CLERK OF SUPREME COURT
BY  DEPUTY CLERK

ORDER DENYING MOTION TO COMPEL COMPLIANCE

Petitioner has filed an emergency motion seeking to compel compliance with this court's July 14, 2023, order granting his writ petition, in which we directed the clerk of this court to issue a writ of mandamus instructing the Nevada Department of Public Safety, Division of Parole and Probation to recommend petitioner for early discharge of his parole pursuant to NRS 213.1543. The writ doing so was issued on July 17.

According to petitioner, he thereafter received notice that early release was granted effective September 1, seven days earlier than his original expiration date. Petitioner asserts that respondents failed to comply with this court's order because the early release was not dated back to July 2022, when he met the conditions for early release. However, this court's writ directed respondents to recommend him for early release pursuant to the statute, not that he be released early. Accordingly, it appears that respondents complied with the writ, and we deny petitioner's motion to compel compliance.

It is so ORDERED.
