JOURNAL ENTRIES

- Upon Court's inquiry, Mr. Holmes stated this matter was brought before the Vexatious Litigant status had been given to him so he should still be able to have motion heard without the Chief Judge having to sign off on them; Mr. Heaton disagreed stating that he was under the impression that all new motions needed to be run by the Chief Judge. COURT SO NOTED and STATED it would hear the Motion today since it had not been sure on the order. Mr. Holmes stated the ruling of the Default Judgment was unjust and he was being 'blackballed' by the courts due to the relationship of he Ex-Wife with the court system. The Court stated it has no affiliation with either party or the counsel representing the Defendant. Mr. Heaton argued the Motion to Set Aside was untimely and had no legal basis to grant the relief. COURT STATED It's FINDINGS and ORDERED, Motion DENIED. Mr. Holmes then disconnected his link for BlueJeans. The Court further stated it is difficult to understand what exactly Mr. Holmes wants to set aside therefore the motion is unclear and the motion was untimely. Mr. Heaton to submit an order to Department 11 inbox. Court further stated any motion that has not been run by the Chief Judge will be denied as per the previous order. Court further directed if Mr. Holmes can not agree with Mr. Heaton's order he is able to submit a competing order within 14 days of receiving the order provided by Mr. Holmes.
