LAS VEGAS, NEVADA, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 22, 2012, 9:59 A.M.

So I have

with criminal neglect as well as — an allegation of criminal neglect as well as allegations of fraud and racketeering amongst a few of the charges that are contained within that indictment.

The defense filed both myself, Mr. Santacroce in joining, and Mr. Wright filed petitions attacking the sufficiency or the specificity and legality of the indictment, and ultimately, have those issues currently pending in the Nevada Supreme Court on a writ of mandamus.

The Supreme Court has instructed the State to answer that writ and the State has just asked for an enlargement of time to file the response. So that's kind of the procedural posture in front of Judge Adair currently on that indictment.

The charge for which we're before Your Honor is a charge of second-degree murder arising out of the death of Mr. Meana who is charged in — who is one of the named victims — alleged named victims in the criminal complaint — or criminal indictment, I'm sorry, that is pending before Judge Adair.

He is contained in one of the indictments which is the criminal neglect. In that charge as that particular charge statutorily has a provision which increases the penalty if death occurs subsequent to the allegations of neglect.

The indictment, the way it's pled in this case, is identical to the way it's pled in the case in front of Judge Adair as it relates to the criminal neglect. That issue is currently up in front of the Nevada Supreme Court as it's challenging the legality of that indictment and how that indictment was pled.

So depending on what the Nevada Supreme Court does in that case, meaning if they decide that we are correct and that the indictment is flawed inherently and instruct the State accordingly and dismiss that indictment or force the State to go back before the grand jury and present evidence and get an indictment returned according to the instructions of the Nevada Supreme Court, that directly affects the indictment in this case.

I don't see any argument that alters that theory as to how this case will play out. So it's our request because of the way that this indictment is pled, identical to the one that's pled in front of Judge Adair that's currently pending up in front of the Nevada Supreme Court, which ultimately will be influenced by the determination of the Supremes, that these proceedings be stayed.

Once there's a determination by the Nevada Supreme Court as it relates to that indictment, those issues and that directive will also influence this Court's determination on the indictment that's currently pending before Your Honor.

So for those reasons, we're asking that all proceedings be stayed until after there's been a determination on the issue currently before the Nevada Supreme Court on the writ of mandamus.

THE COUR

THE COURT: Okay. Anything else, Counsel?

MR. CRISTALLI: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Anything else by Mr. Wright or Mr.

Santacroce?

MR. WRIGHT: I would just join in it.

THE COURT: All right. By the State?

MR. STAUDAHER: Yes, Your Honor. May we be allowed to respond orally since the untimely motions?

THE COURT: Yes. And it was — it was — it was only placed on calendar with the understanding the State would be allowed to respond orally because it was not timely. All right.

MR. STAUDAHER: That being said, a couple of things from the outset. First of all, we're here at initial arraignment. There have — the indictment as it's standing here stands alone. It's not tied to the other case in the sense that it is a superseding indictment or anything like that. That's why it tracked to a different department, your department.

The wording of the actual pleading within this indictment, it's a completely different charge. There is no similarity in actually how this is actually pled in comparison with the indictment from the other case. So however the Supreme Court makes the determination as to the sufficiency/insufficiency of any particular count or counts within that indictment in that case really does not affect this particular matter.

This particular case here is, again, a second-degree murder case. It is based on the way its pled the theories of liability that the defendants are basically being charged with, or at least under. As far as this case is concerned, there is no basis or reason legally or otherwise to stay any proceeding in this case, especially since there has been no proceeding in this case to even appeal at this stage.

There has not been a writ brought the — or sort of challenging the sufficiency of either the charging document itself or the probable cause that went into the grand jury's determination in this particular matter. That would be essentially the first step, depending on how the Court would rule on that. There may be an appellate reason to go forward to the Supreme Court at that point. So at this stage, there is nothing right before the Court to allow the Court even, I would submit, to stay the proceedings based on what may or may not happen in a separate and unrelated case from this particular matter.

Now, it is true that the victim in this case was a victim in the other case, but there's no indication that the State, even if we — if we needed to, could not proceed on dual prosecutions. Different cases, different charges up until the time that jeopardy attaches.

So as far as that's concerned there is no basis at this point for a stay in this matter because there's no matter that could be appealed at this stage because the defendant hasn't even been arraigned. And there's no stay — and actually — and my counsel pointed out in the underlying case which is before Judge Adair, the district court case that Mr. Cristalli was referring to, he raised a motion or brought a motion before the Court to stay those proceedings and that was denied, so there's not even a stay in that district court case.

I know that he has raised that with the Supreme Court and asked for them to stay the district court proceedings in that matter, but again, as of the present time, there's no stay in either one of these cases.

THE COURT: Anything else?

MR. CRISTALLI: Yes, Your Honor. I mean, to say that these two cases are unrelated is just denying the realities of the current situation. All I can do is encourage the Court to compare the two indictments. The language contained in those indictments as far as the theory of liability are identical. It is very unusual for the State to do procedurally what they did. Do they have a right to do it? I don't know yet. We'll have an opportunity to challenge that. But certainly, the normal procedure for them would have been to get a superseding indictment, supersede on the original indictment and amend it to include a charge of second-degree murder.

They chose not to do that for reasons, I assume, they're trying to push that first case along and to push — put leverage on the defendants in this case. So be it. But to deny the reality that they are identical and that the only difference is the death of one of the alleged victims in a particular count, of which, Your Honor, the statutory provision of a criminal neglect has a provision if a defendant — if an alleged victim passes on. So there is no new evidence associated with this case. The only difference is the charging — the charging offense.

The fact that Judge Adair denied a stay in the district court is procedure. Obviously, Judge Adair believed her determination on the petition or motion to dismiss was a valid determination. The Nevada Supreme Court ultimately is going to be the determining body to make a decision as far as legitimacy of that particular indictment. Why is it concerning right now? Well, for a number of reasons. We're going to go forward with bail today. Right now, Mr. Mathahs is out on half a million dollar bail. Once a bail setting is made in this particular case, he will then have to post another bail, okay, Which is pretty onerous in terms of his financial ability to do so.

Why am I raising that? Because if this indictment is inherently flawed and is — and the other one is dismissed, which makes this one inherently flawed, and dismisses it, then they're back to square one. They have to present the evidence again to the grand jury. So my position is let's wait to see what the Nevada Supreme Court does and see what ruling comes down and then go forward with it. What harm is it to wait at this particular point in time? There is none.

So you — the Court certainly has the discretion to stay these proceedings upon the determination by the Nevada Supreme Court. I think the State's own concession is that they believe that the Supremes are going to come back relatively quickly on that determination. Whether or not that's true or not, I don't know. But certainly, there is no harm, no foul in continuing this, at the very least, matter to wait to see what the Supreme Court does on the petition.

THE COURT: All right. I'm going to deny the request for a stay. I believe with the State's position that there is no legal basis for a stay in this particular case. So what that means is today we're going to arraign these three gentlemen, and also, we will discuss the issue of bail. I know, Mr. Cristalli, I believe you also — you're also the one who filed a motion discussing bail, asking that no additional bail be set.

MR. CRISTALLI: Yes, Your Honor. And just so the Court is aware, so the record is clear, we're objecting to going forward on the arraignment as well as on the bail. I understand and certainly respect the Court's ruling, but we believe that procedurally it's flawed to go forward with those proceedings today.

THE COURT: Okay. You made your record, Counsel. Would you like to argue bail before we arraign him, or do you want to arraign him first? What would you like to do?

MR. CRISTALLI: Yes, Your Honor. I can go — I can go forward with the bail. I know the Court has had an opportunity to read the bail motion. Mr. Mathahs sits before you as a 76-year-old male, somebody who has had no criminal history in his entire life, somebody who has been a caretaker in this community and other communities for the last 40 years. I don't think Mr. Mathahs even has a traffic ticket to be perfectly honest with you, Your Honor.

We have continuously fought the allegations by the State as it is alleged against Mr. Mathahs. He was an employee of the centers and the — associated with Dr. Desai. There are a myriad of other employees associated with this investigation and indictment of which a slew of were doctors who profited from their association as owners in this organization. You're charging Mr. Mathahs as a racketeer who was an employee following directions of the centers. The reason why he sits, I think, before Your Honor instead of anybody else who are witnesses who presented testimony before the grand jury is probably he didn't get to the table quick enough, number one; and number two, it is alleged that Mr. Mathahs treated one of the source patients.

Your Honor, another consideration is that Mr. Mathahs has been out on half a million dollar bond for how long now?

MR. SANTACROCE: Over two years.

MR. CRISTALLI: Over two years with no incident. He continuously comes before Judge Adair on all of the status check hearings. He works with me directly on a daily basis in my office. His wife and family are supporting him. His wife of how many years?

MR. SANTACROCE: 53.

MR. CRISTALLI: 53 years is a caretaker as well in this community, is a — is a nurse in the community. He remains out on half a million dollar bail. When this case was — well, not this case. When the — when the other case was before Judge Mosley, bail was set at a half million dollars. Ultimately, Mr. Lakeman, who was represented by Mr. Santacroce, petitioned the Court for a reduction of that bail. They were successful. Rightfully so in our opinion, and that bail was reduced to $50,000.

When we petitioned the Court, we petitioned it when the case was transferred from Judge Mosley to Judge Adair, and we asked for a reduction consistent with the reduction that Mr. Lakeman received, for which both defendants are placed in identical situations in terms of the theory of liability alleged by the State.

We were unsuccessful. Judge Adair said, well, I don't feel that I need to do that right now. Revisit it at the appropriate time. So not only do you have Mr. Mathahs out on a half million dollar bail, who has complied completely over the last two and a half years with all of courts — all of the court's directives, but also, you have a disproportionate situation between codefendants, which is inherently unfair. So that's one of the reasons why we ask the Court to keep bail the way it is. It can —

THE COURT: Meaning no additional bail?

MR. CRISTALLI: Correct, no additional bail. I mean, to ignore the fact that there is a half a million dollar bail still pending against Mr. Mathahs, you know, is to ignore the pink elephant in the room.

THE COURT: So you're saying Lakeman was originally half a million as well and was reduced to 50,000 by Judge Mosley?

MR. CRISTALLI: Yes, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. CRISTALLI: You know, and so we have a situation where there's, you know, disproportionate bail settings, and the fact that, you know, Mr. Mathahs is fighting for his life. I mean, he is a nurse necessitatis. He certainly was not —

he was an employee of the organization, somebody who was not benefiting from the profits associated with the organization as the physicians were, as partners or owners of the organization, so financially, he does not have the ability to put the type of money up that he has previously put up, which is a half a million dollars, unfortunately.

We do not want bail to be a punitive measure. That's not what it's for. It's to secure the defendant's appearance and to protect the community from harm. Certainly, the community is protected as Mr. Mathahs no longer is in the medical field. He doesn't have his licenses to do that and he's no longer performing any services related to his profession.

Certainly, we deny any allegations associated with that, but if that was a concern, it shouldn't be one. As far as flight, I don't know that Mr. Mathahs has — he doesn't have a passport. His family is here supporting him. They continue to support him. He has made every court appearance ordered by Judge Mosley and Judge Adair. He meets with me on a weekly basis, so as far as those conditions are concerned, the existing amount of half a million, I think, certainly secures those two considerations, Your Honor.

So for all of those reasons, in addition to acknowledging that we have attached I don't know how many character letters on behalf of Mr. Mathahs from individuals within the community, both in the professional community and the community — his church community and just friends and acquaintances and family as well, that can attest for Mr.

Mathahs' character as an individual; so for all of those reasons, we would ask that the Court not set a bail and consider what has been posted in the case that currently is in front of Judge Adair.

THE COURT: All right. We're kind of just holding

THE COURT: All right. We're kind of just holding out of order, but we started on the bail issue so why don't I just hear from Mr. Santacroce now.

MR. SANTACROCE: Yes, Your Honor. Thank you. The Court's in a unique position here today because it has a track record to go by. These defendants have been out on bail for over two years. They have been model citizens during that time period. They have made all of the required court appearances. They haven't posed a flight risk. They're not a danger to the community because, as Mr. Cristalli said, my client as well has tendered his license and no longer practices anywhere.

So those — the Court is on some safe ground because we have this track record, and I think the Court should take that into consideration. With regard to my client, again, 65-year-old nurse with impeccable record all of his career, an impeccable military career, practiced medicine for many, many years without incident, until this incident where he finds himself in a situation which he basically has no control over. Unfortunately, he's charged in this case when we feel he shouldn't be in the first place; and secondly, he's charged in another indictment before this Court, which we feel is completely improper, manipulative by the State, and forum shopping based — by the State. They already have these charges pending in another court. I can't understand why we're filing a new indictment in a different court when the same charges are pending in another court.

Having said that, I think the Court should take that into consideration because bail has been posted in that previous case. As Mr. Cristalli said, my client was out on half a million dollar bail for better than a year and a half. Judge Mosley revisited that issue and thought that was absurd and reduced the bail to $50,000. And I'm asking you to not increase his bail at this time, but if the Court decides to increase that, to increase it marginally and allow him to post a reasonable bail pursuant to the Eighth Amendment in the United States Constitution.

THE COURT: All right. Mr. Wright, sir.

MR. WRIGHT: Yes, Your Honor. I agree with Mr. Santacroce in the sense that it's my position that we are already on bail on this charge. This is a de facto superseding indictment. We know in the law that we look at facts, not labels to determine what something is. Mr.

Staudaher can call a dog a pig, and we can look and see what it is. This is truly a superseding indictment. This went back to the same grand jury and they only heard two witnesses for the indictment before this Court, and I am presuming without having seen the transcript that the only additional fact that was presented to the same grand jury was the fact that Mr. Meana, who previously had substantial bodily injury from having hepatitis C virus, died in the interim; so therefore, they put on proof of Mr. Meana's death and both probable evidence that it was caused by hepatitis C. Two witnesses in, I think, an hour or so and they returned an indictment.

It should have been what we call a superseding indictment in the same case before the same judge. It's the same facts, circumstances, transaction. The only addition is the patient died, and when it's superseding, by statute the bail applies to it. NRS 178.502, extension of bond or undertaking to other proceedings, "Any bond or undertaking must provide the bond or undertaking, extends to" — and we go down to (a)(2), "extends to any action or proceeding in justice court, municipal court or district court arising from a later charge which is substantially similar to the charge upon which bail was given and is based upon the same act or omission as the charge."

We are presently on Dr. Desai's $1 million bail on this same charge, and that bail in that court — the other court, it's my position which is where we should be, but that bail by statute applies to these charges.

I presumed we were just having an arraignment. I didn't receive any motion to increase bail on this case. Now, whether this was motivated by forum shopping, as Mr. Santacroce suggested, or an effort to get out of the deficit in the first pleading, which is up before the Supreme Court now, I don't know why the State chose to pretend like this is a brand new offense and case that these defendants committed in the interim because it's purely a superseding indictment.

Dr. Desai, no record whatsoever charged in this case, has posted his $1 million bail a couple of years ago and then was indicted federally for health care fraud arise — it actually duplicates the health care fraud already pled in this case, but the feds indicted him. We appeared in — they indicted him in 2011 when he returned from Lakes Crossing. He was arraigned in federal court. He was released on his own recognizance, third-party custody because of his diminished capacity.

His custodian, his wife, Dr. Kusum Desai, is by court order the third-party custodian for pretrial services in the federal system, and he is on federal pretrial services supervision by which Dr. Desai and his custodian, Mrs. Desai, appear once a month before a federal pretrial services officer.

They — I have informed the federal court and pre — fed pretrial services of this superseding indictment and they have no issue with his conditions of release because in the federal system and in the state's system he has been completely compliant, made all court appearances as requested, and nothing has changed whatsoever in this case regarding conditions of release other than Mr. Meana passed away. And so I would ask that the bail remain as it is, and if the State has some changed circumstances, they should file a motion to increase bail and we can respond to it.

THE COURT: Okay. Anything else by defense counsel and before the State responds to the bail issue?

MR. CRISTALLI: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you. Mr. Staudaher, Ms. Weckerly?

MR. STAUDAHER: First of all, as far as forum

MR. STAUDAHER: First of all, as far as forum shopping is concerned, I think the Court's aware of how cases are assigned in the Eighth Judicial District Court, that the State doesn't have prior knowledge of nor any influence on how that is done. That being said, this is not a superseding indictment. This is a separate and distinct indictment before a separate and distinct court beside whatever is [inaudible] these defendants in another courtroom, Judge Adair's courtroom specifically.

This is what we're here on. We're here on a murder charge related to a single victim in this particular case which all of the defendants are charged with. Now, Mr. Cristalli indicated early on as to why they thought that their clients were just kind of roped in, didn't get to the table fast enough, why their clients were even part of this.

I mean, these are the two nurses that actually infected the patients. That's why they're in part — they're involved with this. That's — those are the allegations; the reckless acts of all three defendants are what puts them here in court today, and those reckless acts, those sort of taking advantage of patients that essentially could not do for themselves, what, they were putting their lives in the hands of these individuals who then did what they did is why they're here on this case.

The other case is separate and distinct as far as the charges are concerned in that case. This particular matter, the Court has one charge, one charge only, one victim, one victim only at that point and that's what we're here to decide. A murder case, we did give them the courtesy of a summons, but when we come to court today, this is the time to set bail in this particular matter. We are going to be asking for a half a million dollars bail on Mr. Desai — Dr. Desai. We're going to be asking for a hundred thousand dollars each on Mr. Lakeman and Mr. Mathahs, and the reasons behind the disparity in those are twofold.

Now, whether or not Mr. Mathahs has a certain bail

First of all, they do stand in a little bit different Without relying on the other case, some information from the other case and how bail was produced and so forth is probably important for this Court's determination. underlying case before Judge Adair, when Judge Mosley had that matter before him -- he was the one who set the bail for all defendants, by the way, the half a million for each one of the defendants, nurses, and the million dollars for defendant Desai.

In the -- in Desai's case, defendant Desai was able to post a half -- or a million dollars cash over the weekend. That's how he has access to funds and large quantities of That money is not even his. It is his sister's money that was placed in bond for -- or not bond, but put -- was posted for him.

So right now, he has no dog in the race as far as money goes. He is -- has -- he's a physician. He has assets. His wife is a physician and they have income. They have a significantly different financial setting and situation than do the other two, and the reason that we're asking for a reduced bail amount for the other two is reflective of that situation.

and Mr. Lakeman has a different bail in a separate case is not really an issue before this Court. It's whether or not there's an appropriate amount of bail in this particular matter for this particular charge is what this Court needs to decide. If the defendants wish to have Judge Adair or — bring this matter before Judge Adair based on what this Court may have done in this particular charge or based on other factors, that's for Judge Adair to determine and for them to litigate that.

Mr. Cristalli brought a motion before Judge Adair for a reduction in bail like Mr. Santacroce had. She denied that. His bail remained at the half a million dollar amount. They may revisit that down the road, but that doesn't affect what this Court does as far as bail is concerned.

If, theoretically, that whole case for some reason went away and this Court had set no bail, all three of these individuals would be on no bail for a murder charge because that case would certainly be before this Court still. That's why we're here. We're here to set a reasonable bail based on the nature of the charge and what they did.

This is not something where they're charged with involuntary manslaughter or something where a person just died as a result of some action that they did that they didn't have some foreseeable way of seeing it would cause harm to a patient. These people actually engaged in practices, which they knowingly engaged in, and which resulted in an infection of a patient which resulted in his death, and that's why we're here today to argue this issue.

As far as the differences between the two, again, I would just say that those are issues that they need to raise with the District Court 21, department — or rather, Judge Adair, and it should not really factor into this Court's calculus as to what is reasonable or not reasonable for bail. We do know that they stand in different positions. That's why we have asked for the different amounts. We feel that that's a fair and reasonable amount for a murder case, and we feel that that's what they should be posting.

THE COURT: Okay. We did this kind of out of order in that we argued bail first. Let me go ahead — unless you want to say something —

MR. CRISTALLI: I do, Your Honor. I mean, I just want to be able to respond just quickly. I mean, first of all, to argue that this is a separate and distinct case is just — you know, you got to kind of throw away your reason. I mean, these cases are the same case. They have the same facts. There has been no new evidence presented before the grand jury other than the fact the medical evidence associated with the cause and more than of Mr. Meana's death. They are identical, so for Mr. Staudaher to say that they are for some reason separate and distinct is disingenuous. It is. It doesn't pass the smell test.

As far as his statement that this is a murder case, it's not an involuntary manslaughter case, well, factually, you know, if you're going to make the allegations as it relates to somebody passing on on a criminal neglect — medical criminal neglect case as articulated statutorily in the criminal neglect statute which increases the penalties from a 1 to 6 to a 1 to 20 if death occurs, they shouldn't be charged with anything more than an involuntary manslaughter just based on the allegations. Second-degree murder is an inflated charge, so if he wants to start debating the sufficiency of the State's allegations as they relate to this particular case, we certainly can do that.

For him to then say that that case could somehow go away and then we'll be stuck with a murder charge in this case, is also laughable. If that case goes away, Judge, this case goes away because they go away on the same premise and on the same basis because they are identical.

They have done this in an effort to put leverage on the defendants. This would never normally happen. They would supersede their indictment. They would amend the indictment and they would charge an additional charge of murder. For whatever reason, they have chosen to put on the dog-and-pony show and to charge this case separately.

So I'm going to be put in a situation now where my bail is absolutely going to be disproportionate and it shouldn't be. What we have posted in a half a million dollars in this case originally was unreasonable based on Mr. Mathahs' involvement as well as his history in this community and his character.

THE COURT: Then that's something you need to take up with Judge Adair. I can only deal with Meana's case.

Is there anything to add by counsel on the bail issue? Mr. Wright, sir.

MR. WRIGHT: Yes. I just — I can't pass up to say this isn't the same case. I don't know why we sat in this courthouse deposing Mr. Meana, Rodolfo Meana, in the other case because the other case was — Rodolfo Meana was one of the seven patients, and we deposed him until he stopped it. Mr. Meana happened to have died presumably due — and I say presumably from the accusations in the indictment because I have not seen the evidence, but presumably, from the hepatitis C virus.

Mr. Meana we were deposing for the other case to preserve his testimony for that case for that trial. Mr. Meana elected to forego treatment. He is the only patient of the group who would not take hepatitis C virus treatment and he ultimately died. Now, that is the only changed circumstance, and to argue here this is some new murder case that came up, the facts of the bail in this case, it was set by Judge Caddish. She set the $1 million bail when the first indictment was returned. That amount that was posted was posted by his sister because I was required to show to the court the source of the funds, because Dr. Desai and his practices were in federal bankruptcy court at the time and so he could not post any bail out of bankruptcy; and since then, the bankruptcy has gone forward and he is individually bankrupt, and so that's the explanation of where this million dollars cash that he was able to post.

If — that was posted and I provided all of the information to Judge Caddish and to Mr. Staudaher as to the source of the funds and where it came from, so it's a mischaracterization to talk about Dr. Desai being a wash in cash and could come up with a million dollars or something. Thank you.

THE COURT: All right. Like I said, we did this kind of out of order. Let me proceed in arraigning the individuals, then I'll address bail amounts, if any.

Mr. Cristalli, you have Mr. Mathahs?

MR. CRISTALLI: Yes, Your Honor. And once again, Your Honor, just so we're clear, this is over my objection.

DEFENDANT LAKEMAN: I have a degree from the University of Alabama in nursing and a degree in anesthesia from George Washington University in Washington, D.C.

THE COURT: Is it fair to say you read, write, understand the English language?

DEFENDANT LAKEMAN: Yes.

THE COURT: I have a copy of the indictment. The indictment charges you with the crime of murder, second degree, Category A felony. Did you read the indictment?

DEFENDANT LAKEMAN: Yes. It was read to me by my attorney.

THE COURT: All right. And I didn't ask this of the other gentleman. Do you waive the reading of the indictment?

MR. SANTACROCE: We do waive --

DEFENDANT LAKEMAN: Yes.

MR. SANTACROCE: -- Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. And sir, with respect to the charge of murder, second degree, Category A felony, how do you want to plead, guilty or not guilty?

DEFENDANT LAKEMAN: Not guilty.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you, sir. And Mr. Wright, Mr. Desai?

MR. WRIGHT: Yes, Your Honor. The -- I will be asking the Court to enter a plea of not guilty on behalf of Dr. Desai. I have read the indictment to Dr. Desai. Dr.

Desai, because of organic brain injury from a stroke, is my judgment operating under diminished capacity in his cognitive ability; and therefore, pursuant to Rule of Professional Conduct 1.14 I am acting in his behalf to protect his interests. That is his true name in the indictment. He does not factually or legally comprehend or understand an indictment when he discussed it with me this past week or when I attempted to discuss it with him and so I would ask the Court to enter a plea of not guilty on his behalf.

THE COURT: All right. I will accept that plea. Counsel, bail is going to be set in this matter.

I'm going to render the following amounts for bail. This takes into consideration the facts of this particular case, the charge of this case as well as their compliance in their additional court proceedings. I am going to order bail at $50,000 for Mr. Lakeman and Mr. Mathahs. I'm ordering bail of $250,000 for Mr. Desai. At this time I am going to have these gentlemen remanded into custody. They will have to post bail.

MR. CRISTALLI: And Your Honor, we do have bond -Mr. Mathahs' bond company here. They're prepared to post, and I know that we routinely have walk through --

THE COURT: If they have the money --

MR. CRISTALLI: Yeah.

THE COURT: -- then they can do the walk through.

KARR REPORTING, INC.

1	MR. CRISTALLI: Yeah.
2	THE COURT: If they do not, they're going to have to
3	be remanded
4	MR. CRISTALLI: Right. And they they can do the
5	walk through and I would like them to have an opportunity, and
6	I don't know that the State has an objection to allow us to do
7	the walk through under these circumstances.
8	THE COURT: So long as there's the money
9	MR. CRISTALLI: Yeah.
10	THE COURT: you have all the money in court today
11	for all defendants.
12	MR. CRISTALLI: Well, the bondsman is here.
13	THE COURT: The bondsman's here, and what about
14	MR. CRISTALLI: Yes.
15	THE COURT: for yours, Mr. Santacroce?
16	MR. SANTACROCE: My bondsman is right here and
17	they're prepared to
18	MR. CRISTALLI: Yeah.
19	MR. SANTACROCE: write the bond.
20	MR. WRIGHT: I will get the funds.
21	THE COURT: All right. Then
22	MR. CRISTALLI: Is there do we have to have them
23	in be shackled at this time. I'm not if we're prepared?
24	That's why we have them here today to post.
25	MR. WRIGHT: We will post it today.

KARR REPORTING, INC. 29

MR. CRISTALLI: I mean, they're going to post right now. I mean, I could — you could put them under oath if you would like and attest to that fact. I mean, they're on a half a million dollars right now that they posted.

MR. WRIGHT: We are here on a summons and appeared, I mean, as ordered, even last time before Judge Caddish. I mean, we were allowed in that case four days, I mean, to post the cash bail, but we will post the bail for a bond today and so I would ask that we be given till 4:00 o'clock to do it or turning themselves in at the jail.

THE COURT: I'll give you guys until -- your clients until 4:00 o'clock today to post it; otherwise, they will be remanded into custody and will have to bail --

MR. CRISTALLI: We'll have that taken care of, Your Honor, and we could supply the Court with verification of that once that process is completed. We'll certainly send it over to Robert if you would like us to do that and we can handle that immediately.

THE COURT: Yes. All right. Any questions, counsel?

And we're going to need to set you gentlemen for trial. Are they going to invoke or are they going to waive?

MR. SANTACROCE: We're -- Lakeman is waiving.

MR. WRIGHT: I waive on behalf of Dr. Desai.

THE COURT: And Mr. Cristalli, are you waiving as well?

THE COURT:

MR. CRISTALLI: We do, Your Honor.

Court, I know you're set for trial in October, but it could possibly go later. Realistically in this case you're not going to be until next year anyways, so did you discuss possible dates? MR. CRISTALLI: Your Honor, in light of the have you discussed trial dates at this time? I understand from Judge Adair, depending on what happens in the Supreme

State denies the existence of one, I would like maybe to set a status check to determine where we are at with that case before setting trial on this case. THE COURT: Okay. So last I read on the thing the circumstances associated with the other case, even though the State had 30 days to file a response and I don't remember how long -- or 20. I don't remember. I don't remember when that response is due in Judge Adair's case.

MR. STAUDAHER: I know that there has been a request for enlargement of time so I'm not sure how that affected that date specifically or when the actual date for answer was.

THE COURT: The order directing answer, it looks like ---

> MR. CRISTALLI: I have --

THE COURT: -- you had 20 days from August 6th.

KARR REPORTING, INC.

1	did an enlargement of time so you'll have additional time.
2	You want to set it on for a status in 45 days for the setting
3	of the trial date?
4	MR. STAUDAHER: Actually, the State, although I don't
5	have an issue with a specific date, we would like to have an
¹ 6	actual date set as soon as the Court can accommodate it on the
• 7	calendar.
8	THE COURT: Well, with that being said, you're
9	probably going to be well, as soon as possible is probably
10	going to be next year.
11	MR. STAUDAHER: That's fine.
12	THE COURT: Antoinette, what do you have?
13	MR. STAUDAHER: Just whenever the Court can
14	THE CLERK: March
15	MR. STAUDAHER: can do it.
16	THE CLERK: Your Honor.
17	THE COURT: March: March 2013, how is that for
18	defendants?
19	MR. SANTACROCE: I don't have my trial calendar in
20	front of me, Your Honor, unfortunately.
21	MR. CRISTALLI: Okay. I was just tapped and advised
22	I have a capital murder case going in March.
23	THE COURT: Okay. Then that puts where, Antoinette?
24	THE CLERK: That would be the end of May into early
25	June.

1 THE COURT: Thereafter it'd be August 2013. 2 MR. WRIGHT: Just for the record, I object to the 3 I'm unclear where -- I will need to speak to Mr. 4 Pomerance in the federal court, with the prosecutor. 5 sort of by handshake --6 THE COURT: Then why don't we do this. 7 MR. WRIGHT: -- implicitly awaiting the other case, and then the federal case was going -- and of course, this 8 9 wasn't envisioned --10 THE COURT: Okay. 11 MR. WRIGHT: -- and so he is awaiting trial in 12 federal court. 13 THE COURT: Why don't we do this. Why don't we set a 30-day status on trial setting. I need all counsel to please 14 look at their calendars between now and then, and when you 15 come in here, we will look at where we stand, or where you 16 guys stand with respect to what was the filings in Judge _17 18 Adair's department. 19 All right. 30-day date, please. 20 THE CLERK: September 19th, 9:30. 21 MR. SANTACROCE: September what? 22 THE CLERK: 19th. 23 MR. CRISTALLI: Thank you, Your Honor. 24 MR. SANTACROCE: And would you waive my client's 25 appearance, Your Honor, or does he need to be here for that?

THE COURT:

MR. STAUDAHER:

I don't have any objections.

There's only one person the State has -

THE COURT: It's just a pretrial setting.

MR. STAUDAHER: — an objection to not appearing at every single hearing and that's Dr. Desai based on even the representations in court today about his lack of capacity or whatever. As the Court's probably aware, that was raised in the underlying case that counsels were referring to in front of Judge Adair. That defendant — or Defendant Desai went up to Lake's Crossing, was found to be malingering his symptoms and because of that we feel it's important for the Court to make its own assessment when he comes into court how he handles himself, how he responds, things like that as we go along. So he stands in a completely different position than the others. We would submit it to the Court on Mr. Mathahs and Mr. Lakeman.

THE COURT: Mr. Wright, are you asking to waive your client's appearance at the next hearing or is he intending to be present?

MR. WRIGHT: I would request to waive his appearance. It creates a great imposition on his wife who is his custodian who has to bring him here and she's a practicing physician.

THE COURT: All right. I waive the -- I'll waive the appearances of the defendant since it is only going to be a

. 1	trial setting. All other substantive hearings their presence
2	will be required. Okay. We'll see you on the September date.
3	MR. SANTACROCE: One other issue, Your Honor, is that
4	I have not received discovery of the grand jury transcripts.
5	I'm asking for 21 days after I receive that information
6	THE COURT: All right.
7	MR. SANTACROCE: to file a writ.
8	MR. CRISTALLI: We would join in that, Your Honor.
9	THE COURT: Okay. Anything by the State?
10	MR. WRIGHT: I join that.
11	MR. STAUDAHER: That's fine.
12	THE COURT: All right. That'll be granted. All
13	right. Any other additional matters?
14	MR. SANTACROCE: Not from Mr. Lakeman, Your Honor.
15	Thank you for your consideration.
16	THE COURT: All right. Thank you.
17	MR. WRIGHT: Thank you, Your Honor.
18	MR. CRISTALLI: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE STATE OF NEVADA,

Real Party in Interest.

MOTION FOR ENLARGEMENT OF TIME

CASE NO:

D.C. NO:

COMES NOW the State of Nevada, by STEVEN B. WOLFSON, Clark County District Attorney, through his Deputy, RYAN J. MACDONALD, and moves this Court for an enlargement of time within which to file Answer to Petition for Writ of Mandamus or Prohibition. This motion is based on the following memorandum, declaration of counsel and all papers and pleadings on file herein.

Dated this 21st day of August, 2012.

MEMORANDUM

I, RYAN J. MACDONALD, am the supervising attorney in the above-captioned case. This Court may extend the time to file an Answer to Petition for Writ of Mandamus or Prohibition upon a showing of good cause. NRAP 26(b)(1).

The State's Answer on the instant matter is currently due on August 26, 2012. This petition challenges the sufficiency of a 40-page Indictment in a complex, important, and constantly-evolving case. In order to adequately respond to petitioner's claims, the State requires more than the 20 days initially allotted.¹

Due to the above-described circumstances, the State submits that good cause exists to extend the filing due date and respectfully requests this Court's permission for an extension of time of an additional TWENTY (20) days to file its Answer to Petition for Writ of Mandamus or Prohibition, making the Answer due to be filed on or before September 17, 2012. This motion is made in good faith and not for purposes of undue delay.

Dated this 21st day of August, 2012.

Respectfully submitted,

STEVEN B. WOLFSON Clark County District Attorney Nevada Bar #001565

¹The State notes that Petitioner has filed a motion for emergency stay of district court proceedings in this Court on August 21, 2012. The State submits that because the trial date is October 22, 2012, a stay of district court proceedings is unnecessary at this time.

Defendants, on or about September 21, 2007, being professional caretakers of SONIA ORELLANA-RIVERA, did act or omit to act in an aggravated, reckless or gross manner, failing to provide such service, care or supervision as is reasonable and necessary to maintain the health or safety of said SONIA ORELLANA-RIVERA, resulting in substantial bodily harm to SONIA ORELLANA-RIVERA, said acts or omissions being such a departure from what would be the conduct of an ordinarily prudent, careful person under the same circumstances that it is contrary to a proper regard for danger to human life or constitutes indifference to the resulting consequences, said consequences of the negligent act or omission being reasonably foreseeable; said danger to human life not being the result of inattention, mistaken judgment or misadventure, but the natural and probable result of said aggravated reckless or grossly negligent act or omission, by performing one or more of the following acts: (1) by directly or indirectly instructing employees of the Endoscopy Center of Southern Nevada, (ECSN) to administer one or more doses of the anesthetic drug Propofol from a single use vial to more than one patient contrary to the express product labeling of said drug and in violation of universally accepted safety precautions for the endoscopy scopes, and/or in violation of universally accepted safety precautions for the use of said scopes and/or directly or indirectly instructing said employees, and/or creating an employment environment in which said employees were inadequately trained and/or pressured to provide endoscopy scopes for patient procedures that were not adequately cleaned and/or prepared contrary to the express manufacturers guidelines for the handling and processing of said endoscopy scopes, and/or in violation of universally accepted safety precautions for the use of said scopes; Defendants being responsible under one or more of the following principles of criminal liability, to wit: (1) by directly committing said acts; and/or (2) aiding or abetting each other in the commission of the crime by directly or indirectly counseling, encouraging, hiring, commanding, inducing, or procuring each other, and/or others to commit said acts, Defendants acting with the intent to commit said crime,

BY DEPUTY CLERK

ORDER DIRECTING ANSWER

This original petition for a writ of mandamus or prohibition requests this court to order the district court dismiss an indictment. Having reviewed the petition, it appears that an answer may assist the court in resolving the petition. Accordingly, the real party in interest, on behalf of respondents, shall have 20 days from the date of this order to file an answer, including authorities, against issuance of the requested writ.

It is so ORDERED.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

I.

In the case at bar, the June 4, 2010 Indictment (the "First Indictment") was filed in Case No. 10C265107-3. The First Indictment is currently before Department XXI. Indictment states (in part) that Mr. Mathabs is being charged (along with his two co-Defendants) with criminal neglect of patient stemming from his employment with Dr. Desai. One of the patients alleged to have been harmed, as charged in the First Indictment, was Mr. Meana, by Defendants' purportedly infecting him with Hepatitis-C.

Recently, a "Second" Indictment was filed, which is before this Court. The "Second" Indictment states, in relevant part, that between September 21, 2007, and April 27, 2012, Defendants killed Mr. Meana by introducing Hepatitis C into his body during the commission of an unlawful act, to wit: criminal neglect of patient.

Mr. Mathahs filed a Motion to Dismiss the June 4, 2010, Indictment in Dept. XXI, Case No. 10C265107-3. After this motion was denied by the lower court, on July 27, 2012, Mr. Mathahs filed a petition to the Supreme Court for an extraordinary writ pursuant to NRS 34.330 (the "Writ").

The Writ presents two issues:

- I. WHETHER A PETITION FOR AN EXTRAORDINARY WRIT IS THE APPROPRIATE VEHICLE TO CHALLENGE THE DISTRICT COURT'S JURISDICTION PROCEED BASED ON THE CRIMINAL CHARGES PENDING PETITIONER REGARDING PETITIONER'S ARGUMENT THAT THE INDICTMENT IS CONSTITUTIONALLY AND STATUTORY DEFECTIVE.
- II. WHETHER THE INDICTMENT MUST BE DISMISSED AS AGAINST MATHAHS BECAUSE IT IS CONSTITUTIONALLY AND STATUTORILY DEFECTIVE AND DOES NOT PROVIDE ADEQUATE NOTICE SUFFICIENT FOR MATHAHS TO DEFEND HIMSELF AGAINST THE CHARGES ALLEGED.

On August 6, 2012, the Supreme Court issued an Order Directing Answer. (Exhibit A). Counsel for Mr. Mathahs filed an Emergency Motion for Stay (of Case No. 10C265107-3) Under NRAP 8(a) with the Nevada Supreme Court pending resolution of this Writ. (Exhibit B).

Trial, as to the First Indictment, is currently set for October 22, 2012. It is imperative

Gordon Silver Attorneys At Law Ninth Floor 3960 Howard Hughes Pkwy Las Vegas, Nevada 89169 (702) 796-5555 that trial be stayed until the Nevada Supreme Court reaches a determination so that counsel for Mr. Mathahs can understand how to proceed, not only with the First Indictment but with the Second Indictment (which is before this Court). The language of the Second Indictment essentially piggy-backs on the language of the First Indictment and if the Nevada Supreme Court determines that the First Indictment cannot stand, then logic follows that the Second Indictment fails as well.¹

Counsel for Mr. Mathahs is unable to properly prepare for trial without knowing the outcome of the Supreme Court's decision on the issues presented before it. As trial is rapidly approaching, counsel for Mr. Mathahs respectfully requested the 10C265107-3 case be stayed until the Nevada Supreme Court provides some guidance as to how the case should proceed (if at all). By this same logic, it is respectfully requested all proceedings in this case be stayed as well because if the Nevada Supreme Court decides that the First Indictment is fatally deficient, then the Second Indictment cannot stand.

II.

LEGAL AUTHORITY

NRAP 8(a)(1)(A) states that a party must ordinarily move first in the district court for the following relief:

(A) A stay of the judgment or order of, or proceedings in, a district court pending appeal or resolution of a petition to the Supreme Court for an extraordinary writ.

As stated above, Mr. Mathahs is seeking extraordinary relief from the denial of his motion in Department XXI to dismiss the racketeering count, the criminal neglect of patient counts, and the reckless endangerment counts. The Second Indictment, which is before this Court, piggybacks the same language as that set forth in the First Indictment. The issue whether the First ¹ To the extent the State attempts to argue that the Second Indictment is now a separate murder charge based on "different" facts, Mr. Mathahs was already charged with violation of NRS 200.495, in 10C265107-3, which includes a penalty for if the patient dies as a result of the Defendant's actions. As such, literally nothing has changed from the First Indictment to the Second Indictment except for the re-phrasing of the crime, from "criminal neglect resulting in death" to "murder". None of the facts that gave rise to the circumstances putting Mr. Mathahs on trial are different.

Indictment is fatally defective, warranting dismissal, is currently before the Supreme Court.

A petition for an extraordinary writ is the appropriate method for challenging the district court's jurisdiction to proceed with the criminal charges pending against Mr. Mathahs. NRS 34.160 provides that a writ of mandamus may be issued by this Court to compel the performance of an act which the law especially enjoins as a duty resulting from an office, trust or station. NRS 34.170 provides that the writ shall be issued in all cases where there is not a plain, speedy and adequate remedy in the ordinary course of the law. Similarly, NRS 34.320 provides that a writ of prohibition is available to arrest the proceedings of any tribunal, corporation, board or person exercising judicial functions, when such proceedings are without or in excess of the jurisdiction of such tribunal, corporation, board or person. NRS 34.330 provides that this Court may issue a writ of prohibition in all cases where there is not a plain, speedy and adequate remedy in the course of the law.

A petition for an extraordinary relief is the proper method for challenging the blatantly defective indictment. The district court lacks jurisdiction to proceed on the indictment due to the numerous and significant statutory and constitutional defects in the indictment.

As the Nevada Supreme Court concluded long ago, "It is hard to conceive of a greater legal wrong which might be imposed upon a person charged with a grave and serious offense than to compel him to undergo trial by a court or under a procedure wholly void in law." Bell v. District Court, 28 Nev. 280, 295, 81 P. 875 (1905) (availability of an appeal following a judgment of conviction not an adequate remedy; writ of prohibition is appropriate remedy to prohibit the trial court from conducting criminal proceedings based upon an unconstitutional statute). The fact that an appeal might be available from a judgment of conviction does not preclude issuance of the writ, particularly in the circumstances presented here because the district court has exceeded its jurisdiction by permitting proceedings based upon the obviously defective indictment. See G.M. Properties v. District Court, 95 Nev. 301, 304, 594 P.2d 714 (1979).

A petition for a writ of prohibition is the proper method of challenging this defective indictment. In fact, if Mr. Mathahs did not present the Writ, he would arguably waive the right to hereafter challenge the Grand Jury proceedings. Simpson v. District Court, 88 Nev. 654, 661,

503 P.2d 1225 ("An element of waiver is involved, when an accused proceeds to trial without challenging the indictment. Thereafter, he should not be heard to complain if the indictment... gave notice of what later transpired at trial[.]"). Further, NRS 174.105(3) provides that "Lack of jurisdiction of the failure of the indictment, information or complaint to charge an offense shall be noticed by the court at any time during the pendency of the proceeding."

In the case at bar, extrajudicial relief is merited. There are significant issues of procedural and substantive due process (as related to both Indictments). There are also issues of first impression presented in the Writ in regard to the fatally defective First Indictment. As addressed previously, the Second Indictment relies entirely on the First Indictment to support its allegations. If the First Indictment fails, then so does the Second.

The Writ from the denial of Mr. Mathahs' Motion to Dismiss, filed in Case No. 10C265107-3 also presents issues of first impression regarding the sufficiency of the charging language and notice provided to the Defendants of the charges with which they have to defend themselves, especially Mr. Mathahs, who the State concedes was not the alleged "criminal mastermind" who created an "atmosphere" of negligence and/or corruption. The vague, unsubstantiated, undefinable accusations in the Indictment, as charged, make it impossible for Mr. Mathahs to defend himself because he does not know what he is defending himself against.

Mr. Mathahs contends that Department XXI exceeded its jurisdiction by implicitly amending the racketeering account to incorporate by reference the substantive insurance fraud counts. Although the Nevada Supreme Court has not squarely addressed this issue, it is a well-established rule of due process that each count of the indictment must stand on its own and cannot be supplemented by reference to another count unless done so expressly. See U.S. v. Rodriguez-Gonzalez, 358 F.3d 1156, 1159 (9th Cir. 2004). Although NRS 173.075(2) permits allegations in one count to incorporate by reference another count, the Court cannot properly imply this pleading device. Id. Part of the basis for Mr. Mathahs' Writ is the defectiveness of the Indictment, including but not limited to the issues that: the racketeering count does not incorporate by reference the substantive insurance fraud counts and otherwise fails to set forth the essential elements of the predicate offenses.

Should the Nevada Supreme Court grant the petition, the Indictment could be dismissed or at the very least, the charges could be amended. It is improper to force Mr. Mathahs to continue defending himself in the matter before this Court on what could be determined to be facially defective counts. Resolution by the Nevada Supreme Court regarding whether the Indictment in Case No. 10C265107-3 is defective is necessary prior to proceeding with trial in Case No. 10C265107-3, which is why Mr. Mathahs filed the Emergency Motion for Stay Under NRAP 8(a) before the Nevada Supreme Court. Resolution by the Nevada Supreme Court regarding whether the First Indictment is defective will also effect whether the Second Indictment must be dismissed as well.

Every court has the inherent power to stay proceedings. Landis v. North American Co., 299 U.S. 248, 254 (1936). This power "is incidental to the power inherent in every court to control the disposition of the causes on its docket with economy of time and effort for itself, for counsel, and for litigants." Id.

Furthermore, a court may consolidate any action involving common questions of fact "to avoid unnecessary costs or delay." NEV. R. CIV. P. 42(a); see also Carter v. State, 102 Nev. 164, 166, 717 P.2d 1111, 1111 (1986) (noting that the trial court consolidated two separate actions in the interest of judicial economy where both cases "involved essentially the same parties, witnesses, and circumstances").

As stated above, in the Second Indictment, the State relies on the exact facts that formed the basis for the initial Indictment against Petitioner. The charge forming the basis for murder (criminal neglect) is the same exact charge contained in the June 4, 2010, Indictment (or First Indictment). (Exhibit C). As indicated to the Nevada Supreme Court in Mr. Mathahs' Emergency Motion for Stay Under NRAP 8(a), there is a strong possibility that Mr. Mathahs' counsel will file a motion to consolidate the Indictments into a single proceeding. However, resolution of the Writ dismissing the Indictment is the first step to determine how either case can proceed. This is why Mr. Mathahs is requesting that both cases be stayed pending resolution from the Supreme Court on the issue of whether the First Indictment is fatally defective.

Thus, it is requested that Mr. Mathahs' Motion for a stay be granted and that all further proceedings cease until the Nevada Supreme Court has ruled on the issues as to whether the First Indictment must be dismissed for being fatally defective. This request includes any determination of bail by this Court as the two cases may eventually be consolidated, depending on the determination made by the Nevada Supreme Court as to whether the First Indictment is dismissed.²

III.

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, it is respectfully requested Mr. Mathahs' Motion be granted and that the proceedings be stayed pending resolution of the Writthal is currently pending before the Nevada Supreme Court

Dated this 20 day of August, 2012

Attorneys for Defendant Mathahs

² If the cases were consolidated, Department XXI would determine whether any additional bail needs to be set beyond the bail that has already been set, considering the facts and circumstances at issue. As set forth previously, the State has attempted to argue that this is now a murder charge. However, Defendant Mathahs was already charged with violation of NRS 200.495, which includes a penalty for if the patient dies as a result of the Defendant's actions. As such, despite the State's best efforts to posture that this is a different case arising from different facts, the truth of the matter is that literally nothing has changed except for the re-phrasing of the crime, from "criminal neglect resulting in death" to "murder". Thus, the case before this Court may eventually be consolidated with 10C265107-3 and because of this eventuality, it is requested that this Court refrain from making any rulings in the case before it until the Nevada Supreme Court provides some guidance as to the next step.

LAS VEGAS, CLARK COUNTY, NV., THURS., AUG. 9, 2012

THE COURT: State versus Keith Mathahs. We have Mr. Mathahs who's present out of custody with Mr. Cristalli. And we have Mr. Santacroce and his client.

And we also have Ms. Stanish, and your client Dr. Desai is not here.

MS. STANISH: Your Honor, this — our petition is not on.

THE COURT: Right, I understand. You're just --

MS. STANISH: We're here to spectate, and if Your Honor does want to address it or the government --

THE COURT: That's fine. I mean, I know he was ordered to be at all the court proceedings, but since this isn't your matter, he is not required to be here today. Just the record should reflect that you are here listening and observing.

MS. STANISH: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. This is the defendant's motion for stay of proceedings pending the resolution of the writ.

We did not receive an opposition to this.

MR. STAUDAHER: No, Your Honor, we do oppose it, but I think that the --- it's actually just an issue for the Court to decide. We really don't have any case law or anything to say that they're not entitled to it if they feel that there's some legal reason for them to bring it before the Court, and we don't -- we don't want to lose our trial date. We know it's up at the Supreme Court, and we've been ordered to answer, but we would oppose a continuance, obviously, at this point.

THE COURT: Mr. Cristalli?

MR. STAUDAHER: Or rather a stay, I'm sorry, Your Honor.

MR. CRISTALLI: Well, Judge, obviously procedurally once the petition is filed in the Supreme Court they have ordered the State to now respond, 20 days to respond. We'll have a period, I think, to reply to that. As a matter of procedure we filed the State --

THE COURT: Right, you have to file it here before you can request it with the Supreme Court. You know, my feeling is, you know, I stand by the decision that I made. The Supreme Court, of course, may not agree. Not surprisingly they found that there was a reason to order an answer in this case, but I think at this level I'm going to deny the motion for a stay, which of course gives you now the opportunity to request it in the Supreme Court, and then the Supreme Court can make the determination if they feel the proceedings should be stayed for the October trial date. That's of course likely that they may do that; although they may have --

You were given 30 days to respond to the petition --

MS. STANISH: We were given 20.

MR. STAUDAHER: 20 days, Your Honor.

THE COURT: How many?

MR. STAUDAHER: 20 days.

THE COURT: 20 days and then there was no reply ordered or --

MR. CRISTALLI: No.

THE COURT: Okay. So it's possible they'll look at that and make a decision one way or the other and decide not to stay it. I don't know how long they're going to take. So I'm not going to -- I'm -- you know, it's kind of up to them how long they take. So I'm not going to issue a stay at this level.

That was a long winded way of saying your request for a stay is denied. MR. CRISTALLI: Your Honor, I don't know whether or not we need an order from Your Honor in order to --

THE COURT: You can submit an order that, you know, your motion for a stay was denied.

MR. CRISTALLI: Okay.

THE COURT: I'm happy to sign it.

MR. CRISTALLI: All right. Thanks.

THE COURT: Or the State can submit it.

MR. STAUDAHER: And either way, Your Honor, but the question I had was there was mention of at least Mr. -- or rather Dr. Desai's motion, is it calendared? I don't have it on calendar for -

THE COURT: No, the only -- the only motion that's on calendar for today is Mr. Mathahs's motion. I mentioned Dr. Desai that he wasn't required to be here today because it's not his motion but that Ms. Stanish is present today.

MR. STAUDAHER: I believe that they -- but my indication was not that it was on today but that there was one filed; is that correct?

MS. STANISH: We filed it, served it, I believe it was June 7th by way of petition. There was no response. We were going to just wait to see before we prompted it, but since this issue's been decided, I did speak with Ms. Wexler -sorry.

THE COURT: Weckerly.

MS. STANISH: -- Weckerly beforehand, and I don't believe the State would have any objection if you want to address our petition so that we can move forward as well.

MS. WECKERLY: Assuming they're -- I mean their petition is for the -- they want a stay as well; I assume the Court would make the same decision. It's fine with the State if they want to submit an order as well so they have the same opportunity to request the stay if that's acceptable to the Court.

THE COURT: That's fine. I mean, like I said, you know, it's -- I don't know how long the Supreme Court is going to take. I mean, they did order an answer, you know, in a rather speedy fashion. So this may be something that they're going to look at right away and make a decision right away. So if that's the case, then I don't want to give up the October 22nd trial date as of right now. So I think -- well, you know, we'll see. There may be other --

MR. CRISTALLI: The future may dictate something different.

THE COURT: I know. I read the papers too, Mr. Cristalli, but, you know, there's nothing new in this department as far as I'm concerned as of right now. So like I said, you can't trust what you read in the papers, can you.

MR. CRISTALLI: That's for sure.

THE COURT: So we may or may not have that date. All I'm saying is I don't know how quickly the Supreme Court is going to decide this, and they may decide it rather quickly. I don't know.

That's the only thing we had on for today.

MR. SANTACROCE: Can I inquire when the next date is for this? Is there a status check?

THE COURT: Ms. Husted would have to look that up when our next status check date is. We have, of course, the calendar call on October 18th.

THE CLERK: There's nothing else set until the trial.

THE COURT: We don't have any more status checks.

MR. STAUDAHER: We probably should set one.

THE COURT: Yeah, let's set one a couple of weeks before the calendar call date just to make sure there's no last-minute issues.

l	·
1	MR. STAUDAHER: Well, can we set it out at least 21 days so if there's an
2	issue with expert notices or anything, 'cause we have not received any notices at all.
3	THE COURT: Okay.
4	THE CLERK: 21 days from now?
5	MR. STAUDAHER: No, at least from back from the calendar call or trial date.
6	THE CLERK: September 27 th at 9:30.
7	MR. STAUDAHER: Thank you, Your Honor.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

I.

Trial in this matter is currently set for October 22, 2012. On June 1, 2012, the order was filed denying Mr. Mathahs' Motion to Dismiss Indictment. On July 27, 2012, Mr. Mathahs filed a petition to the Supreme Court for an extraordinary writ pursuant to NRS 34.330 (the "Writ").

The Writ presents two issues:

- I. WHETHER A PETITION FOR AN EXTRAORDINARY WRIT IS THE APPROPRIATE CHALLENGE THE COURT'S JURISDICTION DISTRICT PROCEED BASED THE CRIMINAL CHARGES PENDING ON PETITIONER REGARDING PETITIONER'S ARGUMENT THAT THE INDICTMENT IS CONSTITUTIONALLY AND STATUTORY DEFECTIVE.

П.

LEGAL AUTHORITY

NRAP 8(a)(1)(A) states that a party must ordinarily move first in the district court for the following relief:

(A) A stay of the judgment or order of, or proceedings in, a district court pending appeal or resolution of a petition to the Supreme Court for an extraordinary writ

As stated above, Mr. Mathahs is seeking extraordinary relief from the denial of his motion to dismiss the racketeering count, the criminal neglect of patient counts, and the reckless endangerment counts.

A petition for an extraordinary writ is the appropriate method for challenging the district court's jurisdiction to proceed with the criminal charges pending against Mr. Mathahs. NRS 34.160 provides that a writ of mandamus may be issued by this Court to compel the performance of an act which the law especially enjoins as a duty resulting from an office, trust or station. NRS 34.170 provides that the writ shall be issued in all cases where there is not a plain, speedy and adequate remedy in the ordinary course of the law. Similarly, NRS 34.320 provides that a writ of prohibition is available to arrest the proceedings of any tribunal, corporation, board or person exercising judicial functions, when such proceedings are without or in excess of the jurisdiction of such tribunal, corporation, board or person. NRS 34.330 provides that this Court may issue a writ of prohibition in all cases where there is not a plain, speedy and adequate remedy in the course of the law.

A petition for an extraordinary relief is the proper method for challenging the blatantly defective indictment. The district court lacks jurisdiction to proceed on the indictment due to the numerous and significant statutory and constitutional defects in the indictment.

As the Nevada Supreme Court concluded long ago, "It is hard to conceive of a greater legal wrong which might be imposed upon a person charged with a grave and serious offense than to compel him to undergo trial by a court or under a procedure wholly void in law." Bell v. District Court, 28 Nev. 280, 295, 81 P. 875 (1905) (availability of an appeal following a judgment of conviction not an adequate remedy; writ of prohibition is appropriate remedy to prohibit the trial court from conducting criminal proceedings based upon an unconstitutional statute). The fact that an appeal might be available from a judgment of conviction does not preclude issuance of the writ, particularly in the circumstances presented here because the district court has exceeded its jurisdiction by permitting proceedings based upon the obviously defective indictment. See G.M. Properties v. District Court, 95 Nev. 301, 304, 594 P.2d 714 (1979).

A petition for a writ of prohibition is the proper method of challenging this defective indictment. In fact, if Mr. Mathahs did not present this writ, he would arguably waive the right to hereafter challenge the Grand Jury proceedings. Simpson v. District Court, 88 Nev. 654, 661, 503 P.2d 1225 ("An element of waiver is involved, when an accused proceeds to trial without challenging the indictment. Thereafter, he should not be heard to complain if the indictment . . . gave notice of what later transpired at trial[.]"). Further, NRS 174.105(3) provides that "Lack of jurisdiction of the failure of the indictment, information or complaint to charge an offense shall be noticed by the court at any time during the pendency of the proceeding."

Gordon Silver Attorneys At Law Ninth Floor 960 Howard Hughes Pkwy as Vegas, Nevada 89169 (702) 796-5555 In the case at bar, extrajudicial relief is merited. There are significant issues of procedural and substantive due process. There are also issues of first impression presented in regard to the fatally defective Indictment. As set forth in Dr. Desai's Motion to Stay Proceedings in District Court ("Dr. Desai's Motion"), the manner in which the charges were pled raise constitutional issues left open by the Aesoph Court concerning the adequacy of due process notice when the State alleges numerous alternative theories of prosecution or means by which a crime has been committed. See Sheriff v. Aesoph, 100 Nev. 477, 479 n. 3, 686 P.2d 237, 239 (1984).

The Writ also presents issues of first impression regarding the sufficiency of the charging language and notice provided to the Defendants of the charges with which they have to defend themselves, especially Mr. Mathahs, who the State concedes was not the alleged "criminal mastermind" who created an "atmosphere" of negligence and/or corruption. The vague, unsubstantiated, undefinable accusations in the Indictment, as charged, make it impossible for Mr. Mathahs to defend himself because he does not know what he is defending himself against.

Finally, Mr. Mathahs contends that this Court exceeded its jurisdiction by implicitly amending the racketeering account to incorporate by reference the substantive insurance fraud counts. As set forth in Dr. Desai's Motion, although the Nevada Supreme Court has not squarely addressed this issue, it is a well-established rule of due process that each count of the indictment must stand on its own and cannot be supplemented by reference to another count unless done so expressly. See U.S. v. Rodriguez-Gonzalez, 358 F.3d 1156, 1159 (9th Cir. 2004). As discussed in Dr. Desai's Motion, although NRS 173.075(2) permits allegations in one count to incorporate by reference another count, the Court cannot properly imply this pleading device. Id. Part of the basis for both Dr. Desai's (pending) Writ and Mr. Mathahs' Writ is the defectiveness of the Indictment, including but not limited to the issues that: the racketeering count does not incorporate by reference the substantive insurance fraud counts and otherwise fails to set forth the essential elements of the predicate offenses.

o essential elements of the product

5 of 7

103451-001/1618792.doc

Should the Nevada Supreme Court grant the petition, the Indictment could be dismissed or at the very least, the charges could be amended. It is improper to force Mr. Mathahs to go to trial on what could be determined to be facially defective counts. Resolution by the Nevada Supreme Court regarding whether the Indictment is defective is necessary prior to proceeding with trial in this matter.

As such, it is requested that Mr. Mathahs' Motion for a stay be granted and that further proceedings cease until the Nevada Supreme Court has ruled on the issues as to whether the Indictment must be dismissed for being fatally defective.

III.

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, it is respectfully requested Mr. Mathahs' Motion be granted and that the proceedings be stayed pending resolution of the Writ that is currently pending before the Nevada Supreme Court

Dated this 20 day of July, 2012.

Petitioner/defendant Keith Mathahs, ("Mr. Mathahs"), by and through his counsel, the law firm of Gordon Silver, hereby moves for an emergency stay of the Honorable Stefany Miley's August 22, 2012, Order pending this Court's ruling on Petitioner's Petition for Writ of Mandamus filed on July 27, 2012, in Case No. 10-C-265107-3.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

I. STATEMENT OF FACTS

Petitioner respectfully requests that this Court immediately stay the district court proceedings in C-12-283381-3 (the "Second Indictment Matter") pending this Court's ruling on Petitioner's Petition for Writ of Mandamus in C-10-265107-3 (the "First Indictment Matter"). This stay is requested in compliance with Nevada Rule of Appellate Procedure 8(a).

In the case at bar, the June 4, 2010 Indictment (the "First Indictment") was filed in Case No. 10C265107-3. See Exhibit A. The First Indictment is currently before Department XXI. The First Indictment states (in part) that Mr. Mathahs is being charged (along with his two co-Defendants) with criminal neglect of patient stemming from his employment with Dr. Desai. One of the patients alleged to have been harmed, as charged in the First Indictment, was Mr. Meana, by Defendants' purportedly infecting him with Hepatitis-C.

Recently, a "Second" Indictment was filed in Case No. C-12-283381-3 (the "Second Indictment"). See Exhibit B. The Second Indictment states, in relevant part, that between September 21, 2007, and April 27, 2012, Defendants killed Mr. Meana by introducing Hepatitis C into his body during the commission of an unlawful act, to wit: criminal neglect of patient. The Second Indictment is truly a superceding indictment, although the State chose to file it as a separate case, presumably for tactical reasons.

To the extent the State attempts to argue that the Second Indictment is now a separate murder charge based on "different" facts, Mr. Mathahs was already charged with violation of NRS 200.495, in the First Indictment Matter, which includes a penalty for if the patient dies as a result of the Defendant's actions. As such, literally nothing has changed from the First Indictment to the Second Indictment except for the re-phrasing of the crime, from "criminal neglect resulting in death" to "murder". None of the facts that gave rise to the circumstances putting Mr. Mathahs on trial are different.

Mr. Mathahs filed a Motion to Dismiss the First Indictment in Dept. XXI, Case No. 10C265107-3. After this motion was denied by the lower court, on July 27, 2012, Mr. Mathahs filed a petition to the Supreme Court for an extraordinary writ pursuant to NRS 34.330 (the "Writ").

The Writ presents two issues:

- I. WHETHER A PETITION FOR AN EXTRAORDINARY WRIT IS THE APPROPRIATE VEHICLE TO CHALLENGE THE DISTRICT COURT'S JURISDICTION TO PROCEED BASED ON THE CRIMINAL CHARGES PENDING AGAINST PETITIONER REGARDING PETITIONER'S ARGUMENT THAT THE INDICTMENT IS CONSTITUTIONALLY AND STATUTORY DEFECTIVE.
- WHETHER THE INDICTMENT MUST BE DISMISSED AS II. BECAUSE IT AGAINST MATHAHS CONSTITUTIONALLY AND STATUTORILY DEFECTIVE DOES NOT PROVIDE ADEQUATE NOTICE HIMSELF TO DEFEND MATHAHS SUFFICIENT FOR AGAINST THE CHARGES ALLEGED.

On August 6, 2012, the Supreme Court issued an Order Directing Answer. See Exhibit C.

On July 30, 2012, Mr. Mathahs filed a Motion for Stay of Proceedings in Pending Resolution of Writ Proceedings in the First Indictment Matter. See Exhibit D. At the hearing on the Motion for Stay in the First Indictment Matter, on August 9, 2012, the Court entered an oral ruling denying Mr. Mathahs' Motion.

1 See Exhibit E. Accordingly, Mr. Mathahs brought a Motion to Stay Proceedings Pending Resolution of Writ Proceedings in the Supreme Court. 2 On August 21, 2012, Mr. Mathahs filed a Motion to Stay Proceedings 3 Pending Resolution of Writ Proceedings Pursuant to NRAP 8(a) in the Second 4 5 Indictment Matter (the "Motion"). See Exhibit F. Mr. Mathahs argued as follows: Trial, as to the First Indictment, is currently set for October 22, 2012. It 6 is imperative that trial be stayed until the Nevada Supreme Court reaches a determination so that counsel for Mr. Mathahs can understand 7 how to proceed, not only with the First Indictment but with the Second Indictment (which is before this Court). The language of the Second Indictment essentially piggy-backs on the language of the First Indictment and if the Nevada Supreme Court determines that the First Indictment cannot stand, then logic follows that the Second Indictment 8 9 fails as well. 10 Counsel for Mr. Mathahs is unable to properly prepare for trial without knowing the outcome of the Supreme Court's decision on the issues presented before it. As trial is rapidly approaching, counsel for Mr. Mathahs respectfully requested the 10C265107-3 case be stayed until 11 12 the Nevada Supreme Court provides some guidance as to how the case should proceed (if at all). By this same logic, it is respectfully requested all proceedings in this case be stayed as well because if the 13 14 Nevada Supreme Court decides that the First Indictment is fatally deficient, then the Second Indictment cannot stand. 15 See Exhibit F. 16 17 On August 22, 2012, the parties came before the court in the Second Indictment Matter on Mr. Mathahs' Motion to Stay Proceedings. 18 19 See Exhibit G. Counsel for Mr. Mathahs argued as follows: 20 The charge for which we're before your Honor is a charge of second-21 degree murder arising out of the death of Mr. Meana who is . . . one of 22 the... alleged named victims in the criminal... indictment... that is pending before Judge Adair. 23 24 He is contained in one of the indictments which is criminal neglect. In that charge as that particular charge statutorily has a provision 25 which increases the penalty if death occurs subsequent to the 26 allegations of neglect. 27

Gordon Silver Attorneys At Law Ninth Floor 3960 Howard Hughes Pkwy Las Vegas, Nevada 89169 (702) 796-5555

The indictment, the way it's pled in this case, is identical to the way it's pled in the case in front of Judge Adair as it relates to the criminal neglect. That issue is currently up in front of the Nevada Supreme Court as it's challenging the legality of that indictment and how that indictment was pled.

So depending on what the Nevada Supreme Court does in that case, meaning if they decide that we are correct and that the indictment is flawed inherently and instruct the State accordingly and dismiss that indictment or force the State to go back before the grand jury and present evidence and get an indictment returned according to the instructions of the Nevada Supreme Court, that directly affects the indictment in this case.

I don't see any argument that alters that theory as to how this case will play out. So it's our request because of the way that this indictment is pled, identical to the one that's pled in front of Judge Adair that's currently pending up in front of the Nevada Supreme Court, which ultimately will be influenced by the determination of the Supremes, that these proceedings be stayed.

Once there's a determination by the Nevada Supreme Court as it relates to that indictment, those issues and that directive will also influence this Court's determination on the indictment that's currently pending before Your Honor.

So for those reasons, we're asking that all proceedings be stayed until after there's been a determination on the issue currently before the Nevada Supreme Court on the writ of mandamus.

See Exhibit G, pp. 2-4.

Counsel continued:

[T]o say these two cases are unrelated is just denying the realities of the current situation. All I can do is encourage the Court to compare the two indictments. The language contained in those indictments as far as the theory of liability are identical. It is very unusual for the State to do procedurally what they did. . . . [C]ertainly, the normal procedure for them would have been to get a superseding indictment. . . and amend it to include a charge of second-degree murder.

See Exhibit G, pp. 7-8.

The Court responded:

All right. I'm going to deny the request for a stay. I believe with the State's position that there is no legal basis for a stay in this particular case.

See Exhibit G, p. 9.

Counsel for Dr. Desai argued:

This is a de facto superseding indictment. We know in the law that we look at facts, not labels to determine what something is. Mr. Staudaher can call a dog a pig, and we can look and see what it is. This is truly a superseding indictment. This went back to the same grand jury and they only heard two witnesses for the indictment before this Court, and I am presuming without having seen the transcript that the only additional fact that was presented to the same grand jury was the fact that Mr. Meana, who previously had substantial bodily injury from having hepatitis C virus, died in the interim; so therefore, they put on proof of Mr. Meana's death and both probable evidence that it was caused by hepatitis C. Two witnesses in, I think, an hour or so and they returned an indictment.

It should have been what we call a superseding indictment in the same case before the same judge. It's the same facts, circumstances, transaction. The only addition is the patient died. . . .

See Exhibit G, pp. 15-16.

II. LEGAL STANDARD

Nevada Rule of Appellate Procedure 8(a) governs motions for stay in the Supreme Court. Nevada Rule of Appellate Procedure 8(a)(2) provides that a motion to stay in the Supreme Court shall:

(i) show that moving first in the district court would be impracticable; or

- (ii) state that, a motion having been made, the district court denied the motion or failed to afford the relief requested and state any reasons given by the district court for its action.
- (B) The motion shall also include:
- (i) the reasons for granting the relief requested and the facts relied on;
- (ii) originals or copies of affidavits or other sworn statements supporting facts subject to dispute; and
- (iii) relevant parts of the record. NEV. R. APP. P. 8(a)(2).

III. LEGAL ARGUMENT

A. The District Court Previously Denied Petitioner's Motion for Stay

On August 21, 2012, Mr. Mathahs filed a Motion for Stay of Proceedings Pending Resolution of Writ Proceedings in the Second Indictment Matter. See Exhibit F. At the hearing on the Motion for Stay on August 22, 2012, the trial court entered an oral ruling denying Petitioner's Motion. See Exhibit G, p. 9. The trial court denied the motion on the grounds that the First Indictment Matter and the Second Indictment Matter were two different proceedings, agreeing with the State's argument that the alleged charge of murder of Mr. Meana resulting from "criminal neglect" in the Second Indictment, was somehow "different" from the alleged criminal neglect resulting in the death of Mr. Meana, as set forth in the First Indictment. See Exhibit G, p. 9. The court made this ruling despite the fact that the State itself referred to the First Indictment Matter as the "underlying case". See Exhibit G, p. 20. Mr. Mathahs respectfully disagrees with the lower court's decision and thus brings the instant Motion to Stay in the Supreme Court.

B. The District Court Proceedings Should be Stayed

Mr. Mathahs filed his Petition for Writ of Mandamus in the First Indictment Matter on August 3, 2012. On August 6, 2012, the Supreme Court issued an Order Directing Answer. See Exhibit C. In its Order, the Supreme Court noted that "an answer may assist the court in resolving the petition" and "the real party in interest, on behalf of respondents, shall have 20 days from the date of this order to file an answer" See id. Originally, the answer to the petition was not due until August 26, 2012; however the State requested an additional 20 days beyond August 26, 2012, with which to file its answer. See Exhibit H. Mr. Mathahs' trial in the First Indictment Matter is set for October 2012. However, the State will not even file its answer to the Writ until mid-September.

Currently, the First Indictment is extraordinarily vague and ambiguous. It fails to provide Mr. Mathahs with proper notice of what he is charged with committing and fails to even differentiate Mr. Mathahs from the co-defendants. For example, the three Defendants were charged without distinction in the Indictment. As such, it appears that Mr. Mathahs is being charged with criminal liability for patients he did not even see, for dates and times of service where he was not even working (he was only a part-time employee), and for utilizing medical equipment that may have been in the possession or control of another defendant but were not utilized by the CRNAs.

Because Mr. Mathahs is unable to prepare any meaningful defense due to the defective indictment, he requested the First Indictment Matter be stayed until this Court resolves the pending Writ.

The Second Indictment is entirely predicated on the First Indictment. Thus, if the First Indictment fails, then so does the Second Indictment.

As stated above, Mr. Mathahs is seeking extraordinary relief from the denial of his motion in the First Indictment Matter to dismiss the racketeering count, the criminal neglect of patient counts, and the reckless endangerment counts. The Second Indictment piggy-backs the same language as that set forth in the First Indictment. The issue whether the First Indictment is fatally defective, warranting dismissal, is currently before the Supreme Court.

In the case at bar, extrajudicial relief is merited. There are significant issues of procedural and substantive due process (as related to both Indictments). There are also issues of first impression presented in the Writ in regard to the fatally defective First Indictment. As addressed previously, the Second Indictment relies entirely on the First Indictment to support its allegations. If the First Indictment fails, then so does the Second Indictment.

The Writ from the denial of Mr. Mathahs' Motion to Dismiss, filed in the First Indictment Matter, also presents issues of first impression regarding the sufficiency of the charging language and notice provided to the Defendants of the charges with which they have to defend themselves, especially Mr. Mathahs, who the State concedes was not the alleged "criminal mastermind" who created an "atmosphere" of negligence and/or corruption. The vague, unsubstantiated, undefinable accusations in the Indictment, as charged, make it impossible for Mr. Mathahs to defend himself because he does not know what he is defending himself against.

Mr. Mathahs contends that Department XXIII exceeded its jurisdiction by refusing to stay proceedings until this Court makes a determination as to whether Department XXI erred by allowing the First Indictment to go forward even though it is fatally defective. The Second Indictment is entirely predicated on the First Indictment.

Should the Nevada Supreme Court grant the Writ, the First Indictment could be dismissed or at the very least, the charges could be amended. The Second Indictment Matther should not continue forward until this Court makes a determination as to whether the First Indictment can even proceed. It is improper to force Mr. Mathahs to continue defending himself in the matter before any court on what could be determined to be facially defective counts. Resolution by this Court regarding whether the First Indictment is defective is necessary prior to proceeding with either the First Indictment or the Second Indictment.

Every court has the inherent power to stay proceedings. Landis v. North American Co., 299 U.S. 248, 254 (1936). This power "is incidental to the power inherent in every court to control the disposition of the causes on its docket with economy of time and effort for itself, for counsel, and for litigants." Id.

Furthermore, a court may consolidate any action involving common questions of fact "to avoid unnecessary costs or delay." NEV. R. CIV. P. 42(a); see also Carter v. State, 102 Nev. 164, 166, 717 P.2d 1111, 1111 (1986) (noting that the trial court consolidated two separate actions in the interest of judicial economy where both cases "involved essentially the same parties, witnesses, and circumstances").

As stated above, in the Second Indictment, the State relies on the exact facts that formed the basis for the First Indictment against Petitioner. The charge forming the basis for murder (criminal neglect) is the same exact charge contained in the First Indictment. See Exhibit A. As indicated to this Court in Mr. Mathahs' Emergency Motion to stay proceedings in the First Indictment Matter, there is a strong possibility that Mr. Mathahs' counsel will file a motion to consolidate the Indictments into a single proceeding. However, resolution of the Writ dismissing the Indictment is the first step to determine how either case can proceed. This is why Mr. Mathahs is requesting that both cases be stayed pending resolution from the Supreme Court on the issue of whether the First Indictment is fatally defective.

Thus, it is requested that Mr. Mathahs' Motion for a stay be granted and that all further proceedings cease until the Nevada Supreme Court has ruled on the issues as to whether the First Indictment must be dismissed for being fatally defective.

Gordon Silver

IV. CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, Mr. Mathahs respectfully requests that this Court stay the proceedings below pending its ruling on Petitioner's Petition for Writ of Mandamus in the First Indictment Matter.

B. Facts showing the existence and nature of the claimed emergency:

The lower court has refused to stay the proceedings. Mr. Mathahs' writ to dismiss the indictment in 12-C-283381-3 was ordered by the Court to be filed 21 days after the grand jury transcripts in 12-C-283381-3 were filed. Upon information and belief, the State has agreed to a continuance of this date.

It is requested that the Nevada Supreme Court decide whether the proceedings in 12-C-283381-3 be stayed prior to the date the writ for the Second Indictment Matter is due as the Nevada Supreme Court's decision regarding the writ for the First Indictment Matter will directly affect the relief requested in the writ for the Second Indictment Matter.

The writ currently before the Nevada Supreme Court in the First Indictment Matter will significantly affect the relief requested in the writ for the Second Indictment Matter as the Second Indictment cannot stand if the First Indictment fails.

The State has not yet even responded to the writ filed by Mr. Mathahs in the First Indictment Matter.

Mr. Mathahs currently has two cases going forward based on what could potentially be determined by the Supreme Court as defective Indictments that cannot stand. Thus, it is requested Mr. Mathahs' Motion to Stay the Second Indictment Matter be determined on an emergency basis and that a stay be allowed so that Mr. Mathahs is not forced to file a second writ on some of the exact same issues as those brought forth in the writ regarding the First Indictment Matter before the writ in the First Indictment Matter is decided.

C. When and how counsel for the other parties were notified and whether they have been served with the motion; or, if not notified and served, why that was not done:

A copy of this Emergency Motion for Stay and shall be to the District Attorney's office and co-Defendants' counsel concurrent with the filing of this Motion.
