ASSOCIATES D/B/A LARRY PHILLIPS ET AL "HEARING REQUESTED"

If you wish to file a complaint it may be sent by letter, via U.S. Mail or fax to the closest State Bar address listed at the bottom of this section.

An online complaint will be accepted. However, all correspondence from the State Bar will be in writing via US Mail. If you send attachments, you should confirm that they were received. You may be required to send attachments in hard copy.

The Office of Bar Counsel usually completes the initial review of all complaints within ten business days of receipt.

Your correspondence should contain at least the following information:

1. Name of the attorney.
2. A brief description of the nature of the case the attorney was engaged to handle.
3. A chronological review of events, actions, or conversations between you and the named attorney which led you to conclude that the attorney's actions are improper.
4. Copies of letters or documents which serve as material evidence of the allegations you have raised against the attorney.
5. The names, addresses and phone numbers of those persons who have direct knowledge of the allegations you have raised.
6. An acknowledgment of whether you have attempted to first resolve this matter by contacting the attorney directly.

Once we have received your complaint we will review it to determine if there is an issue under the Rules of Professional Conduct. If more information is needed you will be notified. If you have raised an issue under the Rules of Professional Conduct, we will forward a letter to the attorney and direct him or her to respond to our office in writing within ten (10) business days with an explanation. Based on the attorney's response, we will then determine what further investigation might be necessary.

If it is determined that your complaint is basically a fee dispute, we will forward the forms which are utilized for the filing of a complaint with the Fee Dispute Arbitration Committee.

The investigation and review process can take as little as one month or as long as six months or more. You will be kept informed of the status of the matter as it progresses. You should recognize, however, that the Disciplinary Board cannot and does not give legal advice, does not have jurisdiction over damage or malpractice claims against attorneys and cannot alter or affect in any way the outcome of private legal matters in court. If you need additional advice on your case, you must obtain the assistance of your own private attorney.

STATEMENT OF FACTS: Kidnapped from his home in

2. Iowa City. On July 14, 2021, MATTHEW TRAVIS HOUSTON (hereinafter ^{Plaintiff} "Petitioner-Appellant")
3 was abducted from his hotel room at the Best Western located at [REDACTED] 3041
4 St. Rose Parkway in Henderson, Nevada, as he was not served with any sort of
5 summons or WARRANT, nor was told or read that he had any kind of rights. This
6 false arrest prevented Petitioner-Appellant from attending his appointment the very
7 next day at Nevada Retina Specialists, with Dr. Tyson Ward on July 15, 2021, while 8 this continued imprisonment of his person also prevented him from attending his medical 9 disability voting in Reno, Nevada, on August 15, 2021, with Dr. Dwagleri. Both appointments
10 of which had been scheduled by the abductors, SEDAWICK's Dianne Ferrante, and her
11 alleged supervisor, Rosemarie McMorris-Alexander, as was the booking of his room.
12 The Petitioner-Appellant's attempt at release from CDC was intended so that he could 13 search for, and hopefully, retrieve his service animals. However, the now-dismissed counsel, J. Wood
14 and Bernard Little, provided misinformation regarding the lack of a directly-related "City Jail
15 Detainer Hold". Counsel had told Petitioner-Appellant, all the while coercing his client into a 16 potential release from custody, that he did not see a detainer hold - when, in fact, there was.
17 This coercion of the client by his previous representation created a second double-jeopardy -
18 in LAS VEGAS MUNICIPAL COURT #1248374A + #1237802A; with the first being by J. Wood 19 in the EIGHTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT 21-CR-019840 + 21-CR-035713. A. Goldstein NEVER visited Mr.
20 Houston. These traumatic events are a cruel and unusual punishment being inflicted upon an abused
21 and innocent man, who was forced into an involuntary relocation, with unnecessary hardships
22 causing the eviction of his law office located at 435 South Linn Street #927, in Iowa
23 City, Iowa (52240), $36.5 million of property damage and the destruction of his K-9(s).
24 Due to crimes both civil and criminal, not to mention the willful omissions of Rosemarie
25 McMorris-Alexander and Dianne Ferrante, SEDAWICK and the prosecutions' most unlawful use
26 of overreaching tactics in their exploitation of the innocent man has put the Petitioner-Appellant
27 into an unmanageable state of duress, homelessness, and extensive incarceration. Not at any 28 time did Mr. Houston harass, extort, threaten, or "aggravated stalking" ANY of the 29 parties involved with any of his cases, nor did he act aggressively towards any 30 other individual, business or entity. Mr. Houston is a victim of crime. @

Dear Mr. Phillips:

This letter is a demand for payment in the amount of $ 10,001.⁰⁰.

I believe I am owed this amount as a result of the following facts and circumstances: You have failed to refund my inmate account.
In April-May-June of 2022, last summer I had requested to CRAIG MUELLER his assistance in acting as a POWER OF ATTORNEY and also the preparation of legal work not limited to that of a petition for a writ of habeas corpus to which you billed my checking account $10,000.⁰⁰ than caused emotional distress.

You are hereby informed that you have ten (10) days from the date of this letter to pay the demanded amount or to make a satisfactory arrangement with me to fully resolve this matter. In the event this matter is not resolved to my satisfaction, then it is my intent to file an action in Small Claims Court where I will also request that you pay the costs of suit associated with having the matter heard by the court. Please guide yourself accordingly.

Sincerely,

Signed: Matthew Travis Houston

ORDER AFFIRMING IN PART AND DISMISSING IN PART

Matthew Travis Houston appeals from an order of the district court denying a motion to withdraw guilty plea filed on April 13, 2022, a motion requesting to suppress the sentencing hearing filed on April 2, 2022, a motion requesting a hearing and release on to intensive supervision filed on April 6, 2022, and a motion requesting an appearance by telephone or video conference filed on April 18, 2022. Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County; Elham Roohani, Judge.

In his motion to withdraw guilty plea, Houston alleged persons stole his dogs, contended he suffers from battered person syndrome and was a victim in a mass shooting incident, contended that the district court and other persons disrespected him, and stated that he did not place phone calls to the victims in this matter. Houston's motion challenges his judgment of conviction, and he does not allege that he meets the requirements of NRS 34.724(3). Therefore, Houston's motion should be construed as a postconviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus in accordance with Harris v. State, 130 Nev. 435, 448-49, 329 P.3d 619, 628 (2014). However, Houston's claims were outside the scope of claims permissible in a postconviction petition for a writ of habeas corpus arising from a guilty plea.

See NRS 34.810(1)(a); Gonzales v. State, 137 Nev. 398, 403, 492 P.3d 556, 562 (2021). Therefore, we conclude that the district court did not err by denying the motion.

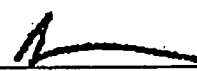

Houston also appeals from the district court's denial of his motion requesting to suppress the sentencing hearing, motion requesting a hearing and release on to intensive supervision, and motion requesting an appearance by telephone or video conference. However, no statute or court rule permits an appeal from an order denying these motions. Therefore, we lack jurisdiction to consider this portion of Houston's appeal. See Castillo v. State, 106 Nev. 349, 352, 792 P.2d 1133, 1135 (1990) (explaining the right to appeal is statutory; where no statute or court rule provides for an appeal, no right to appeal exists). Accordingly, we dismiss this portion of Houston's appeal.

Houston appears to argue on appeal that the district court was biased against him. We conclude that relief is unwarranted because Houston has not demonstrated that the district court's denial of Houston's motions was based on knowledge acquired outside of the proceedings and the decision does not otherwise reflect "a deep-seated favoritism or antagonism that would make fair judgment impossible." Canarelli v. Eighth Judicial Dist. Court, 138 Nev. 104, 107, 506 P.3d 334, 337 (2022) (internal quotation marks omitted) (explaining that unless an alleged bias has its origins in an extrajudicial source, disqualification is unwarranted absent a showing that the judge formed an opinion based on facts introduced during official judicial proceedings and which reflects deep-seated favoritism or antagonism that would render fair judgment impossible); see In re Petition to Recall Dunleavy, 104 Nev. 784, 789, 769 P.2d 1271, 1275 (1988) (providing that rulings made during official judicial proceedings generally “do not establish legally cognizable grounds for disqualification”); see also Rivero v. Rivero, 125 Nev. 410, 439, 216 P.3d 213, 233 (2009) (stating that the burden is on the party asserting bias to establish sufficient factual grounds for disqualification), overruled on other grounds by Romano v. Romano, 138 Nev. 1, 6, 501 P.3d 980, 984 (2022). Therefore, Houston is not entitled to relief based on this claim. Accordingly, we

¹We have reviewed the document that Houston filed with this court on July 25, 2023, and we conclude no relief is warranted.

Further, having reviewed all of the documents Houston has filed in this matter, to the extent Houston attempts to present claims or facts in those submissions which were not previously presented in the proceedings below, we decline to consider them in the first instance. *See McNelton v. "HEARING REQUESTED"

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that it is asked of this court,

"why did the Plaintiff-in-error have to become wrongfully convicted to Fine Benard Little?" Mr. Little submitted his MOTION TO WITHDRAW AS COUNSEL on October 5th, 2021 and during that time a pro se Motion TO DISMISS the frivolous charges was submitted to the clerk. The petitioner-appellant is in opposition to "the state of being without legal significance" of Judge Tierra Jones especially because he still has not been provided the name of the "substitute judge" who appointed Anthony M. Goldstein to properly withdraw petitionerappellant's VOIDED guilty plea. This dereliction of duty has caused nothing more than a miscarriage of justice, adding insult to injury, while defaming the character Page Number: 1 of an innocent man.

RECEIVED

2. Iowa, On July 14, 2021, MATTHEW TRAVIS HOUSTON (hereinafter "Petitioner-Appellant")
3 was abducted from his hotel room at the Best Western located at [REDACTED] 3041
4 St. Rose Parkway in Henderson, Nevada, as he was not served with any sort of
5 summons or WARRANT, nor was told or read that he had any kind of rights. This
6 false arrest prevented Petitioner-Appellant from attending his appointment the very
7 next day at Nevada Retina Specialists, with Dr. Tyson Ward on July 15, 2021, while
8 this continued imprisonment of his person also prevented him from attending his medical 9 disability rating in Reno, Nevada, on August 15, 2021, with Dr. Dwagleri. Both appointments
10 of which had been scheduled by the abductors, SEDAWICK's Dianne Ferrante, and her
11 alleged supervisor, Rosemarie McMorris-Alexander, as was the booking of his room.
12 The Petitioner-Appellant's attempt at release from CENIC was intended so that he could 13 search for, and hopefully, retrieve his service animals. However, the now-dismissed counsel, J. Wood
14 and Bernard Little, provided misinformation regarding the lack of a directly-related "City Jail
15 Detainer Hold". Counsel had told Petitioner-Appellant, all the while coercing his client into a 16 potential release from custody, that he "did not see a detainer hold" - when, in fact, there was.
17 This coercion of the client by his previous representation created a second double-jeopardy -
18 in LAS VEGAS MUNICIPAL COURT #1248354A + #C1237802A; with the first being by J. Wood
19 in the EIGHTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT 21-CR-019840 + 21-CR-035713. A. Goldstein never visited 20 Mr. Houston. These traumatic events are a cruel and unusual punishment being inflicted upon an abused
21 and innocent man, who was forced into an involuntary relocation, with unnecessary hardships
22 causing the eviction of his law office located at 435 South Lion Street #927, in Iowa
23 City, Iowa (52240), $36.5 million of property damage and the destruction of his K-9(s).
24 Due to crimes both civil and criminal, not to mention the willful omissions of Rosemarie
25 McMorris-Alexander and Dianne Ferrante, SEDAWICK and the prosecutions' most unlawful use
26 of overreaching tactics ~~in~~ their exploitation of the innocent man has put the Petitioner-Appellant
27 into an unmanageable state of duress, homelessness, and extensive incarceration. Not at any 28 time ~~did~~ Mr. Houston make any threats or acts of harassment, extortion or 29 aggravated stalking towards any of the parties in Mr. Houston's cases or anybody 30 else. It is in FACT Mr. Houston ~~is~~ the victim of crime.

1 Perhaps a cause of this neglect of duty is the fact
2 that there are other objective factors showing both
3 cause and prejudice as there is much more in this 4 case to blame besides bad lawyering. Additionally, the 5 claim of ineffective aid of counsel was reinforced by the 6 Supreme Court of Nevada's dismissal of DIRECT APPEAL
7 No. 84281 on March 10th, 2022. Had either Anthony
8 M. Goldstein, Jeremy Wood, Benard Little or the attorney 9 from the cases in Las Vegas Municipal Court adhered to 10 any sort of principle than the petitioner-appellant
11 would not have been as prejudiced.

12 Primarily, it is the fact that the judge, prosecution
13 and alleged "victim" in this case are females, causing a 14 sexist bias against the petitioner-appellant who had already, while 15 in a state of trauma been subjected to a double-jeopardy.
16 Not only was petitioner-appellant made victim of sexist 17 bigotry, but he became more of the scapegoat to the evil forces of 18 stereotypical racism after being told by Benard Little that "because 19 he was white, he would not qualify for aid from the Bail Bond Project."

20 Social worker Cassandra Diez, also from the Clark County
21 Public Defender's office, was also a hindrance to justice
22 when she had informed petitioner-appellant that "it would be a 23 conflict of interest if [petitioner-appellant] ^{-you-} authorized Benard
24 Little for someone from their office to act as a POWER
25 OF ATTORNEY so that [petitioner-appellant] ^{-you-} could have the 26 overly-inflated bond paid in full." But why would any of that even 27 matter to the social worker who would not accept complete 28 medical records from all of the petitioner-appellant's team of doctors?

1 PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that it is asked of this court,
2 "is there a state wide conspiracy to conceal the truth
3 about the exploitation of the injured worker(s) from the 4 citizens of Nevada?" There surely must be in the case(s)
5 of Matthew Travis Houston.

6 The temerity of dispute resolution has escalated into the most 7 extreme sort of prejudice, which has been swept under the 8 rug by those individuals causing a broken system. In this 9 case involving Daniel Schwartz, with potential organized criminal 10 operations possibly involving Scott Poisson in the State of Florida, 11 and Alexis Plunkett out of the State of Ohio, the theory of 12 of a conspiracy causing legal, medical and judicial malpractice
13 against the Plaintiff-in-error has been further validated externally
14 to the now dismissed counsel with additional shady characters including 15 but not limited to: Karen Schwartz, Lina Sakalauskas, Gene Porter and 16 both David Jones and Tierra Danielle Jones. External to the 17 procedural errors causing this illegal incarceration is the fact that 18 big business was able to coerce LVMPD into acting as a modern 19 day Gestapo. Therefore it is asked to this court,

20 "a conspiracy is possible... is it not?" In fact, it
21 is no conspiracy that Sedgwick's interest off of the petitioner-22 appellant is making quite a bit of money when not having to 23 pay the injured worker(s) their legally and rightfully 24 entitled benefits. (Now if you please skip ahead to page 49-55) You

1 To date, the Appellant's "PETITION FOR JUDICIAL REVIEW OF 2 THE EVENTS OF DECEMBER 6th, 2021" has been ignored by the 3 courts, even before the illegal arrest of the petitioner-appellant
4 on July 14th, 2021 because judicial ineptitude and procedural 5 mishandlements ought NEVER happen. However, due to particular
6 individuals acts in temerity and carelessness, these errors throw 7 monkeywrenches into particular parts of the machine, therefore 8 preventing the lawful turnings in the wheels of justice from working 9 towards the forces of good, and all that it is of. It is hereby 10 asked to this court, "are these most cruel and inhumane injustices to be 11 accepted by our judicial system and ^{the} people of the State of Nevada?"
12 It was asked by the most falsely accused Appellant, (OFFICIALLY before 13 See # → the 13th of October, 2021) that this case be opposed and completely dismissed, 14 page 49 as proven by the original motion's pages "1-6" which were put on record
15 by the clerk when they were stamped "RECEIVED OCT 2021 CLERK # 49-56
16 OF COURT". The originals are at the offices of Bernard Little, et al 17 who neglected their duties in providing this court with truth, contributing to 18 malpractice and is an additional cause of this wrongful conviction. This error 19 shows the tendency of judicial officers of Las Vegas to parade the 20 elements of oppression and facism. As a result, the Appellant prays 21 that prosecutorial malice, misconduct, wanton disregard and careless neglect
22 be lessened, if not completely eliminated while reading of the observations 23 and the theory of District Attorney Mr. Tim Garrison who is,
24 most unfortunately no longer with us. May he provide this court 25 with motivation in a reminder to all of the call of duty in 26 encouragement to unhinder, repair and more equally balance the 27 scale of justice in the community of Lost Wages, Nevada
28 that is still part of the good 'ol' United States of America:

Interview With District Attorney Jim Garrison

as he is clearly in opposition to government interference:

1 I was with the artillery supporting the division
2 that took Dachau; I arrived there the day
3 after it was taken, when bulldozers were making 4 pyramids of human bodies outside the camp. What 5 I saw there has haunted me ever since. Because 6 the law is my profession, I've always wondered 7 about the judges throughout Germany who sentenced 8 men to jail for picking pockets at a time when 9 their own government was jerking gold from the 10 teeth of men murdered in gas chambers. I'm 11 concerned about all of this because it isn't a 12 German phenomenon; it's a human phenomenon. It
13 can happen here, because there has been no change 14 and there has been no progress and there has 15 been no increase of understanding on the part of 16 men for their fellow man.

18 What worries me deeply, and I have seen it exemplified 19 in this case, is that we in America are in great 20 danger of slowly evolving into a proto-facist state.
21 It will be a ~~different~~ different kind of facist state
22 from the one of the Germans evolved; theirs grew 23 out of depression and promised bread and work, while 24 ours, curiously enough, seems to be emerging from 25 prosperity. But in the final analysis, it's based on 26 power and on the inability to put human goals and 27 human conscience above the dictates of the state.
28 Its origins can be traced in the tremendous

1 war machine we've built since 1945, the "military-
2 industrial complex" that Eisenhower vainly warned
3 us about, which now dominates every aspect of our 4 life. The power of the states and Congress has 5 gradually been abandoned to the Executive Department, 6 because of war conditions; and we've seen the 7 creation of an arrogant, swollen bureaucratic complex
8 totally unfettered by the checks and balances of 9 the Constitution.

11 In a very real and terrifying sense, our Government
12 is the CIA and the Pentagon, with Congress reduced
13 to a debating society. Of course, you can't spot
14 this trend to facism by casually looking around. You 15 can't look for such familiar signs as the swastika, 16 because they won't be there. We won't build 17 Dachaus and Auschwitzes; the clever manipulation of 18 the mass media is creating a concentration camp of the 19 mind that promises to be far more effective in keeping 20 the populace in line. We're not going to wake up one 21 morning and suddenly find ourselves in gray uniforms
22 goose-stepping off to work. But this isn't the test.
23 The test is: What happens to the individual who 24 dissents? In Nazi Germany he was physically 25 destroyed; here, the process is more subtle,
26 but the end results can be the same.

1 I've learned enough about the machinations of the 2 CIA in the past year to know that this is no
3 longer the dream world America I once believed 4 in. The imperatives of the population explosion, 5 which inevitably will lessen our belief in the 6 sanctity of the individual human life, combined
7 with the awesome power of the CIA and the 8 defense establishment, seem destined to seal the 9 fate of the America I knew as a child and bring 10 us into a new Orwellian world where the citizen
11 exists for the state and where raw power justifies 12 any and every immoral act. I've always had a 13 kind of knee-jerk trust in my Government's 14 basic integrity, whatever political blunders it may 15 make. But I've come to realize that in Washington, 16 deceiving and manipulating the public are viewed by 17 some as the natural prerogatives of office. Huey 18 Long once said, "Facism will come to America in the 19 name of anti-facism." I'm afraid, based on my 20 own experience that facism will come to America
21 in the name of national security.

KILLING MACHINE

DID NEVADA'S INNOVATIVE GAS CHAMBER INSPIRE HITLER?

BY SCOTT CHRISTIANSON

On February 8, 1924, in a stone-and-concrete shack that for 40 years had served as the Nevada state prison's barbershop, a Chinese immigrant and convicted killer named Gee Jon became the first person ever executed in a gas chamber. Inside the sealed room two wooden chairs with armrests had been positioned a few feet apart—Gee's accomplice had also been scheduled to die but received a commutation. In front of and between the chairs stood a small metal device that would spray hydrocyanic acid, commercially known as cyanogen. A state spokesman insisted one deep breath by the condemned man would paralyze his lungs, displace the oxygen in his body and cause instant and painless death. Witnesses would be spared any painful outcries.

Prior to the execution, the warden staged a rehearsal with a stray white cat and two kittens. He estimated the cats died within 15 seconds. The test revealed a small leak, which was quickly patched to avert the poisoning of witnesses or staff.

It appeared Gee needed about six minutes to die, though the gas clouding the windows made it difficult to see inside. The warden pronounced the method "a wonderful and humane way of execution." Unlike hanging (by which an inmate might suffer for up to 15 minutes), electrocution (which could take three or four jolts) or a firing squad (which sometimes didn't cause instant death), gas first produced unconsciousness. The state's largest newspaper, the Nevada State Journal, began its coverage by pronouncing, "Nevada's novel death law is upheld by the highest court—humanity."

Eighteen days after Gee's death, in Munich, a right-wing radical named Adolf Hitler went on trial for his role in the failed Beer Hall Putsch. The previous year U.S. newspapers had reported on Hitler's extraordinary ability to sway crowds and his deep hatred of Jews, Communists, Bolsheviks and liberals, as well as his embrace of the trappings of fascism that had been introduced in 1922 by Italy's Benito Mussolini.

One of Hitler's friends who visited him in jail and kept him abreast of developments in the U.S. was Ernst "Putzi" Hanfstaengl, a six-foot-four German American patrician graduate of Harvard and descendent of a Union army general who had helped carry Abraham Lincoln's coffin. When Hanfstaengl wasn't entertaining his friend with his piano playing, he stimulated Hitler's imagination with stirring accounts of skyscrapers, gangsters and college football chants. He also translated and read aloud from British and U.S. newspapers. Hitler had been gassed and temporarily blinded while serving on the front during World War I, so he already knew gas was an ugly, painful and unpredictable weapon, and he disdained its use in battle. He would have been interested to learn about what the Americans had done in Nevada.

After being convicted and receiving a five-year sentence, Hitler began composing his own political creed, which he first titled Eine Abrechnung (Settling Accounts) but later changed to Mein Kampf (My Struggle). He wrote, "If at the beginning of the war and during the war, 12 or 15,000 of these Hebrew corrupters of the people had been held under poison gas, as happened to hundreds of thousands of our very best German workers in the field, the sacrifice of millions at the front would not have been in vain." Decades later Lucy Dawidowicz, a historian of the Holocaust, wrote, "Did the idea of the final solution originate in this passage, germinating in Hitler's subconscious for some 15 years before it was to sprout into practical reality?"

Another biographer observed, "Hitler's concept of concentration camps as well as the practicality of genocide owed, so he claimed, to his studies of English and U.S. history. He admired the camps for Boer prisoners in South Africa and for the Indians in the Wild West, and he often praised to his inner circle the efficiency of America's extermination—by starvation and uneven combat—of the red savages who could not be tamed by captivity." Hitler learned about the American enslavement of blacks and Jim Crow laws enforcing racial segregation, about the shipment of Native Americans to faraway prisons via boxcars and recent court rulings

National Origins Act, which called for eugenic quotas."

Historians have not yet turned up direct evidence that Hitler's thinking was influenced by the first successful use of the gas chamber, but the event was in the headlines during his trial, imprisonment and the writing of Mein Kampf. At the same time, delegations of German officials, criminologists and legal scholars were touring the American penal system, inspecting prison conditions and methods of punishment. These visits were also widely reported in Germany and most certainly read by executives at certain chemical companies. After all, cyanide was their business.

upholding the involuntary sterilization of the unfit. Yet another historian noted that Mein Kampf displayed Hitler's "keen familiarity with the recently passed U.S.

hat is the question posed in a 2001 law review article by Kevin Francis O'Neill, who was the lead counsel in a suit filed by the ACLU to prevent Ohio wardens from removing "offensive" language from the final statements of condemned prisoners. O'Neill notes that the Anglo-Saxon tradition of last words dates back to at least 1288; even accused witches and slaves were given the opportunity. Today some states allow last words to be uttered only out of earshot of witnesses, while Texas gives its condemned an open microphone. Here are memorable examples of inmates exercising their right to free speech one final time. For more, see Robert Elder's new book, Last Words of the Executed (University of Chicago Press).

12 Many decisions are based on beliefs concerning the likelihood of 13 uncertain events such as the outcome of an election, the guilt
14 of a defendant, or the future value of the dollar. These 15 beliefs are usually expressed in statements such as "I think 16 that..." "chances are..." "it is unlikely that..." and so 17 forth. Occasionally, beliefs concerning uncertain events are 18 expressed in numerical form as odds or subjective
19 probabilities. What determines such beliefs? How do people
20 assess the probability of an uncertain event or the value 21 of an uncertain quantity? This article shows that people rely 22 on a limited number of heuristic principles which reduce the complex
23 tasks of assessing probabilities and predicting values to simpler 24 judgemental operations. In general, these heuristics are 25 quite useful, but sometimes they lead to severe and 26 systematic errors.

27 The subjective assessment of probability resembles the 28 subjective assessment of physical quantities such as distance or size. These judgements are all based on data of limited validity which are processed according to heuristic rules. For example, the apparent distance of an object is determined in part by its clarity. The more sharply the object is seen, the closer it appears to be. This rule has some validity, because in any given scene the more distant objects are seen less sharply than nearer objects. However, the reliance on this rule leads to systematic errors in the estimation of distance. Specifically, distances are often overestimated when visibility is poor because the contours of objects are blurred. On the other hand, distances are often underestimated when visibility is good because objects are seen sharply. Thus, the reliance on clarity as an indication of distance leads to common biases. Such biases are found in the intuitive judgement of probability. This article describes three heuristics that are employed to assess probabilities and to predict values. Biases to which these heuristics lead are enumerated, and the applied and theoretical implications of these observations are discussed.

REPRESENTATIVENESS

Many of the probabilistic questions for which people are concerned belong to one of the following types:

- What is the probability that object A belongs to class B?
- What is the probability that event A originates from process B?
- What is the probability that process B will generate event A?

1 In answering such questions, people typically rely on 2 the representativeness heuristic, in which probabilities are 3 evaluated by the degree to which A is representative
4 of B, that is, by the degree to which A resembles B.
5 For example, when A is highly representative of B,
6 the probability that A originates from B is judged
7 to be high. On the other hand, if A is not
8 similar to B, the probability that A originates
9 from B is judged to be low.
10 For an illustration of judgement by representativeness,
11 consider an individual who has been described by a 12 former neighbor as follows: "Steve is very shy and 13 withdrawn, invariably helpful, but with little interest 14 in people, or in the world of reality. A meek and 15 tidy soul, he has a need for order and structure, 16 and a passion for detail." How do people assess 17 the probability that Steve is engaged in a particular 18 occupation from a list of possibilities (for example, 19 Farmer, Salesman, airline pilot, librarian, or physician)?
20 How do people order these occupations from most to 21 least likely? In the representativeness heuristic,
22 the probability that Steve is a librarian, for example,
23 is assessed by the degree to which he is representative 24 of, or similar to, the stereotype of a librarian.
25 Indeed, research with problems of this type has shown that 26 people order the occupations by probability and by similarity
27 in exactly the same way.¹ This approach to the judgement 28 of probability leads to serious errors, because similarity, or

1 representativeness, is not influenced by several 2 factors that should affect judgements of 3 probability.

4 Insensitivity to prior outcomes. One of the 5 factors that have no effect on representativeness
6 but should have a major effect on probability is the 7 prior probability, or base-rate frequency, of the 8 outcomes. In the case of Steve, for example,
9 the fact that there are many more farmers than 10 librarians in the population should enter into any 11 reasonable estimate of the possibility that Steve 12 is a librarian rather than a farmer. Considerations 13 of base-rate frequency, however, do not affect the 14 similarity of Steve to the stereotypes of librarians 15 and farmers. If people evaluate possibility of 16 representativeness, therefore, prior possibilities will 17 be neglected. This hypothesis was tested in an 18 experiment where prior probabilities were manipulated.²

19 Subjects were shown brief personality descriptions
20 of several individuals, allegedly sampled at random 21 from a group of 100 professionals—engineers and 22 lawyers. The subjects were asked to assess 23 for each description, the probability that it belonged 24 to an engineer rather than a lawyer. In one 25 experimental condition, subjects were told that the 26 group from which the descriptions had been drawn 27 consisted of 70 engineers and 30 lawyers. In 28 another condition, subjects were told that the

1 group consisted of 30 engineers and 70 lawyers.
2 The odds that any particular description belongs 3 to an engineer rather than to a lawyer should 4 be higher in the first condition, where there is a 5 majority of engineers, than in the second
6 condition, where there is a majority of lawyers.
7 Specifically, it can be shown by applying Bayes'
8 rule that the ratio of these odds should be 9 $(.7/.3)^2$, or 5.44, for each description. In a 10 sharp violation of Bayes' rule, the subjects 11 in the two conditions produced essentially the 12 same probability judgements. Apparently, subjects
13 evaluated the likelihood that a particular description
14 belonged to an engineer rather than to a lawyer 15 by the degree to which this description was 16 representative of the two stereotypes, with little 17 or no regard for the prior ~~probabilities~~ ~~of~~ ~~the~~ 18 probabilities of the categories.
19 The subjects used prior probabilities correctly
20 when they had no other information. In the 21 absence of a personality sketch, they judged the 22 probability that an unknown individual is an engineer
23 to be .7 and .3, respectively, in the two base-rate
24 conditions. However, prior probabilities were 25 effectively ignored when a description was introduced,
26 even when the description was totally uninformative.
27 The responses to the description illustrate this 28 phenomenon.

1 Dick is a 30-year-old man. He is married
2 with no children. A man of high
3 ability and high motivation, he promises
4 to be quite successful in his field.
5 He is well liked by his colleagues.

7 This description was intended to convey no information
8 relevant to the question of whether Dick is an 9 engineer or a lawyer. Consequently, the probability 10 that Dick is an engineer should equal the proportion 11 of engineers in the group, as if no description had 12 been given. The subjects, however, judged the 13 probability of Dick being an engineer to be .5 14 regardless of whether the stated proportion of 15 engineers in the group was .7 or .3. Evidently,
16 people respond differently when given no evidence
17 and when given worthless evidence. When no
18 specific evidence is given, prior probabilities are 19 properly utilized; when worthless evidence is given,
20 prior probabilities are ignored.³

21 ~~Insensitivity to sample size.~~ To evaluate the 22 probability of obtaining a particular result in a sample 23 drawn from a specific population, people typically 24 apply the representativeness heuristic. That is,
25 they assess the likelihood of a sample result,
26 for example, that the average height in a 27 random sample of ten men will be 6 feet, by 28 the similarity of this result to the corresponding

1 parameter (that is, to the average height in the 2 population of men). The similarity of a simple 3 statistic to a population parameter does not 4 depend on the size of the sample. Consequently,
5 if probabilities are assessed by representativeness,
6 that the judged probability of a sample statistic
7 will be essentially independent of sample size.
8 Indeed, when subjects assessed the distributions
9 of average height for samples of various sizes,
10 they produced identical distributions. For example,
11 the probability of obtaining an average height greater 12 than 6 feet was assigned the same value for 13 samples of 1,000, 100, and 10 men.⁴ Moreover,
14 subjects failed to appreciate the role of sample
15 size even when it was emphasized in the formulation
16 of the problem. Consider the following question:

18 A certain town is served by two hospitals.
19 In the larger hospital about 45 babies
20 are born each day, and in the smaller
21 hospital about 15 babies are born each day.
22 As you know, 50% of all babies are boys.
23 However, the exact percentage varies from day 24 to day. Sometimes it may be higher than 25 50%, sometimes lower.
26 For a period of 1 year, each hospital
27 recorded the days on which more than 60%
28 of the babies born were boys.

1 which hospital do you think recorded
2 more such days?

3 The larger hospital (~~22~~) (21)

4 The smaller hospital (21)

5 About the same - (that is,
6 within 5% of each other) (53)

8 The values in parenthesis are the number of 9 undergraduate students who chose each answer.

10 Most subjects judged the probability of 11 obtaining more than 60% boys to be the same in 12 the small and in the large hospital, presumably 13 because these events are described by the same 14 statistic and are therefore equally representative of 15 the general population. In contrast, sampling
16 theory entails that the expected number of days 17 on which more than 60% of the babies are boys is 18 much greater in the small hospital than in the 19 large one, because a large sample is less likely 20 to stray from 50%. This fundamental notion 21 of statistics is evidently not part of people's 22 repertoire of intuitions.

23 A similar insensitivity to sample size has 24 been reported in judgements of posterior probability, 25 that is, of the probability that a sample has been 26 drawn from one population rather than from another.
27 Consider the following example:

1 Imagine an urn filled with balls of which
2 $2/3$ are of one color and $1/3$ of another.

3 One individual has drawn 5 balls from 4 the urn, and found that 4 were red and 5 1 was white. Another individual has drawn 6 20 balls and found that 12 were red and 7 8 were white. Which of the two individuals
8 should feel more confident that the urn
9 contains $2/3$ red balls and $1/3$ white balls,
10 rather than the opposite? What odds
11 should each individual give?

13 In this problem, the correct posterior odds are 14 8 to 1 for the 4:1 sample and 16 to 1 for the 12:8
15 sample, assuming equal prior probabilities. However, most 16 people feel that the first sample provides much stronger
17 evidence for the hypothesis that the urn is predominantly 18 red, because the proportion of red balls is larger in the 19 first than in the second sample. Here again,
20 intuitive judgements are dominated by the sample 21 proportion and are essentially unaffected by the size of 22 the sample, which plays a critical role in the 23 determination of the actual posterior odds.⁵ In addition,
24 intuitive estimates of posterior odds are far less
25 extreme than the correct values. The underestimation
26 of the impact of evidence has been observed 27 repeatedly in problems of this type.⁶ It has 28 been labeled "conservatism."

1 Misconceptions of chance. People expect that a
2 sequence of events generated by a random process
3 will represent the essential characteristics of that 4 process even when the sequence is short. In 5 considering tosses of a coin for heads or tails, for 6 example, people regard the sequence H-T-H-T-T-H
7 to be more likely than the sequence H-H-H-T-T-T,
8 which does not appear random; and also more 9 likely than the sequence H-H-H-H-T-H, which 10 does not represent the fairness of the coin.
11 Thus, people expect that the essential characteristics
12 of the process will be represented, not only globally 13 in the entire sequence, but also locally in each of 14 its parts. A locally representative sequence, however,
15 deviates systematically from chance expectation:
16 it contains too many alternations and too few runs.
17 Another consequence of the belief in local 18 representativeness is the well-known gambler's fallacy.
19 After observing a long run of red on the roulette
20 wheel, for example, most people erroneously believe 21 that black is now due, presumably because the 22 occurrence of black will result in a more 23 representative sequence than the occurrence of an 24 additional red. Chance is commonly viewed as a self-
25 correcting process in which a deviation in one direction
26 induces a deviation in the opposite direction to restore 27 the equilibrium. In fact, deviations are not "corrected"
28 as a chance process unfolds; they are merely diluted.

1 Misconceptions of chance are not limited to 2 naive subjects. A study of the statistical
3 institutions of experienced research psychologists⁸
4 revealed a lingering belief in what may be 5 called "the law of small numbers," according to 6 which even small samples are highly representative
7 of the populations from which they are drawn.
8 The responses of these investigators reflected 9 the expectation that a valid hypothesis about a 10 population will be represented by a statistically
11 significant result in a sample with little regard 12 for its size. As a consequence, the researchers
13 put too much faith in the results of small samples 13 and grossly overestimated the replicability of such 14 results. In the actual conduct of research, this 15 bias leads to the selection of samples of inadequate
16 size and to overinterpretation of findings.

17 Insensitivity to predictability. People
18 are sometimes called upon to make such numerical 19 predictions as the future value of stock, the 20 demand for a commodity, or the outcome of a 21 football game. Such predictions are often made by representativeness.
22 For example, suppose one is given a description of a company 23 and is asked to predict its future profit. If the 24 description of the company is very favorable, a very high 25 profit will appear most representative of that description;
26 if the description is mediocre, a mediocre performance will 27 appear most representative. The degree to which

NO. 1210652 e H.D.S.P.
P.O. Box 650
Indian Springs, NV 89070-0650

1 the description is favorable is unaffected by the reliability
2 of that description or by the degree to which it permits
3 accurate prediction. Hence, if people predict solely in 4 terms of the favorableness of the description, their 5 predictions will be insensitive to the reliability of the 6 evidence and to the expected accuracy of the prediction.

7 This mode of judgement violates the normative statistical 8 theory in which the extremeness and the range of predictions 9 are controlled by considerations of predictability. When 10 predictability is nil, the same prediction should be made in 11 all cases. For example, if the descriptions of companies
12 provide no information relevant to profit, then the same value
13 (such as average profit) should be predicted for all companies.
14 If predictability is perfect, of course, the values predicted
15 will match the actual values and the range of predictions 16 will equal the range of outcomes. In general, the higher the 17 predictability, the wider the range of predicted values.

18 Several studies of numerical prediction have demonstrated
19 that intuitive predictions violate this rule, and that subjects
20 show little or no regard for considerations of predictability.⁹
21 In one of these studies, subjects were presented with several 22 paragraphs, each describing the performance of a student teacher 23 during a particular practice lesson. Some subjects were asked to 24 evaluate the quality of a lesson described in the paragraph in 25 percentile scores, relative to a specified population. Other 26 subjects were asked to predict, also in percentile scores,
27 the standing of each student teacher 5 years after the practice 28 lesson. The judgements made under the two conditions were identical.

P.O. Box 650
Indian Springs, NV 89070-0650

1 That is, the prediction of a remote criterion (success of a teacher after 2 5 years) was identical to the evaluation of the information on which 3 the prediction was based (the quality of the practice lesson). The 4 students who made these predictions were undoubtedly aware of the 5 limited predictability of teaching competence on the basis of a single 6 trial lesson 5 years earlier; nevertheless, their predictions were as extreme 7 as their evaluations.

8 The illusion of validity. As we have seen, people often predict by 9 selecting the outcome (for example, an occupation) that is most 10 representative of the input (for example, the description of a person).

11 The confidence they have in their prediction depends primarily on the 12 degree of representativeness (that is, on the quality of the match 13 between the selected outcome and the input) with little or no regard 14 for the factors that limit predictive accuracy. Thus, people express 15 great confidence in the prediction that a person is a librarian when given 16 a description of his personality which matches the stereotype of 17 librarians, even if the description is scanty, unreliable, or outdated.

18 The unwarranted confidence which is produced by a good fit between 19 the predicted outcome and the input information may be called the 20 illusion of validity. This illusion persists even when the judge is 22 aware of the factors that limit the accuracy of his predictions. It is 23 a common observation that psychologists who conduct selection interviews 24 often experience considerable confidence in their predictions, even when 25 they know of the vast literature that shows selection interviews to 26 be highly fallible. The continued reliance on the clinical interview for 27 selection, despite repeated demonstrations of its inadequacy, amply 28 attests to the strength of this effect.

29 The internal consistency of a pattern of inputs is a major detriment

No. 1210652e H.D.S.P.
P.O. Box 650
Indian Springs, NV 89070-0650

1 of one's confidence in predictions based on these inputs. For example,
2 people express more confidence in predicting the final grade point
3 average of a student whose first-year record includes many A's 4 and C's. Highly consistent patterns are most often observed when 5 the input variables are highly redundant or correlated. Hence,
6 people tend to have great confidence in predictions based on redundant
7 input variables. However, an elementary result in the statistics of 8 correlation asserts that, given input variables of stated validity,
9 a prediction based on several such inputs can achieve higher 10 accuracy when they are independent of each other than when they 11 are redundant or correlated. Thus, redundancy among inputs 12 decreases accuracy even as it increases confidence, and people are 13 often confident in predictions that are quite likely to be off the mark.

14 Misconceptions of regression. Suppose a large group of 15 children has been examined on two equivalent versions of an aptitude 16 test. If one selects ten children from among those who did best on 17 one of the two versions, he will usually find their performance on 18 the second version to be somewhat disappointing. Conversely, if 19 one selects ten children from among those who did worst on one
20 version, they will be found, on the average, to do somewhat better
21 on the other version. More generally, consider two variables X and Y 22 which have the same distribution. If one selects individuals whose 23 average X score deviates from the means of X by k units, then 24 the average of their Y scores will usually deviate from the mean of 25 Y by less than k units. These observations illustrate a general 26 phenomenon known as regression toward the mean, which was 27 first documented by Galton more than 100 years ago.
28

Indian Springs, NV 89070-0650

In the normal course of life, one encounters many instances of regression toward the mean, in the comparison of the height of fathers and sons, of the intelligence of husbands and wives, or of the performance of individuals on consecutive examinations. Nevertheless, people do not develop correct intuitions about this phenomenon. First, they do not expect regression in many contexts where it is bound to occur. Second, when they recognize the occurrence of regression, they often invent spurious causal explanations for it.¹¹ We suggest that the phenomenon of regression remains elusive because it is incompatible with the belief that the predicted outcome should be maximally representative of the input, and, hence, that the value of the outcome variable should be as extreme as the value of the input variable.

The failure to recognize the import of regression can have pernicious consequences, as illustrated by the following observation.¹² In a discussion of flight training, experienced instructors noted that praise for an exceptionally smooth landing is typically followed by a poorer landing on the next try, while harsh criticism after a rough landing is usually followed by an improvement on the next try. The instructors concluded that verbal rewards are detrimental to learning, while verbal punishments are beneficial, contrary to accepted psychological doctrine. This conclusion is unwarranted because of the presence of regression toward the mean. As in other cases of repeated examination, an improvement will usually follow a poor performance and a deterioration will usually follow an outstanding performance, even if the instructor does not respond to the trainee's achievement on the first attempt. Because the instructors had praised their trainees after good landings and admonished them after poor ones, they reached the erroneous and potentially harmful conclusion that punishment is more effective than reward.

Thus, the failure to understand the effect of regression leads one to overestimate the effectiveness of punishment and to underestimate the effectiveness of reward. In social interaction, as well as in training, rewards are typically administered when performance is good, and punishments are typically administered when performance is poor. By regression alone, therefore, behavior is most likely to improve after punishment and most likely to deteriorate after reward. Consequently, the human condition is such that, by chance alone, one is most often rewarded for punishing others and most often punished for rewarding them. People are generally not aware of this contingency. In fact, the elusive role of regression in determining the apparent consequences of reward and punishment seems to have escaped the notice of students of this area.

AVAILABILITY

There are situations in which people assess the frequency of a class or the probability of an event by the ease with which instances or occurrences can be brought to mind. For example, one may assess the risk of heart attack among middle-aged people by recalling such occurrences among one's acquaintances. Similarly, one may evaluate the probability that a given business venture will fail by imagining various difficulties it could encounter. This judgemental heuristic is called availability. Availability is a useful clue for assessing frequency or probability, because instances of large classes are usually recalled better and faster than instances of less frequent classes. However, availability is affected by factors other than frequency and probability. Consequently, the reliance on availability leads to predictable biases, some of which are illustrated below.

Mr. J. H. D. P.
P.O. Box 650
Indian Springs, NV 89070-0650

Biases due to the retrievability of instances. when the size of a class is judged by the availability of its instances, a class whose instances are easily retrieved will appear more numerous than a class of equal frequency whose instances are less retrievable. In an elementary demonstration of this effect, subjects heard a list of well-known personalities of both sexes and were subsequently asked to judge whether the list contained more names of men than of women. Different lists were presented to different groups of subjects. In some of the lists the men were relatively more famous than the women, and in others the women were relatively more famous than the men. In each of the lists, the subjects erroneously judged that the class (sex) that had the more famous personalities was the more numerous.¹³

In addition to familiarity, there are other factors, such as salience, which affect the retrievability of instances. For example, the impact of seeing a house burning on the subjective probability of such accidents is probably greater than the impact of reading about a fire in the local paper. Furthermore, recent occurrences are likely to be relatively more available than earlier occurrences. It is a common experience that the subjective probability of traffic accidents rises temporarily when one sees a car overturned by the side of the road.

P.O. Box 650
Indian Springs, NV 89070-0650

Biases due to the effectiveness of a search set.

Suppose one samples a word (of three letters or more) at random from an English text. It is more likely that the word starts with r or that r is the third letter? People approach this problem by recalling words that begin with r (road) and words that have r in the third position (car) and assess the relative frequency by the ease with which words of the two types come to mind. Because it is much easier to search for words by their first letter than by their third letter, most people judge words that begin with a given consonant to be more numerous than words in which the same consonant appears in the third position. They do so even for consonants, such as r or k, that are more frequent in the third position than in the first.¹⁴

Different tasks elicit different search sets. For example, suppose you are asked to rate the frequency with which abstract words (thought, love) and concrete words (door, water) appear in written English. A natural way to answer this question is to search for contexts in which the word could appear. It seems easier to think of contexts in which an abstract concept is mentioned (love in love stories) than to think of contexts in which a concrete word (such as door) is mentioned. If the frequency of words is judged by the availability of the contexts in which they appear, abstract words will be judged as relatively more numerous than concrete words. This bias has been observed in a recent study¹⁵ which showed that the judged frequency of occurrence of abstract words was much higher than that of concrete words, equated in objective frequency. Abstract words were also judged to appear in a much greater variety of contexts than concrete words.

Biases of imaginability. Sometimes one has to assess the frequency of a class whose instances are not stored in memory but can be generated according to a given rule. In such situations, one typically generates several instances and evaluates frequency or probability by the ease with which the relevant instances can be constructed. However, the ease of constructing instances does not always reflect their actual frequency, and this mode of evaluation is prone to biases. To illustrate, consider a group of 10 people who form committees of k members, $2 \leq k \leq 8$. How many different committees of k members can be formed? The correct answer to this problem is given by the binomial coefficient $(10/k)$ which reaches a maximum of 252 for $k=5$. Clearly, the number of committees of k members defines a unique group of $(10-k)$ nonmembers.

One way to answer this question without computation is to mentally construct committees of k members and to evaluate their number by the ease with which they come to mind. Committees of few members, say 2, are more available than committees of many members, say 8. The simplest scheme for the construction of committees is a partition of the group into disjoint sets. One readily sees that it is easy to construct five disjoint committees of 2 members, while it is impossible to generate even two disjoint committees of 8 members. Consequently, if frequency is assigned by imaginability, or by availability for construction, the small committees will appear more numerous than larger committees, in contrast to the correct bell-shaped function. Indeed, when naive subjects were asked to

Indian Springs, NV 89070-0650

1 estimate the number of distinct committees of various sizes,
2 their estimates were a decreasing ~~and~~ monotonic function of 3 committee size.¹⁶ For example, the median estimate of 4 the number of committees of 2 members was 70, while 5 the estimate for committees of 8 members was 20 (the 6 correct answer is 45 in both cases).

7 Imaginability plays an important role in the evaluation of 8 probabilities in real-life situations. The risk involved in an 9 adventurous expedition, for example, is evaluated by imagining
10 contingencies with which the expedition is not equipped to cope.
11 If many such difficulties are vividly portrayed, the expedition
12 can be made to appear exceedingly dangerous, although the ease 13 with which disasters are imagined need not reflect their actual 14 likelihood. Conversely, the risk involved in an undertaking may be 15 grossly underestimated if some possible dangers are either 16 difficult to conceive of, or simply do not come to mind.

17 Illusory correlation. Chapman and Chapman¹⁷ have 18 described an interesting bias in the judgement of the frequency
19 with which two events co-occur. They presented naive judges 20 with information concerning several hypothetical mental patients.
21 The data for each patient consisted of a clinical diagnosis and 22 a drawing of a person made by the patient. Later the judges 23 estimated the frequency with which each diagnosis (such as 24 paranoia or suspiciousness) had been accompanied by various 25 features of the drawing (such as peculiar eyes). The subjects 26 markedly overestimated the frequency of co-occurrence of 27 natural associates, such as suspiciousness and peculiar eyes. This 28 effect was labelled illusory correlation. In their erroneous

Po Box 650
Indian Springs, NV 89070-0650

1 judgements of the data, to which they had been exposed,
2 naive subjects "rediscovered" much of the common, but 3 unfounded, clinical lore concerning the interpretation of the 4 draw-a-person test. The illusory correlation effect was 5 extremely resistant to contradictory data. It persisted
6 even when the correlation between symptom and diagnosis
7 was actually negative, and it prevented the judges from 8 detecting relationships that were in fact present.

9 Availability provides a natural account for the illusory-
10 correlation effect. The judgement of how frequently 11 two events co-occur could be based on the strength 12 of the associative bond between them. When the 13 association is strong, one is likely to conclude that the 14 events have been frequently paired. Consequently, strong 15 associates will be judged to have occurred together frequently.
16 According to this view, the illusory correlation between 17 suspiciousness and peculiar drawing of the eyes, for example,
18 is due to the fact that suspiciousness is more readily 19 associated with the eyes than with any other part of the body.

20 Lifelong experience has taught us that, in general, 21 instances of large classes are recalled better and faster than 22 instances of less frequent classes; that likely occurrences are 23 easier to imagine than unlikely ones; and that the associative
24 connections between events are strengthened when the events
25 frequently co-occur. As a result, man has at his disposal 26 a procedure (the availability heuristic) for estimating the 27 numerosity of a class, the likelihood of an event, or the 28 frequency of co-occurrences, by the ease with which the relevant mental operations of retrieval, construction, or association can be performed. However, as the preceding examples have demonstrated, this valuable estimation procedure results in systematic errors.

ADJUSTMENT AND ANCHORING

In many situations, people make estimates by starting from an initial value that is adjusted to yield the final answer. The initial value, or starting point, may be suggested by the formulation of the problem, or it may be the result of a partial computation. In either case, adjustments are typically insufficient.¹⁸ That is, different starting points yield different estimates, which are biased toward the initial values. We call this phenomenon anchoring.

Insufficient adjustment. In a demonstration of the anchoring effect, subjects were asked to estimate various quantities, stated in percentages (for example, the percentage of African countries in the United Nations). For each quantity, a number between 0 and 100 was determined by spinning a wheel of fortune in the subjects' presence. The subjects were instructed to indicate first whether that number was higher or lower than the value of the quantity, and then to estimate the value of the quantity by moving upward or downward from the given number. Different groups were given different numbers for each quantity, and these arbitrary numbers had a marked effect on estimates. For example, the median estimates of the percentage of African countries in the United Nations were 25 and 45 for groups that received 10 and 65, respectively, as starting points. Payoffs for accuracy did not reduce the anchoring effect.

Anchoring occurs not only when the starting point is given to the subject, but also when the subject bases his estimate on the result of some incomplete computation. A study of intuitive numerical estimation illustrates this effect.

Two groups of high school students estimated, within 5 seconds, a numerical expression that was written on the blackboard. One group estimated the product

$$8 \times 7 \times 6 \times 5 \times 4 \times 3 \times 2 \times 1$$

while another group estimated the product

$$1 \times 2 \times 3 \times 4 \times 5 \times 6 \times 7 \times 8$$

To rapidly answer such questions, people may perform a few steps of computation and estimate the product by extrapolation or adjustment. Because adjustments are typically insufficient, this procedure should lead to underestimation. Furthermore, because of the result of the first few steps of multiplication (performed from left to right) is higher in the descending sequence than in the ascending sequence, the former expression should be judged larger than the latter. Both predictions were confirmed. The median estimate for the ascending sequence was 512, while the median estimate for the descending sequence was 2,250. The correct answer is 40,320.

Biases in the evaluation of conjunctive and disjunctive events.

In a recent study by Bar-Hillel¹⁹ subjects were given the opportunity to bet on one of two events. Three types of events were used: (i) simple events, such as drawing a red marble from a bag containing 50% red marbles and 50% white marbles; (ii) conjunctive events, such as drawing a red marble seven times in succession, with replacement, from a bag containing 90% red marbles and 10% white marbles; and (iii) disjunctive events, such as drawing a red marble at least once in seven successive tries, with replacement, from a bag containing 10% red marbles and 9% white marbles. In this problem, a significant majority of subjects preferred to bet on the conjunctive event (the probability of which is .48) rather than on the simple event (the probability of which is .50). Subjects also preferred to bet on the simple event rather than on the disjunctive event, which has a probability of .52. Thus, most subjects bet on the less likely event in both comparisons. This pattern of choices illustrates a general finding. Studies of choice among gambles and of judgements of probability indicate that people tend to overestimate the probability of conjunctive events²⁰ and to underestimate the probability of disjunctive events. These biases are readily explained as effects of anchoring. The stated probability of the elementary event (success at any one stage) provides a natural starting point for the estimation of the probabilities of both conjunctive and disjunctive events. Since adjustment from the starting point is typically insufficient, the final estimates remain too close to the probabilities of the elementary events in both cases. Note that the overall probability of a conjunctive event is lower than the probability of each elementary event, whereas the overall probability of a disjunctive event is higher than the probability of each elementary event. As a consequence of anchoring, the overall probability will be overestimated in conjunctive problems and underestimated in disjunctive problems.

Biases in the evaluation of compound events are particularly significant in the context of planning. The successful completion of an undertaking, such as the development of a new product, typically has a conjunctive character; for the undertaking to succeed, each of a series of events must occur. Even when each of these events is very likely, the overall probability of success can be quite low if the number of events is large. The general tendency to overestimate the probability of conjunctive events leads to unwarranted optimism in the evaluation of the likelihood that a plan will succeed or that a project will be completed on time. Conversely, disjunctive structures are typically encountered in the evaluation of risks. A complex system, such as a nuclear reactor or a human body, will malfunction if any of its essential components fails. Even when the likelihood of failure in each component is slight, the probability of an overall failure can be high if many components are involved. Because of anchoring, people will tend to underestimate the probabilities of failure in complex systems. Thus, the direction of the anchoring bias can sometimes be inferred from the structure of the event. The chain-like structure of conjunction leads to overestimation, the funnel-like structure of disjunctions leads to underestimation.

PO Box 650

Anchoring in the assessment of subjective probability distributions. In decision analysis, experts are often required to express their beliefs about a quantity, such as the value of the Dow Jones average on a particular day, in the form of a probability distribution. Such a distribution is usually constructed by asking the person to select values of the quantity that correspond to specified percentiles of his subjective probability distribution. For example, the judge may be asked to select a number, X_{90} , such that his subjective probability that this number will be higher than the value of the Dow Jones average is .90. That is, he should select the value X_{90} so that he is just willing to accept 9 to 1 odds that the Dow Jones average will not exceed it. A subjective probability distribution for the value of the Dow Jones average can be constructed from several such judgements corresponding to different percentiles.

By collecting subjective probability distributions for many different quantities, it is possible to test the judge for proper calibration. A judge is properly (or externally) calibrated in a set of problems if exactly 11% of the true values of the assessed quantities falls below his stated values of X_{11} . For example, the true values should fall below X_{01} for 1% of the quantities and above X_{99} for

Indian Springs, NV 89070-0650

1 1% of the quantities. Thus, the true values should fall in 2 the confidence interval between X_{01} and X_{99} on 98% of 3 the problems.

4 Several investigators²¹ have obtained probability distribution
5 for many quantities from a large number of judges. These 6 distributions indicated large and systematic departures from 7 proper calibration. In most studies, the actual values of the 8 assessed quantities are either smaller than X_{01} or greater than 9 X_{99} for about 30% of the problems. That is, the subjects
10 state overly narrow confidence intervals which reflect more 11 certainty than is justified by their knowledge about the 12 assessed quantities. This bias is common to naive and 13 to sophisticated subjects, and it is not eliminated by 14 introducing proper scoring rules, which provide incentives
15 for external calibration. This effect is attributable, 16 in part at least to anchoring.

17 To select X_{90} for the value of the Dow Jones
18 average, for example, it is natural to begin by thinking
19 about one's best estimate of the Dow Jones and to adjust
20 this value upward. If this adjustment—like most others—
21 is insufficient, then X_{90} will not be sufficiently extreme. A 22 similar anchoring effect will occur in the selection of X_{10} , which 23 is presumably obtained by adjusting one's best estimate
24 downward. Consequently, the confidence interval between X_{10}
25 and X_{90} will be too narrow, and the assessed probability 26 distribution will be too tight. In support of this interpretation it can 27 be shown that subjective probabilities are systematically altered by a procedure in 28 which one's best estimate does not serve as an anchor.

Po Box 650
Indian Springs, NV 89070-0650

Subjective probability distributions for a given quantity (the Dow Jones average) can be obtained in two different ways: (i) by asking the subject to select values of the Dow Jones that correspond to specified percentiles of his probability distribution and (ii) by asking the subject to assess the probabilities that the true value of the Dow Jones will exceed some specified values. The two procedures are formally equivalent and should yield identical distributions. However, they suggest different modes of adjustment from different anchors. In procedure (i), the natural starting point is one's best estimate of the quantity. In procedure (ii), on the other hand, the subject may be anchored on the value stated in the question. Alternatively, he may be anchored on even odds, or a 50-50 chance, which is a natural starting point in the estimation of likelihood. In either case, procedure (ii) should yield less extreme odds than procedure (i).

To contrast the two procedures, a set of 24 quantities (such as the air distance from New Delhi to Peking) was presented to a group of subjects who assessed either X_{10} or X_{90} for each problem. Another group of subjects received the median judgement of the first group for each of the 24 quantities. They were asked to assess the odds that each of the given values exceeded the true value of the relevant quantity. In the absence of any bias, the second group should retrieve the odds specified to the first group, that is 9:1. However, if even odds or the stated value serve as anchors, the odds of the second group should be less extreme, that is, closer to 1:1. Indeed, the median odds stated by this group, across all problems, were 3:1.

PO Box 650
Indian Springs, NV 89070

1 when the judgements of the two groups were tested for external
2 calibration, it was found that subjects in the first group were 3 too extreme, in accord with earlier studies. The events that 4 they defined as having a probability of .10 actually obtained in 5 24% of the cases. In contrast, subjects in the second
6 group were too conservative. Events to which they assigned 7 an average probability of .34 actually obtained in 26% of 8 the cases. These results illustrate the manner in which the 9 degree of calibration depends on the procedure of elicitation.

11 DISCUSSION

13 This article has been concerned with cognitive biases that 14 stem from the reliance on judgemental heuristics. These biases
15 are not attributable to motivational effects such as wishful thinking
16 or the distortion of judgements by payoffs and penalties. Indeed, 17 several of the severe errors of judgement reported earlier 18 occurred despite the fact that subjects were encouraged to 19 be accurate and were rewarded for the correct answers.²²

20 The reliance on heuristics and the prevalence of biases 21 are not restricted to laymen. Experienced researchers are also 22 prone to the same biases—when they think intuitively.

23 For example, the tendency to predict the outcome that best 24 represents the data, with insufficient regard for prior 25 probability, has been observed in the intuitive judgements of 26 individuals who have had extensive training in statistics.²³

27 Although the statistically sophisticated avoid elementary
28 errors, such as the gambler's fallacy, their intuitive judgements

PO Box 650
Indian Springs, NV 89070

are liable to similar fallacies in more intricate and less transparent problems.

It is not surprising that useful heuristics such as representativeness and availability are retained, even though they occasionally lead to errors in prediction or estimation.

What is perhaps ~~more~~ surprising is the failure of people to infer from lifelong experience such fundamental statistical rules as regression toward the mean, or the effect of sample size on sampling variability. Although everyone is exposed, in the normal course of life, to numerous examples from which these rules could have been induced, very few people discover the principles of sampling and regression on their own. Statistical principles are not learned from everyday experience because the relevant instances are not coded appropriately. For example, people do not discover that successive lines in a text differ more in average word length than do successive pages, because they simply do not attend to the average word length of individual lines or pages. Thus, people do not learn the relation between sample size and sampling variability, although the data for ~~learning~~ such learning are abundant.

The lack of an appropriate code also explains why people usually do not detect the biases in their judgements of probability. A person could conceivably learn whether his judgements are externally calibrated by keeping a tally of the proportion of events that actually occur among those to which he assigns the same probability. However, it is not natural to group events by their judged probability. In the absence of such grouping it is impossible for an individual to

Po Box 650
Indian Springs, NV 89070

1 discover, for example, that only 50% of the predictions to 2 which he has assigned a probability of .9 or higher actually 3 came true.

4 The empirical analysis of cognitive biases has implications
5 for the theoretical and applied role of judged probabilities. Modern 6 decision theory²⁴ regards subjective probability as the quantified
7 opinion of an idealized person. Specifically, the subjective
8 probability of a given event is defined by the set of bets 9 about this event that such a person is willing to accept. An 10 internally consistent, or coherent, subjective probability measure
11 can be derived for an individual if his choices among bets satisfy 12 certain principles, that is, the axioms of the theory. The 13 derived probability is subjective in the sense that different 14 individuals are allowed to have different probabilities for the 15 same event. The major contribution of this approach is that 16 it provides a rigorous subjective interpretation of probability 17 that is applicable to unique events and is embedded in a 18 general theory of rational decision.

19 It should perhaps be noted that, while subjective 20 probabilities can sometimes be inferred from preferences among 21 bets, they are normally not formed in this fashion. A person
22 bets on team A rather than team B because he believes that 23 team A is more likely to win; he does not infer this 24 belief from his betting preferences. Thus, in reality, 25 subjective probabilities determine preferences among bets and are not 26 derived from them, as in the axiomatic theory of rational
27 decision.²⁵

28 The inherently subjective nature of probability has led many students

Po Box 650
Indian Springs, NV 89070

1 to the belief that coherence, or internal consistency, is the 2 only valid criterion by which judged probabilities should be 3 evaluated. From the standpoint of the formal theory of 4 subjective probability, any set of internally consistent
5 probability judgements is as good as any other. This criterion
6 is not entirely satisfactory, because an internally consistent set
7 of subjective probabilities can be incompatible with other beliefs
8 held by the individual. Consider a person whose subjective 9 probabilities for all possible outcomes of a coin-tossing game
10 reflect the gambler's fallacy. That is, his estimate of the 11 probability of tails on a particular toss increases with the 12 number of consecutive heads that preceded that toss. The 13 judgements of such a person could be internally consistent and 14 therefore acceptable as adequate subjective probabilities according 15 to the criterion of the formal theory. These probabilities, 16 however, are incompatible with the generally held belief that a 17 coin has no memory and is therefore incapable of generating 18 sequential dependencies. For judged probabilities to be considered 19 adequate, or rational, internal consistency is not enough. The 20 judgements must be compatible with the entire web of beliefs held 21 by the individual. Unfortunately, there can be no simple formal 22 procedure for assessing the compatibility of a set of probability 23 judgements with the judge's total system of beliefs. The rational 24 judge will nevertheless strive for compatibility, even though 25 internal consistency is more easily achieved and assessed. In 26 particular, he will attempt to make his probability judgements
27 compatible with his knowledge about the subject matter, the laws 28 of probability, and his own judgemental heuristics and biases.

SUMMARY

This article described three heuristics that are employed in making judgements under uncertainty: (i) representativeness, which is usually employed when people are asked to judge the probability that an object or event A belongs to class or process B; (ii) availability of instances or scenarios, which is often employed when people are asked to assess the frequency of a class or the plausibility of a particular development; and (iii) adjustment from an anchor, which is usually employed in numerical prediction when a relevant value is available. These heuristics are highly economical and usually effective, but they lead to systematic and predictable errors. A better understanding of these heuristics and of the biases to which they lead could improve judgements and decisions in situations of uncertainty.

We are sending you this letter in both a standard print version and a large

Good news! We are writing to tell you about a program that helps people receiving disability benefits to go to work. It also may help people who are already working to earn more money.

Ticket to Work and Self-Sufficiency is the name of the program. It was established by Congress and is run by Social Security. It may help you get a job if you want one or help you get a better job. Enclosed with this letter is your Ticket to Work. The Ticket to Work is a very important paper that you should keep in a safe place.

And don't worry. The Ticket to Work and Self-Sufficiency Program is voluntary. You do not have to take part in this program to keep receiving your disability benefits. But, if you want to work, we have many special rules to help you. These special rules may help you keep some of your cash benefits and will let you keep your Medicaid or Medicare coverage while you work.

How The Program Works

You can take the enclosed Ticket to Work to any of the Employment Networks we have approved to help you or to a State vocational rehabilitation (VR) agency. When you and an Employment Network or State VR agency agree to work together, they will help you with services and supports to get and keep a job.

It won't cost you anything. Social Security will pay any Employment Network or State VR agency that helps you go to work.

And this is very important. If you are working with an Employment Network or State VR agency and you meet certain other requirements, we will not begin a medical review to decide if you are still disabled. For more information, please read the enclosed pamphlet.

Not that our judicial system cares about my pro se law firm, but the illegal arrest and malicious prosecution caused, (in addition to the dog chipping of kg Shiny Cash and little Luke Dog) an eviction of Houston's law office in Iowa City, Iowa, @ 435 S. Lin St #927.

So now about a thousand storage, and his house

able to be watered.

It is a mystery why the judicial system of Clark County thinks that it's OK to make an ultimately successful and disabled entrepreneur become indigent, homeless, bankrupted, divorced, and expect him to be able to file non-impaired documents of truth.

COMMENTARY

Top Floor at the Tower

'Go to, let us build us a city and a tower, whose top may reach unto heaven' — Genesis 11:4

THE PROJECT IS IMPOSSIBLY ENORMOUS. It sprawls across city blocks and beyond. It contains trillions of parts and counting, accumulated into one mountainous human effort. Its mass is seismic, its height is dominating, and it keeps growing. It's a project best measured not in feet, miles or megatons, but in lives.

This is a description of the Genesis 11 tower of Babel, perhaps somewhat accurately captured in well-known illustrations like those of Peter Bruegel the Elder and others.

But it is also a description of human civilization itself, generation upon generation, course upon course, life upon life. The top level is the newest: an active layer of material, technology and human activity. From here, the view is spectacular. Looking down at the clouds below, and the world below that, as from the window of an aircraft, how can you be anything but dazzled at the civilization that built such a vantage point as this?

Here's how: Look inside.

Inside are the laborers. Inside are their taskmasters. Inside is human suffering of our own making.

One generation atop another atop another has set over itself its elites and travailed under them, laying the walls, the arches, the beams of human history and stacking them high with lives of ignorance, confusion, poverty and affluence, failure, futility, fear, strife, murder and suicide, violence and war. When the mass sufferings reach a breaking point, new elites have arisen and pushed the masses into new tasks—and brought new suffering. The levels below us are catastrophically out of course, but we just pile on more of the same and keep building. This is not so much a metaphor. This is the human condition.

This is the very nature of human beings. No amount of oppression, suffering or death has caused us to stop worshipping our own human will. We exert our will on the less powerful, and the will of the more powerful is exerted on us by our chieftains, kings, politicians, dictators and other taskmasters.

We oppress, raid, steal, dehumanize and mass-slaughter hundreds and thousands and millions because of our indestructible belief that human beings can rule ourselves. After all, we say, just look at our tower.

Human beings seem driven by a conviction, even if subconscious, that we are operating independently from our Creator—that, in fact, He may well want to destroy us, and that if we are to escape His punishment, we must do it together; we must make and submit to our human taskmasters, and we must build this tower. We will live our own way. How far will we take this belief? To the grave.

Here on the top floor, we are enjoying the view. But at this late stage of construction, the structure, out of plumb, out of level, yet ever taller, is swaying out of control.

Our elites—and we—are now actively demolishing those few strong columns our Creator gave us that still remain standing: man and wife, parents and children, ideals of human freedom and accountability. It is becoming clear, if we will just see it, that we and our elites are hopelessly, terminally underqualified to build our own lives, let alone civilization. Deadly serious world elites are now telling us to cover our faces (made in the semblance of our Creator); stay inside; subject our bodies to injections and other medical mandates; eat insects instead of meat; live in pods; let criminals go unpunished; believe lies about the distant and recent past; forfeit our liberty; own no homes, vehicles, or other personal property; tolerate, wear, ingest or implant surveillance devices; forfeit our children's minds and sexuality; have no children at all, before or after they are conceived; have no family; give up our nationalities and eventually leave Earth altogether. No privacy, no freedom, no property, no family, no man or woman, no country, no Earth—no choice.

We could believe that our Creator made us for a purpose other than to destroy us. We could submit to His occasional punishment in order to better reach the potential He created humans to achieve, and live according to His will. Instead, we believe He must be resisted or denied altogether, and we must submit instead to the punishment, will and dehumanization of radical, destructive, insane elites who view us not as children of God but almost literally as ants.

Open your eyes. Our Creator is exposing to us the fundamental flaw not just of a particular political party or ideology or class but of human civilization itself. It's time to see this tower for what it really is.

Read "Mystery of Civilization" in Herbert W. Armstrong's book Mystery of the Ages.

D. Kelly, being first duly sworn, deposes and says:

That He is a Detective with the Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department, being so employed for a period of 19 years, assigned to investigate the crime(s) of Threat/False Info Re Act of Terrorism NRS 202.448 committed on or about 12/23/2020, which investigation has developed Houston, Matthew as the perpetrator thereof.

THAT DECLARANT DEVELOPED THE FOLLOWING FACTS IN THE COURSE OF THE INVESTIGATION OF SAID CRIME, TO WIT:

On 03/16/2021 I D. Kelly #7413 was notified by Capital Police Officer Montero #C6056 of incidents involving an individual named Matthew Houston who was threatening to commit acts of violence unless his workman's compensation appeal was resolved.

On 12/23/2020 at 0803 am Matthew Houston left a voicemail on the main telephone line for Office for Consumer Health Assistance located at 332 W. Sahara #100 Las Vegas, NV 89102 from phone number [REDACTED] Redenta Blacic who is the Ombudsman for Workers Compensation returned Houston's phone call at 0829 am the same day. Houston told Blacic that he had an appeal before the Nevada Supreme Court and alleged he was being harassed by his insurer Sedgwick CMS Nevada Attorney for injured workers and the Department of Administration Hearings Division. Blacic asked if he had filed a complaint with the Division of Industrial Relations Workers Compensation Section and Houston responded that he had filed several complaints with them and again stated he was being harassed by everyone. As Blacic started to explain the process, Houston became angry and began yelling about knowing the process and being harassed and that he should be afforded all the benefits instead of being harassed by government agencies. He then stated to Blacic that "They shouldn't be surprised if/when he goes on a mass shooting rampage like the one committed on October 1st" Blacic does not remember if Houston used the words "if" or "when". Blacic attempted to calm Houston down but was unsuccessful. Houston attempted to call back two more times but Blacic did not answer the calls. No phone calls or voicemails were recorded.

I conducted an interview with Blacic on 03/22/21 with Detective F. Edge #8645 and obtained Blacic's taped statement regarding the incident. Blacic stated she was scared that Houston would carry out his threats, and after the phone call notified her supervisor. A Capital Police report was generated under Report Number 20C900043 which was taken on 12/31/20. I also completed an LVMPD report under LVMPD Evt# LLV 210300101590

On 07/23/2020 Houston also made threats to Rosemarie McMorris who is employed by Houston's insurer. McMorris filed an LVMPD crime report under Evt# LLV200700099888 for Harassment. Details of the report indicate Houston threatened to murder every employee of Sedgwick and their families and "Eat their hearts" and an Arrest warrant for harassment was submitted at that time.

On 03/16/2021 Jason Lewis [REDACTED] advised Capital Police that Houston also has made threats to the Department of Administration Hearings Division of Northern Nevada located in Carson City leaving a voicemail stating "I need immediate assistance because I am going to fucking murder every fucking employee at Mandalay Bay, MGM and everyone in the state of Nevada if you fucking people don't give me my fucking money."

Capital Police officer Montero had local Iowa PD officer Fowler [REDACTED] verify Houston's physical address as 435 S Linn St Apt 927, Iowa City IA 52240. Fowler stated that Houston has been responsible for 21 calls for service in Iowa City and is mentally ill and constantly on & off his prescribed medication.

Due to the fact that Houston through the means of oral communication made the threat "They shouldn't be surprised if/when he goes on a mass shooting rampage like the one committed on October 1st." and therefore, intimidated and alarmed Blacic and her coworkers. There is Probable Cause to believe that Houston made a Threat/False Info Re Act of Terrorism NRS 202.448.

Wherefore, Declarant prays that a Warrant of Arrest be issued for suspect Houston, Matthew on the charge(s) of Threat/False Info Re Act of Terrorism NRS 202.448.

I declare under penalty of perjury under the law of the State of Nevada that the foregoing is true and correct.

On 07/23/2020 Houston also made threats to Rosemarie McMorris who is employed by Houston's house. McMorris filed an LVMPD crime report under Evt# LLV200700009888 for Harassment. EVIDENCE OF INCOMPETENCE:

Capital Police officer Montero had local Iowa PD officer Fowler (verify Houston's physical address as [redacted]) Fowler stated that Houston has been responsible for 21 calls for service in Iowa City and is mentally ill and constantly on & off his prescribed medication.

Again, where's the proof of any of this? As Blacic started to explain the process, Houston became angry and began yelling about knowing the process and being harassed and that he should be afforded all the benefits instead of being harassed by government agencies. He then stated to Blacic that "They shouldn't be surprised ~~if~~when he goes on a mass shooting rampage like the one committed on October 1st" Blacic does not remember if Houston used the words "if" or "when". Blacic attempted to calm Houston down but was unsuccessful. Houston attempted to call back two more times but Blacic did not answer the calls. No phone calls or voicemails were recorded.

I conducted an interview with Blacic on 03/22/21 with Detective F. Edge #8645 and obtained Blacic's taped statement regarding the incident. Blacic stated she was scared that Houston would carry out his threats, and after the phone call notified her supervisor. A Capital Police report was generated under Report Number 20C000043 which was taken on 12/31/20.

On 07/23/2020 Houston also made threats to Rosemarie McMorris who is employed by Houston's insurer. McMorris filed an LVMPD crime report under Ev# LLV200700098888 for Harassment. Details of the report indicate Houston threatened to murder every employee of Badgwick and their families and "Eat their hearts" and an Arrest warrant for harassment was submitted.

On 03/16/2021 Jason Lewis [REDACTED] advised Capital Police that Houston also has made threats to the Department of Administration Hearings Division of Northern Nevada located in Carson City leaving a voicemail stating "I need immediate assistance because I am going to fucking murder every fucking employee at Mandalay Bay, MGM and everyone in the state of Nevada if you fucking people don't give me my fucking money."

Capital Police officer Montero had local Iowa PD officer Fowler [REDACTED] verify Houston's physical address as [REDACTED]. Fowler stated that Houston has been responsible for 21 calls for service in Iowa City and is mentally ill and constantly on & off his prescribed medication.

Due to the fact that Houston through the means of oral communication over the telephone made the threat "They shouldn't be surprised ~~if~~when he goes on a mass shooting rampage like the one committed on October 1st" and therefore, intimidated and alarmed Blacic and her coworkers. There is Probable Cause that Houston made a threat/Falsely Info Re act of Terrorism NRS 202.446.

VOLUNTARY STATEMENT (Continuation)

Statement Of: Radenta Black (RB)

Exhibit #: LLV210300101690

DK: And are you giving this statement of your own free will?

RB: Yes.

DK: Awesome. So yeah, can you just tell me what happened in regards to this incident?

RB: Okay on um December 23rd, um I received an email from our administrative assistant indicating that Mr. Huston had called and left a message and wanted us um to return his call. I am the workers compensation on Buds – Ombudsman and he had some workers compensation issues, so the email came to me. I called him on the 23rd, at 9:03 when I a – when he answered the phone, he basically indicated that he was on the other phone with the Federal Department of Labor, as well as myself, and he said he was taped recording both phone calls.

Um he never said he had any issue with a not wanting to talk to me, I mean he continued the conversation, um indicating how he had been wronged by the workers compensation system, and every entity in Workers Compensation Nevada Attorney for Injured Workers, a his workers compensation insurer third party administrative which was Sedwick, and um I tried to um deescalate the situation explaining um workers compensation was a process. Um he was alleging harassment by his third party administrator Sedwick, by the Nevada Attorney for Injured Workers, um the Department of Administration, the hearings, he had um, had some hearing and he did not prevail, and um he currently shared he had a hearing pending um at the Nevada Supreme Court, I do believe.

But he's very um disgruntled, a so again I tried to calmed him down, and when I explained that workers compensation was a just a process, just trying to explain to him is a process, he um – he started yelling, that he knows workers compensation um and how he was being harassed and he should be provided everything because he was the injured worker.

Um instead of being harassed by government agencies, and then he stated that we should not be surprised um he used the word if/or when I'm sorry I don't remember if or when he um goes on a mass shooting rampage like um the one committed on October 1st. I attempted – I attempted to calm him down that failed, so I disc – I disconnected the call, he attempted to call back, I did not pick up the call. I called my supervisor who said that um we needed to file a report with Capital Police, um because of the statement he said, you know if/or when he, he said he, goes on um ...

DK: ... right.

RB: ... a the shooting spree, like October 1st, then – that really concerned me.

DK: And um did you – did you make a, filed a report with Capital Police?

RB: Yes I did. Yes I did, I filed a report with Capital Police, and um they have my statement and the online report, the number is 20C900043. Um after that um, they reached out to me, it was over the Christmas holiday, so things were scattered um, I also um – the officer asked me to reach out to Sedwick, who is the third party administrator as well as the Division of Industrial Relations, who is my former employer. So, I do – I do know the District Manager over there, and um she had shared with me that he had called the DIR, that they did filed a report because of the third party notification that Sedwick had notified them of their concern of Mr. (Huston) um it took a few days, it was after Christmas, I don't remember the exact day but Rosemary McMorris, who is the manager of Sedwick finally reached out to me, and she shared with me, that they had also filed a report, because they were also concerned with um their well being.

Because he had threatened her, the adjuster, the supervisor, um and to the point where they were working from home and Sedwick had to hire security for them, while they were working at home because of the threats that Mr. (Huston) made against them, um that's where we are with that.

DK: And did they um, let you know what the nature of those threats were?

RB: No they did not, because I'm no longer the regulator.

DK: Okay.

RB: Um I'm not privy to a lot information that I would've been privy to had I still been part of, in the regulatory agency.

DK: And - and how approximately how long has this situation been going on with Mr. Huston?

RB: Um...

DK: Approximately...

RB: ... approximately, when I talked to him in December um, gosh it at least I - I think, God it sounded like it was a like month - a month and half before when Sedrick had complaint, it was already something that had been done, prior to him reaching out to us and making that threat.

DK: Okay, um...

RB: ... I don't know a time, I'm so sorry they didn't share that with me.

DK: No, that's okay. Um and then when he called back, a did he leave messages?

RB: He did but unfortunately we did not saved them. Um they were again late, I forward them to my supervisor, didn't do anything, but unfortunately, I'm so sorry they were not saved.

DK: That's - that's okay. Did - did you listen to those messages?

RB: Um n - I just heard his name and then I just sent it forward.

DK: Okay.

RB: Because I just did not.

DK: Okay, and then um...

Statement Of: Redenta Black (RB)

Event #: LLV210300101590

RB: ... I just thought it was better for me, just...

DK: ... sure, that's understandable.

RB: Just send it to my supervisor.

DK: And then when he called, did he called um a this main office number?

RB: Would he did, the first time he called the main office number, and then because I was working remotely, um I had a cellular phone that's an office phone, it's a 775 number, and when I do that um I call off that number because no one picks up a restricted call from my phone.

DK: Okay. why wouldn't she answer if Houston called back? if she was truly afraid why didn't she file

RB: So, I use that phone, and that's a 775 number and that's the phone I used and that's the one complaint he would - would he tried originally right away to call back on that one, I ignored it he didn't leave any messages, but when he did call back after, he did call back on the mainline. Which earlier is the one I forwarded to my supervisor then 4 months later?

DK: Okay, and forgive me for not knowing all the appropriate division...

RB: ... uh-um...

DK: ... and ...

RB: ... oh I'm sorry...

DK: ... and organization...

RB: ... uh-um...

OBJECTION:

DK: ... involved with this process, but do you know if he made any threats to the Nevada Department of Administration Hearings Division of Northern Nevada?

RB: Um - um no I do not.

DK: Okay. How does RB "know" that he made threats to Sedgwick?

RB: Um, I know that he made threats to Sedgwick, I know that the Division of Industrial Relations Workers Compensation Section because Sedgwick reported them, were reported to him to them, because they were concerned. Um they filed a verbal with Capital Police.

DK: Okay. Why did Sedgwick make these false reports?

RB: But, I - for what the Division of Industrial Relations Workers Compensation Section said, Mr. Huston did not threaten them directly, he just... well what did he "just" do?

DK: Okay. And when - when you were on the phone with Mr. Huston...

Statement Of: Referta Black (RB)

Ent #: LLV210300101600

RB: ... uh-um...

DK: ... he made the -- the threats were you, a did you believe that he (unintelligible)

((crosstalk))

RB: ... tone and manner is illegal pursuant to the First Amendment without question, I was fearful, I was, I was -- I was distraught and I was fearful, because of his new company he did make the threats tone and his manner. And I been doing workers-comp since 1992, um actually as an audit investigator, so I -- I had threats, I had all those types of things um said to me in the past. Um you know workers-comp is not a system that breeds positivity (laughter).

DK: Sure. Q so if she did have experience, why did she not report the audit? why did she deny her duty in helping Houston file

RB: It's a, so but he -- he scared me I mean, I still get upset, his is how many months later. And he frightens me, his tone, because he said if/when he, he said he -- he, not someone, he said a girl he, and he was frightening, I -- I was fearful.

DK: Okay. And again what was the date of this phone call?

RB: Um it was, um December, um 23rd.

DK: And do you remember roughly what time?

RB: Yeah it was 8:03, because I -- I logged it right away, I have, I sent...

DK: ... okay approximately how long did the conversation last?

RB: Um I wanna say maybe ten minutes, ten -- fifteen minutes, at the most.

DK: Okay and he made the threat... ← How did Houston make a threat if none of the phone calls were recorded or logged?

RB: ... at the most...

DK: ... toward the end of the conversation?

RB: Yes, yes it was just like I said as soon as he said that and I couldn't calm him down, and he frighten me, um because again I'm not generally frighten, it's not ...

DK: ... okay...

RB: ... something I -- I, I'm like I'm done, so I disconnected the call, and I called, I talked to my supervisor right away, I called them on my cell phone saying, a -- you need to know this, because...

DK: Okay, um so what I'm gonna do is um I'm gonna file a Las Vegas Metropolitan Police Department report.

RB: Uh-uh.

NOTICE OF INTENT TO USE AUDIOVISUAL TECHNOLOGY PURSUANT TO NRS 171.1975 TO PRESENT LIVE TESTIMONY AT PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION DUE TO COVID-19 OUTBREAK

Pursuant to NRS 171.1975, if the preliminary hearing in this matter is conducted during the COVID-19 outbreak, the State of Nevada intends to present the testimony of all victims and witnesses, regardless of geographical location, through the use of audiovisual technology. The court must allow the use of such audiovisual technology if good cause exists.¹

Prior to the preliminary hearing in this matter, the witness will be sworn and will sign the previously provided declaration, which acknowledges that "the witness understands that he or she is subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state and may be subject to criminal prosecution for the commission of any crime in connection with his or her testimony, including, without limitation, perjury, and that the witness consents to such jurisdiction."²

There is good cause existing to limit in-person testimony at a preliminary hearing during the COVID-19 outbreak due to the following facts and circumstances:

On March 11, 2020, the World Health Organization, noting their deep concern as to "both [] the alarming levels of spread and severity, and [] the alarming levels of inaction," to the COVID-19 outbreak, officially declared the outbreak as a pandemic. While doing so, the WHO noted they "have never before seen pandemic that can be controlled," and since they were first notified, they have "called everyday (sic) for countries to take urgent and aggressive action," further noting, "[w]e have rung the alarm bell loud and clear."³

Since this classification of the COVID-19 outbreak as a pandemic, Federal, State, County, and Local governments across the United States of America have taken swift and significant action to prevent the spread of this disease.

On Friday, March 13, President Trump declared a National Emergency Concerning the Novel Coronavirus Disease (COVID-19) Outbreak.⁴ Three days after this initial proclamation, President Trump and the White House Coronavirus Task Force issued stronger guidelines in an effort to slow the spread of this disease. Notably, the guidelines stated "[e]ven if you are young, or otherwise healthy, you are at risk and your activities can increase the risk for others. It is critical that you do your part to slow the spread of the coronavirus." President Trump called for gatherings to be no larger than ten people and to avoid eating and drinking in bars, restaurants, or food courts.⁵ Finally, the Director of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases noted: “[w]hen you’re dealing with an emerging infectious disease outbreak, you are always behind where you think you are....”⁶

Governor Sisolak issued a Declaration of Emergency in the State of Nevada on March 12, 2020. On Sunday, March 15, 2020, Governor Sisolak ordered all K-12 schools in the State of Nevada closed through April 6, 2020. Later that same day, he announced further directives, which included: closing state offices to the public, a call to transition to working as much as possible over the phone or online for essential services, and strongly encouraged gaming properties to close to the public. Governor Sisolak stated these efforts are required “protect the health and safety of the public and our state workforce while ensuring that the important work of our state government does not grind to a halt.” Further, he noted that we all “must do what we can to be part of the solution and share[] responsibility for each other as Nevadans.”⁷

Clark County, as well as many cities therein, issued their own Declarations of Emergency in response to the COVID-19 outbreak.⁸ Federal, state, and local courts also responded to the outbreak with varying administrative orders, citing the COVID-19 outbreak as good cause to suspend court proceedings or scale back operations.

The U.S. District Court for the District of Nevada continued all trials through April 20, 2020, among other modifications and visitor restrictions “to do its part in slowing the spread of COVID-19.”⁹

The Nevada Supreme Court and Court of Appeals imposed visitor restrictions to minimize exposure, noting, “... the best way to prevent illness is to avoid being exposed to the virus.”¹⁰

The Eighth Judicial District Court issued Administrative Order 20-01, which suspended all jury trials for 30 days and encouraged any essential hearings to be heard through alternative means to in-person appearances. Additionally, the order provided restrictions on public and employee entry into the courthouse.¹¹ Three days later, through Administrative Order 20-02, the court discontinued in-person meetings or gatherings and issued a direction to conduct court business through social distancing.¹²

The Las Vegas Justice Court issued Administrative Order 20-03, which provided for amended procedures due to the COVID-19 outbreak. However, all preliminary hearings, regardless of...

custody status, are still expected to proceed in person, although alternative appearances for the attorneys are "encouraged when possible."¹³

While there are precautionary measures in place to screen for those exhibiting symptoms of the virus before entering the courthouse, the courthouse is open to the public as of March 16, 2020. A person infected with this virus, and who is contagious, may take up to two weeks to exhibit the symptoms that are the current focus of any screening. Further, multiple new studies strongly suggest that those who are infected, but are asymptomatic, are likely a significant force driving the spread of COVID-19.¹⁴ Finally, President Trump declared COVID-19 an "invisible enemy."¹⁵

Considering preliminary hearings are still scheduled and expected to be heard in the Las Vegas Justice Court, where attorneys are encouraged to use alternative methods to appear, limiting the in-person testimony of all victims and witnesses is required in the interest of public health and the safety of our community. Therefore, the State of Nevada intends to introduce such testimony at the preliminary hearing through the use of audiovisual technology should this hearing proceed during the COVID-19 outbreak.

15 GUILTY PLEA AGREEMENT

16 I hereby agree to plead guilty to: AGGRAVATED STALKING (Category B 17 Felony - NRS 200.575 - NOC 50333), as more fully alleged in the charging document attached 18 hereto as Exhibit "1".

19 My decision to plead guilty is based upon the plea agreement in this case which is as 20 follows:

21 The State has no opposition to probation for a twenty-four (24) month period. The 22 parties stipulate to recommend a two (2) to five (5) year suspended sentence. Parties agree 23 Defendant will receive a mental health evaluation and any treatment as a condition of 24 probation, and retain the right to argue any other terms and conditions. The State will not 25 oppose dismissal of Case No. 21CR033713 after rendition of sentence. Defendant is to stay
26 away and have no contact with Redenta Blacio, Rosemarie McMorris, and/or Jonathan 27 Shockely. Defendant is to also stay away from 9930 West Cheyenne Avenue, Las Vegas, 28 Nevada. The State will not oppose Defendant's own recognizance release with low-level

1 electronic monitoring after entry of plea with all of the above stated no contact and stay away
2 orders. If I successfully complete probation and receive an honorable discharge, I may 3 withdraw my plea and plead guilty to AGGRAVATED STALKING (Gross Misdemeanor -
4 NRS 200.575(1), waiving any defects in that pleading, with credit for time served.

5 Defendant agrees and understands that he is ineligible for the reduction in his 6 sentence if one or more of the following events occur:

- 7 1. Defendant fails to interview for the presentence investigation;
- 8 2. Defendant fails to make any subsequent court appearance;
- 9 3. An independent magistrate, by affidavit review, confirms probable cause against him for 10 new criminal charges including reckless driving or DUI, but excluding minor traffic 11 violations;
- 12 4. Defendant fails to pay restitution in full; or
- 13 5. Defendant has been found by the Court to be in violation of his probation, regardless of 14 whether the Defendant is revoked or not.

15 I agree to the forfeiture of any and all weapons or any interest in any weapons seized 16 and/or impounded in connection with the instant case and/or any other case negotiated in 17 whole or in part in conjunction with this plea agreement.

18 I understand and agree that, if I fail to interview with the Department of Parole and 19 Probation, fail to appear at any subsequent hearings in this case, or an independent magistrate, 20 by affidavit review, confirms probable cause against me for new criminal charges including 21 reckless driving or DUI, but excluding minor traffic violations, the State will have the 22 unqualified right to argue for any legal sentence and term of confinement allowable for the 23 crime(s) to which I am pleading guilty, including the use of any prior convictions I may have 24 to increase my sentence as an habitual criminal to five (5) to twenty (20) years, life without 25 the possibility of parole, life with the possibility of parole after ten (10) years, or a definite 26 twenty-five (25) year term with the possibility of parole after ten (10) years.

27 Otherwise I am entitled to receive the benefits of these negotiations as stated in this 28 plea agreement.

CONSEQUENCES OF THE PLEA

I understand that by pleading guilty I admit the facts which support all the elements of the offense(s) to which I now plead as set forth in Exhibit "1".

I understand that as a consequence of my plea of guilty the Court must sentence me to imprisonment in the Nevada Department of Corrections for a minimum term of not less than TWO (2) years and a maximum term of not more than FIFTEEN (15) years. The minimum term of imprisonment may not exceed forty percent (40%) of the maximum term of imprisonment. I understand that I may also be fined up to $5,000.00. I understand that the law requires me to pay an Administrative Assessment Fee.

I understand that, if appropriate, I will be ordered to make restitution to the victim of the offense(s) to which I am pleading guilty and to the victim of any related offense which is being dismissed or not prosecuted pursuant to this agreement. I will also be ordered to reimburse the State of Nevada for any expenses related to my extradition, if any.

I understand that I am eligible for probation for the offense to which I am pleading guilty. I understand that, except as otherwise provided by statute, the question of whether I receive probation is in the discretion of the sentencing judge.

I understand that I must submit to blood and/or saliva tests under the Direction of the Division of Parole and Probation to determine genetic markers and/or secretor status.

I understand that if I am pleading guilty to charges of Burglary, Invasion of the Home, Possession of a Controlled Substance with Intent to Sell, Sale of a Controlled Substance, or Gaming Crimes, for which I have prior felony conviction(s), I will not be eligible for probation and may receive a higher sentencing range.

I understand that if more than one sentence of imprisonment is imposed and I am eligible to serve the sentences concurrently, the sentencing judge has the discretion to order the sentences served concurrently or consecutively.

I understand that information regarding charges not filed, dismissed charges, or charges to be dismissed pursuant to this agreement may be considered by the judge at sentencing.

1. The constitutional privilege against self-incrimination, including the right to refuse to testify at trial, in which event the prosecution would not be allowed to comment to the jury about my refusal to testify.
2. The constitutional right to a speedy and public trial by an impartial jury, free of excessive pretrial publicity prejudicial to the defense, at which trial I would be entitled to the assistance of an attorney, either appointed or retained. At trial the State would bear the burden of proving beyond a reasonable doubt each element of the offense(s) charged.
3. The constitutional right to confront and cross-examine any witnesses who would testify against me.
4. The constitutional right to subpoena witnesses to testify on my behalf.
5. The constitutional right to testify in my own defense.
6. The right to appeal the conviction with the assistance of an attorney, either appointed or retained, unless specifically reserved in writing and agreed upon as provided in NRS 174.035(3). I understand this means I am unconditionally waiving my right to a direct appeal of this conviction, including any challenge based upon reasonable constitutional, jurisdictional or other grounds that challenge the legality of the proceedings as stated in NRS 177.015(4). However, I remain free to challenge my conviction through other post-conviction remedies including a habeas corpus petition pursuant to NRS Chapter 34.

VOLUNTARINESS OF PLEA

I have discussed the elements of all of the original charge(s) against me with my attorney and I understand the nature of the charge(s) against me.

I understand that the State would have to prove each element of the charge(s) against me at trial.

I have discussed with my attorney any possible defenses, defense strategies and circumstances which might be in my favor.

All of the foregoing elements, consequences, rights, and waiver of rights have been thoroughly explained to me by my attorney.

I believe that pleading guilty and accepting this plea bargain is in my best interest, and that a trial would be contrary to my best interest.

I am signing this agreement voluntarily, after consultation with my attorney, and I am not acting under duress or coercion or by virtue of any promises of leniency, except for those set forth in this agreement.

1 I am not now under the influence of any intoxicating liquor, a controlled substance or 2 other drug which would in any manner impair my ability to comprehend or understand this 3 agreement or the proceedings surrounding my entry of this plea.

4 My attorney has answered all my questions regarding this guilty plea agreement and its 5 consequences to my satisfaction and I am satisfied with the services provided by my attorney.

POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

As result of Redenta Blacic's lies and exaggerations to the Defendant Matthew Houston ("Defendant") was originally charged in the instant case in Las Vegas Justice Court case number 21CR019840 with one (1) count of Making Threats or Conveying False Information Concerning Act of Terrorism (Category B Felony), naming victims Redenta Blacic and/or the Office of Consumer Health Assistance. At Initial Arraignment Court, the Court imposed monetary bail of $3,000 with the added condition of mid-level electronic monitoring and no contact orders. Defendant's monetary bail was later reduced to $500 after argument in justice Court, with the added conditions of high-level electronic monitoring and no contact orders. (the record will reflect that these bond amounts were lies too, when the transcripts are transcribed.)

Defendant was also charged in Las Vegas Justice Court case number 21CR033713 with one (1) count of Extortion, naming victims Rosemarie McMorris and/or Jonathan Shockely. Monetary bail was imposed in 21CR033713 in the amount of $5,000 with high-level electronic monitoring and no contact orders, which was dismissed December 8th 2021 per fraudulent GPA as result of an ILLEGAL and unsigned "warrant". On August 3, 2021, pursuant to negotiations, an Information was filed in the instant case charging Defendant with one (1) count of Aggravated Stalking (Category B Felony), naming victims Redenta Blacic, Rosemarie McMorris, and Jonathan Shockely. there were NO negotiations

On August 4, 2021, Defendant pled guilty to Aggravated Stalking. Pursuant to the plea agreement, the State had no opposition to probation with a mental health evaluation and any recommended treatment as conditions of probation. The State agreed to dismiss case number 21CR033713 after sentencing, and further agreed to not oppose Defendant's own recognizance release with low-level electronic monitoring after entry of plea. because he's deaf, incompetent and blind - visually impaired

Also pursuant to the signed plea agreement, Defendant was ordered to stay away and have no contact with Redenta Blacic, Rosemarie McMorris, and/or Jonathan Shockely. that did NOT contain any express consent

On or about September 7, 2021, after house arrest obtained the contact information for the named victims, Defendant was released on low-level electronic monitoring. Defendant's sentencing is currently scheduled for November 29, 2021. After he served time in city jail for CX 2 which constituted double jeopardy and violated his right to ...

So July 14th, 2021 to September 7th because of false police reports...?

So was ~~the~~ on the alleged telephone call ^{ON OCTOBER 1, 2021} or was ~~the~~ the alleged telephone call ^{about Friday, OCTOBER 1ST, 2021} - then very day of the Defendant's 5th anniversary of surviving ^{ONE OCTOBER}

1 On or about Friday, October 1, 2021, Defendant called Jonathan Shockley at his place
2 of employment and left an aggressive and threatening voicemail that will be provided to the 3 Court at the time of filing the instant Motion. Exhibit 1. Defendant is violent and aggressive
4 in this voicemail where he proceeds to verbally abuse both Jonathan Shockley and Rosemarie
5 Judge in fact hear this alleged telephone call before ~~the~~ the alleged voice
6 McMorris. Based on his concerning actions that are a direct violation of this Court's orders, 7 mail was played to Tierra Danielle Jones in the date of 12/6/2021.
8 from August 4, 2021, the State requests that Defendant be remanded, and monetary bail be 9 reset to at least the originally imposed total amount from both justice Court cases of $8,000
10 with the added condition of high-level electronic monitoring. ^(it was actually $20,000)

11 That's a pretty penny for a made up voice mail that STATEMENT OF FACTS ^(none of this is fact. it is all allegations)
12 In December 2020, Defendant left a voicemail on the main line for the Office of 13 Consumer Health Assistance. Defendant was and is contesting findings that had previously 14 been made regarding his Workers' Compensation issues. Victim Redenta Blacic called 15 Defendant back and tried to assist Defendant. Defendant became verbally aggressive and told 16 Ms. Blacic "They shouldn't be surprised if he goes on a mass shooting rampage like the one
17 committed on October 1". Ms. Blacic tried to calm Defendant down but was unsuccessful
18 and the call ended. Defendant called Ms. Blacic back twice, but she did not answer. Ms. Blacic 19 was scared that Defendant would carry out his threats. See police report stating that 20 none of the phone calls were taped or recorded.

21 Capitol Police investigated and discovered that Defendant also made threats to the 22 Department of Administration Hearings Division of Northern Nevada by leaving a voicemail
23 stating, "I need immediate assistance because I am going to fucking murder every fucking
24 employee at Mandalay Bay, MGM and everyone in the state of Nevada if you fucking people 25 don't give me my fucking money." Although absolutely NO proof of this was 26 provided to the courts during ANY of the hearings in ANY of the cases
27 In June 2021, Rosemarie McMorris, a Claims Operations Manager for Sedgewick (a 28 third-party administrator that handles workman compensation claims) reported to LVMPD that Defendant, an injured worker who was denied compensation, was angry about being denied and was directing his anger toward her, although no sort of evidence is /// proven of this in the Discovery documents mailed to the /// Defendant until AFTER he was already moved to H.D.S.P.

OBJECTION: Houston never made any telephone calls. Over a telephone call, Defendant told Ms. McMorris "I know where you fucking live, you cunt. You and your 2 daughters will be raped and murdered if I don't get my fucking money." Ms. McMorris was concerned because she in fact has two daughters, and never gave Defendant that information. She was also concerned that Defendant obtained her home address from the Internet. why would def. do that? He was living in Texas.

Ms. McMorris reported that Defendant threatened another employee, Jonathan Shockely, as well, and further indicated that she previously reported similar behavior from this same Defendant to the LVMPD in July 2020. In July 2020, Defendant left voice messages threatening to murder every employee of Sedgwick and their families and "eat their hearts."

ARGUMENT So, why didn't this

NRS 178.487 provides that: character show up in court? Is this
NOT proof that insurance has abused

Every release on bail with or without security is conditioned upon the Defendant's good behavior while so released, and upon a showing that proof is evident or the presumption great, (the Defendant has committed a felony during the period of release, the Defendant's bail may be revoked, after a hearing by the Magistrate who allowed it or by any Judge of the Court in which the original charge is pending. Pending such revocation, the Defendant may be held without bail by order of the Magistrate before whom he is brought after arrest upon the second charge. original charge to utilize

Tierra Danielle Jones was as a "kangaroo" whereas she jumping off too next?
Subsection (11) of NRS 178.484, titled "Right to bail before conviction; exceptions;

(these) were blatantly ignored by court imposition of conditions; arrest for violation of condition," states that "Before releasing a person arrested for any crime, the Court may impose such reasonable conditions on the person as it deems necessary to protect the health, safety and welfare of the community and to ensure that the person will appear at all times and places ordered by the Court..." (Emphasis added).

NRS 178.484(12) further states as follows:

If a person fails to comply with a condition imposed pursuant to subsection 11, the Court may, after providing the person with reasonable notice and an opportunity for a hearing:

- (a) Deem such conduct a contempt pursuant to NRS 22.010; or
- (b) Increase the amount of bail pursuant to NRS 178.499.

NRS 178.499 states as follows: (SEE VOID GPA) Further, the "No /// CONTACT ORDER" HAD EXPIRED, so even if Houston did leave an alleged voicemail for somebody, it was nothing more than a fact of law based on hearsay.

1. At any time after a District or justice's Court has ordered bail to be set at a specific amount, and before acquittal or conviction, the Court may upon its own Motion or upon Motion of the District attorney and after notice to the Defendant's attorney or record or, if none, to the Defendant, increase the amount of bail for good cause shown.

2. If the Defendant has been released on bail before the time when the Motion to increase bail is granted, the Defendant shall either return to custody or give the additional amount of bail.

(Emphasis added).

NRS 178.498 states "If the Defendant is admitted to bail, the bail must be set at an amount which in the judgment of the Magistrate will reasonably ensure the appearance of the Defendant and the safety of other persons and of the community, having regard to:

1. The nature and circumstances of the offense charged;
2. The financial ability of the Defendant to give bail;
3. The character of the Defendant; and
4. The factors listed in NRS 178.4853.

NRS 178.4853 factors are as follows:

1. The length of his residence in the community;
2. The status and history of his employment;
3. His relationship with his spouse and children, parents or other member of his family and with his close friends;
4. His reputation, character and mental condition;
5. His prior criminal record, including, without limitation, any record of his appearing or failing to appear after release on bail or without bail;
6. The identity of responsible members of the community who would vouch for the reliability of the person;
7. The nature of the offense with which he is charged, the apparent probability of conviction and the likely sentence insofar as these factors relate to the risk of his not appearing;
8. The nature and seriousness of the danger to the alleged victim, any other person or the community that would be posed by the person's release;
9. The likelihood of more criminal activity by him after he is released; and
10. Any other factors concerning his ties to the community or bearing on the risk that he may willfully fail to appear.

Defendant has brazenly disregarded both the orders of the Court regarding his release conditions and the conditions of his plea agreement, filed on August 4, 2021, that he has no contact whatsoever with the three (3) named victims in this case. Defendant knowingly called one of the named victims (Jonathan Shockely) and states "Jonathan, Jonathan, Jonathan," and continues his voicemail to indicate that he has "figured out" who Rosemarie McMorris is.

where's the proof?
Daniel Schwartz that call not Def.

1 Defendant proceeds to scream into the phone stating "that's the piece of shit [referring to Ms.
2 McMorris] that made me more disabled." Defendant yells in a threatening manner that "they,"
3 referring to Shockely and McMorris are "pedophiles" and "worthless fucks." Defendant tells 4 Jonathan that he needs to "put [his] fucking address in that paperwork to you fucking little 5 fucker." The question for our lady justice is, or how could this GPA
6 had been his without it containing his "express consent" unsigned

7 Defendant's brazen violations of this Court's orders, and his plea agreement, provide 8 good cause to increase/impose monetary bail. Defendant's underlying behavior in both justice 9 Court cases is concerning and aggressive. Defendant was given the opportunity to behave and 10 abide by the orders of the Court while out of custody, and he has utterly failed to do so in a 11 continued aggressive, violent, and frankly terrifying manner. The victims should not be 12 subjected to this behavior. Defendant's threats cause safety concerns for all involved in this 13 case. What about the safety of the Defendant and the 5
14 evictions SEDGWICK caused. What about the doctors
15 appointment Petitioner was arrested at ? 7/4/21

16 CONCLUSION
17 Based upon the above, the State respectfully requests that this Court GRANT the 18 State's Motion to Remand Defendant and increase/impose monetary bail and high-level
19 electronic monitoring pending sentencing pursuant to NRS 178.484(12)(b) and NRS 178.499.

20 DATED this 5th day of October, 2021. So in essence, the State wasn't

7/14 arrest caused cruel and unusual punishment to be inflicted upon Houston what with him being denied his medical disability rating of Dr. Quasler's impoundment of his service dogs and him being forced to relocate from Iowa and recover from an unnecessary eviction from his out-of-home legal advocacy office at 435 S Linn St #927, IA City, IA 52240

Sedgwick used overreaching tactics to force Houston into an unmanageable state of homelessness. B. M. Murnighan's culpable omission and neglect of Houston's reports to D. Ferrante caused not only further injury to Houston, not other injured workers under D. Ferrante's mishandling and odious irresponsibility. Sedgwick is an abatable nuisance and must be held accountable for depriving Houston of his service animals.

Plaintiff-in-Error moves this court for an ORDER TO SUPPRESS and strike from the record the illegal "INFORMATION" due in part not only to the following facts: N.R.S. 178.145 clearly states that there must NOT be any agreements made before a defendant is found competent. However, misconduct committed by certain individuals not limited to: TIERRA DANIELLE JONES, NANCY BECKER, Jake W. Merback, KRISTINA A. RHOADES and STEVEN B. WOLFSON/John T. Jones, Jr.
BENARD H. LITTLE, AMY CHELINI, JEREMY WOOD, STEPHANIE DIEZ, HARMONY T. LETIZIA, the land in the State of Nevada, the United States of America in the 9th.

1 "A Failure to Investigate Competency," in defense of the 2 Plaintiff-in-Error's Battered Person's Syndrome, C.P.T.S.D., i.e.
3 Complex Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder and Traumatic Brain Injuries. Very 4 many judicial standards have been developed in the following cases:

5 Medina v. California, 505 U.S. 437, 439,
6 112 S.Ct. 2572 L.Ed. 2d 353 (1992)

7 "It is well established that the Due Process
8 Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment prohibits 9 the criminal prosecution of a defendant who 10 is not competent to stand trial." That was set thirty 11 years ago, before the false arrest of the Plaintiff-in-Error on July 14, 2021.

12 United States v. Kauffman, 109 F.3d 186 (3d Cir. 1997)

13 "Failure to conduct any investigation into possible 14 insanity defense was ineffective assistance" Especially because 15 the false arrest caused Plaintiff-in-Error to miss his doctor's appointments.

16 See Taylor v. Horn, 504 F.3d 416, 438 (3d Cir. 2007)

17 "a failure to request a competency hearing may 18 violate the right to effective assistance of 19 counsel if (1) there was sufficient indicia of 20 incompetence to give objectively reasonable 21 counsel reason to doubt the defendant's
22 competency; and (2) there is a reasonable 23 probability that the defendant would have been 24 found incompetent to stand trial had the 25 issue been raised and fully considered" The Plaintiff-26 in-Error's appointment with Dr. Tyson Ward, at Nevada Retina Specialists, 27 right next door to the Best Western was missed on July 15, 2021, 28 because of the false arrest which deprived him of his service animals.

 14 ("a failure to timely investigate a client's mental 15 state, let alone a failure to assert a mental state
 16 defence at trial, falls well below an objective standard
 17 of reasonableness" where a defendant exhibits
 18 "severe mental problems"). Had Plaintiff-in-Error been able to attend 19 his check-up with Dr. Awagleri on August 14, 2021, his diminished mental 20 state declined. ^{See} Cases to which Benard Little and the court ignored:
 21 Hull v. Tyler, 190 F.3d 88, 110 (3d Cir. 1999) 22 (trial counsel was ineffective when he failed to present any of 23 the numerous pieces of available evidence regarding competency 24 or to challenge the government's single witness at defendant's 25 short competency hearing). The now withdrawn counsel was given 26 access to Plaintiff-in-Error's team of almost a hundred experts, 27 including Dr. Okekee at Grand Desert Psychiatry however, his 28 dereliction of duty was a direct cause of multiple wrongful convictions.

1 This Failure to Investigate Competency of Plaintiff-in-
2 Error was furthered into the ~~double-jeopardy~~ cases in Las Vegas
3 Municipal Court(case(s) C1248384A and C1237802A). Not once did
4 Benard Little discuss Cases(s) with the Plaintiff-in-Error. See 5 Hummel v. Rosemeyer, 564 F.3d 290, 322-03 (3d Cir. 2010).

6 (~~trial counsel was ineffective when he stipulated~~
7 ~~to defendant's competency when he had never met~~
8 ~~with defendant~~). Benard Little did not ask Plaintiff-in-Error
9 or his alibi witnesses about anything whatsoever, quite similar to the case
10 of Thomas v. Lockhart, 738 F.2d 304 (8th Cir. 1984).

11 (failure to investigate alibi witnesses and 12 defendant's competency was ineffective assistance
13 and rendered defendant's plea unknowing and ~~involuntary~~
14 involuntary). As Clark County Public Defender's Cassandra Diez
15 failed to provide the court with ANY of Plaintiff-in-Error's medical records,

16 See, Evans v. Lewis, 855 F.2d 631, 636-639
17 (9th Cir. 1988).

18 (counsel's failure to pursue the possibility
19 of establishing the defendant's mental instability 20 constituted ineffective assistance). Her dereliction of duty is 21 put further on record and her neglect is reflected and summarized by 22 Dwetcher v. Whitley, 884 F.2d 1152, 1159-60
23 (9th Cir. 1998).

24 ("counsel made no tactical decision not to investigate
25 [the defendant's] possible mental impairment. He simply 26 failed to do so"). Causing a disabled person to become wrongfully 27 convicted is in no way ANY sort of "tactical decision" as this case 28 demonstrated the upmost brutality of law enforcement. The truth is 29 that an insanity defense inculpates bias, prejudice and injustice; 4

 26. If the fraudulent hearsay within that complaint would have been

8. This case is a perfect example of how hearsay exceptions

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

NRS. 176.165 PROVIDES:

A motion to withdraw a plea of guilty or nolo contendere may be made only before sentence is imposed, or imposition of sentence is suspended. To correct manifest injustice, the court, after sentencing, may set aside the judgment of conviction and permit the defendant to withdraw his or plea.

Failure to adequately inform a defendant of the full consequences of his/her plea creates manifest injustice which could be corrected by setting aside the conviction and allowing him/her to withdraw the guilty plea. Meyer v. State, 603 P.2d 1066 (Nev. 1979), and Little v. Warden, 34 P.3d 540 (Nev.2001).

Defendant herein alleges that his/her plea is in error and must withdraw the plea pursuant to the following facts: The courts have refused to provide any transcripts from any of the cases that caused this and wrongful conviction, including C-17-323634-1, A-17-758861-C, 21CR019810, 21CR033713, 21P01275 and in Las Vegas Municipal Court C1248384A and C1237802A the failure of Las Vegas Municipal Court to respond to 3 separate petitions to 3 separate addressees constitutes an additional 2 miscarriages of manifest injustice and 3 separate dereliction of duties after the double jeopardy of both C1248384A AND C1237802A.

So the question for "our lady justice" to the peanut gallery of Linda Bell, Susan Barrus, Michelle De La Garza, Alexis Plunkett, Jason Barrus, Alex Bassett, Andrew Flahive, Elli Roohani, and a hundred more respondents is, "Is the fictitious Deep State of Nevada so inherently corrupt, bankrupted and disgusting that it cannot even afford to compensate Taken a dollar or two more so that she can learn how to read and oppress documents ^{truthfully} before she publishes more lies, slander, defamation of character and further insults the last man standing?"

1 After the ignored POINTS AND AUTHORITIES of the false arrest
2 of Houston on 7-14-21, a STATEMENT OF CASE must be truthful.

3 On August 3, 2021, Matthew ^{Travis} Houston (hereinafter "Defendant") was charged by way
4 of Information with Aggravated Stalking (Category B Felony - NRS 200.575). On August 4,
5 2021, Defendant was arraigned [REDACTED]. That same day,
6 Defendant's ^{unsigned} Guilty Plea Agreement (hereinafter "GPA") was filed, without ^{Def.'s} express
7 consent. On October 5, 2021, ^{Bernard Little} [REDACTED] filed a Motion to Withdraw as Attorney of Record and 8 Appoint Alternate Counsel in Order for Defendant to Withdraw His Guilty Plea. However, ^{where is any proof that he on} 9 December 6, 2021, Defendant confirmed upon Court's inquiry that he no longer wished to 10 withdraw his guilty plea. On that same date, Defendant was sentenced to a maximum of ninety-

11 six (96) months and a minimum of twenty-four (24) months in the Nevada Department of 12 Corrections (hereinafter "NDOC") with ninety-three (93) days credit for time served. ^{on 12/10/21}
13 On December 8, 2021, the Judgment of Conviction was filed, ^{than HOUSTON was}
14 ^{ON FRANKS} ^{DECLINED} In PSK Tank he also requested he not ^{interviewed by PWG COURT} DIRECT APPEAL. On January 3, 2022, Defendant filed a Motion to Dismiss Counsel. On January 24, 15 2022, this Court granted the Motion to Dismiss Counsel but denied his request to recuse Judge
16 Jones and denied his request for money. The Order Granting In Part, Denying In Part 17 Defendant's Pro Per Motion to Dismiss Counsel was filed on February 1, 2022.

18 On February 18, 2022, Defendant filed a ^{timely and expeditious} Notice of Appeal. On March 29, 2022, 19 Defendant filed another Notice of Appeal to and Response to this Court's Order Granting in 20 Part, Denying in Part Defendant's Pro Per Motion to Dismiss Counsel from February 1, 2022.
21 On March 15, 2022, Defendant filed an Emergency Motion to Oppose Remand and Dismiss 22 Case in its Entirety. On March 31, 2022, Defendant filed a Notice of Motion and Motion for 23 Transcripts at the State's Expense. As of May 15, 2022 not one transcript provided.

24 On April 2, 2022, Defendant filed the Emergency Motion for an Order to Suppress 25 Hearing from December 6, 2021 (hereinafter "Motion"). The State filed its Opposition on 26 April 19, 2022. ^{Def.} ~~he~~ has also filed a Motion For Taleen Pandukht to READ.

27 On April 13, 2022, Defendant filed the instant Motion to Withdraw Plea (hereinafter 28 "Motion"). The State's Opposition ^{was inept.} ~~was~~ (But be careful, because the only 29 grounds Taleen is using against ^{the Def.} ~~the~~ is the hearsay that ^{he's} ~~he's~~ 30 already moved the court to have SUPPRESSED and stricken from 31 the record). why did Taleen ⁴ blantly lie thru above lines 5-6?

1 In regards to freestanding "claims" of innocence,
 2 why doesn't Takeen comment about the
 3 records from House Arrest that this court
 4 blatantly ignored? As this "factual synopsis"
 5 has been suppressed because it was a fictitious 6 synopsis, it is hereby replaced with this
 7 MOTION TO PRODUCE HOUSE ARREST RECORDS
 8 (pursuant to the Rules of Discovery).

 10 After recess, let's see if it's even worth the 11 judges time for them to read this response
 12 to a fraudulent OPPOSITION on behalf of 13 the DEEP STATE OF SILVER...

 15 Not being read any rights on July 14,
 16 2021 was NOT very cognizable. It wasn't 17 too recognizable when the "people" or 18 whoever they were took seeing-eye dogs 19 from a blind-visually impaired veteran from the 20 United States Navy at his "self-serving" doctor's 21 appointment with Dr. Tyson Ward who is NOT 22 a communist, like Takeen. ^{see} ARGUMENT from a communist:

23 I. FREESTANDING ACTUAL INNOCENCE CLAIMS ARE NOT
 24 COGNIZABLE EVEN IN POST-CONVICTION PROCEEDINGS

25 Defendant claims he innocent of the crime he pled guilty to in his Motion. Motion at 3.
 26 However, while Defendant's Motion is four (4) pages, this is the only actual claim in his 27 Motion. Regardless, Defendant's claim he is innocent is not cognizable in the current Motion.
 28 // Well, why don't we ask the judge to read the motion for 29 themselves, instead of allowing the STATE OF NEVADA to publish 30 more of the defamation of character against the Defendant?

See "it" = THE STATE OF NEVADA

Because it is inherently and without-a-doubt, the most rotten definition of corrupt, Nevada state law does not recognize freestanding claims of actual innocence in a

Petition for Writ of Habeas Corpus, but rather only provides for claims of actual innocence where a defendant is attempting to overcome a procedural bar caused by an untimely or successive petition. See Mitchell v. State, 122 Nev. 1269, 1273-74, 149 P.3d 33, 36 (2006);

See also Clem v. State, 119 Nev. 615, 621, 81 P.3d 521, 525-26 (2003). This is consistent with the Nevada Supreme Court's adoption of the standard established in Schlup v. Delo. See 513

U.S. 238, 315, 115 S. Ct. 851, 861 (1995) (quoting Herrera v. Collins, 506 U.S. 390, 404, 113

S. Ct. 853, 862 (1993)) ("Schlup's claim of innocence is thus not itself a constitutional claim, but instead a gateway through which a habeas petitioner must pass to have his otherwise barred constitutional claim considered on the merits."). In contrast, a freestanding claim of actual innocence is a claim wherein a petitioner alleges actual innocence alone, rather than actual innocence supported by a claim of constitutional deficiency, warrants relief. See Herrera, 506

U.S. 390, 113 S. Ct. 853 (1993). The Herrera Court acknowledged that claims of actual innocence based on newly discovered evidence have never been held as a ground for habeas relief absent an independent constitutional violation in the underlying criminal proceeding. Id.

The Court noted such claims were traditionally addressed in the context of requests for executive clemency, which power exists in every state and at the federal level. Id. at 414-15,

113 S. Ct. at 867-68. However, the Court assumed, arguendo, that a federal freestanding claim of actual innocence may exist where a petitioner was sentenced to death and state law precluded any relief. Herrera, 506 U.S. at 417, 113 S. Ct. at 869; Schlup, 513 U.S. at 317, 115

S. Ct. at 862. The United States Supreme Court has never found a freestanding claim of actual innocence to be available in a non-capital case. See, e.g., Herrera, 506 U.S. at 404-405, 416-

417; House v. Bell, 547 U.S. 518, 554, 126 S. Ct. 2064, 2086 (2006); see also Carrier v.

Stewart, 132 F.3d 463, 476 (9th Cir. 1997); Jackson v. Calderon, 211 F.3d 1148, 1165 (9th

Cir. 2000). (Most probable is that Defendant is denied access to court and law library) is why Defendant fails to cite any Nevada authority which would allow him to raise a freestanding claim of actual innocence and improperly suggests such a claim before this Court.

"Actual innocence" is a term of art that should only be raised in the context of an attempt to

1 overcome post-conviction procedural bars to petitions for writ of habeas corpus. Even in the 2 post-conviction context, where at least "actual innocence" claims can be made in order to have 3 other arguments heard on the merits, there is no such concept as a "freestanding" actual 4 innocence claim where a person can claim they deserve some kind of relief solely because 5 they proclaim their innocence. Now "guilty" vs. "not-guilty" is defined by ^{actual} ~~freestanding~~
 6 ~~freestanding~~ Defendant's claim should be denied, because Nevada has no laws.

7 II. DEFENDANT FAILED TO ESTABLISH ACTUAL INNOCENCE

8 Should this Court address the merits of Defendant's claim, it still fails because there is 9 no evidence nor specific factual allegations, and it is belied by Defendant's GPA, which was 10 unsigned. Actual innocence means factual innocence not mere legal insufficiency. Bousley v.
 11 United States, 523 U.S. 614, 623, 118 S.Ct. 1604, 1611 (1998); Sawyer v. Whitley, 505 U.S.
 12 333, 338-39, 112 S.Ct. 2514, 2518-19 (1992). To establish actual innocence of a crime, a 13 petitioner "must show that it is more likely than not that no reasonable juror would have 14 convicted him absent a constitutional violation." Calderon v. Thompson, 523 U.S. 538, 560, 15 118 S. Ct. 1489, 1503 (1998) (emphasis added) (quoting Schlup v. Delo, 513 U.S. 298, 316, 16 115 S. Ct. 851, 861 (1995)). Actual innocence is a stringent standard designed to be applied 17 only in the most extraordinary situations. Pellegrini, 117 Nev. at 876, 34 P.3d at 530.

18 "Without any new evidence of innocence, even the existence of a concededly
 19 meritorious constitutional violation is not itself sufficient to establish a miscarriage of justice 20 that would allow a habeas court to reach the merits of the barred claim." Schlup, 513 U.S. at 21 316, 115 S. Ct. at 861. The Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals has "rejected free-standing claims 22 of actual innocence as a basis for habeas review stating, '[c]laims of actual innocence based 23 on newly discovered evidence have never been held to state a ground for federal habeas relief
 24 absent an independent constitutional violation occurring in the underlying state criminal 25 proceeding.'" Meadows v. Delo, 99 F.3d 280, 283 (8th Cir. 1996) (citing Herrera v. Collins, 26 506 U.S. 390, 400, 113 S. Ct. 853, 860 (1993)). Furthermore, the newly discovered evidence 27 suggesting the defendant's innocence must be "so strong that a court cannot have confidence 28 in the outcome of the trial." Schlup, 513 U.S. at 315, 115 S. Ct. at 861. Once a defendant has

1 made a showing of actual innocence, he may then use the claim as a "gateway" to present his 2 constitutional challenges to the court and require the court to decide them on the merits. Id.

3 Here, Defendant claimed he never called any of the victims and that he is innocent of 4 the crime he pled guilty to. Motion at 3. However, Defendant has not alleged any specific facts
5 nor provided any evidence of his innocence apart from his ~~own~~^{dog's} self-serving statement. Further,
6 he does not allege any constitutional violations. Outside of the single claim, Defendant only 7 generally complains that the people involved in his case colluded against him, causing 8 unidentified errors and "cluster trucks." Motion at 2-3. Simply put, there is no evidence, let 9 alone coherent argument that Defendant is innocent outside of his one-sentence claim.

10 Furthermore, Defendant pled guilty in this case. Thus, his claim is belied by his signed 11 GPA. Defendant's GPA states, "I hereby agree to plead guilty to: AGGRAVATED 12 STALKING (Category B Felony - NRS 200.575 - NOC 50333) ...I understand that by 13 pleading guilty I admit the facts which support all the elements of the offense(s) to which I 14 now plead as set forth in Exhibit '1'." GPA at 1, 3. Additionally, Defendant was canvassed
15 and affirmatively stated he was entering a plea of guilty freely and voluntarily. Reporter's 16 Transcript of Proceedings, Initial Arraignment 08/04/2021, at 6. Defendant had multiple 17 opportunities to plead not guilty or state his innocence, but he failed to do so. He admitted all 18 of the facts of the elements of the offense and admitted he was guilty of Aggravated Stalking.

19 Therefore, Defendant's claim of innocence should be denied, because Taken 20 // must not have read the title page of the original
21 ~~MOTION~~^{EMERGENCY} TO WITHDRAW PLEA at Lines 18-19, 22 // where Houston reminded the sleepy court of 23 // deliberate indifference that he never seen, read 24 // or had been provided the alleged GPA until after 25 // being wrongfully convicted and moved to NPOC
26 // and then receiving nothing but a fictitious COP9
27 // after February 1st, 2022. So how is that "free-28 // standing" ?

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

MATTHEW HOUSTON,

Appellant,

v.

THE STATE OF NEVADA,

Respondent.

Case No. 84886

RESPONDENT'S ANSWERING BRIEF

Appeal from Denial of a Motion to Withdraw Guilty Plea Eighth Judicial District Court, Clark County

ROUTING STATEMENT

This appeal is presumptively assigned to the Court of Appeals because it is a post-conviction challenge to a guilty plea involving a category B felony. NRAP 17(b)(3).

STATEMENT OF THE ISSUES

1. Whether the district court properly denied Houston's Motion to Withdraw Plea

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

Preliminarily, it is difficult to determine what case Appellant Matthew Houston is appealing from, much less what order of the district court he is challenging. The Nevada Supreme Court docket under the instant appeal number, 84886, indicates that the Lower Court Case is C357927. The clerk of the district court transmitted Records on Appeal from that criminal case number as well as A-22-853203-W, a post-conviction habeas case number. Despite Houston listing numerous case numbers on his notice of appeal, the State assumes Houston is challenging proceedings in either C357927 or A853203. Notice of Appeal at 1.

Habeas case A853203 does not appear to have any orders which may be challenged on appeal, the habeas petition has not been decided, and no findings of fact, conclusions of law, and order has been filed in it. It is currently set for hearing on May 5, 2023. Houston already attempted to appeal under this habeas case number, and this Court dismissed the appeal because no decision had been made in that case. Order Dismissing Appeal, Case 85353, filed October 6, 2022. Because there still has been no final decision or other appealable order in that case, to the extent Houston is appealing from any filing in that case this appeal should be dismissed for the same reason.

Accordingly, the State assumes that Houston is challenging some order presented in case C357927. His Notice of Appeal indicates that he is appealing “the decision of the District Court from the 4th day of April, 2022 also April 25, 2022, with the ORDER having been issued in error not until May 10th, 2022.” Notice of Appeal at 1. On May 10, 2022, the district court entered an Order Denying Defendant's All Pending Motions. 2 ROA 326-328.¹ That Order denied four motions, three of which are not appealable; Defendant's Pro Se Motion For an Order to Suppress Hearing from December 6, 2021, Defendant's Emergency Motion requesting hearing De Novo and Release to Intensive Supervision, and Defendant's Pro-Se Motion for An Order to Appear By Phone Or Video and Notice of Motion. 2 ROA 327. The Order also denied Defendant's Emergency Motion to Withdraw Plea, and the denial of a motion to withdraw plea is an appealable order. NRS 177.015. Accordingly, the State assumes that is the order that Houston is appealing from.

On April 27, 2021, Houston was charged, by way of Criminal Complaint, with one count of Making Threats Or Conveying False Information Concerning Act of Terrorism. 1 ROA 4.

On August 2, 2021, Houston waived his right to a preliminary hearing, agreeing to plead guilty to one count of Aggravated Stalking (Category B Felony) with certain conditions that, if followed, could allow Houston to withdraw his plea and plead guilty to a gross misdemeanor Aggravated Stalking offense. 1 ROA 39-

41. He also received various release benefits and an agreement that the State would not oppose probation. Id. On August 3, 2021, Houston was accordingly charged, by way of Information, with one count of Aggravated Stalking (Category B Felony). 1
LIE. LOSING MY SERVICE ANIMALS WAS NOT ANY SORT OF BENEFIT, NEITHER WAS BEING WRONGFULLY CONVICTED TWICE. GOING TO CITY JAIL TO FACE MORE CHARGES WAS NOT ANY SORT OF A BENEFIT.

¹ For the reasons just explained, ROA refers to the Record on Appeal from case C357927. The Record on Appeal from the A-case appears to be irrelevant to the instant proceedings.

ROA 36-37. A Guilty Plea Agreement reflecting the negotiations was filed on August 4, 2021. 1 ROA 43-51. THE GPA WAS NOT SIGNED.

On October 5, 2021, Houston moved to have alternate counsel appointed to withdraw his plea. 1 ROA 52-54. The same day, the State moved to have Houston remanded for failure to comply with his release conditions and violating his plea agreement. 1 ROA 55-69. The district court entered a bench warrant for Houston's arrest on October 12, 2021, and he was arrested and returned on October 18, 2021. 1 ROA 70-76.

On October 25, 2021, the district court granted the State's motion to remand, increased bail to $15,000, and imposed high level electronic monitoring. The district court also set a status check for confirmation of counsel to consider a motion to withdraw plea.² Mr. Goldstein confirmed as counsel on November 1, 2021.

THIS IS A LIE. MR. GOLDSTEIN NEVER VISITED MR. HOUSTON, → Mr. Goldstein met with Houston several times, and on December 6, 2021, THIS CAUSED MR. HOUSTON TO GIVE UP ON HIS "MOTION TO WITHDRAW GUILTY PLEA" represented that Houston no longer wished to withdraw his plea. 1 ROA 216; 2 ROA 338. Prior counsel was reinstated, and Houston was adjudged guilty of Aggravated Stalking (Category B felony) and sentenced to 24-96 months in the Nevada Department of Corrections with 93 days credit for time served. Id. On December 8,

² These minutes do not appear to be part of the Record on Appeal. To the extent information is provided in the procedural history that is not cited, it is not provided in the ROA.

2021, the district court filed a Judgment of Conviction reflecting Houston's Conviction. 1 ROA 94-95.

Houston filed a slew of motions thereafter, including Notices of Appeal on February 22, 2022, and March 30, 2022. Both of those appeals were dismissed. See Houston v. State, 84281, Houston v. State 84478.

Relevant to this appeal, Houston filed an "Emergency Motion to Withdraw Plea" (hereinafter, Motion") on April 13, 2022. 1 ROA 226-230. The State opposed on April 21, 2022. 2 ROA 264-270. The Motion was denied on April 25, 2022, and the order denying the Motion was filed on May 10, 2022. 2 ROA 326-328.

STATEMENT OF THE FACTS

The Court relied on the following factual synopsis in sentencing Houston:

A detective of LVMPD was assigned to investigate the offense of Threat/False Info Regarding Acts of Terrorism, which said investigation developed the defendant, Matthew Houston aka Matthew Travis Houston, as the perpetrator thereof.

On December 23, 2020, Mr. Houston left a voicemail at the Office for Consumer Health Assistance. When victim 1 returned his call, Mr. Houston stated he had a case in the Supreme Court and said he was being harassed by an individual. Victim 1 attempted to explain the process to help Mr. Houston and point him in the right direction. However, Mr. Houston became angry and began yelling and said he should be afforded all the benefits due to him instead of being harassed by the government. He then said that no one should be surprised if/when he goes on a mass shooting rampage like the one committed on October 1st.
