracting “stat” or “good time”
5 credits of ten (10) hours per month from Holmes’s “Days Remaining” for each month that he was 6 incarcerated, commencing in June of 1995. Id. These monthly “good time” credits of ten (10) hours per 7 month continued through his discharge of the underlying sentence on Count II, Exhibit 5, and continue
8 through the present on his life sentence for the underlying sentence on Count I. Exhibit 4 at 22.

9 Holmes is now serving his final two sentences, the weapon enhancement sentences for both 10 Counts I II. Exhibits 6, 7. These Credit Histories show that the NDOC began subtracting “stat” or 11 “good time” credits of ten (10) hours per month from Holmes’s “Days Remaining” for each month that 12 he was incarcerated, commencing in June of 2012 when he was granted parole on his life sentence for 13 Count I, first-degree murder. Exhibit 6. These monthly awards continue. Id. at 6.

14 The burden is upon the petitioner to prove his claims for relief. Hargrove v. State, 100 Nev. 498,
15 502-03, 686 P.2d 222, 225 (1984). Holmes fails to establish that the NDOC is not properly apply
16 statutory “good time” credits of ten (10) hours per month to his maximum sentences. Moreover, his 17 assertion that application of statutory credits “would give him an expiration date of September, 2016”
18 is simply incorrect because Holmes is not entitled to have any statutory credits applied to reduce his 19 minimum sentences pursuant to the language NRS 209.446(6). See Section II, supra.

20 B. All “Work” Credits To Which Holmes Is Entitled Were Properly Applied Against His
21 Maximum Sentences.

22 Holmes alleges he is entitled to “an additional ten (10) days per month for diligence in labor
23 and/or study pursuant to subsection 2, which in petitioner’s case amounts to 2,280 days; since petitioner
24 has made every effort to diligently labor and/or study during the following period of time the year 2000,
25 to the year 2019.” Petition at 1. The NDOC has awarded 10 credits per month for every month in which 26 Holmes actually worked. See, Exhibits 4, 5, 6, 7 (showing 10 days per month awarded or, in months 27 where he did not, “reduction for not working”).

28 An inmate has no guarantee that he will be able to earn work credits against his sentence through employment while in prison. See Toussaint v. McCarthy, 801 F.2d 1080, 1094 (9th Cir.

1 1986)(finding no "absolute right to participate in work programs"); Neal v. Hargrave, 770 F. Supp.
2 553, 557 (D. Nev. 1991)("no due process liberty interest in his good time work credits"); Cooper v.
3 Sumner, 672 F. Supp. 1361, 1367 (D. Nev. 1987)("Nevada statutes merely create possibility of early 4 release through work good time credits").

5 In Wilson v. Demosthenes, 972 F.2d 1348 (9th Cir. 1992), Wilson argued he was deprived of his 6 constitutional rights when he could not participate in educational and work programs for the first four 7 months following his transfer to Ely State Prison. The Ninth Circuit held:

8 An inmate has no due process liberty interest in "work good time credits"
9 unless state law creates such an interest. See Greenholtz v. Inmates of the 10 Nebraska Penal and Correctional Complex, 442 U.S. 1, 8-11 (1979);
11 Toussaint v. McCarthy, 801 F.2d 1080, 1094 (9th Cir.1986), cert. denied,
12 481 U.S. 1069 (1987). State statutes or regulations which create only a 13 possibility of early release through work good time credits do not create a 14 liberty interest. See Greenholtz, 442 U.S. at 8-11; Baumann v. Arizona Dep't of Corrections, 754 F.2d 841, 844 (9th Cir.1985) (possibility of parole creates a hope of, not a liberty interest in, early release). Accord Cooper v. Sumner, 672 F.Supp. 1361, 1367 (D.Nev.1987) (Nevada statutes merely create possibility of early release through work good time credits). Because the Nevada statutes and regulations make the grant of work good time credits discretionary, they do not create a liberty interest.

16 The burden is upon the petitioner to prove his claims for relief. Hargrove, 100 Nev. at 502-03.
17 Holmes does not establish that the NDOC failed to properly apply work credits to his maximum 18 sentences when he actually worked and therefore this claim fails.

19 C. All Program Educational Credits Which Holmes Describes Were Applied Against His
20 Maximum Sentences.

21 Holmes alleges he is owed "111 days" credit for the completion of the following merit programs
22 "High-school diplomas; College certificate of Achievement; Commitment to change I; Commitment to 23 change II; Commitment to change III". Petition at 2. However, as reflected on Exhibit 6, the NDOC
24 awarded Holmes the following credits against his maximum sentences for completion of educational 25 courses:

Holmes therefore received all the educational credits which he lists as missing. His claim is therefore without merit.

CONCLUSION

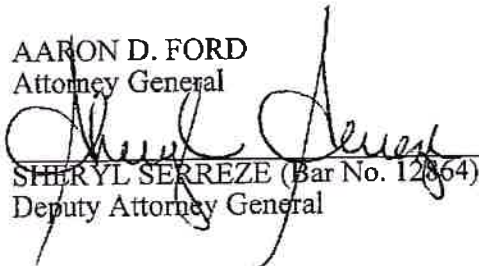

Because Holmes was sentenced under a "parole-eligibility" statute, he is not eligible to have statutory credits applied against his minimum sentences to reduce his parole eligibility date pursuant to the language NRS 209.446(6). See, Perez v. Williams, 2019 WL 1253397, 435 P.3d 1226 (Nev. 2019)(unpublished)(holding that an equal and consecutive deadly weapon enhancement on a murder charge is itself a "parole-eligibility" sentence).

Further, the NDOC has established that all statutory, work, program and/or meritorious credits to which Holmes is entitled were properly applied against his maximum sentences. Based on the foregoing, this Court should deny Holmes's petition for writ of habeas corpus.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED this 14th day of May, 2019.

The PEXD is the 'Projected Expiration Date', as such it is a projected date, and should only be considered an approximation of the actual release date. When NDOC staff have determined the actual release date, the offender's release caseworker will be informed. Entries in Blue are future credits that have not been earned yet.

The PEXD is the 'Projected Expiration Date', as such it is a projected date, and should only be considered an approximation of the actual release date. When NDOC staff have determined the actual release date, the offender's release caseworker will be informed. Entries in Blue are future credits that have not been earned yet.

The PEXD is the "Projected Expiration Date", as such it is a projected date, and should only be considered an approximation of the actual release date. When NDOC staff have determined the actual release date, the offender's release caseworker will be informed. Entries in Blue are future credits that have not been earned yet.

The PEXD is the 'Projected Expiration Date', as such it is a projected date, and should only be considered an approximation of the actual release date. When NDOC staff have determined the actual release date, the offender's release caseworker will be informed. Entries in Blue are future credits that have not been earned yet.

The PEXD is the 'Projected Expiration Date', as such it is a projected date, and should only be considered an approximation of the actual release date. When NDOC staff have determined the actual release date, the offender's release caseworker will be informed. Entries in Blue are future credits that have not been earned yet.

The PEXD is the "Projected Expiration Date", as such it is a projected date, and should only be considered an approximation of the actual release date. When NDOC staff have determined the actual release date, the offender's release caseworker will be informed. Entries in Blue are future credits that have not been earned yet.

The PEXD is the 'Projected Expiration Date', as such it is a projected date, and should only be considered an approximation of the actual release date. When NDOC staff have determined the actual release date, the offender's release caseworker will be informed. Entries in Blue are future credits that have not been earned yet.

ORDER VACATING JUDGMENT AND REMANDING

This is a pro se appeal from a district court order denying a postconviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Eleventh Judicial District Court, Pershing County; Jim C. Shirley, Judge.

Appellant Ronald Howard argues that the credits he has earned pursuant to NRS 209.446 must be applied to his parole eligibility as provided in NRS 209.446(6)(b). That provision states that credits earned under NRS 209.446 “[a]pply to eligibility for parole unless the offender was sentenced pursuant to a statute which specifies a minimum sentence which must be served before a person becomes eligible for parole.” NRS 209.446(6)(b). We recently held that credits apply to parole eligibility under similar language in NRS 209.4465(7)(b) where the offender was sentenced pursuant to a statute that requires a minimum term of not less than a set number of years but does not expressly mention parole eligibility. Williams v. State, 133 Nev., Adv. Op. 75 at 4-10, __ P.3d __ (2017).¹ Howard is currently serving a sentence pursuant to such a statute for lewdness with a child under the age of 14 years. See NRS 201.230(1) (1995). The district court, which did not have the benefit of our decision in Williams, erred to the extent it concluded that the sentencing statute required Howard to serve the minimum term imposed before being eligible for parole.

¹Having considered Howard’s pro se brief and given our decision in Williams, we conclude that a response is not necessary. NRAP 46A(c). This appeal therefore has been submitted for decision based on the pro se brief and the record. See NRAP 34(f)(3).

The district court also focused on NRS 213.120(2) (1995), which provided that: "[a]ny credits earned to reduce [a prisoner's] sentence pursuant to chapter 209 of NRS while the prisoner serves the minimum term of imprisonment may reduce only the maximum term of imprisonment imposed and must not reduce the minimum term of imprisonment." That provision conflicts with NRS 209.446(6)(b). We considered the same conflict between NRS 213.120(2) (1995) and NRS 209.4465(7)(b) in Williams. There, we observed that NRS 209.4465(7)(b) would control under the implied repeal canon of statutory construction because it was enacted after NRS 213.120(2) (1995). Williams, 133 Nev., Adv. Op. 75 at 12. The same cannot be said with respect to NRS 209.446(6) because it was enacted in 1985, see 1985 Nev. Stat., ch. 615, § 1, at 1924-25, making NRS 213.120(2) (1995) more recent in time. The implied repeal canon, however, "is heavily disfavored, and [this court] will not consider a statute to be repealed by implication unless there is no other reasonable construction of the two statutes." Washington v. State, 117 Nev. 735, 739, 30 P.3d 1134, 1137 (2001), cited with approval in Williams, 133 Nev., Adv. Op. 75 at 11. As explained in Williams, there is another reasonable construction of the two statutes using the general/specific canon. 133 Nev., Adv. Op. 75 at 11-12. Under that canon, the more specific statute is construed as an exception to the general statute. Id. In Williams, we determined that NRS 213.120(2) (1995) was the more general statute with its blanket prohibition against the application of credits to all minimum sentences whereas NRS 209.4465(7)(b) was the more specific statute. Id. at 11-12 & n.8. The same is true here given that NRS 209.446(6)(b) is identical to NRS 209.4465(7)(b). We therefore conclude that NRS 209.446(6)(b) sets forth an exception to NRS 213.120(2) (1995).

For the reasons stated above, we conclude that pursuant to NRS 209.446(6)(b), the credits that Howard has earned pursuant to NRS 209.446 apply to his parole eligibility for the sentence he is serving. The district court erred in ruling to the contrary.² We therefore

ORDER OF AFFIRMANCE

This is an appeal from a district court order denying Gerardo Perez's postconviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus. Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Linda Marie Bell, Judge.

Perez is serving a sentence for using a deadly weapon in the commission of a second-degree murder in 2003. In the postconviction petition filed in district court, Perez challenged the computation of time he has served. He claimed, in relevant part, that the credits he earns under NRS 209.4465 must be applied to the minimum term of his enhancement sentence. The district court rejected that argument, concluding that the applicable sentencing statute specified a minimum term that Perez had to serve before becoming eligible for parole and therefore NRS 209.4465(7)(b) precluded respondent from applying the statutory credits to the minimum term of Perez's enhancement sentence. Perez argues that the district court erred because the sentencing statute is silent as to parole eligibility.¹ We disagree.

¹Perez has not raised any issues related to the other computation claims in his petition.

NRS 209.4465(7)(b) provides that statutory credits may be applied to the minimum term of an offender's sentence "unless the offender was sentenced pursuant to a statute which specifies a minimum sentence that must be served before a person becomes eligible for parole."² (Emphasis added.) Pointing to NRS 193.165 as the statute under which he was sentenced for the weapon enhancement, Perez argues that it says nothing about parole eligibility and that the parole-eligibility requirement in the sentencing statute for the primary offense should not be read into NRS 193.165 because this court has said that the sentence for the primary offense and the sentence for a weapon enhancement are "separate and distinct," Nev., Dep't Prisons v. Bowen, 103 Nev. 477, 481, 745 P.2d 697, 699 (1987).

When interpreting a statute, we focus on its plain language. State v. Lucero, 127 Nev. 92, 95, 249 P.3d 1226, 1228 (2011). At the time of the offense, NRS 193.165(1) expressly relied on the sentencing statute for the primary offense to set the sentence for the weapon enhancement. 1995 Nev. Stat., ch. 455, § 1, at 1431; see also State v. Second Judicial Dist. Court (Pullin), 124 Nev. 564, 188 P.3d 1079 (2008) (holding that the 2007 amendments to NRS 193.165 do not apply to offenses committed before its effective date). In particular, it required that the enhancement sentence be "equal to . . . the term of imprisonment prescribed by statute for the crime" during which the weapon was used. 1995 Nev. Stat., ch. 455, § 1, at 1431. We conclude that the statute's plain language incorporated the sentence ²The exceptions to NRS 209.4465(7) that are set forth in NRS 209.4465(8) do not apply here because the offense at issue was committed before the effective date of NRS 209.4465(8). See Williams v. Nev., Dep't of Corr., 133 Nev., Adv. Op. 75, 402 P.3d 1260, 1261 n.1 (2017).

prescribed by statute for the primary offense. Bowen does not undermine that interpretation. The holding in Bowen that the primary-offense sentence and enhancement sentence are “separate and distinct” does not mean that those sentences are prescribed by separate and distinct statutes. Take a simple example: consecutive sentences for multiple counts of robbery are “separate and distinct” sentences, yet they are prescribed by the same statute. Considering the plain language of NRS 193.165(1) before the 2007 amendments, we conclude that the relevant sentencing statute for purposes of NRS 209.4465(7)(b) is the one that prescribed the sentence for the primary offense.³

Here, NRS 200.030(5) prescribed the sentence for the primary offense of second-degree murder: either life with the possibility of parole or a definite term of 25 years, both “with eligibility for parole beginning when a minimum of 10 years has been served.” NRS 200.030(5)(a), (b) (emphasis added). Perez therefore was sentenced for the weapon enhancement pursuant to a statute that specified a minimum sentence—10 years—that he had to serve before becoming eligible for parole on the enhancement sentence. See Williams, 133 Nev., Adv. Op. 75, 402 P.3d at 1262-63 (explaining difference between parole-eligibility statutes, which “delineate a ‘[maximum sentence], with eligibility for parole beginning when a minimum of [x] years has been served,’” and minimum-maximum sentencing statutes, which are silent as to parole eligibility). As such, NRS 209.4465(7)(b) precludes respondent from applying Perez's statutory credits to the minimum term of his weapon enhancement sentence.⁴ The district court did not err in so holding and thus denying the postconviction habeas petition. We therefore

³The analysis is different under NRS 193.165(1) as amended in 2007 because those amendments eliminated the “equal” sentence language and replaced it with minimum-maximum penalties that do not mention parole eligibility. Those amendments do not apply here. Pullin, 124 Nev. at 572, 188 P.3d at 1084.

ORDER the judgment of the district court AFFIRMED.

⁴Perez's reliance on our unpublished decision in Garcia v. Baca, Docket No. 70874, is misplaced. That case involved a weapon enhancement sentence where the statute that prescribed the sentence for the primary offense did not specify a term that the offender had to serve before becoming eligible for parole. But notably, we looked to the statute that prescribed the sentence for the primary offense to determine whether NRS 209.4465(7)(b) allowed the offender's statutory credits to be applied to the minimum term of the enhancement sentence—the same as we do here.

IN AND FOR THE CARSON CITY

KEVIN RAY HOLMES, Petitioner, vs. WARDEN W.S.C.C., Respondent.	Case No. 21 EW 00027 1B Dept. No. 1
--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------------------

FINDINGS OF FACT, CONCLUSIONS OF LAW AND ORDER DENYING PETITION

THIS MATTER comes before the Court on petitioner Kevin Ray Holmes' (Holmes) state habeas petition. This Court has reviewed all pleadings, documents and exhibits on file in the above-entitled matter. Based on this review, the Court makes the following findings of fact, conclusions of law, and order.

FINDINGS OF FACT

Holmes is currently incarcerated with the Nevada Department of Corrections (NDOC) pursuant to a Judgment of Conviction entered on December 7, 1999, by the Eighth Judicial District Court in Case Number CI29708. The court adjudged Holmes guilty of Count I, Murder of the First Degree With Use of a Deadly Weapon; and Count II, Attempted Murder With Use of a Deadly Weapon, both committed on June 12, 1995. The court sentenced him on Count I to life with the possibility of parole, plus an equal and consecutive term of life with the possibility of parole for the deadly weapon enhancement; and on Count II to a concurrent term of 20 years, plus an equal and consecutive term of 20 years for the use of a deadly weapon enhancement

1 Holmes previously discharged his underlying sentence for Count II, and paroled from his
2 underlying sentence for Count I. He is currently serving his final two concurrent sentences for the
3 weapon enhancements on both Counts I and II. Holmes' projected parole eligibility date on his final
4 concurrent sentences is June 1, 2022.

5 On August 10, 2021, Holmes filed a petition for writ of habeas corpus raising a single claim:
6 that the Nevada Department of Corrections (NDOC) failed to properly apply the pre-sentence credit
7 awarded in the judgment of conviction of 4 years, 160 days to his sentences. Petition at 4.

8 This Court ordered Respondent Kyle Olsen (Warden Olsen) to answer or otherwise respond to 9 the petition. Thereafter, Warden Olsen filed an answer to Holmes's petition.

10 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

11 NRS 34.720(2) authorizes the filing of a post-conviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus that
12 challenges the computation of time a petitioner has served pursuant to a judgment of conviction.

13 In support of Holmes' allegations that the NDOC failed to properly apply his pre-sentence
14 credits, Holmes filed Points and Authorities in Support of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus, which 15 attached as Exhibits A and B two Credit History Reports, both dated May 2, 2019, which were attached
16 as exhibits to an answer filed on 05/14/2019 in Case No. 19 EW 00015 1B.

17 Holmes did not attach the last Credit History Report attached to that answer for Sentence 4,
18 Count 2, which shows that he began receiving credits on "06/23/1995", exactly 4 years and 160 days
19 prior to his sentence date of "11/30/1999". Warden Olsen provided a copy of that Credit History
20 Report, as well as the one-page "Offender Legal Order" report which shows that Holmes' "Sentence
21 Date" for Count 2, attempt murder, is "11/30/1999" while it's "Retro Date" was "06/24/1995" – exactly 22 4 years, 160 days.

23 Respondent Warden Olsen submitted evidence sufficient to find that the NDOC has properly
24 applied the pre-sentence credit awarded in the judgment of conviction of 4 years, 160 days to Holmes'
25 first sentence served, Count 2, attempt murder.

11 NRS 34.720(2) authorizes the filing of a post-conviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus that

16 Holmes did not attach the last Credit History Report attached to that answer for Sentence 4,
17 Count II, which shows that he began receiving credits on "06/23/1995," exactly 4 years and 160 days

22 Ultimately, this evidence submitted by Respondent Warden Olsen is sufficient to support this
23 Court's determination that the NDOC has properly applied the pre-sentence credit awarded in the
24 judgment of conviction of 4 years, 160 days to Holmes' first sentence served, Count II, attempt murder.

ORDER DENYING PETITION

THIS MATTER comes before the Court on petitioner, Kevin Ray Holmes' (Holmes) state habeas petition. This Court, having carefully reviewed all pleadings, documents, and exhibits on file in the above-entitled matter, hereby makes the following findings of fact, conclusions of law:

FINDINGS OF FACT

Holmes is currently incarcerated with the Nevada Department of Corrections (NDOC) pursuant to a Judgment of Conviction entered on December 7, 1999, by the Eighth Judicial District Court. See Case Number C129708. The court adjudged Holmes guilty of Count I, Murder of the First Degree With Use of a Deadly Weapon; and Count II, Attempted Murder With Use of a Deadly Weapon, both of which were committed by Holmes on June 12, 1995. The court sentenced him on Count I to life with the possibility of parole, plus an equal and consecutive term of life with the possibility of parole for the deadly weapon enhancement; and on Count II to a concurrent term of 20 years, plus an equal and consecutive term of 20 years for the use of a deadly weapon enhancement.

1 Holmes previously discharged his underlying sentence for Count II, and paroled from his
2 underlying sentence for Count I. He is currently serving his final two concurrent sentences for the
3 weapon enhancements on both Counts I and II. Holmes' projected parole eligibility date on his final
4 concurrent sentences is June 1, 2022. On August 10, 2021, Holmes filed a petition for writ of habeas
5 corpus raising a single claim: that the Nevada Department of Corrections (NDOC) failed to properly
6 apply the pre-sentence credit awarded in the judgment of conviction of 4 years, 160 days to his 7 sentences. Petition at 4. Subsequently, this Court ordered Respondent Kyle Olsen (Warden Olsen) to 8 answer or otherwise respond to the Petition. Thereafter, Warden Olsen filed an answer to Holmes's 9 petition.

10 CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

11 NRS 34.720(2) authorizes the filing of a post-conviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus that
12 challenges the computation of time a petitioner has served pursuant to a judgment of conviction. In 13 support of Holmes' allegations that the NDOC failed to properly apply his pre-sentence credits, Holmes
14 filed Points and Authorities in Support of Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus, which included two 15 Credit History Reports as Exhibits A and B, both dated May 2, 2019.¹

16 Holmes did not attach the last Credit History Report attached to that answer for Sentence 4,
17 Count II, which shows that he began receiving credits on "06/23/1995," exactly 4 years and 160 days
18 prior to his sentence date of "11/30/1999." Accordingly, Warden Olsen provided a copy of that Credit
19 History Report, as well as the one-page "Offender Legal Order" report, demonstrating that Holmes'
20 "Sentence Date" for Count II, attempt murder, is "11/30/1999" while it's "Retro Date" was 21 "06/24/1995"—exactly 4 years, 160 days.

22 Ultimately, this evidence submitted by Respondent Warden Olsen is sufficient to support this
23 Court's determination that the NDOC has properly applied the pre-sentence credit awarded in the
24 judgment of conviction of 4 years, 160 days to Holmes' first sentence served, Count II, attempt murder.
25 Thus, Holmes' Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus shall be denied based on proper application of credit
